PRESENTATION OF SPEAKER

The Honorable Kraig Paulsen was escorted to the Speaker's station and Acting Chief Clerk Carmine Boal administered the oath of office. Temporary Speaker Cownie presented Speaker Paulsen with the gavel and congratulated him on his unanimous election.

Speaker Paulsen thanked the House for the honor bestowed upon him and offered the following remarks:

REMARKS BY SPEAKER

Friends, family, representatives – welcome to the 86th General Assembly.

I'd like to take a moment to recognize all of the family members in the chamber today, particularly my wife Cathy. Our families are our biggest supporters and make the most sacrifices in our service to Iowans. Thank you for your constant strength and encouragement.

I'd also like to recognize that as we convene today we are missing one of our own. Please keep Rep. Dwayne Alons' family in your prayers and let's remember his commitment to Iowans and the fervor in which he worked to move our state forward.

As we sit, joined together in the people's house, I'd like to issue a simple, straightforward challenge to you. While others bring forward their laundry list of funding opportunities, spending priorities, or flashy government programs -- I challenge this General Assembly to ensure that government do less and do it better.

Government continues to meddle in Iowans' lives and seems incapable of doing even the smallest jobs correctly -- today we must meet the challenge of stopping this intrusion. Just like you, I have been contacted by various interest groups, lobbyists and even government agencies regarding how much MORE money they need to keep doing what they are currently doing. Do we ever stop to ask, do we really need government doing this activity? Government could do better if it wasn't trying to do too much. What if we asked government to do less but do it much better?

DO LESS

The revenue forecast says we will have an additional $200 million to spend in Fiscal Year 2016. If we cannot fund Iowans' priorities with an additional $200 million then that means two things: we have too many priorities and we have a spending problem, not a revenue problem.

Instead of more programs and endless expenses, let's ask government to do less. Let's instead create opportunities to make family life more affordable, upward mobility more likely and employment easier to find. We need to ensure the programs currently on the books are doing consequential things that improve Iowans' lives and are worth the taxpayers' investment.

Rep. Pettengill – you and your Rules committee have led the charge in removing barriers for Iowans' when it comes to the rulemaking process. I want to encourage you and your team to continue this vital work on behalf of the legislative branch, ensuring the intent of the laws we pass is followed and onerous rules that hamper growth in our state are identified and removed.

DO IT WELL

While we want government to do less, we also want it to do much better. We can all agree that one area government needs to do better is in the building of our new state prison. Not only has the opening of the prison been delayed for several months, there still is no move in date set. The taxpayers of Iowa paid for this new facility, it is up to us to oversee their money is being spent appropriately. Rep. Kaufmann – I'd like you and your Government Oversight committee to investigate this issue.

Four years ago, Iowa faced a $900 million budget shortfall. Now as the 2015 session begins, Iowa is spending just 94 percent of what our outdated expenditure limitation law allows, our budget reserves remain full and the ending balance is over $700 million.

Iowans work hard to earn their money, so they, not us, can invest it for retirement, spend it on necessities and save it for priorities that they deem important. Let's make sure government operates well in what we've asked it to do. Rep. Soderberg – your appropriations committee has done diligent work in the past to spend tax dollars wisely. I'd like you to once again ensure budgets passed in the House stay true to these four principles. The budget must:

- Not spend more money than the state takes in.
- Not use one-time money to pay for on-going expenses.
- Not intentionally underfund entitlement programs to balance the state's budget.
- Return unused tax dollars to Iowa's taxpayers.

I believe one area that government has been making a significant difference for Iowans is in the Skilled Worker Initiative. When we look back 10 years from now, I believe we will recognize that effort as one of the most consequential things we have done to improve the lives of Iowans. Rep. Hanusa and Rep. Jorgensen— please continue the work in your committees to allow Iowans to obtain the skills needed in order to make that upward mobility possible and for families to prosper.

I am hopeful that once again we can find resolution on leaving more money back in the hardworking Iowa taxpayers' pocketbooks. Not only have we begun to return money back to the Iowa taxpayer through the Taxpayer Trust Fund, as of January 1st, Iowa no longer taxes the social security benefits of our citizens.

You see, back in 2006, a Republican House, a split-control Senate and Democratic governor came together to enact a plan that eliminated the state tax on social security. It was overwhelmingly bipartisan and is proof that when we commit to working on lowering the taxpayers' burden we can have a significant effect. We can give Iowans more financial security and the sky will not come crashing down. Rep. Sands – I'd like you to continue your efforts in finding pragmatic ways to let Iowans keep more of their hard-earned tax dollars.

Over the course of the 2014 elections it became clear that trust in large institutions, like government, was not just waning, it was plummeting. Like most Americans, Iowans believed their state and local governments functioned better than those in Washington, DC.

How do we live up to those expectations?

First, if we are truly going to be different then we need to act differently. Passing one more government program without examining the multitude of programs which already exist is more of the same. Passing another tax credit without examining the millions of dollars already invested in tax credits is more of the same. Putting even more money into education while test scores and other measurements continue to decline is more of the same. Offering up solutions to problems that have already been solved is pandering and more of the same. We need to identify and solve problems differently.

Second, Iowans' priorities need to be our priorities. Iowans want their government more efficient and they want us to be serious about protecting every tax dollar. They don't want more obstacles and more government intrusion into their lives. Most simply want to be left alone to raise their families and enjoy their communities. So we need to continue to spend less than we take in, continue to pay off debt and focus investments on key areas with broad support.

Third, we need to work with each other. Blustering, ranting and drawing lines in the sand accomplishes very little. We must not be afraid to work with people with whom we disagree. Iowans don't want us to fight the same tired battles that ultimately end in a stalemate; instead they want results. We have shown that we can accomplish this, without compromising our core principles.

Lastly, every year in my opening day speech I offer a gentle reminder that the desks we sit in do not belong to us – instead they belong to the 30,000 Iowans we each represent back home. The people who send us here expect us to do our jobs, just like they do every day. Iowans want government to do less but do it better. Now, let's get to work.

Ladies and gentlemen of the 86th General Assembly, thank you for bestowing on me the honor to serve as Speaker Pro Tem. It is truly an honor and a privilege to serve with all of you. I would like to thank my constituents back home for choosing me to be their voice in this august body. I would also like to thank my family, especially my wife Ivelisse, and our daughters, for all the sacrifices they make to accommodate my service to the people of Iowa.

We each have different priorities our constituents sent us here to focus on. As Speaker Pro Tem, I look forward to working with each and every one of you to accomplish many of those priorities in a bipartisan fashion. There are times we may not agree on the best path forward, but we all have a similar interest at heart, to do what is right by the people of Iowa.

As we open the doors on this new General Assembly, let us remember that our time in this chamber is finite and the seats in which we sit are borrowed. Iowans expect us to do our work in a timely fashion and in a bipartisan way. Let us all keep open minds to new ideas, and be willing to listen to diverse opinions.

With each new session come new challenges and new opportunities. It is my sincere hope that when the books are closed on the 86th General Assembly we can look back with pride on the accomplishments we made on behalf of Iowans. Let us work together to make Iowa the best place to live; where taxes are low, jobs are abundant, education is top of the line, innocent life is protected and Second Amendment rights are fully embraced.

I pray that God guide us in all the work that lies ahead and show us the correct path to prosperity. God Bless you all!

Now let's get down to business fulfilling the will of Iowans!

Representative Smith offered the following remarks:

REMARKS BY MINORITY LEADER

Good morning Mr. Speaker. Good morning distinguished members of the Iowa House. Let me welcome the new members of this body and welcome back all of you who have served before.

First, let me say I'm humbled to be leader of the House Democratic Caucus again this year. I'm proud to lead the most diverse caucus in the State Capitol that is a true reflection of the people of Iowa. We have five minority members and a record 49% of our caucus are women this year, the highest we've ever had.

One cannot gather in this beautiful room without having a sense of history. From 1857 on, people elected to represent their neighbors and community have traveled to Des Moines to participate in this great legislative body. At the desk we sit, representatives have risen to debate issues that affect the well-being of Iowa's people. The people who sat at our desk before us had their time and their moments. Today is our time and our moment. The challenge before us is always whether or not we will move our great state forward and whether the decisions we make will positively impact the well-being of Iowans.

The author, Willa Cather, once mused that winter was a time for the fields to lay fallow, for good books, and for long naps. I've often wondered what she would have thought about the Iowa Legislature coming together and disrupting those three things.

She also said that "some things are learned in the calm and others are learned in the storm." We begin each legislative session in the calm and know that there will be stormy periods as we debate and wrestle with the issues before us.

This is the American way and more importantly it is the Iowa way: to ensure that issues are vetted, unintended consequences are exposed, and that the two-party system works to make a better Iowa.

Mr. Speaker, in the 2015 legislative session, it is my commitment to you that Democrats will work together with you to pass legislation in earnest if it answers "yes" to the following question:

Will it strengthen Iowa's middle class or re-vitalize rural Iowa?

Those are the two key priorities of Democrats this year and they also happen to be the most important for the future of our great state.

We know the foundation of our economy is a strong middle class.

It starts with a good education that develops the skilled workforce we need to compete with workers from around the globe and bring good jobs to our state. We should expand the skilled worker initiative we passed a few years ago with tuition grants for students at Iowa community colleges and keep higher education affordable for all Iowa families.

We should expand early childhood education this year to make sure children enter kindergarten ready to learn. It's also essential that we don't short change our K-12 schools next year and leave them without the tools necessary to boost student achievement.

The middle class will thrive if we can encourage new partnerships between educators and our local businesses that will create hands-on learning opportunities to better prepare students for future jobs and keep young people in Iowa.

We can also help more Iowans reach the middle class by raising the minimum wage for over 300,000 Iowans. Just a few days ago, 21 states -- including our neighbors in South Dakota and Nebraska -- raised the minimum wage for over 3 million workers across the country. The last time this chamber passed the minimum wage was 2007 and it passed with 79 votes. It's time for us to do it again this year.

Over the last 50 years, many rural communities have experienced a significant decline in population. House Democrats believe there is more the state must do to stop the decline and capitalize on the strengths of rural communities.

Our ideas to re-vitalize rural Iowa this year aren't based on partisanship or ideology. They are common sense ideas that will benefit rural communities across the state.

To grow our agricultural economy, we'll work to encourage more production and use of renewable energy like wind, solar, and biofuels. It's an industry that already employs thousands of Iowans and adds value to the crops and land of our farmers.

In hundreds of small towns across Iowa, schools are still a great source of pride and build a sense of community. Our job here in the Legislature is to make sure every child gets a great education, regardless of where they live.

We should also pass a bill this year to expand access to broadband and WI-FI for homes, schools, and businesses in under-served and un-served areas. If we do this correctly, it will serve Iowans for generations to come. My caucus also firmly believes we need to take additional steps this year to improve water quality and expand Iowa's Nutrient Reduction Strategy.

Iowans living in rural areas also deserve access to quality, affordable health care, including mental health services.

If this body can work together this year and focus our efforts on a strong middle class and vibrant rural economy, we'll be able to call the 2015 a success.

In conclusion, Mr. Speaker, I acknowledge that the voters selected a bipartisan approach to legislation this year with a Democratic led Senate and a Republican led House. Compromise and working together will be to our credit. Once again, a quote from Willa Cather comes to mind: "winter lies too long," she said, "and hangs on until it is stale and shabby, old and sullen."

Mr. Speaker, let us begin and end our work before it lies too long or hangs on until it is stale and shabby. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Representative Upmeyer offered the following remarks:

REMARKS BY MAJORITY LEADER

Thank you Mr. Speaker,

Ladies and Gentlemen of the House, our families and guests here today, and to all Iowans listening and watching online, welcome to the 86th General Assembly of the Iowa House of Representatives.

I am honored to be sworn in today with such an amazing group of people. Take a look around the room. The variety of expertise and experience here is impressive.

You bring with you a wealth of perspective that will enrich the work we do here. Thank you for offering your time and talent to serve. Thank you to your families and friends for their support and helping make it possible for you to be here.

I want to thank my family for their patience and their sacrifice. I could not do this without your help and understanding.

To the great people of Butler, Franklin, and Cerro Gordo counties, thank you for this opportunity. I share your pride for our area and will always be mindful that while I am the occupant of this desk, you are the owner.

It is a privilege to return as the Majority Leader of the Iowa House. I want to thank my fellow Republicans for entrusting me with this responsibility. I admire your commitment to finding solutions and working together for the benefit of Iowa. I am proud to join you in continuing that work.

The task at hand is a challenging one. First and foremost we have a responsibility to craft a responsible budget. Fortunately the Iowa economy continues to grow. According to the December meeting of the Revenue Estimating Conference, we will have an additional $200 million in revenue growth available this year.

Continuing growth of the Iowa economy during a time when there is such pressure on the agriculture industry is something we should all be thankful for. There are reasons for concern though.

Consider just the costs associated with Medicaid. Today, we expect year-over-year costs for Medicaid to increase $206 million. That is a 7.6% increase at a time when revenue is growing at 4.9%.

Taking a more long-term review highlights the severity of the problem. Over the last ten years, the general fund has grown at an annual rate of 4.1%. Meanwhile, Medicaid has grown at an annual rate of 11.7% for a staggering total of 170% growth.

This is not sustainable. Each year Medicaid's piece of the budget increases and it takes away our opportunities to put resources into other initiatives. We are well on our way to being forced to choose between providing medical services or education for our kids.

Providing tax relief to the hardworking people of Iowa is a priority for many of us in this chamber. I know many of you share my interest in investing in a world-class education system and increasing access to job training. Maybe you want to invest more into infrastructure, school choice, or renewable energy.

These are the kinds of choices that begin to be taken away from our constituents and us when we have an inflexible federal program whose growth outpaces revenue. But challenges present opportunities.

We need to find ways to be more efficient and effective with the resources we have. We need to review our procedures for documentation, waivers, and grant applications.

We need to focus on processes that eliminate fraud and tear down silos. This will allow the administration of services to be as efficient as possible so that more of the resources dedicated to those in need get there.

I continue to believe that if we are going to be successful, we need to insulate ourselves from the inflexibility and inefficiency of federal obligations. Medicaid is the example I have highlighted today, but it permeates many of the programs and policies we will address this year.

We should not be restrained from what we do best, finding Iowa based solutions for Iowa needs.

Remember the federal government does not display the discipline we do here in Iowa. They do not follow our budgeting principles. They recklessly spend without regard for Iowans' desire to live within our means. This is a dangerous partnership, and if we are not vigilant it could bankrupt both of us.

This General Assembly has the opportunity to accomplish great things that will have a longstanding impact on the future of the great state of Iowa.

We will consider many pieces of legislation over the course of the next several months. You will each contribute to the process with the expertise and experience you bring with you.

The vast majority of the bills that we debate will receive a consensus of support bearing the fingerprints of Democrats and Republicans. Urban legislators and rural legislators. Freshmen legislators... and Jack Drake and Dennis Cohoon.

Our best work is done when we come together to find solutions for the challenges our constituents face. That is the tradition of this chamber, this building, and this state.

Our opportunities are in front of us; let's get to work!

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

On motion by Upmeyer of Cerro Gordo, the House was recessed at 11:15 a.m., until 1:45 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The House reconvened at 1:46 p.m., Speaker Paulsen in the chair.

COMMITTEE TO NOTIFY THE SENATE

Highfill of Polk moved that a committee of three be appointed to notify the Senate that the House was ready to receive it in Joint Convention.

GOVERNOR'S CONDITION OF THE STATE MESSAGE

Madam Lieutenant Governor, Madam President, Mr. Speaker, leaders, justices, judges, legislators, elected officials, distinguished guests, family, friends and fellow Iowans, good morning.

It is my honor to stand before you today in this great chamber - in front of a joint session of the Iowa Legislature - to deliver the message that the condition of Iowa is strong.

Our strength comes from working together and our joint commitment to prudent choices for a better Iowa.

To the new members of the Legislature who are coming to Des Moines for the first time to serve their constituents back home, welcome.

I also want to welcome returning legislators. You return to the Capitol after receiving a vote of confidence from your constituents. I am eager to continue working with you to serve our state.

As we return for another legislative session, we return without a military veteran and dedicated public servant. Representative Dwayne Alons will be dearly missed in this great chamber.

I know now, more than ever, the work we do here together matters.

It matters in the lives of hardworking Iowa families and our Main Street businesses. It matters to farmers and farmland. It matters to public safety and our parks.

It matters to Iowa children counting on us to give them a world-class education, who are now benefiting from the phase-in of the most extensive teacher leadership system in the nation.

It matters to the veteran completing their tour of duty. Instead of worrying where they're going to find a career after leaving the service, they're comforted to know that Iowa has thousands of careers available for them right now through Home Base Iowa.

It matters to the hard-working machinist on the line. Rather than thinking the industry had given up on them, they're eager for the opportunity to sharpen their craft and demonstrate their skills through a National Career Readiness Certificate.

It matters that we work together.

These successes should serve as guideposts for a familiar journey of coming together to help Iowans create more jobs, live better lives and grow prosperity throughout our state.

Ladies and Gentlemen, our work together has Iowa on the rise.

In the past four years:

- 168,700 jobs have been created
- Iowa's unemployment rate has been slashed by nearly 30%
- Over $9 billion in private capital investment has located in Iowa
- We passed the largest tax cut in our state's history, which through a close collaboration between the Iowa Department of Revenue and county government, is being implemented throughout the state, and
- We invested historically in our children's future through transformational education reform.

And we did it by working together.

Together, during the 2014 legislative session, we worked across partisan lines to pass a historic Home Base Iowa package that attracts veterans leaving the military service to Iowa to fill the high-quality careers available here.

Our actions are working.

Today, over 600 veterans have been matched with jobs in Iowa through our Home Base Iowa initiative. Eight cities and counties have become Home Base Iowa Communities, standing ready to embrace veterans and their families as they transition to civilian life and eight college campuses have earned the Home Base Iowa CHAMPS designation for their commitment to welcoming service members to campus.

Already, our work together has resulted in over 24,000 jobs being posted on the Home Base Iowa jobs bank.

Our work to pass Home Base Iowa is bringing new business to the state, as well. Earlier this month I met one of the owners of Capital Armament Company.

A former United States Marine, he informed me that the company will be relocating from Minnesota to Sibley, Iowa, in part because of our Home Base Iowa program and friendly business environment.

Simply put, by working together, we've ensured that veterans leaving the service have boundless opportunities to live, work and prosper in Iowa. Our work demonstrates that no veteran should have to worry about finding a job after sacrificing so much for our state and our nation.

Our work, through the Iowa Apprenticeship and Job Training program, the Skilled Iowa Initiative and the National Career Readiness Certificate, among other initiatives, helped hard-working Iowans move forward.

Unlike past years when tuition was raised by over 17 percent, we worked together to pass a tuition freeze for Iowa students at our Regents universities.

Our work has put us on a bright, sustainable path. Our budget is balanced, our state maintains a budget surplus, our economic emergency accounts are fully funded and our unemployment rate is the 10th lowest in the nation.

And we've done it together.

With our continued progress, we must continue to be mindful of the prudent budgeting that brought us the opportunity to reinvest in our children and return taxpayers' hard-earned money. Through careful management, we can continue to grow, even if we encounter choppy waters.

We must continue following the lead of our fellow Iowans. Like the nearly 40 farmers who came together in Northwest Iowa in October with eight combines, six dump carts and a dozen trucks to help harvest the beans for their fallen friend.

The message that rings out today, and always in Iowa is, "Together, we can."

Together we can we can make our schools safer. We can continue implementing transformational education reform while passing new measures to protect our students from bullying and harassment in schools.

Together we can strengthen our rural infrastructure by connecting every acre in Iowa to high-speed Internet. Better access to broadband means ensuring modern farming methods can flourish in all Iowa fields as part of a modern infrastructure.

Strengthening our infrastructure also means we must come together and strengthen the roads and bridges that connect our farmers, schools and Main Street businesses to the world.

We can make college more affordable and accessible for Iowans. We can renew our commitment to providing affordable world-class education at our Regents universities by offering select degrees for $10,000 and again freezing tuition for Iowa students.

We can provide more assistance to Iowa students with financial needs attending our outstanding independent colleges and universities.

Let's continue to invest in our community colleges, including skilled training for Iowa workers. A better-trained workforce means better opportunities for Iowa families. Simply put, no position in our state should be left unfilled due to a lack of skilled workers.

Together we can make Iowa the most transparent government in the land. We can offer Iowa taxpayers a new transparency portal, making state government more open, accessible and easier to navigate.

Together, we can accomplish this forward-thinking plan of action. We have these opportunities to improve the quality of life in our state because together we made it possible.

In the fall of 2014, Lieutenant Governor Reynolds, my wife Chris and I had the opportunity to visit Sioux City, North Linn and Marshalltown school districts to discuss the important topic of preventing bullying in Iowa schools.

We were pleased to be joined at each stop by students, teachers, parents, school administrators, legislators and community leaders. What we heard at each school was clear – students are ready to stand up and say: "Let's end bullying in Iowa."

Now, it's our turn.

Students in these districts, and from around the state, have told their stories of learning being disrupted and feeling unsafe. What's worse, we know some students are even being physically and emotionally harmed.

Community leaders and parents shared that it was time for the state to act.

I agree.

Every day, children in Iowa schools are tormented by bullies. The bullies attack at school and on the Internet. They lurk not just in corners of the schoolhouse but also on Snapchat, Instagram, Facebook, Twitter, Yik Yak and through text messaging.

Iowa common sense tells us that every child in Iowa deserves to go to school each and every day in a safe and respectful learning environment. They deserve a classroom and community that allows them to grow and flourish, not live in fear of when and where the bully will strike again.

This is the year that we stand up to the bully. We can't wait any longer. Please join Lt. Governor Reynolds, my wife Chris and me in standing up against bullying!

Together we can end bullying in Iowa, together we can protect our students and our schools from bullies.

The Bully Free Iowa Act of 2015 that I propose today gives parents more information by requiring parental notification. However, I am proposing an extra layer of protection for students.

This year's anti-bullying legislation allows for an exception from notification if a bullied student and a school official believe that parental notification could lead to abuse, neglect or rejection.

The legislation also launches a bullying prevention program, by empowering student mentors to take ownership of anti-bullying efforts in their schools.

The bill allows a student, who changes schools due to bullying, to immediately participate in athletics. The legislation will also provide investigator training for schools.

Together we can make 2015 the year Iowa acted to protect our children and grandchildren by ending bullying in schools.

Moving Iowa forward also means ensuring our schools and communities stay safe and our families feel protected. It means we must do more to protect victims of domestic abuse. Now, domestic abusers can serve a fraction of their sentence and return to demonizing their victims.

This is wrong. It is wrong for the victims and it is the wrong policy for the safety and wellbeing of Iowans.

