

THIRTEENTH STATE CENSUS.

THE CENSUS OF IOWA,

AS RETURNED IN THE

YEAR 1875,

SHOWING IN DETAIL THE POPULATION, AGRICULTURAL STATISTICS, DOMESTIC AND GENERAL MANUFACTURES, AND OTHER ITEMS OF INTEREST.

PUBLISHED UNDER DIRECTION OF THE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL.

CYRUS C. CARPENTER, GOVERNOR.
JOSIAH T. YOUNG, SECRETARY OF STATE.
BUREN R. SHERMAN, AUDITOR OF STATE.
WILLIAM CHRISTY, TREASURER OF STATE.

DES MOINES:
R. P. CLARKSON, STATE PRINTER.
Nov. 1, 1875.

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

Number of Dwellings, number of Families; and the Population with the various classifications thereof in the several counties in the State, by Townships.....	1-69
Acres of improved and unimproved land, with number of acres in cultivation in 1874; rods of fence; number of acres and number of bushels harvested of Spring Wheat, Winter Wheat, Corn, Rye, Oats, Barley, and Buckwheat in the several counties in the State, by Townships.....	70-128
Statistics concerning Flax, Sorghum, Wild and Tame Grasses, Irish Potatoes, Sweet Potatoes, Onions, Turnips, Beets, Peas, and Beans in the several counties in the State, by Townships	129-187
Number of acres of natural and planted Timber; rods of Hedge; and statistics of the Orchard and Vine in the several counties in the State, by Townships.....	188-247
Number of Horses of all ages, with number sold for export; number of Mules and Asses, with number sold for export; number of Milch Cows; pounds of Butter made; pounds of Cheese made not at factory; gallons of Milk sold; Work Oxen; all other cattle; Cattle slaughtered or sold for slaughter in 1874; thorough-bred Short-Horns; Hogs on hand, Berkshires, Poland China, and number slaughtered or sold for slaughter in 1874; Sheep on hand, pounds of Wool sheared and sheep slaughtered or sold for slaughter in 1874; with number same killed by dogs, and number of dogs in the several counties in the State, by Townships.....	248-308.
Number of Stands of Bees, pounds of Honey and Beeswax; value of Farm Produce, value of Market Garden Produce, value of Products of the Orchard, value of Small Fruit, value of Products of the Herd, value of Products of the Dairy, and value of Products of the Forest, in the several counties in the State, by Townships.....	309-346
Number of Dwellings, Families, Population and the various classifications thereof; showing also Nativity of Inhabitants, Foreign Parentage, and number Persons between Five and Twenty-One, in the several counties in the State.....	347-350
Number of Illiterate Persons, Deaf and Dumb not in State Institution, Blind not in College for the Blind, Insane not in Hospitals, Births and Deaths in 1874, Voters and where Born, Foreigners, and Militia, in the several counties in the State.....	351-354
Number of Acres of Improved and Unimproved Land, Rods of Fence, Acres in Cultivation in 1874, Acres and Bushels Harvested of Spring Wheat, Winter Wheat, Corn, Rye, Oats, Barley, and Buckwheat, in the several counties in the State.....	355-358
Number of Acres and Bushels of Flax Seed; acres of Sorghum and Gallons of Syrup from same; gallons of Maple Syrup, pounds of Maple Sugar; Acres of Blue Grass, of Tame Grass and tons of Hay from same; tons of Hay from Wild Grass, bushels of Grass Seed, of Clover Seed; Acres of Hungarian Grass, tons of Hay and bushels of Seed from same; statistics of Hops, Tobacco, Broom Corn and Potatoes, in the several counties in the State.....	359-362

