JNO. H. GEAR.

REPORT OF PARDONS, COMMUTATIONS, AND RE-MISSIONS.

PARDONS.

CHARLES DIETRICK. February 20, 1880. Offense, Seduction. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State, at Fort Madison, Feb. 3, 1879, from Des Moines county, for the term of two years. Granted on the strength of an affidavit that the complaining witness would not marry the defendant, but would settle the case for $500. Pardon asked for by Hon. B. J. Hall, Frank Hatton, Theo. Guelich, J. S. Schram, A. Delahaye, and many other prominent citizens of Burlington.

LESLEY BAXTER. February 23, 1880. Offense, larceny. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State, at Fort Madison, November 16, 1878, from Montgomery county, for the term of two years. Granted, to take effect March 10, 1880, being a reduction of six and a half months, at the request of the man from whom the property was stolen, Smith McPherson, District Attorney, Senator Hebard, Hon. Z. T. Fisher, members of the bar of Red Oak, the county officers, and 116 leading citizens of Montgomery county.

TAYLOR MASON. March 12, 1880. Offense, larceny. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State, at Fort Madison, on October 15, 1877, from Des Moines county, for two terms of one and one-half years each. His first term under the sentence expired February 8, 1879. Granted at the request of Hon. T. W. Newman, the trial judge, Hon. A. C. Dodge, and 121 other citizens of Des Moines county, it being a reduction of two months and twenty-one days from his sentence.

LEVI HOON. March 23, 1880. Offense, breaking and entering. Committed to the additional Penitentiary, at Anamosa, November 20, 1878, from Allamakee county, for the term of three years. He has been in prison sixteen months. Judge Noble urges his pardon, and says: "He ought to be pardoned, as he was no more guilty than four or five others. He admitted his own guilt, but the confederates either escaped arrest or conviction on trial. Hoon was the best in the lot, and under the circumstances has been punished enough, and I hope you will pardon him without delay." Granted at the request of Judge Noble, Senator Nielander, Hon. L. R. Fellows, the mayor and city council of Lansing, eight jurors, the county officers, and 61 other citizens of Allamakee county.

EDWARD A. POORMAN. April 2, 1880. Offense, larceny. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State, January 5, 1880, from Polk county, for the term of six months. Granted at the request of Hon. W. H. McHenry, the trial judge, and many other prominent citizens of Polk county.

JAMES CRAIG. April 12, 1880. Offense, manslaughter. Committed to the Additional Penitentiary May 31, 1876, from Dubuque county, for the term of five years. Granted, for good conduct while in prison, thirty-three days before his term would have expired.

WILLIAM RILEY. April 16, 1880. Offense, murder in the first degree. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State October, 7, 1873, from Black Hawk county, for the term of his natural life. Pardoned under the provisions of joint resolution No. 7, of the Acts and Resolutions of the Eighteenth General Assembly.

O. C. KENT. May 24, 1880. Offense, drunkenness. Committed to the jail of Polk county, on May 20, by the Police Court of the city of Des Moines, for the term of thirty days. Granted, on recommendation of Judge Hillis, the trial judge, and at the request of Senator Meyer and many others.

JOHN KILGALLON. May 25, 1880. Offense, larceny. Committed to the Additional Penitentiary March 11, 1879, from Clinton county, for the term of two years. I am satisfied from evidence presented to me that this man did not commit the crime with which he was charged, and that he has been the victim of mistaken identity.

VINCENT HASHEK. June 9, 1880. Offense, larceny. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State August 22, 1878, from Decatur county, for the term of two years and six months. When this man pleaded guilty, it was agreed, as claimed by his counsel, that the sentence was to be only two years. Granted, in accordance with this understanding.

JACKSON FARROW. June 14, 1880. Committed to the county jail of Polk county under a sentence of the police court of the city of Des Moines, for the term of twenty days, for the crime of petit larceny. He stole a paper of hair-pins. I am informed that he is of feeble intellect, the result of epilepsy, and his pardon is urged by the trial judge, Hillis, on this ground, he being unaware of the fact at the time of trial, and also by James Porter, county supervisor.

JOHN M. CARSON. June 15, 1880. Committed to the jail of Buchanan county, on March 30, 1880, under a sentence of the District Court, for a term of one year, and to pay a fine of $100. Granted, for the reason further confinement may permanently impair his health, at the request of Hon. M. W. Harmon and the board of supervisors of Buchanan county.

JAMES BURNS. July 7, 1880. Offense, larceny. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State June 14, 1878, from Polk county, for the term of three years. Pardoned, on the certificate of the prison physician that he has consumption and cannot live but a short time. (He has since died.)

WILLIAM FOX. July 10, 1880. Offense, intoxication. Committed to the jail of Polk county June 25, by the police judge of the city of Des Moines, for the term of thirty days. Granted, on the certificate of the county physician, Dr. J. F. Kennedy, that further confinement will endanger his life, and on recommendation of Judge Hillis, the trial judge.