Let's work together to pass additional measures ensuring victims do not live in fear of their abuser returning from prison long before the sentence is completed.

Today, I propose legislation classifying anyone convicted of domestic abuse three times as a habitual offender. This classification would triple the mandatory minimum sentence.

This legislation holds criminals accountable for their abuse, allows them ample time to rehabilitate and protects our communities.

While victims and communities will be protected from habitual offenders, together we can protect vulnerable Iowans from individuals making criminal threats.

Often times, Iowa courts order a threatening individual to stay away from a potential victim, but should the order be violated, the victim and authorities are not notified until after the fact. Sometimes, when it's too late.

Together we can give authorities and victims the power of knowing when an abuser is in close proximity. Together we can enact legislation that expands the use of GPS monitoring on dangerous domestic abusers.

Together we can protect victims of domestic violence. Together we can work to end bullying in Iowa.

We know our budget is sound and our books are balanced. We've done this together. We've passed historic tax relief aiding Main Street businesses and we've passed measures to increase the skills of Iowa workers.

Those measures helped attract great companies creating high-quality careers for Iowans all over our state.

Facebook just opened its first Iowa data center in Altoona and is already working on an expansion.

Google is growing in Council Bluffs again, and Microsoft is expanding in West Des Moines.

Cargill and CJ opened in Fort Dodge and are bringing even more good jobs to the region.

In Sioux City, CF Industries will soon be expanding production of nitrogen fertilizer for Iowa's farmers.

The Iowa Fertilizer Plant under construction in Lee County will produce both nitrogen fertilizer and DEF to reduce pollution and increase mileage for diesel engines.

Valent BioSciences, Kinze, Kemin, Sabre, Brownell's and MidAmerican's historic wind project: all are growing right here in Iowa.

Across our state, though, farming operations still provide the lifeblood of our economy. Their continued success depends on their ability to connect.

Not only connecting their equipment to the ground, but in this day and age it also means connecting their equipment to the Internet.

Connecting with the global marketplace to sell their goods. Connecting to main streets across Iowa.

The fabric of our state is woven together by the gravel roads and the interstate system, but in this day and age it also must be connected through access to broadband as well.

This legislative session, let's come together and pass legislation allowing rural Iowa to experience continued growth and connection to the rest of Iowa and the rest of the world.

Together, let's put partisan politics aside and give rural Iowa the broadband legislation that connects every acre and connects communities to the careers of the 21st century.

Our Connect Every Acre plan focuses on providing more broadband to rural Iowa and encourages service providers to build out networks not just to the ending point, but to the rural communities in between. Between Davenport and Des Moines, between Mason City and Sioux City and all across Iowa, we are enriched by many rural communities.

Let's weave them together with the fiber of high-speed Internet, connecting every acre and covering our state with broadband Internet.

We can accomplish this together by focusing on:

- Increasing access through reasonable regulations encouraging growth, and
- Fostering expansion by creating the Iowa Farms, Schools and Communities Broadband Grant Program.

Adopting these measures demonstrates an ongoing commitment to our state's continued growth. With some of the most fertile land in the world, citizens with exceptional work ethic and a strong sense of community pride, rural Iowa has boundless opportunities.

Together, we can adopt measures to connect every acre and give them yet another reason to believe their best days are ahead.

Building a better Iowa means building Iowa for the future. It means investing in our state's infrastructure. So let's invest in broadband Internet.

And, let's also invest in Iowa's roads and bridges.

Over the past few years, rhetoric has trumped results when it has come to action for infrastructure funding for Iowa.

A recently completed Battelle study demonstrates the need for us to take a hard look at adequate road funding. The study shows that without action, funding available for road and bridge maintenance will fall short of what is needed to remain competitive and, more importantly, safe.

Without action, Iowa's roads and bridges face an uncertain future. Our farmers will find it more difficult in delivering commodities to market.

Business and industry will look elsewhere when considering where to invest and grow. As the study found, sound infrastructure remains a prerequisite for economic development.

This is our opportunity to pave the road toward Iowa's strong future. Together, we can find common ground and pass a bipartisan plan to fund the systems critical to our state's vitality: Iowa's roads and bridges, and our broadband infrastructure.

Building an infrastructure as strong as the future that we all want for Iowa must be a bipartisan priority this legislative session!

I'm confident we can find a solution together. We Iowans always do.

Iowans' exceptional work ethic, commitment and dedication are recognized across the country and around the world. Yet within our state today, skilled job openings are abundantly available and going unfilled.

Last October, I toured Omaha Standard Palfinger in Council Bluffs. They are an international company that produces hoists, service cranes, lift gates and more.

The Council Bluffs manufacturing facility was buzzing on the day I visited and the production floor was filled with welders and machinists. I saw their passion for their trade and their commitment to a superior product.

For years, lift gates and service cranes had been produced overseas.

Now, they're being manufactured in America. They're being produced in Council Bluffs, Iowa.

After our tour, company leadership shared that they are eager to hire more workers in Council Bluffs, if only they could find those who have the right skills. These are long-term, high-paying careers for Iowans that should not be left open.

Together, we can establish the Center for Human Capital Enrichment, a public-private partnership, dedicated to aligning education and training of Iowa workers. With a stronger workforce in place, we'll bring more manufacturing and highly-skilled jobs to our state.

Let's lift up the Iowa worker. We can help companies like Omaha Standard Palfinger, who are ready to expand and fill more jobs in Iowa.

Our state budget is tight, that is no secret. Iowans rightly expect predictability and stability in state government. They also rightly expect our state budget to reflect their priorities.

The biennial budget I propose today is balanced, works within our five-year projections and still freezes tuition for Iowa students at our state universities for the third straight year!

Freezing tuition for the third consecutive year is a bold step in providing an affordable higher education in Iowa. But our path doesn't end there.

That's why we challenged Iowa's Board of Regents to develop a plan that offers students a set of degrees that they can earn for $10,000.

In addition, I am offering legislation creating the Iowa Student Debt Reorganization Tax Credit. This tax credit allows individuals to volunteer for worthy causes and in exchange have contributions made toward their student debt.

We've worked together to freeze tuition, now let's continue to take the right steps in making Iowa a leader in reducing student debt.

Iowans rightly expect high-quality for the money they spend on education as well as a government that reflects our shared values.

Together, we worked to increase transparency in government, making it as open and honest as the people of our great state.

We created the Iowa Public Information Board to give the public a resource when seeking information from local and state government. I'm pleased to report the Public Information Board has responded to 643 cases in the last fiscal year.

More and more, the inquiries are not complaints, but rather questions from policy makers about how they can be more transparent. The Iowa Public Information Board is making every layer of government more open.

This year, I'm recommending that Iowa establish a Government Accountability Portal – a one-stop-shop for citizens seeking information.

The portal, housed within the Public Information Board, will field requests and respond within one business day. As state employees, we are here to serve the taxpayers.

Iowa can do more to improve government transparency. For many years, the people of Iowa, who fund state government, have been kept in the dark on personnel decisions because of a loophole in Iowa's open records law.

I was pleased last year when the Iowa House passed bipartisan legislation that would shine light on these personnel files.

A substantiated offense, while a government employee is being paid by the taxpayers, should not be hidden in the shadows.

Together, in the best interest of taxpayers, we can shine light on these records and make our state government even more open, honest and transparent.

As I travel the state, I marvel at the endless beauty of our landscape. When I visit all 99 counties, it never ceases to amaze me what local communities are doing to continually improve their main streets and local quality of life.

From the High Trestle Trail bridge near Madrid, to the revitalization of downtown Cedar Rapids. From the Lewis and Clark State Park along the banks of the Missouri River to the Historic Millwork District in Dubuque near the Mississippi River. Our land between two rivers offers our citizens a high quality of life and our visitors many attractions.

But as Lt. Governor Reynolds and I continue to work to bring more business and industry to the state, we hear that companies are interested not only in our welcoming business climate, but also a high quality of life for their employees.

This year, I am proposing Iowa NEXT, a holistic plan for quality of life initiatives across the state. Let's bring together state agencies that have a shared interest in quality of life initiatives and invest in our parks, trails, lakes and museums.

The proposals outlined today will impact every Iowan. They will help to create jobs, protect students and families and open up our government.

Like the old saying goes, many hands make light work.

Remember back to June of last year.

Torrential rains pummeled Northwest Iowa.

In the Sioux County town of Rock Valley, the Rock River surged over its banks and into the streets and homes of residents. A few short weeks before RAGBRAI, citizens and community leaders wondered if they'd be able to recover.

When I arrived in Rock Valley, I had little doubt.

In a town of only 3,500, 1,700 people showed up to sandbag. Members of the town helped evacuate a local assisted living home. Emergency managers stayed up throughout the night to ensure the safety and wellbeing of locals, their homes and the town's infrastructure.

And when the cyclists of RAGBRAI from around the globe arrived in Rock Valley, the city was ready, because they worked together.

When a challenge arrives, we Iowans get to work. We know that by working together we can find a solution to any problem.

The 86th General Assembly is upon us. With it, comes an opportunity.

Working together and moving forward is the Iowa Way.

Let's come together again to make our schools stronger and safer, our communities more connected, our families better protected, our workers better trained, our universities more affordable and our government the most transparent in the United States.

Now is the time to get to work. Together, we can build a better Iowa.

Thank you. God Bless You. And God Bless the State of Iowa.

CONDITION OF THE JUDICIAL BRANCH MESSAGE

Madam President, Mr. Speaker, distinguished members of the Iowa General Assembly, Governor Branstad, Lieutenant Governor Reynolds, state officials, colleagues, family, friends, and all Iowans:

The assembly of the leadership of all three branches of government in this magnificent chamber underscores the value and success of our shared form of government. It joins with the promise of a new year and stirs a deep respect and reverence for the responsibilities we fulfill together on behalf of the people of Iowa. The three separate branches of government may work in very different ways, but we collectively work as one for the benefit of every Iowan.

My job today as chief justice is to inform you and all Iowans of the condition of the Iowa Judicial Branch. The judicial branch is accountable to do its work so that Iowans can see the value of its fair and impartial courts. It is accountable every day for the resources it is given and the important responsibilities with which it has been entrusted. We best meet these obligations by becoming the best court system we can be. I am honored to report the progress the judicial branch has made towards becoming the best court system in the nation and the value of this progress for all Iowans.

Both my grandfathers were carpenters. Like others who build with their hands, they could look at their work at the end of the day and see progress since the beginning of the day. Building Iowa's court system consistent with its goals may not reveal progress at the end of every day as easily as the work of a carpenter. It is a long, careful process that requires the hands of many, working every day. But, certain days do come along when progress can be seen and our goals are closer within reach. Again this year, the goals of the judicial branch are to:

- Protect Iowa's children;
- Provide full-time access to justice;
- Operate an efficient, full-service court system;
- Provide faster and less costly resolution of legal disputes;
- Remain open and transparent; and
- Provide fair and impartial justice for all.

Let me share with you some specific days of this past year when progress toward achieving our goals could be seen with the clarity of a carpenter at the end of the day.

I. Protecting Iowa's Children

Two days last year stand out to best describe our progress in protecting Iowa's children. One day in July, I visited with each juvenile court officer in the Iowa City district office. These skilled and devoted professionals shared stories of progress children are making under their supervision, stories told with an enthusiasm that promises greater success for more children. Just a few years ago, the stories told were of caseloads so great that our juvenile court officers could not meet face-to-face with most first-time offenders. With your support of additional juvenile court officers, coupled with the implementation of our risk-assessment and evidence-based practices, we are truly making a difference. Since 2012, the number of juveniles with criminal complaints filed against them has dropped by 2896, a 20% decrease. During this same time, the number of juveniles charged with felony crimes has dropped by 331, a 20% decrease. Today, there are 10% fewer young adults entering the adult correctional system.

These statistics demonstrate real progress. Now, our juvenile court officers have the time to give troubled children the specialized services they need while holding them responsible for their actions. Now, our communities are safer. Now, more children avoid a criminal record that too often impedes their future education, employment, or other opportunities for success as young adults. Now, more children have a better opportunity for a better future.

In a different but equally powerful way, progress was revealed on a day last September when I happened to run into Tom Southard, the chief juvenile court officer in the second judicial district. I casually asked him how things were going. He paused and gave the most profound response. Drawing on the full measure of his 32 years of service, he expressed his belief that we are providing the best services to children and families ever. His words captured what I had seen in Iowa City two months earlier. They captured the value of helping our children in need and the true value to this state of those who commit their careers to help its children.

Juvenile court officers are just one component of the judicial branch's positive interactions with Iowa's children and families. Every day judges decide cases regarding child welfare, adoption, and family reunification. Our Children's Justice Initiative, chaired by Justice Brent Appel of Ackworth, collaborates with the department of human services, department of education, attorneys, judges, service providers, and other stakeholders to find the best ways to serve children and families. This work is essential to the process of protecting our children, and we continue to develop new data-driven approaches for our judges to use to benefit more and more families across Iowa.

Overall, these coordinated efforts give our courts the best opportunity for progress in protecting Iowa's children.

II. Protecting Iowa's Families

Last year, again with your support, we expanded our family treatment courts into every judicial district in the state. We now operate 14 family treatment courts and will continue to add family treatment courts to help even more families in need. As you may recall, last year I shared with you a story of a single mother of two children who had recently graduated from a family treatment court in Sioux City. I read a letter her teenage son wrote to her that expressed how proud he was of her for keeping the family together by overcoming her addictions and putting her life in order with the help of a family treatment court team. After recalling the struggles he faced before his mother entered family treatment court, he wrote, "You have become the mom I've always wanted. I love that you are devoted and willing to change a lot to become the sober, loving, and caring mother you are today." I followed up with the family in November, and I am pleased to report the mother remains committed to her sobriety, maintains stable employment, and has purchased a car. The younger sister is thriving in kindergarten, and the courageous teenager who inspired all of us with his powerful letter to his mother is earning A's and B's at his high school. While this story could not be more compelling and meaningful, many more stories of success could be told this morning, and even more are yet to unfold. But, that November day was the day that could not have better told all of us how family treatment courts change lives for the better—one family, one parent, one child at a time.

III. Transforming the Civil Justice System

We are also committed to transforming our broader civil litigation system to better meet the needs of litigants and attorneys. Two years ago, Justice Edward Mansfield of Des Moines chaired a committee to study reforms to discovery procedures in civil litigation and the feasibility of a special docket to process civil claims in less time and at less expense to all parties. Twelve days ago, on January 2, a new era in civil litigation in Iowa began. We now have new court rules that should help reduce the time and expense associated with discovery in all civil cases. We also have a new expedited track for civil lawsuits of $75,000 or less that will enable them to be completed, from start to finish, within one year. While January 2 was just the start, that was the day when the judicial branch launched a new model of judicial efficiency to give more Iowans more access to justice.

Three additional reforms to our civil justice system are underway that will improve the delivery of justice to Iowans. First, our business court is in the second year of a three-year pilot project and continues to show promise. Justice Daryl Hecht of Sloan has been instrumental in developing and monitoring this project. As part of the effort to improve our business court, in April I met with Secretary of Agriculture Bill Northey and a group of agricultural leaders to discuss new and emerging issues that the business court should be prepared to tackle. We are committed to integrating special expertise into our court system to meet the needs of court users.

Second, we are convening a commission of experts to review existing guardianship and conservatorship laws and procedures. The goal is to develop improvements and new safeguards for the services provided to vulnerable adults and children who need help making decisions regarding their personal care, safety, or finances. Right now our court system oversees more than 22,000 active guardianship or conservatorship cases. Each person in each case deserves the best care possible. The project is under the leadership of Justice Bruce Zager of Waterloo, and the task force will include faculty from Iowa's two outstanding law schools.

Finally, we are assembling a task force chaired by Justice Thomas Waterman of Davenport to make recommendations for greater consistency, efficiency, and transparency in the resolution of family law cases. These cases are a big portion of our workload, and now is the time to make sure Iowa's court system provides the best possible practices and outcomes for families who need our courts during difficult times.

These three projects reflect our efforts to improve the legal system in areas important to all Iowans. They also build on our practice of solving problems with civility and fairness and our practice of listening to the needs and expectations of Iowans. We know we must be willing to listen, measure twice, and try new approaches to provide the best services possible for all Iowans. Together, these projects make today a day when the judicial branch can assure all Iowans that we have been listening and will continue to listen as we build the best court system in the nation.

IV. Combating Racial Disparities in the Criminal Justice System

Let me turn to the area of criminal law. As I mentioned last year, the criminal justice system in Iowa and across the nation is marked by racial disparities. There is an overrepresentation of African Americans and other minorities in the criminal justice system—from arrest to incarceration. For example, Iowa incarcerates 9.4% of its adult African American males, which is the third highest percentage in the nation. This is a difficult problem, but its complexity must not deter us from finding a solution. This past year the judicial branch began to take steps to better understand and address the persistence of racial disparities.

Let me tell you about two days that best describe the steps we have taken and the commitment of this branch to combat the problem. The first day was in July when I met in Iowa City with Judge Deborah Minot, school officials, members of the police department, and community leaders. They are finding new ways to address the racial disparities in the Johnson County juvenile justice system by reducing the number of juvenile complaints in a fair way that holds youths accountable without compromising community safety. Racial disparity is found in this statistic: 10% of all youth living in Johnson County are African American, but African American youths make up 54% of Johnson County school arrests. With training and resources from Georgetown University, the Iowa City community is seeking to reduce racial disparities and its consequences by implementing pilot projects to reduce school referrals to juvenile court and divert low-risk teenagers into community supervision to avoid formal charges. The data-driven approach has invigorated the schools, police department, juvenile judges, juvenile court staff, and community providers with the promise of all that can be achieved by its success. It separates those teenagers who have just not yet grown up from those who need more intense services, giving both a better opportunity for a better future. The collaborative effort began in August, and we await the results of its first year of operation.

The second day was in November when I attended a judicial training session with more than 100 judges, where representatives of the NAACP presented data on racial disparities in the criminal justice system and its impact on society. We are gathering information and searching for ways to bring the promise of equal justice to everyone. The training the judicial branch provides to all staff, including new judges and magistrates, will now include education on recognizing implicit biases that may often contribute to the disparities. We will continue this training and will continue to work with others to do what we can to eliminate racial disparities in the criminal justice system.

Iowa may be a leader in the nation in the statistics showing racial disparities in its criminal justice system, but those two days were days that showed Iowa can also lead the nation in finding solutions to end racial disparities.

V. Serving Iowans and Leading the Nation with Technology

Let me turn to the day last year that may best describe our progress in providing Iowans with an efficient, full-service court system that utilizes technology to its greatest advantage. During the last four years, we have been building and implementing a completely paperless court system, known as EDMS. December 4 was the day when the four-millionth legal document was electronically filed in our court system. We now have more than one million electronically filed cases. December 4 was also the day when I was informed that EDMS will be operational in all 99 counties by June 30 of this year, six months ahead of schedule. Iowa will be the first court system in the nation to have a totally electronic, paperless process for all cases at every level. Justice David Wiggins of West Des Moines and Appellate Clerk of Court Donna Humpal have been instrumental in implementing the appellate EDM process and bringing the appellate courts into the 21st century. Today, all the cases of an appellate judge are contained in a 6-inch by 9-inch tablet. Truly transformational events have come along infrequently in our history, and this age of technology is one of them, but we have only begun to scratch the surface. For example, we are looking to integrate mobile technology into our court system that will simplify access to court information for jurors, judges, attorneys, and all Iowans. December 4 did not signal the end of a project but the beginning of a new era filled with new transformational innovations that will improve the delivery of justice and even justice itself.

VI. Enhancing Courthouse Safety and Security

While some days can be used to mark milestones of progress, other days may deliver problems, even tragedy. One such day was September 9, when there was a shooting in the Jackson County Courthouse. Our county courthouses across the state hold a proud and dignified stature in our communities. But, courthouse business, both court and other county services, can at times be adversarial and give rise to the fear of violence, and even violence itself. Every courthouse employee and visitor in this state deserves to feel safe and be safe. While courthouse security is a problem involving state and local governments, the judicial branch has joined hands with the Iowa State Association of Counties to take the steps necessary to make every courthouse in Iowa safer and more secure. We have completed surveys to determine the current levels of security in each courthouse and have started to provide training to those who work in our courthouses and other state and county buildings. We will broaden our efforts and look forward to working with all segments of state and local government to make all public buildings safe. While the day of the Jackson County shooting was a tragedy, that was the day when tragedy was turned into an unwavering commitment to do everything possible to make sure every place of justice is a place of safety.

VII. The Promise of Justice for All

Finally, let me place the progress of the judicial branch in context. The progress in building a better court system is only accomplished with the help of the judges across this state, judges who must find the time each day to carefully decide the difficult and important issues the people of Iowa bring into our courtrooms. The judges and magistrates of this state do this work today with the honor and conviction of the best judges that preceded them and with all the wisdom we could ever hope would be found in a justice system. It is these judges—my six colleagues on the supreme court, the judges of the court of appeals, and all judges and magistrates in this state—who are making this progress possible and the promise of justice for all inevitable.

I have relied on only a handful of days to describe the progress the judicial branch has made during the past year to build a better court system. I have turned to a few days to describe some of the work yet to be accomplished. Fair and impartial justice for all is our mission. Everyone deserves to see the court process as fair and just, even if some will not see the justice in the results in the same way at the same time. While each day may not reveal our progress to all, each day is our opportunity to bring justice to Iowans through the work of judges and court staff. The architects of our grand government left for those who would follow to be the builders and carpenters. The blueprints bestowed challenge us to innovate and inspire us to do our best. It is today that the judicial branch continues to build the system of justice envisioned by its architects to benefit all people, so that one day the arc that bends towards justice and equality will be inscribed full circle to become but a point, a single point where we all stand, a point seen and felt by all with the clarity of a carpenter.

Thank you.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR REMARKS

Governor and First Lady, Senator Grassley, Senator Ernst, Governor Christie, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Leader, Mr. Chief Justice, justices and judges, legislators, elected officials, family, friends, and fellow Iowans - welcome.

Madam President, thank you for that very nice introduction.

I am incredibly humbled and deeply appreciative to be sworn in today for a second term as your Lt. Governor.

Governor Branstad, thank you for giving me another opportunity to serve as a true partner in this administration. I appreciate your perspective that the Lt. Governor should be actively involved in developing strategy, policy, and statewide initiatives to benefit all Iowans.

During these past 4 years, I've had the chance to lead global trade missions, represent Iowa on a national level, and travel to all 99 counties each year. None of those opportunities would have been possible without your confidence, ongoing support and deep belief in my ability to serve the great people of Iowa.

You inspire and challenge me each day through your actions, your leadership, your energy and unparalleled commitment to Iowans.

