ELECTION OF PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

Senator Frommelt placed in nomination the name of Senator George E. O'Malley of Polk County as a candidate for the office of President pro tempore of the Senate of the Sixty-second General Assembly.

Senator Rigler moved that Senator O'Malley be elected President pro tempore of the Sixty-second General Assembly by acclamation.

The motion was unanimously adopted.

President Fulton requested Senators Frommelt, Rigler and Coleman to escort Senator O'Malley to the rostrum.

Senator O'Malley appeared, took the oath of office and was congratulated and presented to the Senate by President Fulton.

In accepting the office of President Pro Tempore, Senator O'Malley said:

Members of the Senate, officers and guests:

Most naturally I am proud to again be accorded the privilege of being your President pro tempore. It is truly a high honor and I assure you it is greatly appreciated. When called upon to preside, I shall be objective and impartial.

It has often been said that tradition and past practices are important in legislative halls and I hope the election of a Democrat as president pro tempore for two sessions in a row is a tradition that continues.

You have to go back thirty years in legislative history to find a time when the legislature as to control was divided as it is today in Iowa. Such control so dictated by the voters, calls for statesmanship in our proceedings to the highest degree.

I believe that the last session of our legislature judged by any standard was a most decisive one. We tackled everything that had been skirted warily for years, and as one editorial writer put it, the 61st General Assembly brushed away the cobwebs in the legislative chambers. I feel confident that secrecy will never again return to legislative procedures. I further hope we will never be afraid to adopt new procedures when they appear to be in the public interest even though they may be a radical departure from the past.

In the activity of the Senate there is a tremendous amount of work for everyone, both old and new. As we work at our tasks, let us strive to respect the other fellows' opinions and motives. I am most hopeful that when the record of the acts of this session are written, you will have added another constructive chapter to the great history of Iowa.

Again, members of the Senate, my heartiest thanks for the honor you have given me.

REQUEST GRANTED

Senator Frommelt asked and received unanimous consent that Lieutenant Governor Fulton be granted the privilege of addressing the Senate at this time.

Members of the Senate of the Sixty-second General Assembly of Iowa:

MODERNIZING THE IOWA LEGISLATURE

It is accepted today that too much of our governmental responsibility has transferred or is being transferred to the federal government. Those of us involved in state government have been the first to complain. Do we have the right; have we accepted our responsibilities, has state government responded to changing conditions? These questions cannot be answered as dogmatically as they were in the past. State government has started to respond. It is in the process of adapting itself to serve as a partner in our federated government. This must be continued.

Much is being accomplished in strengthening the executive branch of Iowa government. The purpose of the constitutional amendment providing for four-year terms for the Governor and Lt. Governor, the appointive cabinet, and item veto are to have a chief executive of our state in authority as well as title. The Governmental Reorganization Study is for the same purpose. It is my sincere hope that this session of the legislature will pass these amendments for the second time. It would also be advantageous to provide for a thorough reorganization of the administration of our state government. Modern conditions are demanding no less of the executive branch of our state government.

But to strengthen the executive branch of government alone will not make state government responsive and contains some dangers. The legislative branch must be modernized simultaneously.

To provide for effective government some of the checks and counter-checks within the executive branch must be removed. To protect our democratic representative form of government the checks and balances between the executive and legislative branch must become more effective. It is with this thought that I concern myself today.

Much public attention has been directed recently toward state legislatures. For example, last December I had the opportunity to attend the Mid-America Assembly Series on State Legislatures in Iowa City. This three-day conference, supported by the American Assembly of Columbia University which is headed by former President Eisenhower, brought citizens from four midwest states representing all walks of life-newspapermen, interest group representatives, teachers, present and former legislators and others--together to discuss in an informal atmosphere the problems that currently confront state legislatures. Many of the things that I am going to talk to you about today were prompted by the exchange of constructive views among participants at this conference.

Most of the increased public attention currently being focused upon state legislatures has been the result of the immense controversy surrounding the question of reapportionment. Regardless of its major source, I think that this increased public concern has been beneficial because it has encouraged many of us to sit down and review critically the job performed by state legislatures as institutions of representative government. It has encouraged us to consider whether state legislatures in the American system of government are doing an adequate job and, if not, what can be done to make them more effective decision-making bodies.

Today, I would like to outline for you my views on this subject with specific reference to the Iowa General Assembly. My views on this subject have been shaped by my experiences in both chambers of this Assembly, conversations with governmental officials from other states, and discussion with informed citizens from both in and outside of Iowa.

The Assembly's Job Performance

The first question—is the Iowa legislature doing an adequate job?—is very difficult. It deserves praise for its accomplishments and devotion to the well-being of our state. It's individual members serve at personal sacrifice. I personally consider it an unequalled honor to have served in both the House and Senate. And yet without meaning to be overly critical of this important branch of State Government, I do think that the method of operation of the legislature over the past several sessions leaves a significant degree of room for improvement.

My major basis for arriving at this conclusion is the ample evidence that I have seen in recent years that a significant majority of citizens in our state--those whom we as legislators are supposed to have represented--have negative opinions about the job performance of this institution. The Legislature, in the eyes of many citizens, is a large unmanageable body, which doesn't accomplish much work, in many cases spending a lot of time on insignificant questions. Although many of these views of the Legislature are exaggerated, they are nonetheless REAL in the eyes of many Iowans. And if they are real in the eyes of many citizens, we should be very much concerned about them since it is the people of this state whose support is required by the Legislature if it is to be a viable branch of State Government.

Recent Innovations

What should be done to improve the functioning of the Iowa Assembly and, hopefully, in the end, its image in the eyes of Iowans? Before focusing upon specific recommendations, I should point out a few recent changes in legislative operations which I think are steps in the right direction, keeping in mind that much remains to be done.

First of all, the number of standing committees and committee assignments were significantly reduced last session. The reductions in committees has led to a more even distribution of the legislative workload among these so-called "little Legislatures" of the General Assembly. The reduction in committee assignments per legislator has meant that a legislator's committee work has become more manageable in scope. This change has also permitted individual legislators to become specialists in a few public policy areas, as opposed to spreading their labors over a wide range of public policy areas.

A second recent badly needed innovation has been a change in the organization of the Legislative Research Bureau. No longer is the research function performed by this important legislative service agency considered of minor importance. By requiring that the legislative leaders of both houses jointly play a major role in guiding the research activities of the Bureau, especially during the interim, I am quite optimistic that the fruits of such research will have a better chance of receiving favorable consideration by the Assembly. The practice of requiring that all interim study committee reports be considered by the research committee, plus permitting the research committee to introduce bills in the assembly are recent changes in legislative procedure that will permit research to play a more important part during the deliberation of major public policy questions confronting this state.

A third general area of much needed change, one that has not in any way been finalized as of yet, deals with provisions embodied in three pending constitutional amendments. All of these amendments that I refer to pertain to the organization or operations of the Legislature. These are the counterpart to the amendments affecting the executive branch previously referred to. The first is the one dealing with annual sessions of the Legislature. Needless to say, as our society has become more complex, the demands made upon legislative institutions have increased. No longer can the Legislature meet these demands by meeting only every other year, Annual sessions would permit the State of Iowa to adopt an annual budget thereby allowing the Legislature greater fiscal control. The second proposed amendment, the one dealing with Legislative Remuneration would permit the Legislature to provide for the remuneration of the necessary expenses incurred by legislators in the performance of their duties. Needless to say, this is not a radical proposal. Legislators in 34 states of the union are granted remuneration for basic expenses. A third amendment -- the one providing for Permanent Reapportionment--is undoubtedly more controversial than the two just discussed. Regardless of your personal position on the subdistricting question, which can be required by a constitutional amendment, I think that the specific provision in the amendment requiring a reduction in the size of the Legislature is definitely needed immediately. The present Legislature is too large and unwieldy. In addition, the large size of the assembly makes it more difficult to produce concensus on legislative programs and procedures. a factor we often forget in considering what tends to make a governmental body function more smoothly and efficiently. The Legislature cannot begin to adopt the necessary changes until its size has been reduced and stabilized.

So much for what has been done or is "in the mill" to improve the job performance of the Legislature. What other reforms might be instituted to improve the Assembly?

Legislative Facilities, Staff, and Services

The first general area of possible reform deals with facilities, staff, and services. As far as our physical facilities are concerned, I think that the Legislature has gone out of its way to deprive itself of the facilities that any modern organization of its type would consider as normal and mandatory. Historically, only the President of the Senate (or Lieutenant Governor) and the Speaker of the House have been provided with private office space. At this session, for the first time, private office space has finally been provided for the floor leaders. In my opinion, this is only an exceedingly small step in the right direction. Offices, even if less elegantly furnished than those provided legislative leaders, are needed for all legislators. The current arrangement of making a legislator's office his desk, file, and clerk on the floor of his chamber, lowers the dignity of the Legislature and distracts from its law-making function. A legislator should be able to meet and visit privately with a constituent in an office and not on the floor of the chamber, out in the rotunda, or in the cafeteria downstairs.

Several alternatives should be considered in providing for this necessary office space. First, we might consider moving the legislature out of the capitol building altogether, an action recently accomplished in North Carolina. Having the Legislative Chambers and offices in a separate assembly hall would have the advantage of having all law making activities under one roof. The chambers would be easily accessible to the individual legislator from his private office. The major disadvantages are two--the historic value of our present chambers would be lost and the expense involved in constructing, furnishing, and maintaining this central facility. A second possible alternative to providing for necessary office space would be to construct an office building for legislators easily accessible to the Capitol building. A third alternative would be to move executive and judicial agencies out of the Capitol so that nearly all space in the Capitol building would be devoted to legislative purposes. Adoption of this alternative might entail the construction of a new office building for the executive and judicial and other offices. A final alternative which should be considered would be to find the necessary legislative office space in the Capitol Building, without providing for new quarters for the executive and judicial branches. Adoption of this alternative would probably be the least costly of those discussed, but it is difficult to make an accurate judgment as to whether enough space actually exists in the capitol to meet the legislature's needs under this type of arrangement. I would hope that this session of the Assembly might seriously consider providing for a feasibility study to determine which of the alternatives I have outlined is the most practical and efficient method of accomplishing this badly needed change.

Staff assistance is another specific area with much need for improvement. The purpose in having staff assistance is to relieve legislators of routine work so that they can devote all of their time to major policy-making duties. At the present time, only the presiding officers of the two houses are provided with staff assistance--the Secretary of the Senate and Clerk of the House. Of course, most of the time of these two officials is spent in processing the flow of legislation. In other words, only a very small portion of their time is devoted to rendering assistance of a personal nature to the presiding officers. I think that the time has come for the Legislature to give serious thought to providing more staff assistance. As an initial step in this direction, I think that the presiding officers, floor leaders, and committee chairmen should be authorized to hire administrative assistants. The Department of Political Science at the University of Iowa and Iowa State University are in the process of jointly attempting to obtain funds from private sources to provide legislative leaders with staff assistants. The limited and temporary nature of their program, if approved and funded, should be emphasized. The Legislature should give serious consideration to providing for staff assistance from state funds. In the not too distant future, consideration should be given to authorize all legislators to employ staff assistants.

The major service agencies of the assembly--the Legislative Research Bureau, Code Editor, and Fiscal Director--should be strengthened and improved. As far as the Research Bureau is concerned, it is my sincere opinion that its staff and facilities have been greatly overtaxed as it has attempted to perform its three major legislative service functions: Bill Drafting, Research, and Reference.

Over the years, the code editor has done a very commendable job fulfilling his primary responsibility of bringing the Iowa Code up-to-date by looking for statuatory inconsistencies and out-dated sections in this important document.

Although a certain amount of controversy has historically surrounded the position of Fiscal Director (or Analyst), I think that the time has come for all legislators to support the important task to be performed by this office. The primary task to be performed by the Fiscal Director, the way I see it, is to provide a continuing analyzation for the Legislature of the State's fiscal position. This office should be staffed by a person trained in economics and concerned with expenditures, only to the extent that they determine fiscal policy. The continuing review of the programs of executive agencies should be provided by the Legislative Auditor, a post created by the Constitutional Amendment providing for the appointive cabinet. The Iowa Assembly has relied too long upon executive departments and agencies for fiscal information. In saying this, I do not mean to imply that the information received by the Legislature over the years from able officials in the executive branch has been unreliable or misleading. My point is that one should realize that such data are based on the perspectives of these officials. The Legislature has a definite need for a strong, non-partisan service agency which will collect and analyze data of a fiscal nature from a legislative perspective.

I have grave doubts as to whether the Fiscal Director should continue to be responsible to the Budget and Financial Control Committee, and that the Code Editor should be responsible to the Supreme Court. My feeling is that the proper home for both of these important legislative service agencies is under the Research Committee. Such an arrangement would encourage the co-ordinated guidance of all major service arms of the Legislature in areas where their duties and responsibilities are complementary or overlap to a certain extent. In suggesting that the Fiscal Director be made responsible to the Research Committee as opposed to the Budget and Financial Control Committee. I am not in any way arguing or implying that the latter group should be abolished or have its primary job downgraded to any extent. I feel that there is a definite need for an Interim Legislative Investigatory Committee, which would use the Legislative Auditor as staff. However, I feel that placing all major legislative service agencies under the Research Committee is the preferable structural arrangement (1) As mentioned previously, their activities would be better co-ordinated: (2) The services rendered the Assembly by these agencies are continuing ones--that is, performed regardless of whether or not the Legislature is actually in session; and (3) A more non-partisan and professional outlook would be encouraged within all major legislative service agencies.

Another area of necessary legislative reform is that of remuneration. As noted previously, the Iowa Assembly has already taken the initial step toward being in a position to remunerate its members for expenses incurred during the course of their duties. Another, much more significant, step which it should take, is to provide for the payment of a Legislator's salary on an annual basis.

Service in the Legislature is, or at least is becoming, a full-time job. Most of you know that there are many activities that you participate in-appearing before local groups, handling casework for constituents, and so forth-that occur even though the Legislature is not in session. However, under the current remuneration arrangement, Legislators are paid only for the days that the Assembly is in session.

I would suggest that this method of payment is outdated. Salaries need to be put on a fixed annual basis, for example, so that a person considering running for the Assembly will have firm knowledge of the remuneration he will receive if elected. Today legislators in 31 states of the union are paid on an annual basis and the trend is definitely in this direction. Annual legislative salaries would grant the legislature necessary independence from executive control. They would not have to rely upon the Governor to be called into session. They could recess and return at any time the legislature desires. This cannot be done while being paid on a per diem basis, and therefore, subjects the legislature to an undesirable control by the executive branch.

What should be the amount of such an annual salary for an Iowa Legislator? Generally, it should be high enough so that any qualified citizen who is interested in serving his State by service in the Legislature will not have to make a major financial sacrifice. On the other hand, it shouldn't be so high that the salary becomes an individual's only motive for desiring legislative office.

I might suggest--and this is being said in part merely to encourage thinking and discussion on the topic--that an appropriate annual salary for a legislator would be in the neighborhood of $5,000-$10,000. It is my opinion that Iowa Legislators more often than not have short-changed themselves over the years. In other words, legislative remuneration has tended to be on the low side of the ledger. Unless this weakness is corrected in the near future, many qualified citizens will not be interested in running for the Legislature because of the extreme financial hardship involved in being a Legislator.

Conclusions

I have taken the liberty today to present to you a few of my observations as to what can be done to improve the job performance of the Iowa Legislature. While the adoption of any single one of these proposals will not guarantee a better job performance, I think that they will make it more likely that the Assembly will go about its job in a knowledgeable, efficient and respected manner.

I would like to make one other proposal. That is, at some time during this session, I think that the Assembly should give serious and favorable consideration to the creation of a Citizens Legislative Advisory Commission. This Commission, composed of leaders from all major walks of life in our state, would be assigned the responsibility of studying in a comprehensive manner legislative organization and procedures as they currently exist in the Assembly and formulating proposals for remedial action. The Commission should be required to render its report to the next session of the Legislature. Adequate resources should be made available to the Commission for the purpose of the employment of a research staff, plus any other expenses incurred by the Commission during the course of its activities. After rendering their report, the members of the Commission could play an important role in marshalling the support of their respective groups for the Commission's recommendations. The creation of such a Commission could be a very important initial step in the eventual modernization of the Iowa General Assembly; and, hopefully, in the end, place this important branch of State Government on a pillar of public esteem and respect with the executive and judiciary branches and to allow State Government to accept its full responsibilities.

COMMUNICATION

President Fulton announced receipt of the following communication on January 9, 1967:

STATE OF IOWA

Office of the Governor

Harold E. Hughes Governor

January 9, 1967

The Honorable Robert D. Fulton Lieutenant Governor President of the Senate Sixty-second General Assembly State Capitol Des Moines, Iowa

Dear Sir:

In compliance with Senate File 547, Acts of the Sixty-first General Assembly, I am hereby transmitting to you a plan for the reorganization of the executive branch of Iowa state government and a draft of proposed legislation to accomplish the recommendations set forth in the plan.

I believe that the plan and the proposed legislation constitute a competent blueprint for realizing the objectives of reorganization set forth in Senate File 547, which were in substance:

- (1) To reduce expenditures and to promote economy to the fullest extent consistent with the efficient operation of the State Government,
- (2) To increase the efficiency of the operations of the State Government,
- (3) To group, coordinate and consolidate agencies and functions of the State Government nearly as possible according to major purposes,
- (4) To reduce the number of agencies by consolidating those having similar functions and to abolish such agencies or functions thereof as may be dispensed with in the interests of efficient and economical operation, and
- (5) To eliminate overlapping and duplication of effort in the agencies of the State Government.

Senate File 547 authorized the Governor to employ professional and technical assistance to accomplish the purposes of the Act. It also created a 15-member advisory commission composed of legislators and private citizens to provide counsel and recommendations to the Governor regarding the proposed reorganization.

The Public Administration Service of Chicago, Illinois, an internationally known non-profit consulting firm working in the area of public affairs, was engaged to do the professional research and to prepare the basic organizational plan. This firm conducted an extensive study of the executive branch over a period of a year and prepared the plan for a new organizational structure that is transmitted herewith.

In accordance with the directive of the law, I also appointed an Advisory Commission on Governmental Reorganization that has studied the proposed plan and conducted a public hearing on it.

The Advisory Commission, which is still studying the details of the blueprint for reorganization and will be available for consultation with legislative committees, if desired, has recommended that the Public Administration Report be adopted in principle.

In similar vein, I strongly recommend to the General Assembly that the basic outline of the Public Administration Service proposal be adopted as a foundation for the reorganization of the Iowa Government and that the principles of efficient governmental organization embodied in the professional report be followed to the greatest extent possible.

Within the framework of this plan, there is some latitude for variation without violating the basic principle on which any effective, thoroughgoing reorganization must be based. This is as it should be. It is not, for example, an immutable truth that all apparently homogeneous functions should be grouped in one department. But in general, this is a sound organizational precept and major departures from this and the other accepted principles on which the report is based could seriously impair or even destroy the over-all objectives sought.

The directive of the General Assembly in Senate File 547 called clearly for the basic reorganization of the State Government, not simply the superficial remodeling of the status quo. It is the duty of the chief executive to recommend; it is the prerogative of the Legislature to enact. Reasonable flexibility in the recommendations is appropriate and I believe has been provided. But I would point out that extensive variation from a basic plan has been the traditional graveyard of sound reorganization proposals.

To restructure the entire executive branch of State Government is a monumental and historic task. It inevitably invites the passionate opposition of those who fear that their own roles in government may be diminished or eliminated. It inevitably stirs the adrenalin of those who are reluctant to accept major change of any kind.

Yet the need for the overhaul of our obsolescent governmental organization is crucial and long-recognized, and there has probably never been a time in history more opportune for accomplishing this historic reform,

In the past four decades, a number of excellent studies have been made relating to the reorganization of our State Government. These include the Brookings Institution Report of 1933; the Report of the Governmental Reorganization Committee of 1950, generally known as the Little Hoover Report; and the Report of the Governor's Committee on Economic and Social Trends in Iowa of 1958; to name only the best known of the previous studies. I would point out that the basic principles and most of the major recommendations that were embodied in these bipartisan reports through the years are contained in the reorganizational proposal that I am transmitting to you today.

These principles include streamlining of the more than 120 separate agencies in our existing governmental structure into a small number of major departments; pinpointing the responsibility of the chief executive and the department heads; eliminating many plural bodies with administrative functions; providing for the appointment of certain elective state officials; recruitment and retention of qualified personnel through a comprehensive civil service system; eliminating of costly duplications and overlapping; grouping like functions in the appropriate departments; and so on.

I am sure that many of you who will endorse the general pattern and principles of the Public Administration Service's report will differ with it in some aspects of the recommendations. I am not in accord with all of the details of the report myself, and I will communicate these points of difference to you in a subsequent message. But on the whole, I believe the format as submitted to you today is sound and workable, and I earnestly commend it to your consideration.

The most important single requisite to understanding and implementing effective reorganization is to envision the vast panorama of our State Government as a whole, rather than as a conglomeration of unrelated pieces. Where modifications of the basic plan are deemed necessary, these departures should be judged within the perspective of the entire governmental structure, rather than as isolated fragments.

Most of the resistance to the reorganization proposals that I have encountered thus far, when not based on a personal interest viewpoint, has come from those who have not viewed the reorganization plan in its entirety and have therefore been led to erroneous conclusions about it.

There are some who resist reorganization because it will strengthen as well as streamline the State Government. I believe there is a basic inconsistency in this viewpoint. These are the self same people who object to the incursions of the Federal Government in areas that more properly belong to the State. I would point out that history has shown that the only effective bulwark of State's rights is state responsibility and that one of the major objectives of reorganization is to make it possible for our State Government to take a stronger and more effective role in our Federal system.

No one recognizes more clearly than I do that major innovation is the greatest task and the greatest challenge of good government. But I believe that the time has come that we must meet this challenge if we are to keep faith with generations of Iowans to come.

In conclusion, I want to commend the wisdom of the General Assembly for enacting Senate File 547 setting up the reorganization study. I pledge you my full cooperation in translating this blueprint of reorganization into a living reality of more efficient, economical and responsible State Government for Iowa.

Respectfully,

STATE-OF-THE-STATE-MESSAGE

of the

Sixty-Second General Assembly

by HONORABLE HAROLD E. HUGHES, GOVERNOR OF IOWA

Joint Session, January 10, 1967

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Honorable Senators and Representatives of the Sixty-Second General Assembly:

Article IV, Section 12 of the Constitution of the State of Iowa specifies as one of the duties of the Chief Executive that "he shall communicate, by message, to the General Assembly, at every regular session, the condition of the State, and recommend such matters as he shall deem expedient."

This message, traditionally known as the "State of the State" message, affords me a welcome opportunity at this early hour of the session to welcome the new members of the General Assembly and to renew my friendship with those of you who have served before.

With three major messages scheduled within a period of a few days, I must warn you that you are in for a heavy diet of gubernatorial speech-making concentrated in a short space of time. It is something like the marathon of televised bowl games on New Year's Day -- only without the compensating glamor.

There is, of course, good reason for transmitting these three messages -- the State of the State, the Inaugural and the Budget Message -- to you as soon as possible after the session convenes. Our legislative process, by its nature, calls for clear and timely communication between the Executive Department and the General Assembly. Taken together, the three messages really comprise one comprehensive report on the activities of state government in the biennium drawing to a close, together with recommendations for future action.

Communication in public affairs, especially between the three branches of government, is always important but seldom easy. It is like the difficulty we all have these days in communicating with the younger generation. I think of the father who said to his son who was departing for a party: "Have a good time, son," The boy answered: "Don't tell me what to do."

No one appreciates more fully than I do the magnitude and the volume of the tasks you have ahead of you in this Sixty-Second Session of the Iowa Legislature. I applaud your obvious determination to get at the mainline chores with the least possible delay, and I pledge to you my full, friendly and continuing cooperation throughout the session.

The scope of the state government is unbelievably vast and far-flung. I could not conceivably cover every phase of the state's activities in any three speeches of finite length, nor will it be possible to discuss the operation of any of the various departments in depth. The intent will be to give you a reasonably objective overview of the position of the state today, the distance we have traveled in the past two years and the problems that lie ahead.

At best, the three messages will of necessity be lengthy because of the sheer volume of the subjects to be touched upon. For reasons of mercy and good sense, I will be as brief as possible.

I am sure that every Governor who has delivered a State of the State message has asked himself these questions: "What are the precise ingredients that determine the 'state of the state' at any given time in history? How can we define it or measure it?"

Clearly the state of the state is more than the balance in the state treasury or the condition of the state's economy, although these factors are of obvious importance. We know that the quality of the services that the state provides in meeting many kinds of human needs is a relevant factor. These services that contribute to our health, security, equality of opportunity and general well-being have a lot to do with the state of our state. But beyond these factors, there is an intangible quotient that is an essential determinant of the true state of the state.

I refer to the spiritual temper of the people -- their morale, their idealism, their receptiveness to new ideas, their commitment to progress, their concern for their fellow man, their faith in the future, and their willingness to contribute to, as well as to benefit from, the blessings of a free society.

On the basis of these criteria, both qualitative as well as quantitative, I believe the state of our state as of January 10, 1967, is one of robust good health and glowing promise for the future.

Iowans of all walks of life, of all creeds and political faith, have a right to be proud of the breakthroughs for better government and a better society that have been achieved in the past few years.

The credit for this phenomenal advancement belongs to no individual or group, but to the people of Iowa.

As a people, we have a right to count our blessings and to savor the good things we have in Iowa today.

Our appreciation of what we have should not, in any sense, blind us to the imperfections that still exist in our society and in our government or lead us into minimizing the great problems that remain before us. As a matter of fact, the very fact that we have made progress brings with it ever greater problems to be met and more exacting work to be done.

