JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

HALL OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
DES MOINES, IOWA, JANUARY 13, 1947.

Pursuant to law, the House of Representatives of the Fifty-second General Assembly of Iowa convened at 10:00 a.m. Monday, January 13, 1947.

The House was called to order by Honorable Ted Sloane, Representative of Polk county.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Carl R. Frankhauser, pastor of the First Evangelical United Brethren Church, Des Moines, Iowa.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Leave of absence was granted as follows: Butler of Pocahontas indefinitely on account of illness on request of Robb of Emmet.

On motion by Kruse of Floyd, A. C. Gustafson of Polk county was elected acting Chief Clerk. Mr. Gustafson presented himself and took and subscribed to the following oath:

"I do solemnly swear that I will support the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of Iowa and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of my office to the best of my ability, so help me God."

Redman of Sac moved that Honorable A. H. Avery of Clay county be elected temporary Speaker.

Motion prevailed.

Van Eaton of Woodbury moved that a committee of two be appointed to escort the temporary Speaker to the chair.

Motion prevailed and the following committee was appointed: Van Eaton of Woodbury and Ainsworth of Dickinson.

Mr. Avery was escorted to the chair and the oath of office was administered by acting Chief Clerk Gustafson.

Temporary Speaker Avery in the chair.

CREDENTIALS OF MEMBERS

Hicklin of Louisa moved that a committee of five on credentials be appointed and that the accredited list of the Secretary of State be accepted.

Motion prevailed and the following committee was appointed: Hicklin of Louisa, Putney of Tama, Prange of Marion, Tesmer of Black Hawk and Duffy of Dubuque.

The committee retired and, upon returning, presented the following report:

ELECTION OF SPEAKER

Bryson of Hardin presented the name of Honorable G. T. Kuester of Cass county as candidate for Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-second General Assembly, preceding such nomination with the following remarks:

MR. SPEAKER AND MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE:

For the second time I have been accorded this privilege, once in the first hundred years of our statehood and now in the beginning of our second hundred years.

I desire to present to you for your Speaker, the name of a very dear friend of mine and of yours. I speak with the certainty that that which I shall say is noncontroversial.

This man is known to all of us as a man of integrity, of lofty thoughts and purposes, a true friend to the common people of Iowa, and one trusted by all. No one has a more intimate knowledge of legislative affairs than he. We have found him trustworthy, courageous and fearless in the performance of all his duties, always ready to champion the cause of right against wrong.

He is possessed of that quiet dignity and even temperament so necessary to a presiding officer and with it, all the other qualifications necessary for a Speaker.

Mr. Speaker and Members of this Fifty-second General Assembly of Iowa, it affords me great pleasure to present to you now the Honorable Gus T. Kuester of Cass county for Speaker of the House.

Klemesrud of Winnebago seconded the nomination of Mr. Kuester for Speaker of the House, preceding his motion with the following remarks:

MR. SPEAKER, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, MEMBERS OF THIS FIFTY-SECOND GENERAL ASSEMBLY:

It is indeed a real pleasure and great privilege to have a part in presenting the Honorable Gus Kuester as the majority party's candidate for Speaker, ever more so, when one can be reasonably safe in assuming that the nominee will be elected.

The older members know that for some years past the State's advance in greatness has been due, to some considerable extent, to a Cass county farmer's willingness to leave his four-buckle overshoes empty and unused, take a leisurely glance out at his favorite back forty, then hie his way to the Capitol City, there to endure what almost anyone from the wide-open spaces would describe as a winter of slush, smoke, soot, and high prices, so that he might fulfill a sacred obligation to his constituents, so that he might do his part in drafting good government for the people of Iowa.

Session after session newly elected members have been coming here, imbued with desire to merit the faith of their constituents in return for some slight financial reward and great satisfaction in having their consciences and informed friends repeat, "Well done, my faithful servant".

In recent sessions, those who have confided these ambitions to their legislative brethren have invariably had one person pointed out to them as the one outstanding, rugged individualist whom they could well choose as their model in striving for excellence in statesmanship. That peer among legislators is Gus Kuester.

I will not take the time to enlarge upon his many qualifications. Yet, I know many of you recall how two years ago he answered the reckless cry to spend, spend, and spend by forceful "nays" to prevent "scraping the bottom of the barrel".

And I will only give passing mention of the fact that when a national magazine was searching for an outstanding American as the subject of an article which would propagandize true Americanism and good government, both at home and abroad, the quest ended in Cass county.

But it is not because he is a farmer, and surely not because of his international fame as Time magazine's cover-page man, that I wish to second the nomination. It is because, regardless of whether you heartily agree or emphatically disagree with his own views, this peer among legislators will always remain a true friend to all who honestly do their duty as they see it. Also, because his only political ambition is to serve where he can be of greatest use in promoting good government for a great state.

It is indeed, then, a pleasure and a privilege to second the nomination of my friend, your friend, our friend, that typical Iowan, plain Gus Kuester, the Honorable Gentleman from Cass county, for Speaker of the House of the Fifty-second General Assembly.

Poston of Wayne seconded the nomination and moved that the Chief Clerk be authorized to cast the votes of all the members of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-second General Assembly for the Honorable G. T. Kuester as Speaker of the House, preceding his motion with the following remarks:

MR. SPEAKER: I have never asked to be recognized for a purpose more satisfactory to me than at this time.

For four sessions I have been associated with the majority nominee for Speaker. During all that time I have found him fair, honest and aggressive for the things in which he believes.

During the past two years I have been closely associated with him in the work of the legislative interim committee, and in visiting the various institutions of the Board of Education and the Board of Control. During this time he has been outspoken for the things that he believed right and proper, regardless of outside influence.

During this session of the legislature every group, every partisan and every cause for which lobbyists work will be striving to influence the administration of affairs in the House. I believe and say that any group that strives for questionable legislation will receive no encouragement from the nominee of the majority party. That is all the State of Iowa asks—fair and honest administration of the affairs of the House with a minimum of politics, and I believe that in Gus Kuester we have such a man.

I not only take pleasure, but consider it a privilege to move that the vote by which G. T. Kuester is elected Speaker of the House of Representatives for the Fifty-Second General Assembly be made unanimous and the Chief Clerk be authorized to cast the entire vote of the Assembly for him.

In accordance with the foregoing motion, the Chief Clerk cast the votes of all the members of the House for Honorable G. T. Kuester as Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-second General Assembly. Honorable G. T. Kuester of Cass county having received all of the votes cast for the office of Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-second General Assembly, was declared elected to that office.

Good of Boone moved that a committee of two be named to escort the Speaker to the chair.

Motion prevailed and the following committee was named: Good of Boone and Olson of Mitchell.

Honorable G. T. Kuester was escorted to the Speaker's station and upon being sworn, assumed the chair and made the following remarks:

MEMBERS OF THE FIFTY-SECOND GENERAL ASSEMBLY:

Allow me to express my sincere appreciation of the honor and recognition you have bestowed upon me.

I realize the duties and responsibilities that go with the position and approach the task ahead in all humbleness of spirit, asking for Divine guidance to give me wisdom and understanding to properly take care of the duties as Speaker. We have many problems ahead that, with a spirit of sincere cooperation, we can arrive at a solution of many of them. May I suggest that our aim at all times should be: "To hew to the line in the interest of good government for the people of Iowa as a whole." You will find that this can best be done without indulging in partisan politics.

Permit me to review just very briefly to refresh our minds and to recall a few facts of recent history.

There are in this session two other members besides myself, Avery, (Dad, as we lovingly call him), and the Dean of the Legislature, McFarlane, who will recall that in the session of 1935, the 46th, the Emergency Committee was one of the main committees having to deal with continuation of farm mortgage moratoriums, feed loans to farmers in drouth areas of the state, chattel mortgages, bankruptcies, tax sales, and other items of like nature. Many counties had to appeal to the state for direct aid for welfare relief. C.C.C. camps were in operation to give employment to boys. Large sums were appropriated by the state for emergency relief purposes. The national debt was going up. Since that period of time, just when the country was starting to make some recovery, we had World War II thrust upon us. It was necessary to spend billions of dollars in treasure as well as hundreds of thousands of lives to win that war. In a very real sense we are now in a period of high prices due to national debt—credit situation that in all reality is an additional debt burden that has been thrust upon us and generations to come. Government has only one source of revenue: TAXES.

In this post-war situation it is well to remember that we at all times have this national debt situation to face and must govern our own deliberations with this in mind; care must be taken NOT to establish a long-time program on an inflationary basis.

Among many problems we have are those of state finance. We should provide enough funds to properly operate the various departments and institutions of the state with reasonable allowance for higher living costs.

Much has been said about the surplus in our state funds; let me say I sincerely believe that when the budget for the 1947-1949 biennium, exclusive of any new or additional items, is completed, it will be found that most of the surplus available will have been absorbed leaving no such surplus as was left two years ago as a cushion fund and an ordinary practice of good business. The increase in wages and salaries with few exceptions should be on a temporary basis to meet the higher costs of living. Another matter to come before us is that of our State Board of Control Institutions. You will be confronted with many reports and proposals from various sources for your consideration. Let us give careful consideration to these matters and then it will be necessary for us to use common sense in arriving at our final conclusions.

The Interim Committee has been very active since the close of the last session; please give their report careful consideration; likewise, that of the House and Senate Committee or, as it is better known, the Knudson Committee.

Now is NOT the time to disband the functions of the Board of Control, but we should come to their aid with sufficient funds and legislative aid to enable them to do the things necessary. It must be remembered that the war upset plans for the improvement of the Board of Control Institutions. It will require time to accomplish desired results.

Our school and road programs are interdependent and any program of state aid should be based upon current yearly revenue surplus. We should not establish a program now that will become a severe property tax burden later.

There has been for some time an urgent demand for corrective beer legislation. While it is true that the State cannot legislate morals into the lives of individuals, nevertheless, the laws of the State should be on the side of the higher ideals of life and definite action should be taken to give to the people weapons of enforcement and stringest regulation of the sale of the stuff that can lead to the destruction of useful lives and the loss of eternal life for the individual. The problem should not be approached from the standpoint of additional revenue, since the cost to the State in its various forms far exceeds the revenue obtained.

You will be approached by various groups who have some special interest to them that they will urge your favorable consideration; I would suggest that you give their proposition fair and careful consideration, then vote your own honest convictions in the matter. This eliminates the so called "hot spots" in your work here. Remember that it is not the quantity but the quality of the bills passed that determines the success or failure of the session. We can, by working longer hours daily, shorten the session by days, which I am sure will be appreciated come springtime. To the new members, you will find that the members who have had previous service anxious to be of help to you. Feel free to ask them for any help you may want. We all were new once and we all remember the help given us. Let us work on a basis of mutual cooperation.

I shall try to be fair at all times and ask your help to make this session the success we all want it to be. I want you to know that the door to the Speaker's office is always open to you. I need your help and advice.

Let us again resolve to "Hew to the line in the interest of good government for the people of Iowa as a whole."

Speaker Kuester in the chair.

PERMANENT CHIEF CLERK

Nelson of Woodbury moved that A. C. Gustafson be made permanent Chief Clerk of the House.

Motion prevailed and A. C. Gustafson was declared elected permanent Chief Clerk.

TRIBUTE TO FORMER SPEAKER FELTON

The Speaker announced an interruption in the usual procedure with the following statement:

At this point, I think it would be most appropriate for us to depart from the regular procedure and pay silent tribute to the man who, but for the intervention of a Divine Providence, would have stood in the place where I now stand. All of us who served with our former Speaker had the highest regard for him in every possible way and I am sure that those of the new members who were not acquainted with him will want to join us and stand for a moment in silent tribute to his memory.

The members of the House stood in silent tribute to the memory of former Speaker Felton.

Morrissey of Jasper offered the following resolution and asked unanimous consent for its immediate consideration and moved its adoption:

HOUSE RESOLUTION 1

Whereas, A Divine Providence in His Infinite Wisdom, has seen fit to call from our very midst to His eternal home, our very good friend, our co-worker and fellow member of the Legislature, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Honorable Harold Felton, and,

Whereas, Every member of the General Assemblies whose privilege it has been to serve with him, as well as a host of friends throughout the state, give testimony to his zeal and integrity in public service, and,

Whereas, The state of Iowa, which he has served with unflinching devotion, has, in his passing, lost a faithful and loyal servant, Now, Therefore,

Be It Resolved, by the House of Representatives, That each and every member has lost a true friend, that as an organization it has lost a most competent, honest and impartial presiding officer, and that the entire state mourns the loss of an able and courageous official, and

Be It Further Resolved, That we express our most sincere sympathy to the bereaved family, and

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to Mrs. Felton, and that this Resolution shall be spread upon the records of the House of Representatives this 13th day of January, 1947.

Motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted by standing vote.

ADOPTION OF TEMPORARY RULES

Morrissey of Jasper moved that the rules of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-first General Assembly be in full force and effect until the adoption of the report of the committee on rules.

Motion prevailed.

COMMITTEE TO NOTIFY GOVERNOR

Wilson of Wright moved that a committee of three be appointed to notify the Governor that the House was duly organized and ready to receive any communications that he may desire to transmit.

Motion prevailed and the following committee was appointed: Wilson of Wright, Schwengel of Scott and Bloom of Webster.

COMMITTEE TO NOTIFY THE SENATE

McFarlane of Black Hawk moved that a committee of three be appointed to notify the Senate that the House is duly organized and ready to receive any communications that it may desire to transmit.

Motion prevailed and the following committee was appointed: McFarlane of Black Hawk, Beardsley of Warren and Lundy of Monroe.

Donohue of Cedar offered the following concurrent resolution:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 1

Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring: That a joint convention of the two houses of the Fifty-second General Assembly be held on January 14, 1947, at 2:00 p.m.

Be It Further Resolved: That Governor Blue be invited to read his message at this joint convention of the two houses of the General Assembly and that the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House be designated to deliver the invitation to him.

Be It Further Resolved: That at this joint convention the votes for Governor and Lieutenant Governor be canvassed and the result announced and recorded as provided by law.

Unanimous consent having been obtained for the immediate consideration of the resolution, Mr. Donohue moved its adoption.

Motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

ELECTION OF SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

Weichman of Benton placed in nomination the Honorable Edw. J. Morrissey of Jasper county as candidate for Speaker pro tempore of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-second General Assembly, preceding his nomination with the following remarks:

MR. SPEAKER AND MEMBERS OF THE FIFTY-SECOND GENERAL ASSEMBLY:

It is an honor for me to take this opportunity to place in nomination the name of a man with whom I have served the past five sessions of the Legislature, and in whom I have a great deal of confidence, and whom I believe you will like as your Speaker pro tempore.

Now I place in nomination the name of Edward J. Morrissey of Jasper county as your Speaker pro tempore.

Edwards of Union seconded the nomination of Mr. Edw. J. Morrissey as Speaker pro tempore of the House of Representatives, preceding his motion with the following remarks:

MR. SPEAKER AND MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE:

I have known the honorable Edw. J. Morrissey for many years. We have worked together in many capacities on various committees during the last six years that I have been a member of the House.

I have always found him to be fair, honest and conscientious in all of his decisions. I think he is a fine gentleman and a good legislator. Therefore, I wish to second the nomination of the Honorable Edw. J. Morrissey for Speaker pro tempore of the House for the coming session.

Norland of Worth seconded the nomination and moved that the Chief Clerk be authorized to cast the votes of all the members of the House of Representatives for the Honorable Edw. J. Morrissey as Speaker pro tempore, preceding his motion with the following remarks:

MR. SPEAKER AND MEMBERS OF THE FIFTY-SECOND GENERAL ASSEMBLY:

The minority party approves of, and applauds, the selection made by the majority for candidate as Speaker pro tempore. The courtesy and kindness of the presiding officers are among the many things that make a legislative session efficient and pleasant.

Mr. Morrissey has these qualities in an unusual degree, and we are happy to have him as our Speaker pro tempore. I, therefore, move that the Chief Clerk be authorized to cast the votes of all the members of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-second General Assembly for the Honorable Edward J. Morrissey of Jasper county as Speaker pro tempore of the House.

Motion prevailed.

In accordance with the foregoing motion, the Chief Clerk cast the votes of all the members of the House for Honorable Edw. J. Morrissey for the office of Speaker pro tempore. Mr. Morrissey was declared unanimously elected Speaker pro tempore of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-second General Assembly.

Walter of Marshall moved that a committee of two be appointed to escort the Speaker pro tempore to the chair.

Motion prevailed and the following committee was appointed: Walter of Marshall and Brown of Monona.

Mr. Edw. J. Morrissey was escorted to the chair and, after taking the oath of office, made a few remarks expressing sincere thanks for the honor conferred upon him.

Speaker pro tempore Morrissey in the chair.

COMMITTEE FROM THE SENATE

A committee from the Senate appeared and notified the House that the Senate was duly organized and ready to receive any communications that the House might desire to transmit.

Wilson of Wright, chairman of the committee to notify the Governor that the House was duly organized and ready to receive any communications it might desire to transmit, reported that the committee had performed its duty. Report accepted and the committee discharged.

McFarlane of Black Hawk, chairman of the committee to notify the Senate that the House was duly organized and ready to receive any communications it might desire to transmit, reported that the committee had performed its duty. Report accepted and the committee discharged.

COMMITTEE ON COMMITTEE ROOMS

Hedin of Scott moved that a committee of three be appointed to assign committee rooms to the various standing committees of the House.

Motion prevailed and the following committee was appointed: Hedin of Scott, Lynes of Bremer and Krall of Johnson.

Mills of Adair offered the following resolution and asked unanimous consent for its immediate consideration:

HOUSE RESOLUTION 2

Resolved: That a committee of one be appointed to arrange with different ministers of the state for opening the sessions with prayer.

Unanimous consent having been granted for its immediate consideration, Mr. Mills moved the adoption of the resolution.

Motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted. The following committee was appointed: Mills of Adair.

Speaker Kuester in the chair.

SPECIAL ORDER

Walter of Pottawattamie offered the following motion:

I move that the assignment of seats to the members of the House be made a special order for this afternoon at 2:00 o'clock and that the names of the members be placed in a hat and drawn by the Chief Clerk and as the names are called, the members shall select their seats and remain in the same until the drawing is completed. Members with defective sight or hearing shall be permitted to select special seats in front. The former members may, if they so desire, retain the seats they occupied in former General Assemblies, or may select any other available seats preceding the drawing.

Motion was adopted.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

The following messages were received by the Senate:

MR. SPEAKER: I am directed to inform your honorable body that the Senate has adopted the following concurrent resolution in which the concurrence of the House is asked:

Senate Concurrent Resolution 1, providing for a joint committee to arrange for the inauguration of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor, the President having named on the part of the Senate, Senators Elthon, Bateson, Hultman, Faul, Clem, Dewel and Jacobson.

Also: That the Senate has adopted the following concurrent resolution in which the concurrence of the House is asked:

House members to leave orders for Codes at the Chief Clerk's desk and Senate members by leaving orders at the Secretary's desk.

McFarlane of Black Hawk moved its adoption. Motion prevailed and Senate Concurrent Resolution 2 was adopted.

McFarlane of Black Hawk called up Senate Concurrent Resolution 3 and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 3

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring: That the Superintendent of Printing be instructed to mail to each county auditor in the State of Iowa, one copy of the daily Senate and House Journals and one copy of each House and Senate bill of the Fifty-second General Assembly on date of introduction and printing thereof, and that same, with binders, be furnished to such officers free of charge.

McFarlane of Black Hawk moved its adoption. Motion prevailed and Senate Concurrent Resolution 3 was adopted.

Fimmen of Davis offered the following resolution:

HOUSE RESOLUTION 3

Resolved: That each member of the House shall be entitled to select and appoint a clerk and such clerk may be called upon to aid in the discharge of the clerical work of the House of Representatives when his or her time permits. Only expert typists and stenographers will be considered qualified. The Speaker and Chief Clerk shall appoint a clerk and a page to serve for the session and the Chief Clerk is hereby authorized to employ such additional clerical assistance as his duties may require.

Unanimous consent having been granted for the immediate consideration of the resolution, Mr. Fimmen moved its adoption. Motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

COMMITTEE ON MILEAGE

McEleney of Clinton moved that a committee of three be appointed to determine the amount of mileage due each member and report the same to the House.

Motion prevailed and the following committee was appointed: McEleney of Clinton, Kosek of Linn, and Hansen of Carroll.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 2

Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring: That a joint committee of six members be appointed, three from the Senate to be appointed by the President and three from the House to be appointed by the Speaker, to nominate such additional employees as may be necessary for the work of the session and that the committee recommend the position to be filled.

Unanimous consent having been granted for the immediate consideration of the resolution, Mr. Long moved its adoption.

Motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

The Speaker appointed as members of said committee on the part of the House the following: Long of Clinton, Nelson of Woodbury, and Kruse of Floyd.

Steinberg of Story offered the following concurrent resolution.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 3

Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring: That the Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the House are hereby directed to prepare a daily clip sheet showing all amendments to bills offered or filed to be attached to the bills in the Bill File.

Be It Further Resolved: The Joint Committee on Rules prepare a suitable rule covering the foregoing procedure and determine whether amendments filed shall be printed in the Journal at the time of filing or when the bill they apply to is up for consideration.

Be It Further Resolved, That printed amendments shall correspond line for line with original copies.

Unanimous consent having been granted for the immediate consideration of the resolution, Mr. Steinberg moved its adoption. Motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

William R. Kendrick	Frances Chittenden

GENERAL LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE

Speaker Kuester created a committee designated as General Legislative Committee, preceding his announcement of its personnel with the following statement:

The Chair desires to name as a standing committee the members who were chosen at a pre-legislative caucus and who have studied, prepared and will present to this General Assembly a number of bills submitted to it by various departments and members of the House. A substantial number of these bills are of a corrective nature and supposedly noncontroversial, and their early introduction will make it possible for this General Assembly to begin the consideration of bills at a very early date. This committee has, in my opinion, done some very splendid work and its members have given of their time in order that we might have something before us for our early consideration.

On behalf of the House of Representatives, I want to extend my sincere thanks to the committee members and to commend each and every one of them for the very splendid and unselfish work they have done.

The following members were named to the General Legislative committee:

Ted Sloane, Polk county, Chairman.

Harry Weichman, Benton county.

David Ainsworth, Dickinson county.

Mel M. Graham, Audubon county.

C. A. Bryson, Hardin county.

C. G. Good, Boone county.

Edna Lawrence, Wapello county.

Ivan R. Mills, Adair county.

President Evans then presented Governor Blue who delivered the following address:

GOVERNOR'S BIENNIAL MESSAGE

MR. PRESIDENT, MR. SPEAKER, AND MEMBERS OF THE FIFTY-SECOND GENERAL ASSEMBLY:

By virtue of the provision contained in the Constitution it is my responsibility and privilege, at this time, to address you upon the subject "The Condition of the State."

I am happy to be able to report to you that, as a whole, the state of Iowa is in a prosperous condition with splendid prospects for a development and expansion undreamed of by the founding fathers who met one hundred years ago.

Our farmers are in a prosperous condition. The production of grains and livestock are at record levels. The general standard of living of those residing in rural areas has continued to increase.

The important expansion in the field of industry which commenced in Iowa during the war has continued since the conclusion of the conflict. The indebtedness of farmers, of businessmen, of municipalities and counties, together with the primary road indebtedness have been substantially reduced. The state itself is without indebtedness, and as a result of the unexpectedly large returns from sales tax and income tax, has accumulated a reserve which will be of incalculable benefit to the citizenry of the state in making repairs and additions to the capital improvements of the state, which either as a result of the war or past neglect, need attention. Because of the balanced nature of Iowa's economy, we are making the transition from war to peace with much less disturbance than is being experienced by many of our sister states.

Both the state and the nation are now in a period of reconstruction and adjustment following the greatest war of all history. There are some people and some groups of people throughout the nation who, during the war seemed to have lost their sense of proportion and value. Some have forgotten that the only wealth that we possess grows out of production—the production of our farms, the production of our mines, the production of our factories. There can be no production without effort, without the devotion of time, energy and thought. There is no substitute for work. Labor carved this state and this nation out of a wilderness. Our achievements of the past and our hopes for the future have depended and will continue to depend upon our ability to work and sacrifice. A spirit of selfishness and materialism seems to control the thinking and dominate the action of many. Following the termination of the armed conflict, we find ourselves as a nation involved in a civil economic war, which has threatened the stability of the nation and has impaired the strength of local government throughout the nation. We have not yet become sobered from the intoxicating effects of the war and the inflation. The road back to a sound, peaceful, prosperous world will not be easy. We will be beset with many problems and difficulties.

Iowa and her people have no reason to be discouraged. On the contrary, we have every reason for optimism. Our people are thrifty and industrious; our land fertile; our industry constantly growing; our labor the finest in the world. Iowa people are a tolerant, intelligent, law-abiding people. The opportunity for a higher standard of living and greater achievement for our people and for our state has never been brighter.

As we look the world over and perceive the sickness, starvation, destruction and confusion which has gripped so many of the nations of the world, and compare the lot of the millions of citizens of these war-torn countries with our own lot, we should be humbly grateful to the Almighty for the protection and the blessings with which He has surrounded us.

The business of the state is so extensive that it is impossible, within the limits of this address, to discuss the affairs of each state department. The reports of the state treasurer as to the financial condition of the state and the reports of the various other departments of government have been prepared for your consideration, and I am sure that you will study them and be guided by them.

I submit to you, as required by law, a report of all pardons, commutations, final discharges from parole and remittances of fines made during the last two years. In this connection I should like to call your attention to the fact that a large number of applications for remittance of fines which were imposed eight and ten years ago and suspended by the trial court during the good behavior of the defendant, are apparently forgotten by the officers and the court. They do not come to light until the defendant seeks to purchase a home, or perchance inherits a home or other property from his parents, and then the suspended fine appears upon the abstract as a lien. There ought to be a statute of limitations upon the duration of such suspended sentences, and I recommend that you consider means for accomplishing such a purpose.

STUDY COMMITTEES

During the last quarter of a century the problems which must be considered by legislatures have increased both in number and in complexity. To deal with the many new problems which arise from advancement in the fields of science, communication and transportation, new departments have been created. It is growing increasingly difficult to legislate by ear. We can no longer afford the luxury of government "by guess and by gosh". Legislation must be based on fact, resulting from careful research. During the short period of one hundred days nearly a thousand bills and hundreds of amendments demand your attention. If your legislative judgment is to be sound and just, you must to a very large degree, depend upon the research of others. The last legislature made provision for two very important fact finding committees, the mental survey committee and the tax study committee. Their work is now available to assist you in your deliberations. Members of the next session would be greatly aided in their work if you would, at this session, provide committees to study some of the problems which should be considered by them when they convene.

STUDY OF COUNTY GOVERNMENT

The government closest to the people is county and city government. There are many who believe that the laws relating to county government should be studied and revised. New systems of accounting, better roads, a decrease in the number of jury trials, new social welfare problems, health problems, rural school needs, juvenile delinquency, soil conservation and many other problems might well be studied in relation to county government.

Local county officials seldom have the time or the means to study these problems on a state wide basis and compare their procedures with those of other counties or states.

All government should periodically take inventory of itself. It should be alert to the need of modification and revision.

Much good might come from the work of a committee which had given careful study to the subject of county government.

RECODIFICATION OF MUNICIPAL LAW

Approximately one-half of all our people live within incorporated cities and towns. Many laws relating to the government of these cities were written years ago, when conditions were vastly different than are found today.

The law for paving streets in cities was passed in 1884—sixty-three years ago. At that time traffic was largely local. Today, great trucks, carrying commerce of the state and the nation, are wearing out the pavement paid for by the laboring man, the widow and the merchant.

This very apparent unfairness has caused property owners to resist repairing and building of badly needed paving improvements. Existing paving in many of our cities and towns is in such a sad state of repair as to be a disgrace. There has been no real road building program in the cities and towns of Iowa for at least twenty-five years.

The present special assessment laws are confusing and inadequate. I am reliably advised that the cost of paving and other special assessments is increased as much as fifteen to twenty per cent for the taxpayer, because of the uncertainties and inadequacies of our existing statutes.

These matters have been considered by the tax study committee and by a committee of the Iowa League of Municipalities, and suggestions in the way of tentative bills have been prepared for your consideration. But the whole body of municipal law should be studied and over-hauled. This can best be accomplished by a special study committee.

I propose, for your consideration, the passing of a joint resolution creating such a committee.

SOIL CONSERVATION

It is said that there be three things that make a nation great and strong. A fertile soil, easy means of transportation, and an industrious people. It is doubtful if there can be found throughout the world an area comparable in size and fertility to Iowa. Great as its resources are, they can and are being exhausted. During the last war many of Iowa's hillsides that should have always remained as pasture or hay-land were planted with tilled crops. Today great gullies twenty and thirty feet deep have been cut in these hillsides, and the productivity of the farm destroyed forever. This problem affects not only the individual landowner, but society as a whole. The man on such a farm finds himself unable to maintain his fences and buildings, to buy new machinery, to furnish an adequate standard of living for his family; health is neglected, bills in town are unpaid, the assessed valuation of the farm is reduced, and the income of the merchant is impaired. The final result is that the ability of the whole community to support schools, churches, and hospitals; to build roads, libraries and other public improvements is impaired. Hence, the old proverb—"wherever you find a poor soil you will find a poor people." It will surprise many to know that during the recent years of high prices for farm products, three counties within the state have been financially embarrassed to the extent that they have sought aid from the state in caring for their needy citizens.

I believe that provision should be made by statute for levying of optional local taxes for the purchase of machinery for carrying on soil conservation work and that counties should have authority to permit the use of county machinery for soil conservation practices. To a very large degree, the future prosperity of Iowa depends upon the preservation of our soil.

Today 81 counties have formed soil conservation districts. We should now bend every effort to see that farms which should adopt soil conservation practices are co-operating in this important program.

ROAD STUDY COMMITTEE

I mentioned the importance of an adequate system of transportation. The history of transportation legislation in Iowa is a fascinating story. It is the story of toll-gates and bridges; the story of the plank road from Burlington to Mt. Pleasant; the story of efforts to make the Des Moines River navigable; the story of encouragement to the building of railroads. These stories all are fascinating.

It is said that to make the Des Moines River navigable and to encourage the building of railroads, the state made land grants or used funds from the sale of public lands equal to a strip of land twenty-five miles wide east and west across the state.

During the last two years more than sixteen million dollars has been paid upon the primary road indebtedness. Under the plan we have adopted, the balance of the primary road fund indebtedness should be paid by 1950.

This will free approximately eight million dollars now being paid out annually in principal and interest.

Many miles of primary roads have not yet been built. Road building costs, like other building costs, have mounted. Old paving is beginning to wear out. New road problems are appearing. These conditions and many more require careful consideration and analysis.

The next session of the Legislature should consider and pass a new primary road program. We should begin planning such a program now by the creation of a special committee to study the problem and to make recommendations.

The road problems cannot ever be solved by a single legislature. The first session, meeting at Burlington, passed a road bill. The last session passed a road bill. Few legislatures have convened which have not considered this problem. Sufficient funds have been available to match federal funds during the current biennium. It will be necessary, however, to have additional funds to the extent of approximately three and one-half million dollars to match federal funds during the next biennium.

In the next few years we shall be confronted with a recession. The time to build public improvements is during such a period. The cost to the taxpayer is reduced, and employment provided for the unemployed.

The present secondary road authority is not adequate to deal with such a situation. The counties lack authority to anticipate their road funds.

At the present rate of construction, roads needed now will not be completed in the next twenty years.

The whole road law needs study and revision to meet existing needs.

BUDGET

There is only one bill which the Legislature must pass. That is the budget bill providing funds for the operation of state government during the next two years. The current budget presents problems to this legislature which are unusually difficult. Few people, even though they may serve in the legislature for years, or are connected with the operation of some department of state government, ever have the privilege or responsibility of studying either the income or expenses of the state as a whole.

When it comes to spending public money we find most people are possessed of dual personalities, of a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde nature. As individual taxpayers, we are the conservative and respectable Dr. Jekyll and violently condemn increased taxes frequently without regard to the merit, purpose, or need for which they are appropriated. As Mr. Hyde, we are all members of commercial, social and fraternal organizations which are forever passing resolutions favoring increased governmental expenditures of vast and often impossible sums of money for particular pet projects. As individual citizens we tend to the conservative philosophy of Dr. Jekyll, but when organized into societies, we embrace the philosophy of the radical Mr. Hyde.

I believe that the public generally has not become fully aware of the financial threat which confronts state and local government because of the unwise financial and wage policies adopted by the federal government. A great deal has been said lately about the financial difficulties of school districts. Little or nothing has been said of the economic difficulties of city, county and state governments.

The government must buy the materials it uses—typewriters, trucks, food, clothing, labor, and a thousand and one other items, in a market that has been steadily mounting. It has climbed sharply within the last year because of the federal fantasy of the national government that industry could increase wages without increasing the cost of commodities.

Following the increase in wages flowing from this delusion came the pressure of price increases. This was accompanied by a substantial increase in federal salaries. The federal government employs the same class of skilled help used by state and local government. Federal agencies have been raiding state and local government, offering salaries above the state and local level. Federal government has been operated on borrowed money without regard to a balanced budget. Local governments were operated on a balanced budget where the primary source of revenue was real property which is an inelastic source of taxes.

In 1939 the federal government employed 929,000 employees. In November of 1946 it was employing 2,100,000 employees.

Anticipating this situation, the last session of the legislature aided local government by providing three and one-half million dollars in state aid for schools, dividing an additional one cent of gasoline tax revenue between the cities and counties, and increasing old age assistance. It created a special tax committee to study the tax problem.

Today many of our school districts, cities and counties are in financial distress. They are looking to this legislature for some relief and assistance.

The state is likewise confronted with difficult problems. State salary scales are generally below those paid by industry and the federal government. Wage increases have not kept pace with increased living costs. Both state and local governments are finding it increasingly difficult to find competent help to carry on the business of government.

You must anticipate the needs of government for two and one-half years in advance. This will be a period of constant change and readjustment, and of conflicting economic trends. Food costs are apt to decline and rent costs to increase.

On one hand you will be confronted with the demand and need for increasing the wages paid to public employees. On the other hand you will be confronted with the certainty of a business recession and a shrink in state revenues. Permit me to quote a forecast from the United States News under date of January 3rd: "A turn down by or before the middle of 1947 seems unavoidable. The turn down ahead, roughly, is to be one of about 15 or 20 per cent. Wages will go on rising slowly even after commodity prices turn down. A price decline at wholesale is likely to be about 20 per cent over all. Farm produce prices may fall by one-third or more despite supports. Unemployment will rise during the year, maybe to a high of seven million."

Decreased wholesale and farm prices mean a reduction in the amount of sales tax and income tax. A drop of as little as ten per cent will mean a loss to the state of three and one-half million dollars in revenue. You face this prospect of a reduced income at a time when the budgets submitted by the various departments ask for an increase of seventeen million dollars for operating expenses, and for twenty-six million dollars to be spent for capital improvements. The budget I shall submit must of necessity be substantially smaller than the requests.

A public body, like an individual, finds prosperity harder to bear than adversity. Whether it be the individual citizen or the state there are always many who are anxious to help spend your money. Frequently they are interested in their own advancement rather than your welfare.

The state, like an individual, must prepare its budget based upon its income. The amount of the state's income is based upon the income of the individual citizen of the state.

Many of our citizens are possessed of the false notion that Iowa is a wealthy state. Such, in fact, is not the case. Iowa is a middle class state.

The per capita income of Iowa in 1945 was $996. We ranked 22nd among the 48 states in per capita income. The average per capita income in 1945 for the nation is reported to be $1117.

We cannot build our budget on the same basis as New York with a per capita income of $1519 or California with an income of $1480 per person. The attempt to keep up with the Joneses can be as disastrous for a state as for an individual.

The only safe course to pursue is to first determine the total amount of revenue you anticipate, then make a fair distribution of this amount among the different departments, giving due consideration to the importance of their functions and their special needs. The budget must be balanced. If the estimated revenues are insufficient to meet the needs you must consider means of providing additional revenues.

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS

The last General Assembly wisely made provision for needed capital improvements at our educational and board of control institutions. During the last two years material and labor costs have advanced sharply. Some of these improvements ought not to be made until economic conditions have become more settled.

The size of the national debt makes it unlikely that building costs will drop back to former levels in the near future. I suggest that the funds for the buildings already provided for be supplemented by additional funds shown to be needed.

The primary road funds are insufficient to match federal road funds and you should consider this need.

The original plans for the Historical Building contemplated the adding of a wing. The need for such a wing now exists.

Thirty-eight states provide homes for their chief executive. Iowa provides splendid homes for the presidents of our state universities. Comfortable housing facilities, together with food, all utilities, and in some instances inmate servants, are furnished superintendents of board of control institutions.

The loss of time in campaign years, the expense involved, the cost of moving and of furnishing a new home, together with the inflated living costs almost preclude a man of small or moderate means from seeking the governor's office. Eighteen public employees now receive a larger compensation than the chief executive.

From the interest received from funds now on hand, money is available to provide such a home without levying a penny of tax. The state can and should provide an adequate home for its governors.

It is my judgment that the reserve funds now on hand ought to be managed as a good business man would manage his reserve.

A reserve sufficient to meet the state's requirements for at least one quarter should be maintained to meet needs should revenues fall short of estimates. Conditions are now fluctuating and unstable. A drop in the return from sales and income taxes should be anticipated.

Your reserve should be used to repair and make needed additions to our plant, which, in the case of the state, consists of buildings and roads, and should not be used for current expenses.

Any individual or institution that lives on capital in place of current income is headed for financial disaster.

HOSPITAL LEGISLATION

Anticipating the passing by the federal government of hospital legislation, I set up two years ago, a hospital survey committee, to study our hospital needs. The last session of Congress passed Public Law No. 725 setting up the machinery and providing the funds to assist in the construction of hospitals in the communities lacking adequate hospital facilities.

There is great interest throughout the state in this subject, and already communities have voted bonds totaling nearly three million dollars for the erection of twenty-two hospitals.

The Council of State Government has prepared a uniform hospital act providing the machinery at a state level, for cooperation with the federal government. The Attorney General's office, in co-operation with the Commissioner of Health, has drafted an act which takes into consideration our present statutes.

At the present time there is no Iowa statute providing for licensing of hospitals or nursing homes, or any regulation with reference to their operation. Since the passage of the old age assistance act, nursing homes have sprung up in every community in the state. There are at least 245 such nursing homes in Iowa today which are making a business of caring for those receiving old age assistance and other aged persons.

These nursing homes came into existence to meet the need for the care of our aged citizens. Thousands of our aged people are now residing in such institutions. Most of these homes are rendering a splendid service. There are some in which minimum standards have been neglected.

It seems obvious that some provision should be made for the licensing and regulation of these institutions. These aged citizens are entitled to the protection of the state from neglect or exploitation by the greedy.

NATIONAL MENTAL HEALTH ACT

The last session of Congress also passed Public Law No. 487 known as the National Mental Health Act, providing for research relating to psychiatric disorders and for the development of more effective methods for the prevention, diagnosis and treatment of such disorders. It is estimated that Iowa may receive approximately five million dollars for this purpose.

Certainly a portion of these funds should be devoted to the training of psychiatrists and psychiatric nurses.

I have heretofore appointed a committee to make recommendations pertaining to the use of these funds and make suggestions for needed legislation.

POPULATION TREND STUDY

Programs affecting the schools, unemployment compensation, old age assistance and the board of control are vitally affected by the composition of the state's population, and any substantial changes which are taking place in it. At my request, Prof. Ray E. Wakeley, of Iowa State College, made a study of the population trends of the state, which has been placed in your hands. The importance of this study, as it relates to the school program and the program of old age assistance is demonstrated by this statement in the report: "The first notable change in age composition is the relative stabilization of the number of persons in younger age groups. For example, the number of persons in Iowa 15-19 years of age inclusive was 228 thousand in 1900 and 232 thousand in 1940. Estimates for 1950 predict a sharp drop to possibly 190 thousand, and it appears likely that the number of persons 15-19 years of age in Iowa will stabilize for perhaps a generation between 175 and 200 thousand."

Speaking of the number of older persons expected to be residents of the state in the next generation Prof. Wakeley states: "In sharp contrast to the youth situation, both the number and the proportion of persons above middle age has risen rapidly. Persons 65 years of age and older increased from 106 thousand in 1900 to 228 thousand in 1940. Estimates predict a continuation of the rapid increase until 1970 when the number of persons over 65 is expected to be approximately 50 per cent larger than in 1940."

Such an increased proportion of older people in Iowa indicates the probability of an increase in the number of persons upon the old age assistance rolls. These facts call for attention and study. Many of the persons upon the assistance rolls have no homes of their own and have been forced to take residence in nursing homes. Old age recipients are precluded from taking up residence in county homes by reason of a provision of the federal government denying federal funds to match state funds in any case where the recipient is living in a tax supported institution. This is an absurd provision and has forced many aged people to accept accommodations far less comfortable than those provided by tax supported institutions.

Some states have found means of evading these provisions by leasing agreements. As a whole, the government has neglected its aged citizens. Orphanages, schools and hospitals have long been supported by the government. Providing shelter in the form of adequate homes for the aged has been left almost entirely to fraternal, religious and eleemosynary organizations. These homes are over-crowded with long waiting lists. Increased medical science has prolonged the span of life of the average person. I believe that government, at every level, should be exploring and studying to find out whether tax supported homes for the aged might not provide a higher standard of living for our aged citizens, perhaps even in some instances, at a reduction in cost.

SAFETY

All thinking citizens have been appalled by the increased number of deaths and accidents upon our highways. In 1941, the last year before the war, there were 601 deaths and 21,614 accidents in Iowa. By the end of the war in 1945, deaths had dropped to 366 and accidents to 14,276.

During 1946 deaths mounted to 515 and accidents to 18,108. Iowa's casualty list for the whole war will be 8,000 dead and 25,493 wounded. The barbarous cruelties and slaughter of war stimulated the nations of the world to try to outlaw war. But we seem to have become hardened to the peace-time slaughter upon our highways. You should carefully examine our laws to see in what respects they may be strengthened. But law alone will not solve the problem. Only when we, as citizens, and as a collective body, awake to our personal and collective responsibility can we hope to improve this situation.

OCCUPATIONAL DISEASE

Because of the preeminent position of the state in the field of agriculture, many persons have been unaware of the growth and importance of industry. There are over three thousand factories, employing more than 130 thousand people in Iowa. We have recognized the hazards of industrial occupations and the obligation of industry and society to workers and their families, who suffered injuries in the course of their employment. We have, however, too long neglected to extend the same measure of protection to the workman or his family, who is thrown out of employment as the result of disease contracted in the course of his work.

If a man loses an arm, compensation is provided. If he suffers from lead poisoning, mercury poisoning, undulant fever, or some other illness, directly related to and growing out of his employment, there is no protection in the Iowa law either for the medical expenses he incurred or for the time lost from his employment.

No sound reason exists for this discrimination. The enactment of an occupational disease law is long over-due. It is fitting that we should encourage the expansion of industry which will benefit the community and the state, but we should not be unmindful of our obligations to the men and women who work in these factories.

PURCHASE OF FARMS

For many years the board of control has been renting land in connection with the operation of some of its institutions. Recognizing this practice as unsound, the last session provided for the purchase of additional land at Oakdale. The state, however, is still renting 189 acres of land at six institutions. It would seem wise to make necessary appropriations for the purchase of this land.

A survey made by the authorities from Iowa State College revealed that two farms were operated by the board of control at a loss last year. The question naturally arises whether these farms should be disposed of. The same question arises in connection with the Clive farm. It also appears that some of the land operated in connection with some of our institutions is of poor quality and poorly suited to the needs of the institutions.

This whole problem should be studied and remedial action taken.

BUSINESS MACHINES

Modern accounting methods have long ago supplemented the journal and double entry ledger with complicated machines. Since the state first started using these machines it has paid out hundreds of thousands of dollars in rental for them, without ever having acquired ownership. Whether the state should own such machines rather than rent them involves many considerations.

In view of the large sum of money spent for their rental, this question should receive careful consideration.

IOWA DEVELOPMENT COMMISSION

Because of the special emphasis placed upon agriculture and its importance as the basic industry of the state, many people have gained the impression that industry was relatively unimportant in Iowa. Such is not the case. Iowa is a great industrial state. The value of the products from our factories frequently equals and sometimes exceeds the value of the produce of the farm.

Some of these factories have achieved national and international leadership in their field. The war, living conditions, and labor problems have encouraged industrial decentralization. There is great competition between the states to secure these factories which are moving out of the crowded industrial sections.

The last session of the legislature wisely created the Iowa Development Commission. It has been doing a magnificent job. Within the last year and a half more than one hundred industries have located in Iowa, providing jobs for thousands of our citizens and adding millions of dollars of new wealth to the state.

The work of this committee should be continued and encouraged. It will yield handsome dividends.

TAXES

Two years ago the legislature became aware of the effect which federal financial policies and the war were having on every branch of local government, particularly the cities, counties and school districts. They provided for an additional one cent gasoline tax and divided it between counties and cities, and established state aid for schools in the amount of three and one-half million.

Then they provided for a committee to study the tax problem. This committee has listened to every group that desired to be heard. They have enlisted the aid of experts. Their report merits your thoughtful consideration. Some of the inequities and abuses which the committee recommends be corrected are of long standing. In spite of the fact that frequent warnings have been made by many governors, vested interests have been able to block needed reforms.

As far back as 1902 Governor Cummins told the legislature: "The effort to make taxation just and uniform begins with the assessor, and the general assembly cannot render greater service to the state than by diligently inquiring whether there is any method of selecting assessors that will yield better results than are now before us."

Thirty-four years ago Governor Clarke was saying: "It is time to act. Our system has broken down. There is no such thing as uniformity. There are glaring inequalities everywhere. Equality of sacrifice is the first demand of a just system of taxation. But there is no equality between individuals or taxing districts; no equality between counties in the payment of state taxes; a farm of equal value to another in the same county will be assessed at two or three times the value of another."

In 1921 Governor Kendall said: "The law authorizing the exemption of property from taxation is in my opinion too liberal . . . I may say that our laws governing the levy and collection of taxes are archaic and unworkable. They ought to be rewritten and modernized."

Sixteen years ago Governor Turner again called attention to the problem, saying: "The laws relating to the assessment of property should be revised . . . Glaring inequalities exist in practically every taxing district in the state . . . The county assessor system is strongly urged by many business men, farmers, and students of the tax question. It is now in operation in thirty-three states. The claim is made for it that it minimizes the likelihood of favoritism in the assessment of property and links up the units in a uniform system."

Many other governors have discussed various aspects of the tax question. Many committees have studied the problem.

But several fundamental weaknesses in our tax structure continue to exist unsolved. The gross inequalities in assessments of real property, the vast amount of income property which has, by the exertion of political pressure secured exemption, laxness in the collection of taxes on personal property, cannot be defended as just or equitable. If we are to have a fair and equitable tax system the opportunity for political favoritism to one taxpayer or group of taxpayers must so far as possible be eliminated.

The solution of the problem cannot longer be delayed without great injustice and hardship. The tax problem is inseparably interwoven with the financial problems which today plague local government.

I have confidence in your ability and your determination, to fairly and impartially meet and solve this problem.

SALES AND USE TAX

Two years ago I recommended that cities, counties and school districts be relieved of the burden of payment of sales and use tax to the state. These taxes are paid out of funds which units of local government have collected to carry on their functions. In effect, the state is imposing a tax upon its own sub-divisions. It is a tax upon a tax which cannot be justified. In view of the constantly increasing financial problems which must be faced by them, I believe they should be relieved of the payment of such taxes as a matter of justice and equity. It is estimated that their elimination will reduce the state income approximately three hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and the burden of local communities lightened a like amount. Such a proposal was favorably acted upon in one house last session, but failed to receive the consideration of the other body.

They are anxious that you again consider this problem.

INSURANCE

The United States Supreme Court, on June 5, 1944, held in the case of United States vs. Southeastern Underwriters Association that insurance is commerce and, when conducted across state lines, is interstate commerce. This decision made applicable to the business of insurance the federal anti-trust acts, made possible the enactment by Congress of federal regulatory legislation with respect to the business of insurance, and placed in jeopardy the right of the states to tax and regulate the business of insurance in accordance with the systems which have been developing for more than seventy-five years. Recognizing the states' prior rights and interests in the taxation and regulation of the insurance business, the Seventy-Ninth Congress passed the McCarran Act providing the states and the insurance business time for study and preparation of necessary legislation by suspending, until January 1, 1948, the application of the federal anti-trust acts to the insurance business. This act also provides, however, that the federal anti-trust acts will apply to the business of insurance after January 1, 1948, "to the extent that such business is not regulated by state law".

The National Association of Insurance Commissioners, of which our commissioner is an active member, has given long and arduous study to the problems of taxation and regulation of the insurance business resulting from the decision in the Southeastern Underwriters case and the enactment of Public Law 15, and has adopted model legislation designed to preserve the states' rights to regulate this business. We now have in this state laws regulating the insurance business generally and laws regulating rates for certain kinds of insurance. Adequate regulation in the public interest and in maintaining the sovereignty of the state may require amendment of these laws and the enactment of new legislation. This subject and the proposals of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners merit your careful consideration.

CONCLUSION

There are many other matters which I would like to call to your attention and discuss with you. Some of them I shall present in my inaugural message. There is an unusually large volume of work which will claim your attention. Every postwar period is bound to present to a legislative body an increased number of difficult and perplexing problems. Under such circumstances, matters of major importance should receive priority of consideration over matters of lesser importance.

If you will take as your guiding star the welfare of all the people you will avoid the treacherous shoals and reefs of selfishness and special interests and will arrive safely in port at the end of your legislative journey. I am confident that the winds of prejudice, pride and passion will not sweep you from the course you chart out for yourselves. I have confidence in your determination and ability to discharge the difficult task in front of you in a just and equitable manner. I have confidence that you will face the problems and discharge the difficult and often disagreeable tasks which confront you with credit to yourselves and the people you represent.

Governor Blue was escorted from the chamber by the committee previously appointed.

CANVASS OF VOTES

President Evans announced that the time had arrived for the canvass of votes cast for the offices of Governor and Lieutenant Governor at the general election held on November 5, 1946, and announced as teller on the part of the Senate, Senator Lucas of Boone and as assistant tellers, Senators Lord of Muscatine and Linnevold of Winneshiek.

Speaker Kuester announced as teller on the part of the House, Donohue of Cedar, and as assistant tellers, Lynes of Bremer and Hansen of Carroll.

President Evans further announced that, in accordance with statute, tellers, Senator Lucas and Representative Donohue would constitute the judges of said canvass.

Speaker Kuester in the chair.

The Speaker then opened the returns in the presence of the joint convention, and the tellers proceeded to canvass the vote for Governor and Lieutenant Governor of the State of Iowa, cast at the general election held on November 5, 1946.

On motion by McFarlane of Black Hawk the joint convention recessed until 1:15 p.m. Thursday, January 16, 1947.

The House reconvened, Speaker Kuester in the chair.

On motion by McFarlane of Black Hawk, the House adjourned until 10:00 a.m. Wednesday, January 15, 1947.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

HALL OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
DES MOINES, IOWA, JANUARY 15, 1947.

The House met pursuant to adjournment, Speaker Kuester in the chair.

Prayer was offered by Rev. E. E. Stringfellow, Professor, Drake Bible College, Des Moines, Iowa.

Journal of January 14 corrected and approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Leave of absence was granted as follows: Wellington of Lee on request of Kruse of Floyd.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON MILEAGE ADOPTED

McEleney of Clinton called up the report of the committee on mileage, found on pages 29 and 30 of the Journal of January 14, and moved its adoption.

Report adopted.

ADOPTION OF HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 5

Long of Clinton called up House Concurrent Resolution 5, found on pages 26, 27 and 28 of the Journal of January 14, and moved its adoption.

Motion prevailed and House Concurrent Resolution 5 was adopted.

ADOPTION OF SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 5

McFarlane of Black Hawk called up Senate Concurrent Resolution 5 found on page 31 of the Journal of January 14.

McFarlane of Black Hawk offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend by adding to said concurrent resolution a new paragraph, reading as follows: "Be it further resolved that the Speaker of the House shall appoint one member from the House to attend said meeting whose actual expenses shall also be paid."

Amendment adopted.

McFarlane of Black Hawk moved that Senate Concurrent Resolution 5 as amended be adopted.

Motion prevailed and the resolution as amended was adopted.

The Speaker appointed Representative Fred Schwengel of Scott county to attend the meeting provided for in Senate Concurrent Resolution 5.

Senate Concurrent Resolution 6, providing for the decontrol of sugar by the Congress of the United States.

W. J. SCARBOROUGH, Secretary.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 6

Whereas, The housewives of America have patiently and patriotically exercised during the period of hostilities and for more than a year since the cessation of hostilities, the strictest economy in the use and consumption of sugar as a part of their contribution to the war effort, and,

Whereas, Sugar is indispensable for a well balanced American diet, and housewives cannot prepare satisfactory meals without an adequate supply of sugar, and,

Whereas, The waste resulting from the lack of sufficient means of preserving food stuffs through the scarcity of canning sugar can no longer be justified, since this nation has not been at war for the past eighteen months, and,

Whereas, Iowa, in common with other great agricultural states, produces many crops which require sugar for preservation, such as fruits, berries and vegetables and in the past year losses in these products, because of the limited sugar available have been estimated at several millions of dollars, and,

Whereas, The absence of sugar for canning purposes has caused thousands of tons of fruit to spoil, thereby depriving American families of a much needed food, and has caused hardships and financial losses in many farming and canning communities, and,

Whereas, Labor in the food processing industry has been without work because of the sugar shortage, and,

Whereas, In 1946 the sugar under the direct control of the United States increased by more than one half million tons and no portion of this increase was made available to the American people, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring: That the Congress of the United States is respectfully requested to provide by law for an immediate decontrol of sugar for home consumption, and for industrial use, and,

Be It Further Resolved: That Congress is respectfully requested to remove all controls from the production, processing, distribution, rationing, sale and importation of sugar without delay, and,

Be It Further Resolved: That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, to the President of the United States Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of Congress and to the Iowa members of the United States Senate and the Iowa members of the House of Representatives of Congress.

On motion by Hicklin of Louisa, the House recessed until 1:00 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

Speaker Kuester in the chair.

Morrissey of Jasper moved that a committee of three be appointed to notify the Senate that the House was ready to receive it in joint convention.

Motion prevailed and the Speaker appointed Morrissey of Jasper, Watson of O'Brien and Patrick of Sioux.

The committee appointed to notify the Senate that the House was ready to receive it in joint convention reported that its duty had been performed. The report was accepted and the committee discharged.

The Sergeant-at-arms announced the arrival of the President pro tempore of the Senate, the Secretary of the Senate and the Honorable Body of the Senate.

The President pro tempore of the Senate was escorted to the Speaker's station, the Secretary to the Chief Clerk's desk, and the members of the Senate were seated on the west side of the chamber.

Davis of Fayette moved that a committee of five, two from the Senate and three from the House, be appointed to escort Governor-elect Blue and Lieutenant Governor-elect Evans to the House chamber.

Motion prevailed and the President pro tempore of the joint convention appointed Senators Maytag of Jasper and Hultman of Montgomery, and Representatives Davis of Fayette, Stevens of Greene and Turner of Mills as such committee.

The Sergeant-at-arms announced the arrival of Governor-elect Blue and Lieutenant Governor-elect Evans, accompanied by the Governor's staff.

Governor-elect Blue and Lieutenant Governor-elect Evans were escorted to the Speaker's station.

The ceremony of the presentation of the colors was conducted by the Clarence Shurtz Post No. 304, American Legion, Eagle Grove, Iowa.

BISHOP BRASHARES' PRAYER

Our Father, whose eye detects the sparrow's fall and whose presence surrounds us, as the people of this great state inaugurate their first Governor to begin its second century of history, we pray Thy blessing on him who will this day again assume the responsibilities of leadership. Wilt Thou consecrate him to take this high and difficult task. In the days to come, grant him strength for exhausting tasks; courage when evils threaten; wise councilors when he needs wisdom; and always daily fellowship with Thee. Thus, under his administration, may the poor man have a friend, the helpless and sick find mercy and cure, the returned veteran be helped to resume his place as a regular citizen; may laws be obeyed and enforced; and may justice be established in the land. May all those activities which destroy men be discouraged among the people and may all that creates and encourages life at its best, be increased.

Wilt Thou guide also, O Lord, the Lieutenant Governor, the members of the House and Senate, and the officials who shall share, along with the Governor, the responsibilities of political leadership, that they, together with the leaders of labor, management, business, education, religion, and the home, may each seek, not his own good at the expense of others, but to rise above class and party to serve the common weal. In high places and in low, save us from "violence, discord and confusion, from pride and arrogance and from every evil way. In the time of prosperity, fill our hearts with thankfulness and in the days of trouble, suffer not our trust in Thee to fail."

As we pay, O Lord, for Thy blessing on those in places of leadership, we pray also for a new sense of responsibility among the general citizenry of the state. Here where the tall corn grows, may the human race rise to its best. Give to us a hardy morality, a staunch loyalty to the highest we know. Help us religiously to develop cooperation between all people of good will. Teach us to recognize each man's inalienable rights, whatever his race or class or religious creed may be. May our homes and factories and mines, our markets and our farms develop in us all that reasonable understanding which makes for peace. Thus may the people of this commonwealth make their full contribution toward a united nation and a peaceful world.

So may this state of Iowa be part of Thy kingdom, a revelation of Thy power, and a contributor to Thy glory now and forevermore.—Amen.

Scripture reading was offered by the Reverend Albert Kilbourn, pastor of the Congregational church, Denmark, Iowa.

Music furnished by String Quartet, State University of Iowa, under direction of Professor Hans Koelbel.

Vocal selections were sung by Eudora Lindman Shepherd, accompanied by Miss Norma Cross.

The oath of office was administered to Governor-elect Blue by the Honorable Charles F. Wennerstrum, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Iowa.

The oath of office was administered to Lieutenant Governor-elect Evans by the Honorable Charles F. Wennerstrum, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Iowa.

Lieutenant Governor Evans, President of the joint convention, presiding, then presented Governor Blue, who delivered his inaugural message.

GOVERNOR'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS

MR. PRESIDENT, MR. SPEAKER, MEMBERS OF THE FIFTY-SECOND GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF IOWA, HONORED GUESTS AND CITIZENS:

This is an historic session. Iowa is entering upon her second century of statehood. The nation and the world are entering upon a period of postwar rehabilitation and reconstruction. Two years ago when you met, the dark clouds of war still hung low o'er the world. Millions of helpless men and women were in prison camps. The torture chambers and the murder factories of unforgettable horror such Buchenwald were daily claiming hundreds of victims. The mighty engines of destruction which modern science had created were everywhere spreading death and destruction. Christian civilization was reeling under the impact. The hearts and souls of men everywhere were gripped with fear.

Now the war is over, and the victory is ours. We give thanks to the Almighty whose mercy and strength were our refuge and shield in those dark days of trouble. No longer do our young men and young women face the hazards and horrors of modern war. Once again most of them are at home. To those who suffered and sacrificed, to those who paid the supreme sacrifice and will never return home again, we owe a great debt and a sacred obligation. We meet here today as a free people because their devotion and their sacrifice to the noblest ideals of Americanism saved us from enslavement by the dictators.

Once again the sons and daughters of Iowa on battlefields round the world wrote in flaming deeds with crimson blood the motto of the State, "Our Liberties we prize, and our Rights we will maintain." We shall be worthy of their great sacrifices, and the sacrifices of those who fell before them only if we consecrate ourselves to the task before us of building a just and lasting peace.

We should also pause and pay tribute to the Iowa men and women, boys and girls who stayed at home. In the home and in the school, on the farm and in the factory, they loyally supported every war effort. Cooperation between labor, agriculture, industry and government won the war. Cooperation between the statesmen and the nations of the world can win the peace.

You meet here in this Fifty-second General Assembly during one of the most crucial periods of American history. Added to the neglects and omissions of the past are the problems growing out of the war. The people who placed upon your shoulders the mantle of authority had confidence in your integrity and ability to face the problems of the hour. In accepting the respective offices to which we have been chosen, we are assuming a heavy burden of responsibility. We are likewise afforded an unusual opportunity for constructive service of enduring worth to future generations. The task will not be easy. The cost of things most worth while, most precious, is always great. The military war is over. The war against intolerance, greed, monopoly, dishonesty and social injustice begins anew.

Seldom, if ever, has any Iowa legislature been confronted with more difficult financial problems. Many cities, counties and school districts are in financial distress. Our state educational institutions are crowded with the greatest number of young men and young women seeking a college education in the history of the state. Our hospitals for the mentally ill, suffering from the accumulated omissions and neglects of more than a generation, claim your consideration.

Mounting costs resulting from unwise federal financial policies add fuel to the blaze. Today state and local governments are harvesting the bitter fruits of national waste and extravagance. They are paying with compound interest the cost of some of the so-called federal gratuities for which a few short years ago they so eagerly clamored. (Quote) "Whatsoever ye sow, that shall ye also reap" (unquote). This is the eternal law of life which is the same yesterday, today, and forever.

You are all familiar with what has happened to your family budget. The constantly increasing cost of food, clothing and shelter has reduced the amount you can save or to spend for luxuries. The same inflationary forces loosened by reckless spending in Washington and by the war which unbalanced your family budget, have created financial difficulties for every local and state government throughout the land. Under such circumstances, government must follow the same course which an individual would find wise to adopt. It must make provision for the necessities of government before considering expenditures for the luxuries of governmental services.

Shortly after the termination of the fighting in Europe, a great editor, Malcom Bingay, visited Germany and inspected its prison camps. In an address to the Chamber of Commerce upon his return home, he made this statement: (Quote) "Everything that has happened in Europe can be explained in just three words,—No Moral Law" (unquote). The spirit of communism and the spirit of socialism abroad in the world today is the spirit of materialism and greed. Our defenses against the forces of materialism depend not alone in armies and navies, in aeroplanes and bombs. They depend to a very substantial degree upon the moral and spiritual forces which motivate the thinking and acting of our citizens. We can best preserve the ideals of Americanism and assist in achieving the peace of the world by practicing the principles of Americanism and preserving peace in Iowa.

True Americanism finds its doctrines of equality, tolerance, and service, proclaimed by the Christ in the New Testament. These teachings are the very foundations upon which all human liberty rests. The formula for peace was proclaimed 2000 years ago. Communism is the spirit of atheism and materialism. Democracy is the spirit of Christianity, unselfishness and peace.

Let us stand upon the high ground. If we shall take our position and plant our standards upon high ground, no enemy will be able to dislodge us.

These are times that try men's souls. Public service today calls for courage and fortitude just as service in the country's armed forces called for courage and fortitude. Men must be willing to suffer political injury and death in the preservation of their ideals on the political battlefield as men faced physical injury and death on the military battlefield. In the last war a hard-boiled marine sergeant called to some men who hesitated going over the top, "Come on you fellows, you don't want to live forever, do you?" In that same spirit of sacrifice and devotion to duty, let us approach the task which lies ahead.

REORGANIZATION

While government does not exist for the purpose of making money, it is in a very real sense a business, the biggest business in the state. The commodity it has to sell is service to the people. It provides protection of our health. It provides fire and police departments, good roads, education and the like.

Like business, government should always be on the alert for better methods of providing service at a reduced cost. But, unfortunately, government is not always spurred on by the keen competition which exists in the business world. On the contrary, the spur applied to government is too often that of a vested interest seeking to create or to retain some unjustified preference over other persons or groups in return for political support at the polls. Inertia is one of government's fundamental weaknesses. It is one of the costs of representative self-government.

The need for reform in legislative procedure has existed for years in Washington. At last mild reforms are now under way, but not without opposition. Overlapping and costly bureaus which have long outlived their usefulness are vigorously resisting demobilization.

The record of state government is not spotless. A generally excellent report on the reorganization of Iowa government was prepared in 1933. Yet few of its recommendations have been adopted.

Reform in court procedure, recommended in 1913, did not become a reality until 1943.

Many committees have been provided for by the legislature to study and recommend changes in our tax laws. Scarcely a governor in the last forty years has failed to discuss the problem and point out needed reforms. Yet some of these defects have continued for a half century.

Surely it would be wise to pause on the threshold of our second century as a sovereign commonwealth and take stock.

Working with the machinery of government, as the Chief Executive, gives one a very different view of its problems and efficiency than the view which the legislator gets in the short time he is here.

I desire to call your attention to some of the changes which I believe could be made with beneficial effect.

PERSONNEL DIRECTOR

In many respects the operation of state government is similar to the administration of a large business. There are more than fifty departments, and many sub-divisions, employing thousands of people. The war has thus far made it impossible to build a new office building provided for, and thus bring all of these scattered departments together. The authority for fixing and changing salaries is divided and there is much inequality between departments in the salaries paid for work of a similar nature.

There are frequent attempts to pay special compensation to some employees by changing the titles of their positions without changing or adding to their duties or responsibilities. Few records are kept showing when the employee commenced to work for the state, their qualifications and experience, the departments in which they have been employed, their vacation leave, sick leave, and other pertinent personnel information.

The compensation of some employees is determined by the merit council. Each elective official determines the salary of the employees in his own department. Some salaries are fixed by boards. In some instances salaries are now paid in part by federal funds and state funds.

Some departments are not under the budget and insist upon the right of paying higher salaries for that reason.

The present situation is confusing and indefensible. The appointment of a personnel director, responsible to the executive council, would do much to bring order out of a rather chaotic condition. It would ferret out and eliminate unnecessary employees, and end inequalities at a saving to the taxpayers.

FOUR YEAR TERM

After years of observation, and growing out of my own experience of the last two years as governor, I am convinced that a single four year term would provide better government to the people of Iowa than two successive terms of two years each.

The reasons for such a change were forcefully stated thirty-two years ago by Governor Clarke. He said: "As it is, he enters upon his first term with the incoming of a General Assembly. That ought not to be so, but I will not discuss that question. Soon, if not immediately, after the adjournment of the legislature, if the experience of recent years is to be taken as a precedent, he must begin preparations for and eventually enter upon a long speaking campaign for renomination. Securing it he must practically continue his campaign for re-election. He must do these things or, sometimes, surrender all he stood for and abandon all that he hoped to accomplish in the way of public service. All of this constantly distracts his mind from his public duties, prevents him from devoting all his energies to the public good. It all seriously affects his efficiency as a public servant.

"If also, he should be a timid soul, thinking more of office than of public duty, and afraid of his fellow citizens, rather than challenging them to things that make for human betterment, he might move softly, gently, whispering through a first term in the hope of no antagonism for a second. During a second term he might become courageous when there was no enemy in view and nobody could get at him, and might really accomplish something."

These arguments apply with equal force to other state and county officers.

Since that time state government has grown tremendously, and the work of the governor has more than doubled. We have added the highway department, the social welfare department, with all of its sub-divisions of old age assistance, blind assistance, aid to dependent children, etc., the public safety department with its highway patrol, motor vehicle division, driver license examinations, vehicle licenses and the like, the Employment Security Commission, the liquor commission, as well as others.

They all call for the attention and supervision of the governor's office. The governor is called upon to undertake this increased burden, with the same sized staff he had years ago.

I suggest that you take the steps necessary to secure an appropriate amendment to the Constitution, and changes in our statutes.

HISTORICAL DEPARTMENT

We oftentimes complain of duplication of agencies in the federal government, but the state is sometimes guilty of the same offense. We are maintaining two historical departments; one in Des Moines and one in Iowa City. The one at Iowa City is responsible neither to the university nor to the state officials. Increased efficiency and service to the whole state at a reduced expense should result in merging the department at Iowa City with the one at Des Moines.

The Brookings report makes such a recommendation in this language: "The chief need of the historical, memorial and art department is for co-ordination with the historical society and the university. This can only be accomplished by a partial consolidation. There is unnecessary duplication and waste in the maintenance of two separate historical libraries and two newspaper collections."

FIRE INSPECTION

The disastrous hotel fires throughout the nation, including the one at Dubuque, have focused the attention of the nation on this subject.

Our law now lodges the duty of making fire inspections of hotels with the Department of Agriculture. Logically this duty should be vested in the fire marshal.

I suggest that it be so transferred and that the whole law with reference to the duties and authority of the fire marshal be revised and strengthened.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMERCE COMMISSIONERS AND PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION

Election after election a large number of candidates seek nomination as Commerce Commissioners. Frequently no one receives thirty-five per cent of the votes and the nomination is finally made by a convention. It is doubtful if one out of twenty voters could name the candidates for this office. The work of this commission, which is of great importance, is primarily administrative and not policy forming. It is of no greater importance, however, than that of the Highway Commission, the Board of Social Welfare, the Employment Security Commission, and other commissions which are appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate.

I can see no harm, and do see much good, resulting in changing this office from an elective to an appointive office.

For many years there has been a great deal of discussion of the need for a public utilities commission. One of the principal arguments in the past has been that the individual citizen or the local municipality was not always able to cope with great corporations. To date, however, the rates of utilities have generally been reasonable and compare favorably with other states where there is a utilities commission.

Recent decisions by the supreme court, as well as the action of certain federal departments in attempting to assume jurisdiction of utilities matters in states where there is no state public utility commission, raises the question whether or not it would be wise to enact a state utility law for the purpose of protecting the state against the arbitrary actions of the federal government. If such a law were deemed advisable its administration might well be placed under the jurisdiction of the Iowa State Commerce Commission.

VETERANS

The problems of veterans affect a large portion of our citizenry. At the present time, there are several departments dealing with veterans' affairs, such as graves registration, the Adjutant General's office, a records division in the department of history, a bonus board, and the work for the Spanish American War Veterans and the G.A.R. I believe that the interests of the veterans of the state of Iowa would be better served by the creation of a department of veterans' affairs to deal with all veterans' problems.

The last session of the legislature passed an annual tax exemption law, which is in effect a yearly bonus. It also passed many other veterans' laws. Doubtless you will have presented to you for consideration, legislation providing a cash bonus for the veterans of the last war. You can initiate such legislation. Its approval in the last analysis, because of constitutional provisions, rests with the people. I feel confident that all service men, as well as other citizens, would desire this legislature to first consider the essential needs of the state such as education, health, state hospitals, welfare, and other essential needs, which are of primary importance to all citizens, including the veterans and their families.

After you have carefully studied both the financial resources and the basic needs of the state, and have arranged for the revenues with which these needs are to be met, you should then consider the ability and the resources of the state to pay a bonus.

These matters should be considered on the basis of justice and equity, and not on the basis of partisanship.

HOUSING

During the last generation and since the end of the first World War, home building has not kept pace with the needs of our growing population. With the end of the war many young people who had married during the war found themselves unable to find living quarters in which to establish their homes. Those whose economic status permitted them to consider building a home found a shortage of material and of labor as well as exorbitantly high prices to deter them. Those who desired to rent discovered that various federal policies were a restraining influence on those who normally would invest their capital in rental properties. The coming year holds a promise of substantial relief.

Nevertheless, you should consider the problem in all of its aspects. Some cities and towns desire the right to extend sewer and water facilities to new additions at public expense and find they have no authority to do so. Some of our larger communities would find it profitable to embark upon a slum clearance program, but find our legislation inadequate or lacking.

I especially urge you to study the plans which have been developed and placed in operation in other states for the clearing of blighted areas, and drawing upon their experience, adopt those features which you find desirable into our law.

BOARD OF CONTROL

In recent months, after years of indifference, the public conscience has been awakened to some of the needs and problems of the state institutions.

Two years ago I called attention to this problem when I said: "Too often these unfortunates tend to be the forgotten boys and girls, men and women, of Iowa . . . During the last six years, the Iowa Legislature has been appropriating increased sums of money for new buildings and for the rehabilitation of these institutions and those confined within them. Some of this money is still on hand, unspent because of wartime restrictions. In spite of the progress of the last six years, a very large program of remodeling and new building is necessary at most of these fifteen institutions to place them in a condition of which we can be proud. Substantial numbers of the buildings at these institutions are 60 to 80 years old or even older. They have had hard usage; they have served their day well, but many of them are out of date and should be completely replaced. Several of these institutions are greatly overcrowded and additional space to house these unfortunates should be built as soon as building restrictions are lifted . . . A careful and thorough survey by experts of housing conditions has been made for the Board of Control and will be placed upon your desks. This report and the askings of the Board of Control merit your careful and sympathetic consideration. Forty to sixty years of depreciation and obsolescence should be taken care of. I urge you to carefully consider the problem, the need of rehabilitation of old buildings, the providing of new buildings for the housing of our unfortunates, the providing of living quarters and support for the employees at these institutions and for providing an adequate staff of psychiatrists to meet the needs of our mental institutions."

The legislature took heed of the situation by sharply increasing the funds for maintenance and providing over six million dollars for new buildings and repairs. They were then roundly condemned as spend-thrifts. Headlines such as "Legislature came, surplus went" were their reward. A few months later they heard themselves condemned oftentimes by the same sources as niggardly. Their actions merited no such condemnation. Not only did they increase support and initiate a building program, but they provided for a study of the mental institutions.

During the last two years, I have instituted several other studies, and reports of vital importance have been made. They include the report on diet made by Capt. Mary O'Neal, who was head dietitian at Ft. Des Moines; the farm report and report on diet made by experts from the Iowa State College; the population survey report made by Dr. Ray Wakeley of Iowa State College; the report of Dr. Frank E. Leslie, psychiatrist, employed by the board; the survey of the penal and corrective institutions, and the report of the district court judges on juvenile delinquency procedures. Without doubt you will give these reports your careful consideration.

The experience of the last fifteen years, the various reports, my own personal investigations and experience, all point to one conclusion—the need of a thorough revision and reorganization of the machinery and methods of supervising and operating these institutions. Obsolete statutes, impossible of performance, such as the requirement that board members must talk to each inmate every six months when they visit the institution, should be repealed.

Much progress has been made in the administration of these institutions during the last two years, but much remains to be done.

Appropriations have been increased 54.79 per cent since 1933. They must be further increased.

But money alone is not enough. The machinery of administration must be overhauled.

I recommend that provision be made for a superintendent of mental hospitals, a superintendent of penal and corrective institutions and a superintendent of industries. They should be men of special training and experience. They should be responsible for repairing and supervising programs appropriate to their respective positions.

A farm manager to direct the operations on the thousands of acres of state farm lands is needed. A dietitian, who would prepare menus providing balanced diets, as well as uniform recipes is needed in preparing meals for thousands of people. Such a dietitian would be able to improve the diet and reduce the cost, and the existing waste.

I recommend that these superintendents be under the direction of a single commissioner of public institutions and that the present three member board of control system be abolished.

I also recommend that the interim committee be abolished. It has operated primarily to supervise the actions of the board of control.

The most of its activities have dealt with supplementing the funds of the board in the event that the budget provided by the legislature proved to be inadequate because of some unseen problem.

Under the reorganization proposed it is doubtful that they could be of material aid in bettering the administration of the institutions.

APPOINTMENT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION

Among the recommendations of the school code study committee was one for making the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction appointive rather than elective.

I believe that this recommendation is sound and worthy of your consideration.

TRANSFER PUBLIC SAFETY DEPARTMENT TO ATTORNEY GENERAL

Included in the recommendations for reorganization by the Brookings Committee was one for the creation of a public safety department. Such a department was created in 1939 by consolidating many departments. There was a difference of opinion at that time whether this department should be under the governor or the attorney general.

Law enforcement problems should be handled by the attorney general's office and he should be the chief law enforcement officer of the state. The responsibility and machinery for this purpose should not be divided as it now is. The recommendations of the Brookings report in this respect merit your attention. I quote a part of this report: "The governor is required by the constitution to take care that the laws are faithfully executed; but neither the constitution nor the statutes make it possible for him to fulfill this obligation. In emergencies he may call out the militia, an undesirable and expensive procedure; but in ordinary day-to-day enforcement, which specific duties of departmental administration have been improperly imposed upon him, his power to supervise, direct and control is decidedly limited. . . . Disregarding the courts and clerks of court, there are in Iowa over two thousand officials engaged in law enforcement. . . . Two thousand agents or agencies are operating or nominally operating as independent units. Half of them are responsible to no one but the people. Elected every two years, the good ones are thrown out regardless of merit, and just when they have acquired a few months of valuable training. The bad ones have to be endured; and because of politics or personality are frequently re-elected.

"Parts of the system date from mediaeval England. Neighborhood law enforcement was fairly satisfactory a century ago; but today it is as antiquated as the stage coach. Nevertheless the system persists because of the power of habit and of vested interests."

I recommend that the department of public safety be transferred to the attorney general's office and that all law enforcement officials be made directly responsible to the attorney general as the chief law enforcement officer of the state.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

The material destruction wrought by war is evidenced on every hand. It is easy to see. The wrecks of great cities, the hunger, disease, and misery are clear to every eye. Too few have seen, or paused to reflect upon the decline of ideals and the decay in morals which this war has wrought. Such a decline has followed every war. The delinquency of adults and juveniles alike is a threat to the foundations of our social institutions.

The immortal Lincoln said, "Let every man remember that to violate the law is to trample on the blood of his father, to tear the character of his own and his children's liberty. Let reference for the laws be breathed by every American mother to the lisping babe that prattles on her lap. Let it be taught in the schools, in seminaries, in colleges. Let it be preached from the pulpit, proclaimed in the legislative halls, and enforced in the courts of justice. And, in short, let it become the political religion of the nation."

During one hundred years of statehood we have tried many plans for the regulation of the liquor traffic. None has proven wholly successful. The present state monopoly system was adopted to take the profit out of hard liquor and suppress illegal sale of it. In some communities it is working fairly well, in others it is not. There is a sharp and almost equal division of opinion as to the course which should be pursued. The state is receiving the profits from the business and at the same time placing the responsibility and the cost for law enforcement upon local governments. There appears to be a growing lack of respect for the law by citizens and a weakening of the enforcement of the law by officers in some communities.

It is the duty of the legislature to initiate new legislation and to amend the old laws in such a manner as to reflect the majority sentiment of the people they represent.

The mere fact that the subject is difficult and fraught with controversy is no excuse for avoiding its consideration.

A law which is not the outgrowth of and representative of the ideals and moral character of a people is scarce worth the paper on which it is written. The safety and the greatness of a nation rests not alone in the wisdom of statesmen and the bravery of soldiers, but rather in the character of the people.

*"Not gold, but only men can make
A people great and strong,
Men who for truth and honor's sake,
Stand fast and suffer long.
Brave men who work while others sleep
Who dare while others fly—
They build a nation's pillars deep
And lift them to the sky."*

SCHOOLS

From the day the first school was opened in Lee County to this moment, our schools have been of primary concern to us. The last session of the Legislature made much progress in revising our school law, but much still remains to be done.

We are proud of the record of Iowa schools, but there are ways to advance their efficiency and standards.

In a very recent book "Education—America's Magic," Raymond N. Hughes, President Emeritus of Iowa State College, and William H. Lancelot, Professor of Vocational Education, made a careful analysis of the educational program in each state. Their statement, with reference to Iowa schools, is of great interest.

"Iowa, with an income per child of $2,020, ranks twenty-fourth in ability. However, in accomplishment, its rank is ninth, and its rank in the degree in which accomplishment is commensurate with ability is tenth.

"The state puts forth serious effort to secure suitable education for its children, spending 4.65 per cent of its income for education and ranking twelfth in effort. As to efficiency in the use of school funds its rank is eighth. Hence, it ranks in the highest quarter as to both of these criteria, which doubtless accounts for the fact that its accomplishments so greatly surpass its ability.

"Iowa is one of eleven states which rank higher in every other criterion than in ability.

"On the whole, it has a creditable record in education. Its apparent rank on all around educational performance is fifth."

Thus we find that while President Hughes rates Iowa as twenty-fourth in financial ability to support education that he ranks it fifth in all around performance. His analysis is in contrast with the inference that Iowa is at the bottom of the list of states in the support of education because of the amount of state aid.

The amount of state aid is not a true yardstick by which to measure our support of education. The per pupil cost and the financial ability of the citizenry is a much more accurate yardstick by which to measure our interest in and support of education.

The abandonment of a levy of several million dollars of state property tax in 1942, the assistance to local government by the state to the amount of 55 million dollars, in shared taxes, is a direct as well as an indirect aid to schools.

According to a study recently made of over 100 Iowa high schools by Mr. Leo Howe, there is a wide variation in the way school funds are used. From 1937 to 1946 the cost per pupil in the Des Moines Schools had increased only 33.68 per cent. One Iowa school increased the cost per pupil 178.29 per cent. The average increased cost per pupil in the state for this period was 60.82 per cent. The salaries of teachers and superintendents in these schools during this period was increased 49.74 per cent.

Last year in Iowa, a high school with only four pupils was in operation. The cost per pupil was in excess of $1,200. This was in a community that was below the average in financial ability to support education. Many examples could be given of both grade and high schools in the country and in the city where the cost per pupil is exorbitantly high.

The financial problems of schools are very similar in the most part to those of other units of government. There is, however, one important exception. We are operating a larger number of rural schools and high schools than we can efficiently or economically operate. We are wasting taxpayers' dollars and wasting teaching ability.

We have counties with only three or four high schools and others with sixteen or seventeen high schools.

There are nearly 5,000 different school corporations following many different plans.

In many respects our plan of organization for schools is as out of date as the township road system.

We need larger economic and political units for our schools. Let me again quote from the Brookings report: "The data gathered relative to local school districts logically and inevitably lead to the conclusion that the whole groundwork of major economies and of major improvements in efficiency resides in the adoption of a larger political unit as a basis of school administration and support.

It is time to not only observe the symptoms of the disease, but to find and treat the cause of the ailment.

A sound assessing system, and a good reorganization, will do much to meet our school needs.

More than thirty years ago a governor of Iowa was saying "ninety-five per cent of the boys and girls never reach high school . . . the necessities of farm life almost preclude the farm boy from the town high school. He cannot start in with the opening of the schools in the towns the first of September, and if he could, he could not continue after the first of March. The scarcity of farm labor and the absolute necessity of the farmers in gathering crops and in preparing for them, and planting and cultivating absolutely forbid.

"This suggests almost necessarily the consolidation of country schools. I can see no escape from the ultimate result."

Conditions have changed since that time. Power machinery has revolutionized the farm industry. Road conditions and transportation facilities have been greatly improved since the township school was established every two miles.

With changed conditions the need for reorganization and consolidation is much more urgent than it was thirty years ago. Indifference, local pride and selfishness have too often and for too long blocked progress in this field.

We need an acceptable and workable reorganization law. We need to study the economics of education. Local communities should not expect state aid for the operation of schools that are economically unsound without doing their share to correct such conditions. The state should be, and is willing to assume, a share of the cost of education.

As a state as a whole, we spend 4.65 per cent of our income for education as compared to 5.5 per cent by Utah. We rank twelfth among the states in effort to support education. The amount of support for our schools can and should be increased.

The inflation we are suffering from has made it impossible to operate many schools at the per capita cost per pupil now provided by statute. Early action should be taken to raise this limit.

The problems of our schools are inseparably interwoven within our social and economic life. A wise solution of our road problems, our assessment problems, and our tax problems will greatly benefit our schools.

The last session of the legislature was not able to reach an agreement on all of the laws suggested by the report of the school code committee. You should study this report again and give further consideration to these recommendations.

I particularly recommend that you consider the advantages of an optional county unit bill.

CONCLUSION

Members of the General Assembly, the wheel of destiny has placed in your hands a great responsibility and a great opportunity.

You are the first postwar assembly, the first to start off the second century of Iowa's steady march of progress.

Great problems demand your consideration. Yours is the opportunity of correcting past omissions and neglects. Yours is the obligation of finding solutions for present problems, and laying the foundations of a better tomorrow.

Our English word "candidate" is derived from a Latin word meaning "clothed in white." It originated out of the custom of the members of the Roman Senate to clothe themselves in garments of spotless white as a symbol of their freedom from personal corruption, bias or prejudice, and their willingness to consider all of the issues coming before them solely upon their merits.

You sit here not as individuals, not as the representatives of any county or district; nor as the representatives of any business, trade or profession to promote their selfish economic welfare at the expense of the general public.

You are the representatives of two and one-half million people. The welfare of their varied interests and the solution of their problems as it affects the welfare of all the people rests upon your shoulders.

You must act wisely for the foolish.

You must be strong for the weak.

You must be generous for the miserly.

You must be prudent for the wasteful and improvident.

You must have vision for the blind.

You must be unselfish for the selfish.

You must avoid the pitfalls of pride and prejudice, of ignorance and indifference and selfishness.

Your collective thought and action can and must reflect the best thought and action of a great people.

By virtue of the assumption of the duties of your office you have become the collective intelligence of Iowa, the very heart, soul and conscience of the state.

The people have trusted you. They believe in you. They demand that you be faithful to the trust reposed in you.

On every hand you will be beset with obstacles.

You will be denounced in the press and on the street corner for doing too little or too much, by men and women who have selfish interests, by those who are prejudiced, and by those who are uninformed and too busy to study all sides of the question.

The repetition of half truths will rise up to plague you.

You will be dined, cajoled and flattered by the selfish and self-seeking.

You will be threatened with political death and reprisals by pressure groups.

Yet you will have hidden within you unsuspected and undiscovered springs of wisdom and strength.

High on an arch just outside the door of the Governor's office, inscribed in letters of shining gold, are these words of truth: "nothing is politically right that is morally wrong."

If you stand on high ground and always strive to do that which is right you shall need fear no adversary.

The Goliath of accumulated problems of war, of past neglect, of ignorance and selfishness challenge you. But the strength of a David is yours for the asking. You need not and dare not fail.

We stand on the threshold of a new century for Iowa. The world stands upon the threshold of a new age.

By making Iowa the best place in all the world in which to live, we shall help make the world a better place to live in.

*To every man there openeth
A high way and a low.
And the high soul climbs the high way
And the low soul gropes the low.
While in between on the misty flats
The rest drift to and fro.
But to every man there openeth
A high way and a low,
And every man decideth
The way his soul shall go.*

As you embark upon your labors may the spirit of truth and justice attend you. The hopes and prayers of Iowa people go with you!

Governor Blue was escorted from the chamber by the committee previously appointed.

The minutes of the joint convention were read and approved.

Morrissey of Jasper moved that the joint convention be now dissolved. Motion prevailed.

The House reconvened, Speaker Kuester in the chair.

Hicklin of Louisa moved that the House adjourn until Tuesday, January 21, 1947, at 2 p.m., in accordance with Senate Concurrent Resolution 4.

Motion prevailed and the House adjourned.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

HALL OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
DES MOINES, IOWA, JANUARY 21, 1947.

The House met pursuant to adjournment, Speaker Kuester in the chair.

Prayer was offered by the Reverend C. W. Cleveland, pastor of the Methodist church, Albion, Iowa.

Journal of January 16 was corrected and approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Leave of absence was granted as follows: Graham of Audubon on request of Poston of Wayne; Wellington of Lee on request of Kruse of Floyd.

PETITION

The following resolution was presented and placed on file:

By Schwengel of Scott and Hedin of Scott, from the Davenport Realtors Board of Davenport, Iowa, urging an increase in taxes for public schools, to be appropriated from state income, sales and luxury taxes.

MEMBER'S OATH OF OFFICE

The following member took and subscribed to the following oath:

"I solemnly swear that I will support the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of Iowa and that I will faithfully and impartially discharge the duties of the office of Representative in the General Assembly of the State of Iowa to the best of my ability, so help me God."

Respectfully submitted,
WILHELMINE WEAVER
Secretary to State Appeal Board

To Secretary of the Senate
Chief Clerk of the House

The following prison claims are submitted separately from other claims. The State Appeal Board feels that in many instances the state has moral obligation to these prisoners for injuries received while they are in the custody of the state. However, in previous legislatures, recommendations for appropriations to compensate to a certain extent for these injuries have not been looked upon with favor by the Claims Committees, therefore these claims are sent without recommendation.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 7 ADOPTED

McFarlane of Black Hawk called up Senate Concurrent Resolution 7 found on pages 99 and 100 of the Journal of January 21 and moved its adoption.

Motion prevailed and Senate Concurrent Resolution 7 was adopted.

Olson of Mitchell offered the following resolution:

HOUSE RESOLUTION 4

Whereas, There have been many complaints on the part of former and present members and employees of the General Assembly regarding eyestrain and discomfort resulting from improper illumination in the House chamber,

And Whereas, By House Resolution 12 of the Fiftieth General Assembly the executive council was directed to make a study and to find such remedy as might be had,

And Whereas, Such report was made to the Extraordinary session of the Fiftieth General Assembly which directed its interim committee to proceed accordingly,

And Whereas, Such illumination has not yet been corrected or improved,

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the executive council be authorized to proceed immediately with some form of lighting to achieve the desired end.

Unanimous consent having been granted for the immediate consideration of the resolution, Mr. Olson moved its adoption.

Motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

House File 9, a bill for an act to amend section one hundred twenty point eight (120.8), Code 1946, relating to watchmakers and repairmen, was taken up for consideration.

Poston of Wayne offered the following amendment to House File 9:

Amend House File 9 by striking all after the enacting clause and substituting the following:

Section 1. Section one hundred twenty point eight (120.8), Code 1946, is hereby amended by adding to subsection 2 of said section, the following:

"The board, upon presentation by an applicant of a license or certificate to practice watchmaking issued to the applicant upon examination by the duly constituted authority of another state which by its laws licenses or regulates watchmakers, and which by its laws would grant a certificate or license under similar circumstances and conditions, may in its discretion, issue a certificate of registration to said applicant without examination, upon payment of a fee of ten dollars."

Sec. 2. Section one hundred twenty point eight (120.8), Code 1946, is amended by repealing subsection 4 thereof and substituting therefor the following in lieu thereof:

"4. Every certificate of registration shall expire on the thirtieth day of June following the date of issuance of such certificate, and shall be renewed annually upon application by the holder thereof, without examination.

"Application for such renewal shall be made in writing to the department, accompanied by a renewal fee of five dollars, at least thirty days prior to the expiration of such certificate. Every renewal shall be displayed in connection with the original certificate. Every year or not later than May first, the Board shall notify each certificate holder by mail of the expiration of his certificate. Any watchmaker who allows his certificate to lapse by failing to renew the same as hereinbefore provided, may obtain reinstatement thereof without examination, in the discretion of the Board, if he applies therefor within three years following the expiration date of his certificate and pays the renewal fees then due."

Sec. 3. Amend section eight (8), Chapter ninety-seven (97), Acts of the 51st General Assembly, by striking the words "six months" appearing in line 31 and substituting therefor the following: "one year".

Sec. 4. This Act being deemed of immediate importance, shall be in full force and effect from and after its publication in The Clinton Herald, a newspaper published at Clinton, Iowa, and in the Perry Daily Chief, a newspaper published at Perry, Iowa.

On request of Poston of Wayne, unanimous consent having been obtained, further action on House File 9 was deferred and the bill retained its place on the calendar.

REPORT OF DELEGATE TO COUNCIL OF STATE GOVERNMENTS

Schwengel of Scott, delegate from the House of Representatives to the Interstate Cooperation meeting called by the Council of State Governments at Chicago on January 16, 17, and 18, 1947, submitted the following report:

Your selection of me to represent this honorable body, as well as the people of the state of Iowa, at the meeting of the Council of State Governments in Chicago on January 16, 17, 18, was indeed an honor, —an honor that carried with it a responsibility to observe and learn to the greatest of my ability and to share with you some of my experiences and observations. This I will now proceed to do very briefly.

The Council of State Governments in its present form was organized only a few days ago, this being only the eighth biennial meeting. Its objective is to seek to improve government on a state and local level, and to encourage as much as possible uniformity of laws as they affect each other, and to serve as a clearing center for information for the benefit of all legislative bodies. This information includes:

1. Figures on costs of all departments of state government.
2. Information on services of various departments.
3. School legislation as to regulation and control, as well as state aid.
4. Recent major changes in state laws affecting commerce and trade.
5. A detailed study on legislative procedure.
6. Studies on federal government encroachments.
7. Studies and recommendations on new legislation.

The work of the council includes many other services, including the publication of the "Book of the States."

In connection with this report I wish to submit the following recommendations:

1. That each of you take advantage of the various services offered by the Council of State Governments.
2. I highly recommend that the state cooperate with the program of the State Council and participate therein, financially and otherwise.
3. I further recommend that in the future we give attention to the matter of a better representation there, and that we send at least ten delegates in this proportion: seven from the House and three from the Senate.

In conclusion I wish to thank all of the members for giving me the opportunity of attending this meeting which has afforded me a broader experience and appreciation of the objectives of this meeting.

Weichman of Benton offered the following concurrent resolution:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 7

Whereas, the cost of operating and maintaining the state government, its institutions and agencies has increased far beyond expectations; and

Whereas, during the period of the war emergency repairs and improvements on state owned property were postponed in order to aid the war effort and the demands are such that needed improvements must be considered and provided for during the next biennium; and

Whereas, this Assembly will be called upon to make appropriations to provide funds with which to pay the costs of the state government, its institutions and agencies, and the demands for such purposes based upon the askings exceeds the revenues now received; and

Whereas, it would seem that if the state budget for the next biennium is to be balanced that it will be necessary that all major appropriations bills be considered so that the revenue necessary to balance the budget may be provided;

Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring: That no bill providing for the reduction of taxes of any kind be considered until the major appropriation bills have first been considered and acted upon by this General Assembly.

Laid over under Rule 34.

INTRODUCTION OF HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION 1

House Joint Resolution 1, by Burkman of Polk, proposing an amendment to Article IV of the constitution of the state of Iowa relating to the succession of the Lieutenant Governor to act as Governor in the event of the death or disability of the Governor, together with the succession of officers following the Lieutenant Governor to the office of Governor.

Be It Resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

Section 1. That Article IV, section 17 of the constitution of the state of Iowa be amended by adding thereto the following paragraph:

"In case of the death, resignation, failure to qualify, inability to qualify, or other disability of the candidate for Governor who received the largest number of votes at the last general election for the ensuing term, the powers and duties of the office of Governor for the ensuing term, or until the disability is removed, shall devolve upon the candidate for Lieutenant Governor who received the largest number of votes at the last general election for the ensuing term, and he shall assume the powers and duties of Governor upon the completion of the canvass of the votes for Governor and Lieutenant Governor by the General Assembly."

Sec. 2. Be It Further Resolved that Article IV, section 19 of the constitution of the state of Iowa be amended by adding thereto the following paragraph:

"If the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, President pro tem of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives are all by reason of death, resignation or otherwise, incapable of performing the duties of the office of Governor, the members of the Executive Council of the state of Iowa shall immediately convene the General Assembly of the State of Iowa by proclamation, and the General Assembly shall immediately elect a Governor, Lieutenant Governor, President pro tem of the Senate, and Speaker of the House of Representatives, who shall serve until their successors are elected and qualified."

Sec. 3. Be It Further Resolved that the foregoing proposed amendment be and the same is hereby referred to the General Assembly to be chosen at the next general election and that the Secretary of State cause the same to be published as provided by law.

House File 9, a bill for an act to amend section one hundred twenty point eight (120.8), Code 1946, relating to watchmakers and repairmen, was taken up for consideration.

Poston of Wayne called up the following amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend House File 9 by striking all after the enacting clause and substituting the following:

Section 1. Section one hundred twenty point eight (120.8), Code 1946, is hereby amended by adding to subsection 2 of said section, the following:

"The board, upon presentation by an applicant of a license or certificate to practice watchmaking issued to the applicant upon examination by the duly constituted authority of another state which by its laws licenses or regulates watchmakers, and which by its laws would grant a certificate of license under similar circumstances and conditions, may in its discretion, issue a certificate of registration to said applicant without examination, upon payment of a fee of ten dollars."

Sec. 2. Section one hundred twenty point eight (120.8), Code 1946, is amended by repealing subsection 4 thereof and substituting therefor the following in lieu thereof:

"4. Every certificate of registration shall expire on the thirtieth day of June following the date of issuance of such certificate, and shall be renewed annually upon application by the holder thereof, without examination.

"Application for such renewal shall be made in writing to the department, accompanied by a renewal fee of five dollars, at least thirty days prior to the expiration of such certificate. Every renewal shall be displayed in connection with the original certificate. Every year or not later than May first, the Board shall notify each certificate holder by mail of the expiration of his certificate. Any watchmaker who allows his certificate to lapse by failing to renew the same as hereinbefore provided, may obtain reinstatement thereof without examination, in the discretion of the Board, if he applies therefor within three years following the expiration date of his certificate and pays the renewal fees then due."

Sec. 3. Amend section eight (8), Chapter ninety-seven (97), Acts of the 51st General Assembly, by striking the words "six months" appearing in line 31 and substituting therefor the following: "one year".

Sec. 4. This Act being deemed of immediate importance, shall be in full force and effect from and after its publication in The Clinton Herald, a newspaper published at Clinton, Iowa, and in the Perry Daily Chief, a newspaper published at Perry, Iowa.

Amendment adopted.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

The following message was received from the Senate:

MR. SPEAKER: I am directed to inform your honorable body that the Senate has adopted the concurrent resolution in which the concurrence of the Senate was asked: House Concurrent Resolution 6 relating to payment of pre-session and miscellaneous expense of the Fifty-second General Assembly.

W. J. SCARBOROUGH, Secretary.

Poston of Wayne asked and obtained unanimous consent to have the following report of the committee on retrenchment and reform of the 51st General Assembly printed in the Journal:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RETRENCHMENT AND REFORM

To the President of the Senate, Speaker of the House of Representatives, and Members of the Fifty-second General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

The Legislative Committee on Retrenchment and Reform of the Fifty-first General Assembly herewith submits the following report and makes recommendations as hereinafter set out, to-wit:

During the past two years, the Retrenchment and Reform Committee has visited all of the institutions under the State Board of Control on two separate occasions.

The committee has entrusted to it by the General Assembly a fund to be used for unforeseen conditions that arise in the various institutions and departments, to carry on the functions of government until the assembly meets again, with the idea of ascertaining what adjustments should be made during the next biennium in order that the State of Iowa may better serve those who are under the care and guidance of certain institutions. This commission served as the connecting link between the Legislature and the various departments of State Government.

We have endeavored to follow the wishes of the Fifty-first General Assembly, and knowing that the Fifty-second General Assembly desires to be of service to the people of the State of Iowa, we are pleased to submit the recommendations which our committee deems most feasible.

Space does not permit a detailed report of our various trips to the different institutions; however, the minutes of each meeting are on file in the office of Secretary of State.

We believe that the institutions under the board of control are efficiently and capably managed, taking into consideration, of course, the labor and material shortage which confronts the board at the present time.

However, we wish to call the attention of the Fifty-second General Assembly to reports made by former committees on Retrenchment and Reform.

The Forty-eighth General Assembly committee reported that major capital improvements are needed at most of our institutions. The Forty-ninth General Assembly committee reported that previous committees have called attention to the need of substantial capital improvements, particularly at the mental hospitals, and said in closing "this committee is of the same opinion."

The committee of the Fiftieth General Assembly stated in part: "The committee of the Fiftieth General Assembly is of the same opinion, and wishes once more to call to the attention of the Fifty-first General Assembly the dire need of improvements in view of the deferred action by past legislatures on account of conditions beyond their control. We feel that the time has now arrived when a certain amount of money should be set aside for capital improvements in our state institutions."

The Fifty-first General Assembly set aside from the unobligated balance in the Special Tax Fund derived from the revenue collected from the sales, income and corporation tax the sum of. $6,872,500.00 to be used as designated in Chapter 3 Acts of the 51st G. A., for board of control for capital improvements.

The Fifty-first General Assembly set aside from the unobligated balance in the sales, income and corporation tax fund, the sum of $5,800,000 for board of education as set forth in Chapter 5 Acts of the 51st G. A., for capital improvements.

The committee of the 51st G. A. recommends that additional funds be provided for needed capital improvements and that sufficient capital funds for Eldora be provided to complete 1945-1947 askings depleted by necessary erection of security building.

These funds shall be expended subject to the following: the board of education and board of control with the approval of the Retrenchment and Reform committee shall designate which projects shall be constructed from their askings; that the board of education and board of control be authorized to accept federal funds, if available, and if federal funds are available the proposed capital program shall be complete insofar as possible from these funds.

That the plans, specifications and contracts of the capital improvements designated by the board of control and board of education be approved by the Retrenchment and Reform committee before any work is done.

The committee wishes to call to the attention of the Legislature the fact that the institutions which treat the mentally ill should be allowed sufficient funds so that they will be in position to hire additional physicians, psychiatrists and nurses so that each and every person that enters an institution of this kind will be accorded the very best of help and treatment so that a large percentage of them may return to society. We feel that such a program is to be recommended from both a humane and economical standpoint. Every person that enters an institution or hospital for treatment should be given every opportunity and assistance which may enable the patients to return to normal life.

We recommend that the Board of Control be authorized to employ a psychiatrist to co-ordinate the care and treatment of all mental patients with the end in view to cure and rehabilitate as many as possible.

That a dietician be employed by the Board of Control for all institutions, under the direction of a general dietician.

We have sensed the need for a specialist in Child Welfare for the Board of Control institutions and recommend that a trained specialist be employed.

We recommend that the Board of Control be authorized to employ a penologist in connection with the training schools and penal institutions.

That maintenance and support appropriations for the Board of Control be substantially increased over 1945-1947 budget.

That the Board of Control install the very best in modern appliances and equipment to facilitate in the care and training of patients in all institutions.

That the board install in all the institutions for orphans and correctional care, modern equipment to provide the student population with training so as to be able to pursue a trade or profession when again restored to society.

We are of the opinion that the laws of commitment to mental institutions should be revised.

We find that previous Retrenchment and Reform Committees have recommended that vocational training facilities for the Training School for Boys and other institutions be modernized and enlarged; that sufficient funds have been appropriated by the General Assembly to finance same.

We find that vocational training has not been improved in most instances and that funds have not been used and have been returned to the General Fund.

We recommend that specific instructions be included in the appropriation act requiring the enlargement of the personnel staff and modernization of vocational equipment in these institutions.

We recommend that the Board of Control continue to be constituted as at present a Board of three (3) members. That the Board be empowered by law to fix salaries of superintendents of all institutions under their supervision.

Objections have been raised to the plan of the method of appointment of the business managers and superintendents of our state institutions. The superintendent is appointed by the Board of Control and the business manager is appointed by the Governor. Some confusion has resulted in that there is a duplication and overlapping of authority.

We recommend that the necessary changes be made in our existing laws so that the appointment of the business managers and the superintendents shall be made by and that they be responsible to the Board of Control.

After considerable investigation and study this committee is of the opinion that the Security Building, criticized by the survey committee, is necessary and in line with the modern and proper administration of a boy's training school. To refer to it as a cell block is a misnomer and unfair to the Board of Control and the school. It is by far the most modern and up to date building on the Eldora campus, and as long as incorrigible and criminal juveniles are committed to schools, some additional security for them must be available. The hospital at Anamosa and the security compound are only temporary measures.

The committee has noted the recommendations of the hospital survey committee as to transferring the training schools at Eldora and Mitchellville, the Orphans' Home at Davenport and the Toledo Juvenile Home to the Board of Social Welfare.

The committee feels that this would result in no better administration than under a Board of Control equipped with proper administrative officials and funds with which to employ them. The transfer would require unnecessary expense and be economically unsound.

It is the opinion of this committee that the institutions which operate under the supervision of the State Board of Education have been and are being operated efficiently by responsible administrative personnel. It should be borne in mind that economic conditions at this time have imposed problems and hardships in addition to those which prevail in normal times. Widespread shortages of materials, and of labor, as well as the rising price levels of this period place an added burden upon those who are responsible for the management of these institutions.

It should be noted in addition that the efficiency of operation of the educational institutions has been subject to a great additional strain upon facilities and personnel. The general influx of veteran students in all institutions, which has broken all-time enrollment records by as much as 50 per cent at a period when the economic problems mentioned are particularly severe, has been an unprecedented challenge to the abilities of administrators of all educational centers.

It is the opinion of this committee that appropriations for the operation of the institutions under the State Board of Education should be increased by approximately 50 per cent—for salaries, support and maintenance, and for repairs, replacements and alterations—if the schools are to operate as effectively as the state expects them to operate. In this connection, we must keep in mind that for the past several years, properties have been allowed to deteriorate, particularly during and because of the war, and they must now be repaired and renovated at prevailing costs and prices, which are appreciably higher than before the war.

The committee finds that it will be necessary to increase the appropriations for capital improvements which already have been authorized by the Fiftieth and Fifty-first General Assemblies. To meet construction costs for these improvements at present price levels, an increase of 60 per cent in these appropriations will be required. In addition, the committee feels that appropriations should be set aside at this time to cover the cost of additional buildings which have been outlined in the ten-year program of the State Board of Education.

It is the consensus of the committee that the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Oakdale should be placed under the supervision of the State Board of Education. The program of the Sanatorium, unlike that of the State's mental institutions, is entirely medical in nature; it is concerned with the diagnosis and treatment of organic diseases. Oakdale is near the University of Iowa (six miles) and to the University Hospitals and the College of Medicine, which come within the cognizance of the State Board of Education. While there has been no lack of co-operation between Oakdale and the University, whose medical personnel are directly involved in the operation of the Sanatorium, it would seem to be in the best interests of the State if the Sanatorium were placed in company with other areas of medical training and service which fall within the jurisdiction of the State Board of Education.

The committee recommends that the Legislature make appropriation of funds to meet deficiencies in the operating costs of the University Hospitals at Iowa City and Iowa State Teachers College at Cedar Falls.

In June of 1946, the University Hospitals requested $76,677.00 to provide a salary increase of 7½ per cent, effective July 1, 1946. Our committee appropriated one-half of this amount to initiate the new salary program and to carry it until the meeting of the Legislature in January, 1947. The remainder of the amount requested ($38,338.50) constitutes Item No. 1 in the deficiency appropriations outlined here.

The University Hospitals will, in addition, have a deficiency estimated at $203,306.10 created by increased costs of drugs, X-ray film, brace shop supplies, nursing care equipment, surgical dressings and other supplies. The University Hospitals also will require a total of $52,882.00 if further salary and wage increases are to be awarded as planned on January 1, 1947. These increases provide for a minimum increase of $10 per month, and a maximum increase of $20 per month, for all employees of the University Hospitals.

The total deficiency appropriation for the University Hospitals thus is $294,526.60.

The Iowa State Teachers College last June requested $64,800.00 to provide for deficiencies in operations from July 1, 1946, to July 1, 1947. The committee allowed one-half of this request to cover the period until the meeting of the Legislature in January. The remaining one-half ($32,400.00) is requested at this time. The Iowa State Teachers College will require an additional $40,000.00 to cover salary and wage increases from January 1 to July 1, 1947—a grand total of $72,400.00.

It is the recommendation of the committee that the Legislature make the foregoing deficiency appropriations at the earliest possible moment.

Lastly, the committee recommends the appropriation of $75,000.00 to the Iowa State College at Ames for the immediate construction of a bridge over Squaw Creek, to replace a bridge washed away by flood waters.

By the adoption of House Concurrent Resolution 25, the Fifty-first General Assembly directed the Committee on Retrenchment and Reform to investigate and report on the regrouping of counties, and the number of judges that are needed in the various judicial districts, having due regard to the speedy and economical administration of justice, and it is now the opinion of the members of this committee that due to the continued and steady increase in the amount of legal work handled by our courts since the close of World War II that no attempt should be made at this time to reduce the number of our District Court Judges.

A survey of drainage district No. 13, Muscatine County, was made by the Conservation Commission. The appraisal of the land totals $962,226.00 for 7,811.3 acres, or $123.19 per acre.

We recommend that the state do not purchase the land in the Muscatine drainage district No. 13, but recommend that the land owned by the state in Muscatine and Louisa counties be placed under the jurisdiction and supervision of the Conservation Commission with authority to lease same.

W. J. SCARBOROUGH, Secretary.

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 10

McEleney of Clinton called up Senate Concurrent Resolution 10 and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 10

WHEREAS, present facilities for caring for all veterans are inadequate; and

WHEREAS, many patients requiring immediate medical attendance are neglected due to lack of facilities, resulting in undue hardship, suffering and death, and

WHEREAS, there are at present existing facilities that can be utilized without further expenditure of public money and use of critical materials, and

WHEREAS, Schick General Hospital, a twelve million ($12,000,000) Army Hospital located at Clinton, Iowa, is now available for such contemplated uses, now therefore

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring: That the Veterans' Administration is respectfully requested to utilize Schick General Hospital at Clinton, Iowa, with its suitable facilities and very desirable location for the permanent care of veterans.

Be It Further Resolved: That copies of this Resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, to the President of the United States Senate, and to the Speaker of the House of Representatives of Congress and to the Iowa members of the United States Senate and the Iowa members of the House of Representatives of Congress and General Omar Bradley of the Veterans' Administration.

Amend Senate File 37 by striking the title and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

"An act to amend section four hundred twenty-two point sixty-nine (422.69), Code 1946, relating to the allocation and use of revenues collected under the provisions of Chapter 422, Code 1946, providing for the use of fifty (50%) per cent of the amount collected under Division II of this chapter from the personal net income tax in the year 1947 and each year thereafter for public elementary and secondary school aid".

By striking all after the enacting clause and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. Notwithstanding any provision of the law as it is contained in section four hundred twenty-two point sixty-nine (422.69), Code 1946, one-half (½) of the revenue collected in the year 1947 and each year thereafter, from the personal net income tax, under the provisions of Division II, Chapter 422, Code 1946, shall be set aside by the commission and paid into the 'public school state aid fund,' which fund is hereby created.

"Sec. 2. The 'public school state aid fund' shall be held by the treasurer of state as a special fund for public elementary and secondary school aid and shall be disbursed only upon warrants drawn by the comptroller and then only in accordance with the further direction of the legislature."

WEICHMAN of Benton.

Amend Senate File 37 by adding as sections four (4) and five (5) the following and by renumbering section four (4) as section six (6):

Sec. 4. Section four hundred twenty-two point sixty-two (422.62), Code 1946, is amended as follows:

1. Insert after the word, "created" in line eight (8) the following, "except that part derived from the personal net income tax which part shall be segregated and deposited one half in a state aid to public schools fund, which fund is hereby created, and one half to a state aid to secondary road construction fund, which fund is hereby created."

2. Strike from line nine (9) the word "fund" and insert the word, "funds".

3. Insert after the words, "special tax fund" in line twenty-two (22) the following, ", school fund, secondary road construction fund,".

Sec. 5. Section four hundred twenty-two point sixty-nine (422.69), Code 1946, is amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

"except that all revenue derived from the operation of division II and carried in the state aid to public schools fund shall be distributed as provided in chapter 286 of the code and all revenue derived from the operation of division II and carried in the state aid to secondary road construction fund shall, on or before January 15 of each year be allotted to each of the several counties of the state. Said allotment shall be in the ratio that the area of each county bears to the total area of the state".

"and providing for the distribution of the revenue arising from such income tax."

SIEFKAS of Clarke.

BROWN of Monona.

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the House and the title was agreed to.

Senate File 41, a bill for an act to impose a sales tax of five per cent (5%) upon all liquor sold by the Iowa state liquor stores, for the purpose of providing revenue for incorporated cities and towns of the state for police purposes; providing for the collection of such tax by the state liquor control commission and for the apportionment thereof to the cities and towns of the state; and amending section one hundred twenty-three point eighteen (123.18) and section one hundred twenty-three point fifty (123.50), Code 1946, with report of committee recommending passage, was taken up for consideration.

McFarlane of Black Hawk asked and obtained unanimous consent to withdraw the following amendment filed by him:

Amend Senate File 41 by striking all of section one (1) and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

“Section 1. Effective as of March 1, 1947, the liquor commission shall pay into the general fund of the state of Iowa five per cent (5%) of the gross amount of sales made by the state liquor stores, which amount shall be distributed and paid to the cities and towns of the state in the manner hereinafter provided”.

Amend section two (2) by striking from line three (3) thereof the words and figures “eight per cent (8%)” and substituting in lieu thereof the words and figures “five per cent (5%)”.

McFarlane of Black Hawk called up the following amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend Senate File 41 by striking all after the enacting clause and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

“Section 1. Section one hundred twenty-three point fifty (123.50), Code 1946, is hereby amended by adding the following:

‘Effective March 1, 1947, the state treasurer shall semi-annually distribute a sum of money equal to five per cent (5%) of the gross amount of sales made by the state liquor stores to the cities and towns of the state in the manner hereinafer provided. Such amount shall be distributed to the cities and towns of the state in proportion to the population that each incorporated city and town bears to the total population of all incorporated cities and towns of the state as computed by the latest federal census. Such apportionment shall be made semi-annually as of July 1 and January 1 of each year. Warrants for the same shall be issued by the state comptroller upon certification of the state treasurer and mailed to the city clerk of each incorporated city and town of the state and shall be made payable to the general fund of such incorporated city or town and shall be subject to expenditure under the direction of the city council or other governing bodies of such incorporated city or town for any lawful municipal purpose.'

"Sec. 2. In any case where a city has been incorporated since the last federal census, the mayor and council shall certify to the state liquor control commission the actual population of such incorporated city and town as of date of incorporation and its apportionment of funds under this act shall be based upon such certification until the next federal census enumeration. Any community which has dissolved its corporation shall not receive any apportionment of funds under this act for any period after said corporation has been dissolved.

"Sec. 3. This act shall apply to cities under special charter.

"Sec. 4. This act being deemed of immediate importance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and publication in the Page County Herald-Journal, a newspaper published at Clarinda, Iowa, and the Madrid Register-News, a newspaper published at Madrid, Iowa."

Further amend Senate File 41 by striking all of the title and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"An act distributing a sum of money equal to five per cent (5%) of the gross amount of sales made by the state liquor stores to cities and towns."

Amendment adopted.

Bass of Montgomery called up the following amendment and moved its adoption:

1. Amend Senate File 41 by striking all of section one (1) and substituting in lieu thereof the following: "Section 1. Effective as of March 1, 1947, the Liquor Control Commission shall pay into the general fund of the state of Iowa seven per cent (7%) of the gross amount of sales made by the state liquor stores, which amount shall be distributed and paid to the cities and towns of the state and to the state superintendent of public instruction in the manner hereinafter provided."

2. By striking from line three (3) of section two (2) the word "all" and substituting in lieu thereof the words and figures "five per cent (5%) of".

3. By striking from line three (3) of section two (2) the words and figures "eight per cent (8%)" and inserting in lieu thereof the words and figures "seven per cent (7%)".

4. By inserting after the period (.) in line nineteen (19) of section two (2) the following: "The remaining two per cent (2%) of the proceeds of the seven per cent (7%) payment provided in section one hundred twenty-three point eighteen (123.18) as amended, shall be set aside by the state liquor commission for distribution to the office of the state superintendent of public instruction, to be used by said superintendent so as, at the discretion of that officer, to best provide a program of instruction concerning the effects of the consumption of alcoholic liquors upon the human system. Such distribution of funds to the superintendent of public instruction shall be carried out in the same manner as the distribution to cities and towns previously described in this section."

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 13

Fimmen of Davis asked and obtained unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of Senate Concurrent Resolution 13.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 13

Whereas, The national debt remains at one of the highest amounts in our history, and

Whereas, It is the universal desire of all citizens that we adopt a national fiscal policy which will provide for an orderly liquidation of the national debt, eliminate deficit spending and place the National Government on a pay-as-you-go basis, and

Whereas, The Senior Senator from Iowa, the Honorable George A. Wilson, has introduced Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 5 in the Senate of the United States, which said Resolution will result in the aforesaid objectives, now therefore

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring: That the Congress of the United States is respectfully requested to give early and favorable consideration to Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 5.

And Be It Further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, to the Iowa members of the United States Senate, to the Iowa members of the House of Representatives in Congress, to the chairmen of the Committee on Ways and Means and the Committee on Appropriations of the House of Representatives, and the chairmen of the Committee on Finances and the Committee on Appropriations of the Senate.

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

Senate File 37, a bill for an act to amend chapter four hundred twenty-two (422), Code 1946, relating to the rates, credits and returns provided for in the administration of the Iowa state income tax laws, and amending sections four hundred twenty-two point five (422.5); four hundred twenty-two point twelve (422.12) and four hundred twenty-two point thirteen (422.13), Code 1946, all relating to taxation of individual incomes, with report of committee recommending passage, was taken up for consideration.

Amend Senate File 37 by striking all after the enacting clause and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

Section 1. Section four hundred twenty-two point five (422.5), Code, 1946, is hereby amended as follows: By striking from line two (2) of subsection one (1) the words "one per cent" and substituting in lieu thereof the words "one-half of one per cent"; and by striking from line two (2) of subsection two (2) the words "two per cent" and substituting therefor the words "one per cent"; by striking from line two (2) of subsection three (3) the words "three per cent" and substituting in lieu thereof the words "one and one-half per cent"; by striking from line two (2) of subsection four (4) the words "four per cent" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "two per cent"; and by striking from lines two (2) and four (4) of subsection five (5) the words "five per cent" and substituting in lieu thereof the words "two and one-half per cent".

Sec. 2. Section four hundred twenty-two point twelve (422.12), Code, 1946, is hereby amended by striking from subsection one (1) the word "ten" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "five"; by striking from line two (2) of subsection two (2) the word "twenty" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "ten"; by striking from line four (4) of subsection three (3) the word "five" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "two and one-half" and by striking from line three (3) of subdivision four (4) the word "five" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "two and one-half".

Sec. 3. This act shall be effective as to income subject to personal income tax for the year 1946 and thereafter and shall apply to fiscal year returns for any fiscal year beginning during the year 1946 and upon fiscal year returns for years thereafter.

Sec. 4. An emergency tax is hereby imposed, effective as provided by this act, upon every resident of the state and upon that part of the income of any non-resident which is derived from any property, trust, or other source within this state, including any business, trade, profession or occupation carried on within the State, which tax shall be levied, collected and paid annually upon and with respect to his entire taxable income as herein defined at rates as follows:

1. On the first one thousand dollars (\$1,000) of taxable income, or any part thereof, one half ($\frac{1}{2}$) of one (1) per cent.
2. On the second thousand dollars ($2,000) of taxable income, or any part thereof, one (1) per cent.
3. On the third thousand dollars (\$3,000) of taxable income, or any part thereof, one and one-half per cent ($1\frac{1}{2}\%$).
4. On the fourth thousand dollars ($4,000) of taxable income, or any part thereof, two per cent (2%).
5. On the fifth thousand dollars (\$5,000) of taxable income, or any part thereof, two and one-half per cent ($2\frac{1}{2}\%$).

Sec. 5. The tax thus imposed shall be collected by the state tax commission in the same manner as the tax now imposed by section four hundred twenty-two point five (422.5) of the Code, and the provisions of Division 1, Chapter 422, Code, 1946, relating to the computation, collection and administration of the tax on individual incomes, shall apply to the collection and administration of the emergency income tax herein provided.

Sec. 6. In the collection of such emergency income tax there shall be deducted from the tax after the same shall have been computed as set forth in Division 1, Chapter 422, Code, 1946, personal exemptions as follows:

1. For a single individual, five dollars ($5.00).
2. For husband and wife or head of a family, ten dollars ($10.00).
3. For each child under the age of twenty-one years who is actually supported by and dependent upon the taxpayer for his support, an additional two and one-half dollars ($2.50).
4. For each actual dependent other than as specified in subsection 3 of this section, the taxpayer may deduct the sum of two and one-half dollars ($2.50); or in lieu thereof in the case of a father, mother or grandparents dependent upon the taxpayer, the taxpayer in computing his net income may make deduction therefrom of three hundred dollars ($300) for such dependent.

If the status of the taxpayer, insofar as it affects the personal exemption or credit for dependents, changes during the taxable year, the personal exemption and credit shall be apportioned under rules and regulations prescribed by the commission.

Sec. 7. There is hereby created an Emergency Income Tax Committee which shall be constituted and composed of the chairmen of the Ways and Means and Appropriations committees of both the House and Senate of the General Assembly. The State Treasurer shall when in his judgment it is necessary report to the Emergency Income Tax Committee on or before the 20th day of July in any calendar year that an emergency exists in state financial conditions which will require the levy of a State general property tax as provided by section 8.6, Subsection 13, Code, 1946. Such emergency shall be deemed to exist when the balance on hand in the State General Fund shall have been expended or appropriated to such a degree that the amount available for expenditures and unpledged shall be less than fifteen million dollars ($15,000,000).

The Emergency Income Tax Committee shall determine when notified by the State Treasurer that such an emergency exists in state financial conditions, whether it is necessary for the protection of the solvency of the State to levy the additional income tax provided by this act upon incomes earned during the year ending on December 31 of the year in which such emergency exists, and upon income earned by individuals making returns upon any fiscal year beginning during said year, such tax to be collectible during the next calendar year to insure the payment of all commitments or contingencies affecting the solvency and credit of the State. Should the committee determine that the imposition of such emergency income tax is necessary it shall so certify to the State Tax Commission on or before November 15 of any calendar year that an emergency exists, and the State Tax Commission shall proceed with the collection of the emergency income tax on the rates and under the conditions as specified in this act.

Sec. 8. In the event that the amount of revenue to be derived from such emergency income tax, as estimated by the state tax commission, is sufficient to meet the needs of the emergency as determined by the committee, no levy shall be certified by the state comptroller for general state taxes as provided in subsection thirteen (13) of section eight point six (8.6) of the Code.

Sec. 9. It is the intent and purpose of this act that no state levy upon property shall be made in any year for the general state fund unless the proceeds of an emergency income tax levy as herein provided shall be insufficient to meet the financial needs of the state as determined by the emergency income tax committee.

Sec. 10. The state tax commission shall have the authority to collect the emergency income tax herein provided in the same manner as the regular income tax levied as provided by Division I, Chapter 422, Code, 1946, is collected, and it shall have the authority to combine the regular and the emergency income tax levies under a single return form in such manner that both the emergency and the regular levy may be computed as a whole in the most efficient manner; but all proceeds from the emergency levy shall be segregated and shall be credited by the state treasurer to the general fund of the state as rapidly as they shall be received.

Sec. 11. If any section, subsection, clause, sentence or phrase of this Act or the application thereof to any person or set of circumstances is for any reason held unconstitutional or invalid, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Act or its application to any other person or circumstances. The Legislature hereby declares that the provisions of this Act are severable, and that it would have passed this Act and each section, subsection, clause, sentence, or phrase thereof, irrespective of whether any one or more of the sections, subsections, clauses, sentences, or phrases be declared unconstitutional and irrespective of whether it be declared unconstitutional or invalid as applied to any person or set of circumstances.

Sec. 12. This act being deemed of immediate importance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and publication in the Oskaloosa Tribune, a newspaper published at Oskaloosa, Iowa, and the Newton Daily News, a newspaper published at Newton, Iowa.

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE AMENDMENT

On request of McFarlane of Black Hawk, unanimous consent having been given, Senate File 41, a bill for an act to impose a sales tax of five per cent (5%) upon all liquor sold by the Iowa state liquor stores, for the purpose of providing revenue for incorporated cities and towns of the state for police purposes; providing for the collection of such tax by the state liquor control commission and for the apportionment thereof to the cities and towns of the state; and amending section one hundred twenty-three point eighteen (123.18) and section one hundred twenty-three point fifty (123.50), Code 1946, with Senate amendment, was taken up and the amendment read and considered.

SENATE AMENDMENT TO THE HOUSE AMENDMENT TO SENATE FILE 41

1. Amend section one (1) of the House amendment to Senate File 41 to read as follows: "Section one hundred twenty-three point fifty (123.50), Code 1946, is hereby amended by adding the following: 'Effective March 1, 1947, the state treasurer shall semi-annually distribute a sum of money equal to eight per cent (8%) of the gross amount of sales made by the state liquor stores to the cities, towns and counties of the state in the manner hereinafter provided. Five-eighths ($\frac{5}{8}$) of such amount shall be distributed to the cities and towns of the state in proportion to the population that each incorporated city and town bears to the total population of all incorporated cities and towns of the state as computed by the latest federal census, and three-eighths ($\frac{3}{8}$) of such amount shall be distributed to the counties of the state in proportion to the population that each county bears to the total population of all counties in the state as reported by the latest federal census. Such apportionment shall be made semi-annually as of July 1 and January 1 of each year. Warrants for the same shall be issued by the state comptroller upon certification of the state treasurer and mailed to the city clerk of each incorporated city and town of the state or county treasurer of each county and shall be made payable to such incorporated city, town or county and shall be subject to expenditure under the direction of the city council, board of supervisors or other governing bodies of such incorporated city, town or county for any lawful municipal or county purpose.'"

2. Further amend the amendment adopted by the House to Senate File 41 by striking all after the word "act" in line 40 of said House amendment and all of lines 41 and 42 and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "distributing a sum of money equal to eight per cent (8%) of the gross amount of sales made by the state liquor stores, to cities, towns and counties."

Motion prevailed and the President Pro Tempore appointed as a committee: Senator Bekman, Senator Faul and Representative Robinson.

The committee escorted Mr. Weaver to the Speaker's station.

Schwengel of Scott addressed the Joint Convention as follows:

MR. SPEAKER, MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE, MEMBERS OF THE SENATE AND GUESTS:

I address you in humility because I sincerely believe no one can do justice to Lincoln in words. The greatest compliment that can be paid him is an exemplification of what he stood for.

I feel that I should explain my appearing on the program at this time. It was the intention of the senior gentleman from Scott and myself to bring before this House body the Honorable Judge Bollinger of Davenport, a life student of Lincoln, and who in his lifetime has made a collection of Lincoln books, valued conservatively at $60,000. He has provided in his will that at his death this collection become the property of Iowa, with the University of Iowa as custodian. In his inability to be here today I speak as a compliment to him, using Lincoln as a subject.

Forty-seven years ago today that great and eminent author, Edwin Markham, uttered these words at the occasion of a Republican meeting at the Del Monica Club in New York City:

LINCOLN, THE MAN OF THE PEOPLE

When the Norn-Mother saw the Whirlwind Hour, Greatening and darkening as it hurried on,
She bent the strenuous Heavens and came down
To make a man to meet the mortal need.
She took the tried clay of the common road—
Clay warm yet with the genial heat of Earth,
Dashed through it all a strain of prophecy;
Then mixed a laughter with the serious stuff.
It was a stuff to wear for centuries,

A man that matched the mountains, and compelled
The stars to look our way and honor us.

The color of the ground was in him, the red earth;
The tang and odor of the primal things—
The rectitude and patience of the rocks;
The gladness of the wind that shakes the corn;
The courage of the bird that dares the sea;
The justice of the rain that loves all leaves;
The pity of the snow that hides all scars;
The loving-kindness of the wayside well;
The tolerance and equity of light
That gives as freely to the shrinking weed
As to the great oak flaring to the wind—
To the grave's low hill as to the Matterhorn
That shoulders out the sky.

And so he came.

From prairie cabin up to Capitol,
One fair Ideal led our chieftain on.
Forevermore he burned to do his deed
With the fine stroke and gesture of a king.
He built the rail-pile as he built the State,
Pouring his splendid strength through every blow,
The conscience of him testing every stroke,
To make his deed the measure of a man.

So came the Captain with the mighty heart:
And when the step of Earthquake shook the house,
Wrenching the rafters from their ancient hold,
He held the ridgepole up, and spiked again
The rafters of the Home. He held his place—
Held the long purpose like a growing tree—
Held on through blame and faltered not at praise.
And when he fell in whirlwind, he went down
As when a kingly cedar green with boughs
Goes down with a great shout upon the hills,
And leaves a lonesome place against the sky.

Senator Bekman introduced to the Joint Convention, Mr. Chauncey A. Weaver who addressed the Joint Convention as follows:

The poet Wordsworth once said of the organ-voiced Milton, who had preceded him a century before,

"Thy soul was like a star, and dwelt apart!"

We are concerned at this hour with a star of first magnitude in the over-arching sky of American history. Although we have been gazing at this luminary for quite awhile, the fascination of its pure white light remains unbroken. Its isolation is still impressive; its mystery profound.

Surely, once a year is not too often to meet together where from some altitude of retrospection we may renew the contemplation thereof.

It is one hundred and thirty-eight years ago today that Abraham Lincoln was born. Amid surroundings as lowly as those into which the Son of God was ushered, this Child of Destiny came. The father, an uncouth and unlettered Kentucky backwoodsman, placed the newborn babe upon its mother's breast—that mother of whom it has been said:

"Dim as the dream of a shifting mirage, her face and figure waver through the mists of time and rumor."

"They buried her there, in the forest gloom;
Mourned her a space, then stolidly moved on,
And left the winds to strew her lonely tomb,
With withered leaves, and drifting snow, anon;
But sleeping there, perhaps—perhaps she knew,
When all her mother dreams at last came true!"

On that day the Republic had seen less than a third of a century of national existence. Its population was under nine million people. The administration of President Thomas Jefferson was just reaching its twilight hour. Daniel Webster, whose trumpet-tongue would one day expound the Constitution and proclaim its majesty as fundamental law at the bar of public opinion, was only twenty-eight years old. Henry Clay, who sought to stem the rising tide of anti-slavery sentiment and guide its gathering forces into the quieter channels of compromise, by the magic wand of his wonderful eloquence, was thirty-two.

In that vast arena, part settlement and part wilderness, which would eventually witness the mighty drama of coming years, could human imagination paint a more pathetic picture of obscurity and desolation than that log cabin among the vales of Kentucky, where the infant child of Thomas and Nancy Lincoln first blinked its wondering eyes against the light of day?

Are you people interested in the study of contrasts? Then compare the early boyhood of Abraham Lincoln with that of the youth of today. So far as known he never owned a sled, or a ball and bat, or a pair of skates, or a bicycle. In fact, for little Abe, there was not even a school—except the school of poverty and privation.

But, "Sweet are the uses of adversity, which, like the toad, ugly and venomous, wears yet a precious jewel in his head. And this our life, exempt from public haunt, finds tongues in trees, books in the running brooks, sermons in stones, and good in everything."

From such a university did our hero emerge, with a degree from whose parchment the ink was to never fade.

Growing up amid forest solitudes, in a region where culture was unknown, suddenly a shadow fell across his pathway which never quite lifted. His mother passed away. His sorrow seemed almost unbearable. Then came a period of loneliness which remained unbroken until a step-mother arrived at that crude and desolate home. And she left this testimony:

"He never gave me a cross or hesitating word or look. His mind and mine, what little I had, ran together. He was the best boy that ever lived."

By slow and tedious steps the young lad mastered the alphabet and learned to read. With less than six months all told inside a school house there was awakened within him an insatiable appetite for books. One of his biographers records:

"The books at home exhausted, he ranged the countryside in search of more—an intellectual prowler for the sustenance of the printed page."

Few volumes came to gladden his lonely hours but he mastered those which reached his hands. The Bible, that incomparable wellspring of purest English diction, Weems' "Life of Washington," Bunyan's "Pilgrim Progress," one lone law book and, after awhile, a volume of Shakespeare—these laid the foundation of that style of composition and public speaking which later on was to produce the Second Inaugural Address and the immortal utterance at the field of Gettysburg.

Measured in the light of how he struggled, of what he did, and what he became, how easy it is to linger over every page of that strange and haunting story. Little did I realize the magnitude of the task assumed when cheerfully agreeing to the eminently appropriate suggestion of a thirty minute limitation for this address.

Can you pour the ocean into your drinking cup? Can you empty the skies of their azure blue into the hollow of your hand? Can you encompass the serene and lofty heights or the abysmal depths of this gigantic personality through the medium of an after-dinner panegyric?

Let us be content if in this hour of historic memory we may but touch the garment-hem of Abraham Lincoln's greatness.

The boy grew up to man's estate, as boys will do. How tall he was—six feet and four! His physical stature seemed to symbolize the loftiness of his figure in the councils of the nation in later days, so that men said of him:

"His seer-like vision could look beyond the smoke and dust of present conflict into a future bright, honorable and free. His head was so near the stars it sometimes seemed as though he were listening to the music of the Choir Invisible!"

Boys not only grow up but their next step is usually to leave home. Such a day came to young Lincoln. There was never much of sympathetic comradeship between the father and son; but he hated to leave his step-mother, of whom he never failed to speak words of affection and gratitude. But while splitting rails by day, or brooding beneath the stars at night, or trying between times to absorb and assimilate the message of an occasional book, he felt a quickening of impulse to wander out into the illimitable fields of the unknown. As Beveridge records it:

"And so he drifted across and down the Ohio to a landing place on the Indiana bank, like a piece of human flotsam thrown forward by the surging tide of immigration, the black and prodigious depths of a mighty woods before him."

Passing over that transitory period in southern Indiana we now follow Lincoln to the land of new adventures. What a commonplace preparation for a career which was to challenge the wonder of mankind!

First a helper in a crossroads country grocery store at Salem; later operator of a ferry-boat; at quite regular intervals a referee in wrestling matches; finally a Captain in the Black Hawk Indian war—yet all the while intensely interested in everything that was going on about him, and eagerly absorbing all that he heard from afar. Then blossomed the long cherished purpose to study law. Admitted to the bar he removed to Springfield where the unfolding of that remarkable career began. From one circuit court to another he traveled—a character so grotesque in appearance that the frivolous never failed to laugh; and yet, there was something in the mind and heart of that awkward and ungainly figure that attracted thinking men and women, and caused them to listen and to reflect, and to say to one another, “He may be heard from some day.”

To appreciate Lincoln as a lawyer we must view him from the standpoint of his own times. The country was new. The west was in the early stages of development. Railroads were just beginning to appear. Education was at a low ebb. College graduates were few. Law office libraries with one hundred volumes on the shelves in a country town were extremely rare. Lincoln was thoroughly versed in everything he had read but in the nature of things his range of legal reading had not been extensive. He did know the book of human nature and this power of analysis stood him in good hand as a jury trial lawyer in the country circuit courts of Illinois. The records show that in the trial courts he won more cases than he lost, but in the appellate courts his success was not phenomenal. The record is that in the supreme court of Illinois he argued one hundred and seventy-five cases. He was successful in ninety-six and a loser in seventy-nine. A singular feature of his practice was that he seldom appeared for the plaintiff; he was at his best on the defensive side of a lawsuit.

Another notable characteristic was the fact that Lincoln was one of the poorest chargers known to the legal profession of that day. “You must think I am a high-priced man,” he once wrote to a client who had sent him a fee of twenty-five dollars. “You are too liberal with your money. Fifteen dollars is enough for the job. I herewith return to you a ten dollar bill.”

An idiosyncrasy for which the present day generation of lawyers is not particularly noted.

There is one story in connection with Lincoln’s career at the bar which I cannot forego narrating as it is so illustrative of the inborn character of the man.

This story involves the case of McCormick v. Manny, et al., and is known as the “Reaper Case.” The name of McCormick, in connection with the manufacture of harvesting machinery was just commencing to attract wide public attention—especially through the grain growing area of the west. The McCormicks had invented their machine and had moved to Chicago as a place of more advantageous exploitation. John Manny of Rockford, Illinois, a rival manufacturer, was sued by McCormick for infringement of patent. Manny was joined in defense by several manufacturers in the east who were bent upon putting Mc-Cormick out of business, or at least breaking the monopoly of the harvester trade which he was rapidly acquiring. It was expected the case would be tried in Chicago. The best lawyers in the country were retained. The defense believed it wise to have a country lawyer from Illinois as co-counsel and accordingly A. Lincoln of Springfield was retained. Lincoln made preparation. A change of venue was secured and the cause remanded to Cincinnati for trial. Lincoln arrived at Cincinnati when the case was assigned. Appearing as head counsel for the defense was Edwin M. Stanton. As we would say in these modern times, Stanton gave Lincoln "the once over" and never looked at, or spoke to, him during the engagement. Lincoln had prepared himself to argue upon the merits but he was not so much as asked to sit at the counsel table.

But Lincoln remained in the court room. He took copious notes. He was an intent listener. When the trial had ended the country lawyer wended his lonely way back to Springfield. Not one word of confessed humiliation or chagrin escaped his lips. He simply said to those who condescended to speak to him, "I'm going home to study law! I'm going home to study law!"

You members of the bar, how would you have met a rebuff of that kind? I almost tremble to think what I would have done! What did Abraham Lincoln do when the opportunity came to even up that Cincinnati score? Ten years had rolled by—a decade in which the long gathering forces of an irrepressible conflict had met with impact so challenging that the prairies of the west were on fire; the north had said to the south the guns of Sumter have sounded the death knell of your cherished institution; and the voice of freedom, speaking through the Republican party of that day, had turned from Seward and from Sumner and from Chase, and selected Abraham Lincoln of Springfield, Illinois, as a standard-bearer. He had vanquished Douglass in the most memorable series of debates known to the annals of forensic conquest and from farthest east to farthest west was heard the cry, "Lincoln, the man of the hour!"

And to the national capital Abraham Lincoln came! He was the chief magistrate of a nation whose perpetuity was threatened. The hideous leer of treason could be seen within the very halls of state. The serpent hiss of secession had poisoned the Potomac atmosphere. Amid such surroundings he must choose a cabinet. What an hour for one exultant with the consciousness of official power! He scanned the horizon in his search for men. Did he say, Now is the time to punish enemies? Now is the time to reward my friends? He said nothing of the kind. Amid the encircling gloom of oncoming civil war he discerned the figure of Edward M. Stanton, the distinguished lawyer who had spurned him during the trial of the McCormick case at Cincinnati, and he beckoned him to come. "You are to be my attorney general," said he. And Stanton came. Four years later, Stanton stood by Lincoln's side as he breathed his last—the victim of treason's climacteric assassination—and said, "Now he belongs to the ages!"

How wondrously true thy words, O Galileean, "He that exalteth himself shall be abased; but he that humbleth himself shall be exalted!"

The election of Lincoln to the presidency brought him to the seat of national government where he was to become a central figure in the most stormy and tempestuous period the Republic had ever known.

On April 12, 1861, the booming of Confederate guns at Sumter was a signal that the period of compromise had passed and that civil war was at hand.

Anxious and wearisome weeks and months went by. Things were going wrong on the field of battle. Incompetent commanders were being replaced with other untried men. Northern copperheads were proclaiming the doctrine of distrust, giving aid and comfort to the enemy, and predicting ultimate defeat for the union forces. The daily and weekly press were finding fault with Grant—to Lincoln's mind the most hopeful and reassuring figure on the armed horizon. Cabinet officers were bickering among themselves and constantly finding fault with their executive head.

Professional grafters and parasitic profiteers were sucking the nation's very life blood. Horace Greeley, of the New York Tribune, arch-oracle of human freedom in ante-bellum days, became panic stricken with the firing of the first gun, and looking out over the seceding states, sweetly counseled in his editorial columns, "Let the erring sisters go in peace!"

It was no time for a weakling in the White House. In this seething cauldron of national bewilderment and semi-despair, stood Lincoln—

As some tall cliff that lifts its awful form,
Swells from the vale, and midway leaves the storm;
Though round its breast the rolling clouds are spread,
Eternal sunshine settles on its head.

Dark was the year of 1861; darker was 1862; and darkest was 1863. But after Chancellorsville came Gettysburg; and after Gettysburg came the triumphant Siege of Vicksburg, and the Battle of the Wilderness, Chickamauga, Lookout Mountain, Atlanta and the March to the Sea.

Then came Appomattox, the surrender of Lee and peace.

Four years before, Abraham Lincoln had stood upon the front porch of the White House and uttered these prophetic words:

"The mystic chords of memory, stretching from every battlefield and patriot's grave to every living heart and hearthstone in this broad land, grandly swell the chorus of the union, when touched, as surely as they will be, by the better angels of our nature."

And now a grateful nation exalted him a second time to be their chief magistrate. Again he stood upon that White House porch. Amid the receding shadows of those four years in which he had made vicarious sacrifice as a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief, he looked out over a war-smitten nation—including a vanquished confederacy, and said:

"With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right; let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to bind up the nation's wounds, to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow, and his orphan—to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves, and with all nations."

One year, one month and eleven days from that hour, Abraham Lincoln was dead. A nation benumbed with sorrow, and eyes wet with tears, carried him back to his Springfield, Illinois, home, where the prairie winds might chant his eternal requiem.

There was an incident in the closing days of Lincoln's life which some of his biographers have overlooked. To my mind it is one of the key-notes to the mysterious nature of the man.

The Civil war had terminated in victory for the North. But the passions generated by conflict had not burned themselves out. There were still forebodings which seemed to temper the joys of peace.

Lincoln was seated in his White House office chair. Senators, congressmen, cabinet members, politicians of high, mediocre and low degree, were coursing their way through the room—anxious to reach the presidential ear with affairs of state and problems purely personal. In such a stage setting, Lincoln reached to a bookshelf and took down a volume of Shakespeare. Turning to Macbeth he read the following lines aloud to the impatient multitude:

Duncan is in his grave;
 After life's fitful fever he sleeps well;
 Treason has done his worst; nor steel, nor poison,
 Malice domestic, foreign levy, nothing,
 Can touch him further.

Out of the profundities of his nature—was this an uncanny premonition of the fate which was to overtake him?

Within thirty days after this White House episode—Abraham Lincoln was dead.

More than thirty years ago we heard Bishop Charles H. Fowler of Buffalo, N. Y., deliver his great platform masterpiece on Abraham Lincoln. I shall never forget his opening sentences and the classification of world leadership which he gave. He said:

"Mankind will never forget Abraham, or Moses, or Leonidas, or Cincinnatus, or Pericles, or Paul, or Richelieu, or Cromwell, or Washington.

"Mankind will never forget the hero we add to their little company—Abraham Lincoln, who had the faith of Abraham, the leadership of Moses, the courage of Leonidas, the contentment of Cincinnatus, the statesmanship of Pericles, the massive intellectual force of St. Paul, the political sagacity of Richelieu, the moral integrity of Cromwell and the patriotism of Washington."

And so, my friends, I present for your earnest consideration and study, the life story of Abraham Lincoln, Prophet of God, who, though born in obscurity, came by divine appointment to do a great work, and who lighted and placed a torch on the ramparts of human freedom which the centuries cannot quench.

Abraham Lincoln—

"A blend of mirth and sadness, smiles and tears;
 A quaint 'knight errant' of the Pioneers;

A homely hero born of star and sod;
A peasant prince; a masterpiece of God."

My fellow-citizens:

It is quite possible that the matters and things herein reviewed have come to most of you with the familiarity of a thrice told tale.

Since that tragic hour when his name was inscribed in the annals of martyrdom, every word, deed and fragment of his strange career have been subjected to the most exacting scrutiny. Biographers have explored every known trail. That which was hidden has been revealed. The man he was and the part he played in the great drama of his time have become the treasured lore of a common American firside.

All of which leads us to conclude with the observation of another:

"There is no new thing to be said of Lincoln. There is no new thing to be said of the mountains, or of the sea, or of the stars. The years go their way but the same old mountains lift their granite shoulders above the drifting clouds; the same mysterious sea beats upon the shore, and the same silent stars keep holy vigil above a troubled world. But to mountains, sea and stars men turn forever in unwearied homage."

"And thus with Lincoln. For he was mountain in grandeur of soul; he was sea in deep undertone of mystic loneliness; he was star in steadfast purity of purpose and sacrificial service.

"And he abides."

Senator Bekman expressed his gratitude and appreciation to Mr. Weaver for appearing before the Joint Convention.

On motion by Senator Elthon the Joint Convention was dissolved.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

The following message was received from the Senate:

MR. SPEAKER: I am directed to inform your honorable body that the Senate has passed the following bill in which the concurrence of the House is asked:

Senate File 213, a bill for an act to provide for the formation of associations to purchase or build and own residential business and commercial properties upon a co-operative basis.

W. J. SCARBOROUGH, Secretary.

SENATE MESSAGE CONSIDERED

Senate File 213, a bill for an act to provide for the formation of associations to purchase or build and own residential, business and commercial properties upon a co-operative basis. To provide for articles of co-operation of such associations and to establish the powers, duties and liabilities of the association and the members thereof.

Read first time and referred to committee on private corporations.

HOUSE FILE 197 WITHDRAWN

Smith of Clayton asked and obtained unanimous consent to withdraw House File 197 from further consideration of the House.

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE AMENDMENT

On request of Sloane of Polk, unanimous consent having been given, House File 34, a bill for an act to amend section three hundred forty-one point seven (341.7), Code 1946, relating to the employment of temporary assistance for the county attorney, with Senate amendment, was taken up and the amendment read and considered.

SENATE AMENDMENT TO HOUSE FILE 34

1. Amend House File 34 by striking all after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. Section three hundred forty-one point seven (341.7), Code

1946, is hereby amended by adding to said section the following: "The compensation allowed to any such assistants shall be paid out of the court fund of the county."

2. Further amend House File 34 by striking from line three (3) of the title the words "assistance for" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "assistants to".

Sloane of Polk moved that the House concur in the Senate amendment.

Motion prevailed and the House concurred in the Senate amendment to House File 34.

Sloane of Polk moved that the bill be read a last time now and placed upon its passage, which motion prevailed, and the bill was read a last time.

Olson of Mitchell and Poston of Wayne offered the following House Resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

HOUSE RESOLUTION 6

Whereas, the temporary lighting system installed in the House chamber has demonstrated that improvement can be made in the lighting of the House chamber, and

Whereas, it has been disclosed that a very effective system has been installed in the House of Representatives in the State Capitol of South Dakota, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives: That the secretary of the executive council and the acting State House custodian be requested to visit the capital of South Dakota for an inspection and survey of the lighting system recently installed in the State Capitol and make a report to the House of Representatives by March 10, 1947, the actual expenses involved to be paid out of the legislative miscellaneous expense fund.

Olson of Mitchell moved its adoption.

Motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

Smith of Clayton offered the following House Memorial Resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

HOUSE MEMORIAL RESOLUTION

Whereas, The Honorable J. G. Hempel of Clayton County, who was a member of the Fortieth, Forty-first, Forty-second and Forty-second Extra sessions of the General Assembly, passed away on October 2, 1945; therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Fifty-second General Assembly: That a committee of three be appointed to draft suitable resolutions commemorating his life, character, and service to the state.

Smith of Clayton moved its adoption.

Motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

The Speaker appointed the following committee to draft suitable resolutions: Smith of Clayton, Langland of Winneshiek and Pieper of Allamakee.

RULING OF THE SPEAKER

The Chair desires to correct and reverse a ruling made February 13th on a motion by Long of Clinton that the Committee on Labor be granted fifteen additional days for the consideration of House Files 124, 127, 131, 134 and 139. A further study of the rules discloses that an error was made in ruling that such a motion required a two-thirds vote. Rule 56 reads as follows: "no committee shall retain possession of any bill longer than eighteen legislative days, except by consent of the House." Manifestly such consent can be given by a mere majority of those voting, unless otherwise specified by the rules.

Roberts' Rules of Order which is the statutory parliamentary authority of the General Assembly, provides that any motion other than special motions listed by this authority, requires only a majority of those voting for adoption unless the rules provide otherwise. A Senate rule specifically fixes the votes required to withdraw a bill from a committee.

Rule 48 provides that any bill may be recommitted at any time before its passage. Hence, if additional time for committee consideration is refused by reason of failure to secure two-thirds majority and the bill is consequently placed on the calendar, a bare majority could again recommit it.

The Chair is pleased to correct the prior ruling and now declares the motion to have prevailed and the committee is given the additional time provided in the motion.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER

Weichman of Benton moved to reconsider the vote by which the motion of Long of Clinton, to grant fifteen additional days for public hearings on House Files 124, 127, 131, 134 and 139, passed the House.

On the question "Shall the vote be reconsidered?"

Rule 18 was invoked requiring all members present to vote.

BILL SIGNED BY THE GOVERNOR

A communication was received from the Governor announcing he had approved the following bill: February 19, 1947, House File 34.

AMENDMENTS FILED

Amend House File 216 by striking all of the first paragraph beginning with the word "WHEREAS" following the title and striking all of the second paragraph beginning with "WHEREAS" following the title down to the enacting clause, with the exception of the last two words "Now, Therefore", and substituting the following:

"WHEREAS, pursuant to notice a special election was held on October 2, 1946, on the question of establishing within Benton County, Iowa, a school district designated the "Consolidated Independent School District of Vinton, Benton County, Iowa", and more than a majority of the votes cast at said election were in favor of establishment of said school district and thereafter pursuant to an election the board of directors for said school district was organized on October 29, 1946; and

"WHEREAS, thereafter at an election held within said school district on December 19, 1946, more than sixty per cent of the votes cast on the proposition were in favor of the issuance of bonds of said school district, and in reliance upon said election said board of directors by resolution authorized and provided for the issuance of school building bonds of said school district in the principal amount of three hundred fifty thousand dollars ($350,000) and for the levy of taxes to pay said bonds including interest thereon; and

"WHEREAS, doubts have arisen concerning the validity and legal sufficiency of the proceedings relating to the organization of said school district, the proceedings and provisions made for the issuance of said bonds and for the payment of same, and it is deemed advisable to put said doubts and all others that might arise concerning same forever at rest;"

Further amend by striking all of section one (1) and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. That all proceedings relating to the organization of said school district, known as the Consolidated Independent School District of Vinton, in the county of Benton, state of Iowa, and all proceedings heretofore taken by the board of directors thereof authorizing and providing for the issuance, sale and delivery of school building bonds by said school district and providing for the levy and collection of annual taxes to pay the interest on and principal of said bonds, are hereby legalized, validated and confirmed and said school building bonds issued, sold and delivered pursuant to and in accordance with said proceedings are hereby declared to be legal and to constitute valid and binding obligations of said school district."

ceedings" in line one (1) thereof and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

"relating to the organization of the Consolidated Independent School District of Vinton, in the county of Benton, state of Iowa, the proceedings authorizing and providing for the issuance, sale and delivery of school building bonds by said school district and the provisions made for the payment of said bonds and declaring bonds issued pursuant to said proceedings to be enforceable obligations of said school district."

REPORT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON SENATE FILE 41

MR. PRESIDENT and MR. SPEAKER:

We, the undersigned members of the Conference Committee appointed on Senate File 41, make the following recommendations:

That Senate File 41 be amended by striking all after the enacting clause and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. Section one hundred twenty-three point fifty (123.50) Code 1946 is hereby amended by adding the following:

'Effective March 15, 1947, the state treasurer shall semi-annually distribute, a sum of money equal to five per cent (5%) of the gross amount of sales made by the state liquor stores, to the cities and towns of the state in the manner hereinafter provided. Such amount shall be distributed to the cities and towns of the state in proportion to the population that each incorporated city or town bears to the total population of all incorporated cities and towns of the state as computed by the latest federal census. Such apportionment shall be made semi-annually as of July 1 and January 1 of each year. Warrants for the same shall be issued by the state comptroller upon certification of the state treasurer and mailed to the city clerk of each incorporated city and town of the state and shall be made payable to such incorporated city or town and shall be subject to expenditure under the direction of the city council or other governing bodies of such incorporated city or town for any lawful municipal purpose.'

Sec. 2. In any case where a city or town has been incorporated since the last federal census, the mayor and council shall certify to the state treasurer the actual population of such incorporated city or town as of date of incorporation and its apportionment of funds under this act shall be based upon such certification until the next federal census enumeration. Any community which has dissolved its corporation shall not receive any apportionment of funds under this act for any period after said corporation has been dissolved.

Sec. 3. Effective as of March 15, 1947, the state treasurer shall credit to a military service tax fund hereby created a sum of money equal to five per cent (5%) of the gross amount of sales made by the state liquor stores in the cities and towns of the state. Any amount thus credited shall be allocated to the various taxing districts of the state as reimbursement for losses of revenue due to exemption or remission of property taxes which would be imposed upon property upon which soldiers' exemptions or soldiers' tax credits are provided under such terms as the general assembly may provide.

Sec. 4. This act shall apply to cities under special charter.

Sec. 5. This act being deemed of immediate importance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and publication in the Page County Herald-Journal, a newspaper published at Clarinda, Iowa, and the Madrid Register-News, a newspaper published at Madrid, Iowa."

Further amend Senate File 41 by striking out all of the title and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "An Act distributing a sum of money equal to five per cent (5%) of the gross amount of sales made by the state liquor stores to cities and towns and a sum of money equal to five per cent (5%) of the gross amount of sales made by the state liquor stores for the relief of taxing districts from losses in revenues due to the granting of soldiers' exemptions or tax credits; and establishing a military service tax credit fund based upon sales made by state liquor stores.

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the House and the title as amended was agreed to.

Smith of Des Moines asked and obtained unanimous consent to take up House File 233 ahead of its place on the calendar.

House File 233, a bill for an act to provide emergency housing for veterans of World War II and their immediate families; to define "veteran of World War II" and "immediate family"; to authorize any city of the first class under commission form of government to acquire real property and improvements thereon provided by the federal government or any agency or instrumentality thereof for housing facilities for employees of an ordnance plant and offered for sale; to provide that no part of the purchase price, or interest thereon, shall be paid from tax revenue; to provide for payments in lieu of taxes through agreement with county board of supervisors and local school districts; to provide for administration, management, control and disposition of any such property which may be acquired, with report of committee recommending passage, was taken up for consideration.

Smith of Des Moines moved that the amendment proposed by him be adopted.

Amend House File 233 by inserting a period (.) after the word "years" in line 7 of section 5, and striking the words in lines 8 and 9 as follows: "and who are not interested directly in the business of purchase, sale, or rental of real estate."

Further amend by striking the word "prepared" in line 19 of section 5, and inserting in lieu thereof the word "preferred".

Amendment adopted.

Smith of Des Moines offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

1. Amend House File 233 by striking the following words from line 27 of section 5: "have the power to".

2. Also amend section 5, line 31, by adding the following sentence after the word "district": "In order to obtain a basis for such amounts, real property with the improvements thereon belonging to said authority shall be assessed at the times when the values of all other property in such city are determined, in the manner provided by law and the amounts in lieu of taxes shall in no case be less than would have been paid had the tax rates of such city been applied."

Amendment adopted.

Smith of Des Moines moved that the bill be read a last time now and placed upon its passage, which motion prevailed, and the bill was read a last time.

INTRODUCTION OF HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION

House Joint Resolution 7, by McFarlane of Black Hawk, Schwengel of Scott, Nelson of Woodbury, Hedin of Scott, Sloane of Polk, Burkman of Polk, Kosek of Linn, Knickerbocker of Linn, Van Eaton of Woodbury, Tesmer of Black Hawk, Nielsen of Pottawattamie, McEleney of Clinton, Long of Clinton, Smith of Des Moines, Brown of Mahaska, Utzig of Dubuque, Duffy of Dubuque, Troeger of Wapello, Lawrence of Wapello, Walter of Pottawattamie and Nicholas of Cerro Gordo, proposing to repeal and reenact a substitute for section thirty-five (35) of Article three (III) of the Constitution of the state of Iowa, as said section was adopted by vote of the people in 1904, relating to representation in the House of Representatives.

Whereas, it is a fundamental concept of democratic government that the people are entitled to representation proportionate to population, and,

Whereas, the people of the state of Iowa are deserving of and entitled to such proportionate representation, and,

Whereas, there has been no reapportionment of the House of Representatives since 1904, and,

Whereas, at the present time persons representing but one-third of the population of the state of Iowa can control the House of Representatives by majority vote, and,

Whereas, a situation is thus created whereby the will of a minority is forced upon the people of the state of Iowa, and,

Whereas, it lies within the province of the General Assembly to correct this inequality and injustice by submitting the matter to a vote of the people, now, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

Section 1. Section thirty-five (35) of Article three (III) of the Constitution of the state of Iowa is repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

"The House of Representatives shall consist of not more than one hundred and thirty members, but each county shall constitute one representative district and be entitled to one representative; however, the county having the greatest population, as shown by the last preceding federal census, shall be entitled to four additional representatives, the five counties having the next greatest population shall be entitled to three additional representatives each, the four counties having the next greatest population shall be entitled to two additional representatives each and the four counties having the next greatest population shall be entitled to one additional representative each."

Amend House File 125 by striking all after the enacting clause and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

Section 1. Section six hundred point one (600.1), Code 1946, is hereby repealed and the following is substituted therefor: "No person may assign, relinquish or otherwise transfer to another his rights and duties with respect to the permanent care or custody of a minor child, and no person, other than the parent of the child, may assume the permanent care and custody of a minor child except in accordance with the provisions of this act or chapter two hundred thirty-eight (238), Code 1946. Any person of lawful age may petition the district court, or any court of record, in the county in which the petitioner resides or where the person having legal custody of the child resides for permission to adopt any child not his own. If the petitioner be married, the spouse shall join in the petition unless said spouse is natural parent of the child to be adopted in which case only the spouse's written consent is required. The relationship between a natural parent married to the petitioner (in adoption by a step-parent) shall remain unchanged by adoption. A person of full age may be adopted, but only such provisions contained in this act shall apply to adult adoptions as the district court, or any court of record, shall order.

The petition shall be filed in triplicate and shall contain the following information:

"1. The name, age, race, place of residence and religious faith of the petitioner or petitioners, and if married, the place and date of their marriage, and whether they are living together as husband and wife.

2. The sex, exact name, race, date and place of birth if known, or, if unknown, the approximate age and place of birth, and the domicile or place of residence of the child to be adopted.

3. The religious faith of the child and his parents as nearly as the same can be ascertained.

4. A full description of the property, if any, of the child.

5. The new name to be given the child, if change of name is desired.

6. The name and place of residence, if known to the petitioner or petitioners, of the parent or parents of the child, or if the child be an orphan, of its guardian, or if there be no guardian, of the nearest kin of such child, or the agency to which such child has been permanently committed, and whether or not such agency is a licensed child placing agency as defined in Chapter two hundred thirty-eight (238), Code 1946.

7. The relationship, if any, of the child to the petitioner or petitioners.

8. The consents required by section three (3) hereof.

Sec. 2. Section six hundred point two (600.2), Code 1946, is hereby repealed and the following substituted therefor: "Upon the filing of a petition as provided in section one (1) hereof, except in cases of children under the jurisdiction of the Board of Control of State Institutions, the Clerk of the District Court, or any court of record, shall mail or deliver two copies of such petition and order forthwith to the investigating agency designated by the said court order.

The district court, or any court of record, shall require an investigation to be made regarding the qualifications and suitability of the petitioner or petitioners and of the child to be adopted, such investigation may be made by the State Board of Social Welfare but the said court may prescribe such investigation to be made by such suitable and qualified agency or agencies within the county of the residence of the petitioner or petitioners or by such suitable and qualified agency or agencies within the county of the residence of the petitioner or petitioners approved by the State Board of Social Welfare and such mode of service as may be deemed necessary in the setting of a time and place for hearing not less than thirty (30) days from the signing of said order. The said investigating agency, through its own agents or one of its licensed child placing agencies, shall make a complete investigation to verify the allegations of the petition and the consents to such adoptions; to investigate the conditions and antecedents of the child to ascertain whether he is a proper subject for adoption; to make appropriate inquiry to determine whether the proposed foster home is a suitable one for the child; and to otherwise establish the suitability of the proposed adoption. The investigation agency shall forward a copy of the investigation and its recommendations, in writing, to the court where the petition was filed, within thirty (30) days of the receipt of a copy of the petition or such time as the court may allow. The court may require such further report by the investigating agency as may be necessary.

If the child is not living in the proposed home, the court, after such investigation and upon application, may order the child placed in the home of the petitioner after such notice as may be prescribed by the court to the person or persons or organization with whom the child is residing and hearing upon such application.

No decree or order of court shall be made or entered upon a petition to adopt a child until a full and complete investigation by the investigating agency or its licensed agency has been made. The court may, within its discretion, when conditions are deemed advisable, require the said child to reside in the home of the petitioner or petitioners for a reasonable time before the entering of the final order of adoption and require, if necessary, a further investigation and report which may be considered at the final hearing for adoption.

Sec. 3. Section six hundred point three (600.3), Code 1946, is hereby repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof: "Consent as herein required, shall refer to and be applicable only to the specific adoption proposed by the petition. Written consent to the adoption, submitted with the petition, shall be required from:

- (a) The child, if fourteen (14) years of age or over, and also
- (b) Both the parents, unless one is dead, or unless the child has been released in accordance with the law on child placing, or unless a parent has lost parental rights through court action or by legal means. Before hearing may be held in adoption proceedings, proof shall be filed showing that parental rights have been terminated through proper legal action where living parents have lost such rights. Imprisonment involving loss of civil rights may not be construed as depriving a parent of parental rights. A divorce decree awarding the custody of a child shall not be construed as depriving a parent of parental rights.
- (c) The surviving parent, if one be dead, or only the mother of a child born out of wedlock, provided that consent of the father must also be obtained if paternity has been legally established.
- (d) The legal guardian of the person of the child to whom parental rights have been transferred by court action with authority to consent to adoption,
- (e) The child placing agency having the permanent care and custody of the child.

In all cases where consent is required such a consent shall be subscribed and sworn to before a person authorized to administer oaths. Minority of the parent shall not in and of itself be a bar to the right to consent to adoption nor invalidate such consent, provided, however, that except in cases of minor parents under the jurisdiction of the Board of Control of State Institutions, such consent must be approved in writing by the State Department of Social Welfare or one of its licensed agencies. When the child comes from outside the state, the report of the State Department of Social Welfare shall include sufficient information for the court to assure itself that consent has been legally secured."

Sec. 4. Section six hundred point four (600.4), Code 1946, is hereby repealed by striking the section and substituting the following in lieu thereof: "All hearings on adoption shall be private and conducted only in the presence of parties and their attorneys or representatives who are designated by order of court. Notice of such hearings shall be prescribed by the court."

Sec. 5. Section six hundred point seven (600.7), Code 1946, is hereby repealed, and the following enacted in lieu thereof: "If within five (5) years after an adoption, a child is found to be suffering from feeble-mindedness, epilepsy, insanity or venereal infection or an otherwise permanent and serious disability, as a result of conditions existing prior to the adoption, and of which the adopting parent or parents had no knowledge or notice, a petition setting forth such facts may be filed with the court in which the adoption proceedings were first considered. If upon hearing and after such notice as the court shall prescribe, the facts alleged are proven, the court may annul the adoption and refer the child to the Juvenile Court or take such other action as the case may require. In every such proceeding, it shall be the duty of the county attorney to represent the interests of the child."

Sec. 6. Section six hundred point eight (600.8), Code 1946, is amended by striking the words "a duplicate copy" and substituting therefor the words "two copies".

Sec. 7. Chapter six hundred (600), Code 1946, is amended by adding the following new sections:

"Section 600.10. Every person, excepting adopting parents or adopted child, who discloses any information contained in any adoption papers or proceedings except as may be authorized by order of court and every person who violates any of the provisions of this chapter or who intentionally shall make any false statements with reference to the matters contained herein, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished accordingly.

"Section 600.11. If any section, clause, sentence or phrase of this act is for any reason held unconstitutional or invalid, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act.

"Section 600.12. When the parents of any minor child are dead or have abandoned him, and he has no guardian in the state, the court may order such notice of hearing on such petition as he may determine.

"Section 600.13. The consent of both parents shall be given to such adoption unless one is dead, or is considered hopelessly insane, or is imprisoned for a felony, or is an inmate or keeper of a house of ill fame, or unless the parents are not married to each other, or unless the parent or parents have signed a release of the child in accordance with the statute on child placing, or unless one or both of the parents have been deprived of the custody of the child by judicial procedure because of unfitness to be its guardian."

Huston of Washington, from the committee on insurance, submitted the following report:

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee on insurance, to whom was referred House File 186, a bill for an act to provide for the qualification and licensing of insurance agents, begs leave to report they have had the same under consideration and have instructed me to report the same back to the House with the recommendation that the same be amended as follows, and when so amended the bill do pass:

Amend House File 186 by striking out all of the bill following the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Section 1. This act shall apply to all agents as may be defined herein.

Sec. 2. When used in this act:

1. The term "agent" means any individual, partnership, association or corporation who or which solicits, negotiates or effects in this state, on behalf of any insurer, contracts of insurance of any of the following kinds, namely: fire, marine, casualty, fidelity and surety.

2. The term "commissioner" means the Commissioner of Insurance of the state of Iowa.

3. The term "department" means the Insurance Department of the state of Iowa.

4. The terms "insurance company" and "insurer" shall include corporations, associations and companies writing fire, marine, casualty, indemnity, fidelity and surety insurance; and the words "insurance", "insurance policy" and "insurance contract" shall include contracts of indemnity, fidelity and surety.

Sec. 3. This act shall not apply to the following:

1. County mutual insurance associations or companies, organized under the laws of this state, or to their agents, representatives or employees, including those writing concurrent windstorm and hail insurance.

2. Life, accident and health companies and fraternal beneficiary societies, their agents, representatives and employees.

3. Employees engaged solely in office or clerical work for any company or agent.

4. Employees of insurers or of organizations employed by insurers, who are engaged in the inspection, rating or classification of risks or in the supervision of agents, and who are not engaged in the solicitation or writing of insurance except in conjunction with a licensed agent.

5. Officers of insurers or of associations of insurers engaged in the performance of executive duties and not in the solicitation or writing of insurance.

6. Policies or contracts of reinsurance.

7. Common carriers and their employees selling baggage or accident insurance tickets primarily for the purpose of covering risks of travel.

Sec. 4. No individual, partnership, association or corporation shall act as an agent within this state without first procuring a license from the commissioner. The application for a license by and the license issued to a partnership, association or corporation shall name the members and employees of such partnership or the officers and employees of such association or corporation who are designated to act for the applicant, and no license shall be issued to a partnership, association or corporation unless and until the persons named in the application therefor have qualified for individual licenses as hereafter provided.

Sec. 5. No agent shall, within this state, solicit, procure, receive or forward applications for insurance, or issue or deliver policies for, or in any manner aid in the placing of any contract of insurance, directly or indirectly, with any insurer not authorized to do business in this state.

Sec. 6. Upon compliance with the applicable provisions of this act, the commissioner shall issue a license to each applicant whose residence or principal place of business is in Iowa. Under such regulations and restrictions as may be deemed proper by the commissioner, a license may be issued to a nonresident agent who is licensed in the state in which he resides, upon payment of an annual fee of $10.00; provided that if, under the laws of the state of such agent's residence, an annual fee in excess of $10.00 is charged nonresident agents residing in this state, then such nonresident agent desiring a license in Iowa shall pay a like annual fee to this state. A license to a nonresident agent shall confer no right to countersign policies of insurance.

Sec. 7. Any individual, partnership, association or corporation hereafter desiring to engage in the insurance business in this state as agent shall make written application for a license to the commissioner on forms prescribed by him. Each applicant, including each member and employee of a partnership who is to act for such partnership, and each officer and employee of an association or corporation who is to act for such association or corporation, shall take an examination as herein-after provided and shall pay an examination fee of $10.00, which shall accompany the application. An application for a license shall be sworn to and shall include a certificate by an officer or a resident representative of an insurance company authorized to transact business in this state, stating that the applicant is of good business reputation and worthy of a license. Such application shall show:

1. The name, business address and legal residence of the applicant, and the name and address of the agency, if any, with which applicant will be connected.

2. Whether a license to applicant has at any time been issued or refused by the commissioner, or the corresponding officer in any state other than Iowa, and if issued, whether any such license has been suspended or revoked by the insurance department of any state.

3. The business in which the applicant has been engaged for five years next preceding the date of application, and if employed, the name and address of his employer.

4. Full information concerning the experience of the applicant or the instruction he has received in the kind or kinds of insurance business he proposes to transact.

5. That the license is being sought for the purpose of writing or placing insurance for the general public and not principally for the purpose of writing insurance on the applicant's own property or risks, or on the property or risks of one individual or on the property or risks of an individual, partnership, association or corporation of which the applicant is a member, officer or employee.

6. Such further information bearing upon applicant's qualifications as may be required by the commissioner.

Sec. 8. It shall be the duty of the commissioner, within a reasonable time after the filing in his office of an application for a license, and at a place reasonably accessible to the applicant, to subject each first-time individual applicant to a written examination for the purpose of determining his trustworthiness and competency to act as such agent. When it is shown from such application and examination that the applicant intends in good faith to act as an agent, is of good reputation, has had experience or training or is otherwise qualified to act as such agent, is a resident of or has his principal office for the conduct of insurance business in this state, is reasonably familiar with the insurance laws of this state and with the provisions and conditions of the kind or kinds of insurance contracts which he proposes to negotiate and place in effect, and is otherwise worthy of a license, the commissioner shall issue to such applicant a license to transact business in this state as an agent. Such license shall continue in force, unless revoked for cause by the commissioner, for such time as said agent is licensed by any authorized insurance company. If a license is issued to one or more members or employees designated by a partnership or one or more officers or employees designated by an association or corporation, or if any of such persons so designated hold a license on the effective date of this act, a license shall be issued to such partnership, association or corporation as the case may be. It shall be unlawful for any person other than the applicant to pay, directly or indirectly, the examination fee hereinabove required.

Sec. 9. Any person holding a license as agent may continue to act under such license and may secure renewal thereof, subject to the provisions of this act, without taking an examination as provided for in the preceding section.

Sec. 10. Any insurer licensed to do business in this state may appoint, as its agent or agents in this state, any person or persons who holds an unexpired agent's license issued prior to the effective date of this act, or a license issued under the provisions of this act. Such insurer shall file with the commissioner a requisition showing the names and addresses of such appointees and pay the required fee in connection therewith, which shall be, for each such appointment, 50c for domestic companies and $2.00 for foreign or alien companies. Such an appointment shall expire annually on the first day of July in each year and may be renewed in the manner and upon the payment of an annual license fee as hereinabove set forth. Appointments in force on the effective date of this act may be extended to July 1, 1948, and annually thereafter as hereinabove provided. If an insurer appoints as its agent a partnership, association or corporation, it may issue its requisition in the name of such partnership, association or corporation, provided one or more members, officers or employees of such partnership, association or corporation, as the case may be, holds an unexpired agent's license.

Sec. 11. In the event of the death or inability to act, of an agent holding a certificate of authority from an insurance company, where no other agent in the agency, partnership, association or corporation is authorized to represent such company, the commissioner may, upon application and without a written examination, issue a temporary license to another person authorizing such person to represent such company. Such temporary appointment shall continue until such appointee is afforded an opportunity of taking an examination as provided in section 8, but not to exceed six months.

Sec. 12. An insurer may pay money, commission or brokerage, or give or allow anything of value, for or on account of the solicitation or negotiation in this state of contracts of the kind or kinds enumerated in section 2 of this act on property or risks in this state only to its licensed agent.

An agent may pay money, commission or brokerage, or give or allow anything of value, for or on account of the solicitation or negotiation of contracts of the kind or kinds enumerated in section 2 of this act, on property or risks in this state, only to a licensed agent.

Sec. 13. A license may be denied or a license issued under this act may be revoked or the renewal thereof refused by the commissioner, if, after notice and hearing as hereinafter provided, he finds that the applicant for or holder of such license:

- (1) has violated the laws of this state in the course of his dealings as agent; or
- (2) has intentionally made a material misstatement in his application for a license; or
- (3) has obtained or attempted to obtain a license by fraud or misrepresentation; or
- (4) has been guilty of fraudulent or dishonest practices; or

(5) has misappropriated or converted to his own use or illegally withheld monies required to be held in a fiduciary capacity as agent; or

(6) has materially misrepresented the terms and conditions of contracts of insurance which he seeks to sell or has sold; or

(7) has failed to pass the examination required by this act; or

(8) has solicited, written or placed on property or risks located in this state contracts of insurance for or on behalf of an unlicensed or unauthorized insurance company or association; or

(9) has divided or offered to divide any portion of his commission except with another licensed agent; or

(10) has otherwise demonstrated incompetency to transact business as an insurance agent; or

(11) has, if agent is engaged in the business of making loans to the public on real or personal property, required the borrower to purchase insurance from any designated insurer, agent or broker as a condition to securing a loan or an extension or renewal thereof; or

(12) has induced an insured to replace a policy of insurance with another policy sold by said agent to the financial detriment of such insured.

Such hearing shall be held at such time and place as shall be designated in a notice in writing by the commissioner to the applicant or agent at least twenty (20) days before the date of hearing. Such notice shall state the specific charges against such agent. In the conduct of such hearing, the commissioner or any employee of the Department of Insurance designated by him for such purpose shall have power to administer oaths and require the production of books, records and documents relevant to the inquiry. Notice of a hearing or revocation or refusal of a license shall be served upon the applicant or agent by registered mail and service shall be complete when such notice is deposited in the United States mails, postage prepaid, addressed to the applicant or agent at his address as shown by the records in the commissioner's office. Within thirty (30) days after revocation or refusal of a license, the person aggrieved shall have the right to petition the District Court of Polk County, Iowa, to require the commissioner to show why a license should not be granted or reinstated as the case may be.

Sec. 14. No agent's license or appointment shall be continued or renewed unless during the year preceding the application or requisition for such continuance or renewal, the agent shall have written or placed a total volume of premiums on insurance for the general public, greater than the total volume of premiums which said agent shall have written or placed on his own property or risks, or on the property or risks of one individual, or on the property or risks of an individual, partnership, association or corporation of which the agent is a member, officer or employee. Under this act, insurance written or placed on personal property or risks in which an individual, partnership or corporation has an interest as conditional seller or mortgagee, and insurance written or placed on real estate or risks in which an incorporated mutual association which makes loans only to its members, has an interest as mortgagee, by an agent who or which is such individual, partnership, corporation or association or a member, officer or employee thereof, shall be considered insurance written or placed for the general public.

Sec. 15. Every agent licensed under this act shall keep a record of all contracts of insurance issued by him, which record shall describe the risk undertaken and set forth the premium paid or to be paid therefor.

Sec. 16. An agent shall be personally liable upon all contracts of insurance on property or risks in this state made by or through him, directly or indirectly, for or on behalf of an insurer which is not authorized to transact business in this state.

Sec. 17. No contract of insurance shall be invalidated by reason of having been written or placed in violation of the terms of this act.

Sec. 18. In addition to any other penalty provided herein, any agent, upon conviction of a violation of the provisions of this act, shall be fined not exceeding $500.00 for each separate offense.

Sec. 19. All statutory provisions in conflict with the terms of this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 20. If any section or part of this act shall be held unconstitutional, such invalidity shall not affect the remaining sections or parts thereof.

T. H. HUSTON, Chairman.

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the House and the title was agreed to.

House File 72, a bill for an act to provide for the assessment of the shares of stock of certain corporations organized under the laws of Iowa; imposing a tax upon the shares of stocks of such corporations, amending sections four hundred twenty-seven point one (427.1), and four hundred thirty-one point one (431.1), Code 1946, and repealing sections four hundred twenty-nine point eleven (429.11), four hundred twenty-nine point twelve (429.12), and four hundred twenty-nine point thirteen (429.13), Code 1946, with report of committee recommending passage, was taken up for consideration.

Donohue of Cedar moved that the following amendment proposed by him be adopted:

Amend House File 72 as follows:

1. Strike Section three (3) and substitute the following:

"Sec. 3. Section four hundred twenty-nine point eleven (429.11), Code 1946, is hereby amended by striking the comma (,) following the word 'loans' in line ten (10), and striking the words 'may take advantage of the provisions of this and Sections 429.12 and 429.13' from lines ten (10), eleven (11) and twelve (12); and striking the words 'by filing' in line thirteen (13), and substituting in lieu thereof the words 'shall file'."

2. Add as Section four (4) and Section five (5) the following:

"Sec. 4. Section four hundred twenty-nine point twelve (429.12), Code 1946, is hereby amended by striking therefrom lines five (5), six (6) and seven (7), and substituting in lieu thereof the following: 'for which he shall receive his actual expenses, including compensation per diem of his examiners. Such corporation shall also pay to the auditor an annual fee of $25.00.'

"Sec. 5. Section four hundred twenty-nine point thirteen (429.13), Code 1946, is hereby amended by adding a period (.) after the word 'effect' in line nine (9), and striking all of said section following said word 'effect' in said line nine (9)."

3. Amend the title to read as follows:

"An Act to provide for the assessment of the shares of stock of certain corporations organized under the laws of Iowa; imposing a tax upon the shares of stock of such corporations; amending Sections four hundred thirty-one point one (431.1), Code 1946; amending Section four hundred twenty-nine point eleven (429.11), Code 1946; amending Section four hundred twenty-nine point twelve (429.12), Code 1946, and amending Section four hundred twenty-nine point thirteen (429.13), Code 1946."

Amendment adopted.

Sloane of Polk moved that the following amendment proposed by McFarlane of Black Hawk be adopted:

Amend House File 72 by adding to section one (1) as follows: "Any corporation whose shares of stock are subject to assessment under this section shall be entitled to deduct from the actual value of such shares the actual value of shares owned by it in any other corporation subject to assessment under this section, upon submitting satisfactory proof to the assessor that such shares of stock have been assessed under the provisions of this section to the corporation issuing such shares of stock."

Amendment adopted.

Sloane of Polk moved that the bill be read a last time now and placed upon its passage, which motion prevailed, and the bill was read a last time.

INTRODUCTION OF HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION

House Joint Resolution 8, by Schwengel of Scott, McFarlane of Black Hawk, Van Eaton of Woodbury, Tesmer of Black Hawk, McEleney of Clinton, Burkman of Polk, Hedin of Scott, Nielsen of Pottawattamie, Nelson of Woodbury, Long of Clinton, Duffy of Dubuque, Utzig of Dubuque, Lawrence of Wapello, Nicholas of Cerro Gordo, Steinberg of Story, Kosek of Linn, Knickerbocker of Linn, Troeger of Wapello and Krall of Johnson, proposing to repeal and reenact a substitute for section thirty-five (35) of Article Three III of the Constitution of the state of Iowa, as said section was adopted by vote of the people in 1904, relating to representation in the House of Representatives.

Whereas, it is a fundamental concept of democratic government that the people are entitled to representation proportionate to population, and

Whereas, the people of the state of Iowa are deserving of and entitled to such proportionate representation, and

Whereas, there has been no reapportionment of the House of Representatives since 1904, and

Whereas, at the present time persons representing but one-third of the population of the state of Iowa can control the House of Representatives by majority vote, and

Whereas, a situation is thus created whereby the will of a minority is forced upon the people of the state of Iowa, and

Whereas, it lies within the province of the General Assembly to correct this inequality and injustice by submitting the matter to a vote of the people, now, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

Section 1. Section thirty-five (35) of article three (III) of the Constitution of the state of Iowa is repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

“The House of Representatives shall consist of not more than one hundred and eight members. The county having the greatest population as determined by the last preceding federal census shall have four representatives; the four counties having the next greatest population shall have three representatives each; the eighteen counties having the next greatest population shall have two representatives each; and the remaining representation shall be apportioned among the remaining counties in such manner that said representative districts shall be of approximately equal population.”

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the House and the title was agreed to.

House File 216, a bill for an act to legalize and validate the proceedings authorizing and providing for the issuance, sale and delivery of school building bonds by the Consolidated Independent School District of Vinton, in the county of Benton,

State of Iowa, and the provisions made for taxes for the payment of said bonds and declaring said bonds issued pursuant to said proceedings to be enforceable obligations of said school district, with report of committee recommending passage, was taken up for consideration.

Weichman of Benton offered the following amendment proposed by him and moved its adoption:

Amend House File 216 by striking all of the first paragraph beginning with the word "WHEREAS" following the title and striking all of the second paragraph beginning with "WHEREAS" following the title down to the enacting clause, with the exception of the last two words "Now, Therefore", and substituting the following:

"WHEREAS, pursuant to notice a special election was held on October 2, 1946, on the question of establishing within Benton County, Iowa, a school district designated the "Consolidated Independent School District of Vinton, Benton County, Iowa", and more than a majority of the votes cast at said election were in favor of establishment of said school district and thereafter pursuant to an election the board of directors for said school district was organized on October 29, 1946; and

"WHEREAS, thereafter at an election held within said school district on December 19, 1946, more than sixty per cent of the votes cast on the proposition were in favor of the issuance of bonds of said school district, and in reliance upon said election said board of directors by resolution authorized and provided for the issuance of school building bonds of said school district in the principal amount of three hundred fifty thousand dollars ($350,000) and for the levy of taxes to pay said bonds including interest thereon; and

"WHEREAS, doubts have arisen concerning the validity and legal sufficiency of the proceedings relating to the organization of said school district, the proceedings and provisions made for the issuance of said bonds and for the payment of same, and it is deemed advisable to put said doubts and all others that might arise concerning same forever at rest;"

Further amend by striking all of section one (1) and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. That all proceedings relating to the organization of said school district, known as the Consolidated Independent School District of Vinton, in the county of Benton, state of Iowa, and all proceedings heretofore taken by the board of directors thereof authorizing and providing for the issuance, sale and delivery of school building bonds by said school district and providing for the levy and collection of annual taxes to pay the interest on and principal of said bonds, are hereby legalized, validated and confirmed and said school building bonds issued, sold and delivered pursuant to and in accordance with said proceedings are hereby declared to be legal and to constitute valid and binding obligations of said school district."

Further amend by striking all of the title following the word "proceedings" in line one (1) thereof and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

"relating to the organization of the Consolidated Independent School District of Vinton, in the county of Benton, state of Iowa, the proceedings authorizing and providing for the issuance, sale and delivery of school building bonds by said school district and the provisions made for the payment of said bonds and declaring bonds issued pursuant to said proceedings to be enforceable obligations of said school district."

Amendment adopted.

Fimmen of Davis offered the following amendment to Senate File 100:

Amend Senate File 100 as passed by the Senate by striking all after the enacting clause and substituting the following:

"Section 1. Section one hundred twenty-four point nine (124.9), Code 1946, is amended by striking paragraph (f) of subsection one (1).

Sec. 2. Section one hundred twenty-four point nine (124.9), Code 1946, is amended by striking the period (.) in line seven (7) of subsection two (2) and adding thereto the following: "And in the case of a city or town, that it is located in a business district or in an area zoned for business. If such place or building is located on the ground floor, there shall be such windows in the building as will enable a clear view of the interior of the premises by a person standing on the street level on the outside thereof at a height of not to exceed four and one half feet from such level. The entire surface of such windows shall be free from any obstruction to the vision of any person from the outside, nor shall such vision be obstructed by curtains, blinds, or any other obstruction placed in close proximity to such windows."

Sec. 3. Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124), Code 1946, is amended by adding thereto a new section as follows: "No bar at which beer is served for consumption by any person while seated or standing at such bar may be maintained in the same room where food is served in any cafe, restaurant, dining room of a licensed hotel, except on trains or in such clubs as are specifically designated by section 124.16 Code 1946, and in taverns as hereinafter defined. The term 'bar' as used in this Act means a counter equipped to refrigerate either draft or bottled beer over which such beer is served for consumption by the purchaser while standing or sitting at such counter. The term 'tavern' as used in this Act is any room in which a bar is maintained and in which beer is sold and consumed, except on trains, and clubs as above referred to. All taverns shall be identified by a sign with the word 'TAVERN' which shall be maintained at all times on the outside of the premises, the letters of such sign shall not be less than six inches in height and the sign shall be so displayed as to be clearly visible to the public."

Sec. 4. Section one hundred twenty-four point twelve (124.12), Code 1946, is amended by striking all of said section after the word "that" in line five (5) and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "in cities and towns with a population of less than five thousand (5,000) as shown by the last Federal census, no Class "B" permit shall be issued which shall authorize the sale of beer on the premises where food is sold or consumed unless at the time of such issuance there shall be then in operation in such city or town at least one restaurant, cafe, or cafeteria where complete meals are served for pay which is not licensed to sell beer for consumption on the premises occupied by it. Such Class "B" licenses shall be issued upon the condition and shall continue in force only so long as there shall remain in operation in such city or town a restaurant, cafe, or cafeteria as above provided which does not sell beer for consumption on its premises."

Sec. 5. Section one hundred twenty-four point twenty-one (124.21), Code 1946, is amended by striking all of said section and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "Minors shall not be allowed or permitted in any taverns as above defined."

Sec. 6. Section one hundred twenty-four point twenty-five (124.25), Code 1946, is amended by striking from line nine (9) the words "one and twenty-four hundredths" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "two and forty-eight hundredths"

Sec. 7. Section one hundred twenty-four point thirty-three (124.33), Code 1946, is amended by striking all of subsection two (2) and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "2. The barrel tax collected by the state tax commission shall be distributed one half to the state general fund and one half to cities and towns upon the basis of population as determined by the last Federal census. All other license fees and taxes collected under this chapter by the state tax commission shall accrue to the state general fund. From the tax so distributed to cities and towns, so much thereof shall be used therein as is necessary to adequately enforce the provisions of this Act."

Sec. 8. Section one hundred twenty-four point ten (124.10), Code 1946, is amended by adding to subsection one (1) the following: "f. That the place or building where he intends to operate conforms to all the laws, health and fire regulations applicable thereto."

Sec. 9. Section one hundred twenty-four point twenty-four (124.24), Code 1946, is amended by striking from line five (5) of subsection three (3) the words "twenty-five dollars" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "fifty dollars."

Sec. 10. Section one hundred twenty-four point thirty-nine (124.39), Code 1946, subsection one (1) line three (3) is amended by striking the comma (,) after the word "license" and inserting in lieu thereof a period (.), and by striking all of the remainder of said subsection one (1) and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "This provision shall not apply to any club as defined in sections 124.15 and 124.16 or to hotels with fifteen or more guest rooms."

Sec. 11. Section one hundred twenty-four point thirty-nine (124.39), Code 1946, is amended by striking subsection two (2) thereof.

Sec. 12. Section one hundred twenty-four point thirty-nine (124.39), Code 1946, is amended by striking subsection three (3) and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "5. Booths which are not entirely open on one side or which are of such height or so constructed as to prevent a clear view of the head and shoulders of any person seated therein, and any other impediment, screens, or partitions which conceal the presence of any person in any room where beer is sold for consumption on the premises are prohibited."

Sec. 13. Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124) Code 1946 is amended by adding thereto new section as follows: "No holder of a Class "B" permit issued under the provisions of Chapter 124, Code 1946, or any servant, agent, or employee of the holder of such permit shall do any of the following acts upon the licensed premises:

1. Fail to maintain a 'TAVERN' sign on the outside of the premises when required as above provided.

2. Sell beer in any tavern, cafe, restaurant or hotel open to the general public, if he then holds a Federal Retail Liquor dealer's stamp at such premises other than the stamp required of a retail dealer in malt liquors, if all permits held by him under the laws of this state authorizes only the sale of beer.

3. Employ or permit any minor to enter or remain in any tavern.

4. Give away beer or promote the sale of beer by the gift of any lunch, meal, or article of food.

5. Sell or give beer to a minor.

6. Sell beer to any person while such person is in an intoxicated condition.

7. Sell beer on the licensed premises, or permit beer to be consumed thereon, on any day or at any time when such sale or consumption is prohibited by the laws of the state of Iowa.

8. Sell, offer for sale, possess or permit the consumption on the licensed premises of any kind of alcoholic liquors, the sale or possession of which is not authorized under his permit.

9. Permit any known prostitute to frequent the licensed premises.

10. Permit on the licensed premises any disorderly conduct, breach of the peace, or any lewd or immoral entertainment, conduct, or practices.

The doing of any of the foregoing prohibited acts upon the licensed premises by the holder of a Class "B" permit himself, or by his servant, agent, or employee, shall constitute a nuisance, and the holder of such Class "B" permit may be restrained by temporary injunction from doing or continuing to do any of the acts above prohibited, either by himself or by means of servant, agent, or employee. Any servant, agent, or employee who does any of the foregoing prohibited acts upon the licensed premises may likewise be restrained by injunction from doing or continuing to do any of the acts above prohibited.

The court, after final hearing, if it finds that the defendant has committed any of the foregoing prohibited acts, shall permanently enjoin the defendant from doing or continuing to do any of the acts as above prohibited, either by himself or by means of servant, agent or employee. The court may further in its discretion restrain by injunction any such person from selling or offering for sale at any place within the state of Iowa beer or malt liquors for any period up to five years from the date of the granting of such injunction, and may further restrain such person from acting as the agent, servant, or employee of any person in making such sales for such period of time at any place within the state of Iowa, or from being financially interested, either directly or indirectly, in the profits or income derived from the business conducted under any permit."

Sec. 14. Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124) Code 1946 is amended by adding thereto a new section as follows: "The duty is hereby imposed upon the holder of the permit and his servants, agents, and employees, to operate the licensed premises in an orderly and lawful manner by refraining from doing any of the acts above prohibited. To enable compliance with such requirements, they are vested with the discretion to refuse to sell or serve beer to any person. They may also determine what persons, other than peace officers or other public officials, may enter or remain upon the licensed premises. They shall not be required to assign any reason for their action so taken to any person affected thereby. Provided, however, that no person shall be discriminated against by reason of his race or color."

Sec. 15. Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124), Code 1946, is amended by adding thereto a new section as follows: "Actions to enjoin nuisances by reason of the violation of any of the provisions of Section 13 of this Act shall be brought in equity in the name of the state of Iowa, by the county attorney of the county in which the licensed premises are located, who shall prosecute the same to judgment. The petition shall in all cases contain a prayer for a temporary injunction and also for a permanent injunction, upon final hearing. In such actions the court, or a judge in vacation, shall, upon presentation of the petition therefor, after hearing thereon as hereinafter provided, allow a temporary writ of injunction without bond, if it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the court or judge by the affidavit or affidavits filed with the petition, or by other evidence, that the nuisance complained of exists by reason of the violation of Section 13 of this Act. Upon filing the petition, the county attorney shall immediately present it to the court, or a judge if in vacation, who shall fix the time and place for hearing upon the application for temporary injunction which shall not be more than ten days subsequent to the date of filing the petition, unless the court finds that good cause exists for fixing the time for hearing at a later date."

Sec. 16. Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124) Code 1946 is amended by adding thereto a new section as follows: "Such action shall be commenced by serving the defendant with an original notice in the manner and form required for the commencement of civil actions. Such notice shall also inform the defendant of the time and place fixed by the court, or judge, for hearing on the application for temporary injunction, and shall be served upon him at least three days prior to the time fixed for hearing on such application. If hearing on the application is continued at the instance of defendant, the writ as prayed shall be granted as a matter of course. The action for permanent injunction shall be triable at the same term of court after due and timely service of the notice of the commencement thereof has been given or as soon thereafter as the business of the court shall permit. After the temporary injunction has been granted, the defendant may have the time of hearing on the permanent injunction advanced and the cause then finally determined."

Sec. 17. Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124) Code 1946 is amended by adding thereto a new section as follows: "Petitions to enjoin nuisances shall be filed by the county attorney when so requested in writing by a peace officer or other person as hereinafter provided. Any peace officer who knows that the holder of a permit within his jurisdiction has violated any of the provisions of Section 13 of this Act shall file with the county attorney of the county in which the licensed premises are located an affidavit specifying in detail the facts alleged to constitute said violation and requesting that a petition be filed to enjoin said nuisance. A like affidavit and request may be filed with the county attorney by any qualified elector who resides and has for at least one year prior thereto resided in the county.

If the facts stated in such affidavit are based on the personal knowledge of affiant and show a violation of any of the provisions of Section 13 of this Act, then the county attorney shall immediately prepare a proper petition which need not be verified but the affidavit filed with him must be attached to the petition when filed with the clerk of the district court. The execution and filing of such affidavit shall not make the person a party to the action. The county attorney shall promptly file the petition with the clerk of the district court and diligently prosecute the same without delay to final judgment."

Sec. 18. Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124) Code 1946 is amended by adding thereto a new section as follows: "The failure of the county attorney, without good cause, to perform the duties imposed upon him by the preceding section of this Act shall be ground for his removal from office as provided in Chapter 66, Code 1946.

It shall be the duty of all peace officers to enforce within their jurisdictions the provisions of Section 13 of this Act. They shall frequently visit all licensed premises within their jurisdictions to determine whether such permit holders are complying with the law; they shall promptly investigate all complaints made to them relative to any alleged violations of Section 13 within their jurisdiction. When any peace officer has knowledge of a violation of Section 13 committed within his jurisdiction, it shall be his duty forthwith to file an affidavit with the county attorney, as above provided, requesting that a petition for injunction to enjoin such nuisance be filed. The failure of any peace officer to perform the duties imposed upon him by this Act shall be grounds for his removal from office as provided by chapter 66, Code 1946."

Sec. 19. Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124) Code 1946 is amended by adding thereto a new section as follows: "After the filing of a petition for injunction, no Class "B" permit may be voluntarily surrendered to the issuing authority as provided by Section 124.6 Code 1946.

If the court shall grant a permanent injunction, the clerk of the district court shall forthwith certify to the state permit board and to the city or town council, or board of supervisors which has issued the Class "B" permit covering the licensed premises involved in the action, a true copy of the order of the court granting the permanent injunction. Upon receipt of such order, the issuing authorities shall forthwith revoke the permits issued by them. When a permit is so revoked under the provisions of this Act, the holder thereof shall be ineligible for the reissuance of any permit to him for a period of five years from the date of revocation by the issuing authorities.

The revocation of the permits shall be final from the time of the entry of the order to that effect made by the issuing authority. Such order of revocation by the issuing authority shall not be stayed or suspended by an appeal to the supreme court from the judgment entered by the district court.

Any person who sells beer under a permit after it has been revoked as herein provided shall be punished as provided in section one hundred twenty-four point thirty-seven (124.37) Code 1946."

Sec. 20. Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124) Code 1946 is amended by adding thereto a new section as follows: "The findings, decisions, or determinations of any authority made in any prior proceeding held before such issuing authority for the revocation of the permit of the person against whom an injunction is sought shall not be admissible in evidence or entitled to any weight or consideration by the court in the injunction proceedings against the holder of such permit."

Sec. 21. Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124) Code 1946 is amended by adding thereto a new section as follows: "When an injunction has been granted, it shall be binding upon the defendant, and any violation of the provisions thereof shall be punished as a contempt as provided in Chapter six hundred sixty-five (665) Code 1946. If a permanent injunction is granted against the defendant, the court may, in its discretion, tax as a part of the costs, in the action, an attorney fee of fifty dollars in favor of the county attorney."

Sec. 22. Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124), Code 1946, is amended by adding thereto a new section as follows: "It shall be the duty of the chief of police of every city, the marshal of every town, and the sheriff of every county to enforce within their respective jurisdictions all the laws of the state now or hereafter existing relative to alcoholic liquor, the provisions of this Act, and all the provisions of Chapter 124, Code 1946, except those relating to the collection of taxes and permit fees. Such duty cannot be avoided by the delegation of the same to a subordinate. Such officers shall, however, assign such subordinate officers within their respective jurisdictions to the duty of enforcing this Act as shall be necessary to fully and adequately perform the duties herein imposed. The failure of any chief of police, marshal, or sheriff to perform the duties as above provided shall be grounds for his removal from office as provided in Chapter 66, Code 1946."

Sec. 23. Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124) Code 1946 is amended by adding thereto a new section as follows: "It shall be the duty of each city and town council in this state to provide adequate funds to employ such additional peace officers as may be required to assure the effective enforcement of the provisions of this Act."

Sec. 24. Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124) Code 1946 is amended by adding thereto a new section as follows: "In the event that the chief of police or town marshal deems that additional officers will be required in their respective jurisdictions to adequately enforce the provisions of this Act, they shall have the right to make application in writing to the council of their respective city or town for the appointment of such additional officers. Such application shall fully state the facts claimed to support the need for the appointment of additional officers. In the event the city or town council fails to comply with such request in its entirety it shall state the grounds of its refusal or qualification of such request. The council shall furnish the chief of police or marshal with a copy of its ruling refusing or qualifying his request."

Sec. 25. Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124) Code 1946 is amended by adding thereto a new section as follows: "There is hereby created a department of the state government which shall be known as the department of liquor and beer law enforcement, which department shall be in the bureau of criminal investigation, and the control of said bureau shall be subject to the orders and directions of the attorney general. The department herein created shall have a designated enforcement officer who shall be known as the commissioner and it shall be his duty to devote his entire time to the department and the carrying out of the provisions of this Act. The commissioner shall be appointed by the attorney general and his salary together with the expense of the department shall be provided for by an appropriation sufficient to carry out the intent and purpose of this Act."

Sec. 26. Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124) Code 1946 is amended by adding thereto a new section as follows: "It shall be the duty of the department of liquor and beer law enforcement to enforce all the laws of the state now or hereafter existing relative to alcoholic liquor, the provisions of this Act, and all the provisions of Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124) Code 1946, except those relating to the collection of taxes and permit fees."

Sec. 27. Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124) Code 1946 is amended by adding thereto a new section as follows: "The commissioner of public safety shall, upon requisition of the attorney general, from time to time assign for service in the department of liquor and beer law enforcement such of its officers as may be requisitioned by the attorney general for special service in the department of liquor and beer law enforcement, and when so assigned such officers shall be under the exclusive direction and control of the attorney general."

Sec. 28. Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124) Code 1946 is amended by adding thereto a new section as follows: "The commissioner of liquor and beer law enforcement is authorized, with the approval of the attorney general, to appoint such clerical workers and other employees as may be required to properly discharge the duties of this department."

Sec. 29. Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124) Code 1946 is amended by adding thereto a new section as follows: "The duty to enforce the provisions of all the laws of this state now or hereafter existing relative to alcoholic liquor and of this Act, and of the provisions of Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124) Code 1946, by the department of liquor and beer law enforcement shall be concurrent with that of the local peace officers within their respective jurisdictions. Such duty shall at all times be diligently performed by the commissioner of liquor and beer law enforcement, all supervisory officers, and all members thereof, without the necessity of a request from any local officer. When engaged in the investigation and enforcing of the provisions of the laws as above provided, the members of the department assigned to duty in the department of liquor and beer law enforcement shall have and exercise all the powers of any peace officer in the state insofar only as the enforcement of such laws may be concerned, but for no other purpose except when so directed by the governor or requested by the local authorities as provided in section eighty point nine (80.9), Code 1946."

Sec. 30. Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124) Code 1946, is amended by adding thereto a new section reading as follows: "The assignment to duty of the members of the department of liquor and beer law enforcement shall be made in writing by the commissioner. One copy of such assignment shall be delivered to the member, the other retained as a permanent record in the department. Such assignment shall describe the geographical limits of the territory in which they are assigned to operate and shall state the date of the beginning of such assignment and the date on which such assignment shall expire. During the period such assignment remains in force, the members shall be charged with the performance of all the duties imposed by the provisions of this Act within the territory assigned to them. No portion of the state shall at any time remain unassigned to some member or members of the department of liquor and beer law enforcement."

Sec. 31. Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124), Code 1946, is amended by adding thereto a new section as follows: "The clerk of the district court of each county shall immediately after its entry in that court forward to the department of liquor and beer law enforcement a true copy of the order of the court granting a permanent injunction which determined the existence of a nuisance to be established. It shall be the duty of the department of liquor and beer law enforcement to investigate any violations of an injunction and to report the results of such investigation to the court ordering such injunction."

Sec. 32. Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124) Code 1946, is amended by adding thereto a new section as follows: "It shall be unlawful for the holder of any permit issued under the provisions of Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124) Code 1946, or the agent, servant, or employee of such holder, to, directly or indirectly, furnish, deliver or render to any peace officer, member of the department of liquor and beer law enforcement, or other officer charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this Act, any money, property, service or thing of value without being paid a full and adequate consideration by the person receiving the same. It shall also be unlawful for such peace officer, member of the department of liquor and beer law enforcement, or other officer, to accept or receive such money, property, service or thing of value without the immediate payment in cash of a full and adequate consideration. It shall be the duty of the issuing authorities to revoke the permit of any holder violating the provisions of this section, and the violation by a member of the department of liquor and beer law enforcement or other peace officer shall be ground for the removal of such person from office."

Sec. 33. Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124), Code 1946, is amended, by adding thereto a new section as follows: "It shall be the duty of the county attorney to direct, in writing, the chief law enforcing officer of each town, city, and county to make a special investigation of all places except such clubs as are specifically designated by section one hundred twenty-four point sixteen (124.16), Code 1946, within his jurisdiction where beer is sold under a Class "B" permit. Such direction shall be made by the county attorney at least once in each quarter of each year. Upon receiving such direction, such chief law enforcing officer shall make an investigation either personally or by officers under his direction and control. Within thirty days after receiving such direction a return thereof shall be made to the county attorney on forms prepared and approved by the attorney general stating under oath his findings and that such investigation was made without prior notice to the holder of such Class "B" permit, either directly or indirectly. Such return shall be sworn to by the officer making the investigation and by the chief law enforcing officer to whom the direction was sent by the county attorney. In making the investigation, the peace officer shall give special attention to facts which would indicate violations of this title, and shall include in his return filed with the county attorney his findings with reference to whether the permit holder is the owner of a federal retail liquor stamp other than the stamp required of a retail dealer in malt liquors, whether minors are found frequenting the premises, and whether gambling devices are found therein. The county attorney shall file such returns with the district court. Such file shall be sealed and not open for public inspection, but shall be available to the county attorney, the district court, and the grand jury."

Sec. 34. If any section, subsection, clause, sentence, or phrase of this Act or the application thereof to any person or set of circumstances is for any reason held unconstitutional or invalid, such decision will not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Act or its application to any other person or circumstances. The Legislature hereby declares that the provisions of this Act are severable, and that it would have passed this Act and each section, subsection, clause, sentence or phrase thereof, irrespective of whether any one or more of the sections, subsections, clauses, sentences, or phrases be declared unconstitutional and irrespective of whether it be declared unconstitutional or invalid to any person or set of circumstances.

On motion by McFarlane of Black Hawk, the House recessed until 1:30 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The House reconvened, Speaker pro tem Morrissey in the chair.

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE AMENDMENT

On request of Hicklin of Louisa, unanimous consent having been given, House File 153, a bill for an act to amend Chapter four hundred ninety-one (491), Code 1946, to authorize merger or consolidation of corporations, with Senate amendment, was taken up and the amendment read and considered.

SENATE AMENDMENT TO HOUSE FILE 153

1. Amend House File 153 by inserting after the word "corporations" in line two (2) of section two (2) the following words: "whether heretofore or hereafter organized."

Amendment adopted.

Schwengel of Scott and Hedin of Scott offered the following amendment to the House substitute for Senate File 100:

Amend Senate File 100, section 10 by striking from lines 4 and 5 the words "two hundred fifty" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "one thousand".

Further amend section 10 by striking from line 8 the word "three" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "one".

Amend Senate File 100, section 11, by striking all of lines 2, 3, and 4 following the word "striking" in line 2 and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"the entire section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

In addition to all other fees imposed under the provisions of this chapter, there shall be levied and collected on all beer manufactured in this state and on all beer imported into this state for sale therein a tax of two (2) dollars and forty-eight (48) cents for every barrel of thirty-one gallons and at a like rate if sold in any other quantity, provided, however, no tax shall be levied or collected on beer shipped out of this state."

Section 20. Section one hundred twenty-four point four (124.4), Code 1946, is amended by adding the following additional paragraphs thereto:

"The state permit board is authorized to suspend or revoke state permits issued either by the board or by the state tax commission if the permittee violates any of the provisions of this chapter; to inspect, or cause to be inspected, any premises where beer is manufactured, distributed or sold for the purpose of ascertaining whether the provisions of this chapter and the rules and regulations of the board are being complied with; and to prescribe just and reasonable rules and regulations to govern the exercise of its powers and the practice and procedure before it.

The board may employ such assistants and employees as may reasonably be necessary to enable it to administer and enforce the provisions of this chapter.

The salaries and wages of the assistants and employees of the board shall be fixed by the board at such rates as it may deem advisable to assure proper administration and enforcement of the provisions of this chapter. All compensation and expenses of such assistants and employees of the board, and all other expenses of the board, shall be paid from the special fund provided in section 124.5 hereof:"

Sec. 21. Section one hundred twenty-four point five (124.5), Code 1946, is amended by striking the word "three" in line nine (9) of the second paragraph thereof and by inserting in lieu thereof the words "twenty-five" and by inserting after the word "holder" in line six (6) of the last paragraph thereof the following:

"and upon the revocation of a permit by the state permit board, it shall certify to the state tax commission, or city or town council or board of supervisors, the action so taken, and thereupon such state tax commission, or city or town council or board of supervisors, shall immediately cancel its permit to such permit holder."

Section 22. Section one hundred twenty-four point twenty-six (124.26), Code 1946, is hereby amended by striking the entire section and by inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Every class 'A' permit holder shall on or before the tenth day of each month make a report under oath to the state tax commission, upon forms to be furnished by it for such purpose, showing the exact quantity of beer manufactured and/or sold in this state by such person during the preceding month. Such report shall state the names and addresses of the several purchasers of such beer and such other information as the state tax commission may require. Each manufacturer of beer within this state shall on or before the due date for filing such report pay to the state tax commission the amount of tax due at the rate fixed in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. A penalty of ten per cent of the amount of the tax shall be added thereto if the tax is not paid to the commission by said tenth day of the calendar month. Failure to file such report by a class 'A' permit holder shall constitute grounds for revocation or suspension of such person's class 'A' permit.

"No beer manufactured outside this state shall be imported into this state unless and until the tax imposed by this chapter has been paid thereon. Payment of such tax on beer imported into this state shall be evidenced by excise beer stamps, caps, lids or crowns, as prescribed by the state tax commission, affixed to the barrel or keg, or if contained in bottles, cans or other containers, to the individual bottle, can or other container, as the case may be, provided, however, that the tax upon beer imported into this state shall be rebated upon satisfactory proof being furnished to the commission, by affidavit or otherwise as the commission may determine, that such beer was shipped out of the state for sale and consumption outside the state."

Sec. 23. Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124), Code 1946, is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section as follows:

"No beer produced outside this state shall be imported into this state for resale herein unless the person shipping such beer into this state has obtained from the state tax commission a certificate of approval as herein provided and has designated a statutory agent within this state upon whom service of process and notices can be made. Such certificate of approval shall authorize the holder thereof to ship beer to holders of valid, unrevoked and unexpired beer importer's certificates, but none other. The certificate of approval herein provided for shall not be granted unless and until such person shall have made a written agreement with the state tax commission to furnish to the commission on or before the tenth day of each month a report under oath, on a form to be prescribed by the commission, stating the quantity of beer shipped and delivered to permittees in this state during the preceding month; shall keep proper books of account and records showing the amount of beer shipped by such person into this state and agree to make said books and records available to the inspection at all times of the commission or its authorized representatives; and shall have further agreed with the commission that such person and all sales organizations and agencies maintained by it, and their respective agents and employees, shall faithfully comply with all laws of this state pertaining to the importation, transportation and sale of beer. If the holder of a certificate of approval violates any of the provisions of this chapter, the commission may suspend or revoke such certificate of approval. Such certificate of approval shall expire at the end of one year from the date of issuance. The annual fee for such certificate of approval shall be one thousand dollars. Every person making application for a certificate of approval shall furnish a bond in the amount of twenty-five thousand dollars, with good and sufficient sureties to be approved by the commission, conditioned upon the payment of all taxes imposed by this chapter with respect to beer which is imported into this state by such person for sale therein and the faithful observance of this chapter by such person.

"It shall be unlawful for any person to import beer into this state or cause the same to be transported into this state for sale therein unless such person has obtained from the state tax commission and has in force a beer importer's certificate. Beer importer's certificates shall only be issued to class 'A' permit holders. Before a beer importer's certificate shall be granted, the applicant therefor shall file a written agreement with the state tax commission to furnish to the commission on or before the tenth day of each month a report under oath, on a form to be prescribed by the commission, stating the quantity of beer imported by such person during the preceding month and an agreement to guarantee payment of all taxes imposed by this chapter with respect to such imported beer."

Sec. 24. Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124), Code 1946, is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section as follows:

"Each brewer who manufactures beer within this state and each out-of-state brewer of beer imported into this state shall file with the state tax commission on or before the tenth day of each month a report on a form to be prescribed by the commission stating a list of the materials used and the quantities of each material used per barrel by such person in the production of beer sold in or imported into this state during the preceding month. If any domestic or out-of-state brewer shall fail to submit such report, or shall fail to use the required amount of barley malt, the state tax commission may, in its discretion, revoke the permit or certificate of approval of such brewer or of any other person who imports into this state beer produced by such brewer."

Further amend Senate File 100 by renumbering the existing sections in accordance with the insertions.

REPORT ON LIGHTING SYSTEM OF THE SOUTH DAKOTA STATE HOUSE

The lighting system in the House and Senate Chambers of the South Dakota Capitol was found to be very satisfactory. They average a little better than twenty foot candle power at each desk. The lights consisted of thirty-six 4-foot fluorescent fixtures fastened to the ceiling using reflectors and prism deflectors. All tubes changed from collapsible scaffold but it was impossible to reach the lamp from the ceiling side.

The comparison of the House Chamber with that of the Iowa State House would require some changes if this lighting system was adopted. The South Dakota House Chamber is 66 ft. x 48 ft. with a 35 ft. ceiling. The Iowa House Chamber is 74 ft. x 91 ft. with a 47 ft. ceiling. The question would arise as to obtaining sufficient candle power on the Iowa House desks if fixtures were placed on ceiling. It might be accomplished by extension rods 12 feet long and sufficient additional fixtures to take care of the additional square foot floor space.

A number of new features have been developed since the installation of the South Dakota State House such as 1,000 hour tubes and all reflexable tube that can be placed in large curves.

The cost of the South Dakota installation was approximately $6,000.00 for both the House and Senate Chambers and the gallery. Due to the additional size of the Iowa House and Senate Chambers, this would be substantially increased. If the change-over is authorized by the legislature, a competent lighting engineer would be required to work out a complete system. Westinghouse fixtures were used.

Secretary, Executive Council.

Acting Custodian.

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

The House resumed consideration of Senate File 100, a bill for an act to amend chapter one hundred twenty-four (124), Code 1946, relating to the issuance of permits to sell beer and malt liquors and to the regulation of places where sales are made by such permit holders.

Speaker pro tem Morrissey read the following report from the attorney general's office:

Senate File 100, as passed by the senate, was a bill relating to the issuance of permits to sell beer and malt liquors and to the regulation of places where sales are made by such permit holders. Briefly stated, it relates to permits to sell beer and the regulation of the sale in the State of Iowa. As Senate File 100 now stands, after the Fimmen amendment, it still relates to the issuance of beer permits, the revocation thereof and the regulation and policing of the sale of beer in the State of Iowa. The beer barrel tax was increased for the purpose of providing funds to aid in the enforcement of the law.

The Schwengel amendment, now under consideration by the chair, relates to the importation of beer into the State of Iowa, the license of the importer and other than that does not in any manner or in any respect refer to the enforcement of the beer law within the State of Iowa. The question presented is as follows: "Is the amendment by Schwengel and Hedin germane to Senate File 100 as amended by the Fimmen amendment?"

Article 3, Section 29 of the State constitution provides as follows:

"Every act shall embrace but one subject and matters properly connected therewith which subject shall be expressed in the title."

The House Rules provide as follows:

"No motion or proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of an amendment."

The constitution and the House Rules were designed primarily to prevent amendments on subjects which were foreign to the bill before the House. The Schwengel-Hedin amendment does not relate to enforcement within the State of Iowa, nor does it relate to the permits as considered in Senate File as amended. The matter relates to the importation of beer into the State of Iowa and is a separate and distinct subject. The subject matter in Senate File 100, as amended, relates to licenses to sell beer in the State of Iowa and the enforcement of the beer law.

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

It is the judgment of the chair that, under the constitution and the rules of the House, the Schwengel-Hedin amendment is not germane.

Schwengel of Scott asked and obtained unanimous consent to withdraw the amendment proposed by him and Hedin of Scott found on pages 661, 662, 663 and 664 of the journal of March 11, 1947.

Ainsworth of Dickinson offered the following amendment proposed by him and moved its adoption:

Amend Senate File 100, as amended, by striking therefrom all of sections ten (10) and eleven (11) and renumbering the remaining sections.

Amendment adopted.

Weichman of Benton offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend the House substitute to Senate File 100 by striking from line five (5), section seven (7), the words "distributed one half" and substituting in lieu thereof the word "credited."

Further amend section seven (7), lines five (5), six (6), and seven (7), by striking the words "and one half to cities and towns upon the basis of population as determined by the last Federal census." and substituting a period (".") in lieu of the comma (",") following the word "fund".

Further amend section seven (7), lines nine (9), ten (10), and eleven (11), by striking all of the sentence beginning "From the tax so distributed to cities and towns,—etc."

Roll call was demanded.

On the question "Shall the amendment be adopted?"

Amendment adopted.

Schwengel of Scott and Hedin of Scott offered the following amendment to Senate File 100:

Amend Senate File 100 as amended by the Fimmen amendment by striking all of Sec. 6 thereof and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section one hundred twenty-four point twenty-five (124.25) Code 1946 is amended by striking the entire section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"In addition to all other fees imposed under the provisions of this chapter, there shall be levied and collected on all beer manufactured in this state and on all beer imported into this state for sale therein a tax of two dollars and forty-eight cents ($2.48) for every barrel of thirty-one (31) gallons and at a like rate if sold in any other quantity, provided, however, no tax shall be levied or collected on beer shipped out of this state."

Further amend Senate File 100 by adding the following new sections:

Section 14. Section one hundred twenty-four point twenty-six (124.26), Code 1946, is hereby amended by striking the entire section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Every class 'A' permit holder shall on or before the tenth day of each month make a report under oath to the state tax commission, upon forms to be furnished by it for such purpose, showing the exact quantity of beer manufactured and/or sold in this state by such person during the preceding month. Such report shall state the names and addresses of the several purchasers of such beer and such other information as the state tax commission may require. Each manufacturer of beer within this state shall on or before the due date for filing such report pay to the state tax commission the amount of tax due at the rate fixed in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. A penalty of ten (10) percent of the amount of the tax shall be added thereto if the tax is not paid to the commission by said tenth day of the calendar month. Failure to file such report by a class "A" permit holder shall constitute grounds for revocation or suspension of such person's class 'A' permit.

"No beer manufactured outside this state shall be imported into this state unless and until the tax imposed by this chapter has been paid thereon. Payment of such tax on beer imported into this state shall be evidenced by excise beer stamps, caps, lids, or crowns, as prescribed by the state tax commission, affixed to the barrel or keg, or if contained in bottles, cans or other containers, to the individual bottle, can or other container, as the case may be, provided, however, that the tax upon beer imported into this state shall be rebated upon satisfactory proof being furnished to the commission, by affidavit or otherwise as the commission may determine, that such beer was shipped out of the state for sale and consumption outside the state."

Sec. 15. Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124), Code 1946, is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section as follows:

"No beer produced outside this state shall be imported into this state for resale herein unless the person shipping such beer into this state has obtained from the state tax commission a certificate of approval as herein provided and has designated a statutory agent within this state upon whom service of process and notices can be made. Such certificate of approval shall authorize the holder thereof to ship beer to holders of valid, unrevoked and unexpired beer importer's certificates, but none other. The certificate of approval herein provided for shall not be granted unless and until such person shall have made a written agreement with the state tax commission to furnish to the commission on or before the tenth day of each month a report under oath, on a form to be prescribed by the commission, stating the quantity of beer shipped and delivered to permittees in this state during the preceding month; shall keep proper books of account and records showing the amount of beer shipped by such person into this state and agree to make said books and records available to the inspection at all times of the commission or its authorized representatives; and shall have further agreed with the commission that such person and all sales organizations and agencies maintained by it, and their respective agents and employees, shall faithfully comply with all laws of this state pertaining to the importation, transportation and sale of beer. If the holder of a certificate of approval violates any of the provisions of this chapter, the commission may suspend or revoke such certificate of approval. Such certificate of approval shall expire at the end of one year from the date of issuance. The annual fee for such certificate of approval shall be two hundred and fifty dollars ($250.00). Every person making application for a certificate of approval shall furnish a bond in the amount of five thousand dollars ($5,000) with good and sufficient sureties to be approved by the commission, conditioned upon the payment of all taxes imposed by this chapter with respect to beer which is imported into this state by such person for sale therein and the faithful observance of this chapter by such person.

"It shall be unlawful for any person to import beer into this state or cause the same to be transported into this state for sale therein unless such person has obtained from the state tax commission and has in force a beer importer's certificate. Beer importer's certificates shall only be issued to class 'A' permit holders. Before a beer importer's certificate shall be granted, the applicant therefor shall file a written agreement with the state tax commission to furnish to the commission on or before the tenth day of each month a report under oath, on a form to be prescribed by the commission, stating the quantity of beer imported by such person during the preceding month and an agreement to guarantee payment of all taxes imposed by this chapter with respect to such imported beer."

Sec. 16. Chapter one hundred twenty-four (124), Code 1946, is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section as follows:

"Each brewer who manufactures beer within this state and each out-of-state brewer of beer imported into this state shall file with the state tax commission on or before the tenth day of each month a report on a form to be prescribed by the commission stating a list of the materials used and the quantities of each material used per barrel by such person in the production of beer sold in or imported into this state during the preceding month. If any domestic or out-of-state brewer shall fail to submit such report, or shall fail to use the required amount of barley malt, the state tax commission may, in its discretion, revoke the permit or certificate of approval of such brewer or of any other person who imports into this state beer produced by such brewer."

Walker of Hamilton moved that the Schwengel and Hedin amendment be laid on the table.

The Speaker pro tem ruled that a prior motion to table, having the same effect, had been disposed of.

Hedin of Scott asked and obtained unanimous consent to withdraw the amendment proposed by him and Schwengel of Scott.

Fimmen of Davis moved that the bill be read a last time now and placed upon its passage, which motion prevailed, and the bill was read a last time.

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the House.

Fimmen of Davis moved to strike the title of Senate File 100 and insert in lieu thereof the following:

A bill for an act amending certain sections of chapter 124, Code 1946, and adding new sections to said chapter all relating to alcoholic liquor and also to beer and malt liquors, prohibiting the commission of certain acts by the holders of Class "B" permits, their servants, agents, and employees, declaring the commission of such acts to be nuisances, and providing the procedure to enjoin such nuisances, for the punishment by contempt, and for the revocation of permits; prohibiting sales on certain holidays; establishing certain conditions under which such sales may be made; providing fees to be paid for issuance of Class "B" permits; establishing a barrel tax on all beer manufactured or sold in this state; creating a department of liquor and beer law enforcement under the supervision of the attorney general, charged with the specific duty to enforce all laws relative to alcoholic liquor, this Act, and chapter 124, Code 1946, except the provisions thereof relating to the collection of taxes; imposing the duty upon the department of liquor and beer law enforcement, on peace officers and county attorneys to enforce this Act, and defining such duties; requiring reports to the department of liquor and beer law enforcement by permit holders; providing penalties for misrepresentation of age by a purchaser of beer or malt liquors; to provide penalties and remedies for violations of this Act.

Amendment adopted and the title as amended was agreed to.

Fimmen of Davis moved that the vote by which the bill passed the House be reconsidered and that the motion to reconsider be laid on the table.

Motion prevailed.

On motion by McFarlane of Black Hawk the House recessed until 1:30 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The House reconvened, Speaker Kuester in the chair.

McFarlane of Black Hawk moved that a committee of three be appointed to notify the Senate that the House was ready to receive it in Joint Convention.

Motion prevailed and the Speaker appointed as such committee: Putney of Tama, Ingalls of Jackson and Rankin of Franklin.

The committee appointed to notify the Senate that the House was ready to receive it in Joint Convention reported that it had performed its duty. Report was accepted and the committee discharged.

The sergeant-at-arms announced the arrival of the President of the Senate and the honorable body of the Senate.

The President was escorted to the Speaker's station, the Secretary to the Chief Clerk's desk, and the members of the Senate were seated on the west side of the chamber.

JOINT CONVENTION

In accordance with House Concurrent Resolution 10, duly adopted, the Joint Convention was called to order, Kenneth A. Evans presiding.

The President of the Senate appointed the following committee to notify the Pioneer Lawmakers that the Joint Convention was ready to receive them: Representative McFarlane, Representative Avery and Senator Sharp.

The committee previously appointed escorted the Pioneer Lawmakers to the House Chamber.

President Evans introduced the Honorable Israel A. Smith, President of the Pioneer Lawmakers Association, to the Joint Convention.

Mr. Smith introduced to the Joint Convention Senator Frank C. Byers who welcomed the Pioneer Lawmakers on behalf of the Senate with the following remarks:

MR. PRESIDENT AND MEMBERS OF THE PIONEER LAWMAKERS ASSOCIATION:

It is an honor and privilege to be allowed to welcome the Iowa Pioneer Lawmakers on behalf of the Senate of the Fifty-second General Assembly. It is especially a pleasure for me to welcome you on behalf of the Senate at this time because at the next meeting of the Pioneer Lawmakers two years from now I will be eligible to become a member of the Pioneer Lawmakers and hope to be here and be one of you.

There have been many changes in recent years. There are new conditions constantly arising which require legislative consideration and regulation.

You laid the foundations of the laws of our state wisely and well, and I presume you felt when the last session of your terms in the Legislature ended and you had adjourned that the state had all the laws it needed. You would have been correct if life had remained of the tempo of those days, but in this day of the radio, airplane, automobile and the streamliner, the rule of life is change rather than stability, and it is to meet this change with its increased complexity of human relations that new enactments are constantly required.

You realize as well as we that all change is not progress. It is still true, as in the past, that we must consider well what is proposed and hold fast to that which is good. Though we have thus far preserved the heritage of a free people which our forefathers brought forth and you helped hand down, democracy was never as much challenged in the world as today. With highly organized pressure groups making their influence more and more felt in America, there never was a time when it has been more necessary to exert every effort and strain every power at our command to maintain our Republic and transmit it unimpaired to the coming generation.

These are the problems of today. They seem to us greater than the problems of yesterday. They may not be; they may only be closer. We take from you the inspiration, the zeal, the steadfast loyalty to the principles of the Constitution of our country which you in your legislative careers so highly exemplified. We hope to carry on upon the same high plane of public endeavor. The future only can judge of our success.

For the services you rendered the state, for handing down the charter of American freedom undimmed and un erased, and for the example of useful and necessary legislation you set, I welcome you here in the name of the Senate.

Mr. Smith introduced Representative Avery who welcomed the Pioneer Lawmakers on behalf of the House with the following remarks:

PRESIDENT SMITH AND VENERABLE MEN: I use that term advisedly, because you are venerable men. As I think back, as I can, of the pioneering you did in lawmaking for the last fifty years, I am impressed that you did a great service in building well for the future.

I picked up a copy of the Journal of 1909—that is quite a while ago—and you did some pioneering in 1909. You provided for voting bonds for the building of county hospitals, and on that foundation we in this session of the legislature have before us an enabling act permitting us in Iowa to avail ourselves of federal aid for county hospitals. We have another bill before us for the licensing of county hospitals or building hospitals for that matter, and setting up a board to see that these hospitals are built the best to serve the purpose for which they are built. That county hospital bill that you passed in 1909 is being copied in many other states, or has been copied in many other states of the Union, and probably will be copied in many more during the present and the next year.

In Iowa it may interest you to know that twenty-five counties are voting county hospitals this year.

Five years ago America was engaged in the business of devising ways and means to make instruments to destroy life and cause human suffering. Today in this legislature in the county hospital bills that we are proposing to pass we are providing for the relief of human suffering and the saving of human life.

That is one peculiar thing about America. When it becomes necessary to preserve the things for which our pioneer ancestors away back fought, we are ready to lay aside everything and produce the instruments to cause human suffering and destroy human life in order to preserve it. But when it is all over then we turn right around and start doing those things that will prevent human suffering and prevent the destruction of human life.

Venerable men, in behalf of the House of Representatives, I cordially welcome you this day to this occasion. Thank you.

Mr. Smith introduced to the Joint Convention the Honorable Lloyd Thurston, former member of Congress. Mr. Thurston delivered the following address:

MR. CHAIRMAN: It is a privilege to take part in a program with the Governor of the State of Iowa, and also to appear before former and the present members of the General Assembly of a state, wherein the level of living conditions has a higher average than elsewhere in the nation—possibly the whole world. For in Iowa, we are not too conservative or too radical; few are very poor or very rich. Our people are measured and weighed on the scale of their talent or capability, rather than by their holdings. The children of our citizens find their place in the community through their own mental alertness; the leader in the Girls' Club or the captain of the football squad is chosen by the rule of leadership rather than by family position.

An inland empire named "Iowa" was created out here in the heart of the nation, which was to be the melting pot that received its human portions gradually, so there was complete absorption into the American way of life; while a few communities revere some of the customs or traditions of the land of their forbears, alien isms were not tolerated. If the pioneers had in mind the creation of a state where peace, toleration, education, industry, agriculture might thrive, their labors have borne fruit.

Only a few months have elapsed since the celebration of the Centennial of the admission of Iowa into the Union. It was observed in every city, town and village in the State, so it would be superfluous to attempt to add to the splendid record of achievements so vividly portrayed from one great river to the other. The great debt this and future generations owe to those hardy pioneers cannot in substance be paid; we can only voice what our heart has transmitted to our minds.

However, an abstraction might be mentioned; if the food products of our state should be withdrawn from the channels of trade, hunger and suffering would be felt in many sections of our country, because Iowa supplies ten per cent of the food consumed in the United States, so without boasting, it can be said that our applied science in agriculture and farm products directly concerns the whole world.

While our state stands first in many food and cultural fields, Iowa is not only a land of glorious memories, it must be a place with a promising future, so in education, science and social advancement, if Iowa cannot lead, it must keep abreast of the march of progress in movements that will maintain our hard earned place near the top of American citizenship.

A study of the science of history discloses an age old conflict between men who are willing to be slaves and those who prefer to fight for freedom; that self preservation is the impelling motive of human endeavor; so it matters not whether absolute power is vested in an autocracy or in a self centered dictatorship; the result is the same for all except the favored few. The centralization of power has been the scourge of all times, whether ancient, modern or present.

Caesar, Napoleon, Cromwell, in their time, started out as the champions of the oppressed, but ended as tyrants. Later, Hitler, Mussolini and others organized a trail of bloodshed, anarchy, which brought ruin; as will all, who seek to rule through force rather than by orderly processes.

The thought expressed brings the logical corollary; men come and men go, but the principles of justice and humanity are as fixed as the North star. Stated broadly, those who put their faith in men awake in despair, as few mortal beings are strong enough to withstand the flattery of court jesters or office seekers. Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln, were among the limited few on this continent who survived the test. And the humility of these great men, might well be used as a precēpt for others who slightly over weigh their talents.

Then a further search into the field of human motives is met with the stern, but indisputable evidence that the Almighty did not place all of the brains or intelligence of an era in one cranium; the diffusion of learning and knowledge was not confined to a race, a class, a creed, and never to an individual. The application of industry, coupled with a determination to achieve, has and always will survive. Merit or lack of merit cannot long be concealed.

So, to reoccur to the thought heretofore developed, the co-operation, the combination of the talents and the energy of the people of Iowa brought forth a government, with its subdivisions, that is second to none in the universe in serving those within its borders. A century of legislative enactments have been added to the original structure, many of those statutes have been written by former members of the General Assembly who are present today. Now as in the past, changes must be made to meet different conditions, trends toward the future must be constantly in mind, but the main structure of our state government is practical and sound, from the four corners of the state, to the top of the gilded dome above.

Inquiry might be made as to the reasons or causes responsible for the sound condition of our state. The reply can be made in a few words; short tenure in office, and frequent, uncontrolled elections. Iowa, recognizing the rights of minorities, many years ago provided for bi-partisan representation in the important boards having control over state institutions. Likewise, required that each election precinct must be under the supervision of officials representing two or more political parties. These salutary laws were not forced through by expediency, but were made mandatory by a citizenship who was willing to provide for honest and fair elections.

Right now it might be said that free elections are the bulwark of free men. Little of the world, and many of our great cities and some states, have yet to enjoy free suffrage, one of the greatest privileges of man. Sweat and free elections will do more to save the world than orations and relief.

TAXES, is a phrase which the present members of the Assembly might prefer to have omitted from these remarks. However, the voters of Iowa have returned a select list of legislators whom they believe can wave a magic wand to make one dollar do the work of two. All eagerly await this transition. It has been said that a government does not create wealth; it just eats wealth; so the problem appears to be, just how little this beast can subsist upon, rather than to satisfy his greedy demands. Probably, each of your constituents would be willing to have you lightly pass over his interests and then press down somewhat heavily upon his neighbors. Life appears to be just that way.

The legislator occupies much the same position as a member of a trial jury. He is expected to hear all of the evidence of those for, as well as those against, proposed measures, then apply his mental processes so as to separate the grain from the chaff; thereafter, his task is simple. Sometimes, it is asserted that he failed to winnow the grain as now required by seed testing statutes; but his constituents usually feel that he has used his best judgment, and elect him again. It is hoped that no member will take offense at the last statement.

While the functions of the federal and state governments are fairly well divided, yet, the policies and actions of the central government affect the parts, just as the activities of the parts affect the whole, so each must take cognizance of the other. Each tax liquor, tobacco, gasoline, income and inheritances, and in some social fields there are duplications. It therefore follows that the obligations of the federal government are of deep concern to all because of the gigantic, almost incomprehensible debt, fixed and contingent, of about three hundred billion dollars. The units mentioned do have one thing in common; they derive their sustenance from the people, as they create nothing.

The one phase intimately connected with this subject, seldom mentioned in government circles, is that most current debts, public or private, were incurred during a period of high wages and high commodity levels, so the wherewith to pay current taxes or charges comes rather easily, whereas, if wages and commodities and property substantially diminish in value, obviously, the wherewith to pay becomes more difficult to obtain, so the debt just mentioned, in effect, might be considerably, or even greatly, increased insofar as its payment is concerned. Debts do not fluctuate with wages and property values, so the ability to discharge an obligation may vary from time to time. It is axiomatic that a strong nation is a solvent nation. This subject will be one of prime importance in the years to come.

And it is again apparent that the states through their executive or legislative branches, must intervene to conserve the assets of our savings and insurance institutions from acquiring securities of an international character, not one share of which will be purchased by a member of the federal government who assisted in creating them. If a provision had been incorporated in the Bill requiring each member of the government in favor of the enactment to invest even one month's salary in such securities, the Bill would never have become a law. The officers of mutual concerns acting for depositors, and life insurance policy holders, should be protected from the pressure that will be made to negotiate that questionable paper.

One of the strangest developments of recent years has been the unexplainable attitude of the people of our country in regard to federal expenditures, as compared with state and local expenses. If a local school board, or library board, whose members serve without compensation, paid a few a ton more for fuel than the current price, a great wave of complaint would arise. If a City Council or Board of Supervisors should slightly overpay for labor, or exceed some local price for materials, there would be a storm of criticism. But apparently, no one, until recently at least no executive federal officials, expected the Washington government to get fifty cents on the dollar for its expenditures. And when the domestic demand for free funds slowed up, these dispensers of public funds canvassed the world for new outlets. They usually found them.

Although we complain about excessive taxation, it would be interesting to know the total amount of funds that would be required if we did not have so many persons and charitable and benevolent organizations which annually contribute millions of dollars to assist the unfortunate, and a multiplicity of worthy causes. The list of such donors would be a long one, but included are the churches; private schools, hospitals and colleges; service units such as the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and their Auxiliaries; the Farm Bureau with its 4-H and Future Farmers; the Farmers' Union and the Grange; the Federation of Women's Clubs and the Business and Professional Women; the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A.; the K.C.; the U.S.O.; the Red Cross; Salvation Army; the Rotary; Kiwanis; Lions; Boy and Girl Scouts; Parent-Teachers Association; Women's Relief Corps; the Masonic and I.O.O.F. Orders and their auxiliaries, are a few of the many who carry public burdens. So a survey of this charitable field discloses that if all of the splendid work done by these and other like organizations were to be paid for out of public funds, there would be a tremendous increase in taxes.

Not only do many of the groups mentioned expend their funds as indicated, but their educational programs cover a broad field of public service; civic, national, international; and their welfare and patriotic teachings extend vital support to uphold American ideals and traditions. May their number not diminish.

It may be said with propriety that many of the statutes first enacted in our state have been adopted by other state governments, which is a tribute to the sound judgment, the practical vision of hundreds of members who so well served this state and the nation. Many a legislator has been surprised, amazed, then angered by what some court said was his legislative intention. It is true that a statute is somewhat advisory until it has been construed by the highest authority having jurisdiction over the subject matter. Undoubtedly, one of the reasons why courts of last resort so frequently cite opinions of the Iowa Supreme Court is because that body has largely confined its analysis of statutes within the rule of fair interpretation, rather than to substitute the vagaries of minds disturbed by Shangri-La meditations.

As our national legislature is now intimately concerned about the domestic and foreign affairs of China, India, Hungary, Greece, Palestine, and several other nations, it is apparent that less and less time will be given to our affairs, so of necessity, the states will be required to devote more time to matters within the country. Whether this great transition will be best for our people, only time can tell.

We had fervently hoped that when the war had been concluded, that propaganda, both foreign and domestic (and huge sums are now being used for both) which had taken so much of the air channels and space in the press, might subside, so the fog would be cleared and our citizens could again have clear vision to normally consider the problems of our homeland; but this hope is for the future. A bubble in Europe, transmitted to the global boys here, brings a quick huddle in the Washington departments; a spokesman makes a timely release that mountains of boiling, seething, caldrons are about to boil over and engulf the world; which blankets the efforts of our economy statesmen; but funds for the state and service departments are not reduced.

The propaganda dispensers have rendered one service for our American people, they are not required to think any more; their thinking is done for them.

The science of legislating, flexible as it is, affected by ambitious leaders, always subject to dynastic, ethnetic, economic, religious phases, expanding population, must of necessity adjust statutes to trends and times; and crude though many of its enactments have been, the composite judgment of the legislators when they could freely act, pointed toward the betterment of humanity, in contrast to ukases and commands of the head of nations, whether under the discarded guise of divine rights, or military or financial usurpation. While jibes may be pointed toward the legislator, God save us from the vanity of those who appropriate public funds to increase or perpetuate their authority.

It would appear that there is one weak spot in our national structure, in that which vests the veto power in the Chief Executive, requiring a two-thirds majority of both the Senate and the House of Representatives to over ride his individual decision, which is largely influenced by his own appointees, most of whom have never been elected to any office by the people. As there are 96 members in the Senate and 435 in the House, the difference over a majority equals 16 members in the Senate and about 72 in the House, or a total of about 88 members in the two bodies. Surely, it will not be seriously contended that the Chief Executive, who is often a political accident, has greater ability or is more interested in the welfare of the nation than one of our eighty some members of the Congress. Modern development has placed tremendous sums at the disposal of the President, plus many thousand lucrative offices, which can, and have been flagrantly used to influence legislation. Many a member of the Congress has been denied his share of public works because he did not vote as the President directed. A few years ago, there was much ado about "lame ducks", but legislation was enacted to terminate this complaint. It can be definitely asserted that Presidential patronage to affect, to coerce, has been a far greater menace to our government. An impartial survey of this subject would bring forth a startling array of facts to confirm the remarks just made.

To digress to the facetious, a story, somewhat antedated, has percolated down from the Northeast part of the State; it runs like this: An aged patriarch, with long white beard, leaning on a staff, approached officials in an election precinct in Black Hawk County in the good year 1977, and requested a ballot, which was delivered to him. He then retired to the voting booth where he remained some time, and returned the blank ballot to the election judge saying: "This is not an official ballot." Upon being assured by the election judge that the ballot with others had been sent out by the County Auditor, the applicant said: "I know it is not official; it does not have Arch McFarlane's name on it."

Then, there is the incident about the member of the assembly from Linn County, who retired early because the indicator over the entrance to the elevator in the Savery Hotel pointed at the figure 11. He was astounded to learn that the mechanical device was not a clock. Whether this ignorance reflects more on Linn County or on the State Senate, you may determine. It is only fair to say that the member was not Senator Byers.

There was a measure pending in the 38th Session, backed by the Daughters of the American Revolution, proposing a State Flag, but some other patriotic orders, mainly the Grand Army of the Republic, opposed, asserting there should be one flag—that of the United States. An appeal was made to a member of the body across from this chamber, who made a survey and found the opposition adamant. Later, he called up the Bill for consideration, obtained unanimous consent to strike the word "flag" and substitute the word "banner", the measure was promptly passed by both branches, signed by the Governor, so the Banner of the State of Iowa proudly floats just below the National emblem.

But the humor directed toward legislative bodies should not be confined to state law makers. It is reported that a public spirited citizen entered a place of business and requested a merchant to donate $2 to assist in defraying the burial expenses of a former member of Congress. The merchant went to his cash register, withdrew a piece of currency, turned to the solicitor and said: "Here, here is $10; bury 4 more of them."

America does have innumerable problems, domestic and foreign, but, no real American would exchange his citizenship for any of the tinsel decorations passed around by foreign governments. The most enduring, the most valuable title that can be bestowed upon a human being is, that accorded to the citizen of the United States of America.

But what is America? So many million square miles of territory, with a great area of fertile land; gigantic industries; quantities of mineral deposits; unexcelled transportation facilities; large cities with beautiful parks and tall buildings; churches, colleges and schools without number; millions of good homes; most of the labor saving devices and comforts of the whole world?

Or, is America a great host of generous persons who in recent years have donated to other people more than fifty billion in dollars and supplies? Has any nation been more humanity minded than our own? Is America the only nation in the world that is constantly to be required to purchase good-will? It seems that many of our own people have forgotten about the contributions of their government and citizens to people in other parts of the world, and believe it to be their duty to sharply condemn their own without carefully analyzing the other side of the picture. Possibly, some of these carping critics might find it more congenial, in other climes.

It has only been a short time since the most devastating war of all time was ended, and its conclusion was largely brought about by the tremendous power of the American armed forces and American economic and financial resources. The unparalleled success of our forces through devotion and loyalty to our flag, places all who did not thus serve under everlasting gratitude to those who so gallantly met and conquered every obstacle, whether on land, the sea, or in the air. The sons of Iowa did their full share in this world wide holocaust. May their flags and banners be placed in the rotunda of this building alongside the flags of the Iowa boys who served in the Civil, Spanish, and World War I Wars.

This America of ours is the most noble heritage ever handed down to a people. America's position in the world did not just happen; it was attained through the toil and privation; the genius, yes, the sweat and blood of thousands of men and women who were determined to prove that human agencies under Divine guidance could create and maintain a form of government that would insure free institutions for a continent extending from to sea to sea.

The courage of our people, the strength of our nation, is equaled by the generosity, the tender mercy which we have extended to the afflicted of many stricken lands. Because of the constant contributions made by our citizens to aid the impoverished abroad, it must not be thought that we intend to change the basic concepts of our well balanced government to meet the views of vocal minorities whose lung power greatly exceeds their mental capacities.

There are in our midst those who would tear into shreds the most benevolent haven of freedom known to man. Real Americans will resist these wreckers, inside and outside of our government, if necessary, with the last drop of their blood.

The spirit of America, with its creative genius, coupled with its humanity, is the beacon light to all mankind. We cannot afford, the world cannot afford, to have its foundations undermined.

The American Ship of State will sail on and on, if there is a crew in command which will not change the course to the shoals on the left, or to the rocks on the right. The middle course, is the American course.

President Evans in the chair.

Weichman of Benton introduced to the Joint Convention Mr. George Schultz, director of the orchestra from the College of the Blind at Vinton, and expressed his sincere appreciation for the splendid music rendered by the orchestra. Mr. Weichman introduced to the Joint Convention Mr. Leslie M. Hayes, Superintendent of the School for the Blind at Vinton, and his wife.

The committee previously appointed came forward and escorted the Pioneer Lawmakers from the House chamber.

On motion of Hinrichs of Iowa the Joint Convention was dissolved.

The House reconvened, Speaker Kuester in the chair.

By adding after the word "welfare" in line 20 of section 4 the words ", overseers of the poor,".

By adding after the comma (,) after the word "director" in line 22 of section 4 the word "overseer,".

By adding after the comma (,) after the word "director" in line 25 of section 4 the word "overseer,".

By adding after the comma (,) after the word "director" in line 29 of section 4 the word "overseer,".

By adding after the comma (,) after the word "director" in line 31 of section 4 the word "overseer,".

SENATE AMENDMENT TO HOUSE FILE 39

Amend House File 39 by striking all after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. Chapter three hundred ninety (390), Code 1946, is amended by adding the following:

Cities and towns shall have additional power and authority to purchase or lease, install, maintain, repair and operate parking meters or other traffic or parking control devices.

Cities and towns shall have additional power and authority to purchase, lease or otherwise acquire and to improve, maintain and operate parking lots or other off street parking areas for the parking of vehicles, but before such authority is exercised the city council shall hold a public hearing to determine whether or not public convenience and necessity will be served by the establishment of such facilities. One notice of such hearing shall be published at least two (2) weeks prior thereto and any person affected by the establishment of said parking lot or off street parking facilities may appear at such hearing and object thereto. Cities and towns shall have additional power and authority to accept gifts or funds from any person, firm, corporation or association or cooperative organization for the establishment and operation of parking lots, if after said hearing, the establishment of such parking facilities is approved.

"Sec. 3. Cities and towns shall have power and authority to use the funds received from the operation of parking meters to pay the cost of acquiring, operating, maintaining and repairing the same, and also to pay the cost of acquiring and operating other parking and traffic control devices. Any of such funds remaining thereafter may be used either to purchase, lease or otherwise acquire parking lots or other off street parking areas for the parking of vehicles, or said remaining funds may also be used for the retirement of revenue bonds issued for the purpose of acquiring parking lots, in the event the revenue from said parking lots is insufficient to pay the cost of retiring said bonds.

"Sec. 4. Cities and towns may issue revenue bonds for the purpose of acquiring parking lots or other off street parking areas for the parking of vehicles, as provided in section two (2) of this act. Said revenue bonds shall be retired either from funds received from the operation of said parking lots, from funds received from the operation of parking meters or from funds received from a tax levied against a benefited district as provided in the following section.

"Sec. 5. Wherever the free movement and parking of vehicular traffic is substantially impeded by traffic congestion in cities and towns, the council of said cities and towns may establish a benefited district for the control, regulation and parking of said vehicles. Said district shall be established by ordinance after a public hearing to determine the necessity therefor, and said cities and towns may then levy a tax not exceeding one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) mill per annum against all the privately owned business, professional, commercial and industrial property within said district, but no such tax shall be levied against private property used solely and only for private family residential purposes. Funds derived from said tax shall be used only for the purpose of retiring the revenue bonds, and then only after first applying on said retirement all funds available from the income from said parking lots or from parking meters.

"Sec. 6. All contracts or leases and the procedure thereunder by all cities and towns which have established or installed parking meters or entered into contracts therefor, which procedure, contracts, or leases have not heretofore been held illegal by the Supreme Court of Iowa, are hereby legalized.

"Sec. 7. Section three hundred ninety point five (390.5), Code 1946, is amended by striking from line nine (9) the word "five" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "twenty-five".

"Sec. 8. This act shall apply to cities organized under special charter.

"Sec. 9. Section three hundred ninety point four (390.4), Code 1946, is amended by striking from the last line thereof the words 'such as' and inserting in lieu thereof the word 'including'.

"Sec. 10. This act being deemed of immediate importance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and publication in The American Citizen, a newspaper published at Des Moines, Iowa, and the Cascade Pioneer, a newspaper published at Cascade, Iowa."

Further amend the title of House File 39 by inserting after the word "for" in line 4 of said title the words "a tax levy and".

Further amend House File 39 by renumbering the succeeding sections.

INTRODUCTION OF BILL

House File 485, by committee on appropriations, a bill for an act to appropriate from the general fund of the state of Iowa for each year of the biennium beginning July 1, 1947, and ending June 30, 1949, a fund for the board of control institutional state roads.

Read first time and passed on file.

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE AMENDMENTS

House File 39, a bill for an act to amend chapter three hundred ninety (390), Code 1946, relating to municipal parking lots, meters and traffic and parking control devices, the leasing of said lots, funds relating thereto, and providing for issuance of revenue bonds, with Senate amendment, was taken up for consideration, and the amendment read and considered.

SENATE AMENDMENT TO HOUSE FILE 39

Amend House File 39 by striking all after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. Chapter three hundred ninety (390), Code 1946, is amended by adding the following:

Cities and towns shall have additional power and authority to purchase or lease, install, maintain, repair and operate parking meters or other traffic or parking control devices.

"Sec. 2. Section three hundred ninety point one (390.1), Code 1946, is repealed and the following inserted in lieu thereof:

Cities and towns shall have additional power and authority to purchase, lease or otherwise acquire and to improve, maintain and operate parking lots or other off street parking areas for the parking of vehicles, but before such authority is exercised the city council shall hold a public hearing to determine whether or not public convenience and necessity will be served by the establishment of such facilities. One notice of such hearing shall be published at least two (2) weeks prior thereto and any person affected by the establishment of said parking lot or off street parking facilities may appear at such hearing and object thereto. Cities and towns shall have additional power and authority to accept gifts or funds from any person, firm, corporation or association or cooperative organization for the establishment and operation of parking lots, if after said hearing, the establishment of such parking facilities is approved.

"Sec. 3. Cities and towns shall have power and authority to use the funds received from the operation of parking meters to pay the cost of acquiring, operating, maintaining and repairing the same, and also to pay the cost of acquiring and operating other parking and traffic control devices. Any of such funds remaining thereafter may be used either to purchase, lease or otherwise acquire parking lots or other off street parking areas for the parking of vehicles, or said remaining funds may also be used for the retirement of revenue bonds issued for the purpose of acquiring parking lots, in the event the revenue from said parking lots is insufficient to pay the cost of retiring said bonds.

"Sec. 4. Cities and towns may issue revenue bonds for the purpose of acquiring parking lots or other off street parking areas for the parking of vehicles, as provided in section two (2) of this act. Said revenue bonds shall be retired either from funds received from the operation of said parking lots, from funds received from the operation of parking meters or from funds received from a tax levied against a benefited district as provided in the following section.

"Sec. 5. Wherever the free movement and parking of vehicular traffic is substantially impeded by traffic congestion in cities and towns, the council of said cities and towns may establish a benefited district for the control, regulation and parking of said vehicles. Said district shall be established by ordinance after a public hearing to determine the necessity therefor, and said cities and towns may then levy a tax not exceeding one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) mill per annum against all the privately owned business, professional, commercial and industrial property within said district, but no such tax shall be levied against private property used solely and only for private family residential purposes. Funds derived from said tax shall be used only for the purpose of retiring the revenue bonds, and then only after first applying on said retirement all funds available from the income from said parking lots or from parking meters.

"Sec. 6. All contracts or leases and the procedure thereunder by all cities and towns which have established or installed parking meters or entered into contracts therefor, which procedure, contracts, or leases have not heretofore been held illegal by the Supreme Court of Iowa, are hereby legalized.

"Sec. 7. Section three hundred ninety point five (390.5), Code 1946, is amended by striking from line nine (9) the word "five" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "twenty-five".

"Sec. 8. This act shall apply to cities organized under special charter.

"Sec. 9. Section three hundred ninety point four (390.4), Code 1946, is amended by striking from the last line thereof the words "such as" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "including".

"Sec. 10. This act being deemed of immediate importance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and publication in The American Citizen, a newspaper published at Des Moines, Iowa, and the Cascade Pioneer, a newspaper published at Cascade, Iowa."

Further amend the title of House File 39 by inserting after the word "for" in line 4 of said title the words "a tax levy and".

Van Eaton of Woodbury moved the House concur in the Senate amendment to House File 39.

Motion prevailed and the House concurred in Senate amendment to House File 39.

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the House and the title was agreed to.

House File 125, a bill for an act to amend chapter six hundred (600), Code 1946, relating to adoptions and fixing penalties for violation of the law relating to adoptions with report of committee recommending amendment and passage, was taken up for consideration.

Nelson of Woodbury moved that the following amendment be substituted for the committee amendment:

1. Amend House File 125 by inserting the following at the conclusion of section one (1) thereof:

"The judges of the district court may designate a municipal court judge to act as judge in adoption matters in cases arising in any city in which any such court is organized and in cases arising in any part of any county convenient thereto and, in such case, petitions for adoption may be filed in municipal court."

2. Further amend House File 125 by striking section two (2) thereof and substituting the following:

"Sec. 2. Section six hundred point two (600.2), Code 1946, is hereby repealed and the following substituted therefor:

'Except in cases of children under the jurisdiction of the Board of Control of State Institutions, the Clerk shall forthwith transmit two copies of the petition together with any orders of recommendations of the court relative thereto to the State Department of Social Welfare. The State Department, through its own agents, one of its licensed agencies, or other agency appointed by it upon recommendation of the court, shall immediately make a complete investigation of the allegations of the petition and the suitability of the proposed adoption. The State Department shall, within sixty (60) days, forward a copy of the investigation report to the court together with its recommendation as to the suitability of the proposed foster home, whether the child is a proper subject for adoption and what period of residence, not to exceed twelve (12) months, in the home of the petitioner or petitioners, should be required prior to final decree.

The Court shall provide for such hearings in adoption proceedings as may be necessary and shall prescribe notice thereof. Upon completion of the investigation, the court: (a) may require further investigation; (b) may require an immediate hearing on the merits; (c) unless the petition be sooner denied, shall fix a period, not to exceed twelve (12) months, during which the child shall reside in the foster home prior to final decree; (d) shall require a further report by the State Department covering the period of residency to be submitted prior to the expiration thereof; (e) and shall enter such other order or orders as may be necessary to protect the parties.

If the child is not living in the proposed home, the court, after the initial investigation and upon application, may order the child placed in such home after notice, prescribed by the court, to the person or persons or organization with whom the child is residing and hearing upon such application."

Nelson of Woodbury offered the following amendment proposed by him to the substitute amendment:

Amend the amendment of Nelson of Woodbury, Steinberg of Story, Morrissey of Jasper, to House File 125 by striking after the word "agencies" in lines 24 and 25 of section two (2) of said amendment the following "or other agency appointed by it upon recommendation of the court" and substituting in lieu thereof the following: "or other qualified agency or agencies appointed by the court".

Further amend by inserting after the word "Department" in line 28 of section two (2) the following: "or other qualified agency or agencies appointed by the court"; by striking the word "shall" in line 44 and substituting in lieu thereof the word "may".

Nelson of Woodbury asked and obtained unanimous consent to amend his amendment as follows:

Amend line six (6) by striking the word "or".

Further amend by inserting after the word "agencies" in line seven (7) the word "persons or persons"

Further amend line ten (10) by striking the word "or" and inserting after the word "agencies" the words "person or persons"

SENATE FILE 245 SUBSTITUTED FOR HOUSE FILE 230

Rankin of Franklin asked and obtained unanimous consent to substitute Senate File 245 for House File 230.

Senate File 245, a bill for an act to provide for a county board of education and county superintendent and assistants in each of the several counties of the state, the manner of selection of same, to prescribe their duties and powers, to amend sections two hundred seventy-one point twelve (271.12), three hundred forty-one point one (341.1), and three hundred forty-one point six (341.6), and to repeal sections two hundred seventy-one point one (271.1) to two hundred seventy-one point eleven (271.11), inclusive, two hundred seventy-three point one (273.1) to two hundred seventy-three point four (273.4), inclusive, three hundred forty point thirteen (340.13) to three hundred forty point fifteen (340.15), inclusive, and three hundred one point twelve (301.12) to three hundred one point twenty-three (301.23), inclusive, Code 1946, was taken up for consideration.

Rankin of Franklin offered the following amendment proposed by him and moved its adoption.

Amend section twenty-one (21), lines seven (7) and eight (8) by striking the words and figures "three hundred one point twenty-three

Further amend by adding the following new sections:

(1) "Sec. 24. Amend section three hundred one point fifteen (301.15), line three (3), by adding the words "school system" after the word "county".

(2) "Sec. 25. Amend section three hundred one point nineteen (301.19), line two (2), following the word "is", by striking "under county uniformity of textbooks as provided in this chapter" and substituting in lieu thereof "a part of the county school system".

(3) "Sec. 26. Amend section three hundred one point twenty-three (301.23) by striking all of lines one (1) to five (5), inclusive, up to the semicolon (;) and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "The provisions of section three hundred one point fifteen (301.15) to three hundred one point twenty-two (301.22), inclusive, shall not apply to school corporations which are not included in the county school system."

Amendment adopted.

Rankin of Franklin asked and obtained unanimous consent to withdraw the following amendment proposed by him.

1. Amend Section two (2), line seventeen (17), by inserting after the word "districts", the following: "joining the county school system by such vote,".

Rankin of Franklin offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

3. Amend the title by striking all of said title and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "A bill for an act creating a county school system, relating to the operation thereof and to the county board of education, the county superintendent of schools and his assistants, the manner of their selection and prescribing their duties and powers and providing for the selection of textbooks for said system."

Amendment adopted.

LAWRENCE of Wapello.

VAN EATON of Woodbury.

NELSON of Woodbury.

Amend House File 437 by striking all of sections one (1) and two (2) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Section 1. Powers and duties of the department. The department, upon its own initiative, may study and investigate or survey all problems concerned with the pollution of any stream, lake or other body of water, its prevention, abatement and control and may determine methods, as far as practicable, of preventing pollution of such waters. The department may make such investigation upon the written petition of:

1. The council of any town.
2. Any local board of health.

The power vested by this section in the department shall not apply, however, to the lower five thousand (5,000) feet of any stream flowing into a river at a place where such river forms a part of the boundary line of the state, nor shall such lower five thousand (5,000) feet constitute "waters" within the meaning of or specified by this section.

The department on its own initiative may study and investigate streams, lakes or other bodies of water for the purpose of improving said waters in reference to public health or source of domestic water supply and aquatic life.

The term "pollution" shall for the purposes of this section mean the discharge or deposit of sewage, industrial wastes or other wastes in such condition, manner, or quantity as may cause:

- a. The formation of sludge banks, or
- b. The dissolved oxygen content of the stream (based on existing actual analysis and not computed from oxygen balance) to drop below four (4) parts per million on the average cross-section of the stream; provided, however, that the discharge of effluent from a plant designed and used for the treatment of sewage, industrial wastes or other wastes shall in no event be considered as in violation of the standard of this subparagraph b. if the Bio-chemical oxygen demand of such effluent does not exceed fifty (50) parts per million on a weighted twenty-four hour average, or
- c. The deposit of oils, chemical or other industrial wastes so as to render the stream injurious to fish life or destroy the scenic value.

Further amend by renumbering subsequent sections.

LAWRENCE of Wapello.

VAN EATON of Woodbury.

NELSON of Woodbury.

Amend Senate File 211 as passed by the Senate by adding immediately following section eleven (11) the following section, to-wit:

"Sec. 12. It shall be unlawful for the state liquor control commission to operate a retail liquor store in any incorporated town or city, including cities under special charter and those under the commission form of government, in which a majority of the votes cast at an election held therein, as herein provided, oppose such stores. Such election shall be initiated, called and held in the same manner as elections provided for to determine whether wines and spirits be sold at retail for consumption on the premises where sold and all provisions of this act relating to such elections shall apply equally to elections under authority of this section. The proposal submitted to the electors shall be: "Shall the Iowa State Liquor Control Commission operate a liquor store in (name of city or town)?" If a majority of the votes cast on such proposal opposes the operation of a state liquor store in such city or town the state liquor control commission shall discontinue the operation of any such store in such city or town within sixty days after such election. The commission shall not operate liquor stores outside incorporated cities and towns.

"The question of sale of wines and spirits for retail consumption on the premises where sold and the question of operation of a liquor store by the state liquor control commission may be submitted in any such city or town at the same or separate elections, but in any event separate ballots shall be used and the election on each of such questions shall be initiated by a separate petition, however either of said questions may be submitted to the electors without the submission of the other."

Read first time and passed on file.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 14

Whereas, the use of alcoholic beverages is rapidly increasing in Iowa; and

Whereas, the habit-forming practice of the use of alcoholic beverages in many cases results in lowered physical and mental efficiency, broken homes, juvenile delinquency, increased crime, and general disregard for law and order, all detrimental to the general Public Welfare; and

Whereas, the General Assembly of Iowa does recognize the inherent right and duty of government to protect and safeguard the general public welfare of its people by all proper means; and

Whereas, the above habit-forming practice is constantly being stimulated and encouraged by the use of advertising and propaganda, much of which comes from out of the state and which has for its purpose financial profit rather than the general public interest and welfare; and

Whereas, there has been introduced in Congress a bill by Senator Arthur Capper known as "S. 265, 'to prohibit the transportation in interstate commerce of advertisement of alcoholic beverages'" which bill is now in the hands of the Senate Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, of which Senator Wallace H. White, Jr., of Maine is the Chairman

Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate concurring: That the General Assembly of Iowa hereby urges its Senators and Representatives in Congress to use their influence and support in behalf of S. 265 to the end that the general welfare of the people, and especially the youth of Iowa, and of the United States, be safeguarded and protected.

Furthermore, That a copy of said Resolution be sent to the United States Senators from Iowa and the United States Representatives from Iowa, to the Hon. Wallace H. White, Jr., Senator from Maine and to the Hon. Arthur Capper, Senator from Kansas.

Laid over under Rule 34.

ADOPTION OF COMMITTEE REPORTS

The Chief Clerk announced the adoption of reports of committees on House Files 69, 237, 292, 326, 336, 339, 341, 369, 390, 391, 395, 398, 408, 445, 473, 474, 479 and Senate File 214, under Rule 72.

BILLS INDEFINITELY POSTPONED

The Chief Clerk announced the following bills indefinitely postponed under Rule 27: House Files 304, 345 and 439.

COMMITTEE REPORT

Sloane of Polk, from the committee on judiciary 2, submitted the following report:

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee on judiciary 2 to whom was referred House File 389, a bill for an act to legalize and validate proceedings authorizing and providing for the issuance, sale and delivery of bridge bonds by counties in Iowa, and provisions made for taxes for the payment of said bonds and declaring said bonds issued pursuant to said proceedings to be enforceable obligations of such counties, begs leave to report it has had the same under consideration and has instructed me to report the same back to the House with the recommendation that the same be amended as follows, and when so amended the bill do pass:

Amend House File 389 as follows:

By striking the enacting clause, and section one (1) of said bill and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

“Whereas, at an election held on the fifth day of November, 1946, there was submitted to the qualified electors of Muscatine county, Iowa, the following proposition, ‘shall Muscatine county be authorized to issue, sell and deliver bridge bonds by the county and levy and collect an annual tax on all of the taxable property within said county to pay the principal and interest on said bonds’.

And

Whereas, doubts have arisen concerning the validity and legal sufficiency of said proceedings and bonds, and it is deemed advisable to put said doubts and all others that might arise concerning same forever at rest, Now therefore

Be It Enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

Section 1. That all proceedings heretofore taken by the board of supervisors of Muscatine county, Iowa, in conducting an election and pursuant to a favorable election authorizing and providing for the issuance, sale and delivery of bridge bonds by Muscatine county, Iowa, and providing for the levy and collection of annual taxes on all of the taxable property in Muscatine county to pay the interest and principal of said bonds, are hereby legalized, validated and confirmed and said bridge bonds so issued, sold and delivered pursuant to and in accordance with said proceedings are hereby declared to be legal and constitute valid and binding obligations of the county.”

Further amend the title by striking the words “counties in Iowa” in line three (3) and inserting in lieu thereof the words “Muscatine county, Iowa.”

TED SLOANE, Chairman.

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the House and the title was agreed to.

House File 389, a bill for an act to legalize and validate proceedings authorizing and providing for the issuance, sale and delivery of bridge bonds by counties in Iowa, and provisions made for taxes for the payment of said bonds and declaring said bonds issued pursuant to said proceedings to be enforceable obligations of such counties, with report of committee recommending amendment and passage, was taken up for consideration.

Rule 72 suspended by unanimous consent.

Hendrix of Muscatine offered the following amendment proposed by the committee and moved its adoption:

Amend House File 389 as follows:

By striking the enacting clause, and section one (1) of said bill and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Whereas, at an election held on the fifth day of November, 1946, there was submitted to the qualified electors of Muscatine County, Iowa, the following proposition, 'shall Muscatine County be authorized to issue, sell and deliver bridge bonds by the county and levy and collect an annual tax on all of the taxable property within said county to pay the principal and interest on said bonds'. And

Whereas, doubts have arisen concerning the validity and legal sufficiency of said proceedings and bonds, and it is deemed advisable to put said doubts and all others that might arise concerning same forever at rest, Now therefore

Be It Enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

Section 1. That all proceedings heretofore taken by the board of supervisors of Muscatine County, Iowa, in conducting an election and pursuant to a favorable election authorizing and providing for the issuance, sale and delivery of bridge bonds by Muscatine County, Iowa, and providing for the levy and collection of annual taxes on all the taxable property in Muscatine County to pay the interest and principal of said bonds, are hereby legalized, validated and confirmed and said bridge bonds so issued, sold and delivered pursuant to and in accordance with said proceedings are hereby declared to be legal and constitute valid and binding obligations of the county."

Further amend the title by striking the words "counties in Iowa" in line three (3) and inserting in lieu thereof the words "Muscatine County, Iowa."

Amendment adopted

Hendrix of Muscatine moved that the bill be read a last time now and placed upon its passage, which motion prevailed, and the bill was read a last time.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

The following message was received from the Senate:

MR. SPEAKER: I am directed to inform your honorable body that the Senate has passed the following bill in which the concurrence of the Senate was asked:

House File 358, a bill for an act legalizing actions of the city council and the city clerk of Clinton, Iowa, in making expenditures, incurring indebtedness, and issuing warrants on the general fund of the city of Clinton.

W. J. SCARBOROUGH, Secretary.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

Weichman of Benton, from the committee on appropriations, submitted the following report:

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee on appropriations to whom was referred House File 49, a bill for an act to appropriate funds, from the general fund of the state, to build a bridge over Squaw Creek on the Thirteenth Street Road between the City of Ames and Iowa State College, on land owned by the State of Iowa, begs leave to report it has had the same under consideration and has instructed me to report the same back to the House with the recommendation that the same do pass.

HARRY E. WEICHMAN, Chairman.

Also:

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee on appropriations to whom was referred House File 289, a bill for an act relating to the expenses of soil conservation district commissioners and providing for an appropriation for that purpose, begs leave to report it has had the same under consideration and has instructed me to report the same back to the House with the recommendation that the same do pass.

HARRY E. WEICHMAN, Chairman.

Siefkas of Clarke, from the committee on agriculture 1, submitted the following report:

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee on agriculture 1 to whom was referred House File 160, a bill for an act relating to the distribution, sale or transportation of adulterated or misbranded insecticides, fungicides, rodenticides, and other economic poisons and devices; regulating traffic therein; providing for registration and examination of such materials, imposing penalties, and for other purposes, begs leave to report it has had the same under consideration and has instructed me to report the same back to the House with the recommendation that the same be amended as follows, and when so amended the bill do pass:

Amend House File 160 by striking subsection 10 of section 1, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"10. The term "ingredient statement" means either—

(a) a statement of the name and percentage of each active ingredient, together with the total percentage of the inert ingredients, in the economic poison; or

(b) a statement of the name of each active ingredient, together with the name of each and total percentage of the inert ingredients, if any there be, in the economic poison (except Option (a) shall apply if the preparation is highly toxic to man, determined as provided in section 9 of this act); and, in addition to (a) or (b) in case the economic poison contains arsenic in any form, a statement of the percentages of total and water soluble arsenic, each calculated as elemental arsenic."

Amend House File 160 by striking section 8 and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Sec. 8. Registration—.

1. Every economic poison which is distributed, sold, or offered for sale within this state or delivered for transportation or transported in intrastate commerce or between points within this state through any point outside this state shall be registered in the office of the Secretary. Each registration shall expire June 30 following its issuance and no registration shall be transferable. A penalty of fifty percent of the registration fee shall be imposed if certificate of registration is not applied for on or before July 1 of each year, or within thirty days after such economic poisons are first manufactured or sold within the state. The registrant shall file with the Secretary a statement including

(a) the name and address of the registrant and the name and address of the person whose name will appear on the label, if other than the registrant;

(b) the name and brand, if any, of each product to be registered, together with the ingredient statement in accordance with subsection 10 of section 1 of this chapter;

(c) a complete copy of the labeling accompanying the economic poison and a statement of all claims to be made for it including directions for use; and

(d) if requested by the Secretary a full description of the tests made and the results thereof upon which the claims are based. In the case of renewal of registration, a statement shall be required only with respect to information which is different from that furnished when the economic poison was registered or last reregistered.

2. Every application for registration shall be accompanied by an inspection fee of five dollars for each product registered up to and including five products from the same applicant. Thereafter the fee shall be one dollar for each product registered from said applicant during the same fiscal year. In case the registration fee is paid by the manufacturer, distributor, or any person other than the retailer, then in that event nothing in this section shall be construed as applying to the retailer. The Secretary of Agriculture shall use said registration fees for the enforcement of the provisions of this chapter, and any amount of said funds in excess of one thousand dollars at the end of any fiscal year shall be transferred to the treasurer of the state and credited to the State General Fund.

3. The Secretary whenever he deems it necessary in the administration of this act, may require the submission of the complete formula of any economic poison. If it appears to the Secretary that the composition of the article is such as to warrant the proposed claims for it and if the article and its labeling and other material required to be submitted comply with the requirements of section 5 of this act, he shall register the article.

4. If it does not appear to the Secretary that the article is such as to warrant the proposed claims for it or if the article and its labeling and other material required to be submitted do not comply with the provisions of this act, he shall notify the registrant of the manner in which the article, labeling, or other material required to be submitted fail to comply with the act so as to afford the registrant an opportunity to make the necessary corrections. If, upon receipt of such notice, the registrant insists that such corrections are not necessary and requests in writing that the article be registered, the Secretary shall register the article, under protest, and such registration shall be accompanied by a warning, in writing, to the registrant of the apparent failure of the article to comply with the provisions of this act. In order to protect the public, the Secretary, on his own motion, may at any time cancel the registration under protest in accordance with the foregoing procedure. In no event shall registration of an article, whether or not protested, be construed as a defense for the commission of any offense prohibited under section 5 of this act.

5. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, registration is not required in the case of an economic poison shipped from one plant within this state to another plant within this state operated by the same person.

Amend House File 160 by adding a new section, as follows:

"Section 21. Effective date. The provisions of this act shall become effective on January 1, 1948."

HENRY SIEFKAS, Chairman.

HOUSE FILE 266 WITHDRAWN

Kruse of Floyd asked and obtained unanimous consent to withdraw House File 266 from further consideration of the House.

Schwengel of Scott offered the following House Concurrent Resolution:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 16

Whereas, The Governor of the state of Iowa did appoint his Centennial Committee for the purpose of outlining a program of recognition of Iowa's first hundred years of statehood and

Whereas, Through the effort of the Committee much interest was promoted in Iowa History that was both educational and informative and

Whereas, Through the efforts of this Committee the Iowa Centennial Coin was minted by the United States Government and

Whereas, This Committee did by the Governor's direction establish the Iowa Centennial Coin Memorial Fund and

Whereas, The people of Iowa through the members of the House and of the Senate should give recognition of appreciation for the many hours and days of work given unselfishly in this very worthwhile program for the people of Iowa

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring: That the House and Senate meet in Joint Convention at eleven thirty A.M. (11:30) March thirty-first (31).

Be It Further Resolved, That the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate each appoint three (3) members from their respective Chambers to serve as a Committee to arrange the program to receive the report of the Centennial Committee and give proper recognition to them.

Laid over under Rule 34.

Van Eaton of Woodbury offered the following House Concurrent Resolution:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 17

Whereas, The juvenile delinquency of our state and nation is a serious social problem; and

Whereas, The youth of America are ardent movie fans; and

Whereas, Motion pictures tend to glamorize and thereby promote the drinking of intoxicating liquors to the detriment of our youth; and

Whereas, The general welfare of the people and particularly of our youth is the concern of government;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring: That the liquor scenes and the drinking now exhibited by motion pictures are detrimental to the welfare of the citizens of Iowa and, therefore, should be deleted.

Be It Further Resolved: That the next General Assembly be urged to enact legislation to control and eliminate showings of this kind within the boundaries of the state of Iowa, unless by voluntary action on the part of the motion picture industry, scenes of this type are eliminated from their productions.

It Is Further Resolved: That the Chief Clerk of the House be instructed to send copies of this resolution to Eric Johnston, President, Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America; Jimmy Fidler; Louella Parsons; and to the major motion picture producers of the United States.

Laid over under Rule 34.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

The following messages were received from the Senate:

MR. SPEAKER: I am directed to inform your honorable body that the Senate has passed the following bill in which the concurrence of the House is asked:

Senate File 325, a bill for an act to legalize and validate proceedings authorizing and providing for the issuance, sale and delivery of bridge bonds by Muscatine county, Iowa.

Also: That the Senate has passed the following bill in which the concurrence of the House is asked:

CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 14

Troeger of Wapello asked and obtained unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the following House Concurrent Resolution:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 14

Whereas, the use of alcoholic beverages is rapidly increasing in Iowa; and

Whereas, the habit-forming practice of the use of alcoholic beverages in many cases results in lowered physical and mental efficiency, broken homes, juvenile delinquency, increased crime, and general disregard for law and order, all detrimental to the general Public Welfare; and

Whereas, the General Assembly of Iowa does recognize the inherent right and duty of government to protect and safeguard the general public welfare of its people by all proper means; and

Whereas, the above habit-forming practice is constantly being stimulated and encouraged by the use of advertising and propaganda, much of which comes from out of the state and which has for its purpose financial profit rather than the general public interest and welfare; and

Whereas, there has been introduced in Congress a bill by Senator Arthur Capper known as "S. 265, 'to prohibit the transportation in interstate commerce of advertisement of alcoholic beverages'" which bill is now in the hands of the Senate Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, of which Senator Wallace H. White, Jr., of Maine is the Chairman

Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate concurring: That the General Assembly of Iowa hereby urges its Senators and Representatives in Congress to use their influence and support in behalf of S. 265 to the end that the general welfare of the people, and especially the youth of Iowa, and of the United States, be safeguarded and protected.

Furthermore, That a copy of said Resolution be sent to the United States Senators from Iowa and the United States Representatives from Iowa, to the Hon. Wallace H. White, Jr., Senator from Maine and to the Hon. Arthur Capper, Senator from Kansas.

Troeger of Wapello moved its adoption.

Motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

"In each congressional district of the state, in which is located one or more institutions under supervision of the board of control, there is hereby created a citizens advisory committee composed of five electors, no more than three of whom shall be members of the same political party. Said committee in each congressional district shall be appointed by the members of the general assembly residing in such district, however members of the general assembly shall be ineligible for appointment.

Each member shall hold office for a period of six years commencing on July 1 of the year of his appointment, except that of the members of the first of such committees appointed in each district one shall hold office for two years, two shall hold office for four years, and two shall hold office for six years. All regular appointments shall be made prior to thirty days following adjournment of each regular session of the general assembly. Vacancies shall be filled by appointment at any time.

Each committee shall meet and organize by selection of a chairman on the second Monday in July of each odd-numbered year.

The duties of the citizens advisory committee shall be to serve in an advisory capacity only to the board of control. They shall inspect each institution in the district not less than once each quarter and oftener if desired, however each inspection shall be unannounced prior thereto. Individual members of the citizens advisory committee may make separate inspections at any time and no member shall be denied admission to any institution in the district at any time nor to any part of such institution. Neither the committee nor any member thereof shall make suggestions to any officer or employee at any institution but such suggestions shall, in each instance, be made directly to the board of control in writing. Members of the citizens advisory committees shall receive no compensation except that they shall receive mileage reimbursement as provided by law for state officers and the chairmen shall be allowed a per diem of ten dollars per day on trips to the state capital to confer with the board of control. The chairmen shall meet at least three times each year with the board of control at such times as said board shall direct and oftener if called by said board."

Further amend said Senate File 411 by correcting the title to conform to the foregoing amendment.

LAWRENCE of Wapello.

Amend House File 146 by striking sections two (2), three (3), four (4), five (5), six (6) and seven (7) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Sec. 2. Amend chapter one hundred ninety-nine (199), Code 1946, by adding thereto the following:

Labeling vegetable seeds:

(1). Contents of the label. Vegetable seed in packets and in larger containers shall be labeled with the required information in any form that is clearly legible. Any tag used shall be securely attached to the container. The label may contain information in addition to that required by the act, provided such information is not misleading.

(2). Kind and variety. The label or the face of the container shall bear the name of the kind and variety of the seed. The representation of kind and variety shall be confined to the recognized name of the kind and variety. It shall not have affixed thereto names or terms that create a misleading impression as to the history or quality of the seed.

(3). Name of shipper or consignee. The full name and address of either the shipper, or consignee, shall appear upon the label except that if the name and address of the shipper are not shown, a code designation identifying the shipper shall be shown.

(4). Code designation. The code designation used in lieu of the full name and address of the person who transports' or delivers seed for transportation in interstate commerce shall be approved by the Assistant Administrator for Regulatory and Marketing Service Work, Production and Marketing Administration, or such other person as may be designated by him for the purpose. When used, the code designation shall appear on the label in a clear and legible manner.

(5). Germination equal to or above standard. Vegetable seeds which have a germination equal to or better than the standard set forth in section two hundred one point thirty-one (201.31), need not bear a statement showing the percentage of germination.

(6). Germination below standard. Vegetable seeds which have a germination percentage less than the standard set forth in section two hundred one point thirty-one (201.31) shall have the words, "Below Standard," clearly shown in a conspicuous place on the label or on the face of the container, in type no smaller than 8 point. The seed shall also be labeled to show the percentage of germination and the percentage of any hard seed present and the month and year in which the germination test was completed. The percentage of hard seed shall not be included in the percentage of germination. No more than 5 calendar months shall have elapsed between the last day of the month in which the germination test was completed and the date of transportation or delivery for transportation in interstate commerce.

(7). Germination standards for vegetable seeds in interstate commerce. The following germination standards for vegetable seeds in interstate commerce are determined and established under section four hundred three (c) (403) (c) of the act:

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the House and the title was agreed to.

Senate File 411, a bill for an act to amend chapter two hundred eighteen (218), Code 1946, providing that the board of control shall employ a director of mental institutions, a director of corrective institutions, a director of child welfare and a director of industries, setting forth their qualifications and their duties and responsibilities, with report of committee recommending passage, was taken up for consideration.

Lawrence of Wapello offered the following amendment proposed by her and moved its adoption:

Amend Senate File 411 by adding the following as a new section preceding section eight (8) and by renumbering the following sections:

"In each congressional district of the state, in which is located one or more institutions under supervision of the board of control, there is hereby created a citizens' advisory committee composed of five electors, no more than three of whom shall be members of the same political party. Said committee in each congressional district shall be appointed by the members of the general assembly residing in such district, however members of the general assembly shall be ineligible for appointment.

Each member shall hold office for a period of six years commencing on July 1 of the year of his appointment, except that of the members of the first of such committees appointed in each district one shall hold office for two years, two shall hold office for four years, and two shall hold office for six years. All regular appointments shall be made prior to thirty days following adjournment of each regular session of the general assembly. Vacancies shall be filled by appointment at any time.

Each committee shall meet and organize by selection of a chairman on the second Monday in July of each odd-numbered year.

The duties of the citizens' advisory committee shall be to serve in an advisory capacity only to the board of control. They shall inspect each institution in the district not less than once each quarter and oftener if desired, however each inspection shall be unannounced prior thereto. Individual members of the citizens advisory committee may make separate inspections at any time and no member shall be denied admission to any institution in the district at any time nor to any part of such institution. Neither the committee nor any member thereof shall make suggestions to any officer or employee at any institution but such suggestions shall, in each instance, be made directly to the board of control in writing. Members of the citizens advisory committee shall receive no compensation except that they shall receive mileage reimbursement as provided by law for state officers and the chairmen shall be allowed a per diem of ten dollars per day on trips to the state capitol to confer with the board of control. The chairmen shall meet at least three times each year with the board of control at such times as said board shall direct and oftener if called by said board."

Further amend said Senate File 411 by correcting the title to conform to the foregoing amendment.

Lawrence of Wapello offered the following amendment to the amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend line twenty (20) by striking the period (.) and inserting the following: "the first meeting shall be upon the call of the Governor, at a place and time within the congressional district, and at a time designated by him".
