JAY of Appanoose

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 25
By Swartz

Whereas, the policy of this state during the last several years has been to provide as much uniformity among the various retirement systems as possible; and

Whereas, there is a need to study the benefits and funding of public retirement systems in chapters 97A (Peace Officers' Retirement System), 410 and 411 (local police and fire retirement systems), 97B (Iowa Public Employees' Retirement System), and 605A (Judicial Retirement System); and

Whereas, the provisions of the Code relating to public retirement systems are complex and a study of these systems requires the time and expertise of an interim study, Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That the Legislative Council is urged to establish a joint subcommittee composed of members of both political parties of the House and Senate Committees on State Government to conduct a study of the funding and benefit levels of the public retirement systems established in this state; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the joint subcommittee shall make a report of its recommendations, accompanied by legislative bill drafts to implement the recommendations, to the Legislative Council and to the General Assembly meeting in 1984.

Laid over under Rule 25.

(House File 100)

I move to reconsider the vote by which House File 100 passed the House on April 18, 1983.

GROTH of Buena Vista

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 26
By Gruhn and Cochran

Whereas, the present Iowa noxious weed laws include references to several rare or seldom seen weeds, as well as several weeds that are common to almost every area of the state; and

Whereas, Iowa law contains separate provisions regarding noxious weeds and noxious weed seeds; and

Whereas, there is little difference between the treatment of primary and secondary noxious weeds; and

Whereas, some weeds classified as noxious do not pose a serious problem and may tend to discourage the control of weeds which do pose a serious problem; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, The Senate Concurring, That the legislative council is requested to appoint an interim study committee composed of five senate and five house members of the standing committees on agriculture to review Iowa's noxious weed laws with the aid and assistance of an Iowa state university weed specialist.

Laid over under Rule 25.

1. "Assessed valuation" means the determination made by assessors of the valuation of real property, including the valuation of exempt real property.

2. "Excessive assessment" means an entry on an assessment roll of the assessed valuation of real property which exceeds the full value of real property.

3. Real property is "misclassified" if there is:

a. An entry on an assessment roll of an incorrect class designation.

b. An entry on an assessment roll which results in an incorrect allocation of a parcel's assessed valuation between two or more classes.

4. "Tax district" means a county, city, school district, or special district by or on behalf of which a tax or levy is imposed.

5. "Unequal assessment" means an entry on an assessment roll of the assessed valuation of real property which is made at a higher proportionate valuation than the assessed valuation of other real property of the same class on the same roll.

6. "Unlawful assessment" means:

a. An entry on the taxable portion of an assessment roll of the assessed valuation of real property which is wholly exempt from taxation.

b. An entry on an assessment roll of the assessed valuation of real property which is entirely outside the boundaries of the assessing tax district in which the real property is designated as being located.

c. An entry on an assessment roll of the assessed valuation of real property which cannot be identified from the assessment roll description or tax-map land parcel number on the assessment roll.

d. An entry on an assessment roll of the assessed valuation of real property which has been made by a person without the authority to make the entry.

Sec. . NEW SECTION. 602.10102 COMPLAINTS WITH RESPECT TO ASSESSMENTS.

1. Complaints with respect to assessments may be filed with the assessor at any time prior to the hearing of the board of review or with the board of review at the hearing required under section 441.23 or, where authorized by the board, at any adjourned hearing.

2. The grounds for review of an assessment are that the assessment complained of is excessive, unequal, or unlawful, or that real property is misclassified.

3. A complaint with respect to an assessment shall be on a form prescribed by the director of revenue and shall consist of a statement specifying the respect in which the assessment is excessive, unequal, or unlawful, or the respect in which real property is misclassified, and the reduction in assessed valuation or taxable assessed valuation or change in class designation or allocation of assessed valuation sought.

Sec. . NEW SECTION. 602.10103 HEARING AND DETERMINATION OF COMPLAINTS.

1. The board of review shall fix the time and place for a hearing to hear complaints with respect to assessments.

2. At such hearing, the board of review may administer oaths and take testimony in regard to a complaint and the assessment to which it relates.

If not satisfied that the assessment is excessive, unequal, or unlawful, or that real property is misclassified, the board may require the person whose real property is assessed to appear before the board and be examined concerning the complaint, and may produce any papers relating to the assessment.

3. If, at the hearing, a person whose real property is assessed willfully neglects or refuses to attend and be examined, or to answer any questions relevant to the complaint or assessment, that person is not entitled to a reduction of the assessment subject to complaint.

4. The minutes of the examination of every person examined upon the hearing of a complaint shall be taken and filed in the office of the city clerk. The assessor may be heard on any complaint and upon the assessor's request, the assessor's remarks with respect to a complaint shall be recorded in the minutes of the board.

However, the decision of the hearing officer shall not reduce the assessment lower than requested by the petitioner.

2. If the hearing officer determines from the petition and upon the evidence presented at the hearing

JOINT CONVENTION
PIONEER LAWMAKERS
(House Chamber — 1:30 p.m.)

In accordance with House Concurrent Resolution 15, duly adopted, the joint convention was called to order, President Anderson presiding.

President Anderson announced a quorum present and the joint convention duly organized.

Senator Junkins of Lee moved that a committee of four be appointed to escort the Pioneer Lawmakers into the House chamber.

President Anderson presented Senator Charles P. Miller of Des Moines, President pro tempore of the Senate, who welcomed the Pioneer Lawmakers on behalf of the Senate.

President Anderson presented Representative John Connors, Speaker pro tempore of the House of Representatives, who welcomed the Pioneer Lawmakers on behalf of the House.

President Anderson presented the Honorable Eugene Hill who responded to the welcome. Senator Hill announced the legislators who were eligible to become members of the Pioneer Lawmakers and that William J. Petersen "Steamboat Bill," Iowa City, and the Honorable Robert L. Larson, Iowa City, were awarded honorary membership today in the Pioneer Lawmakers Association.

President Anderson then presented the Honorable Terry E. Branstad, Governor of the State of Iowa, who addressed the joint convention as follows preceding his remarks with reminiscences of previous sessions:

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, members of the Senate and House, former Legislators, distinguished guests and ladies and gentlemen:

I last stood before you almost three months to this very day. At that time, I delivered my first budget message to this General Assembly and life hasn't been the same since. I'll assure you right now that I don't plan to mention sales tax in this address.

It is, indeed, an honor to appear before this joint assembly of past and present members of the Iowa General Assembly.

And, I am particularly pleased, that Harold Fischer invited me to address this Forty-Seventh Biennial Session of the Pioneer Lawmakers Association of Iowa. Actually, I was secretly hoping that you might induct me as a member of your association. But I understand the current legislative leaders wanted to wait until the end of the session before judging just how much I really have learned about the legislative process.

I deeply respect this institution, this legislative branch of government. I cut my teeth, so to speak, learning from personal experience about our state government as a member of the House of Representatives for six years. For four years I had the privilege as Lietenant Governor to preside over the Senate.

I understand the frustrations of the legislative process, but I also understand its genius — the genius of a representative government which in this state has for the most part been deliberative and open. The results have generally been a public policy that is responsible to the people.

I firmly believe that having served in the General Assembly will make me a better Governor. There is no place like the Iowa legislature to become familiar with the issues important to Iowans and the operations of our state government.

Thus, as a former member of the General Assembly, I join you in honoring our Pioneer Lawmakers today. Reading your names is like perusing the honor roll of decades of Iowa history. You were the molders of the Iowa we know today — a state well known for open, honest and clean government. You were the public servants who left home and family to come to Des Moines to wrestle and resolve the problems facing our state. You were the solons who built this General Assembly's generally recognized reputation as one of the best legislatures in this country. And for all of that, we thank you.

Your service is not yet complete. You still have a valuable role in Iowa government. For you can reassure current legislators that the problems we face today are not altogether new nor are they insurmountable. You coped with demands for tax relief and pleas for public assistance. You kept the Iowa budget in the black despite variable economic conditions.

You help us to realize that the most complex issues can be understood, the most difficult of compromises can be reached, and the thorniest of problems can be solved.

Most of all you give us perspective to know that we are not the first, nor will we be the last to be in this pressure-cooker of Iowa politics. We are but a part of a continuum of Iowa government, charged with making our state a little bit better by the time we leave. And for that perspective, most of all, we thank you.

There is one honorary member of your association who provided that perspective better than anyone I ever knew. For five decades he roamed these legislative halls, searching for the facts which he reported accurately and fairly to his faithful readers. He loved the process and encouraged Iowans to become involved in it. I am referring, of course, to the late Frank Nye, who passed away just a month ago. We should not leave here without pausing a few moments in honor of this man we all knew, respected and admired. (The joint convention paused for a moment in silence.)

Thank you very much. I look forward to seeing you in 1985.

Norland of Worth moved that the joint convention be now dissolved.

The motion prevailed.

The House reconvened at 2:40 p.m., Speaker Avenson in the chair.

4. Appear for all consumers generally and the public generally in all actions instituted in any state or federal court which involve the validity of a rule, regulation, or order of the Iowa state commerce commission.

5. Act as attorney for and represent all consumers generally and the public generally in proceedings before federal and state agencies and related judicial review proceedings and appeals, at the discretion of the consumer advocate.

6. Appear and participate as a party in the name of the office of consumer advocate in the performance of the duties of the office.

Sec. 9. NEW SECTION. 475A.3 OFFICE—EMPLOYEES-EXPENSES.

1. OFFICE. The office of consumer advocate is at the seat of the government at the same location as the Iowa state commerce commission.

2. EMPLOYEES. The consumer advocate may employ attorneys, legal assistants, secretaries, clerks, and other employees the consumer advocate finds necessary for the full and efficient discharge of the duties and responsibilities of the office. The consumer advocate may employ consultants as expert witnesses or technical advisors pursuant to contract in any proceeding in which the consumer advocate is a party.

3. SALARIES, EXPENSES, AND APPROPRIATION. The salary of the consumer advocate shall be fixed by the general assembly. The salaries of employees of the consumer advocate and the reimbursement of expenses for the employees and the consumer advocate are as provided by law. The appropriation for the office of consumer advocate shall be a separate line item contained in the appropriation for the Iowa state commerce commission.

In establishing salaries and benefits for employees the consumer advocate shall provide for an affirmative action plan which shall be based upon guidelines provided by the Iowa state civil rights commission. In addition, when establishing salaries and benefits the consumer advocate shall not discriminate in the employment or pay between employees on the basis of gender by paying wages to employees at a rate less than the rate at which wages are paid to employees of the opposite gender for work of comparable worth. As used in this section "comparable worth" means the value of work as measured by the composite of the skill, effort, responsibility, and working conditions normally required in the performance of work.

The consumer advocate shall make a report to the legislative council which shall contain a copy of the affirmative action plan adopted and details regarding the manner in which compliance is made for establishing salaries and benefits based on comparable worth. The report shall be made to the legislative council as soon as possible after the effective date of this Act but not later than August 1, 1983, unless the legislative council shall extend the date for making the report.

Sec. 10. NEW SECTION. 475A.4 COMMERCE COMMISSION RECORDS AND EMPLOYEES.

1. The consumer advocate has free access to all the files, records, and documents in the office of the Iowa state commerce commission except:

a. Personal information in confidential personnel records of the commerce commission.

b. Records which represent and constitute the work product of the commerce counsel, and records of confidential communications between commerce commissioners and the commerce counsel, where the records relate to a proceeding before the commerce commission in which the consumer advocate is a party or a proceeding in any state or federal court in which both the commerce commission and the consumer advocate

c. Customer information of a confidential nature which could jeopardize the customer's competitive status and is provided by the utility to the commission. Such correspondence and information shall be provided to the consumer advocate by the commission, if the commission determines it to be in the public interest.

2. The consumer advocate may utilize employees of the commerce commission as expert witnesses or technical advisors in any proceeding in which the consumer advocate is a party. The consumer advocate may utilize employees of the commerce commission to assist in investigations and studies related to rates and services of utilities, as deemed appropriate by the commission. However, any commerce commission employee utilized by the consumer advocate shall not participate on behalf of the commission in its decision.

Sec. 11. NEW SECTION. 475A.5 SERVICE. The consumer advocate is entitled to service of all documents required by statute or rule to be served on parties in proceedings before the Iowa state commerce commission and all notices, petitions, applications, complaints, answers, motions, and other pleadings filed pursuant to statute or rule with the commerce commission.

Sec. 12. NEW SECTION. 475A.6 CERTIFICATION OF EXPENSES TO COMMERCE COMMISSION. The consumer advocate shall determine the advocate's expenses, including a reasonable allocation of general office expenses, directly attributable to participation in proceedings involving specific utilities, and shall certify the expenses to the Iowa state commerce commission not less than quarterly. The expenses shall then be includable in the expenses of the commerce commission subject to direct assessment under section 476.10.

The consumer advocate shall annually, within ninety days after the close of each fiscal year, determine the advocate's expenses, including a reasonable allocation of general office expenses, attributable to participation in proceedings involving public utilities generally, and shall certify the expenses to the commerce commission. The expenses shall then be includable in the expenses of the commission subject to remainder assessment under section 476.10.

The consumer advocate is entitled to notice and opportunity to be heard in any commerce commission proceeding on objection to an assessment for expenses certified by the consumer advocate. Expenses assessed under this section shall not exceed the amount appropriated for the office of consumer advocate.

Sec. 13. NEW SECTION. 475A.7 CONSUMER ADVISORY PANEL. The governor shall appoint nine members to a consumer advisory panel to meet at the request of the consumer advocate for consultation regarding public utility regulation. A member shall be appointed from each congressional district with the appointee residing within the congressional district at the time of appointment. The remaining appointees shall be members at large. The members shall serve four-year terms at the pleasure of the governor and their appointments are not subject to confirmation. The governor shall fill a vacancy in the same manner as the original appointment for the unexpired portion of the member's term. Members of the consumer advisory panel shall serve without compensation, but shall be reimbursed for actual expenses from funds appropriated to the office of consumer advocate.

Sec. 14. Section 476.1, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new unnumbered paragraph:

NEW UNNUMBERED PARAGRAPH. The jurisdiction of the commission as to the regulation of communications services is not applicable to a service or facility provided by a telephone utility that is or becomes subject to competition, as determined by the commission. In determining whether a service or facility is or becomes subject to competition, the commission shall consider whether a comparable service or facility is available from a supplier other than the telephone utility. When a service or facility provided by a telephone utility becomes subject to competition, the commission shall, within a reasonable period of time, deregulate that service or facility. Upon deregulation, all investment, revenues, and expenses associated with the service or facility shall be removed from the telephone utility's regulated operations and shall not be considered by the commission in setting rates for the telephone utility unless they continue to affect the company's regulated operations. In the event that the commission considers investment, revenues, and expenses associated with unregulated services or facilities in setting rates for the telephone utility, the commission shall not use any profits or costs from such unregulated services or facilities to determine the rates for regulated services or facilities. Nothing in this section shall preclude the commission from considering the investment, revenues and expenses associated with the sale of classified directory advertising by a telephone utility in determining rates for the telephone utility.

Sec. 15. Section 476.1, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new unnumbered paragraph:

NEW UNNUMBERED PARAGRAPH. As used in this chapter, "commission" or "commerce commission" means the Iowa state commerce commission.

Sec. 16. Section 476.3, subsection 1, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

1. ~~Every~~ A public utility shall furnish reasonably adequate service at rates and charges in accordance with tariffs filed with the commission. When there is filed with the commission by any person or body politic, or filed by the commission upon its own motion, a written complaint requesting the commission to determine the reasonableness of the rates, charges, schedules, service, regulations, or anything done or omitted to be done by ~~any~~ a public utility subject to this chapter in contravention of ~~the provisions of~~ this chapter, the written complaint shall be forwarded by the commission to the public utility, which shall be called upon to satisfy the complaint or to answer it in writing within a reasonable time to be specified by the commission. Copies of the written complaint forwarded by the commission to the public utility and copies of all correspondence from the public utility in response to the complaint shall be provided by the commission in an expeditious manner to the consumer advocate. If ~~the public utility does not satisfy~~ the commission ~~with respect to the complaint within the time specified~~ determines the public utility's response is inadequate and there appears to be any reasonable ground for investigating the complaint, the commission shall promptly initiate a formal proceeding. If the consumer advocate determines the public utility's response to the complaint is inadequate, the consumer advocate may file a petition with the commission which shall promptly initiate a formal proceeding if the commission determines that there is any reasonable ground for investigating the complaint. The formal proceeding may be initiated at any time by the commission on its own motion. If a proceeding is initiated upon ~~application or~~ petition filed by the consumer advocate or upon the commission's own motion, the commission shall set the case for hearing and give notice as it deems appropriate. When the commission, after a hearing held after reasonable notice, finds ~~any~~ a public utility's rates, charges, schedules, service, or regulations are unjust, unreasonable, discriminatory, or otherwise in violation of any provision of law, the commission shall determine just, reasonable, and nondiscriminatory rates, charges, schedules, service, or regulations to be observed and enforced.

Sec. 17. Section 476.3, subsection 2, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

2. If, as a result of ~~either~~ a review procedure conducted under section 476.31, ~~or~~ a review conducted under section 476.32, a special audit, an investigation by commission staff, or an investigation by the consumer advocate, a complaint is filed by commission staff, or a petition is filed with the commission by the consumer advocate, alleging that a utility's rates are excessive, the disputed amount shall be specified in the complaint or petition. The public utility shall, within the time prescribed by the commission, file a bond or undertaking approved by the commission conditioned upon the refund in a manner prescribed by the commission of amounts collected after the date of filing of the complaint or petition in excess of rates or charges finally determined by the commission to be lawful. If upon hearing the commission finds that the utility's rates are unlawful, the commission shall order a refund, with interest, of amounts collected after the date of filing of the complaint that are determined to be in excess of the amounts which would have been collected under the rates finally approved~~, provided that~~. However, the commission shall not order a refund that is greater than the amount specified in the complaint, plus interest, and provided that if the commission fails to render a decision within ~~one hundred eighty days~~ ten months following the date of filing of the complaint or petition, the commission shall not order a refund of any excess amounts that are collected after the expiration of that ~~one hundred eighty-day~~ ten-month period and prior to the date the decision is rendered.

Sec. 18. Section 476.6, subsections 1 and 5, Code 1983, are amended to read as follows:

1. FILING WITH COMMISSION. A public utility subject to rate regulation shall not make effective ~~any~~ a new or changed rate, charge, schedule or regulation ~~except by filing it with the commission at least thirty days prior to its effective date~~ until the rate, charge, schedule, or regulation has been approved by the commission, except as provided in subsections 11 and 13. ~~The commission, for good cause shown, may allow changes in rates, charges, schedules~~

~~or regulations to become effective on less than thirty days' notice.~~

PARAGRAPH DIVIDED. ~~Any~~ A subscriber of a telephone exchange or service, who is declared to be legally blind under section 422.12, subsection 1, paragraph "e", is exempt from any charges for telephone directory assistance that may be approved by the commerce commission.

5. WRITTEN NOTICE OF INCREASE. All public utilities, ~~including~~ except those exempted from rate regulation by ~~the provisions of~~ section 476.1, shall give written notice of ~~any~~ a proposed increase of any rate or charge to all affected customers served by the public utility ~~at least thirty days prior to the effective date thereof~~ no more than sixty-two days prior to and prior to the time the application for the increase is filed with the commission. Public utilities exempted from rate regulation by section 476.1 shall give written notice of a proposed increase of any rate or charge to all affected customers served by the public utility at least thirty days prior to the effective date of the increase. If the public utility is subject to rate regulation, the notice to affected customers shall also state that the customer has a right to file a written objection to ~~such~~ the rate increase and that ~~he~~ the affected customers may request the commission to hold a public hearing to determine if ~~such~~ the rate increase should be allowed. The commission shall prescribe the manner and method that the written notice to each affected customer of the public utility shall be served.

Sec. 19. Section 476.6, subsections 6, 7, 8, 9, and 10, Code 1983, are amended by striking the subsections and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

6. FACTS AND ARGUMENTS SUBMITTED. At the time a public utility subject to rate regulation files with the commission an application for any new or changed rates, charges, schedules, or regulations, the public utility also shall submit factual evidence and written argument offered in support of the filing. If the filing is an application for a general rate increase, the utility shall also file affidavits containing testimonial evidence to be offered in support of the filing, although this requirement does not apply if the public utility is a rural electric cooperative.

7. HEARING SET. After the filing of an application for new or changed rates, charges, schedules, or regulations by a public utility subject to rate regulation, the commission, prior to the expiration of thirty days after the filing date, shall docket the case as a formal proceeding and set the case for hearing unless the new or changed rates, charges, schedules, or regulations are approved by the commission. In the case of a rural electric cooperative, the commission may docket the case as a formal proceeding and set the case for hearing prior to the proposed effective date of the tariff. The commission shall give notice of formal proceedings as it deems appropriate. The docketing of a case as a formal proceeding suspends the effective date of the new or changed rates, charges, schedules, or regulations until the rates, charges, schedules, or regulations are approved by the commission, except as provided in subsection 13.

8. UTILITY HEARING EXPENSES REPORTED. When a case has been docketed as a formal proceeding under subsection 7, the public utility, within a reasonable time thereafter, shall file with the commission a report outlining the utility's expected expenses for litigating the case through the time period allowed by the commission in rendering a decision. As part of the findings of the commission under subsection 9, the commission shall allow recovery of costs of the litigation expenses over a reasonable period of time to the extent the commission deems the expenses reasonable and just.

9. FINDING BY COMMISSION. If, after hearing and decision on all issues presented for determination in the rate proceeding, the commission finds the proposed rates, charges, schedules, or regulations of the utility to be unlawful, the commission shall by order authorize and direct the utility to file new or changed rates, charges, schedules, or regulations which, when approved by the commission and placed in effect, will satisfy the requirements of this chapter. The rates, charges, schedules, or regulations so approved are lawful and effective upon their approval.

10. LIMITATION ON FILINGS. A public utility shall not make a subsequent filing of an application for a new or changed rate, charge, schedule, or regulation which relates to services for which a rate filing is pending within twelve months following the date the prior application was filed or until the commission has issued a final order on the prior application, whichever date is earlier, unless the public utility applies to the commission for authority and receives authority to make a subsequent filing at an earlier

Sec. 20. Section 476.6, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new subsection:

NEW SUBSECTION. 11. AUTOMATIC ADJUSTMENTS PERMITTED. This chapter does not prohibit a public utility from making provision for the automatic adjustment of rates and charges for public utility service provided that a schedule showing the automatic adjustment of rates and charges is first filed with the commission.

If an automatic adjustment is used, the adjustment must be reduced to zero at least once in every twelve-month period, and all appropriate charges collected by the automatic adjustment shall be incorporated in the utility's other rates at that time.

Sec. 21. Section 476.6, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new subsection:

NEW SUBSECTION. 12. RATE LEVELS FOR TELEPHONE UTILITIES. The commission may approve a schedule of rate levels for any regulated service provided by a utility providing communication services.

Sec. 22. Section 476.6, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new subsection:

NEW SUBSECTION. 13. TEMPORARY AUTHORITY. Upon the request of a public utility, the commission shall, when required by this subsection, grant the public utility temporary authority to place in effect any or all of the suspended rates, charges, schedules or regulations by filing with the commission a bond or other undertaking approved by the commission conditioned upon the refund in a manner to be prescribed by the commission of any amounts collected in excess of the amounts which would have been collected under rates, charges, schedules or regulations finally approved by the commission. In determining that portion of the new or changed rates, charges, schedules or regulations to be placed in effect prior to a final decision, the commission shall apply previously established regulatory principles and shall, at a minimum, permit rates and charges which will allow the utility the opportunity to earn a return on common stock equity equal to that which the commission held reasonable and just in the most recent rate case involving the same utility or the same type of utility service, provided that if the most recent final decision of the commission in an applicable rate case was rendered more than twelve months prior to the date of filing of the request for temporary rates, the commission shall in addition consider financial market data that is filed or that is otherwise available to the commission and shall adjust the rate of return on common stock equity that was approved in that decision upward or downward as necessary to reflect current conditions. The commission shall render a decision on a request for temporary authority within ninety days after the date of filing of the request. The decision shall be effective immediately. If the commission has not rendered a final decision with respect to suspended rates, charges, schedules or regulations upon the expiration of ten months after the filing date, plus the length of any delay that necessarily results either from the failure of the public utility to exercise due diligence in connection with the proceedings or from intervening judicial proceedings, plus the length of any extension permitted by section 476.33, subsection 3, then those portions that were approved by the commission on a temporary basis shall be deemed finally approved by the commission and the utility may place them into effect on a permanent basis, and the utility also may place into effect subject to refund and until the final decision of the commission any portion of the suspended rates, charges, schedules or regulations not previously approved on a temporary basis by filing with the commission a bond or other undertaking approved by the commission.

If the commission finds that an extension of the ten-month period is necessary to permit the accumulation of necessary data with respect to the operation of a newly constructed electric generating facility that has a capacity of one hundred megawatts or more of electricity and that is proposed to be included in the rate base for the first time, the commission may extend the ten-month period up to a maximum extension of six months, but only with respect to that portion of the suspended rates, charges, schedules or regulations that are necessarily connected with the inclusion of the generating facility in the rate base. If a utility is proposing to include in its rate base for the first time a newly constructed electric generating facility that has a capacity of one hundred megawatts or more of electricity, the filing date of new or changed rates, charges, schedules or regulations shall, for purposes of computing the ninety-day and ten-month limitations stated above, be the date as determined by the commission that the new plant went into service, but only with respect to that portion of the suspended rates, charges, schedules or regulations that are necessarily connected.

with the inclusion of the generating facility in the rate base.

The commission shall determine the rate of interest to be paid by a public utility to persons receiving refunds. The interest rate to be applied to refunds of moneys collected subject to refund under this subsection is two percent per annum plus the average quarterly interest rate at commercial banks for twenty-four-month loans for personal expenditures, as determined by the commission, compounded annually. The commission shall consider federal reserve statistical release G.19 or its equivalent when determining interest to be paid under this subsection.

Sec. 23. Section 476.6, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new subsection:

NEW SUBSECTION. 14. REFUNDS PASSED ON TO CUSTOMERS. If pursuant to federal law or rule a rate-regulated public utility furnishing gas to customers in the state receives a refund or credit for past gas purchases, the savings shall be passed on to the customers in a manner approved by the commission. Similarly, if pursuant to federal law or rule a rate-regulated public utility furnishing gas to customers in the state receives a rate for future gas purchases which is lower than the price included in the public utility's approved rate application, the savings shall be passed on to the customers in a manner approved by the commission.

Sec. 24. Section 476.6, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new subsection:

NEW SUBSECTION. 15. NATURAL GAS SUPPLY AND COST REVIEW. The commerce commission shall periodically, but not less than annually, conduct a proceeding for the purpose of evaluating the reasonableness and prudence of a rate-regulated public utility's natural gas procurement and contracting practices. The natural gas supply and cost review shall be conducted as a contested case pursuant to chapter 17A.

Under procedures established by the commerce commission, each rate-regulated public utility furnishing gas shall periodically file a complete natural gas procurement plan describing the expected sources and volumes of its gas supply and changes in the cost of gas anticipated over a future twelve-month period specified by the commission. The plan shall describe all major contracts and gas supply arrangements entered into by the utility for obtaining gas during the specified twelve-month period. The description of the major contracts and arrangements shall include the price of gas, the duration of the contract or arrangement, and an explanation or description of any other term or provision as required by the commission. The plan shall also include the utility's evaluation of the reasonableness and prudence of its decisions to obtain gas in the manner described in the plan, an explanation of the legal and regulatory actions taken by the utility to minimize the cost of gas purchased by the utility, and such other information as the commission may require.

Contemporaneously with the natural gas procurement plan, the public utility shall file with the commission a five-year forecast of the gas requirement of its customers, its anticipated sources of supply, and projections of gas costs. The forecast shall include a description of all relevant major contracts and gas supply arrangements entered into or contemplated between the gas utility and its suppliers, a description of all major gas supply arrangements which the gas utility knows have been, or expects will be, entered into between the utility's principal pipeline suppliers and their major sources of gas, and such other information as the commission may require.

During the natural gas supply and cost review, the commission shall evaluate the reasonableness and prudence of the gas procurement plan. In evaluating the gas procurement plan, the commission shall consider the volume, cost, and reliability of the major alternative gas supplies available to the utility; the cost of alternative fuels available to the utility's customers; the availability of gas in storage; the appropriate legal and regulatory actions which the utility could take to minimize the cost of purchased gas; the gas procurement practices of the utility; and other relevant factors. If a utility is not taking all reasonable actions to minimize its purchase gas costs, consistent with assuring an adequate long-term supply of natural gas, the commission shall not allow the utility to recover from its customers purchase gas costs in excess of those costs that would be incurred under reasonable and prudent policies and practices.

The commission shall also evaluate the five-year forecast filed by the public utility. The commission may indicate any cost items in the five-year forecast that on the basis of present evidence in the record the commission would be unlikely to permit the utility to recover from its customers in rates, charges or purchased gas clauses established in the future. Nothing in this section prohibits the commission from disallowing the recovery of other related or unrelated costs on the basis of evidence received in a later contested case proceeding.

The commission shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A to implement the provisions of this section prior to January 1, 1984.

Sec. 25. Section 476.6, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new subsection:

NEW SUBSECTION. 16. ANNUAL ELECTRIC ENERGY SUPPLY AND COST REVIEW. The commerce commission shall conduct an annual proceeding for the purpose of evaluating the reasonableness and prudence of a rate-regulated public utility's procurement and contracting practices related to the acquisition of fuel for use in generating electricity. The proceeding shall be conducted as a contested case pursuant to chapter 17A. Under procedures established by the commerce commission, the utility shall file information as the commission deems appropriate. If a utility is not taking all reasonable actions to minimize its fuel costs, the commission shall not allow the utility to recover from its customers fuel costs in excess of those costs that would be incurred under reasonable and prudent policies and practices.

Contemporaneously with the annual review proceeding, the commission shall analyze the electric generating capacity needs for the next decade by the public utility's customers, under procedures established by the commission. The utility shall file information regarding future capacity needs of its customers as deemed appropriate by the commission.

Sec. 26. Section 476.8, unnumbered paragraph 1, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

Every public utility is required to furnish reasonably adequate service and facilities. "Reasonably adequate service and facilities" for public utilities furnishing gas or electricity includes programs for customers to encourage the use of energy conservation and renewable energy sources. The charge made by any public utility for any heat, light, gas, energy conservation and renewable energy programs, water or power produced, transmitted, delivered or furnished, or communications services, or for any service rendered or to be rendered in connection therewith shall be reasonable and just, and every unjust or unreasonable charge for such service is prohibited and declared unlawful. In determining reasonable and just rates, the commission shall consider all factors relating to value and shall not be bound by rate base decisions or rulings made prior to the adoption of this chapter.

Sec. 27. Section 476.10, unnumbered paragraphs 1 and 2, Code 1983, are amended to read as follows:

~~Whenever~~ When the commission ~~shall deem~~ deems it necessary in order to carry out the duties imposed upon it by this chapter for the purpose of determining rate matters to investigate the books, accounts, practices, and activities of, or make appraisals of the property of any public utility, or to render any engineering or accounting services to any public utility, ~~such~~ or to review the operations or annual reports of the public utility under section 476.31 or 476.32, the public utility shall pay the expense reasonably attributable to ~~such~~ the investigation, appraisal, ~~or~~ service, or review. The commission shall ascertain ~~such~~ the expenses including certified expenses incurred by the office of consumer advocate directly chargeable to the public utility under section 475A.6, and shall render a bill ~~therefor~~, by certified mail, to the public utility, either at the conclusion of the investigation, appraisal, ~~or~~ services, or review, or from time to time during its progress, which bill ~~shall constitute~~ is notice of ~~said~~ the assessment and shall demand payment ~~thereof~~. The total amount of such expense in any one calendar year, for which any public utility shall become liable, shall not exceed two-tenths of one percent of its gross operating revenues derived from intrastate public utility operations in the last preceding calendar year.

