JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

HALL OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
DES MOINES, IOWA, JANUARY 12, 1953.

Pursuant to law, the House of Representatives of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly of Iowa convened at 10:00 a.m., Monday, January 12, 1953.

The House was called to order by the Honorable Paul Parker, Representative from Polk County.

Prayer was offered by the Reverend Glen McMichael, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Waverly, Iowa.

Schwengel of Scott asked and obtained unanimous consent that the following prayer be printed in the Journal:

Almighty God who holds the nations in Thy hands, who by many generations has been called the Lord of Hosts, to whom the people of generation after generation come with hope and confidence or from whom they hide their faces and their deeds, and by whom we all live even when we doubt Thy very existence—we stand before Thee in supplication for our State.

Though we are set in the midst of the best opportunities men have ever known, we know that the dangers and crises of the times are more than men can manage alone; therefore, we pray unto Thee to guide the citizenry of this commonwealth toward a perfect reverence and obedience to Thy Sovereignty. May every citizen in the State look upon civil government as an appropriate instrument of Divine justice and human brotherhood. Oh teach us anew, as though none of us had even once thought it before this moment, that the good and enlightened citizen seeks not his own but his fellow citizens' well-being. Deter us from sectionalism and provincialism wherein each area seeks to gain at the expense of other areas. And give us each a holy courage and ambition to be more productive for the State than we are costly to it.

And we especially pray unto Thee on behalf of these legislators and administrators. Raise up and maintain within them a ruling sense of holy obligation, not to any district or county but to the whole commonwealth. Let them be constantly aware that the peril to their integrity lies in thinking of themselves as representatives of a district; whereas the source of wisdom lies in being commissioned Thy ambassadors for the whole populace. Grant profound legislative wisdom that the laws of this state may not be for the binding of the people, but for their freedom and liberation forever.

And all these things we pray—always remembering to thank Thee who art the source of our liberties—jn the name of Jesus Christ. Amen.

TEMPORARY OFFICERS

On motion of Judd of Clinton, A. C. Gustafson of Polk County was elected Acting Chief Clerk. Mr. Gustafson presented himself and took and subscribed to the following oath:

"I do solemnly swear that I will support the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of Iowa and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of my office to the best of my ability, so help me God."

A. C. GUSTAFSON.

Putney of Tama moved that the Honorable A. C. Hanson of Lyon County be elected Temporary Speaker.

Motion prevailed.

Lucken of Plymouth moved that a committee of two be appointed to escort the Temporary Speaker to the chair.

Motion prevailed and the following committee was appointed: Lucken of Plymouth and Huisman of Osceola.

Mr. Hanson was escorted to the chair, and the oath of office was administered by Acting Chief Clerk Gustafson.

CREDENTIALS OF MEMBERS

Goode of Davis moved that a committee of five on credentials be appointed and that the accredited list of the Secretary of State be accepted.

Motion prevailed and the following committee was appointed: Goode of Davis, Pendleton of Buena Vista, Hoth of Allamakee, Turner of Mills and Reilly of Dubuque.

The committee retired and, upon returning, presented the following report:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON CREDENTIALS

MR. SPEAKER: We, your committee on credentials, respectfully report that we find the following named persons duly elected to and entitled to seats in the House of Representatives of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly as shown by the duplicate copies of the certificates of election on file in the office of the Secretary of State.

ELECTION OF SPEAKER

Mensing of Cedar presented the name of the Honorable William S. Lynes of Bremer County as candidate for Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly, preceding such nomination with the following remarks:

MR. SPEAKER, LADY AND GENTLEMEN OF THE HOUSE:

A retrospect in the history of the office of Speaker of the House of Representatives, reminding of the eminent men that have graced the chair of this legislative chamber, leaves us with a feeling of instinctive awe and respect and makes us mindful or conscious of the import of our imminent duty, namely the designation of our presiding officer.

Many of our great statesmen, both state and national, graduated from the Speaker's chair of this House and rose to positions of greater fame and renown. All who have filled the chair, including, especially, present company, have by their part in the making of our state added prestige, lustre and honor to the glorious record and history of our great state.

Those of us who served in the Fifty-fourth Assembly had the benefit of the capacity and integrity of an able leader. Our speaker, a man of acute sensibilities, combined fairness and justness with tact and statesmanship and gave an administration that won the acclaim of all. It is our good fortune that such ability and facility is again available to us and I rise with happiness in my heart to nominate for Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-fifth Iowa General Assembly, the illustrious and distinguished gentleman from the county of Bremer, the Honorable William S. Lynes.

Ringgenberg of Story seconded the nomination of William S. Lynes for Speaker of the House, preceded by the following remarks:

MR. SPEAKER, MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE: I agree whole heartedly with the remarks just made by the gentleman from Cedar. In addition I should like to point out that the experience gained by the gentleman from Bremer County, as Speaker last session, better qualifies him for that high office today.

As I look to the next 100 days, I see a rough and rocky legislative trail ahead. We need a man with a steady hand, sound judgment, and experience in the driver's seat. The gentleman from Bremer has these qualifications. For that reason, and those listed by the gentleman from Cedar I second the nomination of the Honorable William S. Lynes for Speaker of the House of this Fifty-fifth General Assembly.

Reilly of Dubuque seconded the nomination and moved that the Chief Clerk be authorized to cast the votes of all the members of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly for the Honorable William S. Lynes as Speaker of the House.

Motion prevailed.

In accordance with the foregoing motion, the Chief Clerk cast the votes of all the members of the House of Representatives for the Honorable William S. Lynes as Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly. The Honorable William S. Lynes of Bremer County, having received all of the votes cast for the office of Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly, was declared duly elected to that office.

Moore of Louisa moved that a committee of two be named to escort the Speaker to the chair.

Motion prevailed and the following committee was named: Moore of Louisa and Ballhagen of Butler.

PRESENTATION TO SPEAKER

The Honorable William S. Lynes was escorted to the Speaker's station and, upon being sworn, assumed the chair. Temporary Speaker Hanson presented Speaker Lynes with the gavel and congratulated him on his unanimous election. Speaker Lynes thanked the House for the honor bestowed upon him and assured the House of his full cooperation.

Speaker Lynes in the chair.

PERMANENT CHIEF CLERK

McNeal of Wright moved that A. C. Gustafson be made permanent Chief Clerk of the House.

Motion prevailed and A. C. Gustafson was declared elected permanent Chief Clerk.

ADOPTION OF TEMPORARY RULES

Lisle of Page moved that the rules of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-fourth General Assembly be in full force and effect until the adoption of the report of the committee on rules.

Motion prevailed.

COMMITTEE TO NOTIFY GOVERNOR

Kuester of Cass moved that a committee of three be appointed to notify the Governor that the House is duly organized and ready to receive any communications that he may desire to transmit.

Motion prevailed and the following committee was appointed: Kuester of Cass, Hawkins of Decatur and Watson of Warren.

COMMITTEE TO NOTIFY THE SENATE

Burrows of Benton moved that a committee of three be appointed to notify the Senate that the House is duly organized and ready to receive any communications that it may desire to transmit.

Motion prevailed and the following committee was appointed: Burrows of Benton, Walter of Hardin and Kudsk of Carroll.

ADOPTION OF HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

Abel of Clayton offered the following resolution, asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration, and moved its adoption:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 1

Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring: That a joint convention of the two houses of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly be held on January 13, 1953, at 2:00 p.m.

Be It Further Resolved: That Governor Beardsley be invited to read his message at this joint convention of the two houses of the General Assembly and that the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House be designated to deliver the invitation to him.

Be It Further Resolved: That at this joint convention the votes for Governor and Lieutenant Governor be canvassed and the result announced and recorded as provided by law.

Motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

ELECTION OF SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

Patrick of Sioux placed in nomination the Honorable Vern Lisle of Page County as candidate for Speaker pro tempore of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly, preceding his nomination with the following remarks:

MR. SPEAKER AND MEMBERS OF THE FIFTY-FIFTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY:

I wish to place in nomination the name of a man for Speaker pro tempore.

This man has served in this Assembly for the past two sessions and has been a credit to himself and an honor to this House of Representatives. He has shown by his integrity in the operation of his own business that he has the qualifications of a leader. The labor relationship in his own factory has been above reproach.

For the past two years he has served on a committee in Washington, D.C., in an advisory capacity and has gained the respect and confidence of all who have met him. We are most fortunate to have a man of such experience and capabilities to serve in this body.

It is with the greatest of pleasure that I nominate the Honorable Vern Lisle of Page County as Speaker pro tempore of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly.

Walker of Hamilton seconded the nomination of Vern Lisle as Speaker pro tempore of the House of Representatives, preceding his nomination with the following remarks:

MR. SPEAKER AND MEMBERS OF THE FIFTY-FIFTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY:

It is my privilege and pleasure to second the nomination of a great and good man. Great, because he has been successful in making a niche for himself in the business world and good for the reason that he has been able to level himself with the average individual. He is known for giving a more than even break in all deliberations, and his main goal is to try and contribute something to make this world a better place in which to live and raise our families—our own Vern Lisle, candidate for Speaker pro tem.

Falvey of Monroe seconded the nomination and moved that the Chief Clerk be authorized to cast the votes of all the members of the House of Representatives for the Honorable Vern Lisle as Speaker pro tempore, preceding his motion with the following remarks:

MR. SPEAKER AND MEMBERS OF THE FIFTY-FIFTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY:

The minority group has asked me to announce it will present no candidate for Speaker pro tempore.

It is not because we are out-numbered badly; that is no handicap to a Democrat in Iowa, but we feel that since our Republican friends took the time, at their own expense, to prepare for the leadership of the House and to expedite the business of the Assembly, we can be as generous. Then, too, we wish to express a confidence in Iowa Republican leadership that is lacking in the heads of their own party. And so I move you that the Chief Clerk be authorized to cast the votes of all the members of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly for the Honorable Vern Lisle of Page County as Speaker pro tempore of the House.

Motion prevailed.

In accordance with the foregoing motion, the Chief Clerk cast the votes of all the members of the House for the Honorable Vern Lisle for the office of Speaker pro tempore. Mr. Lisle was declared unanimously elected Speaker pro tempore of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly.

Cooksey of Clay moved that a committee of two be appointed to escort the Speaker pro tempore to the chair.

Motion prevailed and the following committee was appointed: Cooksey of Clay and Shaff of Clinton.

Mr. Lisle was escorted to the chair and, after taking the oath of office, expressed his sincere appreciation to the House for according him this honor.

Digitized by Google

I move that the assignment of seats to the members of the House be made a special order for this afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, and that the names of the members be placed in a hat and drawn by the Chief Clerk, and as the names are called, the members shall select their seats and remain in the same until the drawing is completed.

Members with defective sight or hearing shall be permitted to select special seats in front.

The former members may, if they so desire, retain the seats they occupied in the Fifty-fourth General Assembly, or may select any other available seats preceding the drawing, the order of such selection to be based on seniority of service.

Motion prevailed.

ADOPTION OF HOUSE RESOLUTION

Brown of Mahaska offered the following resolution, asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration, and moved its adoption:

HOUSE RESOLUTION 2

Resolved by the House of Representatives: That each member of the House shall be entitled to select and appoint a clerk and such clerk may be called upon to aid in the discharge of the clerical work of the House of Representatives when his or her time permits. Only expert typists and stenographers will be considered qualified. The Speaker and Chief Clerk shall appoint their secretaries and pages to serve for the session, and the Chief Clerk is hereby authorized to employ such additional clerical assistance as his duties may require.

Motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

COMMITTEE ON MILEAGE

Soeth of Emmet moved that a committee of three be appointed to determine the amount of mileage due each member and report the same to the House.

Motion prevailed and the following committee was appointed: Soeth of Emmet, Cornick of Henry and Pim of Lucas.

HOUSE RESOLUTION 3

Whereas, a large number of persons visit the House while in session; and

Whereas, many people of prominence are included in this number; and

Whereas, it is a personal privilege to the various members of the House to introduce these visitors; and

Whereas, it creates a feeling of belonging to the great State of Iowa, on the part of visitors, to be introduced to the House;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives: That only past legislators, state officials, school classes and other educational groups accompanied by teachers seated in galleries be introduced to the House.

Laid over under Rule 34.

Bass of Montgomery moved that a committee of three be appointed to notify the Senate that the House was ready to receive it in joint session.

Motion prevailed and the Speaker appointed Bass of Montgomery, Hinchliffe of Jackson and Morris of Dallas.

The committee appointed to notify the Senate that the House was ready to receive it in joint convention reported that it had performed its duty. The report was accepted and the committee discharged.

The Sergeant-at-Arms announced the arrival of the President pro tempore of the Senate and the honorable body of the Senate.

The President pro tempore was escorted to the Speaker's station, the Secretary to the Chief Clerk's desk, and the members of the Senate were seated on the west side of the chamber.

MR. PRESIDENT, MR. SPEAKER, SENATORS AND REPRESENTATIVES OF THE FIFTY-FIFTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY, FELLOW IOWANS, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am, indeed, happy to be with you on this occasion, and to have the privilege of bringing to you the biennial report which is of historic record in our great state.

It is the good fortune of the chief executive on each biennium to have the privilege of reporting to the General Assembly.

First, I want to congratulate you of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly on your election to these legislative halls. I have a high regard for the splendid traditions of our great state, and a sincere appreciation of the great contribution which the General Assembly makes to the progress, growth and development of our state.

So to all of you . . . my heartiest congratulations, and I wish to state my firm belief, to my old colleagues who are here . . . to the members of the former sessions . . . and to the new members . . . that I have every confidence that you will maintain with distinction the high traditions of the Iowa General Assembly.

When the General Assembly convened two years ago, certain forces were loose in the world, which contributed much to the disquiet and concern of citizenry everywhere, and made difficult the problems of the Fifty-fourth General Assembly. The uncontrolled inflationary forces which have run riot through our economy have, during the past two years, made the problems of government difficult, in the same proportion and in the same manner, in which the problems of the citizenry generally have been made difficult.

I am pleased to report to you, that the state government has been able to carry forward the business of the state within the bounds established for it by the Fifty-fourth General Assembly, and has been able to meet the problems from time to time as they arose, and has met those problems within the limits of the funds provided by the Fifty-fourth General Assembly. I wish to report to you that the state finances are in sound condition. We have a balanced budget, and in this biennium, it has not been necessary to touch the stabilizing reserve which was so wisely created by the Fifty-third General Assembly.

These have been busy years in state government, and, in my judgment, the various departments of state government have made great progress, not only in the quality of service rendered to the citizens of this great state, but in adding to the efficiency of state government, and in all those benefits which flow from increased efficiency and good service.

In the past two years, the new state office building has been completed, and many administrative departments of our state government transferred to these fine and efficient quarters. This has had a pronounced effect on the quality of service rendered the citizenry of our state. I say to you, in these active years in the history of the State of Iowa, by virtue of these finer facilities and the devotion to duty of the state employees therein housed, they have rendered a finer service, have handled a heavier volume of business, with actually fewer employees than in former years.

This has been salutary, I believe, in improving the functions of government in the State of Iowa, for we must realize that, in the final analysis, our State of Iowa is subject to the same conditions, and must find the same solutions to the problems which confront it, by the application of sound business practices, and with the same techniques and good management, which are found necessary in the conduct of all business. I am grateful to all the administrators, to the fine employees of the state, to my colleagues in the Executive Council and other capacities, for the cooperation and the great contribution which they have made to this record of achievement.

Digitized by Google

Our Tax Commission has an important function of government, and there, by improved methods of operating, and by the addition of necessary modern office equipment, they have made material increases and advances in the quality of service rendered to the people of our state.

As much can be said of all other departments. In the Department of Public Health, the services rendered the people of the state have gone forward in a satisfactory way. The General Hospital plan inaugurated six years ago has been carried forward with success.

Our Board of Social Welfare in administering the programs which fall within their province, have done an outstanding job. In comparing the situation with other states in the Union, we must recognize we have a splendid department in our state. Aid to dependent children, aid to the blind, old age assistance and other programs have been carried forward in an able and satisfactory way.

I am firmly of the opinion educators have made their proper contribution to the growth and development of our state. In the field of advanced education, our splendid educational institutions through their administrators and the able Board of Education have made pronounced progress. I might mention also those smaller institutions under the Board of Education . . . the School for the Deaf . . . the School for the Blind . . . which have augmented their programs and made advancement of benefit to the citizenry. In the field of elementary education, the fine teaching force and school administrators have made definite progress in meeting the educational requirements of modern times.

So I am happy to present to you a report of progress and accomplishment in all these fields . . . fields which affect the well being of the citizenry of our state, not only in our time, but in generations yet to come.

Our road building program which was wisely planned by the Fifty-third General Assembly has made pronounced advancement during the past two years. There has been more construction of highways during the last twelve months than in any other given period in the history of our state. Favored by suitable weather in the season of 1952, construction went forward in this state at a rate of more than one million dollars per week. As a result we have depleted the primary road construction fund and materially reduced the farm to market funds, but I think it was proper to do this, because as I told the Highway Commission months ago, we are not running a bank. These funds were paid into the road construction fund by the citizens of the state, and it was our duty to give them roads as rapidly as possible under that plan. As we look at the modernization which has been attained and the expansion of the farm to market and the secondary roads in our state, I think you will agree that these past two years have been fruitful ones in highway construction.

In the field of conservation we have made progress. The State of Iowa continues to pace the nation in conservation work. In the past two years in our conservation districts and in the work of the natural resources council, a work which, as a matter of fact, Iowa pioneered, we have established the pattern and the technical principles which will guide us in formulating a program and mastering the problems of conservation . . . conservation of soil and water which will give us sound guidance in the future. What we must do now is to draw on the experiences of the past, appraise the methods and programs for their actual worth, and by virtue of these experiences, we can plan more constructively and for better use in the coming years.

It is of primary importance, and I am confident you will agree, that such advancement and growth in conservation of our natural resources is essential. Our experiences in Iowa demonstrate the value of cooperation of various agencies and the desirability of control at the grass roots level.

Under happy circumstances, we have made progress in Iowa in the field of highway safety. The legislature, wisely, in 1951, provided for an expansion of the highway patrol in our state. This has been completed, and the highway patrol in our state is one of the finest . . . yes, I am firmly of the opinion, it is the finest in all the land. They have placed increased emphasis, not only on law enforcement, but in the important field of safety education. Numerous private organizations have joined hands in this joint endeavor, and made a major contribution to the advancement in the field of safety, not only on our highways, but in the schools, on the farms, in the industries of our state. We have a favorable position in our state as compared with other states of the Union, but nevertheless, when we consider the appalling numbers of fatalities and the accident rate, we find a challenge, which urges us to do more and more and more to make every contribution humanly possible to greater advancement in this great program of education.

Law enforcement in our state is at a high level, thanks to the cooperation of all agencies. It is, I think, of primary importance that we have cooperation, because it is the duty of state and county and municipal officials to cooperate in every way humanly possible. We have in our state in all fields of endeavor, whether municipal or county or state, a joint responsibility. We have helpful cooperation, all of which is conducive to the betterment of our state.

We have been free of any great tragedies these past two years. Last year, we witnessed the great river floods on the borders of our state, and there again, all agencies working together met the challenge of nature and avoided loss of life and reduced property damage.

We saw this demonstrated in the city of Council Bluffs, where team work saved a great city. We saw, too, the necessity for a dike system for flood control. We saw that flood prevention programs like those of the lower Mississippi are needed on the upper Mississippi and Missouri as well—both the agricultural levees, and levees to protect the cities and towns. The city of Dubuque was involved in these floods.

Digitized by Google

Ninety per cent of her industry was in the flood area. Naturally that has a pronounced effect on the entire city under such conditions. It is much to the credit of Dubuque's spirit that more than one-half million dollars of private funds have been expended and the entire municipality is alerted to this work, in seeking programs to prevent future recurrence.

Within our state, conservation programs are reaching the stage where we can look to greater advancement. Our rich farm resources have maintained stability. Harassed by many problems, nevertheless, the farming plant of this great state is substantial and growing more so.

Our industries have made a continued improvement in the over-all pattern, and I am of the opinion we have much to be thankful for. I am even more firmly of the opinion that by working together in all good faith and understanding, we can serve the common good . . . we can chart a course for an even greater improvement in the future and in so doing, we will prove ourselves not only worthy of the rich and great heritage which is ours, but can lay a pattern and construct a program which will provide wisely and well for generations yet to come.

Again, my heartiest congratulations to all of you of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly. I have the feeling that the next one hundred days will be beneficial days for the people of this state. I have every confidence in your judgment and wisdom, and that you will find solutions for the problems to come before you. In the final analysis, it is the responsibility of all of us to serve to that end, and I deem it a great privilege to have the good fortune to work with you in every possible way to that end. I hope during these days you will come to see me often. The Governor wants your counsel, your help, your cooperation. Thank you.

Governor Beardsley was escorted from the chamber by the committee previously appointed.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE

sections were adopted in amendment No. 2 in the year 1904 A.D. are hereby repealed and the following adopted in lieu thereof:

"Section 35. The House of Representatives shall consist of not more than one hundred and sixteen members. The ratio of representation shall be determined by dividing the whole number of the population of the state, as shown by the last preceding national census, by the whole number of counties then existing or organized, but each county shall constitute one representative district and be entitled to one representative; but of the nine counties having the greatest population and each in excess by three fifths or more of the ratio number, the one county with the greatest population shall be entitled to three additional representatives, the next six counties in order with the greater population shall be entitled each to two additional representatives and the next two counties in order with the greater population shall be entitled each to one additional representative.

"Section 36. The General Assembly shall, at the first regular session held following the adoption of this amendment, and at each succeeding regular session held next after the publication of such national census, fix the ratio of representation, and apportion the additional representation, as required."

Sec. 2. The foregoing proposed amendments to the Constitution of the State of Iowa are hereby referred to the General Assembly to be chosen at the next general election and the Secretary of State is directed to cause the same to be published as provided by law for three months previous to the time of making such choice.

Read first time and referred to committee on constitutional amendments.

Senator Lynes of Bremer moved that a committee of five, two from the Senate and three from the House, be appointed to escort Governor-elect Beardsley and Lieutenant Governor-elect Elthon to the House chamber.

Motion prevailed and President Hart of the joint convention appointed Representatives Watson of Warren, Goode of Davis and Christiansen of Worth and Senators Lynes of Bremer and Grimstead of Winnebago as such committee.

Vocal selections, "This Is My Country" and "Faith of Our Fathers," were offered by Lieutenant and Mrs. Ernest A. Miller, of the Salvation Army, accompanied by Bill Austin.

The sergeant-at-arms announced the arrival of Governor-elect Beardsley and Lieutenant Governor-elect Elthon, accompanied by the Governor's staff.

Governor-elect Beardsley and Lieutenant Governor-elect Elthon were escorted to the Speaker's station.

The invocation was delivered by the Reverend William J. Fowler, D.D., Pastor, Methodist Church, New Virginia.

The oath of office was administered to Governor-elect William S. Beardsley by the Honorable W. A. Smith, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Iowa.

The oath of office was administered to Lieutenant Governor-elect Leo H. Elthon by the Honorable W. A. Smith, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Iowa.

Lieutenant Governor Elthon, President of the Senate presiding, presented Governor Beardsley, who delivered the following inaugural address:

MR. PRESIDENT, MR. SPEAKER, SENATORS AND REPRESENTATIVES OF THE FIFTY-FIFTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY, MR. CHIEF JUSTICE AND JUSTICES OF THE SUPREME COURT, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

It is with a feeling of humility and sincere appreciation that I have taken the oath of office and assume the further responsibility as Governor of this great state. I am extremely grateful to the people of Iowa for the confidence which they have reposed in the leadership of my administration. I wish to assure all of you present and the citizens everywhere in our state that I am motivated by but one desire and that is to serve the best interests of all of the people of Iowa to the very best of my ability. To that end I pledge my tireless efforts.

History is the record of recurring struggles by mankind to assure a better kind of a world. We live in a dramatic period in history. Our nation, in the past few months, has re-asserted itself by electing to the office of President of the United States a truly great American. I am confident that under the peerless leadership of Dwight D. Eisenhower our nation will be able to resolve every problem which confronts us today and resolve them in a constructive and satisfactory way. I am firmly of the opinion that the international situation can be stabilized and that free men everywhere can once more pursue the pathways of peace. A strong America must be a dynamic America, worthy of its rich traditions and history—capable of its opportunities. We must secure not only a peaceful world, but we must attain tranquility at home so that our nation, vigorous, strong and confident as it is, can achieve its destiny. We must have confidence in the American way of life. We must believe in the ability of the American people not only to discharge their responsibilities as a people today, but at the same time to build for a strong, progressive and constructive nation in the future. With this encouraging national background, we, as Iowans, have reason to face the future with every confidence of success and accomplishment.

As one who has served in these legislative halls, I have a sincere, profound respect and appreciation for the legislative bodies and share with you the pride of accomplishment in the cause of good government which has been achieved in these very chambers. On behalf of all Iowans, it is a privilege to congratulate you members of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly on your election to the offices which you now hold. It is a great opportunity for service to the people of Iowa and I know of no finer honor than to have the privilege of serving in the General Assembly.

In the important work ahead, it is highly desirable that we have close cooperation between the executive and legislative branches of government. Both branches have a joint responsibility in serving the interests of the people to the end that we will meet the problems of the day and build wisely and well for the future. The ideal way, the constructive way, the American way of achieving these goals is to judge every public question by the standard of what is best for Iowa. Let us, in these hundred days which are ahead, approach every public question from that viewpoint. If we do, we will have merited the honor and the trust which the people of this great state have reposed in all of us.

We cannot escape the fact that, in the final analysis, present day government is a business operation. To give it the finest administration we must approach public questions and the administration of public affairs from the standpoint of sound and proven business principles.

TAXATION, FINANCE AND BUDGET

Fortunately, for Iowa, we are in a sound financial condition. During the recent inflationary years we have met the problems of the state without unwise expenditures and have been able to operate the state government pursuing sound fiscal policies and respecting sound financial rules. In all of this period the State of Iowa has met its problems and has confined state expenditures to the income of the state. As we look to the future, it is imperative in my mind that we continue this policy of no deficit spending and the maintenance of sound budgetary programs.

Digitized by Google

Equally important, we must seek every possible means of continuing and expanding every essential service provided by state government without the necessity of any new taxes or increases in sales or income taxes.

Shortly, I will present my budgetary message to you, and it will be predicated on the policy of no increases in sales or income taxes, and no new taxes. We must constantly bear in mind that the power to tax is the power to destroy and unless we maintain a policy of balanced budgets, living within our income without increase in the tax burden, we will fail the people of our state.

ROADS

It is impossible, in this address, to deal with all of the legislative problems which will be considered here during the next one hundred days. However, there are certain matters to which I wish to refer specifically on this occasion. One of these subjects is that of roads.

We live in a period when transportation is of greater importance to the citizenry of our state than ever before. Four years ago, in the Fifty-third General Assembly, we enacted into a law a program which has proven effective in actually building roads. Our pay-as-we-go program which was adopted at that time has brought great improvements in the highways and roads of Iowa. These have been the busiest road construction years in the history of our state. This program, balanced as it is, has proven especially satisfactory in farm-to-market and secondary road construction in our state. Likewise, it has been successful in the improvement and further development of the primary road system. But there is tremendous public interest in further highway construction and improvement. The citizens must be advised of the fact that any further acceleration of highway construction and improvement in Iowa will require additional funds which, in one way or another, the people must provide. You, as representatives of the people, must be responsive to the will of the people. A sound public policy requires that highway users pay for highway improvements. Diversion of public funds collected from highway users by the federal government is improper.

As a major step in obtaining the funds which should be applied for road construction purposes, it would seem appropriate for this General Assembly to consider the adoption of a joint resolution memorializing Congress to enact laws returning to the states the taxes now levied against road users and which have been diverted for other purposes. In the case of Iowa, the adoption of this legislation alone would make available increased funds for highway purposes in excess of $17,000,000 annually. Today I have telegraphed the Governors of every state in which legislatures are now in session or are scheduled to convene shortly, urging them to take similar action.

During the past year, a special citizens' study committee examined the toll road programs in other states and studied the possibilities of a modern toll road in Iowa as another means of solving present day transportation problems. As more and more freight, mail and passenger traffic, which once moved by railroads, has started moving over our highways, it has been increasingly clear that highway construction engineered for lighter traffic loads, was inadequate. By siphoning off our heaviest traffic to new heavy duty highways we can preserve our existing roads and extend the useful life of these roads.

The Toll Road Study Committee has made its survey and the report has been filed with the legislature. It is my opinion that a careful perusal of this report will indicate that this program should be studied further. Iowa stands athwart a main east-west artery of highway commerce of our nation. If we do not furnish the cross-country link it is probable that other states will do so. With the rapid development of toll road systems in the various states of the nation, we should be prepared to deal with any and all eventualities. This calls for constructive action on the part of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly.

EDUCATION

In the field of education it is imperative that we continue to provide funds as liberally as possible, within our means. We must continue to provide adequate support for our institutions of higher learning, including funds for productive research.

Again referring to the Acts of the Fifty-third General Assembly, we adopted a comprehensive program of state aid to the public schools of our state. As a result of the inflationary forces which have run rampant in this country the past four years, this formula has fallen behind. It is desirable in my judgment that we increase the amount of state aid for schools to restore the percentages in the formula which was adopted in 1949.

Within the past twelve months, the Federal Communications Commission has made available channels for educational television. Because of the promise which television holds for both public school and adult education, and because the value of audio-visual education has been well established, it is timely that you give the matter most serious consideration. There is a time limit on this situation as it confronts us now. To avail ourselves of educational television facilities under the present federal plan, we must indicate our desires by proper legislative action before July 1, 1953.

MENTAL HEALTH

Iowa, in recent years, has made great strides in the field of mental health, and in the care of the mentally ill. Using the resources at our command, we have expanded and improved all of the programs in our mental health institutes. Four screening centers have been put into operation and in-patient and out-patient clinics are a regular function of the hospitals.

There is great promise in the field of research. A pilot program of research, using cooperatively the facilities and personnel of the psychopathic hospital and medical school of the University of Iowa and the Mental Health Institute at Mount Pleasant, is in the planning stage. To further augment this service, we need also to expand the professional staffs at all of the mental health institutes and two children's mental schools. This expanded program in the field of psychiatry and other professional fields will accelerate the program of mental health treatment.

I recommend this program for your most serious consideration.

NEEDS OF AGRICULTURE

No session of the General Assembly should conclude without a careful review of each phase of the state laws which affect the efficiency and prosperity of Iowa's great farm establishment. Our first billion dollar corn crop should emphasize our responsibility. Farm prices have been subjected to continuing adjustment in the market places of the nation, the welfare of our farm population in terms of purchasing power and income has been affected proportionately.

The fixed tax load must be kept at a minimum; the marketing of farm products must be facilitated, and practices for the maintenance and use of our precious resource in the soil of Iowa must be re-studied in the light of the tremendous strides of science in this modern age.

INDUSTRIAL GROWTH

Our state now enjoys a substantial development of industry built upon a fine labor force, adequate transportation and our available natural resources. One cannot travel this state and fail to notice the hundreds of small manufacturing enterprises which are under way. State government touches industry in many ways. We must continue to lend every effort to promote the growth and development of industry in our state.

HIGHWAY SAFETY AND SAFETY EDUCATION

In the field of safety education and accident and fire prevention through cooperation of the agencies of state government and many private organizations, we have made great gains. The benefits of this have been most reassuring and should impel us to even greater effort in the future.

Every step to advance the cause of safety, such as the establishment of an inspection service for motor vehicles and all programs for expanded effort in these important fields of endeavor, merits the most serious consideration by this General Assembly.

CONSERVATION

In the field of conservation and flood control, Iowa has advanced to the stage where we can measure accurately the possibilities of further development in the future. Fortunately, because of the programs of the past ten years and the legislative action of recent general assemblies, we have formulated a program of natural resources development which has placed Iowa in a position of leadership in this very important field. The program is predicated on local control and based on the wholesome principle of working with nature instead of against nature. With this program, we can pursue the intelligent development of our watersheds which will not only add to the fertility and the abundant production of Iowa soil and make its contribution to present day society, but will conserve our resources for generations yet unborn. This is a prime necessity.

The benefits of our preliminary work are now very much in evidence. We should, within the next two years, by the necessary work, by setting all the pins which are necessary in our program on all of the watersheds of the state, complete the state-wide blanket or quilt of enduring soil conservation.

LABOR

In the United States today there is a genuine realization that in this industrial age we must continue to explore and expand the fields of conciliation and progress in labor-management relationships. In my judgment, it would be constructive if this legislature would review our labor laws and make such changes, in line with the principles set out in the 1952 majority political party platform, as will put them in conformity with the federal laws relative to labor-management relations.

LEGISLATIVE RE-APPORTIONMENT

Our constitution provides at periodic intervals that the legislative representation should be re-apportioned in accordance with certain definite principles.

During the present biennium the national census has been completed. As these census results are now available, it is my hope that the Fifty-fifth General Assembly will put this responsibility on its agenda for completion before the termination of the session.

REORGANIZATION

During the past two years we have made major strides in the various departments of state government in upgrading the public service, in effecting economies and in improving efficiency. This has been done within the present law. However, it is desirable always for the legislature to give due thought to programs for reorganization, in order to assist in solving the problems of administrative efficiency in state government.

PUBLIC UTILITY COMMISSION

Another field in which it seemed desirable for the legislature to have the benefit of advance study was the question of a public utility commission for the State of Iowa. Iowa is one of two states which does not have such a commission. The magnitude of work required to treat intelligently and successfully with this problem made it necessary, in my judgment, for a pre-study to be made. With that thought in mind, I appointed a citizens' Public Utility Study Committee for the purpose of examining this broad field and making a report to the Fifty-fifth General Assembly. That report is now before you.

Because the municipalities of the state cannot have the technical and engineering staff necessary to provide the proper regulation of utility rates, it is my judgment that the legislature should seriously consider this question. You will find the work of this committee very beneficial to you in furnishing basic information as to the needs of the people of our state. In most states, public utility commissions are for the sole purpose of regulating private utilities within the states. In my judgment this is a sound policy. However, municipalities and REA organizations should have the privilege of availing themselves of the advantage of rate regulation if they elect to do so.

STATE RETIREMENT PROGRAM

Former years have demonstrated the necessity of having expert counsel in specialized fields of public interest and administration. I have referred already to the study committees on toll roads and the public utility commission. Also, the last two years we have had a study committee, authorized by the Fifty-fourth General Assembly, on the Old-Age Survivors and Insurance Program of the state. That report is also before this legislature.

In your action on this subject, I recommend you conserve the interests of all the beneficiaries who have paid their good money into the system, and maintain the financial stability of the system. I am confident that this General Assembly will deal wisely with this very important problem.

LEGISLATIVE RESEARCH DEPARTMENT

The results of these study committees, and study committees in former years, demonstrate the importance of research and factual information in arriving at intelligent decisions in public affairs. Based on that experience, I recommend for your most serious consideration the establishment of a Legislative Research Department. Such an agency, with a small staff of able researchers, could perform, in a broad field of legislative action, the services of research which have been performed by special committees in the past. This would speed up the work of future legislatures and better enable them to deal adequately and constructively with public questions in the future. The services of such a department should be available equally to the executive and legislative branches of state government.

CONCLUSION

In this assembly today are men and women of many faiths, of many ages and of varying political convictions. Throughout the length and breadth of Iowa, in its ninety-nine counties, in the homes in the cities and towns and on the farmsteads, are the men and women and children of this state who have entrusted to us the responsibilities of leadership and decision.

We cannot measure up to the challenge of this hour unless we have targets for our tomorrows—targets based upon hard realities of today, upon a vision of the better days to come; and upon a faith that by working together we can reach those goals.

No plans for the future will be good unless they make it possible for the young men and women of today to have homes, opportunities, independent businesses, the joys of little children, and the richness of American freedom. No plans for the future will be good unless they will give to your children and mine the kind of a state in which we would like to live. Let us together share the planning and the work by which that future can be ours.

We have severally taken our oaths of office to support the laws of the State of Iowa and to serve honestly and faithfully to the best of our abilities. As I have renewed my pledge I am humbled by the realization that only with divine guidance is it possible for me to do my task. In my daily work I shall seek your help and counsel. In that way a safe and sound course will be charted. In that way we will make the American way of freedom and opportunity live.

Governor William S. Beardsley was escorted from the chamber by the committee previously appointed.

The Songfellows, accompanied on the piano by Bill Austin, of Radio Station WHO, sang "Stout Hearted Men" and "Student Prince Serenade."

The minutes of the joint convention were read and approved.

Kosek of Linn moved that the joint convention be now dissolved.

Motion prevailed.

The House reconvened, Speaker Lynes in the chair.

Goode of Davis moved that the House adjourn until 11:00 a.m., Monday, January 19, 1953, in accordance with Senate Concurrent Resolution 4.

Motion prevailed.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

The following messages were received from the Senate:

MR. SPEAKER: I am directed to inform your honorable body that the Senate has adopted the following concurrent resolution in which the concurrence of the House is asked:

Senate Concurrent Resolution 6, relating to the spring recess.

Also: That the Senate has concurred in the House amendment to and adopted Senate Concurrent Resolution 5 relating to joint convention on January 20, 1953, to view and listen to the inaugural ceremony of the President of the United States.

CARROLL A. LANE, Secretary of the Senate.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 6

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring: That when adjournment is had on Friday, February 27, 1953, it be to reconvene on Monday, March 9, 1953, at 11:00 a.m.

Laid over under Rule 34.

Schwengel of Scott offered the following House concurrent resolution proposed by himself and Weiss of Crawford, Burrows of Benton, Ringgenberg of Story and Robinson of Delaware:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 3

Whereas, building of roads and highways since the inception of our government has been primarily a state responsibility; and

Whereas, every state of the Union has tremendous problems in maintaining, extending, and building highways and bridges due to the lack of building program during the war year period; and

Digitized by Google

Whereas, the federal government has always collected much more than they have sent back to the states for road building purposes; and

Whereas, the costs of building and maintaining roads and highways have increased tremendously; and

Whereas, states have demonstrated they are willing, have, and do cooperate in building the federally designated highways; and

Whereas, the states sensed the responsibility of an integrated highway system as it relates to the national welfare; and

Whereas, the states have demonstrated that they can build adequate highways; and

Whereas, in many instances, many economies can be effected through sole state responsibility of building highways; and

Whereas, because of the foregoing facts and after due consideration, the Council of State Governments in the National meeting December 7 in Chicago passed a resolution supporting this proposition, and the Governors' Conference in the National meeting in July, 1952, unanimously passed a resolution supporting this proposition, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly of the State of Iowa, the Senate Concurring, That the Eighty-third session of Congress give serious consideration to the question of eliminating the federal gasoline tax and leaving that area of taxation entirely to the states,

Be It Further Resolved, That the Secretary of State is hereby directed to forward copies of this resolution to the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, to each member of the Iowa delegation in Congress of the United States, and to the Speaker and President of the respective houses of the General Assembly in the mid-western states.

Laid over under Rule 34.

AMENDMENTS FILED

Amend House File 4 by striking from line five (5) of section one (1) the words "one hundred thousand" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "ninety-five thousand."

McFARLANE of Black Hawk.

Amend House File 9 by striking all after the enacting clause and substituting therefor the following:

Section 1. Amend section two hundred ninety-seven point seven (297.7), Code 1950, by striking the words "one thousand" and substituting in lieu thereof the words "twenty-five hundred".

NELSON of Woodbury.

Amend House File 10 as follows:

1. Amend section one (1), line three (3), by striking therefrom the word "five" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "six for a period of two (2) years only from the date this law goes into effect."

2. Amend section (2), line three (3), by

Also: That the Senate has adopted the following concurrent resolution in which the concurrence of the House is asked:

Senate Concurrent Resolution 7, relating to printing companion bills.

CARROLL A. LANE, Secretary.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 7

Whereas, it is desirable to effect all the economies in the operation of our government that can possibly be made and it is incumbent upon this General Assembly to reduce its own costs and expenditures in every possible respect, and

Whereas, the cost of printing is one of the larger items of cost in each session of the General Assembly, and

Whereas, it is the practice and custom to introduce in both the Senate and the House bills with identically the same text, known as companion bills, both of which are printed in their entirety, and

Whereas, it is felt that great savings can be accomplished by eliminating this double cost of printing by providing for the complete printing of companion bills in one house of the legislature only;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives Concurring: That where a bill has been introduced in one house and a bill containing identically the same text is to be introduced in the other house the bill first introduced shall be printed in full and complete form and the companion bill as introduced in the other house shall be printed only to and including the enacting clause thereof, except that any explanation appended to the bill may also be printed, and following the enacting clause there shall be printed an additional statement as follows: "This bill is an identical and companion bill to Senate (House) File ..... For printed text see that bill."

Be It Further Resolved: That any existing rules of the General Assembly as to companion bills shall remain in full force and effect.

Be It Further Resolved: That appropriate instructions shall be formulated and issued by the Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the House to carry out the provisions of this resolution.

Laid over under Rule 34.

Senate File 82, a bill for an act relating to printing of legislative bulletin.

Also: That the Senate has adopted the following concurrent resolution in which the concurrence of the House is asked:

Senate Concurrent Resolution 8, relating to preparation of the General Assembly scrapbook.

CARROLL A. LANE, Secretary.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 8

Whereas, it has been the practice for the law library to keep a General Assembly scrapbook since the Thirty-fourth General Assembly; and,

Digitized by Google

Whereas, the information contained in these scrapbooks is of legislative and historical value; and,

Whereas, heretofore, the clippings have been taken exclusively from two Iowa daily newspapers; and,

Whereas, the scrapbook is of state-wide interest and the opinions reflected should be state-wide; and,

Whereas, certain additional Iowa daily and weekly newspapers have volunteered to send to the Iowa state law library, without cost to the State of Iowa, copies of their papers during the session to be used in preparing the General Assembly scrapbook;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, by the Senate of the State of Iowa, and the House of Representatives, Concurring, That we accept with thanks the offer of various daily and weekly newspapers for copies of their newspapers during the Fifty-fifth General Assembly for the law library, for use in compiling the General Assembly scrapbook.

Laid over under Rule 34.

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the House and the title agreed to.

Goode of Davis moved that the vote by which the bill passed the House be reconsidered and that the motion to reconsider be laid on the table.

Motion prevailed.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE FILE 91

This bill to make the present income tax collection rate permanent seemed to me to be most premature at this time.

It comes for consideration at a time when we have not yet received the budget, and do not know what the askings will be.

Digitized by Google

By limiting the income tax collection rate at this early point in the session, we are eliminating consideration of various educational proposals, and other types of proposals. We either cut these groups off without a hearing or make a general property levy inevitable.

In my opinion, this action is very unwise and I am forced to vote "no".

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker invoked Rule 16; i.e., only those members at their desks and voting shall be counted, concerning the nay vote of Darrington of Harrison on House File 91.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE FILE 91

In accordance with the provisions of section ten (10), Legislative Department of the Constitution of Iowa, I desire to comment on House File 91 that passed the House on January 26. My vote of "nay" on this bill was cast because of the following fundamental beliefs:

1. We have not yet had the opportunity to see the budget recommendations of the Governor and while I have implicit confidence in the Governor's honesty and recommendations, he could be mistaken in certain instances and it is my belief that we, as legislators, should seek to understand, as much in detail as possible, the real appropriation needs before we vote on any revenue bills. A thorough study of certain departments, needs and askings, that we should make, may warrant increases in certain departments and areas and decreases in others. My experience in government leads me to believe the people send us to the legislature not to cut taxes necessarily, but to see to it that the taxpayers get a dollar's worth for every dollar they pay in taxes and to see to it that the taxes are distributed as fairly and equitably as possible.

2. There is also a basic philosophy that is worth considering, especially for those of us who are disturbed, and that is that the federal government is taking over in many areas of government that logically belong to the states. This tendency has been so because we, the legislators who are most responsible, have been unwilling to face problems on the home front and try to do something about them where we could and should solve them. The facing of these problems realistically and adequate legislation to meet the problems would do much to cut down the tendency of the government in Washington from moving into many areas of government where states could do a much more effective job for less money. There are many who believe that there is a disposition on the part of the new administration in Washington to let the states take over in areas where they can and should; and in my opinion it is too early at this time to say that the federal government is not going to do that and, hence, it is too early for us to vote on revenue bills.

The fact that the Congress is now thinking seriously of setting up a national committee for the study of taxation measures with the view of cutting out many of the areas of duplication of taxation, both on the part of the state and the federal government, it would seem hasty for us to act on revenue bills especially as long as there is a possibility of eliminating several federal tax areas in favor of the state. If several important areas of taxation are released in favor of the states, it is not beyond the possibility to imagine that the state can one day eliminate the income tax as a source of income.

In addition, in the year there has been a self-appointed committee of outstanding citizens composed of school board members and many others interested in school legislation working diligently on a plan for improvement in support of public schools. I have not had time to study this plan in detail nor has any member of the legislature had time, but as I understand from discussion of the people who know about it, there is a very good possibility that the adoption of this plan could very well justify an increase in certain taxes because they would guarantee a decrease in property taxes where the load is already too great in many sections of the state.

FRED SCHWENGEL.

ADOPTION OF COMMITTEE REPORTS

The Chief Clerk announced the adoption of reports of committees on House Files 9, 42, 45, 50, 60 and 65; House Joint Resolution 3; and Senate Files 63, 64, 65, 66 and 73, under Rule 72.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE CHIEF CLERK
REPORT OF IOWA STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION

The following communication was received by the Chief Clerk in transmitting the estimated annual and total cost to the Iowa State Highway Commission of research projects recommended by the Iowa Highway Research Board:

IOWA STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION
Ames, Iowa

January 27, 1953.

Mr. Carroll Lane, Secretary of the Senate,
Mr. A. C. Gustafson, Chief Clerk of the House,
Fifty-fifth General Assembly,
State House,
Des Moines, Iowa.
Gentlemen:

In conformance with section 310.36, Code 1950, the Iowa State Highway Commission hereby transmits a copy of its "Highway Research Report for the Fiscal Year Ended June 30, 1951"; also a copy of its "Highway Research Report for the Fiscal Year Ended June 30, 1952".

Table No. 6, on page 31, of the 1951 Highway Research Report "Estimated Annual and Total Cost to the Commission of Research Projects Recommended by the Iowa Highway Research Board to the Iowa State Highway Commission and approved by the Commission to date of June 30, 1951", and similarly, Table No. 8 on page 35 of the 1952 Highway Research Report, show, respectively, the number, kind, estimated cost, and probable duration of highway research projects approved by the Iowa State Highway Commission, since said section 310.36, Code 1950, was adopted and up to June 30, 1951, and June 30, 1952.