But I have faith that the zest of achievement we have tasted in recent years and the comparative well-being we are enjoying today will strengthen us to go on to greater goals for the benefit of generations of Iowans to come.

This is the substance of the message that I bring to you today.

IOWA'S ECONOMIC AWAKENING

Man does not live by bread alone, but he also doesn't live very long -- or at least very well -- without it. It is therefore fitting, as well as customary, to begin a report on the state of the state with some reference to the state's economy and the current fiscal position of the state government.

As we allknow, the nation as a whole has been experiencing a record run of economic growth that has been fueled to a large extent by the heavy expenditures for national defense and by the inflationary spiral. It is natural that economic conditions in Iowa would reflect this national trend.

However, even when considered in the context of the nation's expanding economy, the special dynamism of Iowa's economic development has been something for the record books. By comparison with the states around us, the national average, and especially by comparison with our own past, the vitality of our economic growth has been phenomenal.

In 1965, Iowa's rate of increase in personal income was 11.9 per cent as compared with the increase for the nation of 6.5 per cent. In the early months of 1966, Iowa led all of the states in the rate of gain in per capita income. For the entire year of 1966, our increase was 9.4 per cent, while the nation as whole was showing a 7.5 per cent increase.

It is now predicted that Iowa's per capita income for 1966 will exceed the national average, or at least equal it, for the first time in nearly two decades.

Iowa's rate of economic growth, as measured by state revenue figures in the Midwest, has run well ahead of the states around us.

Our renowned agriculture, our productive labor force, our constantly expanding manufacturing, our high literacy rate and our high standards of education -- all of these have contributed to the development gains of the past two years.

Agriculture has shown its muscle as Iowa's basic industry in this period, as it has throughout our history. The upturn in farm income was the most important single factor in the remarkable growth of our economy.

Total net farm income in 1965 was 46 per cent over that of 1964. Although the official estimates on 1966 net farm income have not yet been released, a further substantial increase is foreseen.

The Iowa farmer, the world's finest producer of food and fiber, carved new records for agricultural production in the two-year period. In 1966, he produced the greatest corn crop in history and his greatest soybean harvest. Once again, Iowa leads the nation in total corn production and in average yield per acre.

I might point out that one of the results of this outstanding production of agricultural products is that the average American housewife spends only 18 per cent of her husband's paycheck for food -- the lowest percentage of any country in the world!

Farm production steadily increased despite the decrease in the number of workers directly employed in agricultural operations. But the importance of farming to Iowa's industrial development may be seen by the fact that more than half of the total labor force were employed in enterprises related to agriculture. Food processing and other industries dependent upon agriculture account for a large part of Iowa's growing industrial strength.

One of the most promising phases of Iowa's agricultural development in the past two years was the growth in the export of farm and farm-related products. Iowa led the states in this area in total exports of farm commodities in 1965 with a total volume of $430 million.

Industrial development, so essential to providing the requisite-balance in our economy, moved forward in Iowa in 1965 and 1966 at an unprecedented pace. A total of 600 industrial developments were registered in the two year period, including new industries, branch plants and expansions of existing industry, the last-named being the most important element of our industrial growth. We can count nearly 27,000 new job opportunities created by these developments, a total of investment of more than $446 million and new payrolls exceeding $162 million.

Iowa experienced in 1966 the fourth consecutive year in which all previous records were shattered for industrial developments, for new jobs created and for capital investments in plants and equipment.

Some idea of the growing pace of our industrial growth may be seen from a comparison of the 1965 and 1966 figures. In 1966, the number of developments was 312, as compared to 288 in 1965; the total of new jobs created was 15,466, compared to 11,534 in the previous year, and the total capital investment was $237 million -- $27 million more than in 1965.

Major credit for promoting this industrial growth should go to the Iowa Development Commission and to many groups and individuals, working at both state and local levels in cooperation with the commission. Among these are some 250 local development commissions, city councils, chambers of commerce, county boards of supervisors, and area development committees. Credit should also go to our universities, to farm and labor organizations, to existing industries in the state, and to the financial and business leaders who serve on the state Economic Advisory Council, Finally, credit should be given to the General Assembly for enacting wise and workable legislation to provide the development groups with needed tools for industrial development.

Because Iowa consistently produces more than its nearly three million residents can consume or use, export to other states and to other nations is vital to our manufacturing industry as well as to our agriculture. Under the sponsorship of the Iowa Development Commission, successful trade missions to Europe and to the Far East were undertaken by leading Iowa citizens in the fields of industry, commerce, agriculture and finance. More than 10 million dollars in sales of Iowa products resulted from these missions, and valuable contacts were established for future sales.

In this country, hundreds of business and financial leaders in New York, San Francisco, the Twin Cities and Chicago were made aware of Iowa's many assets by civic-minded Iowa businesmen who participated in the Development Commission's "Sell Iowa" trips to those centers of commerce.

The impact of the "Sell Iowa" trips and the foreign Trade Missions continues to be felt. But perhaps their greatest value was to dramatize the assets and potentials of Iowa to our own people. We had to discover the image of the New Iowa in our own hearts before we could project it to the rest of the world.

In the last biennium, a tourism division was established in the Development Commission to organize tourism promotional activities on a state-wide basis and to acquaint residents of other areas with the scenic, historic and recreational attractions of our state. Encouraging progress has been made in organizing regional associations to promote the travel industry in conjunction with the Iowa Development Commission and in making the state tourism-conscious. Tourism surveys made for the Commission in 1966 estimated that tourist traffic brought in more than $380 million in income to the state's travel-related businesses.

Strong cases have been made through the Development Commission and the state universities to persuade the U. S. government to locate certain important installations in Iowa.

The planning division of the Commission worked with some 250 Iowa cities and towns, counties and metropolitan areas in comprehensive planning programs. Research and feasibility studies were conducted under the Commission's program for agricultural products utilization on such subjects as the future of the meat packing industry in the state, the possibility of establishing a meat irradiation industry within our borders and the potential for soybean processing plants in various locations.

Manufacturing employment in Iowa reached an average of 200,000 per month for the first time in 1966. This was the fifth successive year to show an increase in non-farm employment. The total work force in the state rose to an average of 1,150,000.

FISCAL CONDITION OF THE STATE GOVERNMENT

The dramatic economic growth of the state during the past two years is reflected in the strong current fiscal condition of the state government. At the end of the present biennium, on June 30, 1967, it is estimated that there will be an unencumbered balance in the state treasury in excess of $80 million.

While part of this surplus is accounted for by the collection of two years' individual income taxes in one year under the new state withholding system and certain other non-recurring revenues, the big factor was economic growth. The growth rates in sales and income tax revenues proved to be far in excess of what had been expected.

State finances will, of course, be discussed in greater detail in my Budget Message next week. In the meantime, suffice it to say that we have continued our tradition of sound, pay-as-you-go, virtually debt-free state government operation during the past two years and the present financial position of the state is strong by any measure you can take. It is well that it should be. Those who consider our present surplus an embarrassment of riches have not yet had the opportunity to try to balance our substantial revenues against our compelling needs for the future.

As the state has progressed economically and otherwise, so have its vital public needs. Such is the price of progress and most of us would agree that it is worth it.

In terms of economic growth and industrial development, Iowa is on the move in dramatic fashion, with excellent prospects for the continuation of these healthy trends.

ADMINISTRATION

The administration of the elective state offices—the Treasurer, the Auditor, the Secretary of State, the Secretary of Agriculture and the Attorney General—was marked by significant organizational changes within the departments and by the effort to provide a wider range of services to the political subdivisions over which these offices have regulatory powers.

The Treasurer instituted an orderly program for the investment of public funds and engaged a professional investment consultant to head this new division. A substantial increase in the interest earnings of the state has resulted.

The Treasurer also reorganized the fuel tax collection division for greater efficiency, another move that resulted in increased state revenues.

The Auditor's office instituted changes in accounting procedures, engaged certified public accountants as division heads in the department, and pointed the way to local governments to make better use of their funds.

In the Department of Agriculture, a strong meat inspection program was instituted; a Dairy Trade Practices Act was put into operation; enforcement of accurate weight and measures at both consumer and wholesale levels was accelerated; and registration of brands for livestock under the new state branding law was initiated, to name only a few of the activities of this department in the past two years.

Office procedures in the office of Secretary of State were streamlined and the filing system modernized.

The newly established Consumer Protection Division in the office of the Attorney General was an innovation in Iowa that was watched by other states as a standard to follow. More than 500 complaints have been processed by this new division during the past two years.

In addition to the established functions of the Governor's office in the past two years, three massive and historic studies were undertaken under the direction of this office, pursuant to acts of the General Assembly.

These were the State Government Reorganization Study, the State Tax Study, and the design study for the development of a long-range, comprehensive state plan. These matters will all be the subjects of further communication from me to the General Assembly.

A $200,000 federal grant has been approved by the Department of Housing and Urban Development to get this comprehensive planning program under way.

An office of state planning has been created to implement the preliminary stages of this large undertaking and we have been fortunate in securing the services of a qualified director to head the operation.

The decisions that relate to the operation of State Government have become increasingly complex and will require informed, long-range planning for the future. The new planning agency will be able to provide all branches of the State Government with the kind of accurate, in-depth information on which such far-reaching decisions should be based.

One of the forward-looking acts of the last General Assembly was to provide for the entire Code of Iowa to be placed on magnetic tape for use in computer operations. This means that the Code can be searched for existing legislation in a matter of minuteseven seconds—so that legislation can be properly drafted without omissions or inconsistencies. This innovation will greatly assist the Legislature and will simplify the work of the Legislative Research Bureau and Code Editor.

A number of physical improvements have been made or commenced in the State Office Building complex to provide desperately needed space for more efficient government operation.

A new state office building is under construction at this time. Departments that formerly occupied office space on the second and third floors of the Capitol building have been moved to make this space available for the Legislature. Rear entrance rooms have been provided in both Legislative Chambers in areas formerly used as cloak rooms. Space behind the third floor on both sides has been used for the installation of elevators for members of both Houses.

Other long-needed improvements in the Capitol Building are completed for in process. The Governor's Office space has been expanded through remodeling; steam and water pipes have been replaced; the interior of the Capitol dome has been repainted and repaired, and Phase I of the Capitol air conditioning system has been submitted for bids.

The Personnel Office was strengthened, and a new pay and classification plan for state employees was instituted in July of 1965. The new plan, based on information from questionnaires submitted to state agencies, resulted in the reduction of many job titles and salary ranges. A salary increase for state employees, consisting of an adjustment to the next higher step, plus an additional step, was also instituted.

One of the significant developments in the past two years was the creation of the position of Coordinator of Federal Funds to work initially under the State Comptroller. Millions of dollars in grants-in-aid programs are received annually by various departments of the State Government. The function of the Coordinator is to see that the State is properly accepting and taking part in those programs which meet the State's needs, and to provide information and assistance to local government units regarding federal projects. The Coordinator of Federal Funds ultimately will be an integral part of the state planning process.

COMMERCE COMMISSION

The newest division of the Iowa State Commerce Commission, the Public Utilities Division, has had a busy and constructive schedule in carrying out its responsibilities to regulate public utilities in the State.

Although no formal rate case has yet come to hearing before the Utilities Division, the influence of the Commission and the Legislation that created it have had an obvious and beneficial effect on utility operation in the State so far as the consumers are concerned.

In the past two years, more than $8 million has been saved Iowa consumers through reductions in rates and additional refunds from privately owned gas, electric and telephone companies. Two years ago, this figure was $5,982,423 and at the end of the most recent two-year period, it was $8,154,390. This adds up to a total of $14,136,813 since the Utilities Division was established in 1963.

STATE TAX COMMISSION

The lowa State Tax Commission was faced with some new problems in the two-year period just concluded as a result of the institution of the withholding system for the individual State Income Tax. Withholding schedules and other policies were worked out with the benefit of the counsel of an advisory committee composed of representatives from various industrial and professional groups and from the universities.

The Commission has utilized a central bank deposit system to insure that with-holding receipts received from the withholding agents are deposited the same day they are received. Iowa is the leader in this field. This has made it possible for the State to earn more interest on its deposits in the General Fund and has been beneficial to the remitter in having checks cancelled and returned promptly.

The withholding system has not only increased state revenue, but it has better equalized the tax burden by compelling former non-filers to pay their fair share of Iowa's taxes.

The Tax Commission is presently operating at a cost-of-collection ratio of approximately 1.5 per cent, which is one of the best ratios among the states.

Through combined efforts of the Tax Commission, local assessors and others, real estate valuation between the counties and cities, while not perfect, is better equalized than at any other time in the history of Iowa.

Constructive steps have been taken towards the more efficient equalization of industrial property assessments. The 1965 Legislature provided funds for the employment of a professional staff to deal with this problem. This staff has been hired and the program is well under way.

In-service training has been strongly emphasized in all major divisions of the Tax Commission. For training purposes, the Tax Commission has made use of various schools conducted by the University of Iowa, Iowa State University and night school classes conducted by the Des Moines Adult Education Department.

PUBLIC SAFETY

In the last two years, the Department of Public Safety has leveled an intensive attack against the rising personal injury, death and property damage on our streets and highways.

New laws enacted by the Sixty-first General Assembly which require driver education for most new drivers, establish the temporary drivers permit, prohibit drag racing, require installation of seat belts, and authorized reflectorized license plates for safety and identification purposes, have been put into effect. An increase of 100 highway patrolmen has provided 24-hour enforcement on Iowa's expansive interstate system and better service to the public in other important areas.

Iowa has been actively participating in the Vehicle Equipment Safety Compact and the Drivers License Compact. This provides for sharing of driver records by states and assures that a violator's record will count, regardless of where the violation occurred.

Enforcement, engineering, education, efficient administration of licensing laws, and continuing cooperation between state and local authorities remain the guideposts to traffic safety. Cooperation with the Highway Commission and the county engineers has assured the efficient collection and sharing of data processing information for accident investigation and evaluation. The Public Safety Department and the Iowa Medical Society have established a medical advisory board for reviewing physical and mental incompetencies of drivers. Community conferences and the Governor's Traffic Safety Coordinating Committee have continued as important tools in the safety program, and an effective Women's Traffic Conference has been formulated.

Preventive education has been a key in Public Safety's fight against crime, fire, and traffic problems. The Highway Patrol has formed a new arm of uniformed safety officers who are working with schools, private groups and organizations to augment our existing safety education program.

The Fire Marshal, with additional inspectors has contributed toward a more effective fire prevention program and has assured up-to-date school and nursing home inspection. In every public contact, the agents of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation has emphasized the prevention of crime, rather than exclusive emphasis on enforcement.

As constitutional court decisions have become more restrictive in regard to the taking of verbal testimony, the need for proper collection and preservation of physical evidence has become more obvious. The Bureau of Criminal Investigation has equipped a mobile crime laboratory which will allow quick and efficient processing of evidence at the scene of the crime.

Iowa has one of the most advanced and comprehensive programs of traffic safety among the states. Notwithstanding this fact, as the explosive increase in traffic on our highways continues, the traffic accident toll continues to mount with it. The crisis is the same in other states.

We are convinced that there is no single, magic formula for traffic safety. We must continue using all of the proven methods we have been using in enforcement, safety education and modern traffic engineering. And then we must seek new approaches to add and redouble our efforts on all fronts.

EDUCATION

One of the outstanding characteristics of Iowans as a people is their determination to provide the finest in education at all levels for our children and youth. The last session of the General Assembly appropriated far more funds than ever before in history for public schools and our state institutions of higher learning. It is clear that substantially more will be needed in the years ahead to meet our growing needs.

When I delivered the State of the State message two years ago, there were about 1,100 elementary and secondary school districts in the state. Today there are about 500, and almost all of the school districts are attached to high schools. The high schools of the state, I would venture to say, are twice as good as they were ten years ago, and many are perhaps better than that. Our rural youth are beginning to get an even opportunity for quality education with their urban cousins, and we must continue to work to this end.

In addition to advancements made in our public school system in school organization, teaching standards and modern facilities, significant progress was made in various types of special education offered by the state.

The Vocational Rehabilitation Division of the Department of Public Instruction, for example, placed 77 per cent more handicapped people in jobs successfully this past year than in the preceding year.

We now have 15 multi-county districts organized for Area Vocational Schools and Area Community Colleges. Of the 15, ten are now approved to operate community colleges and five to operate vocational-technical schools. Fourteen merged areas have appointed their superintendents. It will be seen from this that we have entered a new era of post-high school education in Iowa.

One of the important needs of our time, as I see it, is to provide means for young people who want to attend college and are qualified for higher education but who lack the means.

The last session of the Legislature took a commendable step towards meeting this need by providing $500,000 for scholarships. A substantial increase will be requested of this session to keep this valuable program going. These state scholarships are administered through the Higher Education Facilities Commission, a highly qualified body made up of public and private school administrators.

During the past two years, 11,791 young people have received degrees from our three state institutions of higher learning. These included an impressive number of master's degrees and Ph.D's, as well as professional degrees in such fields as medicine, law, veterinary medicine and dentistry.

In this same two-year period, twelve major academic buildings have been started on the campuses of these three institutions under the Board of Regents. Many other major buildings are under construction, including dormitory facilities to accommodate more than 4,000 students.

In appraising our facilities, present and future, for higher education in Iowa, consideration should be given to the important role of our private colleges and universities in the overall picture.

The total of students in the three state institutions this year is about 40,000. The total number of students in all institutions of higher education is about 100,000. It may well reach as many as 150,000 by 1980.

This poses serious questions for the future if we are to sustain our objective of providing reasonably priced higher education for all of those students who are qualified for it.

There are many other activities along educational and cultural lines that have been initiated in Iowa in the past two years. Under Title I of the Higher Education Act, a series of educational programs to energize community action in various public categories has been commenced in the past year. Under these programs, the educational resources of our public and private universities are put to work to assist local governments and civic groups.

In an area of education which benefits all of our people, the government has established a State Arts Council. The Council is currently funded with federal money to make surveys of the arts and to prepare a state plan for the arts in Iowa. As I have stated before, the development that Iowa is experiencing these days is intellectual and cultural as well as economic.

TRANSPORTATION

The past two years have been a period of unprecendented achievement for the Iowa State Highway Commission on all of its far-flung fronts. The most spectacular single accomplishment was the completion and opening to traffic of 100.4 miles of Interstate highway, bringing the total mileage in Iowa to 426 miles. It is now possible to cross Iowa from east to west on the Interstate and this is the longest continuous stretch of completed Interstate construction in the country. With approximately 60 per cent of its Interstate completed, Iowa is at the forefront among the states in percentage completed.

An analysis of the 1966 non-interstate construction program showed that 65 per cent of the construction expenditure is directly attributable to improved safety. This is as it should be considering the rising toll of traffic accidents on all of the nation's roadways. Safety construction work included elimination of curves, improved passing opportunity, widened bridges, better intersections including lighting and signing, wider shoulders and so on.

During the past two years, 189 miles of 18-foot-wide pavement on Iowa's primary system was reconstructed or replaced. A total of 249 narrow bridges were replaced or widened, and it is proposed to replace or widen 415 more during the next five years. During 1965 and 1966, 19 rural primary intersections were relighted for safety and 130 will be taken care of during the next four years.

In addition, the Highway Commission is augmenting our Interstate system with urban freeway systems to aid the flow of traffic in our important centers of commerce and metropolitan areas. Studies are now under way on an expanded expressway system to upgrade at least 1,240 miles of existing primary road to four-lane expressway standards.

The Highway Commission has engaged a professional administrator as chief executive, and the Commission has recently effected a top-level realignment of personnel to achieve greater efficiency of this most vital state agency.

As our highways are constantly being improved, so are the facilities for air travel within our state. The Iowa Aeronautics Commission developed a program resulting in 62 separate projects at 41 Iowa communities and representing an outlay of more than $3 million. Iowa ranks twenty-third in population among the states, but it is fifteenth in number of civil aircraft, and fourteenth in the number of airports. The number of aircraft owned by Iowans has increased by 10 per cent since 1964. Last year we were fifth in the nation in the number of lighted airports, and sixth in the number of paved runways.

CONSERVATION

More than nine million people visited Iowa's state parks in 1965 as compared to five million in Nebraska, 3,300,00 in Minnesota and 4,400,400 in South Dakota. Last year, nearly 10 million visited Iowa's state parks.

These figures attest to the keen interest of Iowans in out door recreation and point up the need of the state to accelerate its program of providing parks, artificial lakes and other outdoor recreation facilities.

Among all of the states, Iowa has the smallest percentage of its land devoted to state parks and recreational areas. There are now more than 30,000 acres of parks and 56 camping areas which have to accommodate about 50,000 more campers each year. We now have about 23,000 acres of forest areas.

In addition to sustaining an extensive program of construction, maintenance and improvement work in the past two years, the Conservation Commission reorganized its entire departmental operation, installed a Business Administrator, and expanded its planning division. A comprehensive state plan enabling Iowa to qualify for federal aid under the Land and Waters Act was completed.

HUMAN RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT

Board of Control

The institutions under the State Board of Control, including mental hospitals, schools for the retarded, correctional institutions, training schools and juvenile homes have been strengthened with needed increases in funds for staff and programs during the past two years. The correctional institutions have added professional staff in areas of medicine, psychiatry, education, vocational training and personal adjustment counseling.

A forward-looking pre-release center was opened in December of 1965 utilizing the new dormitory on the Newton farm site. The Division of Corrections and the Parole Board have worked closely to assure the success of the center. To date 502 men have benefited from the six-week 're-entry' program designed to help them successfully return to home and community.

The Iowa Security Medical Facility is under construction at Oakdale. This modern mental health hospital will provide diagnosis, evaluation and treatment for those in our correctional institutions and others who require security and mental health treatment. Thus a shameful blot on Iowa's conscience -- the long period when human beings were imprisoned like animals in the ward for the criminally insane at Anamosa -- will be removed when this modern security hospital is completed.

The mental health center at the Training School for Boys at Eldora is being expanded to include a modern infirmary and evaluation area. This unit will provide essential evaluation for many of the emotionally ill boys who are committed to the school.

Juvenile parole and child welfare field staffs have been combined in an effort to decrease travel and conserve staff time, and the total number of workers has been increased to more nearly meet the mounting need for supervision of young people from the two training schools, Increased foster home placements have reduced the populations of the Iowa Annie Wittenmyer Home and Toledo Children's Home, and approximately 150 more children are out on home placement now than were on placement in 1964.

New programs for the blind or deaf retarded are providing new hope for these forgotten children while innovative vocational training is preparing retardates for economic independence.

Federal funds have been obtained to match the $500,000 appropriated for the infirmary addition at the Marshalltown Soldiers' Home.

Alcoholism

Human Resource Development must sometimes concern itself with the treatment of diseases which prohibit the individual from realizing his full potential. One of the serious problems facing Iowa and many other states is combating alcoholism and its latent effects on our society.

One-fourth of the patients in our Mental Health Institutes are alcoholics. We have an estimated 50,000 alcoholics in Iowa and some 80,000 Iowa children have at least one alcoholic parent. Yet, these figures do not adequately reflect the toll that alcoholism takes in terms of accidents, crime, divorce, family disintegration, social deprivation, and other forms of human tragedy.

In a cooperative effort between the University of Iowa and the Board of Control to combat this growing social problem, we have established a 50-bed alcoholic treatment and research center at Oakdale.

Iowa is also the first state in the nation to undertake a coordinated statewide program directed at rehabilitation of the alcoholic regardless of his economic status. The Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, the State Board of Control, and the Office of Economic Opportunity have cooperated in the launching of this $500,000 program for a total assault on alcoholism.

The first visible results of this program will be seen within the next few weeks with the opening of Halfway Houses in Des Moines and Sioux City and Community Service Centers for Alcoholism in at least seven major Iowa communities.

Public Health

A major contribution to the health needs of Iowans has been the unique program for reorientation and retraining of inactive registered nurses throughout the state. This program, carried out cooperatively between the State Health Department and the Health Occupations Education activity of the University of Iowa, has brought this training to the state's inactive nurses in their home communities. This makes it possible for approximately 300 nurses to re-enter the field of nursing practice. This program is going to be continued and expanded to meet our growing needs.

Another major job of the Health Department has been certification of hospitals for participation in the Medicare program -- all but 13 of the hospitals surveyed were certified on the first round.

The federal Hill-Burton program has brought about $7 million to Iowa for hospital and construction projects, and mental retardation programs have brought in about $4 million for new construction.

By way of reorganization to meet current and future needs, the Health Department has established an Office for Planning and Coordination. This provides for the necessary function of comprehensive health planning for the people of this state.

With technical assistance from the staff of the State Department of Health, the Water Pollution Control Commission created by the 1965 Legislature has developed water quality standards in compliance with the Federal Water Quality Act. Seven public hearings on the proposed standards have been held throughout the state and, when approved, these standards will provide an effective basis for the control of water pollution in Iowa.

Labor

Our human conservation and development programs include the activities of the Iowa State Employment Security Commission. During the past two years, this agency has replaced the dependency provision for determining the weekly benefit amount of unemployment insurance with a realistic formula based upon 50 per cent of the average weekly wage in covered employment. The average unemployment insurance payroll tax rate paid by the employer has been reduced from 8/10ths of one per cent to one-half of one per cent -- and I am pleased to say that this is the lowest rate in the United States.

There are a number of important changes in legislation passed by the last General Assembly which benefit the labor force of Iowa. Unemployment compensation for employees was raised 30 per cent without any tax increase to the employer. In workmens compensation, there has been an average increase in weekly benefits for both temporary and permanent disability. The range was increased from an average of $37 to $47 for permanent disabilities — and from a range of $34 to $50 per week to $40 to $56 per week for temporary disabilities. The Bureau of Labor, through the Employment Safety Commission created by the Sixty-first General Assembly, now has the authority to adopt reasonable rules and regulations that require an employer to maintain adequate protection for the lives, health, and safety of all persons employed in this state.

