CMS Publishes Toolkit for Making Written Material Clear and Effective

The Toolkit for Making Written Material Clear and Effective is a health literacy resource from the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS). As shown below, this 11-part Toolkit provides a detailed and comprehensive set of tools to help you make written material in printed formats easier for people to read, understand, and use.

- Toolkit Part 1: About this Toolkit and how it can help you
- Toolkit Part 2: Using a reader-centered approach to develop and test written material
- Toolkit Part 3: Summary List of the "Toolkit Guidelines for Writing and Design"
- Toolkit Part 4: Understanding and using the "Toolkit Guidelines for Writing"
- Toolkit Part 5: Understanding and using the "Toolkit Guidelines for Graphic Design"
- Toolkit Part 6: How to collect and use feedback from readers
- Toolkit Part 7: Using readability formulas: A cautionary note
- Toolkit Part 8: Will your written material be on a website?
- Toolkit Part 9: Things to know if your written material is for older adults
- Toolkit Part 10: "Before and after" example: Using this Toolkit's guidelines to revise a brochure
- Toolkit Part 11: Understanding and using the "Toolkit Guidelines for Culturally Appropriate Translation"

The toolkit is available for download at www.cms.gov/WrittenMaterialsToolkit.

You can find links to this and other health literacy resources from the Department of Human Services at www.ahrq.gov/browse/hlitres.htm.

For Your Heart

The facts surrounding women and heart disease can be frightening to think about. The good news is that many of the risk factors associated with cardiovascular disease (CVD) can be changed and avoided to prevent premature death or unwanted complications.

That's why the National Women's Health Information Center developed the For Your Heart website. When you visit the site, you will be escorted through a short, confidential survey of questions about your health and lifestyle. Based on your answers, you will be provided with a series of articles detailing the latest information on exercise, nutrition, smoking, diabetes, cholesterol, high blood pressure and other factors that affect you and your risk for heart disease - all tailored to your needs.

Go to www.womenshealth.gov/foryourheart/survey.cfm?tid=051215&CFID=624952&CFTOKEN=88967835 to find out and to reduce your risk for cardiovascular disease and begin enjoying the benefits of better health!

Iowa Department of Public Health Receives PREP Grant Award

The Personal Responsibility Education Program (PREP) grant will enable Iowa to provide comprehensive sexuality education to adolescents with medically accurate, culturally and age-appropriate, and evidence-based programming in order to assist them to reduce the risk of unintended pregnancy, HIV/AIDS, and other sexually transmitted infections (STIs). PREP programs will also address life skills to assist Iowa teens in making responsible, informed decisions and lead safe and healthy lives.

IDPH is convening community partners to help establish program priorities and develop the state work plan for Iowa's PREP program. More information about the PREP grant is available on pages 7-8 of The Update.

If you are interested in participating in partner meetings, please contact Lindsay Miller at lmiller@idph.state.ia.us.

Funding Opportunity from HHS OWH: Building Systems of Prevention through Health Promotion for Women and Girls - Due Nov. 22, 2010

Applicants should address one of the following focus areas:

- National Women and Girls HIV/AIDS Awareness Day (NWGHAAD)
- National Women's Health Week (NWHW)
- Prevention of Violence Against Women and Girls (VAW)

Applicants interested in addressing more than one focus area may submit more than one application. However, each application should only address one focus area. Projects will be funded up to a maximum of $2,500. Community-based partnerships and collaboration are strongly encouraged. Application information can be downloaded from pages 9-20 of The Update.

Administration/Program Management

IME Informational Letter #958

The Iowa Medicaid Enterprise (IME) issued Informational Letter #958 which addresses non-emergency medical transportation. This letter provides guidance if using the TMS Management Group for arranging and paying for medical/dental/mental health transportation services. See Informational Letter #958 on page 21 of The UPdate.

Please know that Title V Maternal and Child Health agencies may continue to arrange and submit claims to IME for local (in-town) medical/dental/mental health transportation services just as you have done in past years. You will continue to develop a Transportation Plan for local (in-town) transportation resources as you have done in the past.

