Open Forum-April 10

As we enter week four of our new reality, I'd like to thank everyone who has attended our Open Forums. Last week we talked about a variety of topics and heard some very heartwarming stories. With the state of library service in flux at the moment, I'm hoping we can spend some time hearing about how you are serving your patrons. On to our third week of Open Forums!

The next session will be this Friday, April 10 from 10:00-11:00 in my Zoom room. <https://zoom.us/j/4091922361> Headsets or some type of microphone/speaker combo will be important. This can be "come as you are" so if you are home, great! If you are at work, that's fine too! Interruptions by children and pets will be welcome. I would like this to be pretty free and open, but I will have a few conversation starters, if we run out of steam. I'd like to offer it every week, until we don't need it any more. Remember, this is for you to talk with other directors about whatever you are dealing with.
