tion. Even from Iowa we have not yet the official canvass of the Governor votes, as they were sealed up in the several counties, not to be opened until the meeting of the new Legislature in January. Few will begin to estimate adequately the labor, patience, and perseverance, required to obtain even tolerable accurate returns from many States. . . . Ours are of course not perfect; but we are confident that they are fuller and more reliable than can elsewhere be found.

After outlining the contents of the 1860 Almanac the editor concluded it was "worth the shilling of any intelligent citizen, and an indispensable manual for the well-informed politician." In an advertisement on another page Horace Greeley & Co. noted that copies for 1849, 1850, 1855, 1856, 1857, 1858, and 1859, could still be obtained. The others were out of print.

The appearance of The Tribune Almanac for 1861 was hailed with delight by many Iowa editors. The Weekly Maquoketa Excelsior of January 1, 1861, records:

Mr. Fellows has ordered a large number of copies of this valuable work and will have them on hand in a few days. Persons desiring to secure a copy early, will do well to leave their orders with Mr. F. at once, as they will be readily sold. The price will be thirteen cents per copy.

The Story County (Nevada) Advocate beginning with December 20, 1860, carried advertisements regularly for both the New York Tribune and the New York World. It also carried an advertisement for the Northwestern Farmer Almanac, one of the rival almanacs of the Tribune Almanac.

The Tribune Almanac for 1861 had the routine information contained in its predecessors. Featured were the four political party platforms of the campaign of 1860, together with the final votes tabulated by each party, state by state and county by county. Since the Homestead Bill had always been dear to Greeley and was one of the big planks in the Republican Party platform it is not surprising that nine pages should be devoted to it. Finally, the Declaration of Independence by South Carolina was the latest exciting news which consequently was included in the 1861 Almanac.

The facsimile reproduced herein, slightly enlarged, is a real contribution to Iowana as well as to the vast amount of literature centering on American almanacs.

The Tribune Almanac and Political Register for 1861

The warm reception accorded the 1860 Almanac has led the Society to issue a facsimile of The Tribune Almanac and Political Register for 1861. This Almanac, founded by Horace Greeley, the colorful editor of the New York Tribune, was one of the most widely read almanacs in Iowa as well as the United States. Since it embraced both astronomical and political features, The Tribune Almanac for 1861 is a valuable Lincoln and Civil War Centennial memento that will give Iowans easy access to the complete election returns of 1860, not only for their own state, county by county, but also for the entire country.

In its general content The Tribune Almanac was apt to reflect the philosophy of Horace Greeley. Born at Amherst, New Hampshire, in 1811, Greeley's father eked out a bare existence tilling the soil. Young Horace accordingly received irregular schooling until fourteen when he was apprenticed to a Vermont editor. After some discouraging experiences on small newspapers, the precocious youth set out for New York City in 1831 with $25 in his pockets and all his worldly possessions tied in a handkerchief. Greeley found good jobs hard to get and actually lost one on the New York Post because the editor wanted only "decent-looking men in the office."

In 1833, the year permanent settlement began in Iowa, Greeley formed a partnership with another printer. The following year he founded a weekly literary and news journal — the New Yorker. In 1838, after the New Yorker failed, Greeley was offered the editorship of a Whig campaign weekly — the Jeffersonian. This successful venture led to the editorship of the Log Cabin, begun on May 2, 1840, as a Whig organ for the "Tippecanoe and Tyler Too" campaign. The first issue of 48,000 quickly sold out and the circulation thereafter mounted to almost 90,000. Few men wielded greater influence than Greeley in the election of William Henry Harrison in 1840. At twenty-nine Horace Greeley had achieved national recognition.

New York City already had twelve dailies when Greeley started the Tribune on April 10, 1841. It was the only Whig paper in Gotham. At the end of seven weeks the circulation had reached 11,000; by 1846 the Tribune was recognized as the best all-round newspaper in New York City, and had set a new standard in American journalism, not only for its energetic news-gathering but also for its good taste, high moral standards, and intellectual appeal.

Horace Greeley hated monopoly, landlordism, and class dominance, and bitterly assailed the heartlessness of corporations that exploited their workers. Believing that all American citizens should be free men politically and economically, he supported the Abolitionist Crusade but did not favor Woman Suffrage. He opposed capital punishment, advocated restrictions on liquor sales, supported cooperative shops and labor unions, espoused the agrarian movement for the free distribution of public lands but strongly opposed railway land grants. On one occasion he personally interviewed leaders of the Ebenezer [now Amana] Society in New York on their religious, social, and economic philosophy. Material on these subjects was apt to find its way into the Tribune Almanacs and its predecessors.

Although The Tribune Almanac was an important venture, Greeley made no mention of it in his voluminous Recollections of a Busy Life, published in 1868 — a copy of which is in the State Historical Society Library. Actually, The Tribune Almanac and Political Register for 1861 was an outgrowth of a publication which

There will be four Eclipses this year, as follows:

I. An annular Eclipse of the Sun, January 10, invisible in America.

* Dec. 16.

IV. A total Eclipse of the Sun, but only partial in the United States, December 31. The Sun rises eclipsed, and the obscuration will be visible in all the States east of the Mississippi River, and in those States adjacent to it on the west, except Iowa. It ends at Washington, at 8h. 36m. In Texas, Arkansas, Missouri, Illinois, and Wisconsin, the Eclipse ends just at sunrise, and east of Maine it begins at sunrise. Size in the Atlantic States about 6 digits.

Transit of Mercury.

There will be a transit of Mercury over the Sun's disc, November 12, invisible in America.

Occultation of Mars.

Mars will be eclipsed by the Moon May 12, at 7h. 30m. in the evening, at Washington, and reappear at 8h. 32m. Visible generally.

Morning and Evening Stars.

Venus will be Morning Star until May 11, then Evening Star the rest of the year. Mars will be Evening Star until August 27, then Morning Star the rest of the year. Jupiter will be Morning Star until February 10, then Evening Star until August 30, then Morning Star the rest of the year. Saturn will be Morning Star until February 24, then Evening Star until September 5.

The Fifty-Seventh Asteroid,

Between the orbits of Mars and Jupiter, was discovered by M. Luther, of Bilk, on the evening of September 22, 1859. It has received the name Mnemosyne.

Mercury.

This planet, being rarely seen, may be discovered in the west soon after sunset about February 24, June 22, October 17, and in the east just before sunrise about April 15, August 13, and December 2.

Leap-Year.

Every year the number of which is divisible by 4 without a remainder, is a leap-year, except the last year of the century, which is a leap-year only when divisible by 400 without a remainder. Thus the year 1900 will not be leap-year.

Nebulæ.

"I wonder as I gaze. That stream of light
Undimmed, unquenched—just as I see it now—
Has issued from those dazzling points through years
That run far back into eternity.
Exhaustless flood! forever spent, renewed Forever!"

A NEBULA is a cloudy spot of light in the sky, invisible to the naked eye, and which the most powerful telescope cannot in all cases resolve into the stars which compose it. There are between one and two thousand nebulæ noted in Herschel's catalogue. They are supposed to be immensely remote beyond the fixed stars; and if they are each composed of multitudes of stars, how vast must be the system, the combined light of whose thousands of suns appears only as a faint haze, and has required thousands of years to reach us!

Nebulæ vary exceedingly, both in apparent size and in form. Some are elliptical, others annular, and many are globular. In the tail of Scorpio is a cometary nebula. In Sobieski's Shield is a singular oval nebula containing two small distinct stars. And in the constellation Cygnus is a globular nebula, with a single distinct star in the centre. Another in Auriga, surrounds an equilateral triangle of three minute stars.

In the right foot of Andromeda is a beautiful elliptical nebula, called by Sir John Herschel "a wonderful object." The centre is black, with a small star at each end. It is believed to be of immense size, and to be in shape a ring, seen sideways.

The nebular cluster appears like a small hazy star to the naked eye, but in a good telescope shines with a lustre truly astonishing.

In the constellation Orion is a remarkable nebula, the diameter of which must be at least 19,000,000,000 of miles; and if, as is altogether probable, it lies at a vast distance beyond the most distant stars, its magnitude must be inconceivably great. It is like a universe by itself, immeasurably remote beyond the universe heretofore known.

And yet it is but one of many such, disclosed to the telescopic eye of modern science, and proclaiming as nothing else can the infinite power of Him at whose word they sprang into being.

The Milky Way—

That irregular stream of faint, cloudy light, which may be seen on clear, moonless nights by the naked eye, forming a circle entirely round the heavens—is supposed to be the remoter parts of the group of stars in which our sun is enveloped. To a spectator at a distant point in the heavens it may appear as a small annular nebula, or as a thin stratum of starry light, covering but a small spot in the sky. In the constellation Argo Navis, is a vast nebular cluster, in which, from 2,000 to 6,000 stars have been revealed by the telescope, besides large nebulous tracts which no telescope has yet resolved into stars. This nebula is seen through the Milky Way, but is supposed to lie at an immeasurable distance beyond it.

To Ascertain the Length of the Day and Night,

At any time of the year, add 12 hours to the time of the sun's setting, and from the sum subtract the time of rising, for the length of the day. Subtract the time of setting from 12 hours, and to the remainder add the time of rising next morning, for the length of the night. These rules are equally true for apparent time.

The Polestar Four Thousand Years Ago.

The following, from Sir John Herschel's Outlines of Astronomy, shows the changes in the celestial pole in four thousand years:

"At the date of the erection of the Great Pyramid of Gizeh, which precedes the present epoch by nearly 4,000 years, the longitudes of all the stars were less by 55° 45 than at present. Calculating, from this datum, the place of the pole of the heavens among the stars, it will be found to fall near α Draconis; its distance from that star being 3° 44′ 25″. This being the most conspicuous star in the immediate neighborhood, was therefore the Polestar at that epoch. The latitude of Gizeh being just 30° north, and consequently the altitude of the North Pole there also 30°, it follows that the star in question must have had at its lower culmination at Gizeh, an altitude of 26° 15′ 35″. Now it is a remarkable fact, that of the nine pyramids still existing at Gizeh, six—including all the largest—have the narrow passages, by which alone they can be entered—all which open out on the northern faces of their respective pyramids—inclined downward at an angle as follows:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1. | Pyramid of Cheops..... | 26° | 41 |
| 2. | " Cephren ..... | 25 | 55 |
| 3. | " Mycerinus ... . | 26 | 2 |
| 4. | ..... | 27 | 0 |
| 5. | ..... | 27 | 12 |
| 6. | ..... | 28 | 0 |
| | Mean ..... | 26° | 47′ |

At the bottom of every one of these passages, therefore, the Polestar must have been visible at its lower culmination, a circumstance which can hardly be supposed to have been unintentional, and was doubtless connected—perhaps superstitiously—with the astronomical observations of that star, of whose proximity to the pole at the epoch of the erection of these wonderful structures we are thus furnished with a monumental record of the most imperishable nature."

Planet between Mercury and the Sun.

Within a century and a half, twenty-one reliable observations have been had of transits of Mercury over the sun's disk. In these a progressive error of small amount was noted, which led astronomers to conclude there must be some small planetary body within the orbit of Mercury. Studying therefore attentively the small spots upon the sun, an observer fifty miles from Paris, named Lescarbault, has discovered the planet in question.

Fires in the United States.

During the year 1859, 208 fires were reported, at each of which the loss was $20,000 or more; total loss, $16,058,000. By smaller fires, an additional loss of perhaps five millions was incurred. Lives were lost at 51 fires, 112 in all.

True Time.

Two kinds of time are used in Almanacs; clock or mean-time in some, and apparent or sun-time in others. Clock-time is always right, while Sun-time varies every day. People generally suppose it is twelve o'clock when the sun is due south, or at a properly made noon-mark. But this is a mistake. The sun is seldom on the meridian at twelve o'clock; indeed this is the case only on four days of the year: namely, April 15, June 15, Sept. 1, and Dec. 24. In this Almanac, as in most other Almanacs, the time used is clock-time. The time when the sun is on the meridian or at the noon-mark, is also given to the nearest second, for the 1st, 9th, 17th, and 25th days of each month, at the right hand of the top of each calendar page. This affords a ready means of obtaining correct time and for setting a clock by using a noon-mark, adding or subtracting as the sun is slow or fast.

Old-fashioned Almanacs, which use apparent time, give the rising and setting of the sun's centre and make no allowance for the effect of refraction of the sun's rays by the atmosphere. The more modern and improved Almanacs, which use clock-time, give the rising and setting of the sun's upper limb, and duly allow for refraction. The practice of setting timepieces by the rising or setting of the sun or moon is not strictly correct, as the unevenness of the earth's surface and intervening objects, such as hills and forests, near the points of rising and setting, occasion a deviation in every place, from the time expressed in the Almanac, which time is adapted to a smooth, level horizon. The only means of keeping correct time is by the use of a noon-mark, or a meridian line.

Thickness of the Earth's Crust.

From the average of numerous experiments, the temperature is found to increase one degree for every 60 feet the earth is penetrated. By this law, the heat at the depth of 60 or 70 miles would reduce to a state of fusion most of the mineral substances known to us. Hence it has been concluded that the centre of the earth is a molten and fluid mass. In view, however, of the increased conducting power of the primitive rocks, and of certain astronomical arguments, it is probable that the solid crust of the earth can not be less than from 200 to 500 miles in thickness.

Telegraphic Weather-Reports

Are daily sent to the Smithsonian Institution at Washington, from almost all parts of the Union; and the state of the weather being indicated on a large map in the public hall, by cards of different colors, the spectator can observe where storms are occurring, and trace their progress annually toward the east. Thus, from the Cincinnati and St. Louis reports, the state of the weather at Washington may be foretold twelve hours in advance.

THE RAT-TAIL CACTUS.—The N. York Leader relates the following anecdote of the late Mike Walsh. The incident is said to have taken place at Washington, while Mike was a member of the House of Representatives:

At the foot of the Capitol gardens in Pennsylvania avenue (on the right hand side, as you are fronting the building) is an inclosed space—national property—containing one or more tenements and some conservatories and hothouses. Here for some years past, and until his death, enjoying Uncle Sam's patronage, sojourned a Frenchman, learned in botany and many other sciences. Some companions, while passing these premises, were vaunting his acquirements to Mike, who, from a spirit of contradiction, called them in question. He doubted whether these eminent botanists knew the difference between oats and wheat, and believed, he said, that a Bowery boy could persuade them that cotton was clover. Finally, Mike undertook, "botanically," to deceive the Frenchman with whatever he could pick up where they stood, in the lane skirting his premises.

