Upon such appeal all questions of the reasonableness and validity of such action including the justness, reasonableness and adequacy of any rental, rate or charge, and the reasonableness of any facilities required to be provided, shall be heard and determined by the court.

The action upon appeal in the district court shall be tried as a suit in equity and shall be triable at the first term, and shall be heard and determined as speedily as practicable. No pleadings shall be required upon the hearing of said appeal, but the city or town clerk shall immediately upon the giving of a notice of appeal, and approval and filing of the bond hereinbefore provided for, certify to said district court a transcript of all proceedings had before or by the council or electors, or both, in said matter, including any ordinance adopted and all other action taken either by said council or electors, or both, of said city or town fixing any rate, rental or charge for services or facilities to be furnished or provided. The validity of the actions and proceedings of the council or electors, or both, of said city or town as well as any election held in connection therewith, and the justness, reasonableness and adequacy of any rental, rate or charge fixed and the reasonableness and justness of any facilities required shall be considered and held to be put in issue by operation of law. No such appeal shall be dismissed by reason of an insufficient transcript, but the district court shall have power at any time and at any stage of the proceedings, to require the city or town clerk to certify any additional transcript which such court shall deem necessary to a full hearing of the matters to be heard on such appeal.

The transcript of the city clerk need not include the evidence upon the hearing before the city or town council unless request is made therefor by a party to the proceeding and then only to such extent as may be requested by such party, and when so requested such portion of the evidence including such portion of the translation of the notes of the stenographer taking the same as the party requesting may desire, shall be certified to said district court, and when so certified by the stenographer, and city or town clerk, the same may be used upon the trial of the appeal in said district court.

If the court shall determine that any rate or charge fixed by such city is unjust, unreasonable or inadequate, or the facilities required to be furnished by such action are unreasonable or unjust, the same shall be cancelled and annulled, and such cancellation and annulment certified back to the council of said city or town, and the council or electors, or both, of said city or town may thereupon take the necessary action to fix new rentals, rates, or charges or facilities to be furnished and provided in lieu of those so cancelled or annulled, certifying such action to the court to which said appeal is taken, or such city or town may by resolution of its council elect to stand upon the rates and requirements previously fixed and which have been so cancelled or annulled by the court, by appealing from the judgment of the said district court to the supreme court as hereinafter provided.

The district court to which the appeal is taken shall retain jurisdiction for the purpose of passing upon the justness, reasonableness and adequacy of any new rentals, rates and charges to be made and facilities to be furnished as fixed by the council, or electors, or both, of such city or town in lieu of those cancelled or annulled, and said court shall proceed to hear and determine the question of the justness, reasonableness and adequacy thereof, as a part of the original appeal, and the time for appeal to the supreme court as hereinafter provided, from the judgment of the district court shall not begin to run until the determination as to the justness, reasonableness and adequacy of the said new rentals, rates, charges and facilities.

SEC. 4. The Judge of the district court hearing any cause or appeal provided for by this act, may at his discretion, or upon the motion of either party to any such action shall, certify such fact of the pendency of such action or appeal to the Chief Justice of the supreme court of Iowa, who shall thereupon designate a Judge from some other district to preside upon such cause or the hearing of such appeal, and the Judge so designated shall be entitled to receive his actual expenses caused by attendance upon such trial or hearing.

Either party may appeal to the supreme court from the whole or any part of the judgment of the district court rendered in any action or proceeding provided for in this act. Said appeal shall be taken within the same time and manner as in other civil actions and said cause or proceeding shall be heard and determined as an equitable action. The supreme court upon motion of either party shall advance on its docket any cause arising under this act, and hear the same as speedily as practicable.

SEC. 5. The term "public utility," as used in this act, means and includes every person, partnership or private corporation and their assignees, trustees, lessees or receivers that now or may hereafter for hire be engaged in the production, sale, transmission for sale or distribution, or distribution of gas, electricity, or water, or energy for light, heat or power in any city or town within this state having a population not exceeding twenty-five thousand, and includes the physical properties used and useful in furnishing or rendering the services referred to in this section and all rights and privileges appertaining thereto.

Senator Albert B. Cummins addressed the Senate in part as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT AND SENATORS—The honor just conferred on me is a very agreeable and certainly a very delightful surprise. It gives me an opportunity to pay my respects to the Senate of the state of Iowa. I am always interested in seeing the representatives of a great people at work. I have been in the public service continually now for nearly fourteen years and the deepest impression I have, I think, with respect to the government of our country, both Federal and state, is the increasing difficulty which confronts the legislative branches of our government. I understand how much more difficult it is now for the executive department to execute and enforce the laws. I understand something of the problems that are confronting the judicial branch. These problems, however, are not comparable with the questions with which the legislative branch has to deal.

Every day of my public life strengthens my confidence in the integrity, the honesty of those whom the people choose to make their laws. There was a time when I did not feel just that way. Formerly, I was dead sure that I was right and that everyone who differed with me was wrong. I have come along these many years, and although I am just as sure now that I am right, when I make up my mind on a public matter, I am not so sure that those who differ with me are wrong. This is a strange paradox but it accurately expresses my feeling.

I refer again to the suggestion of a moment ago. In so far as we fail it will be because we are inadequate to make laws which will render justice, to make laws which will fit the wonderful conditions and the marvelous growth of our social, commercial and industrial life. It is not because men do not want to make the right sort of laws. It is because the problems are too hard for the human mind to solve.

I am constantly overwhelmed with the thought that it is almost impossible to become informed so as to reach just and sound conclusions. We ought not to spend our time in questioning the motives of our fellow men, but in mastering this marvelous array of facts and conditions which confront us. When we once know the truth, I believe the majority of the human kind are desirous of giving expression to it in the laws which they enact. It is an encouraging conclusion to which I have come. I am not saying that any man should surrender his convictions. He should fight and fight persistently, but he ought not to color his views with the thought that those who oppose him consciously intend to bring disaster on the people whom they represent.

I thank you for the opportunity of addressing for a moment the representatives of our great state. There is no commonwealth like ours. There is no state that combines all the virtues and strength of citizenship so completely as the state which you are representing in this branch of the legislature. Whether in the general assembly here or whether in the Congress at Washington, it is a priceless honor to represent the people of so great a state.

I believe that our commonwealth is not only the first in opportunity, but it is first in government. I am glad to believe that this General Assembly is the very climax of our civilization, the very flower of our state, and hope that your labors will result in lifting still higher the standard of free institutions.

I thank you again for this chance to say a word in your presence.

Senator Eversmeyer moved that the address of Senator Cummins be printed in the Journal.

Carried.

The word "building" used in the law relating to fire escapes and protection against fire and means of escape from buildings shall be held to include all of the structures or enclosures embraced in this section or referred to more specifically in the law relating to fire escapes, protection against fire and means of escape from buildings. When a basement is five (5) feet or over above ground it shall be counted as a story.

Every building, structure or enclosure of three or more stories and every school house of two stories and not provided with two (2) inside stairways located approximately at each end of the hallway in the second story and every structure having a stage, and every theater, or opera house of more than one story, or having balconies or galleries, shall have the number of fire escapes of the kind prescribed by law, which minimum number shall be based upon the following formula:

Number of fire escapes— $C \times P$

P equals the average maximum number of persons on any story above the first story having the largest number; such number to be fixed and determined according to the purpose for which the building is used.

C is a coefficient and is fixed and shall be taken for the various classes of buildings as follows:

Buildings having wooden or combustible walls, C equals .020.

Buildings having brick or noncombustible walls with combustible interior, C equals .014;

Buildings having brick or noncombustible walls and noncombustible roof and slow burning construction, C equals .012;

Buildings of fire proof construction throughout, C equals .007;

Buildings of wooden or combustible walls equipped with efficient water sprinkler system, C equals .014;

capas above one (1) shall be a number sufficient to cover the number indicated by the formula, including any fraction as unity, except when such fraction shall be thirty-three hundredths (.33) or less, in which case the fraction may be dropped if permitted by the inspector.

The first fire escape required by law shall be placed as far as possible from the existing inside stairway or exits to the lower floors of the building, taking into account the hazard and the path or route of access to the escape from such stairway.

The distance from any inside stairway or exit to the lower floor to the nearest fire escape shall not exceed two hundred (200) feet by way of the path or route of access to such fire escape from such stairway or exit.

Additional fire escapes to those otherwise provided by law shall be provided wherever it is necessary to pass within twenty (20) feet of any stairway or elevator shaft from any portion of the building more than twenty (20) feet from such stairway or shaft to reach the fire escape required by the other provisions of law and where there are peculiar, unusual or extreme hazards additional fire escapes may be required by those authorized by law to regulate and fix the number and requirements of fire escapes.

Provided also that if by reason of the height of buildings or by reason of many or all stories above the first story of such buildings having near the maximum of persons of any one floor above the first, such buildings shall be equipped with a sufficient number of fire escapes to permit the exit of all persons occupying such buildings above the first story, permanently, or temporarily in the course of business within the following periods of time:—

Buildings with wooden or combustible walls, two minutes; buildings having brick or noncombustible walls with combustible interior, three minutes; buildings having brick or noncombustible walls and noncombustible roof and slow burning interior construction, four minutes buildings of fire proof construction throughout, eight minutes; or a less period of time if hazard of merchantable contents of such building may so require; and in estimating the period of time required the rate of descent on the fire escapes shall not be taken in excess of one and five-tenths (1 5-10) feet of vertical distance, or height per second.

SEC. 3. That Section four thousand nine hundred ninety-nine-a eight (4999-a 8) of the supplement to the code, 1913, be and the same is hereby repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

All fire escapes shall be constructed as described in the following classifications:

Class A. Fire escapes of this class shall consist of those more safe and efficient than outside ladders and stairways and which shall have been approved as such by the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics, and may include inside stairways and means of escape in fire-proof buildings, when approved by said commissioner.

Class B. Fire escapes of this class shall consist of a suitable outside stairway of not less than twenty-two (22) inches clear width of steel or wrought iron constructed with platforms and with stationary stairway carried down to within six and one-half (6½) feet from the ground or with a drop or counterbalanced stairway from the second story platform or balcony to the ground.

Class C. Fire escapes of this class shall consist of at least one ladder not less than eighteen (18) inches in width of steel or wrought iron construction of sufficient size and strength for safety attached to the outside walls of the building and provided with platforms of steel or wrought iron enclosed by suitable railings and of such dimensions and in such proximity to the windows of each story above the first so as to render access to the ladder from each story easy and safe, the said ladder to extend to within six and one-half ($6\frac{1}{2}$) feet from the ground or be provided with a drop ladder hung at the second story in such a manner that it can be easily lowered for use. All fire escapes shall have suitable extensions reaching from the upper platform to safe landing on the roof of building.

All of the above classes of fire escapes shall be of suitable material, construction, arrangement and location to make the same safe and efficient and no fire escape of a higher class shall be less safe and efficient than of a lower class and the provisions of each lower class with respect to platforms, access to windows and openings and sufficiency of strength shall apply to the upper class except where allowed to be modified by those having authority.

All fire escapes of any of the foregoing classes shall have such necessary windows or openings leading to the platforms or balconies of the same as shall be necessary to make the same safe and efficient and all routes or paths of access to said fire escapes shall be safe and sufficient, with all doors of rooms leading to fire escapes one-half glass and equipped with mortice latches that the same may be easily and quickly opened by breaking the glass and turning the latches from the inside of the doors, all so as to render access to the fire escape from each floor above the first easy and safe. All windows or doors leading to the platforms of fire escapes shall not be fastened against exit.

The attachment of all fire escapes shall be made in a thorough and substantial manner and sufficient to carry the full load that may be placed on said fire escapes when the same are crowded, with a factor of safety of not less than four (4).

Suitable signs indicating the location of fire escapes shall be posted at all entrances to elevators, stairways, landings and in all rooms. In all buildings which are used for lodging or sleeping purposes and in opera houses, theaters and public assembly halls red lights shall be maintained at night or when the buildings are darkened to indicate the place or opening through which access to the fire escape is obtained.

SEC. 4. That Section four thousand nine hundred ninety-nine-a nine (4999-a 9) of the supplement to the code, 1913, be and the same is hereby repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

Hotels, lodging houses, tenements, apartment buildings, schools, retail or department stores, seminaries, and college buildings, office buildings, hospitals, asylums, opera houses, theaters, assembly halls and factories required to be equipped by law shall be equipped with escapes of class "A" or class "B". All other buildings and structures required to be equipped with fire escapes shall be equipped with some one or more of said classes of fire escapes.

Class "C" shall not be used on any building over three stories in height in which more than five persons are at any one time allowed upon any one of the floors above said third story nor where any of the persons allowed upon any floor above the third story are females or minors; provided, however, the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics may under peculiar conditions and where the hazards are not great permit fire escapes of class "C" to be used on buildings of more than three stories but when ladder fire escapes are permitted on buildings more than three stories in height the ladders thereof must offset at the platforms and not be continuous from one story to the next.

Where stairways not less than forty-four (44) inches in clear width are provided they shall be taken as the equivalent of two or more single stairways in roportion to their width, provided the means of escape and efficiency and safety of said escapes are not thereby diminished.

SEC. 5. The entrance and exit doors of all hotels, churches, lodge halls, court houses, assembly halls, theaters, opera houses, colleges and public school houses and other structures where the hazard is deemed sufficient and the entrance doors to all class and assembly rooms in all public school buildings shall open outward and shall not be fastened against exit or so the same cannot be easily opened from within.

It shall be the duty of the building inspector in cities having such officer and if there be no such officer, then the chief of the fire department, and if there be no chief of a paid fire department, the mayor of each city or town or if the building is not within the corporate limits of any city or town, then the chairman of the board of supervisors shall inspect and they shall be the inspectors of all fire escapes within their respective jurisdictions, except such buildings as hotels and factories as are required otherwise to be inspected by law, and they shall as often as necessary and whenever complaint is made carefully inspect and examine such fire escapes and such inspection shall include all paths or routes of access between any inteiror exit to a lower floor and said fire escapes and shall include the openings and means of access to the said fire escapes and shall include signs, lights, exits and means of escape of all buildings required to be equipped with fire escapes and required to have certain exits and means of escape and upon the complaint or request of any person that any fire escape, exit or means of escape from fire or any rule or regulation relative thereto or relative to protection against fire is being violated, such inspector shall examine into the complaint or request and determine what, if any, requirements should be made in relation thereto, and shall have power to make all reasonable requirements and regulations in conformity with law and to determine all matters with respect to fire escapes, protection from fire and means of escape from buildings. Said inspectors, however, shall be subject to and their duties shall not conflict with the duties of inspection of the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics, the engineer of the state board of health and their assistants or deputies.

The commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics shall have general charge and supervision of the inspection and regulation of fire escapes and means of escape and of the enforcement of the law relating thereto and for this purpose the inspectors named herein shall be subject to his direction and to the rules and regulations adopted by such commissioner. The said commissioner shall adopt standard uniform specifications for the various classes of fire escapes provided by law and shall keep such specifications on file in his office and shall furnish copies of such specifications to all persons made by law inspectors of fire escapes and means of escape from fire and such persons shall keep the same on file in their respective offices.

The owner, by himself, his agent or lessee, may appeal from the action or requirement of any inspector at any time within the said sixty (60) days after the service of such notice by a written communication addressed to said commissioner, setting forth such objections as may be taken to the complaint, requirement or regulation of such inspector and it shall be the duty of the commissioner to pass upon and determine all matters of disagreement relating to fire escapes and the means of escape from fire from buildings and all rules, regulations, findings and orders of the commissioner shall be reasonable and not unduly burdensome wherever it is within the discretion of the commissioner.

The commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics shall make all necessary rules and regulations to carry out the purpose of this law and for all buildings wherever constructed and have the same printed in pamphlet form for distribution and he shall have the power to approve any and all plans relating to fire escapes of the various classes, and it shall be his duty to see that the same conform to the law and to make rulings and orders relative thereto, and where any dispute or disagreement arises with respect to the plans and specifications for any fire escapes or means of escape from fire the commissioner shall have the power and authority to determine and pass upon the same and make orders relative thereto. Said inspector shall, subject to the final decision of the commissioner, have power to determine the number of exits from all theaters, opera houses and assembly halls and those having one or more balconies and the relation of such exits to the fire escapes, and shall require and enforce the requirements that all exits shall not be fastened against exit.

SEC. 7. That Section two thousand five hundred fourteen-i (2514-i) of the supplement to the code, 1913, be amended by striking out all of the same down to and including the figures 1907 first appearing in said section and substituting therefor the following:

Every hotel shall be provided and equipped with fire escapes and means of exit and escapes from fire as is otherwise than in this chapter provided by law and all such law shall be additional to the provisions of this chapter.

SEC. 8. That Section two thousand five hundred fourteen-n (2514-n) of the supplement to the code, 1913, be and the same is hereby repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

Every hotel except those which are of fire proof construction that are constructed with an inside court or light well and with sleeping rooms or sleeping apartments, the only outside openings of which open upon or into such court or light well, unless the same extends to the ground floor with suitable means of exit, shall have such court or light well supplied with a suitable runway, platform or balcony upon the roof or covering at the bottom thereof connecting with some easy and efficient means of egress to accessible fire escapes, and when the fire hazard is such that said roof or covering at the bottom of such court or light well is in danger of being destroyed by fire such runway, platform or balcony shall be attached to the walls of the court or light well as may be required by the inspector. Any doors or windows interposed between said runway, platform or balcony and the fire escapes shall not be fastened against the exit.

SEC. 9. That Section two thousand five hundred fourteen-o (2514-o) of the supplement to the code, 1913, be and the same is hereby repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

Every hotel hereafter constructed or constructed since the fourth day of July, 1909, that is three or more stories high shall be provided with a hall on each floor above the ground floor extending from one outside wall to another and said halls shall be equipped at the end with fire escapes as is otherwise provided by law; provided, however, that in hotels of fire proof construction the provisions with reference to the hall extending from one outside wall to another may be modified with the approval of the commissioner of labor statistics, when such buildings are equipped with fire escapes of class "A".

SEC. 10. That Section four thousand nine hundred ninety-nine-a 11 (4999-a 11) of the supplement to the code, 1913, be and the same is hereby repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of law relating to fire escapes or means of escape from fire or any owner, agent or trustee having the full care and control of any building and who has been served with notice as provided herein and who shall within sixty (60) days of the service of the notice or within the time as extended by the commissioner fail and neglect to comply with the requirements of law or of the inspector or the commissioner, unless he appeal therefrom or who shall fail, refuse or neglect to perform any order or requirement fixed by law or by the labor commissioner, if the same be reasonable, shall be subject to a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars ($25) and not more than one hundred dollars ($100) and shall be subject to a further fine of twenty-five dollars ($25) for each additional week of neglect to comply with such notice, order or requirement.

COMMUNICATION FROM EXECUTIVE COUNCIL.

