HOUSE FILE 384 WITHDRAWN

Kempter of Jackson asked and received unanimous consent to withdraw House File 384 from further consideration by the House.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 23  By Gannon of Jasper and Gillette of Story

Whereas, the construction of drainage ditches, tiling and sewers in the Skunk River area had dumped billions of gallons of extra water into the Skunk River, resulting in increased flooding of the commercial, residential and farm land downstream during some months, and

Whereas; water in the river has been so low during some other months as to cause pollution, damage to fish and wildlife, and such a health hazard that the city of Ames has considered using its drinking water supply to help flush the stream, and

Whereas, recreation provided by a lake in the Ames area would provide Iowa industries, Iowa State University, and research activities with a much better chance to secure professional and technical personnel whose skills are so much in demand that they can choose the place they want to work in accordance with the availability of water recreation, and

Whereas, recent floods have again caused damage to both private property and public roads, and the threat of more flooding is present, and

Whereas, damage loss from flooding was in excess of $$ 625,000$ in one year, without considering the loss Iowa will sustain if we do not encourage industrial development, and

Whereas, there is now an opportunity to begin to catch up with the rest of the nation in the development of our great water resources if our state agencies cooperate with federal officials, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring, that we deem it necessary and proper that this Sixty-first General Assembly support the project providing for the construction of a dam near Ames, now pending before the United States Board of Rivers and Harbors, and urge their favorable consideration of this measure as a valuable aid in the control of flooding along the Skunk River, water quality control, a long-term assurance of a water supply, recreation, and protection for fish and wildlife, and attracting new industry to Iowa.

Be It Further Resolved, that the Iowa Natural Resources Council and all other state agencies and officials should fully cooperate in every way to secure approval of this project as quickly as possible.

Be It Further Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Iowa Natural Resources Council, Iowa Highway Commission, Iowa Conservation Commission, Army Corps of Engineers, the Board of Rivers and Harbors and to all United States Senators and Members of the House of Representatives from Iowa.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Lynch of Warren rose on a point of personal privilege and addressed the House with the following remarks:
Mr. Speaker: I rise to a point of personal privilege. I should like to inform the members of this House that the Indianola School Board has seen fit to terminate my teaching contract effective the end of the current school term. Naturally, I am deeply grieved by this decision as teaching is my profession and my livelihood.

The political motives inherent in this situation present themselves clearly to the people of Warren County and the State of Iowa. It is regrettable that membership in the Democratic Party meets with the disapproval of the Indianola Board. To me, it has been a source of pride and satisfaction to serve with a Democratic majority in this Assembly and with a Democratic Governor, Harold Hughes.

I should like to mention that it is my intention to continue to serve the interest of all Warren County citizens. I will continue to live in Warren County, seek gainful employment, and contribute to the civic and community welfare in every way possible.

I would close with this observation: The penalty which I have paid for entering public service will be hoisted as a caution sign to all of my colleagues in the teaching profession. We believe that teachers may make a unique contribution, both to the Legislature and to the enlightment of people back home. Entrusted with the guidance of our young people, we can hold public service up to them as a noble endeavor and a desired objective.

Reluctantly and sadly, I now close the chapter of my life as a teacher in the Indianola High School system. I now pledge my efforts and my abilities to enact legislation to protect teachers in the future who may wish to make the dual contribution of public service in the classroom and in the Legislature.

Resnick of Scott asked and received unanimous consent to have printed in the Journal the remarks by Lynch of Warren.

"Section 1. Section two hundred seventy-nine point thirteen (279.13), Code 1962, is hereby amended by striking all of such section after the word 'methods.' in line ninety-three (93) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:
'Upon the conclusion of the hearing the board shall determine the question of continuance or discontinuance of the contract by a roll call vote entered in the minutes of the board, and the action of the board shall be final; except that, if such teacher has completed three (3) or more contract years of service with such board and such board decides to discontinue the contract, the board shall notify the teacher of its decision in writing and such notification shall specify the grounds relied upon by the board, which grounds shall be limited to (a) insubordination, immoral character or conduct unbecoming a teacher, and (b) inefficiency, incompetency, physical or mental disability, or neglect of duty. Where such teacher has served three (3) or more contract years with such board and has received notice of discontinuance of contract in writing, the teacher shall have the right to a public hearing, with right of counsel, if the teacher files a request therefor with the president or secretary of the board within five (5) days; and if within five (5) days after receipt by the teacher of such written information the teacher files with the president or secretary of the board a written request for a bearing, the board shall, before any notice of termination is mailed, give the teacher a written notice of the time and place of such hearing and shall hold a public hearing if the teacher appears at such time and place either alone or with representation. If the board fails to notify the teacher by April 15, the board must grant to the teacher all general increases in salary granted to those in his classification in the school system. At such hearing and at all hearings provided for by this section, the teacher shall have the right to confront all witnesses upon whose evidence the board took the action. If no witnesses so appear the board will furnish to the teacher a list of witnesses against him and, if requested by the teacher, the board shall subpoena such witnesses. At the close of the hearing, the board shall render a written decision and a copy shall be furnished to the teacher. If the board decides to terminate the contract, it shall specify the date of termination in the decision; however, the date of termination shall not be before the date the board notifies the teacher of its decision. If the teacher is dissatisfied with the decision of the board such teacher may appeal to the district court of the county of his employment. Said appeal trial shall be by trial de novo of all matters of law and fact. The appeal in such cases shall be perfected by filing with the clerk of said court within thirty (30) days after the date of the board's decision, a petition setting forth the act complained of. The rules of civil procedure governing original notice in civil matters shall apply and pleadings shall conform to the practice in other civil proceedings. If the district court, sitting without a jury, finds a dismissal to be not in accord with statutes governing dismissal of teachers, or that the facts do not substantiate said dismissal, then the teacher shall be reinstated without loss of pay or status in the position held immediately before his dismissal by the board. If the district court upholds the teacher in his position, all reasonable expenses incurred by the teacher shall be paid by the board, the court awarding same. The foregoing provisions for termination shall affect the powers of the board of directors to discharge a teacher for cause under the provisions of section two hundred seventy-nine point twenty-four (279.24) of the Code insofar as to grounds, right of counsel, and all other provisions concerning notice, right of public hearing, confrontation of witnesses, and appeal, and all other provisions contained in this section. In determining whether to disapprove any such forms the commissioner shall give due consideration to past and prospective loss experience within and outside this state, to underwriting practice and judgment to the extent appropriate, and to all other relevant factors within and outside this state.
c. If the commissioner notifies the insurer that the form is disapproved, it is unlawful thereafter for such insurer to issue or use such form. In such notice, the commissioner shall specify the reason for his disapproval and state that a hearing will be granted within twenty (20) days after request in writing by the insurer. No such policy, certificate of insurance, notice of proposed insurance, nor any application, endorsement or rider, shall be issued or used until the expiration of thirty (30) days after it has been so filed, unless the commissioner shall give his prior written approval thereto.

e. It is not lawful for the insurer to issue such forms or use them after the effective date of such withdrawal.
f. If a group policy of credit life insurance or credit accident and health insurance has been delivered in this state before the effective date of this section, or has been or is delivered in another state before or after the effective date of this section, the insurer shall be required to file only the group certificate and notice of proposed insurance delivered or issued for delivery in this state as specified in paragraphs $b$ and $d$ of subsection six (6) of this section and such forms shall be approved by the commissioner if they conform with the requirements specified in said paragraphs and if the schedules of premium rates applicable to the insurance evidenced by such certificate or notice are not in excess of the insurer's schedules of premium rates filed with the commissioner; provided, however, the premium rate in effect on existing group policies may be continued until the first policy anniversary date following the date this section becomes operative as provided in subsection twelve (12) of this section.
g. Any order or final determination of the commissioner under the provisions of this subsection shall be subject to judicial review.
28. Premiums and refunds.
a. Any insurer may revise its schedule of premium rates from time to time, and shall file such revised schedules with the commissioner. No insurer shall issue any credit life insurance policy or credit accident and health insurance policy for which the premium rate exceeds that determined by the schedules of such insurer as then on file with the commissioner.
b. Each individual policy, or group certificate, shall provide that in the event of termination of the insurance prior to the scheduled maturity date of the indebtedness, any refund of an amount paid by the debtor for insurance shall be paid or credited promptly to the person entitled thereto; provided, however, that the commissioner shall prescribe a minimum refund and no refund which would be less than such minimum need be made. The formula to be used in computing such refund shall be filed with and approved by the commissioner.
c. If a creditor requires a debtor to make any payment for credit life insurance or credit accident and health insurance and an individual policy or group certificate of insurance is not issued, the creditor shall immediately give written notice to such debtor and shall promptly make an appropriate credit to the account.