Using TMS services will be especially beneficial when clients need out-of-town medical/dental/mental health transportation resources. Local DHS offices are no longer handling this service.

IME Informational Letter #961

The IME released Informational Letter #961 regarding Iowa Medicaid Member Services Disease Management and Maternity Management Program. The new IME Member Services Disease Management and Maternity Management programs are designed to support providers and to assist participants in becoming and staying healthy. These programs support participants by locating and establishing a HealthCare Home, reinforcing treatment plans developed by their healthcare provider, and educating participants on making responsible decisions about their healthcare. For the participant, the program is free, voluntary, and those enrolled may choose to opt-out at any time.

IDPH staff have met with the Maternity Management Program staff and they have agreed to refer clients to MCH and Family Planning programs, when the need is identified. IME Informational Letter #961 can be viewed on page 22 of The UPdate.

IME Informational Letter #962

The IME released Informational Letter #962 announcing that effective December 1, 2010 all IME Informational Letters (program policy notices) and General Letters (notices of changes to Medicaid provider manuals) will only be available electronically. These will no longer be mailed to providers via hard copy.

Brief Statement of the Program:

IDPH submitted a proposal for the Personal Responsibility Education Program (PREP) created through the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act. PREP is a mandatory, formula-funded grant to states. IDPH was designated by Governor Culver as the state agency to apply for and administer funds on behalf of the state. PREP will enable Iowa to provide comprehensive sexuality education to adolescents with medically accurate, culturally and age-appropriate, and evidence-based programming in order to assist them to reduce their risk of unintended pregnancy, HIV/AIDS, and other sexually transmitted infections (STIs). PREP programs will also address life skills to assist Iowa teens in making responsible, informed decisions and lead safe and healthy lives. Iowa will be allocated $499,981 per year for a five-year project period. A state match is not required.

IDPH will collaborate with a wide range of public and private partners to achieve program goals.

*A State Plan for program development and implementation will be submitted to ACF by February 1, 2011.

Personal Responsibility Education Program (PREP): IDPH will partner with stakeholders to identify and adapt evidence-based programs for teen pregnancy prevention. IDPH is committed to using a systems approach to support adolescent health and well-being with particular attention to the life course health development model, public health modernization, reproductive life planning, and intimate partner violence screening and prevention.

This approach will help ensure that Iowa's youth are able to avoid the multiple risks surrounding them, receive access to skills that best protect their sexual health, and have the necessary competencies to become successful adults.

In addition to evidence-based information about delaying intercourse (abstinence) and contraception, education must be provided on adult living skills. Subjects may include financial literacy, parent-child communication, healthy relationships education, reproductive life planning, and intimate partner violence education, including sexual coercion, sexual assault and birth control sabotage.

States are encouraged to target youth populations that are the most high-risk or vulnerable for pregnancies or otherwise have special circumstances, including youth in foster care, homeless youth, youth with HIV/AIDS, pregnant youth who are under 21 years of age, mothers who are under 21 years of age, youth residing in areas with high birth rates for youth, culturally underrepresented youth populations, including Hispanic, African American, or Native American teenagers, youth in or aging out of foster care or adjudication systems, males, runaway youth, out of school youth and youth who are victims of intimate partner violence.

For the purposes of this grant program, youth is defined as ages 10-19.

B. Application Guidelines

This RFA is coordinated by John Snow, Inc. (JSI) on behalf of the HHS Regional Offices on Women's Health (OWH). Funding will support projects that build systems of prevention through the promotion of health for women and girls. Community-based partnerships and collaboration are strongly encouraged. The purpose of this funding is to empower women across the country to get healthy by taking action to improve their health and the health of women and girls in their community. Funding through this request is available for three separate focus areas. Your application should address only one of these focus areas.

1. National Women and Girls HIV/AIDS Awareness Day (NWGHAAD)
2. National Women's Health Week (NWHW)
3. Prevention of Violence Against Women and Girls (VAW)

Note: Applicants interested in addressing more than one focus area may submit more than one application. However, each application should only address one focus area.