J. S. CLARK. July 24, 1880. Offense, larceny. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State on September 9, 1879, from Madison county, for the term of one year. He is only a boy, and evidence has been presented to me to the effect that he was led into the crime by others. Granted, in consideration of his youth and previous good character, on recommendation of Judge McHenry and district attorney Smith, and at the request of many of the best citizens of Madison county.

J. JONES. August 2, 1880. Offense, larceny. Committed to the Additional Penitentiary December 2, 1878, from Floyd county, for the term of two years. Pardoned, ten days before his term would have expired, for exceptionally good conduct while in prison.

B. M. LONG. August 11, 1880. Offense, adultery. Committed to the jail of Des Moines county, July 12, 1880, for the term of thirty days. Granted one day before his term would have expired, on payment of the costs of prosecution.

CHARLES SAVOYE. November 30, 1881. Offense, conspiracy. Committed to the Additional Penitentiary, June 25, 1878, from Allamakee county, for the term of three years. Granted, on account of ill health, 72 days before his term would have expired, at the request of Hon. Thomas H. Barnes, H. R., the county officers, nine jurors, and 177 citizens of Allamakee county.

WILLIAM COONFARE. January 6, 1881. Offense, larceny. Committed to the Additional Penitentiary, October 7, 1878, for the term of seven years. His brother, who was convicted of the same offense, was sentenced for two years. I think his sentence was excessive, and that the ends of justice have been met by his imprisonment of over two years. Granted, on the request of Hon. Reuben Noble, Hon. Thomas Updegraff, Hon. Samuel Murdock, Hon. J. T. Stoneman, and over 400 other citizens of Fayette and Clayton counties.

WILLIAM BARNES. January 25, 1881. Offense, disturbing the public quiet. Committed to the jail of Polk county, January 19, by the police court of the city of Des Moines, for the term of sixteen days. This boy is fifteen years old. Granted, on account of his youth, and previous good character, at the request of J. W. Witmer, L. M. Sandford, James Embree, M. K. McFadden, and others, and on the recommendation of W. C. Hillis, the trial judge.

JOHN W. McLAUGHLIN. January 29, 1881. Offense, assault with intent to inflict great bodily injury. Committed to the jail of Boone county, September 26, 1880, by the district court of Boone county, for the term of six months. Granted on the statement of Dr. De Tarr, county physician, who says that McLaughlin is suffering from hemorrhages of the lungs, because of which and the situation of his family the physician believes it would be an act of humanity to release him. The sheriff of the county and the jailor of the prison make affidavit corroborative of Dr. De Tarr's statement. Sixty-one other persons petition for his pardon for similar reasons.

PATRICK COSTELLO. January 29, 1881. Offense, disturbing the public quiet. Committed to the jail of Polk county on January 20, under a sentence of the police court of the city of Des Moines, for the term of fifteen days. Granted, on account of his youth and previous good conduct, at the request of Hon. H. Y. Smith, C. C. Cole, Isaac Brandt, and others, and on the recommendation of police judge Hillis, by whom the sentence was pronounced against him.

WILLIAM H. BROWN. March 7, 1881. Committed to the jail of Pottawattamie county, February 26, 1881, under a sentence of the recorder's court of the city of Council Bluffs, for the term of thirty days for the crime of petit larceny. This man was sentenced for using for fuel some old beerkegs which he understood were worthless. Pardoned at the request of Mrs. Amelia Bloomer, and other citizens of Council Bluffs.

LEWIS GWINN. March 15, 1881. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State, September 1, 1880, under a sentence of the district court of Washington county, for the term of one year, for the crime of burglary. Pardoned on representations made by District-Attorney E. W. Stone, as follows: "I have no hesitancy in affirming that if Lewis Gwinn had not turned State's evidence and stood by the prosecution, it would have been absolutely impossible to have convicted any of the defendants, on either charge, or under either indictment; and I further affirm that, as the attorney for the State on preliminary examination, I gave said Gwinn faithful assurance that by his unfolding the truth, then and thereafter, he would be rewarded with clemency in the sentence he should receive; and these assurances were renewed by me with similar assurances from Mr. Lafferty, district-attorney, and in pursuance thereof, said Gwinn did go before the grand jury and into court, and without reservation, as I believe, spoke the truth, resulting in the conviction as shown by the clerk's certificate."

LEWIS GWINN. March 5, 1881. This man was on the same day pardoned for two similar sentences of one year each, for a similar offense, pronounced November 22, 1878, the same date as the one under which the commitment referred to above was made, and for the same reason.

JAMES FENTON. March 17, 1881. Committed to the jail of Pottawattamie county, in November, 1880, under a sentence of the district court of Carroll county, for the term of six months, for the crime of larceny. Pardoned, on the representation that unless he is released there is danger that he will soon die, at the request of Judge Reed, who writes as follows: "I am assured by the attending physician that longer confinement will probably be the cause of his death, and that immediate discharge from confinement may save his life."

