Shomshor of Pottawattamie moved that a committee of two be appointed to escort the Speaker to the chair.

The motion prevailed and the following committee was appointed: Shomshor of Pottawattamie and Paulsen of Linn.

PRESENTATION OF SPEAKER

The Honorable Patrick J. Murphy was escorted to the Speaker's station and, having been sworn, assumed the chair. Temporary Speaker Whitaker presented Speaker Murphy with the gavel and congratulated him on his unanimous election.

Speaker Murphy invited all children present in the House to come to the well and thanked the House for the honor bestowed upon him and offered the following remarks:

House Speaker Pat Murphy's Opening Day Comments – January 12, 2009

We could not foresee the national recession that has been occurring and that we are currently in, and we could not have seen the national disasters that affected Iowa this past summer. Iowa had record flooding in certain parts of the state. We had tornadoes that did devastation to communities and took lives. Our biggest challenge this year will be to deal with rebuilding Iowa communities hit by natural disasters.

We are working with the Governor to create a new standing legislative committee: the Rebuild Iowa and Disaster Recovery Committee. I have entrusted Representative Tom Schueller to chair that committee. Tom has a very good background as a city councilman, a person who has worked for a large employer and who also owns a small business and works in construction and knows what real reconstruction is all about.

When we left last year we had an 82 million dollar projected ending balance. That balance is gone, due in part to the recession and the flood. The national recession really eroded those dollars, but we are still better off than most states. We have approximately 620 million dollars sitting in our reserve accounts. Along with that we have a triple A bond rating which means that, quite frankly, financial institutions view the management of the state budget in very good terms.

I appreciate Governor Culver's actions to keep this year's budget in balance, first through selective cuts and then across the board cuts to make sure that, as we come in here today, we are operating with a balanced budget for the current fiscal year. But the Governor's cuts are just a start. We will need to get leaner and meaner as the year goes on. Currently it is estimated that, for the current fiscal year, we will have between 30 and 40 million dollars less in annual revenue than we had last fiscal year. I am sure that we will look at innovative ways to save money, innovative ways to improve state services and move the state forward. And, we need to act quickly.

It is my goal that the first bill we work on this year will address aid for disaster affected areas. And we will expect the "RIO Committee," as it is going to be called, to work in conjunction with the Appropriations and Ways and Means Committees to deal with spending issues related to disaster recovery. Our goal is to have legislation on the Governor's desk by the end of the month, to show that we are moving quickly to help those adversely impacted by natural disasters.

Last summer, House Democrats proposed a plan to secure Iowa's economic future by promoting economic growth, creating jobs, and helping middle class families. We want to continue these efforts by making Iowa a green state and creating programs and jobs that help promote alternative energy production and usage in Iowa. A good example is Florida Power and Light, which is currently investing approximately 1.2 billion dollars in wind turbines in the state. We need to continue to be the renewable fuels leader among the 50 states. Whether through ethanol, soy diesel or wind energy, we will push hard to promote renewable fuels.

We also need to continue to look at creating good paying jobs to help foster more economic opportunities for Iowans.

We need to also make sure that we maintain our commitment to health care. Through Medicaid, Hawk-I, private insurance or other program, our goal is to continue to move toward health insurance coverage for every child in Iowa.

But we also need to reward hard work for those people that play by the rules. We need to take aim at CEO's that knowingly hire illegal immigrants and whose employment practices are tailored to avoid paying taxes and avoid treating workers fairly.

We also need to equip our children for the future. That means that we need to continue our focus on early childhood, K-12 education and making higher education affordable.

I think we have a very good record over the previous two years. The first bill we did two years ago raised the minimum wage for those people at the bottom end of the pay scale. We also focused on small business health insurance reform so people in small businesses could have access to health care. We also made sure that we focused on making Iowa a greener state and we need to continue that effort.

But, it won't be easy. The cupboard is almost bare. It may not be our fault, but we need to deal with the issues before us and balance the budget before we adjourn.

If we put aside our differences, we can work together to move the state forward. And if I may take this opportunity, I will lobby U.S. Senator Grassley who is sitting in the audience today to do everything he can, along with Senator Harkin, to work to make Tom Vilsack our next Secretary of Agriculture. I think it will be very good for the state and very good for agriculture.

We need to grow the economy, create job opportunities, and make Iowa a green state. We need to help Iowa recover and balance our budget.

Back in the 1960's, Martin Luther King asked this country to create a society in which individuals are judged by the content of their character and not the color of their skin. In eight days we will swear in a president, an African-American, for the first time in this country. And if you look at what he talked about for the last twenty months, he expressed a unifying theme that reflected back to Dr. King's remarks.

As he campaigned across Iowa and other states, President-elect Obama didn't talk about a red America. He didn't talk about a blue America. He didn't talk about a white America. He didn't talk about a black America. He talked about these United States of America. And Americans have come together in ways that they haven't in recent years. His election, and the themes he stressed during the campaign, demonstrate that we have the ability to come together, to understand that we have differences, and to put those differences aside in a common effort to move the state forward.

Over these next one-hundred days that we are in session, hopefully we will be able find areas of agreement. So that we can improve education, health care, and make government work better. So that we don't look at each other as Republicans or Democrats, or by the color red or the color blue. Let's see ourselves as Americans and Iowans and let's say that our job is to do what we can to make Iowa and the United States a better place.

I thank you for your time. Now we need to get to work and move this state forward. Thank you.

The motion prevailed and the following committee was appointed: Frevert of Palo Alto and Heaton of Henry.

Representative Bukta was escorted to the Speaker's station and, being duly sworn, offered the following remarks:

Mr. Speaker, Mr. Majority Leader, Mr. Minority Leader and colleagues of the House. Thank you for your trust in me by electing me Speaker pro tempore for the 83rd General Assembly. It is truly an honor to sit here before you today.

To the Chief Clerk and his staff, both caucus staffs, the legislative assistants to leadership, legislative clerks, the Sergeant of Arms, Doorkeepers, Pages, Postmaster, Finance Officers, custodial staff, thank you for all the hours you spend to prepare this awesome chamber for this first day of session. AND, thank you in advance for all the time and effort you will put forth to make this session run as smoothly as in the past.

Family members and friends of the Representatives, especially you who have traveled any distance on this typically Iowa winter day, to witness your loved ones take their oath of office as new or returning members, I extend my most sincere and warm welcome! Your presence adds to the joy and ambience of the day.

Today we welcome 18 new members to the Iowa House, and welcome back the returning 81 members. You probably noticed that 18 and 81 do not total 100. It is not a mistake in math because we do number only 99. Representative Royd Chambers is on active duty overseas and will miss the 2009 session. We wish him well and a safe return for active duty in the Iowa House hopefully for the 2010 session.

Iowa has made history again by expanding our diverse population to match the make-up of our great state. This session shows a record number of African Americans totaling six- a gain of two members over last session, the number of female Representatives is three less than last session, but still women make up 25% of the membership.

Our chamber consists of members from all age groups ranging from the late twenties to the early eighties. How proud we can all be of the balance in this chamber in age, gender, race, and creed. I hope we will all remember that each of us brings to this gathering our own unique self with our own unique ideas to how best serve the constituents of our own unique districts. If we are able to keep this in mind as we move forward this session we will be able to treat each other with respect. We need to listen to one another, talk to one another, and work together to do the very best we can for our particular districts as well as our entire state. Iowans expect this behavior from us, and it can be accomplished.

We have some trying times ahead of us, and it will take a concerted effort on all our parts to get us through the difficult decisions that we will have to make in the weeks and months ahead. Nobody could have predicted the economic downturn, nor the devastating natural tragedies of this past summer. There is work to do and problems to solve, and we will do both because we are IOWANS! We're strong, we're deliberate, we're compassionate, we're responsive and we are problems solvers.

I will end by reading a quote from a Texas State Senator, Leticia Van de Putte from her "Fifteen Tips on Being an Effective Legislator: "Honor the Institution". Thomas Jefferson did it, and so did James Madison, George Washington, Alexander Hamilton and other builders of our governmental institutions. They worked tirelessly to make representative government work. Now the well-being of your state legislature is in your hands. Preserve and protect it so it remains a strong, co-equal branch of government. Legislative service is one of democracy's worthiest pursuits. It is an important duty that deserves our time, attention and dedication. To work well, government requires a bond of trust between citizens and their representatives. Try to appeal to the best instincts of the electorate, talk about what you stand for, what you intend to do during your time in office and then work as hard as you can to fulfill those promises. Remember why you ran for office—to make a difference, a difference for the better.”

Thank you, and enjoy the rest of the day.

REMARKS BY MINORITY LEADER

Paulsen of Linn offered the following remarks:

Thank you Mr. Speaker; Mr. Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House, Friends and Families.

On behalf of House Republicans, welcome to the 83rd General Assembly. Congratulations to the new members of the House. It is a very special task you are about to begin and it is also one of the most rewarding experiences you will have in your life. My one piece of advice – you get as much out of this as you put in – I suggest you go all in. I hope each day you serve will be as exciting as this first one.

As many of you know, Rep. Royd Chambers of Sheldon serves not only this state as a representative, but also our country, in the Air National Guard. At the beginning of this year, Rep. Chambers was deployed overseas and will likely not be joining us this session. Like all those who serve, the work Royd is doing is important and I know you share my pride and appreciation for his efforts in protecting us from those who seek to do us harm. There are those who are called to something even greater than themselves, those who make it possible for us to come and do the people's work—and I would ask you to join me in keeping Royd and the other brave men and women who are serving our country in your thoughts and prayers.

There is work that needs to be done in this house as well.

Everywhere you look there are reports and messages about economic uncertainty – both at home and in the workplace.

We, in this session, will be facing difficult and sometimes painful decisions. But they are certainly no more difficult or painful than the decisions that Iowa's families and taxpayers are making everyday. We must remember that state government is not the only entity facing uncertainty. With that in mind, we must protect families and taxpayers – not ask them to dig deeper in their own pockets to solve a budget problem that this Legislature created for itself.

Since it is impossible to move forward without first understanding your past, we need to remember something. When the 82nd General Assembly closed its doors last May, we walked out of here $563 million in the red. Today, due to the hardships and disasters of 2008, we walk in here $779 million in the red. But let's be clear about this. The initial shortfall of $563 million was not caused by George W. Bush or Congressional Democrats as some have claimed, it was not caused by sliding stock markets or housing crunches. It was caused by a lack of discipline and a failure of duties with Iowans' dollars. That being said, House Republicans are ready to look toward the future and craft solutions.

Mr. Speaker, this blame game serves no one well – so my pledge is this, as long as we are able to look forward and work towards solutions I have no interest in laying blame. However, if blame is continued to be misplaced, as Republicans believe it has in the last several weeks, I will continue to talk about the pork of the last two years – the 2,600 new state employees – the 17+% spending increases. Mr. Speaker, Republicans prefer to move on, I hope Democrats feel the same.

The first order of business should be a meaningful disaster relief bill that helps the thousands of Iowans who can't sleep in their own home at night.

Republicans are ready to help draft a bill that creates substantive measures that permit our small businesses to get their doors back open faster and put Iowans back to work.

We must make sure we invest properly into rebuilding Iowa's infrastructure.

This body has set aside dollars exactly for these purposes – we need to put these dollars to work.

I can assure you, Republicans will not shy away from any of these challenges.

Last year in his veto message on the collective bargaining bill, Governor Culver stated the legislation, which rewrote Iowa's collective bargaining law, could result in substantial tax increases and that it was not in the best interest of the taxpayer. Republicans believe that the governor used the right test on that day.

But we also believe there is another meritorious test. Does proposed legislation grow Iowa's economy – does it create more jobs – does it encourage employers to invest in our workforce? If it does pass the test we should press forward, if it does not, it must be set aside.

Mr. Speaker, Republicans believe many of the left-over high profile bills from last year do not pass this test. You should expect us to oppose Combined Corporate Reporting, property tax increases and any attempt to weaken or gut Iowa's right to work law. These proposals do not pass the test. We must also bring more truth and transparency to our budget process and spending decisions. Republicans believe that Iowans deserve to know what is happening with their tax dollars at all times. Expect Republicans to dive into budgets and look for cost-saving measures. We are committed to asking tough questions and shining light on the process to bring true accountability to the people's House. We must examine how we spend each taxpayer dollar.

We will not support a budget that is balanced by adding to Iowa's already overly burdensome taxes and this includes any attempt to eliminate the largest income tax deduction for nearly every middle class Iowan--federal deductibility.

Mr. Speaker, I recognize you may have preferred my comments be filled with less confrontational words. But we have serious work to do. As committed as I am and my caucus is to staying true to these principles we are also that committed to making sure this body and this general assembly are successful in moving Iowa forward.

We stand ready to do what needs to be done for:

A stronger, growing Iowa economy

Meaningful disaster relief for Iowa

A responsible budget. And just as the governor has said, balanced without raising taxes

Affordable healthcare

Strong education – including stronger community colleges

A robust energy policy that protects those paying electric and gas bills and our natural resources

An open responsive state government

It's a challenging, but exciting time for Iowa

Mr. Speaker, Republicans are ready to go to work.

REMARKS BY THE MAJORITY LEADER

McCarthy of Polk offered the following remarks:

Thank you Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker – ladies and gentlemen of the House. Good morning.

Let me begin by congratulating all of you on your recent election. And also, to Representatives Paulsen and Upmeyer on your new positions. I very much look forward to working with both of you.

We have all heard a lot lately about the coming challenges we will face when dealing with this years budget – and there will be historic challenges indeed.

The State of Iowa is seeing various economic indicators – some of which we have not seen since 1933. As the President-Elect has recently said, “Things may get worse before they get better” and thus far, traditional modes of dealing with this recession have not been successful.

With every challenge comes an opportunity, though. As Joseph Campbell said, “At the darkest moment comes the light.”

Of the 46 states currently facing economic hardship, Iowa is in a better position than almost any other state to weather this economic storm. We are one of only a few states that are now net exporters of energy – our investments in ethanol and wind development are beginning to bear fruit and these investments will continue to bring jobs to our state. Our future looks bright.

If we work together this year we can meet these budget challenges...in a way that’s smarter and more efficient than we have done before; while continuing to provide the essential core services that Iowans expect us to provide and maintaining the progress we have made in education and health care.

To do this we must work in a bipartisan fashion – putting aside any hard feelings that may exist from the recent hard fought campaigns. This body has always been most productive when we are working together and when there is meaningful input from all parties. I believe, contrary to what some are saying - we can, and will, have a successful session.

Today, let’s commit to work together, all of us, in a truly bipartisan way to do what’s in the best interest of all Iowans. Thank you very much.

I want to begin by welcoming all of you, especially the newly elected members of the general assembly, to your state capitol.

2008 was a year we will never forget! May 25th began like any other spring day in the city of Parkersburg. Just as in hundreds of communities statewide, families were gathered together, celebrating high school graduations, enjoying the Memorial Day weekend, and looking forward to the start of summer.

By sunset on that same day, the lives of all citizens of Parkersburg were changed, forever.

At just before 5 PM, a horrific F5 tornado, the worst in our state's history, ripped through town. City Hall, businesses, banks, restaurants – and 220 homes – were all gone.

This mile-wide tornado traveled nearly 45 miles, through three counties, affecting not just Parkersburg, but Aplington, New Hartford, Waterloo, and Dunkerton. Before the winds stopped, 67 people were injured, and 8 people tragically lost their lives.

The storm also destroyed the physical symbol of the heart and soul of Parkersburg: the Aplington-Parkersburg High School. The classrooms, gymnasium, stadium and football field – a field which, over the years, had come to be known as the sacred acre – were all leveled.

Once the tornado stopped, football Coach Ed Thomas – whose own house was destroyed – walked to what was left of the field, and pledged to play the first game of the season on time, and at home. Players, coaches, strangers, and busloads of students from other schools – volunteered to help clean up the mess. They got on their knees and, moving shoulder-to-shoulder, criss-crossed the field, one way and then the other, pulling up glass, wood and other debris that the F5 tornado winds had driven into the turf. Rival high schools conducted fundraising drives that yielded tens of thousands of dollars in cash donations. Four former football players from Coach Thomas's teams now playing in the National Football League led their own fundraising drive through the NFL charity program. Iowa companies even donated new game lights and turf!

As a result of all of these efforts, and the generosity of Iowans and Americans, the entire football stadium was rebuilt!

And on September 5th, I was proud to join Coach Thomas to attend the very first home game of the Aplington-Parkersburg Football team! Well, guess what: Parkersburg won!

These young student-athletes from Aplington-Parkersburg shared one goal: to rebuild the school they loved and the community they call home! Their team spirit – of faith, optimism, and resilience – is what makes Iowa such a great place. As a former high-school teacher, and coach, I know from experience, this kind of teamwork is something we can emulate and be very proud of!

Now, I want to recognize the one of the most valuable players on our team, my friend and partner Lt. Gov. Patty Judge. Patty has stood by me through successes, and through challenges, most recently the storms of 2008. So, I want to thank the Lt. Governor for her tireless work on behalf of Iowans!

And, to the love of my life, and the First Lady of Iowa, thanks for being such an incredible mother to our two wonderful children, Clare and John. And thank you for being a champion for Iowa's at-risk women and children, too!

Fellow statewide elected officials: Attorney General Miller, your work in consumer protection, fighting predatory lending, and preventing foreclosures, is inspiring. Treasurer Fitzgerald, you have helped open the door for thousands of Iowa college students. Secretary Mauro, you presided over the most successful election in Iowa's history – and helped make history in the process. Secretary Northey, you are making sure Iowa farmers feed and fuel the world, and Auditor Vaudt - we share a commitment to fiscal responsibility and balancing budgets.

I also want to thank my friends in the Judicial Branch: Chief Justice Ternus, Supreme Court Justices, Chief Judge Sackett, and members of the Court of Appeals, thank you for your service. Department heads, and state employees, your work is appreciated, too!

Additionally, I want to thank you, the Members of the General Assembly, and your leadership team: President Kibbie and Speaker Murphy; Leaders Gronstal, McCarthy, McKinley and Paulsen. And, to every Legislator: thank you for your willingness to work together for the betterment of all Iowans!

I also want to take a moment to recognize a former Legislator, who is bravely battling cancer, Senate Leader and Legislator Mary Lundby of Marion. I want her, her family and friends, to know they will remain in our thoughts and prayers.

