LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

HON. GEORGE W. CLARKE, Governor of Iowa:

In compliance with Section 2888-f, Chapter 18-A, Supplement to the Code of Iowa, I herewith transmit the eighth report of the Iowa Library Commission for the biennial period, July 1, 1914 to June 30, 1916.

JULIA A. ROBINSON,
Secretary, Iowa Library Commission.

Des Moines, Nov. 1, 1916.

LIBRARY COMMISSION STATE OF IOWA

The purpose and functions of the Iowa Library Commission, as outlined by the law under which it was created and the amendments which have since been made, have so frequently been stated that it scarcely seems necessary to take space in this report for a repetition. A brief account of work done in carrying out the requirements of this law would seem more to the point. However one or two items should precede this account.

Commissioners. During the biennial period covered by this report no change in the personnel of the Commission has taken place, Mrs. H. M. Towner, whose term expired July 1, 1915, being re-appointed for five years. The chairman and secretary remain the same.

Meetings of the Commission have been held quarterly in the Commission office in the State Historical Building.

Legislation. Legislation affecting the library work of the state enacted by the Thirty-sixth General Assembly consisted of an amendment to the Commission law making the appropriation $15,000 instead of $11,000, and to Section 728 of the Public Library laws authorizing a library board of five, seven or nine members instead of nine as previously provided, the number to be fixed by an ordinance of the city council. No change was made in the term of office or the method of appointment.

LIBRARY CONDITIONS OF THE STATE.

Free Public Libraries. There has been an unprecedented increase in the number of free public libraries in the state during the biennial period, the question of the establishment of a library having been voted upon in fifteen towns and the vote successfully carried in thirteen of these, viz., Bedford, Belmond, Decorah, Greenfield, Hamburg, Logan, Malvern, Mt. Ayr and Waukon in 1915, and Britt, Reinbeck, Rock Valley and Wellman in 1916.

In the two places where the vote was unsuccessful the question will be resubmitted at a later date and a favorable vote is probable.

The addition gives a total of 131 free public libraries in Iowa on July 1, 1916, including the endowed libraries at Webster City and Whiting. The total number of volumes in these libraries is 1,126,073.

