Your story is up to you.

Imagine that. Until now, a lot has been decided for you. But going forward, you get to decide your future. Each day is a blank page and you get to choose how to fill it. Your page - your story. What do you want to learn? Who do you want to be? Where do you want to go?

Make it the best story you can imagine.

Your Story Starts with a Plan

A blank page can seem intimidating at first, but keep in mind that every story - even yours - begins with a plan. Start by asking yourself some questions. What activities do you enjoy? Where do you like to spend your time? Who do you enjoy having around? By identifying the activities, places and people that make you happy, you will develop an idea about the type of work environment that best suits you.

Experiences are handy tools when seeking an ideal career.

Make a list of the things you have done, such as volunteer work, part-time job experiences, hobbies, favorite school subjects and talents. It is also helpful to note which experiences you really enjoyed. Don't limit yourself based on your level of success or ability. There are a variety of skill levels required in all career fields.

Selecting a college or university and deciding on a major are important decisions. These decisions are easier to make if you have a career plan in mind. Career information systems, like www.IHaveAPlanIowa.gov, can help you discover how your interests and activities relate to various careers and identify colleges and universities that offer programs and training needed for each possible career.

WHAT'S YOUR MAJOR?

If you are not sure what to major in, you are not alone. Many college students change their major at least once during their time in college. You are more likely to select a major that is the right fit if your decision is based on the planning you have already started for your future career and the experiences you have had up to this point.

Your Interests

The steps you have taken to find a career will help you find the major that is right for you. I Have A Plan Iowa™ is a great resource for finding majors related to your interests and finding colleges that offer those majors. Remember, you can set up your free account by going to www.IHaveAPlanIowa.gov and explore websites and course catalogs of colleges and universities you are considering. This may help you decide what college you will attend.

Explore the Subject

Start exploring by taking classes related to your interests. This is a good way to familiarize yourself with a specific major and determine if you are interested in pursuing a related career. Do not be discouraged if you find you are not as interested in a topic as you thought you might be; selecting the right major is a learning experience and may be determined through trial and error.

How Your Major Becomes a Degree

If you are still interested in the major after taking a class or two, determine what is required to obtain that degree. The academic department associated with the major is an excellent resource. They can provide information about internships, careers and graduation requirements, as well as the chance to speak to an advisor or counselor about your plans. A visit to the department may even result in scholarship opportunities. Research things you will need to know such as what classes will be required for this major, what sorts of things will be covered in these classes and what will be expected of you.

College Programs and Majors

Pages 25 and 26 of this guide include a chart of common majors offered by Iowa colleges and universities.

Major [mey-jer] - noun

Education -

- a. a subject or field of study chosen by a student to represent his or her principal interest and upon which a large share of his other efforts are concentrated: History was my major at college.

Definition from www.dictionary.com

There are many different training and education choices beyond high school. The type of education or training you need will depend on your career choice. See the descriptions and examples below to help you decide which program is right for you.

Apprenticeships

An apprenticeship is a training program that combines classroom studies with on-the-job training supervised by a trade professional where you earn wages while you learn a skilled profession in a specific field. It can take several years to become fully trained in the occupation you choose. Examples of careers requiring an apprenticeship include electrician, plumber, and carpenter.

Certificates and Diplomas

A certificate or diploma program focuses on a particular skill needed for a specific career and can generally be earned in two years or less at a community college, career/technical/business college or some four-year colleges. Examples of possible careers requiring a certificate or diploma include paralegal, cosmetologist, welder, chef, certified nursing assistant and radiological technician.

Associate Degree

Associate degrees can usually be earned in two years (sometimes less) at any community college or some career/technical/business colleges and four-year colleges. Some associates degrees can be applied toward a bachelor's degree at a four-year college or university. Examples of possible careers requiring an associate degree include dental hygienist, administrative assistant, registered nurse, veterinary technician and auto mechanic.

Bachelor's Degree

A bachelor's degree, or undergraduate degree, typically takes at least four years to complete at any four-year college or university. Careers that require a bachelor's degree include teacher, engineer, accountant, dietitian and social worker.

Advanced Degree

After obtaining a bachelor's degree, you may choose to pursue an advanced degree such as a master's, doctoral or professional degree. The time it takes to complete an advanced degree can be two years or more, depending on the type of degree you choose. Examples of professions that require an advanced degree include dentist, lawyer, veterinarian, pharmacist, psychologist, college professor and doctor.

Higher Education Pays

Overall, the more education you attain, the more likely you will find employment opportunities with higher earning potential.

See if you can imagine yourself
at the college...

Use www.IHaveAPlanIowa.gov to help you document your campus visits. Track your actions and add campus visit notes for each college you have saved by going to your college planning portfolio located under postsecondary plans.

Choosing where you want to go to college is an extremely personal decision. A good starting point is to identify colleges that offer programs and majors related to your career interests.

Compile a List of Possible Colleges and Universities

Start by listing colleges that offer the major(s) that interest you and that meet other factors you find important.

I Have A Plan Iowa™ is a great resource for exploring colleges. School exploration tools at www.IHaveAPlanIowa.gov can help you find colleges that match characteristics you find important and can also provide a side-by-side comparison of schools for you to see how they stack up.

Research Colleges and Universities on Your List

Gather information about each college by talking to your school counselor, attending college fairs and visiting college websites. Many colleges offer virtual campus tours so you can get an idea of the look and feel from your computer.

Schedule Campus Visits

Visiting colleges you are interested in attending is important because it will help you determine whether the college is a good fit, both socially and academically. If possible, try to visit when classes are in session. Prepare specific questions to ask at each college. Make a list of college characteristics that are important to you and check off items offered by each college. The tips in the box on the left provide a starting point to help you make the most of your campus visits. Contact an admissions representative to schedule your visit.

