It is a high privilege accorded me to name for the consideration of the members of the Thirty-third General Assembly the Republican nominee for permanent speaker. The man who presides over the deliberations of the house should be able at all times to yield to the will of the majority and should have an eye single to the enactment of such legislation as will promote the best interests of our commonwealth. Such a man we have in the Republican nominee for this responsible office. I have the honor of nominating for permanent speaker of the house, Hon. Guy A. Feely of Black Hawk.

My earnest desire and single ambition will be to discharge to the best of my ability the duty of that high office with justice and impartiality to all. I desire to say to the minority members of this Assembly that to me as your speaker there will be no party lines. I will devote every energy I have at my command to aid with absolute fairness the great work which now lies before us. The problems of government which confront us are as important to our commonwealth as has engaged the attention of any former Assembly. The passing time with its ever changing conditions and new enterprises have brought us face to face with the need for new laws to deal out even handed justice to all our citizenship. It is for us to determine their true worth and value. We must be slow and conservative in our judgment of the necessary changes, but the people of the State of Iowa demand at our hands the enactment of wise and beneficial laws, and these laws must be in keeping with the rapid advance of our civilization. In the difficult position to which you have chosen me I ask your earnest co-operation. Gentlemen, again I thank you.

MR. SPEAKER AND GENTLEMEN OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE 33RD GENERAL ASSEMBLY—I want to acknowledge the appreciation I feel for the honor you have conferred upon me by unanimously electing me as your Speaker Pro tempore. I believe I am justified in construing your action as the spontaneous expression of the good will you bear me and as further evidence of the confidence you have uniformly shown in my acts and purposes.

In accepting the office of Speaker Pro tempore, I promise you I will do everything in my power to render aid to the Speaker of the House, to the end that the administration of his difficult office may be successful. I will perform all duties that may devolve upon me with such fidelity and impartiality as I can summon.

There is one thought I would like to impress upon the members, and that is that all proposed legislation should receive the most thorough and mature consideration, both in committee and on the floor, before enactment into law. We often hear the criticism made that there are too many laws passed. There is some ground for the criticism, but I think it could be confined to the statement that there are too many laws passed without being wrought into that perfect state which should characterize every piece of legislation. There will always be a demand for new laws to meet the constantly changing conditions and needs of society, and we should strive to interpret the will of the people, and give it authoritative expression in the form of law. When we do this conscientiously I have no fear of just criticism, but on the other hand I believe we will earn the approval and commendation of the people of this state.

I predict a most harmonious session, but I hope for that which is for greater importance, and that is that we may accomplish something of permanent value to the citizens of our great commonwealth.

Our State is particularly fortunate in the fertility of her soil and the abundance of crops, in the health and strength of the people and their enjoyment of all those blessings which come to an industrious and progressive people. Your labors will not be disturbed by contentions that might thwart the purpose for which you are assembled.

A somewhat prolonged experience in public life leads me to the conclusion that our state has been liberal in support of her institutions in a degree unexcelled by other states, and has yet sustained a conservatism which insists upon the expenditure of every dollar so there could be no rational ground for criticism. Meeting, as you do, under such favorable auspices, I have an abiding faith that you will continue this liberal conservatism in regard to all the matters that come before you.

The financial transactions of the State are shown in the printed reports of the State Treasurer and Auditor of State. These reports will show that the actual receipts of the state for the fiscal period ended June 30th last amounted to $7,247,078, of which $4,054,876 was derived from the state levy. The Treasurer reports a balance on hand of $644,189. I am convinced that the accounts and funds of our state are admirably kept and that warrants have been drawn and money paid out strictly in accordance with the appropriations made. Our state is free of debt, taxation is not burdensome, we pay our way as we go, and our credit has been maintained, and thanks to the high character of those who have administered the affairs of the state, we are facing no vexatious problems in regard to finance.

The estimated receipts of the State, as computed by the State Auditor, for details of which I refer you to his report, will be for the biennial period ending June 30, 1911, about $7,605,400. By off-setting this with the regular continuing appropriations and all appropriations made and not yet expended, he estimates that you will have available for extraordinary appropriations about $1,500,000. Further on in what I have to say to you, I shall make recommendations that will materially increase the revenues of the state, and if you adopt these measures you will be entitled to take into account, in making up your appropriations, these additional revenues.

GENERAL AFFAIRS OF THE STATE.

The affairs of the State can only be reviewed in general terms, and I shall not enter into details of the many things done in which we all take just pride; but I may at least point out clearly the direction of our progress as a help to you in meeting your immediate responsibility.

The Nation is passing through an era of change leading onward and upward to higher ideals in law and the administration of government, and to a better and sounder basis for the conduct of business. There has been an awakening to a sense of personal responsibility such as to sanction that which seems to some persons to be almost revolutionary; but that the people applaud the steps taken and a great majority have recently approved a program of further development of the best ideals, indicates they are sincere, earnest and firm in their demand that all the activities of our private and public life shall be made to harmonize with the eternal principles of right and justice.

An unbiased survey of the history of our beloved State shows that within the scope of our rights and the limits of our authority we have been meeting this demand of the people for the better things. You are to be congratulated, at least to this extent, that at a time when in some states and in the nation as a unit, men are still struggling for a right beginning, here in Iowa our contentions are all of the past and we have entered peacefully upon the agreeable task of making secure and permanent the advance which has been gained.

The perfection of our election system so as to give every voter the direct and independent participation in government contemplated by the founders of the republic was undertaken long ago. The polling places were cleared of the petty vote buyers and the voter was required to hide himself as he performed the most sacred duty of citizenship; but all this was insufficient so long as the selection of candidates was left to chance or the machinations of the few. The principle of legal regulation of party nominations was adopted to firmly establish the right of free choice of the representatives and servants of the people. As a still further protection from some of the grosser agencies for political evil, the political pass was banished and direct corporation activity in politics was forbidden under severe penalties, and finally requirement was made for publicity of campaign expenditures. Iowa has gone far in the direction of guaranteeing a perfectly clean political system.

But regeneration of political methods has been only a part. There has been honest effort, with what success may well be left to the future, to improve all our laws, and especially those which touch our business and industrial life. This has led to modifying and strengthening the laws with reference to corporations, railroads, drainage, transportation, banking, highways, insurance and kindred matters; preservation of the public health as by requiring pure food, safety appliances, limiting hours of labor and regulating child labor; acceptance of a code that all experience has shown to be best adapted to reformation of evil-doers; encouragement of agricultural and industrial education and support of fairs and expositions; adapting school laws to modern needs; aid has been given the poor victims of drug and liquor habits and a retreat has been provided for consumptives; and the too long delayed publication of a roster of Iowa soldiers has been commenced.

REBUILDING OUR INSTITUTIONS.

While these things were being done there has been no neglect of the imperative duty of virtually rebuilding our state institutions—educational, charitable and reformatory. Iowa has today fifteen institutions under the Board of Control that will compare favorably in equipment and management with those of any community of similar population in the world. At the three state educational institutions there has been laid at least the foundation for enduring greatness. At these eighteen institutions there is being expended annually for support about $1,900,000. More than 6,500 young people are receiving instruction at the educational institutions and more than 8,500 persons are cared for at the other institutions. It is immensely to the credit of our people that they have authorized this expenditure and a matter of congratulation that the disbursement of this large sum is so wisely made that all criticism is disarmed.

It is proper to digress here and to state that which is more or less familiar to all of us that these institutions are of comparatively recent development. The state of Iowa is now sixty-two years old. The territory passed over to the state a small structure used as a capitol and a cell house for a prison. The eighteen great institutions have been built by the State. In the first fifty years of statehood there was expended for permanent improvements on these institutions less than six million dollars; in the twelve years last past the expenditures aggregated more than nine million dollars—or, in other words, our state has invested 50 per cent. more in twelve years than it did in the first half century. There is being invested now in land, buildings and equipment an annual average of about $800,000—at least a part of which represents unwise investments of the past.

I submit that it is immensely to the credit of the State that provision has been made for these great institutions so necessary to the proper development of our life, and that we are building permanently and making investments that will continue for all time, returning to us annual dividends in the form of better citizenship.

STATE CAPITOL IMPROVEMENT.

I feel that you and all the people of the State ought to be deeply interested in the matter of providing a suitable setting for our magnificent State Capitol. It stands today a monument to the good judgment of those who planned it and provided for its creation, and to the faithfulness and integrity of the self-sacrificing men who devoted the best of their lives to its building. Iowa can never pay its debt to Finkbine, Dey, Foote, Wright, Foreman and others of the Capitol Commission. They did their full duty; and partly in their honor and partly that we may complete what they so well begun, it seems to me there is an obligation upon this generation that we make the surroundings and approach to this great structure comport with its dignity and architectural beauty. We have provided in part for the interior decoration; we have neglected the exterior and environment. I would recommend, therefore, a commission authorized to purchase land adjacent to the capitol grounds, with the right of condemnation where necessary, and with funds sufficient to secure such land as may be deemed necessary to provide a beautiful boulevard of approach and surroundings. An appropriation of $150,000 would probably suffice.

In making this recommendation I realize that there are those among you who may feel I have gone far out of my way; but I would call your attention to the fact that a very large part of the total cost of the present Capitol represents ornamentation. We ought to make the building and its surroundings beautiful. We ought to make the whole an object of pride to all our people, something that will be an inspiration to better citizenship and that will give Iowa higher standing in the family of states. I feel so deeply upon this question, I am loath to leave it for the more practical matters, but I have full faith that after mature consideration you will see your way clear to provide for this commission.

AGRICULTURAL AND MILITARY HALL.

In this connection I would suggest that we might well recognize at this time that our Capitol is not a sufficient workshop for all those who labor in the service of the state. It was not possible for those who planned the state house to understand how much work would be done by the officials and employes of the state. We should therefore take at least a first step looking to the erection of an agricultural, industrial and military hall. This might properly be similar in design to the historical hall and library. There should be ample offices for the Department of Agriculture, with its allied bureaus dealing with dairying, horticulture, stock breeding, veterinary, pure food and crop service; the Commissioner of Labor, Mine Inspectors and Geological Survey; the Board of Health, Dental Board and Pharmacy Board; the headquarters of the Iowa National Guard and a commodious armory. There should be a hall suitable for a drill room, for examination classes, and for public meetings. It is no exaggeration to state that more than half the business of the state is now done in offices wholly inadequate and that were originally intended for storage rooms. Already the state has started the policy of surrounding the capitol with small office buildings, a policy which can best be avoided by planning now for one commodious building such as I have suggested. At least the site should be secured and plans be adopted so that the work may be done as soon as convenient.

SCHOOL LAWS AND EDUCATION.

A commission was appointed under authority of the Thirty-second General Assembly to investigate and report to you upon the need of changes in the school laws, and I believe that the report which will be laid before you will show that the commission has devoted itself industriously and thoughtfully to the task, so that great good will result. The chief problem was that of suggesting amendments to bring our educational system, especially that part which relates to the rural schools, into conformity with modern ideas and enable us to get best possible results from the very large expenditure for schools. It needs little argument to show that codification of the school laws is advisable. The present laws are notoriously vague, defective and conflicting, due to the fact that they have been built up piece-meal. The effort to graft new ideas upon the old laws has been only partially successful. I am convinced the codification in line with the recommendations of this commission is essential. Among the important changes suggested by the Commission is that of substitution of the county district for the township district, better facilities for consolidation of rural schools, greater economy in handling school finances, and preservation of the best features of our present certification plan. Important changes are also suggested in regard to the county superintendency and the scope of the State Board of Education.

I urge you to read the commission report, and in this connection the admirable report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction. All their recommendations should be taken into consideration, for I feel sure that there is no more important matter to come before your body. In the formation of the bill you should bear in mind that the ultimate object sought is that of improving our school system so as to benefit the largest number. Having provided for compulsory school attendance, we should make good schools compulsory.

We maintain worthy educational institutions for the blind and deaf children of the state, but we do not give to these children the same protection we do to those of normal faculties. You should investigate and determine whether we should not require the attendance of blind and deaf children at schools that are provided for them.

TRAINING THE YOUTH FOR LIFE WORK.

Within recent years there has been an awakening throughout the United States to the importance of providing as a part of our public school system something that will more definitely give to our young people training in the useful occupations and better prepare them for their life work. The demand seems to be just now for manual training and for instruction in scientific agriculture and the domestic sciences. Some of this is being done in the town and city high schools, and it is found to be very helpful. Our State College has done much to give the young people this special training. But the fact remains that there is a very large proportion of children who do not continue in school beyond the eighth grade and who cannot avail themselves either of the opportunities of our high schools or, of our colleges. These young people become the bread-winners of the state. They need special training in useful occupations. I am convinced we must meet these conditions in a way little dreamed of by our forefathers. Something must be done for this large class which does not now remain in school but a few years. I believe we can well afford to take a step in the direction of the establishment of special schools in manual training, domestic economy, practical agriculture and giving military training. The provision for military training is important, because it is from this class that will be recruited our army of national defense when needed. But the chief value of these schools would lie in the fact that we would be preparing to meet the coming world competition in the arts and industries. There is no doubt whatever that this competition will be felt far more in the future than in the past, and we should give to our state a body of trained and skilled artisans capable of maintaining industries the equal of any in the world.

You are doubtless aware of the movement for co-operation of the federal government with the states in training the young people in useful occupations. The time is not far distant when we will be called upon to decide whether Iowa shall join in this co-operation. In other states schools of agriculture are already in operation. The success of the agricultural college extension work shows there is a real demand for this in Iowa. As a preliminary, we ought to begin to prepare our teachers to give instruction in agriculture and other industrial lines. This work should be taken up without delay at the state educational institutions. It has been suggested, and I believe with propriety, that the state might well assist private colleges and educational institutions in development of courses where this special training of teachers is made a feature.

This whole matter at least deserves your careful investigation, to the end that our state does not fall behind in a movement already of National proportions and which must inevitably add much of practical value to our school system.

INSTITUTIONS OF HIGHER LEARNING.

The people of Iowa are to be congratulated upon their State educational institutions. By reason of the liberality of your predecessors these institutions are being built up to the measure of greatness of our state. They are at a critical period in their history. They are entering upon an era of expansion far beyond the dreams of their founders, in which will be realized the fondest hopes of the good men and women whose lives have been devoted to their upbuilding. The reports from these institutions that will be laid before you will show that the past biennial period has been one of wonderful progress and development at all three of these institutions; that the work of higher education of the youth has been better done than ever before; that the student enrollment has been increasing steadily and at a rapid rate; and that all are crowded to the full capacity of the equipment and teaching forces. We must go forward and provide for the thorough education of those who present themselves at the doors of these institutions. Our failure to do so would discredit us everywhere. However devoted and forceful may be those who are at the head of the various departments of these institutions, they cannot do justice to themselves or to the people unless they are provided with buildings, equipment and a sufficient faculty. Your obligation cannot be evaded. It is for you to decide whether or not the forward movement shall be continued.

In this connection, I wish to emphasize the thought that appropriations made for these institutions are not to be considered as in any sense an extravagance. These are in the strictest sense permanent investments upon which we may reasonably expect to secure profitable returns indefinitely.

In considering the question of support, it is well to know that in view of the increased cost of living it is absolutely necessary there shall be readjustment of salaries, if we are to maintain the high standard. Support and contingent funds must keep pace with the changing conditions of life. Everything should be done to strengthen and encourage those who are engaged in this noble work. There should be no deviation from the policy of affording facilities for the training of our own teachers, and the education of our boys and girls in the professions and for special industries.

THE STATE UNIVERSITY.

The University is properly the head and center of the whole educational system of the state. Our progress will always be measured to some extent by the success and standing of our University, which has already attained high rank among institutions of like character, but which is coming to a time when its power for good will be greatly increased. The growth of the student body continues at a rate which makes it imperative that there shall be continual adding to the teaching force. There should unquestionably be additions to the support fund, and I invite thoughtful study of the report of the Board of Regents, so that you may act with full knowledge of the needs of the University.

An inadequate campus has always been a serious obstacle to the development of the University. I recommend the purchase of additional land, and suggest an appropriation of $100,000 for securing acreage across the river to the west. I believe the state must ultimately acquire this property, and when it is connected with the old campus by a concrete bridge, the University will then have opportunity for expansion as it should. The opportunity thus made for giving the University more beautiful surroundings will be an inspiration to all who come within its influence.

In view of the fact that the University is becoming a great institution for the education of young people of both sexes, provision should be made for a women's building. I would recommend an appropriation of $125,000 for this purpose, with the restriction that the cost should not exceed $1,000 per capita for those accommodated.

STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

I am convinced that nothing has so added to the educational, material—and incidentally the spiritual—welfare of Iowa people as the great school of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts at Ames. It is world-wide in the scope of its influence, and in an increasing degree must go on shaping the destinies of a large proportion of our people. I believe it is one of the most profitable of the agencies our state maintains, and it is not entirely from philanthropic motives we desire that its sphere of usefulness be enlarged.

Our 56,025 square miles of the most fertile land known give us in abundance of the things which go to the making of the better life, but the future has greater things in store for our people. Secretary Wilson says, that while for years there seemed to be a decrease in the capacity of our soil to yield, there has been a material increase in the past decade—no doubt due to the general awakening for the necessity of better crop conditions. He believes, and I think you will agree with him, that we may make our farms still more productive. In this work the college at Ames has an important part to play.

The campus at Ames is ample, but buildings and equipment are needed. Here, as elsewhere, there is also special need of a material increase in the support fund, so that better salaries may be paid and the faculty can be enlarged to meet all needs.

There is a demand coming from the fathers and mothers of the state that the equipment of the college be the best, and in view of the desire for training in domestic science, there should be better facilities afforded for instruction in this important branch of education.

You are called upon to deal with an institution enrolling 1,900 in college courses, and giving indirect benefit to very many more. Through the agricultural extension work the influence of the institution is felt in every corner of the state, and it is at all times inspiring and helpful.

The report of the trustees discusses very fully the work and needs of the college, and you should familiarize yourself especially with that part which discusses the need of better support and increase of faculty.

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL.

The Normal School has shown wonderful growth and its usefulness has been extended to the entire state because of the supply of trained teachers going into every part of our community. The report of the president and trustees of this institution calls attention to the demand that the Normal School provide for the training of commercial teachers for high schools, and suggests the organization of a force equipped with farm and laboratory to commence the work of preparing for instruction in scientific agriculture. The needs of the school should carefully be considered.

We should have greater facilities for the training of teachers, and I am of the opinion that the time has come when we should decide upon the location of an additional normal school. It certainly is not extravagant to desire the thorough training of substantially every teacher in the state. Of the twelve million dollars expended annually for educational purposes there is a very large part wasted through the employment of inefficient teachers and the multiplicity of small schools. We should lessen this waste as rapidly as possible.

HISTORICAL DEPARTMENT AND LIBRARY.

Since the adjournment of the last general assembly the State Library has been moved into its new quarters, and the law library and the general library has been separated. The Historical Department, which occupies jointly with the State Library the fine building near the state capitol, has suffered an irreparable loss in the death of Hon. Charles Aldrich, its founder, and for many years its faithful curator. These events remind us that our laws in regard to the Historical Department and library are conflicting and there seems to be necessity for a re-organization of these departments. I would suggest that you counsel with the library board as to the best method of placing this educational work upon a sound and enduring basis. The Historical hall should be completed. There should also be some provision made for the acquisition of works of art that would be of influence in shaping the thought of our people.

Among the most valuable of the educational agencies of the state is the Free Traveling Library, under the direction of a State Library Commission, and its field of service has steadily grown. Its mission is the dissemination of good literature throughout the State by a practical method of lending books. By this means in the remotest farm houses good books are made accessible that stimulate to higher ideals and aid in the development of the material welfare of our state. This work has expanded rapidly, which indicates that it is very much appreciated. The work of the Library Commission in stimulating sentiment in favor of local libraries has also been valuable. You should not neglect to make ample provision for continuing this work.

REGULATION OF THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

There is no doubt that the trend of the times is in the direction of the thorough control and reasonable restriction of the traffic in intoxicating liquors. The tendency to decrease rather than to enlarge the area in which the traffic is permitted under legal sanction meets the approval of the people generally.

I am a firm believer in local self-government, and each community should be left to the control of its own affairs just as far as possible without interfering with the interests of society as a whole. But I believe that the law should be amended so that the machinery for the enforcement of the regulations surrounding the saloons and the liquor traffic will be strengthened and be made effective in every community of the State. The Governor, and through him the Attorney General, should have the unquestioned power to fulfill the requirements of the constitution as to the enforcement of the laws. I feel sure that this would eliminate many of the abuses which have prevailed in the past.

I regret that the limit was placed at five years instead of at three years in the law requiring renewal of consent petitions. However, a year from coming July new petitions will be required before saloons can legally exist in any community, and I doubt not that it will result in materially reducing the so-called saloon area of the state.