This is a great team!! Not a team of rivals, but of excellent public officials, and I'm honored to work with all of you every day!

In addition, I want to acknowledge another valuable member of the team; Major General Ron Dardis. For over four decades, General Dardis has proudly worn the uniform of the United States Armed Forces. Soon, he will retire his uniform, and pass the torch to Colonel Tim Orr, who will become the next Adjutant General of the Iowa Guard.

Last summer, under the leadership of General Dardis, more than 4,000 members of the Iowa Guard worked with first responders statewide in our flood fight. Their heroic actions saved countless lives. This was the largest single deployment of our Guard troops since the Civil War.

General Dardis has led the Guard during a very difficult time for Iowa's military families, too. Let's always remember Iowa's Eternal Patriots, the 68 Iowans who, since 9-11, wore the uniform, but sadly never made it home. They gave their lives for the country we all love.

Now, I would like to ask General Dardis to stand and be recognized by all of us here!

Finally, I want to thank all members of the Armed Services, past and present – including State Representative Chambers, who was recently deployed. I simply want to say we owe you a debt of gratitude, for your bravery, service, and commitment to Iowa.

During the disasters of 2008, these Iowa values of bravery, service, and commitment were never more evident.

The tornados, floods, and storms which killed and injured so many at the Little Sioux Scout Camp, and in too many communities across Iowa, didn't discriminate in the pain they caused.

But at the same time, we saw – together -that first responders - and thousands of volunteers - also didn't distinguish between old and young, rich or poor. They didn't ask if you were black, white, or brown, urban or rural. Volunteers clearing debris didn't ask if you were Democrat or Republican! Instead, they asked, Are you okay? What do you need? and How can we help?

Let's carry that lesson with us this legislative session. How can we stand together, shoulder to shoulder, as a team – to rebuild Iowa? How can we help ease the pain, for those still suffering? How can we put people back to work, create jobs, invest in our infrastructure, and balance the budget?

Well, I believe that's our duty. Our constituents sent us here to work as a team, and to provide solutions to today's challenges!

Our Iowa values of optimism, resilience, hard work, determination, and caring about your neighbor in need, have carried us from our first days as a state. So, it gives me a great deal of pride to stand before you, even in a season with many challenges and say:

The Condition of our State is Strong, because the people of Iowa are strong!

I believe this, because Iowans are tough. We're never better than when our backs are against the wall. We stand tall, and never give up. In Iowa, we keep our promises. Our word is our bond. We stand up for Iowa values. We work together – like a team - to get things done!

And so, I believe our first order of business of the 2009 Legislative session must be to rebuild the state we all love!

I believe real images seen in cities like Cedar Rapids, Palo, Coralville, Waterloo, Cedar Falls and Oakville, tell the story of the damage and devastation better than any words ever could.

Now, let's all be reminded of what our state has been through.

[VIDEO: In Deep Water – The Flood of 2008]

The rebuilding has begun. But there's much more work to do, and that's why I need your help this session.

The good news is, we've made some real progress. For example, more than $520 million dollars in federal money – has been committed to support more than 5,400 projects in 513 cities, counties and school districts throughout the state. This will help us rebuild our public infrastructure: everything from roads to schools, from senior centers to water treatment plants.

In addition, more than more than $260 million dollars in both state and federal funds are helping 24,000 Iowans repair or replace their homes damaged by last summer's storms. Nearly 1,000 small businesses are receiving over $135 million dollars in state and federal money to re-open their doors.

And, over 2,200 Iowans, who lost their jobs because of the storms, are getting a helping hand from $6.5 million in Disaster Unemployment Assistance. Another 4 million dollars is being used to provide crisis counseling and mental health services to literally tens of thousands of Iowa families impacted by the storms. And, 500,000 dollars in Iowa College Aid has helped more than 400 flood-affected students to stay in school and pay their tuition.

Finally, in the days following the disaster, I asked the private sector to be a part of our Rebuild Iowa team. Thanks to the leadership of Barry Griswell, Fred Hubbell, Bill Knapp, Jim Cownie, Pat Baird, the Des Moines Register, generous Iowa businesses, and individual donors nationwide, the Embrace Iowa fundraising effort has raised nearly 8 Million dollars!

In total, nearly one and a half billion dollars in state, federal, and private-sector money has been secured to date to assist in our rebuilding efforts.

In addition, the Rebuild Iowa Commission, with the help of 15 dedicated private citizens, issued a comprehensive report with their key flood recovery recommendations.

We've also created the Rebuild Iowa Office that serves as a clearinghouse for all flood-recovery efforts, and coordinates our day-to-day rebuilding plans.

Now it's time to take the next steps. Let's start this session by acting quickly on three key areas related to flood recovery.

Number one: I respectfully ask you to immediately pass the $43 Million dollar Rebuild Iowa Bill that I've submitted to you. I recommend we use money from the Rainy Day Fund to pay for this.

Our cash reserves and Rainy Day Funds are at historic levels - $620 Million dollars. By comparison, after the floods of '93 we had only $48 Million dollars in our reserves. This Rainy Day Fund is essential for the state to provide services during emergencies and economic downturns. Well, during the floods of 2008, it rained, it rained, and it rained.

So, I believe it's necessary to now use some of the money from this fund to pay for the costs associated with our ongoing disaster recovery efforts. This $43 million will help struggling communities like Cedar Rapids pay their bills, assist non-profits and cultural organizations, and provide much needed financial assistance for individuals and families still facing challenges.

It also will provide additional funding to address unmet rental housing and small business needs, which are currently not eligible for federal funds. And, it keeps the doors open at the newly established Rebuild Iowa Office, so the state can continue to play a vital role in coordinating all flood recovery efforts.

So, I want to formally ask you to pass this Rebuild Iowa Funding Bill without delay, and send it to my desk as soon as possible.

Number two: the Rebuild Iowa Advisory Commission report identifies twelve key areas of concern. So, I'm asking you to act upon these recommendations this session. Modern flood plain mapping, levee mitigation, disaster insurance, watershed management, and first responder and emergency management training are all important issues that need to be addressed.

In addition to the devastation of the natural disasters, Iowans have been hit by another perfect storm – but this time, it's an economic one. We're dealing with a severe recession, the likes of which we haven't seen since the great depression. And, it has already displaced Iowa workers and threatened jobs.

So, now, the third step I'm asking you to take responds to both of these disasters.

In an effort to stimulate economic growth during this recession, create good private sector jobs, and address unmet infrastructure needs, I propose the creation of the Rebuild Iowa Infrastructure Authority. But when I say infrastructure, I'm not just talking about bridges and roads. I mean all infrastructures: rail, trails, public buildings, water and sewer treatment facilities, the utility grid, and telecommunications, too.

But, there's no time to wait! This legislative session, we must address every facet of our 21st century infrastructure, to ensure that we continue to grow our economy and support the jobs of the future.

In fact, for every $100 million spent on highway construction alone, more than 4,000 new jobs are created! Infrastructure investment is essential for not only job creation, but for keeping existing jobs in Iowa. So, the authority will create and then issue up to $700 million of bonds, over the next several years.

It will also allow us to build upon any additional federal stimulus or flood recovery funds our state might receive in the future.

We can do this! This is the first time our state's history we've earned a Triple-A bond rating. And I intend to use it!

So, we're cutting back on the day-to-day expenditures of state government. But, at the same time, we will be investing in bricks and mortar – to create jobs and keep our economy going. And we're in a position to pay back the bonds without raising taxes.

The Rebuild Iowa Investment Bonds will be funded through existing gaming revenue, and will provide grants, and loans for projects statewide.

Just as we locked arms and worked together during the flood fight, we must continue our efforts, as partners – to Rebuild Iowa, by investing in, and modernizing our infrastructure.

Our second real challenge this session is to balance the budget. As you know, along with the rest of the nation, we're now entering a period of economic upheaval.

However, unlike the federal government, we can't deficit spend. And, we're not going to tax our way out of this, like California or New York.

While I know our nation's short term economic future is uncertain, I believe our state's long term future is bright. Our future will be bright if we use Iowa common-sense in planning our budget. When we do, I believe we will emerge from this recession in a better position to lead.

Let's be clear. This economic challenge is historic in its scope. Its roots can be traced to the greedy actions of a few on Wall Street, lack of financial oversight, and misguided federal policies from Washington.

All of these things have consequences. The result is an economic recession that is hitting families and main streets, factories and farms across the nation. As we speak, 44 states are either in, or headed towards a deficit for fiscal year 2009. Additionally, according to the Center for Budget and Policy Priorities, these states are projected to have budget shortfalls as high as $140 billion dollars collectively by 2010. Yes, that's $140 billion dollars!

In short, this world-wide recession is affecting nearly every state in the nation, no matter if they are big or small, rural or urban, Democratic or Republican. This is the economic reality. And I believe it's our responsibility to limit the impact of this recession on hardworking Iowans.

Let's stay true to our Iowa values by effectively managing the budget for the rest of fiscal year 2009, and for 2010. Regarding the 2009 budget, we've already made progress in the Executive Branch, by making some tough decisions. For example, when the state's revenues fell short of projections last fall, I started with my own office, and my own departments, telling them to cut waste, cut unnecessary travel, and freeze state hiring. These selective cuts, totaling $40 Million dollars - were not easy - but they were the right thing to do.

Then, on December 22nd, as revenues continued to lag, I invoked my Executive Authority to make a 1.5 percent across the board cut in general fund spending. This saved the state $90 Million dollars!

But this must be a team effort. As Governor, I'm limited in what I can do within the Executive Branch. So, here is what I'm asking you to do to ensure we balance the budget for fiscal year 2009.

Number one: De-appropriate $37 million dollars for the new state office building.

Number two: Approve the transfer of $10 million dollars from accounts and funds that I've requested.

Number three: I'm asking you for one exception to my across the board cut. Corrections Officers and Troopers are essential to our public safety, and I want to make sure these positions are not cut.

I, for one, accept the responsibility to manage our state through these turbulent times. I will stand up for you, tell it like it is, and you can hold me accountable for what happens on my watch.

So, I'll be very frank. Most of us here - in fact, all of us - won't like some of the effects of these cuts. But all Iowans must share in the responsibility to keep our fiscal house in order. Simply put, if Iowans are being asked to do more with less, then so should our government!

Here's what we're going to do. Make government more lean and efficient, create infrastructure jobs, and cut spending. This means some services will be cut. And, as I've said, because of the national recession, I believe this is no time to raise taxes on hardworking Iowans.

Here's the good news: Iowa is well-positioned to get through this worldwide and national recession. In fact, we're better situated than almost every other state in the nation. For example, our $620 million dollar cash reserves and Triple-A bond rating allows us to do some things that other states may find impossible to do. Our unemployment rate is considerably lower than the national average. And, companies like Aviva, Microsoft and Google have come to Iowa – investing billions while creating hundreds of new, good paying jobs. In addition, we've attracted new companies to Iowa like Acciona, Clipper, TPI, Siemens, and Trinity – which have created thousands of wind energy jobs in every corner of the state.

Now, regarding the 2010 budget, which I'm required to submit to you by the end of the month, President-elect Obama and Congress have already started working on an economic stimulus package designed to assist the states.

This will impact our 2010 budget and it could help us address some of our education and health care needs.

But, for the time being, we don't know what the final package will look like. And we will be constrained by a tight budget year. However, I am asking you to do all you can to protect the investments we've made together.

For example, in the Iowa Power Fund, which has helped create green collar jobs of future statewide. And, let's keep Iowa a national leader in education. Let's keep working to make health care more accessible, and affordable. And let's build upon our progress on making Iowa the renewable energy capitol of the United States, and the silicon valley of the Midwest!

But as we do, let's agree that everything's on the table with respect to balancing the budget and finding cost savings in state government. Let's take this opportunity to improve the way our government works. Let's not be afraid of changing how we do business. I believe we should explore the sale or lease of some state assets; let's consolidate state contracts and group purchasing agreements, and use other sensible ways to save taxpayers' money!

In closing, we have a strong, talented citizenry who demand that their political leaders pull together to get the job done. So, let's waste no time in getting to work.

Neither the natural disasters, nor the economic recession, are the fault of Iowans. But the difficulties each create are something we must all face together, and our constituents are counting on us.

2009 will be a year of challenges – some as great as any our country has ever faced. And today, I've asked you – the members of the Legislature – to make some tough decisions.

These are difficult days – but in Iowa, we don't run from challenges, we tackle them head –on. Our state was built by the hard work and sweat of people who weren't afraid to take on this land with all of its challenges. They believed, as I do, that in every challenge, is an opportunity.

So, despite some setbacks, I am both optimistic and confident about what the future holds for our state. Let's put partisan politics aside and work together as a team for the good of all Iowans. When we do, I believe our best and brightest days are ahead of us.

Thank you for inviting me again this year to talk with you about the condition of Iowa's judicial branch. As your partner in government, we look forward to working with you on issues affecting the administration of justice. If I could capture the condition of our courts, indeed the condition of our state, in a few words, it would be: "We live in challenging times." No one knows the true meaning of this phrase better than those Iowans hit by natural disasters. But my focus today is, of course, on the courts. Ensuring the delivery of equal, affordable and accessible justice is always challenging work, but it will be especially so this year and the next in light of the State's budget problems. Given the magnitude of this challenge, it is even more imperative that we work together in the spirit of unity, candor and cooperation. And I address you today in this spirit.

We are deeply concerned, as you are, about the present financial situation and its effect on individual Iowans. Naturally, we are particularly troubled about its impact on the delivery of justice to our citizens. Even in good economic times, the administration of justice is difficult to fulfill given the sheer volume and complexity of problems Iowans bring to their courthouses. Because of the effects of the nation's economic downturn, people will need access to justice now more than ever. We already see this happening. The number of mortgage foreclosure cases in Iowa rose 14% in the past year. Debt collection cases increased 20% in the same time. An increase in these types of cases is predictable in tough economic times, but other types of problems may escalate as well. Some experts fear that a recession may also give rise to more crime, child abuse, domestic violence, and substance abuse. Naturally, for the sake of the people who may be harmed by these problems, we hope they do not occur. If they do, however, these matters will demand our immediate attention.

We are resolved to do everything in our power to reduce our operating expenses while fulfilling our constitutional responsibilities to the people of Iowa. However, we must not be so focused on the present budget dilemma that we lose sight of the future. Our court system faces a host of serious issues that have long-range implications. Left unaddressed, they will only grow more onerous, and as they do, they will test the fabric of our government. We cannot afford to march in place until state revenues improve. We must ensure the fundamentals of governing our State, including the administration of justice, are strong, especially in tough times such as these. We are frequently reminded these days that government cannot do everything. We agree. Government cannot do everything, and in times like these it cannot afford to do everything. But bear these simple truths in mind: there are some things that only government can do, and these things it must do well. Administering justice under the law equally to all people is a function that only government can fulfill. The determination of guilt and innocence, property rights and parental rights, and legal privileges and power are judgments only government can make. Administering justice is one of the reasons that government exists. If we neglect this fundamental obligation to the people, we break trust with them, and ultimately, lose their confidence. And for government, public trust and confidence is everything.

I know you have difficult decisions ahead. My goal today is to provide you with a thorough account of Iowa's court system so you have a clear picture of how your decisions will impact not only the administration of justice—but the people whose lives it affects. I will also suggest steps the judicial branch will take to address the challenges we face, as well as steps you can take to help us move forward, notwithstanding the State's financial situation.

Unmet Legal Needs

One of the most serious challenges facing Iowa's court system, indeed the nation's courts, is meeting the civil legal needs of people who cannot afford to hire a lawyer to represent them. We cannot ignore this growing problem.

Equal access to fair and impartial justice is a deep-seated tenet of our democratic society. As United States Supreme Court Justice Lewis Powell said, "Equal justice under law . . . is perhaps the most inspiring ideal of our society . . . [I]t is fundamental that justice should be the same, in substance and availability, without regard to economic status." I believe that. I think you do too. But more and more citizens cannot access the courts, or cannot access them effectively, because they cannot afford an attorney. We have long recognized that the cost of legal representation is beyond the reach of the poor, but it is now often beyond the reach of the middle class. The end result: we have equal justice for some, but certainly not for all.

There is no single, surefire response to this particular problem. The solution will require a combination of steps by government, as well as by the legal profession. Today, I will discuss some pragmatic and reasonably achievable steps we can take to improve the situation.

Legal Service Organizations

Providing financial support to legal service organizations is the most effective way to direct legal services to the poor. These organizations serve as a lifeline for thousands of low-income Iowans who have serious civil legal problems—problems that affect their basic life needs such as shelter, income, food, and medical care. Your appropriation of state funds to legal service organizations in prior years demonstrates your commitment to this important public service. We strongly encourage you to maintain the current level of funding for legal service organizations. For obvious reasons, these services are especially critical in hard economic times.

For our part, we will step up our efforts to encourage lawyers to offer pro bono services to those who cannot afford an attorney.

Self-Represented Litigants

One way in which the courts have attempted to address the civil legal needs of our citizens is by making it easier for people to navigate through the courts on their own. For different reasons, but primarily for financial ones, many people go it alone in court without the help of an attorney, especially in family law cases. This development is a nationwide trend that has accelerated in the past decade. We do not have any statistics to measure this trend in Iowa, but we know that last year more than 32,000 people served as their own lawyers in the Nebraska courts. We believe Iowa's experience is comparable.

In recent years, we have adopted relatively easy-to-use standard legal forms and hope to develop more. Even so, standard legal forms alone are not enough to effectively meet the needs of self-represented litigants. Ideally, we would like to provide services like those used by courts in other states such as self-help centers in courthouses, self-help hotlines, online how-to videos and live-chat email services. These examples are just some of the ways we can serve the needs of our citizens who represent themselves in court. If and when we find the resources to enable us to provide these new services, the payback for Iowans will be immeasurable.

New Strategies for Civil Litigation

Another access-to-justice issue arises from the cumbersome and costly process for litigating common civil disputes, such as contract claims, personal injury lawsuits, malpractice claims, and commercial disputes. Some citizens, individuals and businesses alike, simply don't pursue valid claims because doing so costs too much and takes too long. Similarly, some persons who are sued settle claims that have no merit simply to avoid the cost of litigation. For these Iowans, the court system is not a viable option. Instead of using the courts, many would-be litigants turn to private dispute resolution where they can more easily control the timing and cost of the process. But even private mediation or arbitration is not a practical alternative for many persons who face civil legal problems. For them, the promise of justice is a luxury they cannot afford.

