JOURNAL OF THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER,
DES MOINES, IOWA, MONDAY, JANUARY 13, 1969.

Pursuant to law, the Sixty-third General Assembly convened at 10:00 o'clock a.m., and was called to order by President pro tempore George E. O'Malley.

Prayer was offered by Reverend John J. Gorman, pastor of Assumption Church, Granger, Iowa.

TEMPORARY OFFICERS

Senator Stanley moved that the following be elected temporary officers of the Senate:

Carroll A. Lane, Temporary Secretary.
Dorothy Nepstad, Temporary Journal Clerk.
Romayne Huffman, Temporary Sergeant-at-Arms.

The motion prevailed and the above named temporary officers appeared before the desk of the President pro tempore and took their respective oaths of office.

COMMITTEE ON CREDENTIALS

Senator Stanley moved that a committee of five be appointed as a committee on credentials.

The motion prevailed and the Chair appointed as such committee Senators Lodwick, Rigler, Benda, Dodds and Hill.

The committee retired and, upon returning, presented the following report:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CREDENTIALS

MR. PRESIDENT: We, your committee on credentials, respectfully report that we find the following named persons duly elected to and entitled to seats in the Senate of the Sixty-third General Assembly as shown by the duplicate copies of certificates of election on file in the office of the Secretary of State:

CERTIFICATION

COMMITTEE FROM THE HOUSE

A committee from the House appeared and notified the Senate that the House was duly organized and ready to receive any communication that the Senate might be ready to transmit.

SELECTION OF SEATS

The Chair announced that the next order of business would be the selection of seats.

Senator Lange moved that the holdover and reelected Senators be granted the privilege of retaining the seats occupied by them during the Sixty-second General Assembly, or the privilege of selecting new seats by seniority from the unassigned seats, and that any Senator having any defect such as defective hearing be allowed to select his seat first; then former members of the Senate or former members of the House of Representatives be granted the privilege of selecting their seats from the unassigned seats, their names being called according to seniority. Also, that the names of the remaining newly elected Senators be placed in a hat and drawn out by the Secretary of the Senate.

The motion prevailed and the Secretary of the Senate called the roll of the holdover and reelected Senators.

Senator Rigler moved that prior to the drawing for seats the Majority Floor Leader and the Minority Floor Leader be permitted to select their seats, which motion prevailed.

Senator Stanley asked and received unanimous consent for Senator Frey to be permitted to select a seat which was easily accessible.

Upon the drawing of seats the following selections were made:

MESSAGES FROM THE HOUSE

The following messages were received from the House:

MR. PRESIDENT: I am directed to inform your honorable body that the House has adopted the following House concurrent resolution in which the concurrence of the Senate is asked:

House Concurrent Resolution 1, providing for a joint convention of the two houses be held on January 13, 1969, at 1:30 p.m., and January 14, 1969, at 1:30 p.m.

Also: That the House has adopted the following House concurrent resolution in which the concurrence of the Senate is asked:

House Concurrent Resolution 2, providing that a joint committee be appointed to nominate additional employees as is necessary for the work of the session.

WILLIAM R. KENDRICK, Chief Clerk.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 1

By McCartney of Floyd

Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring, That a joint com-

vention of the two houses of the Sixty-third General Assembly be held on January 13, 1969, at 1:30 p.m.

Be It Further Resolved, That Governor Robert D. Fulton be invited to deliver his message at a joint convention of the two houses of the General Assembly on January 14, 1969, at 1:30 p.m., and that the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House be designated to extend the invitation to him.

Be It Further Resolved, That at this joint convention the votes for Governor and Lieutenant Governor be canvassed and the results announced and recorded as provided by law.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 2

By Hill of Marshall

Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring, that a joint committee of six members be appointed, three from the Senate to be appointed by the President and three from the House to be appointed by the Speaker, to nominate such additional employees as may be necessary for the work of the session and that the committee recommend the positions to be filled.

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

Senator Stanley placed in nomination the name of Senator Seeley G. Lodwick of Lee County as a candidate for the office of President pro tempore of the Senate of the Sixty-third General Assembly.

There being no further nominations, the Chair put the question and Senator Lodwick was unanimously elected.

President pro tempore O'Malley requested Senators Stanley, Coleman and Lange to escort Senator Lodwick to the rostrum.

Senator Lodwick appeared, took the oath of office, was congratulated and presented to the Senate by President pro tempore O'Malley, who made the following remarks:

Seeley, as I turn over the gavel which is your emblem of authority, I wish to congratulate you and compliment the Senate for electing you. I hope all your rulings satisfy everyone.

As I go to seat No. 13 and pass into oblivion, more or less, it has been a rewarding experience to be President pro tem and also a Senator.

This Iowa Senate is a great institution. Citizens of Iowa can be proud of it. Our predecessors have maintained a high degree of integrity for it, and I know the present and future Senators will do likewise. Thank you.

In accepting the office, Senator Lodwick said:

It is indeed an honor and privilege to stand here this morning, but it is also with a sense of humility I accept this office for there are many Senators here who could discharge the duties as capably as I. I want to thank you for conferring this recognition on me.

A review of the Constitution of Iowa, the Code of Iowa and recent rules of the Iowa Senate clearly indicates the duties and responsibilities of the President pro tem are contingent responsibilities only. This office becomes active only if circumstances not now foreseen happen to occur. Should these circumstances occur and should this office become active, this President pro tempore will earnestly seek the suggestions and counsel of everyone gathered here. For certainly it would only be through that kind of assistance that this President pro tempore could serve effectively the Senate and citizens of Iowa.

Briefly, I would call to your attention a circumstance which is not a contingency. On your right you see here on the rostrum the flag of Iowa. By long custom and tradition it has always been in this location and I hope it will continue because it can furnish a daily reminder to us as to the viewpoint our predecessors held paramount.

A casual glance shows the red, white, and blue vertical bars. This, so the designers and historians tell us, shows a similarity to the French tri-color flag, which in turn recognizes the nationality of the first white men to see this beautiful land. But a more careful observation of a true Iowa flag shows that it is not quite like the French tri-color. In a true Iowa flag, the white vertical bar is twice the size of either the blue or red. Designers and historians tell us this doubling of the white was deliberate and particularly appropriate for Iowa for they associated the white with Iowa's future.

That the color symbolizing Iowa's future was twice the size of any other was indicative of the confidence our predecessors had in Iowa's future and of the confidence they had in their fellow citizens being encouraged to create great and good things, not then visualized. Even though this concept is like our flag, fifty years old, it is just as true today as it was when Mrs. Gebhardt and her D.A.R. associates were sewing the flag together.

And so as we glance at this flag from day to day during our deliberations here in the Senate of the Sixty-third General Assembly, let us keep in mind that if we are to fulfill the concepts of our predecessors we too must look to a future which will permit Iowans to create great and good things, not visualized today.

Thank you again for this honor, and I pledge to you my assistance in focusing the main thrust of this Senate toward the white part of this Iowa flag.

Senator Stanley asked and received unanimous consent that the remarks of both the new and the retiring Presidents pro tempore be printed in the Senate Journal.

COMMITTEE TO NOTIFY THE GOVERNOR

Senator Walsh moved that a committee of three be appointed to notify the Governor that the Senate is organized and ready to receive any communication that he might be ready to transmit.

The motion prevailed and the Chair appointed as such committee Senators Walsh, Mogged and Denman.

COMMITTEE TO NOTIFY THE HOUSE

Senator Kosek moved that a committee of three be appointed to notify the House that the Senate has organized and is ready for business.

The motion prevailed and the Chair appointed as such committee Senators Kosek, Smith and Palmer.

64. Charles W. Lakin, KRNT and KRNT-TV
Otto Weber, Des Moines

Senator Erskine asked and received unanimous consent to take up the following resolution and moved its adoption:

SENATE RESOLUTION 1

By Senator Erskine

Be It Resolved by the Senate: That each Senator and the Lieutenant Governor be and he is hereby authorized to appoint a clerk who shall be a competent stenographer, said selections to be made and announced from the floor of the Senate by each Senator and the Lieutenant Governor. Each clerk shall be sworn in when found to be proficient by a committee of three which the President of the Senate is hereby authorized to appoint.

The motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted. The Chair appointed as such committee Senators Erskine, Shaff and Reichardt.

Senator Flatt asked and received unanimous consent to take up the following resolution and moved its adoption:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 1

By Senator Flatt

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring: That a joint committee be named, consisting of six members of the Senate to be appointed by the President of the Senate, and six members of the House to be appointed by the Speaker of the House, to arrange for the inauguration of the Governor and the Lieutenant Governor.

The motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted. The Chair appointed as such committee Senators Flatt, Lange, DeHart, Neu, Balloun and Lucken.

Senator Lamborn asked and received unanimous consent to take up the following resolution and moved its adoption:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 2

By Senator Lamborn

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring: That the Superintendent of Printing be directed to furnish copies of the 1966 Code of Iowa and also copies of the Laws of the Sixty-second General Assembly to such members of the Sixty-third General Assembly of Iowa who may request the same. Senate members to leave orders for Codes and laws at the Secretary's desk and House members to leave orders at the Chief Clerk's desk.

That the Superintendent of Printing be directed to furnish copies of the 1966 Code of Iowa and Session Laws of the Sixty-second General Assembly as requested by the Secretary of the Senate and by the Chief Clerk of the House for use of the staffs in their respective offices.

The Superintendent of Printing is further directed to furnish copies of the 1966 Code of Iowa and Session Laws of the Sixty-second General Assembly to members of the press and assigned seats in the Senate and House press galleries, to be requested by the Secretary of the Senate for members of the press with seats there assigned and by the Chief Clerk of the House for copies to be furnished members of the press assigned seats in the House chamber.

The motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

Senator Lisle asked and received unanimous consent to take up the following resolution and moved its adoption:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 8

By Senator Lisle

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring: That the Superintendent of Printing be instructed to mail to each county auditor in the State of Iowa one copy of the daily Senate and House Journals and one copy of each Senate and House bill of the Sixty-third General Assembly on date of introduction and printing thereof, and that same, with binders, be furnished to such officers free of charge.

The motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO NOTIFY THE GOVERNOR

Senator Walsh reported that the committee assigned to notify the Governor that the Senate was organized and ready for business had performed its duty and that the Governor had received the message and reported that he would be glad to receive any communications.

The report was accepted and the committee discharged.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO NOTIFY THE HOUSE

Senator Kosek reported that the committee assigned to notify the House that the Senate was organized and ready for business had performed its duty.

The report was accepted and the committee discharged.

ADOPTION OF TEMPORARY RULES

Senator Stanley moved that the Senate Rules of the Sixty-second General Assembly be adopted as the Temporary Rules of the Senate of the Sixty-third General Assembly with the following changes: In Rule 36 strike the words and numeral "thirty-four (34)", and insert the words "forty-one". In Rule 40 strike the words and numeral "thirty-one (31)" and insert the words "forty-one".

The motion prevailed and the Senate Rules of the Sixty-second General Assembly as amended are the Temporary Rules of the Senate of the Sixty-third General Assembly.

APPOINTMENT OF TEMPORARY COMMITTEES

Senator Stanley made the following statement and motion:

MR. PRESIDENT: I understand that the President-elect of the Senate, our incoming Lieutenant Governor, Roger W. Jepsen, has filed with the Secretary of the Senate a list of the committee appointments that he will make. In order to facilitate the handling of pre-filed bills, I now move that the rules be suspended and that the President pro tempore be authorized to make temporary committee appointments in accordance with the pre-filed list.

The motion prevailed and the Chair appointed the following temporary committees:

JOINT CONVENTION

In accordance with law and concurrent resolution duly adopted, the joint convention was called to order, President pro tempore Lodwick presiding.

Senator Stanley of Muscatine moved that the roll call be dispensed with and that the President pro tempore of the joint convention be authorized to declare a quorum present.

Motion prevailed.

President pro tempore Lodwick announced a quorum present and the joint convention duly organized.

Senator Stanley moved that the joint convention adjourn until approximately 1:30 p.m., Tuesday, January 14, 1969.

Motion prevailed.

The Senate returned to the Senate chamber and resumed regular session.

To the Honorable, President of the Senate
Sixty-third General Assembly

Dear Mr. President:

Pursuant to duties imposed on me by section 59.5, Code of Iowa, 1966, I herewith deliver to you an unopened envelope which allegedly contains various depositions in the matter of Vincent S. Burke, Contestant vs Charles K. Sullivan, Incumbent.

I also deliver herewith documents captioned "Statement of Intention to Contest Election" and "Notice of Taking Depositions on Oral Examination" which were received by me December 3, 1968, relating to the same matter.

Respectfully submitted,

MELVIN D. SYNHORST, Secretary of State.

January 13, 1969.

To the Honorable, the President of the Senate

Sixty-third General Assembly

Dear Mr. President:

I deliver herewith a letter and four documents which I received by certified mail on January 10, 1969, from Durwood W. Dircks, a Davenport attorney. Mr. Dircks states in his letter: "I am enclosing to be delivered to the Senate of the Sixty-third General Assembly of Iowa all in connection with the Joseph W. Cassidy-Harold A. Thordsen election contest an original and three (3) copies of a motion to dismiss the request for an election contest and affidavits in support thereof."

Respectfully submitted,

MELVIN D. SYNHORST, Secretary of State.

COMMITTEE FROM THE HOUSE

A committee from the House appeared and announced that the House was ready to receive the Senate in joint convention.

In accordance with House Concurrent Resolution 1 duly adopted, the Senate proceeded to the House under the direction of the Sergeant-at-Arms.

JOINT CONVENTION

The joint convention reconvened, President pro tempore Lodwick presiding.

Senator Stanley moved that the roll call be dispensed with and that the President of the joint convention be authorized to declare a quorum present.

Motion prevailed.

President pro tempore Lodwick announced a quorum present and the joint convention duly organized.

Senator Benda of Poweshiek moved that a committee of six, consisting of three members from the Senate and three members from the House, be appointed to notify Governor Fulton that the joint convention was ready to receive him.

Motion prevailed and the President appointed as such committee Senators Benda of Poweshiek, Lavery of Warren and Frommelt of Dubuque, on the part of the Senate, and Representatives Fisher of Greene, Van Drie of Story and Miller of Des Moines, on the part of the House.

The committee waited upon Governor Fulton and escorted him to the Speaker's station.

President pro tempore Lodwick then presented Governor Fulton who delivered the following address:

STATE-OF-THE-STATE MESSAGE TO THE SIXTY-THIRD GENERAL ASSEMBLY
BY

HONORABLE ROBERT D. FULTON, GOVERNOR OF IOWA
Joint Session, January 14, 1969

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Honorable Senators and Representatives of the Sixty-third General Assembly, Old Friends and Colleagues:

Article IV, Section 12, of the Constitution of the State of Iowa specifies as one of the duties of the Chief Executive that "he shall communicate, by message, to the General Assembly, at every regular session, the condition of the State, and recommend such matters as he shall deem expedient."

It is my privilege, in my brief tenure as your thirty-seventh Governor, to deliver this message which is traditionally known as the "State-of-the-State" address.

As you all know, the honor of serving as your Chief Executive for a period of fourteen days came to me when Governor Hughes resigned in order to assume his elected place in the United States Senate.

Since it was not my intention to pre-empt either the accomplishments of the Hughes administration or the potentials of the Ray administration, I have not pretended that these would be the fourteen days that would shake the world.

My friends of the press have plied me with questions as to exactly what I proposed to accomplish during this mini-term. Perhaps I should have had one of my young children answer for me, as one of President Kennedy's once did for him.

One Sunday, a White House reporter asked three-year-old Caroline what her father was doing.

"He's not doing anything," she replied. "He's just sitting up there with his shoes and socks off, doing nothing."

I am sure that there are those who would contend that my speech, like my administration, should be graced with brevity. But I will warn you that there is nothing in the Constitution that compels a short-term Governor to deliver a short address.

My remarks today will be somewhat unorthodox as State-of-the-State messages go. I believe I can make a more useful contribution with a personal, philosophical evaluation than with the customary formal listing of facts and figures.

I have viewed the course of state government from several vantage points in the past decade. Prior to this fleeting term as Governor, I was a member of the House, a member of the Senate, and served for two terms as your Lieutenant Governor. After Thursday, I will once again be out of public office, a toiler in the vineyard of private enterprise.

I doubt if any Lieutenant Governor in Iowa's history has had a closer and more congenial bond with the Chief Executive than I have been privileged to have with Harold Hughes. It has been the richest experience of my life. Even those who have disagreed with the Hughes policies have found, as I have found, that the man himself is a dynamic and forceful leader.

It has also been my privilege, over the course of these years, to work closely with many of you veterans of the General Assembly who are here today. I can only say that this experience also has been incomparably rewarding. Partisan differences have not deterred us from working together for the good of the state or from enjoying a high order of personal friendship and mutual respect. I want to thank all of you colleagues of the Legislature for your cooperation and personal generosity, and I want to wish you and the newly-elected members of both houses the greatest success in this Sixty-third session of Iowa's General Assembly.

Exactly what constitutes or determines the state of the state at any given point in history?

Obviously, many factors are involved—economic health, quality of public services, fiscal posture of the government, the relation of the state to its subdivisions, the welfare of the people—these and many more factors.

But, as Harold Hughes pointed out, there is something more, beyond the sum of these factors—an “intangible quotient” that is the essential determinant of the true state of the state—the spiritual temper of the people: their morale, their idealism, their receptiveness to new ideas, their commitment to progress, their concern for their fellow men, their faith in the future, and their willingness to contribute to, as well as benefit from, the blessings of a free society.”

When this intangible quotient is high, we know that people have found the good life.

“The success or failure of a state,” Hughes said, “is gauged in the final analysis by the opportunity it affords its people for the good life, in the highest sense of this concept.”

This is the hour of the changing of the guard. It marks the end of the Hughes era and the return to complete domination of the state government by the Republican party—a situation which, needless to say, has often existed in years past.

Whether or not it signifies a sweeping reversal of the basic policies, innovations and reforms of the past six years remain to be seen. With a clean sweep of all state elective offices and with top-heavy majorities in both House and Senate, it is clear that the new administration will have the firepower to revert and retrench, if this be their will.

I sincerely hope that this will not be the case. The great social, economic and organizational advancements of the Hughes era are not rightly classified as partisan issues, although they were seen, at times, in this light.

The credit for the forward thrust of the state in these action-packed years belongs to people of Iowa of all political faiths. It is significant that the same electorate that voted in these office-holders also approved the five constitutional amendments that were on the ballot. It is also significant that these five amendments had strong bi-partisan support during the campaign, including the active endorsement of the standard-bearers of both parties.

The basic contest in this state, as one experienced observer has put it, is not between Republicans and Democrats, between rural and urban people, or even between liberals and conservatives in the true sense of those words. The real contest is between progress and inertia, between willingness to adapt to changing conditions and the granite-headed resistance to change, between reform and retrenchment, between public interest and narrow private interest, and between action and stagnation.

One of John Kennedy's favorite quotations from Oliver Wendell Holmes epitomizes the spirit that should animate all people who care deeply about the state of their state—not only for today but for generations to come:

“ . . . We must sail sometimes with the wind and sometimes against it—but we must sail, and not drift nor lie at anchor.”

It is not my purpose here today, in my evaluation of the state's conditions and needs, to make a partisan political speech; but it is my purpose to express my deep concern about issues that cut across party lines and deserve the support of all people who care deeply about Iowa.

The great struggle in the world today is to retain our human qualities and the values of our civilization in a technological age.

Whatever one may think of specific issues involved, the record shows that no period in Iowa's history has produced more major reforms, innovations and breakthroughs for progress than the past six years.

So many things were accomplished in such a short space of time that it is easy to take them for granted and to lose sight of how profoundly our state has changed in these half-dozen years.

In January of 1971, when Governor Ray presents his State-of-the-State message, he will have new accomplishments to set forth—and I sincerely wish him well with them.

I hope, and feel confident, that some of these accomplishments will be continuations of the progress that has been made on many fronts in these past three terms, as well as new programs to fit the new needs of our changing times.

In any event, the custody of the future belongs to the new administration. But in order to gain any real insight into the state of this state as of January 14, 1969, it is necessary to look back briefly over some of the major changes of the past six years, as seen in the perspective of our state's recent history.

The people of Iowa reared back, shed their inferiority complex, and put this state on the move.

The Constitution of our state says simply and succinctly: The political power is inherent in the people. When the people are mobilized behind a public cause, they can move mountains. We have seen this happen in the past six years.

These were the years when, working together, we established equality of voting rights. We enacted sensible liquor control laws and eliminated the infamous key clubs where minors, as well as adults, could buy liquor over the counter. We broke all records for industrial development, year after year. We came near doubling funds for agricultural land tax credits.

We brought school aid up to record levels and finally carried through the first realistic, long-range, school-financing plan in the state's history. We enacted the state's first property tax replacement program, after 30 years of promises. We established educational radio and TV and a plan for area vocational-technical schools that is one of the best in the nation. We erased the shame of public hangings from a civilized society.

We established a civil service system for state employees. We opened up the committee system in the Legislature. We made substantial gains in unemployment compensation and workmen's compensation for the working man and woman. We gave unprecedented support to our universities and inaugurated a long-needed state scholarship program.

We established Iowa's first statutory commission for the aging and the first statutory civil rights commission.

We made it possible for local government operating funds, deposited in banks, to draw interest for the benefit of the taxpayer.

We faced up to the need for government reorganization and got it under way. We established a division of tourism in the Development Commission. We substantially increased the Highway Patrol and instituted one of the most comprehensive traffic safety programs of any state.

We established a state law enforcement academy, put Medicaid in operation, founded an alcoholic treatment center and a maximum security hospital.

We spanned the state with our Interstate highway system and modernized hundreds of miles of the older primaries. We provided tax relief for the elderly and improved our programs for dependent children, the mentally ill, the retarded and the physically handicapped. We enacted a uniform commercial code and took Iowa's first action for consumer protection.

We appropriated funds for long-needed public parks and outdoor recreation facilities and met the undeniable need for additional state office space.

We inaugurated comprehensive state planning, organized Sell-Iowa delegations to the financial centers of our own country and sent foreign trade missions to three continents.

This is only part of the list of major achievements registered during these six years.

Many other things that profoundly influence the state of the state are not recorded in the statute books or official administrative records.

I am thinking, for example, of Governor Hughes' personal efforts to arouse citizen participation in crime prevention, in providing jobs for disadvantaged youngsters and in alleviating conditions of poverty.

And I am thinking also of the religious leaders and local officials who accepted the challenge so willingly and moved so directly to get at the roots of these problems before it is too late.

The events of the past six years that moved this state ahead by giant strides and liberated its spirit did not "just happen." They were the result of a great deal of planning and hard work and tough-minded implementation.

And another point I feel must be made is that these issues, now registered as achievements, were not plucked out of the atmosphere as desirable political planks. Many of them were "hot potatoes" or unlikely crosses to bear, so far as political considerations were concerned.

They were not selected for purposes of political expediency, as a man would select flashy neckties in a haberdashery.

They were carefully thought-out measures, sensibly taken to meet the compelling needs of our state in an era of rapid change.

Now, as we move into the new year, Iowa's economy is sound and stable, and the business outlook for 1969 is generally optimistic.

Farming is still the foundation of our economy in Iowa, although combined wholesale and retail trade has, for the first time, surpassed farming in production of total income. Manufacturing did so several years ago. But as we all know, a great part of our industry and trade is farm-related, and farm income has a prime influence on our over-all economy.

Within the context of the general truth that the commercial farmer is a long way from getting his fair share of the nation's prosperity, the agricultural economy in Iowa is in comparatively good shape. Grain production last year was reasonably good. Feed-grains payments set a record that may well be surpassed in 1969, and Iowa ranked first in production of pork and marketing of grain-fed cattle.

For the sixth straight year, capital investment by industry reached a record level in Iowa—341 new industrial developments and nearly 7,000 new job opportunities created last year by industry alone.

In all sectors of the economy, at least 150,000 new and experienced Iowa workers, who needed jobs, found them within the state over the last six years.

And in that same period, the growth in total personal income of Iowans has paced the nation, rising more than 42 percent since 1962.

This phenomenal expansion of our state and national economy strained the ability of state and local government to finance the services demanded of them. Pressures built up to alter our state tax structure to provide the necessary funds.

At the same time, it became virtually impossible for local government to continue deriving tax revenues almost exclusively from the static, unresponsive property tax.

In these chambers two years ago, a bipartisan Legislature chose to deal forthrightly with these problems, enacting a far-reaching, sensible and necessary reform of Iowa's state-local tax structure.

Even though they are only partially implemented, the revenue-sharing programs established by the Sixty-second General Assembly have kept the average statewide property tax levy comparatively constant. Full implementation should provide some reduction in the average property tax levy for this year.

Allowing local government a substantially larger share of the growth in state revenue has affected the availability of funds for financing the services of state government. This was to be expected.

With minor adjustments, however, the entire state-local tax structure will respond to fluctuations in the economy and, in something of an automatic way, provide Iowa with adequate funds for meeting the needs of the state. If any adjustments are to be made, the guiding principle should be to base them on ability to pay and on taxes that will grow with the economy, not lag behind it.

The nucleus of the tax reform program is the provisions for equalizing property valuations across the state, so that taxpayers in one area are treated no differently than those in another. To delay equalization or tamper with this basic reform is to perpetuate inequities that have already endured far too long.

The sales-tax credit inserted an income factor in what was otherwise consumer-oriented tax legislation. This credit should not be repealed. If anything, it should be strengthened to insure fair enforcement and be preserved for the continuing benefit of the low-income taxpayers.

Here in Iowa—and indeed in all America—our political institutions must prove that they are amenable to change, reform and renewal, if they are to survive. To pledge allegiance to the status quo is to sentence our democratic institutions to death or deterioration.

A respected Washington commentator, David Broder, wrote a few months ago: "The American system of self-government is being tested . . . and so is the United States' confidence in the institutions of democracy."

The contemporary English historian, Arnold Toynbee, has posed the thesis that cultures confronted with a changed environment will inevitably collapse. This would specifically apply to us, since there is no question but that the technological environment we live in today is as different from the rural Iowa of the last century as day is from night.

Our institutions of government must meet the challenge of change if they are to survive. They must meet it in terms of two general criteria.

The first criterion is that of responsiveness. To what extent are our governmental institutions responsive to the collective needs of the citizenry—both majority and minorities?

The second criterion is that of effectiveness. To what extent do our governmental institutions employ effective, up-to-date means of coping with the popular demands made upon them?

Here in Iowa, revolutionary trends—rapid urbanization, industrialization, and spectacular advancements in the fields of communication and transportation—have produced numerous day-to-day problems for our citizens and imposed new strains and demands on our public institutions and officials.

Can our governmental institutions adapt to the dislocations stemming from these revolutionary changes in our society?

The answer is that they can and must—if they are to survive. But there can be no turning back, no hesitation, no regression to the easy answers of an earlier era.

The modernization of our state government, commenced in the past two years, must be continued. We have only begun to reorganize the costly and inefficient proliferation of agencies in our state government.

Modernization of local government is also a crying need, and state government must have a more realistic and responsible attitude toward its political subdivisions.

The notion, prompted by innumerable political office-holders and their kin, that our archaic county organization is sacred is ridiculous and prejudicial to our state's progress.

The ninety and nine of the Scriptures was not meant for counties in a state the size of Iowa.

The cities and towns of Iowa are in critical need of operating revenues. A method must be found in the immediate future to give the hard-pressed municipalities a source of revenue other than the overworked property tax. They also need sensible legislation to implement the home rule amendment approved by the voters in November.

For the Legislature to sweep their urgent problems under the rug, as has been so often done in the past, is to invite grave consequences.

The enactment of municipal home rule will be a hollow mockery if the General Assembly treats the cities and towns, where three-quarters of the people live, as disfavored stepchildren of the state.

The people of Iowa, in recent years, have amply demonstrated that they are ready and willing to support responsible programs of government reform.

This is one of the strongest positive elements affecting the state of the state as of January 14, 1969.

As you know, we already have a workable blueprint for the reorganization of the executive branch of the state government and the judicial branch, and significant first steps have been taken to carry out these recommendations.

With reference to the legislative branch, I feel that appropriate guidelines for needed changes were presented only a few months ago in the final report of the Iowa Legislative Processes Study Committee, a special blue-ribbon interim committee established by the Legislative Research Committee and headed by President Paul Sharp of Drake University.

Although I do not fully agree with every specific recommendation of the committee, I strongly believe that the committee has presented some valid goals on which I hope this session of the Legislature will take action.

The committee's recommendations on improvement of legislative facilities, on staff assistance for standing committees and legislative leaders, on establishment of a legislative council, on reduction in the number of standing committees, and on the rewriting of legislative rules are all especially noteworthy.

The people of Iowa took the initial steps in making our Legislature a more responsive and effective governmental institution by approving three constitutional amendments dealing directly with the General Assembly—annual sessions, a more flexible method of legislative compensation, and permanent reapportionment and reduction in the size of the Assembly.

Since the last amendment establishes a maximum size of 150 members, I would strongly urge that this session seriously consider establishing a smaller assembly. I believe that a legislature consisting of around 120 lawmakers—80 representatives and 40 senators—would be substantially more responsive and effective. The salary savings realized from having a smaller legislature could be used for acquiring much-needed staff assistance.

We have come too far in these recent years, and there is too much at stake in the years ahead, to permit us any easy ambivalence about the needs of our state.

It is not enough to pledge allegiance to the objectives of a vitally-needed program of state service and then to stand by passively and allow its support to be cut away.

It is not enough to say that we must "cut out the cake" of our social programs, because I am not talking about cake, but about bread—bread to meet vital human needs. I am talking about education and mental health and essential aid to the indigent elderly, to dependent children, to the mentally ill and the physically handicapped, and other vital human value programs.

There is a school of thought being voiced in the state these days that in such areas as public health, education and welfare, we have been living beyond our means and trying to keep up with the Joneses (the larger and wealthier states).

It is said that Iowa has been trying to travel first class in the human value areas of state government and that we can only afford to be second class.

I can only tell you that this is not the voice of the people, but the voice of vested interest which equates the good of the state with its own private gain.

In education and in the other human value programs that mark us as a civilized people, I can only say—as Harold Hughes has said so often—we can't afford not to go first class.

Take education, for example. Even if dollars and cents were our only consideration and human values were ignored, it would be foolish to abandon the pursuit of excellence in education, for we would inevitably suffer a decline in economic growth and sacrifice one of our major attractions to new industry.

Economy in government is an essential objective, and I appreciate the problems you members of the Assembly will be facing in appropriations and ways and means.

But economy at the expense of essential human needs and allowing our human values to deteriorate is not true economy at all.

As Oliver Goldsmith wrote in "The Deserted Village":

"Ill fares the land, to hastening ills a prey
Where wealth accumulates, and men decay."

For me, this visit with you today climaxes ten years of public service at the state level.

It has truly been an honor and privilege to serve with you and for you during these memorable years.

Governor Fulton was escorted from the House chamber by the committee previously appointed.

CANVASS OF VOTES

President pro tempore Lodwick announced that the time had arrived for the canvass of votes for the office of Governor and Lieutenant Governor at the General Election held on November 6, 1968, and announced as teller, on the part of the Senate, Senator Stephens of Washington and assistant tellers Senators Hougden of Black Hawk and McGill of Monroe, and as teller, on the part of the House, Representative Den Herder of Sioux and as assistant tellers Representatives Klein of Winnebago and Radl of Linn.

President pro tempore Lodwick further announced that, in accordance with statute, tellers Senator Stephens and Representative Den Herder would constitute the judges of said canvass.

The returns were opened in the presence of the joint convention and the tellers then proceeded to canvass the vote for Governor and Lieutenant Governor of the State of Iowa, cast at the General Election held November 6, 1968.

On motion by Senator Stanley of Muscatine, the joint convention recessed until on or about 1:30 p.m., Thursday, January 16, 1969.

The Senate returned to the Senate chamber and resumed regular session, Senator Kyhl presiding.

MESSAGES FROM THE HOUSE

The following messages were received from the House:

MR. PRESIDENT: I am directed to inform your honorable body that the House has adopted the following Senate concurrent resolution in which the concurrence of the House was asked:

MAJORITY REPORT OF THE BUDGET AND FINANCIAL CONTROL COMMITTEE

To the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the Members of the Sixty-third General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

The Budget and Financial Control Committee of the Sixty-second General Assembly herewith submits the following report and recommendations.

Senator George E. O'Malley served as chairman of the committee, Representative Elmer H. Den Herder, vice chairman, and Representative Keith H. Dunton, secretary.

The committee made annual visits to the sixteen institutions that deal with mental health, special education and corrections under the Department of Social Services and the three universities, School for the Deaf and School for the Blind under the Board of Regents. The committee also met with the State Highway Commission, State Conservation Commission and toured state parks in the central Iowa region, Iowa Development Commission, State Fair Board, Department of Public Instruction, Board of Regents, Department of Social Services, State Car Dispatcher, Merit Employment Department, Office of Planning and Programming and Iowa Crime Commission. Other visits were to the Maximum Security Hospital under construction at Oakdale, Area XI Comprehensive Vocational Facility and Goodwill Industries.

The Sixty-second General Assembly gave this committee the duty of approving the expenditure of funds appropriated by the legislature for capital improvements of certain state departments, when in this committee's judgment, it was for the best interest of the State of Iowa, and to carry out the intents and purposes of the legislature. The committee also reviewed comments and recommendations contained in certain audit reports released by the Auditor of State and where the committee deemed it advisable met with certain departments to discuss progress of implementation of such recommendations.

The committee sponsored two conferences: (1) Conference on Multiple Handicapped, and (2) Conference on Education and Welfare of Unwed Mothers in the State of Iowa. Professionals from the various institutions, the Department of Social Services, the Department of Public Instruction and the University Hospital were called together to explore the services available in the State of Iowa. From these conferences, it was determined that there is a need for coordination of existing agencies, improved communications with the public, legislature and professional workers, and clarifying case responsibility.

Chairman O'Malley appointed four members of the committee to a subcommittee on governmental reorganization. Members of the subcommittee were: Senator Lee Gaudineer, chairman, Senator Joseph B. Flatt, Representative William J. Gannon and Representative Conrad Ossian.

The Governmental Reorganization Subcommittee held the following public hearings in an effort to determine the feasibility of reorganization:

Department of Natural Resources Management to include the State Conservation Commission, Iowa Natural Resources Council, Iowa State Soil Conservation Commission, Iowa State Geologist, Geological Board and the Iowa State Advisory Board for Preserves.

Department of Public Safety to include the enforcement responsibility of the gas and special fuel taxes, length and weight requirements for trucks and semi-trailers, reciprocity agreements between Iowa and other states, licensing requirements, and permit and registration requirements for trucks and semi-trailers as they affect licensing of drivers and vehicles, and reciprocity agreements.

The Bureau of Criminal Investigation, Department of Public Safety, to include the Narcotics Division and Drug Abuse Control Division of the Pharmacy Board.

The subcommittee on reorganization also met with the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation of the Department of Public Instruction and the Department of Social Services in an effort to effect an interagency agreement between these departments which would assure Iowa of receiving its full share of federal funds in the field of vocational rehabilitation, and also to discuss whether or not it would be feasible to move the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation from the Department of Public Instruction to the Department of Social Services.

As a result of this meeting an interagency agreement has been effected and approved by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, assuring Iowa of receiving its full share of federal funds in the field of vocational rehabilitation and has effected a more coordinated effort between the departments involved.

The subcommittee also met with the representatives of Harbridge House, Inc. to review a study that firm had conducted on Vocational Rehabilitation in the State of Iowa.

A public hearing was held on a proposal that federal funds be included in the state executive budget and their use authorized by the General Assembly. All departments, commissions and agencies who receive federal funds were invited to appear and present their views.

Chairman O'Malley appointed Senator Seeley G. Lodwick and Representative Keith H. Dunton to serve on the advisory committee for the medium security facility to be built at Anamosa. Plans are now being drawn for an independent unit, known as Phase I, capable of being operated without further capital fund appropriations.

The Budget and Financial Control Committee recommends that the Sixty-third General Assembly review and give consideration to Phase II of the plan for the medium security project proposed for Anamosa.

All members of the Budget and Financial Control Committee were authorized to attend the meetings of the School Budget Review Committee.

This committee recommends to the Sixty-third General Assembly the following legislation for passage:

1. An act to provide for the financing of the Iowa Merit Employment Department by prorating the cost of operations to the participating agencies.
2. An act to authorize central purchase of liability insurance on state-owned motor vehicles by the executive council and to amend section five hundred seventeen A point one (517A.1) accordingly.
3. An act to remove the word "insane" as a synonym for the words "mentally ill", and relating to the civil rights of persons admitted or committed to institutions for the mentally ill.
4. A bill for an act amending provisions of the Code of Iowa, 1966, as amended, for the purpose of providing that employment of personnel by state departments, boards, agencies, and institutions shall be pursuant to the state merit system as established by chapter ninety-five (95), Acts of the Sixty-second General Assembly.
5. A bill for an act creating a state crime laboratory and state medical examiner.
6. A bill for an act relating to the reorganization of the department of public defense.
7. A bill for an act relating to the enforcement of laws and regulations regarding narcotic drugs, counterfeit drugs and depressants and stimulant drugs.

8. A bill for an act relating to the assignment of the reciprocity board to the state department of public safety.
9. An act relating to the transfer of authority and responsibility for enforcing laws and regulations concerning certain motor vehicles to the department of public safety.

This committee recommends to the Sixty-third General Assembly the following legislation for consideration:

1. An act relating to the establishment and licensing of foster care facilities and maternity homes and repealing chapter two hundred thirty-six (236), Code 1966, relating to maternity hospitals, and chapter two hundred thirty-seven (237), Code 1966, relating to children's boarding homes.
2. A bill for an act relating to the reorganization of the Iowa state conservation commission, Iowa natural resources council, Iowa state soil conservation commission, Iowa state geologist, geological board, and the Iowa state advisory board for preserves; to establish a department of natural resource management; and to amend the Code of Iowa to conform thereto.

This committee recommends to the Sixty-third General Assembly the following legislation for study:

1. A bill for an act creating an executive department; relating to the reorganization of the office of governor, commission on aging, civil rights commission, higher education facilities commission, and all agencies now in existence or hereafter established pursuant to section seven point nine (7.9), Code 1966, and relating to the reorganization of the office of state comptroller, including reorganization and reassignment of various state offices and departments including the state printing board, the superintendent of printing, the capitol buildings and grounds department, the superintendent of capitol buildings and grounds, the state car dispatcher, centralized purchasing procedure, assignment of office and department space procedure, mail delivery and messenger service, state and federal surplus property programs, record storage, data processing, partial functions of the armory board and involving other functions and departments; and to establish an office of planning and programming within the executive department.

It is the consensus of the committee that some of the various departments included within this particular bill could well be combined, however, it cannot be said at this time that this particular bill embraces the proper solution and therefore recommends that this problem be forwarded to the Sixty-third General Assembly for further definitive study by the proper committee of each house. (A copy of this bill is on file in the office of the Legislative Fiscal Director.)

2. A bill for an act relating to the acceptance and expenditure of federal funds during the interim between legislative sessions by state departments, agencies, boards and institutions.

It is the consensus of the committee that the bill concerning the appropriation of federal funds is good in its general concept, however, the specific bill supplied contains references to procedures and legislative committees that may or may not be in existence after the reorganization by the Sixty-third General Assembly; further that, in any event, the Governor should be directed and empowered to require the various boards, agencies and commissions of state government to provide him with full information concerning any and all federal programs or grants applied for and in which participation has been authorized; that this matter then be further referred to the Sixty-third General Assembly for further definitive study by the appropriate committees of each house. (A copy of this bill is on file in the office of the Legislative Fiscal Director.)

The Budget and Financial Control Committee of the Sixty-second General Assembly also makes the following recommendations:

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY

This committee recommends that the Department of Public Safety furnish the legislature with an over-all plan for radio communications in the State of Iowa. Testimony by the Department of Public Safety revealed that much of the communications equipment is outdated and in poor condition. A comprehensive plan should be submitted which includes all departments and divisions involved with radio communications, thereby correlating all radio communications and appropriations therefor.

STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION

This committee recommends that the State Highway Commission prepare and submit a report on all surplus property and excess right-of-way in the State of Iowa.

AUDITOR OF STATE

It is recommended that the Auditor of State outline and enforce a system of uniform county accounting.

EDUCATION COMMITTEE

This committee recommends a study of the administration of education at the state level be made for the State of Iowa.

ETHICS COMMITTEE

This committee recommends that the Ethics Committee of the Sixty-third General Assembly review section 5, chapter 107, Acts of the Sixty-second General Assembly, regarding "honorariums".

The following resolution was passed by the Budget and Financial Control Committee:

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, the Budget and Financial Control Committee expends numerous man hours visiting all of the institutions, commissions, departments, and agencies of state government and is thereby familiar with their duties and responsibilities, and the means available by which such duties and responsibilities may be discharged; now therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED, That the Sixty-third General Assembly authorize the Budget and Financial Control Committee to be the body that authorizes all requests for appropriations from the contingency fund up to a maximum of thirty-five thousand dollars ($35,000.00) and all in excess thereof with the concurrence of the Executive Council.

The vote on the above resolution was as follows:

Those voting aye: Representative Cunningham
Representative Den Herder
Representative Dunton
Senator Flatt
Senator Lodwick
Representative Ossian

Those voting nay: Senator Cassidy Representative Gannon
Senator Gaudineer

Not voting: Senator O'Malley

The members of the Budget and Financial Control Committee unanimously agree to be available to work with any of the standing committees during the Sixty-third General Assembly to relate to them the information gathered in their visits to the various state institutions, departments, agencies and commissions.

The members of the Budget and Financial Control Committee express their thanks to all state departments, commissions, agencies and institutions for their cooperation during the biennium.

Respectfully submitted,

MINORITY REPORT OF THE

BUDGET AND FINANCIAL CONTROL COMMITTEE

To the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the Members of the Sixty-third General Assembly of the State of Iowa: I, William J. Gannon, hereby submit the following statement and minority report of the Budget and Financial Control Committee.

For four years I have served as a member of the Budget and Financial Control Committee. The value of serving as a member of the "Interim Committee" cannot be matched. I have enjoyed and appreciated my tenure.

The purpose of this statement and report is to share with the other members of the General Assembly some of my observations as a departing member of the Budget and Financial Control Committee.

The Budget and Financial Control Committee has more contact with the departments and institutions of state government than any other group of legislators. The committee members have as broad an understanding of state government as any group of legislators, however, the committee members are not able to have an in depth knowledge of all departments and institutions.

With the advent of annual sessions, I can foresee a rapid diminishing of activity and responsibility for the Budget and Financial Control Committee.

If the standing committees are allowed to continue between sessions, the proper standing committee would be a more legitimate group to have a hearing on the schooling of unwed mothers. I use this as an example of how the activities of the Budget and Financial Control Committee will (and properly so) diminish.

The majority report is quite lacking as far as recommendations for change accompanying annual sessions. Here are some examples:

1. It disregards the Legislative Processes Study Committee report.
2. It makes no recommendations relative to annual budgeting.
3. The majority seems to be looking to the past rather than the future—witness their recommendations concerning the contingency fund. I am strongly opposed to having a return to the old "contingency club" relationship between the executive branch and the legislature.

I am in basic agreement with the balance of the majority report. I would be remiss if I didn't mention the changes I have witnessed during my brief tenure on the Interim Committee.

Programs and operations have improved at all of our institutions. I am particularly encouraged by what I see at our schools for the mentally retarded and our penal institutions. We have seen the emergence of a practical program at the Riverview Prerelease Center.

Our Board of Regents institutions have kept pace with growing enrollment demands and the knowledge explosion. We have seen the emergence of the area schools, which, despite their detractors, are supplying excellent educational opportunity to thousands of young people and a lot of us older citizens.

One of the most dramatic changes includes the Interim Committee itself. At the outset of my tenure on the committee, the members and to a certain extent the staff of our institutions seemed to be more interested in the institution's farming operation than in the programs designed to aid the people they were serving. I am happy to report this is no longer the case.

The following are my recommendations:

1. Enactment of all the governmental reorganization bills mentioned in the majority report.
2. Abolishment of the Budget and Financial Control Committee and realignment of its functions as recommended by the Legislative Processes Study Committee.
3. Proceeding immediately to annual budgets.
4. Abolishing the contingency fund.
5. Appointment of the State Auditor by the legislature and combining the functions of the Legislative Fiscal Director with State Auditor.

Respectfully submitted,
WILLIAM J. GANNON

PARTIAL CONCURRENCE IN MINORITY REPORT

I, Lee Gaudineer, concur in the specific recommendations contained in the minority report filed by Representative William J. Gannon.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 4

By Griffin (Schroeder)

Whereas, the public agencies of the state and the political subdivisions thereof are confronted with an ever-increasing influx of mobile homes and their owners and occupants; and

Whereas, the public agencies of the state and the political subdivisions thereof are confronted with the increased demand for public services by such persons; and

Whereas, the presence of mobile homes and their owners and occupants are creating a large burden upon the public school systems of this state; and

Whereas, the presence and movement of mobile homes has created a burden upon the public highway system of this state; now, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That the General Assembly establish a special committee to conduct during the Sixty-third

General Assembly a study of the mobile home and parks statutes, rules and regulations relating thereto, and the effectiveness of such statutes, rules, and regulations relating thereto, including a study of whether the tax structure pertaining to mobile homes is commensurate with the degree of governmental services provided to owners of mobile homes, and the need for any revision in the state mobile home and parks statutes.

On motion of Senator Lange, the Senate adjourned until 9:00 a.m., Thursday, January 16, 1969.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 6

By McCartney of Floyd

Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring: That when adjournment is had on Thursday afternoon, January 16, 1969, it be to reconvene at 10:00 a.m., Monday, January 20, 1969.

HOUSE MESSAGE CONSIDERED

Senator Stanley asked and received unanimous consent to take up House Concurrent Resolution 6 and moved its adoption.

The motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

On motion of Senator Stanley, the Senate recessed until 1:25 p.m. to meet in the north room on the second floor of the Veterans Memorial Auditorium.

The Senate reconvened, President pro tempore Lodwick presiding.

COMMITTEE FROM THE HOUSE

A committee from the House appeared and announced that the House was ready to receive the Senate in joint convention.

In accordance with Senate Concurrent Resolution 1, duly adopted, the Senate proceeded to the seat of the joint convention on the main floor of Veterans Memorial Auditorium in columns of two's, led by the Sergeant-at-Arms and the Secretary of the Senate.

JOINT CONVENTION

The joint convention reconvened, President pro tempore Lodwick presiding.

The President pro tempore declared a majority of the General Assembly present at the joint convention.