From a wreck of flower-pots and rubbish he selected one sound pot and a dead rat lying next the heap. Placing the rat in the flower-pot, he covered it up with mould, leaving out the tail, which he fixed perpendicularly by tying it carefully to a green stick which happened to be "convenient" amongst the garden rubbish. He next called on the Professor, and told him that his friend Lieut. ——— (whose ship having touched one of the islands of the then terra incognito Japan, had excited some interest) had presented him with a very curious kind of cactus. This he wished the Professor to examine. No one, Mike said, had been able to make it out, and he might have it for ten years and not find five people who would; so he hardly felt justified in keeping it out of a public collection, and yet he did not like to part with a keepsake from a "friend."

The Professor eagerly repaired to examine the vegetable curiosity.

After a close inspection, he determined what it was, or at least christened it by a fine Greek name—two words, Mike said, averaging sixteen letters. The Professor exhausted himself in persuading Mike that the interests of science required that he should sacrifice to them the sentiments of friendship, by surrendering this rare production of the vegetable kingdom to the botanist. The reluctant Mike eventually consented, on the willing and solemn assurances of the Professor that it would be tended with the utmost care; and so it would. Placed in a hothouse, it was cautiously but carefully besprinkled with water at a temperature of seventy degrees by the thermometer. It was noticed and described in the National Intelligencer.

The notice was copied into other papers. The plant was exhibited with pride to several eminent individuals. At length, with the heat and moisture the tip of the tail began to excoriate. The Professor was delighted—it was examined with the greatest interest by one of the chief patrons, "the greal Daniel," to whom the Professor promised one of the first slips for Marshfield.

"It was too good a joke to keep," said Michael, "especially in a hot-house; so before long, they smelt a rat." The wrath and shame of the Professor were excessive, and so was the indignation of the great Daniel, not at the author of the joke, but at the unfortunate botanist, whom he stigmatized as a "d——d frog-eating Frenchman," through whom he had been taken in, and who ought to have known better.

A WESTERN Representative in Congress boasts that he can "bring an argument to a p'int as quick as any other man." He can bring a quart to a pint a good deal quicker.

A FEMALE correspondent suggests a condition on which she will give us a kiss. We feel in duty bound to say to her, that kissing is a thing that, at every proper opportunity, we set our face against.

A YOUNG widow has established a pistol-gallery in New Orleans. Her qualifications as a teacher of the art of duelling are of course undoubted—she has killed her man.

IT is stated that the members of a late court martial ran up a bill of four hundred and fifty dollars against the government for port wine. We suppose those men-of-war thought they ought to make port holes of their mouths.

THE question is often discussed whether the savages enjoy life. We suppose they do, as they always seem anxious to take it when they get a chance.

A MAN was recently convicted in Kentucky of stealing his neighbor's cows and hiding them in a cellar. It was a cowardly mode of cow-hiding.

"I HAVEN'T taken a drop of liquor for a year," said an individual of questionable morals. "Indeed! but which of your features are we to believe—your lips or your nose?"

THE "American Agriculturist" speaks of a species of pigs with square mouths. A learned goat can add, subtract and multiply, but these pigs can give an illustration of the square root.

WORDS are often signs of ideas, and quite as often of the want of them.

"Is the smoke of my cigarette unpleasant to you, sir?" "Oh, no, madam; I would rather inhale smoke from your beautiful lips, than kisses from any others."

IN Columbia, a week or two since, a man whistled to his neighbor, as if calling a dog, and got soundly whipped for it. That was "paying dear for his whistle."

THE coat of a horse is the gift of nature. That of an ass is often the work of a tailor.

AN exchange says that we have a right to take an umbrella or a kiss without permission whenever we can. Well, but if the umbrella isn't returned, the fault is ours; if the kiss isn't, it is the lady's.

A NEW ENGLAND writer says that it has been found that negroes can be better trusted than white men not to betray secrets. We suppose this is upon the principle that they always "keep dark."

THE botanists tell us that there is no such thing in nature as a black flower. We suppose they never heard of the "coal-black Rose."

"DOCTOR, what do you think is the cause of this frequent rush of blood to my head?" "Oh, it is nothing but an effort of nature. Nature, you know, abhors a vacuum."

"SHE isn't all that fancy painted her," bitterly exclaimed a rejected lover; "and, worse than that, she isn't all that she paints herself."

HE who reels and staggers most in the journey of life, takes the straightest cut to the devil.

ONE of the very best of earthly possessions is self-possession.

"I REMEMBER," says Lord Bidden, "Mr. Justice Gold trying a case at York, and when he had proceeded for about two hours, he observed: "Here are only eleven jurymen in the box, where is the twelfth?" "Please, you, my lord," said one of the eleven, "he has gone away about some other business, but he has left his verdict with me."

A DOWN EAST editor says he has seen the contrivance lawyers use when they "warm up the subject." He says it is a glass concern, and holds about a pint.

As Pat, an old joker, and a Yankee more sly,
Once riding together a gallows passed by,
Said the Yankee to Pat: "If I don't make too free, Give that gallows its due, pray where would you be?"
"Why, honey," said Pat, "faith that's aizily known,
I'd be riding to town by meself, all alone!"

"Do you see anything ridiculous in this wig?" said a brother judge to Curran. "Nothing but the head," he replied.

"I AM rejoiced, my dear wife, to see you in such good health," said Sparks to his wife. "Health?" was the quick retort; "why I have had the plague ever since I was married."

"I AM certain, wife, that I am right and you are wrong; I'll bet my ears on it." "Indeed, husband, you shouldn't carry betting to such extreme lengths."

"WHERE are you going?" asked a little boy of another, who had slipped and fallen down on an icy pavement. "Going to get up!" was the blunt reply.

A TALL, slabsided Yankee who was making his appearance at Cape May last summer, strolled down to the beach during bathing time. On seeing the bevy of beauties disporting in the waves, he burst into a fit of enthusiasm. "Je-ru-sa-lem! if that don't jest remind me of something good we have to hum." "What is that?" remarked a friend who heard him. "What is it?" said Jonathan, smacking his lips. "Why, it's 'lasses in water!"

To keep your friends, treat them kindly; to kill them, treat them often.

SHARP.—A humorous fellow was one day subpœnaed as a witness on a trial for an assault. One of the counsel, who was notorious for browbeating witnesses, asked him at what distance he was from the parties when the assault happened. He answered:

"Just four feet five inches and a half."

"How came you to be so exact, fellow?" said the counsel.

"Because I expected some fool or other would ask me, and so I measured it."

REMEDY FOR FITS.—Buy your clothes at a slop-shop, and you will never have a fit afterward.

NEW MARKET RULE.—A wag recently appended to the list of market regulations of Cincinnati, "No whistling near the sausage stalls."

"JIMMY, do you go to school?" "Yes, sir, to the school kept by Miss Post." "Miss Post! not a whipping post, I hope." "O no, sir, she is a guide post!"

AN Irishman being asked, on a late trial, for a certificate of his marriage, took his hat off and exhibited a huge scar, which looked as though it had been made with a fire shovel. The evidence was satisfactory.

A PENNY paper in New York says that a strong-fisted servant girl in that city was recently assaulted by a couple of scoundrels, named John and Elam Mile, and that she flogged them both. We have heard that a miss was as good as a mile, but here was a case in which a miss was as good as two Miles, and a little better.

"STEEL your heart," said a considerate father to his son, "for you are going now among some fascinating girls." "I had much rather steal theirs," said the promising young man.

MAKING AN APOLOGY.—Rudolph says that once upon a time, a colored cook expected company, of her own kind, and was at a loss to entertain her friends. Her mistress said—"Chloe, you must make an apology." "Good Lord! missus, how can I make it? I got no eggs, no butter, nor nothing to make it with."

"I HAVE no apprehension that the devil will ever come for me," said a youth of questionable morals. "He will not be silly enough to take the trouble," said a bystander, "for you are going straight to him."

A CLERGYMAN lately illustrated the necessity of corporeal punishment for the correction of juvenile depravity, with the remark, that "the child, when once started in a course of evil conduct, was like a locomotive on the wrong track—it takes the switch to get it off."

"DOES the razor take hold well?" inquired a darkey, who was shaving a gentleman from the country. "Yes," replied the customer, with tears in his eyes, "it takes hold first rate, but it don't let go worth a cent."

As a man drinks he generally grows reckless; in his case, the more drams the fewer scruples.

A MAN having bought a five dollar handkerchief for his better half, an acquaintance remarked that she must be a "duck of a wife;" to which a bystander added, "or he a goose of a husband."

MRS. SMITHERS says the only way to prevent steamboat explosions is to make the engineers bile their water on shore. In her opinion, all the bustin' is done by cooking the steam on board.

EVERY man ought to have a wife. If a man is happily married, his "rib" is worth all the other bones in his body.

WE find in an English paper an account of two murderers who escaped from the custody of the sheriff, and hid themselves in the big gun at Dover. They should, when found, have been discharged at once.

A MODERN tourist calls the Niagara River "the pride of rivers." That pride certainly has a tremendous fall.

"YOU seem to walk more erect than usual, my friend." "Yes, I have been straightened by circumstances."

"OH, pray let me have my way, this time," said a young gentleman to his lady-love. "Well, Willie, I suppose I must, this once; but you know that after we are married I shall always have a Will of my own."

MRS. SMIKE says the reason children are so bad this generation, is owing to the wearing of gaiter shoes instead of old-fashioned slippers. Mothers find it too much trouble to untie gaiters to whip children, so they go unpunished; but when she was a child, the way the slipper used to do its duty was a caution to snakes.

FREE HOMESTEADS.

ACTION OF CONGRESS ON THE PUBLIC LANDS.

IN THE TRIBUNE ALMANAC for 1860, we presented a brief and concise history of the action of the Federal Legislature, up to the close of the XXXVth Congress, on the great question of granting to each landless citizen who might see fit to settle on the public domain, a free homestead. That record clearly discloses the fact that the Republican and Democratic parties—the one representing the interests of the free labor of the whole country, and the other the pretensions of the Slave masters of the South—have come to a distinct issue upon this all-important question. The subsequent action of both the Legislative and Executive branches of the national Government, during the First Session of the XXXVIth Congress, fully confirms this view of the case; hence, that action becomes a matter of so much public interest, as to justify a continuance of the record.

In the House of Representatives, on the 6th of March, 1860, Mr. Lovejoy, from the Committee on Public Lands, reported the following bill (previously introduced by Mr. Grow), which was read twice, and committed to the Committee of the Whole.

A BILL TO SECURE HOMESTEADS TO ACTUAL SETTLERS ON THE PUBLIC DOMAIN.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That any person who is the head of a family, or who has arrived at the age of twenty-one years, and is a citizen of the United States, or who shall have filed his intention to become such, as required by the naturalization laws of the United States, shall, from and after the passage of this act, be entitled to enter, free of cost, one hundred and sixty acres of unappropriated public lands, upon which said person may have filed a preemption claim, or which may, at the time the application is made, be subject to preëmption at one dollar and twenty-five cents, or less, per acre; or eighty acres of such unappropriated lands, at two dollars and fifty cents per acre; to be located in a body, in conformity to the legal subdivisions of the public lands, and after the same shall have been surveyed.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That the person applying for the benefit of this act shall, upon application to the register of the land office in which he or she is about to make such entry, make affidavit before the said register or receiver that he or she is the head of a family, or is twenty-one years or more of age, and that such application is made for his or her exclusive use and benefit, and those specially mentioned in this act, and not, either directly or indirectly, for the use or benefit of any other person or persons whomsoever; and upon filing the affidavit with the register or receiver, he or she shall thereupon be permitted to enter the quantity of land specified: Provided, however, That no certificate shall be given or patent issued therefor until the expiration of five years from the date of such entry; and if, at the expiration of such time, or at any time within two years thereafter, the person making such entry—or if he be dead, his widow; or, in case of her death, his heirs or devisee; or, in case of a widow making such entry, her heirs or devisee, in case of her death—shall prove by two credible witnesses that he, she, or they have resided upon and cultivated the same for the term of five years immediately succeeding the time of filing the affidavit aforesaid; then, in such case, he, she, or they, if at that time a citizen of the United States, shall, on payment of ten dollars, be entitled to a patent, as in other cases provided for by law: And provided further, That in case of the death of both father and mother, leaving an infant child, or children, under twenty-one years of age, the right and fee shall inure to the benefit of said infant child, or children; and the executor, administrator, or guardian may, at any time within two years after the death of the surviving parent, and in accordance with the laws of the State in which such children for the time being have their domicil, sell said land for the benefit of said infants, but for no other purpose; and the purchaser shall acquire the absolute title by the purchase, and be entitled to a patent from the United States, on payment of the office fees and sum of money herein specified.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That the register of the land office shall note all such applications on the tract-books and plats of his office, and keep a register of all such entries, and make return thereof to the General Land Office, together with the proof upon which they have been founded.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That all lands acquired under the provisions of this act shall in no event become liable to the satisfaction of any debt or debts contracted prior to the issuing of the patent therefor.

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, That if, at any time after the filing of the affidavit, as required in the second section of this act, and before the expiration of the five years aforesaid, it shall be proven, after due notice to the settler, to the satisfaction of the register of the land office, that the person having filed such affidavit shall have actually changed his or her residence, or abandoned the said entry for more than six months at any time, then, and in that event, the land so entered shall revert to the government.

SEC. 6. And be it further enacted, That no individual shall be permitted to make more than one entry under the provisions of this act; and that the Commissioner of the General Land Office is hereby required to prepare and issue such rules and regulations, consistent with this act, as shall be necessary and proper to carry its provisions into effect; and that the registers and receivers of the several land offices shall be entitled to receive the same compensation for any lands entered under the provisions of this act that they are now entitled to receive when the same quantity of land is entered with money, one-half to be paid by the person making the application at the time of so doing, and the other half on the issue of the certificate, by the person to whom it may be issued: Provided, That nothing contained in this act shall be so construed as to impair or interfere in any manner whatever with existing preëmption rights: And provided, further, That all persons who may have filed their applications for a preëmption right prior to the passage of this act shall be entitled to all the privileges of this act.

Subsequently, a motion was made by Mr. Lovejoy, to reconsider the vote by which the bill had been referred to the Committee of the Whole. On Monday, March 12, Mr. Lovejoy called up this motion, and under the operation of the previous question, it was agreed to, 106 to 67, as follows:

This bill was sent to the Senate, where it was referred to the Committee on Public Lands, and on the 17th of April, Mr. Johnson, of Tennessee, the Chairman of that Committee, reported a substitute for the House bill, granting Homesteads to actual settlers, at 25 cents per acre, but not including preëmptors then occupying the Public Lands. When this bill came before the Senate for action, Mr. Wade, of Ohio, moved to amend by substituting the House bill, which motion was lost, 26 to 31, as follows:

YEAS.—Messrs. Anthony, Bingham, Cameron, Chandler, Clark, Collamer, Dixon, Doolittle, Douglas, Durkee, Foot, Foster, Grimes, Hale, Hamlin, King, Rice, Seward, Simmons, Sumner, Ten Eyck, Toombs, Trumbull, Wade, Wilkinson, and Wilson—26.