The commission shall ascertain the total of its expenditures during each year which are reasonably attributable to the performance of its duties under this chapter ~~and~~. The commission shall add to this total the certified expenses of the consumer advocate as provided under section 475A.6 and shall deduct ~~therefrom~~ all amounts chargeable directly to any specific utility under any law. The remainder shall be assessed by the commission to the ~~several~~ public utilities in proportion to their respective gross operating revenues during the last calendar year derived from intrastate public utility operations and shall be assessed within ninety days of the close of the calendar year based upon an estimate of the commission expenditures for the first half of the commission's fiscal year and again within ninety days of the close of the fiscal year as necessary to conform the amount of the assessment to the requirements of this section. Public utilities exempt from rate regulation under this chapter shall not be assessed for remainder expenses incurred during review of rate-regulated public utilities under section 476.31 or 476.32, but such remainder expenses shall be assessed proportionally as provided in this section among only the rate-regulated public utilities. The total amount which may be assessed to the public utilities under authority of this paragraph shall not exceed ~~one-tenth~~ two-tenths of one percent of the total gross operating revenues of ~~such~~ the public utilities during ~~such~~ the calendar year derived from intrastate public utility operations. However, the total amount which may be assessed in any one calendar year to a public utility under this section shall not exceed three-tenths of one percent of the utility's total gross operating revenues derived from intrastate public utility operation in the last preceding year. For public utilities exempted from rate regulation under this chapter, the assessments under this paragraph shall be computed at one-half the rate used in computing the assessment for other utilities.

Sec. 28. Section 476.13, Code 1983, is amended by striking the section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

476.13 JUDICIAL REVIEW.

1. Notwithstanding the Iowa administrative procedure Act, the district court for Polk county or for the county in which a public utility maintains its principal place of business has exclusive venue for the judicial review under chapter 17A of actions of the commission pursuant to rate-regulatory powers over that public utility.

2. Upon the filing of a petition for judicial review in an action referred to in subsection 1, the clerk of the district court shall notify the chief justice of the supreme court for purposes of assignment of a district judge under section 602.23. The judicial review proceeding shall be heard by the district judge appointed by the supreme court under section 602.23, but in the county of venue under subsection 1.

3. Notwithstanding the Iowa administrative procedure Act, if a public utility seeks judicial review of an order approving rates for the public utility, the level of rates that may be collected, under bond and subject to refund, while the appeal is pending shall be limited to the level of the temporary rates set by the commission, or the level of the final rates set by the commission, whichever is greater. During the period the judicial review proceeding is pending, the commission shall retain jurisdiction to determine the rate of interest to be paid on any refunds eventually required on rates collected during judicial review.

Sec. 29. NEW SECTION. 476.18 IMPERMISSIBLE CHARGES.

1. Public utilities subject to rate regulation are prohibited from including either directly or indirectly in their charges or rates to customers the costs of lobbying.

2. Legal costs and attorney fees incurred by a public utility subject to rate regulation in an appeal in state or federal court involving the validity of any action of the commission shall not be included either directly or indirectly in the public utility's charges or rates to customers except to the extent that recovery of legal costs and attorney fees is allowed by the commission. The commission shall allow a public utility to recover reasonable legal costs and attorney fees incurred in the appeal. The commission may consider the degree of success of the legal arguments of the public utility in determining the reasonable legal costs and attorney fees to be allowed.

3. Except when required by the commerce commission or by other state or federal regulation, the costs of advertising in the following categories by public utilities subject to rate regulation shall not be included directly or indirectly in charges or rates to customers:

a. Political advertising expense which includes the cost of labor, materials used, and expenses incurred in advertising whether on a national, regional, or local basis, if the advertising is designed to influence public opinion with respect to the election or appointment of public officials or the adoption, repeal, revocation, or modification of referenda, legislation, or ordinances. This category also includes expenditures for influencing the decisions of public officials except for those expenditures which are directly related to appearances before regulatory or other governmental bodies in connection with the utility's existing or proposed operations.

b. Promotional advertising expense which includes the cost of labor, materials used, and expenses incurred in advertising designed to promote or retain the use of utility service.

c. Institutional or goodwill advertising expense which includes the cost of labor, materials used, and expenses incurred in advertising which is designed to create, enhance, or sustain the utility's image or goodwill to the general public or its customers.

d. Rate justification advertising expense which includes the cost of labor, materials used, and expenses incurred in advertising, whether on a regional or local basis which is designed to promote public acceptance of utility rate increases or the utility's filed rates. This category also includes all costs incurred by the utility for advertising in opposition to a decision of the regulatory agency. However, the expenses associated with simply informing customers that new rates have been requested may be included in charges, if permitted by the commission.

4. This section does not apply to a rural electric cooperative.

Sec. 30. Section 476.20, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

476.20 CUSTOMER PAYMENTS, ABANDONMENT AND TERMINATION OF SERVICE—DEPOSITS.

1. ~~No~~ A utility shall not, except in cases of emergency, discontinue, reduce, or impair service to a community, or a part of a community, except for nonpayment of account or violation of rules and regulations, unless and until ~~there shall have been first~~ permission to do so is obtained from the commission ~~permission to do so~~.

2. The commerce commission shall establish rules requiring a regulated public utility furnishing gas or electricity to include in the utility's notice of pending disconnection of service a written statement advising the customer that the customer may be eligible to participate in the low income home energy assistance program or weatherization assistance program administered by the energy policy council. The written statement shall also state that the customer is advised to contact the public utility to settle any of the customer's complaints with the public utility, but if a complaint is not settled to the customer's satisfaction, the customer may file the complaint with the commerce commission. The written statement shall include the address and phone number of the commerce commission. The commerce commission shall establish rules requiring that the written notice contain such additional information as it deems necessary and appropriate.

3. The commerce commission shall establish rules which shall be uniform with respect to all public utilities furnishing gas or electricity relating to disconnection of service.

4. A public utility which violates a provision of this section relating to the disconnection of service or which violates a rule of the commerce

The deposit for a residence which has previously received service shall not be greater than the highest billing of service for two consecutive months to the residence in the previous twelve-month period. This subsection does not prohibit a public utility from requiring payment of a customer's past due account with the utility prior to reinstatement of service.

Sec. 31. Section 476.33, subsection 1, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

1. The commission shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A to provide for the completion of proceedings under section 476.3 within ~~one hundred eighty days~~ ten months after the date of the filing of a complaint or petition under section 476.3, subsection 2, and to provide for the completion of proceedings under section 476.6 within ten months after the date of filing of the new or changed rates, charges, schedules or regulations under that section. These rules shall include reasonable time limitations for the submission or completion of comments and testimony, and exhibits, briefs and hearings, and may provide for the granting of additional time upon the request of a party to the proceeding or commission staff for good cause shown.

Sec. 32. Section 476.33, subsection 3, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

3. If in a proceeding under section 476.6 additional time is granted to a party or commission staff under subsection 1, the commission may extend the ten-month period during which a utility is prohibited from placing its entire rate increase request into effect under section 476.6, but an extension shall not exceed ~~one-half of~~ the aggregate amount of all additional time granted under subsection 1.

Sec. 33. NEW SECTION. 476.35 CIVIL PENALTY.

A public utility which willfully violates a provision of this chapter, a rule adopted by the commission, or a provision of an order lawfully issued by the commission, is subject to a civil penalty, which may be levied by the commission, of not more than one hundred dollars per violation or one thousand dollars per day of a continuing violation, whichever is greater. Civil penalties collected pursuant to this section shall be forwarded by the executive secretary of the commission to the treasurer of state to be credited to the energy research and development fund and to be used only for the low income home energy assistance program and the weatherization assistance program administered by the energy policy council. Penalties paid by a rate-regulated public utility pursuant to this section shall be excluded from the utility's costs when determining the utility's revenue requirement, and shall not be included either directly or indirectly in the utility's rates or charges to customers.

Sec. 34. NEW SECTION. 476.36 MANAGEMENT EFFICIENCY. It is the policy of this state that a public utility shall operate in an efficient manner. The commission may adopt rules establishing a method for an analysis of a utility's management efficiency.

Sec. 35. NEW SECTION. 476.37 EXCESS CAPACITY. The commerce commission shall not allow a return on common equity on that portion of a public utility's electric generating capacity which is determined to be excess electric generating capacity. Excess electric generating capacity is that portion of the public utility's electric generating capacity which exceeds the amount reasonably necessary to provide adequate and reliable service as determined by the commission.

Electric generating capacity sold pursuant to the terms of contracts entered into between June 28, 1978 and June 30, 1978 for power delivered on or before May 1, 1983 to May 1, 1993, shall not be included in the determination of excess electric generating capacity.

Electric generating capacity purchased from qualifying cogeneration and small power production facilities shall not be included in the determination of excess electric generating capacity.

Sec. 36. NEW SECTION. 476.38 DELAYED PAYMENT CHARGES. A public utility shall not apply delayed payment charges on a customer's account if the scheduled payment was made by the customer within twenty days from the date the billing was sent to the customer.

Sec. 37. NEW SECTION. 476.39 COMPLAINT OF ANTITRUST ACTIVITIES. An application for new or changed rates, charges, schedules or regulations filed under this chapter, or an application for a certificate or an amendment to a certificate submitted under chapter 476A, by an electric transmission line utility or a gas pipeline utility or a subsidiary of either shall not be approved by the commerce commission if, upon complaint by an Iowa electric or gas utility, the commission finds activities which create or maintain a situation inconsistent with antitrust laws and the policies which underlie them. The commission may grant the rate or facility certification request once it determines that those activities which led to the antitrust complaint have been eliminated. However, this subsection does not apply to an application for new or changed rates, charges, schedules or regulations after the expiration of the ten-month limitation and applicable extensions.

Sec. 38. Section 476A.6, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

476A.6 DECISION—CRITERIA. The commission shall render a decision on the application in an expeditious manner. A certificate shall be issued to the applicant if the commission finds ~~that~~ all of the following:

As used in this subsection, a "comprehensive energy management program" includes at a minimum the following:

a. Establishment of load management and interruptible service programs, where cost effective.

b. Development of wheeling agreements and other energy sharing agreements, where cost effective with utilities that have available capacity.

c. Establishment of cost-effective energy conservation and renewable energy services and

Sec. 39. NEW SECTION. 476A.15 ENERGY SHARING AGREEMENTS.

Before a certificate is issued under section 476A.6, the public utility shall demonstrate to the commission that the utility has considered sources for long term electric supply from either purchase of electricity or investment in facilities owned by other utilities.

" "Sec. . Section 804.21, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new subsection:

NEW SUBSECTION. When the court is not in session, a person arrested and placed in jail may be released on the person's own recognizance with or without other conditions, by the verbal or written order of a judge or magistrate. The verbal order may be communicated by telephone. The judge or magistrate may issue such order of release only upon the request of an attorney or person believed by the judge or magistrate to be reliable.

Sec. . Section 805.1, Code 1983, as amended by 1983 Iowa Acts, Senate File 334, section 5, is amended by striking the section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

805.1 WHEN POLICE CITATION MAY ISSUE.

1. Except for an offense for which an accused would not be eligible for bail under section 811.1, a peace officer having grounds to make an arrest may issue a citation in lieu of making an arrest without a warrant or, if a warrantless arrest has been made, a citation may be issued in lieu of continued custody.

2. The citation procedure for traffic and other violations designated as scheduled violations is governed by sections 805.6 through 805.15.

3. a. State and local law enforcement agencies in the state of Iowa may cooperate to formulate uniform guidelines that will provide for the maximum possible use of citations in lieu of arrest and in lieu of continued custody for offenses for which citations are authorized. These guidelines shall be submitted to the Iowa law enforcement academy council for review. The Iowa law enforcement academy council shall then submit recommendations to the general assembly no later than January 1, 1984.

b. Factors to be considered by the agencies in formulating the guidelines relating to the issuance of citations for simple misdemeanors not governed by subsection 2, shall include but shall not be limited to all of the following:

(6) Whether a person has previously failed to

c. Additional factors to be considered in the formulation of guidelines relating to the issuance of citations for other offenses for which citations are authorized shall include but shall not be limited to all of the following concerning the person:

(2) Family relationships.

(3) References.

(4) Present and past employment.

(5) Criminal record.

(6) Nature and circumstances of the alleged offense.

(7) Other facts relevant to the likelihood of the person's response to a citation.

4. The issuance of a citation in lieu of arrest or in lieu of continued custody does not affect the officer's authority to conduct an otherwise lawful search. The issuance of a citation in lieu of arrest shall be deemed an arrest for the purpose of the speedy indictment requirements of R.Cr.P. section 27, subsection 2, paragraph a, Ia. Ct. Rules, 2d ed.

5. Even if a citation is issued, the officer may take the cited person to an appropriate medical facility if it reasonably appears that the person needs care.

6. When a citation is not issued for an offense for which a citation is authorized, the arrested person may be released pending initial appearance on bail or on other conditions determined by pretrial release guidelines. When an arrested person furnishes bail, the officer then in charge of the place of detention shall secure it in safekeeping and shall see that it is forwarded to the office of the clerk of court during the clerk's next regular business day.

7. When the offense is one for which a citation is not authorized, the person does not qualify for

3. PARTIAL UNEMPLOYMENT. An individual who is partially unemployed in any week as defined in section 96.19, subsection 9, paragraph "b", and who meets the conditions of eligibility for benefits shall be paid with respect to that week an amount equal to the individual's weekly benefit amount less that part of wages payable to the individual with respect to that week in excess of one-fourth of the individual's weekly benefit amount. ~~Such~~ The benefits shall be rounded to the ~~higher~~ lower multiple of one dollar.

Sec. 2. Section 96.3, subsection 4, unnumbered paragraph 1, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

With respect to benefit years beginning on or after July 1, 1979, an eligible individual's weekly benefit amount for a week of total unemployment shall be an amount equal to the following fractions of the individual's total wages in insured work paid during that quarter of the individual's base period in which such total wages were highest; the director shall determine annually a maximum weekly benefit amount equal to the following percentages, to vary with the number of dependents, of the statewide average weekly wage paid to employees in insured work which shall be effective the first day of the first full week in July:

If the number of dependents is:	The weekly benefit amount shall equal the following fraction of high quarter wages:	Subject to the following maximum percentage of the statewide average weekly wage:

Sec. 3. Notwithstanding the annual recomputation of the statewide average weekly wage required by section 96.3, subsection 4, the maximum weekly benefit amounts for benefit claims effectively filed during the period beginning July 3, 1983, and ending July 6, 1985, shall be determined using the statewide average weekly wage computed on the basis of wages reported during calendar year 1981.

Sec. 4. Section 96.3, subsection 5, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

5. DURATION OF BENEFITS. The maximum total amount of benefits payable to any eligible individual during any benefit year shall not exceed the total of the wage credits accrued to the individual's account during the individual's base period, or twenty-six times the individual's weekly benefit amount, whichever is the lesser. However, the maximum total amount of benefits payable during an individual's benefit year shall be decreased by five times the individual's weekly benefit amount if the individual is disqualified for benefits due to a discharge for misconduct, or due to voluntarily quitting work without good cause attributable to the employer, and requalifies for benefits pursuant to section 96.5, subsection 1, paragraph g, or subsection 2, paragraph a, except that the maximum total amount of benefits of an individual disqualified due to a voluntary quit shall not be decreased under this subsection below one times the individual's weekly benefit amount. The director shall maintain a separate account for each individual who earns wages in insured work. The director shall compute wage credits for each individual by crediting the individual's account with one-third of the wages for insured work paid to the individual during the individual's base period. However, the director shall recompute wage credits for an individual who is laid off due to the individual's employer going out of business at the factory, establishment, or other premises at which the individual was last employed, by crediting the individual's account with one-half, instead of one-third, of the wages for insured work paid to the individual during the individual's base period. Benefits paid to an eligible individual shall be charged against the base period wage credits in the individual's account which have not been previously charged hereunder, in the inverse chronological order as the wages on which such wage credits are based were paid. However if the state ~~and national "off indicators" are~~ "off" indicator is in effect and if the individual is laid off due to the individual's employer going out of business at the factory, establishment, or other premises at which the individual was last employed, the maximum benefits payable shall be extended to thirty-nine times the individual's weekly benefit amount, but not to exceed the total of the wage credits accrued to the individual's account.

Sec. 5. Section 96.4, subsection 4, unnumbered paragraph 1, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

The individual has been paid wages for insured work during the individual's base period in an amount at least one and ~~one-quarter~~ one-half times the wages paid to the individual during that quarter of the individual's base period in which the individual's wages were highest; provided that the individual has been paid wages for insured work ~~of not less than four hundred dollars~~ totaling at least three and five-tenths percent of the statewide average annual wage for insured work, computed for the preceding calendar year if the individual's benefit year begins on or after the first full week in July and computed for the second preceding calendar year if the individual's benefit year begins before the first full week in July, in that calendar quarter in the individual's base period in which the individual's wages were highest, and the individual has been paid wages for insured work ~~of not less than two hundred dollars~~ totaling at least one-half of the amount of wages required under this subsection in the calendar quarter of the base period in which the individual's wages were highest, in a calendar quarter in the individual's base period other than the calendar quarter in which the individual's wages were highest.

Sec. 6. Section 96.4, subsection 5, paragraph c, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

academic years or terms. If benefits are denied to an individual for any week as a result of this paragraph and the individual is not offered an opportunity to perform such services for the educational institution for the second of such academic years or terms, the individual is entitled to a retroactive payment of benefits for each week for which the individual filed a timely claim for benefits and for which benefits were denied solely by reason of this paragraph.

Sec. 7. Section 96.4, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new subsection:

NEW SUBSECTION. The individual has satisfied one one-week waiting period during the individual's benefit year. To satisfy the one-week waiting period, the individual, with respect to the week in question, must be unemployed, have filed a claim for benefits, and be eligible for benefits from this state, but must not have received benefits from this or another state, and must not be eligible for benefits from another state.

Sec. 8. Section 96.7, subsection 3, paragraph d, unnumbered paragraph 6, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

~~However, notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter relating to the applicable contribution rate table for a calendar year, the applicable contribution rate table for the calendar years 1982 and 1983 is table three unless the ratio of the current reserve fund ratio to the highest benefit cost rate on the rate computation date is 1.0 or higher.~~ During any rate year in which a rate table in rate tables three through nine is effective an employer assigned a contribution rate under this paragraph is not required to contribute to the unemployment compensation trust fund if the employer's percentage of excess is seven point five percent or greater for the rate year and the employer has not been charged with benefit payments for any time within the twenty-four calendar quarters immediately preceding the rate computation date for the rate year. If an employer is not required to contribute for a rate year to the trust fund under this unnumbered paragraph but would be required to contribute for the next rate year under this lettered paragraph, the employer's contribution rate for the next rate year is either the employer's experience rate computed under this lettered paragraph or one and eight-tenths percent, whichever is less. For subsequent years, either the employer is not required to contribute under this unnumbered paragraph or the employer's contribution rate is the employer's experience rate computed under this lettered paragraph.

Sec. 9. For calendar year 1983 the effective rate table shall be determined under section 96.7, subsection 3, paragraph d, unnumbered paragraphs 1 and 2, and subparagraphs (1) and (2). The effective rate table applies to all taxable wages for 1983. The Iowa department of job service shall issue new contribution rate notices for calendar year 1983 and shall collect the contributions due under this section as soon as possible after this Act takes effect.

Sec. 10. An employer which meets the zero contribution rate requirements for calendar year 1983 or 1984 of section 96.7, subsection 3, paragraph d, unnumbered paragraph 6 relating to percentage of excess and a record of no benefit charges, shall be assigned the zero contribution rate for that calendar year even though rate table one is effective for that calendar year, notwithstanding the requirement of the unnumbered paragraph which limits the zero contribution rate to calendar years in which a rate table in rate tables three through nine is effective. If an employer assigned a zero contribution rate for calendar year 1983 or 1984 is required to contribute for the next calendar year, the employer's rate for that next calendar year is limited to the maximum rate of one and eight-tenths percent.

Sec. 11. Section 96.7, subsection 15, unnumbered paragraph 1, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

If on the first day of the third month in any calendar quarter in 1983, the department has an outstanding balance of interest accrued on advance moneys received from the federal government for the payment of unemployment compensation benefits, or is projected to have an outstanding balance of accruing federal interest for that calendar quarter, the director shall collect a temporary emergency tax for that calendar quarter in 1983, retroactive to the beginning of that calendar quarter. The tax shall be set at the rate necessary to pay the interest accrued on the moneys advanced to the department by the federal government, and to pay any additional federal interest which will accrue for the remainder of that calendar quarter. However, the tax shall not be greater than ~~one tenth~~ twenty-seven one hundredths of one percent of taxable wages for that calendar quarter. The tax shall apply to all employers except government entities, nonprofit organizations, and employers assigned a zero contribution rate for calendar year 1983. The director shall prescribe the manner in which the tax will be collected. Interest shall accrue on all unpaid tax under this subsection at the same rate as on regular contributions and shall be collectible in the same manner. The tax shall not affect the computation of regular contributions under this chapter.

Sec. 12. Section 96.19, subsection 6, paragraph g, subparagraph (6), unnumbered paragraph 2, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

Service performed by an individual ~~under the age of twenty-two years~~ who is enrolled at a nonprofit or public educational institution which normally maintains a regular faculty and curriculum and normally has a regularly organized body of students in attendance at the place where its educational activities are carried on, as a student in a full-time program, taken for credit at such institution, which combines academic instruction with work experience, if ~~such~~ the service is an integral part of ~~such~~ the program and ~~such~~ the institution has so certified to the employer, except that this subparagraph ~~shall~~ does not apply to service performed in a program established for or on behalf of an employer or group of employers.

Sec. 13. Section 96.19, subsection 6, paragraph g, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new subparagraph:

NEW SUBPARAGRAPH. (7) Services performed by an individual, who is not treated as an employee, for a person who is not treated as an employer, under either of the following conditions:

(a) The services are performed by the individual as a salesperson and as a licensed real estate agent; substantially all of the remuneration for the services is directly related to sales or other output rather than to the number of hours worked; and the services are performed pursuant to a written contract between the individual and the person for whom the services are performed, which provides that the individual will not be treated as an employee with respect to the services for federal tax purposes.

(b) The services are performed by an individual engaged in the trade or business of selling or soliciting the sale of consumer products to any buyer on a buy-sell basis or a deposit-commission basis, for resale by the buyer or another person in the home or in a place other than a permanent retail establishment, or engaged in the trade or business of selling or soliciting the sale of consumer products in the home or in a place other than a permanent retail establishment; substantially all of the remuneration for the services is directly related to sales or other output rather than to the number of hours worked; and the services are performed pursuant to a written contract between the individual and the person for whom the services are performed, which provides that the individual will not be treated as an employee with respect to the services for federal tax purposes.

Sec. 14. For calendar years 1983 and 1984 a contributing employer, other than a governmental entity, is entitled to a credit against the employer's quarterly contribution of ten dollars per employee for the total number of employees in the reporting quarter in excess of the total number of employees in the corresponding reporting quarter of the previous year. Only employees with quarterly earnings of at least five hundred dollars shall be included in the calculation of the number of employees for that quarter. The credit is not allowed if the excess number of employees is due to a labor dispute or employer merger or acquisition. An employer's credit for a quarter cannot be carried over to another quarter and is limited to the amount of the employer's quarterly contribution. In order to receive the credit, the employer shall attach to the quarterly contribution report a copy of the quarterly contribution report for the corresponding reporting quarter of the previous year.

Sec. 15. This Act, being deemed of immediate importance, takes effect from and after its publication in The Sioux City Journal, a newspaper published in Sioux City, Iowa, and in the Waterloo Courier, a newspaper published in Waterloo, Iowa, and is retroactive to January 1, 1983. However, sections 1 through 5 and section 7 of this Act are effective only for unemployment compensation benefit claims effectively filed on or after July 3, 1983, and sections 6, 12, and 13 of this Act are effective from and after the Act's publication."

HOUSE RESOLUTION 9
By Varn

Whereas, "acid rain" is a term that describes precipitation with above normal acid content which is attributable to sulfur and nitrogen oxide emissions from power plants, industrial facilities and automobiles which undergo chemical transformations in the atmosphere; and

Whereas, studies show that acid rain is causing serious environmental problems, including damage to forests, fish and agricultural crops; and

Whereas, it is difficult for a state to respond to the problem of acid rain and its effects on a state's environment because the source of the pollution may be in another state's jurisdiction; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, That the House of Representatives requests the United States Congress to develop a policy and provide assistance to the states in identifying the extent and source of acid rain pollution and abating and preventing environmental damage caused by acid rain.

Be It Further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, the President of the Senate and the members of the Congressional delegation from Iowa.

Laid over under Rule 25.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 28

By Carl, Hammond, Torrence, Chapman, Buhr, Doderer, Mullins, Baxter, Lonergan, Zimmerman, Peick, Carpenter, Hoffmann-Bright, Gruhn, Hermann, Varn, Rosenberg, Van Gerpen, Blanshan, Clark and Miller

Whereas, the protection of children from abuse, neglect, and lack of supervision is a fundamental societal concern; and

Whereas, the adequate protection of children requires the close cooperation of the juvenile court, the county attorney, and the department of social services; and

Whereas, recent incidents of child abuse in this state have demonstrated the lack of coordination of dispositions of the juvenile court and criminal prosecutions by county attorneys with protective services provided by the department of social services; and

Whereas, a need exists to review the roles of juvenile court judges, referees, and guardians ad litem in the juvenile justice system; and

Whereas, a need exists to review the roles of foster parents and social workers in relationship to juvenile court dispositions of child abuse cases and criminal prosecutions of alleged child abusers;

and

Whereas, a need exists to examine alternatives to remedy the lack of supervision of children, especially before and after school; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That the legislative council is requested to authorize an interim study by a joint committee composed of members from both the house of representatives and the senate to study and make recommendations on legislation concerning the continuity of judicial dispositions and the provision of adequate supervision and social services related to children who are the subjects of abuse, neglect, or lack of supervision; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the joint study committee report its findings and recommendations, with legislative bill drafts required to implement the recommendations, to the legislative council, the general assembly, and the appropriate standing committees of the house of representatives and the senate.

Laid over under Rule 25.

Osterberg of Linn offered the following amendment H–3860 filed by him:

H–3860

Amend Senate File 380 as amended, passed, and reprinted by the Senate as follows:

1. Page 1, by inserting after line 34 the following:

"Sec. . NEW SECTION. 476.34 PURPOSE. It is the policy of this state to encourage the development of alternate energy production facilities and small hydro facilities in order to conserve our finite and expensive energy resources and to provide for their most efficient use.

Sec. . NEW SECTION. 476.35 DEFINITIONS.

As used in this division, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Alternate energy production facility" means any or all of the following:

a. A solar, wind turbine, waste management, resource recovery, refuse-derived fuel, or wood burning facility.

b. Land, systems, buildings, or improvements that are located at the project site and are necessary or convenient to the construction, completion, or operation of the facility.

c. Transmission or distribution facilities necessary to conduct the energy produced by the facility to users located at or near the project site.

2. "Electric utility" means a public utility that furnishes electricity to the public for compensation.

3. "Small hydro facility" means any or all of the following:

a. A hydroelectric facility at a dam.

b. Land, systems, buildings, or improvements that are located at the project site and are necessary or convenient to the construction, completion, or operation of the facility.

c. Transmission or distribution facilities necessary to conduct the energy produced by the facility to users located at or near the project site.

Sec. . NEW SECTION. 476.36 RATES FOR ALTERNATE ENERGY PRODUCTION FACILITIES.

1. Subject to section 476.37, the commission shall require electric utilities to enter into long-term contracts to do the following:

a. Purchase or wheel electricity from alternate energy production facilities or small hydro facilities located in the utility's service area under the terms and conditions that the commission finds are just and economically reasonable to the electric utilities' ratepayers, are nondiscriminatory to alternate energy producers and small hydro producers and will further the policy stated in section 476.34.

b. Provide for the availability of supplemental or backup power to alternate energy production facilities or small hydro facilities on a nondiscriminatory basis and at just and reasonable rates.

2. Upon application by the owner or operator of an alternate energy production facility or small hydro facility or any interested party, the commission shall establish for the affected public utility just and economically reasonable rates for electricity purchased under subsection 1, paragraph a. The rates shall be established at levels sufficient to stimulate the development of alternate energy production and small hydro facilities in Iowa and to encourage the continuation of existing capacity from those facilities.

3. The commission shall base the rates for new facilities or new capacity from existing facilities on the following factors:

a. The estimated capital cost of the next generating plant, including related transmission facilities, to be placed in service by the electric utility serving the area.

b. The term of the contract between the electric utility and the seller.

c. A levelized annual carrying charge based upon the term of the contract and determined in a manner consistent with both the methods and the current interest or return requirements associated with the electric utility's new construction program.

d. The electric utility's annual energy costs, including current fuel costs, related operation and maintenance costs, and other energy-related costs considered appropriate by the commission.

4. The commission shall consider the factors listed in subsection 3 in setting rates for existing facilities. However, the commission may consider other factors and may establish a rate for existing facilities that is less than the rate established for new facilities if the commission determines that a lower rate is sufficient to encourage small power production.

5. In the case of a utility that purchases all or substantially all of its electricity requirements, the rates established under this section must be equal to the current cost to the electric utility of similar types and quantities of electrical service.

6. In lieu of the other procedures provided by this section, an electric utility and an owner or operator of an alternate energy production facility or small hydro facility may enter into a long-term contract in accordance with subsection 1 and may agree to rates for purchase and sale transactions. A contract entered into under this subsection must be filed with the commission in the manner provided for tariffs under section 476.4.

7. This section does not require an electric utility to construct additional facilities unless those facilities are paid for by the owner or operator of the affected alternate energy production facility or small hydro facility.

Sec. . NEW SECTION. 476.37 EXCEPTIONS.

1. The commission shall not require an electric utility to purchase or wheel electricity from an alternate energy production facility unless the facility meets all of the following conditions:

a. Has an electric generating capacity of not more than eighty megawatts.

b. Produces electricity, gas, or useful thermal energy for industrial, commercial, or residential purposes.

c. Is owned or operated by an individual, firm, copartnership, corporation, company, association, joint stock association, city, town, or county that:

(1) Is not primarily engaged in the business of producing or selling electricity, gas, or useful thermal energy other than electricity, gas, or useful thermal energy sold solely from alternate energy production facilities or small hydro facilities.

(2) Does not sell electricity, gas, or useful thermal energy to residential users other than the tenants or the owner or operator of the facility.

2. The commission shall not require an electric utility to purchase or wheel electricity from a small hydro facility unless the facility has an electric generating capacity of not more than eighty megawatts.

Sec. . NEW SECTION. 476.38 EXEMPTION FROM EXCESS CAPACITY. Capacity purchased from an alternate energy production facility shall not be included in a calculation of an electric utility's excess generating capacity for ratemaking purposes.

Sec. . Until July 1, 1986, the rate for a new facility under section 476.36, subsection 2, shall not exceed eight cents per kilowatt hour."

2. Amend the title, by striking lines 1 and 2 and inserting in lieu thereof the words "An Act to encourage economic development by providing incentives for certain energy producing facilities and research and development activities."