Governor Branstad – from the bottom of my heart, thank you.

To my parents – Charles and Audrey – you made sure I understood the importance of honesty, integrity, and hard work. Your emphasis on faith, family, community and responsibility drives who I am today. I cannot thank you enough for your unwavering and unconditional love. And thank you for raising me in Iowa!

My life has been truly blessed by my experiences growing up in this wonderful place we call Iowa. I was educated in a strong school system, where I had the opportunity to learn, not just in the classroom – but on the basketball court and in the community.

My parents and that tight-knit community instilled in me the value of giving back and being prepared for every opportunity that might come my way. Mom and Dad – thank you for raising me in a place where those values are prized, celebrated and rewarded.

To my husband, Kevin, and our daughters Nicole, Jennifer and Jessica, and their husbands, Ryan, Jason and Scot. You are and continue to be my source of strength. I'm not sure I can even begin to describe the importance of each of you in my life.

It's often been said that public service is a sacrifice. However you, as well as many others in this room today, are the individuals who make the silent sacrifices that allow us to do our jobs as public servants. You bring out the best in me as a wife and mother. I treasure the times that we're together and rely upon you when we're apart.

You are a compass for maintaining direction and balance in my role as Lt. Governor. I know that I couldn't be where I am today without your love and support throughout the years.

Kevin and I also are blessed with 6 grandchildren, and, we're excited about the arrival of our 7th in May! They keep us grounded, smiling, and busy.

I know the things that I do as a leader can have an impact on their future.

That's why, it's essential, they – as well as all children – have every chance to grow as individuals, thrive in their careers and prosper as Iowans. Because their generation will be the next stewards of Iowa.

When I think about the Iowa of the future that we're creating for their generation and generations to come, I believe we have an enormous responsibility.

We have an obligation to create and promote a strong quality of life, a robust economy and a disciplined approach to government that benefits all Iowans.

However, none of these things are guaranteed. We have a personal responsibility to act, to do the right thing and doing the right thing isn't difficult when we think about the younger generation that will inherit the results of our actions, decisions, and policies.

To be true to our heritage – both today and tomorrow. That is our timeless formula for success.

The Iowa of the future will be built upon altruism.

Iowans will do as we've always done- look beyond ourselves because of our love for our families, neighbors and this great state.

Iowans know an enduring vision is the key driver for a bold future. And, we know a bold future means a focus on doing the job at hand: meeting the challenges of today with courage and perseverance.

By taking this approach, we will create an Iowa where our children will want to stay, where those who left will long to return and newcomers will feel welcome and embrace Iowa's rich culture.

An Iowa, where families choose to put down roots, rather than look beyond our borders to fulfill their dreams.

This is the Iowa of the future.

An Iowa, where opportunities exist within all 99 counties. Where Iowans come together to drive and shape those opportunities.

I know we can continue to build this Iowa for the future. I've seen first-hand what can be accomplished when Iowans join together, putting aside political labels and forging a common vision for our great state.

When leaders of good faith on both sides of the aisle came together for the greater good, we transformed education, passed the largest tax cut in Iowa history, and reined in the state budget.

Together, we accomplished remarkable things. And, together, we can achieve so much more.

Just think – a little more than three years ago, we embarked upon a critical journey to create a statewide strategy for STEM education: Science, Technology, Engineering and Math.

And, look at what has been accomplished when business and industry, elected officials, educators, parents and, most importantly, students joined together to make Iowa a national leader in STEM.

At the heart of this initiative is the Governor's STEM Advisory Council, which I'm honored to co-chair with Mary Andringa, CEO and Board Chair of Vermeer.

We serve with 45 Council members who are passionate, hard-working, visionaries who recognize that improving Iowa's STEM foundation means a brighter future for students and our economy.

Yet, even with the success of bringing together business, industry and educational partners to harness their expertise and the synergy created by this extensive network, we must continue to aggressively use STEM as a tool for economic and human capital development, ensuring we remain competitive, innovative and growing in a knowledge-based global economy.

STEM is about expanding opportunities for all.

It's about seeing children actively engaged in learning.

And, the excitement as they discover a love for math, coding, science, building a robot, solving a challenge, or experiencing lean manufacturing on the floor of a local business and the confidence that builds as they see for themselves they can do it.

As a recognized leader in STEM, Iowa is poised to connect the education to build our state for the future and use it as a tool for so much more.

STEM is an economic development tool.

Equipping a workforce with the education needed to fill the careers of tomorrow. To help attract, retain, and expand businesses and careers in our state.

STEM is a job-training tool. Providing the necessary skills to engage in a rewarding career and a high-quality job that will support a growing family, help young Iowans pay off their student loan or put a down payment on their first home.

STEM is our human capital pipeline. Ensuring that when the next Sukup, Kemin, NewLink Genetics, Innovative Lighting, or Harrisvaccines opens their doors there will be plenty of skilled and highly qualified Iowans to hire.

STEM is a mindset with an entrepreneurial spirit. Instilling critical thinking and problem solving so we are enabling the next generation of innovators to discover new products and processes creating their own path towards prosperity.

Simply put, STEM is critical to the Iowa of the future.

Improving our state's business climate also must remain a priority so the next Genova Technologies, Pear Deck, or Zero Energy Systems, can operate in an environment where entrepreneurial risk is rewarded.

Where start-up capital can be obtained and the next million-dollar idea is not smothered by thousands of pages of misguided rules and regulations. I envision an Iowa, where the next Workiva or PUCK Custom Enterprises will be successful wherever they are located within our 99 counties, whether headquartered in a revitalized urban center or the farthest reaches of rural Iowa.

I envision an Iowa where the next tech start-up can easily connect to customers and users across our state, country and world using reliable broadband, connecting Iowa products to international markets.

The Iowa of the future is vibrant!

I see an Iowa where initiatives like Waukee CAPS, Iowa Big, and the Iowa Start-Up Accelerator expand across our state encouraging young Iowans like Kinzie Farmer, a 17-year-old entrepreneur from Cedar Rapids, to grow her dynamic event called "Success She" so that talented women can network and share their stories of triumph with one another.

And, I see an Iowa in which articulate young women like Megan Weis, a bright 7th grader in West Des Moines, who stood poised at a Monday morning press conference demonstrating her passion for coding while sharing with her peers why STEM is important for their future.

As your Lieutenant Governor, I believe we are just getting started.

Iowa is, and will continue to be, America's role model when it comes to honest, hardworking citizens. Principled and dedicated leaders, and a genuine sense of service to others.

Iowa is, and will continue to be, a place that we can be proud to call home.

It's clear why we safeguard the best in our state and plan for the future when you consider who we are building the future for – our children and grandchildren.

So, let each of us leave today with a renewed commitment to Iowa.

An Iowa where resiliency, understanding and compassion help us overcome any obstacles

An Iowa where innovation, ingenuity and imagination drive job creation and economic vitality.

And, an Iowa where family, community, and responsibility help us meet our obligations for the next generation.

To the people of Iowa – I once again say thank you.

God bless you, and God bless the Great State of Iowa!

The musical group Living Water Evangelical Free Church, Des Moines performed.

The oath of office was administered to Governor-elect Terry E. Branstad, by Chief Justice Mark S. Cady, and assisted by Chris Branstad.

President Jochum presented Governor Terry E. Branstad, who delivered the following inaugural address:

GOVERNOR'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS

U.S. Charles Grassley, our new U.S. Senator Joni Ernst, Governor Chris Christie, Lt. Governor Reynolds, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Leader, Mr. Chief Justice, justices and judges, legislators, other elected officials, distinguished guests, family and friends: I am honored to be here, with all of you, today.

Madam President Jochum, thank you for that very nice introduction.

Lieutenant Governor Reynolds, it has been a great pleasure to serve side-by-side with you these past four years and I am thrilled our partnership will continue these next four years.

Thank you for your vision on building a more prosperous Iowa future, for your leadership on STEM education and economic development and for your remarks today.

This is my sixth inauguration as your governor. It would not have been possible without the love and support of my family.

It also would not have been possible without the support of the Iowa voters.

I still marvel at a system and a state where a poor North Iowa farm boy can be elected governor. It remains a great honor and privilege to have been chosen by the people of Iowa again and again to serve as your chief executive.

Inaugurations are celebrations. Not the celebration of any one election, but the celebrations of our heritage, our history, our democracy; and of everything that is good and right and cherished about Iowa. Our Iowa way of life is prospering.

At the inaugural celebration four years ago, however, we were a state with an unsure footing, facing budget woes and economic hard times.

We knew that coming together as Iowans to work together for Iowans was critical to our success.

I joked then, as my father used to say, our eyes were bigger than our wallets. While uncertainty may have started with the state budget, it was felt by our school districts, our businesses, and Iowa families.

Instead of shrinking from the challenges our state faced, after a long first session back, we came together.

We balanced our budget and we got our fiscal house in order. Today, our rainy day funds are again full and we operate on a two-year budget with five-year projections ensuring stability and predictability for Iowa taxpayers.

With a common cause of improving opportunity for Iowa families by making it easier for Main Street businesses to create Iowa jobs, and old-fashioned persistence, we enacted the largest property tax cut in Iowa history.

We know a globally competitive education that opens doors to better skills and better training creates a world-class work force. Getting better results for Iowa students and rewarding outstanding teachers won the day and we passed a transformational education reform.

Even on the most divisive issue of the day, health care, we did what our leaders in D.C. rarely do: we found middle ground.

These compromises were not easily reached. There was hand-wringing and politics aplenty. But I know we all fiercely believed that by working together and meeting these challenges we could find greater success, greater opportunity, and greater prosperity for our people.

We were right, results speak louder than rhetoric. Incomes are rising, government is shrinking, and we have more people employed than at any time in our state's history.

Today, we gather with Iowa facing a much different set of challenges than those of four years ago. We live in a global economy with competition coming from every hemisphere.

Although we are growing as a state, we aren't growing fast enough. Iowa remains the one state in the nation that has not grown by even 50 percent since the 1900 census.

The growth of our state, in terms of population, jobs, incomes, and opportunities – these are the challenges we now face.

My message today is this: we are the architects of our future.

This state we all call home, this The Heart of The Heartland, has an opportunity to grow.

The generational challenges our state faces, the opportunities we must embrace, call for a tried and true way of doing business in Iowa: working hard, setting long term goals, and making sacrifices to build Iowa's future.

Are we willing to make these commitments for Iowa?

Simply put, our future is what we want it to be; it is what we make it.

We can either design a blueprint for growth and build Iowa for a brighter future, a more bountiful future, cementing opportunity and prosperity, or, we can squander our hard work and the foundation we have built, fall into the partisan traps and go down a path neglecting to improve our state's standing in the world and the opportunities for prosperity for Iowans.

To meet our challenge of growth as a state, we must address very familiar areas: our business climate, our skilled workforce, revitalizing our infrastructure, and spurring greater innovation and entrepreneurship within our state.

However, we must approach these areas with a perspective grounded in the 21st century, based on the strong foundation we've built together, but also acknowledging the challenges we must face together.

I have traveled to all of Iowa's 99 counties every year as Governor. While the majesty of our landscape and the spirit of our people have not changed much, Iowa truly has.

We farm differently. Our crops are going to more places around the world than ever before and being planted and harvested by equipment laden with computers and connected to the internet.

We communicate differently. Information travels faster than ever before. When I was governor before, a cell phone was the size of a briefcase. Today, we carry phones in our pockets with more computing power than we ever dreamed possible.

We work differently. Advanced manufacturing is now the leading industry in our state and Iowa is at the forefront when it comes to turning corn and soy beans into sources of renewable energy, building products and even pharmaceuticals.

Indeed, Iowa truly has changed. And we must embrace these changes and adapt to them. This is the juncture we now face as a state, and as elected officials, as we prepare to build Iowa's future.

It's true, Iowa has seen economic and income growth. We have been beneficiaries of a strong agricultural economy.

However, laying the groundwork for future economic growth in Iowa requires building on our success, harnessing new technologies that will quickly expand and flourish. Our economic development strategy must build on our agricultural success as well as position Iowa for the global, modern marketplace.

One area that the Iowa Economic Development Authority believes is poised for tremendous growth worldwide is renewable, bio-chemical production from biomass feed stocks.

Already there are more than 3,500 US jobs working in the renewable chemicals sector but that is expected to increase fivefold.

Today, Iowa is a leader in the available supply of biomass. Let's build on our advantage and position our state for growth in this burgeoning industry with a new incentive for the production of renewable chemicals from biomass feed stocks.

Let's also encourage innovation with a more effective angel investor tax credit fostering the growth of start-up companies across our state.

Building on Iowa's agricultural success with modern bio-renewable products and improving our business climate will result in growing incomes for Iowa families.

As we position Iowa for economic growth and development in the 21st century, we must also equip Iowa workers with the training and skills to fill the jobs of the future for a career in the renewable chemical sector, in advanced manufacturing, or with a start-up company.

Building the skills of our workforce so they can build the products and ideas of the 21st century does not begin after high school. It does not begin during high school. It must begin the very day our Iowa children step foot in a school for the first time.

We have already made positive steps in this direction. With Lt. Governor Kim Reynolds' and Mary Andringa's leadership on the STEM initiative, more Iowans are getting access to critical science, technology, engineering and math education.

As Lt. Governor Reynolds said, STEM is only the first step. We must continue working to position Iowa schools to generate a skilled workforce ready for global competition.

By working from day one to equip students with the skills needed in a knowledge-based economy, we will position Iowa's workforce for the jobs of tomorrow.

As Benjamin Franklin once said, "An investment in knowledge pays the best interest."

I have proposed the greatest investment in our schools in state history. We have worked together to freeze tuition for Iowa students at our Regents institutions for the past two years, and we ought to make it three. For growth, we need a more skilled workforce and we also need more innovation and entrepreneurship in our state.

Where Iowa is lagging is creating new jobs from new companies starting here in Iowa.

Universities across this nation are full of people working on the most challenging problems and solving them with groundbreaking ideas.

Our colleges and universities are no different. Faculty and students at our colleges and universities are working on cutting edge biotechnology and medical research and coming up with new ideas for internet based businesses.

What we need to improve, is our ability to turn those extraordinary ideas into Iowa companies and Iowa jobs. Our universities can play a key role in economic growth by converting university research into industry start-ups.

Allowing these ideas to develop, grow and flourish in our state will foster growth in unforeseen areas and will build the innovative Iowa future we truly need.

Iowans know: our people and our land have always been connected. The success and bounty of one is linked to the other.

This same shared fate is true in the 21st century and it extends to economic opportunity and internet connectivity. Addressing infrastructure today means addressing broadband in addition to our roads and bridges.

I'd like to share a story with you about Michael Koenig, Stuart McCulloh and Holden Nyhus. These young men grew up on farms near Pleasantville, DeWitt and Forest City. They all walked fields as a crop scouts, marking down the location and type of weeds in a field. Sometimes they knew the type of weed and sometimes they didn't. But Michael, Stuart and Holden thought to themselves, "There has to be a better way to do this."

In May 2011, as Iowa State University students these three founded Scout Pro: A company that pairs mobile devices, a web-based application and the internet with good, old fashioned crop walking.

Their web-based application allows farmers in the field to better identify the type of weed they see and pinpoint its exact location, allowing for more efficient crop maintenance and better yields.

Our farmers, and the growth of companies like Scout Pro, rely on infrastructure for success – both roads and broadband. Addressing the infrastructure that makes both the delivery of internet faster and the roads better must be a priority as we build Iowa's future.

Looking around the room today, I know we can meet the challenges our state faces. It's what we have always done. Embracing challenges and exceeding expectations is what makes our state so great.

We have met our past challenges with perseverance and that perseverance has built character. It is that character, I believe, which gives us greater hope for our future prosperity.

As you look at the back of a one-dollar bill, you will see The Great Seal of the United States. The Seal includes an unfinished pyramid. The unfinished pyramid is just that: unfinished. Our country and our state are never finished being built, never finished improving and we are always adapting to what comes our way.

That's the funny thing about challenges and Iowans. Challenges make us work harder, dream bigger and go farther than ever before and they become opportunities for advancement.

My solemn promise to you today, is to always meet our challenges head on, earnestly and with building a more successful Iowa future as my guide.

I am ready to once again work with you to build Iowa's future. So let's build it well and let's build it together.

Thank you. God bless you and God bless the great State of Iowa.

The benediction was offered by Pastor Chuck DeVos.

8 containing substantially identical title, language,
9 subject matter, purpose and intrasectional arrangement,
10 shall be considered by the membership of the house
11 without a copy of the amendment having been filed with 12 the chief clerk by 4:00 p.m. or within one-half hour of 13 adjournment, whichever is later, on the day preceding
14 floor debate on the amendment. If the house adjourns
15 prior to 2:00 p.m. on Friday, the final deadline is two 16 hours after adjournment. However, committee amendments
17 filed pursuant to the submission of the committee
18 report may be accepted after this deadline. This 19 provision shall not apply to any proposal debated on 20 the floor of the house after the thirteenth week of 21 the first session and the twelfth week of the second
22 session. No amendment or amendment to an amendment
23 to a bill, rule of the house, or resolution shall be 24 considered by the membership of the house without 25 a copy of the amendment being on the desks of the 26 entire membership of the house prior to consideration.
27 However, the membership of the house may consider an 28 amendment or an amendment to an amendment to a bill,
29 rule of the house, or resolution without a copy of the 30 amendment being on the desks of the entire membership

2 amendment is made available to the entire membership of 3 the house electronically.

4 Rule 32

13 resolutions reported out for passage, amendment and 14 passage, or without recommendation by a committee,
15 or passed on file shall be arranged on a regular
16 calendar by the chief clerk each day and electronically
17 distributed to the members at the opening of each
18 legislative day. The regular calendar shall include

21 the date upon which debate is scheduled to begin
22 on each of them, which shall be no sooner than five 23 session days from the first date of publication on the 24 regular calendar.
25 Rule 34
26 Daily Debate Calendar
27 The majority floor leadership shall cause to

1 nullification resolutions, and joint resolutions from 2 the regular calendar setting forth the number and
3 title of bills, nullification resolutions, and joint
4 resolutions for the next legislative day that floor
5 action is scheduled.
6 This rule does not apply to bills which have passed
7 both houses in different forms, reconsiderations, or 8 veto reconsiderations.
9 Rule 35
10 Substitution of Bills
11 A senate bill or resolution may be substituted
12 for an identical house bill or resolution which has 13 been called up for debate. An amendment to a senate
14 bill or resolution which has been substituted for an 15 identical house bill or resolution is out of order if 16 an identical amendment to the house bill or resolution
17 was considered.
18 Rule 36
19 Consideration of Committee Amendments
20 After a bill has been referred and reported back,
21 it shall be considered on its first reading after the 22 amendments of the committee have been read.
23 Rule 37

26 ordered shall be filed at least three session days
27 prior to the date set for debate. Amendments to an

28 amendment shall be filed at least two session days
29 prior to the date set for debate. However, corrective 30 amendments and amendments sponsored by either the

1 majority floor leader or the minority floor leader may
2 be filed at any time. Rule 31, subsection 8, shall not
3 apply to these amendments.
4 A corrective amendment is an amendment which does
5 not substantively change the amendment or the bill.
6 Rule 38
7 Germane Amendments
8 An amendment must be germane to the subject matter
9 of the bill it seeks to amend. An amendment to an 10 amendment must be germane to both the amendment and the 11 bill it seeks to amend. When a member objects to an 12 amendment on grounds that the amendment is not germane, 13 the speaker may invite members, who shall include the 14 majority and minority leaders, to the speaker's station
15 to discuss the objection.
16 Rule 39
17 Consideration of Bills
18 Bills, including committee bills, joint resolutions,

23 appear on the regular calendar.
24 Committee reports shall be printed in the journal
25 immediately after they are filed with the chief clerk.
26 Reports recommending bills, joint resolutions, and 27 nullification resolutions for passage, for amendment
28 and passage, or without recommendation shall stand
29 approved unless written objections are filed during 30 the first legislative day following their printing in

1 the journal. If objections are filed, they shall be
2 disposed of as soon as possible.
3 Rule 40
4 Consideration of Bills Upon Last Reading
5 No amendment, unless by way of correcting an error
6 or omission, shall be received to any bill on its last
7 reading, and no debate shall be allowed on it.
8 Rule 41
9 Printing of Bills and Joint Resolutions
10 Bills and joint resolutions shall be printed in form
11 as provided by law and by rule. Each house may direct
12 the printing of an additional number of its own bills.
13 Legalizing bills of a local or private nature shall 14 be printed in bill form and placed in the files of the 15 members, the same as other bills, in the order of their 16 introduction. The cost of printing shall be deposited 17 with the treasurer of state in advance at a rate to be 18 fixed, and the newspaper publication of the bill shall 19 be without cost to the state. No legalizing act may 20 be introduced until all provisions of law have been 21 complied with.

22 Rule 42

23 Certification and Engrossment of Bills

24 The chief clerk shall certify the passage of each
25 bill and note the date of its passage.

26 In engrossing a bill, the chief clerk shall 27 correct all obvious typographical, spelling, or other
28 clerical errors and change section subunit numbers
29 and letters and internal references as required to 30 conform the original bill to any amendments which have

1 been adopted. The chief clerk shall report all such
2 corrections or changes in the journal. The engrossed
3 bill shall be placed in the bill file with the original
4 bill and amendments.

5 Rule 43

6 Rereferral

7 A bill may be rereferred by the speaker or, upon
8 motion, by the house at any time before its passage and 9 after the report of its referral to committee.

11 Effect of Indefinite Postponement

12 When a question is indefinitely postponed, it shall 13 not be acted upon again during that session.

14 Rule 45

15 Status of Bills Following First Regular Session

16 Except for those bills which have been adopted by 17 both houses in different forms, all bills which have 18 not been withdrawn, defeated or indefinitely postponed,
19 shall be rereferred to committee upon adjournment of 20 the first regular session. Within seven days after 21 the first committee meeting following convening of 22 the second regular session, the committee chair shall 23 submit the bill to the full committee for action or the 24 chair shall reassign the bill to a subcommittee.

12 legislative services agency prior to submission.

13 Upon taking possession of a study bill, the 12 shall be printed in the journal.

13 All bills, prior to consideration by the committee,
14 shall be referred by the chair to a subcommittee,
15 unless acted upon by a committee of the whole.

16 The chair may assign bills to subcommittees without 17 a meeting of the committee, but the membership of the 18 subcommittee so appointed shall be reported at the next

19 meeting of the committee.

21 Open Meetings

22 Standing committee meetings shall be open, and

24 on administration and rules may close its meetings to 25 evaluate the professional competency of an individual.

26 Rule 53

27 Quorum and Vote Requirements

28 The committee roll shall be taken at the convening
29 of each meeting to determine the presence of a quorum.
30 A majority of the committee membership shall constitute

1 a quorum.