Senior Citizens

For the benefit of our aging citizens, a Commission on the Aging was created in 1965 when I signed a bill authorizing a commission of thirteen members. Fifty-thousand dollars was appropriated for the first biennium. Four different committees have since been appointed to deal with the different problems of the aging. And a proposal has been made through federal channels to establish at an Iowa university a center for retirement planning.

Manpower

One of the key agencies in the development of human resources in Iowa has been the Iowa State Manpower Development Council. This agency is financed by federal funds, under the Manpower Development and Training Act, and is unique in the United States. The Manpower Development Council is organized to further skill development of all Iowans, and has been funded beyond the experimental termination date because of its success. The State of Iowa is looked to by a great many other states in this area of skill development, and coordination of skill development agencies already in existence.

One of the most successful projects of the Manpower Development Council has been its On-The-Job-Training project, the first state-wide on-the-job-training program in the United States. Very simply, this program reimburses employers for training people on the job. The majority of those trained under this program came from welfare rolls, and this means that these Iowans have once again become taxpayers, and they are supporting families in the majority of instances. This is an area in which the federal government and the state join hands to help people help themselves. Almost 500 Iowans found jobs under this program, and the cost to the federal government was the lowest in this federal region. This program is a stop-gap measure designed to help people who lack marketable job skills until our area vocational schools become functional.

Beyond this program, the Manpower Development Council, in concert with the Employment Service, has established 16 area coordinating teams around the state to make sure that maximum use is being made of all our resources -- state and federal, public and private -- and that job training is geared to the needs of individuals rather than simply to the needs of industry in the area.

Economic Opportunity

In another special area of human resource development, the State Office of Economic Opportunity has contributed to an often forgotten element of our society. Without using the fancy words of the sociologists, I will just refer to these people as being poor -- by and large through no fault of their own.

Operation Headstart which provides pre-school exposure to youngsters who may not have had the same advantages as yours and mine, has served about 4,000 youngsters in Iowa. Next year the figure will jump to 7,000. This is the first, and perhaps, most important step, in starting to develop equal opportunities for all of our children.

Another valuable program under the Office of Economic Opportunity has been Project Upward Bound. Upward Bound affords college experiences to those who are high school drop-outs, or those who may be potential high-school drop outs. Last year Iowa received nearly $600,000 for this program for five different institutions of higher learning. This year it is anticipated that we will be able to serve even more disadvantaged youngsters through this project.

Human Rights

The year 1965 saw the creation of the first Iowa Human Rights Commission, established by an act of the Sixty-first General Assembly. More than 220 matters came before the Commission in the past two years involving alleged discrimination in employment, public accommodation and other areas.

Many of the cases were referred to other agencies with more specific jurisdiction; others were conciliated; some were dropped by the persons bringing the charges. But the Commission is a going concern and is a strong influence against illegal discriminatory practices in our state.

Public Assistance

The growth in case loads in the Public Assistance programs administered by the Department of Social Welfare reminds us that the current prosperity of the state does not extend to all of our citizens.

In the past two years, the food stamp program for welfare recipients was inaugurated and accepted in  $43\ \mathrm{counties}$ .

A community work and training program to increase the employability of welfare recipients is successfully under way in more than 40 counties.

An Advisory Committee on Title XIX of the Social Security Act, dealing with medical aid to welfare recipients, was appointed by the Board of Social Welfare. This Committee, composed of professional and civic leaders, will recommend legislation in this area to the General Assembly.

******

A couple of dairy cows were grazing in a field near a roadside when a milk delivery truck passed by.

On the side of the truck in big red letters was the legend: "Sweetbriar Milk --Pasteurized, homogenized, standardized and vitamins added."

One of the cows shook her head sadly and said to her companion:

"Makes you feel sort of inadequate, doesn't it?"

I feel a bit inadequate myself, at the moment.

I have recited to you a great many facts about your state and your state government's activities in the past two years. But I realize how difficult it is to put these diverse pieces together to make the big picture.

There are also many things I have left out that have left their imprint on us in the past two years.

There was the tornado that leveled Belmond, the brave response of the townspeople, and the generosity of Iowans who wanted to help; there was the concern of parents for sons fighting in Vietnam; there were the Amish and their school problem; there was the excitement of a $60 million industry coming to Clinton; there was the destruction of thousands of our shade trees by the elm blight; there was a second billion dollar corn crop; and there was the tragedy of the lonely teen-age girl who hanged herself in a jail cell.

The state of our minds . . . and the charity or bitterness in our hearts have a great deal to do with the true state of the state.

In my State of the State message two years ago, I expressed my belief that we Iowans had begun to free ourselves from the prejudices of neighbor against neighbor that cramped our spirit and retarded our progress in the past.

I still believe and devoutly hope that this is true for it is the most important single component we need for a serene and healthy state of the state.

There are disturbing signs of the backlash in the world today.

The backlash is nothing new under the sun; nor is it confined to racial prejudice alone.

The backlash is simply a convenient vehicle of rationalization that ermits our conscience to tolerate a prejudice we always knew was wrong and unworthy.

But we sieze upon some isolated incident to justify the prejudice we secretly carried in our hearts all the time.

The backlash can be anti-welfare, anti-progress, anti-business, anti-labor, anti-education or anti-racial or religious minority.

The extremist backlash is emerging in many places, but it has no defensible reason to exist in Iowa.

One thing is certain.

Iowa, in this January of 1967, is a peaceful and prosperous garden spot on a troubled globe.

We have much to be thankful for -- and the causes that should unite us are infinitely greater than the misunderstandings that sometimes divide us.

Our future is in unity and understanding of neighbor towards neighbor. And given these, our future is unlimited.

Governor Hughes was escorted from the House chamber by the committee previously appointed.

INAUGURAL MESSAGE

to the

SIXTY-SECOND GENERAL ASSEMBLY

by

HONORABLE HAROLD E. HUGHES, GOVERNOR OF IOWA

Joint Session, January 12, 1967

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chief Justice, Honorable Senators and Representatives of the Sixty-second General Assembly, State Officials, Distinguished Guests, Ladies and Gentlemen:

It was four years ago, less five days, that I first came to this rostrum to address a joint session of the General Assembly. I felt a little like the Lone Ranger at the time. The people of Iowa had done me the honor of electing me their Governor the previous November, but for reasons best known to themselves, they had not bestowed similar favors on any of the Democratic candidates for other state offices or on very many Democratic candidates for the General Assembly. As a consequence, there were in January of 1963 cammanding Republican majorities in both houses of the Legislature and a four-to-one Republican majority on the State Executive Council.

Frank Miller, the great cartoonist of the Des Moines Register, immortalized the humor of the situation with a cartoon showing a long banquet table at which the diners were all scowling, disgruntled elephants except for one solitary, jubilant donkey in the middle.

Some of the political commentators at the time made dire predictions about the disharmony and stalemate that was sure to come from having a Democratic governor and a Republican-controlled Assembly. The record book will show that the Sixtieth General Assembly was not a stalemate at all, but went on to enact a number of important and forwardlooking items of legislation which were not vetoed by the donkey in the cartoon. I deeply appreciated the cooperation I received from the members of both parties in that session and in the Special Session on Reapportionment that followed a year later.

When I delivered my inaugural in 1965, however, the political complexion of the state government had undergone a drastic change. The Executive Council was Democratic and both houses of the Assembly were under Democratic control, a happy inadvertence that seems to occur only about once every thirty years in Iowa.

That year, some of the pundits predicted that the session would be ineffectual because the Legislature would simply be a rubber stamp. I can assure you it did not turn out to be a rubber stamp -- and I have the bruises to show for it. But once again, the members of both parties cooperated on the big issues and an impressive number of public interest measures were enacted into law.

This time we have a yet different situation, with the House Republican by a wide margin and the Senate Democratic by a Whisker. Once again, I have every confidence that we can work together constructively in the interests of the people of Iowa.

We have the advantage of seasoned and talented legislative leadership in both parties. You have chosen well and I commend you for it.

As in previous sessions, I will be available to confer with any member of the Assembly at all times, save when I am hemmed in by administrative duties that must be fulfilled.

I will respect, as in the past, the prerogatives of the Legislature and the heavy responsibilities and workload that you bear. The Chief Executive has certain important constitutional responsibilities in the legislative process, but the big job is yours. To the greatest extent possible, it is my intention to work with you, not against you or around you.

I am pleased to see that we have some ladies in the Assembly again. Not only do you grace the Legislature with your presence, Ladies, but you impart to the lawmaking a special kind of wisdom that it needs. We have had some very able women in the Iowa Legislature in recent years and they have commanded the respect of the male members because they earned that respect.

Occasionally you may find some grudging holdout against woman's rights, but sooner or later these men get their comeuppance.

Like the grouchy husband who complained bitterly to his wife that the country was going to the dogs because of women getting into public affairs...

"If you're really worried about it, dear," his wife said sweetly, "why don't you pray to God. Maybe she will help you."

Above all, throughout this session, I will do my utmost to communicate with you clearly on the issues. This is my duty and this is my nature. The stakes are too high to to let the lines of communication between the Executive and Legislature lapse.

I daresay that there has never been an Iowa Legislature in our history that has been faced with such a unique combination of heavy responsibility and golden opportunity.

We have the opportunity to make certain basic reforms in our state government that will lift the state ahead by a quarter of a century and assure our continuing progress.

As you all know, the economic health of the state is phenomenally good. There is a balance in the state treasury that makes many things possible. There is a growing public awareness of the need for making the basic reforms, rather than temporizing.

The stage is set. The timing is right. The circumstances are opportune for getting the job done.

If we succeed, we will benefit generations to come. If we falter, we will have defaulted on the greatest opportunity for constructive legislation that any session has had in modern Iowa history.

The big issues before us, such as government reorganization, tax revision, apportionment and capital improvements for our universities and state institutions, are not partisan matters. Their need has been recognized by leaders of both parties for decades.

If we fail, therefore, it will not be the Republican party or the Democratic party that will suffer -- but our two-party system itself.

The two-party system cannot survive on the shallow concept of "our side against your side," regardless of the issues. It can only survive if, in dealing with the big public-interest issues, the people of both parties are willing to set aside their partisanship for the common good.

Recently, thoughtful commentators have raised the question of whether or not political parties as they have existed through the years are relevant to present-day conditions.

In the session ahead, I believe we have a proving ground on which we can demonstrate to the people of Iowa the validity of two-party government.

Each of us was elected by people of Iowa, whether it was by the entire state or one particular district. Each of us feels that he has a mandate with which to keep faith. I sincerely hope there will be a broad base of agreement in our interpretation of what the people expect of us.

I will tell you what the legislative leaders of my party and I believe is expected of us by the people who returned us to office.

We believe they want us to go cleanly and clearly down the line for the longneeded improvements and reforms in Iowa government that we have stood for in the past four years.

We believe they want us to be ready for constructive compromise at any or all times.

But to surrender the great goals that are now within reach?

To turn back from the paths of progress that we have, at long last, found?

No. This is not what we construe the will of the people to be.

If we have interpreted our mandate incorrectly, I will be disappointed, but we will have to go with what we believe is right for the state, anyway.

The point I am making, of course, is that the greatest number of votes does not invariably determine what is right or wrong.

In the majority of instances and in the long run, you can count on the judgment of the people.

But sometimes issues get to the point when a decision must be made before Paul Revere has had time to make his appointed rounds.

It is then that men must put their necks on the block, regardless, and do what they believe is right, regardless of the consequences.

Personally, I would rather see our party a minority of six people with program and principle than a majority of 600,000 without dedication or direction.

If I offend anyone with my bluntness, I am sorry. I do not mean to do this. I feel nothing but good will toward any of you and I respect the integrity of your purpose whether we agree or differ on any issue.

But as I said earlier, I feel a deep and compulsive duty to communicate—and I intend to carry it out.

It may surprise you to hear me say this, but I couldn't care less about my own political future beyond this present term of office...and I couldn't care more about what we have the opportunity to do here for the future of Iowa.

The Inaugural Message, as I see it, is a much more personal and subjective kind of communication than the State of the State message you heard earlier this week. The State of the State is primarily a factual report on the status of the state and the state government and an accounting of developments that have taken place in the past two years.

The Inaugural Message, while it is primarily devoted to the Governor's legislative recommendations to the Assembly, affords opportunity for comment on administrative policy, philosophy of government and aspirations of the future of the state.

It will be readily seen that the preparation of the budget, which I will transmit to you next week, posed some unique problems this year. Two of the major issues before this session are government reorganization and tax revision. It is my hope that you will meet both of these challenges head-on. Of course, any decisive action taken by the Legislature in these areas may require some adjustments in the details of the budget. But I assure you that this does not present any insurmountable problems and that it will be promptly taken care of when the need arises.

In the meantime, I am submitting in my budgetary and legislative recommendations two initial steps towards tax reform as you will hear later in this message today. These two steps are within practical reach of our existing revenue capabilities.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

The dramatic economic development that Iowa has experienced in recent years has not been a matter of happenstance.

The operation of the Iowa Development Commission has been greatly improved and expanded. Local development commissions, city and county governments, chambers of commerce and other groups have energetically and imaginatively sought new industry. The Legislature has wisely provided state and local governments with effective tools to aid in development.

The thirteen recommendations I made in the area of economic development in my 1963 and 1965 inaugural messages have been implemented either fully or in part. Among these proposals were legislation to permit communities to issue revenue bonds to finance industrial sites and buildings, a statewide system of area vocational-technical training, the development of a tourist and travel promotion program in the Development Commission and the enactment of the Uniform Commercial Code.

In the biennium ahead, I believe that the operation of the Development Commission should be further strengthened with special emphasis on the Tourism Division; the effort to obtain a fair share of federal government contracts and research contracts should be stepped up; and the highly successful "Sell Iowa" trips and foreign Trade Missions should be continued. The industrial revenue bond law that has worked out so well for many Iowa cities should be amended to permit expansions of plants on existing bond issues and to remove the present limitations on the number of issues that may be outstanding in a community at any one time. The present statute permits only two issues in a community of 5,000 population and one more for each 10,000 additional or major fraction thereof.

As we all know, one of the urgent problems of our cities these days is what to do about the deterioration of their downtown business districts. I believe the Legislature should give this problem some study and consider the possibility of permitting municipalities to issue revenue bonds to rehabilitate downtown areas.

GOVERNMENT REORGANIZATION

The organizational genius of modern American business is one of the marvels of our age. Unfortunately, far too little of it has rubbed off on government.

The cumbersome, archaic, overlapping structure of our state government would not be tolerated by a private corporation for an instant. The first move by the board of directors would be to reorganize the obsolescent structure in order to establish executive responsibility down the line and to eliminate duplications of effort.

There is an urgent, long-standing need to overhaul the obsolescent machinery of our state government and to streamline, modernize and consolidate the more than 120 separate agencies, boards and commissions into an efficient, logically arranged structure.

The Public Administration Service report submitted to you earlier this week provides a sound, basic framework for reorganization. As I stated before, the plan can be changed to some degree without losing its effectiveness. It was expected that the Legislature would make some changes.

However, I would urge you, with whatever powers of persuasion I have, not to reject the entire proposition for reorganization because of disagreement with some of its details.

I know that you will be under tremendous pressure from well-meaning people connected with the state government who oppose the reorganization either out of misunderstanding or because they feel that it would diminish their own role or that of their agency.

However, if we don't come to grips with this longstanding need now, it may be another twenty years before there is an opportune time again.

I ask you, therefore, to meet this vital need head on and open mindedly.

If you will do this, I am sure that we can agree on a reorganization plan that will meet the needs of the late twentieth century and will immensely improve the efficiency and economy of the state government operation.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS FOR REORGANIZATION

As you know, a number of other proposed constitutional amendments were passed by the 1965 Legislature providing for organizational changes in both the executive and legislative branches of the state government. These included: annual sessions of the Legislature; authorizing the Governor to exercise item veto of appropriations bills; increasing the term of the office of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor from two years to four years and requiring that they be of the same political party by specifying that voters cast a single ballot for both; making the Secretary of State, the Treasurer, and Attorney General appointive officers, appointed by the Governor with the consent of two-thirds of the Senate; and making the Auditor an appointive officer, appointed by the General Assembly and serving at its pleasure.

These proposed constitutional changes are incorporated in the government reorganization plan you received on Monday. In the interests of good government in the years ahead, I urge you to approve these amendments.

REAPPORTIONMENT AND SUBDISTRICTING

In my 1965 inaugural message, I said: "As I have stated before, I favor subdistricting in legislative districts in which there are a number of representatives elected to one house." I followed up this statement by giving strong support to subdistricting during the sixty-first legislative session. Now subdistricting is the law of the state as a result of the Iowa Supreme Court ruling and some action to implement it will be required by this session.

The 1965 Legislature passed a proposal for a constitutional amendment to provide permanent reapportionment guidelines that I consider excellent constitutional law. I strongly urge you to approve this proposal for the second time and commit it to the vote of the people.

It is true that this proposal makes subdistricting permissive rather than mandatory. However, this is now an academic point since the Supreme Court has ruled subdistricting to be the law.

The proposed amendment would reduce the Senate from 61 to 50 members and the House from 124 to 100. Leaders of both parties, as well as outside authorities on government, have agreed that a reduction in the size of the Legislature is needed for more efficient operation.

I understand there is some hesitancy developing about endorsing the proposed amendment now because it could result in reduction of the size of the Legislature by 1968. I can only say that if the job needs to be done, it should be done now, and not two or more years from now.

I also understand there will be an effort made again in this session to marshal support for the Dirksen Amendment which calls for a departure in the U.S. Constitution from the one-man, one-vote principle. I cannot see the consistency of espousing the cause of one man, one vote in local subdistricting and at the same time seeking to corrupt it at the federal level. I will strongly oppose any endorsement of the Dirksen Amendment.

MUNICIPAL HOME RULE

The number one legislative goal of cities and towns for many years has been the quest for home rule in local affairs. Contrary to the misconception of some, home rule does not mean complete independence of the cities from the control of the Legislature. It is simply a sensible delegation of powers to local communities to act in purely local matters that are not in violation of state laws of general application.

For many years, municipal governments have been able to take only those actions that are specifically authorized in state law. If there is no authorization in the law, the city is stymied.

As a consequence, each session of the Legislature is required to deal with scores of matters of local government housekeeping that could better be handled by city and town councils.

The last session of the Legislature passed a proposed constitutional amendment for home rule with only two dissenting votes.

I strongly urge your support of this amendment in its second submission to the Legislature.

TAX REVISION

As a preliminary step to more extensive tax revision, I recommend that the personal property tax on household goods should be repealed at once and that the revenues it brings in--more than $5 million annually--which are presently distributed to local government, should be replaced out of general tax revenues. It has long been recognized that this "nuisance" tax, which is costly to administer in proportion to the revenues it yields, should be repealed. However, in former years, the state funds to replace this revenue were not available. Today they are, thanks to the state's remarkable economic growth.

I also recommend an effective plan for property tax relief to the elderly to be provided within the general framework of the existing homestead credit. As you know, the present homestead credit amounts to a maximum of $62.50, but has no age or income requirement.

I propose a plan of tax relief up to another $62.50 for citizens 65 and over based on need. To be eligible for the maximum additional tax credit, a family's income from all sources should be less than $3,000 and the assessed value of the property should not exceed $2,500. As income and assessed value go up, the tax credit would scale down. I propose that this tax credit also be extended to renters, as well as property owners, on the generally accepted estimate that 25 per cent of gross rents go for property tax purposes.

EDUCATION

There is no investment that is more important to our continuing advancement and well being than the investment in education. I am convinced that the vast majority of our people recognize this and are willing to do what is required to support first-class education in Iowa. This means paying competitive teachers' salaries, improving pension systems and providing the best modern school facilities.

We must look ahead. I have been criticized for suggesting that new schools should be air conditioned. I make no apology for this. In the long range, this will prove an economy measure--economy in the full and efficient use of our physical facilities and of our human resources as well.

State Aid to Schools

The 1965 session of the Legislature voted more than 50 per cent more school aid than ever before in the history of this state. It is abundantly clear that we need a further substantial increase for the biennium ahead.

Although I regard no service of the state as a higher priority than education, I do not want to sail under false colors. The needs in such areas as public safety, hospitals, highway construction, industrial development, welfare and conservation—to name only a few—are vital and cannot be neglected. But I can think of nothing more important to our future than education—from the elementary school to the university graduate school levels.

This is no time to retrench in this vital area.

As in the past, I emphatically oppose the proposal for paying larger amounts of state aid as a reward to school districts which hold local taxes below a specified level.

The goal of cutting out unnecessary school costs is one in which all taxpayers have common cause. But to adopt this "penalty clause" system of denying state school aid to those districts who do the most locally to support their school systems would be to deal a death blow to quality education in Iowa.

Educational TV and Communications

In addition to recommending increased state aid for public schools, I recommend as a high priority for public school education the establishment of a communication service network embracing educational radio and television for Iowa. It is obvious that this would help us obtain the maximum use of our teaching talent and would literally make available our educational resources to all of the people of the state.

Such an investment could serve the people of Iowa in many other ways as well as in education. I am talking about an integrated statewide communications system capable of handling the total service and emergency needs of the state on a dedicated system basis. The long-range capacity and flexibility of the system would take into account satisfaction of educational radio and television requirements and it would also take care of the communications requirements of various state agencies including long distance telephone, teletypewriter, radio and data transmission.

Area Schools

One of the most encouraging parts of the public education picture in Iowa today is the rapidity with which the Area Vocational School and Area Community College districts have been set up. I predict that within five years we will have over 50,000 students in these schools. This part of our educational system, so vital to the state's industrial development, will require a sharp increase in funds in the biennium ahead.

School Bus Issue

I reiterate my recommendation of four and two years ago that private school pupils should be allowed to ride public school buses to and from the public school destination. To me, children are children, regardless of race, color or creed, and the safety and well being of all children should be the concern of all citizens.

Amish School Problem

As you all know, one of the most sensitive school problems we have in the state relates to providing certified teachers to instruct the children of the Old Line Amish in the Hazleton area. In February of last year, a temporary solution to the problem was worked out between the Amish fathers and the Oelwein School Board to the great credit of all concerned. Under terms of the temporary agreement now in effect, the two rural schools of the Amish have been placed under the jurisdiction of the Oelwein public school system with certified teachers doing the instructing. These teachers, under the temporary arrangement, are being paid out of non-tax funds furnished to the school board by the Danforth Foundation of S.. Louis, a private foundation devoted to educational causes.

At the time the temporary agreement was reached, I pledged that I would propose and support legislation in the 1967 Legislature for a permanent solution to this sensitive situation. I am now honoring this pledge.

The arrangement I recommend is that a state fund be provided to be administered by the State Department of Public Instruction. This would be used as a supplemental aid to a school district in which such a school was "deemed to be necessary and in the public interest." The supplemental aid would be used for the same purposes as the private funds are being used for under the present temporary arrangements.

I realize that there is a deep difference of opinion on this matter and that the solution I recommend involves a departure from our uniform handling of school matters. I also acknowledge the logic and equity in the opposing viewpoint. However, I sincerely hope that you will not take a hard line on this, but will consider the problem with care and compassion. One of the most precious parts of our American heritage has been our willingness to go more than half way to assure minority groups freedom of conscience. In my book, it is a tradition infinitely worth preserving.

Higher Education

The fact that Iowa has great universities and research facilities, as well as good schools, has been one of the top contributing factors to our recent economic awakening.

President Howard Bowen of the University of Iowa has graphically pointed out the close relationship of quality in higher education to economic growth.

"The concept of education as the motive power for economic growth," he says, "suggests that expenditures for education may be regarded as investment in people, comparable to investment in factories and machines. The evidence is quite clear that investments in people currently yield higher economic returns than investments in things."

In the past two decades, the number of students enrolled in junior and fouryear colleges and universities in Iowa has jumped from 17,000 to 84,000.

The amount of money spent per year on research at our three state-supported institutions has gone from a little over one and a half million to almost $26 million. The total amount spent on capital improvements at the three institutions in this period has amounted to $75 million.

Comparatively large appropriations for operating costs and capital improvements were made by the Sixtieth and Sixty-first General Assemblies, but enrollments continue to increase and costs of quality education continue to rise.

I will recommend in my budget message that operating costs be further increased within the limitations of our capabilities and that substantial funds from the surplus be used for capital improvements. I believe the time has come to meet the need for a long-range program for capital improvements for our institutions of higher learning, and I recommend that favorable consideration be given to the capital financing plan which will be submitted to this session by the Board of Regents.

Looking to the future and to a possible 150,000 total college enrollment in our public and private institutions by 1980, I believe we must plan carefully to insure that tuition costs for higher education are not priced out of reach for people of modest means. The concept of providing reasonably priced higher education facilities for all of our students who desire it and can qualify for it is too precious an asset of Iowa to relinquish.

I favor designating the State College of Iowa a University as requested by the  $\operatorname{Board}$  of Regents.

HUMAN RESOURCE PROGRAMS

Public Assistance

Efficient, well-administered welfare programs that help people who really need help are the moral imperative and sound investment of a civilized society.

The basic objective of our welfare program is to help people to help themselves so that they can assume a useful and non-dependent role in our society. It is my conviction that half-hearted, inadequate administration of public assistance that demeans the recipient and falls short of meeting minimum needs is a waste of tax money -- because it doesn't get the essential job done.

The Social Security Act now permit recipients in the categorical assistance programs to receive modest amounts of monthly income without reduction in their allotments. I recommend that state laws governing Old Age Assistance, Aid to Dependent Children, Aid to the Disabled and Aid to the Blind be modified to correspond with the liberalized provisions of the Social Security Act.

