REPORT OF IOWA LIBRARY COMMISSION

MEMBERSHIP

The only change which has taken place in the membership of the Iowa Library Commission, during the past two years, was the retirement of Miss Martha McClure of Mt. Pleasant in July, 1929, and the appointment of Mrs. D. S. Humeston, a member of the library board of Albia.

OFFICE STAFF

The changes which have taken place on the office staff are the resignation of Dagny Borge in September, 1929, the temporary employment of Ruth Shearer as general assistant, and of Rosalia Kelly as the Secretary's stenographer in place of Elsie Riley, who resigned in September, 1928.

According to a change of law, made by the last legislature, two clerks for shipping and janitor work are employed for full time instead of one full time and two half time boys. This has proved advantageous to Traveling Library and office work.

LIBRARY CONDITIONS IN IOWA

Library Beginnings. The time has come when the number of libraries becoming tax supported is not a matter for congratulation, inasmuch as many are in towns too small to adequately support libraries, and the communities could be much more efficiently served by branches of county libraries. With a change in the state law to include towns without libraries in the county contract, and with a county library in many more counties, we trust that the number of such small libraries will be diminished and this will certainly give better library service to these small towns.

The towns securing tax support for public libraries during the biennium, include Allison in Butler County with a population of 540; Burt, Kossuth County, 575; Creston, Union County, 8,160; Gowrie, Webster County, 944; Sioux Rapids, Buena Vista County, 936; Titonka, Kossuth County, 445; Wapello, Louisa County, 1,415; West Union, Fayette County, 1,801.

Of these, Creston has long been the largest town in the state without a public library, and Union County one of the counties without such library service. Creston is sufficiently large to adequately support a library, and the establishment of one is gratifying. The only county now without a tax supported library is Van Buren.

There are only four towns in the state with a population over 2,500 without a public library: Belle Plaine, 3,595; Bettendorf, 2,503; Mystic, 2,816; Valley Junction, 4,334; according to the state census of 1925. These might adequately support libraries, but in smaller towns a support necessary to make possible efficient service is questionable.

Association Libraries. The desire for a community book supply is being manifest in many small towns where a library beginning is generally made with a library sponsored by a club or library association, and supported by membership dues, donations, and other precarious means of support.

Some of these libraries lapse in the course of time, others become tax supported as indicated above, and the two hundred or three hundred dollars coming from the city without effort seems a large amount to the weary women who have labored to maintain the library on less money, and often uncertain of any. But even the maximum of the five mills allowed by law, or the $1.00 per capita, considered reasonable for library support by the American Library Association, is insufficient in a small town to pay for books, the salary of a competent librarian, heat, light, and other necessary expenses, and seldom is the full amount given.

Library Buildings. There has been considerable activity in library buildings recently.

One at Oelwein, erected by tax at a cost of $35,000, was dedicated on October, 1929.

At Fort Dodge a second story was added to the library building at a cost of $37,250 also by tax.

Other towns of Iowa have been fortunate in the matter of gifts for library buildings and additions.

A gift amounting to about $10,000 for an addition to the building at Albia was made by ex-Governor Kendall.

Coe College at Cedar Rapids has received a gift of $200,000 for a library building from Col. R. W. Stewart, of Chicago in memory of his father and mother, William and Elizabeth Stewart.

At Corning $10,000 was given by Mrs. Laura Okey in memory of her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Turner, both of whom were former members of the library board.

At Creston the $25,000 gift of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Phillips for a library building is only being used this year.

At Greene, Mr. C. M. Mather purchased the building of a defunct bank and remodeled it for library purposes, and presented it to the library in memory of his wife, the total cost being $8,000.

Gifts were made for furniture, books, etc. by members of the Greene family.

At Parkersburg an old mansion was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Pfeifer of New York City, former residents of Parkersburg, and presented to the city as a community and club house. The library will occupy the entire first floor of this building.