From Primary Road Fund	$44,602.25
From Farm to Market Road Fund	19,320.50
Total	$63,922.75

(See Table No. 5, page 29, 1951 Highway Research Report.)

The expenditures by the Highway Commission for highway research during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1952, were as follows:

From Primary Road Fund	$ 72,801.08
From Farm to Market Road Fund	61,138.29

Research Project No. 1216A which relates to "Scour Around Bridge Piers and Abutments" illustrates the nature and practicability of highway research projects being carried on by the State Highway Commission.

Every one knows that bridges occasionally "wash out" or "collapse" during a severe flood and that these failures are due to scouring around the bridge piers or abutments. Further than that no one knows much about this problem. This research project was undertaken by the State Highway Commission to find the answers to the many questions involved in this problem. The work on this research project is being conducted by the Iowa Institute of Hydraulic Research at the State University at Iowa City under agreement with the State Highway Commission.

Work on the project is not yet completed. Data thus far made available show, among other things:

(a) As a flood rises in a stream with erodable material in the stream bed, the material in the whole stream bed begins to move. In general, the surface of the whole stream bed is scoured to a lower level.

(b) The depth of scour or lowering of the stream bed varies with the stage of flood; being greatest at high stages and least at low stages.

(c) A bridge pier or abutment constructed in the stream creates an additional and special erosive action in the vicinity of the pier or abutment.

(d) This special erosive action creates a hole in the stream bed at such pier. The general shape of such hole is that of an inverted cone. It is deepest at the upstream face of the pier. The depth of this hole is directly dependent on the depth of flood.

(e) This hole reaches its greatest depth when the flood is at its maximum height. As the flood recedes, this hole refills. When the flood is over the hole may be completely filled.

With the data being developed by this research project, bridge engineers in the future can much more intelligently design their bridge foundations. Bridge failures due to scour in flood periods can be materially reduced or eliminated entirely.

IOWA STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION,
E. F. KOCH, Chief Engineer.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 10

Whereas, the Fifty-fifth General Assembly is advised that the National Association of Assessing Officers desires to present a distinguished assistance award to the Iowa legislature, and

Whereas, said award is to be made on account of the passage of outstanding legislation designed to improve the quality of assessment administration.

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring: That the General Assembly meet in joint session in the House chamber on Thursday, February 5, 1953, at 11:30 a.m., for the purpose of receiving this award.

Laid over under Rule 34.

Ludwig of Johnson offered the following House Concurrent Resolution:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 7

Whereas, many citizens of Iowa think the use of the Bible in the public schools of Iowa has no legal authority, and

Whereas, twelve states specifically require Bible reading in the public schools, and twenty-four others permit Bible reading in schools including Iowa, and

Whereas, special attention has recently been called to the Bible, the world's best seller, because of new popular translations, and

Whereas, the Bible is considered an important part of the moral and spiritual heritage of America and of this state, and

Whereas, a knowledge of the Bible appears highly desirable for an understanding of our history and an appreciation of our culture,

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring: That, first, we call attention to the fact that atheism has no recognition in this state as is evident by our very Constitutional preamble containing these words: "Grateful to the Supreme Being for the blessings hitherto enjoyed, and feeling our dependence on Him for a continuation of those blessings, do ordain and establish a free and independent government by the name of the State of Iowa."

Second, we call attention to section two hundred eighty point nine (280.9) of the Code of Iowa, 1950, which states: "The Bible shall not be excluded from any public school or institution in the state, nor shall any child be required to read it contrary to the wishes of his parents or guardians."

Third, we encourage every public school in Iowa to avail itself of this statutory provision and give the Bible a prominent place in its library and a proper place in its course of study, especially history and literature, being mindful, of course, that such procedure be in accord with public sentiment and in harmony with appropriate educational procedure.

Finally, that the Department of Public Instruction, as opportunity presents itself, assist our public schools in carrying out the provisions and intents of this resolution.

Laid over under Rule 34.

AMENDMENTS FILED

1. Amend House File 45 by striking the title and preamble down to the enacting clause, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"An Act to authorize the board of supervisors of any county to accept a legal title to a new site for use for the "county fair" and to provide for disposition of the old site."

2. Further amend by striking all of sections one (1), two (2), three (3), and four (4), and substituting in lieu thereof the following sections:

"Section 1. The board of supervisors of any county may accept legal title to land in the name of the county, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, to be used for fair purposes.

"Sec. 2. In the event that a new fairground site is acquired by any county, the board of supervisors of such county may sell any existing fairground site to which the county has title and such board may sell any structure located on the old fairground site, that it is not practicable to move or transfer to the new fairground site, at public or private sale for the best price obtainable. The net proceeds from the sale of fairground sites and and structures on such sites shall be placed in the "fairground fund" to be expended for the erection of permanent buildings on the new fairground site, or for the payment of debts contracted in the removal, transporting, erection or repair of structures moved from the old fairground site to the new fairground site.

"Sec. 3. The board of supervisors is hereby authorized and empowered to take such action as may be necessary to carry out and perform the authority hereinbefore provided, but the said county shall not be liable for any costs or expenses in carrying out and performing the authority hereinbefore provided."

3. Strike the explanation of the bill and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"This bill is for the purpose of making possible the acceptance of new fairground sites by boards of supervisors

Under separate cover we are sending you a large number of copies of the January issue of STATE GOVERNMENT, which we believe will be of interest to members of your legislature. Inserted in each copy is a folder about the Council of State Governments and a summary of the report of the Council's Drafting Committee, Suggested State Legislation—Program for 1953.

As in past years, we would appreciate it greatly if you could have the magazine and its enclosures distributed among the members of the House of Representatives.

This issue of STATE GOVERNMENT is a special number reporting the Eleventh General Assembly of the States, held recently in Chicago, and it deals with some of the important problems that will be before the legislatures in 1953.

Also we are sending you cards, which we hope you can distribute with the magazine among the members of the House, offering each of them a regular, complimentary subscription to STATE GOVERNMENT if he indicates his desire for it by returning one of the cards to us.

Complimentary subscription already has been entered or renewed for you.

Thanking you for all your cooperation, I am

Very sincerely,
FRANK BANE,
Executive Director.

erection of buildings or other permanent improvements on the new site, with report of committee recommending passage, was taken up for consideration.

Tate of Cerro Gordo offered the following amendments, filed by him, and moved their adoption:

1. Amend House File 45 by striking the title and preamble down to the enacting clause, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"An Act to authorize the board of supervisors of any county to accept a legal title to a new site for use for the 'county fair' and to provide for disposition of the old site."

2. Further amend by striking all of sections one (1), two (2), three (3) and four (4) and substituting in lieu thereof the following sections:

"Section 1. The board of supervisors of any county may accept legal title to land in the name of the county, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, to be used for fair purposes.

"Sec. 2. In the event that a new fairground site is acquired by any county, the board of supervisors of such county may sell any existing fairground site to which the county has title and such board may sell any structure located on the old fairground site, that it is not practicable to move or transfer to the new fairground site, at public or private sale for the best price obtainable. The net proceeds from the sale of fairground sites and structures on such sites shall be placed in the 'fairground fund' to be expended for the erection of permanent buildings on the new fairground site, or for the payment of debts contracted in the removal, transporting, erection or repair of structures moved from the old fairground site to the new fairground site.

"Sec. 3. The board of supervisors is hereby authorized and empowered to take such action as may be necessary to carry out and perform the authority hereinbefore provided, but the said county shall not be liable for any costs or expenses in carrying out and performing the authority hereinbefore provided."

3. Strike the explanation of the bill and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"This bill is for the purpose of making possible the acceptance of new fairground sites by boards of supervisors and for the disposition of old fairground sites and using the proceeds thereof for improvements on the new site."

Amendments adopted.

Tate of Cerro Gordo moved that the bill be read a last time now and placed upon its passage which motion prevailed and the bill was read a last time.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE CHIEF CLERK

The following communication was received from the Supreme Court:

To the Fifty-fifth General Assembly of Iowa:

In accordance with sections 684.18 and 684.19, Code of Iowa, 1950, the supreme court of Iowa has prescribed and herewith reports to you rules of practice and procedure in the nature of amendments to the following designated Rules of Civil Procedure heretofore prescribed:

Rule 248

Rule 248 is amended by adding thereto:

Motions under rules 243 and 244 may be joined or made separately. If the motion under rule 243 is sustained, the sustaining thereof shall be deemed a denial of the motion under rule 244. Upon an appeal by any party from an order sustaining a motion under rule 243 the supreme court may, if the matter is argued, also review such denial of the motion under rule 244 without the necessity of an appeal therefrom.

Rule 250 is amended by adding thereto:

Any such term or condition or judgment entered pursuant thereto shall be deemed of no force and effect and the original judgment entered pursuant to rule 223 shall be deemed reinstated in the event of an appeal.

Rule 342(a)

Rule 342(a) is amended by adding thereto:

The clerk shall also enter in the appearance or combination docket in his office the date of filing and of mailing to the clerk of the supreme court.

Rule 343

Rule 343 is amended by striking the last two sentences of the first paragraph thereof and substituting:

The clerk shall indorse upon the "service copy" his certificate of such filing and mailing, and mail it, so indorsed, to the clerk of the supreme court. The clerk shall also enter in the appearance or combination docket in his office the date of filing and of mailing to the clerk of the supreme court.

DATED this 29th day of January, 1953.

THE SUPREME COURT OF IOWA,
By T. G. GARFIELD, Justice.

Passed on file.

ADOPTION OF HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 8

Goode of Davis asked and obtained unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 8

Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring: That a joint convention of the two houses of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly be held on February 6, 1953, at 11:00 a.m.

Digitized by Google

Be It Further Resolved: That Governor Beardsley be invited to read his budget message at this joint convention of the two houses of the General Assembly and that the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House be designated to deliver the invitation to him.

Resolution adopted.

ORDER FOR PRINTING

Burrows of Benton asked and obtained unanimous consent for 5,000 copies of "How a Bill Becomes a Law," by A. C. Gustafson, to be printed for distribution.

Motion prevailed.

Nelson of Woodbury offered the following concurrent resolution by himself and Walker of Hamilton, Strawman of Jones and Putney of Tama:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 9

Whereas, the Congress of the United States has set price control ceilings on livestock, and

Whereas, the livestock market has deteriorated and fluctuated in a downward trend in the past year, and

Whereas, the farmers and other dealers in livestock have suffered irreparable damage, and

Whereas, said damage is chiefly attributable to the price stabilization bill contained in the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, and

Whereas, such damage will continue into the foreseeable future unless the price stabilization act is repealed;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly of the State of Iowa, the Senate Concurring, That the Eighty-fourth session of Congress give serious consideration to repealing so much of article four (4) of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, as pertains to price stabilization.

Be It Further Resolved, That copies of this concurrent resolution be sent to the presiding officers of each house of the Congress and to each member of the Iowa delegation in Congress, and that printed copies thereof showing that said concurrent resolution was adopted by the legislature of Iowa be sent to each house of each legislature of each state of the United States.

Laid over under Rule 34.

"A Joint Resolution proposing to repeal and re-enact a substitute for sections thirty-four (34), thirty-five (35), and thirty-six (36) of article three (III) of the Constitution of the State of Iowa, as said sections were adopted by vote of the people in 1904, relating to the determination of representation in the Senate and House of Representatives.
"WHEREAS, it is a fundamental concept of democratic government that the people are entitled to representation proportionate to population, and
"WHEREAS, the people of the State of Iowa are deserving of and entitled to such proportionate representation, and
"WHEREAS, there has been no reapportionment of the House of Representatives since 1904, and
"WHEREAS, at the present time persons representing but one-third of the population of the State of Iowa can control the House of Representatives by majority vote, and
"WHEREAS, a situation is thus created whereby the will of a minority is forced upon the people of the State of Iowa, and
"WHEREAS, it lies within the province of the General Assembly to correct this inequality and injustice by submitting the matter to a vote of the people; now, therefore,".
2. Further amend by striking all after the resolving clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:
"Section 1. Section thirty-four (34) of article three (III) of the Constitution of the State of Iowa is repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof:
'The Senate shall be composed of fifty members to be elected from the representative districts established and determined by the apportionment commission. Within the first sixty days of the year 1957, the state committee of each of the two political parties casting the highest vote for governor at the last preceding election shall submit to the governor a list of ten persons and within thirty days thereafter the Governor shall appoint an apportionment commission of eleven members, six from the political party casting the highest vote for Governor and five from the other political party, to reapportion the fifty Senators and one hundred Representatives and the representative districts in the state. The apportionment commission of eleven members chosen by the Governor shall include a member from each congressional district. If either of the party committees fails to submit a list within such time, the Governor shall appoint five members of his own choice from the party or parties failing to submit such lists. Each member of the commission shall receive fifteen dollars ($15) a day, but not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000).'"

"Sec. 2. Be it Further Resolved, That section thirty-five (35) of article three (III) of the Constitution of the State of Iowa is repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

'The apportionment commission shall reapportion the representative districts in the following manner: The ratio of representation shall be the whole number of the inhabitants of the state as shown by the last preceding census divided by the number one hundred. Each area within the state having one ratio shall elect one representative. Where one county represents one or more representative districts as determined for by the above formula, the county board of supervisors shall so divide the said county into representative districts. Two representative districts as determined by the apportionment committee shall elect one Senator. The commission shall file with the secretary of state a full statement of the numbers of the representative districts and no statement shall be valid unless approved by seven members of the commission.'

"Sec. 3. Be It Further Resolved, That section thirty-six (36) of article three (III) of the Constitution of the State of Iowa is repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

'The Governor shall appoint an apportionment commission for reappointment twenty years after the first twenty years from the time this amendment takes effect, and every twenty years thereafter. The apportionment commission shall be allowed a deviation of five per cent from the one-hundredth part representation.'

"Sec. 4. Be It Further Resolved, That the foregoing amendment be and the same is hereby referred to the General Assembly to be chosen at the next general election and that the secretary of state cause the same to be published as provided by law."

SCHWENGEL of Scott.

CONSIDERATION OF SPECIAL ORDER

The Speaker announced the special order for the consideration of House Joint Resolution 1, a joint resolution proposing amendments to the Constitution of the State of Iowa relating to the proportionment of representation in the House of Representatives of the General Assembly and to repeal sections thirty-five (35) and thirty-six (36) of Article Three (III), as adopted in amendment No. 2 in year 1904 A.D., and to propose substitutes therefor, without recommendation by committee.

Schwengel of Scott offered the following amendments, filed by him, and moved their adoption:

1. Amend House Joint Resolution 1 by striking the title down to the resolving clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"A Joint Resolution proposing to repeal and re-enact a substitute for sections thirty-four (34), thirty-five (35), and thirty-six (36) of article three (III) of the Constitution of the State of Iowa, as said sections were adopted by vote of the people in 1904, relating to the determination of representation in the Senate and House of Representatives.

"WHEREAS, it is a fundamental concept of democratic government that the people are entitled to representation proportionate to population, and

"WHEREAS, the people of the State of Iowa are deserving of and entitled to such proportionate representation, and

"WHEREAS, there has been no reapportionment of the House of Representatives since 1904, and

"WHEREAS, at the present time persons representing but one-third of the population of the State of Iowa can control the House of Representatives by majority vote, and

"WHEREAS, a situation is thus created whereby the will of a minority is forced upon the people of the State of Iowa, and

"WHEREAS, it lies within the province of the General Assembly to correct this inequality and injustice by submitting the matter to a vote of the people; now, therefore,".

2. Further amend by striking all after the resolving clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. Section thirty-four (34) of article three (III) of the Constitution of the State of Iowa is repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

"'The Senate shall be composed of fifty members to be elected from the representative districts established and determined by the apportionment commission. Within the first sixty days of the year 1957, the state committee of each of the two political parties casting the highest vote for governor at the last preceding election shall submit to the governor a list of ten persons and within thirty days thereafter the Governor shall appoint an apportionment commission of eleven members, six from the political party casting the highest vote for Governor and five from the other political party, to reapportion the fifty Senators and one hundred Representatives and the respresentative districts in the state. The apportionment commission of eleven members chosen by the Governor shall include a member from each congressional district. If either of the party committees fails to submit a list within such time, the Governor shall appoint five members of his own choice from the party or parties failing to submit such lists. Each member of the commission shall receive fifteen dollars ($15) a day, but not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000).'

"Sec. 2. Be It Further Resolved, That section thirty-five (35) of article three (III) of the Constitution of the State of Iowa is repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

" 'The apportionment commission shall reapportion the representative districts in the following manner: The ratio of representation shall be the whole number of the inhabitants of the state as shown by the last preceding census divided by the number one hundred. Each area within the state having one ratio shall elect one representative. Where one county represents one or more representative districts as determined for by the above formula, the county board of supervisors shall so divide the said county into representative districts. Two representative districts as determined by the apportionment committee shall elect one Senator. The commission shall file with the secretary of state a full statement of the numbers of the representative districts and no statement shall be valid unless approved by seven members of the commission.'

"Sec. 3. Be It Further Resolved, That section thirty-six (36) of article three (III) of the Constitution of the State of Iowa is repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

'The Governor shall appoint an apportionment commission for reappointment twenty years after the first twenty years from the time this amendment takes effect, and every twenty years thereafter. The apportionment commission shall be allowed a deviation of five per cent from the one-hundredth part representation.'

"Sec. 4. Be It Further Resolved, That the foregoing amendment be and the same is hereby referred to the General Assembly to be chosen at the next general election and that the secretary of state cause the same to be published as provided by law."

Bass of Montgomery offered the following amendment to the amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend the Schwengel amendment by striking the sentence consisting of line sixty-one (61) and line sixty-two (62) up to and including the word "Senator" and substituting in lieu thereof the following: "The representative districts for the Senate shall consist of two contiguous counties, except that the county of Polk shall be one district".

Roll call was demanded by Schwengel of Scott and Palmer of Lee.

"Section 1. The following amendment to the Constitution of Iowa is hereby proposed:

"Section thirty-five (35) of amendment number two (2) of the amendments of 1904 to Article III of the Constitution is repealed and the following adopted in lieu thereof:

"Section 35. The House of Representatives shall consist of not more than one hundred twenty-four (124) members. Each county shall have one (1) Representative, and one (1) additional Representative shall be elected for each sixty-four thousand (64,000) population or major fraction thereof, as shown by the last preceding national census, provided however, that whenever more than two (2) Representatives are to be elected from any one (1) county, the General Assembly shall divide said county in districts every ten (10) years based on population determined as hereinbefore prescribed, and such districts shall be as nearly equal in population as possible. Said districts shall be wholly contiguous, and no ward or precinct shall be in more than one (1) such district. There shall be one (1) district for each such Representative in which such Representative shall reside and from which he shall be elected. At least one (1) district in each such county shall consist wholly of territory outside of the limits of the city of largest population of such county.

Amendment lost.

Parker of Polk moved that a committee of three be appointed to notify the Senate that the House was ready to receive it in joint convention.

Motion prevailed and the Speaker appointed Parker of Polk, Carlson of Woodbury and Kerr of Shelby as such committee.

The committee appointed to notify the Senate that the House was ready to receive it in joint convention reported that it had performed its duty. The report was accepted and the committee discharged.

The sergeant-at-arms announced the arrival of the President of the Senate and the honorable body of the Senate.

The President was escorted to the Speaker's station, the Secretary to the Chief Clerk's desk, and the members of the Senate were seated throughout the chamber.

JOINT CONVENTION

In accordance with law and concurrent resolution duly adopted, the joint convention was called to order, President Hart presiding.

Senator Byers of Linn moved to dispense with the roll call.

Motion prevailed.

President Hart announced a quorum present and the joint convention duly organized.

Be It Resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

Section 1. Sections thirty-five (35) and thirty-six (36) of Article Three (III) of the Constitution of the State of Iowa as said sections were adopted in amendment No. 2 in the year 1904 A.D., are hereby repealed and the following adopted in lieu thereof:

"Section 35. The House of Representatives shall consist of not more than one hundred and sixteen members. The ratio of representation shall be determined by dividing the whole number of the population of the state, as shown by the last preceding national census, by the whole number of counties then existing or organized, but each county shall constitute one representative district and be entitled to one representative; but of the nine counties having the greatest population and each in excess by three fifths or more of the ratio number, the one county with the greatest population shall be entitled to three additional representatives, the next six counties in order with the greater population shall be entitled each to two additional representatives and the next two counties in order with the greater population shall be entitled each to one additional representative.

"Section 36. The General Assembly shall, at the first regular session held following the adoption of this amendment, and at each succeeding regular session held next after the publication of such national census, fix the ratio of representation, and apportion the additional representation, as required."

The joint resolution not having received a constitutional majority was declared to have failed to pass the House.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE ON H.J.R. 1

I am very much in sympathy with those who desire to place the legislature on a more representative basis. I cannot agree, however, that the best way to do this is to enlarge the House. This would result in increased cost and would only make the House more unwieldy. House Joint Resolution 1 is only a patch when the whole system needs overhauling.

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the House and the title agreed to.

Walker of Hamilton moved that a committee of three be appointed to notify the Senate that the House was ready to receive it in joint session.

Motion prevailed and the Speaker appointed Walker of Hamilton, Scheerer of Boone and Shaff of Clinton.

The committee appointed to notify the Senate that the House was ready to receive it in joint convention reported that it had performed its duty. The report was accepted and the committee discharged.

The sergeant-at-arms announced the arrival of the President of the Senate and the honorable body of the Senate.

The President was escorted to the Speaker's station, the Secretary to the Chief Clerk's desk, and the members of the Senate were seated throughout the chamber.

JOINT CONVENTION

In accordance with law and concurrent resolution duly adopted the joint convention was called to order, President Elthon presiding.

President Elthon announced a quorum present and the joint convention duly organized.

Senator Lynes moved that a committee of three consisting of one member from the Senate and two members from the House be appointed to notify Governor Beardsley that the joint convention was ready to receive him.

Motion prevailed and the President appointed as such committee Senator Lynes of Bremer on the part of the Senate, and Representatives Oberman of Des Moines and Kosek of Linn on the part of the House.

The committee waited upon Governor Beardsley and escorted him to the Speaker's station.

President Elthon then presented Governor Beardsley, who delivered the following budget address:

MR. PRESIDENT, MR. SPEAKER, SENATORS AND REPRESENTATIVES OF THE FIFTY-FIFTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

In presenting this budget message with the budget recommendations which are now in your hands, I want to reiterate the importance of confining governmental spending to funds available for these purposes, without increases in the sales or income taxes, or the levying of new taxes.

In my judgment, this is a major responsibility of this legislature in providing for the biennium beginning July 1, 1953, and in discharging this responsibility we will be rendering the greatest service possible to the people of our state.

Our finances are in sound condition and our state has an enviable record in maintaining balanced budgets, in restricting appropriations to currently available funds, or, to use a homey expression—in cutting our pattern to fit our cloth. We are in an economic period wherein it is very difficult to measure the impact of certain economic forces on the income of our state government. We are reassured by the fact that the fiscal policies of the new administration in Washington will be conducive to stability and sound progress.

Nevertheless, we must recognize that the inflationary forces which have had a direct effect on the income of state government, are softening, and while we are reassured by the knowledge that our state is in sound condition and that we have a high rate of employment and national income, we must recognize that it is important—yes, I will say imperative—that we exercise extreme caution during the ensuing two-year period.

Agriculture is our basic industry and has been adversely affected by the poor crop of 1951, which is reflected in the income of the year 1952, and also our great farm economy is struggling with the problem of continuing high costs of operation and a deterioration of price levels for products of the farm.

Agriculture, being the primary source of our basic wealth, when involved in economic difficulties, is not only affected itself, but its difficulties are reflected in all lines of business and services in our state. However, we should be reassured that basically we are strong, we have great potentials, tremendous productive power, an expanding economy, an increasing labor force; and out of all this flows the economic strength which reassures us in this hour of cautious judgment.

We must, in my judgment, discharge our responsibilities by providing for necessary and important functions of government as liberally as we can, recognizing the need and the importance of these operations, and at the same time, maintaining the overall financial strength of our state government.

From this premise, I have approached the problem of preparing this budget, and have worked studiously in cooperation with the comptroller and the various departments of state government in its preparation.

Referring to the budget recommendations for the biennium beginning July 1, 1953, the amounts recommended in this budget report will obligate the general fund in the amount of $74,299,237 per annum, as compared with $65,327,307.14 in the current biennium. Breaking this sum down into divisions, I recommend for the purpose of administration of State Departments the amount of $10,354,352, as compared with $9,379,117 during the present biennium—an increase of $975,235 or 10.40 per cent.

These recommendations for the various administrative departments of state government include the amount necessary to pay the various salary brackets of the State Classification and Compensation Plan in effect on September 30, 1952, which have been placed in effect in accordance with the provisions of Senate File 2, Acts of the Fifty-fourth General Assembly.

For the first time in recent Iowa history, the state budget includes the amounts necessary to pay the positions indicated for each department. This accomplishment has been made possible through the use of an administrative system in connection with the classification and compensation plan, resulting in an actual computation for each position, which you will find included in this budget in summary form. During the current biennium, necessary salary adjustments for state employees have been made in accordance with the classification and compensation plan now in effect; however, there has been no provision or authority for salary adjustments to those holding the various statutory positions. I am recommending various increases for the fifty-two (52) statutory positions included in the appropriation acts in the amounts ranging from a low of $300 annually to a maximum of $1,000 annually for each of these positions.

BOARD OF CONTROL INSTITUTIONS

Recommendations for Board of Control institutions include the amount necessary to pay the various salary brackets in effect on October 30, 1952, for the ensuing biennium. In addition, I have recommended that the professional staffs of the mental institutions be increased in order that better medical and professional care will be available to the individuals in need of this care and treatment.

These recommendations also provide for more attendants in the field of nursing and care. Screening centers have been established in our four Mental Health Institutes, and this increase in the professional staff and attendants will make it possible for us to enter another phase of development and improvement in the care of the mentally ill. I feel it is of utmost importance that we continue this program of progressive improvement. The expenditure is not only timely, but wise.

In the interests of security, these recommendations provide for more guards at the penal institutions. We also provided for expanded programs of vocational training in the training schools and the boys and girls institutions.

For the purposes of better budgetary control, I have recommended that the appropriation for repairs, replacements or alterations be made to include the amount necessary for equipment needed in these institutions.

The total amount recommended for Board of Control institutions is $11,752,485, as compared with $9,835,771.14 for each year of the current biennium. This is an annual increase of $1,916,713.86 (19.49 per cent).

BOARD OF EDUCATION INSTITUTIONS

Recommended funds for support of the Board of Education institutions total $23,924,900 per annum, as compared with $20,809,919 in the current biennium, an annual increase of $3,114,981 or 14.97 per cent.

SOCIAL WELFARE

Recommended appropriations for the State Board of Social Welfare, with standing appropriations, total $17,520,000 as compared with $17,210,000 for each year of the current biennium. This is an annual increase of $310,000. This provides the additional $135,000 needed annually to maintain the aid to blind program on its current basis. This also provides the additional $125,000 annually to maintain the present case load for the aid to dependent children program. Eighty thousand dollars annually is also provided for the additional administration costs of the child welfare program.

Recommended appropriations of the Board of Social Welfare are based on askings of the State Board of Social Welfare for the biennium, and recommended in the amounts requested by them.

STATE AID TO SCHOOLS

For the aid to schools program, with standing appropriations, the total amount recommended is $20,147,500, as compared to $17,617,500 for each year of the current biennium.

This is an increase of $2,530,000 annually (14.36 per cent), which restores the percentage established in the program in 1949; and including the $5,000,000 appropriation for Agricultural Land Credit and the $200,000 for Vocational Educational Training aid, gives us a grand total of $25,347,500.

The recommendations decrease supplemental aid by $100,000 per year to the amount of $1,900,000, which is estimated to be sufficient to pay this aid as provided by the statutes; and provide an increase of $2,600,000 per year for general school aid, or a total of $14,600,000 per year, which is estimated to be sufficient to pay general school aid as now provided by statute.

All of you are conscious of the problems during the current biennium which have grown out of the inflationary forces and have resulted in increased costs in many operations of state government. These increased costs are reflected in the budget which I have presented today.

Also, the experience of the past two years has demonstrated the desirability of expanding necessary services which likewise are reflected in the budget. May I mention just three instances.

I am recommending an increase of $100,000 a year in the Soil Conservation appropriation, which is necessary, based on past experience, to carry forward this basic and very important program.

You will also observe an increase in the funds for the Natural Resources Council in the amount of $35,000 a year, which bears relationship to the overall Soil Conservation and Natural Resources program carried on by the state.

The Natural Resources Council is now organized to undertake its primary work, and in the ensuing biennium it is important that they have the necessary support to complete the preliminary work in that period for the consummation of a state-wide, coordinated Soil Conservation and Natural Resources program.

Another instance is in the work of our Vocational Rehabilitation Division which has been outstanding, measured by results. This Division is rehabilitating approximately one thousand citizens of our state a year, and making it possible for them to be self-supporting and to experience the extreme satisfaction of being independent individuals. To reduce the backlog of handicapped individuals in our state it is very important that we expand this service with our present staff. I am sure that a study of the work of this Division will meet with your hearty approval.

Various other projects covered in the budget will be of interest to you. We will be happy to work with the various subcommittees of your appropriation committees and the membership in its entirety, in canvassing these matters.

The sum of all these recommendations, together with the standing appropriations of state government, gives us a total appropriation of $117,304,237.

The net balance of the General Revenue Fund on July 1, 1952, was $53,378,407.57. The estimated appropriable income for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1953, is $106,165,180. This makes the total amount available in the sum of $159,543,587.57, from which must be paid the total authorized appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1953, in the amount of $122,641,157.48, less estimated reversions of $4,638,793.51. This leaves a net appropriation liability ending June 30, 1953, of $118,002,363.97, which will provide an unencumbered balance on June 30, 1953, in the amount of $41,541,223.60, which, together with the estimated income of $223,197,040 for the next biennium will be sufficient to meet this budget and retain the thirty million dollar ($30,000,000) general revenue special reserve fund intact.

Referring to capital improvements, I am pleased to report that there is no necessity for major capital improvements in buildings and facilities at the seat of government in Des Moines.

I recommend that the appropriation committees carefully canvass the situation with the Board of Control, Board of Education, and Conservation Commission, ascertaining their views and needs. I have visited with the chairmen of the appropriation committees of the House and Senate, who are canvassing the situation as to resources for this purpose, including unexpended balances which may be made available, after which I recommend that the appropriation committees develop a capital improvement program meeting the needs for the ensuing biennium.

I am conscious, as are you, of the great responsibility and problems involved in dealing with appropriation matters. It is a major responsibility of the General Assembly to continue the program of sound finances and wise spending in governmental matters. In my judgment, this is a sound budget, and will provide adequate support and maintain our program of sound budgets and good fiscal policy.

Fortunate, indeed, are we people of Iowa, that we have no colossal debt; that we are in a position to consider a budget which will meet our needs within the funds available, without the necessity of resorting to a state property tax, for we have the unique position in our state that we levy no state property tax and, as a result of this situation, we leave this broadest field of tax income for the cost of local government. It is highly desirable that this sound and fortunate situation be maintained in the future.

As on other occasions, I wish to assure you that, as Governor, I shall be pleased to work with you in your consideration of these recommendations. I should like also to speak for the comptroller and his able staff in this respect. The financial housekeeping, which is the work of making a budget and appropriations, is a first order of business in any stable and progressive government.

A communication was received from the Governor announcing that he had approved the following bill February 5, 1953: House File 175.

AMENDMENTS FILED

1. Amend House File 27 by striking the entire title and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"An act to require a license for the sale by auction of new merchandise at places outside of cities and towns, or within any city or town that has not by ordinance provided for the licensing of auction sales under the provisions of section three hundred sixty-eight point six (368.6), Code 1950, and providing for the filing of application for such license, the filing of a bond and submission of inventory, fixing the amount of license fee and providing for the payment thereof, and the issuing of license by the board of supervisors, and requiring a report of sale and providing penalties for violation thereof."

2. Amend House File 27 by stiking everything after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof:

"Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell, dispose of, or offer for sale at public auction at any place outside the limits of any city or town in the State of Iowa, or within the limits of any city or town in the State of Iowa that has not by ordinance enacted pursuant to the provisions of section three hundred sixty-eight point six (368.6), Code 1950, provided for the licensing of sales by auction, any new merchandise, unless such person, firm or corporation and the owners of such merchandise, if it is not owned by the vendors, shall have first secured a license as herein provided and shall have complied with the regulations hereinafter set forth.

"Sec. 2. Any person, firm or corporation desiring such license shall, at least ten days prior to such proposed auction sale, file with the board of supervisors of the county wherein it is proposed to hold such auction sale, an application in writing duly verified by the person, firm or corporation proposing to sell, dispose of or offer for sale any new merchandise at public auction, which application shall state the following facts:

"1. The name, residence and post office address of the person, firm or corporation making the application, and if a firm or corporation, the name and address of the members of the firm or officers of the corporation, as the case may be.

"2. The name, residence and post office address of the auctioneer who will conduct such auction sale.

"3. A detailed inventory and description of all such new merchandise to be offered for sale at such auction which inventory shall set forth the cost to the applicant of the several items contained in such inventory.

"4. Whether or not the sale at public auction shall be with or without reservation.

"Sec. 3. At the time of filing said application, and as a part thereof, the applicant shall file and deposit with the board of supervisors a bond, with sureties to be approved by the board of supervisors, in the penal sum of two times the value of the merchandise proposed to be offered for sale at such auction as shown by the inventory filed, running to the State of Iowa, and for the use and benefit of any purchaser of any merchandise at such auction who might have a cause of action of any nature arising from or out of such auction sale against the auctioneer or applicant; the bond to be further conditioned on the payment by the applicant of all taxes that may be payable by, or due from, the applicant to the State of Iowa or any department or subdivision thereof, the payment of any fines that may be assessed by any court against the applicant or auctioneer for violation of the provisions of this act, and the satisfaction of all causes of actions commenced within one year from date of such auction sale and arising therefrom.

"In such bond the applicant and the surety shall appoint the chairman of the board of supervisors of the county in which such bond is filed, the agent of the applicant and the surety for the service of process in the event that personal service cannot be had upon them or either of them within the state of Iowa and shall designate the post office address to which such process against the applicant or surety, or either of them may be sent or served.

"Such bond shall contain the consent of the applicant and surety that the district court of the county wherein the application and bond is filed shall have jurisdiction of all actions arising against the applicant or surety, or both, arising out of said sale.

"The State of Iowa or any subdivision thereof, or any person having a cause of action against the applicant arising out of the sale of such new merchandise may join the applicant and the surety on such bond in the same action.

"Sec. 4. At the time of filing said application and bond the applicant shall pay to the county treasurer a license fee in the sum of twenty-five dollars ($25) for each day it is proposed to hold such auction sale as shown by the application for such license.

"Sec. 5. Upon the filing of such application and after the applicant has fully complied with all the provisions of this act, the board of supervisors, by its chairman, shall issue to the applicant a license authorizing the holding of such auction sale as proposed in said application. Such license shall not be transferrable, and shall be valid only in the county where issued, and shall not be valid in any town or city in such county which has enacted an ordinance pursuant to section three hundred sixty-eight point six (368.6), Code 1950.

"Sec. 6. Within ten days after the last day of said auction the applicant shall file in duplicate with the board of supervisors an inventory of all merchandise sold at such auction and the price received therefor which said inventory shall be verified. The chairman of the board of supervisors shall, immediately after receiving such report and inventory, forward a copy thereof to the state tax commission.

"Sec. 7. 'New Merchandise' as used in this act shall mean all merchandise not previously sold at retail. 'Auction sale' as used in this act shall mean the offering for sale or selling of personal property to the highest bidder or offering for sale or selling of personal property at a high price and then offering the same at successive lower prices until a buyer is secured.

"Sec. 8. The provisions of this act shall not extend to the sale at public auction of livestock, farm machinery or farm produce or other items commonly sold at farm sales, or to auction sales conducted by or under the direction of any court or court officers of such sales as may be required by law.

"Sec. 9. Any person who shall offer new merchandise for sale at public auction without first securing a license as herein provided, or who shall offer for sale new merchandise different from that shown by, or in excess of the amount and value of, the inventories filed with the application for license, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and may be punished by a fine not to exceed three hundred dollars ($300) or by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed ninety (90) days.

"Sec. 10. If any section, subsection, paragraph, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional or invalid, such unconstitutionality or invalidity shall not affect the constitutionality or validity of the remaining portion of this act.

"Sec. 11. This act being deemed of immediate importance, shall be in full force and effect upon its publication in The Sioux Rapids Bulletin-Press, a newspaper published at Sioux Rapids, Iowa, and in The Guttenberg Press, a newspaper published at Guttenberg, Iowa."

ABEL of Clayton.

1. Amend the title to House File 100 by striking line two (2) and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "establishment of state owned lakes in Crawford and Boone Counties".

2. Further amend line three (3) of the title by adding an "s" to the word "appropriation".

3. Amend section one (1), line three (3), by striking all after the word "of" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "state owned lakes. Said lakes shall be such as".

4. Amend section one (1), line four (4), by striking the word

"County", and inserting after the word "Crawford" the words "and Boone Counties".

5. Amend the explanation by striking it and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"The purpose of this bill is to provide for an engineering survey in Crawford and Boone Counties for state owned lakes. At present Crawford and Boone Counties have no proper recreational facilities. If the survey finds a suitable location for state owned lakes, the next legislature will be asked to make an appropriation for development."

SCHEERER of Boone.

Amend House File 135 by adding to section three (3) after line one hundred twenty-seven (127) a new paragraph as follows:

"The commissioner, upon proper application, shall issue a certificate of appointment as an official inspection station to any person, association or corporation owning and operating more than twenty-five motor vehicles, for purposes other than the sale thereof, to make inspections of his or its own vehicles only, pursuant to such rules as may be issued by the commissioner. The commissioner, upon receipt of the fee required to be paid to him by this act, shall issue to such person, association or corporation a certificate of inspection and approval for each of his or its motor vehicles which such person, association or corporation certifies meets the inspection requirements of this act."

ADOPTION OF COMMITTEE REPORTS

The Chief Clerk announced the adoption of reports of committees on House Files 161, 107, 56 and 44, under Rule 72.

BILLS INDEFINITELY POSTPONED

The Chief Clerk announced the following bills indefinitely postponed under Rule 27: House Files 21 and 22.

Reilly of Dubuque offered the following concurrent resolution and moved its adoption:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 10

Whereas, both houses of the legislature see fit to open their day's work with prayer, and it is unseemly that they should work during the time in which is commemorated the passion and death of the Lord to whom they dedicate their daily efforts;

Whereas, many members will absent themselves from the legislative halls during that time to attend services in their respective churches;

Digitized by Google

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring: That a special recess be held on Good Friday afternoon, April 3, during the hours of twelve to three o'clock, out of reverence to the passion and death of our Lord.

Laid over under Rule 34.

Burrows of Benton offered the following concurrent resolution and moved its adoption:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 11

Whereas, Senate File 82 of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly, providing for a change in the number of legislative bulletins or indexes to be printed at any one legislative session, has passed the Fifty-fifth General Assembly, and

Whereas, such newly enacted legislation would not become effective until July 4 of this year, and

Whereas, it is desirable that the provisions of this measure shall be in effect for the Fifty-fifth General Assembly,

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring, That the Superintendent of Printing is hereby authorized and directed to immediately comply with provisions of Senate File 82, as though the same were in full force and effect at this time.

Laid over under Rule 34.

EXPRESSION OF THE HOUSE

Burrows of Benton moved that the expenses incurred by Representative Fred Schwengel, while in Washington as a member of a special study committee, be paid by the State of Iowa.

Motion prevailed.

HOUSE FILE 70 REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the House and the title agreed to.

Mooty of Grundy asked and obtained unanimous consent to substitute Senate File 130 for House File 201.

Senate File 130, a bill for an act relating to nonresident owners of motor vehicles operated on the highways of this state, was taken up for consideration.

Mooty of Grundy offered the following amendment, filed by him and Palmer of Lee, and moved its adoption:

Amend Senate File 130 by adding a new section as follows:

"Sec. 4. A nonresident owner, except as provided in sections three hundred twenty-one point fifty-four (321.54), three hundred twenty-one point fifty-five (321.55) and three hundred twenty-one point fifty-six (321.56), Code 1950, of a private passenger motor vehicle, not operated for hire, may operate or permit the operation of such vehicle within this state without registering such vehicle in, or paying any fees to, this state subject to the condition that such vehicle at all times when operated in this state is duly registered in, and displays upon it a valid registration plate or plates issued for such vehicle in the place of residence of such owner. A nonresident who leases a vehicle from a resident owner shall not be considered a nonresident owner of such vehicle for the purpose of exemption under this section. This section shall be operative to the extent that under the laws of the foreign country, state, territory, or federal district of such nonresident owner's residence like exemptions and privileges are granted to vehicles registered under the laws, and owned by residents, of this state."

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the House and the title agreed to.

House File 8, a bill for an act to amend section two hundred seventy-nine point eight (279.8), Code 1950, to provide that public school employees handling money accruing from school activities and other sources furnish bond to school corporation, with report of committee recommending amendment and passage, was taken up for consideration.

Fairchild of Ida offered the following amendment, proposed by the committee on schools, libraries, state educational institutions, and moved its adoption:

Amend House File 8 by striking lines three (3) through twelve (12) from section one (1) and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

"Employees of a school corporation maintaining a high school who have the custody of funds belonging to the corporation or funds derived from extra-curricular activities and other sources in the conduct of their duties, shall be required to furnish suitable bond indemnifying the corporation or any activity group connected with the school against loss, and employees who have the custody of property belonging to the corporation or any activity group connected with the school may be required to furnish such bond. Said bond or bonds may be in such form and penalty as the board may approve and the premiums on same shall be paid from the general fund of the corporation."

Amendment adopted.

Miller of Black Hawk moved that the bill be read a last time now and placed upon its passage which motion prevailed and the bill was read a last time.

On the question "Shall the bill pass?"

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

HALL OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
DES MOINES, IOWA, FEBRUARY 10, 1953.

The House met pursuant to adjournment, Speaker Lynes in the chair.

The following prayer was offered by Speaker Lynes:

Our kind Heavenly Father, we come humbly before Thee this morning, acknowledging our sins of commission and omission. We thank Thee for Thy Divine protection and inspiration, and pray that we may be inspired to follow Thy Divine will in all of our actions. Help us to subdue our selfish impulses, and to consider fairly and impartially all of these changes in our laws with which we are occupied. Help us to keep before us all of the time, the good of all of the people rather than our own selfish interest. And finally, when our work on earth is finished, receive us all with the saved and sanctified of this earth. In Jesus' name and for His sake. Amen.

The Journal of February 9 was corrected and approved.

Mr. Rider presented to the joint convention Dr. J. W. Maucker, president of Iowa State Teachers College, who delivered the following Lincoln Day address:

Digitized by Google

MR. PRESIDENT, MR. SPEAKER, MR. RIDER, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY, FRIENDS:

I greatly appreciate the honor you do Iowa State Teachers College in extending me the privilege of addressing you today.

If ever there were a subject on which one should speak with complete candor, cutting away all pretense, it is the life and character of Abraham Lincoln, whose memory we pause to honor this morning. Lest there be any misunderstanding on the point, I hasten to state that I have no special qualifications for speaking on this occasion—I am not a trained historian, not even an amateur student of Lincoln. I see him just as most of you do —through the eyes of the general citizen who has lived most of his life in the Midwest during the first half of the twentieth century.

Come to think of it, the foregoing statement is not quite true—I do have one bit of previous experience in speaking regarding Lincoln: as a grade school youngster back in the 1920's I was asked to memorize the Gettysburg address and recite it at the Memorial Day exercises on the courthouse lawn at Rock Island, Illinois. I did so, speaking, I believe, in good loud tones, carefully enunciating Lincoln's well-chosen words, trying my best to keep from going too fast. That address is, of course, one of the most cogent known to man—a gem of brevity; I am sorry to say that I improved some on Mr. Lincoln's work—he wrote that memorable address in ten sentences—I recited it in nine.

Why do we revere Lincoln? Quite universally we consider him one of the two or three greatest Americans; many of us, the greatest. Why do we single out from among the thousands and thousands of men who have been leaders in American life this sorrowful, lonely man "homely as a plowed field"? Most of us, I believe, would be hard-pressed to state explicit reasons—to cite chapter and verse justifying our opinion; nevertheless, we feel in our bones that we are right in that opinion.

No doubt events conspired to throw an aura around him which would have led us to feel kindly toward any decent man in his position—the terrible conflict breaking loose as he assumed the presidency, the awful responsibility of those dark years, his martyrdom at the height of victory —but our feeling toward Lincoln is much more than one of sympathy. Why do we venerate the man?

Perhaps we may profitably spend a few moments searching our hearts for the answer to that question. Each of us might suggest somewhat different answers; I shall offer three. I suggest that we revere Lincoln because of his qualities as a person (the kind of a man he was), because of what he taught us of ourselves and our destiny (of the role of America among the peoples of the earth) and because of the hope he holds out to us as a living example of the workings of democracy.

A Big Man

And what manner of man was he? So complex, indeed, and so changing as he grew from ungainly backwoods lad to Illinois lawyer to wartime president that entire books have not sufficed to answer this one question. But, after all the claims and counterclaims have been adjusted, we remember him not as being clever or brilliant, though he certainly had a good head on his shoulders; not for physical courage or clean living, though he had exhibited both; not for executive ability or organizational skill, though he performed no mean feats under difficult circumstances; but as a kindly, compassionate, humble, self-effacing, long-suffering, humor-loving, friendly man of intense moral convictions and a driving sense of mission.

He was, in the widest sense, a big man: magnanimous, large of soul, noble. We find these qualities reflected in his generous attitude toward the South, in his personal expression of consolation to bereaved mothers, in his modest exchange of notes with Edward Everett after the dedication ceremony at Gettysburg. And withal a man of unswerving purpose and devotion to the right as he saw it. Remember his reply to Horace Greeley:

> "I would save the Union. I would save it the shortest way under the Constitution. . . . If I could save the Union without freeing any slave I would do it, and if I could save it by freeing all the slaves, I would do it; and if I could save it by freeing some and leaving others alone I would also do that. . . . I have here stated my purpose according to my view of official duty; and I intend no modification of my oft-expressed personal wish that all men everywhere could be free."

