JOURNAL OF THE SENATE

OPENING DAY

SENATE CHAMBER
DES MOINES, IOWA, MONDAY, JANUARY 18, 1975

Pursuant to chapter two (2), section two point one (2.1), Code of Iowa, the 1975 regular session of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly convened at 10:00 a.m., and the Senate was called to order by Lieutenant Governor Arthur A. Neu.

Father Thomas Gray, pastor of the Trinity Episcopal Church, Carroll, Iowa, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, maker of the universe, Lord of power, source of grace and wisdom; we commend to you all who are engaged in the government of our state. Grant them clean hands, pure hearts, integrity of purpose, and unfailing devotion to the cause of righteousness. Strengthen them with the gift of wisdom and understanding, of counsel and courage, that they might uphold what is right and follow what is true.

And we commend to you, merciful Lord, their work. May all their legislation be such as will promote your work in our midst; succour the poor, relieve the oppressed, put down all injustice, and right all social wrong. Let all they think, speak, or do, be for the glory of God and the good of God's people, Amen.

LEGISLATIVE PHYSICIAN FOR THE DAY

Dr. Leonard E. Masters, Des Moines, Iowa.

OPENING REMARKS BY THE LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

Lieutenant Governor Neu addressed the Senate as follows:

Special elections and blizzards notwithstanding, the First Session of the Sixty-sixth Iowa General Assembly is underway.

On a similar occasion sixteen years ago, Lieutenant Governor Edward J. McManus, a Democrat presiding over an Iowa Senate controlled by Republicans, had this to say:

I would be less than forthright with you if I did not observe that I was quite disappointed with the Senate's action . . . in changing the rules so as to strip the lieutenant governor of the traditional power of appointing the standing committees. As a result of this action, I have been appropriately described as "the only bird in captivity who had his wings clipped before he learned how to fly." Though perhaps I should have, frankly I really didn't expect it to happen.

My surprise is not nearly so great as my predecessor's. In fact, I fully expected the move to take away my committee appointment powers—especially after the results in Dubuque on December 30! Perhaps my lack of surprise is because, unlike Governor McManus, I had two years to learn how to fly, and to learn the political realities.

Regardless of the outcome of the rules debate these next few days, let me express two hopes I have for this year.

First, I hope that this session can be remembered as one of distinguished bipartisan cooperation. We have a partisan division between our executive and legislative branches. We have a nearly equal division between the parties right here in the Senate. In other words, the only way this session can make appropriations, and write new laws, and change old laws is through concerted cooperation across the aisle.

Since November, Senator Kinley has spent many hours visiting with Senator Lamborn and with me. He has sought our advice—and in some cases even heeded it. While I cannot agree with all of Senator Kinley's decisions regarding rules and staffing, I commend him for his hard work and for his thoroughness. And I am pleased especially by his decision to carry on the tradition of bipartisan staffing begun a year ago. In short, the relationship between the two parties' leadership was open and cordial as preparations were made for this session. Hopefully this is an omen for the session as a whole.

Contemplating the Sixty-sixth General Assembly in its entirety, I cannot forget what happened in Maine this past November. As you know, the gubernatorial candidates of both major parties were rejected for an unknown independent candidate. How inadequate must have been the leadership of the Republican and Democratic parties there?

It goes without saying that public officeholders are more suspect today than at any time in recent memory. Only through bipartisan cooperation, and resultant accomplishment, can any of us hope to rise above that suspicion.

My second hope for this session is that preoccupation with day-to-day affairs will not bar attention to the future. From the earliest hours, and particularly when the race for adjournment begins, we all tend to labor over the minutiae. The composition of the energy committee inevitably becomes more important than the energy crisis itself.

The familiar cliche is that ours is a rapidly changing society—technologically, economically, socially, and even politically. But the cliche has a great deal of truth in it.

Certainly our decisions here are constrained and overshadowed by decisions made in Washington. But that fact cannot allow us to avoid facing what lies ahead. Whether the issue is as broad as inflation, or as narrow as the destructive effect of aerosol containers on the ozone layer, the Iowa Legislature must take whatever action is possible.

We must act to save the future and, as we act, we must prepare our fellow citizens to adjust accordingly. Last year's "Iowa 2000" effort provided a starting point. Now we here must take the lead.

The next six months, and the next two years, will be a unique experience for all of us. Let it be a uniquely bipartisan and foresighted experience as well.

two readings before its passage. The [object] subject of every

Rule [31] 32 Fiscal Notes

A fiscal note shall be attached to any bill or joint resolution which might have an annual effect or a combined total effect within five years after enactment of fifty thousand dollars or more on the revenues, expenditures or fiscal liability of the state or its subdivisions. Whereas, section sixty-eight B point ten (68B.10), of the Code requires that the senate committee on ethics shall prepare a code of ethics within thirty days after the commencement of the session: and

Whereas, The code further provides that the code of ethics shall not become effective until approved by the Senate, and that the code of ethics may be amended either upon the recommendation of the ethics committee or by the members of the Senate; Now Therefore,

COMMITTEE FROM THE HOUSE

A committee from the House appeared and announced that the House was ready to receive the Senate in joint convention.

In accordance with House Concurrent Resolution 1, duly adopted, the Senate proceeded to the House under the direction of the Secretary of the Senate and the Sergeant-at-Arms.

JOINT CONVENTION

The joint convention reconvened, President Neu presiding.

Senator Kinley moved to dispense with the roll call and to authorize the President of the joint convention to declare a quorum present, which motion prevailed.

President Neu declared a quorum present and the joint convention duly organized.

Senator Gallagher moved that a committee of six, consisting of three members from the Senate and three members from the House, be appointed to notify Governor Robert D. Ray that the joint convention was ready to receive him.

The motion prevailed and the President appointed as such committee Senators Gallagher, Nolin and Briles, on the part of the Senate, and Representatives Byerly, Brunow and Drake, on the part of the House.

The committee waited upon Governor Ray and escorted him to the Speaker's station.

President Neu then presented Governor Ray who delivered the following address:

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chief Justice, Senators and Representatives. State Officials. Distinguished Guests. Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am not going to deliver my budget recommendations to you until next week. But this morning I am going to give you a small preview.

One appropriation I will recommend contains a few dollars to the Iowa Historical Society for a compilation of all the messages and addresses of Iowa's governors over the last seventy years.

I admit I had some reservations about this undertaking only a few weeks ago when Peter Harstad, Director of the Historical Society, proposed it during the Governor's budget hearings.

As I said then, the work will never be a best seller.

But I had a change of heart during the preparation of this message and those that will follow.

For I had an opportunity to look back over the messages Iowa's early governors delivered to Iowa's pioneer legislatures, and their words often have special relevance to today's complex times.

Those early gubernatorial messages mention troubled economies, national unrest, adverse weather conditions, and concern about the leverage of great monopolies against individual people. In short, they deal with the same problems which we face today.

Our predecessors survived the hardships and overcame their many crises—just as we will do.

Those early messages illustrate so well that today's crises are tomorrow's history.

And a careful reading reaffirms the wisdom of approaching problems with perspective and judgment rather than with rhetoric bordering on hysteria.

Reading history made by those early governors and legislatures is good for yet another reason. It quickly inspires humility, something all of us in politics can use.

The names of R. P. Lowe, Buren R. Sherman or Frank D. Jackson are not exactly household words. But they all served as Governor of Iowa for at least four years.

Then again, neither do the names of Samuel L. Bestow or George R. Struble leap at us from the pages of history. But they distinguished themselves as leaders in the Iowa Senate and House of Representatives, respectively.

This would be well for us to consider at a time when the Sixty-sixth General Assembly is only hours old.

Iowans of the future will best remember what is accomplished by this legislature, not necessarily who it was who did it. It will be our deeds and not our names which will make lasting Iowa history.

Our people will look to us for results, not talk or game playing. And for those who might want to use this session for a political forum, remember the effect your actions have on the lives of people. It was Plutarch who reminds us from 2,000 years ago: "Though boys throw stones at frogs in sport, the frogs do not die in sport, but in earnest."

Another common thread runs through the messages of early governors—an appreciation for this place we call Iowa.

We are, yet today, a privileged people in Iowa—privileged in ways not shared by many in other states.

If you read the December 9, 1974, issue of Time Magazine you would have noted that Iowa, in the midst of a national recession, had the lowest unemployment rate in the country.

We know, however, the number of Iowans without jobs is increasing—reminding us graphically that for all our advantages, we are an integral part of a national economy.

It tells us there are some people in Iowa today who are out of work, who do not have paychecks, who are living with the fear and uncertainty which can only be understood if you've ever been without a job.

This should remind us all that these are not times for reckless governmental spending on the hope that economic growth will continue to swell the state treasury with surplus funds.

1974 was a year of hardship for many of our farmers—still reeling from adverse weather and depressed livestock prices.

Yet in spite of these trials, Iowa's corn and soybean production in 1974 was the fourth largest crop in our history. Our total foreign exports of farm products amounted to $1.774 billion last year, clearly demonstrating we have become a major economic force, not only in the United States, but in the world.

We are blessed with another condition in our state—Iowa is not experiencing the sharp growing pains of population explosion some other regions are. We have seen hopeful signs that our population is stabilizing and becoming more balanced between rural and urban settings.

1974 was a year that saw our energy wees—which had been building for decades—become a factor in the terrible economic toll of double-digit inflation.

And it was a year in which we weathered a change in national leadership under the most traumatic circumstances.

Now as we begin 1975, fraught as it may be with economic problems and threats of material scarcity, we in Iowa can list an inventory that can give us confidence.