Why, you might be wondering, is the civil justice system costly and slow as compared to private dispute resolution? Well, first of all, courts must concentrate limited resources on priority cases such as criminal, abuse-and-neglect, and juvenile cases. Consequently, civil litigants, including those involved in family law cases, must wait in line. In addition, traditional civil legal procedures are cumbersome, and therefore, time-consuming and costly. We do not intend to stand by and do nothing. We must improve the civil justice system so it is faster, easier to use, and more affordable.

So where do we start?

Fortunately, we do not have to reinvent the wheel. Other states have taken steps that we can build upon. For example, the New York state courts use an expedited process called a summary trial. This process is a voluntary option that is structured like a traditional trial, but by agreement between the parties, the scope of discovery is limited, the length of the trial is restricted to one or two days, and relaxed rules of evidence are employed. As a result the case is resolved faster and at less expense than using traditional civil legal procedures. Another idea that many states have used successfully is a specialized business court that handles cases involving disputes between businesses. Judges assigned to a business court are uniquely experienced in commercial litigation. Participation by litigants is often voluntary, and such courts usually offer the option of limited discovery and a fast-track timetable. In addition to the obvious benefits, business courts bring an added bonus. Because businesses like business courts, states view them as a way to attract new business.

These two examples—summary trials and business courts—illustrate how we can make enormous improvements at little to no additional cost to taxpayers. There are many other innovative ideas that are worthy of our discussion and consideration. We do not propose a particular strategy, nor do we recommend any action by you in this regard at this time. We believe the best results will come from a thorough and comprehensive study involving all stakeholder groups. To this end, we plan to organize a statewide conference for the purpose of exploring different options, and hopefully, building consensus regarding the procedures that hold the most promise and are best suited for Iowa litigants.

Interpreters

Now I turn to another serious challenge for our courts — our struggle to serve people who are not proficient in English.

Earlier I described the difficulties self-represented litigants have trying to understand our legal system. Now imagine the difficulties for persons who do not speak or understand English. Yet, due to Iowa's increasingly diverse population, we see more and more of these people in court. Our courts have a constitutional obligation to ensure equal justice for everyone, including people who speak and understand little or no English. For this reason, the use of interpreters is an essential court service.

The essential nature of this service is reinforced by a federal law that states all agencies and courts that receive federal funds are responsible to provide access for limited English proficient persons to important services. Noncompliance may result in the loss of federal funding — something we cannot let happen.

In the past decade, the judicial branch has adopted measures to ensure that our courts use well-qualified interpreters. Still, we struggle to provide interpreters to litigants and witnesses in civil cases, interpreters in rural parts of the State, and interpreters for languages other than Spanish. Surely, we are not alone in this regard. State agencies, local governments, hospitals, school districts, and private companies throughout Iowa must struggle with this problem too.

For this reason, we propose that the State consider a comprehensive solution: a statewide language interpreter center that pools and coordinates interpreter resources. Having a central point of service can better meet demands for different languages, enhance quality control, match interpreter qualifications to different jobs, and regulate costs through economies of scale. The fact that the State's financial resources are limited is only more reason that the State should explore this collaborative solution — perhaps, through a legislative interim study committee. By pooling our experiences and our resources, however limited, we can surely accomplish more than we do with each governmental entity and private business struggling to address this issue on their own.

Juveniles

Now I shift to some of the courts' most important work—our work with troubled juveniles. Each year, our juvenile court officers, staff, and judges work closely with thousands of troubled children and teens. When working with these young people they have three goals—to ensure community safety, hold young offenders accountable, and teach them how to change their ways. As I told you last year, we urgently need more juvenile court officers and support staff to strengthen our work with these young people. This need is urgent because a relatively new federal law requires that our juvenile court officers visit youths in out-of-home placements and the parents of these young people more often. A similar requirement applies to DHS and children under its care. Obviously, our juvenile court officers have only so much time in a day. We have shifted some resources to address part of this need, but we must have more staff to fully comply with this federal mandate. Noncompliance threatens the availability of federal funds—valuable resources Iowa cannot afford to lose.

Drug Courts

Another challenge we face is age-old—the impact of substance abuse on our society. Alcohol abuse and drug addiction are often the root of juvenile delinquency, adult criminal behavior, child abuse and neglect, and other problems that damage individuals, destroy families and hurt communities. We know because we struggle with these problems in our courts every day.

As I reported to you last year, we have achieved good results with drug courts. Experience shows that, when compared with offenders handled in the traditional way, drug court participants are more inclined to follow through with their treatment. Successful treatment in turn increases the odds these people will not commit more crimes.

Iowa currently has 15 drug courts, including family drug courts and juvenile drug courts. Drug courts are labor intensive. A recent Iowa time study shows that a judge-centered drug court uses as much as twelve times more judge time than the traditional criminal process. We would like to expand the number of drug courts in Iowa to benefit more people and more communities. However, absent federal funding, expansion efforts will wait until we have more resources.

Resources

Of course the most immediate and significant challenge before us is the current fiscal situation.

We will do our part to help you reduce the State's operating expenses. Honestly, though, our options for cost cutting are quite limited. Our resources are spread painfully thin due to the lasting and cumulative effects of the budget cuts in the first part of this decade. Many cost-saving measures we adopted then are still in place today. Because labor costs constitute 96% of our operating budget, it is impossible to significantly reduce our expenses without cutting personnel. Depending on the size of the cut you impose on the judicial branch, in all likelihood we will have to institute furloughs to reduce expenses this fiscal year.

You may wonder: why furloughs rather than layoffs? Our workforce today is nearly 7% smaller than it was in Fiscal Year 2000 when we had substantial layoffs. Further staff reduction through layoffs would cripple our ability to fulfill our constitutional responsibilities. We learned from our previous budget-cutting experience that furlough days scattered throughout the year will do the least amount of harm to the public, now and in the long run. It's that simple.

That is not to say, however, that furloughs will not impact our citizens. Quite the contrary: furlough days will cause gaps in services such as forwarding child support payments to parents, updating criminal case history and fine payment data used by state and local agencies, and sending copies of orders and notices of hearings to litigants and law enforcement agencies. Cases, in particular civil cases, will have to wait. Some businesses that depend on court records will experience delays. There is simply no way around these problems.

There is another side of the revenue picture I wish to discuss — our efforts to collect unpaid court fines and fees — a matter of particular importance today. We work with allied agencies and local officials to find ways to keep the pressure on people who do not pay their court-imposed fines and fees. We produce solid results using procedures such as contempt hearings, computer-generated noticing, income tax offset, and vehicle registration renewal stops. We collect a sizable amount with the help of the centralized collections unit, revenue and finance, county auditors, and county attorneys. Despite these diligent efforts, however, millions of dollars of fines and fees remain unpaid.

We know we can improve our efforts to collect unpaid fines. We are in the process of implementing the statutory changes you approved last year, and that should help. But let me be frank. Putting a good idea down on paper is one thing; making it into a working reality is another. Complex changes to our database and operating procedures take time and money, so we would appreciate your patience as we tackle this difficult task. I assure you, though, that we are ever mindful of the importance of the effective enforcement of fines and fees, and we are determined to strengthen our efforts within the limits of our resources. For us, this problem is more than a matter of revenue; it is a matter of the integrity of our court orders.

But as John Adams said, “Facts are stubborn things.” And the fact is that many of the people who owe these debts are poor. In fact, 22% of all unpaid court debt springs from the cost of providing state-paid legal representation to indigent defendants, who by definition have no money to pay. So, in reality, even the most forceful measures to collect these debts will never produce a windfall.

Renovation, Innovation, and Reallocation

Up to this point, I have described a number of serious challenges we must address sooner rather than later to meet the demands of our changing society. As I have acknowledged, many of the solutions to these challenges require resources. We know that in the current environment new resources are out of the question. We are confident, however, that we can address some of these challenges without additional funds. We can do so using a three-pronged approach: updating, innovating, and reallocating. We must update our long-established court structure and procedures to achieve maximum efficiency. We must use technology in innovative ways to lower the cost of performing routine, labor-intensive business processes. And we must shift existing resources to meet the new challenges we face. Mind you, we cannot accomplish all of these goals in one session or even in one year, but we can accomplish them in due time if we all set our minds to it.

Updating Court Structure and Procedures

With the exception of our use of information technology, we are working with a trial court structure that is outdated in many respects. At best, much of the way we process our cases is right out of the 1970s, in some respects out of the 1870s. Nonetheless, we believe there are improvements that can be made to update our court system so it can better address modern day realities.

Before I mention some of our proposals for improvement, I want to address an issue that has come up in the past and will likely come up again in the face of the State’s current financial situation and that is the possibility of consolidation: consolidation of clerks offices, consolidation of trial courts, and consolidation of judicial districts. The suggestions that we propose and that I intend to discuss with you this morning do not include plans for any sort of consolidation. The omission of this topic is not meant to imply that we believe it is not worthy of examination. Nor do we suggest consolidation is a good idea. We simply do not want to spend precious time on a concept that you are not prepared to consider, and in the past, you have acted to prevent any movement toward consolidating court operations.

Times like these demand action, so we intend to concentrate our time and efforts on change that is realistically achievable. We hope to work with you to implement a number of commonsense proposals that will enhance the efficiency and effectiveness of the court system without additional resources, without disruption of services, and without delay.

Streamlining Procedures, Eliminating Obsolete Tasks

Streamlining the procedures our clerk-of-court offices must perform is absolutely essential. Clerks are the pulse of our court system. They touch and move nearly everything we do. In addition, their workflow directly affects the work of other government agencies and offices, including the Department of Corrections, the Department of Transportation, the Department of Public Safety, and the Department of Human Services.

Over the years, we have boasted about the efficiency and effectiveness of our statewide court information database. This database contains a myriad of information that we use and that we push to state and local agencies. This database is the source of information the public sees on our popular online court records service. Now, I'm going to let you in on a secret: the information in this database does not get there by magic; our clerks manually enter every single detail. They must enter this information promptly and accurately. At the same time, they must perform hundreds of other duties, most of which are required by statute. The capacity of our clerk-of-court offices is stretched to the limit, and we cannot realistically expect them to do more work without either adding more staff or reducing their workload. Because adding more staff is not in the cards right now, we must find ways to streamline and reduce their workload.

We know of a number of statutes that require clerks of court to perform obsolete and cumbersome tasks. There are probably others out there yet to be identified. We propose to amend some of these statutes and to eliminate others. On the surface, some of these changes may appear inconsequential, but please remember—even the smallest improvements have the capacity for a large impact.

Judges

Judges are another important resource. We propose a number of changes to modernize our use and assignment of judicial officers, so we can make the most of their time.

Before I share those ideas, I want to make you aware that with the assistance of the National Center for State Courts, the judicial branch recently updated its judicial officer formula. We use this formula to gauge the number of judges we need to handle Iowa's caseload. The formula shows that the amount of time judges spend on certain types of cases has grown significantly in the past nine years. The best example of this fact is the growth in time judges must devote to sex offender cases. So, although our caseload has recently dropped somewhat, Iowa needs more judicial officers. Notwithstanding this need, we are not asking for more judges this year because of the State's budget situation.

With your help, however, we can do more with the judges we have. For starters, it is time to update the statutory scheme for selecting and assigning district associate judges. This judicial position is the offshoot of the municipal courts and police courts of old. In the 1970s, Iowa changed these judgeships into the position of district associate judge. Over the years, you have expanded the case jurisdiction and duties of these judges, but by statute their geographical jurisdiction and selection method remain unchanged. We believe that the geographical jurisdiction and method of selecting district associate judges should reflect their expanded role and the importance of their work. Their jurisdiction should be district-wide, and their selection should involve the district nominating commissions. These improvements will increase the pool of qualified applicants for these judgeships and improve our ability to prudently manage our judicial resources. We know you cannot provide the courts with more judges, but you can pass legislation to give us the management flexibility we need to more effectively use our current judicial resources.

Magistrates

Now I turn to another type of judicial officer—part-time judicial magistrates. Our magistrates play a key role in the delivery of justice in Iowa. They handle procedures that require urgent judicial attention such as search and arrest warrants and emergency hospitalization matters. They preside over thousands of everyday lawsuits such as small claims, landlord-tenant cases, simple misdemeanors, and traffic offenses. Our magistrate system has remained unchanged in many respects since its inception in the mid-1970s. We have a number of proposals that will modernize our judicial magistrate structure, which in turn will improve the delivery of judicial services across the state, and most particularly, in the rural areas of Iowa.

Last year, I told you of the special task force we created to examine Iowa's judicial magistrate structure. I am pleased to announce that the task force submitted its report last month. This valuable report is thorough and insightful. I want to recognize and thank the members of our task force, many of whom are here today. I want to specially mention and thank the talented chair of our task force — Cedar Falls attorney and former state senator, Donald Redfern. We are grateful for his capable leadership on this important study.

After comprehensive examination and thorough analysis, the task force concluded that while magistrates throughout the state are doing a very good job, there are significant problems with the current system. Among the problems identified by the task force are substantial disparities in workloads among magistrates, even though each magistrate receives the same amount of compensation, a very limited pool of qualified applicants in some counties, an increase in the complexity of civil and criminal laws within the jurisdiction of magistrates, and significant quality-of-life problems that diminish job satisfaction. These problems, the task force concluded, will become a greater challenge in the future if not addressed now.

The task force made sensible proposals for legislation and other measures to improve Iowa's magistrate system. For the sake of time, I will only mention some of the recommendations that require legislative action, including the following proposals:

- Require that a magistrate must be an attorney licensed in Iowa, but make an exception for current non-lawyer magistrates.
- Allow a magistrate position in one county to be filled by a lawyer living in a contiguous county.
- Authorize the creation of a full-time magistrate position through the conversion of two part-time positions.
- Eliminate the requirement that each county have a resident magistrate or judge, but require that magistrate court be held regularly in every county.

Your approval of these recommendations along with the recommendations we intend to adopt will bring about important improvements. Moreover, we ask for no additional funding to implement them. These recommendations give you the chance to improve the delivery of court services to local communities, even in these difficult economic times. Please do not pass up this opportunity.

Other Legislation

We have many other recommendations for legislation that we think will improve the operation of the courts, but time does not allow me to mention them all. Let me just say that they are all important and will improve the delivery of court services in our state. They merit your approval.

Innovation: Leverage Technology

And finally, I want to mention the potential of innovation through the use of technology. In the long run, information technology holds great promise for increasing our efficiency and productivity. By automating labor-intensive, routine manual processes, we can shift tight resources to meet public demand; and in particular, to address the challenges I mentioned previously. Leveraging technology is a smart approach for taxpayers.

In the past twenty years, we have changed and expanded the meaning of access to Iowa's court system through the use of information technology. We have also made extensive use of information technology to more efficiently and effectively exchange data with state and local government agencies, to eliminate unnecessary duplication of effort, and to conserve state resources. Now we are poised to do even more.

At long last we are ready to implement electronic filing and document management. This system is being designed as I speak, and this summer we will test the system in two counties, and later, in the appellate courts. As I have said before, this technology will revolutionize the way our courts do business. It is a case-processing tool that will make us more efficient and productive. It will improve access to court records. It may eventually allow clerk-of-court staff to focus their time on other important duties, such as data quality assurance, fine collections, working with the public, and assisting self-represented litigants.

This technology offers other important benefits. For one thing, it will eventually eliminate the need for vast storage space for court records. Counties will appreciate this benefit because right now they have the burden of providing this space. Also, this technology will greatly improve document safety because electronic documents can be easily backed up and stored in a safe location. We cannot afford another devastating loss such as the one we experienced in Linn County this summer when flood waters rose well beyond predictions and inundated the first floor of the courthouse. Although our judges and court employees worked frantically to move these records to a safe place, they could not anticipate the 500-year flood. We lost files in more than half a million cases!

We are confident there are other ways to leverage technology to make our court operations run more efficiently and affordably. We promise to scrutinize our business procedures from top-to-bottom to identify other technological advances that have this potential.

Conclusion

As I have discussed, even before the current economic downturn, our courts were facing many serious challenges, and now the budget problem, and its potential impact on the delivery of justice to Iowans, looms large. But we face two other challenges that are no less daunting: the challenge of change and the challenge of maintaining public trust and confidence.

These days we hear a lot about the need for change. But I have enough experience to know that humans naturally resist change, even when they know it's good for them. It reminds me of a bumper sticker I recently saw: "Change is good. You go first."

We stand at a crossroads. Change will come whether we want it or not. We cannot stop the sweeping forces that are transforming our society, but we do have control over our response. We can choose to shape the future or we can wait for the future to shape us and then face the consequences of our inaction.

For our part, the Iowa Judicial Branch is ready to be a catalyst for change. We are fully prepared to prudently change Iowa's court structure, procedures and services and to reallocate its resources to better meet the demands of our changing society. Because most of our structure and procedures are statutory, we cannot move forward unilaterally; we must have your support. As I have discussed, we propose a number of statutory changes required to bring about the improvements we envision, and we urge you to approve them all. With your approval,

- we can support the continued delivery of high quality justice in Iowa,
- we can ensure that a fundamental function of our democratic government stays strong, and
- we can build and maintain public confidence in our government for generations to come.

Martin Luther King once said, "The ultimate measure of a man is not where he stands in moments of comfort or convenience, but where he stands at times of challenge and controversy." Iowa has faced challenging times before, and the bright points in our history have been when Iowa's leaders have found the vision, the courage, and the commitment to shape the future.

Let this be such a time.

