Whereas, cities use special assessments to finance the construction of streets and sewers within their corporate limits; and Whereas, these special assessments are becoming increas-4 ingly costly because of increased costs in the construction of streets and sewers; and 7 Whereas, it appears that some of these special assess-8 ments against an individual homeowner have amounted to as high as eighty-five thousand dollars, and such high assess-10 ments are unreasonable and virtually uncollectible; and 11 Whereas, the rising cost of street and sewer construc-12 tion has made the special tax assessments increasingly costly 13 and has too often placed an unreasonable burden on the 14 homeowner, which is especially unfair to the elderly or low

Whereas, many of these special tax assessments have come about, not at the request of the affected homeowners but as a result of some business or industry expanding into an area; and

Whereas, the industry or the city should foot the bill for such improvements, and the burden should not fall on the homeowner; and

Whereas, the practice of assessing homeowners that happen to live along a street that the city determines must be widened or who happen to live along the route of a major sewer line extension is an antiquated, unfair concept that goes back to medieval times; and

Whereas, the homeowner who in the first place does not request or desire such improvements should not be forced to pay for these improvements when, in fact, the city, as a the legislative council establish a study committee, as provided by law, which shall consist of legislative members representing both houses of the general assembly and representing both political parties, to study the feasibility of financing public improvements without the use of special assessments; and

Kansas, Nebraska, and South Dakota have developed procedures 17 18 by which their legislation is prepared, considered and passed 19 and sessions adjourned in much less time; and 20 Whereas, an orderly and timely adjournment of the legislature should be a top priority; Now Therefore, 21 22 Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring. That 23 the legislative council establish an interim study committee to study ways and means of improving the handling of bills 24 25 from introduction to passage, including improving public 26 access to bills prior to final committee action, and procedures 27 for shortening the length and improving the adjournment procedures of our sessions. Whereas, a serious barrier to ownership of agricultural 1 2 land to those who wish to enter farming is the difficulty in 3 accumulating needed capital; and 4 Whereas, the level of capital required to meet the rising 5 cost of farm equipment places the small farmer at an economic disadvantage: and

Whereas, the movement of outside nonfarm capital into agricultural production has been increasing; and

Whereas, the number of farms in Iowa has been steadily decreasing at an average annual rate of 1,700; and

Whereas, there is increasing concern on the part of family farmers and rural people about who will control agricultural production in the future; and

14 Whereas, the Iowa legislature desires to preserve and 15 promote the family farm as a basic economic and social unit in Iowa; Now Therefore, 16

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That the legislative council is authorized to appoint a bipartisan interim study committee composed of members of both houses of the General Assembly to examine innovative legislation designed to make capital available to Iowa family farmers and to those who desire to actively enter farming; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the study committee examine tax incentives designed to preserve the family farm; and

Be It Further Resolved, That a report of the study and efforts of the committee be submitted to the legislative council and to the members of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly meeting in the year 1976 and shall be accompanied by legislative bill drafts to carry out the recommendations of the

GOVERNOR'S VETO MESSAGE

The following veto message from the Governor was presented:

June 16, 1975

The Honorable Arthur A. Neu
Lieutenant Governor and President of the Senate
Sixty-sixth General Assembly
State Capitol Building
Local

Dear Governor Neu:

I am returning herewith Senate File 285, an Act relating to the administration of state records and providing an appropriation, disapproved and without my signature to the Senate in accordance with Article III, Section 16, of the Constitution of the State of Iowa.

Senate File 285 would transfer the primary administrative responsibility for records management from the State Records Commission to the Director of the Department of General Services. In addition the bill would appropriate funds to the Department of General Services for administration of records management during the remainder of FY75.

The apparent motive behind this bill was to concentrate enough authority in one person, the Director of General Services, so that the implementation of the State Records Management Act could be accomplished in a rapid manner.

While I can appreciate this desire for quick implementation, I think it is important to remember that the proposal for records management in state government has been discussed and considered since 1967. With the passage of the Records Management Act last year, the State Records Commission has moved in an orderly fashion to implement the legislation without disrupting state government operation or destroying any records that might be needed.

Concern has been raised by some that the action to date has not been sufficient or fast enough. After eight years of consideration of this legislation, suddenly some people wanted to see it implemented on an immediate basis. To accomplish this they would charge one person with the responsibility of implementation.