An intense sense of mission may not be a blessing—witness the life of one Adolf Hitler—but Lincoln's was tempered by an unfailing sense of humor, placing events around him in appropriate perspective. He was most effective in making a point under trying circumstances by telling a story or relating an anecdote. Lincoln himself particularly enjoyed the story of two Quaker women overheard discussing the wartime leaders, Jefferson Davis and Lincoln:

"I think Jefferson will succeed."
"Why does thee think so?"
"Because Jefferson is a praying man."
"And so is Abraham a praying man."
"Yes, but the Lord will think Abraham is joking."

J. G. Randall, eminent Lincoln scholar at the University of Illinois, referring to Lincoln's difficulties in dealing with the vindictive elements in his own party, summarizes these qualities we most admire:

> "It is in his reaction to these difficult circumstances that we find the measure of Lincoln's qualities as president: his unaffected kindness, his poise, his humor, his largeness of soul, his fairness toward opponents, his refusal to get angry, his steadiness, his ability to maintain that well-tempered morale which is so indispensable in a desperate war."

But it is to poetry we must turn for the most adequate expression of what it is "we feel in our bones" about Lincoln's greatness:

Thus Stephen Vincent Benet lauds his:

"Honesty rare as a man without self-pity,
Kindness as large and plain as a prairie wind,
And a self-confidence like an iron bar."

Digitized by Google

And James Russell Lowell pays tribute to:

"The kindly-earnest, brave, fore-seeing man,
Sagacious, patient, dreading praise, not blame,
New birth of our new soil, the first American."

And Edwin Markham claims:

"The color of the ground was in him, the red earth;
The smell and smack of elemental things;
The rectitude and patience of the cliff;
The good-will of the rain that loves all leaves;
The friendly welcome of the wayside well;
The courage of the bird that dares the sea;
The gladness of the wind that shakes the corn;
The mercy of the snow that hides all scars."

Teacher and Prophet

So we love him for his bigness and his moral earnestness—as a man. I believe we also revere him because of what he taught us: that we in America have embarked on an experiment of crucial importance to the world, to all peoples—that as inheritors of a precious tradition, we dare not fail for lack of courage, patience, confidence in one another and in the essential correctness of our basic assumptions.

In Lincoln, the Liberal Statesman, J. G. Randall, previously quoted, places great stress on this point:

"This world view as to democracy was so strongly underlined by Lincoln that it is fair to regard it as the pivotal factor in his political philosophy. At Gettysburg, with the ghastliness of the war before his eyes and with the butchery still in progress, he spoke not of immediate issues or war problems; nor did he show a trace of bitterness. The Gettysburg occasion as he viewed it was a high challenge. To meet this challenge, nothing less would serve than a concept so fundamental that it offered a key to the age in which he lived, or rather to the whole sweep of American history in a setting of world history. It was the exaltation of the theme—democracy as a world factor—that gave serenity and timeless significance to this dedicatory vignette. In phrases that were unforgettable he paid tribute to the dead. Then he associated the deepest of patriotic emotions with his dominant political idea—that is, the imperative obligation to make democracy succeed and thus prove to other nations that the American experiment of government by the people is no failure."

In his very first message to Congress, discussing the attack on Fort Sumter, Mr. Lincoln indicated the breadth of his view when he stated:

"And this issue embraces more than the fate of these United States. It presents to the whole family of man the question whether a constitutional republic or democracy—a government of the people by the same people—can or cannot maintain its territorial integrity against its own domestic foes. . . . Must a government, of necessity, be too strong for the liberties of its own people, or too weak to maintain its own existence?"

Digitized by Google

Again, on December 1, 1862, in his annual message to Congress,

"Fellow-citizens, we cannot escape history. . . . We shall nobly save, or meanly lose, the last best hope of earth. . . . The way is plain, peaceful, generous, just—a way which, if followed, the world will forever applaud, and God must forever bless."

Thus has Abraham Lincoln interpreted the role, the mission, of America. Thus has he cut through the narrow, the provincial, the immediate and given us a vision of ourselves in the stream of history—a vision challenging us to be our best selves. And we are still engaged in carrying out that mission, revering Lincoln as our major prophet.

Symbol of Democracy

There is another very special reason why we revere Lincoln: He himself is such a splendid embodiment of one of the "basic hunches" of democracy—that inherent dignity and potential worth are scattered widely among men and will make themselves felt if artificial barriers are removed. He comes as close as one could to having risen on sheer merit from "nothing" to the highest position of leadership. Asserting his belief that it is the man who has had common experiences who is almost always the man who interprets America aright, Woodrow Wilson once asked, "Isn't that the reason that we are proud of such stories as the story of Abraham Lincoln—a man who rose out of the ranks and interpreted America better than any man had interpreted it who had risen out of the privileged classes or the educated classes of America?"

Rereading the story of Lincoln's early years, one is struck by the woefully unpromising conditions under which he got his start in life. Born in a one-room, backwoods Kentucky cabin, of illiterate parents, total formal schooling one year—what handicaps he overcame! In the winter of 1816, when Abe was seven, the family moved to Indiana. Lacking time to build a cabin, they threw up a "half-faced camp", a rude shelter of logs and boughs, enclosed on three sides, with the fourth side protected only by a fire which must be kept blazing to provide even a minimum of comfort. The family subsisted almost entirely on game, which also furnished skins and furs to keep them warm. Two years later Abe's mother died. Deprived of the influence of a woman, they sank almost into squalor. Until age twenty-one, Abe did rough farm work and odd jobs, turning over his earnings to his father. Then he lit out on his own, describing himself as "a piece of floating driftwood". According to Carl Sandberg, even at the age of twenty-eight, when Lincoln moved from New Salem to Springfield after serving two terms in the legislature, he had only seven dollars in his pocket and was more than a thousand dollars in debt. He rode into town on a borrowed horse, carrying his possessions in two saddle-bags and was glad to make arrangements with friends for free lodging and board. At age of twenty-eight! And yet he became a highly successful lawyer in his own right and a statesman of major proportions.

Again, a poet has packed the whole mystery and pathos of such happenings into a few short lines—this time Rosemary Benet, imagining what Lincoln's mother would have said had she come back to life:

NANCY HANKS

If Nancy Hanks
Came back as a ghost,
Seeking news
Of what she loved most,
She'd ask first
"Where's my son?
What's happened to Abe?
What's he done?

"Poor little Abe,
Except for Tom,
Who's a rolling stone;
He was only nine
The year I died.
I remember still
How hard he cried.

"Scraping along
In a little shack,
With hardly a shirt
To cover his back,
And a prairie wind
To blow him down,
Or pinching times
If he went to town.

"You wouldn't know
About my son?
Did he grow tall?
Did he have fun?
Did he learn to read?
Did he get to town?
Do you know his name?
Did he get on?"

Bless you, Nancy, he did "get on"—in fact, he "got on" as did no other American. And we take hope from his example.

It is good that the Iowa legislature pauses each session to draw from the well-springs of Abraham Lincoln's life and character. Lincoln, you know, spent eight years in the Illinois legislature and later served one term as Congressman from Illinois. He was defeated the first time he ran for the legislature, in 1832, running eighth among twelve or thirteen candidates (they did not lack for candidates in those days), but from 1834-41 he made the grade, working into the position of floor leader for the Whigs, at that time the minority party. You men will appreciate the fact that young Lincoln, age twenty-five, had to borrow $200 to tide him over until the legislature voted a partial salary payment at Christmas time. Lincoln's legislative career was not a distinguished one, although he was among those responsible for locating the state capital at Springfield, but we must remember he had much to learn—he had started a long way back in the race.

Lincoln himself was not unconscious of the symbolic significance of his own life. Dixon Wecter writes:

> "With passionate faith he (Lincoln) believed that democracy was the best of governments and in so far as he thought of himself in the White House it was in terms of its demonstration. 'I am a living witness,' he (Lincoln) told an Ohio regiment, 'that any one of your children may look to come here as my father's child has . . . that each of you may have, through this free government which we have enjoyed, an open field and a fair chance for your industry, enterprise, and intelligence.' By what he was, therefore, as well as what he stood for, Abraham Lincoln has become a world symbol to all who struggle for freedom."

Thus we revere Lincoln as person, interpreter, symbol.

Having speculated as to why we and our fellow-Americans hold Lincoln in such high regard, perhaps we might be forgiven if we adventure to inquire what Lincoln's example should mean to us today. We can never know to what extent we may be correct in our guesses as to what he would do, or advise us to do, if he were alive among us today, but it should be good for us to try to apply his teachings to our times.

With your indulgence, I would put words into the great man's mouth: "Get on with the job, America. Keep your eyes on the main task. Let the people speak."

Get On With the Job, America.

Would not Lincoln advise us to attack confidently the tremendous tasks we have inherited as the leading power in the free world? While he would not minimize the complexity of our problems and the risks involved in leadership, it seems reasonable to assume that Lincoln would feel that we have made tremendous strides since his day in carrying out his Gettysburg resolution, "that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom" and that he would urge that we not shrink from the new tasks confronting us, but, having confidence in our fundamental purposes and in our heritage, move on to carry out our mission of making democracy work at home and cooperating with free men everywhere to achieve a lasting peace.

Listen to his Second Inaugural:

> "With malice toward none; with charity for all; with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to bind up the nation's wounds; to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow, and his orphan—to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace, among ourselves, and with all nations."

Here is no shrinking from the task, no gloating over anticipated victory, but quiet charity and confidence in the ultimate outcome of high endeavor.

Keep Your Eyes on the Main Task.

Would not Lincoln be concerned to see so many evidences of bickering among ourselves in this country? Would he not be disappointed to find us so "jittery" in this time of tension that we totter on the verge of strangling freedom of thought and expression in our midst, that we enact discriminatory legislation regarding entrance into our "promised land", that we blow hot and cold in our aid to free peoples and act as though our left hand of tariff and trade policies did not know what our right hand of encouraging increased productivity in the free world were doing? Can you not hear Old Abe urging patience, compassion, forebearance among our fellowmen who, though aiming at a common goal, are divided as to appropriate means for achieving it? Can you not hear him urging that we tolerate some error rather than stifle the unfettered competition of ideas in our country? Would he not urge that we be big enough to be undistracted by the petty squabbles of the daily headlines and keep our eyes on the main issues? Might he not even ask Iowa legislators if they have given the greatest emphasis in their deliberations to the matters of highest importance?

Listen to Lincoln at Gettysburg, calling on us to dedicate ourselves to the "great task":

> "The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion—that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain—that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom—and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

Keep your eyes on the big problems, Americans. Don't let yourselves be distracted so you fight among yourselves on issues which will not matter over the long pull. Keep first things first.

Let the People Speak.

Would not Lincoln speak fondly of the legislative process, urging you men gathered here today to listen for the voice of the people as you make provision for the government of Iowa? Would he not urge you consistently to provide opportunity for the people to keep themselves informed; would he not stress the fundamental importance of economic and educational opportunity (he who as President signed the Homestead Act, intended to extend economic opportunity, and the Morrill Act, establishing our great land-grant colleges)? I think I can hear Lincoln agreeing that the pressure groups, the lobbyists, undoubtedly perform a useful function and then adding wryly "but their axes are so large and so unwieldy!" Would he not urge you to place your trust in the common sense of the people over the long pull (in the Lincoln in each of us), providing only that the channels of information, education and discussion are kept open?

In this connection, let us listen to portions of the First Inaugural, spoken on the brink of Civil War, at a time when grounds for tension were much greater than at any time in any of our lives:

> "Why should there not be a patient confidence in the ultimate justice of the people? Is there any better or equal hope in the world? . . . By the frame of the government under which we live, this same people have wisely given their public servants but little power for mischief, and have, with equal wisdom, provided for the return of that little to their own hands at very short intervals. While the people retain their virtue and vigilance, no administration, by any extreme of wickedness or folly, can very seriously injure the government in the short space of four years. . . . Though passion may have strained, it must not break, our bonds of affection. . . . Why should there not be a patient confidence in the ultimate justice of the people? Is there any better or equal hope in the world?"

Dr. H. J. Thornton, whose death during the last year deprived our State University of a splendid teacher, spoke of the meaning of Lincoln to our generation when he said on this occasion two years ago,

"Abraham Lincoln still stands before us, a humble, gentle, compassionate, gracious man. Yet, he is a towering figure in the history of this land and of all mankind. We may not find in his record specific answers to our precise and immediate problems rising out of a world in convulsion and we at the center of it. But we should find for the obvious present and the undisclosed future strength of purpose, iron resolution, humility, kindness, and inspiration for the trials and difficulties of our day. . . ."

"Get on with the job, America. Keep your eyes on the main task and let the people be heard."

We are all of us richer because Abraham Lincoln lived in our land. And yet to think on his life as we have done this morning leaves us with something of the brooding sense of loneliness which was part of his own character. I know of no more fitting passage with which to close than the last verse of Edwin Markham's Lincoln, The Man of the People:

"So came the Captain with the thinking heart;
And when the judgment thunders split the house,
Wrenching the rafters from their ancient rest,
He held the ridgepole up, and spiked again
The rafters of the Home. He held his place—
Held the long purpose like a growing tree—
Held on through blame and faltered not at praise.
And when he fell in whirlwind, he went down
As when a lordly cedar, green with boughs,
Goes down with a great shout upon the hills,
And leaves a lonesome place against the sky.

In the name of the college, Ladies and Gentlemen, I thank you.

The minutes of the joint convention were read and approved.

Senator Dewel of Kossuth moved that the joint convention be now dissolved.

Motion prevailed.

The House reconvened, Speaker Lynes in the chair.

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

The House resumed consideration of House File 23, a bill for an act to establish a department of public instruction for the State of Iowa; to establish a board of public instruction, provide for the election of members thereof, and prescribe the powers and duties of said board; to provide for the appointment of a superintendent of public instruction and assistant superintendents and such other staff members and employees as necessary, and to prescribe the powers and duties of such superintendents and staff members; to abolish the present board of educational examiners and transfer duties of said board to the board of public instruction; to abolish the present board of vocational education and to designate the board of public instruction as the state board for vocational education; to amend certain sections of the Code relating thereto, and to repeal certain sections of said Code to effect the general purposes of this act, with report of committee recommending passage.

McWhorter of Kossuth asked and obtained unanimous consent to reinstate the following amendments, previously withdrawn on February 11:

2. Section three (3), line thirteen (13), by striking out "1953" and inserting in lieu thereof "1954".

3. Section three (3), line sixteen (16), by striking out the word "even-numbered" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "odd-numbered".

Schwengel of Scott moved that action on House File 23 be deferred until Monday, February 16.

Motion prevailed.

House File 73, a bill for an act to amend section two hundred seventy-nine point forty (279.40), Code 1950, relating to sick leave for school employees, with report of committee recommending passage, was taken up for consideration.

Palmer of Lee offered the following amendment, filed by him and Goode of Davis, and moved its adoption:

Amend House File 73 by striking all after the enacting clause and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section two hundred seventy-nine point forty (279.40), Code 1950, is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof the following: 'Any school board, with the approval of the county board of education, may grant additional cumulative sick leave to individual public school em-to report the same back to the House with the recommendation that the same be amended as follows, and when so amended the bill do pass.

1. Amend House File 27 by striking the entire title and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"An act to require a license for the sale by auction of new merchandise at places outside of cities and towns, or within any city or town that has not by ordinance provided for the licensing of auction sales under the provisions of section three hundred sixty-eight point six (368.6), Code 1950, and providing for the filing of application for such license, the filing of a bond and submission of inventory, fixing the amount of license fee and providing for the payment thereof, and the issuing of license by the board of supervisors, and requiring a report of sale and providing penalties for violation thereof."

2. Amend House File 27 by striking everything after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof:

"Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell, dispose of, or offer for sale at public auction at any place outside the limits of any city or town in the State of Iowa, or within the limits of any city or town in the State of Iowa that has not by ordinance enacted pursuant to the provisions of section three hundred sixty-eight point six (368.6), Code 1950, provided for the licensing of sales by auction, any new merchandise, unless such person, firm or corporation and the owners of such merchandise, if it is not owned by the vendors, shall have first secured a license as herein provided and shall have complied with the regulations hereinafter set forth.

"Sec. 2. Any person, firm or corporation desiring such license shall, at least ten days prior to such proposed auction sale, file with the board of supervisors of the county wherein it is proposed to hold such auction sale, an application in writing duly verified by the person, firm or corporation proposing to sell, dispose of or offer for sale any new merchandise at public auction, which application shall state the following facts:

"1. The name, residence and post office address of the person, firm or corporation making the application, and if a firm or corporation, the name and address of the members of the firm or officers of the corporation, as the case may be.

"2. The name, residence and post office address of the auctioneer who will conduct such auction sale.

"3. A detailed inventory and description of all such new merchandise to be offered for sale at such auction which inventory shall set forth the cost to the applicant of the several items contained in such inventory.

"4. Whether or not the sale at public auction shall be with or without reservation.

"Sec. 3. At the time of filing said application, and as a part thereof, the applicant shall file and deposit with the board of supervisors a bond, with sureties to be approved by the board of supervisors, in the penal sum of two times the value of the merchandise proposed to be offered for sale at such auction as shown by the inventory filed, running to the State of Iowa, and for the use and benefit of any purchaser of any merchandise at such auction who might have a cause of action of any nature arising from or out of such auction sale against the auctioneer or applicant; the bond to be further conditioned on the payment by the applicant of all taxes that may be payable by, or due from, the applicant to the State of Iowa or any department or subdivision thereof, the payment of any fines that may be assessed by any court against the applicant or auctioneer for violation of the provisions of this act, and the satisfaction of all causes of actions commenced within one year from date of such auction sale and arising therefrom.

"In such bond the applicant and the surety shall appoint the chairman of the board of supervisors of the county in which such bond is filed, the agent of the applicant and the surety for the service of process in the event that personal service cannot be had upon them or either of them within the State of Iowa and shall designate the post office address to which such process against the applicant or surety, or either of them, may be sent or served.

"Such bond shall contain the consent of the applicant and surety that the district court of the county wherein the application and bond is filed shall have jurisdiction of all actions arising against the applicant or surety, or both, arising out of said sale.

"The State of Iowa or any suubdivision thereof, or any person having a cause of action against the applicant arising out of the sale of such new merchandise may join the applicant and the surety on such bond in the same action.

"Sec. 4. At the time of filing said application and bond the applicant shall pay to the county treasurer a license fee in the sum of twenty-five dollars ($25) for each day it is proposed to hold such auction sale as shown by the application for such license.

"Sec. 5. Upon the filing of such application and after the applicant has fully complied with all the provisions of this act, the board of supervisors, by its chairman, shall issue to the applicant a license authorizing the holding of such auction sale as proposed in said application. Such license shall not be transferrable, and shall be valid only in the county where issued, and shall not be valid in any town or city in such county which has enacted an ordinance pursuant to section three hundred sixty-eight point six (368.6), Code 1950.

"Sec. 6. Within ten days after the last day of said auction the applicant shall file in duplicate with the board of supervisors an inventory of all merchandise sold at such auction and the price received therefor which said inventory shall be verified. The chairman of the board of supervisors shall, immediately after receiving such report and inventory, forward a copy thereof to the state tax commission.

"Sec. 7. 'New Merchandise' as used in this act shall mean all merchandise not previously sold at retail. 'Auction sale' as used in this act shall mean the offering for sale or selling of personal property to the highest bidder or offering for sale or selling of personal property at a high price and then offering the same at successive lower prices until a buyer is secured.

"Sec. 8. The provisions of this act shall not extend to the sale at public auction of livestock, farm machinery or farm produce or other items commonly sold at farm sales, or to auction sales conducted by merchants who own or have a one year or more lease upon an establishment within the county or under the direction of any court or court officers of such sales as may be required by law.

"Sec. 9. Any person who shall offer new merchandise for sale at public auction without first securing a license as herein provided, or who shall offer for sale new merchandise different from that shown by, or in excess of the amount and value of, the inventories filed with the application for license, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and may be punished by a fine not to exceed three hundred dollars ($300) or by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed ninety (90) days.

"Sec. 10. If any section, subsection, paragraph, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional or invalid, such unconstitutionality or invalidity shall not affect the constitutionality or validity of the remaining portion of this act.

"Sec. 11. This act, being deemed of immediate importance, shall be in full force and effect upon its publication in The Sioux Rapids Bulletin-Press, a newspaper published at Sioux Rapids, Iowa, and The Guttenberg Press, a newspaper published at Guttenberg, Iowa."

REPORT OF JOINT COMMITTEE ON RULES

TO THE PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE AND THE SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE:
Gentlemen:

The committee on rules of the Senate and House of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly, having met jointly, begs to report that they have had the joint rules of the Senate and House under consideration and recommend that the joint rules of the Senate and House of the Fifty-fourth General Assembly be adopted as the joint rules of the Senate and House of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly except as hereinafter repealed, altered amended or substituted:

RULE 15

Strike all of said rule and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"When bills are introduced in both houses containing identically the same text, they shall be called companion bills. Each house shall designate the bill's author or authors in the usual way followed in parentheses by the name or names of the author or authors introducing the companion bill in the other house. When a bill has been introduced in one house and a companion bill is to be introduced in the other house, the bill first introduced shall be printed in full and complete form and the companion bill, as introduced in the other house, shall be printed only to and including the enacting clause thereof, and following the enacting clause there shall be printed an additional statement as follows: 'This bill is an identical and companion bill to Senate (House) File ..... For printed text see that bill.'

"All proposed bills to be introduced in either house must be checked by the respective law clerks for subject matter to determine whether there has been an identical bill previously introduced in the other house. If a member seeks to introduce an identical bill to one which he knows has been previously introduced in the other house, he must ascertain the number under which that bill has been introduced and have that number noted on his bill by the proper official. At least one legislative day should intervene between the first introduction of a bill and the introduction of an identical or companion bill in the other house. Any other instructions pursuant to carrying out the provisions of this rule shall be issued by the Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives."

Respectfully submitted,
STANLEY L. HART, Chairman,
On the part of the Senate.

of Iowa; to establish a board of public instruction, provide for the election of members thereof, and prescribe the powers and duties of said board; to provide for the appointment of a superintendent of public instruction and assistant superintendents and such other staff members and employees as necessary, and to prescribe the powers and duties of such superintendents and staff members; to abolish the present board of educational examiners and transfer duties of said board to the board of public instruction; to abolish the present board of vocational education and to designate the board of public instruction as the state board for vocational education; to amend certain sections of the Code relating thereto, and to repeal certain sections of said Code to effect the general purposes of this act, with report of committee recommending passage.

Palmer of Lee offered the following amendment, filed by him, Huisman of Osceola, Ringgenberg of Story, et al.:

Amend House File 23, section eleven (11), by striking all of said section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"The state board shall appoint, effective April 1, 1955, and each four years thereafter, with the approval of two-thirds of the members of the Senate in executive session, a superintendent of public instruction.

"The superintendent of public instruction, elected to office in 1950, shall continue in said office until the effective date herein, with all the rights, powers, and duties conferred by law on the office of superintendent of public instruction."

Schwengel of Scott offered the following amendment to the amendment filed by him and Palmer of Lee and moved its adoption:

Amend the Palmer amendment to House File 23 by adding thereto the following:

"Should any vacancy in the office of state superintendent of public instruction occur prior to April 1, 1955, and after the state board is first selected and qualified, said vacancy shall be filled by the state board."

Amendment to the amendment adopted.

Frey of Pottawattamie moved the previous question.

Motion prevailed.

Palmer of Lee moved the adoption of the amendment as amended.

Roll call was demanded by Palmer of Lee and Van Zwol of O'Brien.

On the question "Shall the amendment be adopted?"

INTRODUCTION OF JOINT RESOLUTION

House Joint Resolution 12, by Stevens of Greene, Parker of Polk, Gallup of Jefferson, Kosek of Linn and Bass of Montgomery, a joint resolution proposing to repeal sections six (6), thirty-four (34), thirty-five (35), and thirty-six (36) of article three (III), legislative department of the Constitution of the State of Iowa, and to adopt substitutes for sections six (6), thirty-four (34) and thirty-five (35) thereof, relating to representation in the Senate and House of Representatives and to the classification of Senators.

Be It Resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

Section 1. Section six (6), article three (III), legislative department of the Constitution of the State of Iowa, is hereby repealed and the following is adopted as a substitute therefor.

"Senators shall be so classified by lot, that one class, being as nearly one half as possible, shall be elected every two years. When either class consists of a greater number than one-half of the total number of Senators, newly elected Senators shall be annexed by lot to one or the other of the two classes so as to keep such classes equal and the Senators annexed to the greater of the two classes shall serve a term of two years notwithstanding the provisions of section five (5) of this article."

Sec. 2. Section thirty-five (35), of article three (III), legislative department of the Constitution of the State of Iowa, is repealed and the following is adopted as a substitute therefor:

"The House of Representatives shall consist of ninety-nine (99) members. Every county shall constitute one (1) representative district and be entitled to one (1) Representative."

Digitized by Google

Sec. 3. Section thirty-four (34) of article three (III), legislative department of the Constitution of the State of Iowa is hereby repealed and the following is adopted as a substitute therefor:

"The Senate shall consist of sixty (60) Senators, to be elected from sixty (60) senatorial districts established by law. The state shall be divided into sixty (60) districts having as nearly equal population as possible. Where a senatorial district is constituted of more than one county, the counties shall be contiguous, and no county shall be divided in forming such a district; where a county is entitled to more than one Senator, such county shall be divided into the number of senatorial districts equal to the number of Senators to which the county is entitled. Provided, however, that two or more districts in the same county may by law be combined and the Senators representing the county may be elected either from the several districts or at large from such county as the law may prescribe. At the first session of the general assembly following the adoption of this amendment and at each session immediately following the official publication of each succeeding decennial United States census thereafter, the general assembly shall take notice of the last preceding United States census and reapportion the senatorial districts as above prescribed based on the last preceding United States census. Provided, however, that if the general assembly fails to act at the first session following the adoption of this amendment or the first session following the official publication of each succeeding United States census enumerating the population of the several counties in this state, the supreme court shall take judicial notice of the last and each succeeding United States census and shall, on its own motion, proceed to designate and apportion the senatorial districts as hereinbefore provided, the provisions of section one (1) article three (III) to the contrary notwithstanding.

Sec. 4. Section thirty-six (36) of article three (III), legislative department of the Constitution of the State of Iowa, is hereby repealed.

Read first time and referred to committee on constitutional amendments.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The following announcement was offered by the Speaker:

Your Speaker desires to issue a statement announcing his position on the subject of alleged alterations and substitutions on the attached signature sheets of House File 337 and House File 577, which were bills passed during the Fifty-third General Assembly of the State of Iowa held in 1949.

Digitized by Google

He has examined the above named bills now on file and in the possession of Secretary of State Synhorst and has compared them with the photostatic copies taken of these bills after the Chief Clerk of the House had signed them but before the Governor had affixed his signature.

Although inexperienced in such matters, the Speaker is convinced that alterations and substitutions have been made to these attached signature sheets but he found no evidence that subject matter in the bills had been changed in any way. In the face of this evidence and not knowing what his duties were, your Speaker called for advice from the Attorney General, who has replied as follows:

"In response to your inquiry as to what your duties are with reference to alleged altering of official documents—we report you have no specific duties when such a matter is called to your attention. As a member of the House of Representatives you or any other Representative may introduce a resolution requesting an investigation.

LEO A. HOEGH,
Attorney General of Iowa."

Regarding the privileges of the Governor in changing his veto or approval of bills after he has signed them—the ruling of the Attorney General is as follows: "Within the period fixed by the Constitution, the Governor may deliberate as to the propriety of approving an act of the legislature, and may sign the act and erase his signature, and until it has passed beyond his control by the constitutional and customary modes of legislation, he may reconsider and retract any approval previously made."

LEO A. HOEGH,
Attorney General of Iowa.

It is the decision of the Speaker that any further action on this matter rests with the members of the House.

Mallonee of Audubon moved that the announcement by the Speaker be approved by the House.

Motion prevailed.

CARROLL A. LANE, Secretary.

Van Zwol of O'Brien offered the following House Concurrent Resolution:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 15

Whereas, the future progress and prosperity of Iowa is dependent to a great degree upon the skills and efforts of those citizens who operate the many farms of the state; and

Whereas, the Future Farmers of America organization is composed of boys who are studying vocational agriculture in public secondary schools as preparation for careers in farming; and

Whereas, the major purposes of the Future Farmers of America organization are to develop leadership, encourage cooperation, promote good citizenship, teach sound methods of farming and inspire patriotism among the members; and

Whereas, Iowa now has two hundred thirty active chapters of the organization, with more than 8,669 presently active members and more than 75,000 former members; and

Whereas, the members of the Future Farmers of America perform valuable community services and provide important leadership in developing our agricultural economy and in building a better state;

Digitized by Google

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring, That the week of February 21 be declared Iowa Future Farmers of America Week and all citizens urged to take notice of the many contributions of the Future Farmers to our state and to encourage in every possible way the further growth of this spendid organization for our farm youth.

Laid over under Rule 34.

Lisle of Page offered the following House resolution proposed by him and Watson of Warren, Burrows of Benton, Klemesrud of Winnebago, Palmer of Lee and Stephenson of Wayne:

HOUSE RESOLUTION 4

Providing for the appointment of a committee to investigate the Iowa employment security commission and its administration of the Iowa employment security law, and to report to the General Assembly its findings and recommendations.

Whereas, there is now and has been considerable criticism of the Iowa employment security commission by many employers and citizens of this state and in a great many newspaper articles and accounts because of certain interpretations and construction of the Iowa employment security law by the commission, and particularly the provisions thereof relative to the disqualification of employees to receive benefits as reflected in the decisions by the commission; and

Whereas, there has been presented to many members of this General Assembly numerous complaints and criticisms of certain decisions and orders for the payment of unemployment benefits by the Iowa employment security commission; and

Whereas, the supreme court of Iowa has in several decisions and opinions construed and defined the provisions of said law relating to the disqualification of individuals for benefits, and the complaints against the commission charge that the commission has flagrantly and arbitrarily ignored and disregarded the said construction and definition of said provisions of law by the Iowa supreme court in its decisions and orders, and has continued to make awards and orders for the payment of unemployment compensation benefits to individuals not entitled thereto under the law; and

Whereas, the commission under date of February 19, 1952, contrary to and notwithstanding the said decisions and opinions of the Iowa supreme court, caused to be sent to its local office managers of the Iowa state employment service a statement of "Commission Policy—Involuntary leaving" which it designated "Operating Bulletin U. C. Series III, No. 54" which states the following:

"SUBJECT: Commission Policy—Involuntary leaving

"Gentlemen:

"The commission under date of February 12, 1952, in the case of Sadie E. Callender, No. 52C-1346, held that an individual who left her work because of illness or injury and who, because of her physical condition, would not be able to return and resume her work, that such individual would not be considered a voluntary quit under section ninety-six point five (96.5), subsection one (1), Code 1950. The commission further stated that 'while the employer was without fault and claimant's separation was without any good cause attributable to the employer, nevertheless her leaving was involuntary . . . claimant wanted to continue her employment at the hotel but was prevented from doing so by circumstances beyond her control.'

"While this case deals specifically with the issue of involuntary leaving of employment because of physical inability to do the work, the principle of involuntary separation will arise in connection with other causes for separation such as loss of transportation, housing, etc. It is believed that the principle of involuntary leaving as established by the commission in the above case will apply in all instances where the worker is forced to leave his employment involuntarily. If it is established that the leaving is involuntary, then section ninety-six point five (96.5), subsection one (1), Code 1950, shall not be construed to disqualify the worker as a voluntary quit.

"Please refer any questions which may arise in connection with the above policy of involuntary separation from employment to the chief of benefits.

Very truly yours,
IOWA STATE EMPLOYMENT SERVICE,
GEORGE W. MOORE, State Director." and it is charged that said "Commission Policy" is contrary to and in direct conflict with the plain meaning of the said provisions of law, and with the decisions and opinions of the Iowa supreme court; that the commission has since the announcement of said "Commission Policy" refused and failed to correctly construe and apply the provisions of the law stating the disqualification for benefits, and has awarded and ordered benefits paid pursuant to said erroneous policy; and

Whereas, several of said decisions and determinations by the commission have been appealed to various district courts of the State of Iowa and in each instance the court has reversed the decision and order of the commission; and

Whereas, the employers subject to the Iowa employment security law are required by said law to make contributions to their respective accounts with the commission for the purpose of paying unemployment benefits therefrom to their employees when eligible and entitled thereto under the provisions of the law; that erroneous and unlawful benefit payments to individuals not entitled thereto under the law will deplete the accounts of the employers and result in the requiring of increased contributions from the employers affected to maintain their accounts;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, That a committee of five (5) members be appointed by the Speaker, to investigate the Iowa employment security commission and its administration of the Iowa employment security law, and particularly in connection with the policy of the commission in the determination of disqualification for benefits; and that the committee report to the General Assembly its findings and recommendations.

Laid over under Rule 34.

Kosek of Linn offered the following concurrent resolution proposed by him, Miller of Black Hawk and Novak of Linn (Berg):

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 14

Whereas, the Honorable Arch W. McFarlane, of Black Hawk County, is recognized as the dean of the General Assembly, having served in more sessions and occupied more legislative offices in the General Assembly than any other person in the history of the state, and

Whereas, the Honorable Frank C. Byers, of Linn County, has served in more continuous sessions of the General Assembly than any other person in the history of the state,

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring: That a joint session of the House and Senate of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly be held at 11:30 a.m., March 11, 1953, for the purpose of honoring these two veteran legislators.

Laid over under Rule 34.

Digitized by Google

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee of the whole, having had under consideration House File 138, a bill for an act providing coverage for Iowa public employees under the Federal Social Security Act, begs leave to recommend that the same be amended as follows, and when so amended the bill do pass:

1. Section two (2) by striking subsection three (3) thereof and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

"3. The term 'employee' includes elective and appointive officials of the state or any political subdivision thereof, except members of the General Assembly, elective officials in positions, the compensation for which is on a fee basis, elective officials of school districts, elective officials of townships, and elective officials of other political subdivisions who are in part time positions."

2. Section six (6), line one (1), by changing the word "section" to "sections" and by inserting after the parenthetical (5) the words and figure "and fourteen (14)".

3. Section fourteen (14), line eleven (11), by striking the comma (,) after the word "service" and substituting a period (.) therefor, and adding the following: "The employment security commission shall collect the tax hereby imposed and the proceeds from such tax shall be used for the purpose of obtaining retroactive federal social security coverage for elective officials, for the period beginning January 1, 1951, in the same manner as is provided in the case of other public employees by the provisions in subsection 'b' of section two (2) of House File 139, Acts of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly".

4. Section fourteen (14), line thirteen (13), by striking the period (.) and inserting in lieu thereof the following: ", such contribution to be collected and guaranteed by the employer."

5. By adding after section eighteen (18) a new section as follows:

"Sec. 19. The Iowa Employment Security Commission is authorized to enter into arrangements with the Federal Bureau of Employment Security whereby services performed by the commission and its employees both under this chapter and under the Iowa Employment Security chapter shall be equitably apportioned between the funds provided for the administration of said chapters. The money spent for rentals, supplies, and equipment used by the commission in administering both chapters shall be equitably apportioned and charged against said funds."

6. Renumber the remaining section.

WILLIAM S. LYNES, Chairman.

Also:

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee of the whole, having had under consideration House File 139, a bill for an act relating to federal social security coverage for public employees, begs leave to recommend that the same be amended as follows, and when so amended the bill do pass:

1. Amend House File 139 by adding to subsection "c" of section one (1) the following: "Any individual who was as of the effective date of this act, a fully insured individual as defined in section ninety-seven point forty-five (97.45), subsection six (6), Code 1950, as amended, and who would be fully insured at age of 65, on the basis of service prior to such effective date, and who is under coverage of a federal civil service retirement plan, shall receive in the event of his retirement after reaching the age of 65 years, not less than the same individual primary benefit he would have received under the provisions of section ninety-seven point thirteen (97.13), Code 1950, as amended, had he been eligible for retirement as of that date, as though chapter ninety-seven (97), Code 1950, as amended, had not been repealed; and any wife, widow, child or other dependent of such individual would become entitled to any benefits as provided by chapter ninety-seven (97), Code 1950, as amended, after the effective date of this act, shall be entitled to receive benefits as provided by chapter ninety-seven (97), Code 1950, as though that chapter had not been repealed."

2. Further amend section one (1), by striking subsection "f".

3. Amend section two (2), line fifty-seven (57), by inserting after the comma (,) the following: "and who has not applied for and qualified for benefit payments under the provisions of chapter ninety-seven (97), Code 1950, as amended,".

4. Further amend section two (2), line seventy-six (76), by inserting a period (.) instead of the comma (,) after the word "amended" and striking out the words "before its repeal."

5. Further amend by adding after section two (2) a new section to be known as section three (3) to read as follows:

"Sec. 3. The Iowa Employment Security Commission is authorized to enter into arrangements with the Federal Bureau of Employment Security whereby services performed by the commission and its employees both under this chapter and under the Iowa Employment Security chapter shall be equitably apportioned between the funds provided for the administration of said chapters. The money spent for rentals, supplies, and equipment used by the commission in administering both chapters shall be equitably apportioned and charged against said funds."

6. Renumber the remaining sections.

7. Amend section three (3), line two (2), by striking the words "from and" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "as of June 30, 1953".

8. Further amend section three (3), line five (5), by striking the period (.) and inserting in lieu thereof the following: ", anything in the Code to the contrary notwithstanding."

WILLIAM S. LYNES, Chairman.

Eckels of Hancock, from the committee on conservation, drainage and flood control, submitted the following report:

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee on conservation, drainage and flood control, to whom was referred House File 270, a bill for an act to promote reforestation in the State of Iowa and establish Arbor Day to be observed as a state holiday and encourage tree planting and conservation of natural resources, begs leave to report it has had the same under consideration and has instructed me to report the same back to the House with the recommendation that the same be amended as follows, and when so amended the bill do pass.

Amend House File 270 by striking all after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Digitized by Google

"Section 1. The fifteenth of April of each year is hereby set apart and designated as Arbor Day. It shall be the duty of all public schools to observe said day by devoting a part thereof to a special study of trees, their usefulness, and the best means of planting and protection. Should such date fall on other than a school day, such day shall be observed on the next regular school day."

Further amend said House File 270 by striking from the title the words "as a state holiday".

Substitute Explanation for House File 270

This bill is self-explanatory. Its purpose is to restore and replace our forestry. The bankers of the state have promised their full cooperation with the schools in obtaining trees for planting.

CARROLL A. LANE, Secretary.

SENATE AMENDMENT TO HOUSE FILE 130

1. Amend House File 130 by inserting in the title after the word "increase" in line 5 the following: "in certain counties".

2. Further amend House File 130 by striking everything after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. Section two hundred thirty-two point thirty-six (232.36), Code 1950, is hereby amended by striking the period (.) after the word

'chapter' in line five (5) and adding the following: ', providing however that the board of supervisors in counties having a population of more than one hundred fifty thousand (150,000) may annually levy a tax of not to exceed one-half (½) mill for the above purposes.' "

Wilson of Calhoun offered the following House memorial resolution and moved its adoption:

HOUSE MEMORIAL RESOLUTION

Whereas, the Honorable Richard C. Berry of Calhoun County, who was a member of the Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth sessions of the General Assembly, passed away on March 4, 1953;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, That a committee of three be appointed by the Speaker of the House to prepare suitable resolutions commemorating his life, character and service to the state.

Resolution adopted.

The Speaker pro tempore appointed as such committee Wilson of Calhoun, Weiss of Crawford and Butler of Pocahontas.

Mooty of Grundy offered the following House concurrent resolution:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 16

Whereas, the Honorable Charles E. Halleck, majority leader of the House of Representatives, U. S. Congress, will be in Des Moines, Iowa, on March 24, 1953;

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring: That an invitation be extended to the Honorable Charles E. Halleck to address a joint convention of both houses at 9:45 o'clock a.m. on March 24, 1953.

Laid over under Rule 34.

Schwengel of Scott offered the following House concurrent resolution:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 17

Whereas, it is always good to reflect on the past and to point to those who have meant so much in our way of life in the realms of government and public relations, and,

Whereas, the General Assembly of Iowa has a very enviable record of pausing to reflect on the past in the celebration of the birthday of Abraham Lincoln, and,

Whereas, it is difficult to set up a program from year to year that is entirely adequate, and,

Whereas, because of the shortness of time after the organization of the legislature, it is difficult to get a nationally known speaker on the life of Abraham Lincoln, and,

Digitized by Google

Whereas, the ability to contact a nationally known speaker at an earlier date would assure the availability of outstanding nationally known students in history on the life of Abraham Lincoln,

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, that the superintendents of the Iowa History and Archives, the Iowa Historical Society, and the head of the rare book section of the University of Iowa Library constitute a committee to arrange for a speaker before the Iowa legislature in the years it is in session on Abraham Lincoln's birthday, and

Be It Further Resolved, that this committee be authorized to spend only the amounts necessary for travel expenses of the speaker for the occasion.

Laid over under Rule 34.

Lucken of Plymouth offered the following House concurrent resolution:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 18

Whereas, the federal government has scheduled an atomic bomb detonation on the proving grounds at Las Vegas, Nevada, on or about the 17th day of March, 1953, and

Whereas, such a detonation is designed, among other purposes, as a test to show the effects of the explosion upon buildings and structures, and

Whereas, prior to the detonation, those in attendance will be given briefings concerning the test and its effects, and

Whereas, admission to the detonation is limited in number and the State of Iowa has been invited to have two (2) representatives present, and

Whereas, there is before the Fifty-fifth (55th) General Assembly a civil defense bill, including therein an appropriation, and

Whereas, the information respecting the atomic bomb and the effects of a detonation thereof will be of value to the General Assembly in its consideration of the aforegoing bill;

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring, that the President of the Senate shall appoint one Senator and the Speaker of the House one Representative to attend the atomic test operations at Las Vegas, Nevada, at the time stated, in their official capacity.

Be It Further Resolved, that the aforegoing appointees shall, upon return, make due report to the General Assembly and to each house thereof of the detonation and briefings held in connection therewith, its effects upon structures and buildings, and such other pertinent information as may be secured.

Laid over under Rule 34.

Palmer of Lee, from the committee on judiciary 2, submitted the following report:

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee on judiciary 2, to whom was referred Senate File 71, a bill for an act relating to the operation of cemeteries in the State of Iowa, and funds for the perpetual care and maintenance thereof, and the sale of burial space therein, and providing penalties for the violation thereof, begs leave to report it has had the same under consideration and has instructed me to report the same back to the House with the recommendation that the same be amended as follows, and when so amended the bill do pass.

Amend Senate File 71 as follows:

1. By striking all of section three (3) and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

Sec. 3. (a) Any such organization subject to the provisions of this chapter which is organized or commences business in the State of Iowa after the effective date of this chapter and desires to operate as a perpetual care cemetery shall, before selling or disposing of any interment space or lots, establish a minimum perpetual care and maintenance guarantee fund determined by the number of acres platted and dedicated to cemetery use as follows:

(1) Not more than ten acres, $10,000;

(2) More than ten but less than twenty acres, $20,000;

(3) Twenty acres or more, $25,000.

(b) The perpetual care and maintenance guarantee fund shall be permanently set aside in trust to be administered under the jurisdiction of the district court of the county wherein the cemetery is located. The district court so having jurisdiction shall have full jurisdiction over the approval of trustees, reports and accounting of trustees, amount of surety bond required, and investment of funds. The income only from such fund shall be used for the care and maintenance of the cemetery for which it was established.

(c) To continue to operate as a perpetual care cemetery, any such organization shall set aside and deposit in the perpetual care and maintenance guarantee fund not less than the following amounts from proceeds of interment space thereafter sold or disposed of by it:

(1) A minimum of twenty per cent of the gross selling price with a minimum of twelve dollars fifty cents ($12.50) for each adult burial space, whichever is the greater.

(2) A minimum of twenty per cent of the gross selling price for each child space, with a minimum of five dollars ($5) for each space up to forty-two (42) inches in length, and ten dollars ($10) for each space more than forty-two but not more than sixty (60) inches in length, in each respective case, whichever is the greater.

(3) A minimum of twenty per cent of the gross selling price with a minimum of one hundred dollars ($100) for each crypt in a public mausoleum, whichever is the greater.

(4) A minimum of twenty per cent of the gross selling price with a minimum of ten dollars ($10) for each inurnment niche in a public columbarium.

(d) The initial deposit in the perpetual care and maintenance guarantee fund required by subsection (a) of this section shall remain in the trust fund until such time as this fund has reached fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), when it may be withdrawn at the rate of one thousand dollars ($1,000) for each additional two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) deposited in the fund in compliance with subsection (c) of this section, until all the initial deposit is withdrawn.

2. Amend section four (4) by striking the words "section three (3), subsections (a), (b), (c) and (d) hereof," from lines six (6) and seven (7) of said section and inserting in lieu thereof the following "subsections (b) and (c) of section three (3)."

3. Amend section six (6) by striking the words "enactment of this bill" in lines one (1) and two (2) thereof and by substituting in lieu thereof the following, "effective date of this chapter"; further amend said section by striking all of line seven (7) thereof and substituting therefor the following "subsections (b) and (c) of section three (3)".

4. Amend section seven (7) by substituting a comma for the period after the word "organization" in line eight (8) thereof and by adding thereto the following: "or to any sales organization under a contract with such cemetery organization providing for compliance with the other provisions of this chapter."

5. Add a new section (number 12) as follows:

"Sec. 12. Nothing in this act contained shall affect the rights of any parties to any pending litigation."

6. Add a new section (number 13) as follows:

"Sec. 13. No organization subject to the provisions of this chapter nor any person representing it in a sales capacity shall advertise or represent, in connection with the sale or attempted sale of any interment space, that the same is or will be a desirable speculative investment for resale purposes."

JOINT CONVENTION

In accordance with law and concurrent resolution duly adopted, the joint convention was called to order, President Elthon presiding.

President Elthon announced a quorum present and the joint convention duly organized.

Senator Berg moved that a committee of four be appointed to escort the Honorable Arch McFarlane and the Honorable Frank C. Byers to the Speaker's station.

Motion prevailed, and the Speaker appointed as such committee Senator Berg and Senator Weichman on the part of the Senate and Representatives Novak of Linn and Miller of Black Hawk on the part of the House.

The committee appointed escorted the Honorable Arch McFarlane and the Honorable Frank C. Byers to the Speaker's station.

