No remaining portion of any school corporation from which territory is taken to form such a consolidated independent corporation shall, after the change, contain less than four government sections, which territory shall be contiguous and so situated as to form a suitable corporation. In the formation of such consolidated school corporation the boundary lines shall conform to those of school corporations or sub-districts already established, provided, however that the county board of education on hearing, may fix other boundaries than herein prescribed, when because of meandering streams, irregular boundaries of existing sub-districts or school corporations or the location of highways, the welfare of the consolidated district and adjoining districts may be better served. In case the boundary of such sub-districts be a public highway then the said consolidated district may include such tracts of one hundred sixty acres or less as are contiguous to the said highway. And where after the formation of such consolidated school corporation, there is left in any school township one or more pieces of territory containing four or more government sections, each of such pieces of territory shall thereon become a rural independent school corporation, unless two or more sub-districts remain in a contiguous body, in which event such remaining portion of territory shall constitute a school township, and it shall be the duty of the officers of the former school township to call an election in each of such remaining pieces of territory for the purpose of electing school officers in the manner provided by law for the election of officers in rural independent school and school township corporations.

COLONEL BENNETT ADDRESSED SENATE.

Senator Rule moved that a committee of two be appointed to escort Colonel Bennett to the President's desk.

The motion prevailed and the president appointed as such committee Senators Rule and Byington.

Colonel Bennett addressed the Senate as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT AND SENATORS—It is a privilege and a very, very great honor to be permitted to come before you today, and I'll not take much of your time from your very important work that is before you.

I just want to say a few words about the regiment, and something of the character of the service it rendered. I am always ready to talk about the regiment, the only fear that any one may have is that I may speak too long on that subject.

The president of the Senate has given you in a brief way an outline of what constituted the regiment. The Rainbow division was the third division in France, the second national guard division to go overseas, landing at Liverpool December 1, 1917, and in France a few days later. They were in the training area for some time and ordered to the front about the middle of February of last year, and again after a training period of about three weeks they were ordered back to the trenches for additional service, making nearly four months continuous service in the trenches in the Lorraine sector. This was made necessary by the great German offensive which started March 21st of last year and which was going very badly for the allies. After completing these four months in the service in the trenches we were relieved and taken back and immediately sent up to the Champagne front to make the fifth and last German offensive in July of last year. This offensive, as many of you know, was stopped very quickly and after a short time there we were withdrawn and immediately put in the region north of Chateau Thierry, and there occurred what we know as the battle of the Ourcq River.

The regiment was in that fight nine days and it was very disastrous in the way of casualties for us and very disastrous in many other ways for the Germans. We took up the pursuit which was hardly a pursuit, for the Germans held us several days but were finally driven back 15 miles to the Vesle River. We were taken back from that field for six weeks' rest and further training. We got one week's rest and were suddenly ordered back to the front for the St. Mihiel drive. That operation was very successful indeed in every way and after that salient was reduced we remained on that line for a short time and then were taken over into the Argonne, where we were when the armistice was signed.

The Rainbow division has fully vindicated the national guard if any vindication were necessary in the eyes of those who know. The national guard has fully established its right to be considered as a very capable second line of defense, the regular army always being considered the first. The kind of service rendered by the division and by the 168th Infantry, I believe, will stand and speak for itself. Nothing that I can say can add to it and the words that I might wish to say would be only very feeble in describing the service rendered by the officers and men of the regiment, its wonderful soldiers, its enlisted men and its officers on the front line who have displayed the greatest fortitude in the extremest hardships and the greatest bravery under fire.

This regiment, I like to call it mine, although I am no longer connected with it, having been put out of business by the influenza, represents no one part of the state. It represents every nook and corner of Iowa as the Rainbow division represents 26 different states and the District of Columbia. I am sure that many of you personally are very much interested through some loved one being in that organization.

I only want to add a word about the qualities that go to make up the soldiers of Iowa and their superiority over soldiers, not of other states, not of other American soldiers, but the superiority of American soldiers over the soldiers of other countries, and that is, the initiative which makes it possible for the American soldier to "carry on," and his wonderful intelligence makes it possible for him to "carry on" on his own initiative as he is forced to do in so many instances. In the very nature of the fighting over there the regimental commander, battalion commander or company commander has often been unable to direct his men and then responsibility develops and often depends upon the action of the squad leader or the individual man and there is where the American soldier excels. And of all American soldiers, the soldiers of Iowa have been right up to the front.

I regret that I cannot give you a more elaborate description of the work done by these officers and men. I will only say that you, who are directly interested by having some one in the regiment, have every reason to be proud that you have them there, and those of you who perhaps have lost some one in the regiment, congratulate yourself that you have been permitted to send one out with a splendid organization like that one. Allow me to repeat that Iowa has every reason to be proud of the regiment which was fully and well represented in the great world war that has now closed.

On motion of Senator Rule, the Senate extended to Colonel Bennett a rising vote of thanks and his remarks were ordered printed in the journal.

On motion of Senator Smith, Senate File No. 296 was made a special order for Thursday, March 20th at 9:30.

COMMUNICATION FROM CODE COMMISSION.

Des Moines, Iowa, March 19, 1919.

To the Thirty-eight General Assembly of Iowa:

Your Code Commissioners, appointed under the provisions of Senate File 210, entered upon the discharge of their duties Monday morning, and beg to submit the following for your consideration.

After careful consideration of the law and consultation, we understand the duties of the commission in reference to code revision to be,

First, to prepare an orderly compilation of the laws, omitting all laws of a local or temporary character, etc., and cause the same to be printed on or before December 1st, 1919, without any change in wording;

Second, to prepare a report setting forth a codification of such parts of the law, as, in the judgment of the commission, is necessary, and that such codification shall be prepared in the form of bills as substitutes for the sections or chapters codified, as the case may be;

Third, to separately report such amendments to the laws as codified, as, in the judgment of the commission, are necessary and for the public interest.

This will place before the general assembly in a specific way,

(a) The compilation, being the law as it now exists, without change of wording.

(b) A codification of such parts of the law as now exists as it may be deemed advisable to codify, but without change of meaning.

(c) Proposed amendments to the law as codified.

As section nine of the bill requires the code as thus compiled to be printed on or before December 1st, 1919, and the report of the commission on or before January 1st, 1920, the time is scarcely more than will be found necessary to prepare the compilation and cause the same to be printed, and there will be scant time to be devoted to the most important part of the work—that of codification.

In view of the very limited time allowed, we consider it to be our duty to avail ourselves to the utmost extent of the following provision of section three of the bill: "The commission may * * * * call upon the supreme court and other state officials and departments for information and assistance."

In order creditably to accomplish this great work, we shall need promptly all the information and assistance we can obtain—and therefore respectfully request you to

First, point out specifically all defects, conflicts, inconsistencies and errors in the laws of the state which you have been able to discover;

Second, rewrite any section or sections of the law which, in your judgment, can be made plainer and more concise, without change in the meaning of the law;

Third, make specific suggestions in the form of amendments to sections, or substitutes for sections which in your opinion would improve any of the laws of the state and be for the public benefit. Mere general suggestions will be of small value because of the lack of time to formulate them into amendments, but all specific suggestions will be of great aid to the commission, and much appreciated.

Respectfully,

JAMES H. TREWIN,
Chairman.

J. C. MARRY,
U. G. WHITNEY,
Secretary.

On motion of Senator Whitmore, the communication was referred to committee No. 2 on judiciary and also ordered printed in the journal.

THIRD READING OF BILLS.

On motion of Senator Smith, Senate File No. 296, a bill for an act to amend section 2794a of the Supplemental Supplement to the Code, 1915, as amended by chapter 432 of the acts of the 37th general assembly relating to consolidated school districts, with report of committee recommending amendment and passage, was taken up, considered, and the committee report adopted.

The following committee amendment was adopted:

Amend by striking out all after the enacting clause and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

SECTION 1. That section twenty-seven hundred ninety-four-a (2794-a) of the supplemental supplement to the code, 1915, as amended by chapter 432 of the acts of the thirty-seventh general assembly be amended by striking therefrom sub-division "a" thereof and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

When a petition describing the boundaries of contiguous territory containing not less than sixteen sections, within one or more counties, asking for the establishment of a consolidated independent school district and signed by one-third of the qualified voters residing therein, is filed with the county superintendent of the county in which the largest number of qualified voters in the proposed district reside, he shall within ten days give public notice of the place and date when all objections shall be filed. Such petition shall be accompanied by an affidavit showing the number of qualified voters in the proposed consolidated district and in case such district is in two or more counties such affidavit shall show separately, as to each county, the number of qualified voters in the part of each county included in the proposed district. Such affidavit shall be made by some qualified voter residing in the proposed district, and shall be taken as true, unless objections are filed to it prior to the final decision on said petition. All notices under this act shall be by one publication in a newspaper published within the proposed district or if there be none, then in a newspaper having general circulation within the proposed consolidated district. Objections may be made by any person residing upon or owning land within such proposed boundaries or who would be injuriously affected by the formation of the proposed district and shall be on file not later than twelve o'clock noon of the day fixed for receiving objections. Within five days after such filings the county superintendent shall review all papers filed in his office and after careful review and investigation of their merits shall overrule or sustain the objections filed and fix and determine the boundary lines of the proposed consolidated district. In determining these boundaries he shall so locate the boundary lines as will in his judgment form the best possible consolidated district, having due regard also to the welfare of adjoining districts. He shall also notify at once all objectors by registered letter of his decision.

Any person having filed objections and being aggrieved by the ruling of the county superintendent may appeal from his decision to the county board of education within ten days after the decision is rendered, by serving written notice on the said county superintendent. Within five days after said notice has been received, the county superintendent shall file with the county board of education all of the original papers together with his decision and fix the time and place where such appeal will be heard and shall give notice to appellants by registered letters as heretofore provided. The time fixed for such hearing shall be not less than five nor more than fifteen days from the date his decision is rendered. The county board of education shall determine such appeal within five days after the submission thereof which decision shall be final as to said boundaries.

If no objection be filed or if the objections be not sustained, it shall be the duty of the county superintendent with whom said petition has been filed to call an election in the proposed consolidated district, legal notice of which shall be given as hereinbefore provided. At the election all qualified voters residing in the proposed consolidated district shall be entitled to vote by ballot for or against the establishment thereof.

When it is proposed to include in such district a school corporation containing a city, town or village, with a population of two hundred or more inhabitants, the voters residing upon the territory outside the limits of the said school corporation shall vote separately upon the proposition to create such new district. The judges of said election shall provide separate ballot boxes in which shall be deposited the votes cast by the qualified voters from their respective territory, and if a majority of the votes cast by the qualified voters residing either within or without the limits of the aforesaid school corporation is against the proposition to form a consolidated independent corporation, then the proposed corporation shall not be formed. If a majority of the votes so cast in each territory shall be in favor of such independent organization, the organization of the proposed consolidated independent school corporation shall be completed by the election of a board of directors for said school corporation, as provided in section twenty-seven hundred ninety-five of the code, and when so organized shall not be reduced to less than sixteen sections unless dissolved as provided by law.

No remaining portion of any school corporation from which territory is taken to form such a consolidated independent corporation shall, after the change, contain less than four government sections, which territory shall be contiguous and so situated as to form a suitable corporation. In the formation of such consolidated school corporation the boundary lines shall conform to those of school corporations or sub-districts already established, provided, however that the county board of education on hearing, may fix other boundaries than herein prescribed, when because of meandering streams, irregular boundaries of existing sub-districts or school corporations or the location of highways, the welfare of the consolidated district and adjoining districts may be better served. In case the boundary of such sub-districts be a public highway then the said consolidated district may include such tracts of one hundred sixty acres or less as are contiguous to the said highway. And where after the formation of such consolidated school corporation, there is left in any school township one or more pieces of territory containing four or more government sections, each of such pieces of territory shall thereon become a rural independent school corporation, unless two or more sub-districts remain in a contiguous body, in which event such remaining portion of territory shall constitute a school township, and it shall be the duty of the officers of the former school township to call an election in each of such remaining pieces of territory for the purpose of electing school officers in the manner provided by law for the election of officers in rural independent school and school township corporations.

SEC. 2. This act being deemed of immediate importance shall take effect and be in force when published in the Des Moines Capital and Des Moines Register, newspapers published in Des Moines, Iowa."

I move to amend the bill by striking out all of section 12 thereof and substituting the following therefor:

SEC. 12. Authority is hereby granted and conferred upon any municipality of the state, by resolution of its council, to regulate and fix the rates or charges of any service rendered or to be rendered by any public utility wholly within such municipality and the provisions of Section 725, Supplement to the Code, 1913, are hereby made applicable to such service. Before establishing any such rates the municipality shall give at least five days written notice to the public utility furnishing such service of the rates proposed to be established, setting forth the facts making such changes desirable and the time when and place where the objections of the utility affected thereby will be heard.

Any public utility may make written application to any municipality for the passage of a resolution authorizing an increase in the rates which such public utility is authorized to charge for any service rendered or to be rendered wholly within such municipality, setting forth the facts causing the necessity for or desirability of the said increase and the council of such municipality shall hear said application within fifteen days after it is filed with the clerk of said municipality and give the public utility not less than three days written notice of the time and place of said hearing.

Within ten days after the passage of any resolution fixing rates or the taking of any action upon the application of any public utility for an increase in rates the clerk of such municipality shall transmit to the public utility affected thereby a copy of the resolution or record of the action taken duly certified by him. Said notices and copies shall be served and transmitted by being forwarded by registered mail directed to the home office of the public utility affected.

The public utility furnishing such service may appeal from the action of the municipality in fixing such rates or upon the application or its failure to act within thirty days after the filing upon said application, to the Board of Railroad Commissioners. Said appeal shall be taken and perfected by serving a notice of appeal upon the municipality in the manner provided by law for the service of notices in civil actions and the filing of said notice with the return thereon showing said service in the office of the commission all within thirty days after the mailing of said certified copy of resolution fixing rates or within sixty days after the filing of said application for an increase in rates.

Within fifteen days after the service of said notice of appeal, the clerk of said municipality shall prepare a transcript of all of the papers, records and documents on file or appearing of record in his office, pertaining to said matter appealed from and file said transcript in the office of the commission and said transcript together with the notice of appeal shall constitute the complaint of the public utility and be heard and determined in the same manner as other complaints. And if said rates appealed from or rates complained of in the application of the public utility are found to be unfair, unjust, inadequate or unreasonable the board shall determine and fix rates that are fair, adequate and reasonable and certify the same to the municipality which shall at once by resolution establish said rates unless an appeal is taken from the findings of the board as provided in this act. All rates when finally determined shall be certified by the clerk of the municipality to the commission and filed with it. All rates which any municipality or public utility proposes to change shall remain in force so long as an appeal may be taken to the commission and if appealed from until the determination of the appeal by the commission, provided that the commission shall have the same powers pending the determination of an appeal in respect to the application of a public utility for an increase in rates to permit said increased rates applied for to become effective as provided in Section 7 of this act.

The commission may order and any public utility shall have the right to have consolidated the hearing of all complaints on account of rates for service rendered by such utility whenever the determination of important identical issue or issues or important identical fact or facts are necessary in each appeal, but findings and judgments shall be made and entered separately upon each complaint.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

To the Members of the Senate and House of the Thirty-eighth General Assembly:

SIR: Under the provisions of Section 5, Chapter 129, Acts of the Thirty-seventh General Assembly, I am herewith transmitting copy of the Celebration of the Siege of Vicksburg Commission, the original report having been filed in the Executive Office on March 20th, 1919.

Respectfully submitted,

W. L. HARDING,
Governor.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, March 12, 1919.

HON. W. L. HARDING, Governor of Iowa, Des Moines, Iowa.

SIR:—In compliance with Chapter 129, Act of the Thirty-seventh General Assembly of Iowa, making an appropriation of $40,000 enabling the State of Iowa to assist in the celebration of the Fifty-fourth Anniversary of the Siege and Capture of Vicksburg, Mississippi, the Commission appointed by said act, hereby make the report of its doings.

So far as it was possible the Commission complied with Section One of said Act, every soldier eligible under the Section was given full opportunity to comply with the provisions of the Section, and in no case did the sum exceed $50.00 for any single person, and that the Governor and his staff were allowed the same and no more than any other person for like service.

SECTION 2: This Section was entirely complied with.

SECTION 3: So far as the first part of this Section refers to the duties of the Commission such details and arrangements were made as was deemed necessary with a strict compliance with the Act. But the following could not be complied with by the Commission as no part of the appropriation was ever paid to the commission, as under the rulings of the Attorney General of the State, all vouchers for transportation issued by the Commission to the several railroads and transportation companies were returned by the several companies direct to the Auditor of State, and the commission had no handling of any part of the appropriation.

SECTION 4: This Section was fully and carefully and laboriously complied with. Many circulars were distributed in various forms and the newspapers were worked to a "finish," all free of costs save the postage and the printing of the circulars, a full and detailed account was heretofore made in compliance with Section 5 of the Act. The Commission after vigorous efforts succeeded in procuring the usual low rate of one cent a mile the round trip, the only expense to the individual was sleeper fare and meals en route, and on these we secured reasonable rates.

Every one eligible under this section was given full and free privileges and the full benefit of the Act and the rules by the Commission. The Commission fully complied with the last requirement of the Section, "serving without compensation," the incidental expenses being, as heretofore stated, reported and paid by the State.

SECTION 5: Unexpended appropriation. As shown in the explanation of Section 3, no part of the appropriation was ever placed in the hands of the Commission, the vouchers issued by the Commission to the several railroads, were by the direction of the Attorney General and Auditor of the State, returned directly to the Auditor of State, and the Commission had no means of knowing how much was paid on each voucher, as some agents charged slightly more and some a little less than the amount designated by the voucher issued by the Commission.

In every respect the celebration was, with a few minor matters, a great success. All who took the trip pronounced it "the trip of my life" and are enthusiastic in their thanks to the Legislature for the appropriation.

No praise is too high for the National officers who had charge of the Jubilee at Vicksburg. Nothing seemed left undone that should have been done for the comfort and pleasure of the Veterans.

The food was abundant and of the best; the sleeping quarters (tents) were ample and the bedding absolutely new and clean.

Herewith please find detailed statement giving in full the amount paid each railroad and paid for Commissioners' expenses and showing balance of the fund unexpended.

Trusting the foregoing may be found complete and satisfactory, we are,

Very respectfully yours,

ADDENDA:

The planning and carrying the Jubilee to a successful completion was arduous and stupendous, requiring months of hard and incessant labor and attention, which owing to the absence of ourselves on other matters, almost wholly devolved upon Mr. Stewart, who from the passage of the appropriation until the last man was comfortable at home, gave almost his undivided time to the work, and had the work performed by him, free of charge, paying his expenses the same as others on the trip, been hired, would have cost the state not less than three or four hundred dollars.

Therefore, we recommend that he be allowed out of the unexpended appropriation or otherwise a reasonable compensation for his services.

Trusting this will meet with your approval, we are,

Very respectfully yours,

House concurrent resolution memorializing Congress concerning reduction of freight rates.

W. C. RAMSAY, Chief Clerk.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Whereas, many public improvements for which there is an imperative need have been postponed on account of the existence of a state of war between the United States of America and the Imperial German Government, and

Whereas, the necessity for the resumption of the construction of public works is fully recognized and is being urged upon all people in authority representing the various political units and subdivisions of the United States; and

Whereas, one of the greatest problems confronting the state and nation at the present time is the furnishing of immediate employment to a large amount of idle labor released from other activities by the victorious termination of the war; and

Whereas, the embarking upon the construction of the much needed public improvements will furnish immediate and profitable employment to idle labor; and

Whereas, the increase in freight rates on the heavy materials, entering largely into the construction of public works, which went into effect June 25, 1918, was approximately one hundred per cent greater than the increase on other commodities; and

Whereas, in the judgment of the General Assembly of the state of Iowa freight rates on materials designed for use in the construction of public works are excessive and tend unmistakably to discourage the resumption of the construction of such enterprise, thus defeating the effort to give employment to idle labor; therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the State of Iowa, the Senate concurring therein,

That the president of the United States, the Congress of the United States, and the United States Railroad Commission, be and they are hereby memorialized and respectfully but most urgently requested to take such action as will bring about a reduction in the freight tariffs governing the shipment of materials entering largely into the construction of public works, said reduction to be not less than the advance which went into effect June 25, 1918, and to be effective at an early date; and

That upon the passage of this resolution, certified copies thereof be forthwith forwarded by the secretary of state of Iowa to the president of the United States, the presiding officers of both houses of Congress and members from Iowa of both branches of the Congress of the United States, and the director general of railroads.

Also:

I am directed to inform your honorable body that the House has concurred in the following concurrent resolution, in which the concurrence of the House was asked:

Senate concurrent resolution relative to publication of legislative index.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Senator Wilson, from the committee on judiciary Nos. 1 and 2, submitted the following report:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your joint committee on judiciary Nos. 1 and 2, to whom was referred Senate File No. 159, a bill for an act to promote the general welfare of the people of this state by creating a liability on the part of the employers to secure and compensate their employees and dependents, irrespective of the fault of either party, for personal injuries sustained by such employees when the same arise out of and in the course of their employment, and providing for such compensation and benefits; determining the conditions and terms under which certain employers and their employees may reject, and certain other employers and their employees may accept, the compensation provisions of this chapter; fixing the character and amount of such compensation and benefits and the manner of arriving at same, and also specifying the terms and conditions under which the same shall be paid; providing for the enforcement and administering of such compensation statute, and fixing penalties for the violation of its provisions; and repealing chapter 8-a, title XII, supplement to the code, 1913, and all acts amendatory thereof, and all other acts, or parts of acts, in conflict herewith, beg leave to report they have had the same under consideration and return the same with the finding of the joint sub-committee of the committee on judiciary Nos. 1 and 2, to whom the same was assigned on the question of the constitutionality of the compulsory feature thereof, which finding is adopted by the full joint committee and the bill is therefore reported back to the Senate without further recommendation.

To the Honorable Chairmen of Senate Judiciary Committees Nos. 1 and 2:

Your joint sub-committee, to whom was referred Senate File No. 159, beg leave to report they have examined the bill and the authorities cited by the various parties at the hearings with reference to same; and the sub-committee reports the members thereof are not clearly convinced that the compulsory feature of the law is constitutional under the due process, equal protection, and right of trial by jury, provisions of the Iowa constitution; but the tendency of recent times is so strongly in favor of sustaining such laws, and the questions are so close, and the matters involved so important, that the committee feels that the determination of the constitutionality of the law should be left to the courts.

The committee further reports that from the authorities cited they find no objection from a constitutional standpoint as to that feature of the bill amending the provisions of the present law requiring that consuls of foreign nations shall have exclusive representation.

The committee further reports that it finds seemingly sound economic objections to section 14, sub-paragraph (f), and sub-paragraph (d), both of part IV, and to section 6 (g)-(17) of the bill. But the committee understands that it was not called upon to pass upon economic phases of the bill and so renders no opinion upon this point.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

I desire to explain my vote on the housing bill.

The bill is an attempt by detailed state law to regulate the details of city regulation of building operations. It will interfere with the freedom of building, without affecting sanitation. It was pressed through the Senate without any discussion.

Amendment to the bill was immediately stopped as soon as the bill was explained.

I believe in a housing bill, but believe its details should be left to the rule of cities at home and was ready to propose the following amendment, but was prevented by the previous question:

Strike out all after the enacting clause and substitute the following:

SECTION 1. That no building, hotel, tenement house or other structure shall be built or maintained which is unsanitary, damp, dark or unfit for human habitation.

SEC. 2. That cities of 5,000 and over shall have authority to adopt suitable ordinances under this act to promote the health, safety and welfare of the people and dealing with light, ventilation and sanitations of human habitations within their limits.

CLEM F. KIMBALL.

SECTION 1. That the law as it appears in Section seven hundred thirty-seven-a (737-a) of the Code Nineteen hundred thirteen, (1913) be amended as follows: between the ";" and the word "including" in line one, insert the following: "having a population of less than six thousand (6000)," and by adding to said Section seven hundred thirty-seven-a (737-a) the following:

SEC. 2. "That all cities having a population of six thousand (6,000) or more, including cities acting under the commission form of government, and special charter cities shall, within ninety (90) days after the taking effect of this act, adopt and enforce ordinances regulating the business of plumbing and prescribing rules and regulations not inconsistent with the provisions of this act for the installation and inspection of plumbing and prescribing the grade of material to be used; also compelling the removal of plumbing hereafter installed in violation of such rules and manner prescribed; and to impose penalties within the limits of section six hundred eighty (680), of the code, 1897, and amendments thereto, for violations of such ordinances.

The state board of health is hereby empowered to make such provisions as may be necessary to establish a code of rules governing the installation of plumbing in the state of Iowa. The Governor of Iowa shall, within sixty days (60) after the passage of this act, appoint a committee of three, two of whom shall have had at least five (5) years experience in the business of plumbing, to meet with and assist the state board of health in drafting a state code for plumbing, specifying the grade of materials to be used, and regulating the installation of same. Said committee shall serve without compensation but shall be paid necessary traveling and hotel expenses. All necessary and incidental expenses in carrying out the provisions of this act shall be paid by the state treasurer from the plumbing inspection fund hereinafter provided, in the manner provided in section one hundred seventy-s (170-s), supplemental supplement to the code, 1915, as amended by chapter 67, acts of the thirty-seventh general assembly, provided, however, that said committee shall receive no compensation except from such funds as may accrue under this act.

In all cities which have a population of more than six thousand, having sanitary sewer system, or such other methods of sewerage disposal as are enumerated in this act, the council shall by ordinance appoint a board of examiners, consisting of three members, one of whom shall be a practical journeyman plumber, one a member of the local board of health, and one a practical master plumber, two of whom shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Provided, however, that if there is no resident practical journeyman plumber or practical master plumber in such city, the city council shall not be required to appoint a board of examiners, and every such city not having such a board of examiners shall require each person engaged as a master plumber or employing plumber, or journeyman plumber in such city, to have a license or certificate from some examining board within the state, either as a master plumber, journeyman plumber or employing plumber.

The council shall provide suitable rooms in which said board of examiners may hold its meetings, and shall provide for the necessary incidental expenses incurred by said board and may also provide a per diem compensation for the members of said board of examiners not exceeding ten dollars, ($10) per day for the time actually spent in performing the duties imposed upon said board.

Said board shall, when so directed by the council, and under such rules and regulations as the council shall prescribe, hold examinations of applicants for a certificate, or license, to work, either as a master plumber, journeyman plumber, or employing plumber, and if satisfied as to the competency of the applicant, a certificate, or license, shall be issued to such master plumber, journeyman plumber or employing plumber, and the amount of the fee for such examination shall not exceed ten dollars ($10) for a master plumber or employing plumber, and shall not exceed five dollars, ($5) for a journeyman plumber. Fees for renewal for a master plumber or employing plumber's license shall not be more than two dollars, ($2), and for a journeyman plumber's license shall not be more than one dollar ($1). Fees for such examination shall be divided as follows: One dollar ($1) of the examination fee to be returned to the secretary of the state board of health and by him paid to the state treasurer and kept by the treasurer as a separate fund to be known as the plumbing inspection fund, from which the expense incurred by the state board of health and the committee appointed by the Governor as provided in section 2 hereof, shall be paid, and the balance of examination fees to be paid monthly into the city treasury along with renewal fees.

SEC. 4. Such certificates, or license, shall be valid and recognized throughout the state for a period of one year and may be renewed from year to year upon the payment of the renewal fee. Such license shall not be transferable and shall expire on the 31st day of December of each year.

Any such certificate, or license, issued by any such authorized board, may be revoked by said board for repeated violation of ordinances enacted under the provisions of this act.

Sec. 5. Such examining board shall issue a certificate, or license, upon the payment of the regular fee, without examination, to all master plumbers actually engaged in the business of plumbing at the time of the passage of this act, provided application for such license be made within ninety (90) days after taking effect of this act.

Motion prevailed and the president appointed as such committee, Senator Kingland, Representatives Lockin of Cherokee and O'Donnell of Dubuque.

Senator Cummins was escorted to the speaker's desk. President Moore presented the Hon. Albert B. Cummins, who delivered the following address:

HON. ALBERT B. CUMMINS.

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the General Assembly:

Some weeks ago the Thirty-eighth General Assembly adopted a concurrent resolution expressing its views upon certain phases of what is generally known as the "Railroad Problem." The resolution further provided that a copy should be sent to the senators from Iowa, and to the members of the House of Representatives. It seemed to me appropriate that I should make some kind of response to the action of the General Assembly, and inasmuch as the subject is so comprehensive, intricate and difficult, I replied asking the president of the Senate and the speaker of the House if it would be agreeable to the legislative bodies over which they presided to make my response in the form of an address to a joint session of the two houses.

I assume that it is in pursuance of that request that the kind invitation under which I am here has been extended to me, and my purpose is to consider with you for a brief time the railway situation, in the hope that I may be helpful in some degree in bringing about a full understanding of the task which Congress is endeavoring to perform.

Barring, possibly, the proposed League of Nations, the readjustment of the relation between the government and the railroads is by far the most important and most difficult of the many problems of reconstruction which the war has bequeathed to the United States. There can be no prosperity, no proper development, no enduring growth, unless our system of transportation, both internal and external, is adequate in its facilities and reasonable in the charge for the service rendered. The people of the country should turn their minds to the question in a serious, determined way. They must think of it fundamentally, and with intelligence adopt a policy which will not only be economically sound, but which will furnish sufficient transportation to meet the constantly increasing demands of business, and furnish it at the lowest possible cost consistent with fairness to the capital invested, and to the men whose brain and brawn conduct and operate railway properties. We ought to bear constantly in mind these two requisites as the basis of all our efforts toward regulation and control. I repeat them: First, adequacy of facilities; second, cost of maintenance and operation.

Dismissing for the moment the former, my greatest desire is to impress upon you and the country the fact, never to be forgotten for a single moment as we pass through this discussion, that the cost of transportation is composed of just two items: First, the charge for capital; and, second, the charge for maintenance and operation.

If we are to serve successfully the general welfare our labors must be directed toward reducing, if we can, the charge for capital, and toward securing the utmost efficiency and economy in maintaining and operating the railway properties compatible with fair compensation to those whose mind and hands are engaged in rendering the service we require.

In order that there may be no misunderstanding as to my attitude, I desire to say in the beginning that I look upon transportation by railway as a governmental function. I believe it is just as much the duty of the government to provide the people with adequate transportation at the lowest cost as it is to provide them with adequate highways, adequate water supply, adequate courts of justice, or adequate police protection. Whether the government can best perform this function through the government ownership and operation of railroads, or through the instrumentalities of private corporations under public control is entirely a matter of sound judgment and wise discretion. Whatever course is pursued the test must be the same. It is our manifest duty to adopt the plan which will give to the people of the country the transportation which they require at the lowest cost.

It is clearly recognized by every country in the world that government ownership and operation of railroads is a proper government activity, and if a particular government selects some other agency through which to accomplish its purposes it is solely because the commerce of the country can be better served through such agency. I interpolate this thought simply because there are some men who seem to believe that in government ownership and operation there is a dangerous approach toward socialism as it is generally understood. Nothing could be more erroneous than this view of the subject. I do not intend to enlarge upon this phase of the matter, and mention it only to quiet the fears which seem to disturb the composure of a great many good citizens.

I emphasize again the proposition already announced: The object which Congress must constantly bear in mind is the necessity for transportation, and the right of the people to have it upon reasonable terms. If they can secure better transportation and at lower rates through government ownership and operation that is the system which should be adopted. If, on the other hand, the object can be attained in a higher degree by employing private instrumentalities under public direction and control, it is obvious that we ought to pursue the latter course.

With these preliminary observations I beg to turn your thought, first, to the magnitude of the subject with which we must deal; and, second, to some historical facts which may be of value in determining what we ought to do.

The railways of the United States constitute about one-twelfth of all the property of the country. We have 260,000 miles of single track railway—more than one-third, nearly one-half of all the railways of the world. These railways of ours carry a yearly traffic so much greater than that of any other country that there is really no basis for comparison. Indeed, the traffic of any two nations may be combined and still it does not approach the commerce of America borne upon American railways.

The average capitalization of our railways is $67,000 per mile, and while that may be greater than the cost of the properties, and I am quite convinced that it is, yet it is still true that it is considerably less than one-half the average capitalization of railways throughout the remainder of the world.

When we approach the radical readjustment of the system of control and regulation of such a property, appreciating its intimate relation with every other business activity, it is not difficult to understand the deep sense of responsibility which those who are engaged with the readjustment must feel; and the consciousness that the work must be done after the most complete inquiry, the most careful reflection, and the most intelligent comprehension of the subject in all its vast ramifications.

It is easy to demonstrate that these railways were not all built where they should have been built, and that the construction of hundreds of them was attended, not only with profound ignorance of the most fundamental principles of railroad building, but with a greed and graft which shocks the modern investigator; but which, happily, cannot be repeated in the future. Nevertheless, the railroads were built, communities have been developed which rely upon them, and it is idle to think even of dismantling any considerable number of them or of changing the channels of commerce which have now been established.

It is not my purpose to inquire into the iniquities of either the original construction of the railroads or into the dishonesty which accompanied the capitalization of the railway corporations. Much of the wrong-doing can never be punished, and much of the injustice can never be repaired. Nearly a generation has passed since most of these things were done, and the railroads are in the hands of a new and better body of men, who, in my opinion, have in the main for a decade or more been faithfully endeavoring to comply with the law in the management and operation of their railroads; and it is unfair to inflict upon them all the penalties which their predecessors justly incurred.

In my service as a member of the interstate commerce committee of the Senate I have been in close contact with most of the railway presidents and managers of the country, and I take this opportunity to say that, while I cannot accept in all respects their opinions with regard to the readjustment which everybody admits is imperative, I believe them to be thoroughly honest in their discussion of the subject; and that they have a sincere desire to help, rather than to hinder, Congress in finding the best solution of the intricate and important problem. It is natural that they should be biased, but it is a pleasure to know that all of them recognize that they are engaged in a public service and that the public interest is, and must always be, the paramount consideration.

Passing over the earlier history of the railroads without further remark, I bring your attention to the three years immediately preceding the war. The years 1915-16 and 17 were the most profitable years ever experienced in the operation of railroads. During these years the funded debt, and I use round numbers, amounted to eleven billions of dollars, and the capital stock, eliminating all duplication, to six billions five hundred millions of dollars. The property investment account, which was intended to show the actual cost of the railway property, but which in fact is inaccurate, as frequently declared by the Interstate Commerce Commission, aggregated something more than eighteen billions of dollars. The average net railway operating income for the three years was nine hundred and thirty millions of dollars.

The average return upon the so-called property investment for the eastern district was 5.21 per cent, for the southern district 5.36 per cent, and for the western district 5.15 per cent. After paying all fixed charges, including interest upon the funded debt, and taxes, the railways earned upon their capital stock all the way from nothing to more than one hundred per cent.

Limiting my inquiry now to what are known as class 1 roads, being the railways which have a gross income of more than a million dollars annually, and still using the average of the pre-war period and the property investment account for comparisons, a startling situation is disclosed.

In the eastern district there are 67 railways: Three of them show a net operating income of more than 10 per cent upon the investment account. Two of them show more than 9 and less than 10. Three of them show more than 8 and less than 9. Four of them show more than 7 and less than 8. Five of them show more than 6 and less than 7. Twelve of them show more than 5 and less than 6. Fourteen of them show more than 4 and less than 5. Nine of them show more than 3 and less than 4. Seven of them show more than 2 and less than 3. Five of them show more than 1 and less than 2. Two of them show less than 1, and one of them was operated at a loss.

In the southern district there are 32 railroads: I need not particularize so closely with respect to them, and it is sufficient to say that upon the property account, 4 of them earned more than 7 per cent; 14 of them earned less than 5 per cent, and 7 of them earned less than 3 per cent.

In the western district there are 63 railroads: Thirteen of them had a net operating income of more than 6 per cent. Twenty-five of them had a net operating income of less than 3 per cent; and 20 of them a net operating income of less than 2 per cent.

I am stating these facts for one purpose, and one purpose only. It is to fasten upon your minds the disparity in the earning capacity of the various railroads of the country. In my judgment, the railroads earned in the years to which I have referred, as a whole, more than they ought to have earned; but the varying conditions of the several properties present an insoluble problem under our former system of regulation and control.

It is, of course, well known that a very large proportion of the railroad revenues are earned under competitive rates, and no matter what the necessities of a particular railroad may be it must do business upon the rates that prevail amongst its competitors. I give you a concrete illustration in order to make this point perfectly clear.

You are all familiar with the Chicago & Northwestern and the Chicago Great Western railroads. They are wholly competitive. The average net operating income of the Chicago & Northwestern for the period named was 6.13 per cent upon its property investment account, while the average net operating income of the Chicago Great Western for the same period was 1.77 per cent. The Chicago Great Western cannot survive upon rates which will enable the Chicago & Northwestern to pay its interest and 8 or 10 per cent upon its capital stock, and add every year to its surplus.

What is true of the Chicago Great Western is true in greater or less degree of the railroads which carry about 25 per cent of the traffic of the country. To increase rates so that the weak roads will become self-sustaining and able to finance themselves would give to the roads which do 75 per cent of the business a revenue which the commonest sense of justice forbids.

It was this situation which finally convinced every thoughtful man, even before the war turned the railroads over to the government, that there must be a radical change in the system gradually developed from 1887 to 1917. I beg that you will remember these conditions, for upon them is found one principle which any readjustment must observe.

Two additional facts and I shall have finished the historical review. The funded debt of all the railroads was, at the beginning of the war, eleven billions of dollars, bearing an interest charge of four hundred and seventy-five millions of dollars, leaving substantially five hundred and fifty millions for either dividends, investment in property or surplus. In 1917 the revenue from operation was substantially four billions of dollars and the cost of maintenance and operation was substantially three billions.

In order to complete the basis for the comparisons I shall institute I pass to a very brief statement with respect to the year of government operation. The president took possession of the railroads on the 29th day of December, 1917. In March, 1918, Congress passed an act which authorized the government to pay for the use of the property a sum somewhat in excess of nine hundred millions of dollars annually. The volume of traffic in 1918 was slightly less than in 1917, but in the first half of the year the rates, both passenger and freight, were increased so that the revenues amounted to a trifle more than four billions nine hundred millions of dollars. That is the aggregate sum which the people of the country paid in the year in freight and passenger charges for their railroad transportation—something like eight hundred millions of dollars in excess of the amount paid in 1917.

The cost of maintenance and operation, however, grew to substantially four billions two hundred millions of dollars, to which we must add nine hundred millions for compensation and a further large sum yet to be announced for the expense of the Central Railroad Administration.

The outcome is that it cost the government more than five billions one hundred millions of dollars to furnish transportation for the year, leaving a deficit of more than two hundred millions of dollars to be paid from the treasury of the United States.

While the former director general expressed before our committee the belief, and in this opinion he was joined by the present director general, that the year 1919 would exhibit more satisfactory results, it is my judgment that the deficit of 1919 will not be less, and may be more, than the deficit of 1918. I do not intend to enter upon an analysis of this deplorable showing of government operation further than to say that the increase in revenues is substantially as great as the increase in wages and the advanced cost of supplies, and the shortage must be largely accounted for by the inefficiency incident to government operation and the tremendous increase in the number of railroad employees—an increase which has always been observed in all countries as they have passed from private to public operation.

Moreover, the government during the year either paid or became responsible for extensions, additions and betterments chargeable to capital account, and which the railroads must repay if they are able, about eight hundred millions of dollars. It is this condition which makes it impossible for the government to return the railroads to their owners until there is far-reaching legislation which will protect both the public and the railroads from the disasters which would inevitably follow an immediate return. Without the necessary credit to finance themselves, and in view of the enormous demands which the war has made, and is making upon the resources of the people, it is clear to thinking men that a return of the railroads to the corporations which formerly operated them without suitable legislation would lead fifty per cent of the railway mileage of the United States into the hands of receivers within six months.

It is the first and highest duty of Congress to deal with this situation in a fundamental way, and to establish a permanent policy for the future maintenance, regulation and control of our transportation systems. No half-way or timid measures will suffice. We must meet the question squarely and boldly. It is no time for shrinking, compromising spirits. I am sure that I speak for every member of the Senate when I invite the best thought of the General Assembly of Iowa to aid in the solution of this exceedingly and overwhelmingly important problem immediately confronting us.

You will understand, of course, that the facts which I have recited merely outline the information with which the history of railroads, their development and operation, is crowded, and I assume that you will supplement what I have said with your own comprehensive knowledge of the subject. These facts are sufficient, however, in my judgment, to point the way to the reorganization of our transportation system, and to sustain the principles which must be embodied in any successful readjustment of the relation between the government and the railways.

Some time prior to the first of January of the present year, and in anticipation of the hearings which have been in progress before the interstate commerce committee of the Senate for two months or more, I announced to the public a series of principles which, as it seemed to me, should be accepted in the enactment of any fundamental legislation. They are:

First. The return upon the capital invested in railways should be made certain through a government undertaking.

