JOINT CONVENTION

PIONEER LAWMAKERS
(HOUSE CHAMBER - 2 p.m.)
In accordance with Senate Concurrent Resolution 18, duly adopted, the joint convention was called to order, President Neu presiding.

President Neu announced a quorum present and the joint convention duly organized.

Senator Kinley of Polk moved that a committee of four be appointed to escort the Pioneer Lawmakers into the House chamber.

The motion prevailed and the President appointed as such committee Senator Van Gilst of Mahaska, Senator Briles of Adams, Representative Caffrey of Polk and Representative Crabb of Crawford.

The committee escorted the Pioneer Lawmakers to the well of the House chamber.

President Neu presented Senator Minnette Doderer, President pro tempore of the Senate, who welcomed the Pioneer Lawmakers on behalf of the Senate as follows:
Lieutenant Governor Neu, Speaker Cochran, Senators Schroeder and Frommelt, Fellow Officers, Members of the Iowa Legislature and Staff and Guests:
Please join me in extending a warm and enthusiastic welcome to our honored guests today, the members of the Pioneer Lawmakers Association of Iowa. Almost every day during the session we welcome Iowa school children, members or organizations and concerned citizens who come here to witness their state government in action. Today, however, we have the special opportunity to greet the men and women who have worked and served, cared and struggled, for our people. Ladies and gentlemen of the House and Senate, let us rise and thank the Pioneer Lawmakers of Iowa, on behalf of the people they have served so well.
Since you were here, the rules may have been changed and the issues and problems given new names and labels . . . but the preservation of the rights and privileges of our citizens was the goal you were striving for, and remains the same one we diligently struggle to achieve.
There is value in setting aside time to honor traditions and participate in public ceremony. We all recognize how fragile and precious the democratic process can be. Together let us publicly reaffirm our collective commitment to the constitutional protection of individual liberties, the pursuit of just and open government and the dignity of public service.

This ceremony is a good tradition; these are priceless values. We have not forgotten and shall not overlook the Pioneer Lawmakers' contributions to the State of Iowa. Public service is a high calling. On behalf of the members of the Iowa Senate, it is my privilege to officially welcome you to these chambers. Thank you for the opportunity to do so.

President Neu presented Representative Dale M. Cochran, Speaker of the House, who welcomed the Pioneer Lawmakers on behalf of the House as follows:

Mr. President, President pro tempore, Members of the Pioneer Lawmakers Association of Iowa, Joint Convention and Guests:
On behalf of the Iowa House of Representatives, it is my pleasure as Speaker to welcome you, the Pioneer Lawmakers of the State of Iowa, to the Sixty-sixth General Assembly.

It is evident to me by the number who are here that you still hold a deep affection for this governmental body of which you were once an integral part, and that you hold a love for our great state.

Robert Frost defined "home" as the place that "when you have to go there, they have to take you in." This House on Capitol Hill is always "home" to an Iowa lawmaker, because it is plain that once a legislator, always a legislator. Serving here gets in your blood. We in the House are proud to welcome you "home" today.

You are renewing the fellowship of old acquaintances: You have noticed many new faces as well. There are physical changes in the chambers-I am sure that you noticed those, too.

Let me assure you, however, there is a strong bond between us which transcends the surface changes. It is the continuing tradition which you worked vers hard during your years of service to build upon and to maintain for those of us who follow you today. We are keenly aware that we are temporary custodians of those traditions and of the foundation you forged for the legislative branch of Iowa government.

I wish each and every one of you could have stood with Representative Varley, Senator Doderer, Senator Shaff, and myself in the White House this past January when we represented the Iowa legislature as we accepted from President Gerald Ford an award for legislative excellence. The Iowa Assembly is considered and is recognized as the finest state lawmaking body in this nation on many counts: One of these is our continued effort to open the legislative process to the participation and scrutiny of the people we serve. Your contribution to that award is one of which you can be most proud and it is a legacy that we all cherish.

I would like to mention that I am so proud to have with us today a man from Webster County who served in this very body in 1935 as Speaker of the House-John Mitchell.

If we are realistic, we keep in our conscious minds the old saying that "We, too, must return to the ranks." When we join your ranks as Iowa's Pioneer Lawmakers, please welcome us "home," for we will have striven, as you have done, to maintain and build Iowa legislative excellence so that future legislators may serve from a solid, open tradition of writing the state's laws.

Thank you for being with us today. We hope you will return many times to advise, to observe, and to share your wisdom and your good and warm anecdotes of the past with us all. We need that and we need you!

President Neu presented the Honorable Jack Schroeder who responded to the welcome and addressed the joint convention briefly.

The Honorable Jack Schroeder then presented an honorary membership of the Pioneer Lawmakers Association to Wayne Faupel, Code Editor, in appreciation of his service.

President Neu then presented the Honorable Andrew Frommelt who addressed the joint convention, reminiscing of past years and goals for the future.

Fitzgerald of Webster moved that the joint convention be now dissolved.

The motion prevailed.
The House reconvened, Speaker Cochran in the chair.

DUNTON of Keokuk DOYLE of Woodbury HULLINGER of Decatur

EXPLANATIONS OF VOTE  (House File 505)

On April 11, 1975, I voted "nay" on House File 505, an act to provide for a state land use policy. My vote should not be considered as opposition to a land use policy but, rather, as opposition to the methods for developing and implementing such policy as mandated in the present form of House File 505. It is my sincere hope that the Senate, when considering House File 505, will increase the fiexibility allowed local governmental subdivisions in the development of local plans and policies so that when House File 505 again comes before the House I will be able to join my colleagues in supporting its final passage.

RINAS of Linn
(House File 614)
I was necessarily absent from the House chamber on April 10, 1975, when the vote was taken on House File 614. Had I been present, I would have voted "aye."

EXPLANATION OF VOTE
(House File 505)

I was necessarily absent from the House on Friday, April 11. Had I been present I would have voted to reconsider the Brandt amendment

H-3506. I would have reluctantly voted "aye" on final passage. This bill will bring the Iowa General Assembly closer to being super legislature to all local governments and further signals the end of the citizen legislature as land use policy will hereafter, again and again, be before this body. The bill addresses a serious need for planning statewide the use of our land resources and so I reluctantly would have voted "aye". However, the bill does serious damage to the concept of Home Rule for cities. I would also register my protest to taking up such major legislation on a Friday. Consideration of major bills on Fridays makes it impossible for citizen legislators to always be present to participate.

BITTLE of Polk

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 37

By Committee on Agriculture
Whereas, the sale of meat and meat products at retail is almost universally on a cash basis; and

Whereas, retail sellers of meat and meat products, in purchasing these products from packers and other whole-salers, almost universally delay payment for these products from seven to twenty-eight days; and

Whereas, this delay in paying for meat and meat products results in the receipt of many millions of dollars of interest income annually, by retailers at the expense of meat packers and other wholesalers; and

Whereas, packers and other wholesalers pass this interest loss on to producers of livestock by various means of delaying payment to the producers, who are unable to pass on the resultant losses and therefore bear the total burden of this practice; and

Whereas, this practice of delayed payments is not only inherently unfair, but also dangerous in that (1) it permits accumulation of unpaid debts to meat producers, who have little recourse in case of bankruptcy of such a debtor; (2) it permits retailers to operate in an insolvent condition because of the informal loans extracted without consent from producers of these commodities; and (3) it places an unacceptable burden on the cattle producing industry, which is already in the worst economic crisis in history; Now. Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives; The Senate Concurring, That:

1. The United States Department of Agriculture is urged to take whatever regulatory steps are necessary to require any purchaser of meat and meat products to pay for these commodities within forty-eight hours from the time they are delivered to the retail outlet.
2. If the United States Department of Agriculture is unwilling or unable to adequately enforce a requirement of this kind, then the United States Congress is urged to take whatever steps are necessary to accomplish this objective.
Laid over under Rule 25.

HOUSE RESOLUTION 24

By Miller of Calhoun

Whereas, the city of Palmer, Iowa, is nearing the seventy-fifth anniversary of its incorporation as a city; and,

Whereas, the citizens of Palmer, Iowa, are preparing for a celebration to commemorate the Diamond Jubilee of the city's incorporation; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, That the membership of the House of Representatives of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Iowa extends its heartiest congratulations to the city of Palmer, Iowa, in commemoration of the seventyfifth anniversary of its incorporation; and

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the mayor, the city council, and the 15 citizens of Palmer who are in charge of making prepara-16 tions for the Diamond Jubilee celebration.

Laid over under Rule 25.
On motion by Avenson of Fayette, the House was recessed until 1:30 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The House reconvened, Speaker Cochran in the chair.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 38By Brandt, Tauke, O'Halloran, Krause, Jochum, Junker, Miller of Buchanan, Fitzgerald, Gilloon and Doyle

Laid over under Rule 25.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 39 By Krause and Small

Whereas, twenty-five percent of Iowa's population resides in and twenty-five percent of Iowa's agricultural products is produced by the area to be served by the route of proposed highway 520; and

Whereas, the construction of proposed highway 520 would be significantly aided by the continued funding of the federal "priority primary" highway program; and

Whereas, the federal department of transportation is recommending abolishing the "priority primary" highway program; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Conourring, That the Congress is urged to continue adequate funding of the "priority primary" highway program in such amount as will allow the construction of the proposed highway 520 within the earliest possible time; and

Be It Further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forwarded to each member of the Iowa congressional delegation.

Whereas, a trend has developed over the years whereby Congress has evaded the basic concept of the interstate commerce clause of the Constitution of the United States by mandating that federal requirements be adopted by state legislatures as a condition to assuring the continued flow of federal dollars granted to the states; and

Whereas, many of the requirements attached to dollar grants are mandated by an administrative ruling issued by government departments delegated such authority by Congress; and

Whereas, the continued mandates attached to dollars that form a large segment of a state's basic budget tend to make it difficult for states to resist the will of the federal government resulting in states being forced to act contrary to the will of their people; and

Whereas, with the inception of federal revenue sharing, pressures for mandates may build which may cause Congress to further infringe on the rights of the states to control their legislative process and govern their citizens; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That this general assembly respectfully applies to the Congress of the United States to call a convention for the purpose of proposing the following article as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

Sec. 2. This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several states within seven years from the date of its submission to the states by the Congress."

Be It Further Resolved, That if Congress shall have proposed an amendment to the Constitution identical with that contained in this resolution prior to July 1, 1980, this application for a convention shall no longer be of force or effect.

Be It Further Resolved, That a duly attested copy of this resolution be immediately transmitted to the Secretary of the Senate of the United States, the Clerk of the House of Representatives of the United States and to each member of the Congress from this state.
Laid over under Rule 25.

RULE 48 SUSPENDED

Avenson of Fayette asked and received unanimous consent that Rule 48 be suspended for the committee on transportation meeting and those members be permitted to vote on all bills passed while attending the meeting.

[A violation of this subsection shall be a misdemeanor.] The executive director may issue temporary pormits for dumping or disposal of solid waste at disposal sites for which an application for a permit to operate a sanitary disposal project has been made and which have not met all of the requirements of part one (1) of this division and the rules adopted by the commission if a compliance schedule has been submitted by the applicant specifying how and when the applicant will meet the requirements for an operational sanitary disposal project and the executive director determines the public interest will be best served by granting such temporary permit.

NEW SUBSECTION. Any person who violates any provision of part one (1) of this division or any rule or any order promulgated or the conditions of any permit or order issued pursuant to part one (1) of this division shall be subject to a civil penalty not to exceed five hundred dollars for each day of such violation."

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 40  By Cusack

Whereas, there are a significant number of persons in the State of Iowa whose incomes are marginal, low or moderate in scale but who are not eligible for or wish to avoid applying for any of the present federal or state income assistance programs; and

Whereas, many if not most of these persons are either presently or potentially threatened by the high cost of care and treatment for severe or lengthy illnesses or injuries; and

Whereas, at the present time, Iowa's Medical Assistance program is for all practical purposes limited in scope to those who are receiving cash payments under a federal or state income assistance program; and

Whereas, the Study Committee on Problems of the Elderly and Handicapped which functioned during the 1974 legislative interim was desirous of studying the possibility of enacting a state catastrophic illness program, and received some pertinent information, but was prevented by lack of time and the press of other matters from pursuing this particular topic; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That the Legislative Council is requested to provide for expansion and completion of the study of the possibility of enacting a state catastrophic illness program, by an appropriate legislative committee or subcommittee, during the 1975 legislative interim.
Laid over under Rule 25.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION  By Cusack

Whereas, the Iowa juvenile justice system has been studied by the Penal and Correctional Systems Study Committee during the 1974-1975 legislative interim; and

Whereas, the Penal and Correctional Systems Study Committee identified many areas of concern within the Iowa juvenile justice system and extensively discussed possible alternatives; and

Whereas, the alternatives discussed and the material gathered by the Study Committee provide a basis upon which

concrete decisions may be made concerning the Iowa juvenile justice system; and
Whereas, several of the options available for revision of the Iowa juvenile justice system may require additional appropriations or reallocation of funds from existing programs to new programs; and

Whereas, it is advisable that persons to whom such appropriation requests must initially be made have an understanding of the existing juvenile justice system and the rational and intent of any proposed changes which may necessitate such appropriation; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That the Legislative Council is authorized to create a study committee, as provided by law, to continue the study committee, as provided by law, to continue the study of the state juvenile justice system. The study committee shall be composed of members of the Human Resources Appropriations Subcommittee of the House of Representatives and Senate, to conduct during the 1975-1976 and 1976-1977 legislative interims a comprehensive study of the Iowa juvenile justice system.

Be It Further Resolved, That the study committee may include nonlegislative members having special knowledge in the fields of juvenile justice and rehabilitation of juveniles and that a report of the study shall be prepared and submitted to the legislative council and members of the General Assembly at the conclusion of each interim and shall be accompanied by legislative bill drafts designed to carry out the recommendations of the committee.

Laid over under Rule 25.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 42 By Cusack

Whereas, Iowa's state mental health institutes are under the jurisdiction of the Department of Social Services, while the community mental health centers in the state have for many years related to the Iowa Mental Health Authority, which has more recently been made responsible for defining standards for and evaluating services provided by community mental health centers; and

Whereas, the legislative Mental Health and Juvenile Institutions Study Committee has repeatedly expressed concern about this circumstance, and about the degree of coordination between the two agencies, in recent years; and

Whereas, there are also alcoholism and drug abuse programs in Iowa which are supported with public funds, but are not directly related to either the Department of Social Services or the Iowa Mental Health Authority; and

Whereas, since its inception the Iowa Mental Health Authority has been largely supported by federal funds allocated to Iowa, but the future availability of those funds is now uncertain, and state funding (in addition to that contemplated

20 for support of the standards and evaluation functions 21 previously referred to) may be necessary if the programs of 22 the Iowa Mental Health Authority are to continue; Now
23 Thorefore,
24 Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate
25 Concurring, That the Legislative Council is requested to 26 authorize appointment of a joint interim subcommittee
27 consisting of members of the Human Resources Subcommittees
28 of the respective Committees on Appropriations to consider 29 the present structure by which mental health services are 30 administered in Iowa, and the possible need for consolidation

Laid over under Rule 25.

"Sec. ..... Chapter fifty-two (52), Code 1975, is amended by adding the following new section:

NEW SECTION. AUTHORIZED ELECTRONIC VOTING SYS-TEM.
Every electronic voting system approved by the state board of examiners for voting machines and electronic voting systems shall:

1. Provide for voting in secrecy, except as to persons entitled by sections forty-nine point ninety (49.90) and forty-nine point ninety-one (49.91) of the Code to assistance.
2. Permit each voter to vote at any election for any candidate for each office and upon each public question with respect to which the voter is entitled by law to vote, while preventing the voter from voting more than once upon any public question or casting more votes for any office than there are persons to be elected to that office.
3. Permit a voter to vote for any person for any office on the ballot at that election, whether or not the person's name is printed on the ballot.
4. Be so constructed or designed that, when voting in a primary election in which candidates are nominated by political parties, a voter is limited to the candidates for the nominations of the political party with which that voter is affiliated.
5. Be so constructed or designed that in presidential elections the voter casts a vote for the presidential electors of any party or political organization by a single mark or punch made opposite the name of the candidates of that party or organization for the offices of both president and vice president of the United States, and so that the voter is also provided the opportunity to write in the name of any person for whom the voter desires to vote for president or vice president of the United States.
6. Be so constructed or designed as to permit voting for candidates for nomination or election of at least seven different political parties or organizations at any one election.

