Sec. 3. The commissioner shall reimburse the secretary in an amount up to five percent of the aggregate property, except farm property insurance premiums earned in this state during the calendar year immediately preceding the calendar year with respect to which the secretary paid losses on lines of insurance reinsured by him in this state during that year and for which he claims reimbursement from the fund in accordance with the Act.

Sec. 4. Whenever the secretary shall, in accordance with the Act, present to the state a request for reimbursement under the Act, the commissioner shall immediately assess all insurers which, during the calendar year with respect to which reimbursement is requested by the secretary, were licensed to write and engaged in writing property insurance business, including the property insurance components of multi-peril policies on a direct basis, in this state. The amount of each such insurer's assessment shall be calculated by multiplying the amount of the reimbursement requested by the secretary by a fraction the numerator of which is the insurer's premium actually written in this state in that calendar year on habitation and commercial property, except farm property, risks and the denominator of which is the aggregate premiums written by all licensed insurers on such property risks. In no event shall any insurer's assessment be less than one hundred dollars.

Sec. 5. The secretary shall be reimbursed up to the amount requested by warrants issued against the fund by the state comptroller upon vouchers approved by the director of revenue and the commissioner. If the assessment produces a fund greater than the amount requested by the secretary, the overage shall be placed in a special fund in the office of the treasurer of state under the control of the commissioner and the director of revenue and shall be applied to any subsequent requests by the secretary for reimbursement of losses paid on lines of insurance reinsured by him in this state in accordance with the Act.

In the event that the provisions of this Act and the assessments made thereunder are no longer needed in order to effectuate the program for which they were intended, the amounts remaining in the special fund shall inure to the general fund of the state.

Sec. 6. In the event any insurer fails, by reason of insolvency, to pay any assessment, the commissioner shall cause the reimbursement ratios computed under section four (4) to be immediately recalculated excluding therefrom the insolvent insurer, so that its assessment is in effect assumed and redistributed among the remaining insurers.

Sec. 7. Insurers shall include in filings submitted pursuant to Chapter five hundred fifteen A (515A), Code of 1966, a factor, applicable to the line or lines of insurance on which the assessment is levied, sufficient to recover within not more than three (3) years after the date of assessment any amounts so assessed under Sec. 4 of this Act during the preceding calendar year together with the amount of costs and expenses reasonably attributable to such assessment and recovery thereof.

2. That no change be made in sections 2 through 11 of the Senate amendment, previously concurred in by the House except that section 3 be amended by striking from line 9 of page 2 the word "These" and insert in lieu thereof the words "One of these".

3. That section 12 of the Senate amendment be struck and the following inserted in lieu thereof:

Sec. 12. SALARIES AND EXPENSES—MEMBERS OF GENERAL ASSEMBLY AND LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR—SIXTY-FOURTH AND SUBSEQUENT GENERAL ASSEMBLIES. Commencing with the Sixty-fourth General Assembly, members of the general assembly and the lieutenant governor shall receive salaries and expenses as provided by this section.

1. Every member of the general assembly except the speaker of the house and majority and minority floor leaders of the senate and house shall receive an annual salary of five thousand five hundred dollars for each year while serving as a member of the general assembly. The majority and minority floor leaders of the senate and house shall receive an annual salary of six thousand five hundred dollars for each year while serving in such capacity. In addition, each such member shall receive the sum of fifteen dollars per day for expenses of office, except travel, for each day the general assembly is actually in session. However, members from Polk county shall receive seven and one-half dollars per day. Expenses shall not be paid for more than five days per week. Weekly travel expenses shall be paid at the rate of ten cents per mile for actual travel in going to and returning from the seat of government by the nearest traveled route.

2. The lieutenant governor while presiding in the senate shall receive compensation of twice the per diem rate a senator receives determined by dividing the total number of days of each regular session into the total annual salary of a senator. Personal expense and travel allowances shall be the same for the lieutenant governor as for a senator.

The lieutenant governor while performing administrative duties of the office of lieutenant governor or serving as the president of the senate during special sessions of the general assembly shall receive eighty dollars per diem and reimbursement for expenses incurred in performing such duties pursuant to an appropriation made by the general assembly.

3. The speaker of the house shall receive an annual salary of eleven thousand dollars for each year while serving as the speaker of the house. Expense and travel allowances shall be the same for the speaker of the house as provided for other members of the general assembly.

4. When a vacancy occurs and the term of any member of the general assembly or the lieutenant governor is not completed, the member or the lieutenant governor shall receive a salary or compensation proportional to the length of his service computed to the nearest whole month. A successor elected to fill such vacancy shall receive a salary or compensation proportional to his length of service computed to the nearest whole month commencing with such time as the successor is officially determined to have succeeded to such office.

