Be it Enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

Section. 1. That cities and towns and cities acting under special charter and commission plan of government shall have power to acquire and provide for the formation and maintenance of a municipal theater for the use of all the inhabitants, under proper regulations, and may purchase land and erect buildings, or may hire buildings or rooms, suitable for that purpose, and equip the same with the appurtenances and fixtures necessary for the conducting of a theater, and provide for the compensation of the necessary employes; may receive, hold or dispose of any and all gifts, donations, devises and bequests that may be made to them for the purpose of establishing, increasing or improving any such theater; and may apply all proceeds, profits, interests and rents acquired therefrom in any such manner as will best promote the prosperity and utility of such theater; but no money can be appropriated for such purposes until the electors of such city or town shall, at a general or city election, have voted for the establishment of such theater. No such question shall be submitted at any such election unless a petition requesting the submission of such question be first signed by twenty-five per cent of the qualified electors residing in such city or town voting at the last preceding general or city election and filed with the mayor thereof; and when such petition is filed not more than six months nor less than three months prior to the next regular city election the question shall be submitted at such regular city election. The clerk of such city or town, before the submission of such question, shall compare said petition with the poll books of the last general or city election in order to ascertain if the petitions are sufficient.

Sec. 2. In any city or town in which a municipal theater has been established there shall be a board of trustees consisting of five members, to be appointed by the mayor, by and with the approval of the council. Of the trustees first appointed, one shall hold office for one year, one for two years, one for three years, one for four years, and one for five years from the first day of July following their appointment; and at their first meeting, they shall cast lots for the respective terms, reporting the result of such lot to the council.

Annually thereafter, before the first of July, the mayor shall appoint, by and with the approval of the council, one trustee to succeed the trustee retiring on the following first of July, who shall hold office for a term of five years from such first of July, and until his successor is appointed and qualified. The mayor may remove any or all of said trustees for cause, and any vacancies occurring in the board shall be filled by appointment by the mayor as herein provided, such appointment to fill out the unexpired term for which the appointment is made. Bona fide citizens and residents of the city or town, male or female, over the age of twenty-one years, are eligible to appointment. The removal of any trustee permanently from the city shall render his office as trustee vacant. Members of said board shall receive no compensation for their services.

Sec. 3. Said board of theater trustees shall have and exercise the following powers: To meet and organize by the election of one of their number as president of the board, and by the election of a secretary and such other officers as the board may deem necessary; to have charge, control and supervision of the municipal theater, its appurtenances and fixtures, and rooms connecting the same, directing and controlling all the affairs of such theater; to employ such employes as may be necessary for the proper management of such theater and fix their compensation; and to make contracts with or employ theatrical companies or individuals for the giving of such performances as may meet with their approval; provided, however, that nothing herein shall be construed as permitting said trustees to give exhibitions, entertainments or amusements of any character which are now or may hereafter be prohibited by law. Said trustees shall have power to charge rentals and to fix an admission fee for all exhibitions, performances or amusements, but nothing herein shall be construed as prohibiting said trustees from granting the use of such theater for gatherings of a public nature and to which no fee of admission is charged.

Sec. 4. All moneys received from taxation, admission fees, rentals, gifts or bequests and set apart for the construction or maintenance of such a theater shall be deposited in the treasury of such city or town to the credit of the theater fund, and shall be kept by the treasurer separate and apart from all other moneys, and paid out upon the order of the board of trustees, signed by its president and secretary; and the said trustees shall make an annual report to the mayor and council of all moneys received from whatsoever source, all property acquired, improvements made, all funds or property disposed of, and for what purpose.

Sec. 5. For the purpose of paying for the purchase price of such theater grounds and for the construction of such theater building, and equipping the same, such cities or towns shall have the power to levy upon all the property within the corporate limits of such cities and towns subject to taxation for said purposes in addition to all other taxes now provided by law, a special tax not exceeding in any one year two (2) mills on the dollar for a period not exceeding ten years.

Sec. 6. Any city or town desiring to purchase ground or to construct a building for theater purposes may issue bonds in anticipation of the special tax authorized in the preceding section. Such bonds shall be known as theater bonds and shall be issued and sold in accordance with the provisions of chapter twelve (12) of title five (V) of the Code of Iowa, and acts amendatory thereto. In issuing such bonds, the city council may cause portions of said bonds to become due at different, definite periods, but none of such bonds so issued shall be due and payable in less than three nor more than ten years from date of issue.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

MR. SPEAKER: I desire to explain my vote on House File No. 674, which has just failed to pass the House because of the lack of a constitutional majority. I am in favor of the general spirit of the bill, except that it places the entire discretion in the hands of the board of supervisors as to whether or not such a district shall be permitted to be organized. In some of the counties of the state the people are now ready for the per-manent road work contemplated by this bill, and it would be unfair to the people of those counties to enact a law which would permit a board of supervisors to stand in the way if the prevailing sentiment of the county was in favor of such permanent road districts. On the other hand, there are many counties in the state that are not now ready for such permanent road work, and it would be unfair to the people of those counties if the board of supervisors should be empowered with authority to arbitrarily proceed to levy the tax as provided in this bill, and to force upon them the burden of paying the roads. Hence, I prepared and offered on the floor of the House the following amendment to the bill:

“MR. SPEAKER: I move to amend House File No. 674 as follows:

First by adding to section one (1) thereof the following, as a substitute for the amendment offered by Kulp of Palo Alto: '(b). Also amend sec-tion one (1) thereof by adding thereto the following: Provided, however, that before the said board shall proceed with the establishment of such permanent road districts, authority therefor shall have been submitted to a vote of the people in the following manner: Whenever the board of supervisors of any county shall be presented with a petition, signed by two hundred resident tax payers of such county, as shown by the last preceding tax list, asking that an annual tax, not exceeding three mills on the dollar, of the assessed valuation of the taxable property in the county, including all taxable property in cities and incorporated towns, be levied and collected to be used only for making such permanent improvement of highways as in this bill provided, such board of supervisors shall submit the question to the qualified electors of the county at the next general election to be held in the county, or at a special election called for that purpose; first, giving ninety days notice thereof in one or more newspapers published in the county, if any be published therein, and by posting such notice, written or printed, in each township of the county, which notice shall include the text of the petition and state a period of time in which said tax shall be levied, not exceeding twenty years; which said election shall be held at the usual places in the county for the election of county officers and the vote to be canvassed in the same manner as that for county officers. Should a majority of all the votes cast on such question be in favor of the levy of such tax, the board of supervisors shall proceed as hereinafter provided.

(c) The board of supervisors of such county shall submit, to the qualified electors thereof, the question whether there shall be levied upon the assessed property of such county, a tax of not exceeding three mills on the dollar to be used only for making permanent improvements of highways as in this bill provided, and for maintaining the same, or for either or all of such purposes. The ballot to be used at any election, at which the permanent road question is submitted, shall be printed with a statement substantially as follows:

- YES For a.....mill tax to provide for the establish-
- NO ment of permanent road improvement districts.

If a majority of the votes cast, at such election for the purposes so submitted, shall be in favor of such tax, the board of supervisors shall be authorized to levy a tax not exceeding the amount so authorized, which shall be collected in the same manner as other taxes are collected and credited to the 'Permanent Road Improvement District Fund,' and shall be paid out as other road taxes and for no other purposes whatever."

Second. That section ten (10) of said bill be amended by adding thereto the following: "And that the word 'two' in line three of section twelve (12) of chapter ninety-five (95), acts of the Thirty-third General Assembly, be stricken out, and that the words 'not more than three' be inserted in lieu thereof."

This amendment I moved as a substitute for the amendment offered by Kulp of Palo Alto, but was arbitrarily and erroneously ruled out of order and thus out of the record, by Speaker Pro Tem Brady and the members of the House were thus prevented from having the opportunity to vote on it. I incorporate my amendment into the explanation of my vote. Had this amendment been adopted by the House, myself and a number of other members, who are now on record as opposing the bill, would have voted for it.

WM. F. STIPE.

Ring of Linn presented the following concurrent resolution:

Whereas, The remaining work of this general assembly can and ought to be completed by April 17th, therefore be it

Be it Enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

Section 1. That it shall be unlawful for any manufacturer, importer, jobber or retailer, or for any agent or representative thereof, either directly or indirectly, to sell, or cause to be sold, offer for sale, take orders for, or arrange for the sale of, in any manner whatsoever, within this state, except as hereinafter provided, any patent or proprietary medicine, or any mixture of any drugs and medicines which are recommended for the cure, treatment or mitigation of disease, injury or deformity of man, of any kind or character, without a permit from the proprietary medicine commission hereinafter created. But nothing in this act shall be so construed as to make the provisions thereof apply to such drugs and preparations as are specified and recognized by the United States Pharmacopoeia or National Formulary and which are sold under the name by which they are recognized, or to prohibit the filling of prescriptions furnished by practicing physicians, dentists or veterinarians, the originals of which prescriptions are retained by the pharmacists compounding or filling the same, or so as to change or modify the provisions of any law relating to the practice of pharmacy, medicine, dentistry or veterinary medicine, or so as to prohibit the sale of any preparation manufactured by a registered pharmacist and sold or offered for sale in any place of business controlled by him, or so as to prohibit the dispensing of medicines by licensed physicians.

Sec. 2. Before any such permit is granted, it will be necessary that the applicant file with the secretary of the commission an application therefore, describing therein the particular drug, medicine or combination thereof which applicant desires to sell within this state, and setting forth in detail a correct statement of the quantity or proportion of any alcohol, opium, morphine, acetanilid, codeine, heroin, or compound or derivative of any such drugs, contained therein. Said application shall be accompanied by a sufficient quantity of such drug, medicine, or combination thereof, that the same may be analyzed. Copies of circulars, labels and other printed matter by which such articles are to be accompanied or advertised shall also be furnished the commission. All of the above shall be furnished without expense to the commission. Said application shall also be accompanied by an annual inspection fee of twenty-five dollars ($25) for each preparation; provided, however, that any person, firm or corporation selling their preparations through itinerant vendors, shall be credited upon said account with the amount paid annually by their vendors under the provisions of section 2594 of the code.

Sec. 3. When the applicant has fully complied with the provisions of the preceding section, the commission shall analyze or test, or cause to be analyzed or tested, the preparation accompanying said application, and shall investigate the character and responsibility of the applicant, and shall examine the labels and other printed matter accompanying said application; and said commission may then grant to said applicant a permit to sell said preparation within this state for a period of one year from date; provided, however, that said drug, medicine or combination thereof does not contain poisonous drugs in sufficient quantities to be dangerous to life or health, and that it does not contain alcohol in greater proportion than is necessary to preserve or hold in solution the essential ingredients of such preparation, and that it cannot be used as an alcoholic beverage, or for the purpose of satisfying a drug habit, and that it is not dangerous to life or health when used as directed, and that it is not intended for any unlawful or immoral purposes, and that the circulars or other printed matter by which said preparation is accompanied does not contain such false or misleading statements as will result in gross fraud upon the public.

Sec. 4. The permit granted the applicant shall specify the name under which the preparation is authorized to be sold, the name of the person, firm or corporation to whom the permit is granted, the date when such permit will expire, and shall be signed by the commission by the secretary. Each permit shall have plainly written or printed upon the face thereof the following: "The granting of this permit shall be in no way construed as a recommendation of the merits of the preparation named herein," and any person, firm or corporation who shall refer to such permit in any advertisement or printed matter of any kind shall also print in said advertisement or printed matter, with equal prominence, the statement: "The commission in no wise recommends the merits of the preparation herein referred to." No permit shall be granted for a longer period than one year. The secretary of the commission shall keep a complete record of the permits granted, to whom granted, the date of issue, the date of expiration thereof, the number of the permit, and the name of the preparation authorized to be sold.

Sec. 5. That from and after the taking effect of this act any person, firm or corporation who shall, either as principal or as agent, sell or cause to be sold, offer for sale, take orders for, or negotiate for the sale within this state of any drug or medicine, or any combination or mixture thereof, except as herein exempted, before a permit has been granted by the commission as hereinbefore provided, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than fifty dollars ($50) nor more than three hundred dollars ($300) for the first offense, and upon conviction of the second and each subsequent offense, shall be fined not less than three hundred dollars ($300) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500); provided, however, that all drugs, medicines, or combinations or mixtures thereof, purchased or received by any importer, jobber or retailer of this state prior to September 1, 1913, shall be exempt from the provisions of this act until September 1, 1914, but the burden of proof that such drugs, medicines, or combinations or mixtures thereof were so purchased or received shall rest upon said importers, jobbers or retailers respectively.

Sec. 6. The secretary of the commission shall collect and receive all inspection fees required under the provisions of this act, and shall account therefor to the treasurer of the state on the first of each month. An accurate account of such moneys received by him shall be kept in a book kept for that purpose.

Sec. 7. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act there is hereby created the proprietary medicine commission, referred to throughout this act as the commission, which commission shall be made up of the secretary of the commission of pharmacy, the secretary of the state board of health, and the dairy and food commissioner of the state, the secretary of state and food and dairy chemist. The secretary of the state board of health shall act as chairman of said commission and the secretary of the commission of pharmacy shall act as secretary of said commission, and shall serve without additional compensation. Should it prove necessary, the executive council may employ such help and contract such other expenses as may be needed in carrying out the provisions of this act, and shall fix the salary of such help; and said executive council is hereby empowered to set aside out of any inspection fees collected under the provisions of this act and paid into the state treasury, an amount sufficient to meet the necessary expenses of such commission. Any chemical analysis or test being necessary by this commission shall, upon its request, be performed by the chemist provided for in section 4999-a-17 of chapter 10-a of the Supplement to the Code, 1907. It shall be the express duty of the commission to enforce each and all of the provisions of this act, and in prosecutions brought against persons violating any of the same, it shall assist the law enforcement offices charged with the duty of prosecuting law violators.

conveyances executed by said Cedar Rapids & Missouri river railroad company and its grantees for more than twenty-five years last past, claiming in good faith to be the absolute owner thereof and has made valuable improvements and paid taxes thereon during all of said time; and

Sec. 2. It shall be the duty of the commission, as speedily as possible, to value the physical holdings of all public utilities within the cities and towns of the state, together with the cost of the service given, or product manufactured, for the purpose of arriving at a fair price for such service or product, or for the purchase of the utility by such city or town; provided that they shall perform the same service for any utility outside of a city or town on petition of 2 per cent of the qualified electors of such county, computed on the vote cast for the highest office at the last preceding general election. A public utility, in the meaning of this act, is a business conducted by an individual, firm, or corporation, using the streets, alleys, or public ways for the placing therein or thereon the means of rendering their service or delivering their product, or for which use a franchise is or has been required.

Sec. 3. The creation of this public utility commission shall in no way affect the status of any franchise, agreement, or contract between any city, town or other governing body and the owner of any public utility.

Sec. 4. The primary power to fix the rates chargeable by any public utility shall be in the city, town or other governing body, but the public utility may appeal from any such fixing of rates to the public utility commission who shall decide such appeal. Provided, however, that nothing in this act shall abridge the right of either party from any decision to a court of competent jurisdiction.

Sec. 5. Any city, town or other governing body which shall by vote of the qualified electors therein, decide to purchase any utility, or utilities within its borders, is hereby empowered to do so on the following conditions:

(a) On or after the expiration of the franchise granted to the public utility, at the valuation fixed by the public utility commission.

(b) Before the expiration of the franchise granted to the public utility, at the price fixed by the public utility commission, plus the equitable going value, to be determined by the public utility commission.

Any city, town or governing body deciding, as herein provided, to purchase a utility or utilities, shall have the same powers to issue bonds or borrow money on the sole security of the utility purchased, or extensions thereof, that a private corporation would have if owner of the same; and bonds so issued, or indebtedness incurred, shall not be considered part of the indebtedness limited by statute, and in addition, such city, town, or other governing body, shall have power and authority to incur an indebtedness in the purchase or construction of any such public utility in any sum not in excess of five (5%) per centum of the actual value of the taxable property within its borders as shown by the last preceding assessment roll, and may issue bonds or other evidence of debt therefor, and levy taxes for the payment thereof, and interest thereon.

Sec. 6. The public utility commission shall have power to order and compel physical connections between privately owned public utilities, or between publicly owned and privately owned public utilities, which shall appear to be for the better service of the public, and to prescribe regulations and fix rates therefor.

Sec. 7. In event of any city, town or other governing body purchasing a public utility within its borders to which are attached extensions or connections lying without such borders, or to which such extensions or connections are proposed or built, the public utility commission shall make regulations and fix rates whereby such extensions or connections may continue their services.

Every common carrier shall file with the commission and shall print and keep open to public inspection, schedules showing the rates, fares, charges and classifications for the transportation of passengers and property within the state from each point upon its route to all other points thereon, and from each point upon its route to all points upon every route leased, operated or controlled by it; and from each point upon its route or upon any route leased, operated or controlled by it to all points upon the route of any other common carrier, whenever a through route and joint rate shall have been established or ordered between any two such points. If no joint rate over a through route has been established, the several carriers in such through route shall file, print and keep open to public inspection the separately established rates, fares, charges and classifications applicable to the through transportation.

The schedules, printed as aforesaid, shall plainly state the places between which property and persons will be carried; and shall also contain the classification or classifications of passengers or property; and shall also state separately all terminal charges, storage charges, icing charges, and all other charges which the commission may require to be stated, all privileges or facilities granted or allowed and any and all rules and regulations which may in anywise change, affect or determine any part or the aggregate of, such rates, fares and charges, or the value of the service rendered to the passenger, shipper or consignee.

Such schedules shall be plainly printed in large type, and a copy thereof shall be kept by every such carrier, readily accessible to and for inspection by the public in every station or office of such carrier where passengers and property are respectively receipted for transportation, when such station or office is in charge of any agent; and in every station or office of such carrier where passenger tickets for transportation or tickets covering sleeping or parlor car or other train accommodations are sold, or bills of lading or receipts for property are issued.

Any and all such schedules, kept as aforesaid, shall be produced by such carrier for inspection upon the demand of any person. A notice printed in bold type and stating that such schedules are on file with the agent and open to inspection by any person and that the agent will assist any such person to determine from such schedules any transportation rates or fares, or rules or regulations which are in force, shall be kept posted by the carrier in at least two public and conspicuous places in every station or office.

The form of every such schedule shall be prescribed by the commission, and in the case of common carriers subject to the provisions of the interstate commerce act shall conform as nearly as may be to the forms of schedules prescribed by the interstate commission.

(2) under such rules and regulations as the commission shall prescribe, every public utility, other than a common carrier, shall file with the commission, within such time and in such form as the commission may designate and prescribe, and shall plainly print and keep open to public inspection, schedules showing all rates, tolls, rentals, charges and classifications made, collected or enforced, or to be made, collected or enforced, for any service or supply by it rendered or furnished or to be rendered or furnished, within this state, together with all rules, regulations, conditions and limitations, facilities, privileges and forms of contracts or agreements in any manner affecting or relating to such rates, tolls, rentals, charges, classifications, service and supply.

(3) The commission shall have power from time to time in its discretion to determine and prescribe by order, such changes in the forms of schedules to be filed under the provisions of this section, as may be found expedient or desirable, and to modify the requirements of any of its orders, rules or regulations with respect to any of the matters in this section mentioned, either in particular instances or by general rule or order applicable to general or to special or peculiar circumstances or conditions.

(4) Unless the commission shall otherwise order, no change shall be made in any rate, joint rate, fare, rental, toll, charge, classification, privilege or facility, or in any rule or regulation or form of contract or agreement affecting the same, shown in any schedule filed in accordance with this section, except after thirty (30) days' notice to the commission, which notice shall plainly state the changes proposed to be made in the schedule or schedules then in force and the time when such change or changes will go into effect:

Provided, however, that any public utility desiring to increase any rate, joint rate, fare, rental, toll or charge now or hereafter in force, shall make application to the commission, in which application shall be set out the old rate, joint rate, fare, rental, toll or charge, and the proposed rate, joint rate, fare, rental, toll or charge, together with the reasons upon which such proposed increase is asked, and thereupon the commission shall fix a time for hearing and shall give notice of such hearing, and at such hearing the commerce counsel shall appear for the people and against the said increase, and the commission shall determine upon such hearing in the manner as provided in section thirty-seven (37) of this act, whether or not the said proposed rate, joint rate, fare, rental, toll or charge or any part thereof shall become effective; but no raise in any rate, joint rate, fare, rental, toll or charge shall become effective without the approval of the commission.

Notice of such change or changes shall also be given to the public in such manner as the commission, after receipt of notice to it hereunder shall direct.

The commission for good cause shown may, by order, allow changes without requiring the notice to it or previous notice to the public, under such conditions as it shall prescribe and may suspend the taking effect of such changes under the circumstances and in the manner hereinafter provided.

At the time when any changes hereunder take effect, they shall be plainly indicated upon existing schedules or new schedules shall be printed and filed as the commission may order.

Sec. 31. The names of the several public utilities which are parties to any joint tariff, rate, fare, toll, charge, contract or classification, shall be specified in the schedule or schedules showing the same. Unless otherwise ordered by the commission, any schedule showing such joint tariff, rate, fare, toll, charge, contract or classification need be filed with the commission by only one of the parties thereto; provided the other party or each of the other parties thereto shall file with the commission such evidence of concurrence therein or acceptance thereof as may be required or approved by the commission.

Every common carrier shall file with the commission duly certified copies of every contract, agreement, lease or arrangement with any other common carrier or common caries in any wise relating to the transportation of persons or property.

Sec. 32. (1) Nothing in this act shall be taken to prohibit any corporation or person engaged in the production, generation, transmission or furnishing of heat, light, water or power, or telephone service, from establishing a sliding scale of charges, or from entering into any reasonable arrangement with its customers or consumers or its employes for a fixed period for the automatic adjustment of charges for any service or supply rendered or furnished or to be rendered or furnished and the payment of dividends or the distribution of surplus profits; provided that any such sliding scale or arrangement shall have first been filed with and approved by the commission; but nothing in this paragraph shall operate to prevent the commission, after the expiration of such fixed period, from fixing or prescribing proper, just and reasonable rates and charges to be made for service or supply as authorized by this act, or from revoking its approval of any arrangement hereunder or amending or rescinding all orders relating thereto when in its judgment such arrangement shall be no longer practicable or advantageous to the parties interested or injurious to the public.

(2) Nothing in this act shall be taken to prohibit any public utility from itself profiting from any economies, efficiencies, and improvements which it may make; or from distributing by way of dividends, or otherwise disposing of, the profits resulting therefrom; and the commission is authorized to determine to what extent, if any, such utility may have the benefit of the economies, efficiencies, and improvements, and to what extent, if any, efficiencies and improvements shall inure to the benefit of the public in the reduction of rates and charges for service.

Sec. 33. (1) The provisions of this act and of the present laws or any future law of this state shall govern the interchange of passenger and property traffic between the lines owned, operated, controlled or leased by a common carrier and the lines of every other common carrier without discrimination between shippers, passengers or carriers, either as to compensation, charge, service rendered or facilities afforded.

Provided, however—

(a) That preference may always be given for transportation of live stock and perishable property;

(b) That every railroad corporation and every electric railroad corporation shall make or permit to be made, a physical connection or connections between any railroad operated by it and the railroad or any other railroad corporation or electric railroad corporation whenever the commission shall find and order that public convenience and necessity require such physical connection or connections; and that such physical connection or connections can reasonably be made by the construction and maintenance of switch or track connection or interchange track at connecting points, and without thereby causing irreparable injury to either of such corporations or substantial detriment to the service to be rendered by each such corporation.

