Board Approves New Lotto System Proposal

The Board of the Iowa Lottery has accepted a recommendation of a proposal from Scientific Games International for the biggest contract involved in the lottery's operations. The Board voted 5-0 to accept a lottery evaluation committee's recommendation of Sci-Games as the vendor that will supply the communications equipment, software and computerized terminals that are used to sell and validate lottery tickets at about 2,500 retail locations statewide.

An evaluation team made up of Lottery officials recommended the Sci-Games proposal. The contract can be finalized following the completion of a successful background investigation of the company by the Iowa Division of Criminal Investigation. Since the Lottery's start, each of the Lottery's sales and validations systems has been in use for several years. But like any electronic or computer equipment, each system must be updated and replaced over time. The Lottery's current system has been in place since 2001, and the contract for it will expire in July 2011. Sci-Games has proposed a contract that will begin July 3, 2011, at a projected cost of $50.3 million over the following 10-year period.
