ELECTION OF SPEAKER

Scott of Fayette presented the name of Honorable Robert D. Blue, of Wright county, as candidate for Speaker of the House of Representatives, preceding such nomination with the following remarks:

Mr. Chairman and Members of the House:

"I wish at this time to place in nomination for speaker of the House of Representatives a man who needs no introduction to the older members of the House. It is to you new members then that I wish to direct the greater part of my remarks.

I believe that I can truthfully speak for every legislator who is present here today who has served or associated with this man in any line of duty, when I say that he has not only served the State of Iowa to the best of his ability but has always been eager and willing to help others solve their problems, whatever they might be.

This man represents to me and I am sure to all who know him a man of unquestionable character, a typical young American who has started from the bottom and worked his way step by step to the place where he is today.

He attended Eagle Grove High School and was graduated with honors from the Drake University of Law in 1922.

Two years after entering private practice at Eagle Grove he was elected County Attorney—a position held until 1931.

In 1934 he was elected as State Representative from Wright County and is now serving in his fourth General Assembly.

For the past two sessions he has been Republican floor leader and in this position his character and ability have constantly proved to be of the very best.

He has shown his faith in the future of agriculture by acquiring several hundred acres of Iowa land which is operated under his personal supervision.

It gives me great pleasure to place in nomination for Speaker of the House of Representatives, for the Forty-ninth General Assembly, the name of the Honorable Robert D. Blue of Eagle Grove.

Heffner of Hamilton seconded the nomination of Robert D. Blue for Speaker of the House, preceding his seconding with the following remarks:

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House of Representatives:

As far back as we have history of government among men, we find evidence of what is known as leadership in the life of groups of individuals and in the life of states and of nations. Government must have leadership. Great leaders are born, not made.

In the candidate we are presenting to you today as a nominee for the office of Speaker of this House, we offer you a man of recognized exceptional ability and outstanding personal qualities. During his business and professional life in the community in which he lives, and in his years of notable service to our state as a member of this body, he has proved his worth as a man; his ability as a statesman; and his trustworthiness as a leader.

It is, therefore, a privilege and an honor to second the nomination of the Honorable Robert D. Blue of Wright county for the high office of Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Great Commonwealth of Iowa, now in its forty-ninth regular session assembled.

Alesch of Plymouth presented the name of Honorable Walter Dietz of Scott county as candidate for speaker of the House of Representatives, preceding such nomination with the following remarks:

Mr. Speaker, Members of the House:

I wish to present to you a man of the minority party as candidate for Speaker of the House. This has been strictly a partisan issue in the past and is a partisan issue today.

In the last ten years we had two radical changes in our administrations. In 1932 dissatisfied Republicans helped elect a Democratic administration for the first time in the history of our state and helped keep them in office for two succeeding elections. In 1938 for one reason or another those same voters repudiated the Democratic administration and put into power the Republican party. The Democratic members elected at the same election for the legislature, in caucus, agreed to submit gracefully to the victory of the Republican party and agreed to sit quietly by and watch the actions of the Republicans in power and fully agreed to support all clean and constructive legislation by the Republicans 100%.

Last November the voters of our state re-elected all Republican candidates for state offices and enough members to the legislature to have a large majority in both houses of the legislature. In caucus yesterday, we came to the same conclusion as we did two years ago.

But looking over the records we find that the Republicans have not carried out some of their campaign pledges and some of their planks in their platform and we Democrats insist that they carry out their campaign pledges and their platform. We Democrats in the legislature have not and are not asking for anything and we do not expect anything and so we cannot be disappointed if we are ignored, but we will not let the party in power now ignore the 546,000 Democrats who voted the Democratic state ticket in our state last fall.

We Democrats pledge ourselves to support the party in power now and to help make this the most constructive legislature in the history of our state.

I will present to you the name of a man for speaker of the House. This man doesn't need an introduction to the old members of the House, but for the benefit of the new members, I will say that his integrity and his ability cannot be questioned. He is a successful farmer, a keen student of public affairs and he is not controlled by anybody. This man is Walter Dietz of Scott county.

Eckerman of Scott seconded the nomination of Mr. Dietz.

Browner of Polk also seconded the nomination of Mr. Dietz.

Dietz

Dietz of Scott moved that the election of Hon. Robert D. Blue as Speaker of the House be made unanimous. Motion prevailed.

In accordance with the above motion, Hon. Robert D. Blue, of Wright county, having received all of the votes cast for the office of Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Forty-ninth General Assembly, was declared duly elected to that office.

Wilson of Calhoun moved that a committee of two be named to escort the Speaker to the chair. Motion prevailed and the following committee was named: Wilson of Calhoun and Burns of Lyon.

Mr. Blue was escorted to the Speaker's station and, after taking the oath of his office, assumed the chair and made the following remarks:

Members of the Forty-ninth General Assembly:

I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart for the high honor which you have conferred upon me; not only upon me, but upon the members of my family and the people of Wright county who sent me here to represent them. It is not only an honor, but a grave responsibility in this day when the governments of the world are tottering and democratic government everywhere is being challenged by the monster called dictatorship whose philosophy is "that might makes right".

I say to you that it is as important for you and me as members of the Forty-ninth General Assembly to demonstrate to the people of Iowa and to the world that democracy can work, as it is for the Congress of the United States or the Parliament of Great Britain to do so.

One by one the lights of liberty throughout the world are going out. Today the United States is the only great democratic nation in the world where the civil liberties of the individual citizen such as the right of franchise, the right of free speech, the right to worship God as one pleases, which is not at war or has not been crushed by the iron heel of the dictator's boot.

The vision of human freedom and the freeing of the human soul from its primeval bondage is the greatest vision which has ever appeared upon the horizon of mankind.

The battle for human freedom, for the liberation of the human soul is centuries old. The battle of freedom has been in the past, is now and always will be, the most noble battle in which mankind may fight.

About a century and a half ago, the oppressed people of Europe found refuge from political and religious persecution here in America. They left the social security of comfortable homes in old England and elsewhere in Europe to build new homes in a wilderness peopled with savages; to suffer the privations and hardships of pioneer life in order that they might find for themselves and their children freedom of thought, freedom of religion, freedom of speech, freedom to live their own lives and to be the masters of their own souls.

And so today while Europe is filled with concentration camps, here in America one may oppose the party or person in power without fear of reprisal. Although the contest for the speakership has been keen, and the rivalry strong, I believe that there are no bitter feelings in the hearts or minds of any of the competitors in this race. I want to assure each and every one of you in this House that there will be no reprisals of any kind.

The task which lies ahead of us is great. The future is obscured by the clouds of a terrific conflict, toward which it seems we are moving ever closer. The course we must follow is charted in the preamble of the Constitution of the United States. Let us one and all, to the best of our ability, conduct ourselves during this session so as to "establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity."

Let us constantly strive in our each and every act to perform our duty with malice toward none and with charity toward all. Let us each and every one guard the light of liberty as we would our own immortal soul.

On motion of Bockwoldt of Ida, Mrs. Blue was also escorted to the speaker's rostrum.

Speaker Blue in the chair.

PERMANENT CHIEF CLERK

Burma of Butler moved that A. C. Gustafson be made permanent Chief Clerk of the House. Motion prevailed and A. C. Gustafson was declared elected permanent Chief Clerk.

ADOPTION OF TEMPORARY RULES

Claypool of Iowa moved that the rules of the House of Representatives of the Forty-eighth General Assembly be in full force and effect until the adoption of the report of the committee of rules. Motion prevailed.

COMMITTEE ON EFFICIENCY

Speaker Blue named an efficiency committee, preceding his announcement with the following statement:

"In previous sessions of the Legislature a delay has occurred during the time the Legislature was getting organized, and before the standing committees were appointed and ready to report bills out to the House.

A further delay has been occasioned because the various departments of State Government have not prepared bills necessary to correct difficulties arising out of the administration of laws.

"In order to meet this situation, a committee was appointed prior to the convening of the Legislature which has been rather aptly designated as an efficiency committee.

"This committee has performed a valuable service to the State of Iowa. At their own expense, they have taken time from their own business to meet prior to the convening of the Legislature. They have consulted with the various departments of State Government and now have in their hands more than one hundred bills suggested by different departments of our government. They have studied these bills and are ready to report a number of these bills out to the House for the consideration of the House when the House is ready to go to work on them. There is not a single private bill among the list suggested to the committee. It is my hope that this committee, upon its appointment, will convene this afternoon and prepare a calendar of non-controversial measures to be considered for the consideration of the House at the earliest possible date. In appointing this committee I want to assure the members of the House that this committee will not set itself up as a super-steering committee and that as soon as the standing committees have been organized and prepared a calendar for the consideration of the House, that the special calendar prepared by this committee will be dispensed with and the bills remaining upon it which are not acted upon, will be re-referred to the standing committees of the House. The work of this committee in procuring these bills from the different departments will save a great deal of time and expedite the work of this Assembly greatly. The early preparation of a calendar for your consideration will save further time. It gives me great pleasure to appoint the following efficiency committee:

Gregory of Dallas, chairman, Claypool of Iowa, Long of Clinton, Graft of Mahaska, Prentis of Ringgold, Miller of Humboldt, Butterfield of Blackhawk, Lucas of Taylor, Avery of Clay, Shimanek of Jones, Dvorak of Tama, Scott of Fayette, Keeney of Palo Alto, Poston of Wayne and Yager of Dickinson.

President Hickenlooper announced a quorum present and the joint convention duly organized.

Weichman of Benton moved that a committee of six consisting of three members from the Senate and three members from the House, be appointed to notify the Governor that the Convention was ready to receive him. Motion prevailed and the President appointed: Evans of Mills, Hart of Lee and Lynes of Bremer on the part of the Senate, and Claypool of Iowa, Nelson of Woodbury and Hall of Mills on the part of the House.

The committee waited upon the Governor and escorted him to the Speaker's station.

President Hickenlooper then presented Governor George A. Wilson who delivered the following message:

GOVERNOR WILSON'S MESSAGE

TO THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE FORTY-NINTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY:

Greetings and congratulations to you all. My greetings to you for the evident spirit of earnestness with which I know you are entering upon your important public duties. My congratulations to you for the opportunity that has come to you for real service to your community, your State and your Nation. You have been elected by the people of Iowa to be their representatives for the performance of a duty of importance to all of us. They look to you with confidence. They will be proud of your accomplishments and will applaud your work.

Because Iowa is a very influential part of the world's greatest republican system of self government, you of the Legislative branch have before you an opportunity seldom faced by any body of officials. Never before has it been so important that we contribute only good to the cause of freedom as upheld by our united Nation. We can help by a sound and sensible program within the limited borders of our own state.

A wholehearted determination on the part of all to maintain unimpaired our system of government by the people must be ours. We need here, as in every place where government by the will of the people prevails, unity of purpose in all that pertains to the public welfare. If we bear this in mind, we will in a small way, show our appreciation for the sacrifices of our forefathers in handing down to us the best form of government ever devised.

In the accomplishment of this high purpose, to which you and I, all of us in places of responsibility are committed, I pledge you my best efforts. The task before us is a plain, hard job, calling for the best that is in all of us, but we can make it lighter all around by a wholesome spirit of cooperation and tolerance.

It is the requirement of the Constitution of Iowa that the chief executive "shall communicate, by message, to the General Assembly, at every regular session, the condition of the State and recommend such matters as he shall deem expedient."

The Constitution further requires a report to the General Assembly of each case of reprieve, commutation or pardon granted, which has been dealt with in a separate report which will shortly be upon your desks. Such actions have been taken with due regard to the public interest and the circumstances of the individual case, and in accordance with the recommendations of the Board of Parole, or of the Judge of the District Court, the County Attorney responsible for the prosecution, and the Sheriff.

BUDGET

It is not necessary that I here go into detail relative to the appropriations for the biennium, for with the assistance of the Comptroller, there has been laid upon your desks a complete budget, giving to you our judgment of the amount of money necessary to be expended to maintain the efficiency of the various departments and adequately take care of the essential demands, insofar as they may be anticipated.

It is our deliberate opinion that consideration should be given to the needs of these departments before any other expenditures be authorized by the Assembly. It is our hope that the Legislature will take up immediately for consideration, through your committees and by action of the respective branches of the Assembly, these appropriation bills. If this is done, I know you will agree with me that the functions during the latter period of the session will proceed more smoothly, and the askings and needs of all departments will receive more thorough consideration.

Any material increase in one department, must be taken from another, or the revenues of the state must be increased by additional taxes, and I know that you agree with me that the crying need of today is not more taxes. We must not permit ourselves, however, to make expenditures without accepting the responsibility to levy taxes to meet such expenditures. To do otherwise, is unfair to the generations yet to come and most certainly will, if continued for any considerable duration, result in embarrassing deficits or worse and possible liquidation. Iowa can and should proceed upon a pay-as-you-go basis in the matter of current expenditures for operation of the state government.

ECONOMY

I am aware of the difficulty many have of understanding or appreciating the savings that have been accomplished by bringing under the budget system a number of important departments whose expenditures had not previously been subject to the scrutiny of the legislative authority. It is not a jugglery of bookkeeping, as some have been led to believe, but a genuine step for economy that ought easily to be understood.

In the interests of the taxpayers of the State, it may be pointed out that a consistent record of economy has been achieved as a result of the suggestion of two years ago and of the action of the last session of the Legislature in requiring departments heretofore having no control to be budgeted for the first time. I need not remind you that a total reduction of annual expenditures by $1,550,000 was achieved by this step.

Inclusion in the appropriations bill, or budget, means only that such departments, instead of paying their administrative expenditures from fees, or a percentage of fees collected, must come to the Legislature, the elected representatives of the people, and make a showing as to the amount essential for such expenditures. The Legislature then determines their necessities. This is but representative government.

Certain other departments of state are not yet under the budget. May I suggest that you give careful consideration to the end that all departments of the government be brought under the same control and requirements as to administrative costs. If this be done, a further economy and savings to the taxpayers can be had as a result.

CAPITAL EXPENDITURES

By proper action of the last Legislature, you requested the Legislative Committee on Retrenchment and Reform, and the Executive Council, to make investigation and to report as to the building needs of our state institutions and departments.

You will have before you the report and recommendations of the Legislative Committee for a program of building both at the Capitol and at the various institutions.

I most heartily agree with many of the recommendations relative to the state institutions, and if the proposals on which the committee reported were the only ones which require expenditure for state money, perhaps I could join in the recommendation of all. Other departments and functions of State, however, must be taken into consideration. In brief, I say to you that in my considered judgment the amounts recommended in the budget are such as will substantially take care of the immediate institutional needs.

The Legislative Committee and the Executive Council caused a survey to be made relative to the building of an office building on the State House grounds. A copy of such report, together with blue prints, will be placed before you. I am firmly convinced that the efficiency and economy of government can be increased by having all departments housed upon the State House grounds.

The tragic conflict prevailing in the old world and the continued dislocation of our national economy have forced upon us a revised consideration of our own needs. While the funds are available to build a building on the State House grounds, I would suggest that the Assembly give careful study to the trend upward of construction costs, the absorption of both labor and material in the national defense program, and other factors involved. If, after such inquiry, it should appear to you that it would be advantageous to postpone the erection, I would strongly recommend that the funds now available be held intact.

COMPTROLLER

Confusion exists as to changes that have been effected in recent years in the handling of state finances. It is difficult to determine the facts about state income and expenditures. Even those who are skilled in financial matters and familiar with accounting systems often differ as to their conclusions.

From time to time there has been adopted for one department or another modern accounting systems, but there has not always been co-ordination; and it is now time to give attention to the whole problem and to provide for a uniform and simple form of accounting and a uniform way of conducting public business.

I recommend immediate installation at the State House and all departments of state of an adequate system of bookkeeping and accounting, simplified so that all can understand, and permitting and requiring the presentation of information, at stated intervals, which will readily give the picture of the income and disbursements of the state.

The office of the State Comptroller has been charged by law with duties pertaining to the control of state expenditures, and the preparation of the budget for each forthcoming biennium, efforts which in the interest of economy and efficiency are worthy of eternal vigilance.

It would be proper, and would tend greatly to efficiency in the existing control, to vest the Comptroller with the functions of supervising state accounting and conducting the audit of state departments, other than his own. The duties are one, yet there is separation which has caused duplication of effort and loss of efficiency.

CENTRAL PURCHASING AGENT

Control of the purchase of materials and equipment for the use of the State is now vested in widely scattered personnel and departments. The advantages of central purchasing are obvious, and have been favorably accepted in many other states. I would therefore recommend your earnest consideration of the creation of the office of Central Purchasing Agent, under the Executive Council, to coordinate and combine the purchases of the various departments, and to obtain for the State and the taxpayer a resultant lowering of costs.

DEPARTMENT REPORTS

The department reports are for the information of the public now or in the future. These reports should be so prepared that they may be easily understood and be of real interest. Some of them are needless—long, complicated, obscured by statistics or deficient in important facts.

There is, in some cases, costly duplication of material. An overhauling of the whole is due.

Responsibility for preparation of these reports necessarily rests with officials and employes who are chosen for their skill and ability in fields other than printing and journalism. I suggest the attention of the Legislature to the wisdom of causing these reports to be prepared with the counsel and advice of some proper and competent authority in the field of editing of documents.

CAR DISPATCHER

Under legislation advantageous to the interest of the State, there was established in 1939 the office of State Car Dispatcher. There is available to you for study the results of this enactment, and it will suffice to say here that there has been removed from the road no less than 82 motor vehicles formerly operated at State expense, and a general reduction of costs in other respects.

Additional savings can be accomplished by strengthening and broadening the scope of the law. I recommend that the subject receive the full consideration of the proper committees of the Legislature.

INSURANCE PREMIUM TAX

The last session of the Legislature transferred from the Insurance Commissioner to the Tax Commission the collection of the tax upon premium income of insurance companies. As a result the Tax Commission must go to the Insurance Department to get the data, thereby necessitating duplication of this work. This should be transferred back to the Insurance Department and the tax should be made payable as of January 1st of each year.

LICENSES AND COMMISSIONS

Licenses for drivers of motor vehicles, issued for a two-year period, expire on July 5, 1941. When it is considered that more than 1,000,000 licenses expire on the same date, it is clear that at the renewal period there is required numerous additional temporary employes, with resultant congestion.

It would appear that licenses could be made valid for a period of two years from the date of issuance, and licenses already issued could be staggered as to date of expiration. By so doing, the regular employes can handle the work and the congestion be relieved without lessening the effectiveness of the law.

A similar situation exists with reference to nearly 13,000 notaries public in the State, all of whose commissions expire on July 4, 1942. There is involved the seeming injustice confronting a person desiring to become a notary public during the latter stages of the term, and who obtains a commission good only for a short duration, and there is also the administrative difficulty that renewals must be handled by a temporary staff.

INVENTORY

The State is owner of a large amount of property, the absence of inventory of which is not in line with good procedure. Each and every department of state should be required to make an inventory of all property and equipment had, owned or used by it, in such manner and under such rules as may be adopted by the Executive Council. Once each year a copy of such inventory should be furnished to the Executive branch of the government. The heads of each department should be responsible for such supplies and equipment.

STATE GUARD

Under the terms of the Act entitled Public Resolution Number 96 of the 76th Congress, approved August 27, 1940, the National Guard of Iowa has received orders under which it will be temporarily removed from within the borders of the State and placed into the Federal Service for a period of at least one year.

It is therefore suggested that early attention be given to the problem of providing for the duties properly and worthily discharged by the personnel of the Guard when within the State. Measures should be enacted which will enable the Commander-in-Chief to organize home guards in the number and at such times as may be considered, with due regard to the circumstances involved, to be necessary.

SOIL CONSERVATION

Conservation and improvement of the soil resources of our land which nature favored so well, and the restoration of destroyed lands, together with the prevention and checking of soil erosion, is of public importance. We are the temporary custodians; the basic wealths belong to our children as much as ourselves.

The last session of the Legislature passed a Soil Conservation Districts Act. The work thereunder is progressing satisfactorily. The bill needs clarifying and the members of the Commission will submit to you certain recommendations. These should receive your early consideration.

ADVANCEMENT OF RESOURCES

Two years ago when addressing the joint assembly, I called the assembly's attention to the necessity of advertising Iowa's resources and opportunities. At that time I said:

"We must campaign aggressively to recognize, preserve and advertise to the nation Iowa's resources and opportunities. Such effort is within the proper scope of governmental activity. Due to a lack of correlation, the many existing agencies not only do not work toward a common goal in development of the resources of our commonwealth, but are actually working at cross purpose, thereby eliminating definite benefits available through the activity of one agency. Our efforts must be organized and unified so that the maximum efficiency can be obtained."

I so believed then. I am more thoroughly convinced of the necessity now. I would recommend that the Legislature give to this prompt attention, formulating such laws as will bring the desired results.

TRADE PRACTICES

One result of the economic dislocations of recent years is the growing practice by merchants of selling, or offering to sell, merchandise at less than cost. Any legislation to correct this evil should not be in any sense discriminatory or price fixing. The question is submitted to you with the hope that you will give it your serious and earnest consideration, and attempt to relieve the practice which if continued, in my opinion, means bankruptcy, increased unemployment, and ruinous prices for the farmer and producer.

UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION

The Unemployment Compensation Commission is required, by law, to file a report annually, for the year ending December 31. This the Commission is unable to complete before the opening of the Legislature. We are, therefore, transmitting a preliminary report by the Commission which we trust will be helpful to the Legislature in its consideration of Unemployment Compensation statutes.

FARMSTEAD OWNERSHIP

The prosperity and glory of our country depend upon the number of people who are owners of homes. Around the fireside cluster the private and the public virtues of our people. We should raise our sons to be independent, to pursue some enterprise for themselves and upon their own account, to be self-reliant, to act upon their own responsibility, and to take consequences like men. We should teach them above all things to be good, true and honest husbands—winners of love, and builders of homes.

A state wherein each family owns its own homestead is the commonwealth we should keep for our ideal. In furtherance of this, may we report to you that under the law and by negotiation with the Insurance Companies, there has been accomplishment in the orderly liquidation of corporate holdings.

This program has resulted in the sale of 4,862 separate insurance company farms, an area greater than two Iowa counties, from April, 1939, until December 31, 1940. These farms averaged 154 acres. The average price was $81.00 per acre. Approximately 80 per cent of the sales were to tenant farmers on long time contracts at low interest rates.

DEVELOPMENT OF NEW INDUSTRIES

The State of Iowa has by no means reached the limit of its productive capacity. We have been producing surpluses in agricultural industry, in cereals, fruits, vegetables, livestock and all related things. We are capable of wresting from the soil still larger surpluses. The problem of how to make the best use of surpluses is one that we should be able to solve in such manner as to increase the marketable value of the surplus and at the same time create new industries with opportunities for more employment of labor. I recommend a reasonable appropriation for chemical research for the development of industries or uses for the surplus products of our farms and our mines. Iowa has a commanding position as a producer of real wealth and with our unequalled diversity of products we should utilize all to the very limit.

AID FOR THE NEEDY

The problem of aid for the needy is still one that we must recognize and seek to solve. In this as in other functions of the government all that we do should be predicated upon the principle of pay-as-you-go. The state has a duty in this connection, and Iowa has and always will give heed to that duty; but the primary responsibility for relief is upon the local subdivisions of government, where all the circumstances of the groups and individuals are best known. We cannot, and we must not, proceed upon the theory that measures for general relief such as are now necessary are to be permanent. Our relief work should be co-ordinated with effort to so enlarge industry that it will absorb all labor in private employment. In the meantime we should continue to entrust to local authorities the administration of relief funds, under proper supervision. To that end I recommend that the provisions of Section 2, Chapter 4, Acts of the 48th General Assembly be continued for another two years. This will approximate local control and local responsibility, and will secure more efficiency and economy and a more sympathetic administration.

EDUCATION

The perpetuation and success of the freedom of our people is predicated upon the teaching of the fundamentals of American citizenship and the cultivation of the abiding loyalties required in moral gains. Thus it follows naturally that schools are the bulwark of our government.

In these days of crisis, schools have an increasing role to play. They cannot perform their proper function if they are weakened through lack of support or equipment or if their teachers are not adequately trained, sustained, and made secure. The American system of republican self government requires education be kept going at full speed. Society places a heavy responsibility upon the teachers in the discharge of their obligation to protect and enrich the American way of life and our free government.

The whole point of view is that of the child. It is not that of the teachers as a class, but to safeguard and improve schools through adequate standards for entering the teaching profession, with the elimination of the unfit, protection through certain elements of tenure and continuing contract. Measures of this kind are but the insurance of the future of our schools.

In doing all of this, let us not forget that one of the fundamental principles to be kept steadfastly in mind is that the control of our educational institutions must be kept in the hands of the local communities.

School laws have accumulated through many years, and many sessions of the Legislature, thus resulting in unrelated statutes frequently in conflict and obscure in meaning. I suggest for your consideration that the changing character of our social organization, the trends and shifts of population, necessitate change and improvements in curriculum, teaching personnel, organization, and financing to permit the efficient operation of a school system that will accomplish objectives of society.

THE IOWA CENTENNIAL

The State of Iowa is now in its ninety-fifth year of statehood. Three years ago the people celebrated the territorial centennial by a great variety of events, staged in cities in the State, all having the general purpose of reminding our people of the passing of history and the accomplishments of Iowa people in the past century.

The centennial of statehood is still more significant and it will afford a good opportunity to make our people history-minded and conscious of the greatness of their own state and its interesting and instructive story. We are engaged in preserving the source and materials for that history at the State Capitol and have accumulated a vast amount of the public records, not only for daily use but for reference by the historians, and all this should form the basis for a year of celebration five years hence. I respectfully call your attention to this and suggest that the time is here for starting on a program for our centennial year. Committees of the Legislature should make a study of this subject.

CHILD WELFARE

There are, within the State, many children who, through circumstances not of their own making, have become dependent upon other than their immediate families for that support which is essential to their equal opportunities. These children command the sympathy of all right-thinking persons, and their needs are deserving of your careful inquiry.

SAFETY

The prevention of accidental loss of life, injury and property damage is a proper function of government. Many factors are involved, touching the fields of scientific inquiry, enforcement of law, and education.

Following the close of the last session of the Legislature, and to administer properly the appropriation voted for the purpose, there was appointed by me a Coordinating Committee composed of the State Commissioner of Public Safety, the President of the Iowa State Safety Council, and a citizen with a liberal training in safety.

The Coordinating Committee subsequently created what is known as the Governor's Safety Commission, a fact-finding advisory body composed of experts in the various professions related to the problems of safety.

The two groups, operating without expense to the State, have cooperated with many other organizations and individuals in the State in the promotion of safety.

On behalf of the people of the State, I deem it appropriate to publicly acknowledge our debt of gratitude to these individuals and to these Committees and Organizations, for their fine, energetic and unselfish activities in this worthy effort. Their work deserves your continuing support, and your sympathetic encouragement.

COUNTY OFFICERS

The efficiency of county government is of highest importance, and a problem deserving careful attention. The question of tenure of office has recently been raised, and sound reasons concerned with efficiency and economy have been properly advanced for the proposal to make the term of office of county officials four years.

The reasoning which has led to these proposals is sound. I recommend that such laws be enacted as will make such plan effective, beginning, so far as possible, on January 1, 1943.

FARM-TO-MARKET ROADS

The last session of the Legislature very properly enacted a farm-to-market road bill. This was the first such law to be enacted by the State. There is now available to the Legislature for its study and attention the record of the administration and accomplishments of the program.

The total of farm-to-market road funds available for the years 1939 and 1940 was $4,560,040, of which $2,500,000 was from state and $2,060,040 from federal sources.

There have been 510 farm-to-market road contracts awarded in the 99 counties for a $4,009,272.20 program, exclusive of right-of-way purchases. The contracts provide for the grading of 808.48 miles, the surfacing of 621.95 miles, the construction of 154 bridges, and the building of 699 culverts other than small pipe culverts.

The average cost per mile of the work under these contracts is as follows:

Grading (including small circular culverts).....	$2,199.83 per mile
Surfacing	956.19 per mile
Bridges	1,501.49 per mile
Culverts (exclusive of small circular culverts).....	500.77 per mile
Total	<hr/> $5,158.28

The acquisition of right-of-way on all such projects has averaged $392 per mile of road graded, and a total of $166,711.93 has been paid for such purpose from the farm-to-market road fund, or 52.6 per cent of the total cost of all right-of-way. Counties have elected to pay the remaining 47.4 per cent of right-of-way cost from county funds. A total of $158,257.86 has been paid from farm-to-market road funds for engineering, inspection and administration costs.

It will readily appear, then, that of the total funds available, all but a small portion has been obligated by contracts awarded, with the work in progress or completed.

The principle upon which the farm-to-market road law is based is sound and should be continued. We should speedily push forward our efforts to improve that portion of the road system which, in bad weather, has prevented the farmer from having access to his market, his school, his neighbors and his church.

UNITY FOR THE PUBLIC GOOD

Iowa people are law abiding, and their desire is that our laws shall be just and reasonable that all persons, whatever their occupation or interest, may work together in harmonious relation and always advance the common good.

For convenience we refer to at least three important units of our social fabric—agriculture, industry and labor. In Iowa, perhaps more than in some other states, there are not clear dividing lines between them. The farmer is a capitalist of the purest type. Commercial, manufacturing and mercantile business must always be very close to the farm market. Labor cuts across both units and we recognize that the hand laborer of today may easily become the manager or the employer of tomorrow. And there is a very large and useful class in a group between the lines.

We must recognize each of these classes, if they may be so called, as dependent each upon the other. In fact all of us, no matter what we may be doing, must work together for our own good and for that of the whole community. All who engage in honest toil in whatever field of endeavor, contribute to the happiness of all. The prosperity of workers, managers, tillers of the soil, and all others, makes for the betterment of our State, the strength of our social structure, and the contentment and happiness of the people.

In the enactment of laws and in the handling of the financial affairs of the community we should seek to be helpful to all interests. We should do our utmost to see that agriculture receives a fair share of the national income, and both the state and the nation should see to it that such laws are enacted as will establish and maintain an equitable balance between labor, industry and agriculture. We should aid industry by encouragement of manufacture and trade and the avoidance of unjust or hampering taxes and maintaining freedom from unnecessary governmental interference. Where wage earners find it necessary to organize into groups for advancement of legitimate rights, the rights of collective bargaining should be protected and assured. In all these things the central fact should be kept in mind, that government is for all the people, not for any group or class.