At St. Ansgar the little building erected with the gift of Mrs. Karen Nissen was destroyed in September, 1929, by an explosion in an adjacent filling station, but the oil company has paid enough for the lot to enable the city to rebuild in a different location.

At Sioux City two branch buildings were erected during the past two years, making four branch library buildings of the Sioux City Public Library system, which have been completed with money from the $100,000 bond issue voted in 1926.

The little library at West Branch received an anonymous gift of $2,000 for a much needed addition.

Gifts. In addition to the gifts for buildings, the following gifts have been received by libraries, but not yet used for buildings or additions, and for the purchase of books, etc.

Bedford—$1,000 from Hon. Sam Park, Vice-Consul in France, for books.

Belle Plaine—$10,000 by the will of Samuel Hart of Los Angeles, without conditions.

Clarion—$1,000 from Dr. J. W. Garth of Beaumont, Texas.
Coe College at Cedar Rapids, and Penn College at Oskaloosa have each received from the Carnegie Corporation, the assurance of $2,000 each year for five years, for the purchase of books.

Harlan—$2,000 from Mrs. Mary Steitsman for books.
Mt. Pleasant—$2,000 from Mrs. Elizabeth G. Rhoades for books.
Newton—$200.00 in 1929 and $500.00 in 1930 from Mrs. Dena Maytag for books.

Peterson—A 200 acre farm from Mrs. Laura French when sold the proceeds to be used for a library building and endowment.

Red Oak—$1,000 from Mrs. Mary Windle.
Sioux City—The annual interest of $500.00 from Mrs. Hattie K. Cooper for magazines.

Stuart—$10,000 from the sale of a farm for an addition to the library building.

Smaller amounts and gifts of books have been received by many other libraries.

COUNTY LIBRARIES

"With paved roads and easier means of communication in this state, I believe that the efficient library of the future will consist of a county library system with one large collection of books, somewhere in the county, and with branches scattered throughout the county. This system will mean that every resident in the county can have available for use any book in the county."

The above endorsement of county libraries by Governor Hammill not only defines and describes them, but furnishes so excellent an argument for their establishment that no further argument need be offered.

One county, Hardin, has had county-wide service to the rural schools for three years, and a similar service will be undertaken in Page County with the opening of the schools in the fall of 1930.

But in neither county can there be said to be a county library, according to the accepted term, as the distribution of books to the rural schools in Hardin County is divided between libraries at Alden, Eldora, and Iowa Falls, and in Page County, the books will be distributed from the libraries at Clarinda and Shenandoah.

The defect in the present county library law in extending such service to the population outside the cities and towns only, is evident in both counties where the schools in the towns are omitted from the county book service. An amendment to this law, excepting only the towns with public libraries, was sought from the last legislature, and will be requested again at the coming session.

The law allows extension of library privileges to outside towns and townships, by separate contract, and this has been taken advantage of in a number of places. A report of this extension work follows:

*The three libraries supply the rural population of Hardin County.
 †These will libraries serve the rural population of Page County.

THE BLACK HAWK COUNTY DEMONSTRATION

In order to show what a real county library can do in the supply of books throughout a county, the Iowa Library Association is planning a demonstration in Black Hawk County during the year, beginning September 1st.

A preliminary survey of the counties of the state to show the interest on the part of county organizations and departments such as the Women's Club, Parent Teachers' Association, Farm Bureau, County Superintendent of School, Library Board, and the librarian, in such book service, and the road conditions was made, and Black Hawk County seemed to be the best fitted for this experiment.

The Women's Clubs of the state were asked to assist in the collection of books, and about 3,000 books have been donated and the number will be further increased.

In the interest of publicity for county libraries, and because library extension is one of the activities of the Library Commission, the commission has agreed to loan 1,000 books and to concentrate the service of the organizer in that county. The Iowa Library Association is further financing the experiment from its funds.

At the end of the year, or when the value of such service shall have been thoroughly demonstrated, the service will be withdrawn with the idea that the people of the county, having learned the value of accessible books, will be loath to lose them and will take steps to secure the one mill levy, which will insure the continuance of the service.