And in like manner and subject to like restrictions every street railway corporation shall permit a physical connection or connections to be made between any street railway operated by it and the street railway of any other street railway corporation, in addition to furnishing the facilities required by chapter 104, acts of the Thirty-second General Assembly of Iowa.

(c) The commission may when in its judgment the interests of the public will be subserved thereby, after due hearing upon not less than thirty days notice given to the utility or utilities thereby affected, make such order or regulation as may be necessary to require or permit any railway, interurban railway, or street railway to use a portion of the tracks, grounds, terminals and other facilities of any other railway, interurban railway or street railway, taking into consideration the duties, rights and interests of the corporation or utility whose tracks, terminals or other facilities are to be so used and providing in said order, rule or regulation for just and reasonable compensation for such use thereof as is permitted, which compensation shall be fixed by the commission in case the utilities interested fail to agree.

A railroad corporation or an electric railroad corporation shall not be required to interchange cars with a street railway corporation except on such terms and conditions as the commission may, after hearing, order and direct.

(2) The commission shall have power by order to require any two or more telegraph or telephone public utilities whose lines form a continuous line of communication or could be made to do so by the construction and maintenance of suitable connections at common points, between different localities which are not reached by the line of either company alone, or between any telephone system and any local switching station maintained by one or more rural mutual telephone lines for the convenience of their members, but not maintaining a general local exchange or between any two telephone systems maintained in any municipality and which are owned or controlled either directly or indirectly by the same persons or company, to establish through lines within the state between two or more such localities or to establish physical connection between such local telephone system and such rural switching station or between such two telephone systems so owned or controlled by the same person or company in one municipality, and to establish joint rates or charges for such service and to fix the terms and conditions under which such joint service shall be rendered!; and in case such through lines and joint rates be not established by the utilities named in any such order within the time therein specified, the commission shall have power by order to establish the same and fix the just and reasonable rates and charges to be charged for such through service and to declare the portion thereof to which each of the said utilities affected thereby shall be entitled and the manner in which the same shall be secured and paid. The term "physical connection" as used in this sub-section means such number of trunk lines or complete wire circuits and connections as may be required to furnish reasonably adequate telephone service between such public utilities.

(3) Every public utility having conduits, subways, poles or other equipment on, over or under any street or highway shall for a reasonable compensation and upon such terms and conditions as the commission shall prescribe and order, permit the use of the same by any other public utility, whenever, in the judgment of the commission, public convenience and necessity require such use, and when such use will not result in irreparable or serious injury or damage to the public utility owning such conduits, subways, poles or equipment, nor in any substantial detriment to the service to be rendered or supply furnished by such public utility.

Sec. 34. Every public utility shall annually on such day as the commission may designate, transmit to the commission a report for the year ending on a preceding day to be fixed by the commission which shall be called the annual report, and shall be verified in such manner as required by the commission. In case any verification be not made upon the knowledge of the person verifying the same, he shall state in his certificate the sources of his information and the grounds of his belief as to any matters not stated to be verified upon his personal knowledge.

Such annual report shall set forth in addition to the present requirements of law, such facts, statistics and particulars, and in such items, relative to the public utility, its business, operations, receipts and expenditures, and all such other information as may be required by the commission.

The commission shall prescribe and shall annually furnish to the public utilities blank forms for such annual reports. The commission may from time to time make such changes and additions in such forms as it may deem proper and desirable, giving to the public utilities reasonable notice of any changes or additions which require a substantial alteration in the methods or forms of keeping their accounts.

In case of public utilities subject to the supervision or regulation of the interstate commerce commission or other federal authority, the forms prescribed for such annual reports shall conform as nearly as may be to those required of such public utilities by the interstate commerce commission or such other federal authority.

If a report is defective or appears to be erroneous, the commission shall notify the public utility to amend it within fifteen days.

The commission may extend the time for making and filing the annual report for a period not exceeding sixty days.

The originals of the annual reports, subscribed and verified as hereinabove provided, shall be preserved in the office of the commission and be open to the inspection of the public.

The commission may also require of any public utility periodical or special statements or reports concerning any matters about which the commission is authorized or required by this or any other act to inquire or keep itself informed or which it is required to regulate, supervise or enforce; which periodical or special statements or reports shall cover such period and shall be furnished within the time and be verified in the manner prescribed by the commission.

The commission may at any time require of any public utility specific answers to questions upon which the commission may need information and which it shall deem necessary or desirable to enable it to carry into effect any of the provisions of this act.

If any public utility shall fail to make and file its annual report within the time in this section specified, or within the time as extended by the commission, or shall fail to amend such report within the time above specified, or shall fail to make the periodical or special statements or reports when and as required by the commission, as in this section provided, or shall fail to make specific answers to any questions asked of it by the commission pursuant to the authority of this or any other act, such public utility shall forfeit to the state the sum of twenty-five dollars for each and every day it shall continue to be in default with respect to such annual report, amendment, periodical or special statement or report or answer, which forfeiture shall be recovered in an action brought by the commission in the name of the people of the state of Iowa. The amount recovered in any such action shall be put in the state treasury and credited to the general fund. Provided, however, that nothing in this section contained shall be construed to cause any municipality to forfeit or pay a sum greater than fifty dollars ($50.00); but the forfeiture herein provided may be enforced against the officer or officers offending or failing to report.

Sec. 35. (1). The commission shall keep itself informed as to the condition of the public utilities subject to its supervision, their capitalization, their franchises and the manner in which they are managed, conducted, controlled and operated, not only with reference to the adequacy, security and accommodation of the service afforded by them, but also with respect to their compliance with their charters, the laws of this state, and the orders, directions and requirements of the commission.

It may inquire into the rates, charges, regulations, practices, equipment and services of public utilities, or it may designate persons to inquire into these matters.

(2) The commission shall have power, either through its members or responsible agents, engineers, inspectors, and consumers duly authorized by it, to enter upon the premises and to inspect the property, equipment, buildings, plants, factories, power houses and offices of any public utility for any purpose consistent with the provisions of this act. It shall have the power to set up and use on such premises any apparatus and appliances and occupy reasonable space therefor.

The power of inspection hereunder shall include the right to ride upon any freight or passenger locomotive or car while in service and to have upon reasonable notice the use of an inspection locomotive or inspection car, or inspection locomotive and inspection car, for a physical inspection once annually of all the lines and stations of each common carrier under its supervision.

(3) The commission shall investigate the cause of all accidents happening in connection with the operation of any public utility within the state and resulting in the serious injury or death of any person, and which in its judgment shall require investigation.

Every public utility shall give immediate notice, so far as possible, to the commission of every such accident happening in connection with its operation within the state, stating the time, place and circumstances of the accident and such other facts relative thereto as the commission may require.

Any commissioner, or any inspector or other employe of the commission duly authorized by it may attend any inquest held in the case of any such accident with power to cause any person having or believed to have knowledge of the facts and circumstances to be summoned as a witness to testify at such inquest.

(4) The commission after notice and a public hearing may by order ascertain and fix adequate and serviceable standards for the measurement of quality, quantity, pressure, initial voltage or other condition pertaining to the supply or quality of the product furnished or rendered by any water corporation, gas corporation or electrical corporation within the state, and prescribe reasonable regulations for examining and testing such product or service or for the measurement thereof. It may establish reasonable rules, regulations, specifications and standards to secure the accuracy of all meters and appliances for measurements; and prescribe from time to time standards of quality, quantity, pressure, and efficiency of water, gas and electric current manufactured, distributed, transmitted or sold by any such water corporation, gas corporation or electrical corporation, and every such corporation is hereby required to carry into effect all orders of the commission relative thereto.

Any consumer or user may have any appliance used for the measurement of any product or service of a water company or corporation or a gas or electrical corporation or company tested upon payment of the fees fixed by the commission. The commission may establish reasonable fees to be paid for testing such appliances on the request of the consumers or users, such fees to be paid by the consumer or user at the time the request is made and to be paid by the utility and repaid to the consumer or user if the appliance be found commercially defective or incorrect to the disadvantage of the consumers or users, under such regulations and conditions as the commission may prescribe.

The commission shall purchase such materials, apparatus and other instruments for examination and tests under this paragraph as it may deem necessary.

(5) The commission shall examine and inspect from time to time the methods employed by any water corporation, gas corporation or electrical corporation in manufacturing, distributing, transmitting, supplying or delivering water, gas or electricity, and shall have power to order such reasonable improvements and extensions of the works, wires, pipes, mains and poles, lines, conduits, ducts and such other reasonable devices, apparatus and property of such public utilities, as in its judgment will best promote the public interest, preserve the public health and protect those using such water, gas or electricity and those employed in the manufacture or distribution thereof.

Sec. 36. The commission may of its own motion investigate or make inquiry in a manner to be determined by it as to any act or thing done or omitted to be done by any public utility; and it shall be the duty of the commission to make such investigation or inquiry in regard to any act or thing done or omitted to be done by any such public utility in violation of any provision of law or of any order of the commission.

Complaints may be made to the commission by any person or corporation aggrieved, or by any civic body or municipal corporation, either by petition or complaint in writing, setting forth any thing or act done or omitted to be done by any public utility in violation or claimed to be in violation of any provision of law or of the terms and conditions of its franchises or of any order of the commission.

Upon the presentation of such complaint the commission shall cause a copy thereof to be forwarded to the public utility complained of, together with an order directed to such public utility requiring that the matters complained of be satisfied or that answer be made thereto in writing within a time to be specified in such order. If the public utility shall satisfy the complaint and shall notify the commission of that fact on or before the time allowed for answer, the commission need take no further action upon the complaint. If, however, the complaint be not satisfied and it shall appear to the commission that there are reasonable grounds for such complaint, it shall investigate the charges therein by such means as it shall deem proper and take such action within its power as the facts may justify.

In every case of complaint investigated by the commission it shall make and file an order dismissing the complaint or petition; or, after notice, give a hearing to the complainant or complainants and the public utility, and upon such hearing make and file an order either dismissing the complaint or petition or directing the public utility complained of to satisfy the cause of complaint in whole or to the extent which the commission may specify and require.

Any public utility may make complaint hereunder as to any matter affecting its own property, service or supply, and the procedure thereon shall be the same as in other cases of complaint.

Sec. 37. (1) (a) Whenever the commission after a hearing had upon its own motion or upon complaint shall find that the rates, fares, tolls, rentals, charges, joint rates, or any of them, demanded, exacted, charged, collected or made by any public utility for any service or supply, or in connection therewith, or that the rules, regulations, practices, contracts or classifications of such public utility affecting such service or supply or such rates, fares, tolls, rentals, charges or joint rates, or any of them, are unjust, unreasonable, or unjustly or unduly discriminatory or preferential, or in any wise in violation of any provision of this act or any other law of this state, or that such rates, fares, tolls, rentals, charges or joint rates are insufficient to yield reasonable compensation for the services rendered or supply furnished, the commission shall, with due regard to a reasonable return upon the value of the property of said public utility actually used and useful for the convenience of the public, determine the just and reasonable rates, fares, tolls, rentals, charges, joint rates, rules, regulations, practices, contracts or classifications to be thereafter imposed, observed and enforced, and shall fix the same by order to be served upon such public utility, provided, however, that nothing in this act shall be deemed to modify or repeal any of the provisions of section 2077 of the Supplement to the Code, 1907.

(b) Nothing herein contained shall be held to prevent any municipality owning and operating any public utility within the provisions of this act, from fixing or determining the reasonable tolls, rates, charges, classifications and schedules for services to be rendered or furnished by such municipally owned public utilities, nor to prevent a municipality from constructing, installing and operating a light and power or gas plant, for the purpose of lighting the streets, alleys, parks and public property and buildings and furnishing power for city use and purposes.

(c) Complaints may be made to the commission by any municipality or public utility or by any twenty-five (25) consumers in any municipality by petition or complaint in writing, setting forth the unreasonableness or unlawfulness of any rates, fares, tolls, charges, classifications or schedules fixed, determined, or charged by any public utility other than those owned and operated by a municipality for the rendering or furnishing of any services, and upon the presentation of such complaint, the commission shall proceed in the general manner set forth in this section with reference to other complaints, and upon hearing, the commission shall determine and fix what shall be the reasonable rates, fares, tolls, charges, classifications or schedules or any of them.

(d) Complaints may be made to the commission by ten per cent of the consumers in any municipality by petition or complaint in writing, setting forth the unreasonableness or unlawfulness of any tolls, rates, fares, charges, classifications or schedules fixed, determined or charged by any municipality owned public utility under the jurisdiction of the commission for the redering or furnishing of any service, or the failure of any such utility to furnish adequate service, and, upon the presentation of such complaint, the commission shall proceed in the general manner set forth in this section and, upon hearing, the commission shall determine and fix what shall be the reasonable rates, fares, tolls, charges, classifications or schedules or any of them, and what shall be adequate service. Provided, however, that before submitting such petition or complaint to such commission, the same shall have been submitted to the council of such municipality for consideration, and only those rates, joint rates, fares, rentals, tolls or charges upon which there is still a dispute, after said council shall have passed thereon, shall be submitted to said commission. If such council does not act upon such petition so presented within thirty days from the time same is so presented, then such petition or complaint may be taken direct to the commission.

(2) The commission shall have power to establish joint rates, fares, charges, transfers, on through routes between railroads, or between electric railroads, or between street railways, or between any railroad and any electric railroad, or between any electric railroad and any street railway. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to affect, modify or repeal any of the provisions of chapter 104, of the acts of the Thirty-second General Assembly of the state of Iowa (incorporated in the Supplement to the Code, 1907, as sections 2110-c, 2110-d, 2110-e and 2110-f) and the commission shall have full power and authority to make all orders, rules and regulations by it deemed necessary and proper for the purpose of enforcing the provisions and effectuating the objects and purposes of said chapter 104; provided, however, that all proceedings thereunder by the commission and all actions to enforce, vacate, or modify, and all appeals from, the orders of the commission thereunder shall be subject to and governed by the provisions of this act.

The commission shall have power by order to prescribe and establish just and reasonable joint rates, tolls or charges by two or more telephone corporations or by two or more telegraph corporations whose lines form a continuous line of communication or where it would be practicable to form such continuous line by the construction and maintenance of suitable connections or transfers of messages at common point.

In case the public utilities cannot agree upon the division or apportionment between them of such joint rates, tolls or charges established hereunder, the commission shall have power, after due hearing, by supplemental order to determine and prescribe such division or apportionment and the manner in which the same shall be paid or secured. Such supplemental order shall take effect as part of the original order from the time such supplemental order shall become effective.

(3) The commission shall have power, when deemed by it necessary to prevent injury to the business or interests of the people or of any public utility of the state, in case of an emergency, to be judged of by the commission, to temporarily alter, amend, or, with the consent of the public utility concerned, suspend any existing rates, schedules and orders relating to or affecting any public utility or part of any public utility in this state.

Any order of the commission under this subdivision (3) may apply to any one or more of the public utilities in this state, and shall take effect at such time and remain in force for such period as may be prescribed therein.

Sec. 38. Whenever the commission, after hearing, shall find that the rules, regulations, practices, equipment, appliances, facilities, service or supply of any public utility are unjust, unreasonable, unsanitary, insufficient, inadequate, or otherwise in violation of law, the commission shall have power to determine with such particularity as the case demands, and fix and prescribe by order the just, reasonable, sufficient and adequate rules, regulations, practices, equipment, appliances, facilities, service or supply thereafter to be observed, used, furnished or rendered by such public utility; and after the service of such order, it shall be the duty of the public utility to observe and obey each and every requirement of the order and to do everything necessary or proper in order to secure compliance with and observance of such order by all its officers, agents, and employes.

Sec. 39. Whenever the commission, after hearing, shall find that additions, extensions, terminal facilities, stations, apparatus, equipment, facilities or devices ought reasonably to be provided by any public utility to or for use in connection with its plant or property, or that any repairs or improvements to or changes in any thereof in use ought reasonably to be made, in order to promote the security, convenience or welfare of the public, or the safety of employes, or in any other way to secure adequate service or facilities, the commission shall by order direct that such additions, extensions, terminal facilities, stations, apparatus, equipment, facilities, devices, repairs, improvements, or changes to be made or provided in the manner and within a reasonable time to be specified in such order; and after the service of such order, it shall be the duty of the public utility to observe and obey each and every requirement of the order.

If any such additions, extensions, terminal facilities, stations, apparatus, equipment, facilities, repairs, improvements or changes ordered by the commission under the provisions of this act require joint action by two or more public utilities, the commission shall in its order notify such public utilities that such additions, extensions, terminal facilities, stations, equipment, facilities, devices, repairs, improvements or changes shall be made or furnished at their joint cost, whereupon such public utilities shall have such reasonable time as the commission may grant within which to agree upon the portion of the cost or expense of such additions, extensions, terminal facilities, stations, equipment, facilities, devices, repairs, improvements or changes which each shall bear. If within the time fixed such public utility shall fail to file with the commission a statement that an agreement has been made for such apportionment, the commission shall have authority, after further hearing, by order to fix the proportion of such cost or expense to be borne by each such public utility and the manner in which the same shall be paid or secured.

Sec. 40. The commission shall have the power to investigate and ascertain the value of the property of every public utility in the state and every fact which in its judgment has, or may have, any bearing upon such value.

Separate valuations may be made for the different purposes of public purchase and rate making.

Before final determination of the value of the property of any public utility, in a proceeding involving the rates and charges of such public utility, or the public purchase of its property, or the issuance of its stocks, bonds, notes, or other evidence of indebtedness, the commission shall, after not less than thirty (30) days' notice in writing to the public utility concerned, hold a public hearing as to such valuation, at which all parties to such proceedings shall be entitled to be heard, to be represented by counsel, to introduce evidence at such hearing, and to have process to enforce the attendance of witnesses.

Any order of the commission fixing the value of the property of a public utility for any of the purposes herein mentioned shall include findings of fact as to all matters bearing upon such value and which have been investigated by the commission or concerning which evidence may have been adduced and shall also state the bases, standards, or elements of value considered by the commission in arriving at such value.

The commission may from time to time cause further hearings and investigations to be had for the purpose of making a revaluation of the property of any public utility by reason of betterments, improvements, additions, or extensions to such property subsequent to any original order of valuation of its property hereunder, or by any reason of any other matter which may change, modify, or affect any findings of fact made in such original order; and may, at any time after due hearing make any finding of fact supplementary to those made in any previous order.

Every such supplementary hearing shall be had upon the same notice and be conducted in the same manner, and the order therein shall have the same force and effect as is provided in this section in the case of an original hearing and order with respect to valuation.

The finding of facts of any order made at such supplemental hearing shall be considered in connection with and as supplementary thereto or amendatory thereof, as the case may be.

In making any valuation under this section, the commission shall have access to and use of any books, documents, or records in the possession of any department or board of the state or of any municipality or other political or governmental subdivision of the state; and may resort to any other source of information available.

In all computations relative to reasonable rates of charges for services or supplies, the value of the plant for rate making purposes, the operating expenses, the earnings, etc., of a public utility, the commission shall make proper allowances for depreciation, sufficient to replace the property and the parts thereof, but it shall make no allowance for an amortization fund, in those cases in which the aforesaid depreciation is allowed.

In valuation for rate making purposes, no franchise right or privilege granted to a public utility by the state or by a political subdivision thereof shall be appraised, fixed, or considered at any greater sum or value than the sum paid therefor into the public treasury of the state, or of the political subdivision granting the same.

(2) All the findings of the commission as to the value of properties subject to their jurisdiction, when properly certified under the seal of the commission, shall be admissible in evidence in any action, proceeding or hearing, before the commission or any court, in which the commission, the state or any office, department or institution thereof, or any county, municipality or other body politic and the public utility affected may be interested, when arising under the provisions of this act or amendments thereto, and such findings when so introduced, shall be conclusive evidence of the facts therein stated, as of the date therein stated, under conditions then existing, and such facts can only be controverted by showing a subsequent change in condition bearing upon the facts therein determined. The commission may, from time to time, cause further hearings and investigations to be had for the purpose of making revaluations or ascertaining the values of any betterments, improvements, additions or extensions made by any public utility subsequent to any prior hearing or investigation and may examine into all matters which may change, modify or affect and finding of fact previously made, and may at such time make findings of fact supplementary to those theretofore made. Such hearings shall be had upon the same notice and be conducted in the same manner and the findings so made shall have the same force and effect as provided herein for such original notice, hearings and findings; provided, that such findings made at such supplemental hearings or investigations shall be considered in connection with and as a part of the original findings, except in so far as such supplemental findings shall change or modify the findings made at the original hearing or investigation.

(3) After the first day of January, 1914, it shall be the duty of the commission to value the property of public utilities for the purpose of taxation and equalization, and to enable said commission to do so, the executive council shall make available the data contained in the reports required to be filed with the council by existing statutes. The commission shall send certified copies of said values to the executive council or any other state tribunal having jurisdiction over state taxes and assessable values of said properties, at such dates as may be required by the executive council or other tribunal provided the commission can with reasonable diligence furnish the same on such dates.

The said values as found by the public service commission shall be evidence before the executive council or other tribunal and in all courts of the state, of the assessable values of said properties for taxation and esualization purposes. Accompanying the aforesaid certified statement of the assessable values the commission shall send a statement of the processes of all computations entering into the said findings of value, together with a detailed description of all the methods used and the principles upon which such values are based.

In determining the said values the commission shall consider all the factors now prescribed by statute, or which shall be deemed by it, as proper for consideration in determining values for taxation purposes, and shall give such weight to said factors as in the judgment of the members of said commission is fair and just.

The value of all franchises, rights or privileges granted to a public utility by the state, or by a political subdivision thereof, shall be appraised and included in valuations made by the commission for taxation purposes.

The executive council shall use said values so determined and certified with such other evidence, facts and data as are required to be considered in assessing said public utilities under the statutes of the state.

Sec. 41. (1) No public utility shall exercise any right or privilege under any franchise or license hereafter granted, or under any franchise or license heretofore granted but not hertofore actually exercised or acted upon, without first having obtained from the commission a certificate that public convenience or necessity requires the exercise of such right or privilege.

No public utility shall hereafter begin the construction of a street railway, gas plant, electric plant, water plant, water power plant, heating or refrigerating plant, or telephone line, or any extension thereof or addition thereto, without first having obtained from the commission a certificate that the present or future convenience and necessity require or will require such construction. Provided, that nothing herein shall be construed to require any such public utility to secure such certificate for an extension within any municipality in which it shall have, prior to the passage of this act, commenced the construction of any such publi utility plant; or for extension into territory, either within or without a municipality contguous to its plant, line, system or structure and not then served by a public utility of like character; or for an extension within or to territory already served by it necessary or convenient in the ordinary course of its business. And provided further that if any such public utility in constructing or extending its line, plant, system or structure shall interfere or be about to interfere with the construction or operation of any line, plant, system or structure of any other public utility already constructed or in course of construction, the commission, on complaint of the public utility claiming to be injuriously affected, may, after hearing, make such order precluding, or prescribing such terms and conditions for the location of the proposed construction or extension as it may deem lawful, just and reasonable.

(2) No franchise, license or permit shall hereafter be granted to any person or corporation to construct and operate, manage or control any street railway, gas plant, electric plant, water plant, water power plant, heating or refrigerating plant, telephone line, or telephone exchange within the limits of any municipality in the state where there is in operation a public utility engaged in similar service, without first procuring from the commission, after a public hearing, upon due notice to all parties interested, an order finding that public necessity and convenience require such second public utility.

