Year in Review

In fiscal year 2013, the Division had a record-breaking year in sales and funds generated for the State. The rapid increase in delivery points and demand for a dynamic product base led to the need to evaluate the distribution network. The Division is in the process of implementing the comprehensive recommendations of its transportation and logistics assessment and master plan to create an efficient, sustainable distribution model.

Also, for the third year in a row, the Division put great emphasis on education and outreach by focusing its efforts in the areas of alcohol awareness and prevention, compliance with alcohol beverage laws and regulations, and the development of partnerships.

Revenue

While the Division spent the year focused on long term planning and infrastructure improvements, it also had a record-breaking fiscal year. Over $256 million from the wholesale of spirits broke last year's record by $13.5 million, representing a 5.6 percent increase in sales. In addition to revenue from spirits profits, funds generated by excise taxes on wine and beer, license fees and civil penalties translated into a general fund transfer of over $119 million. The majority of this money will be used as general funding to be appropriated by the legislature for a variety of state programs. A portion of the funds is earmarked for substance abuse and local programs. The remaining funds will be used for Iowa native wine and beer promotion.

Master Plan Implementation

The Division has experienced rapid and significant growth both in sales and delivery points. The majority of this growth has been with non-traditional licensees such as convenience stores, discount stores and pharmacies, adding spirits to their existing infrastructure as a customer convenience.

As a result, the distribution network for the Division had to evolve. These necessary changes also presented an opportunity to better meet the demand for a dynamic product base due to the changing demographics of the market. In order to position the agency for growth and inventory diversity, it was essential for the Division to evaluate the existing distribution facility in terms of building architecture, capacity utilization and site plan. This year the Division will make significant investments in infrastructure, improving the flow of goods, and replacing its fleet.

Also contributing to the need to evolve is an explosion of growth and innovation in the flavored spirits categories. The current product offering is approximately 1,650 items, an increase of more than 300 over the last year. Consumers expect variety and the Division's customers are responding to that demand. Numerous projects are being executed to increase space utilization and pick productivity including racking in the warehouse, changing the direction of the flow of picking and prioritizing pick slots by volume.

Increased Compliance & Regulatory Clarity

As part of the strategic plan, the Division has been developing technology and educational programs that will result in increased compliance with the regulations that are the framework for the agency's mission. In accordance with that goal, the Division has made a commitment to hold town hall style meetings in all of Iowa's 99 counties. The educational forums bring together on- and off-premises licensees, local authorities and law enforcement to cover Iowa laws and have an open discussion; countywide compliance checks follow the meetings.

This month also marks the second anniversary of the Iowa Program for Alcohol Compliance Training (I-PACT). The certification with affirmative defense is valid for two years so it is time for many alcohol servers and sellers to retake the course for renewed certification. In 2013, additional content was added to the course to give employees the tools necessary to spot fake or altered IDs and intoxicated customers and to refuse illegal sales.

Looking Forward to 2014

While 2013 was a year of growth and change, I am very much looking forward to 2014. The Division will continue to improve online customer services (make sure we have your valid email address). This spring we will be launching Electronic Data Interchange (EDI) to allow for easy, remote entry of orders over the Internet by customers. EDI will particularly benefit customers with electronic inventory management systems and multiple locations by effectively viewing and tracking orders companywide.

This summer the Division's eCommerce store will allow customers to sign in with individual account numbers and passwords to place orders on their own schedule, any time, day or night until the order deadline cutoff. Orders can be progressively compiled throughout the week by saving progress and returning later to finish and submit. Customers can set up standard order templates, view order history and resubmit standard orders. The online portal will be a one-stop shop for news, specials, announcements and more.

I have been elected to serve as the Vice Chairman of the Board of Directors for the National Alcoholic Beverage Control Association and Iowa will be hosting the National Conference of State Liquor Administrators Central-Western Regional Conference October 8-11 in Des Moines. I hope that 2014 is a great year for the Division's customers as well.

Sincerely,

Stephen Larson, Administrator

Impaired driving crashes are preventable. Great concepts such as Designated Drivers and Call a Cab programs are innovative approaches to solving this nationwide tragedy.

