First Calendar Day — First Session Day

HALL OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
DES MOINES, IOWA, MONDAY, JANUARY 11, 1971

Pursuant to law, the House of Representatives of the Sixty-fourth General Assembly of Iowa, First Regular Session, convened at 10:00 a.m., Monday, January 11, 1971.

The House was called to order by the Honorable Dewey E. Goode from Davis County, District 98.

The following prayer was offered by the Reverend James S. Thomas, Bishop of the Iowa United Methodist Church, Des Moines, Iowa:

Eternal God who hast taught us to call thee Father, lead us into a deep sense of gratitude at the beginning of this legislative session. Teach us to value our numbered days so that each one of them may be filled with the best we can bring to it.

Representing the people who elected them, let the members of this assembly also represent the highest value of justice, wisdom, and compassion. Grant that each as a person — and altogether as an assembly — may be guided by high motives and clear purposes.

When we pray for the Governor of this state, lead us to pray also for all who govern with him. May each do his best both in fair and difficult times. Give us poise when we face pressure, strength when we face criticism and good humor when honest differences produce fatigue and tension. Let the love of liberty be so deeply grounded in us that we shall spare no effort to keep it alive.

Grant O Lord that each member of this assembly may so honor the high trust which has been granted him, that he may always act with courage and compassion toward all men.

Through Jesus Christ our Lord, Amen.

On motion by Alt of Polk, District 61, William R. Kendrick of Polk County was elected Acting Chief Clerk. Mr. Kendrick presented himself and took and subscribed to the following oath:

Fischer of Grundy, District 35, moved that the Honorable Dewey E. Goode of Davis County, District 98, be elected Temporary Speaker.

The motion prevailed.

ELECTION OF SPEAKER

Ellsworth of Dubuque, District 50, presented the name of the Honorable William H. Harbor of District 81 as candidate for Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Sixty-fourth General Assembly, preceding such nomination with the following remarks:

MR. CHAIRMAN, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN OF THE HOUSE:

It is my privilege to nominate for Speaker of the House of Representatives the Honorable William H. Harbor of Mills, Montgomery and Page Counties and a citizen of the town of Henderson.

When I said goodbye to my father-in-law last Saturday in Dubuque, he cautioned me about making my nomination speech too long. When I visited with Mr. Harbor yesterday, I asked him if he had any special requests to include in the nomination and he replied that he did not, just as long as the speech was not over an hour-and-a-half. I will follow the advice of both of these splendid gentlemen.

The story of the first half century of his life is well documented in the annals of his beloved state and known to all of us who served under Speaker Harbor in the Sixty-third General Assembly.

We are aware of his birth and growing up in Henderson, graduating from the University of Iowa, his participation in college athletics and his continued interest in sports, service to his country in the United States Navy during World War II, being an active Methodist, a businessman, his tireless civic toil, his decade of achievement as an elected member of the General Assembly.

But not as well-known—and I now speak particularly to the newly elected members of this House—is the kindness and understanding of Bill Harbor in guiding us through our maiden speeches, the mechanics of passing our first bill, the depth of understanding our local problems and helping us correlate these into the larger picture of a successful state government, the consideration shown each legislator during some of our tense moments on this floor.

It is generally understood by all of us that this is to be a difficult, strenuous, and uneasy session. We need an experienced hand at the helm. We want a man who has weathered the storms, who will command our respect, and above all will consider what is best for Iowa. Bill Harbor is that man.

I am a proud person at this moment as I place in nomination for your Speaker of the House of Representatives, William H. Harbor.

Freeman of Buena Vista, District 15, seconded the nomination of William H. Harbor for Speaker of the House, preceded by the following remarks:

This gentleman who has been nominated for Speaker is truly a professional. A gentlemen who is experienced; having served in both the Iowa House of Representatives and the Iowa Senate. A gentleman who is extremely fair; having served as Speaker of the House in the Sixty-third General Assembly. He bent over backward to serve all interests in that session, and I know that he will be as fair to all concerned in the Sixty-fourth.

A gentleman who is understanding and willing to listen. If you freshmen don't understand something and want to be informed, ask the Speaker so that you can better understand.

I am pleased to second the nomination of the Honorable William H. Harbor as Speaker of the House of Representatives for the Sixty-fourth General Assembly.

Cochran of Webster, District 29, seconded the nomination of William H. Harbor for Speaker of the House, preceded by the following remarks:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN OF THE SIXTY-FOURTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY:

It is with honor and respect that I rise to second the nomination of William H. Harbor for the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

At no time in the history of Iowa has the challenge been so great to the members of this honorable body. It certainly is a time when we need dedicated and capable leadership.

I want to assure every one that the Democratic members of this assembly recognize the monumental tasks that lie before us. We, too, are here to represent all the people of the state of Iowa. People have also placed their faith and trust in us at the polls.

Though we are in the minority, our obligations to the people are just as great as those of the members of the majority.

With the awesome task before us we can ill afford to play a wild game of politics, arguing, bantering back and forth senselessly, while the people of Iowa are patiently or impatiently waiting for us to give them the necessary help and assistance that only the Iowa Legislature can give them.

There will be no easy solutions. Emotion cannot play a part. A game of politics will not measure up. We cannot legislate for any one group at the expense of any other.

We must approach our obligations with reason and compassion; ever mindful of the needs of all the people of the State of Iowa; whoever they are—wherever they may be.

I believe we must approach our role and go about our business as true statesmen. With these thoughts in mind, the minority party is here this morning to extend our hand of cooperation throughout the session whenever possible.

Having been a member of this assembly during the two sessions that Mr. Harbor served as Speaker I feel confident that he can give us the leadership we will need in the next two years. He has already demonstrated his capabilities in that capacity.

I, therefore, move that the Chief Clerk be authorized to cast the votes of all the members present of the House for the Honorable William H. Harbor as Speaker of the House of Representatives for the Sixty-fourth General Assembly.

The motion prevailed.

The Honorable William H. Harbor of Mills, District 81, having received all of the votes cast for the office of Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Sixty-fourth General Assembly, was declared duly elected to that office.

Shaw of Scott, District 78, moved that a committee of two be named to escort the Speaker to the chair.

The motion prevailed and the following committee was named: Shaw of Scott, District 78, and Schroeder of Pottawattamie, District 54.

PRESENTATION OF SPEAKER

The Honorable William H. Harbor was escorted to the Speaker's station and, upon being sworn, assumed the chair. Temporary Speaker Goode of Davis, District 98, presented Speaker-elect Harbor with the gavel and congratulated him on his unanimous election.

Speaker Harbor thanked the House for the honor bestowed upon him and offered the following remarks:

In accepting the responsibility of the office of Speaker of the House of the Sixty-fourth General Assembly, I am most appreciative of the honor that comes to me for the second time. It is received in a spirit of humility and with it a prayer to God that I may be worthy and have the ability, good judgment, the tolerance, and understanding to carry forward these responsibilities in a manner you have a right to expect.

This position dictates that it calls the signals, but let us not forget that there are one hundred House members, each with an individual responsibility in any success this Assembly will have in providing good, responsive government to our beloved state.

Under our two-party system, the majority party, of which I am a member, must lead in the responsibility of organization and administration. This will be done with fairness, firmness, and dispatch. To you of the minority, let me suggest that each of us have equal responsibility in matters of legislation and, thus, I respectfully offer and encourage cooperation. This is the time to lay aside partisan politics and join forces in confronting the problems and issues of the day. I read recently where a party said that ". . . a man's life and property are placed in jeopardy while the legislature is in session." One might surmise that this was taken from this morning's paper, but, instead, it was a reference made to the Massachusetts Legislature in 1785. This proves that throughout history there is concern about legislative bodies and their work product. This can be a meaningful and productive session if we give the self discipline and cooperation each of us is capable of exercising. On the other hand, we will be open for criticism and ridicule if we engage in partisan, petty politics and excessive rhetoric.

To you new members, this can be a rewarding experience if, for no other reason than having a warm feeling of being a part of shaping the destiny of Iowa. There will be times when you will think the process completely illogical and without reason, but time will show such actions as being necessary. I bid you welcome, and with it, a hand of friendship and cooperation.

Almost all issues carry with them high priority ratings and we will be meeting them head on. We will demand that Congress recognize the critical fiscal position of cities, towns and county government, and immediately take action on revenue sharing. We will make it crystal clear that the element that seeks to destroy our form of government and turn our state into a survival of the fittest, is not welcome and will be dealt with by a firm hand in no uncertain terms. We welcome our youth and invite them to take a more active, responsible role in government. We intend to furnish the necessary services commensurate with our ability to pay, and in an equitable manner. As you can see, we will be busy.

To the news media, all we ask is fairness in their reporting, a disclosure of all the facts. You members of the press know that you have a big part to play in any success we have, thus, I respectfully suggest that you exercise the responsibility of keeping the public abreast of all activities, not just the sensational.

Thus, let us all seek Divine guidance as we work toward our objective, which must be to keep Iowa progressive, yet continue to build on a foundation of sound finance and due regard for the principles of American democracy.

I am ready, as I am sure you are, to move forward in making Iowa a place to grow.

Speaker Harbor in the chair.

Be It Further Resolved, That Governor Robert D. Ray be invited to deliver his message at a joint convention of the two houses of the General Assembly on January 12, 1971, at 10:00 a.m. and that the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House be designated to extend the invitation to him.

Be It Further Resolved, That at this joint convention the votes for Governor and Lieutenant Governor be canvassed and the results announced and recorded as provided by law.

ELECTION OF SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

Pelton of Clinton, District 74, placed in nomination the Honorable Floyd H. Millen of District 99 as candidate for Speaker pro tempore of the House of Representatives of the Sixty-fourth General Assembly, preceding his nomination with the following remarks:

MR. SPEAKER AND LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I nominate the gentleman from Lee and Van Buren Counties for the position of Speaker pro tempore.

The gentleman is a distinguished leader. His ability while speaking on his feet is only excelled by his fairness when presiding over this House from the Speaker's chair. The clever wit that he possesses always seems to come through while he is handling either of these tasks. This House has been served well by him in the many leadership positions he has held over the years. We can depend on him to serve us equally well in the future.

Drake of Muscatine, District 71, seconded the nomination of Mr. Millen as Speaker pro tempore of the House of Representatives, preceding his nomination with the following remarks:

MR. SPEAKER, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN OF THE HOUSE:

It is with great esteem and honor that I second the nomination of Floyd H. Millen as Speaker pro tempore. The gentleman from Van Buren County has many years' service in the legislature, including a term as both Majority Leader and our past Speaker pro tempore.

Floyd was sick yesterday, so I asked his wife if a long list of virtues applied to him personally. She said they did and added on rare occasions he was stubborn. I think stubbornness is even a virtue for politicians, if he is right. And on most occasions, Floyd, you have been right.

Floyd, the whole House joins in your seconding nomination.

Priebe of Kossuth, District 6, seconded the nomination with the following remarks:

MR. SPEAKER, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN OF THE HOUSE:

It gives me a great deal of pleasure to second the nomination and move the Chief Clerk cast the votes of all the House of Representatives of the Sixty-fourth General Assembly for the Honorable Floyd H. Millen of Van Buren County as Speaker pro tempore of the House. He is a gentleman with a fine sense of humor and above all a gentleman for whom I have the greatest regard.

In accordance with the foregoing motion, the Chief Clerk cast the votes of all the members of the House of Representatives for the Honorable Floyd H. Millen as Speaker pro tempore of the House of Representatives of the Sixty-fourth General Assembly. The Honorable Floyd H. Millen of Van Buren County, District 99, having received all of the votes cast for the office of Speaker pro tempore of the House of Representatives of the Sixty-fourth General Assembly, was declared duly elected to that office.

Stromer of Hancock, District 8, moved that a committee of two be appointed to escort the Speaker pro tempore to the chair.

The motion prevailed and the following committee was appointed: Stromer of Hancock, District 8, and Grassley of Butler, District 10.

Mr. Millen was escorted to the chair and, after taking the oath of office, offered the following remarks:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN OF THE SIXTY-FOURTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY:

I welcome you and thank you sincerely for this high honor that has been bestowed upon me for the second successive General Assembly.

I appreciate the confidence and trust that you have entrusted to me. At the beginning of the Sixty-third General Assembly I made the promise "that we would be out of here sooner than Iowans have been used to in recent years." Through the diligent efforts of the leaders and cooperation of the Sixty-third General Assembly, Second Session, that was accomplished. I make no such prediction this time.

This session of the Sixty-fourth General Assembly will be the most important to Iowans for several reasons. To name two: the determination of all legislators to make taxes fair and equitable to everyone. I pledge myself and all of you to that end. And also of almost equal importance to all Iowans is another—redistricting and reapportionment. These two issues alone are not only important but extremely controversial, and will take a great deal of time.

We all come from varied backgrounds and business interests. This is as it should be. It also means we have varied viewpoints. This leads to disagreement and full discussion on the issues. But what it will finally lead to is the best thinking in the best interest of all Iowans.

To this I pledge myself and the Sixty-fourth General Assembly. I hope you will take this same pledge. I also want to encourage the new members to feel free to come to me at any time you feel I can be of service to you.

Thank you.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE CHIEF CLERK

The following communication was received from Serge H. Garrison, director of the Legislative Service Bureau:

Many legislators requested bill drafts to be prepared prior to the convening of the legislative session. The Legislative Service Bureau will be notifying all legislators whose bills are completed of such fact within the next day or two. It will take a day or two to clear the completed bills from the bureau offices. If at all possible, legislators are requested to delay inquiries as to the status of bills for a day or two in order that completed bill drafts can be cleared from the offices of the Legislative Service Bureau and to prevent confusion which might result from so many inquiries at one time. Once the completed bills are cleared from the Legislative Service Bureau, it will be much easier to handle inquiries as to the status of other requests. Requests for additional bill drafts will be handled at any time.

President Jepsen then presented Governor Robert Ray who delivered the following address:

THE CONDITION OF THE STATE
by
THE HONORABLE ROBERT D. RAY
GOVERNOR OF IOWA
Delivered before a Joint Session
of the Sixty-Fourth General Assembly
January 12, 1971

MR. PRESIDENT, MR. SPEAKER, MEMBERS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

The Constitution of the State of Iowa directs that the Governor "shall communicate, by message, to the General Assembly, at every regular session, the condition of the state, and recommend such matters as he shall deem expedient". (Article IV, Sec. 12)

I shall discharge this important twofold obligation in three parts. My remarks today will deal largely with the condition of Iowa as we, her people, enter a new year, a new political biennium, and a new decade. In the subsequent Inaugural and Budget Messages, I shall direct our attention to the future—indicating, in the light of experience and current conditions, what (in my judgment) our common goals should be and how we should go about achieving them.

Necessarily and properly, each of the three parts in this series of reports is not designed to be exhaustive but will be brief rather than voluminous, and exploratory rather than dogmatic. They will not evade or shirk the significant, and the decisive role which often the Governor must play in a wide range of decision-making processes. Equally, however, they will take account of the happy fact that—in our relatively free society—there are many other participants in decision-making.

I am well aware that a Governor is exposed by his constitutional obligation to "communicate . . . and recommend." It has not escaped my attention that, in ancient Athens, Socrates went around giving advice to all his neighbors—and they poisoned him.

Let us inventory for a moment, the specifics of the situation. Clearly, the authors of our Iowa Constitution did not contemplate that the Governor would narrowly limit his vision to the mechanics of state government in conducting that survey of “the condition of the state” which they directed him to make. Nor would it be possible to do so, if the state’s condition is to be accurately portrayed—because state government, and all levels of government totally, are only one, or a few, of many influences that determine—and measure—the state’s condition.

First, a very brief word about the economy. Involved and knowledgeable observers are optimistic about the Iowa economic outlook. While the national financial downturn and work stoppages of the last 18 months have not affected Iowa as severely as most states, we have not escaped their impact. This sliding economy has affected both our Iowans and our government.

The short-range record for Iowa’s basic industry—agriculture—has been bleak, and only a fool would try to do a cosmetic snow-job on that intractable fact. Nationally, prices paid to farmers for raw products in December averaged 7 percent less than a year ago, while farm expenses continued to rise—putting farm families in a painful price-cost squeeze.

Iowa has had a much slower population growth than the nation as a whole—the Iowa rate being about one-sixth of the national rate. Hence, our delegation in the lower house of Congress—which numbered 11 representatives as recently as 1930—will now be shrunk from seven to six, confronting this General Assembly with one of its major tasks in devising a fair and reasoned redistricting plan. The primary cause of Iowa’s relatively stationary population is the steadily declining need for human labor in agriculture, to which can be added a birthrate decline—both nationally and in Iowa—during the past decade. This is now being reflected in a leveling off, or reduction, statewide, of school enrollments in the lower grades.

Furthermore, the nature of population changes—and, hence, their effect on schools, other public services, and private business—has been very dissimilar across the state. The sharpest population losses, and the sharpest school enrollment declines, have been in predominately rural counties. Thus, one Iowa county has fewer people than it had in 1844, two years before Iowa became a state.

At the other extreme, some Iowa counties and communities grew dramatically in the past 10 years. Most—but not all—of them fall into two groups: relatively industrialized urban areas, and university locations.

I have briefly summarized these economic and demographic facts because they are the hard, basic stuff from which come all kinds of political consequences which ultimately must be dealt with by the people acting collectively as “government.” Economic facts influence population facts like birthrates and migration patterns. The population facts, in turn, will require you this session not only to redistrict for congressional purposes but also once more to reapportion the legislature itself.

In a broader way, many of the difficult and controversial problems with which you and I—and the whole body of citizens—must wrestle in the months ahead spring from economic sources and from the restless mobility of modern man. This is especially true of three tall problems which cast so long a shadow over all government; namely, taxation—education—and transportation. With these and other issues I shall deal at length in the two remaining messages of this series. If people were content to freeze in their tracks, so to speak, these issues wouldn’t exist. Fortunately, people are not content to be vegetables, and therefore, we do have the issues, but we also do have the political process to bring them into some degree of manageability.

As we stand at the crossroads of this ebbing century, we have an opportunity to welcome new voters into full participation in their and our government. I have long favored lowering the voting age and was pleased when the General Assembly took action to grant the right to vote to 19-year-olds. The recent United States Supreme Court decision validating a minimum 18-year-age for voters in presidential and congressional elections has caught Iowa in mid-flight on our proposed constitutional amendment. We must move now as rapidly as possible to make the voting age consistent.

Dick Nolan, the San Francisco Examiner columnist, discovered the beauty and humaneness of Iowa while crossing our state last fall in a small foreign car. What he saw and experienced impressed him so deeply that he wrote for the Examiner a paean to Iowa.

In part, it went this way: "Iowa", he said, "may well have claim to being the most civilized corner of America, in addition to being unquestionably among the most beautiful of our varied landscapes. . . . Sweet land, well-watered and bountiful. . . . Iowa land is land you can love, as plainly it has been loved by succeeding generations of lovers. . . . Iowa is such a smiling state. You have a feeling that here, if anywhere in the United States, Americans are at peace with their environment. . . . In Iowa, in the midst of a spectacular lightning storm"—continued the San Francisco columnist—"my MG developed the only trouble it had on the tour. . . . It was only a matter of minutes before an Iowa businessman . . . pulled off the road to help. He drove me some eight miles to a garage . . . , chatting easily . . . all the way. This was rain-drenched Iowa freeway. Would I have been rescued as cheerfully on a California freeway? In bright sunshine?"—asked newspaperman Nolan, who then answered his own question, saying: "I rather doubt it. California is a different country."

