JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Calendar Day - First Session Day

Hall of the House of Representatives
Des Moines, Iowa, Monday, January 11, 2021

Pursuant to chapter two (2), sections two point one (2.1) and two point three (2.3), Code of Iowa, the House of Representatives of the Eighty-ninth General Assembly of Iowa, 2021 Regular Session, convened at 10:03 a.m., Monday, January 11, 2021.

The House was called to order by the Honorable John Wills, state representative from Dickinson County.

Prayer was offered by Reagan Grassley. She is the daughter of Speaker Grassley.

Dear Heavenly Father,

Thank you for bringing us here today.

Thank you for giving these leaders the opportunity to not only serve the state of Iowa, but to serve you.

You are a good father who promises beauty for ashes and joy for our sadness, but we are hurting Father. This world is hurting. We pray that we can learn to love ourselves, and others in this room, more like you.

In a broken world these truths remain; you are pain taker, a way maker, and a chain breaker.

May our lives be a direct reflection of who you are and our service would show your goodness.

We pray that you will continue to protect us and keep us safe.

In your son's name we pray, Amen.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Indee, Reagan and Chance Grassley. They are the children of Speaker Grassley.

The motion prevailed and the following committee was appointed: Kaufmann of Cedar and Prichard of Floyd.

PRESENTATION OF SPEAKER

The Honorable Pat Grassley was escorted to the Speaker's station and United States Senator Chuck Grassley administered the oath of office. Temporary Speaker John Wills presented Speaker Pat Grassley with the gavel and congratulated him on his unanimous election.

Speaker Grassley thanked the House for the honor bestowed upon him and offered the following remarks:

REMARKS BY SPEAKER GRASSLEY

Ladies and gentleman of the Iowa House of Representatives, it is a pleasure to be back in this historic chamber with all of you. And it is an honor to begin my second session serving as Speaker of the Iowa House.

First, I can go no further until I say a big thank you to my family here with me today. Especially my mom and dad and my three kids Indee, Reagan and Chance, I could not stand up here today, ready to do my duty for the people of Iowa and House District 50 without your sacrifices and your support.

Second, it's important to me that I thank the Republican House Majority for putting your faith in me once again to lead this caucus. We are coming off a successful election where Iowans made it known clearly and definitively that they want more of the pragmatic, responsible leadership the Republican-led House has provided over the last 10 years.

With House Republicans now representing 97 out of Iowa's 99 counties, we know -- now more than ever -- that we are ready to represent Iowans in every corner of this state. To our 14 new members, welcome. I look forward to hearing the fresh ideas and new perspectives you will bring to the table.

Majority Leader Windschitl, I'm honored to serve with you for another session. I look forward to all we will accomplish together for the people of Iowa.

Minority Leader Pritchard and all of my democratic colleagues, before all the inevitable disagreements that are sure to come this session, let's start by remembering all that we have in common. Like, for starters, our agreement that Iowa is the greatest state in the greatest nation in the world.

While it's the disagreements that will grab the headlines, and the controversies that will captivate social media, we know that much of the work we do in this building is bipartisan. That we can work together for the people of Iowa.

This session, let's show Iowans and the rest of the country that we can express our disagreements passionately and unequivocally without resorting to violence, aggression or contempt.

All of us have just spent time on the campaign trail connecting with our constituents, hearing their concerns, frustrations and priorities. Now it's time to act. In everything that we do this session, we must remember that we work for Iowans, not the other way around.

Last session was unprecedented. Nobody had a perfect playbook for all the challenges and uncertainty we faced.

Despite that, we were still able to pass a responsible budget, accomplish historic criminal justice reform that served as an example for Washington DC and other Legislatures across the country, and provide essential protections to churches, schools, and small businesses so they can remain open during this pandemic.

And lastly, the actions this Legislature has taken ensured that our state was able to hold a safe and secure election with record turnout.

We are entering this session more prepared. Iowans expect us to be here to do the job we've promised to do. And ensuring transparency in the process was top of mind as we prepared to begin the 2021 session.

We are able to build on what worked when we gaveled in last June while introducing new technology and better utilizing our largest spaces to ensure that we can do the jobs Iowans elected us to do safely and responsibly.

In a time of so much uncertainty, Iowans know that they can trust the same consistent, responsible leadership they've come to expect from House Republicans.

Because of that leadership, Iowa was ranked the most fiscally sound, and most resilient state in the country in terms of our budget's ability to handle the pandemic. Our reserve accounts are full, we have a healthy ending balance, and our commitments were fulfilled. For that reason, we are bouncing back quicker than other states.

As we address the budget for Fiscal Year '21, we must continue to provide the same level of disciplined budgeting that set us up for success in years past. We will fund Iowans' priorities, meet our commitments to the taxpayer, and we will do it in a responsible way.

It will be an even bigger task than ever before. But it is our responsibility to use the same common-sense approach everyday Iowans use when they maintain their own budgets back home.

As I've prepared for session, I can tell you almost every meeting I've had, regardless of what part of the state they were from or what political party they may affiliate with, the need to increase access to safe and affordable child care is a priority. Any sense of normalcy for our state during and after this pandemic depends on it.

But on this issue, we can't just return to the status quo. Our state was facing a child care crisis before COVID-19 even began. Often times, families are hesitant or outright reject a pay raise because it could result in the loss of their child care assistance.

This is the cliff effect, and it must be addressed because it is holding our workforce and our families back. It is incumbent upon the Legislature to provide an off-ramp from government assistance when it comes to child care.

One final thing I know many of our members heard as they talked with constituents was the absolute necessity to get our children back in the classroom.

Some schools have taken every effort to provide in-person learning. But in some areas of the state, parents and students who wanted to be back in school were met with at best a lack of responsiveness and at worst outright contempt.

Students are being trapped in situations that aren't what's best for them. It's time to empower parents to take the control back in deciding what's best for their child.

Let's be clear, getting our kids back in the classroom is critical to their mental health and wellbeing. This should be one of this legislature's top priorities - to ensure that every family that wants 100% in-person learning has access to it.

I'm eager to get back to work with all of you. Time doesn't stand still during COVID-19. Just like the people we serve, we have a job to do.

So I say to both the Republican and Democratic members of the Iowa House... Let's get to work.

REMARKS BY SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE WILLS

Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House... First, I want to thank you for your willingness to serve your fellow Iowans. You have each made sacrifices to be here and it is an honor to serve with you in this Chamber. It is an even greater honor to serve you, my colleagues, as the Speaker Pro Tem. I want to also thank my constituents back home who have provided me with the opportunity to represent them these past 6 years I am grateful for their faith in me to be able to represent their values.

Before I go much further, there are some very special people that I must thank because they make tremendous sacrifices so that I can serve here in Des Moines. They are my wife, Cami, and our three adult kids, Seth, Wes, and Mariah. They deserve a huge thank you from me.

The campaign of 2020 along with the many challenges of 2020 are behind us now. Here in Iowa for the year 2020 we had COVID, Derecho, rioting, and drought and we move from that in 2021 to unity to pull through these challenges. We must set aside our differences to do what is right for Iowan's.

Each of us in this chamber have different priorities and desires that both we and our constituents feel are important. I look forward to working with each one of you to accomplish these priorities in a way that makes Iowan's and each of our constituents be the priority. There will be times that we don't agree with one another, but we all understand that our shared goal is to make the lives of our fellow Iowans better. My hope is that we are able serve the people of Iowa with a government that is smaller and smarter.

Regardless where you stand on many of the issues that we will address this session, we move through those issues to govern our state for our citizens. My goal as a legislator, as is many of you, is to wisely spend the taxpayer's dollar, provide efficiency of government services, advance our freedoms and liberties like the 2nd Amendment and life, and ensure our government works for the people, not the other way around.

May God bless each of you and the Great State of Iowa! Thank you for your attention; it's time to get on with 2021 and ensure Iowa becomes stronger in all ways and Iowa's citizens become freer with their God-given liberties and freedoms.

REMARKS BY MINORITY LEADER PRICHARD

Good morning, Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the Iowa House. I want to give a special welcome to the new legislators and their families. I hope you find your time here rewarding as you serve the people of Iowa. Congratulations on your election.

We are living in tumultuous times and the pandemic has added to the challenges we already faced in Iowa from a shortage of good paying jobs, inadequate access to health care, low public school funding, and ignored environmental issues.

The first priority this session must be working to get the pandemic under control. A failure of leadership at both the federal and state level has already left over 4,000 Iowans dead and our state's response has been greatly inadequate.

Next, we need a robust COVID package focused on long-term recovery efforts to help our economy. We need aggressive plans to help families recover, get kids back in school safely, reopen small businesses, and support our dedicated health care workers who are the front line of this pandemic.

If you look at history, we are not in uncharted waters. Similar cycles have been met by our country in the past. We can COMPETENTLY address the pandemic. We can BUILD our economy, FIX our healthcare system, and PROTECT civil rights. We have the ABILITY and the RESOURCES to solve environmental problems and address climate change. Solutions are within reach. What is needed is leadership. We in this chamber need to acknowledge and address the difficulties that Iowans are facing.

Like many of you, I am deeply disturbed by the riots at our nation's capital and around the country. It epitomizes a lack of respect for our democratic institutions, traditions, and rule of law. Rioters have been motivated by lies contrived for political purposes. Those responsible for the riots, have crossed a line that no American, Democrat or Republican, should ever cross. This breach insults and threatens the very fabric of our democracy.

The riot in DC reminded me of El Salvador after their civil war. Early in my army career, I was stationed there. I witnessed a country torn apart by hate, violence, and mistrust. Their society was broken and crime was rampant. There were two competing police forces, one loyal to the former regime and one dominated by former rebels. What I remember most vividly are the stories of the atrocities, and the pain from years of war and loss. It is up to us, the newly sworn leaders, to protect our country from a fate of further division.

As a 25 year army veteran, I was outraged by the contempt shown for the ideals I have spent my adult life trying to protect. I spent a tour in Iraq, and I know an insurgency when I see one. On Wednesday, a Confederate flag, a BANNER OF OPPRESSION and TREASON, was paraded through the US Capitol. Explosive devices were placed at both the Democratic and Republican Party headquarters. People were killed, needlessly, including a police officer.

As an elected leader, I am disgusted at the reaction, or rather, the inaction, of many of my Republican colleagues in Iowa. For too long, politicians have not only enabled, but served as a willing partner, in the spread of misinformation about election fraud.

Silence is deafening. If you can't condemn this violence against our democracy, what will you condemn? Until you have committed yourself to truth and democratic ideals, you lose any moral high ground that you may try to claim.

I believe that truth and justice are the pillars of our democracy. As leaders in this great state and nation, I also believe it's a fundamental responsibility to strengthen, not weaken, those pillars.

But the insurrection has exposed deep cracks in those pillars that can't be fixed without change from our leaders.

- When the QAnon conspiracy is held out as truth and leaders claim that Covid-19 hasn't killed anyone, truth is the victim and more Iowans die.
- When the Governor defends those who question the legitimacy of our elections, a crack develops in the pillar of TRUTH.
- When a member of this chamber peddles election fraud conspiracy theories, and has written that Republicans will prevail because, in his words, "our side has the guns," there is another crack to the pillar of TRUTH.

This behavior threatens our democracy and our society. It must stop.

Now, in a new year and a new term, it is time to mend the wounds of a fractured country. We are the leaders who must work together to restore faith and hope in our future. We can do this together. We must for the sake of our democracy heal this country.

I challenge each one of us in this chamber to be the leader the moment requires. Put country and state before party politics, be true patriots. Be honest to constituents. Deal in truth, not the politics of fear and internet conspiracies. Help turn the tide. Do your part to strengthen our democracy.

I look forward to serving with you.

Representative Windschitl offered the following remarks:

REMARKS BY MAJORITY LEADER WINDSCHITL

Ladies and gentlemen of the 89th General Assembly, congratulations on your successful elections and welcome to the Iowa House. Running for elected office is not always an easy decision, and as we all know getting elected can be even more difficult. Thank you for your willingness to serve the people of Iowa and thank you also to your support teams back home. I for one know I could not do this job without the support of my wife Ivelisse or our daughters Anna and Addy. Thank you, ladies, for all you do to allow me to serve. I would also like to thank my constituents back home for giving me the privilege to be their voice in this building. I would also like to thank the House Republican caucus for trusting this knuckle dragging Marine to be their Majority Leader. It is an honor to serve all of you.

Our great country and state are going through extremely unprecedented times right now, and it is incumbent on all of us, as leaders throughout our state, to come together and embrace our shared values. We must lead by example and show Iowans that despite political differences we can work together for the betterment of those we serve. We have all witnessed the dysfunction that often comes out of Washington D.C., let us endeavor to not fall into the same partisan gridlock. When we see injustices let us all call them out together, put partisan ideologies aside, and move forward towards a solution.

We have a great deal of work ahead of us and I look forward to working with all of you to accomplish good public policy for all Iowans. Over the past ten years House Republicans have demonstrated to Iowans that we know how to responsibly budget and govern, this year will be no different. We have worked through many challenging issues over the years, some more difficult than others, including a global pandemic. At the end of the day we have proven that we know how to improvise, adapt, and overcome.

This last November, Iowans sent a clear and resounding message to their elected officials. They want less government, not more. They want more freedom and less restrictions. They want their tax dollars to work for them, not against them. As we move forward this session let us strive to advance policies and budgets that restore Iowan's freedoms and gets government off of their backs. The election proves that Iowans believe in the policies that House Republicans have pushed forward. Policies like lowering taxes, providing resources to our educational institutions, restoring Second Amendment freedoms, protecting the unborn, balancing the budget, and so much more. House Republicans have received the message loud and clear and we will continue to provide Iowans with the governance they deserve.

Speaker Grassley, Leader Prichard, I look forward to working with you both. House Republicans stand ready, willing and able to advance Iowans priorities. May God guide us in all that we do for the people of Iowa.

The work is before us, let us get to it. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

On motion by Windschitl of Harrison, the House was recessed at 11:12 a.m., until 2:00 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The House reconvened at 2:16 p.m., Speaker Grassley in the chair.

MEMBER RESIGNATION

December 16, 2020

The Honorable Kim Reynolds

Governor Reynolds,

On November 3, 2020, I was elected to serve as a Linn County Supervisor, District 3. Since I will be sworn-in on December 30th, 2020 and take office on January 4th, 2021, I am hereby resigning from service as State Representative for Iowa House District 95, effective December 30th, 2020.

It has been a great honor to represent the people of House District 95 for the past four years.

Sincerely,

Louis J. Zumbach

MEMBER RESIGNATION

December 30, 2020

To Whom It May Concern:

I hereby submit my resignation as a member of the Iowa House of Representatives effective January 2, 2021 at 11:59 PM, as I am taking a federal oath of office on January 3, 2021 and cannot by law hold both offices simultaneously.

It has been an honor to serve these past 4 years in the people's house. I will certainly miss being under the golden dome in Des Moines but look forward to my continued service to Iowans in the 1st Congressional District.

Sincerely and with gratitude,

Ashley Hinson
Congresswoman-Elect

Senator Whitver of Polk moved that the roll call be dispensed with and that the Senate President of the Joint Convention be authorized to declare a quorum present.

of Representatives be appointed to notify and escort Governor Kim Reynolds into the House chamber and receive her.

The motion prevailed and the Senate President appointed as such committee Senators Cournoyer of Scott, Koelker of Dubuque and Ragan of Cerro Gordo, on the part of the Senate, and Representatives Hein of Lee, Hite of Mahaska and Gjerde of Linn, on the part of the House.

The Executive Council was escorted into the House chamber.

Lieutenant Governor Adam Gregg and his family were escorted into the House chamber.

First Gentleman Kevin Reynolds and the family of the Governor were escorted into the House chamber.

The committee waited upon Governor Kim Reynolds and escorted her to the Speaker's station.