1 Amend Senate File 44, as amended, passed, and
 2 reprinted by the Senate, as follows:
 3 1. Page 1, by inserting before line 1 the
 4 following:
 5 "Section 1. Section 423B.1, subsection 3, Code
 6 2009, is amended to read as follows:
 7 3. A local option tax shall be imposed only after 8 an election at which a majority of those voting on the 9 question favors imposition and shall then be imposed
 10 until repealed as provided in subsection 6, paragraph
 11 "a". If the tax is a local vehicle tax imposed by a 12 county, it shall apply to all incorporated and 13 unincorporated areas of the county. If the tax is a
 14 local sales and services tax imposed by a county, it
 15 shall only apply to those incorporated areas and the 16 unincorporated area of that county in which a majority
 17 of those voting in the area on the tax favors its 18 imposition. For purposes of the local sales and 19 services tax, all cities contiguous to each other 20 shall be treated as part of one incorporated area and 21 the tax would be imposed in each of those contiguous
 22 cities only if the majority of those voting in the 23 total area covered by the contiguous cities favors its 24 imposition. In the case of a local sales and services

 25 tax submitted to the registered voters of two or more
 26 contiguous counties as provided in subsection 4, 27 paragraph "c", all cities contiguous to each other and 28 where the boundaries of such cities overlap county
 29 lines shall be treated as part of one incorporated
 30 area, ~~even if the corporate boundaries of one or more~~
 31 ~~of the cities include areas of more than one county.~~
 32 and the tax shall be imposed in each of those 33 contiguous cities only if a majority of those voting
 34 on the tax in the total area covered by the contiguous
 35 cities favored its imposition. For purposes of the 36 local sales and services tax, a city is not contiguous
 37 to another city if the only road access between the 38 two cities is through another state.

39 Sec.____. Section 423B.1, subsection 6, paragraph 40 a, subparagraph (1), Code 2009, is amended to read as 41 follows:

42 (1) If a majority of those voting on the question
 43 of imposition of a local option tax favors imposition
 44 of a local option tax, the governing body of that 45 county shall impose the tax at the rate specified for 46 an unlimited period. However, in the case of a local 47 sales and services tax, the county shall not impose
 48 the tax in any incorporated area or the unincorporated
 49 area if the majority of those voting on the tax in 50 that area did not favor its imposition. For purposes

1 of the local sales and services tax, all cities
 2 contiguous to each other shall be treated as part of 3 one incorporated area and the tax shall be imposed in 4 each of those contiguous cities only if the majority
 5 of those voting on the tax in the total area covered
 6 by the contiguous cities favored its imposition. In 7 the case of a local sales and services tax submitted
 8 to the registered voters of two or more contiguous
 9 counties as provided in subsection 4, paragraph "c", 10 all cities contiguous to each other and where the 11 boundaries of such cities overlap county lines shall 12 be treated as part of one incorporated area, ~~even if~~
 13 ~~the corporate boundaries of one or more of the cities~~
 14 ~~include areas of more than one county,~~ and the tax
 15 shall be imposed in each of those contiguous cities
 16 only if a majority of those voting on the tax in the 17 total area covered by the contiguous cities favored
 18 its imposition.

19 Sec.____. Section 423B.5, unnumbered paragraph 1,
 20 Code 2009, is amended to read as follows:

21 A local sales and services tax at the rate of not

22 more than one percent may be imposed by a county on 23 the sales price taxed by the state under chapter 423,
24 subchapter II. A local sales and services tax shall 25 be imposed on the same basis as the state sales and 26 services tax or in the case of the use of natural gas,
27 natural gas service, electricity, or electric service
28 on the same basis as the state use tax and shall not

31 not be imposed on the sales price from the sale of 32 motor fuel or special fuel as defined in chapter 452A

35 and a refund has not or will not be allowed, on the 36 sales price from the sale of equipment by the state
37 department of transportation, or on the sales price
38 from the sale or use of natural gas, natural gas
39 service, electricity, or electric service in a city or 40 county where the sales price from the sale of natural
41 gas or electric energy is subject to a franchise fee
42 or user fee during the period the franchise or user
43 fee is imposed. A local sales and services tax is 44 applicable to transactions within those incorporated
45 and unincorporated areas of the county where it is 46 imposed and shall be collected by all persons required
47 to collect state sales taxes. All cities contiguous
48 to each other shall be treated as part of one
49 incorporated area and the tax would be imposed in each
50 of those contiguous cities only if the majority of

1 those voting in the total area covered by the
2 contiguous cities favors its imposition. In the case
3 of a local sales and services tax submitted to the 4 registered voters of two or more contiguous counties
5 as provided in section 423B.1, subsection 4, paragraph 6 "c", all cities contiguous to each other and where the 7 boundaries of such cities overlap county lines shall

1           House Resolution 7
 2           by Committee on Ethics
 3           (Successor to HSB 2)
 4    A resolution relating to the House code of ethics.
 5    Be it resolved by the House of Representatives,
 6    That the House Code of Ethics shall be as follows:
 7    House Code of Ethics
 8    Preamble. Every legislator and legislative
 9    employee has a duty to uphold the integrity and honor
 10   of the general assembly, to encourage respect for the 11   law and for the general assembly, and to observe the 12   house code of ethics. The members and employees of 13   the house have a responsibility to conduct themselves
 14   so as to reflect credit on the general assembly, and 15   to inspire the confidence, respect, and trust of the 16   public. The following rules are adopted pursuant to 17   chapter 68B of the Code, to assist the members and 18   employees in the conduct of their activities:
 19   1. Definitions. The definitions of terms provided
 20   in chapter 68B of the Code apply to the use of those 21   terms in these rules.
 22   2. Economic interest of member or employee of 23   House.
 24   a. Economic or investment opportunity. A member
 25   or employee of the house shall not solicit or accept
 26   economic or investment opportunity under circumstances
 27   where the member or employee knows, or should know,
 28   that the opportunity is being afforded with the intent
 29   to influence the member's or employee's conduct in the 30   performance of official duties. If a member or

1   employee of the house learns that an economic or
 2   investment opportunity previously accepted was offered
 3   with the intent of influencing the member's or 4   employee's conduct in the performance of the official
 5   duties, the member or employee shall take steps to 6   divest that member or employee of that investment or 7   economic opportunity, and shall report the matter in 8   writing to the chairperson of the house ethics
 9   committee.
 10   b. Excessive charges for services, goods, or 11   property interests. A member or employee of the house
 12   shall not charge to or accept from a person known to 13   have a legislative interest, a price, fee,

14 compensation, or other consideration for the sale or 15 lease of any property or the furnishing of services
16 which is in excess of that which the member or 17 employee would ordinarily charge another person.
18 c. Use of confidential information. A member or 19 employee of the house, in order to further the 20 member's or employee's own economic interests, or 21 those of any other person, shall not disclose or use 22 confidential information acquired in the course of the 23 member's or employee's official duties. For the 24 purpose of this rule, information disclosed in open
25 session at a public meeting ~~under chapter 21 of the~~ 26 ~~Code~~ and information that is a public record ~~under~~ 27 ~~chapter 22 of the Code~~ is not confidential
28 information.
29 d. Employment. A member or employee of the house
30 shall not accept employment, either directly or

1 indirectly, from a political action committee. A
2 member of the house shall not act as a paid lobbyist
3 for any organization. However, this paragraph shall 4 not prohibit a member or employee of the house from 5 working for a candidate's committee, a political
6 party's action committee, or a political action
7 committee which does not expressly advocate the 8 nomination, election, or defeat of a candidate for 9 public office in this state or expressly advocate the 10 passage or defeat of a ballot issue in this state and 11 which is not interested in issues before the general
12 assembly.
13 For the purpose of this rule, a political action
14 committee means a committee, but not a candidate's 15 committee, which accepts contributions, makes
16 expenditures, or incurs indebtedness in the aggregate
17 of more than seven hundred fifty dollars in any one
18 calendar year to expressly advocate the nomination,
19 election, or defeat of a candidate for public office
20 or to expressly advocate the passage or defeat of a 21 ballot issue or for the purpose of influencing
22 legislative action.
23 e. A member or employee of the house shall not 24 solicit employment on behalf of the member or 25 employee, or on behalf of another legislator or 26 employee, as a lobbyist while the general assembly is 27 in session.
28 f. Certain goods or services. A member or 29 employee of the house shall not solicit or obtain 30 goods or services from another person under

1 circumstances where the member or employee knows or
2 should know that the goods or services are being
3 offered or sold with the intent to influence the 4 member's or employee's conduct in the performance of 5 official duties. If a member or employee of the house
6 is afforded goods or services by another person at a
7 price that is not available to other members or 8 classes of members of the general public or is 9 afforded goods or services that are not available to 10 other members or classes of members of the general
11 public by another person where the member or employee
12 knows or should know that the other person intends to 13 influence the member's or employee's official conduct,
14 the member or employee shall not take or purchase the 15 goods or services.

16 3. APPEARANCE BEFORE STATE AGENCY. A member or 17 employee of the house may appear before a state agency
18 in any representation case but shall not act as a
19 lobbyist with respect to the passage, defeat,
20 approval, veto, or modification of any legislation,
21 rule, or executive order. Whenever a member or 22 employee of the house appears before a state agency,
23 the member or employee shall carefully avoid all 24 conduct which might in any way lead members of the 25 general public to conclude that the member or employee
26 is using the member's or employee's official position
27 to further the member's or employee's professional
28 success or personal financial interest.

29 4. CONFLICTS OF INTEREST. In order for the 30 general assembly to function effectively, members of

1 the house may be required to vote on bills and
2 participate in committee work which will affect their
3 employment and other areas in which they may have a
4 monetary interest. Action on bills and committee work
5 which furthers a member's specific employment,
6 specific investment, or other specific interest, as 7 opposed to the interests of the public in general or 8 the interests of a profession, trade, business, or 9 other class of persons, shall be avoided. In making a
10 decision relative to a member's activity on particular 11 bills or in committee work, the following factors
12 should be considered:

- 13 a. Whether a substantial threat to the member's 14 independence of judgment has been created by the 15 conflict situation.
- 16 b. The effect of the member's participation on 17 public confidence in the integrity of the general

18 assembly.
19 c. Whether the member's participation is likely to 20 have any significant effect on the disposition of the 21 matter.
22 d. The need for the member's particular
23 contribution, such as special knowledge of the subject
24 matter, to the effective functioning of the general
25 assembly.
26 If a member decides not to participate in committee
27 work or to abstain from voting because of a possible
28 conflict of interest, the member should disclose this 29 fact to the legislative body. The member shall not 30 vote on any question in which the member has an

1 economic interest that is distinguishable from the
2 interests of the general public or a substantial class
3 of persons.
4 5. Statutory requirements. Members and employees
5 of the house shall comply with the requirements
6 contained in chapters 68B (Conflicts of Interest of 7 Public Officers and Employees), 721 (Official
8 Misconduct), and 722 (Bribery and Corruption), and 9 sections 2.18 (Contempt) and 711.4 (Extortion) of the 10 Code.
11 6. Charge accounts. Members and employees of the 12 house shall not charge any amount or item to a charge
13 account to be paid for by a lobbyist or any client of 14 a lobbyist.
15 7. Travel expenses. A member or employee of the 16 house shall not charge to the state of Iowa amounts
17 for travel and expenses unless the member or employee
18 actually has incurred those mileage and expense costs.
19 Members or employees shall not file the vouchers for 20 weekly mileage reimbursement required by section 2.10,
21 subsection 1 of the Code, unless the travel expense
22 was actually incurred.
23 A member or employee of the house shall not file a 24 claim for per diem compensation for a meeting of an
25 interim study committee or a visitation committee
26 unless the member or employee attended the meeting.
27 However, the speaker may waive this provision and 28 allow a claim to be filed if the member or employee
29 attempted to attend the meeting but was unable to do
30 so because of circumstances beyond the member's or

1 employee's control.
2 8. Gifts accepted or received. Members and

15 11. Sexual harassment. Members and employees of 16 the house shall not engage in conduct which 17 constitutes sexual harassment as defined in section
18 19B.12 of the Code or pursuant to the sexual 19 harassment policy adopted by the house committee on 20 administration and rules.
21 12. Complaints.
22 a. Filing of complaint. Complaints may be filed
23 by any person believing that a member or employee of 24 the house, a lobbyist, or a client of a lobbyist is 25 guilty of a violation of the house code of ethics, the 26 house rules governing lobbyists, or chapter 68B of the 27 Code.
28 b. Complaints by committee. The ethics committee
29 may initiate a complaint on its own motion. Committee
30 complaints may be initiated by the committee as a

1 result of a committee investigation or as a result of 2 receipt of any complaint or other information that
3 does not meet the requirements of these rules
4 regarding the form of a complaint but that contains
5 allegations that would form the basis for a valid
6 complaint.
7 c. Form and contents of complaint. A complaint
8 shall be in writing.
9 Complaint forms shall be available from the chief
10 clerk of the house, but a complaint shall not be 11 rejected for failure to use the approved form if it
12 complies with the requirements of these rules. The 13 complaint shall contain a certification made by the 14 complainant, under penalty of perjury, that the facts
15 stated in the complaint are true to the best of the 16 complainant's knowledge.
17 To be valid, a complaint shall allege all of the 18 following:
19 (1) Facts, that if true, establish a violation of 20 a provision of chapter 68B of the Code, the house code
21 of ethics, or house rules governing lobbyists for 22 which penalties or other remedies are provided.

23 (2) That the conduct providing the basis for the 24 complaint occurred within three years of the filing of 25 the complaint.
26 (3) That the party charged with a violation is a
27 party subject to the jurisdiction of the ethics
28 committee.
29 d. Confidentiality of complaint. The filing of 30 the complaint and the contents of the complaint shall

1 be confidential until the time that the committee
2 meets to determine whether the complaint is valid,
3 unless either the complainant or the party charged in 4 the complaint makes the existence of, or the 5 information contained in, the complaint public.
6 However, if either the complainant or party alleged to 7 have committed the violation requests that the meeting
8 to determine whether the complaint is valid be a 9 closed meeting and the filing of the complaint or the 10 contents of the complaint have not been disclosed, the 11 meeting shall be closed.
12 e. Notice of complaint. Upon receipt of the 13 complaint, the chief clerk of the house shall promptly
14 notify the chairperson and ranking member of the 15 ethics committee that a complaint has been filed and 16 provide both the chairperson and the ranking member
17 with copies of the complaint and any supporting 18 information. Within two working days, the chief clerk
19 shall send notice, either by personal delivery or by 20 certified mail, return receipt requested, to the 21 person or persons alleged to have committed the 22 violation, along with a copy of the complaint and any 23 supporting information. The notice to the accused
24 person shall contain a request that the person submit 25 a written response to the complaint within ten working
26 days of the date that the notice was sent by the chief 27 clerk. At the request of the accused person, the 28 committee may extend the time for the response, not to 29 exceed ten additional calendar days.
30 f. Hearing regarding validity of complaint. The

1 committee chairperson and the ranking member shall
2 review the complaint and supporting information to
3 determine whether the complaint meets the requirements
4 as to form. If the complaint is deficient as to form,
5 the complaint shall be returned to the complainant
6 with instructions indicating the deficiency unless the 7 committee decides to proceed on its own motion. If 8 the complaint is in writing and contains the 9 appropriate certification, as soon as practicable, the 10 chairperson shall call a meeting of the committee to 11 review the complaint to determine whether the 12 complaint meets the requirements for validity and 13 whether the committee should request that the chief

14 justice of the supreme court appoint an independent 15 special counsel to conduct an investigation to 16 determine whether probable cause exists to believe
17 that a violation of the house code of ethics, house
18 rules governing lobbyists, or chapter 68B of the Code,
19 has occurred.
20 If the committee finds that a complaint does not
21 meet the content requirements for a valid complaint,
22 the committee shall dismiss the complaint and notify 23 both the complainant and the party alleged to have 24 committed the violation of the dismissal and the 25 reasons for dismissal. A dismissal for failure to 26 meet the formal requirements for the filing of a
27 complaint shall be without prejudice and the 28 complainant may re-file the complaint at any time
29 within three years of the date that the alleged 30 violation took place. If the dismissal is based upon

1 a failure to allege facts and circumstances necessary
2 for a valid complaint, the dismissal shall be with
3 prejudice and the party shall not be permitted to file
4 a complaint based upon the same facts and 5 circumstances.
6 g. Request for appointment of independent special
7 counsel. If, after review of the complaint and any 8 response made by the party alleged to have committed 9 the violation, the committee determines that the 10 complaint meets the requirements for form and content, 11 the committee shall request that the chief justice of 12 the supreme court appoint independent special counsel
13 to investigate the matter and determine whether 14 probable cause exists to believe that a violation of 15 chapter 68B of the Code, the house code of ethics, or 16 the house rules governing lobbyists has occurred.
17 h. Receipt of report of independent special
18 counsel. The report from the independent special
19 counsel regarding probable cause to proceed on a 20 complaint shall be filed with the chief clerk of the 21 house. Upon receipt of the report of the independent 22 special counsel, the chief clerk shall notify the 23 chairperson of the filing of the report and shall send 24 copies of the report to the members of the ethics
25 committee. As soon as practicable after the filing of 26 the report, the chairperson shall schedule a public 27 meeting for review of the report. The purpose of the

28 public meeting shall be to determine whether the 29 complaint should be dismissed, whether a formal 30 hearing should be held on the complaint, or whether

1 other committee action is appropriate. The
2 complainant and the person alleged to have committed
3 the violation shall be given notice of the public
4 meeting, shall have the right to be present at the 5 public meeting, and may, at the discretion of the 6 committee, present testimony in support of or against 7 the recommendations contained in the report.
8 If the committee determines that the matter should 9 be dismissed, the committee shall cause an order to be 10 entered dismissing the matter and notice of the 11 dismissal shall be given to the complainant and the 12 party alleged to have committed the violation. If the 13 committee determines that the complaint should be 14 scheduled for formal hearing, the committee shall 15 issue a charging statement which contains the charges
16 and supporting facts that are to be set for formal
17 hearing and notice shall be sent to the complainant
18 and the accused person.
19 The notice shall include a statement of the nature
20 of the charge or charges, a statement of the time and 21 place of hearing, a short and plain statement of the 22 facts asserted, and a statement of the rights of the 23 accused person at the hearing.
24 i. Formal hearing. Formal hearings shall be 25 public and conducted in the manner provided in section
26 68B.31, subsection 8 of the Code. At a formal hearing
27 the accused shall have the right to be present and to 28 be heard in person and by counsel, to cross-examine 29 witnesses, and to present evidence. Members of the 30 committee shall also have the right to question

1 witnesses.
2 Evidence at the formal hearing shall be received in 3 accordance with rules and procedures applicable to 4 contested cases under chapter 17A of the Code.
5 The committee chairperson, or the vice chairperson
6 or ranking member in the absence of the chairperson,
7 shall preside at the formal hearing and shall rule on 8 the admissibility of any evidence received. The 9 ruling of the chairperson may be overturned by a
10 majority vote of the committee. Independent special 11 counsel shall present the evidence in support of the 12 charge or charges. The burden shall be on the 13 independent special counsel to prove the charge or

14 charges by a preponderance of clear and convincing
 15 evidence. Upon completion of the formal hearing, the 16 committee shall adopt written findings of fact and 17 conclusions concerning the merits of the charges and 18 make its report and recommendation to the house.

