So the joint resolution having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the Senate and its title was agreed to.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

I voted in favor of submission of the suffrage question at the last session. The majority of the voters in my district (Wapello county) and in the state at large voted last fall adversely, and I feel as a public servant I should be governed by the will of the majority, and that immediately following such a result it would now be too soon to again submit the question.

CHESTER W. WHITMORE.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

I vote "yes" in view of the fact that the constitutional amendment carried in both counties of my district.

BEN. EDWARDS.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

I vote "no" on Joint Resolution No. 5 because of the fact that the people of Iowa have passed on the question in the election of 1916 and that the same should not be so soon submitted.

JNO. R. PRICE.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

Explaining my vote on the woman suffrage amendment I voted "yes" on the understanding that a bill providing a referendum vote of the women of the state be passed and a vote of the women of the state taken at the general election in 1918.

SECTION 2. The state board of medical examiners shall constitute the board of chiropody and the secretary of the state board of health shall serve as the secretary of such board. Such board shall meet at least once each year on the third Tuesday in July and at such other times as they may deem necessary in the office of the state board of health. The majority of the board shall constitute a quorum and its meetings shall, at all reasonable times, be open to the public.

SECTION 3. Such board shall at any regular meeting, and may at any special meeting, examine applicants for licenses to practice chiropody. Each applicant shall be at least twenty-one years of age, of good moral character and shall show to the satisfaction of the board of examiners that he is qualified to diagnose contagious and infectious diseases, and all applicants making application on or after August 1, 1918, shall have completed a regular four years high school course or satisfy the examining board by passing an examination or otherwise that he has education equivalent thereto. Any person successfully passing such examination and meeting all the requirements of this act shall be registered by the board as a chiropodist and shall receive a license authorizing him to engage in the practice of chiropody on the payment of a fee of fifteen dollars. The secretary of such board shall keep a record of all such licenses.

Any person practicing chiropody shall be prohibited from using the prefix "doctor" or its equivalent in connection with his name unless he is also a duly registered physician and surgeon, nor shall he advertise in such manner as to lead the public to believe him to be different than a chiropodist as defined in this act. All unappropriated funds arising under this act, shall be accounted for and turned into the state treasury on June thirtieth of each year, except the sum of five hundred dollars, which shall be placed to the credit of the chiropodist fund, by the state treasurer, to defray current expenses of the board of chiropodist examiners.

Whereas, this nation must at last face the stark and naked truth that today we are virtually at war with a foreign power, and

Whereas, the one great principle that is to be determined in the stupendous conflict that is now devastating the civilized world is whether or not government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth, and

Whereas, the blood of our breed, all the way from Bunker Hill to Appomatox court house and Manila bay, has been gladly, willingly and joyously spent in the preservation and defense of the God-given principle that the people and not the kings or classes shall rule, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House concurring: That at this moment in the world's history, when the inevitable conflict between democracy and despotism has arrived at its supreme test, and with as full a realization of the import and solemnity of our action as that which inspired our forefathers who enunciated the declaration of independence that has made this world a livable place for the common people, we, the senators and representatives in the thirty-seventh general assembly of Iowa, conscientiously believing that we hereby express the will and sentiment of our state, call upon the Congress of the United States at once and before it is too late, to enact into law a bill that provides for such general military training in this nation to the end that the blood of our forefathers shall not have been shed in vain, and that constitutional government bought by that blood may yet survive.

Be It Further Resolved, That engrossed copies of this resolution be, and they are hereby ordered transmitted to the president of the United States, to the Honorable Albert B. Cummins and the Honorable William S. Kenyon, senators of the state of Iowa, and to each of the members of congress from the state of Iowa.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

Gentlemen of the Senate and House: Permit me to call your attention to one or two matters of grave importance that in my judgment ought to have your early consideration. Our foreign relations are such that it seems something of a definite and positive nature ought to be done, looking to an accurate census of the men available for military duty and a secret inventory of the materials within our commonwealth that may be used for defense or aggressive warfare as the case may be.

I am firm in the opinion that the people within our own border, and the nation, feel that we have delayed too long the matter of adequate preparation. We ought to have, at our command ready for use, information of the amount of food supplies, materials for manufacturing war equipment, the location of factories for use that can be altered for the purpose of manufacturing needed supplies, and all other information that is vital. This information is needed by our own state and by the war department. Some of the eastern states have already started on a similar census. I am sure that our location, far from the probable seat of hostilities, will not deaden us to the danger that confronts our common country, nor will it lessen our activities for real preparation.

I know, argument for the necessity of such a census is not necessary with this body at this time. I, therefore, submit for your patriotic consideration this question, and for your information, herewith attached, a bill similar to one passed in other states.

In all probabilities, our commonwealth will be called upon by the federal government to raise and equip an army. Preparations should be made by this legislature for such an emergency by the appropriation of money to be used only in case the call comes. I, therefore, suggest that before you adjourn provision be made for the raising of at least half a million dollars, and perhaps it ought to be more, to be used by the proper authorities so that Iowa may do her share in maintaining the rights of a free people.

I am sure that the gravity of the present situation has impressed itself upon your minds as it has upon mine. I am sure you feel as I do that the stalwart manhood of Iowa is ready to respond to the call of the colors. This being true, the graver duty falls upon us who are here clothed with authority, to see that every possible step is taken to make this sacrifice, to see that every possible step is taken to make this sacrifice, which these men are so willing to make, as easy as possible.

I, therefore, submit these two propositions, knowing that you will deal with them in the broad spirit of true Americans.

W. L. HARDING, Governor.

March 24th, 1917.

A bill for an act providing for a census and inventory of the resources of the State.

Be It Enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

SECTION 1. That the governor is hereby authorized to cause to be taken forthwith, a census and inventory of the resources of this state in men and materials available for use in the event of war, and the information thereby secured shall be placed at the service of both the state and federal government.

SECTION 2. That in the preparation of such census and inventory it shall be the duty of every public official and citizen in the state to furnish to the governor whatever information or assistance he may require.

SECTION 3. Appropriations.

SECTION 4. Publication clause.

Senator Whitmore moved that the communication from the governor together with the copy of bill submitted by the governor be referred to the committee on appropriations for immediate consideration.

Motion prevailed.

IOWA FLAG COMMISSION'S REPORT TO THE THIRTY-SEVENTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

The following report was received by the President of the Senate and ordered printed in the journal:

The undersigned, a commission created for the purpose of inquiring into the expediency of the selection and adoption of an official flag or colors for the state of Iowa, respectfully report:

From the remotest antiquity there have been in use, first in war, then in the pursuits of peace, such emblems, to be borne aloft, as would indicate the presence, or symbolize the power, of sovereignty. As sovereign power subdivided, or delegated its rights and privileges, it granted also the right or privilege to display colors. Thus the colors of sovereign kings and after of sovereign countries were devised and their use determined.

Symbolizing British sovereignty there had by right floated above the people of the American colonies the Royal standard of England. When that flag came down, there was an honest difference of opinion whether sovereignty which it has symbolized passed to the confederation of the thirteen colonies as a unit, or to the thirteen individual colonies. Through the era of confederation, and through that of the constitution up to the close of the Civil war, this confusion remained. Out of the situation grew recognition of double sovereignty. That of the nation itself as a unit, and that of the individual states. Which of the two was the dominant sovereign remained a question on the part of many until it was answered at Appomattox. Today all doubt has vanished as to the superior powers of the general government and as to those of the individual states being inferior. The emblems of these sovereignties are respectfully symbolized on the part of the United States of America, by the stars and stripes, and on the part of the individual states by such flags as they have adopted.

During the era preceding the Civil war, states which held for federal supremacy were slow to adopt state flags. The mind of the patriot instinctively resents the appearance of colors or symbols of sovereignty displayed so as to divide the attention, and, by inference, the devotion, of the beholder. In the acrimony of the Civil War the appearance of state flags displayed even in inferior relation to that of the Stars and Stripes was bitterly resented. Even today, it is bad form for the colors of a state to be officially displayed except in association with, and in inferior relation to the Stars and Stripes.

However, none who are now concerned with the functions of the government of the nation or of the states mistake the meaning of the respective symbols of sovereignty. In many instances, and particularly in the pursuit of modern military science of the nation with the separate states, and of state with state, colors designating federal from state units or organization, and those of state from state, are indispensable, whereas in the interchange of polite formalities the appropriate emblems and devices are of great benefit.

It appears, therefore, that there is a positive, tangible requirement of an official Iowa state flag; that such a symbol of sovereignty of Iowa should be brought into existence by the adoption of suitable laws, and the creation of rules and regulations that would establish and require the use of a state flag in connection with the Stars and Stripes; that the device and symbolism of a state flag should be drawn from the sources of pure history and art, and should harmonize in all essentials of meaning, form, color and use with the symbolism, use and beauty of the Stars and Stripes.

To which end your commission unprepared in talent and training respectfully recommend the creation of a new commission to be composed of a member renowned for his attainment in history, a second for his attainment in law, a third for his attainment in art, and two others for distinguished public service, all in Iowa, to be appointed by the governor of the state. The sole duty of this commission should be to study, report, and recommend to the general assembly a design, statute, rules and regulations for an official Iowa state flag.

A fund of $500.00 set aside by the thirty-sixth general assembly for the use of this commission was found inadequate and was in no part drawn. It should be diverted to the use of the new commission together with at least a thousand dollars more for its necessary use, should it serve without compensation.

All of which is respectfully submitted as the final report of the commission.

W. L. HARDING, Chairman.

GUY E. LOGAN.

EDGAR R. HARLAN, Secretary.

Iowa State Flag Commission.

BILLS SIGNED BY THE GOVERNOR.

A communication was received from the Governor stating that he had approved and signed Senate File No. 409.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

I desire to explain of record my vote on the resolution requiring the supreme court to give certain data with reference to the work of the individual judges of that court.

I have no objection to asking for and obtaining information relative to the work of the supreme court, including the number of cases submitted, the number of hearings had, the number of pages of abstract and arguments in cases submitted, and the number of opinions written and the general work of the court. This information has already been presented to the committee which reported out the bills for extra supreme court judge and showed that the court hears oral argument for about one-fourth of the time and that each judge must read in the neighborhood of fourteen thousand pages per year or an average of the time he puts in on the work. This is nearly sixty pages per day, besides he must attend and listen to arguments and write opinions. The resolution goes beyond asking for these matters and seeks on the day before the bill is presented for action to demand of the supreme court the number of opinions written by each judge; to which judges the various cases are assigned and what Judge Deemer, now dead, did with respect to his cases and what judges are now working on these cases. These latter matters are matters which no legislative body have the right to inquire of a judicial body. They are matters which may tend to make an unfair comparison between various judges of the supreme court, I do not know as they do, but they tend to. Any attempt of the Senate to play politics and to obtain a comparison of the various judges thereof is in my judgment beneath the dignity of the Senate and should not be supported in this resolution.

The information calls not only for the number of opinions written by each judge and which is public and which the clerk of any senator could easily obtain from the state librarian, but it goes into matters pending before the supreme court which have not yet been decided. The amount of work which each judge does on the supreme bench is not in the least indicated by the number of opinions which he files. One case may require ten times as much work as another and the importance of one case should be distinguished from another. I am willing that any information necessary to the action of the Senate should be transmitted to it and made public, but this resolution is not for this purpose. It is for the purpose, as it appears to me, to endeavor to show that some judges have not done as much work as others and thus discrediting some of the judges before the people.

Respectfully submitted,

CLEM F. KIMBALL.

The foregoing is respectfully submitted,

So the bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the Senate and its title was agreed to.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

I vote "no" on Senate File No. 164 because the bill has been so amended as to render nugatory both its purpose and its effect and I am opposed to incumbering the statute books with laws that mean nothing.

GEO. W. BALL.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

I vote against the bill because it does not apply equally to women in all cities and towns because it gives employers in one city advantages over others in the employment of women. Those, who vote for it, should not refuse to make it apply to the women of the cities and towns in their district.

CLEM F. KIMBALL.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

I voted against the bill because by the amendments unfair discriminations have been made both as to different lines of industry and as to cities of different population. It should apply uniformly to all lines of industry and to all communities.

O. A. BYINGTON.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

I vote "no" on Senate File No. 164 for the reason it excludes cities of six thousand and under.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE.

Senator Kimball, from the committee on retrenchment and reform, submitted the following report:

Your joint committee on retrenchment and reform of the 37th general assembly hereby reports the annexed committee bill revising the law with reference to the control of the state printing and binding by the document editor.

This bill supplements and completes the work done so well by the committee on retrenchment and reform of the 36th general assembly. It is intended to perfect the system which was then adopted, affecting the state printing and binding, to clear up the doubtful places necessarily left by the somewhat hasty legislation then enacted, and to make possible and perhaps certain the entire reform that was then inaugurated.

It will be recalled that the committee on retrenchment and reform held almost daily sittings during the entire session of the 36th general assembly and heard many persons in relation to the difficult problem of the state printing. Experts were called from other states and information gathered from every possible source. The net result was a decision to report the bill under which the document department was completely reorganized, and the work to a large extent centralized and placed under thorough supervision. A report was made to the 36th general assembly found on page 1923 of the House journal for that session and page 1798 of the Senate journal. In this report it was stated, in substance, that by reason of the new legislation and the reforms established there would be effected a saving of substantially $30,000.00 a year.

The committee is informed that these estimates and expectations of the reform work of that law are being substantially met. So far as it is possible to ascertain, from the start which has been made, the saving will be almost if not quite equal to the estimate then made.

That which is now proposed in the accompanying bill is the completion of the plan by such amendments as are shown by experience to be needed, and such additions as will continue along the same line. In the present bill there is still further tightening up of the lines and requirements of even more complete supervision. In the bill passed by the thirty-sixth general assembly the job printing, or miscellaneous work of the state, was left practically untouched, but it is found that as regards this large business there is just as much need of supervision as in regard to the publication of the books and reports. This is only one of the loose ends which it is sought to fasten up in the present bill.

One feature of the bill ought to commend itself to all, and its mere statement should be sufficient. It proposes that all the printing shall be supervised in one place, not a part of it; and that there shall be supervision not only of the composition, press work and binding, but of the engraving and paper stock and all other parts of the department. Then there is the provision that as to the various publications about which the code is either silent or contradictory and that is there shall be a definite responsibility. The state executive council consisting of four elective state officers will have the final say as to this vast amount of work, upon the recommendation and approval of the proper persons. This will make authority definite and responsibility so that it cannot be evaded. Then there are provisions in the bill for more complete report than ever before and a careful accounting so that in the future the actual cost of all the printing, for each and every department may be certainly known.

If the present bill is passed it will practically complete the reform work commenced two years ago and as yet but fairly started. It will make certain the estimates of saving to the state by the elimination of waste and by economies in no way injuring the value of the reports or publications.

CLEM F. KIMBALL, Chairman.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

By unanimous consent the following communication from the governor was read and ordered printed in the Journal:

Members of the Senate and House of the Thirty-seventh General Assembly:

Your attention is respectfully directed at this time to the world's shortage of food supplies. While this subject is not primarily one for legislation yet I feel that it is entitled to consideration at your hands.

Never before in the history of any living person has there been such universal demand for food and such universal lack of it as now. The beneficent bounty of the God of the universe in making Iowa a food producing state not equalled anywhere, and this world need, is an opportunity for our people to render a real service to all humanity.

To feed the hungry is a mission worthy of a great state and a great people. Those without food across the waters are our neighbors. Our ideals of representative government and modern inventions, all have blotted out distance, so that the cry for food in any part of the world is heard in our own homes.

We approach the seed time. It is the business of the patriot to see to it that the harvest is great. I want to draw the attention of this legislature to this world-wide opportunity to render a service to humanity and call upon our people to be vigilant in the duty they owe to a neighbor who suffers. I think it is conceded by all that our state, rich as she is, is not producing anywhere near the amount of food stuff possible at this time and that a concerted movement all along the line by all our folks will be rewarded by a great increase in yield.

The season is late for the most effective work but even now there is opportunity to do much that is helpful if we can only have the concentrated thought and action of all. The food stuffs grown in this state are well known and easily group themselves into four classes: grains, meats, vegetables and fruits.

This legislature can be of assistance in this work of increasing the supply by encouraging various associations and our Agricultural College, by appropriation if necessary, to extend aid to those who are already or maybe in the producing field. I suggest that you call to your advice on this matter the leading farmers of the state and others who are interested and I am sure ways of being of assistance will be found that will greatly help in this temporary crisis and be of lasting benefit to the state.

