REPORT OF IOWA LIBRARY COMMISSION

PERSONNEL

MEMBERSHIP

One change has taken place in the membership of the Iowa Library Commission during the past biennium in the retirement of Mrs. Flora Barkley Southwick on July 1, 1927, at the expiration of her term, and the appointment of Mrs. John Fox Lake of Shenandoah.

Mrs. Southwick as Mrs. Barkley was active in bringing about legislation creating the Library Commission during Mr. Barkley's membership in the Iowa House of Representatives in 1900. She was appointed a member of the commission in 1912 to fill out the unexpired term of Captain Johnson and was continuously reappointed at the expiration of her terms.

At the expiration of his term in July, 1928, W. R. Orchard was reappointed for a new term.

OFFICE STAFF

On September 1, 1928, the secretary will complete fifteen years in the service of the Iowa Library Commission. During that time she has seen the number of tax supported libraries grow from 112 to 164, the Carnegie buildings from eighty-three to 100, and the number of counties without libraries reduced from fourteen to one. (The gift for a library building at Creston will bring a tax for the support of the library.)

Librarian of the Traveling Library. Grace Murphy who came to the position two years ago is still with the commission and doing the work with efficiency. With the small salary now paid there is danger, however, of a vacancy in this position at any time which will be difficult to fill for the same reason.

Reference Librarian. Clara L. Abernathy who held this position for seven years has resigned to accept a position in South Carolina which will pay her a larger salary.

The difficulty in filling the position with a competent librarian at the salary allowed was great but the commission was fortunate in securing the services of Helen H. Aten whose experience in Ladysmith and Manitowoc, Wisconsin, fits her excellently for the work. Again, however, the commission is much in danger of having a competent librarian yield to the lure of a larger salary offered elsewhere.

Cataloger. After a vacancy of more than a year because no competent librarian was available at the salary to be offered the position was filled in September, 1927, by the appointment of Dagny Borge whose work has been very satisfactory.

Record Clerk. Grace Ryan who had been with the commission for over seven years resigned in June to be married. The Traveling Library stenographer, Lurene Jaeger, was transferred to this position and a former stenographer in the office, Trix Ellis, returned to become Traveling Library stenographer. Another stenographer is also employed for the secretary's work.

The General Assistant, Helen Keogh Shepard, is one of the most valued assistants and is competent and dependable. She has occupied this position for six years during which time she improved her usefulness by taking the Summer School Course at Iowa City and is worth much more than the salary which she is receiving.

A clerk and two high school boys do the janitor work, shelving and shipping of the books. Another full time man instead of the two part time boys would expedite this work and would be worth to the office the extra salary required.

ACTIVITIES

EXTENSION AND SUPERVISION

This work is under the direct supervision of the secretary and consists (1) of help to communities in starting new library projects and in the extension of library privileges from libraries to smaller and larger units through towns, townships, school corporations, and entire counties, and (2) in assistance to libraries already in existence for more efficient service through correspondence and visits for conferences with librarians and library boards.

The work of extension and supervision might well occupy the whole time of the secretary but shortness of help in the Traveling Library frequently necessitates her presence in the office rather than among the libraries of the state.

Help is also given to small public libraries and to school libraries too small to employ a trained librarian in the installation of modern library methods which make for efficiency in library service.

In this work the secretary is assisted by the cataloger who not only does the cataloging of the Traveling Library books but goes to the smaller libraries in need of help in organizing and cataloging. In this the cataloger works under the direction of the secretary who decides the places to have her services. These places are expected to pay the board and lodging of the organizer during the time the work is being done and her traveling expenses, the Library Commission paying the salary.

Library Beginnings. In the extension of library privileges in Iowa through the establishment of new libraries eleven are to be reported between July 1, 1926, and June 30, 1928, namely, Allerton with a population of 928; Dumont, 700; Inwood, 751; Lamoni, 1,643; McGregor, 1,200; St. Ansgar, 950; Schaller, 733; Sheffield, 1,026; Walnut, 913; Winfield, 928 and Winthrop, 507.

Tax support for McGregor in Clayton county and Creston in Union county (as noted above) in counties not heretofore having tax supported libraries will leave Van Buren the only county in the state without a city supported library.

However, eight of these libraries are in towns of less than 1,000 population and three in towns of less than 2,000.

From a study made by Prof. J. H. Kolb of Wisconsin University he found that it required a population of 4,000 at $1.00 per capita to adequately support "good, modern public library service." That we do have such service in some of our smaller communities is because the libraries have a support larger than $1.00. But many do not have and in few, if any, of the new enterprises is this true, and often the support is far below the amount needed. Therefore this gain is a questionable advance as most of the towns with new libraries could be much better supplied with efficient library service as branches of a larger library and this may be brought about by a contract between the library board and the town council, or even a group of people in the town, by which, for the payment of a stipulated amount, a certain number of books are sent to be exchanged at stated periods of three or four months. Not only are more books available in this way but the library is relieved of the expert work which a small library finds so difficult because of inability to employ a trained librarian.

The above privileges may also be extended by a similar contract to townships, school corporations and counties.