Senate President Chapman then presented Governor Kim Reynolds who delivered the following condition of the state message:

GOVERNOR'S CONDITION OF THE STATE MESSAGE

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Lieutenant Governor, legislative leaders and members, justices and judges, my fellow Iowans:

Our state constitution says that, every year, the governor must communicate to the general assembly the condition of the state. That usually happens in the morning on the second day of the legislative session, but tonight I'm breaking with that tradition so that I may speak directly to Iowans.

It's been a year—and I'll let you fill in whatever adjective you want. Covid-19. Civil Unrest. A drought. A derecho. We've been beaten and battered in about every way imaginable and some unimaginable. But together, we've met every challenge with bravery and outright grit.

We're told that "tribulation produces perseverance and perseverance, character." From what I've seen, there's no shortage of character in the people of Iowa. And despite what we've been through—or maybe because of it—the condition of our state has never been stronger.

We live in a place where 82-year-old Blanche Chizek from Britt sewed over 1,000 masks and baked dozens of pastries for healthcare workers. Where 17-year-old Tanner Kenin recruited his friends to start a grocery delivery company for the elderly. Where an anonymous donor gave out more than $80,000 in gift cards from local businesses to every resident of Earlham. And where countless other Iowans donated food, time, and resources.

Thousands of Iowans—truck drivers, manufacturers, grocery store clerks, meat-processing workers, and so many others—showed up to work everyday to make sure that the people of this state, and the world, were fed. Police officers, social workers, and government employees worked around the clock to deliver PPE and make sure Iowans continued to receive the services they depend on. Small businesses adjusted their hours and often how they operate to protect their employees and customers.

And nowhere was the dedication and commitment to others more evident than in our healthcare system.

Nurses, doctors, technicians, janitors, pharmacists, EMTs, social workers, and the thousands of direct care workers in our senior living communities: In 2020, you worked some of the longest hours, in the most uncertain conditions. Your actions saved lives. Your spirit inspired us.

And you didn't just provide medical care. Your patients often couldn't be with their loved ones, so you also provided them comfort and company. You sat with them when no one else could. You held their hand, facilitated calls to family, and in some cases stood by them while they took their last breath. While many of us were shielded from the worst of the pandemic, you were on the front lines everyday.

We cannot sufficiently express our gratitude, but we will try. Please join me in thanking these heroic Iowans.

Iowans are well-accustomed to the extremes of Mother Nature's temper, but the derecho in August was unlike anything we've seen. Hurricane-force winds recorded as high as 140 miles an hour raged across our state. Over one-third of our counties impacted; 584,000 households left without power; thousands of homes damaged. Millions of acres of crops were flattened, and as grain bins crumpled, we lost over 100 million bushels of grain storage. It was a disaster of unprecedented scope.

In Marshalltown, the derecho left behind three times as much debris as the F3 tornado that ripped through the city's downtown in 2018. And the scars will be evident for generations to come in places like Cedar Rapids and Marion, where they lost more than half of their tree canopy.

We praise the dedication of the more than 200 National Guard members who deployed to help remove debris; the local police, fire, public works departments, and emergency managers, who stepped up and served their neighbors tirelessly; and the dedicated staff of state agencies like DHS, DNR and DOT, who pressed ahead where their state needed them.

We thank the thousands of line workers who came from across the country to supplement the crews from Alliant, MidAmerican, and our other utilities to restore electricity with astonishing speed, often to the applause of Iowans.

I spoke with some of the line workers from out of state, and heard not only that our disaster was as bad as the aftermath of hurricanes whose names have been retired, but also that Iowans showed more hope, more patience, and more gratitude than people from anywhere else.

Good corporate citizenship was put on display not only by our power companies, but by essential suppliers like Hy-Vee and Fareway that donated food, water, and supplies. It was shown by small-business owners like Willie Ray Fairley, whose Willie Ray's Q Shack gave away hundreds of meals a day to people whose own refrigerators and stoves weren't working. Willie Ray didn't just fill hungry stomachs, he fed a sense of community. And that's what makes a disaster bearable.

What happened this year went beyond Iowa nice. You showed a humanity that rivals what most of us have seen in our lifetime.

Our job now is to hold on to that humanity. 2020 left its mark on everyone, but not evenly. There are people across this state who are still hurting. Many lost their job or their business or even their home.

And many lost loved ones to this horrible pandemic. For them, and for anyone who lost someone this year, whatever the cause, saying goodbye was even harder than it usually is. You may not have been able to be with them while they were sick, to hold their hand one last time, or to fully celebrate their life at a funeral with all of those they loved.

Whether you're in the chamber or watching at home, please take a moment, bow your head, and remember all of those we lost this year and the loved ones they leave behind.

Thank you.

When I stood here last year, our fiscal health was strong. We had one of the lowest unemployment rates in the country, incomes were going up, and our economy was roaring. Then 2020 happened.

We took a hit like everyone else, but we didn't falter long. Because of conservative budgeting practices, Iowa's diverse economy, the decision to keep over 80% of our businesses open, and the tenacity of our people, Iowa isn't facing a massive budget shortfall like many states.

As I stand here tonight, our unemployment rate has returned to 3.6%, one of the lowest in the country, and our GDP grew over 36% in the third quarter of 2020, outpacing the nation. Iowa's coming back, and we're coming back strong.

Iowa's success has always been about turning obstacles into opportunities and overcoming adversity together. The post-Covid world won't be the same as the pre-Covid world. And it shouldn't.

We've learned a lot. Entire sectors of our economy were forced to innovate overnight and adapt to survive. We can approach Iowa's economic recovery in a number of ways. We can return to where we were, which is a realistic but still ambitious goal. Or we can take what we've learned and the innovation that's been applied over the past ten months and capitalize on the opportunity to reimagine, modernize, and possibly restructure everything from healthcare and education, to our workforce and quality of life.

It's about ensuring our future prosperity is widespread and reaches all people and all parts of Iowa, including those that too often feel left out when times are good.

That's why I formed the Economic Recovery Advisory Board this summer. Chaired by Ruan Transportation CEO Ben McLean, the 15-member board and 350 working group members volunteered their time and talents to meet my charge to be bold, innovative and direct about the challenges facing our economy. I want to thank them for their diligent work to make sure that we support every part of Iowa and every Iowan.

The report will be released soon, but there are a few big issues that we can begin to address tonight.

The need for universal broadband is one of them. As we've seen during the pandemic, high-speed internet is as vital to our communities as running water and electricity; if they don't have it, they can't grow.

Every year I've been governor, I've focused on expanding broadband to every Iowa community, and we're making progress. But not enough.

About a third of our counties are still broadband deserts, where high-speed internet is rarely offered. And for many Iowans, it's just not affordable. Iowa also has the second lowest broadband speeds in the country.

I'm done taking small steps and hoping for big change. This is the time for bold action and leadership. Let's plant a stake in the ground and declare that every part of Iowa will have affordable, high-speed broadband by 2025.

We'll get there by committing $450 million over that time period, which will leverage millions more in private investment, giving Iowa the biggest buildout of high-speed internet in the country.

Iowa has more households with all parents working than any other state, yet we've lost one-third of our childcare spots over the last five years. When schools abruptly closed last spring, a system already under stress was pushed even harder.

Some families were able to adapt by working from home. Others leaned on grandparents, aunts and uncles, and family friends for support. In Pottawattamie County, a group of daycare providers and other partners teamed up to provide free daycare for essential workers.

But many parents weren't so lucky and struggled to find ways to care for their children and still show up for work—often in roles that are essential to all of us. Even when the coronavirus is a distant memory, Iowa will still need an abundance of high-quality child care so that families can prosper and children can grow.

Many of our communities and businesses are working together to address this issue. In Stuart, seventeen local businesses joined together to purchase an empty building, with plans to renovate and lease it to a childcare provider.

It's in our state's interests to encourage these types of public-private partnerships, which is why we created the Child Care Challenge Fund last year. It's an innovative program that encourages employers, community leaders, and others to collaborate in developing child care facilities.

This year, we need to fund that program, so I'm allocating $3 million to jump-start these public-private partnerships. I'm also using $25 million of child care development block grants to further promote child care startups. Every community has different needs and different resources. Just as the leaders in Stuart found a solution that fits their hometown, we want to facilitate local solutions in other places, too.

Let's remove the obstacles to high-quality, affordable child care so that Iowa families can nurture their kids while parents maintain the maximum freedom to enter and remain in the workforce.

As our economy comes back, we're facing a familiar problem: more job openings than there are people who have skills to fill them. That's why we need to continue the work we started with Future Ready Iowa, a program that is designed to increase the number of Iowans with education or training beyond high school.

Education or training. That's worth repeating. We have exceptional universities, colleges, and community colleges in this state. But not all skills are learned in a classroom. On-the-job training and reskilling are some of the most valuable ways to advance our workforce and increase Iowan's wages. We need to continue to find ways to recognize this type of experience.

We took a big step in June by passing a significant licensing reform package. It didn't get a lot of attention at the time, but at the beginning of this session we should stop to recognize how important it was: Iowa now has the most flexible licensing reciprocity and recognition laws in the nation, which sends a signal to the country that Iowa is open for business.

And we're not done. This year, we'll begin the task of reviewing each of our licensing boards and commissions to make sure they are serving their purpose.

We must also continue the great strides we've made by integrating work-based learning into the K-12 curriculum. We know that many kids think of education differently when it involves real-life experience. They see why education matters and it can be key in helping them choose and prepare for a career that fits them.

Many schools across the state are offering these work-based learning experiences. Let's make sure that every high-school student gets that same chance. I'm calling on the legislature to make that an expectation of all our schools.

When Iowa families come together after work and school, they need a place to call home. Unfortunately, we have a growing mismatch between where job opportunities are thriving and where people can find affordable places to live.

Some communities have rallied to buck this trend. Forest City hadn't seen a new affordable apartment complex in more than 25 years, so community leaders raised $4 million in financing by leveraging local and state resources. And a new apartment complex was built in 2017.

In Davenport, leaders used the same public-private partnership to convert an old, vacant school building into 41 affordable apartments, which were rented within two months. This project brought new housing to the historic riverfront and served as a catalyst for redevelopment.

Forest City and Davenport exemplify the spirit of Iowa communities. But the reality is, there aren't enough resources to go around. Last year alone, Iowa communities requested more than three times what was available.

We must expand initiatives like these that address pent-up demand for affordable housing, helping our communities thrive and our families move where opportunities await them.

There's a lot to do this year, but if we tackle issues like broadband, childcare, workforce training, and affordable housing, we'll set Iowa on a solid path for economic prosperity for years to come.

And remember, that unlike many states we're starting from a good financial position. We aren't looking at tough budget cuts and we're certainly not looking at raising taxes. If anything, we need to continue the conversation about cutting taxes, and we can start by getting rid of the unnecessary triggers that were put in place in 2018. Let's make Iowa more competitive and guarantee our taxpayers that they can keep more of their hard earned money.

A high-quality education system is the foundation of our state. Historically, we've had some of the best schools in the nation. And I believe we still do. What many of our teachers and administrators did this last year was nothing short of amazing.

In Clear Creek Amana, Barb Hunt's special-education students were struggling with virtual learning, so she worked with transportation director Denny Schreckengast to convert a camper into a classroom. Since the kids couldn't come to the classroom, they brought the classroom to them.

In Hinton, when the school went to a hybrid model for a few weeks, teachers spent hours holding individual Zoom calls with students, sometimes going into the evening, to make sure they weren't falling behind.

At West Sioux, teachers personally went to the homes of Spanish-speaking families who needed help setting up internet service.

In Clarinda, the district was short on bus drivers so Josh Porter, a school administrator with a CDL, jumped behind the wheel to make sure his kids could be in the classroom.

And in Cedar Rapids, Noreen Bush, Superintendent of the second largest school district in the state, and her team, made heroic efforts to get her kids back into the classroom just weeks after many of their schools were ripped apart by the derecho, and she did it while receiving chemotherapy.

There are stories like this from all across the state. Teachers and administrators put their students first in uncertain and difficult times, especially as they implemented plans to safely and responsibly reopen schools.

But that hasn't been the case everywhere. Over the last few months, I've heard the frustration from many parents, students and teachers who didn't have the opportunity to go back to school. Let me give you just a sample of those frustrations.

I talked to a passionate teacher whose student hasn't logged in for class in nine weeks, and there is nothing she can do about it.

I visited with the parent of a child with special needs who is devastated by seeing her daughter's education and social progress fade because a computer screen isn't a substitute.

I spoke to a middle-school student who has to watch her younger siblings during the day and complete her own school work at night.

And I heard from numerous parents whose kids' school day consisted of just 60 to 90 minutes of online instruction per day, at most.

Nicole, a mother of three elementary students who, since March, have spent less than a week in the classroom, told me she's struggling to facilitate her children's online learning while keeping up with her job. She said she feels like she's failing as a parent, a spouse, and an employee.

These stories are heartbreaking. And let me assure you Nicole, it's not you who's failing. The vast majority of our schools found a way to safely and responsibly reopen, all day, Monday through Friday. It's past time that every district makes that happen. As one parent told me: "Options are good. But if some parents get the option to go 100% online, why don't my kids get the option to be 100% in the classroom?"

I agree, so tonight I am asking the legislature to immediately send a bill to my desk that gives parents the choice to send their child back to school full time. We can't wait any longer. Our kids can't wait any longer.

If there's one thing the pandemic has taught us about education, it's that our parents need choice. And it's not just in-person versus virtual. Sometimes it's about which school to attend altogether.

When some schools remained closed or went part-time this fall, a lot of parents sent their kids to private school or open enrolled. But not everyone had that option. Many parents can't afford private school. And because some of our larger districts prohibit open enrollment, they won't let you transfer to another public school.

One parent I talked to said that a school administrator actually recommended that she buy a house in the neighboring district if she wanted her son to go to school in-person.

We need to fix that. School choice shouldn't be limited to those who have the financial means or are lucky to live in a district that's confident enough to allow open enrollment. So let's make choice an option for everyone.

We can do that by making open enrollment available in all districts and by allowing our communities more flexibility to create public charter schools where there is a need for an alternative. And we should create education savings accounts for students who are trapped in a failing school; let's give them another choice by making sure money isn't their barrier.

Make no mistake, it's imperative that we have a strong public school system—which is why we have and will continue to prioritize school funding while many other states are cutting their education budgets. But school choice isn't a zero sum game. It has the potential to raise the quality for all schools. And for those schools that do fall behind, it ensures our children don't fall with them. Let's work together to make sure every child receives a quality education, regardless of income, and no matter their zip code.

In 2020, we saw an overwhelming call for racial justice in Iowa and across the nation.

We heard that call and, with a bipartisan effort, passed the More Perfect Union Act to improve police work in Iowa. I'm proud of that legislation, and we're continuing to make criminal justice reform a priority.

I'm also very proud of our law enforcement. They put their lives on the line every day—something we should never forget. And if we needed a reminder, last year's civil unrest and last week's attack on the Capitol provided it. Violence and anarchy is not acceptable. Period.

Our prayers are with the families of the Capitol Police Officers, who sacrificed their lives to defend the beacon of our democracy and the people in it. And our prayers are with every other officer who defends us against those who are intent on violence.

This summer, when protests gave way to rioting and looting in the Quad Cities, three Davenport police officers were ambushed. Thirty-two rounds of gunfire were pumped into the truck that Sgt. Lansing, Lt. Behning, and Detective Sievert were in.

The truck windows were shattered, Sgt. Lansing was shot in the leg, and multiple bullets struck his headrest. The truck took so much fire that it could barely accelerate, but Sgt. Lansing navigated it to safety.

In her Quad-City Times column, Barb Ickes eloquently wrote that this nightmare scene is “precisely what police train for,” but that “the resulting courage cannot be taught.” “Their escape is astonishing,” she said. “Most of us can't even imagine it.”

I couldn't agree more; please join me in thanking these brave officers, who are with us tonight.

We should never take this bravery for granted, but in cities like Minneapolis, Portland, and New York, they have. They've embraced the attacks on law enforcement, and now their violent crime rates are rising for the first time in a generation.

That's not going to happen in Iowa; not on my watch. We should never be afraid to talk about ways to improve policing, but there will be no talk of defunding the police here. Our men and women in blue will always have my respect, and I will always have their back.