The Iowa Governor's Traffic Safety Bureau and the Iowa ABD would like to invite you to join us in promoting traffic safety.

Remember that it is illegal to text while driving. Please help in our quest to protect all Iowans from impaired drivers.

More information such as printed materials and DVDs are available. Visit IowaGTSB.org or these other impaired driving information websites: NHTSA.gov, TrafficSafetyMarketing.gov, and StopDruggedDriving.org.

DON'T FORGET: Drive sober or get pulled over and buzzed driving is drunk driving.

NEARLY 23% of traffic fatalities last year in Iowa were attributed to drivers impaired on alcohol or other drugs.

BUDGET ANALYST 3

What are your duties as the Budget Analyst 3?

The Division's revenues and expenditures are obviously substantial; I work on current and projected budgets and conduct analysis on operational performances and efficiencies. I measure return on investment for major purchases and projects. Working with staff, customers and suppliers on inventory issues such as variances is also part of my job.

What is your favorite part of your job?

My favorite part of my job is working with the other staff at the Division. Everyone is very friendly across bureaus. Also, the Division is a unique state agency in so many ways. We are a revenue generator and transfer significant profits to the State general fund that make so many valuable public services possible. That, coupled with being involved in the alcohol industry, makes the Division and my job unique within State government in Iowa.

What is the most challenging part of your job?

The Division generates in excess of $270 million so maintaining integrity with financial accounting is always a challenge given the sheer volume of transactions processed in accounting. Since the Division's duties are so diverse, from regulation and licensing to sales and distribution, keeping records separate and maintaining the different requirements for each revenue stream can be a challenge. Creating reports and communicating complicated financials into laymen's terms for a general audience can sometimes be difficult as well.

What do you do in your free time?

I spend a lot of time with my daughter, Layla. We like to ride bikes and go to the park. I am teaching her how to play catch and t-ball. We like to be outside and active when the weather is nice. We do puzzles, play Legos and board games when the weather isn't as cooperative. I also like grilling out and golfing. I play guitar and love jamming with friends. I am also working on getting my CPA so I do a lot of studying for those exams.

THE ROMANCE TO BOOST SALES

BY ROBERT PLOTKIN

Note: This excerpt is printed with permission from “Talking Top Shelf Spirits—Upselling High-End Rum” from the November/December 2013 issue of StateWays—the Beverage Alcohol Merchandising Magazine for Control States.

OFFERING YOUR CLIENTELE a fresh array of spirits on your shelves encourages experimentation and is a proven tactic for bolstering sales. It is especially true now. There are more handmade, so-called boutique spirits on the market from which to choose. As far as the superpremium spirits are concerned, these are the best of times.

Here are some tips for upselling high-end rum. Comprising 13.0 percent of the spirits market, rum continues to be the second-best selling category in the United States. Obviously, spiced and flavored rum have been a major driver of sales recently; however, high-end rums have also played a part.

Rum is a dynamic and diverse spirit with a “fun in the sun” image. It’s made in exotic places like Martinique and Barbados and graced with rich hues and utterly captivating flavors. Rum’s approachable taste profile means that there’s no learning curve necessary. It adapts well to barrel aging and is produced in an intriguing array of styles and types.

Marketing great rums has everything to do with eliciting the romance of where the rum is made. Think of any brand of rum as having originated in a tropical paradise, and you’ll be just about right. Whether selling to a novice or connoisseur, first find out if the person is more interested in a dark savory rum to enjoy in a snifter or one to use in an exotic drink. Since many enthusiasts have yet to experience the joy of rhum agricole, which makes these brands excellent to recommend. Rhum agricole rums are made from free running sugar cane juice, a style preferred by the former French colonies, such as Martinique and Haiti. Finally, many of the up and coming brands entering the market hail from Central and South America. It is a trend likely to continue.

Marketing great rums has everything to do with eliciting the romance of where the rum is made.

Kaldera
Restaurant and Lounge

Story by Shannon Pogones & Erin Bothwell

Show High Spirits, Toast “OPA!”