19 j. Recommendations by the committee. The 20 committee shall recommend to the house that the 21 complaint be dismissed, or that one or more of the 22 following be imposed:

23 (1) That the member or employee of the house or 24 lobbyist or client of a lobbyist be censured or 25 reprimanded, and the recommended appropriate form of 26 censure or reprimand be used.

27 (2) That the member of the house be suspended or 28 expelled from membership in the house and required to 29 forfeit the member's salary for that period, the 30 employee of the house be suspended or dismissed from

 2 client's lobbying privileges be suspended.

3 13. Communications with Ethics Committee. After a
 4 complaint has been filed or an investigation has been
 5 initiated, a party to the complaint or investigation
 6 shall not communicate, or cause another to 7 communicate, as to the merits of the complaint or 8 investigation with a member of the committee, except 9 under the following circumstances:

10 a. During the course of any meetings or other 11 official proceedings of the committee regarding the 12 complaint or investigation.

13 b. In writing, if a copy of the writing is 14 delivered to the adverse party or the designated 15 representative for the adverse party.

16 c. Orally, if adequate prior notice of the 17 communication is given to the adverse party or the 18 designated representative for the adverse party.

19 d. As otherwise authorized by statute, the house
 20 code of ethics, house rules governing lobbyists, or 21 vote of the committee.

22 14. Permanent Record. The chief clerk of the 23 house shall maintain a permanent record of all
 24 complaints filed and any corresponding committee
 25 action. The permanent record shall be prepared by the 26 ethics committee and shall contain the date the 27 complaint was filed, name and address of the 28 complainant, name and address of the accused person, a
 29 brief statement of the charges made, any evidence
 30 received by the committee, any transcripts or

1 recordings of committee action, and ultimate
2 disposition of the complaint. The chief clerk shall
3 keep each complaint confidential until public
4 disclosure is made by the ethics committee.
5 15. Meeting authorization. The house ethics
6 committee is authorized to meet at the discretion of 7 the committee chairperson in order to conduct hearings
8 and other business that properly may come before it.
9 If the committee submits a report seeking house action
10 against a member or employee of the house or lobbyist
11 after the second regular session of a general assembly
12 has adjourned sine die, the report shall be submitted
13 to and considered by the subsequent general assembly.
14 16. Advisory opinions.
15 a. Requests for formal opinions. A request for a 16 formal advisory opinion may be filed by any person who 17 is subject to the authority of the ethics committee.
18 The ethics committee may also issue a formal advisory 19 opinion on its own motion, without having previously
20 received a formal request for an opinion, on any issue
21 that is within the jurisdiction of the committee.
22 Requests shall be filed with either the chief clerk of 23 the house or the chairperson of the ethics committee.
24 b. Form and contents of requests. A request for a
25 formal advisory opinion shall be in writing and may 26 pertain to any subject matter that is related to 27 application of the house code of ethics, the house
28 rules governing lobbyists, or chapter 68B of the Code
29 to any person who is subject to the authority of the 30 ethics committee. Requests shall contain one or more

1 specific questions and shall relate either to future
2 conduct or be stated in the hypothetical. A request
3 for an advisory opinion shall not specifically name
4 any individual or contain any other specific 5 identifying information, unless the request relates to 6 the requester's own conduct. However, any request may 7 contain information which identifies the kind of 8 individual who may be affected by the subject matter
9 of the request. Examples of this latter kind of 10 identifying information may include references to 11 conduct of a category of individuals, such as but not 12 limited to conduct of legislators, legislative staff,
13 or lobbyists.
14 c. Confidentiality of formal requests and 15 opinions. Requests for formal opinions are not 16 confidential and any deliberations of the committee
17 regarding a request for a formal opinion shall be

18 public. Opinions issued in response to requests for 19 formal opinions are not confidential, shall be in 20 writing, and shall be placed on file in the office of 21 the chief clerk of the house. Persons requesting

17 member who voted on the prevailing side of the 18 question sought to be reconsidered.

19 2. A motion to reconsider may be made not later
20 than adjournment on the legislative day following the 21 legislative day of the action sought to be
22 reconsidered. Where the floor manager voted on the 23 prevailing side, the floor manager has the prior right
24 to make the motion, until adjournment on the 25 legislative day of the action sought to be
26 reconsidered. A motion to reconsider a nullification
27 resolution shall be acted upon not later than 28 adjournment on the legislative day following the

1 3. A motion to reconsider made ~~following the~~
2 ~~ninety seventh calendar day~~ beginning the fifteenth
3 week of the first regular session, or the 4 ~~eighty seventh calendar day~~ thirteenth week of the 6 motion made at any other time may be taken up prior to

10 legislative day succeeding the legislative day of the 11 action sought to be reconsidered if called up by any 12 member.

13 4. The making of a motion to reconsider takes 14 precedence over all other questions.

15 5. ~~No motion to reconsider passage, adoption or~~ 16 ~~failure of any bill, nullification resolution or joint~~
17 ~~resolution shall prevail unless it obtains a~~

 22 disposed of immediately.

23 ~~6. A motion that the motion to reconsider be laid~~
 24 ~~on the table is in order. The effect of laying the~~

 26 ~~or joint resolution to proceed on its regular course~~
 27 ~~immediately.~~

28 ~~7. 6.~~ In the event that a motion to reconsider is 29 pending at the end of the first session or any

4 DIVISION VIII – VOTING

5 Rule 74

6 Manner of Voting

7 Members present may cast their votes, either by 8 operating the voting mechanism located at their 9 assigned desk or by signaling the speaker from the 10 floor of the house or from the south visitors' gallery

 14 ~~or upon request of two members during the taking of~~ 15 ~~the vote of the house on any question~~, only those 16 members at their desks and voting shall be counted.
 17 Members who are not present shall not cast their votes
 18 except:

19 1. Members who have not voted may record their 20 votes on any record roll call vote except quorum calls 21 within ten minutes after the outcome of the vote has 22 been announced, ~~providing the vote does not change the~~ 23 ~~outcome of the vote on that question.~~ Members shall 24 initial their recorded votes on a copy of the record
 25 roll call at the speaker's station. However, if the 26 aggregate of votes cast under this rule would change
 27 the outcome of the vote on a question, then none of 28 the votes cast on the question under this rule shall 29 be recorded. A member may request announcement of the 30 names of members so recorded after the ten-minute

1 period.

2 2. Members meeting in a conference committee or in
 3 administrative rules review committee at the time a

4 vote is taken on a question may have their vote
 5 recorded within thirty minutes or adjournment,

 7 ~~providing the vote~~ provided the aggregate of votes
 8 ~~cast~~ does not change the outcome of the vote on ~~that~~ a 9 question.

10 Rule 75

11 Duty of Voting

12 Except as limited in Rule ~~74~~ 76, every member who 13 is in the house when a question is put shall vote
 14 unless the house has excused that member from voting
 15 for special reasons; however, such member must have 16 asked to be excused from voting prior to ~~commencing to~~ 17 ~~take the vote on the main~~ the time the speaker puts 18 the question.

19 Rule 76

20 Limitation on Right to Vote

21 No member shall vote on any question in which ~~that~~ 22 ~~person is financially interested~~ the member or the 23 member's immediate family member, as defined in 24 chapter 68B of the Code, has a direct financial 25 interest different from other similarly situated
 26 persons or classes of persons of the general public.

27 Rule 77

28 Call of the House

29 Upon written request of five members, the presiding
 30 officer shall compel attendance of absent and

1 unexcused members for the consideration of specified
 2 bills, ~~or~~ resolutions, or amendments.

3 A call of the house shall specify the propositions
 4 to which it is to apply; and must be put into effect
 5 before roll call is taken on the proposition. The 6 request may be filed with the chief clerk at any time
 7 before final action upon the propositions ~~with the~~ 8 ~~chief clerk~~, who shall notify the house immediately.

9 Rule 78

10 Method of Calling the House

11 Upon a call of the house, the names of the members
 12 shall be called by the chief clerk and the absentees
 13 noted, after which the names of the absentees shall 14 again be called. The sergeant-at-arms shall be 15 directed by the speaker to compel the attendance of 16 absent members, unless they are previously excused.
 17 Any member occupying the member's seat during a call
 18 of the house shall be counted by the speaker and that 19 person's name entered in the journal as being present
 20 for the purpose of making a quorum.

21 Rule 79

22 Method of Calling the Roll

23 The electrical voting machine shall be used for a
24 call of the house, a quorum call or a roll call vote
25 on any question. If the electrical voting machine is 26 not in operating order when it is necessary to take a 27 record roll call vote, the presiding officer shall 28 order the vote to be taken by calling the roll in 29 alphabetical order, except the name of the presiding
30 officer shall be called last.

1 During the casting of the vote with the voting
2 machine, the individual votes and the vote totals
3 shall be shown on the display boards. Before the 4 voting machine is closed, the presiding officer shall
5 inquire of the house, "Have you all voted?"

6 Rule 80

7 Quorum and Record Roll Call Votes

8 A majority of the members shall constitute a
9 quorum.

10 A record roll call vote shall be ordered upon

16 When a member moves for ~~a~~ the previous question,
17 ~~that the~~ member shall state whether the motion will 18 apply to the main question, to all the amendments, or 19 to particular amendments. The motion requires an 20 affirmative vote of at least a constitutional majority
21 of the members. If the motion for a previous question
22 is not adopted, the house shall proceed in the same
23 manner as before the motion was made.

24 If the motion is adopted, all debate must end and 25 the house will vote upon the question except:

- 26 1. If the motion applies to the main question, the 27 member in charge of the measure will have ten minutes
28 to speak for the purpose of closing discussion before
29 the vote on the measure is taken.
- 30 2. If the motion applies to an amendment, the

1 member proposing the amendment will have five minutes
2 to speak for the purpose of closing discussion before
3 the vote on the amendment is taken.

- 4 3. If a member has filed a written request with 5 the chief clerk of the house indicating the member's
6 desire to speak on a particular question. The request
7 must be filed before the motion is made by the movant.
8 The request allows a member to speak on a particular

 10 who is in charge of the measure or who is proposing 11 the amendment.

12 Rule 82

 8 Amendments filed from the floor to strike sections of 9 the bill or the committee amendments shall be in 10 order. Following amendment and passage by the second 11 house, only amendments filed from the floor which 12 strike sections of the amendment of the second house
 13 shall be in order.

14 It is the intent of the house and the senate that 15 such bills be passed out of committee to the floor for 16 debate within the first four weeks of convening of a
 17 legislative session.

18 Rule 12

19 Amendments by Other House

20 1. When a bill which originated in one house is 21 amended in the other house, the house originating the 22 bill may amend the amendment, concur in full in the 23 amendment, or refuse to concur in full in the 24 amendment. Precedence of motions shall be in that 25 order. The amendment of the other house shall not be 26 ruled out of order based on a question of germaneness.

27 a. If the house originating the bill concurs in 28 the amendment, the bill shall then be immediately
 29 placed upon its final passage.

30 b. If the house originating the bill refuses to

1 concur in the amendment, the bill shall be returned to
 2 the amending house which shall either:

3 (1) Recede, after which the bill shall be read for

4 the last time and immediately placed upon its final 5 passage; or

6 (2) Insist, which will send the bill to a
7 conference committee.

8 c. If the house originating the bill amends the 9 amendment, that house shall concur in the amendment as 10 amended and the bill shall be immediately placed on 11 final passage, and shall be returned to the other
12 house. The other house cannot further amend the bill.

13 (1) If the amending house which gave second 14 consideration to the bill concurs in the amendment to 15 the amendment, the bill shall then be immediately
16 placed upon its final passage.

17 (2) If the amending house refuses to concur in the 18 amendment to the amendment, the bill shall be returned
19 to the house originating the bill which shall either:

20 (a) Recede, after which the bill shall be read for 21 the last time as amended and immediately placed upon 22 its final passage; or

23 (b) Insist, which will send the bill to a
24 conference committee.

25 2. A motion to recede has precedence over a motion
26 to insist. Failure to recede means to insist; and 27 failure to insist means to recede.

28 3. A motion to lay on the table or to indefinitely
29 postpone shall be out of order with respect to motions
30 to recede from or insist upon and to amendments to

1 bills which have passed both houses.

2 4. A motion to concur, refuse to concur, recede,
3 insist, or adopt a conference committee report is in 4 order even though the subject matter has previously
5 been acted upon.

6 Rule 13

7 Conference Committee

8 1. Within one legislative day after either house
9 insists upon an amendment to a bill, the presiding
10 officer of the house, after consultation with the 11 majority leader, shall appoint three majority party
12 members and, after consultation with the minority
13 leader, shall appoint two minority party members to a 14 conference committee. The majority leader of the 15 senate, after consultation with the president, shall 16 appoint three majority party members and, after 17 consultation with and approval by the minority leader,
18 shall appoint two minority party members to a 19 conference committee. The papers shall remain with 20 the house that originated the bill.

21 2. The conference committee shall meet before the 22 end of the next legislative day after their

23 appointment, shall select a chair and shall discuss 24 the controversy.
25 3. The authority of the first conference committee
26 shall cover only issues related to provisions of the 27 bill and amendments to the bill which were adopted by 28 either the senate or the house of representatives and 29 on which the senate and house of representatives
30 differed. If a conference committee report is not

1 acted upon because such action would violate this
2 subsection of this rule, the inaction on the report
3 shall constitute refusal to adopt the conference
4 committee report and shall have the same effect as if 5 the conference committee had disagreed.

6 4. An agreement on recommendations must be 7 approved by a majority of the committee members from 8 each house. The committee shall submit two originals
9 of the report signed by a majority of the committee
10 members of each house with one signed original and 11 three copies to be submitted to each house. The 12 report shall first be acted upon in the house
13 originating the bill. Such action, including all
14 papers, shall be immediately referred by the secretary 15 of the senate or the chief clerk of the house of 16 representatives to the other house.

17 5. The report of agreement is debatable, but 18 cannot be amended. If the report contains recommended
19 amendments to the bill, adoption of the report shall 20 automatically adopt all amendments contained therein.
21 After the report is adopted, there shall be no more
22 debate, and the bill shall immediately be placed upon 23 its final passage.

24 6. Refusal of either house to adopt the conference
25 committee report has the same effect as if the 26 committee had disagreed.

27 7. If the conference committee fails to reach
28 agreement, a report of such failure signed by a
29 majority of the committee members of each house shall 30 be given promptly to each house. The bill shall be

1 returned to the house that originated the bill, the
2 members of the committee shall be immediately
3 discharged, and a new conference committee appointed
4 in the same manner as the first conference committee.

5 8. The authority of a second or subsequent
6 conference committee shall cover free conference
7 during which the committee has authority to propose
8 amendments to any portion of a bill provided the 9 amendment is within the subject matter content of the 10 bill as passed by the house of origin or as amended by 11 the second house.

12 Rule 14

13 Enrollment and Authentication of Bills

14 A bill or resolution which has passed both houses
 15 shall be enrolled in the house of origin under the 16 direction of either the secretary of the senate or the 17 chief clerk of the house and its house of origin shall 18 be certified by the endorsement of the secretary of 19 the senate or the chief clerk of the house.

20 After enrollment, each bill shall be signed by the 21 president of the senate and by the speaker of the 22 house.

23 Rule 15

24 Concerning Other Enrollments

25 All resolutions and other matters which are to be 26 presented to the governor for approval shall be 27 enrolled, signed, and presented in the same manner as 28 bills.

29 All resolutions and other matters which are not to 30 be presented to the governor or the secretary of state

1 shall be enrolled, signed, and retained permanently by 2 the secretary of the senate or chief clerk of the 3 house.

4 Rule 16

5 Transmission of Bills to the Governor

6 After a bill has been signed in each house, it
 7 shall be presented by the house of origin to the 8 governor by either the secretary of the senate or the 9 chief clerk of the house. The secretary or the chief
 10 clerk shall report the date of the presentation, which 11 shall be entered upon the journal of the house of 12 origin.

13 Rule 17

14 Fiscal Notes

15 A fiscal note shall be attached to any bill or 16 joint resolution which reasonably could have an annual 17 effect of at least one hundred thousand dollars or a
 18 combined total effect within five years after 19 enactment of five hundred thousand dollars or more on 20 the aggregate revenues, expenditures, or fiscal
 21 liability of the state or its subdivisions. This rule
 22 does not apply to appropriation and ways and means
 23 measures where the total effect is stated in dollar
 24 amounts.

25 Each fiscal note shall state in dollars the 26 estimated effect of the bill on the revenues,
 27 expenditures, and fiscal liability of the state or its

28 subdivisions during the first five years after 29 enactment. The information shall specifically note
30 the fiscal impact for the first two years following

1 enactment and the anticipated impact for the
2 succeeding three years. The fiscal note shall specify
3 the source of the information. Sources of funds for 4 expenditures under the bill shall be stated, including
5 federal funds. If an accurate estimate cannot be 6 made, the fiscal note shall state the best available
7 estimate or shall state that no dollar estimate can be 8 made and state concisely the reason.

9 The preliminary determination of whether the bill
10 appears to require a fiscal note shall be made by the 11 legal services staff of the legislative services
12 agency. Unless the requestor specifies the request is 13 to be confidential, upon completion of the bill draft,
14 the legal services staff shall immediately send a copy
15 to the fiscal services director for review.

16 When a committee reports a bill to the floor, the 17 committee shall state in the report whether a fiscal 18 note is or is not required.

19 The fiscal services director or the director's
20 designee shall review all bills placed on the senate
21 or house calendars to determine whether the bills are 22 subject to this rule.