Apply to Colleges and Universities that Make the Cut

The research you have done and the college visits you have made will help you determine which colleges you are interested in attending. Make sure you know the application requirements and deadlines for each college before you apply. Some colleges may require essays, personal interviews, or letters of recommendation. Knowing what is expected ensures you have plenty of time to prepare. Make sure you apply to at least one college where you are confident you will be accepted.

Factors in Choosing a College:

- Cost
- Location
- Size of campus/total enrollment
- Academic programs and majors
- School expertise
- Diversity
- Average ACT score
- Extracurricular activities/campus life
- Support services
- Safety and security
- Type of learning environment
- Faculty/student ratio
- Housing options
- Graduation rates
- Job placement rates

ACT® or SAT® What are the Differences?

While the ACT® and SAT® are both standardized college admissions tests accepted by most colleges and universities, there are differences. Check to see if the colleges you are interested in attending prefer one test over the other. If either test is accepted, keep in mind the following differences when determining which test is best suited to your skills and strengths.

- The ACT® tests students on subject matter covered in high school while the SAT® is considered an aptitude test that measures reasoning or critical thinking.
- The ACT® has four sections: English, Mathematics, Reading and Science. The SAT® has three sections: Critical Reading, Mathematics and Writing.
- The SAT® has a required writing section. The writing section is optional in the ACT®.
- While both the ACT® and SAT® primarily are multiple choice tests (except for the writing section), the SAT® has a math section that requires students to produce their own answers.
- The SAT® penalizes students slightly for wrong multiple-choice answers while the ACT® does not.

We are not talking about weight. This “Freshman 15” list contains 15 college must-have items that you don’t want to leave home without!

You may not use a robe at home but, unless you are an exhibitionist, it will come in handy when dashing from your room to a shared bathroom to take a shower.

3. Flip Flops

Do you really want to walk barefoot down the hall or stand in a shower that has been used by the masses? Flip flops are a must!

If you have to share a bathroom, a shower caddy makes it so much easier to haul your shampoo, conditioner, soap, shaving supplies, toothbrush, and all other essentials back and forth.

If you go to college in Iowa, you will need one unless you want to drip dry while you sit in class.

6. Snow Boots

You will be thankful you brought this when you want a can of Spaghetti-Os at 2:00 a.m.

11. Door Stop

Tiny room, mounds of dirty clothes, bed sheets that haven’t been washed in weeks—yes, Febreze is necessary.

Paying for college does not have to be financially overwhelming. There are many different ways for families to pay for a college education and the financial aid process is not as complicated as most people think. In fact, most students attending Iowa colleges and universities receive some form of financial assistance. To be considered for the most financial aid programs, make sure to do these four financial aid tasks.

Submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA)

To qualify for most financial aid programs, you must complete and submit a FAFSA. The fastest, easiest, and most accurate way to apply is online at www.fafsa.gov. The FAFSA will ask information about your finances, your family's finances, and your college plans. Go to page 10 for more information on completing the FAFSA.

Never Pay to File the FAFSA

There are no fees to complete or file the FAFSA. If you have questions, get free help by calling Iowa College Aid at 877-272-4456, the Iowa College Access Network (ICAN) at 877-272-4692, or call the financial aid office at any college or university.

Submit the Iowa Financial Aid Application

The Iowa Financial Aid Application allows you to apply for multiple state-administered aid programs with one application. It can be accessed by clicking the application button at www.IHaveAPlanIowa.gov.

More information on state scholarships and grants is available on page 14.

Apply for College Admission

Applying for college admission is not the same as applying for financial aid - you need to do both. After completing the FAFSA and admission applications for the colleges and universities that interest you most, each college you list on your FAFSA will send you an award letter. Your award letter may be electronic or paper and it will describe the financial aid package each college can offer you.

More information on reviewing award letters can be found on page 13.

Seek & Apply for Scholarships

Start looking for scholarship opportunities during your junior year of high school. High school counselors are excellent resources for local scholarship information, as are libraries and college and university financial aid administrators.

Reputable education organizations will NOT charge fees for scholarship searches. You can access a free Scholarship Finder at www.IHaveAPlanIowa.gov to search for scholarships that match your skills and accomplishments.

Practice a College Application

Practice makes perfect - so take the opportunity to practice completing a college application at www.IHaveAPlanIowa.gov!

Keys to Getting Scholarships

- Apply early (start looking your junior year of high school).
- Compile a personal inventory of your academic, extracurricular and career plans.
- Check with your high school counselor about the availability of local scholarships and programs for students graduating from your high school.
- Check into scholarship opportunities through community foundations, civic or fraternal organizations, or through a corporation or business with a presence in your community.
- Use the Scholarship Finder at www.IHaveAPlanIowa.gov to find scholarships that match your skills and accomplishments.
- Follow application directions precisely; DO NOT MISS DEADLINES!
- Line up letters of recommendation from references who can characterize your abilities.
- Do a thorough, thoughtful job on all required essays.

FILE THE FAFSA

The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) serves as the application for federal programs as well as for many state programs and financial aid from colleges and universities. Even if you are not sure that you will need financial aid, file it anyway - it's free. Just about every family is eligible for some form of financial aid - grants, scholarships, work-study or student loans. To determine your eligibility, you must complete the FAFSA.

Who Completes the FAFSA?

Whether you are a dependent or independent student will determine if you need to include your parents' financial information on the FAFSA. If you meet one of the conditions below, you are considered to be an independent student and do not need to provide parental information.

- 24 years old or older
- Graduate student
- Married
- Provide more than 50% financial support for dependents
- Veteran of the U.S. armed forces
- Currently serve on active duty in the armed forces for purposes other than training
- Unaccompanied youth who is homeless or at risk of being homeless
- Emancipated minor
- Since turning 13, you were in foster care, a dependent or ward of the court, or both your parents were deceased

If you do not meet any of the independent student criteria, parental information must be provided on the FAFSA. If you feel you have special circumstances that inhibit your ability to provide parental information on the FAFSA such as the inability to locate your parents; your parents are incarcerated; you left home due to an abusive situation; or your parents refuse to provide their information and refuse to provide you with any financial support; you should contact the financial aid office at the college you plan to attend to discuss your family situation.