As a suggestion for activity I ask you to consider the advisability of taking some action for preventing the slaughtering of young "she stuff". This might well be called to the attention of the federal authorities with request for action. I am sure that merely calling this to the attention of our people at a time like this will be helpful, but if put into legislative enactment would have a marked effect. Other phases of activity and ways of rendering assistance will suggest themselves to you and the people of the state.

I will not go further into detailed suggestion at this time as to ways and means but call your attention to this food shortage and its great extent knowing that as legislators you feel as I do that your duty is only limited by your opportunity and that you will make use of your great office to direct action along these lines as well as along lines that will directly increase the production of food supplies.

If it is not out of keeping on this occasion I desire to call your attention and the attention of the people of Iowa to the part they can have in increasing materially the food supplies for the use of the world. The public of our state should be awakened to the great responsibility and opportunity that is at their door. Newspapers, I know, will be glad to give space for the publication of facts and information and communities and organizations will consider this problem in a practical way and give assistance to all who may desire it and thus materially increase these supplies.

Iowa has never had greater opportunity to render real service to the world than is offered in this world food shortage. We pride ourselves on our form of government and its adaptability to meet all needs and requirements. It ought to respond now to this world hunger call. Every hearth stone in Iowa ought to be an altar and every man and woman an evangelist in this Christ-like work of feeding the hungry.

I call upon this legislature to use the power and influence you have as a body and as individuals to take up this work. I am confident that your endeavor will meet a cordial response at every fireside in this great state and that the good that will come from encouraging our people will not only be of service to humanity today but for many years to come.

I bespeak your careful consideration and hearty co-operation.

W. L. HARDING, Governor.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

I voted on the affirmative upon House File No. 403 to move to reconsider for the following reasons:

While the work of the supreme court is heavy, I am of the opinion that it might be materially reduced without increasing the number of judges by raising the consideration in appealable cases, and that the interests of the litigants would be as well served as they are at the present time.

I am also of the opinion that there are other methods by which the work of the supreme court might be more nearly brought up to date based upon the following information which has come to me from sources which I deem dependable. Some time within the last six months, six of the judges of the supreme court have been practically up to date in their opinions. The docket of the supreme court shows that there are 64 cases which were assigned in 1915 on which opinions have not been filed, and that there were 65 cases assigned from January 1, 1916, to July 1, 1916, in which opinions have not been filed.

In checking up the Northwestern Reporter for the years 1915 and 1916 it is found that the average number of opinions filed per judge in the two years is 121. The fact that the chief justice is expected to file only half as many opinions as the other judges should be considered. The check of the Northwestern Reporter also discloses that in these two years the minimum number of opinions filed by any judge of the supreme court is 54 and the maximum is 158. The Northwestern Reporter for the two years was somewhat hurriedly checked up but the result I believe, to be substantially correct.

Further information is at hand that there are now in the hands of one of the judges of the supreme court approximately 150 cases on which opinions have not been filed, and the number of cases in the hands of the other six judges of the supreme court on which opinions have not been filed does not average more than eight.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

In voting "no" on Senate File No. 49, I do so on the admitted statement of the author of the bill and the chairman of the committee on appropriations, that there was no negligence on the part of the faculty in charge, that the claimant was not entitled to the same as a matter of right, but that it is a mere charity by the state.

I cannot under this statement vote out of the treasury moneys for charitable purposes where negligence appears on the part of the donee.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

I vote "aye" on substitute to Senate File No. 483, and I do this because I believe in local self-government. I prefer to permit incorporated cities and towns of a population of 500 or more citizens to establish and enact such Sunday regulations as seem best suited to the needs of each community. I am not prepared to deny to these cities the right to regulate their own affairs.

So the bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the Senate and its title was agreed to.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

I vote no on Senate File 553 known as the Torrens Land Title System bill, and give the following as my reasons therefor:

There is no demand for this bill by anyone who thoroughly understands its provisions. The evil sought to be remedied by this act and for which there is a demand for relief of expensive abstracts of title. This bill grants no relief from this evil, but in fact provides that an abstract of title shall be furnished before any tract or tracts of land shall be registered under this law. In addition it requires the employment of counsel, the giving of notice by publication, and other court costs. It is in fact nothing more than our present practice of quieting titles in court.

It is much more complicated than our present simple system of conveyancing which requires only the execution and delivery of a deed which shall be recorded.

Many land owners will be led to believe that the adoption of the Torrens system will relieve them of all their troubles, which in my judgment will be incorrect. No purchaser of land will be willing to invest his money on the opinion of many clerks in Iowa of the various district courts, that the title is clear, but irrespective of the Torrens system will do in Iowa as they do in every state where this law is effective; demand an abstract of title irrespective of the fact that the land is registered under this system and the same is true of private parties making loans on lands which are registered. So, because of the fact that the evil sought to be remedied is not remedied, I therefor vote no.

So the bill having failed to receive a constitutional majority was declared to have been lost.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

In voting for this bill I do so because I feel that in view of the fact that Congress of the United States has passed a similar bill by a large majority, it is to be assumed that there is merit in this measure and we can afford to give it a fair trial in this state.

N. J. SCHRUP.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

I voted for Senate File No. 3 after its amendment, although I believe it simply re-states the rights that labor and labor organizations now have under the law, both as to labor unions and labor injunctions, and although I consider such a law for that reason unnecessary.

O. A. BYINGTON.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

I voted for Senate File No. 3, after its amendment, as it simply re-states the rights that labor and labor organizations now have.

P. C. HOLDOEGEL.

MOTION WITHDRAWN.

By unanimous consent, Senator Wilson withdrew the motion made by him on April 3d, asking that the committee on enrolled bills return Senate File No. 474 to the Senate.

DIVISION OF REPORTS OF ENROLLED BILLS COMMITTEE ASKED FOR.

Senator Whitmore stated that he understood there had been filed with the Secretary of the Senate at the desk certain reports of committee on enrolled bills, among which was a report on Senate File No. 474, and asked that in receiving the reports of this committee, the report on Senate File No. 474 be considered alone.

Senator Frailey raised the question in regard to reports of enrolled bills committee that these were made only to inform the Senate of the action of the committee on bills submitted to them.

Senator Gibson stated that the report of the joint committee on these bills had been adopted by the House.

The President held that the Senate had it in its power to accept or reject the reports submitted by the enrolled bills committee.

Senator Gibson, chairman of the enrolled bills committee, asked unanimous consent to submit a separate report to the Senate on Senate File No. 474.

Senator Proudfoot raised the point of order that the committee already had the right asked for by unanimous consent.

President Moore stated that the report of the committee on enrolled bills was a record of their actions in regard to bills in their possession and the reports could be disposed of as the Senate so desired. The President held further, that the Senate could take up the matter of the recall of the bill on a simple motion to do so.

Senator Whitmore then moved that Senate File No. 474 be recalled to the custody of the Senate for amendment.

Senator Kimball raised the point of order that the motion referred to the original bill, Senate File No. 474, that this bill had passed both the Senate and House, and had been reported as enrolled by the joint committee on enrolled bills, and that therefore the original bill had been superseded by the enrolled bill.

Senator LeCompte raised the point of order that a motion to reconsider had once been filed on Senate File No. 474, that any action now taken would require a two thirds majority.

The President held the points of order not well taken.

Senator Kimball raised the further point of order that, as both houses had passed the bill, an amendment could not be made unless action to this effect was taken by both houses.

The President stated that action on Senate File No. 474 was within the power of the Senate.

Senator Enger moved the previous question.

Motion prevailed and the previous question was ordered.

President Moore stated that the following call of the Senate had been filed at the desk:

CALL OF THE SENATE.

We hereby request a call of the Senate to vote on the question moved by Senator Whitmore on Senate File No. 474.

BENJ. J. GIBSON.

W. H. ARNEY.

JNO. W. FOSTER.

T. E. TAYLOR.

E. M. SMITH.

A. L. BROXAM.

O. A. BYINGTON.

Senator Proudfoot raised the point of order that the call of the Senate was out of order as the previous question had been ordered.

The President held the call of the Senate in order as same had been filed at the desk before the previous question had been ordered.

The Secretary was instructed to call the roll to ascertain which Senators were present:

The roll call showed the following results:

Those present were—48.

By unanimous consent Senator Eversmeyer was excused from the call.

The sergeant-at-arms was ordered to bring absent Senators into the Senate Chamber.

Senator Wilson asked that Senator Stephenson be excused from the call.

Objection to excusing Senator Stephenson was made by Senator Kimball.

Senator Proudfoot again raised the point of order that the call of the Senate was not in order, and cited a section of the rules of the National House of Representatives, which stated that a call of the House was not in order after the previous question had been ordered.

The President against stated that the call had been filed previous to the motion for the previous question.

Senator Holdoegel moved that the rules be suspended and that Senator Stephenson be excused.

Senator Whitmore moved that the call of the Senate be raised.

Motion prevailed and the call was raised.

On the adoption of the motion by Senator Whitmore that Senate File No. 474 be recalled to the custody of the Senate, the vote was:

SECTION 2. That for the purpose of this act, each township shall constitute a registration district, in each of which there shall be a local registrar appointed by the board of supervisors of the several counties of the state. The local registrars shall hold office for a term of four years from July 4th, 1917, and until their successors are appointed and qualified. The state registrar shall have authority, however, to remove from office any local registrar who, in his judgment, fails or neglects to efficiently discharge the duties imposed by this act.

SECTION 3. That each local registrar shall, immediately upon his acceptance of appointment, appoint a deputy whose duty it shall be to act in his stead in case of his absence or disability.

SECTION 4. That from and after January 1st, 1918, the body of any person whose death occurs in this state or which shall be found dead herein, shall not be interred, deposited in a vault or tomb, cremated or otherwise disposed of or removed from or into any registration district unless a permit for burial, removal or other disposition thereof has been properly issued by the local registrar of the district in which the death occurred or the body was found.

In such cases, the death certificate shall be filed by the physician in charge, showing the cause therefor, if known, and a burial or removal permit as above provided, shall be required. Midwives shall not file certificate of a stillborn child, but such cases occurring without the attendance of a physician shall be treated as death without medical attendance as herein provided. No certificate of death shall be required for a still birth that has not reached the fifth month of uterogestation.

SECTION 8. That within three days after the date of each birth occurring after January first, 1918, there shall be filed with the local registrar of the district within which the birth occurred, a certificate of such birth. In case there is no physician, midwife or person attendant, it shall be the duty of the father and mother of the child, the owner of the premises, or the superintendent of the public or private institution, as the case may be, where the birth occurred, to file with the local registrar a certificate of such birth.

SECTION 9. The certificate of birth shall be of the standard form adopted by the United States census bureau.

SECTION 10. It shall be the duty of each local registrar, before the tenth day of each month, to forward to the state registrar the original of all certificates of births and deaths that shall have been filed with him during the preceding month, and a true and correct copy thereof to the clerk of the district court of the county in which his district is located, which shall be recorded by him in a book kept for that purpose, to be furnished by the board of supervisors of the county.

Transcripts or certified copies of the record of births and deaths may, without expense to the state, be obtained by the United States census bureau without payment of any fee.

SECTION 12. It shall be the duty of the state registrar to prepare, under the supervision of the state board of health, and furnish to the local registrars, at the expense of the state, the blanks to be used for making the returns of births as herein provided.

SECTION 13. Each local registrar shall receive the sum of twenty-five (25c) cents for each certificate filed with him and forwarded by him to the state registrar, the same to be paid by the county within which his district is located.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

To the Members of the Senate and House of the Thirty-seventh General Assembly:

In harmony with a communication made to you some days ago in reference to the world food shortage, I am again addressing you to direct attention to this, and for the further purpose of offering opportunity for definite action.

At the suggestion of many citizens, a conference of leading farmers and others interested in and connected with agriculture was held in the state house April 3d to discuss ways and means, and to gather the sentiment of our people on this vital subject. Resolutions were adopted at this meeting summing up the result of their deliberations and copy of same is hereto attached and made a part of this message.

There is herein a request made for an appropriation of money to be used by and through state agencies already in existence to immediately crystallize into action, public sentiment that is already well developed on this subject. The request for an appropriation to do this work, in my judgment, should meet the same response that a request for money to raise and equip an army would meet at your hands. To be prepared to feed those who wear the uniform in honor and defense of the colors is of primary and fundamental importance. An added argument in defense of such an appropriation is the thrift and saving that will be inculcated in our people by such a campaign. These prime virtues will last for at least a generation, for the boys and girls in our public schools will all be influenced.

A committee composed of one member from each congressional district has been appointed to take up immediately the work of voluntary organization in the counties and down to the township. Many organizations such as the grange and livestock associations have already volunteered to do their part in assisting in this work. I am sure we will have the co-operation of every association in the state that has to do with the production of food stuff.

I share with you the knowledge that many demands are made for money from the state treasury. However, I am firm in the opinion that this appropriation which is asked will be an investment that will return many fold and at the same time be a preparedness measure that will be a bulwark in any emergency that may confront our common country.

I bespeak your earnest, patriotic consideration of this matter.

W. L. HARDING, Governor.

Whereas, there is a great shortage of food throughout the world and in an enormous agricultural area the food output is being restricted on account of war, and

Whereas, the rate of food production in the United States is not keeping pace with the increasing home demands, resulting in a serious food shortage in this country which is accentuated by reason of the conditions abroad, and

Whereas, the Honorable W. L. Harding, governor of Iowa, has called this conference of officers of agricultural organizations and other farmers and business men to consider the situation from the standpoint of our state and nation; now, therefore

Be It Resolved:

1. That on this momentous day we recognize our country is facing the greatest crisis in our history, and

2. That it is our solemn and patriotic duty to be prepared as fully as possible for whatever events may be before us, and

3. That at this time every state and every individual citizen should make the best use possible of all resources and facilities at their command, in so far as such resources and facilities may be made consistently to serve the needs of the nation, and

4. That a special duty is laid upon this agricultural state to largely increase its production of food, and

5. That we in attendance at this conference, believing we represent the sentiment throughout the state of Iowa, respectfully recommend to the general assembly the passage of a joint resolution calling upon all the people in the state to give their aid to increasing food production by using improved methods, by utilizing land that now is idle, and by inducing many able persons not now employed to generously aid in these undertakings, and

6. That, believing in statewide organized efforts, we hereby respectfully urge the general assembly to make a special emergency appropriation to the agricultural extension department of the Iowa State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, for use in stimulating the production and preservation and proper use of foods for people and animals, and not less than $100,000.00 to be available immediately for the calendar year 1917; and a like amount additional for the calendar year 1918, provided, that the sum appropriated for the year 1918 shall not be used if in the judgment of the executive council its use is unnecessary or unwise.

MOTION TO RECALL HOUSE FILE NO. 406.

Senator Laffer moved that House File No. 406 be recalled from the sifting committee and placed on the calendar.

Senator Thompson raised the point of order that the motion whereby the sifting committee was created also specified which bills were to be considered, and that bills in the sifting committee were only to be considered when reported for passage by that committee, and therefore the motion to recall was out of order.

President Moore held that the Senate could reverse any action it takes at any time it desires, and held that House File No. 406 could be withdrawn from the custody of the sifting committee by a two-thirds vote of those present, and voting, a quorum being present.

Senator Gibson raised the point of order that the rules would have to be suspended to recall the bill from the sifting committee.

The President held that it took a two-thirds vote to recall, the same as required for a suspension of the Senate rules.

Senator Wilson asked for a division of the question to recall from the sifting committee and to place on the calendar.

Senator Price moved the previous question.

Motion prevailed and the previous question was ordered.

The President divided the motion of Senator Laffer, as asked for by Senator Wilson and on motion to suspend the rules and recall House File No. 406 from the sifting committee, the vote was:

Concurrent Resolution relative to increasing the food production of the state and providing for a conference at the state college of agriculture and mechanic arts, of the county agricultural agents within the state, and of sundry delegates to be chosen by the boards of supervisors, to consider and recommend to the people means and policies for securing such increase of food production and for conserving permanently the agricultural productivity of the state.

Whereas, there is a great shortage of food throughout the world, and in an enormous way the food output is being restricted on account of the war, and

Whereas, the rate of food production in the United States is not keeping pace with the increasing home demands resulting in a serious food shortage in this country which is accentuated by reason of the conditions abroad, and

Whereas, the state of Iowa, as the greatest agricultural state in the Union, is vitally interested in this problem of food production, and especially, that the balance of production of stock and grain be not unduly disturbed by the high prices now obtaining and likely to continue during the period of reconstruction that will follow the end of the war; now, therefore

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring:

(1st) That we recognize the patriotic duty imposed upon the agricultural interests of the state to do their full share in providing a food supply for the nation by thorough organization, by using improved methods, by utilizing land that is now idle, and by inducing all to generously aid in these undertakings.