Nothing in this subdivision (2) of this section shall be construed as preventing or imposing any condition upon the extension of any telephone line from any point outside the limits of any municipality into or through such municipality for the purpose of connecting with any telephone exchange therein or of connecting with any other telephone line system; or as preventing or imposing any condition upon the extension of any electric railroad from any point outside the limits of any municipality into or through such municipality for the purpose of connecting with any other electric railroad or any street railway.

No municipality shall hereafter construct any gas plant, electric plant, water plant or any other public utility where there is in operation in such municipality a public utility engaged in similar service, without first securing from the commission after public hearing of all parties interested, a certificate that public necessity and convenience require such municipal public utility plant, but nothing herein shall prevent the municipality or its grantee from acquiring any such existing public utility plant other than a telephone plant as and in the manner hereinafter in this act provided.

(3) The commission shall have power, after due hearing, to issue any certificate under the provisions in this section, or to refuse to issue the same; or to issue a certificate for the partial exercise of a right or privilege under any franchise, license or permit; or to issue a certificate for the construction of only a portion of a contemplated street railway, gas plant, electric plant, water plant, or water power plant, heating or refrigerating plant, or telephone line or exchange, or any extension thereof, whenever in its judgment public necessity or convenience so requires.

The commission may attach to the exercise of the rights granted by any such certificate such reasonable terms and conditions as are deemed necessary and convenient for the public service.

If a public utility desires to exercise a right or privilege under a franchise, license or permit which it contemplates securing, but which has not yet been granted to it, it may apply to the commission for an order preliminary to the issuance of a certificate hereunder. The commission may thereupon make an order declaring that it will thereafter upon application, and under such rules and regulations and upon such terms and conditions as it may prescribe and designate in such order, issue the desired certificate after the public utility has obtained the contemplated franchise, license or permit. Upon presentation to the commission of evidence satisfactory to it that such franchise, license or permit has been secured by such public utility, the commission shall thereupon issue such certificate.

(4) Every franchise, license or permit hereafter granted any public utility for the construction, operation or maintenance of any street railway, gas plant, electric plant, water plant, water power plant, heating or refrigerating plant, or telephone line or system shall have the effect of an indeterminate permit as that term is defined in section two (2) of this act, and shall be subject to all the provisions of this act and to the provisions that a municipality in which any such public utility plant is situated, may at any time purchase such plant, excepting telephone line or system, in the manner and upon the terms and conditions provided in this act.

Any municipality is authorized to purchase such property, other than a telephone plant, and every public utility, other than a telephone plant, accepting and operating under any franchise, license or permit hereafter granted shall thereby be deemed to consent to a future purchase by the municipality in which such public utility is situated, in the manner and under the terms and conditions provided in this act.

(5) It is hereby declared necessary in order to promote the public good, that every franchise, license or permit granted subsequent to September 1, A. D. 1873, by the state or by any municipality or other political subdivision of the state and under which a public utility is now being operated and also every franchise, license or permit granted prior to September 1, A. D. 1873, by any such municipality or other political subdivision of the state without authority by law so to do, and under which a public utility is now being operated, such franchise, license or permit being for the construction, operation or maintenance of any street railway, gas plant, electric plant, water plant, water power plant, heating or refrigerating plant or telephone line, shall be and is hereby converted into and made an indeterminate permit, within the meaning of that term as defined in section two (2) of this act, and subject to all the terms and provisions of this act, and to the provisions that a municipality in which any such utility plant is situated, may purchase such plant in the manner and upon the terms and conditions provided in this act; and that every such franchise, license or permit shall have the same force and effect as an indeterminate permit hereafter granted to any such public utility as in paragraph (4) of this section.

(6) Any public utility operating under any franchise, license or permit granted by this state or granted by any political or governmental subdivision thereof having authority so to do prior to September 1, A. D. 1873, shall upon filing at any time prior to January 1, A. D. 1914, with the clerk or other recording officer of the municipi-pality or other authority granting such franchise, and also with the commission, a written declaration legally executed that it surrenders such franchise, license or permit, receive by operation of law in lieu thereof an indeterminate permit as that term is defined in section two (2) of this act; and such public utility shall hold such indeterminate permit under all the terms, conditions and limitations of this act.

The filing of such declaration by such public utility shall be a waiver of all of the terms of its franchise contrary to or inconsistent with the provisions of this act. After filing such written declaration with the commission, together with a certificate of the clerk or other recording officer of the municipality or other authority issuing such franchise, license or permit, the public utility shall thereupon receive a certificate under the hand and seal of the commission that such public utility is on and after the day therein specified the holder of an indeterminate permit hereunder; which certificate of the commission shall be conclusive as to the granting and existence of such indeterminate permit.

Every franchise, license or permit heretofore granted by the state or by any political or governmental subdivision thereof under delegated authority, to any railroad corporation or electric railroad corporation for the construction maintenance or operation of its railroad or electric railroad along, upon, across, over or under any public highway, road, bridge, place, street, canal or water course, except where the right to remove or order the removal of tracks, switches, spurs and other appliances of said railroad or electric railroad is expressly reserved by ordinance or contract, is hereby declared to constitute and be an indeterminate permit during the corporate life and all extensions thereof (as stated in the articles of incorporation, subject, however, to all of the terms and provisions of this act).

The provisions of this act shall be liberally construed for the purpose of protecting both the utilities referred to and the purchasers of the securities thereof and the public generally against the loss, damage, and inconvenience incident to the termination of limited franchise grants and for the further purpose of obtaining for the public continuous and efficient service at reasonable cost, and every indeterminate permit within the description and meaning of this act shall be and be deemed an extended grant direct from the state, subject only to the terms and provisions of this act, and terminable only as herein provided.

Sec. 42. No franchise, license or permit shall hereafter be granted by any municipal corporation or other political or governmental subdivision of this state to any public utility for the construction, operation or maintenance of any street railway, gas plant, electric plant, water plant, water power plant, heating or refrigerating plant, or telephone line, within the limits of such municipality or political or governmental subdivision, without first having been submitted to and approved by the commission. If there be then in operation within such municipality a public utility engaged in similar service

The provisions of the laws of this state in force when this act goes into effect, governing the granting of franchises, licenses, or permits by municipal corporations and other political and governmental subdivisions of this state, shall continue in force, subject to the terms, restrictions and provisions of this act, until such laws are altered, amended or repealed; provided that no such public utility, franchise, license or permit which shall become an indeterminate permit under the provisions of this act, shall be subject to the provisions of any existing laws imposing any limitation or restriction as to the duration of any such franchises, licenses or permits.

(2). Every municipality shall have power:

(a). To determine by ordinance, contract or otherwise the quality or character of each kind of service or supply to be rendered or furnished by any street railway, gas, electric, water or water power plant, heating or refrigerating plant, or telephone corporation within such municipality, and all other terms and conditions, not inconsistent with this act or any other law of this state, upon which any such public utility may hereafter be permitted to occupy the streets, highways, or other public property within the municipality.

Upon complaint made by such public utility or by any twenty-five persons, firms, associations or corporations within such municipality, the commission shall set a hearing thereon, and if upon hearing it shall find such ordinance, contract or other determination to be unreasonable, unlawful or prejudicial to the public interests, or unnecessarily oppressive to any such utility, such ordinance, contract, or other determination shall be void, and the commission may, when its judgment necessary, suspend said ordinance, contract or other determination pending the hearing thereof by the commission.

(b). To determine reasonable rates, charges, classifications and schedules for services or supplies rendered and furnished by any public utility, other than a telephone utility in said municipality. Said determination as to reasonable rates, charges, classifications and schedules shall be made by the council or board after a public hearing upon due notice granting to all interested parties ample opportunity to be heard. If during the progress of said hearing and before final submission thereof the public utilities interested shall file an application therefor, the council or board shall immediately petition the commission to establish the fair value of the public utility plant involved in said proceedings. The commission shall proceed at once to ascertain said value in the same manner as provided herein for valuation in case of a proposed purchase by a municipality, and shall send a certified statement to the said council of the value so found which shall be conclusive evidence of the fair value of said property, and the council shall determine the rates, charges, classification or schedules based upon said value. Any utility dissatisfied with the rates and charges so fixed by the council may appeal to the commission and the commission shall have power to review the action of the council and fix and determine the fair and reasonable rates, charges, classification and schedules.

(c). To require of any public utility, by ordinance or otherwise such additions and extensions to the physical plant within such municipality as shall be reasonable and necessary in the interest of the public, and to designate the location and nature of all such additions and extensions, the time within which they shall be completed, and all conditions under which they shall be constructed, subject, however, to all of the provisions of this act and to review by the commission as provided in the foregoing paragraph (a) of this section.

Sec. 43. (1). Any municipality in this state shall have the power subject to the provisions of this act to construct, acquire and operate, lease manage or control a street railway, gas plant, electric plant, water plant, water power plant, heating or refrigerator plant, wharf, ferry or toll bidge, and in accordance with the provisions of this act to purchase by agreement from any public utility owning, or to acquire in the manner herein set forth, any such street railway, gas plant, electric plant, water plant, water power plant, heating or refrigerator plant, warehouse, wharf, ferry, toll bridge then being operated in or adjacent to and serving such municipality. To carry out the provisions of this section, any such municipality shall have power and authority to incur any indebtedness in the purchase or construction of any such public utility in any sum not in excess of five per centum of the actual value of the taxable property of said municipality as shown by the last preceding assessment, and such municipalities may issue bonds or other evidence of indebtedness therefor. Any such municipality shall in addition to the above powers have the power to buy any such public utility subject to any incumbrance thereon in the form of outstanding mortgages, bonds, or other evidences of indebtedness and to pledge the utility so purchased, all improvements, extensions or additions thereto, and the surplus earning thereof to the payment of the purchase price of said utility. Provided, however, that no part of the funds of such city raised by general taxation shall be applied upon the purchase price of any utility purchased subject to outstanding indebtedness. They shall also have the power to sell, lease or transfer, and to mortge or otherwise encumber, any municipally owned plant or any part thereof to secure the purchase price of said plant or to secure funds with which to make improvements, extensions or additions thereto or to apply upon the purchase price of other public utilities or utility, as the case may be, upon approval by a vote of the peolpe in the manner as provided by law for the purchase of such utility.

Provided, however, that in no event shall the amount of encumbrance, mortgages, bonds or other evidences of indebtedness against such utility when purchased, nor the amount of any mortgage or encumbrance thereafter executed thereon, exceed two-thirds of the value of such utility as fixed and confirmed by the commission. Any municipality desiring to purchase a utility subject to incumbrance or to execute an incumbrance thereon shall place before the commission the facts with reference thereto, and the commission shall thereupon fix such value for the purposes of this specific provision and certify same to such municipality.

(a). If at any time the council or other corporate authority of any municipality shall by ordinance declare the determination of such municipality to construct or to acquire an existing public utility plant therein and coming within the description of sub-division (1) of this section, it shall in the manner now or hereafter provided by law governing the acquisition of such public utility plants, or any of them, submit to the qualified electors of such municipality at any general, municipal or special election to be held therein the proposition of the construction or acquisition of such plant; and if at such election a majority of votes cast upon such proposition shall be in favor thereof, such municipality shall give notice to the public utility sought to be acquired and to the commission of such determination, and of the result of such election.

(b). If it be the desire of such municipality as evidenced by the resolution of its council, to construct a public utility therein when another public utility rendering similar service is then existing in such municipality, it shall make application to the commission for authority and shall not be permitted to construct any second utility of similar character without having first secured the consent of such commission, and upon such consent being given the vote of the people may be taken as hereinbefore provided.

(c). The commission shall upon receipt of the notice mentioned in this section set a time and place for a public hearing upon the matters of the just compensation to be paid for the taking by the municipality of the plant and equipment of the public utility, and of all other terms and conditions of the purchase and sale; and shall give to the municipality and the public utility concerned not less than thirty days notice of the time and place of such hearing, and shall give like notice to all creditors, bondholders, mortgagees, trustees, lienors, lessees, and all other persons having or claiming to have any interest in such public utility or its property; by publication of such notice at least once a week for three successive calendar weeks in at least one newspaper published and of general circulation in the county in which such municipality is located.

Within a reasonable time not exceeding one year after the time fixed for such hearing in such notice, and after such hearing, the commission shall by order fix and determine and certify to the municipal council or other corporate authority of the municipality and to the public utility, and to any lessee, bondholder, mortgagee, trustee, lienor, or other creditor appearing or represented at such hearing, the just compensation to be paid for the taking by the municipality of the property of the public utility, and all other terms and all conditions of sale and purchase which the commission shall deem reasonable and proper. The compensation and other terms and conditions of sale and purchase thus certified by the commission shall constitute the compensation and terms and conditions to be paid, followed and observed in the purchase of such plant from such public utility.

(d) The laws now in force governing the acquisition and operation by municipalities of public utility plants, except in so far as they are inconsistent or in conflict with or are modified by the provisions of this act, shall apply to any municipal acquisition or operation of a public utility plant hereunder, until such laws are amended, modified, or repealed.

(2). Any municipality of this state in which a public utility is operating a street railway, gas plant, electric plant, water plant, water power plant, heating or refrigerator plant, or telephone line, shall have power by ordinance to grant to any other corporation, duly organized or qualified under the laws of this state with appropriate and sufficient corporate powers, a franchise to operate a similar public utility plant therein; provided such municipality shall first have submitted the proposed ordinance to the commission and procured from the commission, after public hearing, upon due notice, to all parties interested, an order finding that public necessity and convenience require such franchise grant and approving such proposed franchise in the form submitted or with such modifications or changes as it shall deem proper and prescribe; and no ordinance making any such franchise grant shall be passed by any such municipality except such as shall have been thus authorized and approved by the commission, nor shall any such ordinance go into effect after its passage until it shall have been submitted to the qualified electors of the municipality at any general, municipal or special election held therein, and approved by a majority of such electors voting thereon.

The grantee in any such ordinances franchise grant shall have the right to purchase the existing public utility plant in the manner provided and prescribed in the foregoing subdivision (1) of this section with respect to municipal acquisition.

Sec. 44. (1) Except as in this act otherwise provided, no public utility shall sell, transfer or lease its property, franchises, permits, works, plant or system to any other corporation or person, or contract for the operation of its works, plant or system without the written consent of the commission.

(2) Except as in this act otherwise provide, no public utility shall directly or indirectly acquire the stock or bonds of any other public utility incorporated for or engaged in the same or a similar business, or operating or proposing to operate under a franchise, license or permit from the same or any other municipality, without the written consent of the commission; nor shall any public utility, domestic or foreign, hereafter purchase or otherwise acquire, take or hold any part of the capital stock of any other public utility organized or existing under or by virtue of the laws of this state, without first having obtained a certificate of authority from the commission so to do.

Every assignment, transfer, or contract or agreement for the assignment or transfer of any stock in violation of the provisions of this section shall be void and of no effect, and no such transfer or assignment shall be made upon the books of any such public utility or be recognized as effective for any purpose.

Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the holding of capital stock heretofore lawfully acquired, or to prevent, upon surrender or exchange of said stock, pursuant to a consolidation or reorganization plan, the purchase, acquisition, taking or holding of a proportionate amount of stock of any consolidated corporation or of a new corporation organized to take over on foreclosure or other sale the property of any public utility whose stock has thus been surrendered or exchanged.

(3) No public utility shall hereafter sell, lease, assign, mortgage or otherwise dispose of or incumber the whole or any part of its property, works, plant, or system necessary or useful in the performance of its duties to the public, or any franchise, permit, easement, immunity, contract, right or privilege relative thereto, nor by any means whatsoever, direct or indirect, merge or consolidate with any other public utility or utilities, without first having secured from the commission an order authorizing it so to do, and upon such terms and conditions and with such restrictions and limitations as the commission shall in its order prescribe, and subject to the provisions and requirements of this act and of any other law of this state not in conflict herewith.

(4) Any two or more public utility corporations incorporated for or engaged in carrying on business in the same vicinity or in contiguous territory; or any two or more public utility corporations whose properties, plants, works or systems are or are capable of being physically connected or operated under one management and control may merge or consolidate their properties, capital, stock, franchise, permit, immunities, contracts, rights and privileges into a single corporation which may be one of said merging or consolidating corporations, or a new corporation to be formed by means of such merger or consolidation, or a new corporation organized or qualified for the purpose under the general corporation or railroad laws of this state.

The application to the commission for an order authorizing any such merger or consolidation shall be accompanied by a sworn statement setting forth:

(a) A description of the properties, capital, stock, franchises, permits, immunities, contracts, rights and privileges proposed to be merged or consolidated;

(b) The nature and extent of the business of each such public utility;

(c) The nature and amount of the outstanding debts and liabilities of each such public utility.

(d) Copy of the form of agreement of merger or consolidation proposed to be executed, which shall prescribe the terms and conditions of the proposed merger or consolidation, the mode of carrying the same into effect, the manner of converting the capital stock of each of the merging or consolidated corporation into the stock or obligations of the new or consolidated corporation, as the case may be, and in case of the creation of a new corporation, the name of such corporation, the objects or purposes thereof, the number of shares of the capital stock thereof, whether common or preferred, and the amount of each, the par value of each share, how and when the directors and officers shall be elected and appointed, the location of the principal office and the duration of the corporation, together with all such other provisions and details as shall be deemed necessary or appropriate to perfect such merger or consolidation and conform to the provisions of this act.

(e) A certified copy of the articles of incorporation of each such corporation.

(f) The total capital stock of each corporation authorized, issued and outstanding, respectively.

(g) Certified copies of the resolutions of the board of directors of the respective corporations authorizing the merger or consolidation and the execution of the agreement therefor.

(h) It has by a written declaration legally executed and filed with the commission surrendered any franchise, license or permit granted by this state or any political or governmental subdivision thereof that it may have had or claimed prior to the passage of this act, and has received by operation of law in lieu thereof, as indeterminate permit as that term is defined in section two (2) of this act.

Upon application to it under the provisions of this division the commission shall make such inquiry and investigation, held such hearings, examine such witnessed, books, papers, documents or contracts, and require such further information to be furnished by the applicants as it may deem of importance in enabling it to reach a determination.

If the commission shall determine that the proposed merger or consolidation does not come within the provisions of this act or would not be for the public good, it shall make and enter an order denying the application therefor and stating the reason for its denial.

If the commission shall determine that the proposed merger or consolidation comes within the provisions of this act and would be for the public good, it shall enter an order to that effect, which shall set forth:

(a) The agreement of merger or consolidation approved by the commission, which may be the one presented or with such modifications, changes or alterations as the commission may prescribe.

(b) Any terms, conditions, restrictions, or limitations which the commission may impose or prescribe for and in or about such merger or consolidation or carrying the same into effect.

After the making and entry of the order by the commission allowing any such merger or consolidation, the boards of directors of the respective corporations proposed to be merged or consolidated may by resolution authorize and direct the execution of the agreement of merger or consolidation as approved by the commission in its order as aforesaid. Such agreement in two or more counterparts or duplicates, each of which shall have the same force and effect as if it were the sole original instrument, shall be executed by the president and attested by the secretary of each of said corporations under its corporate seal, or otherwise as may be directed by the resolutions of the boards of directors of said corporations, respectively. Such agreement shall then be submitted to the stockholders of each corporation concerned either at a regular annual meeting or at a special meeting called for the purpose. If submitted at any regular annual meeting or at a special meeting notice of the question of the proposed merger or consolidation to be submitted shall be included in the notice of such meeting and given as in the manner provided by the by-laws of the corporation, or in the absence of any governing by-law, then notice of the proposed submission of such question at such regular annual meeting shall be given as and for the time hereinafter provided in the case of special meetings.

Where it is proposed to submit any such question of merger or consolidation at any special stockholders meeting, such special meeting shall be called and notice thereof given as provided by the by-laws of the corporation, or in the absence of any governing by-law, such special meeting shall be called by resolution of the board of directors of the corporation, and there shall be mailed to each stockholder of record at his last known address, at least thirty days prior to the time fixed for the meeting, a notice stating that the time, place, and object of the meeting, which notice shall be signed by a majority of the directors or in such other manner as the board of directors shall in its said resolution direct. For the purpose of giving notice to any stockholder whose address is not known or who may not receive notice by mail, a general notice of the time, place and object of such meeting shall also be published at least once each week for three successive calendar weeks in some newspaper printed in the county in which the principal business office of the corporation is located; provided, however, that failure to publish such notice shall not invalidate any meeting held thereunder, if it shall appear that each stockholder received or had personal notice of such meeting; and every meeting held thereunder at which all of the stockholders are present in person or by proxy shall be valid irrespective of whether the notice hereinabove required was given, mailed, delivered or published, or was given, mailed, delivered or published for the time stated herein.

At any stockholders' meeting held hereunder, stockholders may vote in person or by proxy, each stockholder being entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by him. If at such meeting the holders of at least two-thirds of the outstanding capital stock of the corporation vote in favor of the proposed merger or consolidation submitted and in approval of the agreement of such merger or consolidation submitted at such meeting, that fact shall be certified on each of the executed counterpart or duplicate originals of such agreement by the secretary of each of the respective corporations under the corporate seal thereof; and such counterpart or duplicate originals of such agreement so authorized, made, executed, approved and certified shall be filed, one in the office of the secretary of state, one in the office of the commission and one in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county in which the principal business office of each such merging or consolidating corporations is located; and thereupon such merger or consolidation shall be deemed effective and the several corporations shall be deemed merged and consolidated in one corporation by the name provided in said agreement, if a new corporation is created thereby; or by the name of the consolidated corporation in which said other corporation or corporations shall be so merged or consolidated. Such consolidated corporation shall be deemed and held to possess all and every, the property, rights, privileges, powers, immunities, franchises, permits and contracts as well of a public as of a private nature of each of the corporations so merged or consolidated and as may be stated in said agreement of merger or consolidation, and subject to all of the restrictions, disabilities, debts, liabilities and duties of each of said corporations so merged or consolidated, except as limited by the provisions of this act. Provide, however, that all rights or creditors and all liens upon the properties of the respective merged or consolidated corporations shall be preserved unimpaired; and in case a new corporation is created by such merger or consolidation, or in case such merger or consolidation is with a corporation created for that purpose as aforesaid, the original or constituent corporations shall be severally deemed to continue in existence for the purpose of upholding any right, title, interest, power, privilege or immunity, possessed, enjoyed or exercised by them or each or any of them under their respective charters, articles of incorporation, franchises, ordinance grants, licenses or permits, or for the purpose of preserving and protecting the rights and liens of their respective creditors, mortgagees, trustees or lienors or any of them or for any other purpose stated in this act; and for such purposes or any of them, the enjoyment, possession or exercise by the new or consolidated corporation of any such right, title, interests, power, privilege or immunity shall be and be deemed the enjoyment, possession or exercise of the respective original or constituent corporations; but all debts, and liabilities of such original or constituent corporations shall also attach to said new or consolidated corporation and may be enforced against it to the same extent as if they had been incurred or contracted by it.

A copy of the agreement of merger or consolidation made and adopted hereunder, authenticated by the secretary of the commission under its seal, shall be accepted in all courts of this state as sufficient evidence of such merger or consolidation and of the terms and provisions thereof.