Yeas, all Republicans except three, Douglas, Rice, and Toombs. Nays, all Democrats.

The Senate, finally, on the 10th May, passed Mr. Johnson's bill, 44 to 8, the Nays being Messrs. Bragg, Clingman, Hamlin, Hunter, Mason, Pearce, Powell, and Toombs. The House refused to concur; the Senate refused to recede, and the result was a protracted conference on the part of Committees of the two Houses, which committees finally came to an agreement, on the 19th June, by the House accepting the Senate bill with slight amendments. On that day, Mr. Schuyler Colfax reported to the House as follows:

Mr. Colfax.—I rise to a question of privilege. I am instructed by the Committee of Conference on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the Homestead bill, to report that, after twelve meetings of the three different Conferences that have been appointed, they this morning finally agreed. I hold in my hand the report of the Committee, which can be read if any gentleman desires it. But perhaps it would render the report clearer and more intelligible if I should briefly state its leading features. The Senate bill all the members of the House are familiar with. The Conferees upon the part of the House finding, after the most earnest efforts, that it would be utterly impossible for them to induce the Senate to agree to the House bill, have been discussing what changes could be made in the Senate bill, so as to render it acceptable enough for the House to accept, rather than the whole should fail. They have finally agreed upon a report, as follows: In the first place, I will say that the bill, as it passed the Senate, provided that the preëmptors now upon the public lands might remain there two years before they should be required to purchase their lands, but should then pay for them at the rate of $1 25 per acre, thus removing them entirely from within the purview of the benefits which would apply to the settlers hereafter upon the public lands. This point the House Conferees refused to accede to, and if persisted in, we should have again reported a disagreement. Finally, however, a compromise was arranged on this point, and to protect the preëmptors now on the Government land, which was to be advertised this fall for sale, we changed the Senate bill so as to protect them for at least two years from land sales, and to allow them then to secure their homes at one-half the Government price, namely, sixty-two and a-half cents per acre. I need scarcely add, that, if the Senate could have been induced to give them the benefit of their twenty-five-cent-per-acre provision, we should have insisted on it inflexibly; but what I have stated is the very lowest point that could be obtained. The second change we have made in the Senate bill is in relation to the scope of land coming under the operations of the law. The House bill embraced all the Government land, offered or unoffered, except such as was specially reserved. The Senate bill confined its provisions to land subject to private entry, exclusively. As I have explained on a former occasion, the expression "subject to private entry" means such as are left after the lands have been once regularly brought into market, exposed to public sale, and the speculators have taken such as they see fit to purchase. The difference between these two bills seemed so radical as to be incapable of adjustment; and the scope of farming land covered by the Senate bill was so limited, there being but little, if any, in Minnesota, Kansas, Nebraska, California, Oregon, and Washington, that the House conferees declined to accept it. But on this, too, we finally effected a compromise. By our report, all the land subject to private entry is included, and, in addition, all the odd-numbered sections of the surveyed public lands, which have not been opened to public sale—a most material and beneficent enlargement of the Senate bill. We were offered, after this agreement, whichever half of the unoffered lands we chose, and we took the odd-numbered sections. The reason for this was, that the 16th section of a township, being reserved for school purposes by our laws, the four adjoining sections to it, on the north, west, east, and south, are sections 9, 15, 17, and 21, all odd-numbered sections, which are thus saved for homestead settlers, who have reserved for them 18 out of the 35 disposable sections in each township of six miles square.

On all these lands, actual settlers, who are heads of families, are allowed, after having occupied the land for five years, to purchase at 25 cents per acre, which is about the average cost price of the public lands to the Government. We struggled, of course, to include all young men over 21 who are not heads of families, and to adopt the Free Homestead principle of the House bill; but on these points the Senate was inflexible, and we took what we did because it was the very best we could get. The Senate bill originally provided that the Homestead settler might acquire title to his land at any time by paying full Government prices; but desiring to promote actual settlement, we now provide that he cannot do this till after he has been on the land six months. When he stays, or his family if he deceases, the full five years, he obtains it at 25 cents per acre. The Senate have also agreed to strike out the eighth section of their bill, which made it imperative upon the President to expose all public lands to sale within two years after they shall have been surveyed, which we held would be peculiarly oppressive upon the pioneers who had gone to the frontier to settle upon the public lands, and to which we could never have consented. Now, Mr. Speaker, I desire to state, in conclusion, that the compromise we have made upon the subject is not in accordance with what I should desire to have passed, if I had the power to frame the bill myself; but it is the very utmost we could obtain from the Senate, as now constituted. The senators who served with us on the Conference have been notified by me, and also by my colleague (Mr. Windom, of Minnesota), that we regard this as but a single step in advance toward a law which we shall demand from the American Congress, enacting a comprehensive and liberal Homestead policy. This we have agreed to as merely an avant courrier. We shall demand it at the next session of Congress, and until it is granted; until all the public lands shall be opened to all the people of the United States; and I state this publicly, that no one shall regard us as estopped hereafter, because we accepted this half-way measure rather than to allow the whole to fail. I should have added that all persons, whether citizens or those who have only declared their intentions, are allowed to go on the lands under this bill; but are required to perfect their naturalization before the five years expire, and the patent issues. I now demand the previous question on concurring on the report of the Committee, and passing the bill as thus amended.

Mr. Farnsworth.—I desire to ask the gentleman from Indiana whether this bill confines its benefits to those who are heads of families?

Mr. Colfax.—It does, because we failed, despite our utmost efforts, in procuring its extension to all; but we shall appeal to the young men to demand of those who make and who execute the laws, that the system inaugurated by this bill, shall be widened so as to admit them to its benefits, and I will join them in this demand.

Mr. Grow.—I just desire to say that we have taken this bill, not because it is what we want, but on the principle that "half a loaf is better than no bread."

The House agreed to the Report of the Committee, 116 to 51, as follows:

YEAS.—Messrs. C. F. Adams, Allen, Alley, Aldrich, Ashley, Babbitt, Barr, Beale, Bingham, Francis P. Blair, Samuel S. Blair, Blake, Brayton, Briggs, Buffinton, Burch, Burlingame, Burnham, Butterfield, Campbell, Carey, Carter, Case, Horace F. Clark, Cobb, Colfax, Corwin, Covode, Cox, Curtis, John G. Washburn, Elihu B. Washburne, Israel Washburn, Wells, Windom, and Woodruff—116.

NAYS.—Messrs. Green Adams, William C. Anderson, Ashmore, Avery, Barksdale, Bocock, Bonham, Boyce, Brabson, Branch, Burnett, Clopton, Burton Craige, Crawford, Curry, De Jarnette, Gilmer, Hardeman, J. Smith, Stevenson, Stokes, Thomas, Underwood, Vance, Webster, Winslow, Woodson, and Wright—51.

The nays are all from the Slave States.

The Senate agreed to the report of the Conference Committee, 36 to 2—Messrs. Bragg (N. C.), and Pearce (Md.).

The following is the bill as it was finally reported by the Conference Committee and passed both Houses:

AN ACT to secure Homesteads to actual settlers on the Public Domain, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That any person who is the head of a family, and a citizen of the United States, shall, from and after the passage of this act, be entitled to enter one quarter-section of vacant and unappropriated public lands, or any less quantity, to be located in a body, in conformity with the legal sub-divisions of the public lands, after the same shall have been surveyed, upon the following conditions: that the person applying for the benefit of this act shall, upon application to the register of the land office in which he or she is about to make such entry, make affidavit before the said register or receiver of said land office that he or she is the head of a family, and is actually settled on the quarter-section, or other subdivision not exceeding a quarter-section, proposed to be entered, and that such application is made for his or her use and benefit, or for the use and benefit of those specially mentioned in this section, and not either directly or indirectly for the use or benefit of any other person or persons whomsoever, and that he or she has never, at any previous time, had the benefit of this act; and upon making the affidavit as above required, and filing the same with the register, he or she shall thereupon be permitted to enter the quantity of land already specified: Provided, however, That no final certificate shall be given, or patent issued therefor, until the expiration of five years from the date of such entry; and if, at the expiration of such time, the person making such entry, or, if he be dead, his widow, or, in case of her death, his child or children, or in case of a widow making such entry, her child or children, in case of her death, shall prove by two credible witnesses, that he, she, or they—that is to say, some member or members of the same family—has or have erected a dwelling-house upon said land, and continued to reside upon and cultivate the same for the term of five years, and still reside upon the same (and that neither the said land or any part thereof has been alienated); then, in such case, he, she, or they, upon the payment of 25 cents per acre for the quantity entered, shall be entitled to a patent, as in other cases provided by law: And provided further, In case of the death of both father and mother, leaving a minor child or children, the right and the fee shall inure to the benefit of said minor child or children, and the guardian shall be authorized to perfect the entry for the beneficiaries, as if there had been a continued residence of the settler for five years. Provided that nothing in this section shall be so construed as to embrace or in any way include any quarter-section or fractional quarter-section of land upon which any pre-emption right has been acquired prior to the passage of this act. And provided further, That all entries made under the provisions of this section, upon lands which have not been offered for public sale, shall be confined to and upon sections designated by odd numbers.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That the register of the Land Office shall note all such applications on the tract books and plats of his office, and keep a register of all such entries, and make return thereof to the General Land Office, together with the proof upon which they have been founded.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That no land acquired under the provisions of this act shall, in any event, become liable to the satisfaction of any debt or debts until after the issuing of the patent therefor.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That if, at any time after filing the affidavit, as required in the first section of this act, and before the expiration of the five years aforesaid, it shall be proved, after due notice to the settler, to the satisfaction of the register of the Land Office, that the person having filed such affidavit shall have sworn falsely in any particular, or shall have voluntarily abandoned the possession and cultivation of the said land for more than six months at any time, or sold his right under the entry, then, and in either of those events, the register shall cancel the entry, and the land so entered shall revert to the Government, and be disposed of as other public lands are now by law, subject to an appeal to the Secretary of the Interior. And in no case shall any land, the entry whereof shall have been cancelled, again be subject to occupation, or entry, or purchase, until the same shall have been reported to the General Land Office, and, by the direction of the President of the United States, again advertised and offered at public sale.

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, That if any person, now or hereafter a resident of any one of the States or Territories, and not a citizen of the United States, but who at the time of making such application for the benefit of this act, shall have filed a declaration of intention, as required by the naturalization laws of the United States, and shall have become a citizen of the same before the issuing of the patent as provided for in this act, such person shall be entitled to all the rights conferred by this act.

SEC. 6. And be it further enacted, That no individual shall be permitted to enter more than one quarter-section or fractional quarter-section, and that in a compact body; but entries may be made at different times, under the provisions of this act; and that the Secretary of the Interior is hereby required to prepare and issue, from time to time, such rules and regulations, consistent with this act, as shall be necessary and proper to carry its provisions into effect; and that the registers and receivers of the several land offices shall be entitled to receive, upon the filing of the first affidavit, the sum of fifty cents each, and a like sum upon the issuing of the final certificate. But this shall not be construed to enlarge the maximum of compensation now prescribed by law for any register or receiver: Provided, That nothing in this act shall be so construed as to impair the existing preëmption, donation, or graduation laws, or to embrace lands which have been reserved to be sold or entered at the price of $2 50 per acre; but no entry under said graduation act, shall be allowed until after proof of actual settlement and cultivation or occupancy for at least three months, as provided for in Sec. 3 of the said act.

SEC. 7. And be it further enacted, That each actual settler upon lands of the United States, which have not been offered at public sale, upon filing his declaration or claim, as now required by law, shall be entitled to two years from the commencement of his occupation or settlement; or, if the lands have not been surveyed, two years from the receipt of the approved plat of such lands at the District Land Office, within which to complete the proofs of his said claim, and to enter and pay for the land so claimed, at minimum price of such lands; and where such settlements have already been made in good faith, the claimant shall be entitled to the said period of two years from and after the date of this act; Provided, That no claim of preëmption shall be allowed for more than 160 acres, or one quarter-section of land, nor shall any such claim be admitted under the provisions of this act, unless there shall have been at least three months of actual and continuous residence upon and cultivation of the land so claimed from the date of settlement, and proof thereof made according to law; Provided further, That any claimant under the preëmption laws may take less than 160 acres by legal subdivisions; Provided further, that all persons who are preëmptors, on the date of this act, shall, upon the payment to the proper authority of 62½ cents per acre, if paid within two years from the passage of this act, be entitled to a patent from the Government, as now provided by the existing preëmption laws.

SEC. 8. And be it further enacted, That the 5th section of the act entitled "An act in addition to an act more effectually to provide for the punishment of certain crimes against the United States, and for other purposes," approved the 3d of March, in the year 1857, shall extend to all oaths, affirmations, and affidavits required or authorized by this act.

SEC. 9. And be it further enacted, That nothing in this act shall be so construed as to prevent any person who has availed him or herself of the benefit of the first section of this act from paying the minimum price, or the price to which the same may have graduated, for the quantity of land so entered at any time after an actual settlement of six months, and before the expiration of the five years, and obtaining a patent therefor from the Government, as in other cases provided by law.

SEC. 10. And be it further enacted, That all lands lying within the limits of a State which have been subject to sale at private entry, and which remain unsold after the lapse of thirty years, shall be, and the same are hereby, ceded to the State in which the same may be situated: Provided, These cessions shall in no way invalidate any inceptive preëmption right or location, or any entry under this act, nor any sale or sales which may be made by the United States before the lands hereby ceded shall be certified to the State, as they are hereby required to be, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Interior. And provided further, That no cessions shall take effect until after the States, by legislative act, shall have assented to the same.

On the 23d, the President returned the bill to the Senate with his veto, as follows:

THE HOMESTEAD BILL.

VETO MESSAGE OF THE PRESIDENT.

To the Senate of the United States.

I return, with my objections, to the Senate, in which it originated, the bill entitled "An act to secure Homesteads to actual settlers on the public domain, and for other purposes," presented to me on the 20th instant.

This bill gives to every citizen of the United States, "who is the head of a family," and to every person of foreign birth residing in the country, who has declared his intention to become a citizen, though he may not be the head of a family, the privilege of appropriating to himself one hundred and sixty acres of Government land, of settling and residing upon it for five years; and should his residence continue until the end of this period, he shall then receive a patent on the payment of twenty-five cents per acre, or one-fifth of the present Government price. During this period, the land is protected from all debts of the settler.

This bill also contains a cession to the States of all the public lands within their respective limits "which have been subject to sale at private entry, and which remain unsold after the lapse of thirty years." This provision embraces a present donation to the States of twelve millions two hundred and twenty-nine thousand seven hundred and thirty-one acres, and will, from time to time, transfer to them large bodies of such lands which, from peculiar circumstances, may not be absorbed by private purchase and settlement.

To the actual settler, this bill does not make an absolute donation; but the price is so small that it can scarcely be called a sale. It is nominally twenty-five cents per acre; but considering this is not to be paid until the end of five years, it is, in fact, reduced to about eighteen cents per acre, or one-seventh of the present minimum price of the public lands. In regard to the States, it is an absolute and unqualified gift.