The following amendment H—3870, to amendment H—3860, filed by Osterberg of Linn was adopted by unanimous consent:

"Sec. 40. Section 613A.4, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new subsection:

NEW SUBSECTION. Any claim based upon or arising out of a claim of negligent design or specification, negligent adoption of design or specification, or negligent construction or reconstruction of a highway, secondary road, or street as defined in section 321.1, subsection 48, or a public improvement as defined in section 384.37, subsection 1, or other public facility that was constructed or reconstructed in accordance with a generally recognized engineering or safety standard, criteria, or design theory in existence at the time of the construction or reconstruction. A claim under this chapter shall not be allowed for failure to upgrade, improve, or alter any aspect of an existing highway, secondary road, street, public improvement, or other public facility to new, changed, or altered design standards. In respect to highways and roads, sealcoating, asphalting, patching, resurfacing, ditching, draining, repairing, graveling, rocking, blading, or maintaining an existing highway or road does not constitute reconstruction.

Sec. 41. Section 613A.4, subsection 3, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

3. Any claim based upon an act or omission of an officer or employee of the municipality, exercising due care, in the execution of a statute, ordinance, or regulation whether the statute, ordinance or regulation is valid, or based upon the exercise or performance or the failure to exercise or perform a discretionary function or duty on the part of the municipality or an officer or employee of the municipality, whether or not the discretion is abused.

Sec. 42. NEW SECTION. COMPARATIVE NEGLIGENCE—EFFECTS.

1. If a claim alleges negligence as the basis for the recovery of damages for injury or death of a person or harm to property, negligence that is chargeable to the claimant diminishes proportionately the amount to be awarded to the claimant as compensatory damages for loss to which the claimant's negligence contributed, provided that recovery by the claimant for the loss is barred if the contributing negligence that is chargeable to the claimant is greater than the negligence that is chargeable to all other persons in respect to the loss.

2. In the trial of a claim involving the negligence of two or more persons, including claimants, defendants, third-party defendants, persons who have been released under section 44 of this Act, and persons who are not parties to the action, the court, unless otherwise agreed by all the parties to the action, shall instruct the jury to answer special interrogatories, or if there is no jury the court shall make findings of both of the following:

a. The amount of damages the claimant would be entitled to recover if negligence chargeable to the claimant is disregarded.

b. The percentage of the total negligence allocated to each claimant, defendant, third-party defendant, person who has been released from liability under section 44 of this Act, and person who is determined to have been negligent but who is not a party to the action. For purposes of this paragraph, the court shall disregard the rule of joint and several liability of defendants, but the court may determine that two or more persons are to be treated as one negligent person.

3. In determining the percentages of negligence, the trier of fact shall consider both the nature of the conduct of each negligent party and the extent of the causal relation between negligent conduct and the loss for which damages are claimed.

4. If the claim is tried to a jury, the court shall not give instructions or permit evidence or argument with respect to the effects of the answers to be returned to the interrogatories submitted under subsection 2.

5. The court shall determine the amount of damages payable to each claimant by each other party, if any, in accordance with the findings of the court or jury and the provisions of sections 42 through 44 of this Act.

6. The liability of a party, if any, is limited to that percentage of the damages as found under subsection 2, paragraph a, that is equal to the percentage of negligence chargeable to the party as found under subsection 2, paragraph b. The rule of joint and several liability does not apply if plaintiff is found to bear any comparative negligence.

Sec. 43. NEW SECTION. OFFSETTING CLAIMS. A claim and counterclaim shall not be set off against each other, except by agreement of both parties. However, if upon motion of either party the court finds that the obligation of either party is likely to be uncollectible the court may order that both parties make payment to the court for distribution. The court shall distribute the funds received, and shall declare obligations discharged as if the payment to the court by either party had been a payment to the other party and as if the distribution of the funds back to the party making payment had been a payment to that party by the other party.

Sec. 44. NEW SECTION. EFFECT OF RELEASE. A release, covenant not to sue, or similar agreement entered into by a claimant and a person who is or may be liable to the claimant for damages discharges the person from liability to the claimant. The agreement does not discharge other persons that are or may be liable unless the agreement so provides, but the agreement does reduce the amount of damages that are recoverable from other persons who are or may be liable to the extent of amounts paid to the claimant in contemplation of the agreement.

Sec. 45. The supreme court shall submit to the general assembly during the 1984 session in the manner provided in section 684.19 changes in the rules of procedure for courts which are necessitated by the enactment of this Act.

Sec. 46. Section 619.17, Code 1983, is repealed. This section shall not be construed to reinstate a rule requiring a claimant to plead and prove freedom from contributory negligence.

Sec. 47. This Act takes effect July 1, 1983, and applies to all cases tried or retried on or after that date.

Sec. 48. The legislative council is directed to establish a joint subcommittee of the senate committee on judiciary, the house committee on judiciary and law enforcement, and the senate and house committees on commerce, to be composed of seven members of the house and seven members of the senate, to study the matter of comparative negligence, comparative fault and contributory negligence as they apply to the broad spectrum of tort law in Iowa, during the interim between the Seventieth General Assembly's first and second session. This joint subcommittee shall be authorized to meet for not less than five days."

K. MARIE THAYER, Secretary

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 37
By Junkins and Hultman

Whereas, many resolutions and bills have been introduced in both the Senate and the House of Representatives calling for interim studies; and

Whereas, several legislators have indicated a desire to introduce resolutions proposing additional interim studies; and

Whereas, the time period between the 1983 Session and the 1984 Session of the Seventieth General Assembly is limited and there have been proposals for studies which appear to have merit but, because of their complexity and number, cannot all be properly conducted during the next interim period; and

Whereas, subcommittees of standing committees may desire to study bills presently before the general assembly which will carry over to the 1984 Session of the Seventieth General Assembly; and

Whereas, it is impractical to debate the relative merits of all proposals; and

Whereas, many resolutions have been referred to the Senate Committee on Rules and Administration or remain in the possession of the House under House Rule 25; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That all resolutions calling for interim studies which have not been adopted by both houses be delivered by the Secretary of the Senate, on the part of the Senate, and the Chief Clerk of the House, on the part of the House, to the Legislative Council, which shall determine priorities and shall authorize such studies as may be feasible within the limits of the staff,

time and funds available; and

Be It Further Resolved, That any legislators desiring to propose any interim study not already contained in a resolution already filed shall submit a letter to the Secretary of the Senate or the Chief Clerk of the House describing the study; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate and Chief Clerk of the House shall deliver such letters to the Legislative Council with any resolutions already filed. The Legislative Council shall give equal consideration to all studies proposed, whether by letter or resolution.

Laid over under Rule 25.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 38
By Miller of Des Moines and Slater of Pottawattamie

Whereas, the First Session of the Seventieth General Assembly has considered twenty-four bills relating to the regulation of professions and occupations which are currently subject to regulation or are seeking regulation; and

Whereas, the subject matter addressed in the bills relates to health care professionals, accountants, watchmakers, architects, private detectives, speech pathologists, and audiologists; and

Whereas, certain bills have passed the Seventieth General Assembly which relate to the regulation of professions and occupations and which could have an impact on the health, safety, and welfare of the citizens of this state; and

Whereas, chapter 2B of the Code of Iowa establishes the professional and occupational regulation commission and Senate File 391 which has passed the senate and house expands the responsibilities of the commission to include the evaluation of the continuing education requirements of the professions and occupations; and

Whereas, the professional and occupational regulation commission is required to file an annual report of its evaluations and recommendations with the chief clerk of the house and the secretary of the senate; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That the professional and occupational regulation commission shall include in its annual report to be submitted to the Second Session of the Seventieth General Assembly evaluations and recommendations regarding a profession or occupation whose practices were expanded or restricted by legislation passed by the First Session of the Seventieth General Assembly; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the professional and occupational regulation commission shall select other professions and occupations for evaluation and recommendation which the commission determines can be comprehensively evaluated prior to the submission of the annual report and which were the subject of proposed legislation in the First Session of the Seventieth General Assembly.

Laid over under Rule 25.

The treasurer at the time of ~~such~~ settlement shall furnish the board with a sworn statement from each depository showing the balance then on deposit in ~~such~~ the depository. ~~Should~~ If the secretary or treasurer fail to make proper reports for ~~such~~ the settlement, the board shall take action to ~~secure the same~~ obtain the balance information.

Sec. 8. NEW SECTION. 297.33 LOAN AGREEMENTS. In order to make immediately available proceeds of the schoolhouse tax which has been approved by the voters as provided in section 278.1, subsection 7, the board of directors may, with or without notice, borrow money and enter into loan agreements in anticipation of the collection of the tax with a bank, investment banker, trust company, insurance company, or insurance group.

By resolution, the board shall provide for an annual levy which is within the limits of the tax approved by the voters to pay for the amount of the principal and interest due each year until maturity. The board shall file a certified copy of the resolution with the auditor of each county in which the district is located. The filing of the resolution with the auditor shall make it the duty of the auditor to annually levy the amount certified for collection until funds are realized to repay the loan and interest on the loan in full.

The loan must mature within the period of time authorized by the voters and shall bear interest at a rate which does not exceed the limits provided under chapter 74A. A loan agreement entered into pursuant to this section shall be in a form as the board of directors shall by resolution provide and the loan shall be payable as to both principal and interest from the proceeds of the annual levy of the voted tax pursuant to section 278.1, subsection 7, or so much thereof as will be sufficient to pay the loan and interest on the loan.

The proceeds of a loan must be deposited in a fund which is separate from other district funds. Warrants paid from this fund must be for purposes authorized by the voters as provided in section 278.1, subsection 7.

This section does not limit the authority of the board of directors to levy the full amount of the voted tax, but if and to whatever extent the tax is levied in any year in excess of the amount of principal and interest falling due in that year under a loan agreement, the first available proceeds, to an amount sufficient to meet maturing installments of principal and interest under the loan agreement, shall be paid into the sinking fund for the loan before the taxes are otherwise made available to the school corporation for other school purposes, and the amount required to be annually set aside to pay principal of and interest on the money borrowed under the loan agreement shall constitute a first charge upon the proceeds of the special voted tax, which tax shall be pledged to pay the loan and the interest on the loan.

This section is supplemental and in addition to existing statutory authority to finance the purposes specified in section 278.1, subsection 7, and for the borrowing of money and execution of loan agreements in connection with that section and subsection, and is not subject to any other law. The fact that a school corporation may have previously borrowed money and entered into loan agreements under authority of this section does not prevent the school corporation from borrowing additional money and entering into further loan agreements if the aggregate of the amount payable under all of the loan agreements does not exceed the proceeds of the voted tax.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 29
By Chiodo

Whereas, House File 519, "An Act relating to rate or price differentials for health care services charged by a hospital or health care facility", was introduced by the House Committee on Small Business and Commerce to carry out the principle adopted by the Governor's Commission on Health Care Costs that "hospital payment systems should foster equity among payers and providers", was not acted upon by the General Assembly in the 1983 Session; and

Whereas, it is in the public interest to protect the citizens of Iowa from varying schedules of charges for like private sector services from the same hospital when the variation in charges gives some payers an advantage or discount which is then made up by an increase in billings to other payers, which is commonly referred to as cost shifting; and

Whereas, it has been indicated by hospitals that the payment formula under current consideration for the Blue Cross corporation, would leave those hospitals with a substantial shortfall which, if the indication is correct, could result in the cost shifting of millions of dollars statewide because of the payment formula; and

Whereas, equity among payers, one of the proposals, might enable the state to qualify under recently established criteria for a waiver from the cost shift policy involved in the federal government payer plans; and

Whereas, since current studies indicate this federal cost shift, on an average nationwide, exceeds fifty dollars per day for a private-sector hospital patient; qualification for a federal waiver could save the citizens of Iowa more in hospital costs alone than any other action the state could take, Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That the Legislative Council authorize the appointment of a Joint Subcommittee of the Senate Commerce Committee and the House Committee on Small Business and Commerce to continue the study of the contents of House File 519 and alternate proposals to prevent hospital cost discrimination and assure equity among payers, not only to protect the citizens of Iowa from unfair and discriminatory private sector charges for like services by the same hospital, but also to provide necessary payer equity, and to consider the feasibility for the state to try to obtain a federal waiver from the cost shifting involved in governmental programs.

Laid over under Rule 25.

K. MARIE THAYER, Secretary

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 26
By Anderson

Whereas, many residents of the state of Iowa are currently engaged in railroad employment or have been employed by a railroad in the past and depend upon the railroad retirement system to provide benefits when they retire; and

Whereas, many residents of the state of Iowa are currently receiving benefits under the railroad retirement system and rely on the benefits to meet the normal costs of living; and

Whereas, any reduction in the amount of benefits received by beneficiaries under the railroad retirement system would have an adverse affect on the ability of these beneficiaries to meet normal living expenses; and

Whereas, projections of the financial condition of the railroad retirement system show that unless corrective action is taken, monthly annuities will be reduced significantly beginning with the annuity checks to be sent October 1, 1983, with additional reductions required in the future; and

Whereas, a bill, H.R. 1646, the Railroad Retirement Solvency Act of 1983, was introduced in the United States House of Representatives on February 24, 1983; and

Amend Senate File 448, as amended, passed, and reprinted by the Senate, as follows:

1. By striking everything after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. Section 279.13, subsection 1, unnumbered paragraph 1, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

Contracts with teachers, which for the purpose of this section means all certificated employees of a school district and nurses employed by the board, excluding superintendents, assistant superintendents, principals, and assistant principals, educational directors, and other certificated school supervisors as defined under section 20.4, shall be in writing and shall state the number of contract days, the annual compensation to be paid, and any other matters as may be mutually agreed upon. The contract may include employment for a term not exceeding the ensuing school year, except as otherwise authorized.

Sec. 2. Section 279.13, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new subsection:

NEW SUBSECTION. The contract shall not, by its terms or its application, deny or limit any law of this state including but not limited to the continuing contract and discharge sections of this chapter.

Sec. 3. Section 279.15, Code 1983, is amended by striking the section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

279.15 TERMINATION PROCEDURES.

1. The board may review the performance or discharge of a teacher with the superintendent and other administrators in a closed session. A request for the closed session is not necessary. If the board determines that it should consider the discharge of a teacher, the board shall notify the teacher in writing of its intent which shall state the reasons for considering discharge. Within five days after receiving notice, the teacher may request a private conference with the board to review the reasons. The private conference and deliberations of the board are not subject to chapter 28A. If the teacher requests a private conference, the teacher shall be present at the meeting and may bring a representative. The parties waive no other rights and are not excused from any other responsibility under this chapter by participating in the private conference. No offers of settlement are admissible evidence in any further proceeding under this chapter. If the teacher does not request a private conference, or, if a private conference is requested, after the board has met with the teacher, it shall complete its consideration in executive session, then convene in open meeting and by roll call vote determine whether to continue or discharge the teacher. If the board determines to discharge the teacher effective at the conclusion of a school year, it shall mail by certified mail or personally deliver not later than April 15 a notice of discharge which must contain a statement of the reasons, which must be for just cause, why the teacher is being discharged. The notification is complete when the teacher receives the notice.

2. The notification shall state when the proposed discharge is to take effect. The notification shall inform the nonprobationary teacher of the right to appeal a discharge and shall inform the probationary teacher of the right to appeal a discharge that would take effect at a time other than at the conclusion of a school year.

If the proposed discharge relates to the school district's personnel needs or budgetary requirements and a grievance has been filed within the time limit prescribed in the collective bargaining agreement, hearing procedures under this chapter shall be stayed pending the completion of the grievance procedure. The finality of a grievance arbitration and ordered remedy shall depend solely upon the terms negotiated by the parties to the collective bargaining agreement. Issues disposed of by a grievance are precluded from further hearings under this chapter.

Sec. 4. Section 279.16, Code 1983, is amended by striking the section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

279.16 REQUEST FOR HEARING.

1. Within ten days of receipt by a teacher of the notice of discharge, the teacher may appeal the board's action. The appeal shall be in writing, delivered personally by the teacher or a representative, or by certified mail, to the secretary of the board. Failure to file the appeal within ten days of receipt by the teacher of the notification of discharge shall bar further action on the appeal.

2. If a teacher timely appeals the board's action, within five days following receipt of the appeal, the secretary of the board shall notify the chairperson of the public employment relations board of the appeal and request that a list of seven hearing officers be submitted to the board and the teacher, or their respective representatives, if any. The chairperson of the public employment relations board shall within five days provide a list of seven hearing officers

The person whose name remains is the hearing officer. The parties shall determine by lot which party shall remove the first name from the list. The secretary of the board shall inform the chairperson of the public relations board of the name of the hearing officer selected.

1. As used in this section and section 279.18, "employee" means a teacher as defined in section 279.13 or an administrator as defined in section 279.23.

2. A hearing shall be held under the hearing officer's supervision at a time and place agreed to by the parties. The hearing is not subject to chapter 28A. If the parties cannot agree to a reasonable time and place, the hearing officer may designate the time and place for the hearing. The hearing officer shall notify the secretary of the board, the employee, or if requested, the representatives of the parties, in writing concerning the date, time, and location of the hearing. The board may be represented by legal counsel and its superintendent, and the employee may appear and be represented.

3. As a part of the discharge proceedings, the employee's complete personnel file of employment by that school district, including all periodic evaluations and written reprimands, shall be available to the employee or representative, which file shall contain a record of all periodic evaluations between the employee and appropriate supervisors. The board of directors or its agents shall allow the employee or representatives to make copies of the employee's complete personnel file.

4. At least ten days before the hearing, the board or its representatives shall also furnish to the employee all of the documentation which may be presented to the hearing officer at the hearing and a list of all of the persons who may address the hearing officer in support of the board's action at the hearing. At least five days before the hearing, the employee shall provide all of the documentation which may be presented to the hearing officer at the hearing and a list of the names of persons who may address the hearing officer in support of the teacher at the hearing. The exchange of information shall be at the time specified unless otherwise agreed.

5. The hearing shall be presided over by the hearing officer who shall be the initial finder of fact. Witnesses may be sequestered upon motion by either party. However, the employee or designees and superintendent or designee and immediate supervisors may be present throughout the hearing. The evidence at the hearing is limited to the specific reasons stated in the notice of discharge to the employee. A participant in the hearing is not liable for damages to any person if a statement at the hearing is determined to be erroneous as long as the statement was made in good faith. The board or its representatives shall present evidence and argument relevant to the issues involved and the employee, or representative, may cross-examine, respond, and present evidence and argument relevant to the issues involved. The record made before the hearing officer, including the transcript, exhibits, findings of fact and conclusions of law, are confidential and not subject to chapter 68A. The board shall employ a certified shorthand reporter to keep a record of the hearing. The proceedings, or any part of the proceedings, shall be transcribed when an appeal is taken, with the expense of transcription shared equally by the employee and the school district.

6. The board or its representatives shall carry the burden of proof of the reasons given to discharge the employee. The standard of proof shall be just cause limited to the employee's performance of duties performed during the normal work day.

The hearing officer may administer oaths in the same manner and with like effect and under the same penalties as magistrates exercising criminal or civil jurisdiction. The hearing officer shall cause subpoenas to be issued for witnesses and the production of books and papers as either the board or the employee may designate. The subpoenas shall be signed by the hearing officer, or the chairperson of the public employment relations board.

7. If a witness is subpoenaed and refuses to attend, or if a witness appears and refuses to testify or to produce required books or papers, the hearing officer may postpone the hearing and shall report the refusal in writing to the district court of the county in which the administrative office of the school district is located, and the court shall proceed with contempt proceedings as though the refusal had occurred in a proceeding legally pending before the court.

8. The hearing officer is not bound by common law or statutory rules of evidence or by technical or formal rules of procedure, but shall hold the hearing in a manner that is best suited to ascertain and preserve the substantial rights of the parties. Process and procedure shall be as summary as reasonably possible. Evidence may be by stipulation of the parties and informal settlement may be made by stipulation, consent, or default, or by any other method agreed upon by the parties in writing.

At the conclusion of the hearing, the board and the employee may file written briefs and arguments with the hearing officer within ten days or another time as agreed upon.

9. The hearing officer, within thirty days after the hearing, or another time agreed upon by the parties, shall make a decision and transmit a copy of the decision by certified mail to the employee, the secretary of the board, and all representatives of the parties. The decision shall be in writing and shall include findings of fact and conclusions of law, separately stated. Findings of fact, if set forth in statutory language, shall be accompanied by a concise and explicit statement of the underlying facts and supporting the findings. Each conclusion of law shall be supported by cited authority or by reasoned opinion. Costs of the hearing officer shall be shared equally by the employee and the board.

10. As a part of the hearing officer's decision, the hearing officer shall make an award of back pay, order reinstatement, and grant any other appropriate relief if the hearing officer finds in favor of the employee.

The hearing officer may convene a hearing for the presentation of necessary evidence to sustain an award of costs, or in the alternative take the evidence by stipulation.

11. The decision of the hearing officer is final and binding upon the parties unless either party within ten days of the date of the filing of the decision notifies the secretary of the board that the decision is rejected. The board may reject the decision by majority vote, by roll call, in open meeting and entered into the minutes of the meeting. The board shall immediately notify the employee of its decision by certified mail. The employee may reject the hearing officer's decision by notifying the secretary of the board in writing.

board of educational examiners, to administer the program. The rules shall provide that loans not be granted to teachers for the purpose of improving their knowledge of subject content or teaching skills in order to teach courses in subject matter areas for which they possess approval granted by the board of educational examiners. The rules shall also provide that priority for loans be given to teachers possessing minimal qualifications for teaching science or mathematics.

Sec. . NEW SECTION. 261.29 LOANS TO TEACHERS. Loans may be granted only to a person possessing a valid teacher's certificate issued under chapter 260. The annual amount of a loan to a teacher enrolled as a full-time student shall not exceed one thousand dollars for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983 and one thousand five hundred dollars for each succeeding fiscal year, or the total amount of tuition and fees, whichever is less. The annual amount of a loan to a teacher enrolled on at least a half-time basis shall not exceed five hundred dollars for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983 and seven hundred fifty dollars for each succeeding fiscal year, or the total amount of tuition and fees, whichever is less. Loans may be made for courses in programs offered in this state and approved by the board of educational examiners. The board of educational examiners shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A for approval of programs. The rules shall require that the programs provide training in both subject content and teaching methodology for mathematics and science teaching.

The commission shall set a final date for submission of applications each year and shall review the applications and inform the recipients within a reasonable time after the deadline.

Sec. . NEW SECTION. 261.30 APPROPRIATIONS.

There is appropriated from the general fund of the state to the Iowa college aid commission for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983 the sum of forty thousand (40,000) dollars, or as much thereof as is necessary, and for each succeeding fiscal year, the sum of one hundred forty thousand (140,000) dollars, or as much thereof as is necessary, to make loans under sections 261.28 and 261.29.

Sec. . NEW SECTION. 261.31 REPAYMENT.

Repayment of the loan shall begin one year after the teacher completes the educational program for which tuition and fees are received. If a teacher submits evidence to the commission that the teacher was employed as a teacher of one or more science or mathematics courses or as an elementary teacher teaching science and mathematics in a public school district or nonpublic school in this state during that year, fifty percent of the amount of the loan is canceled.

At the end of the second year, if the teaching requirements are met, the remainder of the loan is forgiven and payments made by that teacher during the year shall be refunded to the teacher.

There is created a science and mathematics loan repayment fund for deposit of payments made by teachers. Refunds of payments by teachers shall be paid by the commission to the teachers from the fund created in this section. Payments made by teachers that are not refunded shall be transferred on each June 30 from the fund created in this section to the general fund of the state.

The interest rate collected on the loan shall be equal to the interest rate being collected by an eligible lender under the guaranteed student loan program.

The commission shall prescribe by rule the terms of repayment which shall provide for monthly payments of principal and interest of not less than seventy-five dollars.

Sec. . NEW SECTION. 257.27 PROGRAMS FOR IMPROVEMENT OF SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS TEACHING. The department shall provide for the establishment of programs, approved by the board of educational examiners, for teachers to improve skills in teaching in the science and mathematics areas. HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 30

By Groth, Ollie, Daggett, Poncy, Shoultz, Connolly, Jay, Carl, Haverland, Hughes, Spear, Branstad, Maulsby, Van Gerpen, Varn, Carter, Buhr, Krewson, Swearingen, Rosenberg and Zimmerman

Whereas, Iowa has traditionally been a leader in its commitment to education; and

Whereas, Iowans expect the legislature to maintain the state's national leadership in educational quality; and

Whereas, recent state and national economic and social trends have subjected Iowa's schools to great stress. These trends include declining enrollment, revenue shortages, demands for increased programming, and demands from an economic system increasingly dependent on technology; and

Whereas, the report of the National Commission on Excellence in Education has called attention to needed reforms in our nation's school curricula, and teacher selection, training, and compensation; and

Whereas, it is becoming increasingly difficult to employ personnel in specialized positions in schools, such as mathematics, science, industrial arts, extra curricular activities, and others; and

Whereas, the federal government continues to withdraw from financial support and active leadership in education; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That the Legislative Council is urged to establish a joint subcommittee composed of members of both political parties of the Senate and House Committees on Education to conduct a comprehensive study of school curricula, teacher selection and training, teacher certification, the results and recommendations of the Presidential Task

Force on Educational Excellence, and related topics. This subcommittee shall be charged with studying means and making recommendations for the assurance of Iowa's educational quality throughout this decade; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the joint subcommittee shall make a report of its recommendations, accompanied by legislative bill drafts to implement the recommendations, to the Legislative Council, and to the General Assembly meeting in 1984.

Laid over under Rule 25.

The House stood at ease at 9:38 a.m., until the fall of the gavel.

The House resumed session at 1:54 p.m., Speaker Avenson in the chair.

Amend House File 313, as amended, passed, and reprinted by the House, as follows:

1. By striking everything after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. 79.17 COMPENSATION BASED ON COMPARABLE WORTH. It is the policy of this state that a state department, board, commission, or agency shall not discriminate in compensation for work of comparable worth between jobs held predominantly by women and jobs held predominantly by men. "Comparable worth" means the value of work as measured by the composite of the skill, effort, responsibility, and working conditions normally required in the performance of work.

Sec. 2. A study shall be conducted for the purpose of establishing an evaluation of jobs under the merit employment system on the basis of their comparable worth, with particular attention given to jobs predominantly held by women and jobs predominantly held by men. As used in this section, "comparable worth" means the value of work as measured by the composite of skill, effort, responsibility, and working conditions normally required in the performance of work.

The study shall be conducted within the limits of available funds and personnel and shall be supervised by the Iowa merit employment department. State agencies charged with the responsibility of administering various payroll systems shall cooperate with the Iowa merit employment department in helping to carry out the study. Within the limits of available funds, a contract with an independent, private firm having expertise in personnel administration shall be negotiated to conduct the study.

The legislative council shall appoint six persons to serve on a steering committee for the study, and the governor shall appoint a seventh member to the steering committee. The director of the Iowa merit employment department, the director of the Iowa civil rights commission, and the director of the Iowa commission on the status of women or their designees shall serve as advisors to the steering committee. The steering committee shall be responsible for approving the final form of any request for proposal for a contract with a private firm to perform the study, and shall select the private firm to conduct the study from those firms submitting proposals.

In consultation with the Iowa merit employment department, the steering committee shall establish guidelines for carrying out the study and shall establish a date for the completion of the study. The steering committee shall be furnished with data from the study and progress reports on the study, as the steering committee deems necessary. The final report of the study shall be submitted to the steering committee, the legislative council, and the governor.

The Iowa merit employment department shall develop and submit to the governor and the legislative council an estimate of the appropriations necessary to implement the comparability adjustments for employees under the Iowa merit employment system as presented in the final report of the study.

Sec. 3. This Act shall not serve as a limitation on the provisions of chapter 601A but it shall be construed in harmony with chapter 601A and shall be construed liberally to effectuate its purpose.

Sec. 4. This Act, being deemed of immediate importance, takes effect from and after its publication in The Jefferson Bee, a newspaper published in Jefferson, Iowa, and the West Des Moines Express, a newspaper published in West Des Moines, Iowa. However, section 1 of this Act does not take effect until July 1, 1984."

The corporation shall be subject to and have the powers and privileges conferred by this division, and those provisions of chapter 496A which are not inconsistent with and to the extent not restricted or limited by this division.

Sec. 83. NEW SECTION. 28.43 INVESTMENT POLICY. It is the policy of the Iowa venture capital fund to invest primarily in corporations with a principal place of business in the state and which are principally engaged in the development or exploitation of inventions, technological improvements, new processes, or products not previously generally available in this state or other investments which provide an economic benefit to the state. HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 31

By Running, Clark, Chapman, Parker, Mullins, Hermann, Daggett, Tabor, Lonergan, Van Gerpen, Zimmerman, Ollie, Royer, Doderer, Krewson, Connors, Peick, Sherzan, Woods, Fey, Van Camp and Torrence

Whereas, through the process of adoption a child's legal relationship with the birth parents is terminated and the child is assimilated into a new family; and

Whereas, in 1945 Iowa enacted legislation sealing the original birth certificate after an adoption as well as adoption records to protect the parties to the adoption; and

Whereas, some states have recently reevaluated the need for strict confidentiality when all parties are adults and have changed their statutes to permit varying degrees of access to identifying information; and

Whereas, a need also exists to examine Iowa's adoption and termination statutes to determine whether certain clarifications and changes are necessary to reflect changing attitudes toward adoption and to better meet the needs of the principal parties; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That the legislative council authorize the appointment of a joint subcommittee of the house standing committee on judiciary and law enforcement and the senate standing committee on judiciary to study adoption and termination statutes and procedures. The joint subcommittee shall examine the following:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 32

By Running, Mullins, Zimmerman, Clark, Connors, Sherzan, Ollie and Van Camp

Whereas, the state has a responsibility for insuring adequate safety of services provided to the public; and

Whereas, child care outside the home is becoming more prevelant with the increase in two-career and single-parent families; and

Whereas, the state shoulders even more responsibility when a portion of the public, in this case children, cannot adequately protect themselves from abusive practices that could occur; and

Whereas, the General Assembly considers legislation affecting licensing, registration, inspection and other monitoring of child care facilities; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That the Legislative Council is requested to direct the Program Evaluation Division of the Legislative Fiscal Bureau to perform an evaluation of the Department of Social Services' child care licensing, registration and inspection procedures. This evaluation will examine the problems involved in protecting children in child care services, evaluate the effectiveness of regulation and inspection procedures, and consider alternative improvements in the process for the protection of children of Iowa.

Laid over under Rule 25.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 33

By Doderer, Zimmerman, Arnould, Running and Carpenter

Whereas, health care costs continue to escalate two to three times the Consumer Price Index and such costs are a continuing concern to the citizens of this state; and

Whereas, there is a need to continue the legislature's efforts in reducing health care costs through encouraging competition within the field of health care; and

Whereas, additional information from various constituencies, including but not limited to, consumers of health care services, providers of health care services and the reimbursement mechanisms, business interests, labor interests, farmers, commercial and nonprofit insurance carriers, and local government representatives regarding health care needs would further aid the legislature in determining additional methods of reducing health care costs; and

Whereas, the health care provided for indigent patients and elderly needs to be explored to maintain adequate care through the best economical means; and

Whereas, strategies for controlling market forces, regulation, and competition in the health care fields should be considered, to promote efficiency and effectiveness; and

Whereas, there is a need to further explore competitive health care models, equity in the reimbursement mechanism, and the formation of a risk pool to provide insurance currently not available to certain groups of individuals; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That the legislative council authorize the appointment of a joint subcommittee to study the current needs and desired changes in health care; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the subcommittee shall submit a report of its findings, recommendations, and necessary bill drafts to the legislative council and members of the general assembly in January, 1984.

Laid over under Rule 25.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 34

By Cochran, Davitt, Fogarty, Gruhn, Hughes, Halvorson of Webster, Muhlbauer and Skow

Whereas, the agriculture industry in the state of Iowa affects the employment of a substantial portion of the population not directly involved in farming; and

Whereas, individual farm income and farmland values are declining, and farm mortgage foreclosures and farm bankruptcies are increasing, due in part to the lowest parity prices for agricultural products since the great depression; and

Whereas, the inability of individual producers to secure a reasonable return for agricultural products grown in the state of Iowa threatens the entire state economy; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That the legislative council is requested to appoint an interim subcommittee composed of members from the house and senate standing committees on agriculture to study the plan to establish a minimum price for certain agricultural commodities sold within the state as set forth in House Study Bill 186.