(2nd) That in furtherance of this purpose the president of the state college of agriculture and mechanic arts be and is hereby directed to summon the county agricultural agents from the counties in which the same are employed, to meet in a farmers' conference at the state college, and he may ask to such conference such representatives of grain and stock associations throughout the state as he may deem best.

(3d) That in the counties having no such agent, the boards of supervisors be and they are hereby directed to name as a delegate to such conference some representative citizen deeply intrested in agriculture.

(4th) That said conference be called for a date which shall be within thirty days from the date of the passage of this resolution, and that such conference take under consideration the food production of the state, the probable effect of the prevalling prices on the stock and grain production respectively, the question of what measures and policies on the part of the farmers of the state will be preserve a proper balance in the state's production in agriculture, and what measures will best increase such production; that said conference consider such problems in the light, not only of the unusual conditions now obtaining, but with a view to the permanent policy of the state in matters affecting its productivity.

(5th) That such conference be and it is hereby directed to formulate its conclusions and recommendations in writing, and the same are hereby authorized to be printed as a bulletin by the state college for reproduction in the press of the state and for general circulation among the farmers of the state, in such quantities as the president of the state college may determine, to the end that the attention of the state may be called directly to the necessity of careful measures to conserve and increase its food production.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Whereas, there has been no increase in pay for these services over that paid during the last session of the legislature, and

Whereas, there has been a material increase in the cost of food supplies and living, and

Whereas, the duties of said janitors have been promptly and capably performed, now, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring: That the said janitors be allowed and be paid three dollars ($3.00) per day for the full and entire session of the legislature and that warrants be drawn for the amount of the difference between the salary now being paid them per day and three dollars ($3.00) per day, as back pay to said janitors.

SECTION 2. At all primary elections at which candidates for judges of the supreme, district, or superior courts are to be nominated, there shall be printed a separate ballot, entitled "nonpartisan Judicial ticket". The candidacies to succeed each incumbent or to fill vacancies in office shall be distinct and separate. Those for judge of the supreme court shall appear on the upper portion of the ticket, followed by those for judge of the district court and then for the superior court. The ticket shall specify the name of the incumbent to be succeeded or describe the vacancy to be filled as the case may be, indicate that but one is to be voted for, and the names of the candidates shall appear thereunder. Where more than one office of the same kind is to be filled this method shall be followed as to each. Thus, for example, it shall be as follows: For judge of supreme court to succeed, incumbent. Vote for one. Follow with names of candidates (). Each elector may vote for one candidate only to fill each place. The two candidates receiving the highest number of votes of those who are candidates to succeed a named incumbent or to fill a particular vacancy shall be declared nominated. In case of a tie vote which leaves it unsettled as to which candidates are nominated the secretary of state shall determine it by lot, except as to superior judge in which case the county auditor, instead of the secretary of state, shall determine who is nominated in the same manner by lot.

SECTION 3. At the general election in November there shall be placed on the ballots a separate ticket entitled the "Nonpartisan Judicial ticket" upon which shall be printed the offices to be filled and the names of the candidates for each office. Therein shall be stated the name of the particular incumbent to be succeeded or the vacancy to be filled, the names of the candidates nominated for the term or portion of term to follow such incumbent with direction to vote for one. Thus for example it shall be as follows: For judge of district court to succeed....., incumbent. Vote for one. (Names of two candidates or of one if only one was nominated). Of the two who are candidates to succeed a named incumbent or to fill a vacancy the one receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared elected and entitled to the office.

SECTION 4. The names of candidates shall be so printed on the ticket for use at the primary election and also on the ticket for the general election that they shall alphabetically rotate as in the nomination and election of other officers. The party affiliation of candidates present or past shall not be indicated in any manner on either the primary or election tickets.

By committee on military affairs, Senate File No. 590.

A bill for an act to provide for the taking of a military census of the militia of the state of Iowa. Designating peace officers to take such census under the direction of the adjutant general of the state. Further providing for the call of said militia into the services of the state of Iowa or the United States and the manner thereof and defining the duties of the various peace officers of the state in selection and calling of the militia for services and providing penalties for failure, neglect or any fraudulent act of any person in connection with such call or draft, and fixing penalties therefor.

Be It Enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

SECTION 1. That the sheriffs, town marshals, constables, justices of the peace and peace officers of the state of Iowa, shall for the purpose of this act be under orders of the adjutant general of the state of Iowa and shall carry out all of the provisions herein made under direction of the said adjutant general and shall make report of their doings hereunder to him.

SECTION 2. The militia of the state shall be divided into two parts: the active and the reserve militia; the active militia shall consist of the organized and uniformed military forces known as the national guard; the reserve militia shall consist of all those liable to service in the militia, but not serving in the national guard. The governor may order such organizations of the reserve militia or of designated classes thereof or of volunteers therefrom as he may deem to be for the public interest and may adopt therefor such parts of the regulations governing the active militia or establish such special regulations, or both, as he may deem proper.

SECTION 3. That whenever a call is made by the governor either for services in the state or under a call from the president of the United States the adjutant general shall forthwith certify to the mayor of any city or of any town or the sheriff of any county the number of men required under the provisions of this act, designating the number of men to be furnished by each city, town or county as the case may be and specifying the ages of the individuals to be included in such call.

Provided however that when such call is to be made the same shall be apportioned among the several counties of the state according to the population thereof and based upon the total number of men required under the call; provided further, however, that the governor may at his discretion make call from any city, town of the county or from the county at large; and may make such call so as to exclude married men or heads of families when they request or demand such exemption from call.

SECTION 4. That all of the above named peace officers of the state of Iowa, shall under the direction of the adjutant general of the state and the sheriffs of their respective counties immediately proceed to take a complete census of all military residents of their respective counties between the ages of 18 and 45 years and make a complete roster thereof; one of such rosters to be kept in the office of the sheriff of such county and one to be forwarded immediately to the adjutant general of the state of Iowa. Such census shall state the age, residence, occupation, military experience had, and such other information as shall be ordered.

SECTION 5. Whenever a call shall be made under the terms of this act the adjutant general shall certify to the proper officers as herein provided the number of men required from any city, town or county, such officer shall immediately prepare a complete list from the roster herein provided, of those subject to such services. Each name shall be placed upon a separate piece of paper, all of same to be placed in a proper receptacle and the required number of names of persons subject to such services shall be drawn by lot and names so drawn shall be listed and returned to the adjutant general as herein provided.

SECTION 6. Whenever it shall be necessary to call out any portion of the reserve militia for active duty in case of insurrection, invasion, tumult, riot or breach of the peace or imminent danger thereof, or when called forth for service under the constitution and laws of the United States, the governor may call for and accept as many volunteers as are required for such service, or he may direct his order to the mayor of any city or of any town of the sheriff of any county, who shall forthwith, upon the receipt of the same proceed to call as many of the reserve militia in his city or town or county, or accept as many volunteers as are required by the governor, and shall forthwith forward to the adjutant general a list of the persons so called or accepted as volunteers.

SECTION 7. For the purpose of maintaining the national guard at the standard of efficiency required for public safety, or of conforming to any organization now or hereafter adopted for the army of the United States or prescribed by the laws of the United States for the organization of the national guard, the governor may also, at any time, call for volunteers or order that an enrollment be made of that part of the reserve militia residing in any city or town or county and that a call be made, or volunteers secured therefrom, of such number as may be required to make up or complete the complement of organization of the national guard or any part thereof located therein; the governor in such case, shall direct his order to the mayor of any city or the sheriff of any county or marshal of any town, specifying the number required in each case, and upon the receipt of such order, the said mayor or the sheriff, as the case may be, shall proceed forthwith to enroll the reserve militia residing within such city, town or county and to call therefrom the number specified, or he may accept as volunteers as many as are required by the governor to make up such quota, and he shall forthwith forward to the adjutant general a list of the persons so accepted as volunteers or called for such purpose. The names and addresses of all persons so called or volunteering, shall be certified by the adjutant general to the commanding officers of the several regiments, battalions, squadrons, troops, companies or other units to which such persons are assigned for service, and the persons so named and certified shall be deemed for all purposes enlisted members of the organization and units of the national guard as the case may be, to which they are assigned, and entitled to all the rights and privileges and subject to all the obligations and duties of enlisted men therein, from and after the date of such certification, except those who may be found to be unacceptable or unqualified by the officers whose approval of enlistment application by the same persons, in the same organizations, would be required under the provisions of this act. HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Whereas, the thought of the nation is directed to a shortage of food-stuffs and clothing, and

Whereas, Iowa is the center of the food and textile producing section of the United States, and

Whereas, there is much concern that Iowa should exert every effort to bring to the attention of her citizens the great possibilities of the state as well as the tremendous responsibilities of her people, therefore

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring: That the effort of the public schools and the state educational institutions shall be directed to use their best endeavors to bring to the attention of pupils, students, and the people of the state, the resources, geography, history, civics, and literature of Iowa, and

Be It Further Resolved: That it is hereby made the duty of the superintendent of public instruction to prepare and distribute such printed information as may be obtained concerning the resources, geography, history, civics, and literature of Iowa, and to direct the manner in which such materials shall be used and the instruction which shall be given in such matters, and

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Senator Enger offered the following concurrent resolution:

Whereas, the necessities of a great war require the conservation of all our resources,—our soil for the raising of crops, our manufacturing and transportation facilities, in short, everything that enters into our industrial life, and

Whereas, in the last analysis, human brain and human brawn are the prime factors in the accomplishment of these ends, and

Whereas, during the long period of prosperity in this state, many young men and young women, in the full strength of the manhood and womanhood, especially in the cities and towns, are, in a strict sense, doing little or no effective and efficient work in the way of production, and are consumers rather than producers; therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House concurring: That we earnestly request city councils, city officials, county boards, school boards, ministers, teachers in the public schools, and editors, take this matter up with the young people in their several communities, to the end that the brain and muscle of the state shall be everywhere employed in productive enterprises; and they are urged, by means of meetings, efficiency rallies and newspaper articles, to arouse, first, their enthusiasm and public spirit, and, second, to so direct these energies that the maximum of accomplishment may be obtained, impressing upon them that the country can be served even by those who do not go to war.

Passed on file.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Senator Taylor offered the following resolution and asked unanimous consent for its immediate consideration:

Concurrent resolution agreeing to recommendations to the Congress of the United States, providing for the prohibition of the manufacture, sale and keeping for sale, of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes in the United States, and a special penalty for violation within four miles of any military reservation, post, fort, school, training ground, camp or recruiting station of the United States government.

Whereas, in previous struggles the government has resorted to the means of selling to economic, political vultures the right to tempt and debauch by the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, our young manhood sent to the front to protect our homes and firesides, and those who remain at home to support and equip those at the front; and,

Whereas, the state of Iowa is fully competent and ready to meet her quota of both men and means without granting any such demoralizing concessions, and many other states are standing in the same class with Iowa and demonstrating the same ability and determination to meet every requisition made upon them for men by sending a sober, competent, patriotic soldiery, and for funds by sending money untainted by having passed through the hands of the liquor oligarchy; and,

Whereas, the states of the Union which have taken necessary steps to protect their young manhood from the demoralizing and destroying influences of the intoxicating liquor crime, at home, have a right to demand and expect from their common government to whom they entrust their boys, to afford them, as far as possible, the same protection as provided for them in their home states; therefore,

Be It Resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

That we call upon the Congress of the United States to repeal all laws, taxing or licensing the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes as a means of providing funds for the maintenance of the government, and further legislation prohibiting the manufacture and sale of such liquors; and,

That they enact an emergency law prohibiting the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors or of keeping such liquors within four miles of any military reservation, post, fort, school, training ground, camp or recruiting station, established or maintained by the United States government; and that the violation of this law shall constitute the crime of treason, and shall be tried and punished by court martial, as for treason; and,

That copies of these resolutions be forwarded to each member of the United States Congress from Iowa, requesting that they take the necessary initiative to accomplish this purpose; and,

Be It Further Resolved, That we call upon the legislatures of other states, which prohibit the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, to join with us in this demand; and,

Be It Further Resolved, That the secretary of state be instructed to send copies of this resolution to our representatives and senators in Congress and to the secretaries of the states indicated herein.

By unanimous consent, the resolution was taken up and considered.

The resolution was lost.

I move to amend House File No. 320 by adding to section 1 as follows: Said section is further amended by striking from lines 36, 37 and 38, beginning at the semi-colon in line 36, the following words: "but any person may, between the fifteenth day of May and the first day of December, use not more than one trot-line in streams only and extending not more than half way across;" and by striking out from lines 38 and 39 the word "trot-line,".

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RETRENCHMENT AND REFORM.

To the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Thirty-seventh General Assembly:

GENTLEMEN—Your committee on retrenchment and reform to whom was referred the matter of communication of the governor in his message of February 10th, 1917, as found on pages 412 to 419 inclusive of the Journal of the Senate and pages 452 to 459 inclusive of the Journal of the House beg leave to report:

That we have carefully examined the records of the state and with the aid of the deputy state treasurer, Mr. Q. A. Willis and the chief revenue clerk, Mr. W. H. Williams of the auditor's office have gone over the estimates of receipts and the estimated liabilities from January 1st, 1917 to June 30th, 1917; have carefully examined the total appropriations for the current biennium and the receipts under the levies authorized for the corresponding period and for various years preceding it. That we have also examined the funds of the treasury with respect to the amount of cash on hand at various times; the amount received by the state as interest on daily balances at two per cent; the amount paid by the state as interest on sums borrowed to meet warrants; the balance in the different funds for several years last past, and have obtained such other information as we could find touching upon the expediency of increasing revenues to meet the needs of the state government.

We find the estimate of general receipts and expenditures as set forth in the governor's message approximately correct. This exists only because of an insufficient revenue of past years and not because of insufficiency of revenue for the present biennium. We find also that the estimated liabilities of the state up to June 30th, 1917, is based upon certain appropriations which might be called for, but which, in fact, as shown by past experiences are not called for during the period for which such estimate is made. The estimated deficiency, therefore, in the funds of the government on June 30th, 1917, is somewhat misleading and exists only in case every appropriation authorized be used to the amount stated in the estimate on the date to which the estimate is made.

The period of biennial appropriations is from July 1st, 1915, to June 30th, 1917. The estimate of the condition of the treasury should not be made upon the appropriations made by the last general assembly, but on the estimated expenditures under the appropriations provided by statute. Appropriations made by the legislature should be definite and flat and not left to uncertainty. It should be made on an estimate covering the total amount and not for such sum as may be necessary without other limitation. The estimated expenditures for the fiscal period from July 1st, 1917, to June 30th, 1919, as based upon appropriations made for the last biennium and expenditures thereunder are as follows:

Expenditures under general appropriations for the biennium $12,357,720.00
Add to this, estimated increases and corrections..... 14,200.00

Total statutory appropriations.....$12,371,920.00
Estimated expenditures under temporary appropriations provided by the omnibus bill 639,140.00

Total $13,011,060.00
To this should be added some special items as the providential fund for insuring state buildings; interest on state funds and extraordinary expenses amounting, as based upon former expenditures, to..... 69,800.00
Making a total of $13,080,860.00

These figures are taken from pages 10 to 22 inclusive of the report of the auditor of state, as supplemented by estimate made by clerk of revenue department, state auditor's office.