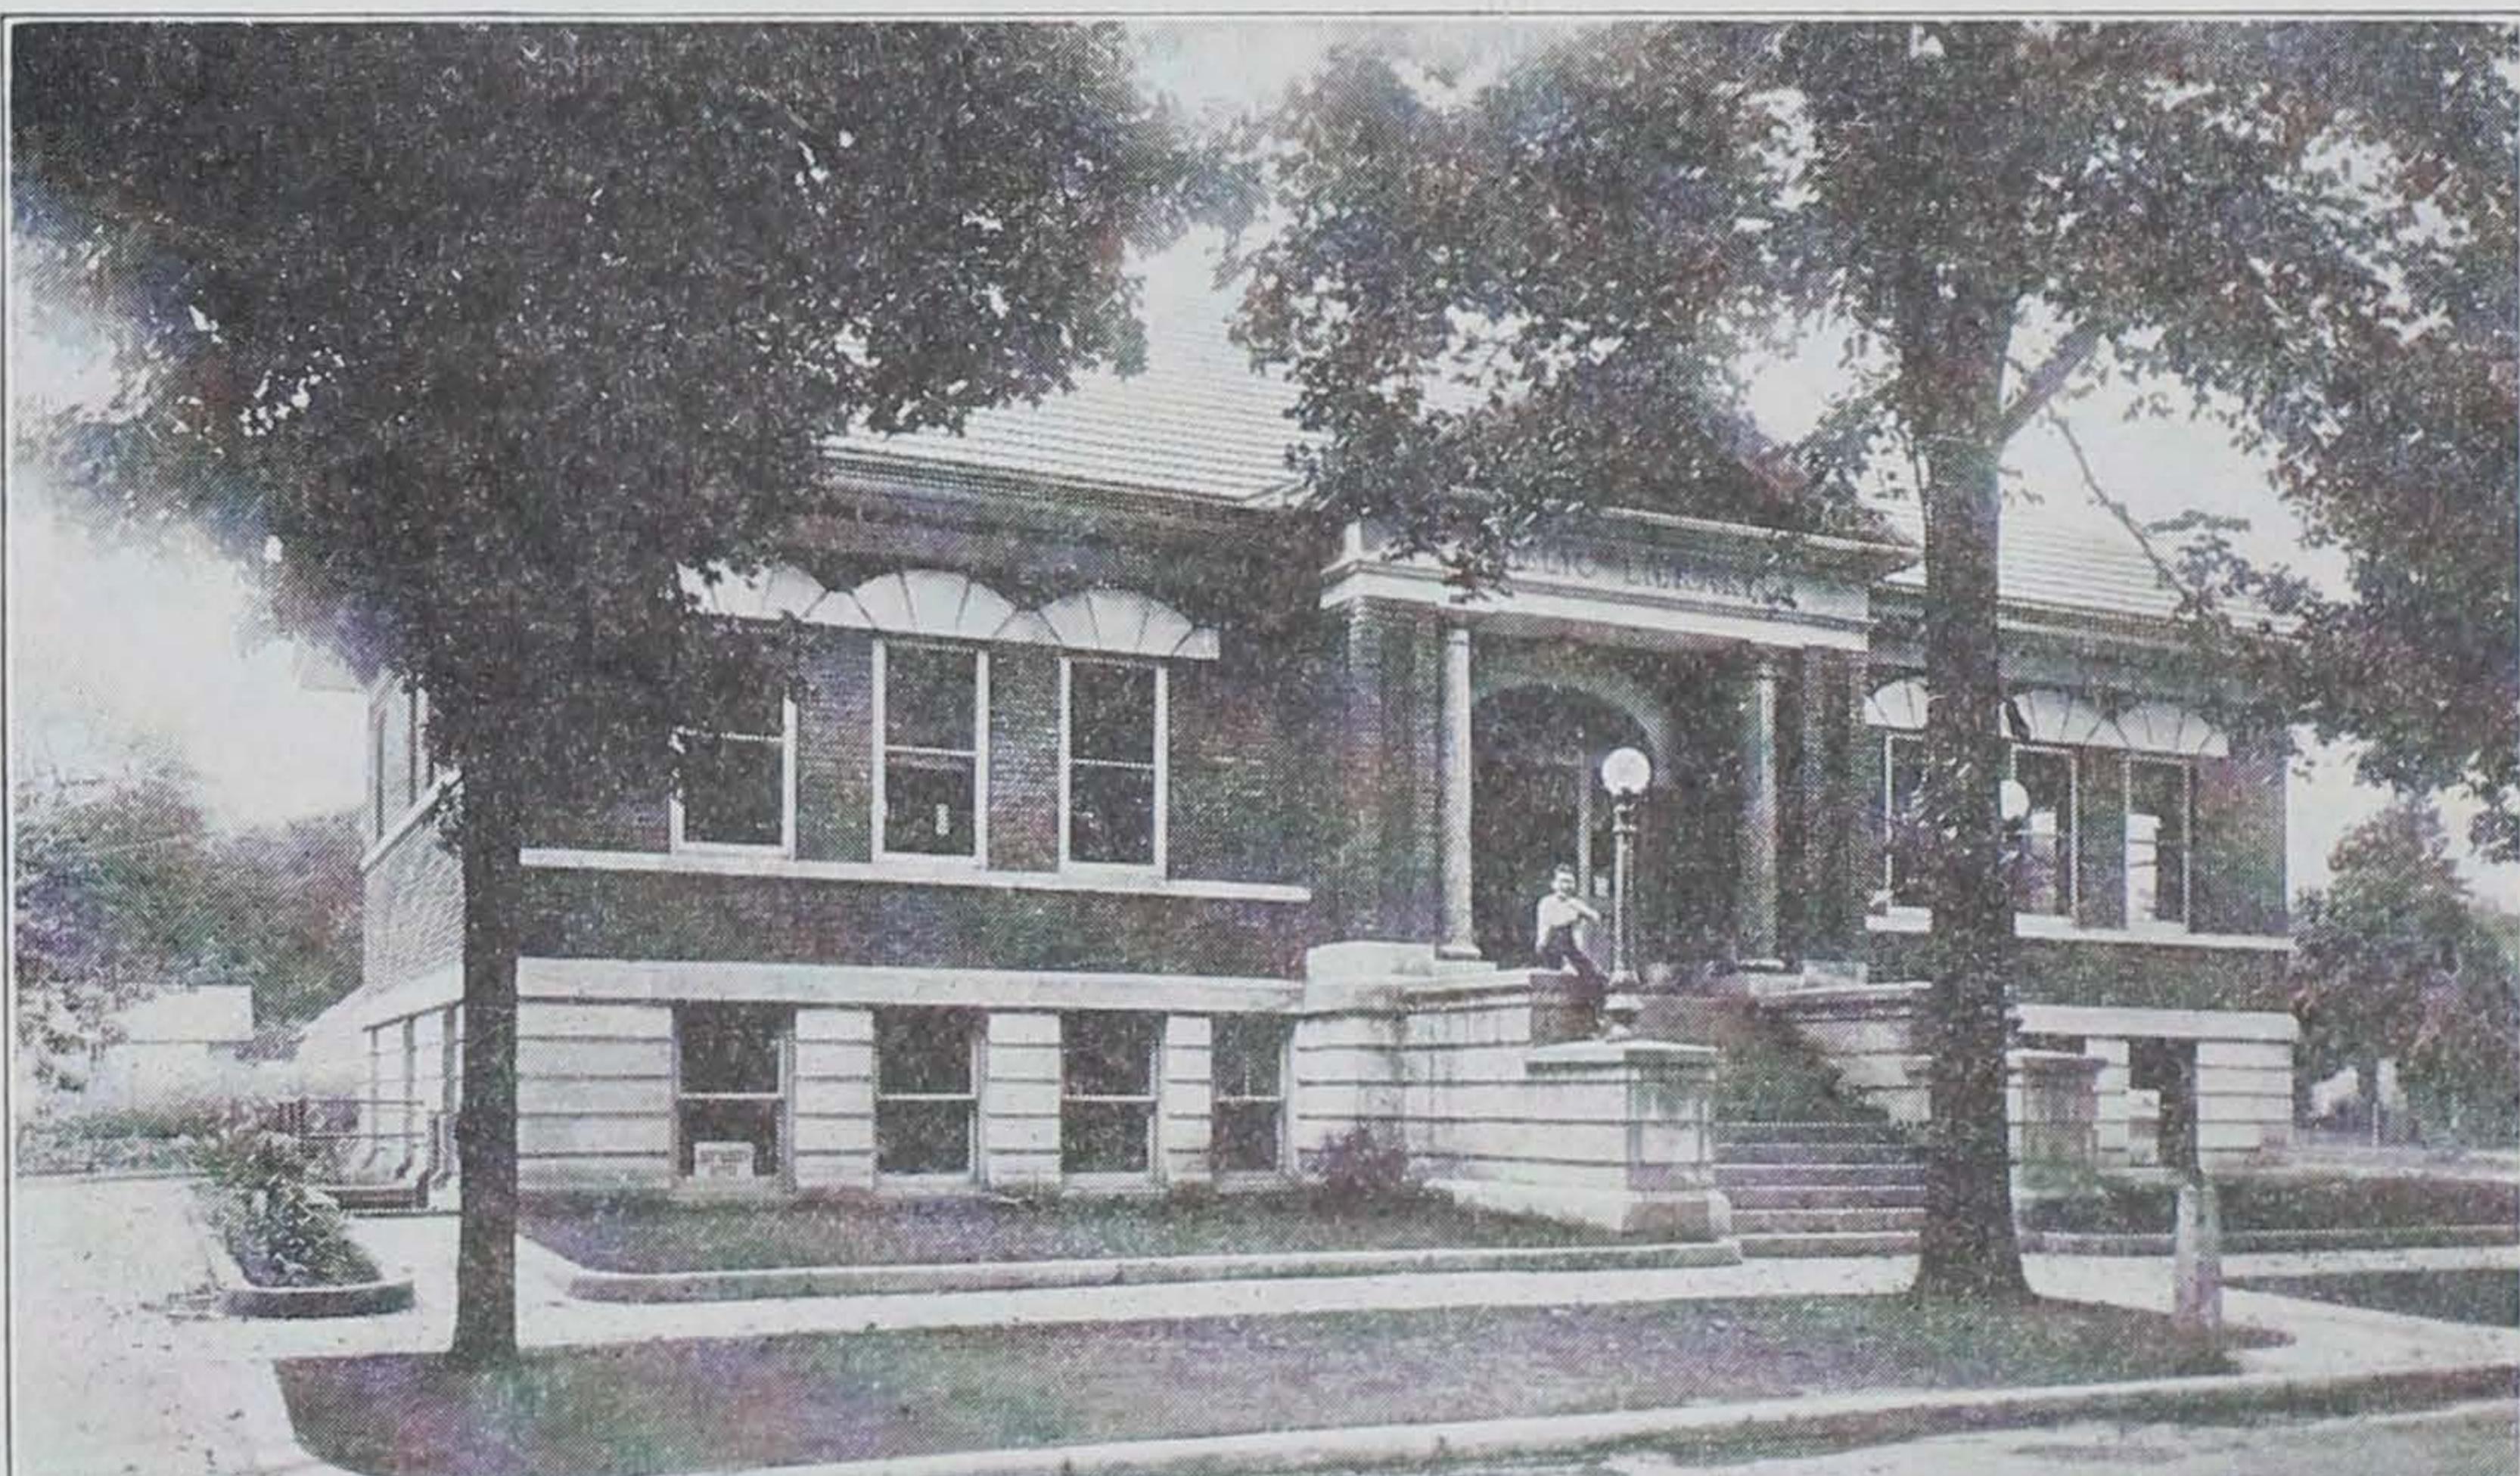

Seven of the new libraries are in counties previously without public library facilities thus reducing the number of counties without public libraries to seven. (The distribution by counties will be found among the statistics in this report.)

There are now seven counties, seventeen county seats, six towns with a population over 2,000 and eleven additional between 1,500 and 2,000 with no public library, hence the work of library extension in Iowa is not yet completed.

Library Boards. On July 1, 1916, five towns only had taken advantage of the law allowing a reduction in the library board, viz., Cedar Falls, Eddyville and Paullina to seven members each, and Eagle Grove and Pella to five each. The new libraries at Belmond and Greenfield were organized with boards of seven.

In addition the endowed libraries at Webster City and Whiting have boards of seven and six respectively, and the eight commission governed cities have boards of five each, appointed for five years.

Library Buildings. Three Carnegie buildings have been dedicated during the past two years, one at Cresco costing $17,500, one at Garner costing $6,500 and one at Traer costing $12,000. A new building has also been erected at Central City from the proceeds of the sale of a farm which was given to the town for library purposes. This gives a total of 87 Carnegie buildings, 20 the gifts of other friends, and 12 libraries with no home.

Eleven other towns in the state at this time have a Carnegie building in process of erection or the assurance of a gift from the Carnegie Corporation, viz., Bedford, Harlan and Logan, $10,000 each; Hamburg, $9,000; Clear Lake, $8,500; Britt, Malvern and Mt. Ayr, $8,000 each; Greenfield, $7,500; Reinbeck, $6,000; besides $10,000 for a building for the Leeds branch of the Sioux City Public Library. Several of these will be dedicated before the end of the year.

In addition Mr. Henry Crist of Belmond has given a lot and $12,000 for a library building in that town, and by the will of Mrs. Roma Woods the town of Sutherland receives a site and a bequest for a library building.

