LIBRARY COMMISSION, STATE OF IOWA

The Library Commission is able to report continued growth and activity since the date of the last report, July 1, 1906.

An event of the greatest importance, is the occupancy of the permanent quarters in the new Historical building. The commodious and convenient rooms in the east wing (ground floor) of the building provide ample space and convenience for caring for the large volume of work that is daily necessary in the handling of the Traveling Library books as they come in and out; there is also adequate provision for the clerical and office work necessary in connection with the correspondence and other details of library extension carried on by the Commission.

The personnel of the Commission remains the same, the appointments of Captain W. H. Johnston and Mrs. D. W. Norris having been renewed by Governor Cummins. Meetings have been held by the Commission every three months, in January, April, July and October of each year and as heretofore, members have attended library dedications and library meetings in the state in their official capacity.

The Secretary has traveled more than 10,000 miles within the borders of the State in giving personal aid and advice to the various communities in the State that are either attempting to make a beginning in library work, planning a library building, or, developing a public library with its many details of book selection, organization and adaptation to the needs of the community. She has also spoken on various phases of the library question at District Club meetings, Teachers' meetings, Farmers' Institutes, etc., and has been authorized by the Commission to attend the meetings of the American Library Association at Asheville, N. C., in May, 1907, and Lake Minnetonka in June, 1908, as a representative of the Iowa Library Commission. Time was also granted for giving a course of lectures on library organization and management before the Library School of Western Reserve University, Cleveland, O., and the Training School for Children's Librarians at the Carnegie Library, Pittsburg.

The staff employed for the regular activities of the Commission has included the services of an organizing assistant during this biennial period, to assist the Secretary in installing modern library records in libraries in the smaller towns; about half of the libraries thus aided were new, making a beginning, usually, with an inexperienced librarian, so that the assistance was most welcome and enabled the library to begin work under more favorable conditions than would otherwise have been possible. Aid was also given many of the older libraries that had not had the means to employ a trained library worker to install proper records in the beginning, and grateful appreciation has been expressed by the Boards of Library Trustees and librarians in all these libraries for this aid, which will enable these institutions to become more efficient in their communities.

The responsibility laid by the General Assembly upon the Library Commission of advancing the library interests of the State and of making good books accessible to all the people, has been fully appreciated by the Commission and to accomplish these ends, two special lines of activity have developed, viz: Field Extension work in connection with local public libraries and the Traveling Library work. Results have been most gratifying, and the citizens of the State are learning of the possibilities of public collections of books and hence are turning to the Library Commission more and more for direction and aid in establishing libraries and making them effective. The practical service rendered by the Traveling Library has reached such proportions that it is practicably indispensable in the small towns and country neighborhoods, providing as it does, not only for general reading and entertainment, but also for study, making accessible the best books on the various subjects of perennial and present-day interest.

The rapid increase of the free public libraries, supported by municipal tax from 41 (in 1900 when the Commission was created) to 102, is most gratifying, but it also shows the value of the work of field supervision and the need of adequate funds to extend it. There should be personal knowledge obtained by visits to these libraries, to know of conditions and methods and to further develop the educational work to be done by these libraries for effective service in the communities. The Association and Subscription libraries of the State, numbering almost 40, should be nurtured and encouraged in their struggles for existence, and many of them should be developed into free public libraries; likewise many of the smaller college libraries should as soon as possible receive assistance at the hands of the Commission in properly organizing and caring for their books. All this means constant field work by efficient trained people to supplement the work done by the Secretary.

New Libraries. During the biennial period the following towns and cities have voted the municipal tax for a free public library:

Clarion,	Paullina,
Emmetsburg,	Red Oak,
Humboldt,	Rockwell City,
Lake City,	Villisca,
New Hampton,	Woodbine.
Osceola,

Library associations have been formed in the following places:

Belle Plaine,	Rhodes,
Delmar,	Sac City,
Galva,	Sibley,
Hornick,	Wellman.

Many of these charge a fee or subscription for the use of the books, with the hope of making the library free as soon as possible.

The following libraries have occupied new buildings during this period, these having been gifts from Andrew Carnegie unless otherwise stated:

Albia,	DeWitt,
Tama,	Parsons College at Fairfield,
Clarion (gift of Mr. Morgan Everts of Los Angeles, Cal.),	Simpson College at Indianola,
Glenwood,	Pella,
	Stuart.

