INTRODUCTION OF BILL

Senate File 1, by Senator Doderer, a bill for an act relating to county health centers.

Read first time and passed on file.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

The following message was received from the House:

MR. PRESIDENT: I am directed to inform your honorable body that the House has adopted the following concurrent resolution in which the concurrence of the House was asked:

Senate Concurrent Resolution 1, appointing a joint committee to arrange for the inauguration of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor.

WILLIAM H. HARBOR, Chief Clerk

COMMITTEE FROM THE HOUSE

A committee from the House appeared and announced that the House was ready to receive the Senate in joint convention.

In accordance with House Concurrent Resolution 1 duly adopted, the Senate proceeded to the House under the direction of the Acting Sergeant-at-Arms.

JOINT CONVENTION

The joint convention reconvened, President Jepsen presiding.

Senator Lamborn moved to dispense with the roll call and to authorize the President of the joint convention to declare a quorum present, which motion prevailed.

President Jepsen declared a quorum present and the joint convention duly organized.

Senator Schwengels moved that a committee of six, consisting of three members from the Senate and three members from the House, be appointed to notify Governor Robert D. Ray that the joint convention was ready to receive him.

The motion prevailed and the President appointed as such committee Senators Schwengels, Griffin and Junkins, on the part of the Senate, and Representatives Pellett, Junker and Wells, on the part of the House.

The committee waited upon Governor Ray and escorted him to the Speaker's station.

President Jepsen then presented Governor Ray who delivered the following address:

THE CONDITION OF THE STATE MESSAGE
THE HONORABLE ROBERT D. RAY
GOVERNOR OF IOWA

MR. PRESIDENT, MR. SPEAKER, MR. CHIEF JUSTICE, SENATORS AND REPRESENTATIVES, STATE OFFICIALS, DISTINGUISHED GUESTS, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

The opening of a legislative session is always an exciting moment in Iowa.

It is particularly exciting to more than a third of the members of this General Assembly for this week is your first experience as a lawmaker. Though political pundits have made much of your freshmen status, you first-time legislators bring to this Assembly a newness and an enthusiasm that will be most welcome.

The opening of a legislative session is also an historic moment. And this is especially true this year.

This Iowa General Assembly is the first in 115 years to convene with a completely fresh mandate from the voters. Not since 1858, when the Seventh General Assembly became the first to gather in Des Moines and operate under the present Iowa Constitution, have all the members of both houses been elected in the same year.

You have yet another uniqueness. You are members of a completely reapportioned legislature, all elected from one-person one-vote constituencies. Never anywhere has there ever been a legislative body elected to be more representative of the people it serves.

Your uniqueness confers upon you unparalleled opportunities—and responsibilities—for achievement. To translate these opportunities into accomplishment will require cooperation by all of us—you in the legislative branch and I in the executive. I look forward to working with you, regardless of your party, and with your experienced elected leaders.

By sharing knowledge and experience, by understanding and recognizing individual limitations and by exercising a sense of humility, together we can foster a cooperative spirit that can result in this session being the most productive one ever.

Humility, incidentally, is a priceless commodity within the environs of this golden dome. And it might be helpful if each of us sees some of himself in the description Winston Churchill gave of a colleague in the British Government when he said: "He was a modest little man with much to be modest about."

This is the first of three messages I will present to you within the next two weeks.

Under the Constitution the Governor is called upon to report to you the condition of the state, and that I shall do at this time. Also in accordance with the Constitution I shall outline in general terms a program of legislative action.

I will speak to you again on Thursday as we assemble for Inaugural Ceremonies. And then, on January 25, I will present in detail my 1973-75 budget recommendations.

I mention this timetable to you, knowing that there are those who will keep a scorecard on the Governor's proposals and while this has its advantages, I suggest that the scorekeepers withhold completion of their tally sheets until they have heard all three of these messages.

As we look ahead to the work of this session, we cannot disregard the present or ignore the past. Many of you who are seasoned legislators can take pride in where we find ourselves today and for what we have accomplished together in the last four years.

Still we must keep in mind that we can enjoy the achievements of yesterday only by enlisting them in the service of the present and the future. In charting tomorrow's course, we must take inventory of where we have been and where we are today—and that brings us to the condition of the state.

As I address you today I am more optimistic about Iowa and about Iowa's future than at any time since I have been Governor.

We are seeing the payoff of some hard decisions that we have made. Four years ago, we told state government there was not an inexhaustible supply of money. I insisted state government live within its means; that state taxes not be continually raised just so there could be more spending. We prevailed.

Two years ago, along with units of government all across this country, we were hurt in the nation's economic downturn. Further compounding our plight, the time had come when it was imperative that we relieve some of the burden of school support from regressive property taxes. Not only did we work our way out of the binding conditions, we also have today what has to be considered one of the soundest school aid plans in the nation.

Today we see a marked contrast with four years ago or two years ago—or even 12 months ago as we view our economic condition.

The national economy is much stronger; the Iowa economic outlook is even brighter. Our farmers, as a whole, are now experiencing a more fair share of this increased prosperity. Iowa's unemployment level is only half the national average. And we have accumulated a small, but nevertheless solid balance in the state treasury.

Today Iowa is in an excellent position to reap the maximum benefit from federal revenue-sharing, something many of us worked long and hard to achieve. We will realize this benefit, in fact, if we use the funds to lessen the burden of property taxation, either directly or indirectly.

Let me say to you again, that revenue sharing was not designed to give government a break; it was designed to give people a break. You can expect the budget I submit to you in two weeks to reflect that statement, and I compliment the county and municipal governments that are taking the same approach.

In this connection bear in mind that the amount of revenue-sharing money, while significant, is not large enough to be a panacea.

We cannot go on a spending binge. Nor can we permit taxes to increase. But with the treasury balance, growth in our state, the ongoing benefits of our school aid program and revenue sharing, we do have more options open to us today than some of you and your predecessors and I had four years ago and two years ago.

Now is the opportune time—with the business climate on the upswing—to redouble our efforts to promote agriculture and to encourage Iowa industries thereby providing jobs and increased quality of living for all of our people.

Recently I directed a challenge to Iowans involved in the export of our state's products to double Iowa's export dollar volume within the next five years. If we are successful it could have a noticeable effect on our state's economic well-being.

My budget will contain one very specific way Iowa can improve its overseas trade.

We are fortunate to live in a state where environmental problems are yet manageable. We have already passed some important milestones toward environmental protection. On January 1, our new Department of Environmental Quality was launched, and it promises to deal effectively with air and water pollution, solid waste management and chemical technology. This new pollution-fighting agency, and Iowa's Soil Conservancy Law are a credit to the far-sightedness of many of you here today. They have vaulted Iowa into a national leadership position in environmental protection.

A silent, yet profound, influence on the condition of the state is a declining rate of birth in Iowa, part of a national trend. This hard fact must be considered as we deliberate, particularly as we view education.

Another influence, not so silent, is the contribution specific segments of our population are making and can make. I think especially of our young people who certainly have demonstrated the wisdom of lowering the voting age. I refer also to the many so-called minority groups in Iowa, often relatively small by national standards, who are no less entitled to the same opportunities and same rights of expression as those in the majority.

And in this discussion about the condition of the state, I want to point out that the most heartening condition of all is the spirit of our Iowa people. I have traveled this state and have talked with our people. I have discovered that Iowans have an increased awareness and appreciation for their state with its abundant natural resources, a quality of life that others envy, and a people for whom human values still are held uppermost.

It is on that note that we begin this legislative adventure. As this session opens, each of you holds a list of priorities. As Governor, I have a list, too.

I recognize it would be impossible for any of us to prepare a priority list that would be totally complete or totally accepted by every Iowan. One reason, of course, is that the most important priority to a person is that which affects him or her the most. Not all issues affect everyone exactly the same.

What might be top priority to say, a road contractor, could carry a much lower rating with an educator or vice versa. Or what might rank as most important with a university student could seem almost unimportant to an elderly person on old age assistance.

Knowing that I cannot this morning get into all important subjects, let me during the next several minutes list some specific legislative priorities which I earnestly believe call for your attention in the days and weeks ahead. I have not arranged this listing in any deliberate order nor is it all of them. But it is an outline of work, the completion of which could earn this Assembly a place of high honor in Iowa history.

We are seeing dramatically how important an adequate energy supply is to the maintenance of our society. The same can be said for an efficient transportation system for our people and their goods. The time has come in Iowa when we must develop, plan and construct our transportation facilities on a rational, environmentally sound, unified basis instead of in the helter-skelter way in which railroads, highways and airports have sprung up in the past. Therefore, a state Department of Transportation is needed. We must realize that Iowa is basically a highway state and will continue to be so. There will be efforts, I am sure, to increase gasoline tax, to alter the road use formula, to provide for bonding for road building, to transfer the Iowa Highway Patrol to the Highway Commission as well as other "tampering" with transportation-related issues. But before any of these proposals are to be seriously considered, we must first have a coordinated, established State Department of Transportation capable of analyzing and dealing with any and all of these conditions as they affect transportation in our state.

—Reorganization of State government has become familiar to those of you who have served in the legislature these past four years and have seen healthy changes result. It is a never ending process. We have already accomplished reorganization of our Iowa Liquor Commission; we have established a General Services Administration that enables state government to take advantage of centralized purchasing; we have unified our pollution fighting efforts in a DEQ and we have accomplished much needed reform of our court system. We need now to combine our state libraries into one unit; to unify our state alcoholism programs and to press toward coordination of all facilities in the field of mental health and drug abuse.

—The concept of health maintenance organizations should now become a reality within a framework broad enough to include both profit and non-profit groups, corporations, partnerships and even individuals so long as standards of care and quality are met.

—Rational land use must be seriously considered in this legislative session. For generations our society has operated on a concept of exploitation of natural resources and the unrestricted occupancy of space. It is only recently that we have come to face the reality that our natural resources are indeed limited. We must take care as we formulate a land use policy that it not result in the management of the many by the few. If that were to happen the benefits of maintaining an environment for its own sake would be negated by the harmful effects to the quality of life that is ours to achieve.

—I urge you also to join me in support of the Iowa Conservation Commission's "Green Belt" and "Open Spaces" concepts. The commission is involved in the acquisition of land along rivers and lake shores, in prairies and forests as well as historical sites for the enjoyment of all our people and the people of future generations. Legislation is also needed to acquire abandoned railroad rights-of-ways for bicycle and hiking trails and for additional wild life management. Furthermore, I urge you to provide a park user fee which so many who now enjoy Iowa's parks recognize as a fair and reasonable way to assure development and maintenance of these facilities. And in this same vein, we must make possible the development of environmentally-compatible resort-type lodges in recreation areas well suited to them. This is a promising new approach to leisure-time involvement as several other states have already demonstrated.

While many more recommendations dealing with appropriations will be outlined to you in my budget message, I specifically urge you at this time not to shirk your responsibility to combat the shadowy evil of discrimination. In the last session, the Iowa Civil Rights law was wisely broadened to cover discrimination because of sex, disability and age. Now, although we cannot leave the obligation to eradicate discrimination solely to our Civil Rights Commission, the agency must be better financed if it is to fairly and effectively resolve the individual complaints to which it needs to direct its attention.

—In the area of human rights there is another matter for your action. Our state Traffic Records and Criminal Justice Information System, better known as TRACIS, will provide an effective tool in law enforcement. The TRACIS Management team at my direction has developed policies tightly controlling access to certain information in the computer system and establishing procedures that will allow individuals the right to inspect their own records. To assure that rights of people are safeguarded, these policies should be given the force of law.

—Undoubtedly you will have before you during this session the work product of your legislative Criminal Code Revision committee. It will consume much of your time and will generate much debate. It offers an opportunity to upgrade our criminal code statutes and I call your attention especially to that part of the proposal which would provide a tight enforceable pornography law as it applies to minors. Action on these recommendations will complement the giant stride of the last session when we achieved genuine court reform. Though the major work is done on court reform there will be some minor aspects of last year's bill which will require corrective measures this session.

—I think it is a safe bet to state that our gambling laws made news in 1972. And now that the voters have spoken on the constitutional prohibition against lotteries, I think you have a clear expression to provide minor and harmless games such as bingo and those at carnivals and fairs. I do not believe, however, that you should interpret the November 7 vote on this issue as a mandate for wide-open gambling in Iowa. Our extraordinarily fine quality of life will not be enhanced by introduction of the gambling attitude which falsely teaches that problems are solved by "striking it rich."

—I ask this legislature—now that there has been intensive study by your own special committee on penal reform—to revise the Iowa Code to provide the programs, facilities and rehabilitation practices that can offer constructive and better alternatives to imprisonment. In many cases, incarceration of offenders often has been demonstrated not only to be a waste of tax dollars, but if we are to believe Chief Justice Warren Burger, it is the greatest single cause of crime in America today.

Although we know there are hardened criminals who cannot be treated in a community-based correction system, if we are to cut into recidivism and get at a root cause of crime then Iowa should establish such a system of correctional facilities.

—No one should be required to have an abortion. But Iowa law already legalizes abortion under certain circumstances. There are other circumstances equally as compelling as what appears in the existing statute. Provision should be made within clinical limitations for the improvement of this law.

—Some 130 years ago a young veteran of the Black Hawk War named Abraham Lincoln received a parcel of Iowa land as a bonus for his military service. Veterans of other conflicts have also been rewarded in other ways. In simple justice, Iowa should now extend recognition to our Vietnam war veterans.

—The so-called "pure no fault insurance" deprives people of the opportunity for just compensation for their injuries and damages. This I cannot accept. However, the quick payment and elimination of delay in settling claims is needed. It is time we adopt these favorable aspects.

—Earlier I alluded to the way our young people have responded to new rights and responsibilities. I urge you now to finish what was begun a year ago and extend full majority rights to all who are old enough to vote.

—Again, I bring before this legislative body the need for a structure within which public employees can systematically bargain with their employers. It will not be an answer for all employee relation problems in government service but the machinery for such bargaining can serve as a very important channel of communication between public employers and employees and assure against unfortunate and potentially dangerous disruption of public services.

—This session presents to you the opportunity to upgrade our Iowa Public Employees Retirement System (IPERS) and to provide reasonable compensation for members of the judiciary and key decision-makers in government many of whom are today grossly underpaid, in comparison with similar responsibilities performed in the private sector. These issues, along with proposals for employees including our Iowa Highway Patrol, I will delve into in more detail in my budget message.

—It is time that various professional licensing boards functioning under our laws be expanded to include representation from the general public.

—I ask your consideration of a workable bidding law for units of government in Iowa.

—We have come to the time for a statewide voter registration law.

—And finally, to conclude this list of general priorities with an item of consumer protection, I would urge your attention to credit life insurance regulation. There is weighty evidence that charges for this kind of insurance often required of borrowers in lending transactions are much higher in Iowa than in many other states.

The three principal goals of this 1973 General Assembly, as I see it are these:

1. Specific and tangible understanding and assistance for our elderly people.
2. A continued and noticeable attack on the property tax problems, and
3. Support for well-balanced education in Iowa.

First, the elderly:

These are the people who have been a moving force in bringing Iowa to where it stands today. These are also the ones who are the greatest victims of inflation, increased taxes and eroding spending power. They have earned our support.

It is true that we are involved in a number of programs which utilize the valuable resources of talent and experience that abound in this segment of our society, enlisting their time and abilities through such endeavors as the Foster Grandparents, Retired Senior Volunteers, Service Corps of Retired Executives and others.

But it is also true that there are too many of our elderly Iowans unable to participate in these activities and, in contrast, are spending their lives in hand-to-mouth existence—malnourished, frightened and withdrawn.

We are engaged in a myriad of assistance programs for the underprivileged, the poor, and the forgotten. There are, in many of these cases, hope and the possibility of improving their lot by helping them improve themselves. But with the elderly, neither training nor job location will grant them such an opportunity for they have given their productive years in support of themselves, their families and society.

Now, through no fault of their own, the cruel hand of rising costs has struck a reeling blow.

In my budget message I will unfold to you a plan to aid and assist these people so deserving of our empathy—a property tax relief program that will ease their struggles of daily existence. Many of our elderly citizens wish to remain in their own homes as long as possible. This is desirable in most cases; it is advantageous to these important people and less costly for all who pay taxes. We should—and we can—at this time provide substantial help for our elderly.

Also we have found ways to aid our aging in nutritional help, home-maker services, medical assistance and other adult services.

In addition I ask that you allow the use of school buses for senior citizen activities when the buses are not in use for school purposes.

Second, the property tax problem:

Though there were doubters during those months of debate in these chambers two years ago, time has proven that our school financing plan was right in concept and is a great improvement. As I will outline in detail in my budget message, more state aid to our local schools is being provided than at any time before—both in dollars and percentage of total school costs.

While it is easy, as we discuss school financing, to say what has been done, it is much more difficult to convey to our people what has been avoided by having followed the right course. We resisted the pressure to raise massive amounts of new taxes at the state level. To do so, in my opinion, would have only served to raise the level of government spending. In avoiding that pitfall, we can also point to property tax levels that have not had to advance to cover school spending. Had we not taken the action we did, and when we did, it is estimated that by now some 180 million dollars more in taxes would have fallen on property to insure school operations.

Notwithstanding the dramatic and favorable effect our revenue and school aid plans have had on property taxes, there still exists a burden on property ownership. And having learned from the successes of the past, we are prepared to make more attacks on this problem. I can say to you today that the budget which I will present to you in my message of January 25 will truly be a budget that will ease the property tax burden, one which will not only address itself to the needs of our people who must have our help, but also to Iowans who must help pay the bills.

And, as has always been my practice in messages to the legislature, not only will I detail proposals, but I will also show ways to finance them.

Additionally, the property tax system should be changed to give Iowans meaningful incentive to improve their homes. Needed is a temporary tax break for modest improvements so that a homeowner can remodel or add a room and at least get it paid for before his taxes go up because of it.

Also, this session must address itself to the issue of the tax-exempt status of much real property, a status that is unfair and obsolete.

Taxes are not easy for anyone to pay, particularly the poor, and you will find in my budget message a means by which we can lighten the load for our low-income citizens.

And finally the third principal priority, education:

In any discussion of the condition of the state it is where we are going that is most important. And it is education of our people that shall determine what Iowa will be in the years to come.

One outstanding Iowa teacher, Dale Caris of Sioux City, when receiving special recognition not long ago, expressed his philosophy by saying that “. . . children need to discover that life is a place of action, involvement, and meaning. There is for everyone a special song that stirs an immediate response . . . what we must do, let us love to do.”

That expresses so well the spirit of education. But education is not approached exactly the same by every individual. A successful educational effort is measured by the growth of self-confidence in those being educated, and by the talent and skills developed within each individual enabling him to become a contributing member of his community.

We must keep on strengthening career education, understanding that not only is it important to prepare people for living, but we must prepare them also for making a living. We must also recognize that this country was built with human hands as well as human minds and that there is a special dignity in work.

There are those who will continue to harbor memories of campus unrest and other difficulties of the past and point to these incidents as flaws in our educational system. Such reasoning should not be used today to penalize young people attending our highly regarded state universities.

In addition to providing necessary support for our Regents institutions and our area community colleges, we have an obligation to meet our commitments to fund the school aid formula from state revenues so property taxes will continue to decline.

The tuition grant program to provide aid for those wishing to attend our private colleges was started when this administration took place. It works—it must be supported.

The legislature two years ago followed my recommendations for needed auxiliary services for our students, regardless of the schools they attended, and funded the program. Unfortunately, during the last session "auxiliary services" were not satisfactorily defined. This must be clarified so this supportive program can function effectively for our non-public schools offer health diversity in our educational system.

With the current decline in enrollment and a stabilized birth rate, we are no longer running on a treadmill just keeping pace with growing numbers of students. Now with fewer in our schools, we can direct more of our attention to the development of improved educational approaches and services.

A youngster in need of special education needs it regardless of where he lives. Special education should then be placed under a reasonable and efficient system of administration, eliminating the out-of-date county superintendent structure. Also, we should all encourage our blossoming programs that help children with development disabilities.

Furthermore, I would ask that you carefully look at the recommendations of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Education relative to county-like administrative school districts and the establishment of a commission to assist school districts pinched in the vise of decreasing enrollment and increasing costs. Funding of the school budget review committee offers you a way to meet many special school district needs. And I continue to believe that a Professional Standards Act can contribute to the improvement of our educational system.

In concluding this morning, I would urge each and every one of you as elected representatives to undertake a task similar to that taken some centuries ago by Pericles of Athens. Of him it is said that: "By making the Athenians believe in their city, Pericles made them believe in themselves."

Your performance in the months ahead can give Iowans further cause to believe in their state government—in the rights that have so long sustained it and in the ideals that have so long upheld it. And in so doing all of us can help Iowans believe in themselves, thus invigorating their confidence in Iowa's future.

Governor Ray was escorted from the House chamber by the committee previously appointed.

By Doderer and Lamborn

Whereas, because of the complexity of proceedings and issues and the approval of annual legislative sessions the need for trained and qualified people to work in the General Assembly is apparent; and

Whereas, there presently exist no formal job descriptions, classification plans, training sessions, salary promotion schedules, or qualification standards for employees of the General Assembly; and

Whereas, standards for employment in the General Assembly should be based upon skilled and professional ability to perform jobs for which job descriptions should be available and adequate salaries should be provided which salaries should, where appropriate, be expressed at an annual rate rather than a seven-day daily rate; and

Whereas, no detailed study has been undertaken in recent years which would have as its goal the employment of competent persons in the General Assembly at salaries commensurate with their experience, skills, education, and training, Now, Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That the legislative council is directed to create a study committee for the purpose of undertaking a study of the employment positions in the General Assembly and pursuant to such study the study committee shall:

a. Develop an employees handbook for employees of the General Assembly which shall describe in detail each job as well as the skills, qualifications, education, and training of persons eligible to hold such jobs;

b. Recommend salaries commensurate with the positions described in the employees handbook, which salaries shall be competitive and provide for position increases dependent upon experience and performance;

c. Create an employees' orientation and training program which program should be conducted prior to the convening of the General Assembly;

d. Make any other recommendations designed to improve the image of legislative employees and provide legislators with employees willing and capable of performing jobs required for the smooth functioning of the General Assembly; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the study committee shall consist of members of both houses and political parties represented in the General Assembly and may consist of legislative employees appointed by the legislative council; and

Be It Further Resolved, That a report of the findings of the study committee shall be prepared and submitted to the General Assembly meeting in the year 1974 which report shall be accompanied by the materials required to be prepared by this resolution.

On motion of Senator Lamborn, the Senate recessed until 1:00 p.m. to reassemble in the North Room, Second Floor, of the Veterans Memorial Auditorium.

The Senate reconvened, President Jepsen presiding.

COMMITTEE FROM THE HOUSE

A committee from the House appeared and announced that the House was ready to receive the Senate in joint convention.

In accordance with Senate Concurrent Resolution 1, duly adopted, the Senate proceeded to the seat of the joint convention on the main floor of the Veterans Memorial Auditorium in columns of two's, led by the Secretary of the Senate and the Sergeant-at-Arms.

JOINT CONVENTION

The joint convention reconvened, Presiding Jepsen presiding.

Senator Lamborn moved that the roll call be dispensed with and that the President of the joint convention be authorized to declare a quorum present.

The motion prevailed.

The report of canvass of the vote was read by the Secretary of the joint convention as follows:

The oath of office was administered to Governor-elect Robert D. Ray by Chief Justice C. Edwin Moore of the Supreme Court of Iowa.

Lieutenant Governor Arthur A. Neu, President of the Senate, presiding, presented Governor Robert D. Ray, who delivered the following inaugural address:

MR. PRESIDENT, MR. SPEAKER, MR. CHIEF JUSTICE, AND MEMBERS OF OUR HIGHEST COURT, ELECTED PUBLIC OFFICIALS, MEMBERS OF THE SIXTY-FIFTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY AND CITIZENS OF OUR STATE:

This is a bright day for government in Iowa.

I say that—not because a Governor and Lieutenant Governor are being inaugurated—but because people in all parts of Iowa, of all ages and occupations and all types of interest are focusing their attention on their state government today.

Arrogant we would be, indeed, if we didn't realize that their interest must be our concern, their hopes must be our guide, their dreams our encouragement.

Each one of you legislators has won a right to be here, a right to a very special calling—that of representing the people who live in your district, who now, because of fine-line reapportionment, number the same as all other districts. These citizens have, by a majority, chosen each of you to speak for them and to participate in shaping their future. In each district, you and I both represent exactly the same people. It therefore behooves all of us to work for solutions to their problems, plan and act for their future and the place they call home.

This in no way means there cannot be or should not be varying and differing thoughts and ideas. On the contrary, your job is to use responsibly the great liberty and freedom that is yours to express your views and to argue freely for what you believe will best serve the people of our state.

Though I will be the first to concede that the legislative district lines drawn in the new reapportionment plan have created some confusion and drawbacks, one very positive change is emerging. No longer can many of you in the General Assembly be labeled simply as "urban" or "rural" lawmakers. You are Iowa legislators, each of you speaking for all conditions of people.

All of us have been elected as partisan politicians, but if this last election proved anything, it proved that each elected official—as never before—is going to be held strictly accountable for his or her performance. This promises to be a great strength for our system—a system that has been criticized, scoffed at, ridiculed and attacked. But one thing is sure, it has endured for nearly 200 years. And it has endured because it gives to the people of this country and this state the freedom to debate and the freedom to change and to protect, and that is what you are now called upon to do.

Your purpose is not to see how you can advance yourselves either as individuals or as a legislative body; your charge is to do what you can to advance our people and the quality of life in our state.

Politics is a noble calling; it does not need to be demeaning; it can be inspiring. Let us all remember that politics requires realism—it does not need cynicism—and it thrives on healthy idealism.

Two days ago I presented to you legislators a program that isn't a "mission impossible." It's attainable. It offers to you and to the other Iowans who are your constituents a better tomorrow—a brighter future—and a stronger, safer and even more attractive place to live and to grow.

Details and additional aspects of these attainable goals for this legislative session and this biennium will be forthcoming January 25.

In not one, two or even three messages can I, or could anyone, cover all important matters for your consideration. But I want you to know my very capable staff and I will welcome the opportunity to work with you on the many subjects that will come before you.

Some four years ago the Des Moines Register published a series about the Cities of Iowa, 1985. In the concluding paragraph of the last article the comment appeared: "Man cannot predict the future. But he can invent it."

That says well what your role is as you embark on an exciting venture—not always safe and secure, but one with an attainable destination.

Just a few days ago, Mr. Alvin Toffler, the noted author of "Future Shock," visited with me in my office.

He was here to meet with our special committee that is working to outline plans for a conference we will be holding on the Future of Iowa. We discussed the very basic reason for such an undertaking. If you care not where you go, you have no need to know the direction you're traveling. On the other hand, if you have goals, there is every reason to establish a direction.

And as Toffler said in his book "The Futurists": "We cannot humanize the future until we draw it into our consciousness and probe it with all the intelligence and imagination at our command. This is what we are now beginning to do."

This state of ours will not be what we merely imagine it will be in the future. It will be what we want it to be, but then only if we set goals, make the necessary sacrifices, extend the required effort, and have the confidence that these goals will be reached.

Through the goals we set, and the accomplishments of them, we will have a hand in the invention of Iowa's future.

We know, of course, some of Iowa's challenges cannot be neatly dealt with by passage of a bill or the approval of an appropriation. But they can be met successfully and the extent of that success will depend upon our attitudes as we approach them.

Would you believe, as an example, less than 100 years ago, the idea of the domestic electric light was laughed at—except by one person, a 31-year-old inventor named Thomas Edison.

It is sad to think of the opportunities which have been missed because those who set their sights on progressive goals started toward them with the preconceived notion they could not be reached.