Laid over under Rule 25.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 35

By Cochran, Blanshan, Gruhn, Koenigs, Anderson, Halvorson of Webster, McKean, Bennett, Davitt, Hughes, Carter, Pellett, Copenhaver, Lloyd-Jones, Muhlbauer, Tofte, Torrence, Van Maanen, Zimmerman, Stueland, Skow, Handorf, Sullivan, Osterberg, Carl, Mullins, Chapman, Knapp, Black, Krewson, Varn, Groth, Running and Parker

Whereas, in 1982 the general assembly enacted chapter 93A of the Code on land preservation and use; and

Whereas, that chapter requires each county to establish a county land preservation and use commission by October 1, 1982; compile a county land use inventory by January 1, 1984; and propose a county land use plan by September 1, 1984; and

Whereas, inconsistencies in the law have resulted in costly and counterproductive duplication in land use planning efforts; and

Whereas, still another land use inventory in all ninety-nine counties would be a flagrant waste of taxpayers' money; and

Whereas, entire community development patterns and county zoned areas are at stake as they relate to designated agriculture areas; and

Whereas, of eighty-two counties responding to a survey on this matter, forty called for a moratorium on the law and another twenty-one asked for its repeal; and

Whereas, the first regular session of the seventieth general assembly adjourned without addressing these questions through a statute; Now Threrefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That the legislative council is requested to authorize a study during the 1983 legislative interim of the problems associated with the implementation of chapter 93A; and

Be It Further Resolved, That nonlegislative members should be appointed to the committee conducting the study to represent county government and other groups affected by chapter 93A.

Laid over under Rule 25.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 36
By Groth and Ollie

Whereas, a number of national studies have recently been published that have analyzed the quality of public education in the United States; and

Whereas, the results of these studies need to be reviewed and evaluated by persons interested in education in this state; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House Of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That there is created an education study commission to be composed of the chairpersons and ranking members of the senate and house committees on education, one additional member from the senate committee on education and one additional member from the house committee on education. In addition, the lieutenant governor and the speaker of the house in consultation with the two chairpersons shall appoint additional members including a representative from the private colleges and universities, a representative from an institution of higher education under the state board of regents, a representative from a merged area school, an elementary school teacher, a secondary school teacher, a school administrator, a school board member, two parents of school age children and a representative from the department of public instruction. The commission shall analyze the recent annual studies in terms of the applicability of their conclusions and recommendations to the quality of public instruction in Iowa;

Be It Further Resolved, That expenses of the study committee including per diem and actual and necessary expenses and legislative members and actual and necessary expenses of the remaining members, shall be paid from funds available under section 2.12;

Be It Further Resolved, That the study committee shall meet not more than six times and complete a written report of its conclusions by October 1, 1983 and transmit copies of its written report to the legislative council and the general assembly meeting in 1984.

Laid over under Rule 25.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 37
By Carl, Chapman, Fey, Arnould, Parker and Haverland

Whereas, it is the goal of the General Assembly to ensure adequate health services for needy families in Iowa and in particular for needy children and pregnant women; and

Whereas, it is the goal of the General Assembly to maintain a welfare program that provides incentives to people to work rather than presenting obstacles to those who find employment; and

Whereas, the present state system of services for health coverage includes county emergency relief, the statewide indigent patient care program conducted by the state board of regents at the University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics and the medical assistance program, but does not include a comprehensive program for families over the income eligibility guidelines for the aid to dependent children program and therefore presents a roadblock for many families on the aid to dependent children program to accept work; and

Whereas, thirty-three states operate a medically needy program under the medical assistance program to provide medical assistance, on a spend-down basis, for families who do not require welfare grant assistance but need assistance in paying medical bills; and

Whereas, establishment of a medically needy program would provide an additional means of serving needy families, would do so with substantial federal financial participation, and could serve to reduce the costs of county emergency relief programs and the statewide indigent patient care program; and

Whereas, establishment of a medically needy program could have positive long-term effects and cost reductions in the aid to dependent children program; and

Whereas, the General Assembly requires additional data on Iowa's current health service programs for low-income families in order to assess the overall need for and costs associated with establishing a medically needy program and the effect the establishment of a medically needy program would have on other state and county health service and educational programs and costs; and

Whereas, the state Department of Social Services or its successor agency, the state Department of Health, the state Department of Public Instruction, and the University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics and its specialized child health services are currently conducting a joint study of the health care delivery system for mothers and children in Iowa, with the director of the Legislative Fiscal Bureau invited to sit on the steering committee, and this study may provide pertinent information for the General Assembly to evaluate the need for and cost of a medically needy program; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That the Legislative Fiscal Bureau, from information collected during the legislative interim, report to the General Assembly on the cost of establishing a medically needy program within the state medical assistance program and the potential cost-savings of such a program to the indigent patient care program, to county emergency relief programs, and to the state's aid to dependent children program; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the Department of Social Services or its successor agency and the University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics cooperate fully with the Legislative Fiscal Bureau in obtaining the necessary information, that to the extent possible the Legislative Fiscal Bureau obtain through the joint study on health care delivery for mothers and children in Iowa the information necessary to prepare the report, and that the Legislative Fiscal Bureau seek outside professional assistance, including assistance from the Health Policy Corporation of Iowa, in analyzing the information; and

Be It Further Resolved, That, beginning July 1, 1983, under the direction of the Legislative Fiscal Bureau and the Department of Social Services or its successor agency, the University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics shall collect information from the counties on the clients served under the statewide indigent patient care program including family status, employment status, financial status, third-party coverage, county of residence, and other information deemed necessary, with all information identifying individuals considered patient records of the University Hospitals and its confidentiality maintained accordingly; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the Legislative Fiscal Bureau shall give special attention to the collection of information from the University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics about the obstetrics and gynecology program of the indigent patient care program, and that the Legislative Fiscal Bureau shall evaluate all information in order to determine which clients served under this program at the University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics meet the eligibility criteria for a medically needy program under the state medical assistance program; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics may work with the Department of Social Services or its successor agency in an effort to obtain a Title XIX waiver to provide obstetric and pediatric services to children and pregnant women from low-income families under the auspices of the University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics and its statewide patient care networks through the medical assistance program if such a waiver is determined to be cost-effective; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the Legislative Fiscal Bureau shall select a representative sample of counties and examine these counties' use of the statewide indigent patient care program and use of county emergency relief funds to provide medical care for individuals who would qualify for a state medically needy program; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the Legislative Fiscal Bureau shall collect data on other states' experiences in providing health care services through a medically needy program within the medical assistance program and those states' experiences in reducing caseloads under the aid to dependent children program and other state programs; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the Legislative Fiscal Bureau shall deliver a preliminary report regarding the progress of its study of the medically needy program to the Legislative Council and the members of the Appropriations Subcommittee on Social Services by November 1, 1983 and an additional report of any tentative findings of the study to the General Assembly on January 15, 1984, and a final report of the study no later than January 15, 1985.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 38
By Hummel

Whereas, the area education agencies have been established and funded with tax dollars to provide services to school districts in this state; and

Whereas, through their educational services divisions, the area education agencies possess the capability of providing a number of different printing services for providing printed materials to the school district; and

Whereas, the area education agencies are able to provide these printing services to school districts in the area at lower rates than can be charged by businesses in the private sector; and

Whereas, the area education agencies openly solicit school districts in their areas to order printed materials not only for classroom and extracurricular activities, but also materials that have little or no relationship to the educational process; and

Whereas, there is a concern that the printing services of the area education agencies are unfairly competing with printing services in the private sector; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That the department of public instruction, in consultation with the area education agencies, is directed to adopt rules under chapter 17A to provide guidelines to the area education agencies to ensure that the printing services of the area education agencies are not competing unfairly with printing services in the private sector and limiting the kinds of materials that the area education agencies can print.

Laid over under Rule 25.

H—4176

Amend Senate File 524 as amended, passed and reprinted by the Senate as follows:

1. By striking everything after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. Section 422.7, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new subsection:

NEW SUBSECTION. If the adjusted gross income includes income or loss from a trade or business operated by the taxpayer and the number of employees of that trade or business exceeded, at any time during the trade or business's annual accounting period ending with or during the taxpayer's tax year, the threshold employee level for the annual accounting period, an adjustment shall be made in computing the income or loss from that trade or business by allowing as a deduction in computing that income or loss an additional fifty percent of the wages paid to the most recent employees hired during the accounting period who were domiciled in Iowa on the date of their employment. However, the amount of the deduction shall be computed only for the number of employees in excess of the threshold employee level for the annual accounting period and only for the wages paid during the accounting period that the threshold employee level was exceeded. Also, the amount of the deduction allowed for an accounting period shall not exceed an amount equal to one-half of the amount by which all wages paid during the accounting period exceeded the amount of wages paid by the trade or business during the highest of the previous three annual accounting periods or during the highest one of the previous annual accounting periods if the trade or business has been in operation for less than three years. This deduction shall not be allocated or apportioned to another state.

For purposes of this subsection, the "threshold employee level for the annual accounting period" is the highest number of employees of the trade or business at any time during the previous three annual accounting periods or during all the previous annual accounting periods if the trade or business has been in operation for less than three years, and "employee" means an individual who works within or without Iowa on a part-time or full-time basis but does not include an individual who is an owner of the trade or business or for whom this subsection applies. "Employee" also does not include an individual who is hired to replace another employee who has been terminated. The department may by rule establish the criteria for determining when an employee has been hired to replace a terminated employee. If the trade or business began operation during the accounting period, the threshold employee level for that accounting period is zero.

If the trade or business has been sold or otherwise transferred to a subsequent employing unit or, if one or more employing units have been reorganized or merged into a single employing unit and the successor employer continues to operate the trade or business, the successor employer shall assume the position of the predecessor employer or employers with respect to the predecessors' threshold employee level for the annual accounting period which is attributable to the part of the business transferred, to the same extent as if the ownership or control had not changed.

If a clearly segregable and identifiable part of a trade or business has been sold or otherwise transferred to a subsequent employing unit, and the successor employing unit continues to operate the trade or business, the successor shall assume the position of the predecessor employer with respect to the threshold employee level for the annual accounting period, which is attributable to the part of the trade or business transferred to the same extent as if the ownership or control of the trade or business had not changed.

This subsection does not apply to tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1987.

Sec. 2. Section 422.35, Code 1983, is amended by adding after subsection 6 the following new subsection:

NEW SUBSECTION. If the number of employees of the taxpayer exceeded, at any time during the tax year, the threshold employee level for the tax year, subtract fifty percent of the wages paid to the most recent employees hired during the tax year who were domiciled in Iowa on the date of their employment. However, the amount to be subtracted shall be computed only for the number of employees in excess of the threshold employee level for the tax year and only for the wages paid during the tax year that the threshold employee level was exceeded. Also, the amount of the deduction allowed for an accounting period shall not exceed an amount equal to one-half of the amount by which all wages paid during the accounting period exceeded the amount of wages paid by the trade or business during the highest of the previous three annual accounting periods or during the highest one of the previous annual accounting periods if the trade or business has been in operation for less than three years. This deduction shall not be allocated or apportioned to another state.

For purposes of this subsection, the "threshold employee level for the tax year" is the highest number of employees of the taxpayer at any time during the previous three tax years or during all previous tax years if the taxpayer has been in operation for less than three years, and "employee" means an individual who works within or without Iowa on a part-time or full-time basis. "Employee" does not include an individual who is hired to replace another employee who has been terminated. The department may by rule establish the criteria for determining when an employee has been hired to replace a terminated employee. If the taxpayer began operation during the tax year, the threshold employee level for that tax year is zero.

If the corporation has been sold or otherwise transferred to a subsequent employing unit or, if one or more employing units have been reorganized or merged into a single employing unit and the successor employer continues to operate the corporation, the successor employer shall assume the position of the predecessor employer or employers with respect to the predecessors' threshold employee level for the annual accounting period to the same extent as if the ownership or control had not changed.

If a clearly segregable and identifiable part of a corporation has been sold or otherwise transferred to a subsequent employing unit, and the successor employing unit continues to operate the corporation, the successor shall assume the position of the predecessor employer with respect to the threshold employee level for the annual accounting period, which is attributable to the part of the corporation transferred to the same extent as if the ownership or control of the corporation had not changed.

This subsection does not apply to tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1987.

Sec. 3. This Act takes effect July 1, 1983 for tax years beginning on or after that date."

2. Title page, by striking lines 3 through 5 and inserting in lieu thereof the words "providing an additional business deduction for increasing employment over previous years."

Sec. 15. TEMPORARY SECTION. SPECIAL CONTRIBUTION RATES.

1. An employer which meets the zero contribution rate requirements for calendar year 1983 of section 96.7, subsection 3, paragraph d, unnumbered paragraph 6 relating to percentage of excess and a record of no benefit charges, shall be assigned the zero contribution rate for calendar year 1983 even though contribution rate table 2, as amended by section 14 of this Act, is effective for calendar year 1983, notwithstanding the requirement of unnumbered paragraph 6 which limits the zero contribution rate to calendar years in which a rate table in rate tables three through nine is effective. If an employer assigned a zero contribution rate for calendar year 1983 is required to contribute for the next calendar year, the employer's rate for that next calendar year is either the employer's experience rate or one and eight-tenths percent, whichever is less.

2. If additional contributions are due for the first calendar quarter of 1983 under section 14 of this Act, an employer shall pay the additional contributions no later than the time regular contributions are due for the fourth calendar quarter of 1983. If additional contributions are due for the second calendar quarter of 1983 under section 14 of this Act, an employer shall pay the additional contributions no later than the time regular contributions are due for the third calendar quarter of 1983. Additional contributions due for the third and fourth calendar quarters of 1983 shall be paid no later than the times regular contributions are due for those calendar quarters. However, an employer may pay the additional contributions in advance.

Sec. 16. Section 96.7, subsection 3, paragraph d, in the proviso following the contribution rate tables in unnumbered paragraph 4, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows: ~~Provided, however, that notwithstanding~~ Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter relating to limiting contribution rates to those specified in the contribution rate table, ~~any~~ an employer which employs individuals for construction as defined by the department pursuant to rules, that has not qualified for an experience rating shall pay ~~four point zero percent in the calendar year 1968 through the calendar year 1977 and be assigned to the rate specified in the twenty-first percentage of excess rank for the rate year beginning January 1, 1978 and every year thereafter~~ the maximum contribution rate assigned to any employer under this chapter, including the additional contributions required under this lettered paragraph of an employer with a negative balance in the employer's account, until such time as the employer has qualified for an experience rating. However, ~~such~~ the employer shall not qualify for an experience rating until there ~~shall~~ have been twelve consecutive calendar quarters immediately preceding the rate computation date throughout which ~~his~~ the employer's account has been chargeable with benefit payments.

Sec. 17. Section 96.7, subsection 3, paragraph d, unnumbered paragraph 6, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

~~However, notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter relating to the applicable contribution rate table for a calendar year, the applicable contribution rate table for the calendar years 1982 and 1983 is table three unless the ratio of the current reserve fund ratio to the highest benefit cost rate on the rate computation date is 1.0 or higher.~~ During any rate year in which a rate table in rate tables three through nine is effective an employer assigned a contribution rate under this lettered paragraph is not required to contribute to the unemployment compensation trust fund if the employer's percentage of excess is seven point five percent or greater for the rate year and the employer has not been charged with benefit payments for any time within the twenty-four calendar quarters immediately preceding the rate computation date for the rate year. If an employer is not required to contribute for a rate year to the trust fund under this unnumbered paragraph but would be required to contribute for the next rate year under this lettered paragraph, the employer's contribution rate for the next rate year is either the employer's experience rate computed under this lettered paragraph or one and eight-tenths percent, whichever is less. For subsequent years, either the employer is not required to contribute under this unnumbered paragraph or the employer's contribution rate is the employer's experience rate computed under this lettered paragraph.

During any rate year in which rate table one or two is effective an employer assigned a contribution rate under this lettered paragraph shall be required to contribute to the unemployment compensation trust fund at five-tenths of one percent, if the employer's percentage of excess is seven point five percent or greater for the rate year and the employer has not been charged with benefit payments for any time within the twenty-four calendar quarters immediately preceding the rate computation date for the rate year. If an employer is qualified for the five-tenths of one percent limitation on the employer's contribution rate for a rate year under this unnumbered paragraph but would be required to contribute for the next rate year under this lettered paragraph, the employer's contribution rate for the next rate year is either the employer's experience rate computed under this lettered paragraph or one and eight-tenths percent, whichever is less. For subsequent years, either the employer is qualified for the five-tenths of one percent limitation under this unnumbered paragraph or the employer's contribution rate is the employer's experience rate computed under this lettered paragraph.

Sec. 18. Section 96.7, subsection 3, paragraph d, unnumbered paragraph 7, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter relating to limiting contribution rates to those specified in the contribution rate table, if an employer qualified for an experience rating has a negative balance in the employer's account on the rate computation date and had a negative balance on the previous rate computation date, the employer shall contribute an additional ~~one-half~~ one percent of taxable wages above the contribution rate assigned the employer by the effective rate contribution table. For each subsequent and consecutive rate computation date on which the employer still has a negative balance in the employer's account, the employer shall contribute an additional ~~one-half~~ one percent of taxable wages. Beginning with the initial surcharge of ~~one-half~~ one percent each subsequent and consecutive surcharge of ~~one-half~~ one percent of taxable wages shall be cumulative, except that the cumulative surcharge shall not exceed ~~three~~ an amount sufficient to make the employer's combined contribution rate equal to nine percent of taxable wages.

Sec. 19. Section 96.7, subsection 3, paragraph e, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new unnumbered paragraph:

NEW UNNUMBERED PARAGRAPH. If an employer's account is charged with benefits in a calendar quarter prior to the rate computation date as the result of a decision allowing benefits and the decision is reversed after the rate computation date, the employer may appeal, within thirty days from the date of the contribution rate notice, for a recomputation of the rate. The department shall remove the benefit charges from the rate computation, recompute the contribution rate, and notify the employer of the recomputed contribution rate.

Sec. 20. Section 96.7, subsection 15, unnumbered paragraph 1, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

If on the first day of the third month in any calendar quarter ~~in 1983~~, the department has an outstanding balance of interest accrued on advance moneys received from the federal government for the payment of unemployment compensation benefits, or is projected to have an outstanding balance of accruing federal interest for that calendar quarter, the director shall collect a uniform temporary emergency ~~tax~~ surcharge for that calendar quarter ~~in 1983~~, retroactive to the beginning of that calendar quarter. The ~~tax~~ surcharge shall be a percentage of employer contribution rates and shall be set at ~~the rate~~ a uniform percentage, for all employers subject to the surcharge, necessary to pay the interest accrued on the moneys advanced to the department by the federal government, and to pay any additional federal interest which will accrue for the remainder of that calendar quarter. ~~However, the tax shall not be greater than one-tenth of one percent of taxable wages for that calendar quarter.~~ The ~~tax~~ surcharge shall apply to all employers except government entities, nonprofit organizations, and employers assigned a zero contribution rate ~~for calendar year 1983~~. The director shall prescribe the manner in which the ~~tax~~ surcharge will be collected. Interest shall accrue on all unpaid ~~tax~~ surcharges under this subsection at the same rate as on regular contributions and shall be collectible in the same manner. The ~~tax~~ surcharge shall not affect the computation of regular contributions under this chapter.

Sec. 21. Section 96.11, subsection 4, unnumbered paragraph 1, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

The director shall provide for the employment of such personnel as are necessary to carry out the functions of the department. Personnel shall be employed under the provisions of chapter 19A. The director, a deputy director, a confidential secretary, the members of the appeal board, an administrative officer under the appeal board, and a secretary for each member if deemed necessary, shall be exempt from the merit system under the provisions of section 19A.3. If necessary to carry out its duties under this chapter, the appeal board shall employ an administrative officer whose qualifications and job responsibilities are determined by the appeal board.

Sec. 22. Section 96.19, subsection 6, paragraph g, subparagraph (6), unnumbered paragraph 2, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

Service performed by an individual ~~under the age of twenty-two years~~ who is enrolled at a nonprofit or public educational institution which normally maintains a regular faculty and curriculum and normally has a regularly organized body of students in attendance at the place where its educational activities are carried on, as a student in a full-time program, taken for credit at such institution, which combines academic instruction with work experience, if ~~such~~ the service is an integral part of ~~such~~ the program and ~~such~~ the institution has so certified to the employer, except that this subparagraph ~~shall~~ does not apply to service performed in a program established for or on behalf of an employer or group of employers.

Sec. 23. Section 96.19, subsection 6, paragraph g, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new subparagraph:

NEW SUBPARAGRAPH. (7) Services performed by an individual, who is not treated as an employee, for a person who is not treated as an employer, under either of the following conditions:

(a) The services are performed by the individual as a salesperson and as a licensed real estate agent; substantially all of the remuneration for the services is directly related to sales or other output rather than to the number of hours worked; and the services are performed pursuant to a written contract between the individual and the person for whom the services are performed, which provides that the individual will not be treated as an employee with respect to the services for federal tax purposes.

(b) The services are performed by an individual engaged in the trade or business of selling or soliciting the sale of consumer products to any buyer on a buy-sell basis or a deposit-commission basis, for resale by the buyer or another person in the home or in a place other than a permanent retail establishment, or engaged in the trade or business of selling or soliciting the sale of consumer products in the home or in a place other than a permanent retail establishment; substantially all of the remuneration for the services is directly related to sales or other output rather than to the number of hours worked; and the services are performed pursuant to a written contract between the individual and the person for whom the services are performed, which provides that the individual will not be treated as an employee with respect to the services for federal tax purposes.

Sec. 24. Section 96.19, subsection 20, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new unnumbered paragraph:

NEW UNNUMBERED PARAGRAPH. However, the amount of taxable wages otherwise determined under this subsection shall be increased by six hundred dollars for calendar year 1984, by eleven hundred dollars for calendar year 1985, and by sixteen hundred dollars for calendar year 1986 and subsequent calendar years.

Sec. 25. Section 96.23, Code 1983, is amended by striking the section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

96.23 BASE PERIOD EXCLUSION. The department shall exclude three or more calendar quarters from an individual's base period, as defined in section 96.19, subsection 16, if the individual received weekly workers' compensation benefits for temporary total disability or during a healing period under section 85.33, section 85.34, subsection 1, or section 85A.17 or weekly indemnity insurance benefits during those three or more calendar quarters, if one of the following conditions applies to the individual's base period:

The department shall substitute, in lieu of the three or more calendar quarters excluded from the base period, those three or more consecutive calendar quarters, immediately preceding the base period, in which the individual did not receive such weekly workers' compensation benefits or weekly indemnity insurance benefits.

Sec. 26. PROSPECTIVE REPEAL. Sections 8 and 24 of this Act are prospectively repealed on January 1 of the first calendar year after December 31, 1985 for which a contribution rate table other than contribution rate table one is effective. Sec. . If the governor finds that the estimated budget resources during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983 and ending June 30, 1984, are insufficient to pay all appropriations in full prior to February 1, 1984, and the governor's findings are concurred in by the executive council, the governor shall not make any reductions in allotment as allowed under section 8.31 until the transfers authorized by this section have been made.

Notwithstanding the provisions of section 423.24, there shall be transferred from the revenues collected under chapter 423 in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983 and ending June 30, 1984, from the use tax collected on motor vehicles, trailers and motor vehicle accessories and equipment under section 423.7 an amount necessary to provide the estimated budget resources necessary to pay all appropriations in full. However, the total amount transferred prior to February 1, 1984, shall not exceed twelve million five hundred thousand (12,500,000) dollars.

If upon transfer of the twelve million five hundred thousand (12,500,000) dollars authorized by this section, the governor finds that the estimated budget resources during the fiscal year are insufficient to pay all appropriations in full and the executive council concurs in the governor's findings, the governor may make the reductions of allotments allowed under section 8.31.

Any funds transferred to the general fund of the state under this section prior to February 1, 1984, shall be considered an interest-free loan and the loan shall be repaid from the general fund of the state to the road use tax fund not later than May 31, 1984."

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

Des Moines, Iowa 50319

The Honorable Donald D. Avenson
Speaker of the House
State Capitol Building

Dear Don:

Four and one-half months ago today, in my Budget Address to this First Session of the Seventieth General Assembly, I asked legislators to join me in meeting the challenge of leadership. I noted that the challenge demanded that we focus on a common agenda—helping Iowans find jobs; caring for those who cannot look out for themselves; keeping Iowa at the top in education; providing for the public's safety; and lessening the burden of property taxes. Iowans asked for action on that agenda, yet there were no easy answers. Thus, the challenge of leadership which faced us during the past session was to work together to search for solutions.

For my part, I offered a budget and a legislative program which addressed Iowa's problems. It was both wide-ranging and ambitious, offering proposals ranging from high technology development to providing for Iowans in need. But most of all, my program was designed to elicit broad support so that Governor and Legislature, Republican and Democrat, could work together to make Iowa an even better state.

It was a large and, in many ways, demanding agenda. And implementation of that agenda was no easy task. Information was shared, issues debated, new ideas explored, differences of opinion resolved and disagreements acknowledged. Together we worked through the legislative process to shape that agenda into a program for Iowa's future. I am pleased that this First Session of the Seventieth General Assembly did respond in many ways to the challenge of leadership. I can report that much of the agenda outlined in January will become law because of the work of this session.

Still, there were disappointments. Some critical priorities were shelved for this session. Others became off limits to discussion and reasonable compromise. And spending targets were exceeded.

A review of the record of this session, a session of both accomplishment and disappointment, is thus in order.

Jobs for Iowans

With too many Iowans out of work, this session rightly focused on the need to create jobs for Iowans. The immediate job training needs of unemployed Iowa workers were addressed with the passage of the state funds requested for dislocated worker centers. The Iowa Youth Corps will be expanded and the legislature developed an industrial training program for community colleges that has promise if implemented properly.

The legislature also helped stimulate economic development in Iowa by revising our security laws to encourage investment in Iowa. Also, an innovative program to provide more venture capital was enacted. Moreover, Iowa's economy will become more diversified in the future with the creation of a high technology research grant and marketing program, as I requested.

I am also excited about the legislature's approval of additional funding for travel and tourism promotion in Iowa. With a stepped up Iowa Development Commission promotional effort and the introduction of pari-mutuel, hundreds of additional jobs in travel, tourism and recreation could be created in Iowa in the near future. Appropriate action was also taken to double the small business loan program, increase the support for small business development centers, and remove unnecessary financial restrictions on the housing industry. I am also pleased that an Asian office will be created to boost Iowa farm export and farm income. And, finally, funding for the quested capital construction projects will mean thousands of new jobs for Iowans this summer.

I am concerned, however, that this wide-ranging job creation effort may be seriously hindered by the unemployment compensation bill passed by the legislature. That bill would greatly increase employer taxes while including measures that would actually liberalize benefits. I offered a balanced solution to this problem to the legislature at the beginning of the session. I believe that that approach would have made Iowa more attractive for economic development in the future. I am disappointed that the legislature failed to even consider a reasonable compromise on this issue during the closing days of the session.

Energy Relief

I am pleased with the outcome of the legislature's debate on utility reform. By working together, we were able to secure meaningful representation for the consumer in the Commerce Commission. While I was disappointed by the legislature's failure to eliminate rates collected under bond, the utility reform measure does give the Commission the tools needed to carefully review proposed utility rate increases.

The legislature also took an important step in stemming the flow of energy dollars from Iowa by enacting legislation to provide incentives for the development of hydroelectric power in Iowa. Also, the state will save energy and tax dollars with the funding provided for the state building energy conservation program. The legislature's local government energy conservation program will do likewise at the local level.

Next year, the legislature may want to reconsider its failure to provide a tax credit for active solar hot water installations. Such an investment will pay dividends for Iowa's energy future.

Human Needs

As I noted in my budget address, when times are tough, people turn to government, not away from it. My budget recognized that fact by fully funding existing programs for the needy, despite federal cutbacks and rising caseloads. In addition, I asked for continuation of the unemployed parent program and a modest increase in AFDC payment levels. I am pleased that the legislature responded affirmatively to these requests and also took action to reduce welfare fraud. In addition, action to contain health cost was both significant and prudent. The Health Data Commission will give all Iowans the information they need to hold down health costs. Moreover, changes in child care laws enacted by this legislature will give parents greater assurance when selecting a child care facility for their children.

Public Safety

Public safety has always been one of my top priorities. Legislative action to crack down on child pornography, reform bail bond laws, and increase the criminal investigatory tools of the Department of Public Safety will help maintain Iowa's relatively low crime rate. I am also pleased with legislative efforts to reform our prison system and to increase inmate labor. The legislative initiative creating a separate Department of Corrections should provide more focus for the problems in our prison system while the prison cap modification makes our prison population more manageable.

Despite these criminal justice advances, I am especially disappointed by the failure of the legislature to pass meaningful sentencing reform legislation. I presented a carefully thought out classified sentencing system which would have made sentences more predictable and rational. The legislature will have had three years to study this proposal by the beginning of the next regular session and I hope that action will be taken then to enact it into law. The model drug paraphernalia act, which failed to be passed out of committee this year, also deserves another look next session.

Educational Excellence

Iowans are proud of their schools and steps were taken this year to make them even better:

- Our local schools received a significant funding increase of almost fifty million dollars for fiscal year 1985.

- The critical math/science and foreign language needs of this and the next generation of Iowans were squarely met with a host of innovative programs.

- Tuition grants and vocational/technical grants were increased to help Iowans attend the school of their choice.

- Important Regents capital projects received authorization and funding.

Other significant legislative initiatives included increased incentives for sharing programs and allowing schools to send their high school students to another district. These programs, rather than other legislative proposals which would have reduced local educational control, will help provide the resources necessary to maintain Iowa's educational excellence.

Agricultural/Natural Resource Protection

The legislature was wise to take action to help stem soil erosion in this state. My requests for an innovative soil conservation loan program and full funding for the cost-share program met legislative approval. In addition, the radioactive waste compact and the land use funding for counties which were approved by the legislature will help protect Iowa's farmland and other natural resources.

Property Tax Relief

One of the keys to my budget and legislative program was to set in motion mechanisms to provide property tax relief for Iowans. The legislature responded by increasing the elderly property tax credit and providing for state funding of the court system. In addition, over forty-two million dollars of property tax relief will be provided in fiscal year 1985 with the legislature's approval of my request for eighty percent school foundation level. However, the legislature did make that relief conditional on a thirty million dollar balance in the general fund.

Unfortunately, no action was taken on the phase-out of the personal property tax. The legislature should act to phase-out this inequitable tax as soon as possible.

Because of the failure to continue the personal property tax phase-out, the fiscal year 1985 targets for property tax relief were not met. Nevertheless, the school foundation level and court reform property tax commitments for the future are significant and those commitments should be kept.

The legislature also took other important action:

- acted on local government priorities by requiring fair play information mandates, reforming county finances and beginning an innovative community development program.

- recognized transportation needs by preserving abandoned railroad corridors, reducing potential tort claim losses to the road fund, and providing a funding alternative for those interested in purchasing the east/west Rock Island line.

- provided for appropriate state revenues by increasing the sales tax, and beefing up the minimum tax so that all Iowans pay their fair share of taxes.

I am concerned that the legislature overspent my recommended appropriation levels by over twelve million dollars. In addition, many of the budget cuts made by the legislature came from utility and fuel cost savings that may not be realized. Therefore, a careful scrutiny of all appropriation items must be made to pare back expenditures where possible. Also supplementals for fiscal year 1984 must be kept to a minimum.