The receipts of the state from June 30th, 1915, to June 30th, 1916, as disclosed by the report of the auditor of state, page 169, and as corrected by the revenue clerk..... $ 8,546,045.93
From this should be deducted 90 per cent of the automobile tax which is returned to the counties..... 1,553,570.00

Balance 6,992,475.93
There should also be deducted the amount of hunter's license fees 95,841.07

Balance 6,896,634.86
Assuming that the revenues of the state for 1916 and 1917 will be the same, whereas it is a well known fact it will be greater, we can by doubling this balance approximate the minimum income of the state for the biennium ending June 30th 2

$13,793,263.64
Deducting from the above income the total amount of estimated expenditures for all appropriations..... 13,080,860.00

Leaves a balance of estimated revenues over the necessary expenditures to meet the appropriations on the 30th day of June, 1917 712,403.64

It is apparent therefore, that for the past two years the income of the state has been sufficient to cover expenditures under all existing appropriations. The difficulty with the governor's message of February 10th is in the following four items:

Outstanding warrants January 1st, 1917.....	287,541.00
Automobile tax owing to counties.....	409,875.00
Amount due fish and game fund, used for general purposes..	123,700.00
Amount due boundary water fund.....	1,777.00

Total	822,893.00
-------------	------------

To make up the deficit referred to in the governor's message to this should be added the amount of appropriations which will be uncalled for and unused June 30th, 1917...	663,618.00
--	------------

Making a total, as found by the governor..... $ 1,486,511.00

The following table shows the receipts and disbursements of the state for the years ending June 30th, 1910, to June 30th, 1916, inclusive:

Year ending—	Receipts	Disbursements	Gain and Loss
June 30th, 1910.....	$4,347,528.22	$4,149,803.13	$197,725.09 gain
June 30th, 1911.....	4,236,876.79	4,008,252.93	278,623.86 gain
June 30th, 1912.....	4,983,448.10	5,224,501.27	241,053.17 loss
June 30th, 1913.....	5,423,110.92	5,084,769.15	338,341.77 gain
June 30th, 1914.....	6,101,659.88	6,743,626.87	641,966.99 loss
June 30th, 1915.....	6,706,484.43	6,588,300.15	118,184.28 gain
June 30th, 1916.....	8,546,045.93	8,684,265.77	138,219.84 loss

It will be seen that the state got behind on its finances at the end of the biennium of 1913 and 1915.

The following table shows the cash of the state on hand in the banks at the end of each fiscal year from 1912 to 1916, and the balance on hand in the state treasury at the corresponding dates discloses how the balances in the treasury have been reduced.

Year ending—	State moneys deposited in banks	Balances on hand after deducting amount due in all funds from cash on hand in banks
June 30th, 1912.....	$1,297,616.75	$ 812,537.15
June 30th, 1913.....	1,688,964.58	1,055,494.49
June 30th, 1914.....	*1,643,638.36	358,411.06
June 30th, 1915.....	1,439,329.56	217,857.85
June 30th, 1916.....	1,091,013.52	165,163.31

From the foregoing statements it will be seen that if the appropriations for the state for the coming biennium do not exceed those of the past biennium the present revenue of the state is sufficient to meet all expenditures of the state under such appropriations. Leaving, however, but a small margin of balance in the treasury.

The income of the state is sufficient to cover the disbursements under past appropriations. By reason of the irregularity of the income of the state funds on hand are often, at certain periods of the year, insufficient to meet the demands upon the treasury at that time. It is necessary therefore, to carry a larger balance in the treasury than existed June 30th, 1916. The following table will show cash of the state on hand in the banks at the end of each month, from January 31st, 1916, to December 30th, 1916, and warrants at interest.

* Levy under 35th G. A.

Date—	Amount of state funds on deposit in banks	Warrants at interest
January 31st, 1916.....	$ 453,559.69
February 29th, 1916.....	705,587.27
March 31st, 1916.....	1,043,275.48
April 29th, 1916.....	1,428,364.37
May 31st, 1916.....	1,399,315.45
June 30th, 1916.....	1,091,013.52
July 31st, 1916.....	474,542.68
August 31st, 1916.....	96,530.66
September 9th, 1916.....	79,324.67	$106,588.50
September 20th, 1916.....	54,146.30	180,563.88
September 30th, 1916.....	43,778.50	239,285.61
October 10th, 1916.....	67,210.99	263,208.51
October 20th, 1916.....	565,407.09	344,260.49
October 31st, 1916.....	837,567.92
November 10th, 1916.....	495,017.80
November 29th, 1916.....	296,864.54
December 20th, 1916.....	203,048.33	91,287.56
December 30th, 1916.....	271,415.34	115,534.94

The above table means that large balances in the various funds are not called for except at certain times during the year. Warrants being at interest for less than sixty days altogether.

The state has collected from the banks upon daily balances upon the basis of two per cent during the years of 1914, 1915 and 1916 the following sums:

1914	$23,040.52
1915	18,070.72
1916	13,060.53

The state has paid on outstanding warrants and on bank

balances from Sept. 9th, to Oct. 20th, 1916..... $ 1,314.61

It will be seen that while the state has at times been paying interest on sums equaling nearly $200,000.00, it has on the other hand during months of March, April, May and June had on hand over a million dollars on deposit in the banks.

To be able to meet all warrants when presented the state would have to carry a cash balance in the banks of over one and one-half million dollars and while a sufficient balance should be carried so that no person will be embarrassed by a failure of the state to pay its warrants, we think it is better to borrow temporarily the necessary funds to meet the peak demands upon the treasury than to levy too large a surplus. Money taken from the tax-payers is worth more than two per cent on daily balances. Any business man would occasionally borrow from the bank to cover short periods of overdraft rather than maintain for long periods large balances that might be better invested.

We recommend an overdraft for the short period above indicated when necessary to carry the funds over the low tide rather than to greatly increase the interest income during high tide of deposits in the banks.

If the appropriations for the state are not increased the levy for state purposes will not need to be increased for the coming biennium.

The large appropriation for military assistance to the federal government; the provision for the armories, and the increased needs of the state will necessarily make the appropriations larger for the next two years than the past two. This requires an increased revenue. Increased revenue must either come by a direct tax upon all property by an increase of the mileage by the executive council, or by some form of special tax.

Many of the states have a direct inheritance tax. The chief objection urged against such a tax is that it puts an extra burden upon the widow and children who have helped to produce the property. This objection is largely met by providing that the tax shall not attach until the estate taxed exceeds all that any family working could ordinarily earn.

It is proposed to apply the tax to estates of $25,000.00 and over. It is further proposed to make the initial rate on such estates so small it cannot result in any hardship to the heirs or spouse of the deceased. The initial percentage is one-half of one per cent. It is proposed to increase the rate of tax from an initial of one-half of one per cent to five per cent on large fortunes. Those who inherit will thus not be unduly burdened. The burden too will be less in taking a small amount from what persons never before possessed than by taking a percentage of accumulation of persons while they live. Large fortunes gain by the advantage of their prestige and power what the small tax payer cannot earn, and the large fortune often escapes taxation in proportion to the smaller one. It is estimated that this will take care of from $500,000.00 to $1,000,000.00 of the revenues of the state after it is under full operation.

If this method of taxation is adopted by this assembly it will take sometime before the system can be put into full operation. Until that time the state levy should be increased only enough to cover the added appropriations due to the war and its resulting necessities.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS.

By committee on appropriations, Senate File No. 593, a bill for an act to authorize the paving and sewerage of Summit street, in Marshalltown, Marshall county, Iowa, adjacent to the grounds belonging to the Iowa soldiers' home.

A bill for an act to authorize the paving and sewerage of Summit street, in Marshalltown, Marshall county, Iowa, adjacent to the grounds belonging to the Iowa Soldiers' Home.

Whereas, the necessities of a great war require the conservation of all our resources—our soil for the raising of crops, our manufacturing and transportation facilities, in short, everything that enters into our industrial life, and

Whereas, in the last analysis, human brain and human brawn are the prime factors in the accomplishment of these ends, and

Whereas, during the long period of prosperity in this state, many young men and young women, in the full strength of the manhood and womanhood, especially in the cities and towns, are, in a strict sense, doing little or no effective and efficient work in the way of production, and are consumers rather than producers; therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House concurring: That we earnestly request city councils, city officials, county boards, school boards, ministers, teachers in the public schools, and editors, take this matter up with the young people in their several communities, to the end that the brain and muscle of the state shall be everywhere employed in productive enterprises; and they are urged, by means of meetings, efficiency rallies and newspaper articles, to arouse, first, their enthusiasm and public spirit, and, second, to so direct these energies that the maximum of accomplishment may be obtained, impressing upon them that the country can be served even by those who do not go to war.

Senator Whitmore offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

I move to amend concurrent resolution appearing at page 1723 Senate Journal by striking the third paragraph and substituting the following:

"Whereas, there are in the state a large number of boys and girls, men and women of all ages, who can not serve their country on the fighting lines, but who are willing and anxious to devote their services in Red Cross work, in increasing food supply, and in every way by which men who can go to the front may be released from civil life and aided by the folks at home, therefore,".

HOUSE AMENDMENTS CONCURRED IN.

Senator Helmer called up for consideration Senate File No. 16 and moved that the Senate concur in the following House amendments:

HOUSE AMENDMENTS.

Amend Senate File No. 16 as follows:

That a circle not less than one-half inch in diameter be placed before the words "Republican" "Democratic" "Prohibition" and Union Labor" in line 59 of section 2.

That the following sections be added as sections 8 and 9 of the bill:

SEC. 8. That section 1119 of the supplement to the code, 1913, be amended by substituting therefor the following:

Upon retiring to the voting booth the voter hall mark his ballot by placing a cross, if he desires, in the circle at the head of one ticket on the ballot, or the voter may place a cross in the square opposite the name of any candidate for whom he desires to vote, whether he has put a cross in the circle or not. The voter may also insert in writing in the proper place the name of any person for whom he desires to vote, without making a cross opposite thereto. The writing of such name without making a cross opposite thereto shall constitute a vote for such person but the making of a cross opposite a name therein shall not affect the validity of the vote.

SEC. 9. That section 1120 of the supplement to the code, 1913, be amended by substituting therefor the following:

When a circle is marked the ballot shall be counted for all the candidates upon the ticket beneath said circle, except candidates for those offices for which some candidate has been otherwise voted for by marking a square. When a square in front of the name of any candidate for an office has been marked, a mark in the circle shall not count for any candidate for that office. The placing of a cross in a square beneath the party circle which has also been marked shall not invalidate the ballot but shall be considered as additional and supplementary to the mark in the party circle. When more candidates than the number to be elected to the same office are voted for by marking the squares opposite their names the vote shall not be counted for any candidate for that office. If less than the whole number of candidates to be elected are voted for by marking the squares opposite their names the vote shall be counted only for those marked in the square and a mark in a circle shall not apply. If for any reason it is impossible to determine the voter's choice for any office, his ballot shall not be counted for such office, but a mark in the circle of any ticket on the ballot shall not be held to make it impossible to determine the voter's choice. Any ballot marked by the voter in any other manner than as authorized in this chapter, and so that such mark may be used for the purpose of identifying such ballot shall be rejected.

Amend Senate File No. 16 by adding thereto the following as an additional section:

"SEC. 10. That the law as it appears in chapter two-b (2-b), title six (VI), supplement to the code, 1913, be and the same is hereby repealed, and that the following be enacted in lieu thereof:

"The state conventions of each political party held in accordance with the provisions of section 1087-a-27, supplement to the code, 1913, shall nominate candidates for the office of judge of the supreme court, and they shall be elected at the general election in November, in the same manner as the governor of the state is elected.

In judicial districts now or hereafter composed wholly of one county, the candidates for the office of judge of the district court shall be nominated at the regular primary election, and elected at the general election in November, in the same manner as elective county officers are nominated and elected.

In judicial districts now or hereafter composed of more than one county, there shall be a district central committee composed of one member from each county or such district. Such committeemen shall be elected by the county convention in such county held in accordance with the provisions of section 1087-a-25, supplement to the code, 1913. Until such conventions are held, the chairman of the county central committee of each political party shall act as committeeman from his county for such judicial district. In such judicial districts in which a judge of the district court therein is to be elected, a judicial convention shall be held by each political party participating in the primary election of that year. Not less than ten days and not more than sixty days before the day fixed for holding the county convention, a call for such judicial convention to be held, shall be issued by the party central committee for any such district, and published in at least one newspaper of general circulation in each county composing any such district, and which shall state, among other things, the number of the delegates each county of the district shall be entitled to and the time and place of holding the convention. Any such call shall be signed by the chairman of the party central committee for any such district, and be filed by him with the county auditor not less than five days before the county convention, and the county auditor shall attach a true copy thereof to the certified list of the delegates required to be delivered by him to the chairman of the county central committee of the respective political parties. Each county convention held in such judicial district shall select such a number of delegates to the judicial convention as is called for by the party organization of such judicial district. No such district convention shall be held earlier than the first Thursday or later than the fifth Thursday following the county convention. The convention when organized, shall make nominations for the office of judge of the district court in such district. The organization of the procedure in such judicial district convention shall be the same as in the state convention. Such judicial district convention may transact such other business as may properly be brought before them. Judges of the district court in such judicial districts shall be elected at the general election in November in the same manner as state senators are elected.

The Sergeant-at-arms was instructed to bring the absent Senator into the chamber.

Senator Enger appeared in the Senate chamber.

Senator Caswell moved that the motion of Senator Helmer to concur in the House amendments to Senate File No. 16 be laid upon the table.

President ordered the amendments divided.

HOUSE AMENDMENT.

Amend Senate File No. 16 as follows:

That a circle not less than one-half inch in diameter be placed before the words "Republican" "Democratic" "Prohibition" and "Union Labor" in line 59 of section 2.

That the following sections be added as sections 8 and 9 of the bill:

SEC. 8. That section 1119 of the supplement to the code, 1913, be amended by substituting therefor the following:

Upon retiring to the voting booth the voter shall mark his ballot by placing a cross, if he desires, in the circle at the head of one ticket on the ballot, or the voter may place a cross in the square opposite the name of any candidate for whom he desires to vote, whether he has put a cross in the circle or not. The voter may also insert in writing in the proper place the name of any person for whom he desires to vote, without making a cross opposite thereto. The writing of such name without making a cross opposite thereto shall constitute a vote for such person but the making of a cross opposite a name therein shall not affect the validity of the vote.

SEC. 9. That section 1120 of the supplement to the code, 1913, be amended by substituting therefor the following:

When a circle is marked the ballot shall be counted for all the candidates upon the ticket beneath said circle, except candidates for those offices for which some candidate has been otherwise voted for by marking a square. When a square in front of the name of any candidate for an office has been marked, a mark in the circle shall not count for any candidate for that office.

The placing of a cross in a square beneath the party circle which has also been marked shall not invalidate the ballot but shall be considered as additional and supplementary to the mark in the party circle.

When more candidates than the number to be elected to the same office are voted for by marking the squares opposite their names the vote shall not be counted for any candidate for that office. If less than the whole number of candidates to be elected are voted for by marking the squares opposite their names the vote shall be counted only for those marked in the square and a mark in a circle shall not apply. If for any reason it is impossible to determine the voter's choice for any office, his ballot shall not be counted for such office, but a mark in the circle of any ticket on the ballot shall not be held to make it impossible to determine the voter's choice. Any ballot marked by the voter in any other manner than as authorized in this chapter, and so that such mark may be used for the purpose of identifying such ballot shall be rejected.

COMMENDATION OF CLERKS.

MR. PRESIDENT—I ask unanimous consent to offer and have printed in the journal the following commendation for services performed on the part of certain committee clerks of the Senate. In offering this commendation, I do not desire to reflect upon any of the other committee clerks of the Senate, but to express deserving commendation to certain of these clerks who have been working in connection with the enrolled bills committee.

It should be realized that the work of the committee clerk for the committee on enrolled bills is very arduous and requires not only ability as a stenographer, but also requires fidelity and patience as well as ability. It should be realized that the enrolling committee of the Senate has handled something like two hundred and twenty-two bills, upon which four separate reports were required which necessarily had to be clerically perfect. And further, upon this clerk depended to a large extent the work of seeing that the bills were signed and delivered to the governor of the state. Miss Madeline Harnagel has handled this position during the present session of the Senate, and I feel that to her there is due a special commendation. I have had experience with various stenographers in my varied experience, but it has not been my pleasure to know of one who could do this work so faithfully and as well as she had done, and I feel that it is no more than her due to spread this commendation upon the records of this Senate.

In connection with this matter, I desire also to call the Senate's attention to the work which has been done by other committee clerks of the Senate during the last week of the session. The president of the Senate assigned to this committee the following committee clerks for service: Harriett King-Card, Miss Emma Kasemeier, Miss Laura Schulze, Mr. Webb Stump, Miss Betty Moore, Mrs. Edith McElroy, Mrs. Emma Malm and Mr. Walter Beam. These clerks have rendered very efficient service to the committee and to the Senate. They were efficient, capable and faithful.

In this connection, I desire also to say that the desk force of the Senate and Mr. Glasner, the enrolling clerk, have been very faithful in the performance of their duties so far as they were connected with this committee, and the success of the work has been largely due to their untiring efforts.

I offer this commendation, and ask unanimous consent that it be printed in the journal.

Unanimous consent was granted.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the records of the Senate and a copy be transmitted to his family.