The township extension feature of the library law was adjusted by the Thirty-second General Assembly so that it is now operative in several libraries of the State, thus providing library facilities for families residing in the country adjacent to a town or city, having a free public library, on the same basis as residents of the town or city, upon the action of the township trustees. So far as reported libraries in the following places have secured the co-operation of one or more townships:

Iowa City,	Ames,
Clarinda,	Eldon,
Nevada,	Denison.

Summer Library School. The course of instruction given at the State University under the direction of the Secretary of the Library Commission, continues to provide opportunity for the librarians of our smaller libraries to learn something of modern library methods, and the sessions of 1907 and of 1908 covered practically the same subjects that had been presented heretofore with the addition of certain special courses.

The instructors for the session of 1907 were: Mr. Malcolm G. Wyer, Resident Director and Instructor in Reference Work; Miss Harriet E. Howe, cataloging and accession; Miss Irene Warren, classification, book numbers and related topics; Miss Edna Lyman, library work with children. A special course for teachers or others in charge of school libraries was given by Miss Irene Warren, of the School of Education, Chicago. Lectures were given by Miss Lorena N. Webber, librarian Iowa City public library; Miss Edith Tobitt, librarian Omaha public library; Miss Grace D. Rose, librarian, Davenport public library; Miss Harriet A. Wood, librarian Cedar Rapids public library; Mr. M. H. Douglass, librarian Iowa College library, Grinnell; Dr. Shambaugh, Iowa City; Miss Carey of the Iowa State Institutions libraries, and by Mrs. Towner and Mrs. Howe, of the Library Commission, and the Director, Miss Tyler.

The session of 1908 was shortened two weeks to avoid conflict with the dates of the meeting of the American Library Association at Lake Minnetonka. The instructors were, Mr. Malcolm G. Wyer, Resident Director and Instructor in Reference Work; Miss Harriet E. Howe, accession, cataloging and related subjects; Miss Miriam E. Carey, classification and shelf list; Miss Edna Lyman, library work with children; Miss Margaret W. Brown, supervision of practice work.

An advanced course including cataloging, book evaluation and U. S. documents was given for those who had attended former sessions or were sufficiently proficient to enter for advanced work. Miss Harriet A. Wood of the Cedar Rapids public library, gave the course in Book evaluation, considering the principles upon which a correct estimate of books as literature may be made. The course in U. S. documents was given by Mr. J. I. Wyer, Director of the New York State Library School, whose thorough knowledge of this perplexing class of books, made this course one of great value and keen interest.

There were 23 students in attendance for the session of 1907, and 40 for the session of 1908.

Periodical Exchange. Librarians are encouraged to collect volumes of a few selected magazines that are of value for reference purposes, and hence the periodical exchange is placed at the service of the libraries of the State, without any cost further than the payment of transportation on the magazines sent. Individuals and libraries in all parts of the State have contributed generously, both entire volumes and single numbers to the collection.

During the biennial period there have been 1782 complete volumes and 3506 single numbers of magazines sent out, making an aggregate of about 13,718 single magazines contributed to the various libraries to aid in building up their reference collections.

TRAVELING LIBRARY

The Library Commission believes that the most effective Traveling Library work is accomplished through co-operation with other educational agencies. The stimulus given by such organizations to study and reading is met by the books loaned from the Traveling Library. Many organizations have made use of the books, while the following organizations have constantly utilized the Traveling Library to supplement and extend their work in connection with lectures, classes, etc.

State Agricultural Extension Department. Traveling libraries of agricultural books have been loaned to the Agricultural Extension Department for exhibits, wherever a "Short Course" is given. The farmers have had an opportunity to examine the books and are encouraged to send for books for further reading. Farmers' study clubs have been formed in conjunction with the "Short Course" work, and the Traveling Library books used for the course of study. Books on the following subjects have been in demand:

Crops,	Drainage,
Soils,	Corn culture,
Milk,	Animal husbandry,
Butter-making,	Poultry raising,
Corn judging,	Vegetable gardening,
Fruit growing,	Pests and blights.