Where to Get your FAFSA

The quickest way to file the FAFSA is online at www.fafsa.gov. FAFSA on the Web is secure, easy and accurate. This web-based form includes online assistance and prompts to reduce applicant error, and can be processed faster if you electronically sign the FAFSA with your Department of Education PIN. You can apply for a PIN while completing the FAFSA on the Web, or you can go to the Federal Student Aid PIN website at www.pin.ed.gov to apply.

Paper forms for mailing can be obtained through 1-800-4-FEDAID (800-433-3243) or by visiting www.fafsa.gov/options.htm.

FAFSA Deadlines

Your completed FAFSA should be submitted as soon after January 1 as possible to receive financial aid in the next academic year. Many aid programs are offered on a first-come, first-served basis.

July 1 is the application deadline for many grants and scholarships funded by the State of Iowa. Page 15 provides a chart of application deadlines for all programs administered by Iowa College Aid. In addition, most college and university financial aid offices have priority deadlines as early as February or March. Some aid is limited and might not be available if you miss the priority deadline.

FAFSA Filing Tips

- Gather the following financial documents for you and your parents:
 - Federal Income Tax Returns
 - W-2 Forms
 - Records of Untaxed Benefits Received
 - Current Bank Statements
 - Current Business and Farm Records, as well as other Savings and Investments
 - Alien Registration or Permanent Resident Card (if you are not a U.S. citizen)
- Be sure the name you enter matches your name as it appears on your Social Security Card.
- Enter up to 10 colleges or universities on your FAFSA that you are considering for enrollment. This ensures that the report from your FAFSA is shared with campus officials who will evaluate your eligibility for federal, state and institutional financial aid.
- E-sign your FAFSA using your Federal Student Aid PIN for fastest processing. You and your parents may apply for a PIN at www.pin.ed.gov.
- After submitting your FAFSA, print out the confirmation page, which displays the exact date and time the form was received.

FASFA Filing Deadlines

The Directory of Iowa Colleges & Universities, starting on page 29, includes the priority deadline for FAFSA filing for each Iowa college and university.

Your Student Aid Report (SAR)

If you filed your FAFSA electronically and included your email address, you will receive an email that allows you access to your electronic SAR within a few days of submitting your completed FAFSA. (SAR results will take approximately three weeks if you filed a paper FAFSA.) The SAR contains Expected Family Contribution (EFC) information, as well as initial information about your Pell Grant eligibility. Any college or university that you listed on your FAFSA will receive an electronic copy of your SAR once your application has been processed. Colleges and universities use your EFC to determine your eligibility for federal grants, loans, work-study and other financial aid programs.

Your Expected Family Contribution (EFC)

The U.S. Department of Education uses your FAFSA to calculate your Expected Family Contribution (EFC), the figure that is used to determine your financial aid eligibility.

Variables that determine your EFC include income and net worth for you and your parents, family size, age of older parent, state and federal taxes, and number of family members attending college. You may use the EFC calculator at www.IHaveAPlanIowa.gov to estimate your family's EFC (the estimate is unofficial).

Your EFC may change from year to year as your family size, number of students in college or income changes. Even if you feel that your family's income will be too high to receive financial aid, you should still complete the FAFSA so colleges and universities know you desire other forms of financial assistance. Many scholarships and loans are awarded to students who are not eligible for need-based financial assistance. It is very important that you file a FAFSA each year.

www.FAFSA4caster.ed.gov

FAFSA4caster will help you get an early start on the financial aid process by:

- Providing you an early estimate of your EFC.
- Giving you an experience similar to the FAFSA on the Web.
- Allowing you to transfer your data to FAFSA on the Web when you are ready to apply.
- Allowing you to apply for your Federal Student Aid PIN.
- Increasing your knowledge about the financial aid process.

SAMPLE EFC CALCULATION FOR A DEPENDENT STUDENT:*

Parents' combined income	$60,000
Student's income	$ 5,000
Parents' assets.....	$10,000
Student's assets	$ 950
Age of older parent.....	60
Family size (parents & children)	4
Number in college	1
Parents' contribution.....	$ 4,955
Student's contribution	$ 883
Expected Family Contribution per year (EFC)	$ 5,838

*This illustrates an approximation of the Federal EFC figure that is calculated when you file a FAFSA.

Cost of Attendance (COA)

Each college and university calculates its own cost of attendance (COA). This budget includes everything you need to go to school and live, within reason. The COA is more than just the amount charged for tuition. It includes estimated costs for books, supplies, fees, housing, food, transportation and living expenses for the academic year.

The cost of attendance is determined by the college or university and will vary by factors such as:

- type of school
- location
- major course of study
- whether you are enrolled on a full-time or part-time basis
- whether you live on or off campus

$$\begin{array}{r} \text{Your Cost of Attendance} \\ - \text{Your Expected Family Contribution} \\ \hline = \text{Your Financial Need} \end{array}$$

Financial Need vs. College Costs

Each college or university to which you are accepted, and you listed on your FAFSA, will determine your financial need at their respective institution. Your Financial Need is equal to the Cost of Attendance (COA), minus your Expected Family Contribution (EFC).

Your EFC will remain the same in a given year (unless an unusual family situation arises), regardless of which college or university you attend. The amount of financial aid you may receive cannot exceed the total cost of attendance at each college or university. Your financial need will fluctuate, however, depending on the college or university that you attend. This is shown in the sample financial aid worksheet, located below, that uses the EFC from the example on page 11 and applies the data to the costs of Colleges A, B and C.

SAMPLE FINANCIAL AID WORKSHEET

The expenses that make up the cost of attendance in this example are based on full-time attendance for a full academic year, August–May. These figures reflect estimated costs for Iowa colleges and universities. The specific college costs for the 2011-12 academic year are listed in the profiles for each college and university beginning on page 29. Use this example to gain a better understanding of how colleges and universities calculate financial need.

