Compliance Counts

As you know, the Division is responsible for the regulation and control of alcohol in the state of Iowa. In addition, the Division is the enforcement body for state and federal laws and regulations regarding the sale and use of alcohol products.

A little over a year ago, the Division's Regulatory Affairs Bureau initiated a comprehensive alcohol compliance program to increase compliance with Iowa Code chapter 123 through education, voluntary compliance and punitive regulation. Over the past five years, total number of licensees has continued to grow. It is more important now than ever to ensure laws are being followed in order to maintain a level playing field for all licensees.

The overarching goal of the compliance program is to achieve increased compliance through education and outreach for licensees and partners regarding Iowa's alcohol laws. The intent of compliance through education is to detect, deter, educate and bring into compliance those licensees who are in violation of laws or rules.

As part of the Division's strategic plan, staff has committed to providing alcohol compliance training, resources, and assistance to 100 percent of retail and wholesale liquor licensees over the course of the next four years. We are also actively strengthening partnerships with law enforcement throughout the state and providing those agencies with alcohol compliance training, education, and assistance in investigations. Forty-one Iowa law enforcement agencies received training in fiscal year 2012 (FY12), which ended June 30th.

To request training be held in your area, contact Compliance Officer Heather Schaffer at Schaffer@IowaABD.com or 515.281.7461. The curriculum covers common violations of Iowa Code chapter 123, reporting violations to the ABD, legislative updates to Iowa Code chapter 123, and helpful resources and tools to use for alcohol compliance. A more in-depth training program or topic specific programs are available upon request.

FY12 was the first full year of the renewed compliance program. The Division received 157 complaints, completing 125 investigations during the year. Of those, 85 were founded claims that resulted in education and/or administrative sanctions.

Additionally, 257 routine compliance checks were conducted; more than two thirds of the checks found licensees to be in complete compliance. Where violations were found, 133 licensees received educational letters or phone calls from the Division. Twenty-seven cases were forwarded to the Office of the Attorney General for review. The top three violations found were bootlegging, improper book and record keeping, and retailers purchasing product from businesses not licensed for wholesale.

I encourage you to regularly check IowaABD.com for updates. The website contains valuable resources such as plain English breakdowns of laws and rules, including the free eBook, Iowa's Alcoholic Beverages Laws and You, aimed specifically at licensees for a quick reference, simple guide to running a compliant establishment.

As you can see, we are focused on developing educational programs that will result in increased compliance with the laws and regulations that are the framework for the ABD's mission and the sale of alcohol to consumers. Always contact the Division with any regulatory questions you may have; we are the resource for credible information and regulatory solutions for all alcohol related matters.

Sincerely,

Stephen Larson

TRAFFIC COPS & FASHION POLICE AGREE
NO ORANGE
AFTER LABOR DAY

The Iowa Governor's Traffic Safety Bureau and the Iowa ABD would like to invite you to join us in promoting traffic safety. Nearly 23 percent of traffic fatalities last year in Iowa were attributed to drivers impaired on alcohol or other drugs. 516326

Impaired driving crashes are preventable. Great concepts such as Designated Drivers and Call a Cab programs are innovative approaches to solving this nationwide tragedy. The best defense against a drunk driver is to always buckle up. Also remember that it is illegal to text while driving. Please help in our quest to protect all Iowans from impaired drivers during the upcoming Labor Day holiday. Holiday planners are available at TrafficSafetyMarketing.gov.

Drive sober or get pulled over. National educational and enforcement period is August 17 through September 3. More information such as printed materials and DVDs are available. Visit IowaGTSB.org or these other impaired driving information websites: NHTSA.gov, StopDruggedDriving.org and StopImpairedDriving.org.

FAVORITE ASPECT OF THE DIVISION

I enjoy watching ABD grow and become more successful. When I started in 2009 we had less than 800 Class E licensees. Now, we have well over 1,000.

FAVORITE PASTIMES

I enjoy fishing and coaching my children's sports teams

WAREHOUSE LEAD WORKER

What are your job duties?