I believe efficient and orderly management of state records is of high importance. Wherever possible, I believe that unnecessary records should be removed from state files. Yet efficiency should not be solely measured in how fast one can throw things away.

If we are to err on whether to keep records or not keep records, we would be better to be on the side of keeping the records. It is essential that our state departments and agencies retain the records that are needed in the operations of state government.

When the authority to determine what state records should be retained is removed from a department, it is better in this case that it not rest with just one person. The present State Records Commission consists of seven highly qualified and experienced individuals. Three members of the Commission alone have more than 55 years total experience in state government.

I have great faith that this Commission can make the wise and orderly decisions needed to implement the State Records Management Act.

For the reasons I have outlined above, I hereby respectfully disapprove of this Senate File 285.

Sincerely, ROBERT D. RAY Governor

Whereas, the United States Bureau of the Census has estimated that some 500,000 persons 60 years of age or older live in Iowa, comprising more than twelve percent of the total population, thus giving Iowa the second highest proportion of elderly persons to total state population in the nation; and

Whereas, a disproportionately high number of elderly persons in Iowa are classified as poor, and the incomes of the elderly tend to decrease with advancing age, making them particularly vulnerable to inflation; and

Whereas, the combination of economic, health and other factors force many elderly persons to give up their family or personal residences and move into institutional settings; and

Whereas, rural areas of Iowa which have a particularly high proportion of elderly residents also in many cases have a shortage of medical personnel and of adequate health care facilities available to serve the elderly; and

19 Whereas, Bureau of the Census figures also show that Iowa 20 has some 180,000 physically handicapped residents who are 21 less than 60 years of age, comprising more than five percent 22 of the state's population; and

Whereas, many physically handicapped persons must live upon limited incomes, derived in many cases largely or entirely from government grants; and

Whereas, the physically handicapped are often unable to live in or remain in family or personal residences and must seek living facilities of an institutional nature; and

Whereas, institutional facilities in which many of Iowa's elderly and physically handicapped must reside should be designed and administered so as to accord to every resident the following as basic rights:

- 1. The right to buildings free of architectural barriers to mobility of handicapped persons;
- 12 13 2. The right to adequate physical care, and to basic 14 physical therapy to maintain or restore the individual's 15 physical condition;
  - 3. The right to meaningful occupational activity, within the limitations of the individual's strength and abilities;
    - 4. The right to meaningful recreational activity;
  - 5. The right to be outdoors as often as reasonably possible, within the limitations of the individual's situation;
- 21 6. The right to some means of transportation to and from 22 the facility for residents;
  - 7. The right to an adequate diet;
- 23 8. The right to be treated with dignity and respect, and 24 25 to be protected against mental or emotional as well as physical 26 abuse:

- 9. The right to a third-party advocate, if the individual has no family member or close friend to intercede with the facility for him or her, should the situation so indicate;
- 30 10. The right to move to another facility, if the

31 individual wishes to do so; 32 11. The right to adequate fundir

11. The right to adequate funding, if the individual resident is dependent upon public assistance; and

Whereas, the economic situations of many of Iowa's elderly and physically handicapped make access to legal services

- 1 difficult or impossible, and salaried attorneys provided
- 2 through a legal aid service could afford counsel effectively

3 to many such persons at a reasonable cost; and

- 4 Whereas, it is desirable that a representative committee
- 5 of the General Assembly regularly monitor the continuing and
  - changing problems of the elderly, and the physically handicapped

7 in Iowa, and the efforts to deal with these problems; Now

8 Therefore,

9 Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That

10 the legislative council is authorized to create a study

11 committee, as provided by law, which may include nonlegislative

12 members knowledgeable of the problems of elderly and

13 handicapped persons in Iowa as well as members of the General

14 Assembly, to look into the matters referred to in the preamble

15 to this resolution, to assess the problems presently

- 16 confronting elderly and handicapped Iowans and to consider
- 17 what legislation may be necessary or advisable to assist in
- 18 dealing with these problems. A report of the study shall
- 19 be prepared and submitted to the Legislative Council and to
- 20 the second session of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly, and
- 21 shall be accompanied by draft legislation to carry out the