In quite another way, I believe there should be reform in our attitude toward the liquor traffic as shown in our laws. I would recommend that you memorialize Congress for a change in the Revised Statutes so that it would be definitely provided that the initiative for issuing a federal license for the sale of intoxicating liquors would be with the local community directly interested. In other words, the United States should recognize the right of each community to regulate or restrain in a reasonable way the sale of intoxicating liquors. The federal government should not legalize so far as it can do so, the liquor traffic in places where the people do not want it to be legalized or tolerated. And when a federal license is issued, the holder thereof should be compelled to post it in a conspicuous place and to confine his dealings to a definite place of business. I believe this would go very far toward reducing to the minimum the evils of the system, and I am sure that if the Congress sets itself earnestly to the task, it will find a way to give to the people in this matter, as in others, a measure of self-government so vital to the people.

Our laws now recognize as an evil the traffic in intoxicating liquors, and we all know that the saloon and the saloon influence are baneful. I believe it should be your policy, in every move you make, to strengthen the barriers we have tried to place between the saloon power and our boys and men, and to give to society the fullest measure of protection.

There is no more legitimate business in the state than the dispensing of drugs. A very large per cent. of these people comply strictly with the law, but there are exceptions that are so glaring in character that it seems almost necessary to throw additional safeguards around them. Men who are supposed to be dispensing medicine for the cure of the body often do that which is destructive of mind, body and soul. I would therefore recommend a most careful scrutiny of our law governing pharmacies, with the view to destroy, as far as possible, this nefarious branch of this very worthy business.

THE STATE'S LEGAL DEPARTMENT.

I desire to place especial emphasis upon the admirable and instructive report which has been made by the Attorney General with reference to the Legal Department of the State. If you will read this report, as you must, you will be led to the conclusion that this department ought to be expanded and strengthened and that by so doing its usefulness will be enhanced many fold. The Attorney General recommends that it be made possible for the Governor to "take care that the laws are faithfully executed," by giving him the power, upon proper complaint, to remove Peace Officers, Mayors and Prosecuting Attorneys. This may seem like a radical step but it is proposed as a measure to eliminate evils that are destructive to our whole social system. He suggests a re-organization of the Attorney General's department along the lines of the Department of Justice in the National Government and he gives reasons for this change which are worthy of your thoughtful consideration.

Other similar important recommendations are made by the Attorney General which I will not take time here to enumerate but I suggest to you that you cannot perform your full duty unless you have given this report a careful reading. That which he has in mind, I take it, is better enforcement of the laws of our state, and there is no one thing upon which we should all agree so readily as that the laws which we have should all be enforced impartially as to persons and places.

The State is fortunate indeed in having in its Legal Department men who regardless of criticism and possible political effect, have gone on and looked after the affairs of the Commonwealth. I especially commend to the people of Iowa the magnificent work done by Mr. Byers, and his assistants, Mr. Lyon and Mr. Cosson. I feel that we all owe to these men a debt of gratitude and that they have reduced the law violating portion of our people to a degree not reached before in a quarter of a century and have aided materially in the better development of that which we hold most sacred, better citizenship.

RAILROAD COMMISSION AND TRANSPORTATION.

Iowa was one of the first states to clothe its Railroad Commission with power for the settlement of all controversies relating to commerce within the state transportation lines. The right of the state to supervise and regulate these matters has long been accepted as final and right, but there is insistence that with regard to rates, classification, assessment, taxation, discriminations and details of the service, there must be absolute fairness to all interests. The transportation problem, in its various state and interstate phases, is the greatest single problem confronting our people, and we should leave nothing undone that will further its early and satisfactory solution.

The State Railroad Commission has authority only within the state and over railroads and express lines, but there has been such changes in the business world and so great a development of conflicting interests, that a reasonable expansion of its powers seems to be necessary. The commission should have authority over the telegraph and telephone lines as much as over other common carriers. The Commission should also have some measure of authority over the public utilities of the State, such as street car lines, waterworks, gas and electric plants; but care must be exercised so that there is left with the municipalities sufficient power for the proper police regulation of these private enterprises. Matters purely local must be left to the local communities.

To enhance the efficiency of the Railroad Commission the salaries of members should be increased to not less than $3,500 a year and they be required to devote their entire time to the work. Instead of being elective, these offices should be appointive, the Governor appointing the members subject to confirmation by two-thirds vote of the Senate. Provision should be made, however, for continuing in office to the end of their present terms the members who have been elected by the people. The term of office of members should be extended to six years.

For the enforcement of our general laws for the protection of society we have provided officers to represent the people, and in our courts those who pass judgment have long since ceased either to investigate or to prosecute; but our state and interstate commissions dealing with transportation still try to combine both functions or leave to chance the complete preparation of cases they are called upon to decide. If these tribunals are to properly dispose of their work and be free to judge impartially, they must have before them full information as to all questions involved, not on one side but on both sides, and to do this they must take on the character and methods of courts and be relieved of some of their responsibility for investigation and preparation of cases. It ought to be apparent to all of us that in the development of the system new and larger problems have come up, and these are so complicated and difficult that their investigation should be entrusted only to men of special skill and having opportunity for thorough preparation. We desire that these questions be settled and settled right. We want only justice and fairness. The state should be placed on an equality with the corporation. We should not seek advantages nor neglect our rights. Until this is done we cannot expect satisfaction from these tribunals having to deal with the controversies between shippers and common carriers.

I therefore recommend that you provide by appointment for an attorney on behalf of the state to have charge of all controverted questions before the Railroad Commission in which the rights of the people are in any way involved, and who shall also appear before the executive council in all matters involving any of the activities which are under the Railroad Commission. He should be required to devote his entire time to the study of those questions that are likely to come before either of these bodies for adjustment or adjudication, and should have at his disposal facilities for making thorough investigation and preparation of all cases. He should be appointed by the State Executive Council, subject to removal at will by that body, should give his entire time to the work and receive a salary of not less than $3,000.

It may be thought that in entering upon the field of interstate commerce we are going beyond our duty as a state, but when it is understood that a very large proportion of the transportation business of Iowa is interstate in character, it is imperative that we make ample provision for protecting ourselves.

HIGHWAY AND CONSERVATION COMMISSION.

The crying need of our times appears to be betterment of the social conditions upon the farm. Agriculture is and ever will be the backbone of our prosperity, and agricultural conditions are dependent to a large degree upon the social conditions in the rural communities. It needs no argument to show that these will be greatly improved by the construction of good roads.

I would, therefore, recommend the reorganization of our State Highway Commission and making it a commission to deal more broadly with highway construction, waterways, forestry, and the conservation of all our natural resources. I believe that this commission should consist of five persons, including at least one skilled engineer and two recognized experts in agricultural affairs; the commissioners should be paid a per diem of $10 not to exceed sixty days each year; there should be a secretary of the commission devoting his entire time to the work, and offices should be maintained in the State Capitol.

This Highway and Conservation Commission should be empowered to investigate, plan for, and direct matters relating to the building of permanent highways, drainage, the development of rivers, the establishment of canals, water power, forestry, the disposition of noxious weeds and similar related subjects. The Commission should make a comprehensive report to be published for public distribution.

This commission should be empowered to appoint a State Superintendent of Highway Construction, who should have general charge of the construction of the roads where state aid is received. The Commission should approve all plans for construction as prepared by the County Highway Superintendents and indorsed by the Board of Supervisors.

This Commission should be directed to make at once a complete investigation of our rivers and waterways and be authorized to secure expert testimony as to the possibility of the development of canals and waterways within the state; the Commission should also determine and report upon the availability of our rivers for water power and the development of electricity where such rivers cannot be used for transportation purposes. The movement on the part of the federal government to develop our national waterways means that in a very short time we must decide in Iowa whether or not our streams shall be used for transportation or be preserved for their water power. This commission should furnish to the next legislature sufficient data so that action would not be delayed. The commission should in general have direction of all matters pertaining to the conservation of our natural resources.

CONSTRUCTION OF GOOD ROADS.

The people of Iowa annually spend about $4,000,000 in road building. It needs no argument to convince our people that this money could be expended to better advantage than it is at present. The state should enter upon a policy of general aid to the local authorities in the construction of permanent highways and I would recommend an appropriation equal to thirty cents per capita of the population distributed among the counties on this basis and this should all come from the state saloon tax as provided for in the suggestion made elsewhere. According to the census of 1905 this would make available for highway construction $663,015. This money should be used in the construction of permanent highways upon the basis of the state paying 45 per cent. of the cost, the county paying 45 per cent., and the Township 10 per cent. Under certain conditions the Board of Supervisors might direct that the County pay 55 per cent., leaving the Township free of special obligation where it is not directly benefitted.

Provision should be made for a County Supervisor of Highways under appointment of the Board of Supervisors, he to be a civil engineer and who shall also act as the County Surveyor. He should have charge of the plans and specifications for highways where state aid is desired and the plans which he prepares should be approved by the Board of Supervisors, subject to the further approval of the State Highway and Conservation Commission.

This is an entirely new departure in road construction for our state but it is in line, as I believe, with the best systems that are in use elsewhere.

It has been suggested, and I believe with propriety, that if we are to enter upon this policy of State aid in the construction of permanent highways the local road levies might be changed. I would recommend that authority be given the counties to levy a tax of two mills and the townships three mills.

As drainage is one of the most efficient means of road construction, I recommend that the board of trustees or county boards be authorized, where it is thought desirable, to enter upon private property for the purposes of putting in sub-drainage, paying a reasonable compensation for any damage sustained by the property owner.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

The general scope of usefulness of the Department of Agriculture has been so broadened that it is now regarded as one of the most valuable departments of the state. Its continued usefulness will depend upon the support it receives. The department should be encouraged to come into the most intimate relationship with the people of the state, and to become the avenue through which is collected all information regarding agricultural resources and dissemination of such information where it will be most valuable.

If afforded the facilities for doing so, this department is capable of doing a great work in advertising to the world the opportunities which abound in our state. We have the finest agricultural lands known, and with this and other natural resources there is practically no limit to the capacity of our state for support of a vast industrial population. The facts should be known and the truth heralded to the world. This department should be equipped for engaging in publicity in a practical manner. The support fund should be increased.

The value of the State Fair, as a great summer school of agriculture and industry, cannot be over-estimated. The substantial increase in equipment for the State Fair is appreciated by the people, and attendance is steadily increasing. It seems to me we must continue, at least for a time, the policy of building permanent structures for the State Fair. I would recommend an appropriation for a fire-proof amphitheater to avoid the constant danger because of the present structure. It is unwise to invite our people to be our guests at the State Fair and expose them to unnecessary risk.

The State Board of Agriculture is asking for some minor changes in the law with a view to increasing the efficiency of the work now done, and these askings deserve your thoughtful consideration.

BOARD OF CONTROL.

The report of the Board of Control has been printed and is before you for consideration. I feel that beyond calling your special attention to this report, I need say little. The people of Iowa are to be congratulated upon the fact that this board has maintained the high standard which marked the inauguration of such a great reform, and its management of the various state institutions has been such as to fully satisfy the people. At the institutions under the control of this board there are now cared for more than 8,500 persons, and more than 1,300 employes are under the direction of the board. By reason of the careful management and thorough business methods which this board employs the cost of maintenance of these institutions has been materially decreased, despite the enormous increase in the cost of all supplies. The purchase of farms has been a considerable factor in keeping down the expenses of maintenance; at the same time there can be no doubt that our state wards are better cared for than ever before, and it is doubtful if there is a state in the Union where the management of the institutions is so entirely free from all political or local or selfish influence.

The appropriations asked for by this board are mainly for small items for the purpose of equipment or completing the buildings already under construction and for making material improvements in the grounds and work shops. The askings of the board seem to be modest and sensible.

The board renews its recommendation that it be relieved of the responsibility of reporting on the financial transactions of the State University, State College and Normal School. This is the one absurdity in the Board of Control law and its repeal should be immediate.

The board recommends the purchase of land for the establishment of an epileptic colony. I am not sufficiently familiar with the facts to enable me to advise you in this regard, but the fact that the board recommends it indicates that there is merit in the proposition. The board also recommends additional buildings for the tuberculosis hospital and as this is the newest of our institutions, of course additions will be necessary from time to time.

Among other notable recommendations of the board which deserve your attention is that of the repeal of the law under which pension money is withheld from residents of the Soldiers' Home for infraction of the rules, as this is in conflict with the federal statutes; also that all children at the Orphans' Home be made wards of the state; also that there be a minimum allowance for support of the School for the Deaf and at the College for the Blind; also that no child under ten years be committed to either of the Industrial Schools, and also some simplifying of the laws regarding payment of certain claims at the Hospital for Inebriates.

PREVENTION OF TUBERCULOSIS.

Inasmuch as the public health is one of the largest assets of the state, measures which directly or indirectly benefit the health of our citizens should receive serious consideration. Our state recognizes the preventable nature of tuberculosis and that this terrible scourge is amenable to intelligent repressive measures. Not only have we an institution especially provided for those who are unable to properly care for themselves, but we have entered upon a policy of educating the people directly as to their dangers and duty, and pointing out to them what they can do to lessen the harm which comes from this cause. When we remember that more than 2,000 lives are sacrificed annually to the white plague, and about 80 per cent. of these victims die between the ages of fifteen and forty-five, and when it is known that every one dying spreads the infection, it is not hard to compute the financial loss to our state. An educational campaign extended generally throughout the state has brought much enlightenment to our citizens and bids fair to aid greatly in exterminating the white plague. This work under the Board of Control has been efficiently conducted, and it would be wise to continue it with more ample funds, if necessary.

PRIMARY ELECTION LAW AMENDMENT.

I hope and believe the primary election law is indelibly upon the statute books, for in my judgment it is the only system of making party nominations that will stand the test of time; but we should not hesitate to amend the law as its weaknesses come to our attention. Already we have been compelled to resort to a special session of the legislature to amend the law to meet conditions not foreseen. The alphabetical arrangement of names upon the official ballot is found to be unfair to candidates and to the voters, and some form of rotation of names ought to be provided so that all candidates shall be on an equal footing. It were better to have no law than to thus fail of giving all candidates an equal chance. I am sure you will find a way to remedy this defect.

There has been considerable friction over the division of expense, and as it is immaterial to the taxpayer how this burden is distributed, I would suggest that the entire expense be borne by the counties, since the county boards have the best opportunity for scrutinizing the bills.

Uniformity in the printing of the bills should also be provided, to the end that the expense be not more on one community than another, and there would be a reduction in the total cost. The discrepancy in bills presented to the state indicates there should be limit to cost as a matter of safety to the taxpayers.

ADJUSTMENT OF OFFICIAL DUTIES.

Much progress has been made in the adjustment and re-arrangement of the duties of the various state officers and providing for a more perfect accounting system. One may now trace to its destination every dollar of taxes or fees received. The financial transactions of the State, large and small, are upon a business basis, but in order to do this new duties and responsibilities have been placed upon the state's servants. To lighten the burden, we might well go further by grouping together departments that are related, and in line with this thought I would urge these changes:

The Department of Public Accounts should be placed under the control of the Secretary of State.

The Department of Banking should be attached to the office of Treasurer of State.

The Department of Insurance should be a separate and independent department.

The task of compiling criminal statistics should be combined with similar duties of the Board of Parole.

All of these adjustments should be in the interest of more economical handling of the business of the state and would avoid duplication of work in many cases.

STATE INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

I believe that the State Insurance Department should be independent and under the management of a Superintendent of Insurance, appointed by the governor, subject to approval by the senate, with an adequate salary and sufficient office force. This is in line with the recommendation of the Legislative Insurance Commission and of the State Auditor in various reports in the past. It would be simple recognition of the fact that our insurance interests have grown to such proportions that for the protection of the public, and the proper regulation of the business, Iowa should get in line with the other states having similar insurance interests.

Iowa is recognized as one of the great insurance states of the Union. My judgment is that this business can be extended almost indefinitely by proper legislation, bringing into the state a vast wealth from outside sources little dreamed of by those who have not given the matter special consideration. This all has a tendency to increase the wealth of the state and is ample justification for any slight additional expenditure that may be occasioned by such a department over our present antiquated and inadequate system.

REVISING OUR TAXING METHODS.

There has been a growing sentiment in the state in favor of a commission to investigate our very inadequate laws governing taxation. I would recommend the appointment of such a commission, numbering three members especially qualified by their general knowledge of the subject to be treated, who should be required to make a report to the next General Assembly. This would cost but a small sum of money and if the commissioners are responsive to the duty imposed on them their work would no doubt be worth many times its cost.

MORTGAGES, MONEYS, AND CREDITS.

A number of states have enacted laws requiring mortgages to pay a small recording fee in lieu of all other taxes, with the result that while they have received substantially as much revenue, the burdens fall more equally upon the holders of this class of property. It is well known that mortgages of all kinds and character pay but a ludicrously small tax, and the tax that is paid is generally from those who should not have the burden placed upon them. I believe that under the system I suggest rates of interest would be so lowered that the borrower would receive even greater benefit than the lender, owing to the fact that under our present system the lender pays comparatively no tax while by the change no doubt the borrower would get a materially less rate. I would recommend that you place upon the statute books a law requiring that all mortgages recorded shall pay a fee of one-half of one per cent. in excess of the regular recording fee as now provided.

ANNUAL FEES FROM CORPORATIONS.

A bill should be passed similar to that introduced into the senate of the Thirty-second General Assembly by Ericson of Boone to require an annual report from all corporations and a filing fee. Men engaged in business seek to avoid financial responsibility through organization under our corporation laws. This is desirable and proper, but it seems to me that the exemption enjoyed is of such value that those who claim its benefits should be willing to pay for the same. This is no innovation, for we find that our corporations when doing business elsewhere are required to pay annual fees in many of the states. A law of this kind would probably add from one hundred fifty to one hundred seventy-five thousand dollars annually to our state exchequer and still be within the bounds of reason and fairness. I most earnestly recommend it for your consideration.

DIRECT INHERITANCE.

I recommend a direct inheritance tax substantially in the form of the bill which passed the senate of the Thirty-second General Assembly. This seems to me a fair and equitable proposition. It provides for the exemption of the first ten thousand dollars of individual inheritance, then a tax of one per cent. on the second ten thousand dollars, and an additional one per cent. on each added ten thousand dollars, until a maximum of five per cent is reached, which is to be applied to all above fifty thousand dollars. In view of the fact that inheritances are made possible only through organized society it seems to me that the state has a right to exact these small sums which in the aggregate would add largely to the revenues of the state and be from a source where the burden would be felt less than in any other form.

TAXATION OF THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

The state has a law governing the saloons which are legally operated. At this time I desire to refer to their taxation or license fees. It is asserted that 85 per cent. of the destitution, crime and degradation of the state is due to the nefarious traffic in intoxicating liquors. This imposes upon the people an additional expense, which is borne by the communities where no saloons are tolerated as well as by the others, and it is only fair that all counties should share in the revenue derived from mulcting the traffic. With the thought that the saloons may be reduced in number and be under better control and surveillance, I recommend that the law be amended so as to require the payment of an annual license fee of $1,200, divided so that one-third goes to the municipality, one-third to the county and one-third to the state. With the present number of saloons this state tax would amount to about $700,000 annually, and this should be set apart to be used for permanent road construction and other public improvements as contemplated in connection with the State Highway and Conservation Commission before referred to. I believe that with substantial unanimity the people of Iowa would indorse a measure of this character.

ASSESSMENT OF NATIONAL BANKS.

Under the Revised Statutes of the United States the stock of national banks is now assessed as other moneys and credits but to a large degree they escape taxation. You should memorialize the Congress to permit assessment and taxation of national banks the same as state and savings banks in the state of their location. It seems impossible for us to change our system and it is manifestly unfair that banks organized under our laws should be taxed on their capital and surplus while sister institutions, enjoying special advantages, should be permitted in many instances to go scot free.

TRUST COMPANIES.

There is a growing demand in Iowa for financial institutions which are capable of handling the larger financial transactions of our people, especially in the negotiation of bonds and stocks of large corporations. There is also real need for home companies that can act as trustee, administrator or guardian in probate matters. I would recommend a law making it possible to organize and establish trust companies, keeping in mind that the demands of society require greatest care for the protection of the people. A short time ago it was called to my attention that when a railroad company organized in Iowa desired to sell its bonds it was offered in New York 70 cents on the dollar for 5 per cent. bonds. When it is known that in October, 1907, Iowa people were lenders outside of the state to the amount of from one hundred fifty to two hundred million dollars, it would seem that there is abundance of money in Iowa for all purposes if the machinery was only at hand for bringing the lender and borrower together without going away and paying out so much for what belongs to our people.

PARDONS AND SUSPENSIONS.

As required by law, I submit to you a report upon pardons and suspensions of sentences, issued by the governor during the past two years. This report covers the work of my predecessor as I have taken up but very little of this during my brief term. This report shows that during the period seven pardons were issued, four upon the recommendation of the Board of Parole, two upon the motion of the Governor, and one by order of the General Assembly. Of suspensions or conditional paroles there were issued fifty-nine from the penitentiary, and thirty-eight from the county jails; also three suspensions upon recommendation of the Board of Parole, and one upon recommendation of the Board of Control. There were restored to citizenship from parole one hundred and nineteen persons, and in addition six restorations as recommended by the Board of Parole. Of those previously granted suspensions, the governor sent back to the penitentiary eleven convicts, and two to county jail. Of commutations of sentences of convicts, twenty-two were issued by the Governor and seven upon recommendation of the Board of Parole, to which were added eight upon recommendation of the warden to restore good time. Ninety-three fines were remitted, and two previously remitted were forfeited. To a large extent this responsibility will be removed from the office of governor in the future, but I am convinced that the duty has been performed conscientiously and with due regard to the interests of society.