O. A. BYINGTON,

JNO. W. FOSTER,

D. S. FLECK.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

In the absence of Senator Byington, Senator Foster moved that the resolution be adopted and Senator Newberry rose to say the following:

“Geo. W. Ball was a fine lawyer, one whom you could trust and honor and his work in this body has been most useful.”

Senator Laffer, from a special committee, submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to prepare resolutions commemorating the life, character and public services of Cassius M. Brown, beg leave to submit the following report:

CASSIUS M. BROWN.

Cassius M. Brown, a member of this body during the Nineteenth and Twentieth General Assemblies, died at his home, Sigourney, Keokuk County, Iowa, on May 8, 1913. Mr. Brown was a native of the state of Ohio, where he was born on November 9, 1845. His father, Garretson Brown, was born in Maryland, and his mother, Miss Anna Holland, was born in West Virginia. He has the unique record of being the last senator to serve his district in the old capitol building and the first one to serve the district in the present capitol building. He was a lawyer by profession and took an active part in the civil war. He was married early in life to Miss Flora Sampson, daughter of Colonel Ezekiel Sampson, who were also residents of Sigourney, Iowa. Mr. Brown was a man whom his fellow citizens and neighbors delighted to honor. He was active in religious affairs and in all those movements that had for their purpose the betterment of the community and the uplifting of mankind. He was always faithful and efficient in his service, but over and above all these things, he was a genial, helpful and sympathetic friend. He went to his grave after a long and useful life and in the midst of his work, being found dead in his office on the 8th day of May, 1913. His record is clean and it will be a source of pride and satisfaction to his family and his state until the end of time.

Resolved, That in his death the community and state lost a worthy and upright citizen and an honorable man, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the journal of the Senate and a copy of the same be transmitted to the family of the deceased.

C. C. LAFFER.

J. M. WILSON.

JNO. R. PRICE.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

Senator Laffer in rising to move the adoption of the resolutions, spoke as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT AND SENATORS—As you all know I make no pretense as to oratory but I could not miss this opportunity of saying a few words about the life and character of my friend who is now gone and who was once a member of this Senate.

Cassius M. Brown's word was as good as his bond. His name was synonymous with truth and integrity. His life was clean and his record untarnished. His family was his world and devotion and self-sacrifice were the key-notes of his character. He was a simple, unassuming, plain, matter-of-fact, business man to the world. To the poor and unfortunate he was a tender and sympathetic friend. In his home he was a child with his children; a boy with his boy, the best chum of his girls and up to the day of his death, his wife's devoted lover and companion in the truest sense of the word. Out-spoken, quick to censure what he believed to be wrong and ready to fight to the death for what he believed was right, he had justly earned the full confidence and respect of his fellows and the love of those of us who had the honor of being more closely associated with him. His great, earnest heart suffered for the woes of all humanity and he would have shared his last crust with friend or foe in need. His life was a burst of sunshine and his friends miss that hearty laugh and that smile that he always wore and that hand that was always extended in good fellowship. The little children of Sigourney miss him. He loved them and always had a kind word for them and for all the boys and girls. In fact Cassius M. Brown loved all the world and if he had an enemy, we do not know it. He was a good, true friend and more cannot be said of any man.

Life is real; life is earnest,
And the Grave is not its goal,
Dust thou art to dust returneth,
Was not spoken of the soul.
Not enjoyment and not in sorrow
Is our destined end or way.
But to act, that each to-morrow,
Finds us farther than today.

H. C. BURGESS.

Senator Enger, from a special committee, submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee who was appointed to draft resolutions commenting on the life, career and public services of the Honorable H. C. Burgess, late of Cresco, Iowa, beg leave to submit the following:

Hon. H. C. Burgess, of Cresco, Iowa, Senator from the Forty-second District during the Thirty-second and Thirty-third General Assembly, was born in Fairfield, Maine, December 20, 1846. In 1864 he came with his parents to Iowa and located at Lansing. Two years later he moved to Howard county and soon afterwards took charge of a lumber yard for Fleming Bros. in whose employ he remained for seventeen years and had charge of the yards in Ossian and Hull, Iowa, and in Mitchell, S. D., and finally in Cresco. In 1885, after six years' stay in Cresco, he bought out his employers and continued the lumber business there. This business he pursued actively until about 2 years ago when failing health forced him to retire and he turned the business over to his sons, who for years had been actively associated with him. Besides this business in Cresco he also established prosperous lumber yards in neighboring towns in his county which are now operated by his sons. In 1869 he was united in marriage to Miss Emily J. Copper. To this union was born four sons. The eldest died in infancy. The others—Charles, Ray and Joseph—grew up to manhood and as above mentioned associated themselves with their father's business. After failing health forced him to retire from business he spent as much of his time as his health would permit in the enjoyment of friends, flowers, the garden and the rivers. After a long illness he passed away in his home on the 8th day of March, 1917.

Senator Burgess was always actively interested in politics and aligning himself with the republican party. His aim in this direction was for clean politics and good government; for the up-building of the state and the moral and intellectual elevation of society. He was a man of deep and long enduring friendship, intensely loyal. A friend of his was always a friend. He was a loyal member of his church where his natural benevolence and wise counsel was a great asset to the congregation and where his departure is a loss that will long be felt by the pastor and members. In every association with others he was unfailingly kind and solicitous of their happiness. Always devoted and gentle beyond words with children. Upright and honorable in all his dealings. His life has brightened all those with whom it came in contact with. Justice, integrity and honesty were his strong characteristics. He hated falsehood and always spoke his mind when it was time to speak, without fear or favor. As firmness and truth always command respect and confidence, he was respected and trusted and blessed with a multitude of friends who mourn his departure.

In 1906 he was elected Senator from the Forty-second district, composed of Howard and Winneshiek counties. In the legislature his activities and character brought him influence and respect, as has been bestowed on few. His counsel and judgment was sought and respected and his influence went far in the shaping of legislation during his term of service.

It is fitting that public recognition of his life be made, therefore be it

Resolved, That in the death of Senator Henry Clay Burgess the State of Iowa has lost a faithful public servant and an able statesman whose services promoted the public welfare and whose fidelity to public duty furnished an example worthy of emulation;

Resolved, That the district of Howard-Winneshiek has lost a most useful and loyal citizen; his home community, a willing co-worker and neighbor, and his family, a kind and loving husband and father; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread on the Journal of the Senate, and an engrossed copy of the same be sent to the bereaved family.

L. M. ENGER.

A. M. FELLOWS,

B. W. NEWBERRY.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

Senator Enger, in moving the adoption of the report, spoke as follows:

Senator Henry Clay Burgess of Cresco was among the men who saw the State of Iowa with only partly settled areas. He saw it develop into a modern up-to-date State, abounding in wealth, strong in intellect, equipped with modern institutions.

He saw his own town, Cresco, as an insignificant prairie railway station develop into a beautiful little city—a shining pearl of the prairie. But he was not an idle spectator. He took an active part in all these improvements. He was an example and an inspiration among his fellow-men and left a lasting and beneficial influence in his community.

While he represented our people in this chamber, he had our full confidence, and never for once had we any reason to question his integrity nor doubt his ability.

Senator Voorhees, from a special committee, submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to prepare resolutions commemorating the life, character and public services of William Fiske Cleveland, beg leave to submit the following report:

WILLIAM FISKE CLEVELAND.

William Fiske Cleveland was born in Waterville, N. Y., August 30, 1844, and in the public schools and the Waterville Seminary completed his academic education. In 1865 he removed to Louisville, Ky., and in that city, and also in Nashville, Tenn., was interested in mercantile pursuits, until 1867, when he removed to New Orleans, La., and engaged in business for himself, which he continued for some nine years. After one year of service with the United States government at Cheyenne, Wyo., he became a resident of Iowa, settling at Shelby, where he resided until 1885, when upon being elected treasurer of Shelby County, he removed to Harlan, which city he has since made his home, and brought to it both service and distinction.

After serving two terms as county treasurer, he was elected to the State Senate from the Cass-Shelby district, and served in the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth General Assemblies, with such credit to himself and the general satisfaction of his constituents. Upon retiring from the Senate he became cashier of the Harlan Bank, subsequently interesting himself with business on his own account. In 1908 and 1910 he was induced to accept the nomination for Congressman on the Democratic ticket, in both of which campaigns his well known probity and personal popularity enabled him to make a remarkable contest against overwhelming odds, and proved him a formidable competitor. In 1912 as a candidate for Elector-at-Large he received five thousand votes more than any other man on the ticket, and acquired a political honor that had fallen to no other Iowa democrat for sixty years. His later years have been practically devoted to his interest in Masonry, and the duties incumbent on his official connection with the same.

His Masonic history is long and noteworthy. In 1865 the symbolic degrees were conferred upon him by his father, who was Worshipful Master of Waterville Lodge, No. 129, at Waterville, N. Y. He received the several degrees of the chapter in Cumberland Chapter No. 1, at Nashville, Tenn., in 1867, where he also passed the circle in Nashville Council, No. 1. The Orders of the Temple were conferred upon him by Indivisible Friends Commandery, No. 3, of New Orleans, in 1872. While in New Orleans he affiliated with Quitman Lodge No. 76, was elected Worshipful Master of that lodge in 1875, and Captain General of Commandery No. 3, in 1876.

Upon removing to Harlan he resumed his activity in the Masonic bodies, and as a result of his natural vitality, courteous and fraternal bearing, ready and eloquent address, and the willing and able discharge of every duty imposed upon him by the Craft, he has been called to every position of honor within the gift of Iowa Masonry, and most conscientiously and competently fulfilled each trust reposed in him.

In 1898 he was elected Worshipful Master of Parian Lodge No. 321, and was a most valued member of the Grand Lodge since 1899. He was elected Senior Grand Warden in 1901, and Most Worshipful Grand Master in 1906. He was appointed Grand Lodge Historian in 1911, and compiled and edited the two volumes covering the dates from 1865 to 1912, the last volume having been published during the past year. His latest literary labors were that of preparing an elaborate history on "Knight Templarism in America," from its organization in 1816 to present date. This work is still in manuscript and is expected to be published during the present year.

He was elected High Priest of Olivet Chapter No. 107 in 1894, speedily installed into elective office in the Grand Chapter, and elected Grand High Priest in 1898. In General Grand Chapter his abilities were quickly recognized, and for many years he served on important committees. Being elected President of the Convention of the Order of High Priesthood of this state in 1900, his energy and talent were displayed in the up-building of that order for many consecutive years. In 1901 he was elected Grand Master and at the time of his death was General Grand P. C. W. He had received the Scottish Rite degrees in Zarephath Consistory at Davenport, and obtained the honorary degree of K. C. C. H. in 1913.

He was twice married. October 2, 1871, he was united to Miss Kate L. Collins. Two children were born and one survived, now Mrs. W. W. Belknap, of Worcester, Mass. Mrs. Cleveland died in 1885. February 16, 1893, he married Mrs. Ella Noble Pratt, who survives him. The children of this marriage are Miss Dorothy and William Fiske, Jr., both at home.

He was a charter member of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in his city, and was an ardent worker in that church. He was one of the original founders of this parish and a member of the vestry since its organization.

His long life was eventful and busy, and his success was attributable to his indomitable perseverance and his unyielding integrity. He faithfully observed the injunction to be true unto all men, to be frank and sincere in all things.

WHEREAS, The Honorable W. F. Cleveland, a member of this body in the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth General Assemblies has been called from this life; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate has heard with deep sorrow and regret of his death and that it recognizes the high character of his service to this state and in his death the state has lost a worthy and noble citizen.

Resolved, That this Senate extend to his family its sincere sympathy in their great bereavement. Be it further

Resolved, That these resolutions be entered upon our Senate Journal and a copy be sent to the bereaved family of the deceased.

HORACE E. DEEMER.

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions, commemorative of the life, character and services of Justice Horace E. Deemer, beg leave to submit the following report:

Judge Deemer was born in Marshall county, Indiana, September 24, 1858. His parents were of Scotch-Irish descent. When eight years of age he came with his parents to Cedar County, Iowa, and attended the public schools at West Liberty, after which he assisted his father in the lumber business and later engaged in the furniture business. Having a desire for a more thorough education, he entered the collegiate department of the State University of Iowa; thereafter he took a course in the law department, from which he graduated in 1879, receiving the degree of LL. B. the year following.

After his admission to the bar he entered the law offices of Lamb, Billingsley & Lambertson, of Lincoln, Nebraska. In the fall of 1879, he moved to Red Oak, his present home, where he formed a partnership with an old school mate, J. M. Junkin, in the practice of law, which continued down until the time of his election to the position of district judge in the year 1886. To this position he was re-elected in 1890.

When in 1894, the legislature increased the number of the judges of the supreme court to six, Governor Jackson, at the urgent recommendation of the members of the bar of southwestern Iowa, appointed him to this place. In 1898 he was by order of rotation chief justice and again in 1904 and 1910. For many years he was a lecturer in the law department of the State University and is the author of many articles and monographs on legal and other subjects.

In the year 1904, Cornell College at Mount Vernon and the State University of Iowa each conferred upon him the degree of LL. D. Since 1894, he had been a member and for the greater part of that time, chairman of the book committee for the selection of books for the state library and historical department, in which he has taken an active interest. Aside from this, he was a member of the Iowa Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, of the American Forestry Association, of the State Association of Charities and Corrections, of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, of the American Political and Social Science Association, of the National Association for the Promotion of Industrial Education and of the Prairie and Grant clubs of Des Moines, and was president of the Art Institute of Des Moines.

Judge Deemer was a former president of the State Bar Association of Iowa, and on more than one occasion considered by the president for appointment as a member of the Supreme Court of the United States. He had continuously served for more than twenty-two years on the Supreme Court of Iowa and had been just elected for another six-year term.

He was stricken while in the prime of life, and his death is recognized by all to be a severe and distinct loss to the state. Aside from his duties and services as a judge, he was interested in all of the activities of the state.

Judge Deemer was a republican in politics, and in the 34th general assembly was voted for on a number of ballots for United States senator.

Aside from his distinguished services as a jurist and his interest in numerous activities of the state he was an exemplary citizen in private and official life. He was a man of high literary attainment and an untiring student of public affairs, and was always interested in the moral and intellectual uplift of the people of his state.

He was an ideal citizen and official and his eminent example may well be emulated by the present and future generations.

Therefore Be It Resolved, That in his death, the state of Iowa and the nation lost a worthy and upright citizen, an honest, able and fearless judge, and an advocate of all things for the betterment of his country and state, and we hereby extend to the bereaved family and friends, our sincere sympathy, and,

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be printed in the journal of the Senate and that the secretary of the Senate be directed to forward an engrossed copy to the family of the deceased.

W. C. RATCLIFF.

A. V. PROUDFOOT,

O. A. BYINGTON.

J. R. FAILEY.

BENJ. J. GIBSON.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

In moving the adoption of the resolutions Senator Ratcliff spoke in part as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT AND MEMBERS OF THE SENATE—While it may be unusual at this time to offer resolutions to one who was not a member of this body, still the life of Judge Deemer has been so closely interwoven into the life of this state that it seems but fitting and proper that we should spread these resolutions relative to his life, character and services to this state upon the records of this assembly.

There is not one among those spoken of here tonight that is more and better known than Judge Horace E. Deemer. I believe that at the inauguration ceremony was the last time that he was at a public gathering. There was not a man in the state of Iowa who was more generally and more favorably known than was Judge Deemer. He knew most of the men in public life in this state. He was acquainted with every practicing lawyer in the state and with many other people. His activities spread out. He was not only active as a judge of the Supreme Court, but his time was continuously being called for all over the state, and he always responded to these calls if possible. He was an advocate of vocational training. He was much interested in organizing community centers. He was called upon much the last year to speak on the great question of national preparedness and I myself have heard him upon this matter. There are many here in this body who have known Judge Deemer more years than I. I first met Judge Deemer in the state university while I was a law student there. Judge Deemer was much interested in his home and in his home city of Red Oak. He took a great deal of comfort in his home. No judge on the supreme bench has written more important opinions than he, and his knowledge of the law made him known everywhere. I am glad to have known such a man as Judge Deemer and I take pleasure in moving the adoption of the resolutions offered.

Senator Gibson spoke as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT—In connection with the resolution offered to commend the life and public service of the Honorable Horace E. Deemer, I desire to say that there are some men whose service to the state and to the nation stands out with broad greatness. I do not believe that the words of any man can fully express the real feelings of the people who have suffered the loss which the people of this state have suffered in the death of Mr. Justice Deemer.

