CORRECTED LINK

Oops! I accidentally sent out the wrong link for the YS COVID-19 Idea Swap doc! That's what happens when Emily is on leave and I don't have her to check all my work. Please find the corrected link below.

Looking for program ideas? Not sure where to begin? Visit our COVID-19 Idea Swap!

After the May series of COVID Conversations, Angie realized there needed to be one space to round up all the amazing examples of programming and outreach for kids, teens, and families that were happening all over the world. That led to the creation of the YS COVID Idea Swap. This is a living document that you are invited to contribute to! Meanwhile, Angie adds all the best and newest things she finds. That includes links to storytimes from around the globe, grab and go activity kits ideas, printables for sharing, videos for teens and families, and more. Angie is always adding new stuff and you can add your own examples to share and learn from each other. View or add to it anytime and check back often! More to come, including reader's advisory tools. If there's something you want to share but are hesitant about adding it yourself or you have ideas of what else would be helpful to be added, email Angie.