JOHN C. HIGLEY. April 21, 1881. Committed to the Reform School, May 3, 1880, by reason of an order of the judge of the circuit court of Muscatine county, for the term of his minority, for the crime of assault and battery. Representations have been made to me that this conviction was the result of a quarrel among neighbors. As the father of the boy was about to leave Muscatine county and go to the western part of the State, I released him, so that he could accompany his father: at the request of thirty-eight citizens of the village in which he formerly lived, and from which he was sent to the Reform School.

CHARLES SNYDER. May 7, 1881. Sentenced to the Penitentiary of the State, May 5, 1881, by the district court of the county of Polk for the term of thirty days for the crime of forgery. Pardoned on account of the feeble health of the prisoner, as shown by the letter of the district judge, who strongly recommends his pardon.

RICHARD D. ARTHUR. May 7, 1881. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State, December 2, 1872, under a sentence of the district court of Fayette county, for the term of ten years, for the crime of larceny. This person was conditionally pardoned in January, 1877. In a short time, the Governor was satisfied, upon evidence submitted to him, that Arthur had violated the letter of one of the conditions of his pardon, whereupon he issued an order remanding Arthur to the Penitentiary of the State. Subsequently he was brought before the judge of the first district, on a writ of habeas corpus, and was discharged on the ground that "the Governor could not, without notice to the petitioner and without a hearing, determine the conditions broken, and on his warrant imprison in the Penitentiary, and that he could not exercise the judicial functions necessary to determine the question." The Governor and the Attorney-general both deeming this ruling erroneous, an appeal was taken to the Supreme Court, which body on the 19th of April, 1878, rendered its decision, reversing the ruling below on the ground that, the prisoner having accepted pardon on conditions which by their terms made the Governor's judgment conclusive as to the sufficiency of proofs of violation thereof, and which was accompanied by a stipulation that upon such violation the person pardoned should be liable to summary arrest and to confinement in the Penitentiary for the remainder of the term for which he had been sentenced, his legal status became the same as it was before the pardon was granted. I at once issued an order to the sheriff of the county of Winneshiek to arrest and return Arthur to the Penitentiary, whither he was accordingly taken. Since his return to the prison Arthur has behaved himself with entire propriety, and, as he seems to have been sufficiently punished for his crime, I have determined to release him upon the day on which his term would have expired (allowing the statutory diminution for good behavior) had it not been interrupted. Pardon was accordingly issued to take effect July 31, 1881.

WILLIAM P. HOVEY. May 21, 1881. Committed to the Additional Penitentiary, September 15, 1880, under a sentence of the district court of Grundy county for the term of fifteen months for the crime of forgery. Pardoned upon the recommendation of Judge Bagg (the trial judge) and District-Attorney Fouke.

WILLIAM SUFFACCOOL. June 11, 1881. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State, December 15, 1874, under a sentence of the district court of Polk county for the term of eight years for the crime of robbery. This man's term would expire by reason of diminution of sentence for good behavior, in December of the present year. His conduct has been good during his confinement. He has already served six years and a half. His release is urged at this time that he may go to relatives in Nebraska, who promise to aid him with employment. I think his sentence was excessive, and that he has been sufficiently punished, and have therefore released him.

CHARLES MCKENZIE. June 11, 1881. Sentenced to the jail of Woodbury county, November 23, 1880, by the district court of the county of Woodbury, for the term of thirty days for the crime of intoxication. Pardon granted on his own petition, and the recommendation of the district judge. It appeared that he was making a persistent effort at overcoming an evil habit, and it was thought well to give him such encouragement as might be afforded by a remission.

EDDIE HOLLINGSWORTH. July 16, 1881. Committed to the jail of Polk county July 5, instant, under a sentence of the police court of the city of Des Moines, for the term of twenty days, for the offense of petit larceny. He has already been confined eleven days. Pardoned on the recommendation of Schmucker & Loper, the prosecuting witnesses, and at the request of his brother, who promises to cause him to return to his home at St. Joseph, Mo.

GEORGE WILSON. Sept 3, 1881. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State, June 14, 1878, under a sentence of the district court of Des Moines county for the term of seven years for the crime of robbery. This man's continued confinement would be of no further benefit to him in a moral sense. He is by reason of his broken health a constant care and expense. Pardoned at the suggestion of the prison physician, who certifies as follows: "With all the privileges and medical treatment this prison can afford him, he has grown worse and weaker, and is now in a state of health where stimulants only can keep him alive. It is my opinion said prisoner has but a short time to live, and he will not, nor could he if he wanted to, come in contact with the law again."

PETER COYLE. September 9, 1881. Sentenced to the jail of Webster county, on August 27, 1879, by the district court of said county, for the term of six months for the crime of assault with intent to commit great bodily injury. Pardoned at the request of Hon. J. W. McKenzie, trial judge, who says he became convinced after the trial that the offense was nothing like as bad as it appeared on the trial, and who now thinks he has been sufficiently punished.