Number of acres and bushels of Sweet Potatoes, Onions, bushels of Turnips, Beets, Peas and Beans; acres of Natural Timber, of Planted Timber; rods of Hedge; number of Trees in bearing and bushels gathered in 1874 of Apples, Pears, Peaches, Plums, and Cherries, and other Fruit Trees in bearing and number not in bearing; acres of Grapes in Vineyard, pounds of Grapes gathered, gallons of Wine made; number of Vines, pounds gathered and gallons of Wine made of Grapes not in Vineyard, in the several counties in the State.....	34-39
Number of Horses of all ages, same sold for export; Mules and Asses, same sold export; Milch Cows, pounds of Butter made, pounds of Cheese made not at factory, gallons of Milk sold; Work Oxen; all other Cattle; Cattle slaughtered or sold for slaughter in 1874; Thoroughbred Short Horns, Devons, Herefords, Ayrshires, Jerseys, Holderness, other improved breeds; Hogs; Berkshires, Poland-China, Chester-White, Magee, Essex, other improved breeds; hogs slaughtered or sold for slaughter in 1874, in the several counties in the State.....	370-373
Number Sheep on hand, Merino, Cotswold, Leicester, South down, other improved breeds; pounds of Wool; Sheep slaughtered or sold for slaughter, and number killed by Dogs in 1874; Dogs; stands of Bees; pounds of Honey and Beeswax; value of Farm Produce, Market Garden Produce, Products of the Orchard, Small Fruit, Products of the Herd, Products of the Dairy, and Products of the Forest, in the several counties in the State.....	374-377
Average yield, per acre, in bushels, of Spring Wheat, Winter Wheat, Corn, Rye, Oats, Barley, Buckwheat, Irish Potatoes, Sweet Potatoes, and Onions, tons of Tame Grass, and in gallons, of Sorghum; also, average number of pounds of wool per Sheep, in the several counties in the State.....	378-379
Number and character of Manufacturing Establishments, kinds of goods made, kinds of power used, average number of hands employed; tons Pig and Scrap Iron, cubic feet of Wood, pounds of Wool, pounds of Leather, bushels of Flax Seed, Wheat, Corn, and Barley consumed in manufactures in 1874, and value of goods made, in the several counties in the State.....	380-383
Statistics of Mines and Quarries for 1874, as returned by assessors, in the several counties in the State.....	384-385
Number and character of Colleges, Academies, Universities, and other Private Schools, with their location; Male and Female Instructors, Students, Volumes in Libraries, and amount of income.....	386-390
Number of acres of Land Assessed, the average value per acre, and aggregate valuation after Equalization; also, the aggregate value of Town Property, Railroad Property, and Personal Property, and total valuation of Taxable Property, and State Tax thereon, in each county for the year 1875.....	391-394
Number of Acres of Land Assessed, Reported Value per Acre, Equalized Value per Acre, Reported Value of Lands, Reported Value of Town Lots, Reported Value of Lands and Town Lots, and Equalized Value of Lands and Town Lots, Value of Personalty, Reported Total Valuation, Equalized Total Valuation, and State Tax thereon at two mills, in each County in the State, for the Years 1865 and 1875.....	395-400
Exhibit of aggregates of certain items in the preceding Tables, comparing them with Census of 1865.....	401-403
Population of the Incorporated Cities and Towns of Iowa, for the Years 1870, 1873, and 1875.....	404-406
Population of the several Counties in the State at each enumeration since the Organization of the Territory of Wisconsin.....	407-410
The several Railroads in the State, January 1, 1875, their Length, Assessed Valuation per Mile, and Aggregate Assessed Value, as fixed by the Executive Council, March 1, 1875.....	411

