Friday Forum for July

June 2 10:00-11:00

Sorry for the short notice on this one! The month of June completely got away from me. We are back to our normal day, time and place for our monthly conversation. This is your chance to talk to fellow library directors about whatever is on your mind. This informal conversation takes place via Zoom on the first Friday of every month and is a place to share your concerns and talk about your successes-a place to learn from each other.

See you in Zoom on Friday-link below.

I hope your summer got off to a great start! Things are really picking up here in the office, and it looks like your libraries are hopping places, too. I try to keep up with everyone on Facebook and I've been seeing lots of fun things taking place libraries all across the region.

Just a reminder to get your application in for the ARPA grant, it is due this Friday, July 2. These are fast and easy, call if you have any questions. I'd love to see more Southeast libraries take advantage of this available money! Call if you need help thinking of ideas of how to use it or for help putting the grant together.