President pro tempore Lodwick then announced and made public the canvass of the vote.

The tellers reported as follows:

Mr. President and Gentlemen and Ladies of the Joint Convention:

The National Anthem was sung by Mr. Vincent R. McCowen, Waterloo, Iowa, after which the convention and guests joined with him in pledging allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

The invocation was delivered by Monsignor Justin A. Driscoll, President of Loras College, Dubuque, Iowa.

The oath of office was administered to Governor-elect Robert D. Ray by Chief Justice Theodore G. Garfield of the Supreme Court of Iowa.

The oath of office was administered to Lieutenant Governor-elect Roger W. Jepsen by Chief Justice Theodore G. Garfield of the Supreme Court of Iowa.

President pro tempore Lodwick presented Lieutenant Governor Roger W. Jepsen.

Lieutenant Governor Roger W. Jepsen, President of the Senate, presiding, presented Governor Robert D. Ray, who delivered the following inaugural address:

INAUGURAL MESSAGE TO THE SIXTY-THIRD GENERAL ASSEMBLY
BY HONORABLE ROBERT D. RAY, GOVERNOR OF IOWA

Joint Session, January 16, 1969

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chief Justice, Senators and Representatives, State Officials, Distinguished Guests, Ladies and Gentlemen:

One hundred twenty-two years and forty-four days ago—on Thursday, December 3, 1846—in the House of Representatives chamber of the gracious Stone Capitol Building at Iowa City, of which we have heard so much lately, the first Governor of the State of Iowa was inaugurated.

It was no job for a faint-hearted or unskilled man. The treasury of the new state was not only bare, but $20,000 in the red; hence, the first act of the First General Assembly had been to authorize a $55,000 bond issue, bearing 10 percent interest and payable in ten years. Total value of taxable property in the state was about 11¼ million dollars; the entire revenue of state government during the first year of the Ansel Briggs administration was only $50,000, while expenditures exceeded $59,000. More worrisome to Briggs than Iowa's financial stringency was the chaotic condition of public education, because Briggs—due to his own meager schooling—prized it highly and wanted it to be freely available. But only about 10 percent of the children of school age were enrolled in public schools, because many districts simply failed to provide any facilities.

Governor Briggs was a leader of firm conviction and clear foresight. He persistently emphasized the importance of education and agriculture to this state. He repeatedly deplored "exceedingly defective" school laws and the frustration of what he called "the wishes of the people for improved school legislation." During his administration the statutory foundation was laid for the present great university at Iowa City. Concerning agriculture, he rightly pointed out that "it is . . . and ever will be, a subject of the first importance to a large majority of the citizens of the state." He vigorously advocated such internal improvements as roads, bridges and waterways, and—nearly a score of years before Iowa was first spanned by a railroad—Briggs urged the importance of railroad building.

When he retired from the Governorship in 1850, Briggs—with unfailing modesty—told the legislature: "I may, and undoubtedly have, committed errors; but if such be the case, . . . they sprang from no vicious or wrong motive." Then he added the hope—which has been echoed by his successors, and which I today pick up—that Iowa might "ever be distinguished for virtue, intelligence and prosperity."

I am the thirty-third in the line of men—begun by Ansel Briggs—who have been elected as Governor of Iowa. They have been men of all sorts and conditions. Their birthplaces have ranged from New Hampshire to northwest Iowa; their occupations have run the gamut from lawyer to live-stock auctioneer; they have ranged in age from thirty-eight to sixty-six at the time of inauguration. This breadth of background is itself an affirmation of the American dream. But different as their origins and experiences and outlooks may have been, each—in his separate way—has brought to the Governorship some dream of a better life for Iowans, for Americans, for the whole human race. Without such a dream—brought alive by the resolve to do at least a little something to make it come to pass—high office becomes a hollow mockery and an empty loneliness. Each successive Iowa Governor has made his contribution—large or small—to the realization of mankind's quest toward a more perfect society, where illness and poverty and cruelty and bitterness and war will be no more. It is a quest which has no end, but which makes us a little better tomorrow than we are today.

I am sure that every Governor has entered upon his duties, as I do, fully realizing that government—however wise and good it may be—can make only a limited contribution toward the fulfillment of the better life which we seek for all people. But, just as surely, no man would even start to plow the furrow which leads to this office without conviction that government processes must and do make an important contribution to the general welfare—a contribution which, whether we like it or not, becomes ever vastly larger than it was in the time of Ansel Briggs and his fellow frontiersmen. Nor can any man survive the trial by campaign fire which he must undergo before reaching the place where I stand this afternoon, if he were moved only by partisan considerations. Political parties are useful and indispensable tools for the functioning of a democracy, but they are not made in heaven—they are the creatures of men. Every Governor is the product of party processes, but in his role as Governor he must not be a creature of party, but the Chief Executive of all the people whom he has been called to serve. A Governor worthy of the office, and worthy of his state, sees his fellow-citizens as neither Christians nor Jews nor Moslems, whites nor blacks nor red men, poor nor rich, urban nor rural. Every Governor worthy of his office and state is religion-blind, race-blind, status-blind, and area-blind. Thus has it been with my predecessors in the long line of Governors who have served Iowa with honor, and thus I pledge it will be throughout my administration of this state's affairs. Ansel Briggs stamped this office with a character of determination, good-will and forward planning. That character has been preserved and freshened by the Governors who have followed. It is my solemn pledge to try to do no less than they have done, and—with the help of every Iowan, both here in this hall and everywhere—we will do even more, and do it better, than has been done before.

In this connection, I want to thank Governor Hughes—and, most recently, Governor Fulton—for their gracious cooperation in helping me to make an orderly transition from their administration to mine. By the same token, I assure the people of Iowa that I do not propose to scuttle any useful achievements of the past only because they bear the label of an earlier administration. Mine is a constructive, not a destructive purpose; it is my intention to build, and not to wreck; I propose to help build a more spacious and vibrant Iowa—not to shrink this state to small and mean proportions.

With this much background about my basic concept of the job you have entrusted to me, let us now turn to a partial inventory of the specific chores which we must undertake cooperatively: I as Governor, and you as legislators, public employees, and concerned citizens generally. In making this inventory, I emphasize that it is only partial. Limitations of time forbid that it be complete. The failure of a problem or project or program to get mention in this message is not to be construed as prima facie evidence of its unimportance so far as I am concerned. The message is designed as a working paper, and not as a detailed blueprint.

BETTER GOVERNMENT

If our American system of government were to fail, it would be because we have allowed too much decision-making power to become centered in one place, and have failed to make adequate use of the fifty other centers of political power and action contemplated in the federal constitution. Good government must be responsive to its citizens. If Iowa—including its state government, counties, municipalities, school districts, and other subdivisions—is to play an effective role in a balanced federal relationship, it must provide itself with the tools to do the job.

Among those tools are the following:

All elective state officials should be chosen, in non-presidential years, for four-year terms. Those officials are: Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Attorney General, Treasurer, Auditor, Secretary of Agriculture.

Inasmuch as the recent innovation of a September primary election has created more evils than it has cured, the primary election date should be returned to June.

As a step in combatting the perilous impersonality of government and in giving citizens a renewed sense of direct participation in their government, the office of "ombudsman" should be established, subject to appointment by the Governor and confirmation by the Senate. This concept has a 160-year history of success, beginning in Sweden and recently under consideration in more than half of our 50 states. An Ombudsman would serve as a channel for redressing individual grievances which are beyond the reach of present court procedures and leave many people voiceless. Additionally, the Ombudsman would analyze grievances and seek better administration of public agencies. He would improve the performance of legislative functions through identification of recurring problems which may require corrective legislation. Finally, experience has shown that an Ombudsman improves the morale of public servants and increases public confidence in them, by ventilating unfounded criticism and rejecting unfounded complaints.

Much has been said about reduction of waste, overlap and inefficiency in state government. Therefore, I am appointing a Governor's Economy Committee, consisting of top-level executives from private business who will—without any cost to the taxpayer—examine and evaluate the management and administrative practices in all operating sectors of our state government. Recommendations will then be made that can be followed with lasting advantages to all citizens. Hand in hand with this program will go another dealing with work simplification, and still another providing incentives for public employees to suggest improvements in the procedures of their agencies.

Both efficiency and economy require that the state move as rapidly as possible toward centralized purchasing, and that competitive bidding be extended to all substantial purchases at every level of government. We must not jeopardize receiving any federal funds, but in order to properly plan, it is necessary to be knowledgeable about funds received from sources other than state appropriations. Therefore, I ask that you provide that all funds received by any state public agency from a non-state source—such as the federal government—be reported to the State Comptroller within thirty days.

By Iowa law, it is a right of the people—but not mandatory upon them—to bring about the combining of services in counties. The law should likewise permit the joining of entire counties, by a popular vote of the people if they desire such a change. I recognize the many functions performed by local subdivisions of government and the convenience of them and would not have them arbitrarily superseded by larger, artificial creations. But I would encourage the use of multi-county services in areas such as health, welfare, education and law enforcement.

As a means of encouraging economic growth, increased employment and orderly development and living, I recommend that the General Assembly review—and, if necessary, revise—county zoning laws, and I urge County Boards of Supervisors to adopt realistic zoning regulations.

An inseparable part of better government is a legislature so organized that it can respond promptly and effectively to the needs of the society which it serves. I do not presume to tell the General Assembly how to order its own affairs, but a few suggestions may be in order.

Reapportionment is never an easy task. I endorse your use of a bi-partisan committee outside the legislature similar to the one that worked so effectively in 1967.

I recommend early and swift attention to this matter of permanent reapportionment, and that you pass for the second time the constitutional amendment designed to assure election of every legislator from a separate district.

I am sure there is general agreement on the need for short sessions, now that they will occur annually, and for payment of legislators by annual salary which will represent reasonable compensation for services performed, without—however—encouraging the emergence of full-time, professional law-makers. In this connection, the General Assembly ought to equip itself with increased staff for research, bill drafting, and use by standing committees. Moreover, the legislature—and especially committee chairmen—have urgent need for better working facilities and expanded clerical assistance.

Much has been talked, written and studied about legislative ethics and conflicts of interest. The exceptionally well done Iowa Legislative Processes Study Committee Report makes recommendations that deal directly with this subject. I endorse them.

On a minor, but not insignificant note, I recommend that the State Banking Board be enlarged from four to five members, consisting of three commercial bankers, one credit-union representative, and one representative of the small-loan industry. Also, the banking laws should be revised. In addition, a good "Truth in Lending" bill will have my support.

No subject-matter with which the legislature will deal transcends—in importance—this area of forging a better government. Events of 1968 revealed widespread public dissatisfaction with the structure of government, and a demand that ways be found to make it simpler, more responsive, more efficient and economical. We must start, without delay, to close the gap between the way government actually works and the way that people—especially young people—see it working. Nothing could be more crucial than this to the survival of established American political institutions. As modest, practical steps toward that goal, I recommend two procedural changes by constitutional amendment: first—that the vote for all elected state officials be canvassed in the same way and at the same time, so that the Governor and Lieutenant Governor may take office on January 2; and secondly—that the General Assembly convene on the third, rather than the second, Monday of January, so that a new Governor will have a better chance to settle himself into his duties. In the same general field, it would be desirable to make permanent voter registration mandatory in precincts with a population of more than 1,500 persons.

On a more substantive note, I earnestly suggest that the minimum voting age in Iowa be lowered. As a corollary to my conviction on this subject and on the whole matter of expanded involvement in public affairs, I have already taken steps to appoint a Youth Advisory Committee to work with me, in this sensitive area.

No mention of better living for Iowans would be complete without a salute to the State Arts Council, which has provided a big return for a very small investment. Operating with a federal matching-fund grant of less than $31,000 for this fiscal year, the Council has somehow managed to take cultural programs into at least 97 counties, with the objective of reaching as many rural areas as possible. The projects range from architectural and community planning lectures to art exhibits, plays, puppet shows, ballet performances, motion pictures, and music recitals. I pledge enthusiastic support to the continuing success of the Arts Council, and remind my fellow-citizens that the Council is authorized by law to accept private contributions.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

Just as events of last year pointed up the need to interest many more people in political decision-making, so also did events of that restless year underscore another elemental fact: The right of dissent in a free society and its exercise by individual citizens must be expressed within the framework of law. Where every man claims the right to make his own law, the law of physical force will ultimately prevail, the weak will be trampled underfoot, and stark tyranny will be the victor. The rule of law must be maintained.

To this end, Iowa must modernize and swiften its procedures for capturing and convicting criminals. This need is highlighted by the recent kidnap-murder of a young girl, stolen from what would have been considered the perfect safety of the Des Moines Y.M.C.A. We are providing that four agents be added at once to the Bureau of Criminal Investigation; we are improving the state police radio network; we are expanding the storage of computerized information to include auto licenses as well as driver licenses, and we are providing fast contact with the National Crime Information Center.

In this connection, I am grateful to Governor Hughes for cooperating in letting me select the thirty members of a new Committee on Law Enforcement Planning. Out of the activity of this committee, and from other attacks on the problem, we intend to score breakthroughs in these areas:

First: Apprehension of suspects, partly through consolidation of police radio facilities;

Second: Computerization of identification;

Third: Up-grading of police investigative procedures;

Fourth: Action to speed criminal justice;

Fifth: Pre-sentence investigations under judicial supervision;

Sixth: Cooperation and coordination among the state highway patrol, county sheriff's officers and local police.

Finally: The addition of State Crime Laboratory facilities.

I further recommend that provision be made for each driver's license to include a photograph of the driver, who will pay for the extra cost to provide adequate identification and aid law enforcement.

It is important that the residence requirements for peace officers and the five-year in-service requirement for police chiefs be eliminated so as to enable recruitment. Police departments should be permitted to employ officers pending their civil-service certification. All peace officers should be trained at the Iowa Law Enforcement Academy or some similar, approved facility, and the academy must be given our full support.

But competent, highly professional law enforcement alone is not enough to checkmate crime and establish safety on our streets and roads, and in our homes, parks, and public places. That goal will not be achieved without the active participation of all good citizens. A Citizens' Crime Alert system is proving successful where in use and should be extended in Iowa.

Also needed is second legislative passage of the constitutional amendment which would remove the county attorney's election from the constitution, and thus open the door to establish for county attorneys the same four-year term which other county officials have. More than this is needed, because many counties experience increasing difficulty in recruiting volunteers to fill the county attorney's post on a part-time, under-paid basis. Therefore, counties should be allowed to join in the creation of district attorneys' offices for the prosecution of criminal cases.

We must constantly be seeking ways to up-grade our judicial system. Fundamental is the need for an integrated system of lower courts. I recommend that the General Assembly act in this area.

We must also proceed promptly with revision of the criminal code, which has been long enough in process. Attention must be given to the improvement of Iowa's juvenile court system and its facilities, with a strict prohibition against the housing of juvenile offenders with adult prisoners. I recommend again, as I did throughout the 1968 political campaign, that parents be held financially responsible for damage done by their minor children to persons and property.

If we are to break the vicious cycle of rising crime, we must start with the young. Rehabilitation of wayward boys and girls is not only possible, but is also an obligation which rests upon us all collectively, as a civilized society. Rehabilitation becomes progressively more difficult, however, as the youngster moves from one level of crime to another while he is growing older—helped (if you choose to call it "help") by hardened criminals with whom he is thrown in contact, both in and out of institutions. At Eldora, we have one of the better boys' training schools in the country—but the whole concept of so-called training schools has been quite thoroughly discredited by their results. Inevitably, they too often serve as training-schools for post-graduate crime. So far as possible they should be replaced by better environments in which to work with disturbed juveniles.

The best available alternative to training schools, as I see it, is a system of youth forest camps, which would provide useful, interesting and healthy work experience for those occupants, along with organized schooling and wholesome recreation. Encouraging results are reported from states which have tried the forest-camp approach. As a pilot project, I ask the General Assembly to authorize one such camp, which will give us guide-lines for future action.

Iowa's liquor distribution system, while imperfect in many respects, still offers the strongest control to meet the demands of public policy.

HUMAN RIGHTS

Our determination to curb lawlessness must not be permitted to harden our hearts to the importance of human rights. Indeed, callousness toward the rights of others leads inexorably to the loss of our own—as the Germans learned a generation ago, and as is still being learned by residents of Communist lands. There is an old Latin maxim which runs as follows, in translation: "They created a wasteland, and they called it peace." We cannot afford to forget that a police state provides perfect law and order by making the entire commonwealth a prison. We do not intend to make that mistake in Iowa, which has a proud record of sensitive concern for human rights. We intend to have law and order with justice and with full protection of the rights of people individually and people in groups—not least of all, those groups whose voices are sometimes hardest to hear: the poor, the sick, the young, and our Negro and Indian minorities.

In this context, I endorse the proposal that tax incentives be offered to private business for training disadvantaged persons in both urban and rural areas.

In the area of fair housing, I call upon the General Assembly to repeal that part of the present fair housing law which requires complainants under the statute to post a $500 bond. Under the same heading, I endorse legislation to permit the State Civil Rights Commission to seek temporary injunctions in support of its findings. This procedure is unlikely to be abused, for I am confident that district courts will not grant such an injunction without good cause.

The fact that Iowa's ethnic minorities are small exposes them to the danger of a special kind of discrimination, which develops out of indifference and neglect. As a partial offset to this possibility, it would be desirable for local school boards to provide textbooks and other materials factually including contributions of Negroes, Indians and other groups to the development of American civilization. Iowa history itself provides a respectable number of landmark achievements by these races. In the earliest years of settlement here, the Iowa Territorial Supreme Court—in the famous case of "Ralph"—laid down the rule that the free soil of Iowa conferred freedom on a black man who had escaped northward from bondage in Missouri. Later, it was in the free atmosphere of Iowa that George Washington Carver first stirred with the genius which marked him as one of America's great men of science. It was here that the noble chief, Black Hawk, spent his last years—at peace with friend and foe. And it is here that the Mesquakies, descendants of a part of Black Hawk's Sac-and-Fox Confederation, have been striving for several generations to make a success of their unique experiment in tribal living.

Not all discrimination is deliberate, and much of it bears down on Iowans who are white, as well as black and red. For example: I trust this General Assembly will give second passage to the constitutional amendment which assures the right of every qualified citizen to vote, despite his transfer of residence from one place to another.

On yet another front, I hope this General Assembly will seize its opportunity to end discrimination against Iowa service men and women in the purchase of automobile insurance. In many cases, Iowans in the armed forces are being arbitrarily denied such insurance. Legislation should be enacted to limit the cancellation of automobile insurance policies. Such a bill should provide that age, race, creed, occupation or residence is not sufficient reason for failing to renew a policy. The bill would also set up appeal machinery within the Insurance Commissioner's office to enforce provisions of the act.

EDUCATION

The surest underpinning of public order, human rights, better government, material prosperity and all other benefits prized by human beings is adequate, effective education. It was one of the two chief concerns of my first predecessor—Ansel Briggs—and it has remained a chief concern ever since. Education has top priority in my mind and heart, as I know it has in the thinking of every legislator. Education is Iowa's prime resource, and a prerequisite to the state's continuing progress. We must attend zealously to every kind, every level, and every geographical location of Iowa's educational needs. There can be no doubt about our commitment to this goal, because I am sure that about half of all state and local government expenditure in Iowa goes for education.

The immense size of our investment in education—both for plant and for operations—imposes on all of us the obligation to conduct a continuing analysis of the effectiveness with which this huge investment is being used. There is some limit to the proportion of income which citizens are willing to allocate to the entire spectrum of formal education in its infinite varieties. The cause of education and educators is best served by shifting from blind idolatry to critical examination, before an indiscriminating reaction against skyrocketing school costs has a chance to set in. We who most love education must take the leadership in protecting her from the consequences of blind idolatry. This is especially necessary in the period of budgetary bind which Iowa finds itself.

Therefore, I will name a Governor's Educational Advisory Committee, consisting entirely of lay people, who will examine the whole field of Iowa education from nursery through professional and graduate schools and recommend to the Legislature and Governor how the educational dollar can best be spent. This group will be selected solely for competence, and without reference to occupation, or political party affiliation. It will be a working body, headed by former State Representative Leroy Petersen of Grimes, whom I have appointed as Director of the Office for Planning and Program ming. The Educational Advisory Committee will not be a policy-making board or "super board" but will identify areas of overlap, duplication, and other undesirable practices, and make recommendations. The committee will study parochial and other private, as well as public schools serving the kindergarten-through-twelfth-grade age groups. In post high-school education, it will consider Iowa's non-tax-supported colleges and universities, as well as the regents' universities and the system of area community colleges and vocational-technical schools. Nor will the committee overlook proposals for construction of a new state-supported university in western Iowa and for a statewide network of educational television facilities. Both a heavy load of work and an exciting challenge will be undertaken by this committee. I am confident that its recommendations will fill the pressing need for a well researched chart by which to plot a rational, correlated future course for our entire Iowa educational system. We cannot afford waste of money, talent and facilities that results from letting each part of the system go its own way, with little reference to the other parts.

However, there are things which must be done in the field of education, without waiting for the findings of the Advisory Committee. For example, we must increase state aid funds to local public education, no matter how tight the budget may be, thereby lessening the tax load borne by local property owners.

At the same time, legislation is needed to fix upon local school boards both the responsibility and authority to educate all children in accordance with their individual needs, abilities, handicaps and circumstances. In that connection, we should take a fresh look at the school attendance law, which might serve a better social purpose by fixing age sixteen as the minimum for leaving, without any requirement of attaining a fixed grade—such as the eighth. I propose that we develop a program of summer employment for Iowa youth, to be administered by and supported with state funds on a matching basis with contributions from various private sources including business firms.

I am firmly of the opinion that no school pupil should be excluded from use of public-school buses on their regular routes. Rising costs are placing heavier and heavier financial burdens on such schools, to the point of jeopardizing their existence. They add greatly to the general welfare of our state, not only by reducing the financial and other burdens of public-school districts, but also by contributing valuable variety to the stream of Iowa life. I support the shared time concept and recommend wider use of it.

Recognizing the controversy that has developed over the Great Plains Project Report, I recommend that the Legislature appoint a committee to analyze the material and information it contains and consider with that the findings and recommendations that the school Budget Review Committee makes. With that foundation a course can be, and should be, charted for Iowa public elementary and secondary schools.

On a different front, the time has come to face squarely the need for and to provide for professional negotiations between local boards of education and the teachers whom they employ. A no-strike clause has to be included in the mediation or arbitration procedures of the legislation.

At the same time the Legislature should recognize the necessity of developing a procedure by which other government employees can make their needs known, keeping in mind the complicating affects of the Merit System.

In mentioning the Merit System I want to point out that this employee benefit law which had bi-partisan support two years ago has not at this time produced the desired results. The principle is still right.

In justice to all public employees, covered by IPERS, including teachers, some changes are overdue in the program to provide something closer to a decent level of retirement pay. The recent actuarial report confirms that more retirement benefits can be paid without depleting the principal of the IPERS fund. I recommend the law be changed to provide this increase in benefits. The General Assembly would do well to determine the feasibility of raising the IPERS ceiling above its present $7,000 level and an increase in the contribution rate to help lower-bracket workers.

Our area community colleges and vocational-technical schools are an irreplaceable part of Iowa's educational structure, by reason of both their intrinsic merit and their great potential contribution to expansion of the economy. Their problems are not solely of their own making; legislation too hastily and carelessly drawn is indeed a contributing factor. Some of the errors can be redressed; others we shall probably have to live with for the sake of the benefits which these community colleges confer upon their respective areas and upon the whole state. Financial stringency must not be permitted to impair the standards of any of them, but future emphasis should be placed heavily upon their vocational-technical programs. I am gratified by the growing trend for business firms, churches, fraternal organizations and other private groups to provide scholarships at the vocational-technical schools, and I look with hope to this trend accelerating rapidly.

A constant problem in all higher education is the shockingly large proportion of youth—our greatest resource—which pursues no training beyond the high-school level. In Iowa, 94 percent have expressed a desire to continue education, but only 60 percent do so. Lack of funds is a deterrent, and would play an even greater part except for several student-help programs administered by the Higher Education Facilities Commission. Besides loans guaranteed by the federal government, those programs include state-financed loans for medical students and State of Iowa scholarships, which I recommend for continuance—and when finances permit—for expansion.

We come now to a need which must be faced without postponement even though we would prefer to set it aside until the state treasury becomes more affluent. Since the beginning of settlement in Iowa, privately supported colleges have been an integral part of our higher education system. At least four of those colleges—Loras, Iowa Wesleyan, Clarke and Grinnell (in that order)—trace their origins back to the territorial period, before any state schools existed even on paper. The list has now grown to more than thirty junior colleges and degree-granting institutions of various types, which operate in Iowa without state tax money. Some are nationally distinguished, and all make important contributions to Iowa life, besides accommodating one-third of the state's total enrollment in higher education.

They face a common problem of declining attendance and unused or under-used facilities, because of the pinch caused by rising tuition to meet higher costs. Each tuition increase prices more students out of the private colleges and into public institutions, where fees pay less than one-fourth of instruction costs and public funds pay the rest. Tuition grants sufficient to close part of the gap would benefit the students, the state, the colleges and the taxpayers. By making it possible for Iowa youth to make fuller use of $200 million worth of private college facilities, we would reduce pressure on the state institutions for expansion of their immensely expensive facilities. Therefore, I recommend that this General Assembly pioneer a program of state tuition grants.

Concerning the state universities at Iowa City, Ames and Cedar Falls, I want to make crystal-clear that I join the overwhelming majority of Iowans—whether or not they have ever studied on any of these campuses—in feeling an enormous pride in the worldwide reputation for academic excellence which our state universities deservedly enjoy.

I shall use every resource at my command to protect the universities from any infringement of those ancient freedoms which academic communities must have, if they are to fulfill their promise to mankind. In the discharge of this obligation I ask for complete support from both sides of the aisle in the General Assembly.

On a more specific note, I favor long-range financing of needed classroom and laboratory facilities at regents' institutions. This is sound business in every way. The bond issues are self-policing, because they will only be bought when economic and revenue prospects are favorable. Moreover, the bonds will be retired by revenue from the people who benefit from the improvements they provide.

BETTER LIVING

Along with better government, an orderly society, human rights and first-rate education, it is essential that Iowans achieve even better living than they now have. To the extent that better living can be stimulated by public action, it is probably in the field of conservation that the most effective steps can be taken. Husbandry of our natural resources is essential to maintain the life-sustaining balance of nature, to provide for enlarging leisure-time activity, to promote economic growth, and to make Iowa increasingly attractive to tourists.

To this end, there must be strict enforcement of Iowa's water and air pollution control laws. We can be satisfied with nothing less than elimination of pollution from government, industrial, agricultural, and domestic sources. Whenever the laws, rules or regulations need strengthening the legislature should not hesitate to act. Furthermore, strong legislation with realistic penalties is required to stop the littering of our roadsides and stream banks.

Iowa needs renewed dedication to a comprehensive soil and water conservation program, in which emphasis will be placed on practices of long-range value, such as terracing, waterway improvement, pond construction, and reforestation. Land-use and erosion-control agreements should be emphasized, to assure that our natural and artificial lakes will not be destroyed through silt accumulation. Attention should also be given to upper watershed control as a factor in protecting impoundment areas from siltation. Careful planning is required to make natural beauty areas accessible without marring their inherent charm. What I like to call "sight pollution" should also receive priority to preserve the natural beauty of our countryside. Iowa should have more adequate wildlife habitats and a better program for improved fishing in lakes and streams. At the same time, I want to express my satisfaction at the great contributions to a better Iowa which have been made by our county conservation commissions. At relatively limited cost, they have tremendously expanded our recreational facilities close to where the people live.

The Iowa Conservation Commission has deep-seated problems which are partly financial and partly organizational. Because of the enormous and increasing use which our state parks receive, it is essential that the ills of the Conservation Commission be cured. In the near future, a great part of the cure will have to be something other than increased state appropriations. During this period, I suggest that the Commission concentrate on improved maintenance of present parks and other recreational facilities.

To ease the financial bind and to provide for better care of state parks, I recommend that Iowa adopt the practice of many other states in charging a modest fee for admission to our parks. Users should have a choice between an annual fee and a small daily charge. The revenue will be useful, and I am sure that park users will feel a sense of pride in contributing directly to upgrading the surroundings which they enjoy.

HEALTH AND WELFARE

I have said before, and I repeat here, that I am not becoming Governor of Iowa to snatch food from the hungry, trip up the crippled, hound the homeless, or taunt the unlucky with pious platitudes. Basically, I believe that government can do the most good by helping people to help themselves; but I also realize that government—as the prime tool of organized society—must care for many of those who cannot help themselves. So far as possible, private activity in this field should be preferred to government activity; and where government action is required, it should come as largely as possible from local and state levels. However, I am less concerned with theories of responsibility than with making sure that no legitimate need goes unmet because of poor communication, indifference or plain cussedness.

I favor the concept which encourages earning by welfare recipients, who should not be penalized by the deduction of all they make from their public assistance; such deductions should be on a sliding scale and tailored to circumstances.

I strongly support programs of rehabilitation for persons who cannot benefit from standard educational procedures, because through these programs such people can be brought to realization of their full potentials. I especially commend the work of the Commission for the Blind in restoring sightless Iowans to gainful employment.

I am appointing a Governor's Committee on Mental Health—not to question the impressive results of our present treatment methods for the emotionally disturbed, but to find a good solution for the problem created by our success in treatment. This is a nice kind of a problem to have. It stems from the fact that patients spend much briefer periods in mental health institutes than previously, while out-patient care has been greatly expanded and improved. Hence, all of these institutes now have patient populations far below capacity, and we need to decide whether one or more of them can be closed or transferred to some other use.

We must also strengthen our alcoholism projects. With the federal government shutting off funds for a one-shot ICAP pilot project, I ask that the Iowa Comprehensive Alcoholism Project be combined with the established Commission on Alcoholism. There is merit in the research-oriented state program at Oakdale, and also in the maintenance of detoxification centers serving considerable areas. Summarizing, the State of Iowa has an obligation to remain active in this field, despite the budgetary problems of doing so and in my budget message I will explain how I believe this can be done.

In order to protect a mother's health, prevent the birth of a defective child, or end a pregnancy caused by rape or incest, abortions should be legalized under strict medical supervision.

CITIES AND TOWNS

So far, I have dealt largely with aspects of government which directly touch the quality of personal life for our citizens. Now I shall turn briefly to some other matters. High on this list are the growing pains of Iowa municipalities. I need not dwell on the point that they have nationwide company in their misery. All over America, cities are in dire trouble because of the population explosion and the constant movement of people from open country to build-up areas. The Iowa problem is different only in being less acute, because we have no cities of unmanageable size and our agricultural economy remains one of family farms.

None the less, the headaches of Iowa cities differ only in degree, and not in kind, from those of their more troubled sisters elsewhere. In response to this urban plight, I am already setting up a Governor's Committee on Cities and Towns, which will search out, identify and define their needs and their ability to financially meet them.

We know the state budget this session will not afford substantial funds for state aid to our cities. Therefore, if this Committee reports that necessary city services cannot be financed by present methods then I am ready to recommend that municipalities be permitted to tap other sources of revenue, upon an affirmative vote by their people. I also look forward to municipalities benefiting in tangible ways from implementation of the new home-rule amendment.

I have talked about the need for an urban affairs office and pledged that if there were not sufficient funds for it to stand alone it would operate from the Governor's office. I am convinced that the best place to start this department is in the Office for Planning and Programming and ask that it be established. It will provide useful answers in such areas as zoning, housing, law, and budgeting for local officials.

Two very specific services will be performed by the urban affairs division of the Office for Planning and Programming. First, this division can help Iowa cities cooperate with new urban undertakings which will be unveiled by the Nixon administration. And secondly, it can be helpful to metropolitan areas in consolidating the overlapping services now provided by adjacent cities, suburban towns, and counties. The evolving central garbage collection service for metropolitan Des Moines is an example of progress in this field.

TAXATION

It is not cities alone which are plagued by problems of inadequate tax revenues. Every state in the union—including Iowa—has the problem. The limited financial capabilities of the states stem, in part, from the pre-emption by the federal government of a preponderant share of all public revenue. Until and unless this imbalance is corrected, there is no complete solution of the problem. Therefore, I urge all of us—the Iowa delegation in Congress, the legislature, local governments, and myself—to join forces in a fight for passage of a federal-state revenue-sharing plan.

Meanwhile, I propose that the Iowa income tax structure be simplified, and a so-called "postcard" return be adopted. Under this plan, the state income tax of every Iowan would then become a fixed percentage of his federal income tax payment. With the legislature now meeting every year, this program can be adopted without the state constitutional amendment which previously would have been necessary. I have long been disturbed by the penalty our present tax system imposes on people who improve their homes, and by its consequent encouragement of run-down buildings and slums. A simple revision of the system would encourage owners to improve their properties. To that end, I recommend that increased assessment of home improvements be delayed, as an incentive to remodeling and renovation.

Finally, it is imperative that we have equal assessments in Iowa, where—because of state aid to schools and areawide levy for community colleges—everybody has a personal stake in equality of assessment. Property tax assessments based on market value provide a uniform statewide method and standard application to all property, regardless of location. In assessing agriculture property, consideration should be given to current use as well as sales-assessment ratio.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

Amidst an unending technological revolution in Iowa agriculture, the economic future of this state becomes ever more closely tied to the attractiveness of its image for those who can create jobs and those who can fill the jobs.

The scope of this challenge is illustrated by some recent figures. During the 1960 to 1980 period the county by county projections show that total Iowa population is expected to remain virtually static.

Iowa farm population fell by nearly 27 percent while the number of Iowa farms dropped by about 29 percent during the period from 1947 to 1967. If Iowa is to check the projected thinning out of people in most of its rural counties and some of its urban counties between now and 1980, it will have to be done through a truly massive industrialization program. Certainly one key to the success of such a program is aggressive leadership in developing our small towns as productive new homes for countless Americans who want to get away from the frustrations—and even hazards—of contemporary big metropolitan existence.

There is urgent need for drastic revamping of the Iowa Development Commission, and for reorientation of its methods and objectives. The logical place to begin is with a legislative review of the statute under which the Development Commission operates. I will tell you candidly that I believe members of the General Assembly should no longer serve on the Commission, because the new schedule of annual sessions will not permit them to invest the amount of time which revitalization of the Development Commission will require. Going further, I believe that every element of political award and other partisan considerations should be purged from Commission appointments, and that they should henceforth be made strictly on a basis of know-how, promotional ability and experience.

We have suffered this past year without the services of a Director of this Commission. I recommend that the General Assembly provide that the Director serve at the pleasure of the Governor.

The recruitment of industry is a highly specialized, fiercely competitive business with worldwide ramifications. It is a game in which amateurs never get off the bench, and unless we are prepared to play it in big-league fashion, Iowa will largely waste the money it dribbles away on a minor-league operation.

We can afford no delay in getting an aggressive program underway, using a staff of aggressive producers. One important reason to do so is the need to reach a decision about sponsoring a World Food Exposition in Iowa during the next few years. Such an exposition, if properly staged, could be the catalyst we need to get this state in economic orbit. But let us not deceive ourselves about the demands which a world exposition would make upon our financial and human resources. They would be enormous, both in the amount of risk capital required and the time and energy which would have to be poured into the enterprise. Unless we are prepared to go all-out to make the exposition a success on a grand scale, we should not even take the first step.

At a more mundane level, the Development Commission should launch a continuing, lively and imaginative publicity program to attract more tourists into Iowa. Properly undertaken in close cooperation with local groups and festivals, this project has the great merit of bringing completely new money into Iowa.

As a nuts-and-bolts contribution to the Iowa economy, I will be proposing in my budget message specific recommendations to correct inequities in Iowa's service tax law. Flourishing business, industrial growth and new plant locations which provide new jobs, more paychecks and increased tax revenue are major factors in the general welfare of the whole state.

AGRICULTURE

You need no exhortation from me or anybody else about the over-riding importance of agriculture in the Iowa economy. It is self-evident, especially when we consider that much of the entire business life of the state exists only because of farming. The manufacture, distribution, and servicing of input items for agriculture fall into that category, as do the handling and processing of everything which the farms produce.

Because of the far flung scope of farm markets, many of the important policies which affect agriculture are necessarily made at the federal level. However, the state government is not powerless to exert some influence in the determination of those policies, and I shall not hesitate to bring that influence to bear when it is proper to do so. For example, we can well support agricultural policies which permit and encourage farmer participation in voluntary marketing and bargaining associations within the framework of a competitive situation. We can also encourage producers, through their own organizations, to finance and administer programs for the expansion and development of markets and for the stimulation of additional utilization research.

In that same connection, we could well use more marketing and new product research from the Extension Service of Iowa State University, which has been emphasizing production research. In this hour of history, the Iowa farmer will profit most from research which develops new crops, facilitates marketing and insures fair prices to producer as well as consumer. Equally important is stepped-up federal, state and private research to find improved methods of controlling wind erosion.

On another front, I strongly support legislation to require dealers and processors of farm products to give evidence of their financial responsibility. All imports of foreign meat and dairy products should be subjected to the same inspection and quality controls which are imposed on U.S. producers.

LABOR

In order to insure protection of workers and their families, safety practices should be required and standards adopted. I intend to carefully watch for developments in this area.

Workmen's compensation benefits should be increased, and payments should be increased to approved rehabilitation programs for injured employees.

To redress the injustice done workers who cannot collect the wages due them, I recommend the development of a small claims court within the framework of an integrated court system.

Child labor laws should be up-dated to provide reasonable opportunity for youths under 16 years of age to accept vacation and part-time jobs.

With reference to minority groups, management should increase its recruitment from that sector for job-training programs, and unions should intensify their efforts to recruit from minority groups for apprentice training and union membership.

Right-to-work is an established fact in Iowa.

TRANSPORTATION

I urge that the General Assembly order a reclassification of the Iowa roads-and-streets systems, after which allocation of road-use tax funds will be made on a basis of need. Provision should also be made for the abandonment of roads which no longer carry enough traffic to justify their continued maintenance.

All trucks should pay their fair share of highway user costs, and the legislature should develop a fair and workable structure of truck taxation, which will end problems and litigation in this area.

Priority should be given to the removal of such highway hazards as narrow bridges, dangerous railroad underpasses, curbs and inadequate shoulders. T-intersections can be and should be made safer and rumble strips installed to give warning to drivers. Equally needed is adequate lighting of interchanges, rest areas, railroad crossings, and traffic control signs at unmarked intersections.

Drunk driving laws should be enacted which define as presumptive evidence of intoxication the presence of 100 milligrams of alcohol per 100 cubic centimeters of blood.

In the field of aviation, I support legislation for the development of regional airports, and for cooperation by municipalities and counties in their construction and operation. I also recommend a statutory requirement that all power-lines at the end of runways be buried.

On a broader front, I propose that the General Assembly provide for the appointment of a Governor's Committee on Iowa Transportation Needs which will study all aspects of both freight and passenger movement, with instructions to report its recommendations to the 1970 General Assembly.

CONCLUSION

The goals of you as legislators and I as Governor are identical, our cause is common, and the course we follow must lead us to a greater Iowa. In this respect our course will be steadier and our success far greater when we cooperate and work together. Consequently you may expect and will receive from my office complete cooperation and during the session, legislators will have top priority on my time.

I commend you of the legislature and particularly Lieutenant Governor Jepsen and Speaker Harbor as well as the other leaders for the flying start of what we all agree must be a short and productive session.

As Governor I will rely on the help of many people. One who deserves special mention is my loyal and devoted wife, Billie. It is only with her help that I can confidently assume the great responsibilities as your Governor.

I shall be ever mindful that it is you, the people, that make Iowa a great state. I shall seek your advice, I shall listen carefully, and I earnestly and humbly ask your help and support. Together we shall respond to the challenges of today and the promise of tomorrow.

The benediction was offered by Dr. G. Curtis Jones, University Christian Church, Des Moines, Iowa.

The colors were retired and President Jepsen handed the gavel to Speaker Harbor.

Governor Robert D. Ray and Lieutenant Governor Roger W. Jepsen were escorted from the rostrum by the committee previously appointed.

Stanley of Muscatine moved that the reading of the minutes of the joint convention be dispensed with.

The motion prevailed.

McCartney of Floyd moved that the joint convention be now dissolved.

Motion prevailed.

The Senate returned to the Senate chamber and reconvened, President pro tempore Lodwick presiding.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS

Senate File 1, by Senators Lamborn, Denman, Smith and Coleman (Miller of Page, Fisher of Greene, Holden, Gannon, Bennett, Cochran, Dunton, Middleswart and Miller of Jones), a bill for an act relating to negotiation and execution of reciprocal, proration, and other agreements or declarations for fleet owners of commercial vehicles engaged in interstate commerce.

Read first and second times and passed on file.

Senate File 2, by Senators Lamborn, Denman and Smith (Miller of Page, Fisher of Greene, Holden, Gannon, Bennett, Dunton and Hanson of Howard-Mitchell), a bill for an act relating to motor vehicle registration fees.

Read first and second times and passed on file.

Senate File 3, by Senators Lamborn, Denman, Smith and Coleman (Miller of Page, Fisher of Greene, Holden, Gannon, Bennett, Hanson of Howard-Mitchell and Dunton), a bill for an act relating to issuance of a single cab card for vehicles subject to the provisions of chapter three hundred twenty-six (326) of the Code.

Read first and second times and passed on file.

Senate File 4, by Senators Smith, Hougen, Erskine, O'Malley, Bal-loun, DeKoster and Coleman (Shaw, Camp, Franklin, Cochran, Gannon, Lipsky, Caffrey, Tapscott, Wells, Dunton, Johnston of Johnson, Pelton, Mendenhall, Hanson of Howard-Mitchell and Dougherty), a bill for an act to provide for the establishment of family courts within each judicial district in the State of Iowa, transferring jurisdiction for the settlement of domestic relations and juvenile actions to such family courts, modifying the adversary nature of divorce proceedings, establishing procedures for the determination of custody, the payment of alimony and support, and establishing the administrative procedures necessary for the proper functioning of such family courts.

Read first and second times and passed on file.

Senate File 5, by Senators Lucken, McGill, O'Malley, Smith and Coleman (Miller of Des Moines, Millen, Mayberry, Lipsky, Gannon, Caffrey, Tapscott, Wells, Dougherty, Dunton, Pelton and Johnston of Johnson), a bill for an act relating to establishment of a special mental retardation unit to be located at one of the state mental health institutes, prescribing the functions of the special unit, and providing for the administration and support thereof and the admission of patients.

Read first and second times and passed on file.

Senate File 6, by Senators Lucken, O'Malley, McGill, Smith, Coleman and DeKoster (Miller of Des Moines, Edgington, Millen, Lipsky, Mayberry, Gannon, Pelton, Kruse, Johnston of Johnson, Bergman, Dougherty, Dunton, Wells, Crosier, Miller of Jones, Middleswart, Doyle and Caffrey), a bill for an act relating to the definition of a mentally retarded person for purposes of chapter two hundred twenty-six (226) of the Code, and to the admission or transfer of such persons to the state mental health institutes.

Read first and second times and passed on file.

Senate File 7, by Senators O'Malley, McGill, Lucken, Coleman and Lamborn (Miller of Des Moines, Lipsky, Mayberry, Millen, Gannon, Dougherty, Johnston of Johnson, Pelton, Miller of Jones, Dunton, Caffrey and Tapscott), a bill for an act relating to establishment of county mental health programs by counties or groups of counties, authorizing state aid for such programs, and providing a permanent appropriation therefor.

Read first and second times and passed on file.

Senate File 8, by Senators McGill, Lucken, O'Malley, Smith, Coleman and Lamborn (Miller of Des Moines, Mayberry, Millen, Lipsky, Cochran, Gannon, Hanson of Howard-Mitchell, Dunton, Kruse, Pelton, Bergman, Dougherty, Wells, Crosier, Tapscott and Caffrey), a bill for an act to combine the present county fund for mental health with the state institution fund, redesignating the latter as the county health and institutions fund, prescribing the purposes for which such fund may be used, and authorizing a levy therefor.

Read first and second times and passed on file.

Senate File 9, by Senators Stephens, McGill, Lucken and Smith (Miller of Des Moines, Edgington, Millen, Mayberry, Gannon, Caffrey, Tapscott, Dougherty, Bergman, Pelton, Kruse, Hanson of Howard-Mitchell and Dunton), a bill for an act relating to county homes.

Read first and second times and passed on file.

Senate File 10, by Senators Frommelt, Balloun, Lange and Coleman (Klein, Gannon, Lipsky, Dunton, Caffrey, Pelton and Dougherty), a bill for an act relating to consolidation of the investment of retirement system funds under the employment security commission.

Read first and second times and passed on file.

Senate File 11, by Senators Frommelt, Lange, Balloun, Smith, Coleman and Schaben (Klein, Miller of Des Moines, Gannon, Pelton, Hanson of Howard-Mitchell, Dougherty and Dunton), a bill for an act relating to contributions toward the peace officers' retirement, accident, and disability system.

Read first and second times and passed on file.

Senate File 12, by Senators Frommelt, Balloun, Lange, Doderer, Schaben and Coleman (Klein, Gannon, Miller of Des Moines, Dougherty, Wells, Lipsky, Dunton, Pelton and Blouin), a bill for an act relating to benefits payable to retired members and beneficiaries under the peace officers' retirement system.

JOURNAL OF THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER,
DES MOINES, IOWA, MONDAY, JANUARY 20, 1969.

The Senate met in regular session, President Jepsen presiding.

Prayer was offered by Reverend R. L. Lavin, pastor of the Saint Paul Lutheran Church, Davenport, Iowa.

The Senate pledged allegiance to the flag.

The Journal of January 16, 1969, was approved.

Senator Stanley asked and received unanimous consent that President Jepsen be allowed to address the Senate and that his remarks be printed in the Senate Journal as follows:

Senators, Staff and Guests: Keeping in mind an old proverb—"That a good example is the best sermon," my remarks will be pointed and brief.

First, I extend my thanks to Bob Fulton, the former Democrat Governor of Iowa, for his sincere efforts and kind help during the months of November, December, and early January. His cooperation and assistance in helping those of us who were making preparations for the Sixty-third General Assembly should serve as an example for all administrations in the future.

Second, I extend my thanks to those of you who assisted in organizing for this session—I especially want to thank Senator Stanley and Senator Lodwick for the many hours of work and counsel given me and my staff prior to opening day.

A legislature has been described as containing a typical slice of humanity. This is what a representative body is supposed to be. Our form of government is a government administered under LAW by RESPONSIBLE officers chosen by the voters.

It is my wish that this legislature establish itself as the architect of a streamlined, highly efficient "new look" in state government. A legislature quite AWARE OF, and SENSITIVE TO PEOPLE NEEDS . . . but courageous enough to separate real needs from extravagant wants and costly luxuries.