Sec. ..... Chapter fifty-two (52), Code 1975, is amended by adding the following new section: NEW SECTION. COMMISSIONER TO PROVIDE ELEC-

TRONIC
VOTING EQUIPMENT. The commissioner having jurisdiction of any precinct for which the board of supervisors has adopted voting by means of an electronic voting system shall, as soon as practicable thereafter, provide for use at each election held in the precinct special paper ballots and vote marking devices, or ballot cards, ballot labels and voting punch devices, as the case may be, in appropriate numbers. The commissioner shall have custody of all equipment required for use of the electronic voting system, and shall be responsible for maintaining it in good condition and for storing it between elections. All provisions of chapter forty-nine (49) of the Code relative to times and circumstances under which voting machines are to be used in any election and the number of voting machines to be provided shall also govern the use of electronic voting systems, when applicable.

Sec. ..... Chapter fifty-two (52), Code 1975, is amended by adding the following new section:

NEW SECTION. ELECTRONIC VOTING SYSTEM BALLOT FORMS.

1. The commissioner of each county in which the use of an electronic voting system in one or more precincts has been authorized shall determine the arrangement of candidates names and public questions upon the ballot or ballots used with the system. The ballot information, whether placed on the special paper ballot, the ballot card or the ballot label, shall be arranged as required by chapters forty-three
(43) and forty-nine (49) of the Code, and by any relevant provisions of any statutes which specify the form of ballots for special elections, so far as possible within the constraints of the physical characteristics of the electronic voting system in use in that county. The state commissioner may adopt rules requiring a reasonable degree of uniformity among counties in arrangement of electronic voting system ballots.
2. Where voting is to occur by use of ballot cards, ballot labels and a voting punch device, the ballot labels must be arranged on or in the voting punch device in the places provided for that purpose. Voting squares may be before or after the names of candidates and statements of questions, and shall be of such size as is compatible with the type of electronic voting system in use in that county. Ballots and ballot labels shall be printed in as plain and clear type and size as the space available will reasonably permit. Ballot cards shall be provided with tear-off stubs which shall be of a size suitable for the ballots or ballot cards used and for the requirements of the voting punch device. The ballots or ballot cards may contain special printed marks and holes as required for proper positioning and reading of the ballots by the automatic tabulating equipment. Where ballots or ballot cards are bound into pads, they may be bound at the top or bottom or at either side.

Sec. ..... Chapter fifty-two (52), Code 1975, is amended by adding the following new section:

NEW SECTION. ELECTRONIC VOTING SYSTEM SAMPLE BALLOTS. The commissioner shall provide for each precinct where an electronic voting system is in use at least four sample special paper ballots, or combinations of ballot cards and ballot labels, as the case may be, which shall be exact copies of the official ballots as printed for that precinct. The sample ballots shall be arranged in the form of a diagram showing the special paper ballot or the front of the voting punch device, as the case may be, as it will appear to the voter in that precinct on election day. The sample ballots shall be posted prominently within the polling place, and shall be open to public inspection during the hours the polls are open on election day.

Sec. ..... Chapter fifty-two (52), Code 1975, is amended by adding the following new section:

NEW SECTION. PROCEDURE WHERE VOTES CAST ON BALLOT
CARDS. The provisions of this section shall apply to any precinct for those elections at which votes are to be received on ballot cards in that precinct.

1. The commissioner shall cause the voting punch devices to be put in order, set, adjusted and made ready for voting when delivered to the precinct polling places. Before the opening of the polls, the precinct election officials shall compare the ballot cards and ballot labels with the sample ballots furnished, and see that the names, numbers and letters thereon agree and shall so certify on forms provided for this purpose. The certification shall be filed with the election returns.
2. Each voter shall be instructed how to use the voting punch device before entering the voting booth. In addition to the instructions printed on the ballot cards or ballot labels, instructions to voters shall be posted in each voting booth or place on the voting punch device. Any voter who requests further instructions as to the manner of voting, after entering the voting booth, shall receive the instructions from two precinct election officials, who shall not be members of the same political party if the election is one in which candidates are to be nominated or elected upon a partisan ballot. The precinct election officials shall give the necessary instruction without attempting in any manner to influence the voter to vote for any particular candidate or ticket. After receiving such instructions, the voter shall vote without further assistance, except as otherwise provided by sections forty-nine point eighty-nine (49.89), forty-nine point ninety (49.90) and fortynine point ninety-one (49.91) of the Code.
3. A separate write-in ballot, which may be in the form of a paper ballot or ballot card, or may be printed on the envelope in which the voter places his ballot card after voting, shall be provided where necessary to permit voters to write in the names of persons whose names are not printed on the ballot. If a separate write-in ballot is used, it must be placed by the voter in the same envelope with the regular ballot card.
4. A voter who spoils or defaces a ballot card or marks it erroneously shall return the card to the precinct election officials with stub folded so as not to disclose any choices made. The precinct election officials shall deliver to the voter another ballot card, but no voter may receive more than three ballot cards including the one originally delivered to the voter. Upon return of a defective ballot card, a precinct election official shall cancel it by writing in ink on the back the word "spoiled". The canceled ballot card shall be placed, without detaching the ballot stub, with spoiled ballots to be returned to the commissioner.
5. After marking the ballot card, the voter shall place it inside the ballot envelope and return it to the election official, who shall remove the stub and deposit the envelope with the ballot inside it in the ballot box. Ballot cards from which the stub has been removed by anyone except a precinct election official shall not be deposited in the ballot box, but shall be marked "spoiled" and returned to the commissioner.

Sec. ..... Chapter fifty-two (52), Code 1975, is amended by adding the following new section: NEW SECTION. PROCEDURE WHERE VOTES CAST ON SPECIAL PAPER BALLOTS. Preparations for voting and voting at any election in a precinct where votes are to be received on special paper ballots shall be in accordance with the provisions of chapter forty-nine

(49) governing voting upon conventional paper ballots.

However, before entering the voting booth each voter shall be cautioned to mark the ballot only with a vote marking device provided in the booth.
Sec. ..... Chapter fifty-two (52), Code 1975, is amended by adding the following new section:
NEW SECTION. PROCEDURE UPON CLOSING POLLS IN ELECTRONIC VOTING SYSTEM PRECINCTS. The provisions of this section shall apply, in lieu of sections fifty point one (50.1) through fifty point twelve (50.12), inclusive, of the Code, to any precinct for those elections at which voting is conducted by means of an electronic voting system.

1. At the time for closing of the polls, or as soon thereafter as all persons entitled under section forty-nine point seventy-four (49.74) of the Code to do so have cast their votes, the precinct election officials in each precinct where voting punch devices are in use shall secure the devices against further voting. They shall then open the ballot box and count the number of ballots or envelopes containing ballots that have been cast to determine whether the number of ballots cast exceeds the number of declarations of eligibility signed as required by section forty-nine point seventy-seven (49.77) of the Code. If so, that fact shall be reported in writing to the commissioner together with the number of excess ballots and the reason for the excess, if ## known.

2. The precinct election officials shall next count the write-in votes cast in the precinct, if any. If ballot cards are used, and separate writein ballots or envelopes for recording write-in votes are used, all ballots or envelopes on which writein votes have been recorded shall be serially numbered, starting with the number one, and the same number shall be placed on the regular ballot card of that voter. The precinct election official shall compare the write-in votes with the votes cast on the ballot card. If the total number of votes for any office exceeds the number allowed by law, a notation to that effect shall be entered on the back of the ballot card and the votes for the office involved shall not be counted.
3. The precinct election officials shall place all ballots that have been cast in a container provided by the commissioner for the purpose, which shall be sealed in the presence of all of the precinct election officials. They shall then each affix their signatures to a statement attesting that the requirements of this section have been complied with, and the statement shall be returned to the commissioner with the election register as required by section fifty point seventeen

26 (50.17) of the Code.

Sec. .... Chapter fifty-two (52), Code 1975, is amended by adding the following new section:

NEW SECTION. ABSENTEE VOTING BY ELECTRONIC VOTING
SYSTEM. In any county in which every precinct is employing an electronic voting system, and the system or systems so used are all compatible with a single counting center, the commissioner may elect to also conduct absentee voting by use of such a system. All provisions of chapter fifty-three (53) of the Code shall apply to such absentee voting, so far as applicable. When a ballot card is used for voting by mail it shall be accompanied by a stylus, voter instructions, and a specimen ballot showing the proper positions to vote on the ballot card for each candidate or public question. The card shall be mounted on material suitable to receive the punched out chip. In counties where absentee voting is conducted by use of an electronic voting system, the special precinct counting board shall, at the time required by chapter fifty-three (53) of the Code, prepare absentee ballots for delivery to the counting center in the manner prescribed by this chapter.

Sec. ..... Chapter fifty-two (52), Code 1975, is amended by adding the following new section:

Page 9

1 NEW SECTION. COUNTING CENTER ESTABLISHED.
Before
2 authorizing the purchase and ordering the use of an electronic voting system under section fifty-two point two (52.2) of the Code, the county board of supervisors shall, with advice of the commissioner, determine whether counting center equipment is to be purchased as a part of the system and operated by the county, or the county will enter into an arrangement to have its ballots tabulated at a counting center maintained by another county. The arrangement may be reviewed and revised, with approval of the board of supervisors, at any time. If a county acquires and operates a county center at which ballots cast in one or more other counties are tabulated, the commissioner of the county acquiring and operating the center, or that commissioner's designee, shall be responsible for and in control of the operation of that counting center at all time, regardless of the origin of the ballots being tabulated at any particular time.

Sec. .... Chapter fifty-two (52), Code 1975, is amended by adding the following new section:

Within five days prior to the date of any election at which votes are to be cast by means of an electronic voting system, the commissioner in charge of the counting center where votes so cast are to be tabulated shall have the automatic tabulating equipment tested to ascertain that it will correctly count the votes cast for all offices and on all public questions. The procedure for conducting the test shall be as follows:

1. The county chairperson of each political party referred to in section forty-nine point thirteen (49.13) of the Code shall be notified in writing of the time the test will be conducted, so that they may be present or have a representative present. The commissioner may also include such notice in the notice of the election published as required by section forty-nine point fifty-three (49.53) of the Code. The test shall be open to the public.
2. The test shall be conducted by processing a preaudited group of ballots punched or marked so as to record a predetermined number of valid votes for each candidate, and on each public question, on the ballot. The test group shall include for each office and each question one or more ballots having votes in excess of the number allowed by law for that office or question, in order to test the ability of the automatic tabulating equipment to reject such votes. If any error is detected, its cause shall be ascertained and corrected and an errorless count obtained before the automatic tabulating equipment is approved. When so approved, a statement attesting to the fact shall be signed by the commissioner and sent immediately to the state commissioner.
3. The test group of ballots used for the test shall be clearly labeled as such, and retained in the counting center. The test prescribed in subsection two (2) of this section shall be repeated immediately before the start of the official tabulation of ballots cast in the election, and again immediately after the tabulation is completed. The test group of ballots and the programs used for the counting procedure shall be sealed, retained for the time required for and disposed of in the same manner as ballots cast in the election.

Sec. ..... Chapter fifty-two (52), Code 1975, is amended by adding the following new section:

NEW SECTION. COMMISSIONER IN CHARGE OF COUNTING CENTER. All proceedings at the counting center shall be under the direction of the commissioner and open to the public. The proceedings shall be under the observation of at least one member of each of the political parties referred to in section forty-nine point thirteen (49.13) of the Code, designated by the county chairperson or, if the chairperson fails to make a designation, by the commissioner. No person except those employed and authorized by the commissioner for the purpose shall touch any ballot or ballot container.

Sec. ..... Chapter fifty-two (52), Code 1975, is amended by adding the following new section:

NEW SECTION. COUNTING CENTER TABULATION PROCEDURE.
The tabulation of ballots cast by means of an electronic voting system, at a counting center established pursuant to this chapter, shall be conducted as follows:

1. The sealed ballot container from each precinct shall be delivered to the counting center by two of the election officials of that precinct, not members of the same political party, who shall travel together in the same vehicle and shall have the container under their immediate joint control until they surrender it to the commissioner or the commissioner's designee in charge of the counting center. The commissioner or designee shall, in the presence of the two precinct election officials who delivered the container, enter on a record kept for the purpose that the container was received and the condition of the seal upon receipt.

2. After the record required by subsection one (1) of this section has been made, the ballot container shall be opened. If any ballot is found damaged or defective, so that it cannot be counted properly by the automatic tabulating equipment, a true duplicate shall be made in the presence of witnesses and substituted for the damaged or defective ballot, or the valid votes on a defective ballot may be manually counted at the counting center by at least two employees of the commissioner, whichever method is best suited to the system being used. All duplicate ballots shall be clearly labeled as such, and shall bear a serial number which shall also be recorded on the damaged or defective ballot.
3. The record printed by the automatic tabulating equipment, with the addition of a record of any writein or other votes manually counted pursuant to this chapter, shall constitute the official return of the precinct. Upon completion of the tabulation of the votes from each individual precinct, the result shall be announced and reported in substantially the manner required by section fifty point eleven (50.11) of the Code.
4. If for any reason it become impracticable to count all or any part of the ballots with the automatic tabulation equipment, the commissioner may direct that they be counted manually, in accordance with chapter fifty (50) of the Code so far as applicable."
5. By renumbering succeeding sections of the bill accordingly, and correcting cross-references as necessary.

\section*{COMMUNICATION FROM THE UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE}

The following communication was received from the United States Department of Agriculture and placed on file in the office of the Chief Clerk:

April 21, 1975
The Honorable David L. Wray Chief Clerk
House of Representatives of the State of Iowa
Des Moines, Iowa 50319
Dear Mr. Wray:
President Ford has asked us to respond to the resolution adopted by the Iowa General Assembly concerning the need for Federal Government assistance to aid farmers and ranchers who sustained losses from a recent disastrous snow storm coupled with financial losses brought on by the bankruptcy of Americal Beef Packers, Inc.

The Secretary of Agriculture has authorized Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) Emergency (EM) loans to farmers and ranchers in 27 Iowa Counties because of the blizzard which occurred January 10 through 12, 1975. We are enclosing a fact sheet on EM loans which gives a brief summary of the program. Farmers and ranchers desiring information on EM loans should contact the local FmHA office.

The list of designated counties with termination dates for fling applications at local FmHA offices follows:

The Emergency Livestock Credit Act of 1974 (Public Law 93-357) was enacted on July 25, 1974. This legislation authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture to guarantee loans made by private lending institutions to bona fide farmers and ranchers suffering economic difficulties who are primarily and directly engaged in livestock production for the purpose of breeding, raising, fattening, or marketing livestock. The guarantee may cover not more than 80 percent of any loss sustained on the loan. The interest will be at a rate agreed to by the lender and the borrower. Initially, repayment terms may be up to 3 years with the possibility of a 2-year extension when necessary. The amount any farmer or rancher may borrow under the guarantee is limited to \($ 250,000\). The program is administered by the FmHA, an Agency of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Individuals interested in applying for assistance should contact the agricultural lending institution where they do business.

The Act and the FmHA administrative regulations require that these loan guarantees be secured in a manner that will adequately protect the Government's interest. Collateral such as worthless checks is not considered acceptable security. In fact, it is not intended by the Act that the Secretary of Agriculture accept as collateral commercial or other instruments evidencing a debt, financial obligation, or ownership in a legal entity, having no ascertainable value, or value of a speculative nature.

Your interest is appreciated.

Sincerely, FRANK B. ELLIOTT Administrator

\section*{EXPLANATION OF VOTE}

I was necessarily absent from the House chamber when the vote was taken on H-3612B to H-3604B to House File 700. Had I been present, I would have voted "aye".

BINA of Scott
GOVERNOR'S ITEM VETO MESSAGE
(House File 455)
April 22, 1975
The Honorable Melvin D. Synhorst
Secretary of State
State Capitol
Local
Dear Mr. Synhorst:
I hereby transmit House File 455, an Act making appropriations to the Iowa State Fair Board, Agricultural Societies, the Geological Survey and the Iowa Natural Resources Council.

House File 455 is approved April 22, 1975, with the following exception which I hereby disapprove.

I am unable to approve Item 2 designated in the Act as Section 2 which reads as follows:
"Sec. 2. The funds appropriated to the geological survey general office under subparagraph one (1) of paragraph a of subsection three (3) of section one (1) of this Act shall be used to pay salaries for a table of organization of not more than twenty-eight permanent full-time positions. The funds appropriated to the geological survey, Iowa coal research project, for salaries under subparagraph one (1) of paragraph \(b\) of subsection three (3) of section one (1) of this Act shall be used to pay salaries for a table of organization of not more than four permanent full-time positions. The funds appropriated to the Iowa natural resources council for salaries under paragraph a of subsection four (4) of section one (1) of this Act shall be used to pay salaries for a table of organization of not more than thirty permanent full-time positions."

\begin{abstract}
\end{abstract}

I must question this particular section as an unconstitutional infringement of the legislature into an executive function. This section violates the principle that staffing should be an executive prerogative within the budget limitations established by the General Assembly.

By imposing staff limitations on the Geological Survey and the Natural Resources Council, the General Assembly removes needed administrative flexibility. It is essential that an administration be permitted to use its manpower with good judgment and some flexibility and not be tied to a rigid structure that is unable to respond to changes that might benefit our citizens.

