ELECTION OF SPEAKER

Reasoner of Union presented the name of the Honorable Patrick J. Murphy of Dubuque County as candidate for Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Eighty-second General Assembly.

Mertz of Kossuth seconded the nomination of Patrick J. Murphy for Speaker of the House.

Rants of Woodbury seconded the nomination of Patrick J. Murphy for Speaker of the House and moved that the Chief Clerk be authorized to cast the votes of all the members of the House of Representatives of the Eighty-second General Assembly.

In accordance with the foregoing motion, the Acting Chief Clerk cast the votes of all the members of the House of Representatives for the Honorable Patrick J. Murphy as the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Eighty-second General Assembly, was declared duly elected to that office.

Miller of Webster moved that a committee of two be appointed to escort the Speaker to the chair.

The motion prevailed and the following committee was appointed: Miller of Webster and Gipp of Winneshiek.

PRESENTATION OF SPEAKER

The Honorable Patrick J. Murphy was escorted to the Speaker's station and, having been sworn, assumed the chair. Temporary Speaker Whitaker presented Speaker Murphy with the gavel and congratulated him on his unanimous election.

Speaker Murphy thanked the House for the honor bestowed upon him and offered the following remarks:

First off I want to thank the people of the district that I represent, House District 28 of Dubuque. I've had the opportunity and the privilege of serving the people of that district for the last 18 years, and I appreciate the trust they have placed in me. But I also need to thank the members of this body for electing me as Speaker, and to my caucus for selecting me as their leader for the past three and a half years. I appreciate the trust that you have placed in me. It's been very humbling experience to have the opportunity to serve the citizens of the state of Iowa. I will try to do my best.

I'd also like to thank a few other people. I want to thank my family for everything they have done for me over the years. I wouldn't be able to be here unless I had a wife that was very committed. I want to thank my wife Teri, my children Jake, John, Joe, and Natalie, my daughters-in-law Jill and Stephanie, and to our three grandchildren, especially Tyler for leading us in the Pledge of Allegiance this morning.

I also want to take a second to remember one person who can't be here today, Representative Ray Zirkelbach, who is serving his country in Iraq. He has been over there for about 13 months, and our thoughts and prayers should be with Representative Zirkelbach every day when we do the opening prayer in this chamber, and for all of our troops that are defending this country.

I also want to thank Francis Guinta, a friend of my family for 30 years and one who's always helped me with my campaigns. And I know all the other 99 members will appreciate the next person I want to thank – my treasurer Vicki Krug. She's never been off by one penny in 18 years.

I was the ninth of ten kids and it definitely helped when I ran for public office; my siblings made up for all they did to me as the second youngest of ten kids when I put them to work on my campaign in 1989. And I wouldn't be here without the support of my brothers and sisters and my brothers-in-law and sisters-in-law, and for all the help from my nieces and nephews. I want to also thank the staff. I think members would agree on the importance of the support staff we have, whether it's the central staff or the caucus staff.

I need to personally thank some of the campaign staff – Karen Erickson, Kevin Boyd, Adam Phillips, Steve Chasse, and Tim Gannon, for their help over the last three years. Finally, I'd like to mention three people – my dad, my father-in-law, and my sister – who have passed away and could not be here today.

I believe in the American dream and in creating opportunities for Iowans to reach

it. The "Plan for Prosperity", which will be our roadmap this year, will harness the strength of our schools, our economy, and our natural resources with the values of Iowans to create a force for progress.

The "Plan for Prosperity" focuses on three major areas – improving learning from childhood through college; making Iowa the environmental "Green State"; and rewarding hard work.

Prosperity begins with a quality education and strong parental involvement. Children must be prepared to enter our schools, challenged with a rigorous K-12 curriculum, and taught by highly-qualified teachers. Higher education must be within the financial grasp of every Iowa student.

Our goal is to raise teacher salaries to at least 25th in the nation within five years. We must insist that teachers are certified in the subjects they teach and that students who are falling behind will get remedial help. We must provide state universities with sufficient funding so that tuition increases do not exceed the normal rate of inflation. And we must restore state support for work-study programs.

Iowa has energy alternatives – soy-based diesel, biomass, and wind energy - that can strengthen our economy, make a cleaner environment, create good jobs, and lessen reliance on foreign oil.

Our goal must be to establish Iowa as "The Green State" – internationally recognized for its alternative and renewable energy leadership. To that end, we intend to develop the nation's first bio-refinery for the next generation of ethanol technology and significantly increase the amount of electricity generated from renewable energy sources.

We must make Iowa a leader in the manufacture of alternative energy production equipment. We should create a private partnership to commercialize alternative fuels research and technology. It is also essential that we secure Iowa's food supply against catastrophic diseases and bio-terrorism.

Finally, we must assure that no one who works full-time is living in poverty. Right now, many hardworking Iowa families can barely make ends meet due to low wages and inadequate health care coverage. Similarly, main street businesses struggle with high commercial property taxes that stifle growth.

The "Plan for Prosperity" addresses the needs of small businesses and working families and offers hope for Iowans working hard to be successful. I hope we can all support legislation to raise the minimum wage from $5.15/hour to $7.25/hour. It has been 15 years since we last raised the minimum wage and there are over 100,000 Iowans currently making the minimum wage, 70% of whom are heads of household. This will be the first bill introduced and passed this year in the Iowa House. In addition, we must improve worker training programs at community colleges so that Iowans wanting to enhance their job prospects can acquire the skills they need.

On the business end, we must enable small businesses to pool their purchasing power and lower the cost of providing health insurance to their employees. And we must find a way to reduce property taxes on Iowa businesses without shifting the burden onto homeowners and farmers.

This is an ambitious agenda, but one that rewards hard work and makes it easier for Iowans to fulfill their dreams in Iowa. With this plan, all of Iowa's greatest assets can be fit together to reach a common goal for all Iowans – prosperity.

Those are things I think we can do to help our state prosper and to help our citizens prosper, and to help our children succeed in this state, so that we can grow this state and grow this economy. There's no question that it's an honor and a privilege to be here and I want to work with both Democrats and Republicans.

I don't care how big of a hole there is; I don't care what impediment there is; my goal is to build a bridge over to the other side, to work with anybody who wants to make this state prosper. That's my goal as Speaker and I ask for your support and help. I thank this body for the opportunity to serve you as Speaker. This is the opportunity for us as a body to move forward, to move ahead, to see what we can do to improve the lives of the average citizens of the state of Iowa. Thank you.

Thank you, spouses and children of my colleagues for the sacrifices you have made and will continue to make to permit your loved one the time and space needed to do the important work of the state.

I first want to thank my colleagues for the distinct honor of electing me to serve as the second woman Speaker Pro Tempore of the Iowa House of Representatives. I will not take my duties lightly, and will serve you, my peers, and the state of Iowa to the best of abilities. I pledge to you, my fellow members to maintain an open-door policy regardless of party affiliation as I work with the newly elected Speaker and Majority Leader in this transition period.

Now for the real reason we are here today. We are here to celebrate with our friends and family the honor bestowed on us by the voters in our respective districts. We are here to celebrate the 164 years that this Body has been serving the people of IOWA.

This year, however, we have more reason to celebrate than ever before. As our state has diversified, the House of Representatives has reflected that trend which better represents all the people of our great state.

Today we celebrate the twenty-eight elected women – a record number for the Iowa House.

Today, we celebrate our five elected minority members – a record four African Americans, and one Indian American.

Today, we celebrate a new youth movement in the House with a record number of eight members who are 30 and under. Think of the energy and fresh ideas these folks are bringing to our assembly!

Today we truly celebrate the fact that the People's House looks more and more like the PEOPLE we represent.

Today we celebrate all of us who come from different backgrounds, have different jobs, life experiences, and are at different phases in our lives. Let's use these different perspectives to build consensus and govern this state in the manner we are sent here to do – with responsibility, dedication and hard work.

Again, to my colleagues – THANK YOU FOR YOUR CONFIDENCE IN ME, to the staff members, door keepers, and maintenance crew – thank you for the hours of work to ready this chamber for opening day. To our families and friends – thank you for sharing our joy and celebration. ENJOY THE DAY!

REMARKS BY MINORITY LEADER

Rants of Woodbury offered the following remarks:

Thank you Mr. Speaker; Mr. Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House, Friends and Families.

“Truth is the glue that holds government together. Compromise is the oil that makes governments go.” That is how President Gerald Ford described the two basic elements needed to operate an effective government. It is as true today as it was thirty years ago.

Adhering to Ford’s analysis would serve us all well as next few weeks will be a period of adjustment for everyone in this chamber; for some it’s the adjustment of serving for the first time in the people’s House, for some it will be the challenge of accepting a new role of responsibility serving in the majority, and for we Republicans it will be the challenges of our new role as the loyal opposition.

One way to find that compromise, or that oil that makes government go, is to start out on common ground – an area where we have already found compromise. Last year we began the year in a bi-partisan fashion when Representatives Kuhn and Raecker co-sponsored House File 2002. This was the first bill debated by the appropriations committee, and it passed the full House in January. House File 2002 requires that the Senior Living Trust be repaid $300 million dollars. That bill had unanimous support in this chamber. I would hope there would be unanimity again as we now have a unique opportunity to make the Senior Living Trust whole by transferring our Fiscal Year 07 budget surplus – after the reserves are filled at ten percent – to refill the trust fund. This can be accomplished without impacting the budget for Fiscal Year 08 we are about to begin working on. We have all said that we support that measure, we now have the funds, and the opportunity to do so. Mr. Speaker, I would respectfully ask that we be allowed to honor that promise.

Republicans will be working this session to honor other promises that we have made. Like repaying the Senior Living Trust Fund, several are promises that Democrats made as well. Adopting a mechanism to allow small businesses to pool their employees to purchase health insurance was a campaign theme for both caucuses. You may expect that Republicans will, in the manner of any true loyal opposition, bring our suggestions and ideas to the public debate. For example, Republicans suggest that all employees be allowed to participate – not just 10 percent. Nor do we believe that allowing pooling for only a short period of time will serve those wanting to pool their employees well, rather we need a permanent solution. Additionally, Republicans believe wellness is key to driving down health costs. Changes to drive individual businesses to create a healthy workforce and family must happen. A simple change in Iowa law would allow small group plans to have differing premiums for smokers and nonsmokers. These kinds of “smart change” must occur with pooling if we are to produce results.

Limiting the crushing effect commercial property taxes are having on Iowa’s entrepreneurs is also on the Republican agenda. Speaker Murphy, I couldn’t agree more when you said, “this is the single biggest economic development issue for current existing businesses in this state.” I’m with you. But so far, I haven’t heard a proposed solution – other than more study. The last thing business owners need is another study. The last thing homeowners need is to become the new victims. There is an old adage, when you are in a hole and need to get out of it, the first thing you do is to stop digging. If we are going to improve Iowa's property tax climate, then the first step must be to limit the growth. To the Democrats who supported last biennium's House File 847, you know where the answer lies. If you are still interested in actually limiting the growth of property taxes, and not just shifting the burden to someone else, Republicans are here and ready to help – again, filling the role of the loyal opposition.

Earlier I spoke about starting out on common ground. Unfortunately one place that common ground will not exist is when Democrats pursue an agenda for which you do not have a public mandate. Gutting Iowa's Right to Work Law thru any type of forced unionism was not part of your pre-election agenda. We can't find it in any of your mailings, TV ads, or newspaper advertisements – yet it was rolled out the week following the election on Iowa public television.

Make no mistake; if you didn't campaign on it, you don't have a mandate for it. Raising the minimum wage – Democrats have a mandate. Forcing non-union members to pay union dues – Democrats have no mandate. Expanding job training at community colleges, mandate. Taking away an individual's right to choose whether or not to participate in a political organization – no mandate. 6% allowable growth for schools, mandate. Destroying Iowa's business climate – no mandate.

There is nothing "fair" about forcing individuals to pay dues to a union or any organization they do not choose to belong to. The first half of Iowa's motto is, "our liberties we prize" – attacking our Right to Work Law is an attack on those liberties. If Democrats pursue that course, you can expect Republicans to hold fast to the rest of our motto – our rights we will maintain.

More than two centuries ago, Samuel Adams observed, "It does not take a majority to prevail, but rather an irate, tireless minority keen to set brushfires in people's minds." If Democrats pursue this course of action, expect Republicans to be tireless in our opposition.

Mr. Speaker, I hope it doesn't come to that. There is plenty of common ground and plenty of work to do there. Alternative energy, for instance, is an important issue to both of our members. I can't think of a greater tribute to Representative Mary Lou Freeman, who unexpectedly passed away this fall, than to continue her work creating opportunities for Iowa farmers to raise not just corn and beans, but megawatts and ethanol. Much progress has been made in the last two years, but we must be ever mindful that technology changes, and Iowa must be on the leading edge in developing the next generation of bio based fuels, and more importantly developing a method of storing the vast amounts of energy generated across the windy plains of northern Iowa. Two ways to stay ahead of the curve are to invest in the research arms of our universities and empower the private sector to dictate the direction of that research. If there is one decision I would change from last session, it would be the make up of the Battelle Board, and who guides the research. Representative Wise, Representative Huser – I should have heeded your advice. Should you want to change the course we are on now, I would be glad to assist you in that effort.

I know that some of you are waiting for the Teddy Roosevelt quote – and others of you are just waiting for me to quit talking. Well, not today. But don't worry, I'll be quoting Roosevelt often enough this year. You see, Roosevelt began his career in elective office in 1882 as a member of the New York General Assembly. During his tenure in the people's house he made his mark by often rising during the heat of debate from the back of the chamber on procedural points of order, shouting to get the attention of the Speaker. I trust, Mr. Speaker, that pushing my button will suffice – shouting won't be necessary.

Mr. Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen, congratulations again on your individual victories. Great challenges await us all, and I look forward to the opportunity to work with each and every one of you. Mr. Speaker, Republicans are ready to go to work.

REMARKS BY THE MAJORITY LEADER

McCarthy of Polk offered the following remarks:

Thank you Mr. Speaker, Mr. Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House.

As the new Majority Leader, I want to acknowledge the outstanding work of my predecessor, Representative Gipp. Representative Gipp, you ran a first-rate office. As a leader, you were fair and open and you listened to all members, regardless of party. Thank you. Representative Rants, I enjoyed our meeting last week and look forward to working with you. If our meeting last week was an indication of things to come, I think you will agree that we can develop a good working relationship. I will do my best to keep you and your caucus informed on the bills we will be debating.

Like all of us here, we would not have been elected without the strong support of our friends and family and I want to acknowledge and thank my family that are present...my wife Marcy and our four-year old daughter Kennedy and my father and mother, Bill and Linda McCarthy.

Prior to this year, for most of the past few decades, voters in Iowa chose to have divided Government...where one political party controlled one or more chambers of the legislature and a different political party controlled the executive branch. After choosing divided government, we were always told that the resulting message Iowans were sending was that they wanted bi-partisan cooperation...that the message of divided control was that they wanted both parties to work together for the common good. But, we do not have a divided government this year. For the first time in four decades the Democrats control the House, Senate and the Executive Branch. If divided government equaled a message of cooperation for us as elected officials, what then is the message that voters sent to us this year where only one party now controls? Do we now have leave to abandon bi-partisanship? Is that the message voters gave us? Should we in the majority party avoid difficult bi-partisan work to instead take the easy road and utilize the structural power that we now have to accomplish our goals?

We know intuitively, of course, that this was not the message voters gave us this year at all. Rather, we know that now, probably more than any other time in our state's history; Iowans want us to put aside our petty differences and to resist the easy temptation to slip back into partisan bickering.

After last fall's campaigns, this may be harder than we would all like to admit. Several of you have just come off hard-fought, negative political campaigns. Some campaigns were so negative that it left the candidates involved longing for the good old days of negative campaigning where the opponents merely distorted each other's records. We need to improve the tone of our political discourse. Why? Because it is desperately needed and it is the right thing to do.

I believe the challenge this session for us in the majority party is to recognize that always traveling down the easy road of using our new power will not be as productive as the more difficult road is of bi-partisanship. The challenge for all of us here this year is to recognize that no one party has sole monopoly on the truth and that more often than not...the best legislation springs, not from partisan conflict, but from our work across party lines. This will not be easy, but we all know that in the long-run the easy road is never the best course to take. Let's all commit to take the road less traveled and to take that more difficult journey...together. Thank you Mr. Speaker.

President Kibbie then presented Governor Thomas J. Vilsack who delivered the following condition of the state address:

Thank you.

Mr. President, thank you very much and Mr. Speaker, thanks to you as well. And I want to thank all the members of the General Assembly for the opportunity to visit with you as governor for the last time to speak about the condition of our great state.

For the past eight years, I've considered this special moment, a moment of honor and privilege, to be able to speak directly to the people of our great state about the challenges, the choices and chances we collectively face. Today I feel particularly honored by the fact that the Governor-Elect, Chet Culver, and the Lieutenant Governor-Elect, Patty Judge, have found time in their busy schedule to join us today. Thank you for being here today. And I believe I speak for all of us here that we are looking forward to your special day on Friday when you will be sworn in as our next governor and lieutenant governor.

And speaking of lieutenant governors, no governor in the country has ever had a stronger or better relationship and the one that I have had with Lieutenant Governor Sally Pederson. Lieutenant Governor Pederson has added her voice to those who have little voice and she has stirred us to action. Mental health parity, a redesign of the mental health system, affordable housing for people with disabilities, a tour of the state to promote art and the important role it plays in all of our lives.

Greater diversity in boards and commission and staff appointments and comparable worth for the first time for women working in state government occurred with her leadership and reflect and represent her conscience and her commitment.

I want to take this opportunity to thank my partner for eight great years and I'd ask you to join me in doing so as well. I might get in a little trouble at home if I didn't also say a few words about Iowa's first volunteer and our first lady, Christie Vilsack. From the day I took the oath of office, no Iowan has worked longer and harder to make Iowa a great place to live, work and raise families.

I've watched Christie, I've watched her as kindergarteners clutched the book that she gave them, their first book, clutching it as if it was the most precious thing on earth. And indeed, a love of books and reading is precious. Christie through her foundation blessed over 200,000 of our children with that special moment.

I've watched as she's left Terrace Hill very early in the morning and didn't come back until very late at night so she could visit every possible library. She has visited over 500 libraries, the souls of our communities she calls them. And she also encouraged all of us to provide for the first time direct financial assistance to our libraries through the Enrich Iowa program.

I watched as she invited certified teacher librarians back into our Code and into our schools and thousands of Iowans to Terrace Hill for the Spring Fling, her monthly teas and receptions to Iowans who never thought they would have the opportunity to see the inside of the governor's mansion much less than the private quarters. Yes, I've watched her raise the profile of all of our first ladies and the contribution that they have made to our collective history with the first lady's exhibit in Terrace Hill.

Yes, I've watched and I've wondered at her energy, her passion and her commitment.

Honey, I want you to know I love you and I care deeply for you and I am so appreciative of the eight years that you have given to me, to the people of Iowa and especially to our children.

I'm certainly glad to have my son and his fiancée Kate with us today as well. And before I acknowledge the other dignitaries who are with us, I would like to say a word about state workers and the staff, the loyal staff who has served us and my administration for the last eight years. You know, we have weathered war, an attack on our country and some of the tough fiscal conditions any state government has ever seen. Through it all these individuals who work for us have also suffered personal tragedy and celebrated personal triumph.

Despite all of that they gave us countless hours of their effort and energy and passion to make this state a better place to live, work and raise families.

The same can be said for those who are our directors and those who serve on boards and commissions throughout this great state. I want you all to know that I owe them a debt of gratitude that I will never ever be able to repay. We are a great state because we have people willing to make sacrifices for us.

I'd like to acknowledge the dignitaries who are with us and I'd like to begin with this historic moment to acknowledge Iowa's first woman chief justice of the Supreme Court, Chief Justice Marsha Ternus and members of the Iowa Supreme Court.

I'd also like to welcome members of our Court of Appeals. It's an awkward moment for judges in this circumstance because they're not supposed to acknowledge any applause. It's part of our judiciary and we're proud of it.

Let me say, Madam Chief Justice, that I am excited about the opportunity that I'll witness tomorrow, a historic opportunity, as you give your inaugural Condition of the Judiciary speech. And as a proud member of the Iowa Bar Association, let me also say that we as Iowans are fortunate to have competent and independent judges throughout this great state.

Let me take this opportunity to acknowledge these distinguished public servants and all of our judges for their public service and most specifically for the work that they do that guarantees to us justice and equality under the law every day in our state.

As Iowans we are equally blessed by the dedication and commitment shown to us by our statewide elected officials. I've traveled to all four corners of the country and I can tell you that no state has ever been better served by an attorney general than we have been served by Tom Miller through his distinguished career.

And the same can also be said for our state treasurer. No state has been better served by our state treasurer than Mike Fitzgerald.

I want to thank these two gentlemen for their service and I want to tell you that they are acknowledged by their colleagues to be the best in the business and we are fortunate to have them.

They are also joined by our auditor, David Vaudt. Let me tell you that the auditor has continued the strong and proud tradition of the auditor's office as Richard Johnson was as the independent watchdog over the activities of state government and local government for the people of our state.

Mr. Auditor, I appreciate your hard work, I appreciate what you have done for us to make sure that we are doing the right thing for the people every day.

Now, that trio is joined by two newcomers, two newly elected statewide elected officials: Our Secretary of Agriculture and Land Stewardship Bill Northey and our Secretary of State Michael Mauro. These gentlemen have only been on the job for a week but I suspect they already know that they have fairly large shoes to fill.

But both of them bring compassion and passion, commitment and energy to the job. And I'm sure that they're going to succeed for themselves but more importantly they're going to succeed for all of us. Welcome.

I started my service 14 years ago walking into this state capitol and taking the oath of office as a state senator so I fully appreciate how busy members of the General Assembly are when a General Assembly first begins and so I do appreciate the opportunity that you have given me today to spend a few minutes of your time as you begin your work and as I finish mine.

I know because I've worked with most of you that all of the members of this General Assembly are dedicated and caring Iowans. I know that you hold in your heart what is best for the state of Iowa and that you're committed to making sure that you do good work.