a. All claims shall be promptly reported to the insurer or its designated claim representative, and the insurer shall maintain adequate claim files. All claims shall be settled as soon as possible and in accordance with the terms of the insurance contract.
b. All claims shall be paid either by draft drawn upon the insurer or by check of the insurer to the order of the claimant to whom payment of the claim is due pursuant to the policy provisions, or upon direction of such claimant to one specified.
c. No plan or arrangement shall be used whereby any person, firm or corporation other than the insurer or its designated claim representative shall be authorized to settle or adjust claims. The creditor shall not be designated as claim representative for the insurer in adjusting claims, provided, that a group policyholder may, by arrangement with the group insurer, draw drafts or checks in payment of claims due to the group policyholder subject to audit and review by the insurer.
31. Existing insurance-choice of insurer. When credit life insurance or credit accident and health insurance is required as additional security for any indebtedness, the debtor shall, upon request to the creditor, have the option of furnishing the required amount of insurance through existing policies of insurance owned or controlled by him or of procuring and furnishing the required coverage through any insurer authorized to transact an insurance business within this state.
32. Enforcement. The commissioner may, after notice and hearing, issue such rules and regulations as he deems appropriate for the supervision of this section. Whenever the commissioner finds that there has been a violation of this section or any rules or regulations issued pursuant thereto, and after written notice thereof and hearing given to the insurer or other person authorized or licensed by the commissioner, he shall set forth the details of his findings together with an order for compliance by a specified date. Such order shall be binding on the insurer and other person authorized or licensed by the commissioner on the date specified unless sooner withdrawn by the commissioner or a stay thereof has been ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction. The provisions of subsections five (5), six (6), seven (7), and eight (8) of this section shall not be operative until ninety (90) days after the effective date of this section, and the commissioner in his discretion may extend by not more than an additional ninety (90) days the initial period within which the provisions of said subsections shall not be operative.
33. Judicial review. Any party to the proceeding affected by an order of the commissioner shall be entitled to judicial review by following the procedure set forth in chapter five hundred seven B (507B).
34. Penalties. In addition to any other penalty provided by law, any person who violates an order of the commissioner after it has become final, and while such order is in effect, shall, upon proof thereof to the satisfaction of the court, forfeit and pay to the state of Iowa a sum not to exceed two hundred fifty (250) dollars which may be recovered in a civil action, except that if such violation is found to be willful, the amount of such penalty shall be a sum not to exceed one thousand ( 1,000 ) dollars. The commissioner, in his discretion, may revoke or suspend the license or certificate of authority of the person guilty of such violation. Whereas, the State of Iowa is now in the midst of suffering one of the worst disasters by flood in the history of the state, and

Whereas, heroic efforts are being made by countless individuals at great sacrifice and suffering to ameliorate the impact of this disaster on the persons enduring this catastrophe, and

Whereas, the Governor and his team of workers in charge of the state government are taking valiant steps to save lives and to minimize the damage done to property, now therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Sixty-first General Assembly; the Senate Concurring:

That the General Assembly pledges its united support to the Governor in his efforts and commends him on his leadership in this battle with the flood waters threatening the lives and property of a great number of Iowans, and extends its thanks to him for his prompt efforts in getting the stricken areas declared a federal disaster area so that relief may be secured immediately, and

That the General Assembly commends the National Guard for their almost superhuman efforts to meet this emergency and urges that they continue until the danger is past, and

That the General Assembly commends the voluntary flood workers and especially the showing by the fine youth of Iowa of both sexes for their demonstration of what the teenagers and youths are really made of and also its thanks to the Civil Defense workers, and

That the General Assembly commends the Army Corps of Engineers for their great work in flood control projects which no doubt have lessened the potential damage of this flood, and

That the General Assembly urges that all the facilities of the state government be placed at the disposal of the stricken communities including the Conservation Commission, the Department of Public Safety, the Highway Commission, the Iowa Development Commisison and others with whatever means may be available to clear streets and buildings of silt and debris, repair and replace bridges and highways and repair dikes and levees, and

That the General Assembly expresses its thanks to the President and the Congress of the United States for their foresight in making such disaster funds available at such short notice and urges upon Congress that this disaster demonstrates the urgency of the passage of the various bills on flood control now pending and in particular the need for appropriations for, and construction of flood control facilities on the Upper Mississippi River, and

That the General Assembly commends the Iowa Delegation in the Congress for their considerations in the past in the field of flood control, and
Be It Further Resolved that an enrolled copy of this resolution be sent to the Iowa Delegation in the Congress, both Senate and House of Representatives and that a copy be also sent to the President of the United States.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 28  By Senator Nurse

Whereas, January 21, 1965, marked the fiftieth anniversary of Kiwanis International; and

Whereas, from its humble beginnings in Detroit, Michigan, as a men's social club, this organization has grown both in size and reputation until today it is considered one of the outstanding fraternal groups in the world; and

Whereas, the men of Kiwanis have made numerous contributions to the welfare of this state and nation by various educational, charitable, civic, fraternal and patriotic activities, particularly in connection with our youth; and

Whereas, the first project of the first Kiwanis Club was the adoption of a young boy from a broken home and thus started the tradition of assisting the young and helpless, for which the Kiwanis International is famous; and

Whereas, it is fitting that the outstanding organization of men should receive recognition for its tireless efforts to improve this nation by assisting our less fortunate citizens; therefore,
Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, that the Iowa legislature, in regular session, April 23, 1965, does hereby congratulate the Kiwanis International on the occasion of its fiftieth anniversary and commend that organization on its outstanding record of community service and wish it success in its future endeavors;

Be It Further Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the District Governor of the Kiwanis Clubs of the Nebraska-Iowa District.

In determining whether to disapprove any such forms the commissioner shall give due consideration to past and prospective loss experience within and outside this state, to underwriting practice and judgment to the extent appropriate, and to all other relevant factors within and outside this state.
c. If the commissioner notifies the insurer that the form is disapproved, it is unlawful thereafter for such insurer to issue or use such form. In such notice, the commissioner shall specify the reason for his disapproval and state that a hearing will be granted within twenty (20) days after request in writing by the insurer. No such policy, certificate of insurance, notice of proposed insurance, nor any application, endorsement or rider, shall be issued or used until the expiration of thirty (30) days after it has been so filed, unless the commissioner shall give his prior written approval thereto.

of any such form on any ground set forth in paragraph $b$ above. The written notice of such hearing shall state the reason for the proposed withdrawal.
e. It is not lawful for the insurer to issue such forms or use them after the effective date of such withdrawal.
f. If a group policy of credit life insurance or credit accident and health insurance has been delivered in this state before the effective date of this section, or has been or is delivered in another state before or after the effective date of this section, the insurer shall be required to file only the group certificate and notice of proposed insurance delivered or issued for delivery in this state as specified in paragraphs $b$ and $d$ of subsection six (6) of this section and such forms shall be approved by the commissioner if they conform with the requirements specified in said paragraphs and if the schedules of premium rates applicable to the insurance evidenced by such certificate or notice are not in excess of the insurer's schedules of premium rates filed with the commissioner; provided, however, the premium rate in effect on existing group policies may be continued until the first policy anniversary date following the date this section becomes operative as provided in subsection twelve (12) of this section.
g. Any order or final determination of the commissioner under the provisions of this subsection shall be subject to judicial review.
28. Premiums and refunds.
a. Any insurer may revise its schedule of premium rates from time to time, and shall file such revised schedules with the commissioner. No insurer shall issue any credit life insurance policy or credit accident and health insurance policy for which the premium rate exceeds that determined by the schedules of such insurer as then on file with the commissioner.
b. Each individual policy, or group certificate, shall provide that in the event of termination of the insurance prior to the scheduled maturity date of the indebtedness, any refund of an amount paid by the debtor for insurance shall be paid or credited promptly to the person entitled thereto; provided, however, that the commissioner shall prescribe a minimum refund and no refund which would be less than such minimum need be made. The formula to be used in computing such refund shall be filed with and approved by the commissioner.
c. If a creditor requires a debtor to make any payment for credit life insurance or credit accident and health insurance and an individual policy or group certificate of insurance is not issued, the creditor shall immediately give written notice to such debtor and shall promptly make an appropriate credit to the account.
d. The amount charged to a debtor for any credit life or credit health and accident insurance shall not exceed the premiums charged by the insurer, as computed at the time the charge to the debtor is determined.
29. Issuance of policies. All policies of credit life insurance and credit accident and health insurance shall be delivered or issued for delivery in this state only by an insurer authorized to do an insurance business therein; and shall be issued only through holders of licenses or authorizations issued by the commissioner.
30. Claims.
a. All claims shall be promptly reported to the insurer or its designated claim representative, and the insurer shall maintain adequate claim files. All claims shall be settled as soon as possible and in accordance with the terms of the insurance contract.
b. All claims shall be paid either by draft drawn upon the insurer or by check of the insurer to the order of the claimant to whom payment of the claim is due pursuant to the policy provisions, or upon direction of such claimant to one specified.
c. No plan or arrangement shall be used whereby any person, firm or corporation other than the insurer or its designated claim representative shall be authorized to settle or adjust claims. The creditor shall not be designated as claim representative for the insurer in adjusting claims, provided, that a group policyholder may, by arrangement with the group insurer, draw drafts or checks in payment of claims due to the group policyholder subject to audit and review by the insurer.
31. Existing insurance-choice of insurer. Examinations need not be held until after the rules have been adopted, the service classified, and a pay plan established but shall be held not later than two (2) years after the effective date of this Act. Such examinations shall be announced publicly at least fifteen (15) days in advance of the date fixed for the filing of applications, and may be advertised through the press, radio, and other media. The director may provide that certification of payrolls may be made once every six (6) months and such certification shall remain in effect except in the case of any officer or employee whose status has changed after the last certification of the payroll. At the hearing of such appeals, technical rules of evidence shall not apply. If the commission finds that the action complained of was taken by the appointing authority for any political, religious, racial, or nonmerit reason, the employee shall be reinstated to his former position without loss of pay for the period of dismissal. In all other cases, the commission shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine the rights of classified service employees and may affirm, modify, or reverse any case on the merits of the case.