Second. The railways should be consolidated into comparatively few systems, and by few I mean not more than eighteen.

Third. The railways should be operated by private corporations organized under an act of Congress.

Many complete plans of reorganization have been laid before the Senate committee, brought forward by the most intelligent, thoughtful men of the country, some of whom are railway executives, some of whom represent security holders, some of whom are bankers, some of whom represent commercial and civic institutions, and some of whom are observers and students of economic life in all its varied phases.

It was intensely gratifying to me to discover as the hearing proceeded that all these plans, save one, adopted the substance of the principles which I had made public, although there are wide differences in the form of their application to the actual affairs of transportation.

Will you indulge me while I submit, with such brevity as I can command, the reasons which justify the principles to which I have called your attention?

The return upon the capital invested should be made certain by a government undertaking because:

First, it is highly desirable to remove for all time the demoralizing, corrupting struggle between the owners and representatives of railway property and the public, especially that part of the public directly interested in freight and passenger charges. For more than forty years this conflict has been going on in conventions, elections, legislatures, congresses and the courts. Sometimes the railways have won, sometimes the people have won, but the fight has been so intense that oftener than otherwise the justice of the matter has been ignored by both sides, and it is high time to bring the contest to an end.

Second: The honest investment in railway properties is entitled to protection, and the public is entitled to fair treatment. It is impossible to conceive of any revision of the law that will accomplish these two things without the elimination of the controversy relating to the return upon capital. The certainty of the return is also demanded because furnishing transportation is a public business, and abstractly considered there should be no speculative profit in the business.

Finally, and chiefly, the return should be made certain in order to reduce the charge for the capital invested in the railway properties. So long as the return is uncertain with respect to many railroads, every railroad will insist upon earning all it can.

Taken as a whole, the roads received in 1917 a net operating income of about a billion dollars, and they were contending earnestly for more. In 1918 Congress authorized the president to pay them as compensation during the government possession somewhat more than nine hundred millions of dollars per year, and this did not include many of the short-line railways. If the government makes a certain return it can justly reduce the return to a rate of interest which a government obligation ought to bear.

Assuming but not conceding that the railways are worth in the aggregate seventeen billions of dollars, a return of four and a half per cent under a government guaranty would be ample. Under such a provision the annual charge for the properties as they now are would be seven hundred and sixty-five millions of dollars. The people paid in 1917 a capital charge of a billion dollars, and we are now paying under government operation a capital charge of more than nine hundred millions of dollars. The principle I have proposed, if embodied in the law, will save the people of the country from two hundred and fifty millions to five hundred millions of dollars annually, for it must be remembered that under the old system the capital charge was gradually increasing, and it is easy to believe that without reckoning any addition to the value of the property the capital charge would soon reach a billion two hundred millions of dollars.

Another vexatious element would be laid at rest. The unearned increment in public utility property is a constant menace. It ought to be understood, once for all, that a fair return upon the actual investment is all that capital can demand. I understand perfectly that many people will instinctively shrink from a guaranteed return, but their reluctance to adopt the principle will disappear upon reflection. There is no possibility of an additional burden; on the contrary, we will save an immense sum of money every year and at the same time convert railway securities into a stable investment and contribute tremendously to the available credits of the country.

There are various methods in which the principle can be applied. It may take the form of a legislative assurance that the rates shall be sufficient to produce the sum required, but preferably it will be put in a positive guaranty. It may be worked out through the securities as they now exist, but the simpler plan would be for a government corporation to acquire all the properties or all the securities and issue or substitute new obligations.

It is to be understood that in any event there must be a valuation of railway properties, unless there can be an agreement between a government agency, such as the Interstate Commerce Commission, and the owners with respect to value. In my judgment, this principle extends the only hope of a reduction in rates, or of preventing still further increases.

The second principle to which I have referred is that there must be a consolidation of the railroads into comparatively few systems. It is utterly impossible to maintain an efficient system of transportation with reasonable rates for service unless this be accomplished. In my statement of the earning capacity of the various roads it was made entirely clear that if the weaker roads are made self-sustaining so that they can continue to serve the communities through which they pass, the stronger roads will enjoy a revenue so excessively large that the people as a whole will be compelled to pay inordinately for their transportation. This is one proposition upon which all impartial students of the subject agree, no matter whether they come from railway life or from the general community. The weaker roads must be merged with the stronger ones into competitive systems which can endure upon substantially even terms. They must be merged, too, under a law that will require at proper times a common use of terminal facilities and a free interchange of equipment, and thus preserve the great advantages of unification, which is the one superiority in government operation.

I am not in favor of regional systems, for we must at all hazards perpetuate competition in service. The experts who have studiously examined the matter are of the opinion that all the railroads of the country could be consolidated into, say, 18 systems, and that the competition in service in nearly every locality would be even more keen than when the government assumed control.

I cannot, within the time which I may properly consume, describe these systems, but I know that it is wholly practicable to do what I have suggested. When this is accomplished if any particular system earns enough as a whole to pay the capital charge and the cost of maintenance and operation the law will be satisfied, and all that will remain for the Interstate Commerce Commission to do will be to see that the rates as between communities and commodities are not discriminatory.

I would not have you think that it will be easy to bring about this situation. It will require very considerable time and a high order of intelligence, but it is largely administrative work, and in the hands of men who have devoted their lives to the subject it can be realized without danger to either the financial, commercial or industrial structure of the nation.

Here again more than one method can be used to embody the principle. It is possible to take railway corporations already in existence and work out the plan with them. My own conviction, however, is that the safer and better method is to put each of these consolidated systems in the hands of a federal corporation. It is gradually becoming clear that in so far as rates are concerned the national government must be the arbiter. I have come to this conclusion slowly and reluctantly, but it is folly to resist the inevitable conclusion. State-made rates which either discriminate against interstate rates, or which do not raise their full share of the required revenue, impair the control over interstate commerce which the constitution has conferred upon Congress, and destroy the efficiency of federal action. I sincerely hope that there will be found some feasible plan for co-operation in this matter between federal and

It seems to me, therefore, that all railway common carriers should be organized under an Act of Congress although I freely admit that the national government can exercise its full power through state corporations, but with some embarrassment and loss of efficiency.

The third principle which I have mentioned is that the railways should be operated by private corporations rather than by the government. I want you to observe that I emphasize the distinction between government ownership and government operation. I realize fully that when the government undertakes that the return upon the capital invested shall be certain, or in other words guarantees the return, whether by legislative assurance or explicit obligation, it is the equivalent of government ownership, and in so far as I am concerned, I am quite ready for the undertaking. The truth is that we have government ownership now in its most undesirable form. The Interstate Commerce Commission, under the present law, determines the revenues which the railways shall receive. It thereby determines the expenses which they may incur, and when the technical owner of property loses the right to say how much he shall have for its use, and the right to say how he should conduct the business of which it is a part, and the right to fix the cost of its operation, he has parted with the essential characteristics of private property.

I favor the private operation of railways under the strictest control for one reason, and one only. The government cannot operate the railroads either economically or efficiently. It is not my purpose to examine the experience of other countries. It is sufficient to say that to my mind that experience is not reassuring. But no matter how that may be I know that the government cannot take seventeen billions of railway property rendering a service which reaches every nook and corner of the land, employing in the service two millions of men or more, and indirectly affecting the fortunes of many other millions, and manage it with either economy or efficiency.

It costs the government more to do any given thing in a country like ours, where every man is a sovereign, than it costs anybody else to do the same thing. The history of every enterprise of a business character conducted by the government proves all and a great deal more than the statement I have just made. I disparage no one, and impugn no man's integrity. What I have said is not only the truth, but it is as natural as life itself.

I admit that the result of government operation during the year 1918—a year of war—is not altogether a fair criterion by which to test the capacity of the government to manage the business of transportation, and it is not my desire to discredit the officials who have been responsible for what has happened. They have, however, demonstrated that the influences which surround the operation of a great commercial and industrial enterprise are too strong to be resisted.

It is unnecessary for me to enter the details of this subject and my opinion is based solely upon the ground that the people of the country will get better transportation and at less cost in that way than through government operation; and that, as I view it, is the chief concern of those to whom the service is to be rendered.

If then, private operation is the better plan, how is it to be accomplished, in view of the limited capital charge which I have already considered? I am fully aware that if private corporations are to operate the several systems which I have described there must be an incentive in the way of profit in order to secure the highest degree of fidelity and efficiency. There must be a reward for good management and honest work, and a penalty for bad management and dishonest work.

Happily, there are several methods through which this problem can be worked out. It can be done through a leasing system, with the rights of lessees carefully prescribed in suitable contracts, but a still better way may be found by providing for a corporation ownership of the several systems into which the country should be divided, each corporation with a capitalization representing the actual value of the particular system, and the establishment of rates which will produce not only the cost of maintenance and operation and the guaranteed return upon capital, but a reasonable sum in excess of the guaranty; the excess to be divided between the stockholders and the working men. I am a profound believer in profit sharing, and when the rule is properly applied it will solve many of the problems which now disturb the industrial world. The additional compensation to capital for efficient management, together with the sum distributed among employes as a reward for faithful labor, will be far less than the increased cost of government operation.

These suggestions could be extended almost indefinitely but I forbear, knowing that I have sketched but the outline of a mighty field. If, however, I have turned your thought to the real questions which must be answered, and have induced you to give them the study of which you are capable, and thus forwarded the immediate task in which we are commonly engaged, I have fulfilled my mission and will be content with your judgment upon my public service in this regard.

One word more and I will have finished what to me has seemed a duty and which I hope you will not look upon as an unnecessary intrusion upon your valuable time. I intend to discuss this subject throughout the country within the next two months, and I felt that I should first lay my views before the law-making body of my own state.

Motion prevailed.

Minutes of the joint session were read and approved.

Senator Nelson moved that the joint session be now dissolved.

Motion prevailed.

Senate returned to the Senate chamber and resumed regular session.

RULING ON POINT OF ORDER.

The president announced that he was ready to rule on the point of order raised by Senator Proudfoot on the consideration of House File No. 376.

Senate File No. 66 failed to pass the Senate. Later, House File No. 376 was received from the House, placed on the Senate calendar, and was under discussion when Senator Proudfoot raised the point of order that the consideration of House File No. 376 was out of order, as it contained practically the same subject matter as Senate File No. 66.

The president cited Cushing's Manual, Jefferson's Manual and Hinds' Precedents in support of his ruling that a question or bill having been disposed of by the Senate, a similar measure could not again be considered at the same session. The president, therefore, held that the point of order raised by Senator Proudfoot was well taken, and ruled that House File No. 376 should be taken from the calendar, and could not be considered by the Senate.

Senator Rule moved that the rules be suspended and that the bill be allowed to remain on the calendar.

Senator Proudfoot raised the point of order that the motion was out of order, under the ruling heretofore made by the chair.

The president held the point of order well taken.

Senator Kimball raised the point of order that the Senate ought to have the power to suspend a rule and bring the matter up again for consideration.

The president gave his opinion that the Senate ought not attempt to set aside so well established a precedent in legislative procedure.

Senator Proudfoot raised the point of order that there was no matter or motion before the Senate for discussion.

The point of order was sustained.

Senator Kimball moved that the committee on rules be instructed to prepare a rule whereby a bill passed by one House could be considered by the other, even though a similar measure had been previously disposed of adversely, and that the committee report back by 10:00 a. m. on Monday, March 31st.

Senator Proudfoot raised the point of order that it was not in order for the Senate to adopt a rule providing for any action which would be contrary to all established precedents.

The president held that the point was well taken, but stated that he would nevertheless entertain the motion made by Senator Kimball.

Senator Wilson moved that the motion of Senator Kimball be laid on the table.

The motion prevailed.

Senator Evans moved that Senator Frailey be permitted to file a motion to reconsider the vote by which Senate File No. 66 failed to pass the Senate.

Senator Proudfoot raised the point of order that in view of the decision rendered by the chair, the motion by Senator Evans was out of order.

The point of order was sustained.

Senator Wilson raised the point of order that there was no motion before the Senate for discussion and that therefore the Senator speaking was out of order.

The point of order was sustained.

Senator Holdoegel asked as a matter of information if the ruling of the chair would apply likewise to the consideration of the bill providing for a memorial building on the capitol grounds, a bill of that kind having recently passed the Senate, after a similar bill in the House had been defeated.

The president said that in his opinion the Senate could consider a Senate bill even though the House had already acted unfavorably on a House bill.

Senator Whitmore appealed from the decision of the chair with regard to Senate File No. 66 and House File No. 376, giving as his reason that he considered that there was enough difference in the two bills so that the point of order raised by Senator Proudfoot ought not be held to be applicable.

Senator Proudfoot raised the point of order that the question had already been settled by the decision rendered by the chair.

The president stated that he had no desire to interfere with the appeal from the decision.

Senator Proudfoot raised the further point of order that the appeal was not debatable.

The president held that while the point was well taken, the imparting of information ought not to be out of order.

Senator Hale invoked rule 8.

On the question, "Shall the decision of the chair be sustained?" the vote was:

Ayes, 37.

The chair was sustained.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

I cast my vote in favor of sustaining the decision of the Chair on the question of appeal from the ruling, such appeal being raised by Senator Whitmore. I am and have been at all times in favor of the Iowa Emblem bill, but I recognize how manifestly fair and just the President has been at all times and I therefore cast my vote in favor of sustaining the President's ruling, notwithstanding the fact that I am still in full sympathy with the bill over which the question was raised.

K. M. LeCOMPTÉ.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

Explanation of my vote on appeal from the decision of the Chair relative to House File No. 376.

I voted in this matter to sustain the Chair for the reason that according to every parliamentary law, rule and precedent, the Chair, in my opinion was correct in his decision. This decision, as a matter of parliamentary law, is sustained by Cushing, Jefferson's Manual, and Hinds' Precedents.

I introduced the original "Flag Bill" in the Senate and championed it upon the floor thereof and was advocating the passage of House File No. 376 upon the floor of the Senate when further action was stopped by the interposition of the point of order herein referred to.

Therefore, there can be no question as to my absolute conviction that this bill should have been passed by this body, but my personal convictions in this matter must of necessity, give way to law and order and the well established laws and rules of parliamentary bodies in this country for the past century.

J. R. FRAILEY.

President Moore made the following statement:

Every senator here has, during his service in this chamber, the right to rise, gain the recognition of the Chair, and speak from the standpoint of personal privilege. It is not within the province of the Chair to do so but for just a moment he is going to assume it.

This is the close of my second session as presiding officer and it is the first time that an appeal has been taken from my decision. I want to assure the senators who voted for sustaining the decision and those who voted against that I concede to them the right of conscientious action. I believe they voted their convictions.

I want to say this, however; you men have differences of opinion as to the value of this measure. I am not here as a legislator. I am here as a state officer who is ex officio, the presiding officer in this body. I have no voice in legislation. I am not expected to either shape or influence it and I can say to you truthfully that I have not attempted to do so. Unfortunately in many cases he who sits in this chair is like the innocent bystander and "gets the brick."

May I be permitted to say that it has been to me a matter of very great regret that I was compelled to rule today against the consideration of a measure in which I have a very great personal interest. Had I been privileged to sit on the floor of the senate rather than where I now stand and had been privileged to have a vote it would have been a very great pleasure to have supported this measure, introduced and supported, as it was, by a Society of which many of my relatives are members and in which I personally have a very great interest.

I trust that I have not transgressed either in the matter of good taste or the privileges of this senate in making this brief statement.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER WITHDRAWN.

MR. PRESIDENT—I hereby withdraw the motion filed by me on March 26th to reconsider the vote by which House File No. 318 passed the Senate and also to withdraw the motion filed by me to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed to its third reading.

O. A. BYINGTON.

MOTIONS TO RECONSIDER FILED.

MR. PRESIDENT—I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate File No. 238 failed to pass the Senate, and to also reconsider the vote by which said bill passed to its third reading.

CLEM F. KIMBALL.

I move to reconsider the vote by which the amendment to House File No. 6 was adopted adding the words "or parochial" after the word "public" in section 1.

W. T. EVANS.

On motion of Senator Stoddard, Senate File No. 416, a bill for an act to provide for the appointment of a special county auditor by the board of supervisors in counties with a population of more than forty thousand (40,000) subject to the approval of the state auditor and prescribing the duties of the said special auditor and fixing the salary thereof, with report of committee recommending amendments and passage, was taken up, considered, and the report of the committee adopted.

The following committee amendments were adopted:

Amend by striking out all thereof following the enacting clause and adding in lieu of the portion struck out the following:

SECTION 1. That in counties having a population of Forty Thousand (40,000) or more, the board of supervisors may, at any regular meeting thereof, appoint a special auditor whose duties are hereinafter set out. Within five days of the appointment of such special auditor the county auditor shall notify the auditor of state of such appointment in writing, stating the post office address of such appointee, the date of said appointment and the date the same is to take effect, which last shall not be less than ten days after the date of said appointment. Written objections to such appointment may be filed with either the county auditor or the auditor of state and any such objections shall be transcribed from the officer receiving the same to the other, forthwith, and the nature of the objections and the names of the objectors shall be made known to each member of the board of supervisors by the county auditor at once. If, by reason of such objections, a special meeting of the said board of supervisors is called as provided by statute, the said board of supervisors may rescind such appointment and proceed as before to make another appointment as though the first had not been made, which action shall be transcribed to the auditor of state at once by the county auditor. All objections filed with the auditor of state either directly or by transcript from the county auditor shall be considered by the said auditor of state and especially such objections as raise the fitness of the said appointee on the grounds of lack of ability as an accountant, business experience or of any physical defect that unfits the said appointee for the position and he shall make such investigation as will satisfy him as to the advisability of confirming such appointment or rejecting the same. Should no objections be filed with or transcribed to him by the county auditor he shall confirm such appointment within ten days. When objections have been filed with the auditor of state or transcribed to him by the county auditor, he may, should he so desire, call an open hearing on such objections, of which he shall notify the objectors and the county auditor, who shall in turn notify each member of the board of supervisors, said call to state the place and date or time of such hearing and should it become necessary or advisable the auditor of state may adjourn such hearing and notice of same shall be given as hereinbefore set out for the original open hearing. Such adjournment may be had from time to time; but in no case shall there be more than fifteen days between such adjournments. After due consideration, when objections have been filed with the auditor of state or transcribed to him by the county auditor, he may affirm or refuse to affirm such appointment. In either case he shall forthwith notify the county auditor, who shall in turn, forthwith, notify each member of the board of supervisors, and if such affirmation is refused the notice from the county auditor to the members of the board of supervisors shall also fix a place and time for a meeting of the board of supervisors not less than ten days nor more than fifteen days from the date of said notice from the auditor of state, at which meeting the appointment may be again taken up as in the first instance. This method may be continued until a suitable person is finally appointed and his appointment confirmed by the auditor of state. The appointee shall be a person with reasonable business experience, a reasonable knowledge of accounting and of accounts in the several county offices and also a reasonable knowledge of the law pertaining to county offices and county affairs. It is not necessary that the appointee shall be a resident of the county prior to the appointment and confirmation, but should such appointment be made, confirmed and accepted, such person shall, without unreasonable delay, make the county seat of such county his residence.

Sec. 2. The special auditor shall be furnished with suitable office room, office furniture, the necessary books and stationery as well as a suitable place for stock.

Sec. 3. It shall be the duty of the special auditor to be present at and keep the minutes of the board of supervisors, except such proceedings as are recorded in the drainage record only, being those after the district has been established. He shall furnish a copy to each of the official newspapers of such proceedings, signed by the chairman and attested by said special auditor, together with such other matter, such as reports, etc., that is now, or may hereafter, be required by law to be published with or as a part of the proceedings of the board of supervisors. Such copy shall be furnished to the said newspapers not more than four working days after the adjournment of the said board of supervisors, except when the said board adjourns from day to day or to meet in adjourned session within one week, in which instance he shall furnish such copy not more than four working days after the last of such adjournments. It shall also be his duty to see that such minutes are published without unreasonable delay under any rule that may be laid down by the board of supervisors and that said minutes are published without padding, nor shall such matter be abbreviated or abridged so that they are not understandable by the ordinary reader. He shall require a copy of such proceedings as they appeared in said newspaper to be filed with the claim for the printing of same, and he shall measure and figure the amount due for the publication thereof, as well as for all other publishing and printing, for which the county is to pay; including all official notices, election notices, publication of ballot, the printing of the ballots, publishing of advertisements, etc., so as to determine the correctness of the claim therefor; using as his guide in the matter of publishing and computing, the pamphlet issued by the State on County Printing. Copies of each of the above for which claim is filed shall be attached to, or accompany, the claim against the county.

SEC. 4. It shall be the duty of the special auditor to purchase, by requisition system, all books, blanks, records, vouchers, receipts, etc., and to see that the same conform to the forms prescribed by the auditor of state agreeable to section one hundred-e of the supplement to the code, 1913. To purchase all miscellaneous office supplies such as are in common use in the several county offices, such as typewriter ribbons, paper, carbon, pencils, pens, inks, rubber bands, erasers, etc., and to keep a stock of such supplies compatible with the fluctuation of prices thereof and the amount liable to be called for; to issue the same in any reasonable number or amount on written requisition to any officer entitled thereto, keeping a record of purchases and distribution, making a continuous invoice of each of such articles. If, to save money, the purchase of an unusual number or quantity of any of such article or articles is contemplated, he shall consult with and have the sanction of at least one member of the board of supervisors. He may make reasonable expenditure of money in the discharge of his official duty or in the purchase of books, blanks and supplies for the county, subject, however, to the approval and ratification of the board of supervisors.

SEC. 5. He shall, upon request of any member of the board of supervisors, obtain quotations on road and bridge material and supplies, including machinery and repairs; or on any other machine or device for office or other purposes, or any other article or commodity used by counties, and upon an order of the board of supervisors, he shall conduct the correspondence relative thereto and make such purchases thereof as ordered by them.

SEC. 6. He shall have charge of the accounts of the county against any inmate of any state or county institution, or the person liable for the support of such person. He shall gather such data in each instance, when possible, to determine the legal residence, the means of support, if any, or the person liable for support, if any, the relationship of such person, post office address and any other information possible to gather, which may render aid in the matter of collecting for such support, or of placing the burden of such support upon another county wherein the other county is legally liable therefor or for placing the burden of such support upon the state where the state should take over such burden. He shall render bills for the support of such persons and see that the same are paid to the county treasurer where collection is possible, and it shall be his special duty to endeavor to make such collection from a guardian or executor or other person in charge of money or other property belonging to, or to which they become heir, subject to the orders of the board of supervisors. When such collection shall have been made, to give proper credit therefor. To gather data relative to poor persons attempting to gain a residence in, or obtain aid in any form from the county, and to determine as to the legal status of such person or persons and when it is found that they should be supported by another county, to notify such person or persons to remove from the county and also to notify the county liable for such support as provided by law.

SEC. 7. He shall number all claims against the county as prescribed by law and list the same, and he shall also keep an expenditure docket. He shall make such reports and at such times as may be required of him by the auditor of state or the board of supervisors. He shall also, without request, make a monthly statement to the board of supervisors showing the expenditures of the month in each of the several funds under the control of the said board together with a comparative statement of expenditures for the corresponding month for the two years previous thereto. A copy thereof to be filed with the county auditor and each member of the board of supervisors.

SEC. 8. It shall be the duty of the special auditor to investigate each claim filed against the county before being acted upon by the board of supervisors, such investigation to include extensions, computations and additions, to determine also whether the claim is a duplicate of some former claim or any part thereof, to determine, if possible, whether the claim is a legal claim against the county and for this purpose he may require the claimant to set out the section in the statutes providing for the payment of such claim, also whether it be sworn to as prescribed by statute or by any order of the board of supervisors. To show on supply claims who ordered and received the goods, the disposition of same or by whom used or stored. The board of supervisors may make any other rule or rules they may deem advisable with which he shall comply. He shall note any error in or duplication of claim, but he shall not alter any claim except at the request of the claimant. The amount to be allowed to rest with the board of supervisors.

SEC. 9. The county auditor shall be and is hereby relieved of any duplication of the above work, but is required to furnish to the said special auditor the data in his office necessary for the said special auditor to properly keep up his records, including a list of amounts, allowed on the several claims and the warrants issued in payment thereof, showing the fund upon which drawn, the number and amount as well as to whom drawn. Also any and all other information in his office necessary for the said special auditor to have in order to do his work according to law.

SEC. 10. The term of office of the special auditor shall be two years, except that the term of the first special auditor appointed in the county shall expire on the second secular day of January of the first even numbered year following such appointment and his successor should be appointed prior to the expiration of such term. He may be removed by the board of supervisors or the auditor of state prior to the expiration of his term of office for cause.

SEC. 11. The board of supervisors may fix the salary of the special auditor at a sum not less than seventy-five per cent nor more than ninety per cent of that of the county auditor. Said salary to be paid monthly at the end of each month.

SEC. 12. The board of supervisors shall require an official bond in a sum of not less than two thousand dollars ($2,000) and being the same in form as those furnished by county officers and their deputies. The said bond to be approved by the board of supervisors and filed with the county auditor.

The report of the Sub-Committee of the Committee on Departmental Affairs, having in charge the inquiry into the affairs of the office of Secretary of State, is hereby adopted, with the recommendation that the report be transmitted to the Senate.

Attested by:

C. W. BOATWRIGHT,

Secy. Committee on Departmental Affairs.

To the Honorable Chairman of the Senate Committee on Departmental Affairs:

The undersigned, constituting the subcommittee charged by your committee with the duty of inquiring into the affairs of the business administration of the office of the Secretary of State, beg leave to submit this, their first and final, report:

The subcommittee, immediately following their assignment to such duties on March 7, 1919, organized and immediately proceeded to call before it all persons whom it was suggested or the committee had reason to believe could give information on the subject. The subcommittee caused the various witnesses to be sworn and their testimony preserved in shorthand and a full, true and complete transcript thereof made, which transcript in two volumes and the exhibits identified therein are hereby made part of this report and transmitted to you herewith accompanying.

The subcommittee conducted this hearing fairly, fully and impartially to the best of their ability, and gave the Secretary of State an opportunity to appear before it and discuss the matters fully, which he did and which testimony was preserved and is part of said transcript.

Upon said evidence this subcommittee finds:

1. That there has been mismanagement and incompetency in the conduct of the department for the registration of motor vehicles, and heretofore constituting part of the duties of W. S. Allen, as Secretary of State.

This condition led to the introduction and passage of Senate File No. 407, transferring such duties from the office of Secretary of State to the office of Treasurer of State, who is now conducting same, and working improvement in the situation.

2. Upon said evidence, the subcommittee further finds that said W. S. Allen, Secretary of State, has permitted the time of the employes in his office to be devoted to the promotion of his political ambitions, to such an extent as to be detrimental to the proper discharge of the business of the state.

3. Upon such evidence, we further find that without excuse he failed to cause to be printed public notice of the "proposed amendment" to the constitution relating to the right of "suffrage" as required by Chapter 153 of the Acts of the Thirty-seventh General Assembly.

4. Upon such evidence, we further find that the want of system, and delay by him in the registration of motor vehicles has for weeks at a time deprived the state of the use of these moneys, with attendant loss of interest.

5. Upon such evidence, we further find that said W. S. Allen, as Secretary of State, has failed to give careful personal attention to the details of his office, resulting in the payment by the state of bills which should have been corrected.

6. Upon such evidence, the subcommittee further reports that we find nothing to indicate that the said W. S. Allen, as Secretary of State, has been guilty of any corruption in the management of his office, or of any intentional misappropriation of state funds.

7. Said W. S. Allen, through this subcommittee, has tendered, and there is herewith accompanying transmitted to the full committee, his resignation as Secretary of State of Iowa, effective July 1, 1919.

The subcommittee recommends to the full committee that they transmit to the Senate the transcript of evidence, the exhibits, this report and said resignation with the recommendation to the Senate that they approve of this report and transmit said resignation to the Governor of the State with the recommendation that he accept the same.

The subcommittee has received this resignation with the understanding that its acceptance shall, in the absence of other and different evidence than is shown by this record, close this matter so far as the Senate is now concerned. And in fairness to this subcommittee and to the Secretary of State if this report and recommendation are not approved by the Senate said resignation should be returned to the Secretary of State without action.

The aforesaid transcript of evidence, exhibits, and report constitute all the information this subcommittee has on the subject involved, and all information known to the subcommittee is now before the entire committee.

8. By concurrent resolution, the committee was authorized to incur an expense not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500) in carrying on such investigations as might be required of it, and in this connection your subcommittee reports that they have incurred the following expenses, payment of which should be made direct by the Auditor of State:

E. G. Stanley, sergeant-at-arms, taxi fare, two trips, serving subpoenas .....	$ 6.00
Peter Sabus, Churdan, Ia., witness fees .....	5.50
Charles R. Linn, Atlantic, Ia., stenographer, reporting evidence and making transcript .....	27.50
Senator P. C. Holdoegel, telephone call .....	1.30

Having thus submitted their full, first and final report, the subcommittee begs that same be accepted and the subcommittee discharged, and that the full Senate Committee on Departmental Affairs and the Senate may take such action, if any, upon said report as may seem to them appropriate.

Dated, Des Moines, Iowa, April 2, 1919.

RULING ON POINT OF ORDER.

COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE PANAMA EXPOSITION FUND.

Senator Pitt called the attention of the Senate to the following charges made by James M. Pierce, publisher of The Iowa Homestead:

In order that this matter may be put before the legislature in definite form, so that it may have grounds for taking proper action, I make the following charges, which I am ready to go before any committee of the Thirty-eighth General Assembly and prove:

First.—I charge that Woodworth Clum, as secretary of the Iowa commission to the Panama-Pacific exposition, paid a personal and private bill, which had nothing to do with the exposition or the state of Iowa, out of funds appropriated for the state's exhibit at the San Francisco fair.

Second.—I charge that Woodworth Clum paid $100 of the state's money for a second-hand typewriter, that was owned by the Clinton Advertiser, in which he was interested, whereas the state can buy a new machine at any time for $80; and I further charge that he has never returned this typewriter to the state.

Third.—I charge that Woodworth Clum paid to himself, out of state funds, $1,562.54 as salary for seven months prior to the time that the bill was passed making the appropriation.

Fourth.—I charge that Woodworth Clum paid to himself, out of the state appropriation for the Panama-Pacific exposition, salary and expenses for the time that he was lobbying in the Thirty-sixth General Assembly for the passage of the appropriation bill, which was to provide him a job.

Fifth.—I charge that the Iowa commission to the Panama-Pacific exposition has failed to comply with the law requiring it to make "a full, detailed and itemized accounting" of the state funds which it handled.

Sixth.—I charge that the Iowa commission to the Panama-Pacific exposition has failed to report or to turn over to the state a penny received by it from concessions or other sources of income at the San Francisco exposition, and that it has failed to account for or return property purchased with the state's money.

JAMES M. PIERCE,

Publisher of The Iowa Homestead.

Senator Kimball offered the following amendment as a substitute for the amendment offered by Senator Smith and moved its adoption:

Amend by striking out all after the enacting clause and substituting therefor the following:

SECTION 1. That the law as it appears in section four hundred ten (410), supplement to the code, 1913, be and the same is hereby repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

The board of supervisors in each county shall consist of three persons, except where the number may heretofore have been increased to five or hereafter be increased to five in the manner provided by this chapter, in which case such number shall not exceed five after the second secular day in the year, 1923. They shall be qualified electors and each be a resident of a different supervisor district and be nominated and elected at large from their respective districts by the qualified voters of their respective counties. The board of supervisors of any county may, and when petitioned to do so by ten per centum of the electors of said county, shall submit to the qualified voters of the county, at any regular election, the following proposition: "Shall the proposition to increase the number of supervisors to five be adopted?" If the majority of votes cast shall be for the proposition so submitted, then, at the next ensuing election for a supervisor the requisite additional supervisors shall be elected, whose terms of office shall be determined by lot, in such manner that one of the additional members shall hold his office for three years, and one for two years. In any county where the number of supervisors, have been increased to five, the board of supervisors, on the petition of ten per centum of the legal voters of the county, shall submit to the qualified voters of the county, at any regular election, the following proposition: "Shall the proposition to reduce the number of supervisors to three be adopted?" If a majority of the votes cast shall be for the decrease, then the board of supervisors and the districts shall be reduced to the number indicated by such vote, and thereafter there shall be biennially elected the number requisite to fill the board.

SEC. 2. That the law as it appears in section four hundred eleven (411), supplement to the code, 1913, be and the same is hereby repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

There shall be elected at each general election, members of the board of supervisors for a term of three years to succeed those whose terms expire in January following said election and in January one year later. On or before the April meeting, 1920, of the board of supervisors it shall assign to each supervisor to be elected to succeed those whose terms will expire, a supervisor district within which such candidate for member of the board shall reside at the time of his election and during his term of office and it shall be specified on the ballot from which district the member is to be elected and the successor of the member elected for any district shall in the same manner reside within the district at the time of his election and during his incumbency.

The assignment of districts shall not be held to apply to supervisors whose terms of office have not expired, but only to their successors.

The term of office of all supervisors shall be three years and shall commence on the second secular day of January of the years of the expiration of the term of their predecessors.

SEC. 3. That the law as it appears in section four hundred sixteen (416), supplement to the code, 1913, be and the same is hereby repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

The board of supervisors shall at its regular meeting in January, 1929, and may, in any even numbered year thereafter, divide its county into a number of supervisor districts corresponding to the whole number of supervisors to be elected in such county.

Sec. 4. That the law as it appears in section four hundred seventeen (417), of the code, be and the same is hereby repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

Such districts shall be as nearly equal in population as possible and shall embrace territory as nearly contiguous as practicable, provided that no supervisor shall be assigned less than one township, each of which districts shall have one member of the board of supervisors who shall reside therein, and who shall be nominated and elected by the electors of the whole county and no civil township shall be permitted to have more than forty per cent of the members of the board of supervisors, and no civil township shall be part of more than two supervisors' districts.

Provided, however, counties which now nominate and elect three or five supervisors by vote of the electors of the respective districts shall continue to so nominate and elect their supervisors, but the board of supervisors may, and shall when petitioned to do so by fifteen per centum of the electors voting at last general election of said county, submit to the qualified voters of the county at any regular election the following proposition: "Shall the county nominate and elect the supervisors by vote of the electors voting at large instead of by districts?" If a majority of the votes cast shall be in favor of said proposition then the members of the board from their respective districts shall be nominated and elected as herein provided by the electors of the whole county at the first primary and election held after the adoption of the proposition.

Provided, further, that in counties nominating and electing supervisors at large, the board of supervisors may and shall when petitioned to do so by fifteen per centum of the electors of said county, submit to the qualified voters of the county the question "Shall the county nominate and elect the supervisors by a vote of the electors of districts, said districts to be fixed and determined by the board of supervisors, as provided by law?" If a majority of the votes cast shall be in favor of said proposition, then supervisors shall be nominated and elected from and by the electors in said districts.

And, provided further, counties, which have cities within their limits with a population of sixty thousand or over, shall continue to nominate and elect their supervisors by vote of the electors of their respective districts.

Sec. 5. That the law as it appears in section four hundred eighteen (418), of the code, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Amendment adopted.

Senator Foster moved as a substitute that further action be deferred until April 8, at 9:15 a. m.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE.

Senators Wilson and Proudfoot, from the committee on joint judiciary Nos. 1 and 2, submitted the following report:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee on joint judiciary Nos. 1 and 2, to whom was referred Senate File No. 27, a bill for an act to amend Section 1571-m32 of the Supplemental supplement to the code, 1915, and providing for the apportionment of the motor vehicle fund, beg leave to report they have had the same under consideration and recommend the same be re-referred to the sub-committee on motor vehicle bills of judiciary Nos. 1 and 2.

WILSON AND PROUDFOOT, Chairmen.

Report adopted and bill so referred.

Also:

Your committee on joint judiciary No. 1 and 2, to whom was referred Senate File No. 385, a bill for an act relating to Motor vehicle Dealers Number Plates, the registration thereof and registration Fee, beg leave to report they have had the same under consideration and recommend the same be re-referred to the sub-committee on Motor Vehicle bills of Judiciary No. 1 and 2.

WILSON AND PROUDFOOT, Chairmen.

Report adopted and bill so referred.

Also:

Your committee on joint judiciary No. 1 and 2, to whom was referred Senate File No. 39, a bill for an act to amend 1571-M-19 Supplement to the code, 1913, relative to the care and prudence in driving to be exercised by drivers or operators of motor vehicles, beg leave to report they have had the same under consideration and recommend the same to be re-referred to the sub-committee on Motor Vehicle bills of Judiciary No. 1 and 2.

WILSON AND PROUDFOOT, Chairmen.

Report adopted and bill so referred.

Also:

Your joint committee to which was referred Senate File 357 by Price to pass on the constitutional questions involved in said bill, begs leave to state that it has had same under consideration and reports as follows:

We find that the constitution of the State of Iowa and the decisions of our Supreme Court and the Supreme Courts of other states would authorize the assessment of a tax upon common industries, like the one herein proposed, provided that said tax were evenly imposed upon all industries of the same class. In other words, there is nothing in the constitution, that prevents a state from separating a particular class of property and subjecting it to assessment and taxation provided that said tax is uniform upon all subjects of the same class and kind.

As for the expenditure of moneys to be raised under this bill, we find the following provisions in the constitution of the state of Iowa:

Const. Art. 9, Sec. 7. The money subject to the support and maintenance of common schools shall be distributed to the districts in proportion to the number of youths, between the ages of 5 and 21 years, in such manner as may be provided by the General Assembly.

Art. 1, Sec. 6, Laws Uniform. All laws of a general nature shall have a uniform operation; the General Assembly shall not grant to any citizen or class of citizens, privileges or immunities, which upon the same terms shall not equally belong to all citizens.

Art. 3, Sec. 30, Laws, General and Uniform. "In all the cases above enumerated, and in all other cases where a general law can be made applicable, all laws shall be general and of uniform operation throughout the state."

Under these provisions of our constitution we are of the opinion that the application of school funds to particular common schools as proposed in this act would be unconstitutional.

WILSON AND PROUDFOOT, Chairmen.

AMENDMENT FILED.

Senator Buser filed the following amendment:

MR. PRESIDENT—I move to amend Senate File No. 496 by striking out all after the enacting clause and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

SECTION 1. It is the intent of this act to divide the highways of the state and of each county into a primary and secondary system, to provide for the substantial and durable improvement of such primary roads of each county, to pay for said improvements on such primary roads from federal aid funds, motor vehicle registration fees, and from the proceeds of assessments on benefited real property, to permit each county to anticipate such funds if it chooses so to do, to divert other existing highway funds to the construction and maintenance of the secondary system of roads, to secure the benefit of all present and future acts of the government of the United States which proffer financial aid to the state of Iowa in the construction and maintenance of highways, and to coordinate the system herein created with the requirements of said federal government relative to such improvements. This act shall be construed as additional to and not in repeal of chapter 249 of the acts of the thirty-seventh general assembly of the state of Iowa.

Sec. 2. The state highway commission is empowered, on behalf of the state, to enter into any arrangement or contract with, and required by, the duly constituted federal authorities, in order to secure the full cooperation of the government of the United States, and the benefit of all present and future federal allotments in aid of highway construction or maintenance. The good faith of the state is hereby pledged to cause to be made available each year, sufficient funds to equal the total of any sums now or hereafter apportioned to the state for road purposes by the United States government and to maintain the roads constructed with said funds. The board of supervisors of each county is empowered to enter into any arrangement or contract with, and required by, the state highway commission, in order to fully carry into effect the provisions of this act.

Sec. 3. The highways of the state are, for the purpose of this act, divided into two systems, to-wit: the primary road system and the secondary road system. The primary road system shall embrace those main market roads (not including roads within cities), which connect all county seat towns and cities and main market centers, and which have already been designated under section 2 of chapter 249 of the laws of the thirty-seventh general assembly of the state of Iowa, known as the federal aid road act; provided, that the said designation of the roads shall, for more efficient service to all parts of the county or more economical construction of the system and with the consent of the federal authorities, be subject to the revision by the county board of supervisors for the purpose of securing a more serviceable distribution thereof over the county, which change shall be subject to the correction and approval of the state highway commission; but no material change in distribution shall be made without the approval of a county board of supervisors. Any portion of said primary system so eliminated by any change shall revert to and become a part of the system from which originally taken. The state highway commission may, for the purpose of affording access to state parks and recreation centers within a county, add such road or roads to the primary system of said county as the board of supervisors may specifically designate and request.

The secondary road system shall embrace all roads not embraced in the primary system and not embraced within the limits of cities or towns. Roads embraced in the secondary road system shall continue to be classed as at present, as county roads or township roads as the case may be.