Public Library Activities. These activities have not been confined alone to the organization of new libraries or the erection of new buildings. Much has also been done in the way of improvements to buildings and grounds of libraries already in operation as well as in the increased usefulness through extension of privileges, and greater publicity, and increased circulation over the preceding year is reported almost monthly by many libraries.

Publicity seems to be the keynote of library work at the present time throughout the library world, and Iowa, true to her character, is not behind in her efforts in this direction.

In consequence I am threatened with increased cost for my clipping service because of the large use of newspapers by the libraries of the state, and printed matter for display or distribution in the way of posters, bulletins, book lists and other advertising material forms part of the publicity methods used by all libraries.

Book displays in the libraries and window displays in stores, Good Book Week, special library days, bird house and garden contests, exhibits in the libraries and at county and other fairs, slides in moving picture shows and even a library float in an historical pageant may be mentioned as a few of the methods used to call attention to the library and attract readers to its books.

Extension of Library Privileges. The discontinuance of guarantor's cards, the privilege of borrowing a larger number of books at a time and for a longer period may be mentioned in connection with the extension of privileges.

LIBRARY FLOAT IN HISTORICAL PAGEANT AT RED OAK

That term may also be applied to the establishment of branches and stations by which books are made more accessible to those living remote from the main library. Eighteen libraries in the state report 492 agencies for the distribution of books outside the main library building but within the city limits. They are as follows: Ames, Boone, Burlington, Cedar Rapids, Clinton, Council Bluffs, Davenport, Des Moines, Dubuque, Fort Madison, Keokuk, Marshalltown, Mason City, Muscatine, Oskaloosa, Ottumwa, Sioux City and Waterloo.