There is a sequel to that column. Shortly after it was published, I went with an Iowa trade delegation to California, and that mission prompted Dick Nolan to write another column on our state, in which he warned against importing to our prairies the over-growth and over-industrialization which he saw around him on the Pacific Coast. In order to allay the fears of this loyal new friend, I sent him a letter of reassurance, in which I said that our trade missions attest a will for economic growth, but not at the expense of our environment. "Iowa"—I declared—"proposes to grow, and grow wisely, but not by bringing to Iowa those belching smoke stacks and loathesome liquid wastes which would destroy the beauty that our 'fathers and grandfathers have been building generation by generation, each adding to the accomplishment of the other.' Iowa is interested only in the kinds of industry that will help to preserve—not destroy—our . . . quality of life."

I concluded my remarks to the San Francisco columnist with these words: "We propose to do all this without retreat to your suggestion of 'having Iowa declared a national park and monument.' . . . We propose to fashion . . . a living, vibrant, productive society. . . ."

As Americans cry out in protest against the continued ecological ravaging of their continent, they place an increasingly high premium on the qualities of life and living which have been nurtured here in Iowa. Especially encouraging is the renewed appreciation of these qualities by our own Iowa youth, and the apparent increase in the number of them who want to remain or return here. In the words of a 25-year-old girl now living in an apartment on Manhattan Island, "I never realized how good life in Iowa was until I left."

No one more appreciates the value of what this young lady was telling the world than our Iowa Development Commission. It seeks new jobs and new opportunities for our Iowans, and particularly the young ones who are in constant demand around this country because of their education, abilities and willingness to work. This Commission, along with local developers, is answering the challenge by attracting non-polluting, community-minded industries which provide employment for Iowans. Recognizing the importance of our basic industry—agriculture—we established a separate agriculture promotion division within the Development Commission to help our farm economy. All this progress has been possible because of the highly motivated and aggressive Commission members and staff, and because the legislature complied with my every request for the rejuvenation and revitalization of this arm of government. Through these efforts the painful blow of taxes can be softened.

We look to Congress to support a change in the antiquated welfare program which would break the generation-after-generation chain that is not acceptable to either the taxpayers or the recipients. We look hopefully to Congress to follow the President's lead in this area and for the federal government to accept financial responsibility in this field. In order to avoid the bankruptcy of cities and states, as the President so aptly put it a few nights ago, federal revenue sharing is a must.

President Nixon is the first President who has agreed that a share of our tax money paid to Washington should be returned without restriction to cities, towns and states. The President has taken the lead. Now it remains for Congress to act. In the meantime, we will not idly wait, using the inaction as an excuse for not facing realistically and squarely the problem of burdensome property taxes. This I will discuss in detail in my Budget Message.

One of the most gratifying experiences of my first administration has been the contribution of private citizens who have volunteered their services, their talents—and money too—to make government more meaningful, efficient and effective. The Governor's Economy Committee, that I promised Iowans two years ago, has produced recommendations that will save $23 million annually. The people are demanding that government at all levels become more efficient, and I agree with them.

The successful pursuit of quality life depends upon the development and cultivation of the mind. Recognizing this fact, and because learning is a never-ending process we have emphasized the importance of education in Iowa. As examples, we have:

First: Instituted a tuition grant program for students attending Iowa's private colleges.

Second: Expanded aid to the area community colleges.

Third: Inaugurated a long-term bonding plan for the three state universities.

Fourth: Provided more financial support than ever before to education at all levels, and Fifth: Scored a breakthrough for those who attend our non-public schools.

The abuse of drugs has brought to Iowa the cruel realities of death, crippled and warped lives, increased crime and heart-rending personal grief. To combat this drug menace, we organized during 1970 a three-part program of drug education, law enforcement, treatment and rehabilitation. We have combined the energies and activities of local community volunteers with the coordination and financial assistance of the various state authorities responsible for the different areas. This drug program has been successfully launched primarily because our approach, which is at the heart of my philosophy of the role of all government, concentrates on utilizing people, their enthusiasm and commitment, coupled with a measure of state-wide direction and tax dollars.

We have made a solid beginning in attacking this threat. Continuation and improvement of our efforts are imperative, and I call on all of you to join with me in erasing this threat to the quality of life in our state.

As we stand at the crossroads we can see ribbons of new highway stretching out in nearly every direction. Last year Iowa let more contracts for road construction and purchased more right-of-way than ever before in our history. But improved roads alone will not prevent the tragic and senseless killings on our highways that took an upswing in 1970 from our encouraging previous year's lower totals. To grapple with this lifesaving problem, our aim will be on the chief cause of accidents—the person who sits behind the wheel.

We can also see the concentrated effort to preserve the incomparable beauty of our rivers and streams in Iowa and we take exceptional pride in the discovery of the Cold Water Cave in the northeastern part of our state. Rathbun Reservoir filled earlier than scheduled and became Iowa's largest lake, more than doubling the recreational potential already opened up by the Red Rock Lake.

If you will look from the crossroads along the path that we have traveled in the past two years, you will see many milestones of substantial progress. For youth you will see the Governor's Summer Youth Opportunity Program where young people were encouraged and then given the opportunity to use their available time working and earning and feeling the satisfaction of accomplishment. For needy parents you will see the WIN—Work Incentive Program that has successfully trained and found employment for welfare recipients who could and have moved from the welfare rolls to worthwhile jobs. You will see milestones of progress for our cities and towns where we provided over $7 million for sewage facility projects, a substantial increase in the road fund allocation, and the first direct revenue sharing between the state and our cities and towns.

You will see also along the pathway of the past two years, still growing recognition of imaginative programs in other areas. Government has been able to compassionately blend expertise, ideas, financing and understanding for our less fortunate—the blind, the handicapped, the disabled, if you please—citizens so that they, too, can take advantage of opportunities for a meaningful life. In addition, you will see a new alcoholism treatment program that originated during this term.

You can further see genuine concern and determined effort to preserve the Iowa environment. Air pollution standards have been adopted, and our lingering controversy with the federal government over water quality standards pertaining to the Mississippi River has been settled. We look forward to increased effectiveness among our many agencies and commissions of government charged with conserving and improving our environment.

We established the Crime Commission and in my Inaugural Message two years ago I said that we intended to score breakthroughs in the following seven areas:

First: Apprehension of suspects, partly through consolidation of police radio facilities;

Second: Computerization of identification;

Third: Up-grading of police investigative procedures;

Fourth: Action to speed criminal justice;

Fifth: Pre-sentence investigations under judicial supervision;

Sixth: Cooperation and coordination among the state highway patrol, county sheriff's officers and local police;

Finally: The addition of State Crime Laboratory facilities.

Not only has this commitment been fulfilled, many other advancements have been made in our struggle against crime.

And you will see the establishment of a Citizen's Aide, commonly known as the Ombudsman, giving government new credibility by providing citizens of this state with a place to go when they need direction, a knowledge of what is available to help them, or when they are aggrieved or believe they have been aggrieved.

During this term our working men and women have gained needed increases in Iowa's Workmen's Compensation benefits. At last, some important safety regulations have been adopted and are being enforced and safety education has been expanded.

We also picked up the nearly $2½ million Medicaid deficit that existed at the beginning of my administration and went on to support the elderly who had been removed from that program and who then had to turn to old-age-assistance. Furthermore, we increased the benefits to the elderly, with particular emphasis on those who could not meet the costs of staying in nursing homes.

The path that has been traveled during these past two years has found a rekindling of the spirit that historically has brought people and government together for accomplishment far beyond any success that could be contemplated by one without the other. I think of the Rubella project where we were able to utilize state funds and ingenuity through the leadership in our State Health Department—to start a program of voluntary participation of civic organizations, schools, health facilities, medical associations, individuals and many others to immunize youngsters all over this state to prevent a German Measles epidemic. Millions of dollars were saved, but far more important, was the prevention of human misery and birth defects which threatened an uncountable number of Iowa children.

Volunteerism is a precious part of the American heritage, and the readiness to help one another has been a mark of our society from the beginning of pioneer times. Furthermore, it is through volunteers that today's great needs can best be met. These are the qualities which our democracy requires—coming to focus in the spirit that John Adams called "public happiness", the delight of taking part in public discussion and public action, the joy of citizenship and self-government, the zeal which—Adams said—won the Revolution even before it was fought.

I have discussed with you a number of achievements that we have made as we have moved to the crossroads where we stand today. Let there be no misunderstanding. Much remains to be done. I will be discussing with you on Thursday of this week and—perhaps most important—in the Budget Message that follows, many of the matters that call for our attention during this session.

My office and I stand ready to, and will, assist you harmoniously and cooperatively, in your arduous tasks of drafting, deliberating and passing legislation needed and beneficial to our state.

It is my hope that in the spirit to which I have referred—the spirit that John Adams called "public happiness"—we Iowans can move toward the solution of our problems in the 1970's and throughout the rest of this century. Part of that spirit is the politics of personal responsibility, the politics of the application of knowledge and reason. It is politics with a new constituency—not one of special interests and separate groups, but a constituency of conscience, common concern, and common commitment. It is the politics which says that we are measured by the height of our dreams and the depth of our resolve. It is to this kind of politics and this kind of spirit that I summon you and all Iowans as we advance from the crossroads into the finer future that we are determined to achieve.

Governor Robert Ray was escorted from the House chamber by the committee previously appointed.

INAUGURAL MESSAGE

by

THE HONORABLE ROBERT D. RAY
GOVERNOR OF IOWA

Veterans Memorial Auditorium

Des Moines, Iowa

January 14, 1971

MR. PRESIDENT, MR. SPEAKER, MR. CHIEF JUSTICE, SENATORS AND REPRESENTATIVES, STATE OFFICIALS, DISTINGUISHED GUESTS, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

Since I stood before you for nearly two hours two years ago, at least two new issues have developed: pollution of the environment and the threat to cancel this Inauguration.

Believe me, this did give me pause for thought as I prepared this message. In two years a Governor is wiser and far more experienced—experienced enough to know that much of a long Inaugural address falls on deaf ears and sleepy eyes.

But two years ago not only were many of you new, so was I, and I felt it essential to outline both my philosophy and my program—in a comprehensive detailed way.

I do not intend to repeat much of my philosophy today—it has not changed; nor do I plan to detail an entire program, but I do reserve the right to discuss with you other recommendations and suggestions as the legislative session unfolds.

Instead, I shall set forth in broad, bold strokes the opportunities of the next two years, which you and I shall share together as elected leaders of our Commonwealth.

As co-workers in the field of public policy, you Legislators and I, elected by our peers, are charged with the responsibility to see that the statutes you design, and those which I sign, make our state one of ordered law, rather than arbitrary caprice.

Behind—and all around—both you and me stands the whole body of our fellow-citizens, who share with us the prerogatives of governing and to whom you and I, as their servants, are persistently accountable.

We do stand at a crossroads of history—not only as Iowans, but also as Americans. It is an uncomfortable position because it requires us to make difficult, even hazardous decisions.

But it is only out of difficulty and hazard that greatness is born, and events have conspired to give us—if we will but seize it—an opportunity for greatness such as no other generation has ever had.

Iowa today is uniquely endowed by nature and by history to create—here in the heartland—a vibrant, compassionate, fulfilling society, which will epitomize everything constructive in the sharp winds of change that are now blowing across America.

Iowa is enormously rich in those very assets to which all Americans—and, indeed, all human beings—are now beginning to attach prime value: uncluttered landscape, abundant living space, relatively clean air and water, widespread good neighborliness, and a serene, unhurried rhythm of life.

You, as Legislators, and I, as Governor, bear the heavy responsibility and enjoy the thrilling challenge of leadership in making wise, good choices, as we stand for this brief moment of time at these crucial crossroads.

And the space of time we are given to make these historic choices is urgently brief because these unprecedented winds of change blow fast as well as sharp.

We must not, you and I, through any action or inaction of ours, choose the low path where the vast chorus of hope dies gradually away to a whisper of negative despair.

And as we build, we must keep constantly before us the realization that government is not an end in itself, but rather a means—a tool—for the shaping of desirable human ends.

The question is not: "How well is government doing?"

The question is "How well are the people doing?"

This is the question raised by the present over-riding concern about the condition of our environment—a concern that includes, but does not stop with, the natural environment, because it embraces also the condition of our human environment. The people—including that tool of the people which we call government—are vitally concerned with both aspects of environment, because upon them depend not only the people's welfare, but also the people's survival.

Hence, my discussion today of Iowa's public needs will be in terms of our natural and human environment. For example, the whole tragic problem of drug abuse is really one of human environmental pollution. I congratulate the General Assembly for coming to grips with this spectre early in the session. The Uniform Act which you are considering to help curb drug abuse hits hardest where it should—at the supplier and profiteer. This legislation will augment and undergird the many-sided attack which my office has made on the same front during this past year. This is an example of how the Legislative and Executive branches can support and strengthen each other.

Other examples come quickly to mind of the role that government must play in protecting and improving Iowa's natural and human environment. Two years ago, from this same rostrum, I called attention to the need for county zoning to protect people's property and assure that growth is orderly. Since action locally has been slow in coming, I ask the Legislature to provide a time certain for action.

It is important that this General Assembly combine into a single Environmental Quality Control Agency the commissions and boards presently charged with establishing and enforcing rules, regulations and standards for the prevention of pollution.

One of Iowa's prime assets is also one of the greatest pollutants—her productive soil that washes into our streams and rivers. To control siltation and to stop continuing waste and spoilage, it is important that this General Assembly adopt a reasonable soil conservancy law.

We can improve the human ecology of Iowa government.

Iowans, including their Governor, are serious about wanting government to operate economically. I view our citizens as stockholders in this business of government, the Legislature as the board of directors, and the Governor as manager. As would be true in the business world, in your capacity as a policy-making body, you have an opportunity to implement economy measures by resolving through legislative action changes recommended by the Governor's Economy Committee.

As one charged with conducting the affairs of this business, I ask that you adopt the Economy Committee bills that will improve the operation of our state and save millions of dollars.

Not only can money be saved, but government can be more effective. An example where legislative action is needed is the replacement of the present Liquor Control Commission with a full-time director and responsible advisory board.

It has been my practice to face the issues, controversial or otherwise, head-on. With that in mind, it is axiomatic that the most important element of human ecology is human life itself. And the issue of human life is interwoven with the emotional issue of abortion, which currently divides equally sincere Americans—not only in Iowa, but all over the land.

Our state law now allows abortion under certain circumstances. Simply and honestly stated, I am convinced this is a matter which should be decided between doctor and patient, with reasonable restraints.

In terms of our human environment, the present Attorney-General of Iowa deserves our thanks for his efforts, and those of his office, in protecting consumers against fraudulent practices by unscrupulous purveyors of goods and services, who are—let it be added—only a tiny, but unpardonable, minority of the whole business community.

Decent human environment requires the maintenance of order under law and efficient, even-handed administration of justice for all of our people.

You and I both want to stop crime, and to do so, justice must be speedy and fair. You have a chance to contribute substantially to the cause of law and order in Iowa by the adoption of a unified trial court system that I have considered of great importance—a system that would modernize our century-old antiquated court structure.

During this past year, attention has been drawn to some of the deficiencies in our criminal laws. While our Criminal Code is presently undergoing committee revision, we should not wait to strengthen these laws where changes would truly be helpful in our battle against crime, such as controls on dynamite and other explosives, allowing immunity for witnesses from self-incrimination in necessary cases, and providing a trespass law that will protect property rights and not imperil human safety.

For a better human environment, some reduction can surely be made in the multitude of units of government which exist in this state. County offices can now be combined; a similar law should be enacted for county mergers if the local citizens agree. People on all levels should be analyzing the functions of their taxing districts, looking for ways to combine efforts and cooperate with other units. As an example, I would ask that you provide for the establishment of area correctional facilities to do what our outmoded jails in many locations can never do.

Of tremendous significance, and of great personal satisfaction to me, are the avenues now opening to bring young people into the mainstream of our nation's political life.

I want the Legislature to proceed as rapidly as possible with the successful 19-year-old voting amendment, and to carry it to its conclusion. But simultaneously, in order that Iowa remains consistent with national policy, I urge the passage this session of an 18-year-old amendment. This is simply the most logical course of action, and we should get on with it.

Human ecology also includes, very emphatically, the processes of education by which each of us acquires the knowledge free people need for the discharge of their responsibilities to themselves, their families, their communities, and society. In this connection, I am especially proud of our newly-established Iowa Tuition Grant Program.

It is a government program that is working. It has breathed new life into our private colleges, and has provided new educational opportunities for 3,500 needy Iowa students. I not only want it continued, I want it expanded.

While this program and the increase in the enrollment at our Area Community Colleges have relieved some pressure on our Regents' universities, we cannot slight the indispensable contributions provided by all of these schools. Much of the action you will be called upon to take regarding these and our elementary and secondary schools will be forthcoming in my Budget Message.

This General Assembly should help Iowa educators in their efforts for greater accountability. This can be done through the establishment of a Professional Practices Board and the funding of a Professional Practices Commission.

Once again, I also ask the Legislature to recognize Iowa's lack of a structure for collective bargaining. The Legislature cannot afford to ignore the necessity for this action.

In the realm of ecology—both natural and human—a great opportunity for Iowa is fast approaching. I refer to the Bicentennial of American Independence. All fifty states have been urged by the President to commemorate this event in 1976 with suitable observances.

We now have a Bicentennial Commission exploring the best means of our celebrating this 200th year of Independence. We want to demonstrate our incomparably productive capacity to feed the world through freedom. Why not a World's Food Exposition in Iowa. I urge you and all Iowans to "brainstorm" with me probing the potential of such an event.

A special thanks goes to you lawmakers for the support you have given me in a number of programs since I became your Governor. I am counting on this support again, not only for the specific proposals outlined in this message, but for other areas of need, including cities and towns; community improvement; the Governor's Youth Opportunity Program; economic development, including our number one industry, agriculture; health care; rural development; labor; our elderly, disabled, blind, and disadvantaged; students attending non-public schools, and consumer protection.

A healthy physical and human environment also depends upon a sound and viable transportation system in all of its many forms.

Transportation, perhaps best of all, illustrates the speed with which those cutting winds of change have swept our nation.

All of these transportation forms are in a state of acute transition. We look for innovations such as the recent rail-pax plan to affect rail passenger service in our state. To reap the full benefit of emerging transportation changes, I ask the General Assembly to phase in a unified Department of Transportation.

"Living" is the target word when I discuss with you highway safety. Not for a moment would we tolerate the wanton careless extinction within a single year of all human life in an Iowa town the size of Farmington. Yet last year more than that number—908—were slaughtered on our streets and roads.

Something can be done. Examples of legislative changes that I believe necessary are: strengthening our drunk driving laws; providing for a motor vehicle homicide law in cases of intoxication; providing for immediate suspension of drivers licenses when called for; and allowing the State Highway Patrol to police freeways and interstate highways within city limits. Further, I will expect the State Highway Commission, the State Highway Patrol and County Boards of Supervisors to work closely in revising speed limits along critical high accident density roads when required.

None of these improvements in our natural and human environment I have spoken of today can be brought about if we tax and spend ourselves into individual and collective bankruptcy.

Therefore, the key to sound ecological progress is the impelling necessity to bring into balance the cost of public services within our citizens' ability to pay. The ways and means of doing this will be the theme of my forthcoming Budget Message.