One of the great missed opportunities that might have been a part of Iowa's future was a World Food Exposition in observance of this country's 200th birthday. The Expo, as we envisioned it, will not happen now, but our efforts should not cease in producing a meaningful observance.

Today we are getting a glimpse into not only Iowa's future, but our country's future as we face a very genuine fuel crisis.

We are taking emergency measures to see that whatever amounts of heating oil our state officials are able to obtain are apportioned out to those in the most dire need. It is a totally new experience for all of us. We in state government have never been in the heating oil business before. And the obstacles we have confronted as we have scoured the country for extra gallons of heating oil have been tremendous. But we have kept trying, knowing that it is never easy when a situation becomes so desperate that government has to step in. If the solution had been easy, government would not have been called.

Even as we ponder the short-range outcome of the fuel crisis and its effect on people, we can still point to some positive things which have already evolved. First, this crisis is clearly a warning. Our energy resources are limited; they are rapidly becoming exhausted. This country will have to become as conscious of energy management in the 1970's as we became environmentally conscious in the 1960's.

Second, the current crisis reinforces the wisdom of the action we initiated last April when we began researching methods to desulphurize our Iowa coal in order that it could be used and still meet air pollution standards. At the same time, we are seeking ways to extract Iowa's vast coal reserves without destroying the land above them.

If we are successful, Iowa's coal reserves, and those in our neighboring midwest states, can contribute substantially toward a solution to the national energy crisis throughout the rest of this century.

One possible legislative response to the current fuel problem—though one you should approach cautiously until the immediate crisis has eased—is a means to provide assurance to heating oil consumers that the commitments made to them by their suppliers are actually backed up by the ability to deliver. During this crisis we have learned of incidents where agreements have been made with no assurance that they could be fulfilled.

No consideration of Iowa's future should omit the fact that we are an agricultural state.

Seldom any more do you hear Iowans apologize for being a "farm state" and rarely do you hear people in agriculture say, "I'm just a farmer." We have come to have a great appreciation for our agriculture, not only because we look to it for our economic well-being, but because so much of the world depends on what is produced here.

Furthermore, though we are pleased that our farmers are now getting a better share of the economy, the fact that they have one good year behind them is a shallow reason to curtail such programs as federal aid for soil conservation practices on the premise that the farmer can now afford to pay for such things himself.

How can you tell the farmer that the very programs that develop rural America and fight pollution cannot be sustained while at the same time the federal government bails out giant aircraft corporations from financial difficulties caused by their own mismanagement?

We're talking about priorities. As an example, rural environmental action program funds cut off by the U.S.D.A. two weeks ago have been used to fight soil erosion and water pollution. It is a fight that benefits all our people, not just farmers.

We know Iowa is destined to remain an agricultural giant. But as Mr. Charles Mueller, a newcomer to the Iowa business community, summed up concisely in telling why his plastic manufacturing plant located in the bustling community of Monticello: "Iowa makes it attractive for industry to come in. Iowa has an attractive business climate and wants industry. And we found that the people of Iowa still like to work."

And so it is that many outstanding firms have found "Iowa a Place to Grow."

Practically every community in Iowa is in competition with others for its share of this growth. But as this competition continues all of us must discipline ourselves to be able to say "no" to any industry that would de-spoil our state or bring to Iowa the same kind of conditions the industry might be trying to escape in leaving a congested and crowded city. We just do not need that kind of growth in Iowa.

Growth means more than just a job. We are expanding the dimensions of human experience in Iowa. We see shining examples of enduring beauty that have come to completion on the Iowa landscape: The C. Y. Stephens Auditorium and the Hilton Coliseum at Iowa State University, and the Hancher Auditorium at the University of Iowa. I mention them because they are much more than just buildings—they are a means to enrich not only their immediate areas but also the farthest reaches of the state. They are harbingers of creative change that has been sweeping Iowa.

You heard me say Tuesday that some of our greatest gains in education are yet ahead of us, as we move away from the dependence on property tax.

The hard fact of declining school enrollments offers both opportunities and problems. On the plus side, it means that we can use existing resources to increase the quality of education instead of concentrating so much on keeping up with the quantity of youngsters in the educational pipeline.

On the other hand, some schools are squeezed by rising costs and dwindling numbers of pupils. This kind of circumstance often prompts community-minded people into the wrong decisions. In the past there have been communities, losing population, that resisted change in a school system thinking that to maintain the status quo would save the community. Usually it did not. On the other hand, we have seen that schools remain in the communities that come up with ways to inject new growth into the towns. In short: You don't save communities by saving the schools; you save the schools by saving the communities. Maintenance of our educational system is one of the best arguments I know for community development.

—But what is community development? Is it government jumping into an area with grants-in-aid and guidelines and trying to perform miracles where the people who live there have waited for someone else to save them? I think not, although government certainly must help.

Community development happens when people have a sense of loyalty to their area.

It happens when civic groups and churches start working together.

It happens when local businesses and Chambers of Commerce start hustling for new industry, when home builders and lenders take a few calculated risks and when main street merchants dip into the profits to put up new store-fronts.

It happens when people look around them and realize that where they live is the right place and they aren't willing to see it disappear.

In other words for all that government is willing to do and can do, community development depends upon that "sense of community" within the people themselves.

—While I believe we will succeed in having a balanced Iowa, I think we must also acknowledge that our society will become more complex.

As this occurs, the threat to individual freedoms increases and we in government must guard against this. Reinforcing the will of our people themselves to protect a free society, two things help us to insure that we will live up to our state motto: "Our liberties we prize and our rights we will maintain."

One is an open government; the other is a free and responsible press. You cannot separate the two, for the free press assures open government and the openness of government to all in the news media offers assurance that we will have a responsible press.

Just as the press is zealous in protecting the people's right to know, so should government be equally zealous in maintaining the people's right to find out. Although Iowa now has an excellent open meetings law, a law is also needed to shield reporters from being compelled to reveal confidential sources of information.

And finally, as we think of change, we view the political scene in Iowa today. The 1972 election in Iowa proved that the vast majority of our voters are governed more by their heads than their habits. And while I do not agree with those who say the two-party system is headed for oblivion, it is most certainly headed for change. Today's politics must be the politics of human contact—of reaching people—not just by phrase but by deed.

I think both major political parties have an obligation to preserve themselves, not only for their own sake, but for a more basic reason which I can express but with a simple analogy.

When you live in a town with one drug store, you may get good service when you need a prescription filled. But if you live in a town with two drug stores, you know you are going to get good service.

When I spoke to you Tuesday, I made reference to Pericles of Athens. At the risk of being accused of over-emphasizing the wisdom of two mil-leniums ago, I want to share with you one other thought from that ancient city-state which was, after all, the Cradle of Democracy.

It sums up well what should be the charge of every Iowan as we face our future:

It was an oath that the young men took upon becoming citizens of Athens.

“We will ever strive for the ideals and sacred things of this city, both alone and with the many.

“We will unceasingly seek to quicken the sense of public duty. We will revere and obey the laws.

The benediction was offered by the Most Reverend Maurice J. Dingman, D.D., Bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Des Moines.

The colors were retired.

Speaker Varley in the chair.

Governor Robert D. Ray and Lieutenant Governor Arthur A. Neu were escorted from the rostrum by the committee previously appointed.

Senator Lamborn of Jackson moved that the reading of the minutes of the joint convention be dispensed with.

The motion prevailed.

Holden of Scott moved that the joint convention be now dissolved.

The motion prevailed.

In accordance with House Concurrent Resolution 4, adopted January 11, 1973, Senator Lamborn moved that the Senate adjourn until 10:00 a.m., Monday, January 15, 1973.

REMARKS BY PRESIDENT NEU

President Neu addressed the Senate with the following remarks:

It is a great honor for me to greet you this morning as the new President of the Iowa Senate. After all, it took me only 15 months and 47,000 miles to get from seat 24 to this one.

Understandably, all of you are anxious to move on to substantive legislative matters. But first I do ask your indulgence so that I may share with you a few thoughts about the responsibilities of individual Senators.

As Governor Ray stated in his Inaugural message, you all are Iowa legislators responsible for all conditions of all people. The Supreme Court has insured that no one of you can view yourself as simply an "urban" or "rural" lawmaker. In effect, our new reapportionment plan has placed a greater burden, or challenge, upon each of you.

Accordingly, we must try at all times to be above partisanship. Naturally there will be disagreements and debates that break along party lines. But irrelevant, unproductive partisan speeches and tactics will benefit neither the Iowa Senate nor the people of Iowa.

We all want a session of which we can be proud, and that necessarily leaves little room for frivolous partisanship. Moreover, I am certain that any Senator desiring to score partisan points can meet with the news media at any time in the rotunda.

There are, of course, many important proposals and numerous appropriations bills that must be dealt with in the next few months. I think that we all are in general agreement as to what these bills are. They have been enumerated most ably by the Governor, and also by the news media.

Our task now is to cooperate in developing a consensus on the particulars of these bills. In so doing, we always must place the needs of Iowans above selfish needs.

I ask further that all of you be judicious in not taking our time and wasting taxpayers' dollars with facetious actions, resolutions or bills. For example, as much as I enjoy my Siamese cat, Puss Puss, I really see no need for a state feline. Certainly there will be many light moments here in the Senate chamber, but let us allow them to arise naturally.

Also, I want to say a few words about lobbyists. My comments probably have the greatest meaning for those of you who are new to the Iowa Legislature. However, this matter is one that we all need to consider continuously.

Those of us who have served before know that lobbyists can be of invaluable assistance. We rely upon them both for ideas and for information. But we must remember that most of these men and women are paid to promote a particular point of view. Caveat emptor—let the buyer beware! You have an obligation to investigate all sides of a question, not simply the one being advanced most effectively.

Without question ours is among the best organized, most open legislatures in the country. Annual sessions, open committee meetings, ethics committees, a legislative council and a legislative service bureau—all of these reforms helped this General Assembly in its rating by the Citizens Conference on State Legislatures as the Nation's sixth best.

For 1973 we already have moved toward greater efficiency by reducing the number of standing committees from 19 to 14; as recently as 1947 the Senate had 51 separate committees. Further, we will have regular reporting of expenses by lobbyists, performance auditing, a review of legislative expenditures, and a rational salary schedule for legislative employees.

But even more important than these structural improvements are the men and women who make up the Iowa Senate and Legislature. You are the ones who can instill a pride and respect by Iowans in the legislative branch of their state government. And remember, whenever a given legislator does something foolish or irresponsible, regardless of which party he or she is from, it hurts all of us—the whole Legislature.

I urge you, both this morning and throughout the session, to reflect upon your responsibilities and to take them very seriously.

TEMPORARY COMMITTEES MADE PERMANENT COMMITTEES

By Heying, Taylor and Van Gilst

Whereas, the people of the United States utilize as a national symbol the words, "In God We Trust"; and

Whereas, the Declaration of Independence and the Constitutions of the United States and the State of Iowa reserve to every individual, without regard to their total mental or physical capacity, certain inalienable rights of life, liberties, and opportunities to pursue happiness; and

Whereas, professional groups in the fields of science and medicine have not been able to definitely state that life does not begin at conception; and

Whereas, geneticists contend that a child from conception is endowed with proper characteristics of life and that it is autonomous, although dependent on a privileged environment; and

Whereas, the individual does not have a claim to his body for any reason other than the people of this nation believe in the free spirit concept, forever precluding that any person has the right of possession of another human; and

Whereas, any other approach to life would be in direct conflict with the law, both natural and written; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That for these and other reasons we refrain from legalizing any act that would in any way deny the right of life, once conceived, to any person described in this resolution.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE SECRETARY OF THE SENATE

IN THE MATTER OF THE RULES OF CIVIL PROCEDURE

To the First Regular Session of the Sixty-fifth General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

Pursuant to Sections 684.18 and 684.19, Code 1973, the Supreme Court of Iowa has prescribed and hereby reports to the General Assembly changes in the existing Rules of Civil Procedure as follows:

Rule 8. INJURY OR DEATH OF A MINOR.

That rule 8 be stricken and the following be substituted:

A parent, or the parents, may sue for the expense and actual loss of services, companionship and society resulting from injury to or death of a minor child.

Rule 34. BRINGING IN NEW PARTIES—PROCEDURE.

That "rule 33" be stricken from line 2 of rule 74 and "rules 33 and 34" be substituted, that "(a) AGAINST COPARTIES." be stricken from rule 33, and that rules 33(b) and 34 be stricken and the following be substituted:

Rule 34. THIRD PARTY PRACTICE.

(a) When Defendant May Bring in Third Party. At any time after commencement of the action a defending party, as a third-party plaintiff, may file a cross-petition and cause an original notice to be served upon a person not a party to the action who is or may be liable to him for all or part of the plaintiff's claim against him. The third-party plaintiff need not obtain leave to make the service if he files the cross-petition not later than 10 days after he files his original answer. Otherwise he must obtain leave on motion upon notice to all parties to the action. The person served with the original notice, hereinafter called the third-party defendant, shall make his defenses to the third-party plaintiff's claim as provided in rule 85 and his counterclaims against the third-party plaintiff as provided in rule 29 and cross-claims against other third-party defendants as provided in rule 33. The third-party defendant may assert against the plaintiff any defenses which the third-party plaintiff has to the plaintiff's claim. The third-party defendant may also assert any claim against the plaintiff arising out of the transaction or occurrence that is the subject matter of the plaintiff's claim against the third-party plaintiff, and the plaintiff thereupon shall assert his defenses as provided in rule 85 and his counterclaims under rule 29. Any party may move to strike the third-party claim or for its severance or for separate trial. A third-party defendant may proceed under this rule against any person not a party to the action who is or may be liable to him for all or part of the claim made in the action against the third-party defendant.

(b) When Plaintiff May Bring in Third Party. When a counterclaim is asserted against a plaintiff, he may cause a third party to be brought in under circumstances under which this rule would entitle a defendant to do so.

Rule 55. FAILURE TO FILE PETITION.

That rule 55 be amended by adding thereto the following:

Dismissals under this rule shall be without prejudice, but if the plaintiff has previously dismissed an action against the same defendant in any court of any state or of the United States, including or based on the same cause, such dismissal shall operate as an adjudication against him on the merits unless otherwise ordered by the court in the interest of justice.

Rule 121. DISCOVERY METHODS.

That rule 121 be stricken and the following be substituted:

Parties may obtain discovery by one or more of the following methods: depositions upon oral examination or written questions; written interrogatories; production of documents or things or permission to enter upon land or other property, for inspection and other purposes; physical and mental examinations; and requests for admission. Unless the court orders otherwise under rule 123, the frequency of use of these methods is not limited.

Rule 122. SCOPE OF DISCOVERY.

That rule 122 be stricken and the following be substituted:

Unless otherwise limited by order of the court in accordance with these rules, the scope of discovery is as follows:

(1) In General. Parties may obtain discovery regarding any matter, not privileged, which is relevant to the subject matter involved in the pending action, whether it relates to the claim or defense of the party seeking discovery or to the claim or defense of any other party, including the existence, description, nature, custody, condition and location of any books, documents, or other tangible things and the identity and location of persons having knowledge of any discoverable matter. It is not ground for objection that the information sought will be inadmissible at the trial if the information sought appears reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

(2) Insurance Agreements. A party may obtain discovery of the existence and contents of any insurance agreement under which any person carrying on an insurance business may be liable to satisfy part or all of a judgment which may be entered in the action or to indemnify or reimburse for payments made to satisfy the judgment. Information concerning the insurance agreement is not by reason of disclosure admissible in evidence at trial. For purposes of this paragraph, an application for insurance shall not be treated as part of an insurance agreement.

(3) Trial Preparation: Materials. Subject to the provisions of subdivision (4) of this rule, a party may obtain discovery of documents and tangible things otherwise discoverable under subdivision (1) of this rule and prepared in anticipation of litigation or for trial by or for another party or by or for that other party's representative (including his attorney, consultant, surety, indemnitor, insurer, or agent) only upon a showing that the party seeking discovery has substantial need of the materials in the preparation of his case and that he is unable without undue hardship to obtain the substantial equivalent of the materials by other means. In ordering discovery of such materials when the required showing has been made, the court shall protect against disclosure of the mental impressions, conclusions, opinions, or legal theories of an attorney or other representative of a party concerning the litigation.

A party may obtain without the required showing a statement concerning the action or its subject matter previously made by that party. Upon request, a person not a party may obtain without the required showing a statement concerning the action or its subject matter previously made by that person. If the request is refused, the person may move for a court order. The provisions of rule 134(a)(4) apply to the award of expenses incurred in relation to the motion. For purposes of this paragraph, a statement previously made in (A) a written statement signed or otherwise adopted or approved by the person making it, or (B) a stenographic, mechanical, electrical, or other recording, or a transcription thereof, which is a substantially verbatim recital of an oral statement by the person making it and contemporaneously recorded.

(4) Trial Preparation: Experts. Except as provided in rule 133, discovery of facts known and opinions held by experts, otherwise discoverable under the provisions of subdivision (1) of this rule and acquired or developed in anticipation of litigation or for trial, may be obtained only as follows:

(A) (i) A party may through interrogatories require any other party to identify each person whom the other party expects to call as an expert witness at trial, to state the subject matter on which the expert is expected to testify, and to state the substance of the facts and opinions to which the expert is expected to testify and a summary of the grounds for each opinion. (ii) Upon motion, the court may order further discovery by other means, subject to such restrictions as to scope and such provisions, pursuant to subdivision (4)(C) of this rule, concerning fees and expenses as the court may deem appropriate.

(B) Any party may discover facts known or opinions held by an expert who has been retained or specially employed by another party in anticipation of litigation or preparation for trial and who is not expected to be called as a witness at trial, only as provided in rule 133 or upon a showing of exceptional circumstances under which it is impracticable for the party seeking discovery to obtain facts or opinions on the same subject by other means.

(C) Unless manifest injustice would result, (i) the court shall require that the party seeking discovery pay the expert a reasonable fee for time spent in responding to discovery under subdivisions (4)(A)(ii) and (4)(B) of this rule; and (ii) with respect to discovery obtained under subdivision (4)(A)(ii) of this rule the court may require, and with respect to discovery obtained under subdivision (4)(B) of this rule the court shall require, the party seeking discovery to pay the other party a fair portion of the fees and expenses reasonably incurred by the latter party in obtaining facts and opinions from the expert.

Rule 123. PROTECTIVE ORDERS.

That rule 123 be stricken and the following be substituted:

Upon motion by a party or by the person from whom discovery is sought or by any person who may be affected thereby, and for good cause shown, the court in which the action is pending or alternatively, on matters relating to a deposition, the court in the district where the deposition is to be taken, may make any order which justice requires to protect a party or person from annoyance, embarrassment, oppression, or undue burden or expense, including one or more of the following: (1) that the discovery not be had; (2) that the discovery may be had only on specified terms and conditions, including a designation of the time or place; (3) that the discovery may be had only by a method of discovery other than that selected by the party seeking discovery; (4) that certain matters not be inquired into, or that the scope of the discovery be limited to certain matters; (5) that discovery be conducted with no one present except persons designated by the court; (6) that a deposition after being sealed be opened only by order of the court; (7) that a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information not be disclosed or be disclosed only in a designated way; (8) that the parties simultaneously file specified documents or information enclosed in sealed envelopes to be opened as directed by the court.

If the motion for a protective order is denied in whole or in part, the court may, on such terms and conditions as are just, order that any party or person provide or permit discovery. The provisions of rule (134(a)(4) apply to the award of expenses incurred in relation to the motion.

Rule 124. SEQUENCE AND TIMING OF DISCOVERY.

That rule 124 be stricken and that the following be substituted:

Unless the court upon motion orders otherwise for the convenience of parties and witnesses and in the interests of justice, methods of discovery may be used in any sequence and the fact that a party is conducting discovery, whether by deposition or otherwise, shall not operate to delay any other party's discovery.

Rule 125. SUPPLEMENTATION OF RESPONSES.

That rule 125 be stricken and the following be substituted:

A party who has responded to a request for discovery with a response that was complete when made is under no duty to supplement his response to include information thereafter acquired, except as follows:

(1) A party is under a duty seasonably to supplement his response with respect to any question directly addressed to (A) the identity and location of persons having knowledge of discoverable matters, and (B) the identity of each person expected to be called as an expert witness at trial, the subject matter on which he is expected to testify, and the substance of his testimony.

(2) A party is under a duty seasonably to amend a prior response if he obtains information upon the basis of which (A) he knows that the response was incorrect when made, or (B) he knows that the response though correct when made is no longer true and the circumstances are such that a failure to amend the response is in substance a knowing concealment.

(3) A duty to supplement responses may be imposed by order of the court, agreement of the parties, or at any time prior to trial through new requests for supplementation of prior responses.

Rule 126. INTERROGATORIES TO PARTIES.

That rule 126 be stricken and the following be substituted:

(a) Availability; procedures for use. Except in small claims, any party may file written interrogatories to be answered by another party served or, if the other party is a public or private corporation or a partnership or association or governmental agency, by any officer or agent, who shall furnish such information as is available to the party. Copies of interrogatories and answers shall be filed for each adverse party. Interrogatories may, without leave of court, be directed to the plaintiff after commencement of the action and upon any other party with or after service of the original notice upon that party.

The clerk shall deliver a copy of the interrogatories as provided in rule 82, unless a copy shall have been served with an original notice.

Each interrogatory shall be answered separately and fully in writing under oath, unless it is objected to, in which event the reasons for objection shall be stated in lieu of an answer. The answers are to be signed by the person making them. The party to whom the interrogatories are directed shall file the answers, and objections if any, within 30 days after they are filed, except that a defendant may file answers or objections within 45 days after service of the original notice upon that defendant. The court may allow a shorter or longer time. The party submitting the interrogatories may move for an order under rule 134(a) with respect to any objection to or other failure to answer an interrogatory. Copies of answers shall be delivered as provided in rule 82.

(b) Scope; use at trial. Interrogatories may relate to any matters which can be inquired into under rule 122, and the answers may be used to the extent permitted by the rules of evidence.

An interrogatory otherwise proper is not necessarily objectionable merely because an answer to the interrogatory involves an opinion or contention that relates to fact or the application of law to fact, but the court may order that such an interrogatory need not be answered until after designated discovery has been completed or until a pretrial conference or other later time.

(c) Option to produce business records. Where the answer to an interrogatory may be derived or ascertained from the business records of the party upon whom the interrogatory has been served or from an examination, audit or inspection of such business records, or from a compilation, abstract or summary based thereon, and the burden of deriving or ascertaining the answer is substantially the same for the party serving the interrogatory as for the party served, it is a sufficient answer to such interrogatory to specify the records from which the answer may be derived or ascertained and to afford to the party serving the interrogatory reasonable opportunity to examine, audit or inspect such records and to make copies, compilations, abstracts or summaries.

Rule 127. REQUESTS FOR ADMISSION.

That rule 127 be stricken and the following be substituted:

A party may serve upon any other party a written request for the admission, for purposes of the pending action only, of the truth of any matters within the scope of rule 122 set forth in the request that relate to statements or opinions of fact or of the application of law to fact, including the genuineness of any documents described in the request. Copies of documents shall be served with the request unless they have been or are otherwise furnished or made available for inspection and copying. The request may, without leave of court, be served upon the plaintiff after commencement of the action and upon any other party with or after service of the original notice upon that party.

Each matter of which an admission is requested shall be separately set forth. The matter is admitted unless, within 30 days after service of the request, or within such shorter or longer time as the court may on motion allow, the party to whom the request is directed serves upon the party requesting the admission a written answer or objection addressed to the matter, signed by the party or by his attorney, but, unless the court shortens the time, a defendant shall not be required to serve answers or objections before the expiration of 45 days after service of the original notice upon him. If objection is made, the reasons therefor shall be stated. The answer shall specifically deny the matter or set forth in detail the reasons why the answering party cannot truthfully admit or deny the matter. A denial shall fairly meet the substance of the requested admission, and when good faith requires that a party qualify his answer or deny a part of the matter of which an admission is requested, he shall specify so much of it as is true and qualify or deny the remainder. An answering party may not give lack of information or knowledge as a reason for failure to admit or deny unless he states that he has made reasonable inquiry and that the information known or readily obtainable by him is insufficient to enable him to admit or deny. A party who considers that a matter of which an admission has been requested presents a genuine issue for trial may not, on that ground alone, object to the request; he may, subject to the provisions of rule 134(c), deny the matter or set forth reasons why he cannot admit or deny it.

The party who has requested the admission may move to determine the sufficiency of the answers or objections. Unless the court determines that an objection is justified, it shall order that an answer be served. If the court determines that an answer does not comply with the requirements of this rule, it may order either that the matter is admitted or that an amended answer be served. The court may, in lieu of these orders, determine that the final disposition of the request be made at a pretrial conference or at a designated time prior to trial. The provisions of rule 134(a)(4) apply to the award of expenses incurred in relation to the motion.

Rule 128. EFFECT OF ADMISSION.

That rule 128 be stricken and the following be substituted:

Any matter admitted under this rule is conclusively established in the pending action unless the court on motion permits withdrawal or amendment of the admission. Subject to the provisions of rule 138 governing amendment of a pretrial order, the court may permit withdrawal or amendment when the presentation of the merits of the action will be subverted thereby and the party who obtained the admission fails to satisfy the court that withdrawal or amendment will prejudice him in maintaining his action or defense on the merits. Any admission made by a party under this rule may be used as an evidentiary admission only in any other proceeding.

Rule 129. PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENTS AND THINGS AND ENTRY UPON LAND FOR INSPECTION AND OTHER PURPOSES.

The rule 129 be stricken and the following be substituted:

Any party may serve on any other party a request (1) to produce and permit the party making the request, or someone acting on his behalf, to inspect and copy, any designated documents (including writings, drawings, graphs, charts, photographs, phono-records, and other data compilations from which information can be obtained, translated, if necessary, by the respondent through detection devices into reasonably usable form), or to inspect and copy, test, or sample any tangible things which constitute or contain matters within the scope of rule 122 and which are in the possession, custody or control of the party upon whom the request is served; or (2) except as otherwise provided by statute, to permit entry upon designated land or other property in the possession or control of the party upon whom the request is served for the purpose of inspection and measuring, surveying, photographing, testing, or sampling the property or any designated object to operation thereon, within the scope of rule 122.

Rule 130. PROCEDURE UNDER RULE 129.

That rule 130 be stricken and the following be substituted:

The request may, without leave of court, be served upon the plaintiff after commencement of the action and upon any other party with or after service of the original notice upon that party. The request shall set forth the items to be inspected either by individual item or by category, and describe each item and category with reasonable particularity. The request shall specify a reasonable time, place, and manner of making the inspection and performing the related acts.

The party upon whom the request is served shall serve a written response within 30 days after the service of the request, except that a defendant may serve a response within 45 days after service of the original notice upon that defendant. The court may allow a shorter or longer time. The response shall state, with respect to each item or category, that inspection and related activities will be permitted as requested, unless the request is objected to, in which event the reasons for objection shall be stated. If objection is made to part of an item or category, the part shall be specified. The party submitting the request may move for an order under rule 134 with respect to any objection to or other failure to respond to the request or any part thereof, or any failure to permit inspection as requested.

Rule 131. ACTION FOR PRODUCTION OR ENTRY AGAINST PERSONS NOT PARTIES.

That rule 131 be stricken and the following be substituted:

Rules 129 and 130 do not preclude an independent action against a person not a party for production of documents and things and permission to enter upon land.

Rule 132. PHYSICAL AND MENTAL EXAMINATION OF PERSONS.