2 An affirmative vote of a majority of the committee
3 membership is required to report a bill out of 4 committee or to suspend a committee rule.

5 A motion to reconsider may be made only by a
6 committee member who voted on the prevailing side of 7 the question sought to be reconsidered. A motion to 8 reconsider may only be made prior to the adjournment of 9 the committee meeting at which the bill was reported
10 out.

11 If a member, who is in the committee room when a 12 question to report a bill out of committee is put, has 13 not asked to be excused prior to commencing to take
14 the vote on the question, the member shall vote aye
15 or nay unless the committee has excused the member for 16 special reasons. However, a member may pass on the 17 first taking of the roll call on the question but shall 18 vote aye or nay when the member's name is called for a
19 second time.

2 present its recommendations on the final disposition
3 of a bill to the house by attaching its recommendation
4 to the committee report. The minority recommendation
5 shall be noted in the journal along with the committee
6 report.
7 Rule 56
8 Committee Amendment
9 Whenever a committee amendment is proposed which
10 would amend another committee amendment, the amendment
11 shall be drafted in the form of a substitute amendment
12 and shall be considered as such.
13 Rule 57
14 Committee Notice and Agenda
15 Each committee shall prepare and publish a notice
16 and agenda of each committee meeting at least one
17 legislative day prior to the meeting. The notice and

4 providing the required notice and agenda upon leave
5 of the house if a notice is either electronically
6 transmitted to committee members or placed on the desks
7 of committee members.
8 Rule 58
9 Clearing of Committee Room

3 A bill, joint resolution, or nullification
4 resolution which has been in committee for eighteen
5 legislative days following notation of such referral
6 in the journal may be withdrawn from the committee and 7 placed on the calendar by an affirmative vote of not

9 Rule 61

10 Committee Public Hearings

11 The chair of a committee may call a public hearing
12 for the purpose of receiving public comment on any

14 The chair shall call a public hearing upon the 15 written request of committee members according to 16 committee rules, but no more than one-third of the 17 committee members shall be required.

18 A public hearing shall not be called or requested
19 after final action on the bill, joint resolution,
20 or nullification resolution has been taken by the 21 committee. However, a public hearing called or 22 requested before final action has been taken by the 23 committee may be held after final action on the bill, 24 joint resolution, or nullification resolution has been
25 taken by the committee.

26 The chair shall designate a time and place for a
27 public hearing and provide public notice at least five
28 days prior to a public hearing.

29 A bill, joint resolution, or nullification
30 resolution for which a public hearing has been called

1 can be voted to the calendar but cannot be debated
2 until after the public hearing has been held. If a
3 bill, joint resolution, or nullification resolution
4 for which a public hearing has been called is not
5 debated by the house during the session in which it
6 is introduced, the request for the public hearing is 7 deemed to have lapsed upon adjournment sine die of that 8 session.

9 However, public hearings which have been requested
10 during or after the 9th week of the first session and 11 during or after the 7th week of the second session must 12 be held within four legislative days of the date of the 13 request.

14 Rule 62

16 All claims shall be referred to the appropriations
17 committee. A claim referred to the appropriations
18 committee in a prior session of the general assembly
19 shall not be considered by the appropriations
20 committee or by the house unless it has been 21 specifically referred to this session by a vote of the 22 appropriations committee. The appropriations committee
23 is authorized to set a definite date each session after 24 which it will not receive claims or claim bills for 25 consideration.

29 In forming the committee of the whole house, the 30 speaker shall appoint a member to preside in committee

1 and then leave the chair.
2 Rule 64
3 Rules in Committee of the Whole
4 The rules of the house shall be observed in 5 committee of the whole house, so far as they are 6 applicable.
7 Rule 65
8 Bills in Committee of the Whole
9 Bills committed to the committee of the whole house
10 shall first be debated by section. After the report

13 its last reading and passage.
14 Rule 66

11 Adoption of a motion to strike the enacting words is 12 equivalent to rejection of the question.
13 Rule 68

14 Order of Consideration of Amendments

15 Amendments shall be considered by earliest position
 16 in the bill. Amendments to the same place in the bill
 17 shall be considered by the lowest amendment number. An 18 amendment which inserts language after a line and an 19 amendment which inserts language before the succeeding
 20 line shall be considered amendments to the same place
 21 in the bill.

22 However, an amendment to strike the enacting clause
 23 shall always be considered first. An amendment filed
 24 by a committee shall have the next highest order of 25 priority, followed by an amendment to strike everything
 26 after the enacting clause and insert new language. An 27 amendment to strike language or to strike and insert
 28 new language, except an amendment to strike everything
 29 after the enacting clause and insert new language,
 30 shall not be considered before amendments to perfect

14 house.
15 Rule 72

24 member who voted on the prevailing side of the question
25 sought to be reconsidered.
26 2. A motion to reconsider may be made not later
27 than adjournment on the legislative day following
28 the legislative day of the action sought to be
29 reconsidered. Where the floor manager voted on 30 the prevailing side, the floor manager has the

1 prior right to make the motion, until adjournment
2 on the legislative day of the action sought to be
3 reconsidered. A motion to reconsider a nullification
4 resolution shall be acted upon not later than 5 adjournment on the legislative day following
6 the legislative day of the action sought to be
7 reconsidered.
8 3. A motion to reconsider made beginning the 9 fifteenth week of the first regular session, or the 10 thirteenth week of the second regular session, may be
11 taken up when made. A motion made at any other time
12 may be taken up prior to the third legislative day
13 succeeding the legislative day of the action sought

25 is pending at the end of the first session or any 26 extraordinary session of any general assembly, or the 27 general assembly adjourns sine die, and the motion to 28 reconsider has not been voted upon by the house, the 29 motion shall be determined to have failed.
30 DIVISION VIII - VOTING

Page 38

1 Rule 74
2 Manner of Voting
3 Members present may cast their votes, either by 4 operating the voting mechanism located at their 5 assigned desk or by signaling the speaker from the 6 floor of the house or from the south visitors' gallery
7 if they are unable to vote at their assigned desk.
8 Only a member may operate the voting mechanism at that 9 member's assigned desk. The speaker shall announce the 10 votes of members signaling their votes. Upon direction 11 of the speaker only those members at their desks and 12 voting shall be counted. Members who are not present
13 shall not cast their votes except:
14 1. Members who have not voted may record their 15 votes on any record roll call vote except quorum
16 calls within ten minutes after the outcome of the 17 vote has been announced. Members shall initial their 18 recorded votes on a copy of the record roll call at the 19 speaker's station. However, if the aggregate of votes
20 cast under this rule would change the outcome of the 21 vote on a question, then none of the votes cast on the 22 question under this rule shall be recorded. A member
23 may request announcement of the names of members so
24 recorded after the ten-minute period.
25 2. Members meeting in a conference committee
26 or in administrative rules review committee at the 27 time a vote is taken on a question may have their 28 vote recorded within thirty minutes or adjournment,
29 whichever is first, of that same legislative day,
30 provided the aggregate of votes cast does not change

1 the outcome of the vote on a question.
2 Rule 75
3 Voting in the House and Duty of Voting

4 Voting on a question put to members on the floor of 5 the house shall not occur between midnight and 8 a.m.
6 on any legislative day except for voting on a motion to
7 recess, defer, or adjourn. Except as limited in Rule
8 76, every member who is in the house when a question is 9 put shall vote unless the house has excused that member
10 from voting for special reasons; however, such member
11 must have asked to be excused from voting prior to the 12 time the speaker puts the question.

13 Rule 76

14 Limitation on Right to Vote

15 No member shall vote on any question in which 16 the member or the member's immediate family member,
17 as defined in chapter 68B of the Code, has a direct
18 financial interest different from other similarly
19 situated persons or classes of persons of the general
20 public.

21 Rule 77

22 Call of the House

23 Upon written request of five members, the presiding
24 officer shall compel attendance of absent and unexcused
25 members for the consideration of specified bills,
26 resolutions, or amendments.

27 A call of the house shall specify the propositions
28 to which it is to apply and must be put into effect
29 before roll call is taken on the proposition. The 30 request may be filed with the chief clerk at any time

1 before final action upon the propositions, who shall
2 notify the house immediately.

3 Rule 78

4 Method of Calling the House

5 Upon a call of the house, the names of the members
6 shall be called by the chief clerk and the absentees
7 noted, after which the names of the absentees shall 8 again be called. The sergeant-at-arms shall be 9 directed by the speaker to compel the attendance of 10 absent members, unless they are previously excused.
11 Any member occupying the member's seat during a call
12 of the house shall be counted by the speaker and that
13 person's name entered in the journal as being present
14 for the purpose of making a quorum.

15 Rule 79

16 Method of Calling the Roll

17 The electrical voting machine shall be used for a
18 call of the house, a quorum call or a roll call vote
19 on any question. If the electrical voting machine is 20 not in operating order when it is necessary to take 21 a record roll call vote, the presiding officer shall 22 order the vote to be taken by calling the roll in

23 alphabetical order, except the name of the presiding

24 officer shall be called last.

25 During the casting of the vote with the voting
26 machine, the individual votes and the vote totals shall 27 be shown on the display boards. Before the voting
28 machine is closed, the presiding officer shall inquire
29 of the house, "Have you all voted?"

30 Rule 80

Page 41

1 Quorum and Record Roll Call Votes

2 A majority of the members shall constitute a quorum.

3 A record roll call vote shall be ordered upon
4 request of any two members. The names of the members
5 requesting the record roll call shall be entered in the 6 journal.

7 Rule 81

8 Previous Question

9 When a member moves for the previous question, the 10 member shall state whether the motion will apply to the 11 main question, to all the amendments, or to particular 12 amendments. The motion requires an affirmative vote of 13 at least a constitutional majority of the members. If 14 the motion for a previous question is not adopted, the 15 house shall proceed in the same manner as before the 16 motion was made.

17 If the motion is adopted, all debate must end and 18 the house will vote upon the question except:

19 1. If the motion applies to the main question, the 20 member in charge of the measure will have ten minutes
21 to speak for the purpose of closing discussion before
22 the vote on the measure is taken.

23 2. If the motion applies to an amendment, the 24 member proposing the amendment will have five minutes
25 to speak for the purpose of closing discussion before
26 the vote on the amendment is taken.

27 3. If a member has filed a written request with 28 the chief clerk of the house indicating the member's
29 desire to speak on a particular question. The request
30 must be filed before the motion is made by the movant.

1 The request allows a member to speak on a particular
2 question before the closing discussion by the member
3 who is in charge of the measure or who is proposing the 4 amendment.

5 Rule 82

6 Division of the Question

7 Any member may call for a division of the question,
8 which shall be divided if it comprehends questions so

9 distinct that one being taken away, the remainder may 10 stand separately for discussion by the house. Upon 11 request to divide an amendment, the chief clerk shall 12 restate the division and note the divided amendment in 13 the house journal. An amendment to strike out being 14 lost shall not preclude an amendment to strike out and 15 insert. An amendment to strike out and insert shall be 16 deemed indivisible.

Rogers of Black Hawk offered amendment H-1006 filed by him and moved its adoption.

Amendment H-1006 was adopted.

Rogers of Black Hawk moved the adoption of House Resolution 4, as amended.

The motion prevailed and the resolution, as amended, was adopted.

ADOPTION OF HOUSE RESOLUTION 5

Upmeyer of Cerro Gordo called up for consideration House Resolution 5, as follows:

HOUSE RESOLUTION 5 BY COMMITTEE ON ETHICS

1 A resolution relating to the code of ethics of the
 2 House of Representatives for the Eighty-sixth
 3 General Assembly.
 4 BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, That
 5 the House Code of Ethics shall be as follows:
 6 HOUSE CODE OF ETHICS
 7 PREAMBLE. Every legislator and legislative employee
 8 has a duty to uphold the integrity and honor of the 9 general assembly, to encourage respect for the law
 10 and for the general assembly, and to observe the house
 11 code of ethics. The members and employees of the house
 12 have a responsibility to conduct themselves so as to 13 reflect credit on the general assembly, and to inspire
 14 the confidence, respect, and trust of the public. The 15 following rules are adopted pursuant to chapter 68B of 16 the Code, to assist the members and employees in the 17 conduct of their activities:
 18 1. DEFINITIONS. The definitions of terms provided
 19 in chapter 68B of the Code apply to the use of those 20 terms in these rules.
 21 2. ECONOMIC INTEREST OF MEMBER OR EMPLOYEE OF
 22 HOUSE.

23 a. Economic or investment opportunity. A member
24 or employee of the house shall not solicit or accept
25 economic or investment opportunity under circumstances
26 where the member or employee knows, or should know,
27 that the opportunity is being afforded with the intent

1 to influence the member's or employee's conduct in
2 the performance of official duties. If a member
3 or employee of the house learns that an economic 4 or investment opportunity previously accepted was 5 offered with the intent of influencing the member's or 6 employee's conduct in the performance of the official 7 duties, the member or employee shall take steps to 8 divest that member or employee of that investment or 9 economic opportunity, and shall report the matter
10 in writing to the chairperson of the house ethics
11 committee.

12 b. Excessive charges for services, goods, or 13 property interests. A member or employee of the 14 house shall not charge to or accept from a person
15 known to have a legislative interest, a price, fee,
16 compensation, or other consideration for the sale or
17 lease of any property or the furnishing of services
18 which is in excess of that which the member or employee
19 would ordinarily charge another person.

20 c. Use of confidential information. A member or 21 employee of the house, in order to further the member's 22 or employee's own economic interests, or those of any
23 other person, shall not disclose or use confidential
24 information acquired in the course of the member's or 25 employee's official duties. For the purpose of this
26 rule, information disclosed in open session at a public
27 meeting and information that is a public record is not
28 confidential information.

29 d. Employment. A member or employee of the house
30 shall not accept employment, either directly or

1 indirectly, from a political action committee. A
2 member of the house shall not act as a paid lobbyist
3 for any organization. However, this paragraph shall 4 not prohibit a member or employee of the house from 5 working for a candidate's committee, a political
6 party's action committee, or a political action
7 committee which does not expressly advocate the 8 nomination, election, or defeat of a candidate for 9 public office in this state or expressly advocate the 10 passage or defeat of a ballot issue in this state and 11 which is not interested in issues before the general

12 assembly.

13 For the purpose of this rule, a political action
14 committee means a committee, but not a candidate's
15 committee, which accepts contributions, makes
16 expenditures, or incurs indebtedness in the aggregate
17 of more than seven hundred fifty dollars in any one
18 calendar year to expressly advocate the nomination,
19 election, or defeat of a candidate for public office or 20 to expressly advocate the passage or defeat of a ballot
21 issue or for the purpose of influencing legislative 22 action.

23 e. Solicitation of employment as lobbyist. A member
24 or employee of the house shall not solicit employment
25 on behalf of the member or employee, or on behalf of 26 another legislator or employee, as a lobbyist while the 27 general assembly is in session.

28 f. Certain goods or services. A member or employee
29 of the house shall not solicit or obtain goods or 30 services from another person under circumstances where

1 the member or employee knows or should know that the
2 goods or services are being offered or sold with the 3 intent to influence the member's or employee's conduct
4 in the performance of official duties. If a member
5 or employee of the house is afforded goods or services
6 by another person at a price that is not available to 7 other members or classes of members of the general
8 public or is afforded goods or services that are not
9 available to other members or classes of members
10 of the general public by another person where the 11 member or employee knows or should know that the other
12 person intends to influence the member's or employee's
13 official conduct, the member or employee shall not take 14 or purchase the goods or services.

15 3. APPEARANCE BEFORE STATE AGENCY. A member or 16 employee of the house may appear before a state agency
17 in any representation case but shall not act as a
18 lobbyist with respect to the passage, defeat, approval, 19 veto, or modification of any legislation, rule, or 20 executive order. Whenever a member or employee of 21 the house appears before a state agency, the member
22 or employee shall carefully avoid all conduct which 23 might in any way lead members of the general public
24 to conclude that the member or employee is using the 25 member's or employee's official position to further the 26 member's or employee's professional success or personal
27 financial interest.

28 4. CONFLICTS OF INTEREST. In order for the general
29 assembly to function effectively, members of the house
30 may be required to vote on bills and participate in

1 committee work which will affect their employment and
2 other areas in which they may have a monetary interest.
3 Action on bills and committee work which furthers a
4 member's specific employment, specific investment, or 5 other specific interest, as opposed to the interests of 6 the public in general or the interests of a profession,
7 trade, business, or other class of persons, shall be
8 avoided. In making a decision relative to a member's 9 activity on particular bills or in committee work, the 10 following factors should be considered:

11 a. Whether a substantial threat to the member's 12 independence of judgment has been created by the 13 conflict situation.

14 b. The effect of the member's participation on 15 public confidence in the integrity of the general
16 assembly.

17 c. Whether the member's participation is likely to 18 have any significant effect on the disposition of the 19 matter.

20 d. The need for the member's particular
21 contribution, such as special knowledge of the subject
22 matter, to the effective functioning of the general
23 assembly.

24 If a member decides not to participate in committee
25 work or to abstain from voting because of a possible
26 conflict of interest, the member should disclose
27 this fact to the legislative body. The member shall 28 not vote on any question in which the member has an 29 economic interest that is distinguishable from the 30 interests of the general public or a substantial class

1 of persons.

2 5. STATUTORY REQUIREMENTS. Members and employees
3 of the house shall comply with the requirements
4 contained in chapters 68B (Government Ethics and
5 Lobbying), 721 (Official Misconduct), and 722 (Bribery
6 and Corruption), and sections 2.18 (Contempt) and 711.4
7 (Extortion) of the Code.

8 6. CHARGE ACCOUNTS. Members and employees of the 9 house shall not charge any amount or item to a charge
10 account to be paid for by a lobbyist or any client of a
11 lobbyist.

12 7. TRAVEL EXPENSES. A member or employee of the 13 house shall not charge to the state of Iowa amounts
14 for travel and expenses unless the member or employee
15 actually has incurred those mileage and expense costs.
16 Members or employees shall not file the vouchers for 17 weekly mileage reimbursement required by section 2.10,

18 subsection 1 of the Code, unless the travel expense was 19 actually incurred.

20 A member or employee of the house shall not file
21 a claim for per diem compensation for a meeting of 22 an interim study committee or a visitation committee
23 unless the member or employee attended the meeting.
24 However, the speaker may waive this provision and allow 25 a claim to be filed if the member or employee attempted
26 to attend the meeting but was unable to do so because 27 of circumstances beyond the member's or employee's
28 control.

29 8. GIFTS ACCEPTED OR RECEIVED. Members and 30 employees of the house shall comply with the

1 restrictions relating to the receipt or acceptance
2 of gifts contained in section 68B.22 of the Code.
3 The sponsor of a function under section 68B.22,
4 subsection 4, paragraph "s", shall electronically
5 file a registration with the chief clerk of the house
6 five days prior to the function disclosing the name of 7 the sponsor, and the date, time, and location of the 8 function. The sponsor shall also electronically file a
9 report of expenditures as required pursuant to section
10 68B.22, subsection 4, paragraph "s".

11 9. HONORARIA RESTRICTIONS. Members and employees
12 of the house shall comply with the restrictions
13 relating to the receipt of honoraria contained in 14 section 68B.23 of the Code.

15 10. DISCLOSURE REQUIRED. Each member of the 16 house and the chief clerk of the house shall file the 17 personal financial disclosure statements required under 18 section 68B.35 of the Code by February 15 of each year
19 for the prior calendar year.

20 11. SEXUAL HARASSMENT. Members and employees of 21 the house shall not engage in conduct which constitutes 22 sexual harassment as defined in section 19B.12 of 23 the Code or pursuant to the sexual harassment policy
24 adopted by the house committee on administration and 25 rules.

26 12. COMPLAINTS.

27 a. Filing of complaint. Complaints may be filed by 28 any person believing that a member or employee of the 29 house, a lobbyist, or a client of a lobbyist is guilty
30 of a violation of the house code of ethics, the joint

1 rules governing lobbyists, or chapter 68B of the Code.

2 b. Complaints by committee. The ethics committee
3 may initiate a complaint on its own motion. Committee

4 complaints may be initiated by the committee as a
5 result of a committee investigation or as a result of 6 receipt of any complaint or other information that does
7 not meet the requirements of these rules regarding the 8 form of a complaint but that contains allegations that 9 would form the basis for a valid complaint.

10 c. Form and contents of complaint. A complaint
11 shall be in writing.

12 Complaint forms shall be available from the chief
13 clerk of the house, but a complaint shall not be
14 rejected for failure to use the approved form if it
15 complies with the requirements of these rules. The 16 complaint shall contain a certification made by the 17 complainant, under penalty of perjury, that the facts
18 stated in the complaint are true to the best of the 19 complainant's knowledge.

20 To be valid, a complaint shall allege all of the 21 following:

22 (1) Facts, that if true, establish a violation of 23 a provision of chapter 68B of the Code, the house code
24 of ethics, or joint rules governing lobbyists for which 25 penalties or other remedies are provided.

26 (2) That the conduct providing the basis for the 27 complaint occurred within three years of the filing of 28 the complaint.

29 (3) That the party charged with a violation is 30 a party subject to the jurisdiction of the ethics

1 committee.

2 d. Confidentiality of complaint. The identity of 3 the parties and the contents of the complaint shall
4 be confidential until the time that the committee
5 chairperson and ranking member determine under 6 paragraph "f" that the complaint is sufficient as
7 to form, unless either the complainant or the party
8 charged in the complaint makes the identity of the 9 parties, or the information contained in the complaint,
10 public. The chief clerk of the house and the committee
11 chairperson and ranking member may communicate
12 confidentially with appropriate legislative staff
13 during any stage of the complaint process.

