Senator Rothert moved that a committee of two be appointed to wait upon the Lieutenant-governor and notify him that the Senate is now ready to receive him as President of the Senate, and the chair named as such committee Senators Rothert and Hunt.

President Campbell, upon retiring, addressed the Senate as follows:

Gentlemen of the Senate—In severing my connections with this body, with which I have been so long and pleasantly associated, a parting word may not be out of harmony with the place and the hour.

Twelve years ago I took the obligation and assumed the duties of a senator on this floor; eight years of that time I was actively engaged in legislative duties, giving my energies and whatever ability I possess, to the State, endeavoring to legislate for the welfare of our great commonwealth, and as I review the legal enactments of that period, I am conscious that my votes and influence, in a great measure, have been in the line of duty. As the presiding officer of this body for four years, my relations have been of a most pleasant (and may I not hope, profitable) character.

Since my sojourn here, the whirligig of time has marked many changes—Iowa has stepped forward in the race of States, from the rear rank to a place among the leading States of our nation, developing in a wonderful degree—the seat of population and power has been transferred from the southern and eastern border to the now populous central, western, and northwest sections of the State, which jointly claim increased representation and legislative power in these halls. The great charitable institutions that so grandly attest the great heart of our great people were then in embryo—your stately capitol, which stands and will stand as a monument of our wonderful development, was not yet conceived in the brain of the architect; and our educational, industrial, and other interests have kept step with the onward march of our wonderful State. In this period six General Assemblies have come and gone, their work is done, their members scattered as the wind. Of the senators who sat in this chamber, and with whom I was associated in 1870, but two are here to-day, the honored veteran from Fayette, and the highly respected senator from Ringgold. Some are filling places of honor and trust in the legislative councils and other departments of the nation; some are occupying honored positions in the States and Territories of the west, others have cast their fortunes on the golden shores of the Pacific; death has claimed some of the noblest, and even since we last met as the Eighteenth General Assembly, two of our number, the Hon. Thomas Hanna, of the 20th District and Hon. W. P. Gaylord of the 46th District, have "joined the General Assembly on the other shore," leaving behind examples in public and private life that we revere and should imitate, and precious memories that shall ever be cherished.

As your presiding officer, I have been constantly under obligations to honorable senators for that uniform courtesy and kindness that have been extended toward me, and I thank you one and all for those civilities that have so aided me in discharging the duties of my position. Parliamentary rulings have necessarily been prompt, and in many instances may have seemed harsh, yet it has ever been the aim of your presiding officer to carefully guard the rights of every member, reciprocate the courtesy extended toward myself, and yet facilitate the business of this body. In retiring from this honorable position I commit the power and responsibilities entrusted to me to good hands, and wishing you a pleasant and profitable session, and a cordial good-bye, I desire to present you my worthy successor and your honored Lieutenant-governor, Orlando H. Manning.

Lieutenant-Governor O. H. Manning, upon taking the chair as President of the Senate, delivered an inaugural address.

Senator Larrabee offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted by a rising vote:

Resolved, That we hereby tender our sincere and heartfelt thanks to Lieutenant-Governor F. T. Campbell for the able, conscientious, and impartial manner in which he has performed his official duties. In letter and spirit we say, well done good and faithful servant.

The following resolution, introduced by Senator Hartshorn, was also adopted unanimously:

Resolved, That we tender our heartfelt thanks to Hon. Delos Arnold, our retiring President pro tempore, for the very faithful and impartial manner in which he has presided over our deliberations.

Senator Russell of Jones moved that the Senate do now adjourn.

The motion prevailed, and the Senate adjourned until 2 o'clock P. M. Tuesday, the 17th inst.

Senator Hall offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Committee on Fish and Game be and are hereby instructed to investigate and report to the Senate, the condition of the public interests in the stocking of rivers of the State with fish; the extent to which the law requiring the construction of fish-ways, have been complied with; and what, if any changes of law may be required to protect the interest of the public in the streams of the State, without impairing the manufacturing or milling interests, or rights of individuals, and if necessary to report a bill.

The following offered by Senator, Arnold was unanimously adopted:

The memorable defense of Allatoona pass made famous the name of two heroic men—the one a former, the other a late citizen of Iowa.

The forces of General Corse at Allatoona, were surrounded by an overwhelmingly large force of rebels under General Finch. The latter, to "avoid useless effusion of blood," had demanded an unconditional surrender and gave but five minutes for a reply. General Corse made emphatic answer that his troops were ready for the useless effusion whenever it was agreeable to General Finch. His answer was followed by an immediate attack lasting five hours and ending in the complete repulse of the enemy. During this gallant defense occurred an incident famous both in military annals and in song, and which, for moral courage and heroic daring, ranks with the noted incidents of history.