To that end, I'll be introducing a bill that protects law enforcement and continues our march toward racial justice.

The bill will make clear that if you riot or attack our men and women in uniform, you will be punished. We won't stand for it.

The bill will also ban racial profiling and other forms of disparate treatment. Because no actions should ever be taken based upon the color of someone's skin. As Martin Luther King Jr. recognized, "injustice anywhere is a threat to justice everywhere."

Let's come together again, like we did last year, to support our law enforcement and racial justice. Let's make Iowa a safer place for everyone.

When Iowans come together, we do big things. We've grown our economy, protected life and our second amendment, lowered the tax burden on Iowans, supported our farmers and producers by increasing demand for biofuels, protected our environment by promoting renewable energy, and so much more.

Like this past year, when we watched healthcare in Iowa transform from a collection of competing hospitals and clinics to a single statewide healthcare system committed to collaborating for the sake of all Iowans.

As we move forward, let's build on this collaborative and innovative spirit. In my budget, I'm proposing $1 million to encourage hospitals and clinics to start what's called a Center of Excellence. It's a program that aligns rural physicians with specialists, creating regional hubs that provide highly-skilled care closer to where patients and their primary-care providers live.

Whether you're dealing with the trauma of an accident or the joy of childbirth, it's not just the quality of the team that matters—it's the proximity. I want a better system of care for all Iowans, regardless of where they live.

I also want to be sure that when Iowans call 911 for an emergency, there's a quick response. I know members in this chamber are already working on a bill to improve rural EMS services; I look forward to working with you this session.

We must also continue our focus on mental health. While the virus threatened our physical wellbeing, the realities of last year placed unimaginable stress on so many Iowans. Seniors were isolated from friends and loved ones; kids were kept out of the classroom and away from the stability it provides; and thousands of Iowans had their livelihoods turned upside down.

In the last three years, we have reformed our mental health system and we're continuing to make it better. I'm proposing to increase mental health funding by $15 million this year, and another $15 million next year, to fully fund those reform efforts. And I know that our mental health regions are working on innovative solutions to address the unique needs of children who have been affected by the pandemic.

And because of the legislation we passed last year, which allows schools to host behavioral health sessions by using telehealth services, kids no longer have to leave school for hours to receive quality treatment.

That's a lesson many of us learned over the last ten months: telehealth is a powerful tool that we should continue to encourage and expand. And it's not just for mental health. Thousands of Iowans experienced it first-hand this year, receiving treatment and check-ups from their own home.

In 2020, we asked so much of our healthcare providers. And they've met those expectations at every step of the way. Many of our hospitals were at the forefront of developing treatments for Covid-19, and the University of Iowa has been key in the development of vaccines.

The availability of vaccines marks the most significant turning point since the pandemic began. And I'm proud to say that Iowa is one of the states leading the nation in administering the vaccine.

To date, nearly 100,000 Iowans, including our healthcare workers, have received their first dose, and several thousand have now received their second. By the end of the week, everyone at the Iowa Veterans Home, our largest nursing facility in the state, will be vaccinated. And by January 25, all 90,000 nursing-home residents and staff will have received the vaccine, ensuring that Iowans most at risk are among the first to have this protection.

I know we are all eager to be vaccinated and turn the corner, and wider distribution to more Iowans is imminent.

But as we begin to put 2020 behind us, I have two requests for my fellow Iowans.

First, let's not forget those neighbors who are still hurting. Reach out. Keep volunteering; continue to stock food banks. Continue to show the country that it doesn't take a pandemic or a derecho to lend a helping hand.

Second, let's not return to normal. Let's be better. Let's think bigger. Be bolder.

If anything, this year has shown us what we can accomplish, and how fast we can do it. Hold onto that spirit. To that ingenuity and collaboration. To the feeling that we're working for the greater good, and not ourselves.

If we can do that—if we can work with and for each other—then we will do great things.

I believe in this State, because I believe in you. I've seen what you've done; I've watched, sometimes with tears of pride in my eyes. And that's how I know that the condition of our State is strong. Because you are strong—stronger than you ever imagined.

Thank you, God bless you, and God bless the great state of Iowa.

CONDITION OF THE JUDICIAL BRANCH MESSAGE

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the General Assembly, Governor Reynolds, Lt. Governor Gregg, state officials, colleagues, family, friends and all Iowans who are watching remotely or here in person.

Thank you for the opportunity to address this joint convention of the 89th General Assembly on the condition of the judiciary.

I think we all know this is my first time to give Iowa's condition of the judiciary. Let me start by introducing myself to you. My name is Suzy Christensen. I continue to live in Harlan where I was born and raised. My high school sweetheart and husband, Jay, is with me today. Together we have five children and six grandchildren. Two of our kids are here as well, Nic, Rees and his wife Kara. My other children are Adam and his wife Erin; Sadie and her husband Derek; and our 18-year-old son, Cass. My grandchildren are Logan, Karsyn, Connor, Emily, Jack and Levi.

After high school, I received my legal secretarial diploma from AIB in Des Moines and then got married. I worked a few years as a legal secretary before starting college. I attended four different colleges in four years before returning to Harlan and commuting to Creighton Law School in Omaha. I'm used to people giving me the stink eye when they hear my educational journey—maybe it's not the path recommended by academic advisors or most parents, but it was the right path for me. Each and every decision to move, and therefore change schools, was made for the benefit of my family. That has to be the right decision.

After graduation from law school and for the next 16 years, I was an assistant county attorney and had a private law practice in Harlan. In 2007, I became a District Associate Judge where the lion's share of my work was in juvenile court. In 2015, I was appointed to the district court bench where I remained until my appointment to the Iowa Supreme Court in 2018 by Governor Reynolds.

Access to Justice during a Pandemic

Throughout those years, whether as an attorney or judge, I have seen so many people walk into our courtrooms full of hope. You can see it in their eyes—hear it in their voices. Hoping they will not be convicted. Hoping they will get custody of their child. Hoping someone will listen to their story.

I always enjoyed providing comfort to those individuals by guiding them through our legal system. Perhaps they could see reassurance in my eyes? “When you get inside the courthouse, take the elevator to the third floor and I'll meet you by the water fountain.” Or, “When it's time to testify, project your voice and speak clearly so the court reporter can understand you.” Or, “I'll be right next to you in the courtroom, every step of the way.”

None of that is true during a pandemic. Elevators are limited to one or two people; water fountains are disabled; court reporters are straining to understand people talking behind masks; and lawyers can't even speak to their clients in hushed, private conversations while in the courtroom.

Let me share with you how I have responded to previous challenges in my life. Our oldest son, Nic, was born with cerebral palsy. I remember a time in his young life when I was kind of feeling sorry for myself and wondering what the future held for him. I came across an ugly picture with a beautiful saying: "We cannot change the wind, but we can adjust our sails." It may seem quite simplistic, but it grabbed my aching heart. And it caused an abrupt and permanent change in my mindset.

For the past 305 days, we have carefully monitored the pandemic and tried our best to balance the need to keep people safe with our steadfast commitment to conduct business as necessary. And I am proud to report today, that the judicial branch did not succumb to COVID-19.

But it's not due to that small group of individuals who met on a snowy Saturday in March. It's because of the hard work, tenacity and sheer guts of each and every judicial branch employee. No one has said, "I won't do it." If time permitted, I would utter the name of each and every one of our 1700 employees and allow time for applause—between each name—as a way of showing my appreciation for what they are doing every day to keep Iowa's judicial branch open in the most trying of times.

Let me briefly touch on some of the many changes our judiciary made to ensure that all Iowans would have continued access to our judicial branch during the pandemic.

Like most everyone else in 2020, much of our judicial branch went virtual. Thank goodness our branch had the foresight nearly 15 years ago to commence planning and implementation of an electronic filing system so that we could go paperless. And thank goodness for you, our legislature, who has consistently helped us maintain necessary funding for our technological infrastructure.

In order to make the branch virtual, staff quickly learned to use a wide range of technology. With the help of our technology department, we were able to conduct many judicial proceedings and conferences remotely.

There may have been the occasional child talking in the background or glitches with internet service, and of course we've all learned the international sign which means "you're muted." But this technology allowed us to safely provide Iowans with the access to justice they needed during a vulnerable time.

When asked how virtual hearings were going, this is one response I received from a judge. I have to read it to you, because a summary would not suffice:

One of the benefits of virtual hearings are the pets: dogs, cats, fish, one potbellied pig, and an "inside" goat appearing during hearings. Dogs are very interested in court and they want to be heard, barking, whining crying, and they want to be seen sitting on a lap or trying to climb on top of a person. Cats not so much. Cats have no interest in Court. In fact, they have a complete disdain for the process. Usually they're hiding, but occasionally they show their contempt by laying on a keyboard or sitting in front of a webcam.

People on the front lines of our judicial branch—juvenile court officers, court administration, clerks of court, judges, court reporters, just to name a few—helped us brainstorm and imagine what kind of guidelines we must establish to ensure everyone's safety when they entered a courtroom in any of our 100 courthouses.

Upon the recommendation of our newly-formed Jumpstart Jury Trial Task Force, in June, we began making preparations to dip our toes back into the water with a few pilot jury trials. Although jury trials resumed on September 14, we had to shut them down again two months later due to an uptick in Iowa's infection rates. But the lessons learned were immense and will be helpful when we resume jury trials once again on February 1.

I was honored to have a front-row seat (socially distanced of course) to watch a demonstration of how these Iowa jury trials could safely and efficiently unfold during a pandemic. I was blown away by what I saw. In Davenport, jury selection occurred in a large convention center. The next day, the impaneled jury met at the Scott County Courthouse to start the jury trial. In Waterloo, summoned jurors were sorted into groups for check in and told to remain in their cars until the precise time stated on their notice. And in Rockwell City, the Calhoun County Courthouse was used to pick a jury, start the trial and reach a verdict all within the same day.

All of the pilot trials included courtrooms that were COVID ready. Masks were required upon entry of our court-controlled spaces. Seating for the litigants and public was reduced to comply with social distancing. Plexiglas dividers were utilized when social distancing could not be accomplished. With these accommodations, most of the courtrooms could only hold the judge, court reporter, parties, their attorneys and the jury with other courtrooms made available to the public for remote viewing.

Upon the recommendation of our newly-formed Jump Start Family Law Trial Task Force, and in an effort to keep family law cases moving during the pandemic's stifling hold on our docket, the judicial branch approved new methods to resolve disputes by implementing informal family law trials and mediation.

In addition to our district courts, we embraced the input and assistance from other partners with a common goal of working for Iowans. For example, we worked closely with the Iowa State Association of Counties in creating individual but similar checklists to make sure Iowans were faced with consistency when they entered courthouses for county business or ventured up to another floor to engage in business with the judicial branch.

We also worked closely with the Department of Human Services to protect the health and welfare of children in the court system. When a pandemic prevents people from having contact with each other, everyone has to get creative to ensure children's safety and give families the opportunities to interact in meaningful ways.

In an effort to tap the public's input, we invited Iowans to email my senior law clerk with COVID-related questions. Some of those questions were kind of tough, like how to recalculate statute of limitations when deadlines were changed. Others were pretty easy to answer, like where to pay a parking ticket. Some emails gave us a shot in the arm by simply saying, "Hang in there." To maintain transparency and keep the public informed, we established and regularly updated a dedicated webpage about our COVID-related efforts.

I'd like to briefly tell you about a pilot program coming out of the 1st and 4th judicial districts that was actually in the works before COVID. It's called the Distributive Work

Processing Pilot. The timing of this pilot could not have been more perfect considering the pandemic. Instead of looking at the workload and staffing of one county compared to another, this pilot evaluates the workload and available staff of an entire district and redistributes the work to keep things flowing evenly.

Let me give you an example. In Pottawattamie County, there are not enough employees to handle the work in a timely fashion according to a workload formula. With this pilot, and through technology, the workload of counties in the 4th district is evaluated and redistributed so that staff in any one of the other eight counties can chip in and help Pottawattamie. This is radically different than how things have historically been done—Shelby County employees performed only Shelby County work, and the same was true for all of the other counties. For one county to be able to assist another county in need within the same district, whether it's during a pandemic or otherwise, keeps each county relevant—no matter the size. That's a really good thing.

As if the pandemic isn't a big enough challenge for Iowans, on August 10 a derecho ripped across the state. Crops, houses, businesses, courthouses, neighborhoods all suffered unimaginable damage. For days—and for some people, weeks—thousands of Iowans did not have access to electrical power or water. There were even areas of the state where it was impossible for some Iowans to access their courthouse—in person or virtually because many had no internet service.

Our employees in the affected areas worked hard to keep court services available to Iowans who needed them, all while dealing with the terrible storm destruction in their personal lives. I am proud of the resourcefulness of our judges and staff and thankful for the cooperation with local officials that enabled Iowans to access the court services they needed during this difficult time.

Expansion of Implicit Bias Training

During the summer of 2020, in the midst of developing a plan for resuming court operations, another national crisis emerged. As public servants, our task is as simple as it is solemn: provide justice without fear, favor or affection. Long ago, we recognized that justice does not only result from court decisions. Rather, justice is also addressed through procedures, court rules, commissions and task forces. Furthermore, over the past six years, the judicial branch dedicated itself to implementing initiatives that are designed to identify and eliminate discriminatory behaviors which may compound the disparities present in our system of justice as a whole. Chief among these initiatives is providing implicit bias training to all judicial branch employees. This training is designed to expose people to their unconscious biases and provide them with tools to adjust automatic patterns of thinking. The judicial branch remains steadfast in its commitment to becoming better public servants.

Moving into 2021, we are strengthening our efforts and starting a two-year pilot that will engage all employees within the judicial branch with the goal of mitigating implicit bias in the areas of race, gender, and other identified protected classes.

Priority 1: Helping Iowa's Children Remain with their Families

When I first became chief, I was frequently asked, "What are your priorities going to be?" Since that snowy day last March, no one has asked me that question. Everyone knows the answer, and it's become a dirty word. COVID. But when this virus is no longer my priority—and I believe that is right around the corner—I have an answer for that question.

Child welfare is profoundly important to me. You may not know this, but in my prior life I was the Cookie Judge. It was my way of connecting with children who were experiencing severe neglect, physical abuse, sexual abuse or mental health issues. These cherubs stole my heart. It became absolutely critical for me to help their parents succeed in juvenile court so that they could be safely reunited.

I have two priorities as chief, both of them related to child welfare. FFPSA is a federal funding bill and stands for Family First Prevention Services Act. The supreme court formed a task force in October of 2018 and they refer to this legislation as “Family First.” Prior to Family First, federal funding could be accessed only when a court order had been entered removing a child from his or her home. That’s wrong. Studies show that in many cases, the long-term trauma experienced by children removed from the home and into foster care may, at times, be worse than any trauma associated with staying in the home. With Family First, many Iowa families in crisis will now receive access to services sooner, before a child is removed from the home, rather than after the family is separated.

Two very important pilot projects grew out of the Family First Task Force. The State Public Defender has a pilot project, approved by our legislature that provides funding for parents to have legal representation before a juvenile case is filed. Historically, a parent was entitled to representation only after a child welfare petition was filed which is oftentimes the same time an order is entered to remove a child from his parent’s care. Think of the advice an attorney could provide for a parent to take steps that may very well prevent court involvement or removal?

A second pilot project that came out of the Family First Task Force is called “4 Questions, 7 Judges.” It is the brain child of Judge Bill Owens from Ottumwa and Judge Linnea Nicol from West Union. They asked each other, “How can we avoid removing children from their families?” They came up with 4 magical questions. Five more judges from across the state jumped on board with this pilot. More information on the four questions can be found in our Annual Report released just today.

Over a 4-month period of time, those seven judges received a combined 83 requests for removal of children. Nearly half of those requests were denied which means those children stayed home. Out of the 44 requests for removal which were granted, over half of those children were placed with either biological family or family friends. Only 15 out of 83 requests went to family foster care.

Therefore, my first priority is to ensure that Iowa stands out among all the other states in implementing Family First.