I. This state of the facts raises the question whether Congress, under the Constitution, has the power to give away the public lands, either to States or individuals. On this question I expressed a decided opinion in my message to the House of Representatives, of the 24th February, 1859, returning the agricultural college bill. This opinion remains unchanged. The argument then used applies, as a constitutional objection, with the greater force to the present bill. There it had the plea of consideration, growing out of a specific beneficial purpose; here, it is an absolute gratuity to the State without the pretext of consideration. I am compelled, for want of time, in these last hours of the session, to quote largely from this message.

I presume the general proposition will be admitted that Congress does not possess the power to make donations of money, already in the Treasury, raised by taxes on the people, either to States or individuals.

But it is contended that the public lands are placed upon a different footing from money raised by taxation, and that the proceeds arising from their sale are not subject to the limitations of the Constitution, but may be appropriated or given away by Congress, at its own discretion, to States, corporations, or individuals, for any purpose they may deem expedient.

The advocates of this bill attempt to sustain their position upon the language of the second clause of the third section of the fourth article of the Constitution, which declares that "the Congress shall have power to dispose of, and make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territory and other property belonging to the United States." They contend that, by a fair interpretation of the words "dispose of" in this clause, Congress possesses the power to make this gift of public lands to the States for purposes of education.

It would require clear and strong evidence to induce the belief that the framers of the Constitution, after having limited the powers of Congress to certain precise and specific objects, intended, by employing the words "dispose of," to give that body unlimited power over the vast public domain. It would be a strange anomaly, indeed, to have created two funds, the one by taxation, confined to the execution of the enumerated powers delegated to Congress, and the other from the public lands, applicable to all subjects, foreign and domestic, which Congress might designate. That this fund should be "disposed of," not to pay the debts of the United States, nor "to raise and support armies," nor "to provide and maintain a navy," nor to accomplish any one of the other great objects enumerated in the Constitution, but be diverted from them to pay the debts of the States, to educate their people, and to carry into effect any other measure of their domestic policy—this would be to confer upon Congress a vast and irresponsible authority, utterly at war with the well-known jealousy of the Federal power which prevailed at the formation of the Constitution. The natural intendment would be that, as the Constitution confined Congress to well-defined specific powers, the funds placed at their command, whether in land or money, should be appropriated to the performance of the duties corresponding with these powers. If not, a Government has been created, with all its other powers carefully limited, but without any limitation in respect to the public lands.

But I cannot so read the words "disposed of" as to make them embrace the idea of "giving away." The true meaning of words is always to be ascertained by the subject to which they are applied, and the known general intent of the lawgiver. Congress is trustee under the Constitution for the people of the United States to "dispose of" their public lands, and I think I may venture to assert with confidence that no case can be found in which a trustee in the position of Congress has been authorized to "dispose of" property by its owner, where it has ever been held that these words authorized such trustee to give away the fund intrusted to his care. No trustee, when called upon to account for the disposition of the property placed under his management before any judicial tribunal, would venture to present such a plea in his defense. The true meaning of these words is clearly stated by Chief Justice Taney in delivering the opinion of the Court (19 Howard, p. 436). He says, in reference to this clause of the Constitution, "It begins its enumeration of powers by that of disposing; in other words, making sale of the lands, or raising money from them, which, as we have already said, was the main object of the cession (from the States), and which is the first thing provided for in the article." It is unnecessary to refer to the history of the times to establish the known fact that this statement of the Chief Justice is perfectly well founded. That it never was intended by the framers of the Constitution that these lands should be given away by Congress is manifest from the concluding portion of the same clause. By it, Congress has power not only "to dispose of" the territory, but of the "other property of the United States." In the language of the Chief Justice (p. 437), "And the same power of making needful rules respecting the territory is in precisely the same language applied to the other property of the United States, associating the power over the territory, in this respect, with the power over movable or personal property—that is, the ships, arms, or munitions of war, which then belonged in common to the State sovereignties."

The question is still clearer in regard to the public lands in the States and Territories within the Louisiana and Florida purchases. These lands were paid for out of the public Treasury from money raised by taxation. Now, if Congress had no power to appropriate the money with which these lands were purchased, is it not clear that the power over the lands is equally limited? The mere conversion of this money into land could not confer upon Congress new power over the disposition of land which they had not possessed over money. If it could, then a trustee, by changing the character of the fund intrusted to his care for special objects from money into land, might give the land away, or devote it to any purpose he thought proper, however foreign from the trust. The inference is irresistible that this land partakes of the very same character with the money paid for it, and can be devoted to no objects different from those to which the money could have been devoted. If this were not the case, then, by the purchase of a new Territory from a foreign government out of the public Treasury, Congress could enlarge their own powers, and appropriate the proceeds of the sales of the land thus purchased, at their own discretion, to other and far different objects from what they could have applied the purchase money which had been raised by taxation.

II. It will prove unequal and unjust in its operation among the actual settlers themselves.

The first settlers of a new country are a most meritorious class. They brave the dangers of savage warfare, suffer the privations of a frontier life, and, with the hand of toil, bring the wilderness into cultivation. The "old settlers," as they are everywhere called, are public benefactors. This class have all paid for their lands the government price, or $1 25 per acre. They have constructed roads, established schools, and laid the foundation of prosperous Commonwealths. Is it just, is it equal, that after they have accomplished all this by their labor, new settlers should come in among them and receive their farms at the price of twenty-five or eighteen cents per acre? Surely the old settlers, as a class, are entitled to at least equal benefits with the new. If you give the new settlers their lands for a comparatively nominal price, upon every principle of equality and justice, you will be obliged to refund out of the common Treasury the difference which the old have paid above the new settlers for their land.

III. This bill will do great injustice to the old soldiers who have received land warrants for their services in fighting the battles of their country. It will greatly reduce the market value of these warrants. Already their value has sunk, for one hundred and sixty acre warrants, to sixty-seven cents per acre, under an apprehension that such a measure as this might become a law. What price would they command when any head of a family may take possession of a quarter-section of land, and not pay for it until the end of five years, and then at the rate of only twenty-five cents per acre? The magnitude of the interest to be affected will appear in the fact that there are outstanding unsatisfied land-warrants reaching back to the last war with Great Britain, and even Revolutionary times, amounting in round numbers, to seven and a half millions of acres.

IV. This bill will prove unequal and unjust in its operations, because, from its nature, it is confined to one class of our people. It is a boon expressly conferred upon the cultivators of the soil. While it is cheerfully admitted that these are the most numerous and useful class of our fellow-citizens, and eminently deserve all the advantages which our laws have already extended to them, yet there should be no new legislation which would operate to the injury or embarrassment of the large body of respectable artisans and laborers. The mechanic who emigrates to the West, and pursues his calling, must labor long before he can purchase a quarter-section of land; while the tiller of the soil, who accompanies him, obtains a farm at once by the bounty of the Government. The numerous body of mechanics in our large cities cannot, even by emigrating to the West, take advantage of the provisions of this bill without entering upon a new occupation, for which their habits of life have rendered them unfit.

V. This bill is unjust to the old States of the Union in many respects; and among these States, so far as the public lands are concerned, we may enumerate every State east of the Mississippi, with the exception of Wisconsin and a portion of Minnesota.

It is a common belief, within their limits, that the older States of the Confederacy do not derive their proportionate benefit from the public lands. This is not a just opinion. It is doubtful whether they could be rendered more beneficial to these States under any other system than that which at present exists. Their proceeds go into the common Treasury to accomplish the objects of the Government, and in this manner all the States are benefited in just proportion. But to give this common inheritance away would deprive the old States of their just proportion of this revenue, without holding out any, the least, corresponding advantage. While it is our common glory that the new States have become so prosperous and populous, there is no good reason why the old States should offer premiums to their own citizens, to emigrate from them to the West. That land of promise presents in itself sufficient allurements to our young and enterprising citizens, without any adventitious aid. The offer of free farms would probably have a powerful effect in encouraging emigration, especially from States like Illinois, Tennessee, and Kentucky, to the west of the Mississippi, and could not fail to reduce the price of property within their limits. An individual in States thus situated would not pay its fair value for land when, by crossing the Mississippi, he could go upon the public lands, and obtain a farm almost without money and without price.

VI. This bill will open one vast field for speculation. Men will not pay $1 25 for lands, when they can purchase them for one-fifth of that price. Large numbers of actual settlers will be carried out by capitalists upon agreements to give them half of the land for the improvement of the other half. This cannot be avoided. Secret agreements of this kind will be numerous. In the entry of graduated lands, the experience of the Land Office justifies this objection.

VII. We ought ever to maintain the most perfect equality between native and naturalized citizens. They are equal, and ought always to remain equal, before the laws. Our laws welcome foreigners to our shores, and their rights will ever be respected. While these are the sentiments on which I have acted through life, it is not, in my opinion, expedient to proclaim to all the nations of the earth that whoever shall arrive in this country from a foreign shore, and declare his intention to become a citizen, shall receive a farm of 160 acres, at a cost of 25 or 20 cents per acre, if he will only reside on it and cultivate it. The invitation extends to all; and if this bill becomes a law, we may have numerous actual settlers from China, and other eastern nations, enjoying its benefits on the great Pacific slope. The bill makes a distinction in favor of such persons over native and naturalized citizens. When applied to such citizens, it is confined to such as are the heads of families; but when applicable to persons of foreign birth recently arrived on our shores, there is no such restriction. Such persons need not be the heads of families, provided they have filed a declaration of intention to become citizens. Perhaps this distinction was an inadvertence; but it is, nevertheless, a part of the bill.

VIII. The bill creates an unjust distinction between persons claiming the benefit of the preëmption laws. While it reduces the price of the land to existing preëmptors to 62½ cents per acre, and gives them a credit on this sum for two years from the present date, no matter how long they may have hitherto enjoyed the land, future preëmptors will be compelled to pay double this price per acre. There is no reason or justice in this discrimination.

IX. The effect of this bill on the public revenue must be apparent to all. Should it become a law, the reduction of the price of land to actual settlers to 25 cents per acre with a credit of five years, and the reduction of its price to existing preëmptors to 62½ cents per acre, with a credit of two years, will so diminish the sale of other public lands as to render the expectation of future revenue from that source, beyond the expenses of survey and management, illusory. The Secretary of the Interior estimated the revenue from the public lands for the next fiscal year at $4,000,000, on the presumption that the present land system would remain unchanged. Should this bill become a law, he does not believe that $1,000,000 will be derived from this source.

This bill lays the ax at the root of our present admirable land system. The public land is an inheritance of vast value to us and to our descendants. It is a resource to which we can resort in the hour of difficulty and danger. It has been managed heretofore with the greatest wisdom, under existing laws. In this management, the rights of actual settlers have been conciliated with the interests of the Government. The price to all has been reduced from $2 per acre to $1 25 for fresh lands, and the claims of actual settlers have been secured by our preëmption laws. Any man can now acquire a title in fee-simple to a homestead of 80 acres, at the minimum price of $1 25 per acre, for $100. Should the present system remain, we shall derive a revenue from the public lands of $10,000,000 per annum, when the bounty land warrants are satisfied, without oppression to any human being. In the time of war, when all other sources of revenue are seriously impaired, this will remain intact. It may become the best security for public loans hereafter, in times of difficulty and danger, as it has been heretofore. Why should we impair or destroy this system at the present moment? What necessity exists for it?

The people of the United States have advanced with steady but rapid strides to their present condition of power and prosperity. They have been guided in their progress by the fixed principle of protecting the equal rights of all, whether they be rich or poor. No agrarian sentiment has ever prevailed among them. The honest poor man, by frugality and industry can, in any part of our country, acquire a competence for himself and his family, and in doing this he feels that he eats the bread of independence. He desires no charity, either from the government or from his neighbors. This bill, which proposes to give him land at an almost nominal price, out of the property of the government, will go far to demoralize the people, and repress this noble spirit of independence. It may introduce among us those pernicious social theories which have proved so disastrous in other countries.

JAMES BUCHANAN.

WASHINGTON, June 22, 1860.

In the Senate, the question, Shall this bill pass notwithstanding the objections of the President? was put and lost, as follows:

YEAS.—Messrs. Anthony, Brown, Chandler, Clark, Doolittle, Durkee, Fessenden, Fitch, Foot, Foster, Gwin, Hale, Hamlin, Harlan, King, Lane, Latham, Nicholson, Polk, Pugh, Rice, Simmons, Sumner, Ten Eyck, Trumbull, Wade, Wilkinson, and Wilson.

Republicans in Roman, 19; Democrats in Italics, 9. Total, 28.

NAYS.—Messrs. Bragg, Chesnut, CRITTENDEN, Davis, Fitzpatrick, Green, Hemphill, Hunter, Iverson, Johnson (Tenn.), Johnson (Ark.), Mallory, Mason, Pearce, Powell, Sebastian, Wigfall, Yulee—18.

All from the South, and all Democrats, except Mr. Crittenden (Am.), of Kentucky. Several senators were paired, which accounts for the light vote. So the bill failed, not having received the requisite two-thirds vote necessary to pass it over the Executive Veto.

A CELEBRATED geologist, Member of the Academy of Sciences, was lately travelling in the south of France. On his return from a long pedestrian excursion, he could get nothing in the miserable inn where he lodged (it was the St. Charles of the village) but a meagre omelet, and over-dosed with garlic, at that.

"Great heavens, madam!" said he to the hostess, "why did you put so much garlic in this omelet?" "Good me, sir, the eggs were so bad!"

NATIONAL PARTY PLATFORMS FOR 1860.

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL PLATFORM

ADOPTED AT CHICAGO, 1860.

Resolved, That we, the delegated representatives of the Republican electors of the United States, in Convention assembled, in discharge of the duty we owe to our constituents and our country, unite in the following declarations:

1. That the history of the nation, during the last four years, has fully established the propriety and necessity of the organization and perpetuation of the Republican party, and that the causes which called it into existence are permanent in their nature, and now, more than ever before, demand its peaceful and constitutional triumph.

2. That the maintenance of the principles promulgated in the Declaration of Independence and embodied in the Federal Constitution, "That all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness; that to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed," is essential to the preservation of our Republican institutions; and that the Federal Constitution, the Rights of the States, and the Union of the States, must and shall be preserved.

3. That to the Union of the States this nation owes its unprecedented increase in population, its surprising development of material resources, its rapid augmentation of wealth, its happiness at home and its honor abroad; and we hold in abhorrence all schemes for Disunion, come from whatever source they may: And we congratulate the country that no Republican member of Congress has uttered or countenanced the threats of Disunion so often made by Democratic members, without rebuke and with applause from their political associates; and we denounce those threats of Disunion, in case of a popular overthrow of their ascendency, as denying the vital principles of a free government, and as an avowal of contemplated treason, which it is the imperative duty of an indignant People sternly to rebuke and forever silence.