I ended my budget message in January by stating that I believed we were up to the challenge of leadership. Indeed, we have completed much of the agenda I presented to you on that day. In addition, important legislative initiatives — job training, Department of Corrections, elimination of housing finance restrictions, tort claims limits, and local energy programs, to name just a few — were enacted. Together, we have accomplished much.

However, important work remains to be done. Sentencing reform, motor vehicle enforcement coordination, personal property tax phase-out, and solar and alcohol energy incentives all remain for legislative consideration. Moreover, the unbalanced unemployment compensation package will deserve further attention.

Having spent the last decade as a legislator and Lieutenant Governor, I understand the demands and pressures felt by Senators and Representatives during this past session. And, I recognize that sometimes it takes a little time to nurture good ideas. As we look ahead and not back, I intend to mix persistence with patience in working for progress in any way that I can and I will again ask you and your colleagues to join me in meeting the challenge of leadership.

Thank you and have a good summer.

Very truly yours,
Terry E. Branstad
Governor

Sec. . Section 324.3, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new unnumbered paragraph:

NEW UNNUMBERED PARAGRAPH. For the purposes of this section, "index" means the federal highway administration annual average federal-aid composite construction price index, and "fuel consumption" means the total taxable gallons of motor fuel and special fuel reported by the department of revenue. The base year is calendar year 1981. For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1984 and ending June 30, 1985 and each succeeding fiscal year the department of revenue shall annually calculate a factor for adjusting the motor fuel and special fuel excise tax rates. The factor shall be based on the index and the fuel consumption in the previous calendar year and shall be calculated according to the following formula: $X = (Ic/Ib + Fb/Fc)/2$, in which X is the factor, Ic is the index for the previous year, Ib is the index for the base year, Fb is the fuel consumption for the base year, and Fc is the fuel consumption for the previous year. The factor shall be multiplied by the existing motor fuel tax rate and the result, rounded to the nearest one-half cent, shall be the new motor fuel tax rate, except that the rate shall not be less than thirteen cents per gallon and shall not increase or decrease by more than one cent per gallon from one year to the next. The department of revenue shall determine the new motor fuel tax rate by April 1 of each year and cause it to be published in the Iowa administrative code and two newspapers of general circulation. The new tax rate shall take effect on July 1 of each year.

Sec. . Section 324.34, unnumbered paragraph 1, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

For the privilege of operating motor vehicles in this state, there is levied and imposed an excise tax on the use (as defined herein) of special fuel in any motor vehicle. The rate of tax on special

(diesel engine) fuel is thirteen and one-half cents per gallon beginning September 1, 1981 and fifteen and one-half cents per gallon for the period beginning July 1, 1982 and ending June 30, 1984. On all other special fuel the per gallon rate is the same as the motor fuel tax. The tax, with respect to all special fuel delivered by a special fuel dealer for use in this state as defined by section 324.33, shall attach at the time of the delivery and shall be collected by the dealer from the special fuel user and paid over to the department of revenue as provided in this chapter. The tax, with respect to special fuel acquired by a special fuel user in any manner other than by delivery by a special fuel dealer into a fuel supply tank of a motor vehicle or delivery into a motor vehicle special fuel holding tank by a special fuel dealer or distributor, shall attach at the time of the use (as herein defined) of the fuel and shall be paid over to the department of revenue by the user as provided in this chapter.

Sec. . Section 324.34, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new unnumbered paragraph:

NEW UNNUMBERED PARAGRAPH. For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1984 and ending June 30, 1985 and each succeeding fiscal year the department of revenue shall annually multiply the factor determined by the method in section 324.3 by the special (diesel engine) fuel tax rate and the result, rounded to the nearest one-half cent, shall be the new special fuel tax rate, except that the rate shall not be less than fifteen and one-half cents per gallon and shall not increase or decrease by more than one cent per gallon from one year to the next. The department of revenue shall determine the new special fuel tax rate by April 1 of each year and cause it to be published in the Iowa administrative code and two newspapers of general circulation. The new tax rate shall take effect on July 1 of each year.

Sec. 31. Chapter 324, Code 1983, is amended by adding sections 32 through 38 as a new division.

Sec. 32. NEW SECTION. 324.100 LEGISLATIVE FINDINGS. It is the finding of the general assembly that the development of a stable, efficient, and economically viable fuel alcohol industry in this state is in the best interests of the state and the nation because:

1. The demand for petroleum energy sources remains high in this state and the nation despite significant conservation efforts.

2. The continued dependency on foreign sources for these energy resources compromises our national defense capabilities.

3. Continued purchases of foreign energy resources causes a substantial flow of revenue from this state and the nation.

4. Supplies of traditional nonrenewable energy resources and especially petroleum energy resources are being depleted.

5. Fuel alcohol represents a renewable energy resource which can be produced and consumed in this state and our nation using present technologies.

6. The development of an ethanol industry would benefit the economies of this state and the nation.

In view of these considerations, the general assembly endorses the development of a fuel alcohol industry in this state and enacts this law to assist this industry through the stimulation of the fuel alcohol market.

Sec. 33. NEW SECTION. 324.101 DEFINITIONS. As used in this division, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Ethanol" means ethyl alcohol distilled from agricultural products grown in the United States which is intended to be and is capable of being used for the purpose of propelling or running by combustion, internal combustion engines.

2. "Ethanol producer" means a producer of ethanol in this state that uses agricultural products grown in this state for the production of ethanol.

3. "Permit holder" means an ethanol producer who holds a valid ethanol production incentive permit issued by the department of revenue.

4. "Fiscal year" means the twelve-month period beginning July 1 of each year.

Sec. 34. NEW SECTION. 324.102 APPROPRIATION—ETHANOL PRODUCTION INCENTIVE FUND. There is credited annually as provided in section 39 of this Act an amount necessary to pay the production incentive provided in section 324.104 with a maximum annual amount to be credited of five hundred thousand dollars. These moneys shall be credited to the "ethanol production incentive fund" which is hereby created and the fund shall be distributed as provided in this division.

Sec. 35. NEW SECTION. 324.103 ETHANOL PRODUCTION INCENTIVE PERMIT. An ethanol producer, before receiving incentive funds under this division, shall obtain an ethanol production incentive permit from the department of revenue. Application for the permit shall be made to the department of revenue on a form provided by the department of revenue. The application shall include the name and address of the applicant, an estimate of the annual ethanol production of the applicant, and any other information required under rules of the department of revenue. The department of revenue, when satisfied that the applicant has met all requirements, shall issue an ethanol production incentive permit to the applicant. An ethanol production incentive permit expires on June 30 of each year, unless sooner revoked by the department of revenue. An ethanol production incentive permit shall not be assigned by a permit holder. No more than one person or entity may claim a production incentive for ethanol produced at a given production facility during the same fiscal year. Each person is entitled to only one permit and all ethanol produced at all production facilities within this state shall be reported under a single permit. If separate ethanol production facilities are owned by separate business enterprises and the separate business enterprises are controlled or owned by the same person, all such ethanol production facilities shall be considered as being under single ownership, and all of the ethanol production shall be reported under a single permit.

Sec. 36. NEW SECTION. 324.104 PRORATION OF ETHANOL PRODUCTION INCENTIVE FUND. An ethanol producer is entitled to receive quarterly from the director of revenue a production incentive from the ethanol production incentive fund for the first one hundred thousand gallons of ethanol produced by the ethanol producer during each fiscal year. The production incentive for each ethanol producer for eligible gallons of ethanol produced during a fiscal year is fifteen cents per gallon for ethanol which is at least one hundred proof but less than one hundred eighty proof and twenty-five cents per gallon for ethanol which is at least one hundred eighty proof. However, an ethanol producer is entitled to the production incentive only for ethanol which is produced for the first time by the ethanol producer and not blended with gasoline or other motor fuels, and only for ethanol produced during months that the producer holds a valid ethanol production incentive permit. The incentive payment is subject to proration as provided in this section. In order to qualify for an incentive payment for ethanol produced during a quarter, a permit holder shall, within thirty days of the conclusion of the quarter, certify to the director of revenue the number of gallons and proof of ethanol produced by the permit holder in the state, and shall submit or revise an estimate of the holder's fiscal year ethanol production. Incentive payments shall be paid by the director of revenue to qualified permit holders within sixty days of receipt of the holder's certification. The director of revenue shall estimate the anticipated ethanol production by permit holders in the state, and if the director finds that the production of ethanol is such that moneys appropriated for the ethanol production incentive fund are not sufficient to permit payment of the full production incentive, the director of revenue shall distribute the ethanol production incentive fund payment for each permit holder in a manner that the annual appropriation is prorated to each permit holder based on the ratio that the permit holder's ethanol production bears to the total ethanol production by permit holders in the state. However, the director of revenue shall not include in this calculation production of ethanol by a permit holder in excess of one hundred thousand gallons per fiscal year.

Sec. 37. NEW SECTION. 324.105 RULES. The department of revenue shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A as necessary to administer this division.

Sec. 38. NEW SECTION. 324.106 FRAUD—PERMIT REVOCATION—CIVIL PENALTY. An ethanol producer who knowingly makes false certification of ethanol production, false claim, or false application under section 324.103 or 324.104 is not eligible to receive a production incentive under this division. The producer shall pay to the department of revenue an amount equal to the production incentive received by the producer for production during the quarter in which the producer made false certification, false claim, or false application, plus interest from the date of falsification at the rate set under section 421.7 and shall in addition pay to the department of revenue a civil penalty of five hundred dollars. The amounts due under this section may be collected and determined as provided in sections 422.26 and 422.54. The ethanol production incentive permit shall be revoked by the department of revenue for any ethanol producer who is ineligible under this section to receive a production incentive and the ethanol producer shall remain ineligible to receive an ethanol production incentive permit in subsequent years.

Sec. 39. Section 423.24, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

423.24 DEPOSIT OF REVENUE. All revenue arising under the operation of this chapter, derived from the use tax on motor vehicles, trailers, and motor vehicle accessories and equipment, as same may be collected as provided by section 423.7 shall be credited to the road use tax fund except that the first four million dollars collected in each fiscal year shall be credited to the primary road fund and except that for each of the fiscal years in the period beginning July 1, 1983 and ending June 30, 1988 a maximum of five hundred thousand dollars shall be credited to the ethanol production incentive fund. All other revenue arising under the operation of this chapter shall be credited to the general fund of the state.

Sec. . Section 307.29, Code 1983, is repealed effective September 1, 1983.

Sec. . Notwithstanding section 423.24, as amended in this Act, the treasurer of state shall deposit all revenue derived from the use tax on motor vehicles, trailers, and motor vehicle accessories and equipment collected under section 423.7 for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983 and ending June 30, 1984 in the manner provided in this section. The treasurer of state shall credit the revenue collected to the primary road fund and the ethanol production incentive fund in the amounts as specified in section 423.24, as amended in this Act, shall credit one million dollars collected to a special fund with the department of transportation to be used for public transit purposes to implement a state assistance plan and shall credit seven million dollars of the tax receipts collected to the special railroad facility fund created under section 307B.23. Any additional moneys collected under section 423.7 in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983 and ending June 30, 1984 shall be credited to the road use tax fund.

The funds transferred to the special railroad facility fund during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983 and ending June 30, 1984 shall be considered as an interest free loan to this fund. The loan shall be used to purchase railroad right-of-way and trackage facilities in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983 and ending June 30, 1984 and the loan shall be repaid from the proceeds derived from the railroad right-of-way and trackage facilities. However, if the loan is not spent during that fiscal year for the purchase of railroad right-of-way and trackage facilities the amount not so spent shall revert to the road use tax fund on June 30, 1984."

Sec. . Sections 31 through 38 are effective for ethanol produced in this state on or after July 1, 1983.

Sec. . Sections 31 through 38 are repealed effective July 1, 1988. However, claims arising under section 324.104 prior to July 1, 1988, shall be paid in the manner provided in the repealed section 324.104 during the fiscal quarter beginning July 1, 1988 and ending September 30, 1988."

Amend Senate File 370 as amended, passed, and reprinted by the Senate as follows:

1. Page 1, by inserting before line 1 the following:

"Section 1. LEGISLATIVE INTENT. It is the intent of sections 2 and 3 of this legislation, in response to Butler v. State of Iowa, filed February 23, 1983, to define those cases in which a state or municipality, by its highway or road construction or reconstruction policy, may be liable for negligent acts or omissions, and it is not the intent of this legislation to affect those rights, claims, or defenses which exist in the law and which are in areas of litigation other than highway or road construction or reconstruction. The rule of statutory construction that the express mention of one thing implies the exclusion of the other does not apply to this Act.

Sec. 2. Section 25A.14, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new subsection:

NEW SUBSECTION. 8. Any claim based upon or arising out of negligent design or specifications, negligent adoption of design or specifications, or negligent adoption of a policy of street or road maintenance for a road, street, highway, bridge, culvert, overpass, road sign, drainage system or any other aspect of a street or road that was initially constructed or reconstructed in accordance with a professionally recognized engineering or safety standard, criteria, or design theory in existence at the time of the initial construction or reconstruction. It shall be a complete defense for the state to any such claim or cause of action if it is established that any one of the then existing generally recognized standards or criteria was met. No claim under this chapter shall be allowed for failure to upgrade any aspect of existing highways, streets or roads to new design standards. Sealcoating, asphalting, patching, resurfacing, ditching, draining, repairing, graveling, rocking, blading, and maintaining an existing street, road, or highway shall not constitute reconstruction.

This subsection shall not apply to claims based upon failure to follow the then recognized standard.

Sec. 3. Section 613A.4, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new subsection:

NEW SUBSECTION. Any claim based upon or arising out of negligent design or specifications, negligent adoption of design or specifications, or negligent adoption of a policy of street or road maintenance for a road, street, highway, bridge, culvert, overpass, road sign, drainage system or any other aspect of a street or road that was initially constructed or reconstructed in accordance with a professionally recognized engineering or safety standard, criteria, or design theory in existence at the time of the initial construction or reconstruction. It shall be a complete defense for a municipality to any such claim or cause of action if it is established that any one of the then existing generally recognized standards or criteria was met. No claim under this chapter shall be allowed for failure to upgrade any aspect of existing highways, streets or roads to new design standards. Sealcoating, asphalting, patching, resurfacing, ditching, draining, repairing, graveling, rocking, blading, and maintaining an existing street, road, or highway shall not constitute reconstruction.

This subsection shall not apply to claims based upon failure to follow the recognized standard.

Sec. 4. Section 613A.4, subsection 3, Code 1983, is amended to read as follows:

3. Any claim based upon an act or omission of an officer or employee of the municipality, exercising due care, in the execution of a statute, ordinance, or regulation whether the statute, ordinance or regulation is valid, or based upon the exercise or performance or the failure to exercise or perform a discretionary function or duty on the part of the municipality or an officer or employee of the municipality, whether or not the discretion is abused."

2. Page 1, by inserting after line 35, the following:

"Sec. 7. NEW SECTION. COMPARATIVE NEGLIGENCE—EFFECTS.

1. If a claim alleges negligence as the basis for the recovery of damages for injury or death of a person or harm to property, negligence that is chargeable to the claimant diminishes proportionately the amount to be awarded to the claimant as compensatory damages for loss to which the claimant's negligence contributed.

2. In the trial of a claim involving the negligence of two or more persons, including claimants, defendants, third-party defendants, persons who have been released under section 9 of this Act, and persons who are not parties to the action, the court, unless otherwise agreed by all the parties to the action, shall instruct the jury to answer special interrogatories, or if there is no jury the court shall make findings of both of the following:

a. The amount of damages the claimant would be entitled to recover if negligence chargeable to the claimant is disregarded.

b. The percentage of the total negligence allocated to each claimant, defendant, third-party defendant, person who has been released from liability under section 9 of this Act, and person who is determined to have been negligent but who is not a party to the action. For purposes of this paragraph, the court shall disregard the rule of joint and several liability of defendants, but the court may determine that two or more persons are to be treated as one negligent person.

3. In determining the percentages of negligence, the trier of fact shall consider both the nature of the conduct of each negligent party and the extent of the causal relation between negligent conduct and the loss for which damages are claimed.

4. If the claim is tried to a jury, the court shall not give instructions or permit evidence or argument with respect to the effects of the answers to be returned to the interrogatories submitted under subsection 2.

5. The court shall determine the amount of damages payable to each claimant by each other party, if any, in accordance with the findings of the court or jury and the provisions of sections 7 through 9 of this Act.

6. The liability of a party, if any, is limited to that percentage of the damages as found under subsection 2, paragraph a, that is equal to the percentage of negligence chargeable to the party as found under subsection 2, paragraph b. The rule of joint and several liability of defendants does not apply, if a plaintiff is found to bear any comparative negligence.

Sec. 8. NEW SECTION. OFFSETTING CLAIMS. A claim and counterclaim shall not be set off against each other, except by agreement of both parties. However, if upon motion of either party the court finds that the obligation of either party is likely to be uncollectible the court may order that both parties make payment to the court for distribution. The court shall distribute the funds received, and shall declare obligations discharged as if the payment to the court by either party had been a payment to the other party, and as if the distribution of the funds back to the party making payment had been a payment to that party by the other party.

Sec. 9. NEW SECTION. EFFECT OF RELEASE. A release, covenant not to sue, or similar agreement entered into by a claimant and a person who is or may be liable to the claimant for damages discharges the person from liability to the claimant. The agreement does not discharge other persons that are or may be liable unless the agreement so provides, but the agreement does reduce the amount of damages that are recoverable from other persons who are or may be liable to the extent of amounts paid to the claimant in contemplation of the agreement.

Sec. 10. The supreme court shall submit to the general assembly during the 1984 session in the manner provided in section 684.19 changes in the rules of procedure for courts which are necessitated by the enactment of this Act.

Sec. 11. Section 619.17, Code 1983, is repealed. This section shall not be construed to reinstate a rule requiring a claimant to plead and prove freedom from contributory negligence.

Sec. 12. This Act takes effect July 1, 1983, and applies to all cases tried or retried on or after that date.

Sec. 13. The legislative council is directed to establish a joint subcommittee of the senate committee on judiciary, the house committee on judiciary and law enforcement, and the senate and house committees on commerce, to be composed of seven members of the house and seven members of the senate, to study the matter of comparative negligence, comparative fault, contributory negligence, and the effect of the final judicial disposition of Butler v. State of Iowa as they apply to the broad spectrum of tort law in Iowa, during the interim between the seventieth general assembly's first and second session. This joint subcommittee shall be authorized to meet for not less than five days."

3. Title page, by striking lines 1 and 2 and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "An Act relating to tort actions by providing immunity to state and local government employees and officials for certain acts and omissions, relating to punitive damages, and establishing comparative negligence as the basis for liability in relation to claims arising from injury to or death of a person or harm to property."

(3) Exploitation of a dependent adult which means the act or process of taking unfair advantage of a dependent adult or the adult's physical or financial resources for one's own personal or pecuniary profit by the use of undue influence, harassment, duress, deception, false representation, or false pretenses.

Sec. . NEW SECTION. 261.28 SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS LOAN PROGRAM. The Iowa science and mathematics loan program is established to be administered by the commission. The purpose of the loan program is to assist teachers to obtain or to upgrade their teaching authorization in the areas of science or mathematics. The commission shall adopt rules under chapter 17A, in consultation with the board of educational examiners, to administer the program. The rules shall provide that loans not be granted to teachers for the purpose of improving their knowledge of subject content or teaching skills in order to teach courses in subject matter areas for which they possess approval granted by the board of educational examiners. The rules shall also provide that priority for loans be given to teachers possessing minimal qualifications for teaching science or mathematics.

Sec. . NEW SECTION. 261.29 LOANS TO TEACHERS. Loans may be granted only to a person possessing a valid teacher's certificate issued under chapter 260. The annual amount of a loan to a teacher enrolled as a full-time student shall not exceed one thousand dollars for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983 and one thousand five hundred dollars for each succeeding fiscal year, or the total amount of tuition and fees, whichever is less. The annual amount of a loan to a teacher enrolled on at least a half-time basis shall not exceed five hundred dollars for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983 and seven hundred fifty dollars for each succeeding fiscal year, or the total amount of tuition and fees, whichever is less. Loans may be made for courses in programs offered in this state and approved by the board of educational examiners. The board of educational examiners shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A for approval of programs. The rules shall require that the programs provide training in both subject content and teaching methodology for mathematics and science teaching.

The commission shall set a final date for submission of applications each year and shall review the applications and inform the recipients within a reasonable time after the deadline.

Sec. . NEW SECTION. 261.30 APPROPRIATIONS.

There is appropriated from the general fund of the state to the Iowa college aid commission for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983 the sum of forty thousand (40,000) dollars, or as much thereof as is necessary, and for each succeeding fiscal year, the sum of one hundred forty thousand (140,000) dollars, or as much thereof as is necessary, to make loans under sections 261.28 and 261.29.

Sec. . NEW SECTION. 261.31 REPAYMENT.

Repayment of the loan shall begin one year after the teacher completes the educational program for which tuition and fees are received. If a teacher submits evidence to the commission that the teacher was employed as a teacher of one or more science or mathematics courses or as an elementary teacher teaching science and mathematics in a public school district during that year in this state, fifty percent of the amount of the loan is canceled.

At the end of the second year, if the teaching requirements are met, the remainder of the loan is forgiven and payments made by that teacher during the year shall be refunded to the teacher.

There is created a science and mathematics loan repayment fund for deposit of payments made by teachers. Refunds of payments by teachers shall be paid by the commission to the teachers from the fund created in this section. Payments made by teachers that are not refunded shall be transferred on each June 30 from the fund created in this section to the general fund of the state.

The interest rate collected on the loan shall be equal to the interest rate being collected by an eligible lender under the guaranteed student loan program.

The commission shall prescribe by rule the terms of repayment which shall provide for monthly payments of principal and interest of not less than seventy-five dollars.

Sec. . NEW SECTION. 257.27 PROGRAMS FOR IMPROVEMENT OF SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS TEACHING.

The department shall provide for the establishment of programs, approved by the board of educational examiners, for teachers to improve skills in teaching in the science and mathematics areas. Each program shall provide assistance to teachers in subject content and teaching methodology for science or mathematics.

The programs may be established through an area education agency or public or private institution of higher education in this state.

There is appropriated from the general fund of the state to the department of public instruction for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983, the sum of forty thousand (40,000) dollars or as much thereof as is necessary, and for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1984, and each succeeding fiscal year, the sum of one hundred forty thousand (140,000) dollars, or as much thereof as is necessary, to be allocated for the establishment of programs under this section.

Sec. . Section 261.2, Code 1983, is amended by adding the following new subsection:

The department of public instruction shall transmit to the commission a list of high school graduates who have successfully completed the courses required in this section.

For the purpose of this section and section 261.33, an eligible institution is an accredited private institution as defined in section 261.9, subsection 5, an institution of higher learning under the state board of regents, or a merged area school established under chapter 280A.

Sec. . NEW SECTION. 261.33 PAYMENT OF GRANTS. A student meeting the requirements of section 261.32 may make application to the commission, on forms prescribed by the commission, for payment of a supplemental grant to an eligible institution in which the student is enrolled on a full-time basis. The maximum supplemental grant is five hundred dollars per year. Payment under the grant shall be allocated equally among the semesters or trimesters and shall be paid at the beginning of each semester or trimester upon certification by the eligible institution that the student is admitted as a full-time student and in attendance. If the student discontinues attendance before the end of a semester or trimester after receiving payment under the grant, the amount of refund due the student, up to the amount of payment under the grant, shall be paid by the eligible institution to the state.

An eligible student may receive a supplemental grant for two semesters of undergraduate study or the trimester equivalent.

The amount of a supplemental grant to a student shall not be considered when determining financial need under the Iowa tuition grant and Iowa scholarship programs.

Sec. . NEW SECTION. 261.34 APPROPRIATION. Commencing July 1, 1984, there is appropriated from the general fund of the state to the commission for each fiscal year the sum of one million five hundred thousand (1,500,000) dollars for supplemental grants."

Such employee may be hired above the entrance step if possessing outstanding and unusual experience for the position, provided that the entrance is not beyond step 3. Such employee who is hired above the entrance step shall be mobile above that step in the same period of time as other employees in that same step. An officer or employee who is moved to another position may be considered for partial or full credit for their experience in the former position in determining the step in the new grade.

The entry level for the position of research analyst shall be grade 24, step 1, unless extraordinary conditions justify increasing that entry level; however, that entry level may not be increased beyond grade 26, step 1. Be It Further Resolved, That a pay increase for employees of one step within the pay grade for the position may be made for exceptionally meritorious service in addition to step increases provided for in this resolution, upon recommendation of the secretary of the senate or chief clerk of the house and the approval of the senate committee on rules and administration or the house committee on rules and administration. must be submitted to the senate rules and administration committee or house rules and administration committee and approved in advance of granting the pay increase;

c. No more than one exceptionally meritorious service pay increase may be granted in any twelve month period.

Be It Further Resolved, That the secretary of the senate and chief clerk of the house shall receive applications for employment, arrange for any necessary examinations, contact references and make recommendations for hiring. The senate rules and administration committee and the house rules and administration committee shall both hire officers and employees for their respective bodies and fill any vacancies which may occur, to be effective at such time as they shall set. The committee shall report the names of those it has hired for the positions specified in this resolution or the filling of any vacancies on the next legislative day or, if such action is during the interim, on the first day the senate or house shall convene. Any action by the senate or house to amend or disapprove a report or a portion of a report shall be effective the day after the action.

The chief clerk of the house shall submit to the house committee on rules and administration and the secretary of the senate shall submit to the senate committee on rules and administration the list of names, or amendments thereto, of employee classifications and recommended pay step for each officer and employee. Such list shall include recommendations for the pay step for all employees. Each respective committee shall approve or amend the list of recommended classifications and pay steps and publish said list in the journal. The secretary of the senate and the chief clerk of the house shall set the period of employment of intermittent employees under such direction as the senate rules and administration committee and the house rules and administration committee may provide.

leave, health and accident insurance, life insurance, and disability income insurance as are provided for full-time permanent state employees. The computations shall be maintained by the finance officers in each house and coordinated with the state comptroller.

Be It Further Resolved, That should any employee have a grievance concerning their compensation, hours of work, performance of work, or other matter, the grievance shall be resolved as provided in this paragraph or by procedures determined by the senate rules and administration committee or the house rules and administration committee.

The grievance shall first be brought to the attention of the secretary of the senate or chief clerk of the house. The procedure may be informal and oral except that the secretary or chief clerk shall give his or her final conclusion in writing.

An employee may appeal in writing an adverse ruling of the secretary or chief clerk to the Senate Rules and Administration Committee or the House Rules and Administration Committee which shall consider the grievance. The committee's consideration shall be informal except that accurate minutes shall be kept and the final conclusion shall be in writing.

Any employee having a grievance shall have access to all relevant house or senate records, may have the assistance of counsel, and, if the grievance involves a disciplinary action, shall have a written statement of the grounds for the disciplinary action.

Be It Further Resolved, That the compensation of chaplains officiating at the opening of the daily sessions of the house of representatives and the senate of the seventieth general assembly be fixed at ten (10) dollars for each house of the general assembly, and that mileage for chaplains be fixed at the rate of twenty (20) cents per mile to and from the State Capitol. GOVERNOR'S VETO MESSAGES

June 2, 1983

The Honorable Mary Jane Odell
Secretary of State
State Capitol Building

Dear Madam Secretary:

I am enclosing House File 634, an act relating to lotteries by providing for a state lottery, a state lottery board and an agency to oversee lottery operations, a state lottery fund for the deposit of receipts and for the payment of prizes and expenses, licensing of lottery ticket sales agents, administrative procedures necessary in carrying out the intent of the Act, making certain acts illegal, and providing a penalty, and providing that revenue generated shall be distributed to the general fund, which, in accordance with Article III, Section 16, Constitution of the State of Iowa, I hereby disapprove and transmit to the Secretary of State.

This bill would establish a lottery to be operated by a state lottery agency. A five-member lottery board would be established to oversee the operation which is directed to "produce the maximum amount of net revenues for the state in a manner which maintains the dignity of the state and the general welfare of the people." The board is given the powers needed to establish a lottery, license ticket sellers, promote ticket sales and establish any kind of lottery game except for a video lottery which is prohibited.

The public policy impacts of this bill are profound. For the first time, the state of Iowa would be placed directly in the gambling business and the state would be allowed to promote and to reap the profits of that gambling. The bill would set up a new state agency with enormous powers to directly affect the quality of life in the state. And, the bill could impact on the spending decisions of hundreds of thousands of Iowans.

I find it unfortunate that legislation of such magnitude was passed with not a vote to spare during the closing hours of the session when the merits of individual pieces of legislation are often lost in the desire to pass unrelated legislation and the urge to adjourn. Nevertheless, I have reviewed this legislation deliberately and I have attempted to thoroughly consider the views of the hundreds of Iowans who have contacted me on this important issue. After careful study, I have reached the conclusion to disapprove this legislation.

My decision is based on the following concerns:

1) I am concerned about the long term fiscal impact of House File 634. Proponents of the lottery claim that every man, woman and child in Iowa would spend at least $40.50 per year on lottery tickets. That would raise $118 million in gross revenues and, assuming a 40 percent net return to the state, would yield the state $47 million in revenues. Moreover, proponents point to lottery experiences in Colorado and Arizona and claim that an application of those experiences in Iowa would result in $45 to $50 million in net revenues for the state.

I seriously doubt the accuracy of such revenue forecasts. The success of a lottery is apparently quite dependent upon the degree of urbanization in a lottery state. The states with the most successful lotteries have at least 70 percent of their population living in urban areas. Moreover, Arizona and Colorado, which are often used to project Iowa's lottery income, have the great bulk of their population living in a few highly urbanized areas. Highly urbanized areas ease lottery marketing problems and have led to relatively profitable systems.

However, only slightly over one-half of Iowa's population lives in towns of 5,000 or more. Our largest city is but a fraction of the size of Phoenix and Denver and our population is spread relatively evenly throughout our state. This low level of urbanization in Iowa causes me to seriously question the accuracy of revenue projections of those touting lotteries in Iowa.

I also find it difficult to believe that effectively all 2.9 million Iowans would spend at least $40.50 on lottery tickets in the state. In fact, a review of the per capita revenue for 1981 in less urbanized lottery states shows actual per capita revenue of between $4.50 and $12 per year. Indeed, lottery revenue estimates from those who are not proponents of this bill have yielded estimates that are as low as $6 million per year.

In addition to these doubts about the initial year revenues of a state lottery, I am also concerned about the level of projected out-year revenue estimates for a lottery. Initial interest and novelty often provide greater revenues in the first year or two and could create misleading expectations about future revenues. In fact, most states have experienced a drop in gross lottery revenues after the first or second year. Even the Arizona game, touted for its success, experienced a reduction in participation after the initial surge.

Nevertheless, lottery proponents point to the recent revenue increases experienced in a number of states as a sign that lotteries can be regenerated over time. Indeed, some states, including Illinois, have experienced a significant increase in lottery revenues. However, a closer look at the system in these states reveals the reason for the increased activity — stepped-up state marketing efforts. These states have emphasized huge jackpots, introduced instant games and the number game, and developed more sophisticated marketing techniques, including the advertising of big winners to lure participants. In addition, according to the National Council on Compulsive Gambling, lottery receipts and other gambling revenues tend to go up as the economy gets worse. The slumping economy of the last three years has thus fed state lottery coffers.

In sum, there is reason to seriously question the Iowa lottery revenue estimates made by lottery proponents to lure this state into the gambling business. The initial revenues are likely to be less than anticipated and future year revenue is even more likely to fall off unless an expanded state marketing effort and a sour economy drive more people to the ticket counter.