SEC. 4. There is hereby created a fund which shall be known as the primary road fund, which shall embrace the federal-county-co-operation road fund as created by chapter 249 of the laws of the thirty-seventh general assembly, all additional and future federal aid road funds, and two-thirds of and an additional amount, if necessary, sufficient to provide funds to meet the requirements of all federal aid road building appropriation acts as applicable to the state of Iowa, all other funds derived from year to year by the state or counties under acts regulatory of motor vehicles commencing with and including all fees for the year 1920 except such portion of said motor vehicle fund as shall be necessary to maintain the federal aid engineering fund, and as may, by law, be retained in the state treasury as a maintenance fund for the state highway commission or as a fund to cover administration of the motor vehicle department. Said primary road fund shall be apportioned to the respective counties in the ratio that the area of the county bears to the total area of the state, and shall be employed as herein provided, solely in the drainage, grading, hard surfacing and maintenance of the roads of the primary road system. The portion of said fund apportioned to each county as above provided, is hereby pledged to the completion of said primary system and is dedicated by the state to the county, to be used solely for the payment of the cost of such improvements or the maintenance thereof, and for the redemption of any bonds issued therefor as herein provided. For the purposes of administration, the apportionment to any county may be made up partly from the federal aid road allotments.

SEC. 5. The state highway commission shall open an account with each county in the state in relation to the primary road fund, and shall first credit each county with any unused portion of the allotment of the federal-county-co-operation road fund, as shown by the official supplementary bulletin of the state highway commission of June, 1917, and designated as "Volume V, No. 6", and shall each year credit each county with its allotted portion of the primary road fund, and charge it with the amount of all duly and finally approved vouchers for claims properly chargeable to said county. Said account shall also show the amount of each separate authorization of bonds or road certificates hereunder, and the amount, number, date, maturity, and interest rate of each series of bonds or certificates actually issued by the county under this act. The said commission shall, at all proper times, keep each county fully informed as to the state of its account.

SEC. 6. Each county, acting through its board of supervisors, shall have three options in the expenditure of its allotments from the primary road fund;

First, it may elect to complete the grading and drainage of any part or all of the primary roads within the county before laying any hard surfacing or graveling; or

Second, it may hard surface or gravel, in any one year, such portion of the roads in the primary system in its county as may be met by its allotted portion of the primary road fund for said year, plus any balance remaining to its credit from previous allotments, plus the special assessments on abutting and adjacent real estate as hereinafter provided; or it may proceed in any one year with draining and grading one or more divisions of the primary system and with hard surfacing or graveling on other divisions of said system.

Third, it may proceed with said hard surfacing in a more rapid manner when authorized to do so by the voters of the county as hereinafter set forth, provided no hard surfacing or graveling shall be constructed on any division of the primary roads until the drainage and grading of said division shall have been fully completed.

SEC. 7. For the purpose of creating a basis for a systematic program for improvement, the board of supervisors of each county, in connection with the county engineer, shall, as soon as may be reasonably possible after the taking effect of this act designate into divisions the roads of the primary road system within their county, with a view of the most advantageous program of improvement, having in view the development of the primary roads in the county in such order as will best and most fairly meet the convenience of the public, viewing the county as a whole. Different portions of primary roads which diverge from a common point may be so designated into divisions that the several divisions immediately adjacent to the common point will constitute an approximate district. Said divisions shall be suitable designated on a map filed with the state highway commission, and shall be recorded by the county auditor in the proceedings of the board, and shall be final, except that the board may, under changed or better conditions, modify such record in order to attain more advantageous results in cost. No division established by the board of supervisors shall embrace roads or streets within a city.

SEC. 8. When the board of supervisors of any county shall decide to begin the improvement of any division of said primary road system, it shall, on or before the first day of August of any year, by a resolution filed with the state highway commission, specify the divisions or divisions of the primary road system in said county which they desire to improve hereunder. Said resolution shall indicate the program of improvement for the ensuing year or years, and shall specify the funds available or the method proposed to finance the cost of such improvements. If the resolution filed with the state highway commission embraces the hard surfacing of any division of primary roads, the same shall be accompanied by a proposed assessment district for each division in the form of an engineer's plat. Each district shall be clearly designated by some appropriate and distinctive name and number, such, for instance, as "Correctionville Road, District No. 1". Portions of primary roads which diverge from a common point may be included within one district. No district established by the board of supervisors shall embrace real estate within a city, but no proceedings for an improvement which embraces a road or street of a town shall be affected by the fact that subsequent to the establishment of the district, and before the completion of the improvement, such town becomes a city by change in population. All real estate lying upon and immediately adjacent to each side of the highway, and constituting two continuous zones each three hundred twenty rods in width, measured from the center of the highway, shall be included within each district. The board of supervisors may increase the width of either of said zones by extending the outer boundary thereof for a distance of not to exceed one hundred sixty rods. If either of the zones first mentioned be increased in width, the outer boundary of such increase may follow governmental or other well defined lines; and if any part of a governmental forty-acre tract, or less, is within four hundred eighty rods of the center of the road, then and in such case the entire forty acres or less may be included within the district. Should the center of the highway be less than four hundred eighty rods from an interstate boundary line, or river which acts as such interstate boundary, then the zone adjacent to such line or river may extend to such line or river. Should travel to or from such highway to real estate within either of said zone be wholly barred by a natural or artificial barrier, the board of supervisors may wholly exclude such real estate, or any portion thereof, from such assessment district, or may otherwise meet the difficulty by making a nominal assessment on said real estate. Provided that after the assessment district or districts are formed and an engineer's plat filed with the county auditor therefor, the County Board of Supervisors shall cause to be published, in one of the official newspapers of the county, a notice setting a date and calling an election at some centrally located place in the improvement district or districts, stating the hours upon which the polls will be open and the questions to be voted upon. It shall be the duty of the county auditor to have prepared ballots upon which are stated propositions to be voted upon. No one shall have a right to vote at said election but the qualified electors residing in such improvement district or districts as are embraced in the resolution. The election shall be conducted by the township trustees of the township or if the district or districts include more than one township by such trustees as shall be designated by the county auditor to constitute an election board of three. Such election shall be carried on in the same orderly manner as is prescribed for general elections. After the closing of the polls the said election board shall proceed to count the ballots and shall make a record thereof, showing the result of the election which result shall with the ballots be certified by the election board and filed with the county auditor. If a majority of all the votes cast upon the proposition or propositions are in favor of the same the county board shall proceed in the manner heretofore provided. If the majority of the votes cast are opposed to the proposition or propositions voted upon the improvement shall not be made but may again be re-submitted, after the expiration of one year, upon the filing of a petition containing the signatures of twenty per cent. of the qualified electors, of the district or districts affected, with the county auditor asking for re-submission of the question.

SEC. 9. The said commission shall examine said project, and before approval shall have power to so modify the same as to comply with this act. Upon the approval of said resolution by the state highway commission, the said district or districts, as proposed by the board, shall be deemed finally established, and said establishment shall carry a presumption that all real estate embraced therein will be benefited in some amount by said improvement. Upon the final establishment of said district or districts as above provided, the board of supervisors shall cause to be entered and published in the minutes of its proceedings, a description of all real estate embraced within each district. Such description may be by any legal description, but the failure to strictly comply with said direction as to such entry and publication shall not affect the validity of the proceeding.

SEC. 10. When the resolution has been finally approved the county board of supervisors shall cause to be made by the county engineer proper surveys, plans, specifications, and estimates for such improvement, under the direction and supervision of the highway commission, which plans, specifications and estimates shall be finally approved by the board and the commission, and filed with the county auditor, and the work shall be done in accordance therewith, except in so far as the same may be modified by the commission to meet unforeseen or better understood conditions, and no such modifications shall be deemed an invalidating matter and shall in no way change the kind of surfacing designated in the resolution. Such plans and specifications may provide, as a part of said hard surfaced roadway (and to be computed as a part of the cost thereof), for such shoulders of gravel or other material as may be necessary to protect the roads thereof and to facilitate travel thereover.

SEC. 11. As soon as the approved plans and specifications are received by the board of supervisors, they shall proceed to advertise for bids for the construction of said improvement. Each bid shall be accompanied by a sworn statement by the bidder, or by a partner or officer thereof, which shall show the name and address of each director, officers or partner of such bidder. No contract shall be let to any state or county official, elective or appointive, nor to any relative of such state official, nor to any partnership or corporation in which such state official or relative thereof is financially interested. No contract shall be let to any partnership or corporation in which a county officer of the contract county, or relative of such county officer, is financially interested. The letting of a contract in violation of the foregoing provisions shall not invalidate the contract, nor any bonds thereunder, but upon discovering such violation, the board of supervisors or the state highway commission may terminate the contract, and such violation in case of such termination shall be a complete defense to any action by the contractor to recover any consideration due or earned under the contract at the time of such termination. In the award of contracts, due consideration shall be given not only to the prices bid, but to the mechanical and other equipment, and financial responsibility of the bidder and his ability and experience in the performance of like or similar contracts. The board may reject any or all bids and may re-advertise for bids, or, with the written consent of the state highway commission, may let by private contract, or with such consent may proceed to the construction by day labor at a cost not to exceed the price bid by the lowest bona fide responsible bidder. In any event, all contracts entered into under the provisions of this act shall be approved by the state highway commission before they shall become effective. The form and conditions of all contracts, the form and conditions of all bonds taken or required for the full performance or maintenance of all work, shall be prescribed by the state highway commission.

SEC. 12. The state highway commission is expressly charged with the duty of controlling the supervision, inspection and direction of the work of construction on behalf of the state and its counties, and of supervising the expenditure of all funds paid on account of such work by the counties of the state, and it shall do and perform all other matters and things necessary to the faithful completion of the improvements herein authorized, and to fully carry out the co-operation contemplated and provided by the said federal aid road act. All engineers or inspectors having responsible charge of any improvement shall give bonds for the faithful performance of their duties and for like accounting of all property entrusted to their custody. All bonds given by such engineers or inspectors in the employ of the state highway commission shall be deemed to embrace any and all improvements of which they may be in charge.

SEC. 13. Claims for draining, grading and graveling shall be paid wholly from the county's allotment of the primary road fund. Claims for hard surfacing, in case the county is proceeding without bond issue, shall be paid to the extent of seventy-five per cent of the total cost of such hard surfacing, from the county's said allotment, and the balance shall be paid with special assessment or road certificates, or with the proceeds thereof. Claims for hard surfacing, in case the county is improving with the proceeds of a bond issue, shall be paid, first, from the county's said allotment then available, or from any balance of said allotment remaining after the retirement of bonds and from the proceeds of special assessments, and second, out of such bond fund of the county. All claims shall be itemized upon voucher forms prepared by the state highway commission, sworn to by the claimants, certified to by the engineers in charge, filed with and audited by the board of supervisors, and then forwarded to the state highway commission for final audit and approval. Upon the final approval of vouchers which are payable from the county's allotment of the primary road fund, such vouchers shall be forwarded to the auditor of state, who shall draw warrant therefor, and said warrant shall be paid by the treasury of state from the primary road fund. Duly approved voucher claims, payable at the office of the county treasurer, shall be forwarded by the state highway commission to the county auditor, who shall issue warrant therefor, and the county treasurer shall pay the same with special assessment or road certificates, or from the proceeds thereof, or from the bond fund, as the case may be. Partial payments may be made on work during the progress thereof, but no such partial payment shall be deemed final acceptance of the work nor a waiver of any defect therein.

Sec. 14. A board of apportionment of three resident freeholders of the county shall be appointed by the board of supervisors to apportion all special benefits to real estate within each district, but the same board of apportionment may act for more than one district. No person shall serve on such board if he lives or owns real estate within the district for which he is to act. Whenever the total expense of such improvement within said district has been approximately determined, said board of apportionment shall, with all reasonable dispatch, personally inspect and classify in some uniform manner, and under some intelligent description, and in a graduated scale of benefits, all real estate within said districts. Said classification, when finally established, shall remain as a basis for all future assessments to cover deficiencies, if any, unless the board of supervisors, for good cause, shall authorize a revision thereof. Said board of apportionment shall, among other relevant and material matters, if any, give due consideration to the fair market value per acre of each of the different tracts of real estate, to their relative location and productivity, and to their relative proximity and accessibility to the said improvement. They shall, in writing, and to the different described tracts of real estate within said district, make an approximately equitable apportionment of twenty-five per cent of the total expense of said improvement. In making said apportionment, real estate owned by the state or any county shall be treated as other real estate, but no other publicly owned real estate shall be included, and in apportioning benefits to real estate owned by the county or state no consideration shall be given to the buildings thereon. Said apportionment report shall specify each tract of real estate by some intelligent description, the amount apportioned thereto, and the ownership thereof, as the same appears on the transfer books in the auditor's office, and shall be filed with the county auditor. Said apportionment shall carry the presumption, in the absence of a contrary showing, that the same is fair, just, equitable, and in proportion to benefits and not in excess thereof. Upon receipt of said apportionment, the county auditor shall fix a day for hearing before the board of supervisors, and cause notice to be served upon each person whose name appears in said apportionment, report or in any recommendation accompanying the same, as owner, and also upon the person or persons in actual occupancy of any such real estate, which notice shall state the amount of special assessments apportioned to each tract, the day set for hearing before the board of supervisors, that at said hearing any apportionment may be increased without farther notice, that (if such be the case) the board of apportionment has recommended that specified additional tracts of real estate not otherwise prohibited by the provisions of this act, should be included within said district, and that specified sums should be apportioned thereto to defray the cost of said improvement, and that all objections to said report, or any part thereof, by reason of any irregularity in prior proceedings, or by reason of any irregularity, illegality, or inequality in making such apportionment, must be specifically made in writing and filed with the county auditor on or before noon of the day set for such hearing, and that a failure to so make and file such objections will be deemed a conclusive waiver of all such objections. The county auditor shall cause such notice to be published in at least one of the official newspapers of the county once each week for two consecutive weeks, the last of which publications shall be not less than five days prior to the day set for said hearing. Proof of such service shall be made by affidavit of the publisher and be filed with the county auditor. Omission to serve any party with notice herein provided, shall work no loss of jurisdiction on the part of the board over such proceeding, and such omission shall only affect the persons upon whom service has not been had, and if, before or after the board has entered its final order in apportionment proceedings, it be discovered that service of said notice has not been had on any necessary person as herein provided, the board shall cause such service to be then made, either by publication or by actual written notice, and shall thereafter proceed as to such person as though such service had been originally complete. The appearance of any interested party, either in writing or personally, or by authorized agent, either before the board of supervisors or before the state highway commission at any stage of a pending proceeding for the hard surfacing of the highways of a district, shall be deemed a full appearance. Only interested parties or their attorneys or agents shall have the right to appear before the board of supervisors in proceedings provided for in this act, and all persons so appearing shall be required to state for whom they appear, and the clerk of the board shall make definite entry accordingly, in the minutes of the board. The state highway commission shall prescribe standard forms for apportionment reports and notice of hearings thereon. Each member of the board of apportionment shall be paid in full for all services, at the rate of five dollars per day of actual service, and ten cents per mile for each mile necessarily traveled in the performance of his duties, and bills therefor, duly sworn to and itemized, shall be returned to the board of supervisors with the report of the apportioners.

SEC. 15. Should the board of apportionment be satisfied from its investigation, that certain tracts of real estate have been omitted from said district, and that such omitted tracts ought to bear an equitable portion of the expense of such improvement, and are, as to any part thereof, within four hundred eighty rods of said improvement, and not embraced within any other primary road district, they shall proceed in the following manner, to-wit:

First, they shall make and return their apportionment report to the board of supervisors, on the presumption that no real estate will be ultimately assessed, except the real estate which is embraced within the district as then constituted and established.

Second, they shall accompany their apportionment report with a definite list of the heretofore mentioned tracts of real estate, which ought, in their judgment, to be within said district, but which have been omitted therefrom, and shall definitely state the amount which, in their judgment, each such omitted and described tracts ought to equitably bear toward the cost of the improvement. The board of supervisors on the final hearing of said apportionment report, shall pass on said recommendation, and may wholly reject or wholly approve the same, or may reject in part and approve in part, or may approve wholly or in part, with modification. If the recommendation be approved and adopted in any part, the board shall enter an order changing the boundaries of the district accordingly, and notify the state highway commission of said change, and shall adjust the final apportionment in accordance therewith.

Sec. 16. The final hearing on said apportionment report may be adjourned from time to time without loss of jurisdiction on the part of the board. On such final hearing the board shall hear and determine all objections filed, and may increase, diminish, annul or affirm the apportionment made in said report, or any part thereof, as may appear to the board to be just and equitable. On the final determination, the board shall levy such apportionment and all installments thereof upon the real estate within said district, as finally established, and said assessment and all installments thereof shall be then due and payable, and bear interest at six per cent per annum from said date; provided, that if any owner, other than the state or county, of any said tracts of land shall, within twenty days from the date of said assessment agree, in writing filed in the office of the county auditor, that in consideration of his having the right to pay his assessment in installments, he will not make any objection of illegality or irregularity as to said assessment upon his said real estate, and will pay the same with six per cent interest thereon; then and in that case, said assessment shall be payable as follows: In ten equal installments, the first of which, with interest on the whole assessment from the date of levy, shall mature and be payable on the date of such agreement, and the other installments, with interest on the whole amount unpaid, annually thereafter, at the same time and in the same manner as the March semi-annual payment of ordinary taxes. Where no such agreement is executed, then the whole of such special assessment so levied shall mature at one time and be due and payable with interest from the date of levy, and shall be collected at the next succeeding March semi-annual payment of ordinary taxes. All such taxes shall become delinquent on the first day of March next after their maturity, shall bear the same interest, the same penalties and be attended with the same rights and remedies for collection, as ordinary taxes. An owner of land who has availed himself of said ten-year option may at any time discharge his assessment by paying the balance then due on all unpaid installments, with interest on the entire amount for thirty days in advance. Assessments against lands owned by the state or county shall be due and payable from the date of levy by the board of supervisors, or in the case of any appeal, from the date of final confirmation of the levy by the court. In case of assessment on lands owned by the county, the same shall be paid from the county general fund. In case of assessments on land owned by the state, the same shall be represented by a voucher, duly audited as heretofore provided, and the state auditor shall draw warrant therefor and make the same payable out of any funds in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated.

SEC. 17. In case an assessment as originally made, should later be found to be insufficient to pay one-fourth of the total cost of the improvement, an additional assessment may be made in the same relative ratio as the original assessment, to meet the deficiency. In case an assessment appears to be invalid or, in the judgment of the board, seriously defective, the board of supervisors may proceed to the making of a new assessment as though no assessment had ever been made.

SEC. 18. Special benefit assessments shall be levied for an amount which, in the aggregate, shall equal twenty-five per cent of the total cost of hard surfacing, and sums expended for drainage, grading, bridging and culverting shall not be computed as part of said cost, except that the cost of such draining and grading as is purely incidental to the construction of said hard surfacing may be included in the cost thereof. No real estate under any circumstances, though embraced within more than one road assessment district upon the Primary or Secondary road system shall be specially assessed for the original cost of hard surfacing in an amount which in the aggregate shall exceed $5,000 per linear mile for each linear mile or fraction thereof of road to be improved in the assessment district, and no parcel or tract of real estate shall be assessed in an amount exceeding four per cent of the fair market value thereof. Any deficiency in the said twenty-five per cent of the total cost, occurring by reason of said four per cent limitation, shall be paid from the county's allotment of the primary road fund.

SEC. 19. Any owner of land may appeal to the district court from the order of the board of supervisors in levying the assessment against his real estate, by filing with the county auditor within fifteen days from the date of such levy, a bond conditioned to pay all costs in case the appeal is not sustained, and a written notice of appeal wherein he shall, with particularity, point out the specific objection which he desires to lodge against such levy. The appearance term shall be the trial term, and said appeal shall have precedence over all other business of the term except criminal matters. The appeal shall be heard as in equity or at law if appellant demands and the court or jury may raise or lower the assessment in question and make an equitable assessment in the judgment of the court. The clerk of the district court shall, upon the entry of the final order of the court, certify such final order to the county auditor, and the board of supervisors shall at once so adjust the assessments as to comply with such final order.

SEC. 20. When an appeal is taken, the county auditor shall at once make a transcript of the notice of appeal and appeal bond, and transmit the same to the clerk of the district court. The appellant shall, on or before the first day of the first term of the court, after taking said appeal, docket said appeal and file a petition setting forth the order or decision of the board of supervisors appealed from and his specific objections thereto. A failure to comply with either of these requirements shall be deemed a conclusive waiver of the appeal, and in such case, the court shall dismiss the same. Appellee need not file answer, but may do so.

SEC. 21. When the board of supervisors has entered its final order as to the amounts of all special assessments on a given improvement, the county auditor shall at once certify a list of such assessments and a list of the real estate upon which each assessment has been levied, with the specific designation of the district embracing such real estate, to the county treasurer, who shall enter each assessment upon the tax books and continue such entry until such assessment is paid. Each special assessment and all installments thereof shall be a lien upon the real estate upon which it is levied from the date of such certification by the county auditor, to the same extent and in the same manner as taxes levied for state and county purposes. Changes in the amount of any special assessment by reason of any ruling of the district court on appeals, shall be likewise certified and the county treasurer shall make the proper corrections on his books.

SEC. 22. Each assessment district shall be considered a unit and all funds received by the county treasurer for and on behalf of the hard surfacing of such unit shall be carried as a distinct and separate account and under the same specific name as that used by the board in establishing such unit.

SEC. 23. In order to render immediately available that amount of the cost of an improvement which has been specially assessed, the board may issue road certificates in the name of the county in an aggregate amount not exceeding the then unpaid amount of the special assessment levied in said district. Each issue of certificates shall be under, and in accordance with, a duly adopted resolution of the board which shall be entered at large in the minutes of the proceedings of the board, and which shall recite: (1) the name or designation of the road district on account of which the certificates are issued; (2), that a stated amount (naming the amount) has been specially assessed against the lands within said district; (3), that a stated amount of said aggregate special assessment has not yet been paid (naming said unpaid amount); (4), that it is necessary to render said unpaid amount immediately available; (5), the number of road certificates authorized and the specific amount of each certificate; (6), the specific numbering or designation of each certificate; (7), the rate of interest which each certificate shall bear from date, to-wit, not to exceed six per cent per annum; (8), the fact that said certificates are payable solely from the proceeds of the special assessments which have been levied on the lands within said district; (9), that each certificate shall be payable on or before the first day of January of the first year following the maturity of the last installment of said special assessments, and that interest thereon shall be paid annually; (10), the authorization to the chairman of the board, and to the county auditor respectively, to sign and countersign each of said certificates. Upon the signing of each of said certificates by the chairman of the board, said certificates shall be delivered to the county auditor, who shall countersign the same, charge the county treasurer with the amount thereof, and deliver the same to such latter officer, who shall be responsible therefor on his bond. The treasurer may apply said certificates in payment of any warrants duly authorized and issued for hard surfacing the roads within said district, or he may sell the same for the best attainable price and for no less than par plus accrued interest and apply the proceeds in payment of such authorized warrants. Said certificates shall be retired in the order of the consecutive numbering thereof. The county treasurer shall, on or in connection with the road account for said district, clearly enter the name and post office address of all persons to whom any of said certificates are issued, with a particular designation of the certificates delivered to each person. Any subsequent holder may present his certificates to the county treasurer and cause his name and post-office address to be entered in lieu of that of such former holder. Whenever the fund for such particular district has money sufficient to pay the first refundable certificate or certificates, the county treasurer shall, by mail, as shown by his records, promptly notify the holder of such certificate of such fact, and from and after the mailing of such letter all interest on such certificate shall cease.

Sec. 24. The board of supervisors of any county which is proceeding with the drainage, grading and hard surfacing of its roads without the aid of a bond issue, may, by the issuance of road certificates, anticipate the annual allotment of the primary road fund for said county, for the current and succeeding year. Such certificates shall be authorized by a duly adopted resolution which shall specify, (1) the allotment or allotments which are to be anticipated, (2) the amount of certificates authorized, which amount for any such anticipated year shall not exceed a sum equal to ninety per cent of the county's allotment for the year preceding that in which the authorization is made, (3) the denominations of each certificate, (4) the rate of interest which each certificate shall bear, which shall not exceed six per cent per annum, payable annually, and (5) the authorization of the chairman of the board of supervisors and of the county auditor, respectively, to sign and countersign such certificates. Each certificate shall recite the allotment of which it is anticipatory, and shall be payable on or before the last day of the year for which such allotment has been anticipated, and shall recite that it is payable solely from the future proceeds of the county's allotment of the primary road fund. The record of such certificate by the county auditor, the receipt, record, handling and disbursement of the same by the county treasurer, and the latter's responsibility therefor, shall be the same as provided herein for road certificertificates issued for special assessments shall stand pledged for the payment of such certificates and shall be used for no other purpose. As soon as said anticipated allotment is available to the county, the state highway commission shall notify the county treasurer of such fact, and the county treasurer shall at once forward to the said commission the canceled vouchers which were paid from the proceeds of the certificates issued in anticipation of such allotment, and thereupon the said commission shall forward to the state auditor, in favor of the county treasurer, a voucher for the amount of said cancelled claims with interest thereon sufficient to balance the interest on an equal amount of certificates to the first day of the next succeeding month. The auditor of state shall issue his warrant for said amount and the treasurer of state shall pay the same out of the primary road fund. The county treasurer immediately upon receipt of said funds, shall notify the holders of said certificates that said certificates will be met on presentation, and from and after the mailing of said notice, interest on said certificates shall cease. Said funds so received shall be used solely for the purpose of retiring said certificates. If, for any reason, the amount realized from anticipated allotment be insufficient to meet the legally issued certificates, the deficiency shall be met from the county's first accruing allotment thereafter.

Sec. 25. If any county desires to hasten the drainage and grading or the hard surfacing of the primary roads of its county at a more rapid rate than would be accomplished by merely employing each year its allotted portion of the primary road fund for said year, it may proceed as follows: The board may submit to the voters of the county at a general election, or at a special election called by the board for such purpose, the question of issuing bonds for the purpose of raising funds to meet the cost of such work, and to provide for the retirement of such bonds and interest thereon. Special elections shall be conducted in the same manner as general elections are conducted. Said questions shall be set forth on the ballots substantially as follows: "Shall the board of supervisors be authorized to issue bonds from year to year, in the aggregate amount not exceeding .....dollars, for the purpose of providing the funds for hard surfacing the primary roads of the county, and to levy a tax on all the property in the county from year to year not exceeding .....mills in any one year, for the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds, provided, however, that the annual allotments to the county of the primary road fund shall be used to retire said bonds as they mature, and only such portion of said tax shall be levied from year to year as may be necessary (1) to pay the interest annually, and (2) to meet any deficiency, if any, between the amount of the principal of the bonds and the said allotments from the primary road fund, together with assessments on benefited property provided by law." Immediately to the right of said proposition shall appear two squares of appropriate size, one above the other. Immediately after the first square shall appear the word "yes". Immediately after the other square shall appear the word "no." The voter shall indicate his vote by a cross in the appropriate square. The returns of said elections shall be canvassed by the board, and its findings shall be entered at large in the minutes of its proceedings. No proceedings to test or review the legality or correctness of said election shall be maintainable unless instituted within thirty days after the findings of the board have been entered upon the record. The fact of each authorization of bonds by a county shall be at once certified by the county auditor to the state highway commission, with such data relative thereto as the commission may demand; provided no bond issue authorized by the provision of the act shall anticipate the revenue from the county's allotted portion of the primary road fund for a period of more than ten (10) years.

Sec. 26. If a majority of the votes be in favor of such issue of bonds and tax levy, the board shall from time to time, as necessary to meet the construction cost and expenses incidental thereto, not provided for by funds immediately available from the primary road fund, or from proceeds of special benefit assessments heretofore provided for, issue serial bonds in denominations of five hundred dollars or one thousand dollars each, and at a rate of interest, payable annually, not exceeding five per cent per annum. Bonds and annual interest thereon shall mature on the first day of May. Each bond shall provide that the same shall be payable at the option of the county, on any interest payment date on or after five years from the date of the bond. No bonds shall be sold for less than par value plus accrued interest. No bonds shall be issued with maturity date postponed more than fifteen years.

Sec. 27. If a majority of the voters be in favor of such bond issue and tax levy, the board of supervisors shall, each year thereafter during the life of the bonds levy on all the property of the county such part of such authorized tax as will clearly meet (1) the matured or maturing interest for the ensuing year on all such outstanding bonds, and (2) any amount of maturing principal of bonds, provided, however, that only so much of said tax shall be levied in any year for principal of said bonds, if any, as cannot be met (a) by the county's allotment of the primary road fund available for such ensuing year, and (b) by the proceeds of special assessments on benefited property.

Sec. 28. All bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be issued in serial form. Each issue shall be authorized by a duly adopted resolution of the board, which resolution shall be entered at large in the minutes of the board. Such resolution shall clearly specify the number of bonds authorized, the amount of each bond, the number or designation of each bond, the rate of interest which each bond shall bear from date, which interest shall not exceed five per cent per annum, payable annually, the date of maturity of each bond, and the authorization to the chairman of the board to sign, and to the county auditor to countersign, the same. When signed and countersigned, the county auditor shall charge the county treasurer with the amount of same and deliver the same to the county treasurer, who shall be responsible therefor on his bond. The county treasurer shall, when so directed by the board, apply any part or all of said bonds in payment of any warrants duly authorized and issued for the particular purpose for which such bonds are issued, provided the same are applied, for at least par of such bonds plus all accrued interest, or the county treasurer shall, when so directed by the board, advertise and sell any part or all of said bonds for the best attainable price, and for not less than par plus all accrued interest, and apply the proceeds wholly for a like purpose. Said advertisement shall be inserted once a week for at least two weeks in one official county paper in the county, and for a like period in at least one newspaper of general circulation throughout the state, and may include one or more periodicals devoted to the interest of investors. Bonds of each series shall be retired in the order of the issuance of each series. The county treasurer shall, in disposing of said bonds, keep an accurate record of the name and post office address of all persons to whom any of said bonds are issued, with a particular designation and description of the bonds delivered to each person. Any subsequent holder of any of such bonds may present the same to the county treasurer and cause his name and post office address to be entered in lieu of such former holder. Whenever the fund from which such bonds are payable is sufficient to pay the legally retirable series of any issue of bonds, the county treasurer shall, by mail, as shown by his records, promptly notify the record holder thereof of such fact, and from and after the expiration of twenty days from the mailing of such notice, all interest on such bonds shall cease. If bonds are presented and paid prior to the expiration of such time, interest shall be computed only to the time of such presentation and payment. Bonds, and road certificates (whether issued in anticipation of special assessments or in anticipation of annual allotments of the primary road fund), shall not be taxed.

Sec. 29. The county auditor shall certify to the state highway commission a correct copy of each resolution which authorizes the issuance of bond or road certificates which are anticipatory either of special assessments or annual allotments, and from time to time a like certificate as to the actual issuance of bonds or road certificates, under such resolution, together with such data relative thereto as the commission may demand.

Sec. 30. Whenever available funds created under this act are not needed for pending or contemplated improvements, the board of supervisors may, with the consent of any holder of immatured bonds, retire the same by purchase at a price not exceeding par and accrued interest.

Sec. 31. If any county desires to proceed with the hard surfacing of the primary roads of said county at a more rapid rate than would be accomplished by merely employing its allotted portion of the primary road fund as it becomes available from year to year, it may in lieu of the procedure provided in section 25 hereof, proceed as follows: The board of supervisors may enter into one or more tentative contracts for the hard surfacing of any designated number of divisions of one or more of such roads of its county. Such tentative contracts shall be entered into in the same manner and under the same formality and procedure heretofore prescribed for the execution of contracts. Such tentative contracts shall not be effective as contracts until validated by the voters of the county as herein provided, and shall so recite. Upon the execution of such tentative contract or contracts, the board of supervisors shall submit to the voters of the county, at a general election or at a special election called by the board for such purpose, the question of validating said contract or contracts and of issuing bonds and of levying a tax to meet the cost of such work. Special elections shall be conducted in the same manner as general elections are conducted. If but one contract is to be submitted for validation, the said questions shall be set forth on the ballots substantially as follows: "Shall the following contract be validated, to-wit: the contract entered into by the board of supervisors on the..... day of..... and approved by the state highway commission on the..... day of..... between..... county and..... (specifying the name of the contractor) for the hard surfacing of..... road with..... material, and shall the board of supervisors be authorized to issue bonds of this county in an amount not exceeding..... dollars for the purpose of providing the funds with which to pay for such hard surfacing, and shall the board of supervisors be authorized to levy a tax from year to year on all the property in the county in an amount not exceeding..... mills in any one year for the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds, provided, however, that the annual allotments to the county of the primary road fund shall be used to retire the bonds as they mature, and only such portion of said tax shall be levied, if any, as is necessary to pay the interest annually and to meet any deficiency between the maturing principal of such bonds and the allotments aforesaid?" Immediately to the right of said proposition shall appear two squares, one above the other. Immediately after the first square shall appear the word "yes". Immediately after the other square shall appear the word "no". The voter shall indicate his vote by a cross in the appropriate square. If more than one contract is to be submitted at said election, for validation and for authorization to issue bonds and to make tax levy, the proposition pertaining to each contract shall be separately stated on the same ballot and each proposition shall be complete in itself.

Sec. 32. The returns of such election shall be canvassed by the board of supervisors, and its findings shall be entered at large in the minutes of the proceedings. If more than one contract has been submitted, separate findings shall be entered as to the vote on each contract. If a majority of the votes be against the validation of any tentative contract, then the contract shall be of no further force or effect. If the majority of the votes be in favor of a tentative contract, then such tentative contract shall be deemed a contract in fact. Actions to test the legality of such election or of any proceedings relating thereto, shall be instituted within thirty days after the findings of the board as to such election have been entered of record, and not afterwards.

Sec. 33. If said contract or contracts be validated, the board of supervisors shall from time to time, and as necessary to meet the construction cost and expense incidental thereto, issue serial bonds in such denominations and amounts as well, in its judgment, afford the most advantageous sale, and at a rate of interest, payable annually, not exceeding five per cent per annum, provided that said bonds shall only be issued for such part of such costs and expenses which cannot be met by the funds immediately available from the primary road fund and from the proceeds of special assessments herein provided for. No bonds shall be sold for less than par value plus all accrued interest thereon. No bonds shall be issued with maturity date postponed more than fifteen years.

SEC. 34. If said contract or contracts be validated, the board of supervisors shall each year thereafter, and during the life of the bonds, levy such tax within the limits authorized at said election, on all the property in the county as will fully meet, first, all matured or maturing interest for the ensuing year on all outstanding bonds, and second, any amount of matured or maturing principal of bonds for the ensuing year, if any, which cannot be paid from the county's estimated allotment of the primary road fund for such year and from the proceeds of special assessments, and any balance remaining in said fund as proceeds of said levy when all bonds and interest thereon shall have been paid, shall be transferred to the county road cash fund of such county.

SEC. 35. The board of supervisors shall not drain, grade or hard surface any highway within the limits of cities. Draining and grading on the primary system within towns shall be done by said town at its own expense. The board of supervisors is hereby given plenary jurisdiction to hard surface, within any town, any road or street which is a continuation of the primary road system of the county, providing that no hard surfacing constructed hereunder in any town shall exceed eighteen feet in width. After the completion of such improvement the same shall be maintained by the town and such town shall rest under the obligation of care as to such improvement as is now provided by law for roads and streets generally. Any such town, through its council, and each county of the state, through its board of supervisors, are hereby authorized to enter into written agreements, subject to the approval of the state highway commission, to determine the location of such improvements within such towns. In case of disagreement, the matter shall be referred to the state highway commission, whose decision shall be final.

SEC. 36. Boards of supervisors of adjoining counties may jointly agree on a district for the hard surfacing of roads in the following cases:

1. When a primary road substantially parallels a county boundary line and is not more than one mile from such boundary line, or
2. When a primary road approaches a county boundary line at such an angle that the hard surfacing hereunder of such road will reasonably necessitate a district with a substantial part thereof in different counties, or
3. When a primary road constitutes a common boundary line between counties.

In case of common boundary line roads, said boards may also jointly agree as to which county, through its board of supervisors, shall construct said improvement. Such agreements shall be subject to the approval of the state highway commission. If such agreements are entered into and so approved, the county in which the paralleling or angling road is situated shall construct the said improvement as herein provided. If such agreements are entered into relative to a common boundary line road, said improvement shall be constructed by the county agreed on. Should said boards be unable to agree on the district for the improvement of a paralleling or angling road, or should the boards be unable to agree on the district for the improvement of a common boundary line road and also as to which board shall construct the improvement, either board may apply to the state highway commission for a decision in the matter. The said commission shall, by proper order, fix the limits of the district. It shall also determine which county shall construct the hard surfacing on the common boundary line road. Said order shall be final. Such order shall be certified to each board, and the board of the county to which construction has been assigned shall enter such order at large in the minutes of its proceedings, and proceed with the construction of such hard surfacing in the same manner as though the district and the real estate therein were wholly within their county, except that the board of apportionment shall file its report with the board of supervisors of all counties in which any of such real estate is located. The county auditor of the county constructing the hard surfacing shall fix a time for a hearing on said report, and shall cause notice thereof to be given as in cases where the district and the real estate therein are wholly within one county, except that said notice shall be published in one of the official newspapers of each of the counties in which any of the real estate is situated. All subsequent proceedings including objections, final confirmation and appeals shall proceed in the same manner as though the real estate therein were wholly within the constructing county, except that the county auditor of the county constructing the improvement shall, after the final apportionment has been determined and levied, certify a list of the real estate lying in the nonconstructing county or counties and the amount levied thereon, to the county auditor and treasurer of such nonconstructing county. Such assessment and levy, when so certified, shall have the same force and effect as though the same had been duly and legally made by the board of supervisors of such nonconstructing county, and the board of supervisors, auditor and treasurer of such nonconstructing county shall henceforth proceed with the collection of said levy on such real estate in their county as though such levy had arisen out of an improvement preceeding wholly within their county, and when the amount of such levy has been collected, either by cash payments by the property owner, or by the sale of certificates, said county treasurer shall hold the same as a reimbursement to said county on its allotments from the primary road fund. As soon as the final apportionment and levy have been made, the board of supervisors of the constructing county shall, through its county auditor, certify to the state highway commission the total amount of the levies on the real estate in the nonconstructing counties, and the state highway commission shall credit the constructing county and charge the non-constructing county with the amount of such certificate. If the improvement is for hard surfacing a county boundary line road, that portion of the total cost thereof not specially assessable, to-wit, seventy-five per cent, shall be taken equally from each county's apportionment of the primary road fund. If the improvement is for hard surfacing a paralleling or angling road, said seventy-five per cent of the total cost shall be taken wholly from the apportionment of the county wherein the paralleling or angling road is located. Any differences, not herein specifically provided, for, arising between different counties, relative to the improvement of common boundary line roads, shall be referred to the state highway commission, and its decision shall be final.

SEC. 38. Primary roads outside of towns shall be maintained by the board of supervisors under the patrol system provided by chapter 316 of the acts of thirty-seventh general assembly, and when so maintained under the said patrol system the county's allotment of the primary road fund may be drawn on for such maintenance. Primary roads, after hard surfacing of the same, shall be maintained under said patrol system wholly out of the county's allotment of the primary road fund. If any county fails to maintain any of its hard surfaced roads to the satisfaction of the state highway commission, said commission shall have power to assume charge of such maintenance and pay therefor out of said county's allotment of the primary road fund. The amount of maintenance vouchers, when the work has been done by the said commission, shall be charged to the county's allotment account, and warrants for the amount of such vouchers shall be issued by the auditor of state on presentation of such vouchers, and paid by the treasurer of state as in other cases. In case any town fails to maintain, to the satisfaction of the state highway commission, any hard surfacing constructed hereunder in said town, the said commission shall have power to assume charge of such maintenance and pay for the same from the primary fund belonging to said county, and, in such case, the cost thereof shall be certified by said commission to the county treasurer, who shall reimburse the primary fund of the county by deducting the amount from the next succeeding apportionment of tax funds belonging to the general funds of said town.

SEC. 37. Whenever any public highway that is a part of the primary road system is located along the corporate line of any city, it may be improved by hard surfacing by the board of supervisors as part of the primary system under this act. In such case, one-half the cost of such hard surfacing along said corporate line shall be paid by such city, and the board of supervisors of the county and the city council of such city are hereby authorized to agree in writing for the payment by the city of one-half the cost of such improvement, and in case they cannot agree upon the amount to be paid by the city, and date when payment is to be made, the matter shall be referred to the state highway commission whose decision shall be final. Said city may pay said amount from its general fund, or it may proceed under section 840-h to 840-r, both inclusive, supplemental supplement to the code, 1915, for the assessment and collection of such cost, or it may pay in the first instance from such general fund and reimburse said fund thereafter from proceeds realized from such assessment proceeding. The city in such case, for prompt realization of funds, shall have the right to issue road certificates in anticipation of taxes and assessments to be realized from such assessment proceeding under sections 840-h to 840-r, Supplemental supplement to the code, 1915.