SAMPLE FINANCIAL AID WORKSHEET (Financial Need in relation to Cost of Attendance)
College/University costs	School A	School B	School C	Your Choice
Tuition and fees	$ 3,930	$ 7,765	$ 28,382	$
Room and board	$ 5,904	$ 8,750	$ 8,410	$
Books and supplies	$ 1,254	$ 1,090	$ 1,100	$
Transportation and personal	$ 5,400	$ 3,500	$ 3,600	$
Cost of attendance	$ 16,488	$ 21,105	$ 41,492	$
Less EFC*	-$ 5,838	-$ 5,838	-$ 5,838	-$
FINANCIAL NEED:	$ 10,650	$ 15,267	$ 35,654	$

*FAFSA results determine EFC

The total amount of financial aid that a student may receive from all sources cannot exceed the cost of attendance.

Evaluate Your Financial Aid Offers

Upon admittance, each college or university specified on your FAFSA will present you with an award letter describing the financial aid it can offer. This award letter will include the state and federal aid you are eligible to receive, as well as college-specific financial aid. It is likely that your package also will include one or more types of student loans for you to consider.

When comparing aid packages from more than one college, consider how much assistance is from scholarships and grants (which do not have to be repaid) and how much is from loan support (which must be repaid).

Keep in mind that if you are offered a student loan, you do not have to borrow the full amount offered to you. Accepting a student loan means accepting the responsibility of repaying it. You may use the Student Loans over Projected Earnings (SLOPE) calculator at www.IHaveAPlanIowa.gov to calculate your estimated monthly payment for student loans and compare it to your projected earnings for your career choice. The results will indicate how much you can borrow comfortably based upon your career.

Award Letter Deadlines

To accept the financial aid package offered by a college or university, follow all instructions. This is likely to involve signing and returning documents by a specified deadline. Don't miss deadlines for accepting aid or the funds could be given to other students. Talk to the financial aid office at the college or university if there is an unusual circumstance that delays your response.

STATE SCHOLARSHIPS & GRANTS

The State of Iowa appropriates funding for several grant programs to provide families with access to and a choice of higher education opportunities. Students who receive Iowa-funded grants and scholarships must be Iowa residents and attend an eligible Iowa college or university. Federal grants and student loans are awarded to both Iowa resident and non-resident students. Grants do not have to be repaid and can significantly reduce college expenses. The chart on page 15 specifies the application requirements for each program administered by Iowa College Aid.

FEDERAL GRANTS

Federal grants are awarded to both Iowa resident and non-resident students. Eligible students can receive these federal grants for attendance at any postsecondary educational institution participating in the program. Complete and submit a FAFSA at www.fafsa.gov as soon as possible after January 1 to apply for federal financial aid programs.

Pell Grants

Pell Grants are funded by the federal government to assist the neediest undergraduate students. For many students, Pell Grants provide a financial aid foundation to which aid from other federal and non-federal sources is added. The maximum grant is $5,500. The average Pell Grant given to Iowa students last year was $3,715. Data from your FAFSA determines Pell Grant eligibility.

Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants (SEOG)

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants (SEOG) are based on financial need as determined by the results of the FAFSA and may be used at any college or university. Students with exceptional financial need who are eligible for Pell Grants are given priority. Eligible recipients may receive between $100 and $4,000 per year depending on when they apply, financial need, the funding at the college or university, and the policies at college or university financial aid offices.

Teacher Education Assistance for College and Higher Education Grants (TEACH Grant)

Teacher Education Assistance for College and Higher Education (TEACH) Grants were created to help all levels of collegiate students enrolled in teaching programs pay for their college education. In exchange for receiving a TEACH Grant, recipients must agree to serve as full-time teachers in a high-need field in a public or private elementary or secondary school that serves low-income students. These grants are available to eligible undergraduate, post-baccalaureate and graduate students for a maximum amount of $4,000 per year. The award amount is reduced for students enrolled on a part-time basis. Academic standards of at least a 3.25 GPA or a score above the 75th percentile on at least one standardized admissions test battery apply to all recipients, with the exception of graduate degree students who are current teachers or retirees from another occupation who possess expertise in a field where there is a teacher shortage, or current or former teachers pursuing a high-quality alternative certification such as Teach for America. More information on TEACH grants, including high-need areas and eligible low-income schools is available in the scholarships & grants section of our website, www.iowaCollegeAid.gov.

5 Ways to Save on College Costs!

- 1. Don't Fall Victim to "Senioritis"
Take advantage of AP courses and dual enrollment options in high school to reduce the number of credits you need to take in college.
- 2. Plan Ahead to Avoid Changing Majors
Changing majors (even once) can add on a year of college. Explore your interests, values and skills and match them to potential careers in I Have A Plan Iowa™ to stay on track.
- 3. Consider Summer Courses
Taking one summer course each year in addition to a regular full-time schedule can help you to graduate a semester early.
- 4. Take a Part Time Job
Working during college can help reduce the amount you have to borrow in addition to providing valuable job experience.
- 5. Rent Your Textbooks
Many colleges allow you to rent textbooks instead of buying them, saving you hundreds of dollars. Online sites, such as Amazon.com, chegg.com, eFollett.com and swoopthat.com, also allow students to rent or purchase text books at reduced amounts.

TEACH Grant Teaching Requirements

If you do not fulfill the required teaching service, your TEACH Grants will become unsubsidized Direct Stafford loans that must be repaid to the U.S. Department of Education. In addition, you will be charged interest starting from the first disbursement date of each grant.

COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITY SCHOLARSHIPS

The college or university you have chosen may provide scholarships or financial awards from its own institutional funds. Often, institutional scholarships are given to recipients who meet specific eligibility requirements related to particular areas of study, academic achievements, outstanding talent, leadership, athletic ability or other criteria. Contact the financial aid office at the college or university you have selected and inquire about institutional scholarships.