And therein lies my most serious objection to an Iowa state lottery. An Iowa lottery would effectively get state government hooked on gambling. The scenario would run something like this: the legislature would use the optimistic revenue estimates provided by lottery proponents; new programs would be started or existing programs would be funded with the anticipated lottery dollars and a higher level of state spending could result; lottery revenues would not meet expectations and a serious fiscal crisis would ensue.

The state would be faced with three options: 1) cut spending to match actual revenues; 2) raise other taxes to meet the budget needs; or 3) step up marketing efforts with massive promotions to drum up greater lottery participation. Since it is human nature to take the path of least resistance, the legislature would likely opt for gambling promotional blitz. And the state's fiscal gambling addiction would be complete.

I am reluctant to begin that fiscal addiction by approving this bill. I do not want government programs maintained by stimulating the urge some Iowans may have to gamble. I do not want government to feed its fiscal urges by resorting to deceptive advertising and gimmickry. In short, I fear that the noble goal of this legislation — to maximize revenues while maintaining the dignity and general welfare of the people of the state — would become little more than a mutually exclusive proposition.

2) A lottery would have little, if any, positive economic impact in the state. Certainly, it would boost the advertising business and increase the size of the state payroll. However, every dollar spent on a lottery will be one less dollar spent in the private sector economy of this state. Other recreational industry in the state would certainly suffer. Even businesses that sell nondiscretionary goods would feel some impact, particularly if the projections for massive participation hold true.

With the state's economy only now just beginning to rebound, we cannot afford to be nudged backward by a lottery which would stimulate only greater government spending.

Some have posed the question: If pari-mutuel is acceptable, why not a lottery? The reason is economics. Pari-mutuel would stimulate private sector economic activity in the horse industry, hotels, motels, restaurants and racing industry. Moreover, it would bring dollars back into Iowa that are now going to some of our neighboring states. The government would regulate pari-mutuel to ensure its integrity, but it would not operate, promote or directly profit from its success. In short, pari-mutuel will aid in Iowa's economic development; a lottery will allow the government to sap our state's economic strength.

3) Finally, I am philosophically opposed to allowing the state to enter the gambling business. Our state has prided itself on its honest, open and clean government. And that fact has given us effective government, government that the people of Iowa can trust and respect. I fear that involving the government in promoting and profiting from gambling activities that do not have general legal or moral sanction could reduce the strength and effectiveness of our state government. Moreover, the high probability that the state would be forced to engage in deceptive advertising and gambling gimmickry in order to bolster revenues would tarnish the image of the state in the eyes of many Iowans.

Article I, Section 2 of the Iowa Constitution states that, "Government is instituted for the protection, security, and benefit of the people,. . . " As part of that philosophy, the Constitution originally prohibited a state lottery. That made sense in 1857 and it makes sense today. State government should protect, not entice; it should secure, not seduce; it should benefit, not deceive the people of Iowa. Therefore, for the fiscal, economic and philosophical reasons stated above, I hereby respectfully disapprove this House File 634.

Dear Madam Secretary:

I am enclosing Senate File 448, an act relating to the issuance, termination, and requirements for teachers' contracts. In accordance with Article III, Section 16, Constitution of the State of Iowa, I hereby disapprove and transmit to the Secretary of State.

Senate File 448 provides for a number of significant statutory changes in the teacher termination procedures outlined in Chapter 279 of the Code of Iowa. Those changes include:

- elimination of the current provisions which authorize the school superintendent to recommend a teacher termination and the school board to act as the initial hearing panel and trier of fact if the proposed termination is appealed by the teacher. Instead, the bill requires the board and the superintendent to jointly recommend termination. The teacher can request a private meeting with the board to review the reasons for the proposed termination. However, a private hearing officer is substituted for the board as the initial hearing panel and trier of fact if the termination notice is appealed.

- limiting the scope of judicial review of a hearing officer's decision to whether or not the decision is supported by the "substantial" evidence in the record made before the hearing officer. The present law, for the most part, limits judicial review to the "preponderance" of evidence in the record made before the board.

- requiring that the board be required to prove just cause "limited to the employee's performance of duties performed during the normal work day" in order to have the hearing officer uphold the board's termination decision. (emphasis supplied) Currently, the board is held to a just cause standard without statutory limitation in showing reason for termination.

— requiring the board to approve a leave of absence of a teacher to serve in an elected position. Presently, such leaves of absence are subject to bargaining under Section 20.9 of the Code of Iowa.

Proponents of these changes in the teacher termination law argue that the present law does not allow for impartial hearings for the teacher, results in a termination process that is too costly for the parties involved, and provides for an appeals process which does not resolve the appeal in a timely manner. It is argued that Senate File 448 will allow for impartial, speedy and less costly termination appeals.

However, there is no evidence that locally-elected school boards have shown partiality in handling teacher termination appeals. Indeed, in no case has an Iowa court held that a board lacked impartiality. Rather the Iowa Supreme Court has upheld the law and the board's role as an impartial hearing panel. School board members take their responsibility to act as an impartial hearing panel seriously and abuse of the law has not resulted.

Morever, Senate File 448 could actually increase, not decrease, legal costs for the board and the teacher. It adds legal fees associated with the new pre-hearing conference with the board. In discharge cases involving personnel needs or budgetary requirements with varying fact patterns, Senate File 448 allows a teacher to use both the grievance procedures of a collective bargaining agreement and the teacher procedures outlined in the bill. Thus, legal costs could be doubled. And, finally, the bill gives the hearing officer the authority to hold a second hearing on the implementation of a termination remedy.

All of the foregoing provisions could increase, rather than decrease, legal costs. And, that portion of the bill which could decrease costs — the stricter appeal standard — would serve only to remove more decision-making authority from the board.

Senate File 448 would also do little to expedite the termination process. The present law contains strict timetables for termination hearings and board decisions. These provisions wisely ensure that teachers will have their status for the following school year promptly determined. This bill, however, could protract the proceedings by eliminating the decision deadline following the termination meeting of the board and the setting of a hearing date before the hearing officer. Moreover, the outside adjudicator is given twice as long to reach a decision as under current law. In short, Senate File 448 could extend, rather than shorten, the termination process.

Since Senate File 448 apparently does not address the goals of its proponents — impartiality, cost-savings and timeliness — I must question the need for the bill. Indeed, a study of the notices of recommendations to terminate made in 1980-81 and 1981-82 shows that 84 percent of the teachers did not request a hearing before the board and only 4 percent appealed the board's decision to an outside adjudicator. The current law was crafted as a delicate legislative compromise in 1976. As in all compromises, it includes provisions that school boards find distasteful and other provisions not to the liking of teachers. But it has worked; it is balanced; and it does provide for just cause and due process in teacher termination proceedings. Therefore, I fail to see a demonstrated need for wholesale changes in that law as proposed in this bill.

Moreover, I am concerned that Senate File 448 would have other deleterious effects.

1) It would weaken the authority of the locally-elected school board to make crucial education decisions. Currently, the school board conducts the termination hearing, receives evidence, makes the findings of fact and the decision. The record upon which any subsequent appeal is based is made at the school board hearing. Moreover, the current law gives weight to the fact findings of the board in further legal proceedings.

This bill eliminates the board from this essential fact-finding process and gives that authority to an outside hearing officer who, the law states, does not even have to be experienced in the educational system of this state. Nevertheless, these non-elected hearing officers will be given the authority to act as super school boards, viewing each facet of a given teacher's skill, experience or ability and weighing them against those of other teachers.

In addition, the bill further weakens the board by making it more difficult for the board to appeal the hearing officer's decision. The "substantial" evidence standard for appeal of a hearing officer's decision will adversely affect the board's chances of winning any appeals.

School boards are elected by the people of that school district to make certain that the children of that district receive the best education possible. Reviewing the performance of teachers and passing judgment on their performance is an essential quality control tool. This usurpation of the board's decision-making authority would thus weaken the board's ability to discharge its responsibilities.

2) The bill could adversely affect the delicately balanced collective bargaining process in Iowa. As previously mentioned, the bill allows teachers discharged because of the district's personnel needs or budgetary requirements to appeal that decision through the process outlined in the bill as well as through the collective bargaining grievance procedure. This could unduly burden the collective bargaining grievance process.

Moreover, by requiring the board to grant the teacher a leave of absence to serve an elected position, the collective bargaining balance would be tilted away from the boards. Presently, these leaves are a mandatory subject of bargaining and, indeed, some school districts have negotiated agreements to provide for such leaves of absence tailored to fit the local situation. However, the bargaining process should not be pre-empted by legislative action to the disadvantage of public employers.

In addition, I question the public policy reasons for singling out teachers among all Iowa citizens to receive this special "right to serve" status. No other Iowa worker receives a statutorily-mandated leave of absence from his or her job when elected to public office.

3) I believe Senate File 448 could reduce the quality of education in Iowa. The reason: it would substitute the judgment of a private hearing officer for that of the school board in termination appeals. Private sector interpretations of just cause for termination are historically less strict than the settled principles for just cause in schools where the courts have held that school districts are "not married to mediocrity". Wedergren v. South Tama Schools, 307 N.W. 2nd 12. I am concerned that an outside hearing officer would be less sensitive to the need for teacher excellence than members of that school board many of whom have children in the school.

In addition, the bill limits the definition of just cause for termination duties performed during the normal work day. While I understand that the proponents of this language apparently intended to prevent the termination of coaches because of losing records, they failed to define "normal work day" in the legislation. Thus, it is clearly open to interpretation and could conceivably prevent the termination of a teacher for illegal and immoral activity engaged in by the teacher during nonwork time.

Teacher termination standards now relate job performance to leadership and role model effectiveness. These high standards are appropriate for those who touch the lives of all young Iowans. I fear that the limitation of just cause to activities performed during the normal school day would erode the present high role model standards which we apply to teachers. As such, the quality of education, and the quality of life in Iowa could suffer.

I commend legislators for taking steps this year to strengthen educational quality in Iowa. Those actions included an innovative program to meet the math/science and foreign language needs of Iowans for this and the 21st century. However, at a time when the need for educational excellence has never been greater, we can not afford to take a step backward by signing into law Senate File 448.

In summary, Senate File 448 does not address the impartiality, timeliness and cost-effectiveness goals of its proponents. In fact, the present law is working quite well and changes are not needed. Instead, this bill would adversely affect the decision-making authority of locally-elected school boards, disrupt the collective bargaining process and reduce the quality of eduction in Iowa.

For the above reasons, I hereby respectfully disapprove Senate File 448.

GOVERNOR'S ITEM VETO MESSAGES

June 13, 1983

The Honorable Mary Jane Odell
Secretary of State

Dear Madam Secretary:

I hereby transmit House File 613, an act relating to the funding of state agencies for designated service programs including health programs, specialized child health service programs, substance abuse programs, civil rights, veterans' services, and programs for minority, elderly, and disadvantaged persons for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983, and ending June 30, 1984.

House File 613 is approved June 13, 1983, with the following exception which I hereby disapprove.

I am unable to approve that portion of Section 12 which reads as follows:

> As a condition of the appropriation under section 4, subsection 6, the state department of health shall relinquish to the family planning council of Iowa through the department of health and human services federal dollars appropriated under Title X of the Public Health Service Act and allocated for Lyon, Sioux, Plymouth, Woodbury, Cherokee, Ida, Delaware, Dubuque, Jackson, Washington, Louisa, Henry, Lee, and Des Moines counties in order to permit established local family planning providers to continue services without state involvement.

Section 12 of House File 613 appropriates federal funds received by several state human services agencies. However, an item in that section would require the Department of Health (DOH) to relinquish administrative control over federal Title X funds used by local family planning agencies in 14 counties of the state. This provision is apparently designed to give the Family Planning Council of Iowa, rather than the DOH, the authority to administer the federal funds to be distributed to local family planning agencies centered in Sioux City, Dubuque and Burlington.

I cannot approve this item in House File 613 because it violates a service contract, and has potentially adverse public policy impacts.

Several years ago the federal government began routing all Title X (family planning) funds through the DOH to provide for statewide oversight and administrative control. However, over time a few local agencies took exception to that administrative oversight and petitioned to be removed from the state family planning program. DOH acceded to those wishes and, in 1980, allowed all local planning agencies to opt out of the state administered program. Indeed, seven local agencies pulled out and formed their own Family Planning Council of Iowa (FPCI) to receive and distribute the federal Title X funds. The remaining 11 local agencies decided to stay with the DOH program. In addition, one year ago DOH renewed its three-year federal contract for this program and again allowed local agencies to leave the state program. However, no local agency opted out at that time.

During this, the first year of that three-year contract, three local agencies decided to seek to join FPCI. Because of the contract commitment, DOH refused. The local agencies petitioned the legislature and obtained passage of the legislative language at issue here.

I cannot approve that language since it does, indeed, renege on a contract commitment made just last year. Twice in the last three years, these local agencies have had an opportunity to opt out of the state program and decided against it. DOH can not adequately administer the Title X program without some continuity of local agency participation and, this legislative language sets a precedent which would allow individual agencies to opt out of the program at whim. Therefore, these agencies should wait until this contract expires in 1985 before attempting to leave the state program.

In addition, the public policy impacts of this proposed change have not been adequately explored. The FPCI tends to concentrate its efforts on urban areas. It serves a lower percentage of the poor (63%) than does the DOH program (80%). And, the DOH integrates a wider array of health services into the statewide program. However, the impact of this proposed pull-out on family planning services in rural areas, the poor, and other important health needs has not been fully assessed. Waiting until the 1985 contract expiration date will allow for that necessary assessment.

Also, the next two years will provide time to fully investigate the administrative complaints lodged against the DOH by these three local family planning agencies. DOH officials argue that federal requirements and public accountability demand the administrative requirements being placed on local agencies. A thorough review of those requirements may be in order. Indeed, I encourage the three agencies to discuss their concerns with DOH so that these problems can be resolved. Since these discussions have yet to take place, this pull-out action is not justified.

In sum, for both contractual and public policy reasons, I must disapprove this item in Section 12 of House File 613.

Section 4 (7) (c) of House File 613 contains a provision requiring counties to contract only with nonprofit organizations to provide homemaker-home health aide services and chore services. Presently, for-profit organizations are allowed to receive such contracts, but only one limited contract with a for-profit organization has been let. Providing health and chore services to the elderly so that they can stay in their homes is a high priority of mine. Therefore, I have carefully reviewed this proposed legislation so as to ensure the highest quality of care for the elderly at the lowest possible price for the taxpayer.

For-profit nursing organizations contend that if they are able to bid for counties' home health aide contracts, the resulting competition will lead to lower-priced home-based services for the elderly. In addition, it is argued that the quality of service will not decline and that the board of supervisors should be given the authority to make home health aide cost and service decisions for the county. I am in philosophical agreement with both the local control and competition arguments made by the for-profit groups. However, I am troubled by evidence of practical problems experienced in some states that have opened up the home-health aide contracts to for-profit organizations. This evidence includes:

- a Health Care Financing Administration study that shows that for-profit providers have a lower cost per service, but a higher cost per case, due to the for-profit providers' higher utilization rates.

- a Kansas experience with a 30-50 per cent second-year cost increase and a reduction in the quality of care due to the loss of continuity in the care given to the elderly person.

- a Missouri report that much greater state control and supervision is needed to ensure the proper quality and continuity of care.

- the impact the loss of the state contract would have on non-profit home health aide organizations which are able to double the impact of the state's home health aide dollar by raising 50 percent of their funding for these services from private sources.

At the present time, there is but one small contract held by a for-profit organization. The language in House File 613 would thus essentially maintain the status quo in the home health aide program. Moreover, it is possible that for-profit organizations will be able to receive subcontracts to perform these services. In view of that fact and the possible cost and quality of care problems associated with an open bidding system, I have decided to allow this portion of House File 613 to become law. However, I encourage legislators to fully debate this issue next session and to attempt to resolve the quality of service problems which may result from open bidding.

For the above reasons, I hereby disapprove the above item in accordance with Amendment 4 of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items of House File 613 are hereby approved as of this date.

Dear Madam Secretary:

I hereby transmit House File 638, an act relating to and appropriating from the general fund of the state and various trust funds for various operations and grants and aids to departments and agencies of the state whose responsibility relates to agricultural affairs, economic development, and energy and natural resources management.

House File 638 is approved June 9, 1983, with the following exceptions which I hereby disapprove:

I am unable to approve that portion of Section 9, subsection 3, which reads as follows:

> It is the intent of the general assembly that by July 1, 1985 at least fifty percent of the funding of the international offices be supported by sources other than the state.

I am unable to approve the item designated in the Act as Section 9, subsection 7, which reads as follows:

> 7. It is a condition of the funds appropriated by subsection 1 that if the governor finds that the estimated budget resources during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983 and ending June 30, 1984 are insufficient to pay all appropriations in full, the governor is authorized to and shall revert to the general fund the unobligated and unencumbered balance of the three hundred ninety-six thousand seven hundred nineteen (396,719) dollars appropriated by subsection 1 for advertising to promote tourism and conventions, attendance at travel shows, issuing economic impact reports, printing brochures, hosting writers and agents and for a special research project on high technology before making reductions in allotments as allowed under section 8.31.

I commend legislators for adopting my recommendation to create an Asian Office of the Iowa Development Commission (IDC). The existing European office has helped Iowa become one of the top exporting states in the country and the developing of markets in Asia hold great potential for increased Iowa commodity and manufacturing exports. However, House File 638 also includes legislative intent language stating that at least 50 percent of the funding for both the Asian and European offices come from sources other than state by July 1, 1985. Since the bill also authorizes the IDC to seek voluntary contributions or impose service charges, the apparent intent of this provision is to have the IDC begin imposing fees on the businesses making use of the foreign offices and to require private fundraising efforts to finance the offices. I must disapprove this intent language because it would adversely affect our export marketing efforts.

The IDC has found, as a result of the operation of the European office, that in general small to medium size Iowa businesses derive the most benefit from a foreign office. For example, of the 292 Iowa companies interested in exporting for the first time, 93 percent have less than 100 employees. For the most part, these Iowa companies do not have the necessary expertise to export or negotiate in the international market. A foreign office provides those small businesses with that expertise. In addition, a foreign office can open export doors for Iowa businesses which have no daily contacts with prospective overseas customers.

If more Iowa businesses could augment their sales by entering foreign markets, the state economy would improve and more jobs would be created. According to the U.S. Department of Commerce, over 32,000 Iowa manufacturing jobs are now directly related to exports. And, more export markets means even more Iowa jobs. Thus, maximum use of the foreign offices is in the economic interest of the state of Iowa.

However, many small Iowa companies may not be able to afford to pay fees for the use of foreign offices. Moreover, I fear that many Iowa businesses would view the fees as a disincentive to the use of the offices. Indeed, a recent survey indicated that 81 percent of the Iowa businesses involved or interested in exporting believe that there should be no user fees for foreign office services. That viewpoint is understandable considering the fact that 33 other states and localities provide overseas assistance without charge. In short, a mandatory user fee could reduce the use of the foreign offices by the businesses that need them most. And, that would hamper the job creation and economic development goals of our state.

Apparently, the intent of the bill is also to require a private fundraising effort to finance the foreign office costs. A fundraising effort could severely compromise IDC staff time, particularly during the start-up stage of the Asian office. Fundraising is labor and time intensive and every staff hour used to raise private funding for the office is one hour lost for increasing Iowa's overseas markets. Moreover, this provision sets a bad precedent for the standards to be used to judge the performance of the offices. I fear that success in obtaining private funds, rather than increased foreign market development, would be used as a performance measuring stick for these offices if this legislative intent language is allowed to become law.

Therefore, the provision of House File 638 at issue here could hamper Iowa's export development program by reducing the use of the foreign offices by small businesses while limiting the staff time that can be spent on export development. The provision disapproved here is thus contrary to the legislature's effort to increase foreign markets for Iowa companies by opening a new foreign office. Moreover, it is contrary to the economic development and job creation goals of Iowans.

Section 9, subsection 7, of House File 638 requires the Governor to revert to the general fund the unobligated, unencumbered balance of a portion of the IDC appropriation used for travel, tourism and economic development promotion. This reversion would occur only if the Governor estimated that the fiscal year 1984 budget is out of balance and it is designed to prevent an across-the-board cut.

As I indicated in a message accompanying Senate File 531 which included a similar provision, I understand the legislature's desire to avoid across-the-board budget cuts. I, too, view such a cut as one of the last resorts to balance the state budget. However, I cannot approve this subsection because it does not make good economic, budgetary or administrative sense.

This proposal inappropriately singles out the travel and tourism portion of our economic development effort for budget cuts. Iowa now appropriates fewer state funds to travel and tourism than almost any other state. However, a recent study completed for the IDC shows that Iowa has the potential to attract a significant number of tourism dollars. According to the study, this potential can be realized only by substantially increasing the state's financial commitment to travel and tourism. Indeed, studies show that such a commitment can create jobs in the state more rapidly than almost any other state economic development effort. Therefore, I recommended a substantial increase in state appropriations for this purpose and the legislature wisely approved most of that recommendation.

However, this proposal would place travel and tourism funds first on the budget cutting block. If a budget problem does ensue, this provision would have the state revert its new-found commitment to this growth industry. That would cost Iowa jobs and economic growth and the potential state revenue associated with them.

Moreover, it is unlikely that a $396,719 reversion would prevent an across-the-board cut. That amount represents only .0002 percent of the state budget. A shortfall of that size could, in all probability, be made up in administrative savings without resorting to a Section 8.31 budget reduction.

Section 9, subsection 7, would also be a nightmare to administer. The legislature did not appropriate by line item the funds required to be reverted. Rather, the funds affected by this provision are but a portion of the lump sum, $3,006,382 appropriation made to the IDC. Apparently, legislators selected $396,719 for reversion on the basis of two budget decision packages requested by the department. However, other portions of the approved lump sum appropriation also included similar promotional advertising. And to compound the administrative confusion, a separate accounting system is not established for each decision package — the accounting system can not differentiate among decision packages. Therefore, it would not be administratively possible to separately track and thus revert the $396,719 indicated in House File 638.

For the above reasons, I hereby disapprove this item in accordance with Amendment 4 of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items of House File 638 are hereby approved as of this date.

Dear Madam Secretary:

I hereby transmit Senate File 530, an act relating to and making appropriations to various state regulatory, administrative and finance departments, boards, and commissions.

Senate File 530 is approved June 2, 1983, with the following exceptions which I hereby disapprove.

I am unable to approve that portion of Section 2, subsection 1, which reads as follows:

In addition to the funds appropriated in this subsection, there is appropriated for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983 to the office of the auditor of state for the purpose of enhancing the internal and management functions of that office, coordinating auditing staff functions, centralizing staff, providing moving expenses and additional funds for salaries, support, maintenance, and miscellaneous purposes, and subject to the condition that the auditor of state's operational staff, equipment, and furnishings be moved from the state capitol building to an appropriate building located within the state capitol complex, and the use of the space vacated in the state capitol building be dedicated to the legislative branch of government, the sum of three hundred seventeen thousand six hundred sixty-three (317,663) dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary. A ceremonial office for the auditor of state and not more than two staff members shall be established in the state capitol building.

I am unable to approve that portion of Section 2, subsection 3, which reads as follows:

Of the money appropriated in this subsection to the Iowa beer and liquor control department, two hundred eighty-two thousand (282,000) dollars shall be spent on the establishment of six mini-stores and the optical character reader pilot project.

I am unable to approve that portion of Section 2, subsection 16, which reads as follows:

In addition to the funds appropriated in this subsection, there is appropriated for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983 to the office of treasurer of state for the purpose of enhancing the internal and management functions of that office, providing adequate work space, providing moving expenses, and additional funds for salaries, support, and miscellaneous purposes, and subject to the condition that the treasurer of state's operational staff, equipment, and furnishings be moved from the state capitol building to an appropriate building located within the state capitol complex, and the use of the space vacated in the state capitol building be dedicated to the legislative branch of government, the sum of ninety-nine thousand eight hundred seventy (99,870) dollars, or so much as may be necessary. A ceremonial office for the treasurer of state and not more than two staff members shall be established in the state capitol building.

Of the money appropriated in this subsection to the treasurer of state, seventeen thousand (17,000) dollars shall be spent on an accounting technician and the leasing of a computer terminal and printer.

Senate File 530 includes a separate provision requiring that $282,000 of the $18.9 million lump sum appropriation to the Beer and Liquor Control Department be spent on the establishment of six mini-stores in the state. The mini-stores would offer a limited selection of only the fastest-moving, high turnover wines and liquor products. They would be patterned after convenience stores in the private sector which is an experimental marketing concept for the state liquor system. The Beer and Liquor Control Department would determine the location of the mini-stores.

I am sensitive to the desire of a number of Iowa communities to secure a state liquor store. In addition, I can understand the desire of some to experiment with a new liquor marketing technique. However, I cannot approve this appropriation item because it breaks new ground in state liquor marketing at a time when the entire system is under serious review.

Specifically, on March 29 of this year I announced the formation of a task force to study Iowa's liquor system. This 14 member, bi-partisan task force is reviewing the entire state-run liquor system so that any changes proposed for the present system be done thoughtfully and carefully. This group will review four key areas of the state system: public health, safety and welfare; economic impact on the state; public convenience; and private sector competition. Since the proposed mini-store concept would directly affect each of the factors listed above, I believe it would be precipitous to approve the mini-store concept before a full analysis of its consequences is completed by the task force. Instead, I will specifically ask the task force to review this concept and include a recommendation on it in the final report to be presented to me on December 31 of this year. As a result, the next session of the legislature will also have an opportunity to review the findings of the task force and to act accordingly.

Two of the above-mentioned provisions in Senate File 530 are designed to force the Auditor's Office and the Treasurer's Office to vacate the Capitol so that the space now occupied by those two offices can be made available to the General Assembly. The Senate amendment to Senate File 530 which attempted to accomplish these purposes made the entire fiscal year 1984 appropriation to the Auditor and Treasurer contingent upon such a move to the Lucas Building, with the space vacated to be given to the legislative department. However, the House struck the Senate language on this move and instead appropriated approximately 20 percent of the recommended funding level for these offices ostensibly for miscellaneous expenses, including moving costs, on the condition that they be moved out of the Capitol to any appropriate building within the Capitol Complex, with the use of the vacated space given to the legislature. That is the language that was finally enacted by the General Assembly.

However, late in the session, in an apparent acknowledgement that the conditional 20 percent appropriation was in reality not designed to pay for the move, the legislature appropriated $125,000 in the capitals bill to both the Treasurer and Auditor to finance the move. Thus, the legislative history of this proposal clearly indicates that the General Assembly decided to hold hostage 20 percent of the funds needed to operate the Auditor and Treasurer's Offices in order to force them to vacate the Capitol Building so that the legislature could occupy the vacated space.

Despite this threat of a cut in appropriations, both the Treasurer and Auditor have asked me to item-veto it. While I understand the legislative branch's desire for additional space, I must agree with this request for several reasons.

1) The unilateral legislative effort to secure additional space infringes on the delicate balance among the three branches of state government in Iowa. This balance among the executive, legislative and judicial branches of government has been symbolized by the Capitol, which since its dedication in 1884 has been the home of all three branches of government in Iowa. Indeed, changes in Capitol space allocation among the branches have historically been made cooperatively. The most recent change occurred in 1978 when a committee representing all branches of government jointly agreed on a revised space allocation plan. This revised plan gave the legislature two additional committee meeting rooms on the first floor of the Capitol. The agreement further recognized that adequate space within the Capitol remained a problem and the participants were urged to work together to make any further space adjustments that might become necessary.

This unilateral legislative effort to secure additional space violates the spirit of the 1978 space allocation plan. Neither the Treasurer nor the Auditor was consulted prior to this legislative action and no effort was made to resolve differences between the executive and legislative branches on this issue prior to the passage of the legislation.

Moreover, the method used by the legislature to attempt to accomplish this move — threatening a 20 percent cut in operational budgets for these offices — is inappropriate. Such an appropriation reduction could severely hamstring the operations of these two offices and could prevent them from discharging their important executive responsibilities. Certainly, this space allocation issue could have been resolved without resorting to threats to hamper executive branch operations.

2) The proposed legislative takeover of the entire Capitol space now occupied by the Auditor and the Treasurer would be an inefficient use of the Capitol. Legislative leaders have indicated to me that they would plan to make the vacated space into legislative committee rooms. If the legislature maintains the present limitation on the length of sessions, this proposed use would result in vast portions of the Capitol being vacant for up to two-thirds of every year. I believe that Iowans want their Capitol used efficiently. Indeed, I recently received a letter from a state legislator who eloquently expressed this concern, "A very beautiful and majestic State House will soon become just a sterile building if the legislature is allowed to continue the removal of the elected state officials."

3) This proposed move has not been properly planned. For example, there is no place for the Auditor or the Treasurer to move within the Capitol Complex. The Senate originally required a move to the Lucas Building because of a presumed vacancy in that building. However, one floor of the Lucas Building is vacant for good reason — it is uninhabitable since it is being completely renovated. And the Lucas Building renovation is scheduled to continue for several more years. Therefore, the House corrected this error and required a move to any place within the Capitol Complex. However, there is no sufficient space available anywhere within the Complex. Other state agencies would have to be moved to new leased space in order to accomodate the move.

Moreover, the cost of such a move is large and, it is likely that the amount appropriated in the capitals bill would be insufficient to move the two offices and to remodel their Capitol quarters for use as legislative committee rooms. Also the Treasurer's vault, which was originally built in the Capitol for his office, would have to be moved and/or replaced, as would the teller cages. Those structures are not only historically valuable, they are also quite expensive to replace.

Finally, the legislature has not carefully studied its own space needs. Indeed, a space committee was appointed by the Legislative Council in December of 1982. However, the committee has yet to meet and devise a plan identifying legislative space needs and sketching out a method to meet those needs. I understand that legislative consideration of a computer purchase has spurred this desire to locate additional space. I also understand and I can sympathize with the desire to locate all of the Legislative Fiscal Bureau employees in the Capitol. But these and other legislative space needs should be specifically delineated and a plan to meet those needs should be carefully developed prior to consideration of action to force executive branch officials out of the Capitol.

Furthermore, legislative branch space needs should be weighed against those of the executive and judicial branches and the public interest. In order to accomplish this, I suggest that a special committee be convened this summer to study Capitol space needs and to seek an agreement on the future allocation of that space. I pledge the full cooperation of the executive branch in such an effort.

In addition, I plan to instruct the Comptroller's Office to work closely with the Treasurer and Auditor to ensure the proper functioning of those offices, despite the 20 percent reduction in funding included in the legislative language at issue. Also, I will ask for a supplemental appropriation to fully fund these offices and I will urge the legislature to promptly approve that appropriation during the next session.

Finally, I am also vetoing legislative intent language in the Treasurer's appropriation which limits the allowable expenditure of $17,000 of that appropriation. That limitation was placed in the bill at the time that the Treasurer's appropriation was increased by $17,000. It was unintentionally kept in the bill when the House Appropriations Committee deleted the additional funds. Failure to delete that restriction would unnecessarily hamstring the Treasurer's Office.

For the above reasons, I hereby disapprove these items in accordance with Amendment 4 of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items of Senate File 530 are hereby approved as of this date.

Dear Madam Secretary:

I hereby transmit Senate File 531, an act relating to transportation by making appropriations to state agencies whose responsibilities relate to transportation, public safety, and public defense and providing for the maintenance of the fiscal stability of certain state and local agencies by providing conditions by which they may be held liable for damages.

Senate File 531 is approved June 3, 1983, with the following exceptions which I hereby disapprove.

I am unable to approve that item designated in the Act as Section 33, which reads as follows:

Sec. 33. If the governor finds that the estimated budget resources during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983 and ending June 30, 1984, are insufficient to pay all appropriations in full prior to February 1, 1984, and the governor's findings are concurred in by the executive council, the governor shall not make any reductions in allotment as allowed under section 8.31 until the transfers authorized by this section have been made.