That rule 132 be stricken and the following be substituted:

When the mental or physical condition (including the blood group) of a party, or of a person in the custody or under the legal control of a party, is in controversy, the court in which the action is pending may order the party to submit to a physical or mental examination by a physician or to produce for examination the person in his custody or legal control. The order may be made only on motion for good cause shown and upon notice to the person to be examined and to all parties and shall specify the time, place, manner, conditions, and scope of the examination and the person or persons by whom it is to be made.

Rule 133. REPORT OF EXAMINING PHYSICIAN.

That rule 133 be stricken and the following be substituted:

(a) If requested by the party against whom an order is made under rule 132 or the person examined, the party causing the examination to be made shall deliver to him a copy of a detailed written report of the examining physician setting out his findings, including results of all tests made, diagnosis and conclusions, together with like reports of all earlier examinations of the same condition. After delivery the party causing the examination shall be entitled upon request to receive from the party against whom the order is made a like report of any examination, previously or thereafter made, of the same condition, unless, in the case of a report of examination of a person not a party, the party shows that he is unable to obtain it. The court on motion may make an order against a party requiring delivery of a report on such terms as are just, and if a physician fails or refuses to make a report the court may exclude his testimony if offered at the trial.

(b) By requesting and obtaining a report of the examination so ordered or by taking the deposition of the examiner, the party examined waives any privilege he may have in that action or any other involving the same controversy, regarding the testimony of every other person who has examined or may thereafter examine him in respect of the same mental or physical condition.

(c) This rule applies to examination made by agreement of the parties, unless the agreement expressly provides otherwise. This rule does not preclude discovery of a report of an examining physician or the taking of a deposition of the physician in accordance with the provisions of any other rule or statute.

Rule 134. FAILURE TO MAKE DISCOVERY: CONSEQUENCES.

That rule 134 be stricken and the following be substituted:

(a) Motion for order compelling discovery. A party, upon reasonable notice to other parties and all persons affected thereby, may apply for an order compelling discovery as follows:

(1) Appropriate court. An application for an order to a party may be made to the court in which the action is pending, or, on matters relating to a deposition, to the court in the district where the deposition is being taken. An application for an order to a deponent who is not a party shall be made to the court in the district where the deposition is being taken.

(2) Motion. If a deponent fails to answer a question propounded or submitted under rule 140 or 150, or a corporation or other entity fails to make a designation under rule 147(e), or a party fails to answer an interrogatory submitted under rule 126, or if a party, in response to a request for inspection submitted under rule 129, fails to respond that inspection will be permitted as requested or fails to permit inspection as requested, the discovering party may move for an order compelling an answer, or a designation, or an order compelling inspection in accordance with the request. When taking a deposition on oral examination, the proponent of the question may complete or adjourn the examination before he applies for an order.

In ruling on such motion, the court may make such protective order as it would have been empowered to make on a motion made pursuant to rule 123.

(3) Evasive or incomplete answer. For purposes of this subdivision an evasive or incomplete answer is to be treated as a failure to answer.

(4) Award of expenses of motion. If the motion is granted, the court shall, after opportunity for hearing, require the party or deponent whose conduct necessitated the motion or the party or attorney advising such conduct or both of them to pay to the moving party the reasonable expenses incurred in obtaining the order, including attorney's fees, unless the court finds that the opposition to the motion was substantially justified or that other circumstances make an award of expenses unjust.

If the motion is denied, the court shall, after opportunity for hearing, require the moving party or the attorney advising the motion or both of them to pay to the party or deponent who opposed the motion the reasonable expenses incurred in opposing the motion, including attorney's fees, unless the court finds that the making of the motion was substantially justified or that other circumstances make an award of expenses unjust.

If the motion is granted in part and denied in part, the court may apportion the reasonable expenses incurred in relation to the motion among the parties and persons in a just manner.

(b) Failure to comply with order.

(1) Sanctions by court in district where deposition is taken. If a deponent fails to be sworn or to answer a question after being directed to do so by the court in the district in which the deposition is being taken, the failure may be considered a contempt of that court.

(2) Sanctions by court in which action is pending. If a party or an officer, director, or managing agent of a party or a person designated under rule 147(e) to testify on behalf of a party fails to obey an order to provide or permit discovery, including an order made under subdivision (a) of this rule or rule 132, the court in which the action is pending may make such orders in regard to the failure as are just, and among others the following:

(A) An order that the matters regarding which the order was made or any other designated facts shall be taken to be established for the purposes of the action in accordance with the claim of the party obtaining the order;

(B) An order refusing to allow the disobedient party to support or oppose designated claims or defenses, or prohibiting him from introducing designated matters in evidence;

(C) An order striking out pleadings or parts thereof, or staying further proceedings until the order is obeyed, or dismissing the action or proceeding or any part thereof, or rendering a judgment by default against the disobedient party;

(D) In lieu of any of the foregoing orders or in addition thereto, an order treating as a contempt of court the failure to obey any orders except an order to submit to a physical or mental examination.

In lieu of any of the foregoing orders or in addition thereto, the court shall require the party failing to obey the order or the attorney advising him or both to pay the reasonable expenses, including attorney's fees, caused by the failure, unless the court finds that the failure was substantially justified or that other circumstances make an award of expenses unjust.

(c) Expenses on failure to admit. If a party fails to admit the genuineness of any document or the truth of any matter as requested under rule 127, and if the party requesting the admissions thereafter proves the genuineness of the document or the truth of the matter, he may apply to the court for an order requiring the other party to pay him the reasonable expenses incurred in making that proof, including reasonable attorney's fees. The court shall make the order unless it finds that (1) the request was held objectionable pursuant to rule 127, or (2) the admission sought was of no substantial importance, or (3) the party failing to admit had reasonable ground to believe that he might prevail on the matter, or (4) there was other good reason for the failure to admit.

(d) Failure of party to attend at own deposition or serve answers to interrogatories or respond to request for inspection. If a party or an officer, director, or managing agent of a party or a person designated under rule 147(e) to testify on behalf of a party fails (1) to appear before the officer who is to take his deposition, after being served with a proper notice, or (2) to serve answers or objections to interrogatories submitted under rule 126, after proper service of the interrogatories, or (3) to serve a written response to a request for inspection submitted under rule 129, after proper service of the request, the court in which the action is pending on motion may make such orders in regard to the failure as are just, and among others it may take any action authorized under paragraphs (A), (B), and (C) of subdivision (b)(2) of this rule. In lieu of any order or in addition thereto, the court shall require the party failing to act or the attorney advising him or both to pay the reasonable expenses, including attorney's fees, caused by the failure, unless the court finds that the failure was substantially justified or that other circumstances make an award of expenses unjust.

The failure to act described in this subdivision may not be excused on the ground that the discovery sought is objectionable unless the party failing to act has applied for a protective order as provided by rule 123.

Rule 140. DEPOSITIONS UPON ORAL EXAMINATION.

That rule 140 be stricken and the following be substituted:

(a) When depositions may be taken. After commencement of the action, any party may take the testimony of any person, including a party, by deposition upon oral examination. Leave of court, granted with or without notice, must be obtained only if the plaintiff seeks to take a deposition prior to the expiration of 10 days after the appearance date for any defendant, except that leave is not required (1) if a defendant has served a notice of taking deposition or otherwise sought discovery, or (2) if special notice is given as provided in subdivision (b)(2) of this rule. The attendance of witnesses may be compelled by subpoena as provided in rule 155. The deposition of a person confined in prison may be taken only by leave of court on such terms as the court prescribes.

(b) Notice of examination: General Requirements: Special Notice: Non-stenographic recording: production of documents and things: Deposition of organization.

(1) A party desiring to take the deposition of any person upon oral examination shall give reasonable notice in writing to every other party to the action. The notice shall state the time and place for taking the deposition and the name and address of each person to be examined, if known, and, if the name is not known, a general description sufficient to identify him or the particular class or group to which he belongs. If a subpoena duces tecum is to be served on the person to be examined, the designation of the materials to be produced as set forth in the subpoena shall be attached to or included in the notice.

(2) Leave of court is not required for the taking of a deposition by plaintiff if the notice (A) states that the person to be examined is about to go out of the state and will be unavailable for examination unless his deposition is taken before expiration of the 30-day period, and (B) sets forth facts to support the statement. The plaintiff's attorney shall sign the notice, and his signature constitutes a certification by him that to the best of his knowledge, information, and belief the statement and supporting facts are true.

If a party shows that when he was served with notice under this subdivision (b)(2) he was unable through the exercise of diligence to obtain counsel to represent him at the taking of the deposition, the deposition may not be used against him.

(3) The court may for cause shown enlarge or shorten the time for taking the deposition.

(4) The court may upon motion order that the testimony at a deposition be recorded by other than stenographic means, in which event the order shall designate the manner of recording, preserving, and filing the deposition, and may include other provisions to assure that the recorded testimony will be accurate and trustworthy. If the order is made, a party may nevertheless arrange to have a stenographic transcription made at his own expense.

(5) The notice to a party deponent may be accompanied by a request made in compliance with rules 129 and 130 for the production of documents and tangible things at the taking of the deposition. The procedure of rule 130 shall apply to the request.

(c) Failure to attend or to serve subpoena; expenses.

(1) If the party giving the notice of the taking of a deposition fails to attend and proceed therewith and another party attends in person or by attorney pursuant to the notice, the court may order the party giving the notice to pay to such other party the reasonable expenses incurred by him and his attorney in attending, including reasonable attorney's fees.

(2) If a party giving the notice of the taking of a deposition of a witness fails to serve a subpoena upon him and the witness does not attend because of such failure, and if another party attends in person or by attorney because he expects the deposition of that witness to be taken, the court may order the party giving the notice to pay to such other party the reasonable expenses incurred by him and his attorney attending, including reasonable attorney's fees.

Rule 141. RESTRICTIONS.

That rule 141 be stricken and the following be substituted:

In small claims, depositions for discovery may not be taken unless leave of court is first obtained on notice and showing of just cause therefor and upon such terms as justice may require.

Rule 143. WITNESS LISTS.

That rule 143 be stricken and the following substituted:

Except as provided in rule 122, a party shall not be required to list the witnesses expected to be called at trial.

Rule 147(e). ORAL EXAMINATION—NOTICE.

That the following paragraph be added to rule 147:

(e) A party may in his notice and in a subpoena name as the deponent a public or private corporation or a partnership or association or governmental agency and describe with reasonable particularity the matters on which examination is requested. In that event, the organization so named shall designate one or more officers, directors, or managing agents, or other persons who consent to testify on its behalf, and may set forth, for each person designated, the matters on which he will testify. A subpoena shall advise a non-party organization of its duty to make such a designation. The persons so designated shall testify as to matters known or reasonably available to the organization. This paragraph does not preclude taking a deposition by any other procedure authorized in these rules.

Rule 148. CONDUCT OF ORAL EXAMINATION.

That rule 148 be stricken and the following substituted:

(a) Examination and cross-examination; record of examination; oath; objections. Examination and cross-examination of witnesses may proceed as permitted at the trial. The officer before whom the deposition is to be taken shall put the witness on oath and shall personally, or by someone acting under his direction and in his presence, record the testimony of the witness. The testimony shall be taken stenographically or recorded by any other means ordered in accordance with rule 140(b)(4). If requested by one of the parties, the testimony shall be transcribed. All objections made at the time of the examination to the qualifications of the officer taking the deposition, or to the manner of taking it, or to the evidence presented, or to the conduct of any party, and any other objection to the proceedings, shall be noted by the officer upon the deposition. Evidence objected to shall be taken subject to the objections. In lieu of participating in the oral examination, parties may serve written questions in a sealed envelope on the party taking the deposition and he shall transmit them to the officer, who shall propound them to the witness and record the answers verbatim.

(b) Motion to terminate or limit examination. At any time during the taking of the deposition, on motion of a party or of the deponent and upon a showing that the examination is being conducted in bad faith or in such manner as unreasonably to annoy, embarrass, or oppress the deponent or party, the court in which the action is pending or the court in the district where the deposition is being taken may order the officer conducting the examination to cease forthwith from taking the deposition, or may limit the scope and manner of the taking of the deposition as provided in rule

123. If the order made terminates the examination, it shall be resumed thereafter only upon the order of the court in which the action is pending. Upon demand of the objecting party or deponent, the taking of the deposition shall be suspended for the time necessary to make a motion for an order. The provisions of rule 134(a)(4) apply to the award of expenses incurred in relation to the motion.

Rule 149. READING AND SIGNING.

That rule 149(b) be stricken and the following be substituted:

(b) Submission to witness; changes, signing. In other cases, when the testimony is fully transcribed the deposition shall be submitted to the witness for examination and shall be read to or by him, unless such examination and reading are waived by the witness and by the parties. Any changes in form or substance which the witness desires to make shall be entered upon the deposition by the officer with a statement of the reasons given by the witness for making them. If rule 149(a) is not applicable, the deposition shall then be signed by the witness, unless the parties by stipulation waive the signing or the witness is ill or dead or cannot be found or refuses to sign. If the deposition is not signed by the witness within 30 days of its submission to him, the officer shall sign it and state on the record the fact of the waiver or of the illness, death, or absence of the witness or the fact of the refusal to sign together with the reason, if any, given therefor; and the deposition may then be used as fully as though signed unless on a motion to suppress under rule 158(f) the court holds that the reason given for the refusal to sign require rejection of the deposition in whole or in part.

Rule 152. CERTIFICATION AND RETURN—COPIES.

That subsections (a) and (b) of rule 152 be stricken and the following be substituted:

(a) The officer shall certify on the deposition that the witness was duly sworn by him and that the deposition is a true record of the testimony given by the witness. He shall then securely seal the deposition in an envelope endorsed with the title of the action and marked "Deposition of (here insert name of witness)" and shall promptly file it with the court in which the action is pending or send it by registered or certified mail to the clerk thereof for filing.

Documents and things produced for inspection during the examination of the witness shall, upon the request of a party, be marked for identification and annexed to and returned with the deposition, and may be inspected and copied by any party, except that (A) the person producing the materials may substitute copies to be marked for identification, if he affords to all parties fair opportunity to verify the copies by comparison with the originals, and (B) if the person producing the materials requests their return, the officer shall mark them, give each party an opportunity to inspect and copy them, and return them to the person producing them, and the materials may then be used in the same manner as if annexed to and returned with the deposition. Any party may move for an order that the original be annexed to and returned with the deposition to the court, pending final disposition of the case.

(c) Upon payment of reasonable charges therefor, the officer shall furnish a copy of the deposition to any party or to the deponent.

Rule 155. SUBPOENA.

That rule 155 be stricken and the following be substituted:

(a) On application of any party, or proof of service of a notice to take depositions under rule 147 or rule 150, the clerk of court where the action is pending shall issue subpoenas for persons named in and described in said notice or application. Subpoenas may also be issued as provided by statute.

(b) No resident of Iowa shall be thus subpoenaed to attend out of the county where he resides, or is employed, or transacts his business in person.

(c) A subpoena may also command the person to whom it is directed to produce the books, papers, documents or tangible things designated therein; but the court, upon motion promptly made by the person to whom the subpoena is directed, or by any other person stating an interest in the documents affected, and in any event at or before the time specified in the subpoena for compliance therewith, may (1) quash or modify the subpoena if it is unreasonable and oppressive or (2) condition denial of the motion upon the advancement by the person in whose behalf the subpoena is issued of the reasonable cost of producing the books, papers, documents or tangible things.

Rule 179. FINDINGS OF COURT.

That the first sentence of rule 179(b) be stricken and the following be substituted:

On motion joined with or filed within the time allowed for a motion for new trial, the findings and conclusions may be enlarged or amended and the judgment or decree modified accordingly or a different judgment or decree substituted.

Rule 196. INSTRUCTIONS.

1. That present rule 196 be designated paragraph "(a)" of rule 196.

2. That the following sentence be stricken from present rule 196:

"Before reading them to the jury, the court shall submit to counsel its instructions in their final form, noting this fact of record, and granting reasonable time for counsel to make objections after argument to the jury and before the instructions are read to the jury."; and that the following be substituted:

"Before jury arguments, the court shall give to each counsel a copy of its instructions in their final form, noting this fact of record and granting reasonable time for counsel to make objections, which shall be made and ruled on before arguments to the jury."

Rule 203. RENDERING VERDICT.

1. That the title to rule 203, be changed to "rule 203. RENDERING VERDICT AND ANSWERING INTERROGATORIES."

2. That rule 203(a) and 203(b) be stricken and the following be substituted:

(a) Number. Before a general verdict, special verdicts, or answers to interrogatories are returned, the parties may stipulate that the finding may be rendered by a stated majority of the jurors. In the absence of such stipulations a general verdict, special verdicts, or answers to interrogatories may be rendered by five-sixths of the jurors.

(b) Return—poll. The jury agreeing on a general verdict, special verdicts, or answers to interrogatories shall bring the finding into court where it shall be read to the jury and inquiry made if it is the jury's finding. A party may then require a poll, whereupon the court or clerk shall ask each juror if it is his finding. If the required number of jurors do not express agreement, the jury shall be sent out for further deliberation; otherwise, the finding is complete and the jury shall be discharged.

3. That the word "verdict" be stricken in line 3 of rule 203(c), and "finding" be substituted.

REPORT OF THE BUDGET AND FINANCIAL CONTROL COMMITTEE

The following report was received and placed on file with the Secretary of the Senate:

To the President of the Senate, Speaker of the House of Representatives, and Members of the 1973 Session of the Sixty-Fifth General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

The following is the report of the Budget and Financial Control Committee to the legislature as is required by Section 2.43 of the Code of Iowa, 1971:

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL SERVICES

In order to set an example, the Budget and Financial Control Committee this interim scheduled each of its meetings with the Department of Social Services to cover a specific bureau in the department. The meetings were held at one of the institutions under the jurisdiction of each of the Bureaus and included administrative staff from each of the institutions under that Bureau. This format allowed the Budget and Financial Control Committee to examine an entire program, such as mental health, as it exists in the state, rather than just a portion of it as it exists at each separate institution. This also provided a forum for the administrative staff of these institutions to meet and explain the program they are carrying out at each of their institutions.

The Budget and Financial Control Committee believes that this type of meeting improved the communication between these institutions and should be continued by the Department of Social Services. It is also felt that interdepartmental and intradepartmental staff visits would be helpful and the committee recommends that every effort be made to utilize the strengths of some institutions to help other institutions overcome existing weaknesses.

The committee recognizes the need for on-site visits to these institutions and recommends that the Budget and Financial Control Committee visit each of the institutions under the Department of Social Services during the first year of each biennium.

BUREAU OF FAMILY AND CHILDREN'S SERVICES

The Budget and Financial Control Committee met with the Bureau of Family and Children's Services at the State Juvenile Home in Toledo on May 18, 1972. The meeting included administrative personnel from the central office, the Iowa Annie Wittenmyer Home, the Boy's Training School, the Girl's Training School and State Juvenile Home.

Testimony before the Budget and Financial Control Committee indicates that those counties which have utilized community resources and have expanded their probation office personnel can more rapidly rehabilitate delinquent youth in a home atmosphere and at a fraction of institutional costs. Therefore, we recommend that legislation similar to Senate File 1039, submitted to the Second Session of the Sixty-fourth General Assembly, be implemented that will financially assist counties which reduce commitments to the girls' and boys' training schools.

The committee concurs in the recommendation of the Penal and Correctional Systems Study Committee that legislation be implemented that would make parents financially responsible for the cost of care and treatment of their children committed to state training schools to the extent they are able to contribute.

The four children's institutions have no control over the expenditure of the foster care funds which are appropriated to them. The area social workers determine the needs (medical, etc.) of the children on foster care even though payment is made from the institutions' funds. The committee recommends that the Human Resources Subcommittee on Appropriations work with the Department of Social Services to centralize the foster care money from all four children's institutions in the central office, thereby simplifying the procedure and providing better control over these funds.

BUREAU OF ADULT CORRECTIONS

The Budget and Financial Control Committee met with the Bureau of Adult Corrections at the State Penitentiary in Fort Madison on June 20, 1972. The meeting included administrative personnel from the central office, the State Penitentiary, the Men's Reformatory, the Iowa Security Medical Facility, the Riverview Release Center and the Women's Reformatory.

Due to decreasing population at the adult correction institutions and the increased use of parole, probation and work release, the committee recommends that no capital improvements be undertaken at any of these institutions beyond that which is required to maintain the facility until an overall plan is formulated for the adult correction program in Iowa.

During the meeting at Fort Madison, the committee listened to the contingent of correctional officers' wives who had requested an appearance before the committee. As a result of the discussion with these wives and administrative personnel of the Bureau of Adult Corrections, the Budget and Financial Control Committee recommends that the legislature direct that a committee be appointed to study the following areas:

1. Reinstatement of capital punishment for the murder of a correctional officer by an inmate.

2. Improve fringe benefits and provide earlier retirement for correctional officers.
3. Partial responsibility by the state for support of a correctional officer's family as long as there are children under 18 years of age if the officer is killed or permanently disabled in the line of duty.
4. Establishment of a suitable death benefit for the survivors of a state peace officer or correctional officer killed in the line of duty.

During the committee's meeting with the Bureau of Adult Corrections, the Iowa State Industries were discussed. It is the consensus of the committee that the whole concept of work in the prisons is totally unimaginative. Design of tools is contracted to outside sources. The finished tools come in and are placed in production machines leaving the inmates to do the monotonous repetitive tasks of factory workers. If the tools were designed in the institution, built in the institution and the project followed through to completion, the monotony would be relieved and the inmates would have enthusiasm for their jobs. The talent is in the institutions but there is no incentive.

The Budget and Financial Control Committee recommends that the Legislature direct a study be made of the Iowa State Industries. This study should include the following:

1. Evaluation of current programs in training productive workers in an industrial situation.
2. Due to declining population, the feasibility of combining the Men's Reformatory and the Iowa State Penitentiary, to provide adequate manpower to operate the industries.
3. Recommendations as to the direction the Iowa State Industries should take to be effective in rehabilitating inmates.

BUREAU OF MENTAL RETARDATION

The Budget and Financial Control Committee met with the Bureau of Mental Retardation at the Woodward Hospital-School on August 21, 1972. The meeting included administrative personnel from the central office, the Woodward Hospital-School and the Glenwood Hospital-School.

During this meeting the committee was informed that the Glenwood Hospital-School had recently been inspected by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals. The Budget and Financial Control Committee strongly recommends that before a state institution attempts to meet accreditation standards, a determination is made that the cost involved is justified by a proportionate increase in the effectiveness of the institution's programs. A determination should also be made as to whether or not all of the standards need to be met and whether the actual accreditation results in benefits to the State and the population of the institution in proportion to the costs involved.

BUREAU OF MENTAL HEALTH

The Budget and Financial Control Committee met with the Bureau of the central office and the Mental Health Institutes in Mount Pleasant, Mental Health at the Mental Health Institute in Mount Pleasant on September 12, 1972. The meeting included administrative personnel from the central office and the Mental Health Institutes in Mount Pleasant, Independence, Cherokee and Clarinda.

A position paper, authorized by Dr. May and supported by the Department of Social Services, entitled Mental Health in Iowa was presented at the meeting and is on file in the Legislative Fiscal Director's Office. This paper outlines the fragmentation of mental health services in Iowa and suggests that the present system prevents the State of Iowa from receiving millions of dollars in federal matching funds since no one in the state has the authority to speak for mental health. The committee was also informed that both the Bureau of Mental Health and the Bureau of Mental Retardation are currently without directors.

The Budget and Financial Control Committee recommends that these two bureaus be combined under one director and that legislation be drafted implementing reorganization of mental health services in the State of Iowa thereby eliminating the fragmentation of services which currently exist.

It was also brought to the attention of the committee that all four mental health institutes are establishing drug treatment programs. The committee recommends that all drug treatment programs be coordinated to avoid duplication of effort as occurred in the alcoholism treatment programs.

IOWA SOLDIERS' HOME

The Budget and Financial Control Committee met with the administrative staff of the Iowa Soldiers' Home in Marshalltown on November 15, 1972. Also present at the meeting were the Commissioner of Social Services, the Director of the Bureau of Family and Childrens' Services and additional staff from the central office.

The committee was informed of the drastic need for capital improvements at the Soldiers' Home.

The Iowa Soldiers' Home currently operates from state appropriation. Members payments and Veterans Administration aid for care given to veterans are deposited to the State General Fund. During the meeting, the committee was told that a veterans organization in Iowa is advocating the implementation of enabling legislation which will allow the Soldiers' Home to retain the Veterans Administration aid for capital construction.

The Budget and Financial Control Committee strongly recommends that this method of funding capital construction not be implemented. This would not only set a bad precedent but would also reduce the General Fund receipts by approximately three-quarters of a million dollars a year.

The General Assembly is charged with the responsibility of appropriating state funds to the areas determined to have the greatest need. Implementation of this type of enabling legislation would be an abdication by the General Assembly of a portion of its responsibility. The committee agrees that there is a need for capital improvements at the Soldiers' Home. However, the committee feels that it is the responsibility of the General Assembly to determine the amount of funds which will be appropriated for this purpose taking into consideration the total needs of the State.

GENERAL COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS ON DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL SERVICES

During the meeting at the Hospital-School in Woodward on August 21, 1972, the Budget and Financial Control Committee requested that the Department of Social Services prepare a list of priorities for the next biennium and long-range plans for the Department. The Commissioner of Social Services stated that a full report is being prepared and would be forthcoming in the near future.

The committee recommends that the Human Resources Subcommittee on Appropriations take this report into consideration when they are working on the Department of Social Services appropriation.

At the meeting in Toledo on May 19, 1972, the Department of Social Services explained a current project entitled "Program and Financial Planning." The object of the project is to determine the total cost of each service so an evaluation can be made to determine if sufficient benefits are being derived from the program to justify the expenditure of funds. These reports will record whether or not goals are being attained within the time frame set and will aid in determining priorities and the validity of programs.

The Budget and Financial Control Committee commends the Department of Social Services for undertaking this project and, although it is not currently operational, strongly recommends that the department continue work on its implementation. It is also recommended that once this project is successfully implemented a determination be made as to whether or not it can be adapted to other state agencies.

The Budget and Financial Control Committee recommends that personnel from the Social Service institutions be invited to appear before the Human Resources Subcommittee on Appropriations during the budget hearings to explain their budget requests and priorities. This was done for the institutions by the Department of Social Services central office during the last budget session. The Budget and Financial Control Committee feels that the institutional personnel can contribute valuable additional information to the legislators if they are present at the budget hearings and are allowed to participate.

EDUCATION

During the spring of 1972 a controversy developed between the Area XIII Board and the Clarinda campus administration. Some of the problems involved in the dispute were brought to the attention of the Budget and Financial Control Committee. The committee brought all of the parties involved together at a public hearing in Clarinda April 25, 1972. Partly as a result of this meeting, the budget for the Clarinda campus was adjusted and the dispute resolved.

As a result of their meetings at the Area Schools, the Budget and Financial Control Committee recommends the continuation and funding of the Coordinating Council for Higher Education. The committee feels that private colleges, area schools and the Regents institutions will all benefit from the discussions of the Council and that the original philosophy of local control for area schools will be better carried out if the council is continued.

We are witnessing the development of two systems of higher education in this state; one administered by the Board of Regents and the other by the Department of Public Instruction. The Budget and Financial Control Committee strongly recommend that the Board of Public Instruction and the Board of Regents hold joint meetings to work out a cooperative program eliminating duplication and effecting a more efficient use of higher education facilities.

PERFORMANCE AUDITING

The Budget and Financial Control Committee recommends that a statewide program of performance auditing be initiated by the staff of the Legislative Fiscal Director. Such a program is included in the budget askings for the 1973-1975 biennium. Performance auditing would be started on a phased-in basis as soon as the budget is approved by the Sixty-fifth General Assembly.

