Transforming the Division

A short time after being appointed the Administrator at the Iowa Alcoholic Beverages Division in 2010, I recognized that modernizing the agency would be critical to our long term success and thereby, the success of our customers. Fast forward to 2014 and the Division has made progress in advancing initiatives that get us further down the electronic highway to meets the demands of the dynamic marketplace we serve and what our customers want and expect to receive from us.

Leveraging Technology

Utilizing technology to increase operational efficiencies and create value for our customers is an essential ingredient for growth and our goal of making government more effective and transparent. Over the course of the last year, the Division committed to several projects to bring our digital infrastructure into the 21st century – fiber optics, Electronic Data Interchange (EDI) and a web-based ordering portal for our customers.

The Division recently completed installation of fiber optics; this allows transmission of information at greater bandwidth and faster speed. Additionally, fiber optics provides for extremely reliable data transmission. The Division now has much more flexibility to back up critical data and replication to remote servers.

EDI is now available to customers when placing orders. EDI is an e-commerce interface; it streamlines the ordering process by allowing customers to instantly transmit a liquor order from their computer directly to our warehouse management system. In addition to EDI, the Division will very soon be going live with an on-line ordering website. The site, shop.iowaabd.com, will allow customers to browse products, place an order electronically, and view order history.

Fleet Upgrades

Each year, our trucks log thousands of miles, delivering products to more than 1,200 locations across the state. This fall, the Division will roll out a new fleet of trucks. Our current fleet includes units in service dating back as far as 2001. The new equipment has the latest technology for fuel efficiency and safety. Apart from the decline in fuel expense, vehicle maintenance costs will decline and there will be less downtime for break-downs and costly repairs that ultimately may impact our delivery schedule.

The fleet also includes trailers of various lengths to allow our drivers better access to tricky delivery points.

These changes and more improvements in the future will provide increased efficiency and accuracy for the Division's distribution system. The changes we are making recognize that the fact that modernizing the Division is a great opportunity to support our customer base and ensure the Division provides appropriate resources for a thriving and growing marketplace.

Sincerely,

Stephen Larson, Administrator

Highly Allocated Products

Highly allocated products are brought in on a very temporary basis and are highly limited in supply. The Iowa ABD has established a lottery system so all Class E licensees have an equal opportunity to purchase these products as they become available.

Licensees interested in highly allocated products must sign up for email notification at http://iowaabd.com/alcohol/licensees/products/highly_allocated. Once notified, licensees have 48 hours to submit product and quantity interest. In the event that there is not enough product to meet demand, an electronic randomizer is used to distribute the allocations.

Don't miss your opportunity to purchase some truly unique and rare products for your customers. Sign up for the highly allocated products notification today!

DAY OR NIGHT CLICK IT or TICKET!

The Iowa Governor's Traffic Safety Bureau and the Iowa ABD would like to invite you to join us in promoting traffic safety.

More information such as printed materials and DVDs are available. Visit IowaGTSB.org or these other impaired driving information websites: NHTSA.gov, TrafficSafetyMarketing.gov, and StopDruggedDriving.org.

Impaired driving crashes are preventable. Great concepts such as Designated Drivers and Call a Cab programs are innovative approaches to solving this nationwide tragedy.

Remember that it is illegal to text while driving. Please help in our quest to protect all Iowans from impaired drivers.

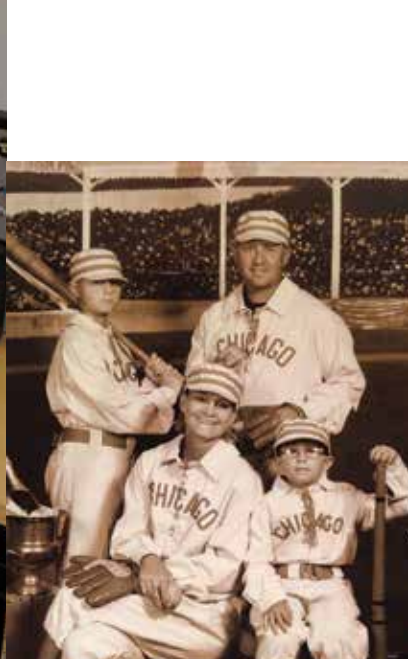

DON'T FORGET: Drive sober or get pulled over and buzzed driving is drunk driving.

NEARLY 23% of traffic fatalities last year in Iowa were attributed to drivers impaired on alcohol or other drugs.

FAVORITE PASTIMES

I enjoy playing and watching sports, hunting, fishing and traveling.

What are your duties as an Investigator?

