DES MOINES — For the first time in a year, there are areas of Iowa where groundwater conditions are beginning to show stress, according to the latest Water Summary Update.

"For the third month in a row, Iowa received below normal rainfall. After such a wet start to the year, the below normal rainfall has pushed more than half of the state into abnormally dry or moderate drought conditions," said Tim Hall, DNR's coordinator of hydrology resources.

As the state continues to dry out, indicators of dry conditions continue to slowly expand. Statewide summer rainfall was 10.74 inches, or nearly 3 inches below normal.

More than half of the state is now rated as at least abnormally dry by the National Drought Monitor, while streamflow conditions in areas away from border rivers have moved into the normal flow range.

Iowa temperatures averaged 71.4 degrees, or 0.20 degrees cooler than normal, with the highest temperature in August recorded at 92 degrees in Muscatine, Little Sioux and Oakland. Fayette reported the month's lowest temperature of 47 degrees, 10 degrees below average.

The report is prepared by technical staff from Iowa DNR, the Iowa Department of Agriculture and Land Stewardship, IIHR—Hydroscience and Engineering, and the U.S.

DES MOINES—The budget request, a rule proposal and contracts head up the Sept. 17 meeting of the Environmental Protection Commission agenda.

On Sept. 16, commissioners will tour drinking water partnerships, a manufacturing plant, and a landfill and recycling site near Knoxville from 12:30 to 5 p.m. The tour is open to the public, but participants must register by Sept. 12 by emailing Jerah.Sheets@dnr.iowa.gov or calling 515-313-8909.

The business meeting begins at 10 a.m. on Sept. 17 in Room 116 of the Iowa State Capitol, 1007 E. Grand Avenue. The fiscal year 2021 budget is up for approval.

In other action, commissioners will be asked if a proposed rule to change the definition of common ownership of an animal feeding operation should go forward. The proposal would change “majority” to ownership of “10 percent or more.” The proposal would affect those owning at least 10 percent of two or more confinement feeding operations located within the regulated separation distances of one another.

Several contracts are on the agenda, along with highlights of Iowa’s nonpoint source pollution management plan showing progress in reducing sediment, phosphorus and nitrogen reaching Iowa’s waterways.

The meeting is open to the public. There is no scheduled public participation. Written comments may be submitted up to one day before the meeting to Jerah Sheets at Jerah.Sheets@dnr.iowa.gov or to DNR, 502 E. MEDIA CONTACT: Kelli Book, DNR, at 515-725-9572 or Kelli.Book@dnr.iowa.gov.

DES MOINES – DNR staff work with individuals, businesses and communities to help them protect our natural resources by complying with state and federal laws. This approach is very effective. In the few cases where compliance cannot be achieved, the DNR issues enforcement actions. The following list summarizes recent enforcement actions. Find the entire, original orders on DNR's website at www.iowadnr.gov/EnforcementActions.

Consent Orders

A consent order is issued as an alternative to issuing an administrative order. A consent order indicates that the DNR has voluntarily entered into a legally enforceable agreement with the other party.