I have known Judge Deemer from the time when I first entered upon the practice of law in this state. He was particularly kind to me and spent a considerable length of time in advising me with reference to the great duties which an attorney owed not only to the people, but also in that broader duty which an attorney must consider; namely, that of lending his aid to the administration of true justice.

I believe, Mr. President, that the life of this man is well exemplified in the opinions which are spread upon the official reports of the Supreme Court of this state. His ideal in the administration of law was to secure that perfect justice upon which alone must rest the security of life, liberty and property. In his private life, the record he left behind him is known to all his friends, and his friends are numbered by the thousands. It would not be wrong to say that he is known in every village, hamlet and community in this entire state, and in all there are found friends of Judge Deemer.

Mr. President, I realize that to longer detain you could not add to the splendor of memory of this man, and therefore I simply desire to express, not only for myself, but I believe for the whole people of this state, the regret and sorrow which we feel in the loss of one whose loss is a distinct loss to Iowa as well as to the nation.

Senator Henigbaum, from a special committee, submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions commemorative of the life, character and services of the Honorable John A. DeArmand beg to submit the following report:

JOHN A. DEARMAND.

Honorable John A. DeArmand was born March 7, 1852 in Hollisdaysburg, Pa.; he died in Davenport, Scott County, Iowa, March 30, 1917. Together with his parents he came to Scott County at the age of twelve years. He attended the old No. 1 school, now Washington school, and the old high school at Sixth and Main streets.

After finishing his work there Dr. DeArmand entered the college of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania where he finished a three-year course in 1876 and came to LeClaire to practice. He was a prominent physician there until 1889 when increase in his practice called him to Davenport.

In addition to practicing in Davenport for over twenty-seven years and in LeClaire for thirteen years, Dr. DeArmand held one of the governing reins in the Democratic party for many years and also occupied many public offices. As county physician for several terms beginning in 1891 he carried out several reforms in the treatment of the poor. He made regular inspection trips to the County home and to Mercy hospital.

Dr. DeArmand's next public office was that of alderman of the Fifth ward, to which place he was elected on the Democratic ticket. He served two terms. He was also elected to the state legislature and served in the Thirty-second and Thirty-third General Assemblies. Mr. DeArmand was the nominee against I. S. Pepper for congress on the Democratic ticket; in 1915 he was the Democratic nominee against Alfred C. Mueller for mayor. He was also on the board of insane commissioners.

In 1878 Dr. DeArmand married Mary Alice Doughty of LeClaire who with one son, Louis G., advertising counselor of Davenport, were with him at the time of his death.

WHEREAS, The Honorable John A. DeArmand, a member of this body in the Thirty-second and Thirty-third General Assemblies, has been called from this life; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate has heard with deep sorrow and regret of his death and that it recognizes the high character of his service to his state and in his death the state has lost a worthy and noble citizen.

Resolved, That this Senate extend to his family its sincere sympathy in their great bereavement. Be it further

Resolved, That these resolutions be entered upon our Senate Journal and a copy be sent to the bereaved family of the deceased.

F. G. HENIGBAUM.

J. H. FRALEY.

F. W. EVERSMEYER.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

Senator Thompson, from a special committee, submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions in commemoration of the life, character and service of Ex-Senator A. M. Garrett, of Letts, Iowa, beg leave to submit the following report:

A. M. GARRETT.

A. M. Garrett was born March 31, 1857, on a farm near Letts, Iowa, and received his early education in the schools of that community. He was the son of Barton Garrett and Elizabeth Finley Garrett.

Mr. Garrett as State Senator made an excellent record and was found inevitably working for the best interests of his constituency. He took his position as Senator seriously and never acted nor cast his vote until he was thoroughly familiar with the subject before the assembly.

He was one of the leading citizens of Louisa County and on all public questions stood for the best interest of the community. He was of a kind and congenial disposition and bore the esteem of all classes, his life and conduct shed an influence for the uplift of and betterment of society. In his death the community and state in which he lived lost a worthy and upright citizen and an honorable man.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be printed in the Journal of the Senate and that the Secretary of the Senate be directed to forward an engrossed copy to the family of the deceased.

Committee.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

Senator Fleck, from a special committee, submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to prepare resolutions commemorating the life, character and public services of Hon. Joseph R. Gorrell, beg leave to submit the following report:

DR. JOSEPH R. GORRELL.

Doctor Gorrell was the descendant of a fine old family of the Buckeye state, having been born near Warren, Trumbull county, Ohio, May 6, 1835, being the fifth of a family of ten children born to Joseph and Esther (Glass) Gorrell. Little definite information can be gleaned with reference to the origin and early history of the family, but the ancestry has been traced to continental Europe.

Doctor Gorrell passed his boyhood upon his father's farm, where he laid the foundation for a sturdy manhood by working in the fields during the crop seasons. When seventeen years of age he entered an academy for one year, then spent three years in a Presbyterian college at Ft. Wayne, Indiana, where he mastered the ancient classics and gained a thorough scientific education. He began reading medicine with Dr. J. R. McCleary, at Bluffton, Indiana, and later he took a course of lectures in the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, later entering the University of Buffalo, from which he was graduated in February, 1859. He had made a very creditable record at all these institutions and, thus well equipped, he opened an office at Newville, DeKalb county, Indiana, in August, 1859, and there he remained until the fall of 1863, enjoying a very satisfactory patronage. Then his patriotic impulses led him to offer his services to this country during the dark days of the great rebellion, entering the service as a surgeon of the One Hundred and Twenty-ninth Indiana Volunteer Infantry, continuing in that capacity until the close of the war, performing his duties in such a manner as to reflect credit upon himself, to win the high esteem of his comrades and the hearty commendation of his superior officers. Seeking a new field for his operations, Doctor Gorrell came to Newton, Iowa, at the close of the war, where he resided until his death, May 25, 1916.

He enjoyed an ever-growing and lucrative practice and took rank with the leading physicians and surgeons of the state, always keeping fully abreast of the times in all matters pertaining to his profession. Being an assiduous student and an independent and vigorous thinker as well as a keen observer and a tireless investigator, he became one of the noted men in the medical profession of his day and generation.

Doctor Gorrell was married in 1860, while living at Newville, Indiana, to Frances E. Hendricks, of DeKalb county, that state, who survives him. She is the daughter of Dr. Joel E. Hendricks, a prominent physician of his day in that county during the time of his practice. Mrs. Gorrell is a lady of splendid attributes of mind and heart and has enjoyed a host of warm friends all her life. This union was blessed by the birth of two children: Carrie, born January 10, 1862, and is the wife of J. W. Hunter; Arthur R., who died October 23, 1911, was born in 1867, and graduated from the Iowa State University and the Northwestern University of Chicago.

Doctor Gorrell has ever acted upon the principles that he who serves his country serves his party best, and with this object in view his political efforts, although in the highest degree successful and influential, have been above the slightest suspicion of dishonor, and his career as a public servant has been eminently satisfactory to all concerned, irrespective of party alignment. Politically, Doctor Gorrell was an adherent of principle to the defiance of party demands and party affiliations. He was elected to the State Senate in 1893 on the Republican ticket and he was elected to this important office in 1897 on the Democratic ticket. Such a record is evidently criterion enough of his high standing in this district. He made a most worthy and commendable record, making his influence felt for the good of his county, and the state, and figuring prominently in the councils and debates among his colleagues, where his ideas were respectfully weighed and usually heartily endorsed.

Being of literary and philosophical turn of mind, his office and dwelling may be said with truth to have been the intellectual center of Jasper county, bringing together more of the thinkers of the locality than any other place or places. Here questions of science, philosophy and religion were discussed honestly and fearlessly and, above all, intelligently. Doctor Gorrell was himself a writer of force and great versatility, articles from his trenchant pen being copied far and near, and he has contributed to literature a small volume entitled, "Sins Absolved," embodying his views on religion, interwoven with the thrilling story of the war in which he was an active participant. He was not a believer in the creed or doctrines of orthodox churches, but he was a liberal supporter of the gospel.

Sufficient has been said to indicate Doctor Gorrell's character and high standing in the community and state where he so long resided, and it only remains to be said that throughout his entire professional and official career, he was animated by lofty motives, and made every personal consideration subordinate to the higher claims of duty. Broad and liberal in his views, with the greatest good of his fellowmen ever before him, his conduct was that of the lover of his kind and the true and loyal citizen, who is ready at all times to make reasonable sacrifice for the cause in which his interests were enlisted. He was, withal, a man of the people, proud of his distinction as a citizen of the state and nation for whose laws and institutions he had the most profound admiration and respect, while his strong mentality, ripe judgment and unimpeachable integrity demonstrated to the satisfaction of all, his ability to fill honorably, important official positions and to discharge worthily the duties of his trusts. In point of critical scholarship, keen intellectuality and professional success, he easily stood in the front rank, while in all that constitutes the upright man, the public-spirited citizen and the polished gentleman, his position in the social circle and the world of affairs has been firmly established and he stands today among the leaders of thought and moulders of opinion in a state prolific of great men.

Resolved, That the Senate of Iowa is deeply appreciative of the loss the state and community in which he lived has sustained in the loss of this honored and respected citizen who contributed so much to the nation and his adopted state.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the Journal of the Senate and an engrossed copy be transmitted to the family of the deceased.

D. S. FLECK,
A. M. FELLOWS,
A. V. PROUDFOOT,
Committee.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

Senator Fleck, in moving the adoption of the report, spoke as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT—In the adoption of these resolutions, there are so many things which might be said concerning a man of his ability, who saw so much, felt so much and did so much, that I say that I feel myself incapable of expressing what ought to be expressed.

I knew him for twenty years. He was a man who believed, "That life is the most desirable that results in the greatest good to the greatest number, and, though all do not reach the heights to which they aspire, yet in some measure each could win success and make life a blessing to his fellow men." It is not necessary for one to occupy eminent public positions to do so, for in the humbler walks of life there remains much good to be accomplished and many opportunities for the exercise of talents and influence that in some way will touch the lives of those with whom we come in contact, making them better and brighter. In the list of Jasper county's successful citizens, Hon. Joseph R. Gorrell long occupied a prominent place. In his record there is much that is commendable, and his character forcibly illustrates what a life of energy can accomplish when plans are wisely laid and actions are governed by right principles, noble aims and high ideals. In his professional career as well as his private life, no word of suspicion was ever breathed against him. His actions were always the result of careful and conscientious thought, and when once convinced that he was right, no suggestion of policy or personal profit, could swerve him from the course he had decided on, his career being rounded in its beautiful simplicity, for he had done his full duty in all the relations of life, and it is safe to say that no man in Jasper county enjoyed to a greater extent the affection and confidence than did Doctor Gorrell. This feeling was demonstrated for him on more than one occasion, and there was no one who could have been more appreciative than Doctor Gorrell when he was made the recipient of signal favors at the hands of friends.

Newton grew from a village under his eye and he helped it grow. He has done much good in a material way, and he was distinctly one of the notable characters of his day and generation in his locality and was eminently deserving of the high esteem in which he was held and of a place in his country's history.

WILLIAM GRAHAM.

Senator Proudfoot, from a special committee, submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions commemorative of the life, character and services of the Honorable William Graham, beg leave to submit the following report:

Honorable William Graham, a former member of the Senate of the State of Iowa, was born in Washington County Pennsylvania, November 29, 1820, and died November 23, 1915; his remains being interred in the city of Indianola, Iowa.

Senator Graham was a member of the House of Representatives of the State of Pennsylvania just preceding the Civil War. He also served in the Sixteenth and Seventeenth General Assemblies of the State of Iowa as a Senator from Warren County. During his legislative career in this state he was chairman of the committee on Suppression of Intemperance and championed the prohibitory Constitutional amendment and was one of the staunch members of the Senate of his day.

He was thoroughly reliable in every walk of life and his integrity was unquestioned by all who knew him. He was a man of large parts, though modest and unassuming in his demeanor and had large experience in political affairs. He was a member from Washington County, Pennsylvania, of the state convention of that state and took part in sending an instructed delegation to the national convention which placed in nomination Abraham Lincoln for President of the United States, and he himself twice declined a nomination for Congress from his native state.

He was always found on the right side of all moral and economic questions and assisted in legislation that had for its object the betterment and uplift of humanity. He was a leading member of the United Presbyterian Church and was conscientious and steadfast in his dealings with men. No one was ever heard to say that he was deceived or misled by William Graham, and while his services to the State were during the period of its more formative existence yet it is a fact that the marks of his ability and high moral character as a citizen of the State have been left upon the legislation of Iowa.

It is therefore fitting and proper that this body shall make permanent record of the valuable services and eminent career of this faithful servant of the State.

It Is Therefore Resolved by the Senate of the Thirty-seventh General Assembly of the State of Iowa, that the foregoing memorial be and the same is hereby unanimously adopted and ordered spread upon the records of this body.

A. V. PROUDFOOT,
O. A. BYINGTON,
T. E. TAYLOR,

Committee.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

Senator Proudfoot, in moving the adoption of the report, spoke as follows:

"I only want to say a very few words as I think that it is not necessary or fitting that extensive remarks be made on this occasion.

I presume that I am the only man here who saw and knew Senator Graham. The fact of his death came very much home to me as I well remember that he sat in this body while my father sat in the house across the hall. It was then I came to know him. He was a man of no mean ability. In the state of Pennsylvania from which he came he twice declined the nomination for congressman. He lived a life of public service and had much to do with the formation of his own native state and of Iowa.

He was a man of moderate height, gray haired and gray bearded; a man of modest expression. One could not tell from his appearance that he was a legislator from Pennsylvania, Iowa or any other state. He lived in the county where I live and was always a splendid citizen. He grew with the state. Back in the days when Iowa was not what it is today he helped to lay the foundation of the state as it is today and some of us are reaping the benefits of the seed sown by him.

I know of no more pleasing duty for me to perform than to pay this tribute to Senator Graham, an illustrious predecessor of my own."

JULIUS J. MATHEWS.

Senator Greene, from a special committee, submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to prepare resolutions to commemorate the life, character and public service of the Honorable Julius J. Mathews, late of Maywood, Illinois, and a former member of the General Assembly of the State of Iowa, beg leave to submit the following report:

Julius J. Mathews was born January 8th, 1826, in Perry County, Ohio. In 1835 he went to Indiana, and in 1839 to Iowa City. In 1852 he removed to Lyons, Iowa.

He commenced the study of medicine in 1848, graduating from the College of Physicians and Surgeons at Keokuk in 1852.

He served as a member of the State Senate from 1854 to 1858, and was postmaster of Lyons from 1867 to 1879. He also served as an Alderman, and was a member of the Board of Education.

In 1856 he was united in marriage to Miss P. L. Sanders, in Iowa City. To them were born six children. The survivors are: His wife, three sons—John Mathews, of Maywood, Illinois; Jay Mathews, of Cherokee, Iowa; Fred W. Mathews, of Scranton, Iowa, and one daughter, Mrs. Nannie Patrick, of Maywood, Illinois.

Mr. Mathews was a resident of Greene County, Iowa, from 1879 until 1913, residing most of that time at Dana. Mr. Mathews always took an active part in public affairs during his entire life time, and his influence was always on the right side of all public questions. To be universally spoken of as a good man is as high a tribute as can be paid to any man. This was the common expression with reference to Mr. Mathews from all who knew him or came in contact with his daily life, or within the sphere of his influence. Goodness comprehends all virtues: Charity, benevolence, loyalty, love, purity, service, sympathy, and devotion to high ideals, and Mr. Mathews possessed in a high degree these characteristics.

Mr. Mathews was pure in thought, in action true, and in purpose faithful. He was always active and helpful in civic and social relations. He loved his fellowmen, his community, his State, and his Nation, and gave to each the fullest measure of devotion. Therefore

Be It Resolved, That a copy of this Resolution be spread upon the Journal of the Senate and that the Secretary transmit an engrossed copy thereof to the family of the deceased.

Senator K. M. Le Compte, from a special committee, submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions commemorative of the life, character and public services of Honorable John A. McKlveen, beg leave to submit the following report:

JOHN ANDREW MCKLVEEN.

WHEREAS on July 16, 1916, Dr. J. A. McKlveen, a former member of this body during the Thirty-second General Assembly, passed away at his home in Chariton, Iowa, and

WHEREAS, his record as a man, a legislator, a practicing physician and as a public servant, was of the highest order, and

WHEREAS, it is only proper and fitting that we pause a moment to pay tribute to this excellent man, therefore be it

Resolved, By the Senate of the Thirty-seventh General Assembly of the State of Iowa, that in the death of Dr. J. A. McKlveen, our Commonwealth has suffered a distinct loss.