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 62 By Gluba

- 1 Whereas, some 35,000 persons presently reside in nursing
- 2 homes in Iowa, of which approximately 13,000 are indigents

who depend upon medical assistance payments under Title XIX of the United States Social Security Act. in which the state must participate to the extent of several million dollars 6 each year; and

7 Whereas, the daily medical assistance payment to a nursing 8 home for a state patient is computed on the basis of annual 9 financial data relative to the nursing home's cost of operation which is reported to the Department of Social Services by 10 the nursing home, as well as certain other elements of cost. 11 12 and there is believed to be some confusion or misunderstanding 13 as to the manner in which this computation is made; and

Whereas, the maximum daily payment to nursing homes for care of medical assistance patients during the 1976 fiscal year will be $19, and there is concern whether all patients are in fact receiving care commensurate with payments on that scale: and

Whereas, it is likely that the cost of operation of nursing 20 homes in urban and rural areas varies considerably, and it 21 is desirable to review the computation procedure by which 22 the daily payment for care of medical assistance patients 23 is determined for each nursing home (subject to the statutory 24 maximum) to insure that no nursing homes are receiving excessive reimbursement from the state; Now Therefore, 25

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That 26 27 the Legislative Council be requested to authorize the stand-28 ing committees on Human Resources of the Senate and House of Representative to establish a joint interim subcommittee 29 30 to review and hold hearings into the entire issue of nursing

Whereas, debate on the ADC appropriation for the coming fiscal year and other indicators have made it apparent that there is much dissatisfaction with the Iowa ADC program and its present operation; and

Whereas, it is desirable that every able-bodied individual earn the means of meeting his or her necessities by some form of useful work, and it is known that in some countries (specifically Russia and China) everyone has some specific job and everyone works; and

Whereas, there should be an effort to determine whether some type of work-related incentive program coupled with the ADC program can be developed and implemented in Iowa; and

Whereas, it is also desirable to review the adequacy of the present standard of need used in connection with the ADC program; Now Therefore,

22 23 Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring, That 24 the Legislative Council be requested to authorize the stand-25 ing committees on Human Resources of the Senate and House of Representatives to establish a joint interim subcommittee 26 27 to investigate and determine whether the aid to dependent 28 children program can be restructured so as to make it more 29 acceptable both to recipients and to the general public, and to report to the second session of the Sixty-sixth General 30

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO NOTIFY THE GOVERNOR

Senator Kinley reported that the committee appointed to notify the office of the Governor that the Senate was ready to adjourn had performed its duty, and that the Governor had sent the following message:

The Honorable Arthur A. Neu President of the Senate Sixty-sixth General Assembly State Capitol Des Moines, Iowa

Honorable Members of the General Assembly:

When this legislative session began 166 days ago, I presented to you a Condition of the State Message pursuant to my Constitutional responsibility as Governor.

Today I deliver to you another message as you adjourn—one that is not required by either Code or Constitution, but which is a traditional communication between the executive and the legislative branches.

I have held this office long enough to realize that a legislature considers a Governor's messages somewhat differently than does the chief executive. We feel fortunate if some attention is paid to our initial communication and pleased if any attention at all is given to the message presented at the close.

In the Condition of the State Message I told you that Iowans of the future will best remember what is accomplished by this legislature, not necessarily who it was who did it. It will be deeds, not names, which will make lasting Iowa history.

Further, I expressed to you that a successful session would provide enough credit for all the politicians and that those seeking to win favor in the eyes of their constituents would best serve their political parties by best serving Iowa.

This is the seventh time that I, as Governor, have delivered such a closing message to a General Assembly. I hope to continue with this one what has been my practice in earlier messages—to emphasize the positive accomplishments and to avoid undue negativism or blame-placing.

During this lengthy session you confronted some extremely complex issues and resolved several. Others must wait your return.

Hopefully, in your second meeting this unfinished business can be handled without the necessity of a marathon close-down, free of the extreme stress and strain of an all-night session. Solutions come much easier with clearness of mind and in a reasonable working day.

As in earlier meetings, this session began with a flurry of priority lists. The Governor had a program and budget; the Democratic Party had a subject list. The majority leadership of this body had their priorities. While these lists are sometimes used as a template to judge performance, I am more concerned with the substance of bills than with scorecards.

