State of Iowa Single Audit Report Comment 02-III-USDE-620-1

Fiscal Operations Report – The University must submit a Fiscal Operations Report and Application to Participate (FISAP) annually to the U.S. Department of Education. Details of an error noted in the amounts reported from the fiscal year 2002 report follows:

Part II, Section E, line 24 of the FISAP incorrectly included the IMAGES grants. The IMAGES grants should not have been included on this line since this grant is not matching funds for the LEAP or SLEAP program and the award recipient is determined by the institution. Total State grants and scholarships made to undergraduate students for the Award Year July 1, 2001 to June 30, 2002 were overstated by $733,274.

Recommendation – The University should develop procedures to ensure that the information on the annual report is accurate.

Response and Corrective Action Planned – Based on a review of the on-line rules for the FISAP, it was agreed that Images was included in error. The necessary written documentation has been made detailing the error, and the corresponding FISAP rule. Both of these items have been filed in with the 2001-2002 FISAP report and all supporting information pertaining to the production of the report. As is a common quality control practice within our office, when the 2002-2003 FISAP is in process, all documentation from the preceding year is reviewed to identify any gaps or questions that may arise in dollar totals from year to year. At the time of the year-to-year review, the documentation pertaining to the reporting of State dollars will be taken into consideration. This same documentation will also be a reminder to confirm that on-line rules have been reviewed and verified as followed.

Conclusion – Response accepted.

Report of Recommendations to Iowa State University

Finding Related to Internal Control:

Authorized Check Signatures – Departments of the University are allowed to set up bank accounts for special projects after approval from the Treasurer’s Office. Authorized check signers should be included on the bank signature card. For two departmental accounts, the bank signature cards included former employees as authorized signers.

Recommendation – The Treasurer’s Office should work with the departments to ensure that bank signature cards are appropriately updated.

Response – The Treasurer’s Office will send an annual letter to each department requesting they review and update all bank signature cards.

Conclusion – Response accepted.

Findings Related to Statutory Requirements and Other Matters:

- (1) Capital Assets – The University acquires and maintains equipment for research, teaching and administrative purposes. University Office Procedures Guide (OPG) section 10.3(5) requires that an identification tag be placed on each equipment item with an acquisition value of more than $2,000. Five of 60 current year equipment purchases tested were not properly tagged.

Recommendation – The University should implement procedures to ensure compliance with University Office Procedures Guide section for equipment purchases.

Response – The University agrees with the Auditor’s recommendation and will confirm that the five items of equipment have been tagged. Departments will continue to be reminded of the importance of attaching the tags to newly purchased equipment.

Conclusion – Response accepted.

- (2) Purchases from Conflict of Interest Vendors/Employees – The University Office and Procedures Guide (OPG) 10.3(4) prohibits any employee from selling to Iowa State University, either directly or indirectly, any goods or services in excess of $1,000 for any one transaction unless the Board of Regents has provided consent. One of the 9 conflict of interest purchase orders tested was from an employee vendor that was not listed as approved by the Board of Regents.

The University OPG and Chapter 68B.3 of the Code of Iowa require that, after approval is obtained, employees may not sell goods or services to the University that have a value in excess of $2,000 for any one transaction or that have cumulative fiscal year value in excess of $5,000, unless pursuant to an award or contract let after public notice and competitive bidding. One of the 8 purchase orders selected from the University purchasing department report of dollars spent with approved conflict of interest vendors lacked competitive bidding documentation.

Recommendation – The University should enforce the procedures that monitor compliance with the Code of Iowa and OPG.

Report of Recommendations to Iowa State University

June 30, 2002

Response – The University is diligent in monitoring compliance with conflict of interest regulations. The two situations noted were isolated incidents and are not indicative of the control environment in place at the University.

Conclusion – Response acknowledged.

- (3) Iowa Code Compliance – The University was not in compliance with the following sections of the Code of Iowa during fiscal year 2002:

- (a) Livestock Producers Assistance Program – The University is required by section 266.39D of the Code to establish and administer a livestock producers assistance program to provide on-site assistance to persons involved in livestock production to increase the efficiency, productivity, and profitability of their operations. The program is required, to every extent practicable, to be supported by non-state moneys.

The program no longer exists at the University.

- (b) Meat Export Research Center – Section 266.31 of the Code requires the Board of Regents to maintain a meat export research center at Ames, in connection with the agricultural experiment station at Iowa State University. The center is to research technological, economic and other factors involved in improving the performance of Iowa products in the meat export market.

The center no longer exists at the University. The programs and functions appear to have been distributed among related academic departments and centers.

Recommendation – The University should take the necessary steps to comply with the Code of Iowa or the University should seek the repeal of outdated Code sections.

Response – These code sections need to be removed. The University was successful in having two of the three outdated code sections identified last year removed and will continue to work on having the sections cited above removed.

Conclusion – Response accepted.
