ELECTION OF SPEAKER

Norland of Worth presented the name of the Honorable Donald D. Avenson of Fayette County as candidate for Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Seventieth General Assembly, preceding such nomination with the following remarks:

Mr. Speaker:

I am very pleased, both personally and for the state of Iowa, to nominate the gentleman from Fayette, the Honorable Donald Avenson to serve as Speaker of the House for the Seventieth General Assembly.

Ten years ago, Representative Avenson and I took our oath of office for the first time along with an especially large number of new members. Those members were spirited and anxious to make their mark on the seventies. Again this year, there are a large number of fresh and enthusiastic faces in the House which appear anxious to set the agenda for the eighties by exploring new opportunities in creating jobs, protecting the land, providing quality human services and establishing a cooperative effort between business, labor, agriculture, and government.

During eight of his ten years in the House, Representative Avenson has held either majority or minority leadership positions. His party members honored him the past four years by electing him as minority leader. In that position, Representative Avenson strived to develop a working relationship with the majority party based on honesty and fairness. I am confident these efforts will continue and will be reciprocated as in the past.

I have worked closely with Representative Avenson during these past years and it has been my observation that he has always been receptive and understanding of the hopes, desires and aspirations of Iowans. This is apparent by the confidence his constituents in northeast Iowa have placed in him consistently. It is this concern, perception, and experience which uniquely qualifies Representative Avenson for the Iowa House's highest position. His talents will provide the leadership necessary to preside over the House and establish the cooperative atmosphere required during this General Assembly.

I ask you therefore, Mr. Speaker, and Ladies and Gentlemen of the House to accept my nomination of Don Avenson as Speaker of the House.

Lonergan of Boone seconded the nomination of Donald D. Avenson for Speaker of the House, preceded by the following remarks:

Mr. Speaker, Members of the House:

I rise to second the nomination of Don Avenson for Speaker of the House.

Many people have served five terms in the Iowa House — but few have served with such distinction as the gentleman from Fayette. His leadership is unquestionably proven — both as minority leader and as majority leader.

He has a gift few of us attain, that of listening to all sides and settling disputes before they erupt. His fairness is a credit to us all and I'm sure he will continue this fairness as Speaker.

He has always honestly looked out for the interests of the minority, whether it be by party or by a group set apart by issue.

To the new members of the General Assembly especially, let me assure you that you will learn a lot more than legislative procedure from Don. You will learn of the hunting and fishing seasons in Iowa and elsewhere. You will also learn about Eric, Clay and Nicolle Avenson as those of us who have served with Don already know! You will learn all of this from a fair, honest, proven leader.

Therefore, it is with pride and honor that I second the nomination of my good friend, Don Avenson, as Speaker of the Iowa House of Representatives for the Seventieth General Assembly.

Menke of O'Brien seconded the nomination of Donald D. Avenson for Speaker of the House, preceded by the following remarks:

Mr. Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House:

I rise to second the nomination of a man that is recognized, by all who know him, as the outdoor sportsman of these chambers. In fact, he is such a sportsman that he has instilled his love of animals into the minds of many members of this chamber.

Some have referred to him as being as mean as a wounded bear, others likened him to a charging, bellowing bull moose! However, he was actually singing in his melodic baritone voice, about the "fat cats" that he thought were about to get a tax break or making reference to a particular bill that he thought was a "dog."

Each person views him differently. I'm certain that his wife Diane thinks of him as a "deer," and his children Eric, Clay and Nicolle know him to be a "lamb."

I view him as being a sly wise "fox" that has been guarding the "chickens" in the chicken house and trying many times to get the "goat" of certain members of this House. The truth is, that the sly "fox" was a thespian, playing the part of a "wolf," many times huffing and puffing, huffing and puffing attempting to blow the House in. Occasionally he put out a barb trying to hook someone and he enjoyed stringing the members of the House a line. Being a true sportsman I have no recollection of him taking pot shots at anyone. He may have taken a shot at them but he always gave them a chance to rise.

I could heap high praise upon Don Avenson, but true friends don't have to do that and I consider him to be such a friend.

I have known Don to be an honest, intelligent and capable member of the House of Representatives. He has always done his job well — sometimes too much so for the symbolic "elephant." I deem it a great honor to second the nomination of Don Avenson for Speaker of the Iowa House of Representative for this Seventieth General Assembly.

Stromer of Hancock seconded the nomination of Donald D. Avenson for Speaker of the House, preceded by the following remarks:

Mr. Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House:

I also join in seconding the nomination of the Honorable Donald Avenson of Fayette County as Speaker of the House of the Seventieth General Assembly.

There have been very few times in the history of Iowa that the start of a General Assembly has not been highlighted by the many problems facing this state. That is certainly true again this year. Representative Avenson has demonstrated his ability, integrity, and knowledge of the legislative process the past ten years to help lead Iowa to the solution of those difficult problems.

I would also hasten to point out that all the knowledge and all the solutions to these problems are not vested with any single political party. As Minority Leader of the Seventieth General Assembly I pledge our caucus's sincere interest and untiring effort in helping to find solutions to the human, educational and budget needs of the state.

Together we can continue to make Iowa a great place to grow and the best state in the nation.

I move that the Chief Clerk be authorized to cast the votes of all the members of the House of Representatives of the Seventieth General Assembly for the Honorable Donald D. Avenson as Speaker.

In accordance with the foregoing motion, the Acting Chief Clerk cast the votes of all the members of the House of Representatives for the Honorable Donald D. Avenson as Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Seventieth General Assembly. The Honorable Donald D. Avenson of Fayette County, having received all of the votes cast for the office of Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Seventieth General Assembly, was declared duly elected to that office.

Copenhaver of Buchanan moved that a committee of two be appointed to escort the Speaker to the chair.

The motion prevailed and the following committee was named: Copenhaver of Buchanan and Tofte of Winneshiek.

PRESENTATION OF SPEAKER

The Honorable Donald D. Avenson was escorted to the Speaker's station and, having been sworn, assumed the chair. Temporary Speaker Cochran of Webster presented Speaker Avenson with the gavel and congratulated him on his unanimous election.

Speaker Avenson thanked the House for the honor bestowed upon him and offered the following remarks:

Ladies and Gentlemen of the House:

Last fall, the people of Iowa voted to open the doors of this House to one hundred men and women. Today, thirty-eight of us walked through them for the first time. The sixty-two members who have served here before, warmly welcome you — and thank you for choosing to exercise public service in the Iowa legislature.

This is a special day for all one hundred of us and our families. I pause to offer a sincere thank you to your families and mine for their patience, their love, and in many cases, their hard work in helping us to accomplish our goals — both last fall and in the weeks to come.

I also take this opportunity to thank the people of Iowa for maintaining and participating in this wonderful process of democracy. We are "the peoples' house" — we are rated among the best in the nation. And we have a long history as an honest, open, citizen legislature. We pledge to maintain that record and to do our very best.

This moment is very important to me. It is one of the few times I will ever address you from the Speaker's chair. It is my privilege this morning to thank you for placing me here. The honor and even-handedness of my predecessors are hallmarks of leadership in this body. This entire House extends its thanks to past presiding officers for giving us valuable benchmarks for the Speakership. In Iowa, when a Speaker pledges to preside fairly, as I do to you now, he does so with confidence, and what the public expects of him. It is a guideline we all prize, and one that I intend to meet.

Here in the House we invest our Speaker with very few symbols of power. One is an office from which to work, and in which to receive fellow representatives and the public. I invite you to walk through the open door of this Speaker's office.

The placing of the Speaker on a podium is another symbol. And I can tell you that leaving the comfort of ten years with you on the floor of this House will take some getting used to. As a matter of fact, I plan to exercise my discretion to speak to you from time to time from the floor. In this way, my feelings on issues will be openly expressed in debate among you — not through a manipulation of the authority you have bestowed on your presiding officer.

But as I sit here for the first time today, it occurs to me that this podium arrangement has two positive effects upon the occupant of this chair — and since many of you will be occupying the chair in the months to come, I want to mention these observations to you.

The first is that this vantage point requires us to look each other in the eye.

And the other is that when I look straight ahead I see the open doors of this House.

It seems to me that those two simple observations are — at least fundamentally — what is expected of us: to maintain open doors, and to look each other in the eye when we deliberate.

The new relationships that begin inside this building today — ours with each other, and that of a new House with a new Senate, and that of a new legislature with a new Governor — are going to be open, honest, and constructive relationships.

Many of you have heard me say that these new relationships will include Republican members of this House as full partners in the legislative process. I repeat it today, and expand upon it so that my intent is clear: Republican members' ideas will not only be heard in this session, they will be sought — both in committee, and on the floor of the House. Majority party status is a responsibility Democrats welcome — but it does not confer on its members a monopoly of good ideas.

I am very glad for the somewhat unusual historic circumstance that brings Terry Branstad among us this week as the presiding officer of our joint convention. It allows us to personally wish a former colleague well, and to assure him that a new Governor's ideas and programs will have a fair hearing in this legislature. Governor Branstad and this legislature will look each other in the eye.

While I believe there is a heightened — and perhaps new — sense of urgency among the people of Iowa who look to us for new answers, I do not believe they want us to escape our responsibility to the future through sleight-of-hand. This is not a magic show. This legislature will not allow itself to be carried away by urgency into panicked responses. We are a deliberative body. While it is true that we can and will carve out and define the most critical areas of state concern early, it should be understood that a framework for orderly and fulfilling life in Iowa in the next decade is part of the scorecard by which we would be measured.

What is possible in the creation of jobs this year will be done, but equally important, what is necessary to develop the climate for jobs through 1993 will begin.

What is possible to preserve and enhance our soil, water, wildlife, and recreational environments this year will be done. What is necessary to assure that these resources are in better shape in 1993 than we find them today will begin.

What is possible for us to do to control utility costs in 1983 will be done. What is necessary to keep them fair will begin.

And this legislature will do what is possible to reassure Iowans they will not be denied medical care because of costs — and what is necessary to guarantee that our efforts will still be meaningful in 1993 will begin.

Four years ago, a new legislature convened with $140 million in the bank. We sit down today with a revenue shortfall of more than $100 million. That deficit is a new responsibility — an unprecedented one for a legislature in Iowa. What can be done to balance the old budget so that we can get down to the business of adopting the 1984 and 1985 budgets we were elected to write — will be done.

But it will not be done at the expense of the 1986 and 1987 budget writers. Neither will it be done at the expense of a fair tax system. Immediate steps will be taken to launch a tax study — so that we can get a clear picture of the faults and assets of our current system. A study is not a solution to the revenue needs of the moment, but must accompany whatever taxation changes we make to assure us of equity and balance — and stability.

This legislature will begin to repair Iowa, but it cannot tar over all the leaky roofs in two years or even four years. We can and will invite individuals, cities, counties, and schools to full partnership in the responsibility to put Iowa back together again. We must all be part of the restoration of what our ancestors and parents built for us. Paving one road, fixing one sewer, one pilot project — none of these will suffice to make a state restoration policy. We must establish a mechanism whereby we can share the responsibility — and the promise to one another that we will reverse our pattern of using Iowa up — and begin to use Iowa wisely.

This Legislature will also look the people of Iowa in the eye. We begin with a new sense of accountability that invites Iowans to adopt solutions that are not only adequate, but that are fair.

It is no longer enough to promise a fair tax system — we must deliver one.

In fashioning new tax equity, we must demand that all Iowans pay their fair share. And we must recognize those who currently bear a disproportionate share of the tax burden — middle-income wage earners.

It is no longer enough to announce that our doors are opened, We will take government to the doors of Iowans, and make it possible for them to fulfill their partnerships with us in their own communities.

It is no longer enough to convince people of the legislature's good intentions regarding economic development: Government and farmers and workers and managers and small businesspeople will work together during this legislature.

Farmers with the lowest farm parity indicators since 1933 — and small businesspeople succumbing to record bankruptcies — and managers either forced to close plants or to idle workers to stay open at all — and more than one hundred seventeen thousand jobless Iowans — have become allies through necessity. Now, economics demands that they become partners. Government can bring that partnership about; we will affect its beginnings within a month.

Nearly every day someone says that this will be a difficult session. I do not disagree. Our problems are statewide, regional, national, international. They are solvable only to the extent that we look them in the eye — and open our door to every individual, every government, every institution that will share the task of solving them.

If I were to hang a plaque on the wall of my office to reassure me in my work as state representative in the 1980's, it would contain this quote from John Kennedy, as he spoke about the office he held in the 1960's: "In the decade that lies ahead — the challenging, revolutionary Sixties — the American Presidency will demand . . . that the President place himself in the very thick of the fight, that he care passionately about the fate of the people he leads, that he be willing to serve them at the risk of incurring their momentary displeasure."

In our decade that lies ahead — the challenging, and the revolutionary Eighties — no less a demand is placed on each of us.

Thank you very much.

ELECTION OF SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

Chiodo of Polk placed in nomination the Honorable John H. Connors as candidate for Speaker pro tempore of the House of Representatives of the Seventieth General Assembly, preceding his nomination with the following remarks:

Mr. Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House:

John Connors has been a member of this body for ten years.

It became apparent to me when I became a member six years ago that John Connors was a proven leader who could handle difficult assignments. His ability to moderate and mediate difficult problems also was quickly apparent. He has a true sense of fair play.

His experience of leadership and integrity is beyond question. His abilities are never in doubt.

He has a keen sense of history and a bright vision of the future.

It is my opinion that he is tailor-made for the position of Speaker pro tempore. It is with great honor that I place in nomination the name of John Connors for the position of Speaker pro tempore.

Cochran of Webster seconded the nomination of Mr. Connors as Speaker pro tempore of the House of Representatives, preceding his nomination with the following remarks:

Mr. Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House.

It is my distinct honor and privilege to rise to second the nomination of Mr. John Connors of Polk County as Speaker pro tempore of the House of Representatives.

The class of 1973 was the largest group of new members ever to be sworn in as members of this august body. There were fifty-three that year. In our own Democratic caucus of forty-five no fewer than thirty were newcomers to the assembly. John was one of the new members.

There were some adjustments to be made. It required patience, understanding and leadership. John Connors rose to the occasion and distinguished himself from the beginning as a leader. He has grown with the responsibilities of the position.

Many of us have known John even prior to his legislative career. As a member of the Des Moines Fire Department he became a lobbyist for the Fire Fighters of Iowa. He was a very effective lobbyist and demonstrated his abilities of being able to work with people.

As a member of that third House, as the lobbying profession has been sometimes dubbed, looking in, John decided he could be even more effective if he became a legislator and could then represent all the people of this great state. He truly has been a credit and asset to all of us ever since.

John has earned our respect and demonstrated his leadership abilities. His time has come.

Mr. Speaker, it is with pride, respect and friendship that I second the nomination of the Honorable John Connors of Polk County for the office of Speaker pro tempore of the House of Representatives for the Seventieth General Assembly.

Halvorson of Clayton seconded the nomination of Mr. Connors, preceding his nomination with the following remarks:

Mr. Speaker, I wish to second the nomination of John Connors of Polk County for the office of Speaker pro tempore.

I have had the pleasure of working with Representative Connors these past eight years in both the minority and majority and have found him to be totally competent and extremely fair in all of his decisions. As a member of the minority we shall respect the power of the majority but will rely on the kind of fairness and uniformity that Representative Connors has shown in the past. We feel confident he is not only qualified but capable of being a Speaker pro tempore that both the majority and minority parties will respect. Cooperation and respect must be our guideline these next two years.

I move that the Chief Clerk be directed to cast the votes of all the members of the House of Representatives for the Honorable John Connors of Polk County.

In accordance with the foregoing motion, the Acting Chief Clerk cast the votes of all the members of the House of Representatives for the Honorable John H. Connors as Speaker pro tempore of the House of Representatives of the Seventieth General Assembly. The Honorable John H. Connors of Polk County, having received all of the votes cast for the office of Speaker pro tempore of the House of Representatives of the Seventieth General Assembly, was declared duly elected to that office.

Poncy of Wapello moved that a committee of two be appointed to escort the Speaker pro tempore to the chair.

The motion prevailed and the following committee was appointed: Poncy of Wapello and Doderer of Johnson.

Mr. Connors was escorted to the Speaker's station and, being duly sworn, offered the following remarks:

Mr. Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House — (My Brothers and Sisters):

It is a great privilege to have the Honorable Harold Hughes and Honorable Cooper Evans present with us today. As Governor Ray said when the President visited us, "Once an Iowan, always an Iowan".

Today you have given me the high honor of electing me as our Speaker pro tempore for the next two years. I humbly accept this honor, with sincere thanks and with the full knowledge that with the honor also goes the responsibility to continue to earn the confidence and trust you have placed in me.

While researching the remarks of Speakers pro tempore, from those first printed in the House Journal of January 11, 1909, through those of January 12, 1981, I was impressed with the concerns, dedication and sincerity of those men, to the duties of this office. Please be assured, that I share those concerns, dedication and sincerity, and I promise you, that I will do everything humanly possible to aid our Speaker so that his administration will be successful, and to faithfully serve you to the best of my ability.

I have held this place in awe and respect since first coming here in 1955, as a lobbyist for the Iowa Association of Professional Fire Fighters, and my respect for this House of Representatives has grown since first being elected to serve here in 1973.

This morning you see before you living proof that in America, everyone has a reason to dream, to want to achieve, to have goals in life — and that dreams can come true beyond our wildest expectations.

I want to express my sincere appreciation and love to my family and friends, for their encouragement and support through the years that enables me to be here today. It is a warm feeling to be chosen by your fellow workers to serve as one of their leaders. You have made me very proud and happy and I will always cherish today. I pray that my parents, family and friends here on earth, and with God, can feel it too.

May God bless you.... and guide me. Thank you.

The motion prevailed.

President Branstad announced a quorum present and the joint convention duly organized.

Senator Junkins of Lee moved that a committee of six, consisting of three members from the Senate and three members from the House of Representatives, be appointed to notify Governor Robert D. Ray that the joint convention was ready to receive him.

The motion prevailed and the President appointed as such committee Senators Deluhery of Scott, Gallagher of Black Hawk and Lura of Marshall, on the part of the Senate, and Representatives Arnould of Scott, Groninga of Cerro Gordo and Schroeder of Pottawattamie, on the part of the House.

The Justices of the Supreme Court and the Judges of the Court of Appeals were escorted into the House chamber.

The committee waited upon Governor Robert D. Ray and escorted him to the Speaker's station.

President Branstad then presented Governor Robert D. Ray who delivered the following address:

As I was getting ready to come here, I was handed a letter from a youngster that I would like to share with you, especially you newly elected members.

Dear Governor Ray:

I am curious what you are going to do after you leave office. Will it be politics or are you going to lead a normal life?

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chief Justice, Justices and Judges, State Officials, Senators and Representatives, Guests, and Friends:

As I prepared this, my final Condition of the State message, I was reminded of what Abraham Lincoln had to say when he was told he had smallpox. Lincoln said, "Good, at last I have something I can give everybody..."

That is the approach a Governor is expected to take in this annual message — offering a detailed legislative agenda, something he gives everybody — legislators, the press, and the people of Iowa.

That is not the approach for my message, this year. You will not receive a specific thirty-five point program or a fifty-six point program — at least not from me.

This morning, I would like to reflect on what we have done together these past fourteen years, where we are today — our current condition, and where I hope to see this state headed in the years ahead.

As I leave the Governorship, the words of the poet Alfred Lord Tennyson have a special meaning: "I am part of all that I met." Certainly, those words ring true for me. I am a part of all that I met during five terms as Governor of this wonderful state.

Billie and I are fortunate to have been asked to share the highlights of so many peoples' lives — community centennials, commencements, Boys' and Girls' State, the boys' and girls' basketball tournaments, all kinds of ethnic festivals and celebrations, honors programs and special awards to Iowans. Sharing these experiences truly has been the highlight of our lives.

Talk about thrills, being among the Hawk fans watching them win the Peach Bowl has to be a highlight.

Along with the excitement, Billie and I will never forget the warmth, kindness and friendliness shown to us by tens of thousands of Iowans. Those really will be remembered as the good times.

But, we will also remember Iowans for how they acted during times of distress.

I think back to the dozens of trips I have made to the scenes of tornadoes, blizzards, droughts, floods and other disasters. I saw Iowans whose clothes were stained with mud and whose faces were covered with sweat and tears. Even though they needed temporary help, these sturdy people always came up to reassure me that they would survive, that they would rebuild and be stronger than ever before.

I am proud to have been Governor of a state inhabited with such resourceful, resilient people.

As Iowans have been tested time and time again, I have come to understand why the Chinese symbol, or ideogram, for the word crisis joins the two symbols for the words danger and opportunity. Certainly, in the past fourteen years, we Americans have witnessed episodes that produced danger and, at the same time, opportunity.

Recall the period of campus unrest in the late 1960's and early 70's. There was danger: the potential loss of life and the actual destruction of property to protest a very unpopular war. Yet, in Iowa, we seized the opportunity to prove that restrained force does work. The expression of dissent continued, a Constitutional right. And, while some of those expressions were bold, they were not bloody.

Consider the Watergate crisis in the mid-seventies. There was a danger in that too: the public's unparalleled loss of respect for a President of the United States threatened government at all levels with mistrust and cynicism. Yet, in Iowa, we seized the opportunity to demonstrate how government can be open and honest and credible. People kept their faith in us. We were able to knit a consensus on most issues and act on behalf of the people.

Remember the energy crisis in the late seventies. There was great danger: the shortage of fuel nearly stopped our cars in the streets and our tractors in the fields. People worried whether they would be able to heat their homes. Yet, in Iowa, we seized the opportunity to set up an Iowa oil pool, to clean and use our own coal, to utilize solar technology, to market Gasohol, and to be a leader in energy conservation.

Most recently, the crisis of the early 1980's has been economic — back-to-back recessions causing millions of people to be thrown out of work across this land. Here, the danger reaches the very core of society: the individual and the family unit. Too many good people want to work, and cannot. Too many good people want to feed and clothe themselves and their families, and cannot. Too many good people want to build a better life for their children, and cannot.

In a sluggish economy, cities, counties and states also suffer because of slumping revenues. We are no exception. Yet, Iowa has seized the opportunity to make prudent changes. While other states have made drastic cuts in services or raised major taxes, or both, we have done neither. And, despite the financial beating which has sent state after state reeling into the red, we have provided a way to run state government without a sales or other major tax increase. With your continued support, we will not have a deficit in Iowa's treasury!