The members of the past General Assemblies as well as the leadership of those Assemblies have indicated that they would like a report on each department concerning management performance and the efficiency and economy with which each program has been carried out. Also, they wish to know if programs and performance are conforming with legislative intent.

The Legislative Fiscal Director estimates that a performance audit could be completed on each state department within three to four years from the start of the program if it is implemented in accordance with the requested budget.

The Budget and Financial Control Committee has authorized and the Legislative Fiscal Director has completed preparation of a performance audit program and an actual performance audit of the Merit Employment Department. The completed audit recommendations have been reviewed and accepted by the Department. The changes when fully implemented will greatly improve the operations of the Merit Employment Department.

GENERAL COMMENTS

In all of our largest and therefore costliest departments of Iowa State Government there are both job duplications and service duplications. Furthermore, management decisions in these departments often seem to be deliberately motivated by a spirit of self-interest, rather than departmental efficiency.

Faced with limited budgets in this biennium, too many state departments have retained their costly professional staff by simply reducing working staff. At Fort Madison this dangerous subterfuge has:

1. Sharply reduced guard morale.

2. Lowered the basic conditions of safety for all, as witness the number of vicious attacks and stabbings that have occurred here in recent months.

We cannot emphasize too strongly that the efficient operations of any state department rest primarily upon an adequate working force, and that the refinements provided by professionals are effective only if such working force is indeed adequate.

The members of the Budget and Financial Control Committee express their thanks to all state departments, commissions, agencies and institutions for their cooperation during the committee's visits.

The motion prevailed and the President appointed as such committee Senators Potter, Bergman and Orr.

ADOPTION OF HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 9

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 9

By Holden and Cochran

Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate Concurring: That a joint convention of the two houses of the First Regular Session of the Sixty-fifth General Assembly be held on Thursday, January 25, 1973, at 11:00 a.m.

Be It Further Resolved: That members of the Supreme Court, members of the Executive Council, as well as the general public are invited to be in attendance.

Be It Further Resolved: That Governor Robert D. Ray be invited to make appropriate remarks commemorating the life, character and service to the nation of, and to pay final tribute to, former President Lyndon Baines Johnson.

The motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

By Committee on Higher Education

Whereas, chapter two hundred sixty-three A (263A), Code 1973, provides that the state board of regents after authorization by a constitutional majority of the General Assembly may carry out any project as defined in that chapter of the Code at the state university of Iowa; and

Whereas, chapter two hundred sixty-three A (263A), Code 1973 authorizes the state board of regents to borrow money and to issue and sell negotiable bonds or notes to pay all or any part of the cost of carrying out such projects at the institution payable solely and only from and secured by an irrevocable pledge of a sufficient portion of the University Hospital Income; and

Whereas, many of the facilities of the hospitals at the state university of Iowa were built between forty and fifty years ago and are inadequate to meet present and future demands for statewide medical and teaching services; and

Whereas, said inadequacy exists in operating room facilities which are located in several different areas at the university hospitals and are not designed for today's advanced surgical techniques and workload of more than fifteen thousand operations annually; and

Whereas, present space available for radiological services, one of the most important fields in modern medicine, is less than that recommended by the U.S. Public Health Services for a prototype hospital of five hundred beds although the university hospitals have eleven hundred ninety-two beds; and

Whereas, the out-patient clinical facilities are located in widely separated areas of the hospitals and seriously encumber the ability of the clinical specialists to handle almost one-quarter million patient visits annually and concentration of these services in a single area will greatly facilitate services to patients and training for family practice, and improve efficiency; and

Whereas, twenty percent or two hundred forty of the beds serving annually more than thirty-three thousand in-patients are located in large sixteen- to twenty-bed wards and do not meet the standards established for Medicare patients or the demands by private patients and, further, detailed studies have shown that remodeling these existing large wards into smaller units would be prohibitively costly and create insurmountable problems in teaching; and

Whereas, to alleviate these conditions, the state board of regents requests authorization to construct an eight-story addition of one hundred sixty-eight thousand gross square feet north of the general hospital, to house an operating room suite and facilities, a diagnostic radiology section, out-patient clinic, and in-patient facilities for eighty beds, at an estimated total cost of thirteen million nine hundred thousand dollars ($13,900,000) of which not more than ten million dollars ($10,000,000) would be financed by borrowing under the provisions of chapter two hundred sixty-three A (263A), Code 1973, and the remainder to be financed by other funds; Now Therefore

Be It Resolved by the Senate the House Concurring, that the state board of regents be and is hereby authorized to construct an addition of one hundred sixty-eight thousand gross square feet of floor space, more or less, to the general hospital of the state university of Iowa to house an operating room suite and facilities, a diagnostic radiology section, out-patient clinic, and in-patient facilities at an estimated cost of thirteen million nine hundred thousand dollars ($13,900,000) of which not more than ten million ($10,000,000) would be financed by borrowing authorized by the provisions of chapter two hundred sixty-three A (263A), Code 1973.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 13

By Lamborn and Schaben

Whereas, the Sixty-fifth General Assembly is advised of a meeting of the Pioneer Lawmakers Association to be held in the Historical Building on Thursday, April 5, 1973, and request the opportunity to formally meet with the General Assembly.

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring: That the General Assembly meet in joint session in the House chamber on Thursday, April 5, 1973, at 2:00 p.m. and that the Pioneer Lawmakers be invited to attend and present a program on that occasion.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 14

By Plymat, Gallagher, Hultman, Junkins, Schwengels and Taylor

Whereas, Major General Joseph G. May, Lieutenant Colonel Eric P. Berner, the 186th Military Police Company, and the Iowa National Guard did an exceptional job in arranging the inaugural ceremonies of Governor Robert D. Ray and Lieutenant Governor Arthur A. Neu; and

Whereas, this inauguration was enjoyed thoroughly by more Iowans than ever before;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring: That Major General Joseph G. May, Lieutenant Colonel Eric P. Berner, the 186th Military Police Company, and the Iowa National Guard be commended for providing this outstanding service.

Be It Further Resolved: That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Major General Joseph G. May, Lieutenant Colonel Eric P. Berner, and the 186th Military Police Company.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER

MR. PRESIDENT: I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate File 20 passed the Senate on January 24, 1973.

Eulogy.....Governor Robert D. Ray

For the second time in less than a month, the people of Iowa join their fellow Americans—everywhere—in mourning the death of a former President of the United States.

It was only twenty-seven days after the passing of President Truman, and while flags were still at half staff in his memory, that the thirty-sixth chief executive—Lyndon Johnson—was also taken from us.

This double blow subdues and humbles us; it makes us mindful of our common mortality; it rekindles our sense of gratitude for men like Presidents Johnson and Truman, who poured out their lives in the service of their fellow human beings.

And finally, this double blow hopefully will soften the voices with which we speak to and about one another and will bring to American life more forbearance, more compassion, and more understanding in our relations with one another.

President Johnson was a man as spacious and questing as the landscape of his native Texas.

His aspirations for America—and for the world—were boundless and passionate. To the achievement of those aspirations he brought incredible energy, emotional commitment and political skill. Of Lyndon Johnson it could be truly said what Homer wrote so long ago: "And what he greatly thought, he nobly dared."

His failures were the failures of nobly daring, his errors came not from setting his sights too low, but from aspiring to goals whose time had not yet fully come. He was, at his best, a man larger than life—and as such—he will be remembered with ever-growing affection by a people who also—at their best—aspire to goals so high that they cannot be grasped in a single leap.

When writing about Lyndon Johnson, historians will most certainly include the tragedy of the Vietnam War. But none will be able to write that Lyndon Johnson did not want peace. And no one would have welcomed the President's announcement two nights ago at the end of this war more than Lyndon Johnson.

What the historians will write is that Lyndon Johnson championed the causes of human rights—he believed in people—and he believed in his country. And he believed that this country was for all sorts, colors, and conditions of people and that we could not dare to forget any of them.

He said “We have proved that great progress is possible.” We Iowans believe that to be true.

Now he belongs to the ages who will—I know—agree with his own statement concerning his Presidency. “What really matters is whether there was a change for the better in the way our people lived. I think there was.”

COMMITTEE FROM THE HOUSE

A committee from the House appeared and announced that the House was ready to receive the Senate in joint convention.

In accordance with House Concurrent Resolution 7 duly adopted, the Senate proceeded to the House under the direction of the Secretary of the Senate and the Acting Sergeant-at-Arms.

JOINT CONVENTION

In accordance with law and House Concurrent Resolution 7 duly adopted, the joint convention was called to order, President Neu presiding.

President Neu declared a quorum present and the joint convention duly organized.

Senator Lamborn moved that a committee of six, consisting of three members from the Senate and three members from the House, be appointed to notify Governor Ray that the joint convention was ready to receive him.

The motion prevailed and President Neu appointed as such committee Senators Briles, Taylor and Orr, on the part of the Senate, and Representatives Bortell, Oakley and O'Halloran, on the part of the House.

The committee waited upon Governor Ray and escorted him to the Speaker's station. President Neu then presented Governor Ray, who delivered the following budget address:

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Elected Officials, Members of the General Assembly and Citizens of Iowa:

As we talk about budget matters tonight, I can best tell you what Iowans want from their state government by telling you what they don't want. They don't want increased taxes.

The budget I submit to you calls for no general tax increase while at the same time it makes possible some easing of the individual tax burden.

I have been pleased with the widespread acceptance my priorities have met since delivering to you my Condition of the State and Inaugural Messages.

I have established the practice of not asking the Legislature to take action on government operations and programs without also showing how to finance them. I now unfold to you in this message and in the printed matter to be handed to you, the details, ways, means, and methods for financially supporting the proposals and ideas I advance to you of the General Assembly.

I am aware there are always cynics and critics who look at a Governor's budget, not seeking its strengths and values, but with an eye to finding fault. Some, I am sure, will be quick to say this budget supports too much education in Iowa, or provides too much for the elderly, or considers the individual taxpayer too much in view of our State's other needs. But I would call your attention to the fact I have established priorities in State government and have already announced to you that these three categories stand at the top of my list.

There are others who will complain that not enough money was provided for their special pet projects. But those who examine and understand the details of this budget will conclude that it follows guidelines I set for the members of my staff and the Comptroller's office as we worked to prepare it. Those guidelines were:

1. There must be no general tax increase.
2. The priorities that I have established must be adequately financed.
3. We shall continue to move away from the dependence on property tax.
4. There must be a solid working balance remaining in the State treasury at the end of the biennium.
5. We must responsibly support the necessary services of State government, and,
6. The use of revenue sharing funds must clearly be visible, providing either direct or indirect tax relief and not used simply to increase levels of government spending.

Though it is easy to recite this list, achieving a budget that lives up to it was not so easy. I want to here express my personal appreciation to State Comptroller Marvin Selden, along with Art Claus, Bill Krahl, Jim Rose and the other people in that office who did so much to help prepare this budget for your consideration.

When I addressed you earlier this month, I told you I was optimistic about the condition of the State and its future. One of the many reasons for that optimism is the improved financial position of our state government.

In the next two years, the state will have access to more revenue than ever before because of wise use of existing resources, more equitable farm prices, healthy overall economic growth, and the new federal revenue sharing. This additional revenue offers us the opportunity to embark on new ways to meet our State's needs while at the same time enabling us to return more money to ease the tax burden locally than at any time before.

With this opportunity comes the responsibility to see that revenue within our trust is used wisely. We should all keep in mind that there is not, nor will there ever be, enough money to satisfy all those who spend taxpayers' money—or those who are on the receiving end of tax dollars.

In his Inaugural address last Saturday, President Nixon set a tone for everyone to heed. He said in that message “. . . I offer no promise of a purely government solution for every problem. We have lived too long with that false promise. In trusting too much to government, we have asked of it more than it can deliver. This leads only to inflated expectations, to reduced individual effort, and to a disappointment and frustration that erodes confidence both in what government can do and in what people can do . . .

“Government must learn to take less from people so people can do more for themselves . . .”

For four years, we in Iowa government have been wrestling with all kinds and sorts of problems in our state, pinning them down one by one—solving some with the help of the federal government and often seeing others confront us because of the federal government.

Two years ago, I stood before the General Assembly and introduced the Governor's budget for the current biennium. With that message came an approach to stabilizing property taxes for local school spending and a method by which additional financing for local schools would come from state revenue instead of property tax.

I remember well the controversy that swirled around our new approach for more equitable school financing and an easing of the property tax burden. There were those who insisted on raising all kinds of taxes under the guise of tax reform. But, as we have demonstrated, tax relief does not come from raising a lot more tax, but from sound, reasonable, and effective planning.

We can profit from the mistakes of the past that produced more taxes and more government spending but did not solve problems. Likewise, we can profit from wise action of the past where there has been an improvement and a salient effect on the reliance on property taxes.

The budget adopted two years ago will finish its work on June 30 of this year with a budget balance of $3 million, plus money budgeted but not spent, additional economic growth above earlier estimates and the State's accumulated portion of revenue sharing. These items combine to swell the beginning balance for the next two years to more than $48 million.

This budget I am presenting to you is no miracle. It does not profess to be. It is, however, a planned, thoroughly thought through document which spells out on a priority basis how the State's revenue can effectively and intelligently be used during the next two years of Iowa history. It is given to you Legislators as a biennial budget, but is broken apart so that you can easily discern the expenditures for each year of the biennium.

Experience has taught us that this is a very effective way for state government budgeting, inasmuch as the second year is open for adjustments that are needed because of changing conditions.

As you are introduced to this budget, I would ask that you examine carefully the pie charts in the Comptroller's handouts entitled "General Fund Appropriations," Exhibits D-1 and D-2. These will give you, for quick reference, a percentage breakdown of how revenue that comes into the state is expended. They will show you that in each year over 72 per cent (this includes tax refunds) of state revenue will go back to individual Iowans and to local governments. They also will show you that over 56 per cent of the entire revenue of the state is used for education.

In dollars, this budget represents a large sum of money to operate government. But as you consider it, in total, recognize that just as we are a state where problems are yet manageable, so do we have a level of public spending yet manageable. As a point of reference, the total expenditures for our entire state budget for the next two years would not be enough to fund just the welfare programs for a 12-month period in the City of New York.

What the pie charts do not tell you is this: In the next two years the State of Iowa, under my budget, will be giving more property tax relief and will provide more direct support to all levels of education, to other units of government, to the elderly, to the disadvantaged, to fight crime, to deal with the problems of drug abuse, alcoholism and health, and to conserve our natural resources than any other state budget in Iowa's history. It is much more than a collection of numbers on paper. It is testimony to the fact that Iowans expect a government to be concerned about helping people.

You have heard me tell of the importance of our elderly citizens who are victims of inflation and higher taxes, but now have no place to go or the ability to any longer earn—people for whom training will not benefit.

We must, we can and we will provide services for these people in their advanced years. My budget offers ways for you to help them.

It provides help to these elderly citizens in such basic needs as house-keeping, money management, transportation, hot meals and home care services. In addition, when medical care and nursing care is necessary, my budget extends medicaid and quality nursing care.

Of all the mail I receive in my office, none touches me more than that from elderly people who are desperate because they cannot scrape together an extra buck for a needed prescription, to heat their home, or to pay their property taxes.

These are good people who have lived good lives and now, though it may be hard in this affluent society to comprehend, they are in a situation where even the prospect of raising one extra dollar per month is beyond them.

I think you would agree with me that in most cases it is far better for all concerned that these people remain in their homes which they have worked a lifetime to own.

Let us quit talking about property tax relief for these people and let's do it.

My budget provides a specific program for these persons, affecting some 93,000 homeowners, age 65 and over. An intelligent use of revenue sharing will allow us to finance this new plan with an additional $10 million for this biennium on top of the amount we are now appropriating for double homestead credit. Depending on individual income, if less than $6,000 annually, a property tax credit will be given to an elderly homeowner on a sliding scale up to $500 per year. My plan makes the same provisions for our disabled Iowans.

This proposal for elderly tax relief is one program possible because of revenue sharing, and it relates to another of my principal priorities—a continued attack on property taxes.

We are always anxious to promote good industry in Iowa. At the same time, we should never overlook our most basic industry which generates economic development for this state.

We are seeing a spurt in the number of cow-calf operations in Iowa, an increase at least partially attributable to the removal three years ago of property taxes on stock cows.

During this period an additional 220,000 cows have produced calves which have netted $18 million in new income for Iowa's economy.

We no longer have to talk about finishing the removal of the livestock personal property tax. We now can eliminate it and I propose that we do just that.

We have budgeted sufficient funds to replace the local revenue lost by the elimination of this tax and also enough to increase the exemption for other personal property to $3,000 assessed valuation.

When I first proposed the school foundation plan two years ago, I told you it was a plan for a decade, that we would phase in gradually to higher levels of state support for local schools. We are already seeing that promise of increased support become reality.

Iowa, like other states across this country, is awaiting court determination on whether or not our local school financing will meet constitutional tests. So you can see another reason why it is so important that this Legislative body not rush out and raise taxes which would close the options to meet any court decision contingency. We are fortunate that our school aid plan provides a good foundation if the Supreme Court should mandate that additional financial equality is required.

The effect of the foundation plan has been noticeable in lessening the dependence on property tax.

And now as we continue to meet our objective of moving away from property tax by funding the school foundation plan, revenue sharing puts us in a position to take yet another important step to dent the property tax levies.

One of the constantly increasing costs that has plagued county government has been welfare.

To remove this source of pressure on the property taxpayers we have in this budget taken our ninety-nine counties out of the welfare business.

This will require $7 million the first year and $14.7 million the second year of the biennium. This is direct property tax relief made possible through revenue sharing. It means that a drop in the millage rate can be realized. To assure that it happens, the reduction will be locked into the county budgets.

All homemaker services, those for foster care and those of a similar nature now being paid with local property tax funds will, if you adopt my budget, be assumed by the State. This is estimated to cost over $1 million—also made possible by revenue sharing.

Our tax system moved toward more progressivity during this past biennium when our school aid and revenue plans were adopted. Nonetheless, low income taxpayers are still paying a higher percentage of their earnings for taxes than others.

We find that we can provide tax relief to all of our low income people presently paying income tax who have taxable earnings under $4,000. Again—with the use of revenue sharing—we can eliminate the income tax for these people.

And now, let me turn to the third principal priority—support for balanced education in Iowa.

This budget I submit to you provides almost six-tenths of a billion dollars in direct state aid to local schools, or put another way, for every tax dollar the state collects, 38 cents will go right back to our local schools.

In order to enable school districts to better plan their budgets—keeping in mind that teachers' contracts have to be signed in the spring—the enrollment date used to compute state aid should be changed to reflect "spring enrollment" rather than the later "fall enrollment" figures. This action, coupled with the funding that I am asking for, will allow schools to better adjust to changing conditions and declining enrollment.

The so-called miscellaneous income items—including federal aids—should be removed from the foundation "base" in the school plan and added to the top of the formula, a move which will further enrich and improve Iowa's method of financing public education.

The budget also includes $2.2 million in each of the next two years to provide auxiliary services such as remedial reading and shared time so that students—regardless of where they attend school, be it public or private—can have equal learning advantages.

I hardly need to remind this Legislature that those who will be shaping Iowa tomorrow are in our educational system today. It is our societal responsibility to offer them encouragement as we offer them quality education, to provide them with incentives to achieve, even as we provide them with knowledge. Thus, this budget responds to meet this responsibility. For our Regents institutions sufficient funds are provided so that no tuition increases will be necessary for the next two years. This should be welcomed by students seeking education in our highly acclaimed universities and the many parents who are helping to encourage them.

In addition to my strong support for our universities, you will find provisions for special needs in our health service programs at the University of Iowa and for our schools for the deaf and blind and the Iowa Blind Commission.

Even as we emphasize higher education, our society is now beginning to realize the great value and worth in training that prepares people to use their hands.

We consider vocational training in our area colleges and high schools to be of such importance that my budget proposes a $3.7 million increase the first year and another $2.2 million increase in the second year specifically for this purpose.

Contributing immensely to our balanced educational system are our private colleges. This budget increases our Iowa Tuition Grant program $2 million a year to make it possible for our needy students to attend the college or university of his or her choice.

While this budget offers continued property tax relief through revenue sharing, retroactive revenue sharing funds do not lend themselves well for that use.

At the beginning of this biennium we will have on hand some $32 million in revenue sharing funds as our share for calendar year 1972, and a part of 1973.

Money that was allocated to Iowa for the year 1972, we consider "windfall" funds. From this, we are able to provide for capital improvements without resorting to additional bonding and the cost thereof.

That portion of the "windfall" revenue sharing not used for capitals will be carried over as a part of the treasury balance.

Included in our building program will be the educational complex at the University of Northern Iowa for $5 million, $3.5 million for social services, and $5 million for the Iowa Conservation Commission which includes $2 million to acquire land under the Open Spaces and Green Belt Programs.

We would be penny wise and pound foolish if we continue indefinitely to pour money into high cost, low-return rental space for state government when it has been shown that the wisest course is to replace these temporary or worn out facilities with permanent, new state-owned space. Therefore, provision for $5 million for an office building within the state office complex appears in the budget.

One of the documents we shall provide you is a "Pro-Forma" revenue sharing statement which breaks out in detail how all these funds will be used.

In addition to the states federal revenue sharing portion approximately $57 million new money per year will be made available to cities, towns and counties.

And while this opens new horizons for local units of government as they search for ways to help their citizens, it is my feeling that we should not drop the $5 million in state-city revenue sharing that we have begun. This will continue.

The federal government has announced that it will now finance 75 per cent of the cost of sewer treatment facilities for cities and towns, with the balance of 25 per cent to be paid locally.

For a brief period of time, due to incentive agreements with the federal government, the local support in some instances was reduced to only 20 per cent. Several cities proceeded with plans and construction based on the 20 per cent local effort. So that these cities do not lose under the new 25 per cent local effort provision, I am asking that the differential of 5 per cent be absorbed by the state.

In the field of pollution control, you already know my strong feelings against the elimination of federal funds to support our soil conservancy program. While it is impossible for the State of Iowa to pick up the amount that is lost by this Washington action, I firmly believe that it is one of the most important aspects of our environmental protection efforts.

We must conserve our soil and thus prevent water pollution. Therefore, we have provided $2 million annually in new money so that our new soil conservancy law will be backed up financially. To stretch this money as far as possible, it will undoubtedly need to be used where farmers volunteer to share part of the cost.

Our new Department of Environmental Quality makes its first appearance in a state budget, adequately financed to be an effective force in protecting our natural resources.

There is another kind of pollution—the human pollution of drug abuse. We have knowledgeable, energetic and aggressive people working diligently in this area. By budgeting an increase for our drug abuse program, we stand to gain in the battle against this menace.

Everyone in Iowa should now be convinced that there is a genuine fuel shortage in this nation. Even before the present emergency, we set in motion the research to find ways to desulphurize Iowa coal and extract it without destroying our land.

This offers a means to meet the energy crisis in years ahead and to provide a rebirth of an important industry in our state. In order to match federal funds, for this urgent program I have provided $225,000.

It is a credit to the people of this state that they have shown an interest in expressing to me their support for an effective Civil Rights Commission. The Commission's responsibilities have been broadened to fight discrimination because of age, sex and disability.

Their budget had been relatively small for their duties. My recommendation calls for nearly doubling the present $99,000 appropriation.

Since reorganization a year ago, our Beer and Liquor Control Department has remodeled 22 retail outlets into self-service stores. That is more than was done in all the years prior to this reorganization. This department now plans eight new stores where the traffic warrants it and the elimination of seven.

I have supported the Governor's Economy Committee proposal which included a recommendation to allow privately-owned stores to sell liquor under controlled circumstances instead of having state-owned liquor stores in towns where they are not feasible. There is no better time to experiment with this recommendation than now when some towns are faced with the possible loss of an existing liquor store.

With the long hoped-for settlement of the war in Vietnam now reality, let us not delay any longer in providing for the war bonus that I have recommended for our Vietnam veterans. In the past, bonuses for our veterans have been paid by a tax levy on property. To issue bonds to finance a bonus it is necessary to provide for a general property tax levy. However, we have set aside funds in this budget—and there is no reason why the same can't be done hereafter—to retire these bonds without any property tax actually being collected. We have budgeted $2 million for the first retirement payment. All of this, however, hinges on voter approval.

Other key proposals in my legislative message are also anticipated in this budget.

Government is not merely a collection of buildings. It is people. And its service and the quality of its service is determined by those who work to help others. For the employees under merit service in state government, we have adopted the merit classification and pay plans to bring current the salaries paid for the jobs performed. For the first time there will not have to be a delay between study and implementation of the pay plan.

This budget builds in improvements in our Iowa Employees Retirement System (IPERS). It raises the ceiling, increases the retirement payments and lowers the vesting period. In addition to providing the extra funds necessary for this increase, we have also provided $2.2 million to cover the school districts' share of increased costs. We are also continuing to bring other employee fringe benefits to a competitive level.

Any salary adjustments during the second year of the biennium for state employees outside of regular merit increases can best be determined next year and supported from reversions available after the first year of this budget. This we have found to work well in the past.

The legislature established a Compensation Committee that has been studying the reasonableness of the salaries of the legislators, the judiciary and elected officials. This committee is charged with making recommendations for fair salaries in these positions.

In addition, I have appointed a committee to do the same thing for key decision-makers that are not covered by merit. At the time that I submit this budget to you these committees have not reported their findings, therefore, you will find an amount of $1 million annually to cover changes that you make in these.

In this same vein, while I am aware of the salary studies underway on the state level, I know of none involving compensation of county officers. Nevertheless, I suggest to you that you consider these salaries to make sure that these officers are fairly compensated for their services tying increases to effective county budgeting.

My budget specifically recommends upgrading the salaries of our Highway Patrol and other state lawmen. These employees are not covered by merit and must look to you for keeping their salary scale current. Our recommendations are supported by a recent independent study comparing these salaries with officers in surrounding states.

This is, I believe, a good time to also call your attention to the committee that is working on improving our Workmen's Compensation laws, which can offer guidance for better compensation for Iowa's injured workers.

In my Condition of the State Message I told you there was a specific way that we could encourage increased trade for our agriculture and industry which in turn would benefit us all. New markets are being developed all around the world. With our products in demand by countries on every part of the globe, I have therefore provided for the establishment of two special Iowa offices overseas—one in the European common market and one in Japan.

The budget that we give you is one of the most exciting and comprehensive ever presented to the Iowa legislature.

It is exciting because we can now meet so many of the challenges seemingly impossible before.

It is exciting because we are able to not only set priorities, but also finance them.

It is exciting because we will be able to do more than just talk about our elderly, education, property tax relief, and such things as protection of our environment and economic development, we can do something about them.

This budget ends in a $25 million working balance, not by accident, but by planning. This surplus will be necessary to assure responsible government financing in future years. It is a surplus larger than we have been accustomed to, but I would caution you that this is essential for good budgeting beyond this immediate two-year period.

My office, our state agencies, and in particular the budget division of the Comptroller's office look forward to reviewing details of this message with you. It is a budget that was developed realistically and evolved through tough administrative decisions.

And finally, it is a state budget that was designed in response to a very clear message from our people.

Iowans want a government that not only is able to upgrade its ability to do things right, but more importantly to get the right things done.

It is my responsibility as Governor to provide you with my budget recommendations. This I have done. It is our joint responsibility to make sure that the state budget we adopt fulfills its promise while avoiding promising more than can be delivered.

I look forward to working with you toward that goal, in the spirit of cooperation that our times demand and our people have a right to expect.

Governor Ray was escorted from the House chamber by the committee previously appointed.