We are, as a group, among the best educated of the world's peoples. We have just experienced one of the greatest growths in per capita income. Healthy industrial development, despite the money and energy crunches, has been moving forward.

Our environment is relatively free of pollution in comparison to other regions, and we can preserve it. We are one of the greatest food-producing areas of the world. Our government is open and stable.

These advantages should not be seen as gifts only to be enjoyed, but as opportunities to be used.

In a recent National Geographic magazine, there appeared an article entitled "The Family Farm Ain't What It Used To Be." Featured was Earl Zumbach from Delaware County, an excellent representative of Iowa's modern farming community. He knows running a farm business requires great management skills and careful planning.

In the article, Mr. Zumbach is quoted as saying: "I've always thought a guy should just sit down on a feed sack in the barn every so often and try to set some goals."

Serving in government today is a tough chore, too, requiring a sense of good management and goal-setting.

Every so often we should "sit down on the feed sack" and do some hard thinking about this state and our role in shaping its direction.

First, I think we have to realize we are operating in a period of great uncertainty. While this is no time to be timid or to withdraw, it is a time to exercise judgment and caution, particularly as you get down to the business of lawmaking and budget making.

Essentially, it is a time that will require great balance. I recognize the very human tendency to get caught up in the moment and to react within the confines of the moment—and so it is important that we keep our perspective.

Let me illustrate. There have been many kinds of material shortages recently. We even had a shortfall of carpenters' nails. We had been so successful in our emergency fuel oil pool that one legislator urged us to put the state into the nail business. If one followed his logic, soon government might be merchandising just about every commodity. This is not government's proper role.

Common sense, as well as conditions which will shape us, requires a balanced approach to state government.

Without much effort, you can give Iowans too much government. May I tell you again if government assumes too many functions, individual and private performance deteriorates.

On the other hand, if government assumes too little responsibility, private economic power may be exercised in ways detrimental to society as a whole; disparities in wealth and income may become too great; and public services worthy of a great people may not be provided.

The most important priority for both the executive and legislative branches of Iowa state government is wise management of what we have . . . to make government work better.

That isn't fancy and it won't get you headlines back home. But if we are successful, there will be enough credit for all the politicians.

To members of both parties seeking to win favor in the eyes of your constituents I would suggest: He serves his party best who best serves Iowa and she serves her party best who best serves Iowa.

There is much within your power to do during this legislative session.

You can be a part of solving the most serious problem that confronts us as a nation. It is not inflation or the energy shortages or dwindling resources, as important as these are. Our most serious problem now is that many people in this country have lost their confidence. They fear the worst. People who fear the worst tend to invite it. Heads lowered in despair cannot scan horizons for new opportunities.

How do you help? You do it with performance, the kind of performance that can restore the confidence of people in their government, in themselves and in their future.

We approach our task with a shared affection for Iowa. And our behavior toward this state should be as J. B. Priestly once described—that of a "loving wife toward her husband who would do anything on earth for him except stop criticizing him and trying to improve him." Our state deserves that same affectionate treatment, but also the same sharp glance.

I have spoken of Iowa in affectionate terms as I have discussed the Condition of the State. Let me also share with you some recommendations for improvement, derived from a sharp glance at the problems.

In addition to numerous pieces of management legislation which I will spell out in this message, and, in addition to specific measures which I will deliver to you next week in the budget address, I see especially three major areas that demand your attention during this session.

They have a commonality. All deal with the wise use and attention to that which we term our resources.

You should approach each with perspective and that sense of balance which is so necessary.

They deal with our human resources, our natural resources, and the financial resources of our state government.

1. HOUSING AUTHORITY

First, in the area of human resources: We in Iowa are among the best fed, best clothed, best educated and most affluent of all the world's peoples. Yet there remain among us those who don't have a decent place to live. Shortage of capital for many, high construction costs and tight money have discouraged needed construction of housing. An Iowa Housing Authority would be in a position to attract federal funds and have the ability to encourage housing for low income, elderly and handicapped persons. Our Governor's Task Force has developed much additional information to assist you, and it is within your power now to take this important step by creating an Iowa Housing Authority.

2. LAND USE PLANNING

Second, in the area of natural resources: In Iowa, our land has to be one of our most important natural resources. Decisions are made each day that dictate for decades the way in which Iowa land is used. Each year, some 30,000 acres give way to urban demand, and this at a time when the world's needs for food production become ever greater. We must respect the right of individuals to own their land and to make determinations for its use. But it is also imperative that our land not be exploited, destroyed or used in such a way that other landowners are deprived of reasonable use of their property. In 1972, many of you were here when you enacted the nation's first soil conservancy law, pioneering the concept that our land, even though in private ownership, is still a public trust. It is a law working exceedingly well. This session you can again pioneer with solid land-use planning legislation.

3. IMPROVING THE INCOME TAX

Third, there is the matter of financial resources. In all your actions here do not forget for a moment that you are spending other people's money. Taxes are never easy to pay; they become even a greater hardship in times of economic downturn, precisely the same time when many turn to government for help.

It is a continual process to assure our people that taxes levied against them are imposed fairly and equitably. Much has been done already in this decade of the seventies to improve the fairness and mixture of Iowa's tax structure.

We have seen a major shift from regressive local property taxes to state revenues for school financing. Much of it has been phased in over the years, as we said it would be when we proposed the plan in 1971. Today, it is now an accomplished fact—more than half of the revenue supporting operations of our elementary and secondary school system comes from sources other than property taxes. When this shift was made, the progressivity of Iowa's income tax was also improved.

In 1973, basic costs of welfare were lifted from property taxes to state taxes. Property taxes on livestock were repealed. A phaseout of all personal property taxes began. A sweeping new elderly tax relief plan was enacted. The minimum income level for paying state income taxes was raised, benefiting low income people.

In 1974, the standard deduction in the income tax was doubled; the basic exemption on the inheritance tax was increased and we took the giant stride of eliminating the sales tax from food and prescription drugs.

The income tax is our most progressive tax. Its very progressivity makes it most reactive to inflation in the economy. We have seen people jump from one tax bracket to a higher one even though they're experiencing a drop in actual purchasing power.

It is apparent that another improvement is in order.

In my budget message next week I will spell out with a specific proposal how we can build greater equity into our state income tax.

I want to now mention other specific recommendations. Hopefully, a number of them will be somewhat familiar to you.

- —WASHINGTON OFFICE. Federal actions strongly affect the interests of our state. We would do well to strengthen our relationship with our Congressional delegation in a concerted effort to assure our state of deriving maximum benefits and protection from the federal government. An excellent way to do this would be to establish an office in the nation's capitol as 22 other states have already done.
- —COMPETITIVE BIDDING LAW. In this session you should enact a competitive bidding law for other units of government similar to that which applies to state government.
- —EMPLOYMENT SECURITY REORGANIZATION. Iowa state government has experienced broad reorganization in the 1970's. An additional step you can take in this session is to place the administration of our essential Employment Security Commission under a single director, with a review board, in lieu of the archaic three-member commission form.
- —CRIMINAL CODE REVISION. Proposals to revise Iowa's criminal code have been under consideration for a long time and much groundwork is already done. Adopt or reject what you will, but do take action.
- —LIQUOR OUTLETS. I want to again suggest that the Iowa Liquor Commission be allowed to establish, under its control, franchised outlets in our smaller communities in lieu of establishing state-owned facilities.
- —SPEED LIMIT. We cannot permit the present fifty-five miles per hour speed limit to expire on June 30. Slower highway speeds have become a fact of life in a nation which must become increasingly energy conscious. Best of all, we have seen a savings of lives.
 - -DIVISION FOR THE DEAF. We believe a good way to aid our Iowans handicapped by deafness would be to provide a Division for the Deaf in the Iowa Department of Health.

- -WAGE COLLECTION/WAGE PAYMENT LAW. It is shattering enough to lose a job; it is devastating to be denied wages owed. Now is the time to strengthen our law protecting workers.
- —ABANDONED RAILROAD RIGHT-OF-WAY. Rail lines now considered for abandonment wind through some of Iowa's most scenic areas. It is in the public interest to preserve these routes for bicycling and hiking trails where feasible, or for other purposes that would otherwise take productive farmland. Units of government should have first option to obtain these routes.
- —TAX EXEMPTION FOR HOME IMPROVEMENTS. I have long felt that in the interest of fairness, Iowans should provide a temporary exemption on the taxation of improvements and additions to a person's home.
- —CABLE-TV TASK FORCE. Cable television has passed the infancy stage in Iowa and is growing. I would ask that you assist us in developing a special one-year Task Force to examine this important area which holds such great potential for public good.
- —IMPROVE CAMPAIGN LAW. We now have a working campaign finance and disclosure commission. In addition to financial matters, we should broaden its scope to include unfair campaign practices.
- --MOBILE HOME TIE-DOWN. There is solid evidence that tie-down of mobile homes can prevent loss of lives and reduce property damage in severe wind. Such tie-downs should be required by law.
- —AREA SCHOOLS' ROLE DEFINED. Our area schools are the fastest growing segment of Iowa's educational system with a primary mission of providing career training for our people. This role should be strengthened and clarified by legislative expression.
- —COUNTY GOVERNMENT. Government closest to the people can be the most efficient government of all, and proposals to unify the 42 funds now identified in county budgets into seven basic funds could provide county officials much more flexibility within workable and controllable limitations.
- —UNFAIR TRADE PRACTICES/ANTI-TRUST. Iowa's present antitrust law is vague and antiquated. It should be updated and should cover services as well as products in a modern unfair trade practices law. Also, the possibility of civil sanctions in addition to purely criminal sanctions should be considered as a means to discourage price-fixing schemes.
- —PARK USER FEE. A modest fee for use of Iowa's parks is a reasonable and fair way to assure Iowans attractive and well-kept recreational areas. In a related matter, I urge you to repeal the law making it mandatory to license such water craft as inflatable rafts and canoes. This provision went too far and we should correct it.
- —NO FAULT INSURANCE. While you should not curtail a victim's right to recover from a wrongdoer, there is merit in first-party insurance coverage for medical expenses and loss-of-earnings payments regardless of who is at fault in an accident. I recommend you adopt a reasonable no-fault insurance plan.
- —CHILDHOOD DEVELOPMENT. I urge you to join us in exploring the potentials of increased efforts in early childhood development through a funding measure to back up our Governor's Task Force that has already begun work.