General Sherman was hastening to the relief of the beleagured garrison. He had reached the summit of Kenesaw, and from there had signaled, "Hold on to Allatoona to the last, I will help you," Corse, wounded yet undaunted, wished to send a reply. Above the breastworks was a perfect hail of bullets from the enfilading fire of the enemy.

Brave men cowed by the awful storm of lead, blanched with fear, and refused to flag the message. A mere boy seized the flag, mounted the parapet and with a heroism almost more than human waved that message which has been embalmed in verse and sung in both the Old world and the New.

The boy hero of Allatoona was the Honorable James W. McKenzie of Franklin county, late judge of the Eleventh Judicial District, who died at Hampton, January 15, 1882.

WHEREAS, After a long and painful illness which has been borne with the fortitude of the heroic Christian soldier, it has pleased Divine Providence to remove from this sphere of existence our dearly beloved friend and most highly esteemed fellow citizen, the Honorable James W. McKenzie of Franklin county; therefore,

Resolved, That in the early death of Judge McKenzie our State and the community of which he was an honored member has suffered an irreparable loss.

Resolved, That we recognize and keenly feel that in his death the State has lost one of its bravest volunteer soldiers, the bench and bar one of their brightest ornaments—a man whose patriotic deeds and pure and useful life, should entitle him to be held in the most grateful recollection by all citizens of the commonwealth of Iowa.

Senator Clark of Wayne offered the following resolution which was read and referred to the Committee on Agriculture.

Resolved, That this Senate request our Representatives in Congress and our Senators to use all honorable means to make the Bureau of Agriculture an executive department of the Government, so that the agricultural interests may be entitled to a cabinet seat in the general Government.

Miss H. F. Parlin was granted leave to place her portrait of Ex Governor Gear on exhibition in the Senate Chamber.

The President announced as permanent Pages, Charles K. Needham, Rufus B. Clark, Geo. Johnson.

Senator Russell of Jones offered the following resolution:

Resolved by the Senate, That the invitation tendered to the members of the Senate yesterday to attend a reception of the surviving members of the Constitutional convention which, twenty-five years ago, formed our organic law, to meet them at Moore's opera-house in this city to-day at half-past one o'clock, is hereby acknowledged and accepted. RESOLUTIONS.

Senator Marshall offered the following resolution, which was read and referred to the Committee on Federal Relations:

Resolved by the Senate, the House concurring, That in view of the unjust litigation and extortions forced upon the people of our State by barb wire, drive-well, and other patent-right monopolies, we do hereby respectfully and earnestly request our legislators in the national halls of Congress at Washington to exert their influence to amend our patent laws in such a manner that, while they will secure due and ample reward to the inventive genius of our country, they will also protect the people of our State from the recurrence of such unjust exactions.

Senator Tirrill offered the following resolution, which was read and referred to the Committee on Public Buildings.

Resolved, That the Committee on Public Buildings be instructed to inquire, and report at their earliest convenience, how large an appropriation must be made by this General Assembly to complete the capitol, or enough for occupancy by the next General Assembly; also, including that part of said capitol set apart for the use of the State Library, and for State officers.

By Senator Bills, the following joint resolution and memorial.

WHEREAS, The agricultural, manufacturing, and commercial interests of the Northwest, and no less so those of the entire country, are largely dependent for their development upon a full enjoyment of facilities for the transportation of products and commodities; and

WHEREAS, the two great interior water routes of transportation in the United States are those of the Mississippi River, from north to south, and of the lakes, with the Erie Canal and the Hudson River, from west to east; and

WHEREAS, A direct all-water communication between these two great routes is indispensable to a complete service to the interests which imperatively demand improved and cheaper routes of transportation, since without such connection there can be no real use by the Northwest of a water route to the East, nor by the East to the Northwest; and

WHEREAS, The General Assembly of Iowa did, in 1864, and again in 1870, and still again in 1874, memorialize Congress for the construction of a canal to connect the Mississippi River with the Illinois River, on a line running eastward from or near Rock Island, while Governors Merrill, Carpenter, and Gear have also in official communication urged that Congress should undertake this greatly needed work of improvement; therefore,

Resolved that the Senate, the House concurring, Respectfully memorialize the Congress of the United States to authorize, provide for, and require by enactment at its present session, an early construction of a canal, for commercial purposes, from Hennepin, on the Illinois River, to or near Rock Island, on the Mississippi River.

