Building Projects

Have you completed a new building or renovation recently?

The State Library is trying to get updated information on recent library building projects from our district. If you have undergone a renovation, building remodel, or some type of building project within the past 5-7 (10?) years, I'd like you to take just a few minutes to fill out this short questionnaire (available from the link below). Doing so will help compile a list that we district consultants can share with other library directors and boards that may be contemplating a building project and looking for someone who's "been there, done that!" We started this project some time ago and it is time to update! If you already did it once, you don't need to resubmit your information.

Your completion of the form and assistance in helping me and the other consultants compile this list is invaluable!