As a lead worker in the warehouse I have many different responsibilities. My main responsibility is to make sure that everything is getting done correctly and on time. I do whatever is needed of me, from picking orders to unloading trucks. I also have my CDL license so I can assist in moving trailers when needed.

What is the most challenging part of your job?

Making sure that everyone is staying busy and being productive. Working with 19 different personalities can also be a challenge at times, but it keeps you on your toes.

What is the best part of your job?

I enjoy working with people and in the warehouse. You get an opportunity to work with a variety of people and personalities. Every day is something different so it never becomes boring or stagnate. Plus, there is always something that needs to be done so 10 hour days go by fast.

What do you do in your free time?

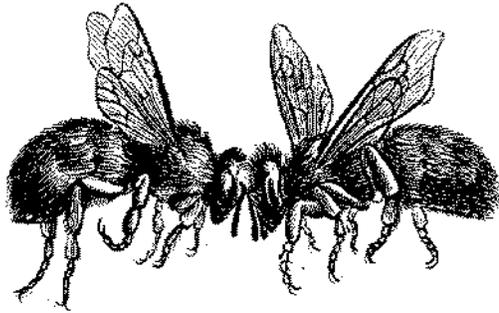

I work two jobs so my free time is limited but when I have time I enjoy spending time and traveling with my family. Our favorite destinations have been South Dakota, San Francisco and Las Vegas.

When I am not traveling I enjoy being outside and working in my garden and yard. We are currently planning on putting in a pool and building a deck to surround it. To top it all off, we plan to install a fire pit and grilling station. It should be a great spot for the whole family to hang out when we are done.

Some other activities that I enjoy doing are going to baseball games (go Cubs!), bowling, fishing and playing Black Jack.

A Taste of Honey, Cherry, and . . .

Whiskeys infused with flavors are capturing new customers.

“The number of introductions of flavored whiskeys over the past two years has been staggering given that bourbon is a category that historically has been steeped in tradition.”

Though some purists may scoff, flavored whiskeys are connecting with new consumers as approachable and mixable. The category is playing a card that vodka and to some extent rum have found so successful. The whiskey variants, however, follow the brown spirit’s natural taste profiles with compatible flavors like honey, cherry, and vanilla. Early entrants like Red Stag, Jeremiah Weed, and Phillips Union are joined by new contenders like Jack Daniel’s Tennessee Honey.

“The number of introductions of flavored whiskeys over the past two years has been staggering given that bourbon is a category that historically has been steeped in tradition,” notes Rob Mason, director of bourbons for Beam Global. The company seized upon the flavor opportunity a few years ago with its Red Stag by Jim Beam, bourbon infused with black cherry. “One of the benefits of these flavored whiskeys,” continues Mason, is that a lot of the volume is incremental to the bourbon category. They are not just pulling people who are already drinking bourbon, but also a wide range of individuals who’d never considered whiskey before, but because the flavor profile is more approachable, sweeter, they are coming into the franchise.” Company research indicates that half of all Red Stag consumers are women; a skew much different from the largely male bourbon drinker.

Significantly, Jack Daniel’s entered the flavor arena this year with the launch of Jack Daniel’s Tennessee Honey. Wild Turkey too has its entrant into the world of flavor with Wild Turkey’s American Honey. “I think the success of American Honey demonstrated that the whiskey category is ripe for innovations as long as they are true to the character of the base whiskey product,” explains Umberto Luchini, group brand director of American whiskeys for Skyy Spirits.

“We have been deluged with so many honey and cherry-flavored whiskeys recently,” notes Tom Tesauo, a partner in Yankee Spirits retail stores. “It’s not tremendous, but it’s a consistent volume. And the buyer is a different customer than the bourbon drinker.”

“Flavored spirits—vodka and rum—are so popular. There is an appeal to those who are not dyed-in-the-wool whiskey drinkers and to the female demographic. They broaden the entryway into the whiskey category.”