We have had in Iowa harmony and cooperation and regard of the few for the welfare of the whole, far more than in some places, and less of profiteering, racketeering and the efforts of one group to dominate or dictate to others. That spirit can be maintained by just laws, well considered, and fairly administered. The policy of all working together at all times and all ready to counsel together for the common good should be continued.

COUNSEL AND INFORMATION

One could take more than the allotted time in reviewing and commending the work of the various departments. I wish now to publicly acknowledge the fine spirit of cooperation of each of these departments.

It would be tedious if I were to analyze each and every department of the State. The law requires the departments to file either annual or biennial reports. These have been printed and are before you. They are worthy of your careful study. If they do not detail all the information you desire, I know that the departments will be glad to furnish any additional information or explanations.

We have encouraged the several departments to write the story as it really happened, for the policy of this administration has been that of honesty, with the business of the State transacted in the open without favor and without concealment.

CONCLUSION

The census taken last year by the federal authorities found and listed in the state of Iowa more than 2,500,000 persons. Other statistics are yet to be compiled. It is quite certain that when published they will show that Iowa ranks very high among the states in all things that make for prosperity, for comfort, for good home life.

Iowa demonstrates every year the immense fertility of the soil and the capacity to produce not a few of the necessities of life, but very many different things. We are growing more grain and forage, marketing more livestock, making more butter, and finding new and different crops of value. Our people are finding out how to save their farms from deterioration and to build up their herds and flocks.

Under guidance of our colleges and universities, and with the inspiration of our many great fairs and exhibitions, plus the unselfish work of organizations devoted to farm betterment and especially the associations of the boys and girls, Iowa continues her leadership in all that makes for prosperity. The industrial, commercial, mercantile, banking, building, and other activities keep pace with the general advancement. You as Legislators are fortunate in that you are called upon to direct the affairs of state for a community that is progressive and prosperous, but fully determined upon making still greater advances and capable of higher achievements.

You have met in pursuance of the definite direction found in the State Constitution and your duties are clearly defined. You will find that your work is not all attractive and romantic, and that there may be wide difference of opinion as to measures that it was thought would meet with unanimous approval. You will counsel with each other and with state officials and others who have the same interest in the public welfare that you have. You will apply yourselves diligently to the tasks of the day and form your conclusions with open mind. In this, you will have served your state well.

The interests of the State of Iowa and of the United States of America are closely woven together, and all that you can do to strengthen and advance our state will be of benefit to the whole nation, and for that matter to the whole world of free nations. We have a role here in Iowa that may have its influence far away. We can engage in effective teamwork through unity and cooperation, or we can choose to dissolve our energies in rivalries and petty dissensions.

We live in a world sorely distressed by the clashing of arms and the brutal crushing out of human lives to satisfy the lust for power and the urge of hate. Let us not be downcast nor given over to despair.

Sometimes it appears there is a complete blackout of civilization and that the human race is doomed. There are forces at work from without and from within to destroy the ancient landmarks, and, under the guise of setting up a new order, to compel for society a return to the primitive ways of rule by might.

The crisis calls for courage, for tolerance, for wisdom in our work, for faith in the resolves and the ideals of our forefathers, and these, under the guidance of the Divine Love, will charter the ship of state into the placid water of peace, contentment and happiness.

The Governor was escorted from the Chamber by the committee previously appointed.

GOVERNOR'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS

To the Forty-ninth General Assembly and the people of Iowa:

Thank you one and all for the abounding manifestations of good will and the hearty show of the spirit of unity on this occasion.

The year just closed will loom large in the story of the progress of civilization.

The year now opening will, we hope and believe, witness the beginning of a new era of tranquility for a more orderly world. All people everywhere who love liberty and have faith in humanity are committed to translating their hopes and beliefs into action. I am happy to come to you again to speak words of encouragement to the end that together we may help to make the year 1941 a turning place from the darkness to the light.

We do well to counsel together and to fortify ourselves against the impact of the forces of destruction.

We must work together—you, the elected representatives of the people charged with legislative duties, the members of the judiciary and state officials and heads of administrative departments. I know your ears are attuned to the tales of horror that follow the air lanes around the world, and that is why it is so important that as we come into this year, we enter upon our duties free from every hampering prejudice and boldly facing the realities of life.

The greatest service now is in the strengthening of the orderly processes of free government. The immediate opportunity is to demonstrate the workability of the American way.

We can and we should be able to present our fair state of Iowa, in its every activity and all its agencies of public service, as a worthy example of self government that is both just and liberal, at once strong and flexible, economical and efficient, administered openly and honestly.

That is our job—yours and mine, you who have the duty of determining public policy within this jurisdiction, you who have responsibility for interpretation of law and its application, all of us who have been commissioned to be servants of the public. If we do well the tasks of today those of our children will not be so arduous. We dare not now falter or retreat.

Is this ideal for Iowa and Iowa people just a vision destined to fade?

Ours is almost a new age of miracles. The doing of that which seemed impossible has become commonplace. We live in the midst of change and are unafraid. We believe that beyond the dark clouds of today lies the bright sunshine of a new day. We meet with confidence the challenge of the forces that would destroy our way of life. We welcome freedom of thinking, and freedom in the expression of thought in any form, confident in the triumph of truth over error. We stand defiant against any philosophy that tolerates the lust of power or leads to appeasement with the baser emotions of men. We place home and family and human freedom above all else. It is a high ideal, but it is not too high. We shall climb the ladder step by step.

The people of our Nation have sent forth out of this wonderful age of progress in the arts and sciences much to make the world better. The people of Iowa in their brief experience have done their full share in helpfulness. Now we see portions of our handiwork turned to the sorry support of tinsel thrones of the sawdust Caesars. The airways we dedicated to peace are cluttered by the din of war. But we are sure that neither the sweet words of persuasion nor the harsh threats of blood vengeance can stay the onward march of civilization.

For our contribution to the common welfare we are rewarded by an onslaught upon the very foundations of our rich inheritance. We are regaled about the rights, not of men and women, but of classes and groups as distinguished from the plodding many. There are attacks upon the institutions that have been built up by the genius and the enterprise of free men. New names, queer phrases, strange arguments appear, largely as importations from places where the people have been bludgeoned into social and political systems different from our America.

The people of Iowa have created here a state of organized society with roots firmly set in the deep black soil of the pioneering period of which we are a part. These wide prairies decorated with green groves and red barns, these woodland fringes that frame our rural picture, these bustling cities and towns of thrift and industry, these roads of steel and concrete, these deep mines, these temples of worship and of learning and of justice—this is the work of our generation and our predecessors, and it is our pledge that we will preserve and improve it.

We face the realities of life, every year and every day. It is a severely practical world in which we live. The way of progress is by work. We get by giving. Life is not a lottery. Nothing ever just happens. The most precious thing we know is the freedom to live our lives in the service of ourselves and our fellow men. It is a changed and a changing world, and if we will it so, every turn will be for the better.

This does not mean that we shall accept every novelty or try every experiment conjured up by distorted minds. Within the memory of pioneers who survive, Iowa has come a long way from a wasted wilderness to a realm of abundance; and these pioneers and those who have gone ahead are fully responsible for our inheritance of a rich culture stemming from their resolute spirits.

We do not mean to exaggerate, we will not be led into overconfidence, we of Iowa can afford to present the naked truth; but we do firmly believe that here is one of the finest places in all the world to give an every day demonstration of the virtue of government by the people. Let us do it now.

In the final analysis, a state is made by its men and women. No civic structure is ever better than its makers. We see Iowa as a shapely figure on the map, surrounded by other splendid states, with rivers and forests and plains and interlaced with routes of commerce. We have exhausted the dictionary in telling of the soil and climate and all natural advantages. But the race that left the stone axes and chipped flints scattered over these hills failed to create a place for homes.

It was the home seekers and home makers who effected the marvelous transformation of a hundred years. They did not seek gold. They did not gather riches from the trees. They set to themselves the task of using the abundant raw materials for creating wealth. They took over the buffalo paths for trails of destiny. They set their herds upon the hills and chained the power of the streams. They made Iowa a homeland for two and a half million people.

Is the pioneering all done? Not at all. We still have unknown quantities of raw material out of which to produce more and more of the useful things for our homes.

Above all else the pioneers built a state. The natural resources, the favorable location, the genius to plan and the will to do, all added up to a community of free homes. The state makers wove into the fabric of their state the virtue and the wisdom they brought with their axes and looms and plows and their Bibles. They held no forum debate on their capacity for self government.

Nobody was engaged in devising ways for doing less work and getting more for it. They heard the Declaration of Independence read at least once a year and believed and lived it. They knew about the Constitution. They upheld the bill of rights. They met every attempt either to disrupt the union or to undermine its principles in whatever manner served best to preserve their homes and protect their families.

Look at the map of the world. Put your finger on the spot marked Iowa. On the agricultural chart it is the center of the very finest region of productivity known to man. It is the heart of that midland region of industry and commerce which is ever steady and reliable. Iowa and the adjoining states is an area unsurpassed in rich educational, spiritual and cultural values.

Turn again to the map and study the record of this group of states of which Iowa is the heart and center. No truer words were ever uttered than those spoken by Judge C. C. Nourse, a distinguished citizen and statesman of Iowa, when he said:

"The great ultimate fact that America would demonstrate is the existence of a people capable of attaining and preserving a superior civilization, with a government self-imposed, self-administered and self-perpetuated. In this age of wonderful progress, America can exhibit nothing to the world of mankind more wonderful or more glorious than her new states—young empires born of her own enterprise and tutored at her own political hearthstone. Well may she say to the monarchies of the old world, who look for evidence of her regal grandeur, 'Behold, these are my jewels!' And may she never blush to add, 'This one in the center of the diadem is Iowa!'

Let memory run down the long list of notable achievements, the sum total of which make the history of the midland states of the Upper Mississippi Valley. We have back of us more than a century of tremendous forward strides. Recall the hardships, the controversies, the triumphs, of men in fields of toil, in fields of statesmanship and on fields of battle.

You cannot fail to observe that it has been from among these stalwart Americans of the land of deep furrows and tall rows of corn that our Nation has drawn a steady stream of dependable patriots. They have helped greatly to make a reality of loyalty and independence.

The rugged forthrightness of these pioneers deeply marked every phase of human activity where they led the way. As they converted their log cabins into comfortable homes, they were also making over their rules for simple justice into a workable code for the public service.

The thought of those who organized the first claim clubs and vigilance committees was to make certain the protection of their homes and their property. That is the purpose of all good government.

If there is one thing more than another that is needed to stabilize the world, it is confidence in government by the people. That confidence should be securely anchored to a living exhibit of free people working out the ideals of democracy by republican rules on a fair testing field. Iowa can provide that anchorage.

The Iowa of today, our Iowa that we love, is a product of the growth and unfolding of that revolution which a hundred and fifty years ago startled the world by a new concept of human relations. It is a civic structure girdled by the unifying spirit of our fathers of long years ago who made their resolve that government by the people should not perish from the earth. Iowa has not broken faith with the founders. Iowa people have from time to time renewed their pledge to carry on in industrial, social and political ways as in the years of our marvelous advancement. The changes we approve must be for the better, constructive and not destroying.

Now what is the practical and prosaic job for which we have been selected? The resources of our state are known, the quality of our citizenship has been tested, our institutions give us elbow room and provide freedom of action. We must be ever busy patching up the holes where leaks may be found. The rest depends upon us. The people of Iowa want the best government that can be devised and be maintained.

They want efficient and economical government in the state and all the divisions of the state. They desire that every dollar of their money be used for good purpose. They are willing to pay the bills if the bills are just and proper. They oppose waste or extravagance; they are for fairness and liberality.

The people of Iowa have faith in themselves. They profoundly believe in the American way of life and industry, and desire the freedom to aid in carrying that way on to greater heights of world leadership.

Iowa people have no patience with those who would exchange our social advantages, and our cultural and spiritual associations for whatever it is that is offered as imported substitutes.

We of Iowa are unwilling to subscribe to the theory that when the time for reconstruction comes we must turn to some strange pattern for a reorganized society dragged from the debris of discarded thrones, or moulded from the charred embers of destroyed dictatorships. The principles of the Magna Charta, and our beloved Declaration of Independence, and our noble Constitution, and the Sermon on the Mount, will live as long as human hearts yearn for liberty.

This favored region between the two great rivers was specially carved out to be the abiding place for unshakable loyalty to the cause of human freedom. We have here a great agricultural state and yet it is an industrial state, with an admirable balance between all our interests.

It should be our considered effort to encourage and protect not only agriculture, but creative industry, and all that relates to both. We should put forth our best efforts to see that the rewards for those who toil upon the farms are on a parity with the compensations elsewhere. The wage earners are receiving direct protection by the power of government and the rewards of labor are better. But in Iowa all our industries and labor, whether on farms or in shops, are closely linked together. There is a large degree of dependency, one upon the other. We must keep all our people working together in harmony.

Home life upon the farm has been made more attractive in many ways. We are building our towns and cities for better health and better living. We have declared in the most emphatic manner our adherence to the sound principles of society and government that have enabled the people of the United States of America to bring this Nation to world leadership.

When the trail-blazers crossed the rivers into what is now Iowa they cut themselves off from the rest of the world. It is different now. We are citizens of Iowa, but we are also citizens of a great Nation, and we have been made to realize that we are neighbors to the people of every land and of every color or race. What we do will be a part of the world-history of our times. We cannot better serve our neighbors, near and far, than to demonstrate here and now that democracy put to work under the pattern that we have followed for many years, administered intelligently and firmly, gives the utmost of freedom and security.

We find ourselves in a position wherein it is necessary to put forth our best efforts to build up a defense of such magnitude as will uphold our institutions of freedom.

In doing this, let no man be a slacker. Let each be willing to sacrifice as did our forefathers, but let those sacrifices be made within the limits of our system of government. Let nothing be done which will change that system.

The defense we desire, the protection we should have, can be accomplished within the framework of our constitutional government. Now as never before must we insist that the three branches of government, the Executive, Legislative and Judicial, be preserved, each enjoying and exercising the powers delegated to it, none engaging the unworthiness of encroachment upon the prerogatives of the other. A surrender now, by any one, of its rights, means the imminent downfall of the republican system of free government in the United States.

No emergency has been so great, no emergency ever will be so great, that free men cannot meet and solve it. We seem to be living in an age of hysteria. Let not hysteria so blind us that we will permit our form of government to be changed from one requiring the consent of the governed to one calling for submission. The people of the State of Iowa—Iowa, the first free state admitted to the Union—are willing to meet the responsibility and sacrifice for defense of our nation and our people, but are resolute in their determination that government shall not be by edict, but shall be continued by law, under the provisions of the grandest, most humane, most inspired charter ever written, the Constitution of the United States.

Its preservation, unsullied, is the hope, the most potent armament of defense for free people.

On this, my second inaugural, my heart is filled with gratitude and humility, for the splendid cooperation of the people of the State, for the many honors they have continued to bestow, and for their charity in viewing mistakes which, I plead, have been of the head and not of the heart.

I renew my solemn pledge to the people of Iowa. With your help, and with the beneficence of Divine guidance, for which I am suppliant, all within my power will be done to see that the laws of the State are justly administered, and vigorously enforced, without fear or favor. We will proceed with all energy to the end that the doors of government will be open to honesty and candor, but securely barred to the intolerable approach of graft or corruption, that nonfeasance or neglect of duty will be constantly sought out and dealt with firmly. It is my firm conviction that unending determination to bring economy and efficiency to the affairs of government will carry its own reward in the dynamic workability of our republican institutions. Public office will be treated always as a public trust. The people are the masters and their officials the servants. Government is for the good of all the people and not for the advancement or financial gain of special interests or the ambitious few.

I again assume the duties and responsibilities of this high office. We have the opportunity of leadership to see to it that tolerance replaces intolerance, that love supplants hate, that our generation contributes its full share to the advancement of our State and Nation, and proves worthy of the esteem of our children and our children's children.

MR. SPEAKER: I am directed to inform your honorable body that the Senate has adopted the following Concurrent Resolution in which the concurrence of the Senate was asked:

House Concurrent Resolution 3 relating to the preparation of clip sheet of amendments to bills.

ADDITIONAL COPIES ORDERED PRINTED

Thompson of Pocahontas asked and obtained unanimous consent to authorize the Chief Clerk to order printed 500 additional copies of the House Journal of January 21.

Greene of Crawford moved that the Chief Clerk be authorized

Burma of Butler offered the following amendment to the motion:

Amend by adding after the word "county" and before the semicolon, the words:

"if he so desires"

Further amend by adding after the words "said signs", the following: "to be made at no expense to the state and".

HOUSE RESOLUTION 4

Whereas, at this critical moment in history, the rights and liberties of many nations abroad are being assaulted by the forces of totalitarianism and paganism; and,

Whereas, from our fathers we have inherited their unfinished task of creating on this continent a nation of free citizens strong enough to resist tyranny, gentle enough to care for the stricken of our own and other lands, wise enough to school our children in the ways of truth, and broad enough to shelter the many altars of all who seek the pure vision of the most high; and

Whereas, the President of the United States has called upon citizens to "set aside time to build our unity from within to renew our faith in Brotherhood, to quicken our national life, and to reinvigorate our patriotism with a renewal of that vision of democracy without which we perish as a people;" and,

Whereas, national unity is not the product of compulsion or of regimentation, but a product of the spirit of man, tempered by goodwill, which leaves men free to differ in many of their fundamental convictions, and to go their separate ways as custom or conviction may prompt, but unites them voluntarily in the pursuit of objectives that are common to us all as citizens of the same America; and,

Whereas, Protestants, Catholics and Jews must resolutely cultivate friendly cooperation and goodwill, and must be aware of the elements that seek to set neighbor against neighbor, group against group, and race against race, and must learn to resist them; therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the State of Iowa: That the members of the House hereby indorse the eighth annual observance of Brotherhood Week, February 22-28, 1941, under the auspices of the National Conference of Christians and Jews under the slogan, "one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all;" and,

Be It Further Resolved: That the House of Representatives of the State of Iowa call upon the Governor to issue a proclamation requesting the citizens of our state to observe Brotherhood Week in their churches and synagogues, in the schools and clubs, and in public halls and homes, to the end that the citizens of our state shall affirm the inherent dignity of every human being of whatever blood or creed, and, beyond all the divisions of our imperfect society, assert the brotherhood of man.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 8

Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate concurring: The Speaker of the House and the Lieutenant Governor, president of the Senate, each appoint two (2) members of their respective bodies, and to ask these members so appointed to proceed with reasonable dispatch, to survey the two main elevators in the Capitol building as to whether they are in a state of repair or should be replaced, and report such findings before final adjournment.

BILLS SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker of the House announced that, as Speaker of the House, he had signed in the presence of the House, the following bill: House File 22.

REPORT OF MOREHOUSE MEMORIAL COMMITTEE

MR. PRESIDENT AND MR. SPEAKER: Your committee, appointed to prepare suitable resolutions commemorating the life, character and public services of the late Daniel W. Morehouse, begs leave to submit the following:

Daniel W. Morehouse was born in a log cabin near Mankato, Minnesota, February 22, 1876, and died at his home, 2700 University Avenue, Des Moines, Iowa, January 21, 1941. His father, Aaron Morehouse, was a Union soldier in the Civil War, a pioneer farmer and merchant. His mother was Sabra Ann Burleson Morehouse, a pioneer woman.

As a boy in Minnesota, and in Grant county, South Dakota, Dr. Morehouse made the best use possible of the educational facilities available to him. It was through his knowledge of Latin that he first became interested in the stars.

A neighbor, trying to read a text on astronomy, called on the young Morehouse boy to translate some Latin references. Young Morehouse not only translated, he stayed to read for himself about the movements of heavenly bodies, outside the earthly environment of man.

When he was eighteen, Dr. Morehouse began teaching a country school in South Dakota, but he was a scholar as well as a teacher, and in 1895 he attended Northwestern Christian college at Excelsior, Minnesota.

It was at Drake University where he began attending classes in 1897, that Dr. Morehouse really began to find himself, however. Immediately after his graduation, in 1900, he began teaching physics and astronomy at Drake, but continued his studies both at Drake and elsewhere. After some work at the University of Chicago, he returned to receive his master of science degree.

On June 9, 1903, he married Myrtle Slayton of Des Moines, Iowa, and to this marriage were born three children: Charles Aaron Morehouse, Vega Lorraine Morehouse Lytton, and Frances Roberta Morehouse Glomset. Mrs. Morehouse, the three children and two grandchildren survive him.

Fame came to Dr. Morehouse when he least expected it. September 1, 1908, while a student at the Yerkes observatory at Williams Bay, Wisconsin, he made a photograph of a constellation of stars, and when he developed his plates he found a speck of light that hadn't been charted.

It was a new comet—the Morehouse comet, it was called by scientists the world over. And Dr. Morehouse became an international figure.

In 1919, Dr. Morehouse was named dean of men at Drake university, but he continued his scientific studies, even after his elevation to the presidency in 1923. He served as dean of the liberal arts college, as well as president of the university, until 1930.

Dr. Morehouse was an active member of the Church of Christ, and took an interest in the temperance cause.

Because of his sense of civic responsibility, which extended beyond the campus of Drake university, he obtained the support of Des Moines business men in the building of the Drake university-municipal observatory, in the Waveland golf course. Available to Des Moines people and Drake students alike, the observatory was dedicated in 1921. The observatory was dedicated to Dr. Morehouse.

Using the observatory telescope in 1923 Dr. Morehouse discovered a new nebulous star.

Although his main work and life was in Des Moines, Dr. Morehouse served as instructor of astronomy at the University of California for a brief period in 1911 and 1912.

In 1927 he went to Europe, continuing his scientific work in conferences with astronomers abroad.

In 1930, he served as guest director of the Adler Planetarium in Chicago, Illinois, for a short time.

Many honors came to Dr. Morehouse. He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity; of the British Astronomical association; the Royal Astronomical society; the American Astronomical society; the Iowa State Academy of Science.

In 1930, he was elected president of Section D, the astronomy division of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. In 1932, he received an honorary degree of doctor of laws from Butler university at Indianapolis, Indiana.

He received the Des Moines Tribune community award in 1928.

He was a member of Sigma Xi, honorary scientific fraternity, and of the Chicago Astronomical society. He held the Donahue Comet Medal.

He was a member of the University club, Rotary club, Prairie club, and Des Moines club in Des Moines. Dr. Morehouse was a Mason.

He was elected president of the international convention of the Disciples of Christ in Des Moines in 1934. The following year he was a delegate to the world convention of the Disciples of Christ, held in England.

His work off the campus at Drake university was as notable as his achievements at the university. He gave popular talks on astronomy at the Drake Municipal observatory. He was a guest lecturer on astronomy at the American School of Wild Life Protection at McGregor, Iowa.

He had lectured to many scientific groups in all parts of the nation. He was present at the pouring of the 200-inch telescope mirror at Corning, New York, in 1934. He participated in four expeditions to view eclipses: at Matheson, Colorado, in 1918; at Catalina island in 1923; at Island Pond, Vermont, in 1931; at Giggleswich, England, in 1927.

Therefore, Be It Resolved, That in the passing of Daniel W. Morehouse the State of Iowa mourns the loss of one of its most honored and distinguished citizens;

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be printed in the Journal of the Senate and in the Journal of the House as a commemoration of the life and worth of the deceased, and that enrolled copies hereof be transmitted to the wife and to each of the children.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 10

House concurrent resolution memorializing the Honorable Harold L. Ickes, Secretary of the Interior, in the interest of conservation of water fowl, and relating to hunting regulations within the Intermediate Zone.

Whereas, It has been agreeable to sportsmen in the Intermediate Zone that certain restrictions be imposed in order to assure a plentiful supply of water fowl and that every encouragement be rendered to increase the propagation of such game birds; and

Whereas, The sportsmen within the Intermediate Zone have realized that the great shortage of ducks a few years ago was due to the negligent destruction of their nesting places, and permitting the great marshlands of the north to be drained for cultivation, at the time of the last world war only to find, later on, that such land was unfit for the growing of crops; and

Whereas, Many hundreds of hunters within the said zone have contributed liberally of their personal funds to buy and restore said marshlands through national wild life organizations, and such action has brought the duck population back to a point where reasonable shooting conditions can again prevail; and

Whereas, The Intermediate Zone normally operates at a great disadvantage in comparison with other hunting zones, due to the fact that this zone must wait until the migratory flight is on before they secure any shooting, while the ducks are at hand and remain throughout practically the whole season and can easily be secured without decoys in the Northern and Southern Zones; and

Whereas, Even though the Intermediate Zone enjoys the same length of season as other zones, it seldom secures more than one week's good shooting out of the entire season, and the past several years the migratory flight did not fully take place until after the hunting season in the Intermediate Zone was closed; and

Whereas, The securing of ducks in the Intermediate Zone, especially in the state of Iowa, has been almost prohibitory since the use of live decoys has been withdrawn, and such shooting as takes place is done largely over rivers and small ponds and at distances ranging from eighty to one hundred twenty yards, as the ducks will not decoy nearer than such distance with the use of wooden blocks alone, and hunters, in shooting at such long distances, are wounding thousands of ducks which cannot be retrieved and which fall, after flying for a few hours, into the wastelands of the river bottoms, thus resulting in a loss to both hunters and conservation; and

Whereas, Iowa sportsmen feel that an unjust discrimination exists here because of the necessity to shoot game in accordance with laws that govern the taking of game in much more favorable zones and, as a consequence thereof, are compelled to go either to the northern zone or southern zone, where they shoot twice the amount of game desired in order to justify such long trips, with the result that much game spoils in transit for lack of proper refrigeration, thus resulting in a direct loss to hunters and to conservation; or continue the present discouraging policy in trying to secure their duck hunting in Iowa; now therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring: That the General Assembly of Iowa respectfully requests the Honorable Harold L. Ickes, Secretary of the Interior, to carefully review and weigh the great differences found in the respective zones, and, in order to equalize advantages prevailing elsewhere, that permission to be granted for the use of five live decoys in front of each blind by those hunters living in the Intermediate Zone who are licensed to use them, and that this change be made effective for the year 1941 and thereafter, thus permitting hunters dwelling in said zone to secure their just share of the game during this very uncertain hunting season.

Be It Further Resolved: That inasmuch as the date of the migratory flight is very uncertain in each year, sometimes occurring much earlier than in other years, the season for the Intermediate Zone be set for the period from October first to December fifteenth, inclusive, each year, in order to permit hunters in said zone to secure some hunting whenever such flight takes place and before the closing date as herein designated or the automatic closing of the season by the approach of winter.

Be It Further Resolved: That on all streams and waters under federal jurisdiction, each hunter using said live decoys in front of a blind be required to purchase a federal license therefor, at an annual cost of one dollar ($1.00), said fees to be placed in a fund for the enforcement of the hunting laws and any surplus remaining therefrom to be used in the purchase and restoration of marshlands and for the propagation of water fowl.

Be It Further Resolved: That such licenses be issued at each first class post office and that each licensee be required, while hunting, to display such license upon request of any officer in lawful control of waters upon which such licensee is hunting, and that any failure to procure such license by any person hunting with live decoys, or his failure or refusal to carry or display his license on request shall be made an offense punishable by fine of one hundred dollars ($100.00) or by imprisonment in jail for a period of ninety (90) days.

HOUSE RESOLUTION 5

Whereas, The Argentine Sanitary Treaty now pending before the Senate of the United States would, if ratified, permit the importation into this country of livestock products infested with foot-and-mouth disease; and

Whereas, Millions of dollars have been spent and thousands of animals have been killed in the United States to free this country from the ravages of this dreaded disease and laws in the interest of public health have been enacted by Federal and state governments to require farmers to eliminate such disease from their farms and prevent its spread; and

Whereas, This dreaded contagious disease can be transmitted by fresh and frozen meats as well as by live animals, and strictest regulations and restrictions should be maintained to prevent infections of our domestic herds and flocks with such contagious disease now present in foreign countries; and

Whereas, Inasmuch as rigid inspection of slaughtering and sale of meats for human consumption is required of our citizens, such conditions should also apply to any meat or meat products brought into this country from foreign lands; therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Forty-ninth General Assembly of the State of Iowa: That for the reasons stated in the preamble of this resolution, the membership of the United States Senate be respectfully requested to oppose the ratification of the proposed agreement with the government of Argentine and to continue the embargo against foreign countries now in force until such countries are free from, and have established, and have in force adequate sanitary conditions to prevent the spread of the foot-and-mouth disease; and

Be It Further Resolved: That a copy of this preamble and resolution be forwarded to the President of the United States Senate, to the United States Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, and to the Honorable Clyde L. Herring and Honorable Guy M. Gillette, United States Senators from Iowa.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON WORTH COUNTY ELECTION CONTEST

On behalf of the committee, E. A. Johnson of Linn county, submits the following report in the contest filed by Claus Randall vs Norman Norland for the seat in the House of Representatives, from Worth county, Iowa.

MR. SPEAKER: We, the members of the Contest Committee, to whom was referred the matter of the contest between Claus Randall, contestant, versus Norman Norland, incumbent, for the seat in the Iowa House of Representatives from Worth County, Iowa, beg leave to report as follows:

The committee met pursuant to call of E. A. Johnson, Chairman, at 9:00 o'clock A. M. on the 17th of January, A. D. 1941, at the State House in Des Moines, Iowa.

The contestant and the incumbent appeared in person, and were each represented by Counsel. The issues were made and settled and the evidence in behalf of both parties was introduced and offered.

The evidence disclosed to the committee, by the undisputed, sworn testimony of witnesses, the following facts:

1. That all of the members of the Lincoln township precinct, Worth County, Iowa, counting board, including all three judges and the clerks, left the counting room at one and the same time, leaving no one in charge of the ballots; that this was done for a period of thirty to forty-five minutes at the noon hour and again at the supper hour.
2. That during both of these intervals, when all judges and clerks were absent, the doors to the counting room were left, one open and one unlocked, so anyone could come and go at will, and the ballots lying around on the floor, the table and in the chairs in the room, with no one in attendance, and so anyone could come and go at pleasure.
3. That it was shown by undisputed evidence that an individual went from Lincoln township precinct to Hanlontown precinct in Worth

County, which is nine miles from Lincoln township, and tried to obtain from one of its judges the result of the vote in Hanlontown and as an inducement to obtain a disclosure of the Hanlontown vote showed the Hanlontown judge the result of the vote in Lincoln township precinct, the same being tabulated on a sample ballot, and this occurred between 7:30 and 8:00 o'clock P. M., and before any of the polls had been closed.