In accordance with the law, I submit to you the names of prisoners convicted of murder in the first degree and sentenced to life imprisonment, who have applied to the Governor for pardon, so that you may take action and advise the Governor as to your wishes. Applications have been made by the following persons:

Will Adams, W. E. Alexander, W. P. Glyndon, Leonard W. Haley, W. M. H. Jones, Hugh L. Robbard, Thomas C. Robinson, Albert Parnitzka, John Penny, L. R. Van Tassel, Thomas W. Watson, C. H. Woodward.

BOARD OF PAROLE.

The working of the Board of Parole law seems to meet the expectation of its friends, but I would suggest that the board be given authority to consider cases before convicted persons are committed. Many cases have come to the notice of the Executive Department in which the ends of justice and the interests of society seem to require intervention before the stain of actual imprisonment. This latitude should be given the board. That section of the law requiring that paroled persons shall remain actual residents of the state, and requiring a specific term of employment, should be changed so that the board would have discretion in these matters. The board should also have authority to fix a definite future time when a sentence shall expire, or a parole be granted. The law providing for good time of prisoners should also be made to apply to prisoners whose terms have been fixed by the Board of Parole, so that this inducement to reform would be present in all cases.

COMPENSATION OF PUBLIC OFFICIALS.

While we as a state have perhaps the largest per capita wealth of any state in the Union, we are paying for most faithful and conscientious services what seems to me inadequate salaries. In civil life men doing the service and having the responsibilities of affairs of the magnitude of the work done by the Board of Control are receiving from five to six thousand dollars annually. We have been paying in the past the members of our Board of Control $3,000—a rate that was established ten years ago when the cost of living was certainly twenty-five per cent. less than it is today. I feel that this condition should not longer obtain; that the servant is worthy of his hire, and that the members of the Board of Control should receive annually $3,500. The same is true of our Secretary of State, our Treasurer of State and the Auditor of State. These men are called upon to leave their homes, are subject almost incessantly of appeals for worthy objects of charity, and after the usual term of six years—unless they have outside sources of income—they have less property than when they entered public life. A railroad company or mercantile company asking for the same conscientious service, and getting it, that these men render the state, would not think of hiring them for less than $3,500. I therefore recommend most earnestly that you increase their compensation to this amount.

ROSTER OF IOWA SOLDIERS.

I would recommend that you make an appropriation to carry on the work of publishing the roster of Iowa soldiers. The report of the Commission in charge of this work shows that substantially half of the compilation has been completed. The appropriation made for commencing this work has been exhausted, and it was well understood at the outset that additional appropriations would be necessary to complete the work. There is nothing more to the credit of the state than this compilation and the printing of the military record of the men who went from Iowa to sustain the cause of the national Union.

PROTECTION FOR LABOR.

While there has been great progress in the perfection of our laws relating to labor in recent years I believe that we can still further improve them. The laborers in the gypsum mines in Iowa deserve the protection of our laws and these mines should be placed on a par with other mines of the state. The growth of our industries has been such that there is an increasing number of accidents to employes in factories and I would suggest that you provide for reports of such accidents to be made promptly to the State Labor Bureau. The child labor law, which has been in operation a few years, has justified its enactment but there is need of facilities for its better enforcement and to that end I would suggest a change in the law placing upon the employer the burden of proof that the law is strictly observed.

OTHER MATTERS.

Under an act of the last General Assembly two of the progressive cities of our state have dispensed with the cumbersome old methods of city government and have placed their affairs under the control of a commission. In my estimation this is the most important reform in municipal government that has ever been attempted anywhere. In my opinion the right of adopting this form of government should be extended to all of our first class and second class cities, without exception.

You would do well to investigate and consider suggestions made in the annual report of the Dairy and Pure Food Commissioner, especially with regard to legislation to check the tendency to concentrate the creamery business in large companies at the expense of the smaller and co-operative creameries.

I have been impressed with the fact that in view of the very large number of visitors who annually come to our State Capitol there should be provided a guide to direct them and possibly some provision should be made for publication of the history of the Capitol and detailed description of its many objects of interest.

I recommend that you prohibit indefinitely the killing of quails in Iowa. It is conceded by all well informed persons that the farmer has no greater friend than the beautiful "Bob White" and he should be given a welcome to our farms and gardens and be encouraged to destroy the innumerable enemies of vegetation.

In view of the great dangers attendant upon the spread of tuberculosis among our domestic animals, and the need of firm measures to eradicate this disease, you will find it advisable to strengthen our laws and to place additional funds at the disposal of those who are fighting the evil.

The State Board of Health in their annual report make a strong showing for the necessity of larger funds to enable them to carry on the work in which they are engaged.

CONCLUSION.

The reports of the State Officials and Chief Executive Officers of State Institutions and of Commissions and Boards are accessible to you for your guidance as to the details of the work that is being done, and the special needs of the various departments of state. In what I have said, I have not attempted to review these reports in full, nor to summarize for you the mine of information contained therein. Neither do I wish you to understand that I have attempted to cover all matters that require your attention; rather that I have pointed out some of the things which ought to be considered in connection with the desire which we all entertain for the best government and the cleanest citizenship.

I would again admonish you to remember that ours is a growing and developing commonwealth, and the needs of today and tomorrow may be vastly different from those of yesterday. Conditions change with the passing years, and new duties appear with the unfolding of the grander civilization. You have accepted trusteeship for the affairs of a great state. Your predecessors performed their duty well, and with motives of highest patriotism. As trustees with full responsibility for the financial administration of the state, you owe it to your constituents and associates, whose confidence you hold, that you do not permit the needless or wasteful expenditure of their money. This obligation cannot be fulfilled by skimping our institutions, or pinching a few petty salaries; but it can be by maintaining the effective safeguards which make certain that full value is received for all disbursements. Yet you must remember that it is not sufficient that our state should have had a glorious past, or that the present is serene. The future must be faced courageously and your planings must ever be, not for today alone, but for a tomorrow stretching out into an endless future. Duty to ourselves must ever be tempered with duty to posterity. Wise investments of today will bring returns in increasing ratio. I have full confidence that you will be able to decide fairly between the emotional outcry against extravagance, behind which the agitator and demagogue so often shield themselves, and the clamorous demand for almost unlimited appropriations, which too often represent thoughtless selfishness. Between your duty to be economical and your impulse to be liberal, you will find many hard problems.

You, gentlemen of the Thirty-third General Assembly, represent a great corporation, composed of two and a quarter million of the most intelligent people of the earth, they having a capital of approximately five billion dollars. You are called upon to make appropriations for the expenditure of taxes collected for public purposes, and it seems to me there should be one determining factor only; not how much is the cost, but whether that which you authorize is worth more than it costs to the corporation you represent. If the answer is affirmative, there would seem to be no chance for further argument.

It is a regrettable thing that many people look upon taxation as an evil. If all taxes were collected equitably and distributed fairly, it would be the greatest blessing of our civilization. Inadequate as the means are for the collection and disbursement of taxes, society could not dispense with this process until something better is provided.

It will be a part of your duty, in the limited time before you, to make provision as well as you can for a more equitable collection of taxes and the fairest disposition possible of the funds of the state. When this is done intelligently, as I know you will do it, the people will rise up and call you blessed.

AN ESTIMATE OF THE INCOME AND THE EXPENSES OF THE IOWA STATE NORMAL SCHOOL.

BIENNIAL PERIOD JULY 1, 1909 TO JUNE 30, 1911.

Financial Statement Condensed—showing present support, necessary expenditures, present demands and actual needs of the Biennial Period July 1, 1909, to June 30, 1911.

I. Teacher's Fund.	Expense.	Income.
1. Permanent Fund now granted annually ....		$ 77,500.00
2. Additional Appropriation requested annually		15,000.00
3. Salaries of Teachers—1908-1909 .....	$ 91,000.00
4. Necessary readjustment of salaries of next biennial period .....	6,650.00
5. Necessary New Teachers—
(1) Supervisor of Advanced Training School .....	$ 1,500.00

(2) Professor of Commercial Teacher Work .....	1,500.00	1,500.00
(3) Instructor—Shorthand and Type-writing .....	1,000.00
(4) Instructor—Penmanship and Book-keeping .....	1,000.00
(5) Instructor in Domestic Science .....	1,000.00	6,000.00
6. Shortage to be supplied from Student Fees..		$ 11,150.00
	<hr/>	<hr/>
	$103,650.00	$103,650.00

II. Contingent Fund.

	Expense.	Income.
1. Permanent Fund now granted annually....		$ 34,000.00
2. Additional Appropriation requested annually		10,000.00
3. Estimated receipts for contracts with school districts and from sales of material.....		5,000.00
4. Salaries of employes—1908-09 .....	$ 20,292.00
5. Necessary increase to salaries of present employes .....	600.00
6. Fuel estimated .....	10,000.00
7. Department supplies estimated .....	7,000.00
8. Office expenses—postage, printing, telegraph, telephone—estimated .....	1,400.00
9. Quarterly Bulletin—estimated .....	3,500.00
10. Water—estimated .....	1,000.00
11. Superintendent's department — express, freight, special labor, many small unclassified items .....	6,000.00
12. Electric light .....	1,000.00
13. Shortage to be supplied from students' fees..		1,792.00
	$ 50,792.00	$ 50,792.00

NOTE.—The increase of the service of the school necessitates more janitor work, more firemen, more repair force, more fuel, more light, and more water. The estimates that have been given during the past years have proven to be less than the actual demand made necessary. This estimate is prepared with the same plan of economy and good service that has been maintained in previous biennial periods. Employes cost a little more per man because of the advance in cost of expert labor than was necessary five years ago. The service of the institution demands the judgment and capability of experts and such are now the employes that are here engaged. Anything less would be wasteful and unduly expensive through incapability and unnecessary destruction of equipment and machinery.

III. Summer Term Fund.

	Expense.	Income.
1. Permanent fund now granted annually .....		$ 8,000.00
2. Salaries of teachers—paid—fifty-five teachers summer of 1908 .....	$ 13,375.00
3. Lectures and other expenses estimated for year .....	500.00

4. Additional teachers for the period—estimated .....	900.00
5. Shortage to be supplied from students' fees..		6,775.00
	$ 14,775.00	$ 14,775.00

NOTE.—The Summer Term is one of the more important sessions of the school year, as a large number of students who are teachers having contracts for the rest of the year are in attendance. The session of 1908 enrolled 1,311 students, most of whom remained throughout the entire six weeks of the session.

IV. Library Fund.	Expense.	Income.
1. Annual appropriation requested .....		$ 5,000.00
2. Annual necessary expenditure for books, periodicals and binding to maintain the library .....	$ 5,000.00
	$ 5,000.00	$ 5,000.00

NOTE.—This is not an appropriation that will make much growth to the library as the use of the equipment by so many students compels much repurchase and repair in order to keep the service in good condition. This fund is just what has been given for several years and should be larger as the needs of the work are constantly growing as efficiency is increased. This appropriation not only supplies the general library but also the special department libraries of geography, physics, chemistry, history, political science and natural science, all of which are worthy of much improvement.

V. Librarian Salary Fund.	Expense.	Income.
1. Annual appropriation requested .....		$ 5,000.00
2. Salaries of librarians and assistants— 1908-1909 .....	$ 4,172.50
3. Additional assistance needed .....	827.50
	$ 5,000.00	$ 5,000.00

NOTE.—This force of workers consists of a librarian at $1,200.00; a cataloger at $80.00 a month; of three assistants at salaries from $80.00 to $60.00 a month. These assistants are trained, educated women and are qualified to assist the students in their library work. This force is the minimum number that can make the service at all commensurate with the working demands.

VI. Paving and Permanent Walks Fund.	Expense.	Income.
1. Appropriation requested .....		$ 5,000.00
2. Amount needed to do the work as planned on the most moderate basis of good material and good work .....	$ 5,000.00
	$ 5,000.00	$ 5,000.00

NOTE.—For the protection of the present property, including floors and interiors, as well as for maintaining a good sanitary condition as to cleanliness, it is necessary to pave the drives and put in permanent walks as rapidly as the buildings are completed. The amount here asked is necessary for the biennial period in order to complete the improvements. This work includes (1) 1,670 lineal feet of driveway 24 feet wide, estimated cost $2,948.00; (2) 3,030 lineal feet curbing, estimated cost $545.50; (3) 1,500 lineal feet sidewalk four feet wide, estimated cost $600.00, and one block street paving, estimated cost $900.

VII. Pipe Organ Fund.	Expense.	Income.
1. Appropriation requested to pay part purchase cost of pipe organ for Auditorium .....		$ 5,000.00
2. Necessary expenditure to obtain such an organ as the school's work demands ....	$ 10,000.00
3. Shortage to be made up by money obtained from lecture course and other activities conducted by the faculty and students....		$ 5,000.00
	$ 10,000.00	$ 10,000.00

NOTE.—The musical demands of the school for the annual May Festival and for concerts and recitals, as well as for daily chapel exercises, are such that this addition to the equipment ought to be cheerfully granted. It has been customary for some years to have the students render each spring one of the great oratorios.

VIII. Nurse and Hospital Support Fund.	Expense.	Income.
1. Appropriation requested for biennial period..		$ 4,000.00
2. Expense of maintenance of such department, estimated .....	$ 7,000.00
3. Shortage to be made from fees .....		3,000.00
	$ 7,000.00	$ 7,000.00

NOTE.—This proposition means that there are no city hospital privileges in Cedar Falls and that it is important to the people of the State that students who become seriously ill should be given such care and attention. It is, therefore, imperative that immediate steps be taken to give this opportunity for protection and assistance to those who are unfortunately ill and away from the care of home and friends. The following statement of actual cases from September 1 to December 23 will indicate in a concrete way the conditions that exist:

- September 5—Miss H.—Typhoid fever.
- September 5—Miss L.—Appendicitis.
- September 7—Miss B.—Appendicitis.
- September 14—Miss B.—Very badly sprained ankle.
- September 16—Miss S.—Fever—three weeks.
- September 17—Miss L.—Acute bronchitis.
- September 17—Miss S.—Typhoid fever—eleven weeks.
- September 20—Miss B.—Stomach inflammation—four weeks.

September 22—Miss H.—Ptomaine poison—there were other cases but more mild.

September 30—Miss S.—Appendicitis.

October 8—Miss F.—Accidental fall—hip injured—disabled and treated several weeks.

October 9—Miss S.—Appendicitis.

October 21—Miss K.—Jaundice.

October 23—Miss S.—Appendicitis.

October 28—Miss G.—Quinsy.

October 28—Miss H.—Appendicitis.

November 5—Miss C.—Nervous prostration.

November 5—Miss C.—Heart and nerves.

December 10—Miss J.—Meningitis.

Agricultural Education.—The management of the Normal School recognizes that there is a growing demand for instruction of public school teachers in the elements of the science of agriculture and allied subjects. The preparation of teachers for this demand is an important problem. To inaugurate this new kind of work requires sufficient land for the experimental and laboratory work and support for the number of teachers that will need to be added. The preparation of teachers ought to precede the beginning of such work by at least three years. This fact is recognized by the Davis bill now pending in Congress.

Permission is asked of the General Assembly to begin this kind of work with the students in training for public school teaching.

Teachers furnished to State.—Of the teacher supply of the State, the Normal School furnished the school year 1907-08 of those in attendance—two hundred and fifty seniors of some course, more than 800 undergraduates and more than 1,300 summer term students. The demand for teachers in the schools paying very meager salaries is so large that it is impossible to furnish persons at the salaries paid. There would not be a student left in the school if those enrolled were willing to accept the positions at the salaries offered. The remedy is better salaries and then better standard of qualifications can be exacted.

Final Word.—It will be a special privilege for the Board of Trustees or the President to give any additional information regarding the Normal School or its management to any member of the General Assembly. It is true that the Normal School is a leading college for teachers and that it has no superior in the United States as investigation will easily establish. Its courses of instruction, its laboratories, its teaching corps, its special facilities for training and culture are very notable indeed. This is true because of the generosity of the people and the wisdom of the General Assembly who combined have permitted these things to be accomplished. To keep this proud place and be better able to serve the people and the schools of the State in the future is the ambition and the hope of the management.

Thanking the members of the General Assembly for liberal consideration and for evident confidence in the past, continued favor and co-operation is requested for the future. Respectfully submitted,

HOMER H. SEERLEY,
President.

INAUGURAL ADDRESS OF GOVERNOR CARROLL.

Members of the Thirty-third General Assembly and Fellow Citizens of Iowa:

Conscious of the great responsibility that has been placed upon me by having been elected as your chief executive, I have taken this most solemn obligation required by our constitution and laws, and through the help of Divine Providence and by your aid and assistance I shall endeavor to fulfill it to the utmost of my ability. Fully realizing that to assume the duties of governor of our state is no light or trivial undertaking, I most solemnly implore the guidance of an over-ruling Providence and earnestly request the co-operation of all the people of our commonwealth to the end that I may succeed in giving you an administration that shall result is the greatest good to our citizens, and in promoting and advancing the many interests of our state. Notwithstanding the duties and responsibilities that must be assumed, I am, nevertheless, profoundly grateful for the high honor that has been conferred upon me.

It is not my purpose, in the short time that I shall detain you, to enter into a general discussion of all the various interests of the state which it might be proper to consider or review in a message to your honorable body, but I shall refer to some of them specifically and join most heartily with our retiring chief executive in recommending for your careful consideration the splendid and thoughtful message which he, in accordance with the laws and customs of our state, transmitted to you day before yesterday. In his review of the affairs of the state he has pointed out the various subjects which in his judgment require the greater attention.

I trust that you will consider most carefully and thoughtfully each and every suggestion which he has made, as his close connection with the affairs of the state, for many years, has given him a broad and comprehensive view of its needs and requirements and renders his opinions of great value.

TAKE NO BACKWARD STEPS.

We are just now passing through a period of public awakening that not only tries the mettle, but tests the judgment of men. The final result of it all must be either the success or the failure of the nation in its efforts to regulate and control large aggregations of capital and to establish a higher standard of political ethics. Some years ago the nation, and our state as well, were engaged in an effort to establish such industries and enterprises in our midst as were necessary to meet the needs and requirements of our people. In order to accomplish the undertaking we were ready to offer every inducement possible, even to the extent of giving large bonuses, land grants and special privileges. Today we are engaged in an effort to regulate and control these same concerns. The last task is no less difficult nor important than the first. I believe you will agree with me that it is a more delicate, if indeed not a more difficult, undertaking because there is a double responsibility, that of protecting the interests of the public and also maintaining, uninjured, the concerns we are seeking to regulate and control.

That great and substantial progress has been made in the direction of corporation regulation, I believe all will agree, but there is much yet to be done. There is, however, in all reform as in all periods of unusual prosperity, great danger of reaction. What shall we have accomplished if after all the effort that has been put forth, both by the state and the nation, to bring about reforms along the lines suggested, with all the attendant agitation and interference with business conditions necessarily resulting therefrom, we are to slacken our energy or lessen our efforts to secure better regulation and control of corporate interests?

The question of the right and duty of the state to regulate and control, not only its own corporations, but those seeking to do business within its borders, is so well established as not to need any argument in its support. I do not now refer to interstate business. Accepting this as the correct rule, the responsibility for action rests upon you as a body, and as individuals, representing a constituency of more than two and one-quarter millions of people who have empowered and authorized you to do all which they in person might direct you to do. This thought, however, should always be kept in mind, that corporations are entitled to the same fair and just treatment that should be given to individuals and no law should be passed or even proposed as to such interests unless its enactment is really necessary and its operations when enacted will better existing conditions. Constant agitation is always harmful. However, there is one thing in particular to which I want to call your attention, that is the necessity for holding on to all the good that has been accomplished by legislation and adding to it rather than receding from it. I do not mean to be understood as saying that you should not thoroughly scrutinize the legislation of the past for the purpose of detecting and correcting any errors that may have been made, for it is my purpose to point out at least a few things which in my judgment should be corrected. In doing so I have in mind the importance of perfecting and perpetuating such laws as will best protect the interests of our people and of adding to or enacting such other laws as necessity may require rather than that any backward steps shall be taken or that there shall be any waning of interest.

HOW TO AMEND THE LAWS.