Notwithstanding the provisions of section 423.24, there shall be transferred from the revenues collected under chapter 423 in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983 and ending June 30, 1984, from the use tax collected on motor vehicles, trailers and motor vehicle accessories and equipment under section 423.7 an amount necessary to provide the estimated budget resources necessary to pay all appropriations in full. However, the total amount transferred prior to February 1, 1984, shall not exceed twelve million five hundred thousand (12,500,000) dollars.

If upon transfer of the twelve million five hundred thousand (12,500,000) dollars authorized by this section, the governor finds that the estimated budget resources during the fiscal year are insufficient to pay all appropriations in full and the executive council concurs in the governor's findings, the governor may make the reductions of allotments allowed under section 8.31.

Any funds transferred to the general fund of the state under this section prior to February 1, 1984, shall be considered an interest-free loan and the loan shall be repaid from the general fund of the state to the road use tax fund not later than May 31, 1984.

Section 33 of Senate File 531 would allow the transfer of up to $12.5 million of the use tax on motor vehicles from the Road Use Tax Fund (RUTF) to the state's general fund if revenue estimates are less than total appropriations. This transfer is required to be implemented prior to any action to reduce state allotments under section 8.31 of the Code of Iowa. The transfer must be made prior to February 1, 1984 and the amounts transferred must be repaid to the RUTF no later than May 31, 1984.

I can understand the legislative desire to provide for alternatives to across-the-board budget cuts. I, too, view such cuts as one of the last resorts to be used to balance the state budget. However, I cannot approve this section of Senate File 531 because it would not effectively forestall such a cut, it could tempt the General Assembly into funding on-going state programs with RUTF, and it could unnecessarily disrupt the expenditure of these funds for needed road projects.

This concept was added to Senate File 531 as an amendment during debate in the House. The House amendment did not specifically include a provision to repay these funds to the RUTF. However, intent language was added stating that the legislature would repay these funds no later than June 30, 1985. As a result, the ending fiscal year 1984 balance, which is calculated based on the status of the general fund on June 30, 1984, would have been increased by the amount of the transfer.

However, the conference committee report which was passed by the legislature requires repayment by May 31, 1984 — one month before the close of the 1984 fiscal year. Thus, the fiscal year 1984 ending balance for the general fund would not be affected by the transfer. There would be no net increase in the general fund balance.

The Governor must base the decision to exercise a section 8.31 budget reduction on the expected ending general fund balance. Since Section 33 would have no impact on that balance, it would not act as an alternative to an across-the-board budget cut. Therefore, this section would apparently be unable to meet its intended purpose.

Moreover, the section could have adverse impacts. This provision would prevent the Department of Transportation from budgeting for the use of the $12.5 million available for transfer since those funds would potentially be placed in the state's general fund for a few months of every year. This would lead to an unstable road repair program with fluctuations in the work force and in the accompanying supply system. Those funds would be better spent on highway projects where they could create jobs and economic activity, especially in light of the fact that they would provide no net benefit to the state's general fund.

Also, I am concerned that this provision could tempt the General Assembly into funding on-going state operations with funds intended for the RUTF. At one time, a portion of the sales tax on automobile parts and accessories was earmarked for the RUTF. However, a temporary diversion to balance the general fund and to meet budget priorities eventually resulted in a permanent loss of the revenue to the RUTF. I am concerned that the same temptation could exist as a result of this temporary effort to balance the general fund.

For the above reasons, I hereby disapprove this item in accordance with Amendment 4 of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items of Senate File 531 are hereby approved as of this date.

Dear Madam Secretary:

I hereby transmit Senate File 532, an act relating to the administration and financing of correctional and mental health programs under the jurisdiction of the Department of Social Services or its successor agencies for the fiscal period beginning July 1, 1983, and ending June 30, 1984.

Senate File 532 is approved June 9, 1983, with the following exception which I hereby disapprove.

I am unable to approve that portion of Section 3 which reads as follows:

> The division of adult corrections shall establish a plan to reduce the inmate population of the men's reformatory to eight hundred eighty-five inmates by September 1, 1984. On and after September 1, 1984, the superintendent of the men's reformatory shall not admit additional inmates to the men's reformatory if the inmate population of the men's reformatory equals or exceeds eight hundred eighty-five inmates.

The foregoing portion of Section 3 of Senate File 532 requires the Division of Adult Corrections to establish a plan to reduce the inmate population at the Anamosa men's reformatory to 885 inmates by September 1, 1984. It also prohibits the Anamosa superintendent from accepting any additional inmates on or after September 1, 1984, if the inmate population is 885 or greater. Thus, an effective population cap is placed on the men's reformatory.

This provision was added to Senate File 532 in subcommittee by legislators who were concerned about the prison population levels at Anamosa. Indeed, periodically during the past year the population at Anamosa has exceeded the level for which it was funded. While I can understand this concern about the prison population at Anamosa, I must disapprove this effort to place a prison cap on the men's reformatory.

First, requiring the superintendent at Anamosa to turn away inmates if the population there is 885 or greater would reduce the administrative flexibility needed to properly and safely manage our prison system. Presently, those inmates entering our prison system are carefully screened through a classification system and sent to the corrections facility which best suits their needs and the security requirements of the system. Medium security male inmates are sent to the Anamosa, Rockwell City or Mount Pleasant correctional facilities. In addition, those inmates representing the greatest security risk are sent to Anamosa and those requiring less secure facilities are sent to Rockwell City and Mount Pleasant. This proposed cap at Anamosa could effectively require prison officials to send inmates to Mount Pleasant and Rockwell City even though those facilities cannot secure those inmates properly. The public's safety could thus be threatened.

Moreover, this proposed cap at Anamosa could divert inmates to other institutions and cause the population at those facilities to increase beyond all previous expectations. This could present serious management and safety problems for prison officials and the public. Also, such a cap could arbitrarily prevent an inmate from receiving appropriate work experience or training which may be offered only at the Anamosa facility. In short, prison officials need the flexibility to control the inmate population at individual institutions so that inmate needs and the public's safety can be protected.

Second, while there have been prison population problems at Anamosa, the present inmate count at the men's reformatory is 1,013. And, that is approximately the population level for which funding has been provided. While the design capacity of the institution may be somewhat less than 1,000, state prison officials have assured me that Anamosa has the management space for that number of inmates. Indeed, Anamosa prison officials have done a commendable job of efficiently and safely managing prison populations of over 1,100. Thus, Anamosa can be properly managed and funded without the proposed reduction in the inmate population.

Third, the cap may not be needed to reduce the population at Anamosa. Legislative capital appropriations should allow for the opening of the Oakdale facility and the expansion of the Mount Pleasant unit by September 1, 1984. These additional 464 prison beds are designed to reduce the inmate population at both Fort Madison and Anamosa. Indeed, prison officials expect the additional prison capacity to allow them to reduce the Anamosa population below 900 by September of 1984. Therefore, the intent of the proponents of this provision — to reduce the Anamosa prison population — may be met without an Anamosa prison cap.

Moreover, the legislature has retained the system-wide prison population cap. While I believe a more appropriate prison population control mechanism would be a classified sentencing system, the system-wide cap does act to regulate the overall prison population without tampering with the population at each institution.

For the above reasons, I hereby disapprove this item in accordance with Amendment 4 of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items of Senate File 532 are hereby approved as of this date.

Dear Madam Secretary:

I hereby transmit Senate File 533, an act relating to and makng appropriations to agencies, institutions, commissions, departments, and boards responsible for education programs of this state.

Senate File 533 is approved June 3, 1983, with the following exceptions which I hereby disapprove.

I am unable to approve the item designated in the Act as Section 6, which reads as follows:

> Sec. 6. There is appropriated from the funds appropriated to the Iowa college aid commission in section 261.25, subsection 1, an amount sufficient to make payments to individuals who were eligible to receive a tuition grant during any of the fiscal years beginning July 1, 1980 and ending June 30, 1983 but were found ineligible because they transferred from one accredited private institution to another but failed to notify the college aid commission of the transfer by the deadline date imposed by the commission. The amount of a payment is equal to the amount of the tuition grant that would have been received by an eligible recipient pursuant to section 261.12. The college aid commission shall publish information about the eligibility for the payments under this section and shall determine the names of those individuals eligible to receive payments. Upon the receipt of proof from an eligible individual that the individual was admitted and in attendance at the accredited private institution for a semester or the trimester equivalent, the college aid commission shall make the payments.

I am unable to approve that portion of Section 8, subsection 12, paragraph a, which reads as follows:

> Notwithstanding section 8.33, unencumbered or unobligated funds appropriated in 1981 Iowa Acts, chapter 8, section 8, subsection 10, paragraph c, for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1982 and ending June 30, 1983 are appropriated to the department of public instruction for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983 and ending June 30, 1984, to be allocated to the merged area schools for general aid purposes.

Section 6 was a last minute legislative addition to Senate File 533. This section directs the Iowa College Aid Commission to reinstate Iowa tuition grants which were withdrawn over the past three years because the recipients neglected to inform the Commission of a college transfer by the date required for reporting a transfer. The Commission would be required to make these payments out of funds appropriated for future tuition grants. The Commission must also determine the names of those eligible for the payments and publicize the eligibility information.

The Iowa tuition grant program has been immensely successful in providing Iowa students with the financial ability to study at Iowa's fine private colleges and universities. Last year, over 10,000 Iowa students received a tuition grant. I strongly support this program and I am pleased that the legislature included in this bill my recommendation to substantially increase funding for it.

Because of the sizeable participation in this program, the Commission is forced to set deadlines and to require conformance with the terms of the tuition grant award. Indeed, in order to efficiently and fairly handle the more than 30,000 student documents received each year, the Commission must establish orderly procedures and deadlines for the program. One of these deadlines relates to the transfer notification.

Students receiving tuition grants are allowed to transfer from one college to another while retaining their grant. However, the Commission staff is then required to recalculate the revised amount of the grant, since grant amounts are based upon college costs. In order to recalculate the grant, the Commission must be notified of the transfer. Otherwise the grant will be sent to the original college, which will in turn notify the Commission that the student is not enrolled. As a result, the tuition grant will be withdrawn and the award will be made to another student. In short, the student must notify the Commission of a transfer in order to avoid losing a grant award.

In addition, the Commission's administrative rules clearly state that the student, to be eligible for a grant award, must meet the terms and conditions of the grant award. Indeed, the grant award to all students clearly specifies that any change in college must be reported to the Commission and failure to do so may result in the loss of the award.

This provision of Senate File 533 at issue here thus attempts to void the transfer notification condition of the tuition grant awards for the last three years. I cannot approve Section 6 for the following reasons.

1) The retroactive funding for these tuition grants will reduce next year's tuition grant appropriation. The fiscal estimates of this provision are as high as $80,000 for each of the last three years. Thus, Section 6 could deny up to $240,000 in tuition grants to needy students planning to go to a private college this fall. It would be unfair to penalize future students for the failure of past students to abide by the terms of their grant awards.

2) Many of the needy students who failed to receive a tuition grant because of the failure to provide a transfer notification were still able to be helped with federal or college funds. Moreover, federal or college student aid rules could require the repayment of the federal or college aid received upon the receipt of the retroactive tuition grant award. Thus, Section 6 of this bill could give the students an administrative headache and little financial assistance.

3) This provision of Senate File 533 would place an additional administrative burden on both the College Aid Commission and the private colleges. Section 6 would require the Commission and the private schools to spend a sizeable amount of time reconstructing records of students who may no longer be enrolled. This would be an additional administrative task for private colleges during an extremely busy time of the year for financial aid staff. The time spent trying to reconstruct records of students who may not be enrolled in the fall will detract from the attention that can be given to new students with financial needs.

4) The transfer notification deadline does not appear to be unreasonable. It is needed to fairly and efficiently award grants to the thousands of Iowa students who apply for them. Moreover, the notification deadline is plainly spelled out to the student on the grant award and has been well-publicized. There would appear to be no reasonable excuse to violate the notification requirement.

While students and parents may occasionally get frustrated by particular procedures, they are needed for consistency and fairness. And no single rule violation should be singled out for special treatment. If rule changes are needed, it would be far better to work with the Commission to revise them than to tie retroactive rule changes to appropriations for new students.

The appropriation for the merged area schools contains a provision which would allow area schools to retain the unspent portion of their additional fiscal year 1983 utility and fuel funds for expenditure in fiscal year 1984. I am unable to approve that provision because it would result in inequitable treatment of utility budgets for state-funded agencies and institutions.

In 1981, the legislature appropriated $600,000 for fiscal year 1982 and 1983 in additional utility and fuel funds for the area schools. These funds were intended to pay for any utility and fuel costs that were larger than expected. Due to a slower than expected rise in utility costs over the past year, up to $300,000 of the special utility appropriation will not be spent this fiscal year.

Ordinarily, that amount would revert to the state's general fund. However, this portion of Senate File 533 allows the area schools to retain the unspent funds and to roll them into the base upon which future budgets will be built.

Many state agencies experienced a similar surplus of utility appropriations and these extra funds are being reverted to the state's general fund. Indeed, the Board of Regents will be reverting over $6 million to the general fund, most of which is the result of unspent utility funds. These reversions are welcome since they will provide a needed boost to the state's strained budget. State fiscal demands prevent an exemption of merged area schools from these utility reversions.

Moreover, while I understand the fiscal concerns of area schools, I question whether the merged area schools need to be singled out for this special treatment. The state has historically attempted to treat the area schools and the Regents institutions similarly when funding operational budgets. Indeed, my budget applied the same budgetary guidelines to the area school operational budgets as those applied to the Regents. However, the legislature reduced the Regents fiscal year 1984 utility budget significantly below my requests while increasing the merged area budget by $400,000 over my recommendation. Since there is no evidence of significantly higher fuel rates for area schools than those paid by the Regents institutions, there would appear to be little reason to exempt the area schools from reverting their unspent utility funds to the state.

For the above reasons, I hereby disapprove these items in accordance with Amendment 4 of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items of Senate File 533 are hereby approved as of this date.

Terry E. Branstad

Dear Madam Secretary:

I hereby transmit Senate File 548, an act for the purpose of improving the Iowa economy and providing improved employment conditions by establishing work relief programs for unemployed Iowans, establishing energy management programs for certain local governments and in buildings owned or occupied by state agencies, encouraging capital investment to stimulate the establishment or expansion of small business and industry, establishing a small business division within the Iowa Development Commission, creating an Iowa product development corporation, appropriating funds for a residential mortgage interest reduction program, creating an Iowa high technology council, establishing a community development loan program, establishing a fund from which to make loans for the establishment of soil and water conservation practices, authorizing the Iowa Department of Transportation to issue and become obligated for road use tax revenue bonds, establishing a job training partnership program, providing for the establishment of a corporation by the Iowa Development Commission which will organize and manage an investment fund which will invest in Iowa enterprises and allowing a state income tax credit on the net investment in the fund, establishing a program to aid communities in developing festivals and other tourist attractions, and making various appropriations to carry out the programs.

Senate File 548 is approved June 12, 1983, with the following exceptions which I hereby disapprove.

I am unable to approve the item designated in the Act as Section 1 and that portion of Section 2 which reads as follows:

Section 1. TITLE. Division I of this Act shall be known as the "Iowans Out of Work Act of 1983".

Sec. 2. IOWA JOBS NOW. There is appropriated from the general fund of the state for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983, and ending June 30, 1984, three million six hundred thousand (3,600,000) dollars, or so much thereof as is necessary, to establish and fund a statewide work relief program for unemployed Iowans, to be known as the Iowa jobs now program, in accordance with the following conditions:

1. Of the funds appropriated under this section from the general fund of the state, three million (3,000,000) dollars, or so much thereof as is necessary, is appropriated to the office for planning and programming to be used as follows:

b. Funds under the program shall be made available to the state, a state agency, or a county or city which establishes and administers a work relief project, but shall not be made available to a hospital or a school district. The jobs commission shall prescribe standards for the priority selection of work relief projects to be funded under the program. The standards shall include, but are not limited to, priority selection based on the commitment of local matching funds at a ratio of one dollar of local funds to each dollar of state funds; the project's rate of economic return to the community; the number of individuals who will work on the project; the number of individuals who would benefit from the project; the benefit to the community as a whole and the need for the project. Sixty percent of the state funds shall be targeted to those counties of the state with unemployment rates at least two percent above the statewide unemployment rate, as determined by the jobs commission from statistics provided by the department of job service. The remaining funds shall be distributed to other counties of the state. The office for planning and programming may prohibit or limit the use of the funds for state, county or city administrative or supervisory expenses. The state, state agency, county or city shall pay for all necessary project supplies and materials. The office for planning and programming shall not administer or supervise local projects but shall provide technical support and financial accounting services only to the program. The office for planning and programming shall not use more than one and one-half percent of the funds appropriated under this subsection for administrative expenses.

c. The state, state agency, county or city which establishes a local work relief project shall administer the project and shall hire and supervise individuals to work on the project. The state shall provide general liability coverage for the individuals employed, under chapter 25A as if the individuals were employees of the state. The state shall provide workers' compensation coverage for the individuals employed under sections 85.57 and 85.58 as if the individuals were state employees. Individuals employed on a project are exempt from the provisions of chapter 96, under section 96.19, subsection 6, paragraph a, subparagraph (6), subpart (e), and are hereby exempted from the provisions of chapter 19A, 97B, and 400.

d. The state, state agency, county or city shall employ only those unemployed individuals, who receive little or no unearned income and who have exhausted all available unemployment compensation benefits or are not eligible for unemployment compensation benefits, to work on a local work relief project. The jobs commission may prescribe a uniform procedure to disregard all or a portion of an unemployed individual's unearned income. The individuals shall be paid the federal statutory minimum hourly wage, and shall not be employed for more than thirty-two hours per week in order to allow the individuals to seek private employment. The individuals shall apply for any job training or counseling services available within their respective service delivery areas under the federal Job Training Partnership Act, Pub. L. No. 97-300.

This subsection shall not be construed to disqualify individuals employed by a local work relief project from receiving services for which the individuals are otherwise eligible under the federal Job Training Partnership Act, Pub. L. No. 97-300.

e. The state, state agency, county or city shall not employ the individuals to replace regular state, county or city employees, but shall employ the individuals in labor-intensive jobs for no longer than six months. However, if federal law or regulation prohibits an individual's exemption from chapter 96, the individual shall be employed for no longer than three months. Hiring practices shall follow an affirmative action plan based upon guidelines provided by the Iowa state civil rights commission. The plan shall provide for the hiring of women in traditional and nontraditional employment.

f. Notwithstanding section 8.33, unencumbered or unobligated funds appropriated by this subsection for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983 and ending June 30, 1984 shall not revert to the general fund of the state until June 30, 1985.

2. Of the funds appropriated under this section from the general fund of the state, five hundred thousand (500,000) dollars, or so much thereof as is necessary, is appropriated to the office for planning and programming to contract with the federal action agency for the establishment and funding of a volunteers in service to Iowa program for unemployed Iowans in accordance with the following conditions:

a. The policy-making commission established in subsection 1 shall direct and supervise the establishment and funding of the volunteers in service to Iowa program. The office for planning and programming shall contract with the federal action agency to administer the volunteers in service to Iowa program on a cost-sharing basis with the federal action agency. The federal action agency shall not use more than one and one-half percent of the funds appropriated under this subsection for administrative expenses. If the office for planning and programming is unable to contract with the federal action agency, the office shall monitor the use of funds under the program, and shall not use more than one and one-half percent of the funds appropriated under this subsection for administrative expenses.

b. Funds under the program shall be used to pay a stipend of three hundred thirty-five dollars per one-month period to unemployed volunteers who receive little or no unearned income and who have exhausted all available unemployment compensation benefits or are not eligible for unemployment compensation benefits. In addition, the volunteers shall receive at the end of their period of work assignment, seventy-five dollars for each month of work completed. The commission may prescribe a uniform procedure to disregard all or a portion of an unemployed individual's unearned income. The volunteers may be assigned to work for any public or nonprofit entity for a minimum of six months and a maximum of one year. However, if a contract with the federal action agency is not entered into for administration of the program, a volunteer under the program shall be assigned to work for no longer than three months. The volunteers shall agree to make a full-time commitment to a work assignment which is beneficial to the community or assists unemployed or elderly, low-income Iowans or other needy Iowans to become more self-sufficient or to improve their quality of life. The volunteers shall be available for work at least forty hours per week without regard to regular working hours and at all times during their periods of work, except for authorized periods of leave. The work assignments may include, but are not limited to, assignments to projects providing chore services for the elderly, remedial reading or writing instruction, community or individual gardening instruction and organization, food cooperative instruction and organization, home energy conservation assistance, skill-sharing instruction and organization, distribution services for public or private commodities, and child day care. The work assignments shall not be made to replace regular employees or for participation in religious activities. The work assignments shall, if possible and where needed, be approached in a manner which would assist in the continuation of volunteers' assignments beyond their terms of assignment, by encouraging local involvement.

c. The public or nonprofit entity to which an individual is assigned shall supervise and direct the individual and shall pay for all necessary work materials, supplies, and transportation costs. Work assignment practices shall follow an affirmative action plan based upon guidelines provided by the Iowa state civil rights commission. The plan shall provide for the assignment of women to traditional and nontraditional employment. If the federal action agency administers the program, volunteers are provided general liability, health and accident, and workers' compensation coverage pursuant to federal regulations. If a contract with the federal action agency is not entered into for the administration of the program, the state shall provide general liability coverage for the volunteers, under chapter 25A, as if the volunteers were employees of the state, and the state shall provide workers' compensation coverage for the volunteers under sections 85.57 and 85.58 as if the volunteers were state employees. The volunteers are exempt from the provisions of chapter 96, under section 96.19, subsection 6, paragraph a, subparagraph (6), subpart (e), and are hereby exempted from the provisions of chapters 19A, 97B and 400.

d. Notwithstanding section 8.33, unencumbered or unobligated funds appropriated by this subsection for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983 and ending June 30, 1984 shall not revert to the general fund of the state until June 30, 1985. Funds appropriated by this subsection may be transferred under section 8.39 to the local work relief projects funded under subsection 1 if the funds are not needed for the volunteers to service in Iowa program.

3. Of the funds appropriated under this section from the general fund of the state, one hundred thousand (100,000) dollars, or so much thereof as is necessary, is appropriated to the Iowa arts council, to be used as follows:

a. An individual artist may receive a cash grant not to exceed three thousand dollars for a project determined to be in the public good including but not limited to touring performances and exhibitions, concerts for hospitals or nursing home residents, school concerts, participation in art festivals, fairs, and conventions, paintings, drawings, or sculpture for state buildings, photographic documentation of life in Iowa, public murals, training seminars for students, poetry readings, publications, school residencies, or other projects which are open to the public. b. An eligible organization under paragraph d may apply for a grant not to exceed three thousand dollars to match an equal amount to be used to hire, for up to one year, an artist-in-residence or arts administrator. Artists hired must meet the eligibility requirements of paragraph d.

c. Applications for a grant may be submitted to the Iowa arts council or to any job service office in the state. Applications shall be reviewed monthly by an advisory committee appointed under section 304A.6, subsection 4. The advisory committee shall submit recommendations to the council regarding possible recipients and the grant amount.

e. The Iowa arts council shall require all grantees to sign a contract and to report to the council within forty-five days following completion of the project. Works produced by a person receiving an individual grant are the property of the state in care of the Iowa arts council. Works produced by a person hired by an organization receiving a grant are the property of the organization.

4. The policy-making commission established in subsection 1 shall cooperate with the state job training coordinating council established pursuant to the federal Job Training Partnership Act, Pub. L. No. 97-300, in the implementation of the Iowa jobs now program. State agencies shall cooperate with the federal action agency in the implementation of the volunteers in service to Iowa program and with the office for planning and programming in the implementation of the Iowa jobs now program, and shall provide necessary job training and technical assistance, for short periods of time, in assisting in the implementation of the Iowa jobs now program. Chapter 17A does not apply to the office for planning and programming or to the cooperating state agencies in the implementation of the Iowa jobs now program.

I am unable to approve the item designated in the Act as Division III which reads as follows:

The authority shall use the funds to cooperate with and implement the certified development program of the United States small business administration. The funds provided by the authority shall be in the form of loans. The loans shall be made available in cooperation with local and statewide certified development companies and shall be available to small businesses qualified under guidelines of the United States small business administration. For purposes of this division, "small business" means small business as defined in section 220.1, subsection 28 and "capital infusion loan" means a loan under this division by the authority to a small business.

Sec. 9. NEW SECTION. 220.72 CAPITAL INFUSION LOANS. Capital infusion loans authorized under this division shall be made from funds appropriated to the authority for that purpose. A capital infusion loan shall be made only in conjunction with a loan made through or in conjunction with a United States small business administration loan for a project. The capital infusion loan shall not constitute more than ten percent of the entire amounts loaned to the small business with respect to the project. The authority may fund other portions of the project with loans of the authority made pursuant to other sections of this chapter.

Capital infusion loans shall be repaid under terms determined by the authority. However, the small business shall not be required to pay interest on that part of the loan received from funds appropriated to the authority for that purpose from the general fund of the state.

Sec. 10. Sections 7 through 9 are enacted as a new division of chapter 220.

Sec. 11. There is appropriated from the general fund of the state to the Iowa housing finance authority for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983 and ending June 30, 1984, the sum of five million (5,000,000) dollars, or so much thereof as is necessary, to implement this division.

I am unable to approve the item designated in the Act as Division VI which reads as follows:

Sec. 34. There is appropriated from the general fund of the state for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983, and ending June 30, 1984, to the Iowa housing finance authority the amount of three million (3,000,000) dollars to be used to fund the program to reduce interest costs to be paid on loans established in section 220.81 of Senate File 223 as enacted by the 1983 Session of the Iowa general assembly.

I am unable to approve the item designated in the Act as Section 41 which reads as follows:

Sec. 41. If the governor finds that the estimated budget resources during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983 and ending June 30, 1984 are insufficient to pay all appropriations in full and the governor's findings are concurred in by the executive council, the governor shall not make any reductions in allotment as allowed under section 8.31 until the expended funds appropriated by this division are included in the estimated budget resources. Upon inclusion of the unexpended funds appropriated in this division in the estimated budget resources, any funds appropriated by this division and not encumbered shall remain in the general fund of the state.

If upon inclusion of the funds appropriated by this division in the estimated budget resources for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983 and ending June 30, 1984 as authorized by this section, the governor finds that the estimated budget resources during the fiscal year are insufficient to pay all appropriations in full and the executive council concurs in the governor's findings, the governor may make the reductions of allotments allowed under section 8.31.

I am unable to approve the item designated in the Act as Division X which reads as follows:

Sec. 55. NEW SECTION. 307.41 SHORT TITLE. Sections 307.41 through 307.62 are created as a separate division of chapter 307, known as the "Iowa Economic Development Highway Bond Act".

Sec. 56. NEW SECTION. 307.42 DECLARATION OF NECESSITY AND PURPOSE. The purpose of this division is to benefit the citizens of Iowa by assuring that adequate funds are available to meet road transportation needs of the state, to construct, reconstruct, and improve the highways and bridges of this state, including acquiring rights-of-way for them, and to assure that there are adequate highways for the health, safety, economic development, prosperity, and well-being of the citizens of Iowa. It is the further purpose of this division to authorize the department to issue bonds to finance the improvement of existing highways and bridges and to reconstruct, construct, and improve these highways as necessary for the health, safety, economic development, prosperity, and well-being of the citizens of Iowa. All of the purposes stated in this section are public purposes for which public moneys may be borrowed, expended, advanced, loaned, and appropriated.

Sec. 57. NEW SECTION. 307.43 LEGISLATIVE FINDINGS. The general assembly finds and declares:

1. The construction, reconstruction, and improvement of an adequate highway system within this state is vital for the well-being, health, safety, economic development, and prosperity of the state, its citizens, and its economy.

2. It is essential to the continued well-being, health, safety, economic development, and prosperity of the state, its citizens, and its economy that the state proceed promptly to improve existing roadways, acquire real property necessary to constitute right-of-way for future highway construction, construct, reconstruct, and improve highways and bridges, and have adequate financial resources to meet these needs.

3. Current revenues available are insufficient to construct, reconstruct, and improve the highways and bridges necessary for the continued well-being, health, safety, economic development, and prosperity of the state, its citizens, and its economy.

4. The issuance of the department of road use tax revenue bonds, the appropriation of the net proceeds of the bonds to the primary road fund, and the appropriation of funds of the road use tax fund to the payment of principal of and interest on the road use tax revenue bonds are in all respects for the benefit of the people of the state of Iowa, for the improvement of their health and welfare, and for the promotion of economic development and the economy, all of which are public purposes.

Sec. 58. NEW SECTION. 307.44 DEFINITIONS. When used in this division, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Construction projects" or "road construction projects" means the surfacing and resurfacing of primary roads and the grading, draining, paving, bridging, and the incidental work in connection therewith, the reconstruction and improvement of primary roads and bridges, and the acquisition of real property for future highway needs.

2. "Bonds" means negotiable road use tax revenue bonds of the department issued pursuant to this division, and all bonds, notes, and other obligations issued in anticipation of these bonds or as refunding bonds pursuant to this division.

3. "Primary roads" means as defined in section 306.3, subsection 2.

4. "Primary road fund" means the fund created by section 313.3.

5. "Highway bond fund" means the fund created in section 307.51.

6. "Road use tax fund" means the fund created by section 312.1.

7. "Treasurer" means the treasurer of the state of Iowa.

Sec. 59. NEW SECTION. 307.45 BONDS AUTHORIZED. The department may issue and sell bonds in an amount not to exceed ten million dollars, and may become obligated to pay the bonds, as provided in this division. Bonds are limited obligations of the department payable solely from the highway bond fund. The total amount of bonds outstanding at any time shall not exceed ten million dollars. If the supreme court of this state determines that this division and any bonds issued and sold pursuant to this division are not in violation of the constitution of this state the limit on the total amount of bonds that may be outstanding at any one time shall be increased by one hundred million dollars. Beginning with the fiscal year after such determination by the supreme court and for each fiscal year thereafter if the actual amount of road use tax revenues credited to the primary road fund in a fiscal year is less than the amount of such revenues which the department had estimated would be credited to the primary road fund in that fiscal year, the department may issue and sell bonds for that fiscal year in an amount equal to the difference, but not in excess of ten million dollars. If the department has a project which will cost more than ten million dollars and the issuance and sale of bonds are needed the department may issue and sell an amount of bonds sufficient to pay the cost for this project if the general assembly passes a concurrent resolution authorizing the department to issue and sell bonds in a specific amount and for that specific project. The proceeds of the sale of bonds shall be paid into the primary road fund to be expended for road construction projects and for expenses incurred in issuing the bonds, as approved, directed, or incurred by the department. The proceeds of the bonds shall not be used by the department to pay other administrative expenses.

Sec. 60. NEW SECTION. 307.46 TERMS OF BONDS. Bonds shall bear interest at the rate or rates and be in the denominations determined by the commission. The commission shall determine the maturity or maturities of the bonds and the dates of interest payment on the bonds. Each bond is due and payable on the date stipulated on the face of the bond, which date shall not be more than ten years after the date of issuance. The principal and interest are payable at the office of the treasurer or at any other place or places designated by the commission. Each bond shall be executed on behalf of the department with the manual signature of the chairperson or vice chairperson of the commission and attested with a manual or facsimile signature of the director and shall have impressed or printed on it the seal of the department. Coupons attached to the bonds, if any, shall be executed by the facsimile signature of the director. Each facsimile signature has the same force and effect as if the officer had manually signed or attested to each of the bonds and coupons.

The bonds are limited obligations of the department payable solely from those road use tax funds credited to the highway bond fund and are not general obligations of the state and are not debts or obligations of the state within the meaning of any statutory or constitutional debt limitation.