IRWIN LORENZO. October 13, 1881. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State September 25, 1880, under sentence of the district court of the county of Wapello for the term of two and one-half years, for the crime of burglary. Pardoned at the request of H. B. Hendershott, Samuel Chaney, sheriff, Hon. E. H. Stiles, and Hon. E. L. Burton, trial judge, who says that, while Lorenzo was guilty of entering the building, he has received information since the trial that convinces him that he did not do so for the purpose of committing the crime charged, and that if this evidence had been presented at the trial it would have altered the whole case.

GEORGE W. DILLON. December 10, 1881. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State May 22, 1877, under a sentence of the district court of Polk county for the term of ten years, for the crime of burglary. While this man has been beyond all question a bad man, yet I am clearly satisfied from evidence presented to me, and not produced at the trial, that he was not guilty of the crime charged. Affidavits on file in this office show that the crime was committed by other parties. Pardoned to take effect January 1, 1882.

JAMES NORMAN. December 20, 1881. Committed to the Additional Penitentiary April 27, 1878, under a sentence of the district court of Linn county, for the term of five years, for the crime of larceny. Pardoned, to take effect January 7, 1882, for general good conduct while in prison, and for work done in plastering the new cell-house: a reduction of six months from his sentence.

CONDITIONAL PARDONS.

W. F. THOMAS. January 26, 1880. Committed to the Additional Penitentiary December 26, 1879, under a sentence of the district court of Jones county, for the term of six months, for the crime of larceny. Pardoned, on condition that he will henceforth abstain from the use of intoxicating beverages, at the request of Hon. John Russell, and 199 other citizens of Jones county.

JOHN RYAN. February 28, 1880. Committed to the Additional Penitentiary May 11, 1875, under a sentence of the district court of Cedar county, for the term of eight years, for manslaughter. Pardon granted to take effect May 11, 1880, being a service of five years, and, with allowance for his good time earned, a reduction from his sentence of two years, two months, and ten days. Granted on the recommendation of Judge J. H. Rothrock, the trial judge; Milo P. Smith, prosecuting attorney; ten of the trial jury, Hon. H. C. Carr, Wolf & Landt, of Cedar county, and the officers of Cedar county, the county officers of Iowa county, Senator John Russell, of Jones county; Michael Horrigan, the brother of the man who was killed, and many others, on condition that he will abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors as a beverage.

S. FRANK PENNELL. April 12, 1880. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State December 12, 1876, under a sentence of the district court of Polk county, for the term of five years, for the crime of larceny. Has served three years and one-half. Pardoned, upon condition that he shall entirely abstain from the use of intoxicating drinks, and lead an honest and orderly life, at the request of Gov.

Kirkwood, Hon. Samuel McNutt, county officers of Polk county, and a large number of citizens of Polk and Muscatine counties.

GEORGE P. CURRAN. May 11, 1880. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State May 21, 1879, under a sentence of the district court of Polk county, for the term of two years, for the crime of seduction. Pardoned, to take effect May 21, 1880, on condition that he will lead an orderly life, at the request of seven of the trial jurors, one hundred and ten ladies, and three hundred and eighty-two other citizens of Polk county.

JOHN PLOPPER. July 19, 1880. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State, June 12, 1875, under a sentence of the district court of Boone county for the term of ten years for the crime of rape. This man was convicted with two others, David Laub and Thomas McCoy, at the May term, 1875, of the district court of the county of Boone. Petitions for his pardon were signed by the sheriff and clerk of the county, Hon. Jackson Orr, Hon. C. J. A. Erickson, Rev. B. F. W. Cozier, pastor of M. E. church, John M. Brainard, (editor Standard,) A. Downing, (editor of Boone Republican,) J. Hoonstein, (editor Democrat,) seven of the jurors, Justice W. D. Templin (who bound him over to appear at court), E. P. Dutton, justice of the peace, D. F. Goodykootz, county supervisor, A. R. Everett, justice of the peace, and four hundred and eighty-three other residents and citizens of the city and county of Boone. While I had no doubt whatever of the guilt of this man, yet I was persuaded that in view of youth and previous good character, as well as his behavior subsequent to incarceration, he had been punished sufficiently for the law's vindication. Pardoned, to take effect August 12, 1880, on condition that he should deport himself as a good citizen, and should entirely abstain from the use of intoxicating beverages.

THOMAS MCCOY. July 19, 1880. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State, June 12, 1875, under a sentence of the district court of Boone county, for the term of twelve years, for the crime of rape. This man's petition was signed by six hundred and six residents of Boone county. As in the case of Plopper, I had no doubt of this man's guilt, but in view of the condition of his health, and of his good conduct while in prison, and my belief that he, in common with his associates in the offense, had been sufficiently punished for the law's vindication, pardon is granted, to take effect January 11, 1881, on condition that he shall deport himself as a good citizen, and entirely abstain from the use of intoxicating beverages.