Among other things, Section 898 of the Code of Iowa, revised, in referring to the possession and control of ballots at election, is as follows: "And at all times when they are in possession of the counting board they shall be under constant observation of at least two judges."

Furthermore, Section 902 of the Code of 1939 provides that any violation of the provision of said Section 898 by any judge or clerk of an election shall be a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine or imprisonment.

It is the opinion of the committee that said Section 898 of the Code is mandatory and that any failure to comply with the same shall render the ballots of the precinct wherein there was a failure to observe the requirements of said Section 898, void and incompetent as evidence, and that said ballots cannot be considered in the tabulation of the vote taken in said Worth County, Iowa.

It is the opinion of the committee that there was such violation of the Statute in the Lincoln township precinct of Worth County, Iowa, and that the votes cast in said precinct cannot be considered in finally determining who was elected as State Representative of and for said Worth County, Iowa.

This committee has counted the ballots cast in Worth County, Iowa, at the election held there on November 5, 1940, for State Representative, excluding said Lincoln township precinct, and such count discloses 1970 votes cast for Claus Randall, contestant, and 1881 votes cast for Norman Norland, incumbent, which are undisputed, and the committee finds that the contestant, Claus Randall, received 89 votes majority of all the legal votes cast in said Worth County at said election for Representative in the State Legislature.

We, your committee, therefore recommends that said Claus Randall be declared to be duly elected as a member of the House of Representatives from Worth County, Iowa, and that he be seated as a member of the House of Representatives from said Worth County, Iowa.

E. A. JOHNSON.

C. A. BRYSON.

GUS T. KUESTER.

MINORITY COMMITTEE REPORT

IN THE MATTER OF THE LEGISLATIVE CONTEST OF CLAUS RANDALL vs. NORMAN NORLAND

MR. SPEAKER: The following members, Howard P. Eckerman and W. J. Johannes, members of the committee appointed to conduct a contest between Claus Randall, contestant, and Norman Norland, incumbent to the House of Representatives of the Forty-ninth General Assembly of the state of Iowa, beg leave in this Minority Report to recommend that the said House of Representatives declare the said incumbent, Norman Norland, to be the legal and duly elected member of the Forty-ninth General Assembly, and that the petition of contest of the said Claus Randall filed herein be dismissed and held for naught, and that the election of the incumbent Norman Norland be confirmed.

DIVISION ONE

The minority members of this committee base this report upon the following grounds: The contest alleged three grounds of contest:

1. That the counting board in Lincoln Precinct, Worth county, was guilty of misconduct and fraud in that the space or room occupied by the counting board was not policed in such a manner as to prevent persons from gaining information regarding the progress of the counting before the polls were closed.

2. That the counting board in Lincoln precinct, Worth county, was guilty of misconduct and corruption in that the space or room where such ballots were being counted was not so kept as to preclude the admission of people from said space or room until the polls were closed.

3. That the counting board of Lincoln precinct, Worth county, was guilty of fraud and misconduct in that the ballots were not at all times when in possession of said counting board under constant observation of at least two counting judges.

The incumbent had been issued a certificate of election and the burden of proving these allegations was upon contestant. He completely failed to establish grounds One and Two.

The record conclusively showed that two constables were appointed to Lincoln precinct, and that at least one of these officers was on duty near the counting room during the entire time the polls were open. It is undisputed that they never left the vicinity of the counting room. The receiving board sat within twelve feet of the counting room door which was perfectly visible from their table. The constables and receiving board testified to a man that at no time did they see anyone enter the counting room who was not an election official. There was no evidence that any information was given out by the counting board.

In the light of this record it is obvious the contestant failed to show the space occupied by the counting board was not policed so as to prevent persons from obtaining information concerning the vote, and that the room was not so kept as to preclude the admission of people.

DIVISION TWO

Contestant established but one proposition and that was the counting board went out to lunch and dinner in a body and were gone approximately thirty (30) minutes each time.

Section 898 of the Iowa Code provides that ballots in possession of the counting board shall be under constant observation of at least two counting judges. The question is, should the incumbent, Norland, be deprived of his office and over one thousand voters in Lincoln precinct disfranchised because this statute was violated. There is no evidence whatever that this violation prejudiced in any way the contestant. There is no testimony that anyone ever entered the counting room who was not an election official. The record conclusively shows that at least one election constable and members of the receiving board were within twelve feet (12') of the counting room doors during the entire day, including these lunch periods, and that no one entered the counting room.

The counting board testified they had counted all ballots before they went out to lunch. The clerks testified they had entered on the tally book the vote for each candidate and their book was unaltered or unchanged and was in the same position when they returned as when they left. The official abstract introduced in the record showed this precinct turned in the exact number of ballots which had been delivered by the auditor. Upon what possible theory can the contestant allege he was injured by this statutory violation.

Under the Iowa cases and election laws in general, the contestant completely failed to make good his contest. The Supreme Court of Iowa has consistently refused to set aside the vote of a precinct where the election officials have violated the statute unless the contestant has proved that this violation cost him sufficient votes to change the results of the election. The theory being the electors have nothing to do with the conduct of the officials and their irregularity should not defeat the express wishes of the people.

This proposition is so fundamental and the Iowa cases are so numerous in support of it that a few citations will suffice. Younkers vs. Susong, 173 Iowa 664; State vs. Bernholtz, 106 Iowa 157; Chambers vs. Board, 172 Iowa 340; State vs. Creston Mut. Telephone Co., 195 Iowa 1368; Brooks vs. Fay, 206 Iowa 845; State vs. Lockwood, 181 Iowa 1234; Dishon vs. Smith, 10 Iowa 212; State vs. Birdsall, 186 Iowa 129.

In State vs. Creston Mut. Telephone Co., 195 Iowa 1368, set forth above, there was a vote on a telephone franchise. The general manager of the company and one of the stockholders went into the counting room, reached into the box and counted some of the ballots. The Supreme Court refused to set the election aside, stating:

"In the absence, however, of some affirmative showing, or of such circumstances as that an inference may be drawn that the ballots were tampered with by Atkinson and his companions, or of fraud on the part of the election officials, the conclusion necessarily follows that prejudice is not shown. There is not a scintilla of affirmative evidence that the ballots were marked in any way; that any were extracted or mutilated or substitution made; that they were tampered with in any way, except that they were removed from the box and counted by the parties named; or that any attempt was made to affect the result." * * *

"Every intendment of the legislature and every safeguard provided thereby for the securing of a fair election and the preservation of the ballots should be observed by election officers, and must be upheld by the court; but the clearly expressed will of the voters should not be thwarted or set aside by the courts because of irregularities and even illegalities which are not shown to have in any way affected the result or to have prejudiced anyone. Cases cited by counsel from other jurisdictions, perhaps, go somewhat further in invalidating elections that we have gone. We are firmly committed to the rule that prejudice must be shown."

Our Supreme Court has definitely held that election statutes requiring officials to do certain things are directory and not mandatory. In other words, the mere fact that the statute requires a certain thing to be done in a certain manner will not invalidate the election if not done that way. McDunn vs. Roundy, 109 Iowa 976.

Here election was upheld though there were two judges instead of three. Upon what theory can the instant election be set aside when our Supreme Court has consistently through a long line of decisions upheld elections where the following irregularities took place: (1) failure to provide booths as provided by law; (2) ballots not printed in conformance with the statute; (3) 89 people vote who are not properly registered; (4) election officials refuse official ballots and prepare their own; (5) erroneously heading one party "Democrat" instead of "Citizens"; (6) electors vote in the booths at the same time; (7) hand their unfolded ballots to the judges; (8) director and elector act as judges instead of president of the board and elector; (9) polls kept open four hours longer than specified by statute; (10) officers of a company interested in a franchise enter counting room, pull ballots out of box and count them; (11) judge of an election solicits voters in the receiving room; (12) failure to provide two ballot boxes on a school consolidation election, which necessitates oral testimony as to how each voter voted; (13) all judges and clerks in election not sworn as required by law; (14) 400 voters given no opportunity to vote; (15) election conducted by two judges instead of three; (16) election officers not of opposite parties as required by law; (17) candidate himself acts as an election official; (18) election officer ineligible because an alien; (19) complete failure to appoint the officials.

The members of this minority committee do here and now challenge the contestant, his attorneys, or the majority members of the committee to present a single Iowa case or authority which states the misconduct or irregularity of an election official without a showing of actual prejudice shall invalidate the vote of a precinct. There are no such cases.

DIVISION THREE

There is another aspect of this record which merits careful attention. The very same thing complained of by the contestant occurred in a precinct where he received a substantial majority, to-wit: Grove township.

The incumbent in his answer alleged that the counting board in Grove township went out to lunch and dinner without leaving their ballots in the possession of two judges the same as did the counting board in Lincoln precinct. The incumbent did not claim these acts invalidated the vote of Grove township (for such is not the law), but simply stated the acts complained of by contestant did not prejudice him in any way because these same acts occurred in a precinct where he received most of the votes.

Incumbent placed the entire counting board of Grove township on the stand and they testified to a man that they went out to eat lunch and dinner in a body and were gone about thirty minutes each time. The attorneys for contestant objected strenuously to this testimony, contending it was inadmissible because incumbent had not alleged in his answer that the election in Grove township was illegal. In other words, it was the position of the contestant that he could throw out the vote of Lincoln precinct by showing the irregularity took place in a precinct where incumbent had a large majority.

In decency and fairness it seems obvious that if this assembly finds the misconduct complained of should throw out the vote of the precinct, then the votes of both precincts where the irregularity occurred should be thrown out, and if this is done, the incumbent still stands elected.

Upon what theory of justice and fairness can this assembly disfranchise one thousand voters in one precinct and uphold the votes of another where exactly the same things took place. This assembly is the sole judge of its own membership. There is no appeal from its finding. It is not bound by the technical rules of pleading, evidence or practice. Its one and only aim and purpose is to give expression to the true will of the people and the electorate. The electorate of Worth county elected Norman Norland as its representative. Their wishes and desires should not be nullified by technical violation of a statute which our Supreme Court from time immemorial has held does not vitiate an election.

In the words of a California case, Whipley vs. McKune, 1 A. L. R. 1535, wherein they upheld an election even though the officers were not sworn:

"This proposition cannot for a moment be maintained. If it could, no state or even county election ever would stand, for probably no election has ever occurred in this state at which some informality of equal grade and importance to this did not occur."

In conclusion unless this House of Representatives desires to go on record as substituting its own decision for the will of the people and in not following the rules of law as laid down by our State Supreme Court, this House must approve this minority report.

Respectfully submitted,

HOWARD P. ECKERMAN.

W. J. JOHANNES.

man Norland, Incumbent.*

REPORT OF COMMISSION ON INTERSTATE COOPERATION

The Commission on Interstate Cooperation desires to submit the following report for the consideration of the 49th General Assembly:

This commission was created by resolution, which resolution carried no appropriation. This failure to create a fund which could be used, at least to pay the expenses of the members of the commission, created a definite ceiling with respect to its activities. Definite arrangement should be made by this Legislature to set up an expense fund of at least $500.00. This commission should be created by law rather than resolution. In spite of this limitation the commission has been able to function in some very, very definite fields.

(1) The Department of Public Safety during 1939 experienced a great deal of difficulty in connection with the operation of out of state trucks. As echoes to these troubles Iowa truckers experienced serious difficulties in other states. Through the offices of this commission the Council of State Governments was prevailed upon to call a conference between responsible executives and legislators in thirteen mid-west states. In this conference all difficult matters were thoroughly canvassed and a foundation laid for understanding, good will created, and various reciprocal agreements were finally obtained. Three members of the commission and administration attended this conference.

(2) Members of the commission cooperated in the conference held under the auspices of the Council of Governments for a thorough study and consideration of the future methods to be adopted as permanent policies in relation to welfare work. Two members of the commission and administration attended this conference.

(3) Through various trade barriers there has been a very aggressive attempt to limit the market of dairy products. With the improvement of refrigeration and transportation, this problem has become of ever increasing importance to the Iowa dairy interests. Several conferences have been held in Chicago in regard to this situation. A representative of the Extension Department at Ames represented Iowa in all of these deliberations. There is in process a standardization of inspection laws and standards which will finally make possible a much broader market for Iowa products. This is a matter which should receive further attention.

(4) A conference was held in Washington to co-ordinate the functions of state and federal government in connection with the defense program. Attorney General Rankin attended this conference. The developments in this field and their ever increasing importance makes it imperative that some appropriation be given the commission so that it may perform Iowa's duty in connection with this vast enterprise.

(5) The Council of State Governments is now the clearing house for the American Bar Association's Committee on Uniform Laws. This has resulted in a new and distinct impetus to this entire movement. Arrangements have been made through the efforts of this commission that numerous of these uniform acts will be before you for your consideration. Their enactment should be placed in the imperative class of legislation.

(6) The matter of trade barriers continues to be a very important issue. The most serious violation on the part of Iowa is in connection with the oleomargarine tax. This continues to be a source of irritation among the southern states and presents a problem that should be thought through by every member of the legislature. Especially is this true since an effort is being made by the eastern dairy interests to subject Iowa farmers to a similar discrimination. There has been developed in Iowa quite a business in the marketing of saltless sweet cream butter. One marketing agency alone handling upward of one million pounds of this type of butter a year. Its purpose principally is to build up the butter fat content of the ice cream during the peak seasons. The legislation would have passed in New York state but for the vigilance of its commission on interstate cooperation. Through its efforts this legislation was defeated but it still looms on the horizon as a positive threat in the more thickly populated areas of the East. A new commission should be armed with ample funds to keep in touch with this threat.

CONCLUSION

The state has never contributed to the State Council of State Governments. Because of this failure we were not entitled to participate in the direction and control of the council. We have also been in the position of sponging on the services and aid given by the council. The formative period of the council has been underwritten by the Spelman Foundation. This aid, however, has been on the distinct understanding that the budget would be finally assumed by the various states. A great many have contributed in a substantial way and the goal of state sustenance is becoming more likely year by year. We would recommend that $1,000 be appropriated for this purpose.

REPORT OF THE FIFTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE COUNCIL OF STATE GOVERNMENTS

Mayflower Hotel,
Washington, D. C.,
January 21-23, 1941.

Tuesday Morning Session.

Convening of Assembly. Hon. Edgar A. Brown, member of the South Carolina Senate and Chairman of the Board of the Council of State Governments, presided. Roll call showed that 308 delegates from 46 states were in attendance.

The importance of all levels of government participating in the defense program was the keynote of this Fifth General Assembly. All of the speakers urged a maximum participation of state and local governments in the advancement of the total defense program, and particularly the handling by the states and local governments of the governmental and service problems growing out of the industrial and military concentration incident to the defense program. Those present agreed with Mr. William S. Knudsen when he said: "If we are willing to spend a little sweat for a year or so, then we may save a little blood later on."

Governor Harold E. Stassen, Governor of Minnesota and President of the Council of State Governments, delivered the President's address, in which he pointed out three essentials on behalf of the states in supporting the national defense program:

First, a united support to the established foreign policy of the Federal Government.

Second, the need of every possible contribution to the effective and rapid building and production of the means of national defense.

Third, the maintaining of strong and efficient state governments.

He emphasized the part played by the Council of State Governments in forwarding the national defense program and stressed the fact that all steps that maintain the standing and respect of state governments will not only contribute to the strength of the Union, but will also constitute added safeguards to the liberty of the individual citizens of the union.

The Honorable Herbert H. Lehman, governor of New York, emphasized as the key note of his speech the urgent need of cooperation of the states with the federal government in the defense program. The need was stressed for a central clearing house in Washington, to cooperate with the individual state Defense Councils, to aid them in lining up their programs, and to distribute the work under the various government contracts according to the states' capacity to handle it under their existing facilities.

In his address, entitled Program for the Future, Hon. Ellwood J. Turner, member of the Pennsylvania General Assembly, described the specific accomplishments of the Council of State Governments and its Cooperation Commissions during the past year, such as the work that has been done to forward the national defense program, to bring about the removal of interstate trade barriers, and to develop a more practical program of relief. The great need of the moment is to do our share in the organization and administration of a total-defense program.

Tuesday Afternoon Session

General Session on Relief and Taxation. Honorable Leverett Saltonstall, Governor of Massachusetts, presided.

Report of Special Committee on Taxation was given by Mr. Simeon E. Leland, in which he interpreted the record of the Council of State Governments as a desire to coordinate the fiscal systems of national, state, and local governments and to harmonize the policies of the state and local units with those of the federal government, rather than to divorce them.

What is called for is a national inquiry of wide scope to develop plans and procedures, supplemented by conferences between federal, state, and local financial offices, so that the need and the means for integrating practices can be more fully realized.

Tuesday Evening Session

At the evening dinner session, Governor Herbert R. O'Connor of Maryland spoke on the subject of Law Enforcement Problems of National Defense. He described in detail the work of the Conference which was held on this subject in Washington last August, at which time model acts were drawn up dealing with organization of state guards, the control of explosives, state protection of public property, and the prevention of sabotage.

Following this, the address of Attorney-General Jackson was read, on the same subject. The work of the Department of Justice was outlined in combating military and economic "Fifth Columns" in this country and in preventing sabotage and foreign propaganda. Stress was laid on the use of freedom of speech, freedom of press, and freedom of assembly as the democratic weapons for combating propaganda in this country.

Wednesday Morning Session

General Session on Defense. Hon. Frank M. Dixon, Governor of Alabama, presided and introduced Hon. William S. Knudsen, Chief, Production Division, Advisory Commission to the Council of National Defense. Mr. Knudsen described the organization of the Advisory Commission of the Council of National Defense and the manner in which the national defense program was put under way. He emphasized the enormous coordination of effort that must go into production of all defense items after a contract is let. Real work starts after the contract is out, and the first requisite in the defense program was to get tools—not only machine tools—but fixtures and dies which must go into machine tools in order to produce armament on a mass production basis. He pointed out that we are still in that stage to a great extent, and described preliminary speeding up by the Defense Commission by the use of letters of intent, which protect the manufacturer in expenditures he may be called upon to make, up until the time of the signing of the actual contract. He stated that the tooling process has gone forward rapidly and that in another three months or so mass production will be under way on many lines.

Mr. Knudsen emphasized to the delegates the Defense Commission's hope to spread the work around the country by subcontracts to the greatest possible extent and the necessity for classifying and tabulating equipment found all over the country, in order that these facilities may be offered to prime contractors when the Defense Commission has a contract to offer. He stated:

"There is where you gentlemen come in. . . . In your particular case, there are surveys of tools needed, and the point is that these surveys, through your mediation and help, be made available to the prime contractors. . . . The goal that I hope to reach is for each prime manufacturer to be concerned with a percentage of subcontracts on his job; the larger that percentage gets, the more the program is going to spread and the more pieces we are going to get in the end. We are not going to get it in the next six months, but we are going to get it next year."

Governor Dixon then introduced Mr. Isador Lubin, special counsel to

Mr. Hillman in the office of Production Management, who discussed "Labor Supply and Training in Defense." Mr. Lubin described the function of the Division of Labor of the Advisory Commission as the job of seeing to it that the seventeen billion dollars worth of goods needed in the defense program are produced as effectively and efficiently as labor can possibly do it. He pointed out that the combined outstanding order for airplanes, airplane engines, parts and accessories, necessitated the employment of 230,000 people and that to keep up with commitments the industry must step up its labor supply to 450,000 people before August of this year. Every shipyard in the nation is booked full to capacity, and every way is being used on orders either for the Navy or the Maritime Commission.

He pointed out the effective work which the Conciliation Service of the Defense Commission has done in warding off threatened strikes and drew the parallel between 1916-17 and the present time, stating that "at no time in American history has labor been more cooperative when the country was in peril than at this time."

Stressing the part to be played by the states, Mr. Lubin said:

"I feel very definitely that one of the key pins of the defense program, at least as far as labor is concerned, is the U. S. Employment Service and the state employment services. I think one of the most vital contributions that the states can make to the defense program is to see to it that these employment services in your states are kept at the highest pitch of efficiency, that they operate twenty-four hours a day if the occasion demands, and that their personnel are continuously keyed up to the importance of the part that they are playing in the program."

The third speaker on the morning session was Hon. Paul V. McNutt, Federal Security Administrator. He discussed the questions having to do with health, welfare, and total defense. He pointed out the tremendous problems of public health involved in serving both civilians and the expanding military forces of the country, as well as the need of increased scientific knowledge of medical problems relating to defense, both military and industrial. He pointed out how much better prepared the government was to deal with community problems arising from military and industrial concentrations needed in defense than it was in 1916. Concluding his address he stated:

"In the three-way partnership which makes up our American system of government, our local, State, and Federal units stand together and work together for this common end. Our present effort to integrate health, welfare, and defense is important not only for the great contribution it can and must make to individual strength and national unity. It is equally important as a demonstration that our kind of government—cooperative democracy—can meet and master its own necessities. We are all partners in this joint enterprise—the great enterprise of serving a united people as a single integrated Nation, as a union of sovereign States, and as a vast network of local communities, of factories and farms, of families and human lives."

Wednesday Afternoon Session

General Session on Defense. Senator Henry Parkman, Jr., Member, of the Massachusetts Commission on Interstate Cooperation, presided.

First speaker in the afternoon was Hon. Charles E. Merriam, member of the National Resources Planning Board, who discussed, "Planning for Defense of Democracy." He stressed particularly the necessity for mobilization for national morale. Dr. Merriam ridiculed complaints that democracies could not act with decisiveness, and pointed out that decisionism in any government, be it of democratic or autocratic form, rests not on arbitrariness but on cooperation soundly organized for action.

In discussing America's role in the present world crisis, he said:

"America will work out a program, built upon national unity, which will raise the volume of national production and at the same time raise the standards of living in accordance with the principles of social justice. Our vast national resources, our dynamic energy, our inventiveness and resourcefulness, our organizing ability, our huge economy, with its rich powers of expansion, make this a possibility."

Following Dr. Merriam, Hon. Daniel W. Hoan, Associate Director, Division of State and Local Cooperation of the Advisory Commission to the Council of National Defense, discussed "The Part of the States and Cities in the Defense Program." He emphasized that preparation for our national defense requires cooperative effort with unity of purpose throughout the country. He reviewed the work of the Division of State and Local Cooperation, and characterized its method of operation as the essence of the democratic way:

"The Division gives no orders; the people themselves, through their representatives in the State capitol or the town hall, solve their own problems, using the Division's personnel as a channel for information concerning Federal plans and policies and for technical advice in various fields."

Wednesday Evening Dinner Session

Governor Stassen, presiding, introduced Hon. Frank Knox, Secretary of the Navy, who was speaker of the evening. Secretary Knox declared that the preservation of liberty and the future of our form of government are now at stake. He said in part:

"In this task of supporting President Roosevelt in this crucial hour, there should be and there must be a spirit of national unity which sweeps aside all vestige of personal feelings, of partisan differences, of sectional hatreds and of class distinctions. If we, as a nation united, embrace the high aims and purposes of the hour, we shall all succeed together. Likewise, if we fail, we shall all go down together. We must not fail."

Secretary Knox concluded his address as follows:

"Almost literally, America stands at the crossroads. Whether we like it or not, the preservation of the sacred fire of liberty has become our responsibility. We can discharge this responsibility right now by an all-out program for production of supplies and munitions for the use of those who are actually fighting the battles for human liberty in Europe and Asia, and for our own defense. Or, we can shilly-shally and talk and debate and conjure up idle forces that have no basis in fact until those who are fighting are overwhelmed and then, we must take up the burden and fight ourselves, lest the sacred fires of liberty entrusted to our care shall go out. Or, we can adopt still a third choice and fail to help now and refuse to fight later, and then, spend everything we have and that we can produce to build a wall around the United States and live within that wall, armed to the teeth, completely surrounded by totalitarian powers intent upon our final subjugation.

"These are the three roads, and the only three roads, that converge at the point where we stand tonight. In such an hour, if we are worthy of what we have, if we are wise as the trustees of the institutions we have inherited, and finally, if we are merely shrewd and give way only to selfish considerations, we will implement, without delay, President Roosevelt's noble declaration: 'In the face of great perils never before encountered, our strong purpose is to protect and to perpetuate the integrity of democracy. We do not retreat. We are not content to stand still. As Americans, we go forward, in the service of our country, by the will of God.'"

Thursday Morning Session

General Session on Trade Barriers. Hon. Edgar A. Brown, Chairman of the Board of Managers of the Council of State Governments, presiding. Senator Robert C. Hendrickson, of New Jersey, vigorously attacked the growing Balkanization of this country through the erection of barriers to interstate trade by the states themselves, and pointed out that the campaign which the Council of State Governments has waged on them during the past biennium has already had beneficial results.

In the commerce clause of the Constitution the express power to regulate commerce among the several states was taken from the states. This was intended to permanently eliminate trade barriers, but mainly through promotion of class or selfish interests, there are today existing more than 1,000 trade barriers, raised by statute, administrative regulations, license fees, excise taxes, and various merchandising and inspection requirements.

Trade barriers are intended to accomplish one or more of three purposes:

1. Provide protected market for home producers and merchant groups.
2. Retaliate against states which have protected their own producers.
3. Raise public revenues at the expense of those who produce, market, or consume imported goods or services.

Trade barrier legislation falls within four generally-accepted categories:

1. Imposition of higher effective rates of taxation upon interstate than upon intrastate trade.
2. Inspection and quarantine regulations.
3. Police regulations intended to protect the public health and safety.
4. Preference of home products.

The best test developed in determining trade-barrier legislation is to apply the following:

In identifying a statute which is in fact an improper barrier to interstate trade, it must be found:

1. That it actually does restrict or impair the free flow of commerce between the states.
2. That it discriminates against the persons or products of a sister state and in favor of the persons or products of the home state.
3. That it is valid under the Constitution and cannot be modified by the courts.
4. That the enactment is not really necessary for the protection of property owned by the state, for the preservation of its revenue, or for the protection of the peace, health, morals, or welfare of its citizens, or that the benefit gained by such protection or preservation is outweighed by the profit or gain which accrues to the state or its people if such protection were waived.

It is necessary in the present crisis that in order to maintain a uniform national defense all interstate trade barriers of every nature and description must yield to the good of the nation as a whole.

Thursday Afternoon

General Business Session. Resolutions and reports were adopted. The Conference adjourned.

. Summary and Recommendations

During the past two sessions, Iowa has participated in this movement only by resolution and has never supported its Cooperation Commission or the Council of State Governments with funds. Despite our failure to participate fully in this work, Iowa has benefited many times over. Through the influence of Commissions on Interstate Cooperation in the Eastern states, discriminatory trade barriers affecting Iowa's milk and cream producers have been blocked.

One example in particular should be cited: The New York and Pennsylvania Commissions defeated legislation which would have barred cream and butterfat shipped from Iowa from markets in New York and Philadelphia. The efforts of the Council of State Governments to prevent the erection of trade barriers will continue, and Iowa should join with her sister states in furthering this movement.

In the field of national defense, the Cooperation Commissions have, in a large majority of the states, been designated as the legislative arm of their State Councils on National Defense. At the suggestion of the State and Local Division of the National Defense Commission, regional conferences of Cooperation Commissions and Defense Councils have been held in different sections of the country. Representatives of the National Defense Commission have participated in these meetings. It is probable that another regional conference of this type will be held in the Middle West in the immediate future.

In the defense field, the Council of State Governments, together with the State and Local division of the National Defense Commission, has served as the clearing house and point of contact between state and federal officials, including the National Defense Commission, on defense matters. Indeed, the Director in the Council of State Governments is now serving as acting Director of the State and Local division of the National Defense Commission.

The legislative program of the Council of State Governments and the Governors' Conference, providing for model acts on sabotage prevention, control of explosives, mobilization of state guards, and the protection of public properties, which was drafted with the assistance of the Department of Justice, the War Department, and the Defense Commission, is being sponsored in other states by Commissions on Interstate Cooperation. This legislative program also deserves your support, as does that of the National Conference of Uniform Laws of the American Bar Association, which is integrated with the Council. Definite legislation, as in the case of the Council's efforts to eliminate interstate trade barriers, was developed at regional and national conferences attended by state officials from the 44 states participating in the Council.

Iowa should participate more actively in this work and do its part to support both its Cooperation Commission and the Council of State Governments. It is estimated that an appropriation of $2,000.00 for the biennium would provide for Iowa's full participation in this work. Through the payment of $500.00 per year dues to the Council, out of such an appropriation, each member of the Legislature would receive the magazine, "State Government", which is published monthly, and a copy of the 300-page reference manual, "The Book of the States," and in addition would be entitled to the use of the Council's research and inquiry service, which is maintained for state officials.

Iowa would also be entitled to have a member of its legislature serve on the Council's Board of Managers and thus take an active part in the determination of the Council's policies.

At present some 36 states have contributed to the Council through appropriations ranging from $500.00 from the smaller states, such as Arizona, to $7,500.00 annually from New York. Iowa's neighboring states contribute as follows: Illinois, $1,500.00; Missouri, $2,500.00; Wisconsin, $1,000.00; Nebraska, $1,000.00.

By appropriating this sum for Iowa's Commission on Interstate Cooperation, and for her contribution to the Council, this state will be doing its part toward developing "a more perfect Union" and making state government generally more effective.

This work of interstate cooperation and this organization of the states deserve your support.

Respectfully submitted,
C. F. SHIMANEK.

BILLS INDEFINITELY POSTPONED UNDER RULE 28

The Chief Clerk announced that the following bills are indefinitely postponed under rule 28: House Files 95, 182 and 43.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

I voted against House File 91 for the following reasons:

1. I believe that it is unconstitutional in that it violates the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States which provides that no state shall deprive "any person of life, liberty, or property without due process of law."

2. In many cases of violations of this section, less flagrant than this bill, the Supreme Court of the United States has declared state statutes unconstitutional and has set aside convictions.

3. No state has the moral right, much less the legal right, to demand in advance from a defendant the names of his witnesses. It cannot be done in any civil case—a fortiori—it ought not be granted to a state in a criminal case.

I appreciate the difficulties often encountered by county attorneys in meeting the defenses of alibi and insanity but these difficulties should not be obviated by uprooting the Constitution of the United States.

ALBERT STEINBERG.