If any stockholder of any public utility corporation merging or consolidating hereunder and not voting in favor of and not acquiescing in such merger or consolidation, objects to such merger or consolidation he shall give notice of his dissent within thirty days from the date of the stockholders meeting at which such merger or consolidation was authorized and approved, and may demand payment for his stock; and he shall thereupon and upon surrender of his certificate of stock be entitled to receive from such corporation in which he shall hold stock its fair cash value at the date of the holding of said meetings. But if such dissenting stockholder shall refuse to part with his stock, or if the value of the same cannot be agreed upon, then such corporation shall within ninety days from the date of said stockholders' meeting at which such merger or consolidation was authorized or approved, proceed to take and acquire the stock of such dissenting stockholder and the interest of such stockholder therein by the exercise of the power of eminent domain, hereby granted to such corporation for that purpose, and paying to or tendering to such dissenting stockholder or to the county treasurer of the county in which the principal place of business of such corporation is located, for his use, the value of the stock by him held, such value to be ascertained as of the time aforesaid and to be found and determined in the manner as nearly as practicable provided for the condemnation of property for public use in chapter 4 of title X of the code and the supplement to the code, 1907, and all acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto. Any stock so acquired shall be cancelled by the company acquiring the same.

If any stockholder in any merging or consolidated corporation hereunder shall not give notice of his dissent therefrom within thirty days as aforesaid, he shall be held to have acquiesced in said merger or consolidation and any agreement therefor and shall be subject thereto,

Notice of every merger or consolidation made under the provisions of this section shall be published in some newspaper in the county in which the principal office of each of the merging or consolidating corporations is located, at least once in each week for three successive calendar weeks.

Any merger or consolidation under the provisions of this section shall not affect suits pending in which any of such corporations shall be a party, nor shall such merger or consolidation affect causes of action nor the rights of individuals in any particular; nor shall suits brought against any of such corporations prior to such merger or consolidation be abated for that cause.

Sec. 45. Reorganization of public utility corporations shall not be had without authorization of the commission.

Any corporation hereafter becoming the owner or assignee of the property, rights, powers, privileges, franchises, licenses and permits of any public utility by purchase under foreclosure sale, sale in bankruptcy proceedings, or any other sale under any judgment, order or decree of any court shall have, possess and enjoy such property, rights, powers, privileges, franchises, licenses and permits to the same extent and in the same manner as such public utility had or was entitled to have at the time of such purchase and sale and as provided by the laws of this state now or at any time hereafter applicable thereto.

Sec. 46. (1) The commission shall keep itself informed as to proposed legislation or action by public authorities within or without this state involving public control or regulation of public utilities subject to its supervision, and it may be represented at any public hearings thereon whenever in its opinion such representation is desirable in the interests of the people of this state.

The commission may inquire to the extent it shall deem advisable into any neglect or violation of this act or any other law of the state by any public utility doing business therein, or by the officers or employees thereof, or otherwise aid in enforcing the provisions of this act as well as all other laws relating to public utilities.

The commission may investigate to the extent it shall deem advisable whether common carriers within the state are acting in any way in violation of the interstate commerce law, and may apply by petition to the interstate commerce commission for relief, or present to the interstate commerce commission all facts coming to its knowledge in relation thereto.

The commission may also confer with, or appear before boards of other states having powers over any of the public utilities therein when in its judgment the interests of this state will be protected or promoted thereby.

The commission may in its discretion publish such studies of any matters within its jurisdiction as it may deem to be of sufficient value and public importance. It may cause to be made a compilation of the statutes of this state relating to public utilities with annotations thereto and may submit to the general assembly for its consideration such facts and recommendations as it may deem necessary and expedient.

(2) The commission shall cause a record to be kept by its secretary of all orders and certificates of the commission and of all dealings of the commission or any commissioner with any public utility, including a transcript from stenographic notes of the testimony taken or evidence adduced at any public hearing before the commission.

This record, together with all files, books, accounts, documents, papers and memoranda of whatever description in the possession of the commission shall, except as in this act otherwise provided, be open to inspection by the public at all reasonable times under reasonable regulations prescribed by the commission; but the commission may, in its discretion, withhold such information from the public if in its judgment it shall deem publicity inadvisable.

Any act of the commission may be proved by a copy of the record thereof attested by the secretary of the commission under its seal.

(3) The commission shall make and submit to the governor on or before the second Monday in January of each year an annual report containing such statements, statistics, maps, tabulations, facts and explanation as will disclose the actual workings of the public services described in this act in their bearing upon the business and prosperity of this state, and an account of all proceedings of the commission during the period covered by the report.

The report shall also include the names and locations of the several public utilities of the state, and such abstracts of the returns required of public utilities by this act as the commission shall deem of value to the legislature and to the people of the state, and such suggestions as to the public service policy of the state or the conditions, affairs or conduct of any public utility as may seem appropriate.

Such number of copies of such report, together with such abstracts of the reports to the commission by the public utilities in the state, as the commission shall deem desirable, in addition to the regular number prescribed by law, shall be printed as a public document of the state, bound in cloth for the use of the commission and to be distributed by it in its discretion to corporations and persons interested therein.

(4) The commission shall charge and collect the following fees:

(a) For copies of papers and records not required to be certified or otherwise authenticated by the commission, 10 cents for each folio of one hundred words.

(b) For certified copies of official documents and orders filed in its office, 15 cents for each folio, and $1.00 for every certificate under the seal of the commission affixed thereto.

(c) For certifying a copy of any report made by a corporation to the commission, $1.00.

(d) For each copy of the annual report of the commission, $1.50.

(e) For certified copies of evidence and proceedings before the commission, 15 cents for each folio.

No fee shall be charged or collected for copies of papers, records, or official documents furnished to public officers for use in their official capacity, or for the annual reports of the commission in the ordinary course of distribution or in interchange with public service commissions, libraries or legislative reference bureaus of other states; but the commission may fix reasonable charges for publications issued under its authority.

A copy of any transcript of the record of any hearing or investigation before the commission shall be furnished to any party thereto on payment of a reasonable fee therefor.

All fees charged and collected by the commission shall be paid into the treasury of the state to the credit of the public service commission fund.

Sec. 47. (1) The commission may conduct its proceedings in such manner as will best conduce to the proper dispatch of business and to the ends of justice.

All hearings before the commission or any commissioner shall be governed by this act and by rules to be adopted and prescribed by the commission; but in all investigations, inquiries or hearings, the commission or commissioners shall not be bound by technical rules of legal evidence.

The commission may from time to time make or amend such general rules or orders as it may deem requisite for the order and regulation of proceedings before it.

(2) The forms of notices and services thereof shall be of substantially the same character as those in use in the district courts of this state.

(3) Any person entitled to complain before the commission or a commissioner, or whom the commission or commissioner may admit to be heard, may appear before the commission or commissioner and be heard in person or by attorney.

(4) The commission or any commissioner or the secretary of the commission or any agent duly authorized shall have power to examine witnesses, take testimony and administer oaths in all cases investigated and inquiries or examinations made by the commission or a commissioner; and to cause the depositions of witnesses residing within or without the state to be taken in such manner as the commission may by rule prescribe; and to compel by subpoenae duces tecum the production of any accounts, books, or contracts, records, documents, memoranda and papers of any kind whatever.

(5) All subpoenaes shall be signed and issued by a commissioner or by the secretary of the commission, and may be served by any person of full legal age.

(6) The fees of witnesses for attendance and travel shall be the same as for witnesses before the district courts of this state; and such fees shall be paid by the state treasurer upon the certificate of the commission filed with the state auditor. No witness fees shall be paid except to such witnesses as are subpoenaed upon order of the commission.

(7) If a person subpoenaed to attend before the commission or a commissioner fails to obey the command of such subpoena, without reasonable cause, or if any person whose deposition has been ordered taken shall refuse to subscribe and swear to his deposition after it has been correctly reduced to writing, or if a person in attendance before the commission or a commissioner refuses, without reasonable cause, to be sworn or to be examined or answer a legal and pertinent question or to produce any book or paper when ordered so to do by the commission or commissioner, the commission or commissioner may apply to any judge of a district court for an order returnable forthwith directing such person to show cause before the judge who made the order or any other judge of said district court, why he should not be punished for contempt. Upon the return of such order the judge before whom the matter shall come on for hearing shall examine under oath such person so cited, and such person shall be given an opportunity to be heard; and if the judge shall determine that such person has refused without reasonable cause or legal excuse to be examined or to answer a legal and pertinent question or to produce a book or paper which he was ordered to produce, he may forthwith deal with such person as for contempt of court and impose such punishment by way of fine or imprisonment, or both, as is now or may hereafter be provided by law for contempts.

(8) No person shall be excused from testifying or from producing any book, document or paper in any investigation or inquiry, examination, hearing or proceeding by or before the commission or a commissioner, when ordered so to do by the commission or commissioner, upon the ground that the testimony or evidence, book, document or paper required of him may tend to incriminate him or subject him to penalty or forfeiture; but no person shall be prosecuted, punished, or subjected to penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any act, transaction, matter or thing concerning which, under oath, after claiming his privilege, he shall by order of the commission or commissioner have testified or produced documentary evidence; provided, however, that no person so testifying shall be exempt from prosecution or punishment for any perjury committed by him in his testimony.

Nothing herein contained is intended to give or shall be construed as in any manner giving to any corporation immunity of any kind.

Section 48. Copies of all official documents and orders filed or deposited according to law in the office of the commission, certified by a commissioner or by the secretary of the commission under its seal to be true copies of the originals shall be evidence in like manner as the originals in all courts of this state.

Sec. 49. Every order of the commission shall be served upon the person or corporation to be affected thereby, either by personal delivery or a certified copy thereof or by mailing a certified copy thereof in a sealed package with postage prepaid to the person to be affected thereby or in case of a corporation, to any officer or agent thereof upon whom a summons may be served under the laws of this state.

It shall be the duty of every such person or corporation to notify the commission forthwith in writing of the receipt of the certified copy of every order so served, and in case of a corporation such modification must be signed and acknowledged by a person or officer duly authorized by the corporation to admit such service. Within a time specified in the order of the commission every person or corporation upon whom it is served, must, if so required by the order, otify the commission in like manner whether the terms of the order are accepted and will be obeyed.

Every order of the commission shall take effet at a time therein specified and shall continue in force either for a period which may be designated therein or until changed or abrogated by the commission.

Sec. 50. (1) The commission may at any time upon notice to the person or corporation affected and after an opportunity to be heard as provided in the case of original proceedings hereunder, rescind, alter or amend any order or rule made or issued by it; and any order or rule rescinding, altering or amending any prior order or rule shall when served upon the person or corporation affected thereby have the same effect as herein provided for original orders and rules.

(2) After any order or decision has been made by the commission, any party to the action or proceeding, or any stockholder or bondholder or other party pecuniarily interested in the public utility affected, may petition for a rehearing in respect to any matters determined in said action or proceeding and specified in the petition for rehearing, and the commission may grant and hold such rehearing on said matters, if in its judgment sufficient reason therefor be made to appear. No cause of action arising out of any order or decision of the commission shall accrue in any court to any corporation or person, unless such corporation or person shall have made petition to the commission for a rehearing as herein provided. Such petition shall set forth specifically the ground or grounds on which the petitioner considers said decision or order to be unlawful. No corporation or person shall, in any court urge or rely on any ground not so set forth in said petition.

The petition for rehearing and the procedure thereafter, shall be governed by such general rules as the commission may establish; provided, however, that the petition for rehearing must be filed within twenty days after the decision by the commission is entered of record, and the parties to said case are notified of the same; and the said petition must be either granted or denied within thirty (30) days after the date on which the said petition was filed:

If said petition is not granted within said period, it may be taken by any party to said petition that the order involved is affirmed. If a petition for rehearing is granted, the same shall be heard within sixty (60) days after the same is granted, and determined within thirty (30) days from such hearing. If such determination is not made within said time it may be taken by any party to the rehearing that the order or decision involved is affirmed.

A petition for rehearing shall not excuse any corporation or person from complying with and obeying any order or decision or any requirement of any order or decision of the commission theretofore made; or operate in any manner to stay or postpone the enforcement thereof, except in such cases and upon such terms as the commission may by order direct. If, after such rehearing and a consideration of all the facts including those arising since the making of the order or decision, the commission shall be of the opinion that the original order or decision or any part thereof, is in any respect unjust or unwarranted, or should be changed, the commission may abrogate, change or modify the same. An order or decision made after such hearing abrogating, changing or modifying the original order or decision, shall have the same force and effect as an original order or decision; but shall not affect any right or the enforcement of any right arising from, or by virtue of, the original order or decision unless so ordered by the commission.

Sec. 51. Within ninety (90) days after the petition for a rehearing is denied, or if the petition is granted, then within ninety (90) days after the rendition of the decision on rehearing, any of the parties to the proceeding so determined may apply to the district court of the county in which the controversy arose, for a writ of certiorari or review (hereinafter referred to as a writ of review) for the purpose of having the lawfulness of the original order or decision, or the order or decision on rehearing, inquired into or determined. The findings and conclusions of the commission as to fact, shall be final and shall not be subject to appeal or review by any court; such questions of fact shall include ultimate facts, findings and conclusions of the commission as to fairness, reasonableness and justness. The district court of the county, in which the controversy arises, shall have the exclusive original jurisdiction to review, reverse or annul any order or decision of the commission; but such review shall not be extended further than to determine whether the order or decision, under review, is repugnant to the constitution of the state of Iowa or to the constitution of the United States or is in excess of the statutory powers conferred upon the commission, or is not within the jurisdiction of said commission. No new or additional evidence may be introduced in the review proceedings before the district court, but the cause shall be heard on the record of the commission as certified to by it; and no reversal or annulment of the order of decision of the commission shall be had except for want of power and jurisdiction as above provided.

The commission, and each party to the action, or proceeding before the commission, shall have the right to appear in the review proceeding. Upon the hearing the district court shall enter judgment either affirming or setting aside the order or decision of the commission. The provisions and laws of this state relating to writs of certiorari shall, so far as applicable, and not in conflict with the provisions of this act, apply to proceedings instituted in the district court under the provisions of this section.

Sec. 52. Whenever any public utility corporation, incorporated under any laws other than of the state of Iowa, and doing business in this state under an indeterminate permit as herein defined shall, without the consent of the other party to any suit or proceeding brought against it in any state court in connection with, resulting from or growing out of the findings, rules, orders or decisions of the commission, remove such suit or proceeding to any federal court, or shall institute any such suit or proceeding in any federal court against the commission, or against any person or corporation of this state, it shall be the duty of the commission forthwith to revoke the permit of such public utility corporation to transact business in the state of Iowa as provided under section sixteen hundred thirty-seven (1637) and sixteen hundred thirty-eight (1638) of the Code and amendments thereto. Such revocation shall be certified to the secretary of state and by him published in some newspaper of general circulation published in this state.

Every public utility corporation organized under any laws other than of the state of Iowa and admitted to transact business in this state, shall within six months after the taking effect of this act or the time of its admission to transact business in the state, file with the commission a certified copy of a resolution of its board of directors, designating a citizen of Iowa as its agent, upon whom may be made service of any process as contemplated by this act. A failure of such corporation to do so shall entitle any party to make valid service of such process upon the secretary of state. This shall be additional to the methods of service otherwise provided by law.

Sec. 53. The district courts of this state shall have jurisdiction upon the application of the commission to enforce by proper decrees, injunctions and orders all valid orders, rules and regulations of the commission.

Whenever the commission shall be of the opinion that a public utility subject to its supervision is failing, omitting or refusing to do anything required of it by law or by the order of the commission, or is doing or permitting anything to be done contrary to or in violation of law or any order of the commission, it shall direct the commerce counsel to commence an action or proceeding in the district court of appropriate jurisdiction, in the name of the state on relation of the commission, for the purpose of having such violation stopped and prevented or said law or order enforced.

The final judgment in any such action or proceeding shall either dismiss the action or proceeding or direct that a writ of mandamus or an injunction or both issue as prayed for in the petition; or in such modified or other form as the court may determine will afford appropriate relief.

An appeal may be taken to the supreme court of this state from such final judgment in the same manner and with the same effect, subject to the provisions of this act, and within time herein prescribed for other appeals, as appeals are taken from judgments of the district court in other actions for mandamus or injunction.

Sec. 54. (1) Every public utility and all officers and agents thereof, and every other person and corporation shall obey, observe and comply with every provision of this act and with every order made by the commission under authority of this act or any other act and duly served in accordance with the provisions of this act, so long as the same shall be and remain in force and effect.

(2) Any public utility or any person or corporation who or which shall violate any of the provisions of this act or who or which shall violate any order, direction or requirement of the commission, while the same shall be in force and effect, by failing, omitting or refusing to obey, observe or comply therewith, shall (in addition to liability to the party aggrieved for all damages sustained by reason of such violation) be subject to a penalty of not to exceed $1,000 for each and every such violation.

(3) Every officer and agent of a public utility or any other person, who shall wilfully violate, or who procures, aids or abets any violation by a public utility, or any corporation other than a public utility, of any provisions of this act, or who shall wilfully fail to obey, observe and comply with any order of the commission, while the same shall be in force and effect, or who procure, aids or abets any such public utility or corporation in its failure to obey, observe and comply with any such order shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned in a county jail for not more than one year, or both.

(4) Every person who shall wilfully make any false return or report to the commission or to a commissioner or to any agent or any employe acting therefor, or who shall testify or affirm falsely to any material fact in any matter herein, where oath or affirmation is required or authorized by or under this act, or who shall knowingly make any false entry or memorandum upon any account, book, paper, record, report of statement of any public utility or who shall wilfully destroy, mutilate, alter or by any other means or device falsify or destroy the record of any such account, book, paper, record, report or statement, with the intent to mislead or deceive the commission or a commissioner, or any agent or employe acting therefor, or who shall wilfully or fraudulently obstruct or hinder the commission or a commissioner or any agent or any employe acting therefor in making any examination of the accounts, affairs or conditions of any public utility, and any person who with like intent aids or abets another in any of the acts herein set forth, shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned in the county jail not more than one year, or both.

(5) In case of a continuing violation in this section mentioned, every day's continuance thereof shall be and be deemed to be a separate and distinct offense, and all penalties accruing under this act shall be cumulative, and in addition thereto, if the commission shall find upon public hearing that such public utility has been guilty of wilful and persistent violations of the provisions of this act or of the orders, rules or regulations of the commission, shall terminate the right of the owner of such public utility to operate said public utility plant, and shall apply to a court of competent jurisdiction for the appointment of a receiver, to take charge of said public utility plant, under the direction, supervision and regulation of the commission, and such receiver shall under appropriate orders and regulations make sale of such public utility plant. The municipality in which said utility is operating shall have the exclusive right for a period of ninety (90) days after order of sale to purchase or designate a purchaser for such plant, in the manner as provided in section forty-three (43) of this act. The purchaser of such plant shall be subject to all the provisions of this act.

(6) In construing and enforcing the provisions of this act relating to forfeiture and penalties, the act of any director, officer, agent or other person acting for or employed by any public utility acting within the scope of his employment, shall be in every case and be deemed to be the act of such public utility.

(7) Any officer, agent or employe of any public utility who has notice of any order of the commission which it is the duty of any officer or employe to obey shall be deemed to abet the violation of such order, if he fails to give such instructions as it is within the scope of his duties or employment to give to such other officer or employe.

Sec. 55. Actions to recover fines and penalties under this act shall be brought by the Commerce Counsel in the name of the state of Iowa in any district court of appropriate jurisdiction in the state.

Such action shall be commenced and prosecuted to final judgment by the counsel to the commission, or otherwise as in this act provided.

In any such action all penalties incurred up to the time of commencing the same may be sued for and recovered.

In all actions for the recovery of fines and penalties hereunder, the procedure and the rules of evidence shall be the same as in ordinary civil actions.

All fines and penalties recovered in such actions, together with the costs thereof, shall be paid into the treasury to the credit of the general fund.

Any action hereunder to recover fines or penalties may be compromised or discontinued on application of the commission upon such terms as the court shall approve and order.

Sec. 56. Every sheriff or other officer empowered to execute civil processes shall execute any process issued under the provisions of this act. All actions and proceedings under this act, and all actions and proceedings commenced or prosecuted by order of the commission, and all actions and proceedings to which the commission or the people of this state may be parties and in which any question arises under this act or under the railroad law of this state or under or concerning any order or action of the commission, shall be preferred over all other civil actions, except election causes, in all courts of this state, and shall be heard and determined in preference to all other civil business pending therein, except election causes, irrespective of position on the calendar. The same preference shall be granted upon application of the Commerce Counsel in any action or proceeding in which he may be allowed to intervene.

Sec. 57. Upon the request of the commission, or any commissioner, it shall be the duty of the attorney general or the county attorney of the proper county to aid in any investigation, hearing, action, trial, appeal or prosecution under the provisions of this act, or to institute or prosecute any action or proceeding for the enforcement or carrying out of the provisions of this act.

Sec. 58. In case any public utility shall do, cause or permit to be done any act, matter or thing prohibited or declared to be unlawful or shall omit to do any act, matter or thing required to be done, either by any provision of this act or by an order of the commission, such public utility shall be liable to the persons or corporation affected thereby for all loss, damage or injury caused thereby or resulting therefrom; and in case of recovery if the court shall find that such act or omission was wilful, it may in its discretion fix a reasonable counsel or attorney fee which shall be taxed and collected as a part of the complainant's costs in the case.

An action to recover for such loss, damage or injury may be brought in any court of competent jurisdiction in this state by any such person or corporation. Provided, that no action shall be brought hereunder by reason of any order of the commission pending any action in the courts to review, annul, vacate, modify or amend any such order.

(2) No recovery as in this section provided shall in any manner be a bar to or affect any action, criminal proceeding or recovery by the state or the commission pursuant to the provisions of this act.

Sec. 59. The provisions of this act shall be interpreted and construed liberally in order to accomplish the purposes thereof. The commission shall be deemed to have conferred upon it, by this act all implied and incidental powers which may be necessary or proper to the performance of all its powers and duties in this act specified.

A substantial compliance with the requirements of this act shall be sufficient to give effect to all orders, rules, acts and regulations of the commission, and they shall not be declared inoperative, illegal or void for any omission of a technical or unsubstantial nature in respect thereto.

Neither this act nor any provision thereof shall apply or be construed to apply to commerce with foreign nations, or to interstate commerce, except in so far as permitted under the provisions of the constitution and acts of congress of the United States.

The sections of this act and the sub-divisions and paragraphs of each section are hereby declared to be independent sections and parts of sections; and the holding of any section or part of any section of this act to be void, ineffective or unconstitutional for any cause shall not affect or be deemed to affect the validity of any other portion of this act.

Sec. 60. All acts and parts of acts conflicting or inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed in so far as they conflict or are inconsistent herewith.

Sec. 61. This act shall not have the effect to release or waive any right of action by the state or by any municipality thereof or by any person for any right, penalty or forfeiture which may have arisen under any law of this state or under ordinance or any municipality thereof, prior to the taking effect of this act; nor shall this act operate to destroy or impair any existing obligation of any public utility in the state, or the rights of the holders of any bonds or other evidences of indebtedness heretofore issued by any public utility, or of any mortgagee, trustee, or lienor under any mortgage, deed of trust, or instrument of assignment, pledge or hypothecation heretofore executed by any public utility to secure the payment of any of its bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness.