There are several substantive measures in which representatives of both political parties can have a great pride of achievement. One especially stands out—the creation of an Iowa Housing Authority.

This Act is an outstanding example of what can be achieved when a legislature works in bipartisan concert with the executive. You used information developed by people on our Task Force on Housing who worked hard and long to give you their best thinking on the needs of our people and the ways in which you could best respond.

There are other positive accomplishments of this session. You recognized persons with hearing disabilities by establishing a Division for the Deaf in our Health Department. The new and innovative Energy Policy Council was further strengthened. You broadened the elderly property tax relief program. Unemployment benefits will be increased. Our gambling laws were tightened. Additional state assistance was made available to local units of government. You passed a strong packer-bonding bill, a tougher stripmining act and improved our securities law.

You responded to concerns about corporate farming in Iowa, passed a wage collection law, authorized some increased funding for the highly successful tuition grant program and modernized the mental health commitment statutes, to cite some examples.

As is usually the case when legislative bodies meet, this session saw some gubernatorial concepts and recommendations stretched both in scope and dollar amounts.

Another example is the income tax plan that you adopted. When you convened, I submitted a plan to provide greater equity in our state income tax. The bill which evolved from the sharp differences between separate plans in the House and Senate incorporates several good features but goes beyond what we originally proposed in shifting the burden of taxation.

You made some improvements in the school foundation program, though I must note again that you spent more than what was presented to you in the Governor's budget and your action did impose additional burdens upon property taxpayers—the very people that the school foundation plan was originally designed to relieve.

You addressed yourselves to the need to upgrade our Iowa Public Employees Retirement System (IPERS). And while you actually appropriated less money for additional IPERS benefits this year than we recommended, the future obligations which you have locked into the program cause concern about the financing of the increased costs in the years ahead.

Because this was a budget-making session, money matters demanded much of your attention. Our comptroller's analysis of your action indicates that while the total amount appropriated by the General Assembly for the first year of the 1975-77 biennium is less than the amount recommended in the Governor's budget, the amount of recurring expenses actually exceeded our recommendations by some $8 million.

Of additional concern is the matter of capital appropriations. We have been fortunate in Iowa to be in a position of surplus. And with that comes a special responsibility to use such a surplus in a way so as to not obligate future legislatures unduly. In times of surplus, one-time expenditures can be made and capital improvements can be accomplished. Delaying capital needs carries with it a double danger. First, costs continue to rise. Second, when it comes time to pay the bills the funds on hand now might well become committed elsewhere.

The desire of this legislature to move towards annual budgeting leaves you with some unfinished business in your next meeting which previous legislatures have not had to confront. I hope this will not lead to the frustration and uncertainty which characterize the annual budgets of the federal Congress.

Also on your agenda when you convene again are the extremely high priority matters of land use and completion of the act to revise the Iowa Criminal Code. These were not completed in this session, but the opportunity for good legislation in these areas will still be open to you.

There are other matters left pending including such items as reorganization of the Iowa Employment Security Commission, enactment of a competitive bidding law and establishment of a Washington Office, just to name a few.

A legislature can serve people well sometimes by not taking action. In this session 1,501 bills were introduced; only 262 won final approval. Iowa citizens can be thankful that not all the bills introduced achieved the status of law.

One disappointing aspect of this session was the refusal to confirm some excellent appointees who were well qualified and competent and who were willing to offer their services to state government in an unselfish way.

It is one thing to attack an elected public official or reject a person because of lack of qualifications. It is an entirely different situation to beat down good, capable people because the majority party did not like their party affiliation. I would urge that in future deliberations you keep uppermost the impact your actions have on the lives and reputations of individuals who seek nothing more than to be considered on their merits, not on their political allegiances.

We can learn from experiences of this session. And we can look ahead now to a second session of this General Assembly, one in which we will have many opportunities for further accomplishments for the people we all have been elected to serve.

It is not an easy task to be a member of the General Assembly. Often the actions and words of a very few frustrate the hard work of the many. Often the lighter moments receive emphasis beyond their importance and it is easy to be left with a feeling that what you do is not fully understood and appreciated.