SPECIAL MESSAGE ONLABOR-MANAGEMENT LEGISLATIONTO THE SIXTY-FIRST GENERAL ASSEMBLY

by
HONORABLE HAROLD E. HUGHES, GOVERNOR OF IOWA
Joint Session, May 5, 1965
Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Honorable Senators and Representatives of the Sixty-first General Assembly:
I deeply appreciate the opportunity to join you in this joint convention today and out of deference to the heavy workload you are handling I will make my remarks as brief and to-the-point as possible.

To begin with, I would like to express to you members of both political parties my personal appreciation for your work thus far in the session.

No Iowa legislature in this century has tackled such a broad range of important and difficult problems as you have.

Because the make-up of this Assembly is more representative of all of the population groups of the state than in the past, you have been confronted with an unprecedented variety of legislation. Because you have had the courage to eliminate secrecy from the legislative processes, many controversial items have reached the floor that would never have seen the light of day in sessions gone by.

Whatever our differences in viewpoint may be and whatever public criticism may come your way, I want to say that I respect you individually and as a legislative body for your integrity of purpose and your devotion to the public interest.

One of the propositions to which we are all committed is to keep Iowa moving-to sustain and strengthen the promising surge of industrial development we have enjoyed in the past three years and to do everything we can from the level of state government to create an atmosphere in which management and labor can work together constructively to assure Iowa's economic future.

Obviously there are profound differences of opinion as to what course should be followed to attain these objectives.

At no point is there sharper disagreement and greater confusion than on the complex area of legislation relating to collective bargaining and other fundamental practices involved in labor-management relations, in Iowa.

It is this subject I want to discuss with you today because I am convinced that major legislative changes in this area are needed-and urgently needed-and I would like to spell out for you as clearly as possible why I believe this to be the case and in general terms what changes I think should be made in the existing law.

The core of the controversy, as you all know, is that part of the 1947 Iowa law which prohibits various types of union-management contract provisions and has become generally known by the label "right-to-work law."

Unfortunately, the label has become such an emotional symbol on the part of both proponents and adversaries, that it has become extremely difficult to examine the whole problem objectively.

Without stopping, at this point in my remarks, to evaluate the case for or against this statutory restriction on collective bargaining, let me say that it is, at best, a misleading over-simplification of a whole complex of serious problems.

We should be looking at the entire structure of our labor management laws-not just one phase of it.
And the test of that structure of law should be whether or not it protects the legitimate interests of management, labor and the general public and is conducive to efficient industrial operation.

Frankly, ladies and gentlemen, our existing structure of labor relations law fails to meet the test on all of these counts.
It simply is not doing the job that most people think it is doing.
Let's look at it first from the standpoint of mangement.
The champions of the 1947 law take the position that this law is a bastion that effectively protects management from the possibility of coercive power and unfair practices on the part of organized labor.

But does it?
The other day a successful industrialist for whom I have great respect was in my office to urge me to oppose any modification of the right-to-work law.
"Why?" I asked him.
"The legalizing of the union shop would be a bad thing for industry in Iowa," he said.
"But I happen to know that your company is not just a union shopit is a de facto closed shop," I replied. "Nobody can get a job in your business unless he belongs to that union, can he?"

He agreed that this was so. In other words, the situation he was so fearful of already exists in his own industry under our existing "right-towork" law. And neither he nor his employees have the sort of protection in labor-management relations that they should have, and would have if our present law were modernized and strengthened, as it should be.

If we really want to prevent such things as secondary boycotts, "hot cargo" agreements and closed shop contracts; then we need to modernize the 1947 Iowa law and bring it into line with more realistic and effective federal law.

From the standpoint of management, our existing law has more holes in it than a sieve.

Yet I have a sheaf of letters on my desk at this moment from businessmen insisting that the existing law be left as it is.

For some reason, it is widely assumed that if the so-called "right-to-work law" is modified in any way, it will follow that every working man and woman in the state will be required to join a labor union.

This is not true. Under proposed modification of the 1947 law, union shop provisions requiring employees to join would occur only where the union, which is the representative of the majority of employees, wants it and where the employer has agreed. Even then, if there are employee misgivings, they may vote it out. Many plants are not and may never become unionized at all, and-I repeat-none of those that do would have union shop contracts unless their management agreed to it.

The proposal to permit negotiation of union shop contracts and lesser forms of union security agreements in Iowa has nothing whatsoever to do with the holding of elections to determine if a majority of the employees wants a union to act as their bargaining agent. I think it should be made crystal clear at this point that procedures for holding such elections, which are covered by federal law, would not be affected at all by the changes I recommend in the state law.

There is an unfortunate confusion in the attitude of some employers and a considerable number of citizens concerning what our attitude toward organized labor should be.

In some cases, the bias toward unions is so great that it is generally assumed that anything organized labor wants is wrong and should be denied. It is also erroneously assumed that the proper way to deal with unions is to keep them as weak as possible through restrictive legislation.

When people say to me: "I don't want to see unions become so powerful that they run the state," then I can only reply that I agree with them.

I don't want to see any special group of our population become so powerful that it can exert unfair pressure on majority rule.

But quite frankly this is not going to happen-end even if it were, the inadequate labor legislation we have in our Code at this time would not prevent it.

Personally, I have a deep belief in the right of collective bargaining. It is a sound, proven format for healthy labor-management relations and not something to be feared.

The relationship between employer and worker is satisfactory only when each has his rights protected-and both are able to function efficiently, economically and otherwise.

What we need is responsible unionism, and contrary to the opinion of many people, this does not mean weak unions. The way to get responsible leadership in labor is through sound, workable legislation-not through discriminatory, excessively restrictive legislation that impairs basic rights of collective bargaining.

On the other side of the coin, as I have already pointed out, management needs and deserves stronger and more detailed protection of its rights than we have under our 1947 law.

Frankly, I believe that management has more to gain from a sound revision of our 1947 labor law than labor.

Now what is organized labor's position in this matter?
The rank and file of organized labor believe that our existing labor law imposes an unfair restriction on the rights of collective bargaining in that this law makes it possible for some employees to "free load"-that is, to enjoy the benefits of collective bargaining without sharing in the cost and responsibilities of union membership.
"Union shop," as you know, means that a worker must become a member of the union after he is hired and served a probationary period in a company that has negotiated a union shop agreement with its employees. If the employer agrees with the union; then all employees must pay union dues and belong to the union.

Federal law already requires that the union bargain for all employeeswhether they are union members or not. The union shop agreement merely eliminates "free riders."

I can't blame union members for feeling the way they do about "free riders." I also believe that they have good reason to feel that the restriction against union shop contracts in our present law is damaging to the prestige and self-respect of organized labor.

As you know, I do not advocate outright repeal of the right-to-work law. I do not support the closed shop, under which a person must be a union member in order to get a job, because I believe that an employer should have the right to hire the people he wants to hire, without restrictionproviding that he does not discriminate against a prospective employee because of race, creed, color, sex, or membership in a labor organization.

I am opposed to the closed shop because I feel that it unfairly and arbitrarily removes a prospective employee from the labor market. and imposes a control that is not necessarily related to the prospective worker's qualifications for the job.

However, once a worker has been hired into a shop that operates under a contract negotiated with a union and participates in the benefits the union provides, I believe it is only fair that he should be subject to the same rules as any other employee.

This point is not a side issue-it is the very heart of responsible unionism.

Either we believe in collective bargaining or we do not-and to me this is the point on which it all hinges. Granted that proper protection is included in the law assuring the fair treatment of each union memberan area that must be adequately covered in any modernization of our law that I would support-this is the basic right involved: not just the right to work, but the right to work with the security of legalized union contract conditions.