Prentis of Ringgold moved that the House recess until 1:00 p. m. today; and that when the House adjourn this afternoon it be to reconvene at 9:45 a. m. Wednesday, February 19, 1941.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 17

Whereas, The 48th General Assembly passed an act creating what is known as the Farm to Market Road Fund and initiated appropriate legislation for the handling thereof, and

Whereas, The Federal Bureau of Roads controls the expenditure of the money allocated by the federal government to match state funds provided for the same purpose, and any roads so built must be constructed in harmony with their specifications. This has resulted in the feeling that our Farm to Market Road program is not being advanced as fast as was originally hoped it would be; now therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the State of Iowa, the Senate Concurring: That we hereby memorialize the Congress of the United States to liberalize the regulations governing the allocation of federal funds to the various states for the purpose of building farm to market roads and to particularly liberalize the rules limiting the highways upon which such funds can be expended for the improvement thereof; and

That the various states through the appropriate authority created by them for that purpose and in Iowa particularly, the State Highway Commission, rather than the Federal Bureau of Roads, be given more authority to supervise the expenditure of such funds, as may be allocated to a given state for the construction of farm to market roads, than they previously have had;

Be It Further Resolved: That the Secretary of State be and is hereby directed to send a duly certified copy of this resolution to the Senate of the United States and one to the House of Representatives in the Congress of the United States, and to each Iowa member thereof.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR

Mr. A. C. Gustafson,
Chief Clerk, House of Representatives,
Des Moines, Iowa.

Receipt is acknowledged of your letter of February 6, transmitting a certified copy of Concurrent Resolution No. 10 of the Iowa House of Representatives recommending that the season for hunting migratory waterfowl in Iowa be from October 1 to December 15, and that hunters be permitted to use five live decoys at each blind. The Resolution also urges that in the event the use of live decoys is permitted when hunting these birds, that persons using them on navigable waters be required to pay a license fee of $1.00, and that a penalty be provided for failure to obtain and exhibit such license.

You are assured that most careful consideration will be given to the several recommendations contained in the Resolution when proposed changes in the Migratory Bird Treaty Act regulations are under discussion. As to requiring the users of live decoys to pay a special license fee, I wish to advise you that the Migratory Bird Treaty does not vest in this Department any authority to prescribe such a fee.

Sincerely yours,
A. J. Wirtz
Under Secretary
Department of the Interior

HOUSE MEMORIAL RESOLUTION

Whereas, The Honorable C. Orville Lee of Sac county, who was a member of the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh General Assemblies, died on January 20, 1941; therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Forty-ninth General Assembly: That a committee of three be appointed to draft suitable resolutions commemorating his life, character and service to the state.

Scott of Sac asked and obtained unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution and moved its adoption.

Motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

The Speaker appointed the following as a committee to draft suitable resolutions: Scott of Sac, Bockwoldt of Ida and Hocum of Buena Vista.

Latchaw of Muscatine offered the following resolution:

Whereas, The Iowa House of Representatives during the 47th General

Assembly spent nearly an entire ten days time in the preparation, study, and consideration of both liquor local option and beer bills, resulting in the final passage by the House of an improved beer bill—which bill for some reason or other was not considered by the Senate, and

Whereas, The Iowa House of Representatives during the 48th General Assembly spent another long period of time in the preparation, consideration and study of similar liquor, beer and temperance bills, resulting in the final passage of another beer bill designed to do away with the worst features of the present practice of dispensing beer and providing for stricter law enforcement, and

Whereas, As this beer bill passed by the House again failed to secure consideration of the Senate, and

Whereas, In the 49th General Assembly we will undoubtedly have the same series of bills introduced which will require another two weeks or more of the time of the House for consideration and passage with no assurance that it will receive consideration, now therefore

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives Here Assembled:

That we hereby mutually agree to defer action on all bills of this nature whether they be liquor, local option, or beer bills and agree to consider only such liquor, beer, or temperance bills as are approved, passed, and messaged over to the House for consideration, or such bills as it is possible to agree on in joint committee with the Senate.

Be It Further Resolved: That the purpose of this resolution is friendly and not in any manner to be construed as critical or condemnatory, and is merely designed to save the time of the House of Representatives for action and discussion on other important bills which have not heretofore been considered on the floor of the House because of lack of time for such consideration.

Be It Further Resolved: That no action on such bills will be considered or taken except as can be agreed on by a joint session of the Liquor Control Committee of both the House and the Senate and then on only such bills as are approved by a majority of the members of these joint committees and recommended to both branches of the Legislature for passage.

Laid over under rule 34.

Be It Enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

Section 1. Section seven thousand five hundred sixty-three (7563), Code, 1939, is amended by inserting after the word "board" in the fourth line of said section the words "in charge of the district in which such outlet ditch, drain or natural watercourse is located", and by striking the word "the" before the word "board" in the eighth line of said section and substituting in lieu thereof the word "said".

Sec. 2. Section seven thousand five hundred sixty-three (7563), Code, 1939, is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following:

"Before the board may determine that it is necessary to clean out, deepen, enlarge, extend or straighten said ditch, drain, or natural watercourse, in order to carry off the combined waters of such districts, it shall obtain the report of the survey and recommendation therefor of a competent, licensed engineer whose recommendation and report shall set forth a map and plan and specifications for such work, the drainage districts which, in his opinion, will be benefited thereby, and his estimate of the total cost of such work. The board may thereupon either reject, or recommend the adoption of such report, and recommendation of the engineer, and may in its said recommendation include such amendments to the engineer's plan for such work and his estimate of the cost thereof as it may deem best. But, prior to the hearing thereon upon notice as hereinafter provided, no recommendation or plan for such work shall be finally adopted."

"Upon the tentative approval or recommendation of a plan for such work and of the estimate of the cost thereof by said board, it shall adopt a resolution of necessity for such work and shall thereupon recommend such plan and specification therefor and the designation of districts to be benefited thereby as it may deem best; and shall thereupon fix a time and place for hearing thereon, which shall be at a county seat of some county in which at least part of one of the districts to be assessed therefor is located; and shall thereupon give a brief notice of the recommendation by it of such tentative plan and, the drainage districts proposed to be assessed and the estimate of cost and of the time and place for hearing thereon, stating the hour thereof, by publication of such notice once, at least fifteen days before such hearing, in at least one newspaper of general circulation published in each county wherein any part of any district to be assessed for the cost of such work is located; which notice shall be addressed to the boards of supervisors or trustees as the case may be in charge of each district proposed to be assessed therefor, stating the name of each district, the estimate of the total cost of such work, the districts proposed to be assessed, and the time and place for hearing thereon; and that the question of the adoption, rejection or amendment of such plan shall be decided at such hearing by the votes of the majority of the boards in charge of the districts proposed to be assessed therefor; notice of said hearing containing the recommendation of such tentative plan, the drainage districts proposed to be assessed and the estimate of cost, shall be served by registered mail at least ten (10) days before such hearing upon the County Auditor or county auditors of those counties in which said drainage districts are located.

"The boards in charge of all of the districts proposed to be assessed for such proposed work shall meet as a joint board at such time and place for the purpose of deciding whether or not such work shall be done, adopting the plan and specifications therefor if it be decided that same be done, and selecting the engineer to supervise the work. The members in attendance of any of said boards shall act for such board, and the majority of such members in attendance of any board shall decide upon the action to be taken by such board at said meeting."

Sec. 6. Any person whose rights are affected by any final action of said constituent boards and any board having supervision of any district affected thereby, may appeal from any final action of said boards in relation to any matter involving the rights of such person or of such district to the district court of any county in which any of the districts affected by such final action is located.

Sec. 7. Any such appeal shall be taken, perfected and conducted in the time and manner as provided by sections seven thousand five hundred fourteen (7514), seven thousand five hundred fifteen (7515), seven thousand five hundred sixteen (7516), seven thousand five hundred seventeen (7517), seven thousand five hundred eighteen (7518), and seven thousand five hundred nineteen (7519), code, 1939, for appeals contemplated by said sections. Whereas, In accordance with an act of Congress a dam was erected across the Mississippi river at Keokuk, Iowa; and

Whereas, This public service has further culminated in his being elected to the office of vice president of the United States, one step away from the highest dignity of the land, and the first Iowan to bring such honor to the state, and

Whereas, The future greatness of this man may make more difficult an adequate historical collection of former possessions and mementoes, now therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring: That the Curator of the Iowa Historical Department be instructed to purchase the arithmetic formerly used by the Hon. Henry A. Wallace as an Iowa schoolboy, which is now on sale and display, at such price as may be approved by the Executive Council, and that the said book be placed in the Iowa Museum as a start of a collection of mementoes of the said Henry A. The committee waited upon the Iowa Pioneer Lawmakers' Association and escorted them to the seats provided in front of the rostrum.

Senator Leo A. Elthon gave the following address of welcome on the part of the Senate:

MR. PRESIDENT AND MEMBERS OF THE PIONEER LAWMAKERS ASSOCIATION: This is a distinct honor, and a very pleasant duty has been accorded me in welcoming you in behalf of the Iowa Senate to this Joint Convention of the legislature today.

I want to congratulate you each as individuals and collectively as a group for the fine record that you have made as former members of the Iowa legislature. It seems that Iowa in the past has been very fortunate in the caliber of the men who have guided the affairs of state.

No doubt you had many perplexing problems to solve and did solve them in a statesmanlike way. Perhaps some of the decisions you made were not popular at the time you made them but since have proven to be right.

No doubt you had your problems but you met them. No doubt you were criticized but you bore the criticism and were not deterred from the just and equitable solution of the problems that you faced.

We remember that you adopted the capitol extension improvement which probably was not too popular at the time but since has proven to be very wise. Iowa is proud today of its beautiful capitol grounds and rightly so. You took Iowa out of the mud and gave Iowa a system of highways which at that time was perhaps a little unpopular but since has proven to have been right and the best. You were true statesmen. We are proud of you today. No doubt some of you paid the price and were defeated for reelection because of standing firmly for what you believed was right.

As the years go by you get much satisfaction in knowing that right and justice must prevail. We see you here today. Some of you are growing old and we honor you. We pledge ourselves to follow in your footsteps and where you lay the burden down, we took it up. God helping us, we shall carry on. We are faced with different problems today, perhaps not new problems, but problems that arise because of changing conditions, problems that must be solved, problems that shall be solved. Your presence here today renews in us the determination to carry on, to use the same measure, the same yardstick in making our decisions that you used. Namely, is it just? Is it unjust? Is it right? Is it wrong? We are determined to make Iowa a greater state, a better place in which to live.

With this singleness of purpose, we pledge ourselves to carry on the work that you so ably commenced. We ask your blessing in this and if it please God, we shall leave to those who follow us the same great and noble heritage that you, the pioneer lawmakers, have left to us.

Irwin of Lee moved that a committee of two be appointed to escort McFarlane of Black Hawk to the Speaker's rostrum, preceding the motion with the following remarks:

MR. PRESIDENT, MR. SPEAKER, GENTLEMEN OF THE JOINT CONVENTION: The members of the Iowa House of Representatives are very proud to have among their members a man who is eligible to be down in front with the Pioneer Lawmakers. The gentleman to whom I refer has served ten or more sessions in the legislature. He has been Speaker of the House, he has been Lieutenant Governor, and I can say without fear of contradiction that he has had more to do with good, solid, substantial legislation in the state of Iowa than any other man living or dead. I suggest, Mr. President, that you appoint a committee to escort the gentleman from Black Hawk, the Honorable Arch W. McFarlane, to the rostrum.

Motion prevailed and the following committee was appointed: Senator Berg of Black Hawk and Representative Irwin of Lee.

McFarlane of Black Hawk was escorted to the Speaker's rostrum, and briefly addressed the Joint Convention as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT, MEMBERS OF THE IOWA PIONEER LAWMAKERS ASSOCIATION, MEMBERS OF THE JOINT ASSEMBLY: Really I do not feel like I am a pioneer. I have just kind of grown up here. I can see many friends of mine that have served with me for a number of sessions seated in the front row. To me they do not seem any older than they did at that time. Perhaps they are a little more mature, and think the legislature is not run just exactly as it should be. But I can assure them that some times I think the same.

But it is quite a record, and it is quite a privilege to serve the people of a community and of the state as I have. I have always tried to do that which I thought was for the best interests of all of the people, or at least the majority. We cannot satisfy them all, but if we try to do what is right we have no cause to fear of the future.

I could call some of these Pioneer Lawmakers by name—Carl Reed, Judge Mantz, Roy Murray, George Slemmons, Fred McCulloch, Ray Scott, Harry White—many others that have served with me in the years past.

During the last session I had the privilege of delivering the address at the Memorial Service which was held in this chamber, and you would be surprised as to the number of those that had passed to the Great Beyond in that two year period—those that have had an interest in the welfare of the community, served as members of the legislature, tried to do that which they thought was for the best interests of the people they represented—they have gone.

Some day this legislature will be in other hands. These that are gathered here in front will be taken away from us. Others will carry on. But I can only hope that they will carry on in a spirit of fairness and honesty in which it has been carried on during the years that I have served as a member of the General Assembly. I am indeed grateful for this recognition. I appreciate it very much. I do not feel that I am deserving of it, but I thank you very kindly for this opportunity.

Representative A. H. Avery of Clay gave the following address of welcome on the part of the House:

MR. LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR, MR. SPEAKER, MEMBERS OF THE JOINT ASSEMBLY, AND PIONEER LAWMAKERS OF IOWA: You Pioneer Lawmakers of Iowa down there and up here—I salute you.

To me the name "Pioneer" has an especial significance. From boyhood to manhood I have ever loved to sit at the feet of pioneers and hear their story of pioneer life. I had that pleasure only a few days ago on a Saturday afternoon in the back of this House, when one of the Pioneer Lawmakers of Iowa came and sat down beside me and for an hour entertained me with experiences while he was a lawmaker.

And one of those experiences he related was of the Senate marching through that door every morning to join in a joint session to elect a United States Senator. One hundred times, he said, one hundred times they marched through that door in here and voted, and then on the one hundredth day they elected W. S. Kenyon United States Senator, the last time that the General Assembly of Iowa was permitted to elect a United States Senator.

Talking later with some people, "Why," they said, "I didn't know that the General Assembly ever elected a United States Senator." And they always had up to that time.

The word "pioneer" has a peculiar significance. To me it signifies one who independently loves freedom, and my mind goes back to the very beginning of settlements on this side of the Atlantic. And would today that we might be privileged to sit at the feet of those who came over from Europe first. Over there as they set sail they left homes, they left factories, they left churches, they left schools, they left friends and relatives and set sail to a land where there were no homes, no place where they might go to buy themselves this or that or the other thing. No employers to employ them. It was a desolate waste. Why, if the European countries at that time had concentrated their political prisoners and led them on board ship and carried them across the Atlantic and then unloaded them and left them in this desolate land, it would have gone down in history as the greatest crime of the ages.

But here were people, good people, who were voluntarily leaving home, leaving civilization behind, landing on a stern and rock-bound coast with joy in their hearts, with a sparkle in their eye and a smile on their lips. Why? Why, because they loved freedom. Freedom caused them to do that. They loved freedom.

And they built factories, built churches, built schools, and after they had built factories—back in Massachusetts they had a factory for making hats, and parliament over across the water passed a law that they could not sell those hats any place except in the state of Massachusetts. Even over here at that early day law was stepping in and taking a part of their freedom, and they did not like it. And some of them had been engaged in England in working in the cutlery factories. They knew how to shape steel, and they started the steel industry in this country. And parliament passed another law, that no steel instrument of any kind could be made in any of the colonies. They could not even make a jack knife or butter knife. Law, law stepped in and took away a part of their freedom, the thing that they had gone out expecting nothing but toil and sweat and blood ahead of them. And then law stepped in to take away a part of that freedom that they had struggled for.

They revolted. They fought a successful war. Then they set up a government under the Articles of Confederation. I have not enumerated only just two of the laws that they did not like. They were a lot of them. They did not like laws. It took away their freedom. And so under the articles of confederation there was not much opportunity for law. It was a very loose thing, the confederation they established.

But experience demonstrated that they had to have more law than the articles provided for. So a constitutional convention was assembled and they framed the Constitution of the United States, and the first sentence in that constitution, after the preamble, was: "All legislative power herein granted"—not a part of it—all legislative power—all the power to make laws herein granted—"shall be vested in a Congress of the United States consisting of a senate and a house of representatives." Two bodies. In order to become a law it had to pass one house by a majority vote and then pass the other house by a majority vote.

And then they were not satisfied. They were afraid of laws that would take away their freedom. So they gave to the President the power to veto, and they set up a supreme court to tell whether or not the laws enacted by the senate and the house and signed by the President compared to that document, that document which is the guarantee of their liberty, the Constitution of the United States.

A lot of people would like to see it easy to make laws. The founders of this nation tried to make it hard to make laws. I would like to go on and talk to you folks for an hour and a half, but that I cannot do. The Speaker limited me, and I have got to cut down here and skip a lot of things that I thought of talking about, and come down to Iowa.

When this state was founded by pioneers, men who loved liberty, men who had come out here expecting nothing but toil and sweat and some of them even blood, they adopted as their motto: "Our liberties we prize and our rights we will maintain." We set up a government in Iowa. It run along for years and years, and it came about that certain interested groups got control of the county conventions of the two political parties, and the state conventions of the two political parties, and a group were ruling Iowa through the convention system in Iowa, and you—you pioneers—stopped it. It was taking away that thing that all pioneers loved—freedom, liberty, and you enacted the state primary law for the state of Iowa.

My time is up, gentlemen. I salute you. I would love to have the opportunity to sit at the feet of each of you and have you tell me of the pioneer days in the legislature. We welcome you, we members of the House. We are glad to have you here, and we are glad to have your counsel and advice relative to pending legislation.

The program was then carried out as arranged by the Iowa Pioneer Lawmakers' Association, President H. S. Van Alstine of the association in charge.

President Van Alstine introduced John A. Story, who addressed the Joint Convention as follows:

MEMBERS OF THE FORTY-NINTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: Some six years ago the secretary of the Pioneer Lawmakers Association stated that there were then only three members of the House of the Twentieth General Assembly living. He gave the names. I was one of the three. I do not now remember the names of the other two, but so far as I can learn they have both passed to their reward. So I may appear before you probably as one of the antiques.

The Twentieth General Assembly met in the old Capitol Building just across the way where the Soldiers' Monument now stands. We met, organized by electing Mr. Wolf, of Cedar County, Speaker, and the chief clerk and other employes, and then in a few days we moved over to this magnificent building. So the Twentieth General Assembly was the last to meet in the old Capitol Building and the first to meet in this magnificent one.

The hall in which we met in the old building, especially by its seats and desks, reminded me of the little old country schoolhouse I attended some eighty years ago. This magnificent building was like heaven—wonderful!

While it was magnificent, we did not enjoy all the benefits that you members of the forty-ninth now enjoy. For example, we did not vote then by pushing a button. We had to answer a roll call. Then, too, no single member of the House had a clerk. Possibly a half dozen clerks in the House, serving the most important committees. Now you have, as I understand it, about eleven employes looking after the doors. You have, I guess, one hundred or more stenographers and typewriters to look after your bills and amendments and your correspondence. Then, if I remember correctly, there was no typewritten bill introduced in that House—all by longhand, and we carried on our correspondence in the same manner.

So far as the ability of the members of the general assembly to serve, I think they probably were average, compared with this or several general assemblies. There were some men then noted in the state as members of the House. For example, I will mention ex-Governor Carpenter, who then had come from Webster county to serve as a member of the House. It made me think of John Quincy Adams, once president of the United States, later serving his country as a member of congress. Now while the office in each case might seem less important, yet they were both honorably served.

Other prominent members of the House were General Tuttle, of Polk county; Colonel Clayton, of Pottawattamie county; Captain Head, who became Speaker of the House of the Twenty-first General Assembly. And there was Captain Lyons, of Guthrie county, who afterwards became auditor of state. Then there was Captain Watrous, a prominent business man in Des Moines. There was a Mr. Kerr, of Grundy, who afterwards served for a number of years in the United States Congress. Then there was Silas Weaver, of Hardin county, I believe, chairman of the judiciary committee in the twentieth, and later served for many years with honor on the supreme bench of the state of Iowa. So you see there were some prominent people then. Others became prominent later. Some of the members were afterwards elected as district judges throughout different parts of the state. I don't know so much about the Senate in the general assembly, but I do know that there were two of the most prominent lawyers of the state in the Senate of that assembly—Mills of Davenport and Hall of Burlington. Then there was another senator—I don't recall his name, but he was later appointed United States district judge in Iowa.

There were, of course, other able men, but I cannot take up your time to speak of any more. I will speak shortly about some of the legislation that took place in the Twentieth General Assembly. One of the important bills was a bill providing that we pay our taxes semi-annually in place of annually as they had to do before. The bill passed the Senate, came to the House and was defeated—fought bitterly. On the roll call at that time, when it got down near the bottom of the roll, one member, myself, voted against the bill, although I had promised to vote for it. The manager of that bill in the House came and called me down for changing my mind. I told him I hadn't, just to watch. And as soon as the vote was announced I moved to reconsider. That night we went to work and persuaded a number of those who had voted against it to change their minds and to vote for it, and the bill the next day passed, and it is the law today.

Another important matter that probably attracted the attention of the people throughout the state was the prohibitory law. As you know, the people of Iowa had ratified an amendment to the constitution providing for prohibition in Iowa and providing that the next legislature should pass laws necessary to put it in force. It was a matter that took considerable debate. We found on canvassing we had just fifty-one votes, Republicans, that would vote for the bill. It only took fifty-one votes at that time to pass a bill in the House. So we felt easy until just about the time for the bill to come up when Mr. Weaver, that I have heretofore mentioned, took sick and was sick in bed. And in order to gain that fifty-one votes that we thought we were sure of we carried him in on a stretcher and put him down on the floor in front of the Clerk's desk. But when the roll was finally called one Democrat, I think the member from Montgomery, although I don't recall his name, voted with us and the prohibitory law was passed.

Another matter that I might speak of, but very briefly. At that time we only had one insane asylum in the state of Iowa. A bill was introduced to locate one in southwestern Iowa. It was fought by members from central Iowa who tried to amend the bill and have it located in west central Iowa. But after considerable fighting they got it through the House and it became a law. They said they were going to build a cottage plan asylum. But when the twenty-first was reached they reported they had a foundation laid for a central building for that asylum. They wanted an appropriation to continue building that. In sort of sport I moved a bill to provide that we should appropriate $15,000 to box up that foundation and preserve it until a more favorable date was reached to erect the building. So that the matter was passed.

Before I take up the twenty-first, I want to say that one of our most constant and faithful visitors in the Twentieth General Assembly was Mr. Finkbine of Des Moines, who was the superintendent or supervisor of the construction of this magnificent building. He was proud of his work, and we were proud of him. It stands, it seems to me, as a monument to the memory of that honest and faithful servant of Iowa, for no whisper was ever uttered against any acts or matters of his. The Twentieth General Assembly, as I told you before, had elected a Speaker. The Chief Clerk was Sidney A. Foster, the author of that wonderful slogan at that time, "Of all that is good, Iowa affords the best." Sid was a good clerk. Later he and Governor Jackson and Gib Pray, then clerk of the supreme court, organized the Royal Union Life Insurance Company, which lasted for many years, did a great business, but finally failed—probably after the old managers of it had passed away.

The legislature of the Twenty-first General Assembly don't impress me as anything very special. There were only, as I said, a few new members. Many of the old members of the Twentieth General Assembly were returned to the twenty-first. But there were one or two new members that I do feel that I ought to mention. One was Bob Cousins, in the House from Cedar county—very quiet, inoffensive young man, who was a member of the House, who, as you may know, was later elected as a member of congress and attained to a national reputation as an orator.

In the Senate one new member that I recall was Lafayette Young, for a long time owner and editor of the Des Moines Capital, and who for a short time served as a member of the United States Senate.

There is one matter in the Twenty-first General Assembly that I am not very proud of, and I don't think it added any special glory to the memory of the Twenty-first. Serious charges were preferred in the House against our State Auditor. We had two Judiciary Committees then. The charges were referred to No. 2 Judiciary Committee. They held secret sessions, taking the evidence, excluding newspaper reporters and everybody else except witnesses and members of the committee and possibly the members who preferred the charges. They finally brought in a report recommending that State Auditor Brown should be impeached. I as chairman of No. 1 Judiciary Committee opposed it, said "we have had no evidence; you men sat in secret session; we don't know what the evidence is. I don't feel like voting on this bill without knowing something about what the charges are and what the evidence was." But the House, as I say, voted for impeachment. A committee was appointed to conduct a trial before the State Senate. I refused to take any part in that, declined to act as prosecutor with the other members of the committee on that charge. The Senate of the Twenty-first General Assembly found State Auditor Brown not guilty. But it cost the state of Iowa over $40,000. Thank you, gentlemen.

President Van Alstine introduced the Honorable George M. Titus, who addressed the Joint Convention as follows:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: The remarks of the last speaker make me want to tell a story before I start on my principal address. He talked about this wonderful capitol. The first appropriation of a million and a half was made by the Thirteenth General Assembly. Then, as now, Des Moines people were awake to their own interests, and the members of the General Assembly were dined and wined and entertained, the purpose being to get that appropriation of a million and a half to build this fine building, to start it. Some of the members, we are told, held back quite a while, because they got more dinners by waiting. And finally the people got so interested in that appropriation that the Chaplain made it part of every prayer, and in this body, this House, the Chaplain petitioned the Almighty to put it into the minds of these statesmen to build a suitable building for this grand old state of Iowa. And we are told that a member of this House got the floor and said, "Mr. Speaker, I would like to introduce a resolution." He was recognized by the Speaker. "I will read the resolution. 'Resolved, that in the future Chaplains praying for the passage of bills shall take them in the order they appear on the calendar.'" Finally the bill was passed, and we are all glad of this wonderful building. As I look it over, the time since I was here, seems to me the decorations have got much more handsome than when we were here.

Now I am going to start out. I asked the Lieutenant Governor how much time I could have. He said there was no limit. I don't want to bore you, but I will tell you some of the things that may be worth your while to listen to.

In 1864, mind you, on a little farm in the state of New York there lived a small family in which there was a boy nine years old and part of the work of the family was the raising of turkeys. That year a roaming mother of twelve or fifteen little turkeys was accidentally killed, and the mother of that tiny little boy told him that he could have those turkeys if he would rear them by hand, so to speak. This he did. They grew and grew in affection for him. They bothered him when he walked. They were so fond of him they mingled with his feet. One day as he was out by the door he saw three carriages coming up the street. They were filled with soldiers of the Civil War home on a furlough, singing patriotic songs. As they came in front of his home where the boy and the turkeys stood they stopped their carriages, got out, and stole all of his turkeys. And as they went away they sang,

John Brown's body lies a mould'ring in the grave

As we go marching along with the turkeys.

The little boy went in and wept on his mother's bosom, and told her about the loss of what he expected from those turkeys. And she comforted him by telling him that those soldiers probably would never eat turkey again; they were fighting for the Union and the preservation of the flag.

And the next year that same boy stood at the same gate and saw a man riding by as fast as he could saying, "Lincoln is shot! Lincoln is shot!" That boy, that lad, is now addressing you. I tell you so you may know what a long, long trail I have traveled.

My father moved with his family to Michigan, and from there to the great state of Iowa. I am so glad that he did, and the state has a reputation now that is known. I like to tell the story of a friend of mine from Muscatine, who several years ago visited Los Angeles. And while on the streets there he was talking with a couple of strangers and one of them said, "What state are you from?" My friend said, "The best state in the Union." They said, "Shake, neighbor, we are from Iowa too." They didn't have to name it.

I don't know why, but I am in better health today than when I came to this General Assembly in '98. And my physicians tell me that I have a prospect of hitting the century mark. Now I want to tell you some of the high spots when I came to the legislature in the horse and buggy days. I wonder how many in this audience remember or had a personal acquaintance with Senator William B. Allison. Please raise your hands. (About a dozen hands raised.)

I want to remind you today of what a wonderful statesman he seemed to be. While not always agreeing with him, but away back, some of us young fellows having reached the smart age, decided that the tariff ought to be revised. We went to Washington and called on Senator Allison. He said, "Mr. Titus, how are things in Iowa?" I said, "Agriculturally they are all right, but if you pass the McKinley bill as introduced, I don't know what will happen." It did pass, and we only elected four Republican congressmen. But the final result was that it made McKinley president in 1896.

And years ago when "Pitchfork" Tillman, a Democratic senator from North or South Carolina, came to Muscatine to lecture at our chautauqua, it was my business to take him up on the stage. And I said to him, "Senator Tillman, what do you think of our man Senator Allison?" He turned to me and he said, "Mr. Titus, what do I think of Senator Allison? My God, I love that man." And he brought his hand over and put it on mine and held it for two or three minutes. He said, "Mr. Titus, Senator Allison plays on that Senate like the lady plays on the piano. Anything that the old man wants he can have."

Senator Dolliver I regard as one of the best campaigners this state ever had. I remember hearing him in a campaign speech, remember hearing him talking about the soil in the eastern country. He said, "I was back in New England, and I cannot understand how they raise anything back there. I've walked past the cemetery, and the sexton was digging a grave. I went in to see how deep the soil was, and I asked the sexton how they raised anything in that soil. And his reply was, 'We fertilize.' 'You fertilize?' 'Yes, we even fertilize the cemetery.' 'Fertilize the cemetery? What do you fertilize the cemetery for?' He said, 'We feel that it would help out in the resurrection.'"

The high spot in the general assembly when I came here was back in a measure that finally was passed and became the law of the land. Senator Emmert of Atlantic said to me—he was one time president of the State Board of Health—he says, "I have got a little bill here that I want you to help me on, Senator Titus. It is a bill requiring the testing of cattle brought into this state for tuberculosis." I said, "Why, I don't know anything about tuberculosis in cows." And he said he wasn't getting some votes. I stepped into the library and Johnson Brigham gave me the report of the Massachusetts commission in which it stated they had just paid $275,000 for the cows they killed that could not stand the tubercular test.