This is not to say I favor increased staff levels. This Administration has constantly discouraged the addition of any staff not essential to departmental operation.

While general increases in staffing for the Geological Survey and the Natural Resources Council are not anticipated, experience has shown the need for sufficient flexibility within budget limitations to effectively plan and react to changing conditions. The federal government has shown an amazing capacity to launch major new programs, such as the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act, which require new state personnel if Iowans are to benefit. State and local problems can arise suddenly that require staff additions or shifts.

The Geological Survey and the Natural Resources Council may themselves face increased staff demands during the next fiscal year to respond to changing needs-demands that could not be met by the staffing limitations imposed by this Act.

Should Congress decide to fund phase II of the Dam Safety Act of 1972, the Natural Resources Council will need additional staff to conduct the inspections of Iowa's dams. As more and more Iowa communities join the National Flood Insurance Program (a program which requires communities to adopt flood plan regulations consistent with federal and state guidelines), the Natural Resources Council may require additional staff to fulfill its mandated responsibility of reviewing community guidelines and ordinances. The Geological Survey faces possible new responsibilities in the areas of remote sensing work for the Soil Conservation Service and the domestic water well survey requested by the General Assembly.

It may be argued that additional employees could be added to be paid exclusively out of non-state funds in spite of the provisions of this legislation. However, I believe this would be both an improper interpretation of this bill and poor procedure.

I believe these considerations indicate why staff limitations as imposed in House File 455 are unwise. One of the keys to successful administration is the best possible manpower utilization. Section 2 of House File 455 could prevent that.

In previous years I have also vetoed similar provisions. I would hope that the General Assembly sees fit not to place similar limitations in future bills.

For these reasons, I hereby disapprove this item in accordance with Amendment 4 of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items of House File 455 are hereby approved this date.

REQUIESCAT DEAR COLLEAGUE \\ By Senator Hilarius L. Heying, West Union

I pause in reverence, and listened For some echo from these hallowed walls Great voices, numbers never mentioned Orated hope and justice in these halls.
I wished, then, that these walls would speak, And tell the secret tales of men long gone, Who left memorials we daily seek
In the Code of State which still lives on.
It seemed then strange that this should be God's plan to save the neuters and each deed, Instead of vital man. Suddenly
I saw the greater gift of man's soul freed.

Sec. 2. Section one hundred seventy-two A point one (172A.1), subsection four (4), Code 1975, is amended to read as follows:
4. "Agent" means a person engaged in the business of buying livestock for slaughter on behalf of any dealer or broker, except commission agents and order buyers operating on a federally approved stockyard and livestock auction facilities operating under the Packers and Stockyards Act of 1921 as amended, Title VII, sections 181 and 2s1, United States Code.

Sec. 3. Section one hundred seventy-two A point two (172A.2), Code 1975, is amended by striking the section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

172A. 2 LICENSE REQUIRED. A dealer, broker, or agent shall be subject to the following:
1. No person shall act as a dealer or broker without first being licensed. No dealer or broker shall employ any person to act on behalf of the dealer or broker unless the dealer or broker is licensed, has designated that person to act as agent in the dealer's or broker's behalf, has notified the department of that agency in the dealer's or broker's application for that agent's license, and has received that agent's license issued by the department. The act, failure, or omission of an agent, officer, or other person, whether or not licensed as an agent, when acting for or employed by a dealer or broker, within the scope of employment of that person, shall be deemed the act, failure, or omission of the dealer or broker as well as of that person. The license of a dealer or broker shall expire on the last day of June following the date of issue. The annual fee for the license of a dealer or broker is twenty-five dollars.
2. A dealer or broker shall obtain a separate

1 license for each business location, and shall furnish
2 and maintain separate proof of financial responsibility
3 for each business location. A broker or dealer who does not maintain a business location in this state shall obtain a license to engage in business transactions in this state. For the purpose of determining the required minimum bond for a business location, only the purchases made at or for the single location shall be included. The required minimum bond for a dealer or broker not maintaining a business location in this state shall be determined by including all purchases made in this state. A dealer or broker shall maintain separate business records for each location, as prescribed by rule of the department, and the failure to comply with any rule of the department shall constitute a violation of this chapter.
3. No person shall act as an agent for a dealer or broker without first being licensed as an agent of that dealer or broker. An application for an agent's license may be submitted only by a dealer or broker, and shall contain a verification by that dealer or broker of the designation of the named person as agent. The license of an agent shall be void as of the day written notice of the termination of employment of that agent is received by the department from the dealer or broker. The license of an agent shall expire on the last day of June following the date of issue. The annual fee for the license is ten dollars.

Sec. 4. Section one hundred seventy-two A point four (172A.4), Code 1975, is amended by striking the section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

172A. 4 FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY.
1. No license shall be issued by the department to a dealer or broker unless the dealer or broker has submitted proof of financial responsibility with the application for that license. Failure to maintain proof of financial responsibility as provided in this section shall constitute grounds for revocation of the license. A dealer or broker shall submit and maintain proof of financial responsibility by surety bond or by deposit bond as provided in this section.
2. a. A dealer or broker may submit and maintain a bond of a surety company authorized to do business in the state of Iowa in the form prescribed by, and executed to the satisfaction of the commissioner of insurance. The bond shall be conditioned for the payment of one or more judgments against the dealer or broker arising from the nonpayment of obligations

1 to sellers of animals or from fraud or 2 misrepresentation against sellers of animals.
b. The minimum amount of a surety bond required of a dealer or broker shall be determined monthly in accordance with this paragraph. The amount of the surety bond shall be not less than the nearest multiple of five thousand dollars which is greater than twice the average daily value of purchases of livestock during the calendar month preceding the month in which the bond determination is being made. For the purpose of determining average daily value, the total purchases for the month shall be divided by the actual number of days business was transacted by the licensee during that month. In no case shall the amount of the bond be less than five thousand dollars.

c. The average daily value of purchases for the initial month of operation of a dealer or broker not previously licensed under this chapter, or of one which cannot establish an actual average by purchase records for a calendar month the last day of which is not earlier than sixty days prior to the first day of the month in which the determination is to be made, shall be the estimate made in good faith of the purchases to be made during that month.
d. Based upon the monthly determinations required by this subsection, for any month in which twice the average daily value of purchases of livestock exceeds the required minimum amount of surety bond, the dealer or broker shall cause an increase in the amount of the surety bond to meet the minimum requirement. When an increase of bond amount is required, the dealer or broker, without notice, shall cause the bond to be increased in amount and shall file the endorsement with the department not later than the fifteenth calendar day of the month following the month for which the average daily value of purchases exceeds the actual bond amount: However, if the specified day falls on Saturday, Sunday, or a legal state holiday, the endorsement shall be filed on the next business day of the department after the fifteenth calendar day.
e. A surety bond may not provide for a reduction of the bond, and the amount of a bond may not be reduced, except upon the expiration of ninety days after the date the existing amount of the bond became effective.
f. A surety bond may not provide for termination, and may not be terminated, except upon the giving of written notice by the surety to the department and principal not less than ten days prior to the proposed termination date. The department shall immediately notify the dealer or broker to submit other proof of financial responsibility as required by this section. In the event the dealer or broker has not complied within five days prior to the date of the termination of the bond the department shall cause to be published a notice of intent to cancel the broker's or dealer's license not later than three days prior to the date of the termination of the bond in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the dealer or broker maintains the business location. If no business location is maintained in this state, the notice shall be published in a newspaper which is issued daily in any geographic area of the state in which the dealer or broker transacts substantial business.

g. A surety bond shall be a continuing bond and shall secure the payment of liabilities of the dealer or broker incurred between its effective date and its termination date. A surety shall not be liable for any amount in excess of the amount of the bond. The termination of a bond shall not release the surety from liability arising out of acts or transactions occurring prior to the date of termination.
3. a. A dealer or broker not submitting a surety bond shall deposit and maintain with the department a deposit bond of the required minimum amount in money or negotiable bonds of the United States or of the state of Iowa of a political subdivision of the state of Iowa. The value of negotiable bonds shall be the market value of those bonds on a day not more than four days prior to the date of deposit. The deposit bond shall be accompanied by the certification of an attorney licensed to practice in the state in which the broker or dealer maintains its principal place of business that the bonds submitted qualify as a deposit bond as required by this section. The deposit shall be made under a deposit agreement prescribed by the commissioner of insurance containing terms equivalent to those required of a surety bond. The minimum amount of the deposit shall be determined in the exact manner as the amount of a surety bond as provided in subsection one (1) of this section, and a dealer or broker shall maintain a minimum deposit bond in the manner required by subsection one (1) of this section. The deposit shall not be subject to attachment for any claim or levy of execution upon a judgment based on any claim, except those claims secured by the deposit.
b. The termination of a deposit agreement shall not release the party furnishing the deposit from any liability arising out of acts or transactions occurring prior to the termination date. The department shall not release a deposit until the expiration of ninety days after the termination date, and then only if no claims secured by the agreement have been filed with the department. If any claim has been filed with the department, the deposit shall not be released except upon an order of the district court.
c. A deposit of money or qualified bonds may be reduced in amount only as provided in this paragraph. If the deposit bond exceeds the amount required to be maintained, and the deposit agreement provides for a reduction, a deposit may be reduced to an amount not less than the required minimum amount. No reduction may be made except upon the expiration of ninety days after the existing bond amount was deposited.
d. All moneys and securities deposited with the department shall be handled in the following manner:
(1) All securities deposited with the department shall remain in its custody.
(2) All moneys shall be delivered to the treasurer of state and invested in the manner set forth in section four hundred fifty-two point ten (452.10) of the Code, and the treasurer shall not relinquish the moneys except upon the written order of the department.
(3) The owner shall be entitled to receive all income from moneys and securities so deposited and the department shall issue a receipt for each deposit setting forth this fact.
4. Any person damaged either by nonpayment of obligations or by any misrepresentation or fraud on the part of a broker or dealer may maintain an action against the broker or dealer and the surety on the bond provided for in this section or for the application of the deposit in the custody of the department. In the event that the aggregate judgments on the bond or the deposit exceed the total amount of the bond or deposit, the amount payable on account of any judgment shall be in the same proportion to the bond or deposit as the individual judgment bears to the aggregate judgments.
5. An action by a claimant on a surety bond or on a deposit bond shall be barred unless the person damaged files a written notice of the claim with the department within ninety days from the date of the 1 alleged act or transaction resulting in the loss, 2 or within ninety days after the discovery of fraud 3 or misrepresentation on the part of the person 4 complained against: However, a claim alleging fraud 5 or misrepresentation shall be barred unless notice of the claim is given to the department not later than one year following the date of the transaction in connection with which the fraud or misrepresentation is alleged to have been committed. Upon receipt of a written notice of a claim, the department shall mail a written notice thereof, by certified mail, to the dealer or broker against whom the claim is asserted, and to the surety on the bond, if any. The department may give notice of more than one claim in a single written notice, and the failure of a dealer, broker or surety to receive notice from the department shall not constitute a bar or defense to any claim.

Sec. 5. Section one hundred seventy-two A point seven (172A.7), Code 1975, is amended to read as follows:

172A. 7 [ACCESS TO RECORDS. Every] RECORDS OF LICENSEES.
1. A dealer or broker shall during all reasonable times permit an authorized representative of the department to examine all records relating to his business necessary in the enforcement of this chapter.
2. A dealer or broker shall submit to the department not later than the fifteenth calendar day of each month, records of the licensed activities of that dealer or broker in this state for the preceding month. The department shall prescribe by rule the form and content of information to be submitted pursuant to this subsection.

Sec. 6. Chapter one hundred seventy-two A (172A), Code 1975, is amended by adding the following new sections:
\(N E W\) SECTION. 172A. 10 ABATEMENT. If an unlicensed dealer or broker engages in activities for which a license is required by this chapter, or if a dealer or broker fails to maintain proof of financial responsibility, a continuation of activities for which the license is required shall constitute a nuisance and the attorney general, in the name and on behalf of the department, may bring an action to abate that nuisance. The action may be heard upon not less than five days notice to the defendant dealer or broker.
\(N E W\) SECTION 172A.11 METHOD OF PAYMENT. No dealer or broker shall cause the purchase of any livestock except upon payment to the seller by certified or cashier's check delivered or mailed with postage prepaid to the seller within the following applicable time period:
1. If the livestock is purchased pursuant to a method of evaluation whereby the actual value of the livestock is not determinable prior to slaughter, the dealer or broker shall pay the seller not later than seventy-two hours after the dealer or broker acquires rights in the livestock, eighty percent of an estimate of the total value of the livestock given in good faith. Any balance of the purchase price shall be paid not later than the seventh calendar day after the date of purchase.

2. Every licensee shall establish and maintain a separate bank account designated as "Custodial Account for Seller's Proceeds", or by some similar identifying designation, under terms and conditions with the bank where established, to disclose that the depositor is acting as a fiduciary with respect thereto and that the funds in the account are trust funds.

5. Every licensee shall keep those accounts and records specified by rule of the department as will at all time disclose the handling of the funds in the custodial account.
6. The department may prescribe by rule the accounting procedures to be used in determining net proceeds pursuant to subsection three (3) of this section.
7. Failure to comply with this section shall constitute grounds for revocation of a license.

> NEW SECTION. 172A.13. REVOCATION OF LICENSE. The license of a dealer, broker, or agent shall be revocable by the department for any knowing failure by the person to comply with a provision of this chapter. GOVERNOR'S ITEM VETO MESSAGE
(House File 334)
April 28, 1975
The Honorable Melvin D. Synhorst
Secretary of State
State Capitol Building
Local
Dear Mr. Synhorst:
I hereby transmit House File 334, An Act appropriating funds to the Iowa State Commerce Commission and the Department of Public Defense and providing for the deposit of receipts of such departments in the general fund of the state.

House File 334 is approved April 28, 1975, with the following exception which I hereby disapprove.

I am unable to approve Item 2 designated in the Act as Section 2 which reads as follows:
"Sec. 2. Notwithstanding the provisions of section eight point thirty-nine (8.39) of the Code, there shall be no transfer of funds appropriated by this Act between categories or line items provided by this Act."
Chapter 8 of the Code of Iowa directs that the Governor shall have "the efficient and economical administration of all departments and establishments of the government." Chapter 8 also authorizes the Governor and the State Comptroller to transfer funds on an intradepartmental and interdepartmental basis. This authority was provided so that the executive could meet its responsibility of maintaining efficient and economical administration. This Administration and its predecessors have found the transfer authority to be an essential management tool. To be denied this authority, the executive branch would be limited in its ability to effectively carry out its responsibilities. This then can be viewed as an unconstitutional restriction by one branch of government on another.

Section 2 of House File 334 would remove the authority to transfer the funds appropriated in this bill. If allowed to remain, this item would remove the flexibility needed to administer these funds in the most efficient and productive manner possible.

In the preparation of an agency budget, one attempts to anticipate the scope and intensity of the demands and problems the agency will face during the next year or biennium. Yet no one can foresee every changing condition and challenge that may confront an agency. The ability to transfer funds within and between agencies gives an administration the management capability to meet its changing responsibilities. Also, with the transfer authority available, the Governor's budget presented to the General Assembly need not provide for all possible contingencies. It eliminates the need for large contingent funds.

During the past biennium the Department of Public Defense and the Commerce Commission made limited but effective use of the transfer authority. Funds were transferred to the Civil Defense Division of the Department of Public Defense from the Commerce Commission and the Department of Social Services to establish and implement the Emergency Fuel Program in the winter of 1973 . Funds were also transferred within the Commerce Commission from the Utilities Division to the Motor Transportation Division to compensate for an unusually low vacancy factor, increased professional services due to complex rate cases, and inflated operating costs. Without the ability to transfer these funds, many Iowa communities might have gone without crucial fuel oil supplies and an important regulation agency might have been hamstrung in its efforts to do its job effectively.

I appreciate the careful analysis and study given to these departments' appropriation requests by the members of the General Assembly. They believe the amounts appropriated are sufficient to meet the needs of the two departments during FY1976. I can also appreciate the concern of some legislators over the transfer of funds. Yet this Administration has and will continue to make only the most prudent and careful transfer of funds. If the citizens of Iowa are to benefit from efficient and productive management by state government, the authority to transfer funds between and within these departments as well as departments of state government needs to be retained.

For these reasons, I hereby disapprove this item in accordance with Amendment 4 of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items of House File 334 are hereby approved this date.

Sincerely,
ROBERT D. RAY
Governor

\section*{BILL SIGNED BY THE GOVERNOR}

A communication was received from the Governor announcing that on April 28, 1975, he approved and transmitted to the Secretary of State the following bill:

Senate File 233, an act relating to claims against the estates of decedents arising from assistance granted under a previous categorical assistance program.

\section*{REPORTS OF COMMITTEE}

2. Nothing contained in this Act shall be construed to apply to activities or arrangements expressly approved or regulated by any regulatory body or officer acting under statutory authority of this state or of the United States.

Sec. 5. NEW SECTION. FINES, IMPRISONMENT, AND ENFORCEMENT.
1. Any person who violates any of the provisions of section three (3), subsections one (1) and two (2), of this Act shall upon conviction be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not to exceed fifty thousand dollars or be imprisoned in the county jail for not to exceed one year, or be subject to both such fine and imprisonment. The attorney general shall not commence prosecutions under this section against any defendant who, at the time, is a defendant with regard to any current information or indictment filed by the United States for violation, or alleged violation, of the federal antitrust statutes involving substantially the same subject matter.
2. The attorney general, with such assistance as he may require from the appropriate county attorney, shall investigate suspected criminal violations of this Act and shall commence and try all criminal prosecutions under this Act. Prosecutions under this Act may be commenced by information or indictment. Sec. 6. NEW SECTION. ATTORNEY GENERAL, DECREE AS EVIDENCE.
1. It shall be the duty of the attorney general to enforce the provisions of this Act. It shall be the duty of the attorney general to institute civil proceedings to prevent and restrain violations of this Act. The attorney general may employ special counsel in suits to enforce the provisions of this Act or in actions on behalf of the state or in his representative capacity under subsection two (2) of this section in the federal courts brought under federal statutes pertaining to antitrust, trade regulations, restraint of trade or price fixing activities. The attorney general, at his discretion, may direct the county attorney of any county in which any proceedings is instituted or brought by the state under this Act or in which any investigation of a violation of this Act is occurring to aid and assist him in the conduct of such investigations and proceedings.

3. The attorney general is authorized to enter into consent judgments or decrees with any party defendant in an action brought under this Act. However, no such consent judgment or decree shall become final until approved by the court where filed or until a period of sixty days has elapsed since the filing of the consent judgment or decree whichever occurs first; provided, however, that no such approval may be entered by the court until the thirty-first day after the filing of the consent judgment or decree.
4. A final judgment or decree rendered in any civil or criminal proceeding brought by the state under this Act shall be prima facie evidence against the defendant in any action or proceeding brought by any other party under this Act against the defendant as to all matters respecting which the judgment or decree would be an estoppel between the parties thereto, provided that any such action is maintained within one year of the date the judgment of decree is entered. This subsection does not apply to consent judgments or decrees entered before the taking of any testimony in the case or to judgments or decrees entered in actions brought in the state courts under section ten (10) of this Act.

Sec. 7. NEW SECTION. INJUNCTIVE RELIEF.
1. In addition to all other remedies provided by this Act the court is invested with jurisdiction to grant such preliminary or permanent injunctive relief and to issue such temporary restraining orders as necessary to prevent and restrain violations of section three (3) of this Act.
2. In any civil action brought under this Act, in addition to granting such prohibitory injunctions and other restraints as it deems expedient to deter the defendant from, and secure against, his committing a future violation of this Act, the court may grant such mandatory relief as is reasonably necessary to restore or preserve fair competition in the trade or commerce affected by the violation.

Sec. 8. NEW SECTION. CIVIL INVESTIGATIVE DEMAND.
1. Whenever the attorney general has reason to believe that a person under investigation may be in possession, custody, or control of any books, documents, records, writings or tangible things, hereinafter referred to as "documentary material" relevant to a civil investigation of a violation of section three (3) of this Act, he may, prior to the institution of a civil or criminal proceeding thereon, issue in writing, and cause to be served upon such person, a civil investigative demand requiring such person to produce such documentary material for examination.
2. Each such demand shall contain all of the following:
a. State the nature of the conduct constituting the alleged antitrust violation which is under investigation and the provision of law applicable thereto.
b. Describe the class or classes of documentary material to be produced thereunder with such definiteness and certainty as to permit such documentary material to be fairly identified.
c. Prescribe a return date which will provide a reasonable period of time within which the documentary material so demanded may be assembled and made available for inspection and copying or reproduction.
d. Identify the custodian to whom such documentary material shall be made available.
3. No such demand shall:
a. Contain any requirement which would be held to be unreasonable if contained in a subpoena duces tecum issued by a court of this state in aid of a grand jury investigation of such alleged violation; or
b. Require the production of any documentary material which would be privileged from disclosure if demanded by a subpoena duces tecum issued by a court of this state in aid of a grand jury investigation of such alleged violation.
4. Service of a demand by the attorney general as provided herein may be made by either of the following:
a. Delivery of a duly executed copy thereof to the place of business of the persons to be served in this state or if the person has no place of business in this state to his principal place of business or to the residence of the person to be served.
b. Mailing by certified mail, return receipt requested and signed by the person to whom service is directed, a duly executed copy thereof addressed to the person to be served at his place of business in this state, or if the person has no place of business in this state, to his principal place of business or to the residence of the person to be served.
5. A verified return by the individual serving any such demand or petition setting forth the manner of such service shall be proof of such service. In the case of service by certified mail, such return shall be accompanied by the return post office receipt of delivery of such demand signed by the person to whom service is directed.
6. The attorney general shall designate a member of his staff as document custodian.
7. Any person upon whom any civil investigative demand issued under this section has been duly served shall make such documentary material available for inspection and copying or reproduction to the custodian designated therein at the principal place of business of such person or at such other place as such custodian and such person thereafter may agree and prescribe

in writing or as the court may direct on the return date specified in such demand or on such latter date as such custodian may prescribe in writing. Such person may upon written agreement between such person and the custodian substitute for copies of all or any part of such documentary material originals thereof.
8. The custodian to whom any documentary material is so delivered shall take physical possession thereof, and shall be responsible for the use made thereof and for the return thereof pursuant to this section. The custodian may cause the preparation of such copies of such documentary material as may be required for official use. While in the possession of the custodian, no documentary material so produced or copies thereof shall be available for examination, without the consent of the person who produced such documentary material, by any individual other than the attorney general or a duly authorized member of his staff. Under such reasonable terms and conditions as the attorney general shall prescribe, documentary material while in the possession of the custodian shall be available for examination by the person who produced such material or any duly authorized representative of such person.

9 . Whenever any attorney has been designated to appear on behalf of the state, before any court or grand jury in any case or proceeding involving any alleged antitrust violation, the custodian may deliver to such attorney such documentary material in the possession of the custodian as such attorney determines to be required for use in the presentation of such case or proceeding on behalf of the state. Upon the conclusion of any such case or proceeding, such attorney shall return to the custodian any documentary material so withdrawn and copies thereof which has not passed into the control of such court or grand jury through the introduction thereof into the record of such case or proceeding.
10. Upon the completion of the investigation for which any documentary material was produced under this section and any case or proceeding arising from such investigation, the custodian shall return to the person who produced such documentary material all such documentary material and copies thereof which has not passed into the control of any court or grand jury through the introduction thereof into the record of such case or proceeding.
11. When any documentary material has been produced by any person under this section for use in any antitrust investigation, and no such case or proceeding arising therefrom has been instituted within a reasonable time after completion of the examination and analysis of all evidence assembled in the course of such investigation, such person shall be entitled, upon written demand made upon the attorney general, to the return of all documentary material and copies thereof so produced by such person.
12. In the event of the death, disability, or separation from service of the custodian of any documentary material produced under any demand issued under this section, or the official relief of such custodian from the responsibility for the custody and control of such documentary material, the attorney general shall promptly designate another official to serve as custodian thereof, and transmit notice in writing to the person who produced such documentary material as to the identity and address of the successor so designated. Any successor so designated shall have with regards to such materials all duties and responsibilities imposed by this section upon his predecessor in office with regard thereto except that he shall not be held responsible for any default or dereliction which occurred before his designation as custodian.
13. Whenever any person fails to comply with any civil investigative demand duly served upon him under this section or whenever satisfactory copying or reproduction of any such material cannot be done and such person refuses to surrender such documentary material, the attorney general, through such officers or attorneys as he may designate, may file, in the district court of the county in which such person resides, is found, or transacts business, and serve upon such person a petition for an order of such court for the enforcement of this section, except that if such person transacts business in more than one such county such petition may be filed in any such county, or in such other county in which such person transacts business as may be agreed upon by the parties to such petition.
14. Within twenty days after the service of any such demand upon any persons, or at any time specified in the demand, whichever period is shorter, such person may file, in the district court of the county within which such person resides, is found, or transacts business in this state, or if such person does not reside in or transact business in this state in the district court within which the office of the custodian is situated and serve upon such custodian a petition for an order of such court modifying or setting aside such demand. The time allowed for compliance with the demand in whole or in part as deemed proper and ordered by the court shall not run during the pendency of such petition in the court. Such petition shall specify each ground upon which the petitioner relies in seeking such relief, and

16. Whenever any petition is filed in any court under this section, such court shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine the matter so presented, and to enter such order or orders as may be required to carry into effect the provisions of this section. Any final order so entered shall be subject to appeal by writ of prohibition. Any disobedience of any final order entered under this section by any court shall be punished as a contempt thereof.

Sec. 9. NEW SECTION. SELF INCRIMINATION. In any investigation or proceeding brought to enforce the provisions of this Act, no individual shall be permitted to refuse to answer any question material to the matter in controversy or to refuse to produce documentary material on the ground that the testimony or documentary material required of him may tend to incriminate him or subject him to a penalty; but no such person shall be subject to criminal prosecution or to any action for a criminal penalty or forfeiture on account of any transaction, matter or thing concerning which he may testify or produce documentary material.

Sec. 10. NEW SECTION. PRIVATE SUITS. 3. Whenever any civil or criminal proceeding is commenced by the state to prevent, restrain or punish violations of this Act, but not including an action under section ten (10) of this Act, brought by the state, the running of the statute of limitations in respect to every private right of action arising under this Act based in whole or in part on any matter complained of in such proceedings shall be suspended during the pendency thereof and for one year thereafter, except, however, that whenever the running of the statute of limitations in respect of a private cause of action arising under this Act is suspended hereunder, any action to enforce such cause of action shall be forever barred unless commenced either within the period of suspension or within four years after the cause of action accrued.

Sec. 6. NEW SECTION. JUDICIAL JURISDICTION. An action for violation of this Act shall be brought in the district court.

Sec. 7. NEW SECTION. OFFICIAL INVESTIGATION.
1. If the attorney general has reasonable cause to believe that a person has information or is in possession, custody, or control of any document or other tangible object relevant to an investigation for violation of this Act, he may serve upon the person, before bringing any action in the district court, a written demand to appear and be examined under oath, to answer written interrogatories under oath, and to produce the document or object for inspection and copying. Notice of hearing the petition and a copy of the petition shall be served upon the person, who may appear in opposition to the petition. If the court finds that the demand is proper, there is reasonable cause to believe there has been a violation of this Act, and the information sought or document or object demanded is relevant to the violation, it shall order the person to comply with the demand, subject to modification the court may prescribe. Upon motion by the person and for good cause shown, the court may make any further order in the proceedings that justice requires to protect the person from unreasonable annoyance, embarrassment, oppression, burden, or expense.
3. Any procedure, testimony taken, or material produced under this section shall be kept confidential by the attorney general before bringing an action against a person under this Act for the violation under investigation, unless confidentiality is waived by the person being investigated and the person who has testified, answered interrogatories, or produced material, or disclosure is authorized by the court.

AS PRIMA FACIE EVIDENCE. A final judgment or decree determining that a person has violated this Act in an action brought by the state under section eight
(8) or section nine (9), subsection one (1) of this Act, other than a consent judgment or decree entered before any testimony has been taken, is prima facie evidence against him in any other action against him under section nine (9) of this Act as to all matters with respect to which the judgment or decree would be an estoppel between the parties thereto. This section does not affect the application of collateral estoppel or issue preclusion.

Sec. 11. NEW SECTION. LIMITATIONS OF ACTIONS.
1. An action under section eight (8) of this Act to recover a civil penalty is barred if it is not commenced within four years after the cause of action accrues.

\section*{HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 44}

By Committee on Cities and Towns

Whereas, the unified trial court of the State of Iowa has experienced significant difficulty in meeting operational expenses; and

Whereas, many counties and cities presently or potentially are threatened by increasing financial cost being experienced under the unified trial court program; and

Whereas, the users of the court of Iowa should be assessed a more appropriate portion of court costs; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That the legislative council is authorized to create a study committee as provided by law, representing both political parties and composed of members of the House standing committees on cities and towns and county government, and the Senate standing committees on cities and county government, to conduct a study during the 1975 legislative interim relating to the costs to cities, counties and the state of the unified trial court, and relating to the costs imposed upon persons using the unified trial court in all types of actions and proceedings; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the study committee shall prepare a report of its findings and recommendations and submit it to the legislative council and the members of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly, 1976 Session, accompanied by legislative bill drafts designed to carry out the recommendations of the study committee.
Laid over under Rule 25.

\section*{HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 45 By Howell}

Whereas, in recent years the national and state crime rates have risen to significantly high proportions; and

Whereas, the high crime rate impairs the rights and security of the law abiding citizens of Iowa; and

Whereas, many citizens of lowa have suffered physical injury or loss of life as the result of violent criminal activity; and

Whereas, the human suffering offenders and their families and the economic cost of programs for offenders and their families are a major concern to the state; and

Whereas, early childhood development, family life styles, living conditions, educational experience and economic wellbeing of persons and families appear to impact greatly on the amount of crime and other social deviance; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That the Legislative Council is authorized to create a study committee, as provided by law, to study the root causes of crime and methods of reducing the causes of crime. The study committee shall be composed of members of the House of Representatives and the Senate representing both political parties; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the study committee may include nonlegislative members having special knowledge in the fields of behavioral, biological, medical, and criminal science and that a report of the study shall be prepared and submitted to the Legislative Council and the members of the General Assembly at the conclusion of the 1975 interim and shall be accompanied by legislative bill drafts designed to carry out the recommendations of the committee.

Whereas, the state department of health has issued a policy and procedures manual for a basic training course for emergency medical technicians; and

Whereas, this course requires each student to participate in five emergency ambulance runs before the course is completed; and

Whereas, this requirement is unreasonable because the emergency run must consist of observation, demonstration, and participation to the extent permitted by ambulance supervisors and the student is required to maintain detailed records of each run and make other explanations which do not appear necessary in a training course; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That the general assembly directs the state department of health to discontinue the requirement for five emergency runs for the basic training course for emergency medical technicians in order that it will be easier to obtain and train emergency medical technicians particularly for smaller populated areas of the state.

Laid over under Rule 25.

Whereas, there has been a tendency for state and federal govern2 mental departments and agencies to promote the establishment of substate regional agencies for single or multiple purposes; and

Whereas, the accountability and responsiveness of such substate
5 regional agencies to the electorate of Iowa is of paramount concern

\section*{Page 2} and to members of the general assembly and elected officials of general purpose local government; and

Whereas, the proliferation of such groups has made it increasingly difficult for citizens or their representatives and elected officials in state and local governments to direct or influence the sums of money and services rendered by such agencies; and

Whereas, substate agencies have often embraced different geographical boundaries or formed within inconsistent merged substate regions creating a large number of agencies to which local government officials and citizens must respond and causing confusion among citizens and local elected officials; and

Whereas, elected officials of general purpose local government are becoming increasingly concerned about and committed to a central substate policy body to coordinate multijurisdictional programs and provide accountability; and

Whereas, Iowa executive order number 11, February, 1968, has set forth the delineation and organization of sixteen substate districts;

Whereas, planning and programming organizations have been established within those sixteen substate districts; and

Whereas, the general assembly should consider the role of substate districts and agencies in efforts to improve planning, programming, resource allocation, communication, coordination, and accountability for the activities of state government; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate
Concurring, That the legislative council is urged to appoint an interim study committee composed of members of both houses of the general assembly and such other members as the legislative council deems necessary to formulate and recommend to the general assembly policies relating to substate districts, including policies defining the role of substate districts in state government and clarifying relationships between state departments and the substate districts.

The following communication was received from the United States Department of Agriculture and is on file in the office of the Speaker:

Honorable Dale M. Cochran Speaker of the House Iowa General Assembly
Des Moines, Iowa 83701
Dear Mr. Cochran:
Secretary Butz has asked us to reply to House Concurrent Resolution 7 passed by the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of Iowa and signed by you and the Honorable David L. Wray, Chief Clerk of the House.

Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) Emergency (EM) loans have been made available in 27 western and northern Iowa counties affected by the January 10, 1975, blizzard.

EM loans are made to eligible farmers and ranchers to cover losses resulting from natural disasters so that they may continue their farming or livestock operations with credit from other sources, including our regular farm operating and ownership loans. These loans are made at a 5 percent interest rate and are scheduled for payment as rapidly as feasible in annual installments consistent with the applicant's reasonable ability to pay. Repayment varies according to the purpose of the loan.

We are enclosing a Fact Sheet on EM loans which gives a general explanation of these loans.

Your interest in the EM loan program administered by this agency is appreciated.

\section*{CONSIDERATION OF BILLS}

\section*{WAYS AND MEANS CALENDAR}

House File 764, a bill for an act relating to the Iowa income tax by providing a simplified reporting form for Iowa individual income taxpayers, making changes in Iowa individual income tax rates, exemptions, and administrative requirements, providing for reporting of additional corporate income tax information, adopting penalties, making necessary corrective amendments and making the Act retroactive, was taken up for consideration.

West of Marshall offered the following amendment H-3663 filed by him and moved its adoption:

\section*{H-3663}

Amend House File 764 as follows:
1. By striking everything after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:
"Section 1. Section four hundred twenty-two point five (422.5), unnumbered paragraphs one (1) and two (2), Code 1975, are amended to read as follows:

A tax is hereby imposed upon every resident of the state, and upon that part of the taxable income of any nonresident which is derived from any property, trust, or other source within this state, including any business, trade, profession, or occupation carried on within this state, which tax shall be levied, collected, and paid annually upon and with respect to his entire taxable income as herein defined at rates as follows:
1. On the first one thousand dollars of taxable income, or any part thereof, three-fourths of one percent.
2. On the second thousand dollars of taxable income, or any part thereof, one and one-half percent.
3. On the third thousand dollars of taxable income, or any part thereof, three percent.
4. On the fourth thousand dollars of taxable income, or any part thereof, four percent.
5. On the fifth, sixth, and seventh thousand dollars of taxable income, or any part thereof, five percent.
6. On the eighth and ninth thousand dollars of taxable income, or any part thereof, six percent.
7. [On all taxable income over nine thousand dollars, seven percent] On the tenth through the twentieth thousand dollars of taxable income, or any part thereof, seven percent.
8. On the twenty-first through the thirtieth thousand dollars of taxable income, or any part thereof, eight percent.
9. On the thirty-first through the fiftieth thousand dollars of taxable income, or any part thereof, nine percent.

10. On the fifty-first through the one-hundredth thousand dollars of taxable income, or any part thereof, ten percent.
11. On all taxable income over one hundred thousand dollars, eleven percent.

However, no tax shall be imposed on any resident or nonresident whose net income, as defined in section 422.7, is [four] five thousand dollars or less; but in the event that the payment of tax under this division would reduce the net income to less than [four] five thousand dollars, then the tax shall be reduced to that amount which would result in allowing the taxpayer to retain a net income of [four] five thousand dollars. The preceding sentence does not apply to estates or trusts. For the purpose of this paragraph, the entire net income, including any part thereof not allocated to Iowa, shall be taken into account. If the combined net income of a husband and wife exceeds [four] five thousand dollars, neither of them shall receive the benefit of this paragraph, and it is immaterial whether they file a joint return or separate returns. An unmarried child under twentyone years of age who is a dependent of his parent or parents as defined in section 422.12, shall not receive the benefit of this paragraph if such parent's net income exceeds [four] five thousand dollars or if the combined net income of such parents exceeds [four] five thousand dollars.

Sec. 2. Section four hundred twenty-two point nine (422.9), subsection one (1), Code 1975, is amended to read as follows:
1. An optional standard deduction of [ten] fifteen percent of the net income after deduction of federal income tax, not to exceed [five] seven hundred fifty dollars.

Sec. 3. The provisions of this Act shall be retroactive to January 1, 1975, for all taxable years commencing on or after January 1, 1975, and to this extent the provisions of this Act are retroactive."
2. Amend the title by striking lines 2 through 7 and inserting in lieu thereof the words "change in Iowa individual income tax rates, exemptions and deductions, subject to penalties provided by law, and making the Act retroactive."

cost of each used section thirty-eight (38) property, placed in service by the taxpayer during such taxable year.
b. For the purposes of paragraph a of this subsection, the applicable percentage for any property shall be

Code for the taxable year in which the property is subsection with respect to any property shall be reduced, but not below zero, by any amount treated or, in the case of a sale and leaseback described in subsection six (6), paragraph b, subparagraph three (3), of this section by the lessee, as qualified investment with respect to such property under subsection four (4) of this section, to the extent the amount so treated has not been required to be recap-

able year with respect to progress expenditure property.
    b. (1) For purposes of this subsection, "progress expenditure property" means any property which is being constructed by or for the taxpayer and which 6 has a normal construction period of two years or more,
7 and it is reasonable to believe will be new section thirty-eight (38) property having a useful life of seven years or more in the hands of the taxpayer when it is placed in service.

The preceding sentence shall be applied on the basis of facts known at the close of the taxable year of the taxpayer in which construction begins or, if later, at the close of the first taxable year to which an election under this subsection applies.
(2) For purposes of subparagraph one (1) of this paragraph, "normal construction period" means the period reasonably expected to be required for the construction of the property beginning with the date on which physical work on the construction begins or, if later, the first day of the first taxable year to which an election under this subsection applies, and ending on the date on which it is expected that the property will be available for placing in service.
c. For purposes of this subsection:
(1) In the case of any self-constructed property, "qualified progress expenditures" means the amount which, for purposes of this section, is properly chargeable during the taxable year to capital account with respect to the property.
(2) In the case of non-self-constructed property, "qualified progress expenditures" means the lesser of the amount paid during the taxable year to another person for the construction of the property, or the amount which represents that proportion of the overall cost to the taxpayer of the construction by another person which is properly attributable to that portion of the construction which is completed during the taxable year.
d. For purposes of paragraph c of this subsection, the special rules contained in section fortysix (46), subsection d, paragraph four (4) of the Internal Revenue Code, applicable to section forty-six (46), subsection d, paragraph three (3) of the Internal Revenue Code shall apply.
e. For purposes of this subsection:
(1) "Self-constructed property" means property more than half of the construction expenditures for which it is reasonable to believe will be made directly by the taxpayer.
(2) "Non-self-constructed property" means property which is not self-constructed property.
(3) "Construction" includes reconstruction and erection, and the term "constructed" includes reconstructed and erected.
(4) Construction shall be taken into account only if, for purposes of this section, expenditures therefor are properly chargeable to capital account with respect to the property.
f. An election under this subsection may be made at such time and in such manner as the director or his delegate may by rule prescribe. The election shall apply to the taxable year for which made and to all subsequent taxable years. The election, once made, may not be revoked except with the consent of the director or his delegate.
g. The qualified investment taken into account under this subsection for any taxable year beginning before January 1, 1980, with respect to any property shall be, in lieu of the full amount, an amount equal to the sum of the following:
(1) The applicable percentage of the full amount determined under the following table:

For a taxable year beginning in: The applicable

1974 or 1975
 20

1976
401977
1978 ..... 80
1979 ..... 100
(2) In the case of any property to which this sub-section applied for one or more preceding taxable years,twenty percent of the full amount for each such preced-ing taxable year.

For purposes of this paragraph, "full amount", when used with respect to any property for any taxable year, means the amount of the qualified investment for such property for such year determined under this subsection without regard to this paragraph.
5. A credit shall be allowed by this section to a person which is not a corporation with respect to property of which such person is the lessor only if the property subject to the lease has been manufactured or produced by the lessor, or the term of the lease, taking into account options to renew, is less than fifty percent of the useful life of the property, and for the period consisting of the first twelve months after the date on which the property is transferred to the lessee the sum of the deductions with respect to such property which are allowable to the lessor solely by reason of section one hundred sixty-two (162) of the Internal Revenue Code, other than rents and reimbursed amounts with respect to such property, exceeds fifteen percent of the rental income produced by such property.

6. Under rules prescribed by the director or his delegate:
a. If during any taxable year any property is disposed of, or otherwise ceases to be section thirtyeight (38) property with respect to the taxpayer, before the close of the useful life which was taken into account in computing the credit under this section, then the tax under this Act for such taxable year shall be increased by an amount equal to the aggregate decrease in the credits allowed under this section for all prior taxable years which would have resulted solely from substituting, in determining qualified investment, for such useful life the period beginning with the time such property was placed in service by the taxpayer and ending with the time such property ceased to be section thirty-eight (38) property.
b. (1) If during any taxable year any property taken into account in determining qualified investment under subsection four (4) of this section ceases, by reason of sale or other disposition, cancellation or abandonment of contract, or otherwise to be, with respect to the taxpayer, property which, when placed in service, will be new section thirty-eight (38) property, then the tax under this Act for such taxable year shall be increased by an amount equal to the aggregate decrease in the credits allowed under this section for all prior taxable years which would have resulted solely from reducing to zero the qualified investment taken into account with respect to such property.
(2) Any amount which would have been applied as a reduction of the qualified investment in property by reason of paragraph cof subsection three (3) of this section but for the fact that a reduction under such paragraph cannot reduce qualified investment below zero, shall be treated as an amount required to be recaptured under subparagraph one (1) of this paragraph for the taxable year in which the property is placed in service.
(3) Under rules prescribed by the director or his delegate, a sale by, and leaseback to, a taxpayer who, when the property is placed in service, will be a lessee to whom section forty-eight (48), subsection

d of the Internal Revenue Code applies shall not be treated as a cessation described in subparagraph one (1) of this paragraph to the extent that the qualified investment which will be passed through to the lessee under section forty-eight (48), subsection \(d\) of the Internal Revenue Code with respect to such property is not less than the qualified progress expenditures properly taken into account by the lessee with respect to such property.
(4) If, after property is placed in service, there is a disposition or other cessation described in paragraph a of this subsection, paragraph a of this subsction shall be applied as if any credit which was allowable by reason of subsection four (4) of this section and which has not been required to be recaptured before such cessation were allowable for the taxable year the property was placed in service.
c. In the case of any cessation described in paragraph a or b of this subsection, the carrybacks and carryovers under subsection two (2) of this section shall be adjusted by reason of such cessation.

d. (1) Any aircraft which was new section thirty-eight (38) property for the taxable year in which it was placed in service and which is used outside the United States under a qualifying lease or leases shall be treated as not ceasing to be section thirty-eight (38) property by reason of such use until such aircraft has been so used for a period or periods exceeding three and one-half years in total. For purposes of the preceding sentence, the registration of such aircraft under the laws of a foreign country shall be treated as use outside the United States.
(2) If an aircraft described in subparagraph one (1) of this paragraph is disposed of or otherwise ceases to be section thirty-eight (38) property, the increase under paragraph a of this subsection and the adjustment under paragraph c of this subsection shall not be greater than the increase or adjustment. which would result if the qualified investment of such aircraft were based upon a useful life equal to the lesser of the actual useful life of such aircraft with respect to the taxpayer, or twice the number of full calendar months during which such aircraft was registered by the administrator of the federal aviation agency and was used in the United States, operated to and from the United States, or operated under contract with the United States. For purposes of the preceding sentence, an aircraft shall be treated as used in the United States for any calendar month beginning after such aircraft was placed in service, if such month is included in a taxable year ending before January 1, 1976, for which such aircraft was section thirty-eight (38) property, determined without regard to this paragraph.
(3) For purposes of subparagraph one (1) of this paragraph, "qualifying lease" means a lease from an aircarrier as defined in section one hundred one (101) of the federal aviation Act of 1958, as amended to January 1, 1975, section one thousand three hundred one (1301), title forty-nine (49), United States Code, which complies with the provisions of said Act, and the rules promulgated by the civil aeronautics board thereunder, but only if such lease was executed after April 18, 1969.
7. Subsection six (6) of this section shall not apply to a transfer by reason of death, or a transaction to which section three hundred eighty-one (381), subsection a of the Internal Revenue Code applies. For purposes of subsection one (1) of this section, property shall not be treated as ceasing to be section thirty-eight (38) property with respect to the taxpayer by reason of a mere change in the form of conducting the trade or business so long as the property is retained in such

26 trade or business as section thirty-eight (38)
27 property and the taxpayer retains a substantial 28 interest in such trade or business. Any increase 29 in the tax under subsection one (1) of this section

3. a.
(1) For purposes of this section, "section thirty-eight (38) property" means section thirtyeight (38) property as defined in section forty-eight (48) of the Internal Revenue Code, "new section thirty-eight (38) property" means such property as of the Internal Revenue Code, and "used section thirty-eight (38) property" means such property as defined in section forty-eight (48), subsection c, paragraph one (1) of the Internal Revenue Code.
(2) For purposes of this section, "qualified investment" means, with respect to any taxable year, the aggregate of the applicable percentage of the basis of each new section thirty-eight (38) property placed in service by the taxpayer during such taxable year, plus the applicable percentage of the cost of each used section thirty-eight (38) property, placed in service by the taxpayer during such taxable year.
b. For the purposes of paragraph a of this subsection, the applicable percentage for any property shall be determined under the following table:

If the useful life is-
The applicable percentage is-
3 years or more but less than 5 years 331/3
5 years or more but less than
7 years
\(66 \%\)
7 years or more ............................................................ 100
For purposes of this section, the useful life of any property shall be the useful life used in computing the allowance for depreciation under section one hundred sixty-seven (167) of the Internal Revenue Code for the taxable year in which the property is placed in service.
c. The amount which would, but for this paragraph, be treated as qualified investment under this subsection with respect to any property shall be reduced, but not below zero, by any amount treated by the taxpayer or a predecessor of the taxpayer, or, in the case of a sale and leaseback described in subsection six (6), paragraph b, subparagraph three (3), of this section by the lessee, as qualified investment with respect to such property under subsection four (4) of this section, to the extent the amount so treated has not been required to be recaptured by reason of subsection six (6), paragraph b, of this section.
4. a. In the case of any taxpayer who has made an election under paragraph \(f\) of this subsection, the amount of his qualified investment for the taxable year, determined under subsection three (3) of this section, without regard to this subsection, shall be increased by an amount equal to his aggregate qualified progress expenditures for the taxable year with respect to progress expenditure property.
b. (1) For purposes of this subsection, "progress expenditure property" means any property which is being constructed by or for the taxpayer and which has a normal construction period of two years or more, and it is reasonable to believe will be new section thirty-eight (38) property having a useful life of seven years or more in the hands of the taxpayer when it is placed in service.

The preceding sentence shall be applied on the basis of facts known at the close of the taxable year of the taxpayer in which construction begins or, if later, at the close of the first taxable year to which an election under this subsection applies.
(2) For purposes of subparagraph one (1) of this paragraph, "normal construction period" means the period reasonably expected to be required for the construction of the property beginning with the date on which physical work on the construction begins or, if later, the first day of the first taxable year to which an election under this subsection applies, and ending on the date on which it is expected that the property will be available for placing in service.
c. For purposes of this subsection:
(1) In the case of any self-constructed property, "qualified progress expenditures" means the amount which, for purposes of this section, is properly chargeable during the taxable year to capital account with respect to the property.
(2) In the case of non-self-constructed property, "qualified progress expenditures" means the lesser of the amount paid during the taxable year to another person for the construction of the property, or the amount which represents that proportion of the overall cost to the taxpayer of the construction by another person which is properly attributable to that portion of the construction which is completed during the taxable year.
d. For purposes of paragraph \(c\) of this subsection, the special rules contained in section fortysix (46), subsection d, paragraph four (4) of the Internal Revenue Code, applicable to section forty-six (46), subsection d, paragraph three (3) of the Internal Revenue Code shall apply.
e. For purposes of this subsection:
(1) "Self-constructed property" means property more than half of the construction expenditures for which it is reasonable to believe will be made directly by the taxpayer.
(2) "Non-self-constructed property" means property which is not self-constructed property.
(3) "Construction" includes reconstruction and erection, and the term "constructed" includes reconstructed and erected.
(4) Construction shall be taken into account only if, for purposes of this section, expenditures therefor are properly chargeable to capital account with respect to the property.
f. An election under this subsection may be made at such time and in such manner as the director or his delegate may by rule prescribe. The election shall apply to the taxable year for which made and to all subsequent taxable years. The election, once made, may not be revoked except with the consent of the director or his delegate.
g. The qualified investment taken into account under this subsection for any taxable year beginning before January 1, 1980, with respect to any property shall be, in lieu of the full amount, an amount equal to the sum of the following:
(1) The applicable percentage of the full amount determined under the following table:
\begin{tabular}{cc}
For a taxable year & The applicable \\ beginning in: & percentage is: \\ 1974 or 1975 &........................................\(~\) \\
20
\end{tabular}

1974 or 1975 .............................................. 20
1976 ........................................................... 40
1977 ........................................................... 60
1978 ............................................................ 80
1979 .......................................................... 100
(2) In the case of any property to which this subsection applied for one or more preceding taxable years, twenty percent of the full amount for each such preceding taxable year.

For purposes of this paragraph, "full amount", when used with respect to any property for any taxable year, means the amount of the qualified investment for such property for such year determined under this subsection without regard to this paragraph.
5. A credit shall be allowed by this section to a person which is not a corporation with respect to property of which such person is the lessor only if the property subject to the lease has been manufactured or produced by the lessor, or the term of the lease, taking into account options to renew, is less than fifty percent of the useful life of the property, and for the period consisting of the first twelve months after the date on which the property is transferred to the lessee the sum of the deductions with respect to such property which are allowable to the lessor solely by reason of section one hundred sixty-two (162) of the Internal Revenue Code, other than rents and reimbursed amounts with respect to such property, exceeds fifteen percent of the rental income produced by such property.

6. Under rules prescribed by the director or his delegate:
a. If during any taxable year any property is disposed of, or otherwise ceases to be section thirtyeight (38) property with respect to the taxpayer, before the close of the useful life which was taken into account in computing the credit under this section, then the tax under this Act for such taxable year shall be increased by an amount equal to the aggregate decrease in the credits allowed under this section for all prior taxable years which would have resulted solely from substituting, in determining qualified investment, for such useful life the period beginning with the time such property was placed in service by the taxpayer and ending with the time such property ceased to be section thirty-eight (38) property.
b. (1) If during any taxable year any property taken into account in determining qualified investment under subsection four (4) of this section ceases, by reason of sale or other disposition, cancellation or abandonment of contract, or otherwise to be, with respect to the taxpayer, property which, when placed in service, will be new section thirty-eight (38) property, then the tax under this Act for such taxable year shall be increased by an amount equal to the aggregate decrease in the credits allowed under this section for all prior taxable years which would have resulted solely from reducing to zero the qualified investment taken into account with respect to such property.
(2) Any amount which would have been applied as a reduction of the qualified investment in property by reason of paragraph \(c\) of subsection three (3) of this section but for the fact that a reduction under such paragraph cannot reduce qualified investment below zero, shall be treated as an amount required to be recaptured under subparagrah one (1) of this paragraph for the taxable year in which the property is placed in service.
(3) Under rules prescribed by the director or his delegate, a sale by, and leaseback to, a taxpayer who, when the property is placed in service, will be a lessee to whom section forty-eight (48), subsection
d of the Internal Revenue Code applies shall not be treated as a cessation described in subparagraph one (1) of this paragraph to the extent that the qualified investment which will be passed through to the lessee under section forty-eight (48), subsection d of the Internal Revenue Code with respect to such property is not less than the qualified progress expenditures properly taken into account by the lessee with respect to such property.
(4) If, after property is placed in service, there is a disposition or other cessation described in paragraph a of this subsection, paragraph a of this subsection shall be applied as if any credit which was allowable by reason of subsection four (4) of this section and which has not been required to be recaptured before such cessation were allowable for the taxable year the property was placed in service.
c. In the case of any cessation described in paragraph a or b of this subsection, the carrybacks and carryovers under subsection two (2) of this section shall be adjusted by reason of such cessation.
d. (1) Any aircraft which was new section thirty-eight (38) property for the taxable year in which it was placed in service and which is used outside the United States under a qualifying lease or leases shall be treated as not ceasing to be section thirty-eight (38) property by reason of such use until such aircraft has been so used for a period or periods exceeding three and one-half years in total. For purposes of the preceding sentence,

1 month beginning after such aircraft was placed in
2 service, if such month is included in a taxable 3 year ending before January 1, 1976, for which such 32 allowable under this section."

the registration of such aircraft under the laws of a foreign country shall be treated as use outside the United States.
(2) If an aircraft described in subparagraph one (1) of this paragraph is disposed of or otherwise ceases to be section thirty-eight (38) property, the increase under paragraph a of this subsection and the adjustment under paragraph \(c\) of this subsection shall not be greater than the increase or adjustment which would result if the qualified investment of such aircraft were based upon a useful life equal to the lesser of the actual useful life of such aircraft with respect to the taxpayer, or twice the number of full calendar months during which such aircraft was registered by the administrator of the federal aviation agency and was used in the United States, operated to and from the United States, or operated under contract with the United States. For purposes of the preceding sentence, an aircraft shall be treated as used in the United States for any calendar aircraft was section thirty-eight (38) property, determined without regard to this paragraph.
(3) For purposes of subparagraph one (1) of this paragraph, "qualifying lease" means a lease from an aircarrier as defined in section one hundred one (101) of the federal aviation Act of 1958, as amended to January 1, 1975, section one thousand three hundred one (1301), title forty-nine (49), United States Code, which complies with the provisions of said Act, and the rules promulgated by the civil aeronautics board thereunder, but only if such lease was executed after April 18, 1969.
7. Subsection six (6) of this section shall not apply to a transfer by reason of death, or a transaction to which section three hundred eighty-one (381), subsection a of the Internal Revenue Code applies. For purposes of subsection one (1) of this section, property shall not be treated as ceasing to be section thirty-eight (38) property with respect to the taxpayer by reason of a mere change in the form of conducting the trade or business so long as the property is retained in such trade or business as section thirty-eight (38) property and the taxpayer retains a substantial interest in such trade or business. Any increase in the tax under subsection one (1) of this section shall not be treated as a tax imposed by this Act

1. Page 13, by inserting after line 12 , the following new section:
Sec. 5. NEW SECTION. INFLATION CORRECTION FACTOR.
1. On or before October 31 in each calendar year the director shall establish an inflation
correction factor to be applied to income tax liabilities calculated for that calendar year under sections three (3) and four (4) of this Act.
2. In calculating the correction factor, the director shall first establish an effective inflation rate for consumer prices for the calendar year based on price movements for the twelve month period ending September 30 of that year. The basis for the determination shall be the consumer price index published by the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics. The effective inflation rate shall be expressed as a percentage, either positive or negative.
3. Based on the effective inflation rate, the director shall calculate an inflation correction factor expressed as a percentage. The factor shall be calculated by dividing 10,000 by the sum of 100 plus the cumulative total of the effective inflation rates established for all tax years this Act has been in effect. In no instance shall the factor adopted exceed \(100 \%\).
4. Taxes calculated under sections three (3) and four (4) of this Act shall be multiplied by the inflation correction factor to determine taxes due. Taxpayers using a tax year other than the calendar year shall use a weighted average inflation correction factor based on the factor established by the director for each of the two appplicable calendar years.

REPORT OF THE ELECTION CONTEST COMMITTEE

On behalf of the committee, Norman G. Jesse of Polk County submits the following report in the contest filed by James Spradling vs. Lyle Stephens for the seat in the Second Legislative District in the Iowa House of Representatives.

Mr. Speakir: We, the members of the Contest Committee, to whom was referred the matter of the contest between James Spradling, contestant, versus Lyle Stephens, incumbent, for the seat in the Iowa House of Representatives, beg leave to report as follows:

The committee met pursuant to call of Norman G. Jesse, chairman, numerous times.

The evidence disclosed to the committee, by the sworn testimony of witnesses, the following facts:

1. That 135 persons cast absentee ballots in Plymouth County.
2. That those ballots were mailed by the County Auditor to those 135 persons, regardless of whether or not they were confined to a health care facility or a hospital.
3. That in fact 43 of those persons who cast absentee ballots in Plymouth County were confined in a hospital or health care facility.
4. That the absentee ballots to those persons in health care facilities and hospitals were not delivered personally by one member of each political party, as required by Section 53.17, Code of Iowa.
5. That some students from Westmar College in LeMars, Iowa, were discouraged from exercising the right to vote in the election.
6. That at least one of those students visited with the Plymouth County Auditor who discouraged that student from casting a ballot in the election.
7. That no one from the Auditor's office or the election board sought to advise the students of how they could cast a vote in the election, thus placing the burden on the students to know the law pertaining to voting a challenged ballot in an election.
8. That declaring the ballots in the absentee ballot precinct void as competent evidence in this election changes the results and makes James Spradling the winner by a vote of 4,537 to 4,530 .

Section 53.17, Code of Iowa, provides in part that:
"An applicant who is a resident or patient in a health care facility or hospital located in the county to which the application has been submitted shall have his absentee ballot delivered to him by one member of each of the political parties referred to in Section 49.13, who shall be appointed by the commissioner from the panel drawn up as provided by Section 49.15 for the special precinct established by Section 53.23. The persons so appointed by the commissioner shall be notaries public and shall be sworn in the manner provided by Section 49.75 for election board members. They may assist the qualified electors in filling out the ballot as provided in Section 49.90. The voted absentee ballots shall be deposited in a sealed container which shall be returned to the commissioner on the same day."
This issue therefore becomes whether the failure of the Plymouth County Auditor to comply with Section 53.17, Code of Iowa, renders the absentee ballots incompetent as evidence in the election between Lyle Stephens and James Spradling.

In past election contests in this House, the failure to comply with an election law written in mandatory language has been held to be sufficient reason to reject the ballots. The rejection has, in the past, caused a change in the result of the contested elections.

In Peyton v. Moore, 1937, and Randall v. Norland, 1941, the House rejected ballots that were not in the presence of at least two judges at all times because Section 898, Codes of Iowa 1937 and 1941 respectively stated:
"And at all times when they are in possession of the counting board they shall be under constant observation of at least two judges."
In those contests the House found Section 898 to be written in mandatory language and thus rejected the ballots as evidence despite an absence of ballot tampering in either instance.

In Naughton v. Munger, 1947, the House rejected ballots as evidence in an election because more ballots had been counted in one precinct than there were eligible voters in that precinct.

The committee has found that Section 53.17, Code of Iowa, 1975, is written in mandatory language, and that any failure to comply with same section shall render the ballots of the precinct wherein there was failure to observe said requirements, void and incompetent as evidence in the result of an election.

We also find that the rules of statutory construction require us to find that the specific provisions in Section 53.17, Code of Iowa, govern other more general provisions found elsewhere in the election laws.

It is the conclusion of this committee that there was a violation of the statute, Section 53.17, Code of Iowa, in the casting of absentee ballots in Plymouth County, and that the votes cast in the absentee ballot precinct cannot be considered in finally determining who was elected as State Representative of and for the second legislative district for the Iowa House of Representatives.

This committee originally considered declaring the seat vacant, believing that the most desirable solution would be to submit this contest back to the voters of the second legislative district for a decision. This solution, bowever, has been labeled as unacceptable by all parties affected. We therefore must limit our consideration to the merits of the contest.

Mr. Speaker, the rejection of the absentee ballots makes the final vote tally in the second legislative district:

MINORITY REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PLYMOUTH COUNTY ELECTION CONTEST

The following report is submitted by Edgar H. Bittle and Reid Crawford, members of the committee in the contest filed by James W. Spradling vs. Lyle R. Stephens from the Second Representative District.

Mr. Speaker: We, Edgar H. Bittle and Reid Crawford, members of the Contest Committee to whom was referred the matter of the contest between James W. Spradling, contestant, versus Lyle R. Stephens, incumbent, for the seat in the Iowa House of Representatives from the Second Representative District beg leave to report as follows:

The committee has met on numerous occasions, and on March 24, 1975, at 1:00 p.m. in Des Moines, Iowa, heard the testimony of the parties to this contest.

The contestant and incumbent appeared in person and each were represented by counsel. Counsel for the contestant conceded that he did not have evidence to sustain the vote contest as alleged in Division 2, and that he would rely on Division 1 alone. On the basis of this statement by counsel, the committee dismisses Division 2 of the contestant's statement of contest.

The contestant called as an adverse witness, Mr. Clair Steele, Plymouth County Auditor. Steele testified that he received requests for absentee ballots from Nursing Homes and Hospitals and that all of these applications for absentee ballots were mailed to the applicant within 24 hours of receipt of the applications pursuant to the provisions of Section 53.8. Steele testified that he was aware of the provisions of Section 53.17, which provides for delivery of absentee ballots to applicants who were residents or patients in Health Care Facilities or Hospitals. He also testified that he did not pick persons to deliver absentee ballots as provided in Section 53.17, and that he had been of the opinion that the two sections were in conflict and was attempting to do everything he could to be certain that applicants for absentee ballots were not disfranchised.

Contestant conceded that there was no allegation of fraud, undue influence, intimidation in the procuring of the votes in question or illegality and there was no inference of fraud or wrong doing by the County Auditor. Counsel for the contestant stated that the only allegation was that Section 53.17 was not followed. There was no allegation that persons in Health Care Facilities or Hospitals were disfranchised by the actions of the County Auditor and there is no allegation that the vote results would have been questioned had the provisions of Section 53.17 been followed.

Contestant called no other witnesses.
Incumbent called Plymouth County Auditor, Clair Steele, who testified that he had been aware of an oral directive from the Attorney General that provisions of Section 53.8 would prevail and that absentee ballots should be mailed within 24 hours of the receipt of the application. Steele also testified that he became aware of a decision in the Polk County District Court prior to November 5, the date of the election. Steele testified that he was trying to let the most people vote, and that no Republican or Democrat challenged the procedure he was following prior to the election or at the time the absentee ballots were counted.

Incumbent presented no other testimony.
The issue is thus drawn whether failure to comply with the provision of Section 53.17 should cause the votes from the absentee ballot precinct to be disallowed.

The Iowa Courts and this House have stated that a vote will not be set aside in a precinct where election officials have violated a statute unless the contestant has proved that the violation cost him sufficient votes to change the results of the election. The theory behind this is that electors have nothing to do with the conduct of officials and the technical irregularity should not disfranchise or defeat the expressed wishes of the people.

The general rule is stated in 97 ALR 2d 266, 305 and 306:
"In most jurisdictions absentee voting laws have been liberally construed so as to further their evident purpose of protecting and furthering the right of suffrage".
This was the clear intent of the Legislature in adopting House File 745, First Session, Sixty-fifth General Assembly.

At page 306 of 97 ALR 2d, it is stated:
"The basic principle of construction in regard to the above provisions (which contain specific direction to election officers) is that erroneous or even unlawful handling of the ballots by the election officers will be held not to disfranchise absentee voters who themselves fully complied with the provisions of the statute".
"The general rule that if ballots have been cast by voters who were, at the time, qualified to cast them, and such voters had at the time done all on their part that the law required the voters to do to make their voting effective, an erroneous or even unlawful handling of the ballots by the election officers charged with such responsibility will not be held to have disfranchised such voters by throwing out their votes on account of erroneous procedure had solely by the election officers, provided the votes were legal votes in their inception, and are still capable of being given proper effect as such, has been given effect or expressed in many decisions involving absentee voters' ballots."
This rule has been adopted by this House. In the case of Springer vs. Stoddard, the committee stated it was in favor of the more liberal rule of counting absentee ballots, at page 759 of the 1909 House Journal, which was a unanimous report.

The committee stated:
". . . Special attention should be called to the fact that Judges of elections seem to misapprehend or fail to follow the law either through ignorance or carelessness. Another committee, adopting a more strict rule, might have easily reached the conclusion that these ballots were not competent evidence and that a recount could not have been had because of the carelessness with which these ballots were returned by the election judges to the County Auditor. It is, therefore, recommended that this Honorable body adopt this report, and that it declare the incumbent, B. F. Stoddard, the duly elected Representative of the 67th Representative District of Iowa".
In the case of State of Iowa vs. Creston Mutual Telephone Company 195 (Iowa) 1368 at 1371-1372, the Iowa Supreme Court stated:
"Every intendment of the Legislature and every safe guard provided thereby for the securing of a fair election and the preservation of the ballots should be observed by election officers, and must be upheld by the court; but the clearly expressed will of the voters should not be thwarted or set aside by the courts because of irregularities and even illegalities which are not shown to have in any way affected the result or to have prejudiced anyone . . . We are firmly committed to the rule that prejudice must be shown".
In 1971 the Iowa Supreme Court stated the general rule governing election contests:
"The result of a school election is presumptively valid. Mere irregularities in the conduct of an election do not affect the result, but substantial material defects are fatal. It is the duty of the court to sustain an election if it has been so conducted as to give a free and fair expression of the popular will. Widmer, et al., v. Reitzler, et al., 182 N.W. 2d 177, Iowa, filed December 15, 1970, Harney v. Clear Creek Community School District (1967), 261 Iowa 315, 318-319, 154 N.W. 2d 88, 90 ; Headington v. North Winneshiek Community School District (1962), 254 Iowa 430, 438, 117 N.W. 2d 831, 836.
"An election which has resulted in a fair and free expression of the will of the legal voters upon the merits will not be invalidated because of a departure from the statutory regulations governing the conduct of the election, except in those cases where the legislature has clearly and unequivocally expressed an intent that a specific statutory provision is an essential jurisdictional prerequisite and that a departure therefrom shall have the drastic consequences of invalidity." Turnis v Board of Education in and for Jones County (1961), 252 Iowa 922, 927,109 N.W. 2d, 198, 201."
See Stanley v Southwestern Community College, Merged Area, Iowa, 184 N.W. 2d 29 (1971).

There was an election contest case involving County Supervisors decided by the Wisconsin Supreme Court in 1974 which is strikingly similiar in fact to the present case. The challenge went to the manner in which the city clerk delivered the 51 absentee ballots to the individuals who has applied for them.

The statute provided:
"6.87 Absent voting procedure.
"(3) The municipal clerk shall mail it postage prepaid to the elector's residence unless otherwise directed, or shall deliver it to the elector personally at the clerk's office."
The City Clerk directed a courier to deliver a box containing the 51 absentee ballots and ballot envelopes to Luther Manor. He delivered the box, containing what he believed to be absentee ballots, to Luther Manor. He did not know the number of absentee ballots in the box, nor did he recall the name of the woman to whom he gave the box. He took nothing else to Luther Manor and did not return with any of the material.

It was the position of the appellant that these 33 ballots were invalid because the city clerk did not mail the absentee ballots, postage prepaid, to the electors' residences or deliver the ballot to the elector personally in the clerk's office as provided by statute.

The Wisconsin Supreme Court noted:
"There is nothing in the record which would in any way indicate any connivance, fraud or undue influence, and the parties make no such assertion. Likewise, there is no suggestion that the absentee electors from Luther Manor themselves did not comply with the absentee voting requirements. The issue then resolves itself to a question of whether the specific delivery requirements placed upon the city clerk by sec. $6.87(3)$ Stats., are mandatory to the extent that these 33 absentee ballots should be declared invalid. In the case before us, there was substantial compliance with the absentee voting procedure in all respects and full compliance in so far as the electors are concerned."
The Court discussed the effect of noncompliance with a provision of the election law:
"The difference between mandatory and directory provisions of election statutes lies in the consequence of nonobservance. An act done in violation of a mandatory provision is void, whereas an act done in violation of a directory provision, while improper, may nevertheless be valid. Deviations from directory provisions of election statutes are usually termed "irregularities", and, as has been shown in the preceding subdivision, such irregularities do not vitiate an election. Statutes giving directions as to the mode and manner of conducting elections will be construed by the courts as directory, unless a noncompliance with their terms is expressly declared to be fatal, or will change or render doubtful the result, as where the statute merely provides that certain things shall be done in a given manner and time without declaring that conformity to such provisions is essential to the validity of the election."
The Court concluded:
"We are fully cognizant of possible abuses of the absentee voter's law and share the concern of the legislature in preventing any such abuse. If the record in this case indicated the slightest evidence of any fraud, connivance or attempted undue influence, we would have no hesitance in declaring the absentee voters' ballots invalid. However, we are not inclined to disenfranchise (sic) these voters who acted in conformance with the statutory requirements. There is absolutely no evidence from which it could be inferred that the method of delivery by the municipal clerk in any way affected their vote.
"In Sommerfeld v. Board of Canvassers, supra, 269 Wis. pp. 303, 304, 69 N.W. 2d 238, it was stated
". . . We have held that the word 'shall' can be construed to mean 'may'. George Williams College v. Williams Bay, 242 Wis. 311, 7 N.W. (2d) 891. In passing upon statutes regulating absentee voting, the court should look to the whole and every part of the election laws, the intent of the entire plan, the reasons and spirit for their adoption, and try to give effect to every portion thereof."
"Considering all the facts of this case, we are of the opinion that the mandate of sec. 5.01, Stats., requires the conclusion that these absentee voters' ballots be counted."
This same liberal construction has been followed by the court in the case of Haggard vs. Misco (1957) 164 Nebraska 77883 NW 2d 483. In Haggard vs. Misco, a Nebraska School Bond Election case, election officials rejected 38 absentee and disabled voters' ballots because of irregularities in the conduct of the election. If the absentee ballots were rejected the election failed. The court ruled that ballots should be counted, stating:
"The 38 absentee and disabled voters whose ballots are here questioned, were legal voters of the District, they have complied with the mandatory provisions of the statute in the exercise of their right to vote. They have committed no fraud nor any other wrong action. Their right to vote under such circumstances cannot be defeated by the mistakes of election officials, nor by the leaders disregard for the directory provisions of the election laws. The question involved was the irregularity of delivery of the ballot to the voters".
In Parades vs. Martinez (Texas) 264 SW 2d 958 (1954), the County Clerk personally took absentee ballots to voters at their homes contrary to the election law. The Court stated:
"It is the irregularity that is complained about and not that there was . . . any undue persuasion, fraud, undue influence, or intimidation in the procuring of the votes in question".
In the Iowa case of McDunn vs. Roundy, 191 Iowa 976 (1921), the Iowa Supreme Court refused to render invalid a School Board Election which was conducted by two Judges instead of three as directed by the Statute. The Court noted that the attack was on the result of the election not upon the actions of the two Judges.

The Iowa Supreme Court noted:
"It would be a different attack if mandamus had been brought to compel the appointment of a third Judge, or if injunction had been instituted to restrain the two Judges from proceeding with the election without a third Judge".
The Iowa Supreme Court further stated:
"The general rule seems to have been adopted by many of the jurisdictions of this country, and has the great weight of authority upholding it. The true rule, as thus adopted, is that mere irregularity in conducting an election does not vitiate such election and render the same a nullity, unless some prejudice or injustice is shown to have resulted therefrom. Applying this rule to similar cases, the failure to hold an election with the required number of Judges is an irregularity only, and does not vitiate the election".
The election in this Iowa case was upheld.
In this case, the only allegation and the only evidence was that the Auditor did not comply with the provisions of Section 53.17. The House must thus weigh and balance this circumstance against the disfranchisement of the voters because of a technical violation. The presumption is that the election is valid.

Contestant has admitted there was no evidence of misconduct, fraud, undue influence, corruption, or illegal conduct in the voting of absentee ballots other than the manner of delivery. There is no proof or allegation that any of the absentee ballots cast in this election were tainted in any way. The Auditor did what he thought was prudent. No voter has been disfranchised. The manner of delivery did not affect any votes. The absentee ballots should be counted.

The Statute in this circumstance is directory. The votes cast by absentee ballot from Health Care Facilities or Hospitals in Plymouth County should be counted. The contestant's claim should be dismissed and the incumbent should be seated and his election confirmed.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 24

By Murray

Whereas, energy waste is evident in most aspects of our industrial and residential environment; and

Whereas, energy conservation is an immediate remedy for impending energy shortages; and

Whereas, Iowa's energy consumption rose only two percent instead of the expected four percent increase for 1974, primarily because of decreased highway speeds; and

Whereas, significant energy savings can be achieved in other sectors of our economy without detracting from Iowa's economic well-being; Now Therefore

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Conourring, That

Iowa initiate a comprehensive energy program to inform the public of the need and intent to promote energy conservation as a state policy with the goal of achieving and maintaining a level of zero energy growth; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the governor, the Iowa Energy Policy Council and all other state agencies be instructed to evaluate their programs and policies in light of a zero energy growth objective and that they immediately initiate such measures as are required, through conservation and the development of renewable energy resources, including sun, wind, and wastes, to achieve a zero energy growth rate by January 1, 1976.

Laid over under Rule 25.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 33 By Committee on Transportation

Whereas, the Mississippi River Locks and Dam 26 at Alton, Illinois are a vital link in the mid-continent waterway system; and

Whereas, over twenty million tons of coal, petroleum, grain, fertilizer, salt, molasses and other commodities are transported to Iowa via the Mississippi waterway, and it provides clear economic benefits to all of Iowa and, indirectly, the nation; and

Whereas, the locks and dam have deteriorated over the past 37 years and structural failure is now threatened by settlement and riverbed scour, and lock failure could halt navigation on both the Upper Mississippi and Illinois Rivers; and

Whereas, the Corps of Engineers began examining alternate solutions in 1957, proceeded with project development and advertised for initial construction bids in August, 1974; and

Whereas, the United States district court granted a preliminary injunction to stop the project until consent of Congress was obtained and defects in the environmental impact statement were remedied; and

Whereas, the Iowa state department of transportation has reviewed the General Design Memorandum, Final Environmental Statement, and litigation documents relating to the Alton Locks and Dam 26 project proposal; Now Therefore,

There is on file in the Chief Clerk's office the Report on Federal Funds Received in Iowa, Fiscal Year 1974, in compliance with Chapter 7A.3.17, Code of Iowa, received from the Office for Planning and Programming.

SPECIAL VISITORS

To commemorate the up-coming Ankeny Centennial July 9 through 13, 1975, Representative Byerly rose on a point of personal privilege and introduced ten ladies from the Ankeny Centennial Chamber Maids. Headed by Mrs. Mary Lou Hermann and Mrs. Dorothy Donaghy, the group presented Representative Byerly and Speaker Cochran with the Ankeny centennial medallions and invited the Representatives to attend the festivities in July.

EXPLANATIONS OF VOTE

I was necessarily absent from the House chamber for part of the day May 14, 1975. Had I been present, I would have voted "aye" on House File 801, H-3731A, H-3731B, H-3731C, H-3731D to Senate amendment $\mathrm{S}-3620 ; \mathrm{H}-3732$ to Senate amendment $\mathrm{S}-3620$; Senate amendment S-3620 and House File 90.

KOOGLER of Mahaska

I was absent from the House when the vote on House Files 776, 195, 723, 780,185 and 486 was taken, in order to give a speech to a group of Waukee sixth grade students. Had I been present I would have voted "aye" on House Files 776, 195, 723, 780 and 185, and "nay" on House File 486.

IN OPPOSITION TO CONTEST COMMITTEE MAJORITY REPORT

Today, we are supposed to sit as a judicial body as we deliberate the election contest in House District Two. We must act, not as partisan pawns supporting a political viewpoint, but rather as judges who are charged with studying and reviewing the facts of the election last November. We are charged with rising above political considerations and making an impartial, just decision. That is what we are supposed to do, but I fear that the Lyle Stephens election contest has fallen victim to political consideration.

I am concerned that the majority of the members of this body today will act irresponsibly and vote to unseat Lyle Stephens. Those who vote in this manner will ignore their responsibility to the people of Iowa who entrusted them with the responsibility as caretakers of government. In-stead-they will put political considerations ahead of the rights of the disfranchised 92 voters in House District Two.

Let me ask-how many of you whose names were placed before the electorate last November would like it if 92 voters were removed from your totals without regard for the rights of the individuals involved? How would you like it if 92 people who are your constituents were told that, although they had taken the time to vote, their rights had been removed?

We are not dealing with a bill which can be repealed or changed later. In this election contest we are dealing with the rights of 92 people in Plymouth County to vote. If the House acts to erase those votes, they can never be recovered. If the majority party, through a political vote in this chamber, votes to disqualify those voters, they have been denied the right to vote.

If such a vote is cast this evening, I can tell you that we have set a dangerous precedent. Our entire system of government is based on majority rule-but that fundamental right guarantees that the majority of the people will decide who will represent them.

It does not imply that the majority party has the right to ignore the rights of the voters and seat their candidate. Therefore, you are dealing with a basic Constitutional right and you have every reason to resist the efforts of the majority leaders to decide the outcome of this judicial matter as a political decision.

We are all aware of the action by the Democratic State Central Committee of some two weeks ago, virtually directing the Democratic members of this House to act like puppets and unseat Lyle Stephens. Like good soldiers, the House leadership worked toward this objective and many members of the Democratic caucus succumbed to the pressure. Now, we are on the verge of voting to remove Lyle Stephens from the House as if he never existed.

The fact is that Lyle Stephens does exist, and for the majority of the residents of his district he is their elected representative in this body. Who wants the task of explaining to his constituents how he won the election but has been removed from this body? Who wants to explain that the Democratic State Central Committee has greater wallop in this House than the people who legally elected Lyle Stephens?

In the past several years we have heard a lot of talk from the Democratic side of the aisle about opening the political process. We have heard more recently about an election revision bill they are championing to encourage people to vote. The Cedar Rapids Gazette of May 12 stated that "It is a section dear to the heart of Fitzgerald-to permit open voter registration at the polls on election days to make sure every eligible Iowan has a chance to vote." But now we see these same so-called champions of encouraging people to vote, turning around and denying people the right to vote.

How hypocritical can some members of this House be? In the StephensSpradling election contest, the champions of encouraging people to vote only faced one problem. The people in House District Two voted for the wrong person and the wrong person, as far as the Democratic majority is concerned, is Lyle Stephens. The conclusion is clear-the Democrats want election reform to open the election process only if it helps them.

It is totally irresponsible that a group of elected representatives must put politics ahead of everything else. As you are aware, the Republicians, when they have controlled the House, have voted to seat 15 Republicans and 12 Democrats, with one tie which was decided by lot. It is a tradition in this House that when we are dealing with the rights of people, we give top priority to seeing that a fair and just decision is reached.

This is not, I fear, going to happen today. You are, despite the evidence, going to unseat Lyle Stephens in a sheer political decision. You are not going to listen to the debate and you are not going to change your votes because the great voice of the Democratic State Central Committee has rendered you helpless to act on your own. This House is being intimidated into a political decision and I resent it.

Now, in closing, I would like for each of you to come up with a valid reason for unseating Lyle Stephens. Certainly Lyle has done nothing wrong. Certainly there has been no evidence that there was fraud or wrongdoing. The fact is that Lyle Stephens is being unseated because he appeared to be an easy target-his margin of victory was only 24 votesand you cannot exercise the restraint necessary to resist the political pressure. You would rather discredit the political system than to stand up for what is right and honest. When you consider the facts, that is what it all boils down to. It is easier for you to vote for Lyle Stephens' removal than to go against the tide. I am confident that there are some Democrats who will stand by the right decision and I salute them for their independence.

I would submit that everyone in this chamber has some black mark on your record--possibly you just failed to file a disclosure report on time or your disclosure report contained some inaccuracies-or maybe your auditor also mailed out the ballots, like they did in Plymouth County. For each of us, there is something that detracts from our election to this chamber.

Therefore, let the one who is without error and who has not made a mistake cast the first vote against Lyle Stephens. I urge you to vote "no" on the majority committee report.

MILLEN of Van Buren

In giving thought to the substance of this extraordinary proceeding, we would be well advised to perceive the process, the mechanism which has brought it to our collective conscience to resolve. We should not lightly regard our role as surrogates of the Second Legislative District, ninetyseven electors thrown to the task of choosing a representative for 28,000 people. As to their provincial dreams, aspirations, prejudices, jealousies, I do not by direct knowledge know which of the choices before us best suits that district. But, I do know their efforts to express the collective will by ballot. I do know my obligation to preserve the integrity of that ballot. I do know that election frauds will, in the words of the Brookings Institution, "undermine public morale and interest in civic affairs more quickly than any other condition," whether that fraud occurs in a county courthouse or in the lofty chamber of a House of Representatives!

This question does not necessitate party loyalty, no budget to balance, no competition of special interest priorities, no balancing of power between the branches of government. It requires the recognition of truth, each alone, with and by ourselves.

And, thus, we bring into this Chamber today the honor of ourselves and our people to perform surely one of the gravest responsibilities we have. What each of us does today as we vote reveals our individual perception of our moral ethic. Collectively, those decisions become the commonweal of this state. To be representative, a legislature must be an accurate map of the whole state, a mirror which reflects accurately the various parts of the public. As Mirabeau in 1789 observed, "A presentative body is to a nation what a chart is for the physical configuration of its soil."

What then will be our collective statement? It can be a statement which gives us defensible satisfaction of knowing what we did strengthened our system of government. Or, a statement which brings to our several millions of constituents a scene of furtive glances, hushed questions, mumbled replies and a selfish hope the whole sordid affair will recede in memory.

The gentlemen from Polk, Story, and Muscatine have articulated the process which brought us here. To state it in the words of Hamilton writing in The Federalist Papers on the necessity for Congress to pass on its members, he said: "Every government ought to contain in itself the means of its own preservation. They have submitted the regulation of elections for the federal government, in the first instance, to the local administrations, which in ordinary cases and when no improper views prevail, may be more convenient and more satisfactory; but, they have reserved to the national authority a right to interpose whenever extraordinary circumstances might render that interposition necessary to its safety.
"Let us now see what would be the danger on the other side; that is, from confiding the ultimate right of regulating its own elections to the Union itself. It is not pretended that this right would ever be used for the exclusion of any State from its share in the representation. The interest of all would, in this respect at least, be the security of all. But it is alleged that it might be employed in such a manner as to promote the election of some favorite class of men in exclusion of others, by confining the places of election to particular districts, and rendering it impracticable to the citizens at large to partake in the choice. Of all chimerical suppositions this seems to be the most chimerical. On the one hand, no rational calculation of probabilities would lead us to imagine that the disposition which a conduct so violent and extraordinary would imply, could ever find its way into the national councils; and on the other, it may be concluded with certainty that if so improper a spirit should ever gain admittance into them, it would display itself in a form altogether different and far more decisive.
"The improbability of the attempt may be satisfactorily inferred from this single reflection, that it could never be made without causing an immediate revolt of the great body of the people, headed and directed by the State governments. It is not difficult to conceive that this characteristic right of freedom may in certain turbulent and factious seasons be violated, in respect to a particular class of citizens, by a victorious and overbearing majority; but that so fundamental a privilege in a country so situated and enlightened, should be invaded to the prejudice of the great mass of the people, by the deliberate policy of the government, without occasioning a popular revolution, is altogether inconceivable and incredible."

Are we here going to manufacture the stain of contrived illegality and brush it cavalierly over the obvious will of those people? Are we going to join the Roman Senate and on the Ides of May seize the dagger and strike down one among us? Upon whose conscience shall the anguish of Brutus fall? By what backroom manipulation is born such disregard for simple truth?

There abides in the sanctum of party politics throughout the land a selfish hope the whole thing will go away.

Let me tell you something. It will not go away. If that majority report is adopted, that seat will never be filled during the Sixty-sixth General Assembly. Its mere occupancy by the contestant will not fill it. Only the spirit of the Second District can fill it. Only the spirit of Iowa can fill it. And fill it they will. They will fill it with the spirit of '76.

OAKLEY of Clinton

We have come today in justice and in judgment for the singular purpose of determining if one of our member is to remain a member. I would say to you that sitting in judgment is an awesome and terrible thing and certainly is vastly different from that which we generally do. When performing our roles as legislators, our own personal philosophy, our own prejudices, our constituents desires and our political instincts and ambitions set a reference framework for our activities. But today, ladies and gentlemen, we cannot allow ourselves these luxuries but must be divorced from them so that we will think clearly and objectively about what we are doing.

We must be honest with ourselves as to what our final judgment will be based on, the law and the facts. However, we must constantly bear in mind the writers admonition relating to the letter and the spirit of the law. We cannot indulge in pharacaical hypocricy and expect to be true to ourselves and the oath which we have taken. For in fact, today we sit in judgment of ourselves and how we judge ourselves is how we will be remembered. We can be remembered as men with right consciences who placed political ambition and partisan bickering aside for the sake of justice, or we can be remembered as a body which was motivated by political opportunism. A few years from now only those of us in this Assembly will truly remember what happens here today. But those of us who remember, will ponder, except for the most callous the outcome and our personal part in that outcome. A bad judgment will not be forgotten because it cannot be erased. That indelible mark will remain and although time dims the memory it will continue to remain. How well many of you sleep tonight and succeeding nights to come will depend entirely on what price you place on the maintenace of your integrity and your honor. For some of those who would prostitute their integrity and honor for one reason or another, it will not take long to realize their error, just as it did not take Judas Iscariot long to comprehend his error. Others, it will take a bit longer and they, like Augustine, will try to shove the inevitable aside, but it is inevitable.

Ladies and gentlemen, I would ask of you to clearly and honestly consider what you have heard in the assembly and then vote your conscience, vote your honest convictions-then I am certain there can be but one result and that is a resounding no to the majority report. However, if partisanloyalty and discipline are more important than honor and integrity to you, you have only my pity, for you deserve to be pitied.

Amendment H- 3874 lost.
(Senate File 217 pending at adjournment and placed under unfinished business.)

GOVERNOR'S VETO MESSAGE
(Senate File 338)
A copy of the following communication was received and placed on file:

May 15, 1975
The Honorable Arthur A. Neu
Lieutenant Governor and President of the Senate
Sixty-sixth General Assembly
State Capitol Building
Local
Dear Governor Neu:
I am returning herewith Senate File 338, an Act relating to the membership of the Iowa Natural Resources Council, disapproved and without my signature to the Senate in accordance with Article III, Section 16, of the Constitution of the State of Iowa.

Senate File 338 would prohibit more than five of the Governor's nine appointees to the Natural Resources Council from being members of the same political party. In addition the difficulty with this bill is that it would apply this limitation on a retroactive basis to appointments that have already been made and are awaiting confirmation and to present members.

Iowa law calls for appointments to the Natural Resources Council to be made within sixty days following the organization of each biennial regular session of the General Assembly. On March 12, 1975, I complied with that requirement by submitting to the Iowa Senate four names for confirmation to the Natural Resources Council. Those appointees fully meet the requirements for membership on the Natural Resources Council established in Chapter 455A of the Code of Iowa.

Questions have since been raised by some legislators concerning, not their qualifications, but the fact that they are Republicans. Some have advocated that a balance in the political affiliation of Council members be required. Senate File 338 was introduced following the submission of my appointments to accomplish that balance-unfortunately on a retroactive basis.

I have indicated that I would accept a change should the legislators decide that they want a partisan balance for the Natural Resources Council, and that I would make future appointments in such a manner until such time that the desired partisan balance is achieved. I have also voiced my willingness to cooperate with the legislators in working with them to restructure the Natural Resources Council among several other departments.

While I can support changed requirements for future appointments to the Natural Resources Council, I believe it is eminently unfair to apply this kind of restriction to persons serving on an existing council on a retroactive basis.

If approved, Senate File 338 would completely nullify the appointments I made to the Council this spring. The appointments were made in full compliance with existing law. The appointments were accepted in good faith by responsible and competent Iowans willing to serve in our state government.

It is interesting to note that we haven't heard any one question the legality of the appointments or the competency of the appointees. Yet the supporters of this measure would arbitrarily prevent the two reappointees and the two new appointees from serving on the Council merely because of their party affiliation. This measure has become nothing less than an attempt to replace competent, legally appointed Republicans with Democrats.

The blatant partisan motive behind Senate File 338 is evident. No concern for political balance among Council members was expressed prior to these appointments. Only after the appointments were made was the bill introduced and passed. In a herculean burst of effort, the Legislature processed this bill out of order to rush it down to me only one day after final passage. In the rush, the Legislature violated its own procedures by not providing sufficient time for motions to reconsider to be filed. As a result the House of Representatives had to request that the bill be withdrawn from the Governor's consideration and then resubmitted.

I urge the Legislature to reconsider Senate File 338 to provide for restrictions only on future appointments-not on those where good Iowans have in good faith accepted their appointments. Until then, I believe I have no alternative except to veto the measure.

For the reasons I have outlined above, I hereby respectfully disapprove of this Senate File 338.

Sincerely, ROBERT D. RAY Governor

An attorney who actually serves on a panel shall not serve on another panel for a period of one year thereafter. The supreme court shall provide for the compiling of the lists of attorneys, which shall not include any attorney who is not experienced in trial practice.

Sec. 23. NEW SECTION. HEARINGS AND EVIDENCE.

1. The chairman of the medical evaluation panel shall convene the panel for a hearing of the claims in the action assigned to that panel as soon as is practicable after the selection of the panel. d. That the conduct complained of was or was not a cause of the resultant damages.
e. Whether the plaintiff suffered any disability and the extent and duration of the disability, and whether the plaintiff suffered any permanent impairment and the percentage of the impairment.

If called as a witness a medical evaluation panel member shall be required to appear and testify.
2. In the event that the expert opinion of the panel is unanimous respecting all issues material to the controversy, the party in whose favor the opinion was rendered shall be entitled, upon being awarded a verdict or judgment, to recover the actual total costs expended by that party in proving those issues at trial, notwithstanding any limitations on recoverable witness fees or expenses otherwise provided by law.

Sec. 26. NEW SECTION. COURT RULES.

arbitration pursuant to this section to the extent not inconsistent with this section, and in the event of conflict the provisions of this section shall supersede the provisions of that chapter.
3. Each member of the panel shall receive compensation and reimbursement for expenses for services in arbitration in the amounts and to the extent provided in section twenty-eight (28) of this Act.
4. In the event any action is submitted to arbitration as provided in this section, the amounts otherwise taxable as costs pursuant to section twentyfive (25) of this Act and the amounts paid to the panel for service in arbitration as provided in this section shall be paid by the state and the parties to the agreement shall be exempted from any payment thereof. The costs shall be payable out of appropriations to the supreme court upon certification by the chief judge of the district court to the court administrator of the judicial department.

NEW UNNUMBERED PARAGRAPH. The state department of health shall review every opinion of a medical evaluation panel received from the clerk of the district court which relates to an action in which a hospital was a party defendant. If the opinion indicates noncompliance with rules or standards established by the department, proceedings for the suspension or revocation of the license of that hospital may be commenced as provided in this chapter. If there has not been any failure to comply with rules or standards, the department shall review the opinion for the purpose of determining whether or not changes in rules or standards are needed to accomplish the purposes of this chapter. Sec. 32. Section one hundred forty-seven point eighty-seven (147.87), Code 1975, is amended by adding the following new unnumbered paragraph :
$N E W$ UNNUMBERED PARAGRAPH. The department shall review every opinion of a medical evaluation panel

If the opinion indicates a violation of this chapter the department, either independently or in conjunction with the examining board, may initiate proceedings for the suspension or revocation of the license involved, or may initiate such other proceedings as are provided by this chapter or this title for violations.

Sec. 33. Chapter one hundred forty-seven (147), Code 1975, is amended by adding sections thirty-four (34) through thirty-seven (37) of this Act.

Sec. 34. NEW SECTION. REVOCATION OF LICENSES.

1. In addition to the provisions of sections one hundred forty-seven point fifty-eight (147.58) to one hundred forty-seven point seventy-one (147.71) of the Code, an examining board after due notice and hearing may direct the commissioner of health to issue an order to revoke or suspend a license to practice, or to discipline a person licensed to practice for any of the grounds set forth in sections one hundred forty-seven point fifty-five (147.55) and one hundred forty-seven point fifty-six (147.56) of the Code or if, after a hearing, the examining board determines that a person licensed to practice is guilty of any of the following acts or offenses:

b. Being convicted of a felony in the courts of this state or another state, territory, or country. Conviction as used in this paragraph shall include a conviction of an offense which if committed in this state would be deemed a felony without regard to its designation elsewhere, or a criminal proceeding in which a finding or verdict of guilt is made or returned, but the adjudication of guilt is either withheld or not entered. A certified copy of the final order or judgment of conviction or plea of guilty in this state or in another state shall be conclusive evidence.

h. Inability to practice with reasonable skill and safety by reason of illness, drunkenness, excessive use of drugs, narcotics, chemicals, or other type of material or as a result of a mental or physical condition. The examining board shall, upon probable cause, have authority to compel a licensed person to submit to a mental or physical examination by designated physicans. Failure to submit to an examination shall constitute admission to the allegations made against the licensed person and the finding of fact and decision of the examining board may be entered without the taking of testimony or presentation of evidence. At reasonable intervals, the person shall be afforded an opportunity to demonstrate that he or she can resume the competent practice of the profession with reasonable skill and safety to patients.

A person licensed to practice who makes application for the renewal of his or her license, as required by section one hundred forty-seven point ten (147.10) of the Code gives consent to submit to a mental or physical examination as provided by this paragraph when directed in writing by the examining board. licensed to practice shall be substantially in accord with the procedure provided in this section.
2. The examining board may, upon their own motion or upon verified complaint in writing, and shall, if such complaint is filed by the commissioner of public health, issue an order fixing the time and place for hearing thereon. A written notice of the time and place of the hearing together with a statement of the charges shall be served upon the licensee at least ten days before said hearing in the manner required for the service of notice of the commencement of an ordinary action.
3. If the licensee has absented or removed himself from the state, the notice and statement of the charges 10 shall be so served at least twenty days before the date of the hearing, wherever he or she may be found. If the whereabouts of the licensee is unknown, service may be had by publication as provided in the rules of civil procedure upon filing the affidavit required by said rules. In case the licensee fails to appear, either in person or by counsel at the time and place designated in said notice, the examining board shall proceed with the hearing as hereinafter provided.
4. The hearing shall be before a member or members designated by the board or before a hearing officer appointed by the board. The presiding board member or hearing officer is empowered to issue subpoenas, administer oaths and take or cause depositions to be taken in connection with the hearing. He or she shall issue subpoenas at the request and on behalf of the licensee. The hearing shall be open to the public.

The hearing officer shall be vested with full authority of the board to schedule and conduct hearings. The hearing officer shall prepare and file with the board of examiners findings of fact and conclusions of law, together with a complete written transcript of all testimony and evidence introduced at the hearing and all exhibits, pleas, motions, objections and rulings of the hearing officer.
5. A stenographic record of the proceedings shall be kept. The licensee shall have the opportunity to appear personally and by counsel, with the right to produce evidence in his or her own behalf, to examine and cross-examine witnesses and to examine documentary evidence produced against him or her.
6. If a person refuses to obey a subpoena issued by the presiding member or hearing officer or to answer a proper question put to him or her during the hearing, the presiding member or hearing officer may invoke the aid of a court of competent jurisdiction or judge of this court in requiring the attendance and testimony of such person and the production of papers. A failure to obey such order of the court may be punished by the court as a civil contempt may be punished.

7. Unless the hearing is before the entire board, a transcript of the proceeding, together with exhibits presented, shall be considered by the entire board at the earliest practicable time. The licensee and counsel shall have the opportunity to appear personally to present the licensee's position and arguments to the board. The board shall determine the charge or charges upon the merits on the basis of the evidence in the record before it.
8. If a majority of the members of the board vote in favor of finding the licensee guilty of an act or offense specified in section one hundred fortyseven point fifty-five (147.55) or one hundred fortyseven point fifty-six (147.56) of the Code or section thirty-four (34) of this Act, the board shall prepare written findings of fact and its decision imposing one or more of the following disciplinary measures:
a. Suspend the person's license to practice his or her profession for a period to be determined by the board.
b. Revoke the person's license to practice his or her profession.
c. Suspend or revoke the privilege of the person to engage in specified activities or practices within the profession as a condition of permitting the person otherwise to retain his or her privilege to practice.
d. Suspend imposition of judgment and penalty or impose the judgment and penalty, but suspend enforcement and place the person on probation. The probation ordered may be vacated upon noncompliance. The examining board may direct the commissioner of health to restore and reissue a license to practice but may impose a disciplinary or corrective measure which it originally might have imposed. Such findings of fact and decision shall be filed with the commissioner of public health who shall within ten days from such filing enter an order revoking or suspending the license to practice or discipline the person as directed by the board in its decision. A copy of the commissioner's order shall immediately be sent by registered mail to the licensee's last known post-office address accompanied by a copy of the board's findings of fact and decision.
9. Judicial review of an examining board's action may be sought in accordance with the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act.
10. The commissioner's order revoking or suspending a license to practice or to discipline a licensee shall remain in force and effect until the appeal is finally determined and disposed of upon its merits.

Sec. 36. NEW SECTION. VOLUNTARY SURRENDER OF LICENSE. The commissioner of public health is hereby authorized to accept the voluntary surrender of a license if accompanied by a written statement of intention. Such voluntary surrender, when so accepted, shall have the same force and effect as an order of revocation.

Sec. 37. NEW SECTION. REINSTATEMENT. Any person whose license has been suspended, revoked or placed on probation may apply to the appropriate examining board for reinstatement at any time and the board may hold hearings on any such petition and may order reinstatement and impose terms and conditions thereof and issue a certificate of reinstatement to the commissioner of public health who shall thereupon issue a license as directed by the board.

Sec. 38. Section one hundred forty-eight point seven (148.7), subsection seven (7), Code 1975, is amended by adding the following new paragraph:

"NEW UNNUMBERED PARAGRAPH. Whenever an easement or other interest in property is acquired for the construction of a pipeline facility under chapter four hundred ninety (490) of the Code, by condemnation or by purchase where condemnation is available, upon agricultural land, payment for the easement or other interest in the property which is acquired, shall be made to the landowner in the form of a reasonable annual payment, or a single payment, at the option of the landowner. Such annual payments shall be paid on or before January tenth of each year.

The provisions in this section allowing renegotiation of damages shall be applicable whether the landowner receives an annual payment, or single payment, for the use of the property. As used in this section "landowner" means a person, company or corporation listed in the tax assessment rolls as responsible for payment of real estate taxes imposed on the affected property. If the ownership of the affected property changes, it shall be the responsibility of the new landowner to provide the condemnor or purchaser evidence of ownership prior to January tenth of the year following such transfer of ownership.

The initial appraisement shall be for a ten-year period after which time the condemnor or purchaser and the landowner may renegotiate the original single payment or adjust annual payments for the next and each succeeding ten-year period. Notice of such renegotiation shall be sent to the other party by registered mail within sixty days prior to the anniversary date of the original settlement. If the landowner and condemnor or purchaser of the easement are unable to reach agreement within ninety days of receipt of notice the dispute shall go to the compensation commission of the county in which the property is situated. If either party is not satisfied with the decision of the compensation commission, they may within thirty days from the date of that decision appeal to the district court of the district in which the property is situated. Payments resulting from such renegotiation or adjustment shall be proportional to the change in assessed valuation of the tract which has been subject to the easement during the prior ten-year period.

Anything in this section to the contrary nottion of a pipeline facility under chapter four hundred ninety (490), of the Code, shall continue for the period of the easement granted and shall in no way be interrupted during negotiations between the landowner and the condemnor or purchaser in establishing the new payment