Representative Holden moved that the joint convention be dissolved, which motion prevailed.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

MR. PRESIDENT: When the vote was taken on the confirmation of David Smith for the City Finance Committee, I was recorded as absent due to the fact I was working with the legal staff of the legislative service bureau on a bill to exempt from taxation improvements made on one's home for a period of five years after such improvement is completed.

My absence from the Senate floor would not have been necessary if legislators were provided with staff people who could attend to such details.

Had I been present, I would have voted "aye" on the confirmation.

By Rodgers and Andersen
(Harper and Husak)

Whereas, widespread public criticism of existing probate laws has developed, based upon unreasonable time and expense required for settling estates, while a steady increase in the work load of the courts seems to demand simplification of some traditional procedures; and

Whereas, great diversity in probate procedures in the various states makes the settlement of estates by traditional methods too complex and cumbersome for today's mobile population; and

Whereas, members of the legal profession are concerned that popular devices for avoiding probate may cause costly future legal difficulties for their clients; and

Whereas, the Uniform Probate Code was approved in 1969 by the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws and the American Bar Association, has been adopted by the states of Idaho and Alaska, and has received study and approval by legislative and professional groups in a number of other states; and

Whereas, consideration of the Uniform Probate Code by the Iowa General Assembly requires intensive study, comparison with present Iowa probate law, and careful and time-consuming drafting; Now Therefore,

The Chair appointed as such committee Senators Lamborn, Briles and Coleman, and invited them to escort Mr. Lane to the rostrum, where he was given a standing ovation.

Senator Lamborn paid the following tribute to him on behalf of the Senate:

MR. PRESIDENT, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN OF THE SENATE, FRIENDS: It is with pleasure today that we honor a person who has given many years of service to the State of Iowa. This gentleman has had an untold effect on the General Assembly of Iowa throughout his career. He comes from a long line of dedicated Iowa citizens—his grandfather began the family tradition in the Twentieth General Assembly of Iowa in 1884.

Since he began his service in 1943 when he was elected to his first term in the House of Representatives, he has been continuously predominate in the circles of government of this state. A teacher, a theater owner and a successful businessman, he has brought with him an excellent background of experience to draw upon while working for Iowa.

His greatest contribution has been in the Iowa Senate. Starting in January, 1951, with the exception of four sessions, Carroll Lane has counselled, guided and advised us as Secretary of the Senate. He has skillfully directed the day-to-day operations of the Senate. His efforts and energy have made our jobs much easier. He has not only mediated our parliamentary squabbles and overseen the refurbishing of our Chamber, but also had the talent to call the roll slower than any Senate Secretary in recent memory.

It is hard to sum up in a few words the things Carroll has done for the Senate. Just let me say that if you needed to know how to get something done, or what procedure needed to be followed, my advice has been, "Ask Carroll—and if he doesn't know, probably nobody knows."

For all of us, Carroll, past, present and future, our sincere thanks for a job well done.

Senator Briles then presented Mr. Lane with a gift of luggage on behalf of the members of the Senate.

Mr. Lane expressed his thanks with the following goodby:

Thirty years ago, I fell in love with the Senate, and in spite of all the problems to be solved since then, that love has continued. It has been a great pleasure to be of service to you. The friendships I have made through the years mean a great deal to me, and it is not easy to leave all those friends behind. However, there comes a time when someone else should be given the opportunity to serve you. My thoughts will be with you in the days to come, and I hope the newspapers will give you the credit that you so richly deserve for the dedicated service you are giving the State of Iowa. Thank you.

Mr. Lane was further honored by the Senate secretaries, who presented him a gift with the following sentiment: No kisses, no tears, just cheers, and lot of good wishes for your future years.

Senator Schaben rose on a point of personal privilege and expressed the appreciation of the minority party for the cooperation and support from the office of the Secretary during the past years.

ADOPTION OF SENATE RESOLUTION 2

Senator Lamborn asked and received unanimous consent to take up for consideration the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Whereas, Carroll A. Lane served in the House of Representatives in the Fiftieth, Fiftieth Extraordinary, and Fifty-first General Assemblies and is a member of the Pioneer Lawmakers;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the Senate: That Carroll A. Lane be presented with the chair which he occupied during the Sixty-fourth General Assembly, and that the custodian of the statehouse be instructed to crate the chair for shipment to the home residence of Carroll A. Lane.

JOINT RULES OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE (Sixty-fifth General Assembly)

Rule 1

Suspension of Joint Rules

The joint rules of the general assembly may be suspended by concurrent resolution, duly adopted by a constitutional majority of the Senate and the House.

Rule 2

Designation of Sessions

Each regular session of a general assembly shall be designated by the year in which such regular session commences.

Rule 3

Sessions of a General Assembly

The organization and standing committees in each house of the general assembly and action taken by each house shall carry over from the first to the second regular session of the same general assembly. The status of each bill and resolution shall be the same at the beginning of the second regular session as it was immediately before adjournment of the first regular session, except that the rules of either house may provide for re-referral of some or all bills and resolutions to standing committees upon adjournment of the first session or at the beginning of the second regular session.

Rule 4

Presentation of Messages

All messages between the two houses shall be sent by the secretary of the senate or the chief clerk of the house of representatives, shall be announced by the reading clerk and shall be communicated to the chair.

Rule 5

Printing and Form of Bills and Other Documents

Bills and joint resolutions shall be introduced, numbered, prepared, and printed as provided by law, or in the absence of such law, in a manner determined by the secretary of the senate and the chief clerk of the house of representatives.

All bills and joint resolutions introduced shall be in a form and number approved by the secretary of the senate and chief clerk of the house.

Before introduction all bills must be reviewed by the law clerk of that house.

Rule 6

Companion Bills

When identical bills are introduced in each house, they shall be called companion bills. Each house shall designate the sponsor in the usual way followed in parentheses by the sponsor of the companion bill in the other house. The house where the bill is first introduced shall print the complete text. The printed companion bill shall contain the title, enacting clause, and a statement that the bill is a companion bill. However, if the bill is not more than four pages in length, the complete text shall be printed in both houses.

Reprinting of Bills

Whenever any bill has been substantially amended by either house, the secretary of the senate or the chief clerk shall order the bill reprinted on paper of a different color. All adopted amendments shall be distinguishable.

The secretary of the senate or the chief clerk may order the printing of a reasonable number of additional copies of any bill, resolution, amendment, or journal.

Rule 8

Daily Clip Sheet

The secretary of the senate and the chief clerk shall prepare a daily clip sheet covering all amendments filed.

Rule 9

Reintroduction of Bills and Other Measures

When a bill or resolution which has passed one house is rejected in the other, it shall not be again introduced during the general assembly.

Rule 10

Certification of Bills and Other Enrollments

When any bill or resolution which has passed one house is rejected or adopted in the other, notice of such action and the date thereof shall be given to the house of origin in writing signed by the secretary or the chief clerk.

Rule 11

Amendments by Other House

- I. When a bill which originated in one house is amended in the other house, the house originating the bill may amend the amendment, concur in full in the amendment, or refuse to concur in full in the amendment. Precedence of motions shall be in that order.
 - A. If the house originating the bill concurs in the amendment, the bill shall then be read for the last time as amended, and placed upon its final passage.
 - B. If the house originating the bill refuses to concur in the amendment, the bill shall be returned to the amending house which shall either:
 1. Recede, after which the bill shall be read for the last time and placed upon its final passage; or
 2. Insist, which will send the bill to a conference committee.
 - C. If the house originating the bill amends the amendment, that house shall concur in the amendment as amended and the bill shall be read for the last time as amended, shall be placed on final passage, and shall be returned to the other house. The other house cannot further amend the bill.
 1. If the amending house which gave second consideration to the bill concurs in the amendment to the amendment, the bill shall then be read for the last time as finally amended, and placed upon its final passage.
 2. If the amending house refuses to concur in the amendment to the amendment, the bill shall be returned to the house originating the bill which shall either:
 - a. Recede, after which the bill shall be read for the last time as amended and placed upon its final passage; or
 - b. Insist, which will send the bill to a conference committee.
- II. A motion to recede has precedence over a motion to insist. Failure to recede means to insist; and failure to insist means to recede.
- III. A motion to lay on the table or to indefinitely postpone shall be out of order with respect to motions to recede from or insist upon and to amendments to bills which have passed both houses.
- IV. A motion to concur, refuse to concur, recede, insist, or adopt a conference committee report is in order even though the subject matter has previously been acted upon.

Rule 12

Conference Committees

1. Within one legislative day after either house insists upon an amendment to a bill, the presiding officer of each house shall appoint five members to a conference committee. The papers shall remain with the house that originated the bill.
2. The conference committee shall meet before the end of the next legislative day after their appointment, shall select a chairman and shall discuss the controversy.

3. The authority of the committee shall cover free conference during which the committee has authority to propose any amendments within the scope of the title of the bill.

4. An agreement on recommendations must be approved by at least three members from each house. The committee shall submit two originals of the report signed by at least three members of each house with one signed original and three copies to be submitted to each house. The report shall first be acted upon in the house originating the bill. Such action, including all papers, shall be immediately referred by the secretary of the senate or the chief clerk of the house of representatives to the other house.

5. The report of agreement is debatable, but cannot be amended. If the report contains recommended amendments to the bill, adoption of the report shall automatically adopt all amendments contained therein. After the report is adopted, there shall be no more debate, and the bill shall immediately be placed upon its final passage.

6. Refusal of either house to adopt the conference committee report has the same effect as if the committee had disagreed.

7. If the conference committee fails to reach agreement, a report of such failure signed by at least three members of each house shall be given promptly to each house. The bill shall be returned to the house that originated the bill and the members of the committee shall be immediately discharged and a new conference committee appointed by the presiding officers from members who have not previously served on a conference committee on the bill under consideration.

Rule 13

Enrollment and Authentication of Bills

When a bill has passed both houses, it shall be enrolled and its house of origin shall be certified by the endorsement of the secretary or the chief clerk.

When bills are enrolled, they shall be examined by a joint standing committee of two from each house who shall compare the enrollment with the engrossed bills, correct any errors, and report immediately to their respective houses.

After enrollment, each bill shall be signed by the president and by the speaker.

Rule 14

Concerning Other Enrollments

All resolutions and other matters which are to be presented to the governor for his approval shall be enrolled, examined, signed, and presented in the same manner as bills.

Rule 15

Transmission of Bills to the Governor

After a bill has been signed in each house, it shall be presented to the governor by the secretary or the chief clerk of the house of origin. The secretary or the chief clerk shall report the date of presentation, which shall be entered upon the journal of the house of origin.

Rule 16
Fiscal Notes

A fiscal note shall be attached to any bill or joint resolution which might have an annual effect or a combined total effect within five years after enactment of fifty thousand dollars or more on the revenues, expenditures or fiscal liability of the state or its subdivisions. This rule does not apply to appropriation measures where the total effect is stated in dollar amounts.

The preliminary determination of whether the bill appears to require a fiscal note shall be made by the legislative service bureau which shall indicate that a bill requires a fiscal note by stamping "FISCAL NOTE REQUIRED" prominently on the bill jacket. Upon completion of the bill draft, the legislative service bureau shall immediately send a copy to the legislative fiscal director for his review.

The fiscal note shall be printed on the bill before introduction if practicable; and in any event attached to the bill before the bill is reported out by a committee.

The legislative fiscal director shall prepare the fiscal note within a reasonable time after receiving the request. A copy of the fiscal note shall be filed by the legislative fiscal director with the secretary of the senate and the chief clerk of the house. The legislative fiscal director may request the cooperation of the state comptroller or any state department or agency. If a fiscal note is prepared by the comptroller or any state department or agency at the request of the fiscal director, that fact shall be stated in the note.

Each fiscal note shall state in dollars the estimated effect of the bill on the revenues, expenditures, and fiscal liability of the state during each of the first five years after enactment. Sources of funds for expenditures under the bill shall be stated, including federal funds. If the fiscal director cannot make an accurate estimate, he shall state his best available estimate or shall state that no dollar estimate can be made and state concisely the reason.

The fiscal note shall be attached or printed in the bill following the explanation or shall be printed in the daily clip sheet.

A revised fiscal note may be requested by a committee chairman or a sponsor of the bill if the fiscal effect of the bill has been changed by adoption of an amendment. However, a request for a revised fiscal note shall not delay action on a bill unless so ordered by the presiding officer of the house in which the bill is under consideration.

If a date for adjournment has been set, then a constitutional majority of the house in which the bill is under consideration may waive the fiscal note requirement during the three days prior to the date set for adjournment.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 19

By Schaben

Whereas, during each session of the Iowa General Assembly bills are submitted that have as their purpose the removal of the state monopoly over the alcoholic beverage industry; and

Whereas, because of inadequate time during a legislative session to thoroughly research such bills in order to determine the exact effect upon state revenues and the enforcement of alcoholic beverage laws, such bills are not seriously considered; and

Whereas, it appears that the necessary research and hearings required, and the time involved in developing a bill designed to remove the state from being in the alcoholic beverage business, can only be carried out during the interim period between sessions of the General Assembly; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That the legislative council is urged to create a study committee consisting of members of both parties and Houses of the General Assembly for the purpose of considering legislation which has as its purpose the placing of the alcoholic beverage business in the hands of free enterprise and removing the state monopoly of the alcoholic beverage business; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the study committee specifically determine the economic effects upon the State of Iowa, as well as enforcement of alcoholic beverage law problems that may result, and any other problems which may be present in removing the state from the alcoholic beverage business, and the study committee shall make a report of its findings to the legislative council and the session of the General Assembly meeting in the year 1974.

COMMITTEE FROM THE HOUSE

A committee from the House appeared and announced that the House was ready to receive the Senate in joint convention.

In accordance with House Concurrent Resolution 15, duly adopted, the Senate proceeded to the House under the direction of the Secretary of the Senate and the Sergeant-at-Arms.

JOINT CONVENTION

LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY OBSERVANCE

In accordance with House Concurrent Resolution 15, duly adopted, the joint convention was called to order, President Neu presiding.

President Neu declared a quorum present and the joint convention duly organized.

Senator Tieden moved that a committee of six, consisting of three members from the Senate and three members from the House, be appointed to escort Senator Ralph F. McCartney to the rostrum to deliver an address in observance of Lincoln's birthday.

The motion prevailed and the President appointed as such committee Senators Tieden, Schwengels and Willits on the part of the Senate, and Representatives Anderson, Kiser and Byerly on the part of the House.

The committee escorted Senator McCartney to the Speaker's station.

President Neu then presented Senator McCartney, who delivered the following address:

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the General Assembly and Distinguished Guests:

We gather here this morning for a few minutes to honor the memory of Abraham Lincoln who was born 164 years ago today.

He was the second child of Thomas and Nancy Hanks Lincoln. The first child, Sarah, was two years old and lived only twelve years more. A third child, Thomas Jr., was born several years later and died in infancy. Thomas Sr. was fond of his drink, Nancy was born out of wedlock. His mother died when he was nine—of her he said in substance—"all that I am or hope to be I owe to her." Of his father he said "he taught me to work but he never taught me to like it."

His education was meager—Lincoln said, "I went to school by littles." He attended school for parts of nine years, yet the total schooling did not amount to one full year.

Without wealth, position, birth or education—without family or friends of influence—born and bred in a frontier that took revenge for personal insult—he became the greatest man of the century if not of the millenium and the savior of our country.

A gentle and compassionate person, shy and unassuming, fate willed it that he serve us in the bloodiest war of our nation.

Consider the magnitude of his courage—despite his hatred of war and bloodshed his principles forced him to the presidency in the full knowledge that his election would bring about secession and in the full knowledge that he would combat it even if war followed. How easy it would have been to stay in Springfield and to stay out of the fray.

His greatness lies in this courage, in his willingness to pursue his principles regardless of cost, and his steadfastness in these principles held the north together throughout chaos, military catastrophe, bloodshed, financial depression, foreign danger and defeatism until the union was preserved and slavery abolished. He accomplished his two great goals.

No one can tell us what Lincoln thought or believed; those thoughts and beliefs are found in only one place—his speeches and his writings.

A giant of a man, awkward and homely, uncouth and unlettered—men forgot his appearance when he spoke. They listened to his words and in the end they came to realize that God had given their country a man that would lead all mankind even after death.

Of himself he said "I am nothing but the truth is everything." In debating the great issues he said: "As I would not be a slave so I would not be a master. This expresses my ideas of democracy. Whatever differs from this to the extent of the difference is no democracy."

He also said: "A house divided against itself cannot stand. I believe that this government cannot endure permanently half slave and half free."

At Cooper Institute in New York he said: "Let us have faith that right makes might and in that faith let us to the end dare to do our duty as we understand it."

Before he left Springfield and after his election as president he told Billy Herndon, his law partner, "I am sick of office holding already and I shudder when I think of the tasks that are still ahead."

He said to the south in his first inaugural address in 1861: "You can have no conflict without yourselves being the aggressor."

Beset by problems that overwhelmed him, by the awareness of the immensity of suffering by both the north and south, by the loss of his beloved son Willie in 1862, he said, "I have been driven to my knees many times in the knowledge that I had nowhere else to go."

He is best remembered for his two minute speech at Gettysburg in November of 1863. Yet as he left the platform that day he told an associate, "The speech was a failure—The people were disappointed."

His humor was wry and sardonic at times. He did not have many opportunities to use it during the Civil War but when he did use it it was with telling effect.

To General McClellan he wrote: "If you aren't using the army, could I borrow it for awhile." When McClellan missed his golden opportunity at Antietam he again wrote McClellan: "I have just read your dispatch about sore tongued and fatigued horses. Will you pardon me for asking what the horses of your army have done since the battle of Antietam that fatigues anything."

He wrote the Secretary of War: "Please have the Adjutant General ascertain whether Second Lieutenant of Co. D, 2nd Inf. Alexander E. Drake is entitled to promotion. His wife thinks he is."

To Colonel Mulligan he wrote: "If you haven't shot Barney Duncan yet, don't."

In sparing the young man sentenced to death for desertion he wrote: "The lad was not a coward, only his legs were."

He could also be terse—and abrupt—he said to those seeking to oust Grant: "I can't spare that man—he fights."

To Joseph Hooker, Commanding General of the Army of the Potomac, he wrote: "I have heard, in such a way as to believe it, of your recently saying that both the army and the government needed a dictator. Only those generals who gain successes can set up dictators. What I now ask of you is military success and I will risk the dictatorship."

And so in due course it all began to pass away—the bloody fighting at Cold Harbor and Spotsylvania Courthouse, at Shiloh and at Gettysburg, the bloody fighting at Chancellorsville and at Bull Run and at hundreds of other streams and hamlets—until he could see the end.

In his second inaugural address he spoke now to the world:

"Fondly do we hope—ferverently do we pray—that this mighty scourge of war may speedily pass away. Yet if God wills that it continue until all the wealth piled by the bondsman's two hundred and fifty years of unrequited toil shall be sunk and until every drop of blood drawn with the lash shall be paid by another drawn with the sword as was said three thousand years ago so still it must be said 'the judgments of the Lord are true and righteous altogether.'

"With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right let us strive on to finish the work we are in, to bind up the nation's wounds, to care for him who shall have borne the battle and for his widow and his orphans—to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations."

Some forty days later he died from an assassin's bullet. His death occurred at 7:22 a.m. on April 15, 1865, on the Saturday following Good Friday.

And now it all had passed away, the doubts, the doubters, those who scorned, who called him white trash, the schemers, those who counseled defeat, those who sneered.

And so he and his beloved son Willie returned together to Springfield and as the funeral train passed through the nights from Washington to Springfield silent groups of men and women gathered around bonfires at rural crossings in order to see the darkened train go by.

The prophet said "Surely he hath borne our griefs and carried our sorrows."

Joseph Auslander has this to say in a poem entitled "The Living Lincoln":

He sleeps, the valiant shepherd sleeps, who led
The multitude of his bewildered sheep
From bondage into peace; he is not dead;
He has lain down a little while to sleep.
Ah, not for him the shouting and the glory,
The feast that follows triumph; in his mouth
Only the bitter taste of blood, the story
Without an end, the sorrow North and South.

The valiant shepherd of the flock is taken;
The Lord has plucked him from our midst away;
Now when our hearts again are sorely shaken,
Beset on all sides, for his faith we pray.
He moves among us; we are not forsaken;
His love still sheds a light upon our way.

Thank you.

On motion of Senator Holden, the joint convention was dissolved.

The Senate returned to the Senate chamber and resumed regular session, President Neu presiding.

On motion of Senator Lamborn, the Senate recessed until the fall of the gavel.

The Senate reconvened, President Neu presiding.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE

President Neu made following announcement:

Rule 44 of the Rules of the Senate relates to the admission of individuals to the Senate chamber, as well as to the prohibition of lobbying therein.

The Chair interprets "while in session" to be that period of time from our convening in the morning to our adjournment in the afternoon. "In session" includes the period of recess between the morning and afternoon sessions.

While in session, only legislators, employees of the legislature, authorized interns, and legislative aides will be allowed in the Senate chamber. Former legislators, not registered as lobbyists, will be admitted also. News reporters are to occupy the seats assigned them, and to go to and from those seats.

The Chair will interpret Rule 44 to include members of a Senator's immediate family; the chairmen, co-chairmen, and executive secretaries of Iowa's two major political parties; members of the State Executive Council; and the Attorney General.

During the recess, a person or group accompanied by a Senator, or individuals going directly to and from committee meetings, will be admitted to the chamber. This latter group includes lobbyists; but in no event may a lobbyist approach a Senator's desk during recess.

The Chair has taken this opportunity, prior to the Senate's taking action on the adoption of permanent Senate rules, to advise the Senate of his interpretation of Rule 44.

(Holden and Hill)

Whereas, the provisions regarding the use of legal counsels by professional and occupational examining boards vary considerably; and

Whereas, some examining boards are authorized to employ their own legal counsels and others are required to use the Office of the Attorney General; and

Whereas, the Professional and Occupational Licensing Study Committee believes that adequate legal assistance should be provided all examining boards, Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That each examining board be required to submit in writing to the General Assembly, no later than January 14, 1974, its recommendations for legal assistance for the examining board.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 21

By Hansen, Briles, Doderer, Miller of Marshall and Robinson
(Holden and Hill)

Whereas, most professions and occupations for which examining boards have been established require the applicant to pass an examination testing his knowledge and skills required for the practice of the profession or occupation; and

Whereas, new developments are constantly occurring to change and improve the practice of licensed professions and occupations; and

Whereas, requirements for renewal of a license or registration, except for nursing home administrators and optometrists, merely require filing of the proper form and payment of a renewal fee; and

Whereas, the Professional and Occupational Licensing Study Committee, established by the Legislative Council for the 1972 interim, believes that each person licensed or registered by an examining board should be required to submit evidence of continuing education in order for his license or registration to be renewed, but the Study Committee also believes that each individual examining board can best determine what type of continuing education is most suitable for its occupation or profession, Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That each examining board be required to submit in writing to the General Assembly, no later than January 14, 1974, its recommendations for continuing education requirements for licensed or registered members of its occupation or profession.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 22

By Heying

Whereas, there are in the State of Iowa a substantial number of small locker plants which engage in limited meat processing for customers in the locker plants' local trade area; and

Whereas, these locker plants are presently being subjected to both federal and state inspection because they are located in areas near the borders of the state, and some of the persons residing in the convenient local trade areas of the plants live in another state so that in serving these persons the locker plants are technically engaged in interstate commerce; and

Whereas, inspection of these locker plants' meat processing operations by inspectors of the State of Iowa as required under chapter 189A of the Code is sufficient to protect the interests of all customers of these locker plants regardless of whether or not they reside in the State of Iowa; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That the General Assembly urges the Congress of the United States to take appropriate action to change federal laws and regulations so the federal inspectors are not required to inspect small firms such as locker plants which engage in limited meat processing for customers in their local trade areas, even though some of the customers are residents of a different state than that in which the locker plants are located, if the state provides adequate inspection of meat processing operations in such facilities.

Be It Further Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate send a copy of this resolution to each member of the Iowa delegation to the Congress of the United States.

WILLIAM H. HARBOR, Chief Clerk

By Holden and Hill

(Hansen, Briles, Doderer, Miller of Marshall and Robinson)

Whereas, the provisions regarding the use of legal counsels by professional and occupational examining boards vary considerably; and

Whereas, some examining boards are authorized to employ their own legal counsels and others are required to use the Office of the Attorney General; and

Whereas, the Professional and Occupational Licensing Study Committee believes that adequate legal assistance should be provided all examining boards, Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That each examining board be required to submit in writing to the General Assembly, no later than January 14, 1974, its recommendations for legal assistance for the examining board.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 18

By Holden and Hill

(Hansen, Briles, Doderer, Miller of Marshall and Robinson)

Whereas, most professions and occupations for which examining boards have been established require the applicant to pass an examination testing his knowledge and skills required for the practice of the profession or occupation; and

Whereas, new developments are constantly occurring to change and improve the practice of licensed professions and occupations; and

Whereas, requirements for renewal of a license or registration, except for nursing home administrators and optometrists, merely require filing of the proper form and payment of a renewal fee; and

Whereas, the Professional and Occupational Licensing Study Committee, established by the Legislative Council for the 1972 interim, believes that each person licensed or registered by an examining board should be required to submit evidence of continuing education in order for his license or registration to be renewed, but the Study Committee also believes that each individual examining board can best determine what type of continuing education is most suitable for its occupation or profession, Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That each examining board be required to submit in writing to the General Assembly, no later than January 14, 1974, its recommendations for continuing education requirements for licensed or registered members of its occupation or profession.

AMENDMENTS FILED

S—110

- 1 Amend Senate File 26 as amended by striking all of
- 2 Section 1 and inserting in lieu thereof the following:
- 3 Section 1. Section two hundred forty-seven point
- 4 twenty (247.20), Code of Iowa, 1973, is amended by
- 5 striking the section and inserting in lieu thereof the
- 6 following:
- 7 247.20 DEFERRED SENTENCE; PROBATION.
- 8 1. After a plea or verdict of guilty, the trial court
- 9 may, for good cause and in the sound exercise of its
- 10 discretion following a pre-sentence investigation, either
- 11 defer entering final judgment of conviction and sentence
- 12 and place the defendant on probation, or enter judgment
- 13 of conviction and sentence and grant probation to commence
- 14 at once thereafter. In either instance, the probation
- 15 shall be upon such terms and conditions and of such dura-
- 16 tion as the court may fix, but not less than one year nor
- 17 more than the period of the maximum term of confinement
- 18 if the offense be a felony, nor more than two years if
- 19 the offense be a misdemeanor, unless the person is ordered
- 20 placed under the supervision of the chief parole officer,
- 21 in which case the term of probation shall be determined
- 22 by the board of parole and the probation of the convicted
- 23 party shall be supervised by the chief parole officer.
- 24 Before exercising either of the foregoing sentencing
- 25 options, the court shall first determine which of them

- 1 will provide maximum opportunity for the rehabilitation
- 2 of the defendant and protection of the community from
- 3 further offenses by the defendant and others. In
- 4 making this determination the court shall consider the
- 5 age of the defendant, his prior record of convictions,
- 6 if any, his employment circumstances, his family circum-
- 7 stances, the nature of the offense committed, whether a

8 dangerous weapon or force was used in the commission of 9 such offense, and such other factors as shall be appro-
10 priate.