Sec. 62. Nothing, however, in this section or any other section of this bill shall be held to repeal any of the provisions of section 1619 of the code, and all of the provisions of said section pertaining to franchises shall be held to apply to the indeterminate permit granted under the provisions of this act to the same extent and with the same force and effect as though said section was written into this act.

The passing of this act shall not be construed to have granted or secured to any public utility or the owners thereof any vested right and no vested right shall hereafter be claimed by any public utility or the owner thereof because of the taking effect of this act.

(2) Provided, however, that nothing in this act contained shall take away any right that any municipality may at this time have reserved in any franchise heretofore granted to any public utility, or any contract with any public utility. Nor shall the provisions of this or any other section of this act be held to effect pending litigation.

Sec. 63. (1) There is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, the sum of one hundred fifty thousand dollars for the biennial period beginning July 1, 1913, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act.

(2) For the purpose of the payment of the expenses of the public utilities commission, and the exercise of police supervision of the public utilities of the state by it, a sum not exceeding $75,000.00 each year shall be apportioned among and assessed upon the railroads and public utilities within the state by the commission, in proportion to the intrastate gross earnings or receipts of such railroads and public utilities for the year next preceding that in which the assessments are made. Said assessments shall be due and payable at the same time ordinary taxes are due and payable and shall be paid to the state treasurer. Such assessments shall be a lien upon the property of the public utility against which said assessments are made. In case any such assessment is not paid before the same becomes delinquent, the same shall be subject to the penalties that ordinary taxes are in case of non-payment before delinquency, and the state treasurer shall proceed to make collection thereof by equitable proceedings in the district court in which said property is located; that when such assessments are collected the same shall be placed by the treasurer to reimburse the funds appropriated for the purpose of defraying the expenses of such commission.

Sec. 64. This act is deemed and hereby declared to be of immediate public importance, and shall take effect and be in force from and after its publication in the Register and Leader and the Des Moines Capital, newspapers published in the city of Des Moines, Iowa.

Halgrims of Humboldt, from the Contest committee in the case of Foley vs Jacobson, presented the following report:

M. T. FOLEY, Contestant

VS.

O. H. JACOBSON, Incumbent

Report of Committee.

MR. SPEAKER—Your special committee, consisting of Colonel Halgrims of Humboldt, U. G. Whitney of Woodbury, C. W. Hunt of Harrison, W. N. Townsend of Tama, and S. H. Bauman of Van Buren, to whom was referred the matter of the above contest, to hear and report upon the same, involving the question of who had been elected to the office of Representative in the 34th Representative District of the state of Iowa, comprising Audubon county in said state, beg leave to submit the following as its report thereon:

That on the 13th day of January, 1913, there was delivered to the chairman of this committee notice of contest, declaration of contest and the answer to the declaration of contest. That on January 25, 1913, the said committee met and was organized and proceeded to examine the papers in said matter and found that the said papers, filed herewith in accordance with the provisions of the law relating to such cases, were filed and notice of contest served within the time provided by law.

That the statement of contest filed by the contestant, M. T. Foley, in effect alleged that he had resided continuously in Audubon county for the past thirty-two years; that he was eligible to hold the office from said representative district in the general assembly of the state of Iowa; that he was qualified to hold said office; that the board of supervisors of said county sitting as a board of canvassers canvassing the election returns on or about the 12th day of November, 1912, declared O. H. Jacobson of said county duly elected to the office of representative for said district and county.

The contestant further alleged that at the general election in said county and district the voters of said district and county did not in truth and in fact elect O. H. Jacobson to said office, but that this contestant was in truth and in fact elected to fill said office; and that he now contests the election of said O. H. Jacobson to said office on the following grounds:

That the judges of election and board of canvassers conducting the election in Viola township in said county were guilty of misconduct in office in permitting one Charles Beck, who was then and there a partisan of said O. H. Jacobson and in the employ of said O. H. Jacobson to examine, handle and have ballots cast in said township in his possession after said ballots had been cast by electors and before the same had been fully counted and canvassed by said judges of election. That the board of canvassers or judges of election in several townships or voting precincts in said county made errors in counting the votes cast at said election, which errors if they had not been made would effect the result of said election, and had said ballots been correctly counted the result of said election would have shown that this contestant received more votes at said election than said incumbent. That they rejected certain votes which were in truth and in fact cast for this contestant and counted certain votes cast for said incumbent which should have been rejected and not counted for incumbent.

The contestant further alleged that the errors in said respects made by the judges of election in counting the votes cast for this contestant and said incumbent for said office at said election were sufficient errors to effect and change the result of said election, and would show that this contestant was in truth and in fact legally elected to said office. The contestant therefore asks that all the ballots and votes cast at said election in each and all precincts of said county for said office be opened and re-canvassed and recounted.

The above statement of contest was made under oath in the manner required by law.

The incumbent, O. H. Jacobson, in his answer to the petition of contest, which said answer is filed herewith and made a part of this report, alleges that he admits that M. T. Foley, the contestant, is a resident of the county of Audubon and of the 34th representative district, and that he is and was eligible to hold the office of representative from said district. That the board of canvassers in canvassing the election returns for the election of November, 1912, did declare the incumbent duly elected to the office of representative in the general assembly of the state of Iowa for said district and county.

Said incumbent further denies all and every allegation in each and every count of contestant's statement of contest being inconsistent or contrary to the said declaration of the canvassing board and denies that any of the allegations, illegal or improper acts occurred and specifically denies that a recount of the ballots in said county cast at said election would show the election of the contestant, and further alleges the fact to be that such recount would increase the majority of said incumbent.

Your committee on January 25, 1913, by agreement of parties and at the instance of the contestant caused to be subpoenaed Otto Witthauer, auditor of Audubon county, Iowa, with all ballots cast at the general election in 1912, all poll books returned from the various voting precincts in said county subsequent to said election and the election book preserved by the county auditor for the official record of said county, and to give evidence before said committee concerning said contest.

That at said hearing on January 30, 1913, at one P. M. o'clock, in room No. 14, the members of said committee were all present; the contestant was represented by J. M. Graham of Audubon county and J. M. Parsons of Polk county as his attorneys, and the incumbent was represented in person and by H. W. Byers of Polk county and Manson White of Audubon county as his attorneys. Otto Witthauer, auditor of Audubon county, was duly sworn and testified in the above case; a copy of which is filed with this report. The said auditor also produced the ballots and books of the general election of 1912, as returned to him as auditor of Audubon county.

The said special committee after a careful recount of all the ballots cast for the office of representative at the general election of 1912 in Audubon county, state of Iowa, found it appeared to the said committee that there were cast for the parties hereto in the voting precincts of said county ballots as follows:

For O. H. Jacobson.....	1,126
For M. T. Foley.....	1,115

It was therefore admitted by the attorneys for the contestant that said O. H. Jacobson had received a majority of all the votes cast for the office of representative and that said incumbent was entitled to the certificate issued to him proclaiming his election as representative from the 34th representative district of the state of Iowa.

It was also agreed to by the attorneys for the contestant, the attorneys for the incumbent and the members of this special committee that where ballots were plainly marked for the contestant or for the incumbent and where the ballot was also marked with a cross opposite the name of the presidential candidates, that said ballots were counted as legal ballots for the office of representative and not objected to as marked ballots.

Wherefor your committee recommends that said O. H. Jacobson appears to have received a majority of eleven (11) votes over said contestant, M. T. Foley; that said O. H. Jacobson be declared rightfully elected to the office of representative from the 34th representative district of Iowa, and duly entitled to the rights, privileges and emoluments of said office. That the said notice of contest, declaration of contest, and answer to declaration of contest, subpoena issued and served, and testimony taken in said case are herewith returned and filed with the clerk of this House. All of which is respectfully submitted.

COL. HALGRIMS.
C. W. HUNT.
U. G. WHITNEY.
W. N. TOWNSEND.
S. H. BAUMAN.

M. T. FOLEY, Contestant

vs.

O. H. JACOBSON, Incumbent

Supplementary Report of the Committee.

MR. SPEAKER—Your special committee appointed to hear and report upon the contest brought and filed by M. T. Foley vs. O. H. Jacobson, respectfully submit the following supplemental report:

Otto Witthauer, auditor of Audubon county, three days attendance and mileage	$20.00
Cash paid out by Otto Witthauer for express, drayage and expense in transporting the ballots to Des Moines and return.....	8.25
Chas. Sunberg, sheriff, subpoenaing witnesses	2.40
Otto Witthauer for wooden box in which to ship ballots.....	7.50

Your committee believes that the defendant, O. H. Jacobson, who held the certificate of election signed by the chairman of the board of supervisors and the auditor of Audubon county, had a right to believe that he was entitled to his seat in the Thirty-fifth General Assembly, and was put to the expense by the bringing of this contest of securing the services of the two attorneys, W. H. Byers and Manson White to defend his case in this contest, and that he should be allowed the sum of eighty dollars ($80.00) to defray the expense of attorney fees.

Wherefor your special committee recommend that the foregoing fees, expenses, etc., be paid to the persons named and in the amounts above shown.

Most respectfully submitted,

COL. HALGRIMS.
C. W. HUNT.
U. G. WHITNEY,
W. N. TOWNSEND.
S. H. BAUMAN.

(Additional to Chapter Three (3), Title Ten (10) of the Code.)

Be it Enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

Section 1. The state of Iowa, subject to the right of regulation for the purposes of navigation by the United States government, has full ownership in, and power and control over, all the waters on the beds of all lakes, streams, meandering streams and rivers in this state, including the waters on such parts of the river beds on the state boundary line which are owned by this state.

Sec. 2. The state has full control and power of regulation over all power developed by such waters, the sale, use and distribution thereof and the public utilities developing, distributing, selling or using such power, either directly or indirectly.

Sec. 3. The term "person" used herein includes a corporation, company, association, joint stock company, joint stock association, partnership, co-partnership, individual, firm, trustees of a voluntary association, express trust operation as a business company or holding organization.

Sec. 4. The term "public utility" used herein includes any person about to construct, constructing, owning, operating, managing or controlling any water power plant (including all conveniences, appliances, instrumentalities, facilities, real estate, personal property, easements or equipments utilized in connection therewith or appertaining thereto), directly or indirectly for public use, or hire in this state or some other state or states, or partly in this state and partly outside.

Sec. 5. The term "power," used in this act, means and includes the furnishing, distributing or supplying, either directly or indirectly, for compensation or hire, water for power, or water for generation of electricity for power, light or heat.

Sec. 6. The term "water power plant" used herein includes any dam or part thereof, or other improvement in this state in or across any lake, stream, meandering stream or river heretofore constructed, maintained or operated or hereafter to be constructed, maintained or operated for the purposes of using and distributing the power created, generated or developed thereby, or any other improvement for the purpose of controlling the level and flow of the waters defined in section one (1) hereof.

Sec. 12. Any person seeking to install and operate any such public utility, or which may be now operating any such public utility, shall, upon complying with the conditions hereafter stated, be entitled to exercise such right of eminent domain as may be necessary in carrying out the purposes of such public utility, subject to regulation by the commission.

The commission shall have power to suspend such fine and forfeiture while the public utility is in good faith preparing to comply with the provisions of this act.

The state of Iowa shall have a preferred lien, second only to the lien for taxes, upon the plant of any public utility which has failed to pay the amount due the state for fines, forfeitures and costs, which lien may be foreclosed by appropriate action brought for said purpose.

Sec. 14. Every certificate of necessity granted by the commission shall be upon the following express condition which forms a part thereof:

Every public utility consents to sell at any time its plant to the state of Iowa, any subdivision of the state, county or municipality, for its just and reasonable value.

Sec. 15. It is hereby specifically provided that the rights and powers herein granted to any such person or public utility and all rights and powers, obtained by such person or public utility, through said commission under the terms hereof, shall be subject to the provisions of Section 1619 of the Code and shall not constitute a vested or contract right; and shall be subject to revocation or future regulation by the State Legislature, the right being reserved to amend or repeal this act.

The Speaker Pro Tempore appointed as such committee, Sherman of Poweshiek, Jensen of Pocahontas and Boettger of Scott.

Boettger of Scott in presenting to the Speaker the chair and gavel, made the following remarks:

MR. SPEAKER AND GENTLEMEN OF THE HOUSE:

It is truly a great honor and pleasure to me today to represent the members of the lower house of the Thirty-fifth General Assembly of Iowa in presenting to you, Mr. Speaker, the gavel and chair used by you while presiding over the deliberations of the House during this session.

I think that every member of this House will agree with me when I say that the Thirty-fifth General Assembly has been confronted with the weightiest and most intricate measures that have ever come up for deliberation before any preceding Legislature of this State, and, Mr. Speaker, it was in anticipation of this fact that this House placed upon your shoulders, the mantle of Speakership at the opening of this session. I have no hesitancy in saying, Mr. Speaker, that we made no mistake. "To err is human," and no doubt in our deliberation concerning the great measures that have confronted this House we have unconsciously made mistakes, but when the members of this House elected as Speaker of the Thirty-fifth General Assembly Edward H. Cunningham we made no mistake. The importance and weight of our deliberations necessarily imposed upon you the burden of deciding some of the most complicated and intricate questions of parliamentary law ever presented to the Speaker of any preceding Legislative body. Your ability as a presiding officer, Mr. Speaker, has been of wonderful assistance to this House in its deliberations. Your efforts, Mr. Speaker, as presiding officer of the Thirty-fifth General Assembly are worthy of the highest commendation. In your official capacity as Speaker, you have acted at all times with fairness and justice; and I say this not on account of the spirit of the occasion, but because it is an absolute truth. You have treated every member of this House, regardless of party affiliations, regardless of strength, regardless of standing, without fear or favor, with justice and wonderful fairness.

In conclusion, Mr. Speaker, as a token of your splendid career as presiding officer of this House during this session, also as a token of your great services to the people of this State, we extend to you this chair and gavel. May they always bring to your mind the undying friendship and good will of the members of the Thirty-fifth General Assembly.

The Speaker responded as follows:

MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE, GENTLEMEN: (And I might also add ladies, as there are some ladies here in our presence this afternoon, who have been about as regular in their attendance as have the members of the House):

I think, perhaps, I owe you an apology, gentlemen, because of the fact that I have come before you at this time unprepared to make any remarks that would be suitable to the occasion. This is one of the occasions that but illustrates the poverty and the inexpressiveness of words. Had I a sufficient command of the English language to frame into words the sentiment which I feel, I then could convince you of my gratitude. I am grateful, indeed, for the words spoken by your chairman, but I shall not require that you endorse everything he has said. I have made mistakes; I am only human. I have offended you, gentlemen, and for such offense I ask your forgiveness, and I as freely forgive. I said at the beginning of the session that I had never been privileged to meet with an assembly of men who seemed so conscientious in their desire to serve their constituents and their state. I have been criticised for my lack of judgment of human nature. I have been told that I did not possess the judgment necessary for a man who was charged with the responsibility of selecting the committees who would handle all the important legislation before this body. We have now come to the close of this session, gentlemen, and I want to repeat with added emphasis what I said at the beginning of the session. I still regard the integrity, the ability and the honesty of the personnel of this body higher than that of any assembly of men I have ever assembled with, or had the privilege of laboring with.

I am of the opinion that the majority of you hold a different conception of the problems of legislation than those you held before you had had any actual experience; at least I am convinced in my own mind that you have a clearer understanding of the situation. But you have been good troops; I have never seen any disposition on your part to desert your post, or any tendency to swerve from what you thought was your line of duty. You have been under a constant cross fire of criticism which I deplore very much, as I realize fully that it is hard work when you are endeavoring to the best of your ability to serve your constituents and your state, that you should be criticised by those who should have been the first to lend you their assistance and aid in solving the problems that confronted you. I am satisfied that the people of this state are going to approve of what you have done here this winter. I have no criticism to offer. It is barely possible that you were a little hasty in the Capitol extension ground bill. I am of the opinion that that measure should have been submitted to the people for their approval. But that was your judgment, and I am not going to offer any criticism. Your work here as a whole will be commended by any honest citizen.

The new law with reference to school legislation is the grandest piece of legislation that has been written on the statute books of Iowa since the organization of this state. It will bring to the minds of the members of this House more solid comfort in the declining years of their life than all the balance of their work put together, for it will be at that period of life that you will be able to see the beneficent results that must come from this legislation; it will manifest itself in the throngs of intelligent, happy and prosperous people of our commonwealth.

Never before has so many large problems confronted a general assembly, and it was to be expected that in the limited time we have at our disposal that it would be absolutely impossible to consider them all. You have, however, laid the foundation for the future general assembly to build by, and they will profit by the knowledge you have gained upon the practical subjects that have fallen by the wayside. The criticism that has been heaped upon you relative to the road legislation enacted here is unjust and wholly unwarranted, and when the merits of the road law enacted by the Thirty-fifth General Assembly become known the recoil from the bombardment of criticism hurled at you will bury and completely annihilate those who have maligned you. The road bill is a very meritorious measure, but it will be very difficult to get quick results owing to the unfair manner in which it as been presented to our people; it must stand between two extreme ideas on road building; the one is the policy of doing nothing, the other was through a small beginning to go to the extreme in extravagance in road building. We have record of this extravagant manner in all road building as it obtains in other states, especially New York, and it is such as to make the honest people of the state of New York blush for shame. What we want and must have in Iowa is a sound, sane policy that does not tend toward extravagance, and one that will allow the people of every county to build such roads as conditions in that community will warrant. It is for you gentlemen to give to the people of this state the information that they want relative to matters that have been before this body. When you go back to your homes and back to your people you should lose no opportunity to give them what they want, and the only thing that they will demand of you is the truth as it pertains to all things and all matters that have confronted you. The people of this state want that information and I want you gentlemen to give it to them.

And now, gentlemen, again I acknowledge with thanks my gratitude to you. You have been more than kind to me. I shall cherish your memory as long as I live, and I would be an ingrate did I not endeavor to make my life conform to the high order of citizenship you represent in order that I may live up to the things you have said to me. I will do my best. I thank you.

Sherman of Poweshiek made the following remarks:

MR. SPEAKER AND MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE:

I wish to endorse the sentiments so well expressed by the gentleman from Scott, and I regard the privilege of speaking for the membership of this House at this time a great honor. The words I am able to summon can only in a feeble way express our gratitude for your services. I suppose that, after all, I can say nothing new, yet we wish to impress you, Mr. Speaker, with the fact that the membership of this House has the trend of gratitude in its disposition. It is a pleasure for us to recognize the fairness of your rulings.

When any man seeks and is given representative power his opportunities are not less than his responsibilities. To an unusual degree the power has been given you to see, regardless of political or other differences, the good in those whose procedure you have had in control, the ability to view questions from the other fellow's standpoint; inclined to be fair almost to a fault, yet a firmness that was not to be disregarded. Back of the undemonstrative, conservative countenance of their leader, the membership of this House has discovered a true heart, a ready sympathy, a sincere friendliness, and it is said that "Friendship rules the world."

The response from the lower House of the Thirty-fifth General Assembly is "He Suits Us."

With memories old and wishes new,
Yes, here's a hearty health to you,
And here's to you, and here's to you.

Jensen of Pocahontas made the following remarks:

MR. SPEAKER AND GENTLEMEN OF THE HOUSE:

In this closing hour of the session when the goodbyes are being said, when the associations of the present are being broken and when the joys of the friendships formed are marred by the thought of parting our hearts are touched with mingled and conflicting emotions. It is as when a large and happy family sees its unity being broken by the call of duty which leads its members to many diverging fields. And just as at such an hour the members of a family center their thoughts and affections about the parent whose guiding hand has thus far shaped their course, so the membership of this house in this time of parting centers its thoughts and affections about our beloved speaker whose hand has guided us throughout the deliberations of this session.

Fitting indeed it has been that members from the majority and the minority have joined their voices in expression of the sentiment of appreciation felt by us all. I want now, Mr. Speaker, in behalf of the new members of the house, of those of us who have spent our first session in your company and under your guidance to express our special appreciation for the kindnesses that have been shown us. And speaking now, as I know I do, for every new member of this house, I express the sentiment shared in by us all that as we shall part, it is our hope that in the years to come the world may bestow upon you its tenderest smiles and may extend to you the same kindness and sympathy and helpfulness that has characterized your attitude toward us, the baby members of your legislative family.

Mr. Jensen then presented the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Be It Resolved, That we, the representatives of the Thirty-fifth General Assembly, appreciative of the valued services rendered by the Honorable Henry Brady as Speaker pro tem of the House, do hereby express to him our hearty good will, and extend to him our sincere best wishes for his future happiness and prosperity.

Motion prevailed and the resolution was unanimously adopted.

The Speaker appointed Jenson of Pocahontas as a committee to escort Speaker Pro Tempore Brady to the chair.

Mr. Brady then made the following remarks:

MR. SPEAKER AND GENTLEMEN OF THE HOUSE:

When this legislature convened it faced the most difficult problems ever faced by any legislature in the history of Iowa, the workingmens' compensation; the public utilities and good roads have all received consideration by honest, earnest workers.

In my opinion the one mistake of the Assembly was in not providing a prison farm for convict labor and abolishing the contract system of prison labor. After we have all returned home and received our shower of bouquets and brickbats and once more settled down to business, I believe the happiest thought of our lives will be the pleasant memories of our associates of the Thirty-fifth General Assembly; and now gentlemen in conclusion, I wish to thank you for the confidence you have imposed to me in electing me speaker pro tem of the House and my greatest satisfaction is the knowledge that confidence has never been betrayed.

Speaker Cunningham in the chair.

In presenting the Speaker a gold headed cane and collar and cuff set, Crozier of Marion made the following remarks:

MR. SPEAKER AND GENTLEMEN OF THE HOUSE:

The presiding officer of the legislative body of a great state like Iowa, or rather of the great state of Iowa—for there is no other state like Iowa—occupies a situation of the gravest responsibility and he who has filled it well is entitled to the highest honor.

I have very much enjoyed this session of the General Assembly. I am gratified to say that however much there may have been of difference of opinion between different members of this body, our deliberations have been entirely free from partisan spirit, and I am proud to know that he who occupies this chair has not been swayed or influenced by any other motive than to promote the public good and to secure to every member, no matter what his politics may be, a fair and impartial hearing.

I have today an agreeable duty to perform on behalf of the minority members of this body, recognizing the spirit of fairness and impartiality in the ruling and decisions of the chair, the democratic members of this body have directed me to present to you a slight token of their regard. I trust that no one will consider this as merely perfunctory in character. I assure you that the presentation of this token is made in all sincerity and to express to you our sincere respect for the able, fair and impartial manner in which you have exercised the duties of our presiding officer.

I beg you will accept it, sir, in the spirit in which it is offered. The pecuniary value is small, but be assured it carries with it the sincere desire of those by whom it is presented for your continued happiness and prosperity, and the hope that your years may be lengthened until you shall see the great state of Iowa take rank in the sisterhood of states beyond our fondest anticipations, in the prosperity of her people and the wisdom of her laws.

Miller of Bremer made the following remarks:

MR. SPEAKER:

In this closing hour of this Assembly, when we are about to depart for that particular section of God's country which each of us describe as home, it is my pleasure on behalf of the minority to extend to the gentleman who has presided over our deliberations with firmness, yet with kindness, an evidence of the warm esteem that has grown within us during the period we have heeded the direction of his gavel and his voice.

Of course we all love Brady,
We like to talk and walk with Brady,
But when it comes to the Speaker's job,
Oh you Ed!