It is then that perspective is needed, the perspective that comes at a time of adjournment when you can look back with satisfaction over the positive achievements. For the good work that was done I commend you. For that which is still to be done I can tell you that I offer to you my help and cooperation.

Sincerely, ROBERT D. RAY Governor

The report was received and the committee discharged.

GOVERNOR'S VETO MESSAGE

July 19, 1975

The Honorable Melvin D. Synhorst Secretary of State State Capitol Building Local

Dear Mr. Secretary:

I hereby enclose Senate File 296, an Act to establish and regulate the practice of barbering and the practice of cosmetology, and to provide penalties, which in accordance with Article III, Section 16, Constitution of the State of Iowa, I hereby disapprove and transmit to the Secretary of State.

While I fully support the need for health standards, the licensing of persons practicing professions which serve the public, and proper supervision of schools which give training in these areas, I cannot approve this particular legislation which sets up artificial classifications for barbers and cosmetologists and protects certain classes in a manner that has little relationship to the protection of the public.

Our courts have recognized that it is wrong to use licensing statutes to limit competition. Particularly they have advised that a classification that serves the purpose of restricting competition is improper. This legislation tends to set up different standards for the education and practice of barbering and cosmetology both of which basically deal with the same subject, that of providing hair services to the public.

In addition, I specifically question five items contained in this legislation:

- 1. Training restrictions in the bill provide that a school of cosmetology cannot give more than 210 hours of hair cutting instruction and that a barber school cannot allow more than 300 hours of hair styling instruction. One can find little rationale for either the limitation on the number of hours of training a student may pursue or the difference between the two courses. The restriction on cosmetology training would also appear to be a disadvantage to the cosmetology student. These limitations might hamper students of Iowa schools in obtaining maximum skills in their profession and possibly obtaining a license in other states. Furthermore, these limitations would tend to prohibit or prevent continuing education in these practices at the same time other professions are instituting mandates and programs for continuing education in their areas of expertise.
- 2. The advertising restrictions, while calling to the attention of the public the fact that a student would be providing service, will have the effect of limiting competition and the number of persons available for the clinical training of the students. This could also reduce the availability of lower cost service to our less affluent citizens.
- 3. The procedure provided in this legislation for injunctive relief after an alleged violation report to the Commissioner of Public Health might well tend to restrict trade and competition and give to those who desire it a hunting license against their competitors. There would need to be an overriding threat to the public welfare before this kind of relief should be made available over and above normal channels afforded to a citizen who complains of a violation of a statute. No convincing argument of such overriding need has been advanced in this case.

- 4. Senate File 296 provides that the owners of licensed schools of cosmetology and barber schools are not authorized to own and/or operate a beauty salon or barber shop except for those owned prior to July 1, 1975. Grandfathering in existing shops or salons and thereby sealing off competition from newcomers is not in the best interest of the public. This bill can be interpreted to go so far as to prevent the owner of a shop from ever relocating to another site. This is not reasonable or realistic.
- 5. This bill would prevent a person from managing a shop or salon unless he or she were a licensed operator. Such a restriction again is beyond the boundary of fairness and reasonableness. Capable people are not deprived of positions of management in hospitals because they do not qualify as practicing doctors or in drugstores because they are not pharmacists.

A close reading of Senate File 296 reveals a conglomeration of special interest protections for those now practicing the professions with very little relationship to public health. It is improper to give unfair advantage to limited groups of people by authority of state legislation in the name of consumer protection. For this reason and the other reasons listed, I must disapprove this bill.

There remains a legitimate interest in regulating these concerns in a manner consistent with public health and consumer protection interests. I urge the General Assembly to take action during the 1976 session to enact new legislation that is in the best interests of all Iowans.

GOVERNOR'S ITEM VETO MESSAGES

July 15, 1975

The Honorable Melvin D. Synhorst Secretary of State State Capitol Building Local

Dear Mr. Secretary:

I hereby transmit House File 431, an Act making an appropriation to the campaign finance disclosure commission, amending laws relating to the administration of the campaign finance laws and providing penalties, and making appropriations to state regulatory agencies for the regulation of banking, beer and liquor control, insurance, real estate, and those subjects regulated by the secretary of state.