Well, I took that book over to the hotel and I read until two o'clock, realizing what an advantage I would have when the bill was attacked on the floor. And I remember the language of Senator Bolter when he got the floor after Senator Emmert had presented the bill. He said, "Mr. President, I have been a member of this general assembly for sixteen years, but this is the first time that I ever knew of the state being asked to chase microbes and bacilli. There stands the senator from Woodbury, six feet two in his stocking feet. Where in the name of God would he have grown if he had been nourished with milk after the microbes and bacilli had been killed? Mr. President, I see on the border line between Iowa and Missouri a guard that has a lariat in one hand and a tuberculin tester in the other. Here comes a Missouri farmer with his cows. 'Halt,' says the guard. He lariats the cows and he sticks the tuberculin tester into one of the animals and says, 'Take your cow home. She has consumption.'"

While that sort of ridicule kept going on I had my book there, and after all the attacks on the bill had been made I just proceeded to read from my book that the State of Massachusetts paid $275,000 for cows they killed after examination for tuberculosis in Massachusetts, and then that the Royal Commission of England had decided that tuberculosis in cows was the same as in human beings.

The bill failed by two votes. I remember Senator Emmert said, "Senator Titus, the time will come when all cows will be tested." I notice by the last report of the Department of Agriculture that that is the fact, that now tuberculosis in cattle is almost unknown. That was of great interest to me, as I was able at that time by reason of this book to meet the situation, and now it is an accomplished fact.

When I came to the legislature my partner said, "Now you are going up there, why not get rid of so much politics? We just go through one campaign and then we start in on another." I consulted with the older members here and they said, "Yes, such should be the law." I said, "Let's do it." Nobody seemed to do it, so I went into the library and read the Constitution of every state in the Union and found that only ten states had annual elections, including Iowa, and I introduced the resolution, after having prepared it and submitted it to Judge Deemer, who sat at the same table with me at the old Savery Hotel.

Well, here is where the excitement comes. I had no idea that that would attract any particular attention, but I found myself quite famous, and the resolution passed the General Assembly, and it passed the next General Assembly, was voted on and carried by 30,000. And then someone attacked its validity. It was defeated by the Supreme Court, and passed again, and in 1900 became the law, and we have biennial instead of annual elections, in the State every other year, saving $450,000 at least.

I want to tell you what happened in the Constitutional Amendments Committee at that time—made up of lawyers—Judge Blanchard, George Allyn, Charlie Mullan of Waterloo—all lawyers. They said to me, "If this resolution is to pass and we are to have biennial elections instead of annual, we will elect all the officers at the same time."

I said, "Our plan is to have a four year term, and elect one-half at one biennial period and the other half at the other—at the next biennial period." Now I felt it not out of place, since there is a bill before this General Assembly changing to four year terms, to tell you that it was the plan of the Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth General Assemblies—the plan of the committee—that we should have a four year term. And while you are doing that, what is the objection to a resolution to be passed by this General Assembly providing for a four year term for the Governor and the Lieutenant Governor and the officers governed by the Constitution? If it is passed by the next General Assembly and becomes a law, you will have carried out what was the intention of the General Assembly that passed the first resolution providing for biennial elections.

Now I have taken considerable time, but I want to finish what I have to say by telling you a true story on this long, long trail that I have traveled. Discontent strikes people and they become dissatisfied. I know in '88 I felt that Muscatine was too small for my caliber. But I stayed right there, and I want to tell you a true story as I have told the Pioneer Lawmakers and just as I tell you here today, and then I will be through.

Several years ago Mrs. Titus and I went to Europe. Not speaking any but the English language we decided that we would rather go in a party and be conducted. We selected a Tourist Company that only permitted about fifteen. When we arrived at New York we found that of those fifteen six were from Philadelphia, four from Evansville, Indiana, two from New Haven, two from Camden, New Jersey, one from Toledo, and Mrs. Titus and myself from Muscatine. For the first time in my life I felt the embarrassment of coming from a rather insignificant or unknown city. They asked me how Muscatine was spelled. And when I said it was an Indian name they asked me if there were Indians there then. And Mrs. Titus suggested that we should have registered from Chicago. And I am telling you this story because you may find this out about the town where you live. You may discover a good deal that you don't know about.

One evening when we were together someone asked if I had read the book, "Pigs is Pigs." And I said, "Yes, that was written by Ellis Parker Butler, who lives in my town."

And on another evening they spoke of the wonderful company that made Royal baking powder. And I said, "Will Ziegler got that formula for the Royal baking powder from a steamboat captain in Muscatine, and he started his career manufacturing it in a drug store in Muscatine." When we got over to Amsterdam I excused myself from the crowd and said, "We are going to call on the United States consul, he is a friend of ours from Muscatine, Frank Mahin, a brother of John Mahin."

When we were coming down through France one of the gentlemen called my attention to a sign out in the field, "H. J. Heinz—57 Varieties," and said "That is a wonderful institution, advertised all over the world." "Yes," I said, "it is, and the largest branch outside of Pittsburgh is located in my town." When we got to Paris I said, "A friend of mine is living near here in a large chateau on an estate. If I knew where it was I would go to see her." Our names were published in the Paris edition of the New York Herald, and this lady happened to be there and to notice it and invited us to visit them. The conductor gave us a car and the chauffeur took us down to that wonderful estate of 30 acres on the banks of the Seine.

And the next day as we started towards the Louvre, the art gallery, the conductor said, "Mr. Titus, the driver says you called at quite a swell place." "Yes," I said, "it is. That is owned by a friend of ours from Muscatine. It cost over a million dollars."

And as we approached the art gallery, he says, "We are now approaching the statue of Lafayette given by the school children of the United States and designed by the celebrated sculptor, George Gray Barnard." I said, "Is Mr. Barnard in the city?" He said, "I don't know. Do you know him?" "Oh, yes, he used to live in Muscatine. His father was pastor of the church to which I belonged."

The Barry Manufacturing Company gave a banquet in Muscatine. I was asked to tell this story. And Pat Barry, a witty Irishman, made this reply after the story was told. He said, "We all hope that Senator Titus will live to be very old. But if he should contract the flu and pass away, I venture that when he appears at the pearly gates and the alarm is given, Saint Peter would say, 'Who is it?' and the response would come, 'Ex-Senator Titus from Muscatine,' and he would say, 'Let him right in. I used to live in Muscatine myself.'" Well, that was my embarrassment at least about my own town.

Now I give you as my parting message this incident. After a man reaches the age that I have, he doesn't care. I had occasion to write President Roosevelt a couple of years ago, and I wrote to him like I was addressing my own son. And I said, "You probably marvel at my presumption and my ability to give you advice. But I will remind you that I am old enough to be your father, and I hold to the theory that the human mind does not mature until one is seventy years of age, so there is hope for you yet, but nobody will see this letter except my stenographer and myself, unless you show it. But this is an important matter." He did show it, and he did what I asked him to.

I think it might be wise for this general assembly to keep some of these older members of the pioneer lawmakers around here from whom you might ask advice. I thank you.

Johnson of Linn moved that the Joint Convention be now dissolved.

Motion prevailed.

The House reconvened, Speaker Blue in the chair.

REPORT OF DEPARTMENT OF BANKING

Honorable Robert Blue, Speaker of the House of Representatives,
State House, Des Moines, Iowa.

Dear Mr. Speaker: I have the honor to submit to you the Report of Findings and Recommendations of the State Banking Board of the licensees operating small loan companies in Iowa, under chapter 419.1 of the 1939 Code of Iowa.

Respectfully submitted,

D. W. BATES, Superintendent.

REPORT OF FINDINGS OF THE STATE BANKING BOARD TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF IOWA

As required under section 13-A Laws of the Forty-fifth General Assembly, Extraordinary Session

REPORT OF FINDINGS OF THE STATE BANKING BOARD COVERING SMALL LOAN INDUSTRY

LICENSED SMALL LOAN COMPANIES IN IOWA

In accordance with the provisions of chapter 419.1 of the Code of Iowa, we have, through sworn statements made on blanks furnished by our office, conferences, and examinations, continued to make an annual survey of the small loan business in Iowa, including the study of all the items of cost and other phases of the business affecting the interest rate and the classification of loans. As each year's tabulations are added to the accumulated data, the record becomes increasingly helpful in fairly appraising the operation of the licensees and in determining the maximum rate to be fixed under the law. We respectfully submit the following summary of statistics and general comments as our report to the Forty-ninth General Assembly:

- Table No. 1. Distribution of Offices by Cities.
- Table No. 2. Distribution of Offices by Population.
- Table No. 3. Type of Licensees.
- Table No. 4. Number and Amount of Loans Made During the Year.
- Table No. 5. Dollar Value of Outstanding Loan Balances by Size as of December 31, 1940.
- Table No. 6. Number of Outstanding Loan Balances by Size as of December 31, 1940.
- Table No. 7. Types of Loans Made.
- Table No. 8. Delinquencies.
- Table No. 9. Occupation of Borrowers.
- Table No. 10. Use of Borrowed Money.
- Table No. 11. Suits and Foreclosures.
- Table No. 12. Historical Data.
- Table No. 13. Consolidated Statement of Assets and Liabilities.
- Table No. 14. Consolidated Profit and Loss Statement.

It is interesting to note that 122 of the 150 licensed offices are owned and operated by Iowa individuals or Iowa corporations employing local capital, and that only 28 are operated by out-of-state corporations. Seventy-six per cent of the total resources is represented in the locally owned offices, indicating that this is a home-owned business giving employment to our own people and capital. Almost without exception the other corporations have given preference to local people in employment and have also given local capital an opportunity to become interested with them.

During the past several years the department has required that loans only be made upon a regular reduction basis and wishes at this time to acknowledge the good cooperation extended by all lenders. Our present survey shows that 6.7 per cent of the total loan balance is repaid each month, indicating the average length of loans is 14.9 months. Only 4.8 per cent of the total number of loans outstanding at the end of the year were not being regularly reduced at least monthly, and considering that nearly 157,000 loans were made in 1940 we feel this is a very creditable showing. Shortening the time required for repayment is the most effective method of reducing the cost to the borrower, and in the majority of cases this can only be accomplished by the attitude and effort of the lender. The average borrower finds it easier to pay interest only than to reduce the principal, but if the lender encourages and requires a principal payment each month it can and will be made. The average length of loans has been steadily reduced for several years through the efforts of this program which required the elimination of several lenders who would not cooperate. Realizing that reducing the average time of repayment by one month saves the borrowing public more than $200,000.00 we have felt it sounder, from both a social and economic standpoint, to stress this point than to consider a drastic rate reduction.

In keeping with the provisions of the statute we have continued to annually complete a survey of the operation of the business, giving consideration to the demand representing the needs of our people and to the availability of private capital to meet the need. Also to the expenses and costs of the licensees in the operation of the offices to determine the per cent of profit possible in an efficiently operated office. We find that 156,854 individuals had need to borrow $300.00 or less during 1940 in comparison with 112,275 during the year of 1938 which shows a continued growing need for the personal finance offices. We find that the licensees not only provided capital to care for the increased demand during the year but maintained approximately $1,000,000.00 cash on hand as further evidence of their willingness to continue to care for additional needy borrowers. We find that practically all offices are operated fairly and efficiently within the purview of the law and that expenses and costs closely follow figures recognized as standards of good business. We find that the 1940 operation resulted in an average net profit slightly in excess of 7 per cent which in our opinion is not an excessive rate upon capital engaged in a business containing the risks and hazards incidental to lending money to the type of borrowers serviced by the small loan offices, and is as low a return "as will induce efficiently managed commercial capital to enter such business in sufficient amounts to make available adequate credit facilities to individuals without the security or financial responsibility usually required by commercial banks". (Section 9438.14b)

We find that taxes paid by the licensees increased $120,000.00 in 1940 and represents 10 per cent of gross income in contrast to 3.8 per cent in 1934. We are advised that it is conservative to estimate that 1941 tax payments on 1940 operations will increase between 30 per cent and 40 per cent. We feel that the unsettled conditions which undoubtedly will cause an increase in expenses and costs and may impair the ability of borrowers to repay their loans gives reason to question seriously whether the licensees can long continue to develop an equal net profit and therefore we recommend the continuance of the present legal maximum rate of 3 per cent per month upon the unpaid portion of loans not in excess of $150.00 and 2 per cent upon the unpaid portion of the loans over $150.00 and not exceeding $300.00. A reduction of rates at this time would seriously cripple the industry and would undoubtedly leave the needy borrower in many communities without a legal source of credit.

The tables submitted herewith give proof that the licensees as a whole continue to show a high regard for the law and have accepted the moral and social responsibilities created thereby. Our cost surveys still show that the present charge does not cover the cost of the smaller loans and yet more than 25 per cent of the total number of loans made come in this category. We wish to report that uniform courteous cooperation has been extended to the department.

Respectfully submitted,

PAUL H. HUSTON.
L. J. SCHUSTER.
H. P. DOWLING.

D. W. BATES,

Superintendent, Ex-Officio Chairman.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 15

Whereas, Iowa has been one of the leading horse-raising states in the United States, and

Whereas, The A.A.A. corn allotment program tends to discourage the production of these horses, and

Whereas, The production of horses does not affect farm markets such as other animals produced for meat, and

Whereas, The production of horses in Iowa makes it possible for farmers to raise and produce their own cheap power for farm work which consumes crops grown thereon; therefore

Be It Resolved by This Forty-ninth General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

Section 1. That the Congress of the United States now in session and the A.A.A. administration in Washington, D. C., be petitioned to take such steps as necessary to allow in the administration of the present A.A.A. program farm allotments two acres increase allotment of soil depleting crops for each horse or mule kept on the farms and that two (2) such animals under two (2) years of age shall be considered equivalent of one (1) adult animal. The maximum horse acreage allotments shall be made on the basis of four horses per each one quarter ($\frac{1}{4}$) section of farm land.

Sec. 2. That a copy of this resolution shall be mailed to the United States Secretary of Agriculture, Mr. Claude R. Wickard.

BILLS SIGNED BY THE GOVERNOR

Communications were received from the Governor announcing that he had approved the following bills:

March 10, 1941—H. J. R. 1, House Files 271 and 288.

March 11, 1941—House Files 13 and 33.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The following communication was received from the Governor:

MR. PRESIDENT, MR. SPEAKER, AND MEMBERS OF THE FORTY-NINTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF IOWA:

It is recognized that in a joint Federal-State program, it is well to obtain the viewpoint of the officers of the Federal Government as to whether new statutes comply with the federal plan, for, as you know, a failure to conform may mean loss of benefits; while in no way diminishing the taxes to be paid.

Therefore, on February 14, 1941, one day after approving Senate File 89, I transmitted a certified copy of the act to the Chairman of the Social Security Board at Washington, D. C., stating that I would be pleased to have his comments or suggestions with respect to the act.

I am in receipt of the following reply:

SOCIAL SECURITY BOARD
Washington, D. C.

THE HONORABLE
GEORGE A. WILSON,
Governor of Iowa,
Des Moines, Iowa
Dear Governor:

Thank you for your letter of February 14, to which was attached a copy of Senate File 89, 49th General Assembly of Iowa, as enacted, amending the Iowa unemployment compensation law, and a copy of a letter of opinion by the Iowa Attorney General.

The following comments are made in response to your request for our comments or suggestions with respect to the bill.

The bill, as enacted, appears susceptible of an interpretation which in some instances would result in loss of tax credit to Iowa employers and therefore require them to pay a higher tax to the Federal government under the provisions of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act. Under such an interpretation, refunds of contributions to Iowa employers might be permitted or required under the Iowa law and regulations in effect when contributions were paid, which contributions could not be considered "erroneously paid" within the purview of section 303 (a) (5) of the Social Security Act, as amended, and section 1603 (a) (4) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended.

The second "proviso" clause in section 1 is the language particularly open to the interpretation referred to above. This language may be interpreted (1) that the exemption applies to wages in excess of the first $3,000.00 payable during the calendar year, rather than to wages in excess of the first $3,000.00 payable for insured work during the calendar year and (2) that the exemption applies to wages in excess of the first $3,000.00 payable to the individual by any combination of employers for such insured work, rather than to wages in excess of the first $3,000.00 payable to the individual by each employer.

In order to assure Iowa employers of full credit under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act, section 1551.13-A-1 of the Iowa law might be revised to read as follows:

"On and after July 1, 1936, contributions shall accrue and become payable by each employer with respect to wages for employment as defined in section 1551.25-G, except that for the six months' period beginning July 1, 1936, such contributions shall accrue and become payable solely from employers with respect to wages payable for employment occurring on and after July 1, 1936. Such contributions shall become due and be paid to the commission for the fund at such time and in such manner as the commission may prescribe. Contributions required from an employer shall not be deducted, in whole or in part, from the wages (as defined in section 1551.25-M) of individuals in his employ. For the purposes of this section the term 'wages' shall not include that part of the remuneration which, after remuneration equal to $3,000.00 has become payable to an individual by an employer with respect to employment during the calendar year 1940, becomes payable to such individual by such employer with respect to employment occurring during such calendar year, and shall not include with respect to the calendar year 1941 and each calendar year thereafter, that part of the remuneration which, after remuneration equal to $3,000.00 has been paid to an individual by an employer with respect to employment during such calendar year, is paid to such individual by such employer with respect to employment occurring during such calendar year and after December 31, 1940. If any employer has paid to the commission contributions on any portion of the remuneration payable to an individual by such employer for insured work during the year 1940, which portion of remuneration is excluded from the term 'wages' as above provided, such payments so paid shall be deemed to have been erroneously paid within the purview of section 1551.20-D of this act."

This suggested language, it may be noted, would also permit the making of adjustments rather than refunds where such procedure is feasible and therefore preclude possible conflict with section 303 (a) (5) of the Social Security Act, as amended, and section 1603 (a) (4) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended.

We appreciate the opportunity to comment on this bill.

Sincerely,

(Signed) OSCAR M. POWELL
Executive Director

Because of the importance of the enactment, I urge that you give the matter your careful and prompt consideration.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE A. WILSON
Governor

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 12

Whereas, Iowa was developed primarily as an agricultural state and is at the present time one of the greatest agricultural areas in the Union, and

Whereas, Farming in Iowa is primarily a way of living which in the past has provided a place for ambitious and thrifty families to live in peace and security and provide for themselves the necessary and desirable things in life, and

Whereas, The advent of power machinery and equipment, together with the application of the Triple-A program, has made it possible for certain individuals, companies and corporation to farm ever-increasing areas of good farm land at a profit, and

Whereas, This practice is depriving thousands of Iowa farm families from their only way of living and is forcing many of them onto relief rolls, and

Whereas, An additional five thousand (5,000) families will be deprived of their way of livelihood again this year and will be forced to leave their present homes, and

Whereas, Through the drifting of these landless farmers from state to state in search of land and homes the solution of this great evil has passed beyond the control of the various states and the problem has become national in character and extent, and

Whereas, Through governmental agencies aid has been extended to home builders in urban districts by governmental guaranty of loans on such homes, and

Whereas, Farm homes for these dispossessed farmers are at least equally as important to the tranquility and security of our nation as are the homes for urban residents and at the present time no provision has been made to early or adequately relieve this ever-growing cancer in our body politic, and

Whereas, It has long been the established policy of our federal government to provide homes and homesteads for our farm-minded people to which policy much of our national progress may be ascribed; now therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the State of Iowa, and the House of Representatives Concurring: That we memorialize the Congress of the United States that they by amendment to the Federal Housing Act or by the enactment of new and appropriate legislation make available to farmers and especially to farm tenants who are without farms governmental aid equal to that afforded to urban residents in order that they may be able to obtain sufficient land and decent homes in which to live and maintain their families; and

Be It Further Resolved: That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States and to the Vice President and to the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States and to each member of the Congress; and

Be It Further Resolved: That Iowa, through its legislature, send a delegation to the Congress of the United States to wait upon the members of the Congress and to present to each member of the Congress this resolution in behalf of the legislature of the state of Iowa, and that the chairman of the farm tenancy committee of the Iowa Senate and the chairman of the agriculture committee 2 of the Iowa House and one other member of the minority party to be appointed jointly by the Lieutenant Governor and the Speaker of the House be the delegation to perform the duties set out in this resolution.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 17

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring: That the Fortyninth General Assembly adjourn sine die at five o'clock P. M. Thursday, April 10, 1941.

Walter of Pottawattamie, Shimanek of Jones and Pine of Louisa submitted the following report:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO REGIONAL CONFERENCE OF C. O. S. C. O. AND STATE DEFENSE COUNCILS

After six months of intense activity the United States is coming out of the tooling stage of its nation wide defense program and coming into the production stage.

There is still need for greater speed in production and wider spread for the defense industrial load and both of these objectives can be accomplished by perfecting the cooperative machinery in the several states.

These were the summarized conclusions brought out of a day's discussion and instruction at the regional conference of the State Defense councils held Friday, March 7th, in Chicago, at the invitation of the Advisory Commission to the Council of National Defense. The conference was attended by representatives from Minnesota, Michigan, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky and Wisconsin. The Iowa delegation was composed of Senators Whitehill and Zeigler and Representatives Pine, Walter and Shimanek and Rodney Q. Selby, secretary of the Iowa Industrial and Defense Commission. Two Iowa cities also sent representatives. They were Max Conrad, mayor of Burlington and Ira Lane, chairman of the Des Moines Defense committee.

The problem of procedure in spreading defense contract work through subcontracting,—the question of primary importance to most state delegations,—was assigned to Francis J. Trecker, sub-contracting consultant of the Defense Contract Service, Office of Production management.

Mr. Trecker pointed out that contrary to the impression that many small manufacturers have gained because of the intensive efforts which have been made by governmental agencies to catalogue all available plant facilities in the country, the actual obtaining of sub-contracts is essentially a problem of private negotiation.

The office of production management is setting up regional offices in every Federal Reserve Bank in the country, which will be staffed with engineers and technical experts who will be available to all contractors, prime or sub to give them financial, legal or engineering advice and assist them in obtaining and handling contracts. However, it will still be up to the individual manufacturer to negotiate any sub-contract from a prime contractor and the various Army and Navy purchasing agencies will award prime contracts through the usual competitive bidding processes to such contractor, as can meet the requirements of the work sought.

State Defense councils can act as liason officers between contractors and OPM and provide manufacturers in their own state with information as to contract awards.

Mr. Trecker pointed out that out of a total of more than 200,000 manufacturers in the country, probably not more than 80,000 of them are capable of handling prime contracts. There has been more than $17,000,000,000 worth of prime contract business awarded to 13,000 contractors. As much as 90% of this total was divided among 500 prime contractors. He explained that this was due principally to the fact that in the initial stages of the defense program time of completion has been the most important element in awarding contracts.

In the first stages of the program the use of existing plants was essential. The next alternative is the building of new plants. The danger of post war shock to communities where these new plants are located is also a problem of great magnitude, Mr. Trecker pointed out. Where there are large concentrations of people suddenly brought about by defense industry, community facilities will be tremendously taxed and the various state defense commissions will have the solution of this problem as one of their most important concerns.

This phase of the defense problem was the subject assigned to Charles P. Taft, Assistant Coordinator, working under Federal Security Administrator McNutt. There are now contemplated some 100 to 150 large concentrations of army and navy personnel in various sections of the country, he said. Many of the communities where these camps are located will find their population increased from 10 to 50 times. Immediately there will arise serious problems in community facilities. Beds, housing, plumbing for thousands of workers and their families will be needed. There will be need for additional recreational facilities. Problems of commercial relationship will have to be met. Profiteering will spring up; hospitality and social contacts will have to be promoted and facilities for many visitors will have to be provided. Building regulations will have to be extended to unincorporated communities if shanty towns are to be avoided and legislation to enable these steps will have to be obtained.

Mr. Taft estimated that for every soldier in camp at least one person can be expected outside camp. For every industrial worker in a new defense plant, as many as three additional persons can be anticipated by the community.

Hospital, schools and recreational facilities will have to be provided.

The solution of the problems will require the joint action and cooperation of first, the community, second the state agencies and finally, the federal government.

Separate consideration was given on the conference program to rent control as it affects national defense. Statement of the problem was given the conference by Frank Bane, Director, Division of State and Local Cooperation of the Advisory Commission to the Council of National Defense. Mr. Bane acted as chairman of the conference. The rent problem is the first one that is developing toward a national scandal, Mr. Bane said. Rentals are skyrocketing at cantonment and new plant sites.

Mr. Bane asked that State Defense councils give their thought to perfecting some method of controlling this evil. A suggested course of procedure was: Register all available rooms, houses or apartments with all information as to price and tenure. Make this file available to the camp and its visitors. Require that any changes in rentals be posted with the registry and when such changes are found unreasonable take the property from the available listings. Obtain wide publicity for violations of this voluntary code.

A review of defense legislation offered the conference by Allen Moore of the Division of State and Local Cooperation showed that the following states have now created Defense commissions and made the necessary appropriations for their operation: Delaware, Iowa, Montana, Nebraska, New York and Wyoming. Twenty-two states have adopted suggested sabotage legislation and thirty have passed State Guard bills.

In summarizing the discussion of the conference, chairman Bane declared that to the extent of their resources most of the states have cooperated in meeting the problems of national defense and are ready to do more. Their effectiveness will increase as national policies are clarified.

The problem of the defense commissions is to transform a nation of 135,000,000 people from a state of mind concentrated on peace time activity to one of defense industry.

Defense councils can, and have conducted industrial resource surveys and placed these in the hands of the Office of Production Management in Washington. They can obtain desired information on Defense contracts and disseminate this throughout each state by every form of publicity. They can put manufacturers in touch with the proper government procurement officers and they can assist with all possible persuasion to get prime contractors to farm out contracts to small sub-contractors and thus put into defense service the fifty per cent of plant capacity in the country which is now estimated to be idle.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR HARRY B. SWAN

RESOLUTION

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee appointed to prepare suitable resolutions commemorating the life, character, and public services of the late Harry Bryant Swan, begs leave to submit the following report:

Whereas, Harry Bryant Swan was born February 1, 1894, at Atlantic, Iowa, within a block of his present home. His parents were natives of the state of Maine. On his mother's side he traced his ancestry to the Mayflower and to the Revolutionary War stock.

In his youth he struggled to get an education, shoveling snow, selling newspapers, and doing janitor work to obtain the necessary funds; and later he worked his way through the State University of Iowa where he was graduated from the college of law. He began the practice of law in his home town in 1915 where his father also was an attorney.

Mr. Swan served in the World War, receiving the commission of first lieutenant. After his return, he was elected city councilman in Atlantic.

In the state primaries of 1934 he was candidate for the Republican nomination for the office of Attorney General. In 1939 he was honored by being elected to the position of state chairman of his party, which office he held at the time of his death. He performed the duties of this office in an outstandingly capable manner.

He was a member of the State Bar Association and the American Bar Association, a Legionnaire, a Rotarian, and a member of the Elks and the Masonic lodges.

He was an inspiring leader, a tireless worker and beloved by all who came in contact with him. In this period of dire national crisis, our country can ill afford the loss of the counsel and guidance of this noble American. His untimely and tragic death will be keenly felt by all who knew him; now therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives:

That in the passing of Harry Bryant Swan, the community, the state and the nation has lost a valued and beloved citizen; and that in honor of his life and services these resolutions be spread upon the Journal of the House, and that the Chief Clerk of the House be directed to forward an enrolled copy to the family of the deceased.

Gregory of Dallas asked and obtained unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution and moved its adoption.

Motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

Kuester of Cass, Pieper of Allamakee, Gregory of Dallas and Lucas of Taylor paid verbal tribute to the late Harry Bryant Swan.

Mr. Gregory :

MR. SPEAKER AND GENTLEMEN OF THE HOUSE: Today our heads are bowed in grief—Iowa has lost one of her truly great sons. In moments such as these, man rises above such earthly considerations as political parties or political strifes—all this is forgotten. We become again just human brothers, bound together by that unbreakable bond of brotherly love.

When death spreads the shadow of its palsied hand over a valued and dear friend, we do not stop to ask, "Is he Protestant or Catholic, Jew or Gentile, rich or poor, Republican or Democrat?" Then it is that the hand of friend meets the hand of friend in clasp of friendship true. Then it is that the moist eye of friend meets the moist eye of friend in silent, understanding tribute—tribute far more expressive than any my feeble lips have power to express.

I am certain that I convey the sentiment of each and every member of this House of Representatives in these few words I am privileged to express.

When Harry Swan accepted the position as chief of the Republican party of Iowa, his outstanding qualities of leadership were not fully known or recognized. However, he was not long in demonstrating that the party had chosen wisely and well. His ability to organize and direct his fellow workers—his ability to diagnose and prescribe for the ills and needs of his party were soon amply demonstrated. His outstanding characteristic and the one which especially endeared him to his friends, was his quiet, affable, unfailing good nature. His ready smile and sparkling eyes will long be remembered by those who knew him. It was these qualities together with a keen understanding of human nature and a keen analytical brain which permitted him to guide the destinies of his chosen party in such a signal manner and unmistakably mark him for early promotion to the top rungs of the ladder of human success.

When America and democracy is facing the severest test of its existence, it can ill afford the loss of its most able and proven sons. It is with a feeling of undisguised grief that we join in paying tribute to an outstanding leader, a lovable character and a real man.

Mr. Pieper :

MR. SPEAKER AND MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE: After yesterday's silent tribute to the memory of our beloved departed, Mr. Harry B. Swan, by the throngs who braved the penetrating cold and wind; after those comforting passages of Scripture by the Rev. C. William Bast, pastor of the Congregational Church in Atlantic; the appropriate music; the presence and help of the American Legion and various other organizations and honored groups of which Mr. Swan was a member; the well-chosen remarks of our Lieutenant Governor; the warm, sincere, and heartfelt tribute this morning by Mr. Kuester, Harry's neighbor and dear friend from his native county; and after seeing the wonderful floral display banked against the background of the casket, there isn't much more that one can say or do to pay additional tribute to the memory of our departed friend and brother.

Along life's pathway we make various acquaintances with our fellow-men. The opportunity for me to thus learn and know Harry intimately and well came through our attending the University of Iowa together. The ripening of a real personal friendship came further through the privilege of our being classmates in the college of law of the aforesaid institution of learning. Out of the original number who entered the law class of 1915, fifty-four of us finished the course as graduates thereof.

