Message from Director Jerry Bartruff

The Iowa Corrections annual report offers an opportunity. An opportunity to display and evaluate data that allows to take a step back and examine how we're doing. And an opportunity to look ahead at the plans and programs that need to remain as they are, but also those that need modification or improvement.

This year's annual report tells several stories. As the reader examines the information contained in the report, I encourage thoughtful and constructive ideas that can help to improve correctional system and better-allow us to move towards our goal, which is providing the opportunity for safer communities.

There are several areas of the past year that I'd like to bring to light.

The department strives for equitable treatment of those we supervise, as well as for our staff. The return rate for African-Americans to prison has decreased compared to whites. Additionally, the department developed policy to reduce racial disparities in our system. The policy targets human resources (hiring, retention, and training) and metrics that involve individuals under our supervision (programming, discipline, grievances, and work assignments). The goal is to address disparity issues across our system and to ensure fair treatment.

Keeping our policies, practices, training and programs aligned with data-driven research continues to be a priority. Iowa Corrections utilized data to make more informed decisions by creating and enhancing a data dashboard, and expanding a continuous quality improvement database to ensure fidelity to correctional practices and strategies. We are working on better integration of our data utilizing metrics we know impact supervision success that both case managers and administrators have access to.

Investing in staff now means benefits for the whole system in the future. Iowa Corrections invested in staff by making a concerted effort of training all staff in evidence-based practices with over 12,000 completions for Core Correctional Practices, risk assessment, risk-need-responsivity, and leadership development training. Additionally, 87% of programs offered are evidence-based to reduce recidivism and improve individual outcomes of those under supervision.

We continue to stay committed to focusing resources on individuals most likely to reoffend. Community-based corrections developed a tiered model of levels of supervision. The purpose of the model is to focus on higher risk individuals with the proper supervision and dosage. Supervision and risk communication will be standardized statewide utilizing a consistent practice model.

And looking ahead, I see challenges on the horizon for this department. Challenges that we can take head-on and overcome, but we have to be aware of them, and working towards addressing them collectively.

I'm concerned about our overall prison population. The prison population has slowly continued to incrementally grow over the past several years. Individuals returning to prison has steadily increased for revocations from 3,323 in FY 2017 to 3,654 in FY 2018. Moreover, recidivism rates have steadily increased from 35.4% in FY 17 to 37.8% in FY 2018.

Additionally, while men continue to dramatically outnumber women in our system, I'm concerned about the trends we've been seeing in their overall population. Women continue to be a growing population in our community based corrections and prisons. In prison, we have seen a 20% increase in the past five years. Women recidivism rates are increasing and are now more comparable to men. Nearly 40% of women incarcerated have an identified mental illness. Nearly, 97% of women are on some type of prescribed medication.

Again, even though those in Corrections will have their work cut out for them, I am fully confident that the dedicated employees that make up Iowa Corrections will continue the tradition of embracing hard work and overcoming daunting challenges; we have in the past, and we will in the future. There are indeed bright days ahead for this department and the citizens it serves.

Thank you,

Jerry Bartruff, Director
Iowa Department of Corrections

To Those Reading this Report,

As a citizen board, our duties and expectations are outlined in Iowa Code. In essence, it is our duty to provide oversight of the Iowa Department of Corrections, and to also provide recommendations to the Governor and the General Assembly regarding the department. As board members, we feel an obligation to, when necessary, advocate on behalf of the correctional system as a whole. In an age of tight budgets, and continually polarized debates, we feel it is vital that citizens and elected officials keep in mind the extremely important and challenging nature of the correctional system. If we as a society allow the distractions of the day to degrade the integrity of the system, we risk jeopardizing public safety for all.

Message from the Board of Corrections, continued

This department, over the last several years, has made great strides in its efforts to continually modernize and streamline their work in an attempt to become equitable, efficient, and results-oriented. The men and women that work in corrections have truly been doing more with less. We feel that they have challenges now, and future challenges that will require the system to adapt and address, but this is a department that we can say, with confidence, will rise to meet those challenges. Which is why we feel it vital that this state, through its elected officials, continue to support Iowa Corrections through policy and also through budgetary allowance.