SCHOOL LIBRARIES

With appreciation of the value of books on the part of the Department of Public Instruction, interest in school libraries is increasing. The small amount allowed by law for such libraries is far from adequate, and the schools await the coming of county libraries for the supply of books needed for their work.

Many rural and small town schools use the Traveling Library, but the resources of this department are far too small to fill their needs.

Libraries exist in the larger town and high schools, but often these are poorly selected, unorganized, and not administered for the best use of the books.

LIBRARY MEETINGS

The meeting of the Iowa Library Association in 1928 was held in October in Marshalltown, and in 1929 in the same month in Des Moines.

In 1930 the Iowa Library Association will join the neighboring states of Wisconsin, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota, and South Dakota, in a meeting to be held in St. Paul in October.

The eight district meetings for 1929 were held at Osceola, Dunlap, Nevada, Eagle Grove, Cherokee, Independence, Sigourney, and Muscatine. The seven for 1930 were held at Albia, Clarinda, Maquoketa, Oelwein, Sioux City, Britt, and Boone.

A two days Conference for Librarians was held by the Extension Department of the State University of Iowa in 1929, and a one day Conference in 1930, with speakers from the University faculty and elsewhere, on library and kindred subjects.

The Library Section of the State Teacher's Association held meetings during the State Teacher's Association gatherings each year, with discussions of school library topics by librarians and others.

The American Library Association Conferences in Washington,

D. C. in 1929, and Los Angeles, California in 1930, were attended by Miss Robinson.

SUMMER LIBRARY SCHOOL

The removal of the earlier conditions of admission to the Iowa Library Summer School has increased the attendance, which in 1929 numbered 55, 38 being from Iowa, with the following number from other states. Alabama, Illinois, Nevada, Ohio, South Dakota, Indiana, Kansas, and Texas each 1, and Minnesota, Missouri, and Nebraska each 3.

In 1930 the enrollment was 51, 29 being from Iowa, the balance being divided among other states as follows, Alabama, Indiana, Kansas, Louisiana, Minnesota, Missouri, North Dakota, and Ohio each 1, South Dakota 2, Illinois 5, and Nebraska 7.

University credits are now given for the various courses, and no certificate for completion of any course.

LYDIA ROBERTS SCHOLARSHIP

The opening of the Columbia University School of Library Service, gave to Iowa librarians an opportunity to receive the benefit of the Lydia Roberts graduate scholarship, grants of which were made in 1927 to Catherine Condon of the Des Moines Public Library, a graduate of St. Joseph's College at Dubuque; Alice Gay of the State University Library, a graduate of the State University of Iowa, and Faye Collicott of Indianola, a graduate of Simpson College, Indianola.

In 1928 scholarships were granted to Lucile M. Morsch, Bertha M. Frick, and Lester M. Minkel, graduates of the State University of Iowa, and to Mary Dietrich, a graduate of Grinnell College.

The scholarships granted in 1929 were a second year to Lucile M. Morsch that she might complete the work for her degree of Master of Library Science, and for one year to Robert A. Miller, a graduate of the State University of Iowa, and Inez L. Henely, a graduate of Grinnell College.

Of the ten scholarships granted to date, four librarians had been members of the Iowa Library Summer School.

The conditions required are birth in Iowa, graduation from an Iowa College, and a promise to return to Iowa for two years of library work.

EXHIBITS

The Library Commission State Fair exhibit was returned to the Women and Children's building for 1929 and will be in the same building for 1930.

Nineteen twenty-nine being the Diamond Jubilee celebration of the State Fair, the exhibit included early children's and school books, magazines, and historical material under the heading "Books and Pioneers."

The Library Commission also had an exhibit at the Farm and Home Exposition, held at the Shrine Temple in Des Moines, in January, 1929 and 1930.

RADIO

The Secretary of the Iowa Library Commission gave a talk during January over WOI State College at Ames, on the library facilities of the state. In the interest of county libraries and the Black Hawk County Demonstration, the Library Commission cooperated with the Iowa Library Association in a series of programs over WHO each week from January to May.

