Answers To Common Lottery Questions... How are lottery proceeds in Iowa used?

Since its start in 1985, the Iowa Lottery has provided entertainment and prizes to its players while at the same time raising more than $1.2 billion for the state programs that benefit all Iowans. And, the lottery continues to add tens of millions of dollars in profits to that total each year.

Through the years, lottery profits have been used for a variety of initiatives, including projects to create new recreation areas, support research at Iowa's public universities, develop new products and techniques for agriculture, and promote tourism in Iowa. Since 1992, lottery profits have been directed to the state general fund, where they are used for a variety of significant projects. Some of the programs that receive money from the general fund include education, natural resources, health and family services and public safety. The Governor and the Iowa Legislature allocate money from the general fund based on where they believe those funds are needed most.

Decorah Woman Restless After Discovering $250,000 Win

A Decorah woman didn't sleep well the night before claiming the top prize of $250,000 she won playing the lottery's new "Cash Bonanza" instant-scratch game.

Cindy Remick purchased the winning scratch ticket on her way home from work. She said she slept in short periods that night, waiting to visit the lottery office to claim her prize.

"I just told my husband before I went to bed, 'Well, this is a nice dream," she said.

"We always said, 'You never know when you're going to hit a big one!" — Cindy Remick Remick, 52, claimed her prize at the Iowa Lottery's regional office in Cedar Rapids. She purchased her winning ticket at Casey's, 1807 Old Stage Road in Decorah.

She explained that on her 31st wedding anniversary she'd bought a Powerball ticket and won $6. She took her winnings from that and added a little more to purchase the scratch ticket.

She said as she scratched the ticket and kept seeing more zeros in the space with the winning amount, she thought there was something wrong with the ticket. She decided she'd better go into the store to have it checked.

"I said I have to take this back in and see if he can read it and see if it says what I think it says. The little music went off and he says, 'Oh, you're a winner.' He looked at it again and he goes, 'You're a BIG winner!' I said, 'Does it say $250,000?' He said, 'It says $250,000!'" Remick recalled.

The assembly operator at Rockwell Collins in Decorah said she called her husband Mike to tell him of the big win. He was skeptical, however.

"He said, 'Well, you're lying.' Then I started crying and he says, 'Then I knew you won!" she said.

Remick said she likes to play Powerball, Mega Millions and scratch tickets, particularly Cash Bonanza. She explained that she's won some smaller $50 and $100 prizes playing the Cash Bonanza game, so she kept playing.

"We always said, 'You never know when you're going to hit a big one!" she said.

Remick won the first top prize in the game.

Remick has three children and six grandchildren who all live in eastern Iowa. She says she'll have no trouble finding ways to use her winnings.

"There's plenty of holes to fill. We've been thinking about building a house, so now this will just make that a little bit closer. And we have grandkids and kids and so there'll be places," she said.

She joked, "The husband's trying to decide how much I'm going to give him!" &

Reminders For Retailers About Paying Prizes

Iowa Lottery retailers need to be familiar with the procedures for paying prizes in all types of situations. Lottery rules state that prizes may be paid to persons of any age, but there are different considerations in paying those who are under 21.

First, all tickets must be signed before they can be checked or validated.

Paying someone under age 18 - These people are minors in the eyes of the law.

If the person entitled to a prize is under the age of 18, the payment of the prize may be made with cash or a check payable to the order of the minor or to a parent or legal guardian of the minor. Claim forms and tickets submitted by minors must also be signed by a parent or legal guardian of the minor.

Paying someone ages 18, 19 or 20 – These people are no longer minors but legal adults. They may claim prizes in lottery games as long as the claimant did not actually purchase the ticket. The person cannot use the prize winnings to purchase lottery tickets.

Paying someone age 21 or over – There are no restrictions on paying the claimant a prize.

Retailers should always remember that tickets may not be sold to persons under the age of 21.