Those that understand public agency budgets know that without yearly budgetary appropriations that will meet the requirements of annual salary growth, agencies are forced to reduce their spending in various ways. Often, that reduction has to come from their largest discretionary expenditure, which is typically by reducing workforce. Iowa Corrections has done its part of reducing their workforce significantly through the years that state revenues required reduced appropriations. They are now at a point, we feel, that any further reduction in workforce would result in significant impact to the system as a whole. With this in mind, we encourage any stakeholders or elected officials to financially support this department so that it can continue to do the work that we all expect them to do.

Last fiscal year, the department met its obligation as a large state agency to weather their mid-year de-appropriation without having to let go of any staff members. They did this through smart budgeting throughout the year. And for the current fiscal year, the General Assembly and Governor allocated the department a budgetary increase that they have been working diligently to invest wisely. We again encourage those considering the budget of Corrections to consider every dollar invested an investment in public safety.

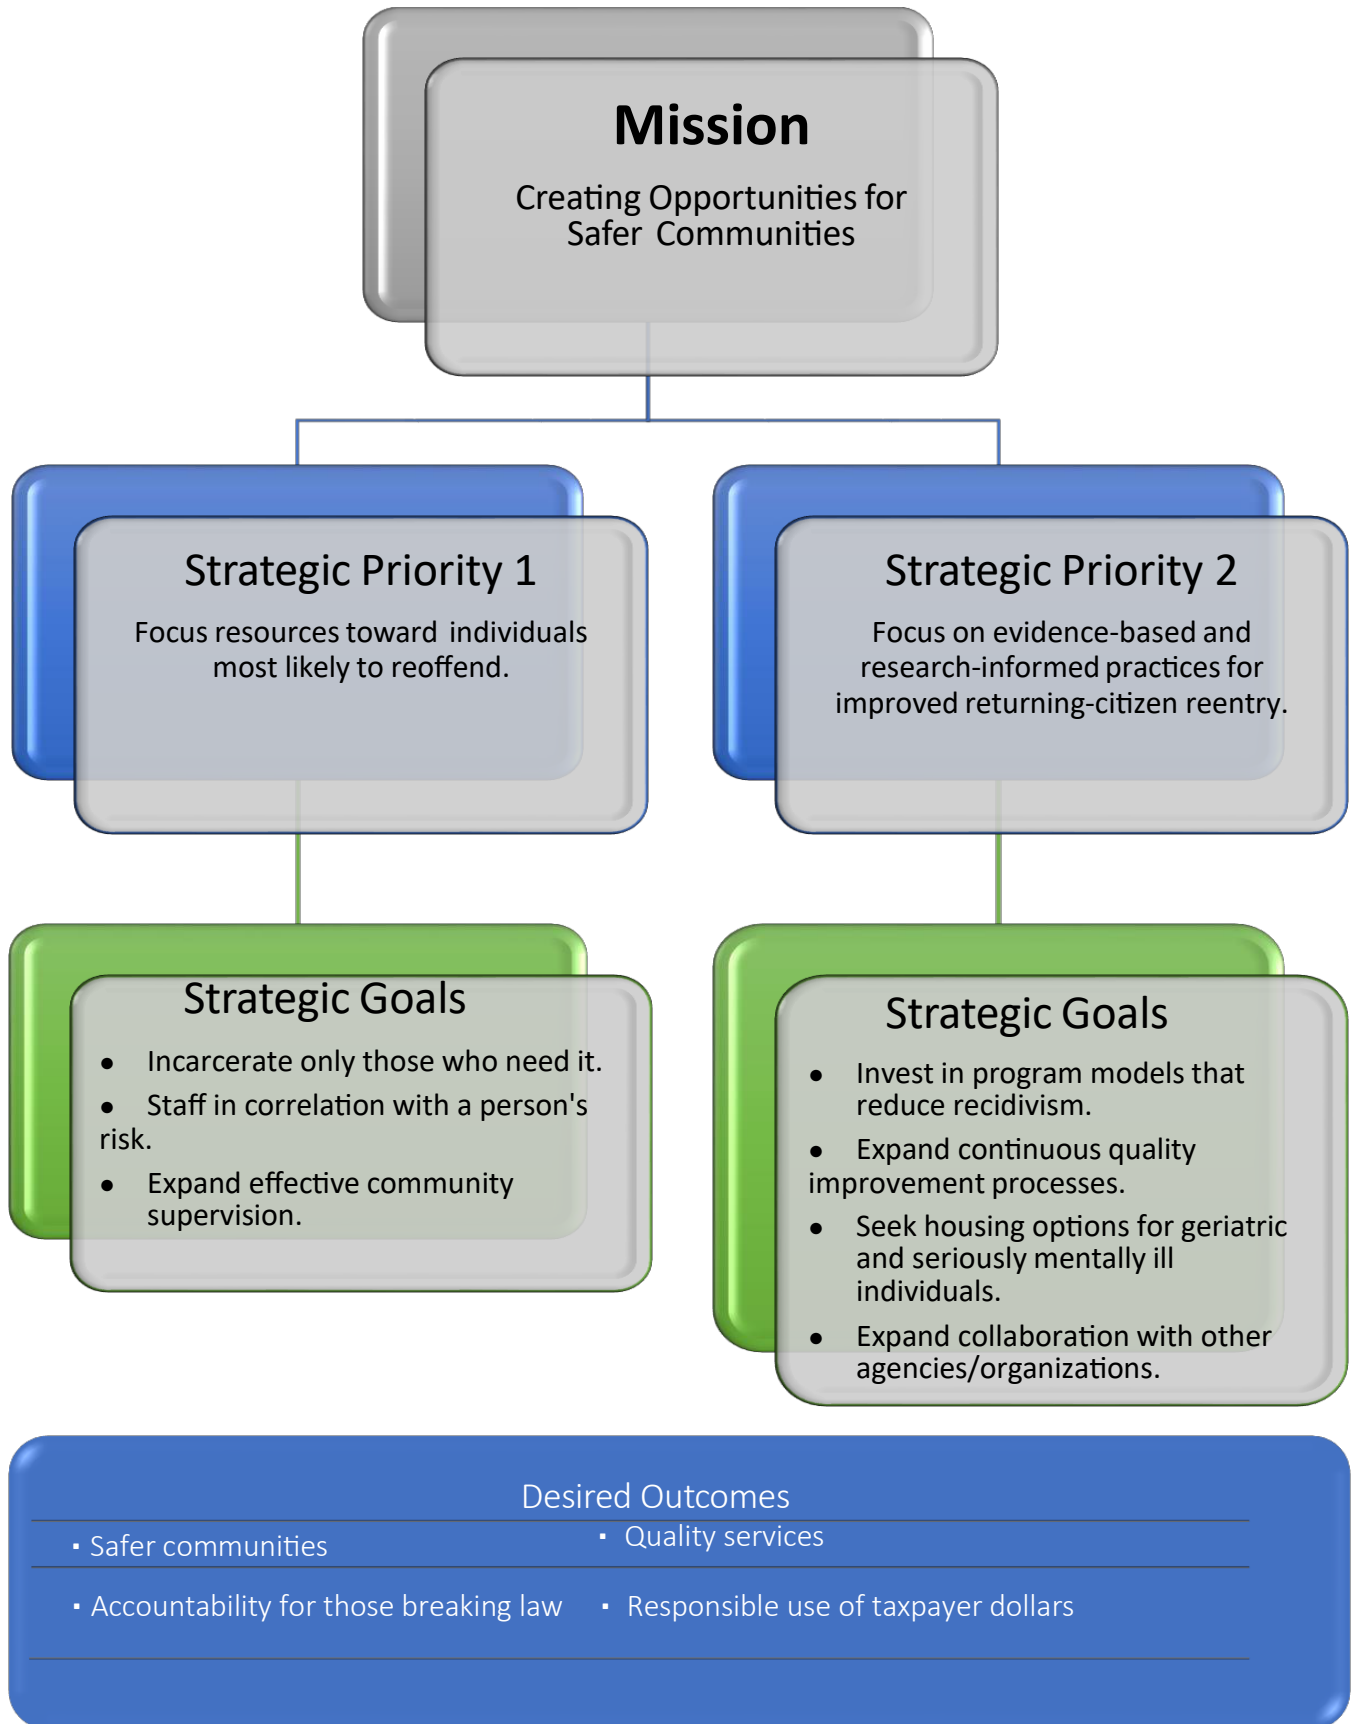

While the future of this department will hold good days and bad days ahead, we are confident that the good will far outweigh the bad. And that through the continued dedication, bravery, and perseverance of the men and women that comprise the Iowa correctional system, Iowa can have the opportunity for safer communities.

