UnitedHealthcare Donates Winter Coats to Elementary School Students

As part of an ongoing effort to donate supplies and other materials to schools across the state, UnitedHealthcare recently donated more than 500 winter coats to students at Samuelson Elementary School in Des Moines.

The donation of coats helps ensure students are able to walk to and from school safely and continue to play outside even as the temperatures drop.

"I noticed a lot of our students were coming in the morning and they didn't have coats on, and then during recess time they didn't have coats on as well, so I thought that this was a perfect fit," Samuelson Elementary School Community Coordinator Pashion Muhammad said.

Last winter UnitedHealthcare donated winter coats and to students in Sioux City and Waterloo. UnitedHealthcare also donated summer vacation kits and back-to-school