Sec. 61. NEW SECTION. 307.47 SALE OF BONDS. The commission shall sell the bonds to obtain funds to carry out the purpose of this division and authorize the payments as provided in this division. The proceeds from the sale shall be deposited with the treasurer. The bonds may be sold by the commission at public sale. If the commission so determines, the bonds may be sold by the commission at private sale without published notice and without the regular requirements of a public sale and the sale of the bonds shall be in the manner and upon the terms prescribed by the resolution of the commission authorizing the private sale. If the bonds are sold at public sale, they shall be sold upon terms of not less than par plus accrued interest.

The director with the advice and assistance of counsel shall cause to be prepared the form of advertisements, resolutions, agreements, and other necessary forms for use in the offering for sale and issuance of the bonds and to prepare and cause to be printed the proper form of bond and to deliver the bonds to the proper officials for signature.

If the bonds are offered for public sale the commission shall, by advertisement published for two or more successive weeks in at least one newspaper of general circulation in the state, give notice of the time and place of sale of the bonds, the amounts to be offered for sale, and other information which is deemed pertinent. The last day of publication shall not be less than seven days prior to the date of sale of the bonds. Sealed bids may be received at any time prior to the calling for open bids. At the time and place designated for the sale of bonds, the commission shall first call for open bids. After all of the open bids have been received the substance of the best open bid shall be noted in the minutes. The commission shall then open the sealed bids that have been received and shall note in the minutes the substance of the best sealed bid.

In the discretion of the commission, any or all bids may be rejected, and the sale may be advertised anew in the same manner, or the bonds or any portion of the bonds may be sold at private sale to one or more of the bidders, or other persons.

Sec. 62. NEW SECTION. 307.48 BOND PROCEEDINGS. The bonds shall be authorized by resolution of the commission and bond proceedings shall provide for the purpose of the bonds, principal amount and principal maturity or maturities, not exceeding ten years from the date of issuance, the interest rate or rates or the maximum interest rate the date of the bonds and the dates of payment of interest on the bonds, their denomination, the terms and conditions upon which parity bonds may be issued, and the establishment within or without the state of a place or places of payment of principal of and interest on the bonds. The purpose of the bonds may be stated in the bond proceedings in terms describing the general purpose or purposes to be served. The commission may cause to be issued a prospectus or official statement in connection with the offering of the bonds. Bonds may be issued in coupon or in registered form, or both. Provision may be made for the registration of bonds with coupons attached as to principal alone, or as to both principal and interest, their exchange for bonds so registered, and for the conversion or reconversion into bonds with coupons attached of any bonds registered as to both principal and interest, and for reasonable charge for registration, exchange, conversion, and reconversion. Bonds shall be sold in the manner and at the time determined by the commission. Chapter 75 and sections 23.12 through 23.16 do not apply to these bonds. The bonds are negotiable instruments. The bond proceedings may contain additional provisions as to:

1. The redemption of bonds prior to maturity at the option of the commission at the price and on the terms and conditions provided in the bond proceedings.

2. Other terms of the bonds and concerning execution and delivery of the bonds.

3. The delegation of responsibility for any act relating to the issuance, execution, sale, redemption, or other matter pertaining to the bonds to any other officer, agency of the state, or other person or body.

4. Additional agreements with the bondholders relating to the bonds.

5. Payment from the proceeds of the sale of the bonds of all legal and financial expenses incurred by the department or the commission in the issuance, sale, delivery and payment of the bonds.

6. Other matters, alike or different, which may in any way affect the security of the bonds and the protection of the bondholders.

Sec. 63. NEW SECTION. 307.49 ADDITIONAL POWERS OF COMMISSION. In connection with the issuance of the bonds or in order to secure the payment of the bonds and interest on the bonds, the commission may by resolution:

1. Provide that the bonds be secured by first lien on all or any part of the moneys paid into the road use tax fund from the sources specifically prescribed in article VII, section 8 of the Iowa constitution and that the moneys when paid into the road use tax fund will be credited to the highway bond fund with the moneys credited to the highway bond fund each fiscal year being deemed from the road use tax fund allocation to the primary road fund for that fiscal year.

2. Pledge and assign to or entrust for the benefit of the bondholders any part of the road use tax fund revenues collected as prescribed in article VII, section 8 of the Iowa constitution, as will be necessary to pay the principal of and interest on the bonds as they mature or become due by providing that the revenues collected shall be credited to the highway bond fund with the moneys credited to the highway bond fund each fiscal year being deemed from the road use tax fund allocation to the primary road fund for that fiscal year.

3. Establish, authorize, set aside, regulate, and dispose of reserves and sinking funds.

4. Provide that sufficient amounts of the proceeds of the sale of the bonds may be used to fully or partially fund any and all reserves or sinking funds set out by the bond resolution.

5. Prescribe the procedure, if any, by which the terms of any contract with bondholders may be amended or abrogated, the amount of the bonds whose holders must consent thereto, and the manner in which the consent may be given.

6. Purchase bonds, out of funds available for that purpose, which shall be canceled, at a price not exceeding either of the following:

a. If the bonds are then redeemable, the redemption price then applicable plus accrued interest to the next interest payment date.

b. If the bonds are not then redeemable, the redemption price applicable on the first date after the purchase upon which the bonds become subject to redemption plus accrued interest to that date.

Sec. 64. NEW SECTION. 307.50 FUNDS APPROPRIATED. The proceeds from the issuance of the bonds shall be paid into a separate account which shall be established within the primary road fund and are appropriated to and shall be expended by the department for road construction projects.

In expending the proceeds from the issuance of the bonds, the department shall implement a women's business enterprise program to involve independent businesses owned and controlled by women in road construction projects funded under this division. The program shall establish an overall goal for the participation of women's business enterprises of five percent of the proceeds from the issuance of the bonds, and shall establish specific project goals, including dollar goals, for the participation of women's business enterprises capable of meeting general contracting requirements and particular project solicitations. General contractors shall make a good faith effort to meet the specific goals established for a project funded under this division. The department shall maintain a current directory of women's business enterprises which have been certified as owned and controlled by women and which are capable of meeting general contracting requirements and particular project solicitations. A women's business enterprise shall be certified as owned and controlled by women if the business is independent, at least fifty-one percent owned by women, and managed and operated by women, with women making both the day-to-day decisions as well as the major decisions for the business. The women's ownership shall be real, substantial, and continuing.

In advertising for bids and letting contracts for road construction projects funded under this division, the department shall establish an overall goal for the participation of women construction workers and shall establish specific project participation goals, including percentages of women workers on the project, after considering the number of women workers available and trainable, by the department, for the project. Contractors shall make a good faith effort to meet the specific goals established for a project funded under this division.

Sec. 65. NEW SECTION. 307.51 PAYMENT OF BONDS. A highway bond fund is created in the state treasury. At the direction of the commission as provided in the bond proceedings or pursuant to section 307.49, subsection 1 or 2, and as certified by the director, the treasurer of state shall credit to the highway bond fund from the road use tax fund a sum at least sufficient to pay interest on the bonds in each fiscal year and principal on the bonds that mature during each fiscal year with the moneys credited each fiscal year to the highway bond fund coming from the road use tax fund allocation to the primary road fund for that fiscal year. In each fiscal year after the effective date of this division and after bonds are issued, and until all the bonds issued have been retired, in order to provide for the payment of principal of the bonds issued and sold and the interest on them as the same become due and mature, there is pledged and annually appropriated out of the road use tax fund to be credited to the highway bond fund an amount sufficient to pay principal and interest on the bonds issued for each of the years the bonds are outstanding with the moneys credited each fiscal year to the highway bond fund coming from the road use tax fund allocation to the primary road fund for that fiscal year. The director shall annually certify to the treasurer the amount of funds required to pay interest on the bonds in the ensuing fiscal year and the principal on the bonds that mature during the ensuing fiscal year.

Sec. 66. NEW SECTION. 307.52 PLEDGE AS SECURITY FOR BONDS. A pledge made pursuant to this division is valid and binding from the time the pledge is made.

The money pledged and received by the treasurer to be placed in the road use tax fund and subsequently credited to the highway bond fund are immediately subject to the lien of the pledge without any future physical delivery or further act and the lien of a pledge is valid and bind ing against all parties having claims of any kind in tort, contract, or otherwise against the commission or the department irrespective of whether the parties have notice of the lien of the pledge. The resolution or trust indenture or other instrument by which a pledge is created, when placed in the records of the department, is notice to all concerned of the creation of the pledge, and the instruments need not be recorded in any other place.

Sec. 67. NEW SECTION. 307.53 NONLIABILITY OF THE STATE AND ITS OFFICIALS. Bonds issued are special limited obligations of the department and are not a debt or liability of the state or any other political subdivision within the meaning of any constitutional or statutory debt limitation and are not a pledge of the state's credit or taxing power within the meaning of any constitutional or statutory limitation or provision and except as provided in this division, an appropriation shall not be made, directly or indirectly, by the state or any political subdivision of the state for the payment of bonds. The bonds are special obligations of the department payable solely from the highway bond fund. Funds from the general fund of the state shall not be used to pay interest or principal on the bonds if revenues deposited in the road use tax fund are insufficient.

The members of the commission, the department, or other person executing the bonds is not personally liable for the payment of the bonds. The bonds are valid and binding obligations of the department notwithstanding the fact that before the delivery of the bonds any of the officers whose signatures appear on the bonds cease to be officers of the state. From and after the sale and delivery of the bonds, they shall be incontestable by the department or the commission.

Sec. 68. NEW SECTION. 307.54 BOND ANTICIPATION NOTES. The power to issue bonds includes the power to issue obligations in the form of bond anticipation notes or other forms of short-term indebtedness and to renew these notes by the issuance of new notes. The holders of notes or interest coupons of notes have a right to be paid solely from those road use tax funds credited to the highway bond fund which were pledged to the payment of the bonds anticipated, or from the proceeds of those bonds or renewal notes, or both, as the commission provides in the bond proceedings authorizing the notes. The notes may be additionally secured by covenants of the commission to the effect that the commission will do those acts authorized by this division and necessary for the issuance of the bonds or renewal notes in appropriate amount, and either exchange the bonds or renewal notes for the notes, or apply the proceeds of the notes, to the extent necessary, to make full payment of the principal of and interest on the notes at the time contemplated, as provided in the bond proceedings. For this purpose, the commission may issue bonds or renewal notes in a principal amount and upon terms as authorized by this division and as necessary to provide funds to pay when required the principal of and interest on the outstanding notes, notwithstanding any limitations prescribed by this division, other than the limitation contained in section 307.45. All provisions for and references to bonds in this division are applicable to notes authorized under this section to the extent not inconsistent with this section.

Sec. 69. NEW SECTION. 307.55 REFUNDING OF OBLIGATIONS. The commission may authorize and issue bonds for the refunding, including funding and retirement, and advance refunding with or without payment or redemption prior to maturity, of bonds previously issued by the department. These bonds may be issued in amounts sufficient for payment of the principal amount of the prior bonds, any redemption premiums on the prior bonds, principal maturities of bonds maturing prior to the redemption of the remaining bonds on a parity with them, interest accrued or to accrue to the maturity date or dates of redemption of the bonds, and project costs including expenses incurred or to be incurred in connection with this issuance, refunding, funding, and retirement. Subject to the bond proceedings, the portion of proceeds of the sale of bonds issued under this section to be applied to principal of and interest on the prior bonds shall be credited to the appropriate account for the prior bonds. Bonds authorized under this section shall be deemed to be issued for those purposes for which the prior bonds were issued and are subject to the provisions of this division pertaining to other bonds. Bonds refunded shall not be considered to be outstanding for purposes of section 307.45.

Refunding bonds may be issued without regard to whether or not the bonds to be refunded are payable on the same date or different dates or due serially or otherwise.

Sec. 70 NEW SECTION. 307.56 BONDS AND INTEREST ON THE BONDS NOT SUBJECT TO TAXATION. Bonds, their transfer, and the income from the bonds are not subject to taxation by this state.

Sec. 71. NEW SECTION. 307.57 BONDS AS LEGAL INVESTMENTS. Bonds are securities in which all public officers and bodies of the state and all municipalities and political subdivisions of this state, all insurance companies and associations and other persons carrying on an insurance business, all banks, bankers, trust companies, savings banks, and savings associations, including savings and loan associations, building loan associations, investment companies, and other persons carrying on a banking business, all administrators, guardians, executors, trustees, and other fiduciaries and all other persons who are now or may be authorized to invest in bonds or other obligations of this state may properly and legally invest funds including capital in their control or belonging to them. The bonds are also securities which may be deposited with and may be received by all public officers and bodies of the state and all municipalities and legal subdivisions of this state for any purpose for which the deposit of bonds or other obligations of the state is now or may be authorized.

Sec. 72. NEW SECTION. 307.58 RIGHTS OF BONDHOLDERS. The bond proceedings may provide that a holder of bonds or a trustee under the bond proceedings, except to the extent that the holder's rights are restricted by the bond proceedings, may by legal proceedings, protect and enforce any rights under the laws of this state or granted by the bond proceedings. These rights include the right to compel the performance of all duties of the department required by this division or the bond proceedings; to enjoin unlawful activities; and in the event of default with respect to the payment of any principal of or interest on bonds or in the performance of a covenant or agreement on the part of the department in bond proceedings, to apply to a court to appoint a receiver to receive and administer the funds which are pledged to the payment of bonds or which are the subject of the covenant or agreement, with full power to pay and to provide for payment of any principal of or interest on bonds and with powers accorded receivers in general equity cases, excluding power to pledge additional funds or other income or moneys of the department, the state, or governmental agencies of the state to the payment of the bonds.

Sec. 73. NEW SECTION. 307.59 NOTICE. Within ten days after the commission adopts a resolution declaring its intention to issue bonds, it shall publish a notice of its intention to issue bonds in a newspaper published in and with general circulation in the state. The notice shall include a statement of the maximum amount of bonds proposed to be issued and, in general terms, what funds will be pledged to pay principal of and interest on the bonds. An action which questions the legality or validity of bonds or the power of the department to issue bonds or the effectiveness or validity of proceedings adopted for the authorization or issuance of bonds shall not be brought after sixty days from the date of publication of the notice.

Sec. 74. NEW SECTION. 307.60 COURTS TO HAVE JURISDICTION. Courts of record in this state have jurisdiction to issue all original and remedial writs necessary for the determination of the validity or constitutionality of this division.

Sec. 75. NEW SECTION. 307.61 SEVERANCE CLAUSE. If any clause, sentence, paragraph, or part of this division is for any reason judged by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, the judgment shall not affect, impair, or invalidate the remainder of this division, but is confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, or part directly involved in the controversy in which the judgment has been rendered.

Sec. 76. NEW SECTION. 307.62 LIBERAL INTERPRETATION. This division, being necessary for the welfare of this state and its inhabitants, shall be liberally construed to effect its purposes.

Senate File 548 is the omnibus jobs bill. I applaud legislators for sharing my goals of job creation and economic development for the state of Iowa. Indeed, much significant non-budgetary legislation was enacted this year to accomplish those goals — revising security laws, increasing small business loans and removing financial restrictions on the housing industry, to name just a few. In addition, the legislature expressed its commitment to economic growth through the budget process, as well. And, this $24.9 million bill represents the bulk of that effort.

While I share the legislature's desire to spur economic growth in Iowa, I also believe that state government's economic development efforts should follow certain guidelines. First, state action should encourage the private sector to create meaningful and lasting jobs for Iowans. Iowans want meaningful jobs they can count on so that they can support themselves and their families with some measure of personal satisfaction and financial security. Moreover, stimulating private sector development is the only way to truly strengthen Iowa's economy. Second, action to encourage economic development must take into consideration the state's available budget resources. The state budget is already stretched tight and this bill results in approximately $12.8 million of expenditures in excess of recommended levels. While the legislature did raise some additional revenues, the state simply cannot afford all of this extra spending. Thus, each item in this omnibus bill has been reviewed with an eye toward obtaining the greatest economic development benefit for each state dollar spent.

Division I of Senate File 548 would establish a $3.6 million public works program in Iowa. This division requires that $3 million of the appropriated funds be made available to state or local government agencies to employ individuals for up to six months for unspecified work relief projects. The individual is to be paid the federal minimum wage and is allowed to work no more than 32 hours per week. This division also appropriates $500,000 for a paid volunteer program to be administered by the federal action agency. These paid volunteers would work for up to one year for any public or nonprofit entity. Finally, Division I includes a $100,000 appropriation to pay cash grants of up to $3,000 to artists for public projects.

I understand and respect the legislative purpose behind these programs — to provide temporary public work for those who have exhausted their unemployment benefits. Indeed, many of these Iowans need our assistance. However, this proposal does not address the long term needs of these Iowans, is inappropriately directed and duplicates some existing programs. Therefore, I must disapprove this plan for additional state spending.

The public works portion of Division I would create only temporary, unspecified work for Iowans who need meaningful and lasting jobs. At the end of a six-month public works stint, an unemployed Iowan would likely be in no better economic shape than he or she was before the job began. Indeed, this program may effectively delay unemployed Iowans from taking the necessary steps to re-enter the private sector workforce.

These necessary re-employment steps include searching for work and obtaining the training skills needed for new employment. Lack of proper job training is one of the greatest impediments to re-employment in the private sector since the industries that are hiring new employees demand skilled workers. I commend legislators for taking action in this bill to provide for these training needs of unemployed Iowans. The $1.3 million appropriation made in Division XI of Senate File 548 will create a dislocated workers program to provide training and job counseling assistance for those Iowans who have lost their jobs because of plant closings. This program, in combination with the $40 million in the federal Job Training Partnership Act, will help give unemployed Iowans the skills they need to obtain a new job.

This public works program is designed not to train, but only to provide a temporary work experience and some financial assistance to the unemployed. And those needs have also been addressed elsewhere by the legislature.

Those Iowans who cannot find work and have demonstrated financial need are eligible for other public assistance. The legislature appropriately retained the unemployed parent program which provides for basic needs, including medical care and shelter, for the families of the needy who are unemployed. Indeed, the legislature expanded this program to include eligibility for both spouses and provided a community work program for those able to work. A recent survey of states shows that Iowa is one of the nation's leaders in the unemployed parent workfare program, with over 2,000 workers now employed. In short, the unemployed parent workfare program provides basic assistance to the unemployed needy and gives them an opportunity to have a positive work experience. To some extent, the public works program proposed in this bill would only duplicate that existing state program.

In addition, this proposed state public works program duplicates efforts already being made by the federal government. The federal jobs bill provides over $42 million in emergency assistance for projects ranging from tree planting to school building weatherization. Temporary employment will be provided for over 3,000 Iowans. In light of this massive federal effort, the need for a similar state program is questionable.

In sum, needy, out-of-work Iowans require job training and counseling, basic assistance and some work experience. These essential needs have been addressed by other prudent legislative actions taken this year and by the federal government. Therefore, this $3 million public works effort would at least partially duplicate state and federal work programs and does not address the important job training and counseling needs of unemployed Iowans. With the present budget constraints, the state can ill-afford to spend funds is such a misdirected and duplicative fashion.

Division I also includes a provision to pay volunteers. Increasing volunteerism is one of my top priorities. However, I cannot approve this proposal because it could, in fact, hurt the volunteerism effort in Iowa.

Presently, there are at least 30,000 volunteers in Iowa who do everything from caring for the elderly to saving Iowa's rich soil. In addition, the state has over 500 groups that perform volunteer services. And, these services are truly volunteer — they are done without charge.

This program would single out 100 volunteers for a special monthly stipend. I fear that such special treatment could be deemed unfair and thus discourage present and future volunteers.

Moreover, this program is to be administered by a federal agency for which funding has been consistently reduced. In fact, the future of the federal VISTA organization, which is to administer this state program, is in doubt. Therefore, it is likely that the federal agency would be unable to pay its share of the administrative costs of the program. And, the funds the bill provides to the Office for Planning and Programming would be woefully inadequate to allow for the proper administration of the program.

The third portion of Division I provides $100,000 to the Arts Council for grants to artists. Each artist could obtain a $3,000 grant for a public art project. I am a strong supporter of the arts and I am pleased that the legislature supported my request for a 28 percent increase in state funding for the Arts Council. However, that appropriation, combined with the $900,000 grant program for festivals and cultural affairs included in Division XIII of this bill, will significantly increase the state's commitment to the arts and artists. In view of that substantial increase in funding for the arts, additional appropriations would stretch the state's fiscal resources beyond their limits.

Division III of Senate File 548 appropriates $5 million to the Iowa Housing Finance Authority (IHFA) for "capital infusion loans." The program would apparently work like this: a qualified business would apply to the Small Business Administration (SBA) to obtain a loan to finance a proposed expansion under the SBA's 503 loan program; SBA would use its authority to guarantee 40 percent of the loan; IHFA would issue a bond to back 50 percent of the loan, as authorized under recently enacted Senate File 223; and the state would then provide a no-interest "capital infusion" loan for the ten percent of the loan remaining.

The intent of this provision is apparently to make lower interest loans available to qualified businesses. That is a worthwhile goal. However, this proposal would provide little incentive for additional business expansion while costing the strapped state budget $5 million in extra spending.

This $5 million proposal would make very few loans available to businesses that would not already be able to obtain them. The combined SBA/IHFA 90 percent loan guarantee would be quite secure and attractive for prospective lenders. In addition, the guarantee would provide a competitive loan for prospective borrowers. Indeed, it has been estimated that such a loan would carry an interest rate of approximately 10.5 percent — a good commercial rate in today's financial market. Most businesses interested in expansion would find such an interest rate very attractive. Thus, it is likely that these SBA loans would get made without a 10 percent contribution from the state.

Moreover, it is estimated that the state's 10 percent capital infusion would lower the interest rate on these loans by only approximately one percent. A state expenditure of $5 million is a high price to pay in order to reduce by only one percent the interest rate on loans that would probably be made anyway.

It is also important to note that much has been done in another bill passed during the session to aid small businesses seeking debt-financed expansion loans. Senate File 223 doubled the volume of tax-exempt bonds that can be issued to finance small business loans. IHFA will now have $100 million in bonding authority to provide low interest loans to qualified small businesses that are seeking to expand. Loans worth over $10 million have already been made with interest rates as low as seven percent. Thus, IHFA has up to $90 million of remaining lending capacity for low interest, small business loans. I must therefore question the wisdom of a $5 million state appropriation to make similar loans at a potentially higher rate of interest.

Finally, I have concerns about the philosophy behind this and the $3 million mortgage buy-down proposal included in Senate File 548. Both of these programs would, for the first time, make state funds available to IHFA to buy-down interest rates. Never before has this agency received a direct state appropriation for lending programs. Indeed, save for the first-year start-up, even the operating expenses of the authority have been traditionally paid for by IHFA revenues without any state funds. This arms-length arrangement between state government and IHFA has served Iowans well. The tax-exempt bond market has been used to raise the necessary funds and the state budget has been protected. Moreover, this arrangement has helped make certain that IHFA's lending decisions are based on finances and not politics. I am concerned that these proposed appropriations would put even greater pressures on future state budgets as well as placing IHFA directly into the political arena.

Division VI of Senate File 548 appropriates $3 million to IHFA for a residential mortgage interest reduction program. This program was authorized in a separate bill and would require IHFA to reduce interest rates on mortgage loans for up to five years. The amount of the reduction would be between three and five percent the first year, and a lesser amount in succeeding years. Thus, the apparent intent of the program is to induce more Iowans into entering the housing market by offering reduced mortgage interest rates for a short term.

I am generally supportive of efforts to boost the housing market. The housing construction industry has been in a slump the past few years and a recovery in that industry would provide a boost to the entire Iowa economy. However, I cannot approve this proposed mortgage buy-down program because it represents a false promise to many potential home buyers and more cost-effective ways to stimulate the housing industry are available.

This program could help only one of 1,000 Iowa families. Therefore, the program could unfairly raise the expectations of many potential Iowa homebuyers, with little chance of ever realizing those expectations. Moreover, by decreasing the interest rate by a substantial amount the first year and then gradually eliminating that subsidy by the end of five years, this program could tempt some Iowans into entering the home market even though they may not be able to make their home payments once the interest reduction runs out. It would indeed be a cruel hoax for the state to encourage Iowans to buy homes knowing that they may not be able to afford them later.

In addition, it must be noted that the legislature passed other legislation this year which could significantly stimulate the housing market. Senate File 223 eliminates many of the financial restrictions which prevented Iowa home builders from obtaining the financing they needed to offer affordable housing to Iowans. I am hopeful that federal economic policy and Senate File 223 will allow more Iowans to fashion the financial packages they need to purchase a home.

Also, it is my understanding that it is IHFA's intention to re-enter the housing bond market later this year and it is expected that home mortgages at interest rates at approximately two to three percent below the market rate will result. Use of the tax exempt bond market is the traditional and cost-effective way for the state to provide reduced rate home mortgages. In addition, home mortgages obtained through this market provide stable, secure and reasonably priced financing for Iowans looking for a home. Therefore, the state should continue to use the tax exempt bond market, and not the state's general fund, to finance homes for Iowans.

Division VII of Senate File 548 establishes a High Technology Council and appropriates $2.1 million to the council to fund its operations and to begin a research grant program. I commend legislators for wisely recognizing the job-creation potential of high technology industry in Iowa. However, Section 41 of the bill would require the reversion of all unencumbered funds appropriated to the council if the state faces budget problems. I cannot approve that section because it represents a half-hearted commitment to high technology jobs and would cripple the operations of the council.

Much has been said and written about the importance of high technology to our economic future. Indeed, Iowa already has an estimated 35,000 so-called high tech jobs. And, with this state's mix of excellence in education, productive workers and high quality of life, the potential exists to create many more high tech jobs. Such a diversification of the economy is in Iowa's best long term economic interests — it would make Iowa better prepared to weather economic storms in the agricultural and manufacturing sectors.

In order to increase the state's commitment to high tech jobs, a task force appointed by former Governor Ray recommended that a high tech council be established, a grant program be developed to provide financing for research that has potential for commercial application, and a technology transfer effort be undertaken. Fortunately, Division VII of this bill provides for each of those recommendations.

However, the legislature apparently hedged its bet on high tech. This program would be entirely eliminated should the state face a budget problem. Reversion of all the unencumbered funds, which include funds to operate the council, would force Iowa to shut its high tech development doors. If Iowa is serious about high tech jobs, we must maintain a stable, long term commitment to the program. While I, too, regard an across-the-board cut as one of the last resorts in budget-making, I believe that the budget action proposed here would be penny wise and pound foolish. It is, however, likely that the $2 million in research grants will not be expended quickly. Therefore, if state budget troubles mount that portion of the appropriation could be re-examined without crippling the operation of the council.

Division X of Senate File 548 grants the Department of Transportation (DOT) the authority to issue primary road fund revenue bonds. The bill allows DOT to sell $10 million in bonds per year or the difference between actual primary road funds and those that were estimated to be received, whichever is lower. However, additional bonding can be issued upon approval by the legislature of the individual projects for which the bonds are to be used. Initially, $10 million in total bonding authority is authorized. Also, if the bonds are determined to be constitutional, the bonding limit is increased to $110 million.

Apparently, by passing this division, the legislature intended to allow DOT to increase its available road construction finances and to gain a test of the constitutionality of road bonding. However, this division will effectively do neither and, therefore, I must disapprove it.

I support reasonable efforts to provide proper funding for roads in Iowa. I understand the importance of transportation to economic development. However, DOT officials have studied this proposal and have determined that, considering the interest rate on bonds and the level of bonding authorized, this proposal would provide little, if any benefit to the department's road construction plans. The slight increase in available road funding would be offset by the extra interest costs chargeable to the primary road fund. And, considering the additional support needed to manage the bonds, the DOT could come out a net loser with this bonding proposal. Thus, this bonding plan appears to make little road funding sense.

In addition, this division is not likely to obtain even the good court test on the constitutionality of road bonding sought by its proponents. Requiring legislative approval of individual projects could jeopardize the arms length legal relationship required between the bonding authority and those in charge of appropriating from the state's general fund. As a result, a serious question could be raised as to whether the full faith and credit of the state has been pledged to secure the bonds. More important, requiring legislative approval of individual road projects would directly introduce politics into road financing decisions. We have traditionally, and I believe wisely, left such decisions to the DOT which is better able to review each project in light of the transportation needs of the entire state.

Finally, I believe the state is generally better served with a pay-as-you-go transportation funding system. Today, one of our major transportation problems is road maintenance. I fear that a road bonding program would lead to a boom or bust transportation funding system where roads would be built with no funds available in the future to maintain them. Instead, future road use tax revenues would have to be used to pay the interest on the bonds. Such a system of feast or famine transportation funding would not be good for the state's economy and would only exacerbate our road repair problems.

Moreover, it is important to note that substantially more dollars are available for roads in Iowa than just one year ago. The increase in the use tax will funnel over $17.5 million into the road use tax fund. Over $50 million in additional federal dollars are available for road repair and construction this fiscal year. And, the scheduled phase-out in the gasohol road tax subsidy should substantially reduce the dollar drain on the road fund. Indeed, legislators seeking additional road funding would have been wise to consider the adjustment in the gasohol tax that I recommended which would have pumped over $5 million per year more into the road fund. In the future, it would be wise to seek implementation of the Blue Ribbon Task Force on Transportation report which includes methods to save road funds by streamlining the administration of our road system.

In sum, Division X would not substantially increase available road funds, nor is it likely to obtain a good constitutional test of road bonding. Rather, the state would be better served by efficiently managing the additional funds that have been received under the present pay-as-you-go system.

For the above reasons, I hereby disapprove these items in accordance with Amendment 4 of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items of Senate File 548 are hereby approved as of this date.

Very truly yours,
Terry E. Branstad

The Honorable Mary Jane Odell
Secretary of State
State Capitol Building

Dear Madam Secretary:

I hereby transmit Senate File 551, an act relating to and making appropriations to state agencies relating to and for capital projects and certain nonrecurring expenses.

Senate File 551 is approved June 2, 1983, with the following exceptions which I hereby disapprove.

I am unable to approve the items designated in the Act as Section 12, subsection 1, paragraphs i and j, which reads as follows:

i. For moving of the auditor of state's staff and furnishings	$	125,000
j. For moving of the treasurer of state's staff and furnishings	$	125,000

I am unable to approve the item designated in the Act as Section 19 which reads as follows:

Sec. 19. There is appropriated from the general fund of the state for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983 and ending June 30, 1984, to the Iowa lottery agency, the sum of two million (2,000,000) dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be used to initiate a state lottery. Notwithstanding section 8.31 the Iowa lottery agency may draw funds as required to initiate the lottery within the limits of the appropriation until the lottery generates sufficient revenue to become self-supporting. The Iowa lottery agency shall reimburse the general fund for the total amount of funds received under this section within sixty days of the date funds are no longer necessary to initiate the lottery or within sixty days of June 30, 1984, whichever is sooner.

Senate File 551 includes two provisions to appropriate $125,000 each to the Auditor and the Treasurer for moving the staff and furnishings of those offices out of the Capitol Building. These provisions requiring the move were included in Senate File 530. I disapproved those provisions for the reasons outlined in a letter accompanying the bill. Since the move is no longer required by law, there is no reason to appropriate $250,000 for that purpose.

This bill also contains a section which appropriates $2 million to the Iowa lottery agency to be used as start-up costs for the state lottery approved by the legislature in House File 634. Since I disapproved House File 634 for reasons stated in a letter accompanying the bill, there is no further reason to make this appropriation.

These actions will save the state $2.25 million in appropriations for fiscal year 1984. These reductions are fiscally prudent since the General Assembly exceeded my spending recommendations by over $12 million.

For these reasons, I hereby disapprove these items in accordance with Amendment 4 of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items of Senate File 551 are hereby approved this date.

Very truly yours,
Terry E. Branstad
Governor