With Republicans in the majority in both houses as well as the administration, I expect continued advice will be forthcoming from the other party, as well as all the departments who are after more money. Much of the debate and combat will be in the spending area—where requests that were submitted were nearly all beyond what we have or can raise.

Iowa needs . . . and we must provide—NEW IDEAS—NOT NEW TAXES.

State governments occupy the vital middle ground between the national government and local governments—state government is that level of government which bears the primary responsibility for domestic government in the United States. Among the basic powers reserved to the states by the United States constitution is the power of creating, and granting authority to, local government. I echo Governor Ray's statement when he said, "If our American system of government were to fail, it would be because we have allowed too much decision-making power to become centered in one place, and have failed to make adequate use of the fifty other centers of political power and action contemplated in the federal constitution. Good government must be responsive to its citizens." With this in mind, the leadership of this Sixty-third General Assembly developed three standing committees to give full audience to this area of better government. They are state government, county government, and cities and towns.

A leading editor, educator and author was once asked to summarize in one word the keystone of American development. He answered "access".

Access to economic opportunity

Access to social mobility

Access to geographic movement

Access to political participation

Access to educational opportunity.

Accepting the fact that economic opportunity is in itself, one of the main keystones to the problems facing Iowa today, the leadership of the Sixty-third General Assembly established a standing committee called "Iowa Development." It is my hope that this committee will seek the advice and counsel of the many individual and corporate talents available in Iowa to launch our great state toward the economic, spiritual, physical, and social growth it must have in the 1970's. In brief, we must THINK 1969—PLAN for 1979, and PROJECT to 1989.

In summary, these three words, "THINK", "PLAN", and "PROJECT", express my hopes and will govern my actions in whatever way the office of Lieutenant Governor can assist the progress of this great State of Iowa in the next two years.

As President of the Senate, I assure you that I will conduct the sessions, to the best of my ability, in a manner which will facilitate sound legislation as developed BY SIXTY-ONE SENATORS. I would remind the Senate of a Japanese proverb which says, "the tongue is but three inches long, yet it can kill a man six feet high," or to paraphrase the golden rule, speak of your fellow Senators as you would have them speak of you. I would also remind the Senate that the clocks present in this chamber will be snapping their fingers at waste of time.

There is a time when greatness in a person reveals its chemistry. I am proud and thankful for the greatness which exists individually and collectively in this Senate.

In conclusion, I offer these words of advice as voiced by General Douglas MacArthur when he said, "Gather all the facts possible, and then make your decision on what you think is right, as opposed to what you think is wrong. Don't try to guess what others will think, whether they will praise or deride you. And always remember that at least some of your decisions will probably be wrong. Do this and you will always sleep well at night."

Thank you!

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 5

By Houghton

Whereas, the state universities are making budget requests nearly seventy percent above current appropriations; and

Whereas, the community colleges are making stupendous financial demands for state funds; and

Whereas, the private colleges are making requests for state financial assistance in the form of tuition grants; and

Whereas, the department of public instruction is requesting vastly increased appropriations; and

Whereas, the county superintendent system is expanding its services, largely at local taxpayers' expense; and

Whereas, it is advocated by certain professional groups that the county superintendent system become the springboard for an entirely new area secondary school system; and

Whereas, teacher organizations are advocating negotiation functions which would greatly affect the operational costs of our secondary and primary schools, including local control of this system; and

Whereas, the educational television programs are expanding, and the administrators are requesting substantial appropriations therefor; and

Whereas, the General Assembly is usually committed to certain increased financial obligations before appropriations are made, in the following particulars:

1. College student enrollment requiring increased appropriations is often determined.

2. Secondary and primary teachers' contracts are consummated, possibly with substantial increases.

3. Other departments will proceed with expenditures assuming that appropriations will be made for such obligations; and

Whereas, our current expenditures are exceeding state income from present tax sources and the economy of the state is not expanding at a rate comparable to such increased appropriation requests; and

Whereas, the people of Iowa have indicated that they will not tolerate further tax increases at this time; and

Whereas, state agencies normally spend about forty-five percent of their biennial appropriations in the first annum; now, therefore

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives Concurring, That the General Assembly of the State of Iowa appropriate forty-five percent of the current biennial appropriation for each and every educational agency for the next fiscal year, and that such action be completed by February 1, 1969; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the appropriate committees be instructed to proceed immediately with a thorough study of the needs, policies, objectives, and priorities of the various educational agencies, and report back to the General Assembly sixty days prior to the next annual session, complete with recommendations for appropriations, priorities, economies to be effected, together with such other desirable recommendations, and to prepare bills therefor; and

Be It Further Resolved, That such committees be comprised of the Senate and House committees acting jointly, and that the respective educational committees having jurisdiction comprise such study committees, and that the respective subcommittees of the appropriation committees act jointly with and be a part of such study committees, and that at least one member of the ways and means committee of each chamber, not members of the other represented committees, provided such members will serve actively, be assigned to each of such study committees.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Nicholson rose on a point of personal privilege to make the following announcement:

I would like to clarify a point or two this morning regarding the Senate section of the Iowa Official Register.

It may be that some of you did not receive the letter requesting the biographical sketch for the Iowa Official Register. If not, you will be interested in knowing Mr. Dale Ahern, editor of the Official Register, is here this morning and will be here throughout the day to assist you in any way he can. He will see that you get the necessary forms and will help you if you so desire. He will be in Senate committee room 322 until 4 p.m. today.

Mr. Ahern reports that some confusion has resulted in connection with photographic appointments. Very shortly after he mailed his letter to you, the official photographer's telephone number was changed. If you would care to make a note of it, the new telephone number of Geppert Studios is 244-3056.

You do not have to have a new picture if you have a good glossy black-and-white bust view you like.

We would like to have pictures and biographical sketches by the end of next week, February 7.

On motion of Senator Stanley, the Senate recessed until 3:00 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The Senate reconvened, President pro tempore Lodwick presiding.

REPORT OF CONTEST COMMITTEE

Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

We the undersigned, members of the committee to whom was referred the matter of the election contest between Joseph Cassidy, contestant, and Harold A. Thordsen, incumbent, for the position of Senator from the First Subdistrict of the 15th Senatorial District of Iowa, submit the following report:

This committee has met on three separate occasions. All members have had the opportunity to examine the notice of contest and deposition submitted by the contestant and the motion to dismiss the contest, including affidavits and exhibits attached, filed by the incumbent. At one meeting at which all members were present, the parties were given an opportunity to be heard either in person or to be represented by counsel. The contestant and his attorney, Miss Margaret Stevenson, were heard on behalf of the contestant; and Mr. Durwood Dircks, attorney for the incumbent, was heard on behalf of the incumbent.

After consideration of the matter, the committee finds:

1. There is some question as to the jurisdiction of the committee in view of the failure by contestant to file a list of illegal votes counted or legal votes not counted. A 1963 Attorney General's opinion suggests that such list should have been filed with the notice of appeal in the Office of the Secretary of State. However, the committee chose not to avoid its responsibility on that basis.

2. There is a total lack of any factual basis for the allegation of error. The votes were tallied by precinct workers and tallied by the Board of Supervisors acting as a local canvassing board in the presence of many witnesses, including interested members of both parties, the press and the board. It is noted that the party of the contestant held a majority of seats on the board and that the County Auditor who conducted the election was also of the Democratic party. There is some suggestion that the vote totals from those precincts having more than one voting machine were not checked. Yet Mr. Dircks' statement that they were is corroborated by a newspaper article published immediately following the canvass in which it is reported that, "Several changes in individual precinct totals showed up in the official canvass".

3. The election and later counting was all conducted under a heavy bias in favor of the contestant's party.

Examples were cited in sworn statements by a precinct worker of the extreme bias of the Auditor throughout the procedure. In spite of the bias thus indicated, it is noted that all parties, including the Auditor, the press and representatives of both the contestant and incumbent agreed on the night of the canvass that the incumbent had won the election.

4. That the recounting of all ballots would be a time consuming exercise, expensive in both the time of the Senate and in the money invested in that time by the taxpayers of the state.

5. That, at best, there would still be doubts as to accuracy, because of the irregularities and bias shown and that no good purpose would be served by such a recount. That the Senate is the judge as to the seating of its members and has the authority to honor or dismiss such a request and that such requests should be sparingly granted and then only when good cause can be factually shown. Otherwise, such requests will much more often consume the time and energy of the Senate and the funds of Iowa's taxpayers.

Therefore, in view of the lack of any facts indicating actual errors which would change the result and in view of facts indicating that any bias toward error would be in favor of the contestant, and in view of the continuing doubts as to accuracy because of the heavy bias on the part of the Auditor then in office, the majority of your committee finds that no useful purpose can be served by further proceedings in the matter and recommends that the contest be dismissed and that Harold A. Thordsen be declared to be the duly elected Senator from the First Subdistrict of the 15th Senatorial District of Iowa and that his seating in the Senate be confirmed.

Respectfully submitted,
LUCAS J. DeKOSTER
DEAN ARBUCKLE
JAMES A. POTGETER

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the Senate and the title was agreed to.

Senator Kyhl asked and received unanimous consent that Senate File 64 be withdrawn from further consideration of the Senate.

REPORT OF JOINT PERSONNEL COMMITTEE

The Senate resumed consideration of the committee report on joint legislative employees.

Senator Frommelt offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend the report of joint personnel committee on joint legislative employees by striking all of the section pertaining to the legislative research bureau.

The amendment was lost.

Senator Benda moved that the report of joint personnel committee on joint legislative employees be adopted.

The motion prevailed and the report was adopted.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 7 ADOPTED

Senator Benda asked and received unanimous consent to call up Senate Concurrent Resolution 7, found on pages 125 and 126 of the Senate Journal, and moved its adoption.

The motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

On motion of Senator Stanley, the Senate recessed until 10:50 a.m.

The Senate reconvened, President Jepsen presiding.

COMMITTEE FROM THE HOUSE

A committee from the House appeared and announced that the House was ready to receive the Senate in joint convention.

In accordance with House Concurrent Resolution 8 duly adopted, the Senate proceeded to the House under the direction of the Sergeant-at-Arms.

JOINT CONVENTION

In accordance with law and House Concurrent Resolution 8 duly adopted, the joint convention was called to order, President Jepsen presiding.

President Jepsen announced a quorum present and the joint convention duly organized.

Senator Stanley of Muscatine moved that a committee of six consisting of three members from the Senate and three members from the House be appointed to notify Governor Ray that the joint convention was ready to receive him.

Motion prevailed and the President appointed as such committee Senators Stephens of Washington, Parker of Buchanan and Schaben of Harrison on the part of the Senate, and Representatives Winkelman of Calhoun, Kreamer of Polk and Dunton of Keokuk on the part of the House.

The committee waited upon Governor Ray and escorted him to the Speaker's station. President Jepsen then presented Governor Ray, who delivered the following budget address:

BUDGET MESSAGE TO THE SIXTY-THIRD GENERAL ASSEMBLY BY THE HONORABLE ROBERT D. RAY, GOVERNOR OF IOWA

Joint Session, January 29, 1969

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Honorable Members of the Sixty-Third General Assembly, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Chapter eight of the Code of Iowa provides that the Governor present his biennial budget to the General Assembly by February 1 of each odd-numbered year. Therefore, this is my budget presentation to you for the biennium ending June 30, 1971, along with the Budget in Brief. The detailed budget and related proposed legislation will be transmitted to you as soon as printed copies are available.

At the outset, let me say that this responsibility loomed as tall as Mount

Everest, when I tackled it after the November election. The state obviously faced a painful financial bind as a result of spending policies for the present biennium, which will leave Iowa's financial cupboard relatively bare.

Additionally, I was greeted—in the budget hearings—with departmental askings of nearly $780 million for each year of the next biennium. Those askings were more than 50 percent greater than the average anticipated annual income from present taxes during the next two fiscal years. To bring outgo and income into balance—as I was pledged and determined to do—required paring more than a half-billion—that's right, a half-billion—dollars from departmental requests for the biennium. Moreover, that financial surgery had to be done without killing the patient or leaving him crippled.

This we have succeeded in doing. I am submitting a budget which accomplishes three purposes:

FIRST, It is a balanced budget; we shall be living within our means.

SECOND, It calls for no tax increases and no new taxes.

THIRD, It provides for the orderly growth of state government functions which contribute to building a greater Iowa.

All of this would have been impossible without modern executive budget-making and financial control, which is a comparatively recent development in Iowa state government. It dates back to 1933, when the office of State Comptroller was established, in response to a broad survey of public administration in Iowa, conducted by the Brookings Institution of Washington, D. C., under authority of the Forty-fifth General Assembly. That survey remains perhaps the most detailed study of Iowa government, in its entirety, which has ever been made. It is an example of the kind of trail-blazing in which each governor and each General Assembly should be continuously engaged.

BIENNIAL BUDGET

This budget covers a two-year period as required by state statute. It was prepared from information supplied by the various departments of state government in their budget requests—also required by law to be on a biennial basis. Your decision to keep this session short and business-like is commendable and I have concluded that an immediate change to annual budgeting would make achievement of this goal difficult.

Annual sessions of the General Assembly will make possible better control of the fiscal matters of the state. This first session of this two-session biennium gives us both, the Legislature and the Governor's office, an excellent opportunity to examine how we can best bring this improved budgetary control into being. We can determine whether annual budgets are the best route to take—or whether annual review would better accomplish what we mutually desire as an end result.

I know you will carefully consider the relative advantages and disadvantages of these two options—as will I. If it is decided that annual budgeting is desirable, there will be ample time during the 1970 session to make the necessary statutory changes before the budget hearings for the 1971-73 biennium.

As an interim step, to help assure tight budget control, I intend to hold informal departmental budget hearings before the General Assembly convenes in 1970. This will provide a second opportunity to evaluate needs and funding within this two-year period. Results of these hearings will be forwarded to you for consideration.

I am sure that you will want to review appropriations during the 1970 session and make any necessary changes to meet unexpected problems or to reduce expenditures where additional savings are possible. Perhaps the appropriations committees during the 1970 session could evaluate the performance of departments, thus giving additional incentive for economy. Accountability and sound management are necessary ingredients to assure that tax money is being spent wisely.

In summary, the financial affairs of our state are immense and complex but are subject to the same rules followed by any wise and successful family or business. This is common sense. Our state is nothing more than all of our families and all of our businesses—and the same prudent spending policies should apply. I share your determination that the people of Iowa shall receive full value for every dollar we spend.

GENERAL

A Governor's budget represents his governmental philosophy and program, expressed in dollar terms. Any governor—whoever he may be—has only three ways of providing leadership:

First, by the appointments he makes to key agencies.

Second, by his persuasive powers with legislators, administrators, and the public.

Third, by his recommendations for the allocation of state resources to meet state needs.

I shall be deciding on appointments and forwarding names to the Senate for confirmation. I shall be visiting with you about Iowa's problems and their solutions. It is the allocation of funds with which we are concerned in today's message and related documents.

Building the budget during the past two months was a rewarding experience, despite its great difficulty. The budget hearings offered opportunities to meet department heads and explore with them their needs and challenges. As you know, Iowa state agencies range in size from service departments with one or two employees, to three universities with some 45,000 students. Many of you—both members of the Budget and Financial Control Committee and other legislators—sat with me in the hearings, and raised searching questions which were indeed helpful.

While limited funds make it impossible to do as much as we would like to do in many areas of services and aids, I am presenting a budget which requires no increase in state taxes but provides nonetheless for the effective functioning and advancement of state government during the next two years.

Specifically, I refer to the following areas:

ADMINISTRATION AND SERVICES

The entire Administrative and Services Division of the budget represents approximately six percent of the total—slightly smaller in percentage than in the previous biennium.

This area includes all housekeeping departments, plus many of the smaller program departments. While a "hold the line" approach was taken toward all of them, provision has been made for program improvement.

For example, I recommend that the state allot funds to provide an effective attack on the problems of alcoholism, even though the federal government is pulling the string on federal funds and such funds will be exhausted by the end of the present fiscal year for the Iowa Comprehensive Alcoholism

Project, generally called ICAP. The budget recommends consolidation of this project into the Commission on Alcoholism, which will then be funded with one-half million dollars per year for allocation to worthwhile city and county programs on a state-grant basis. Thus, we can work with and evaluate the problem of alcoholism, while at the same time meeting some of the current needs of communities in this field of action.

For the Iowa Development Commission I recommend an increase of more than $200,000 per year—in other words about one-fourth more than it is now receiving—to be used to attract new industries to Iowa—and keep present ones here. A highly competent staff is necessary to promote the state in forceful fashion. Therefore, I ask that salary levels of key personnel be substantially raised, and that consideration be given to reorganizing the Commission itself as I recommended in my Inaugural Message. Only with strong leadership, superior staff, and adequate funds can Iowa implement a vibrant program of industrial expansion—so crucial to achieving our goal of a balanced economy.

I am asking that provision be made for a central purchasing concept within the Executive Council structure, so that all departments will buy materials and supplies of highest quality, at competitive prices. This logical, business-like approach to state business will be a great improvement over the disarranged purchasing methods now in use; and it will pay a big return on the $25,000 a year which is requested to get it started.

Funding is asked for establishment of an Urban Affairs Division to be attached to the Office for Planning and Programming. This Urban Affairs Division would coordinate and amplify the state's relationships with cities and towns. Problems at those levels of government are awesomely complex, and we must avoid entanglement in "red tape" as we search out solutions. With the funding which I request, the Urban Affairs Division will have competent personnel to get and provide the answers and not just point out the difficulties. I also propose that $100,000 per year from the Urban Affairs allocation be used as a matching fund to stimulate youth summer employment projects, set up throughout Iowa by local groups—including many from the private sector.

Air and water pollution control, along with comprehensive health planning, is imperative within the state's total health program. Examination of those areas—including federal moneys available to support them—will have high priority in this administration.

There have been many and frequent suggestions that much could be done to improve business practices of the Liquor Control Commission. Most of those suggestions have dealt with the purchase and handling of inventories. Stocks of liquor may be too high in relation to sales as a result of commission policies concerning purchases, inventory and sales. To guarantee that Iowa shall have the best possible practices in liquor inventory and accounting, this budget provides additional funds to develop and implement such practices, including use of computers where practicable. Such a program would be carried out in part by consultants, supplementing staff from the Comptroller's and Auditor's offices and Liquor Control Commission.

Concerning the Revenue Department, the budget provides for bringing its employees under the Merit Employment System. Economies can be achieved by installing a fully mechanized system to handle the millions of documents which flow through that department each year. Reductions in the number of employees are possible in the Revenue Department—if coupled with the upgrading of several key positions and the simplification of the individual tax forms. We must keep in mind that additional responsibilities have been placed on this agency under the School Aid-Tax Revision Program of the 1967 Legislature. Provision has been made for the establishment of an "Ombudsman" so that a person aggrieved or who feels aggrieved will have a place to go in this maze of governmental operations.

Many smaller agencies—not big in dollars, but important in their contributions to the state—have been provided for in my recommendations. These include the Commission on Aging, Arts Council, Capitol Planning, Civil Rights, cooperating with other states through the Council of State Governments, Commission on Employment of the Handicapped, Industrial Commission, Bureau of Labor, and others.

LEGISLATIVE AND JUDICIAL

Budget increases in this area are basically in an item to provide funding for an adequate Judicial Retirement System.

The present long-standing Judicial Retirement System is actuarially unsound. In their request to me, the judges recommended a meaningful retirement system and I have endorsed this proposal in lieu of salary increases. As you review the present and proposed retirement systems, bear in mind that one safeguard for the integrity of our state courts is a fair and sound retirement system.

SOCIAL SERVICES

Nowhere did the complexities of public administration and budgeting impress themselves on me more forcefully than in the field of Social Services. As you know, the previous boards of Social Welfare, Control, and Parole were merged during this biennium. The full benefits of this merger are still to be reaped, but the new structure is built and central budgeting is a reality.

To the Income Maintenance Division—representing so-called categorical aids of the former Social Welfare Department—I am applying the same philosophy which pervades this entire budget. It is the philosophy of doing a better job with what we have, by applying our creative powers to finding fresh solutions of old problems. Categorical aids include those to the Blind, Disabled, Child Welfare, Dependent Children, Indians, Old-Age and Medical Assistance.

The budget allows for some increase in benefits to children. At the same time there are now fewer Iowans on old age assistance rolls. Our "hold the line" approach in this area is complicated by a significant reduction in federal funds available to Iowa, because of an allocation formula which penalizes states like Iowa with its per capita income base. I am making some provision for a work incentive plan, whose excellent purpose is to help persons while they are learning new skills for future employment.

For the Divisions of Mental Health, Mental Retardation, Adult Corrections, and Family and Children's Services, I am asking that present levels be fully maintained or even raised. Great strides were taken in the past two biennia—particularly in mental retardation—to better serve Iowans less fortunate than ourselves. My request carries out this mandate from previous legislatures and from the people themselves. While new programs are not as plentiful as they would be if we were endowed with more money, careful selection has been made, and innovations are included in this budget request. I have proposed and now highly commend the establishment of a pilot Youth Forest Camp, which can point the way to eliminating—or greatly shrinking—our juvenile training schools.

The proposed Youth Forest Camp illustrates how far Iowa has moved toward new horizons in providing correction, help and care for those who need it most. We are working through a maze of old custodial concepts toward creative new programs which strike at the causes, rather than symptoms, of deep-seated human problems. But no one in Iowa, or anywhere else, has found a single "correct" or "perfect" formula. No one ever will. Rather, a series of programs—some old, some exploratory—will have to be developed throughout the many levels of government, and with the cooperation of all of them. No state is an island isolated from the rest of society. Iowa has led the way to some promising results—especially in its organizational structure of Social Services—but the returns are not all in. A prime objective of my administration is to improve our performance in caring for those less fortunate than ourselves, so that Iowa may come close to achieving the ultimate goals in this field.

PUBLIC SAFETY

The core agency in this area is the Department of Public Safety, which is responsible for highway safety, central crime investigation, motor vehicle registration, and central fire prevention. For budget-making purposes, Public Safety offers more options than any other department. The options which I consider most pressing are contained in this budget request.

Federal funds are available—and more will become available—through the Highway Safety Act and the Omnibus Crime Bill. We must be able to match those funds with state moneys and services. Accordingly, I have provided that $200,000 per year be earmarked to insure the match. From those joint federal-state funds, the National Crime Information Center will become a reality by the end of this biennium, and the State Crime System will also be in operation. Those systems—fully mechanized by use of computers, teletype, and radio equipment—will greatly strengthen the law enforcement muscle of state and local police agencies. Rather than many additional men, we are committed to making the present staff more effective with the best possible equipment.

The 1967 General Assembly wisely provided funds for construction of a Law Enforcement Academy at Camp Dodge. The Academy's greatest need at this time is for adequate educational staff, which—under my request—will include nine persons. I further ask for four additional agents—including two specialists—for the Bureau of Criminal Investigation, to add to Statewide Central Services. With the same purpose of furnishing the tools which modern law enforcement must have, the budget includes funds for purchasing crime laboratory services at the University of Iowa Center. This utilizes existing facilities instead of the costly approach of establishing an independent laboratory.

The budget also has an item of $100,000 per year for drivers' license photographs which will supply ready identification and aid in law enforcement. If this sum does not cover all costs related to such photos, the rest of the expense could be met with a very small increase—not exceeding 25 cents—in the driver's license fee.

The entire State Police Radio System, and its operation, require our attention. While the present system is moving toward obsolescence, it is operable for several more years. Therefore, I am again giving priority to personnel, by requesting funds for fifteen additional radio operators, who will insure that the radio system is "up" at all times. Again, this request ties in directly with modernization of state and national police networks, which will also include additional equipment in the Central Data Processing Center, financed through the budget for the Comptroller's office.

My whole package of askings for law enforcement includes many direct, tangible benefits for local government in Iowa. Every local law officer will have improved tools for coping with his day-to-day problems, as a result of the expanded Police Academy, the Police Network, and a beefed-up state staff of Criminal Investigators.

EDUCATION

In no single field can we afford to short the future. Nowhere is this truer than in education, where Iowa must maintain the gains which you in the Legislature have struggled so hard to achieve. Thus, over half of this budget is allotted to the education of Iowa youth.

And yet it is in this section of the budget that I have faced my most difficult decisions. For elementary and secondary education, a school equalization aid bill was passed two years ago, and we are solemnly obligated to carry out the funding of that program. Scholarship programs have been initiated, and must not be dropped. No additional state funds are needed, however, to maintain Iowa's guaranteed Student Loan Program.

State aid to Drivers' Education and Education and Training of the Handicapped will not be slighted with any budgetary cuts.

Area Community Colleges meet a need for training young people that is not satisfied elsewhere. To provide this necessary training and to develop a skilled work force that in turn attracts more jobs, I have provided a substantial 60 percent increase.

The state shares the tremendous burden of local school costs in two basic ways—the State Equalization Aid, and the sharing of income taxes collected in each school district. I recommend that this relief to local school districts be increased by over $24 million per year. This increase keeps faith with the intent of all of us to share costs of local schools. Taking into consideration such indirect aids as Agriculture Land Tax Credit and 60 percent Homestead and Personal Property Tax Credits, the rate of state assistance will exceed 40 percent.

The 1967 General Assembly enacted legislation for a statewide television and radio system and provided $300,000 to finance initial phases of the program. I now request funds to operate this system's Production Center in Des Moines plus $500,000 in capital funds to build Transmitting Facilities for Channel 12 near Iowa City. With those facilities, over half of the students in Iowa will be within range of this Central Network.

In establishing appropriation standards for the three state universities, my main concern is to insure high educational standards and adequate facilities. This budget provides for an increase of more than $9.8 million per year—or 12 percent—over the current biennium and will bring the total Board of Regents appropriation to $91.5 million per year.

In addition, I am recommending that long-range financing legislation be enacted so as to provide additional physical facilities as required at our universities. This legislation will insure a planned building program, financed by those who reap the benefits.

The Legislature should be the decision-making authority for the issuance of capital improvement bonds by each institution and you might want to consider the possibility of bonding for a Western Iowa College.

To maximize the use of all higher educational facilities in the state, I am recommending a program of state tuition grants to Iowa students matricu-lating at Iowa's twenty-eight private colleges and universities which grant Baccalaureate Degrees. This program can be initiated in the coming biennium at a rate of $3 million per year. I have provided for that sum in the budget for this important step.

CONSERVATION

The past two biennia have seen increased spending for both operations and capital purposes in the area of Conservation with the aim of improving recreational facilities available to our citizens. This budget provides adequate funds to improve our state parks and waters. Moreover, six and one-half million dollars remain unspent for recreational capital improvements. These available funds will be used to enhance our state's outdoor facilities.

For the long-range upgrading of the State Parks System, I believe that small "user fees" should be established. This method has been successful in other states and Conservation Commission personnel estimate that as much as $1 million per year could be raised by a modest fee for use of our parks.

HIGHWAYS

Construction and maintenance of Iowa highways are not financed from the general fund of the state but are financed from user fees, principally gas taxes and auto registrations. I am requesting funds to complete the initial Interstate System and begin the Cedar Valley Freeway System which will serve the Cedar Rapids area.

For the development of our state and the safety of our citizens, it is imperative that we advance our highway construction program as rapidly as possible.

Further, I have included late in these budget deliberations an additional $4.0 million per year to support new construction and federal funds allocated for the construction of the Interstate System.

This will be accomplished with no increased or new taxes.

At this time it is not possible to appropriate directly to the functional areas of the Commission budget but implementation of these federal funds is provided.

These total funds appropriated to the Highway Commission will support the basic five year program as established by the Commission.

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS

Historically, Iowa has paid for capital improvements from revenue surpluses of previous years. During the past two biennia, some $109 million have been spent on capital improvements, principally at Board of Regents Institutions, Social Services Facilities, and Conservation Facilities. This has been referred to as "catch up" expenditures.

Based on present projected estimates, we cannot look forward to surplus funds above necessary working balances during the next biennium—either on July 1 of this year or at any time in the following two years. Accordingly, capital appropriations this time are primarily limited to implementing programs to which we are committed.

To meet the capital improvements of our Board of Regents schools I have already recommended long-range financing through bonding.

EMPLOYEE SALARIES AND BENEFITS

In nearly all of my budget askings, recommended salaries have been projected from the most current information available in this field. The most recent Iowa study has provided a uniform classification plan, with pay increments. The purpose of the study was to relate the pay of Iowa state employees to that received for comparable services in private business and other state governments.

Besides dealing with direct salaries, my recommendations include three additional fringe benefits:

First, establishment and financing of a group life insurance program, with maximum benefits of approximately $5,000.

Second, amendments to the Iowa Public Employees Retirement System (IPERS) to increase the formula benefits upon retirement by 20 percent. If we act now, this will be effective for employees retiring after January 1, 1970. This improvement can be accomplished with no additional cost to the state. Moreover, the maximum salary contribution level should be raised to that of the Federal Social Security Act, at a cost to the state general fund of approximately $140,000 per year.

Third, expansion of the present vacation schedule to provide three weeks of vacation after five years of employment. We must attract competent people to state government and then retain them. I believe that these three steps will strengthen the state's position in competing for able employees.

TAXATION

An unsuccessful and unsound part of the 1967 Tax Revision and School Legislation was the so-called Sales Tax Credit. It is a classic example of hell being paved with good intentions. It had the commendable purpose of relieving the load on low-income citizens but the method was illogical and self-defeating. Thousands of credits were claimed by school-age dependents of middle- and upper-income families, simply because those dependents were casual and occasional wage earners, often for only a few dollars a year. Still worse, the Sales Tax Credit was claimed by hundreds of persons with more than $20,000 in adjusted gross income, and—incredible as it may seem—the credit was also claimed by 16 persons with income of $150,000 or more. And it was paid.

There can be no valid defense of a tax credit which went so far afield from its intended objective of helping the poor, especially when we bear in mind that many low-income people probably had to pay nearly as much as their credit in order to have their income tax return properly prepared. The 1967 Sales Tax Credit was too often a windfall for the well-to-do and too seldom a real help to the needy.

Therefore, I recommend that this unfair credit be repealed for all years, including 1968. In order to establish an equitable state system of personal income taxation, I ask this Legislature to adopt an income tax schedule which will be a percentage of the taxpayer's federal income tax payment, making use of a simplified, so-called "postcard" return. As part of that procedure, no state income tax at all should be levied against persons whose federal income tax is $100 or less. This exemption will achieve in practical fashion the purpose for which the Sales Tax Credit was designed but dismally failed to achieve. The loss of state income caused by exempting federal income taxpayers of $100 or less from all Iowa income tax will be offset by fixing the percentage of federal income tax payable as Iowa tax at a level which will approximately equal total receipts from the present state Personal Income Tax Law.

REVENUE

This budget recommends that all appropriations be financed from current revenue, with no additional taxation.

Furthermore, some of the Service Taxes enacted by the last General Assembly have proven to be extremely distasteful to our people and exceedingly harmful to the economic growth of our state. These should be repealed.

The most detrimental of these is the tax on new construction. I believe the intent of most Legislators was plain; new construction was to be exempt. I agree with that intent and ask for prompt repeal of this tax.

I also urge that the tax on advertising, which has run into legal complications, the tax on farm processing, which is not being collected, and the tax on municipal services be removed from the Code.

I am sure that repeal of these taxes, coupled with the implementation of other forward-looking programs previously mentioned, will stimulate Iowa's economic growth, encourage more business and more jobs—thereby producing more tax revenues from a broader tax base.

The price of liquor in Iowa has not risen as it has in other states and should be increased approximately five percent. Not only will the cities and towns benefit by about $250,000 a year from that price increase but the state general fund will receive about $2.5 million per year without upsetting the competitive position of state liquor sales.

I further recommend that Drivers' Education Aid be paid from highway funds so that the costs of this program will be more closely related to road user revenues.

In determining an economic growth projection for this budget, each revenue source was analyzed in the light of historical patterns and also according to state and national potentials and expectations. The resultant estimated growth rate is nearly six percent per year.

This budget has also been developed to achieve a balanced revenue expenditure position in the next biennium, without placing additional and increased burdens on Iowa taxpayers.

CONCLUSION

The austere condition of the Iowa State Treasury at the beginning of this administration denies me the pleasurable experience of past Governors, who could present budget documents which included visions of beautiful buildings and broad new programs at substantial cost.

This budget has had to be constructed in the realization that taxpayers are increasingly restive about the loads they are required to carry at all levels of government. I hope that this budget will be a guideline by which every governmental body in Iowa can appraise its costs in relation to the services which it is providing. Certainly, all governmental bodies are taxing the same people.

Concluding, let me explain that this message has not been a catalog of every single item in the budget. Any attempt to overwhelm you with such a message would have had one of two results: either I would have found myself talking to an empty room, or you would invoke Article III, Sections 19 and 20, of the Constitution of Iowa against me. Either fate would be justified.

To avoid it, I have discussed only selectively those portions of the budget which seemed to call for explanation or amplification. For the total picture, I present the entire budget document to the detailed study which I know you will give it.

To me, and—I'm sure—to you, this budget presents a challenge; to sort out our goals in the order of their importance; to allocate funds truly on the basis of need; to get the most service from the fewest dollars. Undertaken in that spirit, this can be a rewarding experience for you as Legislators, for me as Governor, and for all Iowans as Citizens, while we join together in moving Iowa ahead on the path to greatness.

Governor Ray was escorted from the House chamber by the committee previously appointed.

McCartney of Floyd moved that the joint convention be now dissolved.

The motion prevailed.

The Senate returned to the Senate chamber and resumed regular session.

On motion of Senator Stanley, the Senate recessed until 3:00 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The Senate reconvened, President Jepsen presiding.

REPORT OF JOINT COMMITTEE ON ENROLLED BILLS

Senator Mogged, from the joint committee on enrolled bills, submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT: Your joint committee on enrolled bills respectfully reports that it has examined and finds correctly enrolled: Senate Joint Resolutions 1 and 3.

CHARLES G. MOGGED
Chairman Senate Committee
ELIZABETH O. SHAW
Chairman House Committee

Report adopted.

JOINT RESOLUTIONS SIGNED BY THE PRESIDENT

The President of the Senate announced that, as President of the Senate, he had signed in the presence of the Senate the following joint resolutions: Senate Joint Resolutions 1 and 3.

President pro tempore Lodwick took the chair at 3:10 p.m.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS

Senate File 110, by Senators Gaudineer, Frommelt, Doderer, Palmer and Weimer, a bill for an act to require employers of migratory child laborers to be responsible for determining a child's age.

Read first and second times and passed on file.

Senate File 111, by Senator Reichardt, a bill for an act permitting cities, towns, and counties, within their limits, by petition and vote of the electorate, to permit persons eighteen years of age and older to obtain beer containing not more than three point two percent alcohol by weight.

Read first and second times and passed on file.

Senate File 112, by Senators Schaben, Coleman, Shirley, Glenn, Dodds, Doderer, McGill, Weimer, Denman and Gaudineer, a bill for an act relating to inclusion of students in attendance at area vocational schools and area community colleges within the state scholarship and loan program.

Read first and second times and passed on file.

Senate File 113, by Senator Shirley (Radl), a bill for an act relating to false drawing or uttering of checks.

Read first and second times and passed on file.

Senate File 120, by Senators DeHart, Frey and Coleman, a bill for an act relating to the surrender of beer permits.

Read first and second times and passed on file.

Senate File 121, by Senators Lange, Thordsen, Parker, Frey, Gilley and Coleman (Dietz, Bergman, Tieden, Winkelman, Strothman, Camp, Hanson of Howard-Mitchell, Stokes, Den Herder, Sorg, Dooley, Johnson of Audubon-Guthrie, Christensen and Battles), a bill for an act relating to the practice of accountancy by licensed accountants, establishing a board of licensed accountants and collection of fees for support thereof.

Read first and second times and passed on file.

Senate File 122, by Senators Doderer, Shirley, Denman, O'Malley and Gaudineer, a bill for an act to provide for this state to enter into the midwest nuclear compact.

Read first and second times and passed on file.

MINORITY REPORT OF CONTEST COMMITTEE

(Harold Thordsen—Joseph Cassidy)

The undersigned members of committee having duly considered the election contest in the First Subdistrict of the 15th Senatorial District of Iowa hereby respectfully and in good conscience dissent from the majority report in this contest.

We believe the interests of justice require the counting of all the ballots in order that the intent and final verdict of the voters of the precinct be properly determined. At one time or other each candidate was reported as the winner. Counsel for both parties asserted there were widespread errors and irregularities in the election procedure. The majority report admits irregularities in its paragraph 5.

When an effort was made to re-tally the returns before certification was made by the canvassing board an injunction was secured halting any further attempt at a recount to arrive at the will of the voters.

In this day when democracy is on trial throughout the world we believe that only a recount will reveal the true intent of the above voters.

It has been traditional in the Iowa Senate that the party receiving the most votes be seated.

We hereby quote with approval the unanimous statement of the Contest Committee of April 2, 1959, page 802 of 1959 Senate Journal, of Senators D. C. Nolan, W. C. Stuart, John J. O'Connor, Gene L. Hoffman and John D. Shoeman in which all the vote was recounted:

"It is the opinion of your committee, however, that under the powers vested in the Iowa Senate under the provision of Article 3, section 7, of the Constitution of Iowa, that it is the duty of the Senate in an election contest case, for a seat therein, that the Senate should determine, so far as humanly possible, which candidate received the greater number of votes so that the choice of the electors of the Senatorial District involved shall represent them in this body. As pointed out in the forepart of this report the incumbent received the greater number of votes for the office of State Senator from the Ninth Senatorial District, both upon the official canvas and as a result of the recount by this committee."

Respectfully submitted,
DONALD S. MCGILL

REASSIGNMENT OF SENATE FILE 91

President Jepsen announced the reassignment of Senate File 91 from the committee on state government to the committee on social services.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

I protest the action of the Senate in adopting the report of the joint personnel committee on joint legislative employees (known as the joint patronage committee) by including temporary employees of the legislative research bureau in said report.

The non-partisan research bureau is not and should not be staffed on a patronage basis and therefore should not be included in the report.

I take this means of registering my protest as provided in the Iowa Constitution.

ANDREW G. FROMMELT

REPORT OF CONTEST COMMITTEE

Mr. President and Members of the Senate of the Sixty-third General Assembly:

Your committee to whom was referred the matter of the election contest of the office of State Senator from the Thirty-seventh Senatorial District, sub-district one (1), from Woodbury County, in the general election of November 5, 1968, between Charles K. Sullivan, incumbent, and Vincent S. Burke, contestant, submits herewith its report:

The committee was duly organized, adopted rules of procedure, accepted written pleadings of contestant and incumbent, and received, reviewed and considered the transcript of the case taken by oral depositions of witnesses of contestant before Richard F. Tedrow, certified shorthand reporter, said witnesses being Donald E. Linduski, Earl A. Martin, Maurice Flanagan, Rita Kennedy, Angeline Terrey, Ethel O'Connor, Florence Murray, Bonnie Osburn, Rosella Sylvester, Neil McCluhan, Bette Hinda, Shirley Dishlip and Gladys Chesher, and heard oral statements from counsel of the contestant and incumbent. On January 30, 1969, on proceedings herein, your committee made its findings and ruling:

1. In said findings and ruling the committee determined that the contestant failed, as provided by sections 59.1 and 62.8, Code of Iowa, 1966, to serve on incumbent, Charles K. Sullivan, a list showing the reception of illegal votes or the rejection of legal votes with the notice of taking depositions relative to them such as to confer jurisdiction on the committee. (Attorney General's opinion, February 5, 1963.)

2. The committee did, however, for the purpose of this report consider the allegations of the contestant and the whole record, and finds and rules that same does not accord a basis for relief as a matter of law:

(a) There was no evidence and the transcript did not show any misconduct, fraud or corruption on the part of the judges of the election or of the board of canvassers as required in subsection 1 of section 57.1, 1966 Code of Iowa.

(b) As to subsections 2, 3 and 4 of section 57.1 of the 1966 Code of Iowa, same were eliminated as none of said subsections were alleged, nor were they in any way pertinent to this contest.

(c) That the evidence and the transcript did not show illegal votes received or legal votes rejected at the polls sufficient to change the result and subsection 5 of section 57.1, 1966 Code of Iowa, is not applicable. No eligible voter was deprived of his right to cast a vote, and no person was deprived of his constitutional rights. A person undertaking to cast his or her vote in an improper manner, in mistake, error or negligence, that it cannot be counted, is not apropos to the contest.

(d) There was no evidence, and the transcript did not show any error in the board of canvassers in counting the votes cast or declaring the result of the election under subsection 6 of section 57.1, 1966 Code of Iowa.

(e) There was no evidence, and the transcript did not show, any other cause showing another person was the person duly elected other than the incumbent, to wit: Charles K. Sullivan, under subsection 7 of section 57.1, 1966 Code of Iowa.

The contestant places great emphasis on section 53.24 of the 1966 Code which section is not one of the stated grounds for contest, as set forth in the Code:

"53.24 Precincts using voting machines. In precincts using voting machines, none of said ballot envelopes shall be opened until immediately after the closing of the polls to voters who vote in person. If there be more than one absent voter's ballot entitled to be cast, they shall, without being unfolded, be thoroughly intermingled in some proper manner, after which they shall be unfolded and, under the personal supervision of all the judges, be registered on the voting machine the same as if the absent voter had been present and voted in person."

Your committee found and reports that this provision as to duties is directory and is not mandatory. No voter was disenfranchised.

The contestant places great emphasis on a list of seven in number of military absentee ballots, as more particularly set forth in Exhibit 1 of the transcript. The postmark date of each of said ballots in said Exhibit 1, indicate the improbability of said ballots having been mailed in time to have been voted in the Senatorial District at any of the several precincts in the Senatorial District before the hour of closing of the poll on election date. Further, the county auditor's testimony is that said ballots, in fact, did arrive after the date of election. (Page 28, transcript.)

There being no showing of grounds for contest, your committee sustains a motion that the contest be dismissed. The committee recommends that Charles K. Sullivan, incumbent, be declared to be the duly elected Senator from the Thirty-seventh Senatorial District, subdistrict one (1), Woodbury

County, Iowa, in the Sixty-third General Assembly of the State of Iowa, and that his seating in the Senate be confirmed.

Respectfully submitted,
JOHN L. MOWRY, Chairman
ELMER F. LANGE
JAMES W. GRIFFIN, SR.

RULES OF CIVIL PROCEDURE

IN THE MATTER OF
RULES OF CIVIL PROCEDURE AND RULES FOR COURT ADMINISTRATION

REPORT OF
SUPREME COURT

To the Sixty-third General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

I.

Pursuant to Sections 684.18 and 684.19 Code 1966, the Supreme Court of Iowa has prescribed and hereby reports to the General Assembly the following amendments to existing rules of civil procedure:

Rule 333 is amended to read:

333. Amount in controversy. Except where the action involves an interest in real estate, no appeal shall be taken in any case where the amount in controversy, as shown by the pleadings, is less than one thousand dollars, unless the trial judge, within thirty days after the judgment or order is entered, certifies that the cause is one in which appeal should be allowed. The right of appeal is not affected by any remission of any part of the verdict or judgment.

COMMENT: This increases the minimum amount in controversy from three hundred to one thousand dollars in an action from which appeal will lie where an interest in real estate is not involved and the trial judge does not certify the cause is one in which an appeal should be allowed.

Rule 335 is amended to read:

335. Time for Appeal.

(a) Appeals to the supreme court must be taken within, and not after, thirty days from the entry of the order, judgment or decree, unless a motion for new trial or judgment notwithstanding the verdict is filed as provided in rule 247, and then within thirty days after the entry of the ruling on such motion; provided however that where an application to the supreme court or any justice thereof to grant an appeal under rule 332 is made within thirty days from the date of such ruling or decision any appeal allowed upon such application shall be deemed timely taken.

Provided further that if the supreme court or any justice determines that the order or decision from which application to appeal under rule 332 is timely made is a final judgment or decision from which appeal would lie under rule 331 an appeal therefrom shall also be deemed timely taken and perfected when the order making such determination is filed with the clerk of the supreme court and the provisions of rule 336(b) and (c) shall apply. Provided however a cross-appeal may be taken within said thirty-day period, or in any event within five days after the appeal is taken.

(b) No appeal from a judgment, ruling or order taken after it has actually been made by the trial court shall be held insufficient because the clerk of the trial court has not recorded such judgment, ruling or order upon the court records at the time the appeal is taken, if it shall appear that such record has been made before appellant's proposed abstract on such appeal is filed with said clerk.

COMMENT: Rule 336 abolishes notices of appeal which have been allowed by the supreme court or taken from what is determined to be a final judgment under rule 335(a), so the clause in former rule 335 as to such notices is here eliminated.

New clause (b) reinstates the substance of Section 12839 of the 1939 Code which was inadvertently repealed in the Appendix to the Rules.

Rule 336 is amended to read:

336. How taken.

(a) Appeal other than those allowed by order under rule 332 or rule 335 is taken and perfected by filing a notice with the clerk of the court where the order, judgment or decree was entered, signed by the appellant or his attorney. It shall specify the parties taking the appeal, and the decree, judgment, order or part thereof appealed from. The clerk shall forthwith mail or deliver a copy of such notice to the attorneys for all parties of record other than appellant, or to any such party who has no attorney of record, at his last known address. No failure of the clerk to mail or deliver any notice shall affect the validity of the appeal.

(b) Interlocutory appeal under rule 332 shall be deemed taken and perfected when the order allowing it is filed with the clerk of the supreme court. No notice of such appeal is necessary. The time for any further proceeding on such appeal which would run from the notice of appeal shall run from the date such order is so filed.

(c) The clerk of the supreme court shall promptly transmit a copy of such order to the attorneys of record and the clerk of the trial court; but no delay in so doing shall affect the validity of the appeal if the copy is filed before the abstract on such appeal is filed under rule 340(a).

COMMENT: Notice of appeal for an interlocutory appeal or one determined to be from a final judgment or decision as provided in rule 335(a) is abolished because the order allowing it gives ample notice to all interested parties. Filing the order with the trial court will sufficiently apprise that court of the appeal.

Time for some further proceedings which now runs from the notice of appeal will run from the supreme court order.

II.

The rules of court administration and amendments to certain rules of civil procedure to conform therewith, adopted by the supreme court under the provisions of Chapter 401, Laws of the Sixty-second General Assembly, made effective January 1, 1968, are being reported pursuant to Section 684.19 Code 1966, as required by said Chapter 401, in order to make them effective after July 1, 1969. They are as follows:

Rule 373. Purpose of Administrative Rules. The purpose of all rules for court administration shall be to provide for the administration of justice in an orderly, efficient and effective manner, in accordance with the highest standards of justice and judicial service.