The following communication was received from the Executive Council, was read and ordered printed in the Journal:

TO THE SENATE—In response to the resolution adopted by you on the 25th of March requesting the Executive Council to report to you an account of the receipts and disbursements under the Capitol Extension Act the following is respectfully submitted.

Section four (4) of Chapter Fourteen (14) of the Acts of the 35th General Assembly relating to the Extension and Improvement of the State Capitol Grounds provides: "That the executive council is hereby authorized, empowered and directed to acquire any or all the real estate included in the territory described in section two hereof for the State and may purchase the same on option or contracts or in any other way which said council may deem expedient" and section nine provides: "That for the purpose of accomplishing the earliest possible completion of the work contemplated herein and the carrying out of the plans provided for in this act the executive council may anticipate the collection of the tax herein authorized to be levied for the extension and improvement of the Capitol Grounds and for that purpose may issue interest bearing warrants or certificates carrying a rate of interest not to exceed five per cent per annum." Section seven of said chapter provides "That the executive council is hereby authorized, empowered and directed to sell or cause to be sold either as it now stands or to cause the same to be platted and subdivided into lots and sold in parcels the real estate now owned by the State known as Governor's Square" * * * and the proceeds "shall be carried into the State Treasury to the credit of the Capitol Grounds Extension and Improvement Fund."

Acting under these provisions of the law the executive council proceeded to the discharge of the duties enjoined upon it. After careful consideration the conclusion was reached that much more money could be realized by platting Governor's Square and removing houses from the extended grounds to the lots, since authority was conferred to sell both the buildings and the lots.

In anticipation of the income from the tax levies and from the sale of Governor's Square and in harmony with the statutes and the decision of the Supreme Court in the Capitol Extension Case, the council proceeded to secure and did secure of Geo. M. Bechtal & Co., $400,000.00, December 18th, 1913, $50,000.00 January 14th, and $225,000.00 February 9th, 1914, paying the said company for its services $1,700.00. With the coming in of the 1913 taxes and the $675,000.00 in anticipation of them and the tax of 1914 the council proceeded with the purchase of property, issuing five per cent warrants in payment therefor. Warrants to the amount of $675,000.00 have been issued and in the subjoined statement the interest thereon has been figured to their maturity, some of them running to June 1st, 1915, others to December 1st, 1915.

Income from sales of lots in Governor's Square was also anticipated and it is especially anticipated in connection with the small sum, comparatively, which will become due in August, 1915. These purchases were made in anticipation of such income and also of the tax of 1915. Anticipation from sales in Governor's Square was also made in earlier purchases but the work of preparation of the lots for sale was delayed longer than was expected, due to inability to negotiate the purchase of lots in the Extension having houses desirable for moving. Besides, in order to make the property in the Square salable, excavations for basements and water and sewer connections had to be put in.

Mr. L. A. Jester, an experienced real estate man of East Des Moines thoroughly acquainted with values, was employed under the provision of Chapter 13 of the Acts of the 35th General Assembly, to make purchase of extension territory and was paid $6,312.50 for his services. Mr. Montis and Mr. Mathis were paid for services rendered in like behalf $36.00 and $25.00 respectively. Mr. Jester has not been in the employ of the State since February 6th.

Mr. T. E. McCurdy, who has had charge of renting buildings and collecting rents, selling houses and property from the grounds, cleaning up, looking after repairs, insurance, moving houses, preparing Governor's Square, and a multitude of other duties, was appointed in accordance with the provisions of Senate Joint Resolutions No. 15 of the 35th General Assembly and has been paid $1,790.33.

The foregoing facts are stated to the end that the subjoined statement may be fully and clearly understood.

No estimate of the cost of the grounds yet to be purchased can be made that will be absolutely accurate but it is confidently believed that $140,000.00 will approximate it very closely.

The city of Des Moines has not as yet vacated any portion of the streets within the Extension territory for the reason that the State only very recently acquired all the property along streets so that there could be no objections by abutting owners.

The Executive Council begs the privilege of suggesting to the Senate its very great hope that it will not halt or cripple this great enterprise by reducing the amount provided for it during the next biennium. The law itself, as now written, reduces the amount already provided during the last biennium, $315,000.00 a year. $150,000.00 per annum is not a burden and not to allow that sum would leave a deplorable condition about the capitol building, and subject the State to financial loss under conditions as they now exist.

Statement of available assets and disbursements in connection with the Capitol Extension Act.

The attorney general shall act as attorney and advise said engineer on all legal matters pertaining to his office.

Sec. 3. Said state engineer shall be a resident of the state at the time of his appointment, and a graduate of some accredited school of civil engineering, and shall have had five (5) years experience in engineering, highway and bridge construction work.

Sec. 4. Said state engineer shall receive an annual salary of twenty-five hundred dollars ($2,500) for his services, and actual expenses while traveling in the performance of his duties. He shall be required to give a bond in the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) for the faithful performance of his duties.

Sec. 5. Said state engineer may appoint such assistants and clerks as are necessary to carry on the work of the office, but the total expenditure for assistants, clerks and other expenses shall not exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000) in any year.

Sec. 6. The duties of such state engineer shall be:

a. To acquire knowledge of the latest improved methods of road and bridge construction and collect such other information as will be of value to the highway officers of the state.

b. To investigate the road and bridge work in any county upon the request of the board of supervisors, or when in his judgment, it would be necessary to do so, to become familiar with the highway and bridge construction of that county.

c. To attend county road meetings when it is practical to do so, and confer with road officials on any matters pertaining to road work.

d. To devise plans and specifications for highway and bridge construction and maintenance suited to the needs of the different counties of the state. The highways now designated as county roads by the plats and records now on file in the county auditor's office of each county and all county highways from time to time added thereto shall be known as the county road system. All other highways in the county shall be known as the township road system.

SEC. 8. All county system road plats, profiles, engineers' records and records of surveys now on file in the auditor's office of each county under and in accordance with which permanent highways, culverts and bridges have been constructed or are in the process of construction, or highways designated or established as county roads for improvement shall be a part of the system known as the county road system and are hereby so recognized. Such highways, culverts and bridges as at the present time are completed or are in course of construction under the said county highway system, are deemed to be of proper width and are hereby so recognized. All of said plats, profiles, engineers' records and records of surveys shall be preserved by the auditor for future reference.

SEC. 9. The county board of supervisors shall have full control and supervision of the highways in the county, designated as county road system, as shown by the plat now on file in the county auditor's office in each county, and such other roads as they shall from time to time add to said system. County boards of supervisors of adjoining counties, shall confer with each other and determine and secure continuity of roads leading from the principal points in one county to the principal points in the other county.

SEC. 10. The board of supervisors may from time to time add to the county road system such roads from the township road system as in their judgment have become sufficiently improved to become a part of said system, but in no case shall more than ten per cent (10%) of the township roads be added to the county road system in one year. They shall cause a map to be made plainly marking the road or roads proposed to be added to said system, and file the same with the county auditor to be kept open for public inspection. Upon the filing of said map the county auditor shall at once fix a date of hearing thereon, which shall not be more than twenty (20) days distant from the date of filing same, and ten (10) days notice of the filing of said map with the county auditor, and the date of hearing fixed, shall be published in one issue of each of the official county papers.

At any time before said hearing is concluded, any ten (10) freeholders of the county may file a petition with the county auditor asking for any change in said designated roads which may be deemed advisable, which petition shall set forth the reasons of the proposed change, and shall be accompanied by a plat accurately showing such proposed change. Upon such hearing the board of supervisors shall after taking into consideration the volume of traffic, continuity, and maintenance, finally determine the road or roads that are to become a part of the county road system, and cause said map to be marked in conformity to the added road or roads as finally designated.

SEC. 11. The board of supervisors of each county may employ a competent engineer or engineers, who shall be employed for such length of time and at such compensations as may be fixed by the board of supervisors, and to be paid out of the county fund, and who shall make general specifications for grading, repairing, and building of roads, bridges and culverts, and who shall perform such other duties as the board of supervisors may determine. Said engineer or engineers shall give bond for the faithful performance of their duties in a sum of not less than Two Thousand Dollars ($2000), or more than Five Thousand Dollars ($5000), to be fixed by the board of supervisors.

SEC. 12. Upon and under the direction of the board of supervisors, the engineer shall in writing divide said roads into sections, designating each section by some appropriate number, name or letter, and clearly designate the starting point and terminus of each such section, and such designation shall be recorded at length in the county road book, whereupon the engineer shall proceed to survey said roads and report to the board of supervisors the plan for the road, bridge, tile and culvert work thereon. Such survey and report shall be on the basis and with the object in view of the permanent improvement of said roads as to bridge, culvert, tile and road work. Said survey and report shall consist of an accurate plan and profile of said roads, showing cuts and fills and outline of grades, with careful attention to surface, and lateral drainage and sub-drainage, and shall show the location of all lines of tile and the size thereof, and of all bridges and culverts, their length, height and width, and foundation soundings, and an estimate of the watershed relating to each bridge and culvert.

SEC. 13. After said survey and plan for each section has been approved and filed by the board of supervisors, the county auditor shall record same at length in the county road book, and the board of supervisors shall thereupon proceed with the construction of the road, tile, bridge and culvert work in accordance therewith.

The duty to construct and maintain all bridges and culverts throughout the county shall be imposed on the board of supervisors, with the exception of temporary culverts and repair work done upon the culverts of the township road system, which work shall be under the supervision of the township trustees, and the cost of which shall, when the work has been authorized by the board of supervisors, be paid for out of the county road fund when itemized bills therefor are certified to by one or more trustees.

Repair work shall be known as work of a temporary character, or of immediate necessity, and work necessary to maintain finished roads completed under this act.

SEC. 14. All permanent bridges having a clear span of less than sixteen (16) feet shall be classified as culverts and shall be so constructed as to carry a clear roadway of not less than twenty (20) feet in width.

All permanent bridges with a clear span of sixteen (16) feet or more shall be not less than sixteen feet in width. All culverts having a span of four (4) feet or less may be classified as road work and may be paid for out of the county road funds. All culverts having a span of over four (4) feet, and all bridges shall be paid for out of the county bridge fund.

All permanent grading shall provide for a roadway of not less than twenty-four feet in width.

SEC. 15. Standard plans and specifications for all permanent bridges and culverts shall be furnished without cost to the counties by the state engineer, and the work shall be done in accordance therewith and when said work is completed and approved, a duplicate statement of the cost thereof shall be filed with the state highway engineer by the county auditor. All culverts and bridge construction, tile and tiling and repair work, or materials therefor, of which the engineer or supervisors' estimated cost shall be One Thousand Dollars ($1000) or less, may be advertised and let at the public letting, or may be let privately at a cost not to exceed the engineer's or supervisors' estimated cost, or may be built by day labor.

All culverts and bridge construction, tile and tiling, and repair work on materials therefor, of which the engineer's or supervisors' estimated cost shall exceed One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) shall be advertised and let at a public letting, provided that the board shall have the power to reject any or all bids, in which event they may re-advertise. All bids received shall be opened at the time and place specified in the advertisement and shall be recorded in detail in a book kept for that purpose by the county auditor, which book shall at all times be open to the public for inspection. Before beginning the construction of any bridge or culvert by day labor or contract, the plans, specifications, estimate of drainage area, estimates of cost and their specific location shall be filed in the county auditor's office by the engineer or board of supervisors. On completion a detailed statement of cost and of any additions or alterations to the plans shall be added to the above records by the engineer or board of supervisors, all of which shall be retained in the county auditor's office as permanent records, and when said work is completed and approved a duplicate statement of the cost thereof shall be filed at once with the state highway engineer by the county auditor.

Sec. 16. All bills for road work, tile and tiling, culvert and bridge construction, or for repairs, made or done under the supervision of the engineer, shall be filed in itemized form and certified to by the engineer before being allowed by the board, and before warrants in payment therefor are drawn by the county auditor.

Before any warrant shall be issued by the county auditor upon the county road fund in payment for any grading or construction of highways, or culverts made under the supervision of the engineer, the person to whom the money is due must secure on his bill a certificate of the county engineer, that such improvement has been made in accordance with the plans and specifications approved by the board of supervisors, and when so endorsed and allowed by the board of supervisors warrants may be drawn for the amount so certified by the county engineer, but if said engineer makes said certificate when said work has not been done in accordance with the plans and specifications and the same be not properly made good without additional cost then the full cost of making good may be recovered upon said engineer's bond.

Partial payment may be allowed on contract work not to exceed sixty per cent (60%) of the work actually done.

Sec. 17. All moneys, except the bridge fund, received by the board of supervisors for road purposes shall be paid out only on the order of said board for the purchase of tools, machinery, and equipment, or for work done upon the county road system, or for tile or tiling or for culverts, classified as road work as herein provided. All moneys received by the township trustees for road purposes shall be expended for and upon the township road system.

Sec. 18. At the February meeting or as soon thereafter as possible, the township trustees of each township shall select from its township road system, the roads to be dragged for the year, to be known as draggable roads, and shall employ a superintendent or superintendents of the township road system, who shall give bond for the faithful performance of his duties in such sum as the township trustees may direct. Such superintendent or superintendents shall have the general supervision of all dragging and repair work on the township road system, whose term of office and compensation shall be at the discretion of the township trustees. He shall see that the approaches to all the bridges on the said roads are maintained in such manner as to present smooth and uniform surfaces; keep the openings to all culverts and ditches free from weeds, brush and other material that will in any manner prevent the free discharge of surface water.

He shall have charge of all draggable roads of the township road system and make contracts for dragging, and shall see that all draggable roads of the township road system are properly dragged at such times as are necessary to maintain such roads in a smooth condition, at such price as is reasonable and necessary to secure such contracts. For this purpose there shall be expended, under the direction of the township trustees, through the road superintendent or superintendents, upon the township road system not less than one mill drag tax now authorized by law. The township trustees shall not allow any bills for dragging, maintenance, or repair work, nor shall warrants in payment therefor be drawn by the township clerk upon funds of the township road system until itemized bills therefor shall have been certified to by the township road superintendent or superintendents. A violation of this section shall render the township clerk liable on his bond for the amount of said warrant. The compensation of such superintendent or superintendents for all duties, including any dragging actually performed by him or them, and the cost of all equipment for dragging, shall be paid for out of the township road funds. Each superintendent shall at least once a year, or on demand, furnish the township trustees a report of all work done under and by them.

SEC. 19. Before beginning any work upon the township road system, other than hereinbefore described as repair work, the trustees shall make application to the board of supervisors, who may furnish them with an engineer to be paid out of the county fund, who shall survey and lay off such roads according to plans and specifications approved by the board of supervisors, and the work shall be done in accordance therewith. The county board of supervisors are charged with the duty of repairing and dragging the county road system as is required to keep the same in proper condition, and shall adopt such methods as are necessary to maintain continuously, in the best condition practicable, the entire mileage of this system.

SEC. 20. No state engineer or assistant, or any other person in the employ of the state engineer, supervisor, township trustees, county engineer, road superintendent, or any person in their employ or one holding an appointment under them, shall be either, directly or indirectly, interested in any contract for the construction or building of any bridge or bridges, culvert or culverts or any improvement of any road or parts of road coming under the provision of this act.

SEC. 21. Not later than the first Monday in November, or at any time upon the demand of the township trustees, the township clerk shall report the work accomplished on the township road system in his township, and said township trustee shall, as nearly as practicable, recommend what is to be done upon the township road system for the succeeding year. A duplicate report of the work accomplished shall be filed by the clerk with the county auditor; and the county board as nearly as practicable, shall credit the same on the township road system of the county map.

It also shall be the duty of the board of supervisors to cause to be made a written report of the work accomplished upon the roads for the current year, which report shall show what roads of the county and township system have been completed or partially completed, and credit to such roads shall be shown upon the county road plan not later than January 1st, and a copy of said report shall be immediately forwarded to the state highway engineer upon standard printed forms.

All forms and blanks necessary to secure uniformity of records and reports in the systems herein provided, shall be furnished by the state highway engineer.

SEC. 22. County and township boards, charged with the duty of improving public highways, shall have power to remove all obstruction in the highways under their jurisdiction, for fences and poles used for telephone, telegraph or other transmission purposes, shall not be removed until notice, in writing, of not less than ten (10) days has been given to the owner, occupant, or agent of the land enclosed in part of such fence or to the owner or company operating such lines. The notice to any owner or operator of any such telephone, telegraph or transmission line may be served on any agent or officer of such line, and all such fences and poles shall, within the time designated, be removed to such line on the highway, as designated by the board of supervisors, and if not removed by the date fixed in such notice, same may be forthwith removed by the proper officials.

Any new lines, or part of lines hereinafter constructed, shall be located by the board of supervisors, and shall be removable according to the provisions of this section.

The notice of removal may designate to which side of the highway the said poles shall be removed. Any removal made in compliance with this section shall be at the expense of the owners thereof, without liability on the part of any officer ordering or effecting the removal.

SEC. 23. The board of supervisors shall require all contractors to give a bond for the faithful performance of the contract, in such sum as the board of supervisors may deem necessary.

The surety on any bond given to guarantee the faithful performance and execution of any work shall be deemed and held, any contract to the contrary notwithstanding, to consent without notice:

a. To any extension of time to the contractor in which to perform the contract when each particular extension does not exceed sixty (60) days.

b. To any change in the plans, specifications or contract when such change does not involve an increase of more than twenty per cent (20%) of the total contract price, and shall then be released only as to such excess increase.

No contract shall be valid which seeks to limit the time to less than five (5) years in which an action may be brought upon the bond covering concrete work nor to less than one (1) year upon the bond covering other work.

SEC. 24. The board of supervisors shall levy for grading and building of roads not more than two (2) mills on the dollar to be known as the road building fund, but such tax shall not be assessable within the limits of any city or incorporated town. None of such road tax shall be used in the grading or building of any roads within the limits of such cities or town.

SEC. 25. Any association organized to promote the improvement of any continuous highway not less than twenty-five miles in length may, by making application to the state highway engineer, register in the office of said engineer the name, detailed route, color combination and design used in marking said route. The highway engineer shall have power to determine priority of right in the use of said name, color combination and designs.

SEC. 26. The application shall be in the form prescribed by the engineer upon blanks furnished by him, and shall be properly acknowledged by the president and secretary of the association before a notary. Said application shall be accompanied by a registration fee of five dollars ($5.00), which fee shall be returned to the association if the application be not granted.

SEC. 27. If the state highway engineer shall, after investigation, adjudge the application meritorious and the route to be worthy of the protection of this act, he shall issue to the association a certificate which shall designate in detail the name, the starting and the terminal points, the color combination and designs used in marking the route; all of which facts shall be recorded as a part of the permanent records of the engineer in a book kept for that purpose.

SEC. 28. It shall be unlawful for any person or association of persons to use for similar purposes the name, any recorded color combination and designs herein referred to.

SEC. 29. Any person who shall injure or deface any signboard, design or other markings designating routes, shall be subject to the provisions of section forty-eight hundred and one of the code.

SEC. 30. When any such highway association ceases to exist or when the interest in the route, name and markings has ceased, the state highway engineer may, after proper investigation, cancel the records and registration herein referred to and reassign the name, color combination, designs or other markings to any association making application for their use.