Priority 2: Elevate Family Treatment Courts

My second priority is to elevate the presence of family treatment courts throughout the state of Iowa.

A modern system of justice cannot be limited to a traditional adversarial model like you see on TV. Some matters, such as child abuse and neglect, are best addressed through efforts targeting the root causes of the family's crisis. In Iowa, we have 12 family treatment courts scattered across the state. Treatment courts give people the help they need to transition out of the justice system and into a healthier, productive life—this benefits not only the participants but our entire state.

Estimates show that since 2007, our family treatment courts have generated $17.7 million dollars in cost avoidance for the state while allowing the strong majority of the families involved to safely stay together as the parents received treatment. In addition to keeping families intact, these treatment courts have reduced the number of young adults entering our adult prison systems and diverted juveniles away from the criminal justice system. The bottom line is that treatment courts work.

So what does a family treatment court look like? There is a program called STEPS in Audubon and Cass Counties that I had the honor of helping get started several years ago. The STEPS team included professionals in the areas of substance abuse, mental health, domestic violence, the Department of Human Services, the county attorney's office and the child's guardian ad litem or attorney. Every other week, we met in the Cass County courthouse. Attendance was taken, phones were gathered, and each name was randomly called out.

The participants would take turns joining me up front and start off with answering the same two questions: "How many days of sobriety?" and "Tell me one thing you did since the last time we were together to be the best mom or dad you can be."

Importance of Hope

I want to end my speech today on the same note as I began: HOPE.

This is the story of Shawn. I first met Shawn in 2015 because his son, Rylan, entered the child welfare system for the first time.

In 2017, Rylan became a part of the child welfare system for a second time. As the judge in Shawn's case, I would not allow Rylan to be in his father's care because he was testing positive for meth and refused to sign a safety plan. Three months later, Shawn agreed to try the STEPS family treatment program.

My first vivid memory of Shawn in STEPS was when I confronted him about yet another positive meth test. His response? "My body makes meth." I probably said something like, "I may have been born at night, but I wasn't born last night, Shawn." We went back and forth—in front of the other STEPS participants—and I let him know that there was nothing we could do for him if he wasn't going to be honest.

Soon after Shawn started STEPS, he got a job as a machinist in Atlantic. In spite of Shawn mentioning at his interview, "I'm a meth user and trying to get my kid back," he was hired.

During this time, Shawn could not safely provide for his son so he was placed in the family foster home of John and Naomi where he lived for about a year and a half and a special bond remains today as a result of their willingness to say “yes” to being foster parents.

Shawn’s mom was also an important part of his life through all this. She helped out with Rylan and provided Shawn with a place to live while he was trying to get sober. Shawn’s mom was also his taxi driver for work, court hearings, STEPS meetings or anything else, since Shawn did not have a valid driver’s license due to OWIs and outstanding fines.

Slowly but surely, meeting every other Wednesday, Shawn was consistently testing negative on his drug tests. He was actively involved in his local church and committed to his job.

On one particular STEPS day, when Shawn was asked, “Since we were together last time, what have you done for Rylan to be the best dad you can be?” he stood up from his chair, dug his wallet out of his pocket, and loudly announced to the entire courtroom, “For the first time in 10 years, I HAVE A VALID DRIVER’S LICENSE!” The courtroom erupted with hoots and hollers—not having a driver’s license in STEPS is typically the rule...not the exception. This was a really big deal.

In January 2019, soon after I transitioned from the district court to the supreme court, Shawn graduated from STEPS. I learned through the grapevine that Rylan’s court case was successfully closed out and Rylan remains in his father’s care today.

For the past two years, I’ve often thought about Shawn. Hoping he maintained sobriety. Hoping Rylan was safe in his dad’s care.

So what’s been going on since that time? Shawn and I recently reconnected. It was such an eye-opening experience for me to speak with Shawn candidly about his meth addiction.

Shawn continues to work as a machinist in Atlantic. The company where he worked joined a big international company and he was soon rehired where he remains as of today.

After reconnecting with Shawn, I asked him my two questions. “Shawn—how many days have you been sober since the last time we were together?” His answer “1,031.” And my second question, “Since we were last together, what have you done for Rylan to be the best dad you can be?” His answer, the same “1,031 days of sobriety.” That’s almost three years.

Shawn is here today with his son, Rylan; his parents, Harvey and Judy; and his two friends, Brandon and Dirk.

I could stop Shawn’s story right here, and I think it would be a great story about hope. But there’s more.

Two months ago, Shawn went to work like every other day. Everyone was told to meet up because Bob the Boss was coming to town. Shawn assumed he came to deliver Thanksgiving turkeys. Shawn heard Bob say something about an award that was being given out called the “Spirit of Caring Award.” Bob started to talk about the recipient who was chosen out of 3,500 global employees. He said the recipient was from Griswold—Shawn’s ears perked up. That’s his hometown. As Bob provided more personal details about the mystery recipient, it dawned on Shawn that it was him. According to Bob, “This year’s recipient is receiving this award based on the following attributes: constant positive attitude, development of personal relationships with those around him, extremely dependable and flexible.” Shawn was awarded $2500 to be donated to a charity of his choice, and he was given a crystal “Spirit of Caring Award” which he fondly refers to as his “Grammy.”

Shawn shared with me that in the thick of his addiction, he truly wanted to be clean. He hoped for a better life. Through his participation in the STEPS family treatment court, he’s living that better life.

Thank you, Shawn, for allowing me to share your story of hope and how Iowa’s judicial branch provided a path for your outstanding achievements.

It is stories like Shawn’s that continue to give me hope for the work of our judicial branch. By adapting to the unprecedented circumstances we’ve faced this year, we have proven that hope cannot be canceled or kept six feet away. We will continue to provide Iowans with the access to justice they need to turn their hopes into reality.

In closing, I want to thank my colleagues for their commitment to our work and to the legislature for its support of our work and for giving me this opportunity to speak with you today. On behalf of the people we serve, I look forward to continuing to ensure that all Iowans have access to justice.

Thank you.

CONDITION OF THE IOWA NATIONAL GUARD MESSAGE

President Chapman, Speaker Grassley, Governor Reynolds, Lieutenant Governor Gregg

Distinguished members of the Iowa General Assembly, state officials, friends, family and my fellow Iowans

Good morning and thank you for allowing me this opportunity to provide you an update on the Iowa National Guard.

As I begin this morning I want to thank Governor Reynolds and Lieutenant Governor Gregg for their strong and ongoing support of our Soldiers, Airmen, their families and civilian employers.

In a year like 2020, your untiring efforts on behalf of our Soldiers and Airmen is truly appreciated. Additionally, I want to thank you, our Iowa legislators for all you do for the Iowa National Guard. Your continued support is vital to our success.

I can report to you that is that Iowa National Guard is focused and is prepared to accomplish every mission we are assigned, whether at home or abroad.

2020 was an extraordinary year, it was humbling to see firsthand the collaborative efforts by so many local and state agency partners come together to support Iowans throughout this pandemic.

These partnerships, at every level reflects the sense of community and teamwork that Iowans expect and depend on.

These many partnerships facilitated our ability as a state to respond rapidly to emerging threats to help our fellow Iowans during this time of need. This response effort was truly all hands on deck, everyone working together.

As we have done throughout our history, the Iowa National Guard played a critical role while working together with our local, state, and federal partners responding to the needs of our citizens.

Because of the unique nature of our Citizen Soldiers and Airmen and our locations across the state, the Iowa National Guard is able to quickly fill critical gaps in response efforts.

Not since the historic floods of 2008, has the Iowa National Guard played such a diverse role in coming to the aid of Iowans during their time of need.

What makes the Iowa National Guard unique is the fact that the communities we serve are OUR communities. We live here. We work here. We are part of the community.

When a disaster strikes, we are called upon to ensure our neighbors, our towns, our families and friends recover as quickly as possible.

We have been involved in so much this past year. I'd like to highlight some of what we have accomplished: During our COVID-19 response efforts, the Iowa National Guard had over 900 Soldiers and Airmen on duty supporting Iowa's response to this pandemic.

We were honored to assist Lt Governor Gregg and the "Feeding Iowans Task Force" helping Iowan's who needed a hand obtaining food to feed their families through the support of our network of food banks and food pantries located in communities all across our state.

Soldiers and Airmen from the Iowa National Guard supported this effort by building over 20,000 boxes of food to hand out to our citizens and by delivering over 312 tons of food to our food banks and pantries.

The Iowa National Guard safely drove over 420,000 miles ensuring personnel protective equipment was available to first responders and health care professionals across the State at the same time ensuring timely delivery of Test Iowa lab samples to the State Hygienic Lab.

To put that in perspective, that's nearly 17 trips around the Earth without serious incidents or injuries.

Our Soldiers and Airmen provided operations and management expertise to 12 Test Iowa drive through locations across the State ensuring all aspects of required site resources remained available to safely operate those Test Iowa sites.

Out the over half a million COVID-19 tests completed at all Test Iowa site locations, the Iowa National Guard assisted with more than 70% of these at our drive through Test Iowa locations.

Our Soldiers and Airmen made thousands of phone calls supporting the Iowa Department of Public Health's Call Center's helping to track down and mitigate the spread of Covid-19.

In November, at the request of Governor Reynolds, the Iowa National Guard began assisting with a patient transfer hotline to help manage increased demands on hospitals across the State.

As we know, the true heroes of the pandemic response have been our frontline healthcare workers, local first responders and public health professionals.

The men and women of the Iowa National Guard are honored to have played a small role in supporting these professionals meet the needs of Iowans as we collectively work to mitigate the suffering caused by COVID-19.

I am extremely proud of all of our Iowa National Guard members and their commitment to help the people of Iowa during this challenging time.

The extended duration of this event and the diverse type of missions we conducted highlight the value of our Citizen Soldiers and Airmen to the State of Iowa.

These missions at home did not stop us from supporting federal missions around the world through various active duty deployments.

In total this past year, we provided over 1700 Iowa Soldiers and Airmen to serve on active duty missions throughout Europe, the Middle East, Asia and Africa. We also supported domestic operations at the Southwest border, and this past summer's California wildfires.

2020 saw the largest number of Iowa National Guard members deployed overseas in more than 10 years.

I could not be prouder of their accomplishments as they execute these missions and we look forward to their safe arrival home later this year.

In addition to our COVID-19 support and active duty deployments, we responded to numerous other missions supporting the people of Iowa.

The most significant was the Derecho that devastated portions of Iowa on August 10th. In the days following the Derecho, our mission focus was to support power restoration efforts in Linn County.

The Iowa National Guard responded with over 200 Soldiers and Airmen with their equipment and removed over 1400 loads of debris, totaling almost 15,000 tons while clearing 593 city blocks.

The Iowa National Guard provided cyber security expertise and equipment through our cyber professionals from the 168th Cyber Support Squadron helping Secretary of State Pate safeguard a fair and accurate election process for Iowa.

The Iowa National Guard cyber initiatives demonstrate how our federal missions are linked to the evolving threats we face here at home on a daily basis.

We remain actively engaged in supporting the domestic counter drug mission by providing aviation, analytic capabilities, training, and drug demand reduction support to law enforcement agency efforts to reduce illegal drug trade.

In 2020, the Iowa National Guard Counterdrug program supported the seizure of over 3600 lbs of illegal drugs and $3.7 million dollars in currency while providing support for 15 anti-drug coalitions.

Additionally, we trained over 6300 law enforcement professionals from across the country through our counter-drug schoolhouse on Camp Dodge.

Our RC-26 Reconnaissance aircraft based at the 132nd Air Wing here in Des Moines is a proven resource supporting law enforcement agencies and is instrumental in supporting the Counterdrug mission.

This past year saw a staggering number of state active duty requirements and overseas deployments for the Iowa National Guard, I could not be any prouder of these great men and women who make so many sacrifices to serve in our National Guard here in Iowa.

While executing all these missions, our Soldiers and Airmen still found time to demonstrate that they are among the best in the nation at what they do.

The 185th Air National Guard Refueling Wing in Sioux City, who will celebrate its 75th anniversary this year, was awarded its 14th (4th consecutive) Air Force Outstanding Unit Award.

The 132nd Air Wing in Des Moines celebrates its 80th anniversary this year, and was awarded its 15th (5th consecutive) Air Force Outstanding Unit Award.

The 109th Medical Battalion in Iowa City was the 2020 Army National Guard Philip A. Connelly Award winner recognizing culinary excellence within the Army Food Service Programs.

These recognitions demonstrate not only the training and readiness of the Iowa National Guard but reinforce the individual commitment, motivation, and pride of our Soldiers and Airmen.

While it is important to reflect on where we've been and the many challenges we've faced in 2020, we must also look forward to the year ahead. The Iowa National Guard will continue to be asked to support our nation's federal missions overseas.

We currently have nearly 400 Soldiers and Airmen preparing to mobilize and deploy to Europe, Africa and the Middle East Areas of Responsibility over the next several months.

While mentioning upcoming deployments, this year brings an exciting new dynamic to the relationship with our State Partnership Program partner, Kosovo.

We have coordinated for logistics and maintenance personnel from the Kosovo Security Force to serve with the Iowa National Guard in upcoming deployments to the Middle East.

This will mark the first expeditionary deployment for members of the Kosovo Security Force (KSF) to serve outside of its borders.

The KSF has demonstrated their commitment and preparedness to serve alongside us. As a nation they are taking steps to be a security provider and not just a security consumer.

Based on the engagements the Iowa National Guard has had with the KSF over the last 10 years, we know they are ready for this step forward. This effort will strengthen our state partnership while highlighting the professionalism and competency of the KSF to other coalition partners.

We faced numerous obstacles with the vision to deploy the KSF with units from the Iowa National Guard. The persistence and support from the Department of State, the Iowa National Guard, the KSF, and the Government of Kosovo, allowed us to turn this idea into a reality.

As I mentioned last year, the vision of the Iowa National Guard is to be the most trusted organization in Iowa. We continue to work every day to build and maintain trust in all that we do.

My vision for the Iowa National Guard is focused on always being ready to defend our country and come to the aid of Iowans in times of need.

This requires us to be responsible stewards of our resources ensuring our organization is ready for any task or mission put before us, and last but not least, to be responsive to the needs of our State and Nation.

To help accomplish this vision, we are focused on four Lines of Effort which will drive the Iowa National Guard's strategic objectives for the next seven years.

These Lines of Effort include; Fielding a Competent and Ready Force; Maintaining the Right Force Structure in Iowa; Developing and Maintaining Sustainable Infrastructure across the state; and Caring for our Service Members, our Employees and our families.

To meet the needs here at home and the security requirements abroad, the Iowa National Guard must remain focused on fielding a competent and ready force.

That means we must anticipate future needs for both the State and Nation as we develop plans that will increase predictability for our service members, their families as well as our civilian employers.

It is my belief that the demand for the Iowa National Guard will remain high as we look to the future.

The citizens of Iowa expect and depend on us to be always ready and prepared to respond to any threat or challenge.

This requires our units to be disciplined, physically fit, results-oriented, and achieve all readiness objectives.

We continuously define and measure these benchmarks ensuring we have a clear and precise picture of readiness.

I assure you, as I have committed to the Governor, the Iowa National Guard is now and will always be ready to respond to the needs of the people of Iowa.

Our second Line of Effort is Maintaining Force Structure. When we talk about Force Structure we mean having the right size and the right type of units stationed in the right areas of the state.

This effort requires a total team approach to achieve results. There is much emphasis on strength readiness – keeping our positions filled with quality members.

Recruiting and retention is a critical task that must be at the forefront of everything we do.

In 2020, we focused on our strength goals and successfully filled 100% of the positions allocated to the Iowa National Guard from the National Guard Bureau in Washington, D.C.

There are always challenges in meeting our readiness goals as we compete with a strong job market and face competition from other services and neighboring states offering competing educational incentives.

My goal is to ensure that those Iowans who want to remain in Iowa and serve in the military choose to be a member of the Iowa National Guard.

We know that quality state education incentives play a critical role in keeping our members here in Iowa.