I strongly recommend that adequate appropriations be provided to assure that dependent children under our Aid to Dependent Children program receive monthly grants computed on full subsistence needs instead of the 75 per cent they are receiving today. A great deal of publicity has been given to a small percentage of ADC mothers who have abused the grants they receive. I know there are occasional abuses in this and other assistance programs and I do not condone them for a moment. But the big picture is the 35,000 children who depend upon this program for their chance to grow up and become valuable, healthy and educated members of our society.

They should not be denied the standard of living provided for other categories of welfare recipients.

Legislation will be needed in this session to implement Title XIX of the Social Security Act to provide medical aid to welfare recipients. This proposed legislation will be submitted by a special committee of professional people and other leading citizens known as the Iowa Medical Task Force. I recommend that it receive favorable consideration.

Crime and Corrections

In the field of corrections, I recommend that a statute be enacted authorizing the establishment of a 'work release' program to permit inmates, on a selective basis, to secure employment or education prior to release or parole from our correctional institutions,

I recommend that consideration be given to the adoption of a 'Model Sentencing Act', along the lines of the act prepared by the National Council on Crime and Delinquency. Such a system of sentencing would greatly simplify an almost bewildering array of alternative sentences now provided in the Iowa Criminal Code, and would accomplish the dual purpose of assuring quality of sentencing while at the same time affording the public a substantially greater degree of protection from the dangerous offender. It would, I believe, provide an outstanding improvement in the administration of justice in Iowa.

I also recommend that the General Assembly give consideration to a state system of indemnification for innocent victims of violent crimes.

A child who is orphaned, a woman who is widowed or a wage earner who is incapacitated and deprived of his means of livelihood by simply being in the path of some crime of violence deserve some public consideration. While California is the only state that has such a law at present, other states are awakening to the need. Special consideration should be given in instances where persons are injured or killed in going to the assistance of individuals who are being attacked.

In the state corrections system, the emphasis continues to be on strengthening the programs of rehabilitation and education and on modernization of ancient and outmoded prison facilities.

I recommend that preliminary work be commenced on a modern, intermediate security corrections institution to replace the century-old reformatory at Anamosa. Provision for this item will be included in my budget.

Public Health

One of the most constructive achievements of the Sixty-first General Assembly was the reorganization of the State Department of Health.

The functions of the Health Department in serving local communities and regions is, however, severely hampered by inadequate and obsolescent laws relating to local health services contained in Chapters 137 and 138 of the 1966 Code of Iowa.

I strongly recommend that favorable consideration be given to the Local Health Services bill which is requested by the Health Department and the State Board of Health.

Human Rights

In my Budget Message next week, I will recommend a more adequate staff and budget for the Iowa Human Rights Commission, which was created by the Sixty-first General Assembly in 1965 and which has already become a strong influence against illegal discriminatory practices in our state.

Emotionally Disturbed Teen-Agers

We have come a long way in recent years in Iowa in advancement in mental health, special education and programs of treatment and training for disturbed and retarded juveniles. But I find that there are certain gaps in our system that need to be filled.

One of the big gaps, as I see it, is the urgent need for state programs of education, treatment and counseling for emotionally disturbed teen-agers. The age bracket from sixteen to adulthood is the one that concerns me the most.

With all of our modern services, we have virtually nothing to offer to meet this problem. And it is one of the most pressing problems of our time.

These disturbed young people, often among the brightest in their age groups, need more medical attention and special counseling than we are currently equipped to provide them. They need schools of a special type that we presently lack in our educational system. If helped over the hump, many of them can be saved to live useful lives -- and they are infinitely worth saving.

We have been concerned, and rightly concerned, about dropouts from school. The youngsters to whom I refer are dropouts from life -- unless we take the necessary measures to prevent this from happening.

I am asking a group of doctors, educators, professional welfare people and other citizens to recommend what we can do to meet this problem with the resources of the state government.

If legislative action is required to implement their recommendations, this will be the subject of further communication to you.

EMPLOYMENT

I recommend the following legislation in the area of employment: a change in the existing workmen's compensation law to extend workmen's compensation coverage to all employees; increases in workmen's compensation and unemployment compensation benefits; and enactment of a state minimum wage law.

I reiterate my belief that the section of the 1947 Iowa law which prohibits various types of union-management contract provisions and is generally known as "the right-to-work law" should be modified to eliminate the statutory prohibition of union shop contracts between employers and employees when the contract is agreed upon by both parties.

As I have stated in the past, I also favor legislation to prohibit secondary boycotts; to limit the use of injunctions without a hearing in labor disputes; and to provide a state Mediation and Conciliation Service that would plug a vital gap in our present legal structure governing labor-management relations.

I believe the Iowa Public Employees Retirement System law should be modified by (1) Removing the ceiling on salaries subject to the system, and (2) By raising the contribution rate for both employees and employers to 3.75 per cent.

These proposed changes will, on an actuarially sound basis provide higher pensions for those retiring in the future and also provide funds to increase pensions of those presently retired under the system.

CIVIL SERVICE

From the beginning of my connection with state government, I have strongly advocated the establishment of a state civil service system. An effective civil service system is one of the main planks of the government reorganization plan that has been submitted to you.

If only one governmental reorganization measure were to be enacted in this session, I would attach the highest priority to the institution of a system to take state employment out of politics.

NATURAL RESOURCES

I strongly favor continuing negotiations between the two states toward settlement of the Iowa-Nebraska boundary dispute. This would make possible the settle-of long-pending questions of land ownership and would open up the Western Slope of Iowa to commercial, industrial and recreational development.

I advocate that consideration be given to furnishing free hunting and fishing licenses for persons over 65 of limited means.

The number one priority for the Conservation Commission is the acquisition of more land to meet the rapidly growing demand of Iowa citizens for outdoor recreational facilities. Iowa has the smallest percentage of land for public park purposes of any of the states.

One of the tragedies that has come to Iowa in recent years is the Dutch Elm Disease that has killed thousands upon thousands of our majestic shade trees.

Dutch Elm Disease can be effectively controlled but control measures are costly. It is equally costly -- or perhaps even more -- to allow the disease to take its course.

The principal impact of the Dutch Elm Disease crisis falls on cities and towns, already strapped for revenues and bumping their heads on the 30-mill property tax limit.

I recommend that consideration be given by the General Assembly to providing limited state aid on an incentive basis to local governments grappling with the big problems of Dutch Elm Disease control.

I further recommend that consideration be given to enabling legislation to permit cities and towns to finance municipal Dutch Elm Disease control programs by the issuance of general obligation bonds.

I also recommend that funds be provided Iowa State University for expanded research in Dutch Elm Disease control.

In the past year, the Executive Council approved a small allocation from contingency funds to provide for a central laboratory service on a temporary basis at Iowa State University for culturing specimens of elm trees to determine whether or not they are diseased. This central laboratory service should be continued since most communities do not have the resources or qualified professional staff to set up their own laboratories.

On the administrative level, I have appointed a State Dutch Elm Disease Advisory Committee composed of key officials at all levels of government, scientists, educators, legislators and conservationists. This committee has been very active in developing and disseminating scientific information on the elm blight. The extension service of Iowa State University has cooperated admirably in assisting local government.

ments to combat this problem.

PUBLIC SAFETY

The most important single need in the area of public safety and law enforcement is, unquestionably, to upgrade the standards of our police and other law enforcement officals and to restore the public confidence in our security people.

In recent years, there has been a growing disrespect for law enforcement officers evident in Iowa as well as elsewhere in the nation.

It is not right or accurate to lay this entirely at the door of our restless teen-agers. The attitude permeates our entire society.

Too many people regard police officials as uniformed lackeys -- until an emergency arises and we need them.

We need to get at the roots of the problem -- to build up the standards, training and pay of our law enforcement officers to a point commensurate with the great responsibility they carry in our society.

We cannot expect the people to have any real respect for our laws until they have respect for our law officers.

For years, law enforcement officials and other authorities in the field have advocated the establishment of a law enforcement academy in Iowa as an important step towards raising the qualifications of our police.

I strongly support this recommendation.

Other recommendations I would make in public safety include a stepped up program for reexamination of licensed drivers; the establishment of a blood alcohol level of 0.10% as presumption for intoxication in OMVI cases; a further increase in the complement of the highway patrol; and the establishment of statewide motor vehicle inspections by private industry on a fee basis, and the meeting of other major requirements to meet federal minimum highway safety standards.

HIGHWAYS

Toll Bridge Authority

Iowa is unique among all of the states in that it is bordered on the east and west by two large rivers, the Mississippi and Missouri. This is in many ways a great advantage but it also creates some problems. The foremost of these is the fact that the state itself and the local communities on these rivers require bridges across them to aid in the flow of commerce and to carry the various interstate highways to and across this state. Iowa has the most to gain by having adequate river crossings because in most cases the river trade along these two rivers is on the Iowa side.

At the present time, we have 27 of these large river crossings. Many of them need immediate replacement. The total cost of a program aimed at the ultimate replacement of all of them as they become obsolete would be approximately $157 million.

A number of the local communities where replacement of bridges is most urgent, lack sufficient revenue potential to finance the construction.

Various solutions to this problem have been explored with local communities, neighboring states and the federal government. As a result of these studies, it has been determined that this construction can only be accomplished through a state agency.

It is logical that this agency should be the Iowa Highway Commission because the Commission is charged with the responsibility of the primary highways and these bridges are an integral part of the highway system.

I respectfully recommend to the General Assembly consideration of a measure which would authorize the Highway Commission to handle the construction of these bridges. The financing would be by revenue bonds which would constitute an obligation only of the Iowa Highway Commission secured by the toll revenues obtained by the operation of these bridges.

The ultimate goal of this plan is to aid in the construction of bridges across these two rivers wherever necessary and to make them toll free as soon as possible.

Interstate System

The National System of Interstate and Defense Highways is now more than 50 per cent complete in America. It has provided an outstanding record of roaduser safety as compared to other highway systems. Indications are that the Interstate System will be essentially completed by 1972.

I respectfully recommend that the General Assembly adopt a resolution urging the Congress to enact at the earliest possible time such legislation as will provide for expansion of the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways beyond the currently authorized program.

Highway Beautification

The federal government has passed legislation requiring every state to establish controls over all signs and junkyards located within 660 feet of our interstate and primary highways, both in cities and in rural areas.

I recognize that outdoor signs are a legitimate commercial use of private property adjacent to the public highways, providing a necessary service to the traveling public, and they should be allowed where other business and commercial activities are conducted.

I recommend that the General Assembly enact legislation providing sign and junkyard controls in order to protect the public investment in our highways, to promote the value of public travel, and to preserve the natural beauty of our state, while at the same time providing for a reasonable and orderly display of outdoor signs.

I am not happy about federal legislation which requires a state either to pass legislation or to face the consequence of the loss of federal funds. Nevertheless, I do believe that reasonable control of signs on land adjacent to our highways can be accomplished without ruling out a reasonable and orderly display of signs.

Road Use Tax

The dispute between the cities and towns and the counties over the allocation of the state road use tax fund is an unfortunate situation.

The large and small municipalities of Iowa, far behind in their street programs, hard up for operating revenues, and heavily in debt for street purposes clearly need a larger share of the state road tax fund.

On the other hand, there are many counties where road programs are still lagging, too, and where more, not less, funds are needed.

It has been suggested that the county road funds should be reallocated among the counties with greater emphasis on need than at present. It has also been suggested that a need factor should be applied to the city funds, as well.

I believe the cities and towns are entitled to at least 15 per cent of the state road use tax, as recommended by the professional road study report of 1960. Their request in the current session, as I understand it, is for 20 per cent.

However, I am opposed to the proposal that three cents per gallon of the tax refund the farmer receives for gas used for agricultural purposes should be diverted to secondary road expenditures.

I believe that the principle of supporting highways from highway-user taxes is still the best one to follow.

And I think the farmers are entitled to their exemption from taxation on gas used for agricultural purposes.

AGRICULTURE

Normal growth in the use of Iowa-produced agricultural products, can be expected with the expanding population of the United States. However, this population growth does not begin to require the production which our farms are capable of producing, based on our present availability of fertile land, machinery, fertilizer, agricultural chemicals, and technical knowledge.

If we are to realize the full potential of the agricultural resources of this state, then we must find additional cash markets for our farm production.

In a world where the vast majority of people still go to bed hungry, potential markets outside the continental United States could easily take all of our excess agricultural production.

When compared with the multi-billion dollar agricultural income of this state, funds expended for market expansion are very meager.

Considerable controversy has arisen in past years over the state's support of certain agricultural commodity groups and non-support of other commodity organizations. These organizations have done well with the limited funds available.

I recommend that legislation be passed which will provide the necessary machinery to allow commodity organizations recognized by the General Assembly and the producers of these various commodities to be supported by a semi-voluntary checkoff under the supervison of the Agricultural Marketing Division of the Department of Agriculture.

This should provide adequate funds to promote the sale and distribution of the major commodities which we produce in Iowa.

I further recommend that legislation relating to humane slaughtering methods be enacted for application to those establishments subject to the Meat and Poultry Inspection Act.

TREASURER

I recommend that the present limitation on the interest rate on public funds, both state and local, be removed. I am convinced that this action would be in the interest of local banks as well as the taxpayers of Iowa.

STATE OFFICE BUILDING

In government's eternal struggle of trying to stretch available revenues to meet vital needs, nothing is more difficult than to find funds for long-range capital improvements. When hospital or institutional facilities are needed, you can appeal to human compassion for support. But when you are talking about an administrative office building, you have only the unglamorous fact of running out of space to support your cause.

As you know, the construction of a second state office building is now under way. It is as clear as anything can be that by the time this building is ready for occupancy, we will once again be up against a crisis for office space.

It has been abundantly proved through the years that renting state office space is both costly and inefficient. The only way to avert this crisis of the future is to take prudent action now. I therefore recommend that preliminary work on another office building be approved and I have made provision in the budget for this need.

Other legislative recommendations that I recommend to you include these: Lowering the legal voting age to 18; liberalizing the residence requirements for voting in presidential elections; setting more realistic limits for spending by candidates in political campaigns and more effective requirements for financial disclosure by political candidates; establishment of a statutory state arts council; authorization for the use of interim funds to assist local governments in time of natural disaster, such as the tornado that struck Belmond last year; and authorization for projects to demonstrate methods of rehabilitating land affected by surface mining.

For the benefit of future administrations in Iowa, I would also recommend that a constitutional amendment be adopted relating to the location of the inauguration ceremonies. The Iowa Constitution specifies that the inauguration must be held in the House Chamber of the State Capitol.

In recent years, this has not been nearly large enough to accommodate the people who wish to attend. I sincerely believe that citizens who wish to watch the inauguration of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor should have the opportunity to do so and I therefore suggest this constitutional change.

I would add to this list another legislative proposal that I consider to be of more importance than is generally recognized.

One of the principle deterrents to persuading qualified persons to take high government positions is the hazard they run in getting unwittingly involved in "conflict of interest" situations. This problem is particularly acute in its application to appointive state officials who serve on important state boards or commissions on a part-time basis.

I believe the time has come to develop legislation that will define, as clearly as possible, what constitutes an illegal conflict of interest in state offices. If we had a clear-cut understanding on this point, it would be fairer to the people we ask to serve in these posts at a personal sacrifice and less confusing to the public.

As you will recall, legislation of this kind was passed by the last session of the General Assembly with respect to municipal officials, and while it does not purport to do a perfect job, I am told that it has cleared the atmosphere considerably.

Certainly I believe that the public needs to be protected from genuine conflict of interest situations in government. On the other side of the coin, it should be seen that citizens serving in public office also have a right to be protected from imputations of wrongdoing for which there is no substantive basis.

Ladies and gentlemen, I have covered a lot of territory in these remarks thus far today, and I appreciate your courteous attention through the long voyage.

I have only a few more comments to make and then I will take your leave.

In government and political science circles, no subject is more widely discussed these days than the declining role of state governments in our federal system.

I think that the majority of Iowans of both political parties feel that we need a strong state government.

There are a few people, of course, who feel that our mission in life is simply to siphon all the federal funds we can into our state, whatever the need or method may be.

Some wag has labeled these federal aid programs "Manna from Uncle." I think he is the same fellow who referred to our wrangling with our teen-agers as "The War on Puberty."

On the other hand, there are quite a number of people who would reject  $\underline{all}$  federal programs and who, as a matter of fact, regard the U.S. government as a hostile, alien power.

Most of us, however, are in between these extremes. We simply want our state government to assume its proper and responsible role in our federal system.

How do we go about strengthening the role of the state?

I think we need to pay less attention to state's rights and more attention to state's responsibilities.

In many ways, the states have not been fulfilling responsibilities that should properly be theirs. They have not, for example, been attentive to some of the most pressing needs of local communities.

As a consequence, the federal government has moved in with an ever-growing repertory of grants-in-aid programs to meet these local needs. To an increasing degree, the state governments have found themselves left out in the cold.

What I am saying is that a great deal of the reason for the decline of the state's influence has not been in the stars or in Washington . . . but in ourselves.

In the recommendations for action that I have made in this Inaugural Message, I have visualized the state as a strong, responsible partner in our federal system.

Our state can be strong only if we make it strong.

Those of us who are native to Iowa know it is not legend but truth that on a hot summer night you can literally "hear the corn" grow in this state.

In the past few years, it seems to me that you could literally "hear Iowa grow" . . . in stature, prosperity and human understanding.

We have always had the physical and spiritual resources to excel in any endeavor we might undertake.

In recent years, we have learned to use those resources. We have discovered our own strength and our own pride.

The farmers of Lowa are still the greatest producers of food and fiber the world has known.

We have no intention of surrendering our front rank in agriculture.

In the meantime, we are competing  $\operatorname{\mathsf{--}}$  and competing in the big leagues  $\operatorname{\mathsf{--}}$  for new industry.

We are competing -- aggressively -- for new export markets for our farm commodities and manufacturing products.

We are competing, as indeed we must, in the pursuit of knowledge through our schools and universities.

We are competing in intellectual and cultural activities. We are proud of our poets, our painters, our musicians who win prizes in foreign lands.

We will stack up against the best our professional people, our second-to-none labor force, our business leaders, our educators and scholars... and most assuredly our great farmers.

We are competing in all of these areas, not because of any sense of narrow chauvinism or false pride, but because the quest for excellence is our heritage and destiny as a people.

So Iowa has crossed over in this era from the quiet ways of its agrarian past into the turbulent, big league competition of an industrialized, urbanized society.

As Iowa has developed in recent years, so have its problems grown in dimension and complexity.

At this early stage of the legislative session I am sure that the problems you have facing you look very awesome indeed  $\dots$  and they are.

Yet there isn't a problem ahead that we don't have the resources to meet.

The mistake people sometimes make is to expect neat and final solutions to complex problems of our society. We're not going to find this kind of solution to many problems.

Yet we will continue to move ahead, to plow new furrows and to stem old tides. Having come so far, I am sure that none of us wants to turn back.

I leave you with these words of Scripture:

"No man, having put his hand to the plough, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God." (Luke IX 62)

The benediction was offered by the Right Reverend Gordon V. Smith, Bishop, Diocese of Iowa Episcopal Church, Des Moines, Iowa.

Governor Harold E. Hughes was escorted from the House chamber by the committee previously appointed.

Senator Frommelt of Dubuque moved that the reading of the minutes of the joint convention be dispensed with.

The motion prevailed.

Millen of Van Buren moved that the joint convention be now dissolved.

Motion prevailed.

The Senate returned to the Senate Chamber and resumed regular session, President Pro-Tempore O'Malley presiding.

PRESENTATION OF LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR FULTON.

Senator Frommelt moved that a committee of three be appointed to escort Lieutenant Governor Fulton and Mrs. Fulton to the rostrum, which motion prevailed, and the Chair appointed as such committee Senators Frommelt, Rigler and Coleman.

The committee waited upon Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Fulton.

President Fulton said:

President Pro Tempore O'Malley, majority floor leader Frommelt, minority floor leader Rigler, Members of the Senate, Ladies and Gentlemen:

For the second time the honor of being inaugaurated as Lieutenant Governor and being allowed the privilege of presiding over the Iowa Senate has been bestowed upon me. On days as this, winners of elections are honored, while those who were not so fortunate are among the spectators. The election for Lieutenant Governor indicated both candidates on days such as this deserve recognition. It is for this reason that I would like to recognize Senator Mills. Why I stand here today and he does not, cannot be explained but, Senator, the closeness of the contest makes my obligations the greater, and I will do my utmost to fulfill them.

This session of the legislature, as all previous sessions, has difficult problems before it. These problems can be studied and their perspective become so overwhelming that we do nothing. If we follow this course, the history of our state will not remember that we denied our obligations. For the state of Iowa will continue. But our failure will be nonetheless tragic. State government will continue, of course, but our session could well determine its effectiveness and its ability to provide the services demanded by its citizens.

The 62nd General Assembly should resolve the basic problem of reapportionment. We should sub-district and reduce our size. Many thoughts have been contributed on this subject since the fall of the gavel Monday. They have been from both political parties and many individuals. It is my opinion that a solution may be contained in these suggestions if we lay aside party labels. Let us establish a stable legislative system bi-partisanly, and have our partisan competition, with its benefits, within that system.

Many suggestions are before the legislature to modernize our governmental structure. These include governmental reorganization. This session should not shelve the reorganization study that has been presented. In 1975 they should not be referring to the Brookings study, the little Hoover Report, and the P.A.S. study of 1967 as examples of comprehensive studies that past legislatures have ignored. The problem has been studied: It is now time for action.

Every effort should be made to establish a new formula for distribution of school aid in our state. The Senate committee on education will have a standing sub-committee on distribution of school aids. It is my hope that a new formula will be adopted and with an adequate appropriation to allow the formula to function.

These are but three of the issues that should be resolved by the 62nd General Assembly. While the task is difficult it is not impossible or even improbable. I assure the members of this body that my most honest effort will be supplied toward these ends. I look forward to working with you in the coming session. I ask your aid and counsel and will be ready at all times to reciprocate whenever possible.

By Coleman

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE, THE HOUSE CONCURRING: That a joint convention of the two houses of the Sixty-second General Assembly be held on Thursday, January 19, 1967 at 2:00 p.m.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That Governor Hughes be invited to read his budget message at this joint convention of the two houses of the General Assembly and that the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House be designated to deliver the invitation to him.

On moton of Senator Coleman the resolution was adopted.

REPORT ADOPTED

Senator Kruck called up the report of the Committee on Committee Clerks filed by him, and found on pages 120 and 121 of the Senate Journal, and moved its adoption.

The motion prevailed and the report was adopted.

The Clerks appeared before the bar of the Senate and were duly sworn.

Senator Rigler submitted the following report: January 17, 1967

MINORITY REPORT OF THE BUDGET AND FINANCIAL CONTROL COMMITTEE

To the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the members of the Sixty-second General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

We, the undersigned, hereby submit the following minority report of the Budget and Financial Control Committee:

Since the Sixty-first General Assembly saw fit to relieve the Budget and Financial Control Committee of most all of its financial functions and since the majority party members of the committee fired the Fiscal Director in July of 1965, the committee has occupied itself mainly with mere visitations of state institutions. These are important, but hardly merit the full time and talent of the committeemen.

We are happy that a new Fiscal Director was hired in November of 1966 and we trust that in the future a qualified director and staff will be retained on a full time basis. Each legislator is urged to read the duties and responsibilities of the committee in Chapter 2 of the Code. We feel that during the interim there is a real need for a legislative committee to perform 'watchdog' duty covering all state agencies, boards, commissions and institutions. Detailed reports of its investigations should be supplied periodically to members of the General Assembly. This phase of the committee's duties should be greatly expanded in the coming biennium.

This General Assembly may wish to consider the wisdom of the decision made by the Sixty-first General Assembly transferring the contingent funds of the state to control by the Executive Council.

ROBERT RIGLER

ELMER DEN HERDER

JOHN SHOEMAN

CONRAD OSSIAN

Senator O'Malley submitted the following report:

MAJORITY REPORT OF BUDGET AND FINANCIAL CONTROL COMMITTEE

To the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the members of the Sixty-second General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

The Budget and Financial Control Committee of the Sixty-first General Assembly submits the following report:

At the date of the first meeting, June 24, 1965, the Committee was organized.

Several requests were presented to the Committee under the law as it was prior to July 4, 1965. The requests were from the Board of Control, Board of Regents and the matter of a bridge contract between the State Highway Commission and Iowa State University at Ames, all of which were approved.

The employment of the Legislative Fiscal Director and his staff was terminated at the July 16, 1965 meeting. For the period from August 7, 1965 to December 1, 1966 this action reduced the State's payroll by $44,505.25.

The Committee started scheduling its visits to the various State Institutions during July, 1965. The minutes record the meetings with the Board of Control, Board of Regents, State Highway Commission, Department of Public Safety, State Conservation Commission, State Fair Board and the Commissioner of Insurance.

At the August 24, 1965 meeting, Senate Resolution 3 was made a part of the Committee's minutes. The Resolution read as follows:

WHEREAS, the cost of caring for mentally ill persons in mental health institutes has increased significantly in recent years, and

WHEREAS, it is reasonable to believe that much of this increase is due to the more intensive psychiatric treatment, and

WHEREAS, it is also reasonable to believe that not all patients in the mental health institute receive the same intensive psychiatric care but instead are treated in at least three categories of care, namely intensive treatment, continued treatment and custodial care, and

WHEREAS, it appears that by averaging the costs of care the custodial patient is subsidizing the intensive care patient, who because of the high cost of intensive care would be pauperized if he had to pay the full costs, and

WHEREAS, it appears that a method other than that of the state general fund being reimbursed by the county and the county being reimbursed by the patient or his relatives, is the method presently used for mentally ill but not for physically ill presently cared for by state and county agencies, and

WHEREAS, the long term mentally ill patient receiving continued care or custodial care is required to shoulder a burden which would be more appropriately carried by all Iowans, and,

WHEREAS, this problem appears an appropriate subject for legislative study,

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE that the Board of Control of State Institutions shall report to the Budget and Financial Control Committee within one year from adjournment of the Sixty-first General Assembly. Such report shall provide costs of care for patients under intensive treatment, patients under continued treatment and patients under custodial care rather than an average cost of care for all patients. Such report shall also contain Board of Control definitions of these terms and the methodology for determining such costs in each category.