We have recently had all of the laws passed since 1897 codified and printed in the form of a Supplement to the Code. This codification reveals the fact that in a number of instances amendments to the laws were attempted, which by reason of improper references, are of questionable validity. It also reveals the fact that in many instances numerous amendments have been made to various sections of the Code and that without having the same codified it becomes a very difficult matter for one to know what the law really is and in order to determine the question as to what constitutes the law it becomes necessary to examine not only the Code and the Code Supplement, but all of the session laws made since the last codification and then engraft in or upon the original section all changes that may have been made. I desire to submit for your consideration the inquiry as to whether it would not be wise and desirable in amending any section of the law that the section be rewritten as it would appear when amended. By this means there is, in reality, a codification of the laws brought down to date of last amendment. There can then be no question as to what constitutes the law and the legislature will have a full understanding as to the effect of any proposed changes. This method of amending laws is in vogue in many other states and in my judgment is very much more satisfactory than our present method.

PRIMARY ELECTION LAW.

The last regular session of the General Assembly enacted a law providing that all nominations for state, congressional, legislative and county offices, except for judges of the various courts, shall be made by a vote of the people at a primary election to be held in the month of June of the year in which a general election is to be held. Under the provisions of this law, nominations for offices to be filled at the last general election were made. The working of the law was perhaps as satisfactory as could have been expected, but some weaknesses were apparent, which, in my judgment, should be considered by you at the present session. Before passing any criticism upon the statute, I want to assure you that I am in full sympathy with the principle of the primary and am of the opinion that no radical departure from the general plan of the law should be made at this time, but the weak places should be strengthened and the law should be given a fair test.

There is one thing, however, that causes me to fear that the statute may not meet with final approval, that is, the apparent inability of the voter to acquaint himself with the candidates, especially for the minor state offices and those below the head of the ticket. There seems to be a prevalent belief that the candidate whose name heads the list thereby secures an advantage over his opponent. This has led many individuals to believe that the alphabetic arrangement of names should be abandoned and that names should be rotated upon the ballot. I have hesitated to suggest an amendment touching this point because such a provision must necessarily presume upon either the indifference of our people or their inability to acquaint themselves with candidates, either of which reflects mildly, at least, upon the intelligence of the voter.

But there seems to be some grounds for the belief that the candidate whose name appears first among the list of candidates does secure some advantage over others. If this be true and a reasonable means can be found whereby to obviate the difficulty it should be done, as all candidates should, so far as possible, stand upon absolutely equal footing.

There is another amendment which the experience of the executive council, in passing upon claims, in my judgment, demonstrates beyond question should be adopted, that is, the elimination of that provision which requires the state to pay one-half of the expense of holding the primary election. Each county should meet the expense of its own primary the same as it does the expense of the general election. By such means better economy will be observed and less friction in the payment of claims will follow. The present plan is practically equivalent to the state's collecting the money necessary to meet its portion of the expenses from the counties and then turning it back to them. In addition to this needless requirement, which of itself adds to the expense of the primary, there cannot but be a conflict of opinion, if not of authority, between the various boards of supervisors and the executive council as to the amount that should be paid for various items of expense incurred by the counties. Perhaps the most frequent sources of disagreement are as to the amount that should be allowed for printing the ballots and publishing the notices. As to the last item, it is my judgment that the most satisfactory way to handle that is for the legislature to fix a specific amount that shall be allowed for these publications, which amount should of course be reasonable.

I am impressed with the idea, also, that perhaps June is not the best month in the year for holding the primary. It is a month in which the farmers of necessity must be engaged in their farm work. No later date would obviate this difficulty unless it be some time after harvest and that, in my opinion, would bring the primary too near the date of the general election. I am inclined to believe that March would be a more satisfactory time. In your review of this very important measure, you will doubtless find many other features of it which should receive your careful consideration.

SIMPLIFY THE BALLOT.

In 1892 what is known as the Australian ballot system was adopted in this state. As originally adopted four methods of voting were provided. A straight ticket could be voted by placing a cross in the circle at the head of the ticket or by leaving the circle unmarked and placing a cross in the square in front of the name of each candidate of the party. A mixed ticket could be voted by placing a cross in the circle at the head of any party ticket and then placing a cross in the square in front of the name of any candidate for whom it was desired to vote on any other ticket. Or a mixed ticket could be voted by omitting to mark the circle and by placing a cross in the square in front of the name of every candidate for whom it was desired to vote. The newness of the plan and the different methods of marking resulted in the making of many mistakes and led to a considerable demand for the removal of the circle. I must confess that the suggestion appealed very strongly to me, as it did also to many others. The matter was taken up by the extra session of the Twenty-sixth General Assembly and the law was so modified that the circle was to be used for straight voting only. In my judgment this last method was reasonable and should have remained the law. However, the demand for the removal of the circle continued until the Thirty-first General Assembly removed it.

We have now voted two or more times under each of the three methods above referred to and by comparison should be able to judge as to which is the better and more satisfactory. I have looked with some care as to the results under each of the plans and am thoroughly convinced that the present method does not afford sufficient ease with which to vote a straight party ticket, and by reason of this fact a loss of voters occurs to all candidates below the head of the ticket. This was not true under either of the former methods, or if true the loss was very much less. As proof of the correctness of this statement let me call your attention to the fact that in 1892 when the marking of the ballots was according to the original plan provided for under the Australian system, the combined vote of the republican and democratic parties for president was 416,162 and for secretary of state it was 416,147, or a difference of only 15 votes. In 1896 under the same method of marking, the vote for president was 513,034, while for secretary of state it was 513,527, or 493 more votes for secretary of state than for president. In 1900, under the second method provided, but while the circle was still upon the ballot, the combined vote of the two parties for president was 516,964, while for secretary of state it was 515,454, or only 1,510 more votes for president than for secretary of state. Again, in 1904, under the same method, the combined vote for president was 457,048 and for secretary of state it was 455,280, or only 1,768 difference. But in 1906, the first election held after the circle was removed from the ballot, the combined vote of the two parties for governor was 413,161, while for secretary of state it was only 392,071, or a loss of 21,090 votes, being a loss of more than one vote in every twenty cast for governor, and were the comparison made on some other office than that of secretary of state, the difference would be still greater. Likewise in the recent election, there were 475,981 votes cast for president and only 448,056 for secretary of state, or 27,925 more votes cast for president than for secretary of state, being a loss of about one vote in every seventeen cast for president. This loss of votes is, in my judgment, directly due to the removal of the circle from the ballot. The figures do not indicate that there would be any particular advantage to either party should the circle be restored, but I believe that an easier and quicker method should be provided for the man who wants to vote a straight ticket than that he should be compelled to mark each one of the forty or fifty candidates as he is required to do under the present plan.

The law now recognizes the use of the voting machine and the machine provides an easy method for straight voting. Why, therefore, should not the voter who uses a ballot instead of a machine have the same privilege.

It will doubtless be true for all time that some people will think that so long as the names of candidates for president and vice-president of the United States are printed upon the ballot the voter should in some way indicate his preference of a candidate for these positions. I am reliably informed that many hundreds, possibly thousands, of ballots were thrown out, not counted, that were cast at the recent election, because the voter had placed a cross in front of the name of the candidate for president. A citizen might as well be denied the right to vote at all as that his ballot should be rejected when his intention is so clearly expressed. I am not saying that under the law as it now exists, a ballot so marked should or should not be counted. I am only trying to convey the idea that the law should be changed so as to avoid a recurrence of so gross an injustice both to the voter and the candidate for whom he intended to and in fact did vote. The intention of the voter, especially where there can be no question about it, should far outweigh the remote possibility of the use of some irregular mark as a means of identification and if the law is in effect defeating innocent and honest voters of the right to cast a ballot and have it counted the law should be amended.

In short, I believe the method of voting should be such that it can be accomplished with ease rather than with effort and that every voter should decide for himself as to whether he desires to vote a straight or a mixed ticket, and once having decided the question should be enabled to carry out his wishes in the easiest and most expeditious manner. I know of no way to provide him such means better than to restore the circle to the ballot.

TARIFF REVISION.

There was written into the recent national platform of each of the leading political parties, a declaration in favor of a revision of the tariff. I believe that our people, without regard to political affiliation and almost without exception, want to see the platform promise faithfully kept, not only in spirit, but to the letter, and desire that such a revision be given us as will meet the necessities and requirements of the times. The present law, which is the greatest measure of its kind that has ever been enacted, should form the basis for the new law, adding to or deducting from the rate of duty provided in the various schedules as may seem proper. But that other declaration contained in the platform, viz.: The declaration for the maintenance of the protective principle, should be just as faithfully kept as should the declaration in favor of revision. This nation has attained its present greatness largely as a result of the application of the principle of protection and any abandonment of the principle now would, in my judgment, be as great a mistake as it would have been a half century ago.

Our people are not only in harmony with the declaration of the party platform upon the subject of tariff, but they are in accord with the president and with congress in the enactment of the many reform measures that have found their way into the statute books of the nation in recent years, and there is a sincere desire that such additional laws be enacted as are necessary to make these statutes more effective. While we look with fear and disfavor upon any reckless or untimely legislation pertaining to the corporate interests of the country, there is, nevertheless, an earnest desire to see both congress and the various legislatures, in a careful and conservative manner, continue the efforts that have already been put forth to the end that such interests, everywhere, whether large or small, shall be made to respect and obey the law and regard the rights not only of the public, but of the individual.

PROTECT OUR RESOURCES.

On the 13th day of May, last, there convened at the White House in Washington, in response to an invitation from the president, the governors and other prominent citizens of the various states, to discuss and consider the question of the conservation and use of the national resources of the nation. The president, in his address of welcome to the gathering, declared the question which he had brought his distinguished visitors together to consider, to be "the weightiest problem now before the nation." If he is correct in his estimate of the importance of the matter, we can well afford to pause for a moment to consider how it affects us and what relation it bears to our commonwealth. In his discussion of the conservation and use of natural resources, the president divides them into two classes, viz: Those which can and those which cannot be restored or renewed when once they are exhausted. He declares that:

"We have become great by the lavish use of our resources and we have just reason to be proud of our growth. But the time has come to inquire seriously what will happen when our forests are gone; when the coal, the iron, the oil and gas are exhausted, when the soil shall have become still further impoverished and washed into the navigation. These questions do not relate only to next century or the next generation. It is time for us now, as a nation, to exercise the same reasonable foresight in dealing with our great natural resources that would be shown by any prudent man in conserving and wisely using the property that contains the assurance of well-being for himself and his children."

It is possible that our people, without stopping to consider the matter, do not fully realize the relation of our state to this very important and far reaching subject and its bearing upon our future welfare. We have well nigh reached the period already at which our forests are gone. Our supply of coal, while apparently almost inexhaustible, is being mined at an enormous rate and it is apparent that in some parts of the state, at least, the soil is not being protected as it should. I presume that few, if any, would argue that fertile land, such as is found in most parts of our state, should be devoted extensively to the growth of forests or timber and yet it might be well for us to consider whether it would not be wise and profitable if our people would devote a portion of the land skirting the rivers and lakes of the state and that which is least suitable for cultivation to the growth of such varieties of timber as do best in this climate and as will be in demand for future use. Forests fall within the class of natural resources which the president refers to as being capable of restoration, even though it would require a number of years to grow timber of sufficient size as to be of commercial value. It requires no great stretch of the imagination, however, for one to reach the conclusion that future generations may be driven to the growing of timber for fuel when once the supply of coal, oil and gas shall have become exhausted, as is reasonable to assume will occur somewhere down the ages.

Were there an effort made to curtail the output of coal in the state in order that the time at which it shall have become exhausted may be pushed ahead by some years it would necessarily have to be done, to some degree at least, at the expense of present business enterprise and activity, unless present activities may be turned to other channels but there is a line of thought and action which we may pursue that is not only in accord with present business enterprise, but which would greatly add to the productive resources of the state if properly observed, that is, the building up and husbanding of the soil. So long as present prices of lands obtain the necessity for building up or even maintaining the productiveness of the soil does not seem so important, but the time is approaching when the necessity will be more apparent. While our people are to be highly commended for the great growth and progress which has been made in the way of better farming it is my judgment that the time will come when our farms will be made to produce, per acre, far in excess of what they now produce.

However, the waste of the soil itself is scarcely more subject to criticism than is the waste of the products of the soil. Frugality and the absence of it clearly mark the difference between the successful and the unsuccessful man. Especially is this true of those who reside upon the farms. The farmer who ploughs the corners, cultivates the fence rows, houses the machinery, shelters the live stock and leaves no forage or grain to waste in the fields is the man who usually has a bank account. Our people will have learned a great lesson, taken a great step in advance when they shall have reached the conclusion that it is more profitable to farm fewer acres and do it better. Landlordism is no particular advantage to our country. While there can be no objection to a man who does not reside upon a farm owning a reasonable number of acres, the owning of the farm by the man who tills it should be encouraged. The marked improvement, however, in farming and all kinds of agricultural pursuits in recent years is very gratifying and furnishes ample proof of the fact that there are still greater things in store for the future.

A COMMISSION ON CONSERVATION OF NATURAL RESOURCES.

It has been suggested that a commission be created for the purpose of studying the natural resources of the state and recommending to the people such means as may be employed to conserve those which are in danger of being exhausted and to develop those whose power and usefulness have remained latent, but which by proper effort might be brought into use. Especially is it desirable that careful consideration be given to the possibility of utilizing some of the larger streams of the state as a means of transportation and for furnishing power for the generating of electricity and the running of machinery, thereby serving the double purpose of not only furnishing power and convenience in transportation, but also indirectly protecting the coal fields and other natural resources of the state. Those who have suggested the creation of such a commission believe that it could be maintained without expense to the state, that is, that persons could be found who would gladly meet their own expense in connection with their services as members of such commission. Personally, I am of the opinion that such an arrangement would perhaps fail to accomplish the best results. I do believe, however, that the commercial organizations of the various cities of the state which have already taken up the study of the conservation and development of our natural resources, would be glad to concentrate their efforts and contribute of their funds toward the maintenance of such a commission if the state will lend its moral influence and support to the proposition. It has, therefore, occurred to me that it might be profitable to consider the creation of a commission for conservation and development of natural resources, which should consist of at least five members, each of the five largest commercial clubs or business men's associations of the various cities of the state naming one member, the expense of the members and of the commission to be borne by the association represented, or it might be advisable to permit each club of the state desiring membership in such commission to name one member, if the club is willing to bear its share of the expenses as above provided. I would not, however, deem it wise that the membership of the commission exceed ten or fifteen at most. The state should issue a commission to each of the persons named in accordance with the above suggestions and it should be known as "The Iowa Conservation Commission," thereby giving the state's support and influence to the work contemplated.

A MERCHANT MARINE.

In my judgment our nation needs to be thoroughly aroused to the necessity for the re-establishment of a merchant marine. While we have been making great and rapid progress in almost every line or branch of trade, industry or business enterprise, we have signally failed as to a merchant marine. Some obvious reason must exist why this nation has not been able to compete with other nations in the matter of shipping upon the high seas. I do not pretend to understand fully what this cause is, but it seems to me that several elements enter into and effect it. First, let us look at the course of our foreign carrying trade in recent years. Statistics show that a change adverse to our interests has been going on almost constantly since 1860. During that year the value of our foreign carrying trade, carried in American vessels, was more than $507,000,000, which was substantially two-thirds of the value of our entire foreign carrying trade for the year. This percentage has never been reached since that date and there has been a gradual falling off until in 1898 the value of our foreign trade carried in American vessels was only $161,000,000, or only a trifle more than nine per cent of the whole, and was only about thirty per cent of the value of the trade in 1860 carried in American vessels. For the year 1907 only about ten and one-half per cent of our foreign trade was carried in American vessels.

Such a showing for the greatest commercial nation of the globe is anything but complimentary. To say that such a condition ought not to continue is but to voice the feelings and sentiments of every loyal American citizen who rejoices in the greatness and success of his country. This is not simply a matter of sentiment nor of choice as to whose vessels shall carry our products consigned to foreign markets. It is a question of vital importance to our nation. American labor is entitled to its share of the wages paid for handling the products of other American labor. American capital is entitled to invest in this great branch of business. But you may say there is nothing to prevent capital from so investing. That is true, but it must be admitted that foreign shipping has proven unprofitable for the investment of American capital or such investment would be made, as capital is always seeking profitable investments. The difficulty seems to be largely that of wages and subsidies.

Under a law enacted many years ago the coastwise trade between American ports is given exclusively to American vessels. The average wages paid to American seamen, we are informed, is $25.00 per month and to firemen $35.00 to $40.00 per month. At Liverpool seamen are paid an average of $18.00 per month and firemen $20.00 per month. Add to this difference in cost of labor the amount paid to the English shipman by his government, as subsidies, and it can readily be seen what has driven our ships from the seas. There should be no thought to reduce the wages paid to American laborers to a level with that of the labor of other countries, consequently some other means must be found whereby the advantage in the cost of labor and of subsidies to the foreign shipper can be met. Congress alone can deal with this question, but it is entirely proper that an interest be taken in it by a hinking public.

It is not only labor and capital that are interested in the establishment of trans-oceanic shipping, but the security of the nation itself is involved. It is a regrettable fact that in recent years when the consequences of war made it necessary that our troops be transported, the ships of other nations had to be procured. What a spectacle, indeed, it is to see the army of a great nation of ninety millions of people carried from place to place under the flags of other nations. It is freely asserted that in the event of a foreign war this nation could not supply sufficient sea-going vessels to act as auxiliaries to our navy much less to transport troops. Other nations assist in the building of ships and by so doing are able to call them into service in times of war. With no merchant marine we employ no labor upon the seas, we invest no capital in ocean shipping, we train no sailors, we have no transports, we are at the mercy of others. How long will our nation permit itself to remain thus? I am not arguing for ship subsidies. I hope some other solution to the question can be found. The necessity for the establishment of this great enterprise is all that I am considering.

DOMESTIC COMMERCE.

In discussing questions of national interest we are liable to forget those things closer to ourselves and with which we as individuals should deal. The question of domestic transportation is of great importance to our state. I refer now more especially to railway transportation. It is not only a question as to the cost of transportation, either passenger or freight, but more particularly a question as to discriminations against our state and in favor of other states, or against cities of our state as compared with other cities. I want to commend the action of the commercial clubs, not only of our capital city, but of other cities of the state, in their efforts to learn the facts as to such discriminations and to remove any existing disadvantages to our people. I trust that you, as members of the General Assembly, will interest yourselves in these matters and if you find additional legislation needed to protect our interests along the lines above suggested, such legislation should be promptly enacted.

PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION.

The question of the establishment of a commission to regulate and control the public utilities of the state has been discussed to a greater or less extent by some of our people and is, in my judgment, a subject worthy of your careful consideration. Such a system has been adopted in several of the older and in some of the newer states. Just how to harmonize our present statutes to such a system I am not prepared to say. In the various states the power of the commission differs. The scope of the power in some states at least embraces railways, street railways, telephone lines, electric light plants, gas and water plants and possibly other interests. The commission is given authority to regulate the issue of stocks and bonds, the making of rates, the methods of accounting, has power to inspect, etc. The authority granted to the commission in other states is, in this state, lodged with various officials, viz.: The executive council of the state, the railway commission, the city councils and the people of cities by the granting of franchises. It would perhaps be more satisfactory if the exercise of these various powers were lodged with a single board or commission to be known as a "Public Utilities Commission." This might be done by the creation of an entirely new commission, by enlarging the powers of the railway commission or by converting the railway commission into a public utilities commission. Should this last suggestion be adopted I think it might be advisable to increase the membership of the commission to five. In such an event I believe that the additional members should be appointed by the governor and confirmed by the senate and as the terms of the present commissioners expire, their successors should be appointed and confirmed as above suggested. Should an entirely new commission be created, it should be placed in office by appointment and confirmation.

The fact that ours is a comparatively young state and has few large cities may lead to the conclusion that the same necessity for legislation along the lines above suggested does not exist as in older states, but it should be remembered that we legislate for the future as well as for the present. We have already enacted laws with reference to public weighing places in order that those who have commodities to sell may not be taken advantage of by those who buy. Is it not just as necessary that those who will buy shall not be wholly at the mercy of those who have to sell, especially where there can be no choice of places of buying, such as in the purchase of water, gas and electricity, and is it not just as proper that the meters through which the measurements are made should be tested and read by a public official or employe who is in no way influenced by the corporation selling the commodity as it is that there be a public weighmaster to stand between the buyer and seller of commodities disposed of by weight? The cities of the state perhaps have authority over most of these matters now, but local influences are often such that the exercise of authorities granted is very meager.

This whole subject is one far reaching in its effect and of great importance to all of our people. In my judgment its consideration can not and should not be long deferred. I believe that it is entitled now to your most thoughtful consideration.

A REVENUE COMMISSION.

There has been inaugurated in our state, as in many other states, a movement in favor of a general revision of our revenue laws. This is, in my opinion, one of the very important subjects that you will be called upon to consider at this session. There is perhaps no other chapter in the entire code that so directly affects all of the people of the state as the chapter pertaining to the taxation of property. Neither is there another chapter more difficult to frame so as to meet with general approval. That there are many provisions in the present law which are both inequitable and indefensible cannot be denied, neither is it probable that any law will ever be enacted, which is not, to a greater or less degree, subject to these criticisms. But, it is desirable that such conditions be avoided, so far as is possible. Neither can it be denied that in some respects at least our tax laws are not up to date as compared with the laws of some other states.