- —STRENGTHEN ENERGY POLICY COUNCIL. With twenty-five percent of all energy consumed in Iowa used in transportation, it makes sense to include the Director of the Department of Transportation as a member of the new Energy Policy Council.
- —FOREIGN INVESTMENTS IN IOWA LAND. Iowa law now limits foreign alien investment in Iowa land to 640 acres. But you should strengthen it to assure there are not loopholes available to those who would circumvent this law for their own personal gain.
- —CORPORATE FARMING. Large-scale corporations or conglomerates that take an unfair competitive advantage not only pose a threat to the family farm and the efficiency of our agricultural system, but also threaten the very basic social fiber of our Iowa communities. Legislation requiring curtailment of non-farm corporate involvement should be aimed at the right target and should not deny our farmers the necessary framework for continued efficient operation.

In this message I have not attempted to discuss the need of improving our Iowa Public Employees' Retirement System (IPERS), or how we must approach the important matters of highway financing, conservation, education and social services, or additional help for cities and towns. These, and numerous other matters, directly relate to the state budget and I will be detailing recommendations to you in that message next week.

As this session begins, much has been made of the change in control of this legislature. While it is true that different people must now assume responsibility for leading your two houses, the control has not been relinquished—it is still firmly in the hands of the people.

Each of you has been given a special opportunity to serve. For this privilege much is required of you.

You will be judged at some future date by history, which will take note whether in your brief span of service you fulfilled your responsibilities to your state and its people.

Your success or failure will be measured by the answers to four questions:

First, were you people of courage?

Second, were you people of judgment?

Third, were you men and women of dedication?

And finally, were you men and women of integrity?

Though it is true that the quality of a product need not be judged by the length of time it takes to produce it, it is also true that our constituents would welcome a short session.

It is in their interest that you start with a minimum of partisanship and divisiveness, for, as Plato said: "The beginning is the most important part of the work."

Let us begin.

Governor Ray was escorted from the House chamber by the committee previously appointed.

CANVASS OF VOTES

President Neu announced that the time had arrived for the

To the 1975 Regular Session of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

Pursuant to sections 684.18 and 684.19, Code 1973, the Supreme Court of Iowa has prescribed and hereby reports to the General Assembly changes in the existing Rules of Civil Procedure as follows:

Rule 48. COMMENCING ACTIONS.

That Rule 48 be stricken and the following substituted:

"48. COMMENCEMENT OF ACTIONS. A civil action is commenced by filing a petition with the court."

Rule 49. TOLLING LIMITATIONS.

That Rule 49 be stricken and the following substituted:

- "49. ORIGINAL NOTICE. ISSUANCE AND FORM.

There shall also be delivered to the clerk with the petition the original notice to be served and sufficient copies of both. The original notice shall contain the name of the court and the names of the parties, be directed to the defendant, state the name and address of the plaintiff's attorney, if any, otherwise the plaintiff's address, and the time within which these rules require the defendant to appear and defend, and shall notify defendant that in case of defendant's failure to do so judgment by default will be rendered against the defendant for the relief demanded in the petition.
- (b) Upon the filing of the petition the clerk shall forthwith deliver for service the original notice and copies, copies of the petition, and the directions for service to the sheriff, to a person specially appointed to serve it, or other appropriate person. Upon request of the plaintiff, separate or additional original notices shall issue against any defendants.

(c) The original notice shall be signed by the clerk and be under the seal of the court. The clerk may require the party delivering the original notice to the clerk to advance reasonable costs of service."

That Rule 56 be designated Rule 56.1 and the following rule be adopted:

"56.2. ALTERNATE METHOD OF SERVICE. Every corporation, individual, personal representative, partnership or association that shall have the necessary minimum contact with the State of Iowa shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the courts of this state, and the courts of this state shall hold such corporation, individual, personal representative, partnership or association amenable to suit in Iowa in every case not contrary to the provisions of the constitution of the United States.

"Everything required by these rules to be filed, every order required by its terms to be served, every pleading subsequent to the original petition unless the court otherwise orders because of numerous defendants, every paper relating to discovery required to be served upon a party unless the court otherwise orders, every written motion other than one which may be heard ex parte, and every written notice, appearance, demand, offer of judgment, and similar paper shall be served upon each of the parties."

COMMUNICATION

The following communication has been received and placed on file in the office of the Secretary of the Senate from the:

ENERGY AND MINERAL RESOURCES RESEARCH INSTITUTE IOWA STATE UNIVERSITY

The report of the Energy and Mineral Resources Research Institute, Iowa State University, for the period from May 17, 1974, to January 15, 1975, submitted in accordance with Chapter 1065, Section 6, Laws of the Sixty-fifth General Assembly, 1974 Session.

EXPLANATION OF VOTES

Throughout the 1974 campaign for the office of Lieutenant Governor, I recommended a proposal to the legislative rules that would require more than a simple majority of votes necessary to suspend the rules and the use of this vehicle to reconsider a bill or motion that had failed to pass. This had the effect which, I believe, substantially lengthened the sessions of the Sixty-fifth General Assembly. I have a firm conviction that the figure should have been somewhere between three-fifths and two-thirds majority of votes required to suspend the rules. I sincerely believe that if the condition warranted it and a sincere explanation was made to the assembly that the required number of votes needed could be acquired. My position was made clear in party caucus. In order to get quick approval of the rules I decided to abide with the caucus majority. This then is the reason I voted against the amendments S—3028 and S—3014.

Senator Rabedeaux asked and received unanimous consent that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to cast a unanimous ballot for Senator Doderer.

The ballot was cast and Senator Doderer was unanimously elected.

President Neu requested Senators Van Gilst, Priebe and Lamborn to escort Senator Doderer to the rostrum.

Senator Doderer appeared, took the oath of office, was congratulated and presented to the Senate by President Neu.

In accepting the office, Senator Doderer made the following remarks:

Tradition has it, according to the Journals of the Iowa Senate, that the newly-elected President pro tempore's speech begins with sincere thanks and humble appreciation for the high honor bestowed upon him, plus assurances that he will conduct himself in a fair and non-partisan manner when presiding over this body. Let me assure you all that I am in complete accord with that practice.

Today however, you have broken with that tradition, among others, and therefore I must as well, because for the first time in the history of this state it isn't a "him" speaking. For that reason I'd like to commend not only the members of my party, but the Senate as a whole, for entrusting a woman with the responsibilities of this office—the third highest in the state.

As many of you are aware, I am by nature a proud woman. Today I am especially proud—of being elected President pro tempore of the Senate—and of all of you who have made it happen. I would be just as proud if another woman were standing in my place at this moment. It is a good thing for all of humankind, a very good thing indeed, when any of us are responsible for the advancement of equality in our society.

The Iowa Senate has advanced the cause of all women by its choice for President pro tempore. I sincerely thank you.

I am fully aware that I would not be assuming this office today if it were not for the help, the kindness, the fairness and the trust of my fellow senators and many other men and women along the way.

President Neu, in his opening remarks of three days ago, referred to the unique situation in which we find ourselves this year. He warned that without concerted cooperation between the two parties, little or nothing will be accomplished during this session. He is correct, of course, and all of us must pledge ourselves to maintaining a true spirit of cooperation in all of our deliberations and actions.

In my opinion, by the way, President Neu has been an extremely fair and impartial presiding officer. My predecessor in this job, Senator Shaff, also did a commendable job of chairing this body. I will exert every effort to do the same.

In going over the lists of priorities of the Democratic party and those of the governor, it is readily apparent that we are in accord on a majority of ideas proposed. This will make our job easier.

The British statesman Benjamin Disraeli said "All power is a trust and we are accountable for its exercise..." The Democratic party, which controls the Senate for the first time since 1967, recognizes the responsibility which goes with that power, the trust given by the voters, and the fact that individually and collectively, we must and will be accountable to the people of Iowa.

President pro tempore Doderer took the chair at 10:35 a.m.

The oath of office was administered to Governor-elect Robert D. Ray by Chief Justice C. Edwin Moore of the Supreme Court of Iowa.

Lieutenant Governor Arthur A. Neu, President of the Senate, presiding, presented Governor Robert D. Ray, who delivered the following inaugural address:

Mr. President, Madame President Pro Tempore, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chief Justice, Senators and Representatives, State Officials, Distinguished Guests, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Yesterday, our President gave the state of the nation address and started that message by saying that he had bad news. Today as I start this inaugural message, I want to give you some good news because I want to talk about Iowa.

This is a time when the answers to this country's problems do not come easily.

So I want to begin with a question.

Is there any place in this nation, any place in this world right now where people are any better suited, any better equipped, or any better situated to manage their problems than we are here in Iowa?

As grim as some forecast we in Iowa can have good reason for optimism; we can make a case for hope.

—We can be optimistic in the attitudes of our young people, in their questioning of many of the materialistic values of our society and in their sensitivities to inequities and injustices.