Resolved, That our Senators and Representatives in Congress be requested to use all possible and proper exertion to secure from the body in which they respectively serve, the passage of a bill, at the present session, ordering the immediate beginning of the work of constructing the canal herein mentioned, and to vote liberal appropriation therefor, to the end that said canal may be completed and opened to the commerce of the country at the earliest possible date.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, duly signed by the President of the Senate, and attested by the Secretary, be forwarded to each one of our Senators and Representatives in Congress, in order that the same may be presented to the respective bodies in which they serve.

Read, ordered printed and referred to the Committee on Commerce.

Senator Hutchison offered the following resolution.

Resolved, That the Railroad Committee of the Senate are instructed hereby to inquire whether competing railroad corporations are in the habit of agreeing that one road shall take all the freight or the greatest portion thereof, to and from or to or from any one point or territory in the State, while the other companies with their railroad lines there located refuse to take freight in order to carry out such an agreement.

2. That said committee make such inquiries concerning shipments at Cedar Rapids, Dubuque, Ottumwa, or any other point where there are competing railroad lines which to said committee shall seem proper and to ascertain all about such agreements, if any exist, and said committee shall have the right to subpoena and compel the attendance of witnesses and shall have any statements which any citizen may desire to make on said subject, by written statement in affidavit form, or by being personally present.

3. That said committee shall make any other inquiries which to them shall seem needed concerning the working of the Railroad Commissioners' law, and shall report fully and specifically to the Senate on the subject of this resolution on or before the fifteenth (15th) day of February, 1882, and further, whether in the judgment of said committee any legislation is needed to provide against the abuses suggested in this resolution, if such exist, and to report a bill to correct the same if practicable.

The resolution was read and adopted.

The following offered by the same senator was also adopted:

WHEREAS, There is a universal demand for the fourth annual report to the Governor, of the Railroad Commissioners, which is full of most valuable information on railroad matters and especially the transportation question, showing the workings of the Railroad Commissioners' law, what can be done under it by persons having property of any kind to transport to correct any grievance which they may have, and how to make complaints, if any shall be needed, no matter what the grievance may be; and

WHEREAS, No pains seem to have been taken by foregoing General Assemblies to place this report among those of the several constituencies, who might profit largely thereby; therefore,

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa, the Senate and House concurring, That the Secretary of State is hereby instructed to provide each Senator and Representative of the Nineteenth General Assembly with fifteen (15) copies of the report above named, for that distribution which will assist in spreading the information intended to be furnished by the report.

Senator Clark of Page, on the part of the Senate, spoke as follows:

MR. SPEAKER—I am of the number who believe that nothing happens. I believe that behind every thought, act, and event in life there is an intelligent force, and that force is God. I believe that every life is an utterance of God, and every death a play of his upon the great board of the universe in the accomplishment of his purposes. I do not believe that a man perishes with his clothing, or that the grave of the body is the home of the soul. Dissolution, to my mind, is the birth-pangs of immortal life. I believe that when the soul passes out beyond the horizon that rests upon the grave of the body, it emerges into an illimitable expanse in which it enfolds itself forever. My thought now is that the grave is the door of immortality, and only dark from the hither side. The train of life will not stop in this dark tunnel, but will move on out into the beautiful sunshine of the hereafter. But there is a mystery and a miracle. Here sat our departed friend. Last week he moved, and lived, and laughed, and thought as one of us. Now only the crape upon his vacant desk and the floral tribute marks the space occupied by his manly form. Last week he looked upon us with the eyes of his flesh. To-day he sees without eyes, lives without breath, and feels without nerves. My friends, we ought not to fear to die. God is our Father. We came into being by his act, and grew up to manhood under the breadth of his love. While in the body we are in his hand, in the spirit we shall be in his bosom. In the body we feel his touch in the darkness; in the spirit we shall see his face in the light; and therefore I refuse to regard him as an enemy, or as a cold fatuity. He is my benevolent Father; a living intelligence. Nor will I believe that death ends all either in this life or the life to come; a man lives here and hereafter at the same time. Here, in the hearts of men; there, in his quickened spirit. Here, in repute; there, in his real life. Here, in the good or evil that he did; there, as a spiritual servant of Christ; and here, this morning, upon this highest theater of this great State, the floor of this chamber, I assert it as my real conviction that the greatest thing a man can do is to live a noble and honest and godly life. The last and greatest thing he does do is to hand over to the world a well-rounded, symmetrical character; and let us reflect that our control over the life we live is co-terminous with its delivery and the suspension of the breath. Without further dressing or polish it becomes the property of the world for all time. Character is a potential reality, and will be hung up in the world's great gallery for all future ages. May we not congratulate ourselves that the one our dead representative left will be selected by many of life's students as a fit model by which to mould his own. His was not perfect, nor will be yours or mine. We cannot use the brush and chisel upon his model if we would, but we can upon ours. The present and future, angels and God, bid us use them now. A man has many rights, but to give the world a bad example is not one of them.