As difficult as they were, we have made the adjustments that caused the least amount of pain. But, with the lingering recession, and additional cuts in federal spending likely, we must remain tight-fisted. And, a tight fist today is better than an empty hand tomorrow.

For fourteen years then, we have minimized the dangers and maximized the opportunities. Every year has been different. The compelling issues in one period have gone virtually unmentioned a few years later.

It was a former president of France who once said, "To govern is to choose." Our purpose then, has been to choose wisely. We have anticipated issues early, identified courses of action, stuck by our guns, and rallied Iowans to march with us in the direction of progress.

We have not ducked controversy. Our choices have been based on comon sense, and I think most people believe they have been good ones.

Together, we have improved Iowa's business climate to attract industry and jobs. Since my first election, companies have located 1,100 plants here and expanded 2,400 more. This past year, despite the sour economy, the recession and of too many lost jobs, more new jobs were created in Iowa than in 1981. The "Hire One Now" program we began last fall has helped over 2,000 unemployed Iowans to find work. And credit is due television stations serving three Iowa regions which cooperated with Job Service of Iowa to hold successful "Job-A-Thons."

Together, we have greatly enhanced education to better prepare young Iowans. Since we began the School Foundation Plan a decade ago, state aid for public schools has totaled almost $5 billion.

And Iowa is a national leader in support for special education. The number of Iowans who have completed four years of college jumped 185 percent in the decade of the seventies. In my first Inaugural, I called for tuition grants for Iowa's private college students. We began that program right away with an appropriation of $1½ million. This year, we are providing more than ten times that much support, over $15 million. And, we have seen phenomenal growth at our vocational-technical schools.

Together, we have protected people from rising property taxes with new and expanded tax credits. In fact, property taxes as a percent of all taxation fell by twenty-five percent between 1968 and 1980. We abolished the sales tax on food and drugs to help the needy and older Iowans on fixed incomes. We have preserved a key incentive — Iowa's single-factor corporate tax, while adding Urban Revitalization and still other job incentives that were passed last year.

Iowa farm land is now assessed on its productivity, and inheritance tax laws were changed to benefit survivors.

Together, we have more fully recognized the value of agriculture. We have begun to stem the tide of soil erosion with a cost-share conservation program that was a first in this nation. Just last week, Bob Clark, a very bright young farmer from Linn County, was in my office as we announced he would receive Iowa's first soil conservation loan.

Together, we have also made unprecedented strides with our environment. Adopting the bottle and can bill has given us a cleaner and more attractive Iowa. Our state parks now accommodate 15 million visitors every year. And, the Iowa Natural Heritage Foundation we began four years ago has already saved thousands of acres of precious prairies, marshes and wooded lands.

Together, we have conserved taxpayers' money by consolidating several state agencies, notably the Department of Transportation. The novel Railroad Branchline program has upgraded 1,200 miles of track. In the past fourteen years, we have paved 4,000 miles of roads and resurfaced 4,400 miles more. We have replaced 838 bridges. We have constructed nine new bridges across the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers. Most of them, according to my last report, are still standing.

Together, we have made a safe state even safer. Iowa's Law Enforcement Academy is a model for the nation and the State Crime Lab is aiding local law enforcement. We have reformed Iowa's court system and modernized the criminal and juvenile codes, and cracked down on drunk driving. Effective programs to combat drug abuse and alcoholism are in place, and they are working. The good news in 1982, the bottom line was this: the crime rate and the number of traffic deaths in Iowa both went down!

Together, we can be proud of other accomplishments: the Iowa Housing Finance Authority helping Iowans buy homes.... a Family Practice program training medical doctors.... and a Citizen's Aide working to cut through red tape. Nutritional programs are feeding thousands of older Iowans every day. Mental health and foster care services have been vastly improved. More women and minorities are in the state government work force. A record 99 percent of Iowa school children have been immunized. We are providing additional dollars for the arts and culture and revenue sharing with cities and counties. We have promoted "Fine Iowa Meats" outside of our state and Community Betterment here in our state — both very successful.

All of this, and more, constitutes the condition of the state — a balanced condition as vital as a balanced budget in its effect on the quality of our lives.

Despite occasional setbacks, and we have had them, we have done a lot of good for Iowans. And those Iowans, in turn, do a lot of good for people around the world. Thanks to our farmers, to those who process Iowa's commodities and others, there is perhaps no other place on this earth where so few do so much for so many.

In light of this, we must always take seriously our role in the world community. So I encourage every Iowan who watches, listens to, or reads this message to ponder some very serious matters — hunger and world trade, nuclear arms and world peace.

As we meet right now, 500 million people around the world are malnourished.... half-a-billion hungry people.... twice as many as all of the people in the United States of America. Yet, in this country, their cry of hunger is rarely heard.

With such obvious need, why, I ask, must Iowa farmers confront so many trade barriers? The question is even more timely with the news last week that America set a record trade deficit last year. The answer does not lie in erecting trade barriers of our own, as some suggest. The answer lies in stronger negotiation. Iowa's top cattle and pork officials joined me in a visit to Japan last fall to discuss this issue at length. We delivered a firm message that cargo ships bringing Japanese Toyotas, Datsuns, Hondas and Sony TV's across the Pacific should be met by ships carrying more Iowa corn, beans, beef and pork to that country going the other way!

Still agricultural exports have multiplied tenfold during the time I have been Governor. By promoting "Iowa productivity and quality," as suggested by David Belin, there is reason to believe this kind of growth can continue. Our food and manufactured equipment have the potential to do so much good, from the isolated villages in Nigeria to the overcrowded cities in the Far East.

Another Iowa foreign office, this one in Asia, and new export trading companies can realize much of that potential. And, if we save our fragile soil, this state could be a steady source of exports well into the twenty-first century. But, also there must be a twenty-first century.

This morning, as we discuss jobs and hunger and trade — every one a matter of urgent priority — ponder for a moment the vulnerability of every Iowan, every American, every man, woman and child on this planet — due to the peril of nuclear arms. The arms race can never be won. Yet the super-powers keep pouring more billions of dollars into defense, producing weapons of destruction, instead of instruments of peace.

As the Bible commands us, this truly is the time to beat swords into plowshares, before it is too late. The answer lies with open communication and mutual understanding. After I leave the Governorship, Billie and I intend to spend some time this year working for the Friendship Force, and hopefully in developing our new "sister-state" relationship with Hebei province, in the People's Republic of China.

Regardless of what my pursuits might be, my interests and concern will always remain deeply rooted in our state. That is why my administration has made considerable effort to prepare for this session — to define issues and put forward ideas which I commend to you today.

If your interest is jobs — and there can be no issue more important in 1983 — read the recommendations of our High Technology Task Force. Move swiftly to act on these and other job incentives.

If your interest is education, consider the findings of the Governor's Science Advisory Council regarding science and mathematics instruction. Prepare to receive the report of the Foreign Language Task Force, chaired by President Jim Freedman of the University of Iowa. And, recall how plans for a new Law School at Iowa got shelved in the final hours of last year's session. I urge you to consider the Regents' bonding proposal.

If your interest is Iowa's infrastructure, study the sixty proposals released just last month from the Blue Ribbon Transportation Task Force.

If your interest is in the safety of people, look long and hard at the ideas coming from our Drunk Driving and Child Care Task Forces, and reconsider my plan from last year for a classified sentencing system.

If your interest is quality health care, the Governor's Health Care Cost Containment Commission has outlined comprehensive suggestions that deserve your review.

And, if your interest is water resources, follow closely the work of our Missouri River Coordinator.

I would also urge you to keep open minds and to take a fresh look at two worthwhile ideas. One is a Washington, D.C. office for the State of Iowa. Someday, a majority of lawmakers will see the benefit of a small office that could actually cut our costs in dealing with the federal government — while also protecting Iowa's interests. Second, I still believe people should be allowed to use the local option concept to raise revenue if that be their desire.

Looking to the past and the future, I ask you to support efforts to add to the generous Herrick gift you have wisely earmarked for a new Historical Building.

I also ask you to look ahead, much as we did several years ago with Iowa: 2000. Without slighting current problems which you must deal with, do not become so preoccupied or distorted by them that you avoid long-range planning.

I ask you to offer hope to young people who will live in Iowa's future, and reassurance to older Iowans, to whom we owe so very much. And, with your voices and your votes, I ask you to show special compassion for the poor and the handicapped. Those people who cannot fend for themselves.

This will be a challenging year for all of you — with the demands on the budget, pressure on the Unemployment Trust Fund and the many other matters you will debate in the months ahead.

To you who are legislative veterans, you know what challenges are all about, and you have my appreciation for helping meet them while I have been here.

To you who are here for the first time, you have my congratulations and my best wishes. For you are entering an exciting period in your lives.

To all of you, I join our Iowans in expressing more interest in the final product of this session than in the politics which will shape it.

One year from now, January, 1984, marks the 100th anniversary of the first legislative session held under this "Golden Dome." What better way to mark this centennial than with a General Assembly enveloped in a spirit of bi-partisan cooperation. I know that sounds optimistic, but is there a better approach? I think not.

You begin your efforts with the knowledge that Governor-Elect Terry Branstad is willing to listen and wants to work with you. Our new Governor is experienced and prepared for this office. There hasn't been a smoother or better transition in the United States. And Terry, I stand ready to help in any way that you ask.

When I assumed this office, in 1969, I said, among a lot of things, "Each successive Iowa Governor has made his contribution.... to the realization of mankind's quest toward a more perfect society, where illness and cruelty and bitterness and war will be no more. It is a quest which has no end, but which makes us a little better tomorrow than we are today...."

I have sought to make my contribution as best I could.

I have had some great help. To my loyal, hardworking staff, to the department heads and all of the men and women in the Executive Branch, to the people who have given of their time to serve on state boards and commissions, to you the legislators and yes, to the press, you have my thanks. To the voters who put their trust and faith in me for five terms, and to all Iowans, I will be forever grateful for the opportunity to have served and led Iowa during these exciting times.

While the Governorship I began fourteen years ago ends in a few days, mankind's quest toward a more perfect society continues. I intend to remain a part of it. But for now, on behalf of Billie, Randi, Lu Ann and Vicki, let me just simply say thank you again and good-bye....

ADOPTION OF EXTRAORDINARY RESOLUTION

Senator Junkins of Lee asked and received unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the following Extraordinary Resolution and moved its adoption:

SEVENTIETH GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Lura, Mann, A. Miller, C. Miller, Nystrom, Palmer, Priebe, Readinger, Rife, Ritsema, Rodgers, Schwengels, Slater, Small, Taylor, Tieden, Vande Hoef, Van Gilst, Waldstein, Wells, Welsh

Whereas Robert D. Ray today addressed the Seventieth General Assembly of the State of Iowa and in so doing, has addressed the eighth and last Iowa legislative body he will meet as Governor of this state, and

Whereas this Joint Convention of one hundred representatives and fifty senators therefore is honored to represent the four hundred-fourteen men and women who served in each of the seven General Assemblies during Robert D. Ray's fourteen-year tenure as governor, and

Whereas beginning today the state's historians will record and evaluate the ways in which Robert Ray's public service has enriched the history of state government in Iowa, and the ways in which his service has touched the lives of all Iowans, Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved That the Seventieth General Assembly of Iowa in Joint Convention remark for posterity upon Governor Robert D. Ray's relationship as Chief Executive of this State with the Legislative Branch of Iowa State Government, to wit:

Robert D. Ray's tenure is marked by a constructive separation of powers during which the governor's policy objectives have been clearly and consistently stated, leaving the legislature free to express its constitutionally-mandated independence. The results of this relationship will be recalled in more detail than can be expressed in this resolution, but for legislators whose service parallels Governor Ray's, four general contributions will serve as reminders of hundreds of policy changes they fashioned from 1969 until today:

1. Significant state governmental reorganization, with a chief executive office strengthened through enhanced executive accountability.

2. Fundamental and positive shifts in funding the state's public education system through a formula designed to reflect policies of tax equity and high educational quality.

3. Statutory and executive consideration of human rights, as evidenced through strengthened civil rights law, criminal law, Iowa's early endorsement of a federal Equal Rights Amendment, and most recently highlighted by Iowa's national reputation as a haven for the refugees of war.

4. State fiscal policies that go beyond balance sheets in ledger books to reflect progressive state social and environmental policy.

Be It Further Resolved, that since this Joint Convention particularly wishes to come to the aid of Iowa's younger history scholars, we hereby dedicate this resolution most especially to the school children of Iowa, in whose hands it will one day be footnoted as a reference to support these Robert D. Ray "firsts":

—Iowa's first twentieth century four-year term governor.

—Iowa's first five-term governor.

—Iowa's first fourteen-year governor.

—Iowa's first governor to occupy Terrace Hill.

—Iowa's first governor to serve during annual legislative sessions.

We hereby admonish future writers, historians, and journalists, young and old, to temper their written recollections of the Robert D. Ray years with wisdom and compassion and thoroughness; and

Be It Further Resolved by the Seventieth General Assembly in Joint Convention, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Governor Robert D. Ray, and to Billie Ray, where it is hoped it will be received as a symbol of appreciation, good wishes and affection extended by the people of Iowa to the Governor, the First Lady, and their family.

The motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

Senator Junkins of Lee presented Governor Robert D. Ray with an enrolled copy of the resolution.

Governor Robert D. Ray was escorted from the House chamber by the committee previously appointed.

Printing and Form of Bills and Other Documents

Bills and joint resolutions shall be introduced, numbered, prepared, and printed as provided by law, or in the absence of such law, in a manner determined by the secretary of the senate and the chief clerk of the house of representatives.

All bills and joint resolutions introduced shall be in a form and number approved by the secretary of the senate and chief clerk of the house.

The legal counsel of each house shall approve all bills before introduction.

Rule 6

Companion Bills

Identical bills introduced in each house shall be called companion bills. Each house shall designate the sponsor in the usual way followed in parentheses by the sponsor of the companion bill in the other house. The house where the bill is first introduced shall print the complete text.

Rule 7

Reprinting of Bills

Whenever any bill has been substantially amended by either house, the secretary of the senate or the chief clerk shall order the bill reprinted on paper of a different color. All adopted amendments shall be distinguishable.

The secretary of the senate or the chief clerk may order the printing of a reasonable number of additional copies of any bill, resolution, amendment, or journal.

Rule 8

Daily Clip Sheet

The secretary of the senate and the chief clerk shall prepare a daily clip sheet covering all amendments filed.

Rule 9

Reintroduction of Bills and Other Measures

A bill or resolution which has passed one house and is rejected in the other shall not be introduced again during that general assembly.

Rule 10

Certification of Bills and Other Enrollments

When any bill or resolution which has passed one house is rejected or adopted in the other, notice of such action and the date thereof shall be given to the house of origin in writing signed by the secretary or the chief clerk.

Rule 11

Code Editor's Correction Bill

A bill recommended by the code editor which is introduced by a committee of the house or senate within the first four weeks of convening of a legislative session and which contains code corrections of a nonsubstantive nature shall not be amended on the floor of either house except pursuant to corrective or nonsubstantive amendments filed by the judiciary committee of either the house or the senate.

Rule 12

Amendments by Other House

I. When a bill which originated in one house is amended in the other house, the house originating the bill may amend the amendment, concur in full in the amendment, or refuse to concur in full in the amendment. Precedence of motions shall be in that order. If the amendment from the other house contains a provision that has a fiscal impact, the bill may be referred to the finance committee for such time as is specified in the motion to refer. The finance committee shall report the bill by the date specified with or without recommendation or the bill shall automatically be placed on the calendar.

A. If the house originating the bill concurs in the amendment, the bill shall then be read for the last time as amended, and placed upon its final passage.

B. If the house originating the bill refuses to concur in the amendment, the bill shall be returned to the amending house which shall either:

1. Recede, after which the bill shall be read for the last time and placed upon its final passage; or

2. Insist, which will send the bill to a conference committee.

C. If the house originating the bill amends the amendment, that house shall concur in the amendment as amended and the bill shall be read for the last time as amended, shall be placed on final passage, and shall be returned to the other house. The other house cannot further amend the bill.

1. If the amending house which gave second consideration to the bill concurs in the amendment to the amendment, the bill shall then be read for the last time as finally amended, and placed upon its final passage.

2. If the amending house refuses to concur in the amendment to the amendment, the bill shall be returned to the house originating the bill which shall either:

a. Recede, after which the bill shall be read for the last time as amended and placed upon its final passage; or

b. Insist, which will send the bill to a conference committee.

II. A motion to recede has precedence over a motion to insist. Failure to recede means to insist; and failure to insist means to recede.

III. A motion to lay on the table or to indefinitely postpone shall be out of order with respect to motions to recede from or insist upon and to amendments to bills which have passed both houses.

IV. A motion to concur, refuse to concur, recede, insist, or adopt a conference committee report is in order even though the subject matter has previously been acted upon.

Rule 13

Conference Committee

1. Within one legislative day after either house insists upon an amendment to a bill, the presiding officer of the house, after consultation with the majority leader, shall appoint three majority party members and, after consultation with the minority leader, shall appoint two minority party members to a conference committee. The presiding officer of the senate, after consultation with the majority leader, shall appoint three majority party members and, after consultation with the minority leader, shall appoint two minority party members to a conference committee. The papers shall remain with the house that originated the bill.

2. The conference committee shall meet before the end of the next legislative day after their appointment, shall select a chair and shall discuss the controversy.

3. The authority of the committee shall cover free conference during which the committee has authority to propose amendments to any portion of a bill provided the amendment is within the scope of the title of the bill.

4. An agreement on recommendations must be approved by at least three members from each house. The committee shall submit two originals of the report signed by at least three members of each house with one signed original and three copies to be submitted to each house. The report shall first be acted upon in the house originating the bill. Such action, including all papers, shall be immediately referred by the secretary of the senate or the chief clerk of the house of representatives to the other house.

5. The report of agreement is debatable, but cannot be amended. If the report contains recommended amendments to the bill, adoption of the report shall automatically adopt all amendments contained therein. After the report is adopted, there shall be no more debate, and the bill shall immediately be placed upon its final passage.

6. Refusal of either house to adopt the conference committee report has the same effect as if the committee had disagreed.

7. If the conference committee fails to reach agreement, a report of such failure signed by at least three members of each house shall be given promptly to each house. The bill shall be returned to the house that originated the bill and the members of the committee shall be immediately discharged and a new conference committee appointed by the presiding officer of each house. The presiding officer of the house, after consultation with the majority leader, shall appoint three majority party members and, after consultation with the minority leader, shall appoint two minority party members all of whom shall not have previously served on a conference committee on the bill under consideration. The presiding officer of the senate, after consultation with the majority leader, shall appoint three majority party members and, after consultation with the minority leader, shall appoint two minority party members all of whom shall not have previously served on a conference committee on the bill under consideration.

Rule 14

Enrollment and Authentication of Bills

A bill or resolution which has passed both houses shall be enrolled in the house of origin under the direction of either the secretary or the chief clerk and its house of origin shall be certified by the endorsement of the secretary or the chief clerk.

After enrollment, each bill shall be signed by the president and by the speaker.

Page 7

Rule 15

Concerning other Enrollments

All resolutions and other matters which are to be presented to the governor for his approval shall be enrolled, signed, and presented in the same manner as bills.

All resolutions and other matters which are not to be presented to the governor or the secretary of state shall be enrolled, signed and retained permanently by the secretary of the senate or chief clerk of the house.

Rule 16

Transmission of Bills to the Governor

After a bill has been signed in each house, it shall be presented to the governor by the secretary or the chief clerk of the house of origin. The secretary or the chief clerk shall report the date of the presentation, which shall be entered upon the journal of the house of origin.

Rule 17

Fiscal Notes

A fiscal note shall be attached to any bill or joint resolution which reasonably could have an annual effect of at least one hundred thousand dollars or a combined total effect within five years after enactment of five hundred thousand dollars or more on the aggregate revenues, expenditures or fiscal liability of the state or its subdivisions. However, notwithstanding the fiscal limitations stated in this rule, any bill referred to a finance committee of either house shall have a fiscal note attached to it when reported out of the finance committee. This rule does not apply to appropriation measures where the total effect is stated in dollar amounts.

The preliminary determination of whether the bill appears to require a fiscal note shall be made by the legislative service bureau which shall send a copy of the request to the legislative fiscal bureau unless the requestor specifies the request is to be confidential. Upon completion of the bill draft, the legislative service bureau shall immediately send a copy to the legislative fiscal director for review. If the legislative fiscal bureau confirms that a fiscal note is required, the words "FISCAL NOTE REQUIRED" shall be prominently stamped on the bill jacket.

When a committee reports a bill to the floor, the committee shall state in the report whether a fiscal note is or is not required.

The fiscal note shall be printed on the bill before introduction if practicable; and in any event the secretary of the senate or chief clerk of the house shall attach the fiscal note to the bill as soon as it is available.

The legislative fiscal director shall prepare the fiscal note within a reasonable time after receiving the request and necessary information. A copy of the fiscal note shall be filed by the legislative fiscal director, for distribution, with the secretary of the senate or the chief clerk of the house unless within one legislative day a request for a revised fiscal note is filed with the legislative fiscal director. The legislative fiscal director may request the cooperation of the state comptroller or any state department or agency. If a fiscal note is prepared by the comptroller or any state department or agency at the request of the fiscal director, that fact shall be stated in the note.

Each fiscal note shall state in dollars the estimated effect of the bill on the revenues, expenditures, and fiscal liability of the state during the first five years after enactment. The information shall specifically note the fiscal impact for the first two years following enactment and the anticipated impact for the succeeding three years. Sources of funds for expenditures under the bill shall be stated, including federal funds. If the fiscal director cannot make an accurate estimate, the director shall state the best available estimate or shall state that no dollar estimate can be made and state concisely the reason.

The fiscal note shall be attached or printed in the bill following the explanation or shall be printed in the daily clip sheet.

A revised fiscal note may be requested by a committee chair or a sponsor of the bill if the fiscal effect of the bill has been changed by adoption of an amendment. However, a request for a revised fiscal note shall not delay action on a bill unless so ordered by the presiding officer of the house in which the bill is under consideration.