Statement of the Gross Earnings, Aggregate Gross Earnings, and Gross Earnings per Mile of the several Railroads in the State, in the Years 1873 and 1874.....	412-413
Statistics of School Districts, Schools, Teachers and their Compensation, Scholars and their Attendance, School-Houses and their Value, Apparatus, Libraries, Expenditures, and Private Schools in the several Counties of the State.....	414-417
Senators and Representatives from Iowa in the XLIVth Congress.....	418
List of Federal Officers in Iowa, together with Time and Place of holding United States Circuit and District Courts.....	419
Official Register for the Year 1876, giving Names of all State Officers and their Deputies; the Judges of the Supreme, District, and Circuit Courts; the District-Attorneys, and Short-Hand Reporters.....	420-422
Public Institutions of the State, their Location, Names of Officers and Trustees, 423-428
List of Newspapers and Periodicals Published in the State, November 1st, 1875.....	429-439
Alphabetical List of Post-Offices in the State, November 1st, 1875.....	440-449
List of County Auditors, Clerks of District and Circuit Courts, Treasurers, Recorders, and Sheriffs for 1876.....	450-453
List of Superintendents of Common Schools, County Surveyors, Coroners, and Members of Boards of Supervisors for 1876.....	454-456
Times of holding the District and Circuit Courts in the several Counties of the State for the Years 1876 and 1877.....	457-460
Abstract of Votes Cast at the General Election, October 12th, 1875, for the Offices of Governor and Lieutenant-Governor, by Counties and Townships.....	461-499
Abstract of Votes Cast at the General Election, October 12th, 1875, for the Offices of Judge of the Supreme Court and Superintendent of Public Instruction, by Congressional Districts and Counties.....	500-503
List of Members of the Sixteenth General Assembly.....	504-506

INTRODUCTORY REMARKS.

The census of 1875, the returns of which appear in the following pages, was the thirteenth taken under State authority, and the twenty-first enumeration of the inhabitants of what is now the State of Iowa, by whatever authority made. In 1836, under the provisions of the act of Congress organizing the territory of Wisconsin, Gov. Henry Dodge caused a census of the new territory to be taken. It showed a population of 10,531, found in the counties of "Demoine" and Dubuque, creations of the territorial legislature of Michigan, and comprising all the organized territory north of the northern line of the State of Missouri, from the Mississippi to the Pacific ocean. In 1838, the organic act for Iowa territory provided for an enumeration thereof. This also was taken under the direction of the Governor of the territory, Hon. Robert Lucas. The number of inhabitants ascertained was 22,859, more than double the previous census. The number of counties, by the erection, out of those formerly existing and additional territory, of Cedar, Clayton, Clinton, Henry, Jackson, Johnson, Jones, Lee, Linn, Louisa, Muscatine, Scott, Slaughter (now Washington), and Van Buren, had been increased to sixteen. From this period, the growth of the territory was a steady one, but not marked by the giant strides that characterized the first decade of the State, the annual increase ranging from 6,000 to about 11,000.

The federal census of 1840 showed a population of 43,114 in eighteen counties, Delaware and Jefferson reporting for the first time. Four years later, 75,152 people were found in twenty-one counties: Davis, Kishkekosh (now Monroe), and Wapello appearing in the returns. In 1846, another enumeration was taken preparatory to admission into the Union; showing a population of 97,588. The number of counties reported was now twenty-seven, Appanoose, Benton, Buchanan, Mahaska, Marion, and Polk being added to the list. On the 28th of December following, Iowa entered the Union. From this time forward, its growth, as if stimulated by the change in political relation, was for a dozen years rapid and even prodigious, until, in 1856, 519,055, and in 1859, 638,775, people were found within its borders; while settlement had penetrated into all but seven counties of the State.

The constitution of 1846 provided that within one year after its ratification, and within every subsequent term of two years for eight years, an enumeration of all the white inhabitants should be made. In accordance with this requirement, the First General Assembly provided for a census in each of the years 1847, 1849, and 1851, which were accordingly taken. Up to this time, there seems to have been no effort to gather statistics as to the details of population, or the productions and resources of the State, except for the federal census. A mere counting of the whole number of the people, and except in 1846 only the white people, was all that was attempted. In the Code of 1851 a step further was taken. This provided for a census in 1852, 1854, 1856, and every tenth year thereafter, and required that the return should show, the total number of males, of females, of voters, of militia, and of un-naturalized foreigners. It also created the Census Board to supervise the enumeration, and authorized it to provide for ascertaining and collecting any facts that might be deemed expedient.