SEC. 31. All fees received by the state highway engineer under this act shall be turned into the state treasury.

SEC. 32. Any person or officer of any association violating any of the provisions of Sections 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30 or 31 of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

SEC. 33. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

SEC. 34. This act, being deemed of immediate importance shall take effect and be in force from and after its publication in the Des Moines News and the Des Moines Capital, newspapers published at Des Moines, Iowa.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

I cannot vote for the substitute, known as the Johnston road bill, for the following reason:

"While it contains certain features that I favor, particularly Sections 2 and 3 that provide for a State Highway Engineer, under bond and with his office located at Des Moines, I cannot agree to the plan to give him only limited supervisory power. He should be given some real power and control if we are ever to have connected, systematic and effective building of good roads in Iowa. The vast sums that tax payers of this state are paying annually for road building should not be left entirely to ninety-nine boards of county supervisors working independently and with almost as may different plans. It would be too much like a great railway corporation leaving the building and maintenance of its trackage to each section force operating independently of the other. If the present road law could be substantially amended, making its administration less expensive and autocratic, and substitute the State Highway Engineer for the present State Highway Commission in the administration of the law, substantially as proposed in Sections 2 and 3, of House File No. 282, would in my judgment be wise and progressive road legislation by this General Assembly.

That an ash conveyor for boiler room be supplied, and proper connections with stoker and dynamo be made:

That a cistern be installed in the boiler room:

That the brick arches over the library in east attic be concreted:

That cement walks around the state house be repaired:

The pedestals at the entrance of the Historical Building have been greatly injured by the effects of water freezing and thawing, which has caused them to crumble, and we recommend that they be replaced by granite, and that the steps to the Historical Building be given a slight slope toward the street, so that water will run away from the building:

We recommend that the waste space in the attic of the Historical Building be lighted and ventilated for storage purposes:

That the walls of said building now covered with burlap or water color be finished with oil paint:

That appropriate signs and labels be furnished in the Historical Building:

That individual lockers for the keeping of work clothes, tools and other belongings of employees be furnished in the Historical Building:

That some provision be made for the delivery of ice for use in the Historical Building be made outside of the building:

That the elevator landing in the Historical Building be changed so that it will be on the street level:

We recommend that the Curator of the Historical Building be directed to enforce rules against smoking and use of matches by employes and the public, in said building:

The custodian has suggested to the committee that repairs be made on certain buildings now occupied by some of the departments and that a new building is necessary.

Your committee recommends that these departments (insofar as it may be necessary to maintain them outside of the capitol building) be removed to buildings now in good repair, and belonging to the State, and that the executive council arrange for such removals:

Your committee recommends that the executive council take steps to make changes in the room now used as a post office, the room immediately north of said room, room 29 now occupied by the oil inspector and room 28 adjacent thereto, such changes to be such as to render them fit for occupancy by different departments, and that different department now outside of the capitol building be assigned to these rooms or parts of rooms as may be needed:

That balconies be arranged in said rooms, so that clerks and stenographers may use such balconies, and thereby save valuable space and do away with the necessity of so many departments being housed outside of the capitol building.

We also recommend that the Horticultural Department and belongings be moved to the room now occupied by the Agricultural Department, and the room now occupied by the Horticultural Department, the room occupied by the custodian and the room known as the treasurer's room, now being used very little, together with the fire proof vault, be so arranged by the executive council as to provide for their use by departments now outside the capitol building, or by some department or departments now within the capitol building: Or that some departments now within the capitol building be removed to said rooms and that the quarters now occupied by such department or departments be given over to departments now outside the capitol building:

We suggest that more attention be given to the placing of departments in the capitol building, so that as little room as is reasonably necessary shall be used by each department. The space within the capitol building now being in demand, and same being very valuable, and the expense of maintaining departments outside of the building too large to warrant any waste of space within the building. We recommend that the executive council arrange for temporary post office fixtures to be placed in the southwest corner of the corridor leading toward the law library for use of future General Assemblies, such fixtures to be readily removable, so that they may be stored in some unused part of the building between sessions of the General Assembly:

We suggest that the Thirty-seventh General Assembly, at an early date, take up the readjustment and rearrangement of the quarters of the departments within the capitol building, and make such laws and rules as shall be necessary to give a reasonable use of all valuable space within said building:

We further recommend that the rooms and chambers of the Governor be given special attention and be kept in good repair, and that the walls and wood work be at all times kept in the most presentable condition, and to that end, we recommend that a liberal use of the funds for repairs in the hands of the executive council be made for that purpose:

The exact amount required for each of the changes and repairs above referred to is impossible to fix. There are certain funds in the hands of the executive council remaining from the appropriation made under subsection 23, Section 3, Chapter 192, acts of the Thirty-fourth General Assembly that will meet a part of the expense of the repairs and improvements herein suggested, and we recommend that an appropriation be made by this General Assembly for the purpose of carrying out the above recommendations, which shall be in addition to the amount at the disposal of the executive council, in the sum of $11,800.00.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

Land is valued for assessment at 50% or less of its sale value, and pays taxes on one quarter of the assessed value.

The land may be mortgaged for 50% of its value and the mortgage is released from taxation.

The owner can use the 50% cash for foreign loans at a higher interest, and obtain one or two per cent profit.

The owner can rent his land, and the tenant will have to pay him the highest rate of interest, and will have to pay tax on his full valuation on personal property. Hence, this is the landlords' bill.

ROBERT QUIGLEY.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

I desire to explain my vote on House File No. 351, by Ring and Thomas, by saying that I am opposed to the creation of any more offices, commissions or departments in our state government than are absolutely necessary. House File No. 351 calls for the appointment of clerks and deputies to an unknown degree. The bill also, in my judgment, is likely to interfere with the organization and promotion of legitimate enterprises in this state.

G. L. CASWELL.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the General Assembly of the States of Iowa, the House Concurring :

WHEREAS, The glory and prosperity of Iowa has rested not alone in her wonderful farms, but also in her prosperous and beautiful cities and towns as well, and the prosperity of her entire citizenship requires a symmetrical development of both farm and city, for the injury of either is sure to bring a loss and depreciation to the other and a decline in the population of the state; and

WHEREAS, The rates of the parcels post are so low for excessive distances and the charge for shipment is in such unjust and unfair proportion to the haul that neither the government nor the railroads are receiving sufficient compensation to cover cost of service rendered, and a large amount of trade that legitimately belongs to the inhabitants of the State of Iowa is being diverted to the great cities of the land in distant states. This policy is depriving thousands of our best and brightest young men and women of their birthright by forcing them to emigrate from the state in order that they may have a chance in the world; and

WHEREAS, These great concerns in distant cities do not contribute in any way to the revenues of the State of Iowa, nor do they in any way assist in the education of the youth of our state. They build no roads or bridges and bear none of our many burdens incident to the development of Iowa; and

WHEREAS, They are waxing fat upon the trade they take from our state and are fast developing into great monopolies that bid fair to equal if not excel in size the greatest manufacturing concerns in the land; and

WHEREAS, It is the policy of Iowa to provide work and opportunity for all its children, and we believe the Federal Government, of which we are a part, should not tax the people to reimburse losses in the parcels post service when these losses are incurred in establishing great monopolies that are fast sapping the life of our cities and towns, and depriving our children of a place and opportunity in their own community; and

WHEREAS, Thousands of Iowa's citizens have petitioned the General Assembly of the State of Iowa to memorialize the Postmaster General and the Congress of the United States to limit the weight of the parcels post package to a maximum of forty pounds and make such readjustment in the postal rates as will eventually make each class self-supporting.

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the Senate of the General Assembly of the State of Iowa, the House Concurring;

That the Postmaster General and the Congress of the United States be, and they are hereby requested and petitioned to reduce the weight of the parcels post package to a maximum of forty pounds and make such readjustment in our postal rates and zones as will eventually make each class self-supporting, to the end that justice may be done as between all of the citizens of the United States, and that the unjust discrimination that now exists against the state of Iowa may be removed.

SECTION 1. That every company owning or operating a transmission line or lines for the conduct of electric energy and which line or lines are located within the state, and which said line or lines are also located wholly or partly outside cities and towns, shall on or before the first day of May of each year, furnish to the Executive Council of the state of Iowa a verified statement as to its entire line or lines within this state, when all of said line or lines are located outside cities and towns, and as to such portion of its line or lines within this state as are located partly outside cities and towns, when such line or lines are located partly outside and partly inside cities and towns, showing:

1st. The total number of miles of line owned, operated or leased, located outside cities and towns within this state, with a separate showing the number of miles leased:

2d. The location and length of each division within the state and character of poles, towers, wires, substation equipment and other construction of each such division, designating the length and portion thereof in each separate county into which each such division extends.

SECTION 2. Upon receipt of said statements from the several companies, the Executive Council shall examine such statements, and if it shall deem same insufficient, and that further information is requisite, it shall require the company making same to make such other or further statement as it may desire, notifying such company thereof by registered mail. In case of the total failure or refusal to make any statement required by this act to be made by May first in any year, or of failure or refusal to make such other or further statement within thirty (30) days from the time the registered notice thereof is received by said company that the same is required by the Executive Council, such company shall forfeit and pay to the state of Iowa, one hundred dollars ($100.) for each day the total failure or refusal to make any report is continued beyond the said first day of May of the year in which it is required, or in case of any such other or further report required by SECTION 3. The Executive Council shall, at its meeting on the second Monday in July of each year, proceed to find the actual value of that part of such transmission line or lines referred to in section one (1) of this act, owned or operated by any company, that are located within this state but outside cities and towns, including the whole of such line or lines when all of such line or lines owned or operated by said company are located wholly outside cities and towns; taking into consideration the information obtained from the statements required by or under this act, and any further information they can obtain, using the same as a means of determining the actual cash value of such transmission line or lines or parts thereof, within this state, located outside cities and towns. The Executive Council shall then ascertain the value per mile of such transmission line or lines owned or operated by each company specified in Section One (1) of this act by dividing the total value as above ascertained by the number of miles of line of such company within the state located outside cities and towns, and the result shall be deemed and held to be the actual value per mile of said transmission line or lines of each said company within the state located outside of cities and towns. The taxable value of such line or lines of which said Executive Council by this act are required to find the value, shall be determined by taking the percentage of the actual value so ascertained, as provided by Section Thirteen Hundred Five (1305) of the Code, as amended, and the ratio between the actual value and the assessed or taxable value of the transmission line or lines of each of said companies located outside of cities and towns shall be the same as in the case of the property of private individuals. At said meeting in July, any company interested shall have the right to appear by its officers, agents and attorneys before the Executive Council, and be heard on the question of the value of its property for taxation.

SECTION 4. The Executive Council shall, for the purpose of determining what amount shall be assessed to any one of said companies in each county of the state into which the line or lines of the company extend, multiply the assessed or taxable value per mile of line of said company, as ascertained according to the provisions of this act, by the number of miles of line in each of said counties, and the result thereof shall be by said council certified to the several county auditors of the respective counties into, over or through which said line or lines extend.

SECTION 5. At the first meeting of the board of supervisors held after said statements is received by the county auditor, it shall cause such statement to be entered in its minute book and make and enter therein an order stating the length of the lines and the assessed value of the property of each of said companies situated in each township or lesser taxing district in each county outside cities and towns, as fixed by the Executive Council, which shall constitute the taxable value of said property for taxing purposes. The county auditor shall transmit a copy of said order to the trustees of each township and to the proper taxing boards in lesser taxing districts into which the line or lines of said company extend in the county. The taxes on said property when collected by the county treasurer shall be disposed of as other taxes on real estate.

SECTION 6. Such portions of the transmission line or lines within the state referred to in Section One (1) hereof, as are located outside cities and towns, shall be taxable upon said assessment provided for by this act at the same rate, by the same officers and for the same purposes as property of individuals within such counties, townships or lesser taxing districts, outside cities and towns, and the county treasurer shall collect said taxes at the same time and in the same manner as other taxes, and the same penalties shall be due and collectable as for the nonpayment of individual taxes.

SECTION 7. Every transmission line or part thereof, of which the Executive Council is required by this act to find the value, shall be exempt from other assessment or taxation either under Section Thirteen Hundred Forty-three (1343) of the Code, or under any other law of this state except as provided in this act. Provided that all lands, buildings, machinery, poles, towers, wires, station and substation equipment and other construction owned or operated by any company referred to in Section One (1) of this act, and which such property is located within any city or town within this state shall be listed and assessed for taxation in the same manner as provided in Section Thirteen Hundred Forty-three (1343) of the Code, for the listing and assessments of that part of the lands, buildings, machinery, tracks, poles and wires within the limits of any city or town belonging to individuals or corporations furnishing electric light or power, and whose such property, except the capital stock, is situated partly within and partly without the limits of a city or town. All personal property of every company owning or operating any such transmission line referred to in Section One (1) of this act, used or purchased by it for the purpose of such transmission line shall be listed and assessed in the assessment district where usually kept and housed and under said Section Thirteen Hundred Forty-three (1343) of the Code.

SECTION 8. It was my duty and honor to serve her as a soldier but I hope neither this generation nor any other may be called upon to take up arms in behalf of our country or state; but should the call come, I know Iowa will answer if necessary to its last citizen with great gratitude and respect.

I move to amend Senate File No. 610, by striking out all after the enacting clause, and substituting the following in lieu thereof:

SECTION 1. That every company owning or operating a transmission line or lines for the conduct of electric energy and which line or lines are located within the state, and which said line or lines are also located wholly or partly outside cities and towns, shall on or before the first day of May of each year, furnish to the Executive Council of the state of Iowa a verified statement as to its entire line or lines within this state, when all of said line or lines are located outside cities and towns, and as to such portion of its line or lines within this state as are located partly outside cities and towns, when such line or lines are located partly outside and partly inside cities and towns, showing:

1st. The total number of miles of line owned, operated or leased, located outside cities and towns within this state, with a separate showing the number of miles leased:

2d. The location and length of each division within the state and character of poles, towers, wires, substation equipment and other construction of each such division, designating the length and portion thereof in each separate county into which each such division extends.

SECTION 2. Upon receipt of said statements from the several companies, the Executive Council shall examine such statements, and if it shall deem same insufficient, and that further information is requisite, it shall require the company making same to make such other or further statement as it may desire, notifying such company thereof by registered mail. In case of the total failure or refusal to make any statement required by this act to be made by May first in any year, or of failure or refusal to make such other or further statement within thirty (30) days from the time the registered notice thereof is received by said company that the same is required by the Executive Council, such company shall forfeit and pay to the state of Iowa, one hundred dollars ($100) for each day the total failure or refusal to make any report is continued beyond the said first day of May of the year in which it is required, or in case of any such other or further report required by the Executive Council for each day the same is delayed beyond thirty (30) days from the receipt of the notice by said company that same is required, such forfeiture to be sued for and recovered in any proper form of action in the name of the state and on relation of the Executive Council of the state of Iowa, and such penalty when collected, shall be paid into the general fund.

SECTION 3. The Executive Council shall, at its meeting on the second Monday in July of each year, proceed to find the actual value of that part of such transmission line or lines referred to in section one (1) of this act, owned or operated by any company, that are located within this state but outside cities and towns, including the whole of such line or lines when all of such line or lines owned or operated by said company are located wholly outside cities and towns; taking into consideration the information obtained from the statements required by or under this act, and any further information they can obtain, using the same as a means of determining the actual cash value of such transmission line or lines or parts thereof, within this state, located outside cities and towns. The Executive Council shall then ascertain the value per mile of such transmission line or lines owned or operated by each company specified in Section One (1) of this act by dividing the total value as above ascertained by the number of miles of line of such company within the state located outside cities and towns, and the result shall be deemed and held to be the actual value per mile of said transmission line or lines of each said company within the state located outside of cities and towns. The taxable value of such line or lines of which said Executive Council by this act are required to find the value, shall be determined by taking the percentage of the actual value so ascertained, as provided by Section Thirteen Hundred Five (1305) of the Code, as amended, and the ratio between the actual value and the assessed or taxable value of the transmission line or lines of each of said companies located outside of cities and towns shall be the same as in the case of the property of private individuals. At said meeting in July, any company interested shall have the right to appear by its officers, agents and attorneys before the Executive Council, and be heard on the question of the value of its property for taxation.

SECTION 4. The Executive Council shall, for the purposes of determining what amount shall be assessed to any one of said companies in each county of the state into which the line or lines of the company extend, multiply the assessed or taxable value per mile of line of said company, as ascertained according to the provisions of this act, by the number of miles of line in each of said counties, and the result thereof shall be by said council certified to the several county auditors of the respective counties into, over or through which said line or lines extend.

SECTION 5. At the first meeting of the board of supervisors held after said statements is received by the county auditor, it shall cause such statement to be entered in its minute book and make and enter therein an order stating the length of the lines and the assessed value of the property of each of said companies situated in each township or lesser taxing district in each county outside cities and towns, as fixed by the Executive Council, which shall constitute the taxable value of said property for taxing purposes. The county auditor shall transmit a copy of said order to the trustees of each township and to the proper taxing boards in lesser taxing districts into which the line or lines of said company extend in the county. The taxes on said property when collected by the county treasurer shall be disposed of as other taxes on real estate.

SECTION 6. Such portions of the transmission line or lines within the state referred to in Section One (1) hereof, as are located outside cities and towns, shall be taxable upon said assessment provided for by this act at the same rate, by the same officers and for the same purposes as property of individuals within such counties, townships or lesser taxing districts, outside cities and towns, and the county treasurer shall collect said taxes at the same time and in the same manner as other taxes, and the same penalties shall be due and collectable as for the nonpayment of individual taxes.

SECTION 7. Every transmission line or part thereof, of which the Executive Council is required by this act to find the value, shall be exempt from other assessment or taxation either under Section Thirteen Hundred Forty-three (1343) of the Code, or under any other law of this state except as provided in this act. Provided that all lands, buildings, machinery, poles, towers, wires, station and substation equipment and other construction owned or operated by any company referred to in Section One (1) of this act, and which such property is located within any city or town within this state shall be listed and assessed for taxation in the same manner as provided in Section Thirteen Hundred Forty-three (1343) of the Code, for the listing and assessments of that part of the lands, buildings, machinery, tracks, poles and wires within the limits of any city or town belonging to individuals or corporations furnishing electric light or power, and whose such property, except the capital stock, is situated partly within and partly without the limits of a city or town. All personal property of every company owning or operating any such transmission line referred to in Section One (1) of this act, used or purchased by it for the purpose of such transmission line shall be listed and assessed in the assessment district where usually kept and housed and under said Section Thirteen Hundred Forty-three (1343) of the Code.

SECTION 8. The word "company" as used in this act, shall be deemed and construed to mean and include any person, copartnership, association, corporation or syndicate that shall own or operate a transmission line or lines for the conducting of electric energy located within the state and wholly or partly outside cities and towns, whether formed or organized under the laws of this state or elsewhere; and the verification of any statement required by this act or under the provisions thereof, shall, in the case of a person, be made by such person; in case of a corporation, by the President or Secretary thereof; and in the case of a copartnership, association or syndicate, by some member, officer, or agent thereof, having knowledge of the facts.