FRANK TERONGO. July 24, 1880. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State, March 5, 1880, under a sentence of the district court of Boone county, for the term of three years, for the crime of larceny from a building in the night time. This man has paralysis of the lower limbs, also heart disease, and is perfectly helpless and a constant care to the attendants of the prison. He has relatives who are competent and willing to take charge of him. Pardoned on condition that he depart from the State and remain permanently beyond its jurisdiction.

SAMUEL J. WALTON. August 20, 1880. Committed to the county jail of Buchanan county, under a sentence of the district court of Buchanan county, dated March 30, 1880, for the term of eight months for the crime of arson. Pardoned, on condition that he pay the fine and costs adjudged against him, at the request of the county supervisors, county officers, Hon. Isaac Muncey, H. R. Senator Harmon, and many other citizens of Buchanan county.

JOHN CHANEY. September 21, 1880. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State February 13, 1875, under a sentence of the district court of Wapello county for the term of ten years, for the crime of murder. The crime was committed in a drunken row, in which Chaney was a participant, and while he was under the influence of liquor. Pardoned on condition that he shall permanently abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors as a beverage, to take effect October 1, 1880, at the request of Hon. F. M. Epperson, and Hon. J. G. Hutchison, H. R., District Judge Burton, and many of the leading citizens of Wapello county.

JOHN W. DUNN. September 25, 1880. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State May 11, 1880, under a sentence of the district court of Page county for the term of one year, for the crime of seduction. This man is in failing health. Pardoned at the request of Senator Lewellyn, the county officers, and two hundred and fifty-four other citizens of Page county, on condition of the payment of costs of prosecution within six months.

JOHN GARRITT. October 11, 1880. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State March 2, 1878, under a sentence of the district court of Des Moines county for a term of six years, for the crime of robbery. I am of the opinion that the sentence of the court was excessive. Pardoned on condition that he shall remove from the State and hereafter remain beyond its jurisdiction.

AUGUST TERSCH. December 1, 1880. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State January 31, 1880, under a sentence of the district court of Shelby county for the term of two years, for the crime of assault with intent to commit manslaughter. Pardoned, on the certificate of the surgeon of the prison that he has heart disease, and is also suffering from mental depression, and that if he is not soon removed from the prison he will probably die; on condition that he shall abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors. Pardon asked for by Hon. Platt Wicks, H. R., and other citizens of Shelby county.

JOHN SMITH. December 2, 1880. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State, January 12, 1880, under a sentence of the district court of Mahaska county for the term of three years for the crime of robbery. In my opinion the sentence was excessive. Pardoned, to take effect January 11, proximo, on condition that he shall totally abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors, at the request of Hon. M. E. Cutts, the county officers, and a large number of the citizens of Mahaska county.

FRANK NEWTON. December 16, 1880. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State, December 13, 1880, under a sentence of the district court of Polk county, for the term of nine months for the crime of larceny. This man lay in jail for nearly a year before his trial and commitment to the Penitentiary, and in my opinion he has been sufficiently punished. Pardon granted on condition that he shall hereafter abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors as a beverage, and at the request of District Attorney Conner and the county officers of Polk county.

FRANK MOODY. February 21, 1881. Committed to the jail of Polk county on the 12th day of February instant, under a sentence of the police court of the city of Des Moines, for the term of thirty days for drunkenness. Pardoned on promise of reformation, and on condition that he shall totally abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors, at the request of the sheriff, the deputy auditor of the county, and nine other citizens of Des Moines.

ANDY MALONE, February 24, 1881. Committed to the jail of Polk county, February 19, 1881, under a sentence of the police court of the city of Des Moines, for the term of thirty days for intoxication. Pardoned at the request of J. H. Windsor, and the county officers of Polk county, who represents that he will immediately leave the city, having engaged to work for one of the petitioners in the country. Granted on condition that he abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors.

J. H. NELSON. March 16, 1881. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State, May 22, 1877, under a sentence of the district court of Polk county, for a term of six years for the crime of larceny. Sentence commuted to four years and nine months, on condition that he abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors, on recommendation of George Lendrum and the Warden of the prison, who certifies to his exceptionally good conduct.

E. G. JACKSON. March 17, 1881. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State, June 27, 1878, under a sentence of the district court of Polk county for the term of five years for the crime of forgery. I think his sentence was excessive, and that he has been sufficiently punished. Pardoned, on condition that he shall abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors, at the request of Hon. Geo. F. Wright, Hon. J. A. Elliott, Hon. A. R. Anderson, Rev. George Wright, and many citizens of Polk and Pottowattamie counties. E. G. Jackson, March 17, 1881, was on the same day pardoned from a similar sentence of five years, for a similar offense, pronounced at the same date as the one under which the commitment referred to above was made, and for the same reasons.