Rural Extension. Closely connected with the extension of library privileges through stations and branches within the cities is the rural extension to towns and townships lying outside the municipal boundaries. This is provided for by the rural extension law which allows a maximum tax of one mill by the rural community for the use of the library. Thus many libraries enlarge their usefulness and communities too small to support libraries are supplied with reading matter.

At the time of the last biennial report fourteen libraries were extending their privileges to communities beyond their town limits. That number has been increased to twenty-four. The number of townships receiving this extension has also been increased in several places. The list is as follows:

Town.	Townships Served.	Basis of Levy.
Alden .....	1	½ mill
Burlington ..	1	1 mill
Cedar Rapids.	2	1-5 2-5 mill
Clarinda ....	4, 2 towns, 1 school corporation	½ ½ 3-10 ¼ ½ ½ mill
Council Bluffs	1	¼ mill
Cresco .....	3	½ mill each
Dunlap .....	1	1 mill
Eldon .....	1	¾ mill
Eldora .....	1	¼ mill
Fort Dodge ..	1	½ mill
Grinnell ....	1	¼ mill
Grundy Center	1	¼ mill
Harlan .....	1	½ mill
Iowa City ...	1	3-10 mill
Logan .....	1	½ mill
Onawa .....	6	½ mill each
Rockwell City	1
Sac City ....	1	¾ mill
Sibley .....	2	1 mill each
Tipton .....	1	3-10 mill
Traer .....	1	½ mill
Waterloo ....	2	1 mill each
Winterset ...	1	1 mill
Woodbine ...	1	8-10 mill

Association Libraries. The method of inaugurating a library project in many places is through a library association and the maintenance of a subscription library until sufficient interest can be created to secure a vote for the establishment of a library and the levy of a tax.

The total of such association libraries in the state is now about fifty. New ones were organized during the past two years at Calmar, Fonda, Fontanelle, Grand Junction, Lost Nation, Morning Sun, Orange City, Primghar and Winfield.

Several of these have already secured the necessary votes to become free public libraries and some have buildings under process of erection.

Librarians. The value of special preparation for librarianship is becoming increasingly recognized each year and the requirement of training either full or such as is given in the summer course is being required by library boards in the employment of librarians.

At the present time eighteen of the free public libraries of the state are administered by librarians with full school training.

In addition the librarians of colleges and other libraries in the state with their assistants and assistants in the larger public libraries give a total of fully fifty with such preparation for library work.