“We’ve been having a lot of success with Sazerac’s Fireball Cinnamon Whiskey,” reports Patti Robinson, owner of Heritage Wine & Liquors. The store carries a number of infused whiskeys in cherry, honey, and vanilla flavors. “They are popular with younger consumers,” she notes.

“Flavored whiskeys have been a strong subsegment, with a number of entries over the past three or four years,” points out Larry Kass, director of corporate communications for Heaven Hill Distilleries. The company launched Evan Williams Honey Reserve about two years ago, followed by Evan Williams Cherry Reserve. “Flavored spirits—vodka and rum—are so popular. There is an appeal to those who are not dyed-in-the-wool whiskey drinkers and to the female demographic. They broaden the entryway into the whiskey category,” he concludes.

The Irish Shanti

Burgers at the End of the Rainbow

Story & Photos by Zach Schrom and Erin Fitzgerald

If you try finding it using Google Maps you will get directions to a place that does not exist. A GPS will tell you it is an invalid address and please try again. Ask anyone in the nearby town of Elgin, Iowa and they will tell you it is just down the road on your left.

The Irish Shanti, home of the famous Gunderburger, is located in the small town of Gunder, Iowa. While the town is small, the reputation of The Irish Shanti is far from it. People from all over the world come to taste the renowned Gunderburger while immersing themselves in the friendly Irish atmosphere.

The original Irish Shanti building was used as a convenience store for Gunder back in 1927. In the 1970's the store turned into a popular local restaurant. One day in the 1980's a group of boys walked in and wanted to order some large burgers. Thus the Gunderburger was created, and with it the desire to put Gunder on the map.

As word spread about the Gunderburger, so did its size. Now served as a half-pound or one-pound burger, the Gunderburger is not for weight watchers. With a variety of types ranging from Bacon Cheese to the Mushroom-Swiss Gunderburger, you will not be leaving with an empty stomach.

The Bacon Cheese Gunderburger.

The Irish Shanti has a welcoming, Irish atmosphere.

An Irish restaurant would not be complete without a varied selection of beer and Irish whiskey. The Irish Shanti carries unique brews such as Topling Golaith's steamed lager, Dorothy's New World Lager and Backpocket Brewery's own Slingshot Dunkel.

"I tell people I am a connoisseur of beer, with an emphasis on the 'seur' part," said The Irish Shanti co-owner Kevin Walsh. "We also have one of the best selections of Irish whiskey in Northeastern Iowa."

With 12 types of Irish whiskey Walsh is not exaggerating. The Irish Shanti serves Kilbeggan, single malt Tyrconnell, Jameson, a rare single malt Michael Collins and more. The drink selection does not stop there thanks to Walsh's knowledge of Irish beverages and builds. One of the more popular Irish drinks served is the Guinness Shandy. The build starts by pouring lemonade into a 20 ounce Irish pint, followed by pouring Guinness over a spoon into the pint. After the Guinness and lemonade settle for eight minutes, the Guinness Shandy is ready to drink.

Guinness Shandy

Walsh put it best when he said, "We give them food they've never had before and beer they've never had before."

For seven years now owners Kevin and Elsie Walsh, with the help of their son Hans, have kept The Irish Shanti true to its goal. While doing more than putting Gunder on the map, The Irish Shanti offers a welcoming Irish atmosphere and dining experience. May the road rise to meet you, may the wind be always at your back, may the sun shine warm upon your face in your travels to The Irish Shanti.

GIN

Time To Shine?

Though overall sales volume is down, the category is gaining luster with newer superpremium and boutique expressions entering the market.

“There has been an explosion of new brands, and people are starting to experiment. We just might be on the cusp of a trend.”

BY CHERYL URSIN

Note: This excerpt is printed with permission from the July/August 2011 issue of StateWays—the Beverage Alcohol Merchandising Magazine for Control States.

Is gin, once again, becoming fashionable? Well, it depends on where you ask.

“Nothing much is going on with gin,” reports one Midwestern retailer. Another echoes the thought: “In our market, gin is growing, but very slowly.”