5. The state comptroller shall pay the travel and expenses of the members of the general assembly and the lieutenant governor semimonthly commencing with the first pay period after the names of such persons are officially certified. The salaries of the members of the General Assembly and lieutenant governor shall be paid in twelve equal installments after each pay period of the first six months of each calendar year. The presiding officers of the two houses of the general assembly shall jointly certify to the state comptroller the names of the members, officers, and employees of their respective houses and the salaries and mileage to which each is entitled. Travel and expense allowances shall be paid upon the submission of vouchers to the state comptroller indicating a claim for the same. Such vouchers shall be submitted no more frequently than once each month.

6. In addition to the salaries and expenses herein authorized, members of the general assembly shall be paid forty dollars per day and necessary travel and actual expenses incurred in attending standing or interim committee meetings subject to the provisions of section sixteen (16) of this Act, or when on official state business, when the general assembly is not in session. Such salaries or expenses shall be paid promptly from funds appropriated pursuant to section fourteen (14) of this Act, unless otherwise provided by law.

7. If a special session of the general assembly is convened, members of the general assembly shall receive, in addition to their annual salaries, the sum of forty dollars per day for each day the general assembly is actually in special session, and the same travel allowances and expenses as authorized by this section.

Such bills and resolutions shall be numbered, printed, and distributed in a manner to be determined by joint rule of the general assembly, or in the absence of such rule, by the legislative council. Amend House Concurrent Resolution 21 by striking all after the first "WHEREAS," and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"many provisions of the Iowa Code relating to eminent domain have remained unchanged for many years; and

WHEREAS, provisions relating to eminent domain are unclear in some instances; and

WHEREAS, dissatisfaction with the law relating to eminent domain has been expressed by segments of our society; NOW THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, THE SENATE CONCURRING:

Section 1. The legislative research committee or its successor is directed to create a study committee as provided by law, which committee shall include members of the appropriate standing committees of the House of Representatives and Senate, to conduct during the 1969-1970 legislative interim a comprehensive study of the Iowa Code relating to eminent domain, including but not limited to the right of eminent domain, exercised by private utilities and the procedure used by private utilities for the purchase of easements prior to petitioning the Commerce Commission to grant the right of eminent domain, in order to provide for an up-dated and equitable law relating to eminent domain.

With reference to the right of eminent domain exercised by private utilities, special emphasis shall be given by the study committee to the possibility of establishing utility corridors in the state, to the possibility of requiring an annual rental or fee to be paid an easement grantor, to the possibility of making more stringent the requirements for establishing by a private utility the necessity and suitability to the public use of a proposed franchise route, to the possibility of requiring individual notice to all land-owners potentially affected by proposed utility route prior to allowing the purchase of any easements by private utility, to the possibility of requiring potential future development of an area to be considered in determining the damage to be assessed in cases of condemnation by a private utility under right of eminent domain, and to the problems occasioned by the disparity of bargaining power between the utility and the private landowner. Nothing contained herein shall in any way be construed to limit the scope of the study to be made by the study committee.

The study committee shall include non-legislative members known for special knowledge in the field of eminent domain.

Staff assistance shall be provided by the legislative research bureau and additional staff may be employed as deemed necessary by the legislative research committee or its successor.

Amend House Concurrent Resolution 21 by striking all after the first "WHEREAS," and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"many provisions of the Iowa Code relating to eminent domain have remained unchanged for many years; and

WHEREAS, provisions relating to eminent domain are unclear in some instances; and

WHEREAS, dissatisfaction with the law relating to eminent domain has been expressed by segments of our society; NOW THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, THE SENATE CONCURRING:

Section 1. The legislative research committee or its successor is directed to create a study committee as provided by law, which committee shall include members of the appropriate standing committees of the House of Representatives and Senate, to conduct during the 1969-1970 legislative interim a comprehensive study of the Iowa Code relating to eminent domain, including but not limited to the right of eminent domain, exercised by private utilities and the procedure used by private utilities for the purchase of easements prior to petitioning the Commerce Commission to grant the right of eminent domain, in order to provide for an up-dated and equitable law relating to eminent domain.

With reference to the right of eminent domain exercised by private utilities, special emphasis shall be given by the study committee to the possibility of establishing utility corridors in the state, to the possibility of requiring an annual rental or fee to be paid an easement grantor, to the possibility of making more stringent the requirements for establishing by a private utility the necessity and suitability to the public use of a proposed franchise route, to the possibility of requiring individual notice to all landowners potentially affected by proposed utility route prior to allowing the purchase of any easements by private utility, to the possibility of requiring potential future development of an area to be considered in determining the damage to be assessed in cases of condemnation by a private utility under right of eminent domain, and to the problems occasioned by the disparity of bargaining power between the utility and the private landowner. Nothing contained herein shall in any way be construed to limit the scope of the study to be made by the study committee.