It is proposed that a commission be appointed for the purpose of making a study of the question of revenues and taxation, which commission shall report to the next session of the General Assembly a bill embodying a proposed new law upon the question of taxation. Our past experience with such a commission has not been very satisfactory, the report of one or more such commissions having been rejected by the legislature, but the magnitude and importance of an attempted revision of the revenue laws is such that in my judgment it could not, with satisfaction, be accomplished during a regular session of the legislature unless the preparation of the bill is made during a recess. The last revision of the revenue laws was made at a special session of the legislature, that is, at the extra session of the Twenty-sixth General Assembly, and that after the Code commission had reported a bill and it had been worked upon by the Ways and Means committee of the preceding regular session. I believe that if a revision of the revenue laws of the state is deemed by you to be desirable, a commission, either composed of members of two houses, to be appointed by the presiding officers thereof, or of other persons to be selected in such manner as you may determine should be created for the purpose. The commission should be given power to make a thorough and searching inquiry and investigation into the laws of other states and should be given abundant time to complete its work and make its report sufficiently early to enable the legislature and the people to give it a thorough study before the meeting of the session of the Thirty-fourth General Assembly.

REVISION OF SCHOOL LAWS.

The Thirty-second General Assembly created a commission to consider and report to this session of the legislature, a proposed revision of the entire school laws of the state. The work has been done and the report is now before you for consideration. I need not say to you that the importance of the measure is such as to require your best thought and attention. There are many provisions of the proposed law which are a wide departure from the present statute pertaining to schools. Indeed there are some very radical changes proposed. The fact that this wide difference between the two measures exists should neither condemn the proposed law nor commend it to you. It should only cause you to give it the more thoughtful consideration. Personally, I am favorably impressed with many features of the bill that is up for consideration. It must be admitted by all that there is much need of a change in our present school code. It has not been my privilege to study the proposed law sufficiently to feel warranted in passing criticism upon it, but I feel that the importance of the work can not be over-estimated.

THE AUDITOR'S OFFICE.

Having recently retired from the office of the auditor of state, I trust that you will not deem it improper if I make a few observations as to the affairs of that office. It is generally recognized not only by our own people, but by all those who are acquainted with the various interests now supervised by the auditor, as being one of the very important offices of the state. I know from experience, that the enormous amount of work connected with the various departments makes it impossible for anyone to familiarize himself with all the details of the office and with the law with reference thereto, so as to know when the several departments are being properly managed and supervised.

I have called attention, through my published reports, to the necessity for relieving the auditor of some portion of the work now enjoined upon him, and now that I am no longer directly connected with the office I can speak with more freedom and with much less embarrassment. I can say to you with assurance that I know whereof I speak, that neither time nor human endurance makes it possible for any man to personally supervise the auditing department, the revenue department, the insurance department, the banking department, the municipal accounting department and to serve as a member of the executive council with the enormous amount of business now connected with each of these branches of the auditor's office and the rapid increase in the business of each and all of them. I say it is impossible for any man to do all of the above without great injustice to himself or to some of the various interests of the state entrusted to his care. I do not now care to pursue this discussion to the extent of suggesting how relief should be given to this department of our state government. That I shall leave for you to consider, but I am deeply in earnest as to the necessity for some action to be taken with reference thereto.

FEEES AND PER DIEM.

I wish also to suggest to you one other matter which touches, in a way, several departments of the state's business, that is, the question of fees and per diem. I have for a long time believed that in so far as it becomes possible the per diem and fee systems of compensation should be abolished. The more I observe the workings of each the more thoroughly I become convinced that they are wrong. Especially is the per diem system objectionable where the official who is compensated for his services upon a per diem basis is not under the direction or control of some other official whose compensation is a fixed amount and is in no way affected by the per diem. I believe that in almost every instance where the per diem system now prevails the scope of the work to be performed is such that it can readily be determined what would be a reasonable compensation therefor and that in all such cases a fixed salary should be provided.

DOCUMENTS AND PRINTING.

In my judgment, your committee on printing should look carefully into the question of the number of reports and documents that are now provided for in order to determine whether or not an unnecessarily large number of some of them is not now printed; also, to see if the demand for some kinds of reports and documents may not have increased so as to make it desirable that a larger number be supplied. The value and demand for some of the reports depends very largely upon the time at which they are ready for distribution. In the past the date at which some of these reports were ready for the public has been so late that many of them remain in the storage rooms of the state. I believe that the executive council should be clothed with some additional authority in the matter of printing and where it becomes apparent to the council that the state printer will be unable to furnish the work within the proper time, the council shall have authority to place it elsewhere at the price now allowed the state printer or upon competitive bids.

LAW ENFORCEMENT.

Events which transpired in comparatively recent months caused much comment and brought forth a demand for better enforcement of laws. There should be no division of sentiment among us upon the question of law enforcement. All good citizens ought to agree as to the necessity for proper respect for and compliance with the laws. The agitation referred to arose largely over matters pertaining to violations of the liquor statutes of the state. It is not my purpose here to discuss the provisions of our liquor laws nor to offer, except in a general way, a remedy for their violation. That which may be said as to the necessity for enforcement of the liquor statutes may also be said in favor of the enforcement of all laws. No law is self-enforcing. The fact that a law is not enforced may be due either to a lack of proper provision for its enforcement or to neglect upon the part of officials enjoined with the duty of seeing that the laws are obeyed. If it be due to the former cause there should be better provision made for enforcement, and if to dereliction to duty then the means whereby neglectful officials can be punished or deposed should be made easy and effective. While the official who fails to do his duty as to the enforcement of the liquor statutes of the state is deserving of criticism, the official who fails to perform his duty as to the enforcement of other laws is equally entitled to public censure. There is a constant plea for liberality in the construction of statutes, especially of criminal statutes, which within reasonable limits perhaps ought not to be criticized, but such construction at times becomes almost if not quite equivalent to a disregard for the spirit of the law. Laws ought to be enforced, they should be strictly enforced. If perchance they be too drastic let them be amended but let them at all times be obeyed. Laxness in law enforcement leads to a disregard for the law itself and to disrespect for and distrust of public officials. In the main, I believe the people will be given just such official service as they demand. There may be, in fact there is, great difference between public officials as to their natural inclinations toward strict construction and enforcement of laws, but I believe that there are few men in official positions but what will respond to demand from the people. Therefore, I say to you, not as members of the legislature, but as citizens of our state, and through you to all the citizens of the state fix your own standard of official service, let your public servants know what you expect and require of them and he who fails to respond will soon find his official career at an end.

It is perhaps true that the liquor laws of the state are more difficult of enforcement than most other statutes, but in my opinion it is due rather to local influences than to the weakness of the law itself. A district judge and a county attorney fearless in the performance of duty, with a sheriff or constable of like character, will find little difficulty in commanding respect, not only for the liquor statutes, but for all laws of the state. I have said that in my opinion local influences have much bearing upon the situation. If it be that local officials will not require obedience to the statutes, then the power and authority to enforce the laws should be lodged with officials removed from these local influences, but if that be deemed necessary there should also be a provision requiring such local officials as fail to perform their duty to step aside and give place to others who will see that the laws are enforced and the means whereby this can be brought about should be effective.

I am not pleading for any particular statute nor for any particular plan. I am only saying what I believe every good citizen of the state will endorse and that is, that lawlessness ought not to and must not be permitted in our commonwealth.

LEGISLATIVE RESPONSIBILITY.

Members of the General Assembly, in closing I want to assure you that I fully appreciate the important position of the legislator, as I have been privileged to occupy a seat in your honorable body. No greater responsibility rests upon any official than the responsibility resting upon the men who make the laws. The executive or administrative officer whis faithful to duty will carry into effect the laws which he finds upon the statute books. Therefore, the responsibility of determining the effect of a statute should rest with the legislature. You alone can determine the character of our laws. Others may suggest, others may assist, others may influence the course of legislation, but you alone can act or refuse to act. I want to assure you of my hearty co-operation in everything and in every way which my judgment leads me to believe to be for the best interests of the state. I have but one object in view and that is to see Iowa become a greater and grander state. Its advancement has been marvelous. We have it from so good authority as Hon. Samuel Merrill, a former governor of our state, that at the time of his inauguration in 1868 there were only twelve hundred miles of railroad in our state, and only one-sixth of our lands were then enclosed. We have, since that date, brought the remaining five-sixths of our lands into cultivation and have built fully nine thousand miles of railroad. These are mere suggestions as to the possibilities of our state. We have not yet even approached the limit of its greatness. With united effort and continued co-operation we shall still see greater accomplishments along the lines of agricultural and commercial attainments, intellectual advancement and moral strength and courage. But, I can not close without referring to one other subject, that is, to our state institutions. Especially do I want to recommend for them the most liberal treatment consistent with the condition of our public finances and a reasonable levy for state purposes. There is a universal desire that our educational institutions continue to furnish for our youth and young men and young women every possible opportunity for educational and intellectual advancement, and that eleemosynary and penal institutions continue to provide for those who find lodgment within their confines, the best possible means of care and improvement.

Our people are justly proud of our state and of its institutions and we should write it upon the tablets of our hearts and emblazon it upon our banners that in comparison with other states and with the institutions of other states there shall be none better than our own.

Minutes of the joint convention read and approved.

On motion of Senator Saunders, of Pottawattamie, the joint convention was dissolved.

The House reconvened.

Total balances .....		<hr/> $85,052.88
----------------------	--	-------------------

It is the policy of the College not to draw funds from the State Treasury until needed. An exception to this occurs at the end of the fiscal year when balances are drawn to avoid any legal question regarding their reversion. The ordinary balance of State funds in the local depository average less than $5,000.00. The balance in the hands of the State Treasurer is often as high as $50,000.00. This has been helpful to the State Treasury during the past biennial period.

Under the law, sales of departments and hospital receipts are reported separately. The following are the receipts and expenditures on these accounts during the biennial period.

Sales of Departments.

For year 1906-7.....	$51,490.12
For year 1907-8.....	57,027.03
Total .....	$108,517.15

The proceeds of these sales are re-invested by the departments. This revolving fund as it comes and goes amounts simply to a change in department assets.

College Hospital Account.

Receipts.

Cash on hand July 1, 1906.....	$ 695.38
Receipts from students and others in 1906-7.....	$4,390.07
Receipts from students and others in 1907-8.....	3,854.81
Total .....	$8,940.26

Disbursements.

For expenses of maintenance, 1906-7.....	$3,971.46
For expenses of maintenance, 1907-8.....	3,097.87
Cash on hand July 1, 1908.....	1,870.93
Total .....	$8,940.26

The hospital is self supporting. It neither adds to nor detracts from the income of the College. By the payment of a small fee each semester the student is insured the privileges of the hospital without further expense. The Board simply manages the fund in trust for the student body.

IV. Number of Instructors and Student Enrollment.

Instructors.

1906-7.

Professors, assistant professors and administrative officers.....	67
Instructors and assistants .....	82
Total .....	149

1907-8.

Total .....	160

There is but one way in which I can prove how highly I value the confidence that has been given to me. It is not by attempting to express the appreciation which fills my heart, but by the faithful performance of the duties of the office to which I have been elected. That, as I thread my path through the intricacies and difficulties of national legislation, I will make many mistakes, may be taken for granted. I make no pledge to be always right, but I do pledge you, and through you the people of Iowa, all my strength of mind and conscience in a constant endeavor to discover what is right, and then courage enough to say what is true as I see the truth and to do what is just as I understand justice.

A commission from the people of any state to represent them in the Senate of the United States is a distinguished honor, but I firmly believe that it is a greater honor to represent this commonwealth than any other state in the Union. There are states with a larger population, with five- or ten-fold the wealth, with more industries and more commerce; but there is no state whose people, as a whole, have continuously so true a conception of government, its scope and its limitations, so lofty a standard of public duty, so intelligent a comprehension of public questions; and who are so quick to rebuke infidelity and so loyal in their support of the faithful public servant, as the state of Iowa. To represent such a people in the most exalted legislative tribunal of the world is the highest distinction in human affairs, and I recognize not only its extraordinary character but its unequalled responsibilities as well.

Whether I can answer the tests which such a people exact; whether I can successfully bear the burdens which such a constituency creates; whether I can keep pace with such a people in the rushing march of progress, the future alone can determine. Of one thing, however, I am certain: I enter the work assigned to me conscious that in these people there rules over me a judge keen of vision, pure of purpose, tolerant of honest difference of opinion, but stern and relentless in its decree against inability to perceive the common welfare or treason to the common good.

I congratulate the Thirty-third General Assembly upon the state whose destinies it controls, and upon the opportunities before it for wise and wholesome legislation. I confess to just a shade of envy when I reflect upon the plain, simple and direct methods which you will employ in reaching your ends and compare them with the rules and usages under which the body of which I am a member acts. I do not desire to disparage Congress, but I cannot suppress the suggestion that it would do the national tribunal a world of good if it could sit here for a few days and see the General Assembly of Iowa at work and observe how easy it is to do things in a speedy, orderly and effective way. There is a certain kind of slowness in legislation which no right-thinking man ought to criticise or of which he ought to complain. There is a certain kind of conservatism which not only should not be condemned, but which is in the highest degree praiseworthy, for it is essential to all permanent progress. The conservatism which recognizes an existing wrong and carefully deliberates upon the remedy is patriotic; but the conservatism which stands still because it has neither the inclination nor the courage to go forward, which refuses to know the truth because the truth may hurt somebody or some thing, is at the present moment the most powerful enemy of good government.

It is but natural that upon this occasion our minds should turn toward the work that Congress must do, if it is to be done at all. Instinctively, I think, we always feel that the questions of the immediate future are the most important and the most vital which have ever arisen. It is well that we look forward, under the impulse of this sentiment, for it better prepares us for the difficulties that must be encountered.

As I look ahead, it seems to me that Congress is about to meet some of the most perplexing problems which have ever engaged the thought of the people of the United States. We are fast reaching the moment when the flexibility of our Constitution must again be tried. For instance, there is now pending before the Senate a measure establishing what are called postal savings depositories—or, to use the term in which they are commonly described, postal savings banks. The Constitution gives Congress the authority to establish postoffices, and somewhere in this grant of power must be found, if it exists, the authority to create a savings bank system. While I am in profound sympathy with the effort to stimulate a habit of saving among our people, I realize, first, that it will tax the ingenuity of the constitutional lawyer to find a safe footing for adding to the ordinary functions of a postoffice the business of a bank. I realize, also, that it will require great care to prevent the postal savings bank from introducing disorder into our existing commercial and financial adjustment.

Again, the most serious menace in our industrial affairs is the tendency toward the absorption by a single corporation of its competitors in manufacture or in business, with a resulting monopoly. I think we will all agree that the ninety millions of people who compose the American republic must not be required to resort to a single seller for any product, or be limited to a single buyer for any product. Monopoly in any important thing has always been and is now an intolerable condition. In the very nature of things the states cannot furnish the remedy, whatever it may be, which will protect us against the tendency so marked in these modern times. When you turn to Congress for relief, it must find its sole authority to act in that single phrase, "the regulation of commerce between the states." It is clear that in order to prevent the thing which we condemn, we must begin with the organization of the corporation. We must be able to require a proper capitalization. We must be able to limit the operations of the corporation when once created. And as I view the subject, the next few years will demand a constitutional interpretation compared with which the liberality of former years was plain and literal.

One of two things must be true. Either the national authority must be extended by construction beyond anything heretofore recognized, or the Constitution must be amended. The latter course seems almost impossible, and the former, therefore, is the one upon which we are driving our way.

In what I have said I have been thinking only of the industrial or private corporations engaged in inter-state commerce; but there still remain the transportation companies, in the regulation of which we have just made a beginning. It is a matter of congratulation that the first step has been safely taken. The power of the government to see that transportation rates are reasonable in themselves, and that they do not discriminate against either persons or localities, has been established, and, in a way, this authority has been conferred upon the Inter-state Commerce Commission. We must before long, as I think, take another step. As it is now, a shipper can secure justice only through an individual appeal to the Inter-state Commerce Commission, with all its attendant difficulties and expense. While the authority of the Commission is ample, experience has shown us that if it is exercised only in the way now provided, the relief hoped for will never come. It is high time that the people should think carefully of a further proposition, namely, that rates shall be fixed, either by the general operation of a law, or by the action of the Commission in the establishment of freight tariffs upon its own initiation, giving to the transportation companies the right and imposing upon them the burden of securing a modification upon a clear showing of injustice. It will not be until some such provision is made that we will enjoy the benefits of the struggle which culminated in the enactment of the present inter-state commerce law.

There are many other phases of our commercial and industrial life which might with equal propriety be instanced to indicate the gravity of the work before us, but I forbear. My purpose at this time is not to discuss these things, but to point out that we are entering a period in which the duties that govern both state and nation will be more difficult and more important than ever before. You have commissioned me to bear a part in this work, and I want you to know that I look upon that commission as a call to labor, and to the utmost limit of my strength I will do what I can to reach a fair solution of the problems of legislation, with an eye single to the welfare of my fellow-men.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE.

Darrah of Lucas, from the Committee on Contested Elections, submitted the following report:

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee on Contested Elections, to whom was referred the contest from the 45th Representative District of Iowa, comprising the county of Clinton, wherein Sid D. Robb is contestant and A. W. Kendall incumbent, beg leave to report that they have had the same under consideration and have instructed me to submit the following report:

J. H. DARRAH,
Chairman.

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee appointed by the House to consider the contest pending in the case of Albert W. Kendall vs. Sid D. Robb, consisting of Darrah of Lucas, Bowman of Linn, Byerly of Jones, McDonald of Carroll and Wilson of Tama, met pursuant to the call of the chairman at 2 o'clock on January 21, 1909. All members of the committee were present. The notice of contest filed by Sid D. Robb, contestant, and the answer of Albert W. Kendall, incumbent, were read in the presence of the committee. Attorney Sullivan appearing for the incumbent and Attorney Miller appearing for the contestant. The attorney for the incumbent asked that all ballots cast at the November election, 1908, be re-counted, provided that such ballots in the judgment of the committee had been properly preserved, to which proposition Attorney Miller for the contestant agreed. Chairman Darrah was authorized to issue a subpoena to Frank W. Leedham, County Auditor of Clinton County, to appear in person before the committee, bringing with him all ballots cast in the November election and the poll books as returned by the judges of said election, on Tuesday, January 26, 1909 at 2:30 p. m., at which time the question as to the proper preservation of the ballots would be argued and determined as to whether or not said ballots should be considered competent to be admitted as original evidence in said contest.

On Tuesday, January 26, 1909, your committee on contest met pursuant to agreement. Frank W. Leedham, being duly sworn, testified as follows as shown by Exhibit "A" hereto attached and made a part of this report.

At the close of Mr. Leedham's testimony the attorney for the contestant offered in evidence the ballots cast at the last general election in the various precincts in Clinton County. The attorney for the incumbent objected to the ballots being offered in evidence as being incompetent and immaterial and irrelevant and not being the best evidence and asked that the following witnesses be summoned to appear and give testimony as to the preservation of the ballots.

On Wednesday, January 29, 1909 at 1:30 p. m., the committee on contest, pursuant to the call of the chairman, met and the following witnesses for the incumbent appeared to testify as to the preservation of the ballots: J. E. Ryan of Clinton, W. J. Oakes of Clinton, F. G. Hanson of Clinton, R. C. Langan of Clinton and Chas. Mordhorst of Springrock testified as follows as shown by Exhibit "A," attached hereto and made a part of this report.

Mr. Miller, attorney for the contestant, made the following statement for the purpose of simplifying matters:

We admit that the ballots cast at the general election in the First and second precincts of the first ward, the second ward, the third ward, the first and second precincts of the fourth ward and the fifth ward in the city of Clinton are inadmissible in evidence, and we withdraw from the further consideration the contest with respect to the second ward of Clinton.

These precincts to which are referred, constitute the old city of Clinton.

Attorney Sullivan for the incumbent filed with the committee the following objection:

Comes now Albert W. Kendall and renews his objection heretofore made to the introduction of the ballots and the receipt of the same as evidence in this contest for the reason that said ballots were not preserved as the law requires and thereby are not original evidence. That the evidence so far discloses that said ballots were not strung to wire or the packages sealed or otherwise preserved as the laws of the State of Iowa prescribes, and thereby said ballots become incompetent as original evidence.

The chairman of the committee announced that if there were no further evidence to produce or further testimony on the part of either the contestant or incumbent that the attorneys and all other persons should retire and the committee proceed to meet in executive session for the consideration of the objection as proposed by the attorney for Mr. Kendall as to the introduction of the ballots as original evidence in this contest.