My main job duty is to conduct tobacco compliance inspections across the State of Iowa. These inspections ensure that retailers adhere to federal laws regarding the sales and distribution of tobacco products. My job involves a lot of travel, time management skills and the ability to effectively communicate with diverse individuals on a daily basis.

What is the most challenging part of your job?

The most challenging part of my job is to effectively coordinate and perform thorough tobacco inspections, while also meeting yearly FDA deadlines pertaining to the completion of those inspections.

What do you do in your free time?

When I am not working, I like to spend as much time as possible with my beautiful wife and two kids. My two boys are extremely active in sports and most of my free time is spent at youth sporting events throughout the Midwest. I thoroughly enjoy coaching my son's baseball, basketball and football teams. Although most of my free time is spent at various youth sporting events, I also find time to root for my favorite college and professional teams. I'm a loyal fan of the Chicago Cubs and know that their time to win a World Series is coming...eventually. I am also a huge fan of the Iowa Hawkeyes and Kansas City Chiefs. I also enjoy hunting, fishing and family vacations when time allows.

What is your favorite part of your job?

I like that I am able to provide a valuable service that helps in the prevention of underage tobacco use. I also enjoy visiting the various retail establishments throughout Iowa and conversing with the various personnel during the inspection process.

A high-speed, black and white photograph of a martini glass. The glass is filled with ice cubes and several olives. A dynamic splash of liquid is captured mid-air above the glass, creating a sense of movement and freshness. The background is plain white, making the glass and its contents stand out.

PERFECTLY MIXED MARTINIS

Perfect martinis are mixed to satisfy individual preferences about using gin or vodka, the amount of vermouth, shaking or stirring the ingredients, serving it straight up or over ice, and adding or omitting garnish. Help your customers serve their holiday guests perfectly mixed martinis by suggesting they set up a martini bar where everyone can mix—or request—a drink that suits their personal tastes.

In addition to gin and vodka, suggest they include flavored gins and vodkas and a variety of liqueurs that can be added as desired, as well as special garnishes. Also provide some basic recipes along with some new “favorites.”

Rather than skewing male and older in age, the Scotch category is becoming younger and not as gender-specific.

the sophisticated spirit

Once a celebrated spirit, always a celebrated spirit. Scotch whisky reemerges with high-end expressions that appeal to the next generation of enthusiasts.

BY KATE STRANDNESS

Note: This excerpt is printed with permission from the March/April 2014 issue of StateWays—the Beverage Alcohol Merchandising Magazine for Control States.

“It’s a new time, a new age, a new era for Scotch consumers in the United States,” says Brian Radics, director of Scotch Whisky, Diageo. “Not every category can say they’re a dynamic category right now, but Scotch can say that.”

With products at every price point, from the value-price to a bottle of The Macallan that sold for more than $600,000 at an auction earlier this year, the Scotch whisky category is moving in an upward direction. “There’s this huge premiumization from the very top collective, rare bottles, and that seems to trickle down all the way through premium whisky,” says David King, president of Anchor Distilling.

As the economy improves so does what consumers drink. “The long trend of people drinking less but drinking better continues, and I think single malt whisky in particular is benefiting from that,” King offers.

For a product so steeped in history, Scotch whisky brands realize they can’t rely solely on premiumization for the new generation of drinkers. Rather than skewing male and older in age, the Scotch category is becoming younger and not as gender-specific. “Younger consumers are more adventurous and starting to incorporate brown spirits into their drinking repertoire,” says Jill Quady, brand manager for Cutty Sark.

Scotch brands are pushing the envelope when it comes to innovation. “For superpremium brands, innovation in particular has been a huge part of not only Diageo Scotch, but also the category as a whole, Radics explains.

Perhaps it’s a result of that innovation that the Scotch category is seeing so much success. That is especially true among single malts. “It’s where most of the action is happening,” King adds. “Single malt is incredibly dynamic.”

“One of the key things to pull out in the last year has been the really strong growth of value over just volume, specifically in the single malt segment,” says Andy Nash, Scotch category marketing director for William Grant & Sons.

“Scotch consumers are willing to pay for quality and seek selection, discovery, and niche offerings,” notes Chris Watt, the marketing director of premium brands for Whyte and Mackay Americas. “Limited editions, cask strength bottlings, and a good selection of core brands are worth having on the shelf.”

The secret is educating consumers on the products. “Our whole proposition, our selling proposition and our marketing proposition, is around education,” King explains. Experiential marketing focuses on tastings where multiple products are sampled and compared.

While a brand’s goal might be to educate people about what goes into the Scotch, the brand can’t be at every retail location across the country. “The brand can do so much, but if you educate the gatekeeper, whether that’s a bartender in the on-premise or a store owner or the store manager, you enable them to mentor their own shoppers,” Radics explains.