There has been an effort during the past year to secure a uniform rate for such extension, based upon the number of books to be loaned, the rate most widely prevailing being fifty cents per book and the books exchanged in three or four months. There has also been an effort to establish uniformity in the rate charged to individual borrowers outside the city limits wishing to use the city library. A rate of $1.00 with no less for a part of a year seems to be fair.

Tuition pupils attending a town school are generally afforded free use of a town library during the school year. In a few cases the school board pays for this privilege.

Library Buildings. Anamosa has a gift of $5,000 for the enlargement of its library building which has not yet been used.

Creston has received a gift of $25,000 for the erection of a library building from Mrs. Frank Phillips of Bartlesville, Oklahoma, in memory of her mother.

Ft. Dodge was able to take advantage of the amendment to the law making a three mill levy possible for improvements and is adding a second story to their library building giving the library much needed additional space.

Forest City through a bond issue of $10,000 has converted the old Summitt Hotel into a very satisfactory library building which was opened in February, 1928.

At Mt. Pleasant the P. E. O. Memorial Library in connection with Wesleyan College was dedicated during September, 1927. The cost of the building was subscribed by the P. E. O. sisterhood.

Association Libraries. Many library beginnings are made by a library governed by an association and supported by membership dues, entertainments, donations, etc. Some of these libraries in time become tax supported, some have been continued for years by this method and others die out. Almost, if not all, could be better served as branches of larger libraries.

As is usual a number of new association libraries have been formed during the biennium and also a number have ceased to exist. Such statistics are difficult to secure as these libraries are seldom conducted according to business methods, despite continued efforts to secure the use of such methods on the part of the commission secretary.

COUNTY LIBRARIES

“The public library is by far the most economical agency through which the people may supply book service for themselves. Equal opportunity for library service for city and country require the use of some agency which includes city and country. Such an agency is the county library. County library service means the use of books everywhere in the county.”

This means that a county may secure county wide library service in Iowa by a contract between the county supervisors and a public library board by which the use of the library is made free to all the people of the county direct from the library and by the establishment of branches and stations throughout the county. For this service the county must agree to pay an amount equal to a tax of one mill, this to be levied by the county supervisors without a vote.

This method of establishment of a county library by contract is the only one which may be used in Iowa but in some states the county supervisors have power to establish an independent library and in a county where there are several small libraries an independent county library would seem to be the best plan. Therefore it would seem wise to revise our county library law this year to make this possible.

“County library service is cheap because it spreads the cost over a wide area and many people. It is democratic because it provides equal opportunity for all both in city and country. It is effective because it is large enough to provide adequate service and small enough to give real service quickly wherever it is needed.”

During the past two years library service has been extended throughout Hardin county by the supply of books to the rural schools through the three tax supported libraries. This is not complete county service inasmuch as it supplies only the rural schools but is a beginning.

BOOK CAR

The book car purchased in 1926 by the Iowa Library Association and used that summer by a large number of the libraries has had less use since. It has served a good purpose in calling attention to county library service and when that service comes a book car will be needed. What will be the final disposition of this wagon will be a matter for the Iowa Library Association to consider.

SCHOOL LIBRARIES

School library statistics are still not available, no office being charged with the duty of their collection.

Interest in school libraries, however, has been stimulated by the publication of a list of books for schools by the Department of Public Instruction. The Library Commission is attempting to give help in the way of organization where possible and where the library is too small to warrant a visit from the organizer directions for the organization of a school library prepared by the secretary of the Library Commission are sent out.

The new course of study issued by the Superintendent of Public Instruction containing a course in the use of the library for rural schools by the secretary of the Library Commission is also stimulating library and book interest.

LIBRARY MEETINGS

The meeting of the Iowa Library Association in 1927 was held in Des Moines and for 1928 will be held in October at Marshalltown.

Eight district meetings were held in 1927 at New Hampton, Clinton, Eldon, Red Oak, Denison, Spencer, Clarion and Newton and in 1928 at Iowa City, Mt. Pleasant, Council Bluffs, Indianola, Dubuque, Storm Lake, Audubon and Clear Lake.

A Librarians' Conference was held by the Extension Department of the State University in 1927 and 1928 and the Library Section of the State Teachers' Association held sessions during the state association meetings in the two years of the biennium.

STATE FAIR EXHIBIT

The Library Commission state fair exhibit was transferred to the new Educational building on its opening in 1927 and continued there in 1928.

While this building is the logical place for this exhibit, as a means of publicity the location is less valuable than a space in the Women and Children's building.

A graphic county map showing library service through a county library and its stations and a book wagon was a part of the Library Commission exhibit in 1928 and attracted much attention.

GOOD BOOK WEEK

The Library Commission cooperates in the observance of Good Book Week by giving aid to libraries, women's clubs and teachers by the loan of books for exhibit, posters, leaflets for distribution and suggestions for its observance.

COOPERATIVE BUYING PLAN

For the past two years a plan of cooperative buying has been in operation in the state under a committee of the Iowa Library Association and the secretary of the Library Commission.