The pursuit of truth is the vocation of man, and that truth unless crystalized into life and made into character is of no practical value to the world. "I am the truth" said that Christ in whose pierced palm the soft spindle of the universe turns, and he bade the world be like him. It is as much a moral duty to live right as it is not to steal or to deal dishonestly with your neighbor, for you are dealing with posterity in the example you set.

And now, Messieurs Senators and Representatives, as we thus stand together over the grave of our departed friend, according to the standard that Christ set up, with bated breath, yet unfaltering faith, I declare it must be well with him. He filled the measure of a Christian here. He must wear a Christian's crown over yonder. All law is a unit. Virtue is rewarded here—it must be in Heaven. He had the just praise of men on earth. He must hear the plaudit of God in Heaven. He honored the law of God on earth—God will honor his soul in glory. He lived a righteous life, cumbered with the flesh. Should it cease when this burden is laid down? If the natural instincts do not mock us, and the longing for immortality and conscious recognition and identity is fulfilled in the unseen holy, methinks that the transformed spirit of our departed friend is thrilled with complaisant joy this morning as it looks out from the windows of its eternal dwelling place and sees the friends of his life, young and old, stepping into the track of his life, as a safe pathway to success on earth and happiness in Heaven. But alas for us! an honest man, a true man, a benevolent father, an affectionate husband, a useful and pure public servant has gone out from among us forever; he has laid down the burden of time. We shall miss him much in this chamber, but let me whisper here that many a poor man burdened with life's cares in his humble Page county home will miss him much more.

He was a rich man, but as such a treasurer of God. He drew many large drafts upon his bounty, and not one was ever dishonored or ignored.

"Inasmuch as ye did it to one of the least of these, well done," etc., has been sung by the angelic choir to his wondering soul. And now let us bury his frailties with his body in the grave, whilst we enshrine his virtues in our hearts forever.

The Senate returned to the Senate Chamber at 12 o'clock and fifteen minutes and adjourned until to-morrow.

WM. LARRABEE, Chairman.

Ordered passed on file.

Senator Nichols of Muscatine presented the following report:

MR. PRESIDENT—The undersigned, representing the minority of your Committee on Ways and Means, to whom was referred Senate File No. 74, a bill for an act to provide for semi-annual payment of taxes, respectfully represent that we have had the same under consideration, and finding ourselves unable to agree with the majority report of the same, beg leave to make this our minority report; to-wit,

1. For good and obvious reasons we believe, with Governor Sherman, that semi-annual payment of taxes inaugurated here would materially reduce our delinquent taxlist and annual taxsales, in that, while the plan makes taxpaying much easier, it at the same time doubles the inducements to the citizen to pay his taxes when due.

2. The plan provides the best possible preventative against defalcation in that, while the amounts collected would be ample to meet ordinary expenses of the government, there would not be any large amounts of money on hand for any considerable length of time to furnish the opportunity for, and temptation to, a corrupt use of the public funds.

3. The plan would leave in the hands of the taxpayers of the State at their option five millions of dollars for six months to do service in the varied industries of the State, while if paid in, would not only be of no use to the government for that length of time, but a source of inconvenience and loss, in that it must be guarded and the risk incurred of losing a portion thereof before it would be legitimately used in the interests of the government.

4. We find that the expenses to be met by the government as a rule are monthly, and that at the end of the month, such being especially the case in relation to school expenses and the salaries of our legion of public officers, who are paid after the service is rendered, while as to the expense of our State institutions, pay quarterly in advance would meet every necessity. Such being the case, it is manifestly imposing an unnecessary and inexcusable burthen on the taxpayers of the State to require them, under strong penalties, to pay in the aggregate five millions of dollars annually six months before it can be legitimately used, only that it may be looked up for that length of time, or that private interests may get the use of it without charge and at the expense of the taxpayers. It is thus seen that the interests of good government would be much better conserved by the semi-annual payment of taxes, and it is believed that when properly understood by our people it would be more than satisfactory to all parties, save those whose personal interests run in the direction of requiring taxes to be paid in six months before being used by the government.