McNeal of Wright addressed the joint convention on behalf of the Honorable Arch McFarlane as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT, MR. SPEAKER, MEMBERS OF THIS JOINT SESSION:

I am indeed honored that I have been extended the privilege of speaking a few words on behalf of this legislature with respect to two very fine men.

I wish to confine my remarks to the Honorable Arch McFarlane, the senior gentleman from Black Hawk County.

It is entirely fitting and proper that we gather here today to make this contribution and to pay this honor, but in a larger sense I believe we honor ourselves in the foresightedness which we have used in paying tribute to these gentlemen at the peaks of their careers.

We are not, however, the very first to recognize the ability of the Honorable Arch McFarlane. I call to your attention some remarks made by James B. Weaver on January 13, 1919. I quote:

"I have known Arch McFarlane for years and I here give you my conviction upon my honor that Arch W. McFarlane will bring to the Speaker's chair, not only a remarkable capacity as the presiding officer, but better than that, a determination that we shall have no factions here and that every man in the House shall have just consideration and best of all a hunger and a pride to serve every sweet and fine hope and purpose in the hearts of Iowans today."

What better word of tribute could we use here today than these words expressed near the beginning of Arch W. McFarlane's career?

During his forty years of service to the State of Iowa, as a legislator and as a presiding officer of the House and of the Senate, Arch McFarlane concerned himself with many important bits of legislation. Not only did he concern himself with legislation, but as a presiding officer, he had certain guide posts which he always followed. First of all, he extended to all a fair and just hearing. He believed in the greatest good for the greatest number, with a profound protection of the rights of minorities, most of all, and especially he believed that stewardship of public office is a serious and sacred trust. His legislative activities were broad . . . in the field of roads, in the field of taxation, in the field of schools, and in 4-H Club promotion.

One of his greatest examples of work, I believe, was the interest and work he extended to make certain that free text books were available in all our schools.

Arch McFarlane was not always a winner, but he was satisfied to build slowly and securely on a firm foundation of bona fide public opinion. In my estimation, and I am certain the estimation of this House, Arch McFarlane personified a statement made by the late Reverend Peter Marshall, chaplain of the United States Senate, when he said it is better to lose in a cause which shall ultimately succeed than succeed in a cause which shall ultimately fail.

We, the members of this session, are proud to serve with Arch McFarlane, and the State of Iowa is grateful for your past service, and the service which you shall still, in the future, extend to this great and proud state.

We congratulate Honorable Arch McFarlane, and as a token of our high esteem, we present to you this basket of flowers in recognition of the splendid service that you have rendered the state and the deep affection in which you are held by all of your co-legislators.

Senator Lynes of Bremer addressed the joint convention on behalf of Senator Byers as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT, MR. SPEAKER, MEMBERS OF THE JOINT CONVENTION:

Today we pause in our daily routine as legislators to extend honor to one of our colleagues. It's a privilege to say a few words about my very dear friend, the Senator from Linn.

Some years ago, when I became a member of the Iowa General Assembly, he was one of the first members to give me friendly assistance in the many problems which confront a naive and backward country boy just elected to serve for the first time in the Iowa General Assembly.

The distinguished Senator from Linn was then in the prime of his long and illustrious career as a legislator. Frank Byers was never too busy to spend a little time with the many difficulties which confronted me. He has on occasion even prepared an amendment for me, and after preparing it, refused to support it, although he could have reduced his labors by advising me against filing it!

Digitized by Google

There has never been an occasion, in the fourteen years I have served with him, that Frank Byers has failed to give me the help I have sought. Any improvement in my work throughout the years must be credited to the sage and friendly suggestions which came my way from the distinguished Senator from Linn.

Here is a man who has given many, many years of his life to service in the State of Iowa—fruitful years for that great state.

Frank Byers came from humble beginnings in an urban area, although raised in rural surroundings. He has not confined his efforts to the city and its concerns alone, he has been a leader in forming state policies, in forming school policies, roads, taxation, from the productive farm lands to the teeming industrial centers.

The State of Iowa and the policies of this state certainly show the effects of his efforts, so it is fitting that at this time we take this occasion to honor one who is a legislator's legislator.

I am sure that it is the wish of all of us that the future of Frank Byers will be as bright as his past and that he may long live to enjoy his family, his friends and his colleagues.

Tate of Cerro Gordo addressed the joint convention on behalf of the Honorable Arch McFarlane as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT, MR. SPEAKER, MEMBERS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I count today one of the high spots in my rather checkered career—that of saying a few words for your friend and my friend, Arch W. McFarlane, who has for more than a generation been connected with the legislature of the State of Iowa.

Arch McFarlane is a great humanitarian, he is a builder. He is first a builder of Arch McFarlane, who built a character so high, so good, so strong, that much of it has rubbed off on those who daily associate with him.

The impact of the deeds of Arch McFarlane on the lives of others, on the county of Black Hawk, on the city of Waterloo, upon the State of Iowa and the nation, can never be measured in any amount, but that impact can only be measured in his influence on mankind.

He walks the streets of Waterloo, Iowa, and he can call more people by name, perhaps, than any other individual. He can talk and walk with kings and presidents, but he never loses the common touch. He is a man among men . . . looked up to, honored and respected.

We in the House who know him, know he has reached out helping hands in every way it is possible for him to do it. Never has he been critical, he has always been helpful . . . helpful in making suggestions, in drawing bills, in drafting amendments, in advice . . . helpful to every individual who sits at his feet for more.

He never criticizes . . . he encourages. To his co-workers he is generous with time, and that vast storehouse of knowledge laid away is always open. His service to others is above his service to himself. He has been a warden in the Episcopal Church in his town, and he works at his job of being a Christian. He is associated with all the branches of community service, a member of the Elks, Moose, Rotary Club, past supreme councillor of the United Commercial Travelers, the highest office possible to obtain in that organization, most of the Masonic bodies, the Blue Lodge, Royal Arch. He has shown great proficiency in the past, and with the exception of three sessions, has been in legislature since 1914 . . . twenty-two sessions in these halls. He has been a builder and his house has not been built on shifting sands, but upon a firm and rock foundation.

I know he has future years to give to the state and nation . . . they will be good years.

I know when he is called by his Maker to that home above, that house that is not made by hands, that his Maker can say to him:

"Well done, my good and faithful servant, well done."

I think the life of Arch McFarlane can be epitomized in this poem by an unknown author:

To each is given a bag of tools,
A shapeless mass, and a book of rules,
And each must fashion ere life is flown
A stumbling block or a stepping stone.
Now isn't it strange, that princes and kings,
And clowns that caper in saw dust rings—
And just common folks like Arch and me,
Are builders for eternity?

Best of luck to you, Arch W. McFarlane!

Senator Hart addressed the joint convention on behalf of Senator Byers as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT, MR. SPEAKER, MEMBERS OF THE JOINT CONVENTION, AND GUESTS:

Today, we are gathered here to do honor to two of our colleagues.

Frank Crockett Byers, my friend, my colleague and the illustrious dean of the Senate, who is known to all of you, has been representing Linn County in the Iowa legislature since 1928. He has a continuous service record of a quarter of a century.

He started out modestly as a member of the House of Representatives, having been elected to that body in 1928 and to which he was re-elected in 1930. After two sessions in the House, like so many members of the Senate, he decided to graduate to the Senate and, accordingly, became a candidate from Linn County. They have returned this eminent gentleman to the Senate every four years since then and that started back in 1932.

When Frank Crockett Byers concludes his present term he will have served continuously in the Iowa legislature for twenty-eight years.

Although he lives on a farm located just on the outskirts of Marion, he maintains offices in Cedar Rapids and is generally known in Cedar Rapids as well as here in the halls of the legislature as a city attorney and a corporation counsel.

Now where do these illustrious statesmen come from? You have guessed it. Frank Crockett Byers had a most humble beginning. He was born in a little town in Hardin County, Alden by name. The son of a harness maker, he and his family lived upstairs over the harness shop, and because of this, he was, of course, closely associated with his father's work. He spent much time in the shop as a boy and, of course, when he was old enough, he started to work with his father. As his father's helper his work consisted mostly of repairing old harness. In Alden they tell the story that when the Byers boy went off to Grinnell College to register as a freshman, he didn't know there were any parts of a harness but a breeching and a crupper.

After attending Grinnell College for a year, he transferred to the University of Iowa where, in due course, he graduated with a degree in law. Unlike so many and indicative of the genius possessed by young Byers, with his degree and having passed the bar examination, it was found that he was not old enough to start the practice of law, but had to wait until he reached the age of twenty-one before he could become licensed. As an attorney-at-law he started the practice of law in Cedar Rapids in 1905. Soon thereafter he was selected to serve as deputy city attorney, deputy county attorney and was a long time member of the Cedar Rapids Board of Education.

He was married to Miss Myra Lyon of Iowa City in 1909. They have three children, two sons and a daughter, and several grandchildren.

During his long tenure here in the legislature, I can think of no one who has contributed more to Iowa statutes, under which we are living and which truly affect every citizen in the State of Iowa, than Senator Byers. He has given unstintingly and most willingly of his time for every cause during these many years. He has been elected three times President pro tempore of the Senate, to indicate the esteem in which he is held by his colleagues.

Senator Byers has served as chairman of or on every important Senate committee, including several interim committees between sessions.

It will be remembered by many people that in those early years of his service, the road problem was a great and serious one, as it is today. Previous to the record now being established by Senator Byers, the former Dean of the Senate was the Honorable D. Kimberly, the Senator from Scott. Early in his career Senator Byers in collaboration with Senator Kimberly introduced a bill in the legislature that provided that canopies be built over Iowa highways, the thinking being, this feature would keep us out of the mud and would do the job with less expense and with more satisfactory results than paving. I mention this to indicate the far-reaching imagination of this man who has given so much of his life for the betterment of and enactment of good laws.

Frank Crockett Byers is a member of numerous social and fraternal organizations and is a member of the Episcopal Church.

So in conclusion, may I say that we, who through the years have had the pleasure of serving with Senator Byers, feel that what knowledge of good law making we may have acquired has been due to the generosity and unselfishness of this devoted public servant. He has made an imprint on the present day statutes of Iowa that will survive many generations.

May I extend on behalf of the members of this Fifty-fifth General Assembly, our heartiest wishes that the future will hold in store for Senator Byers much more of the many accomplishments and fine things, and the full measure of happiness that he has enjoyed through the years and up to this time. This floral bouquet has been placed at his desk from which I speak to you. It is addressed to Senator Frank Crockett Byers and the card merely says "from admiring friends."

It gives me extreme pleasure to join with, and on behalf of, those friends—and they are legion—to present to the illustrious and distinquished Senator from Linn this basket of flowers, this beautiful tribute from "admiring friends."

The page will please come to the desk to present the flowers to Frank C. Byers and so with these posies, best wishes Senator, from all of us always.

Mensing of Cedar moved that the following resolution be adopted.

Whereas, in this contemporary day of turbulency, mobility and velocity, a record of constancy and duration of noble service is a distinction worthy of veneration and respectful acclaim, and

Whereas, the Honorable Arch W. McFarlane of Black Hawk County with forty years of eminent service and the Honorable Senator Frank C. Byers of Linn County with twenty-four years of continuous distinguished service in the legislature of the State of Iowa have attained not only outstanding records of devotion to the welfare of the State of Iowa, but have also, by such participation, surpassed all former records of service in the number of years served, and

Whereas, the House and Senate of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly of Iowa have met in joint session assembled on this 11th day of March, 1953, to pay tribute to the extraordinary record of service of the Honorable Arch W. McFarlane and the Honorable Senator Frank C. Byers,

Therefore, Be It Resolved, that the joint session of the House and Senate of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly formally register its sentiment of salutation to the Honorable Arch W. McFarlane and the Honorable Senator Frank C. Byers and its token of esteem of their meritorious services, by the adoption of these resolutions, and

Be It Further Resolved, that as a permanent memento, an engrossed copy of these resolutions be presented to each of the honorees, and that a copy of such resolutions and the remarks of the speakers be printed in the Journals of the House and Senate of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly of the State of Iowa.

The resolution was adopted unanimously by a standing vote of the joint convention.

President Elthon presented to the joint convention the Honorable Arch McFarlane who offered the following address:

MR. PRESIDENT, MR. SPEAKER, MEMBERS OF THE JOINT CONVENTION, AND FRIENDS:

This is a very happy occasion so far as I am personally concerned, and I know so far as Senator Byers is concerned. It is made possible only by the people that have stayed with me all these years from my home community. I want to take this opportunity of thanking all those that have continuously supported me since I was first a candidate in 1914.

I want to publicly say to them that I appreciate their cooperation and their friendship, and their support, all of these years. To me, this is a momentous occasion. In all the years that I have been here, nothing has transpired of a similar nature—recognizing a long service.

During this long period of service, I have undoubtedly made mistakes. I have probably gone on record thirty or forty thousand times. If I have during the course of these services done any harm to any community, to any group, or to any individual, I want to now publicly apologize, and say that I am sorry. That is not the intention of any member of the legislature, however, if during this long service, I have brought happiness and joy to a community or a group or to any individual, that in itself is the satisfaction of a long period of service.

There are four members of the General Assembly at the present time with whose fathers I served. I served with the father of Representative Mooty, Representative Parker, Representative Shaff and Representative Falvey, and I want to say that these four men have been brought to my attention today because of the services they rendered to the great State of Iowa, and because they have furnished sons to follow in their footsteps.

Everyone of them was an outstanding member of the legislature, and I am glad I had the privilege of serving with these men, and now have an opportunity to serve with their sons.

On behalf of both myself and Senator Byers, I want to say that I appreciate this gathering today. It is a tremendous thing so far as I am concerned. In 1917 I stood right on this station. I had just been elected Speaker pro tempore of the House at that time, and today, almost forty years later, you are recognizing that long period of service. I appreciate it, and I want you to know that I shall do as I have in the past. I shall try to be fair and square and honest with everyone and in every dealing I have with every member of the legislature, and endeavor to continue, as I have in the past, to make Iowa the great state it is.

Again, I thank you very kindly.

President Elthon presented to the joint convention the Honorable Frank C. Byers, who delivered the following address:

MR. PRESIDENT, MR. SPEAKER, AND MEMBERS OF THE JOINT CONVENTION OF THE LEGISLATURE OF THE FIFTY-FIFTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY:

There should have been an article in the paper today that no flowers were requested at the last rites! Too late now . . .

I originally came to the House of Representatives of the State of Iowa. Among those who greeted me was Gustafson, who is still the Chief Clerk. I spent two sessions in the House and that is where I got my training which I have taken to the Senate, and let me say, you can get more training in the House than you can in the Senate. It's more exciting in the House. They know all the different ways to kill a bill other than voting against it on final passage. They are very respectful over there in the Senate, of each other, which sometimes results in measures being long drawn out.

I have never taken myself too seriously as a member of this General Assembly. I have never had any great political ambitions, no ambitions particularly to be anything more than a good member of the legislature of Iowa. That is as far as I want to go, but I do want to be a credit to my community that I represent, and I have been trying to do it for the quarter of a century that they have been kind enough to return me to the legislature. They don't all agree with me, but enough of them agree so as to send me back each four years.

When I came to the legislature, the State of Iowa was prosperous, and it continued to be prosperous for a couple of years or so, but you will remember in the early thirties, the whole country, including the State of Iowa, went into a depression, and things were different than they were when I first came as a member of the legislature.

We had bank failures and receiverships, we had to pass emergency laws. We passed a bank holiday bill. We passed moratorium laws, against foreclosures of farm mortgage loans. We had all those kind of things to contend with at that time. Thinking back over twenty-five years, it seems to me that during that period of time, we had to consider a large volume of legislation that didn't just affect this group or that group . . . this business or that business . . . but affected the entire State of Iowa, such as our bank holiday law and the moratoriums at the beginning of my career.

Then during the same period of time we created the tax commission; the 18th Amendment was repealed and we created the liquor control commission. We had to pass all the laws that regulate beer and liquor, and we keep at it every two years. Every two years we have the same stuff to go over and again we probably never will get it perfect. We passed the income tax, both personal and corporate, the use tax, the sales tax, and those are the things now that support the State of Iowa, and we don't have any tax on real or personal property.

We have our state aid for schools which we didn't have before. Aid to the schools to the cities and towns and the rural areas. All of this is to me important legislation. It is legislation that affects all the people of Iowa. And there are so many others I can think of . . . old age assistance . . . law giving homestead credit, something new, too, and many, many others I could speak about.

There is another subject you might be interested in . . . the great part I played in the oleomargarine question. In '31 when I was a member of the House, we had the oleomargarine question up on the matter of the taxation of same and some legislation on the regulation, and I took occasion to look in the Journal of the House, to check up exactly the great part I took on oleomargarine, and I found on that bill in 1931, that there were ninety-four votes "aye" on the passage . . . there were no "nay" votes, and there were fourteen absent or not voting, and Byers' record shows "absent or not voting"

Well, Gentlemen, this has been a great occasion for me. An occasion that I will remember all my life, and I cannot thank you enough for the honors you have bestowed upon my good friend, Arch and me. We will try and go on and do our best to work with you and for the best interest of the State of Iowa.

And so, Mr. President, I want to say again, I thank you very much, and I ask unanimous consent that the reading thus far be considered sufficient.

President Elthon:

It would be an anti-climax for me to add anything to the wonderful words of praise that have been said here today, so I will simply say, God bless you, Frank Byers, and God bless you, Arch McFarlane!

Schwengel of Scott moved that the joint convention be now dissolved.

Motion prevailed.

The House reconvened, Speaker Lynes in the chair.

public employees who are members of the system under certain conditions prescribed by this act; making an appropriation of three million five hundred thousand dollars ($3,500,000) annually from the general fund of the State of Iowa, or so much thereof as may be necessary, into the retirement fund for the maintenance of the retirement system upon a sound actuarial basis; transferring the assets of the old age and survivors' liquidation fund to the Iowa public employees' retirement fund—all relating to the establishment and administration of the Iowa public employees' retirement system, with report of committee recommending amendment and passage.

Palmer of Lee offered the following amendment, filed by him, and moved its adoption:

Amend House File 140 by adding a new section thereto as follows:

"No one insured under the Old Age and Survivors' Insurance provisions of Title II of the Federal Social Security Act, as amended, shall be eligible to retire after June 30, 1953, and receive retirements benefits under the abolished system."

Roll call was demanded by Palmer of Lee and Walker of Hamilton.

The House reconvened, Speaker Lynes in the chair.

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

House File 43, a bill for an act relating to recording a certificate of dissolution of a corporation and to amend section four hundred ninety-one point twenty-three (491.23), Code 1950, with report of committee recommending amendment and passage, was taken up for consideration.

Palmer of Lee offered the following amendment, proposed by the committee on judiciary 2, and moved its adoption:

Amend House File 43 by striking all of section one (1) and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. Section four hundred ninety-one point twenty-three (491.23), Code 1950, is hereby amended by striking said section in its entirety and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

" 'A corporation may be dissolved prior to the period fixed by articles of incorporation by unanimous consent of the stockholders or in accordance with the provisions of its articles, and notice thereof must be given by the filing in the office of the secretary of state a resolution of dissolution duly signed by the officers of the corporation, and said resolution shall be recorded by the secretary of state in the same manner as the recording of amendments, and a recording fee of one dollar ($1) shall apply thereto, the recording of said resolution being in lieu of publication of notice of dissolution, and the secretary of state shall forward said resolution to the county recorder of the county wherein the corporation maintains its place of business, there to be recorded in a book kept therefor.' "

"Sec. 2. Section four hundred ninety-six point seven (496.7), Code 1950, is hereby amended by striking from lines six (6) and seven (7) the following: 'proof of publication of notice of dissolution' and inserting in lieu thereof: 'a resolution of dissolution as provided by section four hundred ninety-one point twenty-three (491.23)'."

"Sec. 3. Section four hundred ninety-six point ten (496.10), Code 1950, is hereby amended by deleting from line eleven (11) the following:

'proof of publication of notice of dissolution' and inserting in lieu thereof: 'resolution of dissolution'."

2. Further amend House File 43 by striking the explanation and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"The above change in the law would give notice to the public of the dissolution of corporations, and notice of dissolutions would be available to the public and to abstracters."

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENTS FILED

Amend House File 125 as follows:

1. Strike lines nineteen (19) to twenty-seven (27), inclusive, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Whenever an 'authorized company or association' is mentioned in connection with reinsurance under the provisions of sections five hundred fifteen point forty-seven (515.47) and five hundred fifteen point forty-nine (515.49), Code 1950, it shall mean:

"(a) An insurer licensed to issue policies in this state.

"(b) An insurer authorized in another state of the United States wherein it is required to meet at least the same standards of solvency and similar statutory and departmental regulations as insurers of this state. The commissioner shall have sole discretion in the evaluation of the adequacy of the standards herein referred to.

"(c) An alien insurer incorporated or unincorporated which has transacted a reinsurance business in the United States for a period of at least ten years, and which maintains a deposit in the United States in the amount of at least one hundred million dollars. The trust agreement governing said deposit must provide that the funds on deposit may be used to satisfy final judgments rendered by any court of competent jurisdiction. The conditions herein mentioned shall be in lieu of any requirements or restrictions imposed by other laws of the state."

2. Amend section five hundred twenty point twenty-one (520.21), Code 1950, by changing the period to a comma at the end thereof and adding immediately thereafter the following: "or be an authorized insurer as defined and provided in section five hundred fifteen point forty-nine (515.49), Code 1950, as amended."

3. Amend the title to the bill by striking in line three (3) thereof the words "Code 1950" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "section five hundred twenty point twenty-one (520.21), Code 1950, and relating to reinsurance."

two (2) and three (3) the words 'corn and small grain growers' and inserting in lieu thereof the words 'crop improvement'."

Further amend House File 157 by striking the period (.) at the end of line three (3) of the title and adding the following:

", and section one hundred seventy-three point two (173.2), Code 1950, relating to the state fair board."

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE CHIEF CLERK

The Chief Clerk announced the receipt of the following communications from the legislatures of Pennsylvania and Wyoming:

A resolution adopted by the legislature of Pennsylvania memorializing Congress to eliminate the tax on gasoline now collected by the federal government and return that taxing power to the various states.

A joint resolution adopted by the state of Wyoming memorializing the Congress of the United States with reference to opposition of the people of the state of Wyoming to any form of federal watershed "authorities".

A joint resolution memorializing the Congress of the United States with reference to the contact commission approach to the solution to the need for greater coordination and interrogation of development of land and water resources of regional watersheds.

Burtch of Mitchell offered the following concurrent resolution:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 19

Whereas, the great hopes of mankind for world peace can be realized only when international understanding and good will prevail among all nations; and

Whereas, the idea of entertaining foreign students from our colleges in American homes during the Thanksgiving holiday had its inception in the mind of an Osage, Iowa, girl while a student at the State University of Iowa in 1950, the purpose being to further good will and understanding among all people, regardless of race, creed or color; and

Whereas, said program, now an annual event at Osage, has proved to be of great worth both to the students and the hosts and has been tremendously effective in forming friendships and establishing mutual understanding; and

Whereas, the attention of the nation has been focused upon Iowa for this method of furthering better international relations with similar programs now being adopted in other communities across the nation; and

Whereas, the State Department, Washington, D. C., and the University of Iowa have filmed and publicized the program at Osage and given the same world-wide publicity;

Digitized by Google

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring, That all communities of the State of Iowa be encouraged to invite to their homes as guests at Thanksgiving, or some other vacation period, a group of these foreign students studying in Iowa colleges, so that during their stay in Iowa all of these students from other lands (now numbering approximately 500) may come to know the real meaning of American and Iowa friendship and hospitality.

Laid over under Rule 34.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

Due to the fact that I was unavoidably absent from the session Friday, March 13, I should like to have the record show that had I been present I would have voted "aye" on House Files 138, 139 and 140.

RAMSEYER of Washington.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Nelson of Woodbury rose to a point of personal privilege and offered the following remarks:

I should like to present to the members of the House nineteen foreign graduate law students who are in this country under the provisions of the Smith-Mundt Act. This act provides for an exchange of students between the United States and various foreign countries. In this group are fifteen young people from Germany, one each from England, Italy,

Digitized by Google

Denmark and Norway. They are in this country studying for a period of one year at the University of Chicago, Chicago, Illinois.

It is the desire of the State Department that they should visit a typical midwestern state while in this country. The State of Iowa has been chosen as the best representative agricultural state in the nation. This group is in our state for one week. On Monday and Tuesday they visited the State University of Iowa; today they are here witnessing the functioning of our state government. On Thursday they are to visit Iowa State College at Ames, and the remainder of the week they are to be divided in groups of two to visit various communities in this state with attorneys in their offices, as well as their homes, and other community surroundings.

Schwengel of Scott moved that the House of Representatives of Iowa extend its greetings to the students of law visiting the General Assembly today, Wednesday, March 18, and through them to their respective peoples and governments in their native homes.

SENATE AMENDMENTS CONSIDERED

Strawman of Jones called up for consideration, House File 157, a bill for an act to amend section one hundred fifty-nine point ten (159.10), Code 1950, relating to the Iowa yearbook of agriculture, amended by the Senate, and moved that the House concur in the following Senate amendments:

Also: That the Senate has amended and passed the following bill in which the concurrence of the Senate was asked:

House File 232, a bill for an act relating to municipal interstate bridges.

CARROLL A. LANE, Secretary.

SENATE AMENDMENT TO HOUSE FILE 232

Amend House File 232 by adding the following after the word "city" in line 4 of section 1: "having a bridge commission, and".

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 16

Whereas, the Eighty-second Congress enacted Public Law 552, otherwise known as chapter 877, 2nd Session, S. 1310, and also designated as 66 Statute 692, purporting to be a bill for the prevention of major disasters in mines; and

Whereas, said Public Law 552 prohibits after January 16, 1953, the use of black powder in coal mines of states which authorize the use of such explosives, which prohibition will eliminate deep mining in Iowa and in states having like conditions; and

Whereas, Public Law 552 provides for pre-shift inspection in shaft mines even though those mines are operated by the method known as longwall mining; and

Whereas, it is impossible to examine the face of a longwall mine before the coal is removed from in front of the face; and

Whereas, Public Law 552 provides that state laws shall not be superseded by the federal law where the state laws provide greater safety than the federal law; and

Whereas, Public Law 552 provides that the Board of Review shall be the final finders of fact; and

Whereas, Public Law 552 is another example of the steady accretion of federal power at the expense of the several states:

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That the Eighty-third Congress give serious consideration to amending Public Law 552 of the Eighty-second Congress so as to provide that black powder may be used in deep mines in any state in which there is no danger from the methane gas, which state specifically authorizes such use; that said Public law 552 be further amended so as to permit the examination of longwall mines at any time during every working day; that said law be amended to provide that any state law shall prevail which provides equal safety with the federal enactment; that said Public Law 552 be further amended so as to provide that the effect of said law on any state law shall be a matter of law, and the Court shall not be bound by any previous finding of fact;

Be It Further Resolved, That attested copies of this concurrent resolution be sent to the presiding officers of the Congress of the United States and to each member of the Iowa delegation in Congress, and that printed copies thereof, showing that said concurrent resolution was adopted by the legislature of Iowa, be sent to each house of the legislatures of the states of the United States.

Laid over under Rule 34.

Kuester of Cass offered the following House concurrent resolution:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 20

A concurrent resolution creating an investigating committee to investigate alleged irregularities on the part of the conservation commission of the State of Iowa, said committee is to report its findings to the Fifty-fifth General Assembly.

Whereas, criticism has been made by the auditor's office of the administration and operation of the Iowa conservation commission, and

Whereas, the people of Iowa have, in the past, had the utmost confidence and faith in the Iowa conservation commission and the officers charged with the administration of said department, and

Whereas, there exist doubts in the minds of some of the people of the State of Iowa as to whether or not the Iowa conservation commission is being administered efficiently and impartially, and it is believed that the public demands that a legislative investigation be had,

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring: That an investigating committee be appointed by the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate, consisting of three (3) members of the House and three (3) members of the Senate, whose duty it shall be to investigate the administration of the Iowa conservation commission, and the official acts of the individual members of said commission, the director, and any of the employees thereof or any other people, and all of the acts and things done by said commission, its members, the director, and its employees, and make a written report of its findings, together with its recommendations to the Fifty-fifth General Assembly of the State of Iowa.

Be It Further Resolved: That said committee is hereby authorized and empowered to employ such attorneys, auditors, expert investigators, and employees as may be by it deemed necessary to a thorough and complete investigation, and

Be It Further Resolved: That the Iowa conservation commission, individual members thereof, the director, and all employees of said commission, are hereby directed and ordered to deliver to said committee and to the employees thereof, all books, records, and papers as may be deemed necessary by said committee in making such investigations, and

Be It Further Resolved: That said committee is hereby authorized and empowered to issue subpoenas for all witnesses and the production of books, papers, and records from any place within the State of Iowa, and to compel the attendance of witnesses at any place within the State of Iowa where said committee may deem it advisable to hold hearings; that it shall take testimony in writing, under oath, and each member of said committee is hereby authorized and empowered to administer an oath; that it may take testimony of witnesses outside of the state; and any person refusing to answer a subpoena or refusing to give testimony may be punished for contempt in the manner provided by the laws of the State of Iowa, and

Be It Further Resolved: That said committee shall cause to be taken down in shorthand and transcribed all testimony taken by or for said committee, and shall, on completion of the investigation, file same with the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives and with the Secretary of the Senate, the same to be made a matter of public record, and

Be It Further Resolved: That all hearings, investigations, examinations of witnesses or records of whatever kind or character pursuant to this resolution shall be by public or open hearing, and

Be It Further Resolved: That the compensation and expenses of the employees, the cost of office supplies, and other expenses of the committee incurred in the performance of the duties herein imposed, and the cost of printing the committee's report, not exceeding two thousand dollars ($2,000) in total amount, is hereby authorized and the appropriation committee is hereby directed to include such amount in the general legislative expenditure bill. The chairman of the committee shall certify the expenses of the committee as herein provided to the state comptroller who shall issue warrants for the same from funds hereafter appropriated.

Laid over under Rule 34.

CONSIDERATION OF JOINT RESOLUTION

House Joint Resolution 10, a joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Iowa relating to the sessions of the General Assembly, and to repeal section two (2), article three (III) of the Constitution of the State of Iowa and proposing a substitute therefor.

Be It Resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

Section 1. Section two (2), article three (III) of the Constitution of the State of Iowa, is repealed and the following adopted in lieu thereof: "The General Assembly shall meet in regular session on the second Monday in January each odd numbered year, and shall meet in extra session on the second Monday of January each even numbered year. In the interim the General Assembly may be convened by the Governor by proclamation. The regular session in odd numbered years shall be for a period of not to exceed seventy-five (75) days. In even numbered years, the extra session shall be devoted to consideration of the budget, the production, distribution and appropriation of revenue, review and revision of the tax structure, legislation designed to meet emergencies and such other legislation involving subject matters authorized for consideration by the General Assembly under rules adopted by a majority of not less than two-thirds (⅔) of its elected members of each house or authorized by law."

Sec. 2. The foregoing proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Iowa is hereby referred to the General Assembly to be chosen at the next general election, and the secretary of state is directed to cause the same to be published, as provided by law, for three (3) months previous to the time of making such choice, with report of committee recommending amendment and passage, was taken up for consideration.

JOINT CONVENTION

In accordance with House Concurrent Resolution 13, duly adopted, the joint convention was called to order, President Elthon of the Senate, presiding.

Senator Byers of Linn moved that a committee of three be appointed to notify the Pioneer Lawmakers that the joint convention was ready to receive them.

Motion prevailed and President Elthon appointed as such committee Goode of Davis and Hanson of Lyon on the part of the House, and Senator Byers of Linn on the part of the Senate.

The committee previously appointed escorted the Pioneer Lawmakers to the House chamber.

President Elthon presented to the joint convention Senator Lord.

On behalf of the Senate, Senator Lord of Muscatine welcomed the Pioneer Lawmakers with the following remarks:

MR. PRESIDENT, MR. SPEAKER, MEMBERS OF THE JOINT CONVENTION, AND PIONEER LAWMAKERS:

It gives me great pleasure to welcome you and to pay our respects to the Pioneer Lawmakers of Iowa on behalf of the Senate. We have several members of the Pioneer Lawmakers who are presently active in the administration of the laws and the making of laws of our state:

His Excellency, Governor William S. Beardsley,
Honorable Leo Elthon, Lieutenant Governor,
Honorable Frank C. Byers, Senator from Linn,
Honorable Arch W. McFarlane, Representative from Black Hawk, Honorable Dewey E. Goode, Representative from Davis, and Honorable Art C. Hanson, Representative from Lyon, are all active in the business of the state while holding their membership in the distinguished and venerable Pioneer Lawmakers Association.

In view of what has been said and will be said here today, let us take a look into the future of our state and nation as to the problems that will affect our lawmakers of the future.

We look back with pride and appreciation for the good work that has been done in the past. We are ever mindful of how the liberties have been preserved for the citizens of our state and nation, thereby creating a beacon of freedom, the light of which may be seen throughout the world and cherished by free men everywhere. Should that light in America ever be extinguished or even dimmed, mankind throughout the world would suffer a loss from which it would require centuries to recover. Our responsibilities are great!

In the coming years our population will become more dense—thereby the complexity of our society will become greater—which will call for more laws to govern the lives of the individual and greater demands will be made upon government for the solution of problems arising therefrom. Likewise, the individual citizen will endeavor to get rid of many personal problems by turning them over to the state. Many individual citizens are quite willing to exchange their freedom for the illusion of security. They wish to have the government solve their personal perplexing problems, and are quite willing to forego their liberties in exchange. Each time the government takes over the individual's responsibility, the more the individual is dependent upon government, and also becomes less capable of taking care of himself. The end result will be that the light of freedom will be dimmed and finally extinguished in America unless we legislate wisely and well.

In the future, as in the past, lawmakers must resist this trend with judgment and wisdom, weighing well the need of our times, keeping abreast with modern government, yet still preserving the freedom of our people. Lawmaking is and should be an exact science. If the trends of public thinking and public demands are understood by our lawmakers well in advance of their movement, ways and means can be devised to meet these needs and yet preserve free enterprise and individual freedom.

We are pleased to give you this glimpse of the future problems as we see them, and to assure you that we are not unmindful of the pitfalls that lie ahead. We hope that we will justify the heritage that you have given us, and that we may pass on to our posterity a heritage as great.

President Elthon presented to the joint convention Representative Fred Schwengel who gave the following remarks on the part of the House:

It is indeed an honor to have been asked to represent the Fifty-fifth General Assembly on this auspicious occasion, and it is with a spirit of humility as I try humbly to represent you in honor of our distinguished guests today.

It is always good and especially in these times to reflect on the past and to have it show us how to chart our course for the future.

It is extremely fitting that we do honor where honor is due. Certainly, too, we who represent our people are honored to have these patriots of previous days, so important in the past history of our great state, on this occasion.

Looking back on the problems of our state twenty or thirty years ago, you were pioneers in a very real sense—then it was re-charting and adopting new philosophies on tax, reducing the state property tax burden, meeting the challenge of bringing Iowa out of the mud and setting the pattern that they finally gave to the citizens of Iowa that we are still building on today. In instances, you brought order out of chaos: when the financial laws of Iowa needed amending and readjusting in the interest of the people, you brought about financial stability within our society; you saw the need of under-girding a good economy by recognizing, through tax relief, those things that make for stable citizenry, the homestead exemption is the case in point.

In addition to meeting problems like these with forthrightness and conviction, you, as history proves, did all things well in the many other areas of state responsibility—illustrated by the fact that our state is in fine condition financially and it has grown and progressed in every phase of its manifold activities.

You, honored guests, like our forefathers, were devoted to the system best described by a seer who once said: "The objective of a representative form of government is the cause of the people. Of the people because men are what the holy doctrine teaches, for if it were not so, to sacrifice oneself for others would be extremist folly. Their devotion to this cause has made the patriots and philanthropists of all ages illustrious and their memories the richest inheritance of the human race and set them aside in an area of devotion and admiration for all mankind.

It is a fundamental truth that great men mold and shape the era in which they live—as we reflect on the history of the world, how different it would have been without a Moses; Christ; Alexander the Great, of ancient times; Cromwell; Napoleon, and Disraeli of a later date; and without Adams, Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and scores of others in panorama of more modern times; and in Iowa without Lucas, Kirkwood, Harlan, Grimes, Cummins, Clarke, Kendall and scores of others, almost all of whom were members of the Iowa General Assembly at one time.

All of this prompts me to call to your attention an appropriate and memorable poem by Lord Byron:

"Tis, thus, the spirit of a single mind
Makes that of multitudes take one direction.
As roll the waters to the breathing wind
Or roams the herd beneath the bull's protection,
Or as a little dog will lead the blind
Or bell-wether form the flocks' connection,
By tinkling sounds of speech when they go forth to vitual
Such is the way of great men over little."

Or in the words of an American poet, Edwin Markham, who wrote so glowingly on American tradition and life and people, when he said of Lincoln in that now memorable poem, "Lincoln, the Man." After comparing Lincoln to all the great, fine things of nature and how he represented it, he pointed to his statue in Boston and said: "Here was a man to hold against the world, a man to match the mountains and the sea," and then he went on to describe him as the great spirit that represented the fundamental laws of man and truth, he said, in effect, when he left, these words: "T'was as a mighty fallen tree and when it fell, it left a lonesome place against the sky."

Honored guests, we have missed you, the state has missed you and we are happy to honor you this day. For it was you who handed us the torch of liberty, and God grant that we may hand it on to our successors as brightly lighted and untarnished as you handed it to us.

Gentlemen, there is no question that I express the hearts and minds of every member of this Assembly when I say to you on this auspicious occasion, welcome.

President Elthon introduced the Honorable Burton E. Sweet, president of the Pioneer Lawmakers, with the following remarks:

It is certainly a pleasure and an honor at this time to introduce to you the Honorable Burton Sweet who is president of the Pioneer Lawmakers, and at this time will appear before you to preside over the rest of the joint meeting.

Honorable Burton Sweet:

MR. PRESIDENT, MR. SPEAKER, AND MEMBERS OF THE FIFTY-FIFTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF IOWA; THE PIONEER LAWMAKERS, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

At the outset I wish to express to you my profound appreciation for the compliment that has been paid to the Pioneer Lawmakers at this time for the welcome we have received at your hands.

I was elected to the legislature of Iowa as a representative about fifty-four years ago. I served in the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth General Assemblies.

We had in those sessions men of great ability and they made history for the great State of Iowa. As I stand here today, the Twenty-ninth General Assembly rises before me like a dream.

I look to the right, and I see Nate Kendall sitting there. He was a great orator. He was afterwards elected to Congress and afterwards elected as Governor of this great state.

I look over in the body of the House here and see George Clarke from Dallas County, and remember that he was elected as Governor of this state.

I look to my right in the back part of the room, and I see Gardner Cowles. Shortly after his service in this House, he purchased the Register and Leader as it was known then, and he built up the Register until it has become the greatest newspaper in the State of Iowa . . . yea, in the Mississippi Valley.

I look over here and I see M. L. Temple, a great lawyer, who represented the mining interests of the southern part of the State of Iowa.

In seat No. 10, there sits, in my mind's eye, Mr. Edwards, he was elected as a district judge and served with great distinction.

I look again and I see Thomas Way. I see Senator Cummins, who made a great Senator. And I see others that are familiar to the mind's eye. One of these is Emory English. Emory English at the present time has charge of the publications of the state historical department and is secretary of the Pioneer Lawmakers. He served in the Twenty-ninth General Assembly with me, and I look again and I see a man by the name of Kerr from Grundy County—he is here today.

I look and I see many others that would be familiar, but time forbids a longer look even though it be in a dream.

I want you to see those men who worked well in a day and a generation that is gone. All that body of men has gone to the great beyond. They sleep in their windowless room at rest, but it matters not where it may be, or among whom they sleep, their going marks the end of an age.

And now I wish to present to you a veteran legislator, a man who has been in this legislature longer than any other man living or dead. A man who was twice Speaker of the House of Representatives and presided over that body with honor to himself and to the great State of Iowa.

He was also elected Lieutenant Governor, and he presided over the Senate with distinction. I want to say to you that he has held that position with honor, with integrity, in all the legislative acts of his life.

Every important piece of legislation that has gone through this legislature in the last forty years has received the imprint of his active mind, and the stamp of his legislative genius.

To you, gentlemen, all of you, I now introduce that prince of parliamentarians, that leader of men, the Honorable Arch W. McFarlane, who will now address you on this occasion.

Mr. Sweet introduced the Honorable Arch W. McFarlane, who addressed the joint convention as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT, MR. SPEAKER, MEMBERS OF THE JOINT SESSION, PIONEER LAWMAKERS, AND FRIENDS:

It is with humility and with a very deep sense of feeling that I take this opportunity to publicly express my appreciation to the Pioneer Lawmakers in selecting me as their president for the next two years. I can assure you that this came unsolicited and I feel very grateful for this honor. I shall endeavor to be an active president worthy of this high office.

As I appear before you here today my mind and memory cannot but dwell upon the past. I always feel, when the Pioneer Lawmakers meet, that there are present with us in an almost bodily sense, those other Pioneer Lawmakers who have drunk their cup a round or two before, and one by one crept silently to rest.

A few years ago, when I first became eligible to membership as a Pioneer Lawmaker, it was very hard for me to realize that I was in any sense to be classed as a pioneer. Most of us here have had, at times, much the same feeling. My idea of a pioneer came out of James Fenimore Cooper's "Leatherstocking Tales", and my thoughts of just what kind of people the pioneers were, and how they looked, tended to be derived from Blashfield's masterpiece of "Westward Ho," which we view every day as we near the House and Senate chambers.

Yet most of us here today will be regarded by the people of Iowa fifty years or so in the future as equally pioneers with the earliest men who moved into Iowa.

For Iowa is a young state, even today. There are men here today, such as my almost lifetime friends, Burton Sweet, Emory English and W. G. Kerr, whose span of life is more than three-fourths that of the lifetime of the State of Iowa.

As we look backward today our lifetimes reach back into the days when just about everybody in Iowa was a pioneer, or is so regarded today. And, as we stop to think the matter over a little, we get a better picture of what actually constitutes a pioneer, and the manner of men they were.

The pioneers who came to Iowa in the days before my birth were, as a matter of fact, men and women just like ourselves. Some of them came to Iowa seeking their own future, some also came to leave their pasts behind them. There were more sinners than saints, not all of the men were handsome heroes, and the sturdy women who helped create this state didn't look, very many of them, like the movie stars who now portray them on the films.

And from this sturdy stock there developed the leaders who wrote the Constitution of the State of Iowa, who became the pioneer lawmakers of two and three generations ago, and whose memory we honor today.

I like to think of the General Assembly of the State of Iowa as a training school for leaders of men. From among those who have occupied seats in the House and Senate twenty-one have later become Governors of Iowa.

There was Samuel J. Kirkwood, who showed up in the Iowa State Senate in the guise of a grizzled farmer with seeds in his hair, and proceeded to demonstrate to his astonished colleagues the qualities of greatness which made him our Civil War Governor, and later a United States Senator. There was Tama Jim Wilson, who once occupied the Speaker's chair on this rostrum, who rose to become the greatest leader that American agriculture has produced to date. There was William Larrabee, possibly the best beloved Iowan of his time. There was Albert B. Cummins, the unknown young lawyer who gained his election as an independent, and founded his political career by putting the barbed wire fence trust out of business. There was that great Governor George W. Clarke, who envisioned the Capitol Extension of which we are so proud today, and fought it through until his dream became a reality, and the saloons and brothels disappeared from the State House steps. And there was Nate Kendall, who also sat in the Speaker's chair, perhaps the most eloquent orator who ever sat in this chamber.

I could go on and on with this list of Pioneer Lawmakers of Iowa. I cannot even stop to enumerate the men who have gone from these halls almost directly into the halls of the National House of Representatives. I cannot enumerate, either, the men who have become our district judges and judges of our Supreme Court. And were I to attempt to list the civic honors which have been bestowed upon former members of the Iowa General Assembly by the State of Iowa, or by its counties and cities, or communities, my task would be endless.

It was a former pioneer lawmaker, Senator Anthony McColl, who laid the foundation for most of the activities of our State Board of Control, and whose work is being so ably carried on today by Henry Burma, who also sat in the Speaker's seat.

We, as Pioneer Lawmakers, have had our part in making Iowa what it is today, along with those who have gone before. The test of our worthiness, and of the unseen Pioneer Lawmakers who are with us in spirit today, if not in body, is to be judged by a standard set up by the Savior of all mankind: "By their works ye shall know them."

Each generation of lawmakers finds its new problems to solve. Each generation of lawmakers becomes pioneers in its own right.

We are perturbed today about what to do about our public schools. But the first Pioneer Lawmakers had to be concerned about having any schools at all. They had the job of creating all of our educational institutions, of founding our great State University, our great State College at Ames, and our Teachers College at Cedar Falls. They had vision and foresight. They were the founders; we, who are here today, have been the builders, and those who follow us must continue to build.

It has been my privilege to have participated in more of the legislative deliberations of Iowa than any other man living or dead. As I look backward to 1915, and hunt up the old Iowa Red Book in which my picture is pretty much of a deadringer for that of my present colleague, Jack Schroeder of Scott County today, I cannot but be sobered by the feeling, I who was considered the bright young man of the Thirty-sixth General Assembly, must at some time pass on my duties to the bright young men of today. I am not saddened, because I feel, as I believe you who are gathered here today also feel, that they will do a better job, perhaps because they will have the opportunity to profit by our mistakes.

Yet the history of the state reveals that it is seldom indeed that the Iowa General Assembly takes backward steps. The laws which are upon our State Books today are the product of the best efforts of four generations of lawmakers. They are the foundation for our free government and our liberties in Iowa. I, as a pioneer lawmaker, am conceited enough to make the statement that we pioneers have done a pretty good job.

We have established, in Iowa, a state and local system of government which, in the very nature of things, has its faults, but which I would not exchange for that of any state in the Union.

Iowa has good government, and the laws we have passed help keep it so. Iowa has good schools, established under the laws we have passed, and our successors will make them better schools.

We have set up a judiciary under which the protection of our laws is guaranteed to all, and whose integrity has never been questioned. We have established protection for our poor, our widows and our orphans. We have safe working conditions for the employees in our industries; we have shown due regard for our problems of sanitation and public health.

I myself have seen our road systems pass from paths into highways, here again we have laid the foundation for things to come.