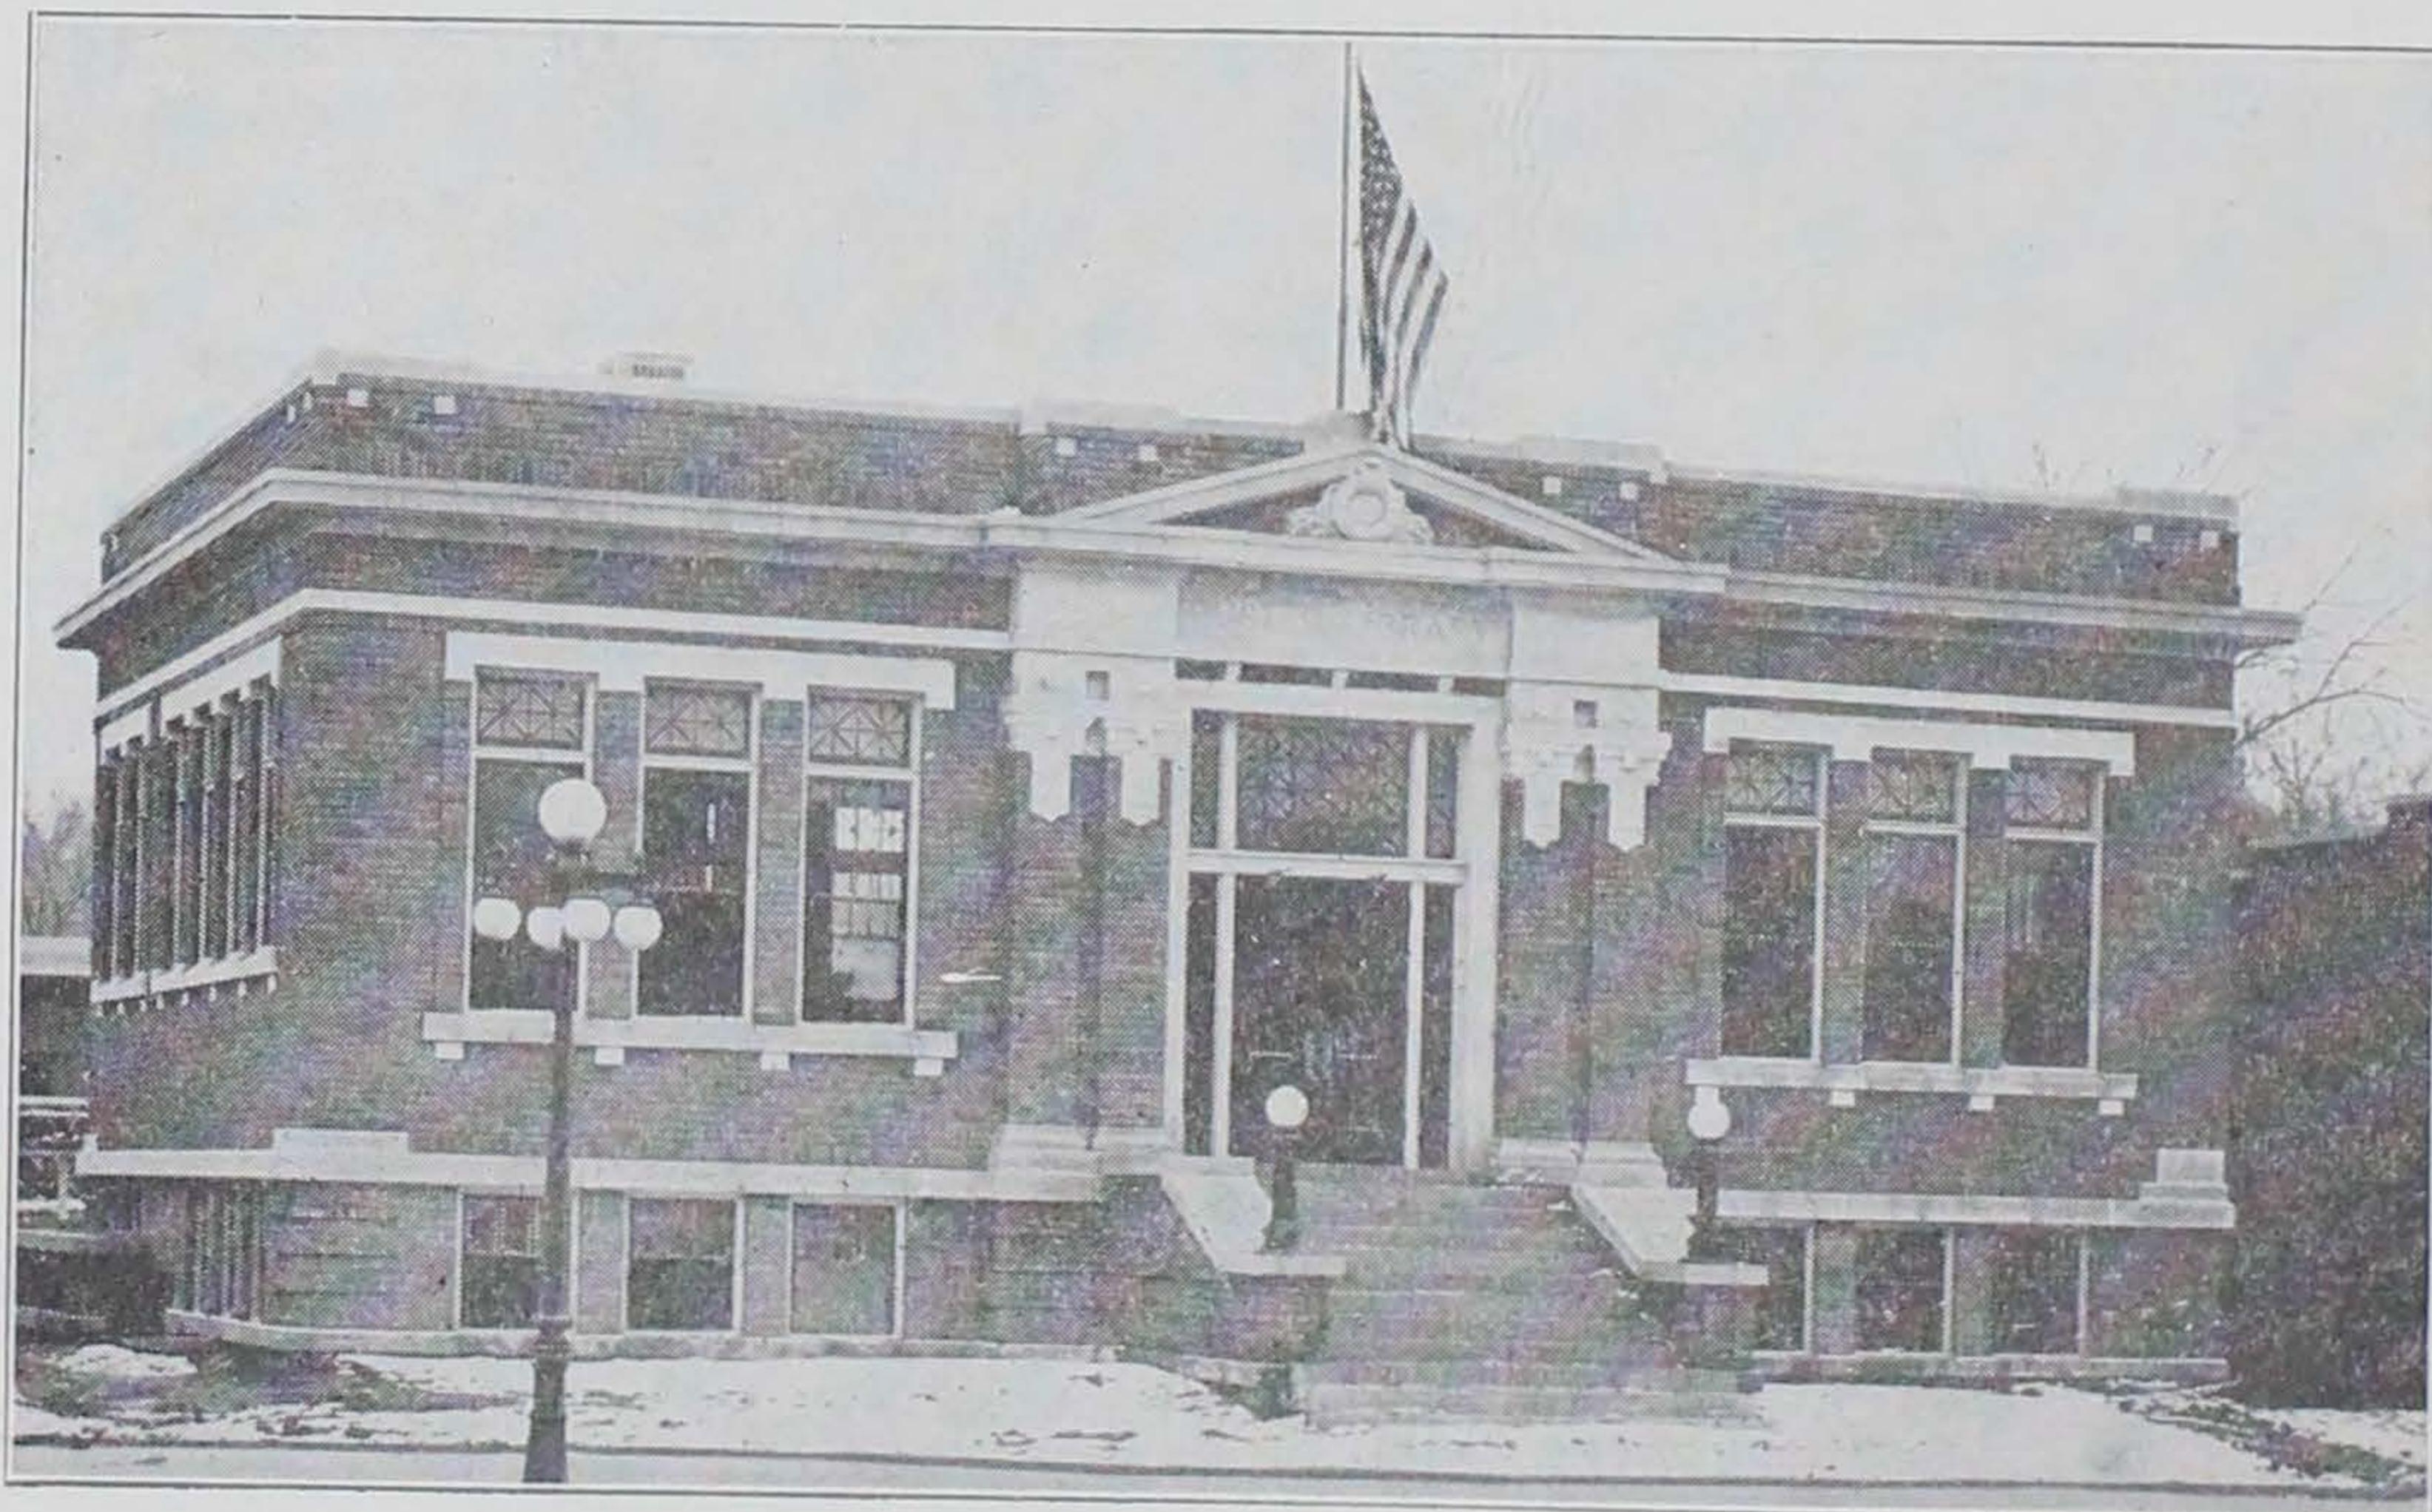

Fifty-two libraries of the state have graduates of summer school courses as librarians, while other such graduates occupy the position of assistants in various places.

IOWA LIBRARY COMMISSION.

Extension and Supervision. As in the past aid has been given by the Secretary of the Library Commission through personal visits, conferences with library boards, and correspondence, to communities and libraries in the formation of associations, campaigns for tax support, the selection of building plans, furniture, equipment and books, and in the encouragement and instruction of librarians.

Meetings of women's clubs both local, district and biennial, teachers' institutes, farmers' associations and other organizations have been attended and addressed in the interest of libraries and reading.

Organization. In addition to assistance given in the establishment of libraries, the work of extension and supervision includes also help given to libraries already in existence. To this end the secretary is assisted by a trained organizer whose services in the installation of modern methods and the instruction of librarians is of great value in increasing the efficiency of the smaller libraries whose income will not allow the employment of a trained librarian. The time spent in each place varies from a few days to three or four weeks, depending upon the needs of the work.

TRAER LIBRARY—CARNEGIE BUILDING

During the past two years help has been given to the public libraries at Alden, Chariton, Clarinda, Colfax, Eagle Grove, Grundy Center, LeMars, Marengo, Missouri Valley, Mt. Pleasant, Onawa, Spirit Lake, Stuart, Tama and Waverly, to Ellsworth College library at Iowa Falls, and the association libraries at Mt. Ayr, Wellman and Reinbeck. Many applications for such help are constantly on file.