EBENEZER F. YEATON. March 17, 1881. Committed to the Reform School, September 12, 1880, under an order of the judge of the circuit court of Washington county for the term of his minority, for the crime of larceny. Pardoned on application of his father, and on recommendation of Hon. L. C. Blanchard, who as circuit judge had sent the boy to the Reform School, it being represented that he was led into this, his first crime, by others, and that his detention was seriously impairing his mother's health, and that it would be for the good of all concerned that he be released.

WILLIAM E. WART. April 6, 1881. Committed to the Additional Penitentiary May 29, 1878, under a sentence of the district court of Buena Vista county, for the term of five years, for the crime of arson. In this case Wart had a confederate who turned State's evidence. Wart was convicted, and his confederate, who was equally guilty, went free. It has been represented to me by persons acquainted with the case, among whom was Hon. L. H. Gordon, the owner of the building, that in their judgment the testimony of this confederate was not to be relied on, and that Wart was wrongly convicted. Pardoned, on condition that he shall hereafter entirely abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors as a beverage, at the request of 292 citizens of Buena Vista county, among whom are the county officers and many of the best citizens of the county. Pardon to take effect May 30, 1881, being a reduction from his sentence of two years.

EDWARD MCGUIRE. April 29, 1881. Committed to the Additional Penitentiary June 14, 1878, under a sentence of the district court of Grundy county, for the term of ten years, for the crime of murder in the second degree. This crime was committed in a saloon during a drunken row. There were four persons indicted. One was punished by imprisonment for 30 days, and one 90 days; one man ran away and forfeited his bail and McGuire was sentenced to the Penitentiary for ten years. From evidence disclosed subsequent to the trial, I am of the opinion that the murder was not committed by McGuire. This is also the opinion, as expressed to me of Hon. L. D. Tracy, F. G. Moffatt, Hon. A. J. Stout, H. R., and others, who were conversant with the facts in the case. Pardoned, on condition that he shall not frequent places where intoxicating beverages are sold, and that he shall not use intoxicating beverages of any character, including ale, wine, and beer, on the recommendation of Judge Bagg, and many others.

JAMES CALLAHAN. May 2, 1881. Committed to the jail of Polk county, April 25, 1881, under a sentence of a justice's court in Polk county, for the term of thirty days, for intoxication. Pardoned, on condition that he shall at no time in the future become intoxicated, on the recommendation of the trial justice, who thinks he has been sufficiently punished.

THOMAS MALLOY. May 31, 1881. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State, July 19, 1875, under a sentence of the district court of Jefferson county, for the term of ten years, for the crime of murder in the second degree. The crime for which this man was convicted was committed in a drunken row, in which there were many persons engaged, and while Malloy was under the influence of liquor. It is the opinion of a large number of the citizens of Ottumwa (where the crime was committed) that he was no more guilty than others who escaped all punishment. He has been in prison six years, and his health is failing. Pardoned, on condition that he shall hereafter entirely abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors, at the request of Gen. J. M. Hedrick, Hon. J. H. Merrill, Hon. J. G. Hatchison, H. R., Judge E. L. Burton (district judge), the county officers of Wapello county, and a large number of the leading citizens of Ottumwa.

CHARLES E. BOMM. June 23, 1881. Committed to the jail of Polk county, June 13, inst., under a sentence of the police court of the city of Des Moines, for the term of thirty days, for the offense of intoxication. This man is a commercial traveler. It is urged that if he be confined until the expiration of his sentence he will lose his position. The justice before whom he was tried recommends his release. Pardoned, on condition that he immediately leave the city of Des Moines.

JOSEPH COX. August 15, 1881. Committed to the jail of Polk county, August 1, inst., under a sentence of the police court of the city of Des Moines, for thirty days, for the offense of drunkenness. Pardoned, because he is quite ill and cannot properly be treated while in jail, on condition that he shall for at least one year abstain from the use of intoxicating beverages, and at the request of the county auditor, deputy treasurer, sheriff and two deputies, and city marshal, and consented to by police justice.

JOHN HOLLERAN. August 22, 1881. Committed to the jail of Polk county, August 12, inst., under a sentence of the police court of the city of Des Moines, for the term of thirty days, for the offense of intoxication. It is represented to me that Holleran's wife is in poor health, and entirely dependent on his labor for the support of herself and child, and that when not under the influence of liquor he is a hard-working man. Pardoned, on condition that he shall abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors, at the request of Hoyt Sherman, Thomas Cavanagh, George Sneer, and others.

JAMES REYNOLDS. August 31, 1881. Committed to the jail of Polk county, August 22, inst., under a sentence of the police court of the city of Des Moines, for the term of thirty days, for the crime of intoxication. Pardoned, at the request of Rev. John F. Brazil, V. G., Mr. Charles S. Painter, and Dr. E. J. McGorrick, and on representation that his widowed mother, advanced in years and whose sole dependence he is, needs his support, and on condition that he shall abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors. Pardon to take effect September 6, inst.

JAMES REYNOLDS. August 31, 1881. Sentenced to jail of Polk county, August 22, instant, by the police court of the city of Des Moines for the term of three days for the crime of assault and battery. Reasons for pardon, and conditions, same as preceding case.