As the characteristics of a man are to some extent known by his associates, and as I feel that all of you are acquainted with one or perhaps all of the members of that law class, I wish to read their names. As they may sound somewhat differently than used by us in the business world of today, permit me to call your attention to the fact that we were mere youths at that time—perhaps a trifle more naive, outspoken and sincere than in later years, and consequently when asked by the university authorities to enroll by the use of our full names, the list appears as follows:

Berry, Harry Burden.
Bowles, Charles Wendell.
Chapman, James Leo.
Cooney, James D.
Cronin, Edward P.
Dealy, Owen Charles.
Delaney, Emmett Patrick.
Dickey, Clarence H.
Ferguson, James Claire.
Fishburn, Charles Harrison.
Frost, Bert E.
Gammon, James Mathias.
Gilchrist, Charles.
Goetz, Carl Joseph.
Harrison, Francis Carter.
Hart, William Richard.
Hartshorn, Hugh Harrison.
Holmes, Alexander A.
Howard, John Henry.
Hurlburt, William Blair.
Jamison, J. Frank.
Jory, Clifford D.
Klass, Raymond Nataliel.
Kline, Warren L.
Korf, Earnie Orville.
Knoepfler, Carl John.
Kremanek, Frank J.

Livingston, William Brooks.
Lynch, Archibald C.
McGivern, Louis Jerome.
McManus, James Riley.
Maurer, Charles M.
Nady, Xavier Clifford.
Nelson, Aloysius James.
Newport, Walter Augustus.
O'Reiley, Michael William.
Patterson, Robert Bruce.
Pieper, Elmer Frederick.
Pollard, Edward Harrington.
Popelar, Joe Oliver.
Quarton, Sumner Dean
Reed, Harry Mac.
Ruby, Snyder J.
Schroeder, Ralph.
Shea, Thomas Fenlon.
Shillinglaw, David Lee.
Sieverding, Victor Frank.
Streeter, Stanley Albert.
Swab, Benjamin Godfrey.
SWAN, HARRY BRYANT.
Trewin, Harold Rector.
Vasey, Horace Kent.
Watson, DeVere S.
Zimmerman, Arthur Albert.

In the aforesaid group, Harry's conduct and ability were outstanding. Remembering that these years were during his late teens and early twenties, I feel I can conscientiously and conservatively say that even in those days he had most of the virtues and few, if any, of the vices, that help or hinder us in life's battle.

There are many more good things I should like to say about Mr. Swan at this time, but the business and work of life must go on, so in conclusion I wish merely to call attention to one of the many fine thoughts presented in Mr. Hickenlooper's eulogy, the substance of which was the uncertainty of the void between life and death; that space through which no traveler returns, but which gap is partially bridged by the memory of those who have gone Beyond. To that thought I would like to further add the value of faith in establishing the road from here to There. This essential faith which has been instilled into our lives from childhood, I believe was held by our comrade, and in my humble opinion He who rules our lives has given to our departed brother that place in His Kingdom so dearly desired by us all and so richly deserved by HARRY B. SWAN.

Mr. Kuester:

MR. SPEAKER, MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE: This morning we pause for a few minute to pay tribute to the memory of Harry Bryant Swan, a noble American.

In the manner of his tragic death we again have been brought to the forceful reality of the uncertainty of life.

We humbly pay tribute to the memory of this typical American whose life portrayed to the utmost degree honesty, kindness, fairness, and a thorough belief in the better ideals of life as expressed in the American way of life.

The life of Harry B. Swan has left its imprint upon the community, the state and the nation, as it pertains to the higher and nobler ideals of this life.

His tragic death leaves an aching void in the hearts of all who knew him in all walks of life and in a special sense by the boys and girls of his home county in whose interests and welfare he took a kindly interest, expressed in many ways.

In the passing of Harry B. Swan I suffer the grief of losing a very personal friend. It is not for us to try to solve the mystery of these tragic events. We who remain must carry on, some day we too must cross the bar to the other side. Then somehow through the guidance of a kindly Providence we'll understand. This is my humble tribute to my friend.

Mr. Lucas:

MR. SPEAKER AND GENTLEMEN OF THE HOUSE: Last week I stood in the rear of this chamber and conversed with my friend, Harry Swan, in regard to a problem which to me was very important. As he stood there, smoking that ever-present pipe, he listened with that characteristic expression of tolerance, sympathy, and understanding on his countenance. As I finished, he chuckled in the way we all remember and with a few words, solved my problem and dispelled the fears and forebodings from my mind and I left him, as usual, with that warm feeling of friendship for him in my heart.

Yesterday I saw him again. His eyes were closed, but I saw upon his face that same expression of kindly tolerance and understanding which was there when I saw him last.

I have known him for twenty years. During all of that time, I have never heard him speak an unkind word to any person. I have never seen him lost in anger. During all of that time, he has lent to the 7th district and to his community and to the state, his ability, courage, and integrity for the benefit of mankind.

He was not ambitious except to promote the welfare of his friends.

When that grim spectre which rides at the wheel of every automobile on the public highway, reached out and took him by the hand, his absence left an aching void in the breast of his friends. When the word came to this chamber, of his untimely departure, every person here felt the loss but we of the 7th felt his loss perhaps more keenly because we have lived with him and worked with him and he has called us "friend".

It has been said that he who has lost a friend is indeed fortunate. We are only fortunate in this respect because of the indelible memories which he has left, of the nobility of his character impressed upon our minds.

I am indeed proud and very happy that I lived to know him and to cherish his memory and to have been fortunate enough to have called him "friend".

Upon the trial of a defendant charged with the operation of a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, the court may admit evidence of the amount of alcohol in the defendant's blood at the time alleged, as shown by a chemical analysis of his blood. Evidence that there was, at that time, five-hundredths per cent, or less, by weight of alcohol in his blood, is prima facie evidence that the defendant was not under the influence of intoxicating liquor sufficiently to lessen his driving ability. Evidence that there was, at the time, from five-hundredths per cent to fifteen-hundredths per cent by weight of alcohol in his blood is relevant evidence but is not to be given prima facie effect in indicating whether or not the defendant was under the influence of intoxicating liquor. Evidence that there was, at the time, fifteen-hundredths per cent, or more, by weight of alcohol in his blood, is prima facie evidence that the defendant was under the influence of intoxicating liquor sufficiently to lessen his driving ability.

The committee on fish and game presented the following resolution:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 29

Whereas, the state of Iowa has some 65 meandering state-owned lakes which, at normal water level, total some 41,000 acres of water surface, and

Whereas, these lakes are a natural resource of great value and importance which has had comparatively little public consideration and which are rapidly filling in with silt and erosion, and

Whereas, an emergency exists whereby some 18 lakes of these state-owned lakes need immediate attention to increase the depth of the water level either by damming or dredging; therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring:

Section 1. That the state conservation commission of Iowa set up a long-time program for the conserving and dredging of Iowa-owned lakes, for silt and erosion has filled lakes to the extent where an emergency exists and is causing death and destruction to fish, and is a menace to boating and bathing; each project to be numbered according to the extreme emergency which exists.

Sec. 2. Such a program and estimated cost of each project together with all surveys, blue prints, and information necessary to carry out this program shall be submitted to the governor of the state of Iowa for his approval on or before July 1, 1941.

Sec. 3. Upon the approval of this program by the governor, it will be the duty of the state conservation commission to carry out this program by contract, or otherwise to see that it is done properly and for the best interest to the state of Iowa.

Sec. 4. Each project shall be paid for from moneys appropriated by the legislature, or by other sources whereby such funds are available and not needed for maintenance of the state conservation commission.

Laid over under rule 34.

COMMUNICATION FROM JOHN W. GWYNNE

March 19, 1941.

Mr. A. C. Gustafson,
Chief Clerk, House of Representatives,
State House, Des Moines, Iowa.
Dear Mr. Gustafson:

I wish to acknowledge receipt of your letter of March 17th together with copy of House Concurrent Resolution 19, by Poston (Dewey), of the 49th General Assembly of Iowa.

The present method of apportioning membership in the national House of Representatives is certainly unfair to states like Iowa. For example, if aliens were not counted, the number of members from New York State would be reduced by four. It is interesting to note that in making apportionment for its own State Legislature, the New York aliens are not counted. You will find some interesting figures in this connection in a speech made by Congressman Gilchrist of Iowa when the matter of re-apportionment was before the House recently.

With kindest regards, I am

Sincerely yours,

JOHN W. GWYNNE,
Third District Congressman,
House of Representatives,
Washington, D. C.

House File 543, by committee on national defense, a bill for an act to protect property by making criminal certain unlawful entries on, injuries to and interferences with property, authorizing the closing of streets, and to provide penalties.

Knudson of Cerro Gordo offered the following resolution:

HOUSE MEMORIAL RESOLUTION

Whereas, The Honorable James E. Blythe of Cerro Gordo County, who was a member of the Twenty-second and Twenty-third sessions of the General Assembly passed away on September 24th, 1938; therefore,
Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Forty-ninth General Assembly: That a committee of three be appointed to draft suitable resolutions commemorating his life, character and service to the state.

Knudson of Cerro Gordo asked and obtained unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution and moved its adoption.

Motion prevailed and the Speaker named as a committee to draft suitable resolutions: Randall of Worth, Kruse of Floyd and Blatti of Chickasaw.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 33

Whereas, Our Federal Government has recognized the necessity of placing the control of the production, manufacture and distribution of many of our products under the supervision of a Council of National Defense, and

Whereas, There has been established a division of this Council of National Defense known as the Consumers' Division, and

Whereas, In a recent report of this Consumers' Division a statement was made that recent increases in food costs were due mainly to a rise of 4 per cent in meat prices, and advice was given in this same report that the consumers of this nation would do well to look for cheaper cuts of meat and for meat substitutes, and to secure available information on the preparation of well-balanced meatless meals, and

Whereas, The Hon. Mark G. Thornburg, secretary of agriculture for the state of Iowa, has already very properly recognized that such statements from a federal office will result in decreased consumption of Iowa farm products and has in a letter to Miss Harriet Elliott, Consumers' Commissioner of the National Defense Council, voiced his objections to such statements on the grounds that—

1. The total amount of meat in storage in the United States is 25% over the five-year average and 9% greater than the amount in storage on February 1, 1940;

2. Hogs are now selling for less than 79% of parity and more than 1,000,000,000 lbs. of pork and pork products are in the various storage plants of the country;

3. During the last days of 1940, an article concerning a Washington release was printed in newspapers throughout the Corn Belt which in effect assured the farmers that the defense program now being inaugurated with all its new employment would more than make up for the foreign market which the Corn Belt farmers have lost. (We have lost a foreign market for 140,000,000 lbs. of lard annually.)

4. It is not with satisfaction that the Iowa farmer watches a federal department in one year plow under crops and destroy livestock, and in another advise increasing hog production at a time when stocks of pork and pork products in storage are abnormally high, and then hears of another federal department suggesting meat-substitutes and well-balanced meatless meals; and

Whereas, The Congress of the United States has recently enacted the lend-lease bill which contains a provision whereby Great Britain could buy or borrow farm products as well as armaments;

Now Therefore Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Forty-ninth General Assembly of the State of Iowa, The Senate Concurring: That for the reasons stated in the preamble of this resolution the membership of the Council of National Defense, the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States, and the Administrator of the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation be respectfully requested to so coordinate their programs as they affect agriculture so that the farmers of the nation will have adequate recognition of their problems and that surplus farm products will be more readily consumed by the consumers of this nation and will be made available to the people of the democratic nations of Europe.

Be It Further Resolved: That all sections of the Council for National Defense be respectfully requested to consider the advisability of starting from the premise that the farmer is one of the most vital factors in our national defense program and that the important place of agriculture in national defense be recognized.

Read first time and referred to sifting committee.

Pine of Louisa asked and obtained unanimous consent to have the following article by Elliott Hayes, International News Service correspondent read from the desk and printed in the Journal:

Des Moines—(INS)—The spirit of sportsmanship that has carried America to victory in a dozen Olympics is cheering England on to victory over Adolf Hitler.

From somewhere in England behind the bulwarks against invasion, has come a message of thanks for American aid from a young English officer who attended Balliol college at famous Oxford university with Jack Irwin, son of State Representative and Mrs. John R. Irwin of Keokuk, Iowa.

The letter, just received by Representative Irwin from his son in New York, refers to passage of the lease-lend bill and adds:

"You have no idea how grand it is and how reassuring to hear from U. S. at a time like this.

"But we'll soon be in circulation again over here, able to live in peace once more, because we'll smash them up when the time is ripe.

"You have no idea what the spirit of this nation is like; we're just hitting form—just hitting peak as Jackie Lovelock would say."

The writer is Alan Pennington, star of the Oxford track team who won all his 100 and 220-yard hurdles at the Penn relays and the Princeton invitational track meet in 1937.

In England he and Jack Irwin were members of the same Oxford team when Jack broke Lord Burghley's Oxford-Cambridge record in the 220-yard low hurdles.

Both were close friends of Jackie Lovelock, famous English runner and both had ambitions to compete in the Olympics when war interfered.

Young Pennington does not say in his letter that he was one of the English who came thru the dramatic evacuation from Dunkirk, but Representative Irwin believes he must have been one of the evacuees, for Pennington writes:

"I did four months as a cadet, then was commissioned in a Border regiment. I did three months at the depot and then went straight to France and had the campaign there.

"It was pretty grim and I was wounded, fortunately slight."

Virtually the whole English expeditionary force was evacuated at Dunkirk.

Of German bombings, Pennington says:

"After return I was stationed near Oxford for a bit and managed to get a bit of social activity—was in Oxford once or twice. It has not been bombed.

"Was frequently in London and there is no doubt it has had to take a hard knock, but she still stands ok, and there's a hell of a lot of it left. They'll pay for what they've done to it.

"This is about all about us over here, Jack. If it's too cocky I apologize, but you know how we are taking the war. The answer is:

"We'll smash him; it's what he's been waiting for for some time and he's got it coming to him.

"I'm afraid I have some bad news for you—I lost my younger brother with the fleet air arm in October last. He was a grand lad, Jack, and was up at Oxford last year doing very well. He was a fine pilot they say.

"We have to bear these things.

"My elder brother is in the navy and he is well, I am happy to say, although he was wounded slightly by a bit of bomb last year."

Thus does an English lad, who knew and enjoyed American sports and knew the American spirit of sportsmanship, take the war.

Planning almost daily for another trip to the United States when conflict is over, young Pennington also lends a touch of romance to his story.

"Oh, yes, nearly forgot, when I was in hospital last summer, I met a delightful girl—she is a qualified nurse and I am going to marry her as soon as possible.

"She's perfectly grand, Jack, and we get on fine. You'll meet her some day, I hope.

"Do give my love to your mother and father and to all my friends of '37 at Princeton if you see them, to Stan Medina in particular and to Ted Husing (radio announcer) if you see him.

"Tell Ted to drop me a line and give details of United States sport if he has the time."

REPORT OF THE IOWA LEGISLATIVE COAL COMMITTEE

MR. PRESIDENT AND MR. SPEAKER: The Forty-eighth General Assembly of the State of Iowa established by resolution the Iowa Legislative Coal Committee. Two of its members were appointed by the Speaker of the House, namely Representatives Frank B. Hallagan of Des Moines and Leo A. Hoegh of Chariton; two by the president of the Senate, namely Senators Hugh W. Lundy of Albia and Elmer K. Bekman of Ottumwa, and one by Governor Wilson, namely W. H. Jeffries of West Des Moines.

Realizing that the state's unemployment and relief problems are mainly centered in the coal mining counties, the Legislature created this committee and directed that the committee in behalf of the State of Iowa promote the use of Iowa coal by agencies of state and local government and by all industries operating within Iowa.

The Committee makes to the Forty-ninth General Assembly of the State of Iowa the following report:

The State Board of Control and the State Board of Education purchase annually approximately 200,000 tons of coal. The Committee made personal appeals to the two boards and urged that they purchase Iowa coal for use in the state institutions under their supervision. In 1939 and again in 1940, the two institutions purchased 95 per cent of their coal from Iowa mines. We are indebted to Governor Wilson for his cooperation and assistance in urging the increased use of Iowa coal in our state institutions. The Governor in his personal appeal to both boards stated: "It does not seem wise economy to save $1.00 on coal bought out of the state and then spend that dollar for relief of Iowa unemployed miners. I am firmly convinced that Iowa miners want work instead of relief. The purchase of Iowa coal for state institutions would reduce the Iowa relief rolls."

The railroads operating in Iowa consume approximately 2,500,000 tons of coal each year in their operations within Iowa. During the past several years, there has been a considerable decrease in the use of Iowa coal by the railroads. In 1937, the railroads used approximately 726,000 tons of Iowa coal. In 1940, the railroads used only approximately 525,000 tons of Iowa coal. The Committee made a personal appeal in 1939 to the following leading railroads which operate within Iowa:

Chicago Rock Island and Pacific Railway Company
 Chicago Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific Railroad Company
 Chicago Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company
 Minneapolis & St. Louis Railroad Company
 Chicago and Northwestern Railway Company
 Illinois Central Railroad System
 Chicago Great Western Railway Company

Conferences with the executives of the above railroads, with the exception of the Minneapolis and St. Louis Railroad Company, were held in Chicago, Illinois, on December 18 and 19, 1939. We pointed out the fact that Iowa must secure increased use of Iowa coal by the industries operating within Iowa in order to lighten the burden of unemployment and relief which is existing in coal producing counties. The companies appeared interested in our problems and gave us some assurance that they would endeavor to increase their consumption of Iowa coal. We submit to you the following schedule:

Name of Company	Iowa Coal Consumed—1939	Iowa Coal Consumed—1940	Approximate Consumption of Coal Used for Operation of Train Within Iowa
Chic. Rock Island & Pac.....	247,320	165,000	450,000
Chic. Milwaukee, St. P. & Pac.	188,625	183,911.07	450,000
Chic. Burlington & Quincy....	25,473	37,804	450,000
Minneapolis & St. L. R.R.....	5,591	4,826	150,000
Chicago & Northwestern.....	0	0	450,000
Illinois Central.....	0	0	250,000
Chicago Great Western.....	3,778	4,433	200,000
Other Railroads.....	15,000	15,000	100,000

From examination of the above schedule, you will notice that the railroads are using less Iowa coal now than they have for many years. Before the problem of unemployment among Iowa miners can be solved, it is essential that the consumption of Iowa coal by railroads be materially increased. It is our committee's desire that some agency of the state continue to urge the railroads to increase their use of Iowa coal.

To show the relationship between the use of Iowa coal and the unemployment and relief situation, we point out to you the situation that arose in Lucas county on January 3, 1940. At that time, the Rock Island Improvement Company which operates a mine north of Chariton, Iowa, dismissed 150 miners from its payroll. This decrease of employment was directly attributed to the fact that the Rock Island Railroad Company decreased its consumption of Iowa coal. Because of this fact, 100 additional families were placed on relief in Lucas county. It is, therefore, apparent that our problem of unemployment and relief among the coal miners cannot be solved without materially increasing the consumption of Iowa coal. The railroads consume at least 2,500,000 tons of coal each year within Iowa and certainly it is only reasonable and fair that the railroads use at least 1,250,000 tons of Iowa coal, 50 per cent of its total consumption.

Our Committee discovered that too much cement delivered for highway work under contracts let by the State Highway Commission, was being purchased without giving consideration to whether or not the same is processed with Iowa coal. We had several conferences with the State Highway Commission and through their cooperation and assistance it was possible to bring about a substantial increase in the purchase of Iowa cement processed with Iowa coal. For your information we attached hereto a schedule prepared by F. R. White, Chief Engineer of the State Highway Commission, showing the cement purchases for the years 1939 and 1940.

Mixed sources.....	680,766	100.00	820,394	100.00
Grand total.....

From examination of the above schedule, you will note that there has been an increase in the purchase of Iowa cement processed by Iowa coal from 27.27% in 1939 to 39.71% in 1940. It is hoped that further increases in the purchase of Iowa cement processed by Iowa coal can be made in the future. Such purchases not only aid the Iowa coal industry but help Iowa labor.

The Committee has also made a direct appeal to our cities and towns urging them to purchase Iowa coal. The full cooperation of cities and towns in Iowa in purchasing Iowa coal would be a great factor in solving the unemployment problems of the Iowa miner.

It is our recommendations that the Forty-ninth General Assembly create an Iowa Legislative Coal Committee for the purpose of continuing the work of our committee. It is only by promoting the use of Iowa coal by the state and local government and by the industries operating within Iowa that we can expect to have a decrease in the unemployment problem in the coal mining counties of Iowa.

BILLS SENT TO THE GOVERNOR

Smith of Cedar from the committee on enrolled bills submitted the following report:

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee on enrolled bills respectfully reports that it has, on this 2d day of April, 1941, sent to the Governor for his approval: House Files 239, 248, 251, 437, 518, 412, 291, 397, 506, 517, 523 and 524.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

MR. SPEAKER AND MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE: Your committee appointed in compliance with provisions of House Concurrent Resolution 16, begs leave to report that we have visited and thoroughly investigated the Wartburg College property at Clinton, Iowa, and after such investigation it is an opinion of the majority of this committee that the state of Iowa should acquire the property to be used as a vocational training school to relieve the over crowded condition at Eldora Training School, and the State Institution at Toledo, Iowa, Glenwood, Iowa, and the Orphans' Home in Davenport. We are of the opinion that this would eliminate the possibility of increased building of those institutions and also enable them to take care of the waiting list now seeking admission to these institutions.

We understand that there are at least 125 children at Toledo and the Soldiers' Orphans' Home in Davenport that are eligible and need this class of schooling now. Therefore, we desire to recommend that the state acquire this property to be used as mentioned above or for some other state purpose if the same can be acquired at a price not exceeding $200,000.00.

Attached is a report of the conditions of the buildings and photographs.

Members of the Committee.

MEMBERS OF THE 49TH GENERAL ASSEMBLY: We, the Committee appointed to inspect the Wartburg property at Clinton, wish to report that we have done so and hereby submit our findings and general description of said property together with the committee report.

The special committee to inspect Wartburg at Clinton did so on Tuesday, March 18, 1941. This report is the summary of the committee findings.

Almost directly west of Clinton, a city of about 27,000, on a hill is the main building, facing east. It contains about 100 rooms on three floors. The attic is high and roomy and can be finished for any purpose or need. There is a fine, spacious chapel seating at least 120 besides room for 50 or more persons in the balcony. There is also library space in this building.

The 72 acres on which the Wartburg property stands is a beautiful, rolling landscape with a brook-spring water, running through the land.

The basement of the main building is divided into a fruit and vegetable cellar, dining room, kitchen, bakery, showers, store room and a tunnel leading to a fine brick building which has been the home of the helpers. Besides this brick home there are 5 frame ten room houses to the west of the administrative building. These houses and several others, equally beautiful, had been occupied by the teachers. There is a fine $14,000 brick house south of the main building. This was formerly occupied by the president of the college.

All large buildings and the presidents home are steam heated. The other dwellings have individual hot air heating.

All plumbing appears to be intact and in good repair. The furnace is an oil burning type. Storage tanks for 2 carloads of oil. The kitchen stoves are gas stoves. All stoves, as well as the furnace, are in repair, clean and all surfaces kept oiled to prevent rust.

The dormitory, a two story structure, is divided in two sections, north and south. The second floor is a duplicate of the lower floor. This building is in excellent condition and will house about 100 people. The rooms are such as to join two rooms into one apartment, one room large enough for three beds, the other for two. Each room having a clothes closet. Lavatories and bath are in excellent condition.

The athletic field is to the west of the main building; the dormitory, east; and the gym, at present occupied by some Federal Project, also east.

The large building was constructed in 1894. There is not a crack in the basement walls and these walls stand on solid rock. This building has a slate roof. The dormitory is a newer structure and of the fire-resisting type.

To summarize—the Wartburg property at Clinton, about 4 miles from downtown, appealed to us. A beautiful location and the property well kept. The light fixtures are good. Outside of the shower and chemical rooms, the plastering is good and in these rooms very little repair is required.

The committee appointed to inspect the property requisitioned transportation from the "car dispatcher". Messrs. Clyde G. Krein, Henry Krein and Kermit G. Kruse of Clinton took us through the buildings and readily answered our questions. They were very patient with us. Clinton is about 210 miles from Des Moines on highway 30 out of Marshalltown.

If the state needs this property, as is intimated, for crippled children or a school, we are happy to have had this small part in inspecting it.

Respectfully submitted,

DEWEY S. BUTTERFIELD.

JOE F. GARDNER.

The committee on agriculture 1 presented the following resolution:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 35

Whereas, Agriculture is the basic industry of Iowa, and the continued prosperity and development of the state is largely dependent on the general prosperity of its farm population, and

Whereas, Changing conditions, both foreign and domestic, have created grave agricultural problems including those of confused and undesirable marketing conditions, increased production due to modern machinery aggravated by under consumption, absentee ownership, decrease in the number of family-sized farms, as well as many other related and acute problems, and

Whereas, The permanent solution of this problem, as yet unfound, presents a challenge to the state, and

Whereas, The temporary nature of the present farm program, dependent as it is upon annual congressional appropriation, offers no permanent solution, and

Whereas, The time available to members during a legislative session is too limited to pursue the intensive study required;

Therefore Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring: That the Governor be and is hereby requested and empowered to appoint a committee, to serve without pay, the chairman of which shall be the Secretary of Agriculture, and the members of which shall be composed of five (5) members from the House of Representatives and five (5) members from the Senate. The duty of this committee shall be to study and investigate agricultural problems and to suggest means for meeting them, reporting results back to the Fiftieth General Assembly.

Laid over under Rule 34.

Chapter ninety-three and two tenths (93.2), Code, 1939, is amended by inserting therein the following section, to-wit: "In addition to all other provisions of this chapter for the revocation of class "B" licenses, it is further provided that ten (10) or more citizens may file, and it shall be the duty of every peace officer to file with the board or council which granted the license in question, a complaint in writing, when such complainant shall have knowledge of any violations of this chapter by any license holder, setting forth the alleged acts of violation with reasonable accuracy. The said board or council shall, upon receipt of any such complaint, forthwith fix a date for hearing upon the complaint so filed and shall immediately thereafter cause a written notice of the date, time and place of said hearing, together with a copy of the complaint filed, to be served by any peace officer upon the permit holder complained against, and upon the surety, or the agent or representative of such surety, on his bond. Said date of hearing shall not be sooner than five (5) or later than fifteen (15) days after the filing of said complaint. Said hearing may be adjourned or continued at the discretion of the board or council for good cause shown and the specific reasons therefor entered of record in the records of the board or council, but except for extraordinary or unusual circumstances, specifically stated in writing and placed in the minutes of such board or council, no more than two (2) continuances of not to exceed five (5) days each shall be granted. Upon said hearing the person or persons filing the complaint may be represented by counsel and the permit holder may be represented by counsel. The board or council, as the case may be, shall make full inquiry into the charges made in the complaint, being authorized to administer oaths and take testimony thereon, and if it appears that the permit holder has violated any provision of this chapter for which mandatory revocation is provided, the board or council shall immediately revoke the said license, and the bond of the permit holder provided for in section one thousand nine hundred twenty-one and one hundred four thousandths (1921.104) of this chapter, shall be forfeited and its principal or penal sum shall become immediately due and payable. A certification of such order of forfeiture shall forthwith be filed with the clerk of the district court of the county and when so filed the clerk of the court shall forthwith enter a judgment against the permittee and the surety on his bond in the full amount of the bond. Either the complainant or the permittee may appeal to the district court of the county in which such permit was issued, or a judge thereof in vacation, from the decision of the board or council by serving written notice of such appeal on the opposite party in the same manner as service of original notices of suits and filing said notice and return of service thereof with the board or council within ten (10) days after the entry of the decision of the board or council. In the event the decision of the board or council provides for a revocation of the permit, same shall stand revoked immediately and shall not be reinstated unless the district court or judge shall reverse the decision of the board or council. When notice of appeal has been served and filed, the board or council, through the county auditor or clerk, as the case may be, shall immediately certify all the original papers to the clerk of the district court. The appeal shall be heard and determined by the district court without jury, or by a judge thereof in vacation, and the hearing thereof shall be given precedence over other matters pending in said court. The board or council and the permit holder may be represented by counsel in such hearing. The said district court, or judge thereof in vacation, shall have full jurisdiction to hear and determine the matter de novo and the decision of the court or judge shall be final and not the subject of appeal except on the question of violation of the constitutional rights of either party. Nothing herein shall preclude prosecution of the license holder for any violations of law."

Sec. 7. Section one thousand nine hundred twenty-one and one hundred twenty-nine thousandths (1921.129), Code, 1939, is hereby amended by striking therefrom all that part beginning with the words "as follows:" in line twenty-seven (27) to and including the words "said chapter," in line forty (40) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Provided, however, where an ordinance is adopted providing for the limitation of class "B" permits the minimum limitation shall not be less than one class "B" permit to be issued upon application meeting the requirements of this chapter for such five hundred (500) population or fractional part thereof up to twenty-five hundred (2,500) and one additional permit for each seven hundred fifty (750) population or fractional part thereof over and above twenty-five hundred (2,500). However, in towns having a population of one thousand (1,000) or less two (2) permits shall be allowed if proper application is made therefor in accordance with the requirements of the provisions of this chapter.

Sec. 8. Section one thousand nine hundred twenty-one and one hundred thousandths (1921.100), Code, 1939, is amended by striking the first sentence therefrom and substituting in lieu thereof the following: "All class "B" permits outstanding on July 1, 1941, except those issued to golf and country clubs for a period of six months, and those issued under section one thousand nine hundred twenty-one and one hundred nine thousandths (1921.109), Code, 1939, shall terminate as of that date, and the authorities empowered by this chapter to issue permits shall refund to the permit holder or his executor or administrator an amount of the license fee paid therefor proportionate to the unexpired term of the permit. All such permits issued July 1, 1941, or thereafter shall be issued for the period ending on the following July 1st after issue, and the full annual permit fee shall be charged therefor when the permit is issued during the months of July, August or September. If permit is granted during the months of October, November, or December, the permit fee shall be three-fourths ($\frac{3}{4}$) of the full annual permit fee; if granted during February, January, or March, one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) of the full annual permit fee; if granted during April, May or June, one-fourth ($\frac{1}{4}$) of the full annual permit fee. In event of the surrender by the holder thereof, or his executor or administrator, of such a permit, during July, August or September, the issuing authority shall refund to such person so surrendering three-fourths ($\frac{3}{4}$) of the annual permit fee paid for the permit; if so surrendered during October, November, or December, one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) of the annual permit fee paid for the permit; if so surrendered during January, February, or March, one-fourth ($\frac{1}{4}$) of the annual permit fee paid for the permit. No refund shall be made to any permit holder, upon surrender of his permit, if there is at the time of said surrender a complaint filed with the board or council charging him with a violation of the provisions of this chapter. If upon hearing on any such complaint, so filed, his permit be not revoked, then said permit holder shall be eligible, upon surrender of his license, to receive a refund as herein provided. But in event his license is revoked upon such hearing then he shall not be eligible for the refund of any portion of his permit fee."