Who can apply: Funding is available to eligible entities located in the 50 states, the six (6) U.S.-Affiliated Pacific Island Jurisdictions, Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands. Eligible entities may include: public and private non-profit organizations, community-based organizations, faith-based organizations, national organizations, colleges and universities, health care providing organizations, government agencies, professional organizations, tribal government agencies and tribal/urban Indian, Native American/Alaska Native organizations.

C. Funding Available

Projects will be funded up to a maximum amount of $2,500.

D. Background

The HHS Regional Offices on Women's Health (OWH) has contracted with John Snow Incorporated (JSI) to administer this RFA. The mission of the HHS OWH is to provide leadership to promote health equity for women and girls through sex and gender-specific approaches.

In order to achieve this mission, HHS OWH engages in the following activities:

- Developing innovative programs
- Educating health professionals
- Motivating behavior change in consumers through the dissemination of health information

For more information on the HHS OWH, please visit

<http://www.womenshealth.gov/owh/about/>

Within the OWH, there are ten Regional Women's Health Coordinators (RWHCs) in the United States who coordinate and implement national public health initiatives to promote a greater focus on women's health issues at the regional, state and local levels. The RWHCs advance the mission of the OWH in the U.S. HHS and represent the Deputy Assistant Secretary for Health (Women's Health) by administering programs that improve the health of women in communities across the country, and by coordinating activities and programs in health care service delivery, research, and public and health professional education. Sensitivity to local, state, and regional needs in women's health is reflected in their work to identify priority health areas, to establish networking relationships, and to implement initiatives addressing regional women's health concerns. For additional information about the RWHCs and the regional offices, please visit <http://www.womenshealth.gov/owh/reg/>.

E. Additional Funding Opportunities

This RFA is the first of four funding opportunities which will be available through the JSI on behalf of HHS OWH. Below is a list of additional opportunities and the schedule for when they will be released.

- Heart Attack and Stroke 9-1-1 Awareness Campaign for Women
- Reducing Health Disparities in Minority and Underserved Women and Girls
- Preventing Tobacco Use in Young Women of Low Socioeconomic Status

F. Project Areas To Be Funded

All awards made through this funding announcement must address one of the focus areas described below. Applications that do not address one of the following areas will not be considered.

Note: Organizations wishing to propose projects in more than one area must submit a separate application for each focus area.

1. National Women and Girls HIV/AIDS Awareness Day (NWGHAAD)

National Women and Girls HIV/AIDS Awareness Day is Thursday, March 10, 2011. The purpose of this annual day is to raise awareness of the increasing impact of HIV/AIDS on women and girls and encourage women and girls to take action by knowing their HIV/AIDS status and understanding their risk.

Proposed activities should take place on Thursday, March 10, 2011. However, activities conducted between March 5 and March 14, 2011 are also acceptable.

Examples of NWGHAAD activities include: health walks, health fairs, workshops for women and girls, or educational sessions on women and HIV/AIDS for health professionals. Ideas for projects, flyers, and other educational materials are available at <http://www.womenshealth.gov/hiv/nwghaad>. Other federal resources on HIV/AIDS can be found at <http://aids.gov/>, <http://www.cdc.gov/>, and <http://hrsa.gov/>.

All funded events must be registered on NWGHAAD website (<http://www.womenshealth.gov/hiv/nwghaad>).

Examples of activities and items that will not be funded include: research, direct clinical services, lab services, testing kits, and contraceptive supplies (i.e. condoms, lubricant, dental dams).

The period of performance for projects selected for funding will begin upon receipt of award notification and end by March 31, 2011. Final project reports must be submitted to JSI by March 31, 2011.