4. That the maintenance inviolate of the rights of the States, and especially the right of each State to order and control its own domestic institutions according to its own judgment exclusively, is essential to that balance of powers on which the perfection and endurance of our political fabric depends; and we denounce the lawless invasion by armed force of the soil of any State or Territory, no matter under what pretext, as among the gravest of crimes.

5. That the present Democratic Administration has far exceeded our worst apprehensions, in its measureless subserviency to the exactions of a sectional interest, as especially evinced in its desperate exertions to force the infamous Lecompton Constitution upon the protesting people of Kansas; in construing the personal relation between master and servant to involve an unqualified property in persons; in its attempted enforcement, everywhere, on land and sea, through the intervention of Congress and of the Federal Courts of the extreme pretensions of a purely local interest; and in its general and unvarying abuse of the power intrusted to it by a confiding people.

6. That the people justly view with alarm the reckless extravagance which pervades every department of the Federal Government; that a return to rigid economy and accountability is indispensable to arrest the systematic plunder of the public treasury by favored partisans, while the recent startling developments of frauds and corruptions at the Federal metropolis, show that an entire change of administration is imperatively demanded.

7. That the new dogma, that the Constitution, of its own force, carries Slavery into any or all of the Territories of the United States, is a dangerous political heresy, at variance with the explicit provisions of that instrument itself, with contemporaneous exposition, and with legislative and judicial precedent; is revolutionary in its tendency, and subversive of the peace and harmony of the country.

8. That the normal condition of all the territory of the United States is that of freedom; That as our Republican fathers, when they had abolished Slavery in all our national territory, ordained that "no person should be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law," it becomes our duty, by legislation, whenever such legislation is necessary, to maintain this provision of the Constitution against all attempts to violate it; and we deny the authority of Congress, of a territorial legislature, or of any individuals, to give legal existence to Slavery in any Territory of the United States.

9. That we brand the recent re-opening of the African slave-trade, under the cover of our national flag, aided by perversions of judicial power, as a crime against humanity and a burning shame to our country and age; and we call upon Congress to take prompt and efficient measures for the total and final suppression of that execrable traffic.

10. That in the recent vetoes, by their Federal Governors, of the acts of the Legislatures of Kansas and Nebraska, prohibiting Slavery in those Territories, we find a practical illustration of the boasted Democratic principle of Non-Intervention and Popular Sovereignty, embodied in the Kansas-Nebraska bill, and a demonstration of the deception and fraud involved therein.

11. That Kansas should, of right, be immediately admitted as a State under the Constitution recently formed and adopted by her people, and accepted by the House of Representatives.

12. That, while providing revenue for the support of the General Government by duties upon imports, sound policy requires such an adjustment of these imposts as to encourage the development of the industrial interest of the whole country; and we commend that policy of national exchanges which secures to the working men liberal wages, to agriculture remunerative prices, to mechanics and manufactures an adequate reward for their skill, labor, and enterprise, and to the nation commercial prosperity and independence.

13. That we protest against any sale or alienation to others of the Public Lands held by actual settlers, and against any view of the Homestead policy which regards the settlers as paupers or suppliants for public bounty; and we demand the passage by Congress of the complete and satisfactory Homestead measure which has already passed the House.

14. That the Republican Party is opposed to any change in our Naturalization Laws or any State legislation by which the rights of citizenship hitherto accorded to immigrants from foreign lands shall be abridged or impaired; and in favor of giving a full and efficient protection to the rights of all classes of citizens, whether native or naturalized, both at home and abroad.

15. That appropriations by Congress for River and Harbor improvements of a National character, required for the accommodation and security of an existing commerce, are authorized by the Constitution, and justified by the obligations of Government to protect the lives and property of its citizens.

16. That a Railroad to the Pacific Ocean is imperatively demanded by the interest of the whole country; that the Federal Government ought to render immediate and efficient aid in its construction; and that, as preliminary thereto, a daily Overland Mail should be promptly established.

17. Finally, having thus set forth our distinctive principles and views, we invite the coöperation of all citizens, however differing on other questions, who substantially agree with us in their affirmance and support.

NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC (DOUGLAS) PLATFORM,

ADOPTED AT CHARLESTON AND BALTIMORE, 1860.

1. Resolved, That we, the Democracy of the Union, in Convention assembled, hereby declare our affirmance of the resolutions unanimously adopted and declared as a platform of principles by the Democratic Convention at Cincinnati, in the year 1856, believing that Democratic principles are unchangeable in their nature, when applied to the same subject matters; and we recommend, as the only further resolutions, the following:

Inasmuch as differences of opinion exist in the Democratic party as to the nature and extent of the Powers of a Territorial Legislature, and as to the powers and duties of Congress, under the Constitution of the United States, over the institution of Slavery within the Territories:

2. Resolved, That the Democratic party will abide by the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States on the questions of Constitutional law.

3. Resolved, That it is the duty of the United States to afford ample and complete protection to all its citizens, whether at home or abroad, and whether native or foreign.

4. Resolved, That one of the necessities of the age, in a military, commercial, and postal point of view, is speedy communication between the Atlantic and Pacific States; and the Democratic party pledge such Constitutional Government aid as will insure the construction of a Railroad to the Pacific coast, at the earliest practicable period.

5. Resolved, That the Democratic party are in favor of the acquisition of the island of Cuba, on such terms as shall be honorable to ourselves and just to Spain.

6. Resolved, That the enactments of State Legislatures to defeat the faithful execution of the Fugitive Slave Law, are hostile in character, subversive of the Constitution, and revolutionary in their effect.

7. Resolved, That it is in accordance with the true interpretation of the Cincinnati Platform, that, during the existence of the Territorial Governments, the measure of restriction, whatever it may be, imposed by the Federal Constitution on the power of the Territorial Legislature over the subject of the domestic relations, as the same has been, or shall hereafter be, finally determined by the Supreme Court of the United States, shall be respected by all good citizens, and enforced with promptness and fidelity by every branch of the General Government.

NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC (BRECKINRIDGE) PLATFORM,

ADOPTED AT CHARLESTON AND BALTIMORE, 1860.

Resolved, That the Platform adopted by the Democratic party at Cincinnati be affirmed, with the following explanatory Resolutions:

1. That the Government of a Territory organized by an act of Congress, is provisional and temporary; and during its existence, all citizens of the United States have an equal right to settle with their property in the Territory, without their rights, either of person or property, being destroyed or impaired by Congressional or Territorial legislation.

2. That it is the duty of the Federal Government, in all its departments, to protect, when necessary, the rights of persons and property in the Territories, and wherever else its Constitutional authority extends.

3. That when the settlers in a Territory having an adequate population, form a State Constitution, in pursuance of law, the right of sovereignty commences, and, being consummated by admission into the Union, they stand on an equal footing with the people of other States; and the State thus organized ought to be admitted into the Federal Union, whether its Constitution prohibits or recognizes the institution of Slavery.

4. That the Democratic party are in favor of the acquisition of the island of Cuba, on such terms as shall be honorable to ourselves and just to Spain, at the earliest practicable moment.

5. That the enactments of State Legislatures to defeat the faithful execution of the Fugitive Slave Law are hostile in character, subversive of the Constitution, and revolutionary in their effect.

6. That the democracy of the United States recognize it as the imperative duty of this Government to protect the naturalized citizen in all his rights, whether at home or in foreign lands, to the same exent as its native-born citizens.

Whereas, one of the greatest necessities of the age in a Political, Commercial, Postal, and Military point of view, is a speedy communication between the Pacific and Atlantic coasts; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Democratic party do hereby pledge themselves to use every means in their power to secure the passage of some bill to the extent of the Constitutional authority of Congress for the Construction of a Pacific Railroad from the Mississippi River to the Pacific Ocean, at the earliest practicable moment.

As both the Douglas and Breckinridge Conventions reädopted the Democratic Platform of 1856, the republication of that Document seems necessary to an understanding of the present position of the "National Democracy."

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM,

ADOPTED AT CINCINNATI, JUNE 6, 1856.

Resolved, That the American Democracy place their trust in the intelligence, the patriotism, and the discriminating justice of the American people.

Resolved, That we regard this as a distinctive feature of our political creed, which we are proud to maintain before the world as a great moral element in a form of government springing from and upheld by the popular will; and we contrast it with the creed and practice of Federalism, under whatever name or form, which seeks to palsy the will of the constituent, and which conceives no imposture too monstrous for the popular credulity.

Resolved, therefore, That, entertaining these views, the Democratic party of this Union, through their delegates, assembled in general convention, coming together in a spirit of concord, of devotion to the doctrines and faith of a free representative government, and appealing to their fellow-citizens for the rectitude of their intentions, renew and reassert before the American people, the declarations of principles avowed by them, when, on former occasions, in general convention, they have presented their candidates for the popular suffrage.

1. That the Federal Government is one of limited power, derived solely from the Constitution, and the grants of power made therein ought to be strictly construed by all the departments and agents of the Government, and that it is inexpedient and dangerous to exercise doubtful constitutional powers.

2. That the Constitution does not confer upon the General Government the power to commence and carry on a general system of internal improvements.

3. That the Constitution does not confer authority upon the Federal Government, directly or indirectly, to assume the debts of the several States, contracted for local and internal improvements, or other State purposes, nor would such assumption be just or expedient.

4. That justice and sound policy forbid the Federal Government to foster one branch of industry to the detriment of another, or to cherish the interests of one portion of our common country to the detriment of another; that every citizen and every section of the country has a right to demand and insist upon an equality of rights and privileges, and a complete and ample protection of persons and property from domestic violence and foreign aggression.

5. That it is the duty of every branch of the Government to enforce and practice the most rigid economy in conducting our public affairs, and that no more revenue ought to be raised than is required to defray the necessary expenses of the Government, and provide for the gradual but certain extinction of the public debt.

6. That the proceeds of the public lands ought to be sacredly applied to the national objects specified in the Constitution, and that we are opposed to any law for the distribution of such proceeds among the States, as alike inexpedient in policy, and repugnant to the Constitution.

7. That Congress has no power to charter a National Bank; that we believe such an institution one of deadly hostility to the best interests of this country, dangerous to our republican institutions and the liberties of the people, and calculated to place the business of the country within the control of a concentrated money power, and above the laws and will of the people; and the results of the Democratic legislation in this and all other financial measures upon which issues have been made between the two political parties of the country, have demonstrated to candid and practical men of all parties their soundness, safety and utility in all business pursuits.

8. That the separation of the moneys of the Government from banking institutions is indispensable to the safety of the funds of the Government and the rights of the people.

9. That we are decidedly opposed to taking from the President the qualified veto power, by which he is enabled, under restrictions and responsibilities amply sufficient to guard the public interest, to suspend the passage of a bill whose merits cannot secure the approval of two-thirds of the Senate and House of Representatives, until the judgment of the people can be obtained thereon, and which has saved the American people from the corrupt and tyrannical dominion of the Bank of the United States, and from a corrupting system of general internal improvements.

10. That the liberal principles embodied by Jefferson in the Declaration of Independence, and sanctioned in the Constitution, which makes ours the land of liberty and the asylum of the oppressed of every nation, have ever been cardinal principles in the Democratic faith; and every attempt to abridge the privilege of becoming citizens and the owners of soil among us ought to be resisted with the same spirit which swept the alien and sedition laws from our statute books.

And whereas, Since the foregoing declaration was uniformly adopted by our predecessors in national conventions, an adverse political and religious test has been secretly organized by a party claiming to be exclusively Americans, and it is proper that the American Democracy should clearly define its relations thereto; and declare its determined opposition to all secret political societies, by whatever name they may be called.

Resolved, That the foundation of this Union of States having been laid in, and its prosperity, expansion and preëminent example in free government, built upon entire freedom in matters of religious concernment, and no respect of persons in regard to rank, or place of birth, no party can justly be deemed national, constitutional, or in accordance with American principles, which bases its exclusive organization upon religious opinions and accidental birthplace. And hence a political crusade in the nineteenth century, and in the United States of America, against Catholics and foreign-born, is neither justified by the past history or future prospects of the country, nor in unison with the spirit of toleration and enlightened freedom, which peculiarly distinguishes the American system of popular government.

Resolved, That we reiterate with renewed energy of purpose the well considered declarations of former conventions upon the sectional issue of domestic slavery, and concerning the reserved rights of the States—

1. That Congress has no power under the Constitution to interfere with or control the domestic institutions of the several States, and that all such States are the sole and proper judges of everything appertaining to their own affairs not prohibited by the Constitution; that all efforts of the abolitionists or others made to induce Congress to interfere with questions of Slavery, or to take incipient steps in relation thereto, are calculated to lead to the most alarming and dangerous consequences, and that all such efforts have an inevitable tendency to diminish the happiness of the people, and endanger the stability and permanency of the Union, and ought not to be countenanced by any friend of our political institutions.

2. That the foregoing proposition covers and was intended to embrace the whole subject of Slavery agitation in Congress, and therefore the Democratic party of the Union, standing on this national platform, will abide by and adhere to a faithful execution of the acts known as the Compromise measures, settled by the Congress of 1850, "the act for reclaiming fugitives from service or labor" included, which act being designed to carry out an express provision of the Constitution, cannot, with fidelity thereto, be repealed, or so changed as to destroy or impair its efficiency.

3. That the Democratic party will resist all attempts at renewing in Congress, or out of it, the agitation of the Slavery question, under whatever shape or color the attempt may be made.

4. That the Democratic party will faithfully abide by and uphold the principles laid down in the Kentucky and Virginia resolutions of 1798 and 1799, and in the report of Mr. Madison to the Virginia Legislature in 1799—that it adopts these principles as constituting one of the main foundations of its political creed, and is resolved to carry them out in their obvious meaning and import.

And that we may the more distinctly meet the issue on which a sectional party, subsisting exclusively on Slavery agitation, now relies to test the fidelity of the people, North and South, to the Constitution and the Union—

1. Resolved, That claiming fellowship with and desiring the coöperation of all who regard the preservation of the Union under the Constitution as the paramount issue, and repudiating all sectional parties and platforms concerning domestic Slavery, which seek to embroil the States and incite to treason and armed resistance to law in the Territories, and whose avowed purpose, if consummated, must end in civil war and disunion, the American Democracy recognize and adopt the principles contained in the organic laws establishing the Territories of Nebraska and Kansas, as embodying the only sound and safe solution of the Slavery question, upon which the great national idea of the people of this whole country can repose in its determined conservation of the Union, and non-interference of Congress with Slavery in the Territories or in the District of Columbia.

2. That this was the basis of the compromises of 1850, confirmed by both the Democratic and Whig parties in national conventions, ratified by the people in the elections of 1852, and rightly applied to the organization of the Territories in 1854.