Amend by striking the word "three", from line twenty-six (26) of section one thousand nine hundred twenty-one and ninety-nine thousandths (1921.099), Code, 1939, and substituting in lieu thereof the word, "five".

11. Amend section one thousand nine hundred twenty-one and ninety-seven thousandths (1921.097), Code, 1939, by adding the following: "The state permit board shall also have the power and authority to make and publish such rules and regulations not inconsistent with the provisions of chapter ninety-three and two tenths (93.2), necessary and advisable for its detailed administration of the provisions of said chapter. The state permit board is hereby authorized to appoint an assistant whose sole duty it shall be to administer and enforce the provisions of this chapter, including the collection of all taxes provided for herein. In such enforcement, the state permit board may call to its aid the Attorney General, the special agents of the state, the sheriff and his deputy or deputies of any county, and the police department of each city, including the day and night marshal of any incorporated town, any county attorney, and any neglect, misfeasance and malfeasance shown by any peace officer referred to in this section will be sufficient cause for his removal as provided for by the statutes of this state. The state permit board is further authorized to appoint such clerks or additional help as may be needed to carry out the provisions of this chapter. Upon proper application of an applicant or a permit holder to the state permit board and upon investigation by the state permit board, it is deemed advisable, the state permit board may review the action of any city or town council including special charter cities, and boards of supervisors in any case where an applicant has made proper application and filed the necessary bond and the city council or board of supervisors has refused to grant such permit without showing just cause therefor. The state permit board may also review actions of city councils; including special charter cities, and boards of supervisors in an case where a permit has been revoked or cancelled without a hearing in which the permit holder may have had the opportunity to defend his rights."

12. Amend by striking the word "three", from line twenty-six (26) of section one thousand nine hundred twenty-one and ninety-nine thousandths (1921.099), Code, 1939, and substituting in lieu thereof the word, "five".

13. Amend section one thousand nine hundred twenty-one and one hundred six thousandths (1921.106) by adding the following: "Beer sold under the provisions of this chapter shall be delivered only from the warehouse of a class 'A' permit holder."

14. Any brewery not located in the state of Iowa shall, in order to do business in this state, obtain from the state permit board, a brewer's permit. Said brewery shall file monthly reports with the state tax commission showing to whom and the amount of each individual sale of beer made in the state of Iowa. Said brewery shall, as one of the requisites of doing business in the state of Iowa, file with the state tax commission a bond in the amount of five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) for the proper observance of the state beer law. The bond shall be filed herein, and shall also be required of said brewery before there shall be issued to it a brewer's permit. Said brewery, for said permit, shall pay a fee of one hundred dollars ($100.00).

15. Further amend by striking all of subsection (b) of section one thousand nine hundred twenty-one and one hundred twenty-eight thousandths (1921.128) and substituting in lieu thereof the following: "All license fees, and taxes collected by the state tax commission shall accrue to the emergency relief fund allocated in the forty-eighth (48) general assembly."

16. Further amend by adding the following sub-section (c) to section one thousand nine hundred twenty-one and one hundred twenty-eight thousandths (1921.128), "All permit fees collected under the provisions of this chapter by the state permit board shall be placed in a special fund by the state tax commission to be used by the state permit board for the purpose of enforcing the provisions of this chapter."

17. Further amend by adding after the word, "fees", in line two (2) of section one thousand nine hundred twenty-one and one hundred twenty-eight thousandths (1921.128) the following words, "other than state permit fees".

18. Amend by adding the following section: "Should the holder of a class "A" permit die, or dispose of his business by sale or otherwise forfeit his rights as granted to him under class "A" permit; he may, by proper application, and if upon investigation, it is found to be a legitimate request, then said class "A" permit holder shall be entitled to a refund of the permit fee as follows: if the permit is surrendered during the first three (3) months, after the date of issue, a three quarters ($\frac{3}{4}$) refund shall be granted; if the permit is surrendered during the first six (6) months after issue a one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) refund shall be granted and if the permit is surrendered during the first nine (9) months after issuance a one-fourth ($\frac{1}{4}$) refund shall be granted. Such tax, stamps, crowns, or lids shall be affixed to each individual container of beer, by the brewer or other person who ships or transports any beer into this state, before the beer is transported or delivered into this state for sale or use herein. Nothing herein contained shall require tax stamps, crowns, or lids to be attached to containers of beer being transported through this state and which is not sold or delivered in this state.

(3) Any railroad company, railway company, dining car company, or sleeping car company holding a special Class "B" permit under the provisions of this chapter, shall not be required, on reaching the borders of this state, to evidence the payment of the tax herein provided for by affixing tax stamps, crowns or lids to the original container of any beer on which the tax has not been paid, but instead shall keep such records of the sales of beer in this state as the tax commission shall prescribe, and shall submit monthly reports of such sales to the tax commission upon a form prescribed by it, and shall pay the tax due on such sales made during the preceding calendar month at the time such reports are filed.

The tax crowns, or lids shall be manufactured, sold, and distributed at the cost of the taxpayer.

(5) It shall be unlawful for any permittee in this state to receive or have in his possession any beer imported into this state, the container of which does not have affixed thereto a tax stamp, crown, or lid in the proper denomination.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

Executive Office
Des Moines

Geo. A. Wilson
Governor

April 8, 1941

Mr. Speaker, Mr. President and Members of the Forty-ninth General Assembly of Iowa:

I have this day received from President Charles E. Friley of Iowa State College, copies of the estimate made by the college engineers on the cost of replacement of the Agricultural Engineering Laboratory, which was destroyed by fire on March 31, 1941, and enclose the same herewith for the attention of your honorable body.

Sincerely yours,
GEO. A. WILSON.

GAW:L

Enc. 2

IOWA STATE COLLEGE
Division of Engineering
Office of the Dean

April 7, 1941

President Charles E. Friley
117 Beardshear Hall

Subject: Damage by Fire to the Agricultural Engineering Laboratory at the Iowa State College

Dear President Friley:

Fire of unknown origin broke out in the Agricultural Engineering Laboratory sometime between 6:00 a. m. and 7:00 a. m. March 31, 1941. The alarm was sent in a little before 7:00 a. m. The fire department responded promptly, but the flames spread in the wooden roof and about four-fifths of the building was damaged beyond repair before the fire was brought under control.

This laboratory building was constructed in 1922 and consisted of a concrete floor slab, walls of one course of brick, backed up by eight-inch tile, with brick piers to carry the roof beams, and a roof of wood joists and sheathing, covered with composition ("tar paper") roofing. In several of the rooms a wood ceiling was nailed to the under side of the roof joists, and many of the partitions in the building were of ordinary beaded partition lumber.

The fire started near the north end of the east wing and travelled around to the west wing before it could be stopped.

The difficulty of bringing the fire under control is explained by the nature of the roof construction. Since no fire walls were provided, the fire was able to travel the entire length of the building in the space under the sheathing and above the ceiling.

The heat caused the roof beams to expand enough to push out the walls, and the pressure buckled the beams. Also, the heat caused the brick walls to expand and, upon cooling, to crack badly. The east wing and the front will have to be rebuilt in their entirety. A part of the west wing will have to be rebuilt and the remainder protected by fire walls and a fire-proof ceiling. It will not be necessary to reroof that portion.

The wrecked portion of the building can be rebuilt on the old foundation, and the old concrete floor can be used but will need to be resurfaced in most of the rooms. In rebuilding, fireproof roof construction should be used throughout. The front part of the building was poorly designed, and as a result there was much waste space. This part should be redesigned to make more efficient use of the space. For example, the ceiling height in the rear portion is thirteen feet while the front is only nine feet, and that is all that is needed; but the walls in front were the same height as in the rear, with a clear loss of four feet of height plus an attic space varying in height with the slope of the roof from two to three feet.

It will also be possible to make better use of the space by some rearrangement of the partitions to provide rooms of a size that experience has demonstrated to be more usable than those in the old building.

The estimated cost of restoring the building is as follows:

I. Part to be entirely rebuilt. Estimated cost 28 cents per cubic foot for fireproof construction.
356,000 cubic feet at $0.28 per foot.....	$ 99,680
II. Part to be fireproofed.
Firewalls and fireproof ceiling.....	3,547
Total of Parts I and II.....	$103,227
III. Furniture and shop equipment	23,246
Grand Total	$126,473

Since these figures must of necessity be approximate even though the cubic foot cost of twenty-eight cents is based on recent experiences on the campus, it is believed that the restoration can be accomplished for $125,000 or less. If any Federal aid is obtainable, there will, of course, be a corresponding saving to the state.

This laboratory accommodated about one hundred students majoring in agricultural engineering, all of the agricultural students that take farm mechanics, and a number of research workers dealing with such problems as grain storage, farm structures, farm power and tillage. Several employees of the U. S. Department of Agriculture who were working on co-operative research were provided space in the building. All of these have had to be moved into other buildings that were already scheduled to capacity. Much of the work will have to be suspended until the laboratory can be replaced. Its rebuilding is therefore urgent.

Yours very truly,
T. R. AGG
Dean of Engineering
H. H. KILDEE
Dean of Agriculture

Wagner of Wapello, Keeney of Palo Alto, Alesch of Plymouth, Foster of Henry and Dancer of Decatur presented the following resolution.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 36

Whereas, The present system of registering land titles is tremendously burdensome, due to the fact that in each transaction titles must be traced back to the time of the original grant by the government; and

Whereas, Excessive costs are forced upon the person securing the abstract, and particularly the purchaser who must employ an attorney to examine said abstract, which attorney is forced to go through the abstract even if it is two hundred pages long each time and charge therefor accordingly; and

Whereas, Where there is a will there is a way and it is highly probable that a careful study of this situation, together with the laws of this state, will result in a great saving of time and expense to all parties concerned; now, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring:

That the Governor be and he is hereby requested and empowered to appoint an interim committee of three competent persons to investigate the feasibility and practicability of the adoption and use of an improved system of registering land titles, and that said committee report their findings to the next meeting of the general assembly.

Laid over under rule 34.

Prentiss of Ringgold and Wichman of Poweshiek presented the following resolution:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 37

Whereas, The swine industry is of vital importance to the income and welfare of the agricultural interests of the nation, and

Whereas, There appears to be certain marketing practices now in effect which tend to depress hog values and confuse the producer, and

Whereas, Present market reports, particularly at direct buying points, are rather general and do not record in detail the exact buying prices on various types and grades, and

Whereas, It appears that sufficient pertinent, detailed information concerning the marketing, grading and processing of swine is not at present available to the general public; now therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring:

That the United States Department of Agriculture undertake such studies as may be necessary to:

1. Determine definite market grades of swine which may be closely correlated with carcass cut-out value;

2. Provide a concise summary of the innovations necessary to incorporate such grades into the present swine marketing system;

3. Make such changes in market news service as would provide producers with detailed market information regarding price differentials between various grades and types at important direct buying centers.

Be It Further Resolved, That the Iowa Department of Agriculture and Iowa State College shall offer full cooperation in carrying out the necessary investigation and research, and

Be It Further Resolved, That a report on the determinations and findings of such research be made available by January 1, 1943, for the consideration of the Fiftieth General Assembly.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Hoegh of Lucas, Knowlton of Winneshiek, Gregory of Dallas, Poston of Wayne, Avery of Clay, Burma of Butler, Scott of Fayette, Dancer of Decatur, Long of Clinton, Graft of Mahaska, Prentis of Ringgold, Miller of Humboldt, Butterfield of Black Hawk, Lucas of Taylor, Shimanek of Jones, Dvorak of Tama, Keeney of Palo Alto and Yager of Dickinson presented the following resolution:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 38

Whereas, The present general assembly was able to greatly expedite its work through the legislative program prepared by the house efficiency committee, and,

Whereas, Such programs are very successful in surrounding states through the creation of legislative councils, and,

Whereas, It would be highly desirable that such a program should be made available for the succeeding general assembly and finally become a permanent phase of the legislative program of the state; now, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring: That the legislative committee on retrenchment and reform be respectfully requested to include such a program in their committee work, that such committee make it possible for proper research to be made into any legislation that may be proposed by any member of the general assembly, and that such a committee make a special study of the operations of the legislative councils in the surrounding states and submit its report and recommendations thereon to the next general assembly.

Laid over under rule 34.

Nelson of Woodbury asked and obtained unanimous consent to withdraw the amendments filed by him and found on page 1183 of the Journal of April 2.

Nelson of Woodbury called up the amendment filed by him and found on pages 1303, 1304, 1305, 1306, 1307, 1308, 1309 and 1310 of the Journal of April 7 and moved its adoption.

Cooper of Adams moved that House File 415 be exempt from the rule limiting debate to thirty minutes.

POINT OF ORDER

Burns of Lyon raised the point of order that Sec. 5 of the substitute amendment by Nelson of Woodbury contained the same text disposed of in an amendment to House File 546 this morning and therefor could not be considered.

The Speaker ruled the point not well taken since he had stated this morning that consideration on the subject matter in Sec. 5 of the substitute amendment by Nelson of Woodbury could be had in connection with House File 415.

Alesch of Plymouth offered the following amendment to the amendment by Nelson of Woodbury:

Amend the Nelson substitute amendment to House File 415 by adding thereto the following sections:

"1. Amend section one thousand nine hundred twenty-one and ninety-seven thousandths (1921.097), Code, 1939, by adding the following: "The state permit board shall also have the power and authority to make and publish such rules and regulations not inconsistent with the provisions of chapter ninety-three and two tenths (93.2), necessary and advisable for its detailed administration of the provisions of said chapter. The state permit board is hereby authorized to appoint an assistant whose sole duty it shall be to administer and enforce the provisions of this chapter, including the collection of all taxes provided for herein. In such enforcement, the state permit board may call to its aid the Attorney General, the special agents of the state, the sheriff and his deputy or deputies of any county, and the police department of each city, including the day and night marshal of any incorporated town, any county attorney, and any neglect, misfeasance and malfeasance shown by any peace officer referred to in this section will be sufficient cause for his removal as provided for by the statutes of this state. The state permit board is further authorized to appoint such clerks or additional help as may be needed to carry out the provisions of this chapter. Upon proper application of an applicant or a permit holder to the state permit board and upon investigation by the state permit board, it is deemed advisable, the state permit board may review the action of any city or town council including special charter cities, and boards of supervisors in any case where an applicant has made proper application and filed the necessary bond and the city council or board of supervisors has refused to grant such permit without showing just cause therefor. The state permit board may also review actions of city councils; including special charter cities, and boards of supervisors in any case where a permit has been revoked or cancelled without a hearing in which the permit holder may have had the opportunity to defend his rights.

"2. Amend by striking the word 'three', from line twenty-six (26) of section one thousand nine hundred twenty-one and ninety-nine thousandths (1921.099), Code, 1939, and substituting in lieu thereof the word, 'five'.

"3. Amend section one thousand nine hundred twenty-one and one hundred six thousandths (1921.106) by adding the following: 'Beer sold under the provisions of this chapter shall be delivered only from the warehouse of a class "A" permit holder.'

"4. Any brewery not located in the state of Iowa shall, in order to do business in this state, obtain from the state permit board, a brewer's permit. Said brewery shall file monthly reports with the State Tax Commission showing to whom and the amount of each individual sale of beer made in the state of Iowa. Said brewery shall, as one of the requisites of doing business in the state of Iowa, file with the State Tax Commission a bond in the amount of five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) for the proper observance of the state beer law. The bond shall be filed herein, and shall also be required of said brewery before there shall be issued to it a brewer's permit. Said brewery, for said permit, shall pay a fee of one hundred dollars ($100.00).

"5. Further amend by striking all of subsection (b) of section one thousand nine hundred twenty-one and one hundred twenty-eight thousandths (1921.128) and substituting in lieu thereof the following: 'All license fees, and taxes collected by the State Tax Commission shall accrue to the emergency relief fund allocated in the Forty-eight (48) General Assembly.'

"6. Further amend by adding the following sub-section (c) to section one thousand nine hundred twenty-one and one hundred twenty-eight thousandths (1921.128), 'All permit fees collected under the provisions of this chapter by the state permit board shall be placed in a special fund by the State Tax Commission to be used by the state permit board for the purpose of enforcing the provisions of this chapter.'

"7. Further amend by adding after the word, 'Fees', in line two (2) of section one thousand nine hundred twenty-one and one hundred twenty-eight thousandths (1921.128) the following words, 'other than state permit fees'.

"8. Amend by adding the following section: 'Should the holder of a class "A" permit die, or dispose of his business by sale or otherwise forfeit his rights as granted to him under class "A" permit; he may, by proper application, and if upon investigation, it is found to be a legitimate request, then said class "A" permit holder shall be entitled to a refund of the permit fee as follows: if the permit is surrendered during the first three (3) months, after the date of issue, a three-quarters ($\frac{3}{4}$) refund shall be granted; if the permit is surrendered during the first six (6) months after issue a one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) refund shall be granted and if the permit is surrendered during the first nine (9) months after issuance a one-fourth ($\frac{1}{4}$) refund shall be granted. In the event of the death of a class "A" permit holder, the heirs to the estate of the class "A" permit holders desire to continue to operate under the permit of said deceased class "A" permit holder until such time as an administrator can be appointed and upon the appointment of an administrator, said administrator shall immediately make application for and obtain a class "A" permit for the said place of business.'"

Sharp of Clayton moved that action on House File 415 be deferred until House Files 552, 553 and 555 are disposed of, and that the House proceed with the consideration of House Files 552, 553 and 555. Motion prevailed.

House File 552, a bill for an act to amend section one thousand nine hundred twenty-one and one hundred twenty-nine thousandths (1921.129) and chapter ninety-three and two tenths (93.2), Code, 1939, relating to the issuance of class "B" permits for the sale of beer, was taken up for consideration.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE WAR DEPARTMENT
WASHINGTON

The following communication was received from the war department:

Mr. A. C. Gustafson
Chief Clerk, House of Representatives
Des Moines, Iowa
Dear Mr. Gustafson:

Further reference is made to your letter of January 24, addressed to the Secretary of War with which you inclose a copy of House Concurrent Resolution No. 6 of the 49th General Assembly, with reference to the use of coal in national defense plants in the State of Iowa.

The decision to use oil as well as coal in the shell loading plant known as the Iowa Ordnance Plant at Burlington, Iowa, was made after considerable study of the methods of production, with special regard to the element of safety. The central boiler plant which will supply steam to the administration area and the power plant, will use coal fired boilers. The process steam, which is used within the plant itself, will be supplied by oil fired boilers which, in the locations chosen for them, are much safer than coal burning equipment. This is a major consideration in the design of an explosive loading plant of this type. It may also be added that the normal steam output of the coal fired boilers will be more than three times the steam output of the oil burner boilers.

It is hoped that the above statement will help to clarify the situation.

Yours sincerely,

ROBERT P. PATTERSON
Under Secretary of War.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

MR. PRESIDENT: Your committee to whom was referred House Concurrent Resolution 8 relating to a survey of the elevators in the capital building begs to report that they have made a thorough investigation and hereby report their findings;

The present equipment was inspected December 4, 1940, by the Otis Elevator Company and was found at that time to be operating in a safe and satisfactorily manner. The present equipment is obsolete and of such design that it would be impractical to attempt any modernization of the present equipment. It is our recommendation that consideration be given to the removal of at least one of the present elevators, including the present hoist-way doors and installing complete new modern equipment that would provide faster service as well as a more attractive appearance. To accomplish this, we would recommend equipment based on the following outline submitted by the Otis Elevator Company:

Speed.....	500 feet per minute
Platform size.....	7'x6' 6"
Travel.....	Basement to fourth floor
Control.....	Full signal with multi-voltage operation
Leveling.....	Automatic Self Leveling to floors

Machines.....	Gearless Type
Car Enclosure.....	Metal Cab
Hoistway Doors.....	Hollow Metal Hoisting Doors
Signals.....	Hall Lanterns with soft tap gangs

For the equipment as above outlined and installed, covering two elevators would entail an expense of approximately fifty thousand dollars. For one elevator, approximately twenty-five thousand, five hundred dollars.

PRESENTATION OF GIFT TO CHIEF CLERK

On behalf of House employees, H. L. Peyton presented a gift to Chief Clerk A. C. Gustafson, preceding the presentation with the following remarks:

MR. SPEAKER, MEMBERS AND EMPLOYEES OF THE HOUSE: This is a brief pause in the day's work—a pause so characteristic of the closing hours of the legislative session.

It has become my pleasant duty at this time to act as spokesman for the employees of this House. All that I may say will be unimportant as compared with the true spirit which brought forth this occasion.

This bit of remembrance, Mr. Gustafson, material on the surface, but spiritual in its essence, comes first by way of the heart, second by way of the purse. Hearts have been opened wide to express friendship in a large measure. Purses have been opened just wide enough to provide a thing material which will serve often to remind you we are your friends in all the term friendship implies.

Mr. Gustafson, if we were to propound this question to all whose minds are fixed on this occasion: "What is friendship?", we would get a variety of answers. Some would think in terms of mere acquaintanceship, others would think in terms of pleasant companionship, and all, in the final analysis, would think in terms of that deeper seated, indefinable something which is resident in all of us—that something which causes us to walk abreast in the accomplishment of a given task.

Mr. Gustafson, I am sure I speak for all who have worked under your supervision during this session when I say that the type of friendship last defined has been the friendship at work for nearly a hundred days, friendship which will continue to work in relation to your well-being as we come to the parting of the ways.

The type of work that many of us have been doing in recent days has been foreign to our every-day activities, and it is through your splendid leadership, Mr. Gustafson, that we have found it possible to fit into the daily routine. You have a faculty, Mr. Gustafson, of getting things done, and it has been a pleasant duty on the part of the employees in this House to play their roles in this scene of action.

So, Mr. Chief, in behalf of the employees of this House, I accept it as a pleasure and an honor to present to you this little token of esteem, and in so doing I want to quote a few lines—lines embodying a thought as durable as time:

New friends are silver, old friends are gold.
New made friendship, like new wine,
Age will mellow and refine.
Cherish friendship in your breast,
New is good but old is best.
Brows may wrinkle, hair grow gray,
But friendship never knows decay.

Mr. Gustafson, within this envelope is a thing material. It is a message to you from the employees of this House, and we trust the real purpose of this little remembrance will find its way into the really durable things of your life.

Mr. Speaker, on behalf of the employees of this House, I thank you very, very much for the time you have yielded for this brief, yet worthwhile ceremony.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

MR. A. C. GUSTAFSON, Chief Clerk,
49th General Assembly,
House of Representatives,
State of Iowa.

I desire to make the following announcement and appointments:

The unsettled condition of world affairs makes the appointment of the Interim Committees of the House of Representatives for the 49th General Assembly of the State of Iowa, a matter of unusual importance. The uncertainties of the requirements of the National Defense make it questionable as to whether or not those heretofore appointed may be able to serve until the fiftieth general assembly shall have been convened. It is my desire to avoid the unfortunate consequences which would ensue in event of any vacancies on any of the Interim Committees following the sine die adjournment of the 49th General Assembly and prior to the convening of the 50th General Assembly.

Therefore, I, Robert D. Blue, the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the 49th General Assembly of Iowa, by virtue of the authority in me vested, do make the following appointments which shall be effective only in case of illness, absence or inability of the chairmen heretofore appointed to serve:

In event of the illness, absence or inability of George L. Scott of Fayette County, to serve as chairman of the appropriations committee and as a member of the Interim Committee, I hereby appoint G. T. Kuester of Cass County, as acting chairman in his place instead.

In event that Leo A. Hoegh of Lucas County is, because of illness, absence or inability unable to act as chairman of Judiciary 1 or to perform his duties as a member of the Interim Committee, I hereby appoint James A. Lucas of Taylor County, as acting chairman in his place instead.

In event of the illness, absence or inability of Martin Van Oosterhout of Sioux County, to serve as chairman of the Ways and Means Committee or to serve on the Interim Committee, I hereby appoint C. A. Bryson of Hardin County, as acting chairman in his place instead.

In event of the illness, absence or inability of F. J. Pine of Louisa County, to act as chairman of the National Defense Committee or to serve upon the Special Interim Committee on National Defense provided for by the acts of the 49th General Assembly, I hereby appoint John R. Gardner of Linn County, as acting chairman to act in his place instead.

In event of the absence, illness or inability of any chairman or of any member of any Interim Committee provided by the statute or provided for by acts of the 49th General Assembly, the undersigned, Robert D. Blue, as speaker of the House of Representatives, does this tenth day of April, 1941, and prior to the adjournment of the 49th General Assembly reserve unto himself the right to fill any vacancies created in any of said committees because of the illness, absence or inability of any such chairman or member of any such Interim Committee to act.

ROBERT D. BLUE,

*Speaker, House of Representatives,
49th General Assembly,
State of Iowa.*

May 6, 1941.

TO THE HONORABLE MEMBERS, HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, FORTY-NINTH IOWA GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

GENTLEMEN: This will advise the members that I disapproved the following bill on the date shown: May 6, 1941.

House File 75, an act to amend Section Six Thousand Nine Hundred Forty-three and One Hundred Fifty-two Thousands (6943.152), Code, 1939, relating to the "Homestead Tax Credit" and giving to certain remaindermen the benefits thereof.

House File 75, a bill for an act to amend Section 6943.152, Code, 1939, relating to Homestead Exemptions, provides for inserting after the comma following the word "homestead" as it appears in Subsection 2, Line 2, the following:

"a remainderman actually in possession of the homestead with the consent of the prior title owner, by virtue of lease, contract or otherwise,".

If this bill were to become a law it would liberalize the theory of Homestead Credit, and in my opinion extend the operation thereof to an extent inconsistent with the purpose of the Homestead Credit Act.

Therefore, I disapprove the bill.

Sincerely yours,

GEO. A. WILSON.

May 9, 1941.

TO THE HONORABLE MEMBERS, HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, FORTY-NINTH IOWA GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

GENTLEMEN: This will advise the members that I disapproved the following bill on the date shown: May 9, 1941.

House File 176, an act relating to motor vehicles or combinations thereof used for transporting other motor vehicles and providing certain limitations for such motor vehicles and combinations.

I have given much time and thought to House File 176, and saw fit to hold a public hearing thereon. The opponents and proponents each presented valuable and pertinent arguments. I have read with care the citations of authorities, all of which pertain to the constitutionality of the measure, and I want to acknowledge the helpfulness of the arguments and statements.

Unless the unconstitutionality of a measure passed by the Legislature is readily apparent, and not subject to doubt, the Executive should not disapprove on constitutional grounds. While I have doubt of the constitutionality of the Act, my decision is not upon that premise.

It is unwise, unless for the safety of the public, to curtail the free interchange of commodities. It is my considered opinion, after careful investigation and from matters presented at the hearing, the facts do not warrant or sustain this bill as a safety measure.

Transportation is not only a necessary element of our local security, but is of ever-growing importance in our national defense. It is not statewide, but nationwide. The time is not appropriate for reduction of our transportation facilities, whether for commerce or defense, for the two are inseparably linked. Rather, it is a time for expansion, and well may it be so at a time when we do not know what the morrow may bring or require. I cannot see the wisdom of curtailing a transportation method which, so far as I can learn, is fully satisfactory to manufacturers, dealers and consumers.

Therefore, I disapprove of House File 176.

Sincerely yours,

GEO. A. WILSON.

May 9, 1941.

TO THE HONORABLE MEMBERS, HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, FORTY-NINTH IOWA GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

GENTLEMEN: This will advise the members that I disapproved the following bill on the date shown: May 9, 1941.

House File 515, an act to amend Chapter One Hundred Eighty-five (185) and Section Thirty-seven Hundred Two (3702), Code, 1939, to provide for placing children of the Iowa Soldiers' Orphans' Home and the State Juvenile Home in certain charitable or religious institutions.

By the terms of this bill, authority is given to the Board of Control, when under certain conditions the consent of the Board of Supervisors has been obtained, to transfer unfortunates of this State to institutions outside the State, the State or County, however, being financially responsible to such institutions for the care and keep of such ward.

In order that any good might be had on account of such transfer, there must of necessity be a contract of considerable duration, and as a result, supervision would no longer be directly under the State of Iowa or our duly constituted officers and departments but under institutions not responsible to the duly constituted branches of government of our State and governed by different laws than ours.

Such interstate transfers have been worked out successfully in other lines, but have been accompanied by much preparation and arrangements between states which does not appear to have been accomplished in the present instance.

This measure involves the children of residents of our State, and their transfer elsewhere would mean placing them perhaps at points where the father or mother would have no reasonable opportunity to see them.

No matter what indifference may have caused the original commitment of such child, no matter what neglect may have been manifest, yet to the father and mother it is their child, and there will never be anything more helpful than the caressing hand of a mother, no matter how rough or soiled it may be, upon the brow of the young boy or girl who may seem to be temporarily out of step with the complexities of life.

For these reasons, I disapprove of House File 515.

Sincerely yours,

GEO. A. WILSON.

Done at Des Moines, Iowa, this 31st day of May, 1941.

A. C. GUSTAFSON,

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

HONORABLE GEORGE T. BAKER

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee, appointed to prepare a suitable resolution commemorating the life, character and public service of the Honorable George T. Baker, begs leave to submit the following memorial:

George T. Baker was born July 9, 1857, on a farm in Iowa county, Iowa, the son of the late Albert Watson Baker and Freelove Malicent Kenyon Baker, and passed away in Hotel Dieu Hospital in El Paso, Texas on December 13, 1940.

Mr. Baker spent his early boyhood on an Iowa farm and received his early education in the district schools of Iowa. He received his preparatory education at Hall's School for Boys, Ellington, Connecticut; McClain's Academy at Iowa City; he attended the State University at Iowa City for one year and completed four years of special work in civil engineering at Cornell University, Ithaca, New York, graduating in 1879.

In April 1879, he was married to Clara I. Poole of Ithaca, New York, who died in April, 1919. The couple went to Iowa City where they resided until 1885, when they moved to Davenport, Iowa. To this union were born three daughters, Mrs. Georgia Risley of Davenport, Iowa, Mrs. Ethel Brandt, of La Union, New Mexico, and Sue, who died in April, 1919.