Thanks to the funding that this legislative body has provided, we remain competitive with our state educational incentives for our members who want to pursue their education goals at Iowa colleges and universities.

We must also improve our efforts in the recruitment of diverse Iowa citizens. While we've made great strides in diversifying our force, we still have a long way to go.

I continue to ensure equity and inclusion remains a top priority across the Iowa National Guard.

I require my Senior Leaders to understand the demographics within their units and have the tools to positively impact and improve diversity and inclusion within our ranks.

Our diversity metrics continue to demonstrate a positive trend with an increase in the percentage of females and minorities serving the Iowa National Guard.

We currently have 3 Female O-6, Colonels in the Iowa Air National Guard and just this month, we promoted 2 female officers to Colonel in the Iowa Army National Guard, the first time in 15 years that an Army female has achieved this career milestone.

The Iowa National Guard is committed to Diversity and Inclusion across all spectrums.

We continue to engage with community groups through various outreach programs as well as conduct events that not only introduce our Soldiers and Airmen to various cultures but showcases the opportunities that exist in the Iowa National Guard to all Iowa citizens.

Our third line of effort is our ability to Maintain and Develop sustainable infrastructure.

Stewardship of resources entrusted to us requires us to be responsible not only for our people but also for the state and federal resources we receive to operate with.

These limited resources provide our units with quality infrastructure; specifically our armories and our maintenance facilities across the state.

I do thank this legislative body for your continued commitment and dedication to this effort. Without your support, we would not be successful in providing the facilities required to maintain our readiness.

A portion of my responsibilities as the Adjutant General is to look to the future and ensure the Iowa National Guard is postured for continued success.

I believe a future Army National Guard Readiness Center located south of the Des Moines metro area will posture the organization well into the future as we look at the shifting demographic trends within the state.

We have been in communication with the city of West Des Moines and they do have an interest in creating a future multi-use facility with us. The land for this proposed action has already been secured by the city and we look forward to advancing this project over the next couple of years.

This spring, we will dedicate our state of the art Davenport Readiness Center, one of the newest military facilities in the state.

This $23-million dollar totally federally funded project supports the recruiting, administration, training, and logistical needs for over 350 Soldiers now and into the future.

Additionally this spring, there will be a ribbon cutting for our new federally funded tracked vehicle maintenance facility designed for use by our Sustainment Training Center on Camp Dodge.

The Sustainment Training Center provides collective technical and tactical sustainment unit training for the entire US Army.

This new building will add additional capabilities for the Sustainment Training Center and will provide new opportunities for soldiers from across the nation to train in Iowa.

My 4th line of effort and the most critical component of everything we do in the Iowa National Guard is taking care of our service members, our civilian employees and our families.

Without our people, the Iowa National Guard does not exist. We recognize that military service places significant demands and stress not only on our service members but also on their families.

Please join me in applauding the dedication and sacrifices given by our families.
(PAUSE)

We owe them all an organizational culture that recognizes and values their contributions and sacrifices.

As I mentioned earlier, my goal is to be the most trusted organization in the state of Iowa.

In order to build trust there must be transparency, which is one of my priorities for the Iowa National Guard.

We acknowledge that sexual assaults, sexual harassment and retaliatory behaviors still happen and continue to be a problem for the military and for society.

I remain committed to holding those who cross the line accountable and am focused on eliminating these actions and behaviors from our ranks.

Respect, trust, and discipline are the foundation of unit cohesion and readiness. Leaders have the responsibility to build and maintain that foundation.

The Iowa National Guard is committed to creating a culture of prevention before, intervention during, and delivering compassion and human decency in the face of a catastrophic event.

We know we must work to earn the trust of our Soldiers, Airmen, civilians and fellow Iowans every day.

This transparency not only applies to sexual assault and sexual behavior, it also applies to behavioral health, mental health, and suicides.

Taking care of our service members involves open and frank discussions about difficult issues.

Like sexual assault and sexual harassment, these issues are not just military or National Guard issues, these are challenges across our society.

We are working hard in every aspect to build the trust in our organization that we will always do what is right.

We need to continue to invest in programs and activities that educate our Soldiers, Airmen and families on prevention and intervention to ensure our service members get the help they need, when they need it in order to increase our service members' safety, security and resiliency.

I am committed to building and maintaining the trust of those who serve in our formations and to do what is expected of us by our fellow citizens.

If we are to be truly successful in our mission, we must look beyond the next year or two.

We must prepare for what the world will look like in the years to come.

The world in which we live in today presents complicated security challenges that are constantly changing at an ever increasing rate and scope.

In order to meet these future challenges we have designed and implemented a strategic plan called the Iowa National Guard Strategy 2028.

This strategic plan will guide us over the next seven years to ensure that we are prepared to mobilize, deploy and execute diverse missions as part of the U.S. military or in support of the Governor for the people of Iowa.

Over our existence in the last 182 years, thousands of Iowans have steadfastly defended America both at home and abroad through service in the Iowa National Guard.

As demonstrated through the years, the Iowa National Guard has always been there, and we proudly stand ready today to respond to the unknown challenges that lie ahead both here at home and abroad.

The Condition of your Iowa National Guard remains strong.

With your continued support, and the support of Iowans everywhere;

We are always ready – we are warriors, we are citizens, we are your neighbors – standing together strengthening the future of Iowa.

Thank you!

19 A "nullification resolution" is a joint resolution
20 which nullifies all of an administrative rule, or
21 a severable item of an administrative rule adopted
22 pursuant to chapter 17A of the Code. A nullification
23 resolution shall not amend an administrative rule by
24 adding language or by inserting new language in lieu of 25 existing language.

26 A nullification resolution may be introduced by an 27 individual, a standing committee or the administrative 28 rules review committee, and may be referred to a
29 standing committee. A nullification resolution is 30 debatable, but cannot be amended on the floor of the

1 house.

2 Rule 29

3 Time of Introduction of Bills

4 No bill or joint resolution under individual
5 sponsorship, other than a nullification resolution,
6 shall be read for the first time after 4:30 p.m. on

20 time.
21 However, bills or joint resolutions sponsored
22 by standing committees or the administrative rules
23 review committee, co-sponsored by the majority and

27 permissible under Joint Rule 20. House, concurrent, 28 and nullification resolutions may be introduced at any
29 time.

3 house shall be prepared in proper form and filed
4 with the chief clerk no later than 4:30 p.m. on the

6 Every bill shall receive two readings but no bill
7 shall receive its first and last readings on the same

17 shall consist of a "reading" as provided in Rule 30.
18 3. Upon a first reading of the bill, the speaker
19 shall state that it is ready for commitment or 20 amendment; and the speaker shall commit it to the 21 standing or select committee, or to a committee of the 22 whole house. If to a committee of the whole house, the 23 house shall determine on what day.
24 4. On a nonlegislative day the speaker may cause a
25 statement, which shall consist of the title, enacting
26 clause, bill number and committee to which the bill
27 is referred, to be published in the house journal.

28 This publication shall constitute a first reading and 29 commitment and shall contain the notation "read and 30 committed under Rule 31".

1 5. All amendments offered to bills and resolutions
2 shall be accompanied by such copies as the chief clerk
3 shall direct.

4 6. Such amendments shall give the number of 5 the bill sought to amend and the chief clerk shall 6 designate each such amendment thus: Amendment to 7 House File _____, or Senate File _____, by 8 _____.

9 7. A bill reported out by committee shall go to the 10 speaker who shall direct that the bill be placed on the 11 regular calendar unless it covers subject matter more
12 properly within the jurisdiction of some other standing
13 committee, in which case the speaker may refer the bill
14 to the proper standing committee. In order to expedite
15 important business and set a definite time for the 16 bill's consideration, the speaker may direct the bill
17 to be placed on the special order calendar.

18 8. No amendment to the rules of the house, to any 19 resolution or bill, except technical amendments and 20 amendments to bills substituted for by senate files
21 containing substantially identical title, language,
22 subject matter, purpose and intrasectional arrangement,
23 shall be considered by the membership of the house
24 without a copy of the amendment having been filed with 25 the chief clerk by 4:00 p.m. or within one-half hour of 26 adjournment, whichever is later, on the day preceding
27 floor debate on the amendment. If the house adjourns
28 prior to 2:00 p.m. on Friday, the final deadline is two
29 hours after adjournment. However, committee amendments
30 filed pursuant to the submission of the committee

1 report may be accepted after this deadline. This
2 provision shall not apply to any proposal debated on 3 the floor of the house after the thirteenth week of 4 the first session and the twelfth week of the second
5 session. No amendment or amendment to an amendment
6 to a bill, rule of the house, or resolution shall be 7 considered by the membership of the house without 8 a copy of the amendment being on the desks of the 9 entire membership of the house prior to consideration.
10 However, the membership of the house may consider an 11 amendment or an amendment to an amendment to a bill, 12 rule of the house, or resolution without a copy of the 13 amendment being on the desks of the entire membership

14 of the house prior to consideration if a copy of the 15 amendment is made available to the entire membership of 16 the house electronically.

1 legislative day. The regular calendar shall include
2 a list of bills, nullification resolutions, and joint
3 resolutions which have been special ordered, including

10 The majority floor leadership shall cause to be
11 prepared and electronically distributed to the members
12 at the opening of each legislative day when floor
13 action is scheduled, a daily debate calendar consisting 14 of bills, nullification resolutions, and joint 15 resolutions from the regular calendar setting forth the 16 number and title of bills, nullification resolutions,
17 and joint resolutions for the next legislative day that 18 floor action is scheduled.

19 This rule does not apply to bills which have passed
20 both houses in different forms, reconsiderations, or 21 veto reconsiderations.

22 Rule 35

23 Substitution of Bills

24 A senate bill or resolution may be substituted
25 for an identical house bill or resolution which has 26 been called up for debate. An amendment to a senate
27 bill or resolution which has been substituted for an 28 identical house bill or resolution is out of order if 29 an identical amendment to the house bill or resolution
30 was considered.

1 If a bill is moved to unfinished business and a
2 similar senate bill is also on the calendar, both bills
3 shall be moved to unfinished business.

12 ordered shall be filed at least three session days
13 prior to the date set for debate. Amendments to an 14 amendment shall be filed at least two session days
15 prior to the date set for debate. However, corrective 16 amendments and amendments sponsored by either the 17 majority floor leader or the minority floor leader may 18 be filed at any time. Rule 31, subsection 8, shall not 19 apply to these amendments.
20 A corrective amendment is an amendment which does
21 not substantively change the amendment or the bill.
22 Rule 38
23 Germane Amendments
24 An amendment must be germane to the subject matter
25 of the bill it seeks to amend. An amendment to an 26 amendment must be germane to both the amendment and the 27 bill it seeks to amend. When a member objects to an 28 amendment on grounds that the amendment is not germane,
29 the speaker may invite members, who shall include the 30 majority and minority leaders, to the speaker's station

1 to discuss the objection.
2 Rule 39

11 immediately after they are filed with the chief clerk.
12 Reports recommending bills, joint resolutions, and 13 nullification resolutions for passage, for amendment
14 and passage, or without recommendation shall stand
15 approved unless written objections are filed during 16 the first legislative day following their printing in 17 the journal. If objections are filed, they shall be

3 with the treasurer of state in advance at a rate to be 4 fixed, and the newspaper publication of the bill shall
5 be without cost to the state. No legalizing act may 6 be introduced until all provisions of law have been 7 complied with.

11 bill and note the date of its passage.

12 In engrossing a bill, the chief clerk shall

PAGE 33

1 deemed to have lapsed upon adjournment sine die of that
2 session.
3 However, public hearings which have been requested
4 during or after the 9th week of the first session and 5 during or after the 7th week of the second session must

2 Bills in Committee of the Whole
3 Bills committed to the committee of the whole house
4 shall first be debated by section. After the report
5 of the committee of the whole, the bill shall again be

10 All amendments made to a report committed to a 11 committee of the whole house shall be noted and 12 reported as in the case of bills.

- 6 equivalent to rejection of the question.
- 7 Rule 68
- 8 Order of Consideration of Amendments
- 9 Amendments shall be considered by earliest position
- 10 in the bill. Amendments to the same place in the bill
- 11 shall be considered by the lowest amendment number. An
- 12 amendment which inserts language after a line and an
- 13 amendment which inserts language before the succeeding
- 14 line shall be considered amendments to the same place
- 15 in the bill.
- 16 However, an amendment to strike the enacting clause
- 17 shall always be considered first. An amendment filed
- 18 by a committee shall have the next highest order of
- 19 priority, followed by an amendment to strike everything
- 20 after the enacting clause and insert new language. An
- 21 amendment to strike language or to strike and insert
- 22 new language, except an amendment to strike everything
- 23 after the enacting clause and insert new language,
- 24 shall not be considered before amendments to perfect
- 25 all or part of the same portion of the bill.

- 2 when a member is speaking or the house is voting.
- 3 Rule 71
- 4 Withdrawal of Motions
- 5 After a motion is stated by the speaker or read by
- 6 the chief clerk, it shall be deemed to be in possession
- 7 of the house, but may be withdrawn by leave of the
- 8 house.
- 9 Rule 72
- 10 Unanimous Consent
- 11 Unanimous consent of the members may be asked for
- 12 suspension of any rule of the house. If there is no
- 13 objection to the request, the rule shall be considered
- 14 suspended.
- 15 Rule 73
- 16 Reconsideration
- 17 1. A motion to reconsider may be made only by a
- 18 member who voted on the prevailing side of the question
- 19 sought to be reconsidered.
- 20 2. A motion to reconsider may be made not later
- 21 than adjournment on the legislative day following
- 22 the legislative day of the action sought to be

23 reconsidered. Where the floor manager voted on 24 the prevailing side, the floor manager has the 25 prior right to make the motion, until adjournment
26 on the legislative day of the action sought to be
27 reconsidered. A motion to reconsider a nullification
28 resolution shall be acted upon not later than 29 adjournment on the legislative day following
30 the legislative day of the action sought to be

1 reconsidered.
2 3. A motion to reconsider made beginning the 3 fifteenth week of the first regular session, or the 4 thirteenth week of the second regular session, may be
5 taken up when made. A motion made at any other time
6 may be taken up prior to the third legislative day
7 succeeding the legislative day of the action sought
8 to be reconsidered only if called up by the mover,
9 and after the second legislative day succeeding the 10 legislative day of the action sought to be reconsidered
11 if called up by any member.
12 4. The making of a motion to reconsider takes 13 precedence over all other questions.
14 5. When passage, adoption, or failure of any bill,
15 joint resolution, or nullification resolution is 16 reconsidered, questions on amendments may also be 17 reconsidered and shall be disposed of immediately.
18 6. In the event that a motion to reconsider
19 is pending at the end of the first session or any 20 extraordinary session of any general assembly, or the 21 general assembly adjourns sine die, and the motion to 22 reconsider has not been voted upon by the house, the 23 motion shall be determined to have failed.
24 DIVISION VIII — VOTING
25 Rule 74
26 Manner of Voting
27 Members present may cast their votes, either by 28 operating the voting mechanism located at their 29 assigned desk or by signaling the speaker from the 30 floor of the house or from the south visitors' gallery

1 if they are unable to vote at their assigned desk.
2 Only a member may operate the voting mechanism at that
3 member's assigned desk. The speaker shall announce the 4 votes of members signaling their votes. Upon direction
5 of the speaker only those members at their desks and
6 voting shall be counted. Members who are not present
7 shall not cast their votes except:
8 1. Members who have not voted may record their

9 votes on any record roll call vote except quorum calls
10 within twenty minutes after the outcome of the vote
11 has been announced during the first session of the 12 eighty-ninth general assembly and within ten minutes
13 after the outcome of the vote has been announced
14 during the second session of the eighty-ninth general
15 assembly. Members shall initial their recorded votes
16 on a copy of the record roll call at the speaker's
17 station. However, if the aggregate of votes cast
18 under this rule would change the outcome of the vote
19 on a question, then none of the votes cast on the 20 question under this rule shall be recorded. A member
21 may request announcement of the names of members so
22 recorded after the twenty-minute period or ten-minute
23 period, as applicable.