5. We find that in States where this plan has been adopted it gives the best of satisfaction, especially in Ohio, where all bear witness of its good effects, both as to the public revenues and the interest of the private citizen, it being claimed by both the Auditor and Governor of that State that the plan "makes taxpaying much easier"; "keeps money in circulation"; "prevents defalcation"; that it is in every sense a good law "against which no objection can be raised, and that, after twenty-three years' experience no inducements would be sufficient to cause them to go back to the old annual system of payment of taxes."

6. Now, the undersigned believes that a measure that would do away with "more than one-half our annual taxsales"; that would virtually dry up the stream of defalcation; that "would make taxpaying much easier" than under the present law; that would prevent "the locking up of a large sum of money for several months each year"; that would save the taxpayers of the State from paying, in the aggregate, a large sum of money in the way of interest each year; a measure that in so many ways would lighten the unnecessary burthens of taxation, while it would do no injustice to any citizen, interest, or corporation; a measure that has been proved in some of our best and most prosperous States, and found to be in every sense a good law—such a measure, the undersigned believe, would be a good thing for Iowa, and therefore ask that this report be substituted for the majority report on said bill, and recommend that the bill do pass.

NICHOLS OF MUSCATINE,
Representing said minority.

Senator Nichols of Muscatine moved that Senate File No. 74, a bill for an act to repeal sections 857, 865, and 866 of the Code, and provide substitutes allowing semi-annual payment of taxes, and amending section 871 of the Code, changing the time of taxsale, with the report of the majority and minority of the committee, be made a special order for Tuesday, February 21, at 10 o'clock.

WHEREAS, Doubts have arisen as to the propriety of making the proposed amendment to the Constitution, known as the Prohibitory Amendment, for the reason that questions have arisen as to whether said proposed amendment to the Constitution would sufficiently protect the moral and material interests of the people of this State; and,

WHEREAS, We deem it advisable for the Senate to express an opinion upon the subject as to whether such amendment, if made, will sufficiently protect the moral and material interests of the people of this State, and in order that the Senate may by such expression of opinion, so far as it is in its power to do so, assist in allaying any doubts which may have arisen; therefore,

Be it resolved, That the proposed amendment to the Constitution, which prohibits the manufacture of intoxicating liquors to be kept for sale, or sold, to be used as a beverage, within this State, but which allows the manufacture of intoxicating liquors for export purposes to be used as a beverage without this State, guards alike the moral and material interests of the people of this State, in that in its benign and beneficent operation it will protect the people of the State from all the evils of the liquor traffic while it reserves to them the profits of its manufacture for export purposes; and that this benign and beneficent policy is fully sustained by the Mosaic law as found in Deuteronomy, 14th chapter and 21st verse, as follows: "Ye shall not eat of anything that dieth of itself; thou shalt give it the stranger that is in thy gates, that he may eat it; or thou mayest sell it unto an alien."

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The following communication was received from the Governor at the hands of his private secretary, and ordered passed on file.

STATE OF IOWA, }
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
DES MOINES, February 16, 1882. }

To the Honorable Senate—In compliance with the request of your honorable body, I submit herewith a statement of the condition of the actions commenced against ex Warden Craig and his sureties, so far as I am able to obtain data respecting the same. The files being incomplete, I addressed notes to the Attorney-general and also to Hon. Galusha Parsons, who is the special counsel employed, requesting full reports of the present condition of these cases. The Attorney-general has responded in a very satisfactory letter, a copy of which is hereto attached, I also submit a copy of the report made by the Auditor of State, showing the amounts paid from the State treasury. The last statement by Mr. Parsons of his disbursements, made to Governor Gear, is also herewith submitted.

BUREN R. SHERMAN.

OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL, }
DES MOINES, IOWA, February 13, 1882. }

SIR—I have received and considered yours of the 9th, asking me for a statement of the condition of the cases against ex Warden Craig and others.

There were three suits instituted against Craig and his bondsmen; one for each of his terms of office. The case pertaining to his first term of office is pending in the District Court of Pottawattamie county.

The case pertaining to the second term of office is pending in the Circuit Court of Lee county, and will probably be tried in March.

The case of the third or last term, was tried in the Circuit Court of Lee county, in March, 1881, and a judgment of $8,000 and costs obtained against Craig. In this case the bondsmen have filed their separate answer and the case as to them had been transferred to the equity side of the docket.

In that branch of the case, the Circuit Court held that the bondsmen were not liable by reason of an alteration of the bond after the sureties had signed the same and prior to its acceptance.