During the years 1879 to 1889, he was engaged in railway location, construction and maintenance work, after which he was chief engineer for the high bridges built across the Mississippi River at Muscatine and Clinton, and was consulting engineer of the high bridge at Winona, Minnesota. From 1893 until January, 1910, he was engaged in general construction work on railways, paving, sewerage, water works and heavy building construction.

Mr. Baker served as a member of the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of Iowa in the Twenty-sixth Regular and Twenty-sixth Special Sessions. He served as mayor of the city of Davenport from 1898 to 1900 and from 1911 until 1932 he was a member of the Davenport Park Board and also acted for many years as president of the West Davenport Improvement Co., and vice-president of the Clinton St. Railway Company and the Choctaw Lumber Company from 1902 until 1924; and was president of the Davenport Industrial Commission.

Mr. Baker was a member of the State Board of Education since the Board came into existence in 1909, and resigned as president on October 4, 1940, when he left Davenport to visit his daughter, but he retained his membership on the Board and during his long service he devoted much of his time to activities of the building and business committees and always took an active part in the development of higher education in Iowa.

In October 1928, Mr. Baker was appointed a member of the Railway Emergency Board by President Coolidge, and in June, 1934, he was awarded an honorary doctor of laws degree at the commencement exercises at Cornell College, Mt. Vernon. He was honored May 27, 1936, at a dinner marking the opening of the first dormitory for men at Iowa State Teachers College, Cedar Falls, where the new building was named George T. Baker Hall, in his honor.

Mr. Baker was also a member of the Beta Theta Pi, national social fraternity and was a member of the Episcopal church. He was always a staunch Democrat and was delegate-at-large to the Democratic National Convention in 1900. He was a member of the Elks Lodge at Davenport.

After the death of Mrs. Baker, he lived in the Baker home at 1514 Farnam Street, Davenport, with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Risley.

Of his service and worth as a citizen, it is difficult to speak adequately, but this committee does not hesitate to repeat what has been said regarding Mr. Baker: "He lived up to the highest ideals of citizenship. If anyone deserved to be called a perfect citizen, George T. Baker deserved to be thus designated."

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Forty-ninth General Assembly, That, in the passing of George T. Baker, the state of Iowa has lost a valued and honored citizen, a conscientious statesman, and the family a loving father.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House of Representatives and that the Chief Clerk of the House be directed to send an enrolled copy of this Memorial to the two surviving daughters of the deceased.

HOWARD P. ECKERMAN,
WALTER DIETZ,
F. A. LATCHAW,

Committee.

Unanimously adopted, April 3, 1941.

HONORABLE JAMES E. BLYTHE

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee, appointed to prepare a suitable resolution commemorating the life, character and public service of the Honorable James E. Blythe, begs leave to submit the following memorial:

James E. Blythe was born in Cranberry, New Jersey, January 20, 1856, the son of Reverend Joseph William and Elizabeth Moore Blythe, grandson of Dr. James Blythe, personal friend of George Washington and an early president of Transylvania University, Lexington, Kentucky. He died September 24, 1938, survived by Grace Smith Blythe, to whom he was married in 1881, and two daughters, Maude Blythe Gilmore and Jeane Blythe Gentry.

While he was still a small boy, he moved with his parents to Indiana. After graduating from Hanover College in 1877 with the degree of Master of Arts, he settled in Mason City, Iowa, where he read law in the office of Goodykoontz and Wilber. Immediately upon his admission to practice before the courts of Iowa in 1878, he formed a partnership with his former employer and sponsor, Frank M. Goodykoontz. In 1881, upon the removal of Mr. Goodykoontz to South Dakota, the partnership of Blythe and Markley (J. E. E.) was formed, which endured, with various changes in the junior memberships, until Mr. Blythe's death.

At an early day Mr. Blythe combined his genius for finance with his talent for the law. An editorial in the Charles City Press truly stated, "He was a gentleman of great ability and one of the best financiers in northeast Iowa." His cultural interests were not only national, but were worldwide and had been broadened and deepened by a world cruise, several trips to Europe and South America and twenty-odd visits to Mexico in the legal and financial interests of an American firm with extensive holdings there which he represented for more than thirty years.

His hobbies were oriental rugs and fishing. Of the former, he was a recognized connoisseur and had a choice collection, which was hand-picked in the course of his travels. He was engaged in the latter at the time of his sudden death at a quiet resort in northern Minnesota. His continued energy and capacity for work is demonstrated by the fact that he was at his desk in his office within the hour before leaving for Minnesota, two days before his death, completing directions for his secretary during his absence.

For fifty years Mr. Blythe had been widely known as a leader of Republican politics, during the 90's and the early 1900's. He was a member of the House of Representatives during the Twenty-second and Twenty-third Sessions; a member of the Republican State Central Committee during the years 1890 to 1895; its chairman in 1892, 1893 and 1894, during which years the Republicans gained all six seats in Congress previously occupied by Democrats. During his years of political activity, he was a friend and confidant of several presidents and a frequent visitor and guest at the White House; a trusted consultant and advisor of national political leaders; a close associate with such prominent Iowans as Leslie M. Shaw, Albert B. Cummings, William B. Allison, Jonathan P. Dolliver. It has rightly been said that he was the link between the past and present Iowa politics.

If this were a eulogy upon his life, instead of a simple biography, there are many, many things which should be said, but the writers content themselves with the tribute paid Mr. Blythe by W. Earl Hall in the Memorial Editorial of the Mason City Globe Gazette, "Mr. Blythe was a man of deep convictions. He had no hesitancy in opposing the current of public opinion if he believed that public opinion was wrong. Nobody was ever left doubting where Mr. Blythe stood on questions on which he was supposed to have an opinion. The sanctity of a contract was bred into his very being. He wouldn't concede, either as a debtor or a creditor, that there is any other honest or honorable thing to do to a debt besides pay it. America stands sorely in need of such philosophy today. In his more than sixty years of residence here, he sent his taproots deep into the Mason City community life. His contributions in the field of business, law and politics have been complemented by the religious and cultural graces possessed in a notable degree by his universally loved and admired helpmeet. The name of Blythe is not one that will soon be forgotten by this community."

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Forty-ninth General Assembly, That, in the passing of the Honorable James E. Blythe, the state of Iowa has lost a valued and honored citizen, a conscientious statesman and the family a loving husband and father.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House of Representatives and that the Chief Clerk be instructed to send an enrolled copy to each member of the family of the deceased.

CLAUS RANDALL,
WILLIAM KRUSE,
ARTHUR C. BLATTI,

Committee.

HONORABLE RANSOM J. BIXBY

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee, appointed to prepare suitable resolutions commemorating the life, character, and public services of the Honorable Ransom J. Bixby, a former member of the General Assembly of Iowa, serving in the Thirtieth, Thirty-first, Thirty-second and Thirty-second Extra Sessions, begs leave to report as follows:

Ransom James Bixby, son of the Reverend Newell W. and Ruby Knapp Bixby, was born March 29, 1854, on the Bixby Homestead, three miles northwest of Edgewood, Iowa, and passed quietly away at his home in Edgewood on November 18, 1940, after a year's illness. His parents came from Vermont in 1847 as pioneer workers under the Free Baptist Mission Board. In this family were four children, deeply devoted to one another, and the two eldest, Dr. Sylvanus N. Bixby and Thera Bixby True, had gone before and were awaiting the coming of their brother to the Eternal Home.

From his seventeenth year, when he began teaching rural school, he served the public in one capacity or another until the end of his life, and had a statewide circle of friends. He received his higher education from Wilton College at Wilton, Iowa, graduating as valedictorian of his class, then taught in Delaware, Clayton and Cedar counties. He was principal of the Edgewood school when he was married to Miss Flora Blanchard, also a teacher in the school. The same year he entered into partnership with his father-in-law, Dr. Lewis Blanchard, in the mercantile business, and later established the village drug store, which he continued to operate until 1898 when he retired from commercial pursuits to concentrate on farming interests. In 1909 he opened an insurance and real estate office which he operated until 1923. Nearly everyone in the community went to him for advice and help in their legal and business problems.

Mr. Bixby was sent in 1904 as Representative from Delaware county to the state legislature where he served three terms, the Thirtieth, the Thirty-first, The Thirty-second, and the Thirty-second Extra sessions. He introduced the Bixby bill on the preservation of forests, also bills for the advancement of agricultural interests, and was in charge of the move for the establishment of the women's reformatory and many pure food and temperance measures. He was one of the oldest members of the Pioneer Law Makers' Association and for more than twenty-five years was chairman of the Delaware County Republican Central Committee. His services were frequently required as member of the local board of education. He was affiliated with Avalon Lodge No. 606, A. F. and A. M., also with Avalon Chapter No. 434, O. E. S., of which he had been worthy patron.

The surviving members of the family are a sister, Mrs. Lucina Buckley, two daughters, Angie F. Bellamy and Ruby L. Smith, all of Edgewood; and two sons, Ralph L. Bixby of Orcas, Washington, and Sylvan N. Bixby of Hopkinton, Iowa; also nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Forty-ninth General Assembly, That in the passing of the Honorable Ransom J. Bixby, the state has lost a valuable and honored citizen, and the House would tender, by this resolution, its sincere sympathy to the surviving members of his family in their sorrow, and

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House, and that the Chief Clerk be instructed to send an enrolled copy to the members of the family of the deceased.

HUGH W. PARKER,
F. E. SHARP,
HERBERT G. SEEMANN,

Committee.

Unanimously adopted, April 3, 1941.

HONORABLE E. P. BARRINGER

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee, appointed to prepare suitable resolutions commemorating the life, character and public service of the Honorable E. P. Barringer, a former member of the Twenty-eighth General Assembly of Iowa, beg leave to submit the following memorial:

Emmet Perry Barringer, son of Peter E. and Amanda Ward Barringer, was born at Big Springs, Wisconsin, April 6, 1857. The family came to Palo Alto county in 1873.

Mr. Barringer received his education in the Emmetsburg high school. He later entered the teaching profession and taught fourteen terms. In 1887, Mr. Barringer was appointed deputy treasurer of Palo Alto county. In 1892 he was elected county supervisor, an office he held for two terms. During his third term he resigned to become a candidate for the Iowa state legislature. He served in this capacity during the Twenty-eighth General Assembly. Here, as in all of his activities, he could be depended upon to act justly and conscientiously in any legislation that came to his attention. His record in the Iowa legislature is one that his family and his Palo Alto constituents can review with pride.

E. P. Barringer passed away at his home at Ruthven, Iowa, November 8, 1940, following an illness of short duration. However, due to his advanced age he had been in failing health for several months prior to his death. Funeral services for Mr. Barringer were held at Ruthven Sunday afternoon, November 10. Services were conducted in the Methodist church with the pastor, the Rev. Beldon Weikel, in charge. Interment was in the Crown Hill cemetery at Ruthven. Services at the grave were in charge of the Emmetsburg chapter of Masons.

The deceased is survived by his widow, two sons and one daughter. The sons are Mayor Harold E. Barringer, of Emmetsburg, and Ray Barringer, of Ruthven. The only daughter is Mrs. Ora Hymer, also of Ruthven.

The sudden removal of such a life from our midst, a life of absolute trust and assurance; a believer and promoter of the great essentials of truth, honesty and sincerity, leaves a vacancy and a shadow that is deeply realized by all and has proven to be a serious loss to the community and the public. In the passing of E. P. Barringer Palo Alto county has lost one of its foremost citizens.

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Forty-ninth General Assembly of the State of Iowa in regular session, That in the death of E. P. Barringer the people of Palo Alto county and of the entire state of Iowa have sustained a great loss.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the Journal of the House, and that the Chief Clerk be directed to forward an enrolled copy to the family of the deceased.

GEO. H. KEENEY,
W. A. YAGER,
A. H. AVERY,

Committee.

His home for some years prior to his death was in the town of Harvey, Marion county, Iowa. There he was a respected citizen and a prominent community man.

Mr. Clements died December 16, 1939, at the age of eighty-eight years. He left surviving him three children: Josephine Bean, Pearl L. Patterson and Harold Clements, and a number of grandchildren.

Mr. Clements was kindly, good natured and liked by all who knew him. He was a studious reader. Despite his age, in his later life he retained a keen mind and active interest in public affairs, local, state and national.

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Forty-ninth General Assembly, That, in the passing of the Honorable L. R. Clements, the state has lost a valued and honored citizen and the House, by this resolution, tenders its sympathy to the members of the family of L. R. Clements.

After teaching school for a few years, he bought a loan and abstract business, and located in the city of Newton in 1900. This line of work turned his attention to legal matters, and as a consequence he studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1904. He continued his business and professional interests for over thirty years, retiring from the abstract business about ten years ago.

Mr. Cooper was of a religious nature, and affiliated with the Methodist church early in life; and to the progress and welfare of the church he devoted much time. He was a member of the official board of his church for nearly forty years.

children: Florence, a teacher in Newton; three sons, Russell, of Mount Vernon, Iowa; Richard, and Robert, of Los Angeles, California.

Always a loyal Republican, he was elected State Representative in 1908, and represented Jasper county in the Thirty-third General Assembly.

He had been in failing health five or six years, and finally passed away on March 29, 1941.

Therefore, Be It Resolved, That in the passing of the Honorable William Cooper of Jasper county, the state of Iowa has lost a valuable and honored citizen, a conscientious statesman, and the family a loving husband and father.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House of Representatives and the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives be instructed to send an enrolled copy of this resolution to each member of the family of the deceased.

His parents were American born. His education was received in the public schools of Galena with one year at Lake Forest Academy, and one year at Beloit College, Wisconsin.

In 1881 he went to Storm Lake in the capacity of field agent for the Iowa Land and Investment Company of that place. Four years later he settled upon his farm in Clay township, Clay county, where for fourteen years he conducted a successful business in diversified farming.

In 1887 he married Agnes Rae Avery, daughter of Major George S. Avery of Galena, Illinois. In 1900 they moved to a farm in Sioux township adjacent to the city of Spencer. He was elected State Representative in 1906 and served in the Thirty-second, Thirty-second Extra, Thirty-third, and Thirty-fourth General Assemblies. It was during this time that the Senate marched into the House every morning for one hundred legislative days and voted for the election of a United States Senator. On the one hundredth day Honorable W. S. Kenyon was elected. Representative Felt never wavered in his support of Senator Kenyon. This was the last time that a United States Senator was elected by the General Assembly.

Representative Felt introduced and secured the passage of the county hospital bill which has since been adopted as a model by other states.

Among the outstanding activities of Mr. Felt was the organization of the Clay County Farmers' Institute in which he secured the cooperation of the extension department of the State College of Agriculture. These institutes were held in the winter months and continued for three days and were very largely attended by the farmers of the county. They marked the beginning of testing of seed corn for planting. This work was ultimately responsible for the organization of the Clay County Fair.

He died on August 31, 1939. He was courageous, honest and steadfast with a distinctly humanitarian spirit. He was a member of the Congregational church and a Republican.

Surviving are his widow, Agnes Avery Felt of Spencer, Iowa, and Anna Felt, a sister residing at Galena, Illinois.

HONORABLE ROY HANEY

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee, appointed to prepare a resolution commemorating the life, character and public services of the late Honorable Roy Haney of Mills county, Iowa, begs leave to submit the following:

Representative Roy Haney was born near Silver City, Mills county, Iowa, on July 28, 1878. He grew to manhood at the farm home near Glenwood, Iowa, where he was graduated from high school, followed by a course in Business Administration.

On January 16, 1907, he was united in marriage to Pearle Mintle in Glenwood, Iowa, where he has lived continuously since. In early life he became interested in farming and real estate and at the time of his passing he had built for himself an enviable record as a business man whose advice and business judgment were sought by many.

He gave generously of his time to civic affairs, serving several terms as Mayor of the City of Glenwood. He served as the President of the Chamber of Commerce of his city, and also served many years as treasurer of the Glenwood public schools. He was a member of the Methodist church and served in many official capacities with the church and gave freely of his time, energy and substance. He was a member of the Masonic Order, also of the Order of Eastern Star, having filled the highest offices of these orders. He was a member of the Mills County Building and Loan Association and was its president at the time of his death.

In politics he was a Republican and served his community and state well. His greatest political honor came, however, when he was elected as State Representative for Mills county and served in the Forty-first, Forty-second and Forty-second Extraordinary sessions. His record in the legislature shows that he was always for the common man, of which he was one.

Roy Haney died suddenly on February 10, 1941. He is survived by his wife. The glory of his life was his living; the test of his worth was his serving; his life and his service were his success—there is no greater, there is no other. His life and his service may be silent in the grave, but his influence will go on until time itself shall end.

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Forty-ninth General Assembly of the State of Iowa in Regular Session, That in the passing of the Honorable Roy Haney, the state of Iowa has lost a valued and honored citizen, and a man of character and worth, and the House of Representatives of Iowa, by this resolution, tenders its sympathy to the family of the deceased.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House, and that the Chief Clerk be directed to forward an enrolled copy to the family of the deceased.

J. R. HALL,
ARCH W. MCFARLANE,
EARL C. FISHBAUGH, JR.,
Committee.

Unanimously adopted, April 3, 1941.

W. Smith.

On November 5, 1908, he was united in marriage to Wilhelmina Diekman, which union was blessed with one son, Kenneth, who will graduate from the college of dentistry of the University of California. He is also survived by his widow, and three brothers, John C. of Tripoli, Fred C. of Waverly and Herman of Grand Junction, Colorado.

He has always been a staunch Democrat and represented Bremer county by serving as a member of the House of Representatives in the Forty-fourth, Forty-fifth and Forty-fifth Extraordinary sessions of the General Assembly of Iowa. No citizen of his community was held in higher regard. He was beloved by his friends and neighbors.

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Forty-ninth General Assembly, That, in the passing of the Honorable William Koch, the state has lost a valued and honored citizen and the family a loving husband and father and the House would tender, by this Resolution, its sincere sympathy to the surviving widow and son in their sorrow; and

He was educated in the parochial schools of Dubuque and attended Bayless Business College. For twenty-five years he was associated with his

It was during the Forty-seventh General Assembly that Mr. Ryder received wide publicity throughout Iowa, when he was brought into the House in a wheel chair to cast his Democratic vote which broke a tie in the race for Speaker of the House. Mr. Ryder had been ill for several months before the opening of the session. Mr. Ryder was widely known throughout the state through his connection with the state organization of the Catholic Order of Foresters. He was a member of St. Columbkille's Court of that Order in Dubuque for many years. HONORABLE HENRY O. SEIFFERT

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee, appointed to prepare a suitable resolution commemorating the life, character and public service of the late Honorable Henry O. Seiffert, begs leave to submit the following memorial:

Henry O. Seiffert was born December 12, 1845, in Schoenberg, Holstein, Germany, and died at his home, 523 West 6th Street, Davenport, on December 12, 1940—his ninety-fifth birthday.

As a youth Mr. Seiffert took up the milling trade and, having learned it, traveled all over Germany and Austria working at his trade. When he was 21 years old, in the summer of 1866, he left Germany with a boyhood friend, William Ruser, for America. They traveled on a cattle boat to Hull, England, and from there to Liverpool, and they sailed for Quebec on the sailing ship St. David. From Quebec they went overland to New York, traveling by way of Albany.

Failing to find work in New York, Mr. Seiffert came to Davenport later in the summer, staying for a time at Hoering's boarding house, an establishment that few now living will remember. Failing to secure work at his trade, he worked on a farm near Davenport, attending business college in Davenport during the fall and winter. In the spring of 1867 he secured work in the flour store owned by John Good of Moline, located on Harrison Street. Later the store was sold and Mr. Seiffert obtained work in what is now the Phoenix Mill here, owned by the Freihofter Milling Co. For many years he was president of the Phoenix Company.

Two years after his arrival in Davenport he was married to Catherine Bauck. She preceded him in death. Four children survive: Otto H. Seiffert, president of the H. O. Seiffert Lumber Co., residing in Moline, Illinois; Miss Helan Seiffert and Mrs. C. T. Beiderbecke, both of Davenport, and Mrs. Martha Boes, Magdeburg, Germany. He also leaves a brother, Herman Seiffert, Avoca, Iowa, nine grandchildren and twelve great-grandchildren.

About the time of his marriage Mr. Seiffert decided that greater opportunity for advancement lay in the western part of the country, and with Henry Weise, a schoolmate, went to Avoca, Iowa, where they entered the land business. His land dealings prospered and in 1875 he started a brick and lumber yard in Avoca. Shortly after the establishment of the brick and lumber yard, he began to acquire grain elevators and to crib corn. Soon he owned eight lumber yards, located at Avoca, Walnut, Hancock, Oakland, Minden, Carson, Harlan and Adair. He extended his interests in Avoca, buying an interest in the flour mill there and becoming a director in the Avoca bank.

In 1881 Mr. Seiffert was elected to the Iowa House of Representatives from Pottawattamie county, although, as he related, he neither sought nor campaigned for the office. At the time of his death he was the oldest Iowa legislator.

In 1892, with his children growing up, he decided that they should have greater educational opportunities than were afforded in Avoca, and returned to Davenport, where he established his lumber business at its present location, 923 West Second Street.

Shortly after his return to Davenport he became a director in the Citizens Trust & Savings Bank, and later became a director and a vice president of the German Savings Bank, remaining for 30 years in the latter capacity.

He had been a director of the Davenport Bank & Trust Company since its organization and up until his retirement he had attended board meetings faithfully. He was also a director for the Friendly House for many years and was president of the Glucose Company, when it was Davenport's leading industry.

In addition to his business affairs here, he founded the Monroe Shingle Company in Monroe, Washington, the H. W. Seiffert Co., at Everett, Washington, and served as president of the Monroe Timber Company at Eugene, Washington, for many years.

Outside of his business and family, Mr. Seiffert had few hobbies. He was fond of traveling and made numerous trips abroad, as well as traveling extensively through his adopted country. He enjoyed walking and frequently took long jaunts on foot.

At the age of 16 he was confirmed in the German Lutheran church.

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Fortyninth General Assembly, That in the death of Henry O. Seiffert, the entire state of Iowa has sustained a great loss.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House and that the Chief Clerk be instructed to forward an enrolled copy to the surviving children of the deceased.

Committee.

During the World War, Mr. Selby served as a first lieutenant in the 35th division and saw active service in France. He was gas officer in the 160th regiment and was badly gassed himself during a major engagement in the Argonne.

Mr. Selby's civic service was given not only in war but in peace as well. He was former mayor of Odebolt, a member of the General Assembly from 1934 to 1936, a world war veteran, and secretary-treasurer of the National Farm Loan Association for Sac and Ida counties.

Mr. Selby passed away about 5:30 following a heart attack on Sunday, November 17, 1940, at Odebolt, Iowa. His death has left a large gap in his community that is not likely to be soon filled.

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Forty-ninth General Assembly, That in the passing of the Honorable John H. Selby, the state has lost a valuable and honored citizen, and the House would tender by this resolution its sincere sympathy to the surviving members of his family in their sorrow, and

HONORABLE JOHN C. STERLING

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee, appointed to prepare resolutions commemorating the life, character, and public service of the late Honorable John C. Sterling of Hamilton county, Iowa, begs leave to submit the following report:

John C. Sterling was born January 22, 1863, near LeRoy, in McLean county, Illinois, where he spent his boyhood amid the trying circumstances experienced by the early settlers during the reconstruction period that followed the Civil War. His parents, Samuel and Martha West Sterling, were of the pioneer group that emigrated from Ohio in a very early day and settled on a farm in the LeRoy community, where they lived for many years to raise their family, maintain their home, and contribute what they could to the educational and social life of their community.

Young Sterling first attended the rural district school, then the LeRoy high school, and later continued his studies at Illinois Wesleyan University. After the completion of his college education he taught school for several years in the county where he had grown to young manhood.

On August 16, 1888, he was united in marriage to Miss Minnie Gilmore, also of LeRoy, Illinois. Two years later they moved to Hamilton county, Iowa, and settled on a farm in what is known as the Pleasant Hill neighborhood. It was in this community that their family of six children were born and educated. At this early date many parts of Iowa, and particularly Hamilton county, was a comparatively new country. Mr. Sterling combined the work of farming and school teaching in a heroic effort to maintain and support his home. The family endured many hardships and at one time the house and most of their furnishings were destroyed by fire; but Mr. and Mrs. Sterling continued to strive on undaunted and to give freely of their life and effort to the upbuilding of the rich community life that is now enjoyed by those who have come after them.

In 1910 Mr. Sterling was elected Clerk of the District Court of Hamilton county, which office he held for three consecutive terms. Upon his taking office the family retired from the farm and moved to a home he had purchased in Webster City. Later, Mr. Sterling was elected to the Iowa Legislature and served as a member of the House in the Thirty-eighth and Thirty-ninth sessions of the General Assembly. After retiring from business he served as Justice of the Peace for eight years.

In politics he was a Republican and he was an active member of the Congregational church.

Mr. Sterling was quiet in manner, yet sincere and honest in his convictions and he was looked upon by his host of friends and acquaintances as a man deserving confidence and one who always stood ready to give of his best and untiring service to his community, to his county, and to the state.

Mrs. Sterling passed away May 8, 1936, after which time Mr. Sterling made his home with his children. Although past seventy-six years of age he continued to enjoy fairly good health and was active in going about among his friends. He always maintained an interest in and was much concerned in world affairs; and only about an hour before his death he listened to a news broadcast and later discussed the affairs of the day with a daughter with whom he was residing at the time. He then retired for the night and shortly afterward he was found to have suffered a stroke from which he could not survive. He passed away May 12, 1939.

He leaves to mourn his loss, two sisters, Mrs. C. E. Chapin, of Bloomington, Illinois, and Mrs. F. M. Thompson of Paxton, Illinois; four daughters, Mrs. Luale Brock and Miss Rachel Sterling of Spencer, Iowa; Mrs. M. F. McKee of Webster City, Iowa, and Mrs. Perry Parker of Peoria, Illinois; and two sons, Sam Sterling of Bloomington, Illinois and Dr. L. P. Sterling of Zearing, Iowa, besides a host of admiring friends in his home community and many acquaintances in the state at large.

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Forty-ninth General Assembly, That in the passing of the Honorable John C. Sterling, the state has lost a valued and honored citizen and the House, by this resolution, tenders its sympathy to the members of his family in their sorrow.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House, and that the Chief Clerk be directed to forward an enrolled copy to the family of the deceased.

JOHN S. HEFFNER,
C. A. BRYSON,
ALBERT STEINBERG,

Committee.

Mr. Stillmunkes, a life-long member of the Democratic party, was elected as Representative in the lower House, serving two terms during the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth sessions of the General Assembly.

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Forty-ninth General Assembly of the State of Iowa, That in the passing of the Honorable Peter Stillmunkes the state of Iowa has lost a valued and honored citizen, and the House belatedly tenders its sympathies to the surviving members of his family.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the Journal of the House and that the Chief Clerk be instructed to send an enrolled copy to his surviving family.

ROBERT C. REILLY,
F. E. SHARP,

Committee.

Unanimously adopted, April 3, 1941.

HONORABLE REYBURN L. RUTLEDGE

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee, appointed to prepare appropriate resolutions commemorating the life, character, and public service of the Honorable Reyburn L. Rutledge begs leave to submit the following:

Reyburn L. Rutledge was born in Webster county, Iowa, June 29, 1888, and died August 26, 1939. Mr. Rutledge spent his entire life in Webster county, actively identified with every phase of community life.

He attended and graduated from the Fort Dodge public schools. In a judging contest at the 1908 state fair he received a scholarship to Iowa

State College. He continued his studies at that institution and before his graduation won honors on the football team.

His interest in farming continued through the years. He and Mrs. Rutledge were associated with the Farm Bureau in all of its activities.

He volunteered in the World War, and was assigned to aviation service in 1918. He was a member of the American Legion, and took part in all of the activities of this organization.

Mr. Rutledge was elected Representative from Webster county and served in the Forty-second, Forty-third, and Forty-fourth General Assemblies, where he proved to be one of its most diligent members. He was speaker pro tem of the Forty-fourth General Assembly. His official activities were characterized by honesty and upright business methods. He was a staunch Republican and a zealous worker for his party.

He was united in marriage to Miss Mabel Mears of Grinnell. To this union four daughters were born, Jean, Ann, Alice, and Mary. He was a member of the Congregational church of Fort Dodge and the burial service was from that church.

The news of the sudden death of Reyburn L. Rutledge shocked not only his family and the immediate community but his numerous friends throughout the state. His passing brought a sense of desolation and loss which was manifestly evident, wherever the information was received.

Mr. Rutledge was a typical product of his day and generation, representing the best characteristics of the immediate descendants of the early pioneers who made valuable contributions to Iowa history. His grandfather, the Honorable L. S. Coffin (lovingly called Father Coffin) was one of the best known pioneers of northwest Iowa. His mother, Carrie Coffin Rutledge, during her lifetime, was one of Iowa's most capable women, prominent in woman's suffrage, temperance, and religious groups; she pioneered in each.

The highest compliment that can be paid to the memory of Mr. Rutledge is to recall his faithfulness to his friends and his intimate love and devotion to his family.

He was the author of the following poem which expresses eloquently his outlook in life:

RELIGION

When the talk turns on Religion
I have notions of my own,
Have my versions of the Bible
And the things I think alone.

For Religion as I see it
Is a pathway to a goal,
It is something to be settled
Between each man and his soul.

Now I'm not a Roman Catholic
But I wouldn't go so far
As to throw away the friendship
Of the folks I know who are.

For I've lived and neighbored with them
Found them loyal through and through,

I've respect and admiration
For the kindly things they do.

So I've come to the conclusion
Tho some people think it odd
That it makes but little difference
How a good man worships God.

I know Methodists and Baptists,
Lutherans, Scientists and Jews
Whose friendship is a treasure
I wouldn't want to lose.

And I honor and respect them
And wouldn't dare condemn
The form of prayer and worship
That is comforting to them.

So when bigots talk Religion
I just settle back and see
All the kindly friends and loyal
Every Church has given me.

Reyburn L. Rutledge

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Forty-ninth General Assembly, That the foregoing Memorial be adopted as its appreciation of the life, character, and public service of the late Reyburn L. Rutledge.

Be It Further Resolved, That these resolutions be spread on the records of this House and a copy thereof be sent to the family of the deceased.

JOHN S. HEFFNER,
MELVIN WILSON,
JAMES F. STANEK,
Committee.