PRIVATE SCHOLARSHIPS

Scholarships are available from a variety of sources including businesses, foundations, religious organizations, community groups or fraternal organizations. High school counselors are excellent resources for scholarship information, as are libraries and college and university financial aid administrators.

Internet searches also allow students and families to explore a broader pool of scholarship possibilities. Reputable education organizations will NOT charge fees for the scholarship searches they offer. Be wary of questionable claims and avoid fee-for-service offers. You can access the free Scholarship Finder at www.IHaveAPlanIowa.gov to search for scholarships that match your skills and accomplishments.

WORK-STUDY AND PART-TIME EMPLOYMENT

You may decide to pay for some of your college expenses by taking a part-time job. The extra income may mean having to borrow less in student loans. Part-time jobs can include work-study and jobs on and off campus. Work-study provides part-time jobs for undergraduate and graduate students with financial need. If you are eligible for work-study, your college or university will include it as an option for you to consider in your financial aid award letter. Students not eligible for work-study can still opt to work in a part-time job to assist with their college expenses. When seeking a part-time job, keep in mind the following:

- While working teaches financial responsibility and self-discipline, it's important that it doesn't conflict with your primary objective – completing your college education.
- Do not work so many hours that you jeopardize the amount of time you have to study or attend class. Typically, part-time employment will not affect grades if you work 20 hours or less each week.

Take Advantage of Higher Education Tax Benefits

Your family may be able to benefit from higher education tax credits and deductions available to individuals and families who have paid eligible higher education-related expenses during the tax year. More information about these tax benefits is available at www.IowaCollegeAid.gov or by accessing the IRS Publication 970 at www.irs.gov. Be sure to consult a professional tax advisor if you have questions about your eligibility.

- Student Loan Interest Deduction
Eligible borrowers may deduct interest paid on student loans (up to a maximum of $2,500 each year) to reduce the amount of taxable income.
- American Opportunity Tax Credit
Eligible taxpayers may claim a credit of up to $2,500 for each eligible student within his/her first four years of college to reduce the amount of income tax owed, and 40% of the credit is refundable for many taxpayers.
- Lifetime Learning Tax Credit
Eligible taxpayers may claim a credit of up to $2,000 per family per tax return for all years of postsecondary education to reduce the amount of income tax owed.
- Tuition & Fees Deduction
Eligible taxpayers may deduct up to $4,000 paid for tuition and fees during the tax year to reduce the amount of taxable income.

STUDENT LOANS

If you still need money to cover educational expenses after you have exhausted other aid and employment opportunities, student loans are a good option. Just remember, student loan money is for financing your education, not your lifestyle. Student loans are real money that must be repaid, with interest, so borrow only what you need.

FEDERAL STAFFORD LOANS

Stafford Loans are federal loans that are provided by the U.S. Department of Education. The financial aid office at your college or university has processes in place to make it efficient for you to complete a student loan application and receive funds that are applied directly to your student account. You must file a FAFSA to receive a Stafford Loan. There are two types of Stafford Loans.

Subsidized Loan – For students who demonstrate financial need (as determined through the FAFSA process). Students do not pay interest on the loan while in school or in grace or deferment periods.

Unsubsidized Loan – Students do not have to demonstrate financial need to qualify. Students are responsible for paying interest charged throughout the entire life of their loan, even while in school. Interest may be added to the loan (capitalized) if students choose not to make interest payments while in school.

*The Budget Control Act of 2011 eliminated the interest subsidy on Stafford Loans to graduate and professional students, effective for new loans made on or after July 1, 2012. Graduate and professional students may still borrow up to $20,500 annually in Stafford Loans, but the borrower must pay all interest that accrues on the loans.

Interest Rate: Stafford Loans first disbursed on or after July 1, 2006, have fixed interest rates. The rates differ based on when the loan is first disbursed, whether the loan is for an undergraduate or graduate student and whether the Stafford Loan is subsidized or unsubsidized.

The chart below outlines the fixed interest rates. The corresponding rate is effective for the entire life of each loan.

Fees: Stafford Loans disbursed on or after July 1, 2010 have a 1% origination fee that is deducted from each loan disbursement.

Disbursement: The U.S. Department of Education disburses the funds directly to the college or university you attend. Expect loan proceeds to be disbursed each academic period.

Repayment: Stafford Loan repayment begins six months after you graduate, withdraw, or drop below half-time enrollment. You have up to 10 years to repay Stafford Loans using a standard repayment plan. Additional repayment plans are available to eligible borrowers to reduce payment amounts and extended repayment terms may be granted to borrowers with larger loan balances.

What is the Limit on What You Can Borrow? The chart on page 19 provides you with the annual loan limits which are set by the federal government and reflect the combined total of subsidized and unsubsidized Stafford Loans.

Second year, undergraduate	$6,500 [subsidized limit is $4,500]	$10,500 [subsidized limit is $4,500]

Graduate/professional program student		$138,500 [subsidized limit is $65,500 ²] [limit is $65,500]

¹ You are considered an independent student (self-supporting) if you meet ONE of the following conditions: age 24 or older, a graduate or professional student, married, provide more than 50% financial support for dependents, veteran of the U.S. armed forces, currently serve on active duty in the armed forces for purposes other than training, unaccompanied youth who is homeless or at risk of being homeless, emancipated minor, since turning 13, you were in foster care, a dependent or ward of the court, or both your parents were deceased.

² The Budget Control Act of 2011 eliminated the interest subsidy on Stafford Loans to graduate and professional students, effective for new loans made on or after July 1, 2012. Graduate and professional students may still borrow up to $20,500 annually in Stafford Loans, but the borrower must pay all interest that accrues on the loans.

Don't Borrow More Than You Need

Use the SLOPE (Student Loans Over Projected Earnings) calculator in www.IHaveAPlanIowa.gov to estimate the interest and monthly student loan payments for your student loans and determine a manageable debt load based on the earning potential of your career choice.