Staff. The position of Librarian of the Traveling Library and that of Reference Assistant have been ably filled during the biennial period by Miss Reba Davis and Miss Mary Marks.

Miss Charlotte Goetzman resigned as organizer early in 1915 and Miss Willard took her place. Upon her resignation in February, 1916, Miss Gretta Smith became organizer, and still retains the position. The position of cataloguer has been filled by Miss Willard, Miss Smith and Miss Hazel Clark, the present incumbent.

Miss Emma Holt has been clerk and stenographer since Miss Septer's resignation in September, 1914. A second stenographer being allowed by the Thirty-sixth General Assembly, Miss Sadie Lewis was appointed to that position. Miss Florence Price and Miss Ruth Gass have acted as general assistants, but Miss Price will leave in September to take a course in one of the library schools.

Full time of a shipping clerk being needed the expense was granted by the Committee on Retrenchment and Reform from their contingent fund for such use.

Much credit is due to the members of the staff for their competent, conscientious, faithful service and to their cheerful co-operation much of the success of the work of the Commission is due.

The salaries are not equal to those paid for similar services in other states and an increase should be given to several of the assistants. The number of assistants is also inadequate for the increasing work, but the salary fund is limited and the appropriation itself, though increased by the last legislature, is not sufficient to grant an increase here and meet the other expense of the work.