SECTION 9. The owner of the capital stock in any company owning or operating any transmission line or lines referred to in this act shall not be assessed for taxation upon such capital stock.

SECTION 10. The provisions of sections thirteen hundred thirty-h (1330-h) and thirteen hundred thirty-i (1330-i), supplement to the Code, 1913, shall apply to the property of transmission lines included in and referred to under section one (1) of this act.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

MR. PRESIDENT—In explanation of my vote "no" on Senate File 611, I desire to say, that in my opinion this measure while ostensibly and as claimed by the friends of the bill to be in favor of retrenchment and reform, fails materially in that respect, but will and can have no other effect than to enable the majority party to exclude the minority party from the benefit and need of clerical assistance for the purpose of and to enable each senator to expeditiously care for the clerical work which become a part of the work in the performance of the duties incumbent upon each Senator.

Chairmanships are usually conferred upon members of the majority party and committee clerks assigned to each Chairman in the performance of the duty as such clerk for such committee. All of the time of such clerk will be taken up therewith, hence a member of the Senate, not a Chairman of a committee will be required to employ a clerk out of his own funds, therefore unfair and unjust.

JNO. T. CLARKSON.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO PANAMA-PACIFIC EXPOSITION COMMISSION.

Senator Doran offered the following resolution:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Whereas the "commission appointed by the Governor in April, 1913, with full power to conduct an exhibit for the State of Iowa at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, has at its disposal the sum of $7300 for the purpose of providing moving pictures for advertising purposes and no other"

And Whereas the aforesaid commission has unnecessarily gone out of this state to have the picture made, and are having made an advertising film which will advertise the individual business man who pays the sum of fifty cents per foot for it. Now if the man who buys an advertising space on this film pays for it, why should the State also pay for it when the private individual is advertised and not the State?

Therefore be it resolved by the Senate, the House concurring, that the aforesaid commission make a report of all moneys received for business men's advertising space on the aforesaid film together with the moneys of parties advertised and account to the legislature for the moneys received and paid out, to date, to the end that the legislature may have knowledge of what is being done by the aforesaid commission.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON RETRENCHMENT AND REFORM.

Senator Allen, from the committee on retrenchment and reform, filed the following report:

TO THE 36TH GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

The Committee on Retrenchment and Reform beg to submit the following report:

Chapter 19 of the acts of the 35th General Assembly being additional to Chapter 9, title 2 of the Code granted to the Joint Committee on Retrenchment & Reform authority and power to employ Expert Accountants and Efficiency Engineers to assist said Committee in performing its duty as prescribed by law. They were further authorized to institute such changes in the administration of public affairs as would promote efficiency and economy in administering the affairs of State in its various departments. There was appropriated by this act the sum of $10,000.00 or so much thereof as was necessary out of the general funds of the State not otherwise appropriated to meet the expenses contemplated by the Act.

Chapter 20 of the Acts of the 35th General Assembly amending section 181 of the Code provided for the enlargement of the Committee on Retrenchment & Reform by adding to said Committee two members from the House and two from the Senate from the minority party or parties as by the Act provided. The said Act further provided that said Committee should continue after the adjournment of the Legislature until the succeeding Legislature re-convened with the same powers as the Committee would have during the Session of the Legislature. It provided for the organization of the Committee, and for the payment of the actual expenses of the Members in attending meetings other than those held during the Legislative Session. It further provided that the expense account of the Members of the Committee should be audited by the Executive Council.

In Chapter 321 section 51, $600.00 was appropriated to the Committee on Retrenchment & Reform for clerical hire and assistance that might be necessary for the period ending Jan. 1, 1915, and in section 54 there was appropriated the sum of $10,000.00 per annum for extra clerical assistance in any of the departments of State that should be authorized by said Committee on Retrenchment & Reform to have additional assistance as provided in Joint Resolution Number 15.

By Joint Resolution number 9 of the Acts of the 35th General Assembly the said Committee was authorized and empowered to employ Expert Accountants and Efficiency Engineers to assist the Committee in the inquiry required by the Statute. The said Committee was further authorized and empowered to institute such changes in the administration of public affairs as would promote the efficient and economical administration of the affairs of the State in its various departments. Said resolution further appropriated sufficient funds with which to meet the expenses contemplated by the Resolution out of the general funds of the State not otherwise appropriated.

In pursuance with the authority granted by Chapter 19 and Joint Resolution number 9 the Committee employed the firm of Quail Parker & Co. of St. Paul, Certified Accountants, as per contract on file.

Said Engineers proceeded upon their work and submitted preliminary reports with reference to the organization of the Department of Agriculture, State Fair management, and the matter of issuing passes in connection with the State Fair Board.

The Committee on Retrenchment & Reform submitted their report which will be found on page 1646 and 1647 of the Senate Journal which was based on the report of the Efficiency Engineers dated March 25, 1913, and addressed to the Committee on Retrenchment & Reform. Said report to be found on pages 1649 to 1667 inclusive of the Senate Journal, 1913.

The report of the Efficiency Engineers with reference to the heating plant at the State House was filed under date of May 21, 1913, addressed to the Joint Committee on Retrenchment & Reform, which report will be found on file in the Secretary of State's office. On June 3, 1913, the said report was approved and referred to the Executive Council. The Committee met with the Executive Council and presented report on said date.

On June 4, 1913, a sub-committee composed of Klay and Miller was appointed to confer with the Executive Council, and to recommend the use of an addressograph in the Secretary of State's office. On the same date new form of application of registration of automobiles was prepared and recommended for use in the automobile department. The firm of Quail Parker & Co. were employed in this department for some time assisting in establishing more efficient methods. On August 27, 1913, the Committee recommended to the Executive Council the purchase of a photographic machine for use in the Secretary of State's office, which machine has been installed in the office of the Secretary of the Executive Council, for the use of the various departments of the State.

In addition to the specified reports and matters referred to herein the Committee had under consideration various requests for help, some of which were approved and a large number denied. Personal investigations by Members of the Committee with reference to the methods of bookkeeping etc. in the various departments, was also conducted.

On March 24, 1914, Quail Parker & Co. filed with the Committee their consolidated report which is on file in the office of the Secretary of State. The Committee is frank to say that this report was disappointing in that too much of the report was taken up with the plan for re-organization of the State's business. The Committee, however, wish to say that the firm of Quail Parker & Co. made many very valuable suggestions with reference to changes in the various offices and departments, and on the whole the State has profited very much by the investigations carried on as will be shown by the financial report and the schedule of savings as hereinafter set out.

The Committee on Retrenchment & Reform filed their preliminary report under date of Nov. 12, 1914, and filed the subsequent report under date of Feb. 20, 1915, which report will be found on page 443 to page 459 inclusive of the Senate Journal.

As a part of this report we, herewith, submit a financial statement setting forth the various funds under the control of the Committee, the disbursement of the same, and the balances on hand at this date. The said statement further sets out the total amount paid to the Members of the Committee for expenses, the sum so expended representing the total cost to the State for the services rendered by the said Committee.

The total amount of expense to the State for the expenses of Members of the Committee is the sum of $848.84, detailed statement of which can be found in the office of the Auditor of State.

With reference to the savings to the State we beg to submit, herewith, the following:

Amount saved by reason of changes made in steam, water and gas pipes at the Power Plant and Historical Building according to statement of W. R. Spry on file.....	$ 3,536.70
Saving in the Secretary of State's office by use of the addressograph according to W. S. Allen, Secretary.....	900.00
In addition to the direct saving above referred to we desire to call attention to the fact that from Jan. 1, 1913, to April 1, 1913, the automobile department registered 28,665 cars and collected $309,637.00, and that the office expense was $4,137.04, and that the work in the office was over 60 days behind: that from Jan. 1, 1914, to April 1, 1914, the automobile department registered 43,812 cars and collected $433,059.29 for first registrations, and collected the sum of $9,908.70 from cars that had failed to properly register during the year 1913, making a total amount collected or handled in the office $442,967.99 or $133,330.99 more than was handled the year before and the office expense was $3,175.12 or $961.92 less than the preceding period, and the work of the office was up to date. Using the three months in 1913 as a basis in comparison with the three months in 1914 this would represent a net saving to the State in the administration of this office in addition to the $900.00 referred to by Secretary Allen approximately	$ 4,888.46
That from Jan. 1, 1915, to April 1, 1915, the automobile department registered 73,051 cars and collected for first registrations $520,131.91, and from cars that had failed to properly register during the year 1914 the sum of $6,260.16, making a total amount collected or handled in the office $526,392.07 or $216,755.07 more than was handled in the year 1913, and the office expense was $3,109.28 or $1,027.76 less than the same period in 1913, and the work of the office was practically up to date. Using the three months in 1913 as a basis in comparison with the three months in 1915 this would represent a net saving to the State in the administration of this office in addition to the $900.00 referred to by Secretary Allen of approximately..	$13,228.38
The Committee does not claim full credit for this saving, but wishes to say that it was brought about by the cooperation and assistance from Mr. Williams who is the head of this Department. The Committee has recommended a change in the automobile law. If their recommendations are adopted there will follow a further saving to the State of more than $20,000.00 annually.....	20,000.00
On the three year basis in saving in expense of number plates, and the office expense will be reduced at least 50% resulting in a net saving of at least $5,000.00 annually	5,000.00

Amount saved the State in purchasing coal for Institutions under Board of Control under the B. T. U. system as returned by the Board of Control from July 1, 1914 to March 1, 1915 $15,570.97

Applying the same ratio to the coal purchased by the Educational Institutions where this system has been adopted in part the saving for the Educational Institutions would be approximately 6,000.00

This represents the saving from July 1, 1914 to April 1, 1915, over the year from July 1, 1913 to July 1, 1914. The institution at Ames also heated 3½ acres more space than before at no additional cost.

PRINTING AND BINDING.

Due from State Printer Henderson for leaded or price and a half matter for the year 1913 as per statement of F. H. Paul, State Accountant 932.31

Due from State Printer Henderson for leaded or price and a half matter overcharge for year 1914 as per statement of F. H. Paul, State Accountant 727.67

Estimated saving to the State by reason of changes in handling of printing and binding as recommended by the Committee, and also by reduction in the amount of help required in the office of the Secretary of State, annually... 32,000.00

Estimated saving to the State by reason of reduction in the number of employees to be employed by succeeding General Assemblies 12,500.00

Estimated saving by reason of cutting off passes to State Fair By abolishing the office of the Custodian $ 2,557.00
2,800.00

Estimated saving by deposit of funds from different Departments 1,505.21

Had the report of the Committee abolishing the Board of Parole been adopted there would have resulted a saving in per diem and travelling expenses annually 9,758.84

The remaining office expense and salaries amounting to $6,532.62 annually would be materially reduced.

Should the report of the Committee with reference to the Board of Health be adopted by this Legislature it will result in a saving to the State of approximately 5,000.00

There could be over $1,000.00 to $2,000.00 saved to the State in connection with the heating plant at the State House by installing cisterns so as to have soft water, and thus save the purchase of boiler compounds. Similar plans could be adopted in connection with the heating plants at other State Institutions which would result in a very material reduction in the expenses to the State.

The Committee desires to say that if the bill introduced by this Committee, Senate File No. 519 and House File No. 602, providing for the reorganization of the State's business had passed and become a law, a very much greater saving would have resulted to the State by the co-ordination and consolidation of Departments.

In conclusion the Committee desires to say that one of the best results of its work, and especially of the work of the Efficiency Engineers working under directions, is the promotion of a better spirit in the heads, as well as the Employees, of all Departments. Those directing the State's various activities are now demanding a day's work for a day's pay, and there have been various incidental savings which, though small in themselves, amount to considerable in the aggregate. Referring to the general spirit of the employees since their work has been under review, one of the veteran State Officers declares, that never within his recollection has so effective and efficient service been given as during the past two years.

Respectfully submitted,

J. H. ALLEN,

Chairman Retrenchment and Reform Committee.

"The survey and report of each section, as soon as completed and approved by the board of supervisors, shall be submitted to the state highway commission, and the board of supervisors may designate to the said commission what sections, in their estimation, should be first passed upon by said state highway commission. The said commission is hereby charged with the duty of passing upon such reports and plans, and in so doing, shall take into consideration the thoroughness, feasibility and practicability of such plans, and may approve or modify the same. After such survey and plan for each section is passed upon by the state highway commission, they shall be returned to the county auditor with full and explicit directions as to modifications, if there be any. The county auditor shall, upon receipt of the approved and modified survey and plans, record the same at length in a county road book, and the board of supervisors shall thereupon proceed to the construction of the road, bridge, tile and culvert work in accordance therewith, and as herein provided. The duty to construct and maintain all bridges and culverts throughout the county is imposed upon the board of supervisors. Said culverts to be purchased by the board of supervisors and paid for out of the county bridge fund and shall not exceed in size thirty-six (36) inches in diameter, or its equivalent. Immediately upon the completion by the board of supervisors of any bridge or culvert situated upon the township road system, or the installation of a temporary culvert furnished to the township by the board of supervisors, it shall be the duty of the township trustees to properly fill over with dirt all such culverts and fill in and uniformly grade the approaches to all such bridges. Should the trustees fail for a period of two weeks after notification to make such fill, or fail to fill in and grade over such culvert, as herein provided, the board of supervisors shall proceed to do so, and the engineer shall report the actual cost of so doing and such amount, not exceeding one hundred fifty dollars ($150.00), for any such bridge or culvert, shall be certified by the board of supervisors to the county treasurer who shall transfer said amount to the county road cash fund from the first collection of road funds belonging to said township.

The county road fund, the county road building fund, the county drainage fund, and all other moneys received by the board of supervisors for road purposes, except as otherwise provided, shall be placed in the county road cash fund, and shall be paid out only on order of the said board of supervisors for the purchase of tools, machinery and equipment, or for tile and tiling, or for filling on culverts and bridge approaches as herein provided, or for work done on the county road system, or for the elimination of dangers at railroad crossings on both county and township roads, at the discretion of the board of supervisors on an adjustment of such dangerous conditions by negotiations between the railroad and the board of supervisors, or upon an order and finding of the railroad commission. "Whenever all the roads of the county road system have been improved according to the plans herein provided, the board of supervisors shall add such roads from the township road system as have been improved by the township in accordance with the general plans and specifications furnished by the engineer and in accordance with the requirements of this act, and if the township roads so improved be not sufficient to use all county funds available for that purpose, the board of supervisors may select additional county roads, but no increase shall be made in the mileage of the county road system until that system is completed, except that the board of supervisors may at any time add such roads from the township road system as will materially shorten the direct lines of travel between market towns. In all cases of additions the same proceedings shall be followed in all regards as herein provided for the original selection and improvement of county roads."

SEC. 8. That section fifteen hundred twenty-seven-s-eleven (1527-s11), supplement to the code, 1913, be repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

All culvert and bridge construction, tile and tiling and repair work, or materials therefor of which the engineer's estimated cost shall exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) shall be advertised and let at a public letting, provided, that the board shall have the power to reject all bids, in which event they may readvertise, or let privately by submitting contract to the state highway commission for approval, or build by day labor, at a cost not to exceed the lowest bid received. All bids received shall be publicly opened, at the time and place specified in the advertisement, and shall be recorded in detail, in a book kept for that purpose, by the county auditor; said book shall at all times be open to the public for inspection. Any proposed contract which shall exceed the sum of two thousand dollars ($2,000.00) for any one bridge or culvert, or repairs thereon, shall be first approved by the state highway commission before the same shall be effective as a contract. Before beginning the construction of any permanent bridge or culvert by day labor or by contract, the plans, specifications, estimate of drainage area, estimate of cost and their specific location shall be filed in the county auditor's office by the engineer. On completion, a detailed statement of cost, and of any additions or alterations to the plans shall be added to the above records by the engineer, all of which shall be retained in the county auditor's office as permanent records, and when said work is completed and approved, a duplicate statement of the cost thereof shall be filed at once with the state highway commission by the county auditor. The board of supervisors may authorize the county auditor to draw warrants for the amount of pay rolls for labor furnished under the day labor system, when said pay rolls are certified to by the engineer in charge of the work. Said superintendent or superintendents shall have general supervision of all dragging and repair work on the township road system, including the placing of temporary culverts, and the term of office and compensation of such superintendent or superintendents shall be at the discretion of the township trustees. The superintendent shall see that the approaches to all bridges on the said roads are maintained in such manner as to present smooth and uniform surfaces, and keep the openings to all culverts and ditches free from weeds, brush and other material that will in any manner prevent the free discharge of surface water. He shall have charge of all draggable roads of the township road system and make contracts for dragging, and shall see that all draggable roads of the township road system are properly dragged at such times as are necessary to maintain such roads in smooth condition, at such price as is reasonable and necessary to secure such contracts, to be fixed by the township trustees. For this purpose there shall be expended, under the direction of the township trustees, through the road superintendent, upon the township road system not less than the one (1) mill drag tax now authorized by law. The township trustees shall not allow any bills for dragging, maintenance, or repair work, nor shall warrants in payment therefor be drawn by the township clerk upon funds of the township road system until itemized bills therefor have been certified to by the township road superintendent. A violation of this section shall render the township clerk liable on his bond for the amount of said warrant. The compensation of such superintendent for all duties including any dragging actually performed by him, and the cost of all equipment for dragging, shall be paid for out of the township road funds. "Not later than the first day of January, or at any time upon the demand of the township trustees, the township clerk shall report the work accomplished on the township road system in his township, including number of culverts installed, location thereof and the number and size of culverts on hand and not installed. Said township trustees shall, as nearly as practicable, recommend what is to be done upon the township road system for the succeeding year, and shall also prepare a list of the culverts and bridges which in their judgment should be constructed by the board of supervisors in their township during the succeeding year, giving the proposed location of such culverts, the material of which such culverts should be constructed, and the approximate size of same, together with any and all recommendations concerning such culverts as the board of township trustees see fit to give, which list, report and recommendation shall be filed on or before the first day of

When such apportionment has been made the state treasurer shall forthwith remit to the county treasurers of the several counties of the state the amount of money so apportioned to the respective counties, and the county treasurer of each county immediately upon receipt of such money shall charge himself therewith and forthwith give notice to the county auditor of the amount of money so received. The county treasurer shall pay into the treasury of the cities and incorporated towns in such county a portion of said motor vehicle fund to be determined as follows: Each city or incorporated town shall receive a share to be determined by the ratio of miles of unpaved streets within the limits of said city or incorporated town to the total number of miles of public roads and unpaved streets within the county; provided, however, that in no case shall the aggregate amount apportioned to the various cities and towns exceed ten (10) per cent. of the total amount apportioned to the county. And such apportionment to cities and towns shall be expended by them only for the purpose of improving the unpaved streets and roads connecting directly with the county or township road systems, or by order of the city or town council or commission the apportionment may be transferred to the county road cash fund and be expended on the county road system. For the purpose of making such apportionment the city or town clerk shall file in the office of the county treasurer ten days before the date of the apportionment from the state treasurer a certified statement of the number of miles of unpaved streets within such city or town, and the county auditor shall make a like statement of the number of miles of highway in such county outside the limits of cities and incorporated towns. The treasurer of each city or town shall charge himself with the sum received from said apportionment and shall forthwith give notice to the city or town auditor or clerk of the amount of money so received. The total amount of funds so received by the county treasurer, less the amount apportioned to the various cities and towns, as herein provided, shall constitute the county motor vehicle road fund and shall be expended for the following purposes only: the crowning, drainage, dragging or gravelling of public highways outside the limits of cities and towns, and for the building of permanent culverts on such highways. July first, nineteen hundred fifteen, pursuant to the provisions of this act, shall be set aside and shall constitute a maintenance fund for the state highway commission. Said five (5) per cent. shall be used for no other purpose than as a maintenance fund for said state highway commission, and shall be drawn out only on warrants drawn by the auditor of state on itemized vouchers approved by the state highway commission, the expenditures of which commission shall be audited by the executive council, and a full and complete report of all said expenditures shall be published in the annual report under the act creating the state highway commission. At the end of each biennial period the funds remaining in the highway maintenance fund shall be placed to the credit of the general fund."