House File 431 is approved July 15, 1975, with the following exception which I hereby disapprove:

That portion of Section 14, numbered paragraph one (1) thereof, which reads as follows: "Review the contents of all disclosure reports and organization statements filed under the provisions of this chapter and promptly advise each committee of errors found."

If fully complied with, this item would require that the Campaign Finance Disclosure Commission review the contents of all disclosure reports and organization reports filed at the state and county levels. Because the item makes no distinction between technical and substantive errors, the Commission would be required to advise each reporting committee of all errors found, regardless of how minor or unimportant they might be. After advising the committees of errors found, the Commission would be obligated to follow-up their action to check on compliance.

Although no exact estimate can be made in the number of reports and statements filed in a year, one can get an idea of the immensity of this task by looking at the number of elections to be held during the remainder of 1975 and during 1976. With local, county, state and special elections, the number of individual elections during the next 18 months probably will exceed 3,600. In most of these elections there will be at least two opposing candidates who are required to file a minimum of two reports. In addition approximately 500 additional statutory political committees also will file reports in support of or in opposition to the candidates or ballot issues. The total number of disclosure reports filed during the next 18 months will be enormous.

I have been informed by the Campaign Finance Disclosure Commission that based on past experiences with disclosure reports, at least 40 percent of all disclosure reports show errors of one type or another. These errors are in varying degrees of severity and complexity with a number being relatively inconsequential. A very large staff would be required to find all errors in these reports and to follow them up for compliance.

When one examines the resources in terms of staff personnel, travel and other expense money available to the Campaign Finance Disclosure Commission, it becomes apparent that the Commission would not be able to meet the requirements of this item. The Commission has only three full-time employees with a total budget of $49,500, of which less than $1,200 is available for travel expenses. Even if the Commission staff were to ignore its other responsibilities and give its sole attention to the requirements of this item, they undoubtedly could not meet this single requirement.

This item was included in House File 481 because of the concern of some legislators that the commission has not been pursuing adequately errors discovered in past disclosure reports. It was felt that perhaps the best way to respond to this concern was to require the commission to review the disclosure reports and then follow-up on the mistakes found. Yet, there is reason to believe that the legislators did not intend for the Campaign Finance Disclosure Commission to review all disclosure reports filed at the state and county level and pursue all errors, whether substantive or technical.

The commission has indicated to me that they are committed to a more thorough review and closer scrutiny of the disclosure reports that are filed at the state level. Within their limitations of budget and staff, I am sure the commission will try to improve the quality of the disclosure reports. This is within reason.

For these reasons, I hereby disapprove this item in accordance with Amendment 4 of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items of House File 431 are hereby approved this date.

Sincerely,

ROBERT D. RAY Governor

July 15, 1975

The Honorable Melvin D. Synhorst Secretary of State State Capitol Building Local

Dear Mr. Secretary:

I hereby transmit House File 848, an Act making appropriations to the Iowa crime commission and the department of public safety and providing for the administration and use of funds and personnel of such departments.

House File 848 is approved July 15, 1975, with the following exception which I hereby disapprove.

I am unable to approve Item 5 designated in the Act as Section 5 which reads as follows:

"Sec. 5. NEW SECTION. The department of public safety and the state department of transportation shall not make available to persons other than the named driver or a person authorized by the named driver, or a court or a peace officer, an individual's manual or automated traffic record relating to an individual's involvement in a motor vehicle accident unless such involvement resulted in the person's conviction of a violation of a motor vehicle law or ordinance or unless such person failed to comply with the provisions of chapter three hundred twenty-one A (321A) of the Code."

This item would restrict the departments of public safety and transportation from releasing information on motor vehicle accidents on a driver's record unless that driver first authorized the release of that information.

I am not doubting that this provision was inserted in House File 848 with good intent—that of protecting an individual's right of privacy. I share that same concern. Yet, there are several other concerns in this case which convince me that this is an inappropriate effort and does not accomplish the desired result.

The purpose of this item was to prevent insurance companies from securing information on motor vehicle accidents that do not result in a conviction. Apparently it was felt by some legislators that insurance companies do not need this type of information to write insurance policies. However, this restriction would not accomplish the desired intent.