Let me take this opportunity on behalf of all of the people of Iowa to thank you for your service, for your dedication and your commitment.

Now, during the course of my time here I've had the opportunity to deal primarily with the leadership and let me say a few words about leadership on both sides of the aisle. On the Republican side, I've had the opportunity to work with Speakers Corbett, Siegrist and Rants, Leaders Iverson, Lundby and Gipp and Presidents Lamberti and Kramer. I want to thank each of them for their understanding, for their willingness to work through good faith disagreements to a point where we could reach consensus and conclusion for the people of Iowa.

We are well served by a strong two-party system and their party has been well led throughout the eight years I have been governor. I've also been fortunate to work with leaders on my side, Leaders Schrader and Meyers and now speaker Pat Murphy. On the senate side President Jack Kibbie and Senate Majority Leader Mike Gronstal.

This is going to be tough because these are my friends. No governor has ever had a closer friendship, a closer relationship and better advisers than I have had from these leaders.

My party is fortunate and the caucuses are fortunate to have this leadership. I will miss working with them and miss working with you, but I know that both caucuses are well led and that both caucuses are geared towards a session that will be historic, that will move this state forward and so I wish you all the very best of luck in your dealings with one another.

Now, during the recent holiday I took my family in on tour of this great Capitol. I figured it was the fitting thing to do to appreciate the magnitude of this beautiful building as I was prepared to leave it.

The highlight of the tour was a trip to the top of our Capitol, to the very top of the dome. I had never been there before. I climbed all 298 steps from this floor to the top and I can tell you that every step was worth it for the view.

At first my view focused on the gold detail of our beautiful Capitol. As I walked outside and looked at the walkway that surrendered our dome, I began to reflect on the work that had been done in the last eight years and the people who made it happen.

I realized at that point that more than the landscape of our great state had changed. We as a people had changed. We are more hopeful and optimistic as our state leads an energy revolution not just for Iowa but for the entire nation.

We take pride in knowing that we are the best at producing ethanol and soy diesel and renewable fuel and that the rest of the nation is looking for us for leadership.

We are more tolerant and welcoming as witnessed by the fact that we created New Iowan Centers and we expanded their number to welcome people from all over the world to our great state, to make them feel part of our community.

And we are more cognizant of our environment as we begin the process of reversing decades of decline on our water resources. All of that and much more bodes very well for the future but only, only if we accept the challenge and the opportunity that change presents.

From the top of the Capitol looking east I looked at the Grimes office building and recognized that that's where our department of education worked and just beyond that is an elementary school, the Capitol View school. It's part of the Des Moines school district. It is an elementary school that the governor's office has a special relationship with. It represents the growing diversity of our state.

It is there that I met a very precocious fourth grader by the name of Chrystal Martin. You know, over the last seven years we in this great Capitol have worked hard to create over 200 million dollars of assistance to views class sizes in the elementary grades.

Iowans, all of us, were concerned and worried about an erosion of the skills, the reading skills of our young children by virtue of the fact that we had seen eight consecutive years of declining test scores.

Well, Chrystal was part of a generation of learners that we were concerned about and was not fairing as well as we had hoped until we collectively decided to take action and change things for the better.

Well, when Chrystal saw me she walked up and she said, "Are you the governor?" And I said, "Yes, I am." She stood up straight and tall and she said, "Well, I'm Chrystal Martin and they told me that I couldn't read at grade level but I just got my test scores back and I'm reading at grade level."

Well, ladies and gentlemen, I looked into the eyes of that child and I saw more than I needed to see about the importance of class size reduction and focusing on reading skills. More than the six consecutive years of improved test scores we've seen recently. I saw power in the eyes of that child, the power to read, the power to learn and most importantly of all the power to achieve dreams.

We need to continue our class size reduction efforts and build on that and build we did when we began the process of strong start, our early childhood initiative. It focused on children zero to six years of age. We wanted them to have their parents be their first and best teacher, we wanted to improve quality childcare, we wanted to expand access to preschool.

Well, every child in our state deserves a better future but our work to ensure that better future is not finished. Indeed, while thousands of children have been helped by Strong Start, thousands more remain in need of help and that is the challenge that the change we started presents.

Do we continue to work for those who have no powerful lobby but represent 100 percent of our future. That is the opportunity that change presents. We'll be able to expand Strong Start to a point where every child has access to preschool. Let universal preschool in this state be the change that allows and enables every child in our state a chance, the opportunity to start school ready to learn, able to learn and excited about learning.

Let us be the first state in the union to make that unqualified guarantee to every single child in our state.

Great learning requires great teaching and teachers deserve our respect and they deserve to be well paid. No athlete, no CEO, no governor on their best day performs as much magic as a classroom teacher performs every day. Yet teaching salaries lag behind the salaries of those who entertain us, those who operate our companies and those who govern us.

I applaud the Governor-Elect and legislative leaders for their intention to expand and accelerate the work we started to improve teaching salaries by raising them to the national average, but this General Assembly could use this opportunity to look for more innovative ways to reward stellar performance in our schools by creating a new and improved compensation system.

The current compensation system was modeled after activities 90 years ago and during that period of time little has changed. I believe the legacy of this General Assembly and our new leaders will not be a preservation of the old but an acceptance and embracement of the new.

I believe you can blaze a new trail waiting for no state, no city, no school district. Let Iowa be the leader that delivers a new and improved compensation system. Let Iowa be the leader that says to every single teacher you are respected and you will be compensated accordingly. Let Iowa do that for our teachers and most importantly of all for our children.

One final word about education. I know that it's appropriate and necessary for us to continue to talk about the rising cost of college and university tuitions and plans to help reduce the heavy load that our youngsters are currently having to carry, but I hope that we extend that conversation a bit to recognize that there are some who do not go to college not because they can't afford it but because they've not graduated from high school.

Now, our state is one of the best states in terms of high school graduation rates and we can take pride in that but the drop out rate among minority students while it is approved still conditions to lag behind. We need help. We need help for those students who need extra help. Additional investments in the Iowa Jobs for America's Graduate program that we started several years ago, a high school dropout prevention program, will guarantee continued success.

Nine out of ten Iowa seniors graduate from high school but only seven out of ten are minority students. It's not enough in our state for every white child to graduate from high school to have a shot at college and a better future.

It's necessary and important for us to continue to work until every child regardless of color graduates from high school and has a shot at college and a brighter and better future.

That is a challenge that change presents to us and for our future and our children's future we must meet and accept that challenge for if we do not all of us will share in the consequence of failure. As I looked to the north from the top of the Capitol I looked at the Mercy Hospital clinic and I thought of my good friend Doctor Steve Gleason. Doctor Steve worked at Mercy and he also worked at this Capitol. He was a passion at advocate for healthcare reform. It was his belief that every Iowa and every American deserved access to quality healthcare and that that access should never be denied or delayed.

If he were with us today, I think he would be happy with the fact that Iowa is only one of two states that reduced the number of uninsured last year and we ranked second in the nation in overall healthcare coverage. Almost 92 percent of our citizens are covered.

But I don't think Steve would be satisfied with that. I think he would remind us that every Iowan, every Iowan deserves coverage, every Iowa and deserves to get the care they need when they need it.

And so my challenge to you and the challenge that change presents is simply this: Let Iowa, let our state be the first, let this General Assembly and this new administration be the first not just to promise universal access to healthcare but to deliver on that promise to every singled child and every single adult and every single citizen of this state. We can do this.

And for those who may be doubtful, for those who may wonder whether we can afford it, let me simply say I believe we cannot afford not to. This is something that we can do in this state. You have worked hard, you have gotten us to this point, let's finish the job in healthcare.

Now, as important as that job is you should not be satisfied with just simply providing universal coverage. As tough and as challenging and as daunting as that task may be. We started down another path in healthcare, an important path, a path of actually reducing the cost of healthcare to Iowa citizens.

We established the Senior Living Trust to reduce the need for nursing home care and allow people to remain in their homes with greater dignity for longer periods of time. We extended healthcare insurance coverage to a series of mental illness so that folks wouldn't have to get so sick that they finally got attention.

We also created the Iowa Cares program in an effort to say to those who are uninsured at Broadlawns and at the University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics you don't have to go to an expensive and necessary emergency room visit, you can go to a less expensive doctor's office visit.

We began this important work and understand how significant it is. We have begun the transformation of our healthcare system from one that simply prevents diseases and treats diseases to one that not only prevents but also occurs the incurable.

You have three important missions it seems to me in this General Assembly that you ought to give very serious consideration to as you continue this transformation.

First, we must begin the process of accelerating our efforts to reduce childhood obesity. Our children need to be active, our children need to eat nutritious snacks, our children need to be healthy, we owe it to them.

Second, it's important that we continue to expand dramatically our efforts to reduce teenage smoking and other drug use.

And third and finally and this is important if we're interested in occurring incurable diseases, we must lift the ban on nuclear cell transplants now.

As I moved to the view of the Capitol that looks west I recognized an appreciated our work here had changed the landscape of the city of Des Moines view is Vision Iowa program and the Values Fund and it occurred to me that through those program and the communities and attraction tourism program we've not just changed the landscape of one community, we've changed the landscape of hundreds of communities in 90 counties in over 500 projects and that number continues to grow.

Over ten billion dollars of Capitol investment has been committed and will create or retain well over 30,000 jobs and that number will also increase over time. These projects and these programs have allowed us to have one of the fastest growing economies in the country, have enabled us to record a record number of employed Iowans, have improved family incomes above the national median for the first time in some time, helped to reverse the brain drain and perhaps as importantly as anything established Iowa as the undisputed leader in renewable energy production.

But the time is past due, the time is past due to extend economic progress for those who work at minimum wage jobs. Let's bring the progress that we've experienced as a state to everyone. Let's raise the minimum wage and let's do it this year.

As I thought about our work on the economy through these programs, I thought of Terri Goodman from Dubuque, Iowa. For me she represents the spirit of this new Iowa.

She lives in Dubuque and she was one of the primary movers of the Dubuque Vision Iowa project, the America River Museum. It's a museum that led to a contribution and participation by folks from all over the country in investing tens of millions of dollars along the riverfront in Dubuque. It helped to transform that community.

It also celebrates the ecology and the important role that the Mississippi River plays. Well, after the museum opened I just assumed that that was all there was. But Terri representing this new spirit had more ideas, more opportunities to expand, more opportunities to take a further step and that's precisely what we need to continue to do here in this Capitol.

We cannot be satisfied with where we have, we must be satisfied that we need to get to a different place. That's why I hope that this General Assembly will continue to fund and expand great places. It's the next generation of Vision Iowa and I hope that there's a more focused Values Fund effort as the Governor-Elect has suggested to make sure that our state is indeed the energy secure state that it needs to be and can be. Let us be as the Governor-Elect has suggested the first state in the country to sever our relationship with foreign oil and foreign oil supplies so that we can provide a growing economy for our state.

You know, Governor-Elect, I realize the more times I refer to you the more times they stand up.

You know, Terri Goodman's vision extended beyond bricks and mortar. She understood the economic power of our water resources and we should as well. We now know more about our water after monitoring it for eight years and we know the need for improving it. We have a plan for those improvements and last year we made a one-year down payment to advance that plan.

But now I ask the General Assembly to display the courage of your convictions by an aggressive multiyear effort. It's time for us to make a clear statement about our concern for the environment. It's time for us to have a multiyear Vision Iowa-like program to clean up our water, to take full advantage of the potential of our water resources.

In doing so Iowa cannot only be an energy leader, we can and we must and we should be an environmental leader as well.

Now, I know that there may be some who ask whether or not such an aggressive ambitious agenda would be accomplished. I don't believe there is any question it can be. A growing economy that improved revenues last year and this year makes this agenda possible and more.

Our reserve accounts are full and we're well on our way to repaying the entire debt we owe to the Senior Living Trust. It's a payoff for all the hard work and sacrifices that previous general assemblies are made.

Finally I looked to the south, to the south of this great Capitol, and I saw the memorial to the fallen and I reflected on the current war and calls I've made to family members. I made one just last week.

You know, war and death and destruction caused from it do not distinguish on color or culture. Just simply read the names on the memorial. They come from all walks of life, all parts of our world. We owe those who serve us a great debt.

We've attempted to repay it in small ways. First-time home buyers assistance program for our National Guard men and women, money for injured soldiers and their families, Bobby and Michelle's bill, a veterans trust fund so we continue to make sure that veterans understand that they have earned rights and privileges. Full college tuition assistance and a national cemetery, an appropriate final resting place for those who have sacrificed so much.

But it is not enough. It is not enough. We can and we must do more. We can honor their sacrifice by promoting tolerance, understanding and compassion for those who may be different than us. The current strife in Iraq stems from a failure to accept diversity of blood and belief. Sunnis, Shias and Kurds do not get along. Their children die, our children die. If we really want to honor those who have given so much for us, we should not depend on the Iraq I say to accept that responsibility. That is our responsibility.

So let us pledge here and now as Americans, not as Republicans or Democrats, but as Americans, let us dedicate ourselves to making diversity in whatever form it may come a reason to love and not to hate, a reason to accept and not reject, a reason to celebrate and not to fight.

We can start by making our schools safe for all of our children by passing the antibullying bill. Do it for them, do it for us and do it now.

This war has cost us a lot. It has hollowed out our military, it has in my view weakened our National Guard and it puts our nation at risk. This war has compromised our national government's ability to meet the needs here at home. Better schools, accessible and affordable healthcare and modern infrastructure.

Now the president and the congress are poised to make a big mistake even bigger by escalating America's involvement by adding more troops and investing more resources, by failing to recognize that the responsibility for success lies not with us but with the Iraqis and their government.

Understand that escalation will come at the expense of families and communities here in Iowa and across the nation. We will once again send National Guard troops from this state to Iraq for another long-term deployment. Escalation will further erode our nation's ability to adequately fund needs here at home.

As governor and as the commander in chief, I have an obligation to speak out and to urge the president and congress not to put more Iowans and Americans in harm's way in Iraq.

But I have another obligation. One that extends beyond my role as governor and commander in chief. It is as an Iowan and as an American. And I use that obligation to ask you, the members of the General Assembly, to speak out as well. I ask you to use your collective voice to pass a resolution urging our president and our congress not to make this tragic mistake for those who will unnecessarily die.

This may not be part of the agenda, this may not be part of what you plan to do, but I ask you today and throughout this General Assembly to look down deep inside your heart and ask yourself if you're doing all you can do to make sure we do not make a big mistake even bigger.

Let me end my time with you today where I began, with a thank you. I owe a thank you to the people of Iowa for granting me the privilege that few have ever had, the opportunity to serve them as governor.

While challenges clearly remain, we have built a state better prepared for what lies ahead. I have given it my all and I have done my best, but as I leave I'm confident. I'm confident that Iowa's best is yet to come starting right here and starting right now. God bless you all.

An Extraordinary Resolution honoring Governor Thomas J. Vilsack for his eight years as Governor of the State of Iowa.

Whereas, Thomas J. Vilsack today addressed the Eighty-second General Assembly of the State of Iowa and in so doing, delivered, in addition to his Inaugural Address in 1998, his eighth and last Condition of the State message to the Iowa General Assembly as Governor of the State of Iowa; and

Whereas, This Joint Convention of 50 Senators and 100 Representatives therefore is honored to represent the hundreds of women and men who served in the four General Assemblies during Governor Vilsack's eight-year tenure as Governor; and

Whereas, Beginning today the state's historians and others will record and evaluate the ways in which Governor Vilsack's dedicated public service as the 39th Governor of the State of Iowa has enriched the history of Iowa state government, and the ways in which his service has touched the lives of all Iowans; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved By The Eighty-Second General Assembly In Joint Convention, That the Joint Convention remark for posterity upon Governor Thomas J. Vilsack's relationship, as head of the executive branch of state government, to the legislative branch of state government, to wit:

Thomas J. Vilsack's two-term tenure as Governor has been marked by a constructive separation of powers during which the Governor's policy objectives have been effectively communicated to the General Assembly, and the General Assembly has freely exercised its constitutionally mandated independence in making public policy through its lawmaking function. The results of this relationship will be recalled by others in more detail than can be expressed in this Resolution, but for members of the General Assembly whose service parallels Governor Vilsack's service, the following general contributions will serve as reminders of the many significant policy changes fashioned during Governor Vilsack's tenure in office from 1999 until today:

1. ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT. Creation of the Iowa Values Fund to grow the Iowa economy by creating jobs and securing capital investments; the Vision Iowa and Community Attraction and Tourism Programs to improve communities through investments in education, cultural, and recreational attractions; and the Great Places Program to identify unique places to live, work, and play.

2. EDUCATION. Establishment of lifelong opportunities for learning, emphasizing early childhood programming, higher standards of student achievement, class size reduction, and access to Iowa's libraries to enrich its citizenry.

3. HUMAN SERVICES. Initiatives to increase health care coverage to uninsured children and to provide continuing access to high-quality health care through the federal-state Medicaid program, related indigent care programs, and mental health insurance coverages.

4. RENEWABLE ENERGY. Creation of incentives to facilitate the development of the renewable energy industry, including ethanol and biodiesel fuel and wind energy production.

5. ENVIRONMENT. Water quality initiatives to prioritize water quality improvements for rivers and lakes and to monitor quality through volunteers; and the expansion of outdoor recreation opportunities through the creation of a destination state park.

6. CRIMINAL JUSTICE. Strengthening of the criminal justice system through restrictions placed on pseudoephedrine sales and enhanced penalties.

7. GOVERNMENT EFFICIENCY AND ACCESSIBILITY. Creation of entrepreneurial charter state agencies and the Department of Administrative Services; and providing state government accountability and access to government institutions through electronic portals.

Be It Further Resolved by the Eighty-second General Assembly In Joint Convention,
That Governor Vilsack be recognized for the national leadership he assumed as Governor of the State of Iowa, including as a Chair of the Midwestern Governors' Conference, the National Governors' Association, the Democratic Governors' Association, and the Democratic Leadership Council; and

Be It Further Resolved by the Eighty-second General Assembly In Joint Convention,
That we hereby admonish writers, historians, and journalists, young and old, to compose their portrayals and analyses of the Thomas J. Vilsack years with wisdom, thoroughness, and compassion; and

Be It Further Resolved by the Eighty-second General Assembly In Joint Convention,
That the Joint Convention honor Governor Thomas J. Vilsack for his devoted service to the State of Iowa and the citizens of this State; and

Be It Further Resolved by the Eighty-second General Assembly In Joint Convention,
That a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to Governor Thomas J. Vilsack, and to First Lady Christie Vilsack, where it is hoped it will be received as a symbol of appreciation, good wishes, and affection extended by the Eighty-second General Assembly and the people of Iowa to the Governor, First Lady, and their family.

The motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

President Kibbie presented Governor Thomas J. Vilsack with an enrolled copy of the resolution.

Governor Thomas J. Vilsack was escorted from the House chamber by the committee previously appointed.

On motion by McCarthy of Polk, the Joint Convention was dissolved at 10:54 a.m.

The House resumed session at 11:00 a.m., Speaker Murphy in the chair.

Introduction

The ceremonial events of this week carry great meaning, not just for those of us who work in state government, but for all Iowans. They serve to remind us of the significance of our endeavor to do what is best and right for Iowa, which is, after all, the reason we are all here. Regardless of our different roles, tenure, political affiliation—or lack of political affiliation—we all made a conscious decision to hold public office, first and foremost, because we care deeply about serving the people of our great state.

This common goal—to do what is best and right for Iowans—is a strong unifying force that serves as the foundation of our working relationships. Naturally, we can share a goal and disagree on how to reach it. But so long as our common goal is our first consideration, we can achieve a great deal to move Iowa forward. I and the other members of the judicial branch look forward to working with you in this spirit.

Now, I turn to the reason we are gathered here this morning: the State of the Judiciary. I regard this address as one of the chief justice's most important duties. This occasion is the best opportunity for the judicial branch to share with you and the people of Iowa our assessment of the state's court system and to let you know what improvements and issues are on the horizon.

Today, I'm pleased to report that our assessment is positive. The judicial branch is ably performing its constitutional and statutory duties. This good report is due primarily to the efforts of the nearly 2000 dedicated individuals who are the judicial branch of government. Public service inspires and drives their efforts every day. Working together as a team, our judges and professional staff skillfully fulfill our vital mission, which is administering justice according to law, equally to all people. I am immensely proud of them.

Our capacity to resolve thousands upon thousands of cases efficiently and effectively is also a result of your support. You have a solid history of providing the resources, statutory procedures and fair compensation required to operate a high caliber court system. We are grateful and trust that you will give the work of the courts similar consideration again this year.

While this good news certainly makes this message easier to deliver—and probably easier for you to receive—there is more to tell you because there is always room for improvement. So today, I intend to discuss some of our efforts to improve the delivery of court services to Iowans. Some improvements are simple changes that are easy to implement; others are multi-faceted and ambitious efforts that will take years to complete. But all are important steps that will serve the best interests of the public.

E-filing and Paperless Courts

Nothing has transformed our service to the public more than information technology and the Internet. In the past few years, we've harnessed the power of technology so Iowans can pay fines, check child support payment records, watch supreme court oral arguments, check criminal backgrounds, read appellate court opinions, track down judgments and liens, and determine court schedules online, 24/7.

Now we're poised to begin our most ambitious undertaking ever—the transformation from a paper-based to a completely paperless court system. We plan to begin by testing electronic filing and paperless procedures in two pilot counties later this year. Once the pilot project testing is completed, we will implement electronic filing in the appellate courts. After that is done, we will gradually add the remaining trial courts. If all goes as planned, we will have E-filing available statewide in five years.

Switching to a completely electronic system will require special court rules. For the past year, a very capable committee has worked diligently on the procedural rules we will need to implement and manage a paperless system, rules that will be released for public comment tomorrow. I want to take this opportunity to publicly acknowledge the thoughtful and thorough work of this committee, chaired by Judge Robert Hutchison of Des Moines and attorney David Beckman of Burlington.