As we depart for our several homes I know there is a feeling among all the members of this Assembly that is more than friendship, as much as that word describes, and that such is not held in greater measure toward our esteemed Speaker by the majority than by the minority, I am sure that all on this side will agree. That being true, we with the majority wish him all the blessings that can properly come to one so fair, so worthy and so square, and we wish this with all our hearts.

Dixon of Sac then spoke of the power of music to "soothe the savage breast," the charm of the music of the cataract, the mountain stream, but the sweetest music of all was the human voice.

He then introduced to the House, Mrs. T. A. Kingland, wife of the representative from Winnebago county, who sang "April Morn," by Batten. In response to encores she sang, "An Open Secret" by Woodman, and the following song by Carrie Jacobs Bond, "A Perfect Day."

When you come to the end of a perfect day,
And you sit alone with your thought,
While the chimes ring out with a carol gay,
For the joy that the day has brought,
Do you think what the end of a perfect day
Can mean to a tired heart?
When the sun goes down with a flaming ray,
And the dear friends have to part?

Well, this is the end of a perfect day,
Near the end of a journey, too,
But it leaves a thought that is big and strong,
With a wish that is kind and true.
For mem'ry has painted this perfect day
With colors that never fade,
And we find, at the end of a perfect day,
The soul of a friend we've made.

Scholz of Clayton spoke of the great pleasure he felt in hearing once more the beautiful voice of Mrs. Kingland and moved that the House extend to her a vote of thanks.

Motion prevailed unanimously by rising vote.

Speaker Cunningham then invited Dr. Gibson to favor the House with a solo.

The doctor responded with a number of ballads, closing with "Iowa" in which all members of the House joined.

Sherman of Poweshiek presented the following resolution and moved its adoption:

We, the Representatives of the Thirty-fifth General Assembly, by this resolution, desire to show in a small way our gratitude and appreciation for the many kindnesses and courtesies extended to the membership by Mr. A. C. Gustafson, Chief Clerk; Mr. J. B. Hockersmith, Assistant Clerk; Mr. Harlan G. Knapp, Reading Clerk; Mrs. Lola S. Elliott, Frank G. Luke, Journal Clerks; Mrs. Caroline Young Smith, Engrossing Clerk; Miss Mabel Elwood, Enrolling Clerk; Harry Cook, File Clerk; E. H. Trease, Bill Clerk; Mrs. Clara Patterson, Postmistress; Mr. John F. Offil, Sergeant-at-Arms; H. Armstrong, Chief Doorkeeper, and all other clerks, doorkeepers, pages and janitors.

Motion prevailed and the resolution was unanimously adopted.

Bradley of Wapello make the following remarks:

MR. SPEAKER AND GENTLEMEN OF THE HOUSE:

In addressing you in the closing hours of the session, standing on the floor of this house, a wave of consciousness strikes the inner recess of my brain that lifts the latch string of my heart.

I am grateful for the honor conferred upon me by the members of this Thirty-fifth General Assembly in requesting me to address you on this auspicious occasion. The Thirty-fifth General Assembly now about to adjourn sine die has been the most important session since Iowa was admitted as a state. Every man of the body believes in a government of the people, by the people and for the people, holding to the fundamental idea that all just government derived it just from the consent of the governed upon the sacred page of the history of this state, being its fundamental law, which is a reincarnation of the declaration of independence, holding that all men are created equal and endowed by their Creator with inalienable rights, among these being life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, they held to the theory that all men were equal before law and every man on the floor of this house is believed to be a patriot and lover of his country and its flag. The legislature recognized that the mortal doctrine coming down from the day of Blackstone, but the greatest power that one man can exercise over another is that of a member of the legislative body. Every one of you have learned to discharge your duty as an American citizen, working for the common good and general welfare for the people of this state.

We have not been infallible, nor will our decisions be irrevocable, but I believe all of you have been sincere and had a pure motive doing good for the welfare of the state. The committees of our body had perplexing questions before them, and being many men of many minds we would have to harmonize those ideas for the benefit of all, and I assure you that I believe that every man on the several committees in the House tried to discharge his duty honestly, faithfully and diligently, and held at all times that he was a servant of the people. You can go back home to your people without any stain of corruption charged against your character or your honesty. In conclusion will say that presiding over this body was that genial, kind-hearted gentleman from Buena Vista, a man whom we all revere and cherish for his honesty in doing right. He ever stood for the principles of right and justice and accorded every member a square deal. His name will go down in history as an honest, kind-hearted man, whose heart ever pulsated for the rights of all men. In concluding will say that in years to come I can turn back the page of the history of this commonwealth with cherished memory and say that we were all kindly treated by our speaker, Ed Cunningham. Gentlemen, I now thank you for your kind attention and bid you farewell.

Eggleston of Clarke addressed the House as follows:

MR. SPEAKER:

As one of the new members of this Assembly, one of the farmers of this House, I desire to say that I have been waiting for some time to hear from my senior associates of the same avocation in life. This Assembly is made up of men of nearly every avocation. I must say that no man has enjoyed this session more than I have. I believe this Assembly has been one of the most remarkable sessions ever held in the state. To be sure, we have been criticised not so much for what we have done as for what we did not do. But we have worked with a will. In our might we have tried to make it right, and we as agriculturists want to take part in this appreciation and praise of our most worthy and impartial Speaker of the House, Edward H. Cunningham. As farmers we appreciate the support and unprejudiced acts of every member of this House. Great questions have been dealt with, and as I believe dealt with honestly. We have not only made a record and pages of history for our great state, but we have made footprints on the sands of time that are as memorial monuments that will never be forgotten. This session is my first. Fond memories of my first experience as a legislator will never be forgotten. Our race from the cradle to the grave is but short, and we are weak at the best. But our friends are waiting for us at home. We must tell them of what we have done and what we didn't do. In conclusion let me say to you, Iowa first in intelligence, first in industry, first in education and, above all, first in the hearts of every true citizen of Iowa, is the perpetuity of our state and the perpetuity of our nation. As an impartial Speaker, able, courteous and a man of honest integrity, long live Speaker E. H. Cunningham.

RESOLUTIONS IN MEMORIAM

Adopted by the House of Representatives of the Thirty-fifth General Assembly.

HON. JOHN A. KASSON.

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions commemorating the life, character and public services of the Honorable John A. Kasson of Des Moines, Iowa, a late member of the House, beg leave to report the following memorial:

John Adams Kasson was born at Charlotte, Chittenden county, Vermont, January 11, 1822, and died in the city of Washington, May 19, 1910. Mr. Kasson was a descendant of James Kasson who came from the northern part of Ireland in the first quarter of the eighteenth century, and was of the Scotch-Irish stock which has furnished to America so much of its best blood and brain. James Kasson with his sons, settled on a large tract of land in the colonies of Rhode Island and Connecticut.

John A. Kasson attended the public schools of his native state; took a course at an academy, and at Burlington college. He later entered the University of Vermont, graduating therefrom in 1842. After some time spent in the law office of his brother, Charles D. Kasson, he taught school for a year in the state of Virginia. While there he saw enough of the institution of slavery to make him its enemy, an enmity that never flagged until he saw it abolished. Returning to New England, he continued the study of law, being admitted to the bar at Lowell, Mass. He then went to New Bedford where he practiced his profession for five years. Determining to go where there were greater opportunities for a young lawyer, he located at St. Louis where he acquired a large practice. After six years' residence in St. Louis, his health became impaired and in 1857 he removed to Des Moines.

Shortly after coming to Des Moines he was appointed by Governor Lowe as chairman of a commission to investigate the records and condition of the state offices. The report thereon was exhaustive and contained many valuable suggestions.

While yet at New Bedford, he went as a delegate to the national convention at Buffalo which nominated Martin Van Buren for president and Charles Francis Adams for vice-president in 1848, and which was the beginning of the Free Soil party. It is believed that Mr. Kasson survived every other person who was a member of that historic convention.

In 1860 he was a delegate to the famous Wigwam convention, which nominated Abraham Lincoln for the presidency. At that convention he was a member of the committee on resolutions, and had a large share in framing the platform on which the victory of the party was won in that year. He was the author of the resolution that declared freedom to be the normal condition of all the territories. He also wrote the tariff plank adopted by the convention. The New York Tribune, whose editor was also a member of the committee on resolutions, gave Mr. Kasson credit for being principal author of the platform.

The first nomination made by President Lincoln after the selection of his cabinet, was that John A. Kasson for first assistant postmaster-general. The nomination was made at the suggestion of Senator Grimes and was quite unexpected by Mr. Kasson. It was during his incumbency that the railway postoffice system was permanently established. Besides attending to the details of the office, Mr. Kasson found time to revise and codify the postal laws, and to lay the basis for uniformity and great reduction of postal rates with foreign countries. He faithfully discharged the duties of the important position which he occupied.

In 1862 he was chosen the representative from the new fifth congressional district, and was re-elected to the succeeding congress. Before taking his seat in the House of Representatives, he was invited by the postmaster-general to complete some unfinished business which he had inaugurated. Shortly afterwards, the president, at the suggestion of the postmaster-general, appointed Mr. Kasson to represent the United States at a postal congress to be held at Paris. In that congress, several nations were represented. The work of the congress resulted in improving the international postal service and it has been the basis of most, if not all, of the postal treaties since made.

Mr. Kasson was made a member of the committee on Ways and Means as soon as he entered congress. The definite establishment of the national banking system was part of his work there. He supported the conscription act, favored the enrollment of negro soldiers and advocated the abolition of the franking privilege. Another measure which he advocated was the reservation of all mineral property for the men who would work the lodes. His speech in 1865 favoring the constitutional amendment abolishing slavery was pronounced by those opposed to the measure, the greatest speech that was made for the amendment.

The measures which Mr. Kasson brought forward, most of which he succeeded in getting on the statute books, demonstrate the broad statesmanship of the man.

After he retired from Congress in 1867, the department made use of his services in the negotiation of postal treaties with foreign countries, in which he was quite successful. While thus abroad, he was, without his knowledge, nominated for representative in the Twelfth General Assembly. To this position he was twice re-elected. While a member of the Iowa legislature he was largely instrumental in having the work begun for the erection of the present State House. At the adjourned session of 1873 he was chairman of the committee on the consideration of the Code of that year, and doubtless it was largely because of his ability and promptness that the work was done in the short time of thirty days.

In 1872 Mr. Kasson was again elected to congress and again in 1874. In 1877, President Hayes appointed him minister to Vienna. Returning from that court, he was again chosen to congress. In 1884 President Arthur appointed him ambassador to Germany. While there he was the nation's special envoy to the Congo conference. Four years later he attended the Samoan conference where negotiations were made entirely satisfactory to this country. President McKinley made liberal use of Mr. Kasson's services in the negotiation of treaties looking to reduce custom duties under the tariff act of 1897.

Mr. Kasson was a high minded statesman. Enduring public good was his aim. Things temporary had little attraction for him.

Therefore, be it resolved that in the death of John A. Kasson, the state and nation has been called upon to mourn the departure of a worthy, upright citizen; a great statesman and an honorable man, and

Be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be printed in the Journal of the House.

HON. WILLARD LEE EATON.

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions commemorating the life, character and public services of the Honorable Willard Lee Eaton of Osage, Iowa, a late member of the House, beg leave to report the following memorial:

Willard Lee Eaton, twenty-eighth speaker of the House of Representatives, died at his home at Osage, June 7, 1911. He was born in Delhi, Delaware county, Iowa, October 13, 1848, and was hence in the sixty-third year of a useful life when death claimed him. His father, Gen. Ariel K. Eaton, was a leading man in early Iowa, and was a member of this House in the Third and Fourth General Assemblies and thus took part in framing the Iowa Code of 1851. Young Eaton was educated in the common schools and Cedar Valley Seminary. In 1872 he was made LL. B. in the law department of the State University. He practiced his profession at Osage and served as county attorney of Mitchell county one term. He was mayor of Osage three terms. In 1897 he was elected to represent the county of Mitchell in the House, and was twice re-elected. In 1902 he was chosen speaker, the second native of Iowa to attain to that position. He gave eminent satisfaction as a presiding officer, as he had been useful as a member. In 1906 he was elected a member of the board of railroad commissioners, worthily performing the mixed administrative and judicial duties thereof. His labors there wore upon his health, and he willingly retired at the end of one term, soon thereafter to pass from earth.

One, himself a member of the legal profession for three score years, said of him during his lifetime: "Mr. Eaton is a man of very decided superior abilities, and with a liberal literary education and a thorough legal course, it is not strange that with his industry and excellent character, he should have attained, as he has, a high position at the bar. No man in his district stands higher in these respects than does Mr. Eaton. Ey heredity he came legitimately to these excellences."

Resolved, That the House of Representatives presents this tribute to the memory of a faithful public servant and mourns that a life so useful was not longer spared to the community and the state that he was so well calculated to serve.

HON. ISAAC BRANDT.

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions commemorating the life, character and public services of the Honorable Isaac Brandt of Des Moines, Iowa, a late member of the House, beg leave to report the following memorial:

Isaac Brandt, born April 7, 1827, in Fairfield county, Ohio, died at the capital of this state September 12, 1909. Mr. Brandt was the youngest of a large family, the head of which, David, had immigrated from the state of Pennsylvania in 1813. The father of the latter came to America from Germany in 1756. His wife, Isaac Brandt's mother, was a Hamilton, and of Scotch stock, on her father's side though, with an admixture of French. On her mother's side she was of Celtic race. Isaac worked on a farm during his early boyhood, going in winter to the district school. At the age of sixteen, he was apprenticed to learn boot and shoe making, and in accordance with the custom of the time without other compensation for the first two years than the instruction imparted. The day he was of age he went into business for himself, and soon got into a fair share of patronage. In his twenty-third year he was united in marriage with Miss Harriet Wisely. Shortly afterwards, he and his young wife removed to the county of DeKalb, Indiana. A few years later, he was elected sheriff, serving therein two years. About the close of his term in that office Mr. Brandt visited Iowa, seeing much of the young state, and walking from Des Moines to Council Bluffs and return. That visit conspired to make him wish to live in this state, and in the year 1858 he brought his wife and their three children to Des Moines, to be thereafter their home. He at once entered actively into mercantile business, which he followed for several years, when he went into the real estate business. In 1867, he became deputy treasurer of state, which office he held for six years. The year he left the treasury, he was elected a Representative in the General Assembly from the county of Polk. In that capacity he was as ever active. He was made by Speaker Gear, who had a high appreciation of Mr. Brandt's ability, chairman of the two important committees of Ways and Means, and Cities and Towns. The man's natural leadership was soon manifested. One of the measures he got through increased the appropriation for the construction of the capitol to warrant the capitol commission to make the cornices, the capitals of the columns, and the staircases of stone. The board in order to keep the cost of the edifice within the limit set by the appropriation act of 1872, had planned, much against the wishes of its members, to make those parts of the building of iron. Mr. Brandt's tact was seen in the management of the business of that legislature. This was the famous Grange legislature, the one chosen in 1873, just after the financial crash of that year, and one which came to the capitol strongly prepossessed against most of the state officers and decidedly averse to making any appropriations except those most needed. Before its adjournment that spirit was largely overcome, and mainly through the tactful leadership of Mr. Brandt.

In 1890 Br. Brandt was appointed postmaster of Des Moines, and as usual was a most efficient officer.

One in writing of Mr. Brandt nearly forty years ago, said of him: "He is full of life and activity; has a spare frame, but well supported with muscles. His carriage is erect; his step quick and firm, indicating energy and determination, coupled with impetuosity. Whatever he undertakes to do he does with his might, and, with well developed order, works to successful ends. He is always looking ahead—onward and upward—devoting his energies to the well-being of others, not neglecting himself!" At the close of his long and useful life another said of the man, "Here was a unique character, so well known, in spite of his advanced years so active, so vital a part of the community, so potent a factor in its up-building and in perpetuating memorials of men and events, that one could hardly think of him in connection with physical death." Thus the man sustained to the end a character of usefulness in the largest sense.

Mr. Brandt was heartily in sympathy with the great reforms of his time. The first piece of money he ever earned, a quarter, which he had kept under his pillow every night, he gave to a poor runaway slave to help him on his way towards the north star. With the family of the famous John Brown he kept up a steady correspondence. The cause of temperance was another to which he devoted means and energy.

His work in securing a place for the location of the state fair must not be overlooked. His part in that undertaking was that of chief promoter, keeping at it unceasingly until the tract was secured and the fair definitely located. That location is, moreover, added evidence of the man's excellent judgment.

Resolved, That in the departure from the earth of Isaac Brandt, the state, as well as the community he helped to energize, had a distinct loss, and it may well feel, as was said of him, that his place in both is one that may hardly be filled.

Resolved, That a copy hereof, duly executed and attested, be communicated to the family bereaved by his loss, with an expression of the sympathy of the House in that bereavement.

HON. AYLETT R. COTTON.

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee appointed to draft and present resolutions commemorating the life, character, and public services of the Honorable Aylett R. Cotton, a late member of the House of Representatives in the Twelfth and Fourteenth General Assemblies, beg leave to submit the following as their report:

Aylett Rains Cotton, the thirteenth Speaker of this House, died at San Francisco, Cal., October 30, 1912. He was a native of the county of Trumbull, Ohio, where he was born November 29, 1826. In that state he attended school. When he was seventeen years old he came with his parents to the territory of Iowa, coming to Clinton County in the year 1844. Returning east he taught school in Ohio, Tennessee and Pennsylvania. In the last named state he attended for a time Alleghany College at Meadville. Returning to Iowa after reading law, he was admitted to the bar in 1848. When the gold discoveries of that period made crowds seek California, young Cotton went there with an ox team. Remaining in that state a couple of years, he came back to Iowa. In 1851 he was elected the first County Judge of Clinton County. This office he resigned, and accepted that of Prosecuting Attorney. In 1857 the county sent him to represent her in the convention that made the present constitution of the state. In 1867 he was elected a representative in the Twelfth General Assembly, and was chosen a second time two years later. In the Twelfth, although a new member, he was put at the head of the Committee on the Judiciary. At that session the law was passed that established the Circuit Court, and along with it an Appellate Court, styled the General Term. Judge Cotton did not favor the measure, preferring another measure that was then pending, which proposed to enlarge the jurisdiction of the County Courts.

The House of Representatives, in January, 1870, made him its Speaker. In this capacity he was one of the most efficient of officers. The session was an exceptionally exciting one. It was then that the construction of the elegant building was determined on. At the close of the session the usual complimentary resolutions were adopted, but there was an exceptional interest added by the manner in which Mr. Kasson, the leader of the House on the floor, whose memory we have recalled at this session, expressed the feelings of the House towards the Speaker. Said he, in the course of his felicitous address: "We were aware at the time of election of Speaker that we were conferring an honor in the selection of any member of this House to preside over the deliberations of this body during the present session. We are glad to recognize, at the close of the session, that the patience, forbearance and intelligence of the gentleman who was selected have enabled him to leave no feeling of enmity or hostility or anger in the breast of a single member of this House. These qualities, which have made the transaction of business on this floor so pleasant to every member, have rendered them unwilling to part from their Speaker without something further than the ordinary testimonial of their appreciation of his services. * * * They now instruct me to present to the Presiding Officer of this House, in token of their appreciation of his many excellent traits, this elegant cane, which I hold in my hand, and beg you to accept it, and with it the memory of those upon this floor, every one of whom parts with you as his friend, every one of whom wishes you a lasting and continued prosperity during the remainder of your years upon the earth." The Speaker's reply was equally graceful. In that reply, while acknowledging the graciousness of the gift and the givers, the Speaker referred briefly to the action of the Legislature. After referring to the ratification of the fifteenth amendment to the Federal Constitution, he continued (and this is of especial interest at this time): "Following this came the first expression of an Iowa Legislature in favor of admitting the sisterhood of our land into full fellowship in the government of our state. In this connection, I must not omit to mention, as among the memorable events of this session, that choice made by this House of one of its officers, whereby, for the first time, an Iowa legislative body has made public recognition of the right of woman to occupy any position for which she may be competent—a choice which we all unite in saying has proven eminently satisfactory.

"The General Assembly will also have laid the foundation of that edifice in which our successors in the General Assembly of Iowa will convene long centuries after we shall have ceased to have any concern in the affairs of life."

In the same year in which that session was held, Judge Cotton was chosen to represent the Second District in the Forty-second Congress, and in 1872 he was again chosen, but declined further service in that body. In 1883 he removed to California, where was henceforward his home.

Resolved, That the House of Representatives directs that this minute be entered on its records as a memorial and an expression of its appreciation of the work well and wisely done by this pioneer among the lawgivers of this commonwealth.

HON. HENRY C. SCHROEDER.

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee appointed to prepare suitable resolutions respecting the life, character and public services of the Hon. Henry C. Schroeder, late member of the House of Representatives of the Thirty-second and Thirty-third General Assemblies of Iowa, beg leave to report the following memorial:

Hon. Henry C. Schroeder was born October 5, 1854, in Germany, and died at his home in Schleswig, Crawford County, Iowa, July 13, 1911. He attended school in Germany until fifteen years of age, whence he emigrated to this country in 1870, and was engaged in farming in Illinois until 1878, attending school and private (evening) school. In 1878 he moved to Crawford County, Iowa, where on January 27, 1882, he was married to Miss Minnie Zabel, to which union three children were born, respectively, Hulda Schroeder Reinking, Clare Schroeder Jessen and H. H. Schroeder. He was identified with the Democratic party and was active in the council of same. In the fall of 1896 he was elected Township Clerk and re-elected in 1898. In 1900 he was elected a member of the Board of Supervisors, serving his people faithfully for six years, and in 1906 he was elected Representative and re-elected in 1908, where he served the people of his county and state in a faithful and capable manner, which has reflected credit to himself and those whom he was called upon to represent. Mr. Schroeder was a man who was loved and respected by all who knew him and his life, character and public services were such as to command respect and admiration from all who knew him. Therefore be it

Resolved, That in his death the county and state has lost a citizen of worth, and whose influence has done much. Be it further

Resolved, That we extend to his family and friends our sincere sympathy, and that a copy of these resolutions be entered upon the Journal of the House, and a copy of the same be forwarded to the bereaved family of the deceased.

HON. PHILIP SCHALLER.

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions of respect to the memory of the Honorable Philip Schaller respectfully submit the following:

Philip Schaller was born in the town of Worth, Alsace, Germany, January 6, 1838, and received his education in the common schools of his native country. At the age of sixteen years he came to the United States, tarrying for a short time in the eastern states, and coming to Iowa in 1854, making his home in Clayton County.

August 8, 1862, he enlisted in Company E, Twenty-seventh Iowa Infantry, and participated in the engagements of his regiment, including Steele's Arkansas expedition, the Meridian campaign, the Red River campaign (where Mr. Schaller won distinction in the capture of Fort De Russy), Smith's expeditions to Tupelo, Oxford and Nashville, and the other engagements of his regiment throughout his service. One of his officers has said, "Phil Schaller was the bravest man I ever knew." He was mustered out with his regiment August 8, 1865, and returned to Clayton County, Iowa, and engaged in business. In the spring of 1872 he settled in Eden Township, Sac County, Iowa, on a fine tract of land.

In October, 1865, Mr. Schaller was married to Miss Emeline L. Knight of Clayton County, who departed this life February 13, 1899, and on July 10, 1900, he was married to Mrs. Catherine Fishman. The faithful widow and congenial companion survives him.

A man of Mr. Schaller's ability and public spirit could not stay long out of politics in this new country, and he was elected a member of the Board of Supervisors, was County Treasurer for eight years and was elected Representative from Sac County to the Twenty-first General Assembly, which convened in 1886. His ability and force of character were soon discovered upon his accession to the House.