24 2. Members meeting in a conference committee
25 or in administrative rules review committee at the 26 time a vote is taken on a question may have their 27 vote recorded within thirty minutes or adjournment,
28 whichever is first, of that same legislative day,
29 provided the aggregate of votes cast does not change
30 the outcome of the vote on a question.

1 Rule 75
2 Voting in the House and Duty of Voting
3 Voting on a question put to members on the floor of 4 the house shall not occur between midnight and 8 a.m.
5 on any legislative day except for voting on a motion to
6 recess, defer, or adjourn. Except as limited in Rule
7 76, every member who is in the house when a question is 8 put shall vote unless the house has excused that member
9 from voting for special reasons; however, such member
10 must have asked to be excused from voting prior to the 11 time the speaker puts the question.

12 Rule 76
13 Limitation on Right to Vote
14 No member shall vote on any question in which 15 the member or the member's immediate family member,
16 as defined in chapter 68B of the Code, has a direct
17 financial interest different from other similarly
18 situated persons or classes of persons of the general
19 public.

20 Rule 77
21 Call of the House
22 Upon written request of five members, the presiding
23 officer shall compel attendance of absent and unexcused
24 members for the consideration of specified bills,
25 resolutions, or amendments.
26 A call of the house shall specify the propositions
27 to which it is to apply and must be put into effect

28 before roll call is taken on the proposition. The 29 request may be filed with the chief clerk at any time
30 before final action upon the propositions, who shall

PAGE 41

1 notify the house immediately.
2 Rule 78
3 Method of Calling the House
4 Upon a call of the house, the names of the members
5 shall be called by the chief clerk and the absentees
6 noted, after which the names of the absentees shall 7 again be called. The sergeant-at-arms shall be 8 directed by the speaker to compel the attendance of 9 absent members, unless they are previously excused.
10 Any member occupying the member's seat during a call
11 of the house shall be counted by the speaker and that 12 person's name entered in the journal as being present
13 for the purpose of making a quorum.
14 Rule 79
15 Method of Calling the Roll
16 The electrical voting machine shall be used for a
17 call of the house, a quorum call or a roll call vote
18 on any question. If the electrical voting machine is 19 not in operating order when it is necessary to take 20 a record roll call vote, the presiding officer shall 21 order the vote to be taken by calling the roll in 22 alphabetical order, except the name of the presiding
23 officer shall be called last.
24 During the casting of the vote with the voting
25 machine, the individual votes and the vote totals shall 26 be shown on the display boards. Before the voting
27 machine is closed, the presiding officer shall inquire
28 of the house, "Have you all voted?"
29 Rule 80
30 Quorum and Record Roll Call Votes

1 A majority of the members shall constitute a quorum.
2 A record roll call vote shall be ordered upon
3 request of any two members. The names of the members
4 requesting the record roll call shall be entered in the 5 journal.
6 Rule 81
7 Previous Question
8 When a member moves for the previous question, the 9 member shall state whether the motion will apply to the 10 main question, to all the amendments, or to particular 11 amendments. The motion requires an affirmative vote of 12 at least a constitutional majority of the members. If 13 the motion for a previous question is not adopted, the 14 house shall proceed in the same manner as before the 15 motion was made.

16 If the motion is adopted, all debate must end and 17 the house will vote upon the question except:

18 1. If the motion applies to the main question, the 19 member in charge of the measure will have ten minutes
20 to speak for the purpose of closing discussion before
21 the vote on the measure is taken.

22 2. If the motion applies to an amendment, the 23 member proposing the amendment will have five minutes
24 to speak for the purpose of closing discussion before
25 the vote on the amendment is taken.

26 3. If a member has filed a written request with 27 the chief clerk of the house indicating the member's
28 desire to speak on a particular question. The request
29 must be filed before the motion is made by the movant.
30 The request allows a member to speak on a particular

1 question before the closing discussion by the member
2 who is in charge of the measure or who is proposing the 3 amendment.

4 Rule 82

5 Division of the Question

6 Any member may call for a division of the question,
7 which shall be divided if it comprehends questions so
8 distinct that one being taken away, the remainder may 9 stand separately for discussion by the house. Upon 10 request to divide an amendment, the chief clerk shall 11 restate the division and note the divided amendment in 12 the house journal. An amendment to strike out being 13 lost shall not preclude an amendment to strike out and 14 insert. An amendment to strike out and insert shall be 15 deemed indivisible.

- 2 governing lobbyists of the Senate and House of
- 3 Representatives for the Eighty-ninth General
- 4 Assembly.
- 5 BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE, THE HOUSE OF
- 6 REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING, That the joint rules
- 7 governing lobbyists of the Senate and House of
- 8 Representatives for the ~~Eighty-eighth~~ Eighty-ninth
- 9 General Assembly shall be as follows:
- 10 JOINT RULES GOVERNING LOBBYISTS

11 Rule 1

12 DEFINITIONS

13 As used in these rules, “client”, “gift”,
14 “honoraria” or “honorarium”, “immediate family member”,
15 and “lobbyist” have the meaning provided in chapter
16 68B of the Code. As used in these rules, the term
17 “political action committee” means a committee, but not 18 a candidate’s committee, which accepts contributions,
19 makes expenditures, or incurs indebtedness in any 20 aggregate of more than one thousand dollars in any one
21 calendar year to expressly advocate the nomination,
22 election, or defeat of a candidate for public office
23 or to expressly advocate the passage or defeat of 24 a ballot issue or influencing legislative action,
25 or an association, lodge, society, cooperative,
26 union, fraternity, sorority, educational institution,
27 civic organization, labor organization, religious

1 organization, or professional or other organization
2 which makes contributions in the aggregate of more
3 than one thousand dollars in any one calendar year
4 to expressly advocate the nomination, election, or 5 defeat of a candidate for public office or to expressly
6 advocate the passage or defeat of a ballot issue or 7 influencing legislative action.

8 Rule 2

9 REGISTRATION REQUIRED

10 1. All lobbyists shall register with the chief
11 clerk of the house and secretary of the senate on or 12 before the day their lobbying activity begins. In 13 addition, the lobbyist shall file with the chief clerk
14 of the house and secretary of the senate a statement
15 of the general subjects of legislation in which the 16 lobbyist is or may be interested, and a declaration
17 of the numbers of the bills and resolutions and the 18 bill number of study bills, if known, which will be 19 lobbied, whether the lobbyist intends to lobby for or 20 against each bill, resolution, or study bill, if known,
21 and on whose behalf the lobbyist is lobbying the bill,
22 resolution, or study bill.

23 2. A declaration on a bill, resolution, or study
24 bill shall be filed prior to the lobbyist advocating 25 for or against the bill, resolution, or study bill
26 or stating that the lobbyist’s client is undecided.
27 If such a prior declaration is impracticable, a
28 declaration shall be made within one working day
29 of the commencement of advocating for or against 30 the bill, resolution, or study bill or stating that

1 the lobbyist's client is undecided. A change to a
2 declaration for a bill, resolution, or study bill shall
3 be filed within one working day of when the change
4 becomes effective.

5 3. Registration expires upon the commencement of 6 the next regular session of the general assembly,
7 except that the chief clerk of the house and secretary
8 of the senate may adopt and implement a reasonable
9 preregistration procedure in advance of each regular 10 session during which persons may register for that 11 session and the following legislative interim.

12 4. If a lobbyist's service on behalf of a
13 particular employer, client, or cause is concluded

17 of the senate. Upon cancellation of registration, a
18 lobbyist is prohibited from engaging in any lobbying
19 activity on behalf of that particular employer, client,
20 or cause until reregistering and complying with these 21 rules. A lobbyist's registration is valid for only one
22 session of a general assembly.

23 5. If a registered lobbyist represents more than 24 one employer, client, or cause and the lobbyist's
25 services are concluded on behalf of a particular
26 employer, client, or cause after the lobbyist registers
27 but before the first day of the next legislative 28 session, the lobbyist shall file an amendment to the 29 lobbyist's registration indicating which employer,
30 client, or cause is no longer represented by the

1 lobbyist and the date upon which the representation
2 concluded.

4 additional employers, clients, or causes after the 5 lobbyist registers but before the first day of the 6 next legislative session, the lobbyist shall file an 7 amendment to the lobbyist's registration indicating the 8 employer, client, or cause to be added and the date
9 upon which the representation begins.

10 7. Amendments to a lobbyist's registration
11 regarding changes which occur during the time that the

26 committee amendments, whether filed at the time of 27 initial committee passage of the bill to the floor for 28 debate or after rereferral to the committee, shall 29 not be incorporated into the bill in the originating 30 house but shall be filed separately. Such a bill shall

PAGE 6

- 1 be limited to corrections which: Adjust language to
- 2 reflect current practices, insert earlier omissions,
- 3 delete redundancies and inaccuracies, delete temporary

4 language, resolve inconsistencies and conflicts,
5 update ongoing provisions, and remove ambiguities.
6 Amendments filed from the floor to strike sections of 7 the bill or the committee amendments shall be in order.
8 Following amendment and passage by the second house,
9 only amendments filed from the floor which strike
10 sections of the amendment of the second house shall be 11 in order.
12 It is the intent of the house and the senate that 13 such bills be passed out of committee to the floor for 14 debate within the first four weeks of convening of a
15 legislative session.
16 Rule 12
17 Amendments by Other House
18 1. When a bill which originated in one house is 19 amended in the other house, the house originating 20 the bill may amend the amendment, concur in full in 21 the amendment, or refuse to concur in full in the 22 amendment. Precedence of motions shall be in that 23 order. The amendment of the other house shall not be 24 ruled out of order based on a question of germaneness.
25 a. If the house originating the bill concurs in the 26 amendment, the bill shall then be immediately placed
27 upon its final passage.
28 b. If the house originating the bill refuses to 29 concur in the amendment, the bill shall be returned to 30 the amending house which shall either:

1 (1) Recede, after which the bill shall be read for
2 the last time and immediately placed upon its final
3 passage; or
4 (2) Insist, which will send the bill to a
5 conference committee.
6 c. If the house originating the bill amends the 7 amendment, that house shall concur in the amendment
8 as amended and the bill shall be immediately placed
9 on final passage, and shall be returned to the other
10 house. The other house cannot further amend the bill.
11 (1) If the amending house which gave second
12 consideration to the bill concurs in the amendment
13 to the amendment, the bill shall then be immediately
14 placed upon its final passage.
15 (2) If the amending house refuses to concur in the 16 amendment to the amendment, the bill shall be returned
17 to the house originating the bill which shall either:
18 (a) Recede, after which the bill shall be read for 19 the last time as amended and immediately placed upon 20 its final passage; or
21 (b) Insist, which will send the bill to a
22 conference committee.

23 2. A motion to recede has precedence over a motion
24 to insist. Failure to recede means to insist; and 25 failure to insist means to recede.

26 3. A motion to lay on the table or to indefinitely
27 postpone shall be out of order with respect to motions
28 to recede from or insist upon and to amendments to 29 bills which have passed both houses.

30 4. A motion to concur, refuse to concur, recede,

1 insist, or adopt a conference committee report is in
2 order even though the subject matter has previously
3 been acted upon.

4 Rule 13

5 Conference Committee

6 1. Within one legislative day after either house
7 insists upon an amendment to a bill, the presiding
8 officer of the house, after consultation with the 9 majority leader, shall appoint three majority party
10 members and, after consultation with the minority
11 leader, shall appoint two minority party members
12 to a conference committee. The majority leader of 13 the senate, after consultation with the president,
14 shall appoint three majority party members and,
15 after consultation with and approval by the minority
16 leader, shall appoint two minority party members to a
17 conference committee. The papers shall remain with the 18 house that originated the bill.

19 2. The conference committee shall meet before
20 the end of the next legislative day after their 21 appointment, shall select a chair and shall discuss the 22 controversy.

23 3. The authority of the first conference committee
24 shall cover only issues related to provisions of the 25 bill and amendments to the bill which were adopted
26 by either the senate or the house of representatives
27 and on which the senate and house of representatives
28 differed. If a conference committee report is not 29 acted upon because such action would violate this 30 subsection of this rule, the inaction on the report

1 shall constitute refusal to adopt the conference
2 committee report and shall have the same effect as if
3 the conference committee had disagreed.

4 4. An agreement on recommendations must be approved
5 by a majority of the committee members from each house.
6 The committee shall submit two originals of the report
7 signed by a majority of the committee members of each
8 house with one signed original and three copies to be

9 submitted to each house. The report shall first be 10 acted upon in the house originating the bill. Such 11 action, including all papers, shall be immediately
12 referred by the secretary of the senate or the chief
13 clerk of the house of representatives to the other
14 house.

15 5. The report of agreement is debatable, but 16 cannot be amended. If the report contains recommended
17 amendments to the bill, adoption of the report shall 18 automatically adopt all amendments contained therein.
19 After the report is adopted, there shall be no more
20 debate, and the bill shall immediately be placed upon 21 its final passage.

22 6. Refusal of either house to adopt the conference
23 committee report has the same effect as if the 24 committee had disagreed.

25 7. If the conference committee fails to reach
26 agreement, a report of such failure signed by a
27 majority of the committee members of each house shall 28 be given promptly to each house. The bill shall 29 be returned to the house that originated the bill,
30 the members of the committee shall be immediately

1 discharged, and a new conference committee appointed in
2 the same manner as the first conference committee.

3 8. The authority of a second or subsequent 4 conference committee shall cover free conference during
5 which the committee has authority to propose amendments
6 to any portion of a bill provided the amendment is 7 within the subject matter content of the bill as passed
8 by the house of origin or as amended by the second
9 house.

10 Rule 14

11 Enrollment and Authentication of Bills

12 A bill or resolution which has passed both houses
13 shall be enrolled in the house of origin under the 14 direction of either the secretary of the senate or the 15 chief clerk of the house and its house of origin shall 16 be certified by the endorsement of the secretary of the 17 senate or the chief clerk of the house.

18 After enrollment, each bill shall be signed by the 19 president of the senate and by the speaker of the 20 house.

21 Rule 15

22 Concerning Other Enrollments

23 All resolutions and other matters which are to 24 be presented to the governor for approval shall be 25 enrolled, signed, and presented in the same manner as 26 bills.

27 All resolutions and other matters which are not to

28 be presented to the governor or the secretary of state
29 shall be enrolled, signed, and retained permanently
30 by the secretary of the senate or chief clerk of the

1 house.
2 Rule 16
3 Transmission of Bills to the Governor
4 After a bill has been signed in each house, it shall 5 be presented by the house of origin to the governor by 6 either the secretary of the senate or the chief clerk
7 of the house. The secretary or the chief clerk shall 8 report the date of the presentation, which shall be 9 entered upon the journal of the house of origin.
10 Rule 17
11 Fiscal Notes
12 A fiscal note shall be attached to any bill or joint
13 resolution which reasonably could have an annual effect
14 of at least one hundred thousand dollars or a combined
15 total effect within five years after enactment of 16 five hundred thousand dollars or more on the aggregate
17 revenues, expenditures, or fiscal liability of the 18 state or its subdivisions. This rule does not apply
19 to appropriation and ways and means measures where the 20 total effect is stated in dollar amounts.
21 Each fiscal note shall state in dollars the 22 estimated effect of the bill on the revenues,
23 expenditures, and fiscal liability of the state or 24 its subdivisions during the first five years after 25 enactment. The information shall specifically note
26 the fiscal impact for the first two years following
27 enactment and the anticipated impact for the succeeding
28 three years. The fiscal note shall specify the source
29 of the information. Sources of funds for expenditures
30 under the bill shall be stated, including federal

1 funds. If an accurate estimate cannot be made, the
2 fiscal note shall state the best available estimate or 3 shall state that no dollar estimate can be made and
4 state concisely the reason.
5 The preliminary determination of whether the bill
6 appears to require a fiscal note shall be made by 7 the legal services staff of the legislative services
8 agency. Unless the requestor specifies the request is 9 to be confidential, upon completion of the bill draft,
10 the legal services staff shall immediately send a copy
11 to the fiscal services director for review.
12 When a committee reports a bill to the floor, the 13 committee shall state in the report whether a fiscal

14 note is or is not required.