Rule 374. Supervision of Courts. The supreme court, by and through the chief justice, shall exercise supervisory and administrative control over all trial courts in the state, and over the judges and other personnel thereof, including but not limited to authority to make and issue any order a chief judge may make under Rule 377, or to modify, amend or revoke any such order or court schedule.

Rule 375. Recall and Transfer of Judges. The supreme court by and through the chief justice may at any time order the recall of eligible retired judges for active service, and the transfer of active judges and other court personnel from one judicial district to another to provide a sufficient number of judges to handle the judicial business in all districts promptly and efficiently.

Rule 376. Selection of Chief Judges. Not later than December 15 in each odd numbered year the chief justice, with the approval of the supreme court, shall appoint from the district judges of each district one of their number to serve as chief judge. The judge so appointed shall serve for a two-year term and shall be eligible for reappointment. Vacancies in the office of chief judge shall be filled in the same manner within 30 days after the vacancy occurs. Provided if there is a vacant judgeship in a district, the chief judge therein shall be appointed within 30 days after such vacancy is filled by qualification of the appointee. During any period of vacancy the judge of longest service in the district shall be the acting chief judge.

Rule 377. Duties and Powers of Chief Judges. In addition to their ordinary judicial duties, chief judges shall exercise continuing administrative supervision within their respective districts over all district courts, judges, officials and employees thereof for the purposes stated in Rule 373. They shall by order fix times and places of holding court and designate the respective presiding judges; they shall supervise and direct the performance of all administrative business of their district courts; they may conduct judicial conferences of their district judges to consider, study and plan for improvement of the administration of justice; and may make such administrative orders as necessary. No chief judge shall at any time direct or influence any judge in any ruling or decision in any proceeding or matter whatsoever.

Rule 378. Court and Trial Sessions. Chief judges shall by order provide for:

(a) A court session by a district judge at least once each week in each county of the district, announced in advance in the form of a written or printed schedule, provided that, if in the opinion of the chief judge more efficient operations in the district will result, such court sessions may be at different intervals than once each week.

(b) Additional sessions in each county for the trial of cases, and other judicial matters, of such duration and frequency as will best serve to expeditiously dispose of pending cases ready for trial, and other pending judicial matters.

Rule 379. Order appointing Chief Judges. The order appointing chief judges shall be filed with the clerk of the supreme court who shall mail certified copies to the clerk of each district court.

Rule 380. Judicial Council. There is hereby created a judicial council composed of all chief judges and the chief justice, or his designee, who shall be the chairman. The council shall convene not less than twice each year at such times and places as the chairman shall order. The council shall consider all court administrative rules, directives and regulations for the achievement of the purposes stated in Rule 378 and may propose to the supreme court such rules as deemed appropriate.

Rule 117. Motion days—disposition of motions.

Amend paragraph (a) of Rule 117 by:

1. Striking the word "judges" from line one (1) and inserting in lieu thereof the words "chief judges".

2. Striking the word "rule" from line two (2) and inserting in lieu thereof the word "order".

3. Striking the word "ten" from line five (5) and inserting in lieu thereof the word "five".

Rule 181.2. Trial assignments.

Amend paragraph (a) of Rule 181.2 by:

1. Striking the first sentence and substituting the following in lieu thereof:

"On each court day in each county or at such other times as the chief judge shall order the judges shall examine the pending criminal cases and those civil cases on the ready calendar list which have been certified by one of the parties for a period of twenty days and rule on all objections permitted under Rule 181. In the event an examination of the papers in the case discloses that a case is ready for trial and the matters certified in the ready certificates have been completed, he shall place the case on a trial list for disposition at the next trial session to be held in that county and direct that notice be given the attorneys of record that said case is subject to trial at any time thereafter. By oral or written agreement of the parties the chief judge may specially assign a case for trial on a day certain. Any judge presiding at a trial session may make such assignment for a day certain during the session."

2. Striking from the last sentence of said paragraph (a) the words "in like manner".

Further amend Rule 181.2 by striking all of paragraphs (b) and (c) and substituting the following:

"(b) The chief judge shall designate trial sessions in the various counties in the district at such times as the business in each county shall require and shall assign a judge to try such cases as are placed on the trial list or assigned for trial under the provisions of this rule. The designation of trial sessions shall be as long in advance as is compatible with a speedy and efficient administration of justice and a minimum of conflict with previous commitments of time of parties, witnesses and attorneys. The chief judge shall direct that notice of the trial session so designated shall be given to attorneys of record in cases on the trial list."

Rule 215.1. Uniform rule for dismissal for want of prosecution.

Amend the second paragraph of Rule 215.1 by striking the first two (2) sentences and substituting the following in lieu thereof:

"All cases at law or in equity where the petition has been filed more than one year prior to July 15 of any year shall be for trial at any time prior to January 1 of the next succeeding year. The clerk shall prior to August 15 of each year give notice to counsel of record as provided in Rule 82 of:

- (a) the docket number,
- (b) the names of parties,
- (c) counsel appearing,
- (d) date of filing petition, and the notice shall state that such case will be for trial and subject to dismissal if not tried prior to January 1 of the next succeeding year pursuant to this rule."

Further amend Rule 215.1 by striking the words "or term" from line four (4) of the next to the last paragraph thereof.

Rule 372. Rules by trial courts.

Amend Rule 372 by inserting after the word "practice" in line four (4) thereof the words "and administration".

III.

Consideration of the unified court bill is of course a matter for determination of the General Assembly, not for this court. Without expressing approval or disapproval of any provision of the bill, the supreme court has prescribed and reports to the General Assembly rules of civil procedure to be effective in the event the Sixty-third General Assembly adopts the unified court bill. These rules prescribing procedure for the handling of small claims and amendments to certain existing rules to conform therewith, are as follows:

DIVISION XX SMALL CLAIMS

Rule 381. Commencement, Docket. Civil actions in which the amount in controversy in money or value is less than $300, exclusive of interest and costs, shall be known as small claims. All such actions shall be commenced by the filing of an original notice with the clerk and by the mailing by the clerk of a copy of same to each defendant at his last known address, as stated in the original notice, by restricted, certified mail, return receipt to the clerk requested. Instead of such mailing, the plaintiff may, after filing the original notice with the clerk, cause a copy of same to be served on all or some defendants in the manner provided in Division III of these rules, whereupon rules 48 and 49 shall be applicable as to the defendants to be so served. The clerk shall maintain a book known as the small claims docket, which shall contain as to small claims the matters contained in the combination docket as to the regular civil actions.

Rule 382. Original Notice. The original notice must be mailed or otherwise served not less than 10 nor more than 20 days prior to the hearing date. The original notice and copies shall be signed by the plaintiff, either in person or by attorney, and shall be in substantially the following form:

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF IOWA IN AND FOR COUNTY

against you for the relief demanded, together with interest and court costs.
*(To be completed by clerk)

Plaintiff(s)

Rule 383. Function of Clerk. The clerk shall furnish forms for original notice. At the time of filing, the clerk shall enter on the original notice and the copies to be served the file number and the time and place of hearing, which shall be a time when small claims are scheduled to be heard not less than 10 nor more than 20 days after the date on which the notice will be mailed or otherwise served. The clerk shall mail a copy of the original notice to each defendant by restricted, certified mail, return receipt to the clerk requested, except for defendants whom the plaintiff wishes to serve under Division III of these rules. The clerk shall inform plaintiff of the time and place fixed for the hearing.

Rule 384. Fees, Costs. Fees and costs shall be one-half of fees and costs in regular civil actions in district court.

Rule 385. Pleadings. Except as provided in rules 382 and 386, there shall be no written pleadings or motions unless the court in the interest of justice requires them, in which event they shall be similar in form to the original notice.

Rule 386. Joinder, Counterclaim, Cross Claim, Intervention.

(a) Division II of these rules and rule 75 shall be applicable to small claims actions, except that rule 29 shall not apply to actions originating as small claims actions.

(b) In small claims actions, if a party joins a small claim with one which is not a small claim, the court shall (1) order the small claim to be heard under this division and dismiss the other claim without prejudice, or (2) as to parties who have appeared or are existing parties, either (a) order the small claim to be heard under this division and the other claim to be tried by regular procedure or (b) order both claims to be tried by regular procedure.

(c) In small claims actions, a counterclaim, cross claim, or intervention in the amount of a small claim shall be in writing and similar in form to the original notice, and shall be entitled Original Notice of Counterclaim, of Cross Claim, or of Intervention, as the case may be. A copy shall be filed for each existing party. New parties may be brought in without order and shall be served with notice as provided in rules 381 and 382; and if notice is to be served by mail the clerk shall collect the cost of mailing before filing the pleading. The clerk shall furnish forms of such pleadings. No counterclaim is necessary to assert an offset arising out of the subject of the plaintiff's claim.

(d) In small claims actions, a counterclaim, cross claim, or intervention in a greater amount than a small claim shall be in the form of a regular pleading. A copy shall be filed for each existing party. New parties, when permitted by order, may be brought in under rule 34 and shall be given notice under Division III of these rules. The court shall either (1) order such counterclaim, cross claim, or intervention to be tried by regular procedure and the other claim to be heard under this division, or (2) order the entire action to be tried by regular procedure.

(e) In regular actions, when a party joins a small claim with one which is not a small claim, regular procedure shall apply to both unless the court transfers the small claim to the small claims docket for hearing under this division.

(f) In regular actions, a counterclaim, cross claim, or intervention in the amount of a small claim shall be pleaded, tried, and determined by regular procedure, unless the court transfers such small claim to the small claims docket for hearing under this division.

(g) Pleadings which are not in correct form under this rule shall be ordered amended so as to be in correct form; but a small claim which is proceeding under this division need not be amended although in the form of a regular pleading.

(h) Copies of any papers filed by the parties which are not required to be served shall be mailed or delivered by the clerk as provided in rule 82.

Rule 387. Proof of Service. At the time for hearing the court or clerk shall first determine that proper notice has been given a party before proceeding further as to him unless he has appeared or is an existing party, and also that the action is properly brought as a small claim.

Rule 388. Default. Unless good cause to the contrary appears, (1) if the parties fail to appear at the time of hearing the claim shall be dismissed without prejudice by the court or clerk; (2) if the plaintiff fails to appear but the defendant appears, the claim shall be dismissed with prejudice by the court or clerk; and (3) if the plaintiff appears but the defendant fails to appear, judgment shall be rendered against the defendant by the court, or by the clerk if the relief to be granted is readily ascertainable. The filing by the plaintiff of a verified account, or an instrument in writing for the payment of money with an affidavit the same is genuine, shall constitute an appearance by plaintiff for the purpose of this rule. At the request of either party, the court shall grant such party one continuance to a day certain.

Rule 389. Hearing. The time for appearance shall be the time for hearing, unless a continuance has been granted under rule 388. The hearing shall be to the court, shall be simple and informal, and shall be conducted by the court itself, without regard to technicalities of procedure; but the decision must be based on substantial evidence. The court shall swear the parties and their witnesses, and examine them in such way as to bring out the truth. The parties may participate, either personally or by attorney. The court may continue the hearing from time to time if justice requires. The proceedings shall not be reported unless a party provides a reporter at his own expense or the parties by agreement cause the proceedings to be electronically reported; but there shall be no delay for such purpose.

Rule 390. Judgment, Minutes.

(a) The judgment shall be entered in a space on the original notice first filed, and the clerk shall immediately enter the judgment in the small claims docket and district court lien book, without recording. Such relief shall be granted as is appropriate. The court may enter judgment for installment payments to be made directly by the party obligated to the party entitled thereto; and in such event execution shall not issue as long as such payments are made but execution shall issue for the full unpaid balance of the judgment upon the filing of an affidavit of default. When entered on the small claims docket and district court lien book, a small claims judgment shall constitute a lien to the same extent as regular judgments entered on the district court judgment docket and lien book; but if a small claims judgment requires installment payments, it shall not be enforceable or a lien until an affidavit of default is filed, whereupon it shall be enforceable and a lien for the full unpaid balance of the judgment.

(b) Unless the hearing is reported, minutes of the testimony of each witness and of any stipulations of the parties shall likewise be entered on the original notice first filed; and the exhibits or copies thereof shall be attached to such original notice or be filed, until released by the court.

Rule 391. Other Statutes and Rules. Small claims shall be commenced, heard, and determined in accordance with this division. Other statutes and rules relating to civil proceedings shall apply, but only insofar as not inconsistent with this division. Small claims on file for 90 days and not determined shall be dismissed without prejudice at plaintiff's costs unless prior thereto a party secures an order of continuance to a date certain after notice and hearing, upon a ground stated in rule 215.1. All claims in probate in the amount of small claims shall be filed in the probate proceedings as provided by the Iowa Probate Code. If a request for hearing is filed by the claimant as provided by the Iowa Probate Code, the court may transfer the contested claim to the small claims docket and the hearing thereon shall proceed as provided in this division. Any judgment entered in favor of the claimant shall have the effect of allowing the claim against the estate, but no execution shall issue on such judgment. Civil actions coming within this division but commenced as a regular action shall not be dismissed, but shall be transferred to the small claims docket and proceed accordingly. Civil and probate actions not coming within this division but commenced hereunder shall be dismissed without prejudice except for defendants who have appeared, as to whom such actions shall be transferred to the combination or probate docket, as appropriate, and proceed accordingly.

Rule 121. Interrogatories—time—nature.

Amend Rule 121 by striking from lines one (1) and two (2), Chapter 475, Laws of the Sixty-second General Assembly the words "actions in Justice Court or Class B actions in Municipal Court" and substituting the words, "small claims" in lieu thereof.

Rule 181.2. Trial assignments.

Amend Rule 181.2(a) by striking from line two (2) the words "and superior"; and by striking the last sentence of said paragraph (a).

Rule 309. The writ.

Amend Rule 309 by striking from line three (3) the words "or municipal or superior court".

Rules 354, 355, 356, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, and 365 are annulled.

Rule 372. Rules by trial courts.

Amend Rule 372 by striking from lines one (1) and two (2) the words "superior and municipal".

The rules for small claims procedure and amendments to existing rules appearing in this part III of the report shall become effective on January 1, 1971, if the bill for a unified trial court is enacted by the Sixty-third General Assembly, otherwise they shall be void and of no effect.

Respectfully submitted,
SUPREME COURT OF IOWA,
T. G. GARFIELD, Chief Justice

Des Moines, Iowa
January 31, 1969

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

BILL SIGNED BY THE GOVERNOR

A communication was received announcing that on January 31, 1969, the Governor had approved the following bill:

House File 57, relating to the appropriation made by the Sixty-second General Assembly for the law enforcement officers' training academy.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE SECRETARY OF THE SENATE

The Report of the Economics Research Association Study of the Iowa State Fair and World Food Exposition and the Report of the Land Rehabilitation Advisory Committee have been received and are now on file in the office of the Secretary of the Senate.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RULES REGARDING AMENDMENTS TO TEMPORARY RULES

MR. PRESIDENT: Your committee on rules begs leave to report that it recommends that the temporary rules of the Senate of the Sixty-third General Assembly be amended as follows:

RULE 17

The following paragraph is inserted at the end of Rule 17:

"After February 12, 1969, no bill or joint resolution except appropriations committee bills shall be introduced unless a concise and accurate explanation is attached. The chief sponsor or a committee to which the bill has been referred may add an explanation or revised explanation, at any time before the third reading, and it shall be included in the daily clip sheet."

RULE 22Time of Introduction of Bills

Rule 22 is repealed and the following is substituted therefor:

"No bill shall be introduced in the Senate after 4:00 p.m., the 28th day of February of each session of a general assembly. Standing committees may introduce bills after such date by a majority vote of the members of the committee."

RULE 46

Rule 46 is repealed and the following is substituted therefor:

"Only former members of the senate and former and present members of Congress shall be presented to the senate, except that the president of the senate may present a visitor whose presence is of special significance to the senate. No presentation shall be made during debate or discussion on legislation. The presence of school groups accompanied by school officials shall be recorded in the journal upon the written request of a member of the senate."

RULE 47Fiscal Note

The following new rule is adopted as Rule 47:

"A fiscal note shall be attached to any bill or joint resolution which would have an annual effect or a total effect within five years after enactment of fifty thousand dollars or more on the revenues, expenditures or fiscal liability of the state or its subdivisions. This rule does not apply to appropriation measures whose total effect is stated in dollar amounts."

"The fiscal note shall be attached to the bill before introduction if practicable, and in any event before the bill is reported out by a committee.

"A fiscal note may be requested by the chief sponsor of a bill or proposed bill, by a committee or the chairman of a committee to which the bill has been referred or by the senate.

"A revised fiscal note may be requested in the same manner as an original fiscal note, if the fiscal effect of the bill has been changed by adoption of an amendment or if the original fiscal note is believed to be incorrect. However, a request for a revised fiscal note shall not delay action on a bill unless otherwise ordered by the senate.

"Requests for fiscal notes shall be in writing, addressed to the legislative fiscal director, and accompanied by a copy of the bill.

"The legislative fiscal director shall prepare and return the fiscal note within five legislative days after receiving the request. He may request the cooperation of the state comptroller and any state department or agency. If a fiscal note is prepared by the comptroller at the request of the fiscal director, that fact shall be stated in the note.

"Each fiscal note shall state in dollars the estimated effect of the bill on the revenues, expenditures and fiscal liability of the state or its subdivisions, during each of the first five years after enactment. Sources of funds for expenditures under the bill shall be stated, including federal funds. If the fiscal director cannot make an accurate estimate, he shall state his best available estimate together with his qualifications, or shall state that no dollar estimate can be made and state concisely the reason.

"The fiscal note shall be attached to the bill following the explanation, and shall be printed together with the bill or in the daily clip sheet.

"Forms and procedures for fiscal notes shall be prescribed by the secretary of the senate with the consent of the legislative fiscal director as to matters affecting his office."

And when so amended the temporary rules continue to be the temporary rules of the Sixty-third General Assembly,

ARTHUR A. NEU
Chairman, Rules Committee

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 9

By McGill, Erskine, Benda, Van Gilst, Shaff, Stephens, Lucken, Denman, Dodds, O'Malley and Keith (Dougherty, Nelson, Van Roekel, Roorda, Middleswart, Crosier, Graham, Knight, Nielsen, Fisher of Greene,
Gannon, Mayberry, Schwartz, Hamilton, Dietz, Mendenhall, Campbell, Warren, Bailey and Cochran)

Whereas, littering, the indiscriminate disposing of cans, bottles, garbage, and other rubbish, is becoming commonplace throughout the nation and the state; and

Whereas, littering results in the distraction and destroying of the natural beauty of the landscape and surrounding countryside and in unsightliness in general; and

Whereas, it is general practice for food products and alcoholic beverages to be dispensed in nonredeemable type containers; and

Whereas, it is the growing tendency of soft drink manufacturers and vendors also to dispense their products in nonredeemable type containers; and

Whereas, it is apparent that supervision by governmental bodies and agencies is lacking in providing suitable disposal receptacles, dumping areas, and garbage collection disposal systems for articles of litter; and

Whereas, present laws intended to control littering are generally ignored and evaded; and

Whereas, it is the common practice to dispose of refuse by open burning producing a material annoyance, inconvenience, and discomfort; and

Whereas, littering is directly related to the health, safety, and general welfare of the citizens of the nation and this state; and

Whereas, the progressive use of insecticides, herbicides, chemicals, and dangerous drugs is directly related to the health, safety, and general welfare of the citizens of the nation and this state and by their nature require extensive regulation and control in the public interest; and

Whereas, government supervision is required to be close and watchful so as to allow little latitude for malfeasance or misfeasance in the control of littering, the disposal of refuse, and the use of insecticides, herbicides, chemicals, and dangerous drugs; now, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring: That the Iowa Legislative Research Committee, its successor agency, or an appropriate standing committee be directed to conduct, during the interim, a continued study of the littering problem of the state, disposal of refuse practices, and the use of insecticides, herbicides, chemicals, and dangerous drugs, the laws relating thereto, and the need for additional legislation to correct these problems.

Be It Further Resolved, That the Legislative Research Committee establish a committee in accordance with section two point fifty-five (2.55) of the Code to assist with the study of hazardous chemicals and drugs.

Be It Further Resolved, That a report of the study findings and recommendations, accompanied by bills incorporating such recommendations, be submitted to the 1970 session of the General Assembly.

REPORTS OF SENATE COMMITTEE ON ETHICS

MR. PRESIDENT: Your Senate Committee on Ethics begs leave to report that it recommends the following Code of Ethics and that the same be adopted.

PROPOSED CODE OF ETHICS

Recognizing that service in the Iowa General Assembly is a part-time endeavor and that members of the General Assembly are honorable individuals who are active in the affairs of their localities and elsewhere and that it is necessary that they maintain a livelihood and source of income apart from their legislative compensation, the following rules are adopted pursuant to chapter 107, Acts of the Sixty-second General Assembly, to assist the members in the conduct of their legislative affairs.

1. Taking into account that legislative service is part-time, no legislator shall accept economic or investment opportunity, under circumstances where he knows, or should know, that there is a reasonable possibility that the opportunity is being afforded him with intent to influence his conduct in the performance of his official duties.

2. No legislator may charge to or accept from a person, corporation, partnership or association known to have a legislative interest a price, fee, compensation or other consideration for the sale or lease of any property or the furnishing of services which is in excess of that which the legislator would charge another.

3. No legislator in order to further his own economic interests, or those of any other person, may disclose or use confidential information acquired in the course of his official duties.

4. A member of the General Assembly may appear before a state agency in any representation case, except that he shall not appear before a state agency if the matter is subject to legislative review. Whenever a member of the General Assembly appears before a state agency, he shall carefully avoid all conduct which might in any way lead members of the general public to conclude that he is using his official position to further his professional success or personal interest.

5. In order to permit the General Assembly to function effectively, legislators will, of necessity, be required to vote on bills and participate in committee work which will affect their employment and other areas in which they may have a monetary interest. Action on bills and committee work which specifically deal with a legislator's specific employment or specific investment, as opposed to a profession, trade, or business in general, should be avoided. In making a decision relating to his activity on given bills or committee work which are subject to this code, the following factors should be considered:

- a. Whether a substantial threat to his independence of judgment has been created by the conflict situation.
- b. The effect of his participation on public confidence in the integrity of the legislature.
- c. Whether his participation is likely to have any significant effect on the disposition of the matter.
- d. The need for his particular contribution, such as special knowledge of the subject matter, to the effective functioning of the legislature.

He need not abstain if he decides to participate in a manner contrary to the economic interest which creates the conflict situation. If he does abstain, he should disclose that fact to his respective legislative body.

6. Each legislator shall file with the Secretary of the Senate within ten days after the adoption of the Code of Ethics by the Senate, a statement on forms provided by the Secretary of the Senate setting forth the following information:

- a. The nature of each business in which he is engaged and the nature of the business of each company in which he or his spouse has a financial interest to the extent of $5,000.00 or more in value.
- b. The name of any state or national business or professional association or organization by which he, his partner or associate is employed or retained.
- c. Every office or directorship held by the legislator in any corporation, firm, enterprise, labor union, farm organization, cooperative, church organization, or trade or professional association held during the last twelve months and every membership in such an organization which is engaged in actively supporting or opposing legislation in the General Assembly. The name of the entity shall be set out.

Disclosures required under this rule shall be as of the date filed unless provided to the contrary, and shall be amended to include interests and changes encompassed by this rule that occur while the General Assembly is in session. All filings under this rule shall be open to public inspection in the office of the Secretary of the Senate at all reasonable times.

7. Members of the General Assembly are urged to familiarize themselves with chapter 107, Acts of the Sixty-second General Assembly.

8. Legislators may not accept open-end accounts paid for by lobbyists or the employer of a lobbyist.

9. Complaints against any member of the General Assembly or any lobbyist shall be in writing, made under oath and filed with the Ethics Committee of the house in which the legislator is a member or the house in which the lobbyist operates. If the Ethics Committee determines that the complaint sets out an apparent violation of the law or code of ethics or rules regulating lobbyists, it shall set the matter for hearing, notify the accused of his right to appear in person, to be represented by counsel, to present statements and evidence and to cross-examine witnesses. The committee shall hold a hearing and consider all relevant evidence and shall make its recommendations to the appropriate house.

ARTHUR A. NEU

Chairman, Committee on Ethics

Also:

MR. PRESIDENT: Your Senate Committee on Ethics begs leave to report that it recommends the following rules to govern lobbyists and lobbying activities and that the same be adopted.

PROPOSED RULES GOVERNING LOBBYISTS

1. Each individual lobbying or attempting to influence legislation on a regular basis, shall, on or before the day his lobbying activity begins, personally register his name and address, and each company, firm, corporation, union, association or cause for which he is lobbying with the Secretary of the Senate. In addition he shall register with the Secretary of the Senate the numbers of the bills with regard to which he intends to lobby together with the name of each company, association or cause respectively involved. As such information is received, it shall, from time to time, be distributed to the individual members of the Senate whose clerks may then record it on their copies of the related bills.

2. All federal, state, and local employees or officials representing the official position of their agencies are required to present to the Secretary of the Senate a letter of authorization from their department or agency heads prior to the time that they do any lobbying. Such employees or officials who wish to lobby in opposition to the official policy may do so by registering as a lobbyist and need not submit a letter of authorization.

3. Lobbyists shall not be permitted on the floor of the Senate while in session.

4. Lobbyists are prohibited from providing legislators, and legislators may not accept, open-end accounts paid for by the lobbyist or his employer.

5. If the fee or bonus to be paid any lobbyist with reference to any legislative action is conditioned wholly or in part upon the results attained by the lobbyist, a statement disclosing that fact shall be given to the Secretary of the Senate.

6. No lobbyist, or employer of a lobbyist, shall offer economic or investment opportunity or promise of employment to any legislator with intent to influence his conduct in the performance of his official duties.

ARTHUR A. NEU
Chairman, Ethics Committee

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

The following message was received from the House:

MR. PRESIDENT: I am directed to inform your honorable body that the House has adopted the following concurrent resolution in which the concurrence of the Senate is asked:

House Concurrent Resolution 15, directing the Iowa State University to conduct aggressive research to determine the extent of pollution hazards in Iowa.

WILLIAM R. KENDRICK, Chief Clerk

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 15

By Strothman, Varley, Stokes, Fisher of Greene, Menefee, Langland, Battles, Crabb, Voorhees, Campbell, Shepherd, Kitner, Winkelman, Priebe, Mohrfeld, Lipsky and Walter

Whereas, chemical fertilizers, pesticides and other agricultural chemicals are being used increasingly by Iowa's agricultural producers to increase productivity and efficiency; and

Whereas, extensive advertising and sales promotion of these chemicals encourages their use; and

Whereas, many experts and thoughtful citizens believe and contend that widespread use of agricultural chemicals is gradually contaminating soil and water resources; and

Whereas, such contamination is inimical to the interests of conservation of natural resources and could eventually create a health hazard for our citizens; now, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring: That Iowa State University of Science and Technology, through its College of Agriculture and appropriate Research Institutes, is directed to conduct aggressive research to determine whether and to what extent pollution hazards exist from the widespread use of agricultural chemicals in Iowa.

Be It Further Resolved, That the results of such research be made available to the General Assembly of the State of Iowa by January 1, 1970.

THIRD READING OF BILLS

AMENDMENTS FILED

1 Amend the report of the Senate Ethics Committee
2 on the Proposed Rules Governing Lobbyists by adding the 3 following new rules:
4 "7. Each registered lobbyist who receives or expects 5 to receive any compensation for his services or who is an
6 employee of the organization he represents, shall file
7 a sworn monthly report with the Secretary of the Senate
8 within ten days after the end of any month during which 9 the General Assembly was in session. The report shall 10 state the total amount spent during that month by the 11 lobbyist and the organization he represents, for or in 12 connection with any attempt to influence legislation or any 13 other activities related to the Iowa General Assembly.
14 The total shall include the lobbyist's compensation, or a 15 pro rata part of his compensation if he is an employee some 16 of whose duties are not related to legislation, but this
17 amount need not be separately stated. The portion of said
18 total amount spent for gifts, entertainment, food and 19 refreshments for legislators shall also be stated. Cumulative
20 totals for each session of the General Assembly shall also 21 be stated. The final report for each session shall also 22 include the total amount spent for the benefit of any 23 legislator (including but not limited to all gifts, 24 entertainment, food and refreshments) during the session,
25 but only if the total amount is $50.00 or more. If the 26 total amount is $50.00 or more, the legislator shall be
27 named and the amounts spent for his benefit shall be itemized.
28 "Spent" includes expenses incurred but not yet paid, and 29 they may be estimated until the exact amount is available.
30 "Organization" includes person, company, firm, corporation,
31 union and association. Each lobbyist is responsible for 32 obtaining from the organization he represents the true
33 amounts spent by it. If two or more lobbyists represent 34 the same organization, they shall file a combined report,
35 sworn to by each lobbyist. If one lobbyist represents two 36 or more organizations, he shall allocate all amounts spent

37 by him to the organization on whose behalf they were spent 38 and shall file a separate report for each organization.
 39 However, if any lobbyist and the organizations he represents 40 have spent a total of $50.00 or more for the benefit of any 41 one legislator during a session of the General Assembly,
 42 even though spent on behalf of two or more organizations,
 43 this fact and the other information required by this rule
 44 shall be shown in each of the final reports filed by that 45 lobbyist. Reports for January, 1969, shall be filed on or 46 before February 25, 1969.

47 "8. The Secretary of the Senate shall prescribe 48 forms and procedures for compliance with these rules, and 49 shall promptly notify the Ethics Committee of any facts
 50 which may indicate a violation.

51 "9. All statements and reports under these rules
 52 shall be public records open to public inspection at all 53 reasonable times."

6 tainment paid for by lobbyists or the employer of a lobbyist."

GENE W. GLENN

1 Amend the Report of the Senate Committee on Ethics
2 on page 222 of the Senate Journal by adding after para-
3 graph (6) the following new paragraph:

4 "7. Every lobbyist shall file with the Secretary of 5 the Senate within ten days after the adoption of the Code
6 of Ethics by the Senate, a statement setting forth the 7 gross income earned or received by such lobbyist from all
8 sources during the preceding year, and the nature of all
9 sources of income. It shall be adequate compliance with 10 this paragraph to file a verified copy of the lobbyist's

11 Federal Income Tax Return for the preceding year."

GENE W. GLENN

1 Amend the Rules Governing Lobbyists appearing on pages 221
2 and 222 of the Senate Journal by adding the following paragraph
3 thereto:
4 7. On the fifteenth day of each calendar month, if any 5 expenses were paid or incurred and any consideration paid or 6 given during the preceding calendar month to a legislative 7 agent or lobbyist, every legislative agent, lobbyist and his
8 employer shall file with the Secretary of the Senate an item-
9 ized statement, sworn to before a proper officer, of all ex-
10 penses paid or incurred and any consideration paid or given by 11 such person in connection with promoting, opposing or amending 12 in any manner, directly or indirectly, the passage, defeat, or 13 amending of any legislation or the approval or veto of any legis-
14 lation by the governor. The report shall be made in such form
15 as may be indicated and approved by the Secretary of the Senate, 16 and shall be open to public inspection. In the event that the 17 legislative agent or lobbyist is employed for purposes other than 18 lobbying, the consideration reported shall include the total annual 19 consideration paid to the agent or lobbyist and that portion of 20 such total consideration attributable to the employment as legis-
21 lative agent or lobbyist.

LEE H. GAUDINEER, JR.

COMMITTEE FROM THE HOUSE

A committee from the House appeared and announced that the House was ready to receive the Senate in joint convention.

In accordance with House Concurrent Resolution 13 duly adopted, the Senate proceeded to the House under the direction of the Sergeant-at-Arms.

JOINT CONVENTION

LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY OBSERVANCE

In accordance with law and House Concurrent Resolution 13 duly adopted, the joint convention was called to order, President Jepsen presiding.

President Jepsen announced a quorum present and the joint convention duly organized.

Senator Stanley of Muscatine moved that a committee of six, consisting of three members from the Senate and three members from the House, be appointed to notify Governor Ray and the members of the Civil War Centennial Commission that the joint convention was ready to receive them.

Motion prevailed and the President appointed as such committee Senators Flatt of Madison, Lange of Sac and Hill of Jasper on the part of the Senate, and Representatives Welden of Hardin, Roorda of Jasper and Baker of Boone on the part of the House.

The committee waited upon Governor Ray and escorted him to the Speaker's station. Members of the Civil War Centennial Commission were seated in the well of the House.

President Jepsen introduced Representative W. E. Darrington of Harrison County who addressed the joint convention as follows:

WHAT PATH AMERICA?

Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Speaker of the House, Honorable Members of the Sixty-third General Assembly, Ladies and Gentlemen:

In the words of the great biographer and historian on Lincoln, the late Carl Sandburg: "I stand before you with a feeling of Humility rather than Pride."

On this one hundred sixtieth birthday of Abraham Lincoln, I am accepting quite a challenge to do justice to a fellow woodchopper, a fellow legislator and a great President of these United States. One more challenge is to do justice to this honorable body—the Iowa legislature—and, I speak from experience, the greatest in the United States.

Lincoln and I have quite a lot in common. We are not too pleasing to the eye. He wore the same size hat as I do (7 $\frac{1}{8}$). He was born in a log cabin. My father was born in a log house in Utah and grew up in a log house in northwestern Pottawattamie County in this state, and I might add, that log house still stands. "My grandfather," William Darrington I, came to this country from England in 1860 as a young man and lived to be well over ninety. In his later years, he liked to talk about Lincoln, but it seemed that he was so old and I was so young—as the years went by, then I realized my mistake, but it was too late.

Speaking of Lincoln's hat, he had the habit of placing his tall hat upside down in a chair, and one day a lady wearing a large hoop skirt, and not being able to see the hat because of her skirt, sat down on it. When she discovered what she had done, she was terribly embarrassed.

Lincoln had a great sense of humor and remarked: "Lady, I could have told you before you tried it on that it wouldn't fit." Thank goodness, the ladies of today are not bothered with that problem.

Let us turn back the pages of history and of time and go back down the path of Lincoln one hundred sixty years to a backwoods cabin in Kentucky on a bed of corn husks and bearskins where Lincoln was born, February 12, 1809.

At the age of six, Abraham started to school to pick up some reading, writing, and ciphering from a teacher, but he seemed to learn more from his surroundings than he did in school. According to Abe, he had only one year of formal schooling. At the age of nine, his mother died and this was a terrible blow to little Abe and the family. Some time later Thomas Lincoln married Sarah Johnston. Strange as it may seem, Abe loved his new mother, and she was very fond of him. To quote her, "He was the best boy I ever saw. I never gave him a cross word in all my life." And Lincoln said of her, "All that I am or hope to be I owe to my angel mother."

In 1834 Lincoln, then twenty-five years old, was elected to the Illinois legislature, one of the youngest men of that body. He served for eight years. During that time, because of his interest and respect for the law, he wrote these words: "Let reverence for the laws be breathed by every American mother to her lisping babe, let it be taught in the schools and colleges, let it be written in primers, spelling books and in almanacs, let it be preached from every pulpit, proclaimed in legislative halls and enforced in the courts of Justice. Let it become the political religion of the nation and let old and young, rich and poor, grave and gay sacrifice unceasingly on its altars."

His respect of the law never changed, but as the years passed he advocated that too much government could be a burden and a detriment upon the American way of life. He expressed his feelings on this matter when he said:

"The legitimate object of government is to do for a community of people whatever they need to have done but cannot do at all, or cannot so well do for themselves in their separate and individual capacities. In all that the people can individually do as well for themselves, government ought not to interfere."

In bidding farewell to Springfield, Lincoln shared his innermost thoughts with old friends.

In part, he said: "I now leave, not knowing when or whether ever I may return, with a task before me greater than that which rested upon George Washington. Without the assistance of that Divine Being who ever attended him, I cannot succeed. With that assistance I cannot fail." Four years and two months later Abraham Lincoln was dead, but the Union again was united.

In his second inaugural address toward the end of the war, Lincoln made this statement: "With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work that we are in, to bind up not only the wounds of the North and the South, but the wounds of the world. We are not enemies but friends."

In the summer of 1859 during his first campaign for President, Lincoln spoke to the people at Council Bluffs. The friendly Nonpareil praised his speech as "masterly and unanswerable".

No Lincoln Day observance would be complete without turning to November 19, 1863:

"Fourscore and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

"Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation or any nation so conceived and so dedicated can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field, as a final resting-place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

"But, in a larger sense, we cannot dedicate—we cannot consecrate—we cannot hallow—this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion—that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain—that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom—and that government of the people, by the people, for the people shall not perish from the earth."

Lincoln felt badly about his address at Gettysburg. He felt it fell on the audience like a wet blanket and remarked, "I should have prepared it with more care." The first favorable comment came from the Chicago Tribune, and followed by a Massachusetts paper. The comment was, turn back and read it again, it will repay study as a model speech. Strong feelings and a large brain were its parents.

Thank Heaven, the people did heed their advice and it has been read again, and again, and again. Over one hundred six years have passed and we have just read it again.

On April 14 about a week after General Lee surrendered to General Grant, Lincoln and his wife Mary went for a little drive, in a very happy mood. He daydreamed about the future and said to Mary, "We have had a hard time since we came to Washington, but the war is over now and with God's blessing we may hope for four years of peace and happiness, then we will go back to Illinois and pass the rest of our lives in peace and quiet." It was on that fateful evening when he was shot at Ford's Theatre, one hundred four years ago.

The Great Emancipator was carried across the street where on the morning of April 15, 1865 (7:22), he died. Secretary of War Stanton, standing at the foot of the bed, made this never to be forgotten remark: "Now he belongs to the ages." The man Lincoln was dead, but the life he lived and exemplified will live throughout the ages. Between four and five thousand different books have been written about Lincoln which is definite proof that he "belongs to the ages."

In my travels in quite a number of foreign countries, I have found that Abe Lincoln is no stranger in many of those countries. About fifteen years ago, my wife, my sister and I were in Denmark returning a visit to some Danish friends living in a small country town in western Denmark. This friend was a teacher of adult education in this area. I was invited to talk at his school the next morning, and was surprised to see the large map of these United States that was hanging in the front of the room on the blackboard. My Danish friend was interpreter and I was surprised at what they knew about our agriculture, our country and about our great statesmen.

That evening I was taken by my friend to the home of the man who had preceded him as teacher in this school. This man had spent the greater part of his life teaching in this school, and if I ever found an Abraham Lincoln type of a man, he was it. This man was living alone, with the exception of a couple of nice house cats, in a small house not far from the school. This fine old gentleman spent most of his time reading and weaving baskets out of long rye straw. The room was stacked high with books and two kerosene lamps on the table furnished the light. This man's name was Andy Nielsen. He could speak enough English so that he and I could carry on a fair conversation. He apologized for his poor English and remarked that he was his own teacher. The point I wish to bring out is this. He was a self-educated, self-made man. He had a great collection of Lincoln books and literature and knew more about Lincoln than I did at that time. This is further proof that he "belongs to the ages."

Sixty years ago, former President Woodrow Wilson asked this question and then proceeded to answer it: "Can we have other Lincolns? We cannot do without them. This country is going to have crisis after crisis. God send they may not be bloody crises, but they will be intense and acute. No political body so abounding in life and so puzzled by problems as ours is can avoid moving from crisis to crisis. We must have the leadership of sane genial men of universal use like Lincoln to save us from mistakes and give us the necessary leadership in such days of struggle and difficulty."

I could go on with dozens of selected passages from the writings of eminent men about Lincoln, but I will not take the time.

About ten years ago, I was with a small group of Iowa legislators and others traveling in Europe. I want to give you my impressions of East and West Berlin.

I well remember the happenings and events leading up to World War II and, also, the war itself. An atheist disbeliever and mad man known as Hitler succeeded in getting millions of good German people to follow his atheistic madness for world conquest. He was quite a student of world history and delighted in quoting the leading statesmen of the world and then rant and rave and curse them for their good deeds. Abraham Lincoln received his share of cursing and misquotation from this mad man.

After spending a day in East and West Berlin observing the many miles of destruction and rubble, our German guide made this remark with a sigh: "They had a hell of a lesson." Yes, they know what hell is; they lived in it and a few survived. After that terrible lesson, they built a new city in West Berlin and a new Schöneberg City Hall. In this city hall there is a Freedom Bell. The inscription on it, quoting Lincoln: "That this world under God shall have a new birth of freedom."

My closing thought is this quotation by a great statesman and third President of the United States, Thomas Jefferson: "No Democracy can survive without frequent recurrence of the Fundamental Principles."

I was never more sincere or more concerned in my life about the survival of Democracy or about the survival of those great Fundamental Principles that have made America the greatest country in the world than I am today. We are reading and hearing so much about communism these days. Yes, we hear the question asked on radio and television, "What is wrong with communism?"

The Iowa group I was traveling with ten years ago this summer spent ten days behind the Iron Curtain. While we were there, we were taken by our request to a collective farm.

The buildings on this farm were old and run down. The houses were old and not modern and some had thatch or long grass on the roofs. The farm machinery was old and rather crude. They had some pigs that we Iowa farmers would be ashamed to own. The women took care of dairy cows and did the milking. They, also cleaned the barns. On the gable end of the cow barn was a large picture of Lenin. The pictures of Lenin are along the roads and plastered all around in the cities. These farms all have a name. The name of this farm was "The Path of Lenin," and what a path to brag about. I could go on for an hour on this—but, I will say, God help the Russian peasant.

Far too many of our American people are standing at the crossroads. There is a path leading to the left which leads to atheism and socialism which means communism and a dictatorship. A large sign pointing to the left, "The Path of Lenin." There is another path leading to the right which is and has been the greatest way of life the world has ever known. A large sign pointing to the right, "The Path of Lincoln."

My question is, Which Path America?

The path of Lenin or the path of Lincoln?

Which path are we going to follow?

President Jepsen introduced Senator Joseph Flatt of Madison County who presented to the joint convention the members of the Civil War Centennial Commission. After a brief address, Senator Flatt presented the first published copy of the book "Years of Valor" to the author, Mrs. Edith McElroy, who in turn presented the book as a gift to Governor Ray.

The Governor briefly addressed the joint convention.

Senator Flatt also presented a copy of the book to President Jepsen and to Speaker Harbor.

Governor Ray and the members of the Civil War Centennial Commission were escorted from the House chamber by the committee previously appointed.

McCartney of Floyd moved that the joint convention be now dissolved.

The motion prevailed.

The Senate returned to the Senate chamber and resumed regular session.

REPORT OF THE SENATE COMMITTEE ON ETHICS AS ADOPTED BY THE SENATE, FEBRUARY 12, 1969

CODE OF ETHICS

Recognizing that service in the Iowa General Assembly is a part-time endeavor and that members of the General Assembly are honorable individuals who are active in the affairs of their localities and elsewhere and that it is necessary that they maintain a livelihood and source of income apart from their legislative compensation, the following rules are adopted pursuant to chapter 107, Acts of the Sixty-second General Assembly, to assist the members in the conduct of their legislative affairs.

1. Taking into account that legislative service is part-time, no legislator shall accept economic or investment opportunity, under circumstances where he knows, or should know, that there is a reasonable possibility that the opportunity is being afforded him with intent to influence his conduct in the performance of his official duties.

2. No legislator may charge to or accept from a person, corporation, partnership or association known to have a legislative interest, a price, fee, compensation or other consideration for the sale or lease of any property or the furnishing of services which is in excess of that which the legislator would charge another.

3. No legislator in order to further his own economic interests, or those of any other person, may disclose or use confidential information acquired in the course of his official duties.

4. A member of the General Assembly may appear before a state agency in any representation case, except that he shall not appear before a state agency if the matter is subject to legislative review. Whenever a member of the General Assembly appears before a state agency, he shall carefully avoid all conduct which might in any way lead members of the general public to conclude that he is using his official position to further his professional success or personal financial interest.

5. In order to permit the General Assembly to function effectively, legislators will, of necessity, be required to vote on bills and participate in committee work which will affect their employment and other areas in which they may have a monetary interest. Action on bills and committee work which specifically deal with a legislator's specific employment or specific investment, as opposed to a profession, trade, or business in general, should be avoided. In making a decision relating to his activity on given bills or committee work which are subject to this code, the following factors should be considered:

a. Whether a substantial threat to his independence of judgment has been created by the conflict situation.

b. The effect of his participation on public confidence in the integrity of the legislature.

c. Whether his participation is likely to have any significant effect on the disposition of the matter.

d. The need for his particular contribution, such as special knowledge of the subject matter, to the effective functioning of the legislature.

6. Each legislator shall file with the Secretary of the Senate within ten days after the adoption of the Code of Ethics by the Senate, and within ten days after the convening of each session of the General Assembly, a statement on forms provided by the Secretary of the Senate setting forth the following information:

a. The nature of each business in which he is engaged and the nature of the business of each company in which he or his spouse has a financial interest.

b. The name of any state or national business, trade, labor, farm, professional, religious, educational or charitable association, foundation or organization by which he, his partner or business associate is employed or retained or has rendered services for compensation within the last twelve months.

c. Every office or directorship held by the legislator in any corporation, firm, enterprise, labor union, farm organization, cooperative, religious, educational or charitable association or organization, or trade or professional association held during the last twelve months and every membership in such an organization which is engaged in actively supporting or opposing legislation in the General Assembly. The name of the entity shall be set out.

Disclosures required under this rule shall be as of the date filed unless provided to the contrary, and shall be amended to include interests and changes encompassed by this rule that occur while the General Assembly is in session. All filings under this rule shall be open to public inspection in the office of the Secretary of the Senate at all reasonable times.

7. Members of the General Assembly are urged to familiarize themselves with chapter 107, Acts of the Sixty-second General Assembly, and chapter 739 of the Code.

8. Legislators shall not charge any amount or item to any charge account to be paid for by any lobbyist or any organization he represents.

9. Complaints against any member of the General Assembly or any lobbyist shall be in writing, made under oath and filed with the Ethics Committee of the house in which the legislator is a member or the house in which the lobbyist operates. If the Ethics Committee determines that the complaint sets out an apparent violation of the law or Code of Ethics or Rules Regulating Lobbyists, it shall set the matter for hearing, notify the accused of his right to appear in person, to be represented by counsel, to present statements and evidence and to cross-examine witnesses. The committee shall hold a hearing and consider all relevant evidence and shall make its recommendations to the appropriate house.

RULES GOVERNING LOBBYISTS

1. Each individual lobbying or attempting to influence legislation on a regular basis, shall, on or before the day his lobbying activity begins, personally register his name and address, and each company, firm, corporation, union, association or cause for which he is lobbying with the Secretary of the Senate. In addition he shall register with the Secretary of the Senate the numbers of the bills with regard to which he intends to lobby together with the name of each company, association or cause respectively involved. Any change in or addition to the foregoing information shall be registered with the Secretary of the Senate within ten days after the change or addition is known to the lobbyist. As such information is received, it shall, from time to time, be distributed to the individual members of the Senate whose clerks may then record it on their copies of the related bills.