14 e. Notice of complaint. Upon receipt of the 15 complaint, the chief clerk of the house shall promptly
16 notify the chairperson and ranking member of the 17 ethics committee that a complaint has been filed and 18 provide both the chairperson and the ranking member
19 with copies of the complaint and any supporting
20 information. Within two working days, the chief clerk
21 shall send notice, either by personal delivery or by 22 certified mail, return receipt requested, to the person

23 or persons alleged to have committed the violation,
24 along with a copy of the complaint and any supporting 25 information. The notice to the accused person shall 26 contain a request that the person submit a written 27 response to the complaint within ten working days of 28 the date that the notice was sent by the chief clerk.
29 At the request of the accused person, the committee may 30 extend the time for the response, not to exceed ten

1 additional calendar days. A response to a complaint
2 shall not be confidential.
3 f. Hearing regarding validity of complaint. The 4 committee chairperson and the ranking member shall 5 review the complaint and supporting information to 6 determine whether the complaint meets the requirements
7 as to form. If the complaint is deficient as to form,
8 the complaint shall be returned to the complainant
9 with instructions indicating the deficiency. If the 10 complaint is in writing, is sufficient as to form,
11 and contains the appropriate certification, as soon
12 as practicable, the chairperson shall call a meeting
13 of the committee to review the complaint to determine 14 whether the complaint meets the requirements for 15 validity and whether the committee should take action
16 on the complaint pursuant to paragraph "g" or whether 17 the committee should request that the chief justice
18 of the supreme court appoint an independent special
19 counsel to conduct an investigation to determine
20 whether probable cause exists to believe that a
21 violation of the house code of ethics, joint rules
22 governing lobbyists, or chapter 68B of the Code, has 23 occurred. The sufficiency as to form determination
24 and the valid complaint requirements determination
25 shall be based solely upon the original complaint and 26 the response to the complaint. Additional documents
27 or responses shall not be filed by the parties or 28 otherwise considered by the committee prior to a
29 validity determination. The committee shall not 30 receive or consider oral testimony in support of or

1 against a validity determination.
2 If the committee finds that a complaint does not
3 meet the content requirements for a valid complaint,
4 the committee shall dismiss the complaint and notify 5 both the complainant and the party alleged to have 6 committed the violation of the dismissal and the 7 reasons for dismissal. A dismissal for failure to meet
8 the formal requirements for the filing of a complaint

9 shall be without prejudice and the complainant may 10 refile the complaint at any time within three years
11 of the date that the alleged violation took place. If 12 the dismissal is based upon a failure to allege facts
13 and circumstances necessary for a valid complaint, the 14 dismissal shall be with prejudice and the party shall 15 not be permitted to file a complaint based upon the 16 same facts and circumstances.

17 g. Action on undisputed complaint. If the committee
18 determines a complaint is valid and determines no
19 dispute exists between the parties regarding the 20 material facts that establish a violation, the 21 committee may take action on the complaint under this 22 paragraph without requesting the appointment of an
23 independent special counsel.

24 The committee may do any of the following:

25 (1) Issue an admonishment to advise against the 26 conduct that formed the basis for the complaint and to 27 exercise care in the future.

28 (2) Issue an order to cease and desist the conduct
29 that formed the basis for the complaint.

30 (3) Make a recommendation to the house that

Page 12

1 the person subject to the complaint be censured or
2 reprimanded.

3 h. Request for appointment of independent special
4 counsel. If, after review of the complaint and any 5 response made by the party alleged to have committed 6 the violation, the committee determines that the 7 complaint meets the requirements for form and content
8 and the committee has not taken action under paragraph
9 "g", the committee shall request that the chief justice
10 of the supreme court appoint independent special
11 counsel to investigate the matter and determine whether 12 probable cause exists to believe that a violation of 13 chapter 68B of the Code, the house code of ethics, or 14 the joint rules governing lobbyists has occurred.

15 i. Receipt of report of independent special counsel.

16 The report from the independent special counsel
17 regarding probable cause to proceed on a complaint
18 shall be filed with the chief clerk of the house.
19 Upon receipt of the report of the independent special
20 counsel, the chief clerk shall notify the chairperson
21 of the filing of the report and shall send copies of 22 the report to the members of the ethics committee. As 23 soon as practicable after the filing of the report, the 24 chairperson shall schedule a public meeting for review
25 of the report. The purpose of the public meeting
26 shall be to determine whether the complaint should be 27 dismissed, whether a formal hearing should be held on

28 the complaint, or whether other committee action is 29 appropriate. The complainant and the person alleged to 30 have committed the violation shall be given notice of

1 the public meeting, shall have the right to be present
2 at the public meeting, and may, at the discretion
3 of the committee, present testimony in support of or 4 against the recommendations contained in the report.
5 If the committee determines that the matter should 6 be dismissed, the committee shall cause an order to 7 be entered dismissing the matter and notice of the 8 dismissal shall be given to the complainant and the 9 party alleged to have committed the violation. If 10 the committee determines that the complaint should be
11 scheduled for formal hearing, the committee shall issue
12 a charging statement which contains the charges and 13 supporting facts that are to be set for formal hearing
14 and notice shall be sent to the complainant and the 15 accused person.

16 The notice shall include a statement of the nature
17 of the charge or charges, a statement of the time and 18 place of hearing, a short and plain statement of the 19 facts asserted, and a statement of the rights of the 20 accused person at the hearing.

21 j. Formal hearing. Formal hearings shall be public
22 and conducted in the manner provided in section 68B.31,
23 subsection 8 of the Code. At a formal hearing the 24 accused shall have the right to be present and to 25 be heard in person and by counsel, to cross-examine 26 witnesses, and to present evidence. Members of 27 the committee shall also have the right to question
28 witnesses.

29 The committee may require, by subpoena or otherwise,
30 the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the

1 production of such books, records, correspondence,
2 memoranda, papers, documents, and any other things it
3 deems necessary to the conduct of the inquiry.

4 Evidence at the formal hearing shall be received
5 in accordance with rules and procedures applicable to 6 contested cases under chapter 17A of the Code.

7 The committee chairperson, or the vice chairperson
8 or ranking member in the absence of the chairperson,
9 shall preside at the formal hearing and shall rule on 10 the admissibility of any evidence received. The ruling
11 of the chairperson may be overturned by a majority
12 vote of the committee. Independent special counsel
13 shall present the evidence in support of the charge

14 or charges. The burden shall be on the independent
15 special counsel to prove the charge or charges by 16 a preponderance of clear and convincing evidence.
17 Upon completion of the formal hearing, the committee
18 shall adopt written findings of fact and conclusions
19 concerning the merits of the charges and make its 20 report and recommendation to the house.

21 k. Disqualification of member. Members of the 22 committee may disqualify themselves from participating
23 in any investigation of the conduct of another person
24 upon submission of a written statement that the member
25 cannot render an impartial and unbiased decision
26 in a case. A member may also be disqualified by a 27 unanimous vote of the remaining eligible members of the 28 committee.

29 A member of the committee is ineligible to 30 participate in committee meetings, as a member of the

1 committee, in any proceeding relating to the member's
2 own official conduct.

3 If a member of the committee is disqualified or 4 ineligible to act, the majority or minority leader who
5 appointed the member shall appoint a replacement member
6 to serve as a member of the committee during the period
7 of disqualification or ineligibility.

8 l. Recommendations by the committee. The committee
9 shall recommend to the house that the complaint be 10 dismissed, or that one or more of the following be 11 imposed:

12 (1) That the member or employee of the house
13 or lobbyist or client of a lobbyist be censured or 14 reprimanded, and the recommended appropriate form of 15 censure or reprimand be used.

16 (2) That the member of the house be suspended or
17 expelled from membership in the house and required
18 to forfeit the member's salary for that period, the 19 employee of the house be suspended or dismissed from 20 employment, or that the lobbyist's or lobbyist's
21 client's lobbying privileges be suspended.

22 13. COMMUNICATIONS WITH ETHICS COMMITTEE. After a
23 complaint has been filed or an investigation has been 24 initiated, a party to the complaint or investigation
25 shall not communicate, or cause another to communicate,
26 as to the merits of the complaint or investigation with 27 a member of the committee, except under the following
28 circumstances:

29 a. During the course of any meetings or other
30 official proceedings of the committee regarding the

1 complaint or investigation.
2 b. In writing, if a copy of the writing is
3 delivered to the adverse party or the designated
4 representative for the adverse party.
5 c. Orally, if adequate prior notice of the 6 communication is given to the adverse party or the 7 designated representative for the adverse party.
8 d. As otherwise authorized by statute, the house
9 code of ethics, joint rules governing lobbyists, or 10 vote of the committee.
11 14. PERMANENT RECORD. The chief clerk of the house
12 shall maintain a permanent record of all complaints
13 filed and any corresponding committee action. The 14 permanent record shall be prepared by the ethics
15 committee and shall contain the date the complaint was 16 filed, name and address of the complainant, name and 17 address of the accused person, a brief statement of the 18 charges made, any evidence received by the committee,
19 any transcripts or recordings of committee action,
20 and ultimate disposition of the complaint. Except as 21 provided in rule 12, paragraph "d", the chief clerk
22 shall keep each complaint confidential until public
23 disclosure is made by the ethics committee.
24 15. MEETING AUTHORIZATION. The house ethics
25 committee is authorized to meet at the discretion of 26 the committee chairperson in order to conduct hearings
27 and other business that properly may come before it.
28 If the committee submits a report seeking house action
29 against a member or employee of the house or lobbyist
30 after the second regular session of a general assembly

1 has adjourned sine die, the report shall be submitted
2 to and considered by the subsequent general assembly.
3 16. ADVISORY OPINIONS.
4 a. Requests for formal opinions. A request for a
5 formal advisory opinion may be filed by any person who
6 is subject to the authority of the ethics committee.
7 The ethics committee may also issue a formal advisory
8 opinion on its own motion, without having previously
9 received a formal request for an opinion, on any issue
10 that is within the jurisdiction of the committee.
11 Requests shall be filed with either the chief clerk of 12 the house or the chairperson of the ethics committee.
13 b. Form and contents of requests. A request for 14 a formal advisory opinion shall be in writing and 15 may pertain to any subject matter that is related to 16 application of the house code of ethics, the joint 17 rules governing lobbyists, or chapter 68B of the

 27 house of origin in writing signed by the secretary of 28 the senate or the chief clerk of the house.
 29 Rule 11
 30 Code Editor's Correction Bills

Page 5

1 A bill recommended by the Code editor which is
 2 passed out of committee to the floor for debate by a
 3 committee of the house or senate and which contains
 4 Code corrections of a nonsubstantive nature shall 5 not be amended on the floor of either house except
 6 pursuant to corrective or nonsubstantive amendments
 7 filed by the judiciary committee of the senate or 8 the house. Such committee amendments, whether filed
 9 at the time of initial committee passage of the bill
 10 to the floor for debate or after rereferral to the

11 committee, shall not be incorporated into the bill in 12 the originating house but shall be filed separately.
13 Amendments filed from the floor to strike sections of 14 the bill or the committee amendments shall be in order.
15 Following amendment and passage by the second house,
16 only amendments filed from the floor which strike
17 sections of the amendment of the second house shall be
18 in order.
19 A bill recommended by the Code editor which is
20 passed out of committee to the floor for debate by a
21 committee of the house or senate and which contains
22 Code corrections beyond those of a nonsubstantive
23 nature shall not be amended on the floor of either
24 house except pursuant to amendments filed by the 25 judiciary committee of the senate or the house. Such 26 committee amendments, whether filed at the time of 27 initial committee passage of the bill to the floor for 28 debate or after rereferral to the committee, shall 29 not be incorporated into the bill in the originating 30 house but shall be filed separately. Such a bill shall

1 be limited to corrections which: Adjust language to
2 reflect current practices, insert earlier omissions,
3 delete redundancies and inaccuracies, delete temporary
4 language, resolve inconsistencies and conflicts,
5 update ongoing provisions, and remove ambiguities.
6 Amendments filed from the floor to strike sections of
7 the bill or the committee amendments shall be in order.
8 Following amendment and passage by the second house,
9 only amendments filed from the floor which strike
10 sections of the amendment of the second house shall be
11 in order.
12 It is the intent of the house and the senate that 13 such bills be passed out of committee to the floor for 14 debate within the first four weeks of convening of a
15 legislative session.
16 Rule 12
17 Amendments by Other House
18 1. When a bill which originated in one house is 19 amended in the other house, the house originating 20 the bill may amend the amendment, concur in full in 21 the amendment, or refuse to concur in full in the 22 amendment. Precedence of motions shall be in that 23 order. The amendment of the other house shall not be 24 ruled out of order based on a question of germaneness.
25 a. If the house originating the bill concurs in the 26 amendment, the bill shall then be immediately placed
27 upon its final passage.
28 b. If the house originating the bill refuses to 29 concur in the amendment, the bill shall be returned to 30 the amending house which shall either:

Page 7

- 1 (1) Recede, after which the bill shall be read for 2 the last time and immediately placed upon its final
 3 passage; or
 4 (2) Insist, which will send the bill to a
 5 conference committee.
 6 c. If the house originating the bill amends the 7 amendment, that house shall concur in the amendment
 8 as amended and the bill shall be immediately placed
 9 on final passage, and shall be returned to the other
 10 house. The other house cannot further amend the bill.
 11 (1) If the amending house which gave second
 12 consideration to the bill concurs in the amendment
 13 to the amendment, the bill shall then be immediately
 14 placed upon its final passage.
 15 (2) If the amending house refuses to concur in the 16 amendment to the amendment, the bill shall be returned
 17 to the house originating the bill which shall either:
 18 (a) Recede, after which the bill shall be read for 19 the last time as amended and immediately placed upon 20 its final passage; or
 21 (b) Insist, which will send the bill to a
 22 conference committee.
 23 2. A motion to recede has precedence over a motion
 24 to insist. Failure to recede means to insist; and 25 failure to insist means to recede.
 26 3. A motion to lay on the table or to indefinitely
 27 postpone shall be out of order with respect to motions
 28 to recede from or insist upon and to amendments to 29 bills which have passed both houses.
 30 4. A motion to concur, refuse to concur, recede,

- 1 insist, or adopt a conference committee report is in
 2 order even though the subject matter has previously
 3 been acted upon.
 4 Rule 13
 5 Conference Committee
 6 1. Within one legislative day after either house
 7 insists upon an amendment to a bill, the presiding
 8 officer of the house, after consultation with the 9 majority leader, shall appoint three majority party
 10 members and, after consultation with the minority
 11 leader, shall appoint two minority party members
 12 to a conference committee. The majority leader of 13 the senate, after consultation with the president,
 14 shall appoint three majority party members and,
 15 after consultation with and approval by the minority

16 leader, shall appoint two minority party members to a
17 conference committee. The papers shall remain with the 18 house that originated the bill.

19 2. The conference committee shall meet before
20 the end of the next legislative day after their 21 appointment, shall select a chair and shall discuss the 22 controversy.

23 3. The authority of the first conference committee
24 shall cover only issues related to provisions of the 25 bill and amendments to the bill which were adopted
26 by either the senate or the house of representatives
27 and on which the senate and house of representatives
28 differed. If a conference committee report is not 29 acted upon because such action would violate this 30 subsection of this rule, the inaction on the report

1 shall constitute refusal to adopt the conference
2 committee report and shall have the same effect as if
3 the conference committee had disagreed.

4 4. An agreement on recommendations must be approved
5 by a majority of the committee members from each house.
6 The committee shall submit two originals of the report
7 signed by a majority of the committee members of each
8 house with one signed original and three copies to be 9 submitted to each house. The report shall first be 10 acted upon in the house originating the bill. Such 11 action, including all papers, shall be immediately
12 referred by the secretary of the senate or the chief
13 clerk of the house of representatives to the other
14 house.

15 5. The report of agreement is debatable, but 16 cannot be amended. If the report contains recommended
17 amendments to the bill, adoption of the report shall 18 automatically adopt all amendments contained therein.
19 After the report is adopted, there shall be no more
20 debate, and the bill shall immediately be placed upon 21 its final passage.

22 6. Refusal of either house to adopt the conference
23 committee report has the same effect as if the 24 committee had disagreed.

25 7. If the conference committee fails to reach
26 agreement, a report of such failure signed by a
27 majority of the committee members of each house shall 28 be given promptly to each house. The bill shall 29 be returned to the house that originated the bill,
30 the members of the committee shall be immediately

1 discharged, and a new conference committee appointed in
2 the same manner as the first conference committee.
3 8. The authority of a second or subsequent 4 conference committee shall cover free conference during
5 which the committee has authority to propose amendments
6 to any portion of a bill provided the amendment is 7 within the subject matter content of the bill as passed
8 by the house of origin or as amended by the second
9 house.

10 Rule 14

11 Enrollment and Authentication of Bills

12 A bill or resolution which has passed both houses
13 shall be enrolled in the house of origin under the 14 direction of either the secretary of the senate or the 15 chief clerk of the house and its house of origin shall 16 be certified by the endorsement of the secretary of the 17 senate or the chief clerk of the house.

18 After enrollment, each bill shall be signed by the 19 president of the senate and by the speaker of the 20 house.

21 Rule 15

22 Concerning Other Enrollments

23 All resolutions and other matters which are to 24 be presented to the governor for approval shall be 25 enrolled, signed, and presented in the same manner as 26 bills.

27 All resolutions and other matters which are not to 28 be presented to the governor or the secretary of state
29 shall be enrolled, signed, and retained permanently
30 by the secretary of the senate or chief clerk of the

1 house.

2 Rule 16

3 Transmission of Bills to the Governor

4 After a bill has been signed in each house, it shall 5 be presented by the house of origin to the governor by 6 either the secretary of the senate or the chief clerk
7 of the house. The secretary or the chief clerk shall 8 report the date of the presentation, which shall be 9 entered upon the journal of the house of origin.

10 Rule 17

11 Fiscal Notes

12 A fiscal note shall be attached to any bill or joint
13 resolution which reasonably could have an annual effect
14 of at least one hundred thousand dollars or a combined
15 total effect within five years after enactment of 16 five hundred thousand dollars or more on the aggregate
17 revenues, expenditures, or fiscal liability of the 18 state or its subdivisions. This rule does not apply

19 to appropriation and ways and means measures where the 20 total effect is stated in dollar amounts.
21 Each fiscal note shall state in dollars the 22 estimated effect of the bill on the revenues,
23 expenditures, and fiscal liability of the state or 24 its subdivisions during the first five years after 25 enactment. The information shall specifically note
26 the fiscal impact for the first two years following
27 enactment and the anticipated impact for the succeeding
28 three years. The fiscal note shall specify the source
29 of the information. Sources of funds for expenditures
30 under the bill shall be stated, including federal

1 funds. If an accurate estimate cannot be made, the
2 fiscal note shall state the best available estimate or 3 shall state that no dollar estimate can be made and
4 state concisely the reason.
5 The preliminary determination of whether the bill
6 appears to require a fiscal note shall be made by 7 the legal services staff of the legislative services
8 agency. Unless the requestor specifies the request is 9 to be confidential, upon completion of the bill draft,
10 the legal services staff shall immediately send a copy
11 to the fiscal services director for review.
12 When a committee reports a bill to the floor, the 13 committee shall state in the report whether a fiscal 14 note is or is not required.
15 The fiscal services director or the director's
16 designee shall review all bills placed on the senate
17 or house calendars to determine whether the bills are 18 subject to this rule.
19 Additionally, a legislator may request the 20 preparation of a fiscal note by the fiscal services
21 staff for any bill or joint resolution introduced which 22 reasonably could be subject to this rule.
23 The fiscal services director or the director's
24 designee shall cause to be prepared and shall approve
25 a fiscal note within a reasonable time after receiving 26 a request or determining that a bill is subject to 27 this rule. All fiscal notes approved by the fiscal 28 services director shall be transmitted immediately to 29 the secretary of the senate or the chief clerk of the 30 house, after notifying the sponsor of the bill that a

1 fiscal note has been prepared, for publication in the
2 daily clip sheet. The secretary of the senate or chief
3 clerk of the house shall attach the fiscal note to the

4 bill as soon as it is available.

5 The fiscal services director may request the 6 cooperation of any state department or agency in 7 preparing a fiscal note.

8 A revised fiscal note may be requested by a
9 legislator if the fiscal effect of the bill has been
10 changed by adoption of an amendment. However, a
11 request for a revised fiscal note shall not delay
12 action on a bill unless so ordered by the presiding
13 officer of the house in which the bill is under
14 consideration.

15 If a date for adjournment has been set, then a 16 constitutional majority of the house in which the 17 bill is under consideration may waive the fiscal note
18 requirement during the three days prior to the date set
19 for adjournment.

20 Rule 18

21 Legislative Interns

22 Legislators may arrange student internships during
23 the legislative session with Iowa college, university,
24 or law school students, for which the students may 25 receive college credit at the discretion of their
26 schools. Each legislator is allowed only one intern
27 at a time per legislative session, and all interns must 28 be registered with the offices of the secretary of the 29 senate and the chief clerk of the house.

30 The purpose of the legislative intern program shall

1 be: to provide useful staff services to legislators
2 not otherwise provided by the general assembly; to give
3 interested college, graduate, and law school students
4 practical experience in the legislative process as well
5 as providing a meaningful educational experience; and 6 to enrich the curriculum of participating colleges and 7 universities.

8 The secretary of the senate and the chief clerk of 9 the house or their designees shall have the following
10 responsibilities as regards the legislative intern
11 program:

12 1. Identify a supervising faculty member at each
13 participating institution who shall be responsible
14 for authorizing students to participate in the intern
15 program.

16 2. Provide legislators with a list of participating
17 institutions and the names of supervising professors to 18 contact if interested in arranging for an intern.

19 3. Provide interns with name badges which will 20 allow them access to the floor of either house when 21 required to be present by the legislators for whom they 22 work.

23 4. Provide orientation materials to interns prior 24 to the convening of each session.
25 Rule 19
26 Administrative Rules Review Committee Bills and Rule
27 Referrals
28 A bill which relates to departmental rules and 29 which is approved by the administrative rules review
30 committee by a majority of the committee's members

1 of each house is eligible for introduction in either
2 house at any time and must be referred to a standing
3 committee, which must take action on the bill within 4 three weeks of referral, except bills referred to 5 appropriations and ways and means committees.
6 If, on or after July 1, 1999, the administrative
7 rules review committee delays the effective date of a
8 rule until the adjournment of the next regular session
9 of the general assembly and the speaker of the house
10 or the president of the senate refers the rule to a
11 standing committee, the standing committee shall review
12 the rule within twenty-one days of the referral and 13 shall take formal committee action by sponsoring a
14 joint resolution to disapprove the rule, by proposing
15 legislation relating to the rule, or by refusing to 16 propose a joint resolution or legislation concerning 17 the rule. The standing committee shall inform the 18 administrative rules review committee of the committee
19 action taken concerning the rule.

20 Rule 20

21 Time of Committee Passage and Consideration of Bills

22 1. This rule does not apply to concurrent or 23 simple resolutions, joint resolutions nullifying

General Orr delivered the following Condition of the Iowa National Guard Message:

CONDITION OF THE IOWA NATIONAL GUARD MESSAGE

Good morning Ladies and gentlemen – thank you for your warm welcome.

Speaker Paulsen, President Jochum, distinguished members of the Iowa Senate and House of Representatives – thank you for the opportunity to once again address this joint convention of the Eighty-Sixth General Assembly of the Iowa Legislature.

Governor Branstad, Lieutenant Governor Reynolds, distinguished guests, and fellow Iowans.

Today, I deliver my sixth Condition of the Guard address and it is indeed a great honor and a privilege to provide this annual report on your Iowa National Guard.