If a date for adjournment has been set, then a constitutional majority of the house in which the bill is under consideration may waive the fiscal note requirement during the three days prior to the date set for adjournment.

Rule 18

Members shall serve until their successors have been duly appointed or selected. The committee shall elect a chair and vice chair from its membership. A vacancy shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointment.

The purpose of the legislative intern program shall be: 1) to provide useful staff services to legislators not otherwise provided by the general assembly; 2) to give interested college, graduate, and law school students practical experience in the legislative process as well as providing a meaningful educational experience; and 3) to enrich the curriculum of participating colleges and universities.

The joint legislative intern committee shall have the following duties and responsibilities:

1. Provide procedures for the recruitment, selection, assignment, and supervision of all interns in each house.

For the purposes of this rule, a joint resolution is considered as a bill.

A "permanent full-time" or "permanent part-time" employee is one who is employed the year around and eligible to receive state benefits.

An "exempt full-time" employee is one who is employed for the period of the sessions with extensions post-session and pre-session as scheduled. This class is eligible to receive state benefits with the cost of benefits to the state to be paid by the employee when not on the payroll.

a portion of the year, usually the legislative session. This class is not eligible for state benefits, except IPERS.

A "part-time" employee is one who is employed to work less than 40 hours per week. This class is not eligible for state benefits, except IPERS if eligible.

Be It Further Resolved, That the exact grade for each position to which a range of grades is assigned by this resolution shall be set or changed for senate employees by the senate rules and administration committee and for the house employees by the house rules and administration committee. The committees shall base the assignment upon the following factors:

1. The extent of formal education required of the position; and,

2. The extent of the responsibilities to be assigned to the position; and,

3. The amount of supervision placed over the position; and,

4. The number of persons the position is assigned to supervise and skill and responsibilities of those positions supervised.

The committees shall report the exact grades assigned to each position on the next legislative day, or, if such action is during the interim, on the first day the senate or house shall convene. Any action by the senate or house to disapprove a report or a portion of a report shall be effective the day after the action.

Be It Further Resolved, That a senator or representative may employ a Secretary I or Secretary II who shall perform such clerical duties as the senator or representative shall designate under the administrative direction, as appropriate, of the secretary of the senate or the chief clerk of the house.

Each standing committee chairperson and each appropriations subcommittee chairperson shall designate a secretary of at least the Secretary II level to be the Secretary to the Committee. Such Secretary shall prepare committee minutes, committee reports, type committee correspondence, maintain committee records, and otherwise assist the committee. Such duties shall be performed in accordance with standards which shall be provided by the secretary of the senate and chief clerk of the house. The chairperson of a senate committee may designate any Secretary II to be the committee secretary. The chairperson of a house committee may designate any Secretary II to be the committee secretary. In making the designation, chairpersons shall consider persons for possible designation as the secretary to the committee in the following order:

First: The secretary to the chairperson.

Second: The secretary to the committee's vice-chairperson.

Third: The secretary to any other member of the committee.

Fourth: The secretary to any other member in the same house as the committee.

A Secretary II is a person who has been certified by Merit Employment as having passed a typing performance examination of at least 40 words per minute, and a stenographic performance examination of 80 words per minute using either manual or machine dictation which will be transcribed with 80% accuracy.

A Secretary I is a person who in the judgment of the senator or representative employing such person possesses the necessary skills to perform the duties such senator or representative shall designate.

Be It Further Resolved, That as an alternative to each senator and representative having a secretary, senators and representatives may hire an administrative assistant I or II as provided by this paragraph. Senators and representatives may employ an assistant only if two or more senators or two or more representatives or two or more senators and representatives agree to jointly employ a secretary or secretaries and the assistant in a total number not greater than the senators and representatives participating in the joint hiring. Without an agreement between the hiring senators or representatives to the contrary, the secretary or secretaries and the assistant shall each devote their time equally to each of the persons for whom they work.

An Administrative Assistant II is a person who has participated in two years of education beyond high school or the equivalent experience, demonstrates a comprehensive knowledge of the legislative process and the capability of properly using the English language in research papers.

An Administrative Assistant I is a person who in the judgment of the senators or representatives employing such person, possesses the necessary skills to perform the duties such senators or representatives shall designate.

Be It Further Resolved, That a Legal Counsel II shall be a person who has graduated from an accredited school of law and is admitted to practice in Iowa as an Attorney and Counselor at Law and possesses either a Masters of Law degree or has at least two years of legal experience after admission to practice.

A Legal Counsel I shall be a person who has graduated from an accredited school of law and is admitted to practice in Iowa as an Attorney and Counselor at Law.

Be It Further Resolved, That part-time employees shall be compensated at the scheduled hourly rate for their pay grade and step. While assisting interim committees they shall be compensated at the scheduled hourly rate in grade 16.

Be It Further Resolved, That employees of the general assembly shall be eligible for mobility within pay steps -- at the discretion of the chief clerk of the house and the secretary of the senate, and subject to the approval of the house committee on rules and administration or the senate committee on rules and administration, as the case may be -- in accord with the following schedule:

(1) Progression from step "1" to "2" -- six months of actual employment.

(2) Progression from step "2" to "3", and step "3" to "4", and step "4" to "5" -- twelve months of actual employment.

(3) Progression from step "5" to "6" -- twenty-four months of actual employment.

Be It Further Resolved, that in addition to the steps provided in the preceding paragraph, that secretaries to senators and representatives shall be eligible for additional steps as provided in this paragraph. At the discretion of the secretary of the senate and chief clerk of the house and subject to the approval of the senate committee on rules and administration or the house committee on rules and administration, as appropriate, secretaries may be granted additional steps in accord with the following schedule:

1. One additional step for a secretary to a standing committee, ethics committee or appropriations subcommittee chairperson who is not the designated committee secretary.

2. One additional step for a secretary to a vice-chairperson or ranking member of a standing committee.

3. Two additional steps for a designated secretary to a standing or ethics committee or appropriations subcommittee or assistant floor leader or speaker pro tempore or president pro tempore, or secretary to the majority or minority caucus staffs and one additional step for each such position held beyond the first position.

4. Three additional steps for a secretary to a majority or minority floor leader. Except as provided in subparagraph three (3), steps may be granted only under one of the subparagraphs and only once within each subparagraph and shall not exceed three steps when combined.

5. Two additional steps shall be granted to a secretary to the majority or minority caucus staffs or to a majority or minority floor leader who is designated full-time. These steps are to be granted in addition to the steps in the above subparagraphs.

Be It Further Resolved, That the entrance salary for employees of the general assembly shall be at step 1 in the grade of the position held. Such employee may be hired above the entrance step if possessing outstanding and unusual experience for the position, provided that the entrance is not beyond step 3. Such employee who is hired above the entrance step shall be mobile above that step in the same period of time as other employees in that same step. An officer or employee who is moved to another position may be considered for partial or full credit for their experience in the former position in determining the step in the new grade.

The entry level for the position of research analyst shall be grade 24, step 1, unless extraordinary conditions justify increasing that entry level; however, that entry level may not be increased beyond grade 26, step 1. A research analyst must have shown knowledge of legislative rules and procedures as well as the Code of Iowa to be considered at any grade above a grade 24, step 1.

Be It Further Resolved, That a pay increase for employees of one step within the pay grade for the position may be made for exceptionally meritorious service in addition to step increases provided for in this resolution, upon recommendation of the secretary of the senate or chief clerk of the house and the approval of the senate committee on rules and administration or the house committee on rules and administration. Exceptionally meritorious service pay increases shall be governed by the following:

a. The employee must have served in the position for at least twelve months;

b. Written justification, setting forth in detail the nature of the exceptionally meritorious service rendered, must be submitted to the senate rules and administration committee or house rules and administration committee and approved in advance of granting the pay increase;

c. No more than one exceptionally meritorious service pay increase may be granted in any twelve month period.

Be It Further Resolved, That the secretary of the senate and chief clerk of the house shall receive applications for employment, arrange for any necessary examinations, contact references and make recommendations for hiring. The senate rules and administration committee and the house rules and administration committee shall both hire officers and employees for their respective bodies and fill any vacancies which may occur, to be effective at such time as they shall set. The committee shall report the names of those it has hired for the positions specified in this resolution or the filling of any vacancies on the next legislative day or, if such action is during the interim, on the first day the senate or house shall convene. Any action by the senate or house to amend or disapprove a report or a portion of a report shall be effective the day after the action.

The chief clerk of the house shall submit to the house committee on rules and administration and the secretary of the senate shall submit to the senate committee on rules and administration the list of names, or amendments thereto, of employee classifications and recommended pay step for each officer and employee. Such list shall include recommendations for the pay step for all employees. Each respective committee shall approve or amend the list of recommended classifications and pay steps and publish said list in the journal. The secretary of the senate and the chief clerk of the house shall set the period of employment of intermittent employees under such direction as the senate rules and administration committee and the house rules and administration committee may provide.

Be It Further Resolved, That permanent employees of the general assembly shall receive vacation allowances, sick leave, health and accident insurance, life insurance, and disability income insurance as are provided for full-time permanent state employees. The computations shall be maintained by the finance officers in each house and coordinated with the state comptroller.

Be It Further Resolved, That should any employee have a grievance concerning their compensation, hours of work, performance of work, or other matter, the grievance shall be resolved as provided in this paragraph or by procedures determined by the senate rules and administration committee or the house rules and administration committee.

The grievance shall first be brought to the attention of the secretary of the senate or chief clerk of the house. The procedure may be informal and oral except that the secretary or chief clerk shall give his or her final conclusion in writing.

An employee may appeal in writing an adverse ruling of the secretary or chief clerk to the Senate Rules and Administration Committee or the House Rules and Administration Committee which shall consider the grievance. The committee's consideration shall be informal except that accurate minutes shall be kept and the final conclusion shall be in writing.

Any employee having a grievance shall have access to all relevant house or senate records, may have the assistance of counsel, and, if the grievance involves a disciplinary action, shall have a written statement of the grounds for the disciplinary action.

Be It Further Resolved, That the compensation of chaplains officiating at the opening of the daily sessions of the house of representatives and the senate of the seventieth general assembly be fixed at ten (10) dollars for each house of the general assembly, and that mileage for chaplains be fixed at the rate of twenty (20) cents per mile to and from the State Capitol. The secretary to the senator or representative who is the chairman of the chaplain's committee shall be granted one pay step in addition to the step for which that secretary is otherwise qualified.

Governor Ray, Lieutenant Governor Anderson, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chief Justice, Justices and Judges, State Officials, Senators and Representatives, Guests, and Friends:

Today we have witnessed the transition of the powers of public office and the responsibilities of leadership that go with it. We have good cause to celebrate as a people — not because an office has been won, but because this Inauguration affirms the basic principles of freedom and democracy which we all enjoy.

Today, we, the people of Iowa, begin a new chapter in our state's history. While it is traditional for a new Governor to speak of new beginnings, new causes and new ideas, I would like to depart from that tradition for a moment. I would like to reflect briefly on the chapter of Iowa's history which has just come to a close.

The Nation's senior Governor has just stepped down from office. More than any other individual in our time, Robert D. Ray has reshaped Iowa and touched the lives of our people. His steady leadership has kept this ship of state on a steady course of progress with stability — through good times and difficult times. Governor Ray was responsible and responsive to the people. His personal character and integrity set an example for all of us. His administration is well recognized for being fair and far-sighted, competent and sensitive. On behalf of all Iowans I would like to say to you, Governor Ray, "thank you."

I am committed to continuing Iowa's tradition of open, honest, just and compassionate government. I will be careful and conservative with your tax dollars, and caring and compassionate about human needs.

My home near Lake Milis is close enough to the border to make me appreciate being an Iowan. Still I am painfully aware of how deeply the national recession has crept into our state. Farmers are fighting for their economic survival. In many areas of Iowa, manufacturing has slowed or even ground to a halt. The recession has caused too many small businesses to close their doors for the last time. For over 80,000 Iowans now unemployed, a multitude of goals and ambitions have been reduced to a single hope, a single wish, a single need — the need for a job!

JOBS FOR IOWANS

My Number One priority is finding jobs for Iowans.

Government can serve as a catalyst to help spur economic growth. But we need the cooperation of business, labor, education and agriculture if we are to have any realistic hopes for success.

Any examination of Iowa's assets shows we have a lot to offer. Iowa workers are highly skilled and that productivity creates quality — a tremendous selling point to consumers demanding value for their hard-earned money.

Iowa is a natural haven for high technology jobs. Our resources should be directed toward developing more high technology — particularly bio-technology, micro-electronics, productivity enhancement and energy alternatives.

We need to revise our securities laws to stimulate venture capital, and create an "Iowa Fund" to encourage our citizens to invest in their state's future. Business and industry can form educational partnerships with our universities and colleges.

All of these ideas, and more, will be pursued by our new High Technology Commission. I am going to push these ideas with the full force and authority of the Governor's Office, and I ask you to support them.

Today, I also welcome the opportunity I have to help unemployed Iowans get the training they need to find new, permanent jobs in the private sector.

As part of "New Federalism," the Federal government is eliminating the old CETA Program. It will be replaced with the new Jobs Training Partnership Act, which gives each state a larger role in shaping its jobs program. I have asked Charlotte Mohr of Eldridge to serve as Chairman of Iowa's Jobs Training Council.

It is imperative that young Iowans have every possible chance to be trained here so they can work here, live here, raise their families here and contribute to the overall well-being of this state.

I am looking at every feasible method for improving that well-being. Some things can happen relatively soon. Here are a couple: By authorizing revenue bonds for the Colloton Pavillion at the University of Iowa Hospital, construction can start in the spring. And, by speeding up payment of monies from the Community Development Block Grant, we will assist with community projects. Together, these will create hundreds of new jobs in this state this summer.

Another area that has real potential for more jobs is in tourism. Presently, Iowa's tourism spending ranks forty-ninth among the fifty states. Many non-Iowans think our top attraction is an event that occurs only once every four years — the Presidential precinct caucuses.

Iowa does have a lot to offer. Where can you better see the progress we have made in agriculture than at our own Living History Farms?

And we have natural beauty. From the Loess Hills of western Iowa to the bluffs overlooking the Mississippi, from Okoboji and Clear Lake to Shimek Forest in Van Buren County, Iowa truly is a "beautiful land." We must tell America and show America what we have to offer in the heartland of America.

PROMOTING IOWA AGRICULTURE

The mainstay of the Iowa economy is agriculture. While we cultivate new industries at home, we must aggressively seek out new markets for our farm products.

As a fourth generation family farmer, I understand the significance of this long-standing institution to the Iowa economy. As Governor of the Number One farm state, the success of agriculture will always be my personal priority.

One week from today, in my Budget address to the Legislature, I will recommend that Iowa open an office in Asia to aggressively sell Iowa's agricultural and industrial products.

The need for better markets is at the heart of the solution to the depressed farm economy. We must continue the fight to free the international marketplace from government interference and distortion.

The Federal government has offered us some much needed help with legislation authorizing American businesses to form export trading companies that can provide a whole array of export services.

No state is in a better position to capitalize on this opportunity than Iowa. Our balanced output of products — corn, beans, beef and pork, plus all that we manufacture — offers so much to foreign buyers. Yet some have trouble finding the cash to pay for those products.

A private international trading group that could trade Iowa's produce and Iowa's products for well-made foreign goods could be a valuable mechanism for economic growth. I would anticipate that many American buyers would come to Iowa to buy the foreign products. This is an exciting opportunity to seize an even greater leadership role in this nation in the area of foreign trade.

EXCELLENCE IN EDUCATION

Along with the production of food, what people also know about Iowa today, and we are proud of it, is that this state produces some of the brightest, most literate citizens to be found anywhere.

Iowa's educational system is recognized for its excellence, and one of my goals as Governor is to enhance this excellence. One way to do this is by teaching more young Iowans how to speak a foreign language.

Foreign language education is essential in order to communicate in a multi-cultural world. We should provide incentives that encourage the learning of foreign languages in our public schools — and I intend to do just that.

For the same reason, science and mathematics instruction should be expanded along with incentives for young people to consider careers in teaching these courses. A strong basic education in science and mathematics will be one of the building blocks for success in the technologically advanced twenty-first century.

These are just a couple of things we can do, while we also provide increased state support for our public schools.

Furthermore, there are some significant steps we can take to lend additional help to young Iowans pursuing their higher education.

We have too many overcrowded classrooms at our State Universities and too many empty ones at our private colleges. There have been significant losses in federal funds.

If we fail to close the growing tuition gap, many Iowa communities could lose fine education institutions, and many students would be deprived of opportunities.

Investments in education in the 1980's are a priority — and they will pay dividends in the 1990's and beyond.

MEETING HUMAN NEEDS

During times like these we not only have the ongoing need to plan for the future, but a current obligation to help those Iowans who truly are suffering. A lot of people need a helping hand, and we must not turn our backs on them.

The last legislative session restored the Unemployed Parent Program with a workfare provision. It expires at the end of March, and I ask that it be continued.

The cost of health care is fast moving beyond the reach of many Iowans who want to insure the health of their loved ones. Health insurance premiums are rising twice as fast as inflation and literally breaking the budgets of many families.

The majority of hospital and medical service corporation boards should be users of health care, not providers. Those of us paying the bills need a stronger voice in health care policy making.

We need to do a better job of educating people on the harmful effects of smoking and drinking and the helpful benefits of exercise and physical fitness.

In a state where one out of five people is 60 years of age or older, we need to be a leader in providing opportunities for senior citizens. I am commited to helping older Iowans stay in their homes while improving tax relief measures specifically designed for them.

And, an informational clearinghouse for the widowed, under the direction of the Commission on Aging, would give elderly who have lost a spouse some real help when they need it most.

PROVIDING ENERGY RELIEF

When winter comes to Iowa, there is no human need more fundamental than staying warm. Our low-income and elderly people are especially hard hit by escalating utility costs. That is why we have begun a voluntary utility check-off program to help elderly and low-income people with energy relief.

This evening, we are holding the HELPER dinner in conjunction with the inauguration. Proceeds from this dinner will be a first step in providing a nest egg to begin HELPER.

The second major step is to encourage Iowa's utility companies to participate in the check-off program. We are asking all utilities to participate.

A third step is to encourage Iowans to add an additional dollar to their utility bill, to help their neighbors in need.

The goal of HELPER is to put every dollar contributed toward weatherizing homes. This means we are asking the utility companies to donate the expenses they incur for implementing the check-off system. Administrative costs will be minimal, because all contributions will be channelled through the Energy Policy Council's existing weatherization program.

Many Iowans cannot understand why utility companies are permitted to increase rates before the Iowa Commerce Commission has ruled on the rate request. In recent years, we have increased the Commerce Commission's staff to reduce the time needed to decide rate cases.

Now, it is time to take an additional step and flatly prohibit rate increases under bond. Instead, the Commerce Commission should decide if an increase is necessary based on a projected test year.

Furthermore, we can establish a Consumer Appellate Advocate, to protect the consumer's right to appeal Commerce Commission decisions to the courts, without additional cost.

PROTECTING PEOPLE'S SAFETY

Iowans need to feel safe and secure. We rank 42nd in the United States in violent crime, which is good, but all of us agree that any crime is too much. We must discourage crime, punish offenders, promote rehabilitation and, whenever possible, provide restitution for the victims of crime — the people whose pain and anguish is not counted by statistics.

Iowa needs a classified sentencing system. Inmates sent to prison should serve a predictable, minimum sentence before being considered for release. Good and honor time should not be given automatically . . . it should be earned.

Our bail bonding statutes should be revised so that judges consider the danger to the public in setting bail bond.

To give us some current constructive advice on our prison system, I will establish a Citizens' Advisory Commission on Corrections.

Last July, a new, tough drunk driving law went into effect and, in just six months, we have already seen a forty-one percent reduction in alcohol related highway deaths. Just two weeks ago, a new victim compensation program went into effect. I intend to closely monitor the effectiveness of both programs, and I am prepared to make improvements in the future, if they are required.

Let me repeat, that the safety of our people is a priority of mine. It is as much a human need as food, clothing and shelter . . . and it is a human need we will meet in this administration.

PROTECTING IOWA'S RESOURCES

Protecting people is important, and so is protecting our resources. We have made great strides in saving Iowa's soil, and I am glad that more and more Iowans have come to appreciate the necessity of this preventive action. We can do still more — and we have to.

The budget I will set forth next Friday encompasses the conservation of soil and the quality of our water. The environment is not the burning issue it once was — because this state and others have made the effort to save it. However, we must not allow an emphasis on other critical issues to cause any retrenchment.

A WORKING GOVERNMENT

Iowans expect government to meet human needs — whether they be in education, the environment, or the other major areas I have discussed. They expect efficient service — and they deserve it. They expect effective service — and they deserve it.

As a citizen first and Governor second, I too expect government to fulfill its responsibility to people — but not to encroach into their lives. Government should plan ahead — not be caught off-guard. Government in this state should be cooperative with other units of government — not combative. Not only do I agree with these principles, as Governor, I will work for them.

We are so fortunate in Iowa to have the kind of progressive government that is the envy of other states. Governors Harold Hughes and Robert Ray have moved state government forward by light-years, and I want to build upon their good achievements.

I also want government to be more accessible. I look forward to taking key leaders from state government with me to communities across this state to listen and learn from Iowans.

Right after my Budget Message, I will begin these visits around Iowa. The budget touches the lives of every man, woman and child in this state — so I will show what we are doing for our people with the revenues we receive. I will also remind Iowans to look at our neighboring states and realize how much better off we are.

To keep spending in line, I am forming a Governor's Task Force on Efficiency and Cost-Effectiveness in state government. Their assignment will be to investigate state agencies to discover additional ways in which we can eliminate waste and save tax dollars. It will be coordinated out of the Comptroller's Office and composed of individuals from my administration who share the philosophy that government should do only what is needed . . . and no more!

People are more productive if they are free to use their own talents and their creativity with minimum interference.

I have asked our Administrative Rules Coordinator to make sure that departmental rules and regulations do not unnecessarily impede our goal of economic development and jobs. She will also review rules and laws to ensure equal treatment for all people — our commitment to the 50 States Project.

Iowa must continue with its progressive tradition of equal rights and opportunities for all citizens. Tomorrow, we will observe the anniversary of Martin Luther King's birthday. Today, I submit that we must eliminate regulations which discriminate in practice, even if that is not evident on the surface.