SEC. 39. After the primary road system, as now constituted, or as it may hereafter be constituted by authorized modifications, is fully improved as by this act provided, and the bonds issued therefor, if any, retired, the state highway commission shall add such lateral or other additional roads to said system in any county as the board of supervisors may recommend, and after such addition the board may proceed with the improvement of such added roads under the terms of this act.

SEC. 40. The state highway commission is directed to purchase, rent or lease any machinery or other articles necessary for the use and most economical operation of field engineering work, the testing of materials, the preparation of plans, and for allied purposes, in order to enable the commission to carry out the provisions of this act and to pay for the same out of the state commission maintenance fund. Should the government of the United States provide for free distribution among the states, of machinery or other equipment suitable for use in road improvement, the state highway commission is empowered to receive and receipt for such machinery and equipment, and to take such action as will secure to the state the benefit of any such tenders by the federal authorities. Said commission is further authorized, in the event of such distribution to the states by the federal authorities, to make such apportionment of said machinery or other equipment among the counties of the state as in its judgment will best facilitate work in progress or contemplated by any county or counties, but the title and right of possession of such property so received from the federal government shall at all times rest in the state highway commission for the use and benefit of the state. The executive council is hereby authorized to pay the expense, if any, attending the transportation of such machinery or other equipment to the state of Iowa, out of any funds in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated.

SEC. 41. Any member of the board of supervisors, or other county officer, who authorizes or issues, or permits to be issued, any certificate or bond in violation of the requirements herein specified, or who diverts any authorized certificate or bond, or the proceeds derived therefrom, or any part thereof, to any other purpose than the purpose herein specified, shall be deemed guilty of embezzlement and punished accordingly.

SEC. 42. The federal aid engineering fund, created by chapter 249, laws of the thirty-seventh general assembly, shall be continued, and the treasurer of state is hereby directed annually to transfer to such fund from the funds derived from year to year under the act regulatory of motor vehicies, an amount equal to the estimated cost of plans and specifications for the current year, as certified by the state highway commission. Said fund shall be paid out only on properly itemized vouchers approved by the state highway commission and audited by the state board of audit.

SEC. 43. The amount of bonds issued under this act by any county shall not, when added to all other indebtedness of the county, exceed in the aggregate three per cent on the actual value of the taxable property within such county, any other statute to the contrary notwithstanding—to be ascertained by the last state and county tax list previous to the incurring of such indebtedness.

SEC. 44. The board of supervisors is empowered to accept on behalf of the county donations of property in aid of highway construction, and from and after such acceptance the title to such property shall vest in the county for the sole purpose for which donated, and the obligation on the part of the officials charged with the possession and disbursement thereof to properly account therefor shall be the same as attends any other property of the county.

SEC. 45. Section one thousand five hundred seventy-one-m thirty-two (1571-m 32), supplemental supplement to the code, 1915, is hereby repealed and there is hereby created a fund for the maintenance of the state highway commission consisting of two and one-half per cent of all moneys collected by the state or county treasurer, or both, under the act regulatory of licenses on motor vehicles. Said fund shall be used for no other purpose than as a maintenance fund for said state highway commission, and shall be drawn out only on warrants drawn by the auditor of state on itemized vouchers approved by the state highway commission. The expenditures of said commission shall be audited by the executive council, and a full and complete report of all said expenditures shall be published in the annual report under the act creating the state highway commission. At the end of each biennial period, the unexpended funds remaining in the highway maintenance fund for said biennial period shall be placed to the credit of the primary road fund.

SEC. 46. The secondary road system shall embrace the following classes of roads: (1) County roads which now exist of record, or which may hereafter exist of record after the correction of the primary road system by adding thereto or taking therefrom and by additions from the township roads, exclusive of all roads of the primary road system, and (2) township roads, which shall embrace all other roads not included within cities and towns. The county road cash fund and one-third of all other funds derived from year to year by the state or counties under acts regulatory of motor vehicles commencing with and including all fees for the year 1920 except such portion of said motor vehicle fund as shall be necessary to maintain the federal aid engineering fund and as may by law be retained in the state treasury as a maintenance fund for the state highway commission, or as a fund to cover administration of the motor vehicle department, except such portion thereof, if any, as may be necessary in addition to the two-thirds previously provided to meet the requirements of federal road building appropriation acts as applicable to the state of Iowa, which funds if collected by the state treasurer or, in his possession shall be distributed by him to the counties in the proportion to which said counties are entitled to the same as authorized by law, under the jurisdiction of the board of supervisors, and the township road funds, under the jurisdiction of the township trustees, are hereby wholly dedicated and pledged to the improvement of the roads of the secondary road system.

Sec. 47. In order to provide for the hard surfacing of roads of the secondary system, the board of supervisors shall have power, on petition therefor, to establish road assessment districts. Said petitions shall be signed by twenty per cent of the owners of the lands within the proposed district who are residents of the county. Said petition shall be filed with the county auditor, whereupon the board of supervisors shall cause the county engineer to personally examine all the roads within such proposed district and to determine the relation of such roads to the lands within such proposed district, and the relation of such roads to any of the roads of the primary road system, and the necessity, if any, for further grading or draining of such roads. The engineer shall embody his findings in a report to said board. He may recommend the establishment of the district as requested, or with such modifications as, in his judgment, are advisable, including a recommendation as to an increase or decrease of the size of the district as proposed by the petitioners. The engineer's report shall include a plat showing, in accordance with his recommendations, the highways to be improved and benefited. Upon the filing of said report by the engineer, the board of supervisors shall fix a time for hearing thereon, and shall cause the county auditor to serve notice by publication as hereinafter provided, of the pendency of said petition on all owners of said land lying within said proposed district, as recommended by the engineer. Said notice shall contain an intelligent description of all of the lands lying within said district, and the ownership thereof, as shown by the transfer books in the auditor's office, and shall be published in the English language within the proposed district, if there be such newspaper, and if there be no such newspaper within such district, then the said notice shall be so published in some such newspaper in the county as near as practicable to said district. Proof of such publication shall be made by the publisher by affidavit duly filed with the county auditor. Hearings on said petition may be returned from time to time without loss of jurisdiction on the part of the board. On the final hearing, the board shall proceed to a determination of said matter. It may reject the proposal or it may approve the same and establish the district as petitioned for. It may modify the petition either by excluding lands therefrom or by adding lands thereto, or otherwise modify the same, or the board may withhold final order in such matter until such roads, or any designated part thereof, are drained or graded to their satisfaction. No lack of definiteness, either in the petition or in the engineer's report, shall be deemed a jurisdictional defect, and the final order of the board of supervisors establishing the district shall be final. In establishing a district, the board of supervisors shall determine and enter of record the general nature of the improvement to be constructed on the different roads within the district, or may determine such improvements in the alternative and may determine on one class of improvement for some roads and a different class for other roads, provided if such contemplated improvement be a hard surfaced road project the proceedings must be the same as those authorized by the provisions of this act for the hard surfacing of the primary road system as far as applicable, except that the disbursement of funds shall be conducted through the county auditor and county treasurer's office, the bills audited by the county board of supervisors, the engineering service and inspection necessary shall be under the jurisdiction of the board of supervisors and county engineer, subject to the approval of the highway commission. It is further provided that no hard surfacing except gravel, as heretofore provided for, division two of the secondary road system, shall be authorized by this act until all the main roads in sub-division 2 as classified in section 46, of this act are brought to permanent grade which shall constitute at least 60% of the mileage of the roads of said sub-division 2 as provided by section 46, of this act.

SEC. 48. Upon the establishment of a district on said secondary road system, the board of supervisors shall file with the state highway commission a copy of the order establishing the district and a copy of the engineer's plat.

SEC. 49. Upon the establishment of a district in such secondary road system, the county engineer shall prepare the plans for the improvements contemplated by the order of the board establishing the district, which plans shall be accompanied by the standard specifications of the state highway commission for the class of improvements contemplated. Upon the filing of said plans and specifications, and upon receiving the agreement of the township or townships to pay their portion of the improvement of township roads, if any, the board shall, in accordance with their order relative to the class or classes of improvements, proceed to advertise for bids, and shall proceed as provided in section 11 of this act, provided that contracts involving less than two thousand dollars need not be approved by the state highway commission.

SEC. 50. It shall be the specific duty of the board of supervisors to see that all contracts on said secondary roads are faithfully executed. The county engineer shall maintain competent inspection of the work during the progress thereof, and in the certification of bills and the issuance of warrants the engineer and the county auditor shall rest under the same responsibility as now attends such acts relative to road work, and tile, tiling, culvert and bridge construction.

SEC. 51. The total cost of improving a county road in said secondary system within said district, by hard surfacing, shall be apportioned and paid in the proportion of seventy-five per cent from the county road cash fund and twenty-five per cent from assessments on benefited lands. The total cost of so improving a township road within said district shall be apportioned and paid in the proportion of twenty-five per cent from the county road cash fund, fifty per cent from the township road funds of the township or townships embracing said township road (according to their relative mileage) and twenty-five per cent from the special assessments on benefited lands. A county road, after it is so improved, shall be maintained, by the board of supervisors, from the county road cash fund. A township road, after it is so improved, shall be maintained by the township trustees from township funds, unless the improvement is of so substantial and permanent a nature, as that the board of supervisors shall by resolution add such road to the county road system, to be maintained as such.

SEC. 52. The total cost of such improvements on said secondary roads shall, in the first instance be paid from the county road cash fund, or jointly from such fund and from the proceeds of all special assessments and road certificates issued against special assessments on lands within the district, or by direct application of such certificates to such cost. In case of the improvement of a county road, by hard surfacing the said county road cash fund shall be reimbursed for amounts advanced in excess of its legal contribution, from the proceeds of all road certificates which represent such special assessments. In case of the improvement of a township road, by hard surfacing said fund shall be reimbursed to the extent of twenty-five per cent of the total cost of the improvements from said special assessments and road certificates, and fifty per cent from the township road fund, or the township drag fund, or from the township drainage fund or from any or all of said funds. The trustees are authorized to transfer to the county from any or all of such township funds the amount sufficient to effect such reimbursement. Should the trustees neglect to make such transfers, the county treasurer, on order from the board, shall withhold from such township sufficient of its tax funds as will effect such reimbursement, and transfer such amount to the county road cash fund, or the board of supervisors may levy direct tax against the property within said delinquent township as will effect such reimbursement. If the district as finally established, embraces and contemplated the improvement of a township road, the board of supervisors shall proceed no farther as to such township road until the township which embraces such road shall agree in writing, signed by a majority of its trustees, to pay its portion, as herein required, of the total cost of said improvement. Said written agreement shall be deemed the financial obligation of the township and not of the trustees individually. If such township road is on a township line, such agreement shall be executed by both townships, and one-half of that portion of the cost payable from township funds shall be borne by such township. Provided that the cost of grading and draining necessary before surfacing to bring the road to permanent grade within the improvement district contemplated shall not be assessed or any part thereof, as benefits against the real estate within the benefit zones of the improvement district shall be that of hard surfacing.

SEC. 54. The county boards of supervisors are hereby authorized to contribute annually to the subdivision of the secondary road system designated in Section 46 of this act as Division two, Township Roads, the amount of one thousand dollars from the secondary road fund to such townships in the county as provided an equal amount, said funds to be used only for the purpose of bringing to permanent grade the township roads of those townships complying with the provision of this section of this act, which work shall be done under the jurisdiction of the county board of supervisors upon such roads as designated by the township trustees, performed in the manner and under the same legal regulations required by law as other county road work.

Sec. 55. The provisions of this act providing for the hard surfacing of the roads of the primary road system and secondary road system, other than by graveling, shall not be operative and effective in any of the counties of the state of Iowa until an election is held in the county or counties desiring to make effective the provisions of this act as follows:

"If prior to July 1st in any year the voters in any county in number equal to twenty per cent of the number voting at the last general election shall petition the board of supervisors, in writing, so to do, the board shall submit to the voters of the county, at a general election or special election called for that purpose, the question whether hard surfacing shall be done on the primary or secondary road system in said county under this act. The board shall, in the event of such election, be governed by the result thereof. Such election, however, shall not interfere with or affect work under construction or under contract. Notice of such election shall be given as provided in section twenty-five of this act and said notice and the ballot shall contain substantially the proposition to be voted on and the time said election will be held. Special elections shall not be held in the same manner as general elections. Said elections shall not be held in any county oftener than once in two years.

"If the majority of the votes cast are in favor of the proposition submitted, then the provisions of this act as to hard surfacing shall become effective as to the county in which the election was held, if a majority of the votes are against the proposition submitted, then the provisions of this act as to hard surfacing in the county in which the election was held shall not be operative but may be re-submitted as above provided."

Sec. 56. Section one thousand three hundred three (1303), supplemental supplement to the code, 1915, as amended by chapter six (6) of the acts of the thirty-seventh general assembly, is hereby amended by inserting a period after the word "fund" in the second line of paragraph five (5) of said section, and by striking out all remaining portions of said paragraph.

Sec. 57. All acts, and all parts of acts, in so far as the same may be inconsistent, or in conflict, with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 58. Promptly upon the passage of this act, the state highway commission shall cause the same to be published, by the state, together with such explanatory notes as it may deem advisable, and in such number as the executive council shall authorize, and the same shall be paid for as other state printing.

SEC. 59. The state treasurer shall, quarterly, credit, to the primary road fund, all sums accruing after January 1, 1920, to the state as interest on deposits of funds derived by the state from act regulatory of motor vehicles, except interest on such part, if any, of said fund as may be retained in the state treasury as a maintenance fund for the administration of the motor vehicle department.

The amendment was lost.

Senator Buser moved the adoption of section 55 of his amendment.

Senator Whitmore raised the point of order that all further vote upon the amendment was out of order, the previous question having been ordered; and also that there could be no division of the question.

The president held the point of order not well taken, holding that Senator Buser was clearly within his rights in asking for a division.

Senator Foster raised the point of order that, under the motion as originally made by Senator Buser, found on page 1692 of the Senate Journal, when his amendment was filed proposing to strike out all after the enacting clause of the bill, if section 55 were now adopted, there would be nothing remaining in the bill except this section.

The president held the point of order well taken and stated that after an examination of the preamble in Senator Buser's motion, he was of the opinion that the statement made by Senator Foster was correct, and that if the Senate wished to get proper action at this time on section 55, it should be presented as a separate amendment.

Senator Buser asked unanimous consent to withdraw section 55 of his amendment and offer it as a separate amendment to the bill.

Senator Kimball objected to the withdrawal.

Senator Whitmore raised the point of order that Senator Buser, having withdrawn section 55, no more amendments could be offered, the previous question having been ordered.

The president held the point of order not well taken as objection had been made to the withdrawal and, therefore, the amendment had not been withdrawn.

Senator Evans asked unanimous consent that Senator Buser be allowed to withdraw section 55.

Senator Kimball withdrew his objection to the withdrawal.

Senator Price offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

I move to amend House File 548 by striking therefrom the following: "If prior to July 1st in any year the voters in any county in number equal to twenty per cent of the number voting at the last general election shall petition the board of supervisors, in writing, so to do, the board shall submit to the voters of the county, at the next general election or special election called for that purpose, which shall be held not later than ninety days after the filing of said petition the question whether hard surfacing shall be done on the primary road system in said county under this act. The board shall, in the event of such election, be governed by the result thereof. Such election, however, shall not interfere with or affect work under construction or under contract. Notice of such election shall be given as provided in section twenty-five of this act and said notice and the ballot shall contain substantially the proposition to be voted on and the time said election will be held. Special elections shall be held in the same manner as general elections. Said elections shall not be held in any county oftener than once in two years." As found on page 1565 and page 1566 of House Journal of date, April 2nd 1919 and substitute therefor the following: "provided, however, that the provisions of this act, as to the hard surfacing or graveling of any primary road, shall not become effective or operative in any county of the state until first having been approved by a majority vote of the people of such county at a general election, or special election called for that purpose and the board of supervisors of any county, on its own motion, may submit to the electors of such county at a general or special election the question 'shall the board of supervisors be authorized to hard surface (here designate the district) the primary roads of this district of the county', and upon an affirmative majority vote on said question the board of supervisors shall forthwith proceed to carry into effect the provisions of this act". That such question shall not be submitted, to election, not oftener than once in two fiscal years.

Further consideration was deferred.

On motion of Senator Kimball, Senator Newberry was excused from the call of the Senate on account of illness.

AMENDMENTS FILED.

Senator Price filed the following amendments:

Amend House File 548 as follows: by striking therefrom all of section five and substituting in lieu thereof the following: Section 5. "The state highway commission shall open an account with each county in the state in relation to the primary road fund keeping a record of the amount due to each county from all sources to-wit: federal aid, automobile taxes, assessment on abutting property collected by taxation or otherwise as provided in this act but all funds so due or to become due any county shall immediately upon receipt of the same be transmitted to the treasury of each county of the state, and all taxes levied, assessments on abutting benefited property and all moneys received from sale of bonds as contemplated in this act shall be collected by the county treasurer of each respective county and remain in such treasury until paid out upon warrants as provided for in this act, any other provision in this act or parts hereof or the existing statutes of this state to the contrary notwithstanding."

Said account shall also show the amount of each separate authorization of bonds or road certificates hereunder, and the amount, number, date, maturity, and interest rate of each series of bonds or certificates issued by the county under this act. The said commission shall, at all proper times, keep each county fully informed as to the state of its account.

Also by striking out the period after the word "court" in line 14 section 19 a "period" and inserting in lieu thereof a "comma" and adding thereto the following: "subject to the right of appeal to the district and supreme court."

On motion of Senator Frailey, the call of the Senate was raised.

SUBCOMMITTEE REPORT.

April 9, '19.

MR. PRESIDENT—The undersigned members of the joint subcommittees of judiciary committees Nos. 1 and 2, to whom was referred Senate Files 478 and 508 for the purpose of preparing one bill which might incorporate the best features of both of said bills, beg leave to report that they have examined both of said bills, also House File 550, as amended, which is a companion measure of Senate File 508, and beg leave to report as follows:

Senate File No. 478, otherwise known as the Ways and Means Committee bill, provides in brief as follows:

1. That a permanent license number plate shall be provided for each motor vehicle.
2. That each car shall be registered for a period of twelve months from date of registration, making the collection of the fees distributed over the entire year.
3. That an addressograph shall be used with respect to all work which provides for the registration and collection of fees.

4. That a distinctive serial number shall be used for all cars registered in each county.

5. That all fees shall be paid direct to the County Treasurer of each county, and the County treasurer shall keep in his possession and deliver the annual license plates as called for.

6. That all those applying for permanent license number plates shall apply in person or by agent to the County Treasurer.

7. That no new motor vehicle shall be operated on the highway until its permanent license number plate shall have first been attached.

8. That the license cards shall be issued to each licensee containing name and description of the motor vehicle, signature of owner, etc., to be attached somewhere to the car in order to indicate whether or not the license fee has been paid for the current year, and for assistance in identifying stolen cars.

9. That the license fee be determined by a computation based upon the value and the weight of the car.

10. That no sale or transfer of a motor vehicle can be made without first filing with the department a license card properly assigned.

Senate File No. 508 otherwise known as the Motor Vehicle Committee Bill is based upon the present existing law governing motor vehicles, but with the following changes:

1. License number plates are issued annually.

2. The distribution of the license number plates and the collection of all registration fees is placed in the hands of the County Treasurer of each county.

3. The license fee is placed at a minimum of \$15.00 with a further increase of  $1\frac{1}{2}\%$  on the excess valuation of all cars of more than \$1,000.00 in value.

4. Trucks are especially provided for, and are licensed according to their tonnage capacity.

5. The present plan of issuing dealers' licenses has been abolished, and a special paste board card with "License Applied For", etc., is furnished by the department to each dealer to be used on all new cars until they can secure the annual license number plate, and the dealers' numbers have been increased in price so that the first set of plates cost $25.00 and all subsequent sets $15.00, and are to be used by said dealers only on new cars and used for demonstration purposes only.

6. The bill provides further that all chauffeurs shall be licensed. The term chauffeur being defined as one who drives a car carrying passengers or freight for hire.

7. The original registrant shall be personally liable for payment of license fees until transfer is filed with the department.

8. The names of all delinquent licensees are to be published in official county papers.

9. No sale or transfer can be legally made without first filing a license card, properly assigned in the office of the department.

10. A certificate of registration is to be attached to each motor vehicle to aid in the identification of stolen cars.

11. It materially increases license fees of dealers and restricts dealers' numbers to use on new cars in hands of dealers for demonstration purposes only.

12. It repeals in entirety the present motor vehicle law, and adds many features governing the regulation of traffic on the public highways.

13. It is written so as to conform with the present road law.

In considering the two bills the Subcommittee found that Senate File 508 did not attempt to change materially the present law, but with the present law as a basis, sought to introduce many corrective features based upon experience secured during the last few years. Senate File 478, however, contains many innovations, among them being the permanent license number plate, the license card to be attached to the car, the issuing of serial numbers by counties, and the manner of collection of license fees.

It is the opinion of this Subcommittee that the annual license number plate is the only feasible manner of properly marking a car for all purposes. Their theory is that each car should be so marked by a number plate so that any peace officer or any other person will be able to determine in viewing a car either from the front or from the rear and at a considerable distance that the license for that year has been paid. The only way in which this can be determined in the provisions of Senate File No. 478 is by means of a small pasteboard card contained in a holder, the location on the car not having been made, and which will be easily defaced, and in the opinion of this committee is altogether unworkable.

This committee has endeavored to investigate the workings of the addressograph as provided for in Senate File 478, and found that it has been discarded in the present Automobile Department, and it is there considered impracticable, and that it, as applied to Senate File 478, would be very expensive, both as to the material used, and as to help employed, and would not be as efficient as the methods now used or those proposed in Senate File 508. With respect to the county serial numbers as provided in Senate File 478 there are no specific objections to that system of numbering, and in fact would favor it if anything would be accomplished by its adoption. The opinion of this committee is that in order to make it effective each car that changed hands would have to be given a new number plate if it passed outside of the county in which it was originally registered, if the scheme was to accomplish what it was intended should be accomplished. The annual number plate, however, may reach the same objective, and it would be accomplished by sending to each county a block of plates which would include the estimated number which would be needed for that county for the current year. The committee found upon further investigation that the principal features found in Senate File 478 were innovations in that they have not been adopted by any other state and for that reason there would be no assurance as to how they will work out in practice.

The committee came to the conclusion that the collection features provided for in Senate File 478 were highly complex in that the collection machinery must be in full operation with respect to each car licensed, thus necessitating a large amount of unnecessary labor and expense in the maintenance and operation of the department. On the other hand the plan as adopted in Senate File 508 is largely self-operative and only those cars whose license fees become delinquent would be given attention. But the necessary machinery for collection is created so that it can be called into play whenever a car owner becomes delinquent in the payment of his license fee.

The Committee in the consideration of the bills before it had in mind the principal defects of the present law, among them being the failure of the department to issue license plates promptly when applied for; the comparative ease with which cars once transferred can avoid the payment of the license fee, the abuse of the dealer's license plate, not only by the dealers alone but likewise by many purchasers of new and second-hand cars, the absence of any statute covering the licensing of trucks with a speed velocity of less than ten miles per hour, and last, but not least, the rapid increase in the number of cars stolen each year.

It is the opinion of this committee that by dividing the work of issuing license number plates among the ninety-nine County Treasurers of the state, that each car license can be secured the same day applied for. That by requiring the vendor of each licensed car to first file with the department an assignment of the license issued before legal transfer can be made, and by making the original registrant to be personally liable for the subsequent payments of the license fee until such transfer has been filed with the department will remedy the most serious defect in the present law, and that this change, together with the return to the annual license number plate, will secure the payment of practically all license fees without any effort or expense on the part of the department or the county officers to collect the same.

That the increase of the dealers' license fees from a nominal to a substantial one, and by restricting the use of said plates to new cars in the hands of dealers used only for demonstration purposes, will correct one of the most flagrant abuses of the present law. The provision for the pasteboard license number plate to be given by the department to dealers to be placed on new cars sold, and good for only fifteen days from date of issue will serve to prevent individual owners from hiding under the dealer's number as is now the custom. In addition to the words "License Applied For" the pasteboard number contains the dealer's number, the date of sale of the car, and any other information that the department might require. By these provisions any peace officer or other person can determine the date of expiration of said license, and in addition it is of no value except to the car to which it was first attached. As a result each purchaser of a new car will be compelled to secure a regular license number plate within fifteen days thereafter, or operate in open violation of the law.

This committee is of the opinion that motor trucks should not be placed in the same class with the average passenger car so far as the determination of the license fee is concerned. In addition to a representation of great value the motor truck is built for the purpose of carrying immense loads and is hence a very destructive agent of the public highways. Besides the average truck is used on the highways constantly. For these reasons it should be made to pay a license fee somewhat higher than the passenger car of equal weight and value.

The scale of license fees thus provided for in Senate File 508 is based upon the facts above set forth, and when viewed in consideration of the values represented by these motor trucks (keeping in mind that the license fee is in lieu of all property taxes) and in comparing said license fees with those of other states it is the opinion of the committee that the license fees here established are fundamentally right, and are not excessive.

The license card which is required to be attached to the car and which includes a minute description of the car, together with signature of owner will make it difficult for those now engaged in the work of stealing cars to continue in that occupation. This last feature is included in both bills now before this committee for consideration as is also the provision requiring the County Treasurers to issue license plates and collect all fees.

Summing up the observations thus made it is the opinion of this committee that Senate File 508 contains the principal features essential to the correction of defects in the present law. That it is clear and concise as to its provisions, simple as well as flexible in its operation and application, and in the production of revenue would secure for the state a sum approximately twice that raised by the present law.

This committee found upon comparing the two bills above described that no one of the distinctive features of Senate File 478 could be successfully incorporated in Senate File 508 and made workable. Besides the committee was of the opinion that some of these same distinctive features were impractical, and would create a highly complex and expensive system of operation.

Finally the committee is informed that House File 550 is a companion measure of Senate File 508, and has now passed the House with but few amendments. For these reasons the committee recommends that House File 550, as amended, be amended as follows, and that when so amended the bill be recommended for passage.

Amend by inserting after line 79, in Section 3, the following:

"Provided, however, that all motor trucks of two tons or greater capacity which shall operate exclusively within the incorporate limits of cities and towns shall pay two-thirds of the license fee herein provided, and the department shall be required to furnish to each of said licensees a distinguishing license number plate that shall be uniform throughout the state."

That Section 14 be amended as follows:

By striking all after the comma in line 22 and substituting the following in lieu thereof:

"That all motor vehicles, trucks excepted, whose annual license fee when new does not exceed $15.00, shall be given a discount each year of one dollar for a period not to exceed five years, provided further that the license fee in no case shall be less than $10.00."

That Section 15 be amended as follows:

By striking the word "April" in line 13 therefrom and inserting in lieu thereof the word "March". By striking the word "June" from line 18 of the same section and inserting in lieu thereof the word "May".

House File 550 as amended and passed is attached hereto and made a part of this report.

Respectfully submitted,

W. H. SCOTT,
ADDISON M. PARKER.

Sec. 6. On or before the first day of December of each year, the department shall deliver, or cause to be delivered to the county treasurer

Thereafter, during the year, the department, upon requisition of the county treasurer, shall deliver additional number plates. The department shall keep an accurate record of all number plates issued at each county, and shall also keep a record showing the assignment thereof by the county treasurer to motor vehicles. Such number plates shall be of metal, at least six (6) inches wide and not less than fifteen (15) inches in length, on which there shall be the initials "Ia" and numerals indicating the year for which it is issued; and of a distinctively different color each year, and there shall be at all times a marked contrast between the colors of the number plates and that of the numerals or letters thereon, said colors to be designated by the department. The distinctive number assigned to the vehicle shall be set forth in numerals four (4) inches long, each stroke of which shall be at least five-eighths ( $\frac{5}{8}$ ) of an inch in width. In the case of a motor vehicle registered by a manufacturer or dealer, there shall be on such plate, in addition to the foregoing, the letter "D", each stroke of such letter to be at least four (4) inches long and five-eighths ( $\frac{5}{8}$ ) of an inch in width. The number plates for use on a motor bicycle or a motorcycle shall be one-half ( $\frac{1}{2}$ ) the size above stated. All number plates issued shall be and remain the property of the state of Iowa.

Sec. 7. Registration shall be renewed annually in the same manner as provided in section nine (9) for registration, to take effect on the first day of January of each year; provided, that the county treasurer shall withhold the registration of any motor vehicle the owner of which shall have failed to register the same for any previous period or periods for which it appears that registration should have been made, until the fee for such previous period or periods shall be paid. All certificates of registration issued under provisions of this act shall expire on the last day of the calendar year in which they were issued.

Sec. 8. When a motor vehicle is permanently dismantled or no longer used on the public highway, the owner thereof shall detach the license plates and container for certificate of registration and surrender them to the county treasurer, who shall cancel the registration of record and report such cancellation forthwith to the department upon blanks provided for that purpose.

Sec. 9. An annual license fee of fifteen dollars (\$15.00) shall be paid upon the registration or re-registration of all motor vehicles except motor trucks, motorcycles and motor bicycles and in addition thereto a license fee of one and one-half ( $1\frac{1}{2}$ ) per cent shall be paid on value in excess of one thousand dollars (\$1000.00) determined as provided in this act. Provided, that the fee for registering any theretofore unregistered motor vehicle purchased on or after July first and prior to December first of any year, shall be one-half ( $\frac{1}{2}$ ) of the annual fee therefor, and, that a motor vehicle purchased in December shall be registered for one-tenth ( $\frac{1}{10}$ ) of the annual fee for the remainder of the calendar year. Provided, further, that each manufacturer or dealer selling or otherwise disposing of motor vehicles theretofore unregistered in this state, to a resident of this state, shall forthwith report to the county treasurer of the county in which the purchaser resides, each such sale, stating the date of such sale made on or after July 1st of each calendar year; such report shall be made on blanks to be furnished by the department upon request, and shall be made in such manner as he shall direct; and, provided further, that no motor vehicle shall be registered for less than the annual fee because of its having been purchased on or after July 1st until such manufacturers' or dealers' report shall have been filed as herein provided, and provided, that the annual fee for the registration or re-registration of a motor bicycle or motorcycle shall be five dollars (\$5.00).

All motor trucks, trailers, and motor vehicles used for other than the conveyance of passengers shall have attached thereto a conspicuous metal plate giving the actual weight of the vehicle as equipped and weight of loading capacity as specified by the manufacturer or make and no license shall be issued until the vehicle is so equipped. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction, subject to a fine of not less than five dollars ($5.00) nor more than fifty dollars ($50.00) for the first and second offenses. Upon a third conviction, the department shall have authority to cancel the certificate of registration and call in the number plates and a new license shall not be issued for any such motor vehicle for a period of one year.

Sec. 10. It shall be unlawful for any person known as a chauffeur, and employed for hire therefor, to operate or drive a motor vehicle upon the public highways, or streets, of cities or towns of this state, unless licensed by the department as herein provided.

Any person desiring a chauffeur's license shall file with the department an application under oath stating his name, residence, business address, if any, age, color, single or married, whether he has ever been convicted of a violation of the motor vehicle laws of this state or any other state, or has been convicted within one year of intoxication, and such other information as the department may require. Such license shall not be issued until the department is satisfied that the applicant is over eighteen (18) years of age and is a fit and proper person to receive such license. The fee for chauffeur's license shall be two dollars ($2.00) payable annually and shall expire on the last day of the year in which it is issued.

To each person shall be assigned a distinguishing number and the department shall issue to the licensee a certificate containing the distinguishing number or mark assigned to the license, his name, age, place of residence, business address, if any, and a brief description of the licensee for purpose of identification, and such other information as the department shall deem necessary. Every person licensed as a chauffeur, shall endorse his usual signature on the license certificate and his license shall not be valid until the certificate is so endorsed.

The department shall also furnish, without extra charge therefor, to each chauffeur licensed, a suitable metal badge with the number assigned to him stamped thereon, such badge to have stamped thereon the words "Registered Chauffeur No. . . . ., Iowa," and year of issue.

This badge shall thereafter be worn by such chauffeur, affixed to his clothing in a conspicuous place, at all times when he is operating a motor vehicle upon the public highway, and the license certificate shall be carried at all times when he is operating a motor vehicle upon the public highway and shall be produced for inspection upon request by any peace officer. In case of the loss of such badge or certificate a duplicate will be issued by the department on the filing of an affidavit showing the fact of loss, and on payment of a fee of one dollar ($1.00) to the department in the case of a badge, and fifty cents ($.50) in case of a certificate. Applications for the annual renewal of licenses by chauffeurs shall be accompanied by the fee required by this section. No chauffeur's license or badge shall be issued to any applicant under the age of eighteen (18) years. It shall be unlawful for any person to cause, or knowingly to permit his or her child, ward or employee to operate a motor vehicle upon the public highway, as a chauffeur without first having obtained such license as is hereinbefore specified; and the application to the department of a minor to operate a motor vehicle, as chauffeur, shall not be granted by the department unless the parent or parents having custody of such applicant or the guardian or the employer of such applicant shall have joined in said application by signing the same; provided further, that any negligence of a minor, so licensed, in operating a motor vehicle upon the public highway, as chauffeur, shall be imputed to the person, persons or corporation, who shall employ said chauffeur, which person, persons or corporation shall be jointly and severally liable with such minor for any damage caused by such negligence.

Upon the receipt of an application, the department shall register the applicant in a book, or on index cards which shall be kept in the same manner as the books or index cards for the registration of motor vehicles.

No person shall use a fictitious name in applying for such chauffeur's license, nor shall any chauffeur voluntarily permit any other to possess or use his license certificate or badge; nor shall any person, while operating a motor vehicle, use or possess any license certificate or badge belonging to another person.

No person shall display or cause or permit to be displayed, or have in his possession, any canceled, revoked, altered or fictitious registration number plate, registration certificate, chauffeur's license certificate or chauffeur's badge, as the same are respectively provided for in this act.

The value thus fixed shall be based on the retail list price of such vehicles as compared with the value of a new motor vehicle of the same make and model, provided, however, that for each year for which such motor vehicle has been registered, a reduction of ten (10) per cent shall be made from the retail list price, new, of such vehicle after the first registration; and, provided further, that no reduction shall be made for a greater period than five (5) years, provided further, that the value thus fixed shall be only for the purpose of determining the license fee to be charged for the registration of such motor vehicle, and provided further, that the license fee in no case shall be less than fifteen dollars ($15.00).

The cost of publication provided for in this section shall be paid as other bills for the maintenance of this department, but shall first be certified by the county treasurer of the county in which the publication was made, and approved by the department. He shall in all cases collect and remit to the department the correct license fee on each motor vehicle registered by him and shall be responsible on his bond for such amount. All fees and penalties collected by the county treasurer shall be remitted to the department on the fifteenth day of each month following their collections.

It shall be the duty of the sheriff of the county to forthwith proceed to the collection of the unpaid fees and penalties as certified to him by county treasurer by taking possession of the motor vehicle described in said list and writ of seizure for said motor vehicle, and proceed to advertise and sell same upon ten (10) days notice for the purpose of collecting fees, penalties and costs, provided, however, that should a motor vehicle on which the fee is delinquent be removed from the county in which it was originally registered, either by transfer or removal by owner to another county, without having notified the county treasurer or department of such removal and the sheriff knowing to which county same was removed, may forward the warrant to the sheriff of the county where such motor vehicle is at that time, when he shall proceed to collect the same as though the vehicle had been originally registered in his county, and make return to the county treasurer of the county from which he received the writ.

The sheriff shall be entitled to receive as costs, the sum of two dollars ($2.00) for serving writ of seizure and ten cents ($.10) for each mile actually traveled by him in collecting the fee and penalties, and one dollar ($1.00) per day for care of the motor vehicle while in his possession, which shall be collected from the owner of such delinquent motor vehicle, such costs and mileage, and costs of care while in his possession, shall be retained by him in full for his services.

Thereupon the county treasurer shall issue to the owner number plates and a receipt showing payment of fees and penalties.

Sec. 16. It is hereby made the duty of the department to prepare and furnish the treasurer of each county all blank books, blank forms and all supplies required for the administration of this act, including applications for registration and transfer of vehicles, triplicate receipts, one of which shall be returned to the department on the day the license was issued, one delivered to the owner of the motor vehicle, and one retained by the treasurer of the county, and including duplicate remittance sheets to be used in remitting fees to the department, which shall contain the license number, name and address of owner, price or load capacity of the vehicle, and the fee collected. Sec. 17. The registration fees imposed by this act upon motor vehicles, other than those of manufacturers and dealers, shall be in lieu of all taxes, general or local, to which motor vehicles may be subject.

Sec. 18. Upon the transfer of ownership of any registered motor vehicle, the owner shall immediately give notice to the county treasurer upon the form attached to the certificate of registration, containing the date of such transfer, the name and postoffice address, with street number if in a city, of the person to whom transferred, the license number, and such other information as the department may require. The purchaser of the motor vehicle shall join in the notice of transfer to the county treasurer and shall at the same time make application for the transfer of the motor vehicle and for a new certificate of registration. Upon filing the application for transfer, the applicant shall pay a fee of one dollar ($1.00) for the transfer, thereupon the county treasurer, if satisfied of the genuineness and regularity of such transfer, shall register said motor vehicle in the name of the transferee and issue a new certificate of registration as provided in this act. Until said transferee has received said certificate of registration and has written his name upon the face thereof, delivery and title to said motor vehicle shall be deemed not to have been made and passed. The county treasurer shall forthwith notify the department of such transfer and upon receipt of such statement and fee, the department shall file such statement in his office and note upon the registration book or index, such change of ownership.

The provisions provided for herein for the transfer of motor vehicles shall apply to the sale and transfer of all motor vehicles to manufacturers or dealers.

It shall also be unlawful for any person, firm, association or corporation to deface, or alter any serial number, engine number, or assembling number of a motor vehicle or registration number or certificate of registration or to have in his or its possession an automobile or motor vehicle, the serial number or engine number of which is defaced, altered or tampered with unless said person, firm, association or corporation has in his or its possession a certificate of registration and transfer from the officer whose duty it is to register or license automobiles and motor vehicles in the state in which said automobile or motor vehicle is registered, showing good and sufficient reason why numbers are defaced, changed or tampered with; and also showing the original serial or engine number, and also showing the ownership of said automobile.

Any person, firm, association or corporation found guilty, personally or by agent, of violating any of the provisions of this section shall be imprisoned in the penitentiary not more than five (5) years or be fined not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) and be imprisoned in the county jail not more than one (1) year.

Sec. 20. Upon the sale of a motor vehicle by manufacturers or dealers, the vendee shall at once make application by mail or otherwise, for registration thereof, after which he may operate the same upon the public highway without its individual number thereon for a period of not more than fifteen (15) days, provided, that during such period the motor vehicle shall have attached thereto, in accordance with the provision hereof, both on the front and rear of such vehicle, pasteboard cards bearing the words "License Applied For", and the registration number of the dealer from whom the car was purchased together with the date of purchase plainly stamped or stenciled thereon. The letters and figures upon such cards shall not be less than one (1) inch in height except that the letters in the words "License Applied For", shall not be less than two (2) inches in height, provided, that no manufacturer or dealer shall issue or permit the use of such card until application for a license has been made, as herein provided, by the person to whom it is issued. The department shall, upon the application of any manufacturer or dealer, furnish such cards free of charge with the words "License Applied For" printed thereon and sufficient blank space to permit the printing, stamping or stenciling thereon of the dealers' number and the date. Provided, further, that a motor vehicle that is being brought into this state from another state either for use or for sale herein, may be driven upon the public highway for a period of not to exceed ten (10) days provided it shall carry, both on the front and rear a pasteboard card bearing the words, "Car in Transit", and the date of purchase. The words, letters and figures upon said car shall be of the same size and general character as those required in this section for the cards showing that application has been made for a license. Nothing in this section, however, shall be construed so as to interfere with the use of motor vehicles upon the public highways of this state that are owned by persons living in another state, regulation of which is provided for elsewhere in this act.

Sec. 21. Except as otherwise provided in this act, no person shall operate or drive a motor vehicle on the public highways of this state unless such motor vehicle shall have a distinctive number assigned to it and two number plates with numbers corresponding to that of the certificate of registration, conspicuously displayed—one on the front and one on the rear of such vehicle, each securely fastened so as to prevent the same from swinging.

The certificate of registration issued by the county treasurer, shall be displayed in a proper holder that will protect the same, of a kind approved by the executive council, which holder shall be placed in plain view in the driver's compartment of the motor vehicle. The executive council may, at its discretion, approve devices for holding and displaying certificates of registration. It shall be unlawful to change the license numbers assigned by the county treasurer to any motor vehicle, unless for some cause a new number may be assigned according to law, or to use or display on any motor vehicle any number plates or certificate of registration, other than those issued licensing such vehicle, or to intentionally use or display such certificate of registration on which the names, numbers, or date stated, are not true or do not correspond to the vehicle licensed.