The General Assembly of Iowa has an enviable record. Its proceedings have never been tainted by a major scandal. It has preserved its independence of thought and action, and has been jealous of its own prerogatives. The most decisive step toward the disintegration of any democracy, and the loss of the liberty of its people, is a surrender of the powers of the popularly elected assembly to dictators or bosses, whoever they may be.

I remember a session, it was that of the Thirty-seventh General Assembly when we had the most bitter fight over highway legislation that has ever occurred in this chamber, when a member of the House voiced, on the floor of this House, a principle which I believe was inviolate in the minds of our predecessors, and should forever be retained by ourselves and our successors.

The argument revolved over whether or not the State Highway Commission should be deprived of its powers, the offices moved to Des Moines, and our infant policy of building roads upon a state and county basis, instead of haphazard, was at stake.

There was a member of the House at that time from my neighborhood county of Grundy. His name was Bill Mooty, and a son of his sits in this General Assembly.

The battle was a political one, in which the political fortunes of one of the slickest state machines ever put together in the State of Iowa were involved. The lines were closely drawn, in fact, the battle ended in a draw, with fifty-four members of the House on one side and fifty-four on the other.

The Governor of Iowa had called Mr. Mooty "downstairs." Most of you know what that means, and had put the pressure on Mr. Mooty pretty tightly. Mr. Mooty came back to his seat with his hair bristling, and took the floor.

"I am a pretty good Irishman," Mooty said, "and I am a pretty mad Irishman. I want to tell the members of this House that no governor is going to tell me how to vote. If he can convince me I am wrong, he has a right to try to convince me, but he isn't going to order me around. I know what kind of roads my people want, and how they want them built, and I am going to vote that way as long as I get a chance to vote."

I am citing this incident to emphasize the point that I am trying to make, as I turn from the record of the past and try to look into the crystal ball for a glance at the future of not only Iowa and its people, but of the United States and every American citizen.

Legislatures do make mistakes. We made one right here in this chamber back in 1945 which we are now doing our best to correct. I might comment that in my opinion that mistake was made because we paid too much attention to what we were told to do and not enough in determining what we ought to do.

But mistakes of representatives and senators elected by the people are seldom selfish mistakes. They arise because even legislators are human beings.

Dictators rise into power through the elimination of governing bodies such as the Iowa General Assembly. Hitler rose to power only after the German Reichstag had been emasculated and then destroyed. The same thing happened in Italy when Mussolini took command, and in Russia, Rumania, China, Bulgaria, Hungary, Poland and Czechoslovakia the rise of communistic power was the direct consequence of the loss of power by the elective representative bodies of those nations.

The mistakes of legislatures and parliaments, as I have indicated, are honest ones, and they are made without intention to deprive people of their liberties.

The mistakes of dictators are often fatal to their peoples, and they are generally irreparable, because once human liberties are lost, they are not regained, in most cases, without the pouring out of human blood.

Our Pioneer Lawmakers survived the era of the Civil War, when the liberties of Americans were threatened. They were unflinching in the emergencies of the first World War, and we didn't back down in the last World War.

The world now confronts, in my mind, a greater menace to human liberties than it has ever faced before. An evil man passed away the other day, and the power of Joe Stalin to do any more evil has been lost.

Digitized by Google

But it was well said by William Shakespeare that "the evil which men do lives after them, the good is oft interred with their bones."

The evils that Stalin and Lenin have created still live, and they menace us. The communistic ideology threatens every representative body in any nation, or in any village, upon the face of the earth. So I urge upon us today, as Pioneer Lawmakers, to oppose, with our dying breaths, if need be, any ideology which directly or indirectly menaces the freedom of legislative bodies anywhere.

It seems that the artists and the educators have discovered that the Pioneer Lawmakers of a century ago didn't do the best job in the world of designing the Great Seal of the State of Iowa. I am not much of an artist, but if they start revamping the Great Seal of the State of Iowa, there is one thing I want left strictly alone—by all future Iowa lawmakers. It is the motto upon that State Seal, which I commend to you in closing: "Our liberties we prize and our rights we will maintain."

Senator Hedin of Scott asked and obtained unanimous consent to have the remarks by Representative McFarlane, Senator Lord, Representative Schwengel and the Honorable Burton E. Sweet printed in the Journals.

President Elthon offered the following remarks:

This brings to a close our meeting here this afternoon, and I want to say it surely has been a pleasure for us in the legislature to meet with you Pioneer Lawmakers in joint session, and we wish you the best of luck. We hope you can come back to us, session after session, and we hope that you may have many pleasant days yet to live.

Christiansen of Worth moved that the joint convention be now dissolved.

Motion prevailed.

The House reconvened, Speaker Lynes in the chair.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE

I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate File 30 passed the House.

DEWEY E. GOODE.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE

I move to reconsider the vote by which the amendment by Vermeer on Senate File 18 was adopted on March 19.

merchandise by merchants, and providing for the assessment and collection of such excise tax, begs leave to report it has had the same under consideration and has instructed me to report the same back to the House to be amended as follows and without further recommendation.

1. Amend House File 315 by striking the period at the end of line thirty (30) of subsection two (2) of section one (1) and substituting therefor a comma "(,)" and adding the following:

"and less an allowance in the amount of the value allowed when traded-in articles are received as part of the purchase price of other merchandise."

2. Amend subsection three (3) by striking the period "(.)" at the end of line thirty-six (36), substituting a comma "(,)" therefor and adding the following:

"increased or reduced by the percentage that the combined millage levy in each taxing district exceeds or is less than sixty (60) mills for the year in which the tax is levied."

3. Amend subsection seven (7) by inserting after the period "(.)" in line sixty-three (63) the following:

"There shall also be entered upon the tax list of the taxing district an amount which shall be determined by dividing into the amount of the tax entered upon the tax list the amount in mills levied upon property in the taxing district for the year upon which the tax is based, and multiplying the amount thus obtained by 1,000. The amount in mills used as a divisor shall be fixed at the nearest even mill, where fractions of a mill are involved. Such valuation shall be considered the taxable value of the merchandise upon which the tax is levied and shall be considered as part of the taxable value of the property in the taxing district in the determination of the amount of millage levies or the determination of the limit of bonded indebtedness of such taxing district, but no additional tax shall be levied upon the taxable value of property which is subject to the excise tax herein granted."

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the House and the title agreed to.

Burrows of Benton asked and obtained unanimous consent that the following report be printed in the Journal:

As members representing the General Assembly and having been priviledged to view the atomic bomb detonation of March 17, 1953, we wish to make this report to this honorable body.

The Nevada Proving Grounds of the Atomic Energy Commission begin about sixty-five miles north of Las Vegas and have an area of about 640 square miles. Within this area is a space of about 200 square miles, roughly about twenty miles north and south, and ten miles east and west, and of mostly fairly level desert land. This area is surrounded by mountains and has only a well constructed black-top highway, built by the Atomic Energy Commission, leading into it from a southerly direction. There are a number of other old mountain trails which have been shut off since this part of the public domain has been taken over by the Atomic Energy Commission. It looks like an ideal site for an atomic testing area. About 42 miles out of Las Vegas to the northwest on the highway to Tonopah is the Indian Springs Air Force Base. The entrance to the proving grounds is about seventeen miles further out on this same highway. A few miles in is the Desert Rock Army Camp where participating troops are stationed, and nearby are the Mercury Springs headquarters of the Atomic Energy Commission. News Nob is located about twenty miles north of the entrance and seven miles south of the 300 foot tower from which the detonation of March 17 took place.

We arrived in Las Vegas about 2:30 a.m., Saturday, March 14. Saturday morning we registered at the Las Vegas City Hall headquarters of the Joint Information Office and received our badges, briefing and other material. Sunday we left Las Vegas at 7:00 a.m. in busses we had been assigned to, and were conducted on a tour of the proving ground area. Among the installations are a series of towers near an elaborate heavily reinforced concrete underground bunker in which are installed various automatic recording devices, some of them so sensitive that the sequence of various detonation phenomena would be recorded to the millionth fraction of a second. The principal recording installations were located about one mile from the shot tower.

As a part of the experiment, one two-story frame house was located about three-fourths of a mile from the shot tower, and another about one and one-half miles from the tower. These houses were of modern construction completely furnished with household items, and with mannequins representing human beings in various rooms in the dwellings.

More than fifty automobiles of various makes were placed at various distances and angles from about three-fourths of a mile up to two miles from the shot tower.

Trenches and foxholes for the use of participating troops and news observers were located two miles to the south and west of the 300 foot shot tower. Twenty news and radio correspondents were chosen to cover the experiment. Jack Shelley of the Des Moines Radio Statio WHO was accorded the distinction of participating as one of three radio newsmen.

On the Sunday tour we were privileged to see some of the latest Air Force aircraft at the Indian Springs Air Base, including the N. A. Tornado, a four engine jet light bomber in the 550 mile an hour class; Boeing B47, six engine jet in the 600 mile an hour class; the new Convair B36 with six piston motors and four jets with a top speed of 435 miles an hour, and others. The Air Force plays an important part in atomic tests and research.

Monday we were briefed by various Army Civil Defense Authorities, Atomic Energy Commission authorities, and Department of Defense Authorities—including Governor Val Peterson who is now the Federal Civil Defense Administration Administrator.

Tuesday we left the City Hall for News Nob at 2:00 a.m. We arrived at News Nob about one hour ahead of the time set for the detonation. We were provided with elastic fitted dark glasses which we were told reduced the light by one hundred times. You have all read better descriptions than we can give you of the activity and excitement on News Nob in preparation for the explosion scheduled to take place at 5:20 a.m. In the cold predawn desert darkness, the whole thing seemed to take on an air of unreality. For ourselves, witnessing an A bomb explosion for the first time and at a distance of seven miles, the experience was as awesome and spectacular as we had anticipated it might be.

Simultaneously with the flash we experienced a short, sharp heat wave and perhaps fifteen to twenty seconds later the shock of the concussion hit us. The re-echoing of the blast finally faded in the distance. It was like something which we had never previously experienced. After the explosion the dust cloud on the desert continued to churn, expand and grow in density for about an hour, after which it started to clear away very gradually. It was about six hours after the explosion before we were taken into the blast area.

Some of the cars at two miles showed no visible damage. Others had the tops caved in to some extent. Some of the two door type had the doors bashed in. We were allowed to go only to a point where the radioactivity gave a reading of 10 r.g. which was about one-fourth of a mile south of the house closest to the explosion. This house had the appearance of having been folded up and pushed into the basement. Some nearby cars appeared to have been burned out. On others the damage was not apparent from this distance. We were told that house number 2 had been damaged to the extent that it would be impractical to repair it.

The present series of tests are being carried out by the Atomic Energy Commission in cooperation with the Department of Defense and Civil Defense Authorities. The Civil Defense Administration hopes to gain useful information from the present series of tests which will be helpful in minimizing the disaster in the event of an atomic bomb attack.

The bomb used was represented as having explosive power equal to 15,000 tons of TNT, while the bombs used on the Japanese cities of Hiroshima and Nagasaki had the power of 20,000 tons of TNT. Quoting from an article from the Civil Defense Administration: "In Hiroshima, 62,000 out of 90,000 buildings were destroyed by blast and 6,000 more damaged beyond repair. The fire storm, a gigantic melded bonfire which swept the rubble after the blast was caused by blasted stoves and short-circuited wires. The fire did at least three times more damage than the initial blast. Although the city was organized and protected against ordinary air raid blast and fire, the A-bomb hopelessly tangled overwhelmed civil defense services. Seventy per cent of the fire-fighting equipment was crushed in firehouse collapses, and three-fourths of the firemen were killed or injured. The city water supply was knocked out, transportation halted by rubble, communications destroyed, medical facilities destroyed or damaged beyond use. In the United States, carefully made estimates on damage allow a better survival percentage for our more soundly constructed buildings, especially as the distance increases from explosion ground zero."

The "R.G." reading we were told means that the average individual would absorb this number of r.g. units per hour, so that with a reading of 10 r.g. one would absorb 50 in 5 hours of exposure, enough to cause illness. An absorption of 400 is considered fatal.

As the chairman of the military and veterans affairs committee, we feel that we would be remiss in our duties if we did not call attention to the fact that Iowa at the present time has no civil defense law. We realize that civil defense legislation is not a popular subject. We are convinced, however, that as long as an atomic war is a possibility this General Assembly should give serious consideration to the passage of sensible civil defense legislation.

The Department of Defense has calculated that there are 191 probable target areas in the United States in the event of an enemy bombing attack by air. Eight of these, we are told, are in Iowa.

Digitized by Google

An effective civil defense program calls for planned cooperation on the part of probable target areas with neighboring communities. A well-worked-out program could do much in the way of minimizing disaster in the event of a bombing attack. Being prepared for the worst would help to minimize confusion and panic and could save lives and property.

The real effectiveness of a civil defense program is more dependent on planning for the efficient use of existing facilities, rather than large appropriations. From discussing this problem with Governor Beardsley at various times, we feel sure that he concurs in this viewpoint.

Be It Resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

Section 1. Section two (2), article three (III) of the Constitution of the State of Iowa is repealed and the following adopted in lieu thereof: "The General Assembly shall meet in regular session on the second Monday in January each odd numbered year, and shall meet in extra session on the second Monday of January each even numbered year. In the interim the General Assembly may be convened by the Governor by proclamation. The regular session in odd numbered years shall be for a period of not to exceed seventy-five (75) days. In even numbered years, the extra session shall be devoted to consideration of the budget, the production, distribution and appropriation of revenue, review and revision of the tax structure, and such other legislation involving subject matters authorized for consideration by the General Assembly under rules adopted by a majority of not less than two-thirds (⅔) of its elected members of each house. The extra session in the even numbered years shall be for a period not exceeding forty (40) days."

Sec. 2. The foregoing proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Iowa is hereby referred to the General Assembly to be chosen at the next general election, and the secretary of state is directed to cause the same to be published, as provided by law, for three (3) months previous to the time of making such choice.

President Hart then presented Mr. Halleck, who addressed the joint convention as follows:

MR. SPEAKER, MR. PRESIDENT AND HONORED MEMBERS OF THE DISTINGUISHED IOWA LEGISLATURE:

I deeply appreciate the kind words on my behalf and want you to know that I consider it a high privilege to meet with you here today.

The traditional relationship between the folks of Iowa and our people back in Indiana is one of warm understanding. We are friendly neighbors with similar economies, similar problems and similar ways of thinking.

Of course, there is one notable difference that occurs to me at the moment. You have a great reputation for growing tall corn, at least partially deserved.

Out our way we sort of concentrate on growing tall basketball players, and we proved it.

Our boys did all right this year. I just hope your crops turn out as well next fall as our crop did this spring! I trust you'll forgive my enthusiasm, but I happen to be an alumnus of Indiana University, No. 1 team.

One of the real regrets of my life is that I can't claim service in the General Assembly of my own Hoosier State. It is a great source of pride to me, however, that my father served in the Indiana Senate—1909 and 1910.

You know, back home the folks we send down to the legislature face a peculiar problem. They are limited in their deliberations by a constitutional deadline.

We give them just 60 days every two years to prove their statesmanship.

Now, what this really means is that they have 59 days and 23 hours to dicker—and one hour to vote!

Some time back, our legislators decided they could squeeze out a few more minutes for horse-trading by installing a push-button voting system.

But they discovered that even this modern aid to over-worked lawmakers didn't completely solve their problem. They never quite make the deadline.

Being typically resourceful Hoosiers, however, they took a tip from television and established their own version of that famous show called "Stop the Clock."

Nothing is impossible in Indiana. We even halt the March of Time. Now if we could just reconcile the annual hassle between proponents of daylight saving and central standard time life would be beautiful.

We're right in the middle of that controversy down in Washington, too, and believe me, if you folks have any ideas on how to keep everybody happy, I'll be glad to take them back with me!

Now that I've mentioned Washington, let me hasten to assure you that I did not consider your gracious invitation to me to come out here as an application from Iowa for a new kind of "federal aid"!

Digitized by Google

I do not propose to advise you on how you should run the State of Iowa; you know far more about that business than I do.

But it did occur to me that I might make some observations on a subject that has come in for increased discussion down through the years—the subject of relations between federal and state governments.

As you probably have read in the press, President Eisenhower has proposed the creation of a commission on government functions and fiscal resources.

We are already working on the draft of a bill to establish such a commission. In fact I can tell you that it was one of the topics of conversation at our regular Monday morning White House conference yesterday.

The purpose of such a commission would be to determine the proper role of federal government in relation to states and their political subdivisions; to define relations and to allocate proper jurisdiction.

Beyond that, the commission would look into the vast and complex field of intergovernmental fiscal relations, seeking ways to eliminate confusion and duplication wherever they might be found.

The commission would study and investigate the many programs of federal aid to state and local governments. And believe me, there are a lot of them!

Another feature of the commission's assignment would be to determine the justification of the present set-up and, at the same time, try to learn how much justification there might be for other areas of federal activity in which aid is not presently extended.

In other words, this new body would be charged with giving the whole mechanism of federal-state relations a thoroughgoing examination.

We know the problem is big and we know its complicated. And there's a growing conviction in many quarters that it's an obsolete juggernaut that may get completely out of control unless we're careful.

You wouldn't have to look very far, as a matter of fact, to find a lot of critics who think's it's already out of control.

Just about a year ago a Senate subcommittee came up with quite a report on the federal aid picture.

It noted that what started back in 1934 as a modest—and let's say well-meaning—program of aid to really needy states had grown by the end of fiscal 1951 to a vast enterprise involving 65 separate programs for states, local communities and individuals. The cost is now more than four billion dollars annually.

With the exception of a slight drop in 1946, federal payments to state and local governments have increased every year since 1937. The total edged up a little higher last year, too.

Such payments now amount to somewhat more than ten per cent of all state and local expenditures.

Meanwhile, what has been happening to you, to your counties and to your communities? Have these programs of federal aid proved a boon? Or must we conclude that the federal government has simply encroached more and more on the areas of taxation that are available to you.

With an ever larger bite being taken out of the wage-earner's pay envelope to finance these far-flung projects, you people back here face an increasingly serious crisis in meeting your own budgetary requirements.

The net result is that you aren't gaining ground—you are losing it.

As the roots of your revenue are tapped for greater and greater contributions to support the federal operation you have found yourselves forced to turn to Washington for sustenance.

The pattern is the familiar circle—the vicious circle—that sees the state calling for help, and the federal government draining off state resources to provide that help. Dependency is thereby aggravated and the circle tightens into a noose which constricts freedom and strangles sovereignty.

It's not just a matter of financial embarrassment. You are finding yourselves saddled with federal restrictions and controls which too often frustrate the best use of the funds you receive.

For no matter how well-intentioned the federal government may be in its determination to see that money received in the form of grants is wisely spent, Washington is too far removed from the scene to be infallible.

Add to this danger the now-recognized peril of federal administrators who demonstrate a hunger for power and the menace to self-government is obvious.

Certainly the time has come when we must ask ourselves, in all sincerity, just how far we can go in this business of federal aid and still maintain the effectiveness of state government.

We must ask our ourselves, it seems to me, how big we can safely let this apparatus develop without destroying the system of government we so painstakingly established some 170 odd years ago.

Maybe it's already too big. Maybe it's beyond control. I don't happen to think so.

But I have watched its development with growing alarm during my time in the Congress. Certainly I think we can agree here today that it's burdened now with a lot of gadgets and appendages that weren't a part of the original blueprint.

But the upkeep is getting terrific.

The original model was an emergency vehicle designed ostensibly to help carry states that couldn't furnish essential service to the people without help from Washington.

I have no quarrel with the principle that a nation can be no stronger than the welfare standard of a whole people.

But I have always believed that we are treading on extremely dangerous ground when we shift too many responsibilities from smaller to bigger units of government.

It is that shifting of responsibility which constitutes the drift toward centralization—a drift which must be abhorrent to any people dedicated to the theory of self-rule.

Let's be perfectly frank: in the past two decades we have seen too much evidence of defaulting on the home front and too many people in high federal office eager to capitalize on this situation by drawing more and more power unto themselves.

There has been too much willingness to take local troubles to Washington with the result that an attitude has grown up among us which saps our traditional self-reliance.

Digitized by Google

Why, I had a letter just the other day from a friend of mine that contained two requests.

The first request was that we cut taxes down in Washington.

The second was that I do what I could to see that the federal government help a local group finance a ditch-digging project!

Well, now, folks, those two requests are just simply incompatible.

And the implication frightens me a little. I'm afraid it is going to take some pretty conscientious self-discipline to get a lot of folks back to the old-fashioned idea that there are many things we simply ought to do for ourselves.

On the other hand, I am heartened by evidence that more and more of our people are beginning to see the fallacy of the proposition that big government is the answer to all our problems.

I think there is an awakening to the evils of centralized power. Citizens in even greater numbers are beginning to realize that the price tag is too often far more than such service is worth.

My own state of Indiana came to that conclusion back in 1947, when the General Assembly passed a resolution which gained wide recognition and a lot of applause over the country.

The resolution said this:

"Indiana needs no guardian and intends to have none. We Hoosiers—like the people of our sister states—were fooled for quite a spell with the magician's trick that a dollar taxed out of our pockets and sent to Washington, will be bigger when it comes back to us.

"We have taken a good look at said dollar. We find that it lost weight in its journey to Washington and back.

"The political brokerage of the bureaucrats has been deducted. We have decided that there is no such thing as "federal" aid. We know that there is no wealth to tax that is not already within the boundaries of the 48 states.

"We have grown up. We serve notice that we will resist Washington, D. C., adopting us.

"Thereby, be it resolved:

"That we respectfully petition our Congressmen and Senators to vote to fetch our county courthouse and city halls back from Pennsylvania Avenue. We want government to come home."

Now let me say something: That wasn't just a ringing—but empty—declaration. Those Hoosiers weren't fooling.

And when Oscar Ewing, the Federal Security Administrator, threatened two years ago to withhold some $20,000,000 from Indiana because the state wouldn't comply with his interpretation of federal law, the boys back in Indiana told him to go jump in the lake and risked their twenty million. Of course, some of us felt the money belonged to Indiana, and we fought for it.

Well, Indiana won its point and got its money, too, but not until after we had had quite a go-round in the Congress. It happened to be my job to get an amendment through the House. I will never forget the help I received from the Governors' Conference.

Our position was absolutely right and just—but the resistance was terrific.

But I want to emphasize that the cost in dollars alone is not the only factor which deserves consideration in a discussion of federal aid and the growth of centralized government.

There is also a heavy cost in freedom.

With every transfer of responsibility from Des Moines or Indianapolis to Washington, there is a corresponding transfer of authority.

That should never be forgotten.

Federal aid without federal control is an illusion.

The very principle of responsible government demands that control be exercised over public spending—and I don't care who is doing the spending.

Any unit of government which spends public money must feel an obligation to see that such funds are spent wisely, if we are going to have responsible government.

Blank check grants are an invitation to waste and extravagance whether the money involved is federal, state or local.

Simple honesty compels us to admit that it's always easier to spend money somebody else provides than it is to spend our own.

And by the same token we are never as careful of how we spend it if we aren't answerable to anyone for its misuse.

Of course, the basic fallacy that has crept into too much thinking—and I'm not so sure it hasn't been encouraged by those who want more big government rather than less—is that the billions of dollars involved are somehow generated in Washington.

I'll tell you what we have been generating in Washington—we have been generating deficits.

We have now run up a charge account of roughly a quarter of a trillion dollars.

And I needn't remind you that it's going to be tough to pay it off.

Which reminds me of a little story I heard a while back. It seems a grade-school teacher was attempting to impress upon her class of youngsters the importance of avoiding bad habits.

"What is it," she inquired, "that is so easy to get into and so hard to get out of?"

After a moment of reflection a little boy raised his hand.

"All right, Richard," said the teacher. "Suppose you tell us."

"That's easy," said the boy, "bed."

Well, I think we'll all agree that "debt" would be an appropriate answer, too.

I know very well that you people here in the Iowa legislature feel a sense of trusteeship for public funds when you go about the business of appropriations.

It is your obligation to be frugal with every taxpayer's dollar that comes to the Iowa treasury. It is your responsibility to do everything you can to insure that such dollars are spent as wisely as possible. And you do your best to meet that responsibility.

Well, I feel the same sense of trusteeship when I am called upon to pass judgment on the expenditure of money which comes to the federal treasury. I am answerable to the people of my district for the decisions I make just as you are answerable to your people for your actions.

Digitized by Google

The mechanics of federal aid, however, complicate this matter of accountability.

Look at it this way:

If I am to participate in the spending of billions of dollars through grants to states and local communities—over whose sovereign legislatures and administrations I have no control—am I to be held accountable for the manner in which these billions are spent?

And, yet, is it possible that as a federal official I owe no responsibility whatsoever to the taxpayers of America for the expenditure of these funds—which came from them in the first place?

And if I am not to be held accountable, what happens to our time-honored principle that public office is a public trust?

At the same time—and here is the basic dilemma of federal aid—how can big government in Washington know what is best for Iowa, for Indiana, for Des Moines, for Indianapolis—for all the rest of the forty-eight states and the thousands of communities, big and little, throughout the land?

It can't, of course.

It seems to me time we asked ourselves whether the Congress knows better than you do, here in Iowa, how you should spend money on your state programs, just as you must ask yourselves whether you know better than your communities how they should conduct their local affairs.

An honest answer to that question forces us to the conclusion that in the interest of truly responsible and efficient government, the process of collecting and spending public money should be kept as close to the taxpayer as we can possibly keep it.

Unfortunately, we have been moving in just the opposite direction. With the development of federal aid programs we have shifted an ever-increasing portion of the power to tax and spend from local hands to federal hands.

We have, in the process, fostered the growth of government by remote control.

It is time we reversed that trend.

It is time we got the obligation of collecting money and the privilege and responsibility of spending it closer to home.

It is time we restored a lot of these prerogatives of the peoples' business to the smallest unit of government capable of handling the job.

If I understand President Eisenhower's proposal correctly, and I believe I do, the establishment of this new commission to examine the whole area of federal-state relationships will be a significant step in the direction of decentralization.

Of course, as we move toward less big government and more local control—as we shift these authorities from Pennsylvania Avenue to Main Street, state and local units must be quick to fill whatever vacuums may be created.

There will be protests—you can count on that.

The advocates of big government—of paternalism—of the "Washington-over-all" school of thought, will be alert to capitalize on any dissatisfactions they can arouse.

They won't hesitate to take advantage of every little maladjustment which may arise.

Digitized by Google

They can be counted on to scream that "the needs of the people are not being met"—whether those needs are real or imagined, legitimate or manufactured.

But, my friends, the job has got to be done.

The alternative is a smothering federal bureaucracy and the end of personal freedom.

We have got to return more government to the people—where it belongs.

The road back isn't going to be an easy one.

And it isn't going to be dramatic.

No great headlines resulted from President Eisenhower's proposal that a new commission be established to study this business of federal-state relationship.

And yet, if through the efforts of such a group we can come up with a clearer picture of what needs to be done, the contribution to the history of a people dedicated to self-government may well be one of the major achievements of this new administration.

I can say, for the Congress, that we stand ready to do everything possible to promote an orderly restoration of authority and privileges to state and local governments.

And, if it becomes clear that the Congress can, in some measure, speed the process of decentralization I would not hesitate to encourage action even before the commission has completed its studies.

I know my home state of Indiana is ready and willing to shoulder its full share of responsibility to its own Hoosier citizens. I am confident you people in the Iowa legislature feel the same way.

With cooperation we can and will get the job done—to the everlasting benefit of the system which has brought America to eminence as the great bastion of freedom, strength, and material well-being among all the nations of the world.

The committee previously appointed escorted the Honorable Charles A. Halleck from the House chamber.

Palmer of Lee asked and obtained unanimous consent that the remarks made by the Honorable Mr. Halleck be printed in the House Journal.

Senator Myrland of Monona moved that the joint convention be now dissolved.

Motion prevailed.

The House reconvened, Speaker Lynes in the chair.

SENATE FILE 371 SUBSTITUTED FOR HOUSE FILE 347

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

Senate File 371, a bill for an act to provide for the erecting and equipping of a warehouse on state grounds; to provide for the appointment of a legislative advisory committee and authorize the executive council and legislative advisory committee to designate the location of said building; to authorize the executive council and legislative advisory committee to employ an architect or architects to prepare plans and specifications for said building; and to enter into a contract or contracts for the erection and equipping of said warehouse; and to provide for the payment thereof, was taken up for consideration.

Parker of Polk offered the following amendment, filed by him and Falvey of Monroe:

Amend Senate File 371 by striking from the title thereof the words "on state grounds".

Further amend Senate File 371 by striking from section 1, line 2, the words "on state grounds".

Further amend Senate File 371 by striking all of section 2 thereof and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"The executive council and legislative advisory committee are hereby authorized and empowered to designate the location of said warehouse and to conduct such investigations as the executive council deems necessary to accomplish same."

On motion by Goode of Davis, the House recessed until 2:00 p.m., today.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The House reconvened, Speaker Lynes in the chair.

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the House and the title as amended was agreed to.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

To explain my vote on H. F. 150, I desire to register a dissent or protest to said H. F. 150 for the reason that in my opinion the bill was misrepresented. The Putney amendment, which was described to the House members as a simple amendment to reinstate 389.41 of the 1951 Code of Iowa, actually changed the meaning of this section by adding "and shall equitably apportion the cost thereof" which shifts the responsibility for the cost of installing crossing signals from the railroads to a joint responsibility between the towns or cities and the railroads at the discretion of the Iowa State Commerce Commission. Which means that the taxpayers of these communities would have to bear a good deal of the cost of said signals.

ANDREW G. FROMMELT.

House File 62, a bill for an act to amend section three hundred twenty-one point two hundred eighty-five (321.285), Code 1950, relating to speed restrictions on public highways, with report of committee recommending passage, was taken up for consideration.

Walter of Hardin offered the following amendment filed by him and moved its adoption:

Amend House File 62, section one (1), by striking line four (4) and substituting the following:

"5. Fifty-five miles per hour in all other locations during the night time. 'Night time' means from one-half hour after sunset to one-half hour before sunrise, and at any other hour or any time when due to weather or other conditions there is not sufficient light to render clearly discernible persons and vehicles at a distance of five hundred (500) feet."

Beck of Appanoose offered the following amendment to the amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend the amendment by changing the comma (,) in line six (6) to a period (.) and strike the balance of the amendment.

Amendment to the amendment adopted.

Amendment as amended adopted.

Shaff of Clinton offered the following amendment filed by him and Palmer of Lee:

Amend House File 62 by adding thereto the following new section:

"Sec. 2. Section three hundred twenty-one point two hundred eighty-five (321.285), Code 1950, is further amended by adding thereto the following:

"Any speed in excess of the night speed limit shall be prima facie evidence that the speed is not reasonable or prudent and that it is unlawful."

Shaff of Clinton offered the following amendment to his amendment and moved its adoption:

SPECIAL ORDER

Kuester of Cass asked and obtained unanimous consent that House File 328 be made a special order of business March 27, following action on House File 27.

Mensing of Cedar offered the following House concurrent resolution:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 23

Whereas, above the turmoil of a temporizing world of today, the name of the Honorable Herbert Hoover stands out as a symbol of hope for the large group of mankind that cherishes the ideology of freedom, enterprise and incentive for the individual citizen, and

Whereas, such recognition is shared by the large majority of the citizens of the United States of America, and

Whereas, the State of Iowa has unfailing and unflinching devotion to the principles as expounded and exemplified by its distinguished native son, the Honorable Herbert Hoover, and

Whereas, the town and community of his nativity, West Branch, Iowa, is formulating plans for the special observance of the eightieth birthday of the Honorable Herbert Hoover on the 4th day of August, 1954, and

Whereas, the presence of the honored Herbert Hoover at such observance will serve to add value and moment to such program and bring lustre, honor, and prestige to the great State of Iowa,

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring, That a sincere and cordial invitation be extended to the eminent son of Iowa, Herbert Hoover, to honor the state of his birth by his presence in the State of Iowa at the eightieth birthday anniversary celebration, to be held at West Branch, Iowa, on August 10, 1954, and

Be It Further Resolved, that a committee consisting of four members of the House, and four members of the Senate be appointed by the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate, respectively, to carry out the purpose of this resolution.

Laid over under Rule 34.

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the House and the title agreed to.

House File 27, a bill for an act to authorize county boards of supervisors to require the licensing of auctions outside of cities and towns within the state or within any city or town that has not by ordinance licensed the sales of auctioneers and to require the posting of a bond and submission of inventory of goods offered for sale at such auctions, and providing penalties for violation thereof, with report of committee recommending amendment and passage, was taken up for consideration.

Abel of Clayton offered the following amendments proposed by the committee on county and township affairs:

1. Amend House File 27 by striking the entire title and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"An act to require a license for the sale by auction of new merchandise at places outside of cities and towns, or within any city or town that has not by ordinance provided for the licensing of auction sales under the provisions of section three hundred sixty-eight point six (368.6), Code 1950, and providing for the filing of application for such license, the filing of a bond and submission of inventory, fixing the amount of license fee and providing for the payment thereof, and the issuing of license by the board of supervisors, and requiring a report of sale and providing penalties for violation thereof."

2. Amend House File 27 by striking everything after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof:

"Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell, dispose of, or offer for sale at public auction at any place outside the limits of any city or town in the State of Iowa, or within the limits of any city or town in the State of Iowa that has not by ordinance enacted pursuant to the provisions of section three hundred sixty-eight point six (368.6), Code 1950, provided for the licensing of sales by auction, any new merchandise, unless such person, firm or corporation and the owners of such merchandise, if it is not owned by the vendors, shall have first secured a license as herein provided and shall have complied with the regulations hereinafter set forth.

"Sec. 2. Any person, firm or corporation desiring such license shall, at least ten days prior to such proposed auction sale, file with the board of supervisors of the county wherein it is proposed to hold such auction sale, an application in writing duly verified by the person, firm or corporation proposing to sell, dispose of or offer for sale any new merchandise at public auction, which application shall state the following facts:

"1. The name, residence and post office address of the person, firm or corporation making the application, and if a firm or corporation, the names and address of the members of the firm or officers of the corporation, as the case may be.

"2. The name, residence and post office address of the auctioneer who will conduct such auction sale.

"3. A detailed inventory and description of all such new merchandise to be offered for sale at such auction which inventory shall set forth the cost to the applicant of the several items contained in such inventory.

"4. Whether or not the sale at public auction shall be with or without reservation.

"Sec. 3. At the time of filing said application and as a part thereof, the applicant shall file and deposit with the board of supervisors a bond, with sureties to be approved by the board of supervisors, in the penal sum of two times the value of the merchandise proposed to be offered for sale at such auction as shown by the inventory filed, running to the State of Iowa, and for the use and benefit of any purchaser of any merchandise at such auction who might have a cause of action of any nature arising from or out of such auction sale against the auctioneer or applicant; the bond to be further conditioned on the payment by the applicant of all taxes that may be payable by, or due from, the applicant to the State of Iowa or any department or subdivision thereof, the payment of any fines that may be assessed by any court against the applicant or auctioneer for violation of the provisions of this act, and the satisfaction of all causes of actions commenced within one year from date of such auction sale and arising therefrom.

"In such bond the applicant and the surety shall appoint the chairman of the board of supervisors of the county in which such bond is filed, the agent of the applicant and the surety for the service of process in the event that personal service cannot be had upon them or either of them within the State of Iowa and shall designate the post office address to which such process against the applicant or surety, or either of them may be sent or served.

"Such bond shall contain the consent of the applicant and surety that the district court of the county wherein the application and bond is filed shall have jurisdiction of all actions arising against the applicant or surety, or both, arising out of said sale.

"The State of Iowa or any subdivision thereof, or any person having a cause of action against the applicant arising out of the sale of such new merchandise may join the applicant and the surety on such bond in the same action.

"Sec. 4. At the time of filing said application and bond the applicant shall pay to the county treasurer a license fee in the sum of twenty-five dollars ($25) for each day it is proposed to hold such auction sale as shown by the application for such license.

"Sec. 5. Upon the filing of such application and after the applicant has fully complied with all the provisions of this act, the board of supervisors, by its chairman, shall issue to the applicant a license authorizing the holding of such auction asle as proposed in said application. Such license shall not be transferrable, and shall be valid only in the county where issued, and shall not be valid in any town or city in such county which has enacted an ordinance pursuant to section three hundred sixty-eight point six (368.6), Code 1950.

"Sec. 6. Within ten days after the last day of said auction the applicant shall file in duplicate with the board of supervisors an inventory of all merchandise sold at such auction and the price received therefor which said inventory shall be verified. The chairman of the board of supervisors shall, immediately after receiving such report and inventory, forward a copy thereof to the state tax commission.

"Sec. 7. 'New Merchandise' as used in this act shall mean all merchandise not previously sold at retail. 'Auction sale' as used in this act shall mean the offering for sale or selling of personal property to the highest bidder or offering for sale or selling of personal property at a high price and then offering the same at successive lower prices until a buyer is secured.

"Sec. 8. The provisions of this act shall not extend to the sale at public auction of livestock, farm machinery or farm produce or other items commonly sold at farm sales, or to auction sales conducted by merchants who own or have a one year or more lease upon an establishment within the county or under the direction of any court or court officers of such sales as may be required by law.

"Sec. 9. Any person who shall offer new merchandise for sale at public auction without first securing a license as herein provided, or who shall offer for sale new merchandise different from that shown by, or in excess of the amount and value of, the inventories filed with the application for license, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and may be punished by a fine not to exceed three hundred dollars ($300) or by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed ninety (90) days.

"Sec. 10. If any section, subsection, paragraph, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional or invalid, such unconstitutionality or invalidity shall not affect the constitutionality or validity of the remaining portion of this act.

"Sec. 11. This act, being deemed of immediate importance, shall be in full force and effect upon its publication in The Sioux Rapids Bulletin-Press, a newspaper published at Sioux Rapids, Iowa, and The Guttenberg Press, a newspaper published at Guttenberg, Iowa."

this state shall not acquire a settlement in any other county until such person shall have continuously resided in said county for a period of one year without being served with notice of ineligibility as provided in this chapter."

2. By striking the period (.) in line twenty-two (22) and inserting in lieu thereof a comma (,) and the following:

"Notice of Ineligibility. Persons coming into the state, or going from one county to another, who are county charges or are likely to become such, may be prevented from acquiring a settlement by the authorities of the county, township, or city in which such persons are found, warning them that their continued residence in the county will not result in their acquiring legal settlement rendering them eligible to receive poor relief from the funds of the county, and in no way affects any other legal right of the person on whom the warning is served, and shall inform persons how they may subsequently acquire a settlement as provided in subsection one (1) of section two hundred fifty-two point sixteen (252.16).

"Service of Notice. Such notice of ineligibility shall be in writing, and may be served upon the order of the trustees of the township, or of the board of supervisors, by any person; and such person shall make a return of his doing thereon to the board of supervisors, which, if not made by a sworn officer, must be verified by affidavit.

"In the event such person cannot be found within the county, any person attempting to make such service shall file with the board of supervisors an affidavit that diligent search has been made and that such persons cannot be found within the county and the same shall constitute sufficient service of warning as provided herein.

"Contest between Counties. When relief is granted to a poor person having a settlement in another county, the auditor shall at once by mail notify the auditor of the county of his settlement of such fact, and, within fifteen days after receipt of such notice, such auditor shall inform the auditor of the county granting relief if the claim of settlement is disputed. If it is not, the poor person, if able, may be removed to the county of his settlement, or, at the request of the auditor or board of supervisors of the county of his settlement, he may be maintained where he then is at the expense of such county, and without affecting his legal settlement.

"All laws relating to the support of the poor as provided by this chapter shall be applicable to care, treatment, and hospitalization provided by county public hospitals.

"Trial. If the alleged settlement is disputed, then, within thirty days after notice thereof as above provided, a copy of the notices sent and received shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the district court of the county against which claim is made, and a cause docketed without other pleadings, and tried as an ordinary action, in which the

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the House and the title agreed to.

The House resumed consideration of House File 27, a bill for an act to authorize county boards of supervisors to require the licensing of auctions outside of cities and towns within the state or within any city or town that has not by ordinance licensed the sales of auctioneers and to require the posting of a bond and submission of inventory of goods offered for sale at such auctions, and providing penalties for violation thereof, with report of committee recommending amendment and passage.

Kerr of Shelby asked and obtained unanimous consent to withdraw his amendment filed March 26.

Watson of Warren offered the following amendments, filed by him, and moved their adoption:

1. Amend section three (3) of the committee amendment of House File 27 by striking the words "in the" in line seventy-three (73), and all of lines seventy-four (74), seventy-five (75), seventy-six (76), seventy-seven (77) and seventy-eight (78) thereof and inserting a period in lieu thereof and adding the following after said period:

"In the event of such service, the agent on whom such service is made shall, within five (5) days after the service, mail by ordinary mail a true copy of the process served upon him to each party for whom he is served, addressed to the last known address of such party. Failure to so mail said copy shall not, however, affect the court's jurisdiction."

2. Also strike the period in line eighty-eight (88) thereof and add the following:

", or may in such action sue either such applicant or the surety alone."

Amendments adopted.

Abel of Clayton moved that the bill be read a last time now and placed upon its passage which motion prevailed and the bill was read a last time.

CONSIDERATION OF JOINT RESOLUTION

House Joint Resolution 12, a joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Iowa relating to the sessions of the General Assembly, and to repeal section two (2), article three (III) of the Constitution of the State of Iowa and proposing a substitute therefor, with report of committee recommending passage, was taken up for consideration.

Schwengel of Scott offered the following amendments filed by him, et al.:

Amend House Joint Resolution 12 as follows:

1. Strike all of the title and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Proposing to repeal sections thirty-four (34), thirty-five (35), and thirty-six (36) of Article Three (III) Legislative Department of the Constitution of the State of Iowa, and to adopt substitutes for sections thirty-four (34), thirty-five (35), and thirty-six (36) thereof, relating to representation in the Senate and House of Representatives and to add a new section thereto relating to apportionment."

2. Strike all after the resolving clause and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. Strike all of section thirty-four (34), Article Three (III) of the Constitution of the State of Iowa and insert in lieu thereof the following:

" 'Sec. 34. The number of senators shall, at the next session following each period of making such enumeration, and the next session following each United States census, be fixed by law, and apportioned among the several counties, according to the number of inhabitants in each.' "

"Sec. 2. Strike all of section thirty-five (35), Article Three (III) of the Constitution of the State of Iowa and insert in lieu thereof the following:

" 'Sec. 35. The Senate shall not consist of more than fifty members, nor the House of Representatives of more than one hundred; and they shall be apportioned among the several counties and representative districts of the State, according to the number of inhabitants in each, upon ratios to be fixed by law; but no representative district shall contain more than four organized counties, and each district shall be entitled to at least one representative. Every county and district which shall have a number of inhabitants equal to one-half of the ratio fixed by law, shall be entitled to one representative; and any one county containing in addition to the ratio fixed by law, one-half of that number, or more, shall be entitled to one additional representative. No floating district shall hereafter be formed.' "

"Sec. 3. Strike all of section thirty-six (36), Article Three (III) of the Constitution of the State of Iowa and insert in lieu thereof the following:

" 'Sec. 36. At its first session under this Constitution, and at every subsequent regular session, the General Assembly shall fix the ratio of representation, and also form into representative districts those counties which will not be entitled singly to a representative.' "

"Sec. 4. Add the following new section to Article Three (III), of the Constitution of the State of Iowa:

" 'The legislature shall provide by law for the enumeration of the inhabitants of the state in the year 1960 and every ten years thereafter; and at its first regular session after each enumeration, but at no other time, the legislature shall apportion the Senators and Representatives according to the number of inhabitants, excluding soldiers and officers of the United States Army and Navy. Provided, that the legislature shall make an apportionment at its regular session held in the year 1961 and provided further that if any legislature whose duty it is to make an apportionment shall fail to make the same as herein provided that it shall be the duty of the Governor, Presiding Judge of the Supreme Court, Attorney General, Secretary of State and Treasurer of State within thirty (30) days after the adjournment of the legislature to make such apportionment and when so made and a proclamation is issued by the Governor announcing such apportionment the same shall have the same force and effect as though made by the legislature.' "

Walker of Hamilton rose to a point of order, that the amendments filed by Schwengel, et al., were not germane.

The Speaker ruled that the amendments filed by Schwengel, et al., were germane.

Watson of Warren offered the following amendment to the amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend the amendment by striking the words, "Presiding Judge" in line 59, and insert in lieu thereof the words, "Chief Justice".

Amendment to the amendment adopted.

Schwengel of Scott moved the adoption of the amendment as amended.

Roll call was demanded by Schwengel of Scott and Stevens of Greene.

House Joint Resolution 12, a joint resolution proposing to repeal sections six (6), thirty-four (34), thirty-five (35), and thirty-six (36) of article three (III), legislative department of the Constitution of the State of Iowa, and to adopt substitutes for sections six (6), thirty-four (34) and thirty-five (35) thereof, relating to representation in the Senate and House of Representatives and to the classification of Senators.

Be It Resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

Section 1. Section six (6), article three (III), legislative department of the Constitution of the State of Iowa, is hereby repealed and the following is adopted as a substitute therefor.

"Senators shall be so classified by lot, that one class, being as nearly one-half as possible, shall be elected every two years. When either class consists of a greater number than one-half of the total number of Senators, newly elected Senators shall be annexed by lot to one or the other of the two classes so as to keep such classes equal and the Senators annexed to the greater of the two classes shall serve a term of two years notwithstanding the provisions of section five (5) of this article."

tive department of the Constitution of the State of Iowa, is repealed and the following is adopted as a substitute therefor:

"The House of Representatives shall consist of ninety-nine (99) members. Every county shall constitute one (1) representative district and be entitled to one (1) Representative."

Sec. 3. Section thirty-four (34) of article three (III) legislative department of the Constitution of the State of Iowa is hereby repealed and the following is adopted as a substitute therefor:

"The Senate shall consist of sixty (60) Senators, to be elected from sixty (60) senatorial districts established by law. The state shall be divided into sixty (60) districts having as nearly equal population as possible. Where a senatorial district is constituted of more than one county, the counties shall be contiguous, and no county shall be divided in forming such a district; where a county is entitled to more than one Senator, such county shall be divided into the number of senatorial districts equal to the number of Senators to which the county is entitled. Provided, however, that two or more districts in the same county may by law be combined and the Senators representing the county may be elected either from the several districts or at large from such county as the law may prescribe. At the first session of the General Assembly following the adoption of this amendment and at each session immediately following the official publication of each succeeding decennial United States census thereafter, the General Assembly shall take notice of the last preceding United States census and reapportion the senatorial districts as above prescribed based on the last preceding United States census. Provided, however, that if the General Assembly fails to act at the first session following the adoption of this amendment or the first session following the official publication of each succeeding United States census enumerating the population of the several counties in this state, the supreme court shall take judicial notice of the last and each succeeding United States census and shall, on its own motion, proceed to designate and apportion the senatorial districts as hereinbefore provided, the provisions of section one (1) article three (III) to the contrary notwithstanding.