The study committee shall include non-legislative members known for special knowledge in the field of eminent domain.

Staff assistance shall be provided by the legislative research bureau and additional staff may be employed as deemed necessary by the legislative research committee or its successor.

A report of the study shall be prepared and submitted to members of the Sixty-third General Assembly and shall be accompanied by legislative bill drafts designed to carry out the recommendations of the committee."

Sec. 3. Chapter four hundred three A (403A), Code 1966, is hereby amended by adding thereto the following new section:

'As an optional procedure, a municipality or low-rent housing agency may proceed to exercise the powers granted by this chapter on its own motion without an election, in the manner and subject to the limitations prescribed by this section. Before adoption of the resolution to proceed, the governing body of the municipality shall cause a notice of the proposed resolution to be published at least once in a newspaper of general circulation within the municipality, at least fifteen days prior to the meeting at which it is proposed to take action on the resolution to proceed. The scope of property acquisition for the low-rent housing project or projects shall be specifically limited, by the resolution to proceed, to:

1. The use of dwelling units in existing structures to be leased from private owners.

2. The construction or acquisition of dwelling units which are specifically designed for, and the occupancy of which is to be limited to, persons who are sixty-two years of age or older, or who are physically handicapped, together with their spouses, if married, during the period of being physically handicapped and said project shall not be used for other rental or occupancy except for such limited part of parcel used by the superintendent or manager of such dwelling unit.

Sec. 4. Any provision of chapter four hundred three A (403A) of the Code notwithstanding, no housing project shall be approved unless as a condition at least ten percent of all rents and supplemental rental aid shall be paid annually as taxes to the office of the treasurer in the respective county in which said project is located, except as to the use of dwelling units in existing structures leased from private owners.

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

State Capitol
Des Moines, Iowa 50319

May 23, 1969

The Honorable William H. Harbor
Speaker of the House of Representatives
Sixty-third General Assembly
State Capitol
Des Moines, Iowa

Honorable Members of the General Assembly:

With the first session of the Sixty-third General Assembly at the point of adjournment, I want to commend you—for myself personally and on behalf of all Iowans, whose servants you and I are—for the job you've done in faithfully discharging your responsibilities.

I look forward to the second session of this Assembly in January, 1970, for the balance of the good record this session has begun. Yours is the unique role of pioneers in charting a productive course for future annual meetings of the Iowa legislature, and I especially congratulate you on having kept the 1970 session in mind as you have ordered your priorities of business in 1969. The principal purpose and the great advantage of annual sessions are that they make it possible for you to function as a truly deliberate body, giving due and considered study to the far-reaching policies which you must determine. It is no longer necessary to transact all of the state's legislative business in a single, crowded period which becomes more and more tension-filled as the weeks advance, until—in the final stages—much is done, under great pressure, which no one recalls with great pride after the dust has settled.

While neither you nor I claim perfection for the things done or left undone in the session now closing, I am sure that most of your acts will stand the test of time—either as improvements in activities previously undertaken, or as promising new thrusts into previously untouched areas of public concern. The preponderantly constructive rhythm of this session has substantiated my own vigorous support of the constitutional amendment establishing annual legislative meetings, just as your record here has validated the wisdom of Iowa's citizenry in adopting that amendment. Added experience with this new schedule will increase our skill in utilizing its full potential. Meanwhile, I trust that you will continue the encouraging progress already made toward equipping the General Assembly—as an ongoing part of Iowa government—with the professional study and research tools which are required for successful fulfillment of the legislative responsibility in today's society.

It is particularly essential that law-making bodies perform at the highest level of human possibility in an age when the general body of citizens are, as never before, claiming their share of participation in governmental decision-making. Like you, I welcome this growing sense of public identification with political activity. It provides assurance that the roots of representative democracy are stronger and healthier than cynics had supposed them to be. At the same time, we who are public officials must accustom ourselves to doing our jobs under much sharper scrutiny from a much more concerned constituency which crowds about us more closely than has ever been the case in the past—or, at least, since the era of the New England town meeting and the much more ancient assembly of Athenian citizens. We must not only measure up in fact to the high quality of performance which the people rightly expect from us, but we must communicate to the public the actuality of our commitment to the common welfare. It is overwhelmingly necessary that we do this, to turn back the danger that significant elements of the young, the elderly, the poor and the non-white will be alienated from the mainstream of American life, to the great detriment of us all. That is why I hope that my oft-repeated request for fixing the minimum voting age at nineteen years will receive your prompt and affirmative attention in the 1970 session.