Individuals, families, business and government have some wrenching changes to make in the years that lie beyond these crossroads. Priorities have to be set. We have been doing this in state government during these past two years—we will set them during the next two also. And, in the midst of all other problems, we somehow must rescue the “individual” from the anonymity which bigness threatens to force upon him. We must—bring each human being—the young, the old, the black, the white, the poor, the handicapped, no less than the rest of us—closer to the economic and political management of Iowa and the nation.

Much more could be said. But I have tried to give you a glimpse, at least, of the economic, social and political terrain over which we Iowans must move as we advance from our present crossroads position into the future that can be ours.

As the test of what we shall keep, and what we shall discard, along the way, I like that question proposed by George Wald, the Harvard biologist and Nobel Prize Laureate, who asks simply: “Is it good for children?”

And I like, too, the goal set in these words of President Nixon: “If we can get this country thinking . . . how to win the peace, if we can get this country thinking of clean air and clean water . . . welfare reform . . . revenue sharing . . . then we can have the lift of a driving dream.”

Our future is limitless if we but reach beyond government to people; if we but enlist the legions of the concerned and committed, and if we but do together that which must be done.

The benediction was offered by the Honorable Leslie Leonard, Riverside United Presbyterian Church, Linn Grove, Iowa.

The colors were retired.

REPORT OF THE BUDGET AND FINANCIAL CONTROL COMMITTEE

The following report was received and placed on file with the Chief Clerk of the House:

TO THE PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE, THE SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, AND THE MEMBERS OF THE SIXTY-FOURTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF IOWA:

Pursuant to and in accordance with Section 2.43 of the Code of Iowa, the Budget and Financial Control Committee herewith submits the following report to the Sixty-fourth General Assembly:

The Budget and Financial Control Committee of the Sixty-third General Assembly was composed of the following members: Senator Balloun, Senator Coleman, Senator Flatt, Senator Gaudineer, Senator Messerly, Representative Cunningham, Representative Den Herder, Representative Dunton, Representative Ossian and Representative Radl. Senator Anderson was appointed to replace Senator Flatt upon his resignation from the Senate. The organizational meeting was held on June 18, 1969, and the following officers were elected: Representative Den Herder, Chairman, Senator Messerly, Vice Chairman, and Representative Dunton, Secretary.

The committee made annual visits to all institutions governed by the Department of Social Services, the three universities governed by the Board of Regents as well as the School for the Deaf and the Iowa Braille and Sight-Saving School and the State Highway Commission. During the interim the committee also visited the following area schools: The Merged Area VI Community College at Marshalltown, The Area XI Community College at Ankeny, the Council Bluffs and Clarinda campuses of the Area III Community College, Area X at Cedar Rapids, Area V at Fort Dodge and Area VII at Waterloo. Meetings were also held with the Merit Employment Commission, the Commission for the Blind, the Department of Public Instruction and the Board of Parole. Many parks under the jurisdiction of the Conservation Commission were visited and capital improvements viewed. Also, the committee recently visited Hope Haven, which is a private school for the handicapped at Rock Valley, Iowa and River Hills, a school for the handicapped at Waterloo which is funded jointly by the Black Hawk County Board of Education and the Black Hawk County Board of Supervisors.

The committee herewith apprises the members of the Sixty-fourth General Assembly of observations and recommendations resulting from these visits.

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL SERVICES

The committee raised questions and was critical of many areas during their visits to the state institutions. A detailed list of questions and criticisms was sent to Commissioner Gillman and he was given an opportunity to respond at a meeting on November 13, 1970. A copy of this response is on file in the Office of the Legislative Fiscal Director. However, the committee feels compelled to comment on the following areas:

LONG-RANGE PLANNING

The General Assembly should take an in-depth look at the long-range planning for capital improvements and the methods of rehabilitation and vocational instruction at the institutions under the Department of Social Services. Because this committee has observed apparent philosophical differences in certain areas in the department, specifically in its system of correctional administration, this committee recommends that the Department of Social Services be required to submit a long-range plan (five-year minimum) outlining their program for capital improvements and rehabilitation.

At the Boy's Training School in Eldora a 14-bed hospital, which was opened in July of 1969, was built at a cost of $350,000. This hospital facility is located within three blocks of an existing hospital. The committee questions whether this building should be maintained as a hospital unit employing a staff of nurses and an orderly.

At the present time the security unit at the Training School is being expanded at a cost of $180,000. This expansion will consist of sixteen cells.

The committee also questions the feasibility of maintaining a hospital facility at the Juvenile Home at Toledo where the population averages 100 children. The estimated payroll to staff the hospital facility is $28,000 annually.

During the committee's visit to the Iowa Soldier's Home in Marshalltown, it was pointed out that by 1982 there will be 178,000 veterans in the State of Iowa over 65 years of age. This compares to a present population of 31,000. While it is not the intent of the institution to build a very large complex, the committee recommends that a long-range plan for capital improvements at the Soldier's Home be presented to the legislature.

A long-range plan should be submitted to the legislature concerning regional jail facilities. This plan should include the number of such facilities anticipated, cost involved, by whom costs will be paid and what services can be expected from regional jail facilities.

FARM OPERATION AT STATE INSTITUTIONS

On June 25, 1970 the Budget and Financial Control Committee made the following recommendation to the Department of Social Services:

The Budget and Financial Control Committee recommends that the Department of Social Services transfer the operation and administration of all farm land, farm machinery, production of farm products, dairy herds and other livestock from the individual institutions to a centralized agency under such department to the end that the products therefrom be used by such institutions in order to reduce the institutional cost of operation and that institutionalized persons, on a trustee basis, be utilized in such operations as a rehabilitative tool to the extent feasible; the budget for such centralized agency shall be presented by the department to the Governor to the end that it will be included in the department's appropriation by the legislature as a line item.

To complement the above recommendation, the committee also unanimously adopted the following statement:

The committee recognizes that this will require some implementation, a great deal of study on the part of the Department of Social Services and also that it might require some legislation. The committee is prepared to talk to the department about these and other problems to implement this recommendation and will put in hand any legislation that is needed.

In our meeting with Commissioner Gillman on November 13, 1970, the Commissioner made the following statement:

" . . . in recognition of the need to improve the utilization of our farm lands, we felt that there are three good options open to us. The first option would be to hire a full-time farming consultant who would have considerable expertise in farm management. Such an individual would function from Central Office, but spend most of his time at the various institutions, advising institutional administration on ways to better their programs. He could also be effective in coordinating the utilization of useable machinery and arrange for the disposal of obsolete equipment. He would be particularly effective in long-range planning for the department's farm operations."

The Budget and Financial Control Committee unanimously supports this option, with the inclusion of the following:

The present system of individual farm managers would be abolished and the one farm manager operating within the bureau, would be hired to manage the operation of the institutional farms. This farm manager would work in cooperation with the head administrative officer at each of the institutions. The foreman at each farm would be directly responsible for carrying out orders and instructions as directed by the farm manager.

FAMILY AND CHILDREN'S SERVICES

During a meeting at the Boy's Training School at Eldora, May 4, 1970, members of the Budget and Financial Control Committee were told by the superintendent that a serious problem is coordination between the institution and the Office of Field Services. The topic of field services was also discussed at a meeting with the superintendent of the Juvenile Home at Toledo. He said that in many instances they do not get the results they want from field services.

This criticism was related to Commissioner Gillman and on November 13 he responded by stating that the role of the area social worker, the institutional worker and the county worker is now more clearly defined and reports which he has received to date indicate that a cooperative spirit exists and relationship between the institution and the bureau and field operations is improving.

The committee encourages extended cooperation between the Department of Social Services and local agencies in dealing with dependent, neglected and delinquent children. Considerable time was spent learning about a successful program now being carried on in Black Hawk County which substantially reduced the number of children being admitted to the Training Schools. (Detailed information on the Black Hawk County program is on file in the Office of the Legislative Fiscal Director.)

BOARD OF PAROLE

A joint meeting of the Board of Parole, Department of Social Services and the Budget and Financial Control Committee was held in May, 1970. Implications were that the problems existing between the two departments stemmed from a lack of communications. The two departments, since that time have had many meetings and are jointly proposing the following legislation to the General Assembly:

"Section 369, Chapter 209, Acts of the Sixty-second General Assembly, is hereby amended by striking the entire section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"The Board of Parole shall appoint an executive secretary and employ a staff sufficient to carry on the necessary duties of the board. The chief parole officer shall be appointed by the director of the bureau of adult corrections, which chief parole officer shall cooperate with the board of parole through its executive secretary in the supervision of parolees and probationers. The legislature shall appropriate sufficient funds directly to the board of parole as may be necessary to carry on its duties."

This change would have no effect on the provisions of institutional and parole services, as this responsibility would continue to be carried out by the bureau of adult corrections. The commissioner and the members of the Board of Parole mutually support this change, and believe that it will be helpful in establishing a harmonious and structurally sound system to assist the board in its administrative functions. The committee voted to support this legislation.

GENERAL COMMENTS

The committee recognizes the enormous problems faced by the Department of Social Services and commends the organization for its imaginative approach to the problems and recommends that they be constantly reviewed with a view to bringing more services to more people at no appreciable increase in costs.

The committee has noted vast improvements in return visits to the institutions in areas that had been criticized on previous visits.

Individual members of the committee have expressed concern over the ratio of employees to recipients at many of the institutions, and also the duplication of services and duplication of personnel. The Commissioner is urged to seriously study the programs at the institutions with a view to consolidating duplicate services and duplicate personnel as they are spread through the various institutions.

HIGHER EDUCATION STATE EDUCATION BUDGET REVISION PROJECT

Because of the increasing complexity of budget competition among higher education programs in Iowa and following the increase in tuitions at the Regents schools after adjournment of the first session of the Sixty-third General Assembly, the Budget and Financial Control Committee deemed it necessary to conduct a study of budget procedures in the State of Iowa. Chairman Den Herder appointed a subcommittee consisting of Senator Flatt, Senator Messerly, Senator Gaudineer, Representative Radl and Representative Ossian to implement this study. Mr. Alfred Baxter, President of Baxter, McDonald and Company was retained as an advisor to prepare a design for studies and staffing of post-secondary education.

To coordinate and give impetus to the program, Governor Ray established the State Education Budget Revision Project in November of 1969 and appointed a Project Policy Committee. Members of this committee were Leroy Petersen, Director of the Office of Planning and Programming, Clayton Ringenberg, Assistant to the Governor, Representative Den Herder, Chairman of the Budget and Financial Control Committee and State Comptroller, Marvin R. Selden, who served as Chairman. Staff and funding were allocated by the Office of Planning and Programming and the State Comptroller.

Representatives from the regents institutions, area schools, Iowa Association of Private Colleges and Universities, Department of Public Instruction, Comptroller's Office, Legislative Fiscal Director's Office and the Office of Planning and Programming served on seven technical teams who met weekly through January of 1970 and prepared recommendations for the Project Policy Committee.

The new procedures are designed to provide clear communications, an awareness of how a program in one institution affects programs of others, information on all revenues and expenditures, explicit consideration of long-range plans, and an orientation toward maximizing results per dollar.

In implementing Phase I of this project, consideration was given to decision-making needs and the capabilities of participating agencies and institutions. To the extent possible, this new procedure is being implemented in the current budget askings. Full implementation will require gradual development and modification over several budget cycles.

Policy issues to which the Project Policy Committee have not addressed themselves at this time include:

How much control over appropriations?

Organization and Governance

Annual vs. Biennial Budgeting.

The benefits to be realized from the proposed new system are many and substantial. The ultimate test of a new budget system is whether it can help the Governor and General Assembly in making budget decisions with greater certainty and efficiency. The Policy Committee of the State Education Budget Revision Project believes the procedures being recommended provide substantial progress in this direction. The present Policy Committee should be given a continuing responsibility to guide implementation of the new system and to help evaluate it during and following its use in the coming biennium.

AREA SCHOOLS

As an added responsibility this year, the Budget and Financial Control Committee visited a number of area schools and is impressed generally with their operations. However, this committee feels it necessary to point out to the legislature that there are many varied situations in our area schools and consequently, there are numerous financial problems developing. This committee recommends that the legislature study this situation and take appropriate action to provide proper funding as set out in the Code.

Also, the Budget and Financial Control Committee emphasizes to the Department of Public Instruction that added stress be placed on building trade courses in the area school programs in cooperation with union apprenticeship programs.

While visiting area schools the Budget and Financial Control Committee was surprised and concerned to note that the licensing of Licensed Practical Nurses under the direction of the Board of Nursing in Iowa is being limited and we suggest to the legislature that in light of ample facilities, eager applicants and the great need for nurses, corrective action be taken.

BOARD OF REGENTS

The Budget and Financial Control Committee recommends to the Sixty-fourth General Assembly that the capital budget request for the School for the Deaf at Council Bluffs, as approved by the Board of Regents, be seriously considered and honored without reduction. Because of the influx of rubella babies now of school age, the committee feels the school's request for a capital appropriation is well-founded.

MERIT EMPLOYMENT COMMISSION

During the meeting with the Merit Employment Department, the committee was informed by the State Comptroller that prospective professional employees are being classified as consultants for one day for the purpose of transporting prospective professional employees into the State of Iowa and paying their expenses. It is recommended that the General Assembly consider legislation authorizing departments, with the approval of the Comptroller and the Executive Council, to pay travel expenses of prospective professional employees.

CONTINGENCY FUND

During the interim, the committee was asked by the Executive Council to set a policy regarding expenditures from the contingency fund for fire loss. The following recommendation was proposed to the Executive Council and unanimously adopted by them:

It is recommended that Section 19.7 expenditures be for the actual cost of repairing, rebuilding, or restoring a destroyed facility to be actually repaired, rebuilt, restored or for removal of such destroyed facility. If the governmental function provided in such destroyed facility is to be provided for in a newly constructed facility or by adding onto another existing facility or which destroyed facility is to be materially improved, it shall be provided for by the General Assembly in a capital appropriation.

The committee recommends that Section 19.7 of the Code be so amended.

In assuming its responsibility of visiting state institutions, the Budget and Financial Control Committee has questioned whether funds being spent for capital improvements are actually fulfilling legislative intent. Also, it seems there is no legislative guidance for spending funds which remain in an account after completion of a project for which funds have been allocated. These funds can be used for other improvements of questionable need without legislative approval. For this reason we recommend that approval of all capital expenditures in state institutions become the duty and responsibility of the Budget and Financial Control Committee. The consensus of the committee is that it is imperative that someone from the legislative branch of government have this authority.

The Budget and Financial Control Committee this year adopted a policy of inviting legislators from all surrounding counties to join them in their visits to the state institutions. The committee members express their thanks to the many legislators who accepted these invitations.

Also, the members of the Budget and Financial Control Committee express their thanks to all state departments, commissions, agencies, and institutions for their cooperation during the biennium.

Whereas, Iowa was one of the pioneer states in establishing a public program of vocational rehabilitation, in cooperation with the Federal Government, to restore handicapped men and women to useful lives and remunerative employment; and

Whereas, the Iowa vocational rehabilitation program administered by the State Department of Public Instruction is currently observing the fiftieth anniversary of its inception in 1921; and

Whereas, the history of the Iowa vocational rehabilitation program during the past fifty years is filled with achievements of thousands of disabled men and women who have overcome their handicaps and often have turned their handicaps into vocational assets; and

Whereas, in this, the Golden Year of the public vocational rehabilitation program in Iowa, new opportunities for rehabilitation are being extended to the severely disabled and others who can benefit from self-help services; and

Whereas, the opening of the expanded vocational rehabilitation center on the Capitol grounds and the Commemorative Program to be held there on February 4, 1971, is another milestone in providing greater opportunities for enabling handicapped citizens to become personally independent and self supporting; now, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring, That the Sixty-fourth General Assembly recognizes the contributions that rehabilitated men and women have made and are continuing to make to our society and

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 9

By Lawson

Whereas, Iowa's future will be vitally affected by all segments of higher education, including regent institutions, area community colleges and private colleges and universities; and

Whereas, the Iowa legislature has assumed varying degrees of financial responsibility in all of the above named areas at a time of serious cost elevation; and

Whereas, the Iowa Code makes no mention of the relationship between regent institutions and area community colleges, and is entirely silent on the subject of private colleges and universities; and

Whereas, the Iowa legislature has not altered its fundamental approach to higher education since adoption of the Land Grant College Policy of 1869; and

Whereas, the consequences of a lack of legislative policy in this area will be financial distress for the taxpayer and, ultimately, a weaker educational program for Iowa's young; and

Whereas, a higher education policy will both set limits on legislative responsibility, and provide security to institutions knowing that they can depend on legislative support; and

Whereas, a policy should be adopted which clearly defines the role of each type of institution receiving legislative support, with particular attention to types of program offered, numbers and cost of students served, and entrance and graduation requirements, as well as speaking to overlapping offerings by two-year, four-year and graduate institutions of all types in Iowa, Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring, that a study committee made up of members of the House and the Senate, and an equal number of public members who are not representatives of the institutions involved and who are selected by the Governor, be instructed to develop legislative proposals for an Iowa Master Plan for Higher Education during the interim and to deliver them to the Second Regular Session of the Sixty-fourth General Assembly.

Laid over under Rule 25.

ADOPTION OF SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 8

Varley of Adair, District 84, called up for consideration Senate Concurrent Resolution 8, filed on January 20, 1971, and found on pages 120 and 121 of the House Journal, and moved its adoption.

Motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

Christensen of Union, District 95, moved that a committee of three be appointed to notify the Senate that the House was ready to receive it in joint convention.

The motion prevailed and the Speaker appointed Christensen of Union, District 95; Moffitt of Appanoose, District 96; and Wells of Linn, District 44.

The committee appointed to notify the Senate that the House was ready to receive it in joint convention reported that it had performed its duty. The report was accepted and the committee discharged.

The Sergeant-at-Arms announced the arrival of the President of the Senate, the Secretary of the Senate and the honorable body of the Senate.

The President of the Senate was escorted to the Speaker's station, the Secretary of the Senate to the Chief Clerk's desk, and the members of the Senate were seated throughout the chamber.

JOINT CONVENTION

In accordance with law and House Concurrent Resolution 7 duly adopted, the joint convention was called to order, President Jepsen presiding.

President Jepsen announced a quorum present and the joint convention duly organized.

Senator Lamborn of Jackson moved that a committee of six consisting of three members from the Senate and three members from the House be appointed to notify Governor Ray that the joint convention was ready to receive him.

The motion prevailed and the President appointed as such committee Senators Brownlee of Palo Alto, Van Drie of Story and Miller of Des Moines on the part of the Senate and Representatives Pierson of Mahaska, Clark of Lee and Patton of Buchanan on the part of the House.

The committee waited upon Governor Ray and escorted him to the Speaker's station. President Jepsen then presented Governor Ray, who delivered the following budget address:

MR. PRESIDENT, MR. SPEAKER, SENATORS AND REPRESENTATIVES, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

This is the third and final message in a series of three messages with which I have come to you—and to all the people of Iowa—during a 15-day period, pursuant to both the legal and moral obligation which is laid upon me at the outset of my second term as Governor of the state.

In my message on the condition of the state, I identified some landmarks of the past two years in the social, economic and political life of Iowa, and took a reckoning of our position at the close of that biennium. In my inaugural address, I identified some of the challenges and opportunities which will confront us during the next two years.

In both of those addresses, I told you that specific proposals for meeting certain of those challenges would be included in the budget message, which I am now presenting. Both earlier messages emphasized that Iowa stands at a uniquely crucial crossroads swept by sharp winds of change which we cannot ignore, and that the decisions we must make concerning the paths that we shall follow will importantly determine the kind of place Iowa will be during this decade and the balance of this century. My recommendations for some of these crucial decisions will form the substance of this morning's message.

At the inauguration, I called the impending decisions "difficult, even hazardous", and I repeat that warning to you now. But it has not been my custom or practice to avoid the difficult or hazardous issues and the decisions affecting them. I will not avoid them today. Rather I will give to you a bold new program to meet head-on the financial problems with which we are faced.

We must act wisely and promptly—to prevent today's taxpayer from becoming the first of America's natural resources to be exhausted. This can all too easily happen in a social climate in which—when some people learn that money won't buy everything—they start using credit cards. Government isn't the only institution affected by that climate. There is, for example, the case of the two fathers who were discussing their respective sons away at college. One father asked: "What does your boy plan to be when he graduates?" The other father replied: "Judging by the letters he writes home, I'd say he is preparing for a career as a professional fundraiser."

But it would be totally unfair to single out college students or other groups as the only practitioners of a casual attitude toward spending, which—in fact—permeates much of our whole society. It is this widespread psychological climate of carefree spending against which I have taken a stand in Iowa's budget for the past and now for the next biennium, and against which I hope that you—as legislators—will take an equally firm stand in the appropriations bills that you pass. You and I, together, have a responsibility to do what we can to end the myth that the answer to every problem is more spending. This simply isn't true. But it will take persistence and even stubbornness to prove the point, because some minds are like concrete: all mixed up and permanently set. It is your job and mine to un-mix and un-set the concrete minds hardened for a generation in the mold that spending solves everything.

In our determination to end the philosophy of free public spending, we cannot, on the other hand, accept a meat ax approach which could destroy effective government. In our kind of society, government is important. The quality of government goes a long way in determining the performance of the entire society. If government is inefficient, resources are wasted and taxes are unnecessarily high. If government assumes too many functions, individual and private, performance deteriorates. If government assumes too little responsibility, private economic power may be exercised in ways detrimental to society as a whole; disparities in wealth and income may become too great; and public services worthy of a great and wealthy people may not be provided.

Budgets and appropriations in the government sector are tools by which we strive to achieve the major objectives of growth, stability, equity, and efficiency.

In presenting to you the results of my budget-making efforts, I must emphasize that it is not realistic—or even possible—to plan for government of the State of Iowa as though it operated in a vacuum and in isolation from the whole society and—especially from other levels of government: federal, county, municipal and school. Today all levels of government are intricately inter-connected, and all of them tap the same source of funds—the taxpayer.

For example, the whole economy of Iowa—and hence, the prospective income and expenses of all state and local public agencies in Iowa—will be greatly affected by the consequences which flow from President Nixon's federal budget, scheduled for presentation to the Congress day after tomorrow. The President has already said that his budget for the year beginning July 1, 1971, will be aimed at stimulating the economy: such posture by the government based in Washington will certainly increase both the revenues and costs of the whole nation, including every segment of Iowa state government, and every Iowa county, municipality, and school district.

The scope and thrust of the federal budget is, then, one of the many influences on Iowa public finance over which you and I have no control—certainly no direct control, but which—nonetheless—significantly determines the dollar volume of revenue that will actually be received by Iowa government.

President Nixon in his State of the Union Message last Friday evening gave powerful impetus to the cause that I, as Governor, and other governors and many mayors, have long promoted when he proposed a $16 billion investment in renewing the role of state and local government—with $5 billion of this in new and unrestricted funds, to be used as the states and localities see fit. You of the legislature have expressed your support of this approach by resolution calling upon Congress to act affirmatively.

The President in making his recommendation showed good understanding of the financial difficulties which entrap state and municipal governments.

The $5 billion alone, it is estimated, would produce for Iowa more than $70 million a year, which is equivalent to the proceeds of a one-cent sales tax.

Revenue-sharing must be recognized as an important and necessary goal. It goes to the heart of the over-all problem of American public finance, which is the imbalance among the financial resources and the responsibilities of federal, state, and local government. The President's proposal would start to redress that balance by diverting a small portion of federal tax collections to state and local purposes. It is a massive attempt to strengthen the levels of government closest to the people.

By enabling the states to spend money on those programs for which they feel the most acute need, the plan strengthens local initiative and slows down distant centralization of power.

As desirable and desperately needed as federal revenue sharing is, the reluctance of Congress indicates this relief will not appear overnight. Therefore, we must face the fact that state and local government in Iowa is being pinched with increased costs and restricted or lowered revenues. In other words, let us hope for the best—but be prepared regardless of what happens. When revenue sharing does become a reality, it will be imperative that the benefits derived therefrom be immediately passed on to our citizens.

For Iowa, the worst is not as bad as it might be. Most states during the last two years raised taxes. I insisted that we not raise taxes and we didn't. Yet all the way from Maine to Hawaii, states today are in a critical financial bind. For instance, New Hampshire was only able to pay the salaries of state employees Christmas Eve after collecting increased liquor revenue during the approaching holiday season. Last November, with the fiscal year only five months underway, neighboring Missouri was already running a $35 million deficit. Michigan faces a deficit of $158 million this year. Wisconsin is facing a minimum $340 million revenue gap. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is $300 million in the red. And the list goes on and on.

The total picture places our own problems in perspective and reminds us what "Old Jake", the hobo, said: "I felt sorry for myself who had no shoes until I met a man who had no feet."

Only a bare financial cupboard was left for my administration when we began two years ago. There was no rainy day fund or nestegg—no surplus.

Economic factors, including the efforts to curb inflation, brought about a business slump nationally that resulted in our gross national product dropping in 1970 for the first time in more than twenty years.

In Iowa, painfully low hog prices aggravated the economic sluggishness which was quickly reflected in reduced receipts from important revenue sources like the sales tax.

Fortunately, we had initiated some tight fiscal controls two years ago which have allowed Iowa to escape the nearly catastrophic financial plight of many other states.

Our spending has been kept within the budgets, but revenues as estimated by the best experts upon which you relied—and upon which I relied—will be less than predicted. These experts could not foresee the strikes which hit the truck industry and General Motors. The drop in hog prices, the withholding of spending by citizens in general, and the effect these and other economic factors would have upon the income of the state.

But I want to tell you that Iowa state government's bills are being paid—and will be paid.

The decrease in tax receipts is compensated for in the budget and revenue plan outlined in the information presented to you today and in the detailed budgets that will be forthcoming in case the economy does not improve sufficiently to pick up the slack.

I am submitting to you legislators a plan that is bold and answers squarely the challenge of meeting our needs on a reasonable revenue basis that our people can understand, can live with and benefit from, and which will let them plan for themselves and their families, without the fear of being priced from their homes because of unchecked property tax. The revenue proposal that I offer to you today brings new hope for a stabilized taxation program in Iowa.

It is not only new and bold, it makes sense. Here is what it does:

1. It realistically stops property taxes from increasing—taxes that have been skyrocketing during recent years.
2. It avoids the raising of many taxes that have been recommended by various sources.
3. It shifts the burden of financing a substantial part of local education from the slow-growing base of property to the progressive base of income.
4. It will gear school financing to the state's economic growth.
5. It answers the problem not for just a year or two, but for a decade or more. It is a permanent solution.
6. It will allow the state to share its revenue with our cities and towns and to meet current and pressing needs such as drug abuse and environmental control.
7. It will return to our local communities more than 72 percent of the money the state collects.

We must ease the heavy burden of taxation that now presses upon the owners and renters of real property—a burden so onerous that it jeopardizes our whole life—by squeezing our farmer who tills the soil for his living, by inequitably afflicting the elderly who are hemmed in with retirement or very limited income, the young, the physically handicapped, the wage-earner, the salaried employee, the poor, all of whom require decent housing at a reasonable cost. This is overwhelmingly important.

In order to halt the cancerous growth of property taxes, there MUST be a shift to taxation of a different form more closely correlated with economic growth.

It is impossible to devise a meaningful budget for 1971-73, or to pass meaningful appropriations for that period, without coming to grips with the basics of tax restructuring. We would be courting disaster if we limited financial planning to only a two-year period and content ourselves with one-shot, short-range, patch-work tax schemes and windfalls. The financial plan I suggest to you today is not that kind of a program. It is a plan for a decade.

The General Assembly in its wisdom a year ago recognized this need and through its tax study committee studiously researched ideas and proposals. I am sure the committee's desire was, as mine is, to permanently cure the state's property tax dilemma so it will not return to bug us again and again.

The legislative tax study committee has made recommendations for considerable change in Iowa's tax structure. Much work and effort went into their proposal and I have not overlooked or failed to see the reasons and understanding of that which went into their plan.

I compliment the committee on having supportive data for their recommendations—not just conclusions without reasoning. I have incorporated some of their valuable suggestions in the plan that I unfold to you today. While both proposals move toward a desired 80 percent foundation plan geared to state economic growth, I found that phasing into such a program can avoid a drastic increase in taxes on our citizens.

My proposal avoids adding more sales tax which bears heaviest on low income families. It avoids the local income tax that has been proposed which, although it certainly has some logic, presents some serious inequities and mechanical problems. The taxpayer must be thought of and never lost sight of as we analyze plans, and develop tax restructuring for improvement over our existing system.

As you analyze my proposal you will find the primary goal is to arrest the upward spiral of the property taxes levied for school operational purposes. This we do in the 1971-72 school year by appropriating $30 million—or $45 per student—in additional school aid. Schools will only be allowed to levy the dollar amount of property taxes of the previous year.

The second year, an additional $24 million is appropriated for aid to local schools. This injection of state funds, when coupled with a uniform levy of 27½ mills, will put into effect a foundation plan which will fund 70 percent of average per pupil costs. Again the property tax levy in dollars—not the school budgets—will be frozen at the present level.

The third year, the school aid fund will grow by a percentage equal to the economic growth rate of state taxes. In addition, each school can spend the money generated by the growth in the property tax base. The foundation program will then be at the 75 percent level with a uniform 27½ mill levy.

The fourth year, the 1974-75 school year, the goal of an 80 percent foundation plan will be reached.

A uniform levy of 30 mills, plus aid provided by the state, will guarantee each school district, regardless of its local resources, funds to finance 80 percent of the computed average per pupil cost of instruction in Iowa's public schools. The remainder will be by additional district levy.

Every child in this state has a right to a good education regardless of the amount of property valuation where he lives. This plan assures such opportunity.

Before a school district can exceed the state computed average, it must justify to the state school budget review committee the necessity for such an increase. The committee, if it approves the increase, can finance the need from a $5.5 million state fund provided. If it approves but cannot finance the need, the committee can authorize a limited increase in the district's levy.

Should the committee disapprove the request, the district may still submit the question of increase to its citizens, and if they vote their approval then the increase will be allowed.

This provides safeguards for the taxpayers, yet at the same time provides safety-valves for schools having special needs or unusual circumstances.

It would be much easier, more politically expedient, to come before you with a program and a budget—and leave it up to you to finance. So—to finance this new program for education, for reducing the property tax burden, and to provide funds for other essentials, I recommend restoring the full 100 percent personal income tax rate which has existed in the past in Iowa, and revisions in the rates that will make our income tax more progressive.

Corporations, as well as individual property owners, will benefit significantly from a stabilized property tax. Accordingly, I recommend that corporate income tax rates, now at 4, 6 and 8 percent, be adjusted to 6, 8 and 10 percent. And I ask also that an addition be made to the luxury tax on cigarettes of 3 cents per pack.

Implementation of this budget will stop the property tax increases that bear so heavily on farm families, young married couples buying a home, our workers, our business community and, most of all, on our elderly whose retired or limited income will not stretch to cover the cost of increased crippling taxes on their homes. It effectively shifts much of the cost of education from the slow-growing property tax base to more responsive income taxes.

It will allow school boards and educators to plan ahead, for they will know far in advance what they can count on.

In planning ahead, I also recommend you take action to see that all units of government are put on a uniform fiscal year basis. This will simplify budgeting and make it understandable.

Because this program phases into a foundation plan, it provides both time and funds for school boards to initiate those efficiencies—which will include reorganization of some school districts—so Iowa's public schools can learn to live within the growth rates of the taxes which finance them. This will be made easier because enrollments are now declining. That trend, census figures indicate, will continue for some time.

There will be those, I am sure, who will say I have gone too far, that too much money is being given to support education, cities and towns, public agencies, and to stop property taxes. There will also be those who say I have not gone far enough, that the sales tax and other taxes should have been increased to provide an elimination or a roll-back of property taxes, or that schools need far more money.

However, I find little appeal in lifting one crushing burden from Iowa taxpayers only to have it immediately replaced by another. Iowa has three major sources of revenue—the taxes on property, sales and incomes. What I have achieved in this program is the stabilization of one—the property tax—the elimination of the necessity of boosting another—the sales tax—and have made reasonable increases in the third—the income tax.

We have also been able to construct this system without eliminating the agricultural land tax credit and homestead credit. And even though property taxes will basically freeze, we will be maintaining a double homestead exemption for our low-income elderly.

In addition to the benefits I have already outlined, let me enumerate some other significant priorities which I have established.

I believe all of you here know my awareness and concern for the financial plight of our cities and towns. During the Sixty-third General Assembly we were able to give them more aid than ever before in the history of Iowa, and to open the door for direct and unrestricted revenue sharing. This was done through a grant of $2 million.

In my budget I propose that this be increased to $11 million for this biennium. Also, I recommend $12 million state money to attract $24 million in federal funds for pollution control, plus an additional $3 million for retroactive sewage treatment funds to help those communities which forged ahead on their own before additional federal funding was available.

I have provided the necessary state money which, with the contributions made by local governments, will attract $23 million in federal funds to speed up our war on crime. Between $12 and $13 million of this will go exclusively to the local communities..

Also, in the second year of the biennium, cities and towns will receive $1.5 million in direct aid to replace, in full, for the first time, the monies and credits tax funds.

I could not in a budget message discuss in detail all the ways we will be assisting our local communities, but I would like you to realize there are many programs that do offer support to our cities and towns such as disaster relief, alcoholism treatment, drug abuse education, rehabilitation and treatment, local affairs assistance, community improvement, and our Youth Opportunity Program.

Many of these aids attract federal financing, such as the Youth Opportunity Program which produces 12 federal dollars for each state dollar invested and not only benefits our young people, but also the communities in which they reside.

You will find in the white budget summary sheet, Exhibit D, a line item entitled Extraordinary Program Development. Herein, funds are provided for special priorities such as additional environmental engineers and geological surveys to fight pollution; to combat drug abuse; to expand school lunch programs; to computerize highway safety and crime information records.

Also included are provisions for funds amounting to $45 per pupil for those students not included in the general return of new state aid money. These funds shall go to the regular school boards in the districts where these children attend their non-public schools, to be used for educational purposes consistent with our laws and with the constitutional provisions of separation of church and state. If the money is not so expended, it shall revert to the state.

We have not slighted higher education. There will be no tuition increases at our state universities, and I recommend we expand our highly successful tuition grant program to help more needy Iowa young people who wish to attend Iowa's private colleges.

I cannot take time this morning to cover each item in this budget. However, the comptroller and I will be pleased to answer questions you might have and to explain in more detail items of particular interest and concern to you.

To arrive at this budget it was necessary to trim over 25 percent from the asking of the many agencies, boards and departments of government. There are not, nor will there ever be enough funds to finance every request that comes to a Governor. For example, we will not be able to expand educational television as requested or as we did during my first two years in office.

A year ago I expressed a sincere desire to help Still College of Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery in its endeavor to build a new school. During this past year, however, the ball game has changed. Instead of talking about $1 million, the request now is for $8 million state money and to have the state take over the operation of the school.

We have been priced out of the market to help.

As critical as our shortage of doctors is in Iowa, we cannot, in my opinion, accept the complete ownership and operation of another school. Still College has been a good citizen and it is my hope that it will be able to continue.

Many hundreds of hours have gone into the preparation of this budget and revenue plan. The plan provides for bridge years which apply not only to education, but also to spending on the state level. Austerity in state government began two years ago. I am certainly not content now to stop looking for ways to streamline our government operations. One good way you can help is to enact the recommendations of my Governor's economy committee.

Federal laws, federal programs and state legislation continue to force an increase in the number of employees. To insure against burgeoning payrolls, we are going to have a rule in state government that when a state employee quits, the vacancy will not be filled until it can be justified—to me!

I have presented to you this morning a stabilized financial program for our state. And I have given to you my recommendations for traveling the financial bridge into the future.

Exactly what that future holds for each of us no human can foretell. We can only offer our best recommendations at this crossroads in time, forged from our experience and sense of history, and from our sensitivity for divining future wants and needs.

As we look ahead with expectation and anticipation we find reason for encouragement: an upswing in our economy; a checking of public spending; control and preservation of our environment, our natural resources and good quality of life; our determination to advance the healthy improvement of our state; the possibility of Congress following the President's lead in improving the welfare system and in providing for sharing of federal revenue; and a stabilizing revenue and financing program for the State of Iowa as outlined in this message and accompanying schedules.

If revenue sharing becomes a reality, then I shall insist immediate steps be taken to reduce taxes to benefit each Iowan within the framework of the tax structure I have proposed.

We have removed inequities, and offered procedures for constructive action that will stand the test of time for this decade. Overwhelmingly, with 72 percent of all money the state collects returning to the local level along with millions in federal funds that we are able to attract, this is truly a "local aid" budget, with only a very modest growth in state expenditures.

This is an important budget, to meet the needs of important times. Study it; question it; evaluate it.

Then, in the words of an old Roman poet, I ask you to "begin, be bold, and venture to be wise" in setting our state on the course of sound and progressive advancement—the course that my budget lays before you.

Governor Ray was escorted from the House chamber by the committee previously appointed.

Varley of Adair, District 84, moved that the joint convention be now dissolved.

The motion prevailed.

The House reconvened, Speaker Harbor in the chair.

Whereas, The Honorable John Brownlie of Madison County, who was a member of the Fifty-third, Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth sessions of the General Assembly from Madison County, passed away on September 15, 1970; now, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, That a committee of three be appointed by the Speaker of the House to prepare suitable resolutions commemorating his life, character and service to the state.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 10

By Committee on Agriculture

Whereas, agriculture is eminently Iowa's largest and most important industry; and

Whereas, this industry is peculiarly subject to many devastating hazards, all of which are beyond the control of man, and any one of which hazards can sharply diminish or completely destroy the products of an entire season's labor and the investment of large sums of capital; and

Whereas, during the 1970 crop year about one fourth of the agricultural area of Iowa was seriously affected by either drought and/or Race T southern corn blight; and

Whereas, in excess of forty percent of all Iowa farms are operated by tenant farmers who must depend on each year's crops as security for the financing of the following season's operations; and

Whereas, a large proportion of owner operators and tenant operators are trained agricultural technicians, who will be lost to the industry if they are unable to secure adequate financial backing, and as a result of inflationary costs of farming and in view of the persistent "cost price squeeze" the Iowa farmer faces a financial crisis, Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring, That we jointly and severally go on record as urging the State Department of Banking, landlords, banks, individuals of means, industrial and public and private lending institutions of this state to exercise all means at their disposal to understand the serious nature of the problems faced by this segment of Iowa industry and earnestly seek fair and economically sound solutions to these critical problems.

Laid over under Rule 25.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 11

By Committee on Agriculture

Whereas, the President has recommended sweeping governmental reorganization at the federal level; and

Whereas, the midwest virtually stakes its entire future on the agricultural industry in the production of corn, beans, livestock and produce; and is in fact the "bread basket" of the nation; and

Whereas, a majority of Iowa Senators and Congressmen have expressed their concern for the future of the Department of Agriculture under the aforesaid plan of governmental reorganization, Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring, That the General Assembly of the State of Iowa urges the Congress of the United States to retain the Department of Agriculture as an entity of cabinet status and that duties and responsibilities of the Secretary of Agriculture and his department be redefined and clarified with emphasis on local and regional control of crop production, acreage allotments, conservation practices and controls of environmental pollution; and

Be It Further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, President of the United States Senate, Speaker of the United States House of Representatives and to each member of the Iowa delegation to the Congress of the United States.

Laid over under Rule 25.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE CHIEF CLERK

The following is on file in the office of the Chief Clerk:

The Honorable William H. Harbor
Speaker of the House Local

Dear Mr. Speaker:

The House committee on ethics for the Sixty-fourth General Assembly, as provided for under chapter 107, Acts of the Sixty-second General Assembly, submits the enclosed Code of Ethics and rules for lobbyists to the House of Representatives.

Respectfully yours,
RICHARD W. WELDEN
Ethics Committee Chairman

HOUSE CODE OF ETHICS
Members of the House of Representatives

Recognizing that service in the General Assembly is a part-time endeavor and that members of the General Assembly are honorable individuals who are active in the affairs of their localities and elsewhere, and that it is necessary for them to maintain a livelihood and sources of income apart from their legislative compensation, the following rules are adopted pursuant to chapter one hundred seven (107), Acts of the Sixty-second General Assembly, to assist the members in the conduct of their legislative affairs.

1. While taking into account the fact that legislative service is only part-time, no member of the House shall accept economic or investment opportunity under circumstances where he knows, or should know, that there is a reasonable possibility that the opportunity is being afforded him with intent to influence his conduct in the performance of his official duties.

2. No member of the House may charge to or accept from a person, corporation, partnership, or corporation known to have a legislative interest, a price, fee, compensation, or other consideration for the sale or lease of any property or the furnishing of services which is in excess of that which such member would ordinarily charge another.

3. No member of the House, in order to further his own economic interests, or those of any other person, may disclose or use confidential information acquired in the course of his official duties.

4. A member of the House may appear before a state agency in any representation case, except that he shall not appear before a state agency if the matter is subject to legislative review. Whenever a member of the House appears before a state agency he shall carefully avoid all conduct which might in any way lead members of the general public to conclude that he is using his official position to further his professional success or general interest.

5. In order to permit the General Assembly to function effectively, members of the House will, of necessity, be required to vote on bills and participate in committee work which will affect their employment and other areas in which they may have a monetary interest. Action on bills and in committee work which specifically deal with a member's specific employment or specific investment, as opposed to a profession, trade, or business in general, should be avoided. In making a decision relating to his activity on particular bills or in committee work which are subject to this code, the following factors should be considered:

a. Whether a substantial threat to his independence of judgment has been created by the conflict situation.

b. The effect of his participation on public confidence in the integrity of the legislature.

c. Whether his participation is likely to have any significant effect on the disposition of the matter.

d. The need for his particular contribution, such as special knowledge of the subject matter, to the effective functioning of the legislature.

He may, however, decide to participate in a manner contrary to the economic interest which creates the conflict situation, but if he abstains, he should disclose that fact to his legislative body.

6. Members of the House are urged to familiarize themselves with chapter one hundred seven (107), Acts of the Sixty-second General Assembly, and chapter seven hundred thirty-nine (739) of the Code.

7. Members of the House shall not charge any amount or item to any charge account to be paid for by any lobbyist or any organization he represents.

8. Complaints against any member of the House or any lobbyist operating in the House shall be in writing, made under oath and filed with the ethics committee of the House. If the ethics committee determines that the complaint sets out an apparent violation of the law or code of ethics or rules regulating lobbyists, it shall set the matter for hearing, notify the accused of his right to appear in person, to be represented by counsel, to present statements and evidence and to cross-examine witnesses. The committee shall hold a hearing and consider all relevant evidence and shall make its recommendations to the House.

9. Advisory opinions may be rendered as set out in Sec. 12, chapter one hundred seven (107), Acts of the Sixty-second General Assembly upon request of a member of the General Assembly.

Lobbyists

1. Each individual wishing to lobby in the House or attempt to influence legislation on a regular basis shall, on or before the day his lobbying activity begins, personally register his name and address and each company, firm, corporation, union, association, or cause for which he wishes to lobby with the chief clerk of the House. In addition, he shall register with the chief clerk the numbers of the bills with regard to which he intends to lobby, together with the name of each company, association or cause respectively involved. As such information is received it shall, from time, be distributed to the individual members of the House whose clerks may then record such information on their copies of the related bills.

2. All federal, state, and local employees or officials representing the official positions of their agencies are required to present to the chief clerk of the House a letter of authorization from their department or agency heads prior to any lobbying activity by them. Such employees or officials who wish to lobby in opposition to the official policy may do so by registering as a lobbyist and need not submit a letter of authorization.

3. Lobbyists shall not be permitted on the floor of the House while it is in session.

4. Lobbyists are prohibited from providing to members of the House and members may not accept, open-end accounts paid for by the lobbyist or his employer.

5. No fee or bonus shall be paid to any lobbyist with reference to any legislative action that is conditioned wholly or in part upon the results attained by the lobbyist.

6. No lobbyist, or employer of a lobbyist, shall offer economic or investment opportunity or promise of employment to any member of the House with intent to influence his conduct in the performance of his official duties.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

(Explanation of vote on the motion to substitute the Taylor amendment for the Blouin amendment to House File 121.)

I was present on the floor of the House at the time the motion to substitute was made. My reason for not voting on this measure is tied to my conscience.

In my opinion, either amendment would preserve the shared-time program. In reality, it made no difference. The only reason for the substitution was to give another representative of another party credit for its passage.

At that point, I stated on the floor of the House that I would have no part of any attempt to make a political football out of private school legislation and that I would abstain from voting on the substitution motion to let the House make its own choice.

This I did, and then voted for the Taylor amendment.

9 It shall be justifiable for a physician licensed 10 to practice pursuant to chapters 148, 150, or 150A of 11 the Code to terminate a pregnancy with the consent of 12 the pregnant female if:

13 a. He believes there is a substantial risk that 14 a continuance of the pregnancy would impair the physi-

 16 has not continued beyond the sixteenth week; or

17 b. That the child would be born with physical or 18 mental defect and the pregnancy has not continued beyond
 19 the twentieth week; or

20 c. That the pregnancy resulted from rape or 21 incest and the pregnancy has not continued beyond the

 27 of the pregnancy would endanger the life of the preg-
 28 nant female; and either:

29 (1) A committee of physicians licensed pursuant to chapters
 30 148, 150 or 150A of the Code, one of whom may be the person perform-31 ing the abortion, have certified in writing their

41 Sec. 3. PREGNANCY RESULTING FROM RAPE OR 42 INCEST; PROCEDURE.

43 The committee of physicians shall not approve the 44 performance of an abortion on the ground that the preg-45 nancy resulted from rape or incest except in accordance 46 with the following procedure:

47 a. Upon receipt of an application for an abortion 48 on the grounds that the pregnancy resulted from rape or 49 incest, the committee shall immediately notify the 50 county attorney of the county in which the alleged rape
51 or incest occurred of the application, and transmit to 52 the county attorney the affidavit of the applicant
53 attesting to the facts establishing the alleged rape or 54 incest. If the county attorney informs the committee
55 that there is probable cause to believe that the preg-56 nancy resulted from said violation of chapter 694 or 57 chapter 704 of the Code, the committee may approve

67 that there is no probable cause to believe the alleged

69 abortion may petition the district court of the county
70 in which the alleged rape or incest occurred, to deter-

72 chapter 694 or chapter 704 of the Code. Hearing on 73 the petition shall be set for a date no later than one
74 week after the date of filing of the petition.

75 The county attorney shall file an affidavit with 76 the court stating the reasons for his conclusion that 77 the alleged violation did not occur, and this affidavit
78 shall be received in evidence. The county attorney may 79 appear at the hearing to offer further evidence or to 80 examine witnesses.

81 If the court finds that it has been proved, by a
82 preponderance of the evidence, that the pregnancy did
83 result from a violation of chapter 694 or chapter 704
84 of the Code, it shall issue an order so declaring, 85 and the committee may approve the abortion. Any hear-
86 ing granted under this section may, at the court's dis-
87 cretion, be held in camera. The testimony, findings,
88 conclusions or determinations of the court in a pro-

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 17
By Egenes, Millen, Wyckoff, Lipsky and Pellett

Whereas, the Governor's Economy Committee Report recommends that the Iowa Highway Commission undertake to accomplish, with its own staff, a greater share of the design work required to develop the desired highway system for the State of Iowa, and

Whereas, the lack of trained technical and professional personnel, caused by physical limitations, unrealistic job classifications and low competitive salary structure, necessitates that the Iowa Highway Commission spend 2.43 times more than the "in-house" rate of performing the same work, and

Whereas, the aforesaid report documents a savings to the State of Iowa, in only one department of the Highway Commission, of $300,000 annually if the Iowa Highway Commission could perform 90 percent of its design responsibility,

Now Therefore, Be It Resolved, that it is the sense of the members of the Sixty-fourth General Assembly that the objectives of those phases of the Governor's Economy Committee Report should be furthered where immediate and direct savings to the State of Iowa will be realized.

Be It Further Resolved, that copies of this concurrent resolution be transmitted to the Iowa State Highway Commission, the Executive Council, and the Merit Employment Department.

Laid over under Rule 25.

It shall be unlawful for any person to purposely and unjustifiably terminate the pregnancy of another otherwise than by a live birth.

Sec. 2. JUSTIFIABLE ABORTION.

It shall be justifiable for a physician licensed to practice pursuant to chapters 148, 150, or 150A of the Code to terminate a pregnancy with the consent of the pregnant female if:

a. He believes there is a substantial risk that a continuance of the pregnancy would impair the physical or mental health of the mother, and the pregnancy has not continued beyond the sixteenth week; or

b. That the child would be born with physical or mental defect and the pregnancy has not continued beyond the twentieth week; or

c. That the pregnancy resulted from rape or incest and the pregnancy has not continued beyond the sixteenth week; or

d. That the pregnant female is under the age of eighteen years and the pregnancy has not continued beyond the twentieth week; or

e. There is a reasonable belief that continuation of the pregnancy would endanger the life of the pregnant female; and either:

(1) A committee of physicians licensed pursuant to chapters 148, 150 or 150A of the Code, one of whom may be the person performing the abortion, have certified in writing their belief in the justifying circumstances, and have filed such certificate prior to the abortion with the state department of health, or in such other place as may be designated by the commissioner of the state department of health; or

(2) An emergency exists which requires that such abortion be performed immediately in order to preserve the life of the mother.

Sec. 3. PREGNANCY RESULTING FROM RAPE OR INCEST; PROCEDURE.

The committee of physicians shall not approve the performance of an abortion on the ground that the pregnancy resulted from rape or incest except in accordance with the following procedure:

a. Upon receipt of an application for an abortion on the grounds that the pregnancy resulted from rape or incest, the committee shall immediately notify the county attorney of the county in which the alleged rape or incest occurred of the application, and transmit to the county attorney the affidavit of the applicant attesting to the facts establishing the alleged rape or incest. If the county attorney informs the committee that there is probable cause to believe that the pregnancy resulted from said violation of chapter 694 or chapter 704 of the Code, the committee may approve the abortion. If, within five days after the committee has notified the county attorney of the application, the committee does not receive a reply from the county attorney, it may approve the abortion. If the county attorney informs the committee that there is no probable cause to believe the alleged violation did occur, the committee shall not approve the abortion, except as provided in subparagraph b of this section;

b. If the county attorney informs the committee that there is no probable cause to believe the alleged violation did occur, the person who applied for the abortion may petition the district court of the county in which the alleged rape or incest occurred, to determine whether the pregnancy resulted from a violation of chapter 694 or chapter 704 of the Code. Hearing on the petition shall be set for a date no later than one week after the date of filing of the petition.

The county attorney shall file an affidavit with the court stating the reasons for his conclusion that the alleged violation did not occur, and this affidavit shall be received in evidence. The county attorney may appear at the hearing to offer further evidence or to examine witnesses.

If the court finds that it has been proved, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the pregnancy did result from a violation of chapter 694 or chapter 704 of the Code, it shall issue an order so declaring, and the committee may approve the abortion. Any hearing granted under this section may, at the court's discretion, be held in camera. The testimony, findings, conclusions or determinations of the court in a proceeding under this section shall be inadmissible as evidence in any other action or proceeding, although nothing herein shall be construed to prevent the appearance of any witness who testified at a proceeding under this section, or to prevent the introduction of any evidence that may have been introduced at a proceeding under this section, in any other action or proceeding.

Sec. 4. COMMITTEE OF PHYSICIANS; NUMBER OF MEMBERS REQUIRED.

The committee of physicians referred to in section 2 must, in all instances, consist of not less than two licensed physicians and surgeons, and if the proposed termination of pregnancy will occur after the twelfth week of pregnancy, the committee must consist of at least three such licensed physicians and surgeons. In no event shall the termination be approved after the twentieth week of pregnancy, except as provided in section 2, subsection c.

Sec. 5. MENTAL HEALTH DEFINED.

The term "mental health" as used in section 2 means mental illness to the extent that the woman is dangerous to herself or to the person or property of others or is in need of supervision or restraint.

Sec. 6. HOSPITALIZATION REQUIRED.

a. If the pregnancy has continued more than twelve weeks, the abortion, pursuant to this Act, shall be performed only in a licensed hospital.

b. All other abortions, pursuant to this Act, may be performed in any clinic approved by the Department of Health for the purposes of this Act.

c. No person shall be required to perform or participate in medical procedures which result in the termination of a pregnancy, and the refusal of any person to perform or participate in those medical procedures shall not be a basis for civil liability to any person.

d. No hospital, hospital administrator or governing board shall be required to permit the termination of human pregnancies within its institution and the refusal to permit such procedures shall not be grounds for civil liability to any person. A hospital may establish criteria and procedures under which pregnancies may be terminated within its institution, in addition to those which may be prescribed by licensing, regulating or accrediting agencies.

Sec. 7. RESIDENCY.

This Act shall apply only to pregnant females who have been a resident of this state for at least sixty days immediately preceding such termination of pregnancy.

LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY OBSERVANCE

Speaker Harbor presented the Honorable Stanley T. Shepherd, Farmington, Iowa, former member of the House in the Sixty-second and Sixty-third General Assemblies from Lee County, who addressed the House as follows:

MR. SPEAKER, HONORABLE MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

It is indeed a pleasure and privilege to be with you today to help celebrate this very important day in the history of our country. As we look back on the tragic days of the Civil War we begin to think about the men who were involved and who stand out among all of our great men, and each time our thoughts return to Abraham Lincoln. He is forever associated with universal freedom and the preservation of the Union. He had been born for a destined work to do, and he lived to do it through four long suffering years. He lived through ill fate, ill feeling, ill respect—but he stuck to it and all the hisses changed to cheers.

On January 1, 1863, 107 years ago, Abraham Lincoln took the great responsibility to record the date of one of the most important events in modern history. On that date the scratch of a pen upon a sheet of paper, he signed his signature to the Emancipation Proclamation — a document second only in importance to the boasted Magna Carta, which the British Barons wrung from King John at Runnymede. It was a fulfillment not only to a down-trodden race in America, but to all people for all time who may seek the protection of Our Flag.

Then we turn to the saddest episode in the whole history of the Civil War. On April 15, 1865, Abraham Lincoln was shot down and on that day Lincoln reached the end of his destiny.

Thus ended a life of a man who was not highly educated, but was one of the individuals that America needed and needs now. Individuals who are dedicated, not only toward a job, but doing it well. Lincoln knew that it was important to take pride in his actions and make that extra effort toward excellence, if for nothing else than for personal satisfaction he received from it.

What do we really know about Abraham Lincoln? What was his mother and father like? Let us look into the past to find out a little about this great American.

On the twelfth day of February, 1809, Abraham was born in central Kentucky. His family lived in primitive surroundings and he enjoyed none of the advantages that even then were not uncommon—good schooling—wealth—family influence—yet he rose above his environment to leadership in the law—to political prominence—to the presidency—and in little more than four years his supreme fitness was proved. When he died, at the end of the severest crisis in the nation's history, all mankind called him great. Biographers baffled by the gap between his humble origin and enduring fame have sought to find an explanation for his genius in heredity. As far as records show, no other Lincoln or Hanks gave any sign of greatness. Abraham's schooling experiences were, however, of far greater value than any premature schooling could have been. There was no bustle of hurrying people—no noise—no distraction. It was a place of peace, calm, silent and serene. A still and tranquil vastness was the most intimate companion which destiny supplied Abraham Lincoln at the time of his first impression of Life and the World.

When Thomas Lincoln and his family moved to Indiana, no humbler cavalcade ever invaded the Indiana timber. Besides his wife and two children, their earthly possessions were of the slightest. The backs of two borrowed horses sufficed to carry the load—sufficient bedding and clothing—a few pans and kettles. They relied on Thomas Lincoln's kit of tools for their furniture, and on his rifle for their food.

There in Indiana sickness came to Nancy Hanks Lincoln. On a bed of poles cleated to the corner of the cabin, with memories of endless everyday chores, with memories of blue wistful hills and crabapple blossoms flaming white, and the time when she carried a boychild into the world, Nancy Hanks, a pioneer sacrifice, died at the age of thirty-six.

Before leaving Indiana for Illinois, Abraham went for a final look at the grave of his mother. Sadness was upon him. Here was the woman that brought him into the world, and here he would leave her. Abe and his father were leaving Indiana that day—almost naked they had come—stayed fourteen years—toiled—buried their dead—built a church—toiled on—and now they were leaving almost naked.

With migration of his family from Indiana to Illinois to a farm near Decatur in March of 1830, and later to New Salem, Lincoln's boyhood and youth came to an end. Now twenty-one, he was free to strike out for himself.

In 1832, when the Black Hawk War broke out, Abe Lincoln promptly volunteered for thirty days, and was elected captain by overwhelming majority. Some people commented that they were a hard-looking set of men—unkempt—and unshaved, wearing shirts of dark calico, and sometimes calico capotes—others complaining that they made war on pigs and chickens.

It was difficult for the elected officers to exact obedience from such a group, and it is said that Lincoln's first command drew forth a request "Go to the Devil."

On May 27, their thirty days having expired, they were disbanded. Lincoln reenlisted on May 27, and served in this company only one day. On May 25 he enlisted again, this time as a private in a mounted company of Captain Iles. This command was made up of generals, colonels, captains, and distinguished men from disbanded detachments. When Lincoln's enlistment expired on June 16, he reenlisted for another thirty days and was mustered out on July 16.

With four terms in the state legislature to his credit, Lincoln set his heart upon election to Congress. In 1843, he was defeated. It was not until 1846 that Lincoln had his chance. It was then he defeated Peter Cartwright, the famous Methodist circuit rider, for the seat in Congress. Lincoln had entered Congress with high hopes. He finished his term a disillusioned man. He resolved to have no more to do with politics.

If, in 1854, two men, now remembered only by close students of American history, had not been bitter rivals for a seat in the United States Senate, Abe Lincoln might now be known only as an able Illinois lawyer.

Thinking only of re-electing Richard Yates and unaware that he himself was starting on a course that would lead him to a far higher goal, the debates between Lincoln and Douglas will always be remembered.

In 1855, Lincoln was a candidate for the United States Senate, but was defeated. In 1858, he was the choice of the Republicans for the United States Senate but lost to Douglas. On May 18, 1860, Abe Lincoln was nominated for President and on November 6, he was elected President of the United States and stood before the nation as a man of the people. His occupying the chair of state was a triumph of the good sense of mankind and of the public conscience. Rarely was a man so fitted to the event. Thus ended the long trip from poverty to greatness.

Ever since that fatal scene at the Ford Theatre, when John Wilkes Booth fired the fatal bullet in Box "7", when the country was placed under the gloom of a calamity which darkened the minds of good men in all civil society as the fearful tidings traveled across the land, over sea, from country to country, old as history is and manifold as are its tragedies, I doubt if any death caused so much pain to mankind as this caused. Thus the name of Abe Lincoln has held an unending hold on men's hearts and opinion.

No statesman ever grew more sturdily than Lincoln grew between 1854 and 1865; grew from a prairie politician to be the kindly dictator of a great nation in its most terrible crisis. Wealth could not purchase, power could not awe this divine, this loving man. He knew no fear except the fear of doing wrong, hating slavery, pitying the master, seeking to conquer, not person, but prejudices. He was the ideal of the self-denial, the courage, the hope and the nobility of a nation. He spoke, not to inflame, not to unbraid, but in benediction.

Lincoln's greatest qualities were his passionate faith in the virtue and strength of the plain people. Lincoln never did lose in the least the simplicity and sincerity of nature which endeared him alike to the plantation slave and the metropolitan millionaire. Ambition did not warp, power corrupt, nor glory dazzle him.

And out of his deep feeling for popular government was born Lincoln's crowning quality, his vision of the larger meaning of the grim struggle he had to conduct. It was not just a war to determine whether the union should survive or perish, it was an ordeal to determine whether Democracy had sufficient strength to survive, whether America would repay the devotion to the hosts who died for it seeking a new birth of freedom and whether the Republic would serve the future mankind.

He was a man of pure patriotism, unselfish nature, full of forgiveness to his enemies, bearing malice toward none. He proved to be the man above all others for the struggle through which the nation had to pass to place itself among the greatest in the family of nations. His fame will grow brighter as time passes and his great, great work is better understood.

This man—this long, bony, wiry, sad man, floated into Illinois in a frail canoe, down the north fork of the Sangamon River, friendless, penniless, powerless, alone, ragged, struggling for the common necessities of life.

This man, this peculiar man, left us in 1865, the President of the United States, backed by friends, power, fame and all human force.

The truest tribute the American people can pay Lincoln on every occasion such as we have here today, is to try to share his earnest conviction that the Republic has a great world destiny. That in every crisis, men must do their duty not for the country alone, but for all countries. Not for the hour only, but for the long generations ahead.

Whereas, the United States Supreme Court has recently ruled that the eighteen-year-old voting age provisions of the Federal Voting Rights Act Amendments of 1970 are effective only with respect to federal elections; and

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That the Sixty-fourth General Assembly of the State of Iowa urge the Senate and House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States of America to unanimously propose an amendment to the United States Constitution providing:

That citizens of the United States who are eighteen years of age or older, shall not be denied or abridged of the right to vote by the United States or by any state thereof on account of age; and the Senate and House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States transmit the proposed amendment to state legislatures for ratification; and

HOUSE FILE 312 WITHDRAWN

Shaw of Scott, District 78, asked and received unanimous consent to withdraw House File 312 from further consideration by the House.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 20

By Kelly, Sorg and Kennedy

Whereas, legalizing acts seem to increase in number each session of the General Assembly; and

Whereas, serious questions are raised as to the constitutionality of such acts in that all legislative acts are supposed to have uniform application across the state; and

Whereas, it is assumed by most legislators that when such a bill is introduced it is merely to correct a minor error or omission of a procedural nature; and

Whereas, the bonding attorneys and financial consulting firms have had knowledge of the fact that proposed actions were not authorized by law and still advised public officials to proceed; and

Whereas, it has been the custom of the House to not approve proposed legalizing acts under the following circumstances:

1. When the officials involved knew at the time the act was committed that it was not authorized by law.

2. When there was litigation pending.

3. When the statute of limitations had not run.

4. When a citizen's right to appeal to the courts would be deprived.

5. When there was a controversy among the citizenry involved about the advisability of the legislature passing the act; and

Whereas, legalizing actions for public officials which are clearly beyond the laws sets a poor example for other public officials and citizens who are expected to obey the law; and

Whereas, the introduction of such bills often puts members of the General Assembly in an extremely embarrassing position with their constituents when controversy arises over such bills, especially when the legislator had absolutely nothing to do with the action needing legalization; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That it reaffirms the wisdom of the above listed custom and encourages individual members of the General Assembly to do likewise; and

Be It Further Resolved, That individual members of the General Assembly submitting legalizing acts are encouraged to ascertain if the five standards enumerated in this resolution are met. If any of such conditions exist, or if knowledge as to such conditions is lacking, it is the consensus of the General Assembly that no legalizing act should be considered.

Laid over under Rule 25.

MR. PRESIDENT, MRS. NIXON, PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE, MR. CHIEF JUSTICE, JUSTICES OF THE SUPREME COURT, STATE OFFICIALS, MEMBERS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY, GUESTS, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

Indeed it is an honor today to be host to the President of the United States. The President and Mrs. Nixon are not newcomers to our state. They have visited us on other occasions. As a matter of fact, they lived some seven months in Ottumwa. It was then Lieutenant (j.g.) Nixon and as I understand it, they lived in a $55 a month apartment. They have come a long, long way.

This is, however, the first time President Nixon has been in our state since he has been President of the United States. This is also the first time that a President has ever brought his Cabinet to meet in our state and while one other President visited at the Capitol here, President Nixon is the first President to ever address the General Assembly in this capitol.

We are very pleased President Nixon and Mrs. Nixon are with us and I take great pride in telling the President that having come back from the Governor's Conference in Washington just this last week, that the Governors of this country have tremendous respect for the Office of the Presidency but likewise, regardless of their party affiliation, they have great and tremendous appreciation, admiration and respect for you, Mr. President.

And now it is my pleasure to introduce our President to this General Assembly, to the people of the State of Iowa, to the people in the midwest and this entire nation. Ladies and gentlemen, the President of the United States.

Remarks by the
PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES
RICHARD M. NIXON

Delivered before a Joint Session
of the Sixty-fourth General Assembly
First Session

GOVERNOR RAY, MR. PRESIDENT, MR. SPEAKER, MR. CHIEF JUSTICE, MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATURE, MEMBERS OF THE SUPREME COURT, SENATOR MILLER, AND ALL OF OUR DISTINGUISHED GUESTS ON THIS VERY SPECIAL OCCASION:

As Governor Ray has indicated, this is my first visit to Iowa as President of the United States and I am honored that it takes place here in an address to the legislature of the State of Iowa.

I should point out that Vice President Agnew has made a visit to Iowa since taking office. You may recall in a speech he made in Des Moines on November 13, he received quite a bit of national publicity. I spoke with him on the phone yesterday about my pending visit to Iowa, and he suggested that if I really wanted to make major news that I might address myself to the subject of the news media, when I appeared before this group. In matter of fact, that is the most risky idea the Vice President has advanced since he invited me to play golf with him a few weeks ago.

I want you to know that I greatly appreciate this invitation to address this joint session of the Iowa state legislature—both to share with you a few of my thoughts about America's future, and to reaffirm my own strong conviction that in the state capitols of America there is a wealth of wisdom and compassion and understanding of the great needs that confront our nation's people.

This is my first appearance before a legislative body since I delivered my State of the Union address to the United States Congress—and I am especially pleased that it can be before this legislature, which I note was recently cited by the Citizens Conference on State Legislatures as one of the best in the nation. I congratulate you.

In that address, I outlined six great goals for America, and I urged the Congress to join in bringing about a new American revolution—a peaceful revolution, in which power was turned back to the people—in which government at all levels was refreshed and renewed, and made truly responsive to the people of this country.

It is especially appropriate that that appeal to the Congress should be followed by this, the first appearance as President of the United States I have had an opportunity to make before a state legislature. For as we consider the changes that are needed in American government, we must remember that we have not one chief executive in America, but many; not one legislature, but many—and that each of these is a vital part of the American system.

One of my key proposals to the Congress is that we make a $16 billion investment in renewing state and local government by sharing federal revenues without the cumbersome restrictions that now follow federal funds. I have noted that this legislature has already expressed its support for the principle of revenue sharing. I also have proposed a sweeping reorganization of the federal government itself to make it more responsive to the needs of the people.

Together, these changes can give us, all here in Iowa and across this great nation, better government, but they have special meaning for what we call rural America.

First, in terms of dollars, I am announcing today that I am increasing by an extra $100 million the amount that I originally proposed in special revenue sharing for rural community development, bringing that to $1.1 billion for the coming year—which is 24 percent more for rural development programs than is being made available to the states under existing categorical grant programs this year.

The direct dollar benefit to rural America is obvious. In addition, rural America will share substantially in general revenue sharing funds, and also in special revenue sharing for manpower, education, transportation and law enforcement, and all of these of course cut across all of America, whether it is rural or urban or a mixture of the two. Funds for urban community development will also go in part to urban communities, like the city of Des Moines, in largely rural areas.

A second reason these changes have special meaning for rural America is that one of their chief purposes is to give each state and each community greater freedom to decide for itself those questions that directly affect its own future. If the lessons of the past decades mean anything, they mean that as power has been concentrated more and more in Washington, as decisions have increasingly been made by remote control, the special needs of our rural communities and of the great heartland of America more and more have either been neglected or even gone unrecognized.

I want those decisions that affect rural America made by people who know rural America. And the people who know a place best are the people who live there. To put it bluntly I believe that legislators in Iowa know better than bureaucrats in Washington, D. C., what is best for Iowa.

It is fashionable in a lot of quarters these days to scoff at state and local government. To speak of its corruption, its inefficiency and all of the other problems that seem to confront them at this time. But to those who sneer at state legislatures, at city councils, at any level of government other than that in Washington, I say they don't know the American people and the American system.

I reject completely the contention that you cannot trust state and local governments. The patronizing notion that a bureaucratic elite in Washington knows best what is best for people everywhere is completely alien to the American experience.

The honesty and efficiency of government depends on people. Government at all levels—the federal level, the state level and the local level—has good people and bad people. And the way to get more good people into government is to give them more opportunity to do good things. Not just at the federal level but at the state level and the local level as well.

You know and I know how much dedication there is in state capitals, how much of a desire to do the right thing—and how much frustration there is with the restrictions and red tape that Washington so often imposes—and also with the tightening squeeze between needs and resources.

Like other state legislatures, you confront here in Iowa enormous problems.

As is the case in most of our states, I know you are wrestling with ways of avoiding the prospect of a deficit this year. That's true of a majority of the states in this nation this year. I know how heavy the burden of state and local taxes has become. I was thinking in that retrospect as I was preparing my remarks for this occasion.

I entered public life as a freshman Congressman from California almost twenty-five years ago. And since then I have been in and out of government all of that time, a little more in than out. But in that twenty-five years I have noted what has happened. Listen to these comparisons. Today, we find that state and local expenditures are twelve times as high as they were just twenty-five years ago. Property taxes are six times as high as they were twenty-five years ago and state and local debts are nine times as high as they were just twenty-five years ago.

Against that background, look at the double mismatch we now have: As the nation grows and the economy expands, needs grow fastest at the state and local level, while revenues grow fastest at the federal level. And at the same time, experience shows that the federal government is very good at collecting revenues and often very bad at dispensing services.

So it makes elementary good sense to turn over some of the money collected by the federal tax system to meet state and local needs.

It makes good sense, because people on the scene are most often the best judges of what those needs are.

It also makes sense because our people need relief from the mounting burden of state and local taxes.

Here in Iowa, with our revenue sharing program, let me tell you what it will do for you. It means you could make a choice. Your choice could be to increase services if you desire to do so or to avert a deficit if you desire to do so or perhaps to increase appropriations for the agricultural land tax credit if you desire to do so. The point is you make the choice as to what should happen with those revenues. And you choose, according to your best judgment of the needs and wishes of the people of Iowa, and that's the way it should be—here in Iowa and in every state in this country.

Let me also say a word about my proposal to reorganize the federal government—in particular as it affects the farmer.

One of the automobile companies has recently been using the advertising slogan "You've changed. We've changed." But when we look at the farmer and the way the federal government is organized, it is a different story. The only way to state the case, sadly enough, is that he has changed and we have not. The farmer is a man of many talents now—a businessman, a technician, a scientist—often a man who makes his living in more lines of work than farming alone. The term agro-business is often used here in Iowa and in my own state of California to describe this great new powerful instrument of American agriculture which has made America first in the world of productivity in agriculture, first in the world of this most important fact that the housewives of America, the best fed country in the world, pay less of her budget for food than in any country of the world. This is an indication of what the farmer has done for America. And when the farmer and American agriculture has done that, when it is the most productive of all phases of our economy, certainly American agriculture and the American farmer deserves a fair share of America's increasing prosperity.

Now let's take a look beyond that farmer. Let's look at the rural community in which he lives, or here in the city where the farmer comes from time to time. We find that the rural community is becoming increasingly diversified in its economic base and its land use and its population patterns. While all this has gone on, we have sat in Washington with the same Department of Agriculture we have had since 1862. Oh, changes have been made in the organization—new functions have been added—the Department of Agriculture, as far as its mission is concerned, is the same as it was then when the problems were very different.

"You've changed and we haven't"—it could become the epitaph for rural America, for the countryside where this nation's roots are. But to be able to say that you have changed and so have we—that could be the keynote for a new surge of vitality and progress on the farms, on the ranches and in the towns and the open lands across this nation.

It comes to a question of whether farmers and others in rural America want an Agriculture Department for its own sake or whether they really want things like better farm prices, better technical assistance for agriculture problems, wider development opportunities in rural communities, better schools, better roads, and so on. I think they want the latter—the tangible results.

Under the present setup, only one Cabinet department represents the farmer. Under my proposed reorganization, four Cabinet secretaries—half the Cabinet—will be speaking up for the farmer when his diverse interests are at stake. I submit that this is not less representation, but more—and more effective representation, because the rural interest will be represented wherever decisions are being made that affect that interest.

These proposals I have made are not Republican proposals or Democratic proposals. I have offered them in a bipartisan spirit. In Washington I met with all the Republicans of the House and Senate and all of the Democrats of the House and Senate, at breakfast, after the State of the Union Message in order to present them in that bipartisan spirit and that is why today as I speak to you, I seek not partisan support but bipartisan support, for these proposals cut to the heart of our hopes for progress in America not just this year, not just next year, but for the balance of the decade and the balance of the century.

This nation at the beginning developed a constitution and a form of government that has survived magnificently for 190 years not because that constitution was developed out of partisan debate, oh, there is debate all right, but it was not on party lines, it was on the great issue of what was best for this new country, and out of this came a constitution and system of government which we have been very proud to have since that time. That's what we need today as we look at the new problems of America and new ways to meet those problems.

I have met with many groups in these past few weeks, talking with them about my proposals for the reform and renewal of government in America. And I have told them that I know there are many objections that people will raise to this proposal and that proposal, and the rest, and objections should be raised—that's the way to refine a proposal, to make it better, to make it more effective in reaching those goals that we all want to reach, but I told these people, those who object that when they have an objection I challenge them to answer this one question—I say, let the first person who thinks that we ought to keep things as they are, stand up and defend the status quo—and I have not yet had a single taker.

I realize that many, particularly many in government—and I am proud to be, as you are proud to be, a man who is in government—many in government throughout the land were somewhat shocked and taken aback when I used the colloquial expression that a majority of the American people today are “fed up” with government, and that doesn’t mean just government in Washington but it means government at all levels. But we know it is true and here are the reasons—they are fed up with government because they think it costs too much, they think it doesn’t work and they think they cannot do anything about it, and what I have proposed is designed to meet these needs—to cut the cost of government, to make it work, and to give the people a greater voice in determining what kind of government they want. Now that is a goal above partisanship, it is the goal that I submit to the Iowa legislature and ask for your support.

People know that we need a change. They know that what may have been right twenty or thirty or forty years ago is not right today. They know that like any living thing, government in America has to change and develop; it has to adapt itself to new circumstances. And it has to be made to meet the needs of our people, as those needs exist in today’s America—so that for the farmer, the worker, the taxpayer, the housewife—for everyone in America—government can do a better job.

America’s great strength lies precisely in its great diversity—in the fact that our states and communities are different, that we do not all fit in the same mold, that each of us has his own ambitions, his own desires, his own individuality. The essence of freedom is to give scope to that individuality and to respect that diversity.

When I talk about returning power to the people, I am talking about just that—about letting people make their own decisions, in their own lives and in the lives of their own communities.

For I have faith in the people of America. And faith in people is what the American system of government was all about in the beginning and it is what it is all about today. Here in the heartland of America, we can see that the heart of America is good—and that its people deserve our faith.

We became a great nation because the nation’s founders had the courage to place their faith in people—and because, having that faith, they established institutions that allowed the people to prove themselves worthy of it.

Now the time has come to return to that faith, one of those great watershed periods in the history of a nation, when we return to that faith we return to renew those institutions, and by so doing to lead America to a new birth of greatness—a greatness not simply as the richest nation, not simply as the strongest nation, but a greatness that springs from the unshackling of the spirit of the people themselves.

We need to today at a time when American involvement in the longest and most difficult war in our history is coming to an end. It is time to turn the great energies of our people to the works of peace in this last third of the twentieth century. And at this time, I invite you to join with me in beginning a national renewal—in fitting our government to the times we live in—in strengthening our government at the state and local level—in forging a new partnership that can give us prosperity with peace, progress with unity and freedom with diversity.

The President of the United States, Richard M. Nixon, and Mrs.

Nixon were escorted from the House chamber by Governor and Mrs. Robert D. Ray.

Senator Lamborn moved that the joint convention be now dissolved.

Motion prevailed.

The House reconvened, Speaker Harbor in the chair.

OFFICE FOR PLANNING AND PROGRAMMING

March 1, 1971

Clerk of the House
House of Representatives
State Capitol
Des Moines, Iowa

Dear Sir:

In accordance with section 10.5, chapter 248, of the Laws of the Sixty-third General Assembly, First Session, I am pleased to submit this report on the allocation of the $200,000 provided to us by section 3 of that chapter. The funds have been allocated as follows:

Division of Municipal Affairs, OPP .....$70,000

The division has conducted research projects, provided technical assistance, and prepared procedural guides for Iowa's cities, towns, and counties in the areas of housing, building codes, community betterment, model cities liaison, and federal program availability and management.

Community Betterment Program .....$20,000

Financing the continuation of this program, which currently involves 40 Iowa cities and towns, for another year.

Reversion to the General Fund .....$110,000

Although a number of worthwhile projects have been proposed, with considerable potential federal matching funds, the budgetary constraints of the State of Iowa require that these funds remain unencumbered, and they shall revert to the general fund of the state as of June 30, 1971, as provided by section 10.3 of the above-mentioned chapter 248. The Governor has personally made this decision in order to comply fully with the spirit of his recent memorandum to department heads, regarding fiscal restraint to be exercised for the remainder of this year.

Were it not for the budget constraints, we would allocate the entire $110,000 for a demonstration project for areawide planning and development, through which the local governments in a pilot area could have worked jointly to strengthen their capabilities. We have been working on programs to be considered by the Governor's Rural Policy Council which will eventually need money and which could probably qualify for federal matching funds on a 4 to 1 basis. These efforts will be directed primarily toward Iowa's predominately rural areas in an attempt to coordinate agencies, stimulate development, and stem the tide of out-migration. Similar efforts in other states have been highly successful.

No other formal proposals were made, although a number of inquiries were received. Some projects that could have been very beneficial include: assisting local governments in improving their financial management capabilities through design of new systems and training of personnel; providing local match for federal projects, such as the Model Cities Program in Des Moines; and establishing a statewide information system to help local governments stay abreast of important statistical data, especially in wage negotiations. Regrettably, we have not been in a position to encourage local governments toward formalizing such proposals.

We will continue to document possibilities for innovating projects for local governments, in the firm belief that many will merit funding when the state's fiscal position improves.

Sincerely yours,
LEROY H. PETERSEN

The intent of this Act is to make available to each school district in the state for general fund expenditures for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1971, an amount received from property and income taxes equal to but not greater than the amount received from property and income taxes by each school district in the state for general fund expenditures for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1970, except as otherwise provided in case of special education, extraordinary and unusual circumstances, and state aid.

Extraordinary and unusual circumstances for the purpose of this section are circumstances which materially affect the school district's financial status and which will require significant expenditures in addition to the moneys received from the property tax levy and income tax distributed pursuant to this Act and the appropriation in section six (6) of this Act. The school board requesting permission shall have the burden of proof to establish that all available means have been used by it to reduce the costs of the school district.

The limitations imposed in this Act shall apply to a school district which has reorganized since July 1, 1970, but the limitation for the reorganized district shall be based upon the combined general fund budgets of the school districts involved in the reorganization."

Speaker
Iowa House of Representatives
State House
Des Moines, Iowa

Dear Mr. Speaker:

The opportunity to address the Iowa legislature last Monday was a particularly welcome one. I was glad to have this occasion to share with you some of my thinking on the great issues confronting the nation, and I want to express my appreciation once more for all of the help you provided in connection with the trip to Des Moines. Thanks to your efforts, the visit was as enjoyable as it was productive.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,
RICHARD NIXON

ADDENDUM AND SUPPLEMENT TO BUDGET MESSAGE
BY THE HONORABLE ROBERT D. RAY
GOVERNOR OF IOWA

Delivered to the Sixty-fourth General Assembly, First Session
March 11, 1971

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE SIXTY-FOURTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY:

On January 27, 1971, in accordance with chapter 8 of the Iowa Code, I submitted to the Sixty-fourth General Assembly a Budget Message and included therewith a "Budget in Brief" with explanatory documents and charts.

Since then you have received a detailed Budget Report. Now, pursuant to the same chapter of the Iowa Code, I submit herewith an addendum and supplement to the Governor's Budget as heretofore presented and for the reasons that follow.

In recent months much has been said about the state's financial condition.

Budgets for government are prepared on the basis of expected income and needed expenditures. On the state level, the legislature appropriates money that provides the funds for our budget. During this biennium we are spending less than the General Assembly appropriated. However, our income has not been as great as anticipated.

When in 1969 and 1970, you appropriated money for the budget of this biennium, you did so on estimated revenue. Your projections, as were true of mine, were based upon the best fiscal data you could obtain from the experts who work in the field of government finance. The validity of that information was recognized at the time as legislators from both parties in both Houses voted the appropriations.

The best an estimate can be is a projection based on past experience, evaluation of current conditions and expansion of adjusted trends into the future.

While in the process of developing our original budget for the 1971-73 biennium, it became apparent that the economic conditions which had plagued the nation earlier had caught up with Iowa. In December, however, it appeared that the down-turn was still only a temporary setback and that there were reasons to expect a recovery from declining hog prices, several major strikes and a distressing level of unemployment. Unfortunately, the economy did not respond as quickly as the experts had anticipated.

As we prepared our original budget for the next biennium we took into consideration, based on information at that time, that the economic decline would result in a loss of anticipated state revenue of approximately $12 million. We faced the problem of preventing a deficit when we made our original budget. Now, I am advised that state revenues may be down by as much as another $13 million. Recognizing that we must not have a deficit, I again face squarely another round of belt tightening.

I have insisted that we adjust any changes to deal with this situation using the most realistic figures that have been presented to me by experts in the field of government financing including the State Comptroller, the Legislative Fiscal Director, the State Director of Revenue, the State Treasurer and others.

There is one very basic difference between Iowa state government financing procedures and those of the federal government. We cannot incur a deficit. State government is operating in the black now and by following the proposals I submit today we will remain in the black.

The recommendations I am presenting to you contain no magic solutions—for as anyone who has ever been faced with the prospect of spending within definite limits knows, there are priorities which must be set and sacrifices which must be made.

As an aside, I want to make mention of the fact that historically—because of various demands—there has been a legislative tendency to exceed, or “break” a Governor’s budget. I am sure it is obvious to all of you that this cannot happen in the next biennium, for the funds are simply not available.

I call upon you to work within the framework of the budget which you now have at hand.

This is a budget which recognizes the heavy pressures which confront the taxpayers of our state. At the same time, this budget makes provisions to strengthen our support for cities and towns and education at all levels. It provides additional consideration for our elderly and our disadvantaged; it recognizes the need to cope with the problems of our environment, our rural and urban development and extends greater resources for the fight against crime, improved health care for our citizens, and for the many other services of a government which exists to serve the people of this state.

REVISION OF REVENUE BASE SIXTY-FOURTH BIENNIUM

The loss of revenue for the current fiscal year has not only made changes necessary in this year, but indicates to those responsible for estimating revenues that reductions will be necessary for the forthcoming biennium.

Nearly all of the losses in revenues have been in the sales and use tax collections, and in personal income tax receipts. To reflect the current changes in the reduction in revenues, the Comptroller has cut $13.2 million from the estimated or projected receipts of sales and income taxes for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1972, and another $15.5 million from the projected receipts of sales and income taxes for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1973.

By making these adjustments in revenue estimates, the Comptroller has assumed that the state’s economy will not return to the previous high level, plus growth, but rather he has computed or projected the growth on the current lower base. This is, of course, the most conservative approach, and one which we believe is proper at this time.

One final word as to the rate of growth projected by the Comptroller. Basically, the growth anticipated in the personal income tax is 8 percent annually, and the sales tax approximately 3 percent per year. Based on all the years of record, this is a relatively modest projection.

I now submit to you the amendments, changes and refinements to my original budget which includes no additional general taxes.

MONTHLY SALES TAX REMITTANCES

1. Presently, Iowa law requires retailers who take in more than $500 per month in sales tax, to remit to the state those funds on a monthly basis. Others remit on a quarterly basis. I am recommending that all who collect more than $50 per month remit their collections on a monthly basis. Surrounding states require monthly remittances at the $25 or $20 level. This will result in an immediate $8.8 million to help prevent any deficit.

ADDITIONAL REVERSIONS TO GENERAL FUND

2. By further curtailing state expenditures, it is estimated that an additional $1.5 million can be saved.

CIGARETTE TAX

3. The action of the General Assembly in already passing the cigarette tax bill will result in an additional $2.2 million not included in my original budget.

REVENUE FROM LIQUOR RETAILERS

4. In 1963, when Iowa's liquor-by-the-drink law was enacted, sales of mixed drinks were taxed 10 percent. In 1967, this procedure was revised. A 10 percent tax was replaced with a 15 percent surcharge on the liquor paid by the retailer at the time of purchase from the state stores and the usual 3 percent sales tax was paid by the consumer of mixed drinks.

At the time of this change it was believed that the revenue to the state would be the same. This has not been the case. During the past two years—under the old plan—the state would have received approximately $1.5 million more annually. I am recommending that the surcharge be at 20 percent. It would be equivalent to one cent per mixed drink, adding back to state revenue in the approximate amount of $1.5 million per year.

REVISION OF STATE EMPLOYEE PAY SCHEDULES

5. My original budget provides for the implementation of the Jacobs Plan for state employees. Such upgrading and improvement is necessary and therefore I continue to recommend that the Legislature provide funds essential for this plan.

It will be possible, however, to provide for "earned merit pay increases" following the implementation of the Jacobs Plan without the necessity of the extra $3.4 million called for in my original budget. Until funds are more readily available this amount can be used to prevent a state deficit.

REGENTS BUDGET

6. My original budget granted percentage salary increases for the Board of Regents personnel that exceeded those for many of our other state employees. It is my belief adjustments can be made so that increase will more closely correspond to the state averages for other agencies. This will reduce spending by $6 million.

It is imperative that we maintain the educational system of Iowa at a high level. This change, I am convinced, will not reduce that commitment.

REFINEMENT OF SCHOOL AID PLAN

7. Further analysis of the school aid program I presented to you as a part of my budget message has revealed the possibility of refinement of the distribution formula. I recommend no change in the program as it applies to the 1971-72 school year. In the 1972-73 school year, however, the effect of the phasing-in process of the foundation program has an unnecessarily magnanimous impact on a few schools in our state in that it makes possible sharp drops in the local millage rate.

I am recommending that changes be made which would limit the millage reduction in any school district to 10 percent per year. This will add, I believe, equity to the program, will only affect 57 school districts, and will enable the state to reduce its share of school costs by $6 million in the upcoming biennium. At the end of the four-year period which was outlined to you in the budget message, the millage levy in these 57 districts will be precisely the same as I previously stated.

PASSAGE OF REVENUE PLAN

8. To finance the revenue plan I submitted to you in January—a plan that will effectively stabilize burdensome property taxes it is necessary to shift a portion of the tax load to a growth tax based on one's ability to pay. The plan calls for the full rate of income tax instead of the present three-quarter rate.

By speedy passage of this revenue plan, the withholding rates can be immediately adjusted for the convenience of the tax payers; this will also help alleviate the money squeeze.

Should the Legislature not promptly enact this measure it will be necessary to defer payment of some of the state's obligations.

CAPITALS

9. We have already determined that we can defer some construction, thereby avoiding the expense of $5.6 million during the remainder of this biennium. In this revision of my budget, we provide for the reappropriation of these funds, but also for the reduction of total capitals of $6 million in the first year and $2 million in the second year of the 1971-73 biennium.

These items of deferment can be reconsidered when the revenue outlook brightens.

My recommendations today require action on your part—the sooner the better. You will then be able to turn to other important work in this session with a clear resolve.

When first apprised of our declining income situation, I ordered a new round of belt tightening in state government. This was done. Now, in effect, I am calling for cinching the belt additional notches. This is not appealing—but it is imperative.

The recommendations as outlined in this message, and your action, will enable us to assure our citizens that Iowa government remains in the black for this biennium and the biennium ahead.

Our efforts to cope with the immediate problems which resulted in the down turn of expected revenues must not be permitted to turn our heads from the paramount task of this legislative session. That task is to stop spiraling property taxes and get into a reasonable school finance plan—not only for this year or the next, but in the years to come.

STATE COMPTROLLER
Des Moines

March 11, 1971

Honorable Robert D. Ray
Governor of Iowa

Dear Governor Ray:

In accordance with your request, we have reviewed the anticipated receipts for the remaining four months of the present fiscal year ending June 30, 1971, and the ensuing biennium. You will recall that this was represented by Exhibit C of the Governor's Budget. With the exception of the State Sales Tax, the Individual Income Tax, and the receipts for the Liquor Commission, I find the estimated receipts as prepared originally to be correct.

SALES TAX

Sales Tax collections for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1970, were $181.3 million (adjusted for advertising and new construction tax). Based on historic data and the economy of the state at December 31, 1970, we projected a 5 percent growth in receipts, or to a total of $190.6 million. This anticipated growth has not developed, and the reduced collections which started in November and December, 1970, has continued. It is therefore my best judgment at this time that only 1½ percent growth be projected for this current year, and that anticipated revenues be projected at $184.0 million for the current year. This increase is consistent with the first seven months of the current fiscal year, as the previous years adjusted receipts were $129.6 million through February 28, 1970, as compared to $130.9 through February 28, 1971.

As to the receipts for the next two years beyond the current year, I estimate that we will have an approximate 3 percent increase per year, or a total of $189.5 million for the year ended June 30, 1972, and $195.7 million for the year ended June 30, 1973. These represent a reduction from my original projections of $5.8 million the first year, and $5.5 million the second year. It is my feeling that these are reasonable increases at this time.

INCOME TAX

Gross Income Tax collections for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1970, were $146.4 million. Based on the personal income data, and from studies of the Revenue Department and ourselves on the graduation included in our rate schedules, I am projecting a growth of slightly over 8 percent for this current year. Most recent withholding data and collections indicate this offsets some reduction in revenue for 1970 returns now being filed. Anticipated collections at this time will be $158.3 million for the current year.

As in the case of sales tax, there has been some unpredicted decreases during the last two months on income taxes, particularly in the final returns being filed, and on final declarations. It is much too early to assess the full significance of this data, but I did make an adjust downward of $5.6 million from my estimate of December 31, 1970.

Based on the receipts not meeting my original estimates of December, 1970, I further adjusted the estimated receipts from personal income taxes for the next two years ending June 30, 1972, and June 30, 1973, by $7.4 million and $10 million, respectively. This would then project increases in this tax of approximately 11 percent per year for these two years. In light of strong historic trends, I believe this rate of growth to be reasonable.

LIQUOR COMMISSION

It would appear at this date that I over-estimated the amounts which would be transferred from the Liquor Commission to the general fund by approximately $800,000 for the current year. While liquor sales have increased as anticipated, the direct costs paid from liquor revenues have correspondingly increased and result in a lower transferable amount.

The changes which I have noted here, together with the changes you are recommending in appropriations for the current year, and the next two years of the Sixty-fourth biennium, are incorporated in the revised Exhibit A which is attached to this letter. You will note that we in each instance referred back to the original budget document, so that you may follow the changes between the original and revised budgets. This office will attach these changes to the published budget not yet distributed.

Very truly yours,
MARVIN R. SELDEN, JR.
State Comptroller

- b. Page 2A, by striking lines 7 through 14, inclusive, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:
"unless, because of extraordinary and unusual circumstances, the school district receives permission from the school budget review committee.

As used in this section, the amount received by the district for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1970, includes the amount received by the district as its share of the basic school tax levied equally in the basic school tax unit, as provided in sections four hundred forty-two point four (442.4) and four hundred forty-two point six (442.6) of the Code, and the amount raised by the district as an additional tax as provided in section four hundred forty-two point seventeen (442.17) of the Code. Subject to the limitations on amounts provided in this Act, the method of levying and distributing the basic school tax shall remain the same for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1971, as it was for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1970, and as provided in sections four hundred forty-two point four (442.4), four hundred forty-two point six (442.6), and four hundred forty-two point eight (442.8) of the Code.

The amount of the basic school tax levied in each basic school tax unit in the state for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1971, shall be the same amount as the basic school tax levied for that basic school tax unit for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1970, and except as otherwise provided in this Act, the amount of additional money to be provided by a property tax levy in each school district in the state for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1971, as provided in section four hundred forty-two point seventeen (442.17) of the Code, shall not exceed the amount of additional money provided by the property tax levied for that school district for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1970, and no school district shall levy any other amounts for general fund expenditures for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1971, in excess of the amounts levied by that district for general fund expenditures for the year commencing July 1, 1970.

The intent of this Act is to make available to each school district in the state for general fund expenditures for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1971, an amount received from property and income taxes equal to but not greater than the amount received from property and income taxes by each school district in the state for general fund expenditures for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1970, except as otherwise provided in case of special education, extraordinary and unusual circumstances, and state aid.

Extraordinary and unusual circumstances for the purpose of this section are circumstances which materially affect the school district's financial status and which will require significant expenditures in addition to the moneys received from the property tax levy and income tax distributed pursuant to this Act and the appropriation in section six (6) of this Act. The school board requesting permission shall have the burden of proof to establish that all available means have been used by it to reduce the costs of the school district.

The limitations imposed in this Act shall apply to a school district which has reorganized since July 1, 1970, but the limitation for the reorganized district shall be based upon the combined general fund budgets of the school districts involved in the reorganization.”

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 26

By Freeman, Waugh, Logemann, Christensen,
Franklin, Taylor and Knoblauch

Whereas, the question of enacting a pari-mutuel betting system in Iowa has been placed before both the Sixty-third and Sixty-fourth General Assemblies; and

Whereas, there appear to be many questions and determinations that must be answered and made before the General Assembly may formulate conclusions based upon sound research and facts; and

Whereas, the many important and immediate issues facing the First Session of the Sixty-fourth General Assembly may preclude it from considering in depth the legislative proposals relating to pari-mutuel betting now before the General Assembly, Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That the legislative council be authorized to create a study committee consisting of legislative members from both political parties and both houses of the General Assembly, and such nonlegislative members as necessary, for the purpose of conducting during the interim period between the First and Second Regular Sessions of the Sixty-fourth General Assembly, a detailed and comprehensive study relating to the enacting of legislation authorizing pari-mutuel betting in Iowa; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the study committee shall consider, but not be limited to, such questions as to the amount of revenue which might be raised through the taxation of a pari-mutuel betting system, the costs to the various levels of government, the effect on the citizens of Iowa of a pari-mutuel betting system, the effect on the economy of Iowa of a pari-mutuel betting system, and such other questions as may be pertinent in regard to the enactment of a pari-mutuel betting system; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the study committee make periodic reports to the legislative council and shall submit a final report, including necessary bill drafts to implement its recommendations, to the legislative council. Copies of the report approved by the legislative council shall be submitted to the General Assembly meeting in the year 1972.

Laid over under Rule 25.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 27

By Schroeder

Whereas, there is an increasing demand upon state and local government for essential public services; and

Whereas, no in-depth study has been made in the State of Iowa, determining the advisability of enacting a pari-mutuel system of betting, or the increased revenue which may be derived to the state from a pari-mutuel system of betting; and

Whereas, in all states where pari-mutuel betting is permitted, an added benefit is the establishment of a new industry of thoroughbred breeding and sales, Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring, That there be established an advisory committee for the study of the advantages of a pari-mutuel system of betting. The committee shall consist of nine members, three to be appointed by the President of the Senate from the membership of the Senate, three to be appointed by the Speaker of the House from the membership of the House, and three members appointed by the Governor. A chairman and vice-chairman shall be chosen by the committee. Each member of the committee shall receive a per diem and expenses within the limits prescribed by section two point ten (2.10) of the Code; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the committee shall report to the Governor and General Assembly no later than January 31, 1972, and include within its report its recommendations relating to the advisability of the enactment of a pari-mutuel system of betting, the control and regulation thereof, estimates of tax revenues to the State of Iowa under the pari-mutuel system of betting, and all other matters relating to the advantages of a system of pari-mutuel betting in Iowa.

Laid over under Rule 25.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 30

By Dunton, Small, Scott, Rodgers, Middleswart, Blouin,
Bennett, Bray, Franklin, Willits, Norpel and Cochran

Whereas, the economy of the state of Iowa is dependent to an important degree upon the maintenance of good railroad service to all areas of the state; and

Whereas, there has continued for a number of years a trend toward reduced service on and abandonment of branch railroad lines serving many of Iowa's smaller communities; and

Whereas, the almost total cancellation of passenger train service in Iowa has contributed to the present situation in which many Iowa communities have no access to public passenger transportation facilities of any kind; and

Whereas, concern has been expressed from time to time as to whether the present standards of maintenance of railway roadbeds and rolling stock are adequate to protect the public, in view of the many dangerous or potentially dangerous types of cargo which may be moved by rail; and

Whereas, there is need for development of a long-range state policy for the coordinated utilization of railroads, buses, highways, and other transportation facilities so as to afford the public the most efficient and economical service in the movement of passengers and goods, Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That the legislative council is authorized to create a study committee which shall include legislative members of the appropriate standing committees and non-legislative members knowledgeable of the railroad industry, the problems of railroad workers, and the needs of the public for adequate railroad service, to conduct during the 1971 legislative interim a thorough study of the present and projected future needs of the state of Iowa for railroad service, the ability of the railroads serving the state to meet these needs, and any legislation which may better enable them to do so; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the study committee shall make periodic reports to the legislative council and shall submit a final report, including necessary bill drafts to implement recommendations, to the legislative council. Copies of the report and proposed bill drafts approved by the legislative council shall be submitted to members of the General Assembly meeting in the year 1972.

JOINT CONVENTION

PIONEER LAWMAKERS (House Chamber—2 p.m.)

In accordance with Senate Concurrent Resolution 12, duly adopted, the joint convention was called to order, President Jepsen presiding.

President Jepsen announced a quorum present and the joint convention duly organized.

Senator Lamborn of Jackson moved that a committee of four be appointed to escort the Pioneer Lawmakers into the House chamber.

The motion prevailed and the President appointed as such committee Senator Stephens of Washington, Senator Briles of Adams, Representative Clark of Lee, and Representative Schwieger of Black Hawk.

The committee escorted the Pioneer Lawmakers to the well of the House chamber.

President Jepsen presented Representative Floyd Millen who welcomed the Pioneer Lawmakers on behalf of the House as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT, MR. SPEAKER, MEMBERS OF THE PIONEER LAWMAKERS ASSOCIATION OF IOWA, JOINT CONVENTION AND GUESTS:

On behalf of the House, it is my pleasure to welcome you, Pioneer Lawmakers. Since 1962, when I first entered the legislature, I have had the pleasure and privilege of counseling with a number of you. This was and is now a great help to me. One of the most cherished honors that can come to any citizen in this state is to have the privilege to serve in this legislative body and observe and be a part of the sincere dedication which members display in considering various pieces of legislation.

It is indeed a privilege and an honor to be elected to this body. It simply means that a majority of the people that elected you considered you the most worthy to represent them. It is a cherished tradition that I'm sure you veterans enjoy reminiscing about.

We here in this legislature commend you for the work you have done in the past in legislation that you considered to be in the public interest. The same problems are still with us, maybe to a greater degree, but we still are talking about governmental reform, reapportionment and taxes.

We hope you will show your continued interest and give us your counsel and advice. It is a great benefit to us.

Again, we are happy to have you and hope to see you again in this same meeting two years from now.

President Jepsen presented Senator Vernon H. Kyhl who welcomed the Pioneer Lawmakers on behalf of the Senate as follows:

PIONEER LAWMAKERS, FELLOW SENATORS, MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE AND GUESTS:

It is a real pleasure for me to welcome you to this forty-first biennial session of the Pioneer Lawmakers of the State of Iowa.

The honors and the traditions of the Iowa General Assembly live on in the memories of all Iowans who respect our commonwealth. You have established many of the rules that we operate under today and your rules form the foundation of many practices that I help enforce as I serve as President pro tempore in the Senate of this Sixty-fourth General Assembly.

We all live by tradition, and we use daily the customs which you established as they have become the traditions of the Senate and the House.

As you view the operations of your legislature in 1971, I'm sure you recognize that we are faced with the same pressures that you withstood in years past. Modern legislators are still trying to satisfy the voters back home as well as the demands of various groups for special aid.

In our present-day General Assembly, faced with the problems of our modern age, we are inclined to feel that modern problems are more demanding than those of past days—but I am sure that your caucuses were just as argumentative as ours are today and the problems you solved on the floor were just as important in your time as any problem we may be able to solve today.

Bear with us as we struggle to meet the problems of today, and we assure you that our hearts and minds are dedicated as yours were to doing the best job possible for our grand State of Iowa.

President Jepsen presented the President of the Pioneer Lawmakers, the Honorable Duane E. Dewel, who responded to the welcome.

Mr. Dewel introduced Mrs. Edna Lawrence of Ottumwa, newly-elected President of the Pioneer Lawmakers, who briefly addressed the joint convention.

Mr. Dewel addressed the joint convention as follows:

I bring you greetings, understanding and sympathy from those who preceded you—the Pioneer Lawmakers of Iowa.

I am not going to tell you what you should do. You know your problems better than anyone and I am sure you will come up with the answers. You can serve just as well without any pleading by me.

I am going to say a little about those who once sat in these seats and served the state well. We were not wholly content with what we did, but we were satisfied we had done our best as we saw it at the time.

We will welcome you to the Pioneers twenty years after the day of your first service in the legislature when you too can recall with pleasure the friends you have made. There are few bad memories—only the good ones come to mind.

Our hair has thinned. Our eyeglasses have thickened. Our voices which once roared now have a tendency to quiver and squeak. But our interest in good government is as strong as ever. We have confidence in you.

Who are the Pioneers?

They are legislators and elected state officials who served twenty years or more ago. It is not an organization to do anything. There are no dues. Membership is automatic.

They meet every other year on call of the president and invitation by the legislature. They meet together in the morning for tales of by-gone days when they too were important. They choose officers for the next biennium and in the afternoon meet in joint session with the legislature for a short program.

The Pioneers were organized in 1886. At that meeting there were those who served in the 1850's and 1860's and one who had served in the first Territorial legislature in 1838. His name was Hawkins Taylor.

Annual sessions are not new in Iowa. The eight Territorial legislatures met annually prior to the 1857 constitution when the biennial session was adopted.

It may surprise you to know there were 3,360 individuals who served in the sessions from the First through the Forty-ninth General Assembly.

Their names are preserved in the Redbook of 1941-42 and among the names was that new household word "Agnew".

The Sixty-third General Assembly passed a resolution to bring the list up to date and it is hoped by the Pioneers that the State Printer will now include the names since 1942 in the next Redbook.

Members of the early legislatures got $2 per day for the first fifty days and then only $1 per day. It made for shorter sessions.

A feature of Pioneer meetings from the start are tales of the old days by members. They were once published in printed book form and are fascinating. There was no bitterness over battles lost and most tales were humorous. I have selected a few which may interest you.

Remember in the old days the men were young. They had to be to fight the wilderness and pioneer problems. They were quick to anger and quick to forgive.

In one heated debate one exasperated member called another a ring-tailed baboon. He was called down by the Chair and apologized by saying he meant to say his opponent was a NICE ring-tailed baboon.

The accused member, not to be outdone by his opponent, said he was sorry he said the fellow had a yellow streak down his back. He now observed it was white down the back and his scent was more powerful than his arguments. The speaker shut both up. They later became fast friends. The second man always regretted the speaker did not let him too observe the other was a NICE polecat.

When the speaker took the floor to argue on a bill an exasperated opponent said: "Our speaker is neglecting the duties of the office to which we elected him, and in coming onto the floor to influence our votes he jumps around like a stump-tailed bull in fly time."

In 1862 the Civil War was going rather badly for the Northern forces. There were four Iowa regiments with General Grant when he captured Fort Donnellson. The news came by telegraph and when announced in the House a resolution was introduced and passed suspending the prohibition law for twenty-four hours. It was discreetly left out of the official journal however.

The next day one of the members who had evidently celebrated was worried about the next election and said he wanted his constituents to know he was intoxicated—with joy.

Several men in the early sessions had served in like positions in other states but came to Iowa for land and opportunity. One, Nathan B. Baker, had twice been speaker of the house and also was governor of New Hampshire, and served in the Iowa legislature in 1860. He later was adjutant-general under Governor Kirkwood.

Feelings on the Civil War were strong in Iowa and the state was the site of the underground railroad passing slaves to Canada.

And in 1866 the Iowa House of Representatives passed a resolution to hang Jefferson Davis. The vote was 89 to 7 in favor.

They had their problems with the press too. I belong to both worlds being in the weekly newspaper field for some fifty years and serving in the Senate. I can sympathize with both—the reporter who has to condense a day's arguments into a column and the legislator who finds his intent if not his words misquoted. There's a big gulf between the press bench and the members' chairs only a few feet away. Neither can really understand the problems of the other. It might be good if a legislative reporter had to have service in the hot seats where he had to vote yes or no and not maybe. Both are under pressure.

I however hold no brief for a certain columnist. I think his comments on the legislature are ill-founded to say the least.

The first lobby on record was when the Owl family invaded the legislative halls to protest a grant of land to the Iowa Central Railroad. They wanted it given to the Clinton, Cedar Rapids and Missouri Railroad. They lost.

In my day we were not too concerned about lobbyists. We could and did vote against them when they were sitting in the back of the chamber and felt no holding back to advise them to get lost when we were busy.

By the way the Constitution says, "The doors of each house shall be open, except on such occasions as, in the opinion of the house, may require secrecy."

We were more concerned with television cameras fearing some would speak too much and too often. We used the previous question liberally to close off debate after everything had been said twice.

At times there was discussion in the House when members thought Senators were high hatting them. In one early session there was quite a fuss because sand boxes for House members cost only fifty cents while Senate sand boxes cost seventy-five cents. Sand was for blotting. One House member observed the House ceiling was nine feet higher than the Senate's and the well of the House was an inch and a half higher than the Senate's. This made the Senate the lower house.

In the Pioneer meeting in 1894 a member told of his trip in 1860 to the session. He left his home at New Hampton December 31, 1860, with his bride of a few days. They traveled by democrat wagon behind a team. It was twenty-six below zero. It took six days for the trip and they were lost on the prairie three times.

In 1859 when the legislature adjourned, the water was so high from flooding streams that members in the eastern half of the state took a steamer from Des Moines down the Des Moines River to Keokuk and up the Mississippi to get home.

My first session was in 1945. World War II was on and tires and gas were rationed. I took a bus from Algona to Fort Dodge and the trolley interurban from there to Des Moines.

Des Moines was a battlefield on the weekend—battlefield of the sexes. Hotels Savery, Plaza and one other were occupied by the WACs. Friday afternoons they got passes. Navy boys from Ames and fly boys from Ottumwa came to Des Moines for the weekend. We adjourned at noon and beat it for home.

Iowa was a brown bag state with key clubs for those who wanted it by the drink instead of the bottle. There were slot machines. The Gotham Club, now the Embassy, had machines behind a discreet partition. There was open gambling at the Mainliner on Fleur Drive and Club 100 in West Des Moines.

One event had almost a modern touch in 1947. The House had passed the right to work bill. It was on special order in the Senate. A few thousand union workers came to Des Moines and demanded Governor Blue speak to them. He asked a few of us to come to the west porch with him. The minute he appeared there was loud booing. He silenced them by saying he had come at their invitation and if they didn't want to hear him he would go back to his desk where he had work to do. When he said he would sign the bill if the Senate passed it he was again booed. I'll never forget a loud boo that came from behind me. He was a six-foot, two hundred-plus pounder. Having discretion learned by many a black eye, I ignored him.

In the session sixteen years ago Des Moines had some kind of a sports or new car show. Julius LaRosa, the Bing Crosby or Beatles of that day, was to sing but canceled out at the last minute.

The chamber got a woman singer who was between engagements and asked the legislature to allow her to visit the governor and both houses of the legislature to publicize the change. We felt helpful. She knew how to get publicity. She ruffled the hair of the governor and marched down the center aisle of the House kissing the tops of the bald-headed members.

She could be described as buxom or in the word of the cigarette commercial—so round, so firm, so fully packed.

I was designated to escort her to the podium. She outweighed me forty pounds.

She took my arm and escorted me to the well of the Senate where to the delight of the assembled multitude of reporters, cameramen, lobbyists, the Senate, clerks and others she mugged me, sloppily, I might add.

Senator DeVere Watson was pro tem and presiding. He took a dim view of the proceedings and put on his scalping face. She took a look at him and felt like Custer at Little Big Horn and decided not to mess around with the Chief of the Pottawattamies.

She made a demure little speech and had to escort herself out. No one would get within ten feet of her. Some Senators in the front row hid behind their clerks. My clerk used a half box of tissues getting the war paint off my innocent face.

In one session a young fellow was irked because his flying instructor would not let him solo. So he stole a plane and had a ball for some three hours flitting around buildings in downtown Des Moines and the domes on the capitol. He flew at treetop height up and down streets waving to spectators. Television networks interrupted programs to put the flight on the air all over the country. Head shrinkers predicted he might make a grand final gesture and crash into a downtown building or the dome on the capitol. There was little coffee consumed that afternoon. He landed perfectly. He just wanted to show he could fly a plane.

These are some of the things we old timers remember. We don't really recall tense fights. We remember the friends who fought those legislative battles but can't recall whether one was for or against or what the scraps were all about.

Iowans are and were proud of their state. When Lincoln called the northern governors to Washington at the beginning of the Civil War, Samuel Kirkwood was Iowa Governor. When Lincoln asked him what he could do for Iowa, Kirkwood replied, "I came here not to find out what you could do for my state, but what my state could do for you."

One presiding officer in the old days told the Pioneers in acknowledging their visit: "May the evening of your days be as contented and happy as its morning was full of promise and its meridian was full of honor."

As you too march into the past to join us who have served before you it is the hope of the Pioneer Lawmakers that you too will find your meridian full of honor and the contentment of a job well done.

Pelton of Clinton, District 74, moved that the joint convention be now dissolved.

The motion prevailed.

The House reconvened, Speaker Harbor in the chair.

REGULAR CALENDAR

House File 326, a bill for an act to insert in the Code the text of the probation and parole compact, was taken up for consideration.

Amend House File 326 by striking all of said bill after line 6 on page 1 and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

In executing the compact authorized by this section the state of Iowa and other contracting states shall agree:

1. That it shall be competent for the duly constituted judicial and administrative authorities of a state party to this compact (herein called "sending state"), to permit any person convicted of an offense within such state and placed on probation or released on parole to reside in any other state party to this compact (herein called "receiving state"), while on probation or parole, if

a. Such person is in fact a resident of or has his family residing within the receiving state and can obtain employment there;

b. Though not a resident of the receiving state and not having his family residing there, the receiving state consents to such person being sent there.

Before granting such permission, opportunity shall be granted to the receiving state to investigate the home and prospective employment of such person.

A resident of the receiving state, within the meaning of this section, is one who has been an actual inhabitant of such state continuously for more than one year prior to his coming to the sending state and has not resided within the sending state more than six continuous months immediately preceding the commission of the offense for which he has been convicted.

2. That each receiving state will assume the duties of visitation of and supervision over probationers or parolees of any sending state and in the exercise of those duties will be governed by the same standards that prevail for its own probationers and parolees.

3. That duly accredited officers of a sending state may at all times enter a receiving state and there apprehend and retake any person on probation or parole. For that purpose no formalities will be required other than establishing the authority of the officer and the identity of the person to be retaken. All legal requirements to obtain extradition of fugitives from justice are hereby expressly waived on the part of states party hereto, as to such persons. The decision of the sending state to retake a person on probation or parole shall be conclusive upon and not reviewable within the receiving state, provided, however, that if at the time when a state seeks to retake a probationer or parolee there should be pending against him within the receiving state any criminal charge, or he should be suspected of having committed within such state a criminal offense, he shall not be retaken without the consent of the receiving state until discharged from prosecution or from imprisonment for such offense.

4. That the duly accredited officers of the sending state will be permitted to transport prisoners being retaken through any and all states parties to this compact, without interference.

5. That the governor of each state may designate an officer who, acting jointly with like officers of other contracting states, if and when appointed, shall promulgate such rules and regulations as may be deemed necessary to more effectively carry out the terms of this compact.

6. That this compact shall become operative immediately upon its execution by any state as between it and any other state or states so executing. When executed it shall have the full force and effect of law within such state, the form of execution to be in accordance with the laws of the executing state.

7. That this compact shall continue in force and remain binding upon each executing state until renounced by it. The duties and obligations hereunder of a renouncing state shall continue as to parolees or probationers residing therein at the time of withdrawal until retaken or finally discharged by the sending state. Renunciation of this compact shall be by the same authority which executed it, by sending six months' notice in writing of its intention to withdraw from the compact to the other state party hereto.

Sec. 2. If any section, sentence, subdivision or clause of this act is for any reason held invalid or to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act.

Sec. 3. Whereas an emergency exists for the immediate taking effect of this act, the same shall become effective immediately upon its passage.

House File 10, a bill for an act relating to the maintenance of access roads, with report of committee recommending amendment and passage, was taken up for consideration.

Christensen of Union, District 95, offered the following amendment filed by the committee on transportation and moved its adoption:

Amend House File 10 by striking everything after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Section 1. Section three hundred six point nineteen (306.19), Code 1971, is amended by striking the section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

306.19 PURCHASE OR CONDEMNATION OF RIGHT-OF-WAY—PROCEDURE—CLOSING DRIVEWAY—ALTERNATIVE ACCESS.

1. In the maintenance, relocation, establishment, or improvement of any road, including the extension of the road within cities and towns, the commission or board having jurisdiction and control of the road may purchase or institute and maintain proceedings for the condemnation of the necessary right-of-way for the road. The board of commission may also purchase or condemn land necessary for highway drainage, and borrow pits, for the improvement or maintenance of highways, together with the necessary road access thereto. Nothing herein shall be construed to permit the condemnation of gravel, stone or other mineral deposits.

2. Whenever the board or commission condemns or purchases property access rights or alters by lengthening any existing direct access to a road from abutting property, except during the time required for construction and maintenance of the road or highway, the board or commission shall:

a. By mutual agreement, provide the property owner with adequate compensation to privately construct an alternate access to a road and to maintain any additional length made necessary by the change; or

b. Establish and construct an alternate access facility from a point on the original access to a point on an existing public road and to maintain any additional length made necessary by the change; or

c. If no portion of the original access remains or connection with the original access would be impractical, establish and construct an alternate access facility from a point near the original access facility and acceptable to the property owner to a point on an existing public road and maintain the additional length made necessary by the change; or

d. If in the opinion of the board or commission it would be more economical to purchase the entire tract of the property owner than to provide and maintain the access required under the provisions of this section, proceed with the acquisition of the entire tract of land; or

e. If mutually agreeable, move buildings from an existing location to a location requiring an equal or lesser length of access and provide an adequate access to a public road.

3. None of the foregoing requirements shall prohibit the property owner and the board or commission from entering into any mutually acceptable agreement for the replacement, relocation, construction, or maintenance of an alternate access.

4. Compensation for any property rights taken in the establishment of any alternative temporary or permanent access shall be paid as in any other purchase or condemnation of property. Proceedings for the condemnation of land for any highway shall be under the provisions of chapter 471 and chapter 472 or as said chapters may be amended. Provided that, in the condemnation of right-of-way for secondary roads, the board of supervisors may proceed as provided in sections 306.28 to 306.37, both inclusive.

Be It Further Resolved, That the Governor be directed to suggest legislation to the General Assembly which will implement the recommended guidelines; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the director of the department of general services, if legislation approving such a department is enacted, be given the duty of purchasing whatever insurance is deemed necessary and of coordinating and controlling the insurance purchase program; and

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

(Den Herder Amendment to Senate File 78)

I was concerned that this amendment would eliminate the orthoptics department of the University Hospital in Iowa City.

From personal experience I know what this division of the eye department is and has been doing for people all over the world in the area of eye corrections and training. It is one of the finest units of this type anywhere in our country and I would prefer the defeat of the bill itself than to have this happen.

I have since been informed that the orthoptics department would not be affected so I will support the legislation on final vote.