Your committee desires to state that upon the evidence submitted to this committee, filed with the Chief Clerk of this House as Exhibit "A," your committee finds that the ballots returned by various judges of election in the county of Clinton were not properly sealed; that they were not strung with wire and in some instances not placed in envelopes, nor otherwise properly returned as provided by law. That while said ballots were in the possession of the County Auditor and during the time they were deposited in the vault in the auditor's office, certain persons, such as attorneys, abstracters, members of the board of supervisors and various other persons were permitted to, and did enter the vault for the purpose of finding books and records, and that while no evidence was submitted to show, nor no inference was made that any fraud had been committed, or that any one had tampered with said ballots, said attorney for the incumbent held that under the ruling of the Supreme Court in such cases that the opportunity was presented and that the ballots having thus been exposed and such opportunity having been presented, that the ballots could not be properly admitted as original evidence. The incumbent in his answer to the statement of contest demanded a recount of the entire vote of Clinton county in case your committee thought that a recount was admissible, which recount, owing to the condition of the ballots as returned from the various precincts in Clinton county and the manner in which they had been preserved, a majority of your committee decided could not be granted. Therefore the objection as to the introduction of the ballots by the attorney for the incumbent was sustained. A majority of your committee having thus decided, a motion to dismiss the contest was in order, and such motion to dismiss being made was unanimously adopted. Therefore your committee respectfully submits for the approval of the House the following unanimous report:

That the contest in the case of Sidney D. Robb vs. Albert W. Kendall, incumbent, is hereby dismissed and we declare the incumbent, Albert W.

Kendall to have been duly and legally elected to the office of representative from the 45th District of Iowa, comprising the county of Clinton, and do hereby most respectfully submit to this House said report and the findings of such committee and ask that the report be approved and adopted.

J. H. DARRAH,

EDWARD McDONALD,
WARD WILSON,

Committee.

Darrah of Lucas, moved the adoption of the report:

Motion prevailed, and the contest in the case of Sidney D. Robb vs. Albert W. Kendall, incumbent, was dismissed and Albert W. Kendall declared to be the duly and legally elected representative from the Forty-fifth district of Iowa.

MR. SPEAKER—As a separate report your committee would state that in its judgment this contest was brought by the contestant, Sidney D. Robb, honestly and without malice and for the reason that he believed that a recount of the votes cast in such election would have resulted in his election. Stillman of Greene, from the Committee on Contested Elections, submitted the following report:

SAMUEL M. CORRIE, CONTESTANT,	}	REPORT OF COMMITTEE.
VS.
ROBINSON BAXTER, INCUMBENT.

MR. SPEAKER—Your special committee on the contested election case from the Fifty-ninth Representative District, in which Samuel M. Corrie was contestant, and Robinson Baxter, incumbent, beg leave to submit the following report.

Your committee has canvassed the votes for representative in said district, which were cast on the 3d day of November, 1908.

On the 23d day of January, 1909, the committee held its first session, at which time the contestant and incumbent appeared before the committee, and at all times thereafter each party was represented, either in person or by attorney, at all meetings of the committee until the work was completed.

After a careful canvass of all the votes cast, the committee unanimously agreed that there were cast at said election, two thousand four hundred eighty-six (2486) votes for the office in question, of which Samuel M. Corrie received one thousand two hundred forty-six (1246), and Robinson Baxter received one thousand two hundred forty (1240), giving a majority to Samuel M. Corrie of six (6) votes.

Before the recount was begun, it was unanimously agreed by the committee, that the following method be adopted; that the contestant and incumbent and their attorneys should count the ballots about which there was no dispute, and that the county auditor, Mr. Varner, be the tally clerk for such count; that the ballots concerning which no agreement could be reached by these parties, should be referred to the contest committee. The recount was conducted in accordance with this arrangement, one or more members of the contest committee, being at all times present while such recount was in progress.

The result of the recount, at the hands of the contestants and their attorneys, was that they mutually agreed as follows:

Township	Baxter	Corrie	Disputed	Not Voted
Battle .....	41	65	1	21
Maple .....	120	162	1	28
Griggs .....	280	62	9	41
Garfield .....	61	51	1	8
Grant .....	87	29	1	7
Douglas .....	67	60	2	21
Logan .....	70	50	1	10
Blaine .....	62	109	4	12
Corwin .....	210	375	13	28
Hayes .....	38	121	..	14
Galva .....	120	75	4	19
Silver Creek .....	68	70	2	6
	1,224	1,229	39	215

On Friday afternoon, February 5, 1909, the thirty-nine (39) ballots in dispute, were brought before the committee and counted by them in the presence of the contestant and incumbent and their attorneys. Each of these thirty-nine (39) ballots was made an exhibit, and arguments for and against the counting of the same, were permitted by the attorneys before the ballot was acted upon by the committee.

The result of this recount was that the committee unanimously agreed as follows, concerning the thirty-nine (39) disputed ballots; that sixteen (16) of said ballots be counted for Mr. Baxter, and that seventeen (17) of said ballots be counted for Mr. Corrie, and that the remaining six (6) of said ballots be rejected. These sums when added to the number of ballots mutually agreed upon, as shown in the foregoing table, make up the grand total as heretofore given.

At the meeting of the committee held on the 23rd day of January, attorney for incumbent filed a motion for more specific statement on the part of the contestant, which motion was overruled by unanimous action of the committee, and the chairman was authorized to issue subpoenas for the county auditor of Ida county, to come before the committee, and to bring with him the ballots cast in said county at the general election, November 3, 1908.

At the meeting of the committee held on February 3, 1909, the attorney for the incumbent filed his answer, in which he asked that the contest be dismissed, on the grounds that the ballots cast in Ida county at the general election in 1908, were not properly and securely kept by the judges of election prior to their delivery to the county auditor, and further, that said ballots, after being returned to the county auditor of Ida county, were not properly preserved as required by law, in that said ballots were not kept in a place which precluded their being tampered with or handled by others than those who were by law entrusted with their custody. Witnesses were sworn and testimony was taken before the committee as to the manner in which said ballots had been kept, and after hearing the evidence and the argument of the attorneys, the committee decided, by a vote of 4 to 1, that the ballots had been kept in such a manner as to preclude a reasonable possibility of their having been tampered with, and the motion of incumbent's attorney for dismissal of the contest on this ground, was overruled.

After the recount of the ballots by the incumbent and the contestant, with their attorneys, and before the disputed ballots had been taken up by the committee, the argument of the attorneys was heard by the committee, on the question of certain objections which had been entered by the attorneys with relation to the proper sealing of the sacks in which the ballots were returned by the judges of election, and also with relation to the manner in which the ballots had been wired and sealed within said sacks. At this time the attorneys for incumbent, renewed their motion for a dismissal of the contest on the same grounds as before stated, with the additional objection, that from an examination of the ballots, it appeared that some of them were not strung as required by law, and that some of the receptacles were not sealed as required by law, because in sealing the packages there was no seal bearing any particular imprint used; they stated, however, that they would not object to the counting of said ballots, or any of them, on account of such improper wiring, fastening or sealing alone. This motion was overruled by the committee by a vote of 3 to 2.

Your committee has thus detailed the facts with relation to this contest, and most respectfully submit these findings with the recommendation that this honorable body adopt this report, and declare Samuel M. Corrie, duly elected to membership in this body from the Fifty-ninth Representative District.

A complete record of the entire proceedings before your committee, is herewith presented, including a transcript of the evidence taken.

Respectfully submitted,

PAUL E. STILLMAN,
S. H. BAUMAN,
W. W. GOODYKOOTZ,
W. R. COOPER,
GEO. C. CALKINS.

Committee.

Stillman of Greene, moved the adoption of the report.

Motion prevailed, and Samuel M. Corrie was declared to be the duly elected representative from the Fifty-ninth Representative District.

The following communication was received from the Secretary of the Executive Council:

Hon. Guy A. Feely, Speaker House of Representatives:

DEAR SIR—My attention has been called to a resolution passed by the House this morning in reference to postage for the Legislative Reference Department. The Thirty-second General Assembly, under Joint Resolution No. 5, provided for legislative and general reference assistant, as will be found on page 285. To that position Miss Rosemond has been assigned, as I believe, by the trustees of the Library. This department is created under the State Librarian and is able to obtain all the postage which the library department may call for. The resolution refers to furnishing the Historical Department with postage. The Historical Department, under the provisions of Code Section 2881-b, is under the general charge of the State Librarian. I am ready to furnish the State Librarian all the postage he may require for any purpose provided for by law and have been at all times. The same enactment which placed the Historical Department under the general charge of the State Librarian reduced the Historical Department to merely a curator of the museum and art gallery, having charge of the historical periodicals.

We have at all times been willing to furnish that curator with all the postage required for the duties of that department. We have recently been asked by the acting curator of the Museum to furnish postage which we were expressly advised was to be used by a person not employed in any work authorized in any express statute of the State, except under the State Library as above indicated.

I deem it proper to call your attention and through you the attention of the House of Representatives to the above stated facts, and the law referred to, and to the further fact that to furnish postage to anyone not authorized by law would be at my personal expense. I shall be glad to be directed, however, in any way which is proper in the matter.

Respectfully yours,

A. H. DAVISON,
Secretary.

Moore of Linn moved that the communication be referred to the Committee on Retrenchment and Reform.

Motion prevailed, and the communication was so referred.

Welden of Hardin moved that House File No. 19, be withdrawn from the Committee on Municipal Corporations and the further consideration of the House.

Motion prevailed.

Meredith of Cass moved that House File No. 140, be withdrawn from the further consideration of the House.

Motion prevailed.

Kull of Howard moved that House File No. 92 be withdrawn from the Committee on Municipal Corporations and the further consideration of the House.

Motion prevailed.

On motion of Schulte of Clayton the House adjourned.

I, Edna L. Boone, being first duly sworn, depose and say that I am an employe of the House of Representatives of the Thirty-third General Assembly. That on or about February 2, I was directed by Ernest R. Moore, a member of the said House of Representatives in the Thirty-third General Assembly, to visit the office of the Secretary of the State Board of Health and to secure from that office certain vital statistics. I further state that in accordance with such directions I visited such office and there explained to the persons in charge the instructions I had received and requested the information. I so reported to Mr. Moore and was instructed by him to again visit the office of the Secretary of the State Board of Health and to request of Mr. Thomas personally the information sought. In accordance with such instructions I did on the following day visit such office and requested of the Secretary of the State Board of Health the desired information and was again refused, and I was told that such information could not be given out as the Board of Health had established a rule forbidding it. Davidson of Palo Alto, chairman of the Committee to hear the contest in the case of L. F. Springer, contestant, vs. B. F. Stoddard, incumbent, presented the following report:

MR. SPEAKER—Your special committee, consisting of Davidson of Palo Alto, Beebe of Franklin, Ripley of Hancock, O'Connor of Chickasaw and Swift of Shelby, to hear and report upon the contest brought by L. F. Springer against B. F. Stoddard, involving the question of who had been elected to represent the sixty-seventh Representative district in the House of Representatives at this session, beg leave to report:

There came into the hands of this committee from the Clerk of this House the notice of contest given by the contestant, L. F. Springer, together with his statement and declaration of contest, to which the incumbent, B. F. Stoddard, interposed a motion for the dismissal of the contest. This motion, with the consent of the committee, was later withdrawn and a motion to strike portions of the contestant's pleading was made in lieu thereof. This motion brought before the committee the question as to whether if the ballots should be counted it would be proper to count those ballots which had been marked by the voter with a cross or circle or a square or other form of mark in front of the name of the president and vice president, or either of them, and this question was argued by the attorneys for the parties, contestant appearing by Messrs. George W. Ball of Iowa City and John T. Sullivan of Independence, and the incumbent appearing by Messrs. O. B. Courtright of Waterloo and E. E. Hasner of Independence. After hearing these arguments, the committee took the motion under advisement and consulted with members of other contest committees appointed by the House, for the purpose of ascertaining if some rule could not be laid down with reference to this class of ballots which should be followed by all of the contest committees, so that this committee might not follow one rule and some other committee an opposite rule.

Thereafter, meeting was held in which the members of all of the contest committees of the House appeared and took part, the joint meeting of the committees being presided over by Hackler of Webster. It appeared to be the sentiment of the members of these several committees, that, while it was the law that ballots which bore other marks than those required to properly express the voters' choice which were designedly made would be considered as identifying marks, and that if we strictly followed the law, such ballots as those above referred to should be rejected; still it was felt that such a course would result in the disfranchisement of many voters, and the sentiment seemed to be in favor of the more liberal rule of counting such ballots. However, these committees meeting jointly as above stated, were unable to agree upon any rule, and thereafter each committee was left free to adopt such rule as it might see fit.

This committee thereupon, by unanimous vote, overruled the motion interposed by the incumbent to strike portions of the statement and declaration of contest, leaving the question as to the counting of these disputed ballots to be determined as a question of fact upon the recount, in case a recount should be later had. Thereafter, and on the 27th day of January, 1909, the incumbent filed answer putting in issue all of the material allegations of the statement and declaration of contest. One of the issues raised by this answer was that the ballots in the several precincts in Buchanan County cast at the general election in 1908 had not been cared for as required by law, in that the judges of election in the several precincts had not folded, wired and sealed the ballots as required by law, but returned them to the auditor in an unsealed condition and in a manner which exposed them to interference, and further, that the ballots had not been kept by the auditor of Buchanan County, after he had received them from the election judge, in the manner required by law. To this portion of the answer the contestant interposed a motion to require the incumbent to make his allegations in relation to the lack of care used in the preservation of said ballots more specific, which motion was sustained by the committee, and on the first day of February, 1909, an amendment to the answer covering these points was filed by the incumbent.

The issues having been thus made up between the parties, this committee sought to get as early a hearing as possible, in order that this contest might be gotten out of the way of the more important business of the session. But, owing to the engagement of the attorneys on both sides, the earliest date that could be fixed for hearing the contest was the 16th day of February, 1909. At the time stated, to-wit, the 16th day of February, 1909, at 9 o'clock A. M., the committee met, all members being present, in room number fifteen of the State Capitol to hear the evidence in the said contest. Thereupon evidence was offered on behalf of the contestant for the purpose of showing the competency of the ballots cast at the general election in 1908, in Buchanan County. It affirmatively appeared from the evidence that in about one-half of the twenty-one precincts of Buchanan County, the judges of election had returned the ballots to the county auditor in an unsealed condition, that is to say, the canvas sack containing the ballots was unsealed at that time. The auditor testified he had made no investigation to see whether the ballots on the inside of the sack were folded and wired or not. The evidence further showed that in all other cases, save one, these ballots were brought in to the county auditor on the day following the election or else on the day following that, by one of the judges of election. In the other case referred to, the auditor testified that the ballots were brought by a man from one of the county townships whom he thought was not a judge or clerk of election in that precinct, and that he did not remember whether the canvas bag containing the ballots from that precinct was sealed or not. In the case of Jefferson Township, in Buchanan County, it appeared by the contestant's own evidence that the ballots were brought in by one of the judges of that township on the day following the election and that the auditor refused to receive these ballots because the canvas bag in which they were contained was not sealed. The auditor testified further that he refused to receive the ballots because they were not sealed and because the judge of election did not have the precinct seal with him so that they could be sealed at the auditor's office as was done in the other cases where ballots were brought in without being sealed; but stated that on the day following, the same judge of election returned with the ballots in the canvas bag properly sealed and that he then accepted and receipted for them. This judge of election from Jefferson Township was a witness before the committee, and stated that he brought the ballots from Jefferson Township to the county auditor on the day after election, but the auditor refused to receive them because they were not properly sealed, and that he returned them to his buggy in Independence and left the buggy at a livery stable while he went elsewhere to get his dinner, and later in the day drove home with the ballots, left them in his house over night and in the morning he sealed the sack and returned the ballots to the auditor, who then received them. The evidence showed that after the ballots came into the possession of the auditor they were stored by him in a closet in a fire-proof building which was kept locked, except that there was a small door leading into this closet from the treasurer's office, which the treasurer testified was kept closed at all times but was not locked, and, of course, might have been opened at any time by the treasurer or some person in his office. The committee was satisfied, however, that no person had had an opportunity to tamper with the ballots after they passed into the hands of the auditor, and that while the evidence raised a grave question as to whether the ballots in some of the townships should be received because of their having been taken to the auditor in an unsealed condition, still the committee felt that there was no evidence that tended to show that the ballots had been intentionally exposed or that they had been tampered with, so that the objections interposed by the incumbent to the reception of the ballots because of irregularities were overruled.

The county auditor of Buchanan County produced the ballots, which in all cases were in canvas bags, and opened them in the presence of the committee. It would be extending this report unduly to describe the condition of each of these packages, suffice it to say, that out of the twenty-one precincts in Buchanan County there were but four in which the ballots had been properly folded, wired, the wire knotted and sealed and placed in the canvas bag and the bag sealed, as required by law. In all of the other precincts there were irregularities, some of them amounting to the grossest kind of carelessness. In fully one-half of the cases the wiring was done in such a manner that the ballots could be readily opened up and the marks therein changed, without in any manner disturbing the seals. The packages of ballots were frequently wired at one end, sometimes through the center, and in one case the canvas bag simply had the corners at the top drawn together and sealed, leaving it so that there was abundant room for a person to insert his hand and change the ballots without in any manner disturbing the seal upon the sack or the seal upon the wire on the ballots. The objections therefore made to the reception of ballots with additional objections to each of the several precincts offered were renewed, but the committee felt that as the ballots from some of the precincts would be competent evidence, it would be manifestly unfair and unsatisfactory to throw out and refuse to count a considerable portion of the vote in the county, so that after due deliberation, it was decided that all ballots should be recounted.

The committee, before beginning the count, voted to count all ballots marked in front of the name of president and vice president, or either one, should be counted; and one member of the committee dissenting, it was decided that a separate count should be kept of the ballots so voted.

Thereupon, the attorneys proceeded to count the ballots, under agreed rules, which resulted in B. F. Stoddard receiving 2,252 votes and L. F. Springer 2,232 votes, giving to the said B. F. Stoddard a majority of twenty of the ballots cast at the general election of 1908 in Buchanan County.

Thereupon, it was stipulated and agreed between the parties, through their attorneys, that the foregoing was a correct and true return of the votes cast in said county for representative at said election and that B. F. Stoddard was duly and legally elected.

The separate count kept of those ballots in which the voter attempted to mark in front of the name of president and vice president, or either of them, showed that of those voting for B. F. Stoddard ninety-eight had marked their ballots in front of the name of the president and vice president, or one of them, while ninety-seven of those voting for L. F. Springer had so marked their ballots.

In closing this report, your committee feels that special attention should be called to the fact that judges of election seem to misapprehend, or fail to follow the law either through ignorance or carelessness. Another committee, adopting a more strict rule, might have easily reached the conclusion that these ballots were not competent evidence, and thus a recount could not have been had because of the carelessness with which these ballots were returned by the election judges to the county auditor. It is therefore recommended that this Honorable Body adopt this report, and that it declare the incumbent, B. F. Stoddard, the duly elected representative of the sixty-seventh Representative district of Iowa.

All of the pleadings, subpoenas, bills of attorneys and other papers in any way relating to this contest are herewith returned and filed with the Clerk of this House.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed)

Davidson of Palo Alto presented the following supplemental report of the Committee:

MR. SPEAKER—Your special committee on the contested election case from the sixty-seventh Representative district begs leave to submit the following report with relation to the expenses incurred in connection with the contest, to-wit:

W. C. Ballou, witness, two days, 129 miles .....	$ 15.40
A. M. Donnham, witness, two days, 129 miles .....	15.40
W. C. Kinney, witness, two days, 129 miles .....	15.40
M. B. Griffity, witness, two days, 129 miles .....	15.40
Lillie E. Soener, witness, two days, 129 miles .....	15.40
Chas. L. Foster, witness, three days, 129 miles .....	16.65
Patrick McCorstin, witness, three days, 129 miles .....	16.65
L. W. Goen, witness, two days, 129 miles .....	15.40
Mrs. Alice Hayes, three days, 129 miles .....	16.65
C. E. Hayes, county auditor, six days, 129 miles .....	23.30
C. E. Hayes, expense of bringing ballots .....	18.48
Sheriff Buchanan County, serving subpoenas .....	5.10
F. C. Davidson, telephone to Senator Ball .....	.75
	$186.98

Your committee further reports that bills have been filed by the several attorneys for their services and expenses, as shown by the itemized bills which are returned by this report, being as follows, to-wit:

O. B. Courtright .....	$206.25
E. E. Hasner .....	164.66

J. T. Sullivan .....	209.50
George W. Ball .....	239.59

Total .....	$819.91
-------------	----------

Without in any way questioning the fairness of these bills so far as the parties are concerned, your committee feels that it cannot recommend their payment in full by the State. On the other hand, this committee feels that the allowance of $150.00 to L. F. Springer and a like amount to B. F. Stoddard in full payment of attorney fees should be made, because that seems to have been the rule heretofore followed by other committees. The fees of witnesses and of the auditor and his expenses, as shown above, should be allowed:

In view of the numerous contests and of the heavy expense entailed thereby, your committee would recommend that in the future attorney fees should not be allowed, even though the contest, as in this case, be brought in the utmost good faith.

All of which is most respectfully submitted.