Sec. 22. Every person, firm, association or corporation manufacturing or dealing in motor vehicles, may instead of registering each motor vehicle, make an application for a general distinctive number for all the motor vehicles owned or controlled by such manufacturer or dealer. On the payment of a registration fee of twenty-five dollars ($25.00), such application shall be registered in the office of the department. The department shall thereupon assign and issue to such manufacturer or dealer a general distinctive number, and without expense to the applicant, issue and promptly deliver to such manufacturer or dealer, a certificate of registration and two number plates with a number corresponding to the number of such certificate.

Such number plates shall be displayed by each motor vehicle of such manufacturer or dealer when the same is operated or driven on the public highways. Such manufacturer or dealer may obtain as many duplicates of such number plates as may be desired upon the payment to the department of fifteen dollars ($15.00) for each duplicate set, provided that if a manufacturer or dealer has an established place of business in more than one city or town, such manufacturer or dealer shall secure a separate and distinct certificate of registration and number plates for each such place of business. Nothing in this section shall be construed to apply to a motor vehicle operated by a manufacturer or dealer for private use or for hire, which said motor vehicle shall be individually registered as provided in this act.

Sec. 23. The provisions of the foregoing sections relative to registration and display of registration numbers shall not apply to a motor vehicle owned by a nonresident of this state, other than a foreign corporation, manufacturer or dealer doing business in this state, provided that the owner shall have complied with the provisions of the law of the foreign country, state, territory or federal district of his residence relative to reg-

Loud signalling devices shall not be used during the period of from one hour after sunset to one hour before sunrise, unless absolutely necessary to avoid accidents. An adequate signalling device shall in all cases be sounded on approaching curves, tops of hills, and intersecting highways in the country where the operator's view is obscured. (c) All motor vehicles in use on the public highways excepting motorcycles, motor bicycles, and such motor vehicles as are properly equipped with one light in the forward center of such motor vehicle, shall, during the period of from one-half hour after sunset to one-half hour before sunrise, display two or more white or tinted lights, other than red, on the forward part of said vehicle, so placed as to be seen from the front, and of sufficient illuminating power to be visible at a distance of five hundred (500) feet in the direction in which displayed, and to reveal any persons, vehicle, or substantial object seventy-five (75) feet ahead of the lamps. Such motor vehicle when in use shall also display on the rear a lamp so constructed and placed as to show a red light from the rear and throw a white light directed upon the rear registration marker and render the numerals thereon visible for at least fifty (50) feet in the direction from which the vehicle is proceeding. Motorcycles, motor bicycles and motor vehicles equipped with one light as herein provided, shall display on the forward part one white or tinted light, as aforesaid, and a red light to the rear, so constructed and placed as to throw a white light directly upon the registration marker as prescribed in the case of any other motor vehicles, provided that the operator of any motor vehicle may proceed in a cautious and careful manner, in the event of a failure of one or more of his lights to operate, toward his destination, but he shall take the first reasonable opportunity to put his lights in order, otherwise to be deemed guilty of violation of this provision. The provision as to the rear light shall also apply to vehicles which are trailed or towed by motor vehicles. It shall be unlawful to use on a vehicle of any kind operated on the public highways of this state, including motorcycles, any lighting device of over four (4) candle power, equipped with a reflector, unless the same shall be so designed, or arranged that the directly reflected and undiffused beam of such light when measured seventy-five (75) feet or more ahead of the light shall not rise above forty-two (42) inches from the level surface on which the vehicle stands under all conditions of load. If, in addition to headlights, any such vehicle is equipped with any auxiliary light, projecting lights, or devices other than the rear lamp, such auxiliary light or lights shall be subject to all the restrictions of this section, regarding direction of the beam. If a spotlight is used on a motor vehicle it shall be unlawful for any person to direct its rays toward the eyes of the driver or occupants of an approaching vehicle, or to the left of the center of the traveled way when meeting another vehicle. No person shall operate a motor vehicle on any highway of this state equipped with an electric bulb or other lighting device of a greater capacity than thirty-two (32) candle power, no matter how the same may be shaded, covered or obscured. Any person who shall turn all or any of his motor vehicle's lights off for the purpose of avoiding arrest or identification, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, subject to a fine of one hundred dollars ($100.00) or imprisonment for a period of not to exceed thirty (30) days, or both fine and imprisonment. (d) It shall be unlawful for any operator of any motor car, taxicab, automobile, motor truck or motorcycle, while on the public highway, to use any cutout fitting or other apparatus or device which will allow the exhaust gases from the engine of the motor vehicle to escape into the atmosphere without first passing through a silencer, expansion chamber, or other contrivance suitable and sufficient for reducing as far as may be reasonably practicable, the noise which would otherwise be caused by the escape of the said gases, provided further, that it shall be unlawful for any person to drive or to permit to be driven on the streets of any city or town, any motor vehicle at any time with the muffler cut out or not in operation. Any violation of this section shall constitute a misdemeanor, and upon conviction, shall be punishable by a fine of not less than five dollars ($5.00) nor more than twenty-five dollars ($25.00) for the first and second offense, provided further that for the third conviction the department shall revoke the license and certificate of registration of the person so convicted and no new license or certificate shall be granted to the person for a period of one (1) year.

It shall be the duty of the mayor of cities and towns, the police, sheriff, and all peace officers to enforce provisions of this act.

Sec. 25. Upon approaching any person walking in the traveled portion of any public highway or a horse or any animal being led, ridden or driven thereon, or a crossing or intersection of public highways, or a bridge, or a sharp turn, or a curve, or a steep descent, and also in passing such person or such horse or other animal, and in traversing such crossing, bridge, turn, curve or descent, the person operating a motor vehicle or motorcycle shall have the same under control and shall reduce the speed to a reasonable and proper rate.

Except where safety zones are provided, and the highway is of sufficient width to admit of safe passage, the driver or operator or every vehicle shall bring the same to a full stop not less than five (5) feet from the rear of any street car headed in the same direction which has stopped for the purpose of taking on and discharging passengers, and remain standing until such car has taken on or discharged its passengers. Any person violating any requirement of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and subject upon conviction to a fine of not less than five dollars ($5.00) nor more than one hundred dollars ($100.00) for the first offense. The provisions of this section shall apply to the operator who causes his motor vehicle to be operated in violation of this section.

(a) The operator of a motor vehicle shall turn to the right when meeting another vehicle, and in cities and towns shall at all times travel on the right hand side of the center of the street.

(b) The operator of a motor vehicle, when overtaking and passing another vehicle, shall pass to the left and shall not drive to the right until clear of such vehicle.

(c) The operator of a motor vehicle shall, before stopping, turning or changing the course of such vehicle, first see that there is sufficient space to make such movement in safety and shall give a visible or audible signal to the crossing officer, if there be such, or to the drivers of vehicles following, of his intention to make such movement, by raising and extending the hand and indicating with it the direction in which he wishes to turn.

(d) The operator of a motor vehicle, in turning to the right from one street or highway into another, shall turn the corner as near the right hand as practicable, and, in turning to the left from one street or highway into another, shall pass to the right of and beyond the center before turning.

(e) The operator of a motor vehicle, in crossing from one side of the street, or highway, to the other side thereof, shall turn to the left, so as to head in the direction in which vehicles are moving.

(f) In cities and towns it shall be unlawful to stop a motor vehicle on the street unless the right side thereof is next to and parallel with the curb and as near thereto as the condition of the street will permit; provided, however, that cities and towns shall have the power to designate by ordinance suitable areas within which automobiles may be parked or left standing (without being parallel to the curb), and to prescribe rules governing the use of such areas for such purpose; provided, that this rule shall not apply in cases of emergency, when the stop is made to avoid accident or to allow pedestrians or vehicles to cross in front of such motor vehicle, or when made in obedience to the signal of a police officer.

(g) In cities and towns it shall be unlawful for the operator of any motor vehicle to overtake and pass another vehicle at street intersections in the business districts.

(h) It shall be unlawful for the operator of a motor vehicle to permit the motor of same to operate in such a manner as to visibly emit an unduly great amount of steam, smoke or products of combustion from exhaust pipes or openings.

(i) Where two vehicles are approaching on any public street or highway so that their paths will intersect and there is danger of collision, the vehicle approaching the other from the right shall have the right of way.

(j) In cities and towns, it shall be unlawful for the operator of any motor vehicle to leave any such vehicle standing upon any street in the business district thereof within fifteen (15) feet of the corner or within fifteen (15) feet of any hydrant.

(k) In cities and towns no motor vehicle shall be left standing in front of or within fifteen (15) feet of either side of the entrance of any theatre, auditorium or other building where large assemblages of people are being held, except in taking on or discharging passengers or freight, and then only for such length of time as is necessary for such purpose.

At theatres and public gatherings in cities or towns, or under unusual circumstances, motor vehicles shall stand or move as directed by the police.

(m) It shall be unlawful for the operator of any motor vehicle or person in charge thereof to leave unattended upon any street or highway a motor vehicle with the engine running.

Any driver of a vehicle that is overtaken by a faster moving vehicle who fails to heed the signal of the overtaking vehicle when it is given under such circumstances that he could, by the exercise of ordinary care and observation and precaution, hear such signal and who fails to yield that part of the traveled way as herein provided, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100.00) or by imprisonment not exceeding thirty (30) days and if upon the trial of the case the person charged with the violation of this provision shall claim that he did not hear the signal of the overtaking vehicle, the burden of proof shall rest upon him to show that he did not hear such signal provided that it shall first be proven that the overtaking vehicle gave a signal by the use of a bell, horn or other signalling device.

(o) It shall be unlawful for the operator of any motor vehicle to leave it standing, while showing a red light, parallel to, and within twenty-five (25) feet of the tracks of any railroad in cities and towns.

Sec. 26. Every person operating a motor vehicle on the public highway of this state shall drive the same in a careful and prudent manner, and at a rate of speed that will not endanger the property of another, or the life or limb of any person, and shall in no event drive the same at a greater rate of speed than as follows:

(a) Thirty (30) miles per hour if the weight of vehicle and load is less than three (3) tons and the vehicle is equipped with pneumatic tires, and twenty-five (25) miles per hour if such vehicle is equipped with solid rubber tires.

(b) Twenty-five (25) miles per hour if the weight of the vehicle and load is more than three (3) tons and less than six (6) tons and the vehicle is equipped with pneumatic tires, and twenty (20) miles per hour if such vehicle is equipped with solid rubber tires.

(c) Sixteen (16) miles per hour if the weight of the vehicle and load is more than six (6) tons and the vehicle is equipped with pneumatic tires, and twelve (12) miles per hour if such vehicle is equipped with solid tires.

(d) Ten (10) miles per hour if the vehicle or any trailer is equipped with two (2) or more metal tires.

Provided, that the local authorities of any city or town may establish a suburban district in which the maximum speed of any vehicle shall not exceed twenty (20) miles per hour, and a business district in which the maximum speed of any vehicle shall not exceed fifteen (15) miles per hour, provided that such city or town shall have placed conspicuously on each main public highway where the city or town line crosses the same, and on every main highway where the rate of speed changes, signs of sufficient size to be easily readable by a person using the highway, bearing the words: "City of.....," "Town of....." No motor vehicle shall operate over any highway, improved with a gravel or paved surface, which has projections of metal or wood beyond the tread or traffic surface of the tire excepting vehicles equipped with caterpillar tread; provided that tractors, traction engines or similar motor vehicles may be operated which have "V" shaped or diagonal cleats arranged in such a manner that two or more cleats are continuously in contact with the road surface and that the weight per inch width of such cleats in continuous contact with the road surface measured in the direction of the movement of the vehicle does not exceed eight hundred pounds per inch width of tire.

Sec. 27. Limitations as to the rate of speed herein fixed shall be exclusive of all other limitations fixed by law of this state or any political subdivision thereof. Local authorities shall have no power to enact, enforce or maintain any ordinance, rule or regulation in any way in conflict with, contrary to or inconsistent with the provisions of this act, or of any section or other subdivision thereof, and no such ordinance, rule or regulation of said local authorities heretofore or hereafter enacted shall have any force or effect, excepting, however, that (1) such powers as are now or may hereafter be vested in local authorities to enact ordinances and regulations, applicable equally and generally to all vehicles and other users of the highways, and providing for traffic or crossing officers or semaphores, to bring about the orderly passage of vehicles and other users of the public highways on certain portions thereof, where the traffic is heavy and continuous, as well as (2) the powers now or hereafter vested in local authorities to license and to regulate the operation of vehicles offered to the public for hire, and to regulate the use of the highways for processions or assemblages, shall remain in full force and effect, and all ordinances, rules and regulations which may have been or which may be hereafter enacted in pursuance of such powers, shall remain in full force and effect; and provided, further, that local authorities may by general rule, ordinance or regulation, exclude vehicles from any cemetery or ground used for the burial of the dead, or exclude vehicles used solely or principally for commercial purposes, from any park or part of a park system where such general rule, ordinance, or regulation is applicable equally and generally to all other vehicles used for the same purpose; provided, that at the entrance, or at each entrance if there be more than one, to such cemetery or park from which vehicles are so excluded, there shall have been posted a sign plainly legible from the middle of the public highway on which such cemetery or park opens, plainly indicating such exclusion and prohibition; and provided, further, that the local authorities of any city, town, or city and county may impose additional restrictions to those herein contained applicable to vehicles exclusively used in the carrying of merchandise or articles of freight and of a capacity in excess of one ton in weight and may designate certain streets whereon heavy laden vehicles may be excluded or declared to be "one way" streets, may further, restrict, or prohibit, the use of trailers. Provided, further, that where local authorities of other state shall, by adoption of rules and regulations or otherwise, prohibit motor vehicles from operating upon highways in any subdivision of such other state which motor vehicles are duly licensed under the laws of this state, then in such cases the local authorities of this state may, by ordinance or otherwise, require the motor vehicles of the subdivisions of such other state while operating by their own power in this state to be licensed under the laws of this state.

Sec. 28. The violation of any of the provisions herein shall constitute a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not to exceed one hundred dollars, except as otherwise provided in this act.

Sec. 29. Whoever operates a motor vehicle while in an intoxicated condition shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished as provided by section 4906 of the Code. Any person operating a motor vehicle, who, knowing that injury has been caused to a person, due to the culpability of said operator, or to accident, leaves the place of said injury or accident without stopping and giving his name, postoffice address, including street number, and registration number of said motor vehicle, to the injured party, and give such aid to the injured person as the circumstances may require, shall be guilty of a felony punishable by fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500.00) or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding two (2) years, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and if any person be convicted the second time of either of the foregoing offenses, he shall be guilty of a felony punishable by imprisonment for a term of not less than one (1) year and not more than five (5) years. A conviction of a violation of this section shall be reported forthwith by the trial court or the clerk thereof, to the department, who shall, upon recommendation of the trial court, suspend the certificate of registration of the motor vehicle operated by the person violating this section, or if he be an owner, the certificate of registration of his motor vehicle; and if no appeal therefrom is taken, or if an appeal duly taken be dismissed or the judgment affirmed, and upon notice thereof by said clerk, the department shall revoke the certificate of registration of said motor vehicle, and shall order the certificate of registration delivered to the department, and shall not re-issue said certificate of registration or any other certificate of registration to such person unless the department, in its discretion, after an investigation, or upon rehearing, decided to re-issue or issue a certificate.

Sec. 30. Any person who operates any motor vehicle while a certificate of registration of a motor vehicle issued to him is suspended or revoked, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Sec. 31. Any person making a false statement in the verified application for registration shall be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by a fine not exceeding fifty dollars.

Sec. 32. Upon conviction of any person for the violation of any of the provisions of this act, the trial court or clerk thereof shall immediately certify the facts of the case, including the name and address of the offender, the judgment of the court and the sentence imposed, to the department, who shall enter the same in the book or index of registration of owners of motor vehicles, opposite the name of the person so convicted, and in case of any other person in a book or index of offenders, to be kept for such purpose. If any conviction shall be reversed upon appeal therefrom, the person whose conviction has been reversed may serve on the department, a certified copy of the order of reversal, whereupon, the department shall enter the same in the proper book or index in connection with the record of such conviction.

Sec. 33. In case any person shall be taken into custody charged with a violation of any of the provisions of this act, he shall forthwith be taken before the nearest available magistrate or police judge and be entitled to an immediate hearing or admission to bail, and if such hearing cannot then be had, be released from custody on giving bond executed by a fidelity or surety company authorized to do business in this state, or other bail in the form provided by law, such bond to be in amount not exceeding One Hundred Dollars ($100.00), if the charge be for misdemeanor, for his appearance to answer for such violation at such time and place as shall then be indicated. In case a person is taken into custody charged with a felony, in violation of any of the provisions of this act, such bond shall be in amount not less than One Thousand Dollars ($1000.00).

Sec. 34. A conviction of the violation of any of the provisions of this act shall not be a bar to a prosecution for an assault or for a homicide committed by any person in operating motor vehicles.

Sec. 35. Ninety-five (95) per cent of all moneys paid into the state treasury pursuant to the provisions of this act, shall be apportioned among the several counties in the same ratio that the area of each county bears to the total area of the state, said apportionment to be made by the treasurer of state. Two and one-half ( $2\frac{1}{2}$ ) per cent of all moneys paid into the state treasury on and after the taking effect of this act pursuant to its provisions, shall be set aside and shall constitute a maintenance fund for the state highway commission, and two and one-half ( $2\frac{1}{2}$ ) per cent of all of said money paid to the treasurer of state shall constitute a fund for the payment of salaries as provided by law for the motor vehicle department, the expenses for plates, blanks, etc., and maintenance of the automobile department. The maintenance fund for said state highway commission, shall be drawn out only on warrants drawn by the auditor of state on itemized vouchers approved by the state highway commission, the expenditures of which commission shall be audited by the state board of audit, and a full and complete report of all said expenditures shall be published in the annual report under the act creating the state highway commission.

Any money remaining in the state highway commission maintenance fund at the end of a calendar year, as well as any portion of the remaining two and one-half ( $2\frac{1}{2}$ ) per centum of the moneys paid into the state treasury not required for payment of salaries, expenses and maintenance of the automobile department, shall be apportioned among the several counties in the same manner as the ninety-five (95) per cent of said funds is apportioned.

Sec. 36. It is hereby made the duty of each and every person, firm, association, corporation, co-partnership operating a public garage in this state to keep for public inspection a record of the license number and engine or factory serial number of all motor vehicles taken in or held in charge by said garage for the purpose of selling, rental, livery, storage or repair. Said record shall contain the name and address of the owner of the motor vehicle, the name and address of the person delivering or taking the motor vehicle to the garage, and the license number and the number of the engine thereof. The alteration or obliteration of said engine number shall be prima facie evidence of larceny of said motor vehicle, and the proprietor, agents, servants or employes, immediately upon the discovery of such obliteration or alteration, shall notify the sheriff and police officers of the proper county, and shall hold the said motor vehicle for a period of twenty-four (24) hours, or until investigation shall have been made by the sheriff or police officers. Provided, however, such record need not be made when a motor vehicle is taken in or held in charge a second time, when the owner or driver is personally known to the proprietor of such garage, his agent or employe.

Any person, firm, association, corporation or co-partnership found guilty, personally or by agent, of violating any of the provisions of this section shall be fined in a sum not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100.00).

Sec. 37. The department shall issue this act in pamphlet form, together with such rules, instruction and explanatory matter as may seem advisable, copies of such pamphlet shall be given as wide distribution as the department shall determine and a supply shall be furnished each county treasurer.

The department shall have full authority to make such rules and issue such instructions as may be necessary to insure and obtain uniformity in the administration and full enforcement of the provisions of this act. All local officials charged with the administration and enforcement of this act shall act and be governed in their official acts herein required by the rules promulgated by the department.

The department is authorized and directed to employ such assistants and clerks that may be required by the department in the administration of this act, provided, the salaries and number of any such assistants and clerks shall be authorized by the executive council.

Sec. 38. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act or contrary thereto are hereby repealed.

Sec. 39. This act shall take effect January first, nineteen hundred twenty, except that application for registration may be had and number plates and licenses issued at any time within sixty (60) days prior to said date, to be effective thereafter. Provided further, that those parts of this act relating to the filing of price lists by the manufacturers of motor vehicles, fixing a valuation upon the different kinds, makes and models of motor vehicles by the executive council as a basis for fixing a license fee, the preparation of blanks, books, indexes, the letting of contracts for number plates, chauffeurs' badges, and all preparations for putting into effect

J. L. BROOKHART.

Section 1. In all laws of this state regulating motor vehicles, the term "motor vehicle," except where otherwise expressly provided, shall include all vehicles propelled by any power other than muscular power, except traction engines, road rollers, fire wagons and engines, police patrols, city or town ambulances, city and government vehicles clearly marked as such, and such vehicles as are run only upon tracks or rails. The term "local authorities" shall include all officers of counties, cities or towns, as well as all boards, committees, or other public officials of such counties, cities or towns. "Motorcycle" shall include all motor vehicles designed to travel on not more than three wheels in contact with the ground, and of not exceeding ten horsepower, and of not exceeding the weight of five hundred pounds unladen. A trailer shall be deemed to be any vehicle, which is at any time drawn upon the public highway by a motor vehicle excepting any implements of husbandry temporarily drawn, propelled or moved upon such highway, "Highway" shall include any public highway, county road, state highway or state road, public street, avenue, alley, park, parkway, driveway, square or place, bridge, viaduct, trestle, or any other territory or structure, whether public or private designed, intended or used by or for the general public for the passage of vehicles, in any county, or incorporate city or town within the state of Iowa; "local authorities" shall include all boards of supervisors, trustees or councils, commissions, committees, and other public officials of counties, incorporated cities or towns; "chauffeur" shall mean any person who operates an automobile in the transportation of persons or freight and who receives any compensation for such service in wages, commission or otherwise, paid directly or indirectly, or who as owner or employee operates an automobile carrying passengers or freight for hire; provided, however, that this definition shall not include manufacturers' agents, proprietors of garages and dealers, salesmen, mechanics, or demonstrators of automobiles in the ordinary course of their business; "nonresidents" shall mean residents of states or countries other than the state of Iowa and of countries other than the United States whose sojourn in this state, or whose occupation or their regular place of abode or business in this state, if any, covers a total period of less than three months in the calendar year; "owner" shall include any person, firm, association, or corporation, having the lawful ownership, use or control, or the right to the use or control, of a motor vehicle, under a lease or otherwise, for a period of ten or more successive days. The term "where a vehicle is kept" shall refer to the county of residence of the owner or to the county where the vehicle is mainly kept if it be different from that of the residence of the owner. The words "license tax" shall have the same meaning as "registration fee" and when a motor vehicle is "licensed" it is also "registered" and vice versa. A dealer shall include "dealers and manufacturers"; "manufacturer" or "dealer" shall signify a person, firm, association, or corporation regularly in the business of having in his, its or their possession motor vehicles for sale or trade and for use and operation pursuant thereto, and shall be considered owners of motor vehicles manufactured or dealt in by them for the purposes of this act, prior to sale and delivery thereof, and of all motor vehicles in their possession and operated or driven by them or by their agents or employees; provided, however, that anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, the determination of the department shall be final and conclusive upon the question whether or not an applicant for registration shall be a manufacturer or dealer within the meaning and intent of this act; "garage" shall mean every place of business where motor vehicles are received for housing, storage or repair, for compensation; "intersection highway" shall mean any highway which joins another at any angle, whether or not it crosses the other; "person" shall include any corporation, association, copartnership, company, firm, or other aggregation of individuals and where the term "person" is used in connection with the registration of a motor vehicle, it shall include any corporation, association, copartnership, company, firm, or other aggregation of individuals which owns or controls such motor vehicle as actual owner, or for the purpose of sale or for renting, whether as agent, salesman, or otherwise; "department" as used in this act shall mean the secretary of state; "specially constructed" motor vehicle shall mean a motor vehicle which shall not have been originally constructed under a distinctive name, make, model or type of a generally recognized manufacturer of motor vehicles; provided, that in case of dispute the determination of the department as to the character of construction of any such motor vehicle shall be conclusive; "reconstructed motor vehicle" shall mean a motor vehicle which shall have been assembled or constructed largely by means of essential parts, new or used, derived from other motor vehicles or makes of motor vehicles of various names, models or types, or which, if originally otherwise constructed, shall have been materially altered by the removal of essential parts, or by addition or substitution of essential parts, new or used, derived from motor vehicles or makes of motor vehicles, provided, that for the purpose of this act the term "essential parts" shall include, not only integral parts but also body parts such as fenders, hood, cowl, and other parts, the removal, alteration or substitution of which will tend to conceal the identity or substantially alter the appearance of the motor vehicle; and provided, further, that in case of dispute the determination of the department as to the character of such assembly, reconstruction or alternation shall be conclusive;

"Imported motor vehicle" shall mean any motor vehicle which shall be brought into this state from another country or state otherwise than in the ordinary course of business by or through a manufacturer or dealer, and which has not been registered in this state.

Sec. 2. Every motor vehicle kept in this state and whose owner is a resident of this state, and every motor vehicle kept in this state, except temporarily by a non-resident owner, and every motor vehicle kept and used in this state a majority of the time, and every motor vehicle used in this state and not properly licensed and taxed under the laws of another state shall not be operated by its own power upon any public highway without being licensed and without carrying license number plates and proper license card and without having had its license tax duly paid, all as required by law. Any such motor vehicle once licensed in the state and by removal not longer subject to license in this state, shall upon being returned to this state and subject to license be again originally licensed. Every motor vehicle originally licensed as provided by law shall, so long as it is subject to license, within the state, pay an annual license tax in advance, commencing with the date of license.

Sec. 3. Every owner of motor vehicle shall, except as herein otherwise expressly provided, have filed in the office of the county treasurer of the county in which the vehicle is kept, an application for registration or on a blank to be furnished by the department for that purpose, containing:

(a) The name, post-office address, with street and number, if any, of the owner.

(b) The last previous registration number.

(c) A brief description of the vehicle to be registered including the name of the make, type of vehicle, model, kind of power, weight of car, date when purchased new, engine number and factory number.

(d) Such other information as the department may require for the efficient administration of this act.

Upon receipt of the application the county treasurer shall file such applications in his office and license such motor vehicle.

To license a motor vehicle the owner shall pay the license tax required by law to the county treasurer of the county where the motor vehicle is kept. The county treasurer shall issue a license card to the owner, dated when the tax is paid. In addition to such other matter, as the department shall prescribe, the license card shall have in suitable color so as not to obscure the other matter the bold faced letter IA and separated by a dash or space shall have in similar size and style the last figure of the current year of issue. License cards shall be colored white when issued during January, February and March; green when issued during April, May and June; red when issued during July, August and September; and blue when issued during October, November and December. License cards shall bear a fac simile of the seal of the state and be not less than 3 inches by 4 inches in size. License cards shall also contain blanks for date, number of license, number of engine, and other factory number, if there be one, name of make, style of vehicle, kind of power, weight of car, date when car was purchased new, amount of license tax, name of owner, his postoffice address, including street and number, if in city, and places for signature of county treasurer and owner. The license card shall be fully filled out and then be signed by the county treasurer, and impressed with the seal of the treasurer. The license number shall be the number on the plates and the card shall also before using be signed by the owner. Each license card after the first shall be dated on the anniversary of the first payment and when the tax is due. The license card shall be prima facie evidence of the payment of the license tax for one year from its date upon the motor vehicle described therein, and owned by the person named therein, and the county treasurer of any county shall issue a copy of the license card in place of original card whenever the original is lost or destroyed, or where there had been a transfer of title as provided by law and whenever a new license card shall be issued in place of the original it shall be noted on the treasurer's record of the license. When the vehicles has not before been licensed the owner shall receive without additional cost two duplicate permanent license number plates which shall be issued in their numerical progression.

Sec. 4. Every motor vehicle required to be licensed shall have conspicuously displayed the number plates furnished, one on the front end and one on the rear end of such vehicle, each securely fastened, so as to prevent the same from swinging and each so that the same shall not become habitually obscured by dust and mud. No motor vehicle shall display the number plate of more than one state at a time. The number plates assigned to a motor vehicle shall permanently remain with the chassis of the vehicle until the same is no longer used and if any person shall junk or dismember a motor vehicle and its parts or a majority of them shall be separated and make a reconstructed or new vehicle the number plates shall be defaced and the fact be noted on the certificate of registration issued by the secretary of state, and such certificate of registration shall be returned to the department who shall place the same with the duplicate record of the vehicle. The number plates of a junked or dismembered vehicle shall not thereafter be used, and no number plate shall be detached from the vehicle for which it is issued and to which it belongs for the purpose of using the same upon any other vehicle, and any such plate shall not be used upon any vehicle other than that for which it was issued. The license card issued by the county treasurer shall also be displayed in a proper holder that will protect the same of a kind approved by the executive council and placed in plain view in such place on the vehicle where the same can be easily seen by any peace officer or other person desiring to ascertain when the license tax was paid, and whether the car bears the proper license card, and the department may prescribe the exact location of such card. The executive council may at its discretion approve devices for holding and displaying license cards, and may require such devices to receive and hold such card, so that when this card is removed from the holder the card will be destroyed or mutilated so it cannot be used on other vehicles. It shall be unlawful to change the license numbers assigned by the county treasurer to any motor vehicle, unless for some cause a new number may be assigned according to law or to change the colors or make any counterfeit license card, or to use or display on any motor vehicle any other than the license card licensing such vehicle or to intentionally use or display any such card on which the names, numbers, or date stated are not true, or do not correspond to the vehicle licensed.

Sec. 5. The county treasurer shall upon suitable duplicate forms make two records of the matter contained in the blanks in said license card and shall retain one in his office with the application and on the same day mail the other copy to the department. The record blanks of the license cards may be arranged by the department so that the duplicate records shall be carbon copies of the license card as to all matters written into the license card.

Upon receipt of the duplicate of record from the county treasurer for each licensed motor vehicle the department shall file the same and provide a plate for a suitable addressograph or similar machine containing the date of payment of first license, license number, engine number or factory number, as the case may be, make of vehicle, and address of owner. These plates shall be placed in the order of the respective license numbered series for each county, and in their numerical order in each series in such machine. Similar series shall be provided for dealers, and for motor cycles and vehicles of less than four wheels, which shall be placed in convenient order. As soon as possible after receiving the duplicate record from the treasurer of any county a certificate of registration shall be struck with the addressograph plate and shall be mailed to the owner at his address. It shall also have upon it blank assignment of title to the motor vehicle licensed, adapted to be filled in with the date and name of purchaser, undersigned by the owner, and may have on it other suitable printed matter.

Sec. 6. No sale of any motor vehicle which has been licensed except under a dealer's license as provided by law shall be valid unless such sale is evidenced by assignment of title on the certificate of registration, duly executed by the owner, and unless it bears the name of the purchaser and date of purchase and unless such certificate of registration with assignment duly executed is filed in the department. Any owner selling a motor vehicle license, except under a dealer's license, shall immediately return the assigned certificate of registration with a fee of one dollar to the department. Whenever any motor vehicle is sold or transferred by operation of law and the certificate of registration is not in possession of the representative of law of the former owner or cannot be obtained, an affidavit similar to that for a lost or destroyed certificate of registration on suitable form provided by the department shall be filed with the department by such legal representative and a certificate of registration shall be issued to the purchaser or transferee as in other cases.

Every certificate of registration assigned shall be filed with the duplicate record of the motor vehicle in the office of the department. Upon receiving a certificate of registration which has been assigned to a purchaser of the motor vehicle the department shall provide in place of the old a new plate for the addressograph or similar machine, having the same numbers and date of payment of license, but having the name of the new owner. A new certificate of registration and a suitable record thereof shall be struck with the new plate and the certificate of registration shall be mailed to the address of the purchaser named therein and the record thereof mailed to the treasurer of the county where the vehicle is kept. Such new certificate shall be furnished as often as the vehicle shall be transferred by assignment on certificate of registration. Any such certificate of registration shall be the subject of larceny and shall constitute an obligation referred to in the statutes on forgery. A duplicate certificate of registration shall be struck and issued to the proper person by the department without payment of a fee when a suitable affidavit on blank furnished by the department is filed, proving the loss or destruction of the original and that no assignment of the original has been made to any person.

Sec. 7. Whenever more than fifteen days before the date the license tax shall become due any owner of a licensed motor vehicle shall change his permanent address to any other county or remove the motor vehicle permanently from the county in which license tax is next payable, and for the purpose of keeping it in another county, or out of the state, such owner shall in any case notify the county treasurer of the county where the motor vehicle was kept and the county treasurer shall upon a suitable duplicate license change form note the changed address of owner or county of keeping the motor vehicle or both, and attach one copy to the record of the vehicle in his office and mail the other on the same day to the department. The department upon receiving such record of a changed address or place of keeping the motor vehicle shall file same with duplicate record of the motor vehicle and when the change is to another county within the state provide a new plate for the addressograph or similar machine. Such plate shall have upon it the changed address of owner together with the number of the county to which the change of place of keeping the vehicle is made, if any, but the license number and plates shall not be changed by reason of any change in address or place of keeping the motor vehicle. Thereafter the license tax shall be payable in the county to which such change of keeping said vehicle is made. If the motor vehicle shall have been removed permanently out of the state as shown by the change return of the county treasurer, the department shall cancel the license on the record in his office and return a license change form so indicating such cancellation to the county treasurer of the proper county. Should any of the information with respect to change of address of an owner or the place where the vehicle is kept come to the department he shall note the change on such duplicate license change form, retain one and send the other to the county treasurer of the proper county, proper county proceeding in the same manner.

Sec. 8. Ten days before the expiration of one year from the date of the payment of any license tax on a motor vehicle the department shall stamp with the plate as provided for the addressograph or similar machine a notice to the owner that the license tax will become due on the anniversary of the date the license was paid at the treasurer's office of the county where payable; such notice shall be mailed to the owner at his postoffice address as shown by the duplicate record. At the same time the department shall in the same manner stamp with such plate on the machine a license tax warrant which shall give the amount of license tax to be collected with direction to the county treasurer or the sheriff receiving it to collect the same with penalty and costs. There shall be suitable blanks on the warrant for return to be made by the county treasurer and by the sheriff. A detachable memorandum shall be appended which shall be filled out by the county treasurer when the license tax is paid, and shall when filled out be filed with the record of license in the county treasurer's office. The license tax warrant when stamped shall be mailed to the county treasurer of the county indicated by the number of the license or to the county of the number to which removal of the motor vehicle has been last made as is shown by the record. If the license tax is paid to the county treasurer when due or within five days thereafter the county treasurer shall file the detachable memorandum with the record of the license and make return of the warrant showing tax paid, to the department which shall file the same with the record of the license in his office. The license tax for a motor vehicle shall be due on each anniversary of the date of payment of first license tax. If the license tax warrant for any motor vehicle is not paid five days after due at the county treasurer's office, the county treasurer shall deliver the same to the sheriff of the county. The sheriff shall forthwith collect the amount of the license tax with ten per cent penalty and the mileage allowed sheriffs for travel in service of other process and may collect same by distress and sale of the motor vehicle if necessary and when such distress and sale is had shall collect in addition to the foregoing items the costs of such distress and sale.

Should the motor vehicle be found to be permanently removed to another state and licensed there, or be junked or dismembered or reconstructed, the facts shall be stated in the return on the warrant. If the motor vehicles shall have been removed to another county without the owner having made the proper record and the sheriff shall know the whereabouts of said vehicle he may forward the warrant to the sheriff of the county where such vehicle is at the time, or he may follow the vehicle and collect the license tax penalty and costs in any county of the state. The detachable memorandum appended shall likewise be finally filed with the record of the county treasurer.

Sec. 9. The department shall provide the county treasurer of each county with number plates purchased by the executive council for motor vehicles. The number plates shall be in duplicate, two for each car and shall be in series for each county with a number for each county beginning the figures. Following the figures indicating the county shall be four ciphers or digits, so that the whole number on the plate shall have five or six figures. The series of the numbers for each county shall begin with 1 in the last place of the number and progress until the remaining places of the number plate are filled with digits, using ciphers for the figures between the series figures and the figure representing the county. At any time when the total number of figures in a series for any county shall reach the figures "9,999" a new series of numbers shall be started using the same county number on the plate. After the first series the successive series of numbers after the county number may be indicated by the successive letters of the alphabet following the number on the plate and beneath the initials of the state on the plate. Number plates for motorcycles, trailers and all motor vehicles having less than four wheels and weighing less than 500 pounds unloaded shall be provided only for the department and may be in such lettered series after the first as the department may fix. Dealers' plates shall be provided only for the department and shall be in a separate series without a county number, but with the letter "D" preceding the number and new series may be provided after the numbers reach "99,999".

The bidders shall be required to furnish samples of such supplies and in awarding the contract the council may consider the quality and suitability of the samples submitted as well as the prices quoted. A record of all bids submitted shall be kept and the samples submitted shall be preserved until the next subsequent letting. The successful bidder shall be required to execute to the state a good and sufficient bond in such amount as the executive council shall require, conditioned upon the plates furnished being in accordance with the samples and specifications, and providing for liquidated damages for failure to deliver plates at the time specified in the contract. In lieu of purchasing under competitive bids the council shall have authority to arrange with the board of control to furnish such supplies as may be made at the state institutions. Should any motor vehicle including reconstructed vehicles not be classified by the executive council and not be contained in such published schedule the county treasurer shall fix the license tax upon the said classification estimated value and on the weight, all as represented by the owner or found by the county treasurer. To meet necessities of bringing the motor vehicle fund up to the requirements of provisions for federal aid of highways in this state, the executive council may increase the license taxes herein not exceeding twenty per cent.

Renewal plates shall be issued each year for the same vehicle until registration shall finally expire when old numbers may be assigned to other similar vehicles.

Sec. 26. Ninety-five per cent of all moneys paid into the treasury of each county pursuant to the provisions of this act shall be known as the motor vehicle road fund and shall be apportioned among the several counties in the state in the ratio which the number of townships in the several counties bear to the total number of townships in the state. The said apportionment shall be made by the state treasurer on records obtained from the department and it shall be the duty of each county treasurer to transmit to the treasurer of state any excess of such moneys not due his county. Said apportionment shall be made on the first day of January each year of the funds collected during the preceding year. On the first day of April in each year the state treasurer shall remit to the county treasurers of the several counties of the state the amount due the respective counties on the apportionment so made and the county treasurer of each county immediately upon receipt of such money shall charge himself therewith, and notify the county auditor of the amount of money so received.

Five per cent of all moneys paid to the county treasurer in each county for license tax of motor vehicles shall be paid to the state treasurer. One-half of said five per cent shall be set aside and shall constitute a maintenance fund for the state highway commission. Said two and one half per cent shall be used for no other purpose than as a maintenance fund for said state highway commission, and shall be drawn out only on warrants drawn by the auditor of state on itemized vouchers approved by the state highway commission, the expenditures of which commission shall be audited by the executive council, and a full and complete report under the act creating the state highway commission. The remaining two and one half per cent of said moneys shall be transferred to the proper state funds

Any money remaining in the state highway maintenance fund at the end of a biennial period, as well as any portion of the remaining two and one half per centum of the moneys paid into the state treasury, not required for the maintenance of the automobile department, shall be apportioned among the several counties in the same manner as the ninety five (95) per cent of said funds is apportioned and shall be distributed and constitute part of the county motor vehicle road fund as herein before provided.

The county treasurer of each county shall pay into the treasury of the cities and incorporated towns in such county a portion of said motor vehicle fund to be determined as follows: Each city or incorporated town shall receive a share to be determined by the ratio of miles of unpaved streets within the limits of said city or incorporated town to the total number of miles of public roads and unpaved streets within the county; provided, however, that in no case shall the aggregate amount apportioned to the various cities and towns exceed ten per cent of the total amount apportioned to the county. Any such apportionment to cities and towns shall be expended by them only for the purpose of improving the unpaved streets and roads connecting directly with the county or township road systems, or by order of the city or town council or commission the apportionment may be transferred to the county road cash fund and be expended on the county road system. For the purpose of making such apportionment the city or town clerk shall file in the office of the county treasurer ten days before the first day of January in each year a certified statement of the number of miles of unpaved streets within such city or town, and the county auditor shall make a like statement of the number of miles of highway in such county outside the limits of cities and incorporated towns. The treasurer of each city or town shall charge himself with the sum received from said apportionment and shall forthwith give notice to the city or town auditor or clerk of the amount of money so received. The total amount of such funds received by the county treasurer, less the amount apportioned to the state and to the various cities and towns, as herein provided, shall constitute the county motor vehicle road fund and shall be expended for the following purposes only: The crowning, draining, dragging, oiling or gravelling of public highways. Such fund shall be paid out on warrants drawn by the county auditor, duly authorized by the board of supervisors and entered of record. The same procedure shall apply to the expenditure of this fund as to the expenditure of other road and bridge funds. Provided, however, that all provisions relating to the use of said funds shall be in accord with the provisions of any act passed by the Thirty-eighth General Assembly or thereafter for the improvement of the highways of the state.