—We can be optimistic about the growing numbers of positive examples of the ways in which we are using our technology, and our political will, to produce a better environment.

—And we can be optimistic about the very nature of our Iowans and the evidence in our past that Iowans can and will respond to appeals to higher values and larger concepts of enlightened public interest.

There is drift in this country today. There is a wedge of distrust between Americans and their government.

And these conditions give Iowans a special responsibility. We know we are in a favored position. But we must do more than simply enjoy it. As a people we must avoid self-indulgence.

The strength of this country—the strength of our federal system is the strength of the states. The future of the United States depends on the capacity of the states to move forward where there is indecision elsewhere . . . the future depends upon the ability of the people in states which are more fortunate to provide leadership.

There is no greater gift Iowa can give this country as it approaches its third century than the gift of hope.

We can do it with our deeds and with a charted direction.

Iowans have forged ahead in the way we make decisions. We are seeing the great value in finding better ways to determine the full consequences of decisions government makes before they're made.

We are moving in Iowa to face up to the energy problems. Instead of just talking about energy research, we have begun. Instead of just talking about encouraging energy-efficient transportation, we are doing something about it.

We are achieving population stability in Iowa to the envy of other political subdivisions around the globe. We are striking a rural-urban balance.

We have in Iowa a capacity for cooperation. Presently there is a political difference between the General Assembly and the Governor. But this can be an opportunity for us instead of an obstacle. For we have a chance now to show people everywhere that Republicans and Democrats can work constructively together for broad interests of our state.

We have a capacity for openness and candor in this state. The American people are fed up with untruth and lies. We will lead them by telling them the truth and entrusting them with it.

As a piece of side advice to those of you who are elected officials: Re-read the speeches you made during the last campaign and take another look at all the promises you might have made. If you can see now that you promised more than you can deliver, then say so. Our people will appreciate the candor a lot more than unkept promises.

Two days ago I presented to the General Assembly a series of specific legislative recommendations. Next week in another message to the legislature, I will spell out the Governor's budget recommendations.

Those speeches and this one are all a part of the responsibilities of the Governor. But this inaugural speech is particularly a part of the tradition.

So let me say to the newspeople that you can put away your checklists and to the legislators in the audience that you can stop figuring what recommendations the Governor made that you'll want to comment about. I'll give you plenty of specifics in the budget message.

But, I want to use this time to share with you a few observations I have after being Governor of this state for six years and some thoughts I have about the next four.

First, I see us moving dangerously close to a time when some would have government do everything. More and more frequently people come to my office wanting government to handle their problems. That in itself is all right. We most certainly welcome that. What is distressing is that too often they have given little if any thought to how they could be handling those problems themselves.

Government cannot feed everyone, clothe everyone, house everyone, nor shield everyone from every economic fact of life. Yet there are some in our society who think it should. Government's primary role is to motivate, not maintain; to regulate, not control.

Second, states have become willing victims of well-intentioned federal programs. In many cases we have become dependent on them and now are seeing the cruelty of the withdrawal of federal funds. By making sacrifices, state government will be able to absorb some of the cutbacks. In other cases, all we'll be able to absorb will be the shock. State government just cannot afford to take over every single federal program.

Third, of all the enterprises we are involved in there is none that has a greater effect on the future than education. And none costs us more in state tax dollars.

Let me give you an example. In 1967, advocates of expanded state aid to education were saying that in order to fairly finance schools at the elementary and secondary level, state government should support them with an amount equivalent to at least half the money raised by the state income tax. In this coming year—less than a decade later—the equivalent of all the revenue generated by the state's income tax will go to finance elementary and secondary schools. And, many will tell you it still isn't enough.

Even as school enrollments decline, educational financing is still crucial. We have to continue to explore ways to strengthen and improve our educational system within our ability to pay for it.

Fourth, as we reflect upon the successes in state government in the past few years we can see most of them have come where we have taken relatively small amounts of money and large amounts of thought and leadership to encourage people to help themselves.

The tuition grant program has kept life in our private colleges while helping thousands of students. A branch rail line project shows more promise for saving railroads than any other undertaking of its kind in this country. A plan to solve fuel oil emergencies became a model for this nation. A work incentive program to help people get off welfare rolls became one of the most successful in the United States.

It's amazing what people can do with a little assistance and a lot of encouragement. That's how government should work.

Fifth, we must learn to say "no." Cause after cause has been presented to me—each one with a price tag on it. We cannot pay for all the government some would have us have. Legislators here today must continuously ask the question: How much government can people afford?

To pay one $10,000 government employee only from sales tax, as an example, the private enterprise economy must generate $330,000 in retail sales at our present three percent rate.

And sixth, consider the modern wisdom in what Iowa Governor Horace Boies said in a speech to the General Assembly in 1892 (82 years ago): "I cannot avoid the conclusion that we legislate too much."

You members of this General Assembly have it within your power to prevent edging any closer to a full-time professionalized legislature.

Iowa must preserve the concept of the citizen legislator for it stems from the right of the electorate to self-government. Direct and personal involvement of people in their government—provided by citizen legislators—must not be replaced by preoccupied professionals responding more to a legislative body than to the constituency from which they spring.

Long legislative sessions limit the number of citizens who can or will take the time to serve in them.

Those are a few observations. I would like now to give you some thoughts about where we go from here.

First, listen to the remarks of one native Iowan who moved back to her home state after 18 years in California: Said Mrs. Ruth Jones to a newspaper reporter: "I wouldn't leave Iowa now, not even for a vacation. I'd be afraid they might close the borders while I was away and not let me back in."

We're not going to close Iowa's borders, however appealing that might seem sometimes.

But Mrs. Jones makes a point.

We all should be sure what we are talking about when we say: "Iowa—A Place To Grow."

We don't need a big surge in population. We do have to provide opportunities for the people already here.

We need to know growth is more than smokestacks and freeways and shopping centers and big feedlots, as important as some of these things are in modern society.

We need to know that growth can be measured in opportunities for people, in the willingness to be tolerant of other views, of an appreciation for the kind of life we prize so much in Iowa.

We need to understand that kind of growth cannot be mandated by a Legislature or created by a Governor's executive order. But it is attainable if we work for it.

1975 is the 99th year of America's second century. We will be observing a bicentennial in 1976. But even more significant, we will be starting America's Third Century.

Beginnings can be much more exciting than anniversaries. We are approaching the opportune time for all of us to think about the directions this state of ours should take.

We have to start thinking now about Iowa in America's Third Century.

What do we want from our government?

Where is the trend toward more government leading us?

How should we educate our people?

How can we provide for those who need our help?

How can we most wisely use our resources?

How can we maintain the healthy balance of agriculture and industry?

What will be the role of religious and ethical values?

Fifty thousand Iowans began the thought process with the Iowa:2000 project in 1974. We should enlarge and build upon that effort in 1975.

There appeared very recently in the New York Times these words, written by the late Walter Lippmann.

"What is it that has shaken the nerves of so many? It is the doubt whether there exists among the people that trust in each other which is the first condition of intelligent leadership. It is not the facts of the crisis which we have to fear. They can be endured and dealt with. It is demoralization alone that is dangerous."

Though it is true that statement appeared recently it is also true that it was written some 40 years ago, in the 1930's. Those were very, very dark times.

Some look ahead and see gloom and darkness today.

But I don't think we have to do that in Iowa.

I say that because we have the ability to live up to our moral capacity.

I say that because we have the brainpower. We have the technology. We have the resources.

I say that because, here in Iowa, we have a confidence in our history, a confidence in the ultimate power of ideas, and most of all, a confidence in ourselves.

I began this speech with a question.

I asked if there were any place in this nation, any place in this world where people are better suited, better equipped or better situated to manage their problems than we are here in Iowa? I think you not only know the answer; you are the answer.

The benediction was offered by Rabbi Albert A. Gordon, D.D., Mount Sinai Temple, Sioux City, and Instructor of Religion, Morningside College, Sioux City.

Speaker Cochran in the chair.

The colors were retired.

Governor Robert D. Ray and Lieutenant Governor Arthur A. Neu were escorted from the rostrum by the committee previously appointed.

The motion prevailed.

In accordance with Senate Concurrent Resolution 7, duly adopted, Senator Kinley moved that the Senate adjourn until 10:00 a.m., Monday, January 20, 1975.

It is known to you that northwestern Iowa has suffered a severe loss during the past ten days as a result of a severe blizzard. It was possible for me to be at home this past weekend and to visit with various law enforcement people and many other people regarding the losses and troubles of all kinds incident to this storm.

Throughout the conversations, the part that the Iowa National Guard played in saving lives and property throughout the entire area was brought out time after time and the praise for the Guard could not seem to be high enough

It is with this thought in mind that I hope the members of the Senate will give due consideration to the requests of the Iowa National Guard as they may come before us.

January 9, 1975

The Honorable Arthur A. Neu President of the Senate State Capitol Building Des Moines, Iowa 50319 Dear Mr. President:

Chapter 1080, Laws of the Sixty-fifth General Assembly, 1974 Session, allows the State Transportation Commission to adopt rules and regulations governing the length of vehicles and combinations of vehicles which may be operated on Iowa's roads.

Therefore, after careful consideration of the facts and testimony presented to us by various groups and individuals, the Transportation Commission has decided to make no changes at this time of the present limitations of Chapter 321, Code 1973, governing the length of vehicles. We expect issues such as this will, however, be considered as part of the multimodal state transportation system during its installation in the coming months.