3. That by the uniform application of the Democratic principle to the organization of Territories, and the admission of new States, with or without domestic Slavery, as they may elect, the equal rights of all the States will be preserved intact, the original compacts of the Constitution maintained inviolate, and the perpetuity and expansion of the Union insured to its utmost capacity of embracing, in peace and harmony, every future American State that may be constituted or annexed with a Republican form of government.

Resolved, That we recognize the right of the people of all the Territories, including Kansas and Nebraska, acting through the legally and fairly expressed will of the majority of the actual residents, and whenever the number of their inhabitants justifies it, to form a constitution, with or without domestic Slavery, and be admitted into the Union upon terms of perfect equality with the other States.

Resolved, finally, That in view of the condition of the popular institutions in the Old World (and the dangerous tendencies of sectional agitation, combined with the attempts to enforce civil and religious disabilities against the rights of acquiring and enjoying citizenship in our own land), a high and sacred duty is involved with increased responsibility upon the Democratic party of this country, as the party of the Union, to uphold and maintain the rights of every State, and thereby the Union of the States—and to sustain and advance among us constitutional liberty, by continuing to resist all monopolies and exclusive legislation for the benefit of the few at the expense of the many, and by a vigilant and constant adherence to those principles and compromises of the Constitution—which are broad enough and strong enough to embrace and uphold the Union as it was, the Union as it is, and the Union as it shall be—in the full expression of the energies and capacity of this great and progressive people.

1. Resolved, That there are questions connected with the foreign policy of this country, which are inferior to no domestic question whatever. The time has come for the people of the United States to declare themselves in favor of free seas, and progressive free trade throughout the world, and, by solemn manifestations to place their moral influence at the side of their successful example.

2. Resolved, That our geographical and political position with reference to the other States of this continent, no less than the interest of our commerce and the development of our growing power, requires that we should hold sacred the principles involved in the Monroe doctrine. Their bearing and import admit of no misconstruction, and should be applied with unbending rigidity.

3. Resolved, That the great highway, which nature as well as the assent of States most immediately interested in its maintenance has marked out for free communication between the Atlantic and the Pacific oceans, constitutes one of the most important achievements realized by the spirit of modern times, in the unconquerable energy of our people; and that result would be secured by a timely and efficient exertion of the control which we have the right to claim over it, and no power on earth should be suffered to impede or clog its progress by any interference with relations that it may suit our policy to establish between our Government and the government of the States within whose dominions it lies; we can under no circumstances surrender our preponderance in the adjustment of all questions arising out of it.

4. Resolved, That in view of so commanding an interest, the people of the United States cannot but sympathize with the efforts which are being made by the people of Central America to regenerate that portion of the continent which covers the passage across the interoceanic isthmus.

5. Resolved, That the Democratic party will expect of the next Administration that every proper effort be made to insure our ascendency in the Gulf of Mexico, and to maintain permanent protection to the great outlets through which are emptied into its waters the products raised out of the soil and the commodities created by the industry of the people of our Western valleys and of the Union at large.

Resolved, That the Administration of Franklin Pierce has been true to Democratic principles, and therefore true to the great interests of the country; in the face of violent opposition, he has maintained the laws at home, and vindicated the rights of American citizens abroad; and therefore we proclaim our unqualified admiration of his measures and policy.

CONSTITUTIONAL UNION (BELL-EVERETT) PLATFORM,

ADOPTED AT BALTIMORE, 1860.

Whereas, Experience has demonstrated that Platforms adopted by the partisan conventions of the country have had the effect to mislead and deceive the people, and at the same time to widen the political divisions of the country, by the creation and encouragement of geographical and sectional parties; therefore,

Resolved, That it is both the part of patriotism and of duty to recognize no political principle other than THE CONSTITUTION OF THE COUNTRY, THE UNION OF THE STATES, AND THE ENFORCEMENT OF THE LAWS, and that as representatives of the Constitutional Union men of the country in National Convention assembled, we hereby pledge ourselves to maintain, protect, and defend, separately and unitedly, these great principles of public liberty and national safety, against all enemies at home and abroad, believing that thereby peace may once more be restored to the country, the rights of the People and of the States reëstablished, and the Government again placed in that condition, of justice, fraternity and equality, which under the example and Constitution of our fathers, has solemnly bound every citizen of the United States to maintain a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defence, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity.

SOUTH CAROLINA SECEDES FROM THE UNION.

WHEN enough returns from the election had been received to render it certain that Abraham Lincoln would be the next President, public meetings were held in the city of Charleston, and in other places in the State of South Carolina, at which resolutions were adopted in favor of the Secession of the State from the Union. A. G. Magrath, district judge of the United States Court, resigned his office, as did the United States Marshal, and the other judicial officers by federal appointment. Messrs. Hammond and Chesnut resigned their seats in the United States Senate, and M. L. Bonham his seat in the House. The Collector of Customs and Postmaster at Charleston signified their intention to resign, but continued to discharge the duties of their respective offices. The Legislature, which met on the 27th day of November, immediately provided for a State Convention, to meet on the 17th of December. The election of delegates took place on the 11th. Meanwhile much interest arose in regard to the forts in Charleston harbor, only one of which—Fort Moultrie—was garrisoned, she having between sixty and seventy men; Brevet Major Rob't Anderson was the officer in command. Threats to seize them were freely made by the secessionists, who took steps to arm nearly the entire population of Charleston capable of bearing arms. At the same time, the work of strengthening Fort Moultrie, and, to some extent, Forts Sumter and Castle Pinckney, was vigorously prosecuted. The Convention met at Columbia on the day appointed. General D. F. Jamison was chosen president. In consequence of the prevalence of the small pox at Columbia, the Convention adjourned to meet in Charleston the next day. On the 20th, the following ordinance passed the Convention unanimously:

AN ORDINANCE

TO DISSOLVE THE UNION BETWEEN THE STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA AND OTHER STATES UNITED WITH HER UNDER THE COMPACT ENTITLED "THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA."

We, the People of the State of South Carolina, in Convention assembled, do declare and ordain, and it is hereby declared and ordained,

That the Ordinance adopted by us in Convention, on the twenty-third day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and eighty-eight, whereby the Constitution of the United States of America was ratified, and also, all Acts and parts of Acts of the General Assembly of this State, ratifying amendments of the said Constitution, are hereby repealed; and that the union now subsisting between South Carolina and other States, under the name of "The United States of America," is hereby dissolved.

The next day, Messrs. R. W. Barnwell, J. H. Adams, and James L. Orr, were elected by the Convention Commissioners to be accredited to Washington, charged with the duty of negotiating for a division of the public property and the surrender of the forts of Charleston. On the 24th of December, the Convention adopted the following declaration of causes which induced and justified the secession of South Carolina from the Union:

DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE OF SOUTH CAROLINA,

Done in Convention, December 24, 1860.

The State of South Carolina, having determined to resume her separate and equal place among nations, deems it due to herself, to the remaining United States of America, and to the nations of the world, that she should declare the causes which have led to this act.

In the year 1765, that portion of the British Empire embracing Great Britain, undertook to make laws for the government of that portion composed of the thirteen American Colonies. A struggle for the right of self-government ensued, which resulted on the 4th of July, 1776, in a Declaration by the Colonies, "that they are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States, and that, as free and independent States, they have full power to levy war, to conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and to do all other acts and things which independent States may of right do."

They further solemnly declared, that whenever any "form of government becomes destructive of the ends for which it was established, it is the right of the people to alter or abolish it, and to institute a new government." Deeming the government of Great Britain to have become destructive of these ends, they declared that the Colonies "are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connection between them and the States of Great Britain is, and ought to be totally dissolved."

In pursuance of this Declaration of Independence, each of the thirteen States proceeded to exercise its separate sovereignty; adopted for itself a constitution, and appointed officers for the administration of government in all its departments—legislative, executive, and judicial. For purposes of defence, they united their arms and their counsels; and, in 1778, they entered into a league, known as the articles of confederation, whereby they agreed to intrust the administration of their external relations to a common agent, known as the Congress of the United States, expressly declaring, in the first article, "that each State retains its sovereignty, freedom, and independence, and every power, jurisdiction, and right which is not, by this confederation, expressly delegated to the United States in Congress assembled."

Under this confederation the war of the Revolution was carried on, and on the 3d of September, 1783, the contest ended, and a definitive treaty was signed by Great Britain, in which she acknowledged the independence of the Colonies in the following terms:

Article 1.—His Britannic Majesty acknowledges the said United States, viz.: New Hampshire, Massachusetts Bay, Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia, to be free, sovereign, and independent States; that he treats with them as such; and for himself, his heirs and successors, relinquishes all claims to the government, proprietary and territorial rights of the same and every part thereof.

Thus was established the two great principles asserted by the Colonies, namely the right of a State to govern itself, and the right of a people to abolish a government when it becomes destructive of the ends for which it was instituted. And concurrent with the establishment of these principles was the fact, that each colony became and was recognized by the mother country as a free, sovereign and independent State.

In 1787, Deputies were appointed by the States to revise the articles of confederation, and on 17th September, 1787, these Deputies recommended for the adption of the States the articles of union known as the Constitution of the United States.

The parties to whom this Constitution was submitted, were the several sovereign States; they were to agree or disagree, and when nine of them agreed, the compact was to take effect among those concurring; and the general government, as the common agent, was then to be invested with their authority.

If only nine of the thirteen States had concurred, the other four would have remained as they then were—separate, sovereign States, independent of any of the provisions of the Constitution. In fact, two of the States did not accede to the Constitution until long after it had gone into operation among the other eleven; and during that interval, they exercised the functions of an independent nation.

By this Constitution, certain duties were charged on the several States, and the exercise of certain of their powers restrained, which necessarily implied their continued existence as sovereign States. But, to remove all doubt, an amendment was added, which declared that the powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people. On 23d May, 1788, South Carolina, by a convention of her people, passed an ordinance assenting to this Constitution, and afterward altered her own constitution, to conform herself to the obligations she had undertaken.

Thus was established, by compact between the States, a government, with defined objects and powers, limited to the express words of the grant, and to so much more only as was necessary to execute the power granted. This limitation left the whole remaining mass of power subject to the clause reserving it to the States or to the people, and rendered unnecessary any specification of reserved rights.

We hold that the government thus established is subject to the two great principles asserted in the Declaration of Independence, and we hold further that the mode of its formation subjects it to a third fundamental principle, namely—the law of compact. We maintain that in every compact between two or more parties, the obligation is mutual—that the failure of one of the contracting parties to perform a material part of the agreement entirely releases the obligation of the other, and that, where no arbiter is provided, each party is remitted to his own judgment to determine the fact of failure with all its consequences.

In the present case that fact is established with certainty. We assert that fifteen of the States have deliberately refused for years past to fulfill their constitutional obligations, and we refer to their own statutes for the proof.

The Constitution of the United States, in its 4th article, provides as follows

"No person held to service or labor in one State, under the laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in consequence of any law or regulation therein, be discharged from such service or labor, but shall be delivered up, on claim of the party to whom such service or labor may be due."

This stipulation was so material to the compact, that without it that compact would not have been made. The greater number of the contracting parties held slaves, and the State of Virginia had previously declared her estimate of its value by making it the condition of her cession of the territory which now compose the States north of the Ohio River.

The same article of the Constitution stipulates also for the rendition by the several States of fugitives from justice from the other States.

The general government, as the common agent, passed laws to carry into effect these stipulations of the States. For many years these laws were executed. But an increasing hostility on the part of the Northern States to the institution of slavery has led to a disregard of their obligations, and the laws of the general government have ceased to effect the objects of the Constitution. The States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, and Iowa, have enacted laws which either nullify the acts of Congress, or render useless any attempt to execute them. In many of these States the fugitive is discharged from the service or labor claimed, and in none of them has the State government complied with the stipulation made in the Constitution. The State of New Jersey, at an early day, passed a law for the rendition of fugitive slaves in conformity with her constitutional undertaking; but the current of anti-slavery feeling has led her more recently to enact laws which render inoperative the remedies provided by her own law and by the laws of Congress. In the State of New York even the right of transit for a slave has been denied by her tribunals, and the States of Ohio and Iowa have refused to surrender to justice fugitives charged with murder and with inciting servile insurrection in the State of Virginia. Thus the constitutional compact has been deliberately broken and disregarded by the non-slaveholding States, and the consequence follows that South Carolina is released from its obligations.

The ends for which this Constitution was framed are declared by itself to be "to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defence, protect the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity."

These ends it endeavored to accomplish by a federal government, in which each State was recognized as an equal, and had separate control over its own institutions. The right of property in slaves was recognized by giving to free persons distinct political rights; by giving them the right to represent, and burdening them with direct taxes for three-fifths of their slaves; by authorizing the importation of slaves for twenty years, and by stipulating for the rendition of fugitives from labor.

We affirm that these ends for which this government was instituted have been defeated, and the government itself has been made destructive of them by the action of the non-slaveholding States. These States have assumed the right of deciding upon the propriety of our domestic institutions, and have denied the rights of property established in fifteen of the States and recognized by the Constitution; they have denounced as sinful the institution of slavery; they have permitted the open establishment among them of societies whose avowed object is to disturb the peace and to eloin the property of the citizens of other States. They have encouraged and assisted thousands of our slaves to leave their homes, and those who remain have been incited by emissaries, books and pictures to servile insurrection.

For twenty-five years, this agitation has been steadily increasing, until it has now secured to its aid the power of the common government. Observing the forms of the Constitution, a sectional party has found within that article establishing the executive department the means of subverting the Constitution itself. A geographical line has been drawn across the Union, and all the States north of that line have united in the election of a man to the high office of President of the United States, whose opinions and purposes are hostile to slavery. He is to be intrusted with the administration of the common government, because he has declared that "government cannot endure permanently half slave, half free," and that the public mind must rest in the belief that slavery is in the course of ultimate extinction.

This sectional combination for the subversion of the Constitution has been aided in some of the States by elevating to citizenship persons, who, by the supreme law of the land, are incapable of becoming citizens, and their votes have been used to inaugurate a new policy hostile to the South, and destructive of its peace and safety.

On the 4th March next, this party will take possession of the government. It has announced that the South shall be excluded from the common territory; that the judicial tribunals shall be made sectional, and that a war must be waged against slavery until it shall cease throughout the United States.

The guaranties of the Constitution will then no longer exist; the equal rights of the States will be lost. The slaveholding States will no longer have the power of self-government or self-protection, and the federal government will have become their enemies.

Sectional interest and animosity will deepen the irritation, and all hope of remedy is rendered vain by the fact that public opinion at the North has invested a great political error with the sanctions of a more erroneous religious belief.

We, therefore, the people of South Carolina, by our delegates in convention assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, have solemnly declared that the union heretofore existing between this State and the other States of North America is dissolved, and that the State of South Carolina has resumed her position among the nations of the world as a free, sovereign and independent State, with full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and to do all other acts and things which independent States may of right do.

And, for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor.