Forty miles southeast of Des Moines, in a small town rich in Dutch colonial heritage, Pella is home to many worldly wonders that bring people from around the Midwest and beyond. It is no wonder that you will find a unique innovative Greek Italian restaurant within its city limits. Kaldera perfectly blends big city dining with a small town intimate but welcoming atmosphere.

Chefs and owners Vaso Apostolopoulou and Panos Anastasopoulos use only fresh ingredients in the pizza, pastas, sandwiches, appetizers and desserts on the menu. Meals are prepared in the traditional Greek style to ensure the dishes taste as close to those you would order while visiting Greece. The knowledgeable staff will not only assist you in making a dinner selection to fit your palette, they will also give you a recommendation for wine pairings from several Iowa wineries.

The menu has an eclectic blend of old favorites like tomato bruschetta, pasta alfredo and grilled chicken with traditional authentic dishes like moussaka, kokkinisto and gyros. Among the most popular dishes are the Hot Mama Mia pasta dish which consists of chicken, shrimp and prosciutto served on penne noodles covered in homemade garlic sauce and topped with a parmesan cheese crust. Don't forget to warm your taste buds by starting with the saganaki appetizer, which is an import-

“We went to Kaldera for the first time last night. We were very pleased. The menu has a great selection. Service was excellent. We will be back again.” - Ryan T / Oskalossa, Iowa ed Greek cheese served flaming directly to your table. As this appetizer is brought out, patrons are encouraged to raise their glass and yell “OPA!”

If you are up for a special treat, try the duck. A duck breast filet is marinated in cajun spices, topped with sherry mushroom ginger sauce, served with rice pilaf and a mixed field green salad with olive oil vinaigrette. This delectable dish started off being offered only on special occasions but earned a permanent place (as a daily special) because of customer demand. Other special occasion meals include crab legs and fresh scallops.

With the menu offering a wide variety of appetizing selections, don't get discouraged by any food aversions you may have. Kaldera offers a wide variety of gluten free options that include pasta entrees, pizza and side dishes.

While entertaining your taste buds with the bursting flavors of the food, also try something from the bar, which features an extensive martini menu. The cucumber martini and the blood orange martini are two of customers' favorite libations. These martinis are composed of simple ingredients that pack a powerful punch of flavor and creativity. The Oompa Lumpa (an awesome name for a chocolate martini, if I do say so!), is another popular martini that customers tip their glasses back for.

Not in the mood for a martini?

Don't fret, Kaldera offers a full bar ready to make your favorite drink.

Kaldera's atmosphere is another component that will lure you in. It features a relaxed and cozy dining space that plays soft jazz in the background. The restaurant features tables and booths, with booths being the majority to give a more intimate feel. The wait staff is both charming and polished, while being experts on the menu (and wine selections) to create a well-rounded dining experience.

With an incredible menu, native wine list and knowledgeable staff, you will never guess you were dining in a small town. Kaldera has given its customers the chance to explore new cultures and tastes with their Greek menu options while also allowing for some good ol' comfort food. So stop on by, and don't forget to yell “OPA” when you see saganaki the (flaming appetizer) heading your way.

HELP CUSTOMERS APPRECIATE UPPER-ECHELON VODKAS

They are loaded with nuances that make them well worth their lofty price points.

BY ROBERT PLOTKIN

Note: This excerpt is printed with permission from “Talking Top Shelf Spirits—Upselling Superpremium Vodkas” from the November/December 2013 issue of StateWays—the Beverage Alcohol Merchandising Magazine for Control States.

AMERICANS ARE BUYING VODKA

at a record pace, and there seems to be no end in sight. Vodka accounts for over 33 percent of all distilled spirits sold in the United States, eclipsed only by the combined sales figure for all whiskies—Scotch, Irish, American, and Canadian.

One of the main reasons for vodka’s market dominance is mixability. The spirit is featured in more recipes than any other, largely because it often bolsters nearly any combination of disparate ingredients. Yet some people still hold to the misconception that that all vodkas are essentially the same. Educating the American palate is difficult to do when vodka is typically mixed with every combination of juice and mixer.