The Downside of Deferring Interest Payments

Deferring interest payments may seem helpful now, but you will have a larger loan balance when you enter repayment (due to interest capitalization). You will save money in the end if you (or your parents) are able to pay the monthly interest charges on your unsubsidized loans while you are in school.

Capitalization [kap-i-tl-uh-zey-shuhn] - noun

- the act of adding unpaid interest to the principal balance of a loan, therefore increasing the total loan balance.

PLUS LOANS

Parent PLUS Loans are available to parents of dependent undergraduate students and Grad PLUS Loans are available to graduate/professional students to pay for educational expenses. They are federally insured and offer attractive deferment and forbearance options. Typically, they are used to pay unmet educational expenses. They may also be used as an alternative to private student loans.

Who May Borrow

- Parents of dependent undergraduate students. (Any natural or adoptive parent, or stepparent married to the student's custodial parent, may apply for a PLUS Loan.) The dependent student must be enrolled at least half time.
- Graduate/Professional students.

PLUS borrowers are subject to credit checks. A PLUS applicant with adverse credit may qualify by attaining a creditworthy endorser. If a Parent PLUS borrower is denied, the dependent undergraduate for whom the loan was applied for is eligible for additional Federal Unsubsidized Stafford Loan amounts.

Interest Rate

Interest rates on Federal PLUS Loans disbursed on or after July 1, 2010 are fixed at 7.9%.

Fees

Federal PLUS Loans have a 4% origination fee that is deducted from each disbursement.

Disbursement: Apply at least six to eight weeks before you need the money. Loan proceeds will be sent directly to the college or university. Expect a portion of your loan to be disbursed each academic term.

Repayment: Repayment begins 60 days after the loan funds are fully disbursed. Parent PLUS borrowers may request postponement of repayment while the student for whom the loan was borrowed is enrolled at least half time and for six months thereafter. In-school deferment is available to postpone payment for Grad PLUS borrowers who are enrolled at least half time and for six months thereafter. Borrowers for both the Parent PLUS Loan and Grad PLUS Loan have up to 10 years to repay the loan, with a minimum annual payment total amount of $600 to be repaid in installments outlined in the borrower's repayment plan. A variety of repayment plans are available to eligible borrowers which may reduce payment amounts and extended repayment terms may be granted to borrowers with larger loan balances.

Loan Limits: There is no annual or aggregate limit. A borrower may request an amount equal to the cost of attendance, minus any financial aid the student receives.

Did you know? Many parents use Parent PLUS Loans instead of private loans to pay unmet educational expenses. Students whose parents take responsibility for financing a portion of their college education are better prepared for loan repayment upon graduation. Many experts recommend that student loan payments not exceed 8% of the expected income for a student's intended profession. Students who borrow $28,883, the average student loan debt for students graduating from a four-year Iowa college or university, would need to earn close to $50,000 upon graduation to stay within this recommendation. Parents can help their students from being overwhelmed by too much debt by borrowing Federal Parent PLUS Loans.

FEDERAL PERKINS LOANS

Eligibility for a Perkins Loan is based on financial need (as determined by the FAFSA) and is awarded and borrowed directly from your college or university. It is offered at a fixed interest rate of 5%, and no interest accrues until repayment. Limited federal funding is available for Perkins Loans and not all colleges and universities participate in this program. Repayment begins nine months after you graduate, leave school or drop below half-time enrollment.

PRIVATE LOANS

Private loans are an option when additional funding is needed to bridge the gap between the cost of education and other sources of financial aid. You should only use private loans as a last resort after all other scholarships, grants, and federal loan options are exhausted and if your parents do not utilize the Parent PLUS Loan.

Discuss the Federal Parent PLUS Loan with your parents before making the decision to borrow a private loan. PLUS Loans are generally less expensive and reduce the amount of debt you will have at the time of graduation.

Private loans are not federally insured, are not eligible for federal loan forgiveness programs and will be more costly than Federal Stafford Loans. Lenders that make private loans are often more selective about who may receive loans, and in most cases require students to pass a credit check and have a cosigner. There are many types of private loans, all with unique fees and interest rates. If you need to borrow a private loan or have questions about them, contact your financial aid office.

LOAN FORGIVENESS & CANCELLATION

Loan forgiveness and cancellation programs exist at the federal, state and private levels. They are intended to recruit college graduates into high-need professions by offering loan forgiveness or cancellation to reduce student loan debt. For more information on loan forgiveness programs, visit our website at www.IowaCollegeAid.gov.

Iowa Teacher Loan Forgiveness

The State of Iowa offers up to 5 years of federal student loan cancellation benefits to Iowa teachers who teach in designated shortage areas. Eligible applicants must be fully licensed teachers who began their first teaching jobs in Iowa no earlier than July 1, 2007. The maximum annual award is 20% of the teacher's total Federal Stafford Loan balance, including principal and interest, not to exceed the average resident tuition rate established for students attending Iowa's public universities for the first year following the recipient's graduation. For 2011 graduates, the maximum award amount is $6,417.

Federal Student Loan Cancellation for Teachers

The federal government's program may cancel qualified student loans up to $5,000 for borrowers who teach for five consecutive years in low-income schools. Additional benefits of up to $17,500 in loan forgiveness may be available to borrowers who teach grades 7-12 science or mathematics, or grades K-12 special education subject areas. You are required to make regular loan payments while completing a five-year service obligation unless your outstanding balance will be less than the amount for which you qualify. The loan holder can not refund loan payments you make before completion of your fifth year of teaching service. Before requesting an application check with your loan holder to determine if you have a qualifying loan.

Federal Public Service Loan Forgiveness

The Public Service Loan Forgiveness program was created to encourage individuals to enter and continue to work full-time in public service jobs. Under this program, borrowers may qualify for forgiveness of their remaining Federal Direct Loan balance after making 120 payments under certain repayment plans while employed full time by certain public service employers.