On the same day, the remaining representatives in Congress from South Carolina vacated their seats and returned home.

[This table exhibits the votes of the first named elector on the Lincoln, Douglas, Breckinridge, and Bell tickets; but in a number of towns a fusion ticket, made up of two names from each of the anti-Lincoln tickets, was voted, and as these votes were counted for the first elector on each of the three tickets, the above table does not exhibit the true strength of the parties. With the proper deductions, the opposition to Mr. Lincoln will foot as follows: Douglas, 15,522; Breckinridge, 14,641; Bell, 1,485; Fusion, 1,852. Total, 33,500. Lincoln over all, 10,292.]

[This table exhibits the votes of the first named elector on the Lincoln, Douglas, Breckinridge, and Bell tickets; but in a number of towns a fusion ticket, made up of two names from each of the anti-Lincoln tickets, was voted, and as these votes were counted for the first elector on each of the three tickets, the above table does not exhibit the true strength of the parties. With the proper deductions, the opposition to Mr. Lincoln will foot as follows: Douglas, 15,522; Breckinridge, 14,641; Bell, 1,485; Fusion, 1,852. Total, 33,500. Lincoln over all, 10,292.]

THE GREAT FAMILY PAPER.

THE LEDGER FOR 1861.

We intend to make the NEW YORK LEDGER for 1861 superior to that of 1860, or any other year in the past. Among our contributors will be

THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES,

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| EDWARD EVERETT, | EMERSON BENNETT, | MRS SOUTHWORTH, |
| GEORGE BANCROFT, | WILLIAM ROSS WALLACE, | FANNY FERN, |
| WM. CULLEN BRYANT, | T. S. ARTHUR, | ANNA CORA RITCHIE, |
| JOHN G. SAXE, | P. HAMILTON MYERS, | ALICE CARY, |
| GEORGE P. MORRIS, | COL. WALTER B. DUNLAP, | MARY FORREST, |
| N. P. WILLIS, | S. COMPTON SMITH, | MARION HARLAND, |
| GEORGE D. PRENTICE, | JOHN ESTEN COOKE, | MISS E. A. DUPUY, |
| THOMAS DUNN ENGLISH, | MRS. SIGOURNEY, | MARY STANLEY GIBSON, |
| SYLVANUS COBB, JR., | HENRY WARD BEECHER, | PHŒBE CARY, |

and many clergymen, Professors in Colleges, Statesmen, and other eminent writers residing in different parts of the Union.

Our corps of contributors for the coming year will be so large, and will embrace such a variety of eminent talent, that every department of literature will receive the particular attention of some one competent to do it ample and special justice. Whether it be popular romance, scientific essay, historical sketch, scholastic disquisition, spicy paragraph, pathetic ballad, humorous poem, old-fashioned love story, timely editorial, or any other ingredient of popular and elevated journalism, that is to be furnished, the LEDGER corps will be sufficient for the task. In fact, our contributors will send us from week to week much more matter than we can possibly use, so that we shall always have a fresh and superabundant supply, from which to select the VERY BEST. These facts, taken in connection with our largely increased means, facilities, and experience, warrant us, we think, in promising our readers a family paper for the year 1861 which will be more interesting and instructive, and in every respect more valuable, even than the LEDGER has been in the past.

As an indication of the popularity of the LEDGER, we need only state the simple fact that its circulation is larger than that of any other TEN literary papers in the country. Its great success is owing to the fact that we secure the best writers in the country, and spare no expense in getting up the BEST FAMILY PAPER—a paper of high moral tone. The exalted reputation of its contributors, the practical and invariably pure and healthy character of all its articles, the care which is taken that not even one offensive word shall appear in its columns, and the superiority of its Tales and Sketches, have gained for the NEW YORK LEDGER a position that no literary paper has ever before reached.

— ANNA CORA RITCHIE, of Richmond, Va., and Col. WALTER B. DUNLAP, the author of the popular "Forest Sketches," which were published in our columns some time since, will each begin a story in the LEDGER early in the new year. Mrs. SOUTHWORTH is also engaged upon a new tale.

— It is with much satisfaction that we announce that Mr. EVERETT will continue his elegant and interesting contributions to the LEDGER during the next year.

As this is the season of the year when Postmasters and others are in the habit of forming clubs, we direct their particular attention to

OUR TERMS:

No subscriptions taken for a less period than one year. Canada subscribers must send twenty-six cents in addition to the subscription, to pay the American postage, which is half a cent a copy on every paper. ## OAK ORCHARD ACID SPRINGS.

These Springs are situated in the valley of the Oak Orchard Creek, in the town of Alabama, Genesee Co., N. Y., 8 miles south of the village of Medina, on the Erie Canal, and 14 miles from Batavia.

☞ The medicinal qualities of the waters are fully shown in the subjoined testimonials. They contain a very large amount of Sulphur, Sulphuric Acid, Sulphate of Lime, and Proto-sulphate of Iron.

Hundreds of cases of disease, especially those resulting from the scrofulous diathesis, have been cured by their use.

☞ In skin diseases—even in confirmed leprosy—the waters have been signally successful.

Opinions of medical and scientific gentlemen are given in the circulars. The following eminent gentlemen speak in strong terms of the medicinal value of these waters:—Prof. EMMONS, T. ROMEYN BECK, M.D., of Albany; JAS. MCNAUGHTON, M.D., of Albany; EDWARD SPRING, M.D., of New York; Dr. R. CAMPBELL, of Pittsfield, Mass.; Dr. J. S. SHULER, of Lockport, N. Y. They recommend the waters confidently. Dr. Spring refers to a case of chronic diarrhœa of several years' standing, which was cured by the use of the water. Dr. Beck says: "I am satisfied that these waters are highly valuable as medicinal agents." Dr. Campbell says: "They must be highly beneficial for all chronic diseases of the stomach and bowels."

Dr. S. P. WHITE read a paper on the subject of these Waters, before the Academy of Physicians, in the city of New York, in which he states that the waters possess decidedly tonic, refrigerant, and astringent properties; and that the class of diseases to which they are more particularly adapted, are chronic affections of the digestive and urinary organs, and some of the cutaneous diseases, chronic dyspepsia, chronic diarrhœa, chronic dysentery, chronic diuresis, chronic cystitis, diabetes, cases of passive hemorrhage, such as Purpura hemorrhagica, and the colliquative sweats of Hectic Fever. In diarrhœas, particularly such as are dependent on a relaxed or ulcerated state of the mucous membrane of the intestines. In skin diseases—in those forms of dyspepsia connected with an alkaline condition of the stomach, as in Pyrosis, or water-brash, it will prove better than hydrochloric acid. In chronic pharyngitis, laryngitis, chronic mucous catarrh, and humid asthma, chronic ophthalmia (externally), as a gargle in ulcerated sore throats, in cases of salivation, in leucorrhea and gleet, also in piles.

Other testimonials from physicians, and other respectable individuals, may be seen on application to the Agent. Dealers supplied on liberal terms. No Water genuine unless procured from

SANDS' SARSAPARILLA,

THE GREAT AMERICAN REMEDY FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

CURES

SCROFULA,
FEVER SORES,
SALT RHEUM,
BOILS AND PIMPLES,
STUBBORN ULCERS,
CUTANEOUS ERUPTIONS.
PAINTERS' COLIC,
RHEUMATISM,

MERCURIAL DISEASES,
GENERAL DEBILITY.

This is the original and genuine article, which, by its wonderful cures, has secured the first and foremost place in public estimation. It has now become indispensable in families, for the most delicate female and the youngest child may take it at all times with perfect safety. It not only cures Scrofula, and all diseases arising from a vitiated and inflamed condition of the blood, but if timely used will carry off in a perfectly natural manner all unhealthy secretions, and prevent the breaking out of those unsightly blotches, sores, and pimples, to which persons of scrofulous tendency are all more or less subject.

Price $1 per bottle, or Six bottles for $5.

Ask for Sands' Sarsaparilla, and take no other.

ROMAN EYE BALSAM,

The delicate structure of the eyelid renders it peculiarly sensitive and liable to disease. When, from any cause, it becomes affected, the inner membrane rapidly inflames, and the eyelid evinces the strongest predisposition to attract to itself humors from all parts of the body. Hundreds of persons of scrofulous habit are disfigured by rawness or redness of the eyelids, commonly called sore eyes, and tortured with apprehensions of impaired vision, who, by using this Balsam, may obtain almost immediate relief. In all cases, the earlier this remedy is applied the better.

In cases where the Eyelids are Inflamed, or the ball of the eye thickly covered with blood, it acts almost like magic, and removes all appearances of inflammation after two or three applications. There is a numerous class of persons that are peculiarly exposed to accidents or diseases that weaken and inflame the Eyes, and perhaps destroy the sight, such as Miners, Mechanics, and other operatives in metals, who, from the nature of their employments, are compelled to work in a cloud of dust and grit. Such should never be without this Balsam. For Sale , No. 100 Fulton St., N. Y.

Price 25 Cents per jar.—Will be sent free, per Mail, to any part of the United States, upon receipt of 30 cents in postage stamps.

SOAP,

Put up in boxes of 60 pounds each, in one-pound bars, price $5 per box. This Soap is rapidly taking the place of all other soaps wherever introduced. One pound will go as far as three pounds of ordinary family soap. It will wash in either hard or salt water; it does not injure the fabric, on the contrary it preserves it and fixes the colors. Directions sent in each box for making ONE POUND OF THE ABOVE SOAP into THREE GALLONS OF HANDSOME SOFT SOAP. Send for a box and give it a trial. If you do not want a whole box yourself, get your neighbors to join you, and divide it. Believing that no family which has once used this Soap, will ever be without it, and being desirous to have its merits widely known, I have made arrangements with the proprietors of the following papers (many of whom have tried the Soap and know its value), by which I am able for the present to offer to any person remitting me $5 on any solvent bank in the United States, one box of the above Soap and a receipt for one year's subscription to either of the following New York papers, namely:

HATS, CAPS, AND FURS.

"As Winter is coming on, everybody is beginning to wrap up in thick coats and overcoats, and to put on warm caps and gloves. Furs are all the rage, and every carriage that goes to the Park, is covered with a wolf-skin robe. To those who have need of such articles, we take great pleasure in commending the establishment of which we have found by long experience to be one of the very best in the city. The articles are uniformly of good material, and made up in good taste. The assortment of children's furs is very large and complete; the gentlemen's hats are made firm and durable, yet light and soft to the head. It is a pleasure to go to a house where one is always sure to be treated with the utmost courtesy, and where he may rely with entire confidence on whatever is sold as being exactly what it is represented. We call attention to this establishment, not at the request of the proprietor, nor even by his knowledge, for he will be as much surprised as anybody can be, at seeing this notice, but simply to express the pleasure we have always found in dealing with a kind, courteous, honest, and Christian man."

RESTORATIVE CORDIAL

AND

BLOOD RENOVATOR

PROF. WOOD'S RESTORATIVE CORDIAL & BLOOD RENOVATOR.

Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, invigorating and strengthening to the vital powers, and at the same time revivifies, reinstates, and renews the Blood in all its original purity, and thus at once restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world, so chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and at the same time so perfectly adapted to, as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence will soothe the weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and thus allay all nervous and other irritation. It is perfectly exhilarating and at the same time it is composed entirely of vegetables, yet so combined as to produce the most thorough tonic effect, without producing any injurious consequences. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, for it needs no medical skill to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and precedes, and indeed lays the system open to, the insidious attacks of many of the most fatal, such, for example as the following: Consumption, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, Retention of, as well as Painful, obstructed, too profuse, or too scant Menstruation, and Falling of the Womb. These all depend upon general debility. This pure, healthy, tonic Cordial and Blood Renovator is as sure to cure as the sun to rise and set. There is no mistake about it. But this is not all. If the system is weakened we are open to bilious attacks, the liver becomes torpid, or worse diseased, the kidneys refuse to perform their usual functions, and we are troubled with scalding or incontinence of urine, or involuntary discharge of the same, pain in the back, side, and between the shoulders, exceedingly liable to slight colds, coughs, and if unchecked soon emaciation follows, and the patient goes down to a premature grave. But space will not allow us to enumerate the many ills to which we are liable in a weakened condition of the system. But we will say in this Cordial and Blood Renovator you have a perfect, safe, pleasant, and effectual remedy for Loss of Appetite, Biliousness, Flatulence, weak and sick Stomach, Languor, Liver Complaint, Chills and Fever, or any Bilious attack, Costiveness, Acidity of the Stomach, Nervousness, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Depression of Spirits, Sores, Pimples on the Face, or any disease arising from impure blood, such as Scrofula, Erysipelas, Bronchitis, Cough, difficulty of Breathing, and all that class of diseases called female weakness, and enumerated above. We will also say the traveller exposed to epidemics, change of climate and water, will find it a pleasant, safe, and sure remedy, and one none should ever travel without. Reader, try it, for we assure you you will find it a friend indeed, as well as a friend in need. All persons of sedentary habits will find it a perfect preventive of, as well as cure for those ailments to which they are particularly exposed. Hence ministers, students, attorneys, literary gentlemen, and ladies, who are not accustomed to much out-door exercise, will find it to their advantage to keep a bottle constantly on hand; and above all, mothers, or those becoming such, will go through that most dangerous period not only with all their accustomed strength, but safe and free from the thousand ailments so prevalent among the female portion of the world. In short, it is indeed a mother's cordial. Try it, old and young; no longer run the risk of delay; it will relieve and prove itself emphatically a Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator.

THE WORLD'S VERDICT.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT.

Have been firmly established upward of 50 years throughout the world. The annual extension of their sales is the strongest proof of their universal fame and increasing popularity. They are used by all classes of society, rich and poor, educated and illiterate. Their action is based on the principle that the stomach and blood are the source of disease. The Pills act on the stomach and through it on the blood. They are an infallible remedy for Indigestion, and consequently for Headache, Biliousness, Nervousness, which are merely its offshoots. They purify the blood—eradicating Scrofula and Consumption. They stand unrivalled in sexual disorders. The Ointment facilitates and expedites the cure of Eruptions, Erysipelas, Old Ulcers, Sore Legs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Affections of the Chest, and Rheumatism. These Medicines have never failed in any case where they have been timely used and the instructions accompanying them faithfully observed.

Sold by all Druggists at 25c., 62c., and $1 per box or pot.

FORTY YEARS' EXPERIENCE.

After a personal experience of (40) forty years, the same settled conviction remains, that if the BLOOD IS PURE THE HEALTH WILL BE GOOD. Pure gold cannot make base currency. Neither can pure blood make bad bone, bad heart, bad liver, bad lungs, bad teeth, bad flesh, or bad skin; all is beautiful, because perfected by healthy blood.

The point then is, how shall we keep our blood pure? and, if unsound, how restore it to purity, soundness, and health?

Answer:—BRANDRETH'S PILLS SECURE PURE BLOOD.