Very truly yours. ROBERT R. RIGLER, Chairman

JOURNAL OF THE SENATE

TWELFTH DAY

SENATE CHAMBER
DES MOINES, IOWA, FRIDAY, JANUARY 24, 1975

The Senate met in regular session, President Neu presiding.

Prayer was offered by the Reverend Harold Naig, pastor of the St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, Monticello, Iowa.

The Journal of Thursday, January 23, 1975, was approved.

LEGISLATIVE PHYSICIAN FOR THE DAY

Dr. Rodney Carlson, Ankeny, Iowa.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Leaves of absence were granted as follows:

Senator Hultman for the day and Senator Taylor for the day on request of Senator Lamborn.

COMMITTEE FROM THE HOUSE

A committee from the House appeared and announced that the House was ready to receive the Senate in joint convention.

In accordance with House Concurrent Resolution 3, duly adopted, the Senate proceeded to the House under the direction of the Secretary of the Senate and the Sergeant-at-Arms.

JOINT CONVENTION

In accordance with law and House Concurrent Resolution 3, duly adopted, the joint convention was called to order, President Neu presiding.

President Neu declared a quorum present and the joint convention duly organized.

Senator Kinley moved that a committee of six, consisting of three members from the Senate and three members from the House, be appointed to notify Governor Ray that the joint convention was ready to receive him. The motion prevailed and the Chair appointed as such committee Senators Hill of Jasper, Nolting and Shaw, on the part of the Senate, and Representatives Hargrave, Small and McElroy, on the part of the House.

The committee waited upon Governor Ray and escorted him to the Speaker's station. President Neu then presented Governor Ray, who delivered the following budget address:

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chief Justice, Senators and Representatives, State Officials, Distinguished Guests, Ladies and Gentlemen:

First, I want to thank those of you who reacted favorably to the proposals that I made to you in the Condition of the State last week.

Second, some of you expressed interest in specifics. This morning I want to give you specifics.

This is the third in a series of three messages I am charged with presenting to the General Assembly. The first—the Condition of the State—was intended as a perspective on Iowa's position today together with some recommendations for legislative action. The second, the Inaugural Message, was intended to share with you my perspective as I begin the first four-year gubernatorial term since 1858.

Today's message is specific—though even then there is no way I can cover all the information contained in the five thick documents you will receive next week.

Details not covered in the time it takes to deliver these remarks you will find spelled out in the numerous handouts which will be given to you today and the documents that comprise the official "Governor's Budget for 1975-77."

This material will give you some interesting weekend reading.

Further, I want you to know that along with Comptroller Marvin Selden, members of his exceptional staff and those of my own, I look forward to working with you as you digest this material.

Let me start with the highlights of this budget.

This is a budget that offers special help for cities and towns, provides for improvements in our IPERS, relief for our road program, record financial support for local schools, special education, natural and human resources; more help for elderly Iowans, a means to maintain momentum in our energy efforts and a plan to build a greater equity into the state's income tax, just to mention a few of the highlights.

This is a budget that requires no general tax increase and this is a budget designed so that with wisdom and restraint we can also avoid loading tax increases on people in the two years after this biennium.

It is a budget that tackles some extraordinary problems.

And, this budget, two years from now, ends with a solid $53 million surplus in the state treasury.

As we developed this budget we made several assumptions and a lot of hard decisions.

First, we were confronted with the highest requests ever brought to an Iowa governor—and I want you to know that these askings have been slashed by more than $300 million prior to my submitting this budget to you today.

Second, we listened with sympathy to the many pleas from people who look to state government for service, assistance or their livelihoods to let them "keep pace with inflation." We honestly have tried to respond as and when we could. But you should know, as I have concluded, that if it were possible for everyone to keep pace with inflation, inflation would hardly be a problem. We cannot expect the citizens who pay the taxes and who are punished by inflation too, to sacrifice more so that people in government can escape sacrificing at all.

Third, federal revenue sharing has been a boon to state and local governments. The present act expires with the January, 1977, payment, one quarter short of getting us through this biennium. Should the program end, the effect on this budget would be minimal; the effect on future state and local budgets could be devastating. We must, through our Congressional delegations and the organizations of the nation's governors, mayors, state legislators and county officers, press for early extension of the federal Revenue Sharing Act.

Fourth, agency requests to me would have swelled state employment by eight percent in the next two years. We have pruned that increase to only one percent. Nearly all of those have come where the state has had to pick up employees formerly paid with federal dollars, requirements imposed by the Federal Labor Standards Act, positions financed by trust funds in regulatory agencies, and because of legislative mandates. One of the supporting documents you will get today is a detailed listing of these positions.

Fifth, in consulting with state agencies, you will find, as we have, the status of federal funds is more confused and insecure than previously. Rather than react by increasing our state budget unrealistically, we have assumed that most of the federal dollars now considered in jeopardy will still be available to us.

However, it is also likely we will be faced with the possible destruction of some more essential programs. Therefore, this budget includes provision for a "federal contingency fund" of $3 million to be available to meet possible cutoffs on a case-by-case basis.

And sixth, though Iowa's economic health remains considerably better than that of the nation, the forces at large in the economy make it imperative that we operate with the best possible information. As we prepared this budget, I asked our newly appointed Economic Advisory Committee to help us as we peered into the future. Our state comptroller can tell you that revenue forecasting is a very lonely job. It is reassuring to know that our Economic Advisory Committee is in substantial agreement with the economic predictions that form the basis for the revenue projections in this budget.

Nevertheless, the estimation of revenues is far from an exact science, and, because of the uncertainties, we have leaned to the conservative side in our projections of state income for the next two years. I suggest you do likewise.

At the end of this last fiscal year the state surplus was $207 million, a figure very familiar to all of you. At the end of this fiscal year, we estimate economic growth will have enlarged that balance to $221 million and that is the starting figure for this new budget.

We project that the first year of the next biennium will flatten out as the current national recession pinches Iowans. A four-percent revenue growth is foreseen which is actually less than the rate of inflation expected in the economy and this will have the effect of a negative growth in so-called constant dollars.

Our advisors believe the 1976-77 fiscal year will be a time of some recovery and revenue projections are somewhat more optimistic as a result.

Even though the budgets are tight and the restraints upon you by an uncertain economy are real, there is much you can do to improve the condition of our people as you adopt the recommendations of this budget.

It is one thing to call for improvement; it is another matter to show how you can make improvement happen.

This is the fourth biennial budget I have submitted to an Iowa legislature. Like its predecessors, it does more than propose improvement; it spells out the details, ways, means and methods for financing the proposals and ideas I advance to you.

INCOME TAX EQUITY

Ten days ago, in the Condition of the State Message, I told you that another improvement in our tax system is in order and that I would submit to you a specific proposal on how we can build greater equity into our state income tax.

The plan I outline would:

- 1. Exempt all those persons who earn less than $5,000 adjusted gross income from having to pay any state income tax at all. This change would benefit some 50,000 low-income Iowans.
- 2. Increase the standard deduction from the present 10 percent/$500 limit to a 15 percent/$750 limit, an increase of 50 percent. With this change an additional 450,000 Iowans in the low and middle income brackets would experience income tax breaks. This will help offset the automatic tax increase these people experience as inflated earnings trip them into higher brackets.
- 3. Increase the progressivity of the present tax structure by moving the effective tax rate on higher income tax brackets from the present 7 percent to new rates of 8, 9, 10 and 11 percent.

Only those with gross earnings of $25,000 or more annually will be asked to absorb this adjustment. And, the impact on those in higher income brackets will be eased by their ability to deduct their state taxes on their federal income tax returns.

There are three essential points to remember about this improvement in our tax system:

- —This plan improves the fairness and equity of our income tax structure, reducing the taxes paid by a majority of those that pay Iowa income tax.
- -Under this plan, Iowans now earning less than $25,000 gross income a year will not be asked to absorb more in taxes.
  - -This proposal does not raise more state taxes.

IMPROVEMENT IN IPERS

Last week I told you I would detail a plan to improve the Iowa Public Employees Retirement System, known as IPERS.

IPERS has not stood still since it was created in the early 1950's. Substantial changes were made in the 60's and 70's. Because of growth of the fund and prudent investments and returns, benefits have been increased at every opportunity. IPERS was designed to supplement, not to exist in lieu of federal social security. And unlike social security, IPERS continues to be actuarially sound.

Yet improvements are needed and—I offer the following plan—one within our means, and one which substantially upgrades the state's retirement program in a systematic manner.

- 1. This plan increases employer contributions from 3½ to 5 percent.
- 2. Employee contributions will go from 3½ to 4 percent.
- 3. The ceiling on the salary subject to the contribution will be removed. With these improvements, the future retirement benefits will be markedly increased.

At the same time, we have found ways to improve benefits for those presently retired.

Only recently, the federal government passed legislation which required that private pensions be sound, employee vesting protected, and funds be available on retirement. We have steadfastly insisted on these principles for IPERS and they must be protected and must continue to be protected.

An IPERS plan which would cost upwards to $60 million per year may also be before you this session. Unmistakably it would mean tax increases. It—the cost—would be equivalent to eight mills of property tax statewide per year, or the equivalent of nearly one additional cent of state sales tax.

While well-intentioned, the price tag is too high.

TRANSPORTATION FINANCING

Perhaps no other subject you will deal with in this session is more fraught with unknowns than the issue of highway financing.

We saw state fuel tax revenues drop when the energy crisis first hit us, then swing upward again. Now, with new federal actions on energy imminent, we just do not know whether we will see another decline in fuel consumption and our state revenues, or to what extent, or of what duration.

The road construction industry suffers from one of the highest inflation rates anywhere, hamstringing efforts to keep pace.