ROBERT D. FULTON
President of the Senate

ROBERT G. MOORE Secretary of the Senate

On September 1, 1965 the Committee inspected the fire loss at the State College of Iowa. After much discussion the Committee concurred with the action of the Executive Council as to reimbursements to the Board of Regents, in accordance with Section 19.7, Code of Iowa.

In January 1966 the Committee continued its schedule of visiting the various State Institutions,

On February 10, 1966, pursuant to a request of the Legislative Research Committee, the Committee released $50,000, or so much as may be necessary to finance the project of putting the Code of Iowa and the Constitution on magnetic tape and to enter into a contract therefor.

At the February 22, 1966 meeting at Mitchellville, Marie Carter, Superintendent of the Girls Training School recommended that a portion of paragraph 2 of Section 232,37, Code of Iowa, 1962, be added to the new laws in Chapter 232, "that married women and girls who are pregnant are not to be committed to the training school."

On November 28, 1966 the Committee employed Gerry D. Rankin as Fiscal Director and at the December 8 meeting the office was implemented by setting a budget and authorizing the hiring of an assistant and a secretary.

On December 12, 1966 the report of the Board of Control on Resolution 3 was received and is as follows:

BOARD OF CONTROL OF STATE INSTITUTIONS

DIVISION OF MENTAL HEALTH

BOARD OF CONTROL

DATE: December 1, 1966

FROM:

TO:

J. O. CROMWELL, M.D., DIRECTOR

SUBJECT: COST OF PATIENT CARE

In April, 1966, when I first became Acting Superintendent at Mt. Pleasant Mental Health Institute, it was my intention to try and develop data which could serve as a basis for answering questions like those asked in the Lisle resolution.

As you know, the business managers of our institutions and Doctor Burnett from my office prepared an extensive document to come up with an answer but I, at least, was dissatisfied with the answer they gave me, although it was all they had. Therefore, I immediately started working with the business manager at Mt. Pleasant organizing the hospital so that an answer to the type of service being provided could be obtained from the data available.

In July, when I employed Doctor Fox, I asked him to continue with the reorganization of the hospital and with the analysis of the cost of patient care and to report to me when he thought the report would have some meaning.

The following Report is the first financial report and is based on the reorganized hospital. They state in their report that they feel there are still many inaccuracies but they hope that by January first they can get at least one or two more months of accurate information so that we may report something meaningful to Senator Lisle and to the Legislature.

I want to express my appreciation to Doctor Fox, Superintendent, and to Monte Welker, Business Manager, who have prepared this report. It looks simple but believe me controlling factors that go into a report of this kind is next to impossible, but I am sure they would not make such a report unless they thought they could get into a position to control the factors enough to give a practical answer to the questions asked.

Respectfully submitted,

J.O. CROMWELL, M.D. Director of Mental Health

At the final meeting of the Budget and Financial Control Committee on January 6, 1967, Section 16.2(11), Code of Iowa, 1966, was discussed by the Committee and they recommended that the Printing Board fully comply with this section as set out in the Code.

Respectfully submitted.

HOUGEN, STANLEY, WALSH,
KYHL, SHAFF, BALLOUN,
MESSERLY and VAN EATON

WHEREAS, the federal government has for many years been returning funds to the states by grants-in-aid programs with conditions attached, and

WHEREAS, in far too many cases such categorical, specialized federal grants have failed to accomplish their objectives and been very wasteful, and

WHEREAS, states and local governments could resolve a great many of society's problems if they had the needed resources, and

WHEREAS, the federal government has usurped the most productive tax resources within the states by federal income taxes, excise taxes, etc., leaving to the states only inadequate sources of revenue, and

WHEREAS, much of the failure of the federal grants-in-aid programs has been because they ignore local conditions such as transportation, education and skills of workers, etc., which further complicate a problem which may be readily solved in one area but only compounded in another, and

WHEREAS, if the federal government would return to the states a flat percentage of federal taxes collected within each state with no conditions attached except, perhaps, bloc grants could be specifically earmarked for general categories such as education, Now Therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF THE SIXTY-FIRST GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF IOWA; THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING:

That, the Legislature of the State of Iowa urges the Congress of the United States to inaugurate a program of tax-sharing with the States whereby the local governments may have the necessary resources to solve local problems unhampered by restrictions imposed by legislators and administrators not familiar with the particulars involved in each community.

Senate Joint Resolution 8, a joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Iowa relating to the composition of the General Assembly, the basis of representation of the members thereof, and the establishment of congressional districts.

Be it Resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

Section 1. The following amendment to the Constitution of the State of Iowa is hereby proposed.

Section six (6) of Article three (III), section thirty-four (34) of Article three (III) and the 1904 and 1928 amendments thereto, sections thirty-five (35) and thirty-six (36) of Article three (III) and the 1904 amendment to each such section, and section thirty-seven (37) of Article three (III) are hereby repealed and the following adopted in lieu thereof:

"Section 6. The number of senators shall total not more than one-half (1/2) the membership of the house of representatives. Senators shall be classified so that as nearly as possible one-half (1/2) of the members of the senate shall be elected every two (2) years.

"Section 34. The senate shall be composed of not more than fifty (50) and the house of representatives of not more than one hundred (100) members. Senators and representatives shall be elected from districts established by law. Each district so established shall be of compact and contiguous territory. The state shall be apportioned into senatorial and representative districts on the basis of population. The general assembly may provide by law for factors in addition to population, not in conflict with the constitution of the United States, which may be considered in the apportioning of senatorial districts. If the apportionment fails to become law prior to September 15 of such year, the supreme court shall cause the state to be apportioned into senatorial and representative districts to comply with the requirements of the constitution prior to December 31 of such year. The reapportioning authority shall, where necessary in establishing senatorial districts, shorten the term of any senator prior to completion of the term. Any senator whose term is so terminated shall not be compensated for the uncompleted part of the term.

"Section 36. Upon verified application by any qualified elector, the supreme court shall review an apportionment plan adopted by the general assembly which has been enacted into law. Should the supreme court determine such plan does not comply with the requirements of the consitution, the court shall within ninety (90) days adopt or cause to be adopted an apportionment plan which shall so comply. The supreme court shall have original jurisdiction of all litigation questioning the apportionment of the general assembly or any apportionment plan adopted by the general assembly.

"Section 37. When a congressional district is composed of two (2) or more counties it shall not be entirely separated by a county belonging to another district and no county shall be divided in forming a congressional district."

Section 2. The foregoing amendment to the Constitution of the State of Iowa has been adopted and agreed to by the Sixty-first (61st) General Assembly, and having been referred by such Assembly to the Legislature to be chosen in the next general election, being the 62nd General Assembly, and having been duly published in accordance with and in compliance with the direction of the Sixty-first (61st) General Assembly, it is now adopted and agreed to by the Sixty-second (62nd) General Assembly in this

to the

SIXTY-SECOND GENERAL ASSEMBLY

by

Honorable Harold E. Hughes, Governor of Iowa

Joint Session, January 19, 1967

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Honorable Members of the Sixty-second General Assembly, Ladies and Gentlemen;

Chapter 8 of the Code of Iowa specifies that "not later than February 1st of the year of each biennial session the Governor shall transmit to the legislature a document to be known as a budget, setting forth his financial program for each of the fiscal years of the ensuing biennium."

The derivation of the word budget is a matter of some interest. It comes from the Latin and French words meaning bag and, in our language, a "budget" formerly meant a "loose bundle."

Whatever else may be said about the budget I am about to submit to you, I assure it is not a loose bundle. A bundle, nothing but not loose bundle, a bundle, nothing but not loose bundle.

you it is not a loose bundle. A bundle, perhaps, but not loose.

Copies of the complete text of this message will be distributed to you following this joint convention, together with copies of a not-so-brief set of financial schedules known as the "Budget in Brief." The complete printed budget, showing a detailed breakdown of all proposed expenditures by departments and of all sources of revenue will be transmitted to you within the next few days.

Literally hundreds of individuals have roles in providing the facts and figures that go into this financial plan for the state for the next two years. I acknowledge with gratitude the dedicated cooperation of department heads and other key personnel and the good work of the Comptroller and his able staff.

If a Budget Message has a reason for existence, it should be something more than a deadly recitation of statistics that can be more clearly seen from the actual tabulations

It should, as I see it, be an expression of a basic philosophy of government. And it should set forth a specific plan for action based on that philosophy together with an analysis of the special needs and conditions of the period involved that are relevant to good financial planning.

The most salient fact about our present condition in Iowa is, of course, our extraordinary economic health. We have had four consecutive years of record industrial development. Farm income has been relatively good and agricultural production has been at high levels. Our rate of general economic growth has been ahead of the national average and ahead of the states around us. We have been at the forefront among the states in the rate of increase in personal income.

I mention these facts not to ring any bells of self congratulation but to emphasize conditions that need to be taken into consideration in our financial planning. It is much easier to identify major social and economic trends in a history book than to recognize what is happening in our own time and place. This is not just another era in Iowa's development; it is one of our finest hours and I believe we have the responsibility to make the best of it.

Most economists agree that our favorable economic growth trend is likely to continue, although probably not at the unprecedented rate of the past few years. Many imponderables will influence the future -- such as weather, federal taxes and the international situation. These factors are beyond our control.

Other factors that will shape the years ahead are within our control and capabilities. If we are to keep our development going in this competitive age, it will be necessary to make the long-range public investments in education, industrial promotion, public safety, public health, conservation and the other vital fields that will provide the necessary foundation for continuing growth. Obviously, this entails some sacrifice of immediate luxury and personal convenience in order to build a better future for ourselves and our children.

The Old Testament prophesy of seven years of plenty and seven years of famine does not literally apply to the Iowa of our times and we can be thankful for that. But the underlying point is valid. History shows that such rapid economic growth as we have been experiencing recently does not continue indefinitely. In a period of comparative affluence, such as the present one, I believe the prudent course is to take care of some basic, long-range needs while we have the resources with which to get the job done.

The most widely discussed factor that enters into our financial planning is the current substantial surplus in the state's general fund.

Part of this surplus, as you know, is non-recurring revenue resulting from the establishment of the withholding system for the individual income tax last year and from the institution of monthly, instead of quarterly reporting, in the method of collecting the sales taxes.

Another very substantial factor in the sharp upturn of revenues from the personal income tax was the fact that the advent of withholding caused thousands of persons to file and pay state income tax who had previously been non-filers. For the first time in history, we had reasonable assurance that all of those who should pay state income tax were, in fact, paying their fair share.

However, the major part of the surplus results, as previously stated, from our economic growth on many fronts.

There are those who advocate the spending of a sizable portion of the state's balance through the immediate distribution of cash refunds to the taxpayers amounting to half of the 1965 personal income tax paid.

I do not question the desirability of any kind of a refund or that there are logical arguments to support the idea. However, I sincerely urge you to reject the proposal. The immense benefits of investing these funds in our future will far outweigh the immediate luxury of a refund that would be modest for most taxpayers.

I would emphasize the fact that the surplus consists entirely of legitimate, oncecollected state revenues. No taxpayer has paid any tax twice, although it is true that the 1965 personal income tax was collected in the same year in which wages were withheld for the 1966 taxes.

The present state surplus that looks large at first glance undergoes a rapid shrinkage when you start allocating it to the growing needs of the state that are set forth in this budget. And in the end, no matter how prudently the available funds are expended, we will fall short of meeting the major needs as adequately as we would like. But we will have made a giant stride in that direction.

I would call your attention to the fact that a surplus in the state treasury is not a new or unique phenomenon in Iowa. Many times in the past, our Legislatures have had targe surplus funds to work with. In 1949, for example, the surplus was almost identical in dollars with what we have today.

The point is that in each instance, these Legislatures of the past did not elect to invest the available funds in the growing needs of the state. The most tragic part of these earlier decisions was the repeated neglect of capital needs.

As a consequence, we have today, not only our current problems to deal with, but we have a great deal of catching up to do as a result of the omissions of the past.

Responsible budget-making calls for constant reference to the total structure of the governmental function -- the big, over-all picture of our revenues and needs. To the best of my ability, I have recommended departmental expenditures where I felt they were needed the most at this particular time. In some cases, I have sorely regretted the necessary gap between a department's asking and the recommended figure in the budget.

There will, of course, be many differences of opinion on the suggested allocations. But I sincerely hope that we can agree on one basic point -- that we should take advantage of this opportune time to invest in the substantive needs of the state and not to repeat the errors of the past. Only in this way, as I see it, can we keep faith with ourselves and with future generations of Iowans.

REVENUES FROM EXISTING TAX BASE

For the past several years, I have been calling attention to the signs of increased vitality in Iowa's economy. But the amazing thrust of our economic growth during the past two years, as measured by such a reliable economic indicator as the rate of increase in personal income, has far surpassed my most optimistic expectations.

Reflecting this remarkable advancement on many fronts of the state's economy, the state government's revenues have run substantially ahead of our predictions. It was originally estimated that there would be an unencumbered balance in the state treasury -- available to provide a working balance and appropriations for the next biennium -- of approximately $30 million on June 30, 1967, the end of the current biennium.

It is now anticipated that this unencumbered balance or surplus will be $94.4 million.

Originally, the total receipts for the present biennium were estimated at $528.5 million. It is now anticipated that the total receipts will be $601.8 million -- an increase of $73.3 million for the biennium.

The increases have occurred in all revenue sources, but principally in the two taxes which comprise the major source of revenues -- personal income taxes and sales taxes. These are the "backbone" taxes which furnish the bulk of the support for the state's appropriations for the Board of Regents, Board of Control, Social Welfare, School Aids, and other major state functions.

Sales tax receipts totaled $86.2 million in the first year of the current biennium, and it is estimated that they will total $93 million in this, the second year. Both totals are exclusive of the non-recurring revenues received as a result of the institution in 1966 of monthly, instead of quarterly reporting, in the sales tax collection.

Percentagewise, these totals represent increases of eleven and nine per cent for the first and second years respectively. Making due allowance for inflation, such increases are unprecedented in the history of the state's sales tax revenues.

The fact that Iowa has been a leader among the states in rate of increase in personal income in recent years is reflected in the growth of our receipts from the personal income tax.

For three consecutive years, ending with June 30, 1967, the record will show a gain for each year of 20 per cent or more. This is exclusive of the one-shot revenue gain we had last year as the result of the establishment of the withholding system.

Projecting this growth at a somewhat lesser rate for the biennium ahead, revenues from income taxes are extimated to total in excess of $115 million for the year ending June 30, 1969 -- or an increase of more than 140 per cent in five years.

Indications are that the revenue growth from our sales and income taxes will continue at a healthy rate in the two years of the next biennium. However, it would be unrealistic to assume that the recent phenomenal rate will be sustained. Growth rarely continues over long periods at such rates of increase.

Consequently, my budget and related revenue estimates for the next biennium are calculated on a growth factor of approximately six per cent for each year in the sales tax revenues and growth factors of 15 per cent and 10 per cent respectively in the personal income tax revenues.

As a result of the economic growth of the past two years and its projected continuation, it is possible to do a reasonable job of meeting the ongoing needs of the state and to catch up with some of the accumulated needs of the past with existing revenue sources.

This budget, therefore, calls for no tax increases at this time.

In line with the philosophy expressed earlier in this message, it will be seen that I have recommended that our surplus be used primarily for capital needs appropriations and the maintenance of a safe and reasonable working balance of about $12.7 million in the state treasury.

PROPOSED EXPENDITURES

The budget I recommend to you today is a balanced budget with an average annual expenditure of $376.3 million. This is an increase over the previous biennium of more than $100 million per year. Substantial increases are provided for capital improvements, Board of Regents institutions, Board of Control institutions, Vocational Education, and local aids to schools. Also, funds are provided for other local credits by the state to replace or supplement existing local taxes.

It will be seen that the greatest area of increase is in education and related programs of state aid to local governments.

State support of education at all levels through operating funds and state aids, plus the homestead credit, agricultural land tax credit and other state funds that are channeled back to the local level comprise 61.4 per cent of my proposed budget. This amounts to $231 million -- $64 million more than for this biennium and $23 million more than the entire state budget for 1963-1965.

Specifically, my major budget recommendations for the next biennium are as follows:

Board of Regents

Enrollments continue to increase at our three state-supported institutions of higher learning. Competition for faculty and staff becomes more keen each year. To help meet these needs, I recommend an annual increase of $18 million in operating funds for the Board of Regents institutions, or a total for each year of $80 million. This is an increase of nearly 30 per cent over the present biennium, and represents the largest increase, both in dollars and percentage, in recent years.

Board of Control

I recommend an annual appropriation of $35.9 million for the Board of Control institutions, as compared to $28.8 million available for the current biennium.

Included in my recommendations are the funds needed to move all of the institutions toward the respective national standards in mental health and corrections. In some areas, large additional appropriations are needed to meet these standards -- particularly in mental retardation programs at Glenwood and Woodward -- while in other areas lesser increases are necessary.

In corrections, funds are provided for the operation of the Iowa Security Mental Health Facility at Oakdale to be completed during the coming biennium, and of the Prerelease Center at Newton.

Funds are provided in my recommendations for the Foster Care Program initiated during the present biennium at the Iowa Training School for Boys at Eldora, the Training School for Girls at Mitchellville, the State Juvenile Home at Toledo and the Annie Wittenmyer Home for neglected and dependent children at Davenport.

Within the central office budget of the Board of Control, funds are provided in my recommendations to expand the Board's Community Services Division, which provides child welfare and juvenile parole services in the larger cities and towns of Iowa.

Conservation Commission

Funds are provided for increased activity in the area of conservation and for further utilization of our natural recreational areas. A large step was taken by the Sixty-first General Assembly which nearly doubled the appropriation to the Conservation Commission's program. The amounts suggested in this budget recommendation continue the program adopted two years ago and also provide for additional conservation officers to staff the new recreational areas.

Health Department

Notable advancement in our public health programs has been made in the past two years as a result of the reorganization of the State Board of Health and our State Health Department.

Funds have been provided in my recommended budget to insure the continuance of the active and dedicated public health program now under way and to enable the Health Department to expand its activities in the area of local health services.

Social Welfare

I recommend to you that the budget of the Department of Social Welfare be increased to $33.8 million per year, or an increase of nearly 40 per cent. Also, as an integral part of this increase, I recommend the legislation necessary for the State of Iowa to participate immediately under the Medical Assistance Program of the Federal Government, commonly referred to as Title Nineteen of the Social Security Act, which provides medical benefits to welfare recipients.

With this legislation, and the funds I have recommended, we will be able to provide full subsistence payments in the categorical assistance programs, including principally Old Age Assistance and Aid to Dependent Children.

Further, I propose that the State assume a greater portion of the financial responsibility for the Foster Care Program now being borne by the counties in the Child Welfare Program. This amounts to approximately $750,000 each year of the biennium.

Public Safety

During the present biennium, 100 patrolmen were added to our Highway Patrol complement to cope with the explosive increase in traffic on our highways. We are still short of needed law enforcement. I am, therefore, recommending that an additional 30 patrolmen be added each year of the coming biennium. This would provide a total Highway Patrol force of 460 by July 1, 1968.

To help control the rising incidence of traffic accidents, I am recommending additional funds for research, statistics, information, and education programs of the Department of Public Safety.

Development Commission

The Iowa Development Commission has had a significant role in Iowa's unparalleled industrial growth of the past few years. Funds are provided in this budget to strengthen the Commission's operation with particular emphasis placed on additional staffing needs in export programs, state regional workshops and tourism.

Agricultural Products Promotion

An appropriation for Agricultural Products Promotion in the amount of $250,000 for each year of the biennium is recommended in this budget.

In any Budget Message, it is obvious that time does not permit detailing the specific recommendations for every department. Yet the operation of each department is so vital to meeting one or another phase of human needs that I hate to pass over any one of them. As I proceed with this message, I will simply touch upon a few high points to suggest the scope and diversity of the material you will find in the complete budget report. Among my remaining recommendations, for example, are the following:

Agriculture Department -- Increase in number of inspectors to enforce the Meat and Poultry Inspection law.

Civil Rights Commission -- Additional staff and budget to combat illegal discriminatory practices.

Commerce Commission, Utilities Division -- A substantial increase in staff and operating funds for regulation of public utilities in Iowa.

Higher Education Facilities Commission -- Appropriation for scholarships to Iowa students on a need basis.

Industrial Commission -- Provision for a Rehabilitation Division to provide services quickly and adequately for those injured in industrial accidents.

Bureau of Labor -- Further implementation of the program of the Employment Safety Commission for the prevention of industrial accidents.

Parole Board -- Five additional agents to more adequately rehabilitate parolees.

State Planning Office -- Funds to provide the state's share of our federally assisted comprehensive, long-range state planning program.

State Treasurer -- Funds to provide for full-time investment services of competent and expert staff.

District and Supreme Court Judges -- Funds for salary increases in keeping with duties and responsibilities of the judiciary.

Tax Commission -- Implementation of a more fully automated system in withholding collections and refunds.

Vocational Rehabilitation -- Expanded program in rehabilitation in conjunction with the Federal Programs. Also, Capital funds for replacement of older facilities.

Public Instruction Central Office -- Increase in staff for counseling with area vocational schools and junior colleges.

STATE AID TO SCHOOLS

Two years ago, I recommended and the legislature approved, substantial additions to the State Aid Programs, so that the state would participate in the rising costs on the local levels. The increase in school aids was approximately $18.1 million, plus $3.7 million in increased Agricultural Land Tax Credits.

My present recommendations for State Aid to Schools call for a total of $73.3 million per year, as compared to $48.2 million for the current biennium -- an increase of more than 50 per cent. Further, I recommend an increase of $4 million in the Agricultural Land Tax Credits, or a total of $19 million for each year.

Included also in the total state aids is the recommendation that the general school aids be divided equitably between the Community College -- Vocational School students and the elementary--secondary students.

LOCAL TAX CREDITS

As noted previously, I am recommending several local tax credits, for replacement of local taxes or for needed relief to certain groups of citizens.

First, I recommend that $1.5 million be appropriated annually to supplement the Moneys and Credits Replacement Fund created by the last General Assembly. This will provide that claims against the fund by the counties will equal the tax funds lost locally. It is not anticipated that this appropriation will be necessary subsequent to this General Assembly, as money raised by the surtax on taxable income over $9,000 will be increasing at a faster pace than the fixed claims.

Secondly, I propose an additional benefit to elderly persons with limited incomes who are in need because of costs resulting from property taxes or rents. This benefit, limited to $62.50 per year per household, would be based on gross income of the household and the assessed valuation of the homestead or the monthly rent paid.

Finally, I recommend that the state replace from its tax sources the local funds raised on the taxation of household goods -- approximately $5.3 million per year. All of us are familiar with the local problem of assessment and administration of this nuisance tax. To insure orderly elimination of the tax, I recommend the state reimburse the local governments for this loss in revenue, at least for the next two years.

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS

I recommend a total capital expenditure for new or remodeled building facilities, land and equipment in the next biennium of $69.2 million, as compared to $42.9 million in the present biennium -- an increase of 61 per cent.

Major areas of increase are as follows:

Board of Regents -- up $9 million to $30 million. Board of Control -- up $3 million to $9 million. Department of Public Instruction -- up $11.6 million to $17.6 million.

The Board of Regents capital recommendation will provide funds to continue and accelerate the construction of needed buildings on the campuses of the three state institutions of higher learning at Iowa City, Ames and Cedar Falls. Also included are funds for construction of a state law enforcement academy.

Included in the Board of Control recommendation are funds to complete the maximum security hospital at Oakdale and funds to commence the planning and initial construction phase of a new intermediate security corrections institution which will ultimately replace existing and obsolete facilities at Anamosa.

Of the capital recommendation for the Department of Public Instruction, $14 million is to build additional schools in the state area vocational-technical school system which was so well started with a $6 million appropriation from the last General Assembly.

Also recommended for the Department of Public Instruction is $3 million for the establishment of a communication service network for Iowa, embracing a statewide system of educational radio and television -- an area long overlooked, but with farreaching potential.

For the Conservation Commission, I recommend $6 million in capital funds, to be used with federal funds for the purchase of land and the meeting of other capital needs in the area of conservation and outdoor recreation.

Finally, in the capital improvements budget, I recommend $4.5 million for completion of the State Office Building now under construction, and for another new structure of similar size. This additional building will insure that aged structures which presently house state offices and which have long been condemned by the fire marshal as unsafe, can be replaced and costly rentals for state office space scattered in various locations away from the Capitol grounds can be avoided.

STATE SALARIES AND FRINGE BENEFITS

Significant and important changes were made by the General Assemblies in the past two sessions relating to the 'employment environment' of state employees. The Sixtieth General Assembly provided changes in the Iowa Public Employees Retirement System which laid the framework for long-range retirement planning. I propose further changes within this framework now -- first, the removal of the ceiling on salaries subject to the system, and secondly, raising the contribution rate for both employees and employers to 3.75 percent.

As I stated in my Inaugural Message to you last week, these proposed changes will, on an actuarially sound basis, accomplish both higher pensions for those retiring subsequently, and also provide the funds to increase pensions of those presently retired under the system.

While there are other technical changes suggested in the retirement system to you in my budget, these are the two main improvements necessary to substantially upgrade the system at this time.

The Sixty-first General Assembly substantially raised the salary level of the executive group in state government, following an independent study. The purpose of the increases was to attract and keep competent people in public service. My budget proposal continues this policy of providing adequate, competitive salaries for key state administrators.