One hundred and ten years' use thereof by the public have proven this beyond dispute. In sudden attacks of sickness their value is beyond estimate. A few pills, promptly swallowed, saves months of sickness, often life. But if you use BRANDRETH'S PILLS, YOU MUST DISCARD BLOODLETTING, for the "LIFE of the flesh is in the BLOOD." Purging with BRANDRETH'S PILLS takes out of the body the "death principle:" bleeding takes out the "life principle." Therefore, when sick or in pain, TAKE BRANDRETH'S PILLS, and abjure bleeding.

The following letter relative to BRANDRETH'S PILLS, from the Postmaster of Hammonton, N. J., demands the attention of Invalids:

DR. BRANDRETH: HAMMONTON, N. J., May 7, 1860.

Dear Sir: I have long wanted to write to you and express my gratitude for the beneficial effects that have been experienced in my own family, and in hundreds, aye, thousands of others, by the use of Brandreth's Pills. The first year my friend Brockway sold your Pills in Boston, 1848, I was then in a declining state of health, and my friends, as well as myself, supposed that my earthly voyage would soon terminate. Mr. Brockway urged me to take Brandreth's Pills, but having used so much medicine with no good effect, I was more inclined to let nature take its course, and calmly submit to my fate. Mr. B. offered to give me one dozen boxes, if I would take them as prescribed. By this I saw he had great faith in them, and I finally consented to take them, but not as a gift. I went home, and went at it almost hopelessly. After taking one box I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had used up my twelve boxes I was a well, healthy man—my weight had increased from 131 pounds up to 152 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and the present, I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable Pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Yours, truly,

C. J. FAY, P.M.

FEVER AND AGUE.

It is vomiting and purging which should be depended upon to break the fever. Brandreth's Pills and boneset tea, freely administered, will do this in a few days. Brandreth's Pills alone have cured thousands. Boneset tea, hot, the patient being in bed, assists the cure,—should be taken, a teacupful at a time, to the extent of a gallon or more. Give, also, 4, 6, 8, or 10 pills, as the case may seem to require. Do this, and the chills and fever will be of short continuance. The same method should be followed in all cases where there is severe pain, such as Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains in the Head, Chest, etc.

Fever and Ague Cured.—Mr. John Y. Haight, Supervisor of New Castle, Westchester County, New York, desires the attention of those interested. He says, November 1858: "I was, about two years ago, attacked with fever and ague, which, notwithstanding the best medical advice, continued to sorely afflict me for six tedious months; I became yellow as saffron, and reduced to skin and bone. Medicine and physicians were abandoned in despair. As an experiment, I concluded to try a single dose of six of Brandreth's Universal Vegetable Pills, on an empty stomach, early in the morning. The first dose seemed to arouse all the latent energies of my exhaused frame. Their purgative effect was different from anything I had ever used or heard of. At length this effect ceased, and I seemed lighter and breathed freer. That evening I was indeed sensibly better, and slept soundly all night. The next day I followed the same course, and took the same number of pills. I continued to take the pills in this way about three weeks, when I found myself entirely cured. It was two years ago, and I have had no return. My health has been surprisingly good, and I have used no medicine since. I have made this statement in accordance with what I conceive to be my duty."

Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pills which cure or greatly alleviate every disease to which the body is subject, and which have been used by over of the human family are sold by respectable dealers in medicine everywhere. By sending one dollar to DR. B. BRANDRETH, Brandreth House, New York, a box containing 120 pills will be forwarded, without further charge, to any part of the United States, or the world, where a post office or express agency exists.

ALLCOCK'S PLASTERS.

AN ADMIRABLE STRENGTHENING PLASTER.

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS resolve and assuage pain by calling forth the acrid humors from parts internal to the skin and general circulation. Thus in many cases positively evaporating the disease. JAMES LULI, M. D.

There is nothing equal in the way of a Plaster, to the Porous Plasters of MR. ALLCOCK. Every thing is pleasant about them. They are the Plasters of the day, and a fit type of our present advancement in science and art. In Asthma, Cough, Kidney Affections, and local, deep-seated pains, they afford permanent relief. J. F. JOHNSON, M. D., on "Topical Remedies."

From a personal knowledge of these Plasters, we can state that they are decidedly preferable to any other in use. Wherever relief is to be obtained by the use of a plaster, we should recommend them. A. INGRAHAM, M. D., Editor "New York Mentor."

ONE THOUSAND FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS' WORTH SOLD.

W. H. JOHNSON & CO.

These celebrated strengthening plasters have the compactness of kid leather, with the flexibility of a silk glove. They have restored lame limbs to perfect health when all other applications had failed; removed the unsightly bump by their action upon the secretive vessels; cured varicosity of veins and aneurism of arteries; strengthened the wry neck; cured stitches and all pains of the side and breast; cured pains and weakness of the back; in fact, ALLCOCK'S Porous Plaster only needs a trial to secure an enthusiastic recommender.

PAIN IN THE CHEST AND ACUTE INDIGESTION CURED.

Letter from the Hon. CARL SCHURZ, Chicago, Sept. 26, 1859.

TO THE EDITORS OF THE "NEW YORK CRIMINAL ZEITUNG."—Gentlemen: I shall feel obliged if you will inform your friend, Mr. Deichman, that I have quite recovered from the severe pains in my chest, from which I have so long suffered. Allcock's Porous Plaster cured me, of which he spoke so highly. I had tried almost everything to relieve the pain, without any benefit, before I used the plaster, which, strange to say, in a few days after putting it on, perfectly relieved me. I have worn the plasters for the last nine months, changing once in a week or two, without any return of the pain in my chest, or the least difficulty in taking any kind of food. This can be attested by all my friends and my family. Show Deichman this letter, and please to publish it in your paper. Most respeetfully, CARL SCHURZ.

NOTE BY EDITORS OF "CRIMINAL ZEITUNG."—We insert this letter with pleasure, as it affords us an opportunity for saying that any one afflicted with pains in the chest, accompanied with indigestion, can, by applying at this office, receive ample testimony from one who has been restored to health by those very Plasters of Allcock, which he used for six months for a similar affection.

LAME BACK.

NEW YORK, NOV. 23, 1859.

T. ALLCOCK & CO.—Gentlemen: I lately suffered severely from weakness in my back, occasioned by suddenly over-exerting myself. Having heard your plasters much recommended for cases of this kind, I procured one, and the result was all that I could desire. A single plaster cured me in a week. Yours, respectfully. J. G. BRIGGS, Proprietor of the Brandreth House.

EDITORS' PREFACE.

The single end of this book is the presentation, in a compact and convenient form, of the more important facts, votes, resolves, letters, speeches, reports, and other documents, which elucidate the political contest now agitating this country. It has been our aim to let every candidate and other important personage speak for himself, make his own platform, and vindicate (if he may) his own consistency and the soundness of his views on the great questions which underlie our current politics.

Of course, such a work can have but a comparative merit. Make it ever so large, and still many things must be omitted that the compiler would wish to insert; and every critic will plausibly ask, "Why insert this and omit that? Why give so much of A. and so little of B?" Besides, it is not always possible to remember, or, if remembered, to find all that would be valued in a work like this. We can only say that we have done our best: let him do better who can.

Inaccuracy of citation is one of the chief vices of our political discussions. You can hardly listen to a set speech, even from a well-informed and truthful canvasser, which is not marred by some misapprehension or unconscious misstatement of the position and views of this or that prominent statesman. Documents, heedlessly read and long since lost or mislaid, are quoted from with fluency and confidence, as though with indubitable accuracy, when the citations so made do gross injustice to their author, and tend to mislead the hearer. We believe the documents collected in this work are so printed that their general accuracy may be safely relied on.

By politicians of all parties, we trust our Text-Book will be found convenient, not to say indispensable. But those who only listen, read and reflect, will also find it a manifest help to a clear understanding of the issues and contentions of the day. They will be interested in comparing the actual positions taken by Mr. Lincoln, or Mr. Douglas, or Gen. Cass, or Mr. Everett, as faithfully set forth in this work, with those confidently attributed to that statesman in the fluent harangue of some political opponent, who is intent on blazoning his inconsistency or proving his insincerity. To verify and correct the citations of a frothy declaimer is sometimes the easiest and most convincing refutation of his speech.

If a trace of partisan bias is betrayed in the thread of narrative which partially unites the successive reports, bills, votes, etc., presented in this work, the error is unintentional and regretted. Our purpose was to compile a record acceptable and convenient to men of all parties, and which might be consulted and trusted by all. Whatever is original herein is regarded as of no use or merit, save as a necessary elucidation of the residue. Without apology, therfore, or further explanation, the Text-Book is commended to the favor of the American public.

WHEELER & WILSON'S SEWING MACHINES

WITH IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENTS,

AT

GREATLY REDUCED PRICES.

Office 505 Broadway, New York.

The "LOCK-STITCH" made by this machine is the only Sewing Machine Stitch that cannot be ravelled, and that presents the same appearance upon each side of the seam.

Of the 46,243 machines returned to Mr. Howe as sold in 1859, nearly 40,000 make the LOCK-STITCH, showing the verdict of the public in this matter.

The Committee of the American Institute, New York, appointed to examine sewing machines, made a long, elaborate, and able report, of much interest to the public. Committees heretofore have not discriminated and classified sufficiently. This report is free from these faults. The machines are arranged according to the stitch made, and the purpose to which the machine is to be applied, in four classes, 1st, 2d, 3d, and 4th—a classification indicating the general order of merit and importance.

CLASS 1st includes the Shuttle or Lock-Stitch Machines for family use, and for manufacturers in the same range of purpose and material. The Committee has assigned this class the highest rank, on account of the "elasticity, permanence, beauty, and general desirableness of the stitching when done," and the wide range of its application. At the head of this class they place the WHEELER & WILSON Machine, and award it the highest premium. This has been the uniform award for this machine throughout the country for several years, and we think no disinterested person will dispute its justice and propriety.

CLASS 2d includes the Shuttle or Lock-Stitch Machines for heavy manufacturing purposes. At the head of this class the Committee places FIRST & FROST'S Machines.

CLASS 3d includes the Double Chain-Stitch Machines. The GROVER & BAKER Machine is placed at the head of this class. The Committee objects to the stitch made by this machine, inasmuch as it consumes more thread than any other Stitch, and leaves a ridge projecting from one side of the seam. This, in the Committee's opinion, must usually impair the durability of the seam, and often the beauty of the garments, or other articles so stitched, though some of the machines making this stitch can be used very successfully for embroidery purposes.

CLASS 4th includes the Single Thread Tambour or Chain-Stitch Machines. The tendency of this stitch to ravel, the Committee considers an objection so serious that they refuse to recommend the machines making it for any premium. This Report was in accordance with the awards at

THE LEMMON SLAVE CASE.

THE full History of the LEMMON SLAVE CASE, from its origin to its final decision in the New York Court of Appeals, containing the opinion of Judge Paine, before whom the case was first heard, the opinion of the Supreme Court, the points and arguments of Charles O'Conor, William M. Evarts, and Joseph Blunt, in the Court of Appeals, and the opinions of Judges Denio, Wright, and Clerke. The great importance of the legal and political principles involved, the boldness with which the issues were made, and the ability with which the argument was sustained on both sides, render this one of the most significant and universally interesting trials that ever took place in this country.

NEW AMERICAN WATCH,

Made at Waltham, Mass.

In order to meet the requirements of gentlemen who prefer a thinner watch than those usually made by us, we have lately issued a new style of Watch on the three-quarter plate model, especially designed for this purpose. In establishing this new series, it has also been our design to produce a Watch in every way superior to the best and highest priced products of the most reputable of English and Swiss manufacturers, and no labor or expense has been spared to this end.

In all respects of fine and durable material, of external and internal finish, of accurate compensation and adjustment, of mathematically just proportions, and of practical results, our new three-quarter plate Watch challenges comparison with any in the world.

The following named gentlemen may be referred to in relation to these Watches:

Hon. HANNIBAL HAMLIN, Me., N. P. WILLIS, New York, HORACE GREELEY, New York, CYRUS W. FIELD, N. York, PAUL MORPHY, New Orleans, Dr. J. MARION SIMS, Lieut. H. A. WISE, U. S. N., S. I. PRIME, D.D., White Plains, Gen. G. P. MORRIS, New York, JOHN G. SAXE, Vermont, Hon. N. P. BANKS, Mass., FRANK LESLIE, WM. H. CARY, New York, NORMAN WIARD, Wisconsin, Prof. BARTLETT, West Point, Col. W. J. HARDEE, U. S. A., WILSON G. HUNT, New York, PETER COOPER, New York, Maj. BEN. PERLY POORE, Washington, D. C.

Caution. As our Watch is now extensively counterfeited by foreign manufacturers, we have to inform the public that no watch is of our production which is unaccompanied by a certificate of genuineness, bearing the number of the watch, and signed by our Treasurer, R. E. ROBBINS, or by our predecessors, APPLETON, TRACY & Co.

As these watches are for sale by jewelers generally throughout the Union, the American Watch Company do not solicit orders for single watches.

tion. Even from Iowa we have not yet the official canvass of the Governor votes, as they were sealed up in the several counties, not to be opened until the meeting of the new Legislature in January. Few will begin to estimate adequately the labor, patience, and perseverance, required to obtain even tolerable accurate returns from many States. . . . Ours are of course not perfect; but we are confident that they are fuller and more reliable than can elsewhere be found.

After outlining the contents of the 1860 Almanac the editor concluded it was "worth the shilling of any intelligent citizen, and an indispensable manual for the well-informed politician." In an advertisement on another page Horace Greeley & Co. noted that copies for 1849, 1850, 1855, 1856, 1857, 1858, and 1859, could still be obtained. The others were out of print.

The appearance of The Tribune Almanac for 1861 was hailed with delight by many Iowa editors. The Weekly Maquoketa Excelsior of January 1, 1861, records:

Mr. Fellows has ordered a large number of copies of this valuable work and will have them on hand in a few days. Persons desiring to secure a copy early, will do well to leave their orders with Mr. F. at once, as they will be readily sold. The price will be thirteen cents per copy.

The Story County (Nevada) Advocate beginning with December 20, 1860, carried advertisements regularly for both the New York Tribune and the New York World. It also carried an advertisement for the Northwestern Farmer Almanac, one of the rival almanacs of the Tribune Almanac.

The Tribune Almanac for 1861 had the routine information contained in its predecessors. Featured were the four political party platforms of the campaign of 1860, together with the final votes tabulated by each party, state by state and county by county. Since the Homestead Bill had always been dear to Greeley and was one of the big planks in the Republican Party platform it is not surprising that nine pages should be devoted to it. Finally, the Declaration of Independence by South Carolina was the latest exciting news which consequently was included in the 1861 Almanac.

The facsimile reproduced herein, slightly enlarged, is a real contribution to Iowana as well as to the vast amount of literature centering on American almanacs.