The census of 1856 was based upon the plan of that of the United States of 1850. A complete nominal list of all the inhabitants, showing social condition, nativity, occupation, and color, and of the whites the sex, in addition to what the law required, besides an immense mass of information in regard to the productions of the State, were obtained. The law of the Code rendered it more practicable to secure this information, a duplicate of the assessors' blanks being returned to the office of the Secretary of State. This permitted a compilation under one supervision in the same manner as the federal census is collected. The General Assembly, in 1858, saw fit to change this mode, and establish that now in use, which provides that abstracts of the returns shall be prepared by the county auditors respectively and forwarded to the Secretary of State. The act making this change also enlarged the scope of the census, adding several other items to be inquired into, and lodging with the Census Board the same discretionary power as before. This law is the one in force at present.

The constitution of 1857 (the present) provided for an enumeration of all the white inhabitants of the State in 1859, 1863, 1865, 1867, 1869, 1875, and every tenth year thereafter. One of the amendments adopted in 1868 extended the requirement so as to include all inhabitants, regardless of color. The Fourteenth General Assembly provided for an additional census, to be taken in 1873. At each successive enumeration, except the last named, the Census Board has enlarged the field of inquiry until, in 1869, the items about which inquiry was made numbered seventy-six, and in that reported in these pages one hundred and eighty-nine.

The growth which had marked the first ten years of the State was not sustained during the next decade, notably the latter half of it. The financial catastrophe, followed by a failure of crops unparalleled in Iowa, had stopped the flood of immigration into the State; and, the war coming on, the population of the State increased very slowly until 1865, when it reached 754,699, or only 79,214 more than in 1860, a gain of less than 16,000 per annum.

The decade closing with this year, in its first half, witnessed a rapidity of growth surpassed only by that of the years from 1854 to 1858; immigration pouring into the State in vast numbers, and soon occupying all the government lands, and hundreds of thousands of other unimproved acres. The federal census of 1870 showed a population of 1,194,020, indicating an average annual increase, since 1865, greater than the entire growth during the preceding five years; if indeed, the large figures of the census of 1870 are to be relied upon, of which there is some question. Taking the ten years together, there has been an average annual augmentation of population, to the amount of 59,584.5.

The present population of the State, as shown in the following pages, is 1,350,544, an increase, over that of 1873, of 99,211, and over the reported figures of 1870 of 156,524. The population of the State, at each successive enumeration, is presented in full by counties, on pages 407-410 of this book.

The following table shows the varying rate of growth as given by the several enumerations taken under territorial and State authority.

Year of Census.	Population.	Increase from previous Census.	Average annual increase.	Average annual percentage of increase.
1838.....	22859	12328	6164	58.53
1844.....	75152	52293	8715	38.56
1846.....	97588	22436	11218	18.86
1847.....	116651	19063	19063	19.53
1849.....	152988	36337	18168	15.58
1851.....	204774	51786	25893	16.93
1852.....	236713	25939	25939	12.67
1854.....	326013	95300	47650	20.69

1875.....	1350544	99211	49605	3.96

Dividing the space of time embraced in the foregoing figures into four periods, we have the following showing:

Average annual increase during the territorial decade, 8706 or 82.67 per cent.
Average annual increase during first decade of the State.....42147 or 43.19 per cent.

Average annual increase during period of nine years,

1856-1865.....20183 or 5.04 per cent.

Average annual increase during decade 1865-1875.....59584 or 7.89 per cent.

The federal enumerations show as follows:

Year.	Population.	Average increase annually.	Average annual rate of increase.
1840	43114
1850	*192214	14910	34.58
1860	274913	4827	25.11
1870	*1194020	51911	7.96