Today, I am proud to report that the Iowa National Guard continues to be “Mission Focused and Warrior Ready”.

I want to begin by saying thank you – thank you to Governor Branstad, Lieutenant Governor Reynolds, and the Iowa General Assembly for your support and outstanding leadership during one of the most challenging periods of time in the history of the Iowa National Guard.

Your efforts to attend our homecomings, sendoffs, military funerals and ceremonies, and for honoring the men and women who serve in the military through initiatives and events throughout the year, are deeply appreciated.

Of particular note, your leadership efforts to make Iowa the “Most Veteran Friendly” state through the Home Base Iowa program and all of its components continues to move Iowa closer to the top of the nation for supporting our veterans and their families.

A tangible result of your commitment to service members and military families is the success of the Home Base Iowa program. The Brent Black family from Ankeny is a perfect example of what this program was designed to achieve. After growing up in Iowa and graduating from Newton High School, Brent enlisted in the U.S. Navy for six years, serving as a Sonar Technician. After finishing his enlistment contract, Brent left the Navy and eventually returned to Iowa with his spouse, Paula, and their young daughter, Sophia. Through Home Base Iowa, Brent was able to acquire civilian employment with Hy-Vee, where he’s the Supply Chain Security Manager. He also continues to serve part-time in the U.S. Air Force Reserve. Brent is just one of more than 1000 veterans who have used Home Base Iowa to achieve their dreams in Iowa, in no small measure because of the vision and commitment of Governor Branstad and the Iowa General Assembly.

Our success is directly connected to what you have done for the members and families of your Iowa National Guard. I sincerely thank you.

And I owe a very special thank you to the mothers and fathers who continue to show their support for the Iowa National Guard by continuing to entrust us with their most sacred treasure – their sons and daughters - and allowing them to serve.

I don't take this responsibility lightly. Nothing is more important or a greater testament to the vitality of our organization than for a parent to trust us with whom they cherish most.

I will continue to do everything I can to honor that trust and strive to never allow it to be broken.

And I want to thank the people of Iowa; your continued support for our Soldiers, Airmen, and families has been absolutely incredible, particularly over the past 13 years at war.

I would be remiss if I didn't take time to recognize someone who isn't with us for this year's Condition of the Guard address. Words cannot express our sorrow for the passing in November of State Representative and retired Brigadier General Dwayne Alons, a long-time member of both the Iowa General Assembly and the Iowa National Guard. A humble, quiet man whose bedrock values of excellence and service to others for the greater good extended across six decades in the state of Iowa, Dwayne left a legacy of public service that touched every Iowan, and was a champion for service members and their families. We miss him greatly.

The members of the Iowa National Guard that make up our all-volunteer force represent our State and Nation's decisive advantage to deal with any situation. And our competency depends on strong leadership.

I would like to take a moment to introduce senior leaders of your Iowa National Guard: Deputy Adjutant General Steve Altman, Iowa Army National Guard; Deputy Adjutant General Drew DeHaes, Iowa Air National Guard; Command Chief Warrant Officer Doug Wyborne, Iowa Army National Guard; and State Command Chief Master Sergeant Ed Schellhase, Iowa Air National Guard.

Iowa Army National Guard State Command Sergeant Major Rachel Fails is on assignment and unable to join us today. Please give them a warm welcome.

Those who serve in the Iowa National Guard are the source of our unrivaled strength. Whether serving in uniform or as civilians, Iowa National Guard men and women remain vested in a culture of readiness and volunteer service.

Today, there are no better opportunities for young men and women to serve their state and nation than in Iowa's service of choice, the Iowa National Guard.

We are an organization that provides individuals with the opportunities to serve, to learn new skills, to gain valuable education and training, and to better themselves and the world around them by taking a vow to rebuild the broken and defend the good.

While it is my responsibility to ensure that there are opportunities for our men and women to serve in the Iowa National Guard, I must also continue to take care of our current service members, their families and employers as they serve so proudly as your hometown military.

The past 13 years have brought vast improvements in the overall training, equipping, and readiness of our force.

This reality, combined with significant combat experience, has created a “dividend” in the Iowa National Guard.

We have the most proficient, capable, accessible, and battle-tested National Guard in the history of Iowa. Today, the Iowa Army and Air National Guard is the best trained, equipped, and led organization in our 176-year history.

Constitutionally unique by its dual federal and state missions, the Iowa National Guard remains capable and ready to rapidly respond to complex civilian and military challenges.

Going forward, the need for the powerful capabilities the National Guard provides cannot be overstated.

Today we live in a dynamic and uncertain world with challenges and threats that require the full capabilities of the Iowa National Guard and its adaptability to meet critical future missions.

Our core missions will continue to remain: providing combat-ready Soldiers and Airmen for the global war fight and operational missions as required; responding here at home with robust homeland security and domestic response capabilities; making our communities better places to live; and building strong relationships with our partners.

Throughout the long history of the Iowa National Guard, we’ve seen tremendous technological changes, from horse-drawn wagons to unmanned aircraft remotely piloted halfway around the world. But the one constant that will never change is the importance of our people.

The demand for Iowa National Guard forces over the past three decades has required almost continuous use of our Soldiers and Airmen.

In the last 13 years, we’ve mobilized more than 17,000 Soldiers and Airmen for combat and combat support duties in Iraq and Afghanistan, peacekeeping duties in the Balkans and on the Sinai Peninsula, and for other operational missions around the globe.

Approximately 3,700 currently-serving Iowa National Guard Soldiers and Airmen are combat veterans, more than 42 percent of our force, the highest percentage in modern history.

And our men and women have operated in more than 35 different nations since 9/11.

However, since the large brigade-level deployment from Iowa in 2010-2011, we’ve seen a significant decline in the demand for Iowa National Guard forces.

Currently we have approximately 150 Soldiers and Airmen deployed around the world, which is the lowest number of deployed service members from the Iowa National Guard since the start of Operations Enduring and Iraqi Freedom.

Last June, approximately 60 Soldiers assigned to Company C, 2nd of the 147th Aviation from Boone, deployed to the Middle East in support of Central Command and its operational missions throughout that theater. We expect these Soldiers to return to Iowa in late Spring 2015.

The 185th Air Refueling Wing from Sioux City continues to provide ongoing refueling support of real-world missions to the Air Force, Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and coalition forces.

In the past year, the 185th has deployed more than 220 Airmen in excess of 15,000 active duty days around the globe executing operational missions. During this deployment cycle, Airman from the 185th deployed to 10 countries in support of Central Command operations, flying 220 missions for 1,450 flight hours, while refueling coalition aircraft with more than 11 million pounds of fuel.

In addition to the unit's normal deployment operations, they received an extremely short notice mission to support additional combat operations in the Middle East, which they filled in less than a week with 100% volunteers.

Here at home, the unit also provides more than $80 million in economic impact to the Siouxland community and the state of Iowa.

Two years ago, President Obama announced his intention that the United States military would withdraw a significant number of personnel from Afghanistan by the close of 2014. Approximately 11,000 U.S. military personnel currently serve in Afghanistan, as compared to more than 100,000 at the apex of U.S. involvement in mid-2011. It is anticipated that the U.S. presence will continue to shrink in Afghanistan over the next year.

We are now at a point where current and projected demands for Army and Air Force assets around the globe may continue to decrease, depending on the needs of the nation.

That fact recently hit home in Iowa with the cancellation less than two weeks ago of the West Africa ebola deployment for the 294th Area Support Medical Company in Washington, Iowa. We currently have no Iowa National Guard units identified for potential future overseas deployments in 2015, a first for our organization since 2000.

While we are grateful that so many of our Iowa National Guard Warriors have returned home from their deployments and the demand for combat missions overseas has dramatically decreased, we must not forget about those still recovering from wounds, injuries, or illnesses related to their mobilizations.

Over the past year, 18 of our wounded, injured, or ill Warriors back from deployments have received medical care, either at military treatment facilities across the country or from health care providers in their local communities.

Today, I am proud to say we continue to make progress with only two Soldiers currently receiving treatment at these facilities. However, for me, the mission is not over until all of our Soldiers have returned back home to their families.

With the reduction of deployment requirements for our forces, new emerging missions continue to make the Iowa National Guard even more relevant today at home and abroad.

We continue to make great progress on the conversion of the 132nd Fighter Wing, Des Moines, from F-16 fighter aircraft into their three new, enduring missions: a Remotely Piloted Aircraft group; an intelligence surveillance reconnaissance group; and a cyber security squadron.

The 132nd has executed every task required of them for this conversion and is ahead of schedule to complete a very complicated transition process and begin initial operations later this year.

This past year, the unit has aggressively shifted its focus to sending Airmen to Air Force schools for training in their new assignments. Currently, 440 Airmen have completed or are attending technical schools at various installations across the U.S., gaining valuable training in imagery analysis and cyber security that will translate well into Iowa's growing technology sectors.

As the unit provided more than $70 million in economic infusion to Iowa last year through salaries, unit purchases from the local economy, and indirect job creation, retaining these highly-skilled Airmen and this unit at the Des Moines Airport significantly benefits Des Moines and the entire state of Iowa.

Additionally, current and future military construction necessary at the Des Moines Airbase for the mission conversion over the next several years is estimated at $15-20 million, which will provide additional economic benefit for local builders and suppliers.

Despite the departure of the last F-16 fighter jet this past September from the Des Moines speed line, aeronautical missions continue at the airbase.

In December, the 132nd received a RC-26 reconnaissance aircraft to be stationed at the airbase and flown by Wing personnel.

The RC-26 will provide 132nd pilots with the capability to maintain their pilot proficiency, while at the same time providing the state with an additional operational capability for use during disaster operations.

Another way we're supporting and adapting to the changing global and operational environment is through the National Guard's State Partnership Program, or SPP.

The Iowa National Guard's State Partnership Program with the Republic of Kosovo continues to make great progress since its creation in March 2011.

Since the inception of our partnership with Kosovo, we have expanded our vision of a "Whole of Iowa/Whole of Kosovo" relationship and have conducted more than 70 engagements over the past three years between Iowa government and private entities, the Kosovo Security Force, Kosovo's Ministries of Agriculture, Health, Education, and Economic Development, and other Kosovo agencies.

Another tangible sign of progress in the development of this relationship is the possibility of an enduring presence of our Kosovo friends in Iowa in the near future.

Governor Branstad and leaders with the Republic of Kosovo have discussed the feasibility of Kosovo's first consulate and trade office in Iowa, which could greatly expedite trade and other opportunities between Kosovo and Iowa.

But what anchors everything we do, whether in 1839, today, or in the future, is readiness. The Iowa National Guard has been able to maintain our position as a national leader in readiness among our fellow states because of programs like the Iowa National Guard Educational Assistance Program, a program funded in its entirety by the state of Iowa.

This year, nearly 1,200 of our men and women received up to 100% tuition paid at the State Regents' rate to attend Iowa colleges, universities, and community colleges through this program, keeping our young people here in the state and providing them with a high-quality, Iowa education.

This critical recruiting and retention tool helps ensure our readiness and provides an invaluable benefit to our Soldiers and Airmen.

In addition to high-quality Soldiers and Airmen, we also need multifunctional and well-maintained infrastructure to keep the Iowa National Guard ready for the warfight and for emergency response here at home.

On Camp Dodge, this past year we completed the transition of the National Maintenance Training Center to the Sustainment Training Center.

This one-of-a-kind, world-class training center provides individual qualification and turn-key, unit-level sustainment training for National Guard, U.S. Army Reserve and Active Duty Army logistical, ordnance, maintenance, transportation and medical units.

The Medical Simulation Training Center on Camp Dodge, one of just 18 Army medical simulation facilities worldwide, reached full operating capability in 2014 and provides standardized emergency medical training to military and law enforcement personnel through a combination of realistic, hands-on and virtual battlefield simulated conditions.

Through a variety of training initiatives, Camp Dodge has become a significant regional training center in the Midwest. More than 450,000 service members, law enforcement officers, and civilians visited Camp Dodge last year, whether for training, the Summer Concert Series or other events on post, or to visit the Iowa Gold Star Military Museum.

In 2014, only three other major National Guard training installations in the United States had more visitors than Camp Dodge.

Since 1839, protecting Iowa's citizens and communities has remained a core mission of the Iowa National Guard.

I am very pleased to report that 2014 has been a relatively quiet year for our emergency response operations.

We used this additional time to plan, prepare, and exercise for potential disaster response support on a variety of scenarios.

Last year my disaster response priority for the team was the development, synchronization, and rehearsal for a large scale, catastrophic tornado in our state.

This year, we are shifting focus to plan and execute Vigilant Guard, a multiple-level disaster exercise. This training opportunity will partner the Iowa National Guard with our State agency partners and United States Northern Command in order to more fully exercise and assess our response capabilities for multiple disaster scenarios.

In addition to Vigilant Guard, last week the Iowa National Guard hosted a cyber security workshop to begin developing a comprehensive cyber incident response system for the state.

This forum was the first of its kind in Iowa, with more than 60 participants from multiple Iowa agencies working together to improve coordination between state agencies on cyber security incident management and response, enhancing information sharing during cyber incidents, and collaborating on how to best safeguard the citizens of Iowa from cyber attacks.

The additional time we gained over the last year from quieter-than-normal combat, peacekeeping, and domestic operations has allowed our organization to re-focus on organizational readiness, which drives everything we do.

I would like to share the results of these efforts with you.

First, your Iowa National Guard is a national leader in the “quality” of the Soldiers and Airmen that we recruit.

We are in the top echelon of the National Guard for the quality of recruits into the National Guard for 2014.

More than 22% of our Basic Training, Advanced Individual Training, or technical school graduates are either honor or distinguished graduates, on the commandant’s list, or in the top 10% at their respective military schools.

These efforts have not gone unnoticed by the U.S. Department of Defense and other military organizations; Iowa units and individuals received several significant awards for 2014:

The 185th Air Refueling Wing received the Mobility Air Force Fuel Efficiency Award for KC-135 aircraft, which is awarded to only one Air Force unit annually for superior fuel efficiency.

The 185th also received the 2014 Senior Master Sergeant Kenneth W. Disney Award for the best Food Service facility in the Air National Guard; -Major David Messerli was selected as the best Special Branch Officer recruiter in the Army National Guard, first out of all 54 states and territories; and -Captain Kathy Barton was selected as a General Douglas MacArthur Leadership Award recipient, one of just 28 company grade officers chosen across the entire U.S. Army.

We are humbled by these prestigious national awards presented for excellence across the organization.

Conversely, we have been so fortunate to recently recognize others for their honorable and selfless service to our nation.

At the Iowa Gold Star Military Museum on Camp Dodge, 10 living Iowa veterans were honored in December for their courageous service during the Battle of the Bulge. On the 70th anniversary of the most significant U.S. action in Europe during WWII, these exceptional Iowans were recognized and presented with certificates and commander's coins for their selfless and honorable service during that horrific battle. For some of the honorees, it was the first time they had ever talked in any detail about their experience and hardships, providing a measure of healing long overdue. Those in the audience learned first-hand about the true price of the freedoms we take for granted.

What a great tribute to these tremendous veterans and their families.

As I come to a close, I hope I have left you confident that the Iowa National Guard is in good hands and is moving in the spirit of one.

We have executed every mission assigned, served our state and communities here at home, and deployed wherever needed in a moment's notice.

I am very proud of our Soldiers, Airmen, their families, our rich heritage, and our resolve as we continue our role in the preservation of the ideals upon which our nation and state were founded.

The Iowa National Guard is postured to rise to new challenges, but we will remain focused on the fundamental mission of the Iowa National Guard: Defending America—at home and abroad.

We will continue to provide affordable, flexible, tailored and community-based solutions to national defense and domestic response, and remain a critical reserve component for the Army and the Air Force.

On behalf of our men and women and their families, I want to thank you for this opportunity today to provide an update and assessment of the Iowa National Guard.

Thank you, Ladies and Gentlemen.

PETITION FILED

The following petition was received and placed on file:

Received from the North Fayette Valley School Board: “Pursuant to House Files 80 and 81 and the Governor’s recommendation, the House proposed a supplemental state aid (hereinafter SSA) rate at 1.25%; and, Whereas, the request to set SSA at 6% was made upon determination by the North Fayette Valley School Board that the proposal of 1.25% in supplemental state aid growth in HF 80 and HF 81 has a significant negative educational impact upon our students. Whereas, the Board believes that a 6 percent supplemental state aid rate would begin to put Iowa on track with the national average in per pupil funding.”

14 if authorized, by the employee when not on the payroll.
15 A "session-only" employee is one who is employed for 16 only a portion of the year, usually the legislative

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS Regular Calendar

House Joint Resolution 8, a joint resolution requesting the proposal of an amendment to the Constitution of the United States imposing fiscal restraints upon and limiting the power and jurisdiction of the federal government.

WHEREAS, the founders of the Constitution of the United States empowered state legislators to be guardians of liberty against future abuses of power by the federal government; and

WHEREAS, the federal government has created a crushing national debt through improper and imprudent spending; and

WHEREAS, the federal government has invaded the legitimate roles of the states through the manipulative process of federal mandates, most of which are unfunded to a great extent; and

WHEREAS, the federal government has ceased to live under a proper interpretation of the Constitution of the United States; and

WHEREAS, it is the solemn duty of the states to protect the liberty of our people, particularly for the generations to come, by proposing amendments to the Constitution of the United States through a convention of the states under Article V of the Constitution for the purpose of restraining these and related abuses of power; NOW THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF IOWA:

That the Congress of the United States is hereby petitioned to propose an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, for submission to the states for ratification, to impose fiscal restraints on the federal government and limit the federal government's power and jurisdiction; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That, alternatively, pursuant to Article V of the Constitution of the United States, the General Assembly, as the Legislature of the State of Iowa, makes application to the Congress of the United States to call a convention for the specific and exclusive purpose of proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, for submission to the states for ratification, to impose fiscal restraints on the federal government and limit the federal government's power and jurisdiction; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That if, within sixty days after the legislatures of two-thirds of the states make application for such convention, Congress proposes and submits to the states for ratification an amendment to the Constitution of the United States which imposes fiscal restraints on the federal government and limits the federal government's power and jurisdiction, then this application for a convention shall no longer be of any force and effect; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That this application constitutes a continuing application in accordance with Article V of the Constitution of the United States until the legislatures of at least two-thirds of the several states have made applications for a similar convention under Article V, or the Congress has proposed the amendments called for by this Joint Resolution, or the General Assembly acts to withdraw this application; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Secretary of State shall transmit certified copies of this Joint Resolution to the President and Secretary of the United States Senate, the Speaker and Clerk of the United States House of Representatives, the presiding officer in each house of the legislature in each of the states in the union, and to the members of Iowa's congressional delegation requesting their cooperation.

EXPLANATION

The inclusion of this explanation does not constitute agreement with the explanation's substance by the members of the general assembly.

This joint resolution constitutes a petition requesting the United States Congress to amend the United States Constitution, for submission to the states for ratification, to impose fiscal restraints on the federal government and limit the federal government's power and jurisdiction.

Alternatively, the joint resolution provides that pursuant to Article V of the United States Constitution, the Iowa General Assembly applies to the United States Congress to call a convention for the specific and exclusive purpose of proposing an amendment to the United States Constitution, for submission to the states for ratification, to impose fiscal restraints on the federal government and limit the federal government's power and jurisdiction.

Additionally, the joint resolution provides that if within 60 days after the legislatures of two-thirds of the states make application for such convention, Congress proposes and submits to the states for ratification an amendment to the Constitution of the United States which imposes fiscal restraints on the federal government and limits the federal government's power and jurisdiction, then the application for a convention shall no longer be of any force and effect.

Further, the joint resolution provides that it shall serve as a continuing application to call a constitutional convention until at least two-thirds of the legislatures of the several states have made application for a similar convention, or the Congress has proposed the amendments called for by the joint resolution, or the General Assembly withdraws the application.

Finally, the joint resolution requires the Secretary of State to transmit certified copies of the resolution to the President and Secretary of the United States Senate, the Speaker and Clerk of the United States House of Representatives, the presiding officer in each house of the legislature in each of the states in the union, and the members of Iowa's congressional delegation, with report of committee recommending passage, was taken up for consideration.

PIONEER LAWMAKERS ADDRESS

Well, it certainly is a different perspective from this podium when one doesn't have to worry about getting the correct county name and person's name for the Gentleman or Lady that is trying to gain the presiding officer's attention. Thank heavens for the bright young minds of the pages, who sit here, to keep things moving in the House chambers.

Thanks too for the current lawmakers, staff, media reps and those in the gallery who allow time for the biannual Pioneer Lawmakers festivities. While it does not just seem like yesterday that this year's inductees were fresh faces here, it certainly doesn't feel as though it's been 20 years either. We all could fill in the blank to this statement, "Why it was only yesterday that..."

For the legislators being recognized as new Pioneer Lawmakers, thank you for your dedication and willingness to put your name on a ballot two decades ago. We can talk a bit about what motivated us to take a risk and run for the Legislature, as well as reminisce about that first session.

For the media, lobby and staff who are new honorary Pioneer Lawmakers, you obviously found this place interesting and somewhat entertaining over the years or you certainly would have moved on to greener pastures. We can think about your roles in making this a special place.

So, for the legislators in the crowd, why on earth would we put our name on a ballot? OK, taking away the fact that there might be a bit of ego attached to that, what really caused us to run for office? Was it the attraction of knocking on thousands of doors, meeting voters and potential supporters, asking folks for money for our campaigns, the lure of potentially making significant policy decisions?

Or, was it the fact that as freshmen legislators we would get the great opportunity to floor manage enticing bills such as the Code Editor's update, or the annual federal funds bill? I still recall the look of sheer terror in Marty Lee's eyes when he was told that I would be running his major REALTORS bill. Oh, such little confidence in the freshmen.

From what I can recall of our first year in the Legislature, there were long caucuses for both parties, but particularly for the Democrats. As Republican freshmen, we didn't always have a lot to do to fill our time, so veteran legislator, the late Phil Tyrrell, organized an ad hoc tour of the attic one afternoon where we went looking for bats. For those of you on that escapade, you probably recall we didn't find any of those winged creatures, but we saw lots of old items tucked away upstairs, saw the charred walls from the fire in the Capitol way back when, and desecrated public property by signing our names on an attic wall. Obviously it didn't take much to entertain us novice lawmakers. We snuck outside to the platform around the Cupola as well, but that's another story for another time.

On a more serious note, that 1995 session was filled with some drama. Even before taking office we had a heavy decision to make due to a highly-contested race for Speaker. We had a thought-provoking debate on reinstating the death penalty. The expansion of the ICN was a big issue. And, we lost a legislator who was part of our new member class, Rep. Jerry Cornelius who passed away in December of 1995, not quite a year into his term. Regrettably, we have lost several others since.