Dr. McKlveen was born in Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania, on November 28, 1835. He came to Iowa in 1865 and located at Chariton, Iowa, where he engaged in the practice of medicine and continued until his death.

He served in several public positions including the following: President of the Board of Examining Surgeons for Pensions during Harrison's administration and president of the Iowa State Electric Medical Society, member of the Iowa State Board of Health, Delegate from Iowa to the British Congress of Tuberculosis at London, and a member of the Senate of the Thirty-second General Assembly of Iowa.

In politics he was a staunch and true republican and was proud to be a member of the party of Abraham Lincoln but his friends were legion in both parties.

As a legislator he consistently stood for what he believed was right and supported all measures which were in the interest of the general public. On all moral issues he was a stalwart leader for the forces of right, order and decency and he enjoyed the utmost confidence and esteem of his colleagues.

Therefore Be It Resolved, That the life and character of Dr. J. A. McKlveen, as a citizen, as a legislator and in every walk of life, was such as to commend itself to the youth of our state. From his shining example, let us take renewed courage and resolve that we will emulate his virtues.

Resolved further that these resolutions be spread upon the records of the senate and an engrossed copy thereof be sent to his brother, Samuel McKlveen, of Chariton, Iowa.

K. M. Lecompte,

J. M. Wilson.

Jno. R. Price,

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

Senator Lindly, from a special committee, submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions commemorative of the life, character and services of Samuel Wakefield Neal beg leave to submit the following report:

SAMUEL WAKEFIELD NEAL.

Samuel Wakefield Neal, a member of the Senate of the General Assembly of the state of Iowa, 1910-14, died in Washington, Iowa, November 16, 1916.

He was born in Westmoreland county, Pennsylvania, February 27, 1844, and was brought by his parents, Caldwell Neal and Maria Louise Neal, to Iowa in 1845, locating at Crawfordsville in Washington county. Iowa was then a territory. He grew to manhood amid the privations of pioneer life. After attending the local school and the academy at Washington, he entered Iowa Wesleyan College at Mount Pleasant. His college days were cut short by the call to arms for the preservation of the Union.

In August 1862, at the age of eighteen years, he enlisted in company I of the Twenty-fifth Iowa Volunteer Infantry, his captain being John A. Young of Washington who was one of his predecessors in the Iowa Senate. He took part in the siege of Vicksburg and in other important military operations, serving to the close of the War of the Rebellion, when he received an honorable discharge. One of his comrades, a member of his company, writes, "He served honorably and faithfully with the regiment as a soldier for the Union."

On his return from the war, he resumed farming near Crawfordsville which was his home until 1888 when he was elected to the office of the clerk of the district court, holding this position four years. On retiring from this office, he, in partnership with Mr. D. H. Logan, purchased the Washington Gazette which they continued to publish about thirteen years.

He was secretary of the Senate of the Thirty-third General Assembly, and was elected a member of the Senate in 1910, from the Tenth Senatorial District composed of the counties of Henry and Washington, serving as such in the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth General Assemblies.

In politics, Mr. Neal was a republican. In religious affairs, he was a Methodist, being particularly active in Sabbath School work. He was superintendent of the Sabbath School of the Methodist church at Washington for ten years during which time the school was built up to a point that gave it a state record for membership and attendance. As a delegate from Iowa, he attended the World's Sunday School Convention held at Rome, Italy, in May, 1907. At the close of the convention he visited Palestine, Egypt, Greece, Turkey and other European countries. While visiting Palestine, he delighted in using the Bible as a guide book.

His was a sturdy ancestry, pioneers in Iowa, early settlers in Pennsylvania, soldiers in the Revolutionary War for the establishment of American Independence. Mr. Neal was twice married. On March 25, 1875, he married Miss May Lee who died February 18, 1906. On August 16, 1911, he married Miss Myrtle Knapp of Greenfield, Iowa, with whom he first became acquainted while attending the Sunday School Convention at Rome, she being a delegate also, their first acquaintance beginning in Venice. He is survived by his widow and their little daughter, Helen.

Mr. Neal, as a man, was thoroughly reliable; as a friend, he was loyal and helpful; as an official, he was diligent and conscientious in the discharge of his duties; and as a Christian gentleman, he enjoyed the confidence and esteem of all who knew him. Those who knew him best, esteemed him most. As a pioneer in the settlement of the state of Iowa, as a soldier in the great war for the preservation of the Union, as a law-maker and public official, as a teacher in the public and religious schools, he made a record for patriotism and for service to his fellowmen that is seldom found nor exceeded.

Resolved, That in the death of Samuel Wakefield Neal, the state and county in which he resided, lose a worthy and upright citizen, a valiant soldier, and an honored statesman, and we hereby extend to the bereaved family and friends our sincere sympathy; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be printed in the Journal of the Senate, and that the Secretary of the Senate be directed to forward an engrossed copy to the family of the deceased.

J. M. LINDLEY,
D. C. CHASE,
F. E. THOMPSON,
Committee.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

Senator Lindly, in moving the adoption of the report, spoke as follows:

Senator Neal was my immediate predecessor in this body serving as senator from my district in the sessions of the Thirty-fourth and the Thirty-fifth General Assemblies. He lived in the adjoining county of Washington where he was engaged in the newspaper business for many years. I have known him from our boyhood days. I have sometimes thought he had the privilege of a greater range of experience than comes to many of us now. He was born back in the days when Iowa was a territory and has seen his adopted state develop into one of the leading states of our union. He was a soldier in the Civil War. It has been said that in the old village known as Nealtown that Senator Neal's mother was the first person to receive a letter and that his father helped to survey the town of Washington. He like Senator Perkins was disposed to help his fellowmen. It was his great privilege to visit Palestine a few years ago and while visiting Palestine he delighted in using the Bible as a guide book.

THOMAS F. NOLAN.

Senator Schrup, from a special committee, submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee which was appointed to draft resolutions in commemoration of the life and public services of the Hon. Thomas F. Nolan, respectfully submit the following:

Thomas F. Nolan was a native of southern Ireland, having been born in County Kilkenney on December 17, 1838. When he was ten years of age, his parents came to America, first settling in Pennsylvania, where they made their home for two years, at the end of which time they came to Dubuque. For four years they made their home in the city; during that time Thomas was employed in the offices of the Express and the Herald.

In 1854 the family moved to Vernon township in Dubuque county, and later to a farm in Table Mound township, where Mr. Nolan resided until 1913.

Mr. Nolan always took an active interest in public affairs and was chosen to fill various offices in his home community. He was elected representative from Dubuque county, serving in the twenty-sixth, the twenty-sixth extra, and the twenty-seventh general assemblies. He was then elected state senator and served as such in the twenty-eighth general assembly. At the expiration of this session he returned to private life, and devoted his time to farming until 1913, when he sold his farm to his son William, and moved to Dubuque.

Mr. Nolan died June 26, 1915. He is survived by his wife, Margaret, and by three children, William and John Nolan of Table Mound township, Dubuque county, and Mrs. Winifred Hanley, of Lansing, Allamakee county, Iowa.

Be It Resolved, That in the death of Senator Nolan the state of Iowa mourns the passing of a model citizen, husband and father. He was one of that sturdy class who in the early days of our state laid deep the foundation upon which our present educational, religious and material prosperity has been built. While naturally of a modest and retiring disposition, he took a deep interest in all matters pertaining to public welfare. A staunch supporter of what he considered right, yet he always gave generous recognition to the views of those who might differ with him. His record while a member of this Senate was one which his relative may well feel proud. His was a life to cherish and emulate.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be entered in the journal of the Senate, and that an engrossed copy be transmitted to the family of the deceased.

N. J. SCHRUP,
A. L. BROXAM,
A. M. FELLOWS,

Committee.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

Senator Schrup, in moving the adoption of the report, spoke as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT—During each of the last four sessions of this body, it devolved upon me to present resolutions commemorative of the life and public activities of a former senator from my county, whose earthly career was terminated since last we met here.

The first was the gallant Col. Crawford. For eight years preceding his death we occupied adjoining offices. While differing on many questions of policy, our personal relations were always of a most cordial nature. Everything contained in either office was mutually considered as our common property. I visited his bedside a few days before his demise. That parting I shall always cherish as a sacred memory.

Then followed the death of the talented and genteel B. B. Richards, who was known far and wide as the silver-tongued orator from Dubuque. He and I lived in the same block during the last twenty-four years of his life, and I served as a pall bearer at his funeral. His life was one worthy of the emulation of any public spirited and patriotic American.

The third ex-senator to depart during my incumbency of this position was my constant and intimate friend, James H. Shields, the "little giant" of northeastern Iowa, as he was familiarly called. For twenty-two years we occupied adjoining offices, and during all this time the doors between our rooms were never locked. Our relations were always of the most intimate and cordial nature.

And now during the last closing hours of the last public office I ever expect to occupy, I offer the obituary of my boyhood friend out on the farm, where we attended the same old primitive schools, the same church, and will in due course repose in the same churchyard.

And let me now express the hope that when one of my successors shall be called upon to present my obituary, he may feel warranted in commending my record as honestly and sincerely as I have felt justified in doing in regard to the former senators mentioned.

ELI C. PERKINS.

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions commemorative of the life, character and services of Eli C. Perkins beg leave to submit the following report:

Hon. Eli C. Perkins, a member of the Senate of Iowa in the thirty-sixth general assembly, passed away October 10, 1915. In the death of Senator Perkins, the state of Iowa, Delaware county, and particularly the Delhi community, suffer an irreparable loss. During the many years of his residence and activities he had endeared himself to the community in a relation that is seldom given to a man to acquire. As a lawyer he commanded the utmost confidence, esteem and friendship of the members of the bar; as a citizen he was known as a loyal supporter of every worthy enterprise looking to the advancement of his town or community; and as a philanthropist, no one is capable of summarizing his many acts of benevolence, so quietly and unassumingly were they dispensed.

Eli Perkins was one of God's noblemen. His obsession, if it may be called such, was to do things that would benefit mankind. His legal knowledge was not used as an instrument for the accumulation of a fortune, but rather as a talent loaned to him, and which he must return with a good report and with usury. His benefactions were many, his chief recompense was in the love and esteem of all who came in touch with him. As a politician he may not have been as astute as most who engage in the game, but his honesty of purpose was so manifest that he was frequently chosen to responsible official positions without opposition worthy of the name. He was a dispenser of clean politics, a promoter of high ideals, clean morals and a true citizenship.

Mr. Perkins was a native of Bethel, Maine, where he was born August 30, 1850, a son of Rev. Charles Perkins. He came to Iowa in his youth, secured his primary education in the public schools of that time and later graduated from Lenox college with the class of 1875. He attended the state university for his law course and after graduation in 1879 located at Delhi for the practice of his profession. He grew in favor and popularity and was elected to the office of county attorney, serving the county ably in that capacity from 1887 until 1893.

When the republicans were casting about for a candidate for the legislature in 1908, Mr. Perkins was at once recognized as the logical candidate and he was put forward without opposition. He served two terms in the House of Representatives and then was promoted by the people to the office of state senator. He took hold of the problems of state with his customary conscientious devotion to every charge laid upon him and was early recognized as one of the substantial, hard-working members of the legislature. In his capacity as senator added responsibilities were laid upon him and he stood at the head of some of the leading committees. There is no question that the arduous duties of the last session, a strenuous one from the political standpoint, were partially responsible for the breakdown in health which resulted in his untimely death. Toward the close of the session he kept steadily at work upon the mass of legislation piled upon his desk, notwithstanding the premonitory warnings that announced a weakened physical condition.

Mr. Perkins was never a shirker, and therefore he was less concerned for his own condition than for the welfare of his district and the state which he was serving. His friends know now that he sacrificed himself upon the altar of duty. He returned from Des Moines with the disease—pernicious anaemia—fastened upon him and his hosts of friends sorrowfully watched the end approaching.

Mr. Perkins was married on September 13, 1882, to Miss Kate Galpin who has been an inspiration and helpmate during the happy years of their married life. There are two daughters, Mrs. Gwendolyn Bentz and Hazel E., who with their mother survive to mourn the loss of a devoted husband and father, and to cherish in memory his ideal character. There is wide sorrow because of the passing, really in the prime of life, of a useful man and at a time when he was planning to accomplish much more for the benefit of humanity.

In due time there will be a marble monument at his grave to commemorate his life, but on the statute books of Iowa, and along the way of his lifework, he has left invisible monuments that will perpetuate his memory with the generations to come.

One of the last accomplishments of his life and a fitting and enduring monument to his memory was the passage by the thirty-sixth general assembly of what will always be known as the Perkins law for the relief and cure of crippled children. Although the law has been in operation less than two years, yet nearly every community in the state can point with pride to the fact that some little child in that community has been relieved of some physical handicap in life's work. This work has become so popular that the thirty-seventh general assembly has endorsed this most important work by making an appropriation for a children's hospital to accommodate the children which are being sent to Iowa City for treatment.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be printed in the journal of the Senate and that the secretary of the Senate be directed to forward an engrossed copy to the family of the deceased.

T. E. TAYLOR,
G. L. CASWELL,
BYRON W. NEWBERRY,
Committee.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

Senator Taylor, in moving the adoption of the report, spoke as follows:

Senator Perkins was one of God's true noblemen. He was a real commoner. He came up from among the common people, and though he arose to a high position among his fellowmen, one of the greatest things I can say to his memory is that he never lost the common touch. His was the real sympathetic life. Wherever he saw the people, particularly those who were struggling against the troubles of life, his heart went out to them in sympathy. If I had time I could tell of many instances of the way in which he has benefited those in distress. One of the significant things that happened when his death was announced was that the people who had been in trouble and whom he had helped most wept silent tears as they thought of the blessing this good man had been to their lives. The Perkins law was simply the outgrowth of the feeling in his heart to be helpful to others who were unfortunate. He never looked upon any one suffering from a malady or trouble but what his thought was: What can I do to relieve this distress. The Perkins law was simply an outgrowth of his feelings for others and the children's hospital at Iowa City will always be a monument to his memory. I have hoped that the buildings to be erected for which he is so largely responsible might be named Perkins Hospital.

Senator Newberry spoke as follows:

I have known Senator Perkins for many years. He was a fine lawyer. For many years he was county attorney of Delaware county. For four years he served as a representative from his county and for four years was a member of the state Senate. He has left a monument to his memory on the statute books of this state, and the greatest monument

I take it that has been erected to the memory of any man that has come from this body. The work that is being done in the Children's Hospital at Iowa City is simply marvelous and I came away from there with the determination that if I ever had the opportunity to vote for an appropriation for a building to be used for the purpose outlined by the Perkins law that I would gladly do so and I am glad to say that the opportunity came the other day when such an appropriation was authorized. I trust the new building will be named Perkins Hospital.

Senator Wilson said:

The great world of humanity is divided into two classes: those who want to get the most out of the world, and those who want to put the most into it. Senator Perkins wanted to put the most into it. I am glad to pay this tribute to him.

Senator Whitmore spoke of the wonderful mastery of the English language possessed by Senator Perkins, and of his efforts to secure the children's hospital and of the good accomplished.

Senator Foster spoke as follows:

I became acquainted with Senator Perkins in 1878 at Iowa City, where we were fellow students and chums. He was some six years my senior and was throughout our college career a sort of elder brother to me. After our college days were over, each of us went our way to our respective homes; he back to Hopkinton in Delaware county, and I to Guthrie county, where I had been reared. Both of us engaged in the country law practice in quite distant towns, with poor railroad connections and no automobiles, and for thirty years we met only casually—say once a year, at most, as by chance when we happened to see each other in Des Moines.

In 1909 and 1911 he was here as a law maker in the House, and in 1913 in the Senate, and as I was about the state house a great deal during the legislative session, this afforded an opportunity to renew the sweet companionship of our youthful days. When I came to this Senate in 1915, he was here as a member from the Delaware-Butler district and the old-time relations and intimacies of college days, with him in the role of elder brother, were immediately resumed. When the drawing for seats in the thirty-sixth was about to occur, he arose in his place and asked unanimous consent that I be exempted from the drawing and that I be permitted to occupy seat No. 6 which is especially well located and convenient for a man on crutches. This incident of partiality to myself is but one of hundreds equally kind and considerate which I might relate, for in the nearly forty years of close companionship, he was already looking out for me and helping me over the hard places of which I have encountered my fair share.

This concrete case sheds light on his life and character. He loved his fellow men, was always ready to efface himself for others, and when I say that from day to day I miss his warm greetings, his sound counsel and disinterested suggestions, I express only what is felt, I believe, by every senator who had the good fortune to serve with him here in this chamber.