F. C. DAVIDSON,
N. W. BEEBE,
CURRAN F. SWIFT,
A. C. RIPLEY,
F. A. O'CONNOR.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

Crozier of Marion offered the following explanation :

Having taken no part in the discussion of the question before the House, I desire to say a word in explanation of my vote. I came here expecting to vote against this proposition, for the reason that I did not believe that the time was ripe for it or that the people of the state desired it. Since becoming a member of this House, I have received petitions from nearly one-third of the voters of my county, asking for the submission of this amendment to the constitution, and have received nothing from the other side. From the petitions that I have received from my constituents and from petitions that have come to the members of this House, it is evident to me that this measure is desired by a great many of our people. I would not vote to submit an amendment to the constitution merely as an experiment. I should desire that there should be some evidence that there is a demand for the amendment.

Gentlemen have spoken of the right of local self-government as a democratic principle. The highest and most honored principle of democracy, a principle that is concurred in by all, is the right of the people to mould, fashion, alter or change at their pleasure their form of government.

While I do not bind myself by my vote on this question to any line of conduct either in voting for my successor two years hence, or upon the question when submitted to the people of Iowa, I trust that I shall always be found in favor of every measure for the elevation of humanity, for the mitigation of the evils of the traffic; yet, at the same time, when it comes the time to vote upon this proposition when submitted to the people, I shall then be governed by my best judgment, by the conditions as they then exist. But in view of the petitions that have come from my constituents and the people of the state at large, it is evident that the people desire an opportunity to express themselves upon this question, and it is not for me to stand in their way. I therefore desire to vote yea.

GEO. W. CROZIER.

By unanimous consent, the time set for Special Order No. 6, was extended to 10:00 o'clock, A. M., Thursday.

On motion of Moore of Linn, the House adjourned until 9:00 o'clock A. M., Thursday.

It shall be the duty of said commission to enter such application in the order that it is received and to furnish the outline, plans and general specifications, and provided there are any funds in the State Treasury appropriated for such awards for roads not yet allotted it shall make the allotment, and when any township or townships acting conjointly on boundary line roads for building a mile or more of said road as is hereinafter described, has completed such road according to such specifications and it has been inspected by the highway engineer of said commission and is found to be up to the required standard, he shall verify the same to the Auditor of State, who shall draw upon the State Treasury payable to the proper authorities in such township or townships for the amount of reward due them, for the amount of and class of road built.

SEC. 6. The terms roads, public roads, public wagon roads, as used in this act shall be construed to mean the public wagon roads or highways outside of incorporated cities or towns and the following described roads, when built, shall merit the reward attached to each description:

(b) For every mile of well graded road on which the steepest incline shall not exceed six per cent and the width of which shall not be less than twenty-five feet between side ditches, and which shall be properly drained, and have a wagon or travel track not less than ten feet wide in two courses, the bottom course to be approved mixture of clay and sand not less than five (5) inches thick after rolling and covered with a layer of gravel which shall not be less than five (5) inches thick after rolling; provided that the tracks shall be properly crowned so as to shed water quickly to the side ditches, shall merit, if approved by the commission, a reward from the state of one hundred fifty dollars a mile and pro rata for extra miles and fractions thereof in excess of the first mile.

(c) For every mile of well graded road on which the steepest incline shall not exceed six per cent and the width of which shall not be less than eighteen feet between side ditches, and which shall be properly drained, having a wagon way or travel track not less than nine feet wide and which shall consist of not less than eight inches of compact gravel, which must be applied in not less than (2) layers, each layer to be rolled separately and crowned as provided in the preceding sub-division of this section, shall merit, if approved by the Highway Commission, a reward from the state of two hundred fifty dollars a mile and pro rata for extra miles and fractions thereof to excess of the first mile.

(d) For every mile of well graded road on which the steepest incline shall not exceed six per cent and the width of which shall not be less than eighteen feet between side ditches, and which shall be properly drained and have a wagon way or travel track not less than nine feet wide made in two (2) courses, the bottom course to be crushed stone, which shall not be less than four (4) inches thick after thorough rolling, and the top course consist of a layer of gravel which shall not be less than three (3) inches thick after being thoroughly rolled and crowned as provided in sub-division (b) of this section, shall merit, if approved by the Highway Commission, a reward from the state of four hundred dollars per mile and pro rata for extra miles and fractions thereof in excess of the first mile.

(e) For every mile of well graded road on which the steepest incline shall not exceed six per cent and the width of which shall not be less than eighteen feet between side ditches, and which shall be properly drained and have a wagon way or travel track not less than nine feet wide made in two (2) courses, the bottom course to be of gravel and not less than four (4) inches thick after thorough rolling and the top course consisting of a layer of crushed stone which shall not be less than three (3) inches thick after being thoroughly rolled and properly bonded with sufficient stone screenings and properly crowned as provided in sub-division (b), shall merit, if approved by the commission, a reward from the state of four hundred dollars per mile and pro rata for extra miles and fractions thereof in excess of the first mile.

(f) For every mile of well graded road on which the steepest incline shall not exceed six per cent and the width of which shall not be less than eighteen feet between side ditches, and which shall be properly drained and have a wagon way or travel track not less than nine feet wide of well compacted macadam not less than six inches thick laid in not less than two (2) courses, each to be properly bonded with a sufficient stone screenings and thoroughly rolled and properly crowned as provided in sub-division (b), shall merit, if approved by the commission, a reward from the state of six hundred dollars per mile and pro rata for extra miles and fractions thereof in excess of the first mile.

SEC. 7. No county shall receive to exceed eight hundred fifty dollars in one year.

SEC. 8. The commission is hereby given the authority to refuse further road reward to any township or county that has been rewarded by the state for improving roads that does not keep these state rewarded roads in proper repair, but upon such refusal to any township or county for allotment of said reward it shall be the commission's duty to inform such township or county of what repairs are necessary to place them in a position to again be eligible to receive state reward, and if these repairs are made satisfactory to the commission it shall reinstate them to the eligible reward list. The decision to the commission as to whether the road meets the requirements to merit state reward shall be final, and it shall have the right to retain any amount of the reward it deems advisable until the road has been thoroughly tested.

SEC. 9. To carry out the provisions of this act there is hereby appropriated for the period ending June 30, 1910 the sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), and for the year ending June 30, 1911, the sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) dollars, of which not to exceed $15,000.00 each year shall be used by the commission to cover the salary of the highway engineer and running expenses of the department, to be paid as hereinbefore provided, and the balance shall constitute the state reward fund for encouraging the improvement of the public wagon roads.

SEC. 10. This act being deemed of immediate importance, shall take effect and be in force from and after its publication in the Register and Leader and the Des Moines Capital, newspapers published in Des Moines, Iowa.

SECTION 1. That Section fifteen hundred thirty (1530) of the Supplement to the Code, 1907, be and the same is hereby repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

"The board of supervisors of each county shall, at the time of levying taxes for other purposes, levy a tax of not more than one mill on the dollar of the assessed value of the taxable properties in its county, including all taxable property in municipalities which shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner as other taxes and be known as the county road fund and be paid out only on the order of the board for the purchase of road tools or machinery or for work done on the roads in the county in such places as it shall determine, provided, that on written petition of a majority of the electors who are freeholders of any township in any county the board of supervisors may levy an additional mill in said township to be expended by said board of supervisors on roads in the township where the same is levied. One-half of the county road fund arising from the property within any municipality shall be paid over by the county treasurer to the treasurer of the municipality in the same manner as other municipal taxes and shall be expended on the roads or streets within such municipality by and under the direction of the council or commission. The county treasurer shall receive the same compensation for collecting this tax as he does for collecting corporation taxes, except as hereinafter provided. Taxes already collected under Section fifteen hundred thirty (1530) of the Supplement to the Code, 1907, and in the hands of the county treasurer shall be paid over to the treasurer of the municipality in the same manner as other municipal taxes. Moneys so collected shall not be transferrable to any other fund nor used for any other purpose. The board of supervisors shall levy such additional sum for the benefit of such township as shall have certified a desire for such additional levy as provided for in Section fifteen hundred twenty-eight (1528) of this chapter. If expended by the administrative body of the municipality it shall be expended upon that part of the roads within its limits which are reserved and used for traveling purposes and only upon such roads as are a continuation of country roads which are main arteries of travel, and one-half of the road fund collected within the municipality and retained for disbursement by the board of supervisors shall be by them used on such roads as are main arteries of travel immediately tributary to the municipality for which such tax has been collected. Nothing herein contained shall prevent the board of supervisors from paying over to the treasurer of the municipality the whole or any part of said tax raised within such municipality to be expended by such municipality as herein provided.

SEC. 3. In municipalities where taxes are collected independent of the county treasurer no compensation shall be paid to the county treasurer for the collection of this tax.

Lee of Emmet, chairman of the Visiting Committee, submitted the following report:

To the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Thirty-third General Assembly:

Your committee appointed under Senate concurrent resolution to visit the State Educational Institutions of Iowa, beg leave to report as follows:

By the terms of said resolution the committee was directed to visit the State University, the State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts and the State Normal School, before March 1, 1909. After the appointment of said committee, it organized by electing Senator Stuckslager, chairman, and Mr. Lee, secretary.

The committee visited the State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts on the 20th day of February, 1909, the State University on the 22d day of February and the State Normal School on the 26th day of February.

Aside from directing the committee to visit the three educational institutions of the state before March 1, 1909, and such of the state institutions under the State Board of Control as the Committees on Appropriations might direct, the scope of the duties of the committee was not defined. Owing to the lack of time and facilities, it was entirely impracticable for the committee to make anything like a thorough and full examination into the entire system of business management and educational policies of these institutions. Such an investigation was not contemplated by the concurrent resolution, nor was it expected by the General Assembly.

The three educational institutions have filed reports for the last biennial period as provided by law, which reports set forth much detailed information. The report of the committee appointed by the Thirtieth General Assembly to inquire into the management and affairs of the state educational institutions of the state contains valuable information and recommendations that are still timely and pertinent.

These educational institutions of the state are accomplishing a great work in the field of higher education. This has been possible largely by reason of the uniform fairness and liberality with which the people of Iowa have dealt with them. This generous treatment on the part of the state has not only enabled these institutions to sustain themselves properly, but has at the same time, made possible their steady growth and expansion and at this time these institutions have attained to the highest standard of excellence in their respective fields. The State University is accorded recognition among the universities of this and foreign countries not heretofore enjoyed. This redounds to the benefit of the university and its graduates as well as reflecting credit upon the state as a whole.

The College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts stands foremost among its kind. The great success achieved by this institution could not have been possible except under a wise and sound policy of the state in relation to it. The benefits derived from this institution are well worth its cost to the state. It is one of the most valuable assets of our commonwealth.

The State Normal School, also, has made rapid strides. Its development and influence are very satisfactory. It accomplishes a work peculiarly its own to perform. It fits thousand of our young men and women annually to train the youth of our state. This institution possesses an individuality which cannot help but exert a great and beneficent influence in moulding the education and character of its students.

The government of the three state educational institutions, being vested in three separate and independent governing boards, there is of necessity more or less of unnecessary duplication and competition. This is probably inevitable under existing conditions. It evidently was not the purpose of the acts creating these institutions that they should occupy a common field to any considerable extent. There is ample scope for each to excel in its own legitimate and natural sphere. There should be no jealousy, rivalry or undue competition among these schools. Their energies and the energy of the state should be expended in their development along proper lines.

The buildings erected for these institutions from the millage tax voted for that purpose are a credit to the state. They are in the main substantial fire proof stone buildings of the best type and most modern equipments. The only stone building at the Normal School is the library building now in process of construction. When completed it will be a very fine building. The other buildings at the Normal School are brick structures, some of them not fire proof. The administration building and the Hall of Agriculture at Ames are splendid stone structures. The criticism has been made with respect to these buildings that they are somewhat more pretentious in style and equipment than should characterize buildings for such purposes. This criticism might be pertinent to the Administration Building. Its halls are very wide and spacious, has broad, easy stairways, and its corridors are filled with large columns, the whole taking on very much the appearance of a magnificent public building. It is probably true that more space in this building could have been utilized for the real needs of the institution without in any degree impairing either the sightliness or efficiency of the structure. While permanent structures answering every need of this great institution, not only for the present, but for many years in the future, might have been erected at a much smaller cost to the state, yet no one will seriously complain because, after all, they are in a true sense a great credit to the state.

Your committee regrets that it did not have more time in which to investigate more minutely into the business management and educational policies of the state educational institutions. To do this with any degree of completeness and satisfaction, and to justify the drawing of fair and reliable conclusions therefrom, would require full opportunity to examine into the methods of bookkeeping, the policy of conducting their financial affairs, make comparisons with other institutions and consider many other matters properly bearing on the subject.

The state ought to insist on good management of the business and financial affairs of these institutions. It should hold to the same policy of rigid economy in the expenditure of its funds for educational purposes that it adopts in relation to other business transactions. There should be no waste, extravagance or looseness in connection with the business management.

The State University has asked the Thirty-third General Assembly to make an annual increase in the following funds, to-wit:

For additional support fund.....	$92,500
For repair and contingent fund.....	12,500
For library support .....	30,000
For university and extension correspondence work.....	20,000
For the extension and enlargement of the summer session and the further development of the school of education..	20,000

Your committee has endeavored to inquire with some care into the necessity of granting these askings. It endeavored to ascertain what increases are justified under all the circumstances and recommends such increases in the funds mentioned as are consistent with the needs of the institution and the financial ability of the state.

Your committee recommends an increase in the support fund of $22,000 annually hereafter, and the further sum of $15,000 a year for the next two years. This increase, the committee believes, is liberal.

Your committee recommends an annual increase in the repair contingent fund of $7,500. The committee believes this sum, together with the annual appropriation heretofore granted the university in this fund, is ample for present needs.

Your committee believes that the amount heretofore granted the university for library support has been insufficient and has to some extent hampered the work of the several departments. It does not believe, however, that it is wise to allow the sum asked for that item, namely, $30,000, annually. The committee believes that $10,000 a year in addition to the $5,000 a year that the university receives under previous acts will be reasonably sufficient for library support. The committee does not deem it wise at this time to recommend an annual addition to the fund mentioned, but does recommend a special appropriation in the sum of $20,000 for library support for the next biennium.

The university asks $20,000 annually for university extension and correspondence work and $20,000 for the extension and enlargement of the summer session and the further development of the school of education. Your committee ascertained that the university has already undertaken, in a small way, university extension and correspondence work, and in the last year expended in this direction something like $500.00 out of its support fund. The committee does not deem it wise at this time to recognize this item or asking for a special or separate appropriation. However, the committee in recommending the increase in the support fund, made due allowance for the university extension and correspondence work. The university expended last year for summer session and for school of education, about $6,500, which was taken out of the support fund. No appropriation has been made by the state especially for this work or for the last preceding item, and your committee does not see fit to recognize the summer session and school of education for a special appropriation, but the committee made due allowance for this work in the increase recommended for the support fund.

The university also asks the Thirty-third General Assembly to make special appropriations for various purposes as follows:

For additional boiler and equipment, automatic stokers, coal and ash conveying machinery, boiler feed pump, engine and dynamo and additional fuel room for central heating plant; automatic stokers and fuel room for hospital heating plant, and additional dynamo at hydraulic power station.....	$ 28,600
For the purchase of additional lands.....	100,000
For department equipment and supplies.....	30,000
For paving and sidewalks .....	6,000
For improvement and care of grounds.....	4,000
For the creation of a woman's building and for the equipment and land for same.....	150,000
For building equipment for the buildings now partially equipped, and for equipment for new law building and other buildings to be erected .....	30,000

With reference to the first item, your committee endeavored to determine the immediate necessity of the several matters included therein. Undoubtedly, all of the improvements suggested ought to be made ultimately, but in view of the fact that there are limitations upon the ability of the legislature to vote money for all of the needs of these institutions, the committee has concluded to recommend appropriations for the things which are most urgently needed. The committee thinks that the dynamo ought to be installed at the hydraulic power station; automatic stokers should be installed in the central heating plant; the boiler feed pump and an additional boiler are needed in the central heating plant. These things are not only badly needed at the present time, but will result in economy and saving to the state, and your committee recommends that a special appropriation be granted in the sum of $15,000.00 for said purposes.

With reference to the asking for the purchase of additional lands, the committee believes that certain lands are needed at this time for the following purposes: land for woman's building, land for detention hospital, for tracks and shops and for dumping of ashes. The committee inspected the parcels of land proposed to be purchased for these purposes and believes the sum of $35,000 ample therefor.

The university is ambitious to extend its campus in two directions, north and east, but the committee does not deem it wise to recommend any appropriation at this time for lands beyond those needed for present use.

Your committee recommends that $15,000 be appropriated for departmental equipment and supplies. The sum of $6,000 is asked for paving and sidewalks and $4,000 for improvement and care of grounds. Your committee has concluded to recommend an appropriation of $6,000 for both of said items.

Your committee recommends that the sum of $15,000 be appropriated for equipment of new law building and other buildings to be erected, which sum is deemed sufficient for said purposes.

Your committee does not see its way clear to recommend a special appropriation for the erection of a woman's building. In the recommendation above made for the purchase of land, allowance was made for the purchase of a site for the proposed woman's building. The committee is opposed to the policy of making special appropriations for the erection of permanent buildings of this character, in view of the millage tax that has been voted by preceding General Assemblies. The amount realized from the millage levies for the State University amounts to the annual sum of approximately $132,000. The committee estimates that the amount that will be derived for the five year period from this source will equal about $750,000 which ought to be ample to provide for all buildings to be erected in that length of time.

Your committee was impressed with the need and desirability, both for protection and from sentimental reasons, of making the Old Capitol Building fire proof. This building is in a good state of preservation and by a reasonable expenditure, can be made fire proof. We believe that the people of Iowa would approve of measures taken to preserve this historic land mark of the state. It is being utilized now for the work of the university and can be made more useful, safe and permanent by improving the same, but your committee does not recommend any special appropriation for the purposes mentioned, but believes that the improvement of the Old Capitol Building should be made out of the millage tax of the university, and your committee recommends that such a recommendation or direction be included in the appropriation bill for the State University.

Some criticism has been heard relative to the building of a President's House by the Regents of the University. Attention of the committee was drawn to the expenditure of the state's money for this improvement. The house in question is now nearing completion. It is a fine brick structure, built upon the heights in the north part of the city and at an expense of substantially $25,000. The committee learned that this building was erected from the millage tax levied prior to the last millage act and represented the balance of such fund. As to the propriety of the Board of Regents in making such an improvement, the committee expresses no opinion. It is claimed by some that no authority exists in law for such an expenditure. The contention of the Board of Regents is that it had ample authority to expend money from the millage fund for such a purpose. The Board of Regents, in its report to the Governor for the year 1905-6 in discussing the matter of erecting a residence for the president, said: "The university now owns a highly desirable building site which this board has reserved for this purpose, feeling that the time would soon come when we could afford, and indeed would be forced, to erect upon it an official residence for the president. Whether that time has come is a matter for the legislature to settle. The board feels that such provision is now necessary for the best interests of the university, and proposes, if the plans submitted meet the approval of the legislature, to proceed with its erection, at an expense of approximately $15,000, to be paid from the one-fifth mill building tax."

However it may be, no authority was expressly given by the state, either through the legislature or Executive Council, for the erection of this building. There was no such condition or requirement in the act providing for the millage out of which the residence was built, but in the last millage act there was a provision requiring the Board of Regents to secure the approval of all plans for all buildings to be erected from the tax. It is evident that the General Assembly voting the last millage tax for the benefit of the university intended to place restrictions about the expenditure of the funds derived therefrom. This provision was in the law before the erection of the building in question was commenced.

The State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts asks for an increase annually in certain of its funds, as follows:

For support of the college and its educational departments	$75,000
For repairs, minor improvements and contingencies.....	22,000
For equipments of departments.....	2,500
For support of agricultural experiment station.....	50,000
For support of engineering experiment station.....	11,000
For library book fund .....	2,500
For agricultural extension work .....	8,000

The committee sought to determine the necessity of granting these askings with the same care that it examined into the askings of the State University.

The erection of additional permanent buildings for the college and its growth and development undoubtedly call for an increase in some of its funds. A large part of the increase asked for in the support fund is proposed to be used in the raising of salaries of the instructional force and to employ additional instructors. The claim is made by the college authorities that it is difficult to prevent instructors from going to other schools, because larger salaries are offered. The same claim is made by the heads of the other institutions. The committee has concluded to recommend an increase annually of $15,000 for the support of the college in its educational departments and the further sum of $10,000 annually for the next two years. The committee believes, that these sums added to the present income of the college will be reasonable and adequate for its needs for the next two years.

Your committee recommends an increase of $13,000 annually for repairs, minor improvements and contingencies. This increase is made necessary because of the erection of new permanent buildings, heating plant and other additional expenses which properly come under this head.

Your committee recommends that a special appropriation of $15,000 be made for equipment of departments for the next biennium and that the library book fund be increased $2,500 annually.

The college asks an increase of $50,000 a year for support of the agricultural experiment station. The present income to the college for this purpose is $49,000, so that if the asking should be granted in full it would more than double the present income. The college might be able to use this amount to advantage, yet the committee does not deem it wise at this time to recommend an increase in the sum asked. After a very careful consideration of this asking, the committee, by unanimous action recommends a special appropriation of $30,000 for the next biennium for support of the agricultural experiment station.