Sec. 27. (a) Every motor vehicle, while in use on the public highways of this state, shall be provided with adequate brakes. Loud signalling devices shall not be used during the period of from one hour after sunset to one hour before sunrise, unless absolutely necessary to avoid accidents. An adequate signalling device shall in all cases be sounded on approaching curves, tops of hills, and intersecting highways in the country where the operator's view is obscured. (c) All motor vehicles in use on the public highways excepting motorcycles, motor bicycles, and such motor vehicles as are properly equipped with one light in the forward center of such motor vehicle, shall, during the period of from one-half hour after sunset to one-half hour before sunrise, display two or more white or tinted lights, other than red, on the forward part of said vehicle, so placed as to be seen from the front, and of sufficient illuminating power to be visible at a distance of five hundred (500) feet in the direction in which displayed, and to reveal any persons, vehicle, or substantial object seventy-five (75) feet ahead of the lamps. Such motor vehicle when in use shall also display on the rear a lamp so constructed and placed as to show a red light from the rear and throw a white light directed upon the rear registration marker and render the numerals thereon visible for at least fifty (50) feet in the direction from which the vehicle is proceeding. Motorcycles, motor bicycles and motor vehicles equipped with one light as herein provided, shall display on the forward part one white or tinted light, as aforesaid, and a red light to the rear, so constructed and placed as to throw a white light directly upon the registration marker as prescribed in the case of any other motor vehicles, provided that the operator of any motor vehicle may proceed in a cautious and careful manner, in the event of a failure of one or more of his lights to operate, toward his destination, but he shall take the first reasonable opportunity to put his lights in order, otherwise to be deemed guilty of violation of this provision. The provision as to the rear light shall also apply to vehicles which are trailed or towed by motor vehicles. It shall be unlawful to use on a vehicle of any kind operated on the public highways of this state, including motorcycles, any lighting device of over four (4) candle power, equipped with a reflector, unless the same shall be so designed, or arranged that the directly reflected and undiffused beam of such light when measured seventy-five (75) feet or more ahead of the light shall not rise above forty-two inches from the level surface on which the vehicle stands under all conditions of load. ## EXPLANATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE FILE NO. 548.

I voted for House File No. 548, known as the Good Roads Bill as a step towards the development of Good Roads in Iowa.

The bill in many particulars does not meet my approval, but as an alternative between passing the bill as finally presented, or getting no legislation on the subject, I voted for the bill.

The provisions of the bill relating to the submission of the question of constructing hard roads to the voters of the various counties were presented by amendment during the discussion of the bill, were not printed and there was naturally no sufficient opportunity to fully understand and digest these provisions of the bill.

In my judgment these provisions are indefinite and unsatisfactory and may give rise to much misunderstanding and cause great expense of frequent elections in the various counties of the state. But under the bill as passed I understand that no county can be required to construct hard roads without its consent.

O. A. BYINGTON.

SENATE FILES WITHDRAWN.

By unanimous consent, Senator Balkema withdrew Senate File No. 496 from further consideration.

By unanimous consent, Senator Horchem withdrew Senate Files Nos. 361 and 391 from further consideration.

Upon the entry of any order for the disposition of any intoxicating liquors which have been adjudged forfeited, the clerk shall forthwith transmit a certified copy thereof to the sheriff for execution and the sheriff shall immediately take possession of such liquors, and the vessels containing the same, and make disposition thereof in accordance with such order, and make return of his doings to the court.

When any such liquor is ordered delivered or shipped the sheriff shall securely attach to the box or package containing the same a certified copy of the order of the court and thereupon any railway company, express company or other common carrier may receive, transport, and deliver such liquor to the consignee. The cost of packing and transportation shall be paid by the consignee receiving such liquor. The sheriff shall take receipts for any liquor disposed of under the provisions of this section showing in detail the kind and quantity of liquor delivered, the character of the vessels containing the same, the date and manner of delivery and, if delivery is made by common carrier, the name of such carrier. Such receipt shall be attached by the sheriff to and filed with the return of his doings as herein provided for.

Any statute of this state providing for the destruction of intoxicating liquors shall be construed so that the disposition of such liquors under the provisions of this act shall constitute a destruction thereof within the meaning of such statute.

When notice shall have been given, as above provided, any member of said society shall have the right to appear before said commissioner and be heard with reference to said petition. The commissioner may also make such examination into the affairs and conditions of the society as he deems proper, and shall have power to summon and compel the attendance and testimony of witnesses, and the production of books and papers, and may administer oaths. If satisfied that the interests of the membership of said society are properly protected

"Sec. 2. The commissioner shall require the plan of transformation to be submitted to the supreme governing body of such society, to be voted upon. When submitted, it shall be either at a regular meeting of said supreme governing body or at a special meeting of same called for that purpose. A notice of said special meeting, in the form approved by the Insurance Commissioner, shall be given in accordance with the requirement of the by-laws of such society. Any such plan of transformation submitted to the supreme governing body as herein contemplated, must first have been approved by the commissioner of insurance; and the result of said vote must be filed with such commissioner and be by him determined before any transformation shall be so effective. No such transformation shall take place until after its plan has been approved by the commissioner, either with or without a hearing as herein provided, nor until such approved plan has been adopted by a majority vote of the board of directors or board of trustees of such society; nor, if submitted to the supreme governing body, until such approved plan has also been adopted by a majority vote of the said supreme governing body present and voting.

"Sec. 3. Any such society so transformed, shall incur the obligations and enjoy the benefits thereof the same as though originally thus incorporated, and such corporation, under its charter as thus amended, shall be a continuation of such original corporation, and the officers thereof shall serve through their respective terms as provided in the original charter, but their successors shall be elected and serve as in such amended articles provided; but such amendment or re-incorporation shall not affect existing suits, claim or contracts. Any such fraternal beneficiary society taking advantage of this section, to re-organize into a stock company shall offer to each member of said society the privilege of subscribing for and purchasing his or her proportionate amount of capital stock.

(b) Certificates on which the rates of contribution are based upon a standard table of mortality specified rate of interest, valued in accordance with such standard.

The reserve so ascertained shall be held as a liability by the company in its annual statement rendered to the insurance department."

Each camp or lodge being entitled to one vote for each beneficial member thereof, present and voting. The officers of the local lodge or camp shall certify to the Supreme governing body the number of votes cast for and against the proposition for transformation. If the majority of the votes are in favor thereof, the matter may be then submitted to the Insurance Commissioner for his final action. If the majority of the votes so cast are against such proposition no further steps shall be taken.

No motor vehicle shall be registered in this state unless the manufacturer thereof has furnished to the department the sworn statement herein provided, giving the list price and weight of the model of the motor vehicle that is offered for registration, except that the county treasurer shall have authority to fix the value and weight of any rebuilt or foreign car or any car on which the list price and weight is not available, provided the department shall have authority to review the action of the county treasurer in such cases, establish the correct value and weight and revoke the findings of the county treasurer, if found incorrect.

Sec. 14. All motor vehicles owned and used in the transaction of official business by the representatives of foreign powers or by officers, boards or departments of the government of the United States, and by the state of Iowa, counties, municipalities and other sub-divisions of government, and such self-propelling vehicles as are used neither for the conveyance of persons for hire, pleasure or business nor for the transportation of freight, and small trailers, under one thousand (1000) pounds capacity, equipped with rubber tires, used with pleasure motor vehicles and used for carrying personal baggage or effects, are hereby exempted from the payment of the fees in this act prescribed, but shall not be exempt from the penalties herein provided. The department shall furnish, on application, free of charge, distinguishing plates for motor vehicles thus exempted and keep a separate record thereof.

Sec. 15. The department shall prepare, prior to the second day of July, 1919, and annually thereafter, a statement showing all the different makes and models of motor vehicles previously registered in his department, and all the different makes and models of motor vehicles, statements of which have been filed in his office as provided in section thirteen (13) hereof, together with the retail list price and weight of the same, and the executive council shall, on or before the 15th day of July of each year, and at such other times as they may deem necessary, fix the value and weight of each of the different makes and models of motor vehicles so reported to them by the department, or which are sold or offered for sale within the state.

The statement prepared by the department shall also include the load capacities of the various makes and models of motor trucks and trailers and the proper license fee to be paid for the registration of each.

Sec. 16. All registration or other fees herein or heretofore provided for in this act shall be and continue a lien against the motor vehicle for which said fees are payable until such time as they are paid as provided by law, with any accrued penalties. The lien of the original registration fee shall attach, at the time the same is first payable, as provided by law, and the lien of all renewals of registration shall attach on January 1st of each year thereafter. The collection of same may be enforced against any motor vehicle or it may be collected by suit against the owner who shall remain personally liable therefor until such time as the transfer thereof shall be reported to the county treasurer or until such time as said vehicle ceases to be in use and all fees and penalties to such date shall be paid. On January 1st of each year, a penalty of one dollar ($1.00) shall be added to all fees not paid by that date, and one dollar ($1.00) shall be added to such fees on the first of each month thereafter that the same remains unpaid, until paid.

On April first of the year 1921, and annually thereafter, the department shall forward to the county treasurer of each county, a list of all motor vehicles in said county on which the registration fee has not been paid, showing the amount of the delinquent fee, registration number, make and factory number, together with the name and address of the owner of each car as disclosed by the records. In the first week of May of each year the county treasurer shall cause to be published in each of the official newspapers in his county, a list of all motor vehicles owned within his county upon which the license fee has not been paid for that year. Such list shall show the factory number, make and model of the vehicle together with the name and post-office address of the owner thereof as shown by the records of his office and the amount of the license fee and penalty due upon the vehicle. Immediately after the publication of the list as herein provided, it shall be the duty of the county treasurer to collect the license and penalty.

The county treasurer shall collect from each delinquent, fifty cents ($.50) on each vehicle on which the fee is delinquent to cover cost of publication. The cost of publication provided for in this section shall be paid as other bills for the maintenance of the department, but shall first be certified by the county treasurer of the county in which the publication was made, and approved by the department. He shall in all cases collect and remit to the department the correct license fee on each motor vehicle registered by him and shall be responsible on his bond for such amount. All fees and penalties collected by the county treasurer shall be remitted to the department on or before the fifteenth (15) day of each month following their collections in the same manner as provided by Section 1459 of the Code.

It shall be the duty of the county treasurer to deliver to the sheriff of the county, fifteen (15) days from the date of publication of the delinquent motor list, a certified list of the motor vehicles on which the fees are delinquent, as shown by the record of his office, which list shall show name and address of owner, make of car, license number, factory and engine number, amount of fees and penalty due.

It shall be the duty of the sheriff of the county to forthwith proceed to the collection of the unpaid fees and penalties as certified to him by county treasurer by taking possession of the motor vehicle described in said certified list and proceed to advertise and sell same upon ten (10) days' notice for the purpose of collecting fees, penalties and costs. Said certified list shall for all purposes be a sufficient warrant therefor. The procedure of the sale of the motor vehicle for the collection of the license fees, penalties and costs shall be the same as that provided for the collection of the taxes on personal property by distress and sale as set forth in Section 1406 of the Code. Should a motor vehicle on which the fee is delinquent be removed from the county in which it was originally registered, either by transfer or removal by owner to another county, without having notified the county treasurer or department of such removal and the sheriff knowing to which county same was removed, may forward the warrant to the sheriff of the county where such motor vehicle is at that time, when he shall proceed to collect the same as though the vehicle had been originally registered in his county, and make return to the county treasurer of the county from which he received the warrant.

The sheriff shall be entitled to receive as costs, the sum of two dollars ($2.00) for serving the writ or warrant of seizure and ten cents (.10) for each mile actually traveled by him in collecting the fee and penalties, and one dollar ($1.00) per day for care of the motor vehicle while in his possession, which shall be collected from the owner of such delinquent motor vehicle, such costs and mileage, and costs of care while in his possession, shall be retained by him in full for his services.

When the fee and penalties have been collected the same shall forthwith be returned to the county treasurer, together with a report showing the name and address of the owner and description of car upon which such fee was collected. Thereupon the county treasurer shall issue to the owner number plates and a receipt showing payment of fees and penalties.

Sec. 17. It is hereby made the duty of the department to prepare and furnish the treasurer of each county all blank books, blank forms and all supplies required for the administration of this act, including applications for registration and transfer of vehicles, triplicate receipts, one of which shall be returned to the department on the day the license is issued, one delivered to the owner of the motor vehicle, and one retained by the treasurer of the county, and including duplicate remittance sheets to be used in remitting fees to the department, which shall contain the license number, name and address of owner, weight, price and load capacity of the vehicle, and the fee collected. All receipts for fees paid, certificates of registration, notices of transfer, and other blanks required for the administration of this act shall contain the license number, and manufacturers' number, factory number, name of owner, and such other matters as the department may deem necessary for the efficient administration of this act.

Sec. 18. Upon the transfer of ownership of any registered motor vehicle, the owner shall immediately give notice to the county treasurer, upon the form on the reverse side of the certificate of registration, stating the date of such transfer, the name and postoffice address, with street number if in a city, of the person to whom transferred, the license number, and such other information as the department may require. The purchaser of the motor vehicle shall join in the notice of transfer to the county treasurer and shall at the same time make application for the transfer of the motor vehicle and for a new certificate of registration. Upon filing the application for transfer, the applicant shall pay a fee of one dollar ($1.00) for the transfer, thereupon the county treasurer, if satisfied of the genuineness and regularity of such transfer, shall register said motor vehicle in the name of the transferee and issue a new certificate of registration as provided in this act. Until said transferee has received said certificate of registration and has written his name upon the face thereof, delivery and title to said motor vehicle shall be deemed not to have been made and passed. The county treasurer shall forthwith notify the department of such transfer and upon receipt of such statement, the department shall file such statement in his office and note upon the registration book or index, such change of ownership.

The provisions provided for herein for the transfer of motor vehicles shall apply to the sale and transfer of all motor vehicles to manufacturers or dealers.

Sec. 19. The registration fees imposed by this act upon motor vehicles, other than those of manufacturers and dealers, shall be in lieu of all taxes, general or local, to which motor vehicles may be subject.

Sec. 20. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, association, or corporation to buy any second hand or used automobile, or motor vehicle without requiring and receiving from the vendor thereof, a certificate of registration and transfer from the officer whose duty it is to register or license motor vehicles in the state in which said motor vehicle is bearing the words "Car in Transit", and the date of purchase. The words, letters and figures upon said car shall be of the same size and general character as those required in this section for the cards showing that application has been made for a license. Nothing in this section, however, shall be construed so as to interfere with the use of motor vehicles upon the highways of this state that are owned by persons living in another state, regulation of which is provided for elsewhere in this act.

Sec. 22. Every motor vehicle required to be licensed shall have conspicuously displayed the number plates furnished, one on the front end and one on the rear end of such vehicle, each securely fastened, so as to prevent the same from swinging and each so placed that the same shall not become habitually obscured by dust and mud. The number plates of a junked or dismembered vehicle shall not thereafter be used, and no number plate shall be detached from the vehicle for which it is issued and to which it belongs for the purpose of using the same upon any other vehicle, and any such plates shall not be used upon any vehicle, other than that for which it was issued. The certificate of registration issued by the county treasurer shall also be displayed in a proper holder that will protect the same, of a kind approved by the executive council and placed in plain view in such place on or in the vehicle where the same can be easily seen by any peace officer or other person desiring to ascertain when the license fee was paid, and whether the car bears the proper certificate of registration. The department may prescribe the exact location of such certificate container. The executive council may at its discretion approve devices for holding and displaying the certificate of registration, and may require such devices to receive and hold such certificate so that when the certificate is removed from the holder the certificate will be destroyed or mutilated so it cannot be used on other vehicles. It shall be unlawful to change the license numbers assigned by the county treasurer to any motor vehicle, unless for some cause a new number may be assigned according to law or to change the colors or make any counterfeit of certificate of registration, or to use or display on any motor vehicle any other than the certificate of registration licensing such vehicle or to intentionally use or display any such certificate on which the names, numbers, or data stated are not true, or do not correspond to the vehicle licensed, such certificate of registration shall be of a distinctively different color each year and shall have data thereon that shall identify only the car on which same is carried.

Any violation of this Section shall constitute a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punishable by a fine of not less than ten dollars ($10.00) nor more than one hundred dollars ($100.00), or by imprisonment not exceeding thirty (30) days.

Sec. 23. Every person, firm, association or corporation manufacturing or dealing in motor vehicles, may instead of registering each motor vehicle, make an application for a general distinctive number for all the motor vehicles owned or controlled by such manufacturer or dealer. On the payment of a registration fee of twenty-five dollars ($25.00), such application shall be registered in the office of the department. The department shall thereupon assign and issue to such manufacturer or dealer a general distinctive number, and without expense to the applicant, issue and promptly deliver to such manufacturer or dealer, a certificate of registration and two number plates with a number corresponding to the number of such certificate.

Such number plates shall be displayed by each motor vehicle of such manufacturer or dealer when the same is operated or driven on the public highways. Such manufacturer or dealer may obtain as many duplicates of such number plates as may be desired upon the payment to the department of fifteen dollars ($15.00) for each duplicate set, provided that if a manufacturer or dealer has an established place of business in more than one city or town, such manufacturer or dealer shall secure a separate and distinct certificate of registration and number plates for each such place of business. Nothing in this Section shall be construed to apply to a motor vehicle operated by a manufacturer or dealer for private use or for hire, which said motor vehicle shall be individually registered as provided in this act.

Sec. 24. The provisions of the foregoing sections relative to registration and display of registration numbers shall not apply to a motor vehicle owned by a nonresident of this state, other than a foreign corporation, manufacturer or dealer doing business in this state, provided that the owner shall have complied with the provisions of the law of the foreign country, state, territory or federal district of his residence relative to registration of motor vehicles and the display of registration numbers thereon and shall conspicuously display his registration numbers as required thereby. The provisions of this section shall be operative as to a motor vehicle owned by a nonresident of this state to the extent that under the laws of the foreign country, state, territory or federal district of his residence like exemptions and privileges are granted to motor vehicles duly registered under the laws, and owned by the residents of this state.

Sec. 25. (a) Every motor vehicle, while in use on the public highways of this state, shall be provided with adequate brakes. (b) Every motor vehicle shall be equipped with a suitable bell, horn, or other signalling device producing an abrupt sound sufficiently loud to serve as an adequate warning of danger, but no persons operating any motor vehicle shall make or cause to be made any unnecessary noise with such bell, horn or signalling device, or use the same except as a warning of danger. Loud signalling devices shall not be used during the period of from one hour after sunset to one hour before sunrise, unless absolutely necessary to avoid accidents. An adequate signalling device shall in all cases be sounded on approaching curves, tops of hills, and the intersecting highways in the country where the operator's view is obscured. (c) All motor vehicles in use on the public highways excepting motorcycles, motor bicycles, and such motor vehicles as are properly equipped with one light in the forward center of such motor vehicle, shall, during the period of from one-half hour after sunset to one-half hour before sunrise, display two or more white or tinted lights, other than red, on the forward part of said vehicle, so placed as to be seen from the front, and of sufficient illuminating power to be visible at a distance of five hundred (500) feet in the direction in which displayed, and to reveal any persons, vehicle or substantial object seventy-five (75) feet ahead of the lamps. Such motor vehicle when in use shall also display on the rear a lamp so constructed and placed as to show a red light from the rear and throw a white light directed upon the rear registration marker and render the numerals thereon visible for at least fifty (50) feet in the direction from which the vehicle is proceeding. Motorcycles, motor bicycles and motor vehicles equipped with one light as herein provided, shall display on the forward part one white or tinted light, as aforesaid, and a red light to the rear, so constructed and placed as to throw a white light directly upon the registration marker as prescribed in the case of any other motor vehicle, provided that the operator of any motor vehicle may proceed in a cautious and careful manner, in the event of a failure of one or more of his lights to operate, toward his destination, but he shall take the first reasonable opportunity to put his lights in order, otherwise to be deemed guilty of violation of this provision. The provision as to the rear light shall also apply to vehicles which are trailed or towed by motor vehicles. It shall be unlawful to use on a vehicle of any kind operated on the public highways of this state, including motorcycles, any lighting device of over four (4) candle power, equipped with a reflector, unless the same shall be so designed, or arranged that the directly reflected and undiffused beam of such light when measured seventy-five (75) feet or more ahead of the light shall not rise above forty-two (42) inches from the level surface on which the vehicle stands under all conditions of load. If, in addition to headlights, any such vehicle is equipped with any auxiliary light, projecting lights, or devices other than the rear lamp, such auxiliary light or lights shall be subject to all the restrictions of this section, regarding direction of the beam. If a spotlight is used on a motor vehicle it shall be unlawful for any person to direct its rays toward the eyes of the driver or occupants of an approaching vehicle, or to the left of the center of the traveled way when meeting another vehicle. No person shall operate a motor vehicle on any highway of this state equipped with an electric bulb or other lighting device of a greater capacity than thirty-two (32) candle power, no matter how the same may be shaded, covered or obscured. Any person who shall turn all or any of his motor vehicle's lights off for the purpose of avoiding arrest or identification, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, subject to a fine of one hundred dollars ($100.00) or imprisonment for a period of not to exceed thirty (30) days, or both fine and imprisonment. (d) It shall be unlawful for any operator of any motor car, taxicab, automobile, motor truck or motorcycle, while on the public highway, to use any cut-out fitting or other apparatus or device which will allow the exhaust gases from the engine of the motor vehicle to escape into the atmosphere without first passing through a silencer, expansion chamber or other contrivance suitable and sufficient for reducing as far as may be reasonably practicable, the noise which would otherwise be caused by the escape of said gases, provided further, that it shall be unlawful for any person to drive or to permit to be driven on the streets of any city or town, any motor vehicle at any time with the muffler cut out or not in operation. Any violation of this section shall constitute a misdemeanor, and upon conviction, shall be punished by a fine of not less than five dollars ($5.00) nor more than twenty-five dollars ($25.00) for the first and second offense, provided further that for the third conviction the department shall revoke the license and certificate of registration of the person so convicted and no new license or certificate shall be granted to the person for a period of one (1) year.

It shall be the duty of the mayor of cities and towns, the police, sheriff, and all peace officers to enforce provisions of this act.

Sec. 26. Upon approaching any person walking in the traveled portion of any public highway or a horse or any animal being led, ridden or driven thereon, or a crossing or intersection of public highways, or a bridge, or a sharp turn, or a curve, or a steep descent, and also in passing such person or such horse or other animal, and in traversing such crossing, bridge, turn, curve or descent, the person operating a motor vehicle or motorcycle shall have the same under control and shall reduce the speed to a reasonable and proper rate.

Except where safety zones are provided, and the highway is of sufficient width to admit of safe passage, the driver or operator of every vehicle shall bring the same to a full stop not less than five (5) feet from the rear of any street car headed in the same direction which has stopped for the purpose of taking on and discharging passengers, and remain standing until such car has taken on or discharged its passengers. Any person violating any requirement of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and subject upon conviction, to a fine of not less than five dollars ($5.00) nor more than one hundred dollars ($100.00) for the first offense, and double said penalties for any subsequent offense. The provision of this section shall apply to the operator who causes his motor vehicle to be operated in violation of this section,

(a) The operator of a motor vehicle shall turn to the right when meeting another vehicle, and in cities and towns shall at all times travel on the right hand side of the center of the street.

(b) The operator of a motor vehicle, when overtaking and passing another vehicle, shall pass to the left when the surface of the ground will permit and shall not drive to the right until clear of such vehicle.

(c) The operator of a motor vehicle shall, before stopping, turning or changing the course of such vehicle, first see that there is sufficient space to make such movement in safety and shall give a visible or audible signal to the crossing officer, if there be such, or to the drivers of vehicles following, of his intention to make such movement, by raising and extending the hand and indicating with it the direction in which he wishes to turn.

(d) The operator of a motor vehicle, in turning to the right from one street or highway into another, shall turn the corner as near the right hand as practicable, and, in turning to the left from one street or highway into another, shall pass to the right of and beyond the center before turning.

(e) The operator of a motor vehicle, in crossing from one side of the street, or highway, to the other side thereof, shall turn to the left, so as to head in the direction in which vehicles are moving.

(f) In cities and towns it shall be unlawful to stop a motor vehicle on the street unless the right side thereof is next to and parallel with the curb and as near thereto as the condition of the street will permit; provided, however, that cities and towns shall have the power to designate by ordinance suitable areas within which automobiles may be parked or left standing (without being parallel to the curb), and to prescribe rules governing the use of such areas for such purpose; provided, that this rule shall not apply in cases of emergency, when the stop is made to avoid accident or to allow pedestrians or vehicles to cross in front of such motor vehicle, or when made in obedience to the signal of a police officer.

(g) In cities and towns it shall be unlawful for the operator of any motor vehicle to overtake and pass another vehicle at street intersections in the business districts.

(h) It shall be unlawful for the operator of a motor vehicle to permit the motor of same to operate in such a manner as to visibly emit an unduly great amount of steam, smoke or products of combustion from exhaust pipes or openings.

(i) Where two vehicles are approaching on any public street or highway so that their paths will intersect and there is danger of collision, the vehicle approaching the other from the right shall have the right of way.

(j) In cities and towns, it shall be unlawful for the operator of any motor vehicle to leave any such vehicle standing upon any street in the business district thereof within fifteen (15) feet of the corner or within fifteen (15) feet of any hydrant.

(k) In cities and towns no motor vehicle shall be left standing in front of or within fifteen (15) feet of either side of the entrance of any theatre, auditorium or other building where large assemblages of people are being held, except in taking on or discharging passengers or freight, and then only for such length of time as is necessary for such purpose.

(l) At theatres and public gatherings in cities and towns, or under unusual circumstances, motor vehicles shall stand or move as directed by the police.

(m) It shall be unlawful for the operator of any motor vehicle or person in charge thereof to leave unattended upon any street or highway a motor vehicle with the engine running.

(n) The driver of any vehicle driven or propelled upon the public highways shall, when overtaken by a faster moving vehicle proceeding in the same direction, upon a signal, either by the sounding of a bell, horn or other signalling device, given by the driver of the overtaking vehicle, cause his vehicle to be driven to the right of the center of the traveled way if he can do so with safety and remain to the right of the center of such traveled way until the overtaking vehicle shall have safely passed. Any driver of a vehicle that is overtaken by a faster moving vehicle who fails to heed the signal of the overtaking vehicle when it is given under such circumstances that he could, by the exercise of ordinary care and observation and precaution, hear such signal and who fails to yield that part of the traveled way as herein provided, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed twenty-five dollars ($25.00) or by imprisonment not exceeding ten (10) days and if upon the trial of the case the person charged with the violation of this provision shall claim that he did not hear the signal of the overtaking vehicle, the burden of proof shall rest upon him to show that he did not hear such signal provided that it shall first be proven that the overtaking vehicle gave a signal by the use of a bell, horn or other signalling device.

(o) It shall be unlawful for the operator of any motor vehicle to leave it standing, while showing a red light, parallel to, and within twenty-five (25) feet of the tracks of any railroad in cities and towns.

Sec. 27. Every person operating a motor vehicle on the public highway of this state shall drive the same in a careful and prudent manner, and at a rate of speed that will not endanger the property of another, or the life or limb of any person, and shall in no event drive the same at a greater rate than as follows:

(a) Thirty (30) miles per hour if the weight of vehicle and load is less than three (3) tons and the vehicle is equipped with pneumatic tires, and twenty-five (25) miles per hour if such vehicle is equipped with solid rubber tires.

(b) Twenty-five (25) miles per hour if the weight of the vehicle and load is more than three (3) tons and less than six (6) tons and the vehicle is equipped with pneumatic tires, and twenty (20) miles per hour if such vehicle is equipped with solid rubber tires.

(c) Sixteen (16) miles per hour if the weight of the vehicle and load is more than six (6) tons and the vehicle is equipped with pneumatic tires, and twelve (12) miles per hour if such vehicle is equipped with solid tires.

(d) Ten (10) miles per hour if the vehicle or any trailer is equipped with two (2) or more metal tires.

Provided, that the local authorities of any city or town may establish a suburban district in which the maximum speed of any vehicle shall not exceed twenty (20) miles per hour, and a business district in which the maximum speed of any vehicle shall not exceed fifteen (15) miles per hour, provided that such city or town shall have placed conspicuously on every main highway where the rate of speed changed, signs of sufficient size to be easily readable by a person using the highway, bearing the words: "City of.....," "Town of.....". "Slow down to..... miles" (the rate being inserted), and also an arrow pointing in the direction where the speed is to be reduced or changed, and also on further condition that such ordinance, rule or regulation shall fix the punishment for violation thereof, not to exceed twenty-five dollars, or (5) five days in jail, which punishment shall, during the existence of such ordinance, rule or regulation, supersede those otherwise specified in this act.

The total maximum load on any one wheel of any motor vehicle including the weight of the vehicle and the load it carries, shall be four tons, provided the total maximum weight of the vehicle and load shall not in any event exceed fourteen tons. The total load on any wheel of any vehicle shall be limited to eight hundred pounds per inch width of tire in actual contact with the road surface, measured at the narrowest point of of the tire, on all highways improved with a rigid surface such as concrete, brick or bituminous pavements on a concrete base; and, four hundred pounds per inch width of tire in actual contact with the surface, measured at the narrowest point of the tire, on all highways having earth, gravel or similar surfaces.

The maximum width of any motor vehicle and its load shall be limited to eight feet, excepting loads of loose hay, straw and similar farm products.

No motor vehicle shall operate over any highway, improved with a gravel or paved surface, which has projections of metal or wood beyond the tread of traffic surface of the tire excepting vehicle equipped with caterpillar tread; provided that tractors, traction engines or similar motor vehicles may be operated which have "V" shaped or diagonal cleats arranged in such a manner that two or more cleats are continuously in contact with the road surface and that the weight per inch width of such cleats in continuous contact with the road surface measured in the direction of the movement of the vehicle does not exceed eight hundred pounds per inch width of tire.

Sec. 28. Limitations as to the rate of speed herein fixed shall be exclusive of all other limitations fixed by law of this state or any political sub-division thereof. Local authorities shall have no power to enact, enforce or maintain any ordinance, rule or regulation in any way in conflict with, contrary to or inconsistent with the provisions of this act, or of any section or other subdivision thereof, and no such ordinance, rule or regulation of said local authorities heretofore, or hereafter enacted shall have any force or effect, excepting, however, that (1) such powers as are now or may hereafter be vested in local authorities to enact ordinances and regulations, applicable equally and generally to all vehicles and other users of the highways, and providing for traffic or crossing officers or semaphores, to bring about the orderly passage of vehicles and other users of the public highways on certain portions thereof, where the traffic is heavy and continuous, as well as (2) the powers now or hereafter vested in local authorities to license and to regulate the operation of vehicles offered to the public for hire, and to regulate the use of the highways for processions or assemblages, shall remain in full force and effect, and all ordinances, rules and regulations which may have been or which may be hereafter enacted in pursuance of such powers, shall remain in full force and effect; and provided, further, that local authorities may by general rule, ordinance or regulation, exclude vehicles from any cemetery or ground used for the burial of the dead, or exclude vehicles used solely or principally for commercial purposes, from any park or part of a park system where such general rule, ordinance, or regulation is applicable equally and generally to all other vehicles used for the same purpose; provided, that at the entrance, or at each entrance if there be more than one, to such cemetery or park from which vehicles are so excluded, there shall have been posted a sign plainly legible from the middle of the public highway on which such cemetery or park opens, plainly indicating such exclusion and prohibition; and provided, further, that the local authorities of any city, town, or city and county may impose additional restrictions to those herein contained applicable to vehicles exclusively used in the carrying of merchandise or articles of freight and of a capacity in excess of one ton in weight and may designate certain streets whereon heavy laden vehicles may be excluded or declared to be "one way" streets, may further, restrict, or prohibit, the use of trallers. Provided, further, that where local authorities of other states shall, by adoption of rules and regulations or otherwise, prohibit motor vehicles from operating upon highways in any subdivision of such other state which motor vehicles are duly licensed under the laws of this state, then in such cases the local authorities of this state may, by ordinance or otherwise, require the motor vehicles of the subdivisions of such other state while operating by their own power in this state to be licensed under the laws of this state.

Sec. 29. The violation of any of the provisions herein shall constitute a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not to exceed one hundred dollars, except as otherwise provided in this act.

Sec. 30. Whoever operates a motor vehicle while in an intoxicated condition shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished as provided by section 4906 of the Code. Any person operating a motor vehicle, who, knowing that injury has been caused to a person, due to the culpability of said operator, or to accident, leaves the place of said injury or accident without stopping and giving his name, post-office address, including street number and registration number of said motor vehicle, to the injured party, and give such aid to the injured person as the circumstances may require, shall be guilty of a felony punishable by fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500.00) or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding two (2) years, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and if any person be convicted the second time of either of the foregoing offenses, he shall be guilty of a felony punishable by imprisonment for a term of not less than one (1) year and not more than five (5) years, or by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000.00). A conviction of a violation of this section shall be reported forthwith by the trial court or the clerk thereof, to the department, who shall, upon recommendation of the trial court, suspend the certificate of registration of the motor vehicle operated by the person violating this section, or if he be an owner, the certificate of registration of his motor vehicle; and if no appeal therefrom is taken, or if an appeal duly taken be dismissed or the judgment affirmed, and upon notice thereof by said clerk, the department shall revoke the certificate of registration of said motor vehicle, and shall order the certificate of registration delivered to the department, and shall not re-issue said certificate of registration or any other certificate of registration to such person unless the department, in its discretion, after an investigation, or upon rehearing, decides to re-issue or issue a certificate.

Sec. 31. Any person who operates any motor vehicle while a certificate of registration of a motor vehicle issued to him is suspended or revoked, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Sec. 32. Any person making a false statement in the verified application for registration shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Sec. 33. Upon conviction of any person for the violation of any of the provisions of this act, the trial court or clerk thereof shall immediately certify the facts of the case, including the name and address of the offender, the judgment of the court and the sentence imposed, to the department, who shall enter the same in a book or index kept for that purpose, and in case of any other person in a book or index of offenders, to be kept for such purpose. If any conviction shall be reversed upon appeal therefrom, the person whose conviction has been reversed may serve on the department a certified copy of the order of reversal, whereupon, the department shall enter the same in the proper book or index in connection with the record of such conviction.

Sec. 34. A conviction of the violation of any of the provisions of this act shall not be a bar to a prosecution for an assault or for a homicide committed by any person in operating motor vehicles.

Sec. 35. Ninety-four (94) per cent of all moneys paid into the state treasury pursuant to the provisions of this act, except as otherwise provided by law, and section 39 hereof, shall be apportioned among the several counties in the same ratio that the area of each county bears to the total area of the state, said apportionment to be made by the treasurer of state. Two and one-half ( $2\frac{1}{2}$ ) per cent of all moneys paid into the state treasury on and after the taking effect of this act pursuant to its provisions, shall be set aside and shall constitute a maintenance fund for the state highway commission, and three and one-half ( $3\frac{1}{2}$ ) per cent of all of said money paid to the treasurer of state shall constitute a fund for the payment of salaries as provided by law for the motor vehicle department, the expenses for plates, certificate containers, blanks, etc., and maintenance of the automobile department. The maintenance fund for said state highway commission, shall be drawn out only on warrants drawn by the auditor of state on itemized vouchers approved by the state highway commission, the expenditures of which commission shall be audited by the state board of audit, and a full and complete report of all said expenditures shall be published in the annual report under the act creating the state highway commission.

Biennially, at the close of the calendar year, any unexpended balances remaining in the funds provided for the maintenance of the state highway department and the motor vehicle department which have accrued from the motor license fees paid in for that period, shall be apportioned among the several counties in the same manner as the ninety-four per cent of said funds is apportioned.

Sec. 36. It is hereby made the duty of each and every person, firm, association, corporation, co-partnership operating a public garage in this state to keep for public inspection a record of the license number and engine or factory serial number of all motor vehicles taken in or held in charge by said garage for the purpose of selling, rental, livery, storage or repair. Said record shall contain the name and address of the owner of the motor vehicle, the name and address of the person delivering or taking the motor vehicle to the garage, and the license number and the engine number thereof. The alteration or obliteration of said engine number shall be prima facie evidence of larceny of said motor vehicle, and the proprietor, agents, servants or employes, immediately upon the discovery of such obliteration or alteration, shall notify the sheriff and police officers of the proper county, and shall hold the said motor vehicle for a period of twenty-four (24) hours or until investigation shall have been made by the sheriff or police officers. Provided, however, such record need not be made when a motor vehicle is taken in or held in charge a second time, when the owner or driver is personally known to the proprietor of such garage, his agent or employe.

Any person, firm, association, corporation or co-partnership found guilty, personally or by agent, of violating any of the provisions of this section shall be fined in a sum not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100.00).

Sec. 37. The department shall issue this act in pamphlet form, together with such rules, instruction and explanatory matter as may seem advisable, copies of such pamphlet shall be given as wide distribution as the department shall determine and a supply shall be furnished each county treasurer.

The department shall have full authority to make such rules and issue such instructions as may be necessary to insure and obtain uniformity in the administration and full enforcement of the provisions of this act. All local officials charged with the administration and enforcement of this act shall act and be governed in their official acts herein required by the rules promulgated by the department.

The department is authorized and directed to employ such assistants and clerks as may be required by the department in the administration of this act, provided, the salaries and number of any such assistants and clerks shall be authorized by the executive council.

Sec. 38. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act or contrary thereto are hereby repealed.

Sec. 39. The department may use in addition to the portion of the motor vehicle fund set apart as a maintenance fund, such further part of the motor vehicle fund as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act. The provisions of this section shall go into effect July 4, 1919.

Sec. 40. This act shall take effect December first, nineteen hundred nineteen, except that application for registration may be had and number plates and licenses issued at any time within thirty (30) days prior to said date, to be effective thereafter. Provided further, that those parts of this act relating to the filing of price lists and weights of motor vehicles and capacity of trucks and trailers by the manufacturers of motor vehicles, fixing a valuation upon the different kinds, makes and models of motor vehicles by the executive council as a basis for fixing a license fee, the preparation of blanks, books, indexes, the letting of contracts for number plates, containers, chauffeur's badges, providing for necessary clerks, the transferring of the department to the Secretary of State, and all preparations for putting into effect this act not inconsistent with the existing law shall become effective July 1, 1919.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Senator Kimball offered the following resolution:

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the Thirty-eighth General Assembly, the House concurring:

That whereas, the Federal Government has seen fit to pay large and remunerative salaries to various employees of the railroads which were exempted from service in the late war, while men that left their employment and entered the service of their country, making a sacrifice of their time and offering their lives in the interest of humanity received only soldiers' pay, limited to thirty dollars ($30) per month to privates, and

Whereas, the government has recently increased the pay of some of its employees and Congress has adjourned by operation of law, and no special session of Congress has been called by the President, and no provision was made for payment of soldiers, sailors, and marines leaving the service, except the paltry bonus of sixty dollars ($60.00) to each man, which sum is grossly inadequate to meet the needs of men who have sacrificed much and who are not all fortunate in returning to their positions, and

Be It Resolved, that this General Assembly does hereby memorialize the government of the United States and Congress to provide at its first session for the payment of all soldiers, sailors and marines who have served

six months in the service of the United States just prior to their discharge, full pay for six months from and after their discharge, or such suitable pay and reward as may more fairly compensate such men of the service, and

Laid over under the rules.

HOUSE MESSAGES CONSIDERED.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE FILE 550.

I vote "aye" on concurrence of House File No. 550 on the promise that there shall be introduced at this session a bill which will make provision caring for the permission of auto truck drivers to drive trucks without license in emergency cases for a limited time.

JNO. R. PRICE.

We do not wish to seem inconsistent in our vote on this measure and for that reason we wish to explain that we consider the present amended bill much better than House File No. 550 as originally passed, but the bill is not now satisfactory to us. However, our objection to blocking such important legislation at this late date is stronger than our objection to the bill and we therefore vote aye.

J. L. BROOKHART,

M. B. PITT,

J. W. FOSTER.

I vote aye upon this bill not because I believe it a wise piece of legislation nor one that will be approved by the people of the state nor that does justice to the people of the state, but because my only choice is to vote for this bill or leave the state without legislation upon this subject.

GEO. W. BALL.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED.

Senator Kimball called up the following concurrent resolution offered by him and moved its adoption:

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the Thirty-eighth General Assembly, the House concurring:

That whereas, the Federal Government has seen fit to pay large and remunerative salaries to various employees of the railroads who were exempted from service in the late war, while men that left their employment and entered the service of their country, making a sacrifice of their time and offering their lives in the interest of humanity received only soldiers' pay, limited to thirty dollars ($30) per month to privates, and

Whereas, the government has recently increased the pay of some of its employees and Congress has adjourned by operation of law, and no special session of Congress has been called by the President, and no provision was made for payment of soldiers, sailors, and marines leaving the service, except the paltry bonus of sixty dollars ($60.00) to each man, which sum is grossly inadequate to meet the needs of men who have sacrificed much and who are not all fortunate in returning to their positions, and

Be It Resolved, that this General Assembly does hereby memorialize the government of the United States and Congress to provide at its first session for the payment of all soldiers, sailors and marines who have served six months in the service of the United States just prior to their discharge, full pay for six months from and after their discharge, or such suitable pay and reward as may more fairly compensate such men of the service, and

CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON SENATE FILE NO. 203.