But, all you youngsters out in the audience don't want to hear a bunch of tales about years gone by. You're into the now and future, and we get that. What I think we can all agree upon is that there's a special calling to public service, but why do all of us answer that call?

For the media, why do you sit through the long, laborious hours of debate, the inside baseball that legislators take such glee in pitching, and that means so little to folks not under the Golden Dome? While I would never speak for folks who buy ink by the barrel, or bandwidth in giganormous bits per second, I can hazard a guess. It's because you too are genuinely interested in the policy, politics and focus of this place. You're willing to miss family meals, be sleep deprived and sit on that bench for all to see because you are committed to upholding the First Amendment, to keeping us mindful of your presence as you look to encourage transparency and openness. While there have been times, in reading the coverage the next day that I truly wondered if we had been in the same meeting or heard the same debate, you have fulfilled your roles well and it's been a type of public service for you.

For the lobby, the Third House. What keeps you coming back? It certainly isn't the luxurious accommodations in the Rotunda or the library's cubbyholes. Yes, it's a pay check, but you too miss family time, run on little sleep, and learn that counting votes isn't all it's cracked up to be. For you, sometimes the victory is in what did not get passed by the end of the session, a type of public service that can be laudable. But it's a calling for you as well, to focus on policy and politics.

I'm going to group staff and legislators together because at the end of the day, everyone in those roles made a decision to work for government, and that means working for the people of Iowa. Twenty years ago, the partisanship wasn't as rancorous as it is today, and we actually talked and worked across the aisle more often. Not all of the time mind you, but with some exceptions, we tended to do more agreeing to disagree than to figure out a way to make things so acrimonious.

So then, why, after all these years, do we keep coming back to this place, or to continue work as a public servant? Because we care, we want to do the right thing, and quite frankly there's a rush in those moments when plans go right, and we accomplish a goal. That fits for all of us in the room today, legislators, staff, lobbyists, and the media.

Even still, we have special tools or coping skills to get us through the more challenging days. Some things never change...candy and treats on desks around here help conquer a bit of the long days, and add to the freshmen 10. I still have my magic wand, a mainstay on my desk as Majority Whip and useful when that money tree stops producing, or when someone had "just one more request."

Above all, knowing that in the history of the state, truly only a handful of people have been able to experience all we have, and that it is a special privilege to work under the Golden Dome, is the best tool we have to use on those seemingly long, under-productive days.

Thanks for indulging this year's Pioneer Lawmaker class to flood the place with memories, stories and "back in the day" comments. A tip of the hat to everyone here who keeps the place running and the traditions alive. It's definitely the people who make serving the public such a rewarding experience for us all.

RESPONSORIAL READING

Please respond by reading the verses in italics

[Leader] In the rising of the sun and in its going down, we remember them.

In the blowing of the wind and in the chill of winter, we remember them.

[L] In the opening of the buds and in the rebirth of spring, we remember them.

In the blueness of the sky and in the warmth of summer, we remember them.

[L] In the rustling of the leaves and in the beauty of autumn, we remember them.

In the beginning of the year and when it ends, we remember them.

[L] When we are weary and in need of strength, we remember them.

When we are lost and sick at heart, we remember them.

[L] When we have joys we yearn to share, we remember them.

[ALL] So long as we live, they too shall live, for they are now a part of us, as we remember them.

REMARKS BY MINORITY LEADER SMITH

(See pages 1184-1185)

REMARKS BY MAJORITY LEADER UPMEYER

Upmeyer of Cerro Gordo offered the following remarks:

Thank you Mr. Speaker,

We started this session with a difficult budget situation on our hands. Our growing obligations exceeded the amount of revenue coming in.

To some, this was yet another opportunity to return to the days of spending more than the state takes in. It is far too easy to build the ending balance into the ongoing expenses.

Well... easy until it isn't. Easy until revenue drops and there isn't anywhere to go but to cuts and broken promises.

The state has been down that path many times before. Instead, this chamber chose a wiser path. As we have for the previous four sessions, we have aligned ongoing expenses with ongoing revenue.

Not spending more than you take-in is something that has always made sense to Iowans. They should be glad to know their legislators are doing that too. Who knows, maybe someday the federal government might even pick up on the idea!

That might seem like a dream, but what isn't a dream in the state of Iowa is the fact that Republicans and Democrats can come together and find common ground. You might read about our differences in the paper, but if you take the time to watch the actions in this building you will see something different.

You will see bipartisan work, bipartisan friendship, and in the end, bipartisan results.

It is that kind of bipartisan work that is going to be needed to address one of our biggest budget challenges, the unsustainable growth of Medicaid. In my opening speech I highlighted that over the last ten years the general fund has grown at an annual rate of 4.1 percent while Medicaid has grown at 11.7 percent. This year isn't any better. We are spending $151 million additional dollars on Medicaid with this year's budgets.

Medicaid is on a collision course with other priorities like education, workforce training, and a competitive tax climate.

Thankfully, this year we have taken steps to begin changing course. The Medicaid asset verification system will help ensure benefits are going to those intended. The new managed care system will help us deliver services more efficiently.

However, more reforms are needed. We can do a better job of reviewing eligibility of applicants to reduce fraud. We should review and revise our waivers to focus our efforts. Most importantly, we must push for meaningful reforms and flexibility from our federal government.

Ladies and gentlemen of the House, thank you for your hard work this session.

Thank you, Minority Leader Smith, the House Democrat caucus and your staff for coming to the table to work towards solutions.

Thank you Governor Branstad, Lieutenant Governor Reynolds and your team for your enthusiastic efforts to elevate our state.

To the hardworking custodial and facilities staff, thank you for your preservation of this beautiful building.

If you are like me, you are happy to be concluding this session. Thank you to the Chief Clerk's office and LSA for making that possible.

Brad, Jeff, Lew, Jason, Amanda, Carrie, Colin, Kristi, Brittany, Dane, Terri, Louis, Josie, Tony and Angie, you are hands down the best around. Thank you!

To my caucus, we stand together and we can see the results. Thank you for the opportunity to serve with you as we work for a better and more prosperous Iowa.

To the leadership team: Chris, Matt, Jarad, Joel, Lee, and Walt, thank you for your support and counsel.

Mr. Speaker, thank you for your steadfast leadership and commitment to the honor of this chamber.

The House stood at ease at 3:09 p.m., until the fall of the gavel.

The House resumed session at 3:23 p.m., Speaker Paulsen in the chair.

IMMEDIATE MESSAGE

Upmeyer of Cerro Gordo asked and received unanimous consent that Senate File 485 be immediately messaged to the Senate.

REMARKS BY SPEAKER PAULSEN

Speaker Paulsen offered the following remarks:

I know this took a little bit longer than all of us wanted, but we should be proud that rather than rushing to an end, we did quality work on behalf of Iowans.

I'd like to start by quickly thanking you, the members of the eighty-sixth general assembly for your hard work and willingness to come together to do what's best for Iowans. It is truly an honor to serve as your speaker.

Thanks to my page Aaron, you've been a tremendous help in our office this year.

To the House Republicans – you have shown willingness to do what is right and responsible for Iowa taxpayers, even in the face of great pressure to expand government just to hurry the process. It's an honor to be a part of your caucus.

To my wife, Cathy, and our children, thank you for your constant support and understanding.

I want to thank our great leadership team that I am honored to work with – Reps. Fry, Hagenow, Hein, Klein, Rogers, and - I appreciate your leadership and dedication to the Republican caucus. To Speaker Pro Tem Matt Windschitl, your work on behalf of this chamber is significant.

To the Majority Leader, Linda Upmeyer, thank you for your unwavering commitment to our caucus and Iowans. I value your friendship and appreciate your tireless work.

To Leader Smith and the minority party, thank you for your efforts this year.

To our leadership staff: Louis, Terri, Josie, Angie, and Tony. And, in my opinion, the best caucus staff in the building – the House Republican Caucus staff: Jeff, Lew, Brad, Jason, Kristi, Carrie, Colin, Amanda, Dane and Brittany – you are not thanked enough for the work that you do and the service you provide. We are very appreciative.

Chief Clerk Boal, thank you to you and your staff, the work you all do to make this chamber operate efficiently. And LSA for all of your hard work, much of what you do is not seen but it does not go unnoticed.

And finally, thanks to Governor Terry Branstad and Lieutenant Governor Kim Reynolds and their team for their willingness to once again work together to move Iowa forward.

For the fifth year in a row, the Iowa Legislature has made a serious commitment to Iowans to not spend more than the state takes in. This is an incredibly significant accomplishment.

Why do House Republicans fight so hard to maintain our budget principles? Because Iowans work so hard to earn that money and we have a responsibility to protect the taxpayers and families who go to work, play by the rules and pay their taxes. Those Iowans expect to be treated with respect. That is why House Republicans will stand up and protect their money every day. Every dollar the Legislature spends that it doesn't have puts the financial security of those taxpayers and families in jeopardy. Responsible budgeting ensures Iowa's most vulnerable citizens have resources they can depend on next year and the year after. Keeping spending aligned with revenues will be our first priority of the 2016 session.

We are nearing a tipping point in the budget process where Medicaid is consuming resources that in the past have gone to education. The work we did this year on the cost containment measures will be vital to the ongoing stability of our state's resources. But the challenge does not end there.

We must continue to find other ways to effectively manage state dollars. We'll be back next year to continue our work on giving school districts more flexibility and also on making the case that reform to Iowa's collective bargaining laws protects Iowans' money and helps critical dollars actually reach our kids.

This session we took a bold stand with Iowa landowners to fiercely protect their property.

And lastly, we added some of the most substantial pro-life language to Iowa law in over a decade.

Regrettably, this General Assembly could not come together to advance second amendment rights for Iowans and our law enforcement community. It is something we will continue to push for next session.

This is no small checklist. We took Iowans' priorities and turned them into realities by working together and finding common ground. We gave them results, and we'll be back next year to fight for them again.

FINAL ADJOURNMENT

By virtue of House Concurrent Resolution 9, duly adopted, the day of June 5, 2015 having arrived, the Speaker of the House of Representatives declared the 2015 Regular Session of the Eighty-sixth General Assembly adjourned sine die at 3:38 p.m.

MINORITY LEADER SMITH REMARKS

Minority Leader Smith's remarks were given on page 1175:

Today, we end the 2015 session of the Iowa General Assembly and return to our homes and to our communities.

Last January, I quoted Willa Cather in my opening remarks when she said, "Some things are learned in the calm and some things are learned in the storm." This session has, as I predicted, had both learning experiences.

The main question on everyone's mind at the end of every session is always: "what will this session be known for?"

The answer is simple: shortchanging our kids in the school funding crisis that carried on for 477 days.

For weeks, then months, the Republican majority in this chamber refused to resolve the school funding crisis.

Despite pleas from teachers, parents, administrators and even students, Republicans in the House stopped listening and refused to compromise time and time again on school funding.

You think the crisis has been resolved today, but the damage has already been done and it still isn't over.

You frustrated superintendents trying to plan for the future and angered school board members who had their hands tied while you refused to compromise for over a year.

You've managed to demoralize a whole generation of educators now asking themselves, "Why did I do this?"

I fear you've also convinced the best and brightest young Iowans to avoid the education profession all together.

Given the gridlock and record low school funding despite our strong economy, Iowa educators no longer believe that this body values their work in public education.

It will take years to rebuild trust with our educators on the front lines every day.

I sincerely hope that Republicans in this chamber have learned something in the education “storm” that has hung over the capitol every day this session because it carries on next year.

When we meet again on January 11, 2016, you will already be 333 days late on school funding for the following year. We should immediately work to rebuild trust with our educators by passing a 4% increase in supplemental state aid for our schools.

When we began this session, Democrats promised to work together to strengthen Iowa’s working families and re-vitalize rural Iowa.

To that end, we made some modest progress.

We helped re-vitalize rural Iowa by expanding broadband to un-served areas and encouraged new development in rural communities. We also passed a bill to add more value to the crops of Iowa farmers and create renewable energy jobs.

More of Iowa’s working families will benefit from child care assistance and Iowa seniors in nursing homes will benefit from additional advocates to ensure they receive the best care possible. We also worked together to protect victim of domestic abuse and expanding training to stop human trafficking.

However, House Republicans also turned back several ideas offered by Democrats to help working families:

- House Republicans denied 216,000 hardworking Iowans a raise by not raising the minimum wage
- House Republicans withheld life changing medicine to sick Iowans by refusing to even debate medical cannabis
- House Republicans didn’t protect workers from wage theft or develop a paid sick leave plan for workers
- House Republicans refused to pass a bi-partisan anti-bullying bill offered by their own Republican Governor

In comparison to previous legislative sessions, this one does not measure up.

We will leave here today. Leave behind this beautiful chamber, our time honored desks, and we will leave an empty room for the next several months. I like the Jewish tradition of when to members of that faith meet, they say to each other: “Same time next year, in Jerusalem.” Meaning their hope that the Jewish people will return and be together.

As we leave here today, I say, “Same time next year, in Iowa.”

GOVERNOR'S VETO MESSAGE

HOUSE FILE 652

July 2, 2015

The Honorable Paul D. Pate
Secretary of State of Iowa
State Capitol
Des Moines, Iowa 50319

Dear Mr. Secretary:

I hereby transmit House File 652, an Act relating to underground storage tanks, including by establishing an underground storage tank cost share grant program and fund and making an appropriation.

House File 652 is hereby disapproved on this date.

I am unable to approve House File 652 for the following reasons:

The Iowa legislature created the Underground Storage Tank (UST) Fund in 1989. The UST Fund currently receives $14 million annually from the Statutory Allocation Fund (SAF). I support ending the one cent Environmental Projection Charge consumers pay at the fuel pump which sunsets on June 30, 2016. The Road Use Tax fund will incur a $17 million annual reduction until the SAF is amended. Now that the UST Fund has been operating for over twenty-six years, the State of Iowa and the UST Fund Board should complete action on remaining liabilities in the UST Fund. I look forward to working with the legislature next year to increase investment in renewable fuels infrastructure.

For the above reasons, I respectfully disapprove House File 652, in its entirety, in accordance with Article III, Section 16, of the Constitution of the State of Iowa.

Sincerely,

TERRY E. BRANSTAD
Governor

GOVERNOR'S ITEM VETO MESSAGES

HOUSE FILE 650

July 2, 2015

The Honorable Paul D. Pate
Secretary of State of Iowa
State Capitol
Des Moines, Iowa 50319

Dear Mr. Secretary:

I hereby transmit House File 650, an Act relating to and making appropriations to state departments and agencies from the Rebuild Iowa Infrastructure Fund and the Revenue Bonds Capitals II Fund, providing for related matters, and including effective date and retroactive applicability provisions.

House File 650 is approved on this date with the following exceptions, which I hereby disapprove.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Section 3, numbered paragraph 5, lettered paragraph b, in its entirety. This item funds the acquisition of software relating to the licensure and regulation of the practice of polysomnography. The Board of Respiratory Care and Polysomnography receives its revenues from licensing fees; therefore, an appropriation from this fund is inappropriate.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Section 3, numbered paragraph 5, lettered paragraph c, in its entirety. This item funds operational expenses for the Congenital and Inherited Disorders Registry. Iowa Code section 8.57 establishes the Rebuild Iowa Infrastructure Fund (RIIF). Iowa Code states this fund is to support "public vertical infrastructure projects," and expressly excludes the use of funds to offset "operational expenses." Funding ongoing operational costs from this fund is inappropriate.

For the above reasons, I respectfully disapprove the designated items in accordance with Amendment IV of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items in House File 650 are hereby approved as of this date.

Sincerely,

TERRY E. BRANSTAD
Governor

HOUSE FILE 651

July 2, 2015

The Honorable Paul D. Pate
Secretary of State of Iowa
State Capitol
Des Moines, Iowa 50319

Dear Mr. Secretary:

I hereby transmit House File 651, an Act relating to expenditures of moneys from the E911 Emergency Communications Fund, other duties of the department of homeland security and emergency management, and other properly related matters, making an appropriation, and including effective date and retroactive applicability provisions.

House File 651 is approved on this date with the following exceptions, which I hereby disapprove.

My administration and the Iowa legislature worked in a bipartisan manner this session to provide the first $4 million payment to build a statewide interoperable public safety communications system. This statewide system will allow all public safety officers across the state to operate in an efficient and effective manner, providing services to best protect the citizens of our state. This system is critically needed in Iowa, and it is needed now. Many other states, including all neighboring states, have a statewide system and the funds provided in this legislation are a step in the right direction. The funding provided by the legislature is necessary to show the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) the progress Iowa is making in terms of developing a statewide operable and interoperable network in order to maintain the 700 MHz spectrum license.

The Department of Administrative Services (DAS) issued a request for proposal (RFP) to build the statewide system and awarded the bid in 2014 to the lowest bidder. Officials from state, city and county government agencies have expressed support for the statewide interoperable system. This system will provide both short and long-term costs savings for all levels of government.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Section 1, subsection 1, in its entirety. This policy statement describes the department's process for selection of a provider. In order to ensure that fairness as well as a deep level of expertise were applied to this request and the evaluation of the responses, DAS contracted with an independent contractor that has experience at both the federal and state level in communications engineering. DAS awarded the RFP in 2014; therefore, this language is unnecessary. Further, the definition of provider in this item is incorrect and an error. Finally, this item contains incorrect terminology. It references the "actual annual lease costs associated with the operation of a statewide land mobile radio communications system that interfaces with the Iowa interoperability radio platform." There is no "platform" that is separate from the system, and thus the item would only create confusion and could frustrate the completion of the statewide system.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Section 1, subsection 2, in its entirety. Prior to the issuance of the RFP, DAS, in consultation with a subject matter expert, developed an RFP for the delivery of a statewide interoperability platform. The market-based responses received from the private sector confirmed the most efficient and effective method of delivery of the platform in compliance with the FCC mandates and Iowa Code. This information is available to both the public and the legislature. The language in this item is redundant of the statewide procurement process that has already occurred. If the procurement process is repeated, any delay would jeopardize the state's 700 MHz spectrum license. Therefore, this language is unnecessary.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Section 2, in its entirety. This item would modify the current E911 pass-through rates from a sustainable 46% to 58%, a rate that could put the solvency of the fund in jeopardy. I believe some increase may be appropriate in the future; however, the increase proposed in this bill is premature. The Department of Homeland Security and Emergency Management is conducting a legislatively-required study on this very topic, and any increase in the rate should only increase upon the completion of the study. Additionally, the rate that is set should be sustainable. Also, I strongly support the consolidation of redundant government services; however, there is no evidence that this proposed incentive would work, and I look forward to working with the legislature in developing a model that would find efficiencies.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Section 4, in its entirety. This item is unnecessary due to my veto in Section 2. My disapproval of this section allows Public Safety Answering Points (PSAPs) to continue to receive their current rate of pass-through funding from this fund.

I am unable to approve the designated portions of the item designated as Section 5, lettered paragraph f. These portions are unnecessary due to my veto in Section 2.

For the above reasons, I respectfully disapprove the designated items in accordance with Amendment IV of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items in House File 651 are hereby approved as of this date.

Sincerely,

TERRY E. BRANSTAD
Governor

HOUSE FILE 666

July 2, 2015

The Honorable Paul D. Pate
Secretary of State of Iowa
State Capitol
Des Moines, Iowa 50319

Dear Mr. Secretary:

I hereby transmit House File 666, an Act relating to state and local finances by making transfers and appropriations, providing for properly related matters, and including effective date and retroactive applicability provisions.

House File 666 is approved on this date with the following exceptions, which I hereby disapprove.

When I took office in 2011, I proposed a two year budget with a five year projection. My budgets have been fiscally sound, predictable and sustainable for the long term. The budgets I proposed are budgets that hard-working Iowa taxpayers can depend on. Long-term budgeting is not easy and requires very difficult decisions to align projected spending with revenue.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Section 1, in its entirety. This item transfers $10 million from the General Fund to the State Bond Repayment Fund for fiscal year 2015. If the legislature wishes to make this payment, it should be accounted for in the current fiscal year.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Section 3, in its entirety. This item appropriates $2.3 million for grants to substance abuse providers for the implementation of electronic health records. I strongly support the modernization of Iowa's health care delivery system through the Iowa Health Information Network. I recently signed legislation enabling the Iowa Health Information Network to become a private not-for-profit model ensuring its long term business and financial sustainability. However, I cannot support using taxpayer dollars to fund the implementation of a portion of provider participants in a self-sustaining private health records system.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Section 6, in its entirety. This item provides $310,000 for transition costs for the new Ft. Madison prison. The Department of Corrections is able to fund the transition to the new prison out of its current budget; therefore, this item is unnecessary.

I am unable to approve the items designated as Sections 7 through 10, in their entirety. These items appropriate one-time funding for Iowa Community Colleges and Regent Institutions. Funding ongoing expenses with one-time money is unsustainable. I recommended a 1.75% increase for the Regent Institutions and Community Colleges that would have made funding available on an ongoing basis and would have ensured no tuition increases for the full year. The Regents have assured me that even without this one-time money, there will be no tuition increase for the upcoming semester.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Section 11, in its entirety. I recommended a two-year budget on the second day of this legislative session including an increase in supplemental state aid for both years. Throughout the session, I encouraged the legislature to provide supplemental state aid for pre-kindergarten through 12th grade for the next two years as required by law. By using one-time money and not providing supplemental state aid for the second fiscal year, the legislature compounded the uncertainty that school districts faced this entire legislative session.

My administration's commitment to giving Iowa students a world-class education is demonstrated by significant, targeted growth in funding for initiatives to raise achievement. Iowa's new Teacher Leadership System is the single largest reform measure, with an investment of more than $150 million when fully phased in during the 2016-2017 school year. With many of our best teachers serving in leadership roles, such as instructional coaches and mentors, Iowa can better support the more demanding work teachers must do today to prepare all students for a knowledge-driven economy.

Other targeted education reform measures my administration proposed for the next fiscal year at a cost of more than $18 million include: an initiative to ensure children are able to read by the end of third grade, ongoing expansion of Iowa Learning Online program to offer more course options to high school students, and the Teach Iowa Scholars Program which provides up to $20,000 to top graduates of Iowa teacher preparation programs who teach hard-to-fill subjects in Iowa schools for five years.

With any budget, it is important to look at the entire picture. For fiscal year 2016, Iowa schools will receive over $3 billion, by far the biggest item in the state budget.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Section 12, in its entirety. This item provides $1.81 million for Clarinda State Mental Health Institute. I signed Senate File 505 today, a bill that closes Clarinda State Mental Health Institute on December 15, 2015. The Department of Human Services does not recommend a six month extension at this time. Because the Iowa legislature closes Clarinda Mental Health Institute in December 2015, this funding is unnecessary.