Sec. 4. Section thirty-six (36) of article three (III), legislative department of the Constitution of the State of Iowa, is hereby repealed.

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the House and the title agreed to.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

I voted "aye" reluctantly on House File 485 because I feel that the appropriation is not adequate insofar as our mental institutions are concerned.

The stresses and strains of modern living on the mind are increasing. Our past appropriations and this present appropriation do little more than provide scanty supervision over mental patients.

This is expensive economy. Rehabilitation is, in the long run, much more economical, and infinitely more humane.

Digitized by Google

I admit that my experience in this field is limited, but my observations upon visiting some of these institutions are that more money spent in occupational and recreational therapy would accomplish wonders in rehabilitation. Along that line I think our appropriations for our mental institutions should have been at least one-half million dollars higher for each institution.

COOKSEY of Clay.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

It was with some reluctance that I voted "aye" on House File 485 for the following reason: In my opinion, the appropriation for the mental institutions was insufficient to warrant adequate care and supervision of the patients. I would much preferred to have voted for at least a half-million dollars additional appropriation for each of the mental institutions contained in the bill.

TATE of Cerro Gordo.

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the House and the title agreed to.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

It was with great reluctance that I voted "nay" on Senate File 125. I did so solely because I do not think that the legislature should pass legalizing acts which in effect legalize elections in defiance of section 75.1 of the Code of Iowa. I think we should either repeal section 75.1 or else refuse to legalize elections where the 60 per cent limitation is not met.

WATSON of Warren.

shall not be disqualified for voluntarily leaving his employment to enter such armed forces; to provide that the time spent by such individual in such armed forces shall be excluded from the individual's base period; to provide that the benefit year of any such individual shall be extended by the time spent in such armed forces, amended by the Senate, and moved that the House concur in the following Senate amendments:

Amend House File 337 as follows:

1. By striking all of section 4 and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

"Sec. 4. Whenever an employee is separated from his employment for the purpose of joining the armed forces of the United States, the employee shall notify the employer in writing of his acceptance and date of reporting for service and the employer shall, within fifteen (15) days after said notice from the employee, notify the Iowa employment security commission of such separation and date of termination of wages on a form furnished by the commission."

2. Amend the title by striking the period (.) in the last line and substituting in lieu thereof the following: ", and to provide notices."

Motion prevailed and the House concurred.

Lucken of Plymouth moved that the bill, as amended by the Senate and concurred in by the House, be read a last time now and placed upon its passage which motion prevailed and the bill was read a last time.

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

The House resumed consideration of House File 424, a bill for an act to amend section four hundred twenty-three point two (423.2), Code 1950, relating to the definition of the term "purchased for use in this state" as the same relates to the imposition of a use tax on tangible personal property purchased for use in Iowa, with report of committee recommending passage.

Watson of Warren offered the following amendments filed by him, and moved their adoption:

Amend House File 424 by adding the following after section one (1):

1. "Sec. 2. Anything to the contrary in this chapter notwithstanding no such use or excise tax shall be imposed, assessed or collected on the use of any property purchased in one transaction where the total purchase price is less than fifty dollars ($50)."

2. Further amend by renumbering the following section.

Pedrick of Wapello offered the following amendment to the amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend the amendment, line 6, by striking the words and figures "fifty dollars ($50)" and insert in lieu thereof the words and figures "twenty-five dollars ($25)".

Amendment to the amendment lost.

Amendment adopted.

Tate of Cerro Gordo offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend House File 424 as follows:

Amend House File 424 by striking all of the enacting clause.

Roll call was demanded by Tate of Cerro Gordo and Watson of Warren.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON SENATE FILE 2

TO THE PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE AND THE SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE:

We, the undersigned members of the conference committee appointed to consider the difference between the Senate and the House on Senate File 2, a bill for an act to amend sections one hundred ninety point one (190.1), one hundred ninety point six (190.6), one hundred ninety-one point two (191.2), and one hundred ninety-one point three (191.3), Code 1950, relating to imitation butter and the sale and labeling thereof, and to repeal section one hundred ninety-two point thirty-two (192.32), Code 1950, relating to the use of imitations of butter in certain state institutions, beg leave to report and make the following recommendations:

That Senate File 2 be made to read as follows:

Section 1. Section one hundred ninety point one (190.1), Code 1950, is amended by striking the entire subsection two (2), thereof, entitled "Imitation butter" and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"2. Oleo, oleomargarine or margarine includes all substances, mixtures and compounds known as oleo, oleomargarine or margarine, or all substances, mixtures and compounds which have a consistence similar to that of butter and which contain any edible oils or fats other than milk fat if made in imitation or semblance of butter."

Sec. 2. Section one hundred ninety point six (190.6), Code 1950, is hereby amended by striking from line one (1) thereof, the words "imitation butter or".

Said section is further amended by striking from line three (3) thereof, the word "product" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "cheese".

Said section is hereby further amended by striking from line six (6), the words "butter or".

Sec. 3. Section one hundred ninety-one point two (191.2), Code 1950, is amended by striking therefrom the entire subsection three (3) thereof, entitled "Imitation butter", and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"3. No person shall sell or offer for sale, colored oleo, oleomargarine or margarine unless—such oleo, oleomargarine or margarine is packaged;

the net weight of the contents of any package sold in a retail establishment is one pound or less;

there appears on the label of the package the word 'oleo', 'oleomargarine' or 'margarine' in type or lettering at least as large as any other type or lettering on such label, and a full and accurate statement of all the ingredients contained in such oleo, oleomargarine or margarine; and each part of the contents of the package is contained in a wrapper which bears the word 'oleo', 'oleomargarine' or 'margarine' in type or lettering not smaller than 20-point type.

There shall be four readily legible imprints made by the manufacturer of the word 'oleo' on the product equally distributed on one of the greater sides of each one-quarter pound, one-half pound, or pound.

For the purpose of this chapter the term 'oleo', 'oleomargarine' or 'margarine' includes all substances, mixtures and compounds known as oleo, oleomargarine or margarine, and all substances, mixtures and compounds which have a consistence similar to that of butter and which contain any edible oils or fats other than milk fat if made in imitation or semblance of butter. For the purposes of this chapter colored oleo, oleomargarine or margarine is oleo, oleomargarine or margarine to which any color has been added.

Whenever coloring of any kind has been added it shall be clearly stated on both inside wrapper and the outside package. The ingredients of oleo, oleomargarine or margarine shall be listed on both the inside wrapper and outside package in the order of the amounts of ingredients in the package.

Such oleo, oleomargarine or margarine shall contain vitamin A in such quantity that the finished oleo, oleomargarine or margarine contains not less than fifteen thousand (15,000) United States Pharmacopoeia units of vitamin A per pound, as determined by the method prescribed in the Pharmacopoeia of the United States for the total biological vitamin A activity.

Each one pound package of oleo, oleomargarine or margarine shall be approximately four and three-quarter inches by four and three-quarter inches in its greater dimensions commonly known as the "Eastern pack".

Oleo, oleomargarine, or margarine may be manufactured within the State of Iowa under the provisions of this section except that it may be manufactured or stored in any shape or form for shipment in interstate commerce only."

Sec. 4. Section one hundred ninety-one point three (191.3), Code 1950, is amended by striking from line four (4) thereof the words "butter or".

Said section is hereby further amended by striking from line six (6) thereof the word "each"".

Said section is hereby further amended by striking from lines twelve (12) to fourteen (14) thereof, inclusive, the following sentence: "The blank after the word 'imitation' in the above form shall be filled with the name of the product imitated" and by inserting in lieu thereof the following: "No person shall possess in a form ready for serving colored oleo, oleomargarine or margarine at a public eating place unless a notice that oleo, oleomargarine or margarine is served is displayed prominently and conspicuously in such place and in such manner as to render it likely to be read and understood by the ordinary individual being served in such eating place or is printed or is otherwise set forth on the menu in type or lettering not smaller than that normally used to designate the serving of other food items. No person shall serve colored oleo, oleomargarine or margarine at a public eating place, whether or not any charge is made therefor, unless each separate serving bears or is accompanied by labeling identifying it as oleo, oleomargarine or margarine, or each separate serving thereof is triangular in shape."

Sec. 5. Section one hundred ninety-two point thirty-two (192.32), Code 1950, as amended, is hereby repealed.

Sec. 6. The word "person" as used in chapters 190, 191, and 192 of the Code shall mean every natural person, firm, copartnership, association or corporation.

Sec. 7. No person, by himself, or agent, shall, by any means whatever, directly or indirectly, advertise or represent by statement, printing, writing, circular, poster, design, device, grade designation, advertisement, symbol, sound, or any combination thereof, that oleo, oleomargarine or margarine, or any brand of oleo, oleomargarine or margarine, is a dairy product for the purpose of inducing or which is likely to induce, directly or indirectly, the purchase for consumption of oleo, oleomargarine or margarine, or any brand thereof. Whoever shall violate this provision shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

Sec. 8. The department of agriculture may prescribe and establish standards for oleo, oleomargarine or margarine manufactured or sold in this state and may adopt the standards set up by now existing regulations of the Federal Security Administration or Agency as found in 1949, Code of Federal Regulations, Title 21, Part 45, Section 45.0, or any amendments thereto. Any standards so established shall not be contrary to or inconsistent with the provisions of section one hundred ninety point one (190.1), subsection two (2), Code 1950, as amended, entitled 'Oleo, oleomargarine or margarine'.

Sec. 9. The provisions of this Act are hereby made a part of Title 10, Code 1950. It shall be the duty of the secretary of agriculture and his agents to enforce this chapter and of the county attorneys and of the attorney general of the state to co-operate with him in the enforcement of this chapter.

Sec. 10. Penalty. Any person violating any provision of section 191.3 of the Code shall upon conviction or plea of guilty be punished, for the first offense by a fine of one hundred (100) dollars; for the second offense by a fine of three hundred (300) dollars; for the third offense by a fine of five hundred (500) dollars and the suspension for one year of all licenses issued by the State of Iowa for the public eating place in which said violation occurred.

Sec. 11. If any of the provisions of this Act shall be held invalid or unconstitutional, such invalidity or unconstitutionality shall not affect other provisions of this Act, and to these ends the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable.

That the title to Senate File 2 be made to read as follows:

An Act to amend certain sections of the Code 1950 relating to imitation butter, oleo, oleomargarine and margarine and the manufacturing, processing, selling and labeling thereof, and to repeal section one hundred ninety-two point thirty-two (192.32), Code 1950, as amended, relating to the use of imitations of butter in certain state institutions and to provide for penalties for violations.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK C. BYERS.	L. DEE MALLONEE.
G. E. WHITEHEAD.	FRED SCHWENGEL.
X. T. PRENTIS.	CLARK H. MCNEAL.
DON RISK.	L. W. ABEL.

some interim legislative activity, such as the creation of a legislative council or the appointment of a legislative research director, and

Whereas, the present Chief Clerk should, through his years of experience, be qualified to serve in the capacity of a legislative research director, and

Whereas, it should be deemed highly advisable that the House of Representatives might be assured of the availability of an experienced Chief Clerk from session to session, and

Whereas, keeping the office of the Chief Clerk open throughout the interim between sessions would provide clerical help for various interim commissions and committees that may be authorized by the General Assembly,

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the Speaker of the House is hereby authorized and directed to approve such legitimate expense and authorize the payment of compensation for such legislative research and other interim duties that might be proper under section two point twenty (2.20), Code 1950. The compensation for such services shall be the sum of three hundred fifty dollars ($350) per month to begin thirty (30) days after the adjournment of the present General Assembly and continue up to thirty (30) days prior to the convening of the succeeding General Assembly. An additional amount of two hundred dollars ($200) per month shall be allowed for clerical and stenographic expense. The cost of printing and postage shall also be allowed.

EXPLANATION OF VOTES

It was with reluctance that we voted "aye" on House File 497 because it is our deep conviction that an increasing proportion of our school costs must be financed through state aid. In our opinion the incidence of taxation for the cost of our school system must be shifted more and more from property taxes to the general revenue of the State of Iowa. In modern technological society the development of our educational system must keep pace with our other progress or we cannot hope to maintain the cherished ideals of our American way of life. Therefore, we should have preferred to have voted for a substantial increase in general state aid for schools.

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the House and the title agreed to.

Burrows of Benton moved that the vote by which House File 489 passed the House be reconsidered and that the motion to reconsider be laid on the table.

Motion prevailed.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

It is quite true that there have been some raw abuses of the unemployment compensation law by unprincipled employees overworking a liberal interpretation. This needs correction.

This bill, however, goes far beyond in effect that which it seeks to correct. It is analagous to gunning for a mouse with a cannon.

There are many impelling reasons which cause an employee to leave certain work. In that sense, the withdrawal is involuntary, and so long as that person remains available for work in the labor pool and is unemployed, he should be entitled to compensation.

The wise policy of our law is to maintain purchasing power in periods of economic adversity. It is also our policy to prevent the economic disaster and social consequences that strike a family when the earning member is temporarily unemployed.

This bill contravenes both of these policies, and although we are in sympathy with its avowed objective of eliminating abuses, it goes too far, and we cannot support it.

PAUL COOKSEY of Clay.
ROBERT CARLSON of Woodbury.

House File 502, a bill for an act to make an appropriation from the general fund of the State of Iowa to the department of public instruction for specified school aid, was taken up for consideration.

Miller of Black Hawk offered the following amendment, filed by him, and moved its adoption:

Amend House File 502 by adding the following:

Mining camp school emergency	$27,000.00
Mining camp schools state aid	45,000.00

Amendment adopted.

Meyer of Sac offered the following amendment, filed by him, Schwengel of Scott, et al., and moved its adoption:

Amend House File 502 by adding the following new section:

"Sec. 2. There is hereby appropriated from the general fund of the State of Iowa to the Board for Vocational Education for each year of the biennium beginning July 1, 1953, and ending June 30, 1955, the sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), or so much thereof as may be necessary to supplement the permanent fund provided in chapter two hundred fifty-eight (258), Code 1950, amendments of the Fifty-fourth General Assembly."

Amendment adopted.

Miller of Black Hawk offered the following amendment, filed by him and moved its adoption:

Amend House File 502 as follows:

1. Section one (1), line four (4) and five (5), by changing the words and figures "five hundred seventy-five thousand five hundred dollars ($575,500.00)" to "six hundred forty-seven thousand dollars ($647,000.00)".

2. Further amend section one (1) by changing the total in the last line of said section to "$647,000.00".

Amendment adopted.

Meyer of Sac offered the following amendment, filed by him, and moved its adoption:

Amend the title to House File 502 by striking the period (.) at the end of the title and adding the following: "and to the Board for Vocational Education as provided in chapter two hundred fifty-eight (258), Code 1950."

Amendment adopted.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

As a member of the conference committee reporting on Senate File 2, I wish to make a statement as to my position on this matter. When it came to signing the final report I found I was the only one who stood in the way of a complete agreement. In the interest of harmony, I very reluctantly signed with the others.

I voted against this bill because it will seriously reduce the income of the farmers in my part of Iowa. I am against the bill because we have a creamery plant in nearly every community in my county. Everyone of these plants gives employment to from six to ten families and to many more indirectly. I have in my possession a list of thirty buttermakers and assistants with whom I visited on April 4, 1953; all are from my county. Should dairy products disappear from our tables these men, who have spent years in the art of buttermaking, will be without jobs.

Is there any question in your minds who stands to lose? I think you should view with concern any legislation that will react unfavorably against an industry so important to the State of Iowa.

L. W. ABEL of Clayton.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

I was unavoidably away from my seat at the time the vote was taken on Senate File 2. I was in favor of this measure and would have voted "aye", had I had the opportunity to do so.

HILLMAN H. SERSLAND.

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the House and the title agreed to.

House File 28, a bill for an act to amend chapter three hundred twenty-one A (321A), Code 1950, relating to motor vehicle financial responsibility to provide that whenever any person shall loan money on a motor vehicle or obtain a lien for any unpaid purchase price of a motor vehicle, and the transaction does not include liability insurance coverage which will protect the borrower or vendee under the Iowa financial responsibility act, a statement of that fact shall be contained in the instrument evidencing the transaction, and providing a penalty for violation of same, with report of committee recommending passage, was taken up for consideration.

Palmer of Lee asked and obtained unanimous consent to withdraw the amendment filed by Pendleton of Buena Vista, February 17.

Palmer of Lee offered the following amendments, filed by Pendleton of Buena Vista, and moved their adoption:

1. Amend House File 28, section one (1), by adding after the word "transaction" in line five (5) thereof the folowing: "involving the making of such loan or the creation or retention of such lien".

2. Further amend House File 28 by striking the words "instrument evidencing such transaction" in line eight (8) thereof and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "person making such loan or retaining such lien shall deliver to the borrower or vendee, as a part of said transaction, an instrument in writing setting forth the items included in the amount of such loan or lien and the items for which a charge has been made in connection with such transaction, and said instrument".

3. Further amend House File 28 by striking the words "of the fact" in line nine (9) thereof and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "that said transaction does not include the sale of liability insurance coverage whch will protect the borrower or vendee under the Iowa financial responsibility act".

Amendments adopted.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE

Lisle of Page offered the following report:

MR. SPEAKER: The committee appointed pursuant to the provisions of House Resolution 4 recorded at page 538, Journal of the House, has completed its investigation of the Iowa Employment Security Commission and submits the following report and recommendations:

The committee investigated and examined the complaints against the commission, and many of the decisions and supporting opinions of the commission. The members of the commission, namely, Messrs. J. C. Blodgett, Carl B. Stiger and Claude M. Stanley, appeared before the committee and gave their individual views on the questions and matters under investigation. Several employers and a representative of a labor organization also appeared and made statements.

The committee, after full discussion and consideration of the information available to it, finds:

1. That the principal complaints are as to certain interpretations and the administration by the commission of the provisions of law pertaining to disqualification for benefits for unemployment compensation.

2. That a majority of the present commission, consisting of two members, adopted an erroneous policy and construction of the law on February 19, 1952, and has made many decisions awarding benefits in accordance therewith. Said policy is stated in the commission's Operating Bulletin, directed to all its local office managers, which bulletin is set out in House Resolution 4 at page 538 of the House Journal.

3. That the provision pertaining to disqualification for benefits in the original enactment of the Unemployment Compensation Law by the Forty-sixth General Assembly in its extra session in December, 1936, stated only that an individual should be disqualified for benefits if he "left his work voluntarily without good cause". That the Forty-eighth General Assembly in April, 1939, restricted said provision by providing that an individual shall be disqualified for benefits if he has "left his work voluntarily without good cause attributable to his employer".

4. That a majority of the commission as previously constituted after said amendment by the Forty-eighth General Assembly construed and administered the amended provision in accordance with its clear meaning, and disqualified individuals who left their work of their own volition even though they may have had impelling personal reasons for leaving, if no good cause attributable to the employer was established.

5. That the Supreme Court and many district courts of this state have rendered decisions so construing said amended provision.

6. That a majority consisting of two members of the present commission, notwithstanding the evident legislative intent in amending the original provision of law, and the various court decisions construing and interpreting said changed provision, has deliberately and flagrantly adopted and followed a policy contrary to and inconsistent with said manifest legislative intent, and said court decisions, and has ordered benefits paid to individuals who were not entitled thereto under the law.

7. That the present commission has been allowing benefits to individuals who have quit their employment for no good reason or cause attributable to their employers, but because of what the commission describes as impelling personal reasons, such as health, lack of transportation, failure to secure housing, an individual moving away to a new and distant location to be with his or her spouse, and other similar personal reasons. That such action and administration of the law is an appalling violation and disregard of the legislative intent in the enactment of said law and of the clear and ordinary meaning of the language of the law.

8. That the present commission has ignored and violated the provisions of section 96.5-1(a), Code 1950, by awarding benefits to individuals who have left their employment for the stated purpose of accepting better employment but who did not remain in said new employment, or said new employment did not last for twelve weeks, notwithstanding the provision in the law that such an individual must remain "continuously in said new employment for not less than twelve weeks" to be entitled to benefits.

9. That the present majority of the commission, in the determination of disqualifications for benefits for quitting voluntarily without good cause attributable to the employer under paragraph 1 of said section 96.5, has erroneously confused and intermingled therewith the guide rule as to availability set out in paragraph 3 of said section, which is a part of a separate and distinct cause for disqualification.

10. That since the amendment of section 96.5 paragraph 1 by the Forty-eighth General Assembly, the adverb "voluntarily" therein is superfluous, adds nothing to the meaning of said provision, and should be stricken, for the reason that the current majority of the commission is using said word as an excuse for its erroneous construction of the law. The committee is fully aware, however, of the fact that there is scarcely sufficient time remaining in this session to enact such an amendment.

11. That the provisions of section 96.5, paragraph two, relating to disqualification for misconduct should be amended by making the disqualification therefor equal to that for a voluntary quit, because under the present provision an employee desiring to quit of his own volition may be encouraged to commit an act of misconduct to induce a discharge, because of the lesser penalty.

Recommendations

This committee recommends:

1. That this General Assembly amend section 96.5 of the Code 1950, by striking from paragraph one thereof the adverb "voluntarily" and also by striking from paragraph two all after the comma in line four.

2. That the House adopt and approve this report and findings as its determination of the legislative intent in the enactment of section 96.5, Code 1950, and as the correct construction thereof.

3. That the Chief Clerk of the House be directed to deliver a copy of this report to each member of the Iowa Employment Security Commission, as a direction and guide to said members in the administration of the law henceforth.

4. That this committee be perpetuated and directed to continue its study and observation of the actions, policy and decisions of the Iowa Employment Security Commission until the convening of the Fifty-sixth General Assembly, and to report to the next General Assembly its further findings and recommendations. The committee shall serve without compensation.

Respectfully submitted,
VERN LISLE, Chairman.
A. L. MENSING.
WILLIAM N. JUDD.
R. O. BURROWS, SR.
MAX M. SOETH.

ADOPTION OF HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 24

Goode of Davis called up for consideration House Concurrent Resolution 24, found on page 1072, Journal of April 7, and moved its adoption.

Resolution adopted.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

The following messages were received from the Senate:

MR. SPEAKER: I am directed to inform your honorable body that the Senate has adopted the following concurrent resolution in which the concurrence of the Senate was asked:

House Concurrent Resolution 25, providing that the Governor be requested to return House File 43, a bill for an act relating to recording the proof of publication of notice of dissolution of a corporation.

Also: That the Senate has adopted the following concurrent resolution in which the concurrence of the House is asked:

Senate Concurrent Resolution 14, providing that the legislature of the State of Iowa respectfully memorialize the Congress of the United States to take official action whereby there shall be designated a special day to be known as Susan B. Anthony Day.

Also: That the Senate has adopted the conference committee report and adopted the amendments contained in the conference committee report and passed Senate File 18, a bill for an act relating to an open season on wild animals and fish, and providing for licensing thereof.

CARROLL A. LANE, Secretary.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 14

Whereas, the name of Susan B. Anthony is a name honored throughout the United States for unselfish devotion to the cause of equal rights and women's suffrage; and

Whereas, the said Susan B. Anthony did exert a profound and effective influence in the national life of our country in her sponsorship and support of the nineteenth amendment to the United States Constitution; and

Whereas, it is fitting and proper that her name and reputation be better known among the citizens of our country;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring: That the legislature of the State of Iowa respectfully memorialize the Congress of the United States to take official action whereby there shall be designated a special day to be known as Susan B. Anthony Day, which day shall be the 15th day of February, the anniversary of her birth, and that the said Congress shall by appropriate resolution publicly commemorate the life and history of Susan B. Anthony and urge that services and exercises be held throughout the United States expressive of the public sentiment befitting the anniversary of the birth of said Susan B. Anthony.

Be It Further Resolved: That the Secretary of the Senate be hereby directed to transmit copies of this resolution to the President and Vice President of the United States, to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and to each Senator and Representative from Iowa in the Congress of the United States.

Laid over under Rule 34.

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

House File 508, a bill for an act to appropriate from the general fund of the State of Iowa to the state soil conservation committee the sum of seven hundred thousand dollars ($700,000) to carry on soil conservation work in soil conservation districts as provided in chapter four hundred sixty-seven A (467A), Code 1950, was taken up for consideration.

Soeth of Emmet offered the following amendment:

Amend House File 508 as follows:

1. Amend section 1 by striking from lines 3 and 4 the words and figures "three hundred fifty thousand dollars ($350,000.00)" and inserting in lieu thereof the words and figures "three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000.00)".

2. Further amend section 1 by striking from lines 17 and 18 the words and figures "three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000.00)" and inserting in lieu thereof the words and figures "two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000.00)".

Van Zwol of O'Brien offered the following amendment as a substitute amendment and moved its adoption:

MOTION TO RECONSIDER FILED

MR. SPEAKER: I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate File 190 passed the House April 9, 1953.

SCHWENGEL of Scott.

REPORT OF JOINT COMMITTEE ON ENROLLED BILLS

Walker of Hamilton, from the joint committee on enrolled bills, submitted the following report, and moved its adoption:

MR. SPEAKER: Your joint committee on enrolled bills respectfully reports that it has examined and finds correctly enrolled: Senate Files 211, 321 and 411.

JOHN A. WALKER, Chairman House Committee.
W. C. STUART, Chairman Senate Committee.

Report adopted.

BILLS SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker of the House announced that, as Speaker of the House, he had signed in the presence of the House the following bills: Senate Files 211, 321 and 411.

BILLS SIGNED BY THE GOVERNOR

A communication was received from the Governor announcing that he had approved the following bills: April 10, 1953, House Files 46, 236, 273, 337, 341, 373, 457 and 458.

AMENDMENTS FILED

1 Amend House File 103 by inserting at the end of line

Digitized by Google

"In no case shall the names, obtained from the reports above provided, of the recipients receiving assistance under this chapter be published or disseminated as news in printed form or by radio."

STRAWMAN of Jones.

Amend House File 498 as follows:

1. Section one (1), line four (4), by striking all after the word "following" and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"If the proposition is adopted by those voting thereon, the council shall cause to be presented to either the county board of supervisors, or file in the district court a suit in equity against the owners, a petition setting forth that, under a resolution of the council, the territory therein described was authorized by the voters of said city to be annexed to the city or town. Whichever body the petition is filed with shall retain jurisdiction throughout the proceedings and no new petition may be filed until sixty (60) days after the body the petition was originally filed with has ruled thereon."

2. Section two (2), paragraph b, by striking all therefrom.

3. Section three (3), line four (4), by striking all after the word "following:" and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"If the court or board of supervisors finds that there is an affirmative showing that the municipal corporation is capable of extending into such territory substantial municipal services and benefits not theretofore enjoyed by such territory, so that the proposed annexation will not result merely in increasing the revenues from taxation of such municipal corporation; and if the court finds further that all of the proceedings and conditions precedent to annexation as required hereinbefore by subsections one (1) through five (5) inclusive have been duly instituted and carried out as provided therein, the court shall decree, or the board of supervisors shall resolve, the annexation. No costs shall be taxed against any defendant who fails to make a defense."

4. By adding the following new section thereto:

"If any clause, sentence, paragraph or part of this act shall for any reason be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder of the act, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment has been rendered."

PENDLETON of Buena Vista.

Amend the amendment to House File 506 filed by Putney on April 10, 1953, by inserting at the end of line twenty-eight (28), section one (1), the following:

"In no case shall the names, obtained from the reports above provided, of the recipients receiving assistance under

to the social welfare department for the purpose of aid to blind fund, aid to dependent children fund, child welfare fund, emergency relief fund and the old age assistance fund.

Strawman of Jones asked and obtained unanimous consent to withdraw all the amendments filed by him April 10.

Putney of Tama moved the adoption of the amendments as amended:

Amend House File 506 by adding the following new section:

"Sec. 4. Section two hundred forty-nine point forty-four (249.44), Code 1950, is hereby repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

"All applications, investigation reports and case records shall be privileged communications and held confidential, subject to use and inspection only by persons authorized by law in connection with their official duties relating to financial audits and the administration of the provisions of this chapter.

"Provided, however, that the county board of social welfare shall prepare and file in its office on or before the thirtieth (30th) day of each January, April, July and October a report showing the names and addresses of all recipients receiving assistance under this chapter, together with the amount paid to each during the preceding quarter. Each report so filed shall be securely fixed in a record book to be used only for such reports made under this chapter and chapters two hundred thirty-nine (239) and two hundred forty-one (241). The record book shall be and the same is hereby declared to be a public record, open to public inspection at all times during the regular office hours of the respective county boards of social welfare. Each person who desires to examine said records, other than in pursuance of official duties as hereinbefore provided, shall sign a written request to examine the same, which shall contain an agreement on the part of the signer that he will not utilize any information gained therefrom for commercial or political purposes.

"It shall be unlawful for any person, body, association, firm, corporation or any other agency to solicit, disclose, receive, make use of or to authorize, knowingly permit, participate in or acquiesce in the use of any lists, names or other information obtained from the reports above provided for, for commercial or political purposes, and a violation of this provision shall constitute a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not to exceed two thousand dollars ($2,000) or by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed one (1) year or by both such fine and imprisonment."

Hanson of Lyon asked and obtained unanimous consent that he be excused from voting under Rule 15.

Roll call was demanded by Frommelt of Dubuque and Putney of Tama.

W. C. STUART, Chairman Senate Committee.

Report adopted.

BILLS SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker of the House announced that, as Speaker of the House, he had signed in the presence of the House the following bills: House Files 43, 123, 150 and 274.

BILLS SENT TO THE GOVERNOR

Walker of Hamilton, from the committee on enrolled bills, submitted the following report:

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee on enrolled bills respectfully reports that it has, on this 13th day of April, 1953, sent to the Governor for his approval: House Files 43, 123, 150 and 274.

JOHN A. WALKER, Chairman.

Report adopted.

AMENDMENTS FILED

Amend House File 293 by adding the following section:

"Sec. 2. A county public hospital shall not be required to provide facilities for treatment of tuberculous persons. Where such facilities for treatment of tuberculosis are not available at the county public hospital, care and treatment shall be provided under the provisions of section 254.1, Code 1950."

PENDLETON of Buena Vista.

Amend House File 498 by striking all after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. Amend chapter one hundred forty-four (144), section seven (7), subsection four (4), Acts of the Fifty-fourth General Assembly, by striking all therefrom and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"If the proposition is adopted by a majority of those voting thereon, the council shall cause to be filed in the district court, a suit in equity against the owners of the property proposed to be annexed, the petition therein setting forth that, under a resolution of the council, the territory therein described was authorized by the voters of said city to be annexed to the city or town.

"Sec. 2. Amend chapter one hundred forty-four (144), section seven (7), subsection five (5), Acts of the Fifty-fourth General Assembly, by striking all therefrom and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"The petition shall contain:

a. A description of the entire property proposed to be annexed and of the portion thereof owned by each defendant as shown by the plat books in the office of the county auditor.

b. A statement of facts showing that the municipal corporation is capable of extending into such territory substantial municipal services and benefits not theretofore enjoyed by such territory.

c. A plat of such territory showing its relation to the corporate limits.

d. That said annexation is not sought merely for the purpose of increasing the revenues from taxation of such municipal corporation.

"Sec. 3. Amend chapter one hundred forty-four (144), section seven (7), subsection six (6), Acts of the Fifty-fourth General Assembly, by striking all therefrom and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"If the court finds that there is an affirmative showing that the municipal corporation is capable of extending into such territory substantial municipal services and benefits not theretofore enjoyed by such territory, so that the proposed annexation will not result merely in increasing the revenue from taxation of such municipal corporation; and if the court finds further that all of the proceedings and conditions precedent to annexation as required hereinbefore by subsections one (1) through five (5), inclusive, have been duly instituted and carried out as provided therein, the court shall decree the annexation. No costs shall be taxed against any defendant who fails to make a defense."

PENDLETON of Buena Vista.
NELSON of Jasper.
PALMER of Lee.

The following amendment is filed as a substitute for the committee amendment dated March 10, 1953:

1. Amend Senate File 71, section three (3), lines seven (7) through thirteen (13), by striking therefrom the following: "The guarantee fund shall be permanently set aside in trust, to be invested in the same manner as is provided by chapter six hundred eighty-two (682) or chapter five hundred sixty-six (566), Code 1950, for the investment of trust funds, and the income from such fund shall be used for the care and maintenance of the cemetery for which it was established.", and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "The perpetual care and maintenance guarantee fund shall be permanently set aside in trust to be administered under the jurisdiction of the district sage, two bills House Files 103 and 106 as amendments when same failed to pass out of committee on their own merits.

I also oppose the further publication of the relief rolls causing additional embarrassment to the recipients.

ANDREW FROMMELT.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

Due to illness, I was absent from the House while the following bills were passed: House Files 162, 469, 183, 72, 308, 321, 478, 190, 350, 247, 28, 144, 385, 317, 182, 102, 298, 263 and 164; Senate Files 326, 211, 223, 313, 366, 231, 190, 7, 252, 151, 152, 242, 266, 267 and 268. Had I been present my vote would have been recorded as "aye" on all of these bills.

JACOB VAN ZWOL.

Parker of Polk offered the following House concurrent resolution, proposed by him and Cooksey of Clay, Nelson of Jasper and Ryan of Polk:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 26

Whereas, the Constitution of the State of Iowa says: "All men are by nature free and equal, and have certain inalienable rights—among which are those of enjoying and defending life and liberty, acquiring, possessing and protecting property, and pursuing and obtaining safety and happiness", and

Whereas, surveys taken in the State of Iowa indicate that racial or religious discrimination in employment does exist;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring, That it shall be the policy of the State of Iowa that no person within its boundaries shall be deprived of the right to work at his chosen occupation for any employer, public or private, because of race, creed, color, national origin or ancestry.

Be It Further Resolved, That the Governor is requested to appoint a commission, which shall serve without compensation, to study the extent of such discrimination in Iowa and recommend remedies therefor, for the consideration of the next General Assembly.

Laid over under Rule 34.

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

The House resumed consideration of House File 498, a bill for an act to amend chapter one hundred forty-four (144), section seven (7), Acts of the Fifty-fourth General Assembly, providing for the annexation of unincorporated territory.

Pendleton of Buena Vista offered the following amendments, filed by him, Nelson of Jasper and Palmer of Lee as a substitute for all pending amendments and moved their adoption:

Amend House File 498 by striking all after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. Amend chapter one hundred forty-four (144), section seven (7), subsection four (4), Acts of the Fifty-fourth General Assembly, by striking all therefrom and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"If the proposition is adopted by a majority of those voting thereon, the council shall cause to be filed in the district court, a suit in equity against the owners of the property proposed to be annexed, the petition therein setting forth that, under a resolution of the council, the territory therein described was authorized by the voters of said city to be annexed to the city or town.

"Sec. 2. Amend chapter one hundred forty-four (144), section seven (7), subsection five (5), Acts of the Fifty-fourth General Assembly, by striking all therefrom and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"The petition shall contain:

a. A description of the entire property proposed to be annexed and of the portion thereof owned by each defendant as shown by the plat books in the office of the county auditor.

b. A statement of facts showing that the municipal corporation is capable of extending into such territory substantial municipal services and benefits not theretofore enjoyed by such territory.

c. A plat of such territory showing its relation to the corporate limits.

d. That said annextion is not sought merely for the purpose of increasing the revenues from taxation of such municipal corporation.

"Sec. 3. Amend chapter one hundred forty-four (144), section seven (7), subsection six (6), Acts of the Fifty-fourth General Assembly, by striking all therefrom and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"If the court finds that there is an affirmative showing that the municipal corporation is capable of extending into such territory substantial municipal services and benefits not theretofore enjoyed by such territory, so that the proposed annexation will not result merely in increasing the revenue from taxation of such municipal corporation; and if the court finds further that all of the proceedings and conditions precedent to annexation as required hereinbefore by subsections one (1) through five (5), inclusive, have been duly instituted and carried out as provided therein, the court shall decree the annexation. No costs shall be taxed against any defendant who fails to make a defense."

Amendment adopted.

Pendleton of Buena Vista moved that the bill be read a last time now and placed upon its passage which motion prevailed and the bill was read a last time.

shall be as shown by the income tax return filed by such merchant with the state tax commission of Iowa for such year. The assessor shall determine the times turnover of such stock of merchandise by dividing the cost of merchandise purchased, for the purpose of resale by the beginning inventory. The assessor shall determine the average monthly value of such stock of merchandise by adding the beginning inventory and the cost of merchandise purchased for the purpose of resale, and dividing the total thereof by twelve, or, if said merchant was in business for a period of less than twelve months, then by a number equal to the number of months the said merchant was in business. The average monthly value of such stock of merchandise, so determined, shall be the actual value thereof in all circumstances where the stock turnover, as determined by the assessor, shall be six times or less. In all circumstances where the stock turnover, as determined by the assessor, shall exceed six, the average monthly value of such stock of merchandise shall be reduced in the same proportion as the times turnover bears to one hundred, and the average value of such stocks of merchandise, so determined, shall be the actual value thereof.

"The assessment shall be made at the same ratio of the actual value of stocks of merchandise, so determined, as is provided by section four hundred forty-one point thirteen (441.13)."

Kosek of Linn moved that action on the motion be deferred until Friday, April 17.

Motion prevailed.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

April 15, 1953.

Honorable William S. Lynes,
Speaker of the House.
Dear Mr. Speaker:

As provided in Article III, section 16, of the Constitution of the State of Iowa, I herewith return House File 123 without my signature.

I have considered this bill very seriously and have been impressed with the earnestness and sincerity of the authors of the bill in their desire to protect merchants and small business men in the collection of accounts.

However, we must look further. The purpose of the debtor's law, as it applies to the married man, is to protect the home and the family against the financial vicissitudes of life. The law was created for that purpose, recognizing the responsibility of the state in protecting the home.

The provisions of House File 123 and the provisions of the section of the Code which it seeks to amend are of general application and cover financial transactions of all kinds. One can readily see, by the application of this act, that a family's support could be impaired for a long period of time, and the home life even disrupted, especially if a creditor sought mercilessly to pursue the collection of a debt.

In view of these hazards to the wage earner and the home and family which he supports, I have withheld my signature from House File 123.

Very truly yours,
WM. S. BEARDSLEY, Governor.

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

As provided in Article III, section 16, of the Constitution of the State of Iowa, Brown of Keokuk called up for reconsideration House File 123, a bill for an act to amend section six hundred twenty-seven point ten (627.10), Code 1950, relating to exemptions of earnings of head of a family and providing for a ten per cent (10%) garnishment for debts.

Paul of Poweshiek moved the previous question.

Motion prevailed.

Brown of Keokuk moved that the bill be read a last time now and placed upon its passage which motion prevailed and the bill was read a last time.

Rule 18 invoked.

shall be permanently set aside in trust, to be invested in the same manner as is now provided by chapter six hundred eighty-two (682) or chapter five hundred sixty-six (566), Code 1950, for the investment of trust funds, and the income from such fund shall be used for the care and maintenance of the cemetery for which it was established.", and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "The perpetual care and maintenance guarantee fund shall be permanently set aside in trust to be administerd under the jurisdiction of the district court of the county wherein the cemetery is located. The district court so having jurisdiction shall have full jurisdiction over the approval of trustees, reports and accounting of trustees, amount of surety bond required, and investment of funds. Only the income from such fund shall be used for the care and maintenance of the cemetery for which it was established."

2. Amend Senate File 71, section three (3), line thirty-four (34), by striking therefrom the words and figures "one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000.00)" and inserting in lieu thereof the words and figures "fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00)".

3. Amend Senate File 71, section three (3), line thirty-seven (37), by striking therefrom the words and figures "five thousand dollars ($5,000.00)" and inserting in lieu thereof the words and figures "three thousand dollars ($3,000.00)".

4. Amend Senate File 71, section six (6), lines one (1) and two (2), by striking therefrom the words "enactment of this bill" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "effective date of this chapter".

5. Amend Senate File 71 by adding the following new section:

"Nothing in this act contained shall affect the rights of any parties to any pending litigation."

6. Amend Senate File 71 by adding the following new section:

"No organization subject to the provisions of this chapter nor any person representing it in a sales capacity shall advertise or represent, in connection with the sale or attempted sale of any interment space, that the same is or will be a desirable speculative investment for resale purposes."

Amendments adopted.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

No one in this legislature is any more opposed to racial discrimination than I. This vote was not a vote of yes or no on racial discrimination but it was a vote on the question of contract. If we have the right to determine that a private corporation must not discriminate in regard to a matter like this we would equally have the right to insist that there be no discrimination in regard to religion. For this reason I was compelled to vote "aye" on the Nelson amendment to Senate File 71.

Senate File 47, a bill for an act to amend sections one hundred forty-seven point fourteen (147.14), one hundred forty-seven point nineteen (147.19), one hundred forty-seven point thirty-eight (147.38), one hundred forty-seven point eighty (147.80), one hundred forty-seven point one hundred two (147.102), one hundred forty-eight point three (148.3), and chapter one hundred forty-eight (148), Code 1950, relating to the medical examiners board, providing for an additional two members and increasing the length of the term of office, increasing the renewal fee for the practice of medicine and surgery, enlarging the powers of the board of medical examiners, qualifications of applicants, and providing for temporary and special licenses for the practice of medicine and surgery, with report of committee recommending amendment and passage, was taken up for consideration.

Kuester of Cass offered the following amendments, filed by him and Hawkins of Decatur as a substitute for all pending amendments, and moved their adoption:

Amend Senate File 47 as follows:

1. Amend Senate File 47, section five (5), by changing the comma in line four (4) following the word "surgery" to a period and striking the remainder of said section.

2. Further amend said Senate File 47 by inserting a new section numbered and providing as follows:

"Sec. 6. Section one hundred forty-seven point one hundred three (147.103), Code 1950, is hereby amended by inserting in line three (3) thereof after the word "for" the words "medicine and surgery".

Further amend said section one hundred forty-seven point one hundred three (147.103), Code 1950, by striking from line nine (9) the words "in section 147.25" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "said examining boards in the biennial departmental appropriations".

Further amend said section one hundred forty-seven point one hundred three (147.103), Code 1950, by adding a new sentence at the end thereof as follows: "The commissioner of public health, upon the request of and with the approval of the medical examining board, shall appoint an inspector and incur such other expenses as may be necessary to properly administer and aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the law relating to those licensed to practice medicine and surgery of said board. The amount of compensation for such inspector shall be fixed by the executive council and paid from the same funds as is provided for the clerical assistants. In order to make possible the carrying out of the provisions of this act there is hereby appropriated from the general funds of the state to the state department of health for the use of the medical examining board in addition to the sum provided for in subsection seventeen (17) of section twenty-three (23) of the departmental appropriations bill an additional sum of twelve thousand dollars ($12,000) for each year of the biennium beginning July 1, 1953,

SENATE AMENDMENT TO HOUSE AMENDMENT TO SENATE FILE 397

Amend the House amendment to Senate File 397 by adding to section two (2) the following:

"In cities and towns whenever parking lots shall have been authorized or established as provided in section three hundred ninety point one (390.1) in lieu of the tax provided for in section three hundred ninety point two (390.2), there may be levied a tax not exceeding one-half mill, the proceeds of which shall be credited to and known as the 'parking lot fund'. Such fund shall be used only to acquire or improve real estate, including the erection or improvement of buildings thereon or for any or all said purposes for the parking of vehicles, and including the payment of bonds and interest thereon issued in anticipation of the collection of such tax. Such fund shall be used to meet maturities of such bonds and interest thereon from year to year, but only to the extent that after the application of all net returns available from the income of said parking lots or parking meters, or both, as specified by law, the same shall be required to meet such maturing bonds or interest thereon. Cities and towns may anticipate the collection of taxes authorized in this section and for that purpose may issue certificates or bonds with interest coupons. If bonds are issued said bonds shall be payable in not more than twenty (20) annual installments and at interest not exceeding five (5) per cent per annum, and shall be payable at such place and be in such form as the council shall designate by resolution or ordinance."

SENATE AMENDMENTS CONSIDERED

Schwengel of Scott called up for consideration House File 23, a bill for an act to establish a department of public instruction for the State of Iowa; to establish a board of public instruction, provide for the election of members thereof, and prescribe the powers and duties of said board; to provide for the appointment of a superintendent of public instruction and assistant superintendents and such other staff members and employees as necessary, and to prescribe the powers and duties of such superintendents and staff members; to abolish the present board of educational examiners and transfer duties of said board to the board of public instruction; to abolish the present board of vocational education and to designate the board of public instruction as the state board for vocational education; to amend certain sections of the Code

REPORT OF COMMITTEE

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee of the whole, having had under consideration House File 10, a bill for an act relating to gas tax, begs leave to recommend that the same be amended as follows, and when so amended the bill do pass:

1. Amend by striking all after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. Section three hundred twenty-four point two (324.2), Code 1950, is hereby amended by adding thereto the following:

"'The license fee of four cents per gallon or fraction of a gallon provided for in this section shall be increased to five cents per gallon for the biennium beginning July 1, 1953, and ending June 30, 1955.'

"Sec. 2. Section three hundred twenty-four point sixty-three (324.63), Code 1950, is hereby amended by adding thereto the following:

"'The net proceeds of one cent per gallon of the license fees collected under the provisions of this chapter shall, for the biennium beginning July 1, 1953, and ending June 30, 1955, be credited by the treasurer of the state as follows:

"'1. To the primary road fund, to be used only for the reconstruction, straightening and widening of primary roads which are now surfaced with pavement only eighteen (18) feet in width.'"

2. By adding a new section as follows:

"Sec. 3. Section three hundred twenty-four point two (324.2), Code 1950, is hereby amended as follows:

'1. By inserting in line four (4) after the word "fuel" the following: ", except liquefied gas,".

'2. By striking from line five (5) the comma (,) and all thereafter, all of lines six (6), seven (7), eight (8), nine (9) and that part of line ten (10) preceding the word "that" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "; and a license fee of six cents per gallon or fraction of a gallon is hereby imposed on the following:

"'(a) all liquefied gas used or sold for use for any of the purposes set out in subsection 4 of section 324.1;

"'(b) all fuel oil used or sold for the purposes of propelling motor vehicles on the highways of the state;

"'(c) all fuel oil used in any maintenance and construction work which is paid for from public funds.

