It's Summer!

Friday Forum Schedule

It is time once again for our monthly conversation. This is your chance to talk to fellow library directors about whatever is on your mind. This informal conversation takes place via Zoom. It's a place to share your concerns and talk about your successes, a place to learn from each other. Summer brings some schedule changes. I'll be traveling this Friday and no one wanted to meet the day before the Independence Day holiday. Our next meetings will be:

- Friday, June 11 - 10:30-11:30
- Friday, July 9 - 10:30-11:30

It's hard to believe that June is already here-I hope you're ready for summer and all that it brings. While I'm sure you are all anxious to move closer to "normal" remember that change can be good. What did you learn from this last year? What have you decided to continue? I'm always curious to hear what you changed that worked really well. As we all breathe a little easier now, I hope you know how much you are valued by your communities. Your library is an important asset for your town.