In order to continue growing good paying jobs, we need to make tough choices that ensure a balanced budget today and for the long term. I approve funding for Medicaid, public safety radios, Mental Health and Disability Services Regional Funding, and Commercial and Industrial Property Tax Replacement. This bill provides the $43 million to cover the shortfall in Medicaid expenses for fiscal year 2015. Additionally, this bill provides $2.5 million in funding for the Department of Public Safety to purchase radios in order to comply with the Federal Communication Commission's (FCC) narrow-banding mandate. These radios are necessary in order to comply with federal law. This bill also provides $1.04 million for Mental Health and Disability Services Regional Funding. Through the bipartisan Mental Health Redesign signed into law in 2012, Iowans are accessing care locally through mental health regions. The mental health regions are investing substantial resources into increased access to home and community based substance abuse and mental health services. These funds provide the resources to not only serve more Iowans but to better serve Iowans through mental health regions. Finally, this bill provides $9.5 million for Commercial and Industrial Property Tax Replacement. In 2013, the legislature and I made multi-year commitments with the $4.4 billion property tax cut. This was a historic commitment made to the people of Iowa and a commitment we must keep to Iowa taxpayers and local governments.

As the Chief Executive of this state, it is my responsibility to have a long term vision that maintains stability and predictability in our state's budget. I made the decisions today in order to prevent across the board cuts that occurred under the previous administration. Maintaining the fiscal health of Iowa over the long term is my top budgeting priority.

For the above reasons, I respectfully disapprove the designated items in accordance with Amendment IV of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items in House File 666 are hereby approved as of this date.

Sincerely,

TERRY E. BRANSTAD

SENATE FILE 497

The Honorable Paul D. Pate
Secretary of State of Iowa
State Capitol
Des Moines, Iowa 50319

Dear Mr. Secretary:

I hereby transmit Senate File 497, an Act relating to appropriations to the justice system, and including effective date and retroactive applicability provisions.

Senate File 497 is approved on this date with the following exceptions, which I hereby disapprove.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Section 4, subsection 1, lettered paragraph c, in its entirety. This item contains policy language pertaining to the Department of Corrections entering into a new contract in excess of $100,000 for privatized services during fiscal year 2016 without prior notification of the legislature and employee organizations. However, this item allows the department to renew existing contracts without notification. This item would prevent the department from obtaining services for inmates in an effective and efficient manner. This notification unnecessarily impedes the department's management authority.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Section 4, subsection 1, lettered paragraph d, in its entirety. This item contains policy language regarding staffing levels at the Department of Corrections. While I support efforts to ensure adequate numbers of correctional officers, I believe that flexibility is needed to determine how many officers are hired based on costs, availability of funding and the needs of each institution. Adequate staffing is the prerogative of the Executive Branch; therefore, this language is unnecessary.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Section 26, subsection 1, lettered paragraph c, in its entirety. This item contains policy language pertaining to the Department of Corrections entering into a new contract in excess of $100,000 for privatized services during fiscal year 2017 without prior notification of the legislature and employee organizations. However, this item allows the department to renew existing contracts without notification. This item would prevent the department from obtaining services for inmates in an effective and efficient manner. This notification unnecessarily impedes the department's management authority.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Section 26, subsection 1, lettered paragraph d, in its entirety. This item contains policy language regarding staffing levels at the Department of Corrections. While I support efforts to ensure adequate numbers of correctional officers, I believe that flexibility is needed to determine how many officers are hired based on costs, availability of funding and the needs of each institution. Adequate staffing is the prerogative of the Executive Branch; therefore, this language is unnecessary.

For the above reasons, I respectfully disapprove the designated items in accordance with Amendment IV of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items in Senate File 497 are hereby approved as of this date.

The Honorable Paul Pate
Secretary of State of Iowa

LOCAL

Dear Mr. Secretary:

I hereby transmit Senate File 499, an Act relating to appropriations to the department of cultural affairs, the economic development authority, the Iowa finance authority, the public employment relations board, the department of workforce development, and the state board of regents and certain regents institutions, modifying programs and duties of the economic development authority, providing for other properly related matters, and including effective date and retroactive and other applicability provisions.

Senate File 499 is approved on this date with the following exceptions, which I hereby disapprove.

I am unable to approve the item designated Division IV in its entirety. This item is related to state employee classifications. Under current Iowa Code, administrators are classified as at-will employees. The at-will designation allows for greater accountability for these managers. Subjecting administrators to the merit system would decrease accountability to taxpayers and hinder the effective management of important government functions.

For the above reasons, I respectfully disapprove the designated items in accordance with Amendment IV of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items in Senate File 499 are hereby approved as of this date.

SENATE FILE 505

The Honorable Paul Pate
Secretary of State of Iowa
State Capitol
LOCAL

Dear Mr. Secretary:

I hereby transmit Senate File 505, an Act relating to appropriations for health and human services and veterans and including other related provisions and appropriations, and including effective date and retroactive and other applicability date provisions.

Senate File 505 as passed by the Iowa Legislature gives counties the ability to increase property taxes, enlarges entitlement programs and fails to take critical steps in modernizing Iowa's mental health system. It is even more concerning to me and to the thousands of Iowans who depend on Medicaid that it appears the Iowa Legislature may have underfunded Medicaid. The budget I proposed in January 2015 fully funded Medicaid. We have embarked on efforts to modernize our administration of Medicaid. It is my hope that these efforts will not only improve the quality of health care outcomes our Medicaid patients receive but also provide much needed budget predictability and stability for taxpayers who make the program possible.

Senate File 505 is approved on this date with the following exceptions, which I hereby disapprove.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 3, subsection 4, lettered paragraph g, subparagraph b. This item requires the Department of Public Health to distribute funding for care coordination efforts. I strongly support the modernization and increased coordination of health care for Iowans served by our safety net. However, due to federal approval of the Iowa State Innovation Model grant funding, this state funding is redundant and not needed at this time.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 4, subsection 2, lettered paragraph b. This item restricts contracting flexibility at the Iowa Veterans Home. Such restrictions are unnecessary and counterproductive. The Department of Administrative Services must have flexibility in procuring the best services for veterans at the Iowa Veterans Home at the most cost effective price for taxpayers.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 4, subsection 2, lettered paragraph d. This item creates a redundant, overly burdensome mandate requiring the Iowa Veterans Home to make expenditure reports monthly to the Legislative Services Agency for fiscal year 2015. While I strongly support transparency efforts that publicly disclose how departments spend their resources, this information is already available within the State's accounting and budgeting systems.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 12, subsection 17, lettered paragraph c. This item restricts the Department of Human Services from implementing certain cost containment strategies. The Department must have the tools and flexibility to effectively manage a program so critically important to so many vulnerable Iowans. Such a restriction on the management and oversight authority of the Department of Human Services while facing a potentially underfunded Medicaid budget is inappropriate.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 12, subsection 17, lettered paragraph d. This item requires the Department of Human Services to report on cost containment strategies. The Department of Human Services, Department of Management and the Legislative Services Agency meet on a monthly basis to determine projections for the Medical Assistance appropriation. Information relating to cost containment strategies is shared during these meetings. While I strongly support transparency efforts that publicly disclose how departments spend their resources, this information is already available within the State's accounting and budgeting systems.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 12, subsection 20. This item requires the Department of Human Services to execute the State Innovation Model grant. Additionally, this item requires the Department of Human Services to submit a report on the progress of the grant by September 1, 2015. The State is already implementing the State Innovation Model grant. The information requested to be reported is also not necessary due to the fact that this information is available upon request by the General Assembly.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 12, subsection 25. This item restricts Medicaid waiver management flexibility for the Department of Human Services. The Department must have the tools and flexibility to effectively manage a program so critically important to so many vulnerable Iowans. Such a restriction on the management and oversight authority of the Department of Human Services while facing a potentially underfunded Medicaid budget is inappropriate.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 23, subsection 3. Today, more Iowans than ever before have access to mental health treatment. Through the bi-partisan Mental Health Redesign signed into law in 2012, Iowans are accessing care locally through mental health regions. The mental health regions are investing substantial resources into increased access to home and community based substance abuse and mental health services. In the 1800s, Iowa opened four mental health institutions. At their peak, they served more than 6,600 people on any given day combined. However, modern mental health care has come a long way and best practices rightfully no longer include the warehousing of mental health patients. In fact, the average daily bed census at the Mount Pleasant Mental Health Institute over the past four years is only 61 patients. In fiscal year 2014, this came at the high cost to state taxpayers of $126,791 per patient. These resources can best be used to provide better, more modern mental health services to more Iowans. Other states have already gone down this path by closing their outdated institutions and offering innovative mental healthcare options. Minnesota once operated eleven mental health institutes. Today they operate one. Wisconsin operates two. Over the past 18 years, states adjacent to Iowa have closed 13 institutes like Mount Pleasant and Clarinda (Illinois closed four state psychiatric hospitals, Minnesota closed four, Missouri closed three, and Nebraska closed two). Like Iowa, these neighboring states have modernized their mental health systems and reduced their use of institutionalization. In 2009, a Department of Human Services report and Governor Culver recommended closure of the Mount Pleasant Mental Health Institute. The Legislature has taken the first steps and closed the Clarinda Mental Health Institute. We can keep moving forward and serve Iowans with two mental health institutions rather than four. Therefore, in keeping with modern best practices and the utilization of our system, it is not in the best interests of our patients, the taxpayers or the mental health system to continue operating an aging, antiquated mental health institution lacking key clinical staff, particularly a psychiatrist.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 26, subsection 1. This item prohibits external approvals that are designed to ensure budget integrity, stability and predictability. Management must have the ability and flexibility to allocate resources where they are most effective and needed. In addition, this item creates a redundant, overly burdensome mandate requiring the department to report to the chairpersons and ranking members of the appropriations committees on a monthly basis. While I strongly support transparency efforts that publicly disclose how departments spend their resources, this information is already available within the State's accounting and budgeting systems.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 27, subsection 2. This item requires the Department of Human Services to report operational and program expenditures at least monthly to the Legislative Services Agency. While I strongly support transparency efforts that publicly disclose how departments spend their resources, this information is already available within the State's accounting and budgeting systems.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 29, subsection 1, lettered paragraph s. This item requires the substance abuse managed care plan to increase reimbursement for licensed substance-related disorder treatment programs serving Medicaid patients. To help improve patient outcomes while also bringing predictability and stability for taxpayers funding Medicaid, the Department of Human Services is modernizing Medicaid in Iowa and partnering with modern, patient-centered health plans. With this modernization effort in mind, we must be prudent with any increases for providers. Substance abuse providers received a reimbursement increase two years ago and are benefitting from the Iowa Health and Wellness Plan substance abuse coverage. With that in mind, a rate increase is not prudent at this time.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 29, subsection 12. Iowa has embarked on efforts to modernize its administration of Medicaid by partnering with specialized, patient-centered health care plans. This bipartisan initiative is currently in procurement. This item creates restrictions on the reimbursement methods of the health care plans partnering with the state. The Request for Proposals issued by the Department of Human Services already includes protections for providers and their reimbursement. The restrictions in this item are, therefore, redundant and unneeded at this time.

I am unable to approve of the item designated as Section 67 in its entirety. This item creates a process for assessing the level of care needed for Medicaid patients. Iowa is embarking on an initiative to modernize our administration of Medicaid by partnering with high quality, patient centered health plans. As part of that initiative, these plans will oversee level of care assessments. Therefore, this item would create a redundant assessment system that is best left to our health plan partners.

I am unable to approve of the item designated as Division XVI in its entirety. This item further enlarges the taxpayer-funded child care assistance program. We must support working families. More Iowans are working than ever before and our families are seeing their incomes rise. Enlarging government programs that only further perpetuate the cliff effect felt by these families when their incomes rise and benefits are lost is not the right policy for Iowa. Additionally, with the federal and state updates already in motion, this enlargement is not recommended by the Department of Human Services at this time.

I am unable to approve of the item designated as Division XXX in its entirety. This item creates a Polk County-centered pilot project for refugee services. Iowans have a proud history of working in public-private partnerships to support refugees coming to our state. However, the path refugees take to Iowa has changed over time. More time is needed to study a state-wide solution for refugees and immigrants who originally went to other states and how Iowa, both publicly and privately, can best meet the needs of modern refugees

I am unable to approve of Division XXXII in its entirety. This item amends the Quality Assurance Assessment already found in Iowa Code by establishing a set three percent assessment on nursing facilities in Iowa. The assessment currently in Iowa Code is meeting the needs of our patients, nursing facility providers and the Medicaid program and a change is inappropriate at this time.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 123, subsection 4, lettered paragraph g, subparagraph b. This item requires the Department of Public Health to distribute funding for care coordination efforts. I strongly support the modernization and increased coordination of health care for Iowans served by our safety net. However, due to federal approval of the Iowa State Innovation Model grant funding, this state funding is redundant and not needed at this time.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as section 124, subsection 2, lettered paragraph b. This item restricts contracting flexibility at the Iowa Veterans Home. Such restrictions are unnecessary and counterproductive. The Department of Administrative Services must have flexibility in procuring the best services for veterans at the Iowa Veterans Home at the most cost effective price for taxpayers.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 124, subsection 2, lettered paragraph d. This item creates a redundant, overly burdensome mandate requiring the Iowa Veterans Home to make expenditure reports monthly to the Legislative Services Agency for fiscal year 2016. While I strongly support transparency efforts that publicly disclose how departments spend their resources, this information is already available within the State's accounting and budgeting systems.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 132, subsection 17, lettered paragraph c. This item restricts the Department of Human Services from implementing certain cost containment strategies. The Department must have the tools and flexibility to effectively manage a program so critically important to so many vulnerable Iowans. Such a restriction on the management and oversight authority of the Department of Human Services while facing a potentially underfunded Medicaid budget is inappropriate.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 132, subsection 17, lettered paragraph d. This item requires the Department of Human Services to report on cost containment strategies. The Department of Human Services, the Department of Management and the Legislative Services Agency meet on a monthly basis to determine projections for the Medical Assistance appropriation. Information relating to cost containment strategies is shared during these meetings. While I strongly support transparency efforts that publicly disclose how departments spend their resources, this information is already available within the State's accounting and budgeting systems.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 132, subsection 22. This item restricts Medicaid waiver management flexibility for the Department of Human Services. The Department must have the tools and flexibility to effectively manage a program so critically important to so many vulnerable Iowans. Such a restriction on the management and oversight authority of the Department of Human Services while facing a potentially underfunded Medicaid budget is inappropriate.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 143, subsection 3. Today, more Iowans than ever before have access to mental health treatment. Through the bi-partisan Mental Health Redesign signed into law in 2012, Iowans are accessing care locally through mental health regions. The mental health regions are investing substantial resources into increased access to home and community based substance abuse and mental health services. In the 1800s, Iowa opened four mental health institutions. At their peak, they served more than 6,600 people on any given day combined. However, modern mental health care has come a long way and best practices rightfully no longer include the warehousing of mental health patients. Over the past 18 years, states adjacent to Iowa have closed 13 institutes like Mount Pleasant and Clarinda (Illinois closed four state psychiatric hospitals, Minnesota closed four, Missouri closed three, and Nebraska closed two). Therefore, in keeping with modern best practices and the utilization of our system, it is not in the best interests of our patients, the taxpayers or the mental health system to continue operating an aging, antiquated mental health institution lacking key clinical staff, particularly a psychiatrist.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 146, subsection 1. This item prohibits external approvals that are designed to ensure budget integrity, stability and predictability. Management must have the ability and flexibility to allocate resources where they are most effective and needed. In addition, this item creates a redundant, overly burdensome mandate requiring the department to report to the chairpersons and ranking members of the appropriations committees on a monthly basis. While I strongly support transparency efforts that publicly disclose how departments spend their resources, this information is already available within the State's accounting and budgeting systems

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 147, subsection 1. This item requires the Department of Human Services to report operational and program expenditures at least monthly to the Legislative Services Agency. While I strongly support transparency efforts that publicly disclose how departments spend their resources, this information is already available within the State's accounting and budgeting systems.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 149, subsection 1, lettered paragraph s. This item requires the substance abuse managed care plan to increase reimbursement for licensed substance-related disorder treatment programs serving Medicaid patients. To help improve patient outcomes while also bringing predictability and stability for taxpayers funding Medicaid, the Department of Human Services is modernizing Medicaid in Iowa and partnering with modern, patient-centered health plans. With this modernization effort in mind, we must be prudent with any increases for providers. Substance abuse providers received a reimbursement increase two years ago and are benefitting from the Iowa Health and Wellness Plan substance abuse coverage. With that in mind, a rate increase is not prudent at this time.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 149, subsection 12. Iowa has embarked on efforts to modernize its administration of Medicaid by partnering with specialized, patient-centered health care plans. This bipartisan initiative is currently in procurement. This item creates restrictions on the reimbursement methods of the health care plans partnering with the state. The Request for Proposals issued by the Department of Human Services already includes protections for providers and their reimbursement. The restrictions in this item are, therefore, redundant and unneeded at this time.

I am unable to approve of the item designated as Section 156 in its entirety. This item creates a Polk County-centered pilot project for refugee services. Iowans have a proud history of working in public-private partnerships to support refugees coming to our state. However, the path refugees take to Iowa has changed over time. More time is needed to study a state-wide solution for refugees and immigrants who originally went to other states and how Iowa, both publicly and privately, can best meet the needs of modern refugees.

I am unable to approve of the item designated as Section 159 in its entirety. This item calls for Iowa, after closure of the Clarinda Mental Health Institute by the Iowa Legislature, to request proposals to operate a private, specialized nursing facility on the grounds at Clarinda. As I stated above, more Iowans are receiving mental health care than ever before. And increasingly, they are receiving it locally through mental health regions throughout our state. This holds true for adult in-patient psychiatry as well as geriatric psychiatric patients. Geriatric psychiatric patients are best served in nursing facilities with special services rather than being warehoused in costly and outmoded 19th century mental health institutes. Facilities exist today to provide these services, delivering higher quality for patients at lower costs to taxpayers. The Department of Human Services recommends allowing our mental health system to continue moving forward and giving facilities the flexibility to develop their own settings for care rather than restricting them to the campus at Clarinda. In Southwest Iowa, mental health regions are on track to open residential and community crisis services as well as jail diversion services. However, I recognize the importance of the Clarinda and Mount Pleasant facilities to their communities. It is important to note that the prisons located at Mount Pleasant and Clarinda will continue in full operation. Additionally, Clarinda will continue hosting the Clarinda Youth Academy and private substance abuse services on the campus without interruption. I am committed to working with these communities to repurpose and redevelop the campuses formerly occupied by the mental health institutes. To that end, I am convening a workgroup consisting of members from the Iowa Economic Development Authority, the Department of Corrections (who control the campuses), and the Department of Human Services to work with communities and allow for the easiest most efficient transition of the campuses into new development and jobs.

For the above reasons, I respectfully disapprove the designated items in accordance with Amendment IV of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items in Senate File 505 are hereby approved as of this date.

Sincerely,

TERRY E. BRANSTAD
Governor

SENATE FILE 510

The Honorable Paul D. Pate
Secretary of State of Iowa
State Capitol
Des Moines, Iowa 50319

Dear Mr. Secretary:

I hereby transmit Senate File 510, an Act relating to state and local finances by making appropriations, providing for fees, providing for legal responsibilities, providing for certain employee benefits, and providing for regulatory, taxation, and properly related matters, and including penalties and effective date and retroactive and other applicability provisions.

Senate File 510 is approved on this date with the following exceptions, which I hereby disapprove.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Division X, in its entirety. This item would permanently move the standing appropriation for the State Appeal Board from the General Fund to the Economic Emergency Fund. This was not my recommendation. This item undermines best financial practices, which require an economic emergency fund truly be used for emergencies.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Division XVIII, in its entirety. This item requires health insurance carriers to provide certain disclosures regarding internal appeals processes and prescription drug coverage. These overly burdensome regulations are duplicative and unnecessary because federal law and state law require health insurance carriers to extensively disclose details about their health plans. Additionally, current law already grants the Iowa Insurance Division authority in promulgating administrative rules in order to ensure health insurance carriers provide adequate and proper disclosures regarding their plans.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Division XXVII, in its entirety. This item sets aside a one-time funding source to fund possible raises for judges in the future years. I recommended judicial raises for fiscal year 2016 and I am disappointed the legislature did not fund raises for judges. I believe judicial raises should be funded in a straight-forward manner. Funding ongoing salary expenses with a one-time funding source is a bad budgeting practice.

For the above reasons, I respectfully disapprove the designated items in accordance with Amendment IV of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items in Senate File 510 are hereby approved as of this date.

Sincerely,

TERRY E. BRANSTAD

7 planning services in 2012.
8 b. According to a study in 2009 by the university
9 of Iowa public policy center entitled "The Cost of 10 Unintended Pregnancy in Iowa", every dollar invested
11 in family planning services saved $15.12 in public
12 expenditures over a five-year time period.
13 c. Improving the health and well-being of women is 14 a goal of the healthiest state initiative.
15 d. Access to comprehensive reproductive health care
16 is critical to improving the health and well-being of 20 infant mortality, and incidence of premature or low

21 birth weight births.
- 22 f. Lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender women
23 have unique health care needs and confront a unique set
24 of disparities in the current health care system.
- 25 g. Approximately half of pregnancies are 26 unintended, and preventing unintended pregnancies
27 benefits child health, maternal health, and the health

- 29 h. The United States centers for disease control
30 and prevention included family planning in their
31 published list of the “Ten Great Public Health
32 Achievements in the 20th Century”.
- 33 i. Many women lack access to comprehensive,
34 affordable insurance coverage, even though all women
35 should have such coverage for all pregnancy-related
36 care, including prenatal care, miscarriage management,
37 family planning services, abortion, labor and delivery
38 services, and postnatal care.
- 39 j. According to the Guttmacher institute, more 40 abortion restrictions were enacted in the period from 41 2011-2013 than in the entire previous decade.
- 42 2. It is the intent of the general assembly to do
43 all of the following:

- 45 b. Ensure that all women have access to the best 46 available, scientifically based health care.
- 47 c. Ensure that women have access to safe
48 childbearing, with resources available to reduce 49 maternal and infant morbidity and mortality.
- 50 d. Ensure that women have the autonomy to decide

Page 2

- 1 whether to have children, the number and spacing
2 of their children, and to have medically accurate
3 information, education, and access to health services
4 to make these decisions.
- 5 e. Ensure that women have access to affordable
6 insurance coverage for all of their pregnancy-related
7 health care needs, including contraception and
8 abortion, as well as for their general health care
9 needs including coverage through Medicare, the Iowa
10 wellness plan, and the Iowa marketplace choice plan.
- 11 f. Ensure that women are afforded autonomous 12 decision making, informed consent, privacy, and