As you know, for a number of years, the representatives of organized labor have advocated the outright repeal of the right-to-work law-which would include repeal of the prohibition of the closed shop, as well as of the union and agency shops.

I cannot blame those in organized labor who want full repeal of this law which they feel has become a symbol through the years of the denial of their rights of collective bargaining and a rejection of their bid to sit in dignity at the council table with management.

However, from the beginning, I have stood for the modification and modernization of our existing labor laws, including the right-to-work section.

I continue to stand on this middle ground because I believe it is right and in the best interests of the people of Iowa and the state's continuing development.

What about the protection of the public in labor-management disputes under our present law?

Let us focus our attention particularly on the machinery we have under our existing law to protect human life and property in the event that violence flares up in an unresolved labor dispute.

Let me give you a concrete example.
Recently, as you know, we had a major packing house strike in the Fort Dodge area.

Full negotiations were conducted with the assistance of a federal mediator, but the negotiations reached what appeared to be an insuperable impasse.

The striking union felt that it could not accept the offers of management. Management concluded that it could no longer postpone resuming plant operations-even if it was necessary to bring in non-union, inexperienced labor to man the jobs.

If the plant had re-opened, as scheduled, I am absolutely convinced there would have been violence, bloodshed, perhaps loss of life.

Fortunately-and to the great credit of both parties in the dispute-both management and labor agreed to meet with me in virtual round-the-clock negotiations to work out the differences.

They did this; an agreement was reached; and what would doubtless have eventuated into a bitter and violent clash, despite the diligent efforts of local law enforcement officers, was avoided.

This incident, in my mind, clearly illustrates the lack of effective machinery in this state under existing law to act in the event of a prolonged labor dispute in which there is a probability that violence might occur. All of this happened under our present so-called "right-to-work" law.

A governor has many responsibilities to which he must attend. He cannot and should not enter every serious labor dispute. Provision is made under Chapter 90 for the appointment of a board of arbitration, but without going into details as to why this chapter is weak and inadequate to meet such situations, the fact that it has seldom been used by past governors attests to its ineffectual nature.

I feel very strongly that our existing law should be changed to provide for a permanent board of mediation and conciliation within the State Bureau of Labor to facilitate the negotiation of labor-management contracts and to act in cases where regular negotiations have broken down.

It would be the function of this board to assist labor and management to make and maintain agreements concerning wages, hours and working conditions; and to exert every reasonable effort to induce the parties in labor disputes to settle their differences around the conference table, thereby averting situations where life and property are endangered.

Protection from secondary boycotts and other abuses that I have mentioned elsewhere in these remarks is also a matter of concern to the public, as well as to industry. This protection, as I have stated, is not adequate under our existing law. The present section on secondary boycotts in particular is ungrammatical, unintelligible and inoperable, and has been so recognized by both labor and management for the nearly twenty years it has been on our lawbooks.

To sum it up, I feel strongly that our existing labor laws fail completely in the third and most important criterion of adequate labor relations lawthe protection of the general public.

In the statement I have made thus far, I have attempted to convey to you my profound conviction that our present labor laws are seriously in need of modernization and tightening up in order to serve the best interests of management, labor and the general public.

Within the next few days, legislation will be presented to this Assembly to accomplish these objectives. I make no claim of perfection for this legislation, but do believe strongly that it is a great improvement over our existing laws and clearly a historic step in the right direction.

I sincerely hope that every member of this Assembly will set aside whatever preconceptions he may have and judge this proposed legislation objectively on its merits.

Never was there a time in this state when there was a greater need for cool heads and open-mindedness. For the fair resolution of this issue will have an all-important bearing on the economic development and spiritual unity of this state in the years ahead.

Here are the salient points of the labor relations legislation that will be submitted for your consideration with my full approval and support:

It is proposed that the 1947 law should be modified to permit negotiation of union security clauses-except for the closed shop. In other words, this would remove the statutory prohibition of union shop contracts.
I am aware that there are those who say that there is no difference between repeal and modification of the so-called right-to-work law.
I would point out that there is a very real practical difference between repeal and modification, particularly as the state law affects small busi-nesses-especially retail-that do not come under the federal Taft-Hartley law. The Taft-Hartley provisions prohibiting the closed shop would not apply to these small firms, and thus they would have no protection from the closed shop if the "right-to-work" part of our labor statutes were repealed.

This situation is not restricted to the very small employers. Retail merchants are not protected by the federal law unless they do a gross business of more than $$ 500,000$ year, and manufacturers, jobbers and wholesalers must deal in purchases or sales of more than $$ 50,000$ a year across state lines to be covered. You can see that thousands of businessmen across the state, including a good share of those on main street in our cities and towns, must depend upon our state law for protection in labor-management situations.
As I have pointed out earlier, the union shop is widespread in Iowa, by tacit agreement of union and employer, in businesses that are unionized. As a matter of fact, there are a considerable number of de facto closed shops, by the same tacit agreements. And these situations exist without the safeguards and controls contained in federal law and in the modernized laws of many other states.

I would point out that this situation illustrates the fact that our existing law is inadequate and ineffectual-and, in plain words, is not doing the job it is purported to do.

Most important of all, I believe the prohibition of union shop contracts should be removed because this is a symbol of our negative attitude of the past toward organized labor.

Whether or not it is recognized in the present hour, this session of the Iowa legislature is being directly confronted with the responsibility of making a number of key decisions which will have a profound bearing upon the future of this state.

One of these decisions is whether or not we shall grant to labor the dignity of fair partnership in the industrial and business future of Iowa.

Shall we take them into this partnership or shall we continue to treat them as a distrusted and ill-favored step-child in the family of our society?

I believe that through fair and functional legislation, we should take labor into full partnership.

But at the same time it must be recognized that with the status of full partnership come responsibilities to accept laws and regulations that strictly define and limit the powers of organized labor-and to abide by these rules.

I am convinced that the majority of the men and women in organized labor are ready and willing to do their part-if they are accorded the respect to which the value of their services to our economy and our society entitles them.

The proposal calling for the legalization of union shop contracts contains with it strict provisions to guard the individual employee from any possible discriminatory treatment on the part of the union leadership. A fear exists in the minds of many people that a new employee or even one who has worked for years in a plant and has never joined a union would be denied union membership on some pretext and thereby be deprived of the right to get a job-or continue to work in that plant. This would be an impossibility under the proposed changes in the law. For example, as in the federal law, it would be unlawful to discriminate against an employee who has been denied union membership, or expelled from a union, for reasons other than the non-payment of dues. It would be unlawful to require an employee to pay excessive or discriminatory union dues to become a member. It would also be unlawful to require union dues as a prerequisite to employment.

The second main section of the proposed modernization of our out-dated labor laws deals with such important matters as boycotts and injunctions.

Among its provisions are these:

1. It prohibits secondary boycotts.
2. It forbids a union from forcing an employer to recognize or bargain with a union when another union already is the legitimate representative of the employees.
3. It prohibits a union from forcing an employer to assign work to one union over another, except when the employer violates the terms of his contract.
4. It forbids "hot cargo" agreements.
5. It prohibits "featherbedding."
6. It provides for temporary restraining orders and hearings within five days.

It will be observed that these safeguards to management have teeth in them and provide far more effective protection than may be found in our existing law.

In other words, the legislation we are talking about is not just pro-labor but is a sensible compromise of the viewpoints of labor and management in the public interest.

The final section of the proposed modernization of our existing labor law provides for the setting up of a permanent Mediation and Conciliation Board to plug a vital gap in our present legal structure governing labormanagement relations.

These are the essential elements of the proposed labor-management legislation that will be submitted to you by the administration.

To be perfectly frank with you, I am well aware that the position I have taken will not arouse ecstatic acclaim from the traditional spokesmen of either labor or management.

I have taken this position, nonetheless, because I believe it is right and best for the future of this state. If adopted by this Assembly, I believe it will be recognized in due time as being in the best interest of both management and labor-and, most important of all, in the best interests of the general public.

In conclusion, ladies and gentlemen, let me say that I believe the sun will come up in the east in our state and go down in the west-regardless of what we do about these vital problems of labor-management relations which I have outlined to you today.
But quite frankly, I believe that we will clear the atmosphere and create a better, kindlier climate for our future development if we face these problems forthrightly and fairly.

I believe it is more essential to our future growth and progress that we change our attitudes than that we change our laws. If a change in our laws is to be effective, it must, as a matter of fact, proceed from a change in attitude.

I believe that most employers who have had extensive experience with labor-management relations will agree that well-organized, responsible unions are an aid to a responsible employer, not a detriment. It is significant that many Iowa employers, including the number one manufacturing firm in the state, provide for a union shop in their contracts, to go into effect as soon as the Iowa law may permit.