A reduction in federal highway dollars, coupled with federal impoundments of funds that rightfully belong to Iowa, also contribute to the uncertainty.

Other forces are going to affect how we proceed—slower speed limits, lighter cars, the resurgence of alternatives for moving heavy goods and for transporting people, to name a few.

The answers to these problems will come with an overall approach to our transportation needs, not with bits and pieces reaction.

Iowans have not been miserly in their support of our road system. Though 25th among states in population and in area, we rank 9th nationally in per capita support for highways.

Fortunately, we now have a Department of Transportation charged with the responsibility of analyzing the effects of all this on the way we move our people and our products. We must be aware that in time additional sources of revenue may well have to be found for a viable transportation system in this state.

Some of you recall the battles up here over stopping the diversion of a portion of the sales tax into the road fund. The earmarking was poor public policy and at the time the diversion was stopped, additional revenues from user fees more than replaced those funds.

I repeatedly said during those discussions that while I opposed earmarking, I would not hesitate to finance special transportation needs from sources outside the road fund when special needs arose. Special needs exist today.

Therefore, I recommend an appropriation from our surplus be made directly to the new Department of Transportation for wise allocation in the amount of $20 million—not a panacea, but a reprieve that we believe makes sense.

EDUCATIONAL FINANCING

You have heard me say that of all the enterprises we are involved in there is none that has created more of an impact and had a greater effect on the future than education—and none costs us more in state tax dollars.

Before you discuss one appropriation bill, you should know that in the next two-year period, under our present school foundation aid program, state government will send to Iowa's elementary and secondary schools nearly eight-tenths of a billion dollars in direct aid.

Put another way, about 40 percent of the entire state budget is already committed for school aid. In just five years, our annual participation in local school support has nearly tripled—from $156 million to $416 million!

In this budget we continue to move toward the goal of a full 80 percent foundation plan and the financing of special education mandated last year.

I urge you, as you consider this school aid appropriation, not to lose sight of the concept of putting school aid dollars where the students are.

Financing local schools, as demanding as it is, is by no means all of the state's involvement in the education of our people.

Today more than one out of every four Iowans is a member of Iowa's learning force. And education not only affects their lives, but touches all of the rest of us.

You are called upon to assure the continued vitality of a wide range of educational opportunities in our state.

This budget provides a 60 percent increase—to $9.6 million each year—for Iowa's tuition grant program, raising the level of tuition grants from a maximum of $1,000 to $1,200 per student. Is it money well spent? I certainly believe so. Today, one Iowan out of every three attending an Iowa private college is doing so with the assistance of a state tuition grant.

What about our area schools? These schools serve over 24,000 full-time students and thousands of others in continuing educational programs of vocational skills and arts and sciences. My requests continue our strong support for this newest segment of our educational system, with particular emphasis on vocational training.

The influence of our state universities is felt far beyond the communities in which they're located and the lives they touch extend well beyond their enrollments. They give to Iowa a particular vibrancy and growth, often on the cutting edge of change and fresh ideas. This will again be vividly demonstrated in 1976 as we host a World Food Institute on the Ames campus. This budget underscores the importance of higher education, with emphasis on supporting existing faculty, staffs and services.

It is noteworthy that during this biennium several new facilities will open at university campuses—the Industrial Arts and Technology Building at the University of Northern Iowa and the new Veterinary Medicine Building at Iowa State University. These are significant additions to our regents institutions and legislators can take satisfaction in having shown foresight in authorizing them.

One reason for the quality of education in Iowa is its healthy balance. Non-public schools provide a choice and a yardstick. New ground was broken during the last session by offering tangible assistance through transportation to non-public students.

In this budget, we recommend $1.5 million to complete the bus-purchase program and $3 million annually for transportation assistance.

This budget assures that the Iowa Educational Broadcasting Network which has the potential of being a dynamic educational force will truly become a statewide system during the biennium.

I am quite aware there may be critics who would say we have placed too great an emphasis on education in this budget. It is true that over 55 percent of all our recommended appropriations relate to education.

But it is also true, as Plato said, that "the direction in which education starts a man will determine his future life."

The continued well being of our educational efforts in Iowa will determine Iowa life in the years ahead and I urge your support of the educational priorities we have outlined for you.

ELDERLY TAX RELIEF

Not only do we have a responsibility to our young people, we also have an obligation to those who played a role in bringing Iowa to where we stand today.

Two years ago we established a sweeping new concept to provide property tax breaks for our elderly Iowans. Details of improvements in that program are included in material that will be given you today. In addition to increased benefits for those already covered by the present program, these improvements will give relief to some 11,000 more elderly citizens.

HUMAN RESOURCES

Perhaps there is no area of involvement of state government that does more proportionately to sustain individual people, nor is more misunderstood, than those programs administered or monitored by our human resource agencies, especially the Department of Social Services. For every "welfare cheater" there are scores of people who desperately want to be able to support themselves—but can't.

This budget funds at increased levels the many worthwhile human assistance programs including aid to dependent children and the service programs such as foster care, day care, homemaker and transportation aids.

Greatly affected by rising costs are the institutions operated by our Department of Social Services, which include facilities for Family and Children, Corrections, and Mental Health. In each area, financial support is provided which includes additional staff where needed to handle increased patient load, particularly the Mental Retardation units at Glenwood and Woodward.

Those who operate and those who require the services of nursing homes will be pleased to find in this budget an increase of 15 percent in the daily maximum reimbursement rate.

Other human resource programs so important to their recipients and to the state continue to thrive in this budget request to you—agencies serving the handicapped and the aged and those working in civil rights, drug abuse and alcoholism.

So important also is the childhood diseases immunization program, formerly financed by the federal government but now withdrawn, that this budget provides for taking over the entire effort. We have also boosted our commitment to the renal disease program.

MORE AID FOR CITIES AND TOWNS

The League of Iowa Municipalities seeks the authority to impose local option taxes. While I have supported the peoples' right to raise additional revenue on the local level if that be their choice, we have also looked for ways we can directly assist our cities and towns.

Therefore, in addition to federal revenue sharing for cities, our budget provides for an increase in state revenue sharing with municipalities—to help defray expenses—from $5 million annually to $9 million each of the next two years, an increase of 80 percent.

OTHER PRIORITIES

When I began this morning, I mentioned that I was aware of the comments of some legislators regarding the Governor's proposals. One said he thought the Governor's priorities were acceptable because, as he put it: "they are consistent with my priorities."

While it pleases me to have the support, I also know that in a General Assembly of 150 men and women, there are likely to be 150 different sets of priorities.

As the Governor, it is my duty to set priorities, too, weigh and develop them, for what I believe to be in the best interest of 2.8 million Iowans.

I hope it is often that our priorities can mesh harmoniously.

So that you may have the benefit of additional items of priority in this budget besides those already outlined, I will move rather quickly over a list I believe merits your support as you examine my budget recommendations.

- —If your priority is to ease the doctor shortage, then I ask that you support my recommendation for additional aid to our Division of Family Practice at the University of Iowa and the increased funding of the innovative student aid program at the Osteopathic School in our capital city.
- —If energy is your priority, then I ask that you support my recommendation for a $3 million appropriation to the Energy Policy Council, an exciting new group that has translated talk of saving railroad service into action while also tackling other energy-related problems. Please support also the funding of a solar heating project on the state capitol complex, a relatively small budget item with enormous implications for the future.
- —If protection of our environment and wise use of our natural resources are your priorities, I urge your support of our recommendations for the Conservation Commission, including $7 million for acquisition and development of outdoor recreational facilities and open spaces, and for more assistance in soil conservancy—a program that works so very well.
- —If better law enforcement is your priority, then you can help by supporting this budget which strengthens the Bureau of Criminal Investigation and Fire Marshal's Office and provides the resources to operate the expanded Law Enforcement Academy.
- —If vitality of our arts is your priority, then you will want to support the generous increase in funding which I have recommended for the Iowa Arts Council.
- —If economic development is your priority, I ask your support for the Iowa Development Commission's efforts to enlarge world trade potentials for Iowa industry and agriculture.
- —If your priorities—as the legislator said—coincide with those I outlined in the Condition of the State Message, then you'll be pleased to know that this budget anticipates your support of a Task Force for Childhood Development, creation of a land-use planning commission, a state housing authority and other points in that program.

Some suggested priorities could not be included in this budget, even though they may prove to be of merit. I refer especially to the desire of our National Guard to strengthen its appeal through educational incentives. I am one who firmly subscribes to the civilian soldier concept and I strongly believe in the value of our Iowa National Guard. I will be asking a citizens group to take a hard look at the ways we can best maintain the strength of our Guard and make suggestions on how we can assure its long-range future.

This Governor's budget also meets our obligations to the people we employ and to the physical plant that houses this government.

This budget provides funds to complete the new state office building and the new agricultural building. There are funds for a needed liquor warehouse, for needed changes to meet OSHA standards, and $6 million in capitals for Regents Institutions—including a seed lab at Iowa State University.

The summary of the budget which will be placed in your hands in a few minutes reflects more than a collection of numbers. It is a major statement of priorities. It is an ambitious program of work, a blueprint for state government over the next 24 months and even beyond.

While it is clearly labeled the "Governor's Budget", it is really the work of many people. Someone has calculated that the effort and time which have gone into preparing it for you is the equivalent of well over 35 years of work by an individual person.

It is a biennial budget. And, one of the beauties of annual sessions is that adjustments can be made, if need be, in your second session as we have done so effectively in the past. This budget looks ahead and sets a course for two years, a course that people whose lives are affected by it can know and plan for.