WILLIAM KELLEY. December 1, 1881. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State, December 8, 1871, under a sentence of the district court of Lee county, for the term of fifteen years, for the crime of murder in the second degree. This man has been in prison ten years. While I do not think his punishment too severe, yet his health is entirely broken down as is certified to me by the prison surgeon. The latter says he is afflicted with fits, and is also suffering with affections of the lungs and heart; and, moreover, the Warden thinks he has been sufficiently punished, and a large number of the leading citizens of Fort Madison who have known him for many years join in the request for his pardon. I have accordingly pardoned him, to take effect December 25th instant, on condition that he shall lead a sober life and abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors.

W. W. VAN SCHAICK. December 3, 1881. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State, August 21, 1877, under a sentence of the district court of Decatur county for the term of six years, for the crime of breaking and entering. Pardoned solely because it is represented to me by the physician of the Penitentiary that in his judgment insanity would be the consequence of much longer confinement. Total abstinence from intoxicating liquors is required as a condition of this man's continued liberty.

JAMES MONTGOMERY. December 6th, 1881. Sentenced to the jail of Polk county November 30th, ultimo, for the term of 30 days, for the offense of intoxication. It is represented to me by Justice W. J. Kline and Dr. I. A. Hamner, county physician, that Montgomery is a good workman, and, except for an unfortunate habit of becoming intoxicated, an orderly citizen, and the police judge recommends that he be pardoned on condition of leaving the city in twenty-four hours, which I have accordingly granted.

WILLIAM LUNGER. Convicted of the crime of assault and rape, at the October term of the district court of Benton county, 1875, and sentenced to the Anamosa Penitentiary for life. From a statement made by Albina Lunger, the alleged victim of Lunger's crime, when on her death bed, to the effect that he did not commit the crime of rape, and from representations made by physicians that in their opinion no such crime was committed upon her, I have become satisfied that this man is not guilty of the graver offense charged against him, and that he has been sufficiently punished for the alleged assault. Pardon is asked for by nine members of the grand jury, and a majority of the county officers of Butler county; also petition signed by many respectable citizens. Pardoned, on condition that he shall lead a sober and industrious life, and shall conduct himself as a law-abiding citizen.

COMMUTATIONS.

WILLIAM LINDSAY. February 23, 1880. Sentenced to the Penitentiary of the State February 5, 1880, by the district court of Scott county, for the term of six months for the crime of larceny from the person. Commuted to imprisonment in the Scott county jail at the request of Judge Walter I. Hayes, the grand jury who found the indictment, Hon. Wm. Foster, State Senator, and others.

CHARLES MADDEN. July 24, 1880. Committed to the Additional Penitentiary June 10, 1879, under a sentence of the district court of Boone county, for the term of three years, for the crime of forgery. Sentence commuted to eighteen months, on the recommendation of Judge McKenzie, the trial judge, and District-Attorney Stevens, at the request of 152 citizens of Boone county.

CHESTER S. OSBORN. September 11, 1880. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State, September 20, 1878, under a sentence of the district court of Madison county, for the term of three years, for the crime of uttering a forged note. I think the sentence was excessive. His health has been poor since his commitment to the Penitentiary, and it is claimed there is danger that it may become permanently impaired if he is confined for the whole term. Committed to two years and four months, at the request of many citizens of Madison county.

A. H. LOUDERMILK. November 1, 1880. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State, April 2, 1879, under a sentence of the district court of Guthrie county, for the term of three years, for the crime of seduction. Committed to twenty-two months, on condition that he shall abstain from the use of intoxicating beverages, at the request of 546 of the citizens of Guthrie county.

JAMES M. BROWN. November 17, 1880. Sentenced to the Penitentiary of the State, by the district court of Dallas county, at the October term thereof, for the term of ten days, for the crime of forgery. Committed so that he shall, instead, be committed to the jail of Dallas county for the term of ten days, so as to save Dallas county the expense of sending him to the Penitentiary, and the State the expense of returning him to Dallas county after the expiration of his sentence.

CHARLES W. WINNER. May 16, 1881. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State, January 11, 1877, under sentence of the district court of Montgomery county, for the term of six years and a half, for the crime of assault with intent to commit murder. Hon. Smith McPherson, the district attorney who prosecuted him, is of the opinion that his sentence was excessive, and on his advice I have commuted it to five years and a half.

GEORGE HAWKINS. June 14, 1881. Committed to the Additional Penitentiary, May 18, 1877, under a sentence of the district court of Cedar county, for the term of ten years, for the crime of burglary. Hon. John Shane, the trial judge, says he is inclined strongly to an opinion, entertained, as he is informed, by many of the best people of Cedar county, that this man was the victim of false swearing. Committed to five years, at the request of 195 of the best citizens of Cedar county, on condition that he shall totally abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors.