23 Additionally, a legislator may request the 24 preparation of a fiscal note by the fiscal services
25 staff for any bill or joint resolution introduced
26 which reasonably could be subject to this rule.

27 The fiscal services director or the director's
28 designee shall cause to be prepared and shall approve
29 a fiscal note within a reasonable time after receiving 30 a request or determining that a bill is subject to

1 this rule. All fiscal notes approved by the fiscal 2 services director shall be transmitted immediately to 3 the secretary of the senate or the chief clerk of the 4 house, after notifying the sponsor of the bill that a
5 fiscal note has been prepared, for publication in the 6 daily clip sheet. The secretary of the senate or 7 chief clerk of the house shall attach the fiscal note
8 to the bill as soon as it is available.

9 The fiscal services director may request the 10 cooperation of any state department or agency in 11 preparing a fiscal note.

12 A revised fiscal note may be requested by a 13 legislator if the fiscal effect of the bill has been

14 changed by adoption of an amendment. However, a
15 request for a revised fiscal note shall not delay
16 action on a bill unless so ordered by the presiding
17 officer of the house in which the bill is under 18 consideration.

19 If a date for adjournment has been set, then a
20 constitutional majority of the house in which the bill
21 is under consideration may waive the fiscal note
22 requirement during the three days prior to the date
23 set for adjournment.

24 Rule 18

25 Legislative Interns

26 Legislators may arrange student internships during 27 the legislative session with Iowa college, university,
28 or law school students, for which the students may 29 receive college credit at the discretion of their 30 schools. Each legislator is allowed only one intern

1 at a time per legislative session, and all interns
2 must be registered with the offices of the secretary
3 of the senate and the chief clerk of the house.

4 The purpose of the legislative intern program shall
5 be: to provide useful staff services to legislators
6 not otherwise provided by the general assembly; to 7 give interested college, graduate, and law school
8 students practical experience in the legislative 9 process as well as providing a meaningful educational 10 experience; and to enrich the curriculum of 11 participating colleges and universities.

12 The secretary of the senate and the chief clerk of 13 the house or their designees shall have the following
14 responsibilities as regards the legislative intern
15 program:

16 1. Identify a supervising faculty member at each 17 participating institution who shall be responsible for 18 authorizing students to participate in the intern
19 program.

20 2. Provide legislators with a list of 21 participating institutions and the names of 22 supervising professors to contact if interested in 23 arranging for an intern.

24 3. Provide interns with name badges which will 25 allow them access to the floor of either house when 26 required to be present by the legislators for whom 27 they work.

28 4. Provide orientation materials to interns prior 29 to the convening of each session.

1 Administrative Rules Review Committee Bills
2 and Rule Referrals

3 A bill which relates to departmental rules and
4 which is approved by the administrative rules review
5 committee by a majority of the committee's members of 6 each house is eligible for introduction in either
7 house at any time and must be referred to a standing 8 committee, which must take action on the bill within 9 three weeks of referral, except bills referred to 10 appropriations and ways and means committees.

11 If, on or after July 1, 1999, the administrative 12 rules review committee delays the effective date of a
13 rule until the adjournment of the next regular session
14 of the general assembly and the speaker of the house
15 or the president of the senate refers the rule to a 16 standing committee, the standing committee shall 17 review the rule within twenty-one days of the referral
18 and shall take formal committee action by sponsoring a
19 joint resolution to disapprove the rule, by proposing
20 legislation relating to the rule, or by refusing to 21 propose a joint resolution or legislation concerning 22 the rule. The standing committee shall inform the 23 administrative rules review committee of the committee
24 action taken concerning the rule.

25 Rule 20

26 Time of Committee Passage and Consideration of Bills

27 1. This rule does not apply to concurrent or 28 simple resolutions, joint resolutions nullifying
29 administrative rules, senate confirmations, or bills
30 passed by both houses in different forms. Subsection

1 2 of this rule does not apply to appropriations bills,
2 ways and means bills, government oversight bills,
3 legalizing acts, administrative rules review committee
4 bills, bills sponsored by standing committees in 5 response to a referral from the president of the 6 senate or the speaker of the house of representatives
7 relating to an administrative rule whose effective
8 date has been delayed until the adjournment of the 9 next regular session of the general assembly by the
10 administrative rules review committee, bills
11 cosponsored by majority and minority floor leaders of 12 one house, bills in conference committee, and 13 companion bills sponsored by the majority floor
14 leaders of both houses after consultation with the 15 respective minority floor leaders. For the purposes
16 of this rule, a joint resolution is considered as a 17 bill. To be considered an appropriations, ways and

18 means, or government oversight bill for the purposes
 19 of this rule, the appropriations committee, the ways
 20 and means committee, or the government oversight
 21 committee must either be the sponsor of the bill or 22 the committee of first referral in the originating 23 house.

24 2. To be placed on the calendar in the house of 25 origin, a bill must be first reported out of a
 26 standing committee by Friday of the 9th week of the 27 first session and the 8th week of the second session.
 28 To be placed on the calendar in the other house, a
 29 bill must be first reported out of a standing
 30 committee by Friday of the 13th week of the first

1 session and the 11th week of the second session.

2 3. During the 11th week of the first session and 3 the 9th week of the second session, each house shall 4 consider only bills originating in that house and 5 unfinished business. During the 14th week of the 6 first session and the 12th week of the second session,
 7 each house shall consider only bills originating in 8 the other house and unfinished business. Beginning
 9 with the 15th week of the first session and the 13th
 10 week of the second session, each house shall consider 11 only bills passed by both houses, bills exempt from 12 subsection 2, and unfinished business.

13 4. A motion to reconsider filed and not disposed 14 of on an action taken on a bill or resolution which is 15 subject to a deadline under this rule may be called up
 16 at any time before or after the day of the deadline by 17 the person filing the motion or after the deadline by 18 the majority floor leader, notwithstanding any other
 19 rule to the contrary.

Rule 21

Resolutions

22 1. A "concurrent resolution" is A resolution to be 23 adopted by both houses of the general assembly which 24 expresses the sentiment of the general assembly or 25 deals with temporary legislative matters. It may 26 authorize the expenditure, for any legislative
 27 purpose, of funds appropriated to the general
 28 assembly. A concurrent resolution is not limited to,
 29 but may provide for a joint convention of the general
 30 assembly, adjournment or recess of the general

1 assembly, or requests to a state agency or to the
 2 general assembly or a committee. A concurrent
 3 resolution requires the affirmative vote of a majority

4 of the senators or representatives present and voting
 5 unless otherwise specified by statute. A concurrent
 6 resolution does not require the governor's approval
 7 unless otherwise specified by statute. A concurrent
 8 resolution shall be filed with the secretary of the 9 senate or the chief clerk of the house. A concurrent
 10 resolution shall be printed in the bound journal after 11 its adoption.

12 2. A "joint resolution" is A resolution which 13 requires for approval the affirmative vote of a
 14 constitutional majority of each house of the general
 15 assembly. A joint resolution which appropriates funds
 16 or enacts temporary laws must contain the clause "Be 17 It Enacted by the General Assembly of the State of 18 Iowa:", is equivalent to a bill, and must be 19 transmitted to the governor for ~~his~~ approval. A joint 20 resolution which proposes amendments to the 21 Constitution of the State of Iowa, ratifies amendments
 22 to the Constitution of the United States, proposes a
 23 request to Congress or an agency of the government of 24 the United States of America, proposes to Congress an 25 amendment to the Constitution of the United States of 26 America, nullifies an administrative rule, or creates 27 a special commission or committee must contain the 28 clause "Be It Resolved by the General Assembly of the 29 State of Iowa:" and shall not be transmitted to the 30 governor. A joint resolution shall not amend a

1 statute in the Code of Iowa.

2 Rule 22

3 Nullification Resolutions

4 A "nullification resolution" is a joint resolution
 5 which nullifies all of an administrative rule, or a
 6 severable item of an administrative rule adopted
 7 pursuant to chapter 17A of the Code. A nullification
 8 resolution shall not amend an administrative rule by 9 adding language or by inserting new language in lieu
 10 of existing language.

11 A nullification resolution is debatable, but cannot 12 be amended on the floor of the house or senate. The 13 effective date of a nullification resolution shall be 14 stated in the resolution. Any motions filed to 15 reconsider adoption of a nullification resolution must 16 be disposed of within one legislative day of the 17 filing.

18 Rule 23

19 Consideration of Vetoes

20 1. The senate and house calendar shall include a 21 list known as the "Veto Calendar." The veto calendar
 22 shall consist of:

24 accordance with Article III, section 16 of the 25 Constitution of the State of Iowa.

27 the governor in accordance with Article III, section
28 16 of the Constitution of the State of Iowa.

30 the other house after that house has voted to override

- 1 a veto of them by the governor.
- 2 2. Vetoed bills and appropriations items shall 3 automatically be placed on the veto calendar upon
4 receipt. Vetoed bills and appropriations items shall 5 not be referred to committee.
- 6 3. Upon first publication in the veto calendar,
7 the senate majority leader or the house majority
8 leader may call up a vetoed bill or appropriations
9 item at any time.
- 10 4. The affirmative vote of two-thirds of the 11 members of the body by record roll call is required on 12 a motion to override an executive veto or item veto.
- 13 5. A motion to override an executive veto or item
14 veto is debatable. A vetoed bill or appropriation
15 item cannot be amended in this case.
- 16 6. The vote by which a motion to override an 17 executive veto or item veto passes or fails to pass
18 either house is not subject to reconsideration under 19 senate rule 24 or house rule 73.
- 20 7. The secretary of the senate or the chief clerk
21 of the house shall immediately notify the other house
22 of the adoption or rejection of a motion to override
23 an executive veto or item veto.

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

Regular Calendar

House Joint Resolution 1, a joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Iowa to dedicate a portion of state revenue from the tax imposed on certain retail sales of tangible personal property and services for the benefit of the state's natural resources.

Be It Resolved By The General Assembly Of The State Of Iowa:

Section 1. The following amendment to the Constitution of the State of Iowa is proposed:

Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Iowa is amended by adding the following new section:

Natural Resources. Sec. 10. A natural resources and outdoor recreation trust fund is created within the treasury for the purposes of protecting and enhancing water quality and natural areas in this State including parks, trails, and fish and wildlife habitat, and conserving agricultural soils in this State. Moneys in the fund shall be exclusively appropriated by law for these purposes.

The general assembly shall provide by law for the implementation of this section, including by providing for the administration of the fund and at least annual audits of the fund.

Except as otherwise provided in this section, the fund shall be annually credited with an amount equal to the amount generated by a sales tax rate of three-eighths of one percent as may be imposed upon the retail sales price of tangible personal property and the furnishing of enumerated services sold in this State.

No revenue shall be credited to the fund until the tax rate for the sales tax imposed upon the retail sales price of tangible personal property and the furnishing of enumerated services sold in this State in effect on the effective date of this section is increased. After such an increased tax rate becomes effective, an amount equal to the amount generated by the increase in the tax rate shall be annually credited to the fund, not to exceed an amount equal to the amount generated by a tax rate of three-eighths of one percent imposed upon the retail sales price of tangible personal property and the furnishing of enumerated services sold in this State.

Sec. 2. Submission for Ratification.

The foregoing proposed amendment, having been adopted and agreed to by the Eighty-second General Assembly, 2008 Session, thereafter duly published, and now adopted and agreed to by the Eighty-third General Assembly in this joint resolution, shall be submitted to the people of the State of Iowa at the general election in November of the year two thousand ten in the manner required by the Constitution of the State of Iowa and the laws of the State of Iowa.

EXPLANATION

This joint resolution proposes an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Iowa to dedicate a portion of state sales and service tax revenue for the benefit of water quality, natural areas, and agricultural soils in this state.

The joint resolution establishes a natural resources and outdoor recreation trust fund. The joint resolution credits the fund with an amount equal to the amount generated by a sales tax rate of three-eighths of 1 percent as may be imposed upon the retail sales price of tangible personal property and the furnishing of enumerated services sold in this state.

The joint resolution provides that no revenue is to be credited to the fund until the tax rate in effect on the effective date of the joint resolution is increased. After the increased tax rate becomes effective, an amount equal to the amount generated by the increase in the tax rate is credited to the fund, not to exceed the amount generated by the tax rate of three-eighths of 1 percent.

The proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Iowa in this joint resolution was previously passed as Senate Joint Resolution 2002 by the Eighty-second General Assembly, 2008 Session (2008 Iowa Acts, chapter 1194). If adopted and agreed to by the Eighty-third General Assembly, the proposed amendment will be submitted to the state electorate at the general election held in November 2010, for ratification, with report of committee recommending passage, was taken up for consideration.

President Kibbie presented Major General Dardis, Adjutant General of the Iowa National Guard. General Dardis provides command and control for 105 Army and Air National Guard Units and over 9,500 Army and Air National Guard members in the state of Iowa.

Major General Dardis delivered the following Condition of the Iowa National Guard Message:

Good Morning Ladies and Gentlemen: thank you for that warm welcome.

Speaker Murphy, President Kibbie – thank you for the invitation to address this joint convention of the eighty-third General Assembly of the Iowa Legislature.

It is indeed a great honor and privilege for me to provide this annual report on the condition of your Iowa National Guard!

Governor Culver, Lieutenant Governor Judge, members of the General Assembly, distinguished guests and fellow Iowans:

I want to begin by saying thank you – thank you to Governor Culver and Lieutenant Governor Judge for your strong support and outstanding leadership during this most significant period of time in the history of the Iowa National Guard. You have been with us every step of the way.

I want to publically thank you for your efforts to attend our homecomings & sendoffs and many other Guard functions and activities. But especially for your support and admiration of all Iowans who serve their nation in uniform today.

Governor Culver, thank you for your leadership as our Commander-in-Chief.

I also want to sincerely thank you, our citizen-legislators, who have done so much to honor and support the Iowa National Guard. Through your legislative programs and participation in our events, you have done a great deal for our Soldiers and Airmen. The state of Iowa has by far one of the strongest records of support of any state for its National Guard. Our success is directly attributable to what you have all done for your Iowa National Guard – We thank you.

But above all, I want to thank the people of Iowa. Their support is simply put – incredible. What they did for our Soldiers and Airmen as they waged a gallant effort to mitigate damages caused by floodwaters and tornados, is a true testament to the wonderful community support we are so privileged to enjoy in this state.

Even though their communities had been ravaged by record floodwaters, citizens made sure our Soldiers and Airmen were being taken care of. You wouldn't believe the food and baked goods that showed up wherever we went. The support throughout these communities was humbling. On behalf of the 9400 members of your Iowa National Guard – We thank you!

Finally, I want to thank the fathers and mothers who continue to show their support for the Iowa National Guard by continuing to entrust us with their most sacred treasure – their sons and daughters. Nothing is more important or a greater testament to the vitality of our organization than for a parent to trust us with what they cherish most.

We will continue doing everything we can to honor that trust and strive to never allow it to be violated.

Today, I deliver my sixth and final Condition of the Guard address. It has been an honor of a lifetime to lead and represent the soldiers and airmen of the Iowa National Guard. After more than 42 years of military service in the Iowa Guard – ten years as the Adjutant General – I can report that the Iowa National Guard is as resilient and ready as it has ever been.

Strengthened by experiences borne of war and disaster response, defined by courageous acts here at home and in far away lands, and grounded in character handed down from generation to generation, the men and women of your Iowa National Guard are perhaps the most seasoned and prepared military force our state has seen since our units returned from World War II.

More than 5,000 soldiers and airmen currently serving are combat veterans. In the last seven years, we deployed nearly 13,000 Soldiers and Airmen outside the state of Iowa for combat and combat support duties in Iraq and Afghanistan, peacekeeping duties in the Balkans and in the Sinai Peninsula and domestic support missions in various states across the country.

This impressive list does not include the 4,000 soldiers and airmen we activated during the floods of 2008, various tornado response missions, and multiple winter ice storms.

Currently 700 of your National Iowa Guard members are deployed overseas with another 200 alerted and preparing for deployment this spring and summer.

Your Iowa National Guard has truly become an operational force. It is trained and ready to perform its federal, state and community missions with minimal preparation time.

Though we often have months to train, prepare and execute our missions - that doesn't always happen as was the case with the inauguration mission, which we were asked to execute in less than one week.

Your Iowa National Guard is again a national leader in personnel strength management – recruiting and retention. Both the Iowa Air and Army National Guard began fiscal year 2009 with over 100 percent of authorized strength. And our retention rates exceed national goals and are among the highest in the nation. We have been at 100 percent strength for more than eight years in a row – a significant accomplishment considering all we have been asked to do since 9-11.

Last year I told you that I worried that our military services were becoming stretched and stressed, especially the Army and Army National Guard. And while I am still concerned about the toll the demands of an operational force have on our service members and their families – not to mention employers and communities – I take comfort in the aggressive steps we have taken not only in the Iowa National Guard but also at the state and federal level to do all we can to ease the burdens of service.

We have established a services directorate within the Iowa National Guard headquarters. This directorate consolidates a variety of services into one place making it easier for service members and families to receive the care and support they need.

This is especially important for service members needing trauma, crisis or violence programs as a result of mental health issues, domestic violence situations or other similar circumstances.

The Iowa National Guard is not immune to the suicide situation confronting the Army. We too have experienced an increase in the number of suicides and suicide attempts last year. Like all leaders, I am troubled by this issue. There is no clear trend or cause that is readily apparent. There is nothing that we can point to and say if only we fix this or change that we can prevent it.

The reality is that this is a complex and challenging issue. It is not only an Army or military issue but one that we all must deal with. Young men and women joining the military are not unlike those going off to school, learning a trade or beginning a career.

They are at a stage of life that is full of changes and oftentimes uncertainty. Relationships begin and end. Careers start and often take unexpected turns. Financial responsibility proves challenging. Like their civilian counter-parts, men and women in uniform must navigate these difficult life events.

To help them cope with these and added stressors caused by deployments, separations and combat related anxieties we have developed a broad suicide prevention program for the Iowa National Guard.

This program focuses on developing positive life coping skills; encouraging a behavior to seek help when needed; raising awareness and vigilance toward suicide prevention; Integrating suicide prevention programs throughout our units; and conducting suicide surveillance, analysis and reporting.

In addition, the vice chief of staff of the Army has ordered a suicide prevention “STAND DOWN” and subsequent intervention training to be conducted during the next four months.