2. All federal, state, and local employees or officials representing the official position of their agencies are required to present to the Secretary of the Senate a letter of authorization from their department or agency heads prior to the time that they do any lobbying. Such employees or officials who wish to lobby in opposition to the official policy may do so by registering as a lobbyist and need not submit a letter of authorization.

3. Lobbyists shall not be permitted on the floor of the Senate while in session.

4. Lobbyists and organizations they represent shall not allow any legislator to charge any amount or item to any charge account to be paid for by a lobbyist or an organization he represents.

5. If the fee or bonus to be paid any lobbyist with reference to any legislative action is conditioned wholly or in part upon the results attained by the lobbyist, a statement disclosing that fact shall be given to the Secretary of the Senate.

6. No lobbyist, or employer of a lobbyist, shall offer economic or investment opportunity or promise of employment to any legislator with intent to influence his conduct in the performance of his official duties.

7. The Secretary of the Senate shall prescribe forms and procedures for compliance with these rules.

8. All statements and reports under these rules shall be public records open to public inspection at all reasonable times.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE ON CODE OF ETHICS

I voted "No" on the proposed Code of Ethics because financial disclosure is required of Senators and not of Lobbyists. I regard this arrangement as arbitrary, unilateral and unreasonable.

DONALD S. MCGILL

EXPLANATION OF VOTE ON CODE OF ETHICS

For me, as a freshman, to vote for a new Code of Ethics might in my opinion be a reflection on the past conduct of senior legislators whom I respect. Since I am aware of no improper activity by those honorable people blessed with an extra measure of ability and self-discipline, and as I was not a member of the ethics committee, it appeared to me that attempting to judge conduct should be left to the voters.

R. DEAN ARBUCKLE

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

The following message was received from the House:

MR. PRESIDENT: I am directed to inform your honorable body that the House has adopted the following House concurrent resolution in which the concurrence of the Senate is asked:

House Concurrent Resolution 16, providing that the appropriate standing committees be directed to conduct a study of capital and credit available for agriculture.

WILLIAM R. KENDRICK, Chief Clerk

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 16

By Strothman, Varley, Stokes, Menefee, Langland, Battles,
Crabb, Stromer, Holden, Shepherd, Kitner, Warren, Lippold, Winkelman, Priebe, Mohrfeld, Corey and Walter

Whereas, Agriculture is the backbone of the Iowa economy and modern methods of agriculture require the investment of large amounts of capital; and

Whereas, The obtaining of necessary capital for expanding and modernizing agricultural production depends on the amount of credit available to agricultural producers; and

Whereas, Agricultural producers throughout the state need information relating to the availability of capital and credit; now, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring, That the appropriate standing committees be directed to conduct a study of capital and credit available for agriculture, said committees to consult with legislators and other persons representing the businesses of agriculture and banking.

Be It Further Resolved, That the standing committees be directed to report the study findings and committee recommendations, accompanied by legislation incorporating such recommendations, to the session of the General Assembly commencing in January, 1970.

HOUSE MESSAGES CONSIDERED

Read first and second times and passed on file.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 10

By Reichardt

Concurrent resolution petitioning the Congress of the United States to amend the selective service laws of the United States to permit persons to fulfill their military obligations by serving on local police forces.

Whereas, The Selective Service Act of 1939, as amended, requires physically and mentally qualified men between the ages of eighteen and thirty-five years of age to stand ready to answer the call of the President of the United States to serve in the armed forces of the United States; and

Whereas, This requirement is justified by the rationale that each citizen who is able should devote a portion of his life to the defense and preservation of the society in which he lives and from which he derives the rights and privileges guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States; and

Whereas, The internal security and order of the United States is of essential and perhaps primary importance in maintaining the ability and the will to resist aggressors from without, as well as to insure the preservation of the processes of orderly, nonviolent, and constructive change from within, which are necessary to the principles of a free society; and

Whereas, A major portion of the responsibility for maintaining the internal security and order of the United States is borne by the individual law enforcement agencies established to serve the states, counties, cities, and towns throughout the nation; and

Whereas, Such local law enforcement agencies often experience great difficulty in attracting and retaining the qualified personnel required to properly perform the duties with which they are charged; and

Whereas, The insufficiencies of local law enforcement agencies are reflected, in part, by the increasing incidence of crime, riots, and internal disorders which have recently plagued the states and their political subdivisions throughout the nation; and

Whereas, There exists a need to attract larger numbers of qualified personnel to fill the ranks of such law enforcement agencies in order to assist in reversing the trend toward resolution of domestic injustice and conflict through violence; now, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives Concurring: That application is hereby made to the Congress of the United States urging amendment of the selective service laws to permit qualifying young men to fulfill their military obligation by serving as peace officers in local law enforcement agencies; and

Be It Further Resolved: That the proper officer of this state be and he is hereby directed to transmit copies of this application to the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States and to the several members of said bodies representing this state therein; and also to transmit copies thereof to the legislators of all other states of the United States.

Ordered passed on file.

Also:

MR. PRESIDENT: Your committee on judiciary, to which was referred House File 125, a bill for an act relating to judicial nominating commissions, begs leave to report it has had the same under consideration and recommends the same be amended as follows; and when so amended the bill do pass:

Amend House File 125 by striking all after the enacting clause and insert in lieu thereof the following:

Section 1. Section forty-six point one (46.1), Code 1966, is repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

"The governor shall appoint, subject to confirmation by the senate, one elector of each congressional district to the state judicial nominating commission for a six-year term beginning July 1. The terms of no more than three nor less than two of such members shall expire within the same two-year period. The governor shall within thirty days following the organization of each regular session of the general assembly, appoint for a like term, with approval of the senate, a successor to the member of the commission from a congressional district whose term of office will expire June 30 following."

Sec. 2. Section forty-six point two (46.2), Code 1966, is repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

"The resident members of the bar of each congressional district shall elect one elector of such district to the state judicial nominating commission for a six-year term beginning July 1. The terms of no more than three nor less than two of such members shall expire within the same two-year period, the expiration dates being governed by the expiration dates of the terms of the original appointive members. The members of the bar of the respective congressional districts shall in January, immediately preceding the expiration of the term of a member of the commission, elect a successor for a like term."

Sec. 3. Section forty-six point three (46.3), Code 1966, is repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

"The governor shall appoint five electors of each judicial district to the district judicial nominating commission for six-year terms. The terms of no more than two of such members shall expire within the same two-year period. Prior to expiration of each of said terms, the governor shall so appoint a successor for a like term."

Sec. 4. Section forty-six point four (46.4), Code 1966, is repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

"The resident members of the bar of each judicial district shall elect five electors of the district to the district judicial nominating commission for six-year terms. The terms of no more than two of such members shall expire within the same two-year period, the expiration dates being governed by the expiration date of the terms of the original appointive members. The members of the bar of the respective judicial districts shall, in January immediately preceding the expiration of the term of a member of the commission, elect a successor for a like term."

Sec. 5. The terms of members serving on state and district nominating commissions on the effective date of this Act shall not be affected by the passage of this Act."

LUCAS J. DeKOSTER, Chairman

Ordered passed on file.

Senator Kyhl submitted the following report:

MR. PRESIDENT: Your committee on law enforcement, to which was referred Senate File 175, a bill for an act relating to penalties for the commission of or the attempt to commit crimes when armed with firearms, begs leave to report it has had the same under consideration and recommends the same do pass.

JOURNAL OF THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER,
DES MOINES, IOWA, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1969.

The Senate met in regular session, President Jepsen presiding.

Prayer was offered by Reverend Harley Sampson, pastor of the Assembly of God Church, Tama, Iowa.

The Senate pledged allegiance to the flag.

Senator Frommelt raised a question on the validity of making Senate File 202 a special order, since the motion by Senator Stanley did not receive a two-thirds majority vote.

The Chair ruled that the substitute motion by Senator Stanley was a motion to postpone to a time certain and the Journal should be corrected to show that action on Senate File 202 was postponed until Friday, February 21, 1969, at 8:00 a.m.

The Journal of February 19, 1969, was approved as corrected.

PETITIONS

The following petitions were presented and placed on file:

By Senator Mowry, from thirty residents of Marshall County favoring stronger legislation on assault and battery, especially against young children, and stronger legislation and effective law enforcement against sex offenders and child molesters.

By Senator Curran, from twenty-six residents of Cerro Gordo County requesting funds be appropriated for an "escape proof" institution for sex offenders and child molesters.

VISITORS

Senator Hougen asked and received unanimous consent to record in the Senate Journal that twenty-two eleventh and twelfth grade students from the Malcom Price Laboratory School, University of Northern Iowa, visited the Senate, accompanied by Dr. Ross Nielsen, Director, Mr. Ferd Riechman, Mr. Charles Cacek, Mr. Don McCulley and Dr. Donald Scovel. Four of the students, Chris Browning, Joe Griffith, Barb Hanisch and Mary Kae Jepsen, presented their own plan for reapportionment of the General Assembly to the Senate committee on constitutional amendments and reapportionment.

INTRODUCTION OF BILL

Senator Lamborn took the chair at 9:50 a.m.

On motion of Senator Balloun, division 1 of the amendment was adopted.

Senator Balloun moved the adoption of division 2 of his amendment.

Division was called for.

Division 2 of the amendment was adopted.

Senator Balloun asked and received unanimous consent to withdraw the amendment filed February 19 and found on page 329 of the Senate Journal.

Senator Balloun moved that the bill be read a third time now, which motion prevailed, and the bill was read a third time.

On the question "Shall the bill pass?" (S.F. 33) the vote was:

Rule 8 was invoked.

JOURNAL OF THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER,
DES MOINES, IOWA, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1969.

The Senate met in regular session, President Jepsen presiding.

Prayer was offered by Reverend Wendell Debner, pastor of the Miller Lutheran Church, Garner, Iowa.

The Senate pledged allegiance to the flag.

Senator Gaudineer raised a point of order to the effect that since Senator Neu's motion that the vote by which Senate File 202 failed to pass the Senate be reconsidered and the motion to reconsider be laid on the table did not pass the Senate, the Journal should show the motion to reconsider still pending.

The Chair ruled that the motion commonly known as a double-barreled motion, to wit: That the vote by which a certain Senate File passed (or failed to pass) the Senate be reconsidered and the motion to reconsider be laid on the table, was a single motion, and that the Journal of February 21, 1969, was correct.

The Journal of February 21, 1969, was approved.

PETITIONS

The following petitions were presented and placed on file:

By Senator Parker, from sixty-four residents of Buchanan County opposing liberalization of the present divorce laws.

By Senator Reichardt, from thirty-two residents of Polk County favoring stricter legislation against sex offenders and child molesters.

By Senator Lamborn, from eighteen residents of Jones County favoring stricter legislation against sex offenders and child molesters and opposing the Great Plains plan for school reorganization.

The following Senators filed petitions favoring legislation to permit cooperation with federal agencies with respect to meat and poultry inspection:

Senator Conklin, from fifteen residents of Black Hawk County.

Senator Lamborn, from sixty-five residents of Jackson County.

Senator Lange, from forty-eight residents of Calhoun County.

Senator Hougen, from fourteen residents of Black Hawk County.

By Senator Denman, from one hundred five residents of Polk County favoring legislation to prevent persons charged with a felony from being eligible for pre-trial release.

VISITORS WELCOMED

President Jepsen welcomed to the Senate a group of students from Interstate 35 Community School, New Virginia, who were present in the balcony.

President Jepsen introduced to the Senate Barbara Wilkinson, Rotary Exchange Student from Melbourne, Australia, Celso Minniti, American Field Service Student from Sao Paulo, Brazil, and Brian Kuebler, American brother of Celso, all students from West Liberty High School, West Liberty, who were present in the balcony.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 12

By Shaff

Whereas, The voters of Iowa at the last general election approved an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Iowa, giving the Governor item veto power on appropriation bills; and

Whereas, The General Assembly should have an opportunity to reconsider any appropriation item vetoed by the Governor; and

Whereas, An orderly procedure for concluding the work of the General Assembly is desirable; now, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That the General Assembly recess at the conclusion of its session for a period of thirty days, at which time it will reconvene for the sole purpose of reconsidering any items vetoed by the Governor during the last three days of the session; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the members of the General Assembly receive no per diem pay during the period of such recess, and that the General Assembly limit the number of legislative employees during the recess and succeeding days to such persons deemed absolutely necessary to the proper functioning of the General Assembly.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE

In accordance with section 17A.10, Code 1966, the Legislative Departmental Rules Review Committees' rule changes have been received and referred to the appropriate committees of the Senate.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER

MR. PRESIDENT: I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate File 202 failed to pass the Senate.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Senator McGill asked and received unanimous consent that Senator Van Gilst be excused for the rest of the day because of illness.

Senator Stanley asked and received unanimous consent that Senator Flatt be excused for the rest of the day because of illness.

Senator Glenn offered the following amendment:

Amend Senate File 286 by adding the following sections thereto:

"Sec. 2. Amend section four hundred twenty-two point forty-five, (422.45), Code of Iowa, by adding thereto the following:

The sales tax due pursuant to the laws of the state shall be refunded by the licensee immediately at the point of purchase upon that part of the gross receipts from the sale in this state of food products for human consumption, off the premises of the retailer.

The words 'food products' shall mean and include cereals and cereal products, milk and milk products, oleomargarine, meat and meat products, fish and fish products, eggs and egg products, vegetables and vegetable products, fruit and fruit products, spices and salt, sugar and sugar products other than candy and confectionery, coffee and coffee substitutes, tea, cocoa and cocoa products other than candy and confectionery.

The words 'food products' shall neither mean nor include spirituous, malt or vinous liquors, soft drinks, sodas or beverages such as are ordinarily dispensed at taverns and soda fountains or in connection therewith, medicines, tonics, and preparations in liquid, powdered, granular, tablet, capsule, lozenge, and pill form sold as dietary supplements or adjuncts.

The words 'food products' also shall not include meals served on or off the premises of the retailer or drinks or foods furnished, prepared or served for the consumption at tables, chairs, or counters or from trays, glasses, dishes, or other tableware provided by the retailer.

Sec. 3. Amend section four hundred twenty-three point four (423.4), Code of Iowa, by adding thereto the following:

Tangible personal property, purchased for use or consumption in this state as food products for human consumption off the premises. The definitions of food or food products in section four hundred twenty-two point forty-five (422.45), Code of Iowa, as amended by this Act shall apply to this section."

Senator Rigler raised a point of order on the amendment for the reason that it was not germane to the bill.

The Chair ruled the point well taken and the amendment out of order.

Senator Lange moved that the bill be read a third time now, which motion prevailed, and the bill was read a third time.

On the question "Shall the bill pass?" (S.F. 286) the vote was:

Rule 8 was invoked.

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the Senate and the title was agreed to.

Senator Lange moved that the vote by which Senate File 286 passed the Senate be reconsidered and the motion to reconsider be laid on the table.

Senator Glenn called for a division of the motion.

President Jepsen ruled on the request for a division as follows:

With further reference to the so-called double barreled motion and my suggestion that the question could be divided, the Chair would like to call your attention to Senate Rule 13 which provides for division of a question; however, further study indicates that division of the double barreled motion would result in putting the Senator making the motion in a position of presenting a motion that would be the opposite of his original desire, i.e., to prevent the filing of a reconsideration motion".

I have also referred to Mason's Manual and while I recognize that the Senate has not adopted Mason's as a guide, yet I feel that it is permissible to use this Manual as a supplement. In Mason's, submission of double motions is discussed in Section 163. I would like to quote from lines 11 and 12 of that section referring to double motions:

"These are in effect single motions."

As a result of this research, I would rule that the double barreled motion is in effect a single motion and division will not be permitted.

President Jepsen further ruled as follows:

The Chair would call your attention to the footnote on the bottom of page 157 of Robert's Rules of Order. The Chair feels that the precedent established by Congress in considering this as a single motion is in keeping with the tradition that has been established in handling this motion in the Senate.

"If the latter motion is adopted the reconsideration is dead and the bill is in the same condition as if the reconsideration had been voted on and lost."

Since the affirmative of this is as the rule states only the result of the adoption of this motion, it is apparent that the loss of the motion would result in the reconsideration being kept alive; and, consequently, a motion to reconsider can be filed at any time in accordance with the rules.

The motion prevailed.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 18

By Smith

Whereas, Recent decisions of the Supreme Court have construed the Fourteenth Amendment as requiring that the seats of both houses of a state legislature must be apportioned on a population basis with representatives selected from districts of as nearly equal population as practicable; and

Whereas, Since the founding of this country it has been customary for the states, and in accord with the structure of the Congress under the Constitution, to consider factors other than population alone in the apportionment of seats in one house of their respective legislative bodies;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, of the Sixty-third General Assembly of Iowa, That this legislature respectfully applies to the Congress of the United States to call a convention for the purpose of proposing the following article as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

"Article —

"Section 1. Nothing in this Constitution shall prohibit any state which shall have a bicameral legislature from apportioning the membership of one house of such legislature on factors other than population, provided that the plan of such apportionment shall have been submitted to and approved by a vote of the electorate of that state.

Sec. 2. Nothing in this Constitution shall restrict or limit a state in its determination of how membership of governing bodies of its subordinate units shall be apportioned.

Sec. 3. This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several states within seven years from the date of its submission to the states by the Congress."

Be It Further Resolved, That if Congress shall have proposed an amendment to the Constitution identical with that contained in this resolution prior to June 1, 1969, this application for a convention shall no longer be of any force or effect.

Be It Further Resolved, That a duly attested copy of this resolution be immediately transmitted to the Secretary of the Senate of the United States, the Clerk of the House of Representatives of the United States and to each member of the Congress from this state.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY RULES COMMITTEE

In consideration of the large number of proposed bills that have accumulated in Legislative Research, the rules committee interprets Rule 22 as follows:

All proposed bills ready for drafting, accompanied by the green bill request form properly signed and initialed by the Secretary of the Senate, will be accepted for introduction, provided they are initialed by the Secretary of the Senate prior to 4:00 p.m. on February 28, 1969.

SPECIAL ORDER

Senator Stanley asked and received unanimous consent that Senate File 295 be made a special order of business for Friday, February 28, 1969, at 9:10 a.m.

CALL OF THE SENATE

Senate File 202

The Chair announced that the following Call of the Senate had been filed at the desk:

MR. PRESIDENT: Pursuant to Rule 5 of the Temporary Rules of the Senate of the Sixty-third General Assembly, we, the undersigned, do hereby request a Call of the Senate on Senate File 202 and all amendments thereto.

EUGENE M. HILL
JAMES F. SCHABEN
CLIFTON C. LAMBORN
ANDREW FROMMELT
C. JOSEPH COLEMAN
CHARLES K. SULLIVAN
JOHN M. WALSH
ARTHUR A. NEU

A. J. ERSKINE
J. LESLIE LEONARD
LESLIE C. KLINK
CHARLES G. MOGGED
WALTER B. HAMMER
WILLIAM D. PALMER
CHARLES BALLOUN

Senator Stanley asked and received unanimous consent that Senators Flatt and Van Gilst be excused from the Call of the Senate.

The Chair directed the Secretary to call the roll.

Roll call revealed all members present with the exception of Senators Flatt and Van Gilst.

Senator Lamborn moved that the motion to reconsider the vote by which Senate File 202 failed to pass the Senate filed by Senator Griffin on February 24, 1969, be laid on the table.

Senator Rigler raised a point of order for the reason that the motion had been discussed before being made.

The Chair ruled the point well taken and that Senator Lamborn was out of order.

Senator Lamborn renewed his motion to lay the Griffin motion on the table.

Senator Lucken moved that the Griffin motion to reconsider the vote by which Senate File 202 failed to pass the Senate be laid on the table.

The Chair requested that the Senators put their motions in writing and file them at the desk.

Senator Denman asked if he would be in order to move to defer action on the motion until the full Senate was present.

The Chair ruled that a motion to defer would not be in order.

The Chair ruled the Lamborn motion out of order.

Senator Lucken filed the following motion at the desk:

MR. PRESIDENT: I move that the Griffin motion to reconsider the vote by which Senate File 202 failed to pass the Senate be laid on the table.

J. HENRY LUCKEN

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

The time having arrived, the Chair announced the special order of business for the consideration of House File 49.

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

House File 49

On motion of Senator Lisle, House File 49, a bill for an act relating to the Iowa development commission membership, with report of committee recommending passage, was taken up, considered and the report of the committee adopted.

Senator Lisle moved that the bill be read a third time now, which motion prevailed, and the bill was read a third time.

On the question "Shall the bill pass?" (H.F. 49) the vote was:

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the Senate and the title was agreed to.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Senate File 202

The Chair ruled that the Shirley motion to reconsider the Neu motion to reconsider the vote by which Senate File 202 failed to pass the Senate and the motion to reconsider be laid on the table failed to be adopted, be reconsidered was out of order, and cited the following excerpts from Robert's Rules of Order:

1. Page 158, lines 22 to 27—"In accordance with these principles, votes on the following motions cannot be reconsidered—"Lay on the Table and Reconsideration."

2. Further emphasis to this decision is given on page 158, Robert's Rules, lines 5, 6 and 7. "No question can be twice reconsidered unless it was materially amended after its first reconsideration."

3. Page 107, lines 6 and 7—"A vote on laying on the table cannot be reconsidered."

Senator Glenn asked unanimous consent that the rules be suspended and that prior to putting the vote on his motion to reconsider Senate File 202 Senator Griffin be allowed to explain his motion.

Objection was raised.

Senator Glenn moved that the rules be suspended for the purpose of allowing Senator Griffin to make any remarks he cares to make in regard to this motion before putting the motion.

Division was called for.

The motion was lost.

Senator Mowry raised a point of order that the Griffin motion was never called up.

The Chair ruled that the motion was in order since it is on the calendar under unfinished business.

Senator Stanley asked unanimous consent that before the vote is taken on the motion to reconsider the vote by which Senate File 202 failed to pass, Senator Griffin be allowed to speak briefly on his motion.

Objection was raised.

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

The time having arrived, the Chair announced the special order of business for the consideration of Senate File 135.

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

Senate File 135

On motion of Senator Potgeter, Senate File 135, a bill for an act relating to corporations organized pursuant to the Iowa Economic Development Act, with report of committee recommending amendment and passage, was taken up, considered, and the report of the committee adopted.

The following committee amendment was considered:

Amend Senate File 135 as follows:

1. Amend page 2 by striking all of lines 20 through 25 and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"This act being deemed of immediate importance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and publication in the Hardin County Index, a newspaper published at Eldora, Iowa, and in the Charles City Press, a newspaper published at Charles City, Iowa."

The amendment was adopted.

Senator Potgeter asked and received unanimous consent to withdraw the following amendment filed February 24:

Amend Senate File 135 by striking from page 1, line 5, the word "section" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "subsection".

Senator Potgeter offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend Senate File 135 as follows:

1. By striking from page 1, line 5, the following: "section two (2)".
2. By inserting in page 1, line 7, immediately preceding the word "and" the following: "of subsection two (2)".
3. By inserting in page 1, line 12, immediately preceding the word "and" the following: "of subsection two (2)".

The amendment was adopted.

Senator Potgeter offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend Senate File 135 as follows:

1. Amend page 1, line 10, by striking the words "from both" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "both from".
2. Amend page 2, line 19, by inserting before the word "shall" the words "of the Code".

The amendment was adopted.

Senator Potgeter moved that the bill be read a third time now, which motion prevailed, and the bill was read a third time.

On the question "Shall the bill pass?" (S.F. 135) the vote was:

Ayes, 58:

Anderson	Frey	Leonard	Potgeter
Arbuckle	Frommelt	Lisle	Potter

CARROLL A. LANE
Secretary of the Senate

SENATE RESOLUTION 2

By Glenn, Leonard and Dodds

Whereas, The sales tax works the greatest hardship on low and moderate income groups of taxpayers;

Whereas, The General Assembly has repealed the sales tax credit for future years;

Whereas, The power to tax can be the power to destroy and low to moderate income groups are already heavily burdened with state, federal and local taxes;

Whereas, There is urgent necessity for a review and adjustment of the existing tax structure with the purpose of providing relief to low and moderate income groups;

Be It Resolved, That the Sixty-third General Assembly of Iowa establish a joint citizens and legislative tax study committee composed of twelve (12) members appointed by the Lieutenant Governor and Speaker of the House to study the feasibility of exempting food, clothing and drugs for medicinal purposes from the sales tax and recommend greater use of the graduated income tax, and to report back with its recommendations sixty (60) days prior to convening of the General Assembly in 1970.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

Senator Walsh submitted the following report:

MR. PRESIDENT: Your committee on cities and towns, to which was referred Senate File 178, a bill for an act relating to annual readjustment of pensions, pension payments and pension benefits for disabled and retired firemen and policemen, begs leave to report it has had the same under consideration and recommends the same do pass.

JOHN M. WALSH, Chairman

Senator Rigler submitted the following report:

MR. PRESIDENT: Your committee on commerce, to which was referred Senate File 140, a bill for an act relating to savings and loan associations, begs leave to report it has had the same under consideration and recommends the same be amended as follows; and when so amended the bill do pass:

Amend Senate File 140 by striking all of section one (1) and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

Section 1. Section five hundred thirty-four point nineteen (534.19), Code 1966, is hereby amended by adding the following new subsection:

"A savings and loan association operating under this chapter may make the determination to operate in a manner similar to federally chartered savings and loan associations insofar as the use of the 'deposit' and 'interest' terminology is concerned and such other powers as have been authorized for such federally chartered association under the Home Owners Loan Act of 1933 as amended to March 1, 1969 and specifically as amended by Public Law 90-448S-3496 and as permitted under Rules and Regulations of the Federal Home Loan Bank System and the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, issued under such Act as amended to March 1, 1969 and under such law to the extent that similar rules and regulations have been adopted by the supervisor of savings and loan associations and have been filed with the secretary of state. Any such additional powers shall not become effective until July 1, 1969. This paragraph is not intended to diminish nor restrict the powers otherwise granted to such associations by the laws of Iowa prior to the effective date of this Act, nor shall the adoption and filing of such rules or regulations by the supervisor in any way diminish or restrict the rights of associations which do not make the above determination and which do not desire to change their operation under the provisions above contained in this paragraph."

Further amend Senate File 140 by striking all of section two (2) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Sec. 2. Section five hundred thirty-four point eight (534.8), Code 1966, is hereby amended by adding the following new subsection:

"Any association operating under this chapter shall have the power to indemnify any present or former director, officer or employee in the manner and in the instances authorized in subsections one (1), two (2), three (3) and four (4) of section two (2), chapter three hundred sixty-three (363), Acts of the Sixty-second General Assembly."

Further amend Senate File 140 by striking all of lines twenty-nine (29) through thirty-one (31) of page two (2).

Further amend Senate File 140 by striking lines twenty-two (22) through twenty-nine (29) of page three (3) and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

"5. By adding the following new subsection: "

Further amend Senate File 140 by striking in line four (4), page four (4), the word "loan" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "loans".

Further amend Senate File 140 by striking in page four (4), line eleven (11), the word "interests" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "interest".

Sec. 6. Section five hundred thirty-four point nineteen (534.19), subsection thirteen (13), Code 1966, is hereby amended by adding the following thereto:

"In addition to the above unsecured or secured borrowing, an association may issue such notes, bonds, debentures and other obligations or securities, except capital stock, as is approved by the supervisor of savings and loan associations, and if authorized by the regulations of the Federal Home Loan Bank, as long as the total amount of funds borrowed under this sentence shall not exceed five percent of the withdrawable accounts of the association and provided that such obligations and securities shall be subject to the priority of the rights of the owners and deposits of said association."

47 surance business for any company or association that shall, as 48 insurer, provide insurance coverages of the kind referred to in 49 this Act, shall be subject to chapter five hundred twenty-two
50 (522), and section five hundred fifteen point fifty-two (515.52)
51 of the Code."

KENNETH BENDA

1 Amend Senate File 123 by striking everything after the enacting
2 clause and substituting the following in lieu thereof:

3 "Section 1. Wherever used in this Act:

4 1. 'Publicly supported educational institution'
5 means and includes any university, college, junior college,
6 area community college, school, academy or any other institution
7 of learning which derives all or any part of its financial 8 support from public sources.

9 2. 'President' means and includes the president or 10 superintendent, or if there be no president or superintendent,
11 or if the president or superintendent is absent or disabled,
12 that person in actual operating charge of any publicly supported
13 educational institution.

14 3. 'Student' means any person enrolled in any class
15 or course of the institution or who is a candidate for any 16 credit or degree therefrom.

17 "Sec. 2. Whenever the president of any publicly supported
18 educational institution has reason to believe that any student 19 at such institution has engaged or attempted to engage in any 20 riot, public disorder, strike, destruction of property of any 21 publicly supported educational institution, seizure of con-
22 trol of such property from the persons in lawful possession
23 thereof, or prevention of access to such property, and that
24 any of such acts shall have occurred on or about the premises
25 of any publicly supported educational institution, he shall 26 forthwith suspend such student from all classes and activities.

27 "Sec. 3. Upon suspending any student, the president

28 shall immediately notify said student, and his parent or 29 guardian if he be a minor or under any legal disability, in 30 writing, containing a statement of the specific charges and 31 grounds for the suspension, that the student may appear and 32 show cause, if any he has, why he should not be suspended or 33 permanently expelled from the institution. Such notice shall 34 be sent by ordinary mail addressed to the student at his 35 last known local address and also to his last known legal 36 residence. If the student is a minor or under any legal 37 disability, a copy of said notice shall also be mailed, by 38 ordinary mail, to his parent or guardian.

39 "Sec. 4. Upon request from the student or his parent or 40 guardian, the president shall afford an opportunity for hear-
41 ing before said president or the person or persons designated
42 by the president, as trier of fact, at the earliest prac-
43 ticable time, but in any event within twenty days after 44 receipt of such request. Upon such hearing the said trier
45 of fact may administer oaths and issue subpoenas for the 46 attendance of witnesses and the production of relevant evi-
47 dence, and the student or his parent or guardian, as the 48 case may be, or the attorney for any of them, may cross-
49 examine the witnesses and present evidence in defense of 50 the student. The trier of fact shall make findings and con-
51 clusions and shall affirm, modify or rescind the suspension
52 or permanently expel said student.

53 "Sec. 5. Any student, parent or guardian, as the case
54 may be, shall have a right to petition the district court in 55 the county wherein the institution is situated to review
56 the decision in said court on notice to the president in 57 accordance with the rules of civil procedure for the commence-
58 ment of an original action. Such appeal shall be heard de
59 novo by a judge of said court, whose order affirming, modify-
60 ing or rescinding the decision of suspension or expulsion
61 shall be final. Said district court's final order shall be 62 subject to appeal to the Supreme Court in accordance with 63 the rules of civil procedure.

64 "Sec. 6. Pending the hearing or the review or appeal
65 in any court, the suspension or expulsion, as the case may 66 be, shall remain in effect and the student shall not be per-
67 mitted to attend class or other activities of the institution.

68 "Sec. 7. Nothing herein shall be construed to limit the 69 president or any publicly supported educational institution
70 from suspending or expelling a student for other reasons,
71 grounds or good cause, under the rules of the institution,
72 whether said reasons, grounds or good cause, be more or less
73 offensive or disruptive than those set forth herein.

74 "Sec. 8. It shall be unlawful for any person to accept 75 or hold any office, job or position of employment with any 76 publicly supported educational institution if the employee
77 has engaged or attempted to engage in any of the acts set 78 forth in section 2 as grounds for suspension of a student, and 79 any employee violating this provision shall be summarily dis-
80 missed by the president, anything in the merit system law to 81 the contrary notwithstanding.

82 "Sec. 9. If the president knowingly fails and neglects
83 to perform any of the duties imposed upon him by this act,

84 he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor."

85 Amend the title by striking everything after the words

86 "An Act relating to" and adding thereto the following:

87 "conduct for which a student or employee may be suspended,

88 expelled or dismissed from a publicly supported educational

89 institution, and the notice and hearing required in connection

90 with the suspension or expulsion of a student, and to make

91 it a misdemeanor for the president of the institution to 92 knowingly fail to perform the duties imposed upon him hereunder."

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

The time having arrived, the Chair announced the special order of business for the consideration of Senate File 295.

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

Senate File 295

On motion of Senator Flatt, Senate File 295, a bill for an act to provide tuition grants, based upon financial need, to full-time resident students attending accredited private institutions of higher education in Iowa, was taken up and considered.

Senator Nicholson offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend Senate File 295 as follows:

1. Amend page 1, section 1, line 12, by inserting after the word "confidential" the following: ", notarized".
2. Amend page 3, section 7, line 9, by inserting after the word "confidential" the following: ", notarized".

Division was called for.

The amendment was lost.

Senator Glenn moved to suspend the rules and to take up out of order the amendment filed by him amending the title to Senate File 295.

Senator Lodwick raised a point of order as to whether or not the motion was debatable.

The Chair ruled the motion was not debatable.

Senator Glenn asked and received unanimous consent that he be allocated a maximum of five minutes to speak on his motion, and that Senator Stanley be allocated not to exceed five minutes for the purpose of addressing himself to this point prior to putting the motion.

Roll call was requested.

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

Senate File 314

On motion of Senator Flatt, Senate File 314, a bill for an act to appropriate administration and educational and training aid funds from the general fund of the state to the department of public instruction for the biennium beginning July 1, 1969, and ending June 30, 1971, was taken up and considered.

Senator Flatt asked and received unanimous consent that House File 368 be substituted for Senate File 314.

House File 368

On motion of Senator Flatt, House File 368, a bill for an act to appropriate administration and educational and training aid funds from the general fund of the state to the department of public instruction for the biennium beginning July 1, 1969, and ending June 30, 1971, was taken up and considered.

Senator Shirley offered the following amendment, filed February 28 by Senators Shirley and Gaudineer, and called for a division of the amendment:

Amend House File 368 as follows:

1. By striking in line 19, page 2, the figures, "112" and by inserting in lieu thereof the figures, "121".
2. By striking in line 20, page 2, the figures, "115" and by inserting in lieu thereof the figures, "129".
3. By striking in line 21, page 2, the figures, "227" and by inserting in lieu thereof the figures, "250".

Senator Gaudineer moved the adoption of division 1 of the amendment and requested a roll call.

On the question "Shall division 1 of the amendment be adopted?" (H.F. 368) the vote was:

Rule 8 was invoked.

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the Senate and the title was agreed to.

Senator Flatt asked and received unanimous consent that Senate File 314 be withdrawn from further consideration of the Senate.

Senator Stanley moved that the vote by which House File 368 passed the Senate be reconsidered and the motion to reconsider be laid on the table, which motion prevailed.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

I voted against House File 368 because same is premature. The subject should be considered later when tax revenues are more definite. This bill is inadequate and will mean an indirect millage increase on real property.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 14

By Shaff, Clarke, Rigler, Klink, Nicholson, Smith, Lange,
Griffin, Lodwick, Parker, Platt, Kosek, DeHart, Keith,
Walsh, Potgeter, Arbuckle, Balloun, Benda, Messerly,
Sullivan, DeKoster, Conklin, Potter and Curran

Whereas, The federal government has for many years been returning funds to the states by grants-in-aid programs with conditions attached, and

Whereas, In far too many cases such categorical, specialized federal grants have failed to accomplish their objectives and have been very wasteful, and

Whereas, States and local governments can resolve a great many of society's problems if they have adequate resources, and

Whereas, The federal government has usurped the most productive tax resources of the states by federal income taxes, excise taxes, and others of the same kind, leaving to the states only inadequate sources of revenue, and

Whereas, Much of the failure of the federal grants-in-aid programs has been because such programs ignore local conditions such as transportation, education, and skills of workers, and other conditions of the same kind, which further complicates a problem which may be readily solved in one area but only compounded in another, and

Whereas, If the federal government returns to the states a flat percentage of federal taxes collected from each state without any conditions attached except, perhaps, bloc grants may be specifically earmarked for general categories such as education, Now, Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That the General Assembly of the State of Iowa urge the Congress of the United States to inaugurate a program of tax-sharing with the states whereby the state and local governments may receive the necessary financial resources to solve local problems unhampered by restrictions imposed by persons not familiar with the particulars involved in each community.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to each member of the Iowa Congressional delegation.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

I voted "No" on House File 368 because the amount appropriated falls short of the percentage now paid by the state to the local school districts. Rather than lowering the percentage of the state's share to the local districts, the Sixty-third General Assembly should have increased it to avoid a property tax increase at the local level.

MINNETTE DODERER

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

I voted against and hereby protest the action of the Senate in passing House File 368 for the following reasons:

This bill falls short of the promised 36 percent of school aid initiated in the 62nd General Assembly designed to provide equal educational opportunity to all children attending public schools.

The bill violates the political platform of the Republican Party which reads as follows:

"We endorse the principal and the substantial increase made in state financial aid to local public education. We urge that the present objective of state aid equal to forty percent of local school costs be pursued and that proceeds from recent tax increases be pledged to this objective."

House File 368 violates the Republican plank on education by reducing the present 36 percent to 29.6 percent of local school costs in spite of the Republican pledge to move to 40 percent.

House File 368 violates the Republican plank, which pledges the proceeds of the new taxes passed last session for school aid, by diverting said revenue to other purposes which will result in an automatic property tax increase of two mills in the first year and three and one-half mills in the second year.

By failing to appropriate the amount sufficient to maintain at least 36 percent the aid falls far short of guaranteeing equal educational opportunity for all children in public education.

House File 368 has another glaring shortcoming. It appropriates funds for aid but the formula by which this aid is to be distributed fails to take into account the pupils in a district attending private schools, not for the purpose of aid to those students, but for the purpose of determining the wealth of the district. Failure to correct this shortcoming results in rank discrimination to those taxpayers residing in school districts in which students are attending private schools.

ANDREW G. FROMMELT

4 the State of Iowa that the promotion or advancement of 5 legislative goals by special interest groups or organiza-
6 tions through the use of paid lobbyists in contacting members
7 of the General Assembly and providing gratuities to said
8 members in the form of food, drink or other pleasure has 9 a pernicious and detrimental effect upon the full, fair and 10 independent consideration of proposed legislation upon its 11 merits. It is further declared the policy of the State of 12 Iowa that the undue influence exercised by lobbyists in the 13 consideration and disposition of proposed legislation by 14 members of the General Assembly should be abolished, prohibited
15 and terminated.

- 16 1. "Lobbying" defined. As used herein, "lobbying" is 17 the promotion or advancement for pay or other consideration
18 of particular legislative proposals, programs or goals by 19 individuals, organizations and private interest groups with 20 members of the General Assembly. As defined herein, "lobbying"

21 shall not include contacts or communications by individuals
22 who are not receiving pay or other consideration for such 23 purposes, nor shall it include representatives of a political 24 party. Nothing herein shall be deemed to exclude or prohibit 25 the public expression of opinion by any individual, organization
26 or private interest group.

27 2. Punishment. Every person who engages or partici-
28 pates in the act of "lobbying" as defined in this Act shall 29 be imprisoned in the county jail not more than one year,
30 or be fined not exceeding one thousand dollars.

Senate File 39

On motion of Senator Messerly, Senate File 39, a bill for an act relating to incorporation of a municipality in an urbanized area within three miles of a city over fifteen thousand population, was taken up for further consideration.

Senator Gaudineer asked and received unanimous consent to withdraw the following amendment:

Amend Senate File 39 as follows:

1. By inserting in line 15, after the word, "area" the words, "of at least three thousand (3,000) population, contiguous to and".
2. By inserting in line 19, after the word, "within" the word, "such".

Senator Gaudineer offered the following amendment:

Amend Senate File 39 as follows:

1. By inserting in line 15 after the word, "area" the words, "contiguous to and".

2. By inserting in line 21 after the word, "petition" the following:

"Thereafter the petition for annexation of any such urbanized area shall in addition to the other requirements of law state the number of inhabitants within the territory to be incorporated and that such inhabitants need substantial additional services and benefits not theretofore enjoyed by such territory and inhabitants, but which could be reasonably provided by an incorporated city or town. If the court thereafter upon hearing, after reasonable notice prescribed by it has been given to the other inhabitants of the proposed incorporated area, finds that there is an affirmative showing that there is a sufficient number of inhabitants within the proposed incorporated area needing substantial additional services and benefits not theretofore enjoyed by such territory and inhabitants but which could be reasonably provided by an incorporated city or town, commissioners shall be appointed as provided in section three hundred sixty-two point five (362.5), of the Code.

Senator Gaudineer offered the following amendment to his amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend the Gaudineer amendment to Senate File 39 by striking in line 6 the word "annexation" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "incorporation".

The amendment to the amendment was adopted.

Senator Gaudineer moved the adoption of his amendment as amended.

Division was called for.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 16

By Lodwick, Arbuckle, Benda, Conklin, DeHart, DeKoster, Flatt, Griffin, Keith, Kosek, Potgeter, Potter,
Sullivan, Thordsen, Walsh and Stanley

Whereas, The voters of Iowa at the last general election approved an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Iowa, granting to municipal corporations "home rule power and authority not inconsistent with the laws of the General Assembly; to determine their local affairs and government, except that they shall not have the power to levy any tax unless expressly authorized by the General Assembly"; and

Whereas, Iowa had for many years prior to the adoption of that amendment to the state Constitution followed the rule or proposition of law that a municipal corporation possesses and can exercise only those powers granted in express words, and many of the state's laws relating to municipal corporations reflect the philosophy of that rule or proposition of law; and

Whereas, Such laws should be reviewed and consideration given to the possible need for revision to reflect the "home rule" amendment to the state Constitution; Now, Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That the Legislative Research Committee, its successor agency, or an appropriate standing committee, be directed to conduct, during the interim, a study of the laws of this state which relate to the powers, duties, and functions of, and limitations upon, municipal corporations, particularly cities and towns, with the objective of identifying those statutes which should be revised or repealed, and suggesting any new statutes which appear necessary, in order to properly implement the "home rule" amendment to the Constitution of the State of Iowa.

Be It Further Resolved, That the Legislative Research Committee, or the successor agency thereto or standing committees conducting the study, establish a study committee having as members both legislators and other interested citizens of the state who have particular knowledge and experience in the area of municipal government.

Be It Further Resolved, That a report of the study findings and recommendations, accompanied by bills incorporating such recommendations, be submitted to the 1970 session of the General Assembly.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 17

By Briles, Griffin, Stephens, Lucken, Clarke, Balloun,
Mowry, Flatt, Lisle, Van Gilst, Hill, Klink, Thordsen,
Curran, Frey, McGill, Parker, Potgeter, Lamborn,
Giley, Rigler, Shaff, Ollenburg and Anderson

Whereas, Apportionment of the Iowa General Assembly and Congressmen is based on the United States Census, and allocations of federal aid are based on population formulae, it is imperative that people be counted in their home residence; and

Whereas, It appears that the present statutory rules for taking the United States Census are very broad and administrative rules decree that servicemen overseas are not included in the count at all; and servicemen in the United States are counted where they are stationed and college students are counted where they attend college and not in the county of their home residence; and

Whereas, It appears that these persons should be counted at their place of home residence in order to fairly apportion legislatures and members of Congress, and to insure fairness in allocation of federal funds; Now, Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring: That we request the Congress of the United States to give serious consideration to enacting a statute to insure that persons are counted in their home residence in the forthcoming United States Census; and

Be It Further Resolved: That the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Iowa members of the Senate and the House of Representatives of the United States and to the Secretary of Commerce of the United States.

On motion of Senator O'Malley, House File 125, a bill for an act relating to judicial nominating commissions, with report of committee recommending amendment and passage, was taken up, considered, and the report of the committee adopted.

The following committee amendment was considered:

Amend House File 125 by striking all after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Section 1. Section forty-six point one (46.1), Code 1966, is repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

"The governor shall appoint, subject to confirmation by the senate, one elector of each congressional district to the state judicial nominating commission for a six-year term beginning July 1. The terms of no more than three nor less than two of such members shall expire within the same two-year period. The governor shall within thirty days following the organization of each regular session of the general assembly, appoint for a like term, with approval of the senate, a successor to the member of the commission from a congressional district whose term of office will expire June 30 following."

Sec. 2. Section forty-six point two (46.2), Code 1966, is repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

"The resident members of the bar of each congressional district shall elect one elector of such district to the state judicial nominating commission for a six-year term beginning July 1. The terms of no more than three nor less than two of such members shall expire within the same two-year period, the expiration dates being governed by the expiration dates of the terms of the original appointive members. The members of the bar of the respective congressional districts shall in January, immediately preceding the expiration of the term of a member of the commission, elect a successor for a like term."

Sec. 3. Section forty-six point three (46.3), Code 1966, is repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

"The governor shall appoint five electors of each judicial district to the district judicial nominating commission for six-year terms. The terms of no more than two of such members shall expire within the same two-year period. Prior to expiration of each of said terms, the governor shall so appoint a successor for a like term."

Sec. 4. Section forty-six point four (46.4), Code 1966, is repealed and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

"The resident members of the bar of each judicial district shall elect five electors of the district to the district judicial nominating commission for six-year terms. The terms of no more than two of such members shall expire within the same two-year period, the expiration dates being governed by the expiration date of the terms of the original appointive members. The members of the bar of the respective judicial districts shall, in January immediately preceding the expiration of the term of a member of the commission, elect a successor for a like term."

Sec. 5. The terms of members serving on state and district nominating commissions on the effective date of this Act shall not be affected by the passage of this Act."

On motion of Senator O'Malley, the amendment was adopted.

Senator O'Malley moved that the bill be read a third time now, which motion prevailed, and the bill was read a third time.

ADOPTION OF PROCEDURE FOR STEERING COMMITTEE

Senator Stanley moved the adoption of the following procedure with regard to the steering committee:

1. Beginning Monday, March 17, 1969, all bills and resolutions on the calendar shall be subject to the steering committee, except that the following are exempted from the steering committee's jurisdiction: bills and resolutions sponsored by the appropriations committee or the ways and means committee; legislative reapportionment bills sponsored by the constitutional amendments and reapportionment committee; unfinished business; and special orders.

2. The steering committee shall prepare a steering committee calendar. Only bills and resolutions on the Senate calendar shall be eligible for the steering committee calendar.

3. The steering committee calendar shall have priority over the regular calendar. At any time when there are no bills or resolutions on the steering committee calendar, bills and resolutions on the regular calendar shall be eligible for consideration.

4. The steering committee shall adopt its own rules. However, the number of votes required to place a bill or resolution on the steering committee calendar shall not exceed two-thirds of the number of members of the steering committee.