Report of the committee on retrenchment and reform:

TO THE THIRTY-SIXTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

After long, careful and painstaking investigation of the problems of state printing and binding, the committee reaches the conclusion that the chief source of loss and extravagance to the state is not in the price paid for printing and binding, but in the excessive quantity, in the lack of system in compiling and editing the reports and in the unnecessary duplication, particularly in the reports and documents issued by the various departments, bureaus, boards, commissions, etc. A remedy for this loss has been supplied in the passage of the committee's bill providing for a document editor whose duty it shall be to edit and condense and supervise the publication of all reports, documents, etc. This innovation is certain to very materially reduce the volume of many reports and lessen the aggregate quantity. It is anticipated that this one change will result in a saving to the state of $28,000.00 annually.

In the matter of rates paid for printing and binding, the committee made thorough and careful investigation, consulting various authorities, including Mr. J. Frank Higgins, the state expert printer of Illinois, the heads of some of the largest printing and binding plants in Iowa, and others, and also at various times heard Mr. J. M. Pierce, publisher of The Iowa Homestead, and Mr. Robert Henderson and J. W. Jameson, state printer and state binder, respectively.

Mr. Higgins testified before the committee that the contract system for state printing and binding had proven unsatisfactory in Illinois and that, including extras and special allowance granted under the contract system, the rates in Illinois are considerably above those paid by Iowa.

Mr. Pierce gave the committee some helpful suggestions and at the final hearing submitted a revision of the prices on the basis of which he stated that he was willing to enter into a contract to do all of the state printing and binding, if given a six-year contract on the expiration of the term of the present state printer and binder January 1, 1917, and which he estimated would effect a saving of $10,000.00 per year, or $20,000.00 for the period ending January 1, 1919, based on the present volume of business.

The committee, after having compiled information from various sources, also had prepared a proposed revision of the rates for printing and binding which it has now submitted in the form of a bill and which it referred to Mr. Paul, state expert accountant, with a request that he compile figures based on the business of the latest year available and showing the saving that would result from the adoption of the new schedule. Mr. Paul investigated and reported that the proposed rates would effect a saving of $17,799.00 for the period ending January 1, 1919. This as compared with Mr. Pierce's estimated saving of $20,000.00 for the same period, should the state be successful in awarding a contract on the basis of his figures at the expiration of the term of the present printer and binder, shows a difference of but $2,200.00 for the four-year period ending January 1, 1919, or an average of $550.00 per year. In view of the small difference that might result during that period and of the uncertain and unsatisfactory experience that other states have had with the contract system, and in view of the further fact that the present state printer and binder have agreed to accept the revised rates to become effective at once, conditional on their re-election, the committee deems it inadvisable at this time to make a change of system, but would recommend that the present state printer and binder be re-elected, that the new rate schedule be adopted, and that the matter be given still further consideration during the next biennial period with a view of working out a safe and fixed plan for state printing and binding. The adoption of the recommendations of the committee as to the revision of rates will, as set forth, effect a saving of $17,799.00 for the period ending January 1, 1919, and the anticipated saving to result from the decreased volume in consequence of the work of the document editor of $28,000.00 per year will make a probable saving of $129,799.00 for the period ending January 1, 1919, if the committee's recommendations are adopted.

Respectfully submitted,

J. H. ALLEN,

Chairman,

Retrenchment and Reform Committee.

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee on appropriations, to whom was referred House File No. 628, a bill for an act to repeal the law relating to the employment of inmates of the state penitentiary and reformatory as the same appears in section 5718-a11, supplement to the code, 1913, and to enact a substitute therefor, beg leave to report they have had the same under consideration and return the same without recommendation.

A. C. SAVAGE,
Chairman.

Ordered passed on file.

On motion of Senator Jones, House File No. 628, a bill for an act to repeal the law relating to the employment of inmates of the state penitentiary and reformatory as the same appears in section 5718-a11, supplement to the code, 1913, and to enact a substitute therefor, with report of committee without recommendation, was taken up and considered.

Carried.

The time having arrived for consideration of Special Order No. 2, on motion of Senator Savage, Senate File No. 631, a bill for an act making appropriation of funds to enable the state Railroad Commission to investigate and prosecute interstate cases before the Interstate Commerce Commission and intrastate cases and service, was taken up and considered.

The amendment offered by Senator Allen, as amended, found on page 1769 of the Senate Journal, was pending.

Senator Frailey raised the point of order as to Senate File No. 631 that the Senator from Pocahontas had offered an amendment consisting of thirteen sections, changing the entire purpose of the bill, and that, therefore, there was no bill before the Senate to act upon.

President Harding, in ruling on the point of order, stated that, as the Chair understood the record, the Senate had under consideration Senate File No. 631, by the committee on appropriations, a bill for an act making an appropriation of funds to enable the state railroad commission to investigate and prosecute interstate cases before the interstate commerce commission and intrastate cases and service, and making an appropriation for that purpose. While the bill was under consideration, the Senator from Pocahontas offered an amendment, adding to the bill and beginning with section 2 and continuing up to and including section 13. The amendments cover matter that is very different from the purpose of the original bill. The rule of the Senate is that amendments must be germane to the subject matter of the bill. The chair is not familiar enough with the measure to say whether the amendments offered are germane to the bill, and for that reason, the chair does not feel justified in sustaining the point of order.

Senator Wilson offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend the pending amendment by inserting after the word "thereof" in the third line of section 13 the words "or as much more".

SEC. 3. Any inmate of the penitentiary, and any inmate of the reformatory, who may hereafter be engaged or employed in any service or labor outside the walls of the institution to which he or she is sentenced, or who may be listed as a "trusty," or "honor" inmate of such institution, may, at the discretion of the said board of control, or at the discretion of the warden of such institution acting under authority of the said board of control, be given and allowed a special reduction in term of sentence at the rate of ten (10) days for each and every month so employed or listed; and every month of such employment shall be counted one month and ten days in point of service on the sentence to be served in addition to the "good time" allowed by law for good behavior; and the said board of control is hereby authorized and empowered to grant and allow such extra good time or special commutation of sentence, and to make all rules and regulations in relation thereto.

SEC. 4. All acts and parts of acts in so far as they are in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

SECTION 1. Whenever proceedings for the drainage of lands within this state and bordering upon the state line are had and the total cost, including all damages, of constructing the improvement in this state has been ascertained by the authorities of this state, and the engineer in charge, before the final establishment of the district, reports that the establishment and construction of such improvements ought to be jointly constructed with like proceedings for the drainage of adjoining lands in an adjoining state and that drainage proceedings are pending in such adjoining state for the drainage of such adjoining lands, then and in that case the said authorities of this state may enter an order continuing the hearing on the establishment of such district to the named date, of which all parties shall take notice, but shall have power, whenever the total cost, including damages, of constructing the improvement in such other state has been ascertained by the authorities of such other state, to enter into an arrangement or tentative agreement as to the separate amounts which the authorities of each state should in equity pay toward the construction of the joint undertaking. When such amount is thus determined, the authorities of this state shall enter the same in the minutes of their proceedings and shall proceed therewith as though such amount had been originally determined by them as the cost of constructing the improvement in this state.

When the bids for construction are opened, unless the construction work on each side of the line can go forward independently and without undue friction when let to contractors, no contract shall be let by the authorities in this state, unless by joint conference of the authorities of both states, the acceptance of a bid or bids for the construction of the whole project is first jointly agreed upon, but the contract or contracts for the construction of that portion of the improvement within this state shall be entirely distinct and separate from the contract or contracts let by the authorities of the neighboring state; provided that the contract or contracts for the construction of the work within this state shall not exceed an amount equal to the amount of the benefits assessed in this state less the damages allowed in this state and less the incidental expenses in this state.

SECTION 2. No contract shall be let until the improvement shall be conditionally and finally established in both states, and after final adjustment in both states of damages and benefits both as between individuals and lands. No bonds shall be issued until all litigation in both states arising out of said proceedings, has been finally terminated by actual trial and hearing, or by the expiration of all right of appeal.

SECTION 3. In so far as applicable, this act shall also apply to the repair and improvement of any work of drainage constructed under its provisions.

President Harding was escorted to the Chair.

Senator Wilson, from the special committee, spoke as follows :

We are here, Mr. President, as a Special Committee appointed to present to you as the Lieutenant Governor and presiding officer of this body, a chair and gavel. It is needless to say that it is a pleasurable duty to present to you this chair and gavel, and it is also needless to say that on behalf, not only of the majority but the minority of these senators, in fact the entire body of the Senate we are gratified in having you as Lieutenant Governor preside over the deliberations of the Senate at this session. I know I voice the unanimous sentiment of this body when I say that your acts have been of such a character as to commend themselves as fair and impartial, and an earnest desire on your part to discharge the duties of presiding officer that is unexcelled. It may be that in addressing you as Governor I am presuming somewhat, but I think perhaps I voice the conclusions of a number of the senators that such a title would be entirely in order. I may say further, Governor Harding, that in the future as you recline in this chair you will rejoice in the companionship of a young lady whose coming has been a matter of rejoicing, not only to yourself and your esteemed companion, but to the entire Senate. May you, Governor Harding, as you recline in this chair either in your office or in your home, or wherever you may occupy it in the future enjoy yourself and may you reflect with credit upon the session of the Thirty-Sixth General Assembly.

Governor Harding, in responding, spoke as follows :

MR. CHAIRMAN AND SENATORS—This is the second time during this term of my office that I have been made the recipient of the bounties of the Senate and the State of Iowa, in gift. It was on the day that I took the oath of office for this term, that I was first presented, or rather we were presented, with a cradle, and today with a chair. The two illustrate how time flies, and how the thing that is of importance and interest today becomes either of great importance or of no importance tomorrow. The cradle represents the beginning of life, and the chair the declining years of life. As we reflect upon this Thirty-sixth General Assembly it is easy for us to go back over the history of the session and find that we really have had such a large part in history making, that we have lived in the short 100 days we have been here really a lifetime.

It has been a pleasure to me this winter to preside over this body. I have profound respect and admiration for every one of the fifty senators. If I were not a man I would say that I loved every one of you. This Senate Chamber would never seem right to me if I should come back and find that there was a single vacant seat. It is like home to come here. The Senator from Boone has his peculiar speeches, the Senator from Delaware can get as serious upon a subject of levity as anyone I ever knew, the Senator from Bremer has his peculiarities, the Senator from Winnebago delivers his finished, polished three-minute sermonettes, the Senator from Monroe has his peculiar gestures, the Senator from Dubuque begs the Senate's pardon for occupying its time and then makes a profound speech, the Senator from Cherokee talks in the language of the flowers, and so on I might call your attention to the peculiarities that have impressed me in each and every Senator, and through it all there has been a spirit of friendship and companionship.

I want you all to know that this afternoon I appreciate more than I have been able to show or more than I may be able to say, the honor that has been conferred upon me in permitting me to preside over this body. I appreciate the honor that I have had in coming in contact with the great men who have occupied seats in this body. I appreciate the opportunity that I have had in the making of Iowa history. This little gavel, and this easy chair will be a reminder of the pleasant associations of the Thirty-sixth General Assembly. I want to feel as I go out from this Senate Chamber that there goes with me the kind feelings of every man, for success in the things that are right in life, and I want you to know that with each and every one of you as you go out from this Senate Chamber, will go my kindest feelings and thoughts of you for your success in life.

It is so easy for us to divide ourselves into different parties and factions. After all when we brush aside those things and get right down to the things that are real, we learn that all there is in life is the opportunities afforded to help and protect our brothers.

I want again to say to you that I appreciate the kindly treatment that I have received this session, and if any harsh word has been said, or if anyone has had hard feelings, I hope that you will all know that it was not meant in that way, but was simply momentary passion or strife, and I hope that we can all leave here wishing everyone well.

I appreciate these tokens, whose possession will call to memory in the times to come, the pleasures I have experienced here this session. I want to thank you heartily for this, and through you I want to thank the people of Iowa for them.

Senator Kimball moved that the sifting committee be instructed to return to the Senate, House File No. 246, and that same be taken up for consideration at this time.

“No nominations shall be considered by the Senate until the same shall have been referred to a committee of five, not more than three of whom shall belong to the same political party, to be appointed by the President of the Senate without the formality of a motion, which committee shall report to the Senate in executive session, which report shall be made at any time when called for by the Senate. The consideration of nominations by the Senate shall not be had on the same legislative day that the nominations are so referred."

I take it that this last sentence means that the nomination cannot be considered on the day that it is referred to the committee.

I very much regret the situation that is presented, but it is unavoidable.

Very respectfully yours,

G. W. CLARKE,
Governor.

JOURNAL OF THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER,
DES MOINES, IOWA, APRIL 15, 1915.

Senate met pursuant to adjournment at 7:30 p. m., President of the Senate, W. L. Harding presiding.

REPORTS OF SPECIAL COMMITTEES.

Senator Taylor from a special committee submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions commemorative of the life, character and services of Benjamin Rex Vale beg to submit the following report:

BENJAMIN REX VALE.

Honorable Benjamin Rex Vale was born in Smithfield, Ohio, June 4, 1848; he died at Bonaparte, Van Buren County, Iowa, April 3, 1915. He was the son of Honorable Jacob G. Vale and Anne (Rex) Vale, and with his parents removed from his birthplace to Lee County, Iowa, in 1850, thence to Harrisburg Township, Van Buren County, in 1856. He went to school at Birmingham Academy, Birmingham, Iowa, thence to Monmouth College, Monmouth, Illinois, from which he graduated with the degree of A. B. in 1873, later receiving from the same institution the degree of A. M. While in school at Monmouth, Illinois, he met Miss Julia Biddle whom he married on February 12, 1874. To this union was born four children, all of whom are living. They are Mrs. Regina Tedford of Mt. Ayr, Mary B. Vale, Mrs. Margaret Emma Roberts and Bruce Rex Vale of Bonaparte.

Almost at once after his graduation he returned to the farm pursuits in which he had been engaged with his father, and took personal management of the cultivation of the large and fertile farms the older Vale had acquired on his arrival in Iowa. He became the owner of these lands upon the death of the father and continued in the active operation of the same throughout the remainder of his life. He was a pioneer in the field of thoroughbred cattle and swine breeding, being known through the United States as one of the most expert and successful improvers of the Chester White hog. He early identified himself with township and county movements for better study and practice in the farming arts, serving often in responsible capacities as an official of these. He organized the Farmers and Traders Bank of Bonaparte in 1882 and remained its head while he lived, serving also as president of the Mount Sterling Savings Bank, an auxiliary of the Farmers and Traders Bank. He was an active and influential factor in the rural school administration of his township and a member and constant attendant on the services of the Presbyterian Church.

In 1887 he was nominated at the Republican Senatorial convention held at Fairfield, Iowa, and was elected twice, serving the district composed of Van Buren and Jefferson counties in the Twenty-second, Twenty-third, Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth General Assemblies. He was twice chairman of the Senate committee on Agriculture, and was an active member of the committees on Schools and Banks.

He lived the simple life and delighted to mingle with the people. He loved his home and was happy in his family in whom he took pardonable pride. He was beloved by his neighbors and friends who consider his death a great loss to the state. He was honest and upright in all his dealings and had the confidence of all who knew him.

WHEREAS, The Honorable Benjamin Rex Vale, a member of this body in the Twenty-second, Twenty-third, Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth General Assemblies, has been called from this life; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate has heard with deep sorrow and regret of his death and that it recognizes the high character of his service to his state and in his death the state has lost a worthy and noble citizen.

Resolved, That this Senate extend to his family its sincere sympathy in their great bereavement. Be it further Resolved, That these resolutions be entered upon our Senate Journal and a copy be sent to the bereaved family of the deceased.

J. H. TAYLOR,

D. C. CHASE,

J. A. WHITE,

Committee.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

Senator Taylor in moving the adoption of the resolutions spoke as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT—In moving the adoption of these resolutions I desire to say that I became acquainted with Ex-Senator Vale soon after my entrance into Van Buren County, about twelve years ago.

In order to appreciate the manhood and the strength of character of Ex-Senator Vale it would be necessary to become acquainted with him. He was a man of affairs. He was a man who knew a great deal about everything that was going on in his county and in his state. Notwithstanding this fact, his whole life was devoted more particularly to the things which were concerned with his own county and neighborhood. He had a delightful home, at the head of which he presided with a grace and dignity. He was a Christian man. He was a man who was dearly beloved by all his neighbors and friends because of the interest he took in them. He served many years as secretary of the local township school board because he was interested in the cause of proper education. He took a very large interest in the schools of the state as well as the schools of his own community.

His children were educated in the colleges of this state. One of his sons now occupies the old home farm, being recently a graduate of the Iowa State College at Ames. He was a man who took a great interest in religious affairs and kept up the old time custom of the family altar.

and those things which mark the home as the one place above all others where grace, peace and love abound, were ever present in his home.

In the death of Ex-Senator Vale, Van Buren County and the State of Iowa loses one of its very best citizens.

Senator Darrah from a special committee submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to prepare resolutions commemorating the life, character and public services of Warren S. Dungan beg leave to submit the following report:

WARREN S. DUNGAN.

Warren S. Dungan, of Chariton, Lucas County, Iowa, was a member of the Senate in the Ninth and Ninth Extra General Assemblies, a member of the House in the Eighteenth and Nineteenth General Assemblies, and again a member of the Senate in the Twenty-second and Twenty-third General Assemblies.

He was Lieutenant Governor under Frank D. Jackson, from 1894 to 1896, and president of this Senate during the session of the Twenty-fifth General Assembly.