But ask a retailer in an East or West Coast city, a retailer who is surrounded by trendsetting restaurants and bars, and you might hear a different answer. “We are seeing an increase in the gin category, particularly in the boutique-quality gins,” says Eric Goldstein, vice president of marketing at Park Avenue Liquor Shop in New York City. “There has been an explosion of new brands, and people are starting to experiment. We just might be on the cusp of a trend. . . . It’s almost as if gin has become like wine,” he adds. “The sky’s the limit if you want to experiment and find your taste profile.”

According to Angus Winchester, brand ambassador for the Tanqueray Gins, more than 50 new gin brands have been launched in the United States in the last two years. “Consumers tend to look toward products with authenticity, heritage, and provenance, and over the past few years, gin has surged back as a key spirit of choice for discerning consumers and professional bartenders as they rediscover its flexibility,” he explains.

The answer might differ, too, if you ask bartenders compared to off-premise retailers. As the saying goes among spirits suppliers, “Brands are built on-premise.”

“People really look to bartenders to be their guides, they take note of cocktail lists,” says Clare Kanter, brand director for the Seagram’s, Beefeater, and Plymouth brands at Pernod-Ricard. “They look to see what brands bars and restaurants are featuring and take that into the off-premise.”

“We are at the forefront of a gin renaissance,” predicts Caspar MacRae, marketing director for Hendrick’s at William Grant. He, like other suppliers, points to three main factors driving the interest: bartenders and their interest in cocktail culture on-premise, consumers being much more discerning and interested in unique products, and the innovation of the gin brands themselves.

A new generation is looking for its spirit, and that generation is interested in classic cocktails, handcrafted products, flavors, and a lower price. It just may be gin’s time to shine once again.

LEGENDARY.

REINTRODUCE YOUR CUSTOMERS TO GIN

Take advantage of the renewed interest in gin and promote some of the new gin offerings on your cocktail list or in a store display. Suggest sipping a handcrafted or flavored gin in a chilled glass over fresh ice and perhaps simply garnished with a slice of complementary fresh fruit. Also suggest using a new brand or flavor of gin to give favorite cocktails a “new” taste. Or experiment with a variety of mixers to create your own special gin cocktails.

Here are some recipes to get you started.

Basic Gin and Fruit Juice Cooler

Serve in a chilled glass.

4-5 ounces fresh fruit juice or 2-3 ounces each of two complementary juices
 1½-2 ounces gin or flavored gin
 Fresh ice
 Slices or wedges of fresh fruit

Combine fruit juice(s) and gin in a shaker half-filled with fresh ice. Shake vigorously, and strain the mixed drink over fresh ice in the prepared serving glass. Garnish with fresh fruit of choice.

Basic Gin Fizz

Serve in a chilled glass.

½ lemon
 Fresh ice
 1 teaspoon powdered sugar or ½ ounce simple syrup
 2-3 ounces gin or flavored gin
 Chilled club soda
 Slices or wedges of fresh fruit

Squeeze the lemon into a shaker half-filled with fresh ice; add the powdered sugar and gin. Shake vigorously, and strain into the prepared glass. Fill the glass with club soda, and garnish with fresh fruit.

Basic Gin Bee's Knees

Serve in a chilled cocktail glass.

2-3 ounces gin or flavored gin
 2-3 teaspoons honey
 1-2 ounces sour mix or 1-2 tablespoons each fresh lemon and orange juice
 Fresh ice
 Orange slice or wedge

Combine the gin, honey, and sour mix in a strainer half-filled with ice. Shake vigorously, and strain over fresh ice in the serving glass. Garnish with the orange slice or wedge.

Basic Gin and Tonic

Serve in a chilled collins (highball) glass.

Fresh ice
 2 ounces chilled gin or flavored gin
 Chilled tonic water
 Lime wedge

Place fresh ice in the prepared serving glass. Add the gin, and fill the glass with tonic water (do not stir—the bubbles in the tonic water will mix the ingredients). Squeeze the lime wedge over the drink before dropping it into the glass.

Basic Gin Martini

Serve in a chilled cocktail glass.