The motion prevailed and the procedure for the steering committee was adopted.

ADOPTION OF PROCEDURE FOR THE NONCONTROVERSIAL CALENDAR

Senator Stanley moved that the following procedure be adopted for the noncontroversial calendar:

1. Any Senator desiring to place a bill or resolution on the noncontroversial calendar shall submit a written request, with a copy of the bill or resolution attached, to the Majority Leader, Senator Stanley, or the Minority Leader, Senator Frommelt. The request should be submitted not later than 12:00 o'clock noon on Tuesday in order to be considered that week for the noncontroversial calendar.

2. The Majority Leader and Minority Leader shall prepare a proposed noncontroversial calendar at least once a week and more often if deemed advisable. Only bills and resolutions on the Senate calendar shall be eligible.

3. The proposed noncontroversial calendar shall be printed in the Senate calendar, with a statement of the deadline for striking bills and resolutions from the proposed noncontroversial calendar.

4. Any Senator may strike a bill or resolution from the proposed noncontroversial calendar by written request to the Secretary of the Senate, on the same day it first appears in the Senate calendar or not later than 12:00 o'clock noon on the following legislative day.

5. After the deadline for striking has expired, the remaining bills and resolutions on the proposed noncontroversial calendar shall be placed on the noncontroversial calendar and removed from the regular calendar. They shall be eligible for consideration on the legislative day after the deadline for striking. A bill or resolution may be stricken from the noncontroversial calendar only by action of the Senate. If stricken, it shall be restored to its former place on the Senate calendar.

6. Bills and resolutions on the noncontroversial calendar may be called up when directed by the president of the Senate or by the Senate.

The motion prevailed and the procedure for the noncontroversial calendar was adopted.

On motion of Senator Stanley, the Senate recessed until 3:00 p.m.

- 1 Amend Senate File 91 by adding a new section at the end thereof
- 2 as follows:
- 3 "Section one hundred fifty-one point six (151.6), Code
- 4 1966, is amended by adding at the end thereof, a new paragraph
- 5 as follows: No person licensed under section one hundred fifty-
- 6 one point three (151.3) of the Code shall advertise in any
- 7 manner various ailments which can be treated or cured by the
- 8 practice of chiropractic. He may publish his name, his
- 9 telephone number, address, and state that he is a licensed
- 10 chiropractor."

CHESTER HOUGEN

- 1 Amend Senate File 175 by striking all after the enacting
- 2 clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:
- 3 Section 1. As used in this Act, the term "firearm" means
- 4 any pistol, revolver, rifle, shotgun, machine gun, automatic
- 5 and semiautomatic rifle, or other firearm as the term is com-
- 6 monly used, or any gun, device or instrument in the nature of
- 7 a weapon from which may be fired or ejected any solid projec-
- 8 tile, ball, slug, pellet, missile, or bullet.
- 9 It shall also include, without limitation, any firearm which
- 10 is in the nature of any air gun, spring gun or pistol, carbon
- 11 dioxide or compressed air gun or pistol, or other weapon of a
- 12 similar nature in which the propelling force is a spring,
- 13 elastic band, carbon dioxide, compressed or other gas or vapor,
- 14 air or compressed air, or is ignited by compressed air, and
- 15 ejecting a bullet or missile smaller than three-eighths of an
- 16 inch in diameter, with sufficient force to injure the person.
- 17 Sec. 2. Any person who commits or attempts to commit an
- 18 assault, robbery, larceny of property exceeding twenty dollars
- 19 in value, burglary, breaking and entering, rape, murder, may-

20 hem, arson, extortion, kidnapping, sodomy or escape from legal 21 custody, when armed with or having in his possession any fire-
22 arm, whether or not capable of being discharged, or any other
23 object or device, whether toy or imitation, having an appear-24 ance similar to or capable of being mistaken for a firearm, or 25 has a confederate aiding and abetting him in any one of said
26 crimes, present and armed with or having in his possession
27 any such firearm, object or device, shall be guilty of a
28 public offense separate and distinct from the crimes hereto-
29 fore enumerated in this section, and shall, in addition to 30 the punishment provided for that crime, be punished on a first 31 conviction by imprisonment in the penitentiary for not more 32 than five years; upon a second conviction by imprisonment in 33 the penitentiary for ten years; upon a third conviction by 34 imprisonment in the penitentiary for twenty years; and upon a
35 fourth or subsequent conviction, by imprisonment in the peni-
36 tentiary for life. No such additional punishment shall be 37 imposed unless the indictment shall have alleged that the 38 person was armed with or had a firearm in his possession and 39 conviction was had thereon.

40 Sec. 3. A person sentenced as provided in section two (2)
41 of this Act shall not be granted probation and the sentence
42 required to be imposed shall not be suspended for any reason
43 by the trial court or any other court. Said sentence shall be 44 served in full by such person with reduction for good be-
45 havior and the person so serving the same shall not otherwise
46 be eligible for parole, except upon a sentence for a first 47 conviction under section two (2) of this Act.

WILLIAM REICHARDT

1 Amend Senate File 248 by striking all after the
2 enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

3 Section 1. Section six hundred ninety-eight point
4 one (698.1), Code 1966, is amended by adding the following at 5 the end thereof:

6 "However, any person eighteen years of age or older
7 who commits or attempts to commit a violation of this section
8 with or upon any female child under the age of fourteen years,
9 shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary for life
10 or for a term of not less than fifty years.

11 "Any person eighteen years of age or older who commits 12 or attempts to commit a violation of this section with or upon 13 any female whose age is from fourteen through seventeen years,
14 inclusive, by force or against her will, shall be punished by 15 imprisonment in the penitentiary for life or for a term of not 16 less than fifty years."

17 Sec. 2. Section six hundred ninety-eight point three 18 (698.3), Code 1966, is amended by adding the following at the 19 end thereof:

20 "However, any person eighteen years of age or older
21 who commits or attempts to commit a violation of this section with 22 or upon any female seventeen years of age or younger, shall be 23 punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary for life or for 24 a term of not less than fifty years."

25 Sec. 3. Section six hundred ninety-eight point four (698.4),
26 Code 1966, is amended by adding the following at the end thereof:

27 "However, any person eighteen years of age or older who 28 commits a violation of this section with or upon any female
29 seventeen years of age or younger, shall be punished by imprisonment 30 in the penitentiary for life or for a term of not less than fifty 31 years."

32 Sec. 4. Section seven hundred four point one (704.1), Code
33 1966, is amended by adding the following at the end thereof:

34 "However, any person eighteen years of age or older who 35 commits or attempts to commit a violation of this section with or 36 upon any child under the age of fourteen years, shall be punished
37 by imprisonment in the penitentiary for life or for a term of 38 not less than fifty years.

39 "Any person eighteen years of age or older who commits or 40 attempts to commit a violation of this section upon or with any 41 child whose age is from fourteen through seventeen years, inclusive,
42 unless done with the free and voluntary consent of such child,
43 shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary for life or 44 for a term of not less than fifty years."

45 Sec. 5. Section seven hundred five point two (705.2), Code
46 1966, is amended by adding the following at the end thereof:

47 "However, any person eighteen years of age or older who 48 commits or attempts to commit a violation of section seven hundred 49 five point one (705.1) of the Code with or upon any child under 50 the age of fourteen years, shall be punished by imprisonment in 51 the penitentiary for life or for a term of not less than fifty
52 years.

53 "Any person eighteen years of age or older who commits or
54 attempts to commit a violation of section seven hundred five point
55 one (705.1) of the Code with or upon any child whose age is 56 from fourteen through seventeen years, inclusive, unless done
57 with the free and voluntary consent of such child, shall be 58 punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary for life or for a 59 term of not less than fifty years."

60 Sec. 6. Section seven hundred twenty-five point one (725.1), 61 Code 1966, is amended by renumbering the present section as sub-
62 section one (1) and by adding the following new subsection:

63 "2. Any person eighteen years of age or older who designedly
64 makes an open and indecent or obscene exposure of his or her
65 person, or of the person of another, in the presence of a child
66 under the age of fourteen years, shall be punished by imprisonment
67 in the penitentiary for a term of ten years."

68 Sec. 7. Section seven hundred twenty-five point two (725.2), 69 Code 1966, is amended by striking all of said section and by 70 substituting the following therefor:

71 "Any person eighteen years of age or older who:

72 1. Willfully commits or attempts to commit any lewd, immoral,
73 or lascivious act in the presence, or upon or with the body or 74 any part or member thereof, of a child under the age of fourteen
75 years, with the intent of arousing, appealing to, or gratifying 76 the lusts or passions or sexual desires of such person or of such 77 child; or

78 2. Willfully commits or attempts to commit any lewd, immoral,

79 or lascivious act in the presence, or upon or with the body or any 80 part or member thereof, of a child whose age is from fourteen
81 through seventeen years, inclusive, with the intent of arousing, 82 appealing to, or gratifying the lusts or passions or sexual 83 desires of such person or of such child, unless such act is 84 done with the free and voluntary consent of such child; or

85 3. Persuades or attempts to persuade a child under the age
86 of fourteen years to engage in any act of sexual intercourse,
87 or any act of sodomy as defined in chapter seven hundred five
88 (705) of the Code, or any lewd or lascivious act;
89 shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary for life or 90 for a term of not less than fifty years."

91 Sec. 8. Any person convicted of violating section six hundred
92 ninety-eight point one (698.1), six hundred ninety-eight point
93 three (698.3), six hundred ninety-eight point four (698.4), 94 seven hundred four point one (704.1), seven hundred five point one
95 (705.1), or seven hundred twenty-five point two (725.2) of the 96 Code, or subsection two (2) of section seven hundred twenty-five
97 point one (725.1) of the Code, as amended, shall not be eligible
98 for a suspended sentence or probation granted by any court.
99 Although sentenced to the penitentiary, such person shall be 100 placed and confined by the department of social services in which-
101 ever institution under its control is deemed most appropriate
102 for the treatment and secure confinement of the person, including 103 but not limited to the Iowa security medical facility. The person 104 shall receive treatment appropriate to his condition, unless 105 psychiatric evaluation indicates that he cannot be helped by 106 such treatment, in which event he shall be imprisoned in the 107 penitentiary. The department's staff shall regularly examine 108 the person and shall report to the board of parole at least 109 once a year. The person shall be eligible for parole by the 110 board of parole, but only after three qualified psychiatrists
111 designated by the department have examined the person and have 112 certified that in their opinion his release is in the best 113 interests of society and there is no significant danger that 114 he will again commit the same or a similar offense. It is the 115 intent of this section that any person convicted of any offense
116 specified in this section shall receive maximum treatment and 117 rehabilitation services and shall be paroled when he is no
118 longer dangerous to society, but shall be removed from society
119 during the entire term of his sentence unless and until he is no
120 longer dangerous to society; and this section shall be interpreted 121 to carry out this intent.

122 Sec. 9. The cost of the care and treatment of a person
123 confined in an institution for the treatment of mental illness
124 under section eight (8) of this Act shall be borne by the state,
125 but may be recovered by the state from the estate or property
126 of the person.

127 Sec. 10. This Act shall prevail over any inconsistent
128 provisions of the Code regarding punishment, terms of imprisonment,
129 place of confinement, suspended sentence, probation, and parole.
130 This Act shall not limit the provisions of the Code regarding 131 corroboration of testimony. This Act shall not be construed to 132 permit any act which is a public offense in the absence of this 133 Act, nor (except as expressly provided in section seven (7) 134 of this Act) to repeal or limit any provision of the Code which 135 establishes or defines any public offense.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

The following message was received from the House:

MR. PRESIDENT: I am directed to inform your honorable body that the House has adopted the following Senate concurrent resolution in which the concurrence of the House was asked:

Senate Concurrent Resolution 8, providing for a joint session of the General Assembly on April 8, 1969, and inviting the Pioneer Lawmakers to present a program.

WILLIAM R. KENDRICK, Chief Clerk

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Senate File 139

On motion of Senator Flatt, Senate File 139, a bill for an act relating to false drawing or uttering of checks, was taken up for further consideration.

Senator Reichardt offered the following amendment:

Amend Senate File 139:

1. By striking all after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Section 1. A bank which makes available to its depositors printed checks, or drafts showing it to be the drawee, shall guarantee payment to a payee or his indorser of checks or drafts drawn or made in the case of each such check to the sum of not more than twenty-five dollars, if upon presentation for payment the drawer or maker has insufficient funds on deposit with the drawee.

Sec. 2. A bank is hereby permitted to charge a fee of one and one-half per cent of the amounts paid to payees or their indorsers, under section one (1) of this Act on behalf of the drawer until the drawer satisfies his obligation to the drawee.

Sec. 3. A bank may pay a check or draft in excess of twenty-five dollars, where the drawer has insufficient funds on deposit with the drawee, in reliance on the credit of the maker or drawer and is hereby permitted to charge the same fee on the excess as permitted by section two (2) of this Act.

Sec. 4. The title is amended by striking from page 1, line 1, the word "false" and inserting after the word "checks" the words "without sufficient funds on deposit to the drawer or maker".

Senator Flatt raised a point of order on the amendment for the reason that it was not germane to the bill.

The Chair ruled the point well taken and the amendment out of order since it was not germane to the body and title of Senate File 139 and sought to introduce an entirely new subject under the guise of an amendment.

REPORT OF INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE

Senator Balloun submitted the following report:

MR. PRESIDENT: Your committee appointed to investigate the character and qualifications of Kenneth Benda of Hartwick, Poweshiek County, Iowa for appointment as a member of the Iowa State Commerce Commission, under the provisions of section 474.2, Code 1966, for the regular six-year term beginning July 1, 1969, and expiring June 30, 1975, begs leave to report that it has made investigation and recommends that the appointment be confirmed.

CHARLES F. BALLOUN
ARTHUR A. NEU
BASS VAN GILST
EDWARD E. NICHOLSON
ROBERT R. DODDS

On motion of Senator Balloun, the report was adopted.

Senator Frommelt asked and received unanimous consent that the appointee be confirmed by acclamation.

President Jepsen declared the appointment of Kenneth Benda as a member of the Iowa State Commerce Commission confirmed for the regular term ending June 30, 1975.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS

Senate File 528, by Senator Nicholson (Holden), a bill for an act to prohibit the parking of vehicles on private property.

WILLIAM R. KENDRICK, Chief Clerk

HOUSE AMENDMENT TO SENATE FILE 279

Amend Senate File 279 by adding to section one (1) the following:

"Section five hundred thirty-five point two (535.2), Code 1966, is hereby further amended by adding at the end of subsection one (1) the following:

Excessive charges or premiums for credit life, accident or health insurance written in connection with money loaned shall be included in the rate of interest unless

(1) the coverage of the debtor by the insurance is not a factor in the approval by the creditor of the extension of credit, and this fact is clearly disclosed in writing to the person applying for or obtaining the extension of credit; and

(2) in order to obtain the insurance in connection with the extension of credit, the person to whom the credit is extended must give specific affirmative written indication of his desire to do so after written disclosure to him of the cost thereof.

The foregoing provision regarding excessive charges or premiums to be included in the rate of interest shall have application only to the original parties to an agreement and shall in no manner affect the negotiability of instruments or the rights of subsequent holders."

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

I voted "Yes" on the first part of the Walsh amendment striking from Senate Joint Resolution 20 the word "public", assuring the study of laws relating to all education below the university level.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 18

By Voorhees

Whereas, the state capitol building is a source of pride and historical knowledge for visitors to the seat of government in this state; and

Whereas, the state capitol building is visited annually by thousands of students and residents of the state and out-of-state travelers; and

Whereas, a large chart has been placed on a table on the second floor of the rotunda facing the mosaics on the balcony of the state capitol; and

Whereas, the chart cites actual data concerning Iowa state government and the state capitol; and

Whereas, a considerable part of the data included on the chart is outdated including statistics on the membership of the general assembly, number of employees in state service, annual state income, and current state revenues; and

Whereas, not only is much of the data outdated but the physical condition of the chart is deteriorated due to having been water-soaked at one time or another; and

Whereas, the information and statistics presented on the chart is of importance and the chart should be replaced and updated, now, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring, that the state executive council be encouraged to allocate the funds necessary for the printing of a new chart, which will include current and updated information pertaining to the state capitol and the state of Iowa, and shall replace the present chart on the rotunda of the second floor of the state capitol within the immediate future in order that the many adults and students visiting the capitol during this session the General Assembly may be provided with accurate and current information.

Be It Further Resolved, that the chief clerk of the House of Representatives be directed to forward a copy of this resolution to each member of the state executive council and to the secretary of the state executive council.

SUPPLEMENTAL REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON MEMORIAL RESOLUTIONS

Senator Conklin submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT: Your committee on memorial resolutions begs leave to report that a committee should be appointed to prepare a suitable memorial resolution for the following deceased member of the Senate:

Edward W. Clark, Cerro Gordo County.

CHARLENE CONKLIN, Chairman
LEIGH R. CURRAN
C. JOSEPH COLEMAN

The motion prevailed and the supplemental report was adopted.

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

Senate File 140

On motion of Senator Benda, Senate File 140, a bill for an act relating to savings and loan associations, with report of committee recommending amendment and passage, was taken up, considered, and the report of the committee adopted.

The following committee amendment was considered:

Amend Senate File 140 by striking all of section one (1) and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

Section 1. Section five hundred thirty-four point nineteen (534.19), Code 1966, is hereby amended by adding the following new subsection:

"A savings and loan association operating under this chapter may make the determination to operate in a manner similar to federally chartered savings and loan associations insofar as the use of the 'deposit' and 'interest' terminology is concerned and such other powers as have been authorized for such federally chartered association under the Home Owners Loan Act of 1933 as amended to March 1, 1969 and specifically as amended by Public Law 90-448S-3496 and as permitted under Rules and Regulations of the Federal Home Loan Bank System and the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, issued under such Act as amended to March 1, 1969 and under such law to the extent that similar rules and regulations have been adopted by the supervisor of savings and loan associations and have been filed with the secretary of state. Any such additional powers shall not become effective until July 1, 1969. This paragraph is not intended to diminish nor restrict the powers otherwise granted to such associations by the laws of Iowa prior to the effective date of this Act, nor shall the adoption and filing of such rules or regulations by the supervisor in any way diminish or restrict the rights of associations which do not make the above determination and which do not desire to change their operation under the provisions above contained in this paragraph."

Further amend Senate File 140 by striking all of section two (2) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Sec. 2. Section five hundred thirty-four point eight (534.8), Code 1966, is hereby amended by adding the following new subsection:

"Any association operating under this chapter shall have the power to indemnify any present or former director, officer or employee in the manner and in the instances authorized in subsections one (1), two (2), three (3) and four (4) of section two (2), chapter three hundred sixty-three (363), Acts of the Sixty-second General Assembly."

Further amend Senate File 140 by striking all of lines twenty-nine (29) through thirty-one (31) of page two (2).

Further amend Senate File 140 by striking lines twenty-two (22) through twenty-nine (29) of page three (3) and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

"5. By adding the following new subsection:"

Further amend Senate File 140 by striking in line four (4), page four (4), the word "loan" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "loans".

Further amend Senate File 140 by striking in page four (4), line eleven (11), the word "interests" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "interest".

Further amend Senate File 140 by adding the following section thereto:

Sec. 6. Section five hundred thirty-four point nineteen (534.19), subsection thirteen (13), Code 1966, is hereby amended by adding the following thereto:

"In addition to the above unsecured or secured borrowing, an association may issue such notes, bonds, debentures and other obligations or securities, except capital stock, as is approved by the supervisor of savings and loan associations, and if authorized by the regulations of the Federal Home Loan Bank, as long as the total amount of funds borrowed under this sentence shall not exceed five percent of the withdrawable accounts of the association and provided that such obligations and securities shall be subject to the priority of the rights of the owners and deposits of said association."

Senator Benda offered the following amendment to the committee amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend Senate File 140 as follows:

1. Amend the committee amendment filed February 27, 1969, by striking from line fifty-nine (59) the word "is" and insert in lieu thereof the word "are".

2. Further amend the committee amendment by inserting after the word "owners" in line sixty-six (66) the following, "of the savings".

The amendment to the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Benda, the committee amendment as amended was adopted.

Senator Benda moved that the bill be read a third time now, which motion prevailed, and the bill was read a third time.

On the question "Shall the bill pass?" (S.F. 140) the vote was:

REPORT OF STEERING COMMITTEE

MR. PRESIDENT: Your steering committee begs leave to report it has had the following bills under consideration and recommends that they be placed on the steering committee calendar:

S.J.R. 7	S. F. 525	S. F. 291	S. F. 208
S. F. 385	S. F. 277	S. F. 537	S. F. 55
S. F. 472	S. F. 520	S. F. 474	S. F. 230

SEELEY G. LODWICK
Chairman, Steering Committee

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

I wish to exercise my privilege to explain my vote on Senate File 409. I voted for the bill because I am totally in accord with the need for providing the handicapped school children with opportunities for special education as needed. The bill provides that reimbursements shall be made for costs in excess of a state average attendance cost as provided by section 281.9 of the Code. However, the records do not appear to bear this out. The records show that local property taxes have been increased 614 percent in Black Hawk County from 1962 to 1969, 50.5 percent in 1969 over 1968 alone; 296 percent in Polk County in 1969 over 1962, 51.2 percent in 1969 over 1968; Pottawattamie, 756 percent from 1962 to 1969, 83 percent in 1969 over 1968; Woodbury, 470 percent, 47 percent in 1969 over 1968.

CHESTER HOUGEN

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 18

By Rigler, Denman, Lodwick, Lange, Kyhl, Shirley,
Thordsen, Reichardt, Flatt, Schaben,
Stanley, Frommelt and Sullivan

Whereas, The Drake University basketball team did such an outstanding job in the National Collegiate Basketball Tournament at Louisville, Kentucky, March 20 to March 22, 1969; and

Whereas, They easily won third place over North Carolina; and

Whereas, In the semi-final game March 20 they outplayed and nearly defeated the overwhelming favorite and ultimate champions, the University of California at Los Angeles; and

Whereas, Had Drake won, it would have been considered one of the most memorable victories in college basketball; and

Whereas, Against overwhelming odds they have been truly "a team" in the noblest sense—heroes to all Iowans;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That we salute them for having exhibited all the virtues of true champions; we commend their coach, Maury John, on this brightest achievement in his brilliant coaching career; and we thank them all for so gallantly acting as ambassadors for our state in improving the image of Iowa throughout the entire nation; and

Be It Further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to Drake University, to Coach John, and to each member of the 1969 Drake Bulldog squad, with our most sincere congratulations and best wishes for the future.

HOUSE AMENDMENTS CONSIDERED

Senate File 279

Senator Rigler called up for consideration Senate File 279, a bill for an act to amend section five hundred thirty-five point two (535.2), Code 1966, relating to the rate of interest to which parties may agree in writing, amended by the House, and moved that the Senate concur in the following amendment:

Amend Senate File 279 by adding to section one (1) the following:

"Section five hundred thirty-five point two (535.2), Code 1966, is hereby further amended by adding at the end of subsection one (1) the following:

Excessive charges or premiums for credit life, accident or health insurance written in connection with money loaned shall be included in the rate of interest unless

(1) the coverage of the debtor by the insurance is not a factor in the approval by the creditor of the extension of credit, and this fact is clearly disclosed in writing to the person applying for or obtaining the extension of credit; and

(2) in order to obtain the insurance in connection with the extension of credit, the person to whom the credit is extended must give specific affirmative written indication of his desire to do so after written disclosure to him of the cost thereof.

The foregoing provision regarding excessive charges or premiums to be included in the rate of interest shall have application only to the original parties to an agreement and shall in no manner affect the negotiability of instruments or the rights of subsequent holders."

Senator Glenn offered the following amendment to the House amendment:

Amend Senate File 279 by striking all after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Section 1. Section five hundred thirty-five point two (535.2), Code 1966, section 2 is hereby amended by inserting in line 1 following the word "corporation" the words "or business" and by inserting in line 4 following the word "corporation" the words "or business".

Senator Rigler raised a point of order on the Glenn amendment for the reason that it was not germane to the House amendment, since it struck all after the enacting clause and rewrote the bill.

The Chair ruled the point well taken and the amendment out of order.

Senator Glenn moved to suspend the rules and take up his amendment.

The Chair ruled the motion out of order for the reason that suspension of the joint rules of the Senate and House required a concurrent resolution.

Senator Gaudineer offered the following amendment to the House amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend the House amendment to Senate File 279 by inserting after the word, "holders.", in line 22 the following:

"The insurance commissioner, after hearing where all interested parties shall be given an opportunity to be heard, shall approve a reasonable charge or premium for credit life and accident or health credit insurance. Such reasonable charge or premium shall allow a fair and reasonable return or profit for the risk involved in providing such coverage."

Senator Weimer raised a point of order on the Gaudineer amendment for the reason that it was not germane to the House amendment.

The Chair ruled the point well taken and the amendment not germane to the House amendment.

Senator Glenn appealed the ruling of the Chair and requested a roll call vote.

Expunged March 25, 1969.

RECORD EXPUNGED

Senator Weimer asked and received unanimous consent to withdraw his point of order and expunge the record.

President Jepsen took the chair at 10:35 a.m.

Senator Gaudineer moved the adoption of his amendment and requested a roll call.

On the question "Shall the Gaudineer amendment to the House amendment be adopted?" (S.F. 279) the vote was:

The amendment was lost.

Senator Stanley offered the following amendment by Senators Stanley and Walsh and moved its adoption:

Amend Senate Joint Resolution 7 by striking the words "six months" in line 9 and all of lines 10 through 12, inclusive, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"for such period of time as shall be provided by law and of the County in which he claims his vote for such period of time as shall be provided by law, shall be entitled to vote at all elections which are now or hereafter may be authorized by law. The General Assembly may provide by law for different periods of residence in order to vote for various officers or in order to vote in various elections. The required periods of residence shall not exceed six (6) months in this State and sixty (60) days in the County."

The amendment was adopted.

Senator Hougen offered the following amendment by Senators Hougen and Stephens:

Amend Senate Joint Resolution 7 by adding the following after line 12 on page 1:

"A person nineteen years of age or older shall be deemed to be an adult for all purposes known to law and shall enjoy all rights and privileges and be subject to all duties and liabilities now or hereafter provided by law for persons twenty-one years old. Provided, that no qualification established by the Constitution for holding any public office shall be deemed to be changed by this amendment."

Senator Glenn raised a point of order that the amendment was not germane to the title.

The Chair ruled the point well taken and the amendment out of order.

Senator Hougen asked and received unanimous consent to temporarily defer Senate Joint Resolution 7.

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

Senate File 385

On motion of Senator Rigler, Senate File 385, a bill for an act relating to the highway safety programs, with report of committee recommending passage, was taken up, considered, and the report of the committee adopted.

Senator Rigler offered the following amendment by Senators Rigler and Stanley and moved its adoption:

Amend Senate File 385 by striking the period at the end of line 7 and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"and by inserting in lieu thereof the following:

' , either through his office or through one or more state departments or agencies designated by him or any combination of the foregoing, ' ".

Senator Shirley moved that action on Senate File 385 be deferred and that the bill be placed on the calendar under unfinished business.

Senator Schaben moved as a substitute motion that Senate File 385 be referred to the committee on state government.

The motion was lost.

Senator Stanley moved the previous question on the Shirley motion to defer.

Roll call was requested.

CONSIDERATION OF JOINT RESOLUTION

Senate Joint Resolution 7

The Senate resumed consideration of Senate Joint Resolution 7.

Senator Hougen offered the following amendment by Senators Hougen and Stephens:

Amend Senate Joint Resolution 7 by striking all of lines eight (8) through twelve (12) as amended, and inserting the following:

"Every citizen of the United States, of the age of nineteen years, who shall have been a resident of this state and of the county for such periods of time as shall be provided by law shall be entitled to vote at all elections which are authorized by law, and as incidents relative to such right to vote, every person nineteen years of age or older shall have all the rights and privileges known to the law for other voters. The General Assembly may provide by law for different periods of residence in order to vote for various officers or in order to vote in various elections. The required periods of residence shall not exceed six months in this state and sixty days in the county."

Senator Walsh raised a point of order on the amendment for the reason it was not germane to the title of the bill.

The Chair ruled the point not well taken and the amendment was germane.

Senator Hougen moved the adoption of the amendment.

Roll call was requested.

On the question "Shall the Hougen-Stephens amendment be adopted?" (S.J.R. 7) the vote was:

Ayes, 20:

COMMITTEE ON JUDICIARY

On motion of Senator Stanley, the Senate adjourned until 9:00 a.m., Thursday, March 27, 1969.

JOURNAL OF THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER,
DES MOINES, IOWA, THURSDAY, MARCH 27, 1969.

The Senate met in regular session, President Jepsen presiding.

Prayer was offered by Reverend Leroy Collins, pastor of the United Methodist Church, Toledo, Iowa.

The Senate pledged allegiance to the flag.

The Journal of March 26, 1969, was approved.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Leaves of absence were granted as follows:

Senator Neu for the day on request of Senator Lodwick; Senator Lamborn for the day on request of Senator Stanley; Senator Ollenburg for the day on request of Senator Stanley; Senator Walsh for the day on request of Senator Stanley.

PETITION

The following petition was presented and placed on file:

By Senator Frommelt, from ninety residents of Dubuque County opposing Senate File 265 relating to taxes on insurance premiums collected by nonprofit hospital and medical service corporations.

RESOLUTION

The following resolution, dated March 25, 1969, was presented by Senator Erskine from a group of Sioux City business and professional men known as the Central City Committee:

Whereas, an Iowa Supreme Court case involving Urban Renewal and Low Rent Housing programs in the State of Iowa has created serious questions concerning Urban Renewal and Low Rent Housing in Sioux City and other Iowa cities, and

Whereas, Sioux City has both Urban Renewal projects and a Low Rent Housing program and it is in the best interests of the entire community that they be completed and/or carried forward with the least delay, and

Whereas, considerable federal, local and private funds have already been expended in good faith in such programs, and

Whereas, it is within the power of the Iowa legislature to pursue corrective legislation immediately, and

Whereas, the issue is not federal programs but rather the completion of such programs and the alternative represents serious obstacles to continuing community progress for its citizens;

Be It Further Resolved, that the Executive Committee of the Central City Committee of Sioux City, Iowa, does petition the Iowa General Assembly generally, and the Woodbury County delegation specifically, to implement the necessary legislative changes to continue implemented programs without delay for the continued betterment of the community and state.

VISITORS WELCOMED

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS

Senate File 568, by Senators Lavery and Gaudineer, a bill for an act to provide for establishment of benefited street lighting districts in unincorporated areas.

Read first and second times and passed on file.

Senate File 569, by committee on cities and towns, a bill for an act authorizing cities and towns to create an urban renewal fund from additional taxes produced by an urban renewal area, and to issue revenue bonds secured by and payable from such fund.

Read first and second times and placed on calendar.

Senate File 570, by Senators Potgeter and Walsh (Bailey, Millen, Van Nostrand, Miller of Des Moines, Grassley, Klein and Shepherd), a bill for an act relating to the regulation of home solicitation sales.

Read first and second times and passed on file.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Senate File 400

On motion of Senator Lodwick, Senate File 400, a bill for an act relating to the appointees of the Governor, was taken up for further consideration.

Senator Stanley offered the following amendment by Senators Stanley, et al., and moved its adoption:

Amend Senate File 400 by striking all after line 4 and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Any person who has been appointed by the governor to any board under the laws of this state shall be deemed to have submitted his resignation from such office if either of the following events occurs:

1. He does not attend three or more consecutive regular meetings of such board. This paragraph does not apply unless the first and last of the consecutive meetings counted for this purpose are at least thirty days apart.

2. He attends less than one-half of the regular meetings of such board within any period of twelve calendar months beginning on July 1 or January 1. This paragraph does not apply unless such board holds at least four regular meetings during such period. This paragraph applies only to such a period beginning on or after the date when he takes office as a member of such board.

"If such person received no notice and had no knowledge of a regular meeting and gives the governor his sworn statement to that effect within ten days after he learns of the meeting, such meeting shall not be counted for the purposes of this section.

"The governor in his discretion may accept or reject such resignation. If he accepts it, he shall notify such person, in writing, that his resignation is accepted pursuant to this Act. The governor shall then make another appointment to such office. Such appointment shall be made in the same manner and for the same term as in the case of other vacancies caused by resignation from such office.

"As used in this section, 'board' includes any commission, committee, agency, or governmental body which has three or more members."

Senator Frommelt asked and received unanimous consent that Senate File 400 be temporarily deferred.

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

Senate File 525

On motion of Senator Kosek, Senate File 525, a bill for an act relating to the treatment of alcoholism, was taken up and considered.

Senator Hill raised a point of order that since Senate File 525 would result in the expenditure of public funds a fiscal note should be attached, and asked for a ruling by the Chair.

The Chair ruled the point well taken and requested that action on the bill be deferred until a fiscal note could be prepared.

Senate File 400

The Senate resumed consideration of Senate File 400.

Senator Frommelt offered the following amendment to the Stanley, et al., amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend the Stanley, et al., amendment to Senate File 400, dated March 25, line 10, by striking the word "thirty" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "sixty".

Division was called for.

The amendment to the amendment was lost.

Senator Schaben asked and received unanimous consent to withdraw his amendment filed March 24 and found on page 610 of the Senate Journal.

On motion of Senator Stanley, the Stanley, et al., amendment was adopted.

Senator Lodwick moved that the bill be read a third time now, which motion prevailed, and the bill was read a third time.

On the question "Shall the bill pass?" (S.F. 400) the vote was:

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the Senate and the title was agreed to.

Senate File 277

On motion of Senator Rigler, Senate File 277, a bill for an act relating to state communications, with report of committee recommending passage, was taken up, considered, and the report of the committee adopted.

Senator Reichardt offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend Senate File 277 as follows:

1. Further amend chapter eighty-eight (88), Acts of the Sixty-second General Assembly, by adding the following new section:

"A state-owned radio or television facility shall not broadcast spot announcements or advertising, or any commercially sponsored program of any nature, paid for by any person conducting a business for profit."

Senator Benda raised a point of order that the amendment was not germane to the title of the bill.

The Chair ruled the point well taken and that both amendments filed by Senator Reichardt on March 25 and found on page 633 of the Senate Journal were not germane for the reason that while chapter 88, Acts of the Sixty-second General Assembly, dealt with both educational television and state communications, Senate File 277 deals just with the state communications division and has nothing to do with the state educational television network.

Senator Reichardt offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend Senate File 277 by inserting after page one (1), line twelve (12), a new section as follows:

"Any contract entered into by the division shall require approval of the executive council before being valid."

The amendment was adopted.

MESSAGES FROM THE HOUSE

The following messages were received from the House:

Chairman, Senate Committee
ELIZABETH SHAW
Chairman, House Committee

Report adopted.

BILL SIGNED BY THE PRESIDENT

The President of the Senate announced that, as President of the Senate, he had signed in the presence of the Senate the following bill: House File 640.

On motion of Senator Stanley, the Senate recessed until 3:00 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The Senate reconvened, President Jepsen presiding.

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

Senate File 525

The Senate resumed consideration of Senate File 525.

Senator Kyhl offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend Senate File 525 as follows:

1. By striking page 7, lines 4 through 8, inclusive, and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "Section one hundred twenty-three A point three (123A.3), Code 1966, as amended by chapter two hundred nine (209), section thirty-five (35), Acts of the Sixty-second General Assembly, is amended by striking lines thirteen (13) through twenty-six (26), inclusive."

2. By adding the following new sections:

"Section one hundred twenty-three A point five (123A.5), Code 1966, as amended by chapter two hundred nine (209), section thirty-six (36), Acts of the Sixty-second General Assembly is hereby repealed."

"Section one hundred twenty-three A point eight (123A.8), Code 1966, is hereby amended by striking from line three (3) the words "and institutions" and inserting in lieu thereof the words " , institutions, hospitals and local alcoholism units".

The amendment was adopted.

Senator Glenn offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend Senate File 525, page 4, section 12, by striking all following the word "county" in line 25 and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"shall retain one-half of all such claims collected and remit to the state general fund the remaining one-half."

The amendment was lost.

Senator Kosek moved that the bill be read a third time now, which motion prevailed, and the bill was read a third time.

On the question "Shall the bill pass?" (S.F. 525) the vote was:

Ayes, 54:

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the Senate and the title was agreed to.

Senate File 277

The Senate resumed consideration of Senate File 277.

Senator Reichardt offering the following amendment:

Amend Senate File 277 by adding the following as a new section:

"Further amend chapter eighty-eight (88), Acts of the Sixty-second General Assembly, by adding the following new section:

'A state-owned educational radio or television facility as provided by this chapter shall not broadcast any commercially sponsored program of any nature, including those paid for as public service grants by any person conducting a business for profit.'

Senator Reichardt moved the adoption of his amendment and requested a roll call.

On the question "Shall the Reichardt amendment be adopted?" (S.F. 277) the vote was:

Ayes, 14:

Anderson	Klink	Nicholson	Rigler
Briles	Lisle	Potgeter	Stephens

Absent or not voting, 5:

Keith	Neu	Ollenburg	Shaff
Lamborn

The amendment was lost.

Senator Reichardt offered the following amendment to his amendment:

Amend the Reichardt amendment, filed March 27, 1969, to Senate File 277 by adding after the word "profit." in line nine (9) the following: "The state shall assume all operating expenses from appropriations, gifts, or other grants and no part thereof shall be paid by local school districts."

The Chair ruled the amendment to the amendment was improper since the Reichardt amendment filed March 27, 1969, had already been considered and lost.

(Consideration of Senate File 277 pending on adjournment.)

MR. PRESIDENT: Your committee on social services, to which was referred House File 5, a bill for an act relating to establishment of a special mental retardation unit to be located at one of the state mental health institutes, prescribing the functions of the special unit, and providing for the administration and support thereof and the admission of patients, begs leave to report it has had the same under consideration and recommends the same be amended as follows; and when so amended the bill do pass:

House File 5 is hereby amended as follows:

1. By adding thereto the following new section:

"Chapter two hundred twenty-six (226), Code 1966, is hereby amended by adding thereto the following new section:

"The commissioner of social services is hereby authorized to establish additional programs at any mental health institute and to inaugurate at any such institute pilot programs for the welfare of persons in need of custodial care, nursing home care, or extended care services. The commissioner shall establish operating rules and regulations to provide fair and equitable charges for such services by separating the direct costs of operating such services from the costs of performing other types of services in adjacent facilities at the same institutional location. The direct costs of each such program at a common location shall be included with the prorated cost of indirect services provided each type of program in determining the charge to be made against the counties from which patients receiving such services are admitted. Certification of charges shall be made in the same manner as mental patients in the hospital section of the institute outlined in sections 230.18, 230.19 and 230.20 of the Code."

2. By striking from line three (3), on page one (1), the word "and".

3. By inserting in line five (5), on page one (1), after the word "patients", the words " , authorizing the commissioner of social services to utilize facilities at state mental health institutes for the welfare of persons in need of custodial, nursing home, or extended care services, authorizing the establishment of pilot programs to provide such services, and relating to regulations and procedures for operating such facilities and programs and for making charges for care of patients therein."

AMENDMENTS FILED

- 1 Amend Senate Concurrent Resolution 13 by striking all
- 2 of said resolution and inserting the following in lieu thereof:
- 3 WHEREAS, the people of each state should have greater
- 4 freedom of choice in the apportionment of their state legislature
- 5 and local governing bodies;
- 6 NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE, THE
- 7 HOUSE
- 8 OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING, OF THE SIXTY-THIRD
- 9 GENERAL
- 10 ASSEMBLY OF IOWA, That this legislature respectfully requests
- 11 and makes application to the Congress of the United States to
- 12 propose the following article as an amendment to the Constitution
- 13 of the United States or, in the alternative, to call a convention
- 14 for the purpose of proposing the following article as an amendment
- 15 to the Constitution of the United States:
- 16 "Article - - -
- 17 "Section 1. The people of a state may apportion one

16 house of a bicameral legislature using population, geography, 17 and political subdivisions as factors, giving each factor such 18 weight as they deem appropriate or giving reasonable weight to 19 the same factors in apportioning a unicameral legislature, if in 20 either case such plan of apportionment has been submitted to a
21 vote of the people in accordance with law and with the provisions
22 of this Constitution and has been approved by a majority of those 23 voting on that issue. When a plan of apportionment based on factors
24 of population, geography, and political subdivisions is submitted
25 to a vote of the people under this section there shall also be 26 submitted, at the same election, an alternative plan of 27 apportionment based upon substantial equality of population.

28 Sec. 2. Any plan of apportionment which has been approved
29 under this article shall be resubmitted to a vote of the people,
30 or another plan may be submitted under the provisions of section
31 one, at the November general election held two years following
32 each year in which there is commenced any enumeration provided
33 for in section two of article I, and upon approval by a majority
34 of those voting thereon, such plan of apportionment shall continue 35 in effect until changed in accordance with law and with the 36 provisions of this Constitution.

37 Sec. 3. Nothing in this Constitution shall prevent a 38 state from apportioning membership of governing bodies of its 39 subordinate units using population, geography, and political 40 subdivisions as factors, giving each factor such weight as the 41 state deems appropriate."

42 BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Congress of the United 43 States is respectfully requested to submit said amendment in such 44 manner that it shall be valid as part of the Constitution when 45 ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several 46 States within seven years of its submission to the States by the 47 Congress, provided that each such legislature shall be apportioned 48 on the basis of substantial equality of population in accordance 49 with the most recent enumeration provided for in section two of 50 article I of the Constitution of the United States.

51 BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a duly attested copy of this 52 resolution be immediately transmitted to the Secretary of the 53 Senate of the United States, the Clerk of the House of 54 Representatives of the United States, and each member of the 55 Congress from this state.

DAVID M. STANLEY
MARVIN W. SMITH

1 Amend Senate File 203 by striking all after the enacting
2 clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

3 Section 1. As used in this Act:

4 1. "Policy" means any automobile policy which includes auto-
5 mobile liability coverage, uninsured motorist coverage, automobile
6 medical payments coverage, or automobile physical damage coverage,
7 delivered or issued for delivery in this state, insuring as the 8 named insured, one individual or husband and wife resident of the 9 same household, and under which the insured vehicles therein
10 designated are of the following types only:

11 a. A motor vehicle of the private passenger or station
12 wagon type that is not used as a public or livery

13 conveyance, nor rented to others; or

14 b. Any other four-wheel motor vehicle with a load capacity 15 of one thousand five hundred (1500) pounds or less which 16 is not used in the occupation, profession or business of 17 the insured, nor used as a public or livery conveyance
18 nor rented to others;
19 provided, however, that this Act shall not apply (a) to any policy
20 which has been in effect less than sixty (60) days at the time
21 notice of cancellation is mailed or delivered by the insurer
22 unless it is a renewal policy, or (b) to any policy issued under 23 an automobile assigned risk plan or automobile insurance plan, or 24 (c) to any policy insuring more than four motor vehicles, or (d) to 25 any policy covering the operation of a garage, automobile sales
26 agency, repair shop, service station or public parking place, or 27 (e) to any policy providing insurance only on an excess basis, or 28 (f) to any other contract providing insurance to such named 29 insured even though such contract may incidentally provide 30 insurance with respect to such motor vehicles.

31 2. "Renewal" or "to renew" means (a) the issuance and delivery
32 by an insurer of a policy replacing at the end of the policy
33 period a policy previously issued and delivered by the same
34 insurer, (b) the issuance and delivery of a certificate or notice
35 extending the term of a policy beyond its policy period or term,
36 or (c) the extension of the term of a policy beyond its policy
37 period or term pursuant to a provision for extending the policy
38 by payment of a continuation premium; provided, however, that any 39 policy with a policy period or term of less than six months shall 40 for the purpose of this Act be considered as if written for a
41 policy period or term of six months except in case of termination 42 under any of the circumstances specified in subsection 3 of 43 section 5. Provided, further, that for purposes of this Act any 44 policy written for a term longer than one year or any policy with 45 no fixed expiration date shall be considered as if written for 46 successive policy periods or terms of one year and any termination 47 by an insurer effective on an anniversary date of such policy shall 48 be deemed a failure to renew.

49 3. "Nonpayment of premium" means failure of the named insured
50 to discharge when due any of his obligations in connection with 51 the payment of a premium on a policy, or any installment of such 52 premium, whether the premium is payable directly to the insurer
53 or its agent or indirectly under any premium finance plan or 54 extension of credit.

55 Sec. 2.

56 1. No insurer shall exercise its right to cancel a policy
57 except for the following reasons:

58 a. Nonpayment of premium; or

59 b. The driver's license or motor vehicle registration of 60 either the named insured or of any other operator who resides
61 in the same household as the named insured or who customarily
62 operates a motor vehicle insured under the policy has been under 63 suspension or revocation during the policy period or, if the 64 policy is a renewal, during its policy period or the one hundred 65 eighty (180) days immediately preceding its effective date.

66 c. Nonpayment of dues to an association or organization other 67 than an insurance association or organization, where payment of 68 dues is a prerequisite to obtaining or continuing insurance in 69 force and the dues payment requirement was in effect prior to 70 January 1, 1969.

71 2. During the policy period no modification of automobile 72 physical damage coverage (except coverage for loss caused by 73 collision) whereby provision is made for the application of a 74 deductible amount not exceeding one hundred (100) dollars shall 75 be deemed a cancellation of the coverage or of the policy.

76 3. Renewal of a policy shall not constitute a waiver or 77 estoppel with respect to grounds for cancellation which existed
78 before the effective date of such renewal.

79 4. This section shall not apply to the failure to renew a
80 policy.

81 Sec. 3. Notwithstanding the provisions of section five hundred
82 fifteen point eighty (515.80) and section five hundred fifteen 83 point eighty-one (515.81), no insurer shall exercise its right to 84 cancel a policy unless a written notice of cancellation is mailed 85 or delivered to the named insured, at the address shown in the 86 policy, at least twenty (20) days prior to the effective date of 87 cancellation, except that when cancellation is for nonpayment
88 of premium such notice shall be mailed or delivered to the named
89 insured at the address shown in the policy at least ten (10)
90 days prior to the effective date of cancellation and shall include
91 or be accompanied by a statement of the reason therefor. This 92 section shall not apply to the failure to renew a policy.