Colonel Dungan, as he was familiarly known, was born of Scotch-Irish parentage on September 12, 1822, and died May 9, 1913. He was an active and prominent member of the Sons of the American Revolution, his grandfather, Wm. McFarren, being an ensign in the war of the Revolution, and his great-grandfather, John Scott, was commissary general of the Pennsylvania line. In 1851 he went to Panola, Mississippi, and taught school for a period of three years. While thus engaged, he took up the study of law, returning in 1855 to his native state, Pennsylvania, and entered the law office of Roberts & Quay, the latter member of the firm being the well known United States Senator Quay from that state. In April, 1856, he was admitted to practice law in Pennsylvania, and immediately afterward he moved to Iowa and located in Chariton, where he resided until his death, a period of over fifty-seven years.

At the beginning of the Civil war, he resigned his seat in the state senate and recruited a military company, being himself sworn in as a private. He later became the captain of this company, and was assigned to the 34th Iowa Infantry as Company K. On September 27, 1862, he was commissioned Lieutenant-Colonel, in which capacity he served until May 25, 1865, when he was made Brevet-Colonel of Volunteers for valiant service rendered at the battle of Ft. Blakely. The Confederate battery in this engagement was named in his honor, being entirely made up of young men who had been students under him in the school that he had formerly taught at Panola, Mississippi. At the close of the war he returned to Chariton and resumed his law practice, becoming recognized as one of the leading attorneys in the southern part of the state.

Colonel Dungan was a man whom his fellow citizens and neighbors delighted to honor. He was a life-long member of the Republican party and was prominently identified with its history during the past fifty years in this state. He was active in religious affairs and in all those movements that had for their purpose the betterment of the community and the uplifting of mankind. He was an able orator, and his services at soldiers' reunions and public gatherings were always in demand. He was greatly interested in the early history of Lucas County and Iowa, and gathered much information and data of inestimable value. His life was an inspiration to those who knew him best. He had the misfortune to lose his wife in 1859, and had the great responsibility of rearing a family of seven children imposed upon him in addition to his other numerous activities as a citizen. His home life, surrounded by his daughters, was a model of domestic simplicity. He was a most exemplary citizen, respected and honored by all who knew him, and he leaves behind him the priceless heritage of a good, clean record and an honorable name. His many noble and kindly deeds will be gratefully remembered, and his memory will be cherished by all. The State of Iowa has lost a citizen whose influence in life cannot help but shed luster upon the pages of history, and the future citizenship of Iowa will have been bettered because of the example of this well lived and honorable life.

Resolved, That the Senate of Iowa is deeply appreciative of the loss the state and community in which he lived has sustained in the loss of this honored and respected citizen who contributed so much to the nation and his adopted state.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the Journal of the Senate and an engrossed copy be transmitted to the family of the deceased.

JOHN H. DARRAH,
JOHN T. CLARKSON,
L. E. CRIST,

Committee.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

Senator Darrah in moving the adoption of the resolutions spoke as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT—In recognition of the time honored custom which has endured since the first organization of this body, it is fitting and proper that we pause in our deliberations during the closing hours of a legislative session which has been filled with the hope and anticipation of future accomplishment, and cast our eyes back through the record of the by-gone years, to review the records, and to pay honor and tribute to the lives and public services of those who have preceded up and who have completed a similar service, and who have written their names upon the official scroll of the proud pages of Iowa's fair history, and passed into the memories of her people. Standing at the judgment bar of Iowa to be judged by the state historian, it will be indeed a great honor if in that day the decree shall be written of each of us, "He was a noble and patriotic citizen, a true and trusted public servant who served his people, and his state, in the fear of God and in the plain sight of man." Such a decree must and will be written, Senators, when the future historian of Iowa makes up the record and reviews the life, character and public services of Warren S. Dungan, of Chariton, Iowa.

It is not often the lot of man to leave to posterity the record of such distinguished service and achievement as was the fortune of this good man. Warren S. Dungan was born on September 12, 1822, of Scotch Irish parentage in the State of Pennsylvania. His grandfather was a soldier in the war of the Revolution. He himself was a defender of the Union in the great war of the Rebellion, entering the service as a private and retiring at the close of the war with the commission of colonel. He began the practice of law in the office of United States Senator Mathew S. Quay of Pennsylvania, and located at Chariton in 1856. He was a member of the Senate in the Ninth and Ninth extra session of the General Assembly of Iowa in 1861, representing at that time Lucas and Monroe Counties. He was a delegate to the National Republican Convention in 1872, which nominated Grant for President. He was a member of the House of Representatives from Lucas County in 1880 and 1882, was elected again to the State Senate in 1889, and to the office of Lieutenant Governor in 1893, serving as president of the Senate during the administration of Frank D. Jackson.

I had the pleasure of an intimate, personal acquaintance with Lieutenant Governor Dungan. He was of that stalwart type of manhood which personified energy, ability and activity. During his long and useful life he was ever interested in public affairs, and until a very short time prior to his death, he retained the vigor of young manhood. He was soldierly in his bearing, active in body and bright in mind. He was never absent from a public meeting when questions were to be discussed, and was never silent in the deliberations of a public meeting.

Colonel Dungan, as he was familiarly known by his neighbors and friends, was one of God's noblemen. He was pure in mind, generous in spirit, noble of purpose and loyal to his friends and a patriotic citizen in the fullest sense of that term. He had a commanding personality and was honored and revered by all who knew him. During the latter part of his life, he was frequently referred to as Lucas County's Grand Old Man. He was deprived of his helpmate in life in 1881, leaving him the responsibility of rearing a family of six girls and one son, who died in 1895. His home life was simple and unpretentious. He reared his six daughters with a care and devotion that challenged the admiration of the entire community. Most of his daughters have engaged in school work, and have held important positions; one of his daughters having been for a period of three successive terms elected to the office of County Superintendent of Schools of Lucas County. This honor bestowed upon his youngest daughter came during the days when the shadows were beginning to close round his life and was one of the bright rays of sunshine which illuminated the gloomy days during which he patiently waited the end.

In politics, Colonel Dungan was a staunch Republican. He believed in the tenets and principles of that party, and was always a loyal and a consistent supporter of its candidates and its policies. In the days when factionalism was rife in his party, he was firm in his convictions that the fundamental principles of his party were correct, but true to the soldier spirit that inspired him to follow his leaders in the war for his country. When his party had spoken he regarded it his duty to obey.

As I look back over the brief political career which it has been my privilege to enjoy, one of the beacon lights that has shown out on the sometimes turbulent political waters was the noble character of this man, and, Senators, if upon a like occasion at some future time, I might have the assurance that some Senator might stand in this body and say of me truthfully what I am pleased to say of him, that he was a good citizen, a faithful public servant, that his life had been worthy of the emulation of those who have followed after him and that the world is better because of the fact that he had lived in it, I should indeed feel that my weak service here had not been in vain.

Senator Schrup from a special committee submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions in commemoration of the life, character and services of ex-Senator James Hannibal Shields of Dubuque, beg leave to submit the following report:

JAMES HANNIBAL SHIELDS.

James Hannibal Shields was born on his grandfather's plantation, near Bowling Green, Missouri, May 8, 1842, and died at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Wm. Lawther, Jr., at Dubuque, September 30, 1914. He was a son of General John G. Shields and Elizabeth Emerson Shields. At the time of his birth, his parents were paying a visit at their old home in Bowling Green, having located in Dubuque several years before.

His father, General Shields, came to Dubuque from Kentucky in 1835 and founded the firm of Emerson & Shields, one of the best known law firms in northern Iowa. General Shields organized the troops that withstood the last Indian attack in Iowa—the Spirit Lake Massacre, in 1854. He served in the Iowa State Senate from 1848 to 1856, was also Mayor of Dubuque and took a keen interest in all public and political affairs.

The grandfather of the subject of this sketch, James Shields, came with the earliest settlers of Kentucky and was a close friend of Daniel Boone. He was associated with Boone in the early frontier battles and participated in the War of 1812.

James H. Shields was one of the leading citizens of Dubuque and on all public questions, stood for the best interest of the community. He was of a kind and congenial disposition and bore the esteem of all classes. His life and conduct shed an influence for the uplift of, and betterment of society. His allotted time on earth was well spent.

He was educated at Union College, Schenectady, New York, from which he graduated in 1862. His legal training was obtained in the law offices of ex-Senator John B. Henderson of Missouri and Honorable Benjamin M. Samuels of Dubuque. He was admitted to the bar in Dubuque County. One year after which he was elected City Attorney, serving one term, and ten years later was again elected to the same position. In 1882, he was elected District Attorney of the Tenth Judicial District and served for four years with distinction. In 1889, Mr. Shields was elected to the State Senate from the Dubuque District by the largest majority ever given any man on a local ticket. He served in the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth

General Assemblies. In 1892, he was elected by the Democratic State Convention as Delegate-at-Large to the National Convention at Chicago and served as chairman of the Iowa delegation. At the convention, he managed the campaign of Governor Boies for the Presidential nomination with great credit to himself and the governor.

In August, 1892, he was nominated by the Democrats of the Third District as their candidate for congressman. He pursued a vigorous, personal campaign and, although defeated, ran ahead of his ticket.

In 1874 Mr. Shields was married to Miss Mary Tomlin of Galena, Illinois. She died in 1879. He is survived by his only daughter, Elinor. In his death, the daughter lost a kind and loving father who for years had been to her not only a father but a companion and friend. During the sunset of his life, he spent his last days in the home of the daughter, where he received all the attention that love, affection and wealth could bestow. His daughter has the consolation to accompany her through life that she did all that a loving daughter could do for the comfort and care of a kind father in the last of his life.

Resolved, That this resolution be spread on the Journal of this body, and that an engrossed copy hereof be transmitted to his bereaved daughter, Mrs. Wm. Lawther, Jr., with the assurance of the high appreciation of the Senate, of one of the sturdy pioneers of Iowa legislation and one so worthy of honor, who was one of its members, even though in the long ago.

N. J. SCHRUP,
E. C. PERKINS,
ROBERT QUIGLEY,

Committee.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

Senator Schrup in moving the adoption of the resolutions spoke as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT AND SENATORS—To recount the professional, business and political career of James H. Shields, would be to recount the history of northeastern Iowa during the past fifty years.

I have the proud honor and distinction, if you please, of having been an intimate and close personal friend and business associate of the departed during the period from 1882 down to the time when he retired from the activities of life, and on account of his infirmities of advancing age, he retired to the home of his daughter. We were, I am glad to say, exceedingly close friends and I would be very glad, if time would permit, to call your attention to many very interesting incidents in his career.

He was called by his friends "The Little Giant of the Northeast," and while he was a little giant physically, he was, on the other hand, a great giant in any affair of life in which he appeared.

I will not take the time of this Senate to dwell at length on this subject, but want to allow the time to two of his close personal associates in his profession, they being lawyers from that part of the state, and can undoubtedly relate several incidents that will be of interest on this occasion. I would therefore ask that the other members of the committee say a few words on this occasion. I ask Senator Perkins to tell a few incidents.

Senator Perkins spoke as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT—My first acquaintance with Senator Shields was in 1882 when he was elected District Attorney for the Tenth Judicial District of Iowa, embracing the counties of Dubuque, Delaware, Buchanan, Black Hawk and Grundy. Mr. Shields was in the prime of life when he came to the office of District Attorney for this district. He was well prepared and thoroughly equipped as a lawyer. He had had the training in the school before commencing the study of law, and he had had the good fortune in his boyhood days to go into the offices of two of the greatest lawyers of the central west, Senator Henderson of Missouri, a man who was a lawyer as well as a statesman, and Mr. Samuels of Dubuque, who was one of the great pioneer lawyers of the State of Iowa, who prepared the way and worked out the system of law of the state of Iowa, a man who in his days was one of the Democratic candidates for governor of this state. With this as a school of his training he came well prepared for the practice of law, and he was a man who improved every opportunity, a man who protected his clients' interests. When he became the prosecutor of the district, we found in him one who was able at all times to protect the interests of the state of Iowa and when we came to have cases with him, we found that if we defended the man with any degree of success we had to use all the ingenuity that we had, and to gather all the facts that were in the favor of the defendant in the case. He was a man who wanted only the right, but no fairer adversary, no man who only wanted the right, ever practiced at the bar in the Tenth Judicial District.

I knew Mr. Shields intimately in the campaign when he was a candidate for Congress. I was one of those who helped to conduct the campaign of Col. D. B. Henderson, and Mr. Shields gave us the hardest fight we ever had in the Third Congressional District to hold the place for one of the great men of the state of Iowa. Mr. Shields was a man whose character was beyond reproach. As he went in and out among the people of Dubuque of all classes, he was respected.

He was a man who was successful in business, his interests were large and extensive. As years came on he was so situated that when the infirmities of old age came upon him he had the means to care for himself and his home. He had the one daughter, whose mother had died when she was young, and in her father she had one who tried to be to her a mother and a father. All that wealth could bestow he bestowed upon the daughter in the years of her girlhood, and so when the declining years of his life came, he went to her home, there to receive the care and comfort that was due at the hand of his daughter.

Senator Quigley spoke as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT—I was not as familiarly acquainted with Mr. Shields as either Senator Schrup or Senator Perkins, but I knew of him. I knew him personally way back in the seventies, and after I made his acquaintance I found this, that he had inherited that chivalry and manhood so revered in the east and south in the days gone by, the inheritance of a gentleman. Under no circumstances, either in the heat of debate or in every day life would he ever allow himself to stoop from the place of a gentleman. There was a dignity in his character that seemed as though he belonged to the old type of chivalry of the south. And yet with that dignity and carriage, he stooped with his sympathies to the weak and the lonely to such a degree that instead of their looking upon him as an aristocrat, everyone looked upon him as a friend, because he carried his friendship and brotherhood from the highest class to the lowest, and that is what gave him the strength in his campaign where nobody expected him to win, but he came very near coming out ahead. You cannot but admire a man of that type.

He was honest and true, true to his friends and just to his adversaries. He was a man in every sense of the word. He was first in all movements in Dubuque, his interests were with the people of the pioneer days, and he belonged to that type professionally that looked first to the interests of his clients and then to his fees when their work was done. I must say that since those days of the pioneers, times have changed. It seems now to be the first thought of a lawyer, "What is this fellow worth to me," instead of "What can I be worth to him." It seems to be reversed in modern times.

Now it does me good when I can look back over the old pioneer lawyers of Dubuque and all of those that served the people, and served them so well. They were the advisors in everyday life because they were handing out a good word, they were to lift humanity up. I do not believe that any words that I could use would picture you the type and character of Colonel Shields better than to say that he was a man in every sense of the word.

Senator Eversmeyer from a special committee submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to prepare resolutions commemorating the life, character and public services of Charles Albert Carpenter beg leave to submit the following report:

CHARLES ALBERT CARPENTER.

Charles Albert Carpenter, a Senator from 1894 to 1898, died at his home, Columbus Junction, October 5, 1913. Mr. Carpenter was a native of the county of Louisa, where he was born January 12, 1864. His father was Cyril Carpenter, a leading pioneer citizen of the county, having come there in the year 1840. His mother, who was Miss Calista Stickney, was herself a native of the same county as her son, her family having settled in the county in 1839. Educated in the rural schools of the county, he afterwards entered the State University, in the Law Department, from which he graduated when he was twenty years of age. The following year he was admitted to the bar. He served as city attorney, and was for three years mayor of the town. In the year 1893, he was elected to the Senate, succeeding John M. Gobble, also memorialized at this session.

In the Twenty-fifth General Assembly, he was chairman of the committee on Schools, and was also on the committees of Ways and Means, Judiciary, Railways, and Corporations. In the Twenty-sixth, he was on Judiciary, Banks, and others, and was chairman of the committee on Code revision. In the year 1904, he was delegate to the national convention that nominated Theodore Roosevelt for the presidency. His practice took up his time in later years, until he came to be looked upon as one of the leading lawyers in southeastern Iowa. When he entered the Senate, he was the youngest person in its membership, but throughout he was an influential one.

During the session of 1897, at which the Code was enacted, he was on ten conference committees.

F. W. EVERSMEYER,

F. G. HENIGBAUM,

G. E. HILSINGER,

Committee.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

Senator Eversmeyer in moving the adoption of the resolutions spoke as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT—It was not my privilege to become acquainted with ex-Senator Carpenter until a few years before his death. Mr. Carpenter was a native son of Iowa. He was born and reared in Louisa County, and there the active years of his life were spent. The most of his friends and neighbors and in fact throughout the Twenty-fourth Senatorial District, most of those who knew him called him Albert. He was recognized as an upright Christian and an honest gentleman, a good neighbor, a good citizen and a good friend. He was recognized as a good lawyer, not only in his own community, but throughout the state at large. He was a power in politics. His counsel was asked for and his advice was gladly given. He was a friend of the poor and the distressed and in his well-doing his right hand never knew what his left hand did. He was honored, not only by being elected to local offices, but the citizens of his community sent him to represent their interests in the Senate of the Iowa Legislature.

The only apology that I have to offer for the feeble memorial that I have presented is this, that my lack of acquaintance only permitted me to present what I had, and I ask the adoption of the memorial.

Senator Farr from a special committee submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions commemorative of the life, character and services of George D. Perkins beg to submit the following report:

GEORGE DOUGLAS PERKINS.

Was born at Holly, Orleans County, New York, February 29, 1840. He died at Sioux City, Iowa, February 3, 1914. The family removed to Indiana and later to Baraboo, Wisconsin, where his father died in 1852.

Here George D. Perkins passed his boyhood, worked on a farm and in his brother's printing office, and acquired a fair English education. By application and the employment of his leisure hours he added a knowledge of the principal branches taught in colleges and academies of those days. English literature and a practice of English idiom received his attention.

He was married to Louise E. Julian in 1869, and to them were born five children, all living at the time of his death. His wife survived him only a few months. She died in August following his death. During the last years of her life she was afflicted with almost total blindness, and it was one of her greatest comforts that each day he read to her from the newspaper of which for more than forty years he had been editor and almost sole owner and manager.

At the age of twenty years he removed to Cedar Falls, Iowa, where with his brother, he published the Cedar Falls Gazette. He enlisted in Company B, 31st Iowa Infantry, August 12, 1862, but in January, 1863, he was discharged on account of almost fatal illness. He returned to Cedar Falls and continued the publication of the Gazette until 1866. He went from there to Chicago, and while there acted as agent of the Northwestern Associated Press which served the daily papers in Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska. In 1869 upon the advice of L. D. Ingersoll, pioneer editor of the Muscatine Journal, he removed to Sioux City and bought the Sioux City Journal. His brother associated himself with him in April, 1870, and they began the publication of a daily. Mr. Perkins continued to be editor of the Sioux City Journal from that day until his death. He attained high rank among leading journalists of the day. His editorials were marked by candor and clearness. As an editor, he insisted upon a veracious presentation of the news, and rarely allowed his opinions to become in any way associated with matters of news. He was not only a great editor, but a public spirited citizen.

He was state senator in the Fifteenth and Sixteenth General Assemblies, then comprising the counties of Harrison, Monona, Crawford, Shelby, Ida, Woodbury, Plymouth, Chefokee, O'Brien, Sioux and the unorganized counties of Lyon and Osceola.