But more fundamentally, if Iowa is to continue its growth and progress, we must fully recognize the interdependence of all of the segments of our society-the farmer, the laboring man, the business man and all the rest.

If there are stars in my eyes, it is because I believe in people-whether they are employers or workers, city people or farm people, young people or old people. Each group is entitled to fight for its own rights but constructive compromise is out of reach if we stray too far from the spirit of the golden rule.

If there are stars in my eyes, it is also because I believe in the future of this state-completely and without question, just as I believe in a Divine Being.

As we move into a new era of economic growth in Iowa, I hope we can also find the strength to move into a new era of understanding and intergroup co-operation.

We can only do this if we are willing to yield some ground in one sector in order to gain some ground in another.
The hour of decision is before us. We have nothing to lose but our prejudices.

Section 1. The commissioner of public safety is hereby authorized to enter into vehicle equipment safety compacts with other jurisdictions legally joining therein in substantially the following form.

The contracting states agree:
ARTICLE I-Findings and purposes
a. The party states find that:

1. Accidents and deaths on their streets and highways present a very serious human and economic problem with a major deleterious effect on the public welfare.
2. There is a vital need for the development of greater interjurisdictional co-operation to achieve the necessary uniformity in the laws, rules, regulations and codes relating to vehicle equipment, and to accomplish this by such means as will minimize the time between the development of demonstrably and scientifically sound safety features and their incorporation into vehicles.
b. The purposes of this compact are to:
3. Promote uniformity in regulation of and standards for equipment.
4. Secure uniformity of law and administrative practice in vehicular regulation and related safety standards to permit incorporation of desirable equipment changes in vehicles in the interest of greater traffic safety.
5. To provide means for the encouragement and utilization of research which will facilitate the achievement of the foregoing purposes, with due regard for the findings set forth in. subdivision "a" of this article.
c. It is the intent of this compact to emphasize performance requirements and not to determine the specific detail of engineering in the manufacture of vehicles or equipment except to the extent necessary for the meeting of such performance requirements.

ARTICLE II-Definitions

As used in this compact:
a. "Vehicle" means every device in, upon' or by which any person or property is or may be transported or drawn upon a highway, excepting devices moved by human power or used exclusively upon stationary rails or tracks.
b. "State" means a state, territory or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.
c. "Equipment" means any part of a vehicle or any accessory for use thereon which affects the safety of operation of such vehicle or the safety of the occupants.

ARTICLE III-The commission

a. There is hereby created an agency of the party states to be known as the "Vehicle Equipment Safety Commission" hereinafter called the commission. The commission shall be composed of one commissioner from each party state who shall be appointed, serve and be subject to removal in accordance with the laws of the state which he represents. If authorized by the laws of his party state, a commissioner may provide for the discharge of his duties and the performance of his functions on the commission, either for the duration of his membership or for any lesser period of time, by an alternate. No such alternate shall be entitled to serve unless notification of his identity and appointment shall have been given to the commission in such form as the commission may require. Each commissioner, and each alternate, when serving in the place and stead of a commissioner, shall be entitled to be reimbursed by the commission for expenses actually incurred in attending commission meetings or while engaged in the business of the commission.
b. The commissioners shall be entitled to one vote each on the commission. No action of the commission shall be binding unless taken at a meeting at which a majority of the total number of votes on the commission are cast in favor thereof. Action of the commission shall be only at a meeting at which a majority of the commissioners, or their alternates, are present.
c. The commission shall have a seal.
d. The commission shall elect annually, from among its members, a chairman, a vice-chairman and a treasurer. The commission may appoint an executive director and fix his duties and compensation. Such executive director shall serve at the pleasure of the commission, and together with the treasurer shall be bonded in such amount as the commission shall determine. The executive director also shall serve as secretary. If there be no executive director, the commission shall elect a secretary in addition to the other officers provided by this subdivision.
e. Irrespective of the civil services, personnel or other merit system laws of any of the party states, the executive director with the approval of the commission, or the commission if there be no executive director, shall appoint, remove or discharge such personnel as may be necessary for the performance of the commission's functions, and shall fix the duties and compensation of such personnel.
f. The commission may establish and maintain independently or in conjunction with any one or more of the party states, a suitable retirement system for its full time employees. Employees of the commission shall be eligible for social security coverage in respect of old age and survivor's insurance provided that the commission takes such steps as may be necessary pursuant to the laws of the United States, to participate in such program of insurance as a governmental agency or unit. The commission may establish and maintain or participate in such additional programs of employee benefits as may be appropriate.
g. The commission may borrow, accept or contract for the services of personnel from any party state, the United States, or any subdivision or agency of the aforementioned governments, or from any agency of two or more of the party states or their subdivisions.
h. The commission may accept for any of its purposes and functions under this compact any and all donations, and grants of money, equipment, supplies, materials, and services, conditional or otherwise, from any state, the United States, or any other governmental agency and may receive, utilize and dispose of the same.
i. The commission may establish and maintain such facilities as may be necessary for the transacting of its business. The commission may acquire, hold, and convey real and personal property and any interest therein.
j. The commission shall adopt bylaws for the conduct of its business and shall have the power to amend and rescind these bylaws. The commission shall publish its bylaws in convenient form and shall file a copy thereof and a copy of any amendment thereto, with the appropriate agency or officer in each of the party states. The bylaws shall provide for appropriate notice to the commissioners of all commission meetings and hearings and the business to be transacted at such meetings or hearings. Such notice shall also be given to such agencies or officers of each party state as the laws of such party state may provide.
k . The commission annually shall make to the governor and legislature of each party state a report covering the activities of the commission for the preceding year, and embodying such recommendations as may have been issued by the commission. The commission may make such additional reports as it may deem desirable.

ARTICLE IV-Research and testing
The commission shall have power to:
a. Collect, correlate, analyze and evaluate information resulting or derivable from research and testing activities in equipment and related fields.
b. Recommend and encourage the undertaking of research and testing in any aspect of equipment or related matters when, in its judgment, appropriate or sufficient research or testing has not been undertaken.
c. Contract for such equipment research and testing as one or more governmental agencies may agree to have contracted for by the commission, provided that such governmental agency or agencies shall make available the funds necessary for such research and testing.
d. Recommend to the party states changes in law or policy with emphasis on uniformity of laws and administrative rules, regulations or codes which would promote effective governmental action or co-ordination in the prevention of equipment-related highway accidents or the mitigation of equipment-related highway safety problems.

ARTICLE V-Vehicular equipment
a. In the interest of vehicular and public safety, the commission may study the need for or desirability of the establishment of or changes in performance requirements or restrictions for any item of equipment. As a result of such study, the commission may publish a report relating to any item or items of equipment, and the issuance of such a report shall be a condition precedent to any proceedings or other action provided or authorized by this article. No less than sixty days after the publication of a report containing the results of such study, the commission upon due notice shall hold a hearing or hearings at such place or places as it may determine.
b. Following the hearing or hearings provided for in subdivision "a" of this article, and with due regard for standards recommended by appropriate professional and technical associations and agencies, the commission may issue rules, regulations or codes embodying performance requirements or restrictions for any item or items of equipment covered in the report, which in the opinion of the commission will be fair and equitable and effectuate the purposes of this compact.
c. Each party state obligates itself to give due consideration to any and all rules, regulations and codes issued by the commission and hereby declares its policy and intent to be the promotion of uniformity in the laws of the several party states relating to equipment.
d. The commission shall send prompt notice of its action in issuing any rule, regulation or code pursuant to this article to the appropriate motor vehicle agency of each party state and such notice shall contain the complete text of the rule, regulation or code.
e. If the constitution of a party state requires, or if its statutes provide, the approval of the legislature by appropriate resolution or act may be made a condition precedent to the taking effect in such party state of any rule, regulation or code. In such event, the commissioner of such party state shall submit any commission rule, regulation or code to the legislature as promptly as may be in lieu of administrative acceptance or rejection thereof by the party state.
b. Except as otherwise specifically provided in or pursuant to subdivisions " $e$ " and " $g$ " of this article, the appropriate motor vehicle agency of a party state shall in accordance with its constitution or procedural laws adopt the rule, regulation or code within six months of the sending of the notice, and, upon such adoption, the rule, regulation or code shall have the force and effect of law therein.
g. The appropriate motor vehicle agency of a party state may decline to adopt a rule, regulation or code issued by the commission pursuant to this article if such agency specifically finds, after public hearing on due notice, that a variation from the commssion's rule, regulation or code is necessary to the public' safety, and incorporate in such finding the reasons upon which it is based. Any such finding shall be subject to review by such procedure for review of administrative determinations as may be applicable pursuant to the laws of the party state. Upon request, the commission shall be furnished with a copy of the transcript of any hearings held pursuant to this subdivision.