93 Sec. 4. The notice of cancellation shall state or be accom-
94 panied by either a statement of the reason or reasons therefor or 95 a statement that upon written request of the named insured, mailed
96 or delivered to the insurer at least ten (10) days prior to the
97 effective date of cancellation, the insurer will specify in writing
98 the reason or reasons for such cancellation. If the reason or 99 reasons for cancellation do not accompany or are not included in 100 the notice of cancellation, the insurer shall upon such written 101 request of the named insured specify in writing the reason or 102 reasons for cancellation. The insurer shall mail or deliver such 103 reason or reasons to the named insured within ten (10) days after 104 receipt of such written request. Failure to specify such reason 105 or reasons following such request shall constitute a violation of 106 this Act, but shall not invalidate the cancellation. This section 107 shall not apply to cancellation for nonpayment of premium nor to 108 the failure to renew a policy.

109 Sec. 5.

110 1. No insurer shall fail to renew a policy unless a written 111 notice of nonrenewal is mailed or delivered to the named insured,
112 at the address shown in the policy, at least twenty (20) days
113 prior to the expiration date of the policy or anniversary date of 114 a policy written for a term longer than one year or with no fixed 115 expiration date.

116 2. The notice of nonrenewal shall state or be accompanied 117 by either a statement of the reason or reasons therefor or a 118 statement that upon written request of the named insured, mailed
119 or delivered to the insurer at least ten (10) days prior to the 120 expiration date of the policy, the insurer will specify in writing
121 the reason or reasons for such nonrenewal. If the reason or 122 reasons for nonrenewal do not accompany or are not included in the notice of nonrenewal, the insurer shall upon such written request of the named insured specify in writing the reason or reasons for nonrenewal. The insurer shall mail or deliver such reason or reasons to the named insured within ten (10) days after receipt of such written request. Failure to specify such reason or reasons following such request shall constitute a violation of this Act, but shall not affect the expiration of the policy. This section shall not apply to nonrenewal for nonpayment of premium.

3. Subsection 1 shall not apply:

a. If the insurer has manifested in any way its willingness to renew;

b. In case of nonpayment of premium for the expiring policy; nor

c. If the insured fails to pay the premium as required by the insurer for renewal.

Sec. 6. No insurer shall refuse to renew a policy solely because of age, residence, race, color, creed, or occupation of an insured.

Sec. 7. When a policy of automobile liability insurance is cancelled, other than for nonpayment of premium, or in the event of failure to renew a policy of automobile liability insurance to which subsection 1 of section 5 applies, the insurer shall notify the named insured of his possible eligibility for automobile insurance through the automobile assigned risk plan, or automobile insurance plan. Such notification shall accompany or be included in the notice of cancellation or nonrenewal required by this Act.

Sec. 8. Proof of mailing of notice of cancellation, or of nonrenewal or of reasons for cancellation or of nonrenewal, to the named insured at the address shown in the policy, shall be sufficient proof of notice.

Sec. 9. Notwithstanding the failure of an insurer to comply with this Act, termination of any coverage under the policy either by cancellation or nonrenewal shall be effective on the effective date of any other policy providing similar coverage on the same motor vehicle or any replacement thereof.

Sec. 10. There shall be no liability on the part of and no cause of action of any nature shall arise against the Commissioner of Insurance or against any insurer, its authorized representatives, its agents, its employees, or any firm, person or corporation furnishing to the insurer information as to reasons for cancellation or nonrenewal, for any statement made by any of them in any written notice of cancellation or nonrenewal, or in any other communication, oral or written specifying the reasons for cancellation or nonrenewal, or the providing of information pertaining thereto, or for statements made or evidence submitted at any hearing conducted in connection therewith.

Sec. 11. This act shall apply only to policies written or renewed after the effective date of this Act.

Sec. 12. If any provision of this Act or the application of the Act to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect provisions or applications of the Act which can be given effect without the invalid provision and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable.

HOUSE AMENDMENTS CONSIDEREDSenate File 193

Senator DeKoster called up for consideration Senate File 193, a bill for an act relating to regulation of jitney buses in cities and towns and the application of certain jitney-bus laws to motorbus lines in cities and towns, amended by the House, and moved that the Senate concur in the following amendments:

Amend Senate File 193 by adding new sections as follows:

Sec. 2. Section three hundred twenty-five point twenty-seven (325.27), Code 1966, is amended by striking from lines seven (7), eight (8) and nine (9) the words "Nothing in this chapter shall be construed as repealing chapter 388."

Sec. 3. Section three hundred eighty-six point two (386.2), Code 1966, is amended by striking the last two paragraphs and re-enacting in lieu thereof sections three hundred eighty-eight point five (388.5) to three hundred eighty-eight point nine (388.9), inclusive of the chapter repealed by this Act.

Amend the title by adding the words "and the application of certain jitney-bus laws to motorbus lines in cities and towns".

The Senate concurred in the House amendments.

Senator DeKoster moved that the bill as amended by the House and concurred in by the Senate be read a third time now, which motion prevailed, and the bill was read a third time.

Senate File 139

Senator Flatt called up for consideration Senate File 139, a bill for an act relating to false drawing or uttering of checks, amended by the House, and moved that the Senate concur in the following amendment:

Amend Senate File 139 as follows:

By striking from line eleven (11) the words "material and competent" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "prima facie".

Senator Flatt raised a point of order on the House amendment due to the fact that the subject matter contained therein had already been considered by the Senate.

The Chair ruled the point well taken after consulting Robert's Rules of Order, page 139, and Mason's Legislative Manual, page 274.

In accordance with the ruling by the Chair, the Senate refused to concur in the House amendment.

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

Senate File 537

On motion of Senator Stanley, Senate File 537, a bill for an act authorizing the state board of regents to acquire by gift, purchase, lease or construction and to reconstruct, complete, equip, improve, repair, remodel, operate, control, maintain and manage academic and administrative buildings and facilities and additions to and utilities services for such buildings and facilities and additions, at institutions of higher learning now or hereafter under the jurisdiction of the state board of regents, to acquire and improve property therefor, to establish and collect student fees and charges and to borrow money and issue revenue bonds payable solely from fees and charges and other institutional income, and to refund bonds or other obligations payable from such revenues, was taken up and considered.

Senator Hill offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend Senate File 537, page 2, lines one (1) through three (3), by striking the words "supplement and not supplant legislative appropriations for the same or similar purposes" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "be repaid, together with interest and service charges thereon, solely from student fees and charges and institutional income as defined in this Act, which shall be increased as required by the State Board of Regents as bonds are issued during period of time covered by this Act."

Senator Hill moved the adoption of his amendment and requested a roll call.

On the question "Shall the Hill amendment be adopted?" (S.F. 537) the vote was:

Rule 8 was invoked.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 19 ADOPTED

Senator Stanley asked and received unanimous consent to take up the following resolution and moved its adoption:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 19

Whereas, the members of the Sixty-third General Assembly of Iowa, and By Stanley and Frommelt

the entire nation, received the announcement of the death of former President Eisenhower with great sorrow; and

Whereas, Dwight David Eisenhower was one of the most distinguished men ever to have served as President of the United States; and

Whereas, General Eisenhower was selected in 1942 as the military leader of our armies in World War II, and by his military strategy and qualities of leadership successfully concluded the American participation in the war; and

Whereas, the people of the United States, recognizing his ability as a leader, selected him as President of the United States in 1952; and

Whereas, the nation in deep appreciation of his abilities re-elected him in 1956; and

Whereas, his philosophy is ably exemplified in his closing remarks as President when he said: "My philosophy has been to add to the spiritual, moral and material strength of our nation. I believe we have done this, but it is a process that must never end."; and

Whereas, succeeding presidents of the United States have used his sage advice and constructive suggestions in carrying on their own administrations; and

Whereas, bipartisan comments regarding his life include the words, "fair, impartial, and objective", as well as many other tributes; now, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring: That we extend to the Eisenhower family our deep and profound sympathy in their sorrow, and that the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives each appoint a committee of three to immediately convey by appropriate means this feeling; and

Be It Further Resolved: That a copy of this Resolution be duly certified and permanently preserved in the office of the Secretary of State, and that copies so certified be sent to Mrs. Eisenhower and John Sheldon Eisenhower.

The motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

The Chair appointed on behalf of the Senate to convey such feelings Senators Arbuckle, Potter and Frey.

Senator Stanley asked and received unanimous consent that Senate Concurrent Resolution 19 be immediately messaged to the House, which request was complied with.

Senator Lange took the chair at 2:25 p.m.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

The following message was received from the House:

MR. PRESIDENT: I am directed to inform your honorable body that the House has adopted the following Senate concurrent resolution in which the concurrence of the House was asked:

Senate Concurrent Resolution 19, extending to the Eisenhower family the deep and profound sympathy of the members of the Sixty-third General Assembly of Iowa; and that the Speaker of the House has appointed on behalf of the House the following members to immediately convey such feelings: the Representative from Adair-Madison, Mr. Varley; the Representative from Adams-Montgomery, Mr. Ossian; and the Representative from Polk, Mr. Caffrey.

President Jepsen announced the appointment of the following conference committee on Senate File 139: Senator Flatt, chairman; Senator Arbuckle, Senator Shirley and Senator Shaff.

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

Senate File 291

On motion of Senator Stephens, Senate File 291, a bill for an act relating to the eradication of hog cholera, the establishment of a biological products pool, and to make appropriations therefor, with report of committee recommending amendment and passage, was taken up, considered, and the report of the committee adopted.

The following appropriations committee amendment was considered:

Amend Senate File 291 as follows:

1. Page six (6), line eleven (11), strike the word "shall" and insert the word "may".

2. Page six (6), line twelve (12), strike the words "consisting of one million doses".

3. Page six (6), lines thirteen (13) and fourteen (14), strike the words "ten million cubic centimeters".

4. Page six (6), line twenty (20), strike the words "to the department" and insert after the word "profit," a new sentence as follows:

"The secretary may co-operate with other states in the accumulation, maintenance and disbursement of such reserve supply of biological products."

5. Page seven (7), strike lines five (5) to thirteen (13), inclusive, and insert the following:

"Sec. 14. There is hereby appropriated from the general fund of the state to the department of agriculture the sum of two hundred fifty thousand dollars for the period from July 1, 1969, to June 30, 1971, or so much thereof as may be necessary, for the payment of indemnities for hogs destroyed under the hog cholera eradication program in accordance with chapter one hundred sixty-six B (166B) of the Code. Said appropriation shall not be considered exclusive and may be augmented, when necessary, by the executive council from the state contingent fund."

6. Page seven (7), strike lines fourteen (14) to twenty-three (23), inclusively, and insert the following:

"Sec. 15. There is hereby appropriated from the general fund of the state to the department of agriculture the sum of fifty thousand dollars for the period from July 1, 1969, to June 30, 1971, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be used for the purchase of biological products in accordance with section eleven (11) of this Act. Section eleven (11) of this Act shall be implemented only to the extent of funds available from this appropriation and from federal funds available for this purpose; however, said appropriation shall not be considered exclusive and may be augmented, when necessary, by the executive council from the state contingent fund."

Senator Stephens offered the following amendment to the appropriations committee amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend amendment by committee on appropriations filed March 20, 1969, by inserting in line 12 after the quotation mark a new sentence as follows:

"Payment shall be made by the producer to the department and such vaccine shall be administered by a licensed practicing veterinarian."

The amendment to the amendment was adopted.

Senator Schaben offered the following amendment to the appropriations committee amendment:

Amend the committee on appropriations amendment to Senate File 291, filed March 20, 1969, by striking the word "two" in line nineteen (19) and inserting in lieu thereof the word "seven".

Senator Schaben moved the adoption of his amendment to the committee amendment and requested a roll call.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 21 ADOPTED

Senator Flatt asked and received unanimous consent to take up the following resolution and moved its adoption:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 21

By Flatt

Whereas, memorial services for Dwight David Eisenhower will be held on the west steps of the Capitol, Wednesday morning, April 2, 1969, at 11:00 a.m.; and

Whereas, Governor Robert D. Ray, members of the Supreme Court and members of the Executive Council, as well as the general public will be in attendance;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring: That the members of the Senate and the House of Representatives proceed to the Capitol steps at 11:00 a.m., April 2, 1969, to enable them to join in this final tribute to former President Eisenhower.

The motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

Senator Flatt asked and received unanimous consent that Senate Concurrent Resolution 21 be immediately messaged to the House, which request was complied with.

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

Senate File 291

The Senate resumed consideration of Senate File 291.

Senator Stephens offered the following amendment by the committee on agriculture and moved its adoption:

Amend Senate File 291 as follows:

1. By inserting in page 1, line 16, the following:

"Where cattle slaughtering operations are completely separate from any other slaughter operations, the rumen content taken from cattle slaughtered need not be cooked and shall not be considered garbage for the purposes of this chapter."

Senator Rigler took the chair at 11:25 a.m.

Division was called for.

The amendment was adopted.

Senator Stephens offered the following amendment by the committee on agriculture and called for a division of the amendment, sections 1 and 2 to be considered as division 1, sections 3 and 4, as division 2, and sections 5 through 8, as division 3:

Amend Senate File 291 as follows:

1. Amend page 2, lines 33 and 34, by inserting after the word "purchaser," the word "or".

2. Amend page 3, line 14, by inserting after the word "slaughter" the words:

"except that swine animals shipped directly to a public stockyard which are intended for sale to a slaughtering establishment for immediate slaughter, but are found on arrival at such stockyard to be apparently healthy, may be sold for feeding purposes if such swine are individually identified in accordance with section one hundred sixty-three point thirty (163.30), subsection three (3), of the Code, as amended by chapter one hundred sixty-nine (169), Acts of the Sixty-second General Assembly; if they are given anti-hog cholera serum or anti-body concentrate as specified in the Code of Federal Regulations, Title IX, Chapter I, Part 76, forthwith, and, if an official health certificate indicating the out-of-state point of origin of such swine is secured and accompanies them from such stockyard".

3. Amend page 3, line 15, by striking the words "forty-eight" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "seventy-two".

4. Amend page 3, line 20, by striking the word "Such" and all of lines 21, 22 and 23 and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"On arrival at the farm of destination, such incoming swine shall either be quarantined separate and apart for thirty days thereafter, from other swine located on such premises at the time of arrival, or, if such incoming swine are not thus separated, all swine on such premises shall be quarantined for thirty days beginning with arrival of the incoming swine, except animals going from such premises direct to slaughter."

5. Amend page 4, line 15, by inserting after the numeral (8), the words "of section one hundred sixty-three point thirty (163.30) of the Code as amended by chapter one hundred sixty-nine (169), Acts of the Sixty-second General Assembly".

6. Amend page 4, line 16, by striking the period and adding the words: "except as otherwise provided in subsection two (2) of section five (5) of this Act."

7. Amend page 6, line 19, by striking the words "the users" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "swine producers".

8. Amend page 7 by striking lines 24 through 28, inclusive.

On motion of Senator Stephens, division 1 of the agriculture committee amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Stephens, division 2 of the agriculture committee amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Stephens, division 3 of the agriculture committee amendment was adopted.

Senator Potgeter offered the following amendment and called for a division of the amendment, section 2 to be considered as division 1, and the balance of the amendment to be considered as division 2.

Amend Senate File 291 as follows:

1. Amend page 1, line 21, by inserting after the word "any" the words "public or commercial".

2. Amend page 2, line 23, by striking the words "at the time of purchase" and line 24 by striking the words "before leaving the premises of the seller".

3. Amend page 2, line 32, by inserting after the word "from" the word "either".

4. Amend page 3 by striking all in line 31 after the word "state." and all in lines 32 and 33 and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"On arrival at the farm of destination such swine shall either be quarantined separate and apart for thirty days thereafter from other swine located on such premises at the time of arrival, or if such incoming swine are not thus separated, all swine on such premises shall be quarantined for thirty days beginning with arrival of the incoming swine, except animals going from such premises direct to slaughter. In no case, however, will swine originating in states classified in Phase I or Phase II be permitted to enter into Iowa except for immediate slaughter."

5. Amend page 4 by striking all in line 10 after the word "ture," and all of lines 11 and 12 and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"On arrival at the farm of destination shall either be quarantined separate and apart for thirty days thereafter from other swine located on such premises at the time of arrival, or if such incoming swine are not thus separated, all swine on such premises shall be quarantined for thirty days beginning with arrival of the incoming swine, except animals going from such premises direct to slaughter."

6. Amend page 4, line 19, by adding after the word "state" the words "except those swine moving into Iowa for the purpose of immediate slaughter".

7. Amend page 5 by adding after line 1 the following:

"c. "Separate and apart" means a manner of holding swine so as not to have physical contact with other swine on the premises."

8. Amend page 5 by striking all of lines 8, 9, 10 and in line 11 the words "period of thirty days" and inserting in lieu thereof following:

"movement shall be completed within seventy-two hours, and on arrival at the farm of destination, such swine shall either be quarantined separate and apart for thirty days thereafter from other swine located on such premises at the time of arrival, or if such incoming swine are not thus separated, all swine on such premises shall be quarantined for thirty days beginning with arrival of the incoming swine, except animals going from such premises direct to slaughter".

9. Amend page 5, line 24, by striking all after the word "Code." and all of lines 25 and 26 and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"On arrival at the farm of destination, all such incoming swine shall either be quarantined separate and apart for thirty days thereafter from other swine located on such premises at the time of arrival, or if such incoming swine are not thus separated, all swine on such premises shall be quarantined for thirty days beginning with arrival of the incoming swine, except animals going from such premises direct to slaughter."

Senator Potgeter asked and received unanimous consent to withdraw division 1 of his amendment.

Senator Schaben offered the following amendment to the Potgeter amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend the Potgeter amendment, filed March 28, 1969, to Senate File 291, by inserting in line 38 after the word "hours" the words "unless an extension of time for movement is granted by the department".

The amendment to the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Potgeter, division 2 of his amendment as amended was adopted.

Senator Griffin offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend Senate File 291 by striking on page 6, in lines 23 and 24, the words "the veterinarian-in-charge in Iowa, animal health division, United States department of agriculture" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "epidemiologists at Iowa State University".

Division was called for.

The amendment was lost.

Senator Schaben offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend Senate File 291, page 4, by adding after the period in line 19 the following new sentence: "Native Iowa swine officially vaccinated with modified live virus prior to July 1, 1969, shall for a period of one year from the date of said vaccination be exempt from the provisions of this act."

The amendment was adopted.

Senator Schaben offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend Senate File 291 on page 2, line 10, by striking the words "After May 3, 1961", and inserting in lieu thereof the words "After July 1, 1969".

The amendment was adopted.

Senator Doderer offered the following amendment by Senators Doderer and Denman:

Amend Senate File 291 by numbering properly and adding the following new section to page 7:

"There is hereby appropriated out of the general fund from any other funds not otherwise appropriated to the department of health to be by it used as grant in aid to local boards of health, a sum of money equal to all monies herein appropriated and paid as indemnity for destruction of hogs as provided in this Act."

Senator Schaben raised a point of order that the amendment was not germane to the bill.

The Chair ruled the point well taken and the amendment out of order.

Senator Stephens moved that the bill be read a third time now, which motion prevailed, and the bill was read a third time.

On the question "Shall the bill pass?" (S.F. 291) the vote was:

WILLIAM R. KENDRICK, Chief Clerk

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 23

By Weichman

Whereas, the Iowa Department of The American Legion is, with the national organization of The American Legion, currently observing the fiftieth anniversary of its inception in 1919; and

Whereas, the Iowa Department of The American Legion has, during the past fifty years, been a responsible contributor to citizen thought and deed during the years of our Nation's emergence as a world power; and

Whereas, The American Legion history of the past fifty years is filled with achievements in behalf of mankind through active, continuous campaigns to preserve the lofty concepts of Justice, Freedom, and Democracy; and

Whereas, in this, the Golden Year of the Iowa Department of The American Legion, the organization is addressing itself to charting anew its course of service to a changing community, State, and Nation; and

Whereas, the Iowa Department of The American Legion is dedicated, with the national organization, to forging the future of a strong, vigorous, compassionate America in the next half century; now, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring, That the Sixty-third General Assembly recognizes the contribution which The American Legion has made and continues to make to our State and congratulates the Iowa Department of The American Legion and each of its members upon the Golden Anniversary of their organization; and

Be It Further Resolved, that the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives be directed to forward copies of this resolution to the Commander of the Iowa Department of The American Legion and to the Adjutant of the Iowa Department of The American Legion.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 25

By Dunton

Whereas, it is fitting that legislators help instill in young people of Iowa an appreciation for and understanding of our democratic system of government, particularly the state legislative process; and

Whereas, the Iowa Youth in Government Program, which is sponsored by the North Central Area Council of the YMCA and local Hi-Y groups in Iowa, provides an opportunity for high school youth to participate in model legislative sessions; and

Whereas, the Eleventh Model Legislature will be held December 12 and 18; and

Whereas, members of the Senate and House through the years have served on the Iowa Youth in Government Statewide Sponsoring Committee and have assisted with the pre-legislative conference and model legislature; therefore

Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring, that the Sixty-third General Assembly pledge its support for the Youth in Government Program and express the willingness of its members to assist and advise local Hi-Y groups on legislative matters and to assist with the model legislature; and

Be It Further Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent to the North Central Area Council of the YMCA and to the local Hi-Y groups which have participated in the Youth in Government Program.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 22

By Schaben and Gaudineer

Whereas, the Fifty-second General Assembly of Iowa provided a bonus to Iowans who served in World War II between September 16, 1940, and September 2, 1945, in the amount of eighty-five million dollars; and

Whereas, the Fifty-sixth General Assembly and the people of Iowa provided a bonus to Iowans who served in the Korean conflict between June 27, 1950, and July 27, 1953, in the amount of twenty-six million dollars; and

Whereas, all bonds necessary to finance the bonus to World War II Iowa veterans have either been retired or the funds necessary to retire them have been set aside; and

Whereas, the funds available to retire the bonds used to finance the Korean conflict Iowa veterans' bonus now exceed the funds necessary for such retirement by approximately four million two hundred thousand dollars; and

Whereas, if such fund is allowed to continue in existence until December 1, 1976, or the date for final retirement of the bonds used to finance the Korean bonus, several more million dollars will be therein than is necessary; and

Whereas, the State of Iowa in keeping with its past tradition of honoring its veterans who serve their country in time of conflict by providing such veterans with a bonus, will in all probability provide a similar bonus for Iowans who served in the Vietnam conflict; and

Whereas, such bonus will have to be financed by a bond issue similar to the ones used to finance the World War II and Korean conflict bonus, which bond issue could be greatly reduced by using the excess funds in the Korean veterans' bond retirement fund, all resulting in the savings of millions of dollars to the Iowa taxpayer;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, that the General Assembly hereby expresses its wishes that the bonds used to finance the Korean bonds not be recalled prior to their maturity and that the present one mill levy upon moneys and credits used to retire such bonds be continued, to the end that the millions of dollars that will be therein in excess of the money needed to retire the final Korean Bonus Bonds upon maturity, be used to aid the financing of a Vietnam bonus for Iowa veterans.

- 8 this state in accordance with the provisions of chapter
- 9 twenty-eight E (28E) of the Code."

FRANCIS L. MESSERLY

- 1 Amend Senate File 486 by striking all after the enacting
- 2 clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

3 Section 1. Section four hundred ninety point four (490.4),
4 Code 1966, is hereby amended by adding thereto the following
5 new paragraph:

6 "All pipelines shall be at a depth of not less than sixty
7 inches beneath ground level at all points along the route
8 except that if, after a public hearing on this question,
9 the commerce commission determines that the pipeline will 10 not transport dangerous material, the commission may determine 11 that the pipeline be constructed at a depth of not less than 12 thirty inches beneath ground level."

13 Sec. 2. Section four hundred ninety point five (490.5),
14 Code 1966, is hereby amended by adding thereto the following
15 new paragraph:

16 "It shall be unlawful for any pipeline company, or its 17 agent, to purchase or attempt to purchase, lease or attempt
18 to lease, easements for the purpose of constructing a pipeline
19 prior to receiving a permit from the commerce commission.
20 Violation of this paragraph shall be punishable by a fine of 21 not more than one thousand dollars per violation, and further,
22 that all contracts consummated as a result of a violation of 23 this paragraph shall be voidable by the aggrieved party."

24 Sec. 3. Section four hundred ninety point six (490.6), 25 Code 1966, is hereby amended by adding the following new 26 subsection:

27 "The names and addresses of persons, corporations, companies,
28 cities or towns whose rights or interests may be affected by 29 said pipelines."

30 Sec. 4. Section four hundred ninety point seven (490.7), 31 Code 1966, is hereby repealed and the following is hereby 32 enacted in lieu thereof:

33 "Upon the filing of said petition the state commerce
34 commission shall fix a date for hearing thereon and shall 35 notify, by registered mail, all persons, corporations,
36 companies, cities or towns whose rights or interests may be
37 affected; and shall cause notice thereof to be published
38 in some newspaper of general circulation in each county through 39 which said proposed line or lines or gas storage facilities
40 will extend."

41 Sec. 5. Section four hundred ninety point eight (490.8), 42 Code 1966, is hereby amended by repealing said section and 43 the following is hereby enacted in lieu thereof:

44 "Said hearing shall be held not earlier than sixty days
45 subsequent to the mailing of said notices. Publication of 46 said notice shall be three times at intervals of not less 47 than fifteen days and shall be between the time notices are 48 mailed to affected persons and the date set for said hearing.
49 Hearing shall be held in the office of said commerce commission,
50 or such place as the commerce commission shall designate."

51 Sec. 6. Section four hundred ninety point twenty-five 52 (490.25), Code 1966, is hereby repealed and the following is 53 hereby enacted in lieu thereof:

54 "It is the purpose and intent of this section to operate
55 independently of other chapters of the Code referring to 56 eminent domain, and this section shall control exclusively
57 for this chapter.

58 1. The commerce commission shall grant the right of 59 eminent domain after the following conditions have been 60 met:

61 a. A public hearing must be held not less than thirty 62 days nor more than ninety days subsequent to the granting 63 by the commerce commission of a permit to construct said
64 pipeline.

65 b. Notice of said hearing shall be in the manner pre-
66 scribed in section four hundred ninety point seven (490.7)
67 and four hundred ninety point eight (490.8) of this chapter.

68 c. Said pipeline company shall have the burden of proving 69 the following:

70 (1) That said pipelines will be in the best interests
71 of the public and that a public use is involved.

72 (2) That said pipelines are not for a private purpose
73 and are, in fact, a common carrier. To qualify as a common 74 carrier under this chapter no less than forty percent of the 75 use of said pipeline must be by companies other than the 76 company making application. The company making application
77 shall be construed as including all affiliated companies or 78 subsidiaries, or both.

79 2. The commerce commission may place such conditions
80 or limits on the right of eminent domain as it shall see 81 fit except that said commission shall not prescribe or 82 approve a right-of-way that exceeds seventy-five feet in 83 width or one acre in any one location in addition to right-
84 of-way for the location of pumps, pressure apparatus, or 85 other stations or equipment necessary to the proper operation
86 of its said pipeline or lines.

87 Any pipeline company having secured the right of eminent
88 domain and a permit for the storage of gas as in this chapter
89 provided may appropriate for its use for the underground
90 storage of gas any substratum or formation in any land which 91 the commission shall have found to be suitable and in the public
92 interest for the underground storage of gas, and in connection
93 therewith may appropriate such other interests in property as 94 may be required adequately to examine, prepare, maintain
95 and operate such underground gas storage facilities.

96 The right of appropriation hereby granted shall be without 97 prejudice to the rights of the owner of said lands or of other
98 rights or interests therein to drill or bore through the 99 underground stratum or formation so appropriated in such 100 manner as shall comply with orders, rules and regulations
101 of the commission issued for the purpose of protecting 102 underground storage strata or formations against pollution
103 and against the escape of gas therefrom and shall be without 104 prejudice to the rights of the owner of said lands or other
105 rights or interests therein as to all other uses thereof.

106 3. Nothing in this chapter shall authorize the construction
107 of a pipeline longitudinally on, over or under any railroad
108 right-of-way or public highway, or at other than an approximate 109 right angle to such railroad track public highway without the 110 consent of such railroad company, the highway commission or 111 board of supervisors, as the case may be, nor shall any 112 provision of this chapter authorize or give the right of 113 condemnation or eminent domain for such purposes.

4. Condemnation procedure under this chapter shall be as provided in chapter four hundred seventy-two (472), of the Code except as follows:

a. That not less than thirty days prior to formal condemnation proceedings the condemner shall make an offer, in writing, to the landowner stating the amount of damages they would pay for an easement to said property.

b. In the event the landowner shall refuse said offer and the commission as provided in chapter four hundred seventy-two (472) shall make an award equal to one hundred ten percent of condemner's offer, then there shall be an additional award equal to twenty-five percent of the final award to recompense said landowner for costs involved in the condemnation proceedings.

c. In the event that condemner shall appeal said commission's award said condemner shall be liable for all costs to the landowner including, but not limited to, reasonable attorney fees and cost of expert witnesses.

d. Wherever this section shall be found to be inconsistent with chapter four hundred seventy-two (472) of the Code, then this section shall control.

5. Notwithstanding any other section of this chapter or any other chapter of the Code, a condemnee may choose in lieu of a lump-sum award to receive an annual rental for the land used. Said rental shall be determined by multiplying seven percent times the fair market value of the property as determined by the county assessor for property tax purposes. Any dispute under this paragraph shall be resolved by the sheriff's commission as prescribed in chapter four hundred seventy-two (472), of the Code.

The fair market value for the computation purpose shall be changed at such times and in such amounts as the county assessor shall determine in routine determination of property values for property tax purposes.

Sec. 7. Section four hundred ninety point twenty-six (490.26), Code 1966, is hereby amended by adding thereto the following:

"In the event of damage to the pipeline which results in further damage because of leakage or escape of harmful gases, the pipeline company shall be liable for all damage unless the landowner or other party has acted in a willful and wanton manner which action was the proximate cause of the damage."

Sec. 8. Chapter four hundred ninety (490), Code 1966, is hereby further amended by adding at the end thereof the following new section:

"Said pipeline company shall be liable for all representations by their employees or agents and the following procedures shall be followed:

1. Each pipeline easement contract must state specifically what portion of the property owned by each affected property holder will be crossed by the pipeline.

2. All offers must be in writing and all offers must allow a five-day period before they may be revoked by the offeror. Any offer signed or accepted before the five-day waiting period has elapsed may be revoked by the offeree

169 within the five-day period.

170 3. The contract and the offer must plainly state whether 171 the pipeline company has acquired the right of eminent 172 domain.

173 4. Violation of this section shall be punishable by a fine
174 of not more than one thousand dollars and any contract entered 175 into by a party in violation of this section is voidable by 176 the offended party at any time within one year of the violation."

REPORT OF JOINT COMMITTEE ON ENROLLED BILLS

Senator Mogged, from the joint committee on enrolled bills, submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT: Your joint committee on enrolled bills respectfully reports that it has examined and finds correctly enrolled: Senate Files 18, 95, 193, 199, 210 and 279.

CHARLES G. MOGGED
Chairman, Senate Committee
ELIZABETH SHAW
Chairman, House Committee

Report adopted.

BILLS SIGNED BY THE PRESIDENT

The President of the Senate announced that, as President of the Senate, he had signed in the presence of the Senate the following bills: Senate Files 18, 95, 193, 199, 210 and 279.

BILLS SENT TO THE GOVERNOR

Senator Mogged, from the committee on enrolled bills, submitted the following report:

MR. PRESIDENT: Your committee on enrolled bills respectfully reports that it has, on this 4th day of April, 1969, sent to the Governor for his approval: Senate Files 18, 95, 193, 199, 210 and 279.

CHARLES G. MOGGED, Chairman

Passed on file.

UNFINISHED BUSINESSSenate Concurrent Resolution 13

The Senate resumed consideration of Senate Concurrent Resolution 13.

The Chair ruled that in accordance with Rule 17 the Shirley point of order was well taken and that before voting on adoption of the resolution in accordance with the Stanley motion providing for immediate consideration a title must be added.

Senator Shirley requested a further ruling by the Chair for the reason that without a title Senate Concurrent Resolution 13 could not be considered by the Senate unless the rules were suspended.

The Chair ruled that since Senate Concurrent Resolution 13 had been acted upon by a committee, had been reported out of the committee with the recommendation for passage, had been read the first and second times, and with the exception of a title met all the requirements of Rules 17 and 18, and that since the Senate adopted by a roll call vote the Stanley motion to take up the resolution for immediate consideration, in accordance with the orderly procedure required by Robert's Rules of Order, it was in order now to take up an amendment that would provide a title to this resolution.

Senator Frommelt moved that Senate Concurrent Resolution 13 be re-referred to the committee on constitutional amendments and reapportionment.

Division was called for.

The motion was lost.

Senator Stanley offered the following amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend Senate Concurrent Resolution 13 by inserting the following title at the beginning of the resolution:

"A concurrent resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States and making application to the Congress of the United States to call a convention for the purpose of proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, to allow the people of each state greater freedom of choice in the apportionment of their state legislature and governing bodies."

Senator Schaben raised a point of order on the constitutionality of the Stanley-Smith amendment for the reason that Congress cannot be directed to amend the Constitution.

The Chair ruled the point not well taken since the amendment merely proposed an amendment to the Constitution.

The amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Smith, Senate Concurrent Resolution 13, a concurrent resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States and making application to the Congress of the United States to call a convention for the purpose of proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, to allow the people of each state greater freedom of choice in the apportionment of their state legislature and local governing bodies, with report of committee recommending passage, was taken up, considered, and the report of the committee adopted.

Senator Stanley offered the following amendment filed by Senators Stanley and Smith on March 27, 1969:

Amend Senate Concurrent Resolution 13 by striking all of said resolution and inserting the following in lieu thereof:

WHEREAS, the people of each state should have greater freedom of choice in the apportionment of their state legislature and local governing bodies;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING, OF THE SIXTY-THIRD GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF IOWA, That this legislature respectfully requests and makes application to the Congress of the United States to propose the following article as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States or, in the alternative, to call a convention for the purpose of proposing the following article as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States:

"Article - - -

"Section 1. The people of a state may apportion one house of a bicameral legislature using population, geography, and political subdivisions as factors, giving each factor such weight as they deem appropriate or giving reasonable weight to the same factors in apportioning a unicameral legislature, if in either case such plan of apportionment has been submitted to a vote of the people in accordance with law and with the provisions of this Constitution and has been approved by a majority of those voting on that issue. When a plan of apportionment based on factors of population, geography, and political subdivisions is submitted to a vote of the people under this section there shall also be submitted, at the same election, an alternative plan of apportionment based upon substantial equality of population.

Sec. 2. Any plan of apportionment which has been approved under this article shall be resubmitted to a vote of the people, or another plan may be submitted under the provisions of section one, at the November general election held two years following each year in which there is commenced any enumeration provided for in section two of article I, and upon approval by a majority of those voting thereon, such plan of apportionment shall continue in effect until changed in accordance with law and with the provisions of this Constitution.

Sec. 3. Nothing in this Constitution shall prevent a state from apportioning membership of governing bodies of its subordinate units using population, geography, and political subdivisions as factors, giving each factor such weight as the state deems appropriate."

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Congress of the United States is respectfully requested to submit said amendment in such manner that it shall be valid as part of the Constitution when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several States within seven years of its submission to the States by the Congress, provided that each such legislature shall be apportioned on the basis of substantial equality of population in accordance with the most recent enumeration provided for in section two of article I of the Constitution of the United States.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a duly attested copy of this resolution be immediately transmitted to the Secretary of the Senate of the United States, the Clerk of the House of Representatives of the United States, and each member of the Congress from this state.

Senator Stanley offered the following amendment to the amendment by Senators Stanley and Smith and moved its adoption:

Amend the Stanley and Smith amendment to Senate Concurrent Resolution 13, filed March 27, 1969, by inserting the following after the word "resolution" in line 2:

"after the title."

The amendment to the amendment was adopted.

Senator Shirley offered the following amendment to the Stanley-Smith amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend the Stanley and Smith amendment to Senate Concurrent Resolution 13, filed March 27, 1969, by striking the words "United States or, in the alternative, to call a convention" from line 11 thereof, by striking all of line 12 thereof, and by striking the words "to the Constitution of the" from line 13 thereof.

The amendment to the amendment was lost.

Senator Shirley offered the following amendment to the Stanley-Smith amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend Senate Concurrent Resolution 13 by striking from the Stanley and Smith amendment, filed March 27, 1969, lines 27 through 41.

Senator DeKoster took the chair at 11:00 a.m.

The amendment to the amendment was lost.

Senator Gaudineer offered the following amendment to the Stanley-Smith amendment:

Amend the Stanley-Smith amendment to Senate Concurrent Resolution 13 by adding after line 55 thereof the following additional resolving clause:

"BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that if Congress does not submit the Constitutional amendment as set forth herein, it shall not call a Constitutional Convention, unless such convention can be limited to only the consideration of the article herein proposed."

Senator Gaudineer moved the adoption of his amendment to the amendment and requested a roll call.

On the question "Shall the Gaudineer amendment be adopted?" (S.C.R. 13) the vote was:

Ayes, 15:

Coleman	Frommelt	McGill	Shirley
Denman	Gaudineer	O'Malley	Walsh

Absent or not voting, 10:

Benda	Hammer	Neu	Palmer
Erskine	Lange	Ollenburg	Van Gilst
Frey	Laverty

The amendment to the amendment was lost.

Senator Denman offered the following amendment to the Stanley-Smith amendment:

Amend the Stanley-Smith amendment to Senate Concurrent Resolution 13 as follows:

1. Line 27 by striking the word "substantial".
2. Line 27 by striking the "." and inserting the following: "in both houses of the bicameral legislature."

President Jepsen took the chair at 11:20 a.m.

Senator Stanley called for a division of the amendment.

Senator Denman moved the adoption of division 1 of his amendment and requested a roll call.

On the question "Shall division 1 of the Denman amendment be adopted?" (S.C.R. 13) the vote was:

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

The following message was received from the House:

MR. PRESIDENT: I am directed to inform your honorable body that the House has adopted the following concurrent resolution in which the concurrence of the Senate is asked:

House Concurrent Resolution 27, providing for a study committee on motor vehicle inspection.

WILLIAM R. KENDRICK, Chief Clerk

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 27

By Klein and Millen

Whereas, the number of serious injuries and deaths occurring as a result of motor vehicle accidents has increased at an alarming rate; and

Whereas, a direct or contributing cause of a substantial number of motor vehicle accidents may be equipment failure; and

Whereas, federal highway safety legislation and rules and regulations promulgated pursuant thereto have placed the burden on states to establish a vehicle inspection program; and

Whereas, federal participating highway construction funds could be curtailed in the absence of consideration of vehicle inspection legislation; and

Whereas, no legislation currently exists in the State of Iowa to require motor vehicle safety inspections; now, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That the Legislative Research Committee or its successor agency, conduct, or appoint a study committee to conduct, a legislative study, prior to the convening of the second session of the Sixty-third General Assembly, concerning the desirability and feasibility of establishing state-wide motor vehicle inspection procedures in this state; and

Be It Further Resolved, That such study committee be directed to report its findings and recommendations to the Sixty-third General Assembly on or before February 1, 1970.

SENATE FILE 567 DEFERRED

Senator Potgeter asked and received unanimous consent that action on Senate File 567 be deferred and that the bill be placed on the calendar under unfinished business.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 14 ADOPTED

Senator Shaff called up for consideration the following resolution and moved its adoption:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 14

By Shaff, Clarke, Rigler, Klink, Nicholson, Smith, Lange, Griffin, Lodwick, Parker, Flatt, Kosek, DeHart, Keith, Walsh, Potgeter, Arbuckle, Balloun, Benda, Messerly, Sullivan, DeKoster, Conklin, Potter and Curran

Whereas, The federal government has for many years been returning funds to the states by grants-in-aid programs with conditions attached, and

Whereas, In far too many cases such categorical, specialized federal grants have failed to accomplish their objectives and have been very wasteful, and

Whereas, States and local governments can resolve a great many of society's problems if they have adequate resources, and

Whereas, The federal government has usurped the most productive tax resources of the states by federal income taxes, excise taxes, and others of the same kind, leaving to the states only inadequate sources of revenue, and

Whereas, Much of the failure of the federal grants-in-aid programs has been because such programs ignore local conditions such as transportation, education, and skills of workers, and other conditions of the same kind, which further complicates a problem which may be readily solved in one area but only compounded in another, and

Whereas, If the federal government returns to the states a flat percentage of federal taxes collected from each state without any conditions attached

except, perhaps, bloc grants may be specifically earmarked for general categories such as education, Now, Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That the General Assembly of the State of Iowa urge the Congress of the United States to inaugurate a program of tax-sharing with the states whereby the state and local governments may receive the necessary financial resources to solve local problems unhampered by restrictions imposed by persons not familiar with the particulars involved in each community.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to each member of the Iowa Congressional delegation.

The motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

Also: That the House has passed the following bill in which the concurrence of the Senate is asked:

House File 680, a bill for an act relating to the state's share of the funding of the department of housing and urban development riot reinsurance program.

Also: That the House has adopted the following concurrent resolution in which the concurrence of the Senate is asked:

House Concurrent Resolution 21, providing for a study committee to study the Iowa Constitution and statutes relating to the use of the rights of eminent domain.

WILLIAM R. KENDRICK, Chief Clerk

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 21

By Holden

Whereas, the right to condemn private property for public use has been exercised by an increasing number of governmental agencies and private interests, and

Whereas, easements granted to utilities and others are of a permanent nature and thus place permanent restrictions on future use of the property, and

Whereas, the burden of easements for power lines and pipe lines is becoming tremendous in the growth areas of the state where some land owners have two, three or more corridors over their property by easement.

Whereas, the taking or using of private property often causes future hardship or financial loss to the owner beyond that which is readily discernible, and

Whereas, the number of protests, legal actions, and land owner unrest is increasing.

Whereas, landowners are demanding an over haul of the eminent domain laws.

Whereas, both the rights of property owners and the need for a condemnation procedure have been recognized by law.

Whereas, the consideration of bills hastily prepared may result in legislation that is not in the public interest, and

Whereas, most of the complaints appear to be coming from the owners of agricultural land; now, therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring: That the House committee on agriculture cause a study to be made of the Iowa Constitution and statutes relating to the use of the rights of eminent domain by public bodies and private interests, this study to be made during the interim between the 1969 and 1970 sessions. This study may be made by the House committee on agriculture in the event that it is to continue as a standing committee during this interim period; otherwise, it shall submit proposed legislation to this assembly providing for a special study committee to carry out the intent of this resolution.

Be It Further Resolved: That the committee conducting the study be directed to report study findings and committee recommendations, accompanied by legislation incorporating such recommendations, to the session of the General Assembly commencing in January, 1970.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER

MR. PRESIDENT: I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate File 544 passed the Senate.

LEE H. GAUDINEER

REPORT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE
ON SENATE FILE 139

To the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House:

We, the undersigned members of the conference committee appointed to consider the difference between the Senate and House on Senate File 139, an act relating to false drawing or uttering of checks, beg leave to report and make the following recommendations:

That Senate File 139 as passed by the Senate be amended as follows:

By striking from line eleven (11) the words "material and competent" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "prima facie".

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS
REGARDING CONFIRMATION REQUIREMENTS

February 28, 1969

Mr. Lester D. Menke

President

State Board of Public Instruction

Grimes Building

Local

Dear Mr. Menke:

By your letter of February 21, 1969, you have requested an opinion from the Attorney General as follows:

"Your official opinion is requested on the following fact situation: On or about December of 1967, Governor Hughes appointed Thomas Roe, Nolden Gentry, and Richard Delaney to six year terms on the state board of Public Instruction to replace members whose terms expired on January 2, 1968. Said appointees qualified by taking the oath of office and have served on the board during 1968. After the convening of the 63rd General Assembly in January, 1969, Governor Ray certified to the Senate the names of Nolden Gentry, Richard Delaney and Mrs. Richard Cole for confirmation of appointment for the unexpired remainder of the same six-year terms.

"Your opinion is requested as to the status of the said appointees of former Governor Hughes pending confirmation action by the Senate on the certification by Governor Ray. Your further opinion is requested as to whether Mr. Roe may continue to serve under his appointment pending Senate confirmation of the appointment of Mrs. Cole.

"Your further opinion is requested as to the status of actions taken by the board in the absence of participation in the voting by the members whose status is in question and who were present and refrained from voting based on a ruling by the President of the board on the telephone advice of the Attorney General. Is a 4-2 vote sufficient to adopt a motion or resolution or is a majority of the entire statutory membership of nine required."

The state board of public instruction, consisting of nine members, was created by the 55th General Assembly in 1953. Chapter 114, §1, 55th G.A. The terms are for six years beginning on the second secular day in January following their appointment. Section 257.3, Code of Iowa, 1966. But originally eight of the nine members were elected from districts coterminous with the eight Congressional Districts then existing and one member of the board appointed by the Governor from the electors of the state at large, subject to confirmation by two thirds of the Senate. Temporary provision was made for staggering the original terms so that three served for two years, three for four years and two for six years. Chapter 114, §3, Acts of the 55th G.A.

In 1965, the 61st General Assembly provided for nominating two persons from each Congressional District to fill vacancies as they occur on the state board and then that the Governor shall appoint one of the two nominated. Chapter 226, §§7, 8 and 9, 61st G.A.

In 1967, the 62nd General Assembly amended the law to provide that the nine members be appointed directly by the Governor with the approval of two thirds of the members of the Senate. See §257.1, Code of Iowa, 1966, as amended by §23, ch. 244, 62nd G.A.

Thus there has developed the perhaps unusual situation in which the terms of three members of the board expired in an even numbered year (on January 1, 1968) when the legislature was not in session.

Anticipating the expiration of those three terms, Governor Hughes appointed Thomas Roe, Nolden Gentry and Richard Delaney to six year terms commencing on January 2, 1968. Section 275.4, Code of Iowa, 1966, as amended by Chapter 244, §26, 62nd G.A., provides as follows:

"The members of the state board shall qualify by taking the regular oath of office as prescribed by law for state officers. All vacancies on said board which may occur when the general assembly is not in session shall be filled by appointment by the governor, which appointment shall expire at the end of thirty (30) days after the general assembly next convenes. Vacancies occurring during a session of the general assembly shall be filled before the end of said session in the same manner in which regular appointments are required to be made."

But Governor Hughes' appointments of Messrs. Roe, Gentry and Delaney, effective January 2, 1968, were not appointments to fill vacancies within the statutory definitions of that term. See §69.2, Code of Iowa, 1966 and O.A.G. 3-16-67, where Commissioner of Public Safety Needles had been appointed to fill a vacancy resulting from the resignation of former Commissioner Sueppel. That opinion pointed out that §69.1 and §69.2 (1) prevent a vacancy from occurring in certain fact situations, particularly those involving the transition from one fixed term to another. Mr. Needles was not appointed to a fixed term, but rather to fill a vacancy. An appointment to fill a vacancy commonly expires at the end of thirty days from the time the General Assembly next convenes. See §80.3, Code of Iowa, 1966, which is similar to §26, Chapter 244, 62nd G.A. So, in contrast to Mr. Needles' appointment to fill a vacancy, which expired under the terms of the statute (80.3), these appointments of Messrs. Roe, Gentry and Delaney were appointments to fixed (six year) terms and do not expire at the end of thirty days after the General Assembly next convenes. Section 26 is not applicable.

