Alexander Clark Foundation

Join us for Alexander Clark Lecture Series

In 1868, three years after the Civil War, 12-year-old Susan Clark of Muscatine became the first African American child to attend a racially integrated school in the United States of America. It was the result of a lawsuit before the Iowa Supreme Court filed by her father, the great civil rights leader Alexander Clark.

Learn the fascinating story behind that historical occasion at a free event:

Featuring Russell Lovell

Leading the discussion will be Drake Law School Professor Emeritus Russell Lovell. Lovell's public service commitment includes 45 years of civil rights work for the NAACP, including service as lead counsel in cases that desegregated the Indiana State Police Department and the Des Moines Fire Department. Over the years he has received numerous Outstanding Public Service and Civil Rights Awards from the NAACP, and a wide range of honors from Iowa Legal Aid, the Black Ministerial Alliance and others.

The annual Alexander Clark Lecture is co-sponsored by the Alexander Clark Foundation, League of Women Voters of Muscatine County and Muscatine Community College. Broadcasting resources provided by Muscatine Power & Water. Re-Broadcasts are available on the Muscatine Access Nine/YouTube Channels.

United States Census - Complete Count

Shape the future for your family and community.

The U.S. Constitution requires that every decade we count our nation's population. By April 1, every household will receive a notice to complete the 2020 Census and be counted.

Responding is important.

You can shape the future for yourself, your family, and your community for the next 10 years. Data collected in the 2020 Census will inform the distribution of more than $675 billion in federal funds to states and communities each year. Businesses, community leaders, and local governments use census data to create jobs, ensure public safety preparedness, and support community initiatives.

Results of the census impact funding for things like:

- › Schools and education
- › Health care facilities
- › Housing assistance
- › Public transportation
- › Child and adult food assistance programs
- › Assistance for people transitioning out of homelessness
- › Career and technical education grants
- › Medicare Part B

Census
2020

Everyone at your address should be counted.

It is important to count every person living in your household, even if they are staying only temporarily. This includes relatives, nonrelatives, and children as young as one day old.

You should respond at the address where you are living or staying on Census Day—April 1, 2020.

Our kids are important.

An estimated 5 percent of kids under the age of five were missed in the 2010 Census. At about 1 million babies and young children, that's the largest undercount of any age group. The 2020 Census helps determine which areas qualify for the critical resources that children and families depend on for the next 10 years—basically an entire childhood! During those years, their communities could receive less funding for schools, parks, SNAP/WIC, hospitals, transportation, and other things kids need.

Responding is easy and secure.

Responding to the census takes just a few minutes. Simply answer a handful of questions online, by phone, or by mail. The Census Bureau encourages renters and recent movers to complete their forms right away, online or by phone, in case paper forms get lost in the mail.

All responses are confidential and protected by law. Your personal information can never be shared with law enforcement agencies or property managers, and it cannot be used against you in any way.