To properly rate and classify a policyholder, an insurance company needs as complete a record of information as possible. Since this item provides that a driver may authorize another person to secure his complete driving record, the insurance companies would be forced into the position of requiring that before any new policy is issued or an existing policy is renewed, that the driver authorize the insurance company to secure his or her complete driving record including all motor vehicle accidents.

While this can be accomplished, it will not be done so without cost and delay. In insuring Iowa's 1.9 million drivers, insurance companies will have considerably more paper work. The costs involved in securing authorization from drivers, processing them, and keeping them on file will mean increased expenses for the insurance companies. In all likelihood these increased expenses will be passed on to the consumer in the form of higher premium costs.

Since this section speaks to individual drivers, it is probable that insurance companies would require authorization from each driver who is covered under a specific policy. That would mean that in a family, each spouse and child who drives would have to provide their individual authorization. This might be difficult to secure in some families whose members are away from home. The delays and additional expenses experienced by insurance companies would be similarly passed on to the consumer.

Drivers who enjoy good driving records and are free of accidents should not be placed in the position of subsidizing bad drivers who may have numerous traffic citations and accidents on their record. This restriction on the dissemination of information could help protect the bad drivers at the expense of the good drivers.

I would be more receptive to this approach if I were aware of abuses that have occurred under the present system. Yet we have not learned of any. Rather the present system seems to do an effective job of keeping the departments of public safety and transportation informed of a person's driving performance. By maintaining complete driving records, departmental personnel continue to improve driver safety habits.

Another concern of mine is the question of whether this item would be effective for only the one-year lifespan of this appropriation bill or be incorporated into the permanent language of the Code. If it were to be effective for only one year, insurance companies would have to go to the expense of printing up new forms at ultimate cost to the consumer that would be used only one year. If it were to be made a permanent part of law, then it raises a constitutional question. The Attorney General has suggested that second subject matters in a bill (including this matter in this bill) make the entire bill unconstitutional. Whether this is so or not, this is a good illustration of what does not belong in an appropriation bill. Section 5 of House File 848 should stand on its own merits in an individual bill.

For these reasons I hereby disapprove this item in accordance with Amendment 4 of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items of House File 848 are hereby approved this date.

Sincerely, ROBERT D. RAY Governor

July 18, 1975

The Honorable Melvin D. Synhorst Secretary of State State Capitol Building Local

Dear Mr. Secretary:

I hereby transmit House File 898, an Act making appropriations to various state agencies for the purposes of providing for capital improvements, reimbursement of state educational institutions for deficiencies in operating funds from funds pledged to finance academic and administrative buildings and facility services, providing funds to lease data processing equipment, funding the purchase of certain equipment, providing funds for sewage works purposes, creating a hospital schools revolving fund and providing for expenditures from such fund, providing for land acquisition, providing a memorial for medal of honor recipients, restoring flags exhibited in the state capitol, and providing for the reversion of funds.

House File 898 is approved July 18, 1975, with the following exception which I hereby disapprove.

I am unable to approve Item 7 designated in the Act as Section 7 which reads as follows:

"Sec. 7. Chapter one hundred seven (107), Code 1975, is amended by adding the following new section:

NEW SECTION. The state conservation commission shall make annual payments to school districts in such amounts sufficient to pay school taxes on lands acquired under the provisions of the Acts of the Sixty-fifth General Assembly, chapter seventy-four (74), 1973 Session, and under the authority of any other Act of the general assembly which authorizes the acquisition of land which would otherwise be subject to the levy of school taxes. There is appropriated annually from the general fund of the state from funds not otherwise appropriated to the state conservation commission an amount sufficient to make the payments provided for in this section. The state comptroller shall administer the funds appropriated by this Act and shall administer the program established by this section. The state conservation commission shall cooperate with the state comptroller in order to provide information necessary to carry out the provisions of this section."

This item provides a standing unlimited appropriation to the State Conservation Commission to make annual payments to school districts for reimbursement of property taxes lost on lands taken off the property tax rolls under the Open Spaces program and any other Act of the General Assembly. The apparent intent of this is to prevent a change in the property tax rate for the remaining property holders.

Section 7 of House File 898 directs the State Comptroller to administer the reimbursement program. Unfortunately this item goes no further than that. The item does not indicate what evaluation should be used; nor does it affect assessments; no method or direction is provided for computation of the payment to school districts; no instructions are given for what millage rates might be used. In short it is an inoperable section.