In 1896 Mr. Schaller was chosen as an alternate at large to the Republican National Convention. In recent years he served two terms as Mayor of Sac City, and was elected the last term without opposition. In all his official duty he manifested his public spirit and uprightness of character.

Mr. Schaller held official positions with several banks. He was a liberal contributor in various public enterprises, and was a trustee of Buena Vista College, of Sac City Institute and of the Presbyterian Church, of which he was a member. He held membership in the various lodges of Free Masonry, from the Blue Lodge to the Consistory and Commandery; was Grand Treasurer of the Grand Lodge of Iowa Masons. He was a diligent and faithful worker in the Grand Army of the Republic, and served as Department Commander for Iowa.

Mr. Schaller was an efficient and faithful officer, a brave soldier and a big hearted man, and his death has caused the deepest sorrow in the community where he lived and throughout the state. He lived up to his opportunities and carried forward the torch of human enlightenment. He stood as the poet has said:

"For the truth that lacks assistance,
For the wrong that needs resistance,
For the future in the distance
And the good that we can do."

In view of these facts so briefly set forth in the life of this brave and noble man, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Thirty-fifth General Assembly of the State of Iowa, that we mourn in his death the passing of a brave and noble man; that we express our sincere sympathy to the surviving family who have lost a devoted husband and father; and be it further

Resolved, That this memorial be spread upon the Journal of the House and that engrossed copies of the same be prepared and forwarded to the surviving wife and daughters of the deceased.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

SPEAKER—Your committee appointed to draft and present resolutions commemorative of the life, character and public services of the Honorable Delos Arnold, late a member of the House of Representatives in the Sixth and Thirteenth General Assemblies, beg leave to submit the following as their report:

Delos Arnold was born in Chenango County, New York, July 21, 1830, and was past seventy-nine years of age at the time of his death he having lived to a ripe old age. Mr. Arnold was educated in the common schools of New York, and Fredonia Academy, and later graduated at the Albany Law School in the year 1853. During the same year he moved to Marietta, Iowa, then the county seat of Marshall County, and suffered all the hardships of a pioneer in what at that time was the great undeveloped west. Mr. Arnold moved to Marshalltown when the county seat was relocated, and up to the time he moved to Pasadena, California, as a pioneer of the far west in the year 1886, he was one of Marshall county's leading citizens. During his residence in Marshall County Mr. Arnold practiced law, and was also a leading contractor and builder.

Mr. Arnold served the people of Marshall County in many ways, and was elected County Attorney and County Treasurer, and filled these positions very acceptably. He was elected by the people of Marshall County as a Republican member of the Sixth and Thirteenth General Assemblies of Iowa. He later represented Marshall and Grundy Counties as State Senator for two terms, and was Senator at the time that the Capitol was located at Des Moines.

Mr. Arnold was also a leading citizen of Pasadena, California, and took a deep interest in the schools of that city, where he was elected a member of the School Board. He possessed one of the finest collections of minerals, fossils, shells and corals ever gathered in California, which were valued at $15,000, and presented them to Leland Stanford University of California.

On the morning of August 31, 1909, Mr. Arnold died at his home in Pasadena, California, his body being cremated and his ashes brought to Marshalltown for burial, the city he loved, and which still bears his name in a public school building.

To honor his memory, it is therefore

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the Journal of the House, and that the Chief Clerk be directed to forward an engrossed copy to the family of the deceased.

HON. WILLIAM BREMNER.

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee appointed to prepare suitable resolutions commemorating the life, character and public service of Honorable William Bremner, a member of the House of Representatives in the Eighth General Assembly, beg leave to submit the following as their report:

William Bremner was born in Scotland, of sturdy Scotch parentage, March 21, 1831, and when he was an infant his parents, James Bremner and wife, emigrated to this country. While William was young they made their home in New York State and Massachusetts, but in the year 1839 moved to New Hampshire, where William Bremner spent the days of his early manhood during a residence of seventeen years.

As a young man Mr. Bremner studied engineering, and later law, and as an engineer was a member of a railroad engineering corps that did much work throughout Connecticut in the early days.

In the year 1856, realizing that there were greater opportunities for a young man in the then far west, Mr. Bremner came to Iowa, and after looking about the few towns then settled, selected Marshalltown as the point where he would begin his business career. He formed a co-partnership with Hon. W. P. Hepburn, late Congressman from the Eighth District, who was a brother-in-law of Mr. Bremner, and for a few years practiced law.

Preferring out of door life to the law office he decided to take up his earlier work, and did much of the early surveying of the county. In 1865 he was elected County Surveyor and continued to be re-elected year after year until he had served forty-five years continuously in the same position. Mr. Bremner retired from office during the year 1910 owing to old age. He was made City Engineer of Marshalltown in 1863, and held this position until a short time before his death.

During the years 1860-1862 William Bremner represented Marshall County in the Legislature, having been elected by the Republican party, of which he was a lifelong member. He took but little interest in politics, however, and aside from his work as surveyor and in the Legislature, the only public office he ever held was that of Justice of the Peace in an early day.

William Bremner was married at Iowa City, May 24, 1860, to Miss Kate Hampton. Mr. Bremner is survived by three of their four children: George H. Bremner of La Grange, Ill.; Mrs. O. A. Byington of Iowa City, and William H. Bremner of Minneapolis, now General Solicitor for the Minneapolis and St. Louis Railroad. One daughter, Annabel, died during the year 1897. Mr. Bremner is also survived by two sisters, Miss Anna Bremner of Marshalltown and Mrs. Ellen B. Tilton of Newburyport, Massachusetts. William Bremner died at Iowa City, August 29, 1911, and his body was brought to Marshalltown for burial.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bremner were prominent members of the Presbyterian Church of Marshalltown, and from 1868 until about two years before his death he was an elder in the church. Mr. Bremner was one of the grand old men of Marshalltown, a man blessed with many friends and no enemies. His death marked the close of a good life well spent and the end of the career of one of God's noblemen.

Whereas, William Bremner's life, character and services to the state were such as to entitle him to the confidence, esteem and gratitude of his fellow citizens; therefore be it

Resolved, That in his death the state and county in which he resided lost a worthy and upright citizen, and an honest, conscientious and honorable man, and we hereby extend to his bereaved family our heartfelt sympathy in their sorrow; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the Journal of the House, and that the Chief Clerk be directed to forward an engrossed copy to the children of the deceased.

HON. FRANCIS M. ESTES.

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee appointed to prepare and present suitable resolutions commemorating the life, character and public services of Honorable Francis M. Estes of Fremont County, late member of this House, beg leave to report the following:

Francis M. Estes was born in Andrew County, Missouri, September 3, 1846, the son of Joel and Patsy (Stolling) Estes. In 1859 he went with his father to Colorado, where they discovered what is now known as Estes Park, and where he remained till the spring of 1866, coming then to Fremont County, Iowa. In August of the same year he married Mary C. Hiatt, daughter of Reuben and Nancy Hiatt, with whom he founded a home north of Sidney, Iowa. They were blessed with six children: Robert L., Lovy Ann, Joel S., Charles F., Reuben N. and Giles R., to whom he was ever a generous and loving father.

During his residence in Iowa he was an extensive farmer, stock raiser and horticulturalist, being especially proud of a large orchard. The leadership of the Democrats in his vicinity came naturally to Mr. Estes, and he had the honor of representing his district in the Twenty-second and Twenty-third General Assemblies. He was intensely interested in and advocated election reform, and was instrumental in securing the passage of the Australian ballot law enacted by the Twenty-fourth General Assembly. He also served his community as Justice of the Peace and member of the School Board.

Fraternally he was for many years connected with the Masonic order, and was a consistent and faithful member of the Primitive Baptist Church.

Following the death of his wife in 1907, he sold his Fremont County holdings and went to Cement, Caddo County, Oklahoma, where he engaged in banking, being president of three banks at the time of his death. In the spring of 1911 he built a church near Cement, Oklahoma, donating it to the Liberty Primitive Baptist Church.

His death occurred at his home in Cement, Oklahoma, October 7, 1911, of paralysis of the heart. Services were held over his remains at Cement, Oklahoma, Oklahoma City and at Sidney, Iowa, where he was laid to rest by the side of his faithful companion in the Sidney cemetery.

A great and good man has been taken from us. He was a friend to all. The human elements were so mingled in him that nature could say to the world, "This was a man." Therefore be it Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Thirty-fifth General Assembly extend to the bereaved members of his family this expression of sympathy and condolence in the death of Hon. Francis M. Estes. In token whereof they have caused these resolutions to be spread upon the Journal of the House and a copy of same sent to the surviving relatives.

HON. GEORGE CONDE CALKINS.

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions commemorative of the life and service of the late Honorable George C. Calkins, a former member of this House, respectfully submit the following:

The Honorable George Conde Calkins was born in Glenville, Schenectady County, New York, of American born parentage, October 4, 1835, and departed this life June 28th, 1911.

He received his education in the common schools of Schenectady County and in Kingsborough Academy.

During the year of 1859, in keeping with the spirit of that time, he sought a new field of usefulness in the western state of Illinois. The first few years of his sojourn in that state were spent in teaching school. He then took up farming and auctioneering as his life work.

In the year of 1863 he was married to Miss Mary Taylor Scott, who survives him.

Mr. Calkins remained in Illinois until the spring of 1871, when he came to Iowa and located in Adams County, where he continued to exert a telling influence in all public matters up until the time of his death.

To Mr. and Mrs. Calkins were born six children, three sons and three daughters, all living. They are: C. C. Calkins, N. W. Calkins, Frank Calkins, Mrs. W. J. Frederick, Mrs. E. M. Cain and Mrs. H. S. Septer.

Mr. Calkins was a Democrat in politics and was elected as Representative from Adams County to the Thirty-second and Thirty-third General Assemblies. Every time he was a candidate he carried his home township, Lincoln, a township two to one Republican, and his majorities were always large, showing how he was regarded by his home people and neighbors.

While his nature was an optimistic and charitable one, he was outspoken, and there never was a time when his position on a public question could not be ascertained.

Mr. Calkins was a man of aggressive temperament and was possessed of many qualities which built up around him a strong circle of friends wherever he lived and moved; therefore be it

Resolved, That in the death of the Honorable George Conde Calkins the state and county in which he resided have lost a worthy citizen and an honest and upright man; and be it further

Resolved, That these resolutions be entered in the Journal of the House, and that an engrossed copy be presented to the family of the deceased by the Chief Clerk.

He served in the Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth sessions and Twenty-sixth extra session of the General Assembly, which position he filled with credit to himself and his constituency. HON. JOHN E. DEMPSTER.

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee appointed to prepare a memorial to commemorate the life and public service of the Honorable John E. Dempster, an honored member of the Twenty-seventh General Assembly, beg leave to submit the following report:

John E. Dempster was born in Morgan County, Ohio, January 3, 1837. In the early days of his life he attended the district schools of Ohio, and later came to settle on the fertile acres of his father's farm in Scott County, Iowa.

By his industry and thrift he was able while still a young man to purchase a small farm near his parents, which, as the years went by, increased to 180 acres.

Mr. Dempster was twice married. In 1868 he was joined in marriage to Esther E. Burch and to the union were born two daughters and one son. On December 24, 1873, this union was broken by the death of his wife. He was again married in 1875 to Josephine Fitzsimmons, who bore him two sons and one daughter.

He gave his time liberally to public service, being for thirty-one years secretary of the School Board. In 1897 his great activity and interest in public affairs brought him to the attention of the community in which he lived, and he was elected by the Republican party as Representative of Scott County to the Legislature of the Twenty-Seventh General Assembly.

He was a faithful and consistent follower of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and was for more than twenty years Sunday school superintendent in that church.

In 1900 Mr. Dempster moved to Poweshiek County where, at the time of his death, he owned a 320-acre farm.

One of the sturdy Iowa pioneers who laid the foundation of our material prosperity, Mr. Dempster was one of the most agreeable and loyal of friends.

He was candid and outspoken in his ideas, a close and analytical student of men and of affairs, and liberal and tolerant in public and private life.

Resolved, That we extend to his family and friends our sincere sympathy, and that a copy of these resolutions be entered upon the Journal of the House, and that a copy of the same be forwarded to the bereaved family of the deceased.

HON. JAMES S. CRAWFORD.

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee appointed to prepare suitable resolutions commemorating the life, character and public service of the Honorable James S. Crawford, a member of the Twenty-fourth General Assembly, respectfully submit the following:

James Shannon Crawford was born in Coshocton County, Ohio, in December, 1851. His parents were Scotch and his ancestors in Scotland were of aristocratic stock. He moved with his parents, Robert and Sarah (Shannon) Crawford, to Allamakee County, Iowa, in 1853. He grew up on the farm, was educated in the country schools, and was always deeply interested in matters agricultural. He attended Upper Iowa University and the State University, and was naturally a student.

He taught school, and while so engaged was married to Louise Morphy in Lewis, Cass County. To them one son, Archibald R., was born. He was superintendent of schools in Cass County, was a member of the State Board of Examiners, and was Representative from Cass County in the Twenty-fourth General Assembly. He engaged for a time in newspaper work on the Atlantic Telegraph and later on the Cherokee Herald. Under his direction both of these papers became powers in their respective fields.

In 1900 he was chosen a member of Ferdinand W. Peck's staff of custodians of the United States exhibit at the Universal Exposition in Paris. He had charge of the corn kitchen and did much to educate the European people to the uses of corn as a food. In 1902-03-04 he was connected with the Department of Exploitation of the World's Fair in St. Louis, many of his articles appearing in World's Work, Atlantic Monthly and other leading magazines. As a writer he was very interesting and bestowed much time and thought on economic subjects, being the author of two books, "Political Socialism, Would It Fail in Success?" and "Philosophic Anarchism."

In politics he was a Republican, while fraternally he was a member of the Masonic and Odd Fellow organizations. He made no profession of religion, yet he was an habitual church attendant. The early training received from his parents in the Presbyterian faith had a marked effect on his whole life, as evidenced by the sterling integrity and sincerity of purpose which characterized the man.

He died in Chicago, Illinois, on March 2, 1913, after a short illness, at the age of 61 years. The body was brought to his home at Cherokee, Iowa, where it was laid to rest with suitable services by the fraternal organizations with which he had been identified.

He leaves a widow, Mrs. Louise Crawford, of Cherokee, and Archibald R. Crawford of Ames, Iowa.

Whereas, The life, character and service of the deceased was such as to entitle him to the confidence and esteem of his fellow citizens; therefore be it

Resolved, That in the death of this former member of the House there has been lost one whose labors and influence were beneficial to the state; that his family is bereft of a loving husband and a kind father; that we mourn with them in their loss, and extend our sympathy in their hour of sorrow; and further

Resolved, That in appreciation of the useful and well spent life of Hon. James S. Crawford these resolutions be spread upon the Journal of the House, and that an engrossed copy thereof be sent to the widow and son:

HON. JOSEPH A. KECK.

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee appointed to prepare suitable resolutions of respect to the life, character and public service of the late Honorable Joseph A. Keck, a member of the Twenty-eighth General Assembly, beg leave to report the following:

The subject of this sketch was born in Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania, December 9, 1827, and came to this state in 1845, settling near Utica, Van Buren County, where he lived until his removal to Seattle, Washington, in September, 1910. He was married in 1853 to Miss Inghaba Ebert, who survives him. He was the father of twelve children, ten of whom are still living, one dying in infancy, and a daughter, Mrs. Mary Dougherty of Seattle, dying less than a year ago. He also has one brother and two sisters surviving. He was an active member in the Utica Methodist Episcopal Church and an ardent Sunday school worker.

He lived fifty years in Cedar Township, Van Buren County, on one of the best farms in Iowa, devoting his time to stock raising, feeding and shipping. Mr. Keck possessed far more than average ability as a man of affairs, his talents being demanded in many offices of public service. He was Township Trustee, Justice of the Peace, and for two years was the President of the Van Buren County Agricultural Society. This was one of the most useful and honorable positions in the county, having been held by such men as ex-Senator George G. Wright, George W. Games, Dr. George S. Guernsey, J. B. Bleakmore, George C. Duffield, Colonel H. Blackledge, B. S. Ream and others. It is needless to say the affairs under his administration were successful. He was also interested in the Bentonsport Milling Company for some time. He recruited and drilled a Home Guard Militia Company, known as the "Bonaparte Guards," under authority of chapter thirty-five, Ninth General Assembly, and was elected its Captain.

He represented Van Buren County in the Twenty-eighth General Assembly, discharging the duties of the office with honesty and fidelity to his constituents and the public, and was at all times and under all circumstances an honest, sincere and faithful public servant. He would have been re-elected for another term had he not been absent from the state when the nominating convention was held. Therefore be it

Resolved, That in his death the state and county has lost a worthy and honorable citizen, and we hereby extend to the relatives and friends our tribute of respect; and be it further

Resolved, That these resolutions of respect be printed in the Journal of the House and the Chief Clerk be directed to forward an engrossed copy to the family of the deceased.

He was a Republican in politics, and an uncompromising worker for the temperance cause. He leaves surviving him a wife, who still lives in Eldon, and one stepson, William R. Russell, of Ottumwa, Iowa.

From 1872 until 1882 he was a locomotive engineer on the C. R. I. & P. R. R., and in the latter year he engaged in the mercantile business in Eldon, continuing in this business until 1890. He was elected in 1891 as a member of the Twenty-fifth General Assembly, and re-elected in 1893 as a member of the Twenty-sixth General Assembly, also serving in the extra session of that Assembly.

He was one of the organizers of the Eldon District Fair, known as the "Big Four," and through his efforts made it a great success, serving as its president for years. He was progressive and aggressive in all of his work, and did much for the advancement of home and state. He was very popular as a speaker, and was much in demand for addresses at Soldiers' Reunions and Farmers' Institutes, and was always a leader in patriotic and moral movements. Therefore be it

Whereas, We deem it proper that public attention be called to a life record which represents a high type of Christian character and patriotic manhood, we present the following facts:

Mr. Sawyer was born in the town of Dixfield, Oxford County, Maine, on June 23, 1847. He received a public school education in his native state, and for a time was a school teacher. He came to Iowa when seventeen years of age, and lived in this state for about two years, when he returned to his native state and engaged in the practice of law. On November 16, 1868, he was married to Miss Elvira Oakes at Phillips, Maine. At the expiration of his term of office he declined reelection, and continued in the practice of law up to the time of his death. Mr. Sawyer always took a leading and active part in church and charitable affairs. He was a consistent and devoted member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and was one of the founders of Morningside College, which is located at Sioux City. HON. ALVIN M. WHALEY.

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions of respect in honor of Alvin Manley Whaley, a former member of this body, respectfully submit the following:

Alvin Manley Whaley was born in Wyoming county, New York, May 14, 1838. He was a pupil in the common schools until the age of fifteen when he entered Middlebury academy in Wyoming county, continuing there, except during the winters he taught, until 1861, when the breaking out of the rebellion put an end to peaceful pursuits.

Patriotic and loyal, he quickly enlisted for service and, although without experience, was elected by his companions, second lieutenant of Company K, Seventeenth N. Y. volunteers, one of the first companies to enlist. Going to the front, he was with the army of the Potomac, where, on account of bravery and merit, he was successively advanced to the rank of first lieutenant and then captain.

At Fredricksburg, while leading his men in an assault on the rebel works, he was struck on the head by a musket ball and it was supposed by all that this was the end of his brilliant career. Although the skull was fractured, prompt surgical skill saved his life, but so remarkable was his recovery that the case was reported at length in "The Medical and Surgical History of the Rebellion" and pieces of his skull are still preserved in the museum at Washington. Since that accident, he had always worn a silver plate over his brain.

After being discharged from the hospital at Georgetown, he was mustered out, but almost immediately re-entered the service, receiving a commission as quarter master and serving as assistant quarter master general. Being ordered to Alabama, he went to Vicksburg and was with Sherman on his raid and later in his famous march to the sea. Soon afterwards, the war ended and he returned to engage in farming in his native county in New York.

In 1869, he came to Iowa, where he settled at Aplington, Butler county, where he rapidly became one of the wealthy men of the community through his extensive grain, lumber and stock operations, and later because of his banking interests as president of the Exchange bank for many years.

Capt. Whaley was a leading republican all his life and for many years was well known and honored in the councils of his party. In 1877, he was elected to represent Butler county in the Iowa legislature and was returned to the same office in 1879. On the death of Senator W. B. Gaylord, he was chosen to represent the forty-sixth senatorial district, which included Butler, Floyd and Mitchell counties, for the unexpired term, being also re-elected for the second term.

He was chairman of the committee on military affairs of the Senate and also chairman of the Senate committee which selected Marshalltown, Iowa, as the location for the Iowa soldiers' home.

He again re-entered politics when on the election of President McKinley, he was made postmaster at Aplington, an office which he held until a few years ago.

He was a member of the Presbyterian church of Aplington and for over twenty years was an elder in the church, being sent to represent the church in the Presbytery and being sent in 1898 to the general assembly as representative of the Waterloo Presbytery.

He was a member of the Masonic lodge of Parkersburg, having been honored as a Knight Templar and as a member of the Mystic Shrine. He was also a member of the John Bradley G. A. R. post at Parkersburg.

Mr. Whaley was married on October 17, 1871, to Jane Hull Smith, daughter of George B. Smith, one of the oldest leading residents of Aplington. She passed away a year ago last July. Four sons are left to mourn their father's death.

Resolved, That in the death of this noble man the state has lost a worthy citizen, soldier and statesman and the House and Senate a loved and honored member, and be it further

Resolved, That these sentiments be entered upon the House Journal and a copy be sent to the bereaved family of the deceased.

HON. JAMES SKILLEN.

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee appointed to draft proper resolutions of respect in honor of the Honorable James A. Skillen, a former member of this body respectfully submit the following:

The Honorable James A. Skillen was born at Cherry Valley, New York, February 26, 1832. He passed out of this life at the home of his daughter, Mrs. D. A. Long, in Waverly, Iowa, November 7, 1912, being in his eighty-first year.

At four years of age Mr. Skillen moved with his parents to Greene, Chenango county, New York, where he continued to reside about twenty years, or until 1856. The next two years were spent in Waverly, Iowa, where he worked with W. P. Harmon, the founder of that town, returning at the end of the two years to his boyhood home. Here he again lived until after his marriage to Miss Lucinda Adams, which occurred October 2, 1862. Immediately after their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Skillen came to Iowa to the then new West, settling on a farm which Mr. Skillen purchased near Tripoli. Here they resided some thirty years, until Mrs. Skillen's death May 12, 1892. Two years later Mr. Skillen came to Waverly, where he continued to reside till the time of his death. During the last eight years of his life he had made his home with his daughter, Mrs. D. A. Long.

There were born to Mr. and Mrs. Skillen two daughters. The elder died in infancy. The younger, Mrs. D. A. Long, of Waverly, with the one grandson, Herbert Long, and two brothers, Robert Skillen of Waterloo and Hugh Skillen of Virginia, constitute the surviving members of his own and his father's family. His nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Fitch, of Tripoli, were also counted as members of his family.