1½-2 ounces chilled gin or flavored gin
 Fresh ice
 Generous dash of dry vermouth
 Generous dash of sweet vermouth
 Olive or cocktail onion

Pour the gin into a mixing glass or shaker half-filled with fresh ice; add dashes of dry and sweet vermouth (vary the amounts depending on whether you are mixing a dry or wet/sweet martini). Stir or shake gently to mix, and immediately strain the mixed drink into the prepared serving glass over fresh ice, if desired. Garnish with an olive or onion on a pick.

Serve in a chilled wine goblet.

*1 large ripe peach, peeled, pitted, and cut into small pieces
Dash of fresh lemon juice
Maraschino liqueur to taste
Chilled brut champagne*

LEGALLY SPEAKING

INFUSED & PREMIXED DRINKS

With the passage and signing of House File 2465, the mixing, storing, and dispensing of mixed drinks, cocktails and alcohol infusions which are not for immediate consumption (herein referred to as premixed drinks) became legal July 1, 2012, for on-premises liquor licensees. However, the new language stipulates premixed drinks must be in compliance with the Iowa Code section 123.49(2)"d"(2) and rules adopted by the Alcoholic Beverages Division (ABD).

The ABD filed and adopted rules which were effective July 1, 2012. The rules define "immediate consumption" to mean the mixing and fulfilling of a mixed drink or cocktail order only after receiving the order. Licensees who intend to serve premixed drinks should become familiar with the following rules to ensure compliance with Iowa regulations.

A liquor licensee must:

- Utilize alcoholic beverages in the premixed drink which are authorized by the license and obtained through the three-tier system,
- Comply with all applicable state and federal food safety regulations, and
- Comply with all federal alcohol regulations.

You have questions. WE HAVE ANSWERS.

Do you have a question about Iowa laws, administrative rules or ABD policies? Submit your questions by email to Schaffer@IowaABD.com and use "legally speaking" as the subject of your email. We'll answer your questions immediately, but also print answers here for others to learn and benefit from.

A liquor licensee cannot:

- Add hallucinogenic substances, added caffeine or stimulants, or controlled substances to a premixed drink.

A premixed drink batch must be:

- Disposed of within 72 hours of mixing,
- Mixed, stored, and consumed on the licensed premises, and
- In a labeled container that is compliant with state and federal food safety statutes.

A premixed drink batch cannot be:

- More than three gallons,
- Removed from the licensed premises,
- Mixed, stored, or dispensed from an original package of liquor or wine, or a container bearing an alcoholic beverage name brand, and
- Added to a relabeled empty container or another premixed drink batch if expired.

Label requirements

A label is required to be on each container that holds a premixed drink batch. The label must adhere to the container, in a noticeable place, until the entire contents are dispensed or destroyed.

The label must legibly identify:

- The date and time of mixing alcoholic beverages with nonalcoholic ingredients in the container,
- The date and time the contents expire,
- The title of the recipe used for the contents,
- The size of batch, and
- The person who prepared the contents.

Each label must be marked clearly with the words "CONTAINS ALCOHOL."

Record keeping requirements

Records must be maintained for three years on each prepared batch of premixed drinks.

The records must identify:

- The date and time of mixing alcoholic beverages with nonalcoholic ingredients in the container,

- Each alcoholic beverage, including the brand and amount used in the batch,
- Each nonalcoholic ingredient used in the batch,
- The recipe title and directions,
- The size of batch,
- The person who prepared the contents,
- The date and time the contents were destroyed or entirely consumed,
- If not consumed, the method of destruction, and
- The person who destroyed the contents.

Dispensing machines

A dispensing machine that contains a premixed drink is required to follow the labeling, record keeping, and disposal requirements. Licensees who use a dispensing machine that contains a non-alcoholic premix, and add alcoholic beverages after receiving and dispensing a customer order for the beverage, are not required to label the container or maintain records.

Violations

A failure to comply with the above rules will result in a fine, license suspension, and/or license revocation.

Licensees may access label, record keeping and recipe log templates, as well as the rules, law and find more information at IowaABD.com.