Over the next four years, we will seriously address the difficult problems facing our state. We will not shy away from making tough decisions.

While it may not be politically popular, I feel the people of this state elected me to recommend and work for what is needed. For example, Iowa's unemployment trust fund is broke. Like many other states, we have already had to borrow money from the federal government. Job Service predicts this deficit could be $300 million by the end of 1984.

The legislature has put off addressing this problem for the last two years — waiting for the national economy to get better. We cannot afford to wait any longer. Next week, I will deliver to the legislature a balanced approach to address this problem. It will call for concessions from both employers and employees. This plan will be fair. This plan does not include cuts in benefits for those presently unemployed or a tax on presently employed workers.

Today, I have noted a few of the tough decisions we need to address. Next week, in my first Budget Message to the legislature I will focus on many more.

As I said at the beginning of my Address, the challenge of leadership is the willingness to shoulder responsibility. Lieutenant Governor Anderson and you legislators have pledged to cooperate with me, and I appreciate it. And you have my pledge to work with you.

We can do what is needed for the people of Iowa — but only if we work with their interests uppermost in our minds.

After traveling thousands of miles . . . after visiting every county in this state three or more times in the past five years, I am convinced that, within Iowans, lies the potential to accomplish so very much.

We have only begun to see the greatness of this state — a greatness that comes not from huge cities or spectacular geographic formations, but a greatness that comes from the very people who call this state home — our families . . . friends . . . neighbors . . . all Iowans.

These genuine, hard-working folks make Iowa a little better every year.

Now, during a very difficult time in this country's history, our energies must be directed towards helping each other.

This kind of service is also a form of greatness. It goes to the very essence of being an Iowan.

As a farm boy, I remember many times when the neighbors got together to help out someone who needed assistance because of a death, illness or natural disaster. As a state official, I have seen people pull together after an accident, flood or tornado. The worst in times often brings out the best in people.

Now is the time to harness the best that is in us — our benevolence and compassion — and bring it to bear on our most pressing human needs.

Now is the time when we must turn to the traditions that have made us a strong and hopeful people. We must do what Iowans have always done, only with more force, more vigor.

Now is the time for neighbor to help neighbor, stranger to aid stranger, friend to reach out to foe.

Now is the time for those who have, to aid those who have not.

It will be the highest priority of my administration to foster a spirit of volunteerism and charity wherever possible. We must focus the inherent goodwill of our people on the most urgent, basic human needs.

My wife Chris, our children Eric and Allison and I appreciate the warm outpouring of Iowans who are sharing this special day with us. We look forward to serving you, the people of this great place we call Iowa.

Thank you.

The Honorable Don Avenson
Speaker of the House
House of Representatives

Dear Don:

To say the least, I was pleasantly surprised and feel deeply honored to have been recognized by the Iowa legislature with the adoption of the resolution of commendation.

Although the executive and legislative branches are separate, over the years a degree of compatibility has allowed government in Iowa to function exceptionally well. Naturally, there have been disagreements, but those disagreements were usually thoroughly debated and sound legislation resulted.

We are living in difficult times with an economy that continues to be sluggish. That means your job will not be easy. But, we have faced many problems in the past which appeared unsurmountable at the moment. We overcame them, and we continued to progress. You have that same capability as this new session gets underway.

Please convey my many thanks and appreciation to the members of the Iowa House for the Resolution which means a great deal to me.

Warmest personal regards.

Sincerely,
Robert D. Ray
Governor

The committee waited upon Chief Justice W. W. Reynoldson and escorted him to the Speaker's station.

President Anderson then presented Chief Justice W. W. Reynoldson who delivered the following State of the Judicial Department Message:

MR. PRESIDENT, MR. SPEAKER, SENATORS, REPRESENTATIVES, STATE OFFICIALS, AND FELLOW IOWANS:

An Iowa statute requires the chief justice to appear here each session to report the condition of the Judicial Branch of government, and to make suggestions. This is the fifth time you have extended this courtesy. Unfortunately, despite the best efforts of all of us, judicial department problems persist. Recently I worried aloud to a wise politician that I might become repetitious. I was advised not to worry: that forty-one of you would be here for the first time and on my prior visits some of the remainder may have missed the message!

On a more serious note, we all realize our three coequal branches of government serve the same constituency. Together we share the responsibilities and burdens that all Iowans have placed upon us. It is in this spirit of shared responsibility that we present our report and list our suggestions.

We know we do so at a time of grave economic crisis. And herein lies a pardox. In times of economic crisis the public funds necessary to operate the courts are increasingly harder to come by. Yet, at the same time, citizens turn to the courts with increasing urgency for resolution of their problems. The shortage of money is itself a cause for increased demands for prompt judicial services.

So, at a time when a public fund shortage has driven you to explore ways to cut government spending, we are called by our joint constituency to say the times demand an expansion, rather than a contraction, in court services. Times of crisis are the worst times to curtail social order. Especially now, it would be dangerous, as well as just plain wrong, to ration justice.

All available evidence indicates people not only want prompt and effective judicial services, they are willing to pay the price. In an Iowa public opinion poll, 87 percent of the respondents agreed with the statement that "long delays occur before a civil case comes to trial." Almost 70 percent agreed with the statement that "courts do not have enough judges to handle the work load." Results of a national survey by the pollsters for Time magazine, Yankelovich, Skelly and White, disclosed that 74 percent of the public is more willing to spend tax dollars on improving the judiciary than on any other part of the criminal justice system.

Another and more recent manifestation of this willingness lies across our northern border. Minnesota and Iowa have the same volume of appellate case load. As you know, Iowa has a five-judge court of appeals. Minnesotans, by a 77 percent affirmative vote in last November's election, adopted a constitutional amendment that will provide a twelve-judge court of appeals, deployed in panels of three throughout the judicial districts. The amendment carried in every county. The affirmative vote exceeded by 16 percent the vote of the nearest candidate for state public office.

As a final fiscal observation, we note judicial branch expenditures have always represented a small fraction of the total state budget. This year the $13.1 million budget of the judicial branch represents six-tenths of one percent of Iowa's general fund appropriation of over $2 billion.

Against this backdrop, let us briefly examine what has happened in our trial and appellate courts.

TRIAL COURTS

In 1972, enhancing its national reputation for leadership in good government, the Iowa Legislature integrated the trial courts into one "Iowa District Court." Mayors' courts, justice of peace courts, police courts, superior courts and muncipal courts were abolished. Iowa now has 95 district court judges, 39 district associate judges, and 165 part-time magistrates, all officers of a state court system and salaried by the State of Iowa.

We are inordinately proud of Iowa's dedicated trial judges who have been operating admirably under stressful conditions. In the last five years inflation has eroded their compensation by one-third. It is significant, we think, that in this five-year period twenty-five judges have resigned before reaching mandatory retirement age, five even before reaching the age when they might draw retirement compensation. In these five years, the district court civil and criminal case load has increased over 31 percent. The number of full-time practicing lawyers has increased 25 percent. Although in that five-year period only three additional district court judgeships were established — a 3.3 percent increase — these judges increased their production, in terms of case dispositions, by 29 percent. They have traveled over a million miles per year in all kinds of weather to bring regular court services to rural counties.

The statutory formula for judgeships is your own. The plan you devised to add trial judges on the basis of case load, population and travel now calls for at least twenty-eight additional judges. By amendment though, the statute's operation has been frozen since 1977 except for the addition of three judges in 1981. We know it is unrealistic to expect the system to be brought up to full complement, but let me give you a practical illustration of what a judge shortage does to a community. Lee County, which includes Ft. Madison, is in Judicial Election District 8B, now one-third short of its statutory quota of judges. Because of the priority assigned to criminal cases and child custody cases, no civil jury trials have been scheduled in Lee County since last April. There are 1086 civil cases pending in Lee County, and 310 are over a year and a half old.

Last year, to provide some support for our beleaguered trial judges, we requested state funding for twenty-four law clerk positions at the district court level — one law clerk for every four district court judges. Iowans should thank you for providing sixteen law clerks, but we now ask that the remaining eight positions be funded. Surely one legal assistant for every four judges of general jurisdiction is not above the absolute minimum for effective operation of Iowa's trial courts.

There is nothing revolutionary about this concept: three-fourths of the states now have law clerks in their trial courts. In Minnesota every Twin Cities judge of general jurisdiction has a law clerk, in rural areas two judges share one. In the federal court system, every full-time magistrate is entitled to one law clerk, a district judge is authorized two, circuit judges three, and supreme court justices four. We can think of few areas where a modest investment would provide larger dividends for Iowa's justice system.

Despite the best efforts of our trial judges, and their increased productivity flowing from hard work and the law clerk and administrative support you have provided, we can feel the floodwaters rising. We project over seventy-three thousand pending cases in district court at the end of 1982, a 37 percent increase in a five-year period. In plain words, this means more accused persons will be walking the streets while they wait for the courts to reach their trials. It also means unfortunate Iowans will stand in line with their personal or financial lives at stake, or the future of their children in doubt.

APPELLATE COURTS

The picture is just as grim at the appellate level. In 1972, my first full year on the supreme court, there were 646 appeals filed. By 1982 there were 1849 appeals filed, a ten-year increase of 186 percent. Despite the invaluable support of the five-judge court of appeals that came on line in 1977, this ten-year increase generated an 83 percent increase in case load for each of our now fourteen appellate court judges.

To put it bluntly, we can no longer cope with this case load. Believe me, we have done everything we could. Fighting the rising backlog of ready cases, the supreme court commenced a more summary treatment of selected appeals. We are sitting in three-member panels, doing without oral argument, writing more short per curiam opinions — practices that add nothing to the satisfaction of the litigants, and much less to our own job satisfaction. In the last ten years production per appellate judge has increased 110 percent. The average number of formal opinions per judge has increased 117 percent. But we are losing ground. We closed out 1982 with 8 percent more pending appeals than we had in 1981. Before the legislature provided the court of appeals, cases that were briefed and ready for submission waited twenty-one months to be argued and submitted. In 1979 and 1980, with the five additional appellate judges, we reduced that time to two months. Although we have increased production, the relentless avalanche of appeals has already extended this time to seven months, and that's an intolerable delay.

We have noted that for a comparable appeal load, Minnesota has determined it needs a twelve-judge court of appeals. We suggest that Iowans require at least half that number. Surely you will take another look at our last year's request, now repeated, for one more judge for the court of appeals. It will facilitate that court's sitting in panels of three and thus increase its production, in addition to the efforts of the one additional jurist.

Our work on the supreme court is not limited to opinion writing. We necessarily face a myrid of other tasks. As one example, we struggle with an immense motion practice. In 1982 we studied and researched motions and applications, then entered 904 orders that disposed of cases without formal submission. We entered or supervised entry of almost five thousand other necessary orders that still did not dispose of appeals.

There is more we must do. With the indispensable assistance of appropriate advisory committees of lawyers and judges, we have studied, finalized, and last week submitted to you proposed rules of civil procedure, appellate procedure, criminal procedure and juvenile procedure. These proposals are needed to fine tune our processing of cases and appeals, and to make our branch's operations more efficient, effective and fair.

Two years ago you adopted House File 779, requesting the supreme court to undertake a study of the federal rules of evidence for the purpose of determining which rules should be adopted in Iowa. As we reported last year, you inadvertently overlooked funding this project. The Iowa State Bar Association and the Iowa State Bar Foundation came to the rescue with printing, mailing, and a $7500 grant. A blue-ribbon committee of lawyers, judges and a law professor, aided by an enthusiastic group of young lawyers, provided research and an outstanding report to the court. Following the court's intensive study, we adopted most of the committee's recommendations with a few revisions. As we promised a year ago, we will forward these proposed rules of evidence to you this month and on time.

As part of our function, we have tracked the problems of the judicial retirement system. A number of alert legislators have been alarmed for years — and with good reason — by its condition. As you know, this system is not derived, as retirement systems commonly are, from a statute. Judicial retirement compensation was created by the people in the Iowa Constitution. Lack of actuarially sound funding ultimately will generate a crisis like that now confronting the federal social security system.

The poll of Iowans, already referred to, documented public misunderstanding and ignorance about the judicial system and how laws are interpreted and enforced in the courts. Working together, the supreme court and the Judicial Coordinating Committee, using a federal grant, have launched a project to expand the knowledge of Iowa's court system among students. Working with social studies instructors throughout the state, instructional units are being developed with more than two hundred activities illustrating key concepts and the legal process. Within grades kindergarten through twelve, printed and audio-visual material have been organized around three basic concepts: social interaction, norms and rules, and conflict resolution. We are pursuing other ways to enhance the public understanding of the legal process. We welcome any suggestions you might offer to serve these ends.

Last session you enacted, and Governor Ray signed, Senate File 2304, awarding the state court administrator's office $100,000 to establish or improve dispute resolution programs. This effort is well under way and is reported more extensively in an appendix attached to the written message we leave for each of you here today.

The supreme court has a constitutional mandate to exercise supervisory and administrative control over all other state courts. Accordingly, in 1982, we examined not only our own but also district court case dispositions. In this examination we had the cooperation of the judicial council and clerks of court. A statewide sampling of over 4700 cases disclosed what we, and you, suspected: There are unfortunate delays and still unidentified differences in production.

A follow-up study is now under way. Last month, the Supreme Court Advisory Committee on Rules of Civil Procedure received a grant from the Iowa State Bar Foundation and Association to identify factors contributing to litigation cost and delay. Working with our staff, the committee will review selected case files and interview numerous trial participants, then evaluate the impact of various pretrial practices and procedures — including depositions — on case processing. We have high hopes the committee's study will result in innovative suggestions to expedite litigation without compromising the quality of justice.

Iowans, however, should hang their highest hope for judicial branch improvement on the legislature's continuing study and development of legislation to overhaul the antiquated support structure and financing of Iowa's courts. It is surprising this was not accomplished during one of the earlier reorganizations of Iowa's judicial system. On the other hand, we must remember that improvements in the legal arena historically are slow. Seven hundred and sixty-eight years after King John, under the sword at Runnymede, promised not to appoint judges "but of such as know the law of the realm," Iowa appoints a number of magistrates with no prior training in the law. Mr. Jim Henry of Carson, Iowa, veteran of two terms in the House and two terms in the Senate, now president of the Iowa Property Taxpayers Association, referring to the current legislation just mentioned, has observed that some bills fly through both houses, but a good government bill will take several years.

This good government legislation has been developed by many people over a four-year period. After a seven-month study by an independent firm, it was drafted and fine tuned by three successive joint interim study committees. Like a patient under the scalpel, we have followed this development with more than a little interest. Last year, designated as Senate File 2233, the legislation cleared the Senate on a 40 to 9 vote, but stalled in the House in the press of activities relating to winding down the session.

The concept is quite simple: Iowa's state court system should be funded by the state. Currently 75 percent of that cost falls on the counties and only real property taxpayers bear this financial burden. State court financing, including expenses of indigent defense, provides property tax relief by spreading court costs over a broader, more equitable tax base. The five-year implementation of this concept would raise the judicial branch's share of the state budget from six-tenths of 1 percent to about 1½ percent. The legislation preserves and improves upon the current administration of the courts through judicial districts. This allows for necessary local control and flexibility while relieving unhealthy tensions between local taxing entities and state judicial officers.

For the first time, this legislation will attach to the judicial branch all those persons who serve that department. This includes clerks of court. Clerks shall be residents of the county but shall be appointed by majority vote of the judges in the judicial election districts who will supervise their work, just as the supreme court appoints and supervises its clerk and as you appoint and supervise your key personnel.

This concept has been perceived in some quarters as a blow against representative government. But it is not in the public interest that clerks continue to be part of the political process. The ninety-nine clerks of court are essential to the flow of cases through the judicial system, yet they are not now responsible to the judicial branch. Some clerks are lost to the election process before they develop professional management skills and gain familiarity with the court system. Others are victims of political tides that sweep them out of office regardless of their expertise and dedicated contributions to that system. Appointed clerks could be trained to assume more ministerial functions, thus freeing judges to handle more motions and trials. Appointment of these clerks by majority vote of the district judges is the administrative centerpiece of this legislation, without which we do not believe its administrative features are either workable or acceptable. Each clerk, of course, would hire, fire and discipline deputies and other employees in his or her office.

This current bill is thick enough to scare you, but that is because it merely reenacts most of the present statutory law relating to the judicial branch, thus making it all available for the first time in one title of the code. It includes a number of salient features other than those already addressed, which we have capsulated in an appendix attached to the written message.

The bill adopted by the Senate last session would implement the administrative improvements following one year's preparation, and pick up the counties' costs over a five-year period, during which the counties' share of court-generated revenue would be transferred to the state in similar five-year installments. Last month, however, the most recent joint interim study committee, by a close vote, adopted an amendment that would phase in the state's fiscal responsibility by functional area. Under this amendment the district court would not be given administrative control of its clerks for five years, rather than one year. Transfer of court-generated revenues from counties to state would continue in five yearly steps. The committee on a 9 to 1 vote approved the proposed legislation as amended. Its recommendation that the amended bill be forwarded to the judiciary committees of the Senate and House was approved by the Legislative Council.

With all deference to the sincerity and good faith efforts of those committee members who proposed and voted for the amendment, we believe the bill adopted by the Senate in 1982 is better. The indispensable administrative changes should not be delayed for five years.

The legislation you will consider has broad support. It has the endorsement of the supreme court, the Iowa Judicial Council, the Iowa Judges Association, the Iowa Clerks of the District Court Association, the Judicial Coordinating Committee, the Iowa Juvenile Probation Officers Association, the Iowa State Bar Association, the Association of Trial Lawyers of Iowa, the Iowa Academy of Trial Lawyers and the Iowa Defense Counsel Association.

The bill you have devised that comes before you will affect components of the judicial system that essentially have not been modernized in the last hundred years. Not one of you who has a farm, business, or profession is managing it the same as you did even ten years ago. You would not dare run your operation under the management handicaps that have hamstrung the courts. If you did you would have been out of business long ago.

A critic has complained we should not meddle with the "county courts." The legislature abolished county courts in 1868, county judges in 1869. We believe this legislature will find it past time to overhaul the archaic and ineffective structure originally designed to support them. This does not mean counties should be deprived of courts. It means the courts should be better structured to serve all ninety-nine counties.

In the final analysis, access to the courts is a basic and fundamental constitutional right. Failure to match support with the pace of accelerating case loads now has endangered this right for all Iowans. It is now time to act in the light of a great truth that John Madison best expressed in Federalist Paper No. 51:

> Justice is the end of government. It is the end of civil society. It ever has been and ever will be pursued until it be obtained, or until liberty be lost in the pursuit.

Chief Justice W. W. Reynoldson was escorted from the House chamber by the committee previously appointed.

Norland of Worth moved that the joint convention be now dissolved.

The motion prevailed.

The House reconvened at 10:38 a.m., Speaker Avenson in the chair.

The chair shall call a hearing upon the written request of committee members according to committee rules, but no more than one-third of the committee members shall be required.

The chair shall designate a time and place for a hearing and provide public notice at least five days prior to a hearing.

Rule 64

Limitation on Filing of Claims

A claim or claim bill, the subject matter of which has been considered or filed for consideration in the house or any of its committees, in two or more prior sessions of the general assembly, shall not be considered by any committee or by the house unless it has been specifically referred to this session by a prior general assembly. The committee on claims is authorized to set a definite date after which it will not receive claims or claim bills for consideration.

DIVISION VI—COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

Rule 65

Organization of Committee of the Whole

In forming the committee of the whole house, the speaker shall leave the chair, and a chair to preside in committee shall be appointed by the speaker.

Page 22

Rules in Committee of the Whole

The rules of the house shall be observed in committee of the whole house, so far as they are applicable.

Rule 67

Bills in Committee of the Whole

Upon bills committed to the committee of the whole house, the bill shall be first read throughout by the chief clerk or chair, and then read again or debated by clauses, leaving the preamble to be last considered. After report, the bill shall be again subject to debate and amendment before a vote is had on its last reading and passage.

Rule 68

Amendments by Committee of the Whole

All amendments made to a report committed to a committee of the whole house shall be noted and reported as in the case of bills.

DIVISION VII—MOTIONS

Rule 69

Order and Precedence of Motions

The following order and precedence of motions shall govern when a question is under debate:

13. Adjourn.
12. Recess.
11. Questions of privilege.
10. Lay on the table.
9. Previous question.
8. Postpone definitely or to a certain time.
7. Refer or commit.
6. Defer.
5. Strike the enacting words.
4. Amend an amendment.
3. Amend (by committee).
2. Amend.
1. Postpone indefinitely.

These motions are listed in descending order of precedence.

A motion to postpone definitely or to a certain time, to refer or commit, or to postpone indefinitely a particular question shall not be considered more than once on the same day.

Adoption of a motion to strike the enacting words is equivalent to rejection of the question.

Rule 70

Order of Consideration of Amendments

Amendments shall be considered by earliest position in the bill. Amendments to the same place in the bill shall be considered by the lowest amendment number. An amendment which inserts language after a line and an amendment which inserts language before the succeeding line shall be considered amendments to the same place in the bill.

However, an amendment to strike text, or to strike out and insert new text, shall not be considered before amendments to perfect all or part of the same text only.

Rule 71

Motions Not Debatable

The motions to lay on the table, to adjourn, for the previous question, and appeals of a ruling of the presiding officer shall be decided without debate.

Rule 72

Motion to Adjourn

A motion to adjourn shall always be in order, except when a member is speaking or the house is voting.

Rule 73

Withdrawal of Motions

After a motion is stated by the speaker, or read by the chief clerk, it shall be deemed to be in possession of the house, but may be withdrawn by leave of the house.

Rule 74

Referral and Rereferral

Motions and reports may be referred and rereferred at the pleasure of the house.