The plan has behind it a good business principle in increase of discounts in proportion to the number of copies of a title ordered but to be successful such a plan needs the cooperation of more of the libraries than have taken part so far.

The plan has also the added values of furnishing to the smaller libraries reliable up-to-date lists of books though there is no intention of standardization or coercion upon the libraries in this method of buying.

PUBLICATIONS

The Iowa Library Quarterly is issued quarterly as its name indicates and is mailed to librarians of public, association, school and college libraries and to board members of public libraries. Its aim is to give help through library news and articles on library matters.

Book lists for grades and senior and junior high school have been revised and issued with other helpful lists.

Blanks for the collection of statistics from the libraries of the state are furnished free from the Library Commission office, also blanks for keeping daily and monthly statistics to be compiled in the annual report. Blanks for use in making their annual budget and in certifying their tax levy to the city council are also furnished to the libraries.

Leaflets explanatory of the Library Commission and the Traveling Library are also furnished.

TRAVELING LIBRARY

The second activity of the Library Commission is the Traveling Library from which library service is extended to the people of the state without adequate library facilities.

In the past the books of the Traveling Library have been divided between a general loan collection, from which books are selected to fill requests, and fixed groups of fifty books each. The latter form of handling loans is gradually being discontinued as better service can be rendered through selected groups.

Loans from the Traveling Library go to schools, clubs, communities and individual borrowers. The schools are the largest borrowers and although very many titles are duplicated many times, the supply of books is always far short of the number needed to fill the requests received, and the work is so heavy during the school year that delays must occur in making up groups, shipping the books, checking those that are returned, shelving, mending and preparing for binding.

The only supply of books in many small communities is the Traveling Library whose books form libraries for such towns and here also the number available is always inadequate for the needs. Very many boys and girls of Iowa are wholly dependent for their reading upon the books sent to school and community libraries from the Traveling Library and if reading is a vital part of their education there should be a more generous provision for their book needs.

An increasing number of requests are being received from individual borrowers, many desiring books for serious study.

A list of one day's requests coming to the Librarian of the Traveling Library and the Reference Librarian is given that an idea of the work required may be noted.

To schools and communities the period of loan is three months, to individuals four weeks, except in the case of recent books and those in great demand when the time is three weeks. Borrowers pay transportation.

Summer Loans. During the summer when schools are not in session Traveling Library books accumulate in the Library Commission office and many loans are made to Y. W., Y. M. C. A. and Campfire Girls camps and other organizations thus keeping them in use when they would otherwise be idle.

Books for the Blind in New York Point and Braille 1½ are loaned through the Traveling Library. The cost of these books is large but they are carried free through the mails. More money to buy books and an assistant who could give more time to the work of the blind would enable the Traveling Library to more nearly supply the needs of the blind of the state.

In some states the transcribing of books into blind type is being done by sighted people and if such transcribers could be found in Iowa and the Red Cross and other organizations were willing, as they are in some places, to defray the cost of binding the supply of books could be increased at little cost.

Picture Collections. No additions have been made to the picture collections. A much larger circulation of these could be stimulated were there an assistant to give more time to their loan. The same is true of the stereoscopic views which might be made of value for school use. A number of sets were added to the collection during the two years just passed.

REFERENCE WORK

More requests are received from women's clubs for material for club study than can be promptly cared for by the reference librarian. This work requires actual research to locate just the right material in book, magazine, pamphlet or clipping to fit the need. It is expert work and can only be done satisfactorily by a person with a knowledge not only of reference books but of books in general as well as a desire to send the inquirer exactly what is desired. Not to do so may often cause delay in the preparation of papers and the expenditure of extra postage if a second set of material must be sent.

Study club outlines and syllabi are also furnished to assist in the arrangement of programs and are largely used by women's clubs.

Debate material to cover the question debated each year by the High School Debate League is duplicated many times to meet the heavy demands as nearly as possible.

Material for debates on other subjects is also furnished and not infrequently the department is told that the material furnished has won the debate.

DETAILED STATEMENT

The total annual appropriation for the work of the Library Commission is $11,675.00. This covers all the activities of the Commission, Traveling Library, extension, traveling expenses, etc. Inasmuch as the law provides that all accounts and expenditures must be audited by the State Executive Council, the detailed statement of expenditures is given in the printed records of the council.

LEGISLATION

Two bills affecting libraries were introduced in the Forty-second General Assembly, one making the three mill levy heretofore only available for new buildings also possible for improvements and repairs. This passed both houses without question.

The other bill exempting only towns with public libraries from the county tax and making the levy of a tax mandatory upon a petition passed the House but in the closing hours of the session was declared defective and it was then too late for revision and passage.

Inasmuch as there are other changes in the law which seem desirable the entire law will probably be rewritten and offered for vote before the next legislature.

LIBRARY COMMISSION NEEDS

The needs of the Library Commission which can be met by the legislature may be briefly stated.

First, money to enable the Traveling Library to more nearly meet the book demands upon it.

Second, larger salaries to make possible the employment of competent people, needed to acceptably do the expert work required of library assistants.

Third, more office help to expedite the service.