The Thirty-second General Assembly voted an annual appropriation of $3,500 for the support of the engineering experiment station. The college asks this General Assembly to increase this amount in the sum of $11,500 annually. The committee does not see the wisdom of allowing this asking in full and recommends that only $1,500 annually be granted for the purpose last mentioned. An annual increase of $8,000 is asked for agricultural extension work. The last General Assembly voted an annual appropriation of $27,000 for this work and the committee recommends that no additional amount be allowed.

The college also asks for special appropriations for the following purposes:

For furnishings and fixtures for the hall of agriculture.....	$35,000
For furnishings and fixtures for the general engineering laboratory	5,000
For completion of central heating and power plant.....	50,000
For sidewalks and grading .....	11,000
For gymnasium, auditorium and armory building.....	50,000
For abattoir laboratory and meat curing building .....	25,000
For ceramics building .....	15,000
For poultry and farm buildings .....	10,000

With reference to the asking for the first item, the committee reports that the college asked an appropriation in the sum of $30,000 by the Thirty-second General Assembly. In the report of the board of trustees of the college to the Thirty-second General Assembly they estimated that it would cost $30,000 to buy furnishings and fixtures for the hall of agriculture that is now nearing completion. The Thirty-second General Assembly voted the sum of $10,000 for the purpose mentioned. At the time of the making of said report by the trustees of the college the plans and specifications for such fixtures and furnishings had not been drawn and no estimate had been made by the architect as to the amount required to pay for same.

After the adjournment of the Thirty-second General Assembly, plans and specifications were drawn for furnishings and fixtures for the hall of agriculture by architects employed by the board of trustees and the architects estimated the cost of such furnishings and fixtures to be $35,000. Bids were advertised for and submitted to the college for such furnishings in accordance with the plans and specifications and the aggregate amount of the several bids accepted was $43,186.88. In addition to this there was charged to this item as an architect's fee and as the fee of a purchasing agent the further sum of $2,159.34. $23.25 was charged for advertising, $1.08 for telegrams and $188.95 for traveling expenses of committee to inspect furniture at Grand Rapids, Mich., making a total of $45,559.50 in connection with buying furnishings and fixtures for the hall of agriculture.

It will be noted that the estimated cost of the furnishings and fixtures for the agricultural hall by the architects exceeded by $5,000 the total amount asked of the last General Assembly; that the total amount of the bids, plus other expenses, exceeded the estimate of the architect by the sum of over $10,500.00.

The Thirty-third General Assembly is asked to appropriate the sum of $35,000 to pay for the proposed furnishings and fixtures, $10,000 being in the possession of the college at this time, for that purpose. If the full amount be granted, the expense for furnishings and fixtures would be nearly $46,000. The committee does not deem it necessary to expend this amount of money to properly furnish the new agricultural hall. It recommends that a special appropriation of $25,000 be made for the purpose mentioned. It may be proper and in accordance with good business management to pay the sum of $2,159.34 as architect's fees and fees of purchasing agents for the purchase of the property mentioned, but the committee is not convinced that the expenditure of the state's funds in this amount for the purpose stated is necessary.

It may be proper for your committee at this juncture to call attention to the fact that furnishing and fixtures and furniture of the new buildings at the college are of a somewhat elegant and expensive variety. The committee believes that less money might be spent for such purposes without in any way injuring or crippling the efficiency of the college in any of its departments. The committee does not pretend to say that the furnishings and furniture and equipment of the buildings in any of the state schools should be cheap and of poor quality, nor that the state should adopt a niggardly policy or deal with these institutions in a parsimonious manner.

The committee recommends that the sum of $7,500 be voted for sidewalks and grading. There is an urgent present need for more substantial walks on the college campus and considerable grading will have to be done around agricultural hall, and while the full sum of $11,000 asked by the college for this purpose might be expended to advantage, yet your committee does not see its way clear to recommend the full amount asked.

The central heating and power plant is in a state of incompleteness. It does not furnish heat for all of the buildings. Several of the buildings are heated by independent plants, all of which results in more or less waste and is more expensive in operation. The committee believes that as a matter of economy to the state, the heating and power plant ought to be completed. It is estimated that it will cost $50,000 to do this. This sum will be used in the enlargement of the building itself, the installation of additional boilers, dynamos, stokers, etc. The committee unanimously recommends that the sum of $50,000 be appropriated for this purpose.

Your committee recommends that no appropriation be made for furnishings and fixtures for the general engineering laboratory; that in recommending an appropriation for equipment of departments the asking for the item just mentioned was taken into consideration.

Your committee recommends that no appropriation be made for abattoir laboratory and meat curing building as asked. The committee was not greatly impressed with the representations that were made as to the need of such a building, and express the opinion that there would be no benefit derived to the people of the state in any way commensurate with the expense of erecting such a building, equipping and maintaining it. The college authorities seemed greatly interested in the erection of the gymnasium, auditorium and armory building. Claims are made that such a building is greatly needed. There are similar buildings at the State University and State Normal School.

The erection of such a building as is proposed to be built by the college commends itself to your committee, but the committee is opposed to the policy of making a special appropriation for such a purpose, and what was said along this line with reference to the woman's building for the State University applies to the proposed building at the Agricultural College. The committee believes that the building in question ought to be erected from the millage tax heretofore voted for the purpose of erecting permanent buildings at the College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts.

What has been said with reference to the gymnasium building applies equally to the other buildings proposed to be built, namely, a ceramics building and poultry farm buildings. The committee recommends, therefore, that no special appropriations be made for any of these items.

The State Normal School asks the legislature for the following annual appropriations:

For the payment of teachers .....	$15,000
For contingent expenses .....	10,000

The additional amount asked for teachers' fund is proposed to be used in large part for increasing the salaries of teachers and professors. The claim is made that it is difficult to hold these professors and instructors, as they are tempted by the offer of higher salaries by other schools. Some of this amount is proposed to be used in the establishment of a department to train commercial teachers. While there may be something of a demand for such a department, the committee does not deem it wise at this time to recognize it as a separate department by the making of a special appropriation therefor, and it is the sense of the committee that such a department ought not at this time, to be established. The committee is favorably impressed, however, with the propriety and necessity of making an annual increase in the teachers' fund, and recommends that the additional sum of $10,000 be appropriated annually therefor. The contingent expense of the Normal School will be larger as a result of the new library building that is now in process of erection and because of the natural growth and needs of the school, and the committee believes that the sum of $6,000 ought to be appropriated annually for this purpose.

The committee calls attention to the fact that the funds of the Normal School are more general as compared with the funds of the other state schools, and are embraced under the two general heads of the teachers' fund and contingent expense fund. The teachers' fund is used exclusively for the payment of instructors and all other expenses, including salary of superintendent and all subordinate employes, expense of fuel, up-keep, etc., are paid out of the contingent expense fund.

The following special appropriations are asked for by the State Normal School:

For support of library .....	$10,000
For librarian's salary .....	10,000
For paving, permanent walks and improvement of grounds.....	5,000
For the part purchase of a pipe organ .....	5,000
For nurse and hospital support .....	4,000

The amount asked for library support is the same amount that was voted by the last General Assembly for the last biennium and the committee recommends that the sum asked for that purpose be appropriated. The amount used by the Normal School for the last biennium for librarians' salaries was $8,000. An increase of $2,000 for the biennium is represented in the asking for this item. The additional amount is proposed to be used for additional help and to raise the salary of librarian to some extent. The committee believes that the full amount asked ought to be appropriated.

The committee also recommends that the sum of $5,000 be appropriated for paving, permanent walks and improvement of grounds, as these improvements are needed.

The committee recommends that no appropriation be made toward the purchase of a pipe organ. The Normal School has a fund amounting to something like $4,000 to be used for this purpose and is anxious to install a pipe organ in the chapel. However, the committee cannot see its way clear to recommend this appropriation at this time.

The Normal School has not heretofore been enabled to furnish its students the convenience of a hospital. It is proposed to convert the old residence of the president of the Normal School into a hospital and the sum of $4,000 is asked to aid in the equipment of the hospital and to hire nurses therefor and to sustain the same. The committee recommends that the sum asked for be granted to enable the hospital to be equipped, but it is of the opinion that such hospital, when equipped, ought to be self-sustaining so that the state will not be called upon to make annual appropriations therefor and in making a recommendation for the sum mentioned, it is not intended to commit the state to the policy of making annual appropriations.

What has been said with reference to the erection of a president's house at the State University applies in large part to the building which has been erected at the State Normal School as a residence for the president. It is the understanding of the committee that it was built with funds derived from the millage tax voted before the last millage act. It is nearing completion and is a very substantial brick structure and will cost, when completed, in the neighborhood of $20,000.

Your committee, in making recommendations with reference to the various askings of the state educational institutions, has endeavored to act with impartiality and with the utmost fairness. It has been the purpose to avoid doing any harm or injury to any of them.

It was impossible for the committee, in the brief time that it had, to investigate into the needs of the institutions with that care and completeness which it would very much like to have done. Having in mind that the amounts which this General Assembly is asked to appropriate are in the aggregate, at least, double the amount of available funds, one of two alternatives must be resorted to, either the askings must be scaled down or the state levy must be increased sufficiently to meet the amounts asked for.

The committee is unanimously of the opinion that the levy ought not to be increased and it is therefore a foregone conclusion that the appropriations asked of this General Assembly must be kept within the limits of the state's income.

The committee has reduced the askings where it would work the least possible injury.

Your committee states that this report and all matters and recommendations embraced therein are the result of the unanimous agreement of all its members.

All of which is most respectfully submitted.

WHEREAS, The preservation of the means of health and happiness which through selfishness or thoughtlessness are so likely to be destroyed are of great importance to the American people, and,

WHEREAS, The present and future happiness and welfare of our country demands that we have permanent public pleasure grounds and parks which are accessible by many and kept as near as possible in their natural state and,

WHEREAS, We are awakening to the fact that in order to retain for ourselves and our posterity any of the natural conditions of our rivers, lakes, hills and bluffs with their growth of vegetation and native groves, it is necessary that those tracts be taken in charge by the government before the natural beauty has been destroyed by human greed, and,

WHEREAS, The Father of Waters flows through a valley of untold resources and wealth, which is destined, as time passes, to become the home of unnumbered millions, whose health and happiness demands that they have public play grounds and parks and,

WHEREAS, The hills and bluffs, rising hundreds of feet above the river, with numerous springs and brooklets of pure water, the flats and islands at the confluence of the Wisconsin and Mississippi rivers are most desirable and suitable for a public park and,

WHEREAS, Said Place is historical, as well as picturesque, still showing the mounds and trails of the Red Man as they were left by him, and the rock-ribbed hills as made by the elements through the ages, with native forests but slightly touched by human hand, and,

WHEREAS, The said lands on either side of the Mississippi, as well as the numerous islands in the river, can be purchased at a reasonable price,

Therefore be it Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring, That we hereby memorialize our Senators and Representatives in Congress to use their efforts to secure the enactment of a law providing for the acquisition of said territory to be used as a national park, and to secure an adequate appropriation therefor and that copies of this resolution be forwarded to each member of the Iowa delegation in Congress.

Lee of Emmet, Chairman of the Davidson-Penn Contest Committee, submitted the following report:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CONTEST.

W. T. Davidson, Contestant,

vs.

A. V. Penn, Incumbent.

MR. SPEAKER—Your special committee, consisting of Lee of Emmet, Harding of Woodbury, Perkins of Delaware, Kull of Howard and Dabney of Davis, to hear and report upon the contest brought by Hon. W. T. Davidson against the Hon. A. V. Penn, involving the question of who had been elected to the office of representative in the Thirty-third General Assembly of Iowa, from the Tenth Representative District of Iowa, beg leave to submit the following as its report thereon:

The papers filed in said contest, towit: the notice of contest, declaration of contest, and the answer to the declaration of contest, were placed in the possession of this committee by the Chief Clerk of the House.

The committee proceeded to inspect all the papers and filings in said contest to determine if the contest had been brought in accordance with the provisions of law relating to such cases, and to determine what issues were presented by the declaration of contest and the answer thereto. Your committee determined and report that the notice of said contest had been duly served upon the said incumbent in the manner and within the time provided by law; that the declaration of contest filed by said W. T. Davidson was filed in pursuance of said notice of contest, and came within the provisions of the law relating to the filing of such papers. Your committee further reports that the declaration of contest in effect alleged that the said contestant had received more votes than the incumbent in the last general election for the office of representative in the thirty-third General Assembly of Iowa, from the tenth representative district, but, that all of the votes duly and legally cast for said contestant were not counted for him as cast by reason of errors, mistakes and erroneous interpretations of the law; and alleged further that more votes were counted as cast for the incumbent in said office than were in fact cast for him or should have been counted for him according to law, and that by reason thereof the said contestant ought to have been declared elected instead of the incumbent. The declaration of contest did not allege any fraud on the part of election officials in said district, nor on the part of any person, but so far as the declaration of contest itself shows, it raised purely questions of fact.

The incumbent in his answer denied the material allegations of the declaration of contest and denied that the contestant had received more votes than the incumbent at said election, and denied that more votes had been counted for the incumbent than were received by him and that he was duly and legally declared elected to said office as provided by law, and that he was rightfully elected to said office and entitled to all the rights, privileges and emoluments thereof.

Your committee reports further that it is the unanimous opinion of the committee that the contest was brought in the utmost good faith, that the contestant believed that he had good grounds for bringing the contest; that the incumbent was declared elected by a plurality of five votes.

Your committee reports further that both parties to the contest appeared in person before your committee and by their attorneys, the Hon. R. C. Campbell, as attorney for the contestant, and the Hon. Jerry B. Sullivan as attorney for incumbent.

The contestant stated to the committee that he expected to support his contentions and the allegation of his declaration by a re-count of the ballots cast at said election for the office of representative, as aforesaid, and asked the committee to cause the county auditor of Fremont County to be subpoenaed as a witness and to require the said county auditor to have and produce as evidence in the contest in behalf of contestant all of the ballots cast at said election in said district, and all books, tally sheets, etc. connected with said election.

The incumbent interposed no objection to the said request of the contestant. The incumbent also requested the committee to cause certain citizens of Fremont County to be subpoenaed as witnesses in his behalf in said contest.

Thereupon, the committee by unanimous action requested the Speaker and Chief Clerk of the House to issue subpoenas for the said county auditor, Mr. G. C. Coleman, of Sidney, Iowa, which subpoena is marked exhibit "A," is attached to this report, and made a part hereof; and the committee also requested the Speaker and the Chief Clerk of the House to issue subpoenas for the persons designated by the incumbent, viz: J. D. McKean, W. H. Norcutt, L. T. Webster, and W. L. Van Eaton, Jr., which subpoena is marked exhibit "B," is attached hereto and made a part of this report. Said subpoenas were by the committee placed in the hands of the Sheriff of Fremont County for service, and were by him duly served upon the persons named therein as by law provided.

That on the day fixed for the appearance of said witnesses, to-wit: the 11th day of February, 1909, at the hour of two o'clock P. M., the said witnesses duly made their appearance before the committee. The contestant appeared not in person, but the Hon. L. E. Francis appeared for him, but not as his paid attorney. The incumbent appeared in person and by his attorney, the Hon. J. B. Sullivan, and thereupon the contest proceeded to final hearing.

The attorney for contestant examined the county auditor for the purpose of laying the foundation for the introduction of the ballots and books referred to as evidence in behalf of contestant.

The incumbent produced and examined as witnesses the said J. D. McKean, W. H. Norcutt, L. T. Webster and W. L. Van Eaton, Jr., for the purpose of negating the admissibility of said ballots, papers, etc., as evidence.

At the conclusion of the examination of said witnesses by both sides to the contest, the contestant offered said ballots, books and tally sheets already referred to, as evidence in support of the declaration of contest filed by said contestant; and the incumbent made an oral motion before the committee that the committee exclude and not receive said ballots, books, papers, etc., as evidence in the contest, on the ground that the ballots had not been kept and preserved after the holding of the said election and until the county auditor was subpoenaed as by law required in such cases.

Thereupon, the committee made a close examination of the envelopes and other receptacles in which the ballots in question were contained, and examined the seals thereon, and duly considered all the evidence and testimony upon the question; and the committee being duly advised in the premises sustained the motion, as made by incumbent, to refuse to receive said ballots in evidence on the ground stated in said motion.

The committee deems it proper to report that there was no evidence or claim to the effect that anyone had in fact tampered with the ballots, or that there was any suspicion even that this had been done. The testimony of the county auditor of Fremont County showed that he had left his office open on various occasions, with the door to the vault and to the office open, with no deputy or person in charge of the office, and had gone out for a considerable time; that while thus absent from his office, the ballots in question were in the vault, where persons were in the habit of going to consult records, books, etc., and the ballots were kept in a place for a considerable time where persons had an opportunity of handling and tampering with the same, if they had so desired.

Your committee thinks that the conduct of the county auditor in relation to these ballots was extremely negligent and careless and it was by reason of his conduct in the premises that the committee felt impelled under the law and the facts to sustain the motion rejecting the ballots as evidence.

The committee having by majority vote sustained said motion, it brought the contest to a close, the decision of the committee upon the motion being decisive of the questions raised in the contest. Thereupon, the committee voted to dismiss the contest and find against the contestant, and found and determined the incumbent, the Hon. A. V. Penn, duly elected to the office of representative in the Thirty-third General Assembly of Iowa, from the tenth representative district and that he was duly declared elected and entitled to his seat in said Assembly.

The said notice of contest, the declaration of contest and the answer to the declaration of contest, are herewith returned and filed with the Clerk of this House.

Your committee therefore recommends that the House of Representatives adopt this report, and that it declare the incumbent, the Hon. A. V. Penn, the duly elected representative in the Thirty-third General Assembly of Iowa from the tenth representative district.

All of which is most respectfully submitted.

Lee of Emmet submitted the following report:

To the President of the Senate and to the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Thirty-third General Assembly:

Your committee appointed under Senate Concurrent Resolution to visit the State Educational Institutions of Iowa, beg leave to submit the following as supplemental to its report filed on the 13th day of March, 1909:

Your committee in making its recommendation for library support for the State University made an error in that the committee acted in the belief that the State University had a permanent income of $5,000 a year for library support. It appears that the appropriation granted for library support for the State University was for the present biennium. It will be observed from the former report of the committee that it was the intention of the committee to allow the University $15,000 a year for the next two years and the committee so recommends.

The committee made a further error in the drafting of the former report in the amount recommended for additional support fund. The committee recommended an annual increase of $22,000 a year and the further sum of $15,000 a year for the next two years. The latter amount should be $25,000 a year for the next two years, and the recommendation of the committee as to this asking is modified accordingly.

Your committee in making the recommendation in its report for an appropriation in the sum of $15,000 for equipment of departments at the College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts intended to add to said sum the further sum of five thousand dollars for furnishings and fixtures for the general engineering laboratory, but which was not done through oversight.

The committee therefore recommends that the sum of $5,000 be appropriated for furnishings and fixtures for the general engineering laboratory.

Respectfully submitted,

W. C. STUCKSLAGER,

F. L. MAYTAG,

WABD WILSON,

N. J. LEE,

CURRAN F. SWIFT,

Committee.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS.

By Anderson of Hamilton, House File No. 463, a bill for an act repealing Sections One Thousand Eight Hundred and Seventy-two (1872) and One Thousand Eight Hundred and Seventy-three (1873) of the Code, relating to quarterly statements of state and savings banks and examinations by the Auditor of State and providing substitutes therefor.

Read first and second time and referred to Committee on Banks and Banking.

Moore of Linn, chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, presented the following resolution adopted by that committee:

RESOLUTION.

WHEREAS, Attention has been called to uses of funds by State Educational Boards during the past biennial period which are criticized by the press and the public as of questionable character, and unworthy the approval or sanction of the General Assembly, and

WHEREAS, As examples of such uses of funds, attention is drawn to the erection at Iowa City of a $25,000 residence for occupancy by the President of the State University; also to the erection at Cedar Falls of a $15,000 residence for occupancy by the President of the State Normal School; and

WHEREAS, At least one of the projects mentioned above (that at Iowa City) was submitted to the last General Assembly, in a much more modest form, and approval therefor was not secured, and it was assumed that having consulted the General Assembly in this matter, the board of this institution would not override its wishes, and

WHEREAS, Regardless of the legal right of the boards to use, for the purposes mentioned, old funds not technically within legislative control, as they claim to have done, their action has violated the spirit of the Statutes of 1906, which provided that no new building shall be erected by said boards until plans have been submitted and approval secured from the General Assembly.

Therefore be it Resolved, That the Appropriations Committee of this House disclaims all responsibility in the matters mentioned, strongly protests against an action which has committed the state to a policy entirely unauthorized and unwarranted, and has deprived the General Assembly of proper control over one of its most important functions, and insists that the spirit of legislative directions regarding all expenditures of public moneys shall be strictly observed.

Laid over under Rule 34.