It was apparent to me during the course of the departmental budget hearings that while the basic salary structure for state employees is approaching a more competitive basis with business and industry, the state has not kept pace at all in the field of "fringe benefits." Accordingly, in addition to the proposed increases in the Iowa Public Retirement System, I recommend that funds be provided for an employees' life insurance group policy, to be paid fully by the state. While details are yet to be completed, it appears that a fair and equitable plan would be to provide for a $5,000.00 group policy for all full-time employees, with some lesser amount of paid-up insurance provided upon retirement.

Also, funds are provided in my budget recommendations to double the participation rate by the state in the hospital and major medical plan, raising the state participation to a maximum of six dollars per month.

Thus, with an improved retirement plan, adequate vacation and sick-leave policies now in existence, group life insurance, and increased participation in the hospital and medical plan, it is our hope that the loss of qualified state personnel because of lack of fringe benefits will be arrested.

I do not mean to slight the basic pay policies, or indicate to you that in every area of employment we have adequate pay scales. This would be far from the truth.

Pay scales in some areas are still inadequate as measured by the standards of the present day, although encouraging progress has been made in recent years. Moreover, there are some inequities within the governmental framework where a certain class of employees in one department or division may be drawing less than the same class of employment elsewhere. As you review the individual departmental budgets, you will see that I have made suggestions to eliminate such inequities.

It is obvious that one of the prime needs of the state is to attract and keep qualified personnel. Looking at this problem realistically, I have provided in this budget for increases of approximately four to five per cent annually to all employees, based on merit.

STATE MERIT SYSTEM

Competitive pay scales, working conditions and fringe benefits are all necessary if we are to get the quality of people we want in government service. But there is another imperative -- and perhaps it is the most important one of all.

We need a sound and fair merit system for all state employees, and funds for the development and administration of such a system are provided for in my proposed budget. A patronage system with its never-ending political hirings and firings does not meet today's demands for trained and dedicated personnel.

As I have stated before, I am willing to work with you on any reasonable and workable merit system plan that you can offer,

Ladies and Gentlemen, these are the general outlines of the budget.

You will note that it is a balanced budget without tax increases.

In drawing up this budget, I have not pre-supposed what the General Assembly will do regarding government reorganization.

However, consideration was given to the prospect of major reorganization as we went along, and the budget as transmitted can be adapted with no difficulty to a reorganization structure designed along the general lines of the Public Administration Service recommendations.

The state aids that I recommend in this budget represent far and away the greatest state outlays to local jurisdictions in Iowa's history.

Despite this fact, I do not pretend that even these sizable increases will reduce local property tax loads. This can only be accomplished, as we all know, by major revision of our entire assessment and state-local tax structure.

I have recommended some needed tax relief measures earlier in this message, but these are simply beginning steps toward major tax reform.

I will be communicating with you further in the days ahead on the subject of tax revision and I stand ready to discuss with any of you, individually or collectively, the problems relating to our present tax structure and possible changes in it. I have also advised the department heads involved in the over-all taxing structure, the administration of our taxes and the collection of our revenues, to be prepared to work closely with your committees upon remest.

Despite the comparative affluence of the state at the present time, I am well aware that you and your constituents are deeply concerned about the inequities in our present tax system. Farmers and city dwellers alike carry a heavy burden of property tax. Older citizens on fixed, limited incomes find themselves hard-pressed. Businessmen and farmers pay a major part of the costs of government through the personal property tax. Industries show constant unease about local property tax rates in communities where their plants are located.

These inequities in our tax system need to be corrected and we are all aware that it will take a lot of doing. The present economic health of the state and the favorable fiscal condition of the state treasury afford us an opportune time to give basic tax reform the intensive consideration it must have.

In the meantime, it would be the sheerest folly to retrench at this point and to turn back from the path of progress we have, at long last, found. This would be to kill the goose that lays the golden egg. All of our bright hopes for progress, including tax reform, would go glimmering if we permitted this to happen.

Recently I read about some citizens in a city of another state who were petitioning to have the name of their street changed. The name they objected to was "High Tax Road." I am sure that none of us want to live on High Tax Road. We also don't want to live on Stagnation Avenue. We would like the street where we live and the state where we live to be subject to fair and reasonable taxes and to be provided with quality services of progressive government.

Ladies and Gentlemen, the tasks before you are very great. But the opportunities for constructive action are unparalleled.

I have the deepest faith in your ability, your determination and your integrity of purpose.

May the Good Lord help you make those decisions that will build a better Iowa for the good of all.

The Senate returned to the Senate Chamber and resumed regular session.

Senate Elvers called up for consideration Senate Rule 16 as submitted by the committee on Rules and Enrolled Bills and offered the following amendment to Senate Rule 16, asking for its adoption:

COMMUNICATION FROM THE CHIEF JUSTICE

IN THE MATTER OF THE RULES OF CIVIL PROCEDURE REPORT OF THE SUPREME COURT OF
THE STATE OF IOWA

TO THE SIXTY-SECOND GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF IOWA:

I.

The Supreme Court, on recommendation of its Advisory Committee on Rules of Civil Procedure, has prescribed and, pursuant to Section 684.19, Code of Iowa 1966, reports to you rules and amendments to existing rules as follows:

Rule 237 is revised to read:

237. On what claims. Summary judgment may be had under the following conditions and circumstances:

(a) For claimant. A party seeking to recover upon a claim, counterclaim, or cross-claim or to obtain a declaratory judgment may, at any time after the appearance day or after the filing of a motion for summary judgment by the adverse party, move with or without supporting affidavits for a summary judgment in his favor upon all or any part thereof.

(b) For defending party. A party against whom a claim, counterclaim, or crossclaim is asserted or a declaratory judgment is sought may, at any time, move with or without supporting affidavits for a summary judgment in his favor as to all or any part thereof.

(c) Motion and proceedings thereon. The motion shall be filed at least 10 days before the time fixed for the hearing. The adverse party prior to the day of hearing may file opposing affidavits. The judgment sought shall be rendered forthwith if the pleadings, depositions, answers to interrogatories, and admissions on file, together with the affidavits, if any, show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact and that the moving party is entitled to a judgment as a matter of law. A summary judgment, interlocutory in character, may be rendered on the issue of liability alone although there is a genuine issue as to the amount of damages.

(d) Case not fully adjudicated on motion. If on motion under this rule judgment is not rendered upon the whole case or for all the relief asked and a trial is necessary, the court at the hearing of the motion, by examining the pleadings and the evidence before it and by interrogating counsel, shall if practicable ascertain what material facts exist without substantial controversy and what material facts are actually and in good faith controverted. It shall thereupon make an order specifing the facts that appear without substantial controversy, including the extent to which the amount of damages or other relief is not in controversy, and directing such further proceedings in the action as are just. Upon the trial of the action the facts so specified shall be deemed established, and the trial shall be conducted accordingly.

(e) Form of affidavits; Further testimony; Defense required. Supporting and opposing affidavits shall be made on personal knowledge, shall set forth such facts as would be admissible in evidence, and shall show affirmatively that the affiant is competent to testify to the matters stated therein. Sworn or certified copies of all papers or parts thereof referred to in an affidavit shall be attached thereto or filed therewith. The court may permit affidavits to be supplemented or opposed by depositions, answers to interrogatories, further affidavits, or oral testimony. When a motion for summary judgment is made and supported as provided in this rule, an adverse party may not rest upon the mere allegations or denials of his pleading, but his response, by affidavits or as otherwise provided in this rule, must set forth specific facts showing that there is a genuine issue for trial. If he does not so respond, summary judgment, if appropriate, shall be entered against him.

- (f) When affidavits are unavailable. Should it appear from the affidavits of a party opposing the motion that he cannot for reasons stated present by affidavit facts essential to justify his opposition, the court may refuse the application for judgment or may order a continuance to permit affidavits to be obtained or depositions to be taken or discovery to be had or may make such other order as is just.
- (g) Affidavits made in bad faith. Should it appear to the satisfaction of the court at any time that any of the affidavits presented pursuant to this rule are presented in bad faith or solely for the purpose of delay, the court shall forthwith order the party employing them to pay to the other party the amount of the reasonable expenses which the filing of the affidavits caused him to incur, including reasonable attorney's fees, and any offending party or attorney may be adjudged guilty of contempt.

Rule 238 is revised to read:

238. Procedure. Motions and affidavits relating to any claim under rule 237 shall be filed and copies delivered as provided in rule 82 and hearing shall be had thereon as provided in rule 117.

366. Computing time - holidays. In computing time under these rules the provisions of Code section 4.1 subsection 23 shall govern.

II.

The Legislative Court Study Commission in Part I of its report dealing with Court Structure has recommended the creation of a unified trial court. The report recommends, as an essential adjunct to such unification, a simplified procedure for the enforcement of small claims. The legislature must act on certain recommended bills before a unified court can be established. However, the rules of procedure for a small claims action are the proper subjects of the rule making authority of the supreme court. The commission has set out, commencing on page 16 in Part I of its report, the small claims rules and has submitted them to the supreme court for action.

Section 684.19 of the 1966 Code of Iowa requires the supreme court to report any rules or forms which it may prescribe to the General Assembly within 20 days after the commencement of the regular session. While it is highly unlikely the legislature will have completed action on this important proposition within that time, it is essential that the small claims rules be effective if the legislature does act favorably on the proposition of the unified court during this session. Without expressing approval or disapproval of any of the report of the Legislative Court Study Commission, the supreme court has prescribed rules for the enforcement of small claims to be effective in the event the Sixty-Second General Assembly in regular session adopts legislation creating a unified trial court system. Pursuant to Section 684.19 Code of Iowa 1966 these rules, intended to constitute an additional division to the existing Rules of Civil Procedure, are reported to you as follows:

DIVISION XX

SMALL CLAIMS PROCEDURE: Rules 373 to 383, inclusive, shall take effect January 1, 1969.

Rule 373. Commencement, docket. Civil actions in which the amount in controversy in money or value is less than $300, exclusive of interest and costs, shall be known as small claims. All such actions shall be commenced by the filing of an original notice with the clerk and by the mailing by the clerk of a copy of same to each defendant at his last known address, as stated in the original notice, by restricted, certified mail, return receipt to the clerk requested. Instead of such mailing, the plaintiff may, after filing the original notice with the clerk, cause a copy of same to be served on all or some defendants in the manner provided in Division III of these rules, whereupon rules 48 and 49 shall be applicable as to the defendants to be so served. The clerk shall maintain a book known as the small claims docket, which shall contain as to small claims the matters contained in the combination docket as to the regular civil actions.

Rule 374. Original notice. The original notice must be mailed or otherwise served not less than 10 nor more than 20 days prior to the hearing date. The original notice and copies shall be signed by the plaintiff, either in person or by attorney, and shall be in substantially the following form:

Rule 375. Function of Clerk. The clerk shall furnish forms of original notice. At the time of filing, the clerk shall enter on the original notice and the copies to be served the file number and the time and place of hearing, which shall be a time when small claims are scheduled to be heard not less than 10 nor more than 20 days after the date on which the notice will be mailed or otherwise served. The clerk shall mail a copy of the original notice to each defendant by restricted, certified mail, return receipt to the clerk requested, except for defendants whom the plaintiff wishes to serve under Division III of these rules. The clerk shall advise plaintiff of the time and place fixed for the hearing.

Rule 376. Fees, costs. Fees and costs shall be one-half of fees and costs in regular civil actions in district court.

Rule 377. Pleadings, Except as provided in rules 374 and 378, there shall be no written pleadings or motions unless the court in the interest of justice requires them, in which event they shall be similar in form to the original notice.

Rule 378. Joinder, counterclaim, cross claim, intervention.

Division II of these rules and rule 75 shall be applicable to small claims actions, except that rule 29 shall not apply to actions originating as small claims actions.

In small claims actions, if a party joins a small claim with one which is not a small claim, the court shall (1) order the small claim to be heard under this division and dismiss the other claim without prejudice, or (2) as to parties who have appeared or are existing parties, either (a) order the small claim to be heard under this division and the other claim to be tried by regular procedure or (b) order both claims to be tried by regular procedure.

In small claims actions, a counterclaim, cross claim or intervention in the amount of a small claim shall be in writing and similar in form to the original notice, and shall be entitled Original Notice of Counterclaim, of Cross Claim, or of Intervention, as the case may be. A copy shall be filed for each existing party. New parties may be brought in without order and shall be served with notice as provided in rules 373 and 374; and if notice is to be served by mail the clerk shall collect the cost of mailing before filing the pleading. The clerk shall furnish forms of such pleadings. No counterclaim is necessary to assert an offset arizing out of the subject of the plaintiff's claim.

In small claims actions, a counterclaim, cross claim or intervention in a greater amount than that of a small claim shall be in the form of a regular pleading. A copy shall be filed for each existing party. New parties, when permitted by order, may be brought in under rule 34 and shall be given notice under Division III of these rules. The court shall either (1) order such counterclaim, cross claim, or intervention to be tried by regular procedure and the other claim to be heard under this division, or (2) order the entire action to be tried by regular procedure.

(e) In regular actions, when a party joins a small claim with one which is not a small claim, regular procedure shall apply to both unless the court transfers the small claim to the small claims docket for hearing under this division.

In regular actions, a counterclaim, cross claim, or intervention in the amount of a small claim shall be pleaded, tried, and determined by regular procedure, unless the court transfers such small claim to the small claims docket for hearing under this division.

(g) Pleadings which are not in correct form under this rule shall be ordered amended so as to be in correct form; but a small claim which is proceeding under this division need not be amended although in the form of a regular pleading.

(h) Copies of any papers filed by the parties which are not required to be served, shall be mailed or delivered by the clerk as provided in rule 82.

Rule 379. Proof of service. At the time for hearing the court or clerk shall first determine that proper notice has been given a party before proceeding further as to him, unless he has appeared or is an existing party, and also that the action is properly brought as a small claim.

Rule 380. Default. Unless good cause to the contrary appears, (1) if the parties fail to appear at the time of hearing the claim shall be dismissed without prejudice by the court or clerk; (2) if the plaintiff fails to appear but the defendant appears, the claim shall be dismissed with prejudice by the court or clerk; and (3) if the plaintiff appears but the defendant fails to appear, judgment shall be rendered against the defendant by the court, or by the clerk if the relief to be granted is readily ascertainable. The filing by the plaintiff of a verified account, or an instrument in writing for the payment of money with an affidavit the same is genuine, shall constitute an appearance by plaintiff for the purpose of this rule. At the request of either party, the court shall grant such party one continuance to a day certain.

Rule 381. Hearing. The time for appearance shall be the time for hearing, unless a continuance has been granted under Rule 380. The hearing shall be to the court, shall be simple and informal, and shall be conducted by the court itself, without regard to technicalities of procedure; but the decision must be based on substantial evidence. The court shall swear the parties and their witnesses, and examine them in such way as to bring out the truth. The parties may participate, either personally or by attorney. The court may continue the hearing from time to time if justice requires. The proceedings shall not be reported unless a party provides a reporter at his own expense or the parties by agreement cause the proceedings to be electronically reported, but there shall be no delay for such purpose.

Rule 382. Judgment, minutes.

(a) The judgment shall be entered in a space on the original notice first filed, and the clerk shall immediately enter the judgment in the small claims docket and district court lien book, without recording. Such relief shall be granted as is appropriate. The court may enter judgment for installment payments to be made directly by the party obligated to the party entitled thereto; and in such event execution shall not issue as long as such payments are made but execution shall issue for the full unpaid balance of the judgment upon the filing of an affidavit of default. When entered on the small claims docket and district court lien book, a small claims judgment shall constitute a lien to the same extent as regular judgments entered on the district court judgment docket and lien book; but if a small claims judgment requires installment payments, it shall not be enforceable until an affidavit of default is filed, whereupon it shall constitute a lien for the full unpaid balance of the judgment.

(b) Unless the hearing is reported, minutes of the testimony of each witness and of any stipulations of the parties shall likewise be entered on the original notice first filed; and the exhibits or copies thereof shall be attached to such original notice or be filed, until released by the court.

Rule 383. Other statutes and rules. Small claims shall be commenced, heard, and determined in district court in accordance with this division, but this division shall only be applicable to district court. Other statutes and rules relating to civil proceedings shall apply, but only insofar as not inconsistent with this division. Small claims on file for 90 days and not determined shall be dismissed without prejudice unless prior thereto a party secures an order of continuance to a date certain after notice and hearing, upon a ground stated in rule 215.1. Contested claims in an amount of a small claim may be heard and determined under this division and actions therefor may be commenced hereunder; if commenced as a regular civil action or under the statutes relating to probate proceedings, they shall be transferred to the small claims docket and proceed accordingly. Civil actions coming within this division but commenced as a regular action shall not be dismissed but shall be transferred to the small claims docket and proceed accordingly. Civil and probate actions not coming within this division but commenced hereunder shall be dismissed without prejudice except for defendants who have appeared, as to whom such actions shall be transferred to the combination or probate docket, as appropriate and proceed accordingly.

If the Sixty-second General Assembly fails to create a unified trial court system, the "small claims" rules appearing in this part II of the report to you shall be void and of no effect.

Respectfully submitted, THE SUPREME COURT OF IOWA T. G. GARFIELD, Chief Justice

MESSAGES FROM THE HOUSE

The following messages were received from the House:

Mr. President: I am directed to inform your honorable body that the House has adopted and agreed to the following House Joint Resolution in which the concurrence of the Senate is asked: House Joint Resolution 4, relating to the composition and apportionment of the General Assembly.

Also: That the House has adopted the following House Concurrent Resolution in which the concurrence of the Senate is asked: House Concurrent Resolution 3, urging Congress to inaugurate a program of tax-sharing with the States.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 3

By: Story, Conklin, Bowin and Voorhees
(Lodwick, Rigler and Flatt)

WHEREAS, the federal government has for many years been returning funds to the states by grants-in-aid programs with conditions attached, and

WHEREAS, in far too many cases such categorical, specialized federal grants have failed to accomplish their objectives, and

WHEREAS, states and local governments could resolve a great many of society's problems if they had the needed resources, and

WHEREAS, the federal government has obtained the most productive tax resources within the states by federal income taxes, excise taxes, etc., leaving to the states only inadequate sources of revenue, and

WHEREAS, much of the failure of the federal grants-in-aid programs has been because they did not have knowledge of local conditions such as transportation, education and skills of workers, etc., which further complicate a problem which may be readily solved in one area but only compounded in another, and

WHEREAS, if the federal government would return to the states a flat percentage of federal taxes collected within each state with no conditions attached except, perhaps, bloc grants could be specifically earmarked for general categories such as education, Now Therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF THE SIXTY-SECOND GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF IOWA: THE SENATE CONCURRING:

That, the Legislature of the State of Iowa urges the Congress of the United States to inaugurate a program of tax-sharing with the States whereby the local governments may have the necessary resources to solve local problems unhampered by restrictions imposed by legislators not familiar with the particulars involved in each community, except such regulations and procedural guidelines as are necessary to preserve for all citizens the full and free exercise of all rights of citizenship.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to each of the members of the Iowa delegation in Congress.

Also: That the House has adopted the following House Concurrent Resolution in which the concurrence of the Senate is asked: House Concurrent Resolution 4, urging all legislative personnel to purchase United States Savings Bonds.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 4 By: Caffrey of Polk

WHEREAS, President Johnson has said "The Savings Bonds Program is both prudent and patriotic. It is patriotic because it strengthens the economy of our country; it supports our fighting men in Vietnam and the cause of freedom everywhere; it helps to preserve the buying power of our dollars. For all of these reasons, I believe U.S. Savings Bonds are the most important investment any American can make." and

WHEREAS, President Johnson has also said "Today, above all, is a time for all Americans to rededicate themselves to the spirit that animated the Minutemen of Concord who serve as a symbol of the Savings Bonds Program. For today, as at the founding of our nation, it is freedom which is again at stake. Not all of us are called upon to fight in the jungles of Vietnam, but while our men are there, in the front lines of a distant land, none of us can remain aloof on the sidelines. We must all do our share - in every way we can - to support our men in Vietnam. One sure way is open to all Americans through the Savings Bonds Program."; therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE, THE SENATE CONCURRING, that all members of the Sixty-second General Assembly, their staffs and all other legislative personnel are hereby urged to purchase a United States Savings Bond each month that the General Assembly is in session so that they will by precept and example encourage all Iowans to do likewise.

Also: that the House has adopted the following Senate Joint Resolution in which the concurrence of the House was asked; Senate Joint Resolution 13, ratifying a proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States relating to succession to Presidency and Vice Presidency.

WILLIAM R. KENDRICK, Chief Clerk

WHEREAS, the vigor and responsiveness of state and local governments are essential elements of our governmental system; and

WHEREAS, existing categorical federal aid programs in many instances impede state and local governments from meeting priority public needs in a manner effectively suited to the varying problems and needs of individual state and local governments; and

WHEREAS, the principle of tax sharing would allow state and local governments more adequate revenue sources, NOW THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF THE 62ND GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF IOW, THE SENATE CONCURRING:

That the Legislature of the state of Iowa urge that the federal government adopt new federal intergovernmental fiscal policies which reflect a basic change in emphasis, giving more discretion and responsibility to state and local governments and moving away from the over-reliance on national controls under the very large number of existing categorical federal grant-in-aid programs; and

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 14 By: Buren and Murray

WHEREAS, federal interstate highways provide untold benefit to the social and economic welfare of both states and the nation; and are an essential part of our national defense system; and

WHEREAS, the state of Iowa has for all practical purposes completed construction of Interstate 80 through the state but is experiencing delay in the construction of Interstate 35; and

WHEREAS, there has been considerable controversy and changing of plans over the routing of Interstate 35 north; and

WHEREAS, the State Highway Commission and the Federal Bureau of Public Roads have changed the routing of Interstate 35 from a point parallel to U.S. 69 north to a diagonally eastward to a point just west of U.S. 65 and Mason City, Iow.; and

WHEREAS, this change in routing has caused considerable controversy between the State Highway Commission and property owners in the area of the diagonal and has been a matter of concern to all citizens of the state; and

WHEREAS, it is common knowledge that the change in plans will result in more expense in construction and maintenance than the original routing; and

WHEREAS, a greater majority of the citizens of the state would be served to a greater extent if the original routing were followed with the diagonal constructed from Garner, Iowa to Clear Lake, Iowa rather than as presently planned; and

WHEREAS, the State Highway Commission and Federal Bureau of Public Roads have refused to reverse their decision on constructing Interstate 35 parallel by passing Mason City; now therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE, THE HOUSE CONCURRING, that the matter of constructing U.S. 35 in Iowa be brought to the attention of the Congress of the United States and that members of Congress give serious consideration to:

- 1. Reviewing the general policies of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads in regard to locating and constructing interstate highways within the states.
- 2. Comparing the policies followed in other states in locating and constructing interstates with the policies followed in the locating and constructing of Interstate 35 in Iowa.
- 3. Reversing the decision of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads in locating and constructing Interstate 35 in Iowa along the Mason City routing and so that the route will be parallel to U.S. 69.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to forward a copy of this resolution to the following:

The presiding officer of the Senate of the United States, the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States, the Secretary of Commerce of the United States, the Chief Highway Administrator of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, the Iowa delegation of the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States, and the chairman of the Iowa Highway Commission.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 9

By the Roads and Highway Committee

WHEREAS, the Federal Aid Highway Act of 1956 and other federal statutes, created and established a program for the construction of a system of interstate and defense highways, and federal-aid primary and secondary highways with urban extensions in the State of Iowa and the several states of the nation; and

WHEREAS, the federal statutes have defined the sources of revenue and have dedicated the funds exclusively for the timely and orderly development of the highway system; and

WHEREAS, the Congress of the United States, under the Highway Act of 1956, as amended, has specified that these funds SHALL be distributed; and

WHEREAS, for the past decade the federal government has urged the State of Iowa and this state's highway industry to step up construction, and Iowa has been most cooperative in this regard as is evidenced not only by the accelerated highway program but also by the training and establishment of a skilled work force, and by the large, long-term capital investments undertaken by contractors, subcontractors and material suppliers to meet this commitment; and

WHEREAS, the construction team of working men and equipment, of professional engineers and contractors, once developed and operating efficiently, cannot be sustained if the financing becomes spasmodic and unreliable; and

WHEREAS, it has been definitely demonstrated in Iowa that better highways save the time, lives and money of our citizens, and that the consequences of a reduction in highway improvements would adversely affect the well-being of our citizens and cause further suffering and tragic loss of lives; and

WHEREAS, the orderly development of these modern highway systems is essential to preserve the national defense by providing the means of moving expeditiously the critical weapons, materials and personnel, and of coping with the aftermath of natural disaster or nuclear attack; and

WHEREAS, the rapid and convenient transportation of field crops, dairy and food products, livestock, lumber and minerals from the farms, ranches, mines and mills to distant consumer markets is essential to preserve these basic industries in the State of Iowa, and to expedite the flow of commerce between the states.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, by the Sixty-second General Assembly of the State of Iowa, now in session, the Senate and House of Representatives concurring, that we respectfully petition the President of the United States, although justifiably concerned with the inflationary trends developing throughout the nation, to reconsider his decision to cut back on this most vital and necessary federal-aid highway program which, if not continued in an orderly fashion, will have lasting adverse effects upon the national defense and the economic stability of the State of Iowa and the several states.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives of the State of Iowa be hereby authorized and directed to forward certified copies of this Resolution to the President of the United States, to each member of the Iowa congressional delegation and to the leadership of the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE ON SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION 9

I voted "No" on Senate Joint Resolution 9, which would give the vote to 18 year olds, not on the merits of the bill but because of the arbitrary tactics used by the Senate Majority Leader in rushing the bill up for consideration in FLAGRANT VIOLATION of the traditions of both houses. The Senate committee voted this bill out just yesterday. I voted in favor of the bill in committee. To take it up today required suspension of the Senate Rules and the orderly processes of this Senate.