Our transformation into a paperless court will dramatically modernize court operations and revolutionize public access to the courts. Just imagine the benefits. Iowans will be able to search and view entire court files online, around-the-clock, from the convenience of their home, office, or local library. E-filing means no more last minute dashes or long drives to the courthouse to file papers. Judges, court staff, lawyers, litigants and others will have immediate and simultaneous access to court files. The pressure on clerks' staff to hunt down files and make copies will vanish. Local governments will be relieved of the cost of leasing more space in which to warehouse paper files.

While a paperless operation will produce substantial benefits to court staff, court users, and the public, it will also produce heightened concerns about information security and personal privacy. Court records routinely contain personal identification information and other material of a personal or sensitive nature. Although most of this information is presently available to the public, it is, for all practical purposes, unseen. The task of finding and accessing a paper record in one file among thousands of files located in one of our one hundred courthouses impedes widespread dissemination and misuse of these records. But after the judicial branch shifts to electronic filing and record management, court records will be readily available for unconstrained, global public consumption. Individuals involved in court proceedings will be more vulnerable to identity theft and prying eyes. Such universal and easy access is a concern not only for the courts and other government offices that use or are contemplating the use of online access to records, but also for the citizens of Iowa who value their security and privacy.

I want to emphasize that the courts protect and will continue to protect information that is confidential by law; but current laws do not bestow confidential status on most of our records, which include, among other items, birth dates, addresses, children's names, and financial account information. There is a valid reason to restrict public access to personal identification information, financial account information and other information that could be used by identity thieves, as well as certain information that could expose people, such as minor children and victims, to other types of harm. Protecting this information will require a combination of court rules and legislative action, as well as diligence on the part of attorneys and litigants.

The first safeguard is simple. Lawyers and litigants should simply omit personal information from papers and exhibits when such information is not required by law or is not germane to a legal issue in a case. To instill this safeguard into our procedures, the Supreme Court recently adopted new rules to discourage people from filing information the court does not need.

But how do we protect personal information that is material to a proceeding or required by law? In this situation, we propose additional court rules that will apply to information provided to the court in electronic format. First, we propose that certain information, such as birth dates, children's names, financial account numbers and social security numbers, be submitted on a separate, protected information form that will be kept confidential. Second, when it is necessary to refer to or use protected information in a court document, a party would provide only a portion of the information. For example, if a minor child's name is necessary, parties would use only the child's initials. Or if a financial account number is pertinent, the party would use only the last four digits. We need and recommend your approval of a statutory amendment that will give the judicial branch the authority to protect personal information in this manner.

Now, what about other privacy concerns that will naturally arise with online access to court records? Court records contain all sorts of personal and sensitive information, such as tax returns, employment history, medical records, financial assets, and even the details of family disputes. Should information of this nature that courts receive and maintain in electronic format be available to the public to the same extent as it is currently available in our paper-based system? All Iowans value openness in government, but perhaps the balance between access to public information that explains government action and the protection of personal information citizens consider private should be reexamined. This issue requires a policy decision of tremendous importance to the citizens of this state. It is a policy decision properly to be made by you—the legislature. We hope you will give this issue your full attention this legislative session.

Improving Jury Service

Now I turn to another example of our plans to improve service to the public—a plan that focuses on the people who serve the state by answering the call to jury duty. Each year thousands of Iowans from many walks of life take time away from their families and jobs to fulfill this important civic function. They are essential to our justice system, and they are truly unsung heroes.

We recognize that their time is valuable, and so over the years we have adopted a number of measures to make jury service more convenient and less time-consuming. Later this year, we will begin another juror-friendly service—E-juror, a web-based program that will enable people summoned for jury service to respond to and complete the summons online. This feature will also allow jurors to contact court staff directly by email when they have questions about their service. E-juror will join our growing list of online services that connect the courts with the people.

While time-saving measures and convenient services make it easier for Iowans to fulfill their civic duty, these steps are only part of what we can and should do for citizens who take time from their normal responsibilities to perform this important function. As you know, we pay jurors a small amount for each day of service, a mere $10 per day. There is one exception. With the aid of the statutory authority you gave us in 2005, we recently established by court rule a pay differential for jurors who serve on long trials. Rather than the basic $10 per day, jurors receive $50 per day after the seventh day of service. It is now time to take the next logical step and increase the basic fee.

For several reasons, we recommend that you increase the basic fee for jury duty from $10 per day to $30 per day. According to information from the National Center for State Courts, Iowa's $10 fee is near the bottom of the range of fees paid by state courts. Iowa's fee has remained unchanged for thirty-three years. A $10 fee in 1974, when the current fee was set, adjusted for inflation, would be worth more than $40 today. While our recommendation of $30 per day is admittedly less than the lost wages and child-care costs incurred by many jurors, we believe it is a reasonable sum. It will at least lessen the financial burden borne by Iowans performing this valuable public service. We estimate that the total cost of this increase will be around $2 million a year. But the Jury and Witness Revolving Account should be able to absorb the additional expense for the next few years. Please recognize the personal sacrifice, financial and otherwise, made by jurors every day by paying them a more reasonable sum for their service to the public.

Assisting Self-Represented Litigants

Now I want to talk a bit about the efforts of the judicial branch to address the needs of self-represented litigants, a growing category of court customers. Whether people represent themselves as a matter of choice or out of necessity, they have a right to access court services without an attorney. But in all honesty, the vast majority of litigants who represent themselves are ill equipped to effectively serve as their own legal counsel. Typically, they are unfamiliar with the law and unfamiliar with court procedures. Their lack of knowledge and skill affects more than the outcome of their cases—it places additional burdens on an already overtaxed court system because litigants who represent themselves frequently expect judges and court employees to help them with their lawsuits, diverting valuable resources from other cases and public services. Rather than ignore this difficult issue, we are taking concrete steps to accommodate the needs of these litigants.

Forms and Instructions

Our hard-working and talented Pro Se Forms Advisory Committee, chaired by Judge Patrick Grady from Cedar Rapids and Iowa City attorney Dan Bray, is putting the finishing touches on our first two sets of easy-to-use forms and instructions for litigants who represent themselves. One set is designed for divorcing couples without children, which is usually the simplest type of dissolution. Another set is designed to help parents who seek modification of child support orders—a process that I know is of great concern to many of your constituents. Once the forms and instructions are finished, the court will make them available on our website. We do not plan to stop with the introduction of these forms, however. Over time, we intend to adopt more forms and instructions to assist self-represented litigants with other court procedures. These efforts are important because they will enhance court access for Iowans who cannot afford an attorney.

Unbundled Legal Services

Do-it-yourself forms and instructions are immensely helpful to Iowans who choose to represent themselves in court, but forms can never be a substitute for professional legal advice. Realistically, however, many people cannot afford the expense of hiring an attorney to represent them in court. To assist in meeting the legal needs of Iowans, we have now proposed amendments to our rules of civil procedure and the rules governing attorneys' ethical obligations to encourage limited-scope legal assistance, a practice referred to as unbundled legal services. These changes will make it easier for a lawyer to perform a particular task, such as drafting a petition or attending one hearing on behalf of a client, without requiring the lawyer to handle every aspect of a case from beginning to end. The end result is more affordable legal representation for the citizens of Iowa, which we hope will encourage more people to obtain legal assistance.

Children and the Courts

I next turn to the most important matter I want to discuss with you: our efforts to improve the lives of children who come to court because they need treatment or protection—Iowa's most vulnerable citizens. Within this context, I will address two topics: our efforts to improve the lives of foster children who are waiting for permanent homes and our deep concern about the well-being of children who are waiting for treatment of mental health problems. Make no mistake: Whatever we can do to help these children will benefit not only these innocent kids, but also the public in general because we can reduce the odds that neglected children will become delinquent juveniles and adult criminals.

Children Waiting for Treatment

I begin with children waiting for treatment. In 2005, you narrowed the statutory definition of "child in need of assistance." This small, well-intentioned amendment has resulted in a serious unexpected problem.

The previous definition of "child in need of assistance" allowed a juvenile judge to order treatment for a child who suffers from a serious mental illness or disorder, or emotional damage and whose parent, guardian or custodian is unwilling or unable to provide treatment. The 2005 amendment struck the two words "or unable." The purpose of the amendment was to enable parents who do not have the financial means to obtain mental health treatment for their children to obtain it at state expense without being compelled to relinquish custody of their child. The avoidance of unnecessarily placing children in state custody is a laudable goal, and I commend you for it. However, a cap on the number of people who can be served under the new procedure means many children are not receiving the treatment they need.

I understand that more than 300 children are waiting for such treatment. Our juvenile judges tell me that too often children wait too long. Their parents are at wit's end. And while they wait, the children's problems worsen. Many of these children get into trouble and end up in court for delinquency. We witness this problem every day in the courts of this state.

The Director of the Department of Human Services and I have discussed this problem. The department is also concerned that more children need help and recommends additional funds to raise the cap so another 100 children can be treated. This recommendation is certainly a step in the right direction, and we support it. But what about the other 200 or so children who need help now? Placing an artificial cap on the number of children who can be treated may serve a budgetary goal, but it does not meet the needs of our most vulnerable children. Without treatment now they will not have the tools to grow into responsible citizens. It is your choice to make. We urge you to provide funds for the treatment of children suffering from a mental disorder or illness at a level that can realistically meet the need for such treatment.

Children Waiting for a Permanent Family

Our concerns about the welfare of children do not stop here. We are enormously concerned about the lives and the futures of children in foster care. As you know, a foster child is a child who has been removed from his or her home and is living in the care of the state—either in a foster home, a group residence or an institution.

In Iowa, just over 5000 children, about the number of children enrolled in the Marshalltown School District, live in foster care. While most of us think of foster children as those who have been abused, most foster children are in the system because of neglect. Their average age is eleven years, they spend about eighteen months in foster care, and they live in two or three placements. It is well documented that the profound uncertainty caused by the frequent and generally unexpected relocation of a foster child from one unfamiliar home to another disrupts their emotional development in ways that plague them well into adulthood.

Foster care is intended to be a temporary haven for children, not a permanent home. But tragically, many foster children never find a permanent home. Instead, they “age out” when they become eighteen years old or graduate from high school. According to Casey Family Programs, young adults who emerge from foster care have higher rates of unemployment, poverty, mental health problems, unplanned pregnancies, homelessness, public assistance, and incarceration. As you can see, the impact of foster care drift extends beyond the children—our society pays a high price.

This brings me to a point that should be obvious: Society as a whole benefits when we expeditiously find foster children safe, permanent homes with good families because, when we do, it is more likely that these children will become not only well-adjusted, responsible adults—they will become good parents to our future children.

I'm confident that all of us in government who share responsibility for the child welfare system recognize the importance of finding these children safe and permanent homes without undue delay. But as we all know, every aspect of our child welfare system is overburdened and undervalued. Iowans like to say that we put our children first; it's now time to show that we mean it.

Children's Justice Initiative

Recently, the Iowa Supreme Court and the Judicial Council embarked on a mission to make court oversight of child welfare cases a top priority. Let me emphasize that this program will not end once we have achieved a specific set of results nor will it end on a particular date. This initiative represents a permanent, ongoing, fundamental cultural change that will reflect our conviction that the interests of children must come first in our justice system.

As a springboard for this change, we have begun an effort that has been christened: “The Children's Justice Initiative.” We are fortunate to begin this initiative with a solid foundation already in place and a detailed blueprint in our hands.

The foundation for our efforts is our own highly regarded Court Improvement Project. For the past decade, our Court Improvement Project committees and staff, working with our dedicated juvenile judges, have developed many improvements that enhance the timeliness and quality of child welfare proceedings. The talented staff and organization of the Court Improvement Project is well-suited to support our new initiative.

The blueprint for our Children's Justice Initiative is the landmark report of the 2004 PEW Commission on Children in Foster Care. The PEW Commission is a national, nonpartisan entity dedicated to accomplishing sweeping broad-based reforms of our nation's child welfare system. Among other things, the commission calls for:

- Collaborative efforts between courts, child welfare agencies, and others,
- A dedicated corps of specially trained judges committed to children and families,
- The adoption of best practices in dependency courts to ensure courts make well-informed decisions that place children in permanent homes as soon as possible,
- Steps to attract and retain a pool of highly qualified attorneys to represent parents and children,
- Multi-disciplinary, cross-system training for all participants, and
- More resources for the child welfare system.

The PEW Commission's report will inspire, guide and inform our efforts. Therefore, we want to share this report with you. We will provide a summary of the PEW Commission report to you later today. I hope you will find the time to read it, as it is vitally important for everyone holding state office to understand the needs of our most vulnerable citizens and what we all can do to address those needs.

Our first step to improve outcomes for children in foster care is focused on our own procedures and practices in dependency court. I will describe two specific actions we have already undertaken.

Assessments

With the assistance of our Court Improvement Project staff, we are assessing the effectiveness and timeliness of court practices in dependency cases in seventeen counties within a year. The assessment involves file reviews, on-site visits of juvenile court hearings, interviews of participants, and surveys. Our auditors compile all of the information into a report, which they share with a community team that develops plans for improvements. Sometimes only a small change in local culture or routine can have an enormous and positive effect on the well-being of foster children.

One Judge/One Child

Our most significant improvement involves directing more judicial resources to the juvenile court to implement a practice we refer to as the one judge/one child model. The one judge/one child concept is simple: one judge presides over every juvenile court proceeding involving a particular child. This practice allows the judge assigned to a child's case to become thoroughly familiar with that family's unique set of problems. As a result, hearings are less likely to be postponed and court decisions are better informed and more consistent. Another important benefit of this practice is that the child sees at least one familiar face—the face of the judge—the entire time the child is in foster care. For older children who come to court proceedings, their judge may be the only constant figure in their life.

You may be asking yourselves why such an obvious and seemingly simple practice was not followed until now. It's a matter of resources, case scheduling practices, and priorities. While some courts have used the one judge/one child model for a number of years, now, under the leadership of our chief judges, we are committing the necessary resources so children throughout the state receive the same level of judicial service, attention and skill. I am proud to announce that we have a cadre of exceptional judges who have volunteered to take on this difficult assignment. Their commitment to the well-being of our state's most vulnerable children is admirable. In addition, each judicial district is modifying its scheduling practices and assignments to devote more attention to dependency cases. These changes have not been easy, and I want to take this opportunity to thank the judges and court administrators who have worked so hard to implement the best practice of having one judge preside over all proceedings involving one child. The lives of children in foster care will be better for these efforts.

I forewarn you, however, that our significant realignment of judicial resources may create delays in other cases, particularly civil cases, and thus raise concerns of some of your constituents. But we believe the benefits derived from this realignment far outweigh any disadvantages. Certainly the need to find a permanent, safe home for these innocent and vulnerable children must be our priority.

Collaboration

While the first phase of the children's justice initiative focuses on court procedures, over time we will expand the scope of our reform efforts in keeping with the recommendations of the PEW Commission. Collaboration among courts and public agencies on both state and local levels is essential to accomplish the far-reaching reforms we envision. To jump start our collaboration with others, the judicial branch is sponsoring a statewide summit in March. This summit will bring together representatives of all branches of state government, including state and local public officials, attorneys, social workers, and other stakeholders, to foster communication and spark wide-scale improvements in the management of child-in-need-of-assistance cases. We invite you to attend. Your participation, even if it is just for a short time, will send a strong message that we are united in our commitment to improve the outcomes for foster children.

Legislative Action to Help Children

I know you are concerned about the lives and futures of children in foster care. Your actions last year to provide financial assistance to children after they age out of the foster care system illustrates your commitment. The assistance you provided will have a beneficial and lasting effect on the lives of these children. Now I have several recommendations for more improvements that require your action.

First, we request that you provide additional resources to the juvenile courts, including two new district associate judges, associated support staff and more juvenile court officers and technicians. These resources will increase our capacity to effectively address the rising need for more juvenile court services and more juvenile judges.

We also whole-heartedly support the expansion of Iowa's Court Appointed Special Advocate program, or CASA. CASA recruits, trains and assigns volunteers who serve as guardians ad litem in child welfare cases. CASA volunteers, who are themselves extraordinary public servants, provide the court with in-depth information about a child. They serve as an extra set of eyes and ears for the judge. The Iowa Child Advocacy Board seeks funds this year to take the CASA program statewide. We think the expansion of the CASA program would be a wise investment that will pay dividends in the form of better outcomes for kids, and we encourage you to support the Board's request.

Finally, we urge you to raise the hourly rate for court-appointed attorneys who handle juvenile cases. Competitive pay is absolutely essential for the state to recruit and maintain a sufficient number of well-qualified attorneys to represent children and parents involved in juvenile court. The state pays attorneys who represent drunk drivers more than we pay attorneys who represent our most vulnerable children. What does that say about our priorities? Do we really believe that the legal representation of children is less important? We urge you to raise the compensation for lawyers who represent children in juvenile court.

The judicial branch can accomplish a great deal to improve the lives and prospects of foster children. But we can accomplish a great deal more with your backing—for it is up to you to marshal the resources and tools we need to ensure the well-being of these kids. I ask you to take this responsibility to heart when you set your priorities. When we invest in their future, we invest in the future of Iowa.

Conclusion

Now, with the future of Iowa firmly in mind, I come to the conclusion of my remarks.

There are many considerations that draw us to public service. For me, and probably, for many of you, the greatest consideration is the opportunity, indeed the privilege, to shape the future for the common good. Speaking on behalf of the Judicial Branch of Iowa, we intend to make the most of this privilege.

And so, today, I have given you a report that is focused on our mission, focused on the public and focused on the future. The state of the judiciary is good, and we are fully resolved to make it better. All of the efforts and plans I have mentioned—E-filing and online access to court records, E-juror, raising the jury fee, forms for self-represented litigants, unbundled legal services and the Children's Justice Initiative—will move Iowa forward.

But before I close, I appeal to you one more time to do everything in your power to increase the chances that foster children find a permanent and loving family. I hope I have convinced you this objective is of vital importance. If I have not, let me explain it on a more personal level. I am confident every parent in this room, including my husband and me, would agree that the most important task they have ever undertaken is raising their children. We know children are shaped and influenced for the rest of their lives by the successes and failures we have as parents.

Our responsibility as a society is no less important. We have an obligation to parent foster children—to focus our full attention and support in an effort to successfully find them a permanent home where they will be loved, nurtured, protected and raised to be responsible and productive adults. The novelist Graham Greene wrote: "There is always one moment in childhood when the door opens and lets the future in." Together, we can open the doors to a bright future for Iowa's foster children. Let's start now.

Thank you.

Thank you all- Governors Vilsack, Brandstad and Ray, Lieutenant Governors Pedersen, Corning, Zimmerman, and Anderson, Chief Justice Turnus, members of the court, distinguished elected officials, my family, friends and fellow Iowans across the state. It is an honor to be here with you this morning – and to be sworn in as Iowa's Lieutenant Governor.

First of all, I want to extend a special thank you to my friend and partner, Chet Culver. Governor-elect, thank you for believing in me and for putting this Culver-Judge team together. It is going to be a real pleasure to serve with you.

I also want to thank Governor Vilsack and Lt. Gov Pederson for their hard work for our state for the past eight years and for the friendship and support they have shown us during this time of transition.

I am an Iowan - born here, went to school here, married a guy from my hometown, raised three sons here – (and they are now raising their own families here in Iowa). I have worked on an Iowa farm, practiced nursing, owned a small town Mainstreet business, served as a community volunteer and as an elected representative for my friends and neighbors that share the southern Iowa community I call home.

As the Secretary of Agriculture for the past eight years, I have also traveled thousands of miles in Iowa and visited communities in every part of the state. And I have met the most incredible people! Iowans who share the pride I feel in our state and who demonstrate that pride everyday in their families, their farms and communities.

As Iowans, we share common ideals no matter where in the state we live. We believe in taking care of our families and in educating our children. We believe hard work leads to success – and we aren't afraid to roll up our sleeves. We believe in working together and in helping our neighbors.

And most of all, today, just as it has since the settlers crossed the Mississippi, our "One Iowa" believes that the future is unlimited.

I first ran for political office at a time when our state was reeling from a farm crisis that left families losing their farms, and mainstreet businesses closing their doors. In truth, I made that run for the state senate because I was really mad – and I decided one day that I should go to Des Moines and let those people know what I think! But even in those dark days, Iowans saw the future's light on the horizon!

And today, I can tell you without reservation – there has never been a time in the history of this state that has been so exciting, when the future has shined so brightly.

Chet Culver and I come to our respective offices at a time when the bio based industry is just beginning. Who would have dreamed even a few years ago that we could power our cars and trucks from corn and soybeans, generate our electricity from the wind, and create new healthier foods and more environmentally friendly materials all from crops raised here in Iowa. And for this Iowa farmer - that is exciting!

The entire country is buzzing over the opportunities renewable energy offers in breaking the strangle hold of foreign oil. Iowa is the leader today because of a lot of hard working people across this state who believed you could run an engine on corn or soy beans when others said "it can't be done". Well, we proved we could do it! To all of those who rolled up their sleeves and made renewable energy a reality, I say thank you. But, the question we all must ask ourselves now is "what are we going to do next?"

We developed ethanol and soy diesel first, but that is just the very beginning. The world is not standing still, and we must work hard and make smart choices to continue the progress in the bio industry and the emerging bio economy.

Already we have the emergence of biomass opportunities, one of the first bio-refineries in the country is being built in Emmetsburg, and every time I drive throughout our beautiful state, I see more and more wind turbines lining the sky. As your Lieutenant Governor, I intend, and look forward, to continue advocating for clean, environmentally friendly fuels and new innovative materials from the products we produce best in this state - those that grow from our rich soil.

We are so blessed; nowhere else on earth is there such abundance - our soil and water makes us the bread basket, and now also the fueling center, not just of our country but of the entire world. With this abundance comes responsibility - and we must work to protect the soil and to improve and protect our water supplies, leaving this place even better than we found it for our children and our grandchildren.

We face many problems in Iowa as we work to accomplish that goal. Sharp divisions have been drawn that have pitted neighbor against neighbor. An "either or" solution will not do -- we must work through those divisions and bring Iowans together. It is time to engage in long range plans that will allow us both to enjoy a healthy economy and to improve our environment. We will do this together... as one Iowa.

And as we transform not just Iowa's economy but the economy of the entire nation from a petrocarbon base to one that is based on renewable crops - we can not afford to forget that Iowans first of all must be safe; safe in our homes, schools, and places of work.

The events of 9/11/01 in New York City and Washington, DC changed forever the way we think about our security and the way we respond to threats, whether caused by humans or by nature.

For the past five years I have been closely involved in emergency planning for the state and on a national level for the security of our food supplies. Governor Culver has asked me to continue that work and take an active role in homeland security and emergency management. Working in partnership with the capable staff and Iowa National Guard we will make certain we are ready to respond to any emergency or threat to the citizens of Iowa. Ensuring safe, healthy, and productive lives for all

Iowans is a very lofty goal- but this administration will be about big dreams and big ideas for ONE IOWA.

Iowans made a choice; they chose to make Chet Culver your Governor and me your Lieutenant Governor. I chose to be standing here today rather than being at home on the farm because I absolutely believe that together with you, Chet Culver and I can accomplish great things for the state we love. We know it won't be easy. There will be those who will tell us "it can't be done" or "we have never done it that way before." So let me say very clearly – Chet Culver and I are people who do not believe in the concept of the impossible.

What we do believe is that when good people decide to join together for a common cause the future is unlimited!

Life is full of challenges. I am aware that the challenge I am about to take one is one of the largest I will ever face. Being entrusted with a position that affects the lives of nearly three million people is something that must be taken very seriously.

At times in my life when faced with difficult challenges I have remembered and thought about the words of a favorite Bible verse. I want to leave you with those words today because I believe the passage clearly sums up the challenges and the opportunities we will see in the next four years. It is from Second Corinthians, chapter 9, verse 8: "It is God's power to provide you richly with every good gift: thus you will have ample means in yourselves to meet each and every situation, with enough to spare for every good cause".

Thank you.

The Gay Men's Chorus performed "The Quest Unending."

The oath of office was administered to Governor-elect Chester J. Culver, by Chief Justice Marsha K. Ternus and assisted by Mari Culver.

President Kibbie presented Governor Chester J. Culver, who delivered the following inaugural address:

Thank you. Thank you very much!

Today is the greatest honor of my life. I want to thank Iowans for their confidence, support and prayers. I also thank God for the many blessings in my life.

Chief Justice Ternus and members of the Court. Speaker Murphy and President Kibbie. Majority Leaders Gronstal and McCarthy. Minority Leaders Lundby and Rants. Members of the General Assembly. Distinguished guests including Governor Ray, Branstad and Senators Harkin and Dodd and to everyone who is here today. I am honored by your presence.

Lieutenant Governor Judge, thank you! Thank you for being my running-mate and my partner in this administration. I am very fortunate to have you by my side.

The people of Iowa will be well-served by your experience, passion, character and common sense.

To my fellow statewide elected officials, agency directors, and the thousands of dedicated state employees. Thank you.

Governor Vilsack and Christie, may God bless you and your family in the days ahead! I wish you all the best.

Christie, you have been a great first lady and your commitment to literacy will not be forgotten.

Governor, Thanks to you, the foundation has been laid and we have made real progress because of your outstanding leadership.

And, on behalf of the people of Iowa, I want to take this opportunity to thank you for your eight years of hard work and dedicated service.

Also, thank you Lieutenant Governor Pederson and Jim Autry. You and your family brought grace and class to your important position.

To my family and friends who are here, many thanks for your loyalty and friendship.

To my parents, thank you for the guidance you give. I am a very fortunate and grateful son. I love you both very much. Dad, I especially want to thank you for the example you set for me.

I would also like to show my appreciation for my step mother, who has been a great influence on me.

And most importantly, thank you Mari, and my children, John and Clare. Thanks for your unconditional love and support. Words can not express my love for you. This will be an exciting new journey for us.

Finally, I want to thank the brave men and women of Iowa who are serving our nation in uniform. You make us all proud!

I love Iowa.

This "land between two rivers" is blessed with people of strong character; a history that is rich; and as the Native Americans who came before us said, "A Beautiful Land."

My fondest childhood memories are docked along the banks of the Mississippi River near McGregor. As a kid, I remember going out in my fishing boat, "Chet's Charter," and enjoying the magnificent surroundings.

Some of my ancestors settled north of there in 1863 and our family lived there for many years. We had a house on the bluff overlooking the river. When you look down the valley of the mighty Mississippi you get a real sense of the awesome landscape and vast history of our state.

The constant movement of the river also reminds us that things are changing all the time. It rises and falls, freezes and thaws, yet emerges strong and powerful, generation after generation!

Right now, Iowa is experiencing much the same change and with it comes the opportunity for a new era of greatness.

As some of you may have heard, once or twice, I was once a high school government and history teacher!

But I am also a student of history. In my classroom, I would remind my students of the ebbs and flows in our history.

As Iowans, I think we could do much worse than to learn from the lessons provided by those who have come before us.

Our state has always been a state of explorers and pioneers. Chief Black Hawk and the Native Americans taught us how to live off the land.

Marquette and Jolliet were the first Europeans to navigate the Mississippi River in 1673.

Following the Louisiana Purchase, Lewis and Clark made their famous expedition up the Missouri River along our state's western border.

These explorers were fearless! They faced many obstacles, but showed great courage in their pursuit.

Today, we should challenge ourselves to emulate their commitment to pushing the limits of discovery.

These visionaries were undaunted by the practical challenges of the day.

They were guided by: Their faith. Their hopes. And their dreams, even when no one gave them a map!

One of my heroes, President John F. Kennedy, also believed in the importance of exploration and in the relentless pursuit of a new frontier.

He challenged us to win the race to space, saying "We choose to go to the moon and do the other things, not because they are easy, but because they are hard, because that goal will serve; to organize and measure, the best of our energies and skills; because that challenge is one that we are willing to accept, one we are unwilling to postpone, and one which we intend to win."

Well, my fellow Iowans, this is our time!

It's our time to accept the challenge, to explore and discover Iowa's unlimited potential.

It's our time to win the race to become the energy capital of the world.

Let us invoke the lessons previous generations of explorers and leaders have taught us.

Let us all come together as one and lead our own "21st Century Iowa Expedition."

There is an energy frontier open before us, and we must explore it immediately! America and the world are counting on us.

Simply put, we can't afford to duck this responsibility!

It's time for Iowa to become the Silicon Valley of the Midwest.

It's time to create the jobs of the future that will keep your children and my children here at home, where they belong.

It's time to make the entire state of Iowa a laboratory so we remain on the cutting edge of all forms of renewable energy.

We will protect our precious environment: the land, lakes, rivers and streams we all love. However, with the right balance, we can harvest rewards beyond even our wildest imagination.

Our value-added opportunities allow us to take from the earth more than once because we are blessed with the best soil and the most productive farmers in the world.

In addition, we have a tradition of great scientists like Henry Wallace and Norman Borlaug, and a world-class education system that "nurtures" our homegrown talent.

We have already led the nation with ethanol and biodiesel. Now we must maintain that leadership. With the eyes of the world upon us, we must prepare for the next generation energy economy.

We will create an Iowa Power Fund to invest in and attract cutting edge research and development. This will ensure we can lead the way not only in alternative fuels but also in biomass, geothermal, wind and solar energy.

It's time for Iowa to become the first state in the nation to declare energy independence!

We are already on our way!

Whether it's the production of soy lubricant in Waverly, the development of a biorefinery in Emmetsburg, the manufacturing of corn-based plastics in Clinton, the wind storage project in Dallas County, or the new biomass option of burning oat hulls in place of coal in Cedar Falls -- Iowa is on the frontier!

Our dreams of an amazing future, one of energy independence, prosperity and a quality of life second to none, are within our reach. I know we can turn our dreams into reality!

There is another important lesson we must take from those daring souls who have come before us. They understood the importance of working together to get the job done!

So, to the 150 dedicated Iowans who will serve in the 82nd General Assembly, I say this: may our inevitable disagreements reflect deep conviction but not contempt, honest difference but not divisiveness.

Let us work together in a sincere and inclusive way, to create "One Iowa." After all, we serve the same Iowans, they are counting on us, and this state's future belongs to all of us.

And, I want every Iowan to know, we need you!

It doesn't matter whether you are a Republican, Democrat or Independent. Whether you live in rural Iowa or urban Iowa. Whether you are a native Iowan or a new arrival. Young or old. What does matter is that we lock arms for the common good and tap our gold mine of potential.

Together, we will continue to move this great state forward!

However, to achieve this, we who serve, must remember, to respect the will of Iowans. They have spoken, and they expect results.

Iowans expect us to achieve our amazing potential in renewable energy.

They expect us to renew our commitment to educational excellence -- by expanding early childhood education -- getting teacher pay to the national average -- and making college more affordable.

They expect us to find a way to insure that every child has health care -- to save lives by increasing the tobacco tax -- and to give hope to the sick by lifting the ban on stem cell research.

They expect us to pay tribute to our seniors and veterans by showing them the dignity and respect they have earned.

Iowans expect us to find a way to honor and reward hard work by raising the minimum wage.

They expect us to find ways to support and encourage entrepreneurs and small business owners, the dreamers who create jobs across our state.

Iowans also deserve a government that reflects their values! They are right to expect us to be smart with a buck, and to balance our checkbook the same way they do.

And they are right to demand ethical, accountable and open government.

Iowans expect us to encourage, not shy away from, the diversity that has made us a better state. Governor Ray taught us that.

We should never tolerate hate, especially in the form of bullying and threats in the workplace or in our schools.

Finally, I believe we have an obligation to make the most of this important moment in Iowa history -- to explore and harness every bit of potential we have.

But a Governor can't do it alone. That's why today, I am asking for your help. Everyone has a role to play in our 21st Century Expedition.

On Monday, we will honor a great American, Dr. Martin Luther King, who led Americans into action when he said, "Everybody can be great because anybody can serve. You don't have to have a college degree to serve. You don't have to make your subject and verb agree to serve. You only need a heart full of grace and a soul generated by love."

Well, Dr. King was right! Every single one of us can play an important role in this new expedition.

I care deeply about the challenges we face, but I have an even greater faith in Iowa's promise.

Let us work together to build "One Iowa" and in doing so, we will achieve the greatness we all know is possible.

So, as we go from here, let us always remember:

This is our time!

Much is expected of us,

And, our future is unlimited.

19 resolution shall prevail unless it obtains a
20 constitutional majority. When passage, adoption or 21 failure is reconsidered, questions on amendments may 22 also be reconsidered and shall be disposed of 23 immediately.
- 24 6. A motion that the motion to reconsider be laid 25 on the table is in order. The effect of laying the 26 motion to reconsider on the table is to cause the bill
27 or joint resolution to proceed on its regular course
28 immediately.
- 29 7. In the event that a motion to reconsider is 30 pending at the end of the first session or any

Page 37

- 1 extraordinary session of any general assembly, or the

23 vote on that question. A member may request
24 announcement of the names of members so recorded after 25 the ten-minute period.
26 2. Members meeting in a conference committee or in 27 administrative rules review committee at the time a
28 vote is taken on a question may have their vote
29 recorded within thirty minutes or adjournment,
30 whichever is first of that same legislative day,

1 providing the vote does not change the outcome of the
2 vote on that question.

3 Rule 75

4 Duty of Voting

5 Except as limited in Rule 74, every member who is 6 in the house when a question is put shall vote unless 7 the house has excused that member for special reasons;

9 prior to commencing to take the vote on the main
10 question.

24 request may be filed at any time before final action
25 upon the propositions with the chief clerk, who shall 26 notify the house immediately.

27 Rule 78

28 Method of Calling the House

30 shall be called by the chief clerk and the absentees

1 noted, after which the names of the absentees shall
2 again be called. The sergeant-at-arms shall be
3 directed by the speaker to compel the attendance of 4 absent members, unless they are previously excused.
5 Any member occupying the member's seat during a call
6 of the house shall be counted by the speaker and that
7 person's name entered in the journal as being present
8 for the purpose of making a quorum.

9 Rule 79

10 Method of Calling the Roll

11 The electrical voting machine shall be used for a
12 call of the house, a quorum call or a roll call vote
13 on any question. If the electrical voting machine is 14 not in operating order when it is necessary to take a 15 record roll call vote, the presiding officer shall 16 order the vote to be taken by calling the roll in 17 alphabetical order, except the name of the presiding
18 officer shall be called last.

19 During the casting of the vote with the voting
20 machine, the individual votes and the vote totals
21 shall be shown on the display boards. Before the 22 voting machine is closed, the presiding officer shall 23 inquire of the house, "Have you all voted?"

24 Rule 80

25 Quorum and Record Roll Call Votes

26 A majority of the members shall constitute a
27 quorum.

28 A record roll call vote shall be ordered upon

2 Rule 81

3 Previous Question

5 member shall state whether the motion will apply to 6 the main question, to all the amendments, or to 7 particular amendments. The motion requires an 8 affirmative vote of at least a constitutional majority
9 of the members. If the motion for a previous question
10 is not adopted, the house shall proceed in the same
11 manner as before the motion was made.

12 If the motion is adopted, all debate must end and 13 the house will vote upon the question except:

14 1. If the motion applies to the main question, the 15 member in charge of the measure will have ten minutes
16 to speak for the purpose of closing discussion before
17 the vote on the measure is taken.

18 2. If the motion applies to an amendment, the 19 member proposing the amendment will have five minutes
20 to speak for the purpose of closing discussion before
21 the vote on the amendment is taken.

22 3. If a member has filed a written request with 23 the chief clerk of the house indicating the member's
24 desire to speak on a particular question. The request
25 must be filed before the motion is made by the movant.
26 The request allows a member to speak on a particular
27 question before the closing discussion by the member

28 who is in charge of the measure or who is proposing
29 the amendment.

30 Rule 82

1 Division of the Question

2 Any member may call for a division of the question,
3 which shall be divided if it comprehends questions so
4 distinct that one being taken away, the remainder may
5 stand separately for discussion by the house. A
6 motion to strike out being lost shall not preclude
7 either an amendment or a motion to strike out and 8 insert. A motion to strike out and insert shall be 9 deemed indivisible.

The motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

23 Upon final adoption of a concurrent resolution at 24 any extraordinary session affecting that session, or 25 at a regular session affecting any extraordinary
26 session which may be held before the next regular 27 session, the creation of any calendar by either house
28 shall be suspended and the business of the session
29 shall consist solely of those bills or subject matters
30 stated in the resolution adopted. Bills named in the

3 called up for debate in either house by the majority
4 leader of that house.

13 Rule 11

14 Code Editor's Correction Bills

15 A bill recommended by the Code editor which is
16 passed out of committee to the floor for debate by a
17 committee of the house or senate and which contains 18 Code corrections of a nonsubstantive nature shall not 19 be amended on the floor of either house except 20 pursuant to corrective or nonsubstantive amendments
21 filed by the judiciary committee of the senate or the 22 house. Such committee amendments, whether filed at 23 the time of initial committee passage of the bill to 24 the floor for debate or after rereferral to the 25 committee, shall not be incorporated into the bill in 26 the originating house but shall be filed separately.
27 Amendments filed from the floor to strike sections of 28 the bill or the committee amendments shall be in 29 order. Following amendment and passage by the second 30 house, only amendments filed from the floor which

1 strike sections of the amendment of the second house
2 shall be in order.

3 A bill recommended by the Code editor which is
4 passed out of committee to the floor for debate by a
5 committee of the house or senate and which contains
6 Code corrections beyond those of a nonsubstantive
7 nature shall not be amended on the floor of either
8 house except pursuant to amendments filed by the 9 judiciary committee of the senate or the house. Such 10 committee amendments, whether filed at the time of 11 initial committee passage of the bill to the floor for 12 debate or after rereferral to the committee, shall not
13 be incorporated into the bill in the originating house
14 but shall be filed separately. Such a bill shall be 15 limited to corrections which: Adjust language to

17 delete redundancies and inaccuracies, delete temporary

18 language, resolve inconsistencies and conflicts,
 19 update ongoing provisions, and remove ambiguities.
 20 Amendments filed from the floor to strike sections of

30 Rule 12

1 Amendments by Other House

2 1. When a bill which originated in one house is 3 amended in the other house, the house originating the 4 bill may amend the amendment, concur in full in the 5 amendment, or refuse to concur in full in the 6 amendment. Precedence of motions shall be in that 7 order. The amendment of the other house shall not be 8 ruled out of order based on a question of germaneness.

9 a. If the house originating the bill concurs in 10 the amendment, the bill shall then be immediately
 11 placed upon its final passage.

12 b. If the house originating the bill refuses to 13 concur in the amendment, the bill shall be returned to 14 the amending house which shall either:

15 (1) Recede, after which the bill shall be read for 16 the last time and immediately placed upon its final 17 passage; or

18 (2) Insist, which will send the bill to a
 19 conference committee.

20 c. If the house originating the bill amends the 21 amendment, that house shall concur in the amendment as 22 amended and the bill shall be immediately placed on 23 final passage, and shall be returned to the other
 24 house. The other house cannot further amend the bill.

25 (1) If the amending house which gave second 26 consideration to the bill concurs in the amendment to
 27 the amendment, the bill shall then be immediately
 28 placed upon its final passage.

29 (2) If the amending house refuses to concur in the 30 amendment to the amendment, the bill shall be returned

1 to the house originating the bill which shall either:

2 (a) Recede, after which the bill shall be read for 3 the last time as amended and immediately placed upon

4 its final passage; or

5 (b) Insist, which will send the bill to a
6 conference committee.

7 2. A motion to recede has precedence over a motion
8 to insist. Failure to recede means to insist; and 9 failure to insist means to recede.

10 3. A motion to lay on the table or to indefinitely
11 postpone shall be out of order with respect to motions
12 to recede from or insist upon and to amendments to 13 bills which have passed both houses.

14 4. A motion to concur, refuse to concur, recede,
15 insist, or adopt a conference committee report is in 16 order even though the subject matter has previously
17 been acted upon.

18 Rule 13

19 Conference Committee

20 1. Within one legislative day after either house
21 insists upon an amendment to a bill, the presiding
22 officer of the house, after consultation with the 23 majority leader, shall appoint three majority party
24 members and, after consultation with the minority
25 leader, shall appoint two minority party members to a 26 conference committee. The majority leader of the 27 senate, after consultation with the president, shall 28 appoint three majority party members and, after 29 consultation with and approval by the minority leader,
30 shall appoint two minority party members to a

1 conference committee. The papers shall remain with
2 the house that originated the bill.

3 2. The conference committee shall meet before the 4 end of the next legislative day after their 5 appointment, shall select a chair and shall discuss 6 the controversy.

7 3. The authority of the first conference committee
8 shall cover only issues related to provisions of the 9 bill and amendments to the bill which were adopted by 10 either the senate or the house of representatives and 11 on which the senate and house of representatives
12 differed. If a conference committee report is not 13 acted upon because such action would violate this
14 subsection of this rule, the inaction on the report
15 shall constitute refusal to adopt the conference
16 committee report and shall have the same effect as if 17 the conference committee had disagreed.

18 4. An agreement on recommendations must be 19 approved by a majority of the committee members from 20 each house. The committee shall submit two originals
21 of the report signed by a majority of the committee
22 members of each house with one signed original and

23 three copies to be submitted to each house. The 24 report shall first be acted upon in the house
 25 originating the bill. Such action, including all
 26 papers, shall be immediately referred by the secretary
 27 of the senate or the chief clerk of the house of 28 representatives to the other house.
 29 5. The report of agreement is debatable, but 30 cannot be amended. If the report contains recommended

1 amendments to the bill, adoption of the report shall
 2 automatically adopt all amendments contained therein.
 3 After the report is adopted, there shall be no more
 4 debate, and the bill shall immediately be placed upon
 5 its final passage.
 6 6. Refusal of either house to adopt the conference
 7 committee report has the same effect as if the 8 committee had disagreed.
 9 7. If the conference committee fails to reach
 10 agreement, a report of such failure signed by a 11 majority of the committee members of each house shall 12 be given promptly to each house. The bill shall be 13 returned to the house that originated the bill, the 14 members of the committee shall be immediately
 15 discharged, and a new conference committee appointed
 16 in the same manner as the first conference committee.
 17 8. The authority of a second or subsequent 18 conference committee shall cover free conference
 19 during which the committee has authority to propose
 20 amendments to any portion of a bill provided the 21 amendment is within the subject matter content of the 22 bill as passed by the house of origin or as amended by 23 the second house.

24 Rule 14

25 Enrollment and Authentication of Bills

26 A bill or resolution which has passed both houses
 27 shall be enrolled in the house of origin under the 28 direction of either the secretary of the senate or the 29 chief clerk of the house and its house of origin shall 30 be certified by the endorsement of the secretary of

1 the senate or the chief clerk of the house.
 2 After enrollment, each bill shall be signed by the 3 president of the senate and by the speaker of the 4 house.

6 Concerning Other Enrollments

7 All resolutions and other matters which are to be 8 presented to the governor for approval shall be

9 enrolled, signed, and presented in the same manner as 10 bills.

11 All resolutions and other matters which are not to 12 be presented to the governor or the secretary of state
13 shall be enrolled, signed, and retained permanently by 14 the secretary of the senate or chief clerk of the 15 house.

16 Rule 16

17 Transmission of Bills to the Governor

18 After a bill has been signed in each house, it
19 shall be presented by the house of origin to the 20 governor by either the secretary of the senate or the 21 chief clerk of the house. The secretary or the chief 22 clerk shall report the date of the presentation, which 23 shall be entered upon the journal of the house of 24 origin.

25 Rule 17

26 Fiscal Notes

27 A fiscal note shall be attached to any bill or 28 joint resolution which reasonably could have an annual 29 effect of at least one hundred thousand dollars or a 30 combined total effect within five years after

1 enactment of five hundred thousand dollars or more on
2 the aggregate revenues, expenditures, or fiscal
3 liability of the state or its subdivisions. This rule
4 does not apply to appropriation and ways and means
5 measures where the total effect is stated in dollar
6 amounts.

7 Each fiscal note shall state in dollars the 8 estimated effect of the bill on the revenues,
9 expenditures, and fiscal liability of the state or its 10 subdivisions during the first five years after 11 enactment. The information shall specifically note
12 the fiscal impact for the first two years following 13 enactment and the anticipated impact for the 14 succeeding three years. The fiscal note shall specify
15 the source of the information. Sources of funds for 16 expenditures under the bill shall be stated, including 17 federal funds. If an accurate estimate cannot be 18 made, the fiscal note shall state the best available
19 estimate or shall state that no dollar estimate can be 20 made and state concisely the reason.

21 The preliminary determination of whether the bill
22 appears to require a fiscal note shall be made by the 23 legal services staff of the legislative services
24 agency. Unless the requestor specifies the request is 25 to be confidential, upon completion of the bill draft,
26 the legal services staff shall immediately send a copy
27 to the fiscal services director for review.

28 When a committee reports a bill to the floor, the 29 committee shall state in the report whether a fiscal 30 note is or is not required.

1 The fiscal services director or the director's
2 designee shall review all bills placed on the senate
3 or house calendars to determine whether the bills are 4 subject to this rule.

5 Additionally, a legislator may request the 6 preparation of a fiscal note by the fiscal services
7 staff for any bill or joint resolution introduced
8 which reasonably could be subject to this rule.

9 The fiscal services director or the director's
10 designee shall cause to be prepared and shall approve
11 a fiscal note within a reasonable time after receiving 12 a request or determining that a bill is subject to 13 this rule. All fiscal notes approved by the fiscal 14 services director shall be transmitted immediately to 15 the secretary of the senate or the chief clerk of the 16 house, after notifying the sponsor of the bill that a
17 fiscal note has been prepared, for publication in the 18 daily clip sheet. The secretary of the senate or 19 chief clerk of the house shall attach the fiscal note
20 to the bill as soon as it is available.

21 The fiscal services director may request the 22 cooperation of any state department or agency in 23 preparing a fiscal note.

24 A revised fiscal note may be requested by a
25 legislator if the fiscal effect of the bill has been 26 changed by adoption of an amendment. However, a
27 request for a revised fiscal note shall not delay
28 action on a bill, unless so ordered by the presiding
29 officer of the house in which the bill is under 30 consideration.

1 If a date for adjournment has been set, then a
2 constitutional majority of the house in which the bill
3 is under consideration may waive the fiscal note
4 requirement during the three days prior to the date
5 set for adjournment.

6 Rule 18

7 Legislative Interns

8 Legislators may arrange student internships during 9 the legislative session with Iowa college, university,
10 or law school students, for which the students may 11 receive college credit at the discretion of their 12 schools. Each legislator is allowed only one intern
13 at a time per legislative session, and all interns

14 must be registered with the offices of the secretary
15 of the senate and the chief clerk of the house.
16 The purpose of the legislative intern program shall 17 be: to provide useful staff services to legislators
18 not otherwise provided by the general assembly; to 19 give interested college, graduate, and law school
20 students practical experience in the legislative 21 process as well as providing a meaningful educational 22 experience; and to enrich the curriculum of 23 participating colleges and universities.
24 The secretary of the senate and the chief clerk of 25 the house or their designees shall have the following
26 responsibilities as regards the legislative intern
27 program:
28 1. Identify a supervising faculty member at each
29 participating institution who shall be responsible for 30 authorizing students to participate in the intern

1 program.
2 2. Provide legislators with a list of 3 participating institutions and the names of 4 supervising professors to contact if interested in 5 arranging for an intern.
6 3. Provide interns with name badges which will 7 allow them access to the floor of either house when 8 required to be present by the legislators for whom 9 they work.
10 4. Provide orientation materials to interns prior 11 to the convening of each session.

Rule 19

13 Administrative Rules Review Committee Bills
14 and Rule Referrals
15 A bill which relates to departmental rules and 16 which is approved by the administrative rules review
17 committee by a majority of the committee's members of 18 each house is eligible for introduction in either
19 house at any time and must be referred to a standing
20 committee, which must take action on the bill within 21 three weeks of referral, except bills referred to 22 appropriations and ways and means committees.
23 If, on or after July 1, 1999, the administrative 24 rules review committee delays the effective date of a
25 rule until the adjournment of the next regular session
26 of the general assembly and the speaker of the house
27 or the president of the senate refers the rule to a
28 standing committee, the standing committee shall 29 review the rule within twenty-one days of the referral
30 and shall take formal committee action by sponsoring a

1 joint resolution to disapprove the rule, by proposing
2 legislation relating to the rule, or by refusing to 3 propose a joint resolution or legislation concerning
4 the rule. The standing committee shall inform the 5 administrative rules review committee of the committee
6 action taken concerning the rule.

7 Rule 20

8 Time of Committee Passage and Consideration of Bills

9 1. This rule does not apply to concurrent or 10 simple resolutions, joint resolutions nullifying
11 administrative rules, senate confirmations, or bills
12 passed by both houses in different forms. Subsection
13 2 of this rule does not apply to appropriations bills,
14 ways and means bills, government oversight bills,
15 legalizing acts, administrative rules review committee
16 bills, bills sponsored by standing committees in 17 response to a referral from the president of the 18 senate or the speaker of the house of representatives
19 relating to an administrative rule whose effective
20 date has been delayed until the adjournment of the 21 next regular session of the general assembly by the
22 administrative rules review committee, bills
23 cosponsored by majority and minority floor leaders of 24 one house, bills in conference committee, and 25 companion bills sponsored by the majority floor
26 leaders of both houses after consultation with the 27 respective minority floor leaders. For the purposes
28 of this rule, a joint resolution is considered as a
29 bill. To be considered an appropriations, ways and 30 means, or government oversight bill for the purposes

1 of this rule, the appropriations committee, the ways
2 and means committee, or the government oversight
3 committee must either be the sponsor of the bill or 4 the committee of first referral in the originating
5 house.

6 2. To be placed on the calendar in the house of 7 origin, a bill must be first reported out of a
8 standing committee by Friday of the 9th week of the 9 first session and the 8th week of the second session.
10 To be placed on the calendar in the other house, a
11 bill must be first reported out of a standing
12 committee by Friday of the 13th week of the first 13 session and the 11th week of the second session.

14 3. During the 11th week of the first session and 15 the 9th week of the second session, each house shall 16 consider only bills originating in that house and 17 unfinished business. During the 14th week of the

18 first session and the 12th week of the second session,
19 each house shall consider only bills originating in 20 the other house and unfinished business. Beginning
21 with the 15th week of the first session and the 13th
22 week of the second session, each house shall consider 23 only bills passed by both houses, bills exempt from 24 subsection 2, and unfinished business.

25 4. A motion to reconsider filed and not disposed 26 of on an action taken on a bill or resolution which is 27 subject to a deadline under this rule may be called up
28 at any time before or after the day of the deadline by 29 the person filing the motion or after the deadline by 30 the majority floor leader, notwithstanding any other

1 rule to the contrary.

2 Rule 21

3 Resolutions

4 1. A "concurrent resolution" is a resolution to be 5 adopted by both houses of the general assembly which 6 expresses the sentiment of the general assembly or 7 deals with temporary legislative matters. It may 8 authorize the expenditure, for any legislative
9 purpose, of funds appropriated to the general
10 assembly. A concurrent resolution is not limited to,
11 but may provide for a joint convention of the general
12 assembly, adjournment or recess of the general
13 assembly, or requests to a state agency or to the 14 general assembly or a committee. A concurrent
15 resolution requires the affirmative vote of a majority
16 of the senators or representatives present and voting
17 unless otherwise specified by statute. A concurrent
18 resolution does not require the governor's approval
19 unless otherwise specified by statute. A concurrent
20 resolution shall be filed with the secretary of the

28 or enacts temporary laws must contain the clause "Be 29 It Enacted by the General Assembly of the State of 30 Iowa.", is equivalent to a bill, and must be

1 transmitted to the governor for his approval. A joint
2 resolution which proposes amendments to the
3 Constitution of the State of Iowa, ratifies amendments

4 to the Constitution of the United States, proposes a
5 request to Congress or an agency of the government of 6 the United States of America, proposes to Congress an 7 amendment to the Constitution of the United States of 8 America, nullifies an administrative rule, or creates 9 a special commission or committee must contain the 10 clause "Be It Resolved by the General Assembly of the

17 which nullifies all of an administrative rule, or a
18 severable item of an administrative rule adopted
19 pursuant to chapter 17A of the Code. A nullification
20 resolution shall not amend an administrative rule by 21 adding language or by inserting new language in lieu
22 of existing language.

23 A nullification resolution is debatable, but cannot 24 be amended on the floor of the house or senate. The 25 effective date of a nullification resolution shall be 26 stated in the resolution. Any motions filed to 27 reconsider adoption of a nullification resolution must 28 be disposed of within one legislative day of the 29 filing.

30 Rule 23

9 the governor in accordance with Article III, section
10 16 of the Constitution of the State of Iowa.

11 c. Bills and appropriations items received from 12 the other house after that house has voted to override
13 a veto of them by the governor.

14 2. Vetoed bills and appropriations items shall

16 receipt. Vetoed bills and appropriations items shall 17 not be referred to committee.

23 members of the body by record roll call is required on 24 a motion to override an executive veto or item veto.

27 item cannot be amended in this case.
28 6. The vote by which a motion to override an 29 executive veto or item veto passes or fails to pass
30 either house is not subject to reconsideration under

2 7. The secretary of the senate or the chief clerk
3 of the house shall immediately notify the other house
4 of the adoption or rejection of a motion to override
5 an executive veto or item veto.
6 8. All bills and appropriations items on the veto
7 calendar shall be disposed of before adjournment sine
8 die, unless the house having a bill or appropriation
9 item before it declines to do so by unanimous consent.

Good morning. President Kibbie, Speaker Murphy, leaders Gronstal, McCarthy, Lundy and Rants, and members of the 82nd General Assembly. [others, statewide elected officials and judges]

Welcome Lieutenant Governor Judge.

I want to thank you for the opportunity to address this joint legislative session. It's an honor and a privilege. I would like to start by congratulating you on the progress you have already made.

An increase in the minimum wage was an Iowa priority. You acted quickly and decisively, approving an increase from $5.15 to $7.25 per hour.

Better wages will mean significant changes in the lives of nearly 260,000 Iowans and their families. I am very proud of the fact that the first bill I signed as Governor was House File 1, to increase the minimum wage.

I am so proud that not a single leader, majority or minority, voted against this bill. This bipartisan effort is an example of what's possible when we work together.

However, the minimum wage is just the start. We have a lot of work to do. As I said in my inaugural address, this is our time. It's time for us to lead Iowa forward and fulfill our state's unlimited potential.

I also talked about a new 21st Century Iowa expedition, one on which we will be judged – whether or not we meet the challenges related to renewable energy, the environment, workforce development and job creation, educational excellence, health care, quality of life, and most importantly, balancing the budget.

Today we begin this difficult challenge. We need to find common ground, and agree upon a budget that benefits all Iowans. Through this process we must remember, we have an historic opportunity to create One Iowa.

Let us continue to lock arms and work for the common good, just like we did with the minimum wage.

As we set out on this expedition and look at Iowa's economic and fiscal picture, there is some pretty good news.

Fortunately, we have an expanding economy and enjoy a modest budget surplus. General fund receipts, personal income tax, sales tax receipts are all up.

Our median household income is higher than the national average, and our unemployment rate is lower than the national average.

In addition, statewide land values and commodity prices are at all-time highs, and our state's export of value-added agricultural and manufacturing goods has steadily increased.

This strong economic growth fortunately means state revenues are coming in at a rate higher than anticipated. We also enjoy a growing bioeconomy that holds promise, and makes us a real player in the new global marketplace.

While this solid financial outlook should reinforce the belief that our future is unlimited, we all must realize that state revenues are always limited. We can do virtually anything we put our minds to – we just can't do everything we might want to.

So, because of these inherent revenue limitations, I believe we must always be guided by five responsible budgeting practices.

First, Iowa common sense is our best guide to budgeting. Simply put, we can't spend more than we take in. We are expected to balance our checkbook and put money into savings the same way Iowans do.

Second, we must respect state law regarding our reserves. These include the cash reserve fund, and the economic emergency fund.

Third, we need to be guided by the actual numbers. They don't lie. Smoke and mirrors, games and gimmicks, just don't work.

Fourth, we must always realize we can't possibly fund all of the budget requests made of us. Difficult and painful decisions are required.

Fifth, we must never be satisfied with our state's fiscal condition. There is always room for improvement. Our state's bond rating does matter. While we have done well to receive a Double-A rating, we should always strive for excellence. Why can't we work toward a Triple-A bond rating? Why not become the best-managed state in the nation? I believe we should do all we can to leave this state in better financial condition than we found it.

Well, I have applied these five important budgeting practices in the document that is being presented here today. Now, I challenge each of you to do the same.

As a result, the state's fiscal health will be preserved, our reserves and surplus will be protected, and we will meet the needs of our people.

Here's what this budget will allow us to do:

Most importantly, it will maintain a year-end balance of nearly $200 million. This will allow us to be prepared for any unforeseen and unanticipated needs.

After setting aside reserves, the most important priorities remaining are in: energy, education and health care. This budget meets those challenges too.

Remember, this is our time. It's time for us to take control of our energy future. It's time to win the race to become the energy capital of the world. It's time for Iowa to break free from our dependence on foreign oil.

It's time for Iowa to become the Silicon Valley of the Midwest. It's time to create the jobs of the future that will keep your children and my children here at home, where they belong.

To meet the energy challenge I am proposing the creation of a $100 million Iowa Power Fund, with a down payment of $25 million this year. This priority is of such critical importance, I am asking you to authorize a supplemental appropriation immediately. This will help us rapidly develop the next-generation energy economy in Iowa.

This new investment will incent the growth of Iowa-based businesses in this exciting new industry, create jobs, and attract millions of dollars in public research and development funds. It will also result in hundreds of millions of dollars in private investment in renewable energy in Iowa.

In addition, the Power Fund money will be used to help conduct the important research and development necessary for all forms of renewable energy and alternative fuel.

It doesn't matter whether its related to wind or solar power, geothermal or biomass cellulosic ethanol, biodeisel, or E-85. Iowa needs to lead the way. The Power Fund will allow us to do this. We need to create the essential public-private partnerships required to further develop these alternative energy opportunities and commercialize them.

However, we are not the only state working towards energy independence. In order to maintain the leadership we have worked so hard to develop, we must compete and do so aggressively.

Let's put Iowa in a position to win the race to become the energy capital of the world. Together, we can achieve this goal and I ask you to act immediately to create the Iowa Power Fund.

This budget proposal also allows us to restore excellence in education. As a state we must rededicate ourselves to this worthy goal.

I believe we need a comprehensive pre-K to post-secondary education plan. So, that's why today I am proposing we invest nearly 190 million dollars in new funding for education.

This will begin to allow us to meet the needs of our students at all levels.

A strong start for every Iowa child must be a shared goal. Ninety percent of brain development occurs from birth through age 6. We can't afford not to invest in our kids. We need them to arrive at kindergarten prepared, ready and able to learn.

To that end I am asking you to make an additional 20 million dollar commitment to early childhood education. This step is part of annual increases in funding necessary until every Iowa four-year-old has access.

To improve education at the K-12 level, we've set aside an additional 165 million dollars, which represents an increase from fiscal year 07 of 6.5 percent. This will help us reach our goal of getting teacher pay to 25th in the nation. A 70 million dollar investment in teacher pay is the largest ever.

This unprecedented investment in teacher pay will allow us to recruit and retain the best teachers, close the gap in teacher pay between urban and rural school districts, ensure quality teaching, and most importantly, show our classroom teachers the respect they deserve for the important work they do every day.

Finally, we must renew our commitment to higher education.

Today, there are real challenges for Iowa college students and their families, Iowa is at the bottom among states when it comes to needs-based access to higher education and at the top when it comes to student debt load. This is not a good combination, and we must do something about it.

This budget proposes five steps to accomplish this goal:

First, I am asking you fund the salary bill. This will assist in the constant battle to recruit and retain talented faculty and staff at our world-class public universities and excellent community colleges.

Second, I am asking you to provide an additional 25 million dollars to our regents institutions and 12.5 million dollars to our community college system.

This step is designed to increase course offerings and to provide some immediate tuition relief.

Third, I am proposing we initiate a brand new college scholarship, called the All-Iowa Opportunity Scholarship.

The scholarship will provide greater access to higher education for Iowa high school graduates based on financial need.

It will allow a student to cover up to $2,500 in tuition at an Iowa community college or up to $5,000 toward their first year at any regents institution of their choice. This budget sets aside 5 million dollars for this important college scholarship program.

Fourth, for Iowa high school graduates who attend one of Iowa's 31 private colleges, we will increase the amount of the highly successful Iowa Tuition Grant. This will expand access for thousands of students who need it and keep them in the state.

Fifth, we will create a statewide Senior Year Plus program. This will allow every high school senior the chance to earn up to a year of college credit before they graduate from high school.

This investment will save students and their families thousands in tuition dollars.

If we make these investments, the rewards of educational excellence will be with us for generations to come. That's why I ask you to support these important initiatives.

Perhaps the biggest and most expensive challenge we face, however, is in the area of health care. 250,000 Iowans including 50,000 kids have no health care coverage. None. There is not one legislator in this chamber today who didn't promise to do something about this.

So, in an attempt to deliver on our promises and significantly increase access to quality health care for all Iowans, I am proposing an additional $140 million to meet our most immediate health care needs.

And, I've identified, I believe, the only responsible way to pay for it. That's why I am asking you to increase Iowa's cigarette tax by one dollar per pack. This step will generate approximately 140 million dollars in new revenue the first year.

By taking this important step we will be able to do the following:

1. Save more than 17,000 lives.
2. Create a powerful disincentive to start smoking and help others quit.
3. Improve the quality of life for tens of thousands of Iowans by preventing illness and reducing the incidence of cancer, stroke, heart disease, and emphysema.
4. Close the smoke-related budget deficit. Because we have the 9th lowest tobacco tax in the country, the state's costs of treating smoke related illnesses is greater than our cigarette tax revenue by more than $50 million dollars annually. This simply isn't fair. Non-smoking Iowans shouldn't be expected to pay for health care costs of those who choose to smoke. Its time to close the gap.
5. Expand coverage to the most vulnerable among us, including up to 50,000 Iowa kids who have no coverage today.
6. Expand health care coverage to more than 6,000 Iowa parents living at or near the poverty level.
7. Double the size of the state's nursing home ombudsman's office which advocates for quality long-term care on behalf of thousands of Iowa seniors who need it.
8. Keep our commitment to fund the Senior Living Trust, which allows more Iowans to remain in an independent living setting for a longer period of time.
9. Fund other important programs like: child and family health services mental health community services efforts to fight infectious disease child health specialty clinics and adoption services.

And 10. Provide significant funding for worthy health care related ideas being brought forth by legislators like Senator Hatch, and Representatives Foege and Heaton, who are helping to drive this important discussion.

I know some legislators only want to increase the cigarette tax by 30 to 60 cents. But half-measures will only produce half the results. The fact is, we have hundreds of millions of dollars in health care related needs. I am not willing to ignore any of the important priorities I just outlined.

We must find a responsible way to pay for all of them. Raiding our limited reserves is not possible. And, severely underfunding health care and and/or cutting necessary funding in other areas like education and energy are simply not viable options.

I strongly believe the number needs to be one dollar, and I respectfully ask for it.

There is one more important step we need to take related to health care and saving lives. Today, I am asking you to lift the ban on stem-cell research.

The health care budget I have outlined will allow us to create the Center for Regenerative Medicine at the University of Iowa, with a commitment of 12.5 million dollars.

We are well positioned, as one of only 15 National Cancer Institute sites in the country, to forge ahead in the search for lifesaving cures for diseases like cardiovascular, diabetes, cancer, Parkinson's and Alzheimer's.

We have the chance to bring hope to thousands of Iowans suffering from these life-threatening illnesses. Let Iowa be known as a center for science research and technology, not only in energy but in the health sciences too.

As we work to lead Iowa forward, we must remember to honor the commitment of the veterans who have fought to defend our freedom, and those who are serving today.

Our actions should show veterans the honor and respect they have earned. I believe we have an obligation to honor their sacrifices and those of their families. As you know, Iowa suffered another tragic loss just ten days ago.

Command Sergeant Major Marilyn Gabbard of Polk City, whose funeral is being held this morning, died January 20th while serving in Iraq. She was a committed and courageous wife, mother, and soldier who answered the call of duty. She was asked to make the ultimate sacrifice.

Today, we mourn along with her family, friends and her community. With my first executive order as Governor, I have ordered flags throughout the state to be flown at half staff on this day to honor Sergeant Major Gabbard.

Will you please join me now in a moment of silence for Sergeant Major Gabbard and the 49 other Iowans who have died in this conflict.

Thank you.

In an effort to meet the needs of all of our returning veterans and their families, I am proposing 6.5 million dollars for the Enduring Freedom Support Program and for critically needed injury and housing assistance. They fought for us. Now it is time we fought for them.

All Iowa law enforcement officers and correctional officers also protect us every day by keeping our communities safe. They too deserve our gratitude. I am proposing to fund 130 unfilled positions at our corrections institutions in an effort to increase staffing levels.

Unfortunately, we have some prisons in Iowa that are almost 50 percent above capacity. In an effort to reduce the strain caused by inadequate staffing levels, we have set aside $17.5 million dollars to significantly reduce the strain on the system and to operate the new facility at Oakdale.

This budget proposal also cuts taxes and saves taxpayers millions. We have found a way to close certain out of state corporate tax loopholes and use available new information technology methods to improve tax collections.

These important steps will not only allow us to save millions but they will also allow us to offer up to $25 million in immediate commercial property tax relief.

Finally, there are some additional important priorities in this budget. They are:

- committing nearly $20 million for our water quality initiatives. This will allow us to better protect the land, lakes, rivers and streams we all love.
- setting aside $9 million to improve our Mainstreet, Community Attractions and Tourism, and Great Places programs.
- providing resources to fund the CASAs, or Court Appointed Special Advocates, who often represent abused and neglected children in our court system.
- protecting and expanding access to shelter services for at-risk women, mothers and children. I can tell you the First Lady will continue to be a real advocate on behalf of shelter service care providers and the vulnerable individuals who desperately need them. Thank you dear for your efforts, and we will direct these important resources into shelter care.

In closing, this is our time. These are our priorities. We must take advantage of our unique opportunities and meet our unique challenges.

Let this 82nd legislative session be remembered as an historic one for the people of this great state.

Let this session be remembered as the one in which Iowa turned the corner toward energy independence protected its precious environment led the way in job creation re-committed itself to excellence in education dramatically expanded health care access and improved the quality of life for all of its people.

I ask you to join me in this worthy effort.

I stand ready to work with you in good faith to get the job done.

This budget is an opportunity to reach consensus and create One Iowa. Together I know we will succeed and we will lead Iowa forward.

May God bless you all, and may God bless the great state of Iowa.

7 In this schedule, each numbered block shall be the 8 yearly and hourly compensation for the pay grade of 9 the number heading the block. Within each grade there
10 shall be seven steps numbered "1" through "7". In the 11 above schedule the steps for all grades are determined
12 in the following manner. Each numbered block is 13 counted as the "1" step for that grade. The next
14 higher block is counted as the "2" step; the next 15 higher block is the "3" step; the next higher block is 16 the "4" step; the next higher block is the "5" step;
17 the next higher block is the "6" step; and the next
18 higher block is the "7" step.

19 Alternatively, the senate rules and administration
20 committee for senate employees, and the house
21 administration and rules committee for house employees
22 may allow their employees' compensation to be flexibly
23 set anywhere between steps "1" through "7" for an 24 employee's prescribed pay grade.

25 All employees shall be available to work daily
26 until completion of the senate's and house of 27 representatives' business. The employee's division
28 supervisor shall schedule all employees' working hours
29 to, as far as possible, maintain regular working 30 hours.

1 All employees, other than those designated "part-
 2 time", shall be compensated for 40 hours of work in a
 3 one-week pay period. Secretaries to senators and 4 representatives are presumed to have ~~36~~ 40 hours of 5 work each week the legislature is in session and shall 6 be paid only on that basis. Full-time employees who 7 are required to work in excess of 80 hours in a
 8 two-week pay period shall be allowed compensatory time
 9 off at a rate of one hour for each hour of overtime up
 10 to a maximum of 120 hours of compensatory time. Joint 11 security employees of the senate and house of 12 representatives may be compensated for each hour of 13 overtime at a rate of pay equal to one-and-one-half
 14 times the hourly pay provided.

15 Be It Further Resolved, That part-time employees
 16 shall be compensated at the scheduled hourly rate for 17 their pay grade and step.

18 Be It Further Resolved, That in the event the 19 salary schedule for employees of the State of Iowa as 20 promulgated by the department of administrative 21 services pursuant to section 8A.413, subsection 2, is 22 revised upward at any time during the ~~eighty-first~~
 23 ~~eighty-second~~ general assembly, such revised schedule
 24 shall simultaneously be adopted for the compensation
 25 of the employees of the ~~eighty-first~~ ~~eighty-second~~
 26 general assembly assigned a grade by this resolution,

 23 HOUSE.
 24 a. Economic or investment opportunity. A member
 25 or employee of the house shall not solicit or accept
 26 economic or investment opportunity under circumstances
 27 where the member or employee knows, or should know,
 28 that the opportunity is being afforded with the intent
 29 to influence the member's or employee's conduct in the 30 performance of official duties. If a member or

1 employee of the house learns that an economic or
2 investment opportunity previously accepted was offered
3 with the intent of influencing the member's or 4 employee's conduct in the performance of the official
5 duties, the member or employee shall take steps to 6 divest that member or employee of that investment or 7 economic opportunity, and shall report the matter in 8 writing to the chairperson of the house ethics
9 committee.

10 b. Excessive charges for services, goods, or 11 property interests. A member or employee of the house
12 shall not charge to or accept from a person known to 13 have a legislative interest, a price, fee,
14 compensation, or other consideration for the sale or 15 lease of any property or the furnishing of services
16 which is in excess of that which the member or 17 employee would ordinarily charge another person.

18 c. Use of confidential information. A member or 19 employee of the house, in order to further the 20 member's or employee's own economic interests, or 21 those of any other person, shall not disclose or use 22 confidential information acquired in the course of the 23 member's or employee's official duties. For the 24 purpose of this rule, information disclosed in open
25 session at a public meeting under chapter 21 of the 26 Code and information that is a public record under 27 chapter 22 of the Code is not confidential
28 information.

29 d. Employment. A member or employee of the house
30 shall not accept employment, either directly or

1 indirectly, from a political action committee. A
2 member of the house shall not act as a paid lobbyist
3 for any organization. However, this paragraph shall 4 not prohibit a member or employee of the house from 5 working for a candidate's committee, a political
6 party's action committee, or a political action
7 committee which does not expressly advocate the 8 nomination, election, or defeat of a candidate for 9 public office in this state or expressly advocate the 10 passage or defeat of a ballot issue in this state and 11 which is not interested in issues before the general
12 assembly.

13 For the purpose of this rule, a political action
14 committee means a committee, but not a candidate's
15 committee, which accepts contributions, makes
16 expenditures, or incurs indebtedness in the aggregate
17 of more than seven hundred fifty dollars in any one

18 calendar year to expressly advocate the nomination,
19 election, or defeat of a candidate for public office
20 or to expressly advocate the passage or defeat of a
21 ballot issue or for the purpose of influencing
22 legislative action.

23 e. A member or employee of the house shall not 24 solicit employment on behalf of the member or 25 employee, or on behalf of another legislator or 26 employee, as a lobbyist while the general assembly is 27 in session.

28 f. Certain goods or services. A member or 29 employee of the house shall not solicit or obtain
30 goods or services from another person under

1 circumstances where the member or employee knows or
2 should know that the goods or services are being
3 offered or sold with the intent to influence the 4 member's or employee's conduct in the performance of 5 official duties. If a member or employee of the house
6 is afforded goods or services by another person at a
7 price that is not available to other members or 8 classes of members of the general public or is 9 afforded goods or services that are not available to 10 other members or classes of members of the general
11 public by another person where the member or employee
12 knows or should know that the other person intends to 13 influence the member's or employee's official conduct,
14 the member or employee shall not take or purchase the 15 goods or services.

16 3. APPEARANCE BEFORE STATE AGENCY. A member or 17 employee of the house may appear before a state agency
18 in any representation case but shall not act as a
19 lobbyist with respect to the passage, defeat,
20 approval, veto, or modification of any legislation,
21 rule, or executive order. Whenever a member or 22 employee of the house appears before a state agency,
23 the member or employee shall carefully avoid all 24 conduct which might in any way lead members of the 25 general public to conclude that the member or employee
26 is using the member's or employee's official position
27 to further the member's or employee's professional
28 success or personal financial interest.

29 4. CONFLICTS OF INTEREST. In order for the 30 general assembly to function effectively, members of

1 the house may be required to vote on bills and
2 participate in committee work which will affect their
3 employment and other areas in which they may have a

4 monetary interest. Action on bills and committee work
5 which furthers a member's specific employment,
6 specific investment, or other specific interest, as 7 opposed to the interests of the public in general or 8 the interests of a profession, trade, business, or 9 other class of persons, shall be avoided. In making a
10 decision relative to a member's activity on particular
11 bills or in committee work, the following factors
12 should be considered:

13 a. Whether a substantial threat to the member's 14 independence of judgment has been created by the 15 conflict situation.

16 b. The effect of the member's participation on 17 public confidence in the integrity of the general
18 assembly.

19 c. Whether the member's participation is likely to 20 have any significant effect on the disposition of the 21 matter.

22 d. The need for the member's particular
23 contribution, such as special knowledge of the subject
24 matter, to the effective functioning of the general
25 assembly.

26 If a member decides not to participate in committee
27 work or to abstain from voting because of a possible
28 conflict of interest, the member should disclose this 29 fact to the legislative body. The member shall not 30 vote on any question in which the member has an

1 economic interest that is distinguishable from the
2 interests of the general public or a substantial class
3 of persons.

4 5. STATUTORY REQUIREMENTS. Members and employees
5 of the house shall comply with the requirements
6 contained in chapters 68B (Conflicts of Interest of 7 Public Officers and Employees), 721 (Official
8 Misconduct), and 722 (Bribery and Corruption), and 9 sections 2.18 (Contempt) and 711.4 (Extortion) of the 10 Code.

11 6. CHARGE ACCOUNTS. Members and employees of the 12 house shall not charge any amount or item to a charge
13 account to be paid for by a lobbyist or any client of 14 a lobbyist.

15 7. TRAVEL EXPENSES. A member or employee of the 16 house shall not charge to the state of Iowa amounts
17 for travel and expenses unless the member or employee
18 actually has incurred those mileage and expense costs.
19 Members or employees shall not file the vouchers for 20 weekly mileage reimbursement required by section 2.10,
21 subsection 1 of the Code, unless the travel expense
22 was actually incurred.

23 A member or employee of the house shall not file a
24 claim for per diem compensation for a meeting of an
25 interim study committee or a visitation committee
26 unless the member or employee attended the meeting.
27 However, the speaker may waive this provision and 28 allow a claim to be filed if the member or employee
29 attempted to attend the meeting but was unable to do
30 so because of circumstances beyond the member's or

1 employee's control.
2 8. GIFTS ACCEPTED OR RECEIVED. Members and
3 employees of the house shall comply with the 4 restrictions relating to the receipt or acceptance of 5 gifts contained in section 68B.22 of the Code.
6 9. HONORARIA RESTRICTIONS. Members and employees
7 of the house shall comply with the restrictions
8 relating to the receipt of honoraria contained in 9 section 68B.23 of the Code.
10 10. DISCLOSURE REQUIRED. Each member of the house
11 and the chief clerk of the house shall file the 12 personal financial disclosure statements required
13 under section 68B.35 of the Code by February 15 of 14 each year for the prior calendar year.
15 11. SEXUAL HARASSMENT. Members and employees of 16 the house shall not engage in conduct which 17 constitutes sexual harassment as defined in section
18 19B.12 of the Code or pursuant to the sexual 19 harassment policy adopted by the house committee on 20 administration and rules.
21 12. COMPLAINTS.
22 a. Filing of complaint. Complaints may be filed
23 by any person believing that a member or employee of 24 the house, a lobbyist, or a client of a lobbyist is 25 guilty of a violation of the house code of ethics, the 26 house rules governing lobbyists, or chapter 68B of the 27 Code.
28 b. Complaints by committee. The ethics committee
29 may initiate a complaint on its own motion. Committee
30 complaints may be initiated by the committee as a

1 result of a committee investigation or as a result of
2 receipt of any complaint or other information that
3 does not meet the requirements of these rules
4 regarding the form of a complaint but that contains
5 allegations that would form the basis for a valid
6 complaint.
7 c. Form and contents of complaint. A complaint
8 shall be in writing.

9 Complaint forms shall be available from the chief
10 clerk of the house, but a complaint shall not be 11 rejected for failure to use the approved form if it
12 complies with the requirements of these rules. The 13 complaint shall contain a certification made by the 14 complainant, under penalty of perjury, that the facts
15 stated in the complaint are true to the best of the 16 complainant's knowledge.

17 To be valid, a complaint shall allege all of the 18 following:

19 (1) Facts, that if true, establish a violation of 20 a provision of chapter 68B of the Code, the house code
21 of ethics, or house rules governing lobbyists for 22 which penalties or other remedies are provided.

23 (2) That the conduct providing the basis for the 24 complaint occurred within three years of the filing of 25 the complaint.

26 (3) That the party charged with a violation is a
27 party subject to the jurisdiction of the ethics
28 committee.

29 d. Confidentiality of complaint. The filing of 30 the complaint and the contents of the complaint shall

1 be confidential until the time that the committee
2 meets to determine whether the complaint is valid,
3 unless either the complainant or the party charged in 4 the complaint makes the existence of, or the 5 information contained in, the complaint public.
6 However, if either the complainant or party alleged to 7 have committed the violation requests that the meeting
8 to determine whether the complaint is valid be a
9 closed meeting and the filing of the complaint or the 10 contents of the complaint have not been disclosed, the 11 meeting shall be closed.

12 e. Notice of complaint. Upon receipt of the 13 complaint, the chief clerk of the house shall promptly
14 notify the chairperson and ranking member of the 15 ethics committee that a complaint has been filed and 16 provide both the chairperson and the ranking member
17 with copies of the complaint and any supporting
18 information. Within two working days, the chief clerk
19 shall send notice, either by personal delivery or by 20 certified mail, return receipt requested, to the 21 person or persons alleged to have committed the 22 violation, along with a copy of the complaint and any 23 supporting information. The notice to the accused
24 person shall contain a request that the person submit
25 a written response to the complaint within ten working
26 days of the date that the notice was sent by the chief
27 clerk. At the request of the accused person, the

28 committee may extend the time for the response, not to 29 exceed ten additional calendar days.
30 f. Hearing regarding validity of complaint. The

1 committee chairperson and the ranking member shall
2 review the complaint and supporting information to
3 determine whether the complaint meets the requirements
4 as to form. If the complaint is deficient as to form,
5 the complaint shall be returned to the complainant
6 with instructions indicating the deficiency unless the 7 committee decides to proceed on its own motion. If 8 the complaint is in writing and contains the 9 appropriate certification, as soon as practicable, the 10 chairperson shall call a meeting of the committee to 11 review the complaint to determine whether the 12 complaint meets the requirements for validity and 13 whether the committee should request that the chief
14 justice of the supreme court appoint an independent
15 special counsel to conduct an investigation to 16 determine whether probable cause exists to believe
17 that a violation of the house code of ethics, house
18 rules governing lobbyists, or chapter 68B of the Code,
19 has occurred.
20 If the committee finds that a complaint does not
21 meet the content requirements for a valid complaint,
22 the committee shall dismiss the complaint and notify 23 both the complainant and the party alleged to have 24 committed the violation of the dismissal and the 25 reasons for dismissal. A dismissal for failure to 26 meet the formal requirements for the filing of a
27 complaint shall be without prejudice and the 28 complainant may refile the complaint at any time
29 within three years of the date that the alleged 30 violation took place. If the dismissal is based upon

1 a failure to allege facts and circumstances necessary
2 for a valid complaint, the dismissal shall be with
3 prejudice and the party shall not be permitted to file
4 a complaint based upon the same facts and 5 circumstances.
6 g. Request for appointment of independent special
7 counsel. If, after review of the complaint and any 8 response made by the party alleged to have committed 9 the violation, the committee determines that the 10 complaint meets the requirements for form and content,
11 the committee shall request that the chief justice of 12 the supreme court appoint independent special counsel
13 to investigate the matter and determine whether

14 probable cause exists to believe that a violation of 15 chapter 68B of the Code, the house code of ethics, or 16 the house rules governing lobbyists has occurred.
17 h. Receipt of report of independent special
18 counsel. The report from the independent special
19 counsel regarding probable cause to proceed on a 20 complaint shall be filed with the chief clerk of the 21 house. Upon receipt of the report of the independent 22 special counsel, the chief clerk shall notify the 23 chairperson of the filing of the report and shall send 24 copies of the report to the members of the ethics
25 committee. As soon as practicable after the filing of 26 the report, the chairperson shall schedule a public
27 meeting for review of the report. The purpose of the 28 public meeting shall be to determine whether the 29 complaint should be dismissed, whether a formal 30 hearing should be held on the complaint, or whether

1 other committee action is appropriate. The
2 complainant and the person alleged to have committed
3 the violation shall be given notice of the public
4 meeting, shall have the right to be present at the 5 public meeting, and may, at the discretion of the 6 committee, present testimony in support of or against 7 the recommendations contained in the report.

8 If the committee determines that the matter should 9 be dismissed, the committee shall cause an order to be 10 entered dismissing the matter and notice of the 11 dismissal shall be given to the complainant and the 12 party alleged to have committed the violation. If the 13 committee determines that the complaint should be 14 scheduled for formal hearing, the committee shall 15 issue a charging statement which contains the charges
16 and supporting facts that are to be set for formal
17 hearing and notice shall be sent to the complainant
18 and the accused person.

19 The notice shall include a statement of the nature
20 of the charge or charges, a statement of the time and 21 place of hearing, a short and plain statement of the 22 facts asserted, and a statement of the rights of the 23 accused person at the hearing.

24 i. Formal hearing. Formal hearings shall be 25 public and conducted in the manner provided in section
26 68B.31, subsection 8 of the Code. At a formal hearing
27 the accused shall have the right to be present and to 28 be heard in person and by counsel, to cross-examine 29 witnesses, and to present evidence. Members of the 30 committee shall also have the right to question

1 witnesses.

2 Evidence at the formal hearing shall be received in 3 accordance with rules and procedures applicable to 4 contested cases under chapter 17A of the Code.

5 The committee chairperson, or the vice chairperson
6 or ranking member in the absence of the chairperson,
7 shall preside at the formal hearing and shall rule on 8 the admissibility of any evidence received. The 9 ruling of the chairperson may be overturned by a
10 majority vote of the committee. Independent special
11 counsel shall present the evidence in support of the 12 charge or charges. The burden shall be on the 13 independent special counsel to prove the charge or 14 charges by a preponderance of clear and convincing
15 evidence. Upon completion of the formal hearing, the 16 committee shall adopt written findings of fact and 17 conclusions concerning the merits of the charges and 18 make its report and recommendation to the house.

19 j. Recommendations by the committee. The 20 committee shall recommend to the house that the 21 complaint be dismissed, or that one or more of the 22 following be imposed:

23 (1) That the member or employee of the house or 24 lobbyist or client of a lobbyist be censured or 25 reprimanded, and the recommended appropriate form of 26 censure or reprimand be used.

27 (2) That the member of the house be suspended or 28 expelled from membership in the house and required to 29 forfeit the member's salary for that period, the 30 employee of the house be suspended or dismissed from

1 employment, or that the lobbyist's or lobbyist's
2 client's lobbying privileges be suspended.

3 13. COMMUNICATIONS WITH ETHICS COMMITTEE. After a
4 complaint has been filed or an investigation has been
5 initiated, a party to the complaint or investigation
6 shall not communicate, or cause another to 7 communicate, as to the merits of the complaint or 8 investigation with a member of the committee, except 9 under the following circumstances:

10 a. During the course of any meetings or other 11 official proceedings of the committee regarding the 12 complaint or investigation.

13 b. In writing, if a copy of the writing is 14 delivered to the adverse party or the designated 15 representative for the adverse party.

16 c. Orally, if adequate prior notice of the 17 communication is given to the adverse party or the 18 designated representative for the adverse party.

19 d. As otherwise authorized by statute, the house
20 code of ethics, house rules governing lobbyists, or 21 vote of the committee.
22 14. PERMANENT RECORD. The chief clerk of the 23 house shall maintain a permanent record of all
24 complaints filed and any corresponding committee
25 action. The permanent record shall be prepared by the 26 ethics committee and shall contain the date the 27 complaint was filed, name and address of the 28 complainant, name and address of the accused person, a
29 brief statement of the charges made, any evidence
30 received by the committee, any transcripts or

Page 15

1 recordings of committee action, and ultimate
2 disposition of the complaint. The chief clerk shall
3 keep each complaint confidential until public
4 disclosure is made by the ethics committee.
5 15. MEETING AUTHORIZATION. The house ethics
6 committee is authorized to meet at the discretion of 7 the committee chairperson in order to conduct hearings
8 and other business that properly may come before it.
9 If the committee submits a report seeking house action
10 against a member or employee of the house or lobbyist
11 after the second regular session of a general assembly
12 has adjourned sine die, the report shall be submitted
13 to and considered by the subsequent general assembly.
14 16. ADVISORY OPINIONS.
15 a. Requests for formal opinions. A request for a 16 formal advisory opinion may be filed by any person who 17 is subject to the authority of the ethics committee.
18 The ethics committee may also issue a formal advisory 19 opinion on its own motion, without having previously
20 received a formal request for an opinion, on any issue
21 that is within the jurisdiction of the committee.
22 Requests shall be filed with either the chief clerk of 23 the house or the chairperson of the ethics committee.
24 b. Form and contents of requests. A request for a
25 formal advisory opinion shall be in writing and may 26 pertain to any subject matter that is related to 27 application of the house code of ethics, the house
28 rules governing lobbyists, or chapter 68B of the Code
29 to any person who is subject to the authority of the 30 ethics committee. Requests shall contain one or more

1 specific questions and shall relate either to future
2 conduct or be stated in the hypothetical. A request
3 for an advisory opinion shall not specifically name

4 any individual or contain any other specific 5 identifying information, unless the request relates to 6 the requester's own conduct. However, any request may 7 contain information which identifies the kind of 8 individual who may be affected by the subject matter
 9 of the request. Examples of this latter kind of 10 identifying information may include references to 11 conduct of a category of individuals, such as but not 12 limited to conduct of legislators, legislative staff,
 13 or lobbyists.

14 c. Confidentiality of formal requests and 15 opinions. Requests for formal opinions are not 16 confidential and any deliberations of the committee
 17 regarding a request for a formal opinion shall be 18 public. Opinions issued in response to requests for 19 formal opinions are not confidential, shall be in 20 writing, and shall be placed on file in the office of 21 the chief clerk of the house. Persons requesting 22 formal opinions shall personally receive a copy of the 23 written formal opinion that is issued in response to 24 the request.

25 17. PERSONAL FINANCIAL DISCLOSURE FORM. The 26 following form shall be used for disclosure of 27 economic interests under these rules and section
 28 68B.35 of the Code:

The motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

ADOPTION OF HOUSE RESOLUTION 9

Davitt of Warren called up for consideration House Resolution 9, a resolution relating to the rules governing lobbyists in the House of Representative, and moved its adoption:

1 HOUSE RESOLUTION 9
 2 By Committee On Ethics
 3 (Successor to HSB 31)
 4 A resolution relating to the rules governing lobbyists
 5 in the House of Representatives.
 6 Be it resolved by the House Of Representatives,
 7 That the House Rules Governing Lobbyists shall be as 8 follows:
 9 HOUSE RULES GOVERNING LOBBYISTS
 10 1. DEFINITIONS OF TERMS. As used in these rules,
 11 "client", "gift", "immediate family member",
 12 "lobbyist", and "person" have the meanings provided in 13 section 68B.2 of the Code, except that the terms
 14 "lobbyist" and "client" shall only refer to persons
 15 who are lobbyists or clients of lobbyists of the house
 16 of representatives. Except as otherwise provided,
 17 "employee of the house" means a full-time permanent
 18 paid employee of the house of representatives.
 19 2. REGISTRATION REQUIRED.
 20 a. All lobbyists shall, on or before the day their

Major General Dardis delivered the following Condition of the Iowa National Guard Message:

Thank you very much.

I am honored once again to stand before you representing the fine men and women of the Iowa National Guard Team.

A team drawn from throughout Iowa's communities – large and small – dedicated to excellence and committed to defending our state and nation, both here at home and around the world.

Speaker Murphy, President Kibbie – thank you for the invitation to present the Condition of the National Guard address before this joint convention of the eighty-second General Assembly of the Iowa Legislature.

Governor Culver, Lt. Governor Judge, members of the General Assembly, distinguished guests, fellow Iowans:

I am pleased to report the Iowa National Guard is strong – quite possibly the strongest it has been in generations:

During the first five months of this recruiting year the Iowa Army National Guard set recruiting records by enlisting more new Soldiers during that period than ever before;

Both the Iowa Army and Air National Guard remain over 100 percent strength – thanks in large part to members who have chosen to continue serving after their current enlistments expire;

The Iowa National Guard is a national leader, consistently ranking near the top among the 54 states and territories;

Our ranks are filled with dedicated, skilled and experienced combat and deployment veterans who remain ready and willing to serve when called;

Our infrastructure and facilities programs have provided quality facilities for our service members to work and train;

Our units continue to meet requirements to source, train and equip Soldiers and Airmen for the Global War on Terrorism;

Our employer and family support programs remain strong and vibrant;

We continue to have sufficient resources to meet our homeland security requirements despite equipment challenges caused by the Global War on Terrorism and service transformation;

Our Soldiers and Airmen have built strong relationships and developed vital capabilities with local, state and federal law enforcement and homeland security agencies;

Our Soldiers and Airmen add vitality to our communities by serving as role models to young Iowans and giving back with their time and talents;

Our Soldiers and Airmen are proud of their military heritage, they are proud of their service and performance in the Global War on Terrorism, and they are proud to be part of America's national defense team.

Simply put, the Soldiers and Airmen of the Iowa National Guard are strong -- Iowa strong!

Some may ask: "How can this be?" After six years of war, multiple deployments, long and difficult mobilizations, hardship and loss – how can the Iowa National Guard be in such good shape?

The answer is simple – it's people.

We are blessed with remarkable and talented service members who are committed to end and believe in what they are doing, who are supported by understanding families, employers and communities, and who benefit greatly from the benefits and incentives provided by their state and nation.

A prime example of this is the veterans' supplemental passed by the legislature and signed into law by Governor Culver last week. The Home Ownership Assistance Program and the Injured Veteran Grant Program both received a much-needed infusion of cash, $2 million each.

These are wonderful programs that keep faith with those who have sacrificed to protect our state and defend our nation. The Injured Veteran Grant program is a critical benefit that helps families cope during difficult and trying times.

The Home Ownership Assistance program, coupled with membership in the Iowa National Guard and participation in the Iowa National Guard Tuition Assistance Program, help create powerful opportunities for our young Soldiers, Airmen and their families to live, learn and lead happy and fulfilling lives right here in Iowa.

These young men and women join Iowa National Guard units, they attend Iowa colleges and universities, they are hired by Iowa employers, and they buy Iowa homes, all of which creates a solid foundation for maintaining Iowa roots. None of this would be possible without these significant investments made by the citizens of Iowa.

Additionally, your financial support of our capital and infrastructure programs enables us to leverage federal dollars to begin upgrading and refurbishing armories and maintenance facilities in critical locations around the state.

This allows us to provide our Soldiers and Airmen with facilities that are on par with local school buildings, business facilities and other community amenities.

On behalf of the Iowa National Guard Team, I want to publicly thank the Legislature and all Iowans for their unmatched support of our infrastructure and quality of life programs for Soldiers, Airmen and veterans. This support has truly made a difference.

Governor Culver, I also want to thank you for your strong support of the Iowa National Guard.

During our very first meeting together you said: "What more can we do to help the young men and women serving and sacrificing today."

We greatly appreciate your support of our programs. Your decision to issue proclamations lowering flags to half-staff is a fitting tribute in honor of our fallen comrades and a moving reminder to all Iowans of the cost and sacrifice of war.

Governor – thank you for this truly remarkable gesture of respect and honor for Iowans who have given their lives in defense of our state and nation.

With us today is very special group of people. For them, sacrifice, honor and hero are not words to be taken lightly. They are the families of our most recent Iowa National Guard Soldiers lost in battle.

At this time I ask the family members to stand as I call the name of your fallen hero:

Sergeant Daniel L. Sesker, April 6, 2006 – Operation Iraqi Freedom

Sergeant Kampha B. Sourivoung, September 30, 2006 – Operation Iraqi Freedom

Sergeant First Class Scott E. Nisely, September 30, 2006 – Operation Iraqi Freedom

Command Sergeant Major Marilyn L. Gabbard, January 20, 2007 -- Operation Iraqi Freedom

These three men and one woman will long be remembered as heroes, not because of how they died but because of how they lived. They lived in service to their state and nation; they lived to be part of something larger than themselves; and they lived to make a difference in the lives of others.

These humble Soldiers stepped forward so others wouldn't have to, they willingly put themselves in harms way to defend our nation and bring freedom and liberty to an oppressed people.

To you the families left behind, I say: there are no words or deeds to offer that will take away your pain or fill the void left by the loss of your loved-one. I only hope that you receive some small measure of comfort in knowing that millions of Iowans stand with you to honor the memory of your fallen hero.

We are humbled by your presence with us today, we are eternally grateful for your sacrifice on behalf of our nation and we are honored to have this opportunity to comfort and salute you.

Thank you...please be seated.

As we gather here today, nearly eleven hundred Iowa National Guard Soldiers and Airmen are currently deployed or are preparing to deploy in support of the Global War on Terrorism.

They are doing dangerous and important work – performing security, aviation and support missions in Iraq and training the Afghan National Army.

They are performing bravely and doing a superb job. I ask all Iowans to remember and pray for all our military members and their families.

The National Guard is a uniquely American organization, with a proud military lineage and strong community ties. Despite recent attention focused on the National Guard resulting from its support and participation in the Global War on Terrorism, many Iowans do not fully understand or appreciate the role, mission, and responsibility the National Guard plays in securing the homeland and defending our national interest.

The National Guard is a community-based organization with global responsibilities. It plays a unique role in our national defense strategy.

Because of its funding, structure and constitutional origins, the National Guard spans the federal-state divide, provides balance between our active and reserve component military, and helps connect the American public to military operations conducted on their behalf.

In an era when less than one percent of the American population serves in uniform or has any association to the military, this connection is critically important.

The National Guard is a vital element of the Nation's All-Volunteer force, a thirty-four year old concept that is being tested like never before.

In the past six years, the Reserve Component has provided nearly half of the military forces required for the Global War on Terrorism. And as I've reported many times from this rostrum, the Iowa National Guard has been at the forefront of this effort, mobilizing and deploying more than 9,500 Soldiers and Airmen – more than 100 percent of our authorized strength.

Some wonder why so much reliance on the National Guard and whether this level of use is appropriate. Since the end of the Cold War, the National Guard has evolved from a strategic to an operational reserve of the active duty military.

Cuts in the size of our Active Duty military following the end of the Cold War, coupled with federal mobilization and sourcing policies, have created a situation that when this nation goes to war it must necessarily rely on its Reserve Component forces.

Many have realized that cuts in the size of the Active Component following the end of the Cold War were too great.

Congress and the department of defense are working to increase the number of military members serving on active duty. Replacing them will take time. And given current operational needs, it is clear demand for Reserve Component forces will continue.

Because we have a federal mission to provide combat ready units in support of the national military strategy, more than 97 percent of our budget is provided by the federal government.

That means this year alone more than $ 375 million in federal funding came into the state to pay our Soldiers and Airmen, fund our training and operations, procure our equipment and support our infrastructure programs.

This funding results in an economic impact of more than a half of billion dollars to the state of Iowa. This investment by the federal government enables us to meet our state mission requirements of providing units and equipment to protect life and property, coming to the aid of Iowans in time of need, preserving peace and order, and ensuring public safety for our fellow citizens.

Many of you have asked about the status of our equipment, and whether we have sufficient equipment to perform our state mission requirements.

Allow me to put your mind at ease: We have adequate equipment to perform our 10 core capabilities for homeland security/defense missions. That's not to say we don't have equipment shortfalls overall – clearly we do – but when it comes to having what we need to perform our state mission, I am confident we can get the job done.

The equipment issues of most concern to us deal with having what we need to train and prepare in support of the Global War on Terrorism. Transformation and mobilizations have left us short in a few critical areas. The Iowa National Guard is not alone.

The National Guard Bureau has asked the U.S. Army for $21 billion in funding to modernize equipment; the Army has indicated that it will allocate those funds to be spent over a seven year period. The Iowa National Guard will benefit from these equipment upgrades.

As an operational reserve of the active duty military, mobilizations and deployments of Iowa National Guard Army and Air units will continue for the foreseeable future. After six years of war, anyone joining our ranks today knows and understands this fact.

Working through National Guard Bureau and the Secretary of Defense, we have sought to establish some level of predictability for our service members, their families and employers.

As a result, the Department of Defense recently announced significant changes in its mobilization policy goals.

First and foremost is its desire to limit reserve component call-ups to 365 days start to finish, including pre-deployment training and boots on the ground time. This is a significant change to the 18 to 24 month call-ups we experienced in the past.

Second, the new policy seeks to provide reserve component Soldiers with a minimum of 60 months between mobilizations.

In order to accomplish these goals, the Iowa National Guard will play a larger role in training and validating service members prior to mobilizing. This will change the time commitments our traditional members typically make in support of their military duties in the months preceding deployments.

In order to facilitate the transition to this new policy, the Secretary of Defense has modified the cumulative limit of 24 months for involuntary mobilizations.

This change effectively resets everyone's mobilization clock. Regardless of prior mobilizations in the past six years, all of our members are now eligible for immediate involuntary call-ups.

While this could have adverse affects on some units and selected leadership personnel, we expect the majority of our Soldiers and Airmen to have a minimum of 48 months between deployments. However, in war nothing is certain. We understand and ask our members, families and employers to recognize that the new mobilization strategy is a goal, not a set-in-stone policy.

Like we have seen in the past, most recently with the extension of the 1-133 infantry battalion, sourcing requirements generated by the Global War on Terrorism, may break stated policy goals.

When this happens, the Iowa National Guard, working through family and Soldier readiness programs, will do everything it can to help those most impacted by these events.

The recent alert of the 833rd Engineer Company from Ottumwa is clearly a break in the Department of Defense's mobilization policy goal. This company was previously deployed with the 224th Engineer Battalion in support of Operation Iraqi freedom from October 2004 until December 2005.

The Soldiers from this company have been home for less than 14 months and are now preparing for another deployment. This unit is being alerted because it is the best of its kind in the Army.

I know these Soldiers will serve honorably and with distinction, just like they did before. Our thoughts and prayers go out to the families who must now prepare for another separation.

Because the Department of Defense is breaking its stated goals, the right and fair thing for it to do is provide an appropriate package of federal benefits and incentives to compensate for the additional burdens the department is placing on these Soldiers and their families.

I've asked Governor Culver and our federal delegation to carry this issue forward to make sure it gets the attention it deserves.

The sacrifice made by the families of our deployed Soldiers and Airmen is an often unseen aspect of the Global War on Terrorism. In many respects these noble Americans alone bear the home-front burden of fighting the Global War on Terrorism.

While their loved-ones go off to war, they remain behind in a nation where for the majority of the population, daily life remains unchanged.

Each of them in their own way learns to cope with the separation, anxiety and uncertainty that come with long deployments.

They keep the "home fires" burning so their loved ones can remain focused on their mission.

Although often overlooked, these brave Americans are an important part of the Nation's defense team. With me today are representatives from the family support groups of our current deployed Iowa National Guard Soldiers.

Please join me in honoring and thanking them for their strong support of their loved-ones and the key role they play in contributing to successful deployments.

The vast majority of our Citizen Soldiers and Airmen maintain full-time employment in addition to their military careers.

Mobilizations and deployments have significant impacts on their employers. They must do without or hire replacement workers to fill the void.

In spite of these hardships, many employers choose to continue providing compensation and benefits while their service members are deployed. They reach out and do what they can to help families cope with separation.

They work with our service members to provide them with the flexibility they need to prepare and train for their deployments.

We couldn't succeed without the tremendous help and support of our employers. Berry Spear, the state chairman of the Employer Support of the Guard and Reserve, and his committees work to educate service members and their employers on the rights and obligations each have in this process.

Like families, employers play an important role in the success of the Iowa National Guard.

With Barry in the gallery today are Dennis McGuire from Allied Insurance; Kent Simmer from Des Moines Bolt and Supply Company and Jim Leach from John Deere. These gentlemen represent the hundreds of employers around this great state who employ and support our Soldiers and Airmen.

Please join me in thanking them for being part of America's national defense team!

Community participation and support are other vital elements in the success of the Iowa National Guard. Our Soldiers and Airmen participate in community programs that add value to our communities, to Iowa and to America.

They work to be true role models and make our communities safer and better places to raise our families.

In turn our communities provide us with unbelievable support.

In light of the debate and rhetoric about the Global War on Terrorism one of the greatest concerns our service members express is whether the American people continue to support them.

We need look no further than the gallery for an answer. Here today are a number of community groups that are making a difference in the lives of our service members and their families. They represent but a few of the thousands of such individuals and groups throughout our state and nation.

Please hold your applause until I've finishing introducing them.

The Patriot Guard Riders is full of noble Americans who have made it their mission to ensure our military members and their families receive the support and honor they deserve. They are there when we send our units off to war; they are there to help welcome them home; and on those sad occasions when we lay to rest those lost in battle, they are there to show the colors, protect the family and honor the fallen.

Iowa's Bravest is another community group that is committed to standing with our service members. Formed shortly after the war began in 2003, this group wanted to ensure the men and women fighting this war were treated better than their Vietnam era counterparts.

This group has grown immensely in the last few years and now includes many community members, school children, Boy and Girl Scout troops, veterans' organizations, churches and businesses. To date, they have sent nearly sixteen hundred and fifty care packages containing over 27,000 pounds of items to deployed Iowa service members serving overseas.

The Iowa Cattleman's Foundation raised more than $75,000 from hundreds of individual cattlemen and cattlemen organizations to send over three and half tons of beef sticks to deployed Iowa National Guard and Iowa Reserve units.

In addition they donated more than $7,200 to help meet the emergency needs of deployed service members and their families. We thank Iowa's Cattlemen and women for bringing a little taste of home to those deployed and helping those left behind.

But most importantly we thank them for standing with our Soldiers and Airmen as they sacrifice to protect our values and freedoms.

Over the years the Iowa Cubs have shown great community support for our Soldiers and Airmen by sponsoring an Iowa National Guard night at Principle Park.

They have given away thousands of tickets to our members and their families in appreciation for the sacrifices they make in protecting our state and nation.

The Des Moines Menace donated 100 soccer balls to the 1-133rd Infantry Battalion for them to provide to a youth soccer park in Baghdad. This donation helps our Soldiers build goodwill while they patrol Iraqi streets.

Carl Jacob aka "the Tootsie Roll Man," is a Charles City Vietnam vet who wanted to do something for our Soldiers. Remembering his days on patrol in Vietnam where he substituted tootsie roll pops for cigarettes, Carl knew what to do.

He immediately went to the Tootsie Roll Company and asked for their help, which has resulted in more than 100,000 tootsie rolls, pops and other tootsie roll candy products being sent to our deployed Iowa National Guard Soldiers.

Carol Duncan aka the phone card lady is a Camp Dodge institution. Carol has done more than any other Iowan to help our service members and their families stay connected by raising more than $70,000 in phone cards to send with our deployed units.

These are but a few of the millions of grateful Americans who stand with our Soldiers and Airmen. They didn't wait idly by for someone to give them a role to play in the Global War on Terrorism. They looked around and said, "Here's what I can do, these are my talents, this is what needs to be done, this is what I can contribute on behalf of those whom we have placed such a heavy burden."

These humble and caring citizens are an example to all of us of the generosity and gratitude of the American people. Please join me in showing our appreciation for all they have done!

As I wrap up my comments I want to introduce you to a few of our Citizen Soldiers and Airmen sitting in the gallery.

They represent some of the significant accomplishments and contributions our members have made this past year.

Please stand as I identify your unit.

The 2168th Transportation Company, Iowa Army National Guard, received the National Defense Transportation Association, Transportation Unit of the Year Award for its distinguished service during its 2005 deployment to Iraq.

While deployed to Iraq, the unit logged over 2 million miles and delivered more than 15 thousand pieces of equipment to support the war effort – all without accident, damage to equipment being delivered, or loss of a single Soldier.

Three weeks ago the 185th participated in the Ability to Survive and Operate exercise to verify personnel would be ready to deploy at a moments notice to anywhere in the world, and survive. This was the unit's first Operational Readiness Inspection since converting from F-16 fighters to KC 135 tankers in 2003. They received an "excellent" rating overall – almost unheard of the first time through – a truly remarkable accomplishment!

133rd Test Squadron is the only Command and Control Test Squadron in the United States Air Force. The unit is chartered with ensuring that Air Force and Joint military systems are thoroughly tested prior to delivery.

The 3655th Maintenance Company returned from Iraq last year where it established and enforced forward operating base defenses which helped protect thousands of coalition forces and civilians, and provided maintenance and training support for critical scout surveillance systems.

The 134th Medical Company returned from Iraq this fall, where its Soldiers provided medical support to detainees at Abu Ghraib prison, operated Troop Medical Clinics, provided medical and evacuation support, and trained and gave medical support to Iraqi Special Forces units.

The JFHQ Afghanistan National Army training team returned from Afghanistan last summer where they trained, mentored, and advised more than 2,000 ANA soldiers during more than 50 major combat operations and patrols.

Ladies and Gentlemen: please join me in thanking these great Soldiers and Airmen for all they and their colleagues have done for our state and nation.

I want to end with an extraordinary story about a few dedicated members of Troop C, 1st Squadron, 113th Cavalry. This unit was deployed to Iraq last year.

On May 20, 2006, these troopers were on mission in Baghdad when they heard a large explosion. The mission leader, Staff Sergeant Jeremy Koch, immediately ordered his squad to turn around and investigate. Arriving on scene they saw wounded U.S. personnel and civilians on the ground.

Without regard for their own personal safety, they established security and began first aid.

As they began treating the injured, Staff Sergeant Koch came upon CBS reporter Kimberly Dozier. He immediately saw that her injuries were life threatening and began first aid. Staff Sergeant Koch stayed with Ms. Dozier the entire time treating her injuries and providing comfort.

Staff Sergeant Koch along with Staff Sergeant Mitchell Hall, Sergeant Patrick Flattery, and Specialist Corey Heaberlin stayed on the ground providing security and critical first aid for 45 minutes waiting for a MEDEVAC to arrive.

One U.S. service member, one U.S. local national interpreter, and two CBS crewman died in the explosion. Six U.S. service members and one U.S. civilian, Kimberly Dozier, the CBS reporter, were injured. Had these brave troopers not arrived on the scene when they did, the death toll surely would have been higher.

In doing their job that day these ordinary Soldiers did something extraordinary. Someone needed help and these humble Soldiers from the heartland stepped forward without hesitation. They will insist they did nothing special or unique; they were just doing their duty.

Everyday around the world thousands of brave Americans put their lives on the line to do their duty. We must never forget what they are doing for all of us.

Please join me in thanking these outstanding Soldiers for their service on behalf of our state and nation.

Ladies and Gentlemen, thanks for allowing me to share my comments with you today, and thank you for your continued support of the Iowa National Guard and of the dedicated men and women in uniform who call Iowa home.

May God continue to bless you and your families, the great state of Iowa and the United States of America!

Thank you!

19 card upon which an anatomical gift is indicated shall 20 not invalidate the gift.

21 d. An anatomical gift made by will takes effect
22 upon the donor's death whether or not the will is 23 probated. Invalidation of the will after the donor's
24 death does not invalidate the gift.

25 3. AMENDING OR REVOKING GIFT BEFORE DONOR'S DEATH.

26 a. Subject to subsection 5, a donor or other
27 person authorized to make an anatomical gift under 28 subsection 1 may amend or revoke an anatomical gift by 29 any of the following means:

30 (1) A record signed by any of the following:

31 (a) The donor.

32 (b) The other person authorized to make an
33 anatomical gift.

34 (c) Subject to paragraph "b", another individual
35 acting at the direction of the donor or the other 36 authorized person if the donor or other person is 37 physically unable to sign the record.

38 (2) A later-executed document of gift that amends
39 or revokes a previous anatomical gift or portion of an 40 anatomical gift, either expressly or by inconsistency.

41 b. A record signed pursuant to paragraph "a",
42 subparagraph (1), subparagraph subdivision (c), shall

43 comply with all of the following:

44 (1) Be witnessed by at least two adults, at least
45 one of whom is a disinterested witness, who have
46 signed at the request of the donor or the other
47 authorized person.

48 (2) State that the record has been signed and
49 witnessed as provided in subparagraph (1).

50 c. Subject to subsection 5, a donor or other

1 person authorized to make an anatomical gift under
2 subsection 1 may revoke an anatomical gift by the
3 destruction or cancellation of the document of gift,
4 or the portion of the document of gift used to make
5 the gift, with the intent to revoke the gift.

6 d. A donor may amend or revoke an anatomical gift
7 that was not made in a will by any form of 8 communication during a terminal illness or injury
9 addressed to at least two adults, at least one of whom 10 is a disinterested witness.

11 e. A donor who makes an anatomical gift in a will 12 may amend or revoke the gift in the manner provided
13 for amendment or revocation of wills or as provided in 14 paragraph "a".

15 4. REFUSAL TO MAKE.

16 a. An individual may refuse to make an anatomical
17 gift of the individual's body or part by any of the 18 following means:

19 (1) A record signed by any of the following:

20 (a) The individual.

21 (b) Subject to paragraph "b", another individual
22 acting at the direction of the individual if the 23 individual is physically unable to sign the record.

24 (2) The individual's will, whether or not the will 25 is admitted to probate or invalidated after the 26 individual's death.

27 (3) Any form of communication made by the 28 individual during the individual's terminal illness or 29 injury addressed to at least two adults, at least one
30 of whom is a disinterested witness.

31 b. A record signed pursuant to paragraph "a",
32 subparagraph (1), subparagraph subdivision (b), shall
33 comply with all of the following:

34 (1) Be witnessed by at least two adults, at least
35 one of whom is a disinterested witness, who have
36 signed at the request of the individual.

37 (2) State that the record has been signed and
38 witnessed as provided in subparagraph (1).

39 c. An individual who has made a refusal may amend
40 or revoke the refusal in accordance with any of the 41 following:

- 42 (1) In the manner provided in paragraph "a" for 43 making a refusal.
- 44 (2) By subsequently making an anatomical gift
45 pursuant to subsection 2 that is inconsistent with the 46 refusal.
- 47 (3) By destroying or canceling the record
48 evidencing the refusal, or the portion of the record
49 used to make the refusal, with the intent to revoke
50 the refusal.

1 d. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 5,
2 paragraph "h", in the absence of an express, contrary
3 indication by the individual set forth in the refusal,
4 an individual's unrevoked refusal to make an
5 anatomical gift of the individual's body or part
6 prohibits all other persons from making an anatomical
7 gift of the individual's body or part.

8 5. PRECLUSIVE EFFECT.

9 a. DONOR GIFT OR AMENDMENT – SUBSEQUENT ACTIONS

10 BY OTHERS PROHIBITED. Except as otherwise provided in

11 paragraph "g", and subject to paragraph "f", in the 12 absence of a contrary indication by the donor, a
13 person other than the donor is prohibited from making,
14 amending, or revoking an anatomical gift of a donor's
15 body or part if the donor made an anatomical gift of 16 the donor's body or part under subsection 2 or an 17 amendment to an anatomical gift of the donor's body or 18 part under subsection 3.

19 b. DONOR REVOCATION NOT A REFUSAL. A donor's

20 revocation of an anatomical gift of the donor's body
21 or part under subsection 3 is not a refusal and does
22 not prohibit another person specified in subsection 1
23 or section 142C.4 from making an anatomical gift of 24 the donor's body or part under subsection 2 or section
25 142C.4.

26 c. GIFT ON AMENDMENT BY ANOTHER – SUBSEQUENT

27 ACTIONS BY OTHERS PROHIBITED. If a person other than

28 the donor makes an unrevoked anatomical gift of the 29 donor's body or part under subsection 2, or an
30 amendment to an anatomical gift of the donor's body or 31 part under subsection 3, another person may not make,
32 amend, or revoke the gift of the donor's body or part
33 under section 142C.4.

34 d. REVOCATION BY ANOTHER NOT PROHIBITIVE OF OTHER

35 GIFT. A revocation of an anatomical gift of a donor's
36 body or part under subsection 3 by a person other than 37 the donor does not prohibit another person from making
38 an anatomical gift of the body or part under
39 subsection 2 or section 142C.4.

40 e. GIFT OF PART NOT PROHIBITIVE OF GIFT OF ANOTHER

41 PART. In the absence of a contrary indication by the 42 donor or other person authorized to make an anatomical
43 gift under subsection 1, an anatomical gift of a part
44 is neither a refusal to donate another part nor a 45 limitation on the making of an anatomical gift of 46 another part at a later time by the donor or another
47 authorized person.
48 f. GIFT FOR ONE PURPOSE NOT PROHIBITIVE OF ANOTHER
49 PURPOSE. In the absence of a contrary indication by 50 the donor or other person authorized to make an

1 anatomical gift under subsection 1, an anatomical gift
2 of a part for one or more of the purposes specified in 3 subsection 1 is not a limitation on the making of an 4 anatomical gift of the part for any of the other
5 purposes by the donor or any other person under
6 subsection 2 or section 142C.4.
7 g. UNEMANCIPATED MINOR GIFT – PARENT REVOCATION.
8 If a donor who is an unemancipated minor dies, a
9 parent of the donor who is reasonably available may 10 revoke or amend an anatomical gift of the donor's body
11 or part.
12 h. UNEMANCIPATED MINOR REFUSAL – PARENT
13 REVOCATION OR AMENDMENT. If an unemancipated minor
14 who signed a refusal dies, a parent of the minor who 15 is reasonably available may revoke the minor's
16 refusal.
17 Sec. 4. Section 142C.4, Code 2007, is amended by
18 striking the section and inserting in lieu thereof the
19 following:
20 142C.4 WHO MAY MAKE ANATOMICAL GIFT OF DECEDENT'S
21 BODY OR PART -- AMENDING OR REVOKING GIFT.
22 1. Subject to subsection 2, and unless prohibited
23 by section 142C.3, subsection 4 or 5, an anatomical
24 gift of a decedent's body or part for purposes of 25 transplantation, therapy, research, or education may 26 be made by any member of the following classes of 27 persons who is reasonably available, in the order of 28 priority listed.
29 a. An agent of the decedent at the time of death
30 who could have made an anatomical gift under section
31 142C.3, subsection 1, immediately before the 32 decedent's death.
33 b. The spouse of the decedent.
34 c. Adult children of the decedent.
35 d. Parents of the decedent.
36 e. Adult siblings of the decedent.
37 f. Adult grandchildren of the decedent.
38 g. Grandparents of the decedent.
39 h. An adult who exhibited special care and concern

40 for the decedent.

41 i. Any persons who were acting as guardians of the 42 decedent at the time of death.

43 j. Any other person having the authority to 44 dispose of the decedent's body.

45 2. a. If there is more than one member of a class
46 listed in subsection 1, paragraph "a", "c", "d", "e",
47 "f", "g", or "i", entitled to make an anatomical gift,
48 an anatomical gift may be made by one member of the 49 class unless that member or a person to whom the gift
50 may pass under section 142C.5 knows of an objection by

1 another member of the class. If an objection is 2 known, the gift shall be made only by a majority of 3 the members of the class who are reasonably available.

4 b. A person shall not make an anatomical gift if,
5 at the time of the death of the decedent, a person in 6 a prior class under subsection 1 is reasonably
7 available to make or to object to the making of an 8 anatomical gift.

9 3. A person authorized to make an anatomical gift
10 under subsection 1 may make an anatomical gift by a
11 document of gift signed by the person making the gift 12 or by the person's oral communication that is 13 electronically recorded or is contemporaneously
14 reduced to a record and signed by the recipient of the 15 oral communication.

16 4. Subject to subsection 5, an anatomical gift by 17 a person authorized under subsection 1 may be amended
18 or revoked orally or in a record by any member of the 19 prior class who is reasonably available. If more than 20 one member of the prior class is reasonably available,
21 the gift made by a person authorized under subsection
22 1 may be:

23 a. Amended only if a majority of the reasonably
24 available members agree to the amending of the gift.

25 b. Revoked only if a majority of the reasonably
26 available members agree to the revoking of the gift or 27 if they are equally divided as to whether to revoke
28 the gift.

29 5. A revocation under subsection 4 is effective
30 only if, before an incision has been made to remove a
31 part from the donor's body or before invasive
32 procedures have begun to prepare the recipient, the 33 procurement organization, transplant hospital, or 34 physician or technician knows of the revocation.

35 Sec. 5. Section 142C.4A, Code 2007, is amended by 36 striking the section and inserting in lieu thereof the
37 following:

38 142C.4A COOPERATION BETWEEN MEDICAL EXAMINER AND

39 ORGAN PROCUREMENT ORGANIZATION – FACILITATION OF 40 ANATOMICAL GIFT FROM DECEDENT WHOSE BODY IS UNDER 41 JURISDICTION OF MEDICAL EXAMINER.

42 1. A medical examiner shall cooperate with 43 procurement organizations to maximize the opportunity
44 to recover organs for the purpose of transplantation
45 when the recovery of organs does not interfere with a
46 death investigation.

47 2. If a medical examiner receives notice from a 48 procurement organization that an organ might be or was 49 made available with respect to a decedent whose body
50 is under the jurisdiction of the medical examiner and

1 a postmortem examination will be performed, unless the
2 medical examiner denies recovery in accordance with 3 this section, the medical examiner or designee shall 4 conduct a postmortem examination of the body or the 5 organ in a manner and within a period compatible with 6 its preservation for the purposes of the gift. Every 7 reasonable effort shall be made to accomplish the 8 mutual goals of organ donation and a thorough death
9 investigation.

10 3. An organ shall not be removed from the body of 11 a decedent under the jurisdiction of a medical 12 examiner for transplantation unless the organ is the 13 subject of an anatomical gift. This subsection does
14 not preclude a medical examiner from performing a
15 medicolegal investigation pursuant to subsection 5
16 upon the body or organs of a decedent under the 17 jurisdiction of the medical examiner.

18 4. Upon request of an organ procurement
19 organization, a medical examiner shall release to the 20 organ procurement organization the name and contact
21 information of a decedent whose body is under the 22 jurisdiction of the medical examiner. If the 23 decedent's organs are medically suitable for 24 transplantation, the pathologist or medical examiner
25 shall release to the organ procurement organization
26 the postmortem examination results, limited to cause
27 and manner of death and any evidence of infection or 28 other disease process, which might preclude safe
29 transplantation of recovered organs. The organ
30 procurement organization may make a subsequent 31 disclosure of the postmortem examination results only
32 if relevant to transplantation.

33 5. The medical examiner may conduct a medicolegal
34 examination by reviewing all medical records,
35 laboratory test results, X rays, other diagnostic 36 results, and other information that any person
37 possesses about a donor or prospective donor whose

38 body is under the jurisdiction of the medical 39 examiner, which the medical examiner determines may be 40 relevant to the investigation.

41 6. A person who has any information requested by a
42 medical examiner pursuant to subsection 5 shall 43 provide that information as expeditiously as possible
44 to allow the medical examiner to conduct the 45 medicolegal investigation within a period compatible
46 with the preservation of organs for the purpose of 47 transplantation.

48 7. If an anatomical gift has been or might be made
49 of an organ of a decedent whose body is under the 50 jurisdiction of the medical examiner and a postmortem

1 examination is not required, or the medical examiner
2 determines that a postmortem examination is required
3 but that the recovery of the organ that is the subject
4 of an anatomical gift will not interfere with the 5 examination, the medical examiner and organ
6 procurement organization shall cooperate in the timely
7 removal of the organ from the decedent for the purpose
8 of transplantation.

9 8. a. If an anatomical gift of an organ from a 10 decedent under the jurisdiction of the medical 11 examiner has been or might be made, but the 12 pathologist or medical examiner initially believes
13 that the recovery of the organ could interfere with 14 the postmortem investigation into the decedent's cause
15 or manner of death, the pathologist or medical 16 examiner shall consult with the organ procurement
17 organization or physician or technician designated by 18 the organ procurement organization about the proposed 19 recovery.

20 b. Ancillary clinical tests such as a magnetic
21 resonance imaging (MRI), a computed tomography (CT)
22 scan, or skeletal survey may be required by the 23 pathologist prior to determination of suitability of 24 organ procurement. These tests shall be performed and 25 interpreted by the appropriate physician at the 26 pathologist's request, and reported in a timely
27 fashion. All expenses for such tests shall be the 28 responsibility of the organ procurement organization
29 regardless of outcome.

30 c. After consultation pursuant to paragraph "a"
31 and any preliminary investigation pursuant to 32 paragraph "b", the pathologist or medical examiner may
33 allow recovery, depending on the nature of the case
34 and the availability of a pathologist to view the body
35 prior to recovery.

36 9. If the manner of death may be homicide or has

37 the potential for litigation, the organ recovery shall 38 be approved by the forensic pathologist, and the 39 forensic pathologist may examine the body prior to 40 organ recovery and document by diagrams and 41 photographs all visible injuries.

42 10. a. If the medical examiner or designee allows 43 recovery of an organ under subsection 7, 8, or 9, the 44 organ procurement organization, upon request, shall 45 cause the physician or technician who removes the 46 organ to provide the medical examiner with a record
47 describing the condition of the organ, a biopsy, a
48 photograph, and any other information and observations
49 that would assist in the postmortem examination.

50 b. Arrangements for the examination of bodies of

1 such decedents shall be coordinated between the organ
2 procurement organization and the state medical
3 examiner.

4 c. If applicable, and whenever possible, the 5 forensic pathologist who examined the decedent's body
6 prior to recovery of the organ shall perform the 7 autopsy. If the forensic pathologist is unable to 8 accommodate examination of the body due to scheduling
9 or staffing, the request for organ donation may be 10 denied.

11 11. If a medical examiner or designee is required
12 to be present at a removal procedure under subsection
13 9, upon request, the organ procurement organization
14 requesting the recovery of the organ shall reimburse 15 the medical examiner or designee for the additional 16 costs incurred in complying with subsection 9.

17 12. A physician or technician who removes an organ
18 at the direction of the organ procurement organization
19 may be called to testify about findings from the 20 surgical recovery of organs at no cost to taxpayers if 21 the decedent is under the jurisdiction of the medical 22 examiner.

23 13. a. The medical examiner or pathologist with 24 jurisdiction over the body of a decedent has 25 discretion to grant or deny permission for organ or 26 tissue recovery.

27 b. If the recovery of organs or tissues may hinder
28 the determination of cause or manner of death or if 29 evidence may be destroyed by the recovery, permission
30 may be denied.

31 c. The medical examiner or a pathologist
32 performing state autopsies shall work closely with 33 procurement organizations in an effort to balance the 34 needs of the public and the decedent's next of kin.

35 Sec. 6. Section 142C.5, Code 2007, is amended by

36 striking the section and inserting in lieu thereof the
37 following:
38 142C.5 PERSONS WHO MAY RECEIVE ANATOMICAL GIFTS
39 AND PURPOSES FOR WHICH ANATOMICAL GIFTS MAY BE MADE.
40 1. An anatomical gift may be made to the following
41 persons named in a document of gift:
42 a. A hospital, accredited medical or osteopathic
43 medical school, dental school, college, or university,
44 organ procurement organization, or other appropriate
45 person for research or education.
46 b. An eye bank or tissue bank.
47 c. Subject to subsection 2, an individual
48 designated by the person making the anatomical gift if 49 the individual is the recipient of the part.
50 2. If an anatomical gift to an individual under

1 subsection 1, paragraph "c", cannot be transplanted
2 into the individual, the part passes in accordance
3 with subsection 7 in the absence of an express,
4 contrary indication by the person making the
5 anatomical gift.
6 3. If an anatomical gift of one or more specific
7 parts or of all parts is made in a document of gift
8 that does not name a person described in subsection 1
9 but identifies the purpose for which an anatomical
10 gift may be used, the following rules apply:
11 a. If the part is an eye and the gift is for the 12 purpose of transplantation or therapy, the gift passes
13 to the appropriate eye bank.
14 b. If the part is tissue and the gift is for the 15 purpose of transplantation or therapy, the gift passes
16 to the appropriate tissue bank.
17 c. If the part is an organ and the gift is for the 18 purpose of transplantation or therapy, the gift passes
19 to the appropriate organ procurement organization as 20 custodian of the organ.
21 d. If the part is an organ, an eye, or tissue and 22 the gift is for the purpose of research or education,
23 the gift passes to the appropriate procurement
24 organization.
25 4. For the purpose of subsection 3, if there is 26 more than one purpose of an anatomical gift set forth
27 in the document of gift but the purposes are not set 28 forth in any priority, the gift shall be used for 29 transplantation or therapy, if suitable. If the gift
30 cannot be used for transplantation or therapy, the 31 gift may be used for research or education.
32 5. If an anatomical gift of one or more specific
33 parts is made in a document of gift that does not name
34 a person described in subsection 1 and does not

35 identify the purpose of the gift, the gift may be used
36 only for transplantation or therapy, and the gift
37 passes in accordance with subsection 7.
38 6. If a document of gift specifies only a general
39 intent to make an anatomical gift by words such as 40 "donor", "organ donor", or "body donor", or by a 41 symbol or statement of similar import, the gift may be 42 used only for transplantation or therapy, and the gift
43 passes in accordance with subsection 7.
44 7. For the purposes of subsections 2, 5, and 6,
45 the following rules shall apply:
46 a. If the part is an eye, the gift passes to the 47 appropriate eye bank.
48 b. If the part is tissue, the gift passes to the 49 appropriate tissue bank.
50 c. If the part is an organ, the gift passes to the

Page 14

1 appropriate organ procurement organization as
2 custodian of the organ.
3 8. An anatomical gift of an organ for
4 transplantation or therapy, other than an anatomical
5 gift under subsection 1, paragraph "c", passes to the 6 organ procurement organization as custodian of the 7 organ.
8 9. If an anatomical gift does not pass pursuant to 9 subsections 1 through 8, or the decedent's body or 10 part is not used for transplantation, therapy,
11 research, or education, custody of the body or part 12 passes to the person under obligation to dispose of 13 the body or part.
14 10. A person shall not accept an anatomical gift
15 if the person knows that the gift was not effectively
16 made under section 142C.3, subsection 2, or section
17 142C.4, or if the person knows that the decedent made 18 a refusal under section 142C.3, subsection 4, that was 19 not revoked. For purposes of this subsection, if a
20 person knows that an anatomical gift was made on a 21 document of gift, the person is deemed to know of any 22 amendment or revocation of the gift or any refusal to 23 make an anatomical gift on the same document of gift.
24 11. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 1, 25 paragraph "c", nothing in this chapter shall affect 26 the allocation of organs for transplantation or 27 therapy.
28 Sec. 7. NEW SECTION. 142C.5A SEARCH AND 29 NOTIFICATION.
30 1. The following persons shall make a reasonable
31 search of an individual who the person reasonably
32 believes is dead or near death for a document of gift
33 or other information identifying the individual as a

34 donor or as an individual who made a refusal:

35 a. A law enforcement officer, fire fighter,
36 paramedic, or other emergency rescuer finding the 37 individual.

38 b. If no other source of the information is 39 immediately available, a hospital, as soon as 40 practical after the individual's arrival at the 41 hospital.

42 2. If a document of gift or a refusal to make an 43 anatomical gift is located by the search required by 44 subsection 1, paragraph "a", and the individual or 45 deceased individual to whom it relates is taken to a 46 hospital, the person responsible for conducting the 47 search shall deliver the document of gift or refusal
48 to the hospital.

49 3. A person is not subject to criminal or civil 50 liability for failing to discharge the duties imposed

1 by this section but may be subject to administrative 2 sanctions.

3 Sec. 8. Section 142C.6, Code 2007, is amended by
4 striking the section and inserting in lieu thereof the
5 following:

6 142C.6 DELIVERY OF DOCUMENT OF GIFT NOT REQUIRED
7 – RIGHT TO EXAMINE.

8 1. A document of gift does not require delivery
9 during the donor's lifetime to be effective.

10 2. Upon or after an individual's death, a person
11 in possession of the document of gift or a refusal to 12 make an anatomical gift with respect to the individual
13 shall allow examination and copying of the document of 14 gift or the refusal by a person authorized to make or 15 object to the making of an anatomical gift with 16 respect to the individual or by a person to whom the 17 gift could pass under section 142C.5.

18 Sec. 9. Section 142C.7, Code 2007, is amended by
19 striking the section and inserting in lieu thereof the
20 following:

21 142C.7 CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION.

23 professional pursuant to chapter 148, 148C, 150A, or
24 152, or medical examiner may release patient
25 information to a procurement organization as part of a
26 referral or retrospective review of the patient as a
27 potential donor. Any information regarding a patient,
28 including the patient's identity, however, constitutes 29 confidential medical information and under any other
30 circumstances is prohibited from disclosure without 31 the written consent of the patient or the patient's
32 legal representative.

33 Sec. 10. Section 142C.8, Code 2007, is amended by
34 striking the section and inserting in lieu thereof the
35 following:
36 142C.8 RIGHTS AND DUTIES OF PROCUREMENT
37 ORGANIZATIONS AND DONORS.
38 1. When a hospital refers an individual at or near
39 death to a procurement organization, the procurement
40 organization shall make a reasonable search of the 41 records of the state department of transportation and 42 any donor registry that the hospital knows exists for 43 the geographical area in which the individual resides
44 to ascertain whether the individual has made an 45 anatomical gift.
46 2. A procurement organization shall be allowed 47 reasonable access to information in the records of the 48 state department of transportation to ascertain
49 whether an individual at or near death is a donor.
50 3. When a hospital refers an individual at or near

1 death to a procurement organization, the procurement
2 organization may conduct any reasonable examination
3 necessary to ensure the medical suitability of a part
4 that is or could be the subject of an anatomical gift
5 for transplantation, therapy, research, or education
6 from a donor or a prospective donor. During the 7 examination period, measures necessary to ensure the 8 medical suitability of the part shall not be withdrawn
9 unless the hospital or procurement organization knows
10 that the individual expressed a contrary intent.
11 4. Unless prohibited by law other than this
12 chapter, at any time after a donor's death, the person
13 to whom a part passes under section 142C.5 may conduct
14 any reasonable examination necessary to ensure the 15 medical suitability of the body or part for its 16 intended purpose.
17 5. Unless prohibited by law other than this
18 chapter, an examination under subsection 3 or 4 may 19 include an examination of all medical and dental
20 records of the donor or prospective donor.
21 6. Upon the death of a minor who was a donor or 22 had signed a refusal, unless a procurement
23 organization knows the minor is emancipated, the 24 procurement organization shall conduct a reasonable
25 search for the parents of the minor and provide the 26 parents with an opportunity to revoke or amend the 27 anatomical gift or revoke the refusal.
28 7. Upon referral by a hospital under subsection 1,
29 a procurement organization shall make a reasonable
30 search for any person listed in section 142C.4 having 31 priority to make an anatomical gift on behalf of a

32 prospective donor. If a procurement organization
 33 receives information that an anatomical gift to any