"'Provided, however,'."

3. By adding as section four (4) the following:

"Sec. 4. Section three hundred twenty-four point two (324.2), Code 1950, is hereby amended by striking the comma (,) in line twenty-two (22) and inserting in lieu thereof a period (.); and by striking that part of said section following the said comma (,) in line twenty-two (22) thereof to and including the word 'offense' in line thirty-eight (38) thereof and inserting in lieu thereof the following: 'Every person, firm or corporation, who purchases or obtains motor fuel outside of this state and operates any motor vehicle into this state upon the public highways of this state and transports motor fuel in the fuel tank or tanks attached or unattached to said motor vehicle for the sole purpose of operating said vehicle, shall pay the Iowa motor fuel tax on the gallons in excess of twenty (20) gallons consumed by such motor vehicle while operated on Iowa public highways, except that this section shall not apply to any motor vehicle coming into this state with a motor fuel tank capacity not to exceed twenty (20) gallons. Payment of the tax shall be made by purchase of motor fuel within Iowa of such gallonage as is equivalent to the gallonage consumed while operating such motor vehicle on the public highways of Iowa, or by direct remittance to the department. If deemed necessary to determine the amount of tax due or to prevent tax evasion, the department may require from any such person, firm or corporation reports on forms prescribed by it, and tax payments in the same manner as is provided in this chapter with respect to distributors. Every person, firm or corporation, required by this section to make returns and pay the tax herein imposed, shall be subject to all of the provisions of this chapter and all fines and penalties herein imposed for violations thereof."

4. By adding as section five (5) the following:

"Sec. 5. This act being deemed of immediate importance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and publication in the Davis County Republican, a newspaper published at Bloomfield, Iowa, and in the Oskaloosa Tribune Press, a newspaper published at Oskaloosa, Iowa."

HOWARD C. BUCK, Chairman.

Senate Concurrent Resolution 19, providing that claims listed in said concurrent resolution be considered by the Senate and House, and the action of the joint claims committee be approved.

CARROLL A. LANE, Secretary.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 19

By Claims Committee

Whereas, doubt has arisen under provisions of section twenty-five point seven (25.7), Code 1950, that submission of claims to the joint claims committee of the Senate and House and rejection by said committee constitutes final action thereon by the General Assembly as provided in said section; and,

Whereas, certain claims rejected by previous joint claims committees are sometimes reprocessed by the state appeal board for recurring submissions; and,

Whereas, it is deemed desirable that claims submitted to the joint claims committee of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly and rejected thereby and to amend section three hundred ninety point one (390.1), Code 1950, to include the power to erect and improve buildings for parking lot facilities, amended by the Senate, and moved that the House concur in the following Senate amendment:

Amend the House amendment to Senate File 397 by adding to section two (2) the following:

"In cities and towns whenever parking lots shall have been authorized or established as provided in section three hundred ninety point one (390.1) in lieu of the tax provided for in section three hundred ninety point two (390.2), there may be levied a tax not exceeding one-half mill, the proceeds of which shall be credited to and known as the 'parking lot fund'. Such fund shall be used only to acquire or improve real estate, including the erection or improvement of buildings thereon or for any or all said purposes for the parking of vehicles, and including the payment of bonds and interest thereon issued in anticipation of the collection of such tax. Such fund shall be used to meet maturities of such bonds and interest thereon from year to year, but only to the extent that after the application of all net returns available from the income of said parking lots or parking meters, or both, as specified by law, the same shall be required to meet such maturing bonds or interest thereon. Cities and towns may anticipate the collection of taxes authorized in this section and for that purpose may issue certificates or bonds with interest coupons. If bonds are issued said bonds shall be payable in not more than twenty (20) annual installments and at interest not exceeding five (5) per cent per annum, and shall be payable at such place and be in such form as the council shall designate by resolution or ordinance."

OFFICIAL COMMUNICATION

The Chief Clerk announced the receipt of an official concurrent resolution from the legislature of the State of Maine urging Congress to give serious consideration to the question of eliminating the federal gasoline tax and leaving that area of taxation entirely to the states.

Ludwig of Johnson asked and obtained unanimous consent that the following communication be printed in the Journal:

The Waldorf Astoria Towers,
New York, New York,
April 18, 1953.

The Honorable A. L. Mensing,
Chairman, Joint Committee of Senate and House of the State of Iowa General Assembly,
Des Moines, Iowa.

My dear Mr. Chairman:

I have received the invitation of the Assembly to attend a celebration at West Branch on August 10, 1954.

This invitation is indeed in itself a great honor from my native state. I want the committee and the members of the Assembly to know that I deeply appreciate it.

It is difficult to make such an undertaking at this time. I therefore would like to reply more definitely when we get nearer to that date.

Again may I express my obligation for the honor conveyed by the action of the Assembly.

Yours faithfully,
HERBERT HOOVER.

Hendrix of Muscatine offered the following House concurrent resolution:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 27

Whereas, it is becoming increasingly evident that some major repairs and rehabilitation are going to be necessary to preserve the exterior of the state capitol, and also that there is evidence that necessary repairs and improvements might well be made within the building itself;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring, That there is hereby created a capitol improvement commission, consisting of three members from the Senate to be appointed by the President of the Senate, and three members of the House to be appointed by the Speaker of the House, for the purpose of making a survey of the physical condition of the state capitol and making a report of such recommendations to the Fifty-sixth General Assembly for such improvements as said commission might deem proper and necessary.

Be It Further Resolved, That members of such commission shall perform their duties without any compensation.

Laid over under Rule 34.

SENATE AMENDMENTS CONSIDERED

Miller of Black Hawk called up for consideration House File 502, a bill for an act to make an appropriation from the general fund of the State of Iowa to the department of public instruction for specified school aid, amended by the Senate, and moved that the House concur in the following Senate amendments:

Amend House File 502 by striking all after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. There is hereby appropriated from the general fund of the State of Iowa to the department of public instruction for each year of the biennium beginning July 1, 1953, and ending June 30, 1955, the sum of six hundred forty-seven thousand five hundred dollars ($647,500), or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be used in the following manner:

"Aid to handicapped children (special education), as provided in chapter two hundred eighty-one (281), Code 1950, to include thirty thousand dollars ($30,000) for hearing tests.....$526,000.00

Normal Institute	49,500.00
Mining camp school emergency	27,000.00
Mining camp schools state aid	45,000.00
Total	$647,500.00

"Sec. 2. There is hereby appropriated from the general fund of the State of Iowa to the Board of Vocational Education for each year of the biennium beginning July 1, 1953, and ending June 30, 1955, the sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), or so much thereof as may be necessary to supplement the permanent fund provided in chapter two hundred fifty-eight (258), Code 1950, as amended by the Fifty-fourth General Assembly."

Motion prevailed and the House concurred.

Miller of Black Hawk moved that the bill, as amended by the Senate and concurred in by the House, be read a last time now and placed upon its passage which motion prevailed and the bill was read a last time.

SENATE AMENDMENT TO HOUSE FILE 28

1. Amend House File 28 by striking all after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. Chapter three hundred twenty-one A (321A), Code 1950, is amended by adding thereto the following:

'Whenever any dealer licensed under chapter 322, Code 1950, sells a motor vehicle at retail and the transaction does not include the sale of liability insurance coverage which will protect the purchaser under the Iowa Motor Vehicle Financial and Safety Responsibility Act the purchase order or invoice evidencing the transaction shall contain a statement in the following form:

'I understand that liability insurance coverage which would protect me under the Iowa Motor Vehicle Financial and Safety Responsibility Act IS NOT INCLUDED in my purchase of the herein described motor vehicle. I have received a copy of this statement.

(Purchaser's signature) "

'The seller shall print or stamp said statement on the purchase order or invoice in distinctive color ink and with clearly visible letters. Said statement shall be signed by the purchaser in the space provided therein on or before the date of delivery of the motor vehicle described in the purchase order or invoice and a copy thereof shall be given to the purchaser by the seller.'

"Sec. 2. No civil liability shall arise on account of the failure of any person to comply with the provisions of this act.

"Sec. 3. Any person violating any provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding fifty dollars ($50)."

2. Amend the title to House File 28, lines 3, 4, and 5 by striking the following: "person shall loan money on a motor vehicle or obtain a lien for any unpaid purchase price of a motor vehicle" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "licensed motor vehicle dealer shall sell a motor vehicle".

Further amend the title to House File 28, line 7, by striking the following: "borrower or vendee" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "purchaser".

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

The House resumed consideration of House File 10, a bill for an act to amend sections three hundred twenty-four point two (324.2) and three hundred twenty-four point sixty-three (324.63), Code 1950, relating to gas tax and to provide a suitable method of financing primary road construction in Iowa, with report of committee recommending amendment and passage.

The committee amendments found on pages 1277 and 1278, Journal of April 16, were taken up and considered.

Frommelt of Dubuque offered the following amendment filed by him and moved its adoption:

Amend House File 10 by striking all after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Section 1. There is hereby appropriated from the special reserve fund of the State of Iowa the sum of seven million five hundred thousand dollars ($7,500,000) to a special primary road fund designated for the construction, reconstruction, strengthening or widening of primary roads on a basis of need as may be determined and designated by the state highway commission."

Speaker Lynes in the chair.

Amendment lost.

Pim of Lucas offered the following amendment filed by him, et al., as a substitute for the committee of the whole amendment:

Amend House File 10 by striking all after the enacting clause and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

Digitized by Google

"Section 1. Section three hundred twenty-four point two (324.2), Code 1950, is hereby amended by adding thereto the following:

'The license fee of four cents per gallon or fraction of a gallon provided for in this section shall be increased to five cents per gallon for the biennium beginning July 1, 1953, and ending June 30, 1955.'

Sec. 2. Section three hundred twenty-four point sixty-three (324.63), Code 1950, is hereby amended by adding thereto the following:

'The net proceeds of one cent per gallon of the license fees collected under the provisions of this chapter shall be credited by the treasurer of the state as follows:

1. To the primary road fund, fifty per cent.

2. To the secondary road construction fund of the counties, forty per cent.

3. To the street construction fund of the cities and incorporated towns of the state, ten per cent.

The administration of the net proceeds of the one cent per gallon license fees shall be as far as applicable as provided by section three hundred eight A point two (308A.2), subsection two (2), Code 1950.'"

Amend the title to House File 10 by striking all after the word "relating" in line three (3) and substituting in lieu thereof the following: "to an additional tax on motor vehicle fuel and to provide for the distribution of same."

Watson of Warren offered the following amendment to the amendment and moved its adoption:

1. Amend the Pim amendment to House File 10 by striking the word "five" in line six (6) thereof and inserting in lieu thereof the word "six".

2. Further amend by striking the word "one" in lines ten (10) and eighteen (18) and inserting in lieu thereof in each line the word "two".

Amendment to the amendment lost.

Kerr of Shelby offered the following amendment to the amendment filed by him, Hawkins and Kuester, and moved its adoption:

Amend the Pim amendment, filed April 16, to House File 10, by inserting following the words "forty per cent" in line fifteen (15) the words "to be distributed to the several counties on a need basis."

HOUSE FILE 499 RECALLED FROM SENATE

Mooty of Grundy asked and obtained unanimous consent that House File 499 be recalled from the Senate for further consideration.

SENATE AMENDMENTS CONSIDERED

Pendleton of Buena Vista called up for consideration House File 28, a bill for an act to amend chapter three hundred twenty-one A (321A), Code 1950, relating to motor vehicle financial responsibility to provide that whenever any person shall loan money on a motor vehicle or obtain a lien for any unpaid purchase price of a motor vehicle, and the transaction does not include liability insurance coverage which will protect the borrower or vendee under the Iowa financial responsibility act, a statement of that fact shall be contained in the instrument evidencing the transaction, and providing a penalty for violation of same, amended by the Senate, and moved that the House concur in the following Senate amendments:

Amend House File 28 by striking all after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. Chapter three hundred twenty-one A (321A), Code 1950, is amended by adding thereto the following:

"'Whenever any dealer licensed under chapter 322, Code 1950, sells a motor vehicle at retail and the transaction does not include the sale of liability insurance coverage which will protect the purchaser under the Iowa Motor Vehicle Financial and Safety Responsibility Act the purchase order or invoice evidencing the transaction shall contain a statement in the following form:

"'"I understand that liability insurance coverage which would protect me under the Iowa Motor Vehicle Financial and Safety Responsibility Act IS NOT INCLUDED in my purchase of the herein described motor vehicle. I have received a copy of this statement.

(Purchaser's Signature) "

"'The seller shall print or stamp said statement on the purchase order or invoice in distinctive color ink and with clearly visible letters. Said statement shall be signed by the purchaser in the space provided therein on or before the date of delivery of the motor vehicle described in the purchase order or invoice and a copy thereof shall be given to the purchaser by the seller.'

"Sec. 2. No civil liability shall arise on account of the failure of any person to comply with the provisions of this Act.

"Sec. 3. Any person violating any provisions of this Act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding fifty dollars ($50)."

2. Amend the title to House File 28, lines 3, 4, and 5 by striking the following: "person shall loan money on a motor vehicle or obtain a lien for any unpaid purchase price of a motor vehicle" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "licensed motor vehicle dealer shall sell a motor vehicle".

3. Further amend the title to House File 28, line 7, by striking the following: "borrower or vendee" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "purchaser".

Motion prevailed and the House concurred.

Pendleton of Buena Vista moved that the bill, as amended by the Senate and concurred in by the House, be read a last time now and placed upon its passage which motion prevailed and the bill was read a last time.

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the House and the title as amended was agreed to.

Patrick of Sioux offered the following House concurrent resolution, proposed by him and Meyer of Sac:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 28

For the recognition of the 50th anniversary of the farm demonstration in Iowa and the United States.

Whereas, this year marks the 50th anniversary of the development of a new idea of organized farmer self-learning, which in succeeding years has become the nucleus of what is known as cooperative extension work in the United States.

Whereas, Iowa and Iowa people contributed greatly to this movement through the work of such great agricultural leaders as Seaman A. Knapp, an early professor of agriculture and president of the Iowa State College and later a leader in the United States Department of Agriculture, and Perry G. Holden, the first director of the Iowa Extension Service. Dr. Knapp is generally credited with the originating farm demonstration work nationally at Terrill, Texas, in 1903.

Whereas, the first Iowa cooperative demonstration farm was established in Sioux County, Iowa, as a result of a resolution by an organized group of Sioux County farmers meeting at Hull, Iowa, February 18, 1903; which resulted in cooperation from Iowa State College and appropriation of funds, land and assistance from the board of supervisors of that county; a movement which has set the pattern of the cooperative extension work.

Whereas, the Thirty-first Iowa General Assembly, in the year 1906, with great vision passed a law establishing the Iowa Agricultural Extension Service as a department coordinate with other departments of work at the Iowa State College; this being the first, so far as can be determined, to be so established by a state legislature in the United States.

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, by the House of Representatives of the State of Iowa and the Senate Concurring, That it is fitting that this assemblage should duly recognize the contributions made by the progressive farm people of Iowa, agricultural educators and the bold and far-sighted legislators of the past who made so great a contribution to the development of an enlightened and prosperous agriculture in our state.

PATRICK of Sioux.
MEYER of Sac.

Laid over under Rule 34.

Goode of Davis offered the following House concurrent resolution:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 29

Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the President of the Senate be presented with the chairs occupied by them during the session, and that the custodian of the State House be instructed to crate such chairs for shipment to the home residence of the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate.

Be It Further Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the House be authorized and directed to procure suitable name plates to be properly engraved and attached to the chairs.

Laid over under Rule 34.

McFarlane of Black Hawk offered the following House resolution:

HOUSE RESOLUTION 6

Whereas, all who attended the memorial session the evening of April 6, 1953, have agreed that a very splendid and fine program was arranged for this occasion,

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, That we extend to the members of the committee, namely, Representatives Meyer, Voigtmann and Vermeer, our sincere appreciation for arranging this program, and to Honorable G. M. Ludwig, as chairman of the session, and Mrs. Helen Meyer, as pianist, and also a special vote of thanks to the A Cappella Choir of Central College, Pella, Iowa, for the very splendid and appropriate music furnished, and to Reverend Raoul C. Calkins, district superintendent, Iowa-Des Moines Conference, Methodist Church, for his very pertinent memorial address.

Be It Further Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House be directed to send a certified copy of this resolution to the participants in the program.

Laid over under Rule 34.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

The following messages were received from the Senate:

MR. SPEAKER: I am directed to return House File 499, a bill for an act to legalize the special election and sale and delivery of garage bonds of the city of Grundy Center, Iowa, in accordance with your request.

Also: That the Senate requests the return of House File 366, a bill for an act relating to the sale of agricultural seeds, for further consideration of the same by the Senate.

CARROLL A. LANE, Secretary.

Kuester of Cass asked and obtained unanimous consent to have the following communication printed in the Journal:

CITY OF DES MOINES, IOWA

April 20, 1953.

Representatives Carroll L. Brown,
Dewey E. Goode,
Arch W. McFarlane,
Paul Parker.
Gentlemen:

In reference to our conversation of this date regarding the intentions of the City of Des Moines in reference to the extension of Walnut Street through the State House grounds, I am authorized as Acting Mayor of the City of Des Moines, to state to the legislature

(1) That the City of Des Moines will assume the costs of construction, maintenance, and repair of Walnut Street from Kasson Drive to East Ninth Street over and beyond the appropriation provided in Senate File 222;

(2) In this connnection, I wish to point out that the City of Des Moines has authorized the resurfacing of Grand Avenue on the north side of the state property this year without cost to the State of Iowa. This is pointed out merely to convince the legislature of our intent to assume our responsibilities for main traveled highways of the City of Des Moines;

(3) Furthermore, the City of Des Moines expects in the near future to extend its lighting system on Locust Street eastward to the Capitol grounds;

(4) It will be of interest to the members of the legislature and state officials also to know that the City of Des Moines expects to install a traffic controlled signal system at the intersection of East Ninth Street and Grand Avenue, which will be of material assistance to traffic crossing this particular intersection.

The city government will appreciate favorable action on this much needed improvement to the traffic situation now existing in this city.

Sincerely yours,
A. B. CHAMBERS,
Acting Mayor.

named persons in settlement of damages sustained by them on account of accidents on primary roads.

Also: That the Senate has concurred in the House amendment to the Senate amendment to House File 507, a bill for an act to make an appropriation to the state fair board, and passed House File 507 as amended.

Also: That the Senate has concurred in the House amendment to and passed Senate File 222, a bill for an act to provide for the reopening of East Walnut Street.

Also: That the Senate has adopted the following concurrent resolution in which the concurrence of the House is asked:

Senate Concurrent Resolution 20, relative to the details of closing the session of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly.

CARROLL A. LANE, Secretary.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 20

Be It Resolved by the Senate, The House Concurring: That the budget and financial control committee, together with the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House, assume full responsibility in determining the policies incident to the details of closing the session of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly, and the reconvening of any special or subsequent regular session, and that after such policies and decisions have been formulated, the budget and financial control committee will assume full responsibility for directing the details and the work in connection with the same.

Be It Further Resolved: That the budget and financial control committee direct the Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the House to make an inventory of all equipment and supplies on hand at the close of the session, and thereafter said committee shall assume complete jurisdiction with respect to loan or sale to the several departments of state of any such equipment and supplies.

Be It Further Resolved: That the budget and financial control committee is hereby authorized to direct any and all work in connection with the convening of any special or subsequent regular session of the General Assembly. It shall have the power, by purchase or through the executive council in accordance with section 19.25, Code 1950, to provide all the supplies required for the convening of the next regular, any special and during the session of the General Assembly.

Be It Further Resolved: That said budget and financial control committee is hereby authorized to reserve for the exclusive use of the General Assembly, during the interim, such rooms now occupied and used by said General Assembly as may be necessary solely for the purpose of storing supplies and equipment as it may deem proper and advisable and that said budget and financial control committee is hereby authorized to notify the executive council of its conclusions in said matter, and the executive council shall in no wise make other assignments of the rooms which are so reserved by the budget and financial control committee.

Be It Further Resolved: That in the event any equipment now belonging to the legislative department be loaned to any department of state or used during the interim, it shall be with the understanding that said equipment be returned and made available to any subsequent regular or special session in substantially the same condition that it was when it was loaned.

Be It Further Resolved: That any officers or employees of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly who shall be engaged by the budget and financial control committee for work in connection with the closing up of the work of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly, or the reconvening of any subsequent regular or special session, shall be compensated for such services at the same rate per diem as was fixed for the regular session of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly.

Laid over under Rule 34.

Goode of Davis offered the following House concurrent resolution:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 30

Whereas, this body has before it certain claims for committee work performed for certain committees not authorized by this body;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring, That the state appeal board, in the future, shall not consider or allow any claim for any committee for services performed by that committee, unless said committee was authorized by one or both bodies of the General Assembly.

Laid over under Rule 34.

MOTION TO CORRECT THE JOURNAL

Brown of Mahaska moved that the certified copy of the House Journal, page 456, be corrected to show that the following amendment by Goode of Davis was adopted by unanimous consent, February 18, 1953:

Amend House File 221, section 5, line 2, by striking the word "ensuing" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "current".

'2. By striking from line five (5) the comma (,) and all thereafter, all of lines six (6), seven (7), eight (8), nine (9) and that part of line ten (10) preceding the word "that" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "; and a license fee of six cents per gallon or fraction of a gallon is hereby imposed on the following:

"'(a) all liquefied gas used or sold for use for any of the purposes set out in subsection 4 of section 324.1;

"'(b) all fuel oil used or sold for the purposes of propelling motor vehicles on the highways of the state;

"'(c) all fuel oil used in any maintenance and construction work which is paid for from public funds.

"'Provided, however,'."

3. By adding as section four (4) the following:

"Sec. 4. Section three hundred twenty-four point two (324.2), Code 1950, is hereby amended by striking the comma (,) in line twenty-two (22) and inserting in lieu thereof a period (.); and by striking that part of said section following the said comma (,) in line twenty-two (22) thereof to and including the word 'offense' in line thirty-eight (38) thereof and inserting in lieu thereof the following: 'Every person, firm or corporation, who purchases or obtains motor fuel outside of this state and operates any motor vehicle into this state upon the public highways of this state and transports motor fuel in the fuel tank or tanks attached or unattached to said motor vehicle for the sole purpose of operating said vehicle, shall pay the Iowa motor fuel tax on the gallons in excess of twenty (20) gallons consumed by such motor vehicle while operated on Iowa public highways, except that this section shall not apply to any motor vehicle coming into this state with a motor fuel tank capacity not to exceed twenty (20) gallons. Payment of the tax shall be made by purchase of motor fuel within Iowa of such gallonage as is equivalent to the gallonage consumed while operating such motor vehicle on the public highways of Iowa, or by direct remittance to the department. If deemed necessary to determine the amount of tax due or to prevent tax evasion, the department may require from any such person, firm or corporation reports on forms prescribed by it, and tax payments in the same manner as is provided in this chapter with respect to distributors. Every person, firm or corporation, required by this section to make returns and pay the tax herein imposed, shall be subject to all of the provisions of this chapter and all fines and penalties herein imposed for violations thereof."

4. By adding as section five (5) the following:

"Sec. 5. This act being deemed of immediate importance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and publication in the Davis County Republican, a newspaper published at Bloomfield, Iowa, and in the Oskaloosa Tribune Press, a newspaper published at Oskaloosa, Iowa."

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 22

By Dailey (Oberman).

Whereas, the great and sovereign State of Iowa has witnessed since June 27, 1950, the entry of thousands of her sons and daughters into the military service of the United States, to defend our state and our nation against the forces of worldwide communist aggression, and

Whereas, many of these courageous and honored citizens of Iowa have suffered great personal sacrifice and danger in such defense, and have given of their very lives and safety to fight this battle for the rest of us, the people of Iowa who remain at home in our usual tasks and concerns, and

Whereas, one of these brave men, Corporal Richard O. Morrison, has come back to the freedoms of our American way of life and has been liberated from a cruel and misery-laden prisoner of war camp, and returns to Iowa as a vivid reminder that the menace of communist aggression still threatens our free world and betrays the dignity of mankind wherever it reaches its iron hand, and

Whereas, Coporal Richad O. Morrison is a living symbol of the sacrifice of these countless men and women of Iowa now or who have been in the military service of the United States in this stand against communist aggression,

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring:

1. That the Fifty-fifth General Assembly of Iowa, speaking for and on behalf of the citizens of Iowa, does hereby express the gratitude and the admiration of the citizens of Iowa, to each and every man and woman who in these perilous hours of national safety now serving or have served in the military forces of the United States in this stand against communist aggression.

2. That the Fifty-fifth General Assembly, recognizing that Corporal Richard O. Morrison is truly representative of the sacrifice, the courage and the strength of these many Iowans who have and do so serve, does hereby tender to him as such representative of his comrades in arms, our gratitude and our admiration for this unselfish service.

3. That this expression of this General Assembly shall be properly enrolled and that the original thereof shall be presented to Corporal Richard O. Morrison in an appropriate manner upon his safe return to his native Iowa, as shall be deemed proper by the presiding officers of the Senate and the House of Representatives.

Laid over under Rule 34.

On motion by Goode of Davis, the House recessed until 1:00 p.m., today.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The House reconvened, Speaker Lynes in the chair.

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

House File 511, a bill for an act to legalize and validate the proceedings authorizing and providing for the issuance, sale and delivery of "Bridge Revenue Bonds, 1953 Series" by the city of Burlington, Iowa, to pay the cost of repairing the existing municipally owned toll bridge extending across the Mississippi River from said city and the provisions made for the payment of said bonds and declaring said proceedings and the bonds issued pursuant thereto legally sufficient and enforceable, was taken up for consideration.

Butler of Pocahontas moved that the bill be read a last time now and placed upon its passage which motion prevailed and the bill was read a last time.

Weiss of Crawford offered the following House resolution:

HOUSE RESOLUTION 8

A House Resolution to authorize the conservation commission of the State of Iowa to conduct an engineering survey to establish a location for a state lake in Crawford County without a special appropriation for same; and survey to be made by their own personnel.

Whereas, there has been paid into the treasury of the State of Iowa, by the people of Crawford County through the purchase of hunting and fishing licenses, quite a sum of money, and

Whereas, the people of Crawford County have no lake or recreational facilities and are entitled to the same consideration as other counties, and

Whereas, there are now on record proposed projects amounting to over six million dollars ($6,000,000) by the conservation commission, and Crawford County is not included, and has never received any consideration, and

Whereas, to our knowledge, no county has ever been turned down in preceding sessions, when a request was made for a survey to establish recreational facilities, and

Whereas, there was appropriated during the last session the sum of two hundred fifty-two thousand dollars ($252,000) to establish state lakes or make improvements of state lakes, and

Whereas, the representative from Crawford County has always supported and voted favorably for appropriations as requested, and

Whereas, if the conservation commission has the power to purchase a four-passenger plane without being authorized to do so by the legislature, they certainly can make a survey in Crawford County without a special appropriation for same. If they need money, they can sell the plane to secure enough to make a survey; furthermore, the money saved by not having the plane would be enough to make such a survey,

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

Section 1. That the conservation commission conduct an engineering survey for the purpose of determining a location for a state-owned lake in Crawford County so that the people of this county may have fishing, swimming, hunting, and other recreational facilities, as practically all the other counties of the state now have.

Laid over under Rule 34.

Kuester of Cass offered the following House resolution:

HOUSE RESOLUTION 7

Whereas, it has come to the attention of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly that the former Lieutenant-Governor of Iowa and former member of the House of Representatives, the Honorable William H. Nicholas, has suffered severe and serious injuries due to an automobile accident, and

Whereas, Governor Nicholas has within the membership of the House a great many close friends and acquaintances who are deeply concerned over his physical welfare and his ultimate recovery,

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House: That by this resolution the greetings and well wishes of all of the members of the House are hereby transmitted to Lieutenant-Governor Nicholas in the earnest hope and prayer that he will enjoy a speedy and complete recovery.

Laid over under Rule 34.

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

House File 411, a bill for an act repealing subsection one (1) of section ninety-eight point six (98.6), Code 1950, relating to the taxation of cigarettes used in the State of Iowa and providing for the rate of such tax; also to amend section ninety-eight point thirty-five (98.35), Code 1950, and providing for the allocation between the state general fund and the public employees retirement fund, of the tax imposed upon cigarettes used in the State of Iowa, with report of committee recommending amendment and passage, was taken up for consideration.

Beck of Appanoose offered the following amendment as a substitute amendment for the committee amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend House File 411 by striking out all of section two (2) and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

"Sec. 2. Any licensed distributor or permit holder having in his possession on July 1, 1953, or thereafter, any cigarettes, cigarette papers or tubes, for the purpose of distribution or sale, upon which the full amount of the tax imposed by this Act has not been paid, shall make a return to the state tax commission listing the entire amount of such articles on hand, the amount of tax which has been paid upon such articles under the provisions of chapter ninety-eight (98), Code 1950, and the amount of additional tax due upon such articles as provided by the provisions of this Act. The state tax commission shall have the power to prescribe rules and regulations providing for the collection of such tax, either through the affixing of additional stamps or additional meter impressions, or by the collection of the amount due in cash.

On and after July 15, 1953, the provisions of subsection one (1), section ninety-eight point thirty-six (98.36), Code 1950, shall apply upon the possession of any cigaretttes, cigarette papers or tubes, upon which the full amount of tax as provided by this Act has not been paid.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

The following message was received from the Senate:

MR. SPEAKER: I am directed to inform your honorable body that a point of order has been raised on the motion by the Senator from Muscatine which was to concur in the House amendments to the Senate amendment and to recede from divisions 8, 26, and 27 of the Senate amendment to House File 140, a bill for an act creating an Iowa public employees' retirement system and that the point of order was sustained. I am further directed to suggest the recall of House File 140 by the House in order that the House amendment may be rephrased in such a manner that the Senate may either concur or refuse to concur in the amendment in accordance with Rule 1 of the Joint Rules of the Senate and House.

CARROLL A. LANE, Secretary.

HOUSE FILE 140 RECALLED FROM THE SENATE

Palmer of Lee moved that House File 140 be recalled from the Senate for further consideration.

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the House and the title agreed to.

Hoover of Ringgold called up for consideration House File 293, a bill for an act relating to county public hospitals, providing for free care for tuberculous patients in such hospitals, and providing for the pay of indigent patients therein from the county poor fund, and making provision for pay of hospital treatment for indigent persons having legal settlement outside the county, and to amend section three hundred forty-seven point sixteen (347.16), Code 1950, amended by the Senate, and moved that the House concur in the following Senate amendments:

Amend House File 293 by striking all after the enacting clause and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. Section three hundred forty-seven point sixteen (347.16), Code 1950, is hereby amended by inserting after the word 'hospital' in line nine (9) the words 'in counties with a population of more than one hundred and thirty-five thousand (135,000)'.

"Sec. 2. Section three hundred forty-seven point sixteen (347.16),

Code 1950, is hereby further amended by inserting after the period (.) in line twenty-two (22) the following new paragraphs:

'Free care and treatment in such county public hospital in all other counties to any tuberculous persons may be furnished to such residents of the county as have established legal settlement in the county as defined in section two hundred fifty-two point sixteen (252.16) and are entitled to free care under the provisions of section two hundred fifty-four point eight (254.8), Code 1950. In cases other than tuberculosis, care and treatment in such county public hospital to any indigent persons shall likewise be furnished to such residents of the county as have established legal settlement in the county as defined in section two hundred fifty-two point sixteen (252.16), Code 1950, and have been found by the board of hospital trustees to be indigent and entitled to said care. In integrated counties where the board of hospital trustees have no social service department, then under the supervision of the board of hospital trustees, the overseer of the poor or the director of social welfare shall determine whether or not said persons are indigent and entitled to said care. Cost of said care shall be the liability of the county, and upon claim made therefor paid under the authority and in the manner specified by section two hundred fifty-two point thirty-five (252.35), Code 1950. Provided, however, such county public hospital may provide hospital benefits to indigent persons having a legal settlement outside the county and the county of such persons' legal settlement shall pay to such county public hospital for the fair and reasonable cost of such care, treatment, and hospitalization.

'A county public hospital shall not be required to provide facilities for treatment of tuberculous persons. Where such facilities for treatment of tuberculous persons are not available in the county public hospital, care and treatment shall be provided under the provisions of section two hundred fifty-four point one (254.1), Code 1950.' "

Motion prevailed and the House concurred.

ADOPTION OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE REPORT

Fairchild of Ida submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

CONFERENCE COMMITTEE REPORT ON HOUSE FILE 497

TO THE PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE AND SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE:

We, the undersigned members of the conference committee appointed to consider the difference between the House and Senate on House File 497, a bill for an act to appropriate twenty-six million dollars ($26,000,000) from the general fund of the State of Iowa to the department of public instruction to general state aid for school districts as provided by chapter two hundred eighty-six A (286A), Code 1950, recommend that House File 497 be amended as follows: By striking all after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. There is hereby appropriated from the general fund of the State of Iowa to the department of public instruction for each year of the biennium beginning July 1, 1953, and ending June 30, 1955, the sum of twelve million dollars ($12,000,000.00), or so much thereof as may be necessary, for general state aid to school districts as provided by chapter two hundred eighty-six A (286A), Code 1950, provided, however, that no school district shall receive financial aid under the provisions of said Code chapter in the event a school tax levy for the general fund of at least eight (8) mills was not made in such district for the preceding year."

Further amend House File 497 by striking from line 1 of the title thereof the words and figures "twenty-six million dollars ($26,000,000)"

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the House and the title agreed to.

Senate File 271, a bill for an act to amend section six hundred two point forty-nine (602.49), Code 1950, relating to the salary of municipal judges, was taken up for consideration.

Amend Senate File 271 by adding the following new section:

"Sec. 2. Amend section six hundred two point forty-nine (602.49), Code 1950, by striking from lines two (2) and three (3) thereof the words 'four thousand three hundred seventy-five' and inserting in lieu thereof the words 'four thousand eight hundred seventy-five'; by striking from line four (4) the words 'five thousand' and inserting in lieu thereof the words 'five thousand five hundred'; by striking from lines six (6) and seven (7) the words 'five thousand two hundred fifty' and inserting in lieu thereof the words 'five thousand seven hundred fifty'."

Amendment adopted.

POINTS OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

McFarlane of Black Hawk rose under the question of personal privilege and offered the following remarks:

I have been requested by any number of the members of the legislature to submit a list of accomplishments of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly. I want to say in the beginning that regardless of some information that has been distributed, that in my opinion this Fifty-fifth General Assembly was the hardest working body that has occupied the State House in the number of years that I have been here.

I do not believe that the general public has too good an idea of the amount of work that is done by their legislative representatives in Des Moines. Much of the work that is done during the session is not spectacular. Very little of the real work of the General Assembly is done when the House and Senate are in session. The formal sessions are, in effect, devoted to a ratification or rejection of proposals which are the result of long hours of study and deliberation in committees.

As is usual in every session of the legislature, some things are done perhaps that should not have been done and there are many things left undone which should have been done but that is democracy in action. I have been disappointed, at times, at some of the time that is consumed on the floor and unnecessary questions that have been asked, but these actions are only developed for information.

A misapprehension has been circulated about the time consumed in handling the oleo legislation as to the hours and days it took to settle this dispute. As a matter of fact the House only spent five hours and twenty-seven minutes on this subject. This is actual count, but you would think by the publicity given to this particular item that we spent days and days on it. I merely give you this final word as to the record.

I have been asked to give a list of what I think are some of the accomplishments of this General Assembly, so I have prepared, on account of these numerous requests, fifteen outstanding and substantial enactments of this legislature.

1. Revision of the municipal code. This consists of twenty-three bills that have been enacted into laws. The key bill was House File 442, which was adopted after the Wisconsin laws. It gives considerable home rule to the municipalities and at the same time protects the general public by allowing them to circulate a petition to be signed by two per cent of the voters who would oppose any bond issue. The Iowa League of Muncipalities requested the Governor to call a special session upon this question alone. This legislature has enacted all these bills into laws, which in my opinion was a major accomplishment.

2. Three bills on abandoning our present retirement system and adopting a new plan. One bill repealed our present unsound system, the second bill placed all public employees under federal social security, and the third bill set up a subsidiary plan for retirement of all public employees. This could have been handled at a special session.

3. Legislative program relative to the men and women in our armed forces. There were three bills affecting soldiers in Korea and those now in service. The first one assured men and women in the armed forces that they will have an opportunity to vote at our state elections. This measure steps up the filing time for candidates and the deadline for printing their lots in order to give those in uniform overseas a chance to exercise their franchise. This new law is a permanent one as we are going to have men and women in uniform and away from their homes for a long time to come. Iowa's role as a pioneer in this field has been recognized and is being used as a model by other states for similar proposed laws. The Council of State Governments has adopted the Iowa laws as a model. We also provided that anyone in the armed forces should not have their credits or benefits taken away from them on unemployment compensation and we exempt up to $2,000 of salary or military pay from income tax.

4. Number four is school legislation. This legislature passed twenty-four bills pertaining to schools. Among these numerous bills were the following. It passed the state reorganization of the administration and sets up a plan whereby a superintendent of public instruction is selected by a committee. It legalized the renting of books by county boards of education, changed the tuition rates, and allows some inventory to be adopted whereby the cost of tuition is on a basis of value. It also made more workable the district school reorganization, and I haven't the time now to delve into other school legislation. I am quite sure that the school reorganization will be both expedited and simplified by the legislation which has been passed, and it does not deprive local school districts of the right to decide what they wish to do.

5. The fifth measure is the protection to the general public on burial and perpetual care. One bill provides that eighty per cent of burial funds must be put in escrow, on deposit until the burial takes place. The other bill provides that not less than twenty per cent of the price of each lot must be put in a reserve fund for perpetual care, thereby guaranteeing a funeral and care of the lot in the future.

6. Income tax made permanent at 75 per cent instead of the full 100 per cent as in the past. This was a very needed revision and will meet with general approval.

7. The oleo bill allows the sale and manufacture of colored oleo in the State of Iowa.

8. Senate File 181—the Vehicle Title Law. This amends the Code to provide for the issuance and transfer of registrations and certificate of title of a vehicle. It safeguards the owner and buyer of a second hand car and practically dispenses with the sale of stolen cars.

9. House File 242—passed the House and Senate the same day, passed the House 99 to nothing and the Senate 49 to nothing. This protects the general public from contagious diseases which have been in most instances traced to the feeding of raw garbage and it is deemed most advisable to discontinue such feeding. The disease is called Vesicular Exanthema, and the bill was passed as a public health measure.

10. House File 27—relates to the auction of new merchandise, and protects the general public from some unsavory salesman offering inferior merchandise.

11. Appropriated $900,000 for a medical research center at Iowa City. Medical research is a big business, and Iowa is now in a position to be of service to the medical profession. Also appropriated $300,000 for an addition to the polio ward at the University of Iowa Hospital.

Senate File 47—this increases the medical examining board from three to five and gives them the right to give written and oral examinations. The bill adds a new provision that the applicant must be a citizen, or declare his intent to become a citizen, before being eligible to take the examination. If the resident physician is from a foreign country or is a foreign student properly admitted as a student under a visa from the U. S. State Department, the citizenship requirement may be waived when here as a student only.

12. Relative to the sale of narcotics. You probably have paid little attention to this bill, but to me this is one of the most important. This provides for a severe penalty, including both a fine and jail sentence, for those that are convicted of distributing narcotic drugs or marihuana or other kinds of dope, and is for the protection of the general public.

13. House File 44—This bill provides exemption from the payment of sales and use tax to tax certifying and tax levying bodies instead of these bodies paying the taxes and making application for refund of the amount paid and saves considerable labor.

14. Appropriations—Despite the fact that this session has been considered as being very tight about the region of the pocketbook, the appropriations as finally agreed upon will be the highest in the history of the state for any two year period. For current purposes the amount required will be slightly more than one hundred seventeen million dollars for each of the next two years. In addition, about four million dollars a year more will be expended for new capital improvements, this amount to be taken from the special thirty million dollar reserve fund. Even after all these appropriations, I predict there will still be between fifteen and twenty million dollars left as a reserve.

Digitized by Google

15. Appropriated two million dollars for an additional building for the Marshalltown Soldiers' Home. This is a much needed improvement.

Appropriated three million seven hundred thousand dollars for capital improvements under the State Board of Control for the unfortunate in our mental hospitals and other institutions.

All in all I know of no legislature in the history of my time that handled so many big and controversial subjects in any regular session, where any one or two of these I have mentioned could very easily have required a special session. I compliment you for the work you have done.

Bloedel of Fremont asked and obtained unanimous consent that the address by the Honorable Arch W. McFarlane be printed in the Journal.

Schwengel of Scott rose under the question of personal privilege and offered the following remarks:

MR. SPEAKER: I rise to a point of personal privilege this morning with fear and trepidation and, yet, with a sense of duty to respond and answer a series of articles that have been appearing in one of the great nationally known magazines of this country—a publication whose circulation enjoys the confidence of millions of readers within and without the borders of our beloved nation. It has been my privilege to have read some or all of almost every issue since it began publication and, I should say, have read them with pleasure and profit. No one who reads believes, without at least some reservation, everything he peruses within the pages of books and magazines. This is especially true when your reading deals with a philosophy or reporting on evaluations of systems of government or its functions. This has been my experience in the reading of this fine publication, but it has challenged my thinking. It has, in many areas, helped me to clearer reasoning and, therefore, it has been educational. Not until now have I felt impelled to challenge any article or series of articles in this or any other magazine.

In my humble opinion, many news commentators on the radio and writers of syndicated columns on many of the fine newspapers are deliberately, or without knowing, tearing at the very foundation of our way of life and system of government. They are, by peculiar innuendoes, causing a great sector of our people to lose faith and confidence in the greatest form of self-rule ever devised by man. They may be setting the stage unintentionally that will give us the very system that we are spending billions to hold in bounds, at this, a tremendously important era of mankind.

The publication of which I speak is the Reader's Digest, and the articles referred to are a series devoted to the evils of state legislatures in these United States.

They bear catchy headlines such as:

The Great Unwatched.
Do You Know Your State's Secret Boss?
Do Mobs Dictate Your Crime Laws?
Shakedown in the State House.
Too Many Lawmakers Spoil Your State.

These titles are suggestive that all legislatures are inherently bad.

They are written under the name of Lester Velie; whom, I presume, is the same one listed in Who's Who in America, 1948-49 and 1950-51.

He was born in Russia in 1907, came to the United States at the age of five and was naturalized in 1922. He received his B.A. from the University of Wisconsin in 1929 and became a reporter for the Knickerbocker Press in Albany in 1930 and stayed through 1931. He, then, moved to the Associated Press in the latter part of 1931 and worked there through 1932. Late in 1932 he was advanced to suburban editor of the Brooklyn Eagle and was employed there until 1935. In 1937, Velie became the business and financial editor of the Literary Digest. During the war years, 1941 to 1945, he was a lecturer and radio analyst on the program "Ahead of Time" and an economic analyst for the British Broadcasting Company. In 1948, he became the associate editor for Colliers and, as far as I know, he is still holding that position. He did receive one honor, that of the Distinguished Service Award given by Sigma Chi in 1949.

It is not for me to have any part in denying this distinguished writer his right to talk and write as he pleases, but rather to defend his right to do it. However, knowing and feeling most sincerely that this gentleman is making accusations that are not completely true and that his inferences are grossly in error, I have a right, yes, an obligation, as does every other American, to say so to the best of my ability and in a place where as many people as possible will hear it.

There are probably thousands of people in this country who have more ability and who can do this better than I, but with five regular sessions and one special session as experience in the Iowa legislature, and during that time, having been a member of the Iowa delegation to the Council of State Governments, I am in a position to know something about the operation and function of state legislatures in Iowa, as well as some of the other states.

After reading these articles, I am honest to admit that there is a measure of truth in some of his revelations. I know from experience that we need to make more progress in attaining greater efficiency in state governments; we need to give attention to the question of fair and equitable representation, wherein lie many of the evils of our failure to have truly representative legislatures, and we need to move in the direction of giving legislators better pay and more time to accomplish the tremendous job that they have before them. But, for Velie to boldly state that legislatures carry on with their activities without people knowing they are in session is grossly in error and is to say that our great reporting and news services are totally broken down or completely under the control of some great unseen octopus over which the people have no control.

Digitized by Google

Now let me point out a few of the weaknesses in the articles published to date:

In the January issue, the title of the article was "The Great Unwatched." Velie points to the State of Louisiana and states that they, in the closing days of the session, passed bills at the rate of one every ninety seconds and that one senator admitted that he hadn't even read them. On the face of this it sounds bad, but let's analyze it a bit. First, what kind of bills were they? Many times in the Iowa Assembly, we have a series of legalizing acts, most of which concern only one county, one city, or even one township. They are acts to approve the action of some local community who either made some small mistake in a bonding issue for improvement locally, or, who want some local improvement. Or, these bills may be a series of Code corrections and, therefore, do not demand a lot of study. In spite of this, I know, at least in Iowa, these bills do not go unnoticed; most of the legislators watch the calendar of bills very closely, and they know, pretty well, what is in each of them. One further criticism in this regard, the senator which Mr. Velie mentions should be named so the people in the great State of Louisiana will know who he is, and my guess is that, if the people of his district know he does not keep informed, they will elect a new man to represent them.

The question of legislative pay is a problem in most states, as it is a problem in many other areas of state government.

On the question of bribery, there is no doubt that some of this occurs, but, in my opinion, not on the scale inferred by this article; and, when it is found, should be prosecuted to the fullest extent.

There are one hundred eight House members and fifty Senators in the Iowa Assembly, and as I have said before about this legislature, I don't know of another way that you could select that many people and have a higher per cent of fundamentally and personally honest, devoted, and sincere men and women than the system that is used to elect the members of the Iowa General Assembly. It is an accepted fact that those who have been here the longest period seem to be recognized and respected as among the most sincere and honest and are here in the public interest and welfare; therefore, I am sure that such bribery does not exist in the State of Iowa.

On the question of the predominance of the lawyers in the assemblies, someone has said that a politician is a man who has a little more than average interest in politics; and, it is my candid opinion that the lawyer, because of the nature of his profession, becomes aware of the importance of law, and develops a little more than average interest in politics. There may be some who do get fees for services, but, as a general rule, my feeling is that the percentage of honesty within this profession is as good as any other.