Page 24

Rule 75

Reconsideration

a. A motion to reconsider may be made only by a member who voted on the prevailing side of the question sought to be reconsidered.

b. A motion to reconsider may be made not later than adjournment on the day following the day of the action sought to be reconsidered. Where the floor manager voted on the prevailing side, he or she has the prior right to make the motion, until adjournment on the day of the action sought to be reconsidered.

c. A motion to reconsider made following the one hundred fourteenth calendar day of the first regular session, or the ninety-fourth calendar day of the second regular session, shall be taken up when made. A motion made at any other time may be taken up prior to the third day succeeding the day of the action sought to be reconsidered only if called up by the mover, and after the second day succeeding the day of the action sought to be reconsidered if called up by any member.

d. The making of a motion to reconsider takes precedence over all other questions.

e. No motion to reconsider passage or adoption, or failure, of any bill or joint resolution, shall prevail unless it shall obtain a constitutional majority. Where passage, adoption or failure is reconsidered, questions on amendments may then be reconsidered, and shall be disposed of without delay.

f. A motion that the motion to reconsider be laid on the table is in order. The effect of laying the motion to reconsider on the table is to cause the bill or joint resolution to proceed on its regular course immediately.

DIVISION VIII—VOTING

Rule 76

Manner of Voting

Upon direction of the speaker or upon request of two members during the taking of the vote of the house on any question only those members at their desks and voting shall be counted except:

a. Members who have not voted may record their votes on any record roll call vote within ten minutes after the vote has been announced, providing the vote does not change the outcome of the vote on that question. A member may request announcement of the names of members so recorded after the ten-minute period.

b. Members meeting in a conference committee or in administrative rules review committee at the time a vote is taken on a question may have their vote recorded within 30 minutes or adjournment, whichever is first of that same legislative day, providing the vote does not change the outcome of the vote on that question.

Rule 77

Duty of Voting

Except as limited by Rule 76, every member who shall be in the house when the question is put shall vote, unless the house for special reasons shall excuse that person; but such member must ask to be excused before commencing to take a vote on the main question.

Rule 78

Limitation on Right to Vote

No member shall vote on any question in which that person is financially interested.

Rule 79

Call of the House

Upon written request of five members, the presiding officer shall compel attendance of absent and unexcused members for the consideration of specified bills or resolutions.

A call of the house shall specify the propositions to which it is to apply, and must be put into effect before roll call is taken on the proposition. The request may be filed at any time before final action upon the propositions with the chief clerk, who shall notify the house immediately.

Rule 80

Method of Calling the House

Upon a call of the house, the names of the members shall be called by the chief clerk and the absentees noted, after which the names of the absentees shall again be called. The sergeant-at-arms shall be directed by the speaker to compel the attendance of absent members, unless they are previously excused. Any member occupying that person's seat during a call of the house shall be counted by the speaker and that person's name entered in the journal as being present but not voting for the purpose of making a quorum.

Rule 81

Method of Calling the Roll

The electrical voting machine shall be used upon a call of the house, a quorum call or a roll call vote on any question. If the electrical voting machine is not in operating order when it is necessary to take a record roll call vote, the presiding officer shall order the vote to be taken by calling the roll in alphabetical order, except that the name of the speaker of the house shall be called last.

During the casting of the vote with the voting machine, the individual votes and the vote totals shall be shown on the display boards. Before the voting machine is closed, the presiding officer shall inquire of the house, "Have you all voted?"

Rule 82

Quorum and Record Roll Call Votes

A majority of the members shall constitute a quorum.

A record roll call vote shall be ordered upon request of any two members. The names of the members requesting the record roll call shall be entered in the journal.

Rule 83

Previous Question

When a member moves for a previous question, that member shall state whether the motion will apply to the main question, to all the amendments, or to particular amendments. The motion requires an affirmative vote of at least a constitutional majority of the members. If the motion for a previous question is not adopted, the house shall proceed in the same manner as before the motion was made.

If the motion is adopted, all debate must end and the house will vote upon the question except:

1. If the motion applies to the main question, the member in charge of the measure will have ten minutes to speak for the purpose of closing discussion before the vote on the measure is taken.

2. If the motion applies to an amendment, the member proposing the amendment will have five minutes to speak for the purpose of closing discussion before the vote on the amendment is taken.

3. If a member has filed a written request with the chief clerk of the house indicating his or her desire to speak on a particular question. The request must be filed before the motion is made by the movant. The request allows a member to speak on a particular question before the closing discussion by the member who is in charge of the measure or who is proposing the amendment.

Rule 84

Division of the Question

Any member may call for a division of the question, which shall be divided if it comprehends questions so distinct that one being taken away, the remainder may stand separately for discussion by the house. A motion to strike out being lost shall not preclude either an amendment or a motion to strike out and insert. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible.

Laid over under Rule 30.

President Anderson then presented Governor Terry E. Branstad who delivered the following budget message:

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chief Justice, Justices and Judges, State Officials, Senators and Representatives, Guests, and Friends:

Just one week ago, I stood before you and the people of Iowa and swore to uphold the Constitution of this state — an oath almost identical to the one taken by each of you.

A strong and significant pillar in Iowa's Constitution is the section requiring a general fund balance. All of us have reason to be grateful for the foresight and wisdom of the pioneer Iowans who signed their names to that document in 1857.

This morning, I am presenting the Governor's Budget for fiscal years 1984 and 1985. This budget meets the test of Iowa's Constitution — it is a balanced budget.

This budget also meets another test — the test of whether we thoughtfully and carefully provide for the people of this state. When times are tough, people turn to government, not away from government.

The preparation of this budget was deliberate. Data was checked and double-checked. Assumptions were considered and reconsidered. Decisions were evaluated and re-evaluated. The end result, I believe, is a budget that is realistic. . . . a budget which I ask you to support.

This message comes in the midst of the most difficult economic time for our country since the Great Depression. America's economic engine has been idling far too long. Too many men and women have lost their jobs. Too many productive Iowans have been forced to put their tools away and wait out the recession. Too many farmers have not recovered from the grain embargo and many are struggling to survive.

For three straight years, state government has felt the effect of the national recession. Revenues have fallen short of forecasts and we have also absorbed the impact of cuts in federal dollars.

Here in Iowa, we have shown how state government can cope when times get tough. We have pushed hard for greater efficiency in government. We have reduced hiring, purchasing and travel. We have delayed some projects and curtailed others. We have cut budgets selectively and across-the-board. We have cinched up our belts the same way businesses and families do when there isn't enough money to go around.

Those decisions were difficult, but they were right. The question we now face is this — what about tomorrow? What is the best course of action for us to take?

We should begin with the facts.

The Comptroller forecasts that this fiscal year will end with a minimal balance in the state treasury — but only if you act on the deferrals, reversions and cash management changes endorsed by Governor Ray. These adjustments are needed and I ask you to approve them promptly. However, there is a limit to the number of one-time measures we can use to balance our budget. And, as the Comptroller said last month, we are near that limit.

While Ronald Mosher was developing his revenue projections for the next two years, I held three weeks of public budget hearings. I heard from state agencies and from Iowa's citizens about the needs that we have as a people.

Since those hearings, I have had to reconcile the Comptroller's revenue projections with this state's needs. This has led to the most difficult decision I have ever had to make in public life.

I was elected to a position of leadership in this state, and I intend to lead. One of the expectations of a leader is that he or she be willing to take a stand, adhere to it, defend it and work for it. That is what I will do throughout this administration. That is what I am doing today.

For years I have said raising a tax should be a last resort. I believe that is where we are today.

The alternatives are unacceptable.
We must not abandon job incentives.
We must not increase property taxes.
We must not deny Iowans basic services.
We must not renege on our commitment to education.

We have come too far, we've worked too long, to slip backwards. And, we will not slip backwards.

As I stated in my Inaugural Address, this administration will squarely meet the needs of Iowa's people.

So I ask you, Democrats and Republicans, to stand with me and support a one-cent increase in Iowa's sales and use tax.

The additional revenue from this change will help us accomplish four critical goals:

First — Create jobs for Iowans

Second — Provide property tax relief

Third — Meet human needs

Fourth — Maintain excellence in education

This money will not be plowed into increased operating expenses for state agencies. Let me repeat, these dollars will not be used to inflate agency budgets. They will be used principally for the four objectives I have targeted. Let's look at each one:

* First — Creating more construction will put unemployed Iowans back to work. So, I insist that a significant portion — $70 million for the biennium — be used for one-time capital expenditures.

This action creates jobs.

This action allows us to take advantage of lower bids and gives us added flexibility if the economy gets worse.

This action will move us ahead with several major projects, such as:

* Full funding for the soil conservation cost-share request — plus, a new interest-free soil conservation loan program

* Almost $14 million in important projects at our state universities

* Weatherization of state buildings — which will quickly save energy and tax dollars

* Completion of the Saylorville Greenbelt and other conservation projects

* Continued restoration of the State Capitol

* Construction of a new Historical Building, National Guard armories and work on the State Fairgrounds

With this revenue, we can begin a $10 million Community Development loan program which will give Iowa cities a real boost in realizing their economic potential. We can increase our commitment to industrial start-up job training. And, we can allocate $1.3 million to assist workers who have lost jobs where factories have closed.

Some of this revenue should be used to show we mean business when we talk about high tech. I propose we provide up to $2 million for high technology and agricultural research grants, along with funds to open an Asian office of the Development Commission.

All of these mean more jobs for Iowans — some now, some later — all of them important to the growth of this state.

* Second — A priority goal of mine is to channel much of the sales tax revenue into property tax relief — to further ease the burden of property taxes on Iowans. With this revenue, we can move to the 78 percent Foundation level in the School Aid Formula next year, and to the full 80 percent level the year after that. The result is $56 million on local property tax relief.

We can continue to phase out the personal property tax, expand the elderly tax credit, and begin to assume centralized court funding, as suggested by Chief Justice Reynoldson in his message to you.

* Third — I expect a portion of this revenue to go directly to Iowans who need our aid during these difficult times. Increases in the AFDC standard of need and payment levels have been delayed for three years and are overdue. My budget also includes more support for Medicaid, nursing home reimbursements, and homemaker and chore services to help older Iowans remain in their homes. And, there is funding in my budget for the Unemployed Parent program with its new Workfare provision.

* Fourth — This new revenue will make it possible for the state to meet its commitment to local schools next year. And, we are providing an additional $50 million in the second year by increasing the allowable growth in local school budgets.

We will also establish special incentive programs for teaching math and science while encouraging foreign language instruction, as I highlighted in my Inaugural Address.

Added revenues will further be used to substantially increase Tuition Grants, a program that will help us close the tuition gap between private colleges and state universities. This budget also eases the pressure of higher enrollments at those universities and increases vocational-technical grants at our Area Colleges.

These then are the four major advantages of this revenue measure: more jobs, property tax relief, aid to the needy and support for education.

This proposal is simply one-cent across the board, with no new exemptions. Since Iowa already exempts food and drugs from the sales tax, we are not taxing or adding taxes to these necessities.

Presently, our three-cent sales tax is lower than any bordering state. A four-cent sales tax will not put this state at a competitive disadvantage.

By making this change effective for the last quarter of the current fiscal year, we will collect a $39 million reserve. This is an important step toward a workable balance that will enable us to pay our bills on time again. It is imperative that you not spend this reserve.

This budget leaves a $50 million balance on June 30, 1984 and an $80 million balance on June 30, 1985, the end of the biennium.

I recognize there will be political fallout from recommending this change in the sales tax. But my feeling is this: While I've been told it would be good politics to sit back and wait for a tax bill to come to my desk, that would not be good government.

I am not sitting back. I am not waiting. I am giving you a plan that is eminently fair. It is realistic. It deserves your support, and your votes.

* * * * *

The budget I am outlining today obviously does not meet every need or take care of every concern. Government cannot do everything for everybody — nor should it. I have cut over $200 million from state agency askings. Yet, we are still able to be progressive and ambitious. For example: I call for greater promotion of Iowa as "a place to grow" for business and industry, and as a place to go for family vacations.

The legislative initiatives I made public on Tuesday included several proposals to deter crime and deal with those who are caught, convicted and incarcerated for committing crimes.

This morning, I want to augment those ideas with others. Yes, they have a cost. But is it possible to put a price tag on people's safety? I think not.

This budget provides space for 464 more inmates at Mt. Pleasant and Oakdale. It puts over a million dollars more each year into community-based corrections.

This budget includes other priorities. Export promotion and support for small producers of grain alcohol are a couple. We are continuing state contributions to railroad branchline improvements. And, we are picking up lost federal funds for Iowa Public Television.

During these difficult times, it is especially important to offer young people the opportunity to share experiences they might otherwise be denied. So we are expanding the "Artists in the Schools" program though the Iowa Arts Council.

* * * * *

The budget I present to you today offers tax credits in three new areas: for investing in an Iowa Fund for venture capital, for developing high technology and for installing solar hot water heaters.

This budget significantly strengthens Iowa's minimum income tax, so that wealthy Iowans do not escape paying their fair share. We also adjust most of Iowa's tax code to conform with new federal laws. And, we continue the cigarette tax which is now scheduled to expire.

Two other points are worthy of your attention.

First: Additional funds will be provided to cities, counties and the state to repair more roads and bridges. The sales and use tax change will bring $17.5 million into the Road Use Tax Fund. And, adjusting the gasohol tax will bring in more than $4 million.

Second: We can break ground for new construction at all three state university campuses by authorizing Board of Regents revenue bonds. We should build a new Law School at the University of Iowa... a new Agronomy Building at Iowa State... and a new Communication-Arts Building at U.N.I.

Along with the addition to University Hospitals, these projects total over $80 million — a shot-in-the-arm creating thousands of new construction jobs, in addition to what I have already proposed.

* * * * *

Back in 1931, during the Great Depression, Governor Dan Turner stated in his Inaugural Address, "Whatever else we do, let us have economy." His words have special meaning for us today.

The Task Force I mentioned in my Inaugural Address — the Task Force to improve government economy and efficiency — will be an ally for the taxpayers, on the forefront every day seeking new savings and cost reductions. It is important that government operations not be permitted to balloon.

* * * * *

This morning, I ask you to look ahead and consider what this budget will do for Iowans over the next two years.

This budget responds to a multitude of human needs — from infant safety to college tuition grants and job training, to mental health and substance abuse, to hot meals for senior citizens. . . and a lot in between.

This is a good budget. It is fair. It is right for this state in the mid 1980's.

In closing, I ask you to do three things:

First, I ask you to keep your perspective. Try to appreciate how much better off we are here than in most other states. And, be mindful that further reductions in federal aid are a distinct possibility during the next two years.

Second, I ask you to share my firm conviction that the state should not push the pain of federal cuts onto cities and counties. We can be a cushion — a buffer. And, by so doing, we can help protect people from increased property taxes.

Third, I ask you to think seriously about our purpose for being here.

We are here to help Iowans find jobs.

We are here to maintain the infrastructure of this state.

We are here to lessen the burden of property taxes, while, at the same time, making sure other taxes are fair.

We are here to care for Iowans who cannot look out for themselves.

We are here to keep Iowa Number One in education.

And yes, we are here to provide good government and good service to Iowans accustomed to both.

We have a long and demanding agenda. Completing that agenda and conquering obstacles along the way are challenges we face together in 1983. I believe we are up to them.

Let's roll up our sleeves and go to work.

Thank you.

Governor Terry E. Branstad and his family were escorted from the House chamber by the committee previously appointed.

Norland of Worth moved that the joint convention be now dissolved.

The motion prevailed.

The House reconvened, Speaker Avenson in the chair.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 6

By Carter, Rosenberg, Lloyd-Jones, Parker, Buhr, Arnould, Norland, Baxter, Knapp, Koenigs, Hammond, Clark, Halvorson of Webster, Haverland, Mullins, Spear, Brammer, Cooper, Gronstal, Krewson, Tofte, Van Camp, Connolly, Diemer, Running, Groninga, O'Kane, Connors, Blanshan, Jochum, Carpenter, Jay, Fey, Doderer, Osterberg, Sturgeon, Ollie, Varn, Tabor, Peick, Sherzan, Shoultz, Chapman, Skow, Groth, Sullivan, Cochran, Hughes, McKean, Miller, Copenhaver, Black, Fogarty, Gruhn, Zimmerman, Lonergan, Pavich, Poncy, Woods, Muhlbauer, Paulin, Davitt, Holveck, Halvorson of Clayton, Hanson, Hermann, Renaud, Carl and Swartz

Whereas, the greatest challenge facing the earth is to prevent the occurrence of nuclear war by accident or design; and

Whereas, the nuclear arms race is dangerously increasing the risk of a holocaust that would be humanity's final war; and

Whereas, a freeze followed by reductions in nuclear warheads, missiles and other delivery systems is needed to halt the nuclear arms race and to reduce the risk of nuclear war; and

Whereas, the initiation of such a freeze has been recognized to be in the mutual interest of the United States and the Soviet Union by the Johnson, Nixon, and Carter administrations, and not as an ideological ploy by the Soviet Union; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That the Iowa General Assembly petitions the President of the United States and the Congress of the United States to consider the following:

1. As an immediate strategic arms control objective, the United States and the Soviet Union should:

a. Pursue a complete halt to the nuclear arms race;

b. Decide when and how to achieve a mutual and verifiable freeze on the testing, production and deployment of nuclear warheads, missiles and other delivery systems; and

c. Give special attention to destabilizing weapons whose deployment would make such a freeze more difficult to achieve.

2. Proceeding from this freeze, the United States and the Soviet Union should pursue major, mutual and verifiable reductions in nuclear warheads, missiles and other delivery systems through annual percentages or equally effective means in a manner that enhances stability; and

Be It Further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States and to each member of the Iowa congressional delegation, and a response to this resolution be requested from those to whom it is sent.

Laid over under Rule 25.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 7
By Committee on Finance

Whereas, chapter 263A of the Code provides that the state board of regents after authorization by a constitutional majority of the general assembly may carry out a project as defined in that chapter of the Code at the state university of Iowa; and

Whereas, chapter 263A authorizes the state board of regents to borrow money and to issue and sell negotiable bonds or notes to pay all or any part of the costs of carrying out projects at the institution payable solely and only from and secured by an irrevocable pledge of a sufficient portion of the university hospital income; and

Whereas, many of the facilities of the hospitals at the state university of Iowa were built more than fifty-five years ago and are inadequate to meet present and future demands for statewide speciality care and teaching services; and

Whereas, two hundred eighty-five beds of the hospitals at the state university of Iowa have been determined by the state department of health to be "nonconforming" and no longer meet modern hospital building codes and standards and, further, detailed studies have shown that upgrading these facilities to modern standards would be prohibitive because of the cost; and

Whereas, one hundred forty beds of the two hundred eighty-five nonconforming beds are dispersed throughout the hospital and do not meet present-day standards of a modern tertiary-level teaching hospital relating to patient care, infection control, patient privacy, and spatial requirements; and

Whereas, to alleviate these conditions, the state board of regents requests authorization to construct an addition to the south pavilion of the university hospital of approximately one hundred fifty thousand gross square feet, to house inpatient facilities for one hundred forty beds, and to construct mechanical and other supporting facilities at an estimated total cost of twenty-four million five hundred thousand dollars, of which not more than twenty million dollars would be financed by borrowing under chapter 263A, and the remainder would be financed by other funds; Now, Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That the state board of regents is authorized to construct an addition of approximately one hundred fifty thousand gross square feet of floor space to the south pavilion of the general hospital of the state university of Iowa to house inpatient facilities and to construct mechanical and other supporting facilities at an estimated total cost of twenty-four million five hundred thousand dollars, of which not more than twenty million dollars would be financed by borrowing through the issuance of bonds as authorized by chapter 263A.

Be It Further Resolved, That the addition to the south pavilion of the general hospital of the state university of Iowa is intended as final construction at the hospitals of the state university of Iowa for replacement of beds determined to be nonconforming by the state department of health. It is the intent of the general assembly not to authorize further additions to the hospitals of the state university of Iowa without documented proof that the construction of an addition is necessary for a tertiary-level hospital.

Laid over under Rule 25 and placed on the calendar.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

The following message was received from the Senate:

Mr. Speaker: I am directed to inform your honorable body that the Senate has on January 27, 1983, adopted the following concurrent resolution in which the concurrence of the House is asked:

Senate Concurrent Resolution 8, providing for the board of regents to issue bonds for construction at the State University of Iowa Hospital.

K. MARIE THAYER, Secretary

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 8
By Committee on Finance

Whereas, chapter 263A of the Code provides that the state board of regents after authorization by a constitutional majority of the general assembly may carry out a project as defined in that chapter of the Code at the state university of Iowa; and

Whereas, chapter 263A authorizes the state board of regents to borrow money and to issue and sell negotiable bonds or notes to pay all or any part of the costs of carrying out projects at the institution payable solely and only from and secured by an irrevocable pledge of a sufficient portion of the university hospital income; and

Whereas, many of the facilities of the hospitals at the state university of Iowa were built more than fifty-five years ago and are inadequate to meet present and future demands for statewide speciality care and teaching services; and

Whereas, two hundred eighty-five beds of the hospitals at the state university of Iowa have been determined by the state department of health to be "nonconforming" and no longer meet modern hospital building codes and standards and, further, detailed studies have shown that upgrading these facilities to modern standards would be prohibitive because of the cost; and

Whereas, one hundred forty beds of the two hundred eighty-five nonconforming beds are dispersed throughout the hospital and do not meet present-day standards of a modern tertiary-level teaching hospital relating to patient care, infection control, patient privacy,

and spatial requirements; and

Whereas, to alleviate these conditions, the state board of regents requests authorization to construct an addition to the south pavilion of the university hospital of approximately one hundred fifty thousand gross square feet, to house inpatient facilities for one hundred forty beds, and to construct mechanical and other supporting facilities at an estimated total cost of twenty-four million five hundred thousand dollars, of which not more than twenty million dollars would be financed by borrowing under chapter 263A, and the remainder would be financed by other funds; Now, Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives Concurring, That the state board of regents is authorized to construct an addition of approximately one hundred fifty thousand gross square feet of floor space to the south pavilion of the general hospital of the state university of Iowa to house inpatient facilities and to construct mechanical and other supporting facilities at an estimated total cost of twenty-four million five hundred thousand dollars, of which not more than twenty million dollars would be financed by borrowing through the issuance of bonds as authorized by chapter 263A.

Referred to committee on finance.

HOUSE RESOLUTION 4
By Committee on Ethics

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, That the following be adopted as the Code of Ethics for the house of representatives:

HOUSE CODE OF ETHICS

Recognizing that members of the general assembly are honorable citizens who are active in the business, religious and public service affairs of their community, state, and nation, the following rules were adopted pursuant to chapter 68B to assist the members in the conduct of their legislative affairs.