Talks were given by the Secretary of the Library Commission, various librarians, representatives of the Women's Clubs, and the Parent Teachers' Association, Mr. Oscar Anderson, State Budget Director, and Miss Agnes Samuelson, State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The plays, "Why Not a County Library", and "Books and Bananas" were also given by the staff of the Iowa Library Commission assisted by Mr. Ora Williams.

BOOK WEEK

The Library Commission, cooperates with libraries, schools, women's clubs, the Parent Teachers' Associations, and other organizations, in furnishing suggestions for the observance of Book Week, by the loan of books and posters for display, and of leaflets for distribution, thus aiding in the promotion of good reading among the boys and girls of the state.

PUBLICATIONS

The Iowa Library Quarterly completed its tenth volume with the close of 1928, and issued an index, covering the sixteen numbers between 1925 and 1928.

New graded lists were issued in the fall of 1928, and a new Senior High School list will be prepared for the opening of school in 1930.

The usual blanks for daily, monthly, and annual reports, budget and tax certificates, and leaflets explanatory of the Iowa Library Commission and the Traveling Library work are supplied as in the past.

To assist in their book selection, Monthly Book Lists are prepared by the Secretary of the Library Commission and are mailed on mimeographed sheets to the libraries of the state. These include the latest books, desirable for purchase by the smaller libraries, with brief notes explaining the character of the books.

TRAVELING LIBRARY

A mere outline of the work of the Traveling Library gives little idea of its extent or value, nor does it give any idea of the inadequacy now existing in the work of reaching the people of the state without books.

While comparatively few requests go wholly unfilled, the time comes in the middle of the school year when the supply of books for school use is so nearly exhausted that only few can be sent.

This can be readily understood with over a million people in the state without other library facilities, and a book fund for the Traveling Library less than cities of 20,000 have. In addition, the wear and tear on the books by constant travel, makes replacements more imperative. Neither can desired publicity be given to the Traveling Library without an increase of orders beyond ability to supply.

While county libraries are the only satisfactory economical method of book supply for all the people of a state, without such county service, a small book collection for the Traveling Library deprives rural people and those of small towns, with no other source of book supply, of book rights which city people enjoy.

These facts and changing conditions have made necessary rules which are not always understood.

In fairness to borrowers from communities without libraries to prevent duplication, in communities with a public library, only such books are loaned as cannot be secured from the public library, and requests must come through the library.

For the same reason in smaller communities where small libraries are maintained with Traveling Library books, separate collections cannot be sent to schools and communities, and only one loan can be made to serve both groups.

Loans from the Traveling Library go to schools, clubs, and individual borrowers. The schools are the largest borrowers, and titles most in demand are duplicated as many times as funds will allow, but the number always falls below the demand.

To schools and communities books are loaned for three months. In all cases the borrower is expected to pay all transportation charges. Except in the case of a few fixed groups now sent, books are sent by parcel post under a special rate for books from and to libraries.

The number of requests from individuals has steadily increased, some of these being for books for study purposes, others for general reading. The time on these loans is four weeks and the number of books sent is limited to the amount of reading which can be done in that time. To accommodate all requesting the most recent books, the time on these is limited to three weeks.

Only a librarian acquainted with books, and especially children's books, can do this work to the satisfaction of the Traveling Library borrowers, because in many cases such requests are for books by grades without definite titles being named.

Summer Loans. During the summer books are loaned to such groups as the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the Camp Fire Girls, and other organizations for camp use.

Books for the Blind. The Traveling Library operates the only loan library in the state of books for the blind. These are in Braille, grade 1½ and 2, which are now taught at the college for the Blind, and in New York Point, formerly taught there and which is still read by the older blind people of the state.

These books are carried free through the mail, but the large cost of purchase interferes with the buying of many.

