Former Iowan Brightens Sad Weekend With Big Prize

Sam Kirby of Loveland, Colo.

A Colorado man made a recent trip to Iowa and changed his fortune in the process.

Sam Kirby, 48, of Loveland, Colo., won $50,000 playing the "Big Money" instant-scratch game. Kirby was a 14-year resident of Le Mars and just moved back to Colorado in January.

He bought the ticket at the Car-Go Express in Le Mars, 327 Plymouth St. N.E., and claimed his prize at the Iowa Lottery's regional office in Storm Lake.

Earlier this month on the day he was to begin a new job at the post office, Kirby's father-in-law passed away suddenly. He and his wife traveled to Le Mars for the funeral. They stopped at the Car-Go Express in Le Mars and while they were there, he bought the last two Big Money tickets in the store.

"When I got back to my room, I about had a heart attack!" he said.

Kirby said his father-in-law told him about a strange premonition.

"He always told me, 'After I'm dead, you'll become a wealthy man,'" Kirby reflected.

Kirby plans to buy his parents, who also live in Colorado, a new fence for their house. After that, he said, he will save the rest for a while and think over his options. And, he plans to play the lottery in Iowa when he visits relatives and friends.

"I get to come here a lot anyway, so every time I come, I play," he said.