GEORGE W. NEAL. July 18, 1881. Committed to the Additional Penitentiary, September 17, 1877, under a sentence of the district court of Iowa county, for the term of seven years, for the crime of burglary. This man has, during his imprisonment, become entirely blind in one eye, and is threatened with loss of sight in the other. I think his sentence was excessive, and in consideration of the punishment he has already undergone, and his physical condition, have commuted his sentence to four years, on the recommendation of Hon. John Shane, district judge, Hon. M. P. Smith, district attorney, Hon. J. N. W. Rumble, and others; the commutation to take effect September 16, proximo.

T. C. PHELPS. July 30, 1881. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State, November 23, 1880, under a sentence of the district court of Polk county for the term of one year for the crime of embezzlement. Committed to eleven months, in consideration of his good conduct while in confinement, at the request of P. H. Bristow, deputy auditor of Polk county, and other friends of the prisoner.

JACK TIERNEY. August 23, 1881. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State, March 2, 1878, under a sentence of the district court of Des Moines county for the term of six years, for the crime of robbery. Committed, to take effect September 15, next, at the request of Hon. T. W. Newman, who thinks he has been sufficiently punished.

GENERAL HOUSTON. October 24, 1881. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State, September 11, 1876, under a sentence of the district court of Muscatine county for the term of twenty-five years, for murder in the second degree. Committed to eight years. The district judge says that in his opinion "there was no warrant for a verdict as rendered," and that the sentence should be reduced. The reduction of sentence is also urged by Senator W. A. Foster, Hon. John W. Green, Richardson Bros., J. A. LeClaire, county recorder, and Harvey Leonard, sheriff, Dr. C. O. Baker, Hon. John C. Bills, Hon. J. Scott Richman, Ed. Russell, and many other citizens of Scott county, as well as Mr. Timothy Brown, of Marshalltown.

HALLET EDWARDS. November 30, 1881. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State, June 21, 1880, under a sentence of the district court of Jasper county, for the term of four years, for the crime of burglary. Hon. J. C. Cook, the trial judge, urges his pardon on the ground that he is now of the opinion that he gave him too severe a sentence. District Attorney Stone thinks there is some doubt of his guilt of the offense charged. Committed to two years at the request of Hon. F. T. Campbell, and many other citizens of Jasper county.

WILSON MYLER. December 1, 1881. Committed to the Penitentiary of the State, November 13, 1876, under a sentence of the district court of Louisa county, for the term of eight years, for the crime of rape. Hon. T. W. Newman, the trial judge, urges his pardon, also Hon. Francis Springer, and one hundred and three others, some of them on the ground that there are grave doubts of his guilt. Sentence commuted to six years and four months.

HENRY DURSTON. December 20, 1881. Committed to the Additional Penitentiary, March 21, 1879, under a sentence of the district court of Buchanan county, for the term of ten years, for the crime of forgery. This man was convicted of forgery, the paper forged being a note for $18. I consider the sentence excessive, and have therefore commuted his term to six years.

ALPHONSO EATON. January 9, 1882. Convicted at the February (1876) term of the district court of Lee county of murder in the second degree, and sentenced to ten years in the Penitentiary. Commuted to seven years on the certificates of Drs. Angear and Hoffmeister, prison surgeons, that his health is failing, and that further confinement will shorten his life; also at the suggestion of Hon. T. W. Newman, trial judge, and Ex-District Attorney D. N. Sprague, also Hon. H. W. Rothert, S. M. Clark, Hon. G. W. McCrary, Hon. John N. Irwin, and many other citizens of Keokuk. Commutation conditioned that he shall abstain from the use of beer and other intoxicating drinks, and lead a sober and industrious life.

AUGUST SCHNEUTTGEN. January 11, 1882. Convicted of manslaughter at the August term, 1879, of the district court of Shelby county, and sentenced to the Penitentiary for five years. WILLIAM HENNESSEY. January 11, 1882. Convicted at the May term, 1880, of the district court of Allamakee county, and sentenced for twenty years, for the crime of arson. Commuted to ten years, at the request of 422 citizens of Allamakee county, and on the representation of Senator Nielander and Hon. W. D. Earl, that in their opinion the sentence was excessive, in which I concur.

Sentenced to the Additional Penitentiary at the August, 1878, term of the district court of Iowa county, for the term of one year, for the crime of feloniously uttering and publishing a false, forged, and counterfeit promissory note. Execution of sentence suspended until the first day of May, 1880, for the reason that at the present time he is so prostrated with illness that he cannot be removed to the Penitentiary without imperiling his life.

E. W. KAUFFMAN. May 3, 1880. Same as preceding. Sentence suspended until November 1, 1880, for the reason that it has been represented to me by trustworthy parties that he is still suffering from severe illness, and that the execution of the sentence of the court at this time would endanger his life.

Convicted, of the crime of attempt to commit manslaughter, at the March, 1878, term of the district court of Washington county, on change of venue from Jefferson county, and sentenced to the Penitentiary of the State for the term of two years.