For surely it is the goal of us all to make participation by Iowa people in their government as broad-based and widespread as we can make it. Such has been the goal of our tradition from the beginning. Politics presupposes the existence of certain interest and values which are held in common; the purpose of politics is to give substance to the moral principles which a society shares. Like Plato and Aristotle, we are convinced that politics is the application of ethical principles to social problems. Politics is purposeful; it aims at the reconciliation of conflicting interests; and it depends on the existence of certain principles in terms of which that reconciliation may take place. Politics tries to answer, in practical terms, the questions: What is in the best interest of human beings? What is good for men?

That is the framework of concern within which you have conducted the affairs of this session. It is the framework of concern within which I try to discharge my responsibilities as Governor. Let us now look for a moment at the record of the past four and one-half months, to see how it fits the framework by which we—and the people—measure our achievements.

First, I want to thank you for following many of my recommendations, not only on a number of specific legislative actions I requested, but also in carrying out the difficult task of providing a balanced budget. Even though the process of keeping appropriations within estimated income is one which lacks glamour and is frequently unpopular, I believe sound fiscal policies are a necessary requirement of good government.

In education, although I will not repeat them all, two particularly outstanding accomplishments of this session deserve special mention. First, you passed a bill permitting long-range financing of capital improvements at our three state universities, a measure considered vital to those schools in planning to meet the educational needs of the future. Start and stop construction, based upon whether or not the state has a surplus of funds in a particular year, has been effectively eliminated, to the great advantage of both the universities and the taxpayers.

Second, you passed the tuition grant program for needy students planning to attend our private colleges, thus helping to alleviate the enrollment demands at our public institutions, providing a way in which we can utilize all the educational facilities in our state to their fullest, and insuring the continuation of the pluralistic system of education so vital to our democracy.

But equally important, you looked at the broad spectrum of education in Iowa, and increased total appropriations in this vital area by 16½ percent. Education now receives more than 55 percent of the expenditures of the State Government. You passed legislation increasing the state scholarship fund for needy students to $525,000 a year, and approved another bill allowing students at our area community colleges and vocational technical schools to participate in the program; you made it mandatory that schools offer special education programs for the physically and mentally handicapped; you increased the budgets of our state universities by more than 12 percent for the biennium, and provided for a 60 percent increase in state aid to our area colleges. Dramatic increases in state aid flowing to our public schools were also effected.

Under the broad category of social services and health, you passed the Youth Forest Camp bill, which will allow Iowa to pursue a new pastoral approach in the rehabilitation of our youth who go astray and enacted legislation allowing Iowa's participation in the Work Incentive Program, designed to help train ADC recipients to become wage earners. You appropriated an additional $500,000 a year for the Commission on Alcoholism so that treatment of this devastating disease among Iowans can be expanded and coordinated. You appropriated $100,000 a year for youth development projects, which will attract three-for-one matching federal money to aid us in establishing jobs for young people in Iowa. With your help, we were able to make budget adjustments allowing the appropriation of an additional $2 million to cover the inherited deficit of Medicaid.

You deserve special commendation for the migrant worker law, which guarantees proper health, safety and housing standards for those workers and their families in Iowa. This law is particularly representative of the constructive give-and-take relationship through which dedicated legislators can resolve differences and put aside provincial considerations to achieve necessary ends for the ultimate benefit of the human spirit and man's dignity. I repeat that you are to be particularly commended for this action.

But perhaps the most difficult task before you this session was legislative reapportionment. No other action required such deep personal involvement, nor did any other legislation pose such a threat of complete disruption to the legislative process. Yet you met the challenge calmly and carried out this major accomplishment.

I am particularly pleased with the legislation enacted to help our cities and towns, legislation which will be of lasting benefit to our populated areas where it continues to be necessary to absorb rapidly rising costs for an increasing number of programs. At the same time, you brought the license fees on trucks, which had not been increased in 20 years, more in line with those on private motor vehicles. I favored, and was pleased that we were able, to make a necessary change in the formula for road use tax funds, to funnel more dollars to our cities and towns for roads and streets, and at the same time increase aid to our rural roads. Also, with your help in budget adjustments, we were able to appropriate an additional $2 million on top of this for our municipalities. Also, important legislation for urban renewal was enacted, aimed at making the mechanics and the financial aspects of projects more workable, and you created an office of Urban Affairs.