James A. Skillen was of a family of thirteen children, being of Scotch-Irish parentage. He was a man of strict integrity, honored, respected and trusted not only by his fellow townsmen, but by the citizens of Bremer county, who sent him to represent them in 1872-3 in the Fourteenth Iowa Assembly. C. C. Carpenter was Governor at that time. During his legislative term he served on the committee on highways and was an influential member of that body. He voted for the abolition of capital punishment and was an earnest advocate of progress in educational affairs, advocating among other things an act establishing public libraries in the townships and independent school districts of the state. He also had a large part in the formulation and success of a measure in making the state historical society the valuable institution that it is today.

For six years prior to his death Mr. Skillen was president of the Waverly Savings Bank. He had the confidence of the people of his county in a remarkable degree, and both in public and private matters was true to every trust that was reposed in his hands. As his record as a legislator was without a blemish so was his private life without stain. Therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives take this occasion to express its high regard and appreciation of his character and public services, and at this time extend to his family its sincere sympathy in their sorrow; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the Journal of the House and that the chief clerk be directed to send an engrossed copy to the family of the deceased.

HON. JOHN HOMRIGHAUS.

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee appointed to draft proper resolutions of respect in honor of the Honorable John Homrighaus, a former member of this body, respectfully submit the following:

The Honorable John Homrighaus was born November 16, 1844, in Tuscarawas county, Ohio, of German parents. In 1850 he was brought by his parents to Cook county, Illinois, where he received his education in the public schools. In 1863 he moved to Iowa and settled in Bremner county, where he has ever since resided. He was engaged as a contractor and builder and was also the proprietor of a wagon and blacksmith shop. In 1872 he retired from business on account of health; and made an extensive visit to Germany and other European countries. On his return to Iowa he engaged in farming. He was justice of the peace for six years. In 1880 he read law and 1882 was elected county supervisor. In 1888 he was elected state representative from his county to the Iowa legislature and in this the Twenty-second General Assembly he introduced and carried through three important bills, the insurance bill, a revenue bill, and a bill to enhance the usefulness of the Iowa agricultural college. During this Assembly he was chairman of the agricultural committee, a member of the committee on ways and means, committee on elections and compensation of public officers and one of the committee on representative districts. He received the re-election to the Twenty-fifth General Assembly, and while a member of that House he introduced the oleomargarine bill which became a law that is of inestimable value to the farmers of this state. This is one of the most important bills passed by that legislature and Mr. Homrighaus received much honorable mention at the time as he had solved in a simple way a problem that had been perplexing the friends of the dairy interests for many years. This Iowa law was immediately copied by other states and finally adopted as a federal statute, applying to every section of the country.

In 1896 he traveled through the south and west of the United States and on his return engaged in the mercantile business in Denver, Iowa. Here he was instrumental in having an electric railroad built connecting his town with Waverly and Waterloo. He helped to organize the bank of his town and also helped to organize the Janesville savings bank and later was instrumental in various other financial and industrial corporations.

For a number of years prior to his death he served his town as mayor, in which position he led and gave inspiration to various movements for the moral and material advancement of his community. During his administration a system of water works was inaugurated and his last effort for the civic advancement was to secure the electric lighting of his town.

During the early part of his manhood Mr. Homrighaus affiliated with the republican party but in 1888 he joined hands with Horace Boies and other prominent republicans in repudiating that party on account of its attitude on the liquor question. The passage of the McKinley tariff law still further divorced him from his early political preference, and ever afterwards he devoted himself to the success of the democratic party, giving its principles and its candidates the same zealous support and championship that marked his energies in whatever direction they were turned. Though in the later years of his life he persistently declined the political honors that his party associates frequently sought to confer upon him, he never faltered in his zeal in behalf of democracy, and he was serving as chairman of the county committee at the time of his death.

As a pioneer in the movement that resulted in the establishment of cooperative farmers mutual fire insurance companies throughout Iowa and the application of his splendid mind to the subject of such organization, made his opinions of high worth to those similarly interested. In recognition of his equipment in this regard he was chosen to serve the Iowa mutual insurance associations as its president in 1910-1911, and he also served this organization as a member of its legislative committee for a number of years, during which many of his practical ideas were embraced in our insurance laws.

Mr. Homrighaus was married in 1867 to Miss Sophia Platte, who died in 1871. In 1873 he was again married, Miss Eliza H. Ottman of Palatia being the companion of his choice and his present bereaved widow. Other surviving relatives are his brother, Christine of Galveston, Texas, his sister, Mrs. Marie Boeserm and his sister-in-law, Miss Laura Dammerman, all of Denver.

Mr. Homrighaus was identified with various fraternal organizations, including the Masonic Order, the Knights of Pythias, and the Modern Woodmen of America, and was a member of the Lutheran Church.

The death of this splendid man occurred at his home in Denver on Wednesday, April 24, 1912, following an illness of several weeks and his death is a distinct loss to the state of Iowa and thus recognized by all who are familiar with the measure of his splendid service in matters of statecraft and his exalted example of true American citizenship. Now, therefore be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Thirty-fifth General Assembly that an engrossed transcript of this memorial be furnished to the family of the deceased and a copy thereof be spread upon the Journal of the House.

HON. LEWIS FORDYCE.

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee appointed to draft and present resolutions commemorating the life, character, and services of the Honorable Lewis Fordyce, late a member of the House of Representatives in the Fourth and Twentieth General Assemblies, beg leave to submit the following report:

Lewis Fordyce was born in Wabash county, Illinois, November 5, 1820. At the age of seventeen he came with his parents to Lee county, Iowa, and two years later to Van Buren county. In 1845 he returned to Lee county where he was united in marriage to Miss Maisy Newby on March 27, 1846. Had Mr. Fordyce lived only three days longer, he and the bride of his young manhood would have celebrated their sixty-sixth anniversary. Eight sons were born to them, five of whom together with the wife and mother still survive. The family moved to Jefferson county in 1872 and resided on the farm near Libertyville until the time of Mr. Fordyce's death.

Mr. Fordyce was chosen to represent Van Buren county in the Fourth General Assembly. He was again chosen to represent the county of Jefferson in the Twentieth General Assembly. He was a broad-minded man and believed that the christian citizen (as he was) should interest himself in whatever concerned the state and so as a member of the General Assembly he was faithful and devoted in his services to the state and the people of his county.

He became a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church at the age of twenty-seven and remained a faithful member of the same until called to join the church triumphant. In 1857 he was ordained a minister and became a member of the Iowa conference, which he served as secretary for thirty years. As a pioneer preacher he had much to do with the organization of many church societies and while some have passed into history, many others still live and bless his memory. In the hearts of his neighbors and acquaintances his memory is revered as a faithful Christian, a true friend, and an inspiration to a purer and nobler life.

March 24, 1912, Mr. Fordyce passed away, having passed the ninety-second "mile stone", which marks the years along life's journey. There was left to mourn his departure the wife who has shared all his joys and burdens, and from whom he is separated for only a little while, and five sons. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That in his death the state has lost a most worthy citizen, a conscientious and an honorable man, and we hereby extend our sympathy to the surviving family who have lost a devoted husband and father, and be it further

Resolved, That the chief clerk is instructed to send an engrossed copy of these resolutions to the surviving wife and family, and that the same be spread upon the Journal of the House.

HON. ANTON HANSMAN.

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions commemorating the life, character and public services of the Honorable Anton Hansman, of Clinton county, late member of the House, beg leave to report the following memorial:

Anton Hansman was born in Baden, Germany, June 9, 1835, and died at his home at De Witt, Iowa, Sunday March 16, 1913, at the age of seventy-seven years. On May 3, 1862, he was married to Miss Margaret Sophy, who with four children survive him.

Mr. Hansman was elected to the lower house from Clinton county Iowa, as a member of the Twenty-seventh General Assembly, and was re-elected as a member of the Twenty-eighth General Assembly, and within these walls he manifested at all times his strong principles of manhood and his true loyalty and devotion to the teachings of his sainted mother.

In politics Mr. Hansman was an uncompromising democrat, but at the same time over and above all a lover of his country and its institutions for which he constantly believed his party stood sponsor. Though a farmer by occupation he was always interested in public affairs and held many offices of trust in his community and was careful and painstaking in the discharge of his duties of each. Faithful to every obligation, loyal to his friends, contributing to the happiness of others he was accorded the gratitude of a wide circle of acquaintances. His home life was commendable to a degree that he was a good husband, a kind and indulgent father and ever on the alert for the welfare of his family. Mr. Hansman was a man who was loved and respected by all who knew him. He was an active member of the Roman Catholic Church and took an interest in all matters pertaining to the welfare of that organization. So the good man died as he lived, quietly, simply, the smile of good nature upon his face. He died among the scenes he loved, his home. Be it therefore

Resolved, That we as a legislative body, members of the House of the Thirty-fifth General Assembly, bow our heads on this occasion with a deep sense of the states loss over a statesman and a guiding hand and our grief over the loss of a fellow citizen who was so summarily taken from our midst and that we extend to the stricken and mourning wife and children our deep and sincere sympathy, and as they sit by the fireside in their home in ashes of deep affliction, we would convey to them a message of consolation so true and sincere as to touch the deepest chords of their natures, and enable them to realize that in such depths of sadness the whole state is kin. And that all our people bow with them in the great loss that has come to us all in the death of Anton Hansman. Be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the Journal of the House, and that the chief clerk transmit an engrossed copy thereof to the family of the deceased.

HON. MAHLON HARVEY.

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions commemorating the life, character and public services of the Honorable Mahlon Harvey, of Rochester, Minnesota, late member of the House, beg leave to report the following memorial:

Mahlon Harvey was born in Potsdam, St. Lawrence county, New York, August 26, 1844 (his parents being born in the same county). He received his education in the schools of Potsdam and Canton, taught school for some time, then learned the art of cheese-making in his early twenties which he followed during the summer seasons until he came to Iowa, Osceola county, in the spring of 1874, where he settled on his present farm near Sibley. Was secretary of the school board in his township for thirty years, and for six years was a member of the board of township trustees; elected representative in 1906, re-elected in 1908 and 1910; was a republican in politics.

An old-time friend and neighbor said of him "indeed he was a diamond in the rough, all the brightness of his nature slightly concealed by a thin crust which only needed a little human suffering to reveal it in all its beauty." He was found to be simply honest, truthful and conscientious, tributes of which his friends were proud.

He passed from this life at Rochester, Minnesota, on December 21, 1912, and was buried at Sibley, Iowa, on December 24, 1912.

Resolved, That, in token of our appreciation of his well spent life, this brief sketch be spread on the Journal of the House and that the chief clerk be directed to forward an engrossed copy of these resolutions to the family of the decedent.

HON. HENRY B. MITCHELL.

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee appointed to prepare resolutions commemorating the life and work of the Honorable H. B. Mitchell, late of Fairfield, Iowa, beg leave to report as follows:

Henry Blake Mitchell was born in Claremont, New Hampshire, on July 5, 1818. He was reared on a farm, and having lost his father at the age of fourteen thereafter was left to make his own way in the world. Having reached the years of his majority, and attracted by the allurements of the west, he left his native state and journeyed by wagon to Troy, New York, then by canal to Buffalo across the state of Ohio, then down the Ohio river and up the Mississippi to Keokuk. In 1840 he came to Jefferson County and located on a farm near Fairfield, where he and his brother, Thomas, afterward a pioneer of Polk County, builded a cabin, the first house west of Fairfield.

October 26th, 1847, deceased was united in marriage to Maria Elizabeth Tool in Jasper County. For more than sixty years these two shared life's joys and responsibilities. To them were born ten children. Mrs. Mitchell died about three years before the death of Mr. Mitchell.

Mr. Mitchell was always interested in state and national affairs. He served as a member of the House in the Fourth General Assembly, being the first Whig ever so chosen, and it is thought his death removes from earth the last survivor of the membership of the Fourth General Assembly, which Assembly was the last to meet at Iowa City before the Capitol was removed to Des Moines. For seventeen years he was president of the Fairfield Township School Board. He was for nine years a member of the Jefferson County Board of Supervisors, eight of which he held the place of Chairman. In 1886 he was again elected to membership in the House of Representatives and was elected Temporary Speaker.

Mr. Mitchell was one of the founders of the Iowa State Agricultural Society, which held its first two fairs at Fairfield. He also helped organize the Jefferson County Fair Association and was for fifteen years its president. A man of the highest integrity, he was also one of the most useful men the community, where his home was so long, has known. To those who were less fortunate than himself he was always a friend. His counsel was always sought when good advice was needed. He passed from this earth at the home of his daughter, Mrs. U. B. Rogers, at Fairfield, Iowa, June 2, 1912. He carried with him the esteem of every man with whom he had transactions of any kind, for he did his utmost to make life worth living for those about him.

Resolved, That the House of Representatives directs that a memorial be entered on its records, attesting our appreciation of the man, and while the mournful fact is presented to us of his departure from earth, yet there is a measure of gratification that one so well deserving our commendation was so long permitted to remain to bless the community and state; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy hereof duly attested be transmitted to the family of the departed pioneer.

HON. DAVID J. PATTEE.

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions commemorating the life, character and public services of the Honorable David J. Pattee of Okoboji, Iowa, a late member of the House of Representatives, begs leave to report the following memorial:

David J. Pattee was born December 22, 1839, in the county of Chittenden, state of Vermont, and died at his summer home at Okoboji, Iowa, July 19, 1912, at the age of seventy-three years. He was educated in the public schools of Vermont in his native county of Chittenden, afterward clerking in a store until a call for troops to preserve the union came, and David answered the call, as had his ancestors in the war of the Revolution. The young man enlisted in the Ninth Vermont, and took part in the battles of that regiment, being captured at Harper's Ferry. While on parole he was discharged for disability. He then came to Des Moines, where he again took a position as clerk. While here he again entered the military service, this time in the Forty-seventh Iowa. Shortly after his re-enlistment he was made Lieutenant and later Captain of his company. Upon his return from the army he became a partner in the business where he had been clerking, and where his position had been kept open for him while he was serving his country.

In 1867 he went to the new town of Perry, where he engaged in the mercantile business, and afterwards the realty and loan business, and in 1883 in company with another he opened a private bank. Later the firm purchased the controlling interest in the First National Bank of Perry, and he became President, a position which he held until the last.

After serving as Supervisor of the county a year, Mayor of the city three years and Postmaster thirteen years, Captain Pattee was elected in 1883 and 1885 to the House of Representatives. He was Chairman of Municipal Corporations and a member of several other important committees. Mr. Pattee was an active member. It is said of him by those who ought to be familiar with his work that no man has done more for the town where he lives than Captain Pattee. In 1903 he gave to the city a tract of twenty acres for a park.

When death came the city felt his loss keenly, and on the day of his funeral nearly every business house in the city was closed during the services, and everywhere there seemed to be a feeling that the community had sustained a great loss.

Captain Pattee was married in 1872 to Miss Belle Moore, daughter of Mr. John H. Moore, also a pioneer of the town of Perry. They were the parents of six children, one of whom with the mother passed away before the father. Therefore be it

Resolved, That in the death of David J. Pattee the state and nation has been called upon to mourn the departure of a worthy, upright citizen, a great statesman and an honorable man; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be printed in the Journal of the House.

HON. THOMAS A. THORNBURG.

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions commemorating the life, character and public services of the Honorable Thomas A. Thornburg, of Linden, Iowa, a late member of the House of Representative, begs leave to report the following memorial:

Thomas A. Thornburg was born in Wayne county, Indiana, April 9, 1847, and died at his home in Linden, Dallas county, Iowa, July 1, 1912, at the age of sixty-five.

In 1856 he came with his parents to the county of Dallas where he was reared on a farm. He attended the local district school, also afterward entered the state university, while attending that institution he entered the forty-sixth Iowa volunteers, serving until the close of the regiment's term of service.

At the age of nineteen years, because of his father's impaired health, he took charge of the home farm, and for more than a third of a century he was an extensive buyer and shipper of live stock.

In 1887 and 1889 he was elected to the General Assembly, as a member of the House of Representatives; while occupying a seat in this body he was chairman of the committees on agriculture and the agricultural college, and a member of several other important committees including railroads and transportation, and roads and highways.

He was a man of enterprise and public spirit and was exceptionally successful in business, which diffused itself throughout the community of his home. He was also active in church work and fraternal circles.

It was well said of him, while he was yet in life, "He is the same honorable gentleman, whose well worth merits the high regard which is uniformly given him."

In 1871 he was married to Miss Jennie, daughter of Simon H. Vestal, and to them were born six children.

Mr. Thornburg was a high-minded statesman. Enduring public good was his aim. Things temporary had little attraction for him. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That in the death of Thomas A. Thornburg, the state and nation has been called upon to mourn the departure of a worthy, upright citizen, a great statesman, and an honorable man; and, be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be printed in the Journal of the House.

HON. LEONARD PARKER.

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions commemorative of the life, public services and character of Honorable Leonard Parker, a former member of the House, respectfully submits the following:

Professor Leonard Fletcher Parker, a valued member of the Twelfth General Assembly, died at Grinnell, December 11, 1911, aged eighty-six. He was a native of the state of New York, where he was born August 3, 1825. He was of puritan and revolutionary stock. Both parents were born at Lowell, Massachusetts, and among his ancestors were early officials of the town of Concord, where the war of the revolution began.

Left fatherless at the age of only four years, he was reared on the little farm where he was born, getting the ordinary schooling of the locality. When about of age he went to Oberlin, where he was graduated in 1851. During a part of his career at that college, he was tutor as well as student. Leaving there, he contemplated entering the missionary field, but failing health, which it was feared was before long to terminate fatally, caused him to abandon what to him was a cherished ambition. After teaching for three years at Brownsville, Pa., he came to Grinnell in 1856, where he taught a preparatory school, which he was enabled to attach to Iowa College (now Grinnell College) when that institution was removed to that town in 1860. From that time until 1865, Mr. Parker was the virtual principal of the school, he and his wife being spoken of as "the life and light of the college." He continued to teach at the college until he accepted an invitation to take the chair of ancient languages at the State University. Meantime he was for four years the first county superintendent of the county, and also served as an officer in the Forty-sixth Iowa. In 1867 he was elected to the General Assembly where he at once took rank with the ablest of the body. As chairman of the committee on schools, he was especially valuable in guarding the interest of education in the state. He was also helpful in getting into the railroad grant, acts of that General Assembly the reservation to the legislature of power to fix rates of fare and freight on the road of the companies accepting the grants.

In 1869 he was again chosen superintendent of the common schools of the county. Next year he went to the state university where he occupied latterly, the chair of history. In the early years of his residence in Iowa, he had served as "trustee" of that institution. That was before the creation of the board of regents.

In 1887 he returned to Grinnell, where he took the chair of history. As an educator, Professor Parker stood in the highest rank. At a reception tendered him in the state of North Dakota, a judge of the supreme court of that state said this of him, "He had done more to enable student-life than any man I ever met." He gave to the world a "History of Poweshiek County," a work of much higher grade than most publications that are spoken of as county histories. His was also a valuable work on "Higher Education in Iowa."

In 1853 he was married to Miss Sarah Candace Pearse, his college classmate. To them were born five children, of whom four preceded their parents in death. The surviving one is Mrs. Harriet Parker Campbell, a graduate of our State University, as is also her husband, long chief justice of Colorado.

Professor Parker's devoted wife was called hence several years before her husband. Three years later he was united in marriage with Mrs. Nellie Greene Clarke, also a graduate of Oberlin, by whom he is survived.

Resolved, That the House of Representatives, while mourning the loss of such a man, cannot but feel a measure of gratification that the educational interests of Iowa have had the helpful constructive work of one who in his own career helped make the more true his own observation that "Iowa pioneers had a passion for education."

Resolved, That this memorial be entered on the Journal of this House as an expression of our appreciation of Iowa for one who was of so much service to her educational interests and that a copy hereof, duly attested, be transmitted to the family of Professor Parker.

HON. BENJAMIN F. KEABLES.

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee appointed to prepare and present proper resolutions of respect in honor of the Honorable Benjamin F. Keables, a member of this House in the Thirteenth and Fourteenth General Assemblies, who died at his residence in Pella, Iowa, on May 8, 1911, respectfully submit:

Benjamin Franklin Keables was born in Elba, Genesee county, New York, November 30, 1828, and moved with his parents to Jackson county, Michigan, in the year 1832.

At the age of nineteen he moved to Illinois, where for some years he was engaged in school teaching and at the same time studying medicine.

He afterwards moved to Keokuk, Iowa, and graduated from the Rush Medical College in that city.

In 1852 he moved to Pella and on February 24, 1853, was married to Sarah J. Scholte, daughter of Rev. H. P. Scholte, founder of the Holland Colony at Pella. He continued in the practice of medicine in the city of Pella up to within a short time prior to his death and attained high rank in his profession.

He enlisted in the Third Iowa Infantry in the War of the Rebellion and became surgeon of the regiment, which position he held till the regiment was mustered out.

He represented his county in this House in the Thirteenth and Fourteenth General Assemblies, in which he discharged his duties as a legislator with honor and fidelity, to the interest of the state and to the interests of his constituents.

He took a lively interest in the upbuilding of his town, and particularly in educational matters; was for a long time a member of the school board and for many years a member of the Board of Trustees of the Central University of Iowa located at Pella.

His life and character were such as won the respect and esteem of all who knew him—beloved by all for his usefulness in public and private life, his generous and kindly heart, his sterling integrity and uprightness of character; therefore, be it

Resolved, That this House take this occasion to express its high regard of his character and public service and extend to his family its sincere sympathy in their sorrow; and be it further

HON. SAMUEL H. MOORE.

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee appointed to prepare and present suitable resolutions respecting the life, character, and public service of the Honorable Samuel H. Moore, who represented Wayne county in the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth General Assemblies, beg leave to report the following:

The Honorable Samuel H. Moore, who represented the county of Wayne in this House in the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth General Assemblies, died at his home in Humeston, Iowa, August 20, 1912, aged sixty-six years. Mr. Moore was a native of the county of Greene, Pennsylvania, where he was born March 9, 1845. He remained at his home until in response to the country's call for men he entered the Eighty-fifth Pennsylvania Infantry whence he was transferred to the Eighty-eight. With that regiment he participated in many of the hard battles of the war as the struggle drew to a close. Returning home, he remained there until 1870, when he came to Iowa, settling in the county of Wayne. There he engaged in farming, gathering into his possession a large tract of land, well stocked with improved breeds of cattle.

He held repeatedly the local offices of township and school district as well as being for six years supervisor of the county. In 1892 he entered the General Assembly and at that legislature he introduced a bill and had it passed requiring owners of osage orange and other fences along the highway to keep them trimmed. The act as he framed it with few modifications, is substantially the law to-day on the subject. In both sessions he was on the committees on railroads, agriculture, and mines and mining and in 1894 was chairman of committee on claims. He was very watchful as to expenditures, repeatedly voting against appropriations and entering on the Journal his reasons for so acting. The embarrassed condition of the country's business seemed principally to enter into Mr. Moore's thought as to needed legislation. His was the course of a sincere man.

Mr. Moore was married in 1868 to Miss Martha Scott, daughter of Elias Scott, like himself a native of Pennsylvania. He is survived by his wife and son, D. Moore, of Humeston, and another son, W. T. Moore of Shamrock, Tenn., and one daughter, Mrs. J. W. Fisher of Centerville, Iowa.

Resolved, That in his death his family, to whom we extend our heartfelt sympathy, is deprived of a kind and affectionate husband and father, and the county and state of a worthy and loyal citizen, therefore be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the Journal of the House and the Chief Clerk instructed to mail an engrossed copy to the wife and children of the deceased.