He was Commissioner of Immigration of Iowa from May, 1880, to 1882. He was Marshal for the Northern District of Iowa from 1882 to 1885. He was elected to the 52d Congress and re-elected three times, his term of office being from 1891 to 1899. He was delegate at large from Iowa to the Republican Conventions in 1876, 1880, 1886 and 1908.

Mr. Perkins was a pioneer. At the time he was a member of the Senate, northwestern Iowa was little more than a great stretch of prairie; the Dakotas were practically without population, and as each settler came into the new territory, he was influenced and to a great extent guided and directed by the paper which Mr. Perkins edited, and for more than forty years, each day his influence went out into that territory which he saw change from raw prairie to thickly populated communities. No one can measure his influence over northwestern Iowa, the Dakotas and Nebraska, but a man of his steadfastness and uprightness of character must of necessity have imparted to that territory the most wholesome effects. It has been said of him that "penetration, strong mindedness, intensity, application, honesty, fidelity, courage, judgment and fortitude stand out most prominently in his career." Such qualities, when impressed upon the public mind by daily contact of the paper which he so ably edited, could not but work out for the best influence that any man could exert upon so many minds in so great a territory, the early setting of which was to have so great an influence upon its future.

There was a bond of union and love between George D. Perkins and his employees that cannot be appreciated by the public at large. It was only necessary for one to enter his great newspaper establishment, to realize the love and veneration in which he was held by his co-workers, and with George D. Perkins that included the humblest laborer as well as the heads of departments. He had himself come up through all the grades of hard labor, and had a heart tuned to the appreciation of the worth and dignity of honest labor.

Resolved, That in his death, not only the State of Iowa, but the adjoining states lost a worthy and upright citizen, an honest and fearless advocate of those things which stand out most prominently in the building up of a strong nation; his city one of its most enterprising and steadfast characters, and his profession one whose example will long be inspiring and helpful in every field of journalism, and we hereby extend to the bereaved family and friends our sincere sympathy; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be printed in the Journal of the Senate, and that the Secretary of the Senate be directed to forward an engrossed copy to the family of the deceased.

E. F. FARR,
CLEM F. KIMBALL,
C. H. THOMAS,

Committee.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

Senator Farr in moving the adoption of the resolutions spoke as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT—In the adoption of these resolutions I feel inadequate to rise to the occasion which this affords. There are so many things which might be said concerning a man of his ability, concerning a man who saw so much, who did so much and felt so much, that I say that I feel myself incapable of expressing what ought to be expressed.

I knew him for 25 years, not intimately in the earlier years, but later well enough so that during the last few years of his life I used to go to his office and discuss matters of public interest. He was a congenial man when you became acquainted with him, but his life had been such that few indeed came to know him, at least in the earlier years of his life.

But he was a man with a vision. I wish you might see what he saw. He probably stood on one of those bluffs which faced toward the west, the grave of Sergeant Floyd on his left and that of War Eagle, not yet grown green, on his right, and in the valley below Council Oak with its spreading branches possibly sheltering a gathering of Indians who met to consider some matter of peace with the Chippewas, or war upon the Sioux. He must have seen into the future of that great country with the Sioux River dividing Iowa from the Dakotas, flowing down that great fertile valley which was destined in the near future to be one of the granaries of the world.

He undertook the publishing of a daily newspaper which he continued for forty-five years. No other man has ever started with so little and has built it up to as high, and I think as great an influence in the different states, as the Sioux City Journal had at the time of the death of its founder. Some forty-five years ago that paper was a struggling newspaper in the village along the river. I succeeded him in the state senate by just forty years. He represented the Forty-eighth Senatorial District which at that time comprised nearly all of northwestern Iowa. At the time of his death he could look across into the two states in the formation of the government of both of which he had had a great deal to do. If you realized the daily contact of his great paper you could see what his influence must have been in the making up of the general character and policy of those states. He was a man who looked toward the East, but his vision was toward the West. It has been said by some that it would have been well if some of the early men of Iowa who had served their state so dutifully, had left a history of what had been done, but if you could go to Sioux City today and go into the splendid building which has just been erected to shelter the newspaper which he built up, go over its files and you would not only find his biography, and his diary, but also a history of that great territory whose character and policies were so tremendously affected by his influence.

His was a grand life with grand opportunities. If you could feel what he felt you could then understand what it was for a man to start out as he started, and live through all the phases of that period of that territory and know that his vision had passed into reality. As I said before, no other paper was ever started under those conditions and built up to the altitude that the Sioux City Journal was under his management. He was a man who was well rounded out. He not only had great ability as a writer, but he had that rare accomplishment which seldom goes with it, and that was that of a business man. He built up a great factory, you might say, which sent out from it the news and opinions, which moulded to a great extent the governmental affairs of the adjoining states. He was not only a business man and an editor, but he was a statesman. Whether or not he gained what he desired, whether or not he attained the ambitions to which he looked forward, he knew, and all who knew him knew, that he had the satisfaction of knowing that he had made a good fight. He was a man, who as the years went by, became better understood. At the time of his death the city of which he had been a resident had come to know and appreciate the worth of this man. No man had had so much to do with the building up of that city as he. No man was missed so much, and today if you would call together all the people of the city and ask what man of that community had had the most to do with the building of the city, and building up of the character of the city, they would tell you George D. Perkins. If you would ask what man had the most to do with the building up of the character and institutions of the adjoining states to the west, they would tell you the same.

President Harding spoke as follows:

It is indeed a pleasure to me to have opportunity to say a word that will become a part of the permanent records of the state about so great a man and so good a friend as George D. Perkins.

Some one has said, "There is a time for all things, a time to live, and a time to die." George D. Perkins left this world ripe in years of experience. He lived in a time when the greatest history of the world was made. He took part in the civil war as a private soldier; he took part during the reconstruction period of our country. He saw the wonderful advance made in science and invention in the past half century. Mr. Perkins was a man little known and little appreciated by those who were his neighbors and his friends. He was a man of strong opinions, he was a man of courage, willing, if need be, to fight alone; and yet there never lived a man who had a kinder heart, and who was more generous than was he.

It was my privilege and pleasure to become acquainted with him while he was a candidate for congress and while he was in congress. I was then a boy living on a farm. He visited at our home while canvassing for delegates to the county convention, and I knew him only as I had the pleasure of listening to his conversation. Later I moved to Sioux City and in my endeavor to acquire an education I became a "cub" reporter, and in that capacity had an opportunity to work on the Sioux City Journal and in those days became better acquainted with him. Later I entered politics as a candidate for office. The Sioux City Journal and Mr. Perkins were very kind to me, but during the years that I held office, never once did he suggest to me the position I should take on public questions, or attempt to dictate to me in a political way.

In these later years I formed a habit of going to his office about once a month in the afternoon just after the evening edition of the paper was out, for a visit. If you have never been connected with a newspaper you can't quite appreciate this, but any one who has ever "pushed a pencil" learns to love the smell of printer's ink and knows what it means to go into a newspaper office just as the evening edition is out. I climbed the stairs to his old dingy office on the third floor without serious thought but went up to visit. Sometimes Mr. Perkins would talk about religion, sometimes he would talk about philosophy and sometimes he would talk about politics. A week, sometimes a month after the visit, I would read the thoughts that he had conveyed to me in the conversation in an editorial.

It was shortly after the first of the year when Mr. Perkins passed away. I went up to his office for one of these afternoon visits during the last week he was in his office and he told me about his Sunday sermons. At one time he stopped the publication of his Sunday sermons and wrote a farewell sermon. He then began their publication again. He told me on this day of a letter that he received from a woman who lived in North Dakota, who for years had been on the sickbed. In this letter she asked him to continue the publication of his Sunday sermons. These Sunday sermons were the only ray of religious light that came to her from the outside. Then he told me of other incidents of the same kind and I was able to see then some things that I had never realized before—the great work George D. Perkins had been doing for this world.

Some one has truly said that the history of a nation is but the history of the life of men. The history of northwest Iowa, and the great northwest country is truly the life of George D. Perkins.

Mr. Perkins was a great editor; he was a great business man, but above and beyond all that, George D. Perkins was a great teacher. He lived each day a life that was true and sincere. The relation between himself and his employees was most cordial. Any man who ever worked on the Sioux City Journal, newsboy, reporter or laborer, was the friend of George D. Perkins. He never allowed the sun to go down at night without being able to look back over the day and see some place where he had done some kind act to make this world brighter for some human being. He did the thing that was hard, he lived his religion.

I feel that I was honored in having had so close an association with Mr. Perkins. There is one phase of his life that is little known—this occasion would not be complete unless it was mentioned. He was a true husband. Mrs. Perkins lingered only a short time after he died. When he said goodbye to her there was no joy left in this world for her. He was her support, he was her strength, and when his life went out hers went out. She lingered but a little while and then she followed him.

I presume the greatest tribute that can be paid to any man is to say that he was a true, loyal husband, a companion of his wife, and such was George D. Perkins.

Senator Perkins from a special committee submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your special committee appointed to prepare resolutions commemorating the life, character and public services of John S. Lothrop beg leave to submit the following report:

JOHN STILLMAN LOTHROP.

A member of this body from 1896 to 1900, died at Sioux City, July 1, 1913. He was a native of the town of Dover, Maine, where he was born October 9, 1836. When he was sixteen years of age the family removed to the State of Illinois, where he spent four years on a farm. He then entered the Chicago Law School. The call to arms found him ready to respond, and he enlisted in the 11th Illinois Infantry, in which he served three months, and then re-enlisted in the 26th Illinois Infantry, where he became captain. He took part in many battles, among them Ft. Henry, Ft. Donelson, Shiloh and Corinth.

After the war he practiced law in Illinois until 1884, when he removed to Sioux City, Iowa. President Harrison appointed him Collector of Internal Revenue. In 1895 he was elected to the state senate. After retiring from the General Assembly, he succeeded in securing for the state, from the United States, a refunding of interest on certain war and defense bonds issued in 1861, which interest amounted to $456,417.89, for which service he was paid the sum of $7,500.00. He continued in the active practice of law up to the time of his death. He was dignified, upright and gentlemanly; warm hearted and loyal to his friends, and fair to his opponents. He was held in the highest esteem by his friends, his neighbors and the members of the bench and bar of northwestern Iowa, all of whom united in testifying to his high character and great ability.

Resolved, That in his death the community and state lost a worthy and upright citizen and an honorable man, and we hereby extend to the bereaved family and friends our sincerest sympathy; be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be printed in the Journal of the Senate, and that the Secretary of the Senate be directed to forward an engrossed copy to the family of the deceased.

ELI C. PERKINS,

E. P. FARR,

N. BALKEMA,

Committee.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

Senator Perkins in moving the adoption of the resolutions spoke as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT AND MEMBERS OF THE SENATE—My acquaintance with Captain Lothrop was somewhat limited. I saw him as a member of this body here. I knew him better as a United States officer at Dubuque. He was a revenue collector for the northern district of Iowa for some years, and I saw him in the United States Court. Captain Lothrop was like the granite hills of New England, rugged and strong. He was a man of strong character, a man who stood for something in the community in which he lived, and something in the state of Iowa, and the part that he took in the affairs of this state was that of a successful man. He represented the State of Iowa in the great controversy between the state and the United States over interest due on funds advanced by the State of Iowa in the conduct of the Civil War, and he was successful in recovering for the State of Iowa over $400,000.00 and interest on the claims made by the state. He was a man of such ability that he was able to take care of the interests of this state and to receive from the United States that which was due him, and the great State of Iowa. He was a man who was honored and respected in all of his dealings in public affairs. In the development of Sioux City, the city in which his home was while in northwestern Iowa, he took a prominent part.

In the death of Captain Lothrop, Iowa loses one of its earnest, well wishing citizens, and Iowa loses one of its most faithful servants.

Senator Allen from a special committee submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions commemorative of the late character and services of ex-Senator A. O. Garlock, beg leave to submit the following report:

A. O. GARLOCK.

A. O. Garlock was born in Otsego county, New York, Dec. 4, 1842. He went to De Kalb, Illinois, in 1859. In July, 1861, he joined Company K, Forty-second Illinois Infantry as First Sergeant and later became Lieutenant.

He was married to Miss Amanda Hunt in 1864. He moved to Iowa in 1869, being the first permanent settler of Cedar township, Pocahontas county.

In 1871 he was elected County Auditor and served eight years. In 1888 he was elected to the state senate from the Fiftieth senatorial district and served his state as Senator in the Twenty-second General Assembly.

With others he organized banks at Pocahontas, Rolfe and Plover and the Iowa State Bankers Bank at Des Moines.

He moved to Des Moines in 1890 where he lived for ten years. Since 1902 he spent most of his time in southern California, living in San Diego and Escondido, where he died April 5, 1913.

He was survived by his wife, who departed this life May 13, 1913, and by six children.

Senator Garlock was a genial, kind hearted Christian gentleman. In private and public life his conduct was above reproach. One of the best testimonials of his sterling qualities of manhood and integrity is to be found in the fact that during his long service as auditor of Pocahontas county in pioneer days no blot appears on the financial record of the county. As a member of the Senate he was found to be a true friend, a wise counselor and a fearless advocate of the best things in legislation.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the records of the Senate and that a properly engrossed copy, signed by the President and Secretary, be sent to the family.

J. H. ALLEN,
JOHN T. CLARKSON,
FREDERIC LARRABEE,
Committee.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

Senator Allen in moving the adoption of the resolutions spoke as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT—I wish to say a few brief words. I first became acquainted with Mr. Garlock when a young man, about 19 years of age, and I want to relate the impression which his kind, quiet, familiar manner had upon me. He was one of those men who went about his work in that simple effective way which won friends and kept them. I remember well in those early times in our county how everyone spoke of Mr. Garlock. His habits of life and conduct were an inspiration to every young man in that county in those days. He was a man who did his work according to the best dictates of his own conscience.

Senator Jones from a special committee submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

Mr. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions commemorative of the life, character and services of Joseph M. Junkin beg to submit the following report:

JOSEPH M'KENNA JUNKIN.

Joseph McKenna Junkin was born at Fairfield, Iowa, on April 8, 1852, and on July 11, 1888, was united in marriage at Ames, Iowa, with Olivette Chevalier, to which union were born two children, Chevalier and Josephine. He died at Red Oak, October 11, 1913.

After completing the school course at Red Oak, he attended the law department of the State University where he graduated in 1879 and in September of that year became a law partner of H. E. Deemer, which partnership continued until 1887 when Mr. Deemer was elected District Judge. He was City Attorney from 1881 to 1885, and in 1895 was elected as State Senator from the district composed of Mills and Montgomery counties. He served in the Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh, Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth General Assemblies, taking part in the more important work of all four sessions, gaining high rank as a legislator, and had a large part in making the code of Iowa laws issued by the Twenty-sixth General Assembly.

For a number of years Senator Junkin was an active member of the Knights of Pythias lodge and was also a member of the Presbyterian church. His circle of acquaintance was large and his character was such that he left many warm friends over the entire state.

In the death of Mr. Junkin, Iowa lost one of her most distinguished native sons. He was born in the state and never lived outside her borders. He was nobly loyal to all the interests of the state as well as those of the county. His purpose in life was to be true to the highest ideals and to be a truly worthy servant of his fellow men.

The natural courage and forcefulness of the man, his logic, his wide knowledge, his poise, balance and sanity of view, all combined to make him an excellent counsellor. He was always faithful and efficient in service, but, over and above these things, he was a genial, helpful and sympathetic friend.

He went to his grave in the prime of life but even in this brief span of time he made on his state a lasting impress of good. His record is clean and it will be a source of pride and satisfaction to his family and his state until the end of time. Therefore be it

Resolved, That in the death of Joseph M. Junkin the state lost an efficient legislator and an honorable man and we hereby extend to the family and friends our sincere sympathy, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be printed in the Journal of the Senate and that the Secretary of the Senate be directed to forward an engrossed copy to the family of the deceased.

F. F. JONES,
JOHN T. CLARKSON,
ELI C. PERKINS,

Committee.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

Senator Jones in moving the adoption of the resolutions spoke as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT—It was my privilege to know and become somewhat intimately acquainted with Hon. J. M. Junkin for some years. He was high minded, public spirited citizen, active in all the affairs of the city in which he lived, and in our county was active in politics. I doubt if there was a man in the county so much interested in politics and so much in demand in different parts of the state as a public speaker as was Mr. Junkin. His greatest success, perhaps, was in his profession, to which he was devoted. He was very successful, not only as a counselor, but before a jury we had no man in southwestern Iowa that could attract the attention and succeed so well before juries as could J. M. Junkin. He did not retire from business, but while actively engaged in his office in consultation with a client, death came. A few moments before he was consulting with a client, a few moments later, came death. I attended his funeral.

In summing up his characteristics the thing I would most emphasize is the warmth and stability of the friendships which he formed with his friends.

We have with us one of his classmates, Senator Perkins.

Senator Perkins in moving the adoption of the resolutions spoke as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT—J. M. Junkin and I were classmates at the university at Iowa City, and there I learned to know him as a companion. He was one with whom, as we boys said, I chummed. I knew him as a member of the law class, and in the days that we passed at Iowa City he and I became fast friends. The friendship so formed continued on through the years. He went to southwestern Iowa and I went to northeastern Iowa, but during the years intervening since 1879, occasionally we exchanged letters, keeping in touch with each other across the prairie, and in the years that have come we often met here in Des Moines. During the republican conventions of the state he and I were here many a day and at those times I warmly greeted this boyhood friend.

He was a staunch friend through all the years, and it was a pleasure and a bright spot whenever I could meet with Mr. J. M. Junkin for a few moments and renew the days when we were schoolmates together. I saw him again here in the Senate, a man who had arrived at the strength of manhood, a man who was strong and able and he gave to the state of Iowa the best that there was in him. He was faithful to his party, he stood for the things with his party that he believed were right. He was not a politician in the small sense of the term, he was a man with a big heart, first for his country, and for his party, and those who knew him most intimately loved him best.

Senator Parker from a special committee submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your special committee appointed to prepare resolutions commemorating the life, character and public services of Benjamin F. Allen beg leave to submit the following report:

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN ALLEN.