Iowa Registered Nurse & Nurse Educator Loan Forgiveness

The State of Iowa offers up to 5 years of federal student loan cancellation benefits to registered nurses employed in Iowa and for nurse educators teaching at eligible Iowa colleges and universities. Eligible applicants must be first employed as nurse educators or registered nurses in Iowa no earlier than July 1, 2007. The maximum annual award is 20% of the nurse educator's or registered nurse's total Federal Stafford Loan balance, including principal and interest, not to exceed the average resident tuition rate established for students attending Iowa's public universities for the first year following the recipient's graduation. For 2011 graduates, the maximum award is $6,417.

Nursing Education Loan Repayment Program

The Nursing Education Loan Repayment Program (NELRP) is a federal program that provides registered nurse recipients with loan forgiveness of up to 60% of their qualifying loan balance in exchange for two consecutive years of service at a critical shortage facility. Go to the "Loan Forgiveness" section of www.iowaCollegeAid.gov for more information, deadlines and to apply online.

Perkins Loan Forgiveness Programs

Federal Perkins loans have additional loan forgiveness opportunities in the following areas:

- Firefighter, law enforcement, or corrections officer
- Military service
- Public defender
- Librarian with a master's degree
- Speech pathologist with a master's degree
- Early childhood educator
- Child or family services provider
- Peace Corps or Americorps VISTA volunteer
- Nurse or medical technician
- Early intervention service provider
- Faculty member at a tribal college

Sometimes your first college choice isn't the right fit or you may have started your education at a 2-year college. Many students transfer every year for a variety of reasons, so you can rest assured you are not alone. The trick to a successful transfer is to begin planning as soon as possible. Below are some transfer tips to help you make a smooth transition.

Keep Your Grades Up. Even if you aren't planning to finish a degree at your current college, you should continue to go to class and turn in assignments. The college or university you transfer to will want to see your most recent transcripts and they may have a grade requirement for all college level courses attempted. Even if you received good grades in high school or were previously admitted to your new college, low grades could ruin your plans to transfer.

Selecting a New College. You will need to decide where to transfer. Be sure to determine what factors contributed to your decision to leave your current college. Take these factors into consideration when selecting a new college. The college exploration tools available at www.IHaveAPlanIowa.gov can help you locate colleges and universities that match your needs and allow you to compare them side-by-side to see how they stack up.

Go On a Campus Visit. The experiences you have had on your current college campus may help you identify the benefits you want and need from a college experience.

www.transferiniowa.org

This website resource provides information for community college students interested in transferring to one of Iowa's Regent universities - Iowa State University, the University of Iowa or the University of Northern Iowa.

Talk to Advisors. It is a good idea to work with advisors on both your old and new campuses to be sure everything is lined up. Ask the advisors if your classes will transfer. Advisors can help you with questions about articulation agreements, admission partnership programs and cross-enrollment options.

Check into the student services organizations and campus activities that will be available on your new campus. Not every campus offers the same activities or services.

Apply for Admission. You should check out the college's admission requirements, even if you were previously accepted. If you want to transfer course credits from your prior college you will need to send your most recent transcript to the new college. Some colleges will want a copy of your prior college course work regardless of whether you transfer any credits or not. Be sure to ask your admissions officer about placement exams, registering for classes and signing up for orientation.

Secure Your Housing. Whether you are living on campus or in an apartment, you will need to get the process rolling as soon as possible so that you have a place to live when your classes begin.

Apply for Financial Aid. Unfortunately, you can not simply transfer your current financial aid to your new college. You will need to add your new college to your Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) in order to receive a new financial aid package. You also should notify your current financial aid office of your plans to transfer. Some types of financial aid can not be awarded by the new college until the old college has canceled your aid.

In addition, you should contact current scholarship donors to see if your scholarship can be transferred to your new college, as well as seek new scholarship opportunities. If you plan to borrow to pay your expenses, when you transfer to the new college you may need to complete new loan applications. Contact your new college to find out their process and if they need your financial aid transcript from your current college.

SERVICES FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

Many students with disabilities graduate from high school and successfully continue their education at career and technical colleges as well as two-year and four-year colleges and universities. If you are a student with a disability, knowing your rights and responsibilities as well as the responsibilities that colleges and universities have towards you will help when requesting the support you need to learn and work successfully.

Follow these steps to make the transition to college easier:

1. Know your diagnosis, if you have one, and be comfortable talking about your disability.
2. Attend and participate in your annual Individualized Education Program (IEP) meetings. Know your annual goals.
3. Take college tours early. Interview the college for 'fit' by preparing a list of questions to ask ahead of time.
4. Identify and schedule an appointment with the person or the office responsible at the college for providing services to students with disabilities to discuss your potential need for services and support. Academic accommodations may include note takers, extended time for tests, readers and/or scribes, books in alternative formats, computer assisted technology, interpreter services and/or accessible classrooms.
5. Bring documentation (written information) that describes how your disability impacts your living, learning, and working. Examples of documentation include the SAR (Support for Accommodation Request) form, the most recent copy of your 504 plan, a statement from a treating physician, a psychological evaluation, and/or paperwork from Iowa Vocational Rehabilitation Service (IVRS).
6. Complete your college application* early.
7. Meet with a campus advisor to help you set up a realistic course schedule.
8. If needed, enroll in preparatory courses in subjects where you have skill deficits before you begin your degree requirements.
9. Take responsibility for your learning. Increase your independence by discussing your progress with your professors and keeping track of assignments, due dates, and appointments.

More information on services for students with disabilities is available in the Tools for Students section of the Iowa College Aid web site:

www.iowaCollegeAid.gov.

* Your acceptance at the college or university of your choice is not influenced by a disability.

As one of the smallest and most affordable public universities in the Big Ten, The University of Iowa offers some unique advantages for students by combining the resources of a major research university with an outstanding tradition in undergraduate education. The environment is competitive but not tense; friendly and helpful, but with an expectation of independent inquiry on the part of faculty.