2. National Women's Health Week (NWHW)

National Women's Health Week (NWHW) is May 8 – 14, 2011. The nationwide initiative encourages women to make health a top priority and take simple steps for a longer, healthier, and happier life. During the week, families, communities, businesses, government, health organizations and other groups work together to educate women about steps they can take to improve their physical and mental health and prevent disease. Activities promote healthy behaviors such as engaging in physical activity most days of the week; making healthy food choices; visiting a healthcare provider to receive regular check-ups and preventive screenings; and avoiding unhealthy behaviors, like smoking and not wearing a seatbelt.

Proposed activities should take place between Sunday, May 8 and Saturday, May 14, 2011. However, activities conducted between May 1 and June 15, 2011 are acceptable.

Examples of NWHW activities include: health workshops for women and girls, health walks, and health fairs. Resources for planning events including sample press releases, media tools, and checklists are available on the NWHW website:

<http://www.womenshealth.gov/whw/>. The website also offers ideas for projects, posters, and other educational materials. (Please note that the website currently displays information for 2010. It will be updated with information for 2011 in early January.)

All funded events must be registered on the NWHW website <http://www.womenshealth.gov/whw/>.

Examples of activities that will not be funded include: research, direct clinical services, screening services and testing kits. The period of performance for projects selected for funding will begin upon receipt of award notification and end by June 30, 2011. Final reports must be submitted to JSI by June 30, 2011

3. Prevention of Violence Against Women and Girls (VAW)

Violence against women and girls is perpetrated in all types of personal, professional and family relationships and crosses economic, educational, cultural, racial, age, and religious lines. The United States Justice Department's Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS) estimated that nearly one-third of women murdered each year in the United States are killed by their current or former intimate partners.¹ BJS also reported that approximately one million women are stalked each year², and three percent of college women are victims of an attempted or completed rape in each academic year.³

Violence against women and girls encompasses intimate partner violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, sexual abuse, stalking, emotional and verbal abuse; as well as bullying, human-trafficking, and other forms of trauma or abuse. Violence affecting women and girls can take place in many settings including at home, at school, and in the workplace.

This funding opportunity addresses the physical, mental, and emotional impact of violence against women across the life cycle (i.e. girls, adolescent girls, women of reproductive age, pregnant women, mature women, and older women.) Funding is available for specific events or activities intended to prevent, raise awareness of, and/or respond to the epidemic of violence against women and girls in the United States.

Applications for funding in this area may include activities such as: the development and implementation of organizational policies regarding screening for violence in health care settings and outreach to workplaces and religious institutions on how they can adopt policies that address violence and ensure the safety of women and girls. Other activities may include VAW prevention workshops for women and girls, local public health awareness projects, and VAW specific health fairs.

Multiple federal websites are available that provide information, fact sheets, materials, templates and programming ideas as well as links to policies and legislation. You can access them at <http://www.womenshealth.gov/violence/>. Resources on workplace violence can be found at <http://www.osha.gov/SLTC/workplaceviolence/index.html>.

Examples of activities that will not be funded include: research, direct clinical services, lab services and testing kits, and production of media materials such as books, CDs, or DVDs.

The period of performance for projects selected for funding will begin upon receipt of award notification and end by August 31, 2011, Final reports must be submitted to JSI by August 31, 2011.

G. Funding Notification

This is a competitive process. All applications will be reviewed by a technical review panel. Applicants will be notified by e-mail or mail as to the status of their application by December 31, 2010.

H. Payment Process

This award is a contract not a grant. Awardees will become sub-contractors of JSI. You will receive payment after the completion of your project and approval of your final report. Payments will be processed within 30 days of receipt and approval of final report.

Note: All modifications to your project must be approved before your project is implemented. Modifications to your proposed project that are not approved in advance may result in nonpayment of your award. To request approval for modification, please contact JSI at owhapplication@jsi.com.

I. Project Time Frame

Awardees will have until the dates listed below for each project area to complete their projects (including submission of final report):

1. National Women and Girls HIV/AIDS Awareness Day (NWGHAAD): March 31, 2011
2. National Women's Health Week (NWHW): June 30, 2011
3. Prevention of Violence Against Women and Girls (VAW): August 31, 2011