Benjamin Franklin Allen, who was a member of the Senate of the state of Iowa 1870-74, died at Hollywood, California, on the 14th day of April, 1914. Mr. Allen was born at Salem, Indiana, April 27, 1829. It was in that state that he earned his first money, selling fruit. He came to Iowa in the year 1848, with means variously estimated, but a remarkable amount for one so young, who had to make it for himself. He went into merchandising at first, but, like most persons in pioneer towns, helped in other projects. He was a partner in the first sawmill in the vicinity of the future capital of the state; a venture not only profitable but of much importance to the business interests of the county, where was to be found an immense growth of black walnut trees, so plentiful that that sort of lumber was utilized for all sorts of purposes, sidewalks even being constructed of it. Mr. Allen also bought and had brought to the head of navigation on the Des Moines river, that is to the "forks of the Raccoon," the first boat that got to that point. In 1855 he combined banking with his enterprises. At that time there were laws against the establishment of "banks," which to the pioneers only meant banks of issue, as the language of our constitution indicates. Not only were banks of issue forbidden, but the circulation of paper money was penalized. But Americans had been too long accustomed to the use of paper money and appreciated its convenience. That kind of money had wide circulation, but the character of such was of widely different kinds. Many Iowa bankers got out bills purporting to come from the territory of Nebraska and elsewhere. Among the paper money thus circulated, the Bank of Nebraska, that bank of which was Frank Allen, as he was universally called, had the highest reputation, so much so that persons getting hold of bills of that bank were disposed to hold on to them; they were good. At the beginning of the war, and for several years before, paper money of that kind was about all the money that circulated here, the rate of exchange getting to extravagant figures; but the holders of the Nebraska bank money had no such rates to pay. It was as good as the Illinois money that had the better reputation in that time of uncertainty in the currency. When the new constitution became the fundamental law of the state, and a state bank was established, Mr. Allen became a director of the branch that was established at Des Moines. That state bank had always a high reputation, and it eventually was merged into the national bank system, the Des Moines branch becoming the State National Bank of Des Moines. Some years later it absorbed the First National Bank of the city. Thus, from 1855, for twenty years, the name of B. F. Allen as a capitalist stood very high in Iowa's financial circles; none were higher. His aid was freely given to worthy benevolences, and his help to struggling young persons often was that which enabled them to get on their feet financially.

In 1869, Mr. Allen was chosen by the people of the county of Polk to a seat in this body. In the Thirteenth General Assembly he was chairman of the committee on the Suppression of Intemperance, and in the Fourteenth of that on Banks. His work here is largely reflected in the stately edifice in which this body sits.

In the year 1873, Mr. Allen removed to Chicago, where he undertook to save from ruin the Cook County National Bank. The effort proved too much for him, the great crash of that year coming on soon after he went to the great city. Then the man's princely fortune disappeared, and the successful and popular capitalist saw his vast wealth vanish.

Mr. Allen soon afterwards removed to California, where the man of benevolence when possessed of abundant means spent the last years of a life which in its prime was a highly useful one.

Mr. Allen was, on the 31st day of January, 1854, united in marriage with Miss Thusa West. The fifteenth anniversary of that event, observed as it was in the palatial home he had just erected, was a memorable event of the time. Mrs. Allen and their younger daughter long years ago preceded husband and father to the life beyond. Three children remain: Mrs. Swords of New York city, and Messrs. Frank and Harry of California.

In memory of this man so potently helpful in his day of opulence and so useful a man and a legislator, be it

Resolved, By the Senate of the state of Iowa, that this memorial be entered on its Journal and an engrossed copy thereof be transmitted to the family of the deceased.

Senator Hagemann from a special committee submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to prepare resolutions commemorating the life, character and public services of John F. Wade beg leave to submit the following report:

JOHN F. WADE.

John F. Wade was born at Burlington, Vermont, April 7, 1859. He moved with his parents to Iowa in the year of 1878, and settled with his parents upon a farm in Bennezette township, Butler county, Iowa. Being the oldest son of a family of seven, he was obliged to forego to a large extent even the meager educational advantages from the country school. He was married April 3, 1886, to Mary Dougherty, daughter of the Hon. Daniel Dougherty, a pioneer settler of Cerro Gordo county. Nine children were born, seven of whom are now living. He engaged in farming upon a farm within a mile of his father's homestead and was especially interested and engaged in the feeding and shipping of cattle and hogs. He was also, for several years, a partner in the firm of Wade, Ledyig & Co., at Dougherty, Iowa, which firm was engaged in retailing lumber, coal, farm machinery, etc., but always until about two years before his death, maintained his residence upon the old farm.

He has always been a democrat in politics. In a county that is republican by a large majority he held several township offices. In 1896 he was elected a member of the board of supervisors of that county and served as such for two terms. Upon the expiration of his second term, he was elected state senator to represent the Thirty-ninth senatorial district composed of Butler and Bremer counties. He served in the Thirtieth, Thirty-first, Thirty-second and the special session of the Thirty-second General Assemblies.

October 1, 1909, Mr. Wade was appointed member of the board of control by Governor Carroll to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of the Hon. John T. Hamilton of Cedar Rapids. At the expiration of that term, he was reappointed, and at the time of his death was chairman of the board. He died September 16, 1913, and was buried in the Catholic cemetery at Dougherty, Iowa, only a few miles from the farm upon which he spent practically his whole life.

Mr. Wade, as a man, was honest and industrious; as a friend, he was loyal, helpful, and sincere; as an official, he was diligent, painstaking, and capable; and as a Christian gentleman, he had the confidence and esteem of all who knew him. In his own immediate circle of friends and neighbors, he was not only most beloved, but most trusted, most honored. For years he was a county or state official. The close of his public career found him clean and honest as he was at the beginning. He held the confidence of the electorate as few men can gain and hold it. Measured by any of the standards of honorable, useful citizenship, he was a man. Be it

Resolved, That in the death of John F. Wade the state has lost a worthy citizen. That it recognizes the high character of his services to the state, and that the Senate takes this occasion to acknowledge its recognition and express its high regard and appreciation of his character and public services, and to extend to his family its sincere sympathy in their bereavement. Be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, engrossed and duly authenticated by the President and Secretary of the Senate, be presented to the family of the deceased.

Senator Eversmeyer from a special committee submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your special committee appointed to prepare resolutions commemorating the life, character and public services of John M. Gobble beg leave to submit the following report:

JOHN McCULLOCH GOBBLE.

John McCulloch Gobble was born at Abingdon, Jefferson county, Iowa, October 10, 1849, and died at Muscatine, Iowa, June 9, 1914. He was the son of Thomas Wilson Gobble, and moved from Jefferson county, Iowa, to Muscatine, November 1, 1880. He was an active and influential man from the time he arrived at his maturity, in all the fields of useful endeavor. He served the city of Muscatine as mayor during the years 1886, 1887, 1888, 1889, and 1893. He carried great strength in his political influence, and in the election of 1889 swept the Muscatine-Louisa district from its republican moorings of twenty years, and took his seat in the Iowa state senate, serving through the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth General Assemblies. He was appointed by Lieutenant Governor Poyneer, in the Twenty-third General Assembly, to the membership on the committees of Appropriations, Cities and Towns, Commerce, Constitutional Amendments, and Highways. In the Twenty-fourth General Assembly he was appointed by Lieutenant Governor Bestow as chairman of the committee on Cities and Towns, and to membership on the committees on Suppression of Intemperance, Congressional and Judicial Districts, Highways, Constitutional Amendments and Suffrage, and Commerce.

After Mr. Gobble located in Muscatine he engaged in the wholesale grocery business and by his strict attention to his business and by his fair dealings, built up one of the largest and most successful wholesale businesses in eastern Iowa. He was a man whom it was a pleasure to meet, always genial and friendly, and one who made friends and kept them, and he was also a friend in the true sense of the word.

He was a business man of recognized high standing wherever known, and always gave his affairs his personal attention and direction, and as a result of his efforts, amassed a most comfortable competency. His strict attention to his business affairs undoubtedly contributed to his demise, as he was in a frail and weakened condition at the time his last illness overtook him. The city of Muscatine and the state of Iowa have lost a good and honest citizen, in the passing away of ex-Senator John M. Gobble.

Senator G. E. Hilsinger from a special committee submitted the following report and moved its adoption.

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to prepare resolutions commemorating the life, character and public services of Alfred Hurst beg leave to submit the following report:

ALFRED HURST.

Alfred Hurst was born in Lincolnshire, England, in 1841, and died in Maquoketa, Iowa, on March 25, 1915. In 1852 his father brought his family to America, landing at New Orleans. From New Orleans the family traveled up the Mississippi River to Davenport which was then only a village.

Mr. Hurst's father died in 1856. The son was but five years of age when the family came to America and nine years old when his father died.

He was but a boy when the civil war broke out, but he enlisted and served during the war, returning to St. Louis where he engaged in steamboating on the upper Mississippi, continuing until 1866 when he returned to Davenport with the object of learning the trade of mason and bricklayer. He worked in Davenport until 1871 and that year he went to Maquoketa and founded his present lime business which has developed into one of the large industries of the state, the product of his lime kilns being sold in practically every state in the Union. During the development of his industry Mr. Hurst has also found time for raising, feeding and shipping stock.

In 1888, Senator Hurst organized the Maquoketa, Hurstville and Duquque Railway Company and constructed the railway from Maquoketa to Hurstville.

On December 12, 1873, Mr. Hurst was married to Sarah Large, a native of Virginia. To this union six children were born, all of whom survive: Charles F. Hurst, Mrs. L. L. Riggs, Alfred A. Hurst, Alice A. Hurst, Mrs. D. B. Hunter and Harry Hurst.

Mr. Hurst was a democrat in politics and in 1886 was elected a member of the board of supervisors of Jackson county. He served four years and was re-elected and in 1894 he was elected state senator by a majority of 1,400. He was also re-elected to the upper house of the Iowa legislature, and when he retired he was recognized as one of the most influential statesmen in Iowa.

Mr. Hurst was seventy-four years of age at the time of his death and was one of the most splendid types of the early Iowan. He was a self made man in every sense of the word, by perseverance, genius and business sagacity building his own fortune, not forgetting in the meantime the practice of charity. Many poor families owe debts of gratitude to Mr. Hurst. He was a member of the Masons, Odd Fellows and Knights of Pythias.

He was a man who delighted to mingle with the people. He was honest and upright in all his dealings and had the confidence of all who knew him. He had a wide acquaintance and was loved by his friends throughout the state of Iowa.

While firm in his convictions he was a broad-minded, liberal man in every respect. The community in which he lived and the state of Iowa have sustained a great loss in his death. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the Journal of the Senate, and that the Secretary of the Senate be directed to forward engrossed copies of these resolutions to the family of the deceased.

Senator Wilson from a special committee submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions commemorative of the life, character and services of Gen. Cyrus Bussey beg to submit the following report:

GEN. CYRUS BUSSEY.

WHEREAS, on the 2d day of March, 1915, Cyrus Bussey, a former member of the State Senate of Iowa, departed this life at the city of Washington, D. C., his home in later years; and

WHEREAS, his record as a man, a legislator, a soldier and a citizen has been of the highest character; and

WHEREAS, it is fitting that we should recognize in some fitting manner the passing of this distinguished citizen; therefore be it Resolved, By the Senate of the State of Iowa, that in the death of Gen. Cyrus Bussey, the state and nation have suffered a distinct loss.

Cyrus Bussey was born in the state of Ohio on October 5, 1833. His father was a clergyman and in the early years of General Bussey's life, took the family to northern Indiana. There the boy received the usual rural schooling, his first employment being as a clerk in the dry goods store. Soon afterwards, he studied medicine and for a few years practiced the profession of a physician. In 1855 he moved to Iowa, settling at Bloomfield. In 1859 he was chosen a member of the Senate from the Third Senatorial District, at that time composed of Davis county alone.

In 1861 at the beginning of the war, he resigned his position in the state senate of Iowa, and entered the service of his country. Along the southern border of the state at the outset of the Civil War, he conducted a vigorous campaign against a force that was threatening the towns on the border of the state. This activity led to the organization of the 3d Iowa Cavalry, of which organization he was made colonel.

In February, 1862, his regiment was ordered to Springfield, Mo., to join General Curtis. The 3d Iowa Cavalry under the command of Colonel Bussey conducted an active campaign and participated in various battles in that locality. Colonel Bussey was placed in command of a brigade and was next made commander of the Second Cavalry Division of the Army of the Tennessee. Soon after he was placed at the head of all the cavalry in the rear of Vicksburg, where he rendered important service. Afterwards he led the advance of Sherman's army at Jackson after the fall of Vicksburg. Soon afterwards, commanding an expedition he further entered into Mississippi and encountered the Commander Jackson, whom he had met at the town of Jackson just before. A fierce battle followed, lasting for nine hours, the enemy being driven across Pearl River.

January 5, 1864, Colonel Bussey was made Brigadier General, his superior officers recommending him for "special gallantry." Towards the close of the war he acted as Commander in the administration of affairs in Arkansas, and his administration was highly spoken of as contributing greatly to restoring confidence among the loyal people, and infusing new hope for a bright future among them. He left the army with the rank of Brevet Major General. He retired from the service in September, 1865.

For several years General Bussey made his home at New Orleans, where he was at one time at the head of the Chamber of Commerce.

In the administration of President Harrison, he was Assistant Secretary of the Interior, serving there under General Noble, who was an officer under him in the 3d Iowa Cavalry.

It is believed that he was the last survivor when he departed this life, of all who sat in the General Assembly that answered Governor Kirkwood's call to duty in 1861. His Lieutenant Colonel, who went just before him, was the last to go of all the members of the House of Representatives.

For several years General Bussey and Gen. Grenville M. Dodge have been the only remaining survivors of the original Colonels of Iowa regiments. Be it further

Resolved, That his life as a citizen, as a soldier, as a legislator, and in every other walk of life has been such as to commend his example as an inspiration to coming generations. His unswerving fidelity to duty, the inflexible nature of his character, and his loyalty to duty in every respect, should inspire the rising generation of Americans to follow in the footsteps of that grand army of men of which General Bussey was a distinct type. And be it further

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the records of this Senate, and an engrossed copy thereof be furnished to the family of the deceased.

J. M. WILSON,
J. H. TAYLOR,
F. E. THOMPSON,

Committee.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

Senator Wilson in moving the adoption of the resolutions spoke as follows:

It was not my privilege or pleasure to be at all intimately acquainted with the subject of these resolutions. My first recollection of General Bussey was as a boy, when I heard him making a political address at a Republican meeting in the campaign of 1884, at Centerville. He was at that time in the prime of manhood, vigorous and alert mentally and physically and I remember after I heard him that I thought that here was my beau-ideal of man.

As the years came and went, I became more and more familiar with the record and career of this gallant soldier. The resolution, as presented, only briefly presents the main facts of this career, and as I reflect now on the life and services of General Bussey, and the other men in the "times that tried men's souls," faithfully performed their duty, I am impressed by the fact that there were giants in those days. As I listened a few weeks ago to the address of Col. W. P. Hepburn in the hall of the House of Representatives, this fact was borne in upon me that this generation, while they are doing perhaps their best to meet the problems that confront them are not of the same type of man as the Civil War and the years immediately following produced.

Not that there was anything better in the good old days of which we so often hear, but simply that the problems that confronted men of the last generation were of a character to develop the qualities of manhood that make for those rugged characteristic personalities that dominated the life and times in which they lived. Nothing would be gained by an extended review of General Bussey's career. Sufficient be it to say that in every respect, whether as a husband, father, soldier, citizen or a man, General Bussey measured up to the very highest standard. May I only say that should we follow his example, then as we enter the river of death, we shall have as our pilot the captain of our salvation, and as with storm shattered bark, we approach the heaven harbor, we shall not only hear the heaven ringing Alleluiahs of welcome, but the still small voice saying, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

And now on this occasion can anything be more appropriate to be said than is contained in the lines of the poet:

"Has your soul been invaded, your heart cut in twain,
By that terrible loss and terrible pain,
That anguish which comes when a dear one has died,
And the place that is vacant is close by your side,
When life seems so crushed by the force of the blow,
Even then in a way that you never may know
The hope of reunion is seeming to shine
Through the gloom and shadows one day at a time."

Mr. President, I move the adoption of the resolutions.

Senator Enger from a special committee submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions commemorating the life work and public service of the Honorable Philo Milton Jewell, begs leave to report the following:

PHILO MILTON JEWELL.

Senator Philo Milton Jewell was born at Mount Vernon, Knox county, Ohio. His parents were Mr. Holly Jewell and Mrs. Margaret Jewell. At the age of eight he came with his parents to Illinois, where they settled on a farm near Mount Carroll, in Carroll county. Here the subject of this sketch grew up to manhood.

He was educated in the public schools and at Mount Carroll Seminary. Having chosen medicine as his life profession he studied medicine and surgery in the State University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, took post-graduate work at the Chicago Polyclinic Institute, and also in after years during practice took post-graduate work from time to time at the leading medical schools of his time in this country.

He began the practice of medicine at his home town, Mount Carroll, Illinois. A few years later he moved to Orleans, Nebraska, and later to Lyndon, where he stayed until 1880, when he moved to Winneshiek county, Iowa, where he first located at Ossian and nine years later settled in the city of Decorah.

In 1875 he was united in marriage to Miss Nama Livingston, who with one son and two daughters survive him.

Senator Jewell was a man of integrity, a man of truth and honesty in speech and actions. His straightforwardness in speech would at times carry to a point where it would provoke enmity in persons who were unable to appreciate the sterling qualities of a thoroughly righteous and steadfast citizen. But beneath a firm and stern personality there beat a warm charitable heart. He truly loved his fellowmen. His profession brought him face to face with humanity under all conditions, from the most luxurious home to the humblest cabin where misery and want is in evidence on every side. And he must go when called, to the most humble, often neglecting himself, his comfort, and his health, to carry to the suffering relief from the pain and to extend help to the afflicted when often fully aware that personal gain would not result.

As a friend and neighbor he was kind, considerate, and true. In politics he was originally a democrat, although taking an independent view on political questions. During the prohibition movements in the '80's he joined the republicans, with whom, thereafter, he actively affiliated.

In 1897 he was appointed a member of the United States Pension Board for Winneshiek county, which position he held to his death. In 1899 he was elected County Coroner. In 1906 he was elected Representative from Winneshiek county, re-elected in 1908, and in 1910 was elected Senator from the Howard and Winneshiek district.

During his second term as senator, while attending the Thirty-fifth General Assembly, the disease which was destined to end this noble life made itself manifest. After struggling to be at his post in the Senate day after day, he at last was compelled to go to the hospital and undergo an operation, from which he rallied enough to be in attendance during the closing days of the Thirty-fifth General Assembly and take part in its deliberations. But soon after its close, the disease again renewed its battle against the weakened body and exhausted vitality. He lingered until the following winter, the 8th day of January, 1914, when he died at his home in Decorah, Iowa.

In his political career he showed the same noble qualities as in private life. The conscientious, fearless stand he took on all public questions is well known to all of his colleagues. He took the most diligent care to inform himself on all measures before him, and gained the full respect and esteem of all his co-workers.

It is fitting that public recognition of his life and services be made. Therefore be it

Resolved, That in the death of Senator Philo Milton Jewell the state of Iowa has lost a faithful public servant and an able statesman whose services promoted the public welfare and whose fidelity to public duty furnishes an example worthy of emulation;

Resolved, That the district of Howard-Winneshiek has lost a most useful and loyal citizen; his home community, an able physician, a willing co-worker and neighbor, and his family, a kind and loving husband and father; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread on the Journal of the Senate, and an engrossed copy of the same be sent to the bereaved family.

L. M. ENGER,
A. M. FELLOWS,
ROBERT QUIGLEY,