To many consumers, upper echelon vodkas seem like uncomplicated propositions. But that’s far off mark. They are loaded with nuances that make them well worth their lofty price points.

Selling high-end vodkas is straightforward and relies on stressing four crucial variables. The first is the character of the water used in its production. Water is the unsung hero of vodka’s surging popularity and arguably the most significant variable.

Today’s generation of vodkas feature spring waters, artesian waters, peat-filtered water, and water derived from glaciers. It’s a major point of differentiation between the brands.

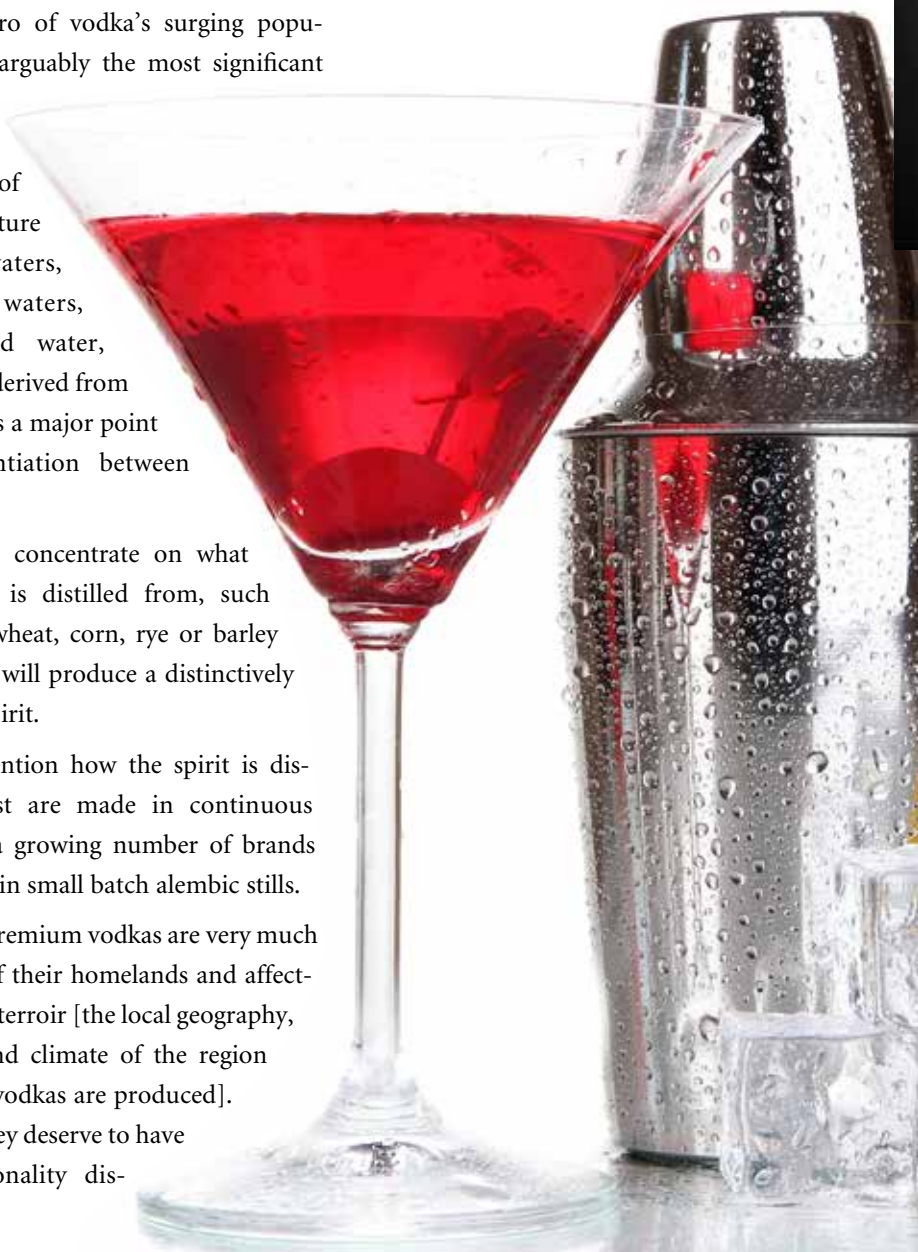

Secondly, concentrate on what the vodka is distilled from, such as winter wheat, corn, rye or barley malt. Each will produce a distinctively different spirit.