1. A member of the house shall not accept economic or investment opportunity under circumstances where the member knows, or should know, that there is a reasonable possibility that the opportunity is being afforded with the intent to influence the member's conduct in the performance of official duties.

2. A member of the house shall not charge to or accept from a person, partnership, or corporation known to have a legislative interest, a price, fee, compensation, or other consideration for the sale or lease of any property or the furnishing of services which is in excess of that which the member would ordinarily charge another.

3. A member of the house, in order to further the member's own economic interests, or those of any other person, shall not disclose or use confidential information acquired in the course of the member's official duties.

4. A member of the house may appear before a state agency in any representation case. Whenever a member of the house appears before a state agency, the member shall carefully avoid all conduct which might in any way lead members of the general public to conclude that the member is using the member's official position to further the member's professional success or general interest.

5. In order to permit the general assembly to function effectively, members of the house will, of necessity, be required to vote on bills and participate in committee work which will affect their employment and other areas in which they may have a monetary interest. Action on bills and in committee work which specifically deal with a member's specific employment or specific investment, as opposed to a profession, trade, or business in general, should be avoided. In making a decision relating to a member's activity on particular bills or in committee work which are subject to this code, the following factors should be considered:

a. Whether a substantial threat to the member's independence of judgment has been created by the conflict situation.

b. The effect of the member's participation on public confidence in the integrity of the legislature.

c. Whether the member's participation is likely to have any significant effect on the disposition of the matter.

d. The need for the member's particular contribution, such as special knowledge of the subject matter, to the effective functioning of the legislature.

The member may, however, decide to participate in a manner contrary to the economic interest which creates the conflict situation, but if the member abstains, the member should disclose that fact to the legislative body.

6. Members of the house are urged to familiarize themselves with chapters 68B, 721 and 722 and section 711.4 of the Code.

7. Members of the house shall not charge any amount or item to a charge account to be paid for by a lobbyist or any organization a lobbyist represents.

8. Complaints against a member of the house or a lobbyist operating in the house shall be in writing, made under oath and filed with the ethics committee of the house. If the ethics committee determines that the complaint sets out an apparent violation of the law or code of ethics or rules regulating lobbyists, it shall set the matter for hearing, notify the accused of the right to appear in person, to be represented by counsel, to present statements and evidence and to cross-examine witnesses. The committee shall hold a hearing and consider all relevant evidence and shall make its recommendations to the house.

9. Advisory opinions may be rendered as set out in section 68B.10 of the Code upon request of a member of the general assembly.

10. a. As used in this rule, the word "gift" and the phrases "immediate family member" and "public disclosure" have the meaning provided in section 68B.2 of the Code.

b. A person who provides a gift which exceeds fifteen dollars in value in any one occurrence to a member, officer, or employee of the house or the immediate family members of a member, officer, or employee of the house shall report the gift. The report shall show the nature, amount, date, donee, and donor of the gift. If more than one person shares in the expense of providing a gift which is required to be reported, each of those persons shall report the gift even though that person's share of the expense does not exceed fifteen dollars in value. However, if a legal entity other than a natural person makes the gift, the legal entity shall report the gift as a donor. If a gift is made to a group of persons, the gift shall be reported if the average value of the gift provided to those persons participating exceeds fifteen dollars in value and those members, officers and employees and their immediate family members participating shall be listed in the report. A member, officer, or employee and the immediate family members of a member, officer, or employee shall not accept more than one gift which is required to be reported from the same person in any one occurrence.

c. The report shall be filed in the office of the chief clerk of the house by the fifteenth day of the month following the month in which a gift is provided which is required to be reported. The chief clerk shall also file and maintain any report filed by the members, officers or employees who desire to report a gift made to them or their immediate family members. Subject to the approval of the committee on ethics, the chief clerk of the house shall prepare forms for the filing of these reports and make them available to any person who is required to file a report. The reports filed shall be maintained by the chief clerk of the house and be available for public inspection as provided in chapter 68A of the Code. The committee on ethics may authorize the chief clerk of the house to prepare and make available to the public an annual summary of the reports filed under this rule.

Be It Further Resolved, That the following be adopted as the rules of the house of representatives governing lobbyists:

2. A withholding agent required to deduct and withhold tax under subsections 1 and 12, except those required to deposit on a semimonthly basis, shall deposit for each calendar quarterly period, on or before the last day of the month following the close of the quarterly period, on a quarterly deposit form as prescribed by the director and shall pay to the department, in the form of remittances made payable to "Treasurer, State of Iowa", the tax required to be withheld, or the tax actually withheld, whichever is greater, under subsections 1 and 12. However, a withholding agent who withholds more than fifty dollars in any one month, except those required to deposit on a semimonthly basis, shall deposit with the department the amount withheld, with a monthly deposit form as prescribed by the director. The monthly deposit form is due on or before the fifteenth day of the month following the month of withholding, except that a deposit is not required for the amount withheld in the third month of the quarter but the total amount of withholding for the quarter shall be computed and the amount by which the deposits for that quarter fail to equal the total quarterly liability is due with the filing of the quarterly deposit form. The quarterly deposit form is due ~~within the month~~ on or before the last day of the month following the end of the quarter. A withholding agent who withholds more than ~~eight thousand~~ two hundred fifty dollars in a semimonthly period shall deposit with the department the amount withheld, with a semimonthly deposit form as prescribed by the director. The first semimonthly deposit form for the period from the first of the month through the fifteenth of the month is due on the twenty-fifth day of the month in which the withholding occurs. The second semimonthly deposit form for the period from the sixteenth of the month through the end of the month is due on the tenth day of the month following the month in which the withholding occurs.

Every withholding agent on or before the end of the second month following the close of the calendar year in which the withholding occurs shall make an annual reporting of taxes withheld and other information prescribed by the director and send to the department copies of wage and tax statements with the return.

If the director has reason to believe that the collection of the tax provided for in subsections 1 and 12 is in jeopardy, the director may require the employer or withholding agent to make the report and pay the tax at any time, in accordance with section 422.30. The director may authorize incorporated banks, trust companies, or other depositories authorized by law which are depositories or financial agents of the United States or of this state, to receive any tax imposed under this chapter, in the manner, at the times, and under the conditions the director prescribes. The director shall also prescribe the manner, times, and conditions under which the receipt of the tax by those depositories is to be treated as payment of the tax to the department.

Sec. 7. Section 422.16, subsection 2, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new unnumbered paragraph:

NEW UNNUMBERED PARAGRAPH. If a withholding agent elects or is required by department rule to make monthly deposits, the withholding agent shall remit tax monthly for at least twelve months. Failure to timely remit tax monthly shall subject the withholding agent to late filing or late payment penalties and interest. If a withholding agent elects or is required by department rule to make semimonthly deposits, the withholding agent shall remit tax semimonthly for at least twelve months. Failure to timely remit tax semimonthly shall subject the withholding agent to late filing or late payment penalties and interest. Withholding agents may petition the director and request that tax be remitted less frequently when it can be shown that the amount of tax withheld no longer requires tax to be remitted monthly or no longer requires tax to be remitted semimonthly.

Sec. 8. Section 422.52, subsection 1, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

1. The tax levied under this division is due and payable in quarterly installments on or before the last day of the month following each quarterly period except as otherwise provided in this subsection. Every retailer who collects more than ~~four thousand~~ five hundred dollars in retail sales tax in a semimonthly period shall deposit with the department or in a depository authorized by law and designated by the director, the amount collected or an amount equal to not less than one-sixth of the tax collected and paid to the department during the preceding quarter, with a deposit form for the semimonthly period as prescribed by the director. Alternatively, a retailer required to remit on a semimonthly basis may deposit an amount equal to the amount collected or one-sixth of the tax collected and paid to the department during the same calendar quarter of the preceding year. The first semimonthly deposit form is for the period from the first of the month through the fifteenth of the month and is due on or before the twenty-fifth day of the month. The second semimonthly deposit form is for the period from the sixteenth through the end of the month and is due on or before the tenth day of the month following the month of collection. A deposit is not required for the last semimonthly period of the calendar quarter. The total quarterly amount, less the amount deposited for the five previous semimonthly periods, is due with the quarterly report on the last day of the month following the month of collection. ~~A retailer who collects more than five hundred dollars in retail sales taxes in one month and not more than four thousand dollars in retail sales taxes in a semimonthly period shall deposit with the department or in a depository authorized by law and designated by the director, the amount collected or an amount equal to not less than one-third of the tax collected and paid to the department during the preceding quarter, with a deposit form for the month as prescribed by the director. The deposit form is due on or before the twentieth day of the month following the month of collection, except a deposit is not required for the third month of the calendar quarter and the total quarterly amount, less the amounts deposited for the first two months of the quarter, is due with the quarterly report on the last day of the month following the month of collection.~~ Every retailer who collects more than fifty dollars in one month and not more than five hundred dollars in retail sales tax in ~~one month~~ a semimonthly period shall deposit with the department or in a depository authorized by law and designated by the director, the amount collected, or an amount equal to not less than one-third of the tax collected and paid to the department during the last preceding quarter, with a deposit form for the month as prescribed by the director. The deposit form is due on or before the twentieth day of the month following the month of collection, except a deposit is not required for the third month of the calendar quarter and the total quarterly amount, less the amounts deposited for the first two months of the quarter, is due with the quarterly report on the last day of the month following the month of collection. ~~The monthly remittance procedure is optional for any sales tax permit holder whose average monthly collection of tax amounts to more than twenty-five dollars and less than fifty dollars.~~ If the exact amounts of the taxes due or an amount equal to not less than one-third or one-sixth, as applicable, of the tax collected and paid to the department during the last preceding quarter on the deposit form are not ascertainable by the retailer, or would work undue hardship in the computation of the taxes due by the retailer, the director may provide by rules alternative procedures for estimating the amounts (but not the dates) due by the retailers. The forms prescribed by the director shall be referred to as "retailers semimonthly tax deposit" or "retailers monthly tax deposit". Deposit forms shall be signed by the retailer or the retailer's duly authorized agent, and shall be duly certified by the retailer or agent to be correct. The director may authorize incorporated banks and trust companies or other depositories authorized by law which are depositories or financial agents of the United States, or of this state, to receive any tax imposed under this chapter, in the manner, at the times and under the conditions the director prescribes. The director shall prescribe the manner, times, and conditions under which the receipt of the tax by those depositories is to be treated as payment of the tax to the department.

Sec. 9. Section 422.52, subsection 1, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new unnumbered paragraph:

NEW UNNUMBERED PARAGRAPH. If a retailer elects or is required by department rule to make monthly deposits, the retailer shall remit tax monthly for at least twelve months. Failure to timely remit tax monthly shall subject the retailer to late filing or late payment penalties and interest. If a retailer elects or is required by department rule to make semimonthly deposits the retailer shall remit tax semimonthly for at least twelve months. Failure to timely remit tax semimonthly shall subject the retailer to late filing or late payment penalties and interest. Retailers may petition the director and request that tax be remitted less frequently when it can be shown that the amount of tax collected no longer requires tax to be remitted monthly or no longer requires tax to be remitted semimonthly.

Sec. 10. Section 423.13, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

423.13 PAYMENT TO DEPARTMENT. Each permit holder required or authorized, pursuant to section 423.9 or 423.10, to collect or pay the tax imposed, shall remit to the department the amount of tax, on or before the last day of the month following each calendar quarterly period. However, a retailer who collects or owes more than ~~fifteen~~ five hundred dollars in use taxes in a month shall deposit with the department or in a depository authorized by law and designated by the director, the amount collected or ~~owed~~ an amount equal to not less than one-third of the tax collected and paid during the preceding quarter, with a deposit form for the month as prescribed by the director. The deposit form is due on or before the twentieth day of the month following the month of collection, except a deposit is not required for the third month of the calendar quarter and the total quarterly amount, less the amounts deposited for the first two months of the quarter, is due with the quarterly report on the last day of the month following the month of collection. At that time, the retailer shall file with the department a return for the preceding quarterly period in the form prescribed by the director showing the sales price of the tangible personal property sold by the retailer during the preceding quarterly period, the use of which is subject to the tax imposed by this chapter, and other information the director deems necessary for the proper administration of this chapter. The return shall be accompanied by a remittance of the tax for the period covered by the return. If necessary in order to ensure payment to the state of the tax, the director may in any or all cases require returns and payments to be made for other than quarterly periods. The director may, upon request and a proper showing of necessity, grant an extension of time not to exceed thirty days for making any return and payment. Returns shall be signed by the retailer or the retailer's duly authorized agent, and shall be certified by the retailer or agent to be correct.

Sec. 11. Section 423.13, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new unnumbered paragraph:

NEW UNNUMBERED PARAGRAPH. If a permit holder elects or is required by department rule to make monthly deposits, the permit holder shall remit tax monthly for at least twelve months. Failure to timely remit tax monthly shall subject the permit holder to late filing or late payment penalties and interest. The permit holder may petition the director and request that tax be remitted quarterly when it can be shown that the amount of tax collected does not exceed five hundred dollars in a month.

Sec. 12. Sections 6, 8, and 10 take effect April 1, 1983.

Sec. 13. Sections 7, 9, and 11 take effect July 1, 1983.

Sec. 14. This Act, being deemed of immediate importance, takes effect April 1, 1983 from and after its publication in the Iowa City Press-Citizen, a newspaper published in Iowa City, Iowa, and in the Globe-Gazette, a newspaper published in Mason City, Iowa."

The second semimonthly deposit form is for the period from the sixteenth through the end of the month and is due on or before the tenth day of the month following the month of collection. A deposit is not required for the last semimonthly period of the calendar quarter. The total quarterly amount, less the amount deposited for the five previous semimonthly periods, is due with the quarterly report on the last day of the month following the month of collection. ~~A retailer who collects more than five hundred dollars in retail sales taxes in one month and not more than four thousand dollars in retail sales taxes in a semimonthly period shall deposit with the department or in a depository authorized by law and designated by the director, the amount collected or an amount~~

~~equal to not less than one-third of the tax collected and paid to the department during the preceding quarter, with a deposit form for the month as prescribed by the director. The deposit form is due on or before the twentieth day of the month following the month of collection, except a deposit is not~~

~~required for the third month of the calendar quarter and the total quarterly amount, less the amounts deposited for the first two months of the quarter, is due with the quarterly report on the last day of the month following the month of collection.~~ Every retailer who collects more than fifty dollars in one month and not more than five hundred dollars in retail sales tax in ~~one month~~ a semimonthly period shall deposit with the department or in a depository authorized by law and designated by the director, the amount collected, or an amount equal to not less than one-third of the tax collected and paid to the department during the last preceding quarter, with a deposit form for the month as prescribed by the director. The deposit form is due on or before the twentieth day of the month following the month of collection, except a deposit is not required for the third month of the calendar quarter and the total quarterly amount, less the amounts deposited for the first two months of the quarter, is due with the quarterly report on the last day of the month following the month of collection. ~~The monthly remittance procedure is optional for any sales tax permit holder whose average monthly collection of tax amounts to more than twenty-five dollars and less than fifty dollars.~~ If the exact amounts of the taxes due or an amount equal to not less than one-third or one-sixth, as applicable, of the tax collected and paid to the department during the last preceding quarter on the deposit form are not ascertainable by the retailer, or would work undue hardship in the computation of the taxes due by the retailer, the director may provide by rules alternative procedures for estimating the amounts (but not the dates) due by the retailers. The forms prescribed by the director shall be referred to as "retailers semimonthly tax deposit" or "retailers monthly tax deposit". Deposit forms shall be signed by the retailer or the retailer's duly authorized agent, and shall be duly certified by the retailer or agent to be correct. The director may authorize incorporated banks and trust companies or other depositories authorized by law which are depositories or financial agents of the United States, or of this state, to receive any tax imposed under this chapter, in the manner, at the times and under the conditions the director prescribes. The director shall prescribe the manner, times, and conditions under which the receipt of the tax by those depositories is to be treated as payment of the tax to the department.

Sec. 9. Section 422.52, subsection 1, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new unnumbered paragraph:

NEW UNNUMBERED PARAGRAPH. If a retailer elects or is required by department rule to make monthly deposits, the retailer shall remit tax monthly for at least twelve months. Failure to timely remit tax monthly shall subject the retailer to late filing or late payment penalties and interest. If a retailer elects or is required by department rule to make semimonthly deposits the retailer shall remit tax semimonthly for at least twelve months. Failure to timely remit tax semimonthly shall subject the retailer to late filing or late payment penalties and interest. Retailers may petition the director and request that tax be remitted less frequently when it can be shown that the amount of tax collected no longer requires tax to be remitted monthly or no longer requires tax to be remitted semimonthly.

Sec. 10. Section 423.13, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

423.13 PAYMENT TO DEPARTMENT. Each permit holder required or authorized, pursuant to section 423.9 or 423.10, to collect or pay the tax imposed, shall remit to the department the amount of tax, on or before the last day of the month following each calendar quarterly period. However, a retailer who collects or owes more than ~~fifteen~~ five hundred dollars in use taxes in a month shall deposit with the department or in a depository authorized by law and designated by the director, the amount collected or ~~owed~~ an amount equal to not less than one-third of the tax collected and paid during the preceding quarter, with a deposit form for the month as prescribed by the director. The deposit form is due on or before the twentieth day of the month following the month of collection, except a deposit is not required for the third month of the calendar quarter and the total quarterly amount, less the amounts deposited for the first two months of the quarter, is due with the quarterly report on the last day of the month following the month of collection. At that time, the retailer shall file with the department a return for the preceding quarterly period in the form prescribed by the director showing the sales price of the tangible personal property sold by the retailer during the preceding quarterly period, the use of which is subject to the tax imposed by this chapter, and other information the director deems necessary for the proper administration of this chapter. The return shall be accompanied by a remittance of the tax for the period covered by the return. If necessary in order to ensure payment to the state of the tax, the director may in any or all cases require returns and payments to be made for other than quarterly periods. The director may, upon request and a proper showing of necessity, grant an extension of time not to exceed thirty days for making any return and payment. Returns shall be signed by the retailer or the retailer's duly authorized agent, and shall be certified by the retailer or agent to be correct.

Sec. 11. Section 423.13, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new unnumbered paragraph:

NEW UNNUMBERED PARAGRAPH. If a permit holder elects or is required by department rule to make monthly deposits, the permit holder shall remit tax monthly for at least twelve months. Failure to timely remit tax monthly shall subject the permit holder to late filing or late payment penalties and interest. The permit holder may petition the director and request that tax be remitted quarterly when it can be shown that the amount of tax collected does not exceed five hundred dollars in a month.

Sec. 12. Sections 6, 8, and 10 take effect April 1, 1983.

Sec. 13. Sections 7, 9, and 11 take effect July 1, 1983.

Sec. 14. This Act, being deemed of immediate importance, takes effect April 1, 1983 from and after its publication in the Iowa City Press-Citizen, a newspaper published in Iowa City, Iowa, and in the Globe-Gazette, a newspaper published in Mason City, Iowa."

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 9

By Committee on Energy

Whereas, the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978 calls for the gradual decontrol of natural gas prices through 1984; and

Whereas, the president of the United States has repeatedly pledged to accelerate the decontrol of natural gas prices completely and immediately; and

Whereas, Iowans spent nine hundred million dollars on natural gas in 1982 and natural gas prices have increased almost one hundred percent over the last three years; and

Whereas, the current natural gas contract problem between gas producers and pipeline companies is just an extension of the major problem, which is decontrol; and

Whereas, escalating natural gas prices have resulted in declining economic activity, a less productive and profitable industrial and agricultural base, and the loss of a substantial number of jobs; and

Whereas, the continued increase of natural gas prices will result in inflationary increases in the consumer prices for food, clothing, housing, medical care and other household necessities and in agricultural prices for fertilizers, pesticides, and herbicides; and

Whereas, the Iowa energy policy council is on record in favor of maintaining the present gradual decontrol policy as opposed to the president of the United States' proposed accelerated decontrol policy; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives,

the Senate Concurring, That this general assembly supports national legislation that would:

1. Eliminate unjust and onerous take-or-pay, indefinite price escalator and most favored nation clauses in pipeline company-producer contracts, and require market-out clauses.

2. Direct the federal energy regulatory commission to investigate the reasonableness and prudence of natural gas contracts and purchase gas adjustment clauses.

3. Prevent the federal energy regulatory commission from implementing "backdoor" decontrol actions by eliminating any commission authority to raise old gas prices.

4. Extend the phased-in decontrol of all new natural gas by two years as advised by the Iowa energy policy council.

Be It Further Resolved, That the Iowa general assembly opposes any legislation, with or without a windfall profits tax, to accelerate the decontrol of natural gas; and

Be It Further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the members of Iowa's congressional delegation and to the president of the United States, the speaker of the United States house of representatives, and to the president of the United States senate, with the request that they lay this resolution before their respective bodies; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the Iowa general assembly requests a written response from those persons who receive copies of this resolution which may be sent to the speaker of the Iowa house of representatives and the lieutenant governor.

Laid over under Rule 25.

On motion by Norland of Worth, the House was recessed at 9:09 a.m., until 4:00 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The House reconvened, Speaker Avenson in the chair.

SENATE MESSAGES CONSIDERED

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 10
By Anderson

Whereas, a sound money system is absolutely vital to a free people; and
Whereas, uncontrolled inflation and exorbitant interest rates have historically been not only disastrous to the people, but proof of an unsound money system and thus a real threat to established governments; and
Whereas, the present inflationary trend and unrealistically expensive interest rates are clear and present dangers to the people and to the governments of the State of Iowa and the United States of America; and
Whereas, the power to create loan money to the United States Government and fix interest rates at unrealistically high levels are major factors which contribute to the inflation and interest rate crisis; and
Whereas, Article I, Section 8 of the United States Constitution grants to Congress the power to coin or print money; and
Whereas, the Federal Reserve Act of 1913 delegates to a federally chartered banking system the power to create money and the said interest rates; and
Whereas, the United States Constitution does not grant the authority to delegate such power; and

Whereas, there has never been an independent audit of the Federal Reserve; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, The Senate Concurring, That it is hereby the declared intent of the State of Iowa to cause to be filed in the United States Supreme Court:

1. An action challenging the constitutionality of the delegation of power to create money to the Federal Reserve; and

2. An action to require an independent audit of the Federal Reserve.

Referred to committee on small business and commerce.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 11

By Schroeder, Lloyd-Jones, Branstad, Doderer, Harbor, Woods, Pellett, Parker, Anderson, Carl and Pavich

Whereas, the trustee in bankruptcy of the Rock Island Railroad is currently negotiating with the Chicago Northwestern Railroad for the sale of certain right of way owned by the Rock Island Railroad; and

Whereas, the property to be sold includes the north-south line from Minneapolis-St. Paul to Kansas City and includes all of the right of way located within the city limits of the City of Des Moines; and

Whereas, it is in the public interest of the citizens of this state to retain access to use of part of the right of way to allow the operation of an east-west line in Iowa through the City of Des Moines; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That the bankruptcy court is requested to require the parties to the sale of the railroad right of way, the Chicago Northwestern Railroad and the trustee in bankruptcy of the Rock Island Railroad to include in the contract, provision for use of the right of way for an east-west access for any railroad line at a reasonable fee approved by the railroad division of the state department of transportation.