Senator Perkins was an excellent lawyer and won honorable distinction in his profession. At the time he began his legislative career, he had demonstrated his ability to earn good fees and was in line for attractive professional promotion, such as any lawyer is sorry to give up, but Senator Perkins was superior to the fascination of power or the charms of wealth, and deliberately chose not to employ his talent solely for aggrandizement but devoted his energies largely to the public weal. He was high minded as well as able and deliberately chose his country for his client and her welfare for his retainer fees and compensation. He was a prodigious worker, always ready to do more than his share, giving to the state long hours of patient, painstaking toil during the thirty-sixth general assembly, when he was really stricken with a fatal malady. In spite of the protest of relatives and friends he worked on and on to the last day and last hour of the session, his last utterance here being a strong appeal for an appropriation to stamp out tuberculosis. He promoted many wise benefactions and left behind him a lasting impression for good.

His work is done, and his life is an admonition to do good deeds.

CYRUS S. RANCK.

Senator Byington, from a special committee, submitted the following report and moved its adoption.

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions in commemoration of the life, character and services of the Honorable Cyrus S. Ranck, beg leave to submit the following report:

WHEREAS, the Honorable Cyrus S. Ranck, a former member of this body, has passed away since the session of the last general assembly and

WHEREAS, it is the desire of the members of the Senate that some expression of our sense of loss be made of record,

Be It Resolved, That in the death of the Honorable Cyrus S. Ranck, the state has lost a man of strong virile character, who had given to the state valuable and distinguished service as a legislator, and who attained eminence at the bar. That we deplore his death as a loss to the state, which he served with signal ability and usefulness.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the records of the Senate and a copy be transmitted to his family.

EDMUND C. SPAULDING.

Senator Jackson, from a special committee, submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your special committee appointed to prepare resolutions commemorating the life, character and public service of Edmund Cole Spaulding, beg leave to submit the following report:

Edmund Cole Spaulding was born in Lancaster, New Hampshire, on March 12, 1838, and died at his home in Marble Rock, Floyd county, Iowa, December 19, 1915. After his early schooling the early years of his manhood were devoted to teaching, and he was so employed until poor health forced him to come west, where he had a temporary residence in the states of Illinois, Minnesota and Wisconsin. During the year 1869 he located in the city of Charles City, Iowa, since which time, with the exception of two years when he lived in New Hampton, Chickasaw county, he has resided in Floyd county. In 1881 he moved onto his home farm in Scott township, Floyd county, Iowa, where he remained until the year 1900, when he moved into the town of Marble Rock, in Floyd county, building himself a very beautiful and comfortable home, and at this place he passed the remainder of his life.

In 1867 Mr. Spaulding united with the Congregational church at Clinton, Wisconsin, at which place he was married to Caroline E. Shepard, on July 21, 1870, and to this union were born four children, twin sons dying in infancy, he being survived by his wife, Caroline E., and one daughter, Mrs. Roe S. Asling; one son, Mayne; one grandson, John Lloyd; one brother, Charles Guy, of Mapleton, Minnesota, and two sisters, Mrs. L. Hartshorn and Mrs. J. L. Furbish, of Charles City, Iowa.

He was a member of the House of Representatives of the state of Iowa during the 24th, 25th, 26th and 26th extra session, and a member of the Senate during the 29th, 30th and 31st sessions thereof, being one of five men to serve the longest time in the Legislature in the State of Iowa. As a member of the legislature, he was recognized as a man of good judgment, undeviating loyalty, and unswerving integrity, at all times standing above petty politics where the interests of his state and nation were concerned. Mr. Spaulding was an uncompromising Republican of the old school, and outspoken as to his general views and ideas, always representing what to him was to the best interests of the state and his constituents. He was honored above most men for his fidelity, by those who gave him their vote, there being but few men within the state who have served longer in the legislative halls in the state of Iowa than he.

As a member of the Legislature during the time when railway transportation was freely given, he at all times refused to accept and refused to use free passes, because of the fact that he could never reconcile his conscience to the use of what might be construed as a bribe to influence his vote when railroad matters were under consideration. This well illustrates the staunchness of his character.

In the death of Edmund Cole Spaulding, his home community and the State have lost one of her sterling and substantial citizens, one who always measured up to the full stature in all things. Though never of strong physique, he came of that sturdy stock of which pioneers are fashioned, hence never denied the call of a friend or foe in their hour of need.

A good man, an upright citizen, and one conscientious in all relations of life, has gone from among us and leaves a vacancy that few men can fill.

All honor to Edmund Cole Spaulding for the work he has done and for the good he has accomplished.

Resolved, That in the death of Edmund Cole Spaulding the State of Iowa has lost a valuable former lawmaker, the people an upright citizen, the church to which he belonged a loyal brother, and his family a true and loving husband and father; and be it further

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the journal of the Senate, and the Secretary of the Senate be directed to forward an engrossed copy thereof to the family of the deceased.

GEO. H. JACKSON,

A. L. RULE,

C. C. HELMER,

Committee.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

Senator Jackson, in moving the adoption of the report, spoke as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT AND SENATORS OF THE 37TH GENERAL ASSEMBLY—It gives me great pleasure to say a few brief words relative to Edmund Cole Spaulding.

He was a conscientious, considerate and lovable Christian man, one always ready and willing to extend a helping hand to a friend or neighbor.

He was one of those men who went about his work in a determined yet simple and effective manner, always most considerate of the interests of his family, friends and neighbors. He was a legislator loyal to his constituents and of unanswering integrity.

His habits of life and conduct were above reproach and an inspiration to those who knew him well.

Senator Wilson, from a special committee, submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions commemorative of the life, character and public services of Honorable Lewis L. Taylor, beg leave to submit the following report:

LEWIS L. TAYLOR.

WHEREAS, On the 27th day of December, 1915, Lewis L. Taylor, a former member of the state senate of Iowa, during the thirty-first, thirty-second, thirty-third and thirty-fourth General Assemblies, departed this life at the city of Centerville, Iowa, his home, and,

WHEREAS, His record as a man, a legislator, a public official and a citizen, has been of the highest character, and

WHEREAS, It is fitting that we should recognize in some fitting manner, the passing of this distinguished citizen. Therefore be it Resolved by the Senate of the State of Iowa, That in the death of Lewis L. Taylor, the state of Iowa has suffered a distinct loss.

Lewis L. Taylor was born in Hart County Kentucky, in 1838. In 1849, the family came to Appanoose County, Iowa, where he lived until his death. He grew to manhood on his father's farm, becoming a school teacher and teaching thirty terms of school. He was married to Miss Marion Siler, May 26th, 1864. To this union two children were born: Henrietta and John B., the daughter dying when thirty-four years old, and the wife March 30th, 1906. He leaves surviving him, his son, John B. Taylor, now President of the Commercial State Savings Bank, at Centerville, Iowa.

In 1879, Senator Taylor was elected Clerk of the District Court and held the position four terms, moving from his country home into the city of Centerville, where he resided until his death.

At the end of his services as Clerk of the District Court, he became book-keeper and teller in the First National Bank at Centerville, Iowa. In 1903, he was elected to the state senate and was re-elected for a second term.

In politics, he was always affiliated with the democratic party, although he numbered among his friends the adherents of all political parties. He enjoyed the confidence, respect and esteem of all who knew him, irrespective of political affiliations. He was a prominent and active member of the Christian Church of Centerville, being interested in all lines of church work. He was honored by positions of trust, state wide in importance. It was a characteristic of Senator Taylor that any responsibility undertaken by him, was performed with unflinching fidelity. His integrity and the confidence with which he was regarded by his fellow citizens, was shown in a marked degree by the fact that he was called upon to act as administrator for a large number of estates and to handle trust funds for many people.

As a legislator, his acts were characterized by a conscientious regard for duty. On all moral questions his voice and vote were always on the side of righteous living. No one who knew him, had any doubt as to his position on all questions involving official or personal rectitude.

Be It Resolved, That the life of Lewis L. Taylor, as a citizen, as a legislator, and in every other walk of life, has been such as to commend his example as an inspiration to those who follow after. His unswerving fidelity to duty, his faithfulness in every public and private trust, and his character as a citizen should inspire all with whom he came in contact, to a higher ideal of life and living, and be it further

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the records of this senate and engrossed copy thereof be sent to his son, John B. Taylor.

J. M. WILSON.

BYRON W. NEWBERRY.

W. H. ARNEY,

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

On the adoption of these resolutions Senator Wilson spoke as follows:

I think I am full aware of the fact that we who are left are not able to fully comprehend the condition of those who have passed on before, at this time. We may think and we may consider; we may speculate and we may believe, but whether or not the spirits of those who have gone before are looking down upon us at this instance, we do not know. This may be true or it may not be true; as to these things no man knoweth.

Lewis L. Taylor was my predecessor; he was my friend. In the thirty-first, thirty-second and thirty-second general assemblies he was a member of this body. I am glad to be able to have this opportunity to pay tribute to the man whose memory we commemorate in these resolutions. He was my friend and a man among men; I know of no other man of my acquaintance, boy or man, of whom I thought more highly than I did of Senator Taylor. He was a man honored in the county in which he lived and had the unlimited confidence of all who knew him, and I think I speak for some of the members of this body when I say that as for official acts, no man need offer any apologies.

He was an honest man and I think no higher tribute could be paid to his life and character than to say of him as was said of the meek and lowly Nazarene of whom Senator Taylor was a follower: "He went about doing good."

If we who follow after shall be as true to ourselves, our fellows and our God as was Senator Taylor then as we enter the river of death we shall have as our pilot the Captain of our Salvation and as with storm shattered bark we approach heaven's harbor we will hear not only the heavens ringing hallelujahs of welcome but also the still small voice saying, "Well done, my good and faithful servant."

Senator Wilson, from a special committee, submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions commemorative of the life, character and public services of Honorable J. J. Wall, beg leave to submit the following report:

J. J. WALL.

WHEREAS, On the 6th day of December, 1916, J. J. Wall, a former member of the state senate of Iowa, during the eighteenth and nineteenth General Assemblies, departed this life at his home in the city of Centerville, Iowa, and

WHEREAS, His record as a man, a legislator, public official and a citizen, has been of the highest character, and

WHEREAS, It is fitting that we should recognize in some fitting manner, the passing of this ex-Senator. Therefore be it Resolved by the Senate of the State of Iowa, That in the death of J. J. Wall, the state of Iowa has suffered the loss of a good citizen and a faithful official.

Mr. Wall was eighty-five years, three months and four days old at the time of his death. During his lifetime he had been one of the most promising men of the country, especially in his younger days.

He was born in Tennessee on September 3rd, 1831, but removed to Iowa when a young man and lived on a farm in Appanoose County.

In politics, he was affiliated with the democratic party although in the later years of his life he became an advocate of the doctrine of the Socialist party.

He made his home in Centerville for twenty-one years prior to his death. He had always been an active man, even up to a short time before his death. He is survived by his faithful wife, only. There having been no children born to the union, although the couple had raised several as foster children.

His was a temperament of intense character. His vote on all moral questions was at all times unquestioned, being always an advocate of the right course of living, as well as the proper attitude toward his fellow men. Be it further

Resolved, That the life of J. J. Wall is worthy of commendation, both as to his faithfulness in public life and his dealings with his fellow men in private life.

Be It Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the records of this Senate and engrossed copy thereof be sent to his surviving wife.

J. M. WILSON.

K. M. LE COMPTE.

JNO. R. PRICE.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

Senator Wilson moved the adoption of the resolutions and spoke in part as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT—I do not know that I can add anything to the resolutions which have been presented and prepared by me commemorative of the life of Mr. Wall.

Some forty years ago he was a member of this body. I had no personal acquaintance or knowledge of him at that time but subsequent thereto it was my pleasure and privilege to be somewhat intimately acquainted with him, and while we did not at all times, or in the majority of times, agree on matters of public policy, yet I came to regard him very highly as a man possessed of the right kind of impulses. In his late years he became, as perhaps many others have, obsessed with the idea that society did not give to its individual members all the rights and privileges to which they were entitled. In other words, he became what might be very well stated as an exponent of the socialistic doctrines. He was an honored citizen and well respected by the community in which he lived.

While it is with regret that I am impelled by a sense of duty to present these resolutions, it is also with a feeling that I am discharging a solemn duty. He lived to an advanced age as stated in the resolutions and in reference to his life I may say that we do well to take the time to act upon these resolutions.

Senator Fellows, from a special committee, submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions in commemoration of the life, character and services of Archibald C. Wilson, beg leave to submit the following report:

ARCHIBALD C. WILSON.

A former member of this body, representing the Fortieth district, composed of the counties of Allamakee and Fayette, during the Thirtieth, Thirty-first and Thirty-second General Assemblies, was born in the village of Warwick, in the Province of Ontario, Canada, December 17th, 1857; died at Oelwein, Iowa, February 12th, 1917.

His father was born in Ireland and his mother in Scotland. He acquired his education in the common and high schools of Warwick and Watford, Ontario. At the age of sixteen he accepted a position in a general store at Watford and after two years he started to learn the drug business.

In 1877 he moved to Oelwein, where he resided up to the time of his death. After being engaged for three years as clerk in a drug store, he purchased an interest in the business, retaining that interest until 1892, when he sold out and established a drug and book store of his own. He was one of the organizers of the First National Bank of Oelwein and was always prominently identified with the business interests of his city. Was appointed school director and twice elected to same position, serving for a period of eight years.

Senator Wilson was appointed a member of Board of Pharmacy April, 1913, and elected Chairman the following year. Re-appointed April, 1916, and served up to the time of his death, filling the position with honor and credit. He was appointed a member of the Executive Committee of the National Association Boards of Pharmacy in 1915, being next in line for Chairman. Was Chairman of the committee on Elections in the Thirty-second General Assembly when the primary law was being considered and rendered most efficient service in securing the enactment of this important measure. He was known as a painstaking, careful and attentive legislator and one who always had the courage of his convictions. For nearly two score years he resided in the town of Oelwein, and was always identified in advancing the true interests and welfare of his home city. No one was more influential or held in greater esteem in his community and county than he.

On June 6th, 1885, he was united in marriage with Miss Elizabeth Darrah. There are two sons, Harry and Ralph, who have been associated with him in the A. C. Wilson Co. Drug store for a number of years. He is survived by Mrs. Wilson and the two sons. A true, noble man, a worthy citizen, a kind and exemplary husband and father has gone to his reward, Resolved by the Senate of the State of Iowa that this memorial be entered on its journals and an engrossed copy thereof be transmitted to the family of the deceased.

A. M. FELLOWS.

B. W. NEWBERRY.

J. M. LINDLY.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

DAVID A. YOUNG.

Senator Frailey, from a special committee, submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee, to whom was referred the matter of drafting suitable resolutions commemorating the life, character and public service of the late David A. Young, member of the Senate in the Twenty-seventh, Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth and Thirty-first General Assemblies, beg leave to report the following:

David A. Young was born in Burnside, Hancock county, Illinois, January 16th, 1852, being of Canadian descent and coming to Lee County when he was ten years old, where he lived until his death, which occurred August 21st, 1915. He was elected a member of the Senate in 1897 and in 1901 was re-elected being the first Senator ever elected for two full terms in the district. Mr. Young followed the career of agriculturist and stock raiser until 1909 when he retired and removed to Keokuk. He was elected a member of the Board of Supervisors in 1910 being re-elected in 1912 and still had two years to serve at the time of his death. While a member of the Board of Supervisors he took an especial interest in the matter of good roads and did much to promote the Montrose-Keokuk highway. During his service in the State Senate he was prominent in affairs relating to the state prison and for this reason was appointed a delegate to the prison congress by Governor Shaw.

Senator Young was a stalwart example of the best strain of Americanism, and in his life demonstrated that honesty, integrity and industry makes it possible for any American citizen to rise to the honor he received and the respect in which he was held by all who knew him. He was a true type of the rugged American who through his own efforts raised himself to a position of prominence in his community and is today remembered among those who knew him and respect him with the highest encomium that can be given to any citizen, "An honest man's the noblest work of God."

Therefore Be It Resolved by the Senate, That an engrossed copy of this resolution be forwarded to Senator Young's widow, Mrs. Sarah J. Young, as a mark of the respect of this Senate.

H. P. FRAILEY.

A. V. PROUDFOOT.

GEO. W. BALL.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

On motion of Senator Greene the Senate adjourned until 9 A. M. Friday, April 13th.