The goal is to help consumers make informed choices at the retail level. “One of the best experiences you can have is walking into a store and dealing with a knowledgeable staff,” notes Nash. “That involves training people on the various categories and what goes into them.”

HELP YOUR CUSTOMERS DISCOVER SCOTCH

Help your customers—and increase your sales of Scotch—by providing them with useful information about differences in basic ingredients, distilling methods, flavor nuances, and the wide variety of tastes. In addition to educating them about established traditional brands, single malts, and blended Scotch, also introduce them to flavored Scotch, new offerings, and limited editions. Remind them to store bottles of Scotch in their original boxes in a dark, dry, cool (under 70 degrees) place where the temperature remains constant.

Encourage them to discover the rich and varied tastes of Scotch by selecting several different offerings and sipping them from a tulip-shape glass, snifter, or tumbler. Also encourage them to try Scotch and flavored Scotch in a variety of mixed drinks.

MINERAL CITY MILL & GRILL

If you find yourself traveling to Fort Dodge one destination you won't want to miss is Mineral City Mill and Grill. While Fort Dodge might not be the biggest tourist destination, travelers and locals alike will be welcomed here with a big smile as you walk in the door from Lucas Battcher, the general manager. The restaurant has been a staple of the community for 14 years but a small fire in 2010 forced the restaurant to shut down for repairs. This allowed the owners a unique opportunity to rethink and revamp their décor, menu items and cocktail selections to focus on the needs of their most important client, you!

An example of one of their revamped creations is their sauces. All sauces made by Mineral City are made from scratch and used with local ingredients when possible. You won't want to miss out on the citrus salmon that is topped with their orange citrus glaze or the parmesan crusted chicken that is prepared with a homemade lemon vodka sauce. Other in house creations include baking their own bread and creating their own dressings. Menu items such as the deep fried shrimp and pan fried walleye are both hand breaded in their own, made in house, beer batter.

Even with those delicious options, Mineral City has more to offer. Some of their most popular items are the asiago bake which is made up of shrimp, grilled chicken, penne pasta and prosciutto ham, baked in a creamy asiago cheese sauce. Another customer favorite is the pollo grigliato. This signature sandwich is composed of freshly made, from scratch, sun dried tomato focaccia, grilled chicken, bacon and pepper jack cheese. It is then topped with fresh lettuce, tomato and chipotle mayo.

But don't forget about the drinks! Mineral City has a decadent drink menu that hosts an array of drinks that will have your taste buds asking for more. You will find your run of the mill (pun intended) drinks but with a twist. Have you ever had a Moscow mule? Ever have a Moscow mule with flavored vodka? If not, you are in for a real treat with their Georgia mule (made with peach vodka) or their crango mule (made with mango vodka and cranberry juice).

Cocktails aren't their only alcoholic indulgence. Their drink menu changes with the seasons and accommodates all pallets. They have a rotation of craft beers which include Stevens Point Brewery's Oktoberfest and Mill Stream, a beer from the Amana Colonies. They also provide hot drinks so those chilly winter nights aren't so cold. Try the apple brandy hot toddy for a quick way to warm up or the Irish coffee topped with whipped cream.

Whether you are looking for a good meal, good drink or just a place to hang out you won't be disappointed. They say that you can rise from the ashes to create a new and that is exactly what Mineral City Mill and Grill has done. With an opportunity to revamp their style they are able to keep customers happy and coming back for more.

SIMPLY LUSCIOUS DESSERTS

Give your customers something they can use during this hectic holiday entertaining season—ideas for simple-to-make desserts featuring rich, luscious liqueurs. You'll be serving them well while increasing your sales!

What could be easier than pouring liqueurs over shaved ice, ice milk, ice cream, or cake cubes or squares. Encourage your customers to make it even simpler by arranging a dessert buffet so guests can create their own after-dinner treats. Also suggest simple mixed drinks, including shooters as well as Brandy Alexanders, Grasshoppers, and other classic after-dinner cocktails.

Gelatin Shooters

Makes 4-5 shooters.

1 (3-ounce) box gelatin of choice
¾ cup boiling water
¾ cup liqueur of choice

Dissolve the gelatin in the boiling water. Add the liqueur, and stir gently until thoroughly mixed. Pour into 4 or 5 shot glasses.

3-3½ ounces very dry sherry
½-1 ounce anisette
Cherry-flavored liqueur
Bitters

Frosted Float

Serve in a frosted cocktail or martini glass rimmed with finely flaked coconut, colored sugar, powdered sugar or cocoa, shaved chocolate, or another garnish that complements the liqueur of choice.