From the judgment the State appealed to the Supreme Court. The cause was submitted at the late December term. Should the Supreme Court also hold that the sureties are released the judgment of $8,000 and costs will be of but little if any value—but if the Supreme Court should hold that the bondsmen are holden then the judgment no doubt can be collected.

There was another case of the State against H. E. Hunt. Mr. Hunt is a merchant of Burlington, and the State claims that he and Warden Craig conspired to defraud the State, and did defraud the State to the amount of several thousand dollars. One trial was had last August before Judge Burton, of Keosauqua. The jury disagreed, and the case has been changed to the District Court of Monroe county, where it stands for trial in April next.

There was also another case, of the State against Morris, a clothier of Fort Madison, quite similar to the Hunt case. This was once tried, resulting in a disagreement of the jury. It was again tried, resulting in a verdict and judgment in favor of the State for something over $7,000. Of this amount Mr. Parsons, of counsel for the State, has received $4,096.81. He reports to me that the sheriff of Lee county has collected something like $1,300 more, which he still has, claiming the larger part for fees. The balance of the judgment I regard as entirely worthless.

These suits were all brought nearly three years prior to the time I qualified as Attorney-general. I have have neither received nor paid out any money on account of these suits, or any of them. I have no personal knowledge bearing upon the amount of money paid out or received. I learn, however, from Mr. Galusha Parsons that he has received from the State and from the Morris judgment $7,546; that he has paid out on account of costs and expenses of trial (not including his fees) $4,664. These expenses are by reason of many continuances, changes of venue, and lengthy, protracted trials, of which I need not now be more explicit.

Respectfully submitted.

SMITH McPHERSON.

Bryan, asking payment of a balance due her husband of $1,457.05, and interest from 1858, on account of work done on the State capitol to fit it for occupation, find that a bill was presented for said work, amounting to $6,236.38. They find also in the appropriation bill of 1858 that the amount of the bill was paid, less $1,433, which was deducted as an overcharge. This deduction as an overcharge is the ground of the present claim. The officers of the State evidently paid what they conceived to be a fair price for the work at the time, and your committee are not disposed to revise their action, or encourage the presentation of claims that have slept quietly for over twenty years without an effort for collection. They therefore return the petition to the Senate and asked to be relieved of any further consideration of the subject.

MR. PRESIDENT—Your Committee on Claims, to whom was referred the petition of Mary E. Bryan, asking payment of a balance due her husband of $1,457.05, and interest from 1858, on account of work done on the State capitol to fit it for occupation, find that a bill was presented for said work, amounting to $6,236.38. They also find in the appropriation bill of 1858 that the amount of the bill was paid, less $1,433, which was deducted as an overcharge. This deduction as an overcharge is the ground of the present claim. The officers of the State evidently paid what they conceived to be a fair price for the work at the time, and your committee are not disposed to revise their action, or encourage the presentation of claims that have slept quietly for over twenty years without an effort for collection. They, therefore, return the petition to the Senate, and ask to be relieved of any further consideration of the subject.

WHEREAS, Washburn, Moen & Co, and others, have bought up a number of patents, which patents were not for novel inventions, and which patents relating to barb wire they do not now use, but have procured reissues of the same, covering more than the original patents; and

WHEREAS, Large quantities of barbed wire are in use by the farmers of Iowa, which it is claimed by said patentees is covered by said patents and reissues; and

WHEREAS, The said Washburn, Moen & Co. have obtained judgments in some cases where in actions brought by them they procured a settlement with the parties; and

WHEREAS, Said Washburn, Moen & Co. have based upon said judgments a monopoly of the manufacture and sale of barbed wire, greatly increasing the price of the same; and

WHEREAS, They commenced suits against farmers using the same to recover royalty thereon, and also commenced an action in the federal courts to enjoin the manufacture and sale of barbed wire by parties other than themselves; and while said actions were pending, the said Washburn, Moen & Co. procured settlements with the parties against whom suits were pending, when the same were about to be tried, and have thus prevented the farmers of Iowa from testing the validity of said patents and reissues; and

WHEREAS, While the said monopolists have power to select the parties defendant and make settlements with them, either by obtaining consent decrees or by default, the farmers of Iowa are, and will continue to be, powerless to test the validity of such patents or reissues, and will be continually harrassed with litigation, and owing to the uncertainty, will be compelled to pay much more for said barbed wire than it would be sold for on the markets but for such uncertainty; and

WHEREAS, It seems advisable, if it can be done, to have the whole question settled in one proceeding, it is deemed advisable to have a proceeding commenced by the Attorney-general of the United States, in the name of and on behalf of the United States, for the purpose of determining the validity of such patents and reissues; therefore,

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa, That our Senators be instructed, and our representatives be requested to use their utmost influence:

1. To prevent the passage of any bill allowing the banks to renew their charters or perpetuate their existence as banks of issue.
2. To secure the issue by the general government of legal tender treasury notes or United States money to take the place of all corporation money as fast as such money is withdrawn and thus protect our industries and business from periodic expansions and contractions of the currency.
3. To prevent the reduction of the revenues of the government until every bond is paid, and to press the passage of a graduated income tax law and to insist upon the speedy payment of the entire interest bearing debt.