Even if one could determine the procedure to be used to administer this program, it seems apparent that the reimbursement of property taxes would not secure any reduction in existing property taxes. Under the school aid formula, this reimbursement would be treated as "miscellaneous income" and would be considered as an addition to all other school income funds. This payment would not replace any property taxes that are already levied, but just provide new dollars in the form of a special bonus to select and favored school districts. No reduction in property taxes would be accomplished.

Section 7 specifically states that the property tax reimbursement is to be provided for lands acquired under the Open Spaces program and "under the authority of any other Act of the General Assembly which authorizes the acquisition of land which would otherwise be subject to the levy of school taxes." This language carries no past or future limitations. One must assume that it is intended to include all other conservation land, the property of the Regents' universities, our highways, our Social Services institutions, and even the State Capitol. One of the consequences of such an extensive reimbursement program might be that the residents of the school districts where open space land is located would end up paying more than they would receive.

While one can assume that the cost of such a far-ranging reimbursement program would be enormous, it is impossible to provide any accurate cost figure. Data is unavailable as to the number of acres that would be involved, what they would be valued at, or what the total cost of reimbursement would be.

If research were done on this section as to costs, my office, the Department of Revenue, the Comptroller, and the Department of Public Instruction are unaware of it. Neither do I believe that the Legislative Fiscal Director or his staff are aware of the cost, for I find nothing in their budget to reflect the reimbursement program.

Even if Section 7 of House File 898 were designed to be functional and its scope and funding implications understood, I strongly doubt the overall soundness of this type of reimbursement for school districts or any other taxing district. The specter of several deleterious effects is raised by this item.

If schools are to be reimbursed for the property taxes they forego on state land, one must ask why not then reimburse schools for all other government-owned lands in the district. That would mean federal, county, and the city governments would reimburse school districts also.

If it is consistent for other government agencies to reimburse schools, then is it not consistent for schools to reimburse other government agencies for the property tax exempt land they own? It actually makes more sense for schools to reimburse city and county government for the basic services they receive (e.g. police and fire protection) than for the state and its other subdivisions to reimburse schools when no direct service is being provided.

To begin a program of property tax reimbursement triggers the related question of how property, ownership, and local services provided ought to relate. The concept of reimbursement for tax exempted land could easily be extended to other than government land. Conceivably, charitable institutions, such as churches and lodges, might be asked to pay taxes for the basic services provided to them by government.

The Iowa Open Spaces program since its inception in 1973, has been a successful effort to preserve scenic Iowa countryside for future generations. One of the key parts of the Open Spaces program is that land is purchased only from willing sellers. Never does the state condemn land to force a sale for this program.

The state has used its money for Open Spaces to purchase the land where local government agencies either could not or would not. With acquisition of land by the state, direct benefits usually accrue to the local community. In addition to preserving and improving the aesthetic value of the country-side, state land purchases in most cases result in more money spent in the surrounding area, other improvements, and a broader tax base.

While the legislators who supported this item were legitimately concerned with the decline of the property tax base of school districts, it should be pointed out that the state is making a massive effort through the school foundation plan to move the burden of school financing from property taxes to state taxes. Since FY 1971, state aid for local schools has increased from $226 million to $458 million in FY 1976. The state has increased its share of the funding of school budgets from 38 percent in 1971 to 52 percent for this next school year.

This influx of state aid is reflected at the local level. In one of the school districts that has a large share of the Open Spaces land in it, state aid has increased from $120,000 in FY 1971 to $342,000 in FY 1976, an 186 percent increase.

House File 898 (in subsection 5 of section 1) also provides for a one-year property tax reimbursement program for school districts. This item, which is estimated to cost up to $15,000, could be removed also, but in light of the recent Supreme Court decision limiting my item veto authority, we believe it would necessitate removing the $3.7 million capital appropriation to the Conservation Commission as well. It is important that these capital funds be retained to make necessary improvements and acquisitions. Reluctantly, therefore, I am not affecting this one-year reimbursement program.

For these reasons I hereby disapprove this item in accordance with Amendment 4 of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items of House File 898 are hereby approved this date.