Through these and other programs we will continue to do all we can to impact this problem.

By far, one of the biggest areas where the Iowa Legislature has impacted the Iowa National Guard is through its support of our military construction program, which is the best in the nation.

Your Iowa Guard Facilities Management Office, represented here today by COL Scott Ayres and Mr. Mike Brothes, was recognized with the 2008 States Installation Management Excellence Award as the “best installation management program in the country.” National Guard Bureau uses this award’s program to assess how well the 54 states and territories manage the more than 3,000 nationwide installations.

I’ve always known that we have the best office in the country but now it’s official. Let me give you a little back ground.

In 2000, we had approximately 3.279 million square feet of building space in the Iowa Army National Guard. Nearly 30 percent of our 52 armories at that time were more than 45 years old, inefficient and were below authorized strength. We undertook an aggressive five year realignment plan of closure, relocation, rehabilitation and new construction.

Today, we have 3.631 million square feet of space in 49 armories. Only 13 of those armories are more than 45 years old. During the next year we will be closing four armories at Camp Dodge, and replacing old armories in Iowa City, Muscatine, Middletown and Cedar Rapids. When these facilities are completed and all of our affected units relocated, only five of our armories will be more than 45 years old.

A remarkable accomplishment made possible by the great work of our facilities office as well as the partnership between Your Iowa National Guard, the Governor, General Assembly and our federal congressional delegation.

In the last couple of years we’ve been nearly as busy on the home front as overseas – ice storms, tornados and the unprecedented floods of 2008 here in Iowa, not to mention providing support to other states and territories in response to natural disasters and homeland security events.

This includes sending soldiers and airmen to the Gulf Coast during hurricanes Katrina, Rita, Ike and Gustav, and assisting with national special security events like the Republican National Convention in Minneapolis and the 56th presidential inauguration in Washington, D.C. – A first for the Iowa National Guard.

The floods and severe weather of 2008 were by every measure unprecedented. This is the largest disaster ever in Iowa history and ranks among the top ten disasters nationally (as of last week, public assistance numbers by FEMA will move Iowa to 5th worst in U.S. history). And the Iowa National Guard was smack-dab in the middle of the response.

We alerted the entire Iowa National Guard to preposition troops and equipment in areas of expected missions. We deployed more than 4,000 soldiers and airmen across the state, including the recall of nearly 1,000 Iowa Soldiers conducting annual training in South Dakota. This was the most extensive military operation on Iowa soil since the Civil War.

We focused on protecting critical infrastructure and saving lives – our forces maneuvered throughout the state, fighting to stay one step ahead of the rising flood waters and assist state and local responders with combating the devastation caused by these disasters.

There are many incredible stories to share and accomplishments to highlight but there is one special capability that your Iowa Guard provided that is unique.

And while the Iowa National Guard was perhaps the most visible partner helping fight these floods, we were one of many organizations – from the local, state and federal level that responded to Iowans in their time of need.

The response effort was incredible – teamwork at its best. Your Iowa National Guard built goodwill with civilian leadership, community leaders across the state and the citizens of Iowa. We fulfilled our mission to come to the aid of Iowans in their time of need, even though we had nearly 1,600 soldiers and airmen deployed for their federal mission.

Each year I take a little time to introduce you to some of our soldiers and airmen and share with you some of their experiences and accomplishments.

As you've heard, this has been another busy year.

At the 185th Air Refueling Wing - a young single mother by the name of SSgt Kimberly Heberer deployed as a trauma nurse to what was supposed to be Bagram AB, Afghanistan.

Once she arrived in country she immediately went to work. On the second day of her six month deployment, she received orders to move to Forward Operating Base Salerno, or FOB Salerno, a compound with over 300 Army soldiers on the mountainous border of Afghanistan and Pakistan. FOB Salerno was designed to administer emergency triage to wounded US and Afghani military personnel.

SSgt Heberer was one of a handful of airmen integrated at FOB Salerno. The base is located just north of the province of Khost, where hundreds of Taliban and al-Qaeda fighters are believed to be hiding.

Since 2003, the primitive base has been built up from a single concrete building and sand bag perimeter. Guard towers and fighting positions have been built and a field landing strip and helicopter pad exist.

Her story is incredible. Think about it. A single mother who volunteers for a six month deployment finds herself imbedded with the Army and is on the front line of combat.

Yes, pretty much each night a bad guy tried to send a message in the form of bullets or mortar attacks. One time I was ordered to go to the hospital during an attack in the middle of the night. I lived in the same dorm as the x-ray tech she was on call and had to go too. We put on our vests and Kevlar, engaged our weapons and ran to the hospital. I could hear the rockets flying overhead on to the FOB – I didn't look up because it was so dark. It was the only time I was scared.

In total, SSgt Heberer provided combat care to over 3,000 United States and coalition forces. She was part of a team that provided assistance to over 200 trauma patients and 120 post surgical patients. She was part of three mass casualties and expertly supplied emergency staff with laboratory tests and blood products for critical trauma patients.

SSgt Herber is a true American hero and a dedicated member of your Iowa Guard team. She epitomizes the outstanding quality of the wonderful men and women who serve in uniform today.

From April 25th – July 6th 2008, members of the 185th Air Refueling Wing deployed to Manas Air Base in Krygyzstan were they set numerous daily and monthly refueling records. On May 25th, the 185th offloaded a total of 804,800 pounds of fuel, breaking a one day refueling recorded of 800,000 pounds that had stood for more than a year. Nine days later the 185th off loaded 822,000 pounds of fuel, another record, and just six days later they offloaded another 877,300 pounds of fuel. In the span of 16 days, the 185th set five daily records. Another amazing accomplishment by your Iowa Guard!

The 133rd Test Squadron, Iowa Air National Guard, in Ft. Dodge, served the state with distinction, leading the fight against the Iowa Floods in Des Moines, Cedar Rapids, and Davenport in June and also provided outstanding assistance and support to the city of Parkersburg after the tornado struck there. Over 90 members of the 133rd Test Squadron answered their state's call to flood duty.

The 133rd also deployed four officers and six enlisted members to the theaters of Iraq and Afghanistan to help in the fight against terrorism. They also successfully conducted business as usual, providing key test and evaluation of Air Force Command and Control platforms. Their federal mission is critical to the success of our Air Force to maintain its global air superiority posture.

Of notes was its Air Expeditionary Force (AEF) deployment to Balad Air Base in Iraq. The wing deployed four aircraft and 387 personnel to support coalition forces. They flew 515 combat missions totaling 1,962 flight hours. They expended 18 munitions during close air support missions, executed 54 tactical reconnaissance

The wing also sent 31 security force service airmen to Eskan Village, Saudi Arabia to provide integrated base defense. Another 86 Airmen participated in Expeditionary Combat Support deployments to USAFCENT and USAEF bases in support of the Global War on Terrorism operations.

In June of 2007, 120 soldiers from Troop A, 1st Squadron, 113 Cavalry were called to active duty in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom. Their mission was to operate a joint visitors bureau where they provided distinguished visitor housing and security for more than 15,000 guests. This mission enabled these guests, which included Presidents, ambassadors, congressional members, senior military leaders from various coalition forces, and entertainers, to operate in a safe and secure environment.

Alpha Troop provided transportation and security for more than 400 distinguished visitor missions taking them into some of the most hostile areas of Iraq at that time – Mosul, Baqueba, Rusafa and throughout the Diyala province. They are proud to report that none of the distinguished visitors they were responsible for suffered any injuries or accidents despite being subject to improvised explosive devices, and indirect and small arms fire.

Also in June 2007, 120 soldiers from Delta Company, 1st Battalion, 168th Infantry were mobilized for Operation Iraqi Freedom. The 1-168th Infantry was previously deployed to Afghanistan in 2004 so many of the company's soldiers were volunteers, who came from all over Iowa, parts of Nebraska, Illinois, and South Dakota.

Once the company arrived in Iraq, they conducted a variety of missions including limited visibility and daytime patrols in the Al Faurat Village, and tower security in Camp Slayer. During these patrols, Delta Company discovered several weapons cache sites, which netted rocket propelled grenades, sniper rifles and AK-47s.

In addition to these finds, Delta Company conducted the first joint patrols with the Iraqi Army in the Al Furat area. These joint patrols were instrumental in building legitimacy for the Iraqi Army and helping Delta Company build trust with the local Sunni population.

Delta Company conducted more than 500 combat patrols, had ten engagements with the enemy, and suffered one wounded in action. Representing Delta Company are CPT Adam Giroux and 1SG Ricky Singer.

Approximately 330 soldiers were mobilized from the 1st Battalion, 194th Field Artillery and Company A, 1st Battalion, 133rd Infantry in June 2007 for peacekeeping duties in Kosovo. Their mission was to ensure a safe and secure environment in Kosovo and assist the transition to civil authority.

A highlight of the battalion's deployment was Kosovo's long anticipated declaration of independence from Serbia. This occurred on February 17, 2008, completing the breakup of the former Yugoslavia. While Kosovo Albanians celebrated this moment with fireworks and outdoor gatherings in the frigid February night, Kosovo Serbians were understandably disappointed. The world held its breath and watched.

As the days counted onward, calmness fell over Kosovo. Where many predicted there would be widespread violence and rioting there was, in fact, an air of relief. This was in large measure to the presence of Kosovo Force (KFOR) Soldiers, including your Iowa National Guard soldiers keeping peace in that troubled part of the world.

Last year I told you the story of the 833rd Engineer Company. This company, if you recall, deployed to Iraq with the 224th Engineer Battalion from October 2004 to December 2005 in what was one of the most difficult and deadly deployments for any Iowa National Guard unit. With less than 14 months of rest, the 833rd was again called up and deployed to Iraq.

During this deployment, the 833rd conducted 495 combat patrols, found 100 improvised explosive devices and 13 pieces of unexploded ordnance. They successfully destroyed 55 of these explosive devices in place, clearing more than 65,000 kilometers of roads, making them safe for coalition forces.

In November of 2007, approximately 130 Soldiers from the 186th Military Police Company mobilized for Operation Iraqi Freedom. The 186th MP Company, which provides security and law enforcement support, arrived in Iraq in January 2008.

During their deployment the MPs conducted detainee operations at Camp Cropper in Baghdad, guarding both general population detainees and high value detainees, and transported more than 4,000 detainees.

They also assisted in the security and construction of a new detention facility in Taji, Iraq, which is the first purpose built reconciliation facility in the country. It was designed to focus on education and vocational opportunities for detainees to help them reintegrate into society as productive citizens.

The 186th MP Company is one of most frequently deploying units in the Iowa Guard. The company previously deployed to Iraq in 2003-04, Bosnia in 1995-96 and to the Persian Gulf in 1990-91 for Operation Desert Storm.

Representing the 186th MP Company are CPT James Grimaldi and 1SG Dean Kennebeck.

In February 2008, approximately 90 Soldiers from the 109th Medical Battalion departed Iowa for the Sinai Peninsula, Egypt as part of the Multinational Force Observer Mission where they provided command and control to various units for logistics, medical, aviation, and explosive ordnance removal support to 11 MFO contingents. The mission of the MFO is to supervise the implementation of the security provisions of the Egyptian-Israeli Treaty of Peace and to employ best efforts to prevent any violation of its terms.

Representing the 109th Medical Battalion are LTC Joel Harris and Command Sergeant Major Randy Osweiler.

In February of 2007, 3 Embedded Tactical Training Teams consisting of 50 personnel mobilized from the 2nd Brigade Combat Team for duties in Afghanistan where they deployed to provide advanced combat training to the Afghan National Army and National Police.

Team members mentored Afghan National Army leaders on improving overall unit readiness and conducting counter-insurgency operations, with a focus on operations that separated enemy elements from the civilian populations, achieved results with local Afghan National Security Forces in the lead, and set conditions for reconstruction and economic development.

As I have said our soldiers and airmen have served all over the world. And no matter where they go one thing is for certain they leave the place a little better than they found it. With less than a week to plan, train, and deploy we sent 1,000 Iowa National Guard Soldiers and Airmen to Washington D.C., to help provide security during the 56th Presidential Inauguration.

And what happens when you put 1,000 Iowans in the middle of 1.5 million people? They find a way to make a difference. Each one of these soldiers and airmen did a remarkable job and served as tremendous ambassadors for our state.

Yet one group of young men stands out. They didn't do the minimum. They did what Iowans always do – they went that extra mile and for their efforts they earned the respect and admiration of a grateful family.

Major General Dardis read the following letter:

Dear Major General Dardis:

I am writing to commend SPC Scott Smith, SPC Kenneth Wailes, SPC Michael Freise, Lt. William Speicher and SPC Philip Weirather, from Troop A in Des Moines

for their compassionate assistance in returning our lost son to us on January 20, 2009, Inauguration Day, in Washington, D.C.

That day, my 13-year old daughter Kristen, 11-year old son Eric and I were on the grounds near the Washington Monument to observe the swearing-in ceremony of President Barack Obama. Eric became separated from my daughter and I at the end of the speech and started looking for us on the Mall. After about two and one half hours of being separated from Eric, I received a phone call from an inspector with the Federal Protective Service Police, who had our son Eric with him – safe and warm. The Inspector told me members of the Iowa National Guard, working at Connecticut Avenue and N Street, stopped his marked vehicle to inquire whether he could contact me and return my son to me.

Upon being reunited, Eric told my husband and me that when he saw the soldiers – your National Guardsmen – he decided he could trust them because they were “soldiers and I knew I would be safe.” Eric’s instincts were right. Eric tells us the soldiers talked with him, took him into a coffee shop to keep him warm, and stayed with him until they could find someone who knew Washington and could reunite Eric with his family.

I will be forever thankful to the Iowa National Guard and to the Federal Protect Service Police Inspector, who demonstrated such compassion for my son – who was very scared and nervous. Chances are I will never meet SPC Scott Smith, SPC Kenneth Wailes, SPC Michael Freise, Lt. William Speicher and SPC Philip Weirather, and am therefore writing you to ask you share my heartfelt appreciation for their willingness to help and protect our son.

Having been reunited as a family, we now tell Eric that he will have to some day join the Iowa National Guard, to “pay forward” the kindness he was shown. If he ever does, we hope he will mirror the character of the members of Troop A in Des Moines. In our family, they will forever be remembered as role models of leadership and compassion.

Sincerely,
Yvonne Folkerts
Alexandria, Virginia

Whether standing watch on the streets of Washington, D.C., building sandbag levies along the Mississippi river or helping train the Afghan Army, the men and women of your Iowa National Guard embody the spirit of service we all seek.

Last year marks the first time since 2003 that the Iowa National Guard has not suffered any combat related deaths in Iraq or Afghanistan. Thankfully, I have no new Gold Star Families to present to you this morning. And as we continue to deploy soldiers and airmen into harm’s way, we pray that this trend continues.

We will be forever grateful to the families of our 20 Iowa National Guard Gold Star families who have made the ultimate sacrifice for their state and nation. Our hearts go out to the families of our fallen heroes and our prayers will be with them always. God bless our fallen heroes and may they never be forgotten.

However, there is one very special group of soldiers that I would like you to meet whose sober duty is to help us honor and pay tribute to our fallen comrades in arms – both those lost in service to their state and nation as well as our veterans who are leaving us at an ever increasing rate.

These soldiers are charged with the solemn duty of providing military funeral honors. These honors are one small way of showing our country's eternal gratitude we have for those who have faithfully defended our state and nation.

These soldiers perform their duties with professionalism and unbridled respect. They spend countless hours preparing and rehearsing to make sure their movements and actions are carried out in perfect harmony. Death respects no calendar and is not deterred by inclement weather or busy schedules. And neither are these soldiers.

When we are preparing for a long holiday weekend or a vacation with our families, these soldiers are polishing their shoes, pressing their uniforms and practicing their movements. The Iowa National Guard is extremely proud of the work these soldiers do throughout our state.

Representing more than 150 dedicated military funeral honors soldiers across the Iowa Army National Guard are:

- SFC Paul D. Ramirez, 209th Med Co
- PFC Jeffrey R. Gifford, 1/113th RSTA
- SSG Paul E. Brisbois, 334th BSB
- SPC Nathan F. Conlon, 1/194th FA
- SSG Scott A. VanWyk, 734th RSG
- SGT Peter G. Moeller, 209th Med Co
- SGT J. V. Winkowski, Co C 1-133rd Inf Bn

There is another group of individuals I'd like you to meet. These men and women are unique and special in so many ways, yet perhaps what sets them apart – aside from their kilts of course – is their deep love and respect for our men and women in uniform.

The McKenzie Highlanders have performed at sendoffs and homecomings for our units and at the funerals of our fallen heroes.

- Steve Layton
- Steve and Paula Moeckley
- Jim Jorgensen
- Bobby Mohr
- Ron Husted
- Duff McFadden

They volunteer their time and talents to add something special to these occasions – their unique gift of music. I've been told that the sound of their pipes is often the one lasting memory that many have of these events. They seek no pay or special accommodations simply the honor of performing their craft in tribute to our men and women in uniform.

They have become an important part of the Iowa Guard team.

2009 has been declared the year of the Non Commissioned Officer. Our NCOs have evolved over time. Some may recall a notorious gruff sergeant, with the ability to instill fear in to the hearts of even the hardest of men, charging forward fearlessly and continuously bellowing orders.

Today, our NCOs are the warriors, the leaders, the trainers and the caretakers – they take care of the soldiers they lead, from ensuring the best training, the best support – to giving comfort when tragedy strikes – consoling a soldier and his family.

The NCO is strong and courageous, a fearless fighter, and yet a father, a mother, a son, a daughter, who cares deeply about family and community.

They are the backbone of your Iowa National Guard. We could not succeed without them. The strength, courage and character of our NCOs are legendary. We are indeed fortunate to have such true professionals in our ranks. And while we take time this year to recognize the significant accomplishments they make to our organization, we realize that in order for us to accomplish our mission, every year is the year of the NCO.

Representing the NCO Corps of the Iowa Army and Air National Guard are Command Sergeant Major Doyle Norris and Command Chief Master Sergeant Gary Garland.

As I conclude my comments, I want to begin by thanking the men and women of the Iowa National Guard who have contributed to our success these past ten years. We succeeded because we approached our many challenges not as individuals or separate organizations but as one team - the Iowa Guard Team.

Teamwork is the foundation of my command philosophy, and is I strongly believe, the foundation of our success. So I thank each of them for being a team player and for being a valued member of the Iowa Guard Team.

Together, we have made history in the Iowa National Guard. Just as our ancestors did during the Civil War and World War II, we answered our nations call to duty with honor and distinction.

We trained and mobilized thousands of soldiers and airmen. We've transformed nearly all of our Army National Guard units and undergone major conversions throughout the Iowa Air Guard.

We've closed and consolidated armories where needed, and expanded and built new facilities to maintain strength and readiness. We've responded to natural disasters here at home and across the country. We've trained for challenging exercises and prepared for difficult inspections. We've made hard decisions now in order to position the organization for future success.

The Iowa Guard Team has earned a well-deserved reputation for accepting challenging missions and achieving remarkable results. This is the legacy of our organization. This is the legacy of your Iowa Guard. As I prepare to relinquish command to COL Tim Orr, I leave knowing that your Iowa Guard will continue to build on this legacy and that it will remain Mission Focused and Warrior Ready.

I'm confident soldiers and airmen will serve COL Orr with the same degree of professionalism and dedication that they provided to me. The Iowa National Guard is not about one person or one position. It is about the people who serve in her ranks. And after more than 42 years of serving among them, I know there are no more finer citizens than the thousands of Iowa National Guard soldiers and airmen who proudly wear the uniform.

Thank you for your hard work, your commitment, your dedication, and for continuing to set the pace for the Iowa Team.

Again, I thank you for the invitation to come before you today.

God Bless you and your families and God Bless our soldiers and airmen serving in harm's way.

8 yearly and hourly compensation for the pay grade of 9 the number heading the block. Within each grade there
10 shall be seven steps numbered "1" through "7". In the 11 above schedule the steps for all grades are determined
12 in the following manner. Each numbered block is 13 counted as the "1" step for that grade. The next 14 higher block is counted as the "2" step; the next 15 higher block is the "3" step; the next higher block is 16 the "4" step; the next higher block is the "5" step;
17 the next higher block is the "6" step; and the next
18 higher block is the "7" step.

19 Alternatively, the senate rules and administration
20 committee for senate employees, and the house
21 administration and rules committee for house employees
22 may allow their employees' compensation to be flexibly
23 set anywhere between steps "1" through "7" for an 24 employee's prescribed pay grade.

25 All employees shall be available to work daily
 26 until completion of the senate's and house of 27 representatives' business. The employee's division
 28 supervisor shall schedule all employees' working hours
 29 to, as far as possible, maintain regular working 30 hours.

1 All employees, other than those designated "part-
 2 time", shall be compensated for 40 hours of work in a
 3 one-week pay period. Secretaries to senators and 4 representatives are presumed to have 40 hours of work
 5 each week the legislature is in session and shall be 6 paid only on that basis. Full-time employees who are 7 required to work in excess of 80 hours in a two-week
 8 pay period shall be allowed compensatory time off at a
 9 rate of one hour for each hour of overtime up to a
 10 maximum of 120 hours of compensatory time. Joint 11 security employees of the senate and house of 12 representatives may be compensated for each hour of 13 overtime at a rate of pay equal to one-and-one-half
 14 times the hourly pay provided.
 15 Be it further resolved, That part-time employees
 16 shall be compensated at the scheduled hourly rate for 17 their pay grade and step.
 18 Be it further resolved, That in the event the 19 salary schedule for employees of the State of Iowa as 20 promulgated by the department of administrative 21 services pursuant to section 8A.413, subsection 2, is 22 revised upward at any time during the ~~eighty-second~~
 23 eighty-third general assembly, such revised schedule
 24 shall simultaneously be adopted for the compensation
 25 of the employees of the ~~eighty-second~~ eighty-third
 26 general assembly assigned a grade by this resolution, 27 unless otherwise provided by the senate and house of 28 representatives.
 29 Be it further resolved, That adjustments in the 30 positions and compensation listed in this resolution

1 may be made through an interim review of all
 2 legislative employees for internal equity and to 3 assure compliance with appropriate legal standards for 4 granting of overtime and compensatory time off. Such
 5 review shall be conducted by a legislative committee
 6 made up of members of the service committee of 7 legislative council and the appropriate salary

 25 Be it further resolved, That there shall be four 26 classes of appointments as employees of the general
 27 assembly:
 28 A "permanent full-time" or "permanent part-time"
 29 employee is one who is employed the year around and 30 eligible to receive state benefits.

1 An "exempt full-time" employee is one who is
 2 employed for only a portion of the year, usually the
 3 period of the legislative sessions with extensions
 4 post-session and pre-session as scheduled. This class
 5 is eligible to receive state benefits with the cost of 6 benefits to the state to be paid, using accrued leave
 7 if authorized, by the employee when not on the 8 payroll.
 9 A "session-only" employee is one who is employed
 10 for only a portion of the year, usually the 11 legislative session. This class is not eligible for 12 state benefits, except IPERS, and insurance as 13 provided in section 2.40.
 14 A "part-time" employee is one who is employed to 15 work less than 40 hours per week. This class is not 16 eligible for state benefits, except IPERS if eligible.
 17 Be it further resolved, That the exact

 19 by this resolution shall be set or changed for senate
 20 employees by the senate rules and administration
 21 committee and for the house employees by the house
 22 administration and rules committee. The committees
 23 shall base the classification upon the following
 24 factors:
 25 1. The extent of formal education required of the 26 position; and,
 27 2. The extent of the responsibilities to be 28 assigned to the position; and,
 29 3. The amount of supervision placed over the 30 position; and,

1 4. The number of persons the position is assigned
 2 to supervise and skills and responsibilities of those
 3 positions supervised.

4 The committees shall report the exact
 5 classifications assigned to each individual on the 6 next legislative day, or, if such action is during the 7 interim, on the first day the senate or house shall 8 convene. Any action by the senate or house to 9 disapprove a report or a portion of a report shall be 10 effective the day after the action.
 11 Recommendations for a pay grade for a new position
 12 shall be developed in accordance with the factor
 13 scores in the comparable worth report. Every four 14 years the senate rules and administration committee,
 15 the house administration and rules committee, and the 16 legislative council may review all positions in the 17 legislative branch to assure conformity to comparable
 18 worth.
 19 Be it further resolved, That a senator or 20 representative may employ a secretary who in the 21 judgment of the senator or representative employing 22 such person, possesses the necessary skills to perform
 23 the duties such senator or representative shall 24 designate, under the administrative direction, as 25 appropriate, of the secretary of the senate or the 26 chief clerk of the house.
 27 Each standing committee chairperson, ethics
 28 committee chairperson, and each appropriations
 29 subcommittee chairperson shall designate a secretary
 30 who is competent to perform the following duties:

1 prepare committee minutes, committee reports, type
 2 committee correspondence, maintain committee records,
 3 and otherwise assist the committee. Such duties shall 4 be performed in accordance with standards which shall
 5 be provided by the secretary of the senate and chief
 6 clerk of the house. In making the designation,
 7 chairpersons shall consider persons for possible
 8 designation as the secretary to the committee in the 9 following order:
 10 First: The secretary to the chairperson.
 11 Second: The secretary to the committee's vice-12 chairperson.

 3 and administration or the house committee on 4 administration and rules, as appropriate or

 10 approval of the house committee on administration and 11 rules or the senate committee on rules and 12 administration, as appropriate – either in accord
 13 with a flexible pay plan approved by the senate rules
 14 and administration committee or the house
 15 administration and rules committee, or in accord with 16 the following schedule:
 17 (1) Progression from step "1" to "2" for a newly 18 hired employee – six months of actual employment.

- 16 extraordinary conditions justify increasing that entry
- 17 level.
- 18 Be it further resolved, That a pay increase for 12 d. Such meritorious service pay increase shall not 13 be granted beyond the seven-step maximum for that 14 position.

15 Be it further resolved, That the senate rules and 16 administration committee and the house administration
17 and rules committee shall both hire officers and

H-1098

1 Amend House File 414 as follows:
 2 1. Page 29, by inserting before line 35 the
 3 following:
 4 "Sec.____. IOWA PUBLIC EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT
 5 SYSTEM-TEMPORARY LAYOFFS-AVERAGE COVERED WAGE
 6 RECALCULATION.
 7 1. Notwithstanding any provision of chapter 97B to 8 the contrary, a member of the Iowa public employees'
 9 retirement system who has an employer-mandated
 10 reduction in hours but remains on the employer's 11 payroll, and who would receive a reduction in the 12 member's three-year average covered wage as a result
 13 of the reduction in hours, may have the member's 14 retirement allowance calculated based on the 15 three-year average covered wage the member would have 16 received, based on reasonable assumptions, if the

 18 reduction in hours, upon payment by the member of the 19 applicable contribution amount. For purposes of this 20 section, the applicable contribution amount is an 21 amount equal to the employee and employer

 25 would have been included in the member's three-year
 26 average covered wage.

27 2. The payment of the applicable contribution
 28 amount under this section shall be treated as pick-up 29 contributions in addition to amounts picked up under 30 section 97B.11A. The member must notify the Iowa
 31 public employees' retirement system and the member's
 32 employer prior to the member terminating employment
 33 covered under the system so that the appropriate
 34 calculations can be made and the applicable
 35 contribution amount for the member can be deducted
 36 from the member's wages. The Iowa public employees'
 37 retirement system shall have no liability for a
 38 member's failure to notify the system and the member's
 39 employer in time to make such calculations and deduct
 40 the applicable contribution amount from the member's
 41 remaining wage payments.

42 3. This section shall apply to employer-mandated 43 reductions in hours during the period of time
 44 beginning on or after January 1, 2009, and ending no
 45 later than June 30, 2010. The system is authorized to

3 understanding of the cost of government services.
4 Therefore, it is the intent of the general assembly to 5 direct the department of management, in consultation
6 with the department of revenue, to create and maintain 7 a searchable database website of each tax rate for all
8 taxing districts in the state to make citizen access 9 to state and local tax rates as open, transparent, and 10 publicly accessible as is feasible.

20 jurisdiction. The information shall be aggregated by 21 type of tax and accessible by entering a zip code or 22 physical address for each residency or business.
23 Individual tax levies shall be further specified

25 2. GEOGRAPHICAL TAX RATE MAP. In addition to 26 searching for tax rates by zip code or physical 27 address for each residency or business, searches shall 28 be accommodated by a geographical tax rate map of the 29 state that is capable of being displayed with a level
30 of specificity corresponding to each taxing district.

31 3. INDIVIDUAL TAX RATE CALCULATOR. Tax rate
32 calculators shall be provided on the searchable
33 database to allow citizens and businesses to calculate 34 taxes based on the location of the citizen or 35 business. Calculation capability shall be provided at 36 a minimum for property, sales, use, income, vehicle,
37 and business taxes and shall be specific to the rate
38 for the taxing district identified by the citizen or 39 business.

40 Sec.____. NEW SECTION. 8G.13 UPDATING DATABASE.

41 To facilitate the department of management's
42 efforts in creating and maintaining a searchable
43 database of the taxes identified in section 8G.12,
44 subsection 3, for all taxing districts in the state,
45 every taxing district shall report its tax rates
46 annually to the department of management and shall

Representative Dennis Cohoon of Des Moines County introduced O. Kay Henderson, News Director of Radio Iowa.

Thank you, Representative Cohoon.

Pioneer lawmakers, members of the 83th General Assembly, legislative staff, clerks and guests. Thank you for your welcome.

Representative Cohoon cornered me back in the House lounge a few weeks ago about this speaking gig. I asked Representative Cohoon when this event would be held. He told me April 1st and you know what immediately ran through my mind.

Cohoon quickly assured me this is no April Fool's Day joke.

I then asked Representative Cohoon what he wanted the speech to be about. He said: "About 10 or 15 minutes...Just don't go on and on and on."

I don't plan to go on and on and on, but I am going to go back -- all the way back to 1989.

It was a momentous year in world history and worthy of a little review. Apartheid was being ushered out in South Africa.

Pro-democracy protesters in Tiananmen Square were beaten back by the communists -- as many of us watched on television. The Berlin Wall came down.

Back on the home front:

The first episodes of "Seinfeld" and "The Simpsons" aired in 1989.

The Rolling Stones set out on their first "Steel Wheels" tour.

The B-52s sang about a Love Shack.

And Cher was suggesting we "Turn Back Time" -- way before Senator Jack Kibbie ever suggested it.

Two decades ago, I was a 24-year-old statehouse reporter working for Radio Iowa. That may sound young, but let me remind you that two decades ago Representatives Pat Grassley and Matt Windschitl were in kindergarten.

These folks sitting in front of us today were among the newbies, the rookies, "The Class of 1989." They arrived at the statehouse on Monday, January 9 -- dressed in their first-day-of-session clothes.

Democrats were in control. There were 61 Democrats in the House and 30 Democrats in the Senate.

Don Avenson of Oelwein was the House Speaker. Some called him "the lead sled dog." I sat in the Law Library this week, reading through the House and Senate Journals from 1989. I read Avenson's opening day speech and it occurred to me that Barack Obama may have read it, too. As you may recall, Obama said this in a speech to supporters last year: "We are the ones we've been waiting for."

Avenson had almost copyrighted the sentiment two decades earlier. Back in 1989, Avenson said: "We have met Iowa's leaders and they are us."

The list of legislation which cleared the 1989 legislature is long. The General Assembly voted to establish a state minimum wage that was higher than the national minimum wage. Governor Terry Branstad surprised his fellow Republicans and signed it into law.

The 1989 Iowa Legislature established the Resource Enhancement and Protection Act -- REAP. They really loved the environment, so much so that the House Rules were changed and Styrofoam cups were banned from the floor.

But the issue which received the most public attention that year was riverboat gambling. Yes, 1989 is the year the Iowa legislature voted to legalize gambling on boats that cruised the state's rivers. Governor Branstad signed the bill into law and the floating casinos opened their doors on April 1st, 1990.

But just a year earlier, in 1989, the riverboat gambling bill hit a lot of waves -- and sunk a couple of times -- before it made it through the House and Senate.

First, the House debated the bill for seven-and-a-half hours. The votes were cast. The bill failed. It soon resurfaced, though, and passed the House on a 51 to 47 vote.

A short while later in this precarious process, a group of reporters stood around Senator Wally Horn. Horn was the floor manger of the riverboat gambling bill. A reporter asked Horn if he had the votes to pass the bill.

Here is Horn's answer: "Well, I can tell you I've got 26 'yes' votes and 24 'no' votes - and two people are still undecided."

Horn may have been closer on that math than we thought, though, as when the bill first came up for debate in the senate, it failed.

Then, a senator from Waukeez -- a Methodist! -- switched his vote and helped pass the bill.

But passing the bill wasn't easy even when the votes were there. It was a long debate, mainly due to the Herculean effort of Senator William Dieleman, a staunch gambling foe. At one point during debate in the wee hours of the morning, Senator Dick Drake of Muscatine yelled: "Point of order."

Drake had his foot up on his senate desk chair. His elbow was resting on his knee. He was sort of leaning over his microphone. Drake croaked into the microphone: "How long are you going to keep us here, Senator Dieleman?"

Dieleman kept on, but one local senator missed much of the floor show. Senator George Kinley, who lived on the south side of Des Moines, went home that night and got a good night's sleep. He got up early, showered and suited up. Kinley arrived back at the statehouse in the early morning light -- fresh as a daisy and ready to vote for the riverboat gambling bill -- when that vote finally came.

On another occasion -- the old-timers around this place aren't quite sure it was in 1989, but it's a good story so I'm going to tell it -- two Democratic staff members in the Iowa Senate had to go to church on a Sunday morning to round up a senator. The "yes" vote of Senator Joe Coleman of Fort Dodge was needed to pass one of the final bills pending in the session. Theresa Kehoe and Debbie O'Leary were dispatched by Senate Majority Leader Bill Hutchins to find Coleman and they did. They found Senator Coleman standing in the communion line at one of the Catholic churches in town. The two women grabbed Coleman by the elbows and steered him out of church and back here to the statehouse.

There's another story to tell, featuring John Connors. Connors was in the speaker's chair and it was near the end of the session. The House was voting on some long-forgotten bill and a legislator who ended up serving just the one term in the House was standing with his hand in the air, indicating he was voting yes. Connors motioned to Joe O'Hern, the chief clerk. "Who is that?" Connors asked. There were three legislators who looked an awful lot alike. O'Hern said he didn't know who it was. So, this is what Connors announced: "The gentleman in the back of the room votes aye."

There are a million stories to tell about this place and that year. The 1989 legislature dared to take on the "fourth rail" in Iowa politics: small schools. Lawmakers passed an "open enrollment" bill which allowed parents to enroll their children in a neighboring school if they were unhappy with the district in which they lived. And legislators back in 1989 started the process of ending those "phantom students." No, kids, that's not a ghost story, but an honest-to-goodness term that was uttered almost as much as the phrase "federal deductibility" has been uttered here this year.

The 1989 legislature passed an increase in the gas tax. They passed a "comparable worth" bill which said women and men in state government should be paid the same salary when they're doing the same job.

Because of my job, back in 1989 I got to sleep on the floor underneath the press bench here in the House. That's because the House started its last "day" early on Friday morning and ended that "day" on Sunday.

In his closing remarks that year -- on Sunday, May 7th, 1989 -- House Speaker Don Avenson had a list of words to describe legislators' work product: "Epic, trailblazing, foresighted, Ben Hurian, George Pattonish."

Avenson went on to say he was always amazed that, in his words, "farmers, workers, lawyers, teachers and small business people can end up doing what (YOU) do every year. Coming from a hundred different locations and a hundred different family backgrounds," in the end, Avenson said, the Iowa legislature always seems to end up with something of which they can be proud.

And I have now "ended up with something" that's about 10 or 15 minutes long. Thank you for the kind invitation to speak with you today. From this member of "The Class of 1985" -- best wishes to "The Class of 1989."

On motion by McCarthy of Polk, the joint convention was dissolved at 2:34 p.m.

On motion by Whitaker of Van Buren, the House was recessed at 3:07 p.m., until 8:30 p.m.

The House reconvened at 8:29 p.m. Speaker Murphy in the chair.