Whereas, the state of Iowa is losing topsoil at an alarming rate of one inch every fifteen years; and

Whereas, for every bushel of corn produced in Iowa, two bushels of soil are lost; and

Whereas, it is cautioned that with no attention given to conservation, Iowa's top soil will be completely eroded within one hundred years; and

Whereas, the Reagan administration has proposed a six point ninety-four million dollar reduction in soil and water conservation spending; and

Whereas, the amount proposed is six percent less than the minimum amount the United States soil conservation service has said is needed to prevent further deterioration of soil and water; and

Whereas, money will not be made available for matching grants to help farmers install conservation measures; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, That the Reagan administration reevaluate these drastic proposals and place as top priority soil and water conservation; and

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the President of the United States and members of Iowa's congressional delegation.

Laid over under Rule 25.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 14

By McKean, Osterberg, Knapp, Mullins, Krewson, Van Camp, Torrence, Hughes, Jay, Clark, Hammond, Poncy, Lloyd-Jones, Carl, Zimmerman, Hanson, Fey, Cooper, Chapman, Haverland, Black, Gronstal, Oxley, Branstad, Renaud and Sherzan

Whereas, the state of Iowa has the seventh largest rural road system in the nation and ranks twenty-fifth in land usage area; and

Whereas, the state of Iowa is presently contemplating the abandonment of up to ten thousand miles of underutilized secondary roads; and

Whereas, a significant portion of Iowa's valuable farmland is wasted by a road system that is too large and duplicative; and

Whereas, an improperly maintained and crumbling road system creates safety hazards and increased operational costs for Iowa's motorists; and

Whereas, a large proportion of Iowa's road mileage has outlived its design life and is sorely in need of repair; and

Whereas, many of the state's bridges are structurally deficient or functionally obsolete and need either reconstruction or extensive repair; and

Whereas, the state of Iowa is currently experiencing revenue shortages that preclude expansion of service in other areas; and

Whereas, the state of Iowa will receive additional funds allocated for roads and bridges as a result of the increase in federal motor fuels tax and other user fees; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That the state department of transportation is encouraged to use these funds for the repair and maintenance of Iowa's existing roads and bridges and discourages the use of these funds for new roads or for the widening of two lane highways into four lane highways.

Referred to committee on transportation.

"Sec. . Section 476.6, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new subsection:

NEW SUBSECTION. 12. ANNUAL NATURAL GAS SUPPLY AND COST REVIEW. The commerce commission shall conduct an annual proceeding for the purpose of evaluating the reasonableness and prudence of a rate-regulated public utility's natural gas procurement and contracting practices. The natural gas supply and cost review shall be conducted as a contested case pursuant to chapter 17A.

Under procedures established by the commerce commission, each rate-regulated public utility furnishing gas shall annually file a complete natural gas procurement plan describing the expected sources and volumes of its gas supply and changes in the cost of gas anticipated over a future twelve-month period specified by the commission. The plan shall describe all major contracts and gas supply arrangements entered into by the utility for obtaining gas during the specified twelve-month period. The description of the major contracts and arrangements shall include the price of gas, the duration of the contract or arrangement, and an explanation or description of any other term or provision as required by the commission. The plan shall also include the utility's evaluation of the reasonableness and prudence of its decisions to obtain gas in the manner described in the plan, an explanation of the legal and regulatory actions taken by the utility to minimize the cost of gas purchased by the utility, and such other information as the commission may require.

Contemporaneously with the natural gas procurement plan, the public utility shall file with the commission a ten-year forecast of the gas requirement of its customers, its anticipated sources of supply, and projections of gas costs. The forecast shall include a description of all relevant major contracts and gas supply arrangements entered into or contemplated between the gas utility and its suppliers, a description of all major gas supply arrangements which the gas utility knows have been, or expects will be, entered into between the utility's principal pipeline suppliers and their major sources of gas, and such other information as the commission may require.

During the natural gas supply and cost review, the commission shall evaluate the reasonableness and prudence of the gas procurement plan, and shall approve, disapprove, or amend the plan accordingly. In evaluating the gas procurement plan, the commission shall consider the volume, cost, and reliability of the major alternative gas supplies available to the utility; the cost of alternative fuels available to the utility's customers; the availability of gas in storage; the appropriate legal and regulatory actions which the utility could take to minimize the cost of purchased gas; the gas procurement practices of the utility; and other relevant factors. If a utility is not taking all possible actions to minimize its purchase gas costs, the commission shall not allow the utility to recover from its customers purchase gas costs in excess of those costs that would be incurred under reasonable and prudent policies and practices.

The commission shall also evaluate the ten-year forecast filed by the public utility. The commission may indicate any cost items in the ten-year forecast that on the basis of present evidence in the record the commission would be unlikely to permit the utility to recover from its customers in rates, charges or purchased gas clauses established in the future.

The commission shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A to implement the provisions of this section prior to January 1, 1984."

K. MARIE THAYER, Secretary

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 15
By Committee on Labor and Industrial Relations

Whereas, Iowa's unemployment trust fund was insolvent for most of calendar year 1982 and was required to borrow over sixty-three million dollars in interest-bearing advances from the federal government to meet its benefit obligations; and

Whereas, current projections indicate that Iowa's unemployment trust fund could reach a deficit of approximately three hundred eighty-three million dollars by the end of calendar year 1984 if the economy remains weak and if no law changes are enacted; and

Whereas, other states have also experienced unemployment trust fund deficits and have been required to borrow over ten billion dollars from the federal government, including over three billion dollars in interest-bearing advances; and

Whereas, Iowa's federal interest obligations could reach approximately twelve million dollars by October 1, 1983, with many other states' obligations far exceeding that amount; and

Whereas, the federal interest obligations represent an impediment to restoring the solvency of Iowa's trust fund, as well as an impediment to restoring the solvency of other states' trust funds; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That the Congress of the United States is urged to forgive the interest charged on federal advances to Iowa's and other states' unemployment trust funds, or, as an alternative, to reduce the states' obligations by setting the annual interest rate on both prior and future federal advances at a maximum rate of one percent; and

Be It Further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to members of Iowa's congressional delegation, to the president of the United States, and to the president of the United States senate and to the speaker of the United States house of representatives with the request that they lay this resolution before their respective bodies.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 20
By Committee on Agriculture

Whereas, farm income declined by more than seventy-one percent between 1978 and 1980 due in large measure to the lowest parity prices since the Great Depression and net individual farm income for 1982 is expected to average less than five thousand dollars according to studies done by the United States Department of Agriculture and the Iowa Department of Agriculture; and

Whereas, Iowa farmland values dropped sixteen percent in 1982 according to a study by Iowa State University of Science and Technology, and this drop in value represents a decrease in net worth to landowners which hinders their ability to obtain financing to continue farming operations; and

Whereas, bankruptcies have increased by three hundred percent in 1982 over 1981, and this increase is having a ripple effect in that eight out of ten jobs in the state of Iowa are dependent upon agriculture; and

Whereas, the state of Iowa is suffering its highest unemployment rate since World War II with eight point three percent of the work force unemployed causing many individuals to lose their homes; and

Whereas, over one thousand concerned Iowans recently attended the legislative public hearings that were held throughout Iowa on the financial crisis in Iowa agriculture; and

Whereas, small businesses are failing at the highest rate since the Great Depression; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives,

the Senate Concurring, That the Governor is requested to thoroughly review all of the adverse economic impacts that currently exist in the agricultural community and to make a determination whether or not a state of economic emergency exists in Iowa and if the Governor determines not to declare a state of emergency, the Governor shall present to the General Assembly, no later than April 15, 1983, alternative actions that could be taken on the state level which would aid our distressed farm and business communities.

"Sec. 31. Chapter 422, Code 1983, is amended by adding sections 32 through 36 as a new division.

Notwithstanding the amount of tax determined in accordance with section 422.5, if an eligible individual has averagable income exceeding three thousand dollars for the computation year, then the tax imposed by section 422.5 for the computation year which is attributable to averagable income shall be five times the increase in tax under that section between the tax on the sum of twenty percent of the averagable income plus one hundred twenty percent of the average base period income and the tax on one hundred twenty percent of the average base period income.

Sec. 33. NEW SECTION. 422.121 DEFINITIONS. For the purposes of this division, unless the context otherwise requires:

chargeable against that amount but for the exclusion of that amount from federal gross income; and decreased, to the extent included in taxable income, by the amounts included in the income of a beneficiary of a trust under section 667(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

4. "Computation year" means the tax year for which the taxpayer chooses the benefits of this division.

6. "Base period year" means any of the four tax years immediately preceding the computation year.

7. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, "eligible individual" means an individual who is subject to the tax imposed by division II of this chapter for the computation year. An individual is not an eligible individual for the computation year if, for any base period year, the individual and the individual's spouse furnished less than one-half of the individual's support except that the individual is an eligible individual in any of the following cases:

a. If the computation year ends after the individual attained age twenty-five and, during at least four of the individual's tax years beginning after the individual attained age twenty-one and ending with the computation year, the individual was not a full-time student.

b. If more than one-half of the individual's Iowa taxable income for the computation year is attributable to work performed by the individual in substantial part during two or more of the base period years.

c. If the individual computes the individual's tax on the basis of joint income of husband and wife for the computation year and not more than twenty-five percent of the aggregate Iowa net income of the individual and the individual's spouse for the computation year is attributable to the individual.

8. "Student" means, with respect to a tax year, an individual who during each of five calendar months during the tax year was a full-time student at an educational organization described in section 170(b)(1)(A)(ii) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, or was pursuing a full-time course of institutional on-farm training under the supervision of an accredited agent of such an educational organization or of a state or a political subdivision of a state.

9. "Net income", "taxable income", "tax year" and "Internal Revenue Code of 1954" have the same meaning as defined in section 422.4.

Sec. 34. NEW SECTION. 422.122 ELECTION. This division applies to a tax year only at the taxpayer's election. The election may be made or changed at any time before the expiration of the period prescribed for making a claim for credit or refund of the tax imposed by division II of this chapter for the tax year.

Sec. 35. NEW SECTION. 422.123 MARRIED TAXPAYERS.

1. For purposes of this division, the base period income of an individual for any base period year shall not be less than fifty percent of the base period income which would result from combining his or her income and deductions for that year with the greater of the income and deductions for that year of the individual who is his or her spouse for the computation year or with the income and deductions for that year of the individual who was his or her spouse for that base period year. However, this subsection does not apply for a base period year if, for the computation year, the individual files with his or her spouse a joint return for Iowa income tax purposes or files a federal return as a surviving spouse and the individual was not married to any other spouse for that base period year.

2. In the case of a joint return for Iowa income tax purposes, the three thousand dollar figure specified in section 2 of this Act shall be applied to the aggregate averagable income.

3. For purposes of this division, section 143(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 applies in determining whether an individual is married for any tax year.

Sec. 36. NEW SECTION. 422.124 RETURN NOT MADE IN BASE YEAR. This division applies to the tax year even though the taxpayer electing the benefits of this division was not required to make and sign an Iowa income tax return for one or more tax years during the base period. The average base period income for that taxpayer shall be determined as if that taxpayer had been required to make and sign an Iowa income tax return for the tax years in the base period."

K. MARIE THAYER, Secretary

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 7
By Holt

Whereas, there are approximately 250,000 veterans in the United States who were exposed to atomic radiation during the occupation of Japan and in conjunction with at least 235 atmospheric nuclear weapons tests conducted in the 1940's and 1950's and up to as recently as 1962; and

Whereas, these veterans are now suffering myriad health problems including cancer, degenerative bone and nerve diseases, intestinal disorders, blood and respiratory diseases, emotional problems, and birth defects in children and grandchildren; and

Whereas, these veterans have typically been hesitant to come forward for fear of prosecution under secrecy statutes and possible loss of employee medical benefits and diminished employment potential; and

Whereas, regulations published by the United States Veterans Administration on December 2, 1981, pertaining to the provision of health care to veterans exposed to atomic radiation do not address health symptoms other than cancer; and

Whereas, current United States Veterans Administration regulations have been used to deny 98 percent of the claims by veterans for health care and compensation; and

Whereas, under these regulations, it is incumbent upon the veteran to prove his or her exposure to atomic radiation through his or her own initiative in securing records that often are incomplete or missing entirely; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That the Iowa General Assembly respectfully memorializes

the President and Congress of the United States to direct the Administrator of the Veterans Administration to revise the current regulations of the Veterans Administration regarding the provision of health care to veterans exposed to atomic radiation to fully recognize the body of medical evidence associating exposure to atomic radiation with a wide range of health effects; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the Iowa General Assembly further respectfully requests that other appropriate agencies and resources of the United States be brought to bear in an investigation of the health and genetic complaints of veterans exposed to atomic radiation and of the apparent loss of records and documentation pertaining to exposure of individuals and military units; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate transmit a copy of the resolution to the President and Vice President of the United States, to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, to each Senator and Representative from Iowa in the Congress of the United States, and to the Administrator of the Veterans Administration.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 19
By Gentleman and Readinger

Whereas, Frank Miller, Pulitizer Prize winning cartoonist for the Des Moines Register for nearly thirty years, passed away in February of this year; and

Whereas, Frank Miller was the recipient of numerous awards throughout the years and he and his memory are loved by thousands, both those who personally knew him and those who did not; and

Whereas, Frank Miller possessed the talent and capability of addressing in his cartoons complex subjects in a simple, understanding and meaningful manner and was able to express the thoughts of others with simple caricatures which often had a greater impact than did many writings on a particular issue; and

Whereas, the talents and skills of Frank Miller extended not only to his ability to produce timely cartoons, but he also produced many wonderful and enjoyable watercolors for the front page of the Des Moines Register; and

Whereas, the general assembly, its members, and its actions were frequently the object of Frank Miller's cartoons; and

Whereas, the cartoons of Frank Miller undoubtedly affected actions of the general assembly; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That the general assembly pay tribute to Frank Miller and his memory and recognize the contributions Frank Miller made to Iowa and its citizens; and

Page 2

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Frank Miller's wife, Catherine, and his two daughters, Melissa and Melinda.

Laid over under Rule 25.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 21
By Committee on Agriculture

Whereas, the farmers home administration has an unexpended balance of six hundred million dollars in its emergency loan account; and

Whereas, a large number of farm and rural business borrowers are under stress due in part to federal use of high interest rates as a tool in its program to curb inflation; and

Whereas, it is necessary for farmers and rural businesses to have access to inexpensive capital on an emergency basis; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That the president of the United States is petitioned to reevaluate current economic conditions and urge the farmers home administration to reassert its chartered mandate as the lenders of last resort and release the six hundred million dollars for economic emergency loans that it has impounded and to review current emergency lending standards with the intent of aiding farmers and business people who were and are adversely affected by the federal reserve's interest policies of the past five years.

Laid over under Rule 25.

H—3414

Amend amendment H—3406 to House File 563 as follows:

1. Page 1, by inserting after line 21 the following:

" . Page 13, by inserting after line 27 the following sections:

"Sec. 31. Chapter 324, Code 1983, is amended by adding sections 32 through 38 as a new division.

Sec. 32. NEW SECTION. 324.100 LEGISLATIVE FINDINGS. It is the finding of the general assembly that the development of a stable, efficient, and economically viable fuel alcohol industry in this state is in the best interests of the state and the nation because:

1. The demand for petroleum energy sources remains high in this state and the nation despite significant conservation efforts.

2. The continued dependency on foreign sources for these energy resources compromises our national defense capabilities.

3. Continued purchases of foreign energy resources causes a substantial flow of revenue from this state and the nation.

4. Supplies of traditional nonrenewable energy resources and especially petroleum energy resources are being depleted.

5. Fuel alcohol represents a renewable energy resource which can be produced and consumed in this state and our nation using present technologies.

6. The development of an ethanol industry would benefit the economies of this state and the nation.

In view of these considerations, the general assembly endorses the development of a fuel alcohol industry in this state and enacts this law to assist this industry through the stimulation of the fuel alcohol market.

Sec. 33. NEW SECTION. 324.101 DEFINITIONS. As used in this division, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Ethanol" means ethyl alcohol distilled from agricultural products grown in the United States which is intended to be and is capable of being used for the purpose of propelling or running by combustion, internal combustion engines.

2. "Ethanol producer" means a producer of ethanol in this state that uses agricultural products grown in this state for the production of ethanol.

3. "Permit holder" means an ethanol producer who holds a valid ethanol production incentive permit issued by the department of revenue.

4. "Fiscal year" means the twelve-month period beginning July 1 of each year.

Sec. 34. NEW SECTION. 324.102 APPROPRIATION—ETHANOL PRODUCTION INCENTIVE FUND. There is credited annually as provided in section 39 of this Act an amount necessary to pay the production incentive provided in section 324.104 with a maximum annual amount to be credited of five hundred thousand dollars. These moneys shall be credited to the "ethanol production incentive fund" which is hereby created and the fund shall be distributed as provided in this division.

Sec. 35. NEW SECTION. 324.103 ETHANOL PRODUCTION INCENTIVE PERMIT. An ethanol producer, before receiving incentive funds under this division, shall obtain an ethanol production incentive permit from the department of revenue. Application for the permit shall be made to the department of revenue on a form provided by the department of revenue. The application shall include the name and address of the applicant, an estimate of the annual ethanol producton of the applicant, and any other information required under rules of the department of revenue. The department of revenue, when satisfied that the applicant has met all requirements, shall issue an ethanol production incentive permit to the applicant. An ethanol production incentive permit expires on June 30 of each year, unless sooner revoked by the department of revenue. An ethanol production incentive permit shall not be assigned by a permit holder. No more than one person or entity may claim a production incentive for ethanol produced at a given production facility during the same fiscal year. Each person is entitled to only one permit and all ethanol produced at all production facilities within this state shall be reported under a single permit. If separate ethanol production facilities are owned by separate business enterprises and the separate business enterprises are controlled or owned by the same person, all such ethanol production facilities shall be considered as being under single ownership, and all of the ethanol production shall be reported under a single permit.

Sec. 36. NEW SECTION. 324.104 PRORATION OF ETHANOL PRODUCTION INCENTIVE FUND. An ethanol producer is entitled to receive quarterly from the director of revenue a production incentive from the ethanol production incentive fund for the first one hundred thousand gallons of ethanol produced by the ethanol producer during each fiscal year. The production incentive for each ethanol producer for eligible gallons of ethanol produced during a fiscal year is fifteen cents per gallon for ethanol which is at least one hundred proof but less than one hundred eighty proof and twenty-five cents per gallon for ethanol which is at least one hundred eighty proof. However, an ethanol producer is entitled to the production incentive only for ethanol which is produced for the first time by the ethanol producer and not blended with gasoline or other motor fuels, and only for ethanol produced during months that the producer holds a valid ethanol production incentive permit. The incentive payment is subject to proration as provided in this section. In order to qualify for an incentive payment for ethanol produced during a quarter, a permit holder shall, within thirty days of the conclusion of the quarter, certify to the director of revenue the number of gallons and proof of ethanol produced by the permit holder in the state, and shall submit or revise an estimate of the holder's fiscal year ethanol production. Incentive payments shall be paid by the director of revenue to qualified permit holders within sixty days of receipt of the holder's certification. The director of revenue shall estimate the anticipated ethanol production by permit holders in the state, and if the director finds that the production of ethanol is such that moneys appropriated for the ethanol production incentive fund are not sufficient to permit payment of the full production incentive, the director of revenue shall distribute the ethanol production incentive fund payment for each permit holder in a manner that the annual appropriation is prorated to each permit holder based on the ratio that the permit holder's ethanol production bears to the total ethanol production by permit holders in the state. However, the director of revenue shall not include in this calculation production of ethanol by a permit holder in excess of one hundred thousand gallons per fiscal year.

Sec. 37. NEW SECTION. 324.105 RULES. The department of revenue shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A as necessary to administer this division.

Sec. 38. NEW SECTION. 324.106 FRAUD—PERMIT REVOCATION—CIVIL PENALTY. An ethanol producer who knowingly makes false certification of ethanol production, false claim, or false application under section 324.103 or 324.104 is not eligible to receive a production incentive under this division. The producer shall pay to the department of revenue an amount equal to the production incentive received by the producer for production during the quarter in which the producer made false certification, false claim, or false application, plus interest from the date of falsification at the rate set under section 421.7 and shall in addition pay to the department of revenue a civil penalty of five hundred dollars. The amounts due under this section may be collected and determined as provided in sections 422.26 and 422.54. The ethanol production incentive permit shall be revoked by the department of revenue for any ethanol producer who is ineligible under this section to receive a production incentive and the ethanol producer shall remain ineligible to receive an ethanol production incentive permit in subsequent years.

Sec. 39. Section 423.24, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

423.24 DEPOSIT OF REVENUE. All revenue arising under the operation of this chapter, derived from the use tax on motor vehicles, trailers, and motor vehicle accessories and equipment, as same may be collected as provided by section 423.7 shall be credited to the road use tax fund except that for each of the fiscal years in the period beginning July 1, 1983 and ending June 30, 1988 a maximum of five hundred thousand dollars shall be credited to the ethanol production incentive fund. All other revenue arising under the operation of this chapter shall be credited to the general fund of the state.

Sec. . Sections 31 through 38 are effective for ethanol produced in this state on or after July 1, 1983.