Four acceptable gifts have been made to the collection for the blind. Three books were transcribed into Braille type by Beulah Burdine of Sigourney. The cost of binding of two of these was paid by the Keokuk Chapter of the American Red Cross, and the binding of the third was donated by the Hertzberg Bindery of Des Moines.

One of these books was a collection of poems written by Mrs. T. C. Hopkins of Des Moines, a blind woman.

A subscription to the Reader's Digest in Braille was given by Chapter Q, P. E. O. of Des Moines, Iowa.

A larger circulation could be stimulated had the assistant more time to give to the work of the blind.

Picture Collections. Because of lack of funds no additions have been made to the picture collection. A number of sets of stereoscopic views on geographical subjects, for loaning to schools have been added.

REFERENCE WORK

The reference work with women's clubs, debate teams, and other borrowers whose requests require research, keeps one assistant more than busy to locate just the right material in books, magazines, and pamphlets or clippings.

This work can be done satisfactorily only by a librarian with a knowledge of reference books and books in general, and a desire to give exact service, and the work is important as it is the only source of study club material for thousands of club women.

Study Club outlines and syllabi are also furnished to assist in the arrangement of programs.

Debate material, covering the question of the High School Debate League each year, is duplicated many times in order to fill the requests coming to the Traveling Library for such material.

Material for debates on other subjects is also furnished.

A summary of the work of the Traveling Library is given below:

DETAILED STATEMENT

The total annual appropriation for the work of the Library Commission is $24,320.00. This covers all the activities of the Library Commission, Traveling Library, extension, traveling expenses, etc. Inasmuch as the law provides that all accounts and expenditures must be audited by the State Executive Council, the detailed statement of expenditures is given in the printed records of the council. A mistake was made in the last report in giving the amount of the appropriation.

LEGISLATION

The only library legislation introduced in the 43rd General Assembly was a bill to amend the county library law of the state, (1) making it possible for supervisors to establish an independent county library where it seemed advisable, instead of by contract, (2) exempting only towns with a public library from the county levy, and (3) making it compulsory on the county supervisors to levy a county library tax upon presentation of a petition signed by a certain number of county voters. This was lost through misunderstanding, rather than from opposition.

The Iowa Library Association will this year have charge of the library legislation, and will again ask for the exemptions only of cities and towns with public libraries from the county library levy, and that a petition with a designated number of signatures shall make it mandatory upon the county supervisors to levy a tax for a county library, or submit the question to vote. No change in the amount of tax already in the law will be sought.

A change will also be asked by which the contract tax shall be increased, in case of small towns, to the millage allowed for an independent library.

WHAT THEY WRITE ABOUT THE TRAVELING LIBRARY

Schools. A rural teacher near Britt writes, "All last week (the first after the arrival of the books) the question was "Miss.... may I go to the table and read?" rather than "What may I do now?"

The superintendent at Lone Tree in sending for books says, "I have 225 youngsters who will not give me a minute's peace until the Traveling Library books come. Thanks for the service you have given us. True Story and cheap fiction have practically disappeared from our school."

Another superintendent at Wadena writes, "I want to tell you now that I think this free library service is a most wonderful thing. It certainly enlarges the scope of our work here in the rural districts."

A teacher at Clarksville says, "I wish you might have enjoyed with me the enthusiasm shown by my pupils when the books were placed on the shelves for their use. Their faces simply beamed. I feel that the Traveling Library does much to raise the standard of reading."

From a preacher who maintained a library for the children of Dickens during the summer, "There is much interest especially among the children and older girls. It has been funny to see the youngsters sit down along the curb on their way home and start to read because they just could not wait until they reached home."

From a mother who borrowed books for home reading—"I do not know what we country people would do without access to a public library if it were not for your department."

Another rural mother writes—"The boys rush home every night from school crying, 'Did the books come today?'"

Two hundred borrowers of reference material write—"Just what I needed", and another writes—"I received it (the material requested) just in time to prepare my paper for the club. I was complimented so highly on it that I feel very grateful to you for your assistance."

And there have been many others whose expressions of gratitude have come to the Library Commission.