COMMUNICATION.

By general consent a communication from the Attorney-general in reply to a resolution which passed the Senate on yesterday as to the meaning of the Constitution relative to representation in the House, was read as follows:

OFFICE OF ATTORNEY-GENERAL, }
DES MOINES, March 14, 1882. }

HON. O. H. MANNING, President of the Senate:

I have considered the resolution of the Senate being of this date and reading as follows:

Resolved, That the Attorney-general be and is hereby requested to give his opinion in writing upon the question as to whether a county is entitled to a representation in the General Assembly under the provisions of the Constitution of this State when such county has a number of inhabitants less than one half of the ratio fixed by law; each of the counties adjoining having a number of inhabitants equal to one-half of the ratio fixed by law.

And further, if a county having the required number equal one-half of the ratio can be attached to a county not having the required number without a violation of the Constitution.

I owe it to myself, as well as to the Senate, to say that with but a few hours for consideration, and with no opportunity to hear discussion and arguments supporting conflicting views, that it is with no feigned diffidence or embarrassment that I feel called upon to pass upon such all-important constitutional questions. If any Senator should differ from me in the conclusions I arrive at, I know the circumstances surrounding me, and the embarrassments before mentioned, will be remembered.

It must always be borne in mind that each of the three branches of our State government exist and have their respective powers because of the solemn declaration of the sovereign power, the people, as expressed in the Constitution. The General Assembly, as does the judicial and executive department, acts within the scope and limits mapped out by the Constitution. The purposes of a State Constitution must not be overlooked, nor must it be confounded with those of the Federal Constitution; because they are in but few, if any, respects alike as to their purposes. Under a State Constitution the legislative body have powers well nigh, or quite, supreme in all matters pertaining to the enactment of laws or legislative duties, unless there is a limitation upon such powers either by the Federal or State Constitution.

A State Constitution is only for the purposes of—

1st. A bill of rights.

2d. To define the powers of each of the three departments; and

3d. A limitation of such powers.

So in determining whether the General Assembly has the power to pass a proposed statute it is only necessary to inquire whether it is a subject of legislation, and whether it is in conflict with the Federal or State Constitution. But a measure that is prohibited by the Constitution, either in express terms or by implication, can never become a law. It may be put in the form of a law and receive the requisite number of votes, but it cannot be a law; it is null and void and of no force whatever. Keeping these suggestions in mind, let us examine the Constitution and see what limitation or prohibition upon such measures:

Section 35 of article 3 provides that every county and district which shall have a number of inhabitants equal to one-half the ratio fixed by law shall be entitled to one representative.

By this expression, in direct terms, it must be said that a county not having the one-half is not entitled to a representative. The expression of one is to the exclusion of the other, and to my mind a county having less than the one-half in number can under no circumstances have a member in the House. That part of a statute purporting to give it, would be unconstitutional, absolutely null and void, and a member so elected could have no rights in the House. And it will not do to say that the House is the judge of the election of its own members. That provision only applies when there is a controversy as to the election, when some person has or may have a right to a seat. But there must be an authority to elect some one, which authority does not exist when the number of inhabitants of a county is less than one-half the ratio.

But it is the latter part of the resolution that is the more difficult to answer. The county not having one-half the ratio, and each county adjacent thereto having more than one-half, can it be attached to one of them and thereby a representative district formed? If this question is answered in the negative, and my conclusion above announced is correct, then we have the startling proposition that one county is without representation. No Senator will say that that shall be allowed. It is an unwritten law higher than any written constitution, that every elector shall have a vote in the selection of those placed in authority. General Assemblymen are but trustees selected by the people for the execution of a trust, and this trust is conferred by the people.

To say that such an interpretation should prevail is to say that the Constitution is without meaning, and such interpretations are never allowable. What did the people intend, is always the question. Is it not reasonable to say that the language in section 35, which reads "Every county and district" can cover such a case? If not why are those words "and district" inserted?

I am aware of the next section which provides that the General Assembly shall form into districts those counties which are not entitled singly to a representative. But can it not be logically said that this means those counties that have more than half the ratio, and are not attached to other counties? This must be the answer unless we say that either the one county shall be denied a representative, or that an attempt should be made to give it a representation by unconstitutional methods, and methods absolutely null and void. To adopt the one interpretation is to harmonize and give meaning to the Constitution. To adopt the other is to say that it is without meaning. We all know that the people meant when they adopted the Constitution to give every county, either singly or with other counties, a representative. To adopt my interpretation allows this.

Out of this foggy, muddy entanglement I see no other road; and so I prefer to advise that a county having less than one-half the ratio can be attached to a county having in excess of one-half the number as fixed by law.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

SMITH MCPHERSON, Attorney-general.

The question being on the engrossment of the bill, Senator Logan moved that the rule be suspended, and the bill be considered engrossed, and read a third time now.

COMMUNICATION.

The following communication was submitted by the President, read, and passed on file:

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS, March 12, 1882.

SIR—I learn through the telegraphic news that both houses of the legislature have passed a resolution requesting the President to instruct the Attorney-general to take measures to bring a suit to set aside the patents claimed by the Washburn & Moen Manufacturing Company and others for a wire fence.

As it may be of interest as well to the legislature who seem to have taken such energetic action in this matter as to the people of Iowa, I venture to inform you that the action of the legislature has been anticipated.

As counsel for the associated farmers of Iowa, as soon as the assignees of the patents had withdrawn their cases from court so as to hinder and delay judicial remedy, I applied to the Honorable Benjamin H. Brewster, Attorney-general of the United States, in his official capacity as forens patriæ in such matters of public concern to have an investigation made into the validity of said several patents and to institute such proceedings as are necessary to set them aside if found invalid. To this request the Attorney-general very promptly gave assent, and instructed that as soon as I could present him the necessary papers and evidence the above case should be carefully examined and every relief within the capacity of the department of justice afforded. I doubt not the Attorney-general will be glad to find that his efforts will be appreciated and favored by the legislature of the State of Iowa. I leave to-night for Washington for the purpose of presenting the papers and evidence in this matter to the Attorney-general. If not inconsistent with the public service will you communicate this note to the Senate.

I have the honor to be very respectfully your obedient servant.

BENJ. F. BUTLER.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The following communication was received from the Governor at the hands of his private secretary:

STATE OF IOWA, }
 EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
 DES MOINES, March 15, 1882. }

To the Honorable, the Senate—I return herewith with my objections the bill originating in the Senate entitled "an act to legalize defective acknowledgments to written instruments recorded in this State."

In my opinion the bill is far too sweeping and general in character, and its results would be to provoke litigation rather than otherwise. It will be noticed that the bill does not assume to correct defective acknowledgments only, but is so far reaching as to include all acknowledgments by whomsoever made or taken, whether the party thus acting was authorized or not. I cannot persuade myself that such was the real intent of the General Assembly. The bill does not pretend to correct or legalize the record of such instruments, and it is open to question whether or not the legalization of the acknowledgment would have the desired effect upon the record, which is of quite equal importance. It is my belief that no general legislation should be given or attempted in respect to instruments purporting to have been executed nearly fifty years ago.

At best, legalizing acts are of very doubtful expediency. The effect is to promote inattention to the plain requirements of law, thus tending to increase litigation among the people, which should be discouraged. But when so general an act is proposed as in the present case, I am persuaded it should not receive the sanction of the State.

BUREN R. SHERMAN.

Senate File No. 125, a bill for an act to legalize defective acknowledgments to written instruments recorded in this State.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

SECTION 1. That the acknowledgments of all deeds, mortgages, or other instruments in writing, taken and certified previous to the passage of this act, and which have been admitted to record in the proper counties in this State, be and the same are hereby declared to be legal and valid in all courts of law and equity in this State, anything in the laws of the Territory or the State of Iowa in regard to acknowledgments to the contrary notwithstanding.

SEC. 2. All deeds, mortgages, or other instruments in writing for the conveyance of lands which have heretofore been made and executed, and where the officer taking the acknowledgment has not affixed his seal to the acknowledgment, such acknowledgment shall, nevertheless, be good and valid in law and equity, anything in any law heretofore passed to the contrary notwithstanding.

JOHN N. IRWIN,

Speaker of the House of Representatives, pro tem.

O. H. MANNING,

President of the Senate.

I hereby certify that this bill originated in the Senate, and is known as Senate File No. 125.

FRANK D. JACKSON, Secretary of Senate.