The House on this matter moved much more promptly, and has the bill on the very top of its calendar this very day. Today's actions of the Senate Majority Leader on this bill are in open defiance of the prerogatives and the rights of our equal body, the House of Representatives.

Leaders in both parties have expressed repeatedly their sincere desire for cooperation, but actions such as the Senate Majority Leader took today cannot help but offend the membership of all members of the House, all of whom were elected by the people and have the same rights as members of this Senate. Their close cooperation is essential for a successful session. The House has every right to take whatever legislative action it deems best, regardless of the thinking of this Senate.

If either house continues to arbitrarily ignore the actions of the other house, the length of this session will be seriously prolonged. I sincerely hope today's tactics will terminate.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE ON SENATE FILE 214

Senate File 214 is the 9th bill passed by this Sixty-second General Assembly which calls for either mandatory or permissable property tax increases. Partly because of twenty-three property tax increase bills passed at the last session of the General Assembly, property taxes were increased over $56,000,000 last year. Bills like Senate File 214 continue property tax increases. Until such time as this Assembly sees fit to pass some property tax relief measures, I shall feel obliged to vote against property tax increase bills such as Senate File 214.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 14

By: Buren and Murray

WHEREAS, federal interstate highways provide untold benefit to the social and economic welfare of both states and the nation; and are an essential part of our national defense system; and

WHEREAS, the state of Iowa has for all practical purposes completed construction of Interstate 80 through the state but is experiencing delay in the construction of Interstate 35; and

WHEREAS, there has been considerable controversy and changing of plans over the routing of Interstate 35 north; and

WHEREAS, the State Highway Commission and the Federal Bureau of Public Roads have changed the routing of Interstate 35 from a point parallel to U.S. 69 north to a route diagonally eastward to a point just west of U.S. 65 and Mason City, Iowa; and

WHEREAS, this change in routing has caused considerable controversy between the State Highway Commission and property owners in the area of the diagonal and has been a matter of concern to all citizens of the state; and

WHEREAS, it is common knowledge that the change in plans will result in more expense in construction and maintenance than the original routing; and

WHEREAS, a greater majority of the citizens of the state would be served to a greater extent if the original routing were followed with the diagonal constructed from Garner, Iowa to Clear Lake, Iowa rather than as presently planned; and

WHEREAS, the State Highway Commission and Federal Bureau of Public Roads have refused to reverse their decision on constructing Interstate 35 parallel by passing Mason City; now therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE, THE HOUSE CONCURRING, that the matter of constructing U.S. 35 in Iowa be brought to the attention of the Congress of the United States and that members of Congress give serious consideration to:

- 1. Reviewing the general policies of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads in regard to locating and constructing interstate highways within the states.
- 2. Comparing the policies followed in other states in locating and constructing interstates with the policies followed in the locating and constructing of Interstate 35 in Iowa.

3. Reversing the decision of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads in locating and constructing Interstate 35 in Iowa along the Mason City routing and so that the route will be parallel to U.S. 69.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to forward a copy of this resolution to the following: The presiding officer of the Senate of the United States, the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States, the Secretary of Commerce of the United States, the Chief Highway Administrator of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, the Iowa delegation of the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States, and the chairman of the Iowa Highway Commission.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

I am opposed to House File 212. I voted against the bill on the first roll call but when, at the end of the roll call a count indicated that House File 212 was passed, I asked and received permission from the presiding officer to change my vote from 'nay' to 'yea'. I did so in order that I would be on the prevailing side and be eligible under the senate rules to file a motion to reconsider with the hope that we can change the minds of some of the senators so that the bill in its present form can be defeated. This bill is not in the best interests of the public. Unfortunately, while the proponents of this bill have skillful and persuasive professionals working in its behalf, no lobbyist is working solely on behalf of the general public. Until Iowa's road system is vastly superior to its present state, consideration should not be given to lengthening any of the trucks traveling thereon.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

Senator D. S. McGill submitted the following report:

Mr. President: Your committee on Conservation and Recreation to which was referred Senate File 133, a bill for an act relating to motor vehicle fuel tax and the distribution of a portion of the unclaimed refund of the tax, begs leave to report it has had the same under consideration and recommends the same be amended as follows; and when so amended the bill do pass:

Amend Senate File 133 as follows:

Amend Senate File 133 by striking all after the title and inserting in lieu thereof the following: Whereas, it was the intent of the legislature in granting exemptions from motor vehicle fuel tax by way of refunds, instead of by way of exemptions from payment in the first instance, to provide for a uniform administration of the law and avoidance of unnecessary complications;

Whereas, such revenues obtained pursuant to the excise tax imposed by Chapter three hundred twenty-four point three (324.3) of the Code of Iowa, 1966, include the excise tax paid on fuel used in boats only to accomplish the intent for a uniform administration of the law and avoidance of unnecessary complications;

Whereas, such excise taxes paid for fuel used in boats are refundable and not considered part of the primary and secondary road fund revenues since they are not derived from use of such roads;

Whereas, a small proportion of the refundable excise tax imposed on the sale of fuel used in boats is actually claimed as a refund by boat users and the major share in default of such claims is added to and mixed with the primary and secondary road funds when it is not the intention of the legislature that such addition and mixture be done; now therefore,

Be It Enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

There is hereby created a marine fuel tax refund consisting of all excise tax monies found to be derived from the sale of motor fuel used in boats. The right of refund of motor fuel excise taxes paid on fuel used in boats as provided in Chapter three hundred twenty-four point seventeen (324.17), Iowa Code 1966, is hereby abolished. All such monies derived from the excise tax on the sale of motor fuel used in boats shall be deposited in a separate fund to be maintained by the State Treasurer.

The Legislature finds as a fact that at least one percent (1%) of the excise tax initially imposed on the sale of motor fuel for all uses and paid to the State Treasurer is obtained from the sale of motor fuel used in boats. The State Treasurer is hereby directed to allocate one percent (1%) of the excise tax imposed on the sale of motor fuel by Chapter three hundred twenty-four point three (324.3), Iowa Code 1966, when and as received to the marine fuel tax fund. No such revenues derived from the excise tax on fuel used in boats shall be credited to or deposited in the road use tax fund or any other road fund of the state nor transferred from said funds to the marine fuel tax fund.

The State Treasurer shall be responsible for the administration of the marine fuel tax fund and shall have the power and authority to adopt, amend or rescind such rules and regulations as may be necessary to implement and administer the provisions of this Act. All monies remaining in the fund after the cost of administrating the fund has been paid shall be credited to the State Conservation Commission for use in providing accesses to water, development and maintenance of water oriented facilities and the administration and enforcement of navigation laws and water safety.

Whenever it appears that the percent allocated to the State Conservation Commission may no longer be accurate, the State Treasurer or the State Conservation Commission may cause a new survey to be made through analysis of marine fuel consumption by boats registered in the State of Iowa. Analysis shall be accomplished through expansion of forms to include such questions on respondence, boat fuel consumption in the previous year as may be deemed necessary by the State Treasurer with the advise and consent of the State Conservations Commission. The findings of such a survey shall be presented to the next ensuing session of the Iowa Legislature for its consideration should the legislature decide to change the percentage of the motor fuel tax credited to the State Conservation Commission for the uses stated above.

AMENDMENTS FILED

Senate File 131 is hereby amended by striking all after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

- "Section 1. The following words or terms, as used in this Act, shall have the respective meanings as stated:
- "''Toll bridge' shall mean an interstate bridge constructed, purchased or acquired under the provisions of this Act, upon which tolls are charged, together with all appurtenances, additions, alterations, improvements, and replacements thereof, and the approaches thereto, and all lands and interests therein used therefor, and buildings and improvements thereon.
- "Commission' shall mean the state highway commission, the agency of the state of Iowa created and provided for under the provisions of chapter three hundred seven (307) of the Code.
- " 'Construct, constructing, construction or constructed' shall include the reconstruction, remodeling, repair, or improvement of any existing toll bridge as well as the construction of any new toll bridge.
- "Acquisition by purchase, gift, or condemnation as used in this Act shall mean acquisition by the state highway commission, whether such terms 'purchase, gift, or condemnation' are used singularly or in sequence.
- "Sec. 2. The state highway commission shall have full charge of the construction and acquisition of all toll bridges constructed or acquired under the provisions of this Act, the operation and maintenance thereof and the imposition and collection of tolls and charges for the use thereof. The commission shall have full charge of the design of all toll bridges constructed under the provisions of this Act. The commission shall proceed with the construction of such toll bridges and other facilities and the approaches thereto by contract immediately upon there being made available funds for such work and shall prosecute such work to completion as rapidly as practicable. The commission shall advertise for bids for the construction, reconstruction, improvement, repair or remodeling of any toll bridge by publication of a notice once each week for at least two (2) consecutive weeks in a newspaper published and having a general circulation throughout the state of Iowa, the first publication to appear at least fifteen (15) days prior to the date set for receiving bids. The commission shall have the power to accept such offer or offers, propositions or bids, and enter into such contract or contracts as it shall deem to be to the best interest of the state.
- "Sec. 3. The commission is hereby authorized to establish and construct toll bridges upon any public highway, together with approaches thereto, wherever it is considered necessary or advantageous and practical for crossing any navigable river between this state and an adjoining state. The necessity or advantage and practicality of any toll bridge shall be determined by the commission. To obtain information for the consideration of the commission upon the construction of any toll bridge or any other matter pertaining thereto, any officer or employee of the state, upon the request of the commission, shall make reasonable examination, investigation, survey, or reconnaissance to determine material facts pertaining thereto and shall report such findings to the commission. The cost thereof shall be borne by the department or office conducting it from funds provided for its functions.

- "Sec. 4. The commission is hereby authorized to enter into agreements with any federal bridge commission or any county, city, or town of this state, and with an adjoining state or county, city, or town thereof, for the purpose of implementing an investigation of the feasibility of any toll bridge project for the bridging of a navigable river forming a portion of the boundary of this state and such adjoining state. The commission may use any funds available for the purposes of this section. Such agreements may provide that in the event any such project is determined to be feasible and adopted, any advancement of funds by any state, county, city, or town may be reimbursed out of any proceeds derived from the sale of bonds or out of tolls and revenues to be derived from such project.
- "Sec. 5. Whenever the commission deems it necessary or advantageous and practical, it may acquire by gift, purchase, or condemnation any interstate bridge which connects with or may be connected with the public highways and the approaches thereto, except that the commission may not condemn an existing interstate bridge used for both highway and railway traffic and presently owned by a person, firm, or corporation engaged in interstate commerce. In connection with the acquisition of any bridge, the commission and any federal bridge commission or any city, town, county, or other political subdivision of the state are authorized to do all acts and things as in this Act are provided for the establishing and constructing of toll bridges and operating, financing, and maintaining such bridges insofar as such powers and requirements are applicable to the acquisition of any toll bridge and its operation, financing, and maintenance. In so doing, they shall act in the same manner and under the same procedures as provided for establishing, constructing, operating, financing, and maintaining toll brides insofar as such manner and procedures are applicable. Without limiting the generality of the above provisions, the commission is hereby authorized to cause surveys to be made to determine the propriety of acquiring any such bridge and the rights-of-way necessary therefor, and other facilities necessary to carry out the provisions hereof; to issue, sell, redeem bonds or issue and exchange bonds with present holders of outstanding bonds of bridges being acquired under the provisions of this Act and deposit and pay out of the proceeds of the bonds for the financing thereof; to impose, collect, deposit, and expend tolls therefrom; to secure and remit financial and other assistance in connection with the purchase thereof; and to carry insurance thereon.
- "Sec. 6. The commission, its officials, and all state officials are hereby authorized to perform such acts and make such agreements consistent with the law which are necessary and desirable in connection with the duties and powers conferred upon them regarding the construction, maintenance, and operation and insurance of toll bridges or the safeguarding of the funds and revenues required for such construction and the payment of the indebtedness incurred therefor. The commission shall adopt such rules and regulations in accordance with the provisions of chapter seventeen A (17A) of the Code as it may deem necessary for the administration and exercise of its powers and duties granted by this Act, and shall prepare annual financial statements regarding the operation of such toll bridges which shall be made available for inspection by the public and by the holders of revenue bonds issued by the commission under the provisions of this Act at all reasonable times.

"Sec. 7. Whenever the commission deems it to be in the best interest of the primary highway system that any new toll bridge be constructed upon any public highway and across any navigable river between this state and an adjoining state, the commission shall adopt a resolution declaring that the public interest and necessity require the construction of such toll bridge and authorizing the issuance of revenue bonds in an amount sufficient for the purpose of obtaining funds for such construction. The issuance of bonds as provided in this Act for the construction, purchase, or acquisition of more than one (1) toll bridge may, at the discretion of the commission, be included in the same authority and issue or issues of bonds, and the commission is hereby authorized to pledge the gross revenues derived from the operation of any such toll bridge under its control and jurisdiction to pay the principal of and interest on bonds issued to pay the cost of purchasing, acquiring, or constructing any such toll bridge financed under the provisions of this Act. The commission is hereby granted wide discretion, in connection with the financing of the cost of any toll bridge, to pledge the gross revenues of a single toll bridge for the payment of bonds and interest thereon issued to pay the cost of such bridge, to pledge the gross revenues of two (2) or more toll bridges to pay bonds issued to pay the cost of one (1) or more toll bridges and interest thereon and to pledge the revenues of all toll bridges to pay the principal of and interest on bonds issued to pay the cost of toll bridges in this state.

"In addition, if the commission in its discretion determines that the construction of a toll bridge cannot be financed entirely through revenue bonds and that the construction of such toll bridge is necessary, the commission may advance funds from the primary highway fund to pay for that part of the construction cost, including the cost of approaches and all incidental costs, which is not paid out of the proceeds of revenue bonds. After all revenue bonds and interest thereon issued and sold pursuant to this Act and payable from the tolls and revenues of said bridge have been fully paid and redeemed or funds sufficient to pay said bonds and interest, including premium, if any, have been set aside and pledged for that purpose, then such amount advanced from the primary road fund shall be repaid to the primary road fund from the tolls and revenues of said bridge before said bridge is made a toll free bridge under the provisions of this Act.

- "Sec. 8. Whenever the commission shall authorize the construction of any toll bridge, the commission is empowered to secure rights-of-way therefor and for approaches thereto by gift or purchase or by condemnation in the manner provided by law for the taking of private property for public purposes.
- "Sec. 9. The right-of-way is hereby given, dedicated, and set apart upon which to locate, construct, and maintain toll bridges or approaches thereto or other highway crossings, and transportation facilities thereof or thereto, through, over or across any of the lands which are now or may be the property of this state, including highways; and through, over, or across the streets, alleys, lanes, and roads with in any city, town, county, or other political subdivision of the state. If any property belonging to any city, town, county or other political subdivision of the state is required to be taken for the construction of any such bridge or approach thereto or should any such property be injured or damaged by such construction, such compensation therefor as may be proper or necessary and as shall be agreed upon may be paid by the commission to the particular county, city, town, or other political subdivision of the state owning such property, or condemnation proceedings may be brought for the determination of such compensation.

"Sec. 10. Before the commission shall proceed with any action to secure rightof-way or with the construction of any toll bridge under the provisions of this Act. it shall first pass a resolution finding that public interest and necessity require the acquisition of right-of-way for and the construction of such toll bridge. Such resolution shall be conclusive evidence of the public necessity of such construction and that such property is necessary therefor. To aid the commission in determining the public interest, a public hearing shall be held in the county or counties of this state in which any portion of a bridge is proposed to be located. Notice of such hearing shall be published at least once in a newspaper published and having a general circulation. in the county or counties where such bridge is proposed to be located, not less than twenty (20) days prior to the date of the hearing. When it becomes necessary for the commission to condemn any real estate to be used in connection with any such bridge, or to condemn any existing bridge, such condemnation shall be carried out in a manner consistent with the provisions of chapters four hundred seventy-one (471) and four hundred seventy-two (472) of the Code. In eminent domain proceedings to acquire property for any of the purposes of this Act, any bridge, real property, personal property, franchises, rights, easements, or other property or privileges appurtenant thereto appropriated or dedicated to a public use or purpose by any person firm, private, public or municipal corporation, county, city or town, district, or any political subdivision of the state, may be condemned and taken, and the acquisition and use thereof as herein provided for the same public use or purpose to which such property has been so appropriated or dedicated, or for any other public use or purpose, shall be deemed a superior and permanent right and necessity, and a more necessary use and purpose than the public use or purpose to which such property has already been appropriated or dedicated, and any condemnation award may be paid from the proceeds of revenue bonds issued under the provisions of this Act.

"Sec. 11. If the commission determines that any toll bridge should be constructed or acquired under its authority, all costs thereof, including land, right-of-way, surveying, engineering, construction, legal and administrative expenses, and fees of any fiscal adviser, shall be paid out of any funds available for payment of the cost of the bridge.

The commission is hereby authorized and empowered to issue revenue bonds for the acquisition, purchase or construction of any interstate bridge. Any and all bonds issued by the commissions for the acquisition, purchase, or construction of any interstate bridge under the authority of this Act shall be issued in the name of the Iowa highway commission and shall constitute obligations only of the commission, shall be indentified by some appropriate name, and shall contain a recital on the face thereof that the payment or redemption of said bonds and the payment of the interest thereon are secured by a direct charge and lien upon the tolls and other revenues of any nature whatever received from the operation of the particular bridge for the acquisition, purchase, or construction of which the bonds are issued and of such other bridge or bridges as may have been pledged therefor, and that neither the payment of the principal or any part thereof nor of the interest thereon or any part thereof constitutes a debt, liability, or obligation of the state of Iowa. When it is determined by the commission to be in the best public interest, any bonds issued under the provisions of this Act may be refunded and refinanced at a lower rate, the same rate or a higher rate or rates of interest and from time to time as often as the commission shall find it to be advisable and necessary so to do Bonds issued to refund other bonds theretofore issued by the commission under the provisions of this Act may either be sold in the manner hereinafter provided and the proceeds thereof applied to the payment of the bonds being refunded, or the refunding bonds may be exchanged for and in payment and discharge of the bonds being refunded. The refunding bonds may be sold or exchanged in installments at different times or an entire issue or series may be sold or exchanged at one (1) time. Any issue or series of refunding bonds may be exchanged in part or sold in part in installments at different times or at one (1) time. The refunding bonds may be sold at any time on, before, or after the maturity of any of the outstanding bonds to be refinanced thereby and may be issued for the purpose of refunding a like or greater principal amount of bonds, except that the principal amount of the refunding bonds may exceed the principal amount of the bonds to be refunded to the extent necessary to pay any premium due on the call of the bonds to be refunded or to fund interest in arrears or about to become due. The gross revenues of any toll bridge pledged to the payment of the bonds being refunded, together with the unpledged gross revenues of any other toll bridges, may be pledged by the commission to pay the principal of and interest on the refunding bonds and to create and maintain reserves therefor.

"The commission is empowered to receive and accept funds from the state of Iowa or the federal government or any other state upon a cooperative or other basis for the acquisition, purchase, or construction of any interstate bridge authorized under the provisions of this Act and is empowered to enter into such agreements with the state of Iowa or any other state or the federal government as may be required for the securing of such funds.

"The commission is authorized and empowered to spend from annual primary road fund receipts sufficient moneys to pay the cost of operation, maintenance, insurance, collection of tolls and accounting therefor and all other charges incidental to the operation and maintenance of any toll bridge administered under the provisions of this Act.

The revenue bonds may be issued and sold or exchanged by the commission from time to time and in such amounts as it deems necessary to provide sufficient funds for the acquisition, purchase, or construction of any such bridge and to pay interest on bonds issued for the construction of any toll bridge during the period of actual construction and for six (6) months after completion thereof. The commission is hereby authorized to adopt all necessary resolutions prescribing the form, conditions, and denominations of the bonds, the maturity dates therefor, and the interest rate or rates which the bonds shall bear. All bonds of the same issue need not bear the same interest rate. Principal and interest of the bonds shall be payable at such place or places within or without the state of Iowa as determined by the commission, and the bonds may contain provisions for registration as to principal or interest, or both. Interest shall be payable at such times as determined by the commission and the bonds shall mature at such times and in such amounts as the commission prescribes. The commission may provide for the retirement of the bonds at any time prior to maturity, and in such manner and upon payment of such premiums as it may determine in the resolution providing for the issuance of the bonds. All such bonds and any coupons attached thereto shall be signed by such officials of the commission as the commission may direct. Successive issues of such bonds within the limits of the original authorization shall have equal preference with respect to the payment of the principal thereof and the payment of interest The commission may fix different maturity dates, serially or otherwise, for successive issues under any one (1) original authorization. All bonds issued under the provisions of this Act shall have all the qualities of negotiable instruments under the laws of the state of Iowa. All bonds issued and sold hereunder shall be sold to the highest and best bidder on the basis of sealed proposals received pursuant to a notice specifying the time and place of sale and the amount of bonds to be sold which shall be published at least once not less than seven (7) days prior to the sale in a newspaper published in the state of Iowa and having a general circulation in said state. None of the provisions of chapter seventy-five (75) of the Code shall apply to bonds issued under the provisions of this Act but such bonds shall be sold upon terms of not less than par plus accrued interest. The commission may reject any or all bids received at the public sale and may thereafter sell the bonds at private sale on such terms and conditions as it deems most advantageous to its own interests, but not at a price below that of the best bid received at the advertised sale. The commission may enter into contracts and borrow money through the sale of bonds of the same character as those herin authorized, from the United States or any agency thereof, upon such conditions and terms as may be agreed to and the bonds shall be subject to all the provisions of this Act, except that any bonds issued hereunder to the United States or any agency thereof need not first be offered at public sale. The commission may also provide for the private sale of bonds issued under the provisions of this Act to the state treasurer of Iowa upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon, and in such event said bonds need not first be offered at public sale. Temporary or interim bonds, certificates, or receipts, of any denomination, and with or without coupons attached, signed by such official as the commission may direct, may be issued and delivered until the definitive bonds are executed and available for delivery.

"Sec. 14. The proceeds from the sale of all bonds authorized and issued under the provisions of this Act shall be deposited by the commission in a fund designated as the construction fund of the particular interstate bridge or bridges for which such bonds were issued and sold, which fund shall not be a state fund and shall at all times be kept segregated and set apart from all other funds and in trust for the purposes herein set out. Such proceeds shall be paid out or disbursed solely for the acquisition, purchase, or construction of such interstate bridge or bridges and expenses incident thereto, the acquisition of the necessary lands and easements therefor and the payment of interest on such bonds during the period of actual construction and for a period of six (6) months thereafter, only as the need therefor shall arise and the commission may agree with the purchaser of said bonds upon any conditions or limitations restricting the disbursement of such funds that may be deemed advisable, for the purpose of assuring the proper application of such funds. All moneys in such fund and not required to meet current construction costs of the interstate bridge or bridges for which such bonds were issued and sold, and all funds constituting surplus revenues which are not immediately needed for the particular object or purpose to which they must be applied or are pledged may be invested in obligations issued or guaranteed by the United States or by any person controlled by or supervised by and acting as an instrumentality of the United States pursuant to authority granted by the congress of the United States; provided, however, that the commission may provide in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of said bonds that the investment of such moneys shall be made only in particular bonds and obligations within the classifications eligible for such investment and such provisions shall thereupon be binding upon the commission and all officials having anything to do with such investment. Any surplus which may exist in said construction fund shall be applied to the retirement of bonds issued for the acquisition, purchase, or construction of any such interstate bridge by purchase or call and, in the event such bonds cannot be purchased at a price satisfactory to the commission and are not by their terms callable prior to maturity, such surplus shall be paid into the fund applicable to the payment of principal and interest of said bonds and shall be used for that purpose. The proceedings authorizing the issuance of bonds may provide limitations and conditions upon the time and manner of applying such surplus to the purchase and call of outstanding bonds and the terms upon which they shall be purchased or called and such limitations and conditions shall be followed and observed in the application and use of such surplus. The moneys remaining in each separate toll revenue fund after providing the amount required for the payment of principal of and interest on bonds as hereinabove provided. shall be held and applied as provided in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of said bonds. "Sec. 21. When any toll bridge authorized hereunder is being built by the commission it may carry or cause to be carried such an amount of insurance or indemnity bond or bonds as protection against loss or damage as it may deem proper. The commission is hereby further empowered to carry such an amount of insurance to cover any accident or destruction in part or in whole to any toll bridge. All moneys collected on any indemnity bond or insurance policy as the result of any damage or injury to any such toll bridge shall be used for the purpose of repairing or rebuilding of any such toll bridge as long as there are revenue bonds against any such structure outstanding and unredeemed. The commission is also empowered to carry insurance or indeminity bonds insuring against the loss of tolls or other revenues to be derived from any such toll bridge by reason of any interruption in the use of such toll bridge from any cause whatever, and the proceeds of such insurance or indemnity bonds shall be paid into the fund into which the tolls and other revenues of the bridge thus insured are required to be paid and shall be applied to the same purposes and in the same manner as other moneys in the said fund. Such insurance or indemnity bonds may be in an amount equal to the probable tolls and other revenues to be received from the operation of such toll bridge during any period of time that may be determined upon by the commission and fixed in its discretion, and be paid for out of the toll revenue fund as may be specified in said proceedings. The commission may provide in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of bonds for the carrying of insurance as authorized by this Act and the purchase and carrying of insurance as authorized by this Act shall thereupon be obligatory upon the commission and be paid for out of the toll revenue fund as may be specified in said proceedings..