11 2. Good cause for deferred sentence and probation 12 or for probation after sentence, shall be deemed not to 13 exist under any of the following circumstances:

14 a. Where deferred sentence or probation is 15 specifically prohibited by law, or

16 b. Where the crime is treason, murder, assault
17 with intent to commit murder, rape, kidnapping for 18 ransom, arson, burglary with aggravation, robbery
19 with aggravation, sale of heroin or any other dan-
20 gerous substance as referred to in the first sentence
21 of section two hundred four point four hundred six
22 (204.406) of the Code other than as an accommodation
23 sale to a person under eighteen years of age, or 24 any felony in which the maximum statutory sentence
25 may exceed twenty years in the penitentiary, or

1 c. Where the defendant has previously been con-
2 victed of a felony under any state or federal 3 statute, or

4 d. Where the defendant has previously received
5 a deferred sentence in a felony case in any state or 6 from any court, or

7 e. Where the defendant is able but unwilling,
8 or able and willfully refuses or neglects, to make 9 restitution in an amount fixed by the court as 10 hereinafter provided.

11 3. Before placing any defendant on probation, either 12 before or after judgment of conviction or sentence, the 13 court shall order pre-sentence investigation to include
14 whether or not there are any victims who may be entitled 15 to restitution for damages caused by the crime. If 16 there appear to be such victims, a restitution hearing
17 shall be held before imposition of any order of proba-
18 tion. Any victims who may be entitled to restitution 19 shall be given notice of such hearing and, upon their 20 motion, shall be made parties to such proceeding. A 21 determination shall be made at this hearing as to de-
22 fendant's present and future ability to make restituti-
23 on, and a schedule of regular payments shall be made 24 for satisfaction of any portion of the restitution which 25 cannot be immediately paid. The court shall order

1 defendant to make such continuing payment as a condition
2 of continuing probation.

3 The court shall make a separate finding of facts,
4 conclusions of law, and order as to restitution, which 5 order shall be appealable by any victim claiming resti-
6 tution, or by the defendant, as a civil proceeding and 7 in accordance with the Iowa rules of civil procedure.

8 4. Separate and apart from the court's final order
9 imposing a deferred sentence or probation after sentence,

10 the court shall enter civil judgment against the defen-
 11 dant in an amount equal to the victim's actual damages.
 12 Any part of this judgment outstanding upon termination
 13 of defendant's probation shall remain enforceable 14 against the defendant by the victim as an ordinary civil 15 judgment.

16 5. In any subsequent civil action arising out of 17 the same occurrence as constitutes the offense, the 18 amount actually paid by defendant as restitution shall 19 be a set-off against any final judgment.

20 The portion of the judgment which defendant must 21 pay as a condition of continuing probation, and the 22 schedule of payments thereon, shall be fixed by the 23 court according to its determination of defendant's
 24 ability to pay during probation.

25 6. "Victim" shall include any individual who suffers

1 direct pecuniary cost as a proximate cause of the crime.
 2 7. The court shall file in writing its reasons for 3 deferring sentence and granting probation or for granting 4 probation after sentence and show therein the probation
 5 officers or others who made the pre-sentence investiga-
 6 tion and when it was completed. No pre-sentence inves-
 7 tigation shall be deemed to have been made as a basis
 8 for deferred sentence or probation unless it contains 9 a report of the criminal history of the defendant from 10 the Iowa division of criminal investigation and bureau
 11 of identification and unless the investigation is 12 initiated, concluded and filed within thirty days fol-
 13 lowing the plea or verdict of guilty. Except for good
 14 cause shown in the record and findings of the court, 15 deferred sentence and probation, or probation after 16 judgment of conviction and sentence, shall be entered 17 within thirty days after the pre-sentence investigation
 18 report is filed.

19 8. Once a deferred sentence has been granted on a 20 plea of guilty, the defendant may not thereafter with-21 draw such plea, notwithstanding the provisions of 22 section seven hundred seventy-seven point fifteen
 23 (777.15) of the Code.

24 9. Upon violation of the terms of probation, or 25 willful failure to make restitution as ordered, the

1 court shall enter judgment of conviction and sentence,
 2 if such has not heretofore been entered, and the proba-
 3 tion shall end in any event, and the sentence shall be 4 executed forthwith.

5 10. Upon fulfillment of the terms of probation
 6 without violation, the defendant shall be discharged
 7 and, if no judgment of conviction has been entered, the 8 court's criminal record with reference to the deferred
 9 sentence shall be expunged. The court's record shall 10 never be expunged in any other circumstance, except 11 as provided in section six hundred two point fifteen

12 (602.15) of the Code, and any civil judgments entered 13 as a consequence of the crime shall survive.

14 11. Upon entry of judgment of conviction and sentence, 15 whether or not probation is granted; and upon granting 16 of probation before sentence; and upon entering sentence
17 after deferred sentence and violation of probation, the 18 court shall notify the Iowa division of criminal inves-
19 tigation and bureau of identification of the disposition 20 of the case to that stage of the proceeding, upon such 21 forms as the state bureau may provide, and no court
22 record in any deferred sentence case may be expunged
23 until the court has received a receipt or acknowledge-
24 ment in writing from the Iowa division of criminal inves-
25 tigation and bureau of identification that it has filed

1 defendant's record in the case with its confidential
2 records and that such records will be kept and used as 3 by law provided and so that it may be ascertained
4 whether any person charged with a crime in this state
5 has previously been granted a deferred sentence in any 6 county.

7 12. In any case where a judgment of conviction and 8 sentence is entered, the court shall forward to the 9 governor a recommendation with reference to future
10 restoration of citizenship rights to such person.

COMMUNICATION

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
State Capitol
Des Moines, Iowa 50319

February 14, 1973

The Honorable Arthur A. Neu
Lieutenant Governor of Iowa Local

Dear Governor Neu:

In the First Session of the Sixty-Fourth Iowa General Assembly an Act establishing a new General Services Department was passed which transferred specific duties, powers and responsibilities of the Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds, the State Vehicle Dispatcher, the State

Printing Board, the Superintendent of Printing, the State Comptroller and the Executive Council over an eighteen-month period, excepting those functions which presented a special administrative difficulty.

Pursuant to the powers granted to me in section 14 of Chapter 84 of the laws of the Sixty-Fourth General Assembly, First Session, I have authorized and directed the transfer to the General Services Department said powers, duties, functions, responsibilities and programs as follows:

1. The State Printing Board and the Superintendent of Printing under Chapter 15 and Chapter 16, 1971 Code of Iowa on January 17, 1972;
2. The Administration of State Communications and the State Communications Advisory Council under Chapter 8A, 1971 Code of Iowa on June 16, 1972;
3. The purchase, maintenance, protection, assignment and disposition of all state owned motor vehicles under Section 73 of Chapter 84 of the Laws of the Sixty-Fourth General Assembly, First Session, on September 25, 1972;
4. The Department of Buildings and Grounds and the Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds charged with the responsibility of proper maintenance and protection of the State Capitol grounds, equipment, and all other State buildings, grounds, and equipment at the seat of government on September 25, 1972;
5. The specific duties and responsibilities of the Executive Council on November 1, 1972;
6. The Administration of the State Educational Radio and Television Facility Board contained in Chapter 8A, 1971 Code of Iowa on December 28, 1972.

Pursuant to the authority granted to me in Section 14 of Chapter 84 of the Laws of the Sixty-Fourth General Assembly, First Session, I have not yet transferred the Centralized Data Processing Division from the office of the State Comptroller to the Department of General Services.

I wish to report that an earlier transfer of this division would have seriously disturbed the computerization of the budget, the modernization of the Treasurer's office procedures and the development of the Traffic Records and Criminal Justice System which occupy a substantial amount of time of the Comptroller and the Director of Data Processing. There has developed a mutual working relationship within this department which I feel should be continued in order to obtain economical and timely completion of these high priority programs.

Sincerely,
ROBERT D. RAY

COMMUNICATION FROM THE INDUSTRIAL COMMISSIONER

The thirtieth biennial report of the Industrial Commissioner made to the Governor for transmittal to the General Assembly pursuant to Section 86.9, 1973 Code of Iowa, has been received and placed on file in the office of the Lieutenant Governor.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 26

By Lamborn (Doyle, McCormick, and Lipsky)

Whereas, a Penal and Correctional Systems Study Committee was established to conduct a comprehensive study of the penal and correctional system during the 1971-72 and 1972-73 legislative interims; and

Whereas, committee meetings were held at the Iowa State Penitentiary, the Men's and Women's Reformatories, the Medical Security Facility, the Training School for Boys and Girls, the Riverview Release Center, the Des Moines Community Based Correction Project, county jails, and half-way houses; and

Whereas, the committee conferred with county officials, representatives of the Department of Social Services, Board of Parole, Crime Commission, Vermont Corrections Department, private groups and associations and private citizens; and

Whereas, during its scheduled meetings the committee met with and talked to inmates, staff and supervisory personnel and gathered information and shared views; and

Whereas, the process of gathering information and exchanging views brought about and fostered a better understanding on the part of all concerned of the nature and problems in the state penal and correctional systems; and

Whereas, the committee meetings at the institutions served as a catalyst enabling administrators to take a fresh look at some practices and to consider the addition of innovative programs; and

Whereas, the committee has proposed legislation which would serve to improve the rehabilitative nature of the system; and

Whereas, the scope of the study was such that a wealth of information remains ungathered, views remain unexpressed, practices remain unchanged, programs remain to be initiated, all of which would serve the goal of improving the public safety and welfare by altering the criminalistic and anti-social behavior of individual offenders and returning these individuals to the mainstream of society to lead healthy and productive lives; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That the Legislative Council is authorized to create a study committee, as provided by law, to continue the study of the penal and correctional system, which committee shall include members of the appropriate standing committees of the Senate and the House of Representatives, and shall include female and male legislators of the Senate and House of Representatives, to conduct during the 1973-1974 and 1974-1975 legislative interims a comprehensive study of the penal and correctional system in Iowa.

Be It Further Resolved, That the study committee shall include nonlegislative members having special knowledge in the fields of penal and correctional facilities, rehabilitation and programs and that the committee be authorized to retain, if necessary, consultants and assistants, and that a report of the study shall be prepared and submitted to the legislative council and members of the General Assembly at the conclusion of each interim and shall be accompanied by legislative bill drafts designed to carry out the recommendations of the committee.

ADOPTION OF CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

Senate Concurrent Resolution 12

Senator Lamborn asked and received unanimous consent to take up Senate Concurrent Resolution 12.

On motion of Senator McCartney, Senate Concurrent Resolution 12, with report of the committee on appropriations recommending passage, was taken up, considered, and the report of the committee adopted:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 12

By Committee on Higher Education

Whereas, chapter two hundred sixty-three A (263A), Code 1973, provides that the state board of regents after authorization by a constitutional majority of the General Assembly may carry out any project as defined in that chapter of the Code at the state university of Iowa; and

Whereas, chapter two hundred sixty-three A (263A), Code 1973 authorizes the state board of regents to borrow money and to issue and sell negotiable bonds or notes to pay all or any part of the cost of carrying out such projects at the institution payable solely and only from and secured by an irrevocable pledge of a sufficient portion of the University Hospital Income; and

Whereas, many of the facilities of the hospitals at the state university of Iowa were built between forty and fifty years ago and are inadequate to meet present and future demands for statewide medical and teaching services; and

Whereas, said inadequacy exists in operating room facilities which are located in several different areas at the university hospitals and are not designed for today's advanced surgical techniques and workload of more than fifteen thousand operations annually; and

Whereas, present space available for radiological services, one of the most important fields in modern medicine, is less than that recommended by the U.S. Public Health Services for a prototype hospital of five hundred beds although the university hospitals have eleven hundred ninety-two beds; and

Whereas, the out-patient clinical facilities are located in widely separated areas of the hospitals and seriously encumber the ability of the clinical specialists to handle almost one-quarter million patient visits annually and concentration of these services in a single area will greatly facilitate services to patients and training for family practice, and improve efficiency; and

Whereas, twenty percent or two hundred forty of the beds serving annually more than thirty-three thousand in-patients are located in large sixteen- to twenty-bed wards and do not meet the standards established for Medicare patients or the demands by private patients and, further detailed studies have shown that remodeling these existing large wards into smaller units would be prohibitively costly and create insurmountable problems in teaching; and

Whereas, to alleviate these conditions, the state board of regents requests authorization to construct an eight-story addition of one hundred sixty-eight thousand gross square feet north of the general hospital, to house an operating room suite and facilities, a diagnostic radiology section, out-patient clinic, and in-patient facilities for eighty beds, at an estimated total cost of thirteen million nine hundred thousand dollars ($13,900,000) of which not more than ten million dollars ($10,000,000) would be financed by borrowing under the provisions of chapter two hundred sixty-three A (263A), Code 1973, and the remainder to be financed by other funds; Now Therefore

Be It Resolved by the Senate the House Concurring, that the state board of regents be and is hereby authorized to construct an addition of one hundred sixty-eight thousand gross square feet of floor space, more or less, to the general hospital of the state university of Iowa to house an operating room suite and facilities, a diagnostic radiology section, out-patient clinic, and in-patient facilities at an estimated cost of thirteen million nine hundred thousand dollars ($13,900,000) of which not more than ten million ($10,000,000) would be financed by borrowing authorized by the provisions of chapter two hundred sixty-three A (263A), Code 1973.

Senator McCartney moved the adoption of the resolution.

On the question "Shall the resolution be adopted?" (S.C.R. 12) the vote was:

Ayes, 42:

Andersen	Hansen	Murray	Schaben
Bergman	Heying	Nolin	Schwengels
Blouin	Hultman	Orr	Schwieger
Briles	Kennedy	Palmer	Scott
Curtis	Lamborn	Plymat	Shaff
DeKoster	McCartney	Potter	Shaw
Doderer	Miller of	Priebe	Taylor
Gallagher	Des Moines	Rabedeaux	Tieden
Glenn	Miller of	Ramsey	Van Gilst
Gluba	Marshall	Robinson	Willits

Nays, 4:

Coleman	Hill	Kelly	Riley
---------	------	-------	-------

Absent or not voting, 4:

Junkins	Kinley	Kyhl	Nystrom

The motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

On motion of Senator Lamborn, the Senate adjourned until the fall of the gavel.

By Murray, Schwieger, Briles, Gluba, Andersen, Schaben,
Van Gilst, Bergman and Robinson

Whereas, the provisions of the federal Hatch Act regarding political activity of federal employees also extend to state and local public employees who are paid wholly or in part out of federal funds, either directly or through grants-in-aid; and

Whereas, the increase in members and extent of federally-funded programs in which the states and local units of government participate results in a larger number of public employees becoming subject to the provisions of the Hatch Act; and

Whereas, restrictions in state laws similar to those in the Hatch Act have been held by state and federal courts to be unconstitutional infringements upon the political rights of public employee citizens, and it is desirable to preserve for these citizens the maximum practicable right to participate in the political life of the nation and the states; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That the Congress of the United States be memorialized to amend the federal Hatch Act by removing from it those provisions which prohibit state and local government employees from exercising the full rights and responsibilities of citizenship and taking an active part in the political life of their nation and state; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate shall cause copies of this memorial to be sent to the presiding officer of the Senate, and of the House of Representatives of the United States and to each member of the Iowa Congressional delegation.

PROOF OF PUBLICATION

Published copy of Senate File 324 and verified proof of publication in the Council Bluffs Nonpareil, a daily newspaper published at Council Bluffs, Iowa, on Tuesday, February 20, 1973, was filed with the Secretary of the Senate prior to the time said bill was placed on passage in the Senate.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

As chairman of the Appropriations Subcommittee on Education, I studied the proposed building project at University Hospitals that Senate Concurrent Resolution 12 authorizes.

I have serious reservations about the project from three standpoints. First, the project closes off from full view the Gothic Tower that has come to symbolize one of the great medical institutions of the world. Secondly, I suspect that the physical plant of the University Hospitals and medical college needs a complete rebuilding, or at least a major addition along the lines of the proposal advanced several years ago (but not undertaken for lack of federal funds) when the General Assembly authorized approximately 34 million dollars or two and one-half times the authorization proposed by Senate Concurrent Resolution 12. The present proposal may be a make shift effort due to lack of adequate funding. Thirdly, I question whether the cost of the addition should be borne by hospital patients or, instead, by the general public. This is a state hospital and college, of which we are justifiably proud. A good case could be made for total state financial support of capital improvements. Those comprise the reason for my "no" vote on Senate Concurrent Resolution 12.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 25

By Crabb

Whereas, the problem of storage of documents has been increasing substantially and state departments faced with a lack of space have been engaged in determining methods by which they might store documents and still allow for easy retrieval; and

Whereas, because of the problem of storing documents many state departments have asked for funds within their appropriation requests which would be used for the establishment of a microfilming program within their department; and

Whereas, if such requests are granted a duplication of equipment and programs might result between individual departments and there would be an unnecessary expenditure of state funds; and

Whereas, if state departments could establish on a joint basis programs for microfilming or the use of other methods for the retention of documents on a joint basis, a great amount of state funds might be saved as well as physical space and manpower; and

Whereas, there has been very little, if any, coordination between state departments in making requests for microfilming equipment, Now Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That the Legislative Council is urged to create a study committee composed of legislative members selected from appropriate standing committees and representing both houses of the General Assembly and both political parties represented in the General Assembly; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the study committee is directed to study the requests of all departments asking for microfilming equipment as well as the need of any state department for storage of documents, and the study committee shall specifically consider the use of joint microfilming equipment but may consider any other methods for the storage of documents which may be feasible; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the study committee shall make a report to the Legislative Council and the General Assembly meeting in the year 1974, which report shall be accompanied by any bill drafts designed to carry out the recommendations of the study committee.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 26

By Doyle, McCormick and Lipsky (Lamborn)

Whereas, a Penal and Correctional Systems Study Committee was established to conduct a comprehensive study of the penal and correctional system during the 1971-72 and 1972-73 legislative interims; and

Whereas, Committee meetings were held at the Iowa State Penitentiary, the Men's and Women's Reformatories, the Medical Security Facility, the Training School for Boys and Girls, the Riverview Release Center, the Des Moines Community based Correction Project, county jails, and half-way houses; and

Whereas, the Committee conferred with county officials, representatives of the Department of Social Services, Board of Parole, Crime Commission, Vermont Corrections Department, private groups and associations, and private citizens; and

Whereas, during its scheduled meetings the Committee met with and talked to inmates, staff and supervisory personnel and gathered information and shared views; and

Whereas, the process of gathering information and exchanging views brought about and fostered a better understanding on the part of all concerned of the nature and problems in the state penal and correctional systems; and

Whereas, the Committee meetings at the institutions served as a catalyst enabling administrators to take a fresh look at some practices and to consider the addition of innovative programs; and

Whereas, the Committee has proposed legislation which would serve to improve the rehabilitative nature of the system; and

Whereas, the scope of the study was such that a wealth of information remains ungathered, views remain unexpressed, practices remain unchanged, programs remain to be initiated, all of which would serve the goal of improving the public safety and welfare by altering the criminalistic and antisocial behavior of individual offenders and returning these individuals to the mainstream of society to lead healthy and productive lives; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That the Legislative Council is authorized to create a study committee, as provided by law, to continue the study of the penal and correctional system, which committee shall include members of the appropriate standing committees of the House of Representatives and the Senate, and shall include female and male legislators of the House of Representatives and Senate, to conduct during the 1973-1974 and 1974-1975 legislative interims a comprehensive study of the penal and correctional system in Iowa.

Be It Further Resolved, That the study committee shall include nonlegislative members having special knowledge in the fields of penal and correctional facilities, rehabilitation and programs and that the committee be authorized to retain, if necessary, consultants and assistants, and that a report of the study shall be prepared and submitted to the legislative coun-oil and members of the General Assembly at the conclusion of each interim and shall be accompanied by legislative bill drafts designed to carry out the recommendations of the committee.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 30

By Shaw, Hill, Glenn, Gluba and Tieden (Roorda)

Whereas, the Regulation of Consumer Credit Study Committee was established pursuant to Senate Concurrent Resolution 132 and House Concurrent Resolution 141 of the Sixty-fourth General Assembly, which asked that a committee be appointed for the purpose of studying legislative regulation of consumer credit charges in Iowa;

Whereas, the study committee consisted of five Senators, five Representatives, and five nonlegislative members representing the lending industry and the consuming public; and

Whereas, the study committee, under the chairmanship of Senator Elizabeth Shaw, who was at that time a member of the House of Representatives, held meetings during the months of June through December of 1972, which included study of present Iowa laws relating to consumer credit regulation, study to familiarize themselves with the general concepts of the Uniform Consumer Credit Code, and meetings with persons expert in these areas; and

Whereas, the study committee in October of 1972 agreed to begin a point-by-point study of the revised version of the Uniform Consumer Credit Code, with the thought of recommending adoption of a consumer credit code for the state of Iowa, including whatever reorganization of government is necessary to implement that recommendation; and

Whereas, the study committee reported that it was not able to complete its detailed study of the Uniform Consumer Credit Code or to make further recommendations because of time limitations, and requested the legislative council serving in 1972 to reestablish the study committee in the interim between the 1973 and 1974 sessions of the Sixty-fifth General Assembly; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That the legislative council reestablish the Regulation of Consumer Credit Study Committee during the 1973 interim, with the same membership as nearly as possible, including the citizen members, and with additional members to replace those who are no longer in the General Assembly, or who are unable to serve; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the study committee make periodic reports to the legislative council and submit a final report including necessary bill drafts to implement its recommendations to the legislative council. Copies of the report approved by the legislative council shall be submitted to the Second Session of the Sixty-fifth General Assembly meeting in 1974.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 33

By Griffin (Holden)

Whereas, the Mental Health and Juvenile Institutions Study Committee was established by action of the Sixty-fourth General Assembly at its 1971 Session and continued by action of its 1972 Session for the purpose of studying the present and future roles and adequacy of mental health institutes and existing institutions for juveniles under the Department of Social Services, and to protect future expansion, consolidation, or closing of these facilities; and

Whereas, the Study Committee, in familiarizing itself with existing circumstances, became increasingly concerned over aspects of the state's system for delivery of mental health care and of certain services to juveniles, and in particular about the roles of state mental health institutes and community health centers and the relationship of these two types of facilities to each other and to the administration of mental health services on the state and local levels; and

Whereas, the question still exists as to whether the primary resource for delivery of acute short-term mental health care is to be the community mental health center utilizing psychiatric wards in general hospitals and other local inpatient facilities or state mental health institutes functioning as intensive treatment centers; and

Whereas, the necessity for high quality intensive mental health care services, whether provided through state institutions or local facilities, is becoming increasingly apparent and requires legislative awareness of changing circumstances and attitudes in the delivery of needed services to the mentally ill, mentally retarded, and juveniles whose situations require some form of participation or intervention by society; and

Whereas, there is a need for continuing exploration and evaluation of the possibilities for providing more services to juveniles in local communities rather than in state institutions; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That the Legislative Council is urged to appoint a Study Committee from members of the appropriate standing committees of the House of Representatives and the Senate, which committee may include citizens as deemed appropriate, for the purpose of continuing the study of mental health and juvenile institutions including projections for future expansion, consolidation, or closing of these facilities; and to the Legislative Council and submit a final report which shall include necessary bill drafts to implement its recommendations to the Legislative Council. Copies of the report submitted to the Legislative Council shall be submitted to the General Assembly meeting in the year 1974.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

MR. PRESIDENT: I was absent from the Senate chamber, Wednesday, April 4, attending a special meeting with Wilbert Penberthy, Director of the Division of Narcotic and Drug Enforcement of Iowa, for the purpose of trying to get to the bottom of a hassle that exists between Mr. Penberthy's department and the Davenport Organized Crime Unit. Had I been present, I would have voted against the motion to insist on the Senate amendment to the House amendment to Senate File 25, because the Senate version excluded consumers from being required to be on the governing board of HMO. I support the House version because it is more in the interest of the general public.

A committee from the House appeared and announced that the House was ready to receive the Senate in joint convention.

In accordance with Senate Concurrent Resolution 13, duly adopted, the Senate proceeded to the House under the direction of the Secretary of the Senate and the Acting Sergeant-at-Arms.

JOINT CONVENTION

PIONEER LAWMAKERS

(House Chamber—2 p.m.)

In accordance with Senate Concurrent Resolution 13 duly adopted, the joint convention was called to order, President Neu presiding.

President Neu declared a quorum present and the joint convention duly organized.

Senator Lamborn moved that a committee of four be appointed to escort the Pioneer Lawmakers into the House chamber.

The motion prevailed and the President appointed as such committee: Senator Andersen, Senator Coleman, Representative Brockett and Representative Doyle.

President Neu presented Representative Robert M. Kreamer who welcomed the Pioneer Lawmakers on behalf of the House as follows:

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the Pioneer Lawmakers Association of Iowa, Joint Convention and Guests:

On behalf of the Iowa House of Representatives, it is my sincere pleasure to welcome you, the Pioneer Lawmakers of the State of Iowa, to the Sixty-fifth General Assembly.

Your interest, as indicated by your numbers and enthusiasm, in returning today to the scene of your former governmental service, is good evidence of the love and dedication you held and still hold for our great state.

As you look around this chamber, you will observe that many of the faces of those presently serving in the General Assembly are new and that some of our physical facilities are new, but let me assure you that there is still present a common tie between us all that we can be proud of. That tie, to which I refer, is the tradition you helped establish and maintain that Iowa's lawmakers perform their task with an honest and sincere desire to serve their state and the needs of its people. You were responsive, and you were responsible, in the performance of your duties. This is evident, not only in the laws that you enacted, but in the traditions you passed on.

For this, on behalf of all Iowans, we, sincerely, thank you for a job well done.

President Neu presented Senator Clifton C. Lamborn who welcomed the Pioneer Lawmakers on behalf of the Senate as follows:

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the Pioneer Lawmakers Association of Iowa, Joint Convention and Guests:

Senator Kyhl is ill and not able to be here today, so it is with mixed emotions that I welcome you. It is of course a pleasure for me to do so, but I am sorry that Senator Kyhl cannot be with us.

Since the first session of the Pioneer Lawmakers Association was called to order by Lieutenant Governor Gue at Foster's Opera House here in Des Moines in February, 1886, this organization has continually provided the Iowa legislature with a sense of its past—its genealogy.

Since Norman Boardman of Lyons first conceived the idea in 1885, the Pioneer Lawmakers have provided us with counsel and wisdom.

When you were here in our places, several years ago, you experienced many of the same pressures we experience here today. You have been able to help us "see ourselves as others see us," to let us know that as overwhelming as the burdens may seem, they have been successfully carried and met many times before.

Since Judge Samuel Murdock, a member of the Eighth Territorial Legislature, began telling stories at the first reunion about the Whigs and Democrats and about their long fight over the adoption of Iowa's first Constitution, the Pioneer Lawmakers have provided us with a lighter perspective—a perspective that is all too often lost during the heat of debate.

Of course, we have fights today, but luckily, they're not quite as physical as some were in days past.

In future years, the great problems of today will seem small by comparison. But for us today they are very demanding. In this same way, the challenges you faced were just as critical and just as important as any we may face today.

We are here today in these halls with the same goals, the same dedication and the same spirit that embraced you—that is, providing for the continued betterment of the people of the state of Iowa.

To paraphrase Lieutenant Governor Hull who addressed the first reunion, if we can return to our homes with the feeling that we have performed our duty as well as you did yours in the years of your service, we will have the satisfaction of knowing we have done our duty well.

We welcome you as you begin your eighty-seventh year.

President Neu presented the Honorable Edna C. Lawrence, president of the Pioneer Lawmakers Association, who addressed the Assembly as follows:

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Honorable Jack Schroeder, Newly Elected President of the Pioneer Lawmakers Association, Members of the Pioneer Lawmakers Association, Members of the House and Senate, and Guests:

On behalf of the members of the Pioneer Lawmakers Association of Iowa I wish to thank you for this warm welcome. It is indeed a privilege for us to again be your guests on this occasion. You, too, will in a few years become Pioneer Lawmakers and will look forward to just such a visit in these chambers.