African-American Recidivism Drop Below Whites

In FY2018 the African-American return to prison rate is lower than White Non-Hispanics for two consecutive years. African-American re-entry efforts in Des Moines and Waterloo continue to make a difference. In FY 2018 IDOC developed policy to annually measure racial disparities across the system to include various metrics of individuals incarcerated (i.e., discipline, revocations, core programming, grievances). Additionally, IDOC will be tracking hiring practices, retention, and training of staff.

Agency Accomplishments

Statewide Recidivism Reduction Strategy

The Statewide Recidivism Reduction (SRR) Strategy is a collaborative effort to contribute to safer communities through recidivism reduction strategies aimed at systemic, sustainable, long-term change. The strategy is funded through a $3 million dollar grant from the Bureau of Justice Assistance. The multi-prong approach includes training, human resources, workload analysis, and seamless re-entry practices, with continuous quality improvement models throughout. This is a statewide effort to improve outcomes for justice system-involved individuals with support from the Governor's office, state and local agencies, community-based corrections, and prisons.

Highlights from Strategy Work this Year Include:

- A dashboard created to assist the Iowa Department of Corrections (IDOC) with data-driven decision making. Resources will continue to be effectively utilized and allocated based on data. The dashboard measures important practices and strategies to improve client outcomes and affords IDOC the opportunity to set baselines and benchmarks to increase performance.
- Improving the proficiency of IDOC's risk assessment tools has been a top priority. Risk assessments allow IDOC to target resources and interventions to higher risk individuals in order to reduce recidivism. IDOC increased proficiency with the tool in the prisons by 37% and 31% in community-based corrections.
- Evidence-based job competencies were developed for impact positions (i.e. correctional officers, probation officers, residential officers, correctional counselors, front-line supervisors). Evidence-based knowledge, skills, and abilities when working with the client population were embedded into job descriptions, hiring processes, and evaluations. IDOC is providing training to support the 200+ competencies identified.

The IDOC has been implementing SRR the past four years. In late September 2018, the SRR grant closed; however, IDOC is still implementing the various strategies set forth in the grant. IDOC will continue implementing SRR strategies for the next year. Importantly, with the vast changes made statewide throughout the past several years will take time to impact recidivism. CJJP will be conducting an evaluation of SRR outcomes on recidivism for the next several years.

Community Connections Supporting Reentry

The IDOC, in partnership with the Department of Human Services (DHS), developed a statewide training and discussion forum to better serve individuals under supervision returning to their communities. The trainings are one part of the work being done to reduce recidivism statewide through the IDOC's Statewide Recidivism Reduction Strategy (SRR). The goal of these trainings is to develop strong connections among the community, prisons and community-based corrections, the community mental health and disability system, and the substance use disorder service systems for individuals re-entering the community after incarceration. We hope these connections will lead to a greater understanding of the resources available to individuals to help them establish successful and permanent lives in the community, to reduce recidivism, and to increase public safety.

Goals

The goals of the training were the following: develop an understanding of the challenges faced by individuals and their families as they re-enter the community after incarceration; learn how corrections and community service systems operate, including information about services and supports available and how they interact to support persons re-entering the community; and establish connections between corrections and community services systems, including individual and agency contacts.

Resource Guide

The resource guide was developed to complement the information shared at the training and to serve as an on-going resource to help connect individuals and families with necessary services and support to help them maintain stability and find success in the community after incarceration. The goal of this guide is to provide simple overviews of the many services and supports available in the community, where to go to make referrals, or get more information.

Outcomes

Approximately 1,324 participants attended state-wide. A total of three rounds of trainings were conducted across eight Judicial Districts. A variety of agencies participated in the trainings. Staff from a total of 274 unique prisons, community corrections districts, community organizations, and state agencies attended the trainings. A total of 1,212 evaluation surveys were distributed electronically after all 24 trainings with 735 being completed (61% response rate). The "overall satisfaction" across the domains (training, resource guide, overall) ranged from 87% - 94%.