On Velie's general implication of the title of this article, namely, "The Great Unwatched"—that certainly is not true in Iowa. We, as must be the case in every legislature, have a fine corps of reporters representing all of the news services and special reporters for many of the fine daily papers and radio stations in the state who catch every detail of the effect of even the minutest mistake. They report, frankly, completely, and honestly. Many times they have great influence on the outcome of even minor legislation. Many legislators have often said, "you better not pull any boners around here where George or any of the other boys can find out about it." The conclusion I wish to impress on you is that we are not "The Great Unwatched." Here, we feel as if we live in a glass house.

In the February issue, the title of the article "Do You Know Your State's Secret Boss?" deals with the question of lobbyists and their influence. Anyone connected with any legislative body certainly must appreciate that there is lobbying influence and any student of government knows that we have had that ever since the inception of our government in Washington, D. C. Lobbying influence certainly isn't always good, in fact, many times it is bad; but, in the instances of the articles cited, where it points to one man being in control of state politics, if true, is most unfortunate. However, a student of government would have to admit that lobbyists may be good or bad and I suppose their judgment of what is a good or a bad lobby depends upon whether the lobby is representing those things that agree with their interest or do not agree.

It has been my experience to observe that a great deal of progress has been made in Iowa in the area of public school legislation with the help of the school lobbyists. The farm lobby in Iowa has been generally accepted by some as very good and, by others, they are accused of being selfish; but, generally it is agreed, by and large, they have been valuable in furnishing information to legislators that is helpful in determining certain issues, and, I am sure that one can find many examples of good lobbies in Iowa.

The registration of lobbyists and publication of certain information on expenditures is a step in the right direction in seeking to keep their power under control.

In summary, I must admit that there are good and bad lobbyists and a good legislator will find them very early and, generally speaking, the good lobbyists will get much more attention than the bad. The best and most predominate secret boss in Iowa is named "conscience."

In the March issue, the title of the article is, "Do Mobs Dictate Your Crime Laws?" In small print at the top of the title the quotation "Gangster infiltration of state legislatures is making a mockery of Democratic Government" appears. My reaction to this is that there may be instances where this is true, but generally, it is not true and the tendency for the influence of this type of people has been lessened materially, especially since the Kefauver hearings and the various little Kefauver committees that the states have had, who with the cooperation of the great press and radio have exposed their activities, and, because they have been exposed, great progress has been made in bringing them under control and eliminating many of the abuses they have been guilty of and the advantages they have in many areas of local and state government.

In the April issue, the title of the article is, "Shakedown in the State House." In this article, reference is made to advantages that certain legislators take. No doubt, there is a measure of truth in what is said, but the unfortunate thing about this article is that a lot of accusations are made thereby condemning all the members of all the Assemblies because, here again, as in the previous article, names of the people who are guilty of this type of thing are omitted. If it is true, and I think it is in many instances, before statements like this are made, all the facts should be given so that the people who are being represented by these guilty culprits will know about it so that in the next election, they can exercise their prerogative at the ballot box and send someone else to their legislature.

In the most recent issue, the title of the article is, "Too Many Lawmakers Spoil the State." In this article, Velie decries the corruption that exists in the state government and seems to blame it on the fact that we have two houses in all the legislatures except one and they have a unicameral legislature. It states that some extreme and unfortunate things have happened in certain states in committee structure and he refers especially to the State of New York. Based upon these few gross errors of judgment in these legislatures, Velie seems to think that the answer to the evils is a unicameral legislature, and implies that the cost of the legislature could be reduced as in the great State of Nebraska.

In the treating of this subject, he fails to recognize why our forefathers envisioned the virture of two-house assemblies, and space and time does not permit a complete discussion of this subject; but, it is fair to say that there is virtue in having one house check on the other and to have it set up where one house is, in a sense at least, a continuing body, and which in most instances is the Senate, usually considered the upper house. Here, too, the author fails to mention the many fine things that have been brought about in bicameral legislatures.

It is impossible to do a thorough job of completely analyzing these articles written in the Reader's Digest and to gather the true and complete facts on all the accusations listed and charged therein; but it is my humble opinion that the whole basis of these articles is the result of only preliminary studies, and by a man who doesn't completely understand the legislative process in all its details. Therefore, it is impossible for him to tell the complete story that should be told when this subject is treated. So, I suggest to the Reader's Digest people that before they consent to publishing articles of this type, they insist there be a complete and thorough study, especially when the articles have a tendency toward impugning a great system of government and self-rule.

This is not to say that we should ignore evils in government wherever they are. They should have the attention of every well meaning and sincere citizen in the hope that we can get better officials dedicated to the public interest. They should have the consideration of every public official; evils of bad government and reasons therefor should be a subject treated in public schools. I sincerely believe that in public schools there has not been done all that should be done to design their curriculum to give sufficient knowledge to the boys and girls who attend and graduate from our schools to make them the citizens they should be; and, therefore, educators should give attention to the importance of doing a better job in the area of graduating citizens.

I have been a member of the Council of State Governments since having been in the legislature, and, I want to testify that in this organization we may find the solution to many of the evils that are mentioned and referred to in these articles. In fact, much progress has already been made in the area of uniform laws and model legislation to deal with almost one hundred phases of state government; and so, those who are interested and want to make contributions could very easily find out about the program of the Council of State Governments and give aid and assistance at that level, and, also aid and assistance to a very fine organization that is striving to be of great service to all legislatures in all states.

Also, I should like to point out something that these articles have not yet mentioned or even referred to and that is the history of the progress that has been made for improvements of legislatures since the inception of the state governments. For instance, there are examples in Iowa history when the lobbyists were so well organized that they elected their own Governor and referred to him as the political leader of the state and, on occasions, the General Assembly abdicated in favor of the third house and the elected Governor of the lobby proceeded to address the House and to give his inaugural speech or his final speech and advice to the legislature; also, there are instances where the Iowa House Journal refers to the fact that they officially moved in favor of the third house beginning Saturday noon of each week the legislature was in session and the newspaper articles of that day state the fact that the House adjourned and the lobbyists took over, brought their liquor and beer in the back door, and we presume, they celebrated the success of the lobby until late in the evening on beer, liquor, and sandwiches in our state house.

On another occasion, the head of the lobby for railroads was accused of having given railroad passes to one hundred and twenty-one members of the General Assembly and when accused of the fact, he said: "It's a damn lie, there are one hundred and forty-seven members in the legislature and they all got passes." This does not happen in Iowa today and has not happened for years. The influence of the lobby is not as great as it used to be and the lobbies that we do have recognize certain moral rules that they do not violate, and if they are violated many times, they are disciplined by the groups of lobbies themselves or by the legislature.

Many other examples of improvements could be pointed out on this subject. What I mean to say here is, that certainly it isn't perfect, but it is more perfect, and as we look to the future, as we give more sincere attention to these things we will continue to make more rapid progress as we should.

In conclusion, let me just say this: I realize many shortcomings of the legislative assemblies and even in our own legislative body, but I am not one who would want to have a complete change and say a different form of legislative government might be better; rather, I would want to bear true faith and allegiance to our forefathers who gave us a great system of self-rule and to see America become the envy of the world. Even with all our shortcomings, we still believe in the fundamental philosophy of the dignity of man and seek sincerely to protect the interest of minority groups. We have free speech; we have the right to criticize; we have the right to promote ideas; we have the right to elect our representatives; and within the bounds of our Constitution, America can be and have almost anything she wants. Under this system we can make progress, and I believe we will make progress. The important thing, however, for the public to remember is that each and every individual with the ability to think has an obligation to his government to participate in it by voting intelligently. If he does that he will get intelligent leadership.

The changing to a unicameral in the state legislatures or to a city manager government is not good unless we have good people. The same is true of state legislatures as now constituted. If the people will see to it that they have good people to represent them, they will have good government.

Let us remember this, too, that our system of government is not the most efficient, it is much more costly in dollars and cents than any form of dictatorship, but the price you pay for dictatorship is no comparison to the small price we pay for representative government; and if every citizen will recognize his responsibilities and that great moral law initiated by one who traversed this earth several thousand years ago, that of doing unto others as you would have them do unto you, that law will give us better government, strengthen our government and with the strengthening of it, growth and progress of our government be a unified influence in the leadership we need in this world today.

There could be no finer home or foreign policy than to have other people point to this great nation and say: "There is a people who know and, in their knowing, understand."

CITY OF WATERLOO

April 6, 1953.

The Honorable Wm. S. Lynes,
Speaker of the House,
State House,
Des Moines, Iowa.
Dear Sir:

I just want to take a moment of your time and express the deep and sincere appreciation of the members of the legislative committee of the League of Iowa Municipalities and myself for your splendid cooperation in getting our municipal bills approved by the House of Representatives.

I realize that you have had a great many problems this session and I know that the time and effort which you have spent in obtaining favorable consideration of our municipal bills were done at considerable sacrifice of your limited time. You may be sure that the city and town officials throughout the entire state will be grateful for your cooperation.

With kindest personal regards, I remain

Very truly yours,
L. A. TOUCHAE, Mayor.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE FILE 514

My vote on House File 514 may be explained in this manner:

I disagree with the bill as written since it did not include an increase in salaries for the liquor control commission. They, in effect, are taking a $300 reduction in salary under the terms of this bill. The commission is charged with the administration of millions of dollars in goods and money and should have the same consideration in salary increases as other departments.

TATE of Cerro Gordo.

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

Senate File 1, a bill for an act to repeal sections one hundred ninety-four point one (194.1) to one hundred ninety-four point thirteen (194.13), inclusive, Code 1950, relating to the excise tax of five cents (5¢) per pound upon oleomargarine, was taken up for consideration.

Paul of Poweshiek offered the following amendment, filed by him, and moved its adoption:

Amend Senate File 1 by adding a new section as follows:

"Amend section four hundred twenty-seven point thirteen (427.13), Code 1950, subsection two (2), by striking the period after the word "age" in line 2 and adding "except that cows and heifers one year old or older kept for milking and for the sale of milk and its products shall be exempt from assessment for personal property tax."

Further amend the title to Senate File 1 by adding the following: "and to amend section four hundred twenty-seven point thirteen (427.13), subsection two (2) relating to property taxes on farm animals".

STATE OF CONNECTICUT
Office of the Secretary
January Session
A.D. 1953

Resolved by this Assembly:

Whereas, at the 1949 session the General Assembly adopted Senate Joint Resolution 15, a resolution making application to Congress to call a constitutional convention to consider amendments to the Constitution of the United States to facilitate participation in a World Federation, and

Whereas, this action has been interpreted as involving the surrender of the sovereignty of our nation;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved: That the General Assembly does hereby rescind said Senate Joint Resolution 15 of the 1949 session; and begs leave to withdraw said application now pending before Congress; and

Be It Further Resolved:

1. That the people of the State of Connecticut by a referendum vote in 1948 indicated their approval of strengthening the United Nations to prevent war and the members of their General Assembly hereby express their sincere interest in and concern for the effective maintenance of world peace; and

2. That, with a full appreciation of the existing circumstances and the sincerity and good will which prompted preceding General Assemblies to enact the resolutions which in their time appeared desirable, it is the sense of this General Assembly that present-day conditions justify a differently-stated approach to the problem of maintaining world peace; and

3. That we favor neither the extreme of an international super-state to which our national sovereignty would be subject nor the extreme of nationalistic isolationism, but, holding that in a world of law there can be peace, and that the present best hope for a just and honorable peace lies in the United Nations, we believe that it should be a fundamental objective of the foreign policy of the United States to support and strengthen the United Nations and to seek its development into an organization of such defined and limited powers as are essential to the enactment and enforcement of world law to prevent aggression and to maintain peace; and

Be It Further Resolved: That the Secretary of the State of Connecticut hereby is directed to transmit copies of this resolution to the Senate

GOVERNOR'S VETO MESSAGE ON HOUSE FILE 328

May 28, 1953.

Honorable Melvin D. Synhorst,
Secretary of State,
State House.

Dear Mr. Synhorst:

I am delivering to you, unsigned, House File 328.

Section 2 of this bill provides for the contracting of work without competitive bidding up to the amount of $25,000. In my judgment, this is not sound public policy, as a transaction of that size should be subject to competitive bidding.

Very truly yours,
WM. S. BEARDSLEY,
Governor.

OSCAR ANDERSON

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee, appointed to prepare a suitable resolution commemorating the life, character and public service of the late Honorable Oscar Anderson, begs leave to submit the following memorial:

Mr. Anderson was born in LaSalle county, Illinois, January 22, 1872, and passed away August 12, 1951. When two months old he moved with his parents to a farm in Decatur county, Iowa, near Lamoni.

He attended the rural schools, the Lamoni High School, and graduated from Highland Park College of Des Moines, Iowa. He taught school in Lamoni, Iowa, for three years.

He was cashier of the State Savings Bank of Lamoni, having been connected with it since its organization July 1, 1898. He owned and operated a farm. He was elected Mayor of Lamoni in 1920, and served for two years. He was a member of the Lamoni school board for twenty-three consecutive years, and was also chairman of the Decatur county hospital board.

Mr. Anderson married Ella Belle Kelley on June 28, 1906. To this union were born three children, Oscar Kelley, Richard Carol, and Margaret Belle. He was a member of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

Mr. Anderson was elected Representative from Decatur county in 1924, serving in the Forty-first Session of the General Assembly. He was a Republican in politics.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson lived in Des Moines several years prior to his death. He was Budget Director and worked in the Tax Commission office for several years. He was ill three years. His son, Richard Carroll, preceded him in death.

Mr. Anderson is survived by his wife; one son, Oscar Kelley, who is president of the New England Life Insurance Company and who resides in Boston; one daughter, Mrs. Harry G. Barnes, living in New York City; one grandchild, Oscar Kelley II; a host of relatives, friends and acquaintances.

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly of Iowa, That in the passing of the Honorable Oscar Anderson, the state has lost an honored citizen and a faithful, useful public servant, and the House, by this resolution would express its appreciation of his service and tender its sympathy to the members of his family.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House and that the Chief Clerk be directed to forward an enrolled copy to the family of the deceased.

JUSTIN R. BARRY

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee, appointed to prepare a suitable resolution commemorating the life, character and public service of the late Honorable Justin R. Barry, begs leave to submit the following memorial:

Mr. Barry was born in Linn county, Iowa, January 20, 1873, and passed away July 15, 1951. His parents were Mr. and Mrs. James Nicholas Barry. His father was a native of New York and his mother was born in Pennsylvania. He was educated in the public schools.

Mr. Barry was known for years as a leader in publishing and road improvement circles. At his death he was a publisher of the Cherokee Daily Times and Courier. Prior to 1915, Mr. Barry and his brother published the Walker, Iowa, News in Linn county. He was a member of the Iowa Press Association, Iowa Daily Press Association, the National Editorial Association and National Press Club of Washington, D. C. Always a staunch backer for road improvements, Mr. Barry was president of the U. S. Highway 59 Association, since its founding in 1934.

Mr. Barry was married in May, 1904, to Miss Adelaide L. Haight of Cedar Rapids. To this union was born one son, Jeffrey Robert.

Always active in church affairs, Mr. Barry was a Methodist church member and held a position on the board of trustees.

Mr. Barry was elected Representative from Linn county in 1913, serving in the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth Sessions of the General Assembly. He was a Republican in politics.

Mr. Barry was active in civic affairs, having been president of the Chamber of Commerce in Cherokee in 1925-26, and a charter member of the Chamber and a member of the group's board of directors from 1923 to 1935. During World War I he was chairman of publicity in Cherokee for the Liberty Loan and American Red Cross drives. He was a member of Speculative Lodge A.F. and A.M. 307, Cherokee, and a past master of the Walker Lodge from 1903 to 1905 and 1910 to 1912; also a member of Burning Bush Lodge No. 90, Royal Arch Masons of Cherokee, and Crusade Commandery, No. 39, Knights Templar, Cherokee.

Mr. Barry is survived by his wife, Adelaide; four grandchildren; a brother, Arthur J., and a sister, Mrs. Ella Booth of Davenport. Grandchildren are Mary Joe, Patricia Ann, James and Ricky. His son, Jeffrey Robert, preceded the deceased in death December 22, 1949.

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly of Iowa, That in the passing of the Honorable Justin R. Barry, the state has lost an honored citizen and a faithful, useful public servant, and the House, by this resolution would express its appreciation of his service, and tender its sympathy to the members of his family.

RICHARD C. BERRY

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee, appointed to prepare a suitable resolution commemorating the life, character and public service of the late Honorable Richard C. Berry, begs leave to submit the following memorial:

Richard C. Berry was born in Durham county, England, November 8, 1876, and passed away at Fort Dodge, Iowa, March 4, 1953, at the age of 76 years, three months and twenty-four days.

He was the son of John and Mary Berry. He came to America with his parents at the age of five years. His first home in America was in Greene county, Iowa, where he lived for about ten years. Leaving Greene county, he moved to Pomeroy where he attended the local high school, after which he took a course in Highland Park College in Des Moines and also a course in Chillicothe Business College in Chillicothe, Missouri. After his graduation from there, he returned to Pomeroy where he lived until his death.

He began his work in the Pomeroy State Bank in 1899 and remained in its service until his retirement in 1947, having served for many years as cashier and vice president.

He was greatly interested and was very active in the affairs of the community, serving for many years as a member of the town council and of the local school board, and at the time of his death was clerk of Butler township. He also served his county as Representative in the Legislature for two terms, serving in the Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth Sessions of the Legislature.

Mr. Berry was a member of the Woodman, Masonic and Eastern Star Lodges and was active in them.

On June 19, 1904, he was united in marriage with Miss Nellis Holmes. Three children were born to them. Two of them, twins, Paul and Pauline, died soon after birth in 1920.

He was preceded in death by his wife, who passed away July 27, 1944.

Mr. Berry is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Gladys Albrecht, and three grandsons.

M. N. BROWN,
Committee.

EDWARD R. BROWN

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee, appointed to prepare a suitable resolution commemorating the life, character and public service of the late Honorable Edward R. Brown, begs leave to submit the following memorial:

Edward R. Brown was born November 11, 1876, at Greenfield, Iowa, and died in Des Moines, Iowa, November 1, 1952, at the age of 76 years. He attended elementary and high schools in Greenfield and later he attended Omaha Business College, the Capital City Commercial College of Des Moines, and Drake University Law School, from which he graduated in 1900. Before entering practice, he served two years as official court reporter in the Tenth Judicial District, and was confidential secretary to Governor Leslie M. Shaw, from 1898 to 1900. In 1900 he was united in marriage with Katherine Cowell, and in 1950 they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

Mr. Brown practiced law for nine years at Stuart, Iowa, and served one term as county attorney of Adair county. Later Mr. and Mrs. Brown removed to Palisades, Colorado, where he engaged in the practice of law until his return to Iowa, beginning his practice of law in Des Moines in 1914 and continuing there until his death. His interests were varied and not limited to his professional practice. He took a keen interest in public questions.

A loyal, life-long Republican, he rendered much public service to Polk county and the state of Iowa. Elected to represent the county in the State Legislature in 1930, he served as Secretary of the Legislative Committee for Reduction of Governmental Expenditures, authorized by the Forty-fourth General Assembly in 1931. He failed of renomination in 1932, but was returned to the legislature in 1936. In that body he devoted long hours of study to proposed iegislation and was recognized as a leader.

Ed R. Brown was a man of strong convictions and did not hesitate to express them when the occasion arose. With him there was no straddling or evasion of issues affecting this community and the state of Iowa. He played an important but inconspicuous part in several political campaigns, notably those of Dan W. Turner and George A. Wilson.

Mr. Brown was a member of the First Methodist Church. He was also identified with the Blue Lodge, the Consistory and the Shrine of the Masonic Order.

Mr. Brown is survived by his wife and three brothers, Fred Brown of Oklahoma, Allan Brown of Greenfield, and Harry G. Brown of Des Moines.

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly of Iowa, That in the passing of the Honorable Edward R. Brown, the state has lost an honored citizen and a faithful, useful public servant, and the House, by this resolution, would express its appreciation of his service, and tender its sympathy to the members of his family.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House and the Chief Clerk be directed to forward an enrolled copy to the family of the deceased.

J. O. WATSON, JR.,
Committee.

CASSIUS ALLEN BRYSON

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee, appointed to prepare a suitable resolution commemorating the life, character and public service of the late Honorable Cassius Allen Bryson, begs leave to submit the following memorial:

Cassius Allen Bryson was born in Ackley, Iowa, May 18, 1874. He was a life-long resident of Hardin county and a prominent political figure for a half century.

Mr. Bryson was the son of a prominent attorney and founder of the Ackley Tribune. His mother was Cathagenia Allen Bryson. He was graduated from the Ackley High School and moved with his parents to Iowa Falls in the spring of 1894. He studied law in his father's office before attending Drake University School of Law, Des Moines, Iowa, from which he graduated in 1897. He began the practice of law in Iowa Falls in 1899, joining his brother, Boyd, in a partnership to succeed their father. He was a member of the Hardin County Eleventh Judicial District, and State Bar Association.

Mr. Bryson had a long record of political service, as well as being active in the affairs of veterans' organizations. For many years he had served as permanent chairman of the Memorial Day Committee in Iowa Falls.

In the field of politics he was one of the county's powers in Republican circles, being county chairman of the party for 22 years, and serving in the Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, Fiftieth Extra, Fifty-first, Fifty-second and Fifty-second Extra Sessions of the Iowa Legislature.

He was Iowa Falls city attorney at the time of his death, a post he had held continuously since 1924, after earlier serving in the same capacity from 1901 to 1903. He was Hardin county attorney for three terms, from 1910 to 1916. He also was a member of the Iowa Falls fire department for 40 years, from which he retired many years ago.

Mr. Bryson was a member of the Sons of Union Veterans, and for three years served as state commander of the Iowa division. He was also national counselor of the organization.

He was married November 30, 1899, at Des Moines to his first wife, Miss Jessie F. Reissner, who died March 26, 1946. Three children, all of whom are living, were born to the couple. They are Mrs. Paul E. Jones, Sr., of Iowa Falls; two sons, Philip of Ironwood, Michigan, and Robert of Moorpark, California. His present wife, May, also survives him.

Mr. Bryson died on March 29, 1952, at the age of 77 years, after a few weeks' illness.

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly of Iowa, That in the passing of the Honorable Cassius Allen Bryson the state has lost an honored citizen and a faithful, useful public servant, and the House by this resolution, would express its appreciation of his service, and tender its sympathy to the members of his family.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House and that the Chief Clerk be directed to forward an enrolled copy to the family of the deceased.

PAUL M. WALTER,
G. T. KUESTER,
JOHN A. WALKER,
Committee.

CLYDE B. CHARLTON

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee, appointed to prepare a suitable resolution commemorating the life, character and public service of the late Honorable Clyde B. Charlton, begs leave to submit the following memorial:

Clyde B. Charlton was born at Rolfe, Iowa, on January 10, 1899. He attended public schools in that town, graduating from the Rolfe High School in 1916. After serving in the United States Navy in World War

Digitized by Google

I, he entered the University of Iowa from which he received a Bachelor of Arts degree in 1921 and the degrees of Bachelor of Laws and Juris Doctor in 1923.

After his graduation from law school, Mr. Charlton was admitted to the bar in Iowa in June of 1923 and at once commenced the practice of law in Des Moines with the firm of Stipp, Perry, Bannister and Starzinger. In 1926 he formed a partnership with Louis A. Parker.

Mr. Charlton married Grace Orcutt of Monroe, Iowa, on June 12, 1926. To this union were born two children, Anne Charlton and Clyde Henry Charlton.

In 1929 Mr. Charlton and Mr. Parker, with Joseph I. Brody and the late Judge George E. Brammer formed the law firm of Brammer, Brody, Charlton & Parker, which emained in existence until 1948 when its name was changed to Brammer, Brody, Charlton, Parker and Roberts. In 1950 this firm was succeeded by the firm of Brody, Charlton, Parker & Roberts, of which Mr. Charlton was a member at the time of his death.

In addition to practicing law, Mr. Charlton was financially interested in a number of local business concerns and actively participated, as an executive, in the management of their affairs. He was general counsel and director of Wood Brothers, Inc., from 1935 to 1947 and was president and director of the Orcutt Hybrid Corn Company from 1940 to 1946. He became a vice president and director of the Iowa Paint Manufacturing Company in 1933 and of Iowa Guarantee, Inc., in 1938. He continued to hold these offices until the date of his death.

Throughout his life, Mr. Charlton was active in the Republican Party and a strong believer in its principles. He was elected on the Republican ticket as State Representative from Polk county in the Forty-second Iowa General Assembly. He was a delegate to numerous county and state conventions and in 1932 was a delegate to the party's national convention in Chicago.

Mr. Charlton's sudden and untimely death occurred at Des Moines, Iowa, on October 29, 1951. He left to survive him his wife and two children.

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly of Iowa, That in the passing of the Honorable Clyde B. Charlton, the state has lost an honored citizen and a faithful, useful public servant, and the House, by this resolution, would express its appreciation of his service, and tender its sympathy to the members of his family.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House and the Chief Clerk be directed to forward an enrolled copy to the family of the deceased.

CHARLES OSCAR DAYTON

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee, appointed to prepare a suitable resolution commemorating the life, character and public service of the late Honorable Charles Oscar Dayton, begs leave to submit the following memorial:

Charles Oscar Dayton was born in Washington county, Iowa, on December 11, 1871, and died on March 16, 1952.

He was united in marriage to Louella Davis of Washington, Iowa, on October 30, 1894. To this union were born two sons, Kenneth Warren and Charles Raymond.

Mr. and Mrs. Dayton attended Washington Academy and following their marriage they both taught in the Washington schools for a period of time.

Later, Mr. Dayton engaged in farming and continued to farm until 1919. He then had a farm sale and moved with his family to Washington, where he operated the C. O. Dayton Tax Service for the next 30 years.

He was a member of the board of supervisors for two terms. He was elected to the House of Representatives and served in the Forty-third and Forty-fourth Sessions of the General Assembly of Iowa.

His wife passed away on May 24, 1950.

He is survived by his sons and daughters-in-law and two grandchildren, and a host of friends and acquaintances.

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly of Iowa, That in the passing of the Honorable Charles Oscar Dayton, the state has lost an honored citizen and a faithful, useful public servant, and the House, by this resolution, would express its appreciation of his service, and tender its sympathy to the members of his family.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House and that the Chief Clerk be directed to forward an enrolled copy to the family of the deceased.

HARRY W. RAMSMEYER,
KENNETH R. MOORE,
RAYMOND CORNICK,
Committee.

LEE W. ELWOOD

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee, appointed to prepare a suitable resolution commemorating the life, character and public service of the late Honorable Lee W. Elwood, begs leave to submit the following resolution:

Lee W. Elwood was born on a farm in Howard county, Iowa, on December 27, 1888, and passed away at Cresco, Iowa, on December 28, 1951, at the age of 63 years. He was the son of Frank D. and Katherine Harris Elwood. He was graduated from the Elma public school in 1906 and the University of Iowa law school in 1909, with a Bachelor of Law degree.

Mr. Elwood was regarded as one of Iowa's foremost attorneys, and at the time of his death was a member of the Board of Governors of the Iowa State Bar Association. He was always vitally interested in community, state and national affairs and politics and served in numerous civic capacities, including active membership on the World War II Appeal Board. He was a member of the Congregational Church, Masonic Lodge, Shriners, Woodmen and the Elks. He was always an exponent of the "hard fight," coupled with fair play, in any project, activity or lawsuit he ever undertook or cause he ever championed.

Mr. Elwood was elected on the Republican ticket to the State Legislature as a Representative from Howard county in 1912 and served in that capacity for three successive terms. He was one of the youngest members ever to serve in the Iowa Lgislature. During his service in that capacity he was co-author of the Elwood-Mackey bill which created the present Iowa Highway Commission. He was one of the sponsors of the bill which was instrumental in affecting a physical connection between telephone and telegraph companies operating within the state.

On June 27, 1917, he was united in marriage with Alice Church in Elma, Iowa. He operated a real estate business in Elma with his father and two brothers and engaged in the practice of law in Elma until 1926. In April, 1926, he and his brother, Dale Elwood, began a law partnership in Cresco, Iowa. Later this partnership was joined by Gerald E. Lyons and became known as Elwood, Lyons and Elwood.

His untimely death is mourned by his wife and three children, Fred C. Elwood of Cresco, Iowa; Josephine Landholt of Elma, Iowa, and Alice Lee Jaeger of St. Paul, Minnesota.

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly of Iowa, That in the passing of the Honorable Lee W. EDWARD D. RAYBURN

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee, appointed to prepare a suitable resolution commemorating the life, character and public service of the late Honorable Edward D. Rayburn, begs to submit the following memorial:

Edward D. Rayburn was born at Montezuma, Iowa, July 22, 1874, and died April 14, 1953, at his home in Washington, Iowa.

His father, Amos F. Rayburn, who was a Civil War veteran, was born in Clinton County, Ohio, and his mother, Nettie Brosius, was born at Knightstown, Indiana. He graduated from the Montezuma High School and the State Teachers College at Cedar Falls in 1895. After graduation from college, he became a bookkeeper for the First National Bank of Montezuma of which bank he later became president. He was active in the civic life of his community, county and state, assisting in the improvement of streets, schools, and parks. He was one of the pioneers in the good roads program for Iowa.

During World War I, he was chairman of the Liberty Loan drives in Poweshiek County and eceived special recognition from the Treasury Department both for himself and the county for his outstanding success in the sale of bonds. Because of this wide experience in the banking field, he was called on by both the national and state banking departments to serve as receiver of many banks.

In 1932, he moved to Washington, Iowa, to take charge of a number of banks in liquidation in that vicinity. After completion of this task, he remained in Washington and engaged in the real estate business until the time of his last illness.

He was married in 1898 to Gertrude Powell, and had one son, Powell A. Rayburn. He was a member of the Methodist Church, and also of the

I.O.O.F., Knights of Pythias, Sons of Veterans, B.P.O.E., and Masonic Lodges, having been a member of the Consistory and the Mystic Shrine.

Mr. Rayburn was elected Representative of Poweshiek County and served in the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh sessions of the General Assembly.

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly of Iowa, That in the passing of the late Honorable Edward D. Rayburn, the State has lost an honored citizen and a faithful, useful public servant, and the House, by this resolution would express its appreciation of his service, and tender its sympathy to the members of his family.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House and that the Chief Clerk be directed to forward an enrolled copy to the widow and son of the deceased.

MAHLON N. BROWN,
CARROLL L. BROWN,
Committee.

GEORGE H. ROBB

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee, appointed to prepare a suitable resolution commemorating the life, character and public service of the late Honorable George H. Robb, begs leave to submit the following memorial:

George H. Robb was born February 15, 1881, in Morris, Illinois. He came with his parents to Estherville, Iowa in 1893. He received his education in the Morris, Illinois and the Estherville, Iowa public schools. He also attended the Kankakee Commercial College at Kankakee, Illinois.

In 1902 Mr. Robb was married to Nellie R. Crim of Estherville. They had two children, J. Merrill and Maurine.

Mr. Robb farmed twenty-five years near Estherville, and for twenty years operated a livestock buying station and sales barn.

George Robb was known for his community service. He served thirteen years on the Estherville board of education, two years on the city council, and was mayor of Estherville. He was a charter member of the Emmet County Farm Bureau, and served as president of the Estherville Chamber of Commerce. He was active in the Methodist Church.

Mr. Robb was a prominent member of the Republican party. He served in the Fiftieth, Fiftieth Extra, Fifty-first, Fifty-second and Fifty-second Extra, and the Fifty-third sessions of the Iowa Legislature. He resigned as mayor of Estherville to accept appointment by Governor William S. Beardsley to the State Tax Commission in April, 1950. He was vice-chairman of the State Tax Commission at the time of his death.

Mr. Robb is survived by his wife and two children J. Merrill and Mrs. Evan Higgins, and five grandchildren all of Estherville.

George Robb died on October 27, 1951 at the age of 70.

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly of Iowa, That in the passing of the Honorable George H. Robb the State has lost an honored citizen and a faithful, useful public servant and the House by this resolution, would express its appreciation of his service, and tender its sympathy to the members of his family.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House and that the Chief Clerk be directed to forward an enrolled copy to the family of the deceased.

PAUL M. WALTERS,
W. H. TATE,
Committee.

WILLIAM W. SAYLOR

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee, appointed to prepare a suitable resolution commemorating the life, character and public service of the late Honorable William W. Saylor, begs leave to submit the following memorial:

William W. Saylor was born December 22, 1858, in Somerset County, Pennsylvania—one of nine children born to Samuel and Sarah Saylor. He died Wednesday, January 9, 1952, at Waverly, Iowa, and was buried January 11 at Harlington Cemetery in that city. Death was caused by shock due to a fractured hip, which was broken when Mr. Saylor accidentally fell in his bedroom.

He came to Iowa with his parents in 1859 and settled in Waterloo. In 1871 the family moved to a farm south of Denver, Iowa.

As a youth, Mr. Saylor attended Iowa State Teachers' College at Cedar Falls. In 1885 he married Kathryn Winner of Waverly. They resided in Mitchell, South Dakota, for four years, returning to Waverly in 1889.

Throughout his life Mr. Saylor occupied many positions of honor and trust in his community. He was a member of the Public School Board for seventeen years—part of the time as president. He also served on the town council and was elected mayor for two terms. He served as a member of the House of Representatives in the Iowa Legislature during the Thirtieth, Thirty-first and Thirty-second sessions. He was a member of the Masonic Blue Lodge for more than fifty years as well as belonging to the Chapter and the Knights Templar and also to the Odd Fellows Fraternity. Most of his life he was engaged in the retail and wholesale lumber business. Mrs. Saylor and his son, Merrill, preceded him in death. Surviving are a son, Lynn, and a granddaughter, Carolyn, both of Chicago.

In the passing of Mr. Saylor both the State and community suffer the loss of an outstanding and upright citizen. The good works performed by him during his long life of ninety-four years will live on for many years to come.

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly of Iowa, That in the passing of the Honorable William W. Saylor the State has lost a valued and honored citizen, and the House would tender its sincere sympathy to the surviving members of his family in their sorrow.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House and that the Chief Clerk be directed to forward an enrolled copy to the family of the deceased.

W. S. LYNES,
WAYNE W. BALLHAGEN,
GRANT LAUER,
Committee.

WILLIAM SCHMEDIKA

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee, appointed to prepare a suitable resolution commemorating the life, character and public service of the late Honorable William Schmedika, begs leave to submit the following memorial:

William Schmedika was born in Shullsburg, Wisconsin, August 19, 1869, son of Henry and Mary Schmedika. He had been a resident of Hardin County since he moved there with his parents at the age of four years. The family moved to the Radcliffe vicinity where he grew up. In 1928 he moved to his farm southeast of Iowa Falls.

Mr. Schmedika was active in political circles for a number of years. He served in both Houses of the Iowa Legislature, being elected to the House of Representatives in 1915 and to the Senate in 1923. He served one term in each of the branches.

He was also a frequent candidate for county and state offices, running on both the Democratic and Independent tickets. He was last a candidate for a state office on one of the minor party tickets.

He was married to Miss Clara Awe in 1889, who died in 1907. Four children, all of whom are living, were born to the couple. They are Mrs. Noble Johnson and Mrs. Bert Benson, both of Radcliffe; and two sons, Dale of Alden and Roy of Jewell.

Mr. Schmedika died on June 3, 1951, at the age of 81 years.

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly of Iowa, That in the passing of The Honorable William Schmedika the State has lost an honored citizen and a faithful, useful public servant, and the House by this resolution, would express its appreciation of his service, and tender its sympathy to the members of his family.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House and that the Chief Clerk be directed to forward an enrolled copy to the family of the deceased.

PAUL M. WALTER,
FLOYD P. EDGINGTON,
JOHN A. WALKER,
Committee.

ERIC W. SCOTT

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee, appointed to prepare a suitable resolution commemorating the life, character and public service of the late Honorable Eric W. Scott, begs leave to submit the following memorial:

Eric W. Scott was born in Prussia February 14, 1880. He was the son of Simon and Anna Kruser Scott. He came with his parents to America in the year 1881. They settled on a farm two miles northwest of Wall Lake, Iowa, and a year later moved to a farm north of Lake View.

He was united in marriage to Mary Lenora Quinlan on April 15, 1903, who preceded him in death in February of 1947. To this union were born two sons, Everett E. of Lake View and Lloyd W. of Pocahontas, Iowa.

Mr. Scott was a member of the Methodist Church, the Masonic Lodge, the Shrine and the Commandery. He was State Representative from Sac County from 1936 to 1942, serving in the Forty-seventh, Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth and Fiftieth sessions of the General Assembly.

Through the years he farmed extensively; was owner and operator of the Scott Grain Company; was president of the Farmers State Bank and manager of the Union Telephone Company.

On February 3, 1948, he was married to Martha Batie Hawthorne. He died October 31, 1952, at Loring hospital.

He is survived by his wife, Martha; two sons, Everett of Lake View, Iowa, and Lloyd, of Pocahontas; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Robert Carlson of Duncan, Oklahoma; a stepson, Batie Hawthorne, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, and several grandchildren.

EVERETT L. STEWART

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee, appointed to prepare a suitable resolution commemorating the life, character and public service of the late Honorable Everett L. Stewart, begs leave to submit the following memorial:

Everett L. Stewart was born in Washington County, Iowa, February 9, 1885, on the same farm where he died June 23, 1951. His home had always been on this farm where his father and uncle cleared the land after the Civil War.

He received his early education in the rural school and was graduated from Washington Academy, attended Monmouth College, Monmouth, Illinois, for one year and graduated from the Iowa State College at Ames in the class of 1909. For several years after his graduation he was with the Extension Service of the college during the winter months judging corn at their institutes and traveling with the "corn train."

He was united in marriage March 15, 1913, at Des Moines, Iowa, to Jessie M. White and to this union were born four daughters, who are now Mrs. T. E. Tuttle, Mrs. Lewis Williams, Mrs. David Scott, and Mrs. W. F. Monnier. These daughters and his wife survive him.

Mr. Stewart was a member of the Washington United Presbyterian Church, where he had been very active in the work of the congregation. He taught the Men's Bible Class and for 24 years was an elder in this church and was serving as a member of the board of trustees at the time of his death. He was chairman of the special building committee that directed extensive remodeling of the church's interior.

From 1934 to 1942 Mr. Stewart served as Washington County's Representative in the General Assembly. In politics he was a Republican.

PAUL E. STILLMAN

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee, appointed to prepare a suitable resolution commemorating the life, charcater and public service of the late Honorable Paul E. Stillman, begs leave to submit the following memorial:

Paul E. Stillman was born in Chicago, Illinois, November 4, 1868. He was the son of E. B. and Elizabeth Bowman Stillman. He attended school in Chicago, and then at Waucoma, Iowa, where his father engaged in the business of milling. He later attended high school at the Chicago Manual Training School.

He came with his parents to Iowa in 1856, and resided in Iowa City, Des Moines and Sioux City. His father established the Sioux City Journal in 1863. Following that, he returned to Chicago and operated a printing establishment until the great Chicago fire, after which the Stillmans returned to Iowa and to Waucoma.

In 1884 he became associated in the publication of The Jefferson Bee.

Mr. Stillman entered the University of Michigan in 1887, graduating in 1891 with a degree of Bachelor of Arts. He purchased an interest in The Jefferson Bee that year and became active in its publication with his brother, Frank.

He served three terms, from 1907 to 1911, in the House of Representatives, being Speaker of the House in the Thirty-fourth General Assembly. In 1914 he was temporary chairman of the Republican state convention, and in 1916 a delegate to the Republican national convention. He served eight years as a member of the Iowa State Board of Education, and removed to Glendale, California in 1923, and established the Stillman Printing Company, in which he remained active until a short time prior to his death.

Mr. Stillman married Edith May Anderson of Jefferson, in February, 1894, who died. His second wife, Anne Ruth Anderson survives him, also a son, Paul B. Stillman, and two daughters, Mrs. James Van Scoy and Mrs. Carol Higley of Glendale, and three grandchildren. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church, the Masonic bodies, I.O.O.F. and various civic organizations at both Jefferson and Glendale, and held an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from Rollins College at Winter Park, Florida.

Mr. Stillman died at Carona del Mar, California, February 15, 1952.

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly of Iowa, That in the passing of The Honorable Paul E. Stillman, the State has lost and honored citizen, and a faithful, useful public servant, and the House by this resolution would express its appreciation of his service, and tender its sympathy to the members of his family.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House and that the Chief Clerk be directed to forward an enrolled copy to the family of the deceased.

ADNA M. UTTERBACK

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee, appointed to prepare a suitable resolution commemorating the life, character and public service of the late Honorable Adna M. Utterback, begs leave to submit the following memorial:

Adna M. Utterback was the son of Josiah and Frances Utterback, born April 9, 1860 near Sigourney, Iowa. He lived his entire life in Keokuk County moving to Hedrick, Iowa, in 1890. His first of many business enterprises in Hedrick was a lumber and implement business. In the middle 1940's Mr. Utterback sold his farm and livestock and became inactive in business.

Perhaps, his most outstanding enterprise, was the promotion of the kite race track just before the turn of the century. He was not the founder of the track but purchased an interest in the venture in 1892.

He soon bought out his partners in the business and operated the track until about 1900.

Mr. Utterback served one term as a member of the Keokuk County Board of Supervisors. He was elected as a state legislator in 1901 and 1902.

He was united in marriage to Julie Hayes, who preceded him in death in 1934. He later married Florence Taylor of Martinsbug, who survives. Other survivors are three daughters, Mrs. Blanche Smith, Santa Ana, California; Mrs. Ruth Scholey, Glendale, California; and Mrs. J. J. Ries of Hedrick, Iowa. A son, Fred A. of Glendale, California, and a sister, Mrs. Rosa Hauser, Pasadena, California; nine grandchildren and nine great grandchildren. A son, Hubert A., preceded him in death.

Mr. Utterback died October 1, 1951, at Sigourney, Iowa.

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly of Iowa, That in the passing of The Honorable Adna M. Utterback, the state has lost an honored citizen, and a faithful, useful public servant, and the House by this resolution would express its appreciation of his service, and tender its sympathy to the members of his family.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House and that the Chief Clerk be directed to forward an enrolled copy to the family of the deceased.

GEORGE M. VOSSELER

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee, appointed to prepare a suitable resolution commemorating the life, character and public service of the late Honorable George M. Vosseller, begs leave to submit the following memorial:

George M. Vosseller, son of Sanford and Margaret Hirleman Vosseller was born Febuary 15, 1874 and passed away at Mercy Hospital, Waverly, Iowa, March 7, 1953. He was born on a farm in Lafayette Township, Bremer County, where he spent fifty-six years of his life before retiring to his home in Waverly in 1930. He received his early education in rural schools, later attending Waverly High School. On March 4, 1897, he was united in marriage to Mamie Larkin of Plainfield, Iowa. To this union was born five children, Earl and Mrs. Vern Schield of Waverly; Loey and Edward of Plainfield. One daughter, in infancy, preceded him in death.

Digitized by Google

He was a member of the Methodist Church of Waverly; Tyrell Lodge 116 A. F. and A. M. and the Order of Eastern Star. Mr. Vosseller was very active in civic affairs. He was president of the Farmers State Bank of Plainfield for eighteen years, which position he held at the time of his death. He served one term as Representative in the Forty-third General Assembly. For several years he was a member of the Bremer county board of supervisors and served as township clerk for a number of years. He was a member of the local school board for twenty years; had served as an officer with the Butler-Bremer Telephone Company; as treasurer of Bremer County Farm Bureau and also president of the Bremer County Fair Association. He had also served four years as a member of the official board of the Methodist Church.

Surviving are his widow, one daughter, three sons and seven grandchildren; also two sisters, Mrs. F. F. Lynes, Long Beach, California, and Mrs. Jennie Lynes of Waverly, who is the mother of W. S. and J. K. Lynes, members of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly. One sister preceded him in death.

Funeral services were held in the Waverly Methodist Church and burial was made in Willow Lawn Cemetery, Plainfield, where the Masonic service was held.

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly of Iowa, That in the passing of The Honorable George M. Vosseller the State has lost an honored citizen and a faithful, useful public servant, and the House by this resolution, would express its appreciation of his service, and tender its sympathy to the members of his family.

Be It Rurther Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House and that the Chief Clerk be directed to forward an enrolled copy to the family of the deceased.

W. WALTER WILSON

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee, appointed to prepare a suitable resolution commemorating the life, character and public service of the late Honorable W. Walter Wilson begs to submit the following memorial:

W. Walter Wilson was born in Franklin, Indiana, September 5, 1869, and passed away February 6, 1952, at the age of 82 years, 5 months and one day.

He was the son of James and Nancy Allen Wilson. When Mr. Wilson was four the family came to Iowa, making the trip in a prairie schooner which was ferried across the Mississippi River at Burlington. The family settled on a farm on the Tama-Black Hawk County line in 1873. As a boy he herded cattle on unbroken and unfenced prairie. He was reared on the homestead, attended the State Normal School at Cedar Falls, graduating in 1892. He also attended the University at Iowa City, and received the Bachelor of Arts degree in 1894. Before marriage he was a teacher for a few years in Hamilton County, in the Hudson School and in the school of his home distict.

On March 1, 1898, he married Sarah Sophie Keeler. Mr. Wilson had bought a farm in Hamilton County and farmed it until 1905, when he purchased a farm in Tama County near Traer, Iowa. He was active in farming until March 1, 1926, when he retired to Traer.

The Wilsons were parents of three children, all living; Carl and Mrs. Roland (Iris) Bohnsack of Traer, and Doothy, a teacher in the high school at Medford, Oregon.

While still on the farm in Buckingham, Mr. Wilson was induced to become the Republican candidate for Tama County Representative in the lower House of the Iowa General Assembly. He was elected and served in the Fortieth, Fortieth Extra, Forty-first, Forty-second, Forty-second Extra and Forty-third sessions of the Legislature.

He was the second president of the Tama County Farm Bureau elected in 1919. He was one of the organizers in 1919 of the Buckingham Grain company, serving as secretary of the company for 30 years, retiring in 1949. For 25 years he was president and a director of the Farmers Lumber Company of Traer. He was active in the Traer Methodist Church many years, serving as a trustee and in other offices. He was a 32nd degree Mason, and a citizen of high principles and character.

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly of Iowa, That in the passing of The Honorable W. Walter Wilson, the State has lost an honored citizen and a faithful, useful public servant, and the House, by this resolution, would express its appreciation of his service, and tender its sympathy to the members of his family.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House and that the Chief Clerk be directed to forward an enrolled copy to the family of the deceased.