Section 2.40, Code of Iowa, 1966, provides:

"Confirmation of appointments—rejected nominees not eligible. When the nomination of a public officer is required to be confirmed by the senate, the nomination shall not be considered by the senate until it shall have been referred to a committee of five senators who shall, if possible, represent different political parties. The committee shall be appointed by the president of the senate, without motion, and shall report to the senate. The consideration of the nomination by the senate shall not be had on the same legislative day on which the nomination is so referred, unless it be the last day of the session. When a nomination has been so considered by the senate and approval has been refused, the nominee shall not be eligible for an interim appointment, prior to the convening of the general assembly in the next regular session, to any position requiring confirmation by the senate."

I have ascertained that the Senate has never acted upon Governor Hughes' appointment of Messrs. Roe, Gentry and Delaney and, in my opinion, it may do so at any time prior to adjournment of the present session, there being no particular time limit specified by law or the Constitution in this regard. And, of course, it must be presumed that the Senate will act in accordance with the requirements of the aforementioned law. Until the Senate does so act before adjournment, all three of these appointees are members of the state board of public instruction, entitled to act accordingly, and Mrs. Cole's appointment may not be acted upon.

With respect to actions taken by the board upon vote 4-2 of members present and voting, such vote would be sufficient to carry a measure if a quorum was present. The quorum of a body is an absolute majority of it unless the authority by which the body was created fixes it at a different number. 74 C.J.S. 171. In the absence of contrary provision, the quorum of a nine member board is five. The rule is well established that a majority of a quorum is all that is required for the adoption or passage of any resolution or order properly arising for the action of a collective body exercising legislative, judicial or administrative functions. Thurston vs. Huston, 1904, 123 Iowa 157, 160. Thus, it appears that the motions voted 4-2 carried.

Apparently, however, the three board members refrained from voting because of oral advice I gave at the time of the last meeting (which I can't now recall giving). If this is true and they voted with the two opposed to the issues, the result would have been different, 5 to 4. Therefore, perhaps, you should entertain any motion to reconsider which your rules permit.

Yours very truly
RICHARD C. TURNER

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

April 7, 1969

Mr. William C. Ball
Executive Assistant
Office of the Governor
Local

Dear Mr. Ball:

Reference is made to your letters of March 28 and April 1, 1969, in which you set forth: That Governor Hughes appointed three persons to the Tax Review Board, three persons to the State Board of Public Instruction and five persons to the Council of Social Services; that Governor Ray subsequently submitted to the Senate the names of certain persons for consideration for appointment to these offices; and that three of the persons whose names were so submitted by Governor Ray were approved by the Senate during the current (1969) session, one for the Tax Review Board and two for the Council of Social Services.

Concerning these proceedings, your letters propound the following questions:

"1. What is the duty of the Iowa Senate to act upon confirmation of these appointees of former Governor Hughes without formal submission to the Senate by former Governor Hughes when there has been entry of the appointments into the Executive Journal?

"Must Governor Ray formally submit the names of the appointments made by former Governor Hughes for Senate confirmation, and only in the event these appointees are rejected by the Senate may he then proceed by placing before the Senate the names of his appointees for confirmation?"

"2. When is a Gubernatorial appointment valid—at the time the appointment is made or on the date of confirmation? In other words, are these appointments nominations to be confirmed by the Senate, vesting no title to the office until both Governor and Senate concur, thus allowing the Governor to substitute new nominations? On this question your attention is directed to section 2.40 of the 1966 Code of Iowa, which uses the word 'nomination' when referring to the Senate procedures in confirming public officers."

On these questions, your attention is directed to my opinion issued February 28, 1969, at the request of Lester D. Menke, president, State Board of Public Instruction, which made clear that the Senate may act upon Governor Hughes' appointees to that board "at any time prior to adjournment of the present session, there being no time specified by law or the constitution in this regard"; that "until the senate does so act before adjournment, all three of these appointees are members of the state board of public instruction, entitled to act accordingly"; and that the nomination of Mrs. Cole (the only one of the three proposed by Governor Ray who was not appointed by Governor Hughes) "may not be acted upon".

There appears no necessity here to repeat the substance of the opinion of February 28, which applies with equal cogency to appointments to other agencies, as well as to the state board of public instruction.

Further, with reference to Question 1, the law provides as follows for appointment of members of the three agencies here concerned:

The state board (of public instruction) "shall be appointed by the governor with the approval of two thirds of the members of the senate . . ." Chapter 244, §23, Acts of the 62nd G.A.

"Members (of the State Board of Tax Review) shall be appointed by the governor subject to the confirmation of two thirds of the members of the senate . . ." Chapter 342, §1, ¶4, Acts of the 62nd G.A.

"The council (on Social Services) shall consist of five members appointed by the governor with the consent of two thirds of the senate . . ." Chapter 209, §2, Acts of the 62nd G.A.

An appointment is an executive act; once made it is irrevocable, unless the power to revoke is granted by constitution or the law, which in Iowa it is not. 42 Am. Jur. 960, 89 A.L.R. 138, and cases there cited.

The power to confirm, approve or consent to the appointments by Governor Hughes is vested in the Iowa senate by the three Acts which have been indicated. A procedure for such action is found in the law. §2.40, Code of Iowa, 1966. As a matter of law, the Senate has notice of the appointments made by Governor Hughes and entered in the Executive Journal, maintained pursuant to law. §7.2, Code of Iowa, 1966. See Barrett vs. Duff, 114 Kan. 721, 217 p. 918.

1. Thus, in answer to the first division of your first question, the right of the senate to take up these appointments is clear. Bell vs. Sampson, 232 Ky. 376, 23 S.W. 2d 575. What the duty of the senate may be in this regard neither the judicial nor the executive departments may presume to say; no officer of one department may exercise any function appertaining to either of the others. Iowa Constitution, Article III, §1. Moreover, each house of the General Assembly has exclusive power to determine its rules of proceedings. Iowa Constitution, Article III, §8. As to the second division of your first question, the senate having notice of the appointments by Governor Hughes, there is no necessity for Governor Ray to communicate those appointments to the Senate. The governor may make appointments to fill vacancies, should any occur, by resignation, death, failure to receive senate approval or otherwise; he may submit to the senate for approval prospective appointments to full terms prior to the commencement of such terms, e.g. those of Mr. Hicklin and Mr. Albert.

2. In answer to your second question, the appointments by Governor Hughes were effective when the appointees qualified and assumed their offices. The dates of confirmation have no bearing on the effective date of the appointment. As noted, Mr. Hicklin, who was confirmed, and Mr. Albert, assuming his confirmation, may assume their offices upon the date fixed by law for the commencement of the full terms for which they were appointed.

CAVEAT

In my opinion of February 28, 1969, I noted that Governor Hughes' appointment of three members to the state board of public instruction was subject to approval by the senate; that the senate had not acted upon said appointment and "it (the senate) may do so at any time prior to adjournment of the present session, there being no particular time limit specified by law or the constitution in this regard." In other words, if the senate did not act upon the appointments by the end of the present session, those particular offices would become vacant because the failure to act would constitute a rejection. However, I am aware that each house of the legislature is now considering new rules which may carry over pending business from the first annual session of the 63rd general assembly to the second annual session thereof. See OAG 3/24/69, Turner to Millen. In making such rules as may be applicable to the senate, consideration should be given to the problem of whether pending appointments of the governor on which no action has been taken by the senate will or will not be held over to the next session as part of the pending business.

Sincerely yours
RICHARD C. TURNER

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RULES

MR. PRESIDENT: Your committee on rules begs leave to report that it has had the permanent rules under consideration and recommends that the following be adopted as the permanent rules of the Senate for the Sixty-third General Assembly:

Rule 1

Quorum

A constitutional majority shall constitute a quorum of the Senate. Any Senator may insist a quorum be present.

Rule 2

Adoption and Amendment of Rules

Whenever the Senate is operating under temporary rules, the rules may be amended or repealed, or permanent rules may be adopted, by a constitutional majority of the Senators. After adoption of permanent rules of the Senate during any General Assembly, the rules may be amended or repealed by a vote of forty-one Senators.

Rule 3

Rules of Parliamentary Procedure

In cases not covered by the Senate rules or joint rules, Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure shall govern.

Rule 4

Sessions of a General Assembly

The organization and committees of the Senate and action taken by the Senate shall carry over from the first to the second regular session of the same General Assembly. The status of each bill and resolution shall be the same at the beginning of the second regular session as it was immediately before adjournment of the first regular session.

Rule 5

Regular Order of Daily Business

The following order shall govern, subject to any special order:

1. Correction of the Journal.
2. Introduction of bills.
3. Resolutions.
4. Communications to the Senate.
5. Reports of committees.
6. Unfinished business before the Senate.
7. Consideration of daily calendar.

Rule 6

Senate Calendar

Bills reported out by a committee for passage, amendment and passage, or without recommendation shall be arranged each day at 4:30 p.m. by the Secretary on a daily calendar in the order of the file numbers of the bills and following the preceding legislative day's calendar. Priority shall be given to Senate over House bills and to joint resolutions over bills. The combined daily calendars shall make up the Senate calendar or order for consideration of bills.

There shall be an appropriations calendar for appropriations committee bills and a ways and means calendar for ways and means committee bills.

Special orders shall be at the head of the calendar followed by any unfinished business.

The Senate may provide at any time for a separate category on the calendar to be listed as the "noncontroversial calendar" with special rules to apply.

Rule 7

Steering Committee

The Senate may authorize a steering committee. The function of the steering committee shall be to create its own calendar from the bills on the regular calendar. Bills on the steering committee calendar shall have priority over bills on all other calendars, except appropriations and ways and means calendars.

Rule 8

Consideration of Special Orders

When any special order of the day is not considered on the day assigned, it shall stand at the top of the unfinished business calendar.

Rule 9

Unfinished Business After a Special Order

When the pending question is interrupted by a special order, it shall;

upon the disposal of the special order, be before the Senate in the same stage as if it had not been interrupted.

Rule 10

When Eligible for Consideration

Bills, resolutions, and appointments shall be eligible for consideration by the Senate as follows:

1. An appointment by the Governor which requires Senate confirmation shall be eligible one week after the President appoints the committee to investigate the appointee.

2. A resolution shall be eligible on the next legislative day after it is introduced or received. This paragraph does not apply to resolutions referred to committee.

3. A bill reported out by a committee shall be eligible one legislative day after it is first printed in the Senate calendar.

4. A committee bill sponsored by the appropriations committee or the ways and means committee shall be eligible one legislative day after it is first printed in the Senate calendar.

5. Any other committee bill shall be eligible three legislative days after it is first printed in the Senate calendar.

When a bill on the calendar is not yet eligible, the date when it will become eligible shall be printed in the calendar.

Rule 11

Debate and Decorum

Before addressing the Senate, the Senator shall rise from his seat, respectfully address himself to "Mr. President", and be recognized. He shall confine himself to the question under debate and avoid discussing personalities or implication of improper motives.

Rule 12

Point of Personal Privilege

A point of personal privilege shall only be recognized when there is no motion pending or other business being considered by the Senate. Senators speaking on a point of personal privilege shall be limited to ten minutes.

Rule 13

Introduction and Presentation of Guests

Only former members of the Senate and former and present members of Congress shall be presented to the Senate, except that the President of the Senate may present a visitor whose presence is of special significance to the Senate. No presentation shall be made during debate or discussion on legislation. The presence of school groups accompanied by school officials shall be announced by the President of the Senate and shall be recorded in the Journal upon the written request of a member of the Senate.

Rule 14

Form and Withdrawal of Motions and Amendments

Motions need not be in writing unless required by the President or by the Senate. No motion requires a second. Any motion or resolution may be withdrawn by the mover if it has not been amended by the Senate and if no amendment is pending. All amendments to bills, resolutions, and reports shall be in writing and filed at the desk before being acted upon by the Senate.

Rule 15

Order and Precedence of Motions

When a question is under debate, no motion shall be received but to adjourn, to recess, questions of privilege, to lay on the table, for the previous question, to postpone to a day certain, to refer, to amend, to postpone indefinitely, to defer, or incidental motions. Such motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are named. No motion to postpone to a day certain, to refer, or postpone indefinitely, being decided, shall be again allowed on the same day with regard to the same question. A motion to strike out the enacting clause of a bill shall have precedence over a motion to amend and, if carried, shall be considered equivalent to the rejection of the bill.

Rule 16

Motions Not Debatable

A motion to adjourn, to recess, to lay on the table, or for the previous question, all incidental motions thereto, and other motions customarily not debatable, shall be decided without debate.

Rule 17

Division of the Question

Any Senator may call for a division of a question, which shall be divided if it includes propositions so distinct that if one is taken away, a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the Senate. A motion to strike out and insert is indivisible; but a motion to strike out, if lost, shall not preclude amendments to the matter attempted to be stricken or a motion to strike out and insert.

Rule 18

The Previous Question

The previous question shall be in this form: "Shall debate be closed on the pending question?" A motion for the previous question may be adopted by a majority of the Senators present and voting. Its effect shall be to put an end to debate and bring the Senate to a direct vote upon the pending question. However, any Senator who has not previously spoken on the pending question and who, after the main question is taken up and before the motion for the previous question has been made, has filed with the President a written request to be heard on the pending question may speak no longer than five minutes on the pending question. If action on the pending question continues into another legislative day or is deferred, the previous question shall apply and the written requests to be heard shall be honored.

When the motion applies to an amendment, the Senator proposing the amendment shall have five minutes to close debate on the amendment.

The Senator handling the measure under consideration shall have ten minutes to close debate on the main question.

Rule 19

Call of the Senate

Fifteen Senators may file in writing a call of the Senate on any item of legislative business. A call of the Senate requires the presence of every Senator. The Sergeant-at-Arms shall return promptly all absent Senators. Adoption of a motion to recess or adjourn to a specific time will not lift the call. The call may be lifted, or a Senator may be excused from the call without lifting the call, by a vote of a constitutional majority of the Senators.

Rule 20

Committee of the Whole

The Senate may resolve itself into a committee of the whole Senate when it wishes to permit more free and informal discussion of any question than could be permitted in the Senate acting under its ordinary rules of procedure. Persons other than Senators may appear and present information.

Any Senator may move "that the Senate now resolve itself into a committee of the whole to consider" a stated subject. The motion to resolve into a committee of the whole is equivalent to a motion to refer.

The President of the Senate shall be chairman of the committee of the whole unless otherwise ordered by the Senate.

The procedure in committee of the whole is subject to the rules of the Senate. The previous question and the motion to reconsider shall be in order.

The committee of the whole cannot take any final action and its power is limited to recommendation to the Senate. The proceedings of the committee of the whole, including any roll call vote, shall be printed in the Journal.

Any Senator may at any time, except while voting or while a Senator has the floor, move that "the committee rise and report" which is equivalent to a motion to adjourn.

After adoption of the motion to rise, the chairman shall report to the Senate in the same manner as other committee reports are given.

Rule 21

Last Reading and Passage of Bills

When a motion to place a bill on its last reading is lost, the same motion shall be in order at any later time. After the last reading of a bill, no amendment shall be received. The vote on final passage shall be immediately taken without debate.

Rule 22

Engrossment of Bills

An engrossment is a proofreading and verification in order to be certain that a bill before the Senate is identical with the original bill as introduced with all amendments which have been adopted correctly inserted. A bill shall be considered engrossed when ordered to its last reading.

Rule 23

Manner of Voting

On voice vote, the question shall be distinctly put in this form: "Those in favor of (the question) say 'aye'." "Those opposed to (the question) say 'no'." If the President is in doubt or if any Senator requests a division before the result is announced, the Senate shall divide—those in the affirmative of the question shall first rise from their seats and afterward those in the negative.

A roll call vote may be requested by any Senator at any time before the result is announced.

Senators may vote at any time until the result of the vote is announced.

Rule 24

Duty and Right of Voting

Every Senator present when a question is put shall vote unless he is excused by the Senate. He may vote "present" if he has a personal interest in the question or concludes that he should not vote under the Senate code of ethics. Any Senator may vote "present" in other situations; but when a demand is made by any Senator, he shall vote "aye" or "no".

Rule 25

Reconsideration

When a motion or question has been decided by the Senate, any Senator having voted on the prevailing side may move to reconsider the vote on the same or next legislative day. A constitutional majority is necessary to reconsider an action. During three legislative days from the date the motion is filed, only the mover may call it up. Thereafter, any Senator may call the motion up.

If the motion to reconsider a bill or resolution prevails, motions to reconsider amendments thereto shall be in order and shall be disposed of without delay.

A motion that any action taken by the Senate be reconsidered and the motion to reconsider be laid upon the table shall be a single and indivisible motion which, if carried, shall have the effect of preventing reconsideration unless a motion to take from the table prevails.

Rule 26

Suspension of Rules and Taking from Table

No standing rule or order of the Senate shall be rescinded or suspended, nor shall any matter, tabled upon motion, be taken up, except by a vote of forty-one Senators.

INTRODUCTION AND FORM OF BILLS

Rule 27

Method of Introducing Bills

All bills to be introduced in the Senate shall be typed into proper form by the legislative research bureau and shall be filed with the Secretary of the Senate not later than 3:00 p.m.

Rule 28

Time of Introduction of Bills

No bill shall be introduced in the Senate after 4:00 p.m. on Friday of the seventh week of the first regular session of a General Assembly unless a written request for drafting the bill has been filed with the legislative research bureau before that time. After adjournment of the first regular session, bills may be prefiled at any time before the convening of the second regular session. No bill shall be introduced after 4:00 p.m. on Friday of the second week of the second regular session of a General Assembly unless a written request for drafting the bill has been filed with the legislative research bureau before that time. However, standing committees may introduce bills at any time.

Rule 29

Introduction, Reading, and Form of Bills

Every Senate bill shall be introduced by one or more Senators or by any standing committee of the Senate and shall at once be given its first reading. Every bill shall have received two readings before its passage. The object of every bill shall be expressed in its title.

Rule 80

Explanations

No bill, except appropriations committee bills, shall be introduced unless a concise and accurate explanation is attached. The chief sponsor or a committee to which the bill has been referred may add a revised explanation at any time before the last reading, and it shall be included in the daily clip sheet.

Rule 31

Fiscal Notes

A fiscal note shall be attached to any bill which would have an annual effect or a total effect within five years after enactment of fifty thousand dollars or more on the revenues, expenditures, or fiscal liability of the state or its subdivisions. This rule does not apply to appropriations measures whose total effect is stated in dollar amounts.

The fiscal note shall be attached to the bill before introduction if practicable, and in any event before the bill is reported out by a committee.

A fiscal note may be requested by the chief sponsor of a bill or proposed bill, by a committee or the chairman of a committee to which the bill has been referred, or by the Senate.

A revised fiscal note may be requested in the same manner as an original fiscal note if the fiscal effect of the bill has been changed by adoption of an amendment or if the original fiscal note is believed to be incorrect. However, a request for a revised fiscal note shall not delay action on a bill unless otherwise ordered by the Senate.

Requests for fiscal notes shall be in writing, addressed to the legislative fiscal director, and accompanied by a copy of the bill.

The legislative fiscal director shall prepare and return the fiscal note within five legislative days after receiving the request. He may request the cooperation of the state comptroller and any state department or agency. If a fiscal note is prepared by the comptroller at the request of the fiscal director, that fact shall be stated in the note.

Each fiscal note shall state in dollars the estimated effect of the bill on the revenues, expenditures, and fiscal liability of the state or its subdivisions during each of the first five years after enactment. Sources of funds for expenditures under the bill shall be stated, including federal funds. If the fiscal director cannot make an accurate estimate, he shall state his best available estimate together with his qualifications or shall state that no dollar estimate can be made and state concisely the reason.

The fiscal note shall be attached to the bill following the explanation and shall be printed together with the bill or in the daily clip sheet.

Forms and procedures for fiscal notes shall be prescribed by the Secretary of the Senate with the consent of the legislative fiscal director as to matters affecting his office.

Rule 32

Resolutions

1. A "Senate resolution" is a resolution to be acted upon only by the Senate which expresses sympathy or appreciation or is used for the appointment of special committees within the Senate. A Senate resolution requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the Senators present and voting. It shall be filed with the Secretary of the Senate and printed in the Journal.

2. A "concurrent resolution" is a resolution to be adopted by both houses of the General Assembly which expresses the sentiment of the General Assembly or deals with temporary legislative matters. It may authorize for any legislative purpose the expenditure of funds appropriated to the General Assembly. A concurrent resolution is not limited to, but may provide for a joint convention of the General Assembly, adjournment or recess of the General Assembly, or requests to a state agency or to the General Assembly or a committee. A concurrent resolution requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the Senators present and voting. It shall be filed with the Secretary of the Senate and printed in the Journal.

3. A "joint resolution" is a resolution which follows the same legislative procedures as a bill and requires for approval the affirmative vote of a constitutional majority of each house of the General Assembly. A joint resolution which appropriates funds or enacts temporary laws must contain the clause "Be It Enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa," is equivalent to a bill, and must be transmitted to the Governor for his approval. A joint resolution which proposes amendments to the Constitution of the State of Iowa, ratifies amendments to the Constitution of the United States, proposes a request to Congress or an agency of the government of the United States of America, proposes to Congress an amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America, or creates a special commission or committee must contain the clause "Be It Resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:" and shall not be transmitted to the Governor.

Rule 33

Resolutions, Applicable Rules

All rules applicable to bills shall apply to joint resolutions. Any resolution may be referred to committee and thereafter shall be subject to the same committee and calendar procedures applicable to bills.

COMMITTEES AND COMMITMENT

Rule 34

Committee Appointments

Committee appointments shall be made by the President after consultation with the leadership of each political party, and membership shall be in the ratio that the numerical strength of each party bears to the total membership of the Senate. No Senator shall serve on more than four committees.

Rule 35

Standing Committees

The names of the standing committees of the Senate shall be: agriculture; appropriations; cities and towns; commerce; conservation and recreation; constitutional amendments and reapportionment; county government; higher education; human and industrial relations; Iowa development; judiciary; law enforcement; rules; schools; social services; state government; transportation; and ways and means.

Rule 36

Committee on Enrolled Bills

A committee on enrolled bills consisting of two Senators appointed by the President shall examine each bill passed by both houses of the General Assembly and verify that such bill has been correctly enrolled. The committee shall file a report in the Journal which shall be deemed adopted unless objection is made within one legislative day thereafter.

Rule 37

First Reading and Commitment

Upon the first reading of an individual bill, the President shall refer it to an appropriate standing committee unless otherwise ordered by the Senate. If the bill is a committee bill, the President shall place it on the calendar after its first reading. If the subject of the bill is not germane to the title of the committee presenting it, the President of the Senate may refer it to a committee deemed appropriate. All bills appropriating state funds shall be referred to the committee on appropriations.

Rule 38

Rules for Standing Committees

The following rules shall govern all standing committees of the Senate. Any committee may adopt additional rules which are consistent with these rules:

1. A majority of the members shall constitute a quorum.
2. The chairman of a committee shall refer each bill to a subcommittee within seven days after the bill has been referred to the committee. The chairman may appoint subcommittees for study of bills without calling a meeting of the committee, but the subcommittee must be announced at the next meeting of the committee. No bill shall be reported out of a committee until the next meeting after the subcommittee is announced.
3. No bill shall be considered by a committee until it has been referred to a subcommittee and the subcommittee has made its report unless otherwise ordered by two-thirds majority of the committee.

4. The rules adopted by a committee, including these rules, may be suspended by an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the members. Additional rules adopted by a committee may be amended or deleted by an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the members.

5. The affirmative vote of a majority of the members of a committee is needed to sponsor a committee bill or to report a committee bill out for passage.

6. The vote on all bills shall be by roll call and a record shall be kept by the secretary.

Rule 39

Voting in Committee

All committee meetings shall be open at all times. Voting by secret ballot is prohibited. Roll call votes shall be taken in each committee when final action on any bill is voted, or at the request of a member upon any amendment or motion. All results shall be entered in the minutes, which shall be public records. Records of these votes shall be made available by the chairman or his secretary at any time. This rule also applies to the steering committee and appropriations subcommittees.

Rule 40

Announcement of Committee Meetings

It shall be in order for the chairman of any committee to announce to the Senate the time and place of committee meetings. The Sergeant-at-Arms shall post at the rear of the chamber the daily schedule of committee meetings.

Rule 41

Time of Making Committee Reports

The Secretary of the Senate shall note on each bill the date of its reference to committee. Each committee shall report back to the Senate all bills referred to it. No bill shall be withdrawn from any committee within fifteen legislative days after the bill has been referred to the committee and thereafter only upon written petition for the withdrawal of such bill signed by a constitutional majority of the Senators. Only Senators may circulate such a petition.

Rule 42

Committee Reports

All reports of committees (except the committee on enrolled bills) on bills shall be made in triplicate to the Secretary of the Senate and shall accompany the original bill. However, the committee on enrolled bills and the committee on rules may report at any time when no Senator is addressing the Senate.

Rule 43

Bills Recommended for Indefinite Postponement

When a question is postponed indefinitely, it shall not be again acted upon during that General Assembly. If a bill is reported back from a committee recommending indefinite postponement, the report shall be placed on the calendar and shall be disposed of within three legislative days. If not, the committee recommendation shall be considered adopted. However, no Senate bill recommended for indefinite postponement shall be considered in the absence of the chief sponsor or, if a House bill, in the absence of the Senator representing the district in which the sponsor resides. If a committee report recommends indefinite postponement, it shall require a vote of forty-one Senators to prevent indefinite postponement, and debate shall be limited to ten minutes on each side.

GENERAL RULES

Rule 44

Admission to Senate Chamber and Prohibition of Lobbying

While the Senate is in session and for a period of ten minutes before the convening of any session, only legislators, employees of the legislature, authorized interns, and legislative aides shall be allowed in the Senate chamber. Former legislators not registered as lobbyists in either house shall also be admitted to the Senate floor. News reporters shall be permitted to occupy the seats assigned for the press and to go to or from those seats. No other persons shall be allowed on the Senate floor without express permission of the presiding officer of the Senate.

Rule 45

Clearing of Lobby and Gallery

In case of disturbance or disorderly conduct in the lobby or gallery, the presiding officer may order it cleared.

Rule 46

Presentation of Petitions

Each petition shall contain a brief statement of its subject matter and the name of the Senator presenting it. Petitions shall be filed with the Secretary of the Senate and shall be noted in the Journal.

Rule 47

Distribution of Printed Material

No general distribution of printed material in the Senate shall be allowed unless authorized by the Secretary of the Senate or by a Senator.

Rule 48

Concerning the Printing of Papers

Any paper, other than that contemplated by section 10, article III, of the Constitution of the State of Iowa, presented to the Senate may, with the consent of a constitutional majority, be printed in the Journal.

Rule 49

Reprinting of Bills

Whenever any bill has been substantially amended by the Senate, the Secretary of the Senate shall order the bill reprinted on paper of a different color. All adopted amendments shall be distinguishable.

The Secretary of the Senate may order the printing of a reasonable number of additional copies of any bill, resolution, amendment, or journal.

OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES

Rule 50

Duties of the President

The President shall call the Senate to order at the hour to which the Senate is adjourned. He shall proceed with the regular order of daily business unless otherwise ordered by the Senate. The President shall preserve order and decorum and decide all questions of order and corrections to the Journal, subject to an appeal to the Senate.

Rule 51

The President Pro Tempore

The Senate shall elect a President pro tempore. When the President is absent, the President pro tempore shall preside, except when the chair is filled by temporary appointment by the President.

Rule 52

Secretary of the Senate

The Secretary of the Senate shall be an employee of the Senate and shall:

1. Have charge of the Secretary's desk.
2. Be responsible for the custody and safekeeping of all bills, resolutions, and amendments filed, except while they are in the custody of a committee.
3. Have charge of the daily Journal.
4. Have control of all rooms assigned for the use of the Senate.
5. Clear all bills as to proper form prior to introduction and keep a detailed record of Senate action thereon.
6. Process the handling of amendments when filed and during the floor consideration of bills.
7. Insert adopted amendments into bills before transmittal to the House of Representatives and prior to final enrollment.
8. Prescribe the duties of and supervise all Senate employees.
9. Be in charge of legislative printing and its distribution.
10. Serve as parliamentarian for the Senate.

Rule 53

Sergeant-at-Arms

The Sergeant-at-Arms shall:

1. Wear the appropriate badge of his office.
2. Attend the Senate during its sessions.
3. Aid in the enforcement of order under the direction of the President of the Senate and Secretary.
4. Execute the commands of the Senate.
5. See that no unauthorized person disturbs the contents of the Senators' desks.
6. Supervise the doorkeepers, assistant sergeant-at-arms, and pages.
7. Announce all delegates from the Governor or House.
8. Supervise the seating of visitors and press representatives.

LUCAS J. DeKOSTER

- 1 Amend Senate File 589 as follows:
2 1. Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert
3 in lieu thereof the following:
4 Section 1. Chapter three hundred fifty-four (354), section
5 one (1), Acts of the Sixty-second General Assembly, amending
6 section four hundred forty-one point twenty-one (441.21), Code
7 1966, is hereby amended as follows:
8 1. By striking lines ten (10) through twenty-two (22),
9 inclusive, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:
10 "The actual value of all property subject to assessment and 11 taxation shall be the fair and reasonable market value of such 12 property.
13 1. In determining the fair and reasonable market value of 14 property, the assessors and property tax division of the de-
15 partment of revenue shall consider its current use, its produc-
16 tivity, earning capacity, if any, capitalized at commonly 17 accepted interest rates, industrial conditions, its cost,
18 physical and functional depreciation, obsolescence and replace-
19 ment cost, relative location, sales of the same or similar 20 property if available, and all other factors which would assist
21 in determining the fair and reasonable market value of the prop-
22 erty, but not its potential value or use. All of the above
23 factors shall be considered where applicable, in arriving at 24 the fair and reasonable market value, but shall not be deter-
25 mined by only one such factor.
26 Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the 27 actual value of any property shall not exceed its fair and 28 reasonable market value.
29 2. 'Market value' sales are defined as the fair and reason-
30 able exchange in the year in which the property is listed and 31 valued between a willing and able buyer and a willing seller,
32 neither being under any compulsion to buy or sell and each
33 being familiar with all the facts relating to the particular
34 property. Sale prices of the property or comparable property
35 in normal transactions reflecting current market value, and the 36 probable availability or unavailability of persons interested
37 in purchasing the property, shall be taken into consideration
38 in arriving at its market value; however, the following shall 39 not be taken into consideration: Sales where real estate would 40 be joined or become a part of an existing unit, sales to imme-
41 diate members of a family, gifts, foreclosures or liquidation
42 or forced sales; nor other unusual sales, contract sales unless

43 comparable to market value as herein defined, and prospective
44 uses or values.

45 3. The director of revenue shall adopt uniform rules and 46 regulations for assessing and valuing property for tax purposes
47 which shall be adjusted as conditions dictate, to provide 48 uniformity and equalization of valuations of property within 49 and among taxing districts, but such rules and regulations shall 50 not be inconsistent with or change the foregoing formulas for 51 determining the actual assessment values.

52 4. 'Sales ratios' may be used as a guide by local and state
53 assessing authorities for the purpose of equalizing assessments
54 and valuations for taxing purposes; however, only sales as 55 herein defined shall be so used. When used, sales of the last 56 three years shall constitute the basis in computing the sales
57 ratio. The local assessor shall provide all information and 58 record as required by the department of revenue or as other-
59 wise provided by law."

60 2. By striking lines twenty-seven (27) through forty-three 61 (43), inclusive.

62 3. By striking lines fifty (50) through fifty-six (56),
63 inclusive, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

64 "In assessing property, the burden of proof shall be upon
65 any complainant attacking such valuation as excessive, inade-
66 quate, inequitable, or capricious; however, in protest or 67 appeal proceedings when the complainant offers competent evi-
68 dence by two persons not having an interest in the property that 69 the actual value of the property is less than the actual value
70 determined by the assessor or board of review as the case may 71 be, the burden of proof thereafter shall be upon the official
72 or person seeking to uphold such valuation for taxation pur-
73 poses. Any comparison of properties shall be of like properties
74 in the same district or area within Iowa.

75 Upon written request of a taxpayer the assessing body shall 76 disclose all information in any formula or method used to deter-
77 mine the actual value of his property."

78 Sec. 2. Chapter three hundred fifty-four (354), section one 79 (1), line twenty-four (24), is hereby amended by adding after 80 the word "bulk", the following:

81 "of the total quantity to a single buyer".

82 Section four hundred twenty-eight point seventeen (428.17) is 83 hereby repealed.

84 Sec. 3. Chapter three hundred fifty-four (354), section
85 eight (8), Acts of the Sixty-second General Assembly, amending
86 section four hundred twenty-eight point four (428.4), Code
87 1966, is hereby amended by striking from line three (3) the 88 figure "1968" and inserting in lieu thereof the figure "1973".

89 Sec. 4. Section four hundred twenty-eight point four (428.4),
90 Code 1966, as amended by chapter three hundred fifty-four (354),
91 section eight (8), and chapter three hundred fifty-six (356),
92 section forty (40), Acts of the Sixty-second General Assembly,
93 is hereby further amended by adding thereto the following:

94 "No listing and valuing in any taxing district shall be
95 made prior to 1973 except as ordered by the director of revenue
96 for purposes of equalization, or as otherwise provided by law.
97 The Director shall review any orders and shall equalize
98 assessments in the year 1970 pursuant to the provisions of this

99 Act."
100 2. Further amend Senate File 589 by striking line 1 from page 1
101 and insert in lieu thereof the following:

102 1. "An Act relating to the valuation and assessment of 103 property for purposes of taxation."

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

We voted against Senate File 609 for the following reasons:

The bill is much too vague in its purposes and as a result could in effect provide the office of the Governor with a $175,000.00 slush fund, at a time when the recommended budget for the Governor's Office has been increased 52 percent over the previous budget.

It is our position that some of the purposes outlined by the proponents are worthwhile but that the passage of Senate File 609 gives no assurance that the money will be expended for the purposes suggested by the proponents of the bill.

It was further pointed out and admitted by proponents handling the bill that it is possible that much of the money could be used to employ high paid personnel on the local level. Therefore we found it necessary to vote against Senate File 609.

35 since the latest available federal census, the mayor and council shall 36 certify to the treasurer of state the actual population of such in-37 corporated city or town as of the date of incorporation and its 38 apportionment of funds under this chapter shall be based upon such 39 certification until the next federal census enumeration. Any community
40 which has dissolved its corporation shall not receive any apportion-
41 ment of funds under this chapter after its dissolution.

42 Sec. 5. In any case where a city or town has annexed any terri-
43 tory since the last regular or special federal census, the mayor and 44 council shall certify to the treasurer of state the actual population 45 of such annexed territory as determined by the last certified federal 46 census of said territory and the apportionment of funds under this 47 chapter shall be based upon the population of said city or town as 48 modified by the certification of the population of the annexed terri-
49 tory until the next regular or special federal census enumeration.

50 Sec. 6. In any case where two or more cities or towns have 51 consolidated, the apportionment of funds under this section shall be 52 based upon the population of the city or town resulting from said con-
53 solidation and shall be determined by combining the population of all 54 cities and towns involved in the consolidation as determined by the 55 last regular or special federal census enumeration for said consoli-
56 dating city or town.

57 Sec. 7. Section twenty-six point six (26.6), Code 1966, as

HOUSE AMENDMENT CONSIDERED

Senate File 226

Senator Kosek called up for consideration Senate File 226, a bill for an act relating to the control and diagnosis of venereal disease, amended by the House, and moved that the Senate concur in the following amendment:

Amend Senate File 226 as follows:

1. Section 3, by striking from lines two (2) and three (3) of said section the word "inguinal" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "inguinale".

2. Section 6, by striking from line six (6) of said section the word "inguinal" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "inguinale".

3. Section 9, by striking the period at the end of said section and adding thereto the following: "and if infected, to treatment. Such person shall be treated until certified to the local board of health or, if none, to the state department of health as no longer infectious. In every case of treatment ordered by the district court the attending physician shall so certify that the person is no longer infectious."

4. Section 10, page 3, amend by adding the following thereto: "The physician shall notify the parents of such minor child that the child does have a venereal disease when the results of the diagnosis indicate that the child might communicate the disease to other members of his family."

5. Section 12, amend by striking the last four lines of said section and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "pregnant woman reacts positively to such test, then, if she is married, the husband and other children by the same mother shall be subjected to the same blood tests as herein provided. If the pregnant woman is single, then the person responsible for the pregnancy and other children by the same mother shall be subjected to the same blood tests as herein provided."

The Senate concurred in the House amendment.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE PIONEER LAWMAKERS

Senator Lisle asked and received unanimous consent that the following resolution be printed in the Journal:

Whereas, the practice of publishing all of the names of present and former members of the General Assembly of Iowa in the Official Register was discontinued after the publication of the Official Register for 1941-1942; and

Whereas, it is the opinion of the officers and members of the Pioneer Lawmakers of Iowa that such practice should be restored;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the Pioneer Lawmakers of Iowa, in convention assembled, in the City of Des Moines, Iowa, this 8rd day of April, 1969, that we implore the General Assembly to enact a concurrent resolution which shall provide for the restoration of the practice of publishing the names of all present and former legislators, together with informative data, much in the fashion found in the 1941-1942, in all future publications of the Iowa Official Register.

Be It Further Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be delivered to the President of the Senate and to the Speaker of the House.

The bill having received a constitutional majority was declared to have passed the Senate and the title was agreed to.

House File 345

On motion of Senator Benda, House File 345, a bill for an act relating to school buses, with report of committee recommending amendment and passage, was taken up, considered, and the report of the committee adopted.

The following committee amendment was considered:

House File 345 is hereby amended by adding the following new section:

Sec. 5. This Act being of immediate importance shall take effect and be in force from and after its publication in The Sioux City Journal, Sioux City, Iowa, and The Donnellson Review, Donnellson, Iowa.

The amendment was adopted.

Senator Rigler took the chair at 4:25 p.m.

Senator Walsh offered the following amendment by Senators Walsh et al.

Amend House File 345 by adding the following thereto:

1. Sec. —. Chapter two hundred eighty-five (285), of the Code, is hereby amended by the following new sections:

(1). "The board of directors in every school district that operates or provides any school bus, common carrier, or other conveyance for transporting resident pupils to and from a public school may permit resident pupils attending any non-public school, kindergarten through twelfth grade, within the district to ride such transportation facility without cost, if such pupil would qualify for transportation if he were attending a public school."

(2). "Any non-public school pupil entitled to transportation as determined by the local school board under this Act shall meet or depart the transportation facility at that point on the established pupil school route nearest or most easily accessible from the home of the pupil. The pupil shall be permitted to ride the transportation facility to and from the point on the established public school route nearest to or which affords the most convenient access to the non-public school of attendance."

(3). "A school district shall not reimburse any parent or guardian for transporting any non-public school pupil between the home of the pupil and any point on the established public school route."

2. Sec. —. Section two hundred eighty-five point five (285.5), subsection one (1), of the Code, is hereby amended by striking from lines two through four the words "and be for the transportation of children who attend public school".

3. Sec. —. Section two hundred eighty-five point ten (285.10), subsection one (1), of the Code, is hereby amended by striking from line two the words "attends public school, and who".

Senator Walsh moved that further action on House File 345 be deferred and that the bill be placed on the calendar under unfinished business.

Senator Hill raised a point of order that the amendment was not germane to the bill.

The Chair ruled that he will leave it up to the Senate to determine whether or not the amendment is germane.

Senator Stanley raised a point of order that under Senate Rule 50 it is the duty of the Chair to rule on the germaneness of the amendment.

The Chair ruled that in this instance it was proper to let the Senate make the decision.

Senator Stephens moved that the Walsh, et al., amendment be laid on the table.

Roll call was requested.

On the question "Shall the Walsh, et al., amendment be laid on the table?" (H.F. 345) the vote was:

ROBERT R. RIGLER

1 Amend House File 680 by striking all after the enacting
2 clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

3 Section 1. As used in this Act, unless the context re-
4 quires otherwise:

5 1. "The secretary" means the secretary of the United
6 States department of housing and urban development.

7 2. "This act" means Section 1223 of the Housing and Urban
8 Development Act of 1968, Public Law 90-448, 90th Congress
9 approved August 1, 1968.

10 3. "The fund" or "fund" means the federal riot reinsur-
11 ance reimbursement fund referred to in this Act.

12 4. "Commissioner" means the commissioner of insurance.

13 Sec. 2. There is hereby created the federal riot rein-
14 surance reimbursement fund in the office of the treasurer
15 of state which shall be operated under the joint control of 16 the director of revenue and the commissioner. The fund
17 shall consist of all payments made by insurers in accord-
18 ance with the provisions of this Act. The director of 19 revenue shall have the same power to enforce the collection
20 of the assessments provided hereunder as any other obligation
21 due the state.

22 Sec. 3. The commissioner shall reimburse the secretary
23 in an amount up to five percent of the aggregate property
24 insurance premiums earned in this state during the calendar
25 year immediately preceding the calendar year with respect
26 to which the secretary paid losses on lines of insurance
27 reinsured by him in this state during that year and for which 28 he claims reimbursement from the fund in accordance with the 29 act.

30 Sec. 4. Whenever the secretary shall, in accordance with 31 the act, present to the state a request for reimbursement
32 under the act, the commissioner shall immediately assess all 33 insurers which, during the calendar year with respect to which 34 reimbursement is requested by the secretary, were licensed to 35 write and engaged in writing property insurance business, in-
36 cluding the property insurance components of multi-peril poli-
37 cies on a direct basis, in this state. The amount of each such 38 insurer's assessment shall be calculated by multiplying the 39 amount of the reimbursement requested by the secretary by a
40 fraction the numerator of which is the insurer's premium actu-
41 ally written in this state in that calendar year on habitation
42 and commercial property risks and the denominator of which is 43 the aggregate premiums written by all licensed insurers on 44 such property risks. In no event shall any insurer's assess-
45 ment be less than one hundred dollars.

46 Sec. 5. The secretary shall be reimbursed up to the amount
47 requested by warrants issued against the fund by the state
48 comptroller upon vouchers approved by the director of revenue
49 and the commissioner. If the assessment produces a fund greater 50 than the amount requested by the secretary, the overage shall 51 be placed in a special fund in the office of the treasurer of 52 state under the control of the commissioner and the director
53 of revenue and shall be applied to any subsequent requests
54 by the secretary for reimbursement of losses paid on lines
55 of insurance reinsured by him in this state in accordance with 56 the act.

57 In the event that the provisions of this Act and the assess-
58 ments made thereunder are no longer needed in order to effec-
59 tuate the program for which they were intended, the amounts
60 remaining in the special fund shall inure to the general fund
61 of the state.

62 Sec. 6. In the event any insurer fails, by reason of in-
63 solvency, to pay any assessment, the commissioner shall cause
64 the reimbursement ratios computed under section four (4) to be
65 immediately recalculated excluding therefrom the insolvent
66 insurer, so that its assessment is in effect assumed and re-
67 distributed among the remaining insurers.

68 Sec. 7. Insurers shall include in filings submitted pursuant 69 to chapter five hundred fifteen A (515A), Code of 1966, a factor, 70 applicable to the line or lines of insurance on which the 71 assessment is levied, sufficient to recover within not more
72 than three (3) years after the date of assessment any amounts
73 so assessed under Sec. 4 of this Act during the preceding cal-
74 endar year together with the amount of costs and expenses reason-
75 ably attributable to such assessment and recovery thereof.

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS

Senate File 40

On motion of Senator Benda, Senate File 40, a bill for an act to provide certain regulations in the procurement of insurance by a vendor of personal property sold on installment contracts, with report of committee recommending amendment and passage, was taken up, considered, and the report of the committee adopted.

Senator Benda asked and received unanimous consent to withdraw the amendment filed on January 22 and found on page 103 of the Senate Journal, and the amendment filed January 30 and found on page 158 of the Senate Journal.

Senator Benda offered the following amendment, as recommended by the committee:

Amend Senate File 40 as follows:

Senate File 40 is amended by striking all after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1.

1. Every vendor of personal property sold in the state under an installment contract who shall directly or indirectly procure or cause to be procured a policy of insurance protecting the vendor or the vendee of such property, or both, against loss by fire, windstorm, hail, theft, vandalism or other perils, shall comply with the requirements of subsections two (2), three (3), and four (4) of this section.

2. The insurance coverage shall be procured from a company or association licensed to do business in the state.

3. The installment contract of sale of such property shall set forth the fact that the vendor agrees to procure or cause to be procured a policy of insurance protecting the vendor or the vendee, or both, against loss by fire, windstorm, hail, theft, or other perils, and shall contain the following information:

a. Statement setting forth the name of the insurer and the address of its principal place of business.

b. Statement of the premium charge made by the insurer for such insurance coverage.

c. Statement of the charge made by the vendor to the vendee for procuring such insurance or causing such insurance to be procured.

d. Statement of the rate or amount, or both, of interest charged by the vendor on the unpaid installments of the purchase price of such insurance.

e. Statement of the finance charges or service charges, if any, imposed by the vendor on the vendee on account of or in connection with such installment contract.

4. An original signed copy of the insurance policy or policies and all other evidence of insurance so provided or procured by the vendor shall be delivered to the vendee.

Sec. 2. Every insurer who shall issue, sell, or in any manner provide an insurance policy or policies as referred to and described in this Act, shall be subject to chapter three hundred sixty-five (365), Acts of the Sixty-second General Assembly, and chapter four hundred thirty-two (432), Code of Iowa 1966, as amended by chapter three hundred fifty-three (353), section two (2), Acts of the Sixty-second General Assembly, and shall be subject to the regulatory powers of the commissioner of insurance.

Sec. 3. Every person who shall, directly or indirectly, act within this state as agent, or otherwise, in receiving applications for insurance, or in doing or transacting any kind of insurance business for any company or association that shall, as insurer, provide insurance coverages of the kind referred to in this Act, shall be subject to chapter five hundred twenty-two (522), and section five hundred fifteen point fifty-two (515.52) of the Code."

Senator Benda offered the following amendment to his amendment and moved its adoption:

Amend the Benda amendment to Senate File 40, filed February 27, 1969, found on pages 412 and 413 of the Journal, as follows:

1. By inserting in line 10 following the word "perils," the following: "and for which a charge is made to the vendee, other than the finance charge, either directly or indirectly,".