Because its educational programs are firmly grounded in the liberal arts, the University fosters an open attitude toward learning and prepares undergraduates to live in and understand a rapidly changing and diverse world.

Clarke University is a Catholic liberal arts and sciences institution that believes fun and learning are one in the same. Its lively, 55-acre campus is a blend of historic buildings and modern facilities perched along the bluffs of the Mississippi. Its philosophy is come as you are and be who you'd like.

That idea is shown through more than 40 undergraduate programs, five graduate programs and almost 30 student activities. The university's flagship programs are science and health sciences, fine arts, education and business. Plus, there are over 16 varsity sports competing in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA).

Clarke doesn't just talk about impact, but creates it. Last year, students contributed almost 20,000 hours of community service and earned a spot on the President's National Honor Roll for Service.

Others have taken notice. In recent years, the university has been named one of America's Best Colleges and a Best College Buy by Forbes; one of America's Best Colleges and an "A+ School for B Students" by US News; and a Best Midwestern College by Princeton Review.

Founded in 1851, Coe College redefines the liberal arts with a hands-on component.

In addition to major and general education courses, Coe students must complete Coe's well renowned Coe Plan. The plan, which includes 20 hours of community service, issue dinners and career-planning seminars, culminates with practical experiences. Students may satisfy this last requirement through an internship, student research, practicum or study abroad.

Coe College is one of the few private liberal arts institutions in the country to require hands-on learning for graduation. One student studied the effects of selective logging on rain forest organisms in Costa Rica while others interned at places like Warner Bros. and the Chicago Board of Trade. Many students have also combined international travel with internships or student teaching.

Preparing students to succeed in their chosen careers, contribute to their communities and build satisfying lives is what Grand View is about, hence the University mission: engage, equip, empower. The success of Grand View's graduates is unparalleled. Every year for the past decade and a half, nearly 100% of the most recent graduating class was placed within six months of graduation-employed or enrolled in graduate school.

Much of that success is due to the challenging classroom environment. In the most recent National Survey of Student Engagement, Grand View achieved higher scores than all of its comparison groups for presenting students with an academic challenge. But the rest can be chalked up to the frequent and intensive practical workplace experiences more than 85% of Grand View students gain- internships, clinicals and practicums- and a vibrant campus life that emphasizes engagement.

JUNIOR & SENIOR YEAR TIMELINE TIPS

Get ready for life after high school! The last two years of high school will go by in a flash; follow these steps to stay on track!

Junior Year

- Maintain or improve on your grades! Go to I Have A Plan Iowa™ to learn successful study techniques.
 - Take challenging courses. Students who take challenging courses in high school are more likely to remain on track toward college graduation.
 - Stay involved in school and community activities. Record what you're doing and all accomplishments in your I Have A Plan Iowa™ portfolio.
 - Now is the time to really focus on your career and college research. Go to I Have A Plan Iowa™ to find schools that offer programs that interest you.
 - Talk to your school counselor about possible Advanced Placement classes and/or concurrent enrollment. These options allow you to earn college credit while still in high school.
 - Take the PSAT. When you take the PSAT in your junior year, the scores will count towards the National Merit Scholar consideration. Plus, it's good practice for the SAT!
- Attend college fairs. Information about college fairs throughout Iowa is available under helpful websites at www.IowaCollegeAid.gov.
 - Register to attend Iowa College Aid's virtual College Prep Day on April 19, 2012 at www.CollegeWeekLive.com
 - Go on college visits. Call ahead to schedule appointments with financial aid and admissions. Also, most schools will allow you to sit in on a college class to get the real college experience!
 - Take the SAT or ACT in the spring and have the official scores sent to the schools that interest you. Go to I Have A Plan Iowa™ for free SAT and ACT college exam test prep!
 - Identify teachers, counselors, employers or other adults who can attest to your academic achievement and abilities and ask that they write letters of recommendation for scholarship applications or admissions applications if needed.
 - Review the college application procedure for the colleges you're interested in. Practice college applications and essays are available at I Have A Plan Iowa™.

Senior Year

- Review coursework with your school counselor to be sure you have taken (or are scheduled to take) all the courses you will need for admission to your preferred colleges.
- Submit an admission application to the schools that you are interested in attending. Most early decision and early action college applications are due between October 1 and November 1.
- Search for scholarships. I Have A Plan Iowa™ offers a scholarship search where students can search by keyword or alpha order, and a scholarship finder that matches skills and accomplishments with a list of scholarships. There is also a link to the Iowa Financial Aid application, where students can check their eligibility for specific state of Iowa scholarships, grants and loan forgiveness programs.
- Register to attend Iowa College Aid's virtual Financial Aid Night on December 15, 2011 at www.CollegeWeekLive.com.
- Complete and submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) online at www.fafsa.gov as soon after January 1 as possible. The FAFSA is the first step in the federal financial aid process. Check with your school of interest for its priority financial aid deadline.

Tip: Keep track of financial aid deadlines on a calendar. Missing a deadline will result in missing an opportunity for FREE MONEY!

- Ask your high school to send your official transcripts to the colleges that you are applying for admission.
- Compare acceptance letters and financial aid awards. Upon admittance, each college or university listed on your FAFSA will send you an award letter that will include the financial aid that you are eligible to receive. Go to I Have A Plan Iowa™ and compare award letters using the Financial Aid Wizard.

Tip: Don't borrow more student loan money than you need! The SLOPE Calculator on I Have A Plan Iowa™ estimates your monthly student loan payment in comparison to projected earnings for your career choice.

- Take AP exams for any AP subjects you studied in high school. Some colleges may award college credit for the course work based on your exam score. Go to www.collegeboard.com for AP course and exam information.
- Decision time! Choose your college and notify them by mailing your commitment deposit check.
- Save money from your summer job to help with spending money while at college.
- Ask your college for recommendations on part-time jobs both on and off campus.
- Participate in summer orientation.