The president appointed as conference committee on Senate File No. 203, on the part of the Senate, Senators Meredith, White, Buser and Ratcliff.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

I desire to explain my vote on the conference committee report of the Motor Vehicle Tax bill.

The conference committee bill for the registration and taxation of motor vehicles is distinctly a worse measure than the combined Judiciary bill of the Senate and should be referred back for change and correction. The following matters are wrong in the bill and should be corrected:

In section 5 the old and impractical system of entering applications each year in a book or index is provided, requiring an immense amount of clerical help when it should be done by carbon copy duplicates of the license receipt or card.

In section 7 the number plates are required to be delivered in numerical sequence to the county treasurer of each county. There can be no consecutive numbering for the state for the various counties and no daily determination of what licenses remain unpaid. This will necessitate two or three hundred additional clerks over the state making it necessary to continually run through long lists of numbers to determine what licensed cars have not re-licensed and requiring several months work before it can be ascertained what numbers are delinquent in re-registration.

In section 8, the state goes back to the old obsolete, and absolutely unnecessary yearly number plate system. A colored card, all of the expense of which is retained, will do all that yearly number plates can do and save the state many thousands of dollars. $75000 each year in cost of plates alone.

The bill wholly fails to define a motor truck and then charges trucks a great deal more than omnibuses, heavy pleasure cars and automobiles which wear the road fully as much; weight and value are the correct elements of taxation and should be equally applied to all cars.

The conference bill makes an unfair distinction between farmers' vehicles and city vehicles, the city vehicles paying only two-thirds of the same used in the country.

Some of the reform principles reported by the retrenchment and reform committee in its report are now embodied in the bill but all of the business system of collection and record of the tax as recommended, is ignored and the law will cost the people of the state $300,000,00 unnecessary expense. A refusal to concur in this report will not defeat legislation but will result in getting a superior law, and allowing amendments that by all means should be adopted.

CLEM F. KIMBALL.

SENATE FILE NO. 136 RECONSIDERED.

Senator Ratcliff moved to reconsider the vote by which Senate File No. 136 passed the Senate and the vote by which it passed to its third reading.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE REPORT.

Senator Pitt presented the following report:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee, to whom was referred the investigation of the charges made by James M. Pierce, beg leave to report that they have had the same under consideration and have taken certain evidence in regard to same, but for want of time have not been able to make a complete investigation of the charges, and now make this their first and final report of their acts and findings in regard to the charges.

The first charge was as follows: "I charge that Woodworth Clum, as secretary of the Iowa Commission to the Panama Pacific Exposition, paid a personal and private bill which had nothing to do with the exposition or the state of Iowa out of funds appropriated for the state's expenditures at the San Francisco Fair."

We were unable on account of lack of time to take all the evidence in regard to this item and report in relation thereto that the evidence taken was, that Woodworth Clum made an agreement with the Iowa News Bureau to furnish legislative news relating to the Thirty-sixth General Assembly to the Clinton Advertiser, by daily reports, at the agreed price of One Dollar ($1.00) per day, and that nothing in the agreement indicated to or advised the Iowa News Bureau that the services to be rendered were for the Panama Pacific Exposition. That the agreement was made prior to the passage of the act appropriating the funds for the exposition and continued until the close of the session, and that the same was paid for from the state funds appropriated for the exposition to the amount of Fifty-six ($56.00) Dollars. Further evidence on this point tends to show that certain members of the Commission had authorized Woodworth Clum to make such arrangements with R. E. Bales, a member of the Iowa News Bureau, as would secure his co-operation and good will in sending out letters of the news of the Legislature as would be favorable to the passage of the appropriation bill for the Panama Pacific Exposition.

Charge No. 2 was as follows: "I charge that Woodworth Clum paid One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) of the state's money for a second hand typewriter which was owned by the Clinton Advertiser in which he was interested."

Your committee finds from the evidence and the records, that the Remington typewriter, Model 10 No. 375842 as shown by report of expense of the Executive Council for 1916 in the expenses of the Iowa Panama Pacific Exposition Commission on page 454, line 31, was purchased of B. G. Oats for One Hundred Dollars ($100.00), and that B. G. Oats was a partner of Woodworth Clum in the Clinton Advertiser. Your committee further finds from the evidence that this typewriter was originally purchased by the W. J. Moore Company of Sterling, Illinois, on January 28, 1914; and your committee further finds that this typewriter has not been returned to the State of Iowa, and on June 11, 1918, it was in the possession of the Greater Iowa Association at Davenport, Iowa.

Charge No. 3 was as follows: "I charge that Woodworth Clum paid to himself out of state funds Fifteen Hundred Sixty-two and 54-100 Dollars ($1562.54) as salary for seven and one-half months prior to the time that the bill was passed making the appropriation.

Your committee finds from the evidence the facts to be, that Woodworth Clum was paid Fifteen Hundred Sixty-two and 54-100 Dollars ($1562.54) as salary for seven and one-half months prior to the time the bill was passed making the appropriation from the guaranty fund, and that after the appropriation was passed by the Legislature the guaranty fund was reimbursed from the money appropriated. Your committee further finds that the act, being Senate File No. 42 of the Thirty-sixth General Assembly, did not authorize the payment of bills made prior to the passage of the act, and the payment of such bills was in violation of Section 31, Article 3 of the Constitution of Iowa.

Charge No. 4 was as follows: "I charge that Woodworth Clum paid to himself out of the state appropriation for the Panama-Pacific Exposition, salary and expenses for the time that he was lobbying in the Thirty-sixth General Assembly for the passage of the appropriation bill, which was to provide him a position."

Your committee finds from the evidence that Woodworth Clum was lobbying for the appropriation bill referred to during parts of the month of January and February, 1915, and that his salary and at least a portion of his expenses during said time were paid or reimbursed to the guaranty fund of the Commission from the appropriation after the same had passed.

Charge No. 5 was as follows: "I charge that the Iowa Commission to the Panama Pacific Exposition has failed to comply with the law requiring it to make a full detailed and itemized accounting of the state funds which it handled."

Your committee reports they have not had the time to make full investigation of this charge, but that the evidence adduced tended to show that no detailed and itemized accounting had been made of the funds to the satisfaction of the executive council, and recommend that said charge be fully investigated by the committee on retrenchment and reform now authorized to make an investigation of this matter with other matters to be investigated by them.

Charge No. 6 was as follows: "I charge that the Iowa Commission to the Iowa Panama Pacific Exposition has failed to report to the executive council a penny received from concessions or sources of income at the San Francisco Exposition, and that it has failed to account for or return the property purchased with the state's money."

Your committee finds from the evidence adduced at the hearing, that no money was received by the Commission from concessions or other income at the San Francisco Exposition; and further finds from the evidence that only part of the property purchased with the state's money has ever been returned to the state. We also find that some furniture was sold for which Three Hundred Seventy-nine and 35-100 ($379.35) Dollars was received, and that this amount was accounted for to the state. Your committee further reports that because of the irregularities noted herein and the unsatisfactory condition of the reports made, that they recommend that the whole matter be referred to the committee on retrenchment and reform for full investigation.

Your committee has caused the evidence taken to be reduced to writing and a transcript of the same is filed herewith.

M. B. PITT,
J. D. BUSER,
J. L. BROOKHART,
C. W. REED,
H. C. ADAMS,

Committee.

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to investigate the charges made against Woodworth Clum and the Panama Pacific Exposition Commission, further report that in said investigation they incurred the following expense:

J. L. Brookhart, telephone.....	$ 2.20
Frank C. Walrath, per diem.....	20.00

The motion prevailed.

On February 25, 1919, your committee adopted a resolution requesting the adjutant-general to furnish to this committee a statement showing the expenditures made from the one million dollar ($1,000,000.00) emergency war work fund, and the purposes for which it was expended, and the unexpended balance thereof.

Expenditures for secret service work for the state amounting to $50,261.53 with itemized account thereof is herein set forth. Expenditures for war purposes amounting to $310,473.49 and duly itemized is also herein set forth.

With the above we herewith present a letter from Louis G. Lasher, Adjutant-General, commenting upon the same.

Your committee has not had the time or opportunity during the session to make any findings in respect to these expenditures, and they are presenting them for the use of the legislature in the future.

Very respectfully submitted,

CLEM F. KIMBALL, Chairman.
March 17, 1919.

From: The Adjutant General of Iowa.

To: Hon. Clement F. Kimball, Chairman Retrenchment and Reform Committee, State House.

Subject: Resolution Reference to Million Dollar War Fund.

1. Pursuant to request as contained in resolution passed by the retrenchment and reform committee dated February 25, 1919, I submit attached hereto an itemized statement of all funds expended through my department from the million dollar war fund appropriated by the 37th general assembly. This report is in two sections, one of which covers general expenditures and the other, secret service expenditures.

2. In this connection, I desire to call your attention to the following memorandum: The state of Iowa was reimbursed from the United States treasury the sum of $456,417.89 for expenditures made by the state during the Civil War. The 27th general assembly appropriated $500,000.00 for war purposes, and of this appropriation there was expended through this office $149,518.36, and I am informed that claims from the state have been allowed and paid by the United States treasurer through the office of the governor and turned over to the treasurer of the state as follows: March 15, 1899, $91,483.78; August 27, 1901, $1,376.39; April 14, 1902, $24,957.12; December 18, 1902, $1,095.04; February 2, 1903, $7,438.18; March 11, 1904, $20,545.70; making a total of $146,896.21. I merely call your attention to this memorandum for the purpose of indicating that when the proper time arrives, similar claims will be made covering expenditures from the fund provided during this war, and inasmuch as a precedent has been established, a portion, if not all, should be returned to the state by the federal government.

Louis G. Lasher,

HOUSE RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN.

Senator Rule called up the following resolution and moved that the Senate concur:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Whereas, many public improvements for which there is an imperative need, have been postponed on account of the existence of a state of war between the United States of America and the Imperial German Government, and,

Whereas, the necessity for the resumption of the construction of public works is fully recognized and is being urged upon all people in authority representing the various political units and subdivisions of the United States; and

Whereas, one of the greatest problems confronting the state and nation at the present time is the furnishing of immediate employment to a large amount of idle labor released from other activities by the victorious termination of the war; and

Whereas, the increase in freight rates on the heavy materials entering largely into the construction of public works, which went into effect June 25, 1918, was approximately one hundred per cent greater than the increase on other commodities; and

Whereas, in the judgment of the General Assembly of the state of Iowa freight rates on materials designed for use in the construction of public works are excessive and tend unmistakably to discourage the resumption of the construction of such enterprise, thus defeating the effort to give employment to idle labor; therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the State of Iowa, the Senate concurring therein,

That the president of the United States, the Congress of the United States, and the United States Railroad Commission, be and they are hereby memorialized and respectfully but most urgently requested to take such action as will bring about a reduction in the freight tariffs governing the shipment of materials entering largely into the construction of public works, said reduction to be not less than the advance which went into effect June 25, 1918, and to be effective at an early date; and

That upon the passage of this resolution, certified copies thereof be forthwith forwarded by the secretary of state of Iowa to the president of the United States, the presiding officers of both houses of Congress and members from Iowa of both branches of the Congress of the United States, and the director general of railroads.

The motion prevailed and the Senate concurred.

So the bill, having received a constitutional majority, was declared to have passed the Senate and its title was agreed to.

Senator Whitmore moved that the vote by which House File No. 417 passed the Senate be reconsidered and that the motion to reconsider be laid on the table.

The motion prevailed.

On motion of Senator Ratcliff, Senate took a recess for ten minutes.

Senator Parker took the chair.

Senators Stoddard and Greenell were appointed to escort Lieutenant Governor Moore to the chair.

In presenting to the lieutenant governor a beautiful silver salver, Senator Wilson spoke as follows:

In all my career in the Senate, nothing has given me more pleasure than I experience at this moment in presenting to our presiding officer, this token of our friendship and regard. I believe no presiding officer has ever been more fair and impartial in his rulings, and we extend to him our appreciation and best wishes.

His association with us has been of such a character as to commend it to our good judgment. We certainly feel that we ought to express our appreciation of the character of such services. We look forward with pleasure to the time when as chief executive of the state we shall reflect with pride on his services as presiding officer of this body.

President Moore said in response:

My friends, I would rather call you that than by the more formal term of senator, I am much like the man who took both sedlitz powders at once, full to overflowing but without the power of expression.

I cannot even attempt to properly thank you for this evidence of your kindness. Much more than the gift, beautiful as it is, I appreciate the spirit that prompted it.

It is with mixed feelings that I see the last hour of this session drawing to a close. I have been during two sessions, particularly during this session, so closely associated with you men, have understood your difficulties have been able to enter into the spirit of your work so that I appreciate, if no one else does, the honesty of your efforts and the value of what you have accomplished.

Some of you, like myself, are approaching the close of your legislative service. Many of you with the close of this session will retire from public life. This is probably my last day as presiding officer here. Like you, I am going back to my regular work. I will be glad to do it, but I will take with me satisfaction in the conviction that I have done the best I could. We all make mistakes and I have made my share. You, no doubt, have made yours. What I would like to ask of the people of Iowa, is what I know I could ask of you and receive, that they consider our problems, our accomplishments and our mistakes and temper their criticism with commendation. I know that you will grant to me in my mistakes the charity that you expect for any that you have made.

Now let me say this to you. Either officially or otherwise, I have been associated or acquainted with legislatures for sixteen years. I have known more or less intimately most of those who have served in this chamber during that time. I have never seen a Senate where there was manifested a more conscientious effort to further the best interests of the state or one that has accomplished more. It is unfortunate that men who serve the public are more often criticized than commended. There is always the small-souled, narrow-minded man filled with venom who fills the air with captious criticism and who is blind to anything good. This discourages many good men with public service, but it should not. The great body of our people are right minded and will be just.

Let me say to you all and particularly to the younger senators who will be here again, to not fear criticism. Dodge no question, be frank and honest and vote your convictions and you will have the commendation of your own conscience and that, in the end, is of the most importance.

Now, my friends, I want to again thank you for this gift and for your many, many kindnesses to me. After we leave here many of us may not meet again. I hope you will carry away as pleasant recollections of this session as I do. I respect you all; I admire many of you and I love you all. I trust that I carry home with me not only your friendship but your charitable commendation.

That owing to the lack of time, they were unable to complete the investigation which they began. That they have submitted all the evidence which they have received and taken in connection with the investigation of campaign funds, that part of the testimony as transcribed has heretofore been filed and that they file herewith the testimony taken on April 14th, also correspondence received thereafter, together with the affidavit of G. Watson French and certain checks referred to by him in his affidavit.

We have heretofore made reports in particular instances, all of which are on file, together with the evidence in connection therewith.

Your committee has endeavored to make as careful a study of the different departments of the state government as would be possible in the limited time and find that many of the departments, in the best of our judgment, are in first class condition. However, realizing that necessarily this study has been hurried and in many particulars is incomplete, it is recommended that the work undertaken by your committee on departmental affairs be continued by the committee on retrenchment and reform.

JAMES LORING CARNEY.

Senator Arney, from a special committee submitted the following report and moved its adoption :

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions commemorative of the life, character and services of James Loring Carney, beg leave to submit the following report:

James Loring Carney, a member of the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh General Assemblies, 1896-1898, also the special session of the Twenty-sixth in 1897, died in Marshalltown, Iowa, September 19, 1917, age seventy, the funeral services taking place on Thursday following in Marshalltown, his home city since 1873.

Mr. Carney was a native of Massachusetts. He was born in the town of Lawrence, on July 29, 1847, and was a son of Bartholomew and Jane Graham Carney. When their son James was a small boy, Mr. and Mrs. Carney moved to Ohio, and in 1855 came to Poweshiek County, this state, settling on a farm that the elder Carney had entered from the government. In 1861 the elder Carney died, and his widow and her children moved to Grinnell.

Here James L. Carney entered Iowa College, from which he was graduated with the class of 1871. Mr. Carney then went to the State University of Iowa to study law, and was graduated from the law school of that institution in 1873.

Shortly after graduation from the law school, Mr. Carney went to Marshalltown, and entered the employ as a clerk in one of the pioneer law firms of the town, Brown, Boardman & Sears, comprising the well-known attorneys of that day, Timothy Brown, H. E. J. Boardman, and R. E. Sears. After a few years of clerkship, Mr. Carney entered the firm of Henderson and Merriman, composed of Judge H. C. Henderson and H. L. Mr. Merriman retired to become editor of the Marshall County Republican, Mr. Merriman retired to become editor of the Mashall County Republican, which he and Judge Henderson bought in January, 1879. The law firm then became Henderson & Carney, and continued as such until Mr. Carney retired and formed a partnership with Timothy Brown, known as Brown and Carney. This firm was in existence until 1898, when Mr. Carney and J. M. Holt formed a co-partnership known as Carney & Holt. After two years, this was dissolved and Mr. Carney practiced alone until 1911, when he took his son, Leonard T. Carney, into the partnership of Carney & Carney.

Mr. Carney's entrance into politics began in 1882, when he became a candidate for city solicitor. He was elected to succeed B. L. Burritt, and served four years, being succeeded by C. H. Forney.

With this office as a stepping stone, Mr. Carney aspired to be county attorney, and was elected to this office in 1890, serving, beginning January 1, 1891, for four years.

Two years after he retired from the county attorney's office, Mr. Carney was elected as the republican candidate for senator from Marshall County, and served in both the twenty-sixth and twenty-seventh general assemblies, 1896-1898, also in the special session of the twenty-sixth in 1897. He followed George A. Turner as senator from that district, and was succeeded by John B. Classen.

In the Iowa Senate, Mr. Carney took an active and important part. He was a member of the code revision committee, which took charge of the revision of the Iowa Code of 1897. He was a leader in the movement to place the state institutions in the hands of a board of control instead of boards of trustees of each separate institution and was one of a special committee which prepared the first draft of what became the board of control bill and law.

Mr. Carney also was author of the state-wide primary bill, which he introduced as chairman of the elections committee of the Senate. In those days, however, the bill did not meet with much favor, but in later years it became a law and one of the epoch-making reforms of the state.

Mr. Carney served for several years as a member of the school board of his town, and was president of that body. He was formerly vice president of the City National Bank, and was elected as the first president of the Historical Society of Marshall County, an office he held at the time of his death.

In 1892 Mr. Carney was elected as a delegate to the national republican convention at Minneapolis, from the Fifth Iowa District. He proved to be the only delegate from the state to cast a vote for William McKinley, Jr., of Ohio, a candidate for the republican nomination for the presidency in opposition to President Benjamin Harrison. Four years later Mr. Carney was deeply gratified to see his favorite candidate become the nominee of his party and elected as the nation's chief executive.

In 1909 Mr. Carney was chosen as vice president of the Iowa State Bar Association. The president of the association, Charles M. Harl, of Council Luffs, died in office, and Mr. Carney became president. In 1910 he was elected president of the association.

Mr. Carney was a member of the different Masonic organizations, including the blue lodge, chapter, and commandery. He also was a member of the Odd Fellows' lodge.

Whereas, The Honorable James Loring Carney, a member of this body in the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh General Assemblies, has been called from this life, therefore,

Be It Resolved, That the Senate has heard with deep sorrow and regret of his death and that it recognizes the high character of his service to his state and in his death the state has lost a worthy and noble citizen, and,

Be It Resolved, Further, that these resolutions be spread upon the journal, that an engrossed copy of the same be sent to his widow, Mrs. Minnie Carney, at Marshalltown, Iowa, and to his son, Leonard T. Carney, at 1333 22d St., Des Moines, and to his daughters, Mrs. Lora Woodbury, at 1333 22d St., Des Moines, Ia., and Misses Gladys and Gerna Carney, at Marshalltown, Ia.

W. H. ARNEY,
A. V. PROUDFOOT,
O. A. BYINGTON.

The resolution was adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

In moving the adoption of the resolutions, Senator Arney spoke in part as follows:

We have met tonight to pay a tribute of respect and honor to those who have passed beyond. Death is not a pleasant subject to contemplate. When we speak of death it is with a shudder and yet there comes a time in the life of each of us when we follow our friends with Ingersoll,

Into the valley of the shadows,
Down into portals
Where hangs a curtain so thin
That we can almost hear the flutter of a wing,
Or the rustling of a garment, or a whispered sigh,
And yet no word ever comes back to tell us
Of that wonderful land beyond the grave.

It was my pleasure to know Senator Carney for a number of years in a social and business way. We talked upon all manner of subjects, even death and the Hereafter. I do not know that he had any very well defined views as to the Hereafter; if he had they might be summed up in the verse:

Our ingress to life is barren and bare,
Our egress from life, we know not where,
But by doing well here,
We do well there.

And certainly Senator Carney did "do well" here. He accumulated a competency of some proportions. He was a good business man; he advice was sought by many of those who knew him. In a social way he had a standing second to none, and as a family man, there were none better,—few as well.

It is my wish at this time to pay this tribute of respect to him, as I hope someone in the future may say a few kindly words for me.

GEORGE CARSON.

Senator Kimball, from a special committee, submitted the following report and moved its adoption :

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee which was appointed to report resolutions commemorating the life, character and services of the Honorable George Carson of Pottawattamie County, beg leave to report the following and hereby move the adoption of the report:

Judge George Carson died on Tuesday morning, on the 18th day of February, 1919, being seventy-eight years old, having been born February 5th, 1841, in Jennings County, Indiana. He was reared on a farm, attended the public schools, an academy and after the war attended Hartsville University for a time. In 1866 he began reading law under Colonel J. S. Scoby of Greensburg, Indiana. He later attended the law department of the University of Michigan, where he was graduated in 1868.

The judge had a noteworthy civil war record, enlisting as a private in 1861 and being discharged in 1865 as a first lieutenant. He saw action in the campaign along the Potomac, in the Cumberland, through Tennessee, was at Missionary Ridge, at Chattanooga and helped raise the siege of General Burnside.

Judge Carson was married October 5, 1871, to Miss Rachel L. Boyce, of Ypsilanti, Michigan. They had seven children, Hannah L., Rachel B., George D., Grace S., Jannette R., Hiram K., and Mary P. He was a member of Excelsior lodge, A. F. and A. M., G. A. R. and Union Veteran Legion.

He was a man of splendid physique, commanding appearance and up to the date of his death, which came very suddenly, was vigorous and active. When he left the army in 1865 he began his career as a lawyer and took up his career as a public man at Council Bluffs in Pottawattamie County. He soon gained the reputation of being one of the sturdiest, most honest and clean men of his profession. He was universally respected and became very popular. He was elected judge of the district court and served his district faithfully and well. While he was somewhat slow and deliberate in his judgment he held the esteem of all who practiced before him.

After serving as judge of the district court he was elected and served as a member of the House of Representatives for the 17th and 18th General Assemblies. He was afterwards elected and served as a member of the Senate in the 20th and 21st General Assemblies. His service for the state was marked by a splendid judgment and a determination to do everything that was for the best interests of the people. He was a Republican in politics, having great confidence in his party. He always took an active part in public affairs and was much loved by the younger men of his party for his kindly but sound advice and interest in their welfare. In 1896 he again entered politics, serving his city as mayor. In this capacity he was very successful and the city went forward under his administration. His city had become deeply indebted and involved and it was necessary to bring order out of chaos in the financial affairs of the city. To accomplish this he induced other officers of the city with himself to voluntarily reduce their salaries, saving the city a large sum of money at a time when they were seeking to reform the city finances. Although a man who had accumulated only a small means, he gladly gave up a portion of his salary in the interest of public affairs, and as an inducement to reform the financial affairs of the city. This was characteristic of his unselfish service and of his manhood.

After his political career he maintained his law office and steadily practiced law in a quiet way until his death. In his private life he was clean and upright, and his whole character was impregnated with the highest principles of honesty. He frequently wrote articles for the papers relating to important matters of state and local questions. Two days before his death he wrote a letter to the Senator from his district, which is set forth on page 635 of the Journal of the Senate. In this letter he showed his great interest in the elimination of the white plague in Iowa and requested a copy of the State Board of Health Biennial Report. This was never sent him because the news of his death was received the day after the receipt of the letter.

Your committee recommends that as a fitting recognition of his life the following resolution be adopted:

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the Thirty-eighth General Assembly:

That in the death of Judge George Carson the State of Iowa has lost a valuable citizen and a faithful public servant; that he was an able judicial officer, a splendid statesman and a man whose services may well be emulated by coming generation; that above all he was a man whose public services won the applause of his fellow men, and whose relations in his home and to his family stand as an ideal for future citizens to follow.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the journal of the Senate and an engrossed copy of the same be sent to the members of his family.

CLEM F. KIMBALL,
J. M. WILSON,
A. V. PROUDFOOT.

In moving the adoption of the resolutions, Senate Kimball spoke in part as follows:

I have often thought as we look about us and see men who have lived and are older than we are, that the lives of each of us are largely made up from the character and qualities of the lives of other men who have been near us. This is the first time, I think, during my career in the Legislature that I have ever had occasion to speak on a memorial and the first time that anyone from my own district has been memorialized at a session of the Senate. On this occasion especially I am reminded of the splendid man that I have the privilege at this time to present this resolution in regard to.

He had all those native qualities and as I used to look at him during his career in the law practice, I have seen what seemed to me, many of the characteristics of Lincoln himself, I have heard him describe that bloody battle of Chickamauga where four out of every five men in his company were shot down. His interest in the affairs of his county and in the affairs of his state were greatly enhanced because of the part he took in the great service of the Civil War and he carried with him, I think through life some of the ideals he sought, and as we younger men saw him, we gathered from him some of his ideals. Judge Carson was one of those men who never reap fame. He was too diffident in his way to ever become famous, but he was one of those splendid men who acted wisely and well, and over and above all, as I remember Judge Carson I like to think how many, many men there are in the world who have the same qualities or equal qualities who really never attain prominence and often never make a success in their chosen profession. The very qualities which made him famous, prevented him from every becoming wealthy,—the very qualities that really made him capable and showed that he was a splendid thinker and with all, quite a wonderful man in a small way, with his natural adverseness to notoriety kept him from ever being a noted character, in this state, though he had all the qualities.

The best thing that can be said of him is that he was one of those dependable American citizens, always taking an active part in the affairs of his locality and city, and in his state, and who was satisfied that the greatest thing in life was fealty to his family and to his friends and to his country, and with that he lived through life and that was his only claim to greatness.

GILBERT S. GILBERTSON.

Senator Kingland, from a special committee, submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to prepare a resolution commemorating the life, character and public services of Gilbert S. Gilbertson, beg leave to submit the following report.

Gilbert S. Gilbertson was of Norwegian parentage and was born in Spring Grove, Minnesota, October 17th, 1863 and died in Des Moines, Iowa, November 25th, 1917. His early advantages were by no means extra-business college in Janesville, Wisconsin.

At the age of sixteen years he came to Worth County, Iowa, where he worked on his father's farm until he secured a position as bookkeeper and son was united in marriage to Belle D. Whitney who survives him, and to this union was born two daughters, Mrs. Earl H. Scripps and Mrs. E. Chase West, the latter of whom died recently.

It may be said of Gilbert S. Gilbertson that he was a self made man and the positions to which he arose during his life was due to the fine personality and native ability he possessed. He first entered public service in 1889 when he was elected to the position of clerk of the District Court of Winnebago County, Iowa, which position he held for four consecutive terms. In 1896 he was elected State Senator on the Republican ticket from the forty-first district consisting of Mitchell, Winnebago and Worth counties. He was a prominent member of the state Senate and his conspicuous service and ability led to his nomination and election in 1910 to the office of State Treasurer of Iowa which position he held for six years. He was a business man of more than ordinary ability and was a man of enterprise and public spirit. Besides his public activities he was always active in business and particularly banking and real estate and his connection with the business was considered an asset and sought by leading business men of the state. His activities in insurance and fraternal circles made for him a large number of acquaintances and warm friends.

He was one of the most genial and companionable of men and was staunch and loyal to his friends even when to his own personal disadvantage; and loyalty is one of the better attributes of man. During the latter years of his life he was stricken with a fatal disease and suffered from this for years before his death to such an extent that he had to abandon active interest in many of the important business enterprises in which he was theretofore engaged. All who knew him personally and intimately sympathized with his ill fortune in the loss of his health and it was indeed sad that he was so stricken in the best years of his life for usefulness and influence in business and political affairs.

Gilbert S. Gilbertson was a republican in politics but he had the respect and confidence of the opposition party as well. It is significant that in the election of 1900 for State Treasurer his majority was over one hundred thousand. It may be said of him that he had a host of friends and few enemies. He died at a time of life when he had accomplished much and was ripe in experience and influence, but at a time when because of these facts, he would, if his health and life had been spared, been of still greater influence to his community and state, yet it must be said of him that during his life, although comparatively brief, he had achieved much. His early struggles for advancement in life and his successful career had endowed him with the attributes of diligence and industry because all he had and all he had accomplished he owed to his own efforts and native ability. He succeeded where many with a great many more advantages have failed. His memory will be cherished most by those who knew him best and he is mourned by a host of friends to whom he was always loyal and kind. In his death, the community in which he lived lost a most estimable friend and neighbor, and his state one of its best and most prominent citizens.

Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the Senate has heard with deep sorrow and regret of his death and that it recognize the high character of his service to this state, and in his death the state has lost a worthy, distinguished and noble citizen, and

Be It Resolved, That this Senate extend to his family its sincere sympathy of their great bereavement, and,

Be It Further Resolved, That those resolutions be entered upon the Senate journal and a copy sent to the bereaved family of the deceased.

F. A. KINGLAND,
BYRON W. NEWBERRY,
H. C. WHITE,
Committee.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

In adopting the resolutions, Senator Kingland spoke as follows:

I am not prepared to make a speech, yet I do want to say a few words and pay a humble tribute to a deceased friend. I had the good fortune to know Senator Gilbertson since he was comparatively a young man. His activities as a public man preceded the time that I had anything to do with public affairs, but I knew him as a neighbor and as a friend and I can conscientiously say that those who knew him thought well of him.

Mr. Gilbertson did not aspire to the gifts of oratory, but in spite of that, I believe it can be truthfully said that he perhaps had as many admiring friends and acquaintances as any public man in this state. As the resolution set forth, he was kind and loyal to his friends. I think at times, perhaps to his own personal loss, but it occurs to me that the man who is loyal to his friends, especially in adversity (and that is when friends are most needed) has in that fact one of the greatest attributes,—an attribute which inspires the admiration of mankind generally. This, I think, can be said in the fullest measure of Gilbert S. Gilbertson.

There are men here who were more in the class of contemporaries and without saying more, I would like to call on these,—the Senator from Clayton who is also a member of this committee.

LIEUT. GOV. JOHN HERRIOTT.

Senator Foster from a special committee submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

Lieutenant Governor John Herriott, President of the Senate during the 29th, 30th and 31st General Assemblies, died in Des Moines, Tuesday, September 24th, 1918, aged 73, the funeral services taking place on Friday following in Stuart, his home city since 1873.

Governor Herriott was born in the town of Herriottville, Alleghany County, Pennsylvania, not far from the present city of Carnegie, on October 20th, 1844. He was descended from sturdy Scotch-Irish stock that had lived in Maryland and Pennsylvania since per-revolutionary days. His parents were farmers. The death of his father when he was eight years of age, and of his mother when he was but fifteen deprived Mr. Herriott of the ordinary schooling usually enjoyed by boys. At the age of fifteen he entered a blacksmith shop in Pittsburg in which occupation he remained until the outbreak of the Civil War.

When President Lincoln's second call for troops was made Mr. Herriott, although nearly two years under age, enlisted for three years in the First Pennsylvania Cavalry. He served under Generals Bayard, Custer, Kirkpatrick, Pleasanton and Sheridan in Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania for the most part in connection with the Army of the Potomac. He was in some seventy-three engagements, participating in the battles of Fredericksburg and Gettysburg. He left the service broken in health—which he never afterward recovered.

In 1866 Mr. Herriott came to Iowa, buying a farm in Scott County and living thereon until 1873 when he removed to Stuart, where he entered into the retail drug and book business, in which he continued until the day of his death, forty-five years afterwards.

Very early in his life Mr. Herriott began to take a lively interest in political affairs. The anti-slavery debates—especially the capture by a Virginia sheriff of a runaway slave in his mother's dooryard—and the Civil war impelled him to take a direct interest in public affairs. In the organization of the town of Stuart he took an active part in favor of the suppression of lawlessness that was long remembered by the pioneers of that city, demanding the establishment of law and order at the serious risk of loss of life. He displayed the same fearless characteristics then that he did throughout all of his public life.

In 1875 he was elected by the Republicans to the office of treasurer of Guthrie County. Some reforms he enforced in the administration of his office soon brought him into serious collision with political leaders and a controversy ensued that made his administration long remembered in Guthrie County. His collection of the delinquent taxes in 1877 under dramatic circumstances was an undertaking that required Spartan courage and persistence.

In politics Mr. Herriott was always a staunch Republican and whether national or local matters were in issue he always took an active part in the furtherance of the public and party interests. He was an ardent partisan but public interests and the public welfare had the right of way with him always as against partisan or personal considerations.

Upon such moot questions as the "Temperance" or Prohibition question he was always an advocate of definite and severe regulation of the questionable traffic, often pursuing unpopular courses in the promotion of law and order in such matters. While not an original advocate of drastic prohibition he was always an advocate of the enforcement of the law on the books. He was a member of the committee on resolutions in the Republican state convention in 1894 that agreed to and re ported the celebrated "Thirteenth Plank," favoring the modification of the then ineffective prohibition statute.

The republican state convention in 1895 nominated Mr. Herriott to the office of Treasurer of State, to which he was afterwards renominated in 1897 and again in 1899. He was in charge of that office when the Legislature effected several radical changes in the public policy of the state that resulted in an enormous increase of the duties of the Treasurer of State, notably the collection of the Collateral Inheritance tax and the reception, custody and disbursement of all moneys for and on account of the institution under the Board of Control. Not only in the practical administration of the Treasurer's office, but in connection with his duties as a member of the Executive Council Mr. Herriott introduced many practical reforms in the way of better systems of accounting and reporting of the transactions of the business of the state.

Mr. Herriott's career as Treasurer of State was made notable by reason of his advocacy of a more equitable assessment of the railway and express companies of the state. Soon after entering upon his work as member of the executive council Mr. Herriott discerned that the smaller railways of the state sustained heavier tax burdens than did the larger systems and that among the larger systems there were marked inequalities. He pointed these facts out in a series of statements filed with the Secretary of the Council and public discussion soon began to revolve about the contention he advanced.

So great was public interest in the controversy waged by Mr. Herriott that it is not too much to say that the state campaigns of 1900 and 1901 turned largely upon the railroad tax question. One result was Mr. Herriott was one of the prominent candidates for the Republican nomination for Governor in 1901 and was nominated for the office of Lieutenant Governor by the Republican state convention at Cedar Rapids. Herriott was elected Governor by the Republican state convention at Cedar Rapids.

As president of the Senate Lieutenant Governor Herriott displayed the same qualities that had characterized his previous career in public office. In this opening statement to the Senate announcing the composition of the committees he applied business principles to his assignments and urged the adoption of certain reforms in fulfillment of the party pledges. Owing to the adoption of the constitutional amendment providing for biennial elections Governor Herriott had his term of office extended and he presided over the deliberations of the Senate in the 1st General Assembly.

During his presidency of the Senator Governor Herriott executed his duties with a conscientiousness and impartiality that immediately secured for him the good will of partisan opponents and the respect of fellow partisans. He always was a strong party man, believing thoroughly in aggressive party politics; but he never permitted his zeal in partisan plans to lead him to transgress the rule of equity in according fair and full consideration to members of the opposite party or faction with which he might chance for the time to be allied, or might personally favor. In consequence he never experienced any hostile manoeuvres against his decisions of a personal character.

As a public officer he was practical and straight forward in all his methods, believing firmly in a symmetrical social framework based upon justice to all and administered in the open. He never feared public criticism and did not need publicity to keep him in the right path. He inspired confidence and respect to such an extent that he was known throughout all Iowa as "Honest John Herriott" and will always be remembered as a good man from a good state, which he helped to build up and adron, therefore,

Be It Resolved, That in the death of Lieutenant Governor John Herriott the state has lost a most worthy and beloved citizen, whose unswerving fidelity to public duty and faithfulness to every public and private trust inspired us to higher ideals of life and living, and

Be It Resolved, Further, that these resolutions be spread upon the journal, that an engrossed copy of the same be sent to his widow, Mrs. John Herriott, at Stuart, Iowa, and to his three sons, Dr. Frank I. Herriott, at 1206 21st St., Des Moines, Iowa; L. B. Herriott, Guthrie Center, Iowa, and J. D. Herriott, Stuart, Iowa.

JNO. W. FOSTER,
BYRON W. NEWBERRY,
W. H. ARNEY.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

In presenting the above memorial, Senator Foster said:

The ordinary items of biography and public service are so fully presented by the foregoing memorial that I need not speak further of them. I wish, however, to briefly refer to Governor Herriott, as a friend and neighbor, whom I have known for more than forty years, and whose personal worth cannot be appreciated by other than those who were his intimate acquaintances.

I became acquainted with him in 1879. He was then 33 years old and just entering on his political career. I was then 21 years of age and just out of college. He had been re-elected to the office of County Treasurer of Guthrie County after a stormy campaign resulting from the collection of a large amount of delinquent taxes, during his first term, which had been carried on the books for a number of years, and his enforcement of the delinquent tax law became a political issue. I had just been elected to my first term as County Auditor. Our offices in the old Court House were separated only by a wall, and for convenience in transacting business between the two offices there was a little cased opening with a sliding door to afford a convenient means of passing books and papers back and forth between the two offices, and this door generally stood open. The intimacy of this official relation brought about a strong personal attachment between us, which continued until the death of Mr. Herriott.

I shall never forget his kindness nor the kindness of his good and gentle wife to me during my first winter at the county seat. I was then unmarried and lived at the old rickety county seat hotel and the Herriotts frequently broke up the tedium of my prosaic life by inviting me and ea tertaining me at their good home. There I found an air of quiet refinement, with books and papers and generous hospitality that I shall always recall with pleasure.

Mr. Herriott was a great reader and versed in history and literature and knew how to entertain his guests as few people are able to do.

He was a kind husband; a generous and watchful father, and his place in the family and the neighborhood can never be filled by anyone else.

GILMAN L. JOHNSON.

Senator Broxam, from a special committee, submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions commemorative of the life, character and service of the Honorable Gilman L. Johnson, beg leave to submit the following report:

Gilman L. Johnson was born in St. Lawrence County, N. Y., June 21st, 1848. His father was William P. and his mother A. A. Bell-Johnson. His father's family were old early English settlers, first in Tennessee and then in 1839, in New York. His mother's family was also of English origin, living in Canada and Vermont for two generations. His early education was acquired in the common schools of St. Lawrence County, N. Y. At the age of 16 years he enlisted in the 16th New York Volunteer Infantry, where he entered the 142nd New York Volunteer Infantry and was assigned to Company C. He also served as first lieutenant on the staff of General N. M. Curtiss. In February, 1864, at John's Island, S. C., he received a gun-shot wound which necessitated the amputation of his right arm. He was in active service during the siege of Petersburg and the capture of the latter point, January 15, 1865, he was detailed as depot quartermaster at that point until after the close of the war.

After coming out of the army Mr. Johnson attended the Gouverneur Seminary of St. Lawrence County, N. Y., from which he graduated in June, 1871. He was admitted first to the New York bar in June, 1871, at the time of his graduation, then in September, 1871, to the Iowa bar, and for a few months was associated with Chas. Rich at Maquoketa. He then formed a partnership with F. C. Richmond which continued practice alone for about ten years and was afterwards associated for five years with F. D. Kelsey of this city. From the time of the close of this partnership he continued his practice alone until about two years ago, when he retired from active practice. Mr. Johnson was a member of the House in the nineteenth General Assembly from the twenty-third district; also a member of the Senate in the twentieth and twenty-first assemblies from the same district.

Mr. Johnson was a lawyer of exceptional ability, a citizen of sterling worth, a splendid neighbor and a loyal friend, and a man who will be missed in professional circles as well as by the commonwealth in which he lived.

Therefore, Be It Resolved, That in the death of Gilman L. Johnson the state and county in which he resided lost a worthy and upright citizen, a valient soldier and and an honored statesman, and we hereby extend to the bereaved family and friends our sincere sympathy.

And Be It Further Resolved, A copy of these resolutions be printed in the journal of the Senate and that the Secretary of the Senate be directed to forward an engrossed copy to the family of the deceased.