"Sec. 22. The commission is hereby empowered to fix the rates of toll and other charges for all interstate bridges acquired, purchased, or constructed under the terms of this Act. Toll charges so fixed may be changed from time to time as conditions may warrant. The commission in establishing toll charges shall give due consideration to the amount required annually to pay the principal of and interest on bonds payable from the revenues thereof. The tolls and charges shall be at all times fixed at rates sufficient to pay the bonds and interest as they mature, together with the creation and maintenance of bond reserve funds and other funds as established in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of the bonds, for any particular toll bridge. The amounts required to pay the principal of and interest on bonds shall constitute a charge and lien on all such tolls and other revenues and interest thereon and sinking funds created therefrom received from the use and operation of said toll bridge, and the commission is hereby authorized to pledge a sufficient amount of said tolls and revenues for the payment of bonds issued under the provisions of this Act and interest thereon and to create and maintain a reserve therefor. Such tolls and revenues, together with the interest earned thereon, shall constitute a trust fund for the security and payment of such bonds and shall not be used or pledged for any other purpose as long as such bonds or any of them are outstanding and umpaid.

- "Sec. 23. Whenever a proposed interstate bridge is to be acquired, purchased or constructed, any city, town, county, or other political subdivision located in relation to such facility so as to benefit directly or indirectly thereby, may, either jointly or separately, at the request of the commission advance or contribute money, rights-of-way, labor, materials, and other property toward the expense of acquiring, purchasing or constructing the bridge, and for preliminary surveys and the preparation of plans and estimates of cost therefor and other preliminary expenses. Any such city, town, county, or other political subdivision may, either jointly or separately, at the request of the commission advance or contribute money for the purpose of guaranteeing the payment of interest or principal on the bonds issued by the commission to finance the bridge. Appropriations for such purposes may be made from any funds available, including county road funds received from or credited by the state, or funds obtained by excess tax levies made pursuant to law or the issuance of general obligation bonds for this purpose. Money or property so advanced or contributed may be immediately transferred or delivered to the commission to be used for the purpose for which contribution was made. The commission may enter into an agreement with a city, town, county, or other political subdivision to repay any money or the value of a right-of-way, labor, materials or other property so advanced or contributed. The commission may make such repayment to a city, town, county, or other political subdivision and reimburse the state for any expenditures made by it in connection with the bridge out of tolls and other revenues for the use of the bridge.
- "Sec. 24. If the commission deems that any land, including improvements thereon, is no longer required for toll bridge purposes and that it is in the public interest, it may negotiate for the sale of such land to the state or to any city, town, county, or other political subdivision or municipal corporation of the state. The commission shall certify the agreement for the sale to the state executive council, with a description of the land and the terms of the sale and the state executive council may execute the deed and deliver it to the grantee.
- "Sec. 25. If the commission is of the opinion that any land, including improvements thereon, is no longer required for toll bridge purposes, it may be offered for sale upon publication of a notice once each week for two (2) consecutive weeks in a newspaper published and having a general circulation throughout the state of Iowa, specifying the time and place fixed for the receipt of bids.
- "Sec. 26. The commission may reject all such bids if the highest bid does not equal the reasonable fair market value of the real property, plus the value of the improvements thereon, computed on the basis of the reproduction value less depreciation. The commission may accept the highest and best bid, and certify the agreement for the sale to the state executive council, with a description of the land and the terms of the sale and the state executive council shall execute the deed and deliver it to the grantee.

- "Sec. 27. If the commission deems it consistent with the use and operation of any toll bridge, the commission may grant franchises to persons, firms, associations, private or municipal corporations, the United States government or any agency thereof, to use any portion of the property of any toll bridge, including approaches thereto, for the construction and maintenance of water pipes, flumes, gas pipes, telephone, telegraph and electric light and power lines and conduits, trams or railways, and any other such facilities in the manner of granting franchises on state highways.
- "Sec. 28. Any moneys recieved pursuant to the provisions of sections twenty-four (24) through twenty-seven (27) of this Act shall be deposited by the commission into the separate and proper trust fund established for the bridge.
- "Sec. 29. The commission shall have the right to impose and reimpose tolls for pedestrian or vehicular traffic over any interstate bridges under its control and jurisdiction for the purpose of paying the cost of reconstructing and improving existing bridges and their approaches, purchasing existing bridges, and constructing new bridges and approaches, to pay interest on and create a sinking fund for the retirement of revenue bonds issued for the account of such projects and to pay any and all costs and expenses incurred by the commission in connection with and incidental to the issuance and sale of bonds and for the preparation of surveys and estimates and to establish the required interest reserves for and during the estimated construction period and for six (6) months thereafter.
- "Sec. 30. The bridges herein provided for may be incorporated into the primary road system as toll free bridges whenever the costs of the construction of the bridges and the approaches thereto and the reconstruction and improvement of existing bridges and approaches thereto, including all incidental costs, have been paid and when all revenue bonds and interest thereon issued and sold pursuant to this Act and payable from the tolls and revenues thereof shall have been fully paid and redeemed or funds sufficient to pay said bonds and interest, including premium, if any, have been set aside and pledged for that purpose. However, tolls may again be imposed as provided in section twenty-nine (29) of this Act.
- "Sec. 31. The commission shall have the power and is hereby authorized by resolution to issue, sell, or pledge its revenue bonds in an amount sufficient to provide funds to pay all or any part of the costs of construction of a new bridge and approaches thereto and the reconstruction, improvement, and maintaining of an existing bridge and approaches thereto, including all costs of survey, acquisition of right-of-way, engineering, legal, fiscal and incidental expenses, to pay the interest due thereon during the period beginning with the date of issue of the bonds and ending at the expiration of six (6) months after the first imposition and collection of tolls from the users of said bridges, and all costs incidental to the issuance and sale of the bonds.
- "Except as may be otherwise specifically provided by statute, all of the other provisions of this Act shall govern the issuance and sale of revenue bonds issued under this section, the execution thereof, the disbursement of the proceeds of issuance thereof, the interest rate or rates thereon, their form, terms, conditions, convenants, negotiability, denominations, maturity date or dates, the creation of special funds or accounts safeguarding and providing for the payment of the principal thereof and interest thereon, and their manner of redemption and retirement.
- "Such bonds shall include a covenant that the payment of the principal thereof and the interest thereon are secured by a first and direct charge and lien on all of the tolls and other gross revenues received from the operation of said toll bridges and from any interest which may be earned from the deposit or investment of any such revenues. The tolls and charges to be imposed shall be fixed in such amounts so that when collected they will produce revenues that shall be at least sufficient to pay all expenses of operating, maintaining, and repairing said toll bridges, including all insurance costs, amounts for adequate reserves and coverage of annual debt service on said bonds, and all payments necessary to pay the principal thereof and interest thereon.

- "Sec. 32. The commission is hereby authorized to operate and to assume the full control of said toll bridges and each portion thereof whether within or without the borders of the state of Iowa, with full power to impose and collect tolls from the users of such bridges for the purpose of providing revenues at least sufficient to pay the cost and incidental expenses of construction and acquisition of said bridges and approaches in both states in which located and for the payment of the principal of and interest on its revenue bonds as authorized by this Act.
- "Sec. 33. Under no circumstances shall any bonds issued under the terms of this Act be or become or be construed to constitute a debt of or charge against the state of Iowa within the purview of any constitutional or statutory limitation or provision. No taxes, appropriations or other funds of the state of Iowa may be pledged for or used to pay such bonds or the interest thereon, but any such bonds shall be payable solely and only as to both principal and interest from the tolls and revenues derived from the operation of any toll bridge or toll bridges acquired, purchased, or constructed under this Act, and the sole remedy for any breach or default of the terms of any such bonds or proceedings for their issuance shall be a proceeding either in law or in equity by suit, action or mandamus to enforce and compel performance of the duties required by this Act and the terms of the resolution under which such bonds are issued.
- "Sec. 34. ## SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, there is mutual agreement between the House and the Senate that for the best interests of the people of Iowa a just decision must be reached this session on the matter of reapportionment; and

NOW THEREFORE BE IT.RESOLVED BY THE SENATE, THE HOUSE CONCURRING: That those members of the Iowa House and Iowa Senate casting an affirmative vote for this resolution pledge themselves as individuals and as representatives of their political parties to support the following:

(1) That the Iowa House of Representatives and the Iowa Senate in passing the "1965 Permanent Apportionment Plan" and in passing for the first time a constitutional amendment requiring mandatory subdistricting do not, by inference or intent, modify or amend Article I, subsection six (6), of the Constitution of Iowa but rather seek to support and to conform with the decision of the Supreme Court of Iowa in the case of Kruidenier vs. McCulloch, dated April 15, 1966.

- (2) That the members of the Iowa Senate and Iowa House acting both as individuals and as spokesmen for their respective political parties, hereby pledge themselves to support the passage of the "1965 Permanent Apportionment Plan" when submitted to the people for ratification at the 1968 general election.
- (3) That the members of the Iowa Senate and the Iowa House acting both as the individuals and as spokesmen for their respective political parties, hereby pledge themselves to support a reapportionment plan in the 63rd General Assembly that will conform with the '1965 Permanent Apportionment Plan' if the permanent apportionment plan is approved and ratified by the people of Iowa.
- (4) That the members of the Iowa Senate and the Iowa House acting both as individuals and as spokesmen for their respective political parties, hereby pledge themselves to support second passage of the constitutional amendment requiring mandatory subdistricts in the 63rd General Assembly, and support its passage when submitted to the people for approval and ratification at a special election in 1969.
- (5) That the 62nd General Assembly shall enact a temporary plan which subdivides multi-member districts into single member districts based on present size and preserving current terms, and such plan shall be valid only for the 1968 General Election and any special election necessary to fill a vacancy in the 63rd General Assembly, if the "1965 Permanent Apportionment Plan" is approved and ratified by the people. A commission shall be created to submit such a plan to this General Assembly at the earliest possible date.

The chair ruled the point not well taken.

Senator Denman renewed his motion to adopt the conference committee report on House Joint Resolution 10.

The motion prevailed and the report was adopted.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE ON CONFERENCE COMMITTEE REPORT

We voted against the conference committee report on House Joint Resolution 10 for the following reasons:

First of all, it delays reduction in the size of the legislature until 1970. The delay could be even longer should the constitutional amendment not receive a favorable vote. We prefer a statuatory reduction which would reduce the legislature to an efficient, workable size with a savings in excess of a quarter of a million dollars per legislative session in salaries alone.

We favor mandatory subdistricting. The conference committee reports adoption does not and cannot guarantee mandatory subdistricting (in a permanent constitutional amendment) since there is no way the hands of the 1967 session of the General Assembly can be tied. We will vote for the separate mandatory subdistricting constitutional amendment in 1967, but point out that only those of us now serving in both houses can morally agree to do so during such 1967 session.

In view of supreme court decisions there is grave doubt about the valid apportionment of the present legislature. The conference committee report does address itself to this problem.

The approach taken by the conference committee report is not the only approach which would be adopted by both houses of the General Assembly. A change of only two votes in the Senate vote on the House approved reapportionment plan would result in a measure that provides the good points of the conference committee report without the over-riding deficiency of delay and uncertainty.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE ON SENATE FILE 97

This bill calls for an increase in local property tax. The newspapers are undoubtedly entitled to an increase in printing costs of public documents. It is my opinion that the taxpayer is also entitled to some relief from continual passage of laws which increase his property tax. This bill S.F. 97 is the 14th bill to pass the Senate this session which will cause the property taxpayer to pay more taxes. Until this Senate passes some property tax relief measure, I shall feel obliged to vote against bills which create added property tax.

COMMITTEE FROM THE HOUSE

A committee from the House appeared and announced that the House was ready to receive the Senate in joint convention.

The Senate proceeded to the House under the direction of the Sergeant-at-Arms.

JOINT CONVENTION

TO HONOR PIONEER LAWMAKERS

In accordance with law and House Concurrent Resolution 10 duly adopted, the joint convention was called to order, President Fulton presiding.

President Fulton announced a quorum present and the joint convention duly organized.

President Fulton extended his personal welcome to the Pioneer Lawmakers and presented to the joint convention Senator George O'Malley of Polk, who welcomed the Pioneer Lawmakers on behalf of the Senate with the following remarks:

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the Pioneer Lawmakers Association, Members of the Joint Convention and Guests:

The time has arrived when we can again with sincerety say that it is a distinct privilege to extend to the Pioneer Lawmakers a very hearty welcome from the Sixty-second General Assembly and particularly the Senate. I am pleased to see so many back here greeting old comrades with enthusiasm and telling how they did it in the days of yore.

I'd like to say that the time is fast approaching and it wont't be too long until I will be eligible to become a Pioneer Lawmaker and, the lord willing, I hope to attend many of your future meetings in the days to come.

I think you will find that the legislative processes are as stimulating today as they were in the past when you were the leaders and when you were the protagonists on one side or the other. However, I can assure you the speeches are not any shorter.

Two years ago I mentioned the revolutionary change as to confirmations by the Senate being open. It has worked well. This very day in less than one hour we confirmed nine appointments,

Certainly one of the most cherished honors that can come to any citizen in this state is to have had the privilege to serve in the legislature and observe the dedication which the members display in considering various pieces of legislation.

It is a privilege of the highest degree to represent the people of Iowa in any General Assembly and I know it is one of the most cherished traditions that you veterans have to reminisce about.

We, the lawmakers of today, commend you, the lawmakers of yesterday, for the work you have done in the passing of legislation which you considered to be in the public interest. It appears that you came to grips with many problems of your day such as the ever present one of taxes, and of course we have the same problems this session, but in a greater degree, in addition to the matter of governmental reform and hoping once and for all, laying to rest, if possible, the matter of reapportionment.

It is encouraging to see so many of you here and I hope that you all will be available to return to the next lawmakers meeting two years hence.

Thank you.

President Fulton presented to the joint convention Representative Lester L. Kluever of Cass who welcomed the Pioneer Lawmakers on behalf of the House with the following remarks:

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the Pioneer Law-makers Association, Members of the Joint Convention and Guests:

For and on behalf of the House I welcome the Pioneer Lawmakers.

It is nice to have you meet with us. We know, or know of, many of you for your services to our State in former years.

Your interest in returning to the scene of your former official duties testifies to the satisfaction one gains from an honest and sincere desire to serve our State. It gives us hope that we who are presently serving will some day have that pleasure.

Your continued interest in the affairs of our State is assurance that your counsel and advice can be of great benefit to us.

We are happy you have such an organization, hope you have a profitable meeting and we hope to join you in the not too distant time.

Good health and happiness to all of you.

President Fulton presented to the joint convention the Honorable DeVere Watson, former member of the Senate from Pottawattamie County, and now President of the Pioneer Lawmakers Association of Iowa, who introduced Don Reid, Managing Director of the Iowa Press Association.

Mr. Reid briefly addressed the convention.

(2) By striking from line thirty (30) the word "tenth" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "thirtieth".

EXPLANATION OF AMENDMENT

In its present form House File 55 recognizes the plight of country elevators in trying to cope with the enormous changes in volume grain harvesting and delivery by giving the warehouse additional time to write warehouse receipts. However, various segments of the industry have raised the question as to whether or not a warehouseman would, in fact, end up giving away a whole months storage for little or nothing. A solution to this problem, while still solving the original one, would be to let the old code definition of when grain was considered "storage" (unless otherwise directed by the producer) stand as is, while giving the warehouseman an additional 20 days in which to get the receipt written.

OF THE WHOLE

President Fulton, chairman of the committee of the whole to which was referred Senate File 131, a bill for an act authorizing the state highway commission to acquire, purchase and construct interstate bridges, approaches thereto and sites therefor and to reconstruct, complete, improve, repair, remodel, operate, control, maintain and operate such bridges, to establish tolls and charges for the use of such bridges and to borrow money and issue bonds payable solely from the revenues derived from the operation of interstate bridges and to refund bonds payable from such revenues, begs leave to report it has had the same under consideration and recommends the same be amended by adoption of the Judiciary Committee amendment as amended and when so amended, do pass.

Senate File 131 is hereby amended by striking all after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. The following words or terms, as used in this Act, shall have the respective meanings as stated:

"Toll bridge' shall mean an interstate bridge constructed, purchased or acquired under the provisions of this Act, upon which tolls are charged, together with all appurtenances, additions, alterations, improvements, and replacements thereof, and the approaches thereto, and all lands and interests therein used therefor, and buildings and improvements thereon.

"'Commission' shall mean the state highway commission, the agency of the state of Iowa created and provided for under the provisions of chapter three hundred seven (307) of the Code.

"Construct, constructing, construction or constructed shall include the reconstruction, remodeling, repair, or improvement of any existing toll bridge as well as the construction of any new toll bridge.

- "'Acquisition by purchase, gift, or condemnation' as used in this Act shall mean acquisition by the state highway commission, whether such terms 'purchase, gift, or condemnation' are used singularly or in sequence.
- "Sec. 2. The state highway commission shall have full charge of the construction and acquisition of all toll bridges constructed or acquired under the provisions of this Act, the operation and maintenance thereof and the imposition and collection of tolls and charges for the use thereof. The commission shall have full charge of the design of all toll bridges constructed under the provisions of this Act. The commission shall proceed with the construction of such toll bridges and other facilities and the approaches thereto by contract immediately upon there being made available funds for such work and shall prosecute such work to completion as rapidly as practicable. The commission shall advertise for bids for the construction, reconstruction, improvement, repair or remodeling of any toll bridge by publication of a notice once each week for at least two (2) consecutive weeks in a newspaper published and having a general circulation throughout the state of Iowa, the first publication to appear at least fifteen (15) days prior to the date set for receiving bids. The commission shall have the power to accept such offer or offers, propositions or bids, and enter into such contract or contracts as it shall deem to be to the best interest of the state.
- "Sec. 3. The commission is hereby authorized to establish and construct toll bridges upon any public highway, together with approaches thereto, wherever it is considered necessary or advantageous and practical for crossing any navigable river between this state and an adjoining state. The necessity or advantage and practicality of any toll bridge shall be determined by the commission. To obtain information for the consideration of the commission upon the construction of any toll bridge or any other matter pertaining thereto, any officer or employee of the state, upon the request of the commission, shall make reasonable examination, investigation, survey, or reconnaissance to determine material facts pertaining thereto and shall report such findings to the commission. The cost thereof shall be borne by the department or office conducting it from funds provided for its functions.
- "Sec. 4. The commission is hereby authorized to enter into agreements with any federal bridge commission or any county, city, or town of this state, and with an adjoining state or county, city, or town thereof, for the purpose of implementing an investigation of the feasibility of any toll bridge project for the bridging of a navigable river forming a portion of the boundary of this state and such adjoining state. The commission may use any funds available for the purposes of this section. Such agreements may provide that in the event any such project is determined to be feasible and adopted, any advancement of funds by any state, county, city, or town may be reimbursed out of any proceeds derived from the sale of bonds or out of tolls and revenues to be derived from such project.
- "Sec. 5. Whenever the commission deems it necessary or advantageous and practical, it may acquire by gift, purchase, or condemnation any interstate bridge which connects with or may be connected with the public highways and the approaches thereto, except that the commission may not condemn an existing interstate bridge used for both highway and railway traffic and presently owned by a municipality, or a person, firm, or corporation engaged in interstate commerce. In connection with the acquisition of any such bridge, the commission and any federal bridge commission or any city, town, county, or other policitical subdivision of the state are authorized to do all acts and things as in this Act are provided for the establishing and constructing of toll bridges and operating, financing, and maintaining such bridges insofar as such powers and requirements are applicable to the acquisition of any toll bridge and its operation, financing, and maintenance. In so doing, they shall act in the same manner and under the same procedures as provided for establishing, constructing, operating, financing, and maintaining toll bridges insofar as such manner and procedures are applicable. Without limiting the generality of the above provisions, the commission is hereby authorized to cause surveys to be made to determine the propriety of acquiring any such bridge and the rights-of-way necessary therefor, and other facilities necessary to carry out the provisions hereof; to issue, sell, redeem bonds or issue and exchange bonds with present holders of outstanding bonds of bridges being acquired under the provisions of this Act and deposit and pay out of the proceeds of the bonds for the financing thereof; to impose, collect, deposit, and expend tolls therefrom; to secure and remit financial and other assistance in connection with the purchase thereof; and to carry insurance thereon.

- "Sec. 6. The commission, its officials, and all state officials are hereby authorized to perform such acts and make such agreements consistent with the law which are necessary and desirable in connection with the duties and powers conferred upon them regarding the construction, maintenance, and operation and insurance of toll bridges or the safeguarding of the funds and revenues required for such construction and the payment of the indebtedness incurred therefor. The commission shall adopt such rules and regulations in accordance with the provisions of chapter seventeen A (17A) of the Code as it may deem necessary for the administration and exercise of its powers and duties granted by this Act, and shall prepare annual financial statements regarding the operation of such toll bridges which shall be made available for inspection by the public and by the holders of revenue bonds issued by the commission under the provisions of this Act at all reasonable times.
- "Sec. 7. Whenever the commission deems it to be in the best interest of the primary highway system that any new toll bridge be constructed upon any public highway and across any navigable river between this state and an adjoining state, the commission shall adopt a resolution declaring that the public interest and necessity require the construction of such toll bridge and authorizing the issuance of revenue bonds in an amount sufficient for the purpose of obtaining funds for such construction. The issuance of bonds as provided in this Act for the construction, purchase, or acquisition of more than one (1) toll bridge may, at the discretion of the commission, be included in the same authority and issue or issues of bonds, and the commission is hereby authorized to pledge the gross revenues derived from the operation of any such toll bridge under its control and jurisdiction to pay the principal of and interest on bonds issued to pay the cost of purchasing, acquiring, or constructing any such toll bridge financed under the provisions of this Act. The commission is hereby granted wide discretion, in connection with the financing of the cost of any toll bridge, to pledge the gross revenues of a single toll bridge for the payment of bonds and interest thereon issued to pay the cost of such bridge and to pledge the gross revenues to two (2) or more toll bridges to pay bonds issued to pay the cost of one (1) or more toll bridges and interest thereon as long as the several bridges included herein are not more than ten (10) miles apart.

"In addition, if the commission in its discretion determines that the construction of a toll bridge cannot be financed entirely through revenue bonds and that the construction of such toll bridge is necessary, the commission may advance funds from the primary highway fund to pay for that part of the construction cost, including the cost of approaches and all incidental costs, which is not paid out of the proceeds of revenue bonds. After all revenue bonds and interest thereon issued and sold pursuant to this Act and payable from the tolls and revenues of said bridge have been fully paid and redeemed or funds sufficient to pay said bonds and interest, including premium, if any, have been set aside and pledged for that purpose, then such amount advanced from the primary road fund shall be repaid to the primary road fund from the tolls and revenues of said bridge before said bridge is made a toll free bridge under the provisions of this Act.

- "Sec. 8. Whenever the commission shall authorize the construction of any toll bridge, the commission is empowered to secure rights-of-way therefor and for approaches thereto by gift or purchase or by condemnation in the manner provided by law for the taking of private property for public purposes.
- "Sec. 9. The right-of-way is hereby given, dedicated, and set apart upon which to locate, construct, and maintain toll bridges or approaches thereto or other highway crossings, and transportation facilities thereof or thereto, through, over or across any of the lands which are now or may be the property of this state, including highways; and through, over, or across the streets, alleys, lanes, and roads within any city, town, county, or other political subdivision of the state. Amend Senate File 283 as follows:

By striking section two (2) and inserting the following in lieu thereof:

- "1. Subject to the provisions for temporary assignment of judges, as set out in subsection nine (9) hereof, each district judge in office on July 1, 1967 shall continue to serve in the district of his domicile so long as he remains a district judge, regardless of the number of judgeships to which the district is entitled under subsection two (2) hereof.
- "2. The number of judgeships to which each of the judicial districts shall be entitled shall be determined from time to time according to the following formula, giving equal weight to cases filed and population: In districts containing a city of fifty thousand (50,000) or more population, there shall be one (1) judgeship per five hundred fifty (550) combined civil and criminal filings and forty thousand (40,000) population, or major fraction of either; in all other districts there shall be one (1) judgeship per four hundred fifty (450) combined civil and criminal filings and forty thousand (40,000) population, or major fraction of either; provided, the seat of government shall be entitled to one (1) additional judgeship. The figures on filings shall be the average for the latest available previous three-year (3) period and when current census figures on population are not available, figures shall be taken from the state department of health computations.
- "3. A vacancy, for purposes of this Act, is defined as the death, retirement, removal, or failure of retention in office at the judicial election, of a judge.
- "4. In those districts having more judges than the number of judgeships specified by the formula set out in subsection two (2) hereof, vacancies shall not be filled.

- "5. In those districts having fewer judges or the same number of judges as the number of judgeships specified by the formula set out in subsection two (2) hereof, vacancies in the number of judges shall be filled as they occur.
- "6. In those districts having fewer judges than the number of judgeships to which they are entitled under subsection two (2) hereof, the appointment of an additional judge over the number presently existing shall be made only when there is a vacancy in a district having more judges, prior to such vacancy, than the number to which it is entitled under subsection two (2) hereof; and in case there are two or more districts with a deficiency in the number of judges under the number of judgeships to which they are entitled under subsection two (2) hereof, the appointment shall be made in the particular district where the excess in civil and criminal filings and population per resident judge is greatest, giving consideration to filings and population as specified in subsection two (2) hereof.
- "7. After the number of judges in each district equals the proper number of judgeships, as determined under subsection two (2) hereof, subsection six (6) hereof shall be of no further effect. Thereafter, a new judge shall be appointed in any district which becomes entitled to an additional judgeship, under subsection two (2) hereof; and vacancies shall not be filled in any district which may become entitled to fewer judgeships under said subsection; but no incumbent judge shall ever be removed from office by reason thereof.
- "8. On January 2 of each year, and at such other times as may be appropriate, the chief justice shall make the determinations required under this Act, and shall notify the nominating commissions involved and the governor of any appointments that may be required as a result thereof.
- "9. It shall be the duty of the chief justice to assign judges and other court personnel from one judicial district to another, on a continuing basis, if need be, in order to provide a sufficient number of judges to handle the judicial business in all districts promptly and efficiently at all times."