In preparing the schedules for this census, the Executive Council was deeply impressed with the desirability and importance, in this last enumeration prior to the centennial of American independence, of obtaining such information as to the population, productions, and resources of the State, as would approximate the most closely practicable to absolute accuracy. It was at once seen that this could best be obtained by some plan of operations similar to that of the federal enumeration, and to the State enumeration of 1856. It was suggested to the Council that, while the law contemplated abstracts being prepared of each county's statistics by its auditor, yet this might be complied with in its intent if the assessors' returns were made in duplicate, and one copy sent up by the county auditor in lieu of an abstract. This would permit of the compilation of all the returns under one supervision, which is almost a necessity to the highest accuracy. The Council decided that, however desirable this mode of making the returns evidently was, there was not a sufficient appropriation at its disposal to warrant that body in procuring the clerical force necessary for the labor of arranging and collating the facts contained in the returns from some fifteen hundred townships, towns, and cities, spread over some forty thousand blanks. It was then determined to make the inquiry as thorough as seemed at all likely to be practicable, under the system heretofore prevalent. To this end schedules were prepared embracing--

1. Statistics of Population, with 44 items.
2. Statistics of the Farm, with 48 items.
3. Statistics of Forest and Hedge, with 3 items.
4. Statistics of the Orchard and Vine, with 18 items.
5. Statistics of the Herd, including the Dairy, with 25 items.
6. Miscellaneous statistics, with 3 items.
7. Statistics of Value of Products in 1874, with 7 items.
8. Statistics of Manufactures, with 18 items.
9. Statistics of Mines and Quarries, 9 items.
10. Statistics of Colleges, Seminaries, and other Private Schools, 14 items.

*These figures differ from those appearing in the body of this book, which were taken from first reports of the federal enumeration. The revised report of the census of 1870, which contains also a revision of the former enumerations, gives the footings of Linn county as having a population of 28,552, (as appears on page 409 of this book,) whereas the number actually ascertained was 31,080.

The Council was fully aware that these schedules presented a formidable array of inquiries to be answered, and largely added to the work of the assessors, already sufficiently great by reason of the duties more closely pertaining to their office in the assessment of property, this being the year for valuation of real estate; but the Council believed it to be imperative that an attempt should be made to get information no less exhaustive than complete answers to all the queries would convey; hence the blanks were prepared as indicated. These schedules contain most of the items included in those of the United States census of 1870; and many, notably in reference to agriculture, not to be found in those schedules. No attempt was made to gather statistics of individual wealth, as was done in the federal census. The officer taking the enumeration was also to assess property; and it was believed to be unwise to try to obtain any data for the census that might seem capable of being used for purposes of assessment. There is frequently much difficulty in getting information for a census for fear such use will be made of it; this difficulty is much greater where the assessor is the enumerating officer. Special care on the part of that officer is therefore necessary to prevent the two classes of information being confounded in the minds of persons visited; while the queries were themselves dissociated, as much as possible, from the idea of data for taxation.

Before another census of the State is taken, the Council believes it to be wise to provide that the enumeration should be made by some person other than the assessor, to be selected with a view to his adaptability to the work. The plan of township, town, and city enumerators, however, should be adhered to. There are none too many, now, for expeditious work; and the value of a census is heightened by every day saved in completing it. The enumeration of Great Britain is taken in one day. Such rapidity, although actually more desirable here than there because of the more frequent changes of residence in a new country and hence greater danger of omissions and duplications, is doubtless impracticable with us; but there would seem to be no reason why the enumeration of inhabitants could not be completed in a week. The data in regard to agriculture, manufactures, mines, private schools, &c., could be obtained at more leisure. Protraction here will not affect reliability. It is believed that with an enumerator in each township and town, two or three in each city of the second class, and one for each ward in a city of the first class, and an additional one for every considerable nationality in any neighborhood speaking a foreign tongue, the number of inhabitants and all the statistics of population could be obtained in so short a time as to insure a degree of accuracy far greater than can be hoped for under a census the taking of which is protracted through several months.