Publications. The Iowa Library Quarterly is issued four times per year, as its name indicates, and with this year completes its seventh volume. It is mailed free to librarians and library trustees of all public libraries, and to the association, college and miscellaneous libraries of the state. An increase in the number of Quarternlies issued has been granted to meet the increase in the number of public libraries and that copies may be sent to a few of the Traveling Library stations where it was thought the library interest might be stimulated. Testimony to the help of this publication to librarians and library boards are of frequent occurrence and fully justify its existence.

Blanks. Blanks for annual reports required by law to the Commission and the City Council and for other reports from free and association libraries are furnished from the Commission office as well as those for use in keeping daily and monthly statistics, preparing year's budget and making certificate of tax levy to city council in the local libraries. Statistics for publication in the Iowa Official Register were also collected from the libraries and furnished to the Secretary of State. The librarian's register, inaugurated three years ago is continued.

CHILDREN'S ROOM—BIRD WEEK NASHUA PUBLIC LIBRARY

Library Meetings. In co-operation with the Iowa Library Association six district meetings are held each spring. In 1915, LeMars, Villisca, Albia, Hampton, Tama and Carroll were the places of meeting, and in 1916, Sioux City, Council Bluffs, Fort Dodge, Waterloo, Davenport and Burlington.

These meetings are in the nature of conferences participated in by all in attendance, and their helpfulness lies in this opportunity for free discussion, in the fact that the questions considered are those of the smaller libraries, and because they are scattered over the state thus making a meeting each year accessible to librarians and library boards unable to afford the expenses of the state meetings.

A successful meeting of the Iowa Library Association was held at Marshalltown in 1914, and at Hotel Colfax in 1915. The attendance at the latter meeting was the largest in the history of the association.

Detailed Statements. The total annual appropriation for the work of the Library Commission is $15,000. This covers all the activities of the Commission, Traveling Library, extension, salaries, traveling expenses, etc. Inasmuch as the law provides that all accounts and expenditures must be audited and allowed by the State Executive Council, the detailed statement of expenditures is given in the printed reports of the council.

Statistics regarding the public libraries of Iowa are given in each issue of the Iowa Official Register and those regarding school libraries will be found in the reports of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The law under which the Library Commission is authorized will be found in Code Supplement, 1913, under Sections 2888a and 2888c-2888h.

TRAVELING LIBRARY

The Traveling Library now numbers 32,367 volumes, 13,900 of which are arranged in fixed groups of fifty books each for general reading by adults and children. These groups become small libraries in the communities to which they go where they are reloaned without charge to individual readers. Such traveling library stations are located in schools, churches, stores, post offices, homes and other convenient and accessible places. Many communities which would otherwise be bookless are thus supplied with reading matter.

In addition to these fixed groups a general loan or open shelf collection is maintained from which selected groups are made up to meet the special needs of borrowers, whether study clubs, farmers associations, other organizations or individual students.

Study Club Outlines. In connection with the loan of books for study club work the traveling library maintains a large collection of study club outlines which are loaned to assist in arranging programs.

The outlines available include not only those belonging to the Library Commission but by co-operation with the Iowa Federation of Women's Clubs through the Committee on Literature and Library Extension the outlines belonging to the federation are kept on file in the Commission office and loaned through the Traveling Library. The value of such outlines is large in directing and arranging the work of the clubs, and the increasing requests indicate that they are appreciated by the clubs.

Debate Material. One phase of the work is the debate material loaned to the high schools and smaller colleges of the state. For the subject selected each year by the High School Debating League a list of reference material is prepared and duplicated many times. Material also is supplied on the many other subjects of debate constantly called for.

TRAVELING LIBRARY STATION IN A BARBER SHOP

School Work. In addition to the debate material a large amount of work is done with the schools in the loan of books from the general loan and school district collections. The latter list was prepared by Mrs. Edna Lyman Scott and issued by the Department of Public Instruction and is duplicated many times in the Traveling Library thus making available to the schools a large number of desirable books.

Books for the Blind. The collection of books for the blind in New York Point has been enlarged from time to time and their use by the blind people of the state justifies the continuation of this department of the Traveling Library.

Picture Collections. A beautiful collection of colored reproductions of the work of American artists and a set of carbon prints of the Abbey pictures in the Boston public library have been added to the traveling picture collection during the past two years. These like other large exhibits are framed without glass and are loaned for a period of two weeks for free exhibit purposes to libraries, clubs, schools, churches and other organizations in the state. The smaller groups for study use also circulate freely. As the Library Commission is the only agency in the state from which pictures may be borrowed it would seem that a larger collection would be desirable.

Commission Publicity. But little advertising of the Traveling Library is done because without it the ability of the Commission to supply the books or handle the work is so nearly taxed to its utmost.

Still publicity is given to its work in various ways. Among these is co-operation with the State College of Agriculture through county agents and short courses by which the traveling library books on agriculture and domestic science are brought to the attention of communities which might not otherwise be reached, with resulting increase of loans on these subjects.

A state fair exhibit is also used to call the attention of state fair visitors to the work of the Library Commission and the Traveling Library. A room 25x30 in the women and children's building is now assigned to the Commission for that purpose. This room is made as attractive as possible as a reading room and also serves to show what may be done in fitting up a library room at small cost.

The Commission also feels that the ethical and educational resources of the state should be in evidence at the State Fair as well as its material resources.

Christmas Exhibits. With a little different purpose but still with the object of increasing the owning and reading of good books in the state, Christmas exhibits, of fifty books each, are loaned immediately preceding Christmas to assist librarians in interesting parents in the purchase of the better books as Christmas gifts.

Doll Exhibit. A private collection of dolls owned by the secretary has been placed at the disposal of the Traveling Library for loaning, and since October, 1914, they have been exhibited in twenty-four libraries. Applications are always on file for many weeks in advance.

SUMMARY.