IDOC will continue implementing the forums and training throughout the year. Recently, IDOC has partnered with the Department of Human Services to conduct "reentry simulations" across the state.

Agency Accomplishments

Apprenticeship Program

Many “returning citizens” in the IDOC are taking advantage of opportunities in skill-based training and education programs. The IDOC has partnered with the U.S. Department of Labor (USDOL) Office of Apprenticeship to develop apprenticeship programs in all nine state correctional facilities. Since May of 2015, the IDOC apprenticeship program has grown 890% to 325 participants. On April 25, 2016, IDOC was designated as an Apprenticeship USA Leader by the USDOL. As of November of 2018 there have been 155 apprentices who completed their occupational training and become journeymen in their field.

There have been 3 new programs registered in 2018 bringing a total of 22 registered programs offered statewide. These include: Landscape Technician, Housekeeper (Commercial, Residential or Industrial), Cook (any industry), Maintenance Repairer (Building), Screen Printer, Upholsterer, Materials Coordinator, Computer Operator, Welder, Baker, Painter Construction, Sewing Machine Repair, Cabinet Maker, Electrician, Refrigeration and Air Conditioning Mechanic, Plumber, Fabricator-Assembler Metal Production, Powder Coating Technician, Peer Specialist, Office Manager, Job Printer, and Carpenter. These programs range from one to four years .

The IDOC continues to collaborate with colleges, manufacturers, labor unions, Iowa WORKS, and other community and state agencies to assist in developing a highly skilled workforce by training incarcerated individuals for skilled jobs that are in high demand. In 2018 IDOC implemented a learning management system to provide online training to apprentices. This online training will help bolster the collaboration efforts with employers and other training agencies by giving the apprentices access to the most up to date training required in today’s workforce.

Correctional Education Programs

The Iowa Department of Corrections contracts with state community colleges to provide quality education and vocational programs in the state prison system. During FY2018 there were 287 incarcerated individuals who received their high school equivalency diploma (HiSet); 250 incarcerated individuals completed literacy programs; 1,591 incarcerated individuals completed vocational education programs, and 5 incarcerated individuals received their High School Diploma.

Compared to FY2017, there was an 8% increase in vocational education program completions. HiSet and literacy program completions were lower this year by 4% and 5% respectively.

Agency Accomplishments

Staff Training

The Iowa Department of Corrections database tracks training throughout the DOC prisons, Central Office, and CBCs (for eLearning only because community based corrections have separate tracking systems for other types of training.) This database showed a total of 202,088 hours of training provided statewide. 102,087 hours were completed through classroom training, and 100,001 hours were completed via eLearning.

A further breakdown of classroom hours reflects 70,293 hours of In-service training and 31,794 hours of NET, or New Employee training.

There were new developments in the employee training program this year. As of September 1, 2017, Pre-Service training traditionally offered to new employees, was reorganized into a new employee training program titled NET, or New Employee Training. While Pre-Service classes for new employees were for the most part taught at Central Office in Des Moines, NET training is now scheduled by the institution Training Specialists, and held at the institutions.

For FY18, thirty-one NET trainings were offered state wide at the institutions.

Performance Measure Highlights

IMPLEMENTING the PRISON RAPE ELIMINATION ACT (PREA)

Why this is important:

It's about offender safety. PREA is a federal statute focused on sexual assault and victimization in juvenile facilities, prisons, jails, lockups, and other detention facilities. The goal of PREA is to prevent, detect, and respond to sexual abuser in detention and correctional facilities.

What we're doing about this:

All DOC institutions have completed and passed PREA audits that ensure compliance with PREA Standards. Audits are conducted every three years to ensure compliance.

Performance Measure Highlights

OFFENDER SUICIDES

Why this is important:

It's about providing basic life care for individuals in custody, and intervening effectively to prevent them from harming themselves.

What we're doing about this:

Staff training is key to prevention. Recognizing the warning signs of someone contemplating suicide, and intervening in an emergency situation are essential. Staff training goes beyond these basics to include recognition of and effective communication with individuals who have mental health issues. Regular screening for mental illness and provision of appropriate levels of care ranging from acute units to integration within the general inmate population is also important in reducing suicide incidents.

While it is clear from the graph that the department has made significant process in reducing suicides in the prison system over time, our target must be zero. One suicide is too many.