ARTICLE VI-Finance

a. The commission shall submit to the executive head or designated officer or officers of each party state a budget of its estimated expenditures for such period as may be required by the laws of that party state for presentation to the legislature thereof.
b. Each of the commission's budgets of estimated expenditures shall contain specific recommendations of the amount or amounts to be appropriated by each of the party states. The total amount of appropriations under any such budget shall be apportioned among the party states as follows: one-third in equal shares; and the remainder in proportion to the number of motor vehicles registered in each party state. In determining the number of such registrations, the commission may employ such source or sources of information as in its judgment present the most equitable and accurate comparisons among the party states. Each of the commission's budgets of estimated expenditures and requests for appropriations shall indicate the source or sources used in obtaining information concerning vehicular registrations.
c. The commission shall not pledge the credit of any party state. The commission may meet any of its obligations in whole or in part with funds available to it under Article III " $h$ " of this compact, provided that the commission takes specific action setting aside such funds prior to incurring any obligation to be met in whole or in part in such manner. Except where the commission makes use of funds available to it under Article III " $h$ " hereof, the commission shall not incur any obligation prior to the allotment of funds by the party states adequate to meet the same.
d. The commission shall keep accurate accounts of all receipts and disbursements. The receipts and disbursements of the commission shall be subject to the audit and accounting procedures established under its rules. However, all receipts and disbursements of funds handled by the commission shall be audited yearly by a qualified public accountant and the report of the audit shall be included in and become part of the annual reports of the commission.
e. The accounts of the commission shall be open at any reasonable time for inspection by duly constituted officers of the party states and by any persons authorized by the commission.
f. Nothing contained herein shall be construed to prevent commission compliance with laws relating to audit or inspection of accounts by or on behalf of any government contributing to the support of the commission.

ARTICLE VII-Conflict of interest
a. The commission shall adopt rules and regulations with respect to conflict of interest for the commissioners of the party states, and their alternates, if any, and for the staff of the commission and contractors with the commission to the end that no member or employee or contractor shall have a pecuniary or other incompatible interest in the manufacture, sale or distribution of motor vehicles or vehicular equipment or in any facility or enterprise employed by the commission or on its behalf for testing, conduct of investigations or research. In addition to any penalty for violation of such rules and regulations as may be applicable under the laws of the violator's jurisdiction of residence, employment or business, any violation of a commission rule or regulation adopted pursuant to this article shall require the immediate discharge of any violating employee and the immediate vacating of the membership, or relinquishing of status as a member on the commission by any commissioner or alternate. In the case of a contractor, any violation of any such rule or regulation shall make any contract of the violator with the commission subject to cancellation by the commission.
b. Nothing contained in this article shall be deemed to prevent a contractor for the commission from using any facilities subject to his control in the performance of the contract even though such facilities are not devoted solely to work of or done on behalf of the commission; nor to prevent such a contractor from receiving remuneration or profit from the use of such facilities.

ARTICLE VIII-Advisory and technical committees
The commission may establish such advisory and technical committees as it may deem necessary, membership on which may include private citizens and public officials, and may co-operate with and use the services of any such committees and the organizations which the members represent in furthering any of its activities.

ARTICLE IX-Entry into force and withdrawal
a. This compact shall enter into force when enacted into law by any six or more states. Thereafter, this compact shall become effective as to any other state upon its enactment thereof.
b. Any party state may withdraw from this compact by enacting a statute repealing the same, but no such withdrawal shall take effect until one year after the executive head of the withdrawing state has given notice in writing of the withdrawal to the executive heads of all other party states. No withdrawal shall affect any liability already incurred by or chargeable to a party state prior to the time of such withdrawal.

Sec. 2. The agencies and officers of this state and its subdivisions and municipalities shall enforce this compact and do all things appropriate to effect its purpose and intent which may be within their respective jurisdictions.

By Transportation Committee, Keith H. Dunton, Chairman.

Amend House File 607 by striking all after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Section 1. The commissioner of public safety is hereby authorized to enter into drivers license compacts with other jurisdictions legally joining therein in substantially the following form.

The contracting states agree:
ARTICLE I-Findings and Declaration of Policy
a. The party states find that:

1. The safety of their streets and highways is materially affected by the degree of compliance with state laws and local ordinances relating to the operation of motor vehicles.
2. Violation of such a law or ordinance is evidence that the violator engages in conduct which is likely to endanger the safety of persons and property.
3. The continuance in force of a license to drive is predicated upon compliance with laws and ordinances relating to the operation of motor vehicles, in whichever jurisdiction the vehicle is operated.
b. It is the policy of each of the party states to:
4. Promote compliance with the laws, ordinances, and administrative rules and regulations relating to the operation of motor vehicles by their operators in each of the jurisdictions where such operators drive motor vehicles.
5. Make the reciprocal recognition of licenses to drive and eligibility therefor more just and equitable by considering the overall compliance with motor vehicle laws, ordinances and administrative rules and regulations as a condition precedent to the continuance or issuance of any license by reason of which the licensee is authorized or permitted to operate a motor vehicle in any of the party states.

> ARTICLE II-Definitions

As used in this compact:
a. "State" means a state, territory or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.
b. "Home state" means the state which has issued and has the power to suspend or revoke the use of the license or permit to operate a motor vehicle.
c. "Conviction" means a conviction of any offense related to the use or operation of a motor vehicle which is prohibited by state law, municipal ordinance or administrative rule or regulation, or a forfeiture of bail, bond or other security deposited to secure appearance by a person charged with having committed any such offense, and which conviction or forfeiture is required to be reported to the licensing authority.

ARTICLE III-Reports of Conviction

The licensing authority of a party state shall report each conviction of a person from another party state occurring within its jurisdiction to the licensing authority of the home state of the licensee. Such report shall clearly identify the person convicted; describe the violation specifying the section of the statute, code or ordinance violated; identify the court in which action was taken; indicate whether a plea of guilty or not guilty was entered, or the conviction was a result of the forfeiture of bail, bond or other security; and shall include any special findings made in connection therewith.

ARTICLE IV-Effect of Conviction

a. The licensing authority in the home state, for the purposes of suspension, revocation or limitation of the license to operate a motor vehicle, shall give the same effect to the conduct reported, pursuant to Article III of this compact, as it would if such conduct had occurred in the home state, in the case of convictions for:

1. Manslaughter or negligent homicide resulting from the operation of a motor vehicle;
2. Driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or a narcotic drug, or under the influence of any other drug to a degree which renders the driver incapable of safely driving a motor vehicle;
3. Any felony in the commission of which a motor vehicle is used;
4. Failure to stop and render aid in the event of a motor vehicle accident resulting in the death or personal injury of another.
b. As to other convictions, reported pursuant to Article III, the licensing authority in the home state shall give such effect to the conduct as is provided by the laws of the home state.
c. If the laws of a party state do not provide for offenses or violations denominated or described in precisely the words employed in subdivision "a" of this article, such party state shall construe the denominations and descriptions appearing in subdivision "a" hereof as being applicable to and identifying those offenses or violations of a substantially similar nature, and the laws of such party state shall contain such provisions as may be necessary to ensure that full force and effect is given to this article.

ARTICLE V-Applications for New Licenses
Upon application for a license to drive the licensing authority in a party state shall ascertain whether the applicant has ever held, or is the holder of a license to drive issued by any other party state. The licensing authority in the state where application is made shall not issue a license to drive to the applicant if:

1. The applicant has held such a license, but the same has been suspended by reason, in whole or in part, of a violation and if such suspension period has not terminated.
2. The applicant has held such a license, but the same has been revoked by reason, in whole or in part, of a violation and if such revocation has not terminated, except that after the expiration of one year from the date the license was revoked, such person may make application for a new license if permitted by law. The licensing authority may refuse to issue a license to any such applicant if, after investigation, the licensing authority determines that it will not be safe to grant to such person the privilege of driving a motor vehicle on the public highways.
3. The applicant is the holder of a license to drive issued by another party state and currently in force unless the applicant surrenders such license.

ARTICLE VI-Applicability of Other Laws
Except as expressly required by provisions of this compact, nothing contained herein shall be construed to affect the right of any party state to apply any of its other laws relating to licenses to drive to any person or circumstances, nor to invalidate or prevent any driver license agreement or other co-operative arrangement between a party state and a nonparty state.

ARTICLE VII
Compact Administrator and Interchange of Information
a. The head of the licensing authority of each party state shall be the administrator of this compact for his state. The administrators, acting jointly, shall have the power to formulate all necessary and proper procedures for the exchange of information under this compact.
b. The administrator of each party state shall furnish to the administrator of each other party state any information or documents reasonably necessary to facilitate the administration of this compact.