Next, mention how the spirit is distilled. Most are made in continuous stills, but a growing number of brands are crafted in small batch alembic stills.

Finally, premium vodkas are very much products of their homelands and affected by their terroir [the local geography, geology, and climate of the region where the vodkas are produced].

As such, they deserve to have their nationality discussed.

LEGALLY SPEAKING

CRIMINAL HISTORY MATTERS

One of the basic requirements in obtaining or renewing an alcohol license is completing an application. All information requested in the application is necessary for an applicant to be considered for an alcohol license. The local authority and the Iowa Alcoholic Beverages Division (Division) review the contents of the application to determine if the applicant and the proposed premises meet licensing requirements.

One section of the application requires the applicant to report their criminal history. Why is this information being requested? Iowa law requires an applicant be a person of good moral character. When evaluating an applicant's good moral character, the local authority and the Division are permitted under law to consider an applicant's previous and pending criminal violations. In fact, Iowa courts have acknowledged that criminal histories are relevant in determining license eligibility.

Criminal History Application Questions

Below is a review of each criminal history question with a brief explanation:

Have you or has anyone listed in the ownership screen been convicted of a felony offense in Iowa or any other state of the United States? If yes, list on the next (Violations) screen.

Applicants should select "Yes" and enter the violation(s) on the violations screen if the applicant or any person listed on the ownership screen has been convicted of a felony at any time in their life, no matter which state the violation occurred in.

It is important to note that a person convicted of a felony is not eligible to hold an alcohol license in Iowa, unless the felony conviction is more than five years old and the person's rights of citizenship have been restored by the governor.

Have any of the owners listed in the ownership screen ever been charged, arrested, indicted, convicted or received a deferred judgment for any violation of any state, county, city, federal or foreign law? All information shall be reported regardless of the disposition, even if dismissed or expunged. Include pending charges. DO NOT include traffic violations, except those that are alcohol related. If yes, list violations on the next (Violations) screen.

Applicants should select "Yes" and enter the violation(s) on the violations screen if the applicant or any person listed on the ownership screen has been arrested, charged, indicted, convicted or received a deferred judgment for any state, county, city, federal, or foreign law violation.

- Report all violations, even those that have been dismissed or expunged.
- Report all violations, regardless of how long ago they occurred.
- Report pending charges, even those that don't have a disposition.
- DO NOT report traffic violations, unless they are alcohol related. (i.e. OWI, open container, OWI related driving while suspended/revoked).
- Applicants should not rely solely on the results of a Division of Criminal Investigation (DCI) background check or an Iowa Courts online search when reporting violations.

If no arrests, indictments, summons or convictions are applicable select "NONE".

Applicants should select "None" only if the applicant or any person listed on the ownership screen has never been charged, arrested, indicted, convicted, or received a deferred judgment for any applicable violation of any state, county, city, federal or foreign law.

Application Submission

Before an application is submitted to a local authority or the Division, an applicant is required to provide a signature. By signing the application, the applicant declares that all information provided in the application is true and correct. It is the responsibility of the applicant to ensure the application, including the criminal history, is completed accurately.

Penalty

Failure to report a criminal violation on an application is considered a misrepresentation of material fact. The law authorizes the local authority and the Division to suspend, revoke, or impose a civil penalty on applicants that misrepresent any material fact in the application. Likewise, misrepresentation of material facts in a new application is grounds for denial of the license.

Summary

It is easy to see the importance of accurately completing the criminal history section of an alcohol license application. After all, it could be the difference in the issuance of the license. When in doubt on how to answer a criminal history question, please contact a licensing specialist for guidance at 866.469.2223, option 1.