Now, before I say any more I wish to introduce to you the Ladies Legislative League. These ladies helped us in recognition of this day.

I want today to tell you something of the origin of Pioneer Lawmakers. I quite well remember my first term in this House of Representatives when we had just such a program. I did not know why we had Pioneer Lawmakers and no one enlightened me. For the benefit of the new members of the legislature let me tell you that in twenty years (1993) you will become members of this association. Please make the most of it—attend the meetings every two years, lend your support in any way you can. You will be called upon to serve on committees, or serve as vice president in your own district. Take an active part in the association—renew friendships—recall your own service in the legislature. These meetings are a most rewarding experience to all of us.

This is the eighty-eighth year of this association.

Pioneer Lawmakers Association of Iowa had its beginning in September of 1885. The Honorable Norman Boardman of Clinton County, who served in the Ninth and Tenth General Assemblies, from 1862 to 1866, first proposed the reunion of members of the early legislatures of Iowa.

On the 25th of September, 1885, he wrote as follows to ex-Lieutenant Governor B. F. Gue of Des Moines:

"I see by eastern papers that all the living members of the Vermont legislatures are to have a reunion in October, with very interesting exercises. Why cannot we have one in Iowa? In conversation with Governor

John Scott, of Nevada, a few days ago, I found that he was heartily in favor of such a reunion, and I would like to have your opinion on the subject. Will you please confer with such of the old members as you may be able to see, and let me know the result.

NORMAN BOARDMAN."

Following this letter a call was issued to the early state legislators to meet at Des Moines on the 24th and 25th days of February, 1886. Twenty-three members signed this call for the meeting and the first session opened at Foster's Opera House in Des Moines, at 10:30 a.m., February 24, 1886, with eighty-seven members answering roll call.

After transaction of some business matters, the convention adjourned to meet at the capitol building at 3:00 p.m.

There were many long and oratorical speeches. I was greatly impressed as I read many of them in this search for the origin of our association.

The simplicity of their speeches, and yet the great beauty of their usage of words, was more like poetry than prose. It made me ponder on our usage of the English language today. We have no truly great political orators and have not had for several years. I believe Senator Dirksen of Illinois was the last of that kind. The criticism of fellow politicians was not as raw as that of today. Those men of whom I speak were scholars, even though some had not much education, and were gentle but firm even in criticism. They weighed matters carefully and refrained from snap judgments. If only we could regain some of the flavor of those years.

I could go on and on with excerpts of those speeches, but time does not permit. I only hope you will take the time to read some of these for yourself. The problems of those early years were great beyond measure, but the work of our pioneer legislators gave Iowa a start that many other states referred to as they entered the Union.

I suppose that any woman speaking should make some reference to liberation. Carolyn C. Pendray of Maquoketa, Jackson County, served in the legislature in 1929 and served several terms. It is not because of lack of liberation that more women have not served, it is because women have not chosen to campaign for public office. I am for the liberation of all groups—men, women, and children of all colors and creeds. Help each individual see the opportunities afforded them and teach them how to avail themselves of these opportunities. Education is needed first and liberation will come.

I'm sure that if women try they will soon wonder why they needed to be liberated for other than recognition and equal pay for equal work.

Now I come to the very nicest part of my task—and that is to award to George (Lefty) Mills for his services as a legislative news reporter an honorary membership in the Pioneer Lawmakers Association. George, we are proud to have you in our organization and we hope you will be just as proud to become a member.

And now I again have the privilege of referring to George Mills, who is our speaker for today. George attended Northwestern University. He had his first sight of the legislature in action in 1931 while serving as a reporter for the Marshalltown Times-Republican.

George has been associated with several news media. He was with the Associated Press on two different occasions, also with the Iowa Daily Press Association, the Cedar Rapids Gazette and with the Des Moines Register two different times. He was Iowa correspondent for Time, Life, and Fortune magazines from 1943 until 1954.

In all George has covered twenty-five sessions, including extra sessions, of the Iowa legislature. No man is better able to speak to this joint session than he. Some of you know him well, and many of you have read his legislative articles in past years.

Just about a year ago George Mills' book "Iowa's Amazing Past" was published by the Iowa State University Press.

George Mills addressed the joint convention as follows:

"FORTY YEARS AROUND THE LEGISLATURE"

Mr. President, Senator Lamborn, Representative Kreamer, Mrs. Lawrence, Speaker Varley, Jack Schroeder, Members of the Pioneer Lawmakers Association of Iowa, Joint Convention and Guests:

I have been honored twice today, once by being voted an honorary member of the Pioneer Lawmakers of Iowa and now by appearing before you as a speaker on Pioneer Lawmakers Day 1973.

It is a great honor for a refugee from the press box to have been so selected for this speaking honor.

It was my privilege to operate from that press box for a long, long time, until I was retired in 1971 for reasons of senility. I guess you can say that your speaker is living proof that it is possible to be around the Iowa legislature for twenty-five sessions and survive.

Many of us here today date so far back in these legislative halls that we remember the time when each desk was equipped with a cuspidor, to accommodate tobacco chewers, a habit that was characteristic of pioneer times. A few of the lawmakers two generations ago were pioneers themselves, and it is rather interesting to know why pioneer farmers chewed instead of smoked—the reason was simple—to keep fires from destroying their barns and homesteads. Once a fire started out in the country, that was it. Rarely anything was saved. That's why some legislator pioneers, including some governors, liked a chaw rather than a pipe or cigar.

My heart is a bit full when I look at the front of this Bible. It was placed here in 1945. Anthony TePaske is the man responsible for it, God rest him. Anthony was a wonderful old Dutch gentleman from Sioux Center. He used to say: "I come from a small town in northwest Iowa—where life flows gently." Anthony was a sincerely devout individual and he decided that there always should be a Bible in the Iowa House chamber. He took up a collection, got a dollar from quite a number of Representatives. (The names of all the members from that session are in the Bible.) Now the Bible has a permanent location here and is a nice memorial—I hope the memory of Anthony TePaske never fades away.

We had many Civil War veterans still around in the 1930's and the GAR office was downstairs. There's a picture of one of the notable veterans above the sergeant-at-arms station—Oley Nelson was his name and he was sergeant-at-arms of the House, and was in his late eighties while still sergeant-at-arms. We had no microphones in those days but that never bothered Oley. He had a voice so loud that when he shouted, "Mr. Speaker, message from the Senate," he awakened the soundest sleeper.

Lack of microphones was a mixed blessing. When a soft-voiced legislator had to sit in the back row, he sometimes did not get reported because you couldn't hear him. I remember one—Lorenzo Teter from Knoxville. He made many speeches and probably spoke pearls of wisdom during debates but none of us heard him so he didn't get quoted. There were some unkind souls who suggested that not hearing certain lawmakers was constructive, but I did not join in that sentiment.

Serving in the legislature was much more comfortable in the early days than now. A fellow could rest his eyes once in a while, even maybe doze off in a discussion of a complicated drainage bill, without having a TV camera zero in on you. Legislators could also read the paper with safety during debates without being caught by television.

Times were pretty grim most of the time in the twenties and thirties. I came into this chamber in 1931. There were two marches in 1931 that were pretty important. Some fifteen hundred farmers came in trains and cars from Tipton and eastern Iowa territories to protest an Iowa law which said that all cows be tested for tuberculosis. The farmers just didn't think the test was reliable and fought pretty hard against it and came down here to get the legislature to make it optional rather than mandatory. About twenty-five hundred farmers gathered here in September of 1931 for the purpose of doing something about the price of corn. They passed a resolution that not any of them were going to sell their corn until it reached the price of sixty cents a bushel. It was about forty-two cents at the time. Governor Turner was a strong supporter of the idea and stood before this chamber in their support. In 1933 angry farmers marched on the legislature and literally took over the House chamber. They were unhappy with the progress of legislation to stave off mortgage foreclosures, of which there were many thousands pending. To show you how serious it was, before that decade ended, the farmland in the equivalent of eleven of the ninety-nine Iowa counties ended up in the possession of corporations, insurance companies, banks and the like. Prices were unbelievably low; corn got down to twelve cents a bushel, hogs were around $3 a hundred, cattle maybe a nickel and sometimes less.

I remember when I was a young reporter in Marshalltown; I frequently ate my evening meal at Henry Wachter's place on Main street. Henry served a nice small steak dinner for twenty-five cents. Henry used to sit and talk with me and one night he shook his head and said: "George, the way things are going, I'm going to have to start getting thirty cents for that meal."

To show you what money was worth, the state was feeding persons in the state institutions—prisoners, the mentally ill, the retarded, those in training schools and children's homes—for an average of twenty-nine cents a day, less than ten cents a meal. Overall cost of operating those institutions—everything—averaged about $20 per person per month or sixty-seven cents a day. The mental hospitals were lower than that average. As I recall, the cost of operating those hospitals averaged forty-four cents per patient per day at the low point.

Of course, there really wasn't any care. In places like Independence you would see seventeen hundred patients jammed in—I remember one big room with five hundred old women in beds so close together there was hardly room enough to walk between them. It was a sight, sound and smell never to be forgotten.

Now, as I understand it, there are less than 1,000 resident patients total in all four mental hospitals. The cost has gone up a bit also, from that low figure of forty-four cents a day to around $40 a day.

In that 1933 march, one Senator was the object of particular ire of the farmers from his home area. They came with pickaxes and ropes and said they wanted to hang him over the railing of the rotunda outside the legislative chambers. He discreetly retreated high up into the golden dome and they never found him. This shows that things were not always a picnic around here.

Milo Reno, a fiery leader, headed the Farm Holiday Association in those days. The association was trying to boost prices by picketing the highways and preventing farm products from reaching market. There was plenty of violence in certain places, as some of you recall.

There is this about Milo that I have never forgotten. When President Herbert Hoover came to Iowa in 1932, a very unpopular President, and paraded through downtown Des Moines, he did not get the "boos" you might expect. The chief reason for this was that Milo did not believe that you should ever be disrespectful of a President of the United States no matter what you thought of him—that the office deserves your respect. Contrast that attitude with even college girls chanting obscenities at President Nixon during his last visit to the State House.

When I first came to the legislature, back in the early 1930's, the salary of the Governor of Iowa was $7,500 a year and the state did not provide him with a mansion in which to live. He fended for himself in Des Moines for $7,500. I noticed in the morning paper it is being proposed to pay the Governor $40,000. Let me tell you what $40,000 would have done in 1933. It would have paid the salaries of all these people: The Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, State Treasurer, Attorney General, Secretary of Agriculture, State Auditor and the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and still have $3,500 left over. The other elected officials got $4,500 a year. It would have paid four-fifths of all the salaries drawn by the Senators. All legislators in those days got $1,000 every two years. The secretaries made $3.60 a day in those days and the chances are you would have had more than one legislator to work for—one girl was a secretary for five. One session we had sixty secretaries for the one hundred eight members. They didn't have many letters to write, however, because the legislators paid all their own postage and you didn't pay for a stamp any more often than you could help.

Did you see where the Des Moines teachers sometime back were asking for $7,900 a year starting salaries for teachers—$400 more than the Governor of Iowa received in the 1930's and early 1940's. I am not saying what is right and what is wrong, I cite this only as an example of how drastically things can change in a person's adult lifetime.

In 1933 the Legislature set a minimum wage for Iowa teachers at $40 a month. Then, in a burst of munificence, the 1935 legislature whooped that minimum to $50 a month, or a minimum salary of $450 for a nine-month school year. That 1935 boost made Agnes Samuelson very happy. She was State Superintendent of Public Instruction and she was around the legislature a lot. She said the $50 figure constituted a real advance for teachers. Of course, most teachers got more than the minimum—but not a whole lot more because the average Iowa teacher received $800 a year and that average pay included superintendents.

Clyde Herring of Des Moines was Governor of Iowa during part of the crisis in the 1930's. He did an excellent job of meeting the difficult problems that developed almost daily, not only with farm issues but also the very heavy load of unemployed in the cities and towns, with crushing relief needs, with tax reform and liquor problems.

Also some of you will remember when in 1936, King Edward VIII gave up the throne in England to marry Wallie Simpson, the American divorcee. That was a tremendous story: "I have found it impossible to carry the heavy burden of responsibility and to discharge my duties as king as I would wish to do without the help and support of the woman I love."

Well, Clyde was still Governor and he was very obliging to reporters when they needed a story. You always could get a quote from Clyde when times were dull. Somebody in a press conference asked: "Governor, what would you do if you were king of England and were confronted with such a choice? Would you give up the throne or the woman?"

Clyde replied: "Boys, for the record, I must say that a king owes everything to his country, I would have kept the throne and given up the woman. Now, off the record, do you know what I really would have done? I'd have kept both of them."

The farmers march in the thirties—the ones I have told you about are a few of maybe a dozen major marches on the legislature in my time. We had many thousands of filling station operators, eight thousand as I recall, come to the legislature en masse in 1935 to protest the chain store tax bill. The big oil companies wanted the filling stations exempted. They were not. That was the toughest tax measure I have ever seen.

The tax rates graduated up to a tax of ten percent on the gross business of the largest chains. Imagine a tax of ten cents on every dollar you take in. For the bigger companies the tax was confiscatory and would have forced them out of Iowa but they didn't have to go as the United States Supreme Court held that tax invalid.

We used to have marches by the dries too. They came to the House chamber in force one day and filled up the back of the chamber. I can't remember what they wanted exactly—maybe local option on the sale of beer or the local operation of state liquor stores. They wanted the voters in a municipality to have a say on whether alcoholic beverages would be sold in any form within the municipality's boundaries.

During the debate, J. P. Gallagher, a venerable and eloquent Democrat from Williamsburg, arose. He was an undiluted wet. Shaking his finger at the dries in the back of the chamber, he shouted: "Look at them. Look at them back there, all those old ladies of both sexes!"

Did you know that when beer was legalized in 1933 that Iowa law said beer could be served only with food? You were not supposed to be able to buy only a glass of beer but had to have food at the same time. Then somebody ruled that salt was a food and a glass of beer was legal so long as there was a salt shaker on the table or bar.

Later we had a notable fight over the sandwich bill. Elmer Cooper, an inveterate dry from Corning, tried to get a law through to require a drinker to buy at least a sandwich every time he ordered a beer. Elmer, who was a very sincere gentleman, didn't get anywhere with that idea.

Battles to legalize sale of hard liquor by the drink occurred a lot as some of you will remember. The dries always won those skirmishes in the early days but the wet campaigns were very well lubricated. In one intensive but unsuccessful liquor by the drink campaign, a Representative from a Mississippi River city was floor leader for the wets in the House. He had a supply of boxed bottles of Scotch whiskey stacked up like cordwood in the corner of his room in the Kirkwood. Anybody with a thirst could get a drink there any time.

During that time, a call of the Senate was issued one day. As you know, all Senators must be present when a call of the Senate is filed. Proceedings come to a complete halt on an issue until all the missing Senators, or Representatives, are present or are excused. The sergeant-at-arms finds the missing members and returns them immediately to the chamber.

This time one Senator was located in rather a poor condition downtown. They literally hauled him over to the State House and stretched him out on a table in the Senate cloakroom. He was listed as present from then on.

All this is not to say that many of the legislators drank too much in those days. Far from it. The fact that the dries were strong enough to stave off those drives is some proof of that.

As far as lobbyists are concerned we had reason to think one session that a certain lobbyist had picked all the committees in the House.

One person who didn't like lobbyists at all was Governor Dan Turner. In his inaugural from this podium in 1931, he spent a great deal of time condemning what he called "professional lobbyists."

He said "The citizen, the corporation, and the organized group should each be accorded a fair hearing and equal consideration but the professional lobbyist, prostituting his talent for hire, should be ejected from the presence of honest men with the same contumely we are prone to visit on other enemies of the commonwealth. His methods are nauseous. He has no principles. He is the creature of any and every mercenary interest venal enough to hire him. The professional lobbyist is affable and genial but the smooth exterior is a cloak for sinister purposes. When he approaches you he underestimates both your intelligence and character. He is not interested in the well-being of the people we represent."

Lo and behold, who do you suppose arose to the defense of the lobbyists? The Register and Tribune. The Register in an editorial said: "It is doubtful if anyone likes a lobbyist unless it be his wife and his employer. But the Governor's words, describing the lobbyist as a person of no principles using nauseous methods, are unduly harsh." The Register then pointed out that, "The Methodist Church, the Anti-Saloon League, the Farm Bureau, the Federation of Labor, etc., surely not all legislative representatives of these and other organizations are the kind of people Governor Turner describes. The work of the lobbyist is subject to many abuses, to be sure, but in its ordinary aspects, it represents lawful and often useful activity."

The Register concluded: "Legislators should have enough intelligence and willpower to maintain their equilibrium in spite of lobbyists."

Getting back to the marches, perhaps the biggest march of all was the union labor march on the Assembly in 1947. The workers descended some fifteen thousand or twenty thousand strong on the State House. They mobilized on the west approaches and lawn. They were there to register their vigorous protest against the bill to enact the state's right to work law. That is the law, still on the books, which says a worker shall not be required to belong to a labor union to hold his job. The march did not prevent passage of that bill.

Robert Blue was Governor of Iowa at the time. He was invited to speak to the large and hostile crowd. He was strong for the bill. When there were "boos" he said sharply: "Remember, I am your guest—you invited me here." He conceded that the crowd was large indeed but said: "Think of how much larger number of Iowans are not here." His appearance was a very courageous demonstration on his part.

Governor Blue also had been Speaker of the House some years before. To show you what kind of a man he was, he came into the House chamber one noon and found two secretaries smoking. He gave them such a dressing down that I don't think there was any more feminine smoking in the chambers the rest of the session. He probably would be charged with discrimination today. He simply did not think at the time that it looked good for a woman to smoke in public.

You hear reports that the heat is on to open up party caucuses of the legislators to the press for the first time in history. Some believe that such caucuses never have been open to the press. That is not quite true. As a reporter, it has been my privilege to sit in on a number of caucuses of House Republicans and Democrats when they were selecting their candidates for Speaker, floor leader and the like.

We were in the room and watching when Lawrence Putney lost a heart-breaker battle for the Republican nomination for Speaker. I think it was in 1953. The Republicans had one hundred five members in the House that session and the Democrats three. Talk about lopsided!

To win the Republican speakership nomination required a majority of the one hundred five GOP members, or fifty-three votes. Putney seemed a cinch to win as the ballots were recorded. Putney got up to fifty-two votes, lacking only one for victory, and Bill Lynes, his opponent, had forty-seven votes. There were six ballots left in the hat. Putney never got that one vote. The last six, believe it or not, all went to Lynes and he won, fifty-three to fifty-two.

1953 was also the year of the oleomargarine battle and what a struggle that was! The dairy farmers fought bitterly against legalizing the sale of yellow oleomargine. Remember, it used to look like lard and you got a bean for coloring. The dairy forces came within an eyelash of requiring that oleo be sold in triangular shapes rather than oblong, to distinguish it from butter.

Getting back to caucuses, we sat in a Republican House caucus in 1937 and saw a disconsolate Bourke Hickenlooper get beat for the Republican nomination for Speaker of the House. He was a House member at the time and, as you know, he went on to win election as Lieutenant Governor, then Governor and then four six-year terms as a notable United States Senator from Iowa.

"Hick" was a great needler of the Democrats during his two terms in the Iowa House. He said something one day that infuriated an old German-born Democrat legislator. The guy got so mad that he got up and gave "Hick" a tongue-lashing in his native German language, which very few understood but which everybody enjoyed, including "Hick."

The year 1937 was a year of another notable fight in the House. The political parties were exactly even in strength—each had fifty-four members. A protracted battle resulted over whether a Democrat or Republican should be elected Speaker and the party nominees each got fifty-four votes on ballot after ballot for a couple of days.

The Democrats really had a problem because one of their Representatives, John Ryder of Dubuque, was pretty ill. They couldn't afford to let him stay away; thus, every morning they carried John into the chamber in a chair. He was so ill that his face had a greenish color, but he sat in his seat and in a very feeble voice voted for the Democrat Speakership candidate every time.

The deadlock was finally broken when the Democrats some way wooed Albert Beltman of Sioux County away from Republican ranks. Word got out that the Democrats were changing their candidate and that LaMar Foster of West Branch would be their new nominee and Albert Beltman knew and liked LaMar Foster.

The lunch hour intervened before the crucial ballot. The Democrats decided to take Beltman out to lunch to keep him from redefecting to the Republicans—the Republicans had the same idea and thereby occurred a confrontation at the door of the House chamber.

The Democrats formed a flying wedge to protect Beltman from the Republicans. No, maybe it would be better to say that Democrat blockers gave Albert the same protection that a pro football quarterback gets when he drops back to pass. Beltman was very secure. I don't think Elmer Den Herder's nephew who plays with the Miami Dolphins could have reached Beltman that day.

In any event, after lunch the final ballot was taken and Foster got the necessary fifty-five votes to fifty-three for the Republican candidate.

Incidentally, when Hickenlooper was Governor in 1943, he initiated a very popular tax move. Tax money, because of World War II, was coming in more rapidly than the state needed it. Can you imagine that? On the recommendation of the Governor, the Legislature approved a law under which we had to pay only half our state income tax. We figured out our tax due, then remitted only half of it. If you owed $100, you had to pay just $50. Later we had a sales tax reduction in 1957. The tax had been two and one-half percent. By a judiciously placed veto, Governor Herschel Loveless cut that tax back to two percent.

We experienced the most spectacular tax reductions, however, in the 1930's. In 1931 the legislature passed the Elliott bill demanding that property tax levies be cut five percent—across the board. That was only the beginning. They also appointed committees on reduction of governmental expenditures in each of the ninety-nine counties. Those committees were really tough—they were looking over the shoulders and breathing down the necks of all taxing bodies; school boards, supervisors, county officials, state officials. They demanded in harsh terms that property taxes be cut substantially and they didn't want any "sissy" cuts either.

For example, the state committee estimated in 1932 that a forty percent cut in property taxes was possible through governmental economies. They later lowered it to a more reasonable twenty-five percent. The Des Moines Register every day carried a headline on the editorial page, "Iowa Taxes Must Come Down."

One item that shows the way the wind was blowing is that under this pressure, the pay of Polk County deputy sheriffs was cut from $137.50 a month to $121 a month.

In 1933 came the Beatty-Bennett act—two famous names in tax reduction history. Their bill went much further than the Elliott bill and resulted in this type of reduction in property taxes: Taxes levied in 1930 for collection in 1931, $110 million; the next year, $100 million; the next year, $91.2 million; the following year, $81.2 million, and $76.9 million in 1934 for collection in 1935. Thus, the total property tax bill diminished some $33 million, or about thirty percent in five years.

It is interesting to note that our property tax bill in the state of Iowa now is $768 million a year or about ten times what it was only thirty-seven years ago.

Also interesting is the fact that what we called the state budget in the 1930's totaled a little less than $15 million annually in the 1933-1934 period. That total state budget was about one-fourth of what we spend in Iowa for ADC alone now. I'm not saying whether such developments are good or bad—it is just that such figures are startling. It is just a completely different world.

Did you know that the present sales tax, state income tax and corporation taxes all were enacted in 1934 solely for property tax relief? Here is what the original act creating those taxes said: "This act shall be known as the property relief act and shall have for its purpose the direct replacement of taxes levied or to be levied on property."

Incidentally, did you know that the sales tax was only temporary when first enacted? It went into effect in 1934 and would have expired in 1937 had it not been reenacted.

The sales tax was an issue in the 1934 campaign for Governor between Clyde Herring and Dan Turner. Dan got on the radio and said, "I'm against collecting a penny tax from a kid who goes to the store for his mother to buy a quart of milk for a nickel and a loaf of bread for a dime." How long since milk was a nickel and bread a dime?

It was interesting how little money the sales tax produced. Only $11.6 million the first year and now brings in nearly $240 million a year, almost twenty-two times as much as originally.

The income tax record is even more spectacular. That tax brought in only $1.8 million the first year and now brings in close to $235 million a year.

Incidentally, did you know that Iowa was the first state to assess a cigarette tax and the sale of cigarettes was illegal in Iowa for twenty-five years from 1896 to 1921. Then, with the World War II servicemen all coming home as cigarette smokers, the law became unreal and was repealed. In repealing the measure, the legislature imposed a tax of two cents a package, the first in the country.

Another step taken by the 1934 legislature that developed into a substantial revenue producer was the establishment of the state liquor stores. The original purpose of the stores was to provide liquor on a controlled basis to those who wanted it and the controls were strict.

Governor Herring wanted the stores to be completely service establishments as well as controlled. He originally did not want the stores to make any money but just to break even. Bernard Manley, Liquor Commissioner from Mason City, sharply disagreed. He said: "So long as bread is sold at a profit, liquor should be also."

Manley, a fine gentleman who long since has gone to his reward, should be thanked profoundly by the state budget makers. Where would they be without the nearly $30 million annual profit the stores earn.

One interesting thing that happened in 1936 taxwise: Louie Roddewig, a dapper gentleman from Davenport, headed the tax commission. Roddewig and his associates inserted at the beginning of their annual report a foreward which a historian had written about taxes in the Roman empire in the third century after Christ. Here is the quotation: "Staggering under his crushing burden of taxes, in a state which was practically bankrupt, the citizen of every class had now become a mere cog in the vast machinery of the government. He had no other function than to toil for the state, which exacted so much of the fruit of his labor that he was fortunate if it proved barely possible for him to survive on what was left.

"The century of revolution which ended in the despotic reorganization by Diocletian completely destroyed the creative ability of ancient men in art and literature, as it likewise crushed all progress in business affairs. In so far as the ancient world was one of progress and civilization, its history was ended with the ascension of Diocletian."

To this historical comment, Roddewig and his associates added this observation:

"Thus, from the pages of history can be recorded the disastrous consequences of heavy burdens of taxation."

Herring did not like that at all. It runs in my memory that the statement either was deleted before all the copies were printed or there was an attempted deletion.

With over-simplification, I have often said that I am afraid of property tax relief because I can't afford it. But whether our total tax burden is higher than it should be, in light of the vast increase in services, the vast increase in the cost of services, in light of major inflation, of our higher standard of living, our heavy federal tax burden, whether we are being squeezed too much in taxes, I must say that I don't know. That is much too complex a question to venture a sweeping opinion on such an occasion as this.

One observation on taxes: If the history of the last thirty-seven years repeats itself taxwise, your speaker at Pioneer Lawmakers Day in the year 2010 or 2011 will be talking about an Iowa property tax load of some seven billion dollars, or ten times the present total. Don't say that anything is beyond the realm of possibilities. If anybody dared say in 1936 that the property tax load would reach $768 million by 1973, he would have been regarded as out of his cotton-picking mind. All that it would take would be continuous inflation and continuous increase in government activity. Don't say it can't happen here because it can happen— and maybe it is.

In closing, I want to say that we oldtimers appreciate this opportunity to spend a couple of hours with a present, active, flesh-and-blood generation of legislators. We are proud to have been a part of this great process in this capital, the nerve center of a great state.

And a last word of advice: You too are going to wake up one of these mornings and find yourselves pioneer lawmakers. The years really skim by like roller coaster cars. Enjoy what you are doing while you can. It is a lot later than you think.

Holden of Scott moved that the joint convention be now dissolved.

The motion prevailed.

The Senate returned to the Senate chamber and resumed regular session, Senator DeKoster presiding.