15 The fiscal services director or the director's
16 designee shall review all bills placed on the senate
17 or house calendars to determine whether the bills are 18 subject to this rule.

19 Additionally, a legislator may request the 20 preparation of a fiscal note by the fiscal services
21 staff for any bill or joint resolution introduced which 22 reasonably could be subject to this rule.

23 The fiscal services director or the director's
24 designee shall cause to be prepared and shall approve
25 a fiscal note within a reasonable time after receiving 26 a request or determining that a bill is subject to 27 this rule. All fiscal notes approved by the fiscal 28 services director shall be transmitted immediately to 29 the secretary of the senate or the chief clerk of the 30 house, after notifying the sponsor of the bill that a

1 fiscal note has been prepared, for publication in the
2 daily clip sheet. The secretary of the senate or chief
3 clerk of the house shall attach the fiscal note to the 4 bill as soon as it is available.

5 The fiscal services director may request the 6 cooperation of any state department or agency in 7 preparing a fiscal note.

8 A revised fiscal note may be requested by a
9 legislator if the fiscal effect of the bill has been
10 changed by adoption of an amendment. However, a
11 request for a revised fiscal note shall not delay
12 action on a bill unless so ordered by the presiding
13 officer of the house in which the bill is under 14 consideration.

15 If a date for adjournment has been set, then a 16 constitutional majority of the house in which the 17 bill is under consideration may waive the fiscal note
18 requirement during the three days prior to the date set
19 for adjournment.

20 Rule 18

21 Legislative Interns

22 Legislators may arrange student internships during
23 the legislative session with Iowa college, university,
24 or law school students, for which the students may 25 receive college credit at the discretion of their
26 schools. Each legislator is allowed only one intern
27 at a time per legislative session, and all interns must 28 be registered with the offices of the secretary of the 29 senate and the chief clerk of the house.

30 The purpose of the legislative intern program shall

1 be: to provide useful staff services to legislators
2 not otherwise provided by the general assembly; to give
3 interested college, graduate, and law school students
4 practical experience in the legislative process as well
5 as providing a meaningful educational experience; and 6 to enrich the curriculum of participating colleges and 7 universities.

8 The secretary of the senate and the chief clerk of 9 the house or their designees shall have the following
10 responsibilities as regards the legislative intern
11 program:

12 1. Identify a supervising faculty member at each
13 participating institution who shall be responsible
14 for authorizing students to participate in the intern
15 program.

16 2. Provide legislators with a list of participating
17 institutions and the names of supervising professors to 18 contact if interested in arranging for an intern.

19 3. Provide interns with name badges which will 20 allow them access to the floor of either house when 21 required to be present by the legislators for whom they 22 work.

23 4. Provide orientation materials to interns prior 24 to the convening of each session.

25 Rule 19

26 Administrative Rules Review Committee Bills and Rule
27 Referrals

28 A bill which relates to departmental rules and 29 which is approved by the administrative rules review
30 committee by a majority of the committee's members

1 of each house is eligible for introduction in either
2 house at any time and must be referred to a standing
3 committee, which must take action on the bill within 4 three weeks of referral, except bills referred to 5 appropriations and ways and means committees.

6 If, on or after July 1, 1999, the administrative
7 rules review committee delays the effective date of a
8 rule until the adjournment of the next regular session
9 of the general assembly and the speaker of the house
10 or the president of the senate refers the rule to a
11 standing committee, the standing committee shall review
12 the rule within twenty-one days of the referral and 13 shall take formal committee action by sponsoring a
14 joint resolution to disapprove the rule, by proposing
15 legislation relating to the rule, or by refusing to 16 propose a joint resolution or legislation concerning 17 the rule. The standing committee shall inform the

18 administrative rules review committee of the committee
19 action taken concerning the rule.
20 Rule 20
21 Time of Committee Passage and Consideration of Bills
22 1. This rule does not apply to concurrent or 23 simple resolutions, joint resolutions nullifying
24 administrative rules, senate confirmations, bills
25 embodying redistricting plans prepared by the 26 legislative services agency pursuant to chapter
27 42, or bills passed by both houses in different 28 forms. Subsection 2 of this rule does not apply to 29 appropriations bills, ways and means bills, government
30 oversight bills, legalizing acts, administrative

PAGE 16

1 rules review committee bills, bills sponsored by
2 standing committees in response to a referral from 3 the president of the senate or the speaker of the 4 house of representatives relating to an administrative 5 rule whose effective date has been delayed or whose
6 applicability has been suspended until the adjournment
7 of the next regular session of the general assembly
8 by the administrative rules review committee, bills
9 cosponsored by majority and minority floor leaders of 10 one house, bills in conference committee, and companion
11 bills sponsored by the majority floor leaders of both
12 houses after consultation with the respective minority
13 floor leaders. For the purposes of this rule, a joint 14 resolution is considered as a bill. To be considered
15 an appropriations, ways and means, or government
16 oversight bill for the purposes of this rule, the 17 appropriations committee, the ways and means committee,
18 or the government oversight committee must either
19 be the sponsor of the bill or the committee of first 20 referral in the originating house.
21 2. To be placed on the calendar in the house of 22 origin, a bill must be first reported out of a standing
23 committee by Friday of the 8th week of the first 24 session and the 6th week of the second session. To be 25 placed on the calendar in the other house, a bill must
26 be first reported out of a standing committee by Friday
27 of the 12th week of the first session and ~~by June 6,~~
28 ~~2020, during the 10th week of the second session.~~
29 3. ~~Commencing June 3, 2020, each house shall only~~
30 ~~consider the following bills and resolutions:~~

PAGE 17

- 1 a. ~~Any bill that is exempt from subsection 2 of~~ 2 ~~this rule.~~
- 3 b. ~~Any bill that has passed one house and at least~~

4 ~~one standing committee in the other house.~~
5 ~~During the 10th week of the first session and the~~
6 ~~7th week of the second session, each house shall~~
7 ~~consider only bills originating in that house and~~
8 ~~unfinished business. During the 13th week of the~~ 9 ~~first session and the 11th week of the second session,~~
10 ~~each house shall consider only bills originating in~~
11 ~~the other house and unfinished business. Beginning~~
12 ~~with the 14th week of the first session and the 12th~~
13 ~~week of the second session, each house shall consider~~
14 ~~only bills passed by both houses, bills exempt from~~ 15 ~~subsection 2, and unfinished business.~~

16 4. A motion to reconsider filed and not disposed 17 of on an action taken on a bill or resolution which is 18 subject to a deadline under this rule may be called up
19 at any time before or after the day of the deadline by 20 the person filing the motion or after the deadline by 21 the majority floor leader, notwithstanding any other
22 rule to the contrary.

23 Rule 21

24 Resolutions

25 1. A "concurrent resolution" is a resolution to 26 be adopted by both houses of the general assembly
27 which expresses the sentiment of the general assembly
28 or deals with temporary legislative matters. It
29 may authorize the expenditure, for any legislative 30 purpose, of funds appropriated to the general assembly.

1 A concurrent resolution is not limited to, but may
2 provide for a joint convention of the general assembly,
3 adjournment or recess of the general assembly, or
4 requests to a state agency or to the general assembly
5 or a committee. A concurrent resolution requires
6 the affirmative vote of a majority of the senators or 7 representatives present and voting unless otherwise
8 specified by statute. A concurrent resolution does
9 not require the governor's approval unless otherwise
10 specified by statute. A concurrent resolution shall 11 be filed with the secretary of the senate or the chief
12 clerk of the house. A concurrent resolution shall be 13 printed in the bound journal after its adoption.

14 2. A "joint resolution" is a resolution which 15 requires for approval the affirmative vote of a
16 constitutional majority of each house of the general
17 assembly. A joint resolution which appropriates funds
18 or enacts temporary laws must contain the clause "Be It
19 Enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:", 20 is equivalent to a bill, and must be transmitted to 21 the governor for approval. A joint resolution which 22 proposes amendments to the Constitution of the State

23 of Iowa, ratifies amendments to the Constitution of 24 the United States, proposes a request to Congress
25 or an agency of the government of the United States
26 of America, proposes to Congress an amendment to the 27 Constitution of the United States of America, nullifies
28 an administrative rule, or creates a special commission
29 or committee must contain the clause "Be It Resolved by 30 the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:" and shall

PAGE 19

1 not be transmitted to the governor. A joint resolution
2 shall not amend a statute in the Code of Iowa.
3 Rule 22
4 Nullification Resolutions
5 A "nullification resolution" is a joint resolution
6 which nullifies all of an administrative rule, or
7 a severable item of an administrative rule adopted
8 pursuant to chapter 17A of the Code. A nullification
9 resolution shall not amend an administrative rule by
10 adding language or by inserting new language in lieu of 11 existing language.

12 A nullification resolution is debatable, but cannot 13 be amended on the floor of the house or senate. The 14 effective date of a nullification resolution shall 15 be stated in the resolution. Any motions filed to 16 reconsider adoption of a nullification resolution
17 must be disposed of within one legislative day of the 18 filing.

19 Rule 23

20 Consideration of Vetoes

21 1. The senate and house calendar shall include a
22 list known as the "Veto Calendar." The veto calendar
23 shall consist of:

24 a. Bills returned to that house by the governor
25 in accordance with Article III, section 16 of the 26 Constitution of the State of Iowa.

27 b. Appropriations items returned to that house by 28 the governor in accordance with Article III, section 16
29 of the Constitution of the State of Iowa.

30 c. Bills and appropriations items received from the

1 other house after that house has voted to override a
2 veto of them by the governor.

3 2. Vetoes bills and appropriations items shall
4 automatically be placed on the veto calendar upon
5 receipt. Vetoes bills and appropriations items shall 6 not be referred to committee.

7 3. Upon first publication in the veto calendar, the 8 senate majority leader or the house majority leader

9 may call up a vetoed bill or appropriations item at any 10 time.

11 4. The affirmative vote of two-thirds of the 12 members of the body by record roll call is required on 13 a motion to override an executive veto or item veto.

14 5. A motion to override an executive veto or item
15 veto is debatable. A vetoed bill or appropriation item
16 cannot be amended in this case.

17 6. The vote by which a motion to override an 18 executive veto or item veto passes or fails to pass
19 either house is not subject to reconsideration under 20 senate rule 24 or house rule 73.

21 7. The secretary of the senate or the chief clerk
22 of the house shall immediately notify the other house
23 of the adoption or rejection of a motion to override an 24 executive veto or item veto.

25 8. All bills and appropriations items on the veto
26 calendar shall be disposed of before adjournment sine
27 die, unless the house having a bill or appropriation
28 item before it declines to do so by unanimous consent.

29 9. Bills and appropriations items on the veto
30 calendar are exempt from deadlines imposed by joint

1 rule 20.

2 Rule 24

3 Special Rules Regarding Redistricting

4 1. If, pursuant to chapter 42, either the senate or 5 the house of representatives rejects a redistricting
6 plan submitted by the legislative services agency, the 7 house rejecting the plan shall convey the reasons for 8 the rejection of the plan to the legislative services
9 agency by resolution.

10 2. If, pursuant to chapter 42, the legislative
11 services agency submits a third redistricting plan
12 as provided by law, the senate and the house of 13 representatives, when considering a bill embodying the 14 third plan, shall be allowed to accept for filing as 15 amendments only such amendments which constitute the 16 total text of a congressional plan without striking
17 a legislative redistricting plan, the total text of 18 a legislative redistricting plan without striking a
19 congressional plan, or the combined total text of a
20 congressional plan and a legislative redistricting
21 plan, and nonsubstantive, technical corrections to the 22 text of any such bills or amendments.

23 Rule 25

24 Demonstrations

25 In order to ensure the health and safety of elected
26 officials, employees, the public, and lobbyists,
27 demonstrations are not permitted anywhere on the second

28 floor of the Capitol. For purposes of this rule,
 29 "demonstration" includes the posting, wearing, or 30 carrying of signage, setting up of tables or booths,

PAGE 22

1 chanting, rallies, or marches. "Demonstration" shall
 2 not include the distribution of materials directly
 3 to an elected official or employee of the legislature
 4 or the wearing of clothing or buttons that contain
 5 political statements or messages.

House Joint Resolution 11, a joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Iowa relating to the qualifications of electors was taken up for consideration.

House Joint Resolution 11, a joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Iowa relating to the qualifications of electors.
BE IT RESOLVED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF IOWA:

Section 1. The following amendment to the Constitution of the State of Iowa is proposed:

Section 5 of Article II of the Constitution of the State of Iowa, as amended by the amendment of 2008, is amended to read as follows:

Sec. 5. Disqualified persons. A person adjudged mentally incompetent to vote or a person convicted of any infamous crime felony who has not discharged his or her sentence shall not be entitled to the privilege of an elector.

Sec. 2. REFERRAL AND PUBLICATION. The foregoing proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Iowa is referred to the general assembly to be chosen at the next general election for members of the general assembly, and shall be published as provided by law for three consecutive months previous to the date of that election.

EXPLANATION

The inclusion of this explanation does not constitute agreement with the explanation's substance by the members of the general assembly.

This joint resolution proposes an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Iowa relating to the qualifications of electors. The amendment provides that a person who is convicted of a felony is not entitled to the privileges of an elector until that person discharges his or her sentence. Under current law, a person convicted of any infamous crime is not entitled to the privileges of an elector unless that person's rights are restored by the governor.

The resolution, if adopted, would be published and then referred to the next general assembly (90th) for adoption, before being submitted to the electorate for ratification.

Kaufmann of Cedar moved that the joint resolution be read a last time now and placed upon its adoption and the joint resolution was read a last time.

HOUSE FILE WITHDRAWN

Windschitl of Harrison asked and received unanimous consent to withdraw House File 890 from further consideration by the House.

DISSENT FROM SENATE FILE 562

Speaker Grassley, Majority Leader Windschitl, and Minority Leader Prichard:

Article III Section 10 of the Constitution of the State of Iowa provides:

Protest – record of vote – Every member of the general assembly shall have the liberty to dissent from, or protest against any act or resolution which he may think injurious to the public, or an individual, and have the reasons for his dissent entered on the journals; and the yeas and nays of the members of either house, on any question, shall, at the desire of any two members present, be entered on the journals.

I have here a written statement explaining the reasons for my dissent.

Prior to July 1, 1973, one could not be convicted of rape solely upon the uncorroborated testimony of a complaining witness. Regardless how believable, a single witness's testimony could not support a conviction. The complaining witness's testimony had to “...be corroborated by other evidence tending to connect the defendant with the commission of the offense.” Iowa Code § 782.4 (1973).

When the corroboration requirement was eliminated effective July 1, 1973, the statute of limitations for rape was eighteen months after its commission, regardless of the age of the complaining witness.

Since 1973, the statute of limitations for the crime of rape has been renamed sexual abuse and expanded numerous times. Not only has the statute of limitations been lengthened, but the statute has been amended, in part, to apply to complainants under the age of eighteen years.

Now, SF 562 eliminates the statute of limitations for sex abuse offenses committed on or with a minor (under the age of eighteen years) with the criminal proceeding being “...commenced at any time after the commission of the offense.”

It is this eradication of the statute of limitations that will be injurious to the public.

Because of the passage of time, an accused's ability to remember and defend will fade, if not disappear. An accused's denial alone will not be enough to rebut the complaining witness's believable, yet uncorroborated allegation.

In 1767 William Blackstone stated “the law holds that it is better that 10 guilty persons escape, than that 1 innocent suffer” or to paraphrase his doctrine, it is better for ten guilty persons to go free, than have one innocent person be convicted.

SF 562 has laid the groundwork for innocent people to be convicted.

Such a conviction would be an injustice and would be injurious to the citizens of Iowa.

Representative Rick L. Olson
House District 31

REMARKS BY MINORITY LEADER PRICHARD

Thank you Mr. Speaker and good evening members of the House.