A. L. BROXAM,
A. M. PARKER,
H. C. WHITE.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

In moving the adoption of the resolution, Senator Broxam spoke in part as follows:

I believe that I am the only member of this senate that was personally acquainted with Mr. Johnson, and I feel at this time there is nothing that I might say that will add to the luster and glory of Mr. Johnston' life.

As a lawyer he was a leader in his profession, always standing for what he thought was right regardless of public opinion or what other people might think. Politically, he was a democrat of the old school, always loyal and true, and now that he has gone to that great beyond, that Home not built by hand, eternal in the heavens, the greatest tribute I can pay to him at this time is that to know him was to honor and love him.

EDWARD P. M'MANUS.

Senator Frailey, from a special committee, submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to prepare resolutions commemorating the life, character and public services of Edward P. McManus, beg leave to submit the following report:

Edward P. McManus, member of the Iowa Senate from Lee county in the Thirty-second, Thirty-third, Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth General Assemblies, was born at Keokuk, Lee county, Iowa, on the 20th day of June, 1857, and died at Keokuk on the 8th day of January, 1918. His death came suddenly and without warning while engaged in his duties as postmaster at Keokuk postoffice. The last days of his life were the busiest. In addition to his official duties as postmaster and his private affairs, he devoted much time and labor to various war activities, being chairman of the Lee County Council of Defense and county food administrator. The exactions of these manifold duties contributed in no small degree to his untimely death.

The life of Edward P. McManus was crowded with many and varied activities. He was successively traveling salesman, farmer, country school teacher, state senator, managing head of successful stone quarries and postmaster. Throughout his entire life he evinced a keen interest in politics. It was the game and not the spoils that appealed to him. Always a staunch democrat, it was only in the later years of his life that he sought or would accept preferment for himself.

Few men in Iowa had a larger acquaintance or more friends than he. His warm Irish heart beat in sympathy with all of God's creatures. His generous nature rejoiced in the triumphs and pleasures of others and suffered in their misfortunes. The old and the young, the rich and the poor, came to him with their troubles and sought his counsel and guidance. A hundred stories might be told of his tender regard for the aged and friendless; of the young men who have found a new spirit and resolution in his words of encouragement; of the poor and destitute whose appeals his generous heart never ignored. To his funeral came the old crippled woman whom others had thoughtlessly passed, but he had left his work to help her down a dangerous stair; came the victim of drink or circumstances who had gone to him in despair and left with courage to make the fight anew; came the little boys and girls who loved him because he loved them and noticed them and played with them. All of these passed by his open casket and dropped a flower or a tear, knowing that each had lost a friend.

Brann, the iconoclast, once said that the place to find the true worth of a man is at his fireside, for there he lays his mask aside and you may tell whether he be imp or angel, king or cur. Edward P. McManus wore no mask. The gentleness that marked his relation with his fellow man was emphasized in his home. The qualities that won the regard and affections of neighbors and friends, made him thrice loved by his family. His home life was ineffably beautiful. His happiest hours were those spent in the family circle rollicking with his grandchildren, and imparting from his pure and wholesome spirit a perpetual benediction.

Optimism was the touchstone of his life. He was an evangel of good cheer who carried the gospel of sunshine into hearts that were desolate and weary. He loved his fellow man. He believed in him and trusted him and found virtues where others could find nothing but fault. No man ever reached that state of wretchedness or degradation that he could not find some redeeming part in him.

With these rare qualities of heart and mind he combined a native wit and an eloquent tongue. Although he avoided public speaking, his fame as an orator was more than local. Nature endowed him with a deep resonant voice, and that rarest of faculties, the power to move men from laughter to tears. His public addresses, like his private utterances bristled with humor and he could touch heights of fancy and sentiment that poetry seldom reaches.

No man loved the beautiful things of nature and life more than he, and none more thoroughly detested the vulgar. His scrap book contains a rare collection of literary gems culled with discriminating taste from his reading. He loved to preserve and commit to memory beautiful passages from poetry and prose which he would frequently recite to the delight of his family and friends. His nature was so sensitive to suffering and pain of others that he studiously shunned hospitals, for the sight of a fellow being in misery affected him keenly and often brought tears to his eyes.

Of all the qualities that he possessed, none so thoroughly marked him with his nobility as his veneration for womanhood. He idolized his wife; his mother he deified. The unsung heroism of motherhood awakened in him an appreciation that he frequently expressed in public and in private. Upon more than one occasion he has taken his pen in hand and written an anonymous tribute to some poor mother who had died unnoticed after a life of silent sacrifice. His sense of justice was shocked that such a life should pass unmentioned, while extravagant praise was heaped upon the less worthy.

Is it strange that when this noble spirit left its earthly abode, it seemed to take with it out of the world a part of the joy and happiness of life? Is it strange that the flowers are not quite so fragrant, that there is a touch of sadness in the song of the bird, and that the sun itself, has lost some of its radiance to those he loved?

(Signed)

JOSEPH R. FRAILEY,
A. V. PROUDFOOT,
BYRON W. NEWBERRY,
Committee.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

In moving the adoption of the resolutions, Senator Frailey spoke as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT AND SENATORS—When those whom we hold dear have reached the end of life and laid their burdens down, it is but natural for us, their friends, to pay our tribute of respect and love, to tell their virtues, to express our sense of loss and speak above their sculptured clay some word of hope.

And so we meet tonight. This is a time of sorrow and of memory and of love, that by the strength of its undying faith, brushes away the burdens of the years and lives again amid the sweet and saddened scenes of yesterday. It is a day sacred to our dead, who deathless linger in the country of the spirit, where the mystery and the pain and the yearning of this life is infinitely satisfied or infinitely quieted. No pen can trace its portent; no tongue can tell its pathos; it is a time for heart and soul whose fullest speech is silence.

Edward P. McManus was my immediate predecessor in this Senate. The resolution that has just been read but briefly epitomizes the record of a great and noble soul. He was my friend for many, many years—a friend that never failed in fidelity, in counsel or in need.

When he was called to higher responsibilities in private and official life, I succeeded him in this Senate. Purely as a matter of sentiment, that probably he alone could understand, I selected here the very desk that was his for eight years. Many is the time, after his retirement, that he has sat here by my side and that I have profited by his wisdom and experience and advice.

Even now, after a lapse of more than a year, it is hard, indeed, to realize that he is dead, and tonight his sweet and virile spirit and his stainless soul seem to abide here like a living flame in this chamber where he worked and wrought so honestly and so well.

The Persians have a way of saying on the birth of a child: "O, little one, you come into the world with cries while all around are smiling. So live that you may go out with smiles while all around are crying." Comprised within this simple prayer are all the things that make life worth living; all the things that rob death of its terrors. To go out with smiles in the happy consciousness of a life well spent, and with an unfaltering trust in the beneficence of the unknown beyond. So passed Edward McManus across the invisible boundary. There is grief today in the hearts of those who loved him and of the innumerable ones who called him friend, but our sorrow must inevitably be soothed by the contemplation of what he has done and the certainty of his reward.

It was my privilege to have been his friend for many years. In the truest, fullest, noblest sense, he was a man—his life was simple and upright and unpretentious, and upon his eager, upturned brow was stamped the imperishable knighthood of the nobility of honest toil. He believed in his fellow men and his country and in his God. He believed that to be a good American citizen was greater than to be a prince, or potentate, or king. He was an honest, honorable manly man—God has created nothing greater.

So he died rich. Not rich in this world's wealth, perhaps as men today count worldly wealth, but rich in good deeds, in noble works, in the unselfishness of sacrifice; rich in little children's love and old men's prayers; rich in the rounded, well-spent life of the best and highest type of American citizen. And so,

"Sustained and soothed by an unfaltering trust, approached his grave
Like one who wraps the drapery of his couch
About him, and lies down to pleasant dreams."

Such men as he cannot die from among us, their memory lives on. They throng our thoughts and tenderest recollections; they point to silent sacrifices and heroic endeavors where they paid the last obligation to honor and to right; they sentinel the long and growing highway to the life everlasting; they cluster about the history of this Senate and this state—a history made nobler by their presence and glorified by their unselfish deeds; they prompt to higher purpose and greater devotion—to love of country and friends and our fellow men.

So lived Edward McManus, as a loyal citizen, as a loyal man, as a loyal friend. His was the gospel of friendship—friendship, that is the divinest temple that reposes in the domain of the soul, a temple builded by the force of faith and love upon the everlasting rock of truth. And when this sculptor of this temple of the soul laid down his burdens in that sleep called death, when heart no longer throbs a loving message back to heart, the friendship that was his in life, in death, lives on for us, in its divine example, a blessing and a benediction. Something remains of him still—something that has wandered far down the course of time to us like the faint summer fragrance of a Maytime tree long since fallen dead in its wintered forest.

So long Thy power has blessed him, sure it still Will lead him on O'er moor and fen, o'er crag and torrent, till
 The night is gone;
 And with the morn those angel faces smile
 Which we have loved long since, and lost awhile.

And now that he had left the "shore touched by that mysterious sea that never yet has borne on any wave, the image of a homeward sail," may perfect peace be his. Wherever he may be, wherever he lies dreaming, he is not forgotten, nor has he died in vain. We who knew him, mourn him and enshrined him in our heart of hearts. And the great Ruler of the Universe opens His everlasting gates today and bends down above him in mercy and in love; and as gentle as the wing of an unseen dove, He lets fall upon him His blessing and His benediction. And with this light of another world almost beating in our faces, tonight we write his virtues upon the tablets of our memory and our love.

If beyond the vale; beyond that night called death, there is another world to which men carry all the triumphs and the failures of this life; if above all and over all there be a God who loves the right—an honest man has naught to fear. And if there be another world in which honesty is a virtue, in which fidelity is loved and courage honored—then all is well today with this friend and legislator we have lost.

Yet is he lost, or has he only wandered down the valley of the shadow from mortal life to life immortal? "From the voiceless lips of the unreplying dead, there comes no word," but love has its dreams and hope its certain faith. On the vague, unfathomed stream of life—that stream that rises in a world unnown and flows to that mysterious sea whose shore the foot of one who comes has never pressed—we voyage only to the grave. We strive in vain to look beyond its brink; we cry aloud, but all is silence and pathetic dust.

Yet this we know: The sun that sets tonight, tomorrow rises. The light that gladdens all the day passes to darkness, then to light again. The flowers that gladden the field bud, bloom, then in the sere and yellow leaf, they wither and are gone, and yet in dying abide they not alone, but sow themselves and bloom again with each returning spring, as angel emblems of the resurrection and the life beyond the grave. The vision of the prophet and the seer, the poet's song that for all time has left the atmosphere of earth to pulsate with its melody, and all the great, heroic deeds of man that fire the heart of youth and make the patriarch's blood to flame again, still thunder down the corridors of time to us, when those who saw and sang and strived have long ere now passed to the choir invisible of the immortal dead.

So fade all sunsets; so dies the light on land and sea; so pass away the fairy pictures of the mind. And yet we know the sun will rise again: the light on land and sea grow white, and on the filmy folds of unformed minds, the Hand that paints the blossoms of the field and tints the rose will flash once more the pictures of the past. The rise and set of sun, the birth and death of day, the dawns of silver and the dusks of gold, the shroud of winter and the many-colored robes of spring—these are the symbols and the signs, the warp and woof of immortality, and at the loom of life sits God who weaves this wondrous tapestry that those who see and know and understand shall perish not, but in the perfect plan of life and growth and death and life again, come the fullness of the everlasting life at last.

For we know that the promise of another life cannot be false; we know that the grave does not end all; we believe that the hope of immortality is true; that hope that like a tide has ebbed and flowed within the human heart, beating with its countless waves against the sands and rocks of time and fate, was never born of any creed or any faith—it was born of affection and of God. And it will continue to ebb and flow beneath the clouds and mists of doubt and darkness as long as love kisses the lips of death.

Senator Wilson spoke briefly as follows:

I do not wish to detract from the splendid eulogy to which we have just listened, yet I feel that I would be unworthy of the higher motives that actuated my life if I were to fail to bestow some tribute to the memory of the man about whom the resolutions have just been read.

Six years ago tonight Edward P. McManus was in this chamber, at the memorial meeting. I shall never forget his presence, his talk, his kindly utterances on that occasion. Only five of us who are here now were here six years ago, the presiding officer, Senator Arney, Senator Kimball, Senator Fellows, Senator Balkema and myself. He sat where the senator from Lee now sits.

I can see him in my mind's eye not only on that occasion, but on every occasion of the Thirty-fifth General Assembly, and one of the tenderest recollections of my senatorial career will be the memory of my associations with Edward P. McManus.

I remember on that occasion he delivered a poem that expressed the sentiments similar to those I am about to give. These are the verses.

Have you sorrow and trouble and care,
Do your burdens seem heavy to bear,
Is the present all dark and the future all drear,
Is the sky of your life thickly clouded with fear?
Stop for a moment, pause silent and still,
And note if you can the wisdom and will
That measures your strength with God's gracious design
By hiding your ills one day at a time.

Would you climb up the mountain of fame,
Would you carve on its summit your name?
You must patiently wait and patiently try
To make most of the moments that go slipping by.
You may string them together like pearls in a chain
That will give back their light through the darkness again,
That will open your path in one luminous line,
If you bind them together one day at a time.

Have you found that your friends are untrue?
The friend that you trusted, the friend that you knew.
Do you mourn your betrayal, as you sit all alone,

Do you fancy your faith forever has flown,
Do you turn from your fellows and turn from each face,
Do you think you can shun even God's rich grace?

Has your soul been invaded, your heart cut in twain
By that terrible loss and terrible pain?

That anguish which comes when a dear one has died
And the place that is vacant is close by your side;
When life seems crushed by the force of the blow
Even then, in a way that you never may know,
The hope of reunion is casting its shine
Through the gloom and the shadows, one day at a time.

I am glad to pay this tribute to the memory of Senator McManus.

Senator Proudfoot spoke briefly as follows:

The tributes by the senators from Lee and Appanoose have taught me also to second the motion for the adoption of these resolutions.

My first legislative experience in this chamber was spent with Senator McManus through two sessions. I remember him as a jovial, witty Irishman. I remember him as I last saw him. I was driving through the city of Keokuk and, of course, I couldn't drive in and drive out without calling on my old friend and so I went to the postoffice where he was then serving as postmaster of the city of Keokuk and we visited awhile and he stood on the stone steps as I drove away in the splendid summer afternoon and bade me good-bye, never to meet again in this world.

I hope I may emulate some of the splendid characteristics, some of the splendid qualities of this man whose memory we now commemorate

JAMES A. SMITH.

Senator Kingland, from a special committee, submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to prepare resolutions commemorating the life, character and public services of James A. Smith beg leave to submit the following report:

James Albert Smith was born in the village of Castle, Wyoming county, New York, February 4, 1851, of New England parentage. He received his education in the local district schools and at the age of eighteen came west and settled at Osage, Mitchell county, Iowa, which was his permanent residence at the time of his death. He was married in 1874 to Mary Alice Crego. He passed away at his winter home in Pasadena, Calif., January 12, 1918. He left surviving him his estimable wife and seven children, six sons and one daughter: Fred C. Smith, Lee A. Smith, Stanley R. Smith, Lloyd Smith, Richard J. Smith, Merrill G. Smith and Mrs. Robert Leach. His son, Stanley R. Smith, was an active member in the House of Representatives of the Thirty-seventh General Assembly, having been elected from Bremer county, Iowa.

For several years after coming to Osage he was actively engaged in civil engineering. He was for a time engaged in the grocery business together with a brother and later he and his brother engaged in the lumber business, in which business he continued until the time of his death. His brother died many years ago and James A. Smith continued in the lumber business and was so eminently successful that at the time of his death he was at the head of one of the largest businesses of the kind in the middle west, and he had at the time of his death amassed a large personal fortune. He was at the time of his death president of the James A. Smith Lumber Company, the Royal Lumber Company, the Smith-Hovelson Lumber Company, the Smith-Thielen Lumber Company, the Superior Lumber and Coal Company, all with headquarters in Osage and with branch offices in Iowa, Minnesota, Dakota and Nebraska, these companies having in all about seventy-five branch offices. He was also vice president of the Farmers National Bank of Osage and had other banking connections at Osage and other places.

In 1887 Senator Smith was elected as trustee of Iowa College, now Grinnell College, and served in this capacity until the time of his death. In accordance with his desire, his sons and daughter attended this college and he was liberal in support of its endowment. He was a prominent member of the Congregational church of Osage and took great interest in the work of the church. The last time that he served at any public gathering in Osage or Mitchell county was at the annual church meeting the day before he left for California for the last time, and he spoke with considerable emphasis of the interest he took in his home church and the prospects for its future, and had in mind the sixtieth anniversary of the church, to be held in November, 1918. His interest in the church was emphasized by his presence at practically all church services and by his most liberal support and in his will, which was drawn several years before his death, he made substantial provisions for the financial benefit of his home church as well as for other churches, and educational work.

He was a York Rite Mason and a member of the Shrine. He was also a member of the Knights of Pythias.

The worth of the man and the esteem in which he was held by his fellow men is best shown by the many positions of public trust to which he was called and beginning at an early time in his career. He served several terms on the school board and the city council of Osage. He was elected to and served in the House of Representatives in the Twenty-second, Twenty-third General Assemblies of Iowa and in the Iowa Senate without interruption in the Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, Thirty-first, Thirty-second, and extra session of the Thirty-second, Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth General Assemblies. During the last part of his service he was president pro tem of the Senate and chairman of the appropriations committee. He was generally regarded to be one of the ablest men in the Iowa Senate, and while a Republican in politics, he was accorded the deepest respect alike by Republicans and Democratic members.

The high esteem in which he was held is well attested by the fact that his funeral was largely attended by prominent and influential men of the state and from the expressions of some of these who had been close to him and knew best his principles and his motives in his public career, and we take the liberty of making excerpts from the testimony of appreciation delivered by some of these in honor of their deceased friend and co-worker.

Hon. A. B. Funk said:

"Senator Smith seemed to have years of service and satisfaction yet due him. He had lived well within the rules which make for length of days. He had never permitted appetite to menace health or minimize strength. He was clean in mind and heart and habit. Why such a man and such a life should be denied the allotted span of existence, we may not know and it is idle to cavil with destiny.

"While Senator Smith was prepared to live in enjoyment and usefulness, he was by no means unprepared for life's greatest adventure, even unrelenting death itself. He had not neglected to apply mind and heart to the problems of eternity. All the years of his life, he had lived in faith believing, and, in death, he was soothed and sustained by an unflinching trust in the sublime promises of revealed religion. The living mourn their loss, not his. He fought a good fight and kept the faith. He achieved largely and honorably in affairs material. He made distinct impression upon a generation of important history and experience. He leaves seven children worthy of their sterling parentage. There is bereavement deep and abiding in the shadow of this decree of destiny but those who mourn are substantially sustained by memories precious and practical. More and more will they realize how very much of a man was the Honorable James A. Smith."

United States Senator A. B. Cummins said of him:

"I feel so keenly the loss of a dear personal friend that it is with great difficulty I bring myself to give an estimate of his worth as a Republican. I have known him for thirty years and during much of the time, intimately. Above anything else, he was a man of perfect courage and there are not many of them. What he believed to be right, he would say and do, no matter what the consequences might be. He was high minded and unselfish and his first concern was always for his country, his state, his family, and his friends. He was strong and influential because, when he believed in a cause, he fought for it with unrelenting zeal. His place will not easily be filled in either the industrial, political or social life of the state."

Perhaps no better eulogy could be paid to any man than the following found in an article written to his memory in one of the local papers of his home town, because it is a tribute to the motives and the principle of the man, and after all these are the most important, and we gladly quote this extract from the article referred to:

"The strength and usefulness of James A. Smith was nowhere better exemplified than in public service. Elected to the House of Representatives in 1887, he acquired influence and promoted achievement. When he entered the Senate in 1900 he was at his best in manhood development. Since his service in the House he had acquired poise and ripened judgment while losing nothing in practical sympathy for the public welfare or in courage and useful promotion. Probably the richest man in the whole of that august body, he stood unflinchingly for measures levying tribute upon the wealthy. He did all he could to secure the enactment of an inheritance tax law which would have cost his estate forty or fifty thousand dollars. Closely allied with 'big business,' he voted just burdens upon his class and upon himself. The free pass had been to him a valued privilege, yet he led the fight for its abolishment. When the public welfare was involved, when public morals were menaced, he asked no favors and he yielded none. Neither the party lash nor the appeals of comradeship could make him sacrifice his conception of public duty. He could have been more of a leader of legislation had he been more disposed to compromise and to apply his criticism with more politic discretion, but no senator, leader or otherwise, exercised more influence for the better purposes of legislation or as much influence in defeating unworthy or impractical measures. When James A. Smith took the floor to diagram inconsistency or to excoriate evil design it was apt to be very hard sledding for 'the bill.' He hated shams. He had no patience with compromise that involved sacrifice of principle. He scorned the arts of insincerity and indiscretion. It was never difficult to locate the senator from Mitchell without waiting for the roll call."

As Carlisle said, it may be said of the Honorable James A. Smith:

"When he departed, he took a man's life with him."

Thus it is, one by one they are called, some in infancy, some in old age, and others in their prime, or just when, from their broad and versatile experience, high and noble natures, they are most useful to their fellow men, their state and nation. At just such a time, was the life of James Albert Smith suddenly terminated. He was in a position to give strong advice concerning matters of highest importance in the state and no other man in the state was better read nor more fully informed on national problems than was this state senator. If he had sought higher offices within or without the state, he would have honored the office, be it that of governor or congressman, and his constituents would have made proud. His family mourn his departure, the community sadly miss his genial nature and wise counsel, and the state of Iowa has lost one of its biggest men.

Therefore Be It Resolved, That the Senate has heard with deep sorrow and regret of his death and that it recognizes the high character of his service to this state, and in his death the state has lost a worthy, distinguished and noble citizen, and,

Be It Resolved, That this Senate extend to his family its sincere sympathy in their great bereavement, and,

Be It Further Resolved, That these resolutions be entered upon the Senate journal and a copy sent to the bereaved family of the deceased.

T. A. KINGLAND,

J. M. WILSON,

B. J. HORCHEM,

Committee.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

In moving the adoption of this resolution Senator Kingland spoke as follows:

I want to say only a very few words. I feel that I am unable to fittingly pay a tribute to this man. His reputation and his standing was not only local but it seems to me when we consider the history and the legislation for the last two decades in this state, that his influence and his renown were state wide and his public service was part of the history of this state.

From the facts briefly set out in this resolution, this tribute to his memory, we may safely say that first of all, he was a man. He was an unselfish man, and above all, this is a quality that we, rightly so, are given to admire.

It is especially a privilege to me to be considered one of his successors in office. I think it is conceded that James A. Smith was a dominant figure in the legislature of this state and he had a long service in this body—I think twelve years—and across the hall for two terms. I only want to add that it is my desire and wish that I may, if only to a small degree, emulate the splendid qualities that he exhibited in his service in this body.

After all, the goal that we as legislators should aspire to, it seems to me, is that we are able to consider measures for the public benefit strictly upon their merits. I believe this was one of the pre-eminent qualities of Senator Smith. He did not stop to consider the personal consequences but always considered the measure upon its merits as it affected the public welfare.

As a man then, and as an experienced and prominent member of this Senate, we can sincerely pay this tribute to Senator Smith, that he was one of nature's noblemen as far as character is concerned and he had the highest conception of public duty and showed it in his extended service in the legislature of this state.

I gladly yield the floor to another member of this committee, the senator from Appanoose.

Senator Wilson said:

It was not my pleasure to enjoy any personal acquaintance with Senator Smith. However, during the days of my knowledge and acquaintance with the politics of the state, it was of such a character to commend for him my warmest admiration as a student of politics and of history.

I recognize in him the highest type of a man, such a type of man as after all makes us what we are as citizens and as men, and it is association, the acquaintance, the knowledge of such men as James A. Smith that ought to make us the better fitted to perform the duties that come to us in the legislature, and I am indeed pleased to pay him this tribute.

Senator Newberry said:

I knew him very well for many years prior to the Thirtieth General Assembly. He came west and his first work was in my town in assisting in locating a railroad. He came as a poor young man, with very little property. Afterwards he went to Osage and started with his brother a small grocery store. They were successful. Then he branched out and bought a lumber yard at Osage and from that time went on buying lumber yards and became one of the most successful business men in the west. His experience in this General Assembly was of a marked order. He was president pro tempore of the Senate, chairman of the ways and means committee, recognized leader of the Senate for several sessions and his work shows upon our statute books of today. The two cent fare bill, the anti-pass law, the primary law, the inebriate asylum at Knoxville are other measures which were largely due to the force of James A. Smith. He maintained during his latter days at Pasadena, California, a beautiful winter home, where it was my privilege to visit him. It was one of the finest homes in Pasadena and it was there he died. He was taken sick with pneumonia, lived only a very few days and died in that place in California a year ago last fall.

Senator Proudfoot spoke as follows:

I regret very much to prolong this session, but I do not want the occasion to go by without a word from me in relation to Senator Smith. He sort of took me under his wing because he was a leader on this floor. I think the most animated debate I ever took part in was with Senator Smith. He was one of those sarcastic, clean-cut, able gentlemen from the east, polished and well educated and knew exactly what he wanted and how to go about it to get it.

I served two sessions with Senator Smith and a more polished, splendid, frank, open, direct man I never knew.

MARION F. STOOKEY.

Senator Stephenson, from a special committee, submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions commemorative of the life, character and services of Honorable Marion F. Stookey, beg leave to submit the following report:

Honorable Marion Floyd Stookey was born in Kosciusko county, Indiana, March 19, 1846, and died at his home in Leon, Iowa, April 2, 1919, aged 73 years and 13 days.

With his parents he moved from Indiana to Linn county, Iowa, in the fall of 1857, and settled on a farm. His education was acquired in the district, supplemented by a term in the high school at Cedar Rapids and a year at Western College. He followed the occupation of teaching for several years, teaching during the winter months and working on a farm during the summer. He enlisted in Company C, Forty-seventh Iowa, during the Civil War and served until that regiment was discharged. He graduated from the law department of the State University in 1877, and immediately settled in Leon, Iowa, where he has since continued the practice of law. Shortly after his location in Leon he formed a partnership with E. W. Haskett which terminated several years later, when Mr. Haskett was appointed U. S. District Attorney for Alaska. As a lawyer, the deceased was known throughout the county as a safe counselor and he soon developed a broad and deep comprehension of the fundamental principles of the law. He always enjoyed a lucrative practice which furnished evidence of his integrity and ability. He has served as mayor and city attorney of Leon and also county attorney of Decatur county. He was elected to the Senate in 1903 and served during the Thirtieth, Thirty-first and Thirty-second General Assemblies.

On September 1, 1881, he was married to Miss Elizabeth Brooks, at Leon, Iowa, who with their their daughter, Mrs. M. E. Wasson, of Des Moines, and his brothers, Nelson of Palo, and Charles of Shellsburg, and his sister, Mrs. Margaret Lightfoot, of Palo, survive him.

For over forty years Mr. Stookey has been an honored resident of Leon, during which time he has served both the city, county and state in honored positions. He was a man of exemplary character, marked for his quiet and even tempered disposition. His life speaks louder than any words that could be spoken in his praise.

For many years he was one of the owners of the Decatur County Journal. Under his influence and management the paper prospered and its sphere of usefulness was greatly extended. The editorials were widely quoted and it became one of the ablest and strongest defenders of the principles of the republican party in the eighth congressional district. The deceased believed in the fundamental principles of Christianity. He believed that religion is essential and indispensable to the welfare of men and governments. To one who has known him for many years he once remarked, "The greatest message ever delivered to mankind is contained in the words of the Master, 'I am the resurrection and the Life'."

Marion F. Stookey was a patriotic American and loved his country. He was devoted to his party, but that devotion to party was superinduced by his love of his country. He was always prominent in the councils of his party and "We shall meet but we shall miss him".

Resolved, That in the death of Marion Floyd Stookey, the state and county in which he resided, lose a worthy and upright citizen, a valiant soldier, and an honored statesman, and we hereby extend to the bereaved family and friends our sincere sympathy; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be printed in the journal of the Senate, and that the Secretary of the Senate, be directed to forward an engrossed copy to the family of the deceased. .

J. A. STEPHENSON,

T. A. KINGLAND,

JNO. R. PRICE.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

In moving the adoption of the resolutions, Senator Stephenson spoke in part as follows:

There are several things I would like to say in regard to Senator Stookey, although I never had a personal acquaintance with him, but I have always understood that he was well respected and well loved by his friends and business associates.

I believe there is only one Senator in the Senate at the present time who knew Senator Stookey and that is the Senator from Clayton, and I yield the floor to the Senator from Clayton.

Senator Newberry said in part:

It seems only yesterday since I sat here in the Senate chamber with Senator Stookey, and we have here tonight a resolution, paying tribute to his memory.

Senator Stookey served in the Thirty-first and Thirty-second General Assemblies. He was a good lawyer, an admirable friend, and able legislator. He did not introduce so many bills as some, but one bill which bears his name is the Stookey bill, an educational bill which provides that the diploma of any of the accredited colleges of the state,—some seventeen independent colleges, are on the accredited list. This bill provided that any diploma should have the same force and effect as far as teaching is concerned as a diploma from the state college or state teachers' college, and that is the law today, known as the Stookey Law. He was a very genial man and well beloved by his friends.

JOSEPH H. SWENEY.

Senator Kingland, from a special committee, submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to prepare resolutions commemorating the life, character and public services of Joseph Henry Sweney beg leave to submit the following report.

Joseph Henry Sweney was born in Warren County, Pennsylvania, October 2nd, 1845. He was educated in the public schools of Pennsylvania and Iowa. He finished his education in the State University of Iowa, where he graduated. He was early admitted to the bar and engaged in the practice of law and was engaged also in his early active career at farming. He early enlisted in the Union army and served as sergeant in Company K, Twenty-seventh Regiment of Iowa Infantry. He was later made colonel of the 6th Regiment, Iowa National Guard for four years and also held the position of Brigadier and Inspector General of the state. He was a member of the Iowa Senate in the twentieth, twenty-first, and twenty-second general assemblies. He was president pro tempore of the Senate in the session of 1886 and was elected and served as a member of the fifty-first congress.

The above recited facts of the public career of Colonel Sweney evidences the esteem and confidences in which he was held by his fellowmen. In all capacities in which he served, both in public and private, he served with honor and distinction to himself and rendered faithful service to those whom he served. He was unassuming and the positions of honor and trust which he occupied during his life were due to the worth and ability of the man rather than to any self-seeking on his part, and it may be said of him that the office sought the man rather than the man the office.

He spent his entire active life in Osage, Mitchell County, Iowa, where he practiced law as his occupation when not holding office and the esteem and confidence he enjoyed from his fellowmen and colleagues is well attested by the following extract from the memorial resolutions offered by the Mitchell County Bar Association at its meeting held December 6th, 1918, and which resolutions were spread upon the record of the district court:

Resolved, That it is our judgment that in the death of our brother, Joseph Henry Sweney, the citizens of this county and state have lost a worthy citizen, whose life spanned almost our entire history, a citizen who was put to many severe tests with honor, patience and confidence in his Maker and his fellowmen; that our part of the universe is certainly better because he lived and mingled with us for so many years. His memory will always be fondly cherished by us, and by all who had the privilege of knowing him intimately".

Joseph Henry Sweney died on November 11th, 1917, having lived more than the allotted years of man. His had been a life of usefulness and he died esteemed most by those who knew him best. He had been a faithful servant in private and public capacities. This is the most substantial encomium and praise that can be given to any man and constitutes the success most to be desired in the life of a human being. By his demise the community in which he lived so long feels the loss of one of natures noble men, a most worthy man and neighbor and the state mourns the loss of one of its prominent and influential citizens.

Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the Senate has heard with deep sorrow and regret of his death and that it recognizes the high character of his service to this state, and in his death the state has lost a worthy, distinguished and noble citizens and

Be It Resolved, That this Senate extend to his family its sincere sympathy in their great bereavement, and,

Be It Further Resolved, That these resolutions be entered upon the Senate journal and a copy sent to the bereaved family of the deceased.

T. A. KINGLAND,

J. D. BUSER,

B. J. HORCHEM.

Committee.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

Senator Kingland spoke in part as follows:

It was not my privilege, Senators, to be personally acquainted with Senator Sweney; I perhaps had met him and that is about all. He was rather to be classed among the pioneer lawmakers of this state. He was one of the sturdy pioneers who came to this state when it was young and it seems to me it is a tribute to a man to say that he lived in the same community for sixty-three years and had a large part in the development of that community and in the history of the state. It always appeals to me that the unassuming man who rounds out a career as has been recited that Colonel Sweney did, has been an eminent success. He not only held office in the state, but he was a member of the Fifty-first Congress, and in all these positions, I have not heard but what he filled them all to the satisfaction of his constituents.

Now I doubt not that the older men of the state, especially those who had a part in public affairs, could add a great deal to what has been recited in these resolutions. I only want to say that it is my personal satisfaction to have heard nothing but good said of the subject of these resolutions, and it can be truthfully said from the positions he occupied and his reputation as a man and as a legislator that this state has lost one of its most prominent citizens. I doubt whether the Senator from Clayton was personally acquainted with Senator Sweney, but if so, I will yield the floor to him.

Senator Newberry said in part:

I desire to say regarding Senator Sweney that he was a good presiding officer, a good lawyer. I happened to be in the convention when he was nominated to Congress. It was a very hot contest. There were three candidates. Colonel Sweney was selected by one-sixteenth of one vote. He served a term in Congress. He was a very capable man and when he came back, I think, being a man of considerable means, did not engage in his practice in law at Osage to any great extent.

JOHN C. VOORHEES.

Senator Nelson, from a special committee, submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to prepare resolutions to commemorate the life, character and public services of the Honorable John Crammer Voorhees, late of Anita, Cass County, Iowa, and a former member of the General Assembly of the State of Iowa, beg leave to submit the following report:

John Crammer Voorhees was born at White House, New Jersey, May 18, 1865, and died at his home at Anita, Iowa, on November 21st, 1918, at the age of fifty-three. He lived at White House, New Jersey, until sixteen years of age and removed to Anita, Iowa, where he has resided until his death. He was a member of the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh General Assemblies.

Besides being a banker he was engaged extensively in farming, operating two large farms near Anita. He was also interested in oil lands in Oklahoma; and had extensive land interest in different parts of the United States. As a business man he made a wonderful success, being reputed the richest man in Cass County. When Mr. Voorhees came to Iowa he had nothing, and went to work and took a great deal of interest in his hardware, implement and furniture business and built up one of the largest businesses of this kind in southwestern Iowa.

On October 1st, 1884, in Atlantic, Iowa, he was united in marriage to Miss Ottumwa E. Gaylord, the Rev. E. S. Hill performing the ceremony. Mrs. Voorhees passed from this world only a few months preceding her husband. They left one son, Leon Voorhees, surviving.

Mr. Voorhees was a member of the Knights of Pythias, the Masons, the Elks of Atlantic, and the Chapter and Commandery of Masons in Atlantic. In 1914 he was elected to the state Senate from the Cass-Shelby district. His career in politics was a success. One of his strongest characteristics was his happy, sunny disposition.

Therefore It Is Resolved, That in his death, the state of Iowa and the nation lost a worthy and upright citizen, an honest able and fearless man and an advocate of all things for the betterment of his country and state, and we hereby extend to the bereaved family and friends, our sincere sympathy, and

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be printed in the journal of the Senate and that the secretary of the Senate be directed to forward an engrossed copy to the family of the deceased.

J. A. NELSON,
B. J. HORCHEM,
C. W. WILTMORE.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

In moving the adoption of the resolutions Senator Nelson spoke in part as follows:

It was not my pleasure to be very well acquainted with ex-Senator Voorhees. He was a sterling character and a real business man. He set an example before the young people of today of what may be accomplished today in this land of ours. He was a man thrown out on the cold business world early in life and advanced steadily and gradually, showing what can be accomplished in this life and as such I commend him to the people of the state of Iowa. He was a man of good business qualities, and much energy. His life was composed of deeds not words. He died early in life, yet having lived a complete life, so to say.

Senator Wilson spoke as follows:

To my mind there is no occasion of such real profit in our senatorial careers as are these memorial occasions. It is with a peculiar sense of sadness that I say anything in reference to Senator Voorhees. During the Thirty-sixth General Assembly, among all the associates I have had in the six years—four sessions, none tied themselves to me with quite the firmness as does the association of Senator Voorhees. His sunny smile, his genial manner, his hearty handclasp are things that can never be forgotten; and after all, those are the things that make for success in life, not the accumulation of wealth, not the attainment of fame, but the fact that a man is right at heart is the only thing, fellow senators, that we take with us.

When you or I die, a few tears will be shed and soon it is all forgotten. Struggle against it as we will, how sadly true it is! May it be said of us as of our brother from Cass that as we enter the river of death we have as our pilot the captain of our salvation, may we hear not only the heavens ringing hallelujahs but the still small voice saying, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

FREDERICK TOWNSEND.

Senator Price, from a special committee, submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

Frederick Townsend was born in Albia, Iowa, July 1, 1863, and departed this life November 13, 1918. He was the son of distinguished parents and pioneers of the state of Iowa. His father, the late John S. Townsend of Albia, Iowa, was judge of the district court of Iowa from 1853 to 1863 and was a member of the Fourth General Assembly of Iowa from Monroe and Marion Counties which convened at Iowa City on December 6, 1852. His mother Ann Elbert was the daughter of Dr. John D. Elbert of Van Buren County, Iowa, and who was elected to and served as president of the territorial council of Iowa in 1842. He received his education in the public schools of Albia and in the University of Michigan, from which he graduated in the law class in 1888. He practiced law for a time in El Paso, Texas, but in 1890 returned to Albia where he took up the practice of his profession and soon distinguished himself as a strong, able and conscientious lawyer and at the time of his death was the senior member of the firm of Townsend and Miller. In the early nineties Frederick Townsend was elected County Attorney of Monroe County and served with distinction and fairness; safeguarding the interests of the county in all cases and seeking to prosecute only the guilty and he gained the enviable reputation of never persecuting the innocent and seeing that all coming before the court received a fair and impartial trial. His ability was recognized while serving as County Attorney and his special fitness to serve the public was soon appreciated by the general public and he was elected to the Iowa Senate and sat as a member of this body in the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth General Assembly, where he soon gained distinction and is remembered for his noble character and sterling integrity. Although a Democrat in politics he was above all a legislator who sought to enact into law only such measures as were for the best interest of the general public and at no time and under no condition could he be influenced to support measures which did not appeal to him as being for the best interest of the state. He was a legislator of exceptional ability but always unassuming, unpretentious and fearless in the performance of his duties.

He was a man who had the best interest of his community at heart and constantly on his mind and of his talents and services he gave freely. He served with extraordinary ability and devotion for a number of years as Secretary of the Chautauqua association of Albia and made it one of the best chautauquas in Iowa. He also served well and faithfully on the library board and the school board of his home city and during the late war gave freely, largely and liberally of his time and services on the Board of Equalization and Fuel Commission for Monroe County.

During his early manhood he was confirmed in the Episcopal church in his home city and for a number of years was one of its most active workers. At the time of his death he was a member of and a very active worker in the Big Brother Bible class of the Methodist church, in which his counsel and advice was always sought. He was kind to a fault and the lowly and needy never appealed to him in vain. In 1889 he was united in marriage with Miss Helen Dawson, to this union were born five children of whom three are living, Robert D. Townsend, Katharine Townsend and Arthur Townsend, who with the mother mourned the loss of this kind husband and loving father.

Frederick Townsend departed this life just in the prime of manhood. In his death the community in which he lived has lost a kind neighbor and a good citizen and the state one of its best and most valuable men.

Be It Resolved, That his family has lost a kind husband and loving father; his community a noble and self sacrificing member; and that the state has lost a valuable and patriotic citizen.

Therefore Be It Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the records of this Senate, that the same be engrossed and a copy sent to his bereaved wife, Helen D. Townsend and family at Albia, Iowa.

J. R. PRICE,
A. L. BROXAM,
W. G. HASKELL.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

Senator Price spoke in part as follows :

The hour is growing late and this is the last of the memorials of this session. We stand in the presence of those who are departed. I know that we cannot eulogize the memory of Fred Townsend. His life was an open book in his community. Everybody knew him,—everybody loved him. He was a young man born of the best stock in Iowa as you will appreciate from the resolution just read. His father was a member of the General Assembly in 1860. He was one of the best men in his community. He was a lawyer of influence and if ever a lawyer in the state of Iowa gained the distinction of being a man of honesty and fairmindedness, Fred Townsend was that man. His greatest asset, his greatest virtue was his sterling integrity. I cannot eulogize his life. He was faithful to his friends, and if he had any enemies, he was kind to them.

On motion of Senator Wilson the memorial session was adjourned.