Senate Concurrent Resolution 34

Senator Lamborn asked and received unanimous consent to take up for immediate consideration the following resolution:

By Schaben and Lamborn

Whereas, there is pending in the United States House of Representatives, HR 6168, which proposes, among other things, to roll back livestock prices to the levels that existed in January, 1973; and

Whereas, the enactment of HR 6168 would have a serious economic effect on Iowa and the other 49 states which directly or indirectly are involved in livestock production or related industry; and

Whereas, the HR 6168 would discourage future production of livestock, creating a serious shortage of meat and the possibility of black market activities; and

Whereas, government interference has already created a drastic effect on the economy because of the unemployment of thousands of workers involved in livestock processing and merchandising; and

Whereas, it is expected HR 6168 will soon be considered by the House of Representatives; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That the General Assembly strenuously opposes the enactment of HR 6168; and

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Representative Wright Patman, Chairman, House Banking and Currency Committee; to Representative W. R. Poage, Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee; to Earl Butz, Secretary of the United States Department of Agriculture; to each member of the Iowa Congressional Delegation; and to the President of the United States, Richard M. Nixon.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER

MR. PRESIDENT: I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate File 480 passed the Senate.

CLIFTON C. LAMBORN

On motion of Senator Lamborn, the Senate recessed until 1:50 p.m.

The Senate reconvened, President Neu presiding.

COMMITTEE FROM THE HOUSE

A committee from the House appeared and announced that the House was ready to receive the Senate in joint convention.

In accordance with House Concurrent Resolution 38 duly adopted, the Senate proceeded to the House under the direction of the Secretary of the Senate and the Sergeant-at-Arms.

JOINT CONVENTION

In accordance with law and House Concurrent Resolution 38, duly adopted, the joint convention was called to order, President Neu presiding.

Senator Lamborn of Jackson moved that the roll call be dispensed with and that the President of the joint convention be authorized to declare a quorum present.

The motion prevailed.

President Neu announced a quorum present and the joint convention duly organized.

Senator Lamborn of Jackson moved that a committee of six consisting of three members from the Senate and three members from the House be appointed to notify Governor Robert D. Ray that the joint convention was ready to receive him.

The motion prevailed and the President appointed as such committee Senators Griffin of Pottawattamie, Kelly of Woodbury and Glenn of Wapello on the part of the Senate and Representatives Crawford of Story, Harvey of Scott and Fitzgerald of Webster on the part of the House.

The committee waited upon Governor Robert D. Ray and escorted him to the Speaker's station. President Neu then presented Governor Ray, who delivered the following budget message:

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Elected Officials, Members of the General Assembly, and Citizens of Iowa:

It is not because of custom or any long-standing tradition that I address you this afternoon.

Rather, I make this report to you now in accordance with section 8.28 of the Code of Iowa which calls for the Governor to transmit to the General Assembly supplemental estimates and recommendations for such appropriations as in his judgment may be necessary or as he deems in the public interest.

Still my purpose is broader than simply to discharge a legal requirement and I welcome this opportunity to appear here for two reasons.

First, the improved economic conditions that have produced substantial gains in our state's tax revenue give to us a far more pleasant problem than some of the economic revenue and budgetary problems with which we have been confronted in other legislative sessions.

And second, this situation presents me with the opportunity to speak directly to you about the controversy which has raged over our proposal not to go back to diverting general fund revenues into the road use fund. It has prolonged this session, but even more unfortunate the debate over this issue has overshadowed the really big opportunities which were yours and which I think still lie within your grasp to give Iowans a break.

In my original budget submitted to you on January 25, we estimated total appropriable receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1973, at $710.3 million. The estimated beginning balance for the next biennium including the 1972 allocation of revenue sharing was $48.8 million.

Since those projections were made we have realized a surge in our Iowa economy and there has been an increase in actual tax collections. We can now foresee appropriable receipts in the current year of $756 million or some $39.8 million more than originally projected.

Therefore the State Comptroller, as has your Legislative Fiscal Director, has revised his estimates of the amount that will be on hand at the beginning of the next biennium. The Comptroller's estimate now shows a beginning balance of $88.6 million.

Even rosier estimates than the ones we are presenting to you can be heard in these halls but I believe that we should approach these revised estimates with caution, and with the assumption that much of the increase in revenue over earlier projections is very likely windfall and should be approached as such.

To do otherwise would be to recklessly increase the level of government spending beyond the capacity of the present tax structure to fund it and send us into a deficit situation or a tax increase, or both, in years ahead. We must see to it that the increased revenue is an asset—not a liability.

As I see it, you have two responsibilities as you consider my supplemental budget proposals along with my earlier recommendations. First, appropriate wisely, cautiously, with judgment and with an eye to future state budgets and particularly our taxpayers. Second, do not overreact to the good news of an economic upturn and start spending blue sky.

There will be those—pointing to this increased economic growth—who will want to spend more and more money in order that they can tell constituents back home, regardless of cost, how much is being done for them by spending their money. Such position must not prevail.

* * * * *

It has been seventy-six days since I presented to you my recommendations for the state budget. That Governor's budget is as valid in its approach and right in its concept today as it was when I delivered it to you.

I make that statement because I am more convinced than ever our budget is a sound budget, that it is a balanced budget and that it is a budget that sets priorities and puts them in perspective.

Even as the House has wrestled with the issue of whether or not to take $15 million a year out of the Governor's budget in order to spend more money on roads, I have heard few in either chamber criticize the priorities we set out in our budget.

I have heard no one say that education is not a priority in this state.

I have heard no one tell me that we should not do more to assist our elderly people.

And not one of you has come to me to tell me that we should not be trying to ease the burden of local property taxes.

My budget addresses itself to those priorities while also fulfilling other state responsibilities.

However, there was one criticism of that budget that comes to mind today. I recall several members of this body saying after I submitted my budget to you that the revenue projections we used were far too optimistic. Obviously they weren't overly optimistic but were on the conservative side. For that I make no apology.

* * * * *

What has happened? And why are we now seeing revenue growth not included in the projections seventy-six days ago?

I think it is well that we consider those questions for a moment and that you keep them in mind as you delve into the appropriations process.

Earlier I said we have a "surge" in our economy. I think that is a fair assessment. Many Iowans have relaxed their individual spending habits after tightly curtailing personal buying during a period of national economic downturn over the last several years. At this time it would be unwise to assume the spurt will continue indefinitely.

In addition, we have seen record high farm prices and generally the Iowa farm economy has been humming. But we are also witnessing considerable uneasiness in recent weeks, highlighted by ceilings on retail and wholesale meats, livestock belly-deep in feedlot mud and adverse weather conditions.

While there are signs that farmers will still fare well in the immediate future, no one is willing to predict that farm income will continue its steady climb.

And finally, what we are seeing in state revenue growth could well be a harbinger of a new round of inflation. If that is the case then the resulting spiraling costs could quickly chew into increased revenues.

Now, having set forth that caveat to you, I want to share with you my recommendations for wise use of these increased revenues asking you to keep in mind that unlike others in government, the chief executive is not afforded the luxury of simply tossing out revenue figures without also setting forth concrete proposals on how the funds should be appropriated and how to keep a budget balanced.

I would ask that you analyze these recommendations in the spirit in which I submit them to you—as a reasoned approach that balances best the needs of our Iowa people.

Following this address this afternoon, our Comptroller's staff will provide you with a document entitled "Governor's Budget Report—Revised." This supplement to my proposed budget contains in detail a series of recommendations which I have directed be conveyed to you. In addition, the document contains three pages of "Comptroller's Notes" which explain the "why" of each of my recommendations.

I would also call your attention to the way in which we have itemized our proposals. In order that you may quickly analyze the immediate and long-range impact of each one on the state budget, I have directed that the recommendations be grouped into three general areas—those that amount to nonrecurring or "one-shot" expenditures, those that have been necessitated by recent federal actions in some areas where federal funds are curtailed or uncertain and those that commit the state treasury to recurring expense.

I will not take your time to discuss each recommendation with you, but I do want to remind you—as I said to you when I presented my original budget message—that members of my staff, our State Comptroller and his staff and I personally are available to work with you and to answer questions you may have.

The decisions that you must make require facts; you would be shirking your responsibility if you choose to operate on rumors or from unfair bias whether it be your own or that of a colleague.

Several matters of this supplemental budget do merit special comment.

This increase in revenue affords us the opportunity to lighten the load of taxpayers in this state not just for one year but for the next eleven years.

You already have before you my proposal to enact a bonus for our Vietnam veterans. In my budget message I showed you a way that repayment of the bonds for such a bonus could be kept off property taxes and provided $2 million for the initial payment in 1975.

Now, in view of the increased revenue, we have the opportunity to completely fund the bonus at this time, eliminating the costs of a statewide referendum and an estimated $7 million in interest costs because it will not be necessary to issue and retire bonds. This will give our returning veterans prompt payment when they can use it the most. Another important advantage of this action is that this payment will be nonrecurring thereby assuring that no future legislature could shift this cost to property taxes.

We have all observed the tremendous outpouring of respect and enthusiasm of Iowans as they have welcomed our returning Prisoners of War. These POWs have served as a focal point for the appreciation that Iowans feel for all of those who served during the long and tragic Vietnam conflict.

In this supplemental budget I have also made a specific recommendation concerning our Iowa roads. Even as the debate stormed around efforts to earmark general fund revenue for the highway fund, I stated repeatedly this was not the best way to meet emergency road needs.

Roads have been and are already receiving important attention in Iowa. We are spending over $400 million annually on our road system. Iowa ranks far ahead of the national average in support of its roads. Most recent figures available show the average per capita expenditure nationally amounts to $96.14; in Iowa per capita support for roads is more than $132.

You should be aware that the recent federal circuit court decision on highway trust fund impoundments last week gives reason to believe that some $31 million in primary road construction funds might also be released.

Remember, if you will please, at the time the diversion from the general fund to the road fund was stopped in 1970, legislation was enacted for new money to be added to the road fund by setting a tax on used car sales. That is now generating approximately $8 million annually for roads. Our reciprocity board—operating more efficiently than previously—is producing two million dollars in added revenue annually which also goes to the road fund.

And you should keep in mind that local units of government are now receiving nearly $70 million in new federal revenue sharing money so as to deal with special problems—including roads if that be their priority. You can see, then, that roads are not being ignored.

Nevertheless, I do recognize that Iowa weather this spring has been unusual, to say the least, and that there is evidence of extra damage to local roads and that maintenance and repairs are costly.

The new facts concerning our state revenue offer an opportunity to intelligently meet the special needs of our roads. Therefore, in my supplemental budget, I have provided for a $5 million appropriation to assist local governments with special road problems over and above those considered normal wear and tear.

I recommend this fund be administered by our Iowa Highway Commission and that local units of government be permitted to make special claims to this fund and that our cities and counties then be reimbursed for these special expenses. Further, I recommend that in event claims do not exceed this appropriation, then the money would revert to the road fund. If claims exceed the appropriation, then they would be pro-rated.

Admittedly it is difficult to ascertain exactly the extent of special needs for roads. But I believe this is a much wiser approach to a problem than simply arbitrarily appropriating and earmarking millions of dollars more to spread thinly across the state which would mislead people into believing that every road everyone wants repaired or constructed now will get attention overnight.

Just as it is difficult to assess special road needs, so has it been frustrating for all of us to determine what impact shifts in federal funding proposals will have on our state efforts.

We do not yet know if we will be able to maintain our exceptionally successful Governor's Youth Opportunity program which has enabled thousands of young people in this state to experience the satisfaction of work and earning.

We do not yet know what will happen to the many excellent day care centers that are affording mothers a chance to stay off public assistance by staying on the job.

We do not yet know how quickly the federal government will move with matching funds for the educational television expansion program which you have already mandated.

Therefore, because of these uncertainties we have reserved a contingency fund which appears as a $1.7 million addition to the budget balance so that these funds can be available in event it becomes necessary.

All of us share a desire to aid our elderly low income Iowans. I have proposed to you a plan to ease the burden of property taxes for elderly homeowners. I recognize that there is also strong sentiment in both Houses to also find a way to provide help for our elderly people who pay rent. In anticipation that you may go in this direction I have provided funds in this supplemental budget for that purpose, but I would urge you to seek some assurance that help for elderly renters will be a reality and not a false promise and that the people you are trying to benefit will get the advantage.

In that same vein, you will note that we have provided for an appropriation of $1.1 million in the first year of the biennium and $2.2 million in the second for supplementing assistance to some low-income elderly people now receiving public assistance.

We have learned that effective January 1, 1974, when the federal government assumes costs of Adult Assistance Programs the monthly benefits that some of our elderly people are now receiving might be reduced.

To assure that they do not experience a cruel cutback because of a change of responsibility, I recommend that we guarantee that no elderly person now receiving old age assistance would experience a decrease when the program changes.

In the documents to be given you, you will also see recommendations for meeting the state's commitment to special education, assuring that our library services will not be curtailed because of loss of federal funds, provision for a state law enforcement academy and steam generating equipment at Iowa State University.

* * * * *

The appropriation of state tax revenues is a fundamental responsibility of this legislature, just as I have a duty to make my recommendations to you. It is serious, hard work. But it need not be dull and deadly—nor can it be put off indefinitely.

The information you have today of the best available estimates of revenue is just that—the best estimates. These estimates like nearly everything else, are subject to change. None of us can peer with 100 percent assurance into the future, but you will be meeting again next year and it is in the area of appropriations that one can make the strongest argument for annual legislative sessions.

As you roll up your sleeves now and approach the appropriations task in earnest, I urge you to exercise sound judgment and view your efforts in perspective.

The controversy that has swirled over the diversion to the road fund should not be permitted to obscure the view of the many opportunities and benefits this session can produce for our people.

The goals of a well-balanced educational system, of help for our elderly and continued attack on property taxes are still there for us to attain.

They call for action—I ask that you give them action.

Governor Robert D. Ray was escorted from the House chamber by the committee previously appointed.

Holden of Scott moved that the joint convention be now dissolved.

The motion prevailed.

The Senate returned to the Senate chamber and resumed session, President Neu presiding.

MEMORIAL—WILLIAM R. KENDRICK

“Bill the Man”The Honorable Maurice Baringer
Treasurer of State

“In this day of ‘one man—one vote,’ we honor tonight a man whose influence on the Iowa General Assembly was multiplied many fold. Here was a man whose whole life became completely devoted to making the General Assembly function smoothly and efficiently.

When others became overly concerned about the problems of the moment, Bill Kendrick could and did see the long-range solutions. He worked hard at training new members, all the while building each one who served with him for greater service, both within and outside government.

Bill’s influence spread throughout the legislative process in other states as his counterparts recognized his ability as an innovator and leader.

Legislators come and go. One General Assembly blends into those that have gone before and those that will follow. Few men have the opportunity to leave an indelible stamp on such a cosmopolitan group of people. Bill was one of those few. His mark is on all who worked with him.

I can think of no better way to close than this: ‘Greater love hath no man than this; that he lay down his life for his fellow men.’”

“Bill Our Friend”Honorable William Harbor, Chief Clerk

To talk about Bill our Friend in its entire context would take volumes to do the subject justice. Thus, no attempt will be made to cover the waterfront.

The House rules of procedure sets out the responsibility of the Chief Clerk, which Bill Kendrick filled with distinction for so many years. However, to have the friendship and confidence of so many people on both sides of the political aisle, attributes other than those set out by rules were found in this unique man.

Unique is defined by Webster’s Dictionary as being without a like or equal, very rare, uncommon, or very unusual. Bill Kendrick fit these qualifications in every respect.

He was, being, without a like, in that self-edification was not his goal in life, but to further the accomplishments of his first love—the Iowa House of Representatives was paramount in his thinking.

Bill had no equal in his understanding and appreciation of his fellow man. His counsel was sought by all who knew him, because of these qualities.

In Chief Clerk Kendrick was found the very rare quality of just listening. As is oftentimes the case, the interjection of one’s self into another’s problem only serves to amplify this concern. Bill would listen and let you discover your own solution, but at the same time, give you the feeling that he was completely involved and an intricate part.

Uncommon was a sure characteristic of Our Friend Bill, for surely the Man Upstairs threw away the mold once he saw what he had produced. He knew that there was a need for such a person as Bill, but on the other hand he knew we could never cope with two.

Unusual—Yes, Bill was unusual. He had the patience of Job, especially with his new Speakers, who considered themselves all wise and knowledgeable. He never interjected himself where he was not asked, but as he once said, “Let me know what you want to do, or where you want to go, and if at all possible I’ll protect you.” In this endeavor, I can personally say, he suc-

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 35

By Winkelman, Schwieger, Schaben and Lamborn
(Drake, Welden and Dunton)

Whereas, the United States Congress is considering legislation relating to the Federal Highway Trust Fund; and

Whereas, the proposed legislation will affect the state's highway program for the fiscal years beginning July 1, 1973, July 1, 1974, and July 1, 1975; and

Whereas, since the creation of the Federal Highway Trust Fund in 1956, Iowa has been a donor state contributing more to the fund than it has received; and

Whereas, it is now proposed to reduce the rate of funding for the completion of the national system of interstate and defense highways in favor of urban transportation programs including nonhighway facilities with fund distribution based upon urban population which will be advantageous to states with more urban population than Iowa; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That to avoid increased disparity between contributions and receipts, the initial purpose and distribution formula of the federal highway trust fund be retained, that the national system of interstate and defense highways be completed and fully funded and that the present level of funding of the interstate system which amounts to four billion dollars annually be retained for fiscal years beginning July 1, 1973, July 1, 1974, and July 1, 1975; and

Be It Further Resolved, That increased federal assistance to public transit, both urban and rural, is desirable and should be funded from revenues other than the Federal Highway Trust Fund; and

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Governor of the State of Iowa, Robert D. Ray; to the President of the United States, Richard M. Nixon; to each member of the Iowa Congressional Delegation; to the Secretary of Transportation of the United States Department of Transportation; to each member of the United States House of Representatives Public Works Committee; and to each member of the United States Senate Public Works Committee.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 37

By Kinley (Fitzgerald)

Whereas, legislation relating to no-fault motor vehicle insurance is pending in both houses of the General Assembly; and

Whereas, meaningful consideration cannot be given to these measures without reliable studies of their projected effects on the cost of motor vehicle insurance; and

Whereas, a reliable cost study of major legislation affecting insurance rates is beyond the resources of individual legislators; and

Whereas, the interim subcommittees of the General Assembly which have been charged with the study of no-fault motor vehicle insurance have not been provided the necessary resources to study the costs of proposed legislation and have had to rely on private studies performed by the insurance companies themselves; and

Whereas, the Ford Foundation and United States Department of Transportation have made arrangements for providing cost analyses of no-fault insurance bills to states requesting such service at a cost to the individual states of from three to five thousand dollars per bill; and

Whereas, it is the duty of all Iowa legislators to have the fullest possible knowledge of the effect of major legislation before acting thereon; and

Whereas, the General Assembly has an invaluable opportunity to provide detailed information as to the costs of the various no-fault proposals which would enable legislators to act responsibly and in the best interests of the people, but has so far not taken action in this regard; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That the General Assembly provide the necessary funds, direction, and authority to take fullest advantage of the resources offered to state governments through the Ford Foundation and the United States Department of Transportation to provide cost analyses of the approaches to motor vehicle no-fault insurance as contained in Senate File 369, House File 107, and in any other pending legislation, for the information and use of the citizens of Iowa and their legislators in making rational and responsible decisions, comparisons and proposals regarding this important subject.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER

MR. PRESIDENT: I move to reconsider the vote by which House File 186 passed the Senate.

W. R. RABEDEAUX

By Shaw, Doderer, Curtis, Willits, Murray,
Winkelman, Nolin, and Schwengels

Whereas, it has become apparent that the Iowa Public Employees' Retirement System (IPERS) lacks the flexibility to adapt its benefits to the diverse needs of the 114,000 persons covered by the program; and

Whereas, questions have been raised concerning the different levels of contributions and benefits provided under the several state and local retirement systems; and

Whereas, there is growing discontent caused by the advantages of the variable annuity programs offered Board of Regents employees, covered by the Teacher Insurance Annuity Association-College Equity Retirement Fund (TIAA-CREF) compared with the fixed annuity program of IPERS; and

Whereas, the 1972 Congressional changes in Social Security will have a major impact on other benefit plans, including those at the state and local level; and

Whereas, it appears necessary to integrate state and local level benefit plans with Social Security to prepare for the eventuality of a national pension program; and

Whereas, a recent decision of the Iowa Supreme Court has disclosed questions about the relationship between pensions provided by chapter four hundred ten (410) of the Code, and the retirement allowance under chapter four hundred eleven (411) of the Code, for policemen and firemen; and

Whereas, information from the IPERS' consulting actuaries indicates making changes in the structure of the annuity system would require study over a period of at least six months to one year; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That the Legislative Council is authorized to establish a study committee composed of members of the two houses of the General Assembly representing the two political parties and citizen members knowledgeable in the subject matter area to conduct a comprehensive study of pension plans and retirement programs available to Iowa public employees. The study shall include but not be limited to various benefits available to public employees; the relationship of IPERS benefits to Social Security benefits for public employees so covered; investment of pension funds; variable annuities; benefit determination based upon salary levels; plans for early retirement; and comparison of benefits available under the various pension plans and retirement programs.

Be It Further Resolved, That the study committee, through the IPERS Division of the Employment Security Commission, employ a consulting actuary to conduct necessary research, submit periodic reports to the Legislative Council and submit a final report, including necessary bill drafts, to implement its recommendations to the Legislative Council and the General Assembly meeting in 1975.

Senator Kelly asked unanimous consent to withdraw his name as sponsor of Senate File 50.

Objection was raised.

Senator Kelly moved that he be permitted to withdraw his name as sponsor of Senate File 50.

Senator Lamborn raised the point of order that, if the motion by Senator Kelly prevailed, Senate File 50 would be without a sponsor as required by Senate Rule 29.

The Chair ruled the point not well taken and that after a bill had been introduced, recommended for passage by a committee, considered by the Senate, and moved to its last reading, a sponsor would not be required.

Senator Doderer moved as a substitute motion that the original sponsor of the bill be permitted to withdraw his name and that Senators Hansen and Doderer be made co-sponsors.

The motion prevailed.

Senator Hansen moved that the bill be read the last time now, which motion prevailed, and the bill was read the last time.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

The following message was received from the House:

MR. PRESIDENT: I am directed to inform your honorable body that the House has adopted the following concurrent resolution in which the concurrence of the Senate is asked:

House Concurrent Resolution 40, relating to the Federal Highway Trust Fund.

WILLIAM H. HARBOR, Chief Clerk

By Drake, Welden and Dunton

(Winkelman, Schwieger, Schaben and Lamborn)

Whereas, the United States Congress is considering legislation relating to the Federal Highway Trust Fund; and

Whereas, the proposed legislation will affect the state's highway program for the fiscal years beginning July 1, 1973, July 1, 1974, and July 1, 1975; and

Whereas, since the creation of the Federal Highway Trust Fund in 1956, Iowa has been a donor state contributing more to the fund than it has received; and

Whereas, it is now proposed to reduce the rate of funding for the completion of the national system of interstate and defense highways in favor of urban transportation programs including nonhighway facilities with fund distribution based upon urban population which will be advantageous to states with more urban population than Iowa; Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate Concurring, That to avoid increased disparity between contributions and receipts, the initial purpose and distribution formula of the federal highway trust fund be retained, that the national system of interstate and defense highways be completed and fully funded and that the present level of funding of the interstate system which amounts to four billion dollars annually be retained for fiscal years beginning July 1, 1973, July 1, 1974, and July 1, 1975; and

Be It Further Resolved, That increased federal assistance to public transit, both urban and rural, is desirable and should be funded from revenues other than the Federal Highway Trust Fund; and

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Governor of the State of Iowa, Robert D. Ray; to the President of the United States, Richard M. Nixon; to each member of the Iowa Congressional Delegation; to the Secretary of Transportation of the United States Department of Transportation; to each member of the United States House of Representatives Public Works Committee; and to each member of the United States Senate Public Works Committee.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 39

By Gluba, Milligan, Doderer, Schwieger, Griffin, Blouin, Bergman, DeKoster, Coleman, Murray, Lamborn,
Van Gilst, Kennedy, Plymat, Willits, Kinley,
Palmer, Hansen, Shaw, Robinson, Rodgers,
Potter, Kelly, Gallagher, Andersen, Curtis,

Scott and Schaben.

Whereas, the Bureau of the Census of the United States Department of Commerce estimates that the elderly in Iowa (persons over sixty-five years of age) comprise 12.4 percent of the total population of Iowa, or approximately 350,300 persons; and

Whereas, this compares to a national percentage of elderly of 9.6 percent, making Iowa's percentage of elderly the second highest in the nation; and

Whereas, the Bureau of the Census of the United States Department of Commerce estimates that the physically handicapped in Iowa (persons under sixty-five years of age) comprise 5.3 percent of the total population of Iowa, or approximately 150,000 persons; and

Whereas, disproportional numbers of elderly in Iowa reside in rural areas as a result of urban trends; and

Whereas, rural sections of the State of Iowa having a high percentage of elderly also have a shortage of medical personnel and health care facilities available to serve the elderly; and

Whereas, twenty-five percent of all Iowans over sixty-five years of age are classified as poor; and

Whereas, sixty-four percent of Iowa farmers between the ages of sixty-five through sixty-nine earn less than four thousand dollars annually and their income continues to decrease with age; and

Whereas, many of the elderly in Iowa are the victims of inflation as a result of an inadequate fixed income; and

Whereas, as a result of a combination of a fixed income and high property taxes, many elderly are forced to give up family residences or no longer maintain their physical property, and others are forced into institutional settings; and

Whereas, families of physically handicapped persons who are unable to properly care for such persons place them in institutional settings accommodating primarily elderly and terminally ill persons; and

Whereas, many of these institutional facilities for the aging in Iowa are overcrowded, have long waiting lists, and are not in compliance with rules and regulations setting minimum standards for health care facilities; and

Whereas, as a result of this overcrowding, the emotional, spiritual, therapeutic, and rehabilitative needs of many elderly and physically handicapped persons have been neglected; and

Whereas, health care costs are prohibitive for the majority of the elderly on fixed incomes and for the physically handicapped whose income comes primarily from government grants; and

Whereas, long-range projections show that the numbers of elderly and physically handicapped persons in the State of Iowa will continue to increase; and

Whereas, the State of Iowa acknowledges its responsibility to care for its elderly and physically handicapped people in keeping with the dictates of social justice, Now Therefore,

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That the legislative council is authorized to create a study committee, as provided by law, which committee shall include members of the General Assembly and nonlegislative members knowledgeable of the problems of the elderly in Iowa, to look into the quality of life of Iowa's elderly and physically handicapped citizens and to develop, in cooperation with existing governmental agencies, new and more realistic approaches to coping with the problems besetting the elderly and physically handicapped in Iowa, and

Be It Further Resolved, That the study committee look into such matters as developing ways to encourage and make it possible for Iowa's elderly citizens to maintain themselves in their own homes or living quarters, with a minimum of community services, so long as they desire or until such time as it becomes physically or mentally impossible for them to do so and to encourage and make it possible for Iowa's physically handicapped to purchase the necessary services and housing facilities to maintain independent living as long as they desire or until such time as it becomes physically impossible for them to do so; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the study consider the possible need of developing a master plan for the creation and encouragement of more housing and health care facilities for the elderly and physically handicapped, including but not limited to, retirement homes, custodial homes, nursing homes, and extended health care facilities and supportive community services; and

Be It Further Resolved, That a report of the study shall be prepared and submitted to the legislative council and the members of the Sixty-fifth General Assembly meeting in the year 1974, and shall be accompanied by legislative bill drafts to carry out the recommendations of the committee.

MR. PRESIDENT: I voted "no" on Senate File 73 for the reason that the bill as amended unduly restricts the opportunity of the citizens' aide to fully utilize the services of his aides. Had the bill not been amended in such a fashion, I would have voted for passage.