I first want to thank my fellow caucus members. You continue to impress me with your leadership and persistence to do what's best for the people of your district.

I also want to thank legislative staff, including LSA, clerks, pages, and doormen who put in countless hours to make our important work possible. I especially want to thank the House Democratic Staff team: Joe, Dean, Jake, Rachelle, Kelsey, Bill, Brian, Dave, Alison, Jessye, and Steph. Thanks for all your hard work. We couldn't do this job without you.

When the session began back in January, I challenged each of us in this body to be the leaders that this moment in our history requires. To work together to restore faith and hope in our state, our nation, and our democracy.

My caucus pledged cooperation and hard work this year to turn the page on the pandemic and focus on long-term recovery efforts for Iowans and our entire economy.

Since opening day in January, 1,875 more Iowans have died from COVID-19. Thousands more have become infected. Too many Iowans are still having their lives and livelihoods disrupted by the pandemic. Whether it's the small business owner still trying to keep the doors open and hire workers or the parents struggling to find child care and keep their jobs.

House Democrats kept our promise to Iowans this session. We developed an aggressive plan to help families recover, get kids back in school safely, reopen small businesses, and support our dedicated health care workers on the front lines.

Instead of working together to enact aggressive recovery plans in the middle of this life-changing pandemic, Governor Reynolds and Republican leaders chose a partisan agenda that by and large ignored the pandemic.

Division over unity and partisanship over common sense.

This was a session without courage. It was a session that ignored the historic challenges Iowans face today.

We should have done more for families who need affordable child care, not raise property taxes on homeowners.

We should have done more to help Iowans who lost their job during the pandemic get back on their feet, not cut off assistance before they find a new job.

We should have helped Iowa students recover, not shift money from public schools to charter schools instead.

We should have worked together to lure new workers and businesses to Iowa, not make our state unwelcoming to others by embracing inequality, picking on kids, stripping away basic health care rights, and banning diversity education.

We should have provided more accountability and transparency of our tax dollars, not make deals with the special interests behind closed doors.

Strong leadership requires courage.

It takes courage to live in our democracy. It takes courage to speak truth to those who bend it. It takes courage to stand up to the special interests. It takes courage to speak out against extremist ideals that threaten our democracy every day.

Despite this body's lack of initiative and courage, I know the people of Iowa will persevere.

WE always have.

I wish you all a happy summer. I hope that you can find time for your family and a return to normalcy.

When we meet back here next winter, I hope you will come with the leadership and courage that Iowans could have used this session.

Remarks were given by Majority Leader Windschitl.

REMARKS BY SPEAKER GRASSLEY

Ladies and Gentlemen of the Iowa House, we've made it to the end of the 2021 Legislative Session.

First-year members: congratulations on completing your first session. To the staff – Jeff, Brad, Ashley, Jason, Amanda, Natalie, Kristin, Ben, Kristi, Lew, Mackenzie, Haley, Savannah, Melissa and Laura: Thank you for your tremendous work all session long.

To everyone in this chamber: to the legislators, Chief Clerk's office, pages, clerks and doormen. Thank you for all of your service and sacrifice to move this state forward.

It comes with long hours, late nights, time away from family, and many strenuous projects. But we do it all because of the thing we have in common.

We love the great state of Iowa.

As we walk out of the chamber today, there are certainly many accomplishments to be proud of.

When I sat here in front of you in January, welcoming you all back to the House floor, I laid out several priorities for our caucus.

We were fresh off the campaign trail. And in electing Republicans to represent 97 of Iowa's 99 counties, Iowans had just sent us a message – loud and clear - on the direction they wanted to see for the state of Iowa.

They gave us an agenda; get kids back in school, support law enforcement, expand access to child care and broadband internet and deliver a responsible budget. So, we got to work.

After hearing from countless parents whose voices weren't being heard, we responded with policies to deliver more parental choice in education. Almost immediately upon returning to the Statehouse, we passed a bill to require schools to offer parents the option of sending their children for 100% in-person learning.

And we didn't stop there. We established an additional avenue for the creation of charter schools in the parts of the state that need it most. And we prohibited school boards from limiting a parent's choice to open enroll their child just because of where they live.

Iowans made it clear they expected us to support law enforcement. We passed an expansive bill to increase protections and support for law enforcement while giving them additional tools to keep our communities safer.

We made supporting public safety a priority in the budget as well. As we identified our budget priorities, we allocated an increase of $20.5 million for the Department of Corrections and an increase of $10.6 million for the Department of Public Safety. The largest increases for each of those departments in a decade.

We fought hard to maintain those record increases as we negotiated the budget. And I was proud to see those make it into the budget's final passage.

While I'm on the budget, in my opening comments for session, I made Iowans a promise that in a time of so much uncertainty, Iowans could trust to see the same steady, responsible leadership they've come to expect from House Republicans when it comes to the budget.

Because of the conservative and responsible budgeting principles from House Republicans over the last decade, our state was in a strong enough fiscal position to not only fund our priorities, but deliver significant tax relief for Iowans.

In our tax relief package, we included income tax cuts for hardworking Iowans, a phaseout of the inheritance tax, additional workforce housing credits, and much more. And we did it in a responsible way to maintain the state's fiscal stability.

The last thing I'd like to highlight is something we can all take home to our constituents with pride. This chamber led the way for the expansion of access to quality, affordable child care. We passed over ten bills addressing the problem from all angles.

We were successful in seeing many of those bills become law. We doubled the income eligibility for child care tax credits from families making $45,000 a year to $90,000. We eliminated the "cliff effect" so families can take a promotion and accept a pay raise without losing their child care assistance all at once.

We increased child care rates by $13.4 million and increased access to child care in rural areas by allowing in-home child care providers to accept an additional child.

I could go on for 30 more minutes listing all of the great things we accomplished this session. From protecting the 2nd Amendment, Free Speech in Schools, Life, and Election Integrity, to expanding access to broadband, mental health services, and telehealth. But I'll leave it there for today.

As we head back to our districts, we have a lot to show for our work in the Capitol these last four months. Iowans put their faith in us to act on their priorities, to keep our promises. And I'm proud of how we've delivered.

Now, it's time we head back to our districts to listen to our constituents and receive additional instructions. I look forward to returning to the chamber with all of you and continuing our work for the state of Iowa.

Thank you.

The House stood at ease at 11:39 p.m., until the fall of the gavel.

The House resumed session at 11:44 p.m., Speaker Grassley in the chair.

GOVERNOR'S SIGNING MESSAGE HOUSE FILE 891

June 16, 2021

The Honorable Paul Pate
Secretary of State of Iowa
State Capitol
Des Moines, Iowa 50319

Dear Mr. Secretary,

I hereby transmit House File 891, an Act relating to appropriations for health and human services and veterans and including other related provisions and appropriations, providing penalties, and including effective date and retroactive and other applicability date provisions.

Section 31 of House File 891 directs the Department of Human Services to establish a fee-for-service pharmacy dispensing fee reimbursement at $10.38 per prescription for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2021. This figure represents an increase from the current rate of $10.07. The legislation also directs DHS to amend Medicaid managed care organization contracts in either of two ways: reflect the new $10.38 rate, or permit the managed care organization to agree upon a lower reimbursement rate, not to exceed $10.38 per prescription, with any participating pharmacy having more than thirty locations within the state but headquarters outside the state.

I recognize that a policy which permits the state's Medicaid managed care organizations to reach a mutually agreeable dispensing fee with pharmacies located across the state would likely result in a slight cost savings for the state Medicaid program. However, at the same time, it creates inconsistency between Iowa's pharmacies large and small and has the potential to drive business from local Iowa pharmacies. And I agree with industry stakeholders that as applied, the policy raises significant constitutional concerns regarding the regulation of interstate commerce and discrimination against out-of-state businesses.

Nothing within the plain language of Section 31 requires DHS to amend current contracts to include this policy and, therefore, it is unnecessary for me to formally disapprove of that language. However, for the reasons cited, I cannot agree that such a policy is in the best interest of Iowans. Instead, I hereby direct DHS to amend current contracts to authorize a rate of $10.38 per prescription across-the-board under Section 31 of House File 891. The above House File is hereby approved on this date.

Sincerely,

Kim Reynolds
Governor of Iowa

GOVERNOR'S VETO MESSAGE
SENATE FILE 567

June 16, 2021

The Honorable Paul Pate
Secretary of State of Iowa
State Capitol
Des Moines, Iowa 50319

Dear Mr. Secretary,

I hereby transmit Senate File 567, an Act relating to loans originated by mortgage bankers.

Senate File 567 adds mortgage bankers to the list of lenders that are permitted to impose certain charges, fees, or costs upon a borrower in connection with the purchase or financing of real property used for family dwellings. The bill passed both chambers unanimously and, at that time, no interested parties voiced any opposition to the legislation.

But since passage, legitimate concerns have been raised by stakeholders and legislators alike regarding the potential scope and consequences of Senate File 567. And while I recognize and support the intended purpose of Senate File 567, I believe the State of Iowa will ultimately benefit from a more full and deliberative legislative process in which these concerns can be addressed. I encourage the legislature to continue to work on this important issue.

For these reasons, I respectfully disapprove of Senate File 567 in its entirety and it is vetoed in whole.

Sincerely,

Kim Reynolds
Governor of Iowa

MEMBER RESIGNATION

September 7, 2021
Speaker Pat Grassley
Iowa House of Representatives

Dear Speaker Grassley,

I have recently been given the opportunity to serve the public in another area of my passion, which is law enforcement. I have taken a position as the Assistant Director of the Iowa Law Enforcement Academy. With my duties and responsibilities at the Iowa Law Enforcement Academy it is not possible to serve in both capacities and do them justice. With that, I am resigning as State Representative of HD 29 effective September 10, 2021.

It has been an honor and a privilege to serve as State Representative for House District 29 and serve all Iowans. I want to thank the constituents of House District 29 for their trust and support in electing me to serve. I also want to thank my family for their support and sacrifice that made it possible for me to serve. I am proud to have served with such caring and compassionate legislators at the Iowa Capitol and want to thank all of my colleagues on both sides of the aisle. We may not have always seen eye to eye on the issues, but everyone was always willing to communicate and work with me on positive change for Iowans.

My hope is, as we move forward during these politically divisive times, that everyone will do their part to bringing us together. Be caring and compassionate in your actions with the courage to do what is best for all Iowans.

Sincerely,

Wes Breckenridge
HD 29 State Representative

15 ~~subsection 4, paragraph “e”~~.
16 2. The damage disclosure statement required by this section
17 shall, at a minimum, state whether the transferor knows if the 18 vehicle was titled as a salvage, rebuilt, or flood vehicle in 19 this or any other state prior to the transferor's ownership

21 the vehicle was damaged to the extent that it was a ~~wrecked or~~ 22 ~~salvage severely damaged~~ vehicle as defined in section 321.52,
23 ~~subsection 4, paragraph “e”~~, during or prior to the transferor's

26 7. a. The damage disclosure statements shall be made
27 on the back of the certificate of title if the title is

23 portion of such payment with the parent, guardian, or pupil.

24 c. Moneys remaining in a pupil's account upon conclusion

16 educational expense for a pupil if the computer or portable

PAGE 6

1 transfer any remaining moneys in the account for deposit in the
2 general fund of the state. If the improperly obtained amounts
3 from the scholarship have been disbursed from the applicable
4 account in the student first scholarship fund, the department
5 of education shall recover such amounts from the parent or
6 guardian, including by initiating legal proceedings to recover
7 such amounts, if necessary. A parent or guardian who commits
8 a fraudulent practice under this section is prohibited from 9 participating in the student first scholarship program in the 10 future.

11 b. If, prior to the end of the required attendance
12 period of the school year, a pupil who receives a student
13 first scholarship withdraws from enrollment in the nonpublic
14 school or is expelled, the nonpublic school shall notify the 15 department of education in writing of the pupil's withdrawal
16 or expulsion, and the pupil's parent or guardian shall notify 17 the department of education of the pupil's withdrawal or 18 expulsion from the nonpublic school. A pupil's expulsion
19 from the nonpublic school prior to the end of the required
20 attendance period for the school year shall invalidate the 21 pupil's eligibility for the student first scholarship for the 22 school budget year. A pupil's withdrawal from a nonpublic
23 school prior to the end of the required attendance period of 24 the school year shall invalidate the pupil's eligibility for 25 the student first scholarship for the school budget year unless 26 the withdrawal is the result of a change in residence of the 27 pupil and the pupil, following written notice by the parent
28 or guardian and certification by the new nonpublic school to 29 the department of education, enrolls in a different nonpublic
30 school in this state for the remainder of the school year.

31 c. (1) Upon receipt of a notice of expulsion under 32 paragraph "b", the department of education shall close the 33 pupil's account in the student first scholarship fund and

34 transfer any remaining moneys in the account for deposit in 35 the general fund of the state. In addition, if amounts from

1 the scholarship for the school budget year during which the
2 pupil is expelled have been disbursed from the expelled pupil's
3 account in the student first scholarship fund, the department
4 of education shall recover such amounts from the parent or
5 guardian, including by initiating legal proceedings to recover
6 such amounts, if necessary.
7 (2) Upon receipt of a notice of withdrawal under paragraph
8 "b" and a determination that the pupil's withdrawal was 9 not the result of a change in residence, the department of 10 education shall cease disbursements of remaining moneys in 11 the pupil's account in the student first scholarship fund,
12 close the pupil's account, and transfer any moneys remaining
13 in the pupil's account for deposit in the general fund of 14 the state. In addition, if amounts from the scholarship for 15 the school budget year during which the withdrawal occurs
16 have been disbursed from the pupil's account in the student
17 first scholarship fund, the department of education shall 18 recover such amounts from the parent or guardian to the extent
19 the amount disbursed exceeds the amount of the scholarship
20 proportionate to the remaining portion of the school year
21 following the withdrawal, including by initiating legal 22 proceedings to recover such amounts, if necessary.
23 (3) Upon receipt of a notice of withdrawal under paragraph
24 "b" and a determination that the withdrawal was the result of 25 a change in residence but that the pupil did not enroll in 26 a different nonpublic school in this state for the remainder
27 of the school year, the department of education shall cease
28 disbursements of remaining moneys in the pupil's account in 29 the student first scholarship fund, close the pupil's account,
30 and transfer any moneys remaining in the pupil's account for 31 deposit in the general fund of the state.
32 (4) If a pupil's eligibility is invalidated under the 33 provisions of paragraph "b", the pupil shall be ineligible for a
34 student first scholarship for the following school budget year
35 under subsection 1, paragraph "a", subparagraphs (2) and (3).

1 8. Moneys remaining in a pupil's account when the pupil
2 graduates from high school or turns twenty-one years of age,
3 whichever occurs first, shall be transferred by the department
4 of education for deposit in the general fund of the state.
5 9. a. A parent may appeal to the state board of education
6 any administrative decision the department of education
7 makes pursuant to this section, including but not limited
8 to determinations of eligibility, allowable expenses, and 9 removal from the program. The department shall notify the

10 parent or guardian in writing of the appeal process at the same
11 time the department notifies the parent or guardian of the 12 administrative decision. The state board of education shall 13 establish the appeals process consistent with chapter 17A and 14 shall post such appeal process information on the state board
15 of education's internet site.

16 b. The state board of education shall refer cases of 17 substantial misuse of student first scholarship funds to the 18 attorney general for the purpose of collection or for the 19 purpose of a criminal investigation if the state board of 20 education obtains evidence of fraudulent use of an account.
21 10. This section shall not be construed to authorize the 22 state or any political subdivision of the state to exercise
23 authority over any nonpublic school or construed to require 24 a nonpublic school to modify its academic standards for 25 admission or educational program in order to receive payment
26 from a parent or guardian using funds from a pupil's account
27 in the student first scholarship fund. A nonpublic school
28 that accepts payment from a parent or guardian using funds
29 from a pupil's account in the student first scholarship fund
30 is not an agent of this state or of a political subdivision
31 of this state. Rules adopted by the department of education
32 to implement this section that impose an undue burden on a