With this procedure we avoid the frustration and uncertainty which characterize the annual budgets of Congress—a federal government run by continuing resolution while people look to it, never quite knowing what they can or what they cannot count on.

I have spoken in my two previous messages of the importance of bipartisanship as we go about the business of lawmaking. Republicans and Democrats have their differences. But this should not prevent their working together in the best interests of our people.

There is yet another harmonious relationship that will benefit Iowans. And that is a cooperative spirit between the branches of government.

When a bill that has passed the legislature by majorities of both houses reaches my desk, I begin with a desire to approve it, for I know that it is the product of well-meaning people, striving diligently to represent their state.

There are times when I cannot approve a bill and thus our system of checks and balances comes into play. But the great majority of the time I do.

As you begin your deliberations on this budget, I would hope that you would view the recommendations and proposals of the executive branch with the same consideration your work receives in my office.

I now set before you a document that shows a way to meet needs of our people within our available resources.

I set it before you as a blueprint for educating our people, protecting our environment, feeding and caring for our less fortunate.

I set it before you as a balanced budget, with the strength of prudent planning that extends even beyond this biennium.

I now ask you to analyze it. I now ask you to know it. And most of all, I ask you to support it.

Thank you.

Governor Ray was escorted from the House chamber by the committee previously appointed.

Representative Fitzgerald moved that the joint convention be dissolved, which motion prevailed.

The Senate returned to the Senate chamber and resumed regular session, President Neu presiding.

It is of the nature of the human family that we draw from certain rituals and traditions the very spirit of meaning which gives our lives substance.

So it is with a nation that it may pause in the midst of the hurry and rush of its life to return for a moment to an event or a man which has come to symbolize something they wish to remember.

Today, February 12, is such a day, when through some mystery of destiny the child of Nancy Hanks and Tom Lincoln, grew from the wilderness boy to the country lawyer with his bag of jokes to the courthouse politician to become the dark horse candidate, the small town lawyer the powerbrokers thought they could control and finally the sad leader of a nation torn by civil war, the statesman, the martyred president.

Today he is remembered and in remembering something deep is kindled in us as to our own destiny and growth as one people, and one nation.

We might wonder for a moment, why it is that such a man as Abraham Lincoln became the symbol for remembrance. An explanation that may be offered is that fact that he was a martyred president and stood in the midst of a troubled time in the life of this nation.

As Alistair Cooke writes in his America, "The overwhelming aspect of his reputation is that he was assassinated and so he was canonized, because a halo descends on all the martyred presidents and on Lincoln most of all."

Having said this, there is still something there, not quite explained, for there have been other martyred presidents, and other leaders in war time who have not penetrated so deeply into the soul of America.

Perhaps that something we have not quite grasped has to do with power and its use by an individual in a democracy at war internally, when brother fought against brother and the young paid the price more dearly than others.

I think it was the special character that evolved out of this interaction which draws us to Lincoln.

Great power is often callously sought and ruthlessly used, and those who deal in it tend to become hardened to suffering and egotistically self-righteous as they take on the mantle of a semi-god in steering the ship of state.

For Abraham Lincoln the exercise of power became an agony of soul which brought personal suffering to which few men are exposed. He was shaken by the Presidency, Richard Hofstadter writes of Lincoln "Back in Springfield, politics had been sort of an exhilarating game, but in the White House politics was power, and power was responsibility."

In the end he stood alone, with agonizing decisions which, as he came to know were the sentence of life and death to men he would never know, but felt as a brother and father to. This deciding of life and death for others was immensely sobering to Lincoln for he had enjoyed politics as a pastime back in the Illinois State Legislature. Now he was confronted with grave responsibility which became a working out of the destiny of a nation and its people through the awful travail of war.

The presidency which he had so arduously sought became ashes in his mouth. He was a sensitive man caught in a whirlwind of death, with diverse counsel urging this way and that, who finally had to rely upon something deep within himself.

When Aeschylus the ancient Greek poet wrote, "In our sleep, pain that cannot forget, falls drop by drop upon the heart and in our own despair, against our will, comes wisdom through the awful grace of God." He was speaking of a man born centuries later, who felt that pain in the marrow of his bones.

The measure of the man's greatness is in Lincoln's response to that wisdom which he came to know drop by drop through four long bloody years of war.

He was moved by the wounded and dying boys as no man in a high position can afford to be moved. Lincoln came to know that for a man of sensitivity and compassion to exercise power in a time of crisis is a grim and agonizing ordeal. Hofstadter says of Lincoln, "As the months passed a deathly weariness settled over him." Once when Noah Brooks suggested that he rest he replied: "I suppose it is good for the body, but the tired part of me is inside and out of reach."

Lincoln was a humbled man, the great prose of the presidential years came from a soul that had been humbled. Lincoln's utter lack of personal malice during these years, his humane detachment, his tragic sense of life, have no parallel in political history.

So it was, that when that small ball of lead, the trajectory of the bullet and the path of a man's life crossed, then as Carl Sandburg wrote, "The pale horse had come. To a deep river, to a far country, to a by and by whence no man returns, had gone the child of Nancy Hanks and Tom Lincoln, the wilderness boy who found far lights and tall rainbows to live by, whose name even before he died had become a legend interwoven with men's struggle for freedom the world over."

He belongs to the ages now, but ever so often as we pause to hear again the familiar words, the meaning is reborn:

- . . . Government of the people, by the people, for the people shall not perish from the earth.
- . I pray that our heavenly Father may assuage the anguish of your bereavement and leave you only the cherished memory of the loved and lost, and the solemn pride that must be yours to have laid so costly a sacrifice upon the altar of freedom.
- . . . With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to bind up the nation's wounds; to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow and his orphan, to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations.

In these turbulent times it is good to have something upon which we can look and still draw hope. To believe that there is still more to be admired in men than to despise.

This Union has been blessed with some men who at perilous times in her history have come forth and taken the helm to steer, and guide us as a people.

And if in the process we come to cherish the memory of that man who held the Union together, at times making the legend more than life-size, well perhaps we could do worse than to choose such a man as embodying the best in a free people. For in the final analysis each of us is better for it. Abraham Lincoln was such a man.

On motion of Representative Fitzgerald, the joint convention was dissolved.

The Senate returned to the Senate chamber and resumed regular session, President Neu presiding.

On motion of Senator Kinley, the Senate recessed until 4:00 p.m.

The Senate reconvened, President Neu presiding.

Also: That the House has adopted the following concurrent resolution in which the concurrence of the Senate is asked:

House Concurrent Resolution 15 urging a study to evaluate the average state program costs per student and to develop an equitable system of weighting.

DAVID L. WRAY, Chief Clerk

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 15 By Committee on Education

Whereas, the financial needs of education are subject to influences by dynamic needs of society, and 2 Whereas, the financial requirements for each school district 3 vary with the number of students in each program by grade 4 level, the type of curriculum and student physical and mental 5 6 differences, and 7 Whereas, the Iowa department of public instruction does 8 not have cost figures or procedures that accurately reflect the relative costs in Iowa for each program calculated as 9 10 a per student cost figure, and 11 Whereas, these figures are necessary before an equitable funding method can be adopted to allocate funds in proportion 12 13 to the average cost for each program and the number of students in each district in each program category, Now Therefore, 14 Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate 15 Concurring, That the department of public instruction, in 16 17 cooperation with and under the direction of the standing committees on education of the house and senate, shall conduct 18 a study to begin as soon as possible and terminate by January 19 1, 1976, to evaluate the average state program costs per 20 student, to develop an equitable system of weighting and 21 22 report to the general assembly the findings of the study. 23 The report shall include a weighting index which means the 24 ratios obtained by comparing the costs for different programs 25 to the average cost for an elementary school student in grades 26 one through six. Be It Further Resolved, That in conducting the study the 27 28 program cost per student shall be determined by dividing the cost of education for each program by the number of students 29 30 in the program. The program categories include but are not

- 24 program costs per student, exemplary programs conducted by
- 25 school districts in the state or by similar schools in other
- 26 states shall be studied, rather than analyzing the average

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 17 By Rodgers

Whereas, widespread public criticism of existing probate laws has developed, based upon unreasonable time and expense 3 required for settling estates, while a steady increase in 4 the work load of the courts seems to demand simplification 5 of some traditional procedures; and 6 Whereas, great diversity in probate procedures in the 7 various states makes the settlement of estates by traditional 8 methods too complex and cumbersome for today's mobile 9 population; and 10 Whereas, members of the legal profession are concerned 11 that popular devices for avoiding probate may cause costly 12 future legal difficulties for their clients; and 13 Whereas, the Uniform Probate Code was approved in 1969 by the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State 14 Laws and the American Bar Association, has been adopted by 15 16 the states of Idaho, Alaska, North Dakota, Arizona, Colorado, 17 South Dakota, Montana, and Nebraska and laws similar to the 18 Uniform Probate Code have been adopted in the states of 19 Wisconsin, Minnesota, Maryland, and Oregon and the Uniform

Probate Code has received study and approval by legislative 20 21 and professional groups in a number of other states; and

22 Whereas, consideration of the Uniform Probate Code by the 23 Iowa General Assembly requires intensive study, comparison

24 with present Iowa probate law, and careful and time-consuming 25 drafting: Now Therefore.

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That 26 the legislative council establish a study committee for the 27 purpose of studying the Uniform Probate Code in comparison 28 with present Iowa probate laws, and considering the

REPORT OF INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE

MR. PRESIDENT: Your committee appointed to investigate the character and qualifications of Mr. James P. Fuller, Muscatine, Muscatine County, Iowa, for appointment as a member of the Energy Policy Council pursuant to Chapter 1113, Section 3, Acts of the Sixty-fifth General Assembly, 1974 Regular Session, to serve at the pleasure of the Governor, begs leave to report that it has made investigation and recommends that the appointment be confirmed.