The books in the entire Traveling Library collection July, 1, 1916, numbered 32,367 and are divided as follows:

Two hundred seventy-eight libraries for general reading in fixed collections of 50 books each.....	13,900
Open shelf subject collection for study and graded books for rural schools .....	18,467
Total .....	32,367

During the biennial period 71,490 books were loaned in answer to 5,251 requests.

Five hundred eighty-two new stations have been registered during the biennial period.

IOWA SUMMER LIBRARY SCHOOL

For several years past a course in library training has been given by the State University as a part of its summer school session. This is not considered a substitute for full training at a regular library school, but offers partial preparation to those unable to take advantage of regular school work.

The course lasts six weeks each year and includes such instruction in library methods as the time permits. The outside lectures are always of an inspirational nature giving to the students a broader outlook on the library world.

Although no longer under the direction of the Library Commission the large co-operation given by the Commission in instruction and the loan of practice material gives it rightfully a place in this report.

In 1915 the school was under the direction of Miss Harriet E. Howe of Western Reserve University Library School with Miss Alma Penrose instructor in cataloging and classification, Miss Grace Shellenberger, children's work, Miss Julia A. Robinson, library administration and Miss Alice Williams, miscellaneous subjects and revising.

In 1916, Mr. Malcolm G. Wyer, librarian of the Nebraska State University Library, acted as director, and the instruction was given by Miss Alma Penrose in cataloging and classification, Miss Grace Shellenberger, children's work, Miss Julia A. Robinson, library administration, and Miss Blanche V. Watts, miscellaneous subjects and revising.

FREE PUBLIC LIBRARIES OF IOWA

The report of the Iowa Library Commission for 1908-1910 contained brief sketches of the public libraries of Iowa then in existence. In order to bring such information to date, sketches of the following libraries, established since that report, are here given.

Alden. This is one of the older libraries of the state, a library association being formed and a library of 300 volumes opened in February, 1882. A small building was soon erected by the association and the library remained there for a number of years.

The tax vote was taken in 1906 and a gift of $9,000 for a building secured from the Carnegie Corporation in 1913. The present value of the property is estimated at $13,000. One township is supplied with books from this library under the rural extension law.

Bloomfield. A library association was formed in April, 1912, and a vote for the establishment of a library taken in September of the same year, but the library was not opened until the completion of the Carnegie building in 1913. The gift from the Carnegie Corporation for the erection of a library building was $10,000 and the total value of the property is now estimated at $12,000.

Callender. There is but one smaller town in the state with a free public library and that only 39 less, Callender having a population of 398 and Paton 359.

A library association was formed in Callender in May, 1903, and a vote allowing a tax levy was passed the same year, and the library opened with 189 volumes. The library had been maintained for a number of years on the income from a tax of one mill on the dollar, before its existence as a free public library came to the notice of the Library Commission. It is located in the postoffice, the postmaster acting as librarian. The small collection of books is supplemented by a Traveling Library borrowed from the Commission.

Clear Lake. The original library association was formed in 1890 but no tax was voted until 1914.

The library is located in the city hall but a lot, costing $2,000, has been purchased with funds donated by citizens, and plans for a $10,000 building are now in the hands of the Carnegie Corporation for approval.

Dunlap: The first collection of books forming the nucleus of the present library was made by the Fortnightly Club which maintained the library until a vote was taken in April, 1911, authorizing tax support. This club still donates from 50 to 100 books each year and in addition has entirely furnished the basement including an auditorium and rest room.

The Carnegie building cost $10,000 and was occupied in January, 1913. For nine years previous to that time the library was located in a room over the Dunlap State Bank. A legacy of $2,500 was received to furnish the children's room and give a fund for the purchase of books. The present value of the property is estimated at $15,000.

Garner. This is one of the oldest libraries in the state, the library association being organized by the women in 1873 and a library opened before a church was organized in Garner.

The association erected a small library building and carried on the library work until 1911 when a tax was authorized by a vote for the establishment of a library.

In 1915 a gift of $6,500 was secured from the Carnegie Corporation and a library building erected. The library is situated on the main street of the town. The present value of the property is estimated at $8,650.

GARNER PUBLIC LIBRARY—CARNEGIE BUILDING

Knoxville. A library association was formed in 1910 and a library opened with 300 volumes. The library became tax supported in 1912. Previous to 1913 the library was located in the Court House but in 1912 a gift of $10,000 was secured from the Carnegie Corporation and a building erected and dedicated in 1913. The present value of the property is estimated at $20,000.

Oelwein. A library association was formed in May, 1911, and a vote for the establishment of a library carried in August of the same year, and the library opened in January, 1912. The library is located in the city hall.

Sac City. A library association was formed in January, 1907, and a library of 100 volumes opened the same month. A vote for the establishment of a free public library was successfully carried in 1910.

Previous to the opening of the Carnegie building the library was located in the city hall. In 1912 a gift of $8,000 was secured from Mr. Andrew Carnegie and a new building erected. The present value of the property is $12,000.

Sigourney. A library association was organized in 1912 and a vote for the establishment of a free public library passed the same year. Previous to that time, however, various attempts had been made to organize a library, and a number of library associations had been founded which were of short duration.

In 1914 a gift of $10,000 for a library building was secured from the Carnegie Corporation and on the completion of the building a library was opened with 1,141 volumes. The estimated value of the property at present is $11,350.

Traer. The library association was organized in 1911 and a library opened with 475 volumes. The library became tax supported in 1913.

By the sale of land formerly used for a fair ground $15,000 was realized which was used in the purchase of a site for a building, a payment of $75.00 on paving and a sum placed at interest for future use.

A gift of $10,000 was secured from the Carnegie Corporation and a building erected in 1915. Previous to that time the library occupied an old building purchased and remodeled by the Woman's Federation.