While considering the subject of future enumerations, a few more suggestions are deemed pertinent. The census of the United States is taken as of the first of June; that of this State is taken during the winter and spring months, and as of no particular date. Uniformity in the time of year in which these enumerations are taken is important to their statistical value. There is no perceptible advantage in taking our census in the early months of the year, except that derived in the matter of apparent economy from putting the work in the hands of the assessors, and having it done at the same time as the assessment of property. This saving, whatever it may be, is, as has already been intimated, at the expense of correctness. The amount of work required of the assessor in the odd-numbered years when real as well as personal property is to be valued, a list of the militia prepared, and in the larger cities a register of votes made, is enough for one person to do with any likelihood of accuracy. The conflicting character of the work of the assessor and that of the census-taker, before referred to, enhances the danger of inaccuracy. If the suggestion herein made, that the enumeration be taken by a person specially selected for the work, be adopted, the census can then be taken at the same time of year as that of the United States; which would have a tendency, the time being different from that of the assessment, to keep the queries used for the census from being confounded with those designed to obtain data for taxation.

A further improvement in future enumerations, it is believed, would be found in going back to the plan of duplicate returns made direct to the Secretary of State as in the first enumerations of the State. Compilation could then be under one supervision, which, intelligently collecting and grouping the facts direct from the enumerators' findings, could present results much more satisfactorily, and with far less liability to error, than when the officer making such computation has before him only abstracts of the returns, prepared by ninety-nine officers, whose ordinary duties are sufficient, in most of the counties, to occupy their whole time. Central supervision would materially facilitate the correction of errors appearing on the face of returns, because the enumerators could be reached, and explanations obtained, doubtless, in most cases. Most of the efforts of the Secretary of State to correct evident errors in the returns appearing in this book he has been compelled to abandon, because of being met with the answer, "It is just as the assessor reported it." Further the Secretary could not go; and in some cases the county auditors had already tried and failed to get the matter set right. In one county, 910 acres of natural and 10 of planted timber are reported as within the limits of the town containing the county-seat. This density of forest within an incorporated town naturally excited curiosity, which of course was not at all allayed by the discovery that the corporation contained less than three hundred acres, all told! A letter to the county auditor elicited the information that the town assessor had taken it upon himself to include the entire independent district of which the town formed a part, and the smaller territorially, within the field of his labors. Whether the township assessor took the census for his own entire jurisdiction, regardless of the action of the town officer, as it was right he should, does not appear. If he did, the population of the county is of course reported too large; if he did not, the enumerations of the town and township, except as showing the aggregates in both, are worthless. Such evils as this, it is believed, could be reached and remedied under central supervision, invested with proper authority for the purpose, even to requiring new enumerations when apparently needed in any locality.

The attempt to obtain the nativity of the population was not so successful as could be desired; while that to procure a statement of the places of birth of the voters was measurably a failure. It was expected that there would be many whose nativities could not or would not be ascertained, and hence would not be reported. The deficient number would in that case appear in these pages as "Unknown." But, while these deficiencies are much greater than was looked for, there is, in the returns of a large number of the assessors, an actual surplus in the columns of nativities over the whole number of inhabitants; in other words, the number of persons whose birthplaces are reported exceeds that of the whole number of people. This is especially true in the statistics of voters, of which more presently.

Only fourteen counties reported all of whose columns of nativities just balanced the aggregates of population and voters; and this is true of the returns of nativities of every township, town, and ward in those counties. These were: Appanoose, Bremer, Cerro Gordo, Clinton, Dallas, Decatur, Jasper, Madison, Mills, Monona, O'Brien, Polk, Shelby, and Wapello. Besides Cedar, Floyd, Grundy, Lucas, Page, Ringgold, Story, Webster, and Worth send returns whose columns of nativities of population balance, while those in regard to voters are more or less incorrect. In addition to these, the following counties have returns whose statistics of voters appear entirely correct, but whose nativities of population show either surplus or deficiency, viz.: Adair, surplus of one in Jackson township; Black Hawk, deficiency of three in second ward of Cedar Falls; Davis, 3 surplus in town of Bloomfield and 2 in Perry tp., while the nativities of 100 in Lick Creek tp., and 2 in Union tp., are unreported; Emmet, 7 surplus in High Lake, and 8 deficiency in Center and 3 in Peterson townships; Johnson, surplus of 648 in Iowa City, and 100 in Lucas tp., and deficiencies of 89 in Cedar, Hardin, Oxford, Penn, and Sharon tps.; Linn, 102 surplus in Buffalo township and town of Lisbon, and 2 deficiency in Grant township; Marshall, 1 surplus in first ward of Marshalltown, and 85 deficiency in Minerva, Eden, and Vienna townships; and Sioux, with deficiencies, in every township but Rock, Settler, and Sheridan, amounting in all to 276. The township of Union, Carroll county, made no return of nativities of population. Otherwise, the county is correct. The following counties report deficiencies, with no excess in any township: Calhoun, Mahaska, Muscatine (1 in Orono township), and Taylor (300 in Dallas township). Dubuque, Davenport, Des Moines, Keokuk, and Council Bluffs, in short all the larger cities except Burlington, are in this respect correctly returned, the nativities of all the inhabitants being fully reported. Accuracy in these respects, it is needless to say, is indicative of painstaking care by the assessor in the entire enumeration.