W. R. RABEDEAUX, Chairman ELIZABETH R. MILLER BASS VAN GILST

EXPLANATION OF ABSENTEEISM ON FEBRUARY 24, 1975

We wish to point out to those examining the Journal of Monday, February 24, 1975, that the absenteeism resulted from a severe snowstorm that struck central and eastern Iowa during the day. The Senate was initially scheduled to go into session at 9:30 a.m., but because of inclement weather and the absence of members of the Senate, after convening at the appointed hour, the Senate recessed and reconvened at twelve o'clock noon with fortyone Senators present. When the Senate adjourned at 5:00 p.m., all but four members had arrived, but the storm did prevent many Senators from being recorded on confirmations and several amendments to Senate File 85.

We, as elected leaders, respectfully request those examining voting records to take note of these facts.

GEORGE R. KINLEY Majority Leader CLIFTON C. LAMBORN Minority Leader

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

Mr. President: I vigorously protest the convening of the Senate with almost twenty percent of its membership snowbound or risking life and limb to reach the capitol via the inadequate road system in northeast Iowa. Had my dogsled arrived earlier, I would have voted "aye" on the following appointments and amendments to Senate File 85: Harriette J. Baum, Orren S. Olson, and Harriette Lindberg, as members of the Energy Policy Council, and John P. Millhone as its director; amendments S—3156 and S—3199A. I would have voted "nay" on amendments S—3152 and S—3149A.

WILLARD R. HANSEN

Whereas, there are serious differences of opinion among citizens and experts regarding the safe use of civilian nuclear fission power plants; and Whereas, concerns regarding the safe use of civilian nuclear 5 fission power plants relate to the safety and environmental hazards associated with the entire nuclear fuel cycle compared with benefits derived from the civilian nuclear fission power 8 plants; the economic effect of a commitment to nuclear fission 9 power plants, particularly in relation to long-term cost and availability of raw materials and the costs of all necessary 10 safeguards; and also relate to the central question of 11 12 proliferation of nuclear fission power plants in comparison 13 to possible alternatives; and 14 Whereas, the concerns and differences of opinion will not 15 be resolved without a concentrated and comprehensive study 16 and gathering of facts relating to the use, benefits, disadvantages, and possible dangers associated with the use 17 of nuclear fission power plants; Now Therefore, 18 19 Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That 20 the General Assembly of the state of Iowa strongly urges the 21

5. The possibilities for diversion of nuclear materials and sabotage throughout the entire nuclear fuel cycle; and

9 6. An evaluative assessment of prospects and problems 10 and the ultimate net energy yield in the production of electric 11 power through the use of nuclear energy; and

12 Be It Further Resolved, That the Congress of the United

13 States provide that during the study by the Office of 14 Technology Assessment the licensing of nuclear fission power

15 plants be carried on only on a very small scale and under such conditions as the Congress shall determine; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the Congress of the United States shall direct the Office of Technology Assessment to and submit a final report to Congress and periodic reports

21 during the study, and that the information contained in such

24 concerning the information and the progress of the study;

GOVERNOR'S VETO MESSAGE

The following veto message from the Governor was presented:

March 18, 1975

The Honorable Arthur A. Neu President of the Senate Sixty-sixth General Assembly State Capitol Building Local

Dear Governor Neu:

I am returning herewith Senate File 77, an Act "relating to county contracts requiring bids", disapproved and without my signature to the Senate in accordance with Article III, Section 16, of the Constitution of the State of Iowa.

At the outset, I would say that it would have been more appropriate to entitle this bill an Act "relating to county contracts not requiring bids."

I can readily understand the rationale for the legislature's action which raises the present $2,000 maximum exemption on the requirement to take bids to $5,000. We are in a period of inflated construction costs.

However, I think it important we also recognize that a bidding procedure provides protection for public officials who are constantly subject to scrutiny by the people as well as to taxpayers who must have assurance that their tax dollars are wisely and honestly used.

This bill would allow substantial sums to be spent in the construction or repair of a building without using any bidding procedures.

Even though I have vetoed this bill, I am not suggesting that at all times a strictly formal bidding procedure must be followed by counties.

Acceptable to me would be provisions for informal bidding under certain conditions, flexibility in accepting the most desirable bids even if not the lowest, and exceptions altogether in cases of emergencies.

For the reasons I have outlined above, I hereby respectfully disapprove of this Senate File 77.

Sincerely, ROBERT D. RAY Governor

President Neu presented Senator Minnette Doderer, President pro tempore of the Senate, who welcomed the Pioneer Lawmakers on behalf of the Senate as follows:

Lieutenant Governor Neu, Speaker Cochran, Senators Schroeder and Frommelt, Fellow Officers, Members of the Iowa Legislature and Staff and Guests:

Please join me in extending a warm and enthusiastic welcome to our honored guests today, the members of the Pioneer Lawmakers Association of Iowa. Almost every day during the session we welcome Iowa school children, members or organizations and concerned citizens who come here to witness their state government in action. Today, however, we have the special opportunity to greet the men and women who have worked and served, cared and struggled, for our people. Ladies and gentlemen of the House and Senate, let us rise and thank the Pioneer Lawmakers of Iowa, on behalf of the people they have served so well.

Since you were here, the rules may have been changed and the issues and problems given new names and labels . . . but the preservation of the rights and privileges of our citizens was the goal you were striving for, and remains the same one we diligently struggle to achieve.

There is value in setting aside time to honor traditions and participate in public ceremony. We all recognize how fragile and precious the democratic process can be. Together let us publicly reaffirm our collective commitment to the constitutional protection of individual liberties, the pursuit of just and open government and the dignity of public service.

This ceremony is a good tradition; these are priceless values. We have not forgotten and shall not overlook the Pioneer Lawmakers' contributions to the State of Iowa. Public service is a high calling. On behalf of the members of the Iowa Senate, it is my privilege to officially welcome you to these chambers. Thank you for the opportunity to do so.

President Neu presented Representative Dale M. Cochran, Speaker of the House, who welcomed the Pioneer Lawmakers on behalf of the House as follows:

Mr. President, President pro tempore, Members of the Pioneer Lawmakers Association of Iowa, Joint Convention and Guests:

On behalf of the Iowa House of Representatives, it is my pleasure as Speaker to welcome you, the Pioneer Lawmakers of the State of Iowa, to the Sixty-sixth General Assembly.

It is evident to me by the number who are here that you still hold a deep affection for this governmental body of which you were once an integral part, and that you hold a love for our great state.

Robert Frost defined "home" as the place that "when you have to go there, they have to take you in." This House on Capitol Hill is always "home" to an Iowa lawmaker, because it is plain that once a legislator, always a legislator. Serving here gets in your blood. We in the House are proud to welcome you "home" today.

You are renewing the fellowship of old acquaintances: You have noticed many new faces as well. There are physical changes in the chambers—I am sure that you noticed those, too.

Let me assure you, however, there is a strong bond between us which transcends the surface changes. It is the continuing tradition which you worked very hard during your years of service to build upon and to maintain for those of us who follow you today. We are keenly aware that we are temporary custodians of those traditions and of the foundation you forged for the legislative branch of Iowa government.

I wish each and every one of you could have stood with Representative Varley, Senator Doderer, Senator Shaff, and myself in the White House this past January when we represented the Iowa legislature as we accepted from President Gerald Ford an award for legislative excellence. The Iowa Assembly is considered and is recognized as the finest state lawmaking body in this nation on many counts: One of these is our continued effort to open the legislative process to the participation and scrutiny of the people we serve. Your contribution to that award is one of which you can be most proud and it is a legacy that we all cherish.

I would like to mention that I am so proud to have with us today a man from Webster County who served in this very body in 1935 as Speaker of the House—John Mitchell.

If we are realistic, we keep in our conscious minds the old saying that "We, too, must return to the ranks." When we join your ranks as Iowa's Pioneer Lawmakers, please welcome us "home," for we will have striven, as you have done, to maintain and build Iowa legislative excellence so that future legislators may serve from a solid, open tradition in writing the state's laws.

Thank you for being with us today. We hope you will return many times to advise, to observe, and to share your wisdom and your good and warm anecdotes of the past with us all. We need that and we need you!

President Neu presented the Honorable Jack Schroeder who responded to the welcome and addressed the joint convention briefly.

The Honorable Jack Schroeder then presented an honorary membership of the Pioneer Lawmakers Association to Wayne Faupel, Code Editor, in appreciation of his service.

President Neu then presented the Honorable Andrew Frommelt who addressed the joint convention, reminiscing of past years and goals for the future.

Fitzgerald of Webster moved that the joint convention be now dissolved.

The motion prevailed.

The Senate returned to the Senate chamber and resumed regular session, President Neu presiding.

If the district does not 33 experience this decrease, the adjusted enrollment 84 for the budget year is equal to the basic enrollment 35 for the budget year. 86

b. For the school years subsequent to the school year beginning July 1, 1975, if a district has a decrease from the basic enrollment in the base year to the basic enrollment in the budget year the state comptroller shall compute an amount to be added to the basic enrollment for the budget year. The amount to be added is equal to fifty percent of the basic enrollment decrease to the extent that it does not exceed five percent of the base years basic enrollment, and twenty-five percent of the remaining basic enrollment decrease. If the school district does not experience a decrease from the basic enrollment in the base year to the basic enrollment in the budget year the adjusted enrollment for the budget year is equal to the basic enrollment for the budget year." 50