ARTICLE VIII-Entry Into Force and Withdrawal
a. This compact shall enter into force and become effective as to any state when it has enacted the same into law.
b. Any party state may withdraw from this compact by enacting a statute repealing the same, but no such withdrawal shall take effect until six months after the executive head of the withdrawing state has given notice of the withdrawal to the executive heads of all other party states. No withdrawal shall affect the validity or applicability by the licensing authorities of states remaining party to the compact of any report of conviction occurring prior to the withdrawal.

ARTICLE IX-Construction and Severability
This compact shall be liberally construed so as to effectuate the purposes thereof. The provisions of this compact shall be severable.

Sec. 2. The agencies and officers of this state and its subdivisions and municipalities shall enforce this compact and do all things appropriate to effect its purpose and intent which may be within their respective jurisdictions.

> SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 14
> By Schroeder, Van Gilst, Reno, Elvers, Nurse, Patton, Lodwick, Shoeman and Kyhl

Whereas, recent decisions of the Supreme Court have construed the Fourteenth Amendment as requiring that the seats in both houses of a state legislature must be apportioned on a population basis with representatives selected from districts of as nearly equal population as practicable; and

Whereas, since the founding of this country it has been customary for the states, and in accord with the structure of the Congress under the Constitution, to consider factors other than population along in the apportionment of seats in one house of their respective legislative bodies;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives Concurring of the Sixty-first General Assembly of Iowa that this legislature respectfully applies to the Congress of the United States to call a convention for the purpose of proposing the following article as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States.
"Article
"Section 1. Nothing in this Constitution shall prohibit any state which shall have a bicameral legislature from apportioning the membership of one house of such legislature on factors other than population provided that the plan of such apportionment shall have been submitted to and approved by a vote of the electorate of that state.

Section 2. Nothing in this Constitution shall restrict or limit a state in its determination of how membership of governing bodies of its subordinate units shall be apportioned.

Section 3. This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by the legislatures of threefourths of the several states within seven years from the date of its submission to the states by the Congress."

Be It Further Resolved that if Congress shall have proposed an amendment to the Constitution identical with that contained in this resolution prior to June 1, 1965, this application for a convention shall no longer be of any force or effect.

SIFTING COMMITTEE CALENDAR

House File 607, a bill for an act to enable Iowa to enter into the interstate driver license compact with other states and to designate an administrator for the compact, was taken up for consideration.

Uban of Black Hawk offered the following amendment filed May 6,1965 , and moved its adoption:

Amend House File 607 by striking all after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Section 1. The commissioner of public safety is hereby authorized to enter into drivers license compacts with other jurisdictions legally joining therein in substantially the following form.

The contracting states agree:

ARTICLE I-Findings and Declaration of Policy

a. The party states find that:

1. The safety of their streets and highways is materially affected by the degree of compliance with state laws and local ordinances relating to the operation of motor vehicles.
2. Violation of such a law or ordinance is evidence that the violator engages in conduct which is likely to endanger the safety of persons and property.
3. The continuance in force of a license to drive is predicated upon compliance with laws and ordinances relating to the operation of motor vehicles, in whichever jurisdiction the vehicle is operated.
b. It is the policy of each of the party states to:
4. Promote compliance with the laws, ordinances, and administrative rules and regulations relating to the operation of motor vehicles by their operators in each of the jurisdictions where such operators drive motor vehicles.
5. Make the reciprocal recognition of licenses to drive and eligibility therefor more just and equitable by considering the overall compliance with motor vehicle laws, ordinances and administrative rules and regulations as a condition precedent to the continuance or issuance of any license by reason of which the licensee is authorized or permitted to operate a motor vehicle in any of the party states.

ARTICLE II--Definitions

As used in this compact:
a. "State" means a state, territory or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.
b. "Home state" means the state which has issued and has the power to suspend or revoke the use of the license or permit to operate a motor vehicle.
c. "Conviction" means a conviction of any offense related to the use or operation of a motor vehicle which is prohibited by state law, municipal ordinance or administrative rule or regulation, or a forfeiture of bail, bond or other security deposited to secure appearance by a person charged with having committed any such offense, and which conviction or forfeiture is required to be reported to the licensing authority.

ARTICLE III-Reports of Conviction

The licensing authority of a party state shall report each conviction of a person from another party state occurring within its jurisdiction to the licensing authority of the home state of the licensee. Such report shall clearly identify the person convicted; describe the violation specifying the section of the statute, code or ordinance violated: identify the court in which action was taken; indicate whether a plea of guilty or not guilty was entered, or the conviction was a result of the forfeiture of bail, bond or other security; and shall include any special findings made in connection therewith.

ARTICLE IV—Effect of Conviction

a. The licensing authority in the home state, for the purpose of suspension, revocation or limitation of the license to operate a motor vehicle, shall give the same effect to the conduct reported, pursuant to Article III of this compact, as it would if such conduct had occurred in the home state, in the case of convictions for:

1. Manslaughter or negligent homicide resulting from the operation of a motor vehicle;
2. Driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or a narcotic drug, or under the influence of any other drug to a degree which renders the driver incapable of safely driving a motor vehicle;
3. Any felony in the commission of which a motor vehicle is used:
4. Failure to stop and render aid in the event of a motor vehicle accident resulting in the death or personal injury of another.
b. As to other convictions, reported pursuant to Article III, the licensing authority in the home state shall give such effect to the conduct as is provided by the laws of the home state.
c. If the laws of a party do not provide for offenses or violations denominated or described in precisely the words employed in subdivision " $a$ " of this article, such party state shall construe the denominations and descriptions appearing in subdivision " $a$ " hereof as being applicable to and identifying those offenses or violations of a substantially similar nature, and the laws of such party state shall contain such provisions as may be necessary to ensure that full force and effect is given to this article.

ARTICLE V-Applications for New Licenses

Upon application for a license to drive the licensing authority in a party state shall ascertain whether the applicant has ever held, or is the holder of a license to drive issued by any other party state. The licensing authority in the state where application is made shall not issue a license to drive to the applicant if:

1. The applicant has held such a license, but the same has been suspended by reason, in whole or in part, of a violation and if such suspension period has not terminated.
2. The applicant has held such a license, but the same has been revoked by reason, in whole or in part, of a violation and if such revocation has not terminated, except that after the expiration of one year from the date the license was revoked, such person may make application for a new license if permitted by law. The licensing authority may refuse to issue a license to any such applicant if, after investigation, the licensing authority determines that it will be safe to grant to such person the privilege of driving a motor vehicle on the public highways.
3. The applicant is the holder of a license to drive issued by another party state and currently in force unless the applicant surrenders such license.

ARTICLE VI-Applicability of Other Laws

Except as expressly required by provisions of this compact, nothing contained herein shall be construed to affect the right of any party state to apply any of its other laws relating to licenses to drive to any person or circumstances, nor to invalidate or prevent any driver license agreement or other co-operative arrangement between a party state and a nonparty state.

ARTICLE VII

Compact Administrator and Interchange of Information
a. The head of the licensing authority of each party state shall be the administrator of this compact for his state. The administrators, acting jointly, shall have the power to formulate all necessary and proper procedures for the exchange of information under this compact.
b. The administrator of each party state shall furnish to the administrator of each other party state any information or documents reasonably necessary to facilitate the administration of this compact.

Such examinations shall be announced publicly at least fifteen (15) days in advance of the date fixed for the filing of applications, and may be advertised through the press, radio, and other media. For intermittent employment the employee shall have had a probationary, temporary, or permanent appointment.

14. For layoffs by reason of lack of funds or work or organization and for reinstatement of employees so laid off, giving consideration in both layoffs and reinstatement to performance record and seniority in service. Any employee who has been laid off may keep his name on a preferred employment list for one (1) year which list shall be exhausted by the agency enforcing the layoff before selection of another employee may be made from the register in his classification.

At the hearing of such appeals, technical rules of evidence shall not apply. If the commission finds that the action complained of was taken by the appointing authority for any political, religious, racial, or nonmerit reason, the employee shall be reinstated to his former position without loss of pay for the period of dismissal. In all other cases, the commission shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine the rights of classified service employees and may affirm, modify, or reverse any case on the merits of the case.
Sec. 20. ## EXPLANATIONS OF VOTES ON SENATE FILE 550

Explanation of my vote on Senate File 550 as amended by the House:
Although I consider this an inadequate bill, I voted "aye" in order that that subject matter might go to conference committee.

Meacham of Poweshiek.
I voted against Senate File 550 because I object to the bill in its present form. Local control through local support is essential to vocational education in order that all the students of Iowa will be able to benefit from these schools.

Doderer of Johnson.
I voted "no" on Senate File 550 as amended by the House because the formation of a new board would result in much greater administrative costs. Further the proposed board is of unlimited authority and is empowered to designate area, site, construction of buildings, curriculum etc., without restriction. There would be no local control.