Sec. . Sections 31 through 38 are repealed effective July 1, 1988. However, claims arising under section 324.104 prior to July 1, 1988, shall be paid in the manner provided in the repealed section 324.104 during the fiscal quarter beginning July 1, 1988 and ending September 30, 1988."

. Title page, line 14, by inserting after the word "costs" the words "and providing for an ethanol production incentive program"."

NEW SECTION. 261.5 GUARANTEED LOAN PAYMENT PROGRAM. There is established a guaranteed student loan payment program to be administered by the commission. An individual who meets all of the following conditions is eligible for reimbursement payments under the program if the individual:
1. Is a teacher employed on a full-time basis under sections 279.13 through 279.19 in a school district in this state.
2. Has an outstanding debt with an eligible lender under the Iowa guaranteed student loan program as of the beginning of a school year.

algebra level or higher.

b. A chemistry, advanced chemistry, physics or advanced physics course.

4. Graduated from college after July 1, 1983 with a major in mathematics or science.

The commission shall adopt rules under chapter 17A to provide for the administration of this program.

Annually, commencing July 1, 1983, there is appropriated from the general fund of the state to the Iowa college aid commission the sum of thirty thousand (30,000) dollars, or as much thereof as is necessary, to make the reimbursement payments required under this section.

Annual reimbursement payments to an eligible teacher for loan repayments made during a school year shall be equal to one thousand dollars or the remainder of a loan, whichever is less. If the amount appropriated for a fiscal year is insufficient to make the reimbursement payments for that year, the reimbursement payments shall be proportionally reduced. Total payments for an eligible teacher shall not exceed six thousand dollars. If a teacher fails to complete a year of instruction in a course listed in subsection 4, the teacher shall not be reimbursed for loan repayments made during that school year.

Sec. 2. Section 261.2, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new subsection:

NEW SUBSECTION. Prepare and administer the Iowa science and mathematics loan program under this chapter.

Sec. 3. NEW SECTION. 261.28 SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS LOAN PROGRAM. The Iowa science and mathematics loan program is established to be administered by the commission. The purpose of the loan program is to assist teachers to obtain or to upgrade their teaching authorization in the areas of science or mathematics. The commission shall adopt rules under chapter 17A, in consultation with the board of educational examiners, to administer the program. The rules shall provide that loans not be granted to teachers for the purpose of improving their knowledge of subject content or teaching skills in order to teach courses in subject matter areas for which they possess approval granted by the board of educational examiners. The rules shall also provide that priority for loans be given to teachers possessing minimal qualifications for teaching science or mathematics.

Sec. 4. NEW SECTION. 261.29 LOANS TO TEACHERS. Loans may be granted only to a person possessing a valid teacher's certificate issued under chapter 260. The annual amount of a loan to a teacher enrolled as a full-time student shall not exceed one thousand dollars for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983 and one thousand five hundred dollars for each succeeding fiscal year, or the total amount of tuition and fees, whichever is less. The annual amount of a loan to a teacher enrolled on at least a half-time basis shall not exceed five hundred dollars for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983 and seven hundred fifty dollars for each succeeding fiscal year, or the total amount of tuition and fees, whichever is less. Loans may be made for courses in programs offered in this state and approved by the board of educational examiners. The board of educational examiners shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A for approval of programs. The rules shall require that the programs provide training in both subject content and teaching methodology for mathematics and science teaching.

The commission shall set a final date for submission of applications each year and shall review the applications and inform the recipients within a reasonable time after the deadline.

Sec. 5. NEW SECTION. 261.30 APPROPRIATIONS. There is appropriated from the general fund of the state to the Iowa college aid commission for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983 the sum of forty thousand (40,000) dollars, or as much thereof as is necessary, and for each succeeding fiscal year, the sum of one hundred forty thousand (140,000) dollars, or as much thereof as is necessary, to make loans under sections 261.28 and 261.29.

Sec. 6. NEW SECTION. 261.31 REPAYMENT. Repayment of the loan shall begin one year after the teacher completes the educational program for which tuition and fees are received. If a teacher submits evidence to the commission that the teacher was employed as a teacher of one or more science or mathematics courses or as an elementary teacher teaching science and mathematics in a public school district during that year in this state, fifty percent of the amount of the loan is canceled.

At the end of the second year, if the teaching requirements are met, the remainder of the loan is forgiven and payments made by that teacher during the year shall be refunded to the teacher.

There is created a science and math loan repayment fund for deposit of payments made by teachers. Refunds of payments by teachers shall be paid by the commission to the teachers from the fund created in this section. Payments made by teachers that are not refunded shall be transferred on each June 30 from the fund created in this section to the general fund of the state.

The interest rate collected on the loan shall be equal to the interest rate being collected by an eligible lender under the guaranteed student loan program.

The commission shall prescribe by rule the terms of repayment which shall provide for monthly payments of principle and interest of not less than seventy-five dollars.

Sec. 7. NEW SECTION. 257.27 PROGRAMS FOR IMPROVEMENT OF SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS TEACHING. The department shall provide for the establishment of programs, approved by the board of educational examiners, for teachers to improve skills in teaching in the science and mathematics areas. Each program shall provide assistance to teachers in subject content and teaching methodology for science or mathematics.

The programs may be established through an area education agency or public or private institution of higher education in this state.

There is appropriated from the general fund of the state to the department of public instruction for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1984, and each succeeding fiscal year, the sum of sixty thousand (60,000) dollars, or as much thereof as is necessary, to be allocated for the establishment of programs under this section.

the adjusted enrollment for the school district for the budget year to a number which will provide that one hundred percent amount.

The state comptroller shall determine these amounts based upon the most recent figures available for the district's valuation of taxable property, individual state income tax paid, and ~~budget~~ adjusted enrollment in the district, and shall certify to the district's county auditor the amount of enrichment property tax, and to the director of revenue the amount of school district income surtax to be imposed.

A district shall not identify more than three percent of its ~~budget~~ adjusted enrollment for the budget year as gifted and talented if the district is requesting to use additional allowable growth to finance the program.

Sec. 9. For the school year beginning July 1, 1984, the state cost per pupil shall be calculated using a revised state cost per pupil for the school year beginning July 1, 1983 in the manner provided in this section. The state comptroller shall determine the revised state cost per pupil for the school year beginning July 1, 1983 by using amounts for the school year beginning July 1, 1983 as follows:

1. By adding together the district cost of each district minus the additional district cost allocated to the district under section 442.27 to fund media services and educational services provided through the area education agency and by subtracting from that total amount the special education support services budgets of the fifteen area education agencies and dividing that total by the total adjusted enrollment in the state using the procedure prescribed in section 442.4, subsection 2, and the necessary enrollment figures for calculating adjusted enrollment for the school year beginning July 1, 1984. The resulting amount is the revised state cost per pupil for the regular program.

2. By adding together the special education support services budgets for the fifteen area education agencies and dividing the total by the total weighted enrollment in the state using the procedures prescribed in section 442.4 and the necessary enrollment figures for calculating weighted enrollment for the school year beginning July 1, 1984. The resulting amount is the revised state cost per pupil for special education.

3. The revised state cost per pupil is the amount obtained under subsection 1 plus the amount obtained under subsection 2.

Sec. 10. For the school year beginning July 1, 1984, the district cost per pupil of each school district shall be calculated using a revised district cost per pupil for the school year beginning July 1, 1983 in the manner provided in this section. The state comptroller shall determine each revised district cost per pupil for the school year beginning July 1, 1983 by using amounts for the school year beginning July 1, 1983 as follows:

1. By subtracting from the district cost of the district the additional district cost allocated to the district under section 442.27 to fund media services and educational services provided through the area education agency and subtracting from that amount the portion of district cost that funds the special education support services for the area education agency and dividing the total by the adjusted enrollment for the district using the procedure prescribed in section 442.4, subsection 2, and the necessary enrollment figures for calculating adjusted enrollment for the school year beginning July 1, 1984. The resulting amount is the revised district cost per pupil for the regular program.

2. By dividing the special education support services budget for the area education agency in which the district is located by the total weighted enrollment of the districts in the area education agency using the procedure prescribed in section 442.4 and the necessary enrollment figures for calculating weighted enrollment for the school year beginning July 1, 1984. The resulting amount is the revised district cost per pupil for special education.

3. The revised district cost per pupil is the amount obtained under subsection 1 plus the amount obtained under subsection 2.

Sec. 11. In addition to the requirements of section 281.9, the school budget review committee shall establish the weighting plan for the school year beginning July 1, 1984 based upon the average costs of providing instruction for children requiring special education in the categories of the weighting plan established in section 281.9 and based upon the state cost per pupil and the district costs per pupil for the school year beginning July 1, 1984 calculated pursuant to sections 442.8 and 442.9 and sections 9 and 10 of this Act. Notwithstanding section 281.9, subsection 4, the school budget review committee may increase or decrease the weighting assigned to each category of children requiring special education by

BILL ENROLLED, SIGNED AND SENT TO GOVERNOR

The Chief Clerk of the House submitted the following report:

Mr. Speaker: The Chief Clerk of the House respectfully reports that the following bill has been examined and found correctly enrolled, signed by the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate, and presented to the Governor for his approval on this 31st day of March, 1983: House File 120.

JOSEPH O'HERN
Chief Clerk of the House

Report adopted.

COMMUNICATION FROM SECRETARY OF STATE

March 30, 1983

Mr. Joseph O'Hern
Chief Clerk of the House

Dear Mr. O'Hern:

Yesterday at 3:09 P.M. my office received the enrolled copy of Senate File 207, an Act relating to the overall length and width of vehicles and combinations of vehicles which may be operated on the highways of this state.

The general assembly has deemed this Act to be of "immediate importance" and designated that it shall be published in the Muscatine Journal and the Fort Dodge Messenger prior to its becoming effective.

Under normal circumstances we would carry out the general assembly's directive and see to it that the Act was published in a timely manner. Unfortunately, Senate File 207 also includes a section which states that Section 6 of the Act shall become effective on April 1, 1983.

Normal procedure would be to send the bill to the newspaper, have it published and a copy sent back to us for proofing. Clearly there was not time for the normal procedure to take place, since the bill had to be published on Thursday, March 31st. (A decision of the Attorney General's office states that bills become effective on the day following publication).

Consequently, I have exercised my authority found in Section 3.9 of the Code of Iowa, 1983, and have caused the bill to be published in the West Des Moines Express and The Des Moines Register.

The publication will be made on Thursday, March 31st. I regret that this action was necessary; however, I felt that this course was the only one available to ensure that the bill would become effective on the designated date.

Cordially,
MARY JANE ODELL
Secretary of State

Be It Further Resolved, That the study committee shall submit its findings of fact and recommendations, including the necessary bill drafts to implement its recommendations, to the legislative council and the 1984 Session of the Seventieth General Assembly.

HOUSE RESOLUTION 7
By Jay

Whereas, crime continues to cause social and personal suffering across the United States; and

Whereas, the serious nature of crime is most clearly demonstrated in its impact on the victim; and

Whereas, at least one in three households is victimized by crime each year; and

Whereas, crime victims and witnesses are too often overlooked in our system of justice as efforts are concentrated on apprehending, prosecuting, and fairly sanctioning criminal offenders; and

Whereas, compassion and the fair administration of justice mandate that all citizens recognize the rights of victims, witnesses, and their loved ones or survivors; and

Whereas, the Iowa general assembly has recently passed and enacted into law legislation providing for crime victim restitution and crime victim reparation; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, That the week of April 17-23, 1983, be declared "Victim Rights Week", and that all citizens and institutions be urged to support the recognition of victim rights in Iowa and support the efforts to protect such rights.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 24
By Davitt, Van Camp, Cochran, Lloyd-Jones, Pavich, Woods, Pellett, Harbor and Branstad

Whereas, the trustee in bankruptcy for the Rock Island Railroad recommended that the bankruptcy court accept the bid of the Chicago Northwestern Railroad for the north-south spine line through Iowa and from Minneapolis-St. Paul to Kansas City; and

Whereas, the bankruptcy court must recognize and protect the interests of the creditors of the Rock Island Railroad by reviewing all bids submitted for abandoned Rock Island Railroad lines; and

Whereas, the failure to consider the impact of the sale of a segment of the Rock Island Railroad line without considering its impact on reducing the value of other segments of the Rock Island Railroad lines may be detrimental to the interests of the creditors of the Rock Island Railroad; and

Whereas, the loss of the east-west line is detrimental to the economic well-being of the citizens of this state and the creditors of the Rock Island Railroad; and

Whereas, the sale of the north-south spine line to the Chicago Northwestern Railroad will assure the abandonment of much of the railroad and the possible demise of the Iowa Railway Company; and

Whereas, the Belmond-Iowa Falls segment of track was not included in the bids and the bids submitted by the Soo Line Railroad and the Chicago Northwestern Railroad were for different segments of railroad lines; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That the general assembly requests the Interstate Commerce Commission to intervene with the bankruptcy court to seek review of the bids submitted to determine the course of action which is in the best interests of the Rock Island Railroad creditors, the citizens of Iowa, and the retention of competition in the rail transportation industry; and

f. The mortgagor is not now in default in the payment of an installment of principal or interest, escrow funds, real property taxes, or otherwise in the performance of obligations under the mortgage documents and has not to the knowledge of the mortgage lender been in default in the performance of an obligation under the mortgage for a period of longer than sixty days during the life of the mortgage.

h. The residential mortgage loan meets the prevailing investment quality standards for residential mortgage loans in this state.

Sec. . NEW SECTION. 220.73 RULES. The authority shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A relating to the purchase and sale of residential mortgage loans and the sale of mortgage-backed securities. The rules shall provide at least for the following:

The authority shall adopt rules establishing the maximum purchase price limitation for participation in the residential mortgage interest reduction program. These rules shall not establish a maximum purchase price exceeding those established by chapter 103A, Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, and the rules adopted under that chapter. The authority may provide for the reduction in interest costs by making an interest reduction payment to a mortgage lender by combining loans financed through apropriations, moneys declared to be surplus as provided in section 220.10, subsection 1, from proceeds from taxable and tax-exempt bonds and notes, or moneys obtained from grants, gifts, bequests, contributions, and other uncommitted funds, or by the application of these funds to other loans. In reducing the interest costs, the authority may use the specified funds to buy down the principal amount of the loan by any means not prohibited by the constitution or laws of this state. The bonds and notes are a portion of the total principal amount of bonds and notes of the authority which may be outstanding at any time pursuant to section 220.26, subsection 1. Bonds and notes issued under this section are subject to all provisions of this chapter relating to the issuance of bonds.

b. The amount of the interest reduction payment over the term of the reduction period shall be not less than three percent of the amount of the loan nor more than five percent of the amount of the loan.

c. The period of interest reduction on a residential dwelling shall not exceed five years for the same borrower. The interest reduction shall be graduated. The amount of the reduction shall be decreased annually in five equal increments so that at the end of the five-year period of interest reduction the interest rate on the loan will be equal to the interest rate that would have been on the loan if no interest reduction had been made.

Sec. . NEW SECTION. 220.82 LIEN. The authority shall file a lien on the property for which an interest reduction payment is made in the amount of the payment. The lien shall be filed in the recorder's office of the county in which the property is located.

1. A mortgagor shall repay the authority the lesser of the amount of interest reduction payment actually paid by the authority on behalf of the mortgagor or fifty percent of the net appreciation of the property. The term "net appreciation of the property" as used in this section means an increase in the value of the property over the purchase price less the reasonable costs of sale and the reasonable costs of improvements made to the property.

2. Repayment shall be made when any of the following occur:

d. The mortgage lender files a court action to foreclose on the mortgage. However, the authority may abate payment pending the outcome of the foreclosure action.

Sec. . NEW SECTION. 220.84 RULES. The authority shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A for the administration of the residential mortgage interest reduction program. The rules shall include, but are not limited to, the following:

c. The systems of expense provisions included in the rates for use by an insurer or group of insurers may differ from those of other insurers or groups of insurers to reflect the requirements of the operating methods of the insurer or group of insurers with respect to any kind of insurance, or with respect to a subdivision or a combination of insurers for which separate expense provisions are applicable.

2. Except to the extent necessary to comply with subsection 1, paragraph a, uniformity among insurers in a matter within the scope of this section is neither required nor prohibited.

3. An insurer shall file with the commissioner all manuals, minimum or class rates, rating schedules, or rating plans, and every other rating rule, and every modification of a rate, schedule, plan, or rule which it proposes to use. A filing shall state the proposed effective date of the filing and indicate the character and extent of the coverage contemplated.

4. The commissioner shall review filings as soon as reasonably possible after the filings are made to determine whether they meet the requirements of this section.

5. A filing shall be on file for a waiting period of fifteen days before it becomes effective. The waiting period may be extended by the commissioner for an additional period, not to exceed fifteen days, if the commissioner gives written notice to the insurer which made the filing within the waiting period that the commissioner needs the additional time for the consideration of the filing. Upon written application by the insurer, the commissioner may authorize a filing which the commissioner has reviewed to become effective before the expiration of the waiting period or an extension of the waiting period. A filing shall be deemed to meet the requirements of this section unless disapproved by the commissioner within thirty days of receipt of the filing by the commissioner.

6. Upon the written application of the insured, stating reasons, filed with and approved by the commissioner, a rate in excess of that provided by a filing otherwise applicable may be used on any specific risk.

7. An insurer shall not make or issue a contract or policy except in accordance with the filings which are in effect for the insurer as provided in this section.

8. If within the waiting period or any extension of the waiting period the commissioner finds that a filing does not meet the requirements of this section, then the commissioner shall send to the insurer which made the filing a written notice of disapproval of the filing. The notice shall specify the reasons the filing fails to meet the requirements of this section and state that the filing shall not become effective. In addition, the notice shall comply with section 17A.12.

When a filing is not accompanied by the information with which the insurer supports the filing, and the commissioner is unable to determine whether the filing meets the requirements of this chapter, the commissioner shall require the insurer to furnish the supporting information and in that event the waiting period shall commence as of the date the information is furnished. The information furnished in support of a filing may include:

a. The experience or judgment of the insurer making the filing.

b. The interpretation of the insurer making the filing of any statistical data upon which the insurer relies.

c. The experience of other insurers.

d. Other relevant information.

A filing and the supporting information is open to public inspection after the filing becomes effective.

9. If at any time subsequent to the waiting period the commissioner determines that there are questions as to whether a filing meets the requirements of this section, the commissioner shall send a written notice to the insurer which made the filing that a hearing will be held to review the filing. The hearing shall be held not less than ten days after the date of mailing the notice. The notice and hearing shall comply with sections 17A.12 and 17A.13. If after the hearing the commissioner finds that the filing does not meet the requirements of this section, then the decision issued pursuant to sections 17A.15 and 17A.16 shall state when the filing shall be deemed to be no longer effective. The decision shall not affect a contract or policy made or issued prior to the date when the filing is deemed to be no longer effective.

10. A person alleging to be aggrieved with respect to a filing which is in effect may make written application to the commissioner for a hearing on the filing. The application shall specify the grounds to be relied upon by the applicant. The application must show that the person making the application has a specific economic interest affected by the filing. The commissioner shall hold a hearing upon finding that the application is made in good faith, that the applicant has a specific economic interest, that the applicant would be so aggrieved if the applicant's grounds are established, and that the grounds otherwise justify holding a hearing. The commissioner shall send the applicant and the insurer a notice of the hearing, which shall be held not less than ten days from the date of mailing the notice and not more than thirty days from the date the commissioner receives the application.

If after the hearing the commissioner finds that the filing does not meet the requirements of this section, then the decision issued pursuant to section 17A.15 shall specify in what respects the commissioner finds that the filing fails to meet the requirements of this section, and shall state when the filing shall be deemed to be no longer effective. The decision shall not affect a contract or policy made or issued prior to the date when the filing is deemed to be no longer effective.

11. A filing shall not be disapproved if the rates contained in the filing meet the requirements of this section.

Sec. . Section 535.8, subsection 2, paragraph a, Code 1983, is amended by striking the paragraph and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

a. A lender may collect, in connection with a loan made pursuant to a written agreement executed by the borrower on or after the effective date of this Act, or in connection with a loan made pursuant to a written commitment by the lender mailed or delivered to the borrower on or after that date, a loan processing fee which does not exceed two percent of an amount which is equal to the loan principal; except that to the extent of an assumption by a new borrower of the obligation to make payments under a prior loan, or to the extent that the loan principal is used to refinance a prior loan between the same borrower and the same lender, the lender may collect a loan processing fee which does not exceed an amount which is a reasonable estimate of the expenses of processing the loan assumption or refinancing but which does not exceed one percent of the unpaid balance of the loan that is assumed or refinanced. In addition, a lender may collect from a borrower, a seller of property, another lender, or any other person, or from any combination of these persons, in contemplation of or in connection with a loan, a commitment fee, closing fee, or both, that is agreed to in writing by the lender and the persons from whom the charges are to be collected. A loan fee collected under this paragraph is compensation to the lender solely for the use of money, notwithstanding any provision of the agreement to the contrary. However, a loan fee collected under this paragraph shall be disregarded for purposes of determining the maximum charge permitted by section 535.2 or 535.9, subsection 2. The collection in connection with a loan of a loan origination fee, closing fee, commitment fee, or similar charge is prohibited other than expressly authorized by this paragraph or a payment reduction fee authorized by subsection 6.

Sec. . Section 535.8, subsection 2, paragraph b, subparagraph (4), Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

(4) ~~Abstracting~~ Title insurance premiums and abstracting fees paid to a third party, or when the abstracting is performed by the lender, a fee which is a reasonable estimate of the expense incurred by the lender in performing the abstracting.

Sec. . Section 535.8, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new subsection:

NEW SUBSECTION. 6. A lender who offers to make a loan with only those fees authorized by subsection 2 may also offer in exchange for the payment of an interest reduction fee to make a loan on all of the same terms except at a lower interest rate and with the lower payments resulting from the lower interest rate. Prior to accepting an application for a loan which includes a payment reduction fee, the lender shall provide the potential borrower with a written disclosure describing in plain language the specific terms which the loan would have both with the payment reduction fee and without it. This disclosure shall include a good faith example showing the amount of the payment reduction fee and the reduction in payments which would result from the payment of this fee in a typical loan transaction. A payment reduction fee which complies with this subsection may be collected in connection with a loan in addition to the fees authorized by subsection 2.

Sec. . Section 536A.20, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:
