THIRTY-FOURTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY—JANUARY, 1911.

BIENNIAL MESSAGE OF THE GOVERNOR.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Thirty-fourth General Assembly:

In compliance with the provisions of Article 4, Section 12 of the Constitution requiring the Governor to "Communicate, by message, to the General Assembly, at every regular session, the condition of the State, and recommending such matters as he shall deem expedient," I present to you the following:

From the biennial report of the Auditor of State you will observe that there was in the State Treasury, July 1, 1910, $1,003,915 to the credit of the general fund. The estimated receipts from that date to July 1, 1913, amount to $12,540,000, making a total of $13,543,915. The estimated expenditures, for general purposes, from July 1, 1910, to July 1, 1913, are $10,938,000, leaving a balance of $2,605,915. From this should be deducted $306,000, hunter's license, not available for general purposes, and $800,000 needed to meet current expenses from July 1, 1913, to October 1, 1913, during which time the State's income is very meagre. Deducting these two amounts leaves a net balance of $1,499,915 available for extraordinary appropriations during the biennial period ending June 30, 1913. More than this amount it would not be safe for you to appropriate.

By reason of the policy of economy practiced by the last session of the General Assembly and because of the increased income from sources other than by taxation the Executive Council has been able to make a reduction of one-tenth of a mill in the levy for general State purposes made in 1909 and a like reduction in 1910 so that the levy is now three and three-tenths mills, instead of three and five-tenths, as it had previously been. I scarcely need say to you that the levy for the next two years will depend entirely upon the extent of the appropriations made by you and the means which you provide for raising revenue from sources other than by taxation. I trust that you will keep well within the figures above quoted.

HOW TO AMEND THE LAWS.

In my inaugural address of two years ago I called attention to the fact that by reason of our methods of amending the laws many ambiguities exist and in some instances it is almost if not entirely impossible to know what is the law. I am thoroughly convinced that when a section of the law is to be amended it would be much better to repeal the section and re-enact it as it would appear when amended. By so doing the Legislature would know when passing upon an amendment just what was being done and the section would stand as an entirety. I feel assured that if you will take the pains to follow some amendments through the session-laws and the supplement, you will not hesitate to adopt the method suggested by me and which is in vogue in many of the states.

CONTROVERTED QUESTIONS.

Recently a question has arisen between the Executive Council and the Secretary of State upon the one hand, and certain building and loan associations upon the other as to the amount of fees to be paid and the methods of extending articles of incorporation of such association. It is the contention of those representing the associations that to pay the fees held by the Secretary of State to be due makes it impossible for them to incorporate. It is the desire of all concerned that you revise the building and loan laws so as to make them specific as to matters herein referred to and remove any unjust or unnecessary burdens that may be imposed upon the associations by present statutes.

A controversy has also arisen between those in charge of the Oil Inspection Department and certain railway corporations as to whether the oil used by such corporations must be inspected and the usual fee be paid for the inspection. It is the desire of your officials that you make the law relating to the inspection so clear that there can be no room for controversy.

Our laws relating to the amount of fees to be paid by foreign corporations desiring to do business in this State seem to be of questionable validity and also appear to impose unjust burdens upon corporations, a portion only of whose capital is employed in the State. I recommend a careful review of these statutes by you to the end that they may be brought clearly within the decisions of the courts and that they may also be made fair and just if they be lacking in either of these respects.

Some doubt has arisen in the minds of members of the Executive Council as to whether or not the law relating to the State Board of Education contemplates that the Finance Committee shall reside in Des Moines, and also, as to the employment of a field man for the institutions under the provisions of Section 11 of the Act creating the Board; and with regard to some of the printing to be done for the institutions. It is the wish of the Council that you should make the law definite as to each of these matters.

EVIDENCE AS TO POPULATION.

I wish to call your attention to the fact that if it is your desire that the Federal Census of 1910 be accepted as evidence of population it will be necessary for you to amend the law so as to make provision therefor. The old law, Section 176 of the Code, provided for publishing in the official register the population of counties, cities and towns as shown by the last census, either State or Federal, and Section 177 provided that wherever in the code the population of any county, city, or town was referred to it should be determined by the publication above mentioned. The Thirtieth General Assembly repealed and re-enacted this law omitting any reference to the Federal Census or any provision for publication through the official register, so that it appears that the census report of 1905 must be relied upon and taken as evidence in questions as to population until another census is taken by the State in 1915.

That this is a matter of much importance you will readily observe for the reason that the salaries of certain county and township officials as well as the allowance and compensation for deputies and also the determination of the sufficiency of general consent petitions under the mulct law are in many instances determined by population.

COLLATERAL INHERITANCE TAX.

I am advised by those enjoined with the duty of enforcing the collateral inheritance tax law that it needs to be re-written to the end that it may be made more specific and that ambiguities that now exist may be removed. It is quite defective in some of its provisions, especially as to the collection of interest, and as to bringing suit against those who inherit under a will and who decline or fail to pay the tax in the manner and time provided by law.

The income to the State from collateral inheritance has increased quite perceptibly. The income for the last biennial period, ending June 30th, 1910, being $447,179.40, while for the previous biennial period it was only $341,359.93, making a net increase of $105,819.47.

DIRECT INHERITANCE TAX.

I believe that the time has arrived when the question of a direct inheritance tax should demand your most serious consideration. It is not a new thing in the affairs of states. Some of the older and more conservative Commonwealths, as well as many of the newer ones, have laws providing for the taxing of estates descending to direct heirs. In applying the law larger estates should be taxed at the greater rate and the per cent of tax exacted should increase with the size of the inheritance and with the remoteness in relationship of the deceased to the one who inherits. I recommend the enactment of a direct inheritance tax law not only as a means of raising revenue; but because I believe it to be correct in principle. Already twenty states, viz.: California, Colorado, Connecticut, Idaho, Illinois, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, New York, North Carolina, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming have adopted direct inheritance tax laws. Each and all of these states, like our own, have a collateral inheritance law also. It cannot therefore be said that our State is either too old or too young to have such a law, or that the existence of any other statute should interfere.

INCOME TAX.

At a later date I will transmit to your honorable body a certified copy of a joint resolution passed by the first session of the Sixty-first Congress proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States empowering Congress to enact a law to tax incomes.

Without here raising the question as to the wisdom of such a law, I wish to express it as my personal opinion that Congress should have power to enact such a law if it so desires and I therefore recommend favorable action upon the resolution by you.

For your benefit and instruction I herewith recite the entire contents of the document embodying the resolution as signed by the officers of the two Houses of Congress:

*SIXTY-FIRST CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA—
At the First Session.*

Begun and held at the City of Washington on Monday, the Fifteenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred and nine.

JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

Resolved by the Senate and the House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled (two-thirds of each house concurring therein), That the following article is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which, when ratified by the Legislatures of three-fourths of the several states, shall be valid to all intents and purposes as a part of the Constitution:

"ARTICLE XVI. The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatever source derived, without apportionment among the several states, and without regard to any census or enumeration."

J. G. CANNON,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
J. S. SHERMAN,
*Vice President of the United States and

Secretary.

A TAX COMMISSION.

I wish to call attention to the fact that the tax laws of the State are very inequitable, and, in some respects, unjust. It has now been fourteen years since there has been a general revision of our revenue laws. Many changes in conditions have arisen in that time and many new methods of taxation have been adopted in other states which are worthy of consideration.

A tax ferret law, the taxing of moneys and credits; a filing fee upon mortgages, based upon the amount and time to run, and many other features of taxation are attracting much attention.

Our method of distribution of values are open to criticism, especially is this true as to telegraph, telephone and railway terminal property. Many of these questions are of such magnitude and importance that I do not believe that they can be properly dealt with during the time of an ordinary session of your honorable body. I therefore recommend that a commission be provided to study carefully all the phases of the taxing question, prepare an entire new revenue code and submit it to the next session of the General Assembly.

I wish in this connection to say that, in my opinion, the state loses a large sum of money every year by reason of failing to receive from the various counties its share of interest on delinquent taxes and of taxes that have been declared unavailable but are afterwards collected. I gave a great deal of thought and consideration to these matters while I was Auditor of State, and then recommended that provision be made for checking the accounts between the state and the counties, and the present Auditor, in his biennial reports, makes like recommendation. I am convinced that the state will receive many times more than the amount expended in making the checking if such a system is established. It has been stated by an accountant who has been checking the books of various counties that in a single instance he found the county owing the state nearly three thousand dollars on the accounts above mentioned.

PROVIDENTIAL CONTINGENT FUND.

The last session of the General Assembly appropriated $50,000 as a providential contingent fund to be expended by order of the Executive Council in the restoration or repairs of property of the State destroyed or damaged by providential causes. But $3,409.58 of this fund have thus far been expended, all of which went to repair damages caused by fire to the warden's house at the penitentiary at Fort Madison. Since the State carries no insurance upon its property I recommend that at least such an amount as was provided by the last session of the Legislature be placed at the disposal of the Executive Council to meet such losses as may occur to the State's property during the next biennial period.

ENLARGE CAPITOL GROUNDS.

There seems to be no question but that in the course of time the State will of necessity be compelled to acquire additional ground in the vicinity of the State House for the erection of buildings. While it would be very desirable that a number of blocks of ground be acquired both with a view to locating other buildings and for the purpose of beautifying the State's property I am convinced that even if nothing more be done there should be a reasonable allowance placed at the disposal of the Executive Council for the purchase of lots facing the State House grounds. During the last year opportunities for making such purchases have been afforded, but there being no funds available the property was purchased by private parties.

COMMITTEE ROOMS OCCUPIED.

During the last biennial period several commissions which were created have been without permanent quarters. The Executive Council has found it necessary either to domicile these commissions in committee rooms or to rent quarters outside of the State buildings. We believed it to be expedient and that it would meet with your approval if committee rooms were occupied, so that we have placed the State Board of Education in the Speaker's room, the Soldiers' Roster force, the Conservation and Waterways Commission and the Chief Oil Inspector in committee rooms. A number of departments and offices are located by the Legislature either by resolution or by statute so that the Council has not absolute freedom in readjusting or rearranging the location of various departments. I believe that your body should either take these matters entirely into its own hands or should turn it all over to the Executive Council.

We have not yet moved the State Board of Education from the Speaker's rooms, because we have no quarters other than committee rooms in which to lodge it and we felt it advisable to wait until we might know your pleasure and convenience as to where we might locate this department during your session.

GRANITE STEPS TO THE CAPITOL BUILDING.

I desire to call your attention to the fact that the steps leading up to the State House both upon the north and upon the west are in a very bad state of deterioration and that they should be replaced with granite steps as soon as in your judgment it can conveniently be done.

Judging from the cost of the steps at the east front the cost of granite steps at the north would likely be about $5,000 and on the west about $9,000. If the steps at but one entrance can be replaced during the coming biennial period I suggest that those at the north be replaced first.

HISTORICAL BUILDING.

I am pleased to be able to report that the Historical Building, for which generous appropriations have been made by several sessions of the General Assembly, is practically completed and that it is now occupied by all of the departments intended for its occupancy. The building and its contents do great credit to the State and it is a popular resort, not only with our own people, but with those of other states who visit our Capital City.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY.

With full appreciation of the value of the work of the Geological Department I am compelled to say, that in part at least, the Board is so constituted as not to be able to have that opportunity to observe and know as much about the department as should be known by a managing body.

The Board as now constituted consists of the Governor, the Auditor of State, the President of the State University, the President of the Agricultural College and the President of the Iowa Academy of Science. In my judgment better work could be done and in a more satisfactory way if the department were connected with the Geological Department of the State University and the management and control were passed over to the State Board of Education and its finance committee.

DRAINAGE, CONSERVATION AND WATERWAYS COMMISSION.

The Thirty-third session of the General Assembly created a commission to study into and investigate the subject of drainage, waterways, conservation of resources, etc., which commission has without compensation spent a great deal of time considering and investigating the subjects above mentioned. Mr. A. C. Miller, chairman of the commission, devoted much time and attention to the work and has added much enthusiasm to the general interest that has been taken in these matters during the last two years. In the published report made by the commission the various subjects included in the scope of its work are thoroughly discussed and many valuable recommendations are made, all of which will be brought to your attention by supplying each of you with copies of the printed report.

LAKES DRAINED.

The Executive Council has authorized the drainage of but two lakes since January, 1909, viz.: Bancroft Lake in Kossuth County and Wall Lake in Wright County. The lands within the meandered lines of some lakes authorized to be drained during the administration of my predecessor have been sold and the drainage taxes assessed against others have been paid. It has not been the policy of the Council to permit the drainage of any lakes that can be maintained as clear bodies of water, but has permitted such as cannot be so maintained to be included in drainage districts and the lands have either been sold or the taxes assessed against the same for drainage purposes have been paid by the State.

MINING LAWS.

The many mining disasters that have occurred within the last year have made it highly important that our laws be made so as to most effectually guard against the danger incident to that very hazardous occupation.

Fortunately our State has not been visited by any great calamity among those who work under the ground. There seems to be a feeling, however, that our mining code should be carefully gone over and changed in some particulars. The question as to the use of carbide lamps has attracted considerable attention. I therefore recommend a careful consideration of all the laws relating to mines and mining to the end that the lives of the men, as well as the property and interests of the operators or owners, be properly protected.

ARBITRATION.

Some states have enacted laws providing for the arbitration of disputes arising between employers and employed, and apparently with good results. I do not understand that compliance with the finding of a Board of Arbitration with reference to such matters could be enforced but the public is entitled to know the facts relating to matters of controversy which usually involve the public welfare and it is hardly likely that either party to a dispute could long maintain itself against the finding of a competent and unbiased tribunal. I therefore recommend that you give careful consideration to the question of establishing such a body in this State.

In this connection I desire to call attention to the fact that efforts will be made at this session of your body to have enacted a law with reference to compensation of workmen injured in hazardous occupations. While not fully advised with reference thereto, it is my understanding that such a law is desired both by the employer and the employed, so that the conditions under which and the amount of damages that may be recovered in so far as is possible may be determined in advance. It is desired also in order that expensive litigation and excessive costs of insurance may be avoided as well as for various other reasons. This is an important subject to the industrial interests of the State and it merits careful consideration.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

From the appropriation made therefor by the Thirty-third session of the General Assembly together with funds of the society, there has been erected a splendid and commodious steel and concrete amphitheatre upon the ground of the State Agricultural Society. It has added greatly to the convenience of those visiting the Fair and has brought increased interest and attendance. Many other improvements have been made, such as the construction of more than 70,000 square feet of cement walk, adding two new units or buildings, one to the horse barn and one to the cow barn, and adopting a general and permanent plan for the development of the grounds and locating new buildings. About $175,000 have been spent in various improvements at the Fair Grounds since your last session, nearly $75,000 of which came from the funds of the Society. The State Fair has become to be a great means of education to our people along all the lines of the exhibits, and its benefits and influences are felt in all parts of the State. It stands easily in the front rank of all the State Fairs.

HORTICULTURAL INTERESTS.

I have believed and still believe that the horticultural interests of the State have been and are being grossly neglected. The fruit crop failure of the last year should not prove a discouragement. It is believed by many that by proper care and the use of smudges much of the crop of last year might have been saved.

We need to have our people better educated along the lines of caring for and protecting our fruit interests. The horticultural people of the State are asking to have some one employed as a field man to spend his time among the fruit growers informing and enlightening them as to the best means of growing and caring for orchards. Whether this is the best means to employ in educating our people in fruit growing, I cannot say, but I recommend that you give every reasonable encouragement to this important interest.

DAIRY EXPERIMENT AND EXTENSION WORK.

The last session of the Legislature made an appropriation of $10,000 for the State Dairy Association to use in promoting the dairy interests of the State. I believe that very much good has been accomplished by the use of this fund and I recommend that a like amount be appropriated for the same purpose, for the next biennial period, to be expended either through the same channels as provided by the last Assembly or through other equally effective means.

There seems to be an increased demand for short course, institute and agricultural extension and agricultural experiment station work. While realizing that enthusiasts in these lines may become extremists, I am, nevertheless, convinced that if judiciously handled appropriations for these purposes may be made immensely profitable, and I recommend liberality with reference thereto. Our farmers are beginning to appreciate the value of scientific methods.

I wish, however, to suggest that the State Board of Education through its Finance Committee has undertaken to equitably determine about what appropriation is needed for agricultural extension work, for engineering extension work, for the agricultural experiment station and for good roads. These are all matters of great moment and should receive the most favorable consideration.

The State Food and Dairy Commissioner has constant calls for field work; especially does he feel the almost universal demand for better means of requiring compliance with proper methods of sanitation, so that you will be asked to enact a law conferring upon him additional authority with reference thereto, and I recommend the same for your careful consideration.

HOG CHOLERA SERUM.

The sum of eight thousand dollars was appropriated by the last session of the Legislature for the establishment of a plant for the manufacture of hog cholera serum. The operation and management of the plant was placed under the control of the State Veterinary Surgeon, who, under the advice of the Executive Council, leased 114 acres of ground north of the State Fair Grounds and thereon has located the plant. The entire amount of the appropriation has been used up, but the law provides that the proceeds of the sale of the serum may be used in connection with the operation of the plant. Up to January 1st $2,534 worth of serum had been sold. So far as can be learned the serum method of treating the disease of cholera has proven successful. There is every reason to believe that the plant for the manufacture of serum is going to prove to be of great value to the State.

SOLDIERS' ROSTER.

A recent session of the General Assembly provided for the printing of a Soldiers' Roster and that the volumes when ready for distribution should be sold at cost, the Executive Council to determine what the actual cost had been. There has been practically no demand for the books, only 119 having been sold. Four volumes are now in print and have been distributed as the law provides. Much of the material of the two remaining volumes is ready for the printer. It will perhaps require an additional appropriation of $800 to $1,000 to complete the work.

It is quite evident that the number of copies originally provided for was far in excess of any probable demand and it would seem that the present number of 3,000 is more than will ever be called for unless they are distributed free of cost or at greatly reduced price. I believe that with reasonable restrictions these books should be distributed as other public documents, rather than to allow them to pile up in the State's storage rooms.

THE SOLDIERS' HOME.

The State has undertaken to make the declining years of the soldiers of the Civil War peaceful and happy by providing a home for those who by reason of health and financial circumstances may need assistance. I shall not go into details as to the Home, but trust that you will provide every means both as to quarters, equipment and supplies necessary to make the remainder of life for these heroes both comfortable and enjoyable.

THE NATIONAL GUARD.

I am pleased to be able to report to you that the National Guard of the State is in most excellent condition. In my judgment its efficiency has never been so great as at the present time. The four regiments have been organized into a brigade and most excellent work is being done. Three of our regiments attended the maneuvers at Sparta, Wisconsin, last August and received the highest commendation from those in command. At the rifle contest at Camp Perry, Ohio, our team ranked higher than that of any other state and was only led by two of the teams of the Government service. General Logan deserves great credit for the high standing and efficiency to which he has brought the Guard. I have not found it necessary at any time during my administration to call upon the Guard to keep the peace or to protect life or property.

The Adjutant General in his report filed with me, makes recommendation as to the distribution of the soldier's roster, as to relieving from taxation stocks or bonds issued in aid of erecting Armories, and as to an appropriation for the erection of an arsenal and armory, all of which I wish to call to your attention.

SHILOH MONUMENT.

Since the adjournment of the last session of the Legislature the National Park at Shiloh, Tennessee, was visited by a cyclone, the exact date of which was October 14, 1909, which threw down and greatly damaged the Iowa monument recently erected there. I visited the park in person in order to determine the extent of the damage so that steps might, at once, be taken to repair and re-erect the monument. It was my purpose to ask the Executive Council to use sufficient of its providential contingent fund to restore the monument, but in taking the matter up with the Secretary of War he advised me that in as much as the monument when dedicated had been turned over to the Government he would ask Congress to make an appropriation sufficient to restore it. This took the matter out of our hands and we waited for Congressional action. The appropriation was made but with the understanding that the State would reimburse the Nation for whatever amount of money is required to re-erect the structure. I therefore recommend and ask that you appropriate and put at the disposal of the Executive Council sufficient funds to meet the above requirements. It was deemed advisable that the State have a representative to see to or assist in supervising the restoration of the monument and I designated Colonel E. E. Soper of Emmetsburg, who was chairman of the Iowa Shiloh Commission which had charge of the erection of the monument, to represent the State. There being no provision of law for meeting his expenses in connection with the work of re-erection I recommend that the appropriation be made sufficient to cover that also.

PUBLIC SCHOOL SYSTEM.

In the biennial report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction you will find a very full and able discussion of many questions relating to the office of the Superintendent, to the school laws of the State, and to our public school system. I shall not go into details with reference to any of these questions but refer you to the report which contains a great amount of information and many valuable suggestions. The school problem of our State is one of the very important matters which you will have to deal with and I earnestly urge upon you the necessity for giving it more than usual attention.

STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

It is not my purpose to deal at length with the State Board of Education nor the institutions under its control. I am glad to be able to say that the Board and its Finance Committee have worked together in harmony for the best interests of the institutions and that, in my opinion, the work has been planned along practical and successful lines. In the Board's published report you will find a review of what has been done and also suggestions as to future plans and needs of the various schools under control of the Board. The suggestions as to continuing the millage tax; the readjustment of salaries; the application of business methods, etc., deserve especially attention.

The decrease in attendance at the State University has been the occasion of much comment. I have made some inquiry into the cause of this decrease and find that two reasons are assigned. It is claimed by many that the existence of saloons in Iowa City is responsible for the loss of students, while others attribute it to the more stringent requirements for admittance to the school. It is your duty to ascertain the cause and unless it is something which tends to the betterment of the institution you should not hesitate to remove it.

BANKS.

There is little, if anything, pertaining to banks and banking that needs to be called to your attention.

The banks of the State, in general, seem to be in a very flourishing condition. There have been no failures of State or savings banks during the last two years. The Auditor's biennial report shows that there were nine hundred and fifty State and savings banks and trust companies carrying deposits of nearly $247,000,000 reporting to the department at the end of the biennial period ending June 30, 1910. Fifteen or more have been added to the list since that date. The laws relating to the taxing of banks have been rendered somewhat chaotic by reason of some decisions of the courts, but that should be considered with other matters of taxation.

INSURANCE.

The insurance laws of the State have been so recently considered by a commission and acted upon by the Legislature that I do not deem it necessary to call particular attention to them at this time. Our companies are extending and enlarging their business and the magnitude and the importance of the insurance interests of the State are constantly growing. There has been considerable demand for a fire marshal to be provided for the State at large, as is done by some of our adjoining states, and I have been inclined to look with favor upon the establishment of such an office, but must confess that I have not had sufficient opportunity to fully satisfy myself with reference to the matter. It is, however, worthy of your consideration.

REORGANIZE SOME DEPARTMENTS.

The last session of the Legislature devoted considerable time to the question of the reorganization and consolidation of some departments of the State Government. This is a subject that I believe can be profitably dealt with by you. In my opinion much space could be saved and better service rendered by combining a number of the minor departments, but in any event some of them need reorganizing.

Why should there be a Board of Health, a Board of Medical Examiners, a Nurses Department, and an Embalming Department, a Department of Optometry, and a Department of Vital Statistics, with separate allowances for maintaining most or all of them I cannot understand. These should be brought closer together and the Executive Head of all of them should be the man in charge of the office, which in this instance would be the man now denominated the Secretary of the Board of Health. He should be clothed with much of the power now lodged with the various boards and with him should be entrusted the duty and responsibility of enforcing the laws and rules pertaining to public health. Where an epidemic or a question pertaining to the health of a community needs investigating, he should have authority to call to his assistance physicians of the community where the trouble exists. If the Board of Health is to be continued it should be largely in an advisory capacity, but in any event the members should be paid a fixed compensation instead of a per diem and expenses. The per diem system always has been and always will be a source of abuse.

The last session of the Assembly made an allowance of nine hundred dollars for extra clerk hire in the office of the Secretary of the Board of Health. By means of increased work in that office this allowance has all been used up and it is necessary in order that the work may be properly carried on, that you at once make another appropriation of nine hundred dollars for the use of that department.

What has been said as to the Board of Health applies in some respects to the Pharmacy Commission, especially as to the necessity for the man in charge of the office being the Executive Head of the department. This board, too, should be made largely advisory and to assist in examinations. The members should be placed upon a salary instead of a per diem. I do not know that any question has arisen as to irregularities or over charges by any of the present members of the board, but the system is wrong, has been greatly abused in the past, and may be in the future if continued.

The bill introduced at the last session of the Legislature by Representative Moore, now the Secretary of the commission, was, in the main, if not in detail, a good measure and is worthy of consideration at this session.

The Board of Veterinary Medical Examiners should be made an adjunct to the State Veterinary Surgeon's Department and that official should have full charge and control of all matters now lodged with the board, except that he should have assistance in conducting examinations. That there should be a separate and distinct department with an office to be carted about the State every time a change is made in the officials of the department does not conform to good business principles.

The per diem method of compensation applies to several departments and many employees. Where the work to be done is sufficiently established for you to determine the time needed to perform it, or where it can be determined what salary should be paid to any official or employee, a fixed amount should be substituted for the per diem, and if some better method could be provided for determining the expense allowance of those entitled to charge their expenses to the State it would be desirable that a change be made.

DOCUMENTS AND PRINTING.

I wish again to call your attention to the fact that a careful inquiry should be made into the number of documents now being printed, so as to ascertain whether there are not many more of some kinds being provided than there is a real demand for. I am in receipt of a communication from the Secretary of State in which he says: "The storage rooms for documents is rapidly becoming filled. Large numbers of Soldiers' Roster have been packed in boxes and stored in the paper warehouse. The accumulation of these and other documents will soon fill all storage rooms at my disposal unless some method for more rapid distribution is provided by the General Assembly." I believe that the State might be saved a considerable sum of money by reducing the number of some documents and by cutting out duplicated matter appearing in different reports.

In my opinion the time has come when you should give the most serious consideration to placing all State printing and binding in the hands of the Executive Council. With the enlarged facilities of the various establishments of the State for doing the work there seems to be very little need for continuing the offices of State Printer and State Binder. The Council can very readily handle this work through the office of the Secretary who now has charge of the paper and other stock used and must keep a constant check upon the same, while the office of the Secretary of State must check all the work done. The abolition of the offices of printer and binder might necessitate the employment of a competent man to aid in looking after the work of printing and binding, but even then it would, in my opinion, prove a great saving to the State and the work would be turned out much more promptly.

PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION.

Two years ago I recommended to the General Assembly the creation of a Public Utilities Commission, or the enlargement of the powers of the Railway Commission so as to give it control of public utilities. I then suggested that the membership of the Railway Commission, if clothed with the powers referred to, be increased to five and that the added members be appointed by the Governor, and as the term of the present members expire their successors be appointed. I desire now to renew that recommendation and to say that, in my opinion, a commission clothed with such power and authority as is given by the laws of the State of New York or Wisconsin would prove of great benefit to the State. Added reasons are apparent almost daily why we need such a commission. No more striking example could be found anywhere than here in our Capital City. Two years ago when the Legislature had a public utilities measure under consideration one of the officials of this city is reported to have given out an interview in which he bewailed the fact that after fifteen years of effort and just at a time when the city officials had the street railway question solved, the Legislature proposed to step in and spoil the whole plan. The Legislature did nothing. You are familiar with the street car controversy and know about how near it appears to be solved. Neither the commissioners, the committee from the business men's organization, nor the citizens who are willing to spend time and money have been able to bring about a settlement. In the meantime the public suffers the inconvenience and the railway company the uncertainty of an unsettled controversy. What is needed is an unprejudiced and an unblased commission removed from local and political influences and clothed with the power and authority of the State to deal not only with the question that has been a bone of contention here in Des Moines, but to deal with the many problems constantly arising in the various cities of the State.

Then, too, the question of the regulation and control of the water power of the State should be lodged with the proposed commission. This is an important matter and one which has been very much neglected.

Nowhere does there seem to be lodged power and authority to regulate rates and character of service of telegraph and telephone companies, nor to control consolidations and physical connections of telephone property. This power should be lodged with the commission herein proposed.

That the establishment of a commission will be opposed by some corporations and by some city officials is not to be doubted. Even the press of this city which claims to favor legislation of an advanced character and to stand for progressive ideas, was most active in opposition to this most progressive of all measures considered by the Legislature two years ago. But these things should not deter you from doing that which will inure to the best interests of the people of the cities of the State and of the State at large.

The Railway Commission, through its report, calls attention to the fact that its powers are limited as to determining what shall constitute a proper highway or farm crossing, as to railroads crossing each other and as to matters of ordinary drainage, or at least the law is indefinite. It asks for a specific declaration as to its powers with reference to these matters and I recommend that the request be granted. I wish also, to call your attention to the commission's decision of industrial rates, express rates, long and short haul and to the regulation of rates, service, etc., of telegraph and telephone companies.

WATERED STOCK.

The Thirty-second session of the General Assembly enacted a law to prevent the issuing of watered stock. It provides that no stock shall be issued by any corporation except for cash, unless the consent of the Executive Council is first obtained, and that no stock shall be issued unless the par value is paid in cash, or its equivalent. As to incorporating an ordinary going business the law does not seem to have worked any particular hardship, but as to promoting new corporations and especially electric railways, it evidently has proven a hindrance. The particular cause of the trouble seems to be that the law does not take into account the expense incurred before arriving at the time to issue stock nor does it take into consideration any depreciation in the sale of bonds. It is the claim of those interested in railway building that they cannot meet the requirements of the statute, and, consequently, railway construction, in this State, is practically at a standstill. It is possible that if other states and the Federal Government were to enact laws similar to our own it might, to some extent, relieve the situation, or at least this State would be placed upon an equality with other states, but until such laws are passed we seem destined to suffer a decided disadvantage.

I have called your attention to this matter in order that you may be determined whether any relief can be had without defeating the real purpose of the law and if none can be had so that you may decide whether the law shall continue unchanged to wait the hope of action by other states and by Congress.

PRIMARY ELECTION LAW.

One of the important matters that should receive the attention of your honorable body is that of the primary election law. It ought to be so amended as to make it absolutely fair and, so far as possible, free from opportunities for abuse. Irregularities in the name of reform are no more excusable than under any other circumstances. If charges that have been made are true there can be no question but that many delegates to the last Republican State Convention won their seats by sharp political practice either upon the part of themselves or of others. I am not referring to any particular faction. There ought not to be any ground for such charges and a law that makes such things possible should either be amended so as to guard against them or should be removed from the statute books.

It has been freely stated that in many instances lists of primary delegates were made up by parties who were not residents of the precincts and who had no interest in the delegates chosen except to be able to secure or control their votes.

Much complaint has also been made as to methods pursued in the selection of committeemen and with regard to the printing of pasters and marking them before they were handed to the voter. The paster has always been, and, in my opinion always will be, a source of abuse. Its use should be abandoned and the names of all delegates and committeemen should be filed with the county auditor and printed upon the ballot. The same care should be exercised with regard to these matters as is exercised as to candidates for office.

The primary law conveys the idea that party lines and party organizations are to be recognized and respected. It not only makes no adequate provision for enforcing party affiliations but it affords easy opportunity for an utter disregard thereof. There can be no valid reason assigned why the law should recognize the right of any party to have its ticket printed upon the official ballot to be voted at the general election unless party lines are to be respected and maintained in the naming of candidates.

The claim that the voters of one party interfering with the naming of candidates of another party is more than mere suspicion. This is clearly shown by an analysis of the vote of Polk County at the general election in 1908 and at the primary in 1910. In 1908 President Taft received 12,555 votes and Mr. Bryan received 7,924 votes. At the primary in June, 1910, the two Republican candidates for Governor received 12,982 votes and all of the Democratic candidates for Governor received only 775 votes. In other words, 427 more Republicans voted in the primaries in Polk County last June than voted at the preceding presidential election, and 7,149 Democrats staid away from the polls or for every Republican who staid away a Democrat voted in the Republican primary. Is there any one who believes that the number of Republicans who voted at the last June primary was one hundred three and four-tenths per cent of those voting at the preceding presidential election, while the Democratic vote at the primary was less than nine and eight-tenths per cent of the presidential vote of that party?

I do not believe that any man will contend that such a policy is either in the interests of good political morals or party integrity. It can have but one ultimate result and that is the splitting of the majority party into hostile factions and the disintegration of the minority party. I believe it to be your duty to so amend the law as to obviate this abuse.

Two years ago I called the attention of the Legislature to the fact that the alphabetical arrangement of names upon the ballot apparently gave an advantage to the candidates whose name came first. The Thirty-third session of the General Assembly so amended the law as to provide that names should be rotated upon the ballot. This doubtless had the effect of equalizing the advantages and disadvantages of the old system, but it emphasized the fact that as to candidates with which the people cannot acquaint themselves they vote with apparent blindness. This is shown by the fact that at the last primary in forty-four counties the candidate for Railway Commissioner whose name came first carried the county. In seventeen other counties the reason that the candidate whose name came first did not carry the county seems to have been due to the location of other candidates. As to the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction fifty-eight counties gave their largest vote to the candidate whose name headed the list and twenty-two other counties seem to have been effected by location of candidates. As to the office of Clerk of the Supreme Court seventy-six counties favored the candidate whose name came first upon the ballot while for the office of Supreme Court Reporter eighty-nine counties gave a majority of votes to the candidate whose name came first and in the remaining ten counties it is quite clear that seven others were effected by location, two by the fact that the candidate resided in them. It will thus be seen that for what might be termed minor State offices candidates are being nominated almost by chance and not by deliberation based upon knowledge and judgment as to fitness for the position sought. Can it be said that such results are consistent with the highest type of official service?

These results have led many to conclude that it would be wise to so amend the law as to exempt from its provision all State officers except Governor and Lieutenant Governor. There is much argument in favor of this suggestion and when divested of mere sentiment, there is not much against it.

One of the inconsistencies of the law is that we require candidates for State offices to go before the people at a primary but we select delegates to the State Convention, which may be called upon to nominate candidates for State offices, through a county convention. Were I writing a primary law I should provide that the delegates to the State Convention should be elected at a direct primary, would forbid the use of proxies and would then nominate candidates for State offices by convention, composed of the men whom the people had selected.

I am not in favor of the repeal of the primary law, but I am in favor of such amendments as will make it fair and just. That wide spread opposition exists as to the entire system there can be no room for dispute, but whether this opposition shall cease and the law become a permanent part of the statutes of our State depends upon whether it shall be freed from its many abuses and objectionable features.

Since there can be no doubt but that when the time comes for the selection of delegates to the National Convention of 1912 a question will be raised as to whether the delegates selected at the recent primaries shall constitute the county conventions to name delegates to the State Conventions which are to select delegates to the National Conventions. I deem it expedient to call your attention to the fact that much difference of opinion exists with reference thereto. Those who hold that the primary delegates chosen last year will constitute the county convention, base their conclusions upon the language of Section 1087-a25 of the Supplement to the Code as amended, which reads: "The term of office of such delegates shall begin on the day following the final canvass of the votes by the Board of Supervisors, and shall continue for two years and until their successors are elected." While those who hold the opposite view base their conclusions upon the fact that nowhere is there any reference in the primary to anything regarding delegates to a National Convention or to the convention itself, and they further argue, that these are not subjects of legislation for the reason that the National Conventions and committees of each party determine for themselves how conventions shall be constituted and how the delegates thereto shall be chosen. Personally, I have never believed that the primary law applies in any respect to delegates to National Conventions or to anything pertaining to the selection of such delegates. I call this matter to your attention not for the purpose of making recommendation, but simply that you may determine what, if any, consideration you may care to give it.

INSTITUTIONS UNDER MANAGEMENT OF THE BOARD OF CONTROL.

The institutions under the management of the Board of Control demand your most careful consideration. You will find in the report of the board, recently made public, a comprehensive review and discussion of the affairs and necessities of the various institutions and I earnestly request that you make a careful study of this report.

Some of the suggestions made by the board, as well as some not referred to in the report, I desire to call to your attention. Especially would I impress upon you the necessity for a careful study of the chapter devoted to insane and epileptics. The report shows that we now have in our hospitals for insane and our institution for feeble minded children five hundred fifty-one epileptics and that there are perhaps from two to four thousand outside of any institution. It is estimated that twelve to fifteen hundred of these people might be formed into a colony and cared for by the State. That it is very desirable that those now in institutions for the insane and the feeble minded should be removed therefrom is well established and is necessary because of the crowded conditions there existing, as well as for other reasons.

I believe the time has come when our State should begin to make preparations for the care of its epileptics and I therefore recommend that steps looking to that end be taken by you. I wish also to suggest in this connection that any arrangement for the location of such a colony should, in my opinion, provide that it be located near the center of the State and where it would be easily accessible by railroad.

Under the law the superintendents or managing officers of all the institutions, except those of the penitentiary and reformatory, have the supplies for their tables provided at the expense of the State. Whatever may have caused this discrimination originally, it is now grossly unjust and should not exist. It is expected that the Board of Control and the Board of Parole, as well as other officers, when visiting these institutions will stop with the wardens. If this is done the warden must, from his own funds, bear the expense. Because of this fact the Board of Parole, at least, has recognized the impropriety of stopping with the warden and lodges at hotels. Many demands are made upon the wardens' hospitalities which he cannot afford to meet. I recommend that the same rule which applies to furnishing the tables of the superintendents of the various institutions of the State be extended to the wardens.

There are some conditions existing at our industrial schools which in my opinion should be changed. One of the worst features which I have observed is the existence of what is known as the dormitory system, whereby a large number of girls or boys, possibly as many as thirty to fifty, in some instances, are housed in one room during the night time, and without any attendant except possibly an occasional visit by the night watch. I am advised that the reason that no attendants for night time are provided is due to lack of sufficient allowance to employ them.

I am told by those in charge of the institutions that crime and vice result from these unobserved associations. Some of our more recently erected buildings have been constructed upon the dormitory plan. I recommend that those at the Mitchellville institution be changed to the individual room plan at as early a date as is possible, and that until such time as the changes can be made, night attendants be provided for the dormitories and that attendants for the dormitories be permanently arranged for at the Eldora institution. There are reasons why the dormitory system is best at the boys' school which does not obtain as to the school for girls, but there should at all times be a watch over the boys in the night time. The reasons are quite obvious and are of such importance as to demand early consideration.

I would suggest also that as an aid to better discipline, and for the protection of the boys and girls, a method whereby the more incorrigible and vicious can be transferred from the Eldora and Mitchellville institutions to the institution at Anamosa be adopted.

In other words, I would recommend a thorough system of gradation, so far as is possible, according to age and also to conduct and habits, extending through our industrial schools and to the reformatory, keeping always in mind the fact that where it can be done it is best to put children into private families or homes.

I want also to call your attention to the advisability of reducing the maximum age limit for admittance. I believe it to be the judgment of the Board of Control and of those in charge of the Mitchellville institution that it was a mistake to advance the age at which girls should be admitted to that institution to eighteen years, and I recommend that you look carefully into this matter and satisfy yourselves as to what is best and correct the mistakes if you believe it to be a mistake.

I have given a good deal of thought and consideration to the hospital for inebriates at Knoxville, and believe it to be my duty to say to you that the results accomplished there are far from being satisfactory. I have doubted very much the wisdom of continuing the institution, and yet I am not ready to recommend that it be abolished unless provision is made for caring for some of the inmates elsewhere. I am, however, convinced that as between continuing the institution as it has been run and abolishing it and using the building and grounds for some other state purpose, it would be wise to abolish it. It has not been an entire failure, but it has not succeeded to that degree that would justify its continuance under present methods. I have discussed the condition existing with the present superintendent who took charge the first of last October, and with members of the Board of Control, and I believe we pretty generally agree that some radical changes should be made.

At present there is great lack of ability upon the part of the superintendent to enforce regulations and to inaugurate and enforce methods which he believes to be necessary to accomplish the purpose for which the institution was created. There is absolutely no means of restraining a large part of the men. If they want to run away there is nothing to prevent them from doing so. During the last biennial period two hundred and twenty-nine men escaped, and it appears that since the institution was established, January, 1906, out of a total number of two thousand one hundred five new commitments nearly seven hundred have escaped and perhaps only about two hundred twenty-five were returned.

There is practically nothing with which to employ the time of the men, except during the farming season, and then comparatively little, so that one hundred and fifty or more who are capable of doing work and who ought to be made to work are constant loafers at the state's expense. One of the first needs of the institution is to equip it with means of furnishing employment for every man who is able to work and then clothe the superintendent with authority to require him to work. Make it an institution of correction and reformation and let every man who is sent there understand that he goes there to be disciplined and to remain until he is capable of properly conducting himself at home. This would necessitate the establishment of proper means for restraining the men, provisions for enforcing the conditions and paroles, and general enlargement of the powers of the superintendent and others in authority, but in my opinion nothing short of this will justify the continuance of the institution.

Some of the persons sent there need medical attention, perhaps when first committed most all of them do, so that it would be necessary to maintain a hospital, but a large per cent of the inmates, after the first few days or weeks, at most, are abundantly able to work and need to be thoroughly disciplined. Nothing would have a more lasting or beneficial effect upon such individuals than a few months of labor. In other words, the institution should partake both of the nature of a hospital and a reformatory. It is impossible to determine what per cent of those committed to the institution are cured. The present management does not seem to regard the published figures as being reliable, and the means of securing information are not sufficient to enable a correct conclusion to be reached.

I am recommending further along in this message the creation of a committee to which I believe this entire matter should be referred. The superintendent and the members of the Board of Control should then be asked to come before the committee, and this whole subject should be gone into carefully and thoroughly.

There has been considerable demand, ever since the establishment of the Board of Control, to have the schools for the blind and deaf classed with the educational institutions. In view of the recent establishment of a State Board of Education with a finance committee which devotes all of its time to the institutions and also because of the enormous amount of work devolving upon the Board of Control, I am strongly impressed with the idea that it would be wise to transfer these schools to the care of the State Board of Education.

I have discussed the advisability of this transfer both with the Board of Control and the finance committee of the State Board of Education, and while the former would, perhaps, not recommend the transfer, it does not oppose it, and the latter body is ready and willing to accept the control of the two schools referred to if the transfer is deemed by you to be advisable.

GENERAL OBSERVATIONS.

There are a few general observations which I desire to make as to matters pertaining to the Board of Control and its affairs. First, let me say that when the board was created the law provided that the term of office of the members should expire in April of the year in which the sessions of the legislature were held. At that time the sessions were held in the even numbered years. When they were changed to the odd numbered years and no change was made in the terms of the members of the board, it left them to expire one year after the adjournment of the legislative session. I recommended a restoration of the original custom except that it would perhaps be better to make the term expire at the end of the fiscal year, June 30, instead of in April. In order to accomplish this, I would recommend that the present term of each member of the board be extended one year, so that they, too, will expire in the odd numbered years, 1913, 1915, etc.

It is my opinion also that the law as to confirmation should be changed so as to provide that only a majority of the Senate, instead of two-thirds, might be required.

Under the present method seventeen members of the Senate can defeat the will of the remaining thirty-three members and of the Executive, which belittles rather than dignifies the importance of confirmation.

I believe that greater good and more satisfactory results would be obtained if a recess committee were provided for, which committee would have authority to visit, inspect and investigate all of the state institutions between sessions of the legislature and be ready to report when the General Assembly convenes, than to continue the present junket system. I would require the Board of Control to make up its report and file its estimates in such time that the committee could thoroughly study and investigate them before the legislature convenes. It might be wise also to permit the committee to visit the institutions of other states for the purpose of making comparison and gaining information.

I believe, too, that a study of the cause and prevention of insanity, epilepsy, criminality, etc., should be entered upon scientifically by some competent and properly constituted body or committee with a view to preventing as well as caring for or curing diseases and diseased.

Before leaving this subject I want to recommend a thorough and careful review and study of the laws governing the Board of Control and of the methods in vogue. It would seem that in some instances the Board has regarded the provisions of the law as scarcely workable and has adopted methods not easily reconciled with the statute. Especially does this appear to be true as to the manner of purchasing goods and awarding contracts. If the law is not easy of application or is defective, it should be amended, but if not so amended it should be strictly complied with. One of the things complained of to me is that of a lack of publicity of information as to prices paid for goods and the sources from which purchased, the board having held that this information should be kept from the public, assigning as a reason that by so doing it has been able to get concessions by way of prices. While this may be true, it can scarcely be denied that such a course might also be used as a cloak for wrong doing, and it would be difficult to assign any very good reason why the state should expect to receive any better prices than individuals or firms who handle an equal amount of goods or wares. I believe that the plan which is safest and least open to criticism is to let the public know what its officials are doing, and this can best be done by a reasonable amount of publicity, or at least by furnishing information on request.

In my opinion some of the institutions have an unnecessary amount of money invested in supplies, other than provisions. In some instances numerous articles are found in the storerooms that apparently will not be needed for many months or even years. While the amount of money thus tied up may not be large, it, nevertheless, would seem to me to be wise for the Board of Control to require the steward of each institution to furnish a complete inventory of everything on hand, if such information is not already in the board's possession, and where a surplus of anything is found to exist and will not be needed within a reasonable time, transfer it to some other institution where needed, giving proper credit therefor.

During the last session of the legislature a special committee from the House to investigate the hospitals for insane was created. In view of the general tendency in that direction, as well as by reason of the unusual amount of criticism and comment during the last year, there is little doubt but there will be a disposition to inquire more closely into institution matters this session than previously. If any investigation is undertaken it should be by an unprejudiced and unbiased committee, whose purpose should be to ascertain the real condition of affairs for the betterment of the institutions themselves. Then, too, there are many matters which the board will want to present which have a bearing on its work generally as relates to a number of institutions under its control. The House has various committees on the different institutions under the management of the Board of Control, but the Senate has not. I therefore suggest that a committee of small membership from each house be appointed to consider Board of Control matters; that the committees be empowered to act jointly and to hear all matters which the board may wish to present to it, and may also inquire into or investigate any board or institution affairs that it may deem proper. Such a committee, if provided for, should be named in the same manner as other regular committees, so that the presiding officers can exercise the greatest freedom in determining who are proper parties to serve upon such a committee.

BOARD OF PAROLE AND INCREASE IN PRISON POPULATION.

A study of the report of the Board of Control and of the Board of Parole will disclose the fact that our prison population has increased quite materially since the establishment of the latter board. The average number of prisoners at Fort Madison for the last biennial period was 487, as against 443 for the preceding period, and at Anamosa it was 437, as against 354, or an average increase in the two institutions of 127.

The number of prisoners received at the two institutions during the last biennial period was only 803, as against 843 for the preceding period. It seems quite clear, then, that the increased average daily number of prisoners in the two institutions is not due to increase in crime, but to the lengthening of the time of service occasioned by the operation of the new law creating the Board of Parole and providing for an indeterminate sentence. No doubt this lengthening of term of service applies in greater degree to those having previously served in prison than to first term men, but as to this there are no figures obtainable. I am in full sympathy with the Board of Parole and indeterminate law, but I would so amend it as to lodge more discretion with the board and afford better opportunity for observing the conduct of paroled men so that greater clemency might safely be extended.

At present the Board is only allowed compensation for not to exceed one hundred days in each year. I believe the time has arrived when the members of the Board should be put upon a salary and their entire time should be required in the performance of their official duties. If this be done, in addition to having much more time to devote to the work now done by the Board, I believe that the members could also look after the paroled men, both as to securing employment and observing their conduct, thus obviating the necessity for a parole agent.

Furthermore, I would repeal that provision of the law requiring applications for pardon or parole of prisoners who have been found guilty of murder in the first degree to be submitted to the legislature, leaving the Governor to act independently, or I would confer the power now lodged with the legislature upon the Board of Parole, as I believe that every one of you who has ever served upon the committee of pardons will bear me out in the statement that within the short time of your sessions and the time you have to devote to investigations and hearings it is wholly impossible for you to so acquaint yourselves with the facts and circumstances as to be able to intelligently pass upon applications. Then, too. applications from this class of prisoners must wait until the meetings of the legislature, thereby giving only three months in two years for considering such cases, whereas, the Board could hear them at any time.

I think, also, that there are some classes of crimes where the maximum limit of punishment might be thrown off and leave it to the discretion of the Board as to the length of service. I am strongly in favor of exercising a great degree of clemency with first offenders, where the family history and all the circumstances are well and favorably known, but I am likewise a believer in severe punishment for the habitual criminal. Possibly the following is a suggestion which you will not be prepared to receive, and I may be called an extremist in suggesting it, but I believe the time is coming when neither courts nor legislatures will concern themselves with the length of time of service of criminals, except as to those guilty of murder. Legislatures will determine the character of crimes for which criminals shall be committed to a prison. Courts will determine the question of guilt, and Boards of Parole and Pardon will determine how long the convicted should be incarcerated. In other words, the Board of Parole will become a branch of the court. This I believe to be the ultimate and proper sphere of a Board of Parole, when the system reaches a degree of greater development and perfection.

The work of establishing a reformatory at Anamosa has only been fairly begun. While I have no desire to criticise what has been done, there is no question but that it should be extended. Men who are sent out from the institution ought to be able to take up some regular line of work, and the fact that they are not able to do so makes it difficult for employment to be found for many of them, and where men are not able to secure employment there is much greater danger that they will go wrong. Our institution is much behind those of some other states in respect to the training given the men at the reformatory, and I do not deem it necessary to more than call your attention to this matter.

The question of providing a means whereby a part of the earnings of each prisoner may be used for the support of those dependent upon him is of vital importance, as many women and children are left as objects of charity and often to suffer severely by reason of having no one to assist in their support. Where there is no one dependent upon the prisoner the fund might be allowed to accumulate and be turned over to him at the time of his release to assist him in getting started. I, however, seriously question the wisdom of turning money over to a prisoner to be used upon himself while in prison.

The Board of Parole has recently made public its first printed report of its doings and transactions, and I respectfully direct your attention to it, as it will furnish much valuable information.

PARDONS, PAROLE, ETC.

As soon as the report can be put into published form there will be laid before you in detail information with reference to pardons, suspensions, restorations, commutations and remissions covering the period of my administration, but for your present information I will say that fourteen pardons have been granted by me, one of which was upon recommendation of the Thirty-third General Assembly and nine upon recommendation of the Board of Parole. I have paroled from the penitentiary and reformatory twenty-six persons, one of which was upon recommendation of the Board of Control and nineteen upon recommendation of the Board of Parole. Seventy jail sentences have been suspended by me. I have restored to citizenship, upon recommendation of the Board of Parole, seventy-nine persons, and upon my own initiative thirty-four, making a total of one hundred and thirteen. I have revoked the parole of six persons who had been released from the penitentiary and reformatory, and have, likewise, revoked the suspension of sentence of four individuals who had been released from county jails. One prisoner has had his sentence commuted by me upon my own initiative and six upon recommendation of the Board of Parole. I have remitted twenty-two fines and two forfeitures.

BETTER HIGHWAYS.

The question of better roads has received more than usual attention during the last year. Many meetings have been held in various parts of the state and great interest has been taken in the matter of road building. Many of the highways of the state have become models of dirt roads, and with constant attention I believe can be kept so most of the year. Especial consideration has been given to what is known as the River-to-River Road, connecting Council Bluffs with Davenport and following generally the line of the Rock Island Railroad, and to the transcontinental road between Council Bluffs and Clinton and following the general course of the Northwestern Railroad. And now it is proposed to establish a route through the southern part of the state to be known as the Blue Grass Road, and connecting Council Bluffs with Fort Madison. Also one in the north part of the state, to be called the Hawkeye Route, connecting Dubuque and Sioux City. Perhaps the best and most scientifically constructed highway to be found in the state is that connecting Montezuma, Malcolm, Brooklyn and Grinnell, in Poweshiek county. It is built by contract out of the one-mill levy extended by the Board of Supervisors.

I believe that some legislation is needed with regard to highway construction and maintenance. I would clothe the Board of Supervisors with power to employ a competent engineer to work under the direction of the Board. I would abolish the office of county surveyor and have the duties now devolving upon him performed by the engineer. As a special fund to be used for dragging the roads, I would set aside one-quarter or one-third of the taxes collected for road purposes and to be expended by the trustees, and would forbid its use for any other purpose than that of dragging. Then it should be provided that the work of road building should be done before the fall of the year, when to work the roads, except to drag them, means to put them in condition often almost impassable during the winter and spring months.

One of the just sources of criticism regarding the expenditure of road funds is that too much of the money collected for road purposes is invested in heavy and costly machinery which is unnecessary in the care of the roads. Some such machinery is needed, but too much is simply a waste of funds. I urge upon you careful consideration of the question of better highways. I do not, however, recommend an increase in the levy for road purposes, but the adoption of means whereby better results can be had from the income from the present levy.

If hundreds of miles of roads can be put in shape and kept up on the present levy, why cannot many thousands of miles be so kept if proper attention and care is exercised?

The question of state aid in the building of highways has been a subject of much discussion. I am not opposed to state aid, but it is well to consider where the money to be offered by the state is to come from. Some people discuss the question of state aid as though the state had unlimited means, derived elsewhere than from the taxpayers. At present more than fifty-three per cent of all the money expended by the state comes from the three and three-tenths mills levy for state purposes. It scarcely needs to be suggested that to offer any considerable amount in aid of road building would mean an increase in the levy for state purposes unless there are other means provided for raising the funds. A few years ago, when the primary election law was enacted, it contained a provision that the state should pay one-half of the expense of holding the primary. It only required one election to show the people that the money the state paid to the counties it first collected from them. The law was repealed at the first session of the legislature following its enactment. If the people of the counties want to contribute to the state in order that the state may turn the funds back to them by aiding in the construction of highways, I do not object, but I only wish to recommend such use of the funds now provided for as will, in my judgment, bring about better and more satisfactory results.

It is well here, also, I think, to say that the use of wide-tired wagons has proven a great aid to the keeping of highways in better condition. It has been suggested that after a given time none but wide-tired wagons be permitted for hauling heavy loads along the public roads. This is a suggestion that is worthy of your consideration.

I believe that the road laws of the state should be re-written in order that they may be simplified and brought together in one continuous enactment.

FISH AND GAME.

The last session of the General Assembly enacted a law providing that all persons desiring to pursue the pastime of hunting in the state should procure from a county auditor of some county of the state a license, for which an annual fee of one dollar should be paid. The fees derived from the sale of the licenses were to be forwarded to the treasurer of the state and were to constitute a fund to be known as the "Fish and Game Protection Fund," which should be used for the protection and propagation of fish and game and for the care and preservation of the lakes. An unexpectedly large amount of money was received in this fund, which for the first year amounted to $107,798, and since July 1, 1910, $68,293 has been received. There were in the treasury January 1st of this year $121,823.21 to the credit of this fund.

The remainder of the fund collected has been expended in maintaining the Fish and Game Department, in the employment of deputies, in the care and preservation of the lakes, and in the protection and propagation of fish and game.

I am advised by the State Fish and Game Warden that since the fund above referred to was created he has had placed in the lakes of the state more than 300,000 game fish of adult size, and has seined from ponds and bayous of the state and placed in the streams more than 1,000,000 fish of varying sizes; that he has bought and had distributed over the state for hatching 6,500 ring-necked pheasant eggs and has bought and placed with farmers and others for breeding purposes 1,800 pheasants; that he has established in the state two small game farms, one in Pottawattamie county and one in Blackhawk county, and that he has contracts for delivery between December 15th last and the 1st day of March 10,000 Hungarian partridges, which are to be distributed over the state.

It is his purpose to continue his efforts until, if it is possible, the state may be thoroughly stocked with game birds of the varieties above named and the lakes and streams of the state may be well supplied with fish.

LAW OBSERVANCE.

Two years ago, when I delivered my inaugural address, conditions in the state were such that it seemed not only appropriate, but necessary, that I emphasize the necessity for better observance of the laws of the state, especially the laws relating to the sale of intoxicating liquors.

The General Assembly then in session enacted a number of statutes the purpose of which was to secure a better observance of law and also better and cleaner official service. While there has been much criticism of this legislation, there is no doubt but that it has resulted in bringing about better service upon the part of otherwise lax officials and has secured a better observance of laws in general. In my opinion the liquor laws of the state are better enforced today than they have been at any time in recent years.

THE DEATH OF SENATOR DOLLIVER.

The state was greatly shocked at the news of the death of Senator Dolliver, which occurred on the evening of the 15th day of October last, at his home in Fort Dodge. At the time of his death he was representing our state as its senior member in the United States Senate, and his death caused a vacancy which I have filled by the appointment of Hon. Lafayette Young. As you are aware, his appointment lasts only until your honorable body fills the vacancy or adjourns without filling it.

There has been much talk about the legislature's withholding action on the matter of electing a senator and providing for a special primary, so that the people may express their preference with reference thereto. The law clothes you with all the authority necessary to act and enjoins upon you the responsibility of filling the vacancy, and I trust that you will do so in due time.

REFERENCE DEPARTMENT.

I have found the reference department, under the supervision of Mr. A. J. Small, of the Law Library, to be of great value in the study of new laws and in securing current information upon any subjects pertaining to the affairs of the different states, and especially legislation proposed or enacted by them. I desire to in this manner commend the work that has been done and to recommend that provision be made for its continuance and extension.

GOVERNOR B. F. CARROLL'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS.

Members of the Thirty-fourth session of the General Assembly, January, 1911:

In assuming, for a second time, the duties of Chief Executive of our State, I want to acknowledge with gratefulness the continued confidence that has been reposed in me and the honor that has again been conferred.

In the two years lying before us I shall put forth every possible effort to so conduct the affairs of the state as to merit the consideration that has been so generously extended by the suffrage of our people.

A few days ago I transmitted to you a message in which I discussed at length many subjects pertaining to the affairs of the state and made a number of suggestions as to matters of legislation. In this address I shall deal more particularly with the growth and development of the state and with those questions which relate to the doings and actions of the people as a whole, rather than to their officials and to the General Assembly.

FIFTY YEARS OF DEVELOPMENT.

I have witnessed fifty years of development of our splendid Commonwealth. It is true that during the first years of the fifty I was not of that age to give particular attention to the growth of the state, but my field of observations grew with my years until recently it has been my privilege to see and study it from every side and from every corner.

In the half century that has passed I have seen much of the cultivated portion of the state emerge from the prairie grass and from the forests and have seen its methods and customs arise from the most crude and primitive to the most advanced and enlightened. From the little old diamond plow, the mowing scythe and the cradle, the pepperbox threshing machine, the ox cart and the lynch pin wagon, we have come along to the use of the two row cultivator, the self binder, the threshing machine that cuts the bands, feeds itself and stacks the straw, and to the automobile as a means of conveyance. We have converted the sod house of Northwest Iowa and the log hut with its stick chimney and puncheon floor of the wooded sections, into the splendid and magnificent city and country homes of all parts of the state. We have elevated labor and broadened the field of activity for the business man. We have dignified and ennobled every profession known to our state and, above all, we have established a splendid and noble citizenship not excelled anywhere. All of this has come about in little more than a generation, and to my mind the possibilities of the future are as promising as the fulfillment of the past has been marvelous. The credit for all of this and the prospect for the future we owe, in a large measure, to that generation of sturdy men and women who came into our state during the first half of the last century and who were the real pioneers of that day and age.

Well do I remember the stories of early life in southeast Iowa as told by those settlers and with what anxiety and earnestness those commonplace people struggled with the hardships and privations of pioneer days. That which was the experience of southeastern Iowa was later the experience of the northwest and of almost all parts of the state. My memory reaches back to the closing days of that period when we had no means of reaching the outside world except by team and wagon and when we were almost an Empire shut up within ourselves. When the wheat and corn upon which the family subsisted were ground into flour or meal with the little water mills standing along the local streams, and when the clothing that covered the family was clipped as wool from the back of the sheep, carded by hand, spun into yarn by the women of the family, woven into cloth and made into clothing by the same hands. When the shoes which protected the feet from the cold of those severe winters were made upon the cobbler's bench, during the evening hours, by the father or the large brothers of the family. Not a small part of the meat upon which the family subsisted consisted of small game, turkeys and deer, killed in the fields and forests.

Those pioneers were men and women of courage and determination and they were preparing this fertile Empire, which we call Iowa, for a great and glorious Commonwealth and whether they hailed from the timbered sections of the south and east or from the bleak prairies of the north and west they were building and planning for the future, and who is there now to rise up and and say that the work of that generation was not wisely and grandly done?

SIXTY-FOUR YEARS A STATE.

We are now in the sixty-fifth year of our statehood. During that time nineteen different individuals have occupied the position with which you have honored me for a second time. Eighteen of these men came from states other than Iowa. New England has furnished us six executives, viz.: Grimes, from New Hampshire; Merrill, from Maine; Briggs and Shaw, from Vermont; Hempstead and Larrabee, from Connecticut. Maryland gave us Kirkwood; Illinois, Drake; Ohio, Lowe and Garst; Pennsylvania, Carpenter, Newbold and Cummins, while New York was the birthplace of Stone, Gear, Sherman, Boies and Jackson. These men have done much to bring our state up to the high standing which it now enjoys in the sisterhood of states.

Some of them came to Iowa when it was yet a territory and assisted in laying the foundation upon which the Government of the Commonwealth is builded. They were members of the early assemblies and of the constitutional conventions. At that time the population and wealth of the state was largely confined to the eastern portion, but its settled territory extended quite rapidly. Our progress has been almost constant and our development very marked. Lands which cost the Federal Government from three to eight cents per acre are now worth as much as $200 per acre. We have grown in population from about 96,000 in 1846 to nearly 2,225,000 in 1910. We have converted our forests and prairies, almost 55,000 square miles in area, into as many square miles of cultivated and productive land. We furnished nearly 70,000 Civil War soldiers and our full quota of Mexican and Spanish-American War volunteers. We have increased the production of our greatest staple, corn, from 1,400,000 bushels in 1846 to nearly 355,000,000 bushels in 1910. We have established in the state 1,656 banks and banking institutions with deposits approaching $400,000,000. Our insurance interests are scarcely second to those of any of the older states. We have builded and are operating more than 10,000 miles of railroad. The value of our crops for the last year exceeded $362,000,000. While the total value of farm products, including live stock, exceeds, $800,000,000. We have given to the nation the greatest agricultural state in the union.

LOSS IN POPULATION.

We have been hearing a great deal about the loss of population. What signifies the loss of 7,000 people out of a total number of two and one quarter millions? It takes three decimal places to find the figure representing the per cent of decrease.

Accepting the figures showing the population as being correct, and yet there is a perfectly rational explanation for the decrease which does not in any manner reflect upon the state or its material interests. Let me say in this connection that the national census of 1900 shows the population of the state to have been 2,231,858, while the state census of 1905 shows only 2,210,050, or a loss of 21,808. The census of 1910 places the figures representing the total population at 2,224,771, which shows a gain of 14,721 during the last five years. During the ten year period, however, there is shown to be a loss of 7,082. The number of farms in the state as shown by the 1900 census was 228,622 and by the recent census 216,807, or a decrease of 11,815. It certainly cannot be said that any land has actually been lost to the state, but it must mean that more than 11,800 farms have been consolidated with other farms and it is reasonable to assume that the families previously occupying the farms thus lost, being farmers' families, have, in general, sought homes elsewhere than in Iowa.

The average number of people to each farm, as shown by the census of 1900, was a little more than five and one-half, which, applied to the decrease in the number of farms, would mean a loss of more than 65,000 of the farming population of the state. There are many things which may have had to do with this change in population, but to my mind by far the most potent influence has been the very rapid advance in the high priced farms and go elsewhere to buy cheaper lands. Then, too, there is little doubt but that the young man just starting for himself and the man of small means have taken their families and gone where a quarter or a half section of land could be bought for less than an eighty acre tract can be bought for here in Iowa.

The same census enumeration which credits us with a decrease in population has done us the kindness to furnish other figures that present a very different picture and tell a very different story. For example, the recent census shows that the value of Iowa farm lands from 1900 to 1910 increased in round numbers from $1,256,000,000 to $2,800,000,000, or about 123 per cent. The value of buildings alone increased nearly 89 per cent. The value of farm implements and machinery increased nearly 65 per cent. The expenditures for labor increased from $16,376,000 to $24,732,000, or 51 per cent. Can any one study these figures and those that I have heretofore quoted and conclude that there is anything seriously the matter with Iowa?

LOSS IN SCHOOL POPULATION.

I do not feel so deeply concerned about the loss of a few thousand people from our general population as I do about the loss in school population. From 1900 to 1910, as shown by the annual school enumeration, the school population of the state decreased from 731,154 to 677,204, showing a loss of 54,150 persons of school age in ten years, being almost seven and one-half per cent decrease. This would indicate that in the main our loss in population consists of the younger men and women who are the parents of children less than twenty-one years of age. The result is that the attendance in our public schools, especially in the country schools, has been constantly decreasing.

In 1908 there were 1,752 schools in the state with an enrollment of ten pupils or less, while the report for 1910 shows 2,071 such schools. If this rate of decrease in attendance keeps up for a few years what is to become of the country school? We are confronted with no more serious problem than that of the rural schools. Some people have attributed our loss in population to our country schools and their methods. It would seem to me a much more reasonable criticism to attribute the condition of the country schools to the loss in population. Restore the old time number of pupils to the rural school districts and the solution to the school question will be greatly simplified.

During the last ten years the average size of the farms in Iowa have increased from 151.2 acres to 156.3 acres, or about 3.4 per cent, while the per cent. During the same period the decrease in school population has decrease in general population has been only about three-tenths of one been almost seven and one-half per cent. As previously shown much of the loss in school population is confined to the country districts, which indicates, not only a movement from the state, but from the country toward the cities and towns. This is a condition not peculiar to Iowa alone, but has been the experience of other of the older and more densely populated states, some of whose farms have been practically abandoned.

KEEP THE BOY ON THE IOWA FARM.

The slogan "Keep the boy on the farm" should be changed to "Keep the boy on the Iowa farm." It is likewise important that we encourage the girls to remain on the farms. Proper credit has never been given to the girls and women for the part they have taken in the development of the state. The women of Iowa have met every requirement that could be expected of wives, mothers and daughters. Every inducement should be held out both to the girl and to the boy who show a disposition to interest themselves in those things pertaining to country life to get them to stay upon the farm. It is not, however, every farmer's boy who would make a good farmer nor every girl who would make a good farmer's wife any more than it is every merchant's son who would make a good merchant or every lawyer's son who would make a good attorney. It used to be thought that if a boy did not show an aptitude for anything else he would make a good farmer, but the day of such way of thinking has passed. It requires brains and energy to make a good farmer, just as it does to succeed at any other line of business. The boy who can succeed at farming will find no more honorable or profitable occupation.

How can we encourage people to remain upon the farm? By making farm life more attractive. The farm home should be the equal in all respects to the town or city home and with the independent systems of light, heat and water it is possible to so equip the country home as to make it the equal of any other.

I have been delighted, as I have gone about the state, to see the marked development along the lines above suggested. The figures previously quoted showing an increase of nearly 89 per cent in the value of buildings in ten years means that we are building better farm as well as town structures.

The improvement of our highways so as to bring the country home into closer relation to city and town life would, in my opinion, prove a potent factor in lessening the tendency to abandon the country. In this too we are making progress.

We have reached the period in our country's development when farm life means more than the raising of horses, cattle and hogs. It means all that and it also means the development of the highest type of American manhood and womanhood. Nowhere in all the realm of professional or business life do we find more successful men and women than those who came from the farm. The atmosphere surrounding the country home means the development of strong minds and bodies. What is it, then, that causes a constant stream of young people, as well as those of older years, to leave the farm and seek employment in the cities and towns? While there may be many answers to the question, it seems to me that there are a few very potent, and obvious reasons, among them being better wages obtainable, the shorter hours of labor, employment usually throughout the year, better social advantages and the fact that the high price of lands makes it difficult for the man of small means to equip himself with land, machinery, etc., necessary to engage in farming upon his own account.

This again furnishes a reason why our state has lost in population. The young man seeking employment other than farming, failing to find it in this state, goes elsewhere where manufacturing is engaged in more extensively, or where the kind of employment he desires may be found. This loss can only be overcome by the establishment of such industries as will keep our young men in our midst.

To check the drift of people from the country to the cities and towns, will, in my judgment, require a revival of social life in our rural communities. Many of the old time social features of the country have disappeared and a sufficient substitute therefor has not been found. The natural result is for the people to seek places of entertainment and amusement in the nearby city or town, and eventually these things draw them away from the country.

OTHER REASONS.

It seems to me that I have suggested some, at least, of the more apparent reasons for the loss of much of the population that annually leaves our state and is not wholly offset by people coming from elsewhere, as well as having touched upon the real causes of the drift from the country to the cities and towns. There are, not doubt, many other reasons for changes in population such as a desire for different climate, opportunities for speculation in lines of business not common to our state, a desire to engage in fruit and other farming such as is done in the irrigated sections as well as because of the natural tendency toward changing about from place to place. Some one has quite aptly suggested that there are three classes of people required in the development of every new country. First comes the pioneer, who often does little more than to blaze the way and moves on. A second class comes in and takes his place and brings the country up to a fair stage of development; and then gives way to the third class, who become the permanent occupants of the country. It is the first and second classes, or the pioneer and the near pioneer, that we have been losing. It is only the natural order of things and it means that we have reached this third or highest stage of development.

I shall not say that there is no merit in the suggestion that our political strife has had an unwholesome effect upon the state. While these things may not have driven any one from among us, I do not apprehend that they have in any way encouraged people to locate here. No business man ever seeks a battle ground, either bloody or bloodless, upon which to make an investment, at least not until the battle is ended, and certain it is, that capital is not going to flow readily to a state where uncertainties exist as to the conditions under which it may be invested and handled. Neither do I believe it to be any encouragement to our business interests to have our state better known away from home by reason of its political and factional feuds than for its broad acres and immense crops. The terms "progressive" and "standpats" as used in this state to represent discordant elements, have never induced one man or one woman to locate in the state. There is evidence upon every hand and from almost every county that these bitter factional alignments have had their influence upon local business conditions of the various communities. Men have been known for these reasons to change their places of banking, of purchasing goods and of transacting business in general. Even the harmonious and united efforts of business men's organizations have been interfered with because of intense factional feeling. The man who suggested that these things have had a bearing upon the population of the state had much ground upon which to base his conclusion.

Nothing better could come to our state than that there should be an end of these matters. Give the business interests of the state precedence over the ambitions of men and let the people join in a united effort to promote the material welfare of the Commonwealth.

I do not wish to be misunderstood. Where we need new laws, and we do need some, let us have them, and let us have a chance to test their efficiency by requiring that they be observed. No wiser suggestion has been made recently than the suggestion by President Taft, that we halt in our efforts to legislate long enough to secure compliance with laws already enacted so that we may know just what additional legislation is needed. Constant agitation means constant disturbance of business conditions. I sometimes fear that we have been spending too much time inculcating in the minds of the people a feeling of distrust of all public officials and a further idea that nothing can be accomplished except by legislation, state or national. That man is a benefactor who can catch the ear of the people long enough to call their attention to the many things which they can do for themselves.

ADVERTISE AND EDUCATE.

Much has been said recently about advertising the possibilities of our state. I doubt not that much good could be accomplished by judiciously publishing to the country at large the advantages and possibilities of our Commonwealth. While I believe in advertising, I believe also in a thorough system of education, here among our own people. I do not speak these words in any spirit of criticism, because we have been making such marked progress in recent years that in the face of the most severe criticism that one would be warranted in making he feels more like stopping to commend than to find fault, and yet with all this we do not fully realize the possibilities of our state. Our own people do not yet appreciate the almost unlimited resources of our soil when properly handled. We are still tending in the wrong direction, in this, at least, that our farms are increasing in size. Many men make money off of large farms, and there can be no criticism of that, but what we need to learn is more intensified farming. Produce more upon fewer acres. Our farms are capable of furnishing profitable returns for many more people than now occupy them if we will only farm closer. Ground which now yields thirty to forty bushels of corn per acre should be made to yield double that amount. This is no reckless statement and it needs only the application of proper efforts in order to demonstrate the fact. Upon a test, lands in our state have been made to yield more than one hundred and fifty bushels of corn to the acre, which is almost four times the highest average yield for any one year. Wheat has turned out in some instances more than fifty bushels to the acre during the last year and oats has gone from eighty to ninety bushels. These things are the best advertisements that our state could have when they are generally understood. If the average yield of corn could be brought up to fifty bushels per acre, it would be a gain of about twenty-five per cent over last year's crop, or a gain in value of more than $32,000,000.

We need to have better attention given to reclaiming lands lying along our streams and which, when brought into cultivation, constitute the most productive soil to be found anywhere in the state. This can be done, and in some parts of the state, is being done by straightening the streams and tiling out the ground. The most valuable small farms to be found in the state are the farms that have been thus reclaimed. What was formerly known as the "Duck pond" country of northwest Iowa is fast becoming the most fertile and productive part of the state, through the means of drainage. From the best figures obtainable, it would seem we have already expended more than $105,000,000 for drainage purposes throughout the state. We have laid approximately 40,000,000 rods, or about 124,000 miles of tile, enough to encircle the globe almost five times. Most of this has been laid since the enactment of our present drainage laws. It is estimated that it will be necessary to expend about $150,000,000 more to complete the work of drainage in the state. This will mean, when done, that from six to seven dollars per acre for every acre of land in Iowa has been spent for drainage purposes. The increase yield in crops of a very few years will many times compensate for this expenditure of money. This large increase in the productive capacity of the farms needs to be supplemented by like extension of other interests.

No greater need is felt than the necessity of the establishment of more manufactories within our midst. Already we have a great many manufacturing industries of a very high character, but there is room and much need for many more. The cement interests of our state are of immense importance and promise great success. We have the largest brick and tile factories in the world and these are supplemented by many smaller ones located in various parts of the state. Our gypsum interests are growing in importance. We have one sugar plant that turns out about one-fifteenth of the amount of sugar used in the state. And the managers of the factory inform me that they would have no difficulty in securing beets enough in the territory where the plant is located to supply three or four such factories. Why might not we be producing not only the remainder of what we consume, but be supplying other places where the growing of sugar beets is not a success? Here is a splendid opportunity for investment of capital. We are extensively engaged in manufacturing machinery used in dairying and in a more limited way in general agricultural pursuits, but there are many lines along which we are far behind states no better located or favored for such things than we are here in Iowa.

Many millions of dollars have gone from us in the last few years to buy automobiles. Why not recognize the fact that the automobile has come to stay and proceed to manufacture them at home more extensively than we are doing at present. We have been helping to make the cities of other states rich by buying their products as well as by furnishing them men and means for carrying on their business.

The use of silos has become so general that there can be no longer any question but that they are to be a permanent thing with us and there is no reason why the silo as well as the machines for preparing ensilage should not be manufactured here in Iowa. All that is needed along these lines is to get the attention of our people directed toward these various interests. We will then have enlarged our demand for labor and for the use of capital, both of which have been going elsewhere to find employment. I believe that our people are beginning to realize the importance of these matters as they have not done heretofore and that we are upon the eve of larger developments along these lines.

LITERARY.

One of the real sources of pride to every citizen of our Commonwealth who stands for higher and better things in the affairs of the state is the fact that while our population is made up of the representatives of almost every nation of the globe, our census of 1905 shows that 98½ per cent of all of the people over five years of age living within the borders of our state can read and write, and of those who have passed school age only one per cent but what can read and write. No where in all of the states of the union is there to be found a more intelligent, thrifty and prosperous people. We are blessed with a large number of small cities, but are not burdened with any over grown places where the undesirable element accumulates. With the apparently equal advantages that obtain as to the various parts of the state and the well balanced population, we may reasonably expect the interests of the entire Commonwealth to move along in about the same manner. Let the possibilities and opportunity will take care of itself. We have not the cheap lands that other states have to offer. People have been passing by us and going where lands were much lower, but when quality and opportunity are taken into consideration there is no place that offers anything better than Iowa. It takes more money to handle a proposition here than in some of the newer sections of the country, but there is nothing safer and more certain of satisfactory returns than here in our own state. We lost our greatest number of people between 1900 and 1905, when our land values were advancing most rapidly. We will gain back what we then lost and add many more when the relative values of lands are better understood, and when our owners of small farms learn that it pays better to farm Iowa lands closer and better than it does to sell here and go elsewhere for the purpose of getting a larger number of acres of less productive soil.

We need to continue to educate our people in matters of agriculture, the care and cultivation of the soil, the selection of seed, the rotation of crops and the value of animal husbandry. These are our great and natural sources of wealth. I think it will be admitted that we have been making very marked improvements along all the lines I have mentioned, but the work should be continued. I think, however, that some, especially those who have so strongly urged the teaching of agriculture in the rural schools, overlooked the fact that a great school of instruction is carried on throughout the state from one year's end until the next. Thousands of agricultural papers and journals of a high order are sent into the farmers' homes every week, and through them are constantly presented the most advanced and up to date methods and ideas. In addition to this there were eighty-four counties that held short courses and farmers' institute sessions last year. The state also contributed during the same period to the holding of ninety-five county fairs or agricultural societies. Then, too, the farmers themselves are working out many of the problems of successful farm life. Along with the questions of agriculture should come renewed interest in horticulture. Large sums of money were made off of the fruit crop of 1909 and very much more could have been realized if our people had been educated in the matter of caring for, preparing and marketing and in disposing of their crop. We are lacking in this respect much more than in matters of agriculture. Why should we not apply the same methods here to protect our fruit crop that are resorted to elsewhere. We have this year, in Fremont county, an example of the value of smudging. Mr. C. E. Mincer of Hamburg had an apple crop of more than 8,000 bushels, which, according to his own judgment and that of other capable horticulturalists, he saved by smudging, the cost of which was about seven cents per bushel. You who know the market price of apples can readily determine the profit which he realized.

We need also to continue to educate our people in the matter of stock raising and especially in dairying. The one and one-half million of milch cows which we now have should be increased to three or four millions and much greater care should be exercised in the selection of dairy cows so as to eliminate those which do not yield enough butter fat to make their keeping profitable. In my opinion the enlargement of the dairy interests of the state would prove a more profitable and lasting benefit than almost any other kind of farming. It is not only a profitable industry, but dairy farming conserves the productive quality of the soil.

Corn and hogs have brought great wealth to the state, but many other lines of agricultural pursuits are equally profitable.

The poultry industry, while in the main engaged in as an incident to farming, is worthy of much greater attention. The census of 1905 shows that we had, at that time, more than 22,000,000 chickens in the state and that the value of the eggs produced was nearly $11,000,000.

This review of the various branches of agricultural pursuits might be continued indefinitely, but we need something besides agriculture even here in this great state of fertile fields and fine farms. Here we have coal and capital. Our people are able to consume and do consume the best of everything placed upon the market. We ought to be manufacturing more of the things we consume.

I do not claim originality for the saying "more business and less politics," but I have been advocating it wherever I have gone for many months, and the state will have taken a long stride forward when that spirit shall be caught up from one border of the Commonwealth to the other. Would it not be a good time to revive the Indian meaning of the word "Iowa," viz., "This is the place," and let it be understood to mean the place for business, the place for profitable investments, the place where pauperism is reduced to the minimum. The place where illiteracy is scarcely known, the place of good homes, the place where the most valuable and productive farms in all the world are to be found. These things will not only attract but hold the best people in all the earth.

Time and your patience preclude the propriety of a further continuance of this discussion, but I want in closing, to send a message from the good people of Iowa to those of her sister states and welcome them to this great Commonwealth whose richness of soil, whose character of citizenship and whose opportunities for successful business enterprise are equal to those of any other state in the union. Here poverty is at a minimum and plenty is in abundance. Last year we produced enough corn to equal almost one hundred and sixty bushels for every man, woman and child in the state; enough eggs to have furnished every individual in the state an egg for breakfast every day in the year and to have had a surplus of sixteen million dozen left over; enough butter to have equalled more than two hundred and thirty pounds per year for each family of five persons. In other words, we could have furnished during the single year 1910 for every man, woman and child in the United States practically four bushels of corn, one dozen eggs and a roll of butter.

Though we do not claim superiority as a small grain producing state we nevertheless produced enough wheat last year to have furnished four and one-half bushels to each individual in our state; enough barley to have furnished seven and three-tenths bushels per capita and oats equal to seventy bushels per capita.

Should we endeavor to load the horses, cattle, hogs, sheep, goats and mules of the state into ordinary size stock cars, eighteen cars to the train, running forty trains per day from this city to Chicago over any one of the trunk lines connecting the two places, start the first train at this hour and continuing every day in the year, the last train would not be moved before the first day of next January.

I shall not portray to you the picture of the Iowa corn crop loaded onto a wagon train moving around the globe, as has been so often done, but will state that last year's crop would require such a train to be more than sixty-five thousand miles in length, or equal to two and two-thirds times the circumference of the earth. Should we today load our corn crop of last year into wagons each holding forty bushels, hitch them behind teams and start them by the state house, double file, allowing forty feet to each team and wagon and travel forty miles a day every day in the year until the entire procession had passed, the last team would not have passed before the regular time for the adjournment of the next session of your honorable body in 1913.

Such is the condition of our state the loss of a few thousand of whose population has attracted so much attention throughout the United States. I take no stock in the suggestion that those people who have gone from among us represent our undesirable population. Many of them are the sons and daughters, the brothers and sisters of the best people in our commonwealth. If you will go to the states to the west you will find that we have sent them the best class of citizens to be found within their borders and that there they are helping to bring those states up to the high standard that we have attained to here in our beloved and beautiful Iowa.

Senator Gilliland moved that United States Senator Lafayette Young be invited to address the Joint Convention.

Motion prevailed and the Senator responded.

ADDRESS OF LAFAYETTE YOUNG BEFORE THE IOWA GENERAL ASSEMBLY IN JOINT CONVENTION AT THE INAUGURATION
OF GOVERNOR CARROLL AND LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR CLARKE.

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Thirty-fourth General Assembly, and Ladies:

I have never been more surprised than by this proceeding. I fear that the Senator from Mills took counsel with his enthusiasm and friend-

I have been interested in Governor Carroll's inaugural address. It contains facts in regard to Iowa which should be widely printed and circulated. Every commercial body in the State should regard this address as a booster document. What he has said about Iowa we can all endorse. But he has gone to infinite labor to place the information in most entertaining and attractive form. This State has only begun. We need more factories, more shops, better agricultural work. We need everything that is inviting. We need contentment and joy. Above all things, we need enthusiasm for the State.

When I am away from home I tell people that our principal occupations in Iowa pertain to agriculture and education. These are the essentials. Agriculture furnishes food which sustains life. Education develops the mind and the soul, making them capable of enjoyment. The world looks brighter through educated eyes. Education will bring appreciation of the comforts one has.

Recently I became absorbed with the idea that we should be educating farmers and mechanics. In doing this we do good two ways. We elevate the man and we add security to the government. We also add dignity to labor. I have sometimes thought the idleness is a greater curse than drunkenness. Every man who slugs another in a dark alley does it to get money without work. Every man who commits forgery does it because he wants to obtain money with which to carry on riotous living without working for the same. Therefore, when we are teaching industry, we are teaching patriotism. When we are teaching boys to work and to love it, we are saving them from a life of crime. Work is a blessing, any way it is considered. Blackstone tells us that property rights began when the aborigine first had a blanket of his own. From that beginning of property came individualism. From that humble start we have the Anglo-Saxon home, the fireside, and children. Any departure from labor, any return to idleness must necessarily be a return to vice. The dignity of labor can be taught in groups better than individually. I find, as a large employer of labor, difficulty in securing apprentices because there are so many boys who have never been taught to work with their coats off and their sleeves up—some of them think they could never become used to wearing an apron. Put these same boys in schools where trades are taught, associate them with others who wear aprons, and who have their sleeves up, and they will forget all about their false pride and will become enthusiastic in their work. Whenever a boy forgets his false pride and learns that all manual labor is honorable, and hasanship rather than his judgment. However, since the invitation is extended. I am pleased to respond.

thusiasm in his work, his future is secure and he can be counted upon as a good citizen. We have 91,000,000 people now, and we can't afford idleness. The trade school will make the shop look good. The enthusiasm of association with their fellows will inspire them. They will work with ambition and with hope. The responsibility of citizenship increases with the development of the country, and every man must be concerned about the moral welfare of the people. Every man must be concerned about the future of the boys. Every few years the republic passes into new hands. We ought to have some way to produce patriots without war. We ought to have some way of inspiring a love of country aside from the battlefield. I am growing more and more to be interested in agricultural and industrial education. I deplore idleness. Idleness is a pronounced present-day tendency. There can be no happiness without work, no good homes without it, no patriotism without it. Hence, I am interested in Iowa and Iowa citizenship because we are part of the great republic. I am grateful for the opportunity to say these few words. This is not a partisan occasion. It is patriotic. Here we can talk of a love for the State without a violation of good taste. The love of country should always be superior to any devotion to party or faction. If a man loves the flag and the State, it is easy to discover that he will love his fellow-men. I wish you all health during your stay in Des Moines. Iowa has always had good legislatures. Iowa has not had corruption. We have no occasion to blush when the name of Iowa is spoken anywhere at any time. Hoping I have not violated the canons of good taste, and knowing that I could not after accepting your unanimous invitation, I will now take my seat.

The minutes of the Joint Session were read and approved.

Senator Francis of Dickinson moved that the remarks of Senator Young be printed in the Journal.

Motion prevailed.

Senator Hammil of Hancock moved that the Joint Convention be now dissolved.

Motion prevailed.

The Senate returned to its chamber and resumed its sitting.

The following Committee Clerks appeared before the bar of the Senate and were duly sworn:

Lulu A. Cox, Senator Mattes.
Belle I. Riddle, Senator Gilliland.
Nora Dobson, Senator J. D. Brown.
Bertha L. Hess, Senator H. W. Spaulding.
Helena Lynch, Senator Jewell.
Edith Williams, Senator Fred Larrabee.

Senator Hammill moved that a committee of three be appointed to escort Lieutenant Governor George W. Clarke to the Chair.

Carried.

President Smith appointed as such committee: Senators Hammill, Balkema and Proudfoot.

The committee escorted Lieutenant Governor Clarke to the Chair.

President Smith presented Lieutenant Governor Clarke, and, surrendering the gavel, spoke as follows:

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR CLARKE—It gives me personally great satisfaction to welcome you for the second time to this chair, and I know that I speak the voice of every Senator when I say it gives equal satisfaction to them. It is needless for those of us who served two years ago to say that we thoroughly understand the eminent ability with which you have served heretofore, and the impartiality with which you have presided at this desk. We look for a repetition of the very pleasant relations which existed between you and this Senate two years ago. Again I welcome you to this chair of authority. (Applause.)

President Clarke, upon assuming the Chair, responded as follows:

SENATORS—It is perhaps unfortunate that I have made no special preparation of a word that I might speak to you on an occasion like this. I have not. To say that I appreciate the kind words of the President pro tem. of the Senate of course goes without saying; I do. It has been my pleasure to be connected with five General Assemblies of the State of Iowa; this will be the sixth. It was my good fortune to be Speaker of two of those General Assemblies. I have presided over this House, as you know, during one session, and when the President pro tem. of this Senate says that I have your confidence and esteem he speaks words that to me mean more than anything else possibly could. We have heard in the other House this afternoon of the wonderful resources of our great State. We have heard the magnificent song, Iowa. We have been told of the wonderful resources of this State; but I tell you, after all, Senators, I would rather have the confidence and the esteem of the representative men of the State, of the five sessions of the Legislature with which I have served, than of all of the loads of wealth that might take years and years to pass by a given point as shown by the illustrations of the Governor. It is of inestimable value, far beyond the value of corn, and oats, and hogs, and cattle, and gold, and silver, and when my earthly career is ended I would rather have it said that I had the confidence of my fellow citizens than to say that I was worth all that Iowa has.

Only one thing has ever occurred in connection with my career in the Legislature of this State that has had even the slightest tendency to wound my feelings. It was suggested not long ago that I might prostitute this office that I hold by using it as a trading and a dickering and huckstering place for personal advantage. I hope that the Senate of the State of Iowa knows that not for a single moment would I trade or suggest a trading for any hope of public advancement. (Applause.) We shall never have an ideal citizenship, Senators, or an ideal State, until we place politics upon an ideal plane (applause); and let it be, and, if you please, it will be, a part of my service to the State of Iowa to try to elevate if possible the politics of this State up to such an ideal plane. I would as soon a man would come to me and say that you would place a chairmanship for your advantage as for him to come to me and say that I would pay a man a hundred dollars for an advantage. In either case, in a moral sense, it is bribery. And no Senator will ever be able to say that for a single moment I ever thought or suggested such a thing to him. And now I am about to announce the committees I have appointed for this session of this Senate.

I have done it, Senators, in the very best way that I could. I have endeavored to be fair with each one of you. Here, gentlemen, is not the place, if you will permit me upon this occasion to say, for the development of partisan politics or factional politics. The only thing that can properly be considered by this Senate is the welfare of the people of the State of Iowa and the public service and public duty, and so far as the Chair is concerned, it will devote itself to that end, and, if you please, to not a thought of any other. And if the Secretary will, he now may read the announcement of the committees of the Senate for the ensuing session.

The list of Standing Committees of the Senate was then read by the Secretary as follows:

HOUSE MESSAGE CONSIDERED.

Senator Bennett moved that the Senate concur in the following House amendments:

Amend by striking out the word, "Sixty," in Line Two of Section Five and inserting in lieu thereof the word "Seventy."

Amend by striking out the word, "Sixty," in Line Four of Section Ten and inserting in lieu thereof the word "Seventy."

		$119,800.00

NOTE.—The salaries of the superior teachers are of such a basis that an actual increase is essential if Iowa is to compete successfully with other states. Talent such as this College needs when new teachers are to be appointed to fill vacancies or to add to the force of a department is not now obtainable at the scale of salaries paid. There must be considerable advance in salaries all along the line if the work is to be kept at the right standard.

II. Contingent Fund.

	EXPENSE	INCOME
1. Permanent fund now granted annually.....		$ 40,000.00
2. From student fees.....		5,000.00
3. Estimated receipts from contracts with school districts .....		5,000.00
4. Estimated material sold.....		1,000.00
5. Additional appropriations requested annually		3,000.00
6. Salaries of employes.....	$ 26,330.00
7. Increase present salaries.....	1,500.00
8. New employes .....	3,670.00
9. Fuel, estimated .....	8,000.00
10. Department supplies, estimated.....	6,000.00
11. Office expenses, postage, printing, telegraph, telephone, etc. ....	2,000.00
12. Quarterly Bulletin, estimated.....	2,500.00
13. Water, estimated .....	1,500.00
14. Superintendent's department—express, freight, special labor and unclassified items.....	5,500.00
15. Electric light .....	2,000.00
		$ 59,000.00
		$ 59,000.00

NOTE.—This statement estimates two additional janitors for the library and one additional clerk and stenographer in the office. It also provides for a night engineer, with the intention of opening the library evenings until 10 o'clock. The estimates are all made on a minimum basis and cannot suffer reduction without degrading the service now had.

III. Summer Term Fund.

(On the basis of six weeks' term, with fees of $5 paid by each student enrolled.)

	EXPENSE	INCOME
1. Permanent fund now granted annually.....		$ 8,000.00
2. Additional appropriation needed annually for next two years on present basis.....		3,000.00
3. Estimated fees paid by students.....		6,000.00
4. Salaries of teachers.....	$ 15,000.00
5. Lectures .....	500.00
6. Additional teachers .....	1,500.00
	$ 17,000.00	$ 17,000.00

NOTE.—Even on this estimate too much dependence is made from year to year upon the expected fees that will be paid by students. Any unexpected condition that would either prevent or interfere with the summer session attendance would place the College in debt, with no funds to meet the contracted obligations. In fact, this term ought to be a free session to the active public school teachers and the money necessary to support such a session should be entirely appropriated. This would mean an appropriation of at least $25,000 a year, as the attendance would naturally increase.

IV. Summer Term Fund.

	EXPENSE	INCOME
On the basis of a session of at least ten weeks, free enrollment being granted to actual teachers		$ 40,000.00
1. Teachers for such session, estimated.....	$ 30,000.00
2. Other expenses .....	10,000.00
	<hr/>	<hr/>
	$ 40,000.00	$ 40,000.00

V. Library Fund.

	EXPENSE	INCOME
1. Appropriation requested for the biennial period		$ 10,000.00
2. For library books and materials.....	$ 10,000.00

VI. Librarian Salary Fund.

	EXPENSE	INCOME
1. Appropriation requested for the biennial period		$ 14,000.00
2. For library salaries.....	$ 14,000.00

NOTE.—This estimate is based upon the intention to open the library during the hours, from 7:30 a. m. to 10 p. m. if the Board approves the plan and provides the necessary additional assistants needed. It is estimated that three additional assistant librarians will need to be employed, their distribution of time being approximately six and one-half hours per individual.

VII. Pipe Organ Fund.

	EXPENSE	INCOME
1. Appropriation requested to pay part purchase cost of pipe organ.....		$ 5,000.00
2. Necessary expenditure to get such an organ as the school's work demands.....	$ 10,000.00
3. Shortage to be made by contributions and lecture fees .....		5,000.00
	$ 10,000.00	$ 10,000.00

VIII. Nurse and Hospital Support Fund.

	EXPENSE	INCOME
1. Appropriation requested for biennial period...		$ 2,500.00
2. Expense of maintaining such department, $2,250 per year .....	$ 4,500.00
3. Fees from students, estimated, $750 per year..		1,500.00
4. Hospital bills paid.....		500.00
	$ 4,500.00	$ 4,500.00

NOTE.—This estimate is based upon the experience of the year 1909-1910. It is necessary to add equipment to the present outfit and to be able to provide domestic help and additional nurses in all cases where the numbers increase beyond the average of three patients. The income from fees does not increase proportionately with the number of patients.

IX. Fire Protection Fund.

	EXPENSE	INCOME
1. Appropriation asked .....		$ 5,000.00
2. Expenditures necessary .....	$ 5,000.00

NOTE.—The college buildings do not have adequate fire protection. The fire pressure now given by the Cedar Falls water system does not exceed 50 pounds. This is not enough to protect the roofs of several of the buildings in case of emergency, fire from accident or from lightning, and in case of the disablement of the city pumping engine the college would be at great inconvenience and possible loss.

I am of the opinion that a standpipe ought to be erected upon the grounds in the center of the quadrangle and that a pump should be installed in addition to the power house that must be constructed and the proper attachments be made so the college can use its deep well. Provision for protection is essential where such a large investment exists as the State has at the college.

X. Lecture and Entertainment Fund.

	EXPENSE	INCOME
1. Appropriation asked annually.....		$ 3,000.00
2. Lectures, concerts and other instruction for the students outside of faculty instruction.....	$ 3,000.00
	$ 3,000.00	$ 3,000.00

NOTE.—The custom for past few years has been to sell a lecture ticket for the season at $2 to such students as cared to purchase them. This has deprived many deserving students of the privilege to hear the best lecturers, the best concerts and the best entertainments that have been procured by the college because of their inability to meet the necessary expenses and yet purchase these additional tickets for admission. These privileges are a necessary part of the work expected of every good college, and no student that enrolls should be refused permission to attend because of not having the means to do so. As a rule, teacher students are in moderate circumstances, and the college should provide these things as a part of the course of study.

SUMMARY OF APPROPRIATIONS REQUESTED.

I. Permanent Funds.

1. Teachers' fund, annually.....	$22,000.00
2. Contingent fund, annually.....	10,000.00
3. Summer term fund, annually.....	3,000.00
	$35,000.00
Total annual support.....	$35,000.00

NOTES.

1. If the summer term is opened free of tuition for six weeks the appropriation would need to be about $18,000 a year.
2. If the summer term is opened all the summer free of tuition, making a term of about twelve weeks, the appropriation would need to be about $40,000 a year.
3. If tuitions are removed for the regular sessions it would require an additional appropriation of about $25,000 annually to properly conduct the college.

II. Temporary Funds.

1. Library Fund, two years.....	$10,000.00
2. Librarian Salary Fund, two years.....	14,000.00

NOTE.—Same as past period, except increase asked in salary fund to enlarge service in the new library.

3. Pipe Organ Fund, special.....	5,000.00
4. Nurse and Hospital Fund, two years.....	2,500.00
5. Fire Protection Fund, special.....	5,000.00
6. Lecture and Entertainment Fund.....	3,000.00
	$39,500.00
Total.....	$39,500.00

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring:

That a joint convention be held at a time and place to be arranged by the committee hereinafter provided for, for the purpose of holding a suitable memorial service for the late Senator Jonathan P. Dolliver.

That a committee of five, consisting of two from the Senate, to be appointed by the President of the Senate, and three from the House, to be appointed by the Speaker of the House, be appointed to arrange for and have charge of said memorial service.

Adopted.

HOUSE MESSAGE CONSIDERED.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS.

WHEREAS, The great majority of the people of the State of Iowa want the World's Panama Exposition held in New Orleans, for several reasons:

First. Because of New Orleans' convenience to them. The average time required for people of Iowa to reach the city of New Orleans is thirty-six hours, while the time for Iowa people to reach San Francisco is four days; the average distance from Iowa to New Orleans is 1,045 miles, while from Iowa to San Francisco it is 1,892 miles; the average railroad fare from Iowa to New Orleans is $24.85, while the average fare to San Francisco from Iowa is $52.85.

Second. Because an exposition in New Orleans will be of great value to the entire Mississippi Valley by directing attention to the necessity of developing our inland waterways so as to bring to shipside, at the lowest possible rates, the products of this great valley. This will be of inestimable value to the Lakes-to-the-Gulf Deep Waterways movement. Instead of aiding the Mississippi Valley and its projects, an exposition in San Francisco will draw people and capital therefrom to the Coast.

Third. Because an exposition in New Orleans, the natural gateway for trade with Latin-America, will operate to greatly improve our commercial relations with the twenty republics to the south of us. Their total foreign trade for 1909 was $2,127,301,000. Of this, our exports were only $220,276,000, or about 10 per cent. The other 90 per cent went to England, Germany and other foreign countries. That trade belongs to us, and a very large percentage of it to the Mississippi Valley. An exposition in New Orleans, 2,000 miles closer to all of Latin-America than San Francisco, will do far more to secure that trade than will a Pacific Coast fair.

Fourth. Because 75 per cent of the people of this country can go to an exposition in New Orleans, spend four to seven days, and get back home in less time than would be required for the round trip to San Francisco, and at one-fourth the expense. In other words, because an exposition in New Orleans would be of and for the people, and one in San Francisco would be a "rich man's show." Therefore, be it

Resolved, by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring, that we endorse the city of New Orleans as the logical point, and ask our United States Senators and Representatives in Congress to vote for the location of the World's Panama Exposition in the city of New Orleans, Louisiana.

Passed on file.

Senator Saunders was called to the Chair at 10:30 o'clock.

Senator Gilliland moved that we now proceed to the election of permanent officers of the Senate.

Carried.

Senator Gilliland nominated James A. Smith as President pro tem. of the Senate and moved his election.

Those voting for Senator James A. Smith were:

Adams, Allen of Pocahontas, Allen of Jefferson, Ames, Balkema, Balluff, Bennett, Brown, Chapman, Chase, Clarkson, Cowles, Crow, DeWolf, Dunnegan, Fitchpatrick, Francis, Garrett, Gates, Gilliland, Hammill, Hoyt, Hunter, Larrabee, Legel, McColl, McManus, Malmberg, Mattes, Neal, Parshall, Proudfoot, Ream, Sammis, Saunders, Savage, Schrup, Smith of Shelby, Spaulding, Stuecklager, Sullivan, Taylor, Van Law, Webber, White—45.

Absent or not voting :

Jewell, McCulloch, Quigley, Smith of Mitchell, Wilson—5.

So Senator James A. Smith, having received a constitutional majority of the votes cast, was declared duly elected President pro tem. of the Senate.

The President appointed Senator Gilliland a committee of one to escort President pro tem.-elect James A. Smith to the bar of the Senate to receive the oath of office.

Senator Gilliland escorted the President pro tem.-elect, James A. Smith, to the bar of the Senate, and he was duly sworn.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS.

By Senator Allen of Jefferson, Senate File No. 36, a bill for an act to amend Section Twenty-four Hundred Forty-eight (2448) of the Supplement to the Code, 1907, relating to the sale of intoxicating liquors.

The President resumed the Chair at 10:50 o'clock.

Senator Smith of Mitchell moved that the hour of 11:30 be fixed as the time for taking a ballot on the election of Senator in the Congress of the United States.

Carried.

Senator Gilliland moved that the Senate take a recess until 11:30 o'clock.

Carried.

The Senate took a recess.

The President called the Senate to order.

Senator Mattes offered the following Concurrent Resolution, and moved its adoption :

Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring:

That a joint convention be held in the House on Wednesday, January 18, 1911, at 12 o'clock noon, for the purpose of electing a Senator in the Congress of the United States to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Senator Jonathan P. Dolliver.

He shall then cause any mistakes therein to be corrected by the Secretary, and the Journal shall then be approved.

3. The Senate shall, at its pleasure, elect a President pro tem., who shall hold his office during the remaining portion of the time for which the President was elected; and when the President shall from any cause be absent, the President pro tem. shall preside, except when the Chair is filled by appointment by the President.

4. There shall be appointed by the Lieutenant Governor, at each session of the Senate, to hold their positions during such session, but subject to be discharged by the President of the Senate for inefficiency or misbehavior, or other reasons in his judgment justifying such discharge, six messengers for the Senate. And the President may appoint other messengers in the place of any discharged.

5. One-fourth of the members may have a call of the Senate, and absent members sent for and their attendance enforced.

6. When a member is about to speak in debate, or deliver any matter to the Senate, he shall rise from his seat and respectfully address himself to "Mr. President," and shall confine himself to the question under debate, avoid personalities, and the imputation of improper motives.

7. When the vote is taken viva voce, questions shall be distinctly put in this form, viz.: "As many as are of the opinion (as the case may be) say 'aye.'" And after the affirmative voice is expressed: "As many as are of the contrary opinion say 'no.'" If the President doubt, or a division be called for, the Senate shall divide—those in the affirmative of the question shall first rise from their seats, and afterwards those in the negative.

8. Every member present when a question is put shall vote, unless he shall, for special cause, be excused by a vote of the Senate; but no member shall vote on any question in the event of which he is directly and personally interested, or, except by consent of the Senate, in any case where he was not present when his name was called in the taking of the vote. Provided, that any member who was absent by leave of the Senate may vote at any time before the result is announced.

9. All motions (except to adjourn, postpone, or commit) shall be reduced to writing, if required by any member of the Senate. Any motion or resolution may be withdrawn by the mover, provided the same has not been amended by the Senate, and that no amendment is pending thereto.

10. When a question is under debate, no motion shall be received but to adjourn, to lay on the table, for the previous question, to postpone to a day certain, to commit or amend, to postpone indefinitely, which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are named; and no motion to postpone to a day certain, to commit or postpone indefinitely, being decided, shall be again allowed on the same day, and at the same stage of the bill or proposition. A motion to strike out the enacting clause of a bill shall have the precedence of a motion to amend; and, if carried, shall be considered equivalent to the rejection of the bill.

11. A motion to adjourn, to lay on the table, and for the previous question, shall be decided without debate, and all incidental questions of order arising after a motion is made for the previous question, and pending such motion, shall be decided—whether an appeal or otherwise—without debate.

12. The previous question shall be in this form: "Shall the main question be now put?" It shall only be admitted when demanded by a majority of the members present, and its effect shall be to put an end to all debate, and bring the Senate to a direct vote upon pending amendments and then upon the main question unless otherwise indicated by the motion and ordered by the Senate, except that the member in charge of the measure under consideration shall have ten minutes in which to close the discussion, immediately before the vote is taken upon the main question. If the previous question is decided in the negative, the Senate shall proceed with the matter before it, the same as though the previous question had not been moved.

13. Any member may call for a division of a question, which shall be divided, if it comprehends propositions in substance so distinct that one being taken away substantive propositions shall remain for the decision of the Senate. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible; but a motion to strike out being lost, shall preclude neither amendments to the matter attempted to be stricken out, nor a motion to strike out and insert.

14. When a motion or question has been decided, any member having voted on the prevailing side may move a reconsideration, on the same or next legislative day.

15. A motion to print any paper presented to the Senate may, on motion, be referred to the Committee on Printing, whose duty it shall be to report at the earliest time practicable, on the propriety of printing.

16. Every bill shall be introduced on the report of a committee, or by leave, and shall at once be given its first reading. Every bill and joint resolution shall have received three several readings previous to its passage; but no bill or joint resolution shall have its second and third readings on the same day, without a suspension of this rule; and every bill and joint resolution shall express in its title the object thereof. All rules of the Senate applicable to bills shall apply with equal force to joint resolutions. Each bill and proposed joint resolution, when introduced, shall be typewritten double-space, and accompanied by two copies thereof.

17. Before the same is presented, there shall be endorsed on each petition a brief statement of the subject matter thereof, and on each bill and joint resolution the title thereof, and in either case the name of the Senator presenting the same. In presenting a petition, the Senator shall briefly state from his place in the Senate Chamber the subject matter to which the petition relates.

18. The first reading of a bill or joint resolution shall be for information, and, if objection be made to it, the question shall be: "Shall the bill (or joint resolution, as the case may be) be rejected?" If no objection be made, or the question to reject be lost, the bill or joint resolution shall go to its second reading without further questioning.

19. Upon the second reading of a bill or joint resolution, the President shall state that it is ready for commitment, and, unless the Senate otherwise orders, the President shall refer the bill to an appropriate standing committee. If ordered by the Senate to be considered by the committee of the whole, the Senate shall fix the day for its consideration. If the bill or joint resolution be ordered to be engrossed, it shall be in order for its third reading any session after that day. No bill or joint resolution shall be committed or amended until it shall have been twice read.

20. (a) All bills carrying appropriations shall be referred to the Committee on Appropriations, which the committee shall report back to the Senate not later than the first Monday after March 15th. After the third legislative day prior to said Monday, House bills shall be reported back by said committee within three days from the reference thereof.

(b) No bill carrying an appropriation shall be introduced after March 15th except by the Committee on Appropriations.

(c) On or before the first Monday after March 15th the Committee on Appropriations shall prepare an itemized schedule of all appropriations recommended by the Committee on Appropriations and have the same printed and laid upon the desks of members, and no appropriation bill shall be taken up for consideration and passage until the third legislative day thereafter.

21. When a question is lost on engrossing a bill, or joint resolution for a third reading on a particular day, it shall not preclude a question to engross it for a third reading on a different day. After a third reading of a bill or a joint resolution, no amendment (except to fill blanks) shall be received, except by unanimous consent of the members present; and the vote on its final passage shall be immediately taken without debate.

22. A bill or joint resolution may be committed at any time previous to its third reading.

23. In filling blanks, the largest sum and longest time shall be first put.

24. On the return of a bill or joint resolution from the House, with an amendment, it shall be placed with the third reading of bills, unless the Senate shall otherwise order. On the question of adopting the amendment the vote shall be taken on the final passage of the bill, and if the amendment be adopted by a constitutional majority, no further vote is necessary.

25. All bills and joint resolutions introduced, except local or legalizing bills, shall be printed, unless otherwise ordered by the Senate, and committees may order to be printed any bills under consideration by them, and any substitutes for bills or resolutions reported by them.

26. It shall be in order for the Committee on Engrossed and Enrolled Bills, on Rules and on Printing, to report at any time, when no member is addressing the Senate.

27. When any special order of the day is not proceeded with on the day assigned, it shall stand as a general order on each succeeding day until disposed of, unless otherwise ordered, but its consideration can not be moved until that order of business is reached, when it shall be taken up in order of its file, and shall be taken up in the order of precedence.

28. When the pending question is interrupted by a "Special Order," it shall, upon the disposal of the special order, be before the Senate in the same stage as if it had not been so interrupted.

29. Committees are permitted to employ clerks by the majority vote of the whole committee. The clerk shall be selected by such vote, and in like manner may be discharged for inefficiency, or when the services of the clerk become unnecessary. All committee clerks shall be competent stenographers and of good moral character. Any clerk may be discharged for inefficiency, immorality or indecent or unbecoming conduct, whether in or out of the Senate Chamber; and, upon the request of any Senator or the President of the Senate, made to the chairman of a committee, a meeting of the committee shall be called for the purpose of considering the question of the discharge of such clerk upon any of the grounds above specified.

30. Clerks of Senate committees, when not engaged in duties pertaining to such committees, or work assigned them by the committee chairman, shall be subject to the discretion of the Secretary of the Senate for any labor connected with the duties of his position or his assistants. The Secretary shall, from time to time, make detail from said clerks to assist in preparing copy or correcting proof for the daily Journal.

31. All reports of committees on bills or resolutions shall be made in duplicate and be accompanied with the original bill or resolution to which the report relates. Provided, that this rule shall not apply to the reports of Committees on Enrolled and Engrossed Bills.

32. When a vote is taken in any committee upon any bill or resolution before it, or any motion relating to the merits thereof, the chairman shall see that no person is present except the members and clerk of said committee, unless otherwise ordered by the committee.

33. Smoking in the Senate Chamber is hereby prohibited while the Senate is in session. And any officer or employe who shall indulge in smoking while on duty in the Senate Chamber or doorways leading thereto shall thereby subject himself to liability of discharge.

34. Admission to the floor of the Senate Chamber shall be granted by the doorkeeper to the Governor and his private secretary, members of the House of Representatives, the State officers and their deputies, judges of the several courts, ex-members of the Legislature, ex-State officers, and the regular reporters of the Senate and clerks of committees. No persons, except those herein specified, shall be admitted, except upon special permission of the President of the Senate, or of a member of the Senate. And no person shall be permitted, by members or otherwise, to come upon the floor of the Senate or into the cloak rooms to solicit or influence Senators in their official action, or to sell any article or to solicit subscriptions. No officer, or employe elected or appointed by the Senate or any of its committees, shall solicit or endeavor to influence members of the Legislature in their official action. Any person violating this rule shall be summarily dismissed by the Senate.

35. In case of disturbance of disorderly conduct in the lobby or gallery, the presiding officer shall have the power to order the same cleared.

36. Before acting on executive business, the Senate Chamber shall be cleared, by direction of the President, of all persons except members, the Secretary, the Sergeant-at-Arms, members enjoined and the Secretary and Sergeant-at-Arms sworn to observe secrecy.

37. When an adjournment has been ordered by a vote of the Senate, and before adjournment is declared by the President of the Senate, it shall be in order for the chairman of the several committees to announce in open Senate the time and place of meeting of their respective committees.

38. No standing rule or order of the Senate shall be rescinded or suspended, nor shall any matter, tabled upon motion, be taken up, unless by a vote of two-thirds of the members present, except an order fixing the hour to which the Senate shall stand adjourned.

39. Resolutions, including concurrent resolutions, shall not be acted upon by the Senate upon the day the same are introduced or received by the Senate, but shall lie upon the table for one legislative day if any member object to the immediate consideration thereof. But if no member object, the same may have immediate consideration. Nothing in this rule shall abridge or prevent the usual right to reference to committee.

40. The rules of parliamentary practice comprised in Cushing's Manual shall govern the Senate in all cases to which they are applicable, and in which they are not inconsistent with the standing rules or orders of the Senate, and joint rules of the Senate and House of Representatives.

41. The hours to which the Senate shall stand adjourned from day to day shall be 9 o'clock A. M. and 2 o'clock P. M., unless otherwise ordered by the Senate.

42. The duties of the officers and employes of the Senate are as stated in the paragraphs relating thereto, and appended to these rules.

The Secretary of the Senate shall have charge of the Secretary's desk, and shall see that no one is permitted therein except himself and those assisting him. He shall be responsible for the custody and safekeeping of all bills, resolutions and other matters laid before or introduced into the Senate, except while the same are in the possession of the committee to whom the same shall have been referred, and when delivering the same to said committee he shall take a proper receipt therefor. He shall see that the Journal of each day's proceedings is correctly and fully kept, and fully made up before the next day's session, and be responsible for its safekeeping. He shall have control of Room 25, which is assigned to said Secretary for the use of himself and his assistants. He shall endorse on every bill or joint or concurrent resolution the date of its introduction, and by what Senator, or of its receipt from the House, and also what action relating thereto is taken by the Senate. The assistant secretaries shall be under his direction, and he shall assign to them their several duties in connection with the duties of the Secretary's desk.

The Sergeant-at-Arms shall wear the appropriate badge of his office; shall attend the Senate during its sessions; shall aid in the enforcement of order under the direction of the President of the Senate; shall execute the commands of the Senate from time to time, together with such process, issued by the authority thereof, as shall be directed to him by the presiding officers; shall see that the rule prohibiting smoking in the Senate Chamber is strictly enforced; shall, upon the request of any five members, have the Senate Chamber lighted up during any evening within the session, except Sunday, to an hour not later than 10 P. M.; shall see that no person, except one authorized to do so, disturbs or interferes with desks of the members, or with the books, papers, etc., thereof; shall see that the printed bills and daily Journals are, at the earliest practicable period, properly distributed and filed upon the desks of Senators; shall have charge of the files in the Senate bill room, and shall see that no copy of a bill is given out except to or upon the order of the President, a Senator, or State officers; shall see that an additional doorkeeper is detailed for duty at the Senate Chamber upon each day within the session, except Sunday, from 8:30 A. M. to 10 P. M., but should not five members of the Senate desire to occupy the Chamber to that hour, the detail may be relieved at 9 P. M.; shall have charge of the messengers of the Senate and see that they severally perform their duties, and shall promptly report to the President of the Senate any inefficiency or violations of duty on the part of said messengers. He shall direct the File Clerk, and Bill Clerk, if any employed, in the discharge of their duties.

The Doorkeeper of the Senate shall wear his appropriate badge of office; shall have special charge of the main door of the Chamber during the sittings of the Senate, and shall see that the other doors of the Senate are properly attended to; shall have general charge and oversight of the additional doorkeepers of the Senate; shall detail such of the additional doorkeepers for such general or special duties as the Sergeant-at-Arms may deem proper and necessary for the efficiency of the Senate and the protection of property within the Chamber; shall see that the rule relating to the admission to the floor of the Chamber is strictly enforced; shall, ten minutes before the opening of each session of the Senate, see that the floor is cleared of all persons not entitled to occupy the same during the session; shall attend to seating visitors, and shall announce all committees and messengers from the Governor or House.

Sec. 2. The survivor's share can not be affected by any will of the spouse except as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 3. Within ten (10) days after the probate of the will, the clerk of the court shall issue a notice directed to the spouse, which notice shall have attached thereto a certified copy of the will and of the certificate of its probate, notifying the spouse that she or he is required to elect whether consent thereto will be given, which consent when given shall be in open court or by a writing filed therein, which shall be entered on the proper records thereof, but a failure to so enter such consent shall in no wise affect the validity thereof, but the same may at any time, on application of any one interested in the estate, on order of the court, be entered of record. And it shall be the duty of the court, whenever it shall have knowledge that any election has not been properly entered, to make an order requiring the immediate entry thereof. If, at the expiration of six months from the service of the notice, no election has been made, it shall be conclusively presumed that such survivor consents to the provisions of the will and elects to take thereunder.

Sec. 4. If the surviving spouse is a resident of the state, such notice shall be immediately delivered to the sheriff or other proper officer of the county of the residence of such spouse for service, and the same shall be served in the manner required in case of an original notice, except that the original notice shall be delivered to the spouse, and the officer or person making the service shall make his return on the copy, and return of service shall be immediately filed in the office of the clerk, and a record of the issuing of such notice and the return of service shall be promptly made by the clerk, such record to show the date of service; but a failure to make such entry shall in no manner invalidate the notice or the service thereof. If the whereabouts of the surviving spouse is not known and personal service cannot be made, then the court or judge thereof shall prescribe a notice in form to be approved by the court or judge thereof to be served by publication in some newspaper of the state, to be selected by the court, for the term of four (4) successive weeks, and notice shall be deemed to have been served as to the date of the last publication, and proof of said publication shall be filed in the office of the clerk, and entry of such filing and date of service made by the clerk in the records in said court, but a failure to make such entry shall not invalidate such notice or the service thereof.

Nothing in this statute contained shall prohibit the surviving spouse and heirs of a deceased, or beneficiaries under his will, from settling the estate of the deceased and dividing the property among themselves, without administration, where there are no creditors of the estate or where by such settlement and division the claims against the estate, including taxes and collateral inheritance tax, if any, are settled and paid, nor shall anything herein contained be construed as requiring administration where the estate of a decedent consists only of exempt property.

PETITIONS AND MEMORIALS.

Senator White presented the following petition of citizens of Iowa County, which was ordered printed in the Journal:

PETITION.

We, the undersigned sapping and drainage engineers, certify by this means that we have been largely engaged, off and on for the last twenty-eight (28) years in digging ditches, both open and for drain tile; also digging wells and piping some of them out to tanks as "flowing wells." We have examined the formation and texture of the soil from above Belle Plain down to the Mississippi river and find that for that distance it is both possible and practicable to build a navigable canal the entire distance stated, and cheaply, too; it being mostly a mere matter of digging and lock construction. We are thoroughly posted in canal construction and operation; having spent our entire earlier lives along (or near) the Ohio canal until we came to Iowa in 1833. This canal should be built along the base of the bluffs at the edge of the valley so as to avoid sand and leakage always incident nearby to a stream.

EZRA W. FELTON,

J. B. FELTON,

Sapping and Drainage Engineers.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the State Legislature of Iowa:

HONORABLE SIRS—We, the persons, a copy of whose names are attached hereto, petition by this means and pray your honorable assembly to take action for and in favor of and put into operation the building of a navigable canal up the Iowa River Valley in the State of Iowa; from a point on the Mississippi River at or near the city of Muscatine, Iowa, thence up said Iowa River Valley to or near the city of Clarion, thence west, bearing north, to connect with the Missouri river near the northwest corner of Iowa, or further up the Missouri river, as may be found best.

Our idea is to have it continued up on a level stretch to where it would be found possible to utilize the water of either the Missouri river or some other stream of sufficient volume to supply sufficient water for all purposes needed.

We need this canal in order to supply us with material out of which to build permanent roads and at freight rates not prohibitive. This canal must be a free and open roadstead, so we could trade with any part of the world. Please look over the map and you can readily see that this canal would become an outlet and inlet, making available resources of vastly immense proportions.

In times of severe drought, like the past season, the surplus overflow of the water would be of immense value to the people for irrigation purposes, equaling, and in times far surpassing, the cost of construction. When not so needed this surplus water could be turned into energy, electrical or by direct power plants at the different levels, to be used for many industrial uses. By its many and varied uses this project will enable us to get the most out of the smallest labor and expense. Therefore, we earnestly petition the most favorable consideration of your honorable body of, and for, this project.

The Journal of yesterday was taken up, corrected and approved.

Senator Dunnegan moved that the Senate take a recess until 11:50 o'clock.

Carried.

Senate took a recess.

The President called the Senate to order.

THIRD READING OF BILLS.

On motion, the Senate resumed consideration of Senate File No. 1, a bill for an act amending the law as it appears in Sections Ten Hundred and Eighty-seven-a-Ten (1087-a10), Ten Hundred and Eighty-seven-a-Twenty-two (1087-a22) and Ten Hundred and Eighty-seven-a-Twenty-seven (1087-a27) of the 1907 Supplement to the Code as amended by Chapter Sixty-nine (69) of the Acts of the Thirty-third General Assembly, relating to the nomination of Senators and Representatives in the General Assembly of the State of Iowa, and the nomination of party candidates for the office of Senator in the Congress of the United States, and providing for a vote at the regular election upon such party candidates for Senator.

Senator Adams offered the following amendment:

I move to amend Senate File No. 1 by substituting the following therefor:

SUBSTITUTE FOR SENATE FILE NO. 1.

A BILL

For an Act providing for a special primray to select a candidate to fill a vacancy in the office of Representative or Senator in the Congress of the United States.

Be It Enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

Section 1. In case a vacancy occurs in the office of Representative or Senator in the Congress of the United States, or for any reason a Senator in Congress of the United States is to be selected by the General Assembly, then and in that event the Governor shall call a special primary election to give the voters of the district or the state, as the case may be, an opportunity to express their choice for a candidate for such office.

Sec. 2. The Governor shall call such primary election by proclamation at the earliest practicable time, giving thirty (30) days' notice thereof.

Sec. 3. All provisions of the law heretofore made in reference to primary elections, and not inconsistent herewith, shall apply to this act.

Sec. 4. The provisions of this act shall apply to the selection of the candidate for Senator in the Congress of the United States, to be selected by the Thirty-fourth General Assembly.

Sec. 5. This act, being deemed of immediate importance, shall take effect and be in force from and after the date of its publication in the Register and Leader and Des Moines Capital, newspapers published in the city of Des Moines, Iowa.

Substitute read first and second time.

Senator Smith of Mitchell raised the point of order that the substitute offered was not germane.

The President ruled as follows:

The Senate, having under consideration Senate File No. 1, a bill for an act amending certain provisions of the law relating, among other things, "to the nomination of party candidates for the office of Senator in the Congress of the United States, and providing for a vote at the regular election upon such party candidates for Senator," and repealing certain provisions "relating to the nomination of candidates for Senator in the Congress of the United States and enacting a substitute therefor," the Senator from Fayette proposed and moved the adoption as a substitute to said Senate File No. 1, a bill for an act "providing for a special primary to select a candidate to fill a vacancy in the office of Representative or Senator in the Congress of the United States."

The Senator from Mitchell raised the point of order that the proposed substitute amendment was not germane to the bill under consideration, but inconsistent with it.

The Chair finds no rule of the Senate, as is usual among legislative assemblies, that "no motion or proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment."

The proposed substitute amendment would seem to relate, to some extent at least, to the same subject matter as that contained in Senate File No. 1; but passing that question, Cushing on the "Law and Practice of Legislative Assemblies," which our rules provide must guide us, says: "The inconsistency of a proposed amendment with the proposition to be amended, either in idea or in words, is no objection to it in a parliamentary sense, or as a matter of order except in virtue of a special rule to that effect, and it is ordinarily no objection to a proposed amendment that it is inconsistent with the measure to be amended. This is very commonly, though not universally, the case in the American legislative assemblies." We do not have the "special rule" referred to. Again, it is said in Cushing's Manual, Section 133: "The Assembly may engraft upon a motion, by way of amendment, matter which is not only incongruous with but entirely opposed to the motion as originally introduced." In Hinds' Precedents of the House of Representatives, Vol. V, page 422, it is said: "Under the common parliamentary law amendments need not be germane. In the absence of an express rule, an amendment would not be liable to a point of order upon the ground that it was inconsistent with or not germane to the subject under consideration, for, according to the common parliamentary law of this country, a legislative assembly might by an amendment, in the ordinary form or in the form of a substitute, change the entire character of any bill or other proposition pending. It might displace the original subject under consideration and in its stead adopt one wholly foreign to it, both in form and substance." This, of course, is in the absence of such a rule as I have referred to. Therefore, the Chair feels that the point of order raised by the Senator from Mitchell must be overruled.

Senator Hammill moved that the further consideration of the bill be postponed until tomorrow morning at 9:30.

Lost.

WHEREAS, The good roads movement is resulting in the building of roads through the states surrounding the park, aided and fostered largely by reason of the demand therefor by automobile owners touring the scenic routes through those states to the park. Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring:

That the Honorable Secretary of the Interior Department be and he is hereby respectfully requested to require said hotels to be conducted in the interest and for the accommodation of the traveling public, regardless of their means of conveyance in, about or through said park, and that said transportation lines be conducted in the interest and for the accommodation of the traveling public, regardless of whether or not such travelers patronize said hotels; and be it further

Resolved, That said Secretary be and is hereby requested to change the rules of the Interior Department regarding the present limitation upon means of conveyance which may be used in the park, so that automobiles may hereafter be used by the owners thereof, or others, in the park.

SUBSTITUTE FOR SENATE FILE NO. 125.

A bill for an Act to Create an Employer's Liability Commission and make appropriation therefor.

Whereas, the industrial conditions of this state, in common with other states of the United States, have out-grown the common law and statutory remedies heretofore given to employees in this state for injuries incident to their employment, and which in most instances must be borne by the workmen who are the least able to sustain the same; and

Whereas, many of the great important industries of the state are a necessity and the hazards of employment great and are annually increasing, and the employees are required to carry the burden of the increased hazards; and,

Whereas, in many instances the employers of labor are in constant menace of the prosecution of cases which cause great waste of energy, time and money which does not reach those to whom it properly belongs; and,

Whereas, many of the states of this union are now investigating the proper means and methods of providing just compensation to be paid employees when injured in the performance of their duties in the industries of necessity and which are hazardous; and, believing that it will redound to the uplift and development of the industries of the State of Iowa to place upon the cost of production, the maintenance and payment for injuries received by workmen while engaged in their employment in hazardous work and in industries of necessity; therefore,

Be It Enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

Section 1. That the Commission of seven (7) persons is hereby created to be known as the Employer's Liability Commission to be constituted and appointed as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 2. The Governor shall appoint within twenty (20) days after this Act takes effect, seven (7) persons as members of said Commission who shall be citizens of Iowa, three (3) employers of labor, three (3) employees known to represent the interests of workmen and one disinterested person. The Commission shall elect its own Chairman and shall have the power to fill any vacancy that may occur in its membership, provided, however, the vacancy shall be filled by a person of the same qualification as the person whose vacancy he fills. The majority of the members of the Commission shall constitute a quorum.

Sec. 3. Said Commission shall investigate the problems of industrial accidents and especially the present condition of the law of liability for injuries or death suffered in the course of industrial employment as well in this state as in other states, and shall inquire into the most equitable and effectual method of providing compensation for losses suffered and it shall as far as practicable co-operate with the Commission of other states for like purposes. It shall, on or before the 15th day of September, 1912, report its conclusions with a draft of such bill or bills as may be deemed appropriate to the Governor, who shall at once publish said report and draft of bill or bills, who shall transmit said report to the 35th General Assembly for action thereon.

Sec. 4. The Commission shall meet at the call of the Chairman and appoint and elect a Secretary. It shall cause a record to be made and kept of its proceedings. It shall have power to employ such clerks and assistants as may be necessary in addition to the Secretary and shall fix their compensation, and may incur such other expenses as are properly incident to the work of the Commission. The members of the Commission shall be paid at the rate of Five Dollars ($5.00) per diem while actually engaged in the work of such Commission and re-imbursed for their actual expenses incurred in the work of said Commission.

Sec. 5. The sum of Eight Thousand Dollars ($8,000.00) or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated for the expense of the Commission and other expenses herein contemplated, and the Auditor of State is hereby authorized to draw a warrant for the foregoing amount or any part thereof in payment of any expenses, charges or disbursements authorized by this Act on order of the Commission signed by its Chairman, attested by its Secretary and approved by the Governor. The Executive Council is hereby authorized and empowered to provide all necessary printing for said Commission.

Sec. 6. When the report by said Commission shall have been filed with the Governor as heren contemplated, their duties as such shall cease and their term of office terminate.

DES MOINES, IOWA, MARCH 9, 1911.

To the Members of the Senate of the Thirty-fourth General Assembly:

GENTLEMEN: When Governor Carroll demanded my resignation as a member of the board of control of state institutions, and threatened to remove me forthwith, unless I complied with his demands, he at the same time made certain charges against my business integrity, and my moral character as a member of the board of control which have not yet been investigated and their truth or falsity established.

I would therefore request that a special committee of not more than five members of the Senate, be appointed by the President of the Senate with power to call and examine witnesses under oath, relative to the charges preferred against me by Governor Carroll, that the investigation may be open to the public, and that it shall be free from political bias and legal technicalities, with a sincere desire to ascertain the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth.

I desire also that this committee be authorized to thoroughly investigate the conditions existing at the Industrial school for Girls at Mitchelville, prior to and following my enforced resignation, the cause of the escapes and open rioting at the school and the necessity for the erection of steel cells at this state institution and the reason for sending girls back to the counties from which they came to be delivered to the jailer of the county, a condition heretofore unknown.

Also to make a thorough investigation of the reasons that induced the board of control to ask for the resignation of Superintendent H. E. Kirschner, of the State Sanitorium for the treatment of tuberculosis at Oakdale, and why he was allowed to continue as Superintendent, after his resignation was requested.

These are all questions in which the people of Iowa are interested and they should know all the facts before passing final judgment on these matters, pregnant with so much for good or ill, to the welfare of our state.

Having given twelve of the best years of my life as a member of the board of control of state institutions, with great pecuniary sacrifice to myself, and with an ambition to make our state institutions worthy of our people, and at the same time better the condition of every ward of the state, while guarding with all the ability I could command the best interests of the tax payers, I am surely not asking too much in thus requesting that the truth or falsity of the charges made against me be established, by an unprejudiced committee of Senators.

Conscious of my own rectitude as a state officer in the discharge of every duty, and courting the fullest investigation of all the charges that have been made against me, I trust that the Senate will comply with my request and thus afford an opportunity for ascertaining the truth in regard to these matters, and the manner in which the institutions named, have and are being conducted.

Respectfully submitted,
JOHN COWNIE.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

I am of the opinion that the State of Iowa has the best liquor laws of any state in the union. Each community, under the law, has the authority to decide the question of the sale thereof in an orderly manner. I would not vote to take away a single feature of the law under which the sale of liquors would be forced into communities opposed thereto, and will vote for all legislation which will promote true temperance.

As a republican I am fearful that the injection into our political contests may result in the turning over of the legislative authority to our opponents who I believe are less likely to protect the temperance laws than we are.

Whereas, on May 1, 1906, a petition was filed with the Town Council of the incorporated town of Fayette, Iowa, asking said council to call a special election in said town to vote upon a proposition to extend the water mains of the waterworks system owned by said town, and for such purpose to issue bonds in such sum as said council might deem necessary not in excess of one and one-fourth per cent. of the actual value of the property of said town.

Whereas, said petition was canvassed by said town council and was found to contain the number of signatures required by law.

Whereas, Thereafter on June 9, 1906, a special election was called in said town, upon a sufficient notice published as required by law, at which election was submitted the following question:

For the issuance of bonds in the sum of $6,000 for water works,

Against the issuance of bonds in sum of $6,000 for water works,

Whereas, at said election, 214 votes were cast in favor of said proposed bond issue and only 40 votes were cast against said bond issue.

Whereas, prior to the submission of said proposed bond issue at said election, the town council had adopted a definite plan for the extension of watermains, had advertised the same in the Fayette newspapers and had employed an engineer to estimate the cost of the proposed waterworks extension and had been advised that the proposed extension could be constructed at a cost of $6,000.00.

Whereas, after said preliminary estimate was made and before bids were received for the construction of said waterworks extension, the price of material necessary to be used in said extension was unexpectedly advanced.

Whereas, although several different bids were made for the construction of said waterworks extension, no bid was as low as $6,000.00 and the said town council of Fayette on July 16, 1906 authorized the execution of a contract with E. Smedley for the construction of said extension for the sum of $7,000.00; and this was the most favorable contract said town council was able to make with any of the several bidders for said work.

Whereas, it was agreed in said contract with E. Smedley that if the town so desired he would accept in part payment for his work under said contract, town warrants drawn to bear six per cent. interest.

Whereas, in settlement with said E. Smedley under said contract and for extra work done by him incidental thereto, the town council of Fayette, Iowa, authorized its proper officers to pay to him the sum of $7,044.00, and said payment was made in part by the issuance of three warrants upon the waterworks fund as follows:

One warrant No. 1635 for $500.00, dated November 26, 1906, due on or before 10 years after date, with interest at 6 per cent payable annually.

One warrant No. 1636 for $500.00, dated November 26, 1906, due on or before 10 years after date, with interest at 6 per cent. payable annually.

One warrant No. 1637 for $184.25, dated November 26, 1906, due on or before 10 years after date, with interest at 6 per cent. payable annually.

Whereas, the said waterworks extension was completed in a proper and satisfactory manner by the said E. Smedley and the amount charged by him and agreed by said town of Fayette to be paid therefor was the fair and reasonable cost of said work, and the said town of Fayette has had the benefit of the full value of said warrants issued in part payment therefor.

Whereas, the total indebtedness of the town of Fayette, Iowa, at the time said warrants were issued, including said warrants, was not, and is not now at the present time, and never has been in excess of the five per cent. of the actual value of the assessable property within said incorporated town.

Whereas, Questions have arisen as to the legality of said warrants above described and as to right of the town council, or the town treasurer, to pay the same.

Be it Enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

Section 1. That all warrants issued by the town of Fayette, Iowa, to E. Smedley as above described are hereby declared to be legal and valid as though said warrants had been issued in strict compliance with law; and the said town of Fayette is authorized to pay said warrants and the interest thereon accrued, and accruing, in the manner provided by law for the payment of bonds, and the interest on bonds, issued for the construction of a waterworks plant.

Sec. 2. Nothing in this act shall in any way effect pending litigation concerning the subject matter hereof.

Sec. 3. Nothing in this act shall be construed as making said town of Fayette, Iowa, liable for the payment of the principal represented by the face of said warrants prior to the time of maturity of said debt as described in said warrants.

Read first and second time and referred to Committee on Judiciary.

Music, "Shades of Evening," by First Methodist Episcopal Church Male Quartette.

Invocation by the Rev. Dr. G. A. Scott of First Methodist Episcopal Church of Des Moines.

The following telegram was received from Mrs. J. P. Dolliver:

Yonkers, N. Y., March 14, 1911.

HON. PAUL STILLMAN, Speaker, House of Representatives:

Kindly express at the memorial services my deep regret that I am unable to be present. If I could express in one sentence Mr. Dolliver's purpose in his struggle for the right, it would be that the children of tomorrow might have their equal opportunity. I believe that Iowa will not soon forget this sacrifice.

LOUISE P. DOLLIVER.

Music, "Lead Kindly Light," by First Methodist Episcopal Church Male Quartette.

Introducing Hon. Robert G. Cousins, Senator Francis made the following remarks:

We are assembled here this afternoon to honor the memory of one of the greatest of Iowa's sons. From that day more than a quarter of a century ago when Jonathan P. Dolliver spoke as temporary presiding officer of a great state convention of his political party, his fame as an orator has steadily grown until almost every school boy in the land is familiar with his eloquence and power.

I have heard him many times and upon many topics, and always and everywhere, whether in the political forum, on the chautauqua platform, or in the halls of Congress his manner has inspired, his thoughts have burned deep, and his wonderful power as an orator has led and captivated those who listened to the magic of his words.

In late years I had come to look upon him as the greatest orator using the English language—a fit companion for the mighty Burke in his defense of the American colonies, or Webster in his masterful reply to Hayne.

I had often thought that some day I would write to him how much I admired his great power and genius, but, alas, before that letter was written the call to a higher life was answered and the great advocate of the people was no more.

I cannot speak words of praise to him now—they fall upon ears cold and deaf to us, but tuned to music of a higher sphere, but I can say them to those who live and love his memory, and mourn with us his loss.

Jonathan P. Dolliver was of the common people, his greatest delight was in their service, and his memory will be forever cherished by those for whom he labored.

But I will not trespass upon the time of the speaker of the day who knew Senator Dolliver through long years of service together, and who will now address you with words rivaling in eloquence those of the lamented dead in whose memory we today gather.

I take pleasure in presenting to you Hon. Robert G. Cousins.

Who addressed the Joint Convention and spoke as follows:

Members of the General Assembly of Iowa:

Your greatly esteemed invitation which I could regard but virtually as a complimentary command to appear before you on this memorial occasion, could not fail to bring to my mind another occasion many years ago, when occupying seat numbered 69, on yonder aisle, another General Assembly—the twenty-first Assembly of our State—elected me for a far different duty to perform in a matter then pending before the Senate. And little, indeed, could it have been imagined at that time, that a quarter of a century later, I should be bidden by this Assembly to say in such way as I am able a few words in memory of one who has been the friend of all of us and who was then my earliest companion in the campaigns of his adopted commonwealth and of this my own native state.

But the destinies of men can seldom be foreseen and fate forever loves to mystify the future and the plans of men.

Nevertheless, it seemed certain to many of us then that Jonathan P. Dolliver was made and marked for eminent success.

No words of mine are needed now to fasten up the fame which by his great abilities he wrote across the nation's sky. No praises or encomiums are required to carry his illustrious name into the devoted households and the hamlets and the cities of the state of Iowa.

Human life, in fact all life, is the strangest and most wonderful of the mysteries. So, too, is death—save for the teachings of some philosophers—likewise mysterious. But the natural phenomena of autumn time with gently fading colors, with swift receding vigor, seem almost easily accounted for—an inexorable, known, expected fact. The setting sun and all its twilight hues are sure, decided, known, and fixed as is the picture painted by the artist's brush.

But who feels certain of the dawn and of a single day much less of the course of a human life. Will the sign of Aries or Leo, or Sagittarius or Aquarius or any sign or star under which a human life starts out, determine a spirit's course, its rising or its downfall? Not so. The teachers of the zodiacal science tell us that the possibilities of one born in the sign of Aquarius are greatest of all and also may be the poorest and the worst. How then is a human life to be separated from the infinite mysteries that attend it. Who can know what bloom of sunny clime or frigid zone or anxieties of our childhood faith, or mystic teachings of some far-off land shall lift, or thwart, or turn aside, or guide straight onward to its fairest goal a human soul. How is it that in one case environment, associations, or conditions shall inspire a human mind so that it leads on to the splendid glory of uncommon and incalculable achievement, may be by winning the souls of men with magic eloquence or thrilling them with melodies so great and sweet that they seem almost to have been dying through all the centuries of time with the pain of silence; and in another case of the very same conditions and environment, some other human being seems ignominiously to lose itself along the way of life without achievement or distinguishment and without the exultation of success.

I have sometimes thought that the secret of it all is like the secret of a perfect love, which in our mortal world can never be without complete, unstinted sacrifice of self.

However all this may be, the man whose brilliant and unusual career and character we memorialize today, achieved and felt in fullest measure the exultation of singular success. He put his life upon the altar of his hope and art and there it was consecrated to the end.

To be born of frugal, healthy parents in an environment that is stimulating is a great advantage.

The green fields of Virginia far away, and the hills and vales and mountains of that statesman-holding commonwealth, first heard the voice of Jonathan P. Dolliver. They had heard the unctuous and exhorting voice of his dear old father before him and had heard the voices of seven of our presidents in their youthful days. But Virginia was the cradle also of thousands whose reputations never crossed its borders. Dolliver was also born in a most favorable sign, on the 6th day of February, 1858, but millions, of whose names the world you and I have never heard, first saw the light in that same sign and under that same lucky star.

Educated well at home and finished with a college touch, our seventeen-year-old Virginian looked above the mountains of his birthland, took the sun for his pilot and Horace Greeley for his advisor and started on foot for the empire of the pioneers. We were all here waiting to help him and to shout for him. Both of my grandfathers had been here for more than thirty years welcoming such bone and flesh and blood. He tarried in Illinois and dug potatoes while a local school board were deciding to elect him school teacher. Little did the people of Sandwich, Illinois, know what they were missing when they let the young Virginian leave them and come and locate at a central point in Iowa between the two great rivers. But of course they and nobody else ever knows what may come out of a hickory shirt and a celluloid collar. Thousands had come away from there, thousands from New England and Ohio and Indiana and other states, but nobody knew which ones were geniuses until the flint of their intellects came in contact with the steel of circumstances and experience.

When Dolliver came to Ft. Dodge in the spring of 1878, nobody knew about it except his brother who accompanied him, and the landlord of whom they rented a small office. When the struggle became so hard that they had to sleep in the office his brother went back to Virginia into the ministry and Jonathan, as he tells us himself, worked on the streets for a dollar and a half per day.

The soul of every individual must always have an awakening if it is to expand. If that awakening does not come, we shall never know much of the individual. Perhaps many lives have been wasted for want of an awakening.

Nothing tends so much to bring out true worth as trouble. Nobody ever amounted to very much in this world unless he had to. The best flowers of genius have blossomed from "bleeding hearts."

Bulwer Lytton tells us of his young physician who studied and who suffered long and patiently in the community and that finally "Abbey Hill let him feel its pulse." Robert Burns suffered and sang so sweetly in the provincial region of Ayr that finally he was invited to Edinburgh.

When Ft. Dodge had discovered Dolliver, they must share him with the whole state. He was invited to Des Moines. He spoke to a state convention and the nation took up his name. Of course he had plagued the opposition and he had fun with the mugwumps. He had said they treated their consciences as if they were the stock in trade of a baking powder factory—they solemnly protest that everybody's conscience has alum in it except theirs. But no matter, he was awakened and from that moment his real life began. He was a permanent factor in American politics and in all political campaigns. He campaigned with Blaine and with all of the best of them from that time on.

With the enviable reputation which his first convention speech had given him throughout the country, and with his local prestige which had been gradually building and with the earnest aid of such strong characters as the late Governor Carpenter, it is not strange that he was soon chosen for Congress in the Tenth District.

There is always in every community a natural fraternity of intellectuality. There is a certain magnetism of intelligence that is always and everywhere irresistible. Thomas B. Reed once said: "There is no refinement quite equal to the graceful, mighty intellectuality. That of itself is always a commanding charm. It rules wherever it appears. Wealth bows to it and seeks its patronage while even ignorance reverts it."

Men are chosen for important offices, such as Congress, on account of being singularly known in the communities for something, either for unusual ability or for some signal success. Of course, by dint of dollars, men sometimes break into important offices creating wonderment as to how they got there. But as a general rule a man's name on the roll of the American Congress can be accounted for.

The House of Representatives, under certain circumstances, is probably the greatest arena in the world. Few men have been able to hold and control it for any great length of time. You can count on the fingers of your hands the occasions during the last two decades when different speakers have commanded it in such quietude that the speaker could be distinctly heard for a continuous hour. Under such circumstances it is a rare and wonderful arena. The English House of Commons is a play house compared with it. I have heard Balfour and Bannerman on the same day in the House on a government issue and have witnessed a dozen occasions in the American House of Representatives that far surpassed such a noted session of Parliament. Usually in the House there is constant conversation while the ordinary member is speaking. That is the general rule. But sometimes while full of overflowing the House becomes intensely quiet and remains so if the speaker has the ability to hold it. Dolliver was one of the few who at times commanded absolute quietude.

Remembering his own hard struggle for a start and for success in life, his voice was always lifted in his later years for the good of his generation and for his fellow men. He had that temperament which taught him that the most evil seed that can be sown in a community is the seed of suspicion and of doubt and that the best spirit that can be nurtured is that of faith and confidence and charity and integrity. Therefore he inculcated the hopeful spirit in his fellow men. He was the sunlight in every social circle of his friends. He was like a "rainbow in the gloom." The language of his ordinary conversation turned the corners of thought so abruptly and so swiftly that there was constant epigrammatic and inimitable illumination. He was the prince of good cheer and one of the happiest integers of human individuality in our serious, struggling world.

After all the years of toil and exciting contest for a full decade in the House of Representatives, and with tremendously exhausting work in the Chautauqua service, in which he earned substantial and in fact unusual profits, and with all the toil and burdens of his senatorial career, his great heart began to wane. The strongest machinery must finally break. Even steel and iron and hardest granite are not impervious or imperturbable. Whoever touches and commands the hearts of others, must always give up something of his own. So many hearts had been touched, so many souls had been stirred in all those great campaigns, that finally his own was worked to the mortal limit. Many the time I met him late at night and early in the morning in those great, fatiguing campaigns when we were out on the road, sometimes sixty to seventy days and home, maybe three or four nights in all that time, sleeping perhaps four or five hours the night, and having a splendid time, we thought, at that. And they were splendid and historic days when Iowa had the greatest corps of campaigners in the republic; when she had two members in the Cabinet and the Speaker of the House of Representatives; when aforesaid Tom Reed had said, "You have so much talent in your state, it is impossible to do justice to it and to the other states in Committee appointments."

It was a great honor and a sweet exultation to head the list of such a delegation, and the inspiration of it moved the heart of our friend to faster beating until 'twas overworked.

But think of the many souls of history that have reached their greatest power and sometimes have worn out their physical machinery before their suns had passed the periods of their brilliant and powerful meridians, yes, even before the shadow fell towards the east.

Many have been the soldiers who have won their laurels early. The hero of Ravenna was only twenty-two. Italy was conquered twice by military heroes only five and twenty. Innocent III has been called the despot of Christendom at thirty-seven and at that same age Lord Byron died. Victor Hugo wrote "Bug Jargal" at fifteen, and Pascal was a great author at sixteen and died at thirty-seven. Edmund Burke was the author of "The Sublime and Beautiful" at twenty-six, and Grattan entered the Irish Parliament and fame at twenty-nine. Richelieu was bishop at twenty-three and Secretary of War and State at the early age of thirty-one. Raphael had become illustrious and died at thirty-seven. William Pitt, the contemporary of our own illustrious Hamilton, and two years his junior, inherited the prestige that gave him a seat in Parliament at twenty-one, through the influence of the Duke of Rutland. He was Chancellor of the Exchequer at twenty-three, and First Lord of the Treasury and Chancellor, and practically the controlling power of England at twenty-five and he held that position for seventeen continuous years.

Dolliver inherited no political prestige. He had no Duke of Rutland for a sponsor. The clifted hills and lofty mountains of Virginia were his great godfathers and the honeyed valleys of that romantic birthland whispered their soft dreams into his eager, boyhood ears. The rivers and the hills of loyal Illinois gave welcome to his trudging weary feet and encouraged his exalted hope. The rolling plains and honeysuckled woodlands of our river-bordered Iowa sang thrice welcome to the bright-eyed continental wayfarer and won his wondrous heart and scintillating brain for its historic heritage and gave him all the rich and precious gifts within its political and lavish power. He went out for us and won the successive battles of his brilliant life by constant strife and never-ending zeal.

His great heart impelled the blood to his fertile brain in many years of constant and unceasing toil, sometimes his judgment differing with yours and sometimes with mine. But it matters not, he had fought the battles of our cause on many a brilliant day, and our tears of exultation for the fame of our great state were mingled on many glorious occasions. Every Hawkeye was proud of his chieftain, proud to have such a splendid champion in the great arenas of public life and on the popular stage. No matter if his clarion voice sounded sentiments, maybe discordant with our own, he had bared his breast for the Grand Old Man in that final hour of both their great careers.

And then at last he came home to rest. He had thought always in his recent years of the delightful and peaceful prospect of enjoying the habitude which he had selected and paid for with his honorable and strenuous earnings, consisting of some broad acres over there in the magnificent middle of our state, "touched by two rivers," as he described it himself, and situated there beside the city of his early friends. His plans for its improvement and perfection had not yet been completed, but they were in the apple of his eye and heart, and he sat himself down on the porch of his town-house home in the midst of his charming family of wife and children where he could see the undulating landscape of his future rural habitude, in contemplation, and mused over it all in those dearest days of our best October season, when the vines were running over the sun-lit hedges in all the golden glory of that rich autumnal time; and with all apparent faith in the restitution of his health, with his bright soul shining in his eyes and in his usual laughing mood, he counted his pulse beats up to seven, refusing to count himself out—like the fighter that he was—but the physician counted more and feebler pulse beats. It seemed as though Infinite Mercy spared our friend the usual suffering and pain that attends the exit of great souls. There is no evidence that he suffered even for a moment a glomy or troubled apprehension. His jovial hand seemed lifted from the grasp of his latest visitor by the hand of The Infinite One.

The nays were:

None.

Absent or not voting:

Adams, Ames, Bennett, Chase, Cowles, Dunnegan, Hoyt, Legel, McColl, McManus, Mattes, Quigley, Sammis, Saunders, Stuckslager, Sullivan, Taylor—17.

So the bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the Senate and its title agreed to.

On motion of Senator Balluff, Senate File No. 83, a bill for an act to repeal Section Twenty-seven Hundred Twenty-seven-c (2727-c) of the Supplement to the Code, 1907, relating to the salary of the chief executive of certain state institutions, and the qualification of the superintendent of the school for the deaf and to enact a substitute therefor, with report of committee recommending the adoption of a substitute and passage, was taken up, considered, and the report of the committee adopted.

Senator Mattes raised the point of order that the bill under consideration carried an appropriation should be referred to the Committee on appropriations.

The President ruled as follows:

The Senate having under consideration Senate File No. 83, a bill relative to the increase of salaries of the superintendents of certain state institutions, the bill having been referred to the Committee on Compensation of Public Officers and reported for passage by that committee, the Senator from Sac, chairman of the Committee on Appropriations raised a point of order against the consideration of the bill by the Senate upon the ground that it should first have consideration by and a report thereon to the Senate from the Committee on Appropriations.

The chair ruled as follows:

The rule of the Senate is that "All bills carrying appropriations shall be referred to the Committee on Appropriations." It is the opinion of the chair that a bill fixing, or changing the amount of salary to be paid a superintendent of one of the state institutions does not "carry an appropriation" within the meaning of this rule. A committee of the Senate derives all its authority from the Senate. Its powers are all delegated powers. It has jurisdiction of only such subject matters as the Senate confers upon it. The senate has never conferred upon the committee on Appropriations jurisdiction to consider and determine the question of compensation of public officers, assuming, as is done for the purposes of this ruling, that superintendents of our state institutions are public officers. But the Senate has conferred that jurisdiction solely upon the Committee, created expressly for that purpose, namely, the Committee on Compensation of Public Officers. It is not within the power of the chair by a ruling to take from one committee the jurisdiction of a subject matter with which the Senate has clothed it and confer it upon another committee. If the Senate should provide by rule that such bills should also have consideration by the appropriations committee that would be another matter, but it is not the question presented here, and the Senate has not done so. To hold upon the question presented that the bill must go to the appropriations committee before it can be considered by the Senate would be to deprive the committee on Compensation of Public Officers of its jurisdiction, to ignore, annul and render futile its action and take away all reason for its existence. It is not a question of propriety or advisability that is presented to the chair, or a question of what might best enable the appropriations committee to do its work, but it is a clear-cut question of parliamentary law under the facts stated. What is said here can have no application to a bill carrying an appropriation, or that must have an appropriation entirely independent of any provision now made in the law to carry out its purposes. The chair, therefore, reaches the conclusion that the point of order must be overruled, but it still remains for the Senate to make such reference of the bills as it may deem proper for it can at any time refer any subject matter to any committee it may please. The Senate has authority over its committees and can confer jurisdiction. The chair cannot. The chair can only apply the principles of parliamentary law to the situation as he finds it.

Senator Mattes moved that the bill be referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

On this motion a roll call was demanded.

Read first and second time and referred to Committee on Cities and Towns.

Senator De Wolf submitted the following communication from the State Board of Health, which was ordered printed in the Journal.

HON. SHERMAN W. DEWOLF.

SENATE CHAMBER.

My Dear Senator:—

I wish to call your attention to a matter which I consider to be a great menace to the health of the citizens of our state. I now refer to the pollution of the streams of Iowa. This is becoming more and more dangerous every day, and should receive at this session of the legislature careful consideration, as the legislature will not again be in session, unless specially called, for two years. All of the streams of Iowa are becoming so filthy and unsanitary that fish life is being destroyed and the people are drinking their own sewage. This is becoming a source whereby disease and death are becoming almost constant visitors to the homes of our people.

The legislature is the custodian of the people's rights, and privileges, and many mistakes have been made in the past and are now being made by neglecting to enact proper legislation in order that the conservation of human life may be maintained. It is hard to have charge of so important a department as the office of the Secretary of the State Board of Health, and to know that conditions exist which are causing sickness, death and sorrow in the homes of those who have a right to claim protection by law from the legislative assembly, and feel that there is no law giving power to change such unsanitary conditions.

I herewith attach a copy of a telegram sent to Surgeon General Wyman of the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service, Washington, D. C., which is as follows:

Des Moines, March 17, 1911.

WALTER WYMAN, Surgeon, General, Washington, D. C.:

"Could you communicate with Geological Survey for me, relative to co-operation with our state in making a survey of the streams of Iowa, in regard to their pollution? It is the purpose of the Iowa State Board of Health to bring the matter before our legislature now in session. Answer paid here."

GUILFORD H. SUMNER,
Secretary.

The following reply has been received which is self explanatory:

Washington, D. C., March 20, 1911.

DR. SUMNER, Sec'y, State Board of Health,
DES MOINES, IOWA.

"Geological Survey does not have law to investigate pollution of streams. In bills before last congress, affecting this service, such provisions were included but they did not become a law. Intention is to make similar request next congress."

WYMAN, Surgeon-General.

The above telegrams will convey to you the efforts which the Secretary of the State Board of Health has made to bring about better conditions in regard to protecting the water supply of our state. Only for the activity of the Iowa State Board of Health in the recent epidemic of Typhoid Fever, in the city of Des Moines, and a report of which has been rendered to each member of the legislature, many of the members of the legislature might have been afflicted with this dread disease. This furnishes only one illustration of what is taking place by water pollution within the borders of Iowa.

The present legislature should not adjourn without making some provision at least for a complete examination of the streams of Iowa relative to their pollution. We may talk about drinking water, but where are we to go to get a good drink of water? Unless activity is commenced along these lines to provide good, wholesome drinking water, we will be obliged to drink wine in order to avoid drinking our own sewage.

We cannot impress upon you and the other members of the legislature, too earnestly at this time, that it is essentially necessary that the people be protected and some legislation along this line be enacted to the end that all cities and towns now discharging sewage into any streams, whose waters are or may be used for human or animal consumption, should file plans of their sewerage system and such other data as may be specified, to a sanitary commission of engineers, working under the direction of the State Board of Health, during the next two years, for the purpose of furnishing to the legislature a report with recommendations; and all cities and towns which desire in the future to discharge sewage or sewage effluents into any such streams or water supply should be required to file plans of their proposed systems.

I need only to add in conclusion that at the present time, the water supply at Iowa City is in a sad state of pollution, owing to conditions which exist all along the river above Iowa City, the seat of Iowa's principal educational institution, the state university.

The State Board of Health joins in the general good wishes for better work than ever before, but for its own particular part must continue in its improverished way until July 1st, 1911, when it is hoped that the present legislature will have made ample provisions for the work of the Board in accordance with its duties, and will have furnished the necessary funds with which it shall find itself provided by the present legislature.

Citizens who have been interested in public health progress, and who have followed the work of the State Board of Health, as well as members of the legislature, realize that it is impossible to pass and adequately finance all the really good health measures presented, but it is most desirable at this time that the legislature and the public indicate their opinion of the work of the State Board of Health; and I would most earnestly recommend that the present legislature so organize and strengthen the State Board of Health that it may do efficient, active, energetic and profitable work.

Very respectfully,

GUILFORD H. SUMNER,
Secretary, State Board of Health.