In the nativities of voters, some of the assessors seem to have included those of all the population. The column of surplus or deficiency, on pages 351-354 of this book, indicates this. Clayton county, it will be seen, with 5,272 voters, in all, reports nativities for 11,940; Winnesheik, with 4,117 voters, reports nativities for 10,652; Jackson, with 4,901, has birthplaces for 9,787; Boone reports nativities for 4058 more than its entire number of voters; etc.

The only explanation for this large surplus is the one, above suggested, that these figures in some of the townships really embrace the entire population.

These errors make the returns of nativities of voters therefore almost worthless; while those of population are comparatively unreliable. A nominal list of inhabitants offers the only trustworthy plan of obtaining this class of information correctly.

The general statistics of population and agriculture are believed to approximate correctness as closely as could be expected. They afford gratifying evidence of the growth of our State and the steady development of its resources. The returns of manufactures and mines are less satisfactory than could be desired: one would suppose that these statistics ought to be obtained with more ease than any other. Experience, both in our own and the federal census, fails to sustain this view. The Council has heard of more refusals to impart information on these topics than on all the others upon which the assessors sought it. Unfortunately, there is no authority under the law to compel unwilling persons to give such information. Hence it cannot be obtained, unless those best informed and most interested co-operate with the census-taker in preparing the data.

The majority of the Executive Council avail themselves of this opportunity to say that the work of supervising the taking of the census, compiling the immense mass of returns, arranging them in the perspicuous order in which they appear in the book, and preparing them for publication, has been done entirely under the personal supervision of the Secretary of State, who has been solicitous to make the published report, so far as the data at hand would permit, a complete mirror of the facts, concerning the State's population, wealth, and resources; and has spared no pains to this end. He has also caused to be prepared the very valuable lists and tables, not belonging to the Census, it is true, but of such great utility as fully to justify him in following and enlarging upon the practice which for years has assigned them a place in the Census report.

 WILLIAM CHRISTY,

Executive Council.

NOTE.—Since the Errata was printed, some errors have been discovered in Table XIX: "School Statistics;" as follows:—The value of school-houses in Floyd county, on page 517, is given at $999,825, when it should have been $99,982.50. Hamilton county's school-houses, on same page, are valued at $401,135, instead of $40,135, the correct amount. On page 417, the blank line is placed opposite the counties of Muscatine, Osceola, Poweshiek, Ringgold, Story, Taylor, Union, and Van Buren respectively, when it should have been placed in each case one line below. This error makes the statistics on this page, of every county between Montgomery and Wapello in the alphabetical arrangement, appear to be opposite those of the county next below in each case. Bearing this in mind, the statistics in question will be readily traced.

† The classified gross earnings are for eleven months only, while the total includes additional estimated earnings for December at $17,833.16.

‡ Earnings are for six months only, the road having been operated only since July 1, 1874.

{ Gross earnings included in Illinois Central Railroad.

NOTE.—The average gross earnings per mile on mileage of 1873 is $4,138.99, and for 1874, $4,136.56, showing an apparent decrease of $4.29, but really there is an increase as compared with these years, when it is taken into account that the gross earnings of the Des Moines and Minnesota Railroad were only for six months.