In the area of economic development in our state, you revised and improved the banking laws, and most importantly, you passed much of the major legislation I requested concerning the revitalization of the Iowa Development Commission. I believe we can look forward to a dramatic expansion of our Iowa economy in the next few years because of this action.

Also of import was your passage of the Regional Airport bill permitting comprehensive state-wide study of our needs in this area, which ultimately will permit us to compete successfully with other states in the supersonic age of transportation.

In law enforcement and public safety, you strengthened the law against drunk drivers, and you made parents responsible for the vandalism of their children under 18 years of age. You removed restrictions on the hiring of police chiefs and officers, and you made important progress toward the passage of an act to modernize our court system and to increase penalties for sex offenders. These are two very important legislative matters that should be passed at your next session.

I would like to mention, in this connection, that Iowa is making significant strides in the battle against crime and juvenile delinquency with funds granted us under the Omnibus Crime Bill. We have established a Crime Commission; we are instituting a thorough analysis of crime in Iowa; and we have dispatched funds to local communities to begin planning and, eventually, institute action programs to meet particular problems facing their respective communities. We plan a state crime laboratory at the University of Iowa, which will greatly aid law enforcement officials with technical and scientific research and analysis required for modern crime fighting programs.

Another significant tax reform measure, in addition to the truck bill, was the repeal of the "sales tax refund" giveaway, which, although originally designed to give aid to the poor, resulted in benefiting many who were far outside this category. This action freed $13 million a year for education and other social service programs designed specifically to meet the needs of less fortunate Iowans.

While I favored a simplified income tax form, which would have given additional relief to the poor of our state, I was pleased you passed legislation which will guarantee that those Iowans who truly need our help, those whose incomes are less than $3,000 a year, will not be required to pay any state income tax. This is a significant reform.

In the area of Human Rights, you repealed the $500 bond requirement for anyone who wishes to file a complaint on a violation of their fair housing rights, and you generally strengthened the fair housing law.

Quite obviously, I have delineated only a few of the more than 300 final legislative steps you have chosen to take during the first session of the Sixty-third General Assembly. All of your accomplishments are now a matter of record, and certainly require no special reiteration by me to attain the high stature they deserve in our state's history.

Finally, I want to make public acknowledgment of the personal sacrifice which every one of you has assumed by reason of serving in the Iowa General Assembly. My close association with you in our joint enterprise has forcefully reminded me of the many private burdens which legislative duty imposes: physical burdens of unbelievably long hours—not only on the floor, but also in committee sessions, in conferences, in study and in communication with the people back home; financial burdens of living away from home, and, in many cases, suffering reduction of income; and, not least of all, emotional burdens of protracted separations from your families. It is only right that our fellow citizens throughout the state should also know of the price which legislative service exacts from those who enter it.

I also acknowledge, with gratitude, the many personal courtesies which have been accorded me by members on both sides of the aisle, and the considerate understanding which you have shown of my problems as Governor.

In the Inaugural Message which I delivered to you at the outset of my administration on January 16 of this year, I said that your goals as legislators and mine as Governor "are identical, our cause is common, and the course we follow must lead to a greater Iowa. Together"—I then concluded—"we shall respond to the challenge of today and the promise of tomorrow."

Together, since January 16, we have lived up to the expectations of those inaugural remarks. I look forward to working with your interim committees throughout the rest of this year and to welcoming all of you back for the 1970 session next January, when we shall resume the never finished business of meeting today's challenge and achieving tomorrow's promise.

Sincerely,
ROBERT D. RAY
Governor

GOVERNOR'S ITEM VETO MESSAGE

(House File 823, Item 5, Sec. 5)

Honorable Melvin D. Synhorst
Secretary of State
State Capitol
Des Moines, Iowa

Dear Mr. Synhorst:

I hereby transmit House File 823, an Act to appropriate from the primary road fund to the State Highway Commission.

House File 823 was approved June 20, 1969, with the following exception:

I am unable to approve Item 5 designated as "Sec. 5" in the Act which reads as follows:

"Sec. 5. The permanent resident engineers' offices presently established by the state highway commission shall not be moved from their locations, however, the commission may establish not more than two temporary resident engineers' offices within the state as needed."

I hereby disapprove this item as provided for in the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Iowa adopted in 1968.

My action is based on the following:

The function of the Highway Commission is to construct and maintain roads and highways in the State of Iowa in the most efficient and effective manner possible.

Restricting the location or relocation of resident engineers' offices will inhibit the Commission's efforts to operate at maximum efficiency.

Mr. Joseph R. Coupal, Director of Highways, estimates that this restriction could cost the State of Iowa an estimated $100,000 during the next biennium.

Sincerely,

ROBERT D. RAY
Governor