The books purchased have been carefully selected in consultation with the Agricultural Extension Department, and many valuable federal and state agricultural bulletins recommended by the Department have been circulated by the Traveling Library.

State High School Debating League. The Traveling Library has furnished a list of books and magazine references on the annual subject of debate, which has served not only to show available material in the Traveling Library but as an aid to public libraries and debating teams for local purchase.

Many of the teams depend entirely upon the Traveling Library for references, being located in towns where there are no public libraries and many have expressed the belief that were it not for the literature furnished by the Traveling Library to these teams, the work could not have been developed to its present state of efficiency in the discussion of the stimulating and timely subjects considered by the League.

Y. M. C. A. Through the county system of the Y. M. C. A., use is made of the regular Traveling Libraries, while special books to assist the secretaries in the study of the boy problem have been selected at the request of the State Secretary of Boy's Work Department, and are loaned to the several county centers.

Iowa Federation of Women's Clubs. Constant and increasing use has been made by the Federated Clubs of the Traveling Library for reference books on subjects of club study. Frequent expressions of grateful appreciation of the books have been made by the clubs in the towns where no public libraries exist as it would be almost impossible to carry on their club study without the use of these books.

The active work of this organization had much to do with securing the creation of the Library Commission and the Traveling Library, and the co-operation has continued since that time.

The study club programs provided by the program committee of the I. F. W. C. have been in constant use in connection with the loan of books to study clubs. The co-operation with this committee is especially close inasmuch as the Librarian of the Traveling Library is a member of the Committee.

The Library committee of the I. F. W. C. has for years been active in promoting the use of the Traveling Library, and the present committee has urged through letter, printed matter and public address the use of the Traveling Library for general reading in the smaller towns where no library exists, as a method of altruistic work for the clubs, in behalf of the young people.

Reference material for study and debate. Many study clubs and debating teams, not a part of the State organizations, and individual students preparing for State certificates, graduation orations and thesis work, have made continuous use of the Traveling Library.

Each mail brings requests for reference aids on many subjects, and when there is little material in book form because of the current interest in the subjects, the periodical exchange is drawn upon for magazines. It is seldom that the Traveling Library is not able to meet in some measure, usually a large one, the demands made upon it.

Among the many subjects upon which material has been furnished, in addition to the many topics under the general head of literature, art, history, etc., are the following:

Postal Savings Banks,
Guarantee Bank Deposits,
Parcels Posts,

Ship Subsidies,
Direct Primaries,
Patent Medicine,

Books for the Blind. There are 122 books in the collection for the use of blind readers, most of these being in New York Point, including a few primers for beginners. The use of the books must of necessity be limited and the circulation of the books is not large as the process of reading is more or less laborious. During the period covered by the report 520 volumes have been loaned, these being mailed singly to individual readers. 72 applications have been filed for use of the books.

Traveling Picture Collections. Two picture collections, Gallery of Masterpieces and Venice of To-day, have been exhibited in libraries and public schools and used by study clubs in the following places:

- | | |
|------------------------|----------------|
| Eagle Grove, | Whiting, |
| Clarksville, | Marshalltown, |

| Pella—Central College, | Newton, |
| Clinton, | Oskaloosa, |
| Boone, | Sanborn, |
| Nevada, | Charles City, |
| Des Moines College, | Dallas Center. |

A collection of books accompanies each of these exhibits. The reports regarding the interest manifested by the public are most satisfactory, and there is no doubt but that the lending of good pictures has a place in the work of a Traveling Library.

FOURTH REPORT

Stereoscope pictures of travel have been circulated in connection with study club work, and "for shut ins" and have proven to be a valuable supplement to the books.

Picture bulletins have been loaned to libraries, accompanied by a group of books on the subject of the bulletin, thus stimulating and encouraging the reading of books on specific subjects. It is hoped to extend this work.

In order to safeguard those who use the Traveling Library books the collections are thoroughly fumigated when returned. If books are in use in a household where there are such contagious diseases as diphtheria, scarlet fever or small-pox, the books are destroyed by the health officer and a signed statement from him is placed on file.

Summary. The books in the entire Traveling Library collection, July 1, 1908, numbered 16,849 and are divided as follows:

160 libraries for general reading in fixed collections.....	8,000
Open shelf—subject collections for study and graded books for rural schools	8,849
Total	16,849