Cohen of Black Hawk.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

The following message was received from the Senate:
Mr. Speaker: I am directed to inform your honorable body that the

EXPLANATION ON BOARD OF CONTROL INSTITUTIONS OPERATING APPROPRIATION

It is our intent, in the ensuing biennium, for the counties to be billed for mental health services by the Board of Control institutions as follows:
"Not less than ninety percent ( $90 \%$ ) of the amount appropriated to the mental institutions, as approved by this subcommittee, shall be divided by the total committed patient days for the same period as covered by the appropriation. Example-

| Authorized ceiling  Local income (Including voluntary  patient collections) | $$ 2,892,880.00$ |
| $\quad$ Appropriation | $\mathbf{6 0 5 , 7 6 0 . 0 0}$ |

Quarterly billing, as per section 230.20, Code 1962-
One-fourth of the annual appropriation $$ 571,780.00$
$\mathbf{1 0 \%}$ allowance for non-mental health services $\quad \mathbf{5 7 , 1 7 8 . 0 0}$
Amount to be billed for mental health servicescommitted patients
$$ 514,602.00$
$$ 514,602$ divided by total committed patient days for the quarter, excluding the voluntary patient days.
"The effect of this procedural intent is to clarify the patient billing method and will result in increased per day costs due to either method

> SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 31
> By Klefstad, Kruck, Nims, Tabor, McNally, O'Malley, Griffin, Shoeman, Benda and Rigler

Whereas, the present Code of Iowa provides only limited laws and regulations pertaining to the installation of electrical wiring and equipment, and

Whereas, safeguards to life and property from faulty and defective electrical wiring should be extended to all persons throughout the State of Iowa, and

Whereas, evidence from the reports of the office of the State Fire Marshal and others indicates increasing losses to life and property due to fires of electrical origin, and

Whereas, there does exist an established recognized code for electrical installations known as the "National Electrical Code of the National Fire Protection Association" which should be given consideration as the minimum standard governing all electrical installations for the express purpose of affording protection to life and property from the inherent dangers due to faulty electrical installations, and

Whereas, there is an apparent need for the implementation of such a code for the State of Iowa in conjunction with inspection of electrical installations and licensing of those persons making electrical installations; now therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That the Iowa Legislative Research Bureau be directed to conduct, during the 1965-1967 legislative biennium, a study to determine the need for any legislation to promote greater electrical safety throughout the State of Iowa, including the need for a state-wide electrical code, inspection of electrical installations, and licensing of persons making electrical installations.

Be It Further Resolved, That the Legislative Research Committee establish a committee in accordance with sections two point fifty-five (2.55) and two point fifty-six (2.56) of the Code to assist the Bureau with the study and that the State Fire Marshal and four (4) representatives of the electrical industry from within the State of Iowa be appointed by the Legislative Research Committee to serve in an advisory capacity to any study committee so established. Consideration should be given to appointing the four (4) representatives of the electrical industry from names submitted by private utility companies, rural electric cooperatives, municipal electric utilities, and duly recognized associations of electrical inspectors, electrical contractors, electrical engineers, and journeymen electricians.

Be It Further Resolved, That the Legislative Research Bureau and the committee assisting the Bureau be directed to report the findings of the study and committee recommendations, accompanied by bills incorporating such recommendations, to the Sixty-second General Assembly prior to January 1, 1967.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 32

By Reno, McGill and Van Gilst

Whereas, it is a common practice to mine and quarry coal, gypsum, limestone, and gravel in many areas of the state through the process of open pit excavating, and

Whereas, this process has resulted in many acres of unsightly excavations and piles of waste material, and

Whereas, it is known that much of the area now lying dormant in abandoned pit mines and excavations can be used for useful and worthwhile purposes, now therefore

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, that the Iowa Legislative Research Bureau be directed to conduct, during the 1965-1967 legislative biennium, a study of all aspects of present abandoned pit mines and rock quarries in the state in regard to the possibility of using such areas for recreation, conservation, agriculture, and such other purposes as the committee may determine.

Be It Further Resolved, that the Legislative Research Committee establish a committee in accordance with sections two point fifty-five (2.55) and two point fifty-six (2.56) of the Code to assist the Bureau with the study and that representatives of the mining and quarrying interests of the state be appointed by the Legislative Research Committee to serve in an advisory capacity to any study committee so established.

Be It Further Resolved, that the Legislative Research Bureau and the committee assisting the Bureau be directed to report the findings of the study and committee recommendations, accompanied by bills incorporating such recommendations, to the Sixty-second General Assembly prior to January 1, 1967.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

I voted "no" on Senate File 110 because the tuition payments, for these students who would qualify, which were to be paid by the school district were eliminated by the amendment to the bill. It then was evident that only qualified students whose parents could afford tuition would be able to take advantage of this benefit. The bill then became discriminatory. Cohen of Black Hawk.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE ON THE SCHERLE  AMENDMENT TO HOUSE FILE 677

Although I was a sponsor of a bill for outright repeal of the right-to-work law and am still firm in my convictions, I felt it necessary to vote "no" on the Scherle amendment. There has been much work and compromise on the original bill which was sponsored by my Polk County colleagues and myself. I came to the conclusion that unless House File 677, a compromise, was passed unamended, labor legislation of this kind would have no chance for passage by the Senate or signature by the Governor. I feel the legislation proposed by House File 677 should not be jeopardized.

O'Malley of Polk.
Grassley of Butler offered the following amendment filed May 18, 1965:

Amend House File 677, section two (2), line twelve (12), by striking the period and quotation marks at the end thereof and adding the following:
"; and provided further that no person shall be compelled to join a labor union, organization or association or to pay dues, fees, assessments, charges, contributions, or fines to a labor union, organization, or association who by reason of religious training and belief is conscientiously opposed to participation in a labor union, organization or association.".

HOUSE RESOLUTION 7

By Foster of Cedar, Baringer of Fayette and Nielsen of Shelby Whereas, on February 8, 1965, of this Sixty-first session of the General Assembly, the Senate adopted Senate Concurrent Resolution 9, as amended, to make a full investigation of the department of agriculture and to make a full report to this session as soon as possible so that remedial leglslation, if needed, can be enacted, and

Whereas, the House of Representatives adopted this concurrent resolution on February 10, 1965, and

Whereas, this investigation was the outgrowth and result of the firing of a proven qualified and experienced milk inspector from the department of agriculture over the objection of Mrs. Huda Felland, his qualified superior, who resigned from her position as a result of this firing, and

Whereas, the investigation was completed over six weeks ago, but as yet no report has been made, and

Whereas, insofar as time to enact remedial legislation is concerned, the "hour" is getting very late, and

Whereas, there is no doubt from all reports that nothing in the way of irregular and incompetent conduct on the part of this inspector and his expense accounting was found, and

Whereas, common sense and judgment tells us that this inspector was "fired" because of the fact that he had become a member of the now minority political party, rather than incompetency and irregularities in expense accounting, and

Whereas, the character and reputation of this qualified inspector and veteran has been seriously challenged and injured by these unfounded charges of incompetency and irregularities in expense accounting to the extent that this man is unable to obtain needed employment and is still being held in abeyance;

Now Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, that this committee be called upon to file its final report forthwith and lift this unjustified stigma that has been wrongly placed upon this individual.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 30

By Bremmer, Scott, Webster and Gregerson  of Pottawattamie and Korn of Harrison

Whereas, the city of Carter Lake, Iowa, is in an incorporated community of almost three thousand souls, and

Whereas, that community does not have a post office and must rely on the out of state city of Omaha for its mail service and

Whereas, Iowa has many communities of one-tenth the size of Carter Lake that enjoy the benefits of having their own post office, and

Whereas, the residents of Carter Lake must continually endure the inconvenience of having mail intended for them returned to the sender, therefore,
Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring, that the Postmaster General of the United States be requested to establish a post office in Carter Lake, Iowa.

Be-It Further Resolved, that copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Postmaster General and all the Iowa members of the Congress of the United States.

COMMUNICATION

Forest City, Iowa, May 15, 1965.
Honorable Vincent B. Steffen, Speaker of the House and Honorable Members of the Sixty-first General Assembly.
Was just released from the hospital May 12, and on going through my mail came upon your House Resolution 5, voicing concern at my illness and further expressing good wishes for speedy and complete recovery.

Am most humbly appreciative of this thoughtful courtesy from members of the Iowa Assembly and shall treasure the document but more particularly the memory of it.

Have always felt that the real reward for serving in the Iowa Legislature comes through the many very fine people one meets and is privileged to associate and work among during the sessions.

House Resolution 5 bears this out most convincingly.
Am convalescing on a slow and easy schedule of doing nothing and following doctor's instructions closely.

Had in mind to visit the Assembly but having been ill most of the winter;
it now appears doubtful if I shall have the privilege of stopping in on your session.

My sincere thanks and well wishes to all,
Henry C. Nelson, Speaker of the House, Fifty-ninth General Assembly of Iowa.
